WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1937

PRICE: TWO CENTS

Hold 3rd Annual Display Tuesday In R.M.R. Armoury

Final Preparations Now Going Forward For Gala Event—Police and Fire Departments Promise Splendid Evening—Mayor and Notables to be Present—Tug of War For Royal Montreal Regiment Cup to Be Feature Item

Final preparations are now being made for the Third Annual Physical Training Display of the Westmount Police and Fire Departments, to be held on Tuesday evening in the armoury of the Royal Montreal Regiment, St. Catherine street. The forty men who will take part have two more "rehearsals" before the event, tonight and Monday evening, and their instructor, Lieut. A. Rubens is putting them through their final paces to make sure that every phase of the display will be perfect—as have the two previous ones.

There is one item on the programme, however, that cannot be rehearsed, and that is the main event of the evening—the Tug of War between the Police and Fire Departments. Members of the two groups will work together during the evening, but will separate for this feature, and trained skill and science will be cast to the winds in a frenzied struggle for possession of the Royal Montreal Regiment Cup, which will be presented to the captain of the winning team immediately after the battle royal by Lieut.-Col. J. E. Slessor.

Free tickets for the display may be obtained on application at the City Hall.

Preparations and training for this event have been intensive during the past few months, and close co-operation between the men and their instructor, and between the men themselves has been such as to assure a splendid event on Tuesday evening. Keen enthusiasm has been shown by all concerned, and all are looking forward to the display.

Mayor John Jenkins, Alderman W. B. Scott, K.C., P. E. Jarman, general manager, W. Wren, Chief of Police and Fire, and Lieutenant A. Rubens instructor, will be among those present. By kind permission of the Officer Commanding, the Band of the Royal Montreal Regiment will play during the evening.

The evening will open with the Reception of His Worship the Mayor and the District Officer Commanding by the Guard of Honour, The Royal Montreal Regiment, 1st (Westmount) Battalion; this will be followed by the Inspection and the March Past.

Following, the Band will play a selection, after which a Mass Trot will be held.

A First Aid demonstration will be staged after the Trot. Members of the two departments took a course in this subject during the winter, and will have a chance to demonstrate their prowess. Following the first aid will be a demonstration of Shelf Work.

Team Apparatus Work is the sixth item on the programme, and will be followed by Mass Rhythmic Exercises. What promises to be an interesting highlight is the Wall Competition and Radio Car Demonstration, to follow the calisthenics. Club swinging will be the ninth number.

The Tug of War, Policemen Vs. Firemen for the Royal Montreal Regiment Cup, is an annual feature, and is a keenly contested event. The Fire Department won it last year, and in the previous year the Policemen captured it. After the Tug of War, Lieut.-Col. J. E. Slessor will present the cup to the winning team.

The final item will be the presentation of Physical Training Proficiency badges and medals by His Worship the Mayor, and God Save the King will bring the evening to a close.

C. Mussells, $147 112.3%.
H. J. Griswold & A. Ransom $171 98%.
C. A. Smith $108 98%.
I. R. Tait & A. L. Stewart $273 78.6%.
W. E. Cooper $179 76.7%.
Thos. Bignell $131 41.7%.

The objective of the city-wide campaign is $95,000, of which the local quota is $3200. Every indication is given that this year the local division will exceed its quota as it did by a very substantial amount last year.

Splendid Work of Art to be Shown in Melville Presbyterian Church—Presented by James M. Fraser and Family

On Sunday at 11 a.m., there will be unveiled in Melville Presbyterian Church, a beautiful stained glass window in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Fraser, of Westmount, who for over a quarter of a century were members of Melville Church.

HAWKS' WINGS OVER MANHATTAN

Frank Hawks' new mystery plane may do great things, its pilot believes. Hawks declares he has already reached 368 miles an hour in his new stream-lined monoplane, pictured here over New York (with the Empire State building in background). He plans to attack the world's land speed record of 352 miles an hour and the transcontinental mark of 7 hours, 25 minutes, 28 seconds, both held by Howard Hughes.

Sightlessness Is Not Handicap; Is Vanquished By Determination

The story of Charles A. Bull is the story of an ageing man's indomitable courage in a falling struggle with one of humanity's most dreaded ills—blindness. Now nearly seventy years old, practically stone blind and barely able to distinguish objects an arm's length away, this elderly man's calm resolve to best his crushing handicap is an inspiration to all who know him.

In his neat little room in a Selby street house, Mr. Bull works a number of hours each day at his craft, in which he has acquired amazing ability. His toiling fingers are quick and nimble despite his years, and they move with unerring precision as they form objects of beautiful workmanship. Basketry is no light task even for one equipped with good eyesight, yet Mr. Bull experiences little or no difficulty in handling the tough, unmanageable strands.

Mr. Bull's specialty is a particular form of basket-weave frame for pictures, an idea of his own for which he has applied to Ottawa for a patent. He showed a number of examples of this work to an Examiner representative when visited Tuesday afternoon.

Large pictures; small pictures; round pictures; square pictures; all cleverly surrounded with intricate and pleasing basket-weave frames. Coloured pictures, as well as those in black and white or brown, were all enhanced by the frames. Mr. Bull has a large number of pictures of the King and Queen, both together and separately, which make ideal Coronation souvenirs.

Mr. Bull has made a large number of frames for these Coronation pictures. The frames are exquisitely done in varying patterns, and into the weaving are worked loops for fastening picture wires or small hooks. Large and small strands make different kinds of frames. Mr. Bull pointed out, and he has fashioned several in both sizes.

Mr. Bull has resided in Westmount for many years, and has made a number of friends here. Before taking up his residence locally, he was in the coal business in St. Anne de Bellevue.

Some of Mr. Bull's work will be on display for a number of days starting tomorrow in Lindsay's window, downtown, along with some exhibits from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

He can be reached locally at 4151 St. Catherine street west.

Westmount Third In Real Estate Sales For March

Outremont Heads List of Suburban Municipalities—Local Transactions Number Twelve for $99,291—Considerably Lower Than February Standing—In Second Place for First Quarter of Year, However

Westmount dropped from its leading place in point of real estate transactions during the month of March, it is revealed in figures issued by the Montreal Real Estate Board. Formerly ahead of all Montreal suburban municipalities for value of sales made, during March the city dropped to third place, Outremont coming first and Verdun second.

Sales in Westmount in the past month numbered twelve, involving an amount of $99,291. Outremont had 29 sales for $277,146 and Verdun 24 for $119,512. The general trend during the month in most of the suburban municipalities was downward, although the figures for the first three months of the year reveal a definite improvement over corresponding figures for the same period last year. Thus despite March's slight drop, transactions are definitely better than a year ago.

During February, however, Westmount led the suburban municipalities with $236,405, well over a third of the transactions in all the island communities. In March the local contribution was about one-eighth.

As usual, the leadership during March remained among the group including Westmount, Outremont and Verdun. These three are almost always ahead of the other municipalities. It is interesting to note that as a general rule, Westmount's sales are fewer in number than those of the other two municipalities, but are of greater value per sale.

For the first quarter of 1937, Westmount is in second place, with 38 sales for $483,519; Outremont leads with $493,815 for 63 sales, and Verdun is third with 67 sales for $361,323. Total in all the municipalities is $1,902,192 for 448 sales.

Student Is Hurt Aiding Motorists

Fell From Truck Bumper While Helping to Get Stalled Vehicle Started on Sunday

David Kobornick, McGill student, was taken to the Western division of the Montreal General Hospital on Sunday suffering from bruises on his head and face and left knee, incurred in an unusual mishap at about half past two in the afternoon.

A truck had become stalled on Western avenue just east of Wood avenue, and E. P. Griffiths, 338 Olivier avenue was helping by pushing with his smaller car. As the bumper of the truck was considerably higher than that of the other vehicle, Kobornick, who was nearby, offered assistance, and stood on the bumper of the truck to force it down to the proper level.

A sudden jar caused him to lose his balance and he fell to the street. He was taken to the hospital by Mr. Griffiths.

Sgt. Beaton, of the Westmount police, investigated.

Ancient Car Bursts Into Flame Driver Says He Is Still Game!

A swift glance of the horrors of fire was afforded passersby Wednesday at about noon when a sedan, owned and operated by Mr. A. G. Miller, of Bruce avenue, suddenly burst into flames on St. Catherine street opposite the ball park near Atwater avenue.

The local fire department was quickly on the scene, and experienced no difficulty in putting out the blaze. A short circuit in wiring near the gasoline tank is blamed for the mishap.

The horror of the situation is that had Mr. Miller's sedan been demolished by fire, Westmount would have lost one of its most picturesque fixtures. Mr. Miller's car can be seen navigating the streets of Westmount and Montreal daily, as Mr. Miller goes about his chosen profession of being an advertising man, and people have come to know this machine on sight. Its appearance is, to say the least, striking.

About two weeks ago the car, being one of those temperamental machines, developed trouble under the hood, and blew up. Mr. Miller escaped unscathed, and took it to a garage to have it repaired. The mechanic was finally bribed to fix it, and in a short time had it on the road again.

"She runs like a Rolls Royce, only better," said Mr. Miller to his friends. "You can hardly hear it coming." (Despite an unmistakable improvement, it still needed no horn to warn of its approach.) Not satisfied with merely blowing up, the car evidently decided to show its independence by bursting into flame Wednesday.

But Mr. Miller is undaunted. He says he will keep on driving it until it falls apart. (Car salesmen should see Mr. Miller any time now.)

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1937

LINK WITH OLD WEST SEVERED

One afternoon in 1882, three troops of United States cavalry arrived at the Canadian boundary, escorting Chief Bear Head, Chief Loud Thunder, Chief Poor Man and 1,100 renegade Indians who had crossed the line to raid settlements in North Dakota and Montana. Quite a handful, even for three troops of cavalry, but you could have knocked 'em all off their horses with a gopher tail when, at the border, they were met by a solitary member of the Royal North West Mounted Police and a half-breed interpreter.

The lone mountie was Daniel "Peach" Davis, whose funeral was held in Calgary not long ago. "Peach," single-handed, took over the 1,100 marauders from the three troops of cavalry and led them back to their hunting grounds. The redskins could have obliterated that one redcoat in a couple of whoops but, to them, he signified the Law. And there was no trouble. There's just a chance, though, that those days are gone forever.

LOSE TEMPER, CASE GONE

Augustine Birrell says truthfully that "few men can afford to be angry." Anger is no ornament to any man and it is usually positive disfigurement. In business it is often well-nigh suicidal, and the man who allows his temper to interfere with his business dealings will find it is one of the most costly indulgences. When we are angry we say things which we have no right to say, and do things for which we are sorry ten minutes afterwards. Only the man who can keep cool has a right to expect any place of importance in the business world. Let others rage as they may, the man who can keep cool has a distinct advantage even in dollars and cents.

Bad temper is deadly in its effect on the reputation. Men hesitate to follow the man who cannot control himself when under fire, and the man who can speak temperately when all about him have lost their heads is certain to win the profound respect of his fellows. Anger is too costly for a politician; it is too great a risk for the home. Wherever we look, anger seems to be out of place; and the sooner a youth learns to control his temper the better it will be for him (or her). The cost in friendship of this vice is terrific. There are thousands of sincere friendships broken up probably every day by the fact that men and women "get mad," and say what they do not mean, but for which they are too proud to apologize. If a man wants to keep a bear or a wild cat in the house, he may, but he had better not presume to indulge in his costly luxury of retaining a bad temper.

From Moscow News, December 23, 1936:

Moscow Expects 120,000 Births Next Year

With 120,000 births expected in Moscow in 1937 (there were 53,000 this year and 45,000 in 1935) comprehensive measures are being taken by the capital's health department to care for the increased population.

Three new maternity homes have recently been opened in the city, three more will be opened in March, and several others will be ready to receive expectant mothers before the close of 1937. During December and in the early part of January 52 new nurseries will be established in the city; 50 more will be opened during 1937. Five new milk kitchens, costing a total of one million rubles, are now under construction. The 1937 budget for the Moscow Health Department amounts to 400 million rubles. This year it was 290 million.

Methods of a painless delivery will be available to all mothers. The largest hospitals in the city are being re-equipped and made completely up-to-date and a number of new hospitals and dispensaries are under construction (50 new hospitals were opened this year, among them, many for children.)

Thomas Jefferson (1743-1826) is one of the founders of the U.S.A. He was chairman of the group that drafted the "Declaration." At 17 he was ready to attend college. At 20 he took up law and established the best practice in Virginia. He gradually found it dull to defend poor laws. Would it not be more interesting to help make good laws? He turned his attention to the political field and became a member of the Virginia House of Burgesses. In 1779 the great man became governor of Virginia. He at once made plans for colleges, libraries and a state university. He was commissioned to Europe where he stayed many years making favourable treaties. On his return Washington made him secretary of state. He differed with Hamilton secretary of the treasury and retired to experiment in farming and enjoy his home. But he was the leading Democrat and the party persuaded him to lead the 1796 campaign. He became vice president under his friend John Adams and in 1800 became president.

He accepted a second term but refused a third. Now he lived at his estate Monticello, welcoming people from all climes. Sometimes as many as 50 visitors stayed over for the night. His funds diminished and he sold his library to Congress. But nothing made him happier than contacts with all the world. He had caught the radiant vision of the oneness of mankind. History honors him as one of the greatest statesmen of America.—From the Christian Science Monitor.

Exhibition Of Paintings By T. M. Martin

An exhibition of paintings by the late T. Mover Martin, R.C.A. opens at the Gallery of the Art Association of Montreal.

RMR Rifleman Leads Scores

A. W. Seaman, of the Royal Montreal Regiment, led a local team over the week-end to leadership in the last indoor meet of the season of the Montreal Small Bore Rifle Association. Mr. Seaman scored 199, and the team scored an aggregate of 1,974 points out of a possible 2,000, an average of 197.4 per member.

Miss Jamieson, though slightly below her recent form, put on the fine score of 197 and finished the series in a tie for first place in the aggregate. To add zest to the meet a second team shot in competition with the regular team and came within three points of their fellows.

The individual scores for the team were: 199, A. W. Seaman, R.M.R.; 198 each, A. O. Anderson and R. F. Baril, M.R.C. C. W. Foam, C.P.R.; T. L. Jamieson, C.N.R.A. and J. R. Turcotte, O.R.C.; 197 each, D. G. Cassidy, O.R.C. and Miss Jamieson, C.N.R.A.; and 195, E. E. Wright, R.C.O.C. The individual scores of The Rest's team were: 199 each, Malcolm Lemieux, R.M.R. and A. Westmount Baptist Church Notes

Rev. J. A. Johnston has returned from a week of special services in Toronto and will be in his own pulpit on Sunday.

At the morning service the sermon theme will be: "The Secret of True Success." Many a man makes a success of his business or profession, but he himself is a failure. No man need be a failure. There is a way that leads to success for every life.

In the evening, Mr. Johnston will have as his subject: "Romance on a Side Street." This address will show the lifting power of a great love, illustrated from the "Sentimental Bloke" by C. J. Dennis. This story shares with John Macfie's "Everlasting Mercy," the distinction of being one of the greatest conversion stories ever written.

The congregational supper and annual business meeting of the church will take place on Friday, 23rd of April. Supper will be served by the members of the Women's Association at 6.30.

TRINITY DEBATE SQUAD DEFEATED BY ST. MATTHIAS

The presentation by Trinity Players tonight and Saturday of Goldsmith's famous comedy, "She Stoops to Conquer," promises to be the outstanding amateur dramatic event of the season in Montreal.

With a well-rounded cast and the several scenes arranged with Creighton Patton's usual thoroughness and attention to detail, topped off with the eighteenth century costumes—a picturesque and satisfying entertainment is assured, especially when these features are merely adjuncts to the hilarious situations provided by the pompous squire, the "shy" young lover and his not-so-shy lady love, and the lady's gauche and clumsy half-brother without whose antics the plot could not develop.

AUBURN AGAIN WITH ST. STEPHEN'S SHOW

Annual Revue Will Be Presented in Westmount Church Hall, April 21, 22, 23

For the third year in succession the Junior Guild of St. Stephen's Church, Westmount, seeking top-rank talent for their annual entertainment have turned westward to Notre Dame de Grace and selected Tom Auburn, youthful magician, as a headliner on their program.

The annual revue, which is to be staged in the church hall, corner of Atwater avenue and Dorchester street west on April 21, 22 and 23 will include a group of leading Montreal entertainers representing various fields.

For each of the three nights, Auburn plans to change his act, selecting his material from a repertoire which includes thousands of sleights, illusions and tricks. His first appearance on this show was in 1935 when he was asked to give a large cast. In this event he drew the praise of theatrical critics in all local papers and the following year, by popular demand was recalled. Again this year he appears with the St. Stephen's outfit having become one of the "old stand-bys" of their show.

His acts will include billiard ball manipulations, mystic disappearances of silks and vanishing cigarettes in addition to scores of smaller items.

rural and northern Ontario and his earlier work includes landscapes, game pictures and portraits. He was one of the founders of the Ontario Society of Artists, the founder and first director of the Ontario School of Art, and one of the charter members of the Royal Canadian Academy. With the opening of the Canadian Pacific Railway, he spent a considerable time in the west painting the wild animals, Indian life on the British Columbia Coast, and the coast mountain scenery for which he became noted. In later years, some time spent in England, and sketching trips in the Laurentians and the Eastern Townships of Quebec widened his range of subjects still further.

His paintings for the two books "Kew Gardens," described by A. R. Moncrieff, and "Canada," described by W. W. Campbell have made his work widely known both in Canada and England. In the present exhibition will be found a representative collection of his oil paintings.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SUNDAY SERVICES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 18th, is "Doctrine of Atonement."

The Golden Text is: "John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." (John 1:29).

The following correlative passages are selected from among those comprised in the Lesson-Sermon to be read from the Bible and from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scripture," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and I shall leave me alone; and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me." (John 16:32).

"Atonement is the exemplification of man's unity with God, whereby man reflects divine Truth, Life, and Love. Jesus of Nazareth taught and demonstrated man's oneness with the Father, and for this we owe him endless homage. His mission was both individual and collective. He did life's work aright not only in justice to himself, but in mercy to mortals—to show them how to do theirs, but not to do it for them nor to relieve them of a single responsibility." (Science and Health, page 18).

French Federated Charities Campaign Opens Here Tomorrow

Many Local Citizens Partaking in Annual Campaign for Funds to Carry on Immense Works Programme—$379,831 Required

Volunteering their services in the cause of charity, a number of Westmount men and women will start their annual task of soliciting contributions for the French Federated Charities tomorrow when the fifth annual appeal opens with the object of raising $379,831 for the support of the 22 agencies in the Federation before the appeal closes on April 27.

Throughout the year, as the agencies carry out their work, officers of the Federation told the Examiner late yesterday, the public has little conception of the tasks involved. For instance, last year, Federation provided hospital accommodation for a total of 267,220 days, helped 8,035 women, served 778,968 meals, provided 10,203 gifts of clothes and useful articles, helped 587 blind persons to find employment; sent 210 crippled children to the country; assisted 182 discharged prisoners; arranged for the examination of 72,209 babies, and planned 103,110 medical consultations.

Through Federation 116,353 visits to homes were made by nurses, employment was found for 545 persons and 52,307 persons were aided in their homes.

"It would not have been possible to do all these things without the money which is subscribed by the general public which has the satisfaction of knowing that the Federation obtains full value for every dollar expended without in any way denying those who are entitled to help and succor.

"Charity should not recognize any boundaries of race or creed; and the records show that this principle is carried into practice by agencies in the Federation.

"Today, when business conditions are improving it is disheartening to find so many requiring assistance. The facts, however, speak for themselves, and while this problem remains, the Federation must stand in the breach, relying on the public to loosen the purse strings so that sufficient money will be available for carrying on this all important work."

Pastor Speaks About "India"

On Sunday, Dr. F. W. Kerr will preach both morning and evening in St. Andrew's Church on "Mother India." Never has the British Government faced a more serious crisis in India, since the days when Gandhi staged his campaign of passive resistance and non-co-operation.

In his addresses Dr. Kerr will not only give side-lights on Gandhi and the new leader Dr. Ambedkar, but will depict social and religious conditions.

He will face the question whether Christianity desires the accession of the thirty million outcasts who have forsaken allegiance to Hinduism. The speaker will review the progress of Christian missions, as Sunday marks the Diamond Jubilee of the founding of the Central India Mission of the United Church.

Swap Shop Now In New Location

Spacious new quarters are now being occupied by the justly famous "Swap Shop," formerly situated at 384 Victoria avenue, and tons. This popular spot has now been moved to a local store; situated at 284 Victoria avenue, and the novel merchandising plan which was so popular at the downtown location will be continued here.

The "Swap Shop" operates on a "fair exchange" basis, wherein you take something for which you have no use to the shop, and get in return some article which you may choose from a wide selection of useful things, which you may find useful.

If you have anything that you don't need or don't want, you can take it down to the Swap Shop and get something that you want, need or can use. All you do is pay twenty per cent of the value.

Just call the office—a salesman will be glad to discuss advertising.

King's School Parents-Teachers' Association Heard Safety Expert On Monday

A large gathering attended the semi-final meeting of the King's Parents-Teachers' Association, held in the School on Monday evening. The meeting was addressed by T. H. Miller, of the Province of Quebec Safety League.

Mr. Miller made a plea to parents and teachers to impress upon their children and pupils the necessity of "thinking safety first" so that it becomes a habit.

The human being's greatest protection against accidents, said Mr. Miller, was his mind, and if that mind were not functioning properly, then the man, woman or child was simply "asking for it."

He complimented the teachers on their interest in safety-first, and urged them to carry it further. The same thing applied, he said, to the parents.

Mr. Miller then showed a number of "no accident" films from the movie files of the Province of Quebec Safety League, demonstrating the various points he had brought out during the evening.

Members of the upper grades of the school were present at the meeting, over which Mr. W. Maxwell Ford, principal, presided.

Lavell Smith, of Westmount Park United Church, officiated.

Formerly Susan Hilliard, Mrs. Bradshaw was a native of Greenock, Scotland, where she and Mr. Bradshaw were married 37 years ago. They had resided in N.D.G. since their arrival in Canada in 1907.

Besides her husband there are five daughters surviving: Mrs. Jack Morris, of Ottawa; Mrs. J. D. Haggerty, of London, Ont.; Mrs. Hodgkinson, and the Misses Amelia and Ina Bradshaw, of Montreal; and two grand-children. Burial was made in Mount Royal Cemetery.

Rotarians Hear Address About British Guiana

Craigie Hood, just arrived from British Guiana, where he was investigating the mineral wealth and possibilities of the country, addressed the members of the Westmount Rotary Club Wednesday noon at their regular weekly luncheon meeting in Victoria Hall.

Describing the country, its climate, the natives and their habits and telling an exciting and interesting tale of the hunt for the missing explorer Paul Redfern, the speaker held his audience with a short but pithy address.

W. J. Stephenson, Westmount resident, and one of the three Montvalees chosen to sing with the Coronation choir, rendered two delightful solos.

A highly favorable report was received from the committee in charge of the Carnival, and it was announced that the proceeds would exceed all former efforts.

Reports of the coming Rotary Conference, to be held here, were received.

The president, Dr. J. Kenneth Carver, was in the chair.

tion (taking his B.D. degree by examination).

His post graduate studies did not stop there and in 1896 after his first charge as minister, he went to Scotland and studied at Edinburgh University and at Glasgow University, following this up with an extended trip through southern Europe, Palestine and Egypt. On his return he went to Harvard University and was given the M.A. degree there in 1897.

Dr. Reid also studied at Oxford and Berlin Universities. During his career he has won 8 scholarships.

Served in Missions
The first pastoral work of Dr. Reid was in the home mission field at Avoca and Harrington, Argenteuil county, when he was a student. In 1890 he was appointed a student missionary to Victoria Mission, Point St. Charles. On graduation he was ordained and called to Victoria Mission as its first minister. It was from Victoria Church that he resigned to take post graduate studies abroad in 1896 and on returning to this province from Harvard University he was called to Taylor Presbyterian Church, Montreal, at the corner of Logan and Papineau Streets.

After about twelve years as minister of that church he resigned to accept an appointment to the position of Superintendent of Missions in Alberta, from which post he was called to Stanley Church which was then at the corner of Stanley and Cypress streets. He was inducted pastor in 1912 and he has retained the leadership of that congregation up to the present. During his pastorate the new large church on the upper level of Westmount was built and dedicated in 1914 when the late Rev. John McNeil, noted Scottish evangelist was the special preacher at the dedication service. Over 4,000 persons have been added to full membership of the church during Dr. Reid's ministry.

He returned to academic life in the capacity of lecturer in the Presbyterian College in pastoral theology and church government during the sessions of 1905-6 and 1906-7. Later, in 1925, 1926 and 1927 he lectured there in homiletics and church government.

Dr. Reid lectured to returned men at Queen's University in 1919.

In the general life of the church he has taken an active part and the Montreal and Ottawa Synods. He has also presided over the Montreal Presbytery as its Moderator and has served on various boards of the General Assembly, and on committees of the local Presbytery, and the Montreal and Ottawa Synod. At present he is convener of the Missionary Committee of the Synod of Montreal and Ottawa.

MAINLY ABOUT SCHOOLMAMS

Oh! Who is the person who gives us our start? Who struggles to make us both brilliant and smart? Who answers our questions with words curt and tart?

The Schoolmarm!

Who waggles the birch in a manner we hate? Who gives us the devil if we come in late? Who is it who sees that we have a clean slate?

The Schoolmarm!

She's wise and she's clever, she's stately and stern! She bosses the youngsters with rules hard and firm! And when she gets mad she can make the kids squirm!

The Schoolmarm!

She plans our assignments—they're oft a hard task! She answers the questions that youngsters will ask! (And her pets in the radiance of her love bask!)

The Schoolmarm!

She teaches us reading and writing and such, but when we are loafing we do not learn much! (And that is the time when we get into Dutch!)

The Schoolmarm!

'Tis many a year since we languished in school, a-learning the famous and fine Golden Rule! (And who saw us often a-playing the fool?)

The Schoolmarm!

However 'tis easy for us to recall, the years that we spent in that red schoolhouse small, where often she threw us right out in the hall!

The Schoolmarm!

Oh! Often we felt of the wine of her wrath, and that was the signal to get from her path, when she came down the passage a-swinging a lath!

The Schoolmarm!

And many a mark did we get on our back, (instead of the book) when she gave us a crack, when we did ambition and industry lack!

The Schoolmarm!

Despite all her sternness, this thing did we mark—she surely was human, enjoying a lark, when

Stanley for so many years Dr. Reid's name is still closely associated with the old Taylor church in the memory of those who knew the church life of the first decade of the present century, for at that time the membership of 1,200 attained by the Taylor congregation made it the largest in the Presbytery.

During his pastorate in Montreal he was largely responsible for the founding of several missions as subsidiary churches to his own, Fairmount Taylor church, Masson and Cartier streets, was a branch of Taylor church while he was there, and Campbell Memorial was started as a mission of Stanley Church in 1925. It was in 1900 that he received a call which he declined, from Cowcadden's church, Glasgow, where he served as an assistant to the Rev. Dr. Ross in 1897. Of his two sons, William Stanford Reid, M.A., is in his second year in theology at Westminster Seminary, Philadelphia, Pa., and Stewart A. Reid is a third year arts student at McGill University. Dr. Reid married in 1912, Miss Daisy Stanford, of Redhill, Surrey, England, who for some years was

Roslyn Home And School Group Meets

Final Gathering of Year to be Held Tonight—A. E. Corbett to Speak—Election of Officers

The final meeting of the year of the Roslyn Avenue Home and School Association will be held this evening in Roslyn School at 8.15, instead of on Monday, as was originally planned. The annual election of officers for the ensuing year will be held.

The guest speaker will be Mr. A. E. Corbett, who will address the gathering on "Adult Education," a phase of education which has been given a great deal of attention in the past few years.

A native of Quebec and a graduate of McGill, Mr. Corbett spent some time in Y.M.C.A. work in Canada both before and after the War and Overseas. He became Dean of the University of Alberta in charge of extra-mural work. He resigned this position a short time ago to become Director of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, the work of which is now organized on a Dominion basis.

He was one of the founders of the organization responsible for the present Dominion Dramatic Festival. He was recently appointed Head of the Canadian Association of Arts and Handicrafts.

As might be expected from one of such varied interests, Mr. Corbett is an able and interesting speaker.

Traffic Improvement

Montreal's Traffic By-Law exists to promote Safe and Free-Moving Traffic.

It gives consideration to pedestrian, motorist, tram and bus passenger. It is the result of deep and scientific study.

Violations affect all traffic. In the example illustrated above, note that motorists are delayed and bus passengers greatly inconvenienced "because of X."

This owner, careless of the trouble he causes, is actually violating the law, is unfair to many of his fellow-citizens, and is interrupting the flow of street movement.

A Bus cannot come to curb to receive and discharge passengers; B & C The whole flow of traffic in one direction is blocked.

Responsible for the regular daily transportation of 40% of Montreal citizens who are fully interested in the strict observance of traffic regulations.

Smash Musical Hit 'One In A Million' Exhilaratingly New

With Sonja Henie, Queen of the Silvery Skates, executing dazzling dances on crystal ice and romancing with Don Ameche, Adolphe Menjou pulling another hilarious performance out of his gag-bag, Jean Hersholt more lovable than ever, Ned Sparks deadpanning his way to new laugh highs, the Ritz Brothers running amusingly amok, Arline Judge, cute, captivating and comical, Borrah Minevitch and his gang playing hot rhythms on their harmonicas, and Dixie Dunbar, Leah Ray and Shirley Deane contributing beauty and hide-ho, "One In A Million," the Twentieth Century-Fox spectacular musical smash, comes to the Westmount United Theatre Sunday for three days, following directly at the Seville and then The Monklund.

Set in a brilliant new world of delicious new thrills, "One In A Million" tells a story of love burning as sun on snow, sprinkled with fun, roaring as on open fire, with songs you'll remember as the year's big hits.

The plot of sparkling Sonja's first screen triumph has to do with a troupe of American entertainers including the Ritz brothers, Arline Judge, Borrah Minevitch, Dixie Dunbar and Leah Ray, in straightened circumstances, who are travelling Europe under the wing of their ebullient manager, Tad Spencer (Adolphe Menjou.)

The troupe arrives at a Swiss resort, where they were to have put on a performance, but find that the hotel has burned down. Installing his flock instead at a little lodging house, Menjou discovers a marvelously gifted amateur ice skater in the person of a beautiful, little Greta, the innkeeper's daughter (Sonja Henie), who is being trained by her father, (Jean Hersholt) to win the Olympic figure skating championship, which he once held, but which was taken from him on false charges of professionalism.

Amid plot complications during which Menjou nearly ruins Hersholt and Sonja's hopes by attempting to put her in a professional skating exhibition, Sonja finds occasions to give some stunning examples of her genius as a dancer on ice and of the stellar quality of her acting.

Finally, through the help of a young American newspaperman (Don Ameche), who has fallen in love with her, Sonja is saved from the taint of professionalism and wins the Olympic championship.

Hundreds Turned Away As Betty Speirs Scores With Spectacular Dance Display

"Old Woman in Shoe" Receives Ovation—Variety of Clever Work Throughout Program—Business Girls Made Hit—Repeat Show Saturday

Seldom has Victoria Hall been so thronged as it was on Saturday evening when hundreds were turned away as Betty Speirs staged her annual dance recital. It seems like "painting the lily" to praise the efforts of this celebrated school, they get better all the time. The first part of the program was carried by the baby classes in "The Old Woman Who Lived in the Shoe." The ensemble singing and dancing of the tiny tots, and the precision with which the various little soloists made their ways in and out of the huge shoe, left the huge audience charmed to the last degree. One of the highlights of this offering was a duet by the two tiny lovers, Nancy Telfer and Brian McGuigan. The other soloists who showed to advantage were Joan Morrow, Beverley Marron, Enid Pascoe, Isabel Ann Rubenstein, Laura Ross, Diane Gratton, Peggy Jean Ross, Joan Moffett and Lloyd Bourdon. The aristocrats who presented the finale number were Isobel McLellan, Elsie Driscoll, Sheila Boland, Norma McAllister, Barbara Evans, Barbara Foster, Ann Thomson, Brenda Barrie, Barbara Ritchie, Haidy Vaseha. A smart line of brave soldiers got quite a reception. They were George Sidaway, Jack Goodfellow, Dick Patience, Digby Peers, Jimmie Trenholme, Lloyd Bourdon, Buddy McKenzie, Donald McKenzie, John Keep, Brian McGuigan, Gary Hepburn, Kenneth Dennis, Leslie Bagshaw, Melville McFarland, Clayton Mayotte, Ian Gilbert and Michael Cashin.

The selected program was crammed full of a variety of clever work, in which we singled out a sensational acrobatic number by Eleanor Thompson, which brought down the house. Beautiful toe solos were contributed by Bernice Dickson, Jean Barnes, Hazel Webb, Joyce Lozinski, and Peggy Jean Ross. The senior tap class of twenty-four dancers was accorded an ovation. Included in this group were Marion Rae, Isobel Cooper, Joan Little, Betty Connal, Joan Layton, Eleanor Reekie, Mary MacLean, Joan Melvin, Haidy Vaseha, Phyllis and Bernice Dickson, Helen McClure, Mary Ledoux, Betty McKellar, Joy Coen, Shirley Watson, Shirley Mc-

Thompson and Hulda Semmens. "Ora pro Nobis" was a very impressive sacred presentation. Hazel Webb as the Madonna gave a marvellous portrayal in a very difficult role, while the little orphan, Nancy Telfer, won the hearts of the huge audience. The Angels who did very effective grouping were Peggy Jean Ross, Doris Jackson, Shirley Harris, Shirley Watson, Eleanor Thompson, Bernice Dickson, Jean Barnes, Phyllis Dickson, Joyce Lozinski, Mrs. Ethel McCormick sang the solo in beautiful fashion and was ably supported by Vera Groves at the organ. Shirley Hutt again distinguished herself in a specialty toe solo. One of the highlights of the evening was a marvellous offering by Jean Barnes and Frank White. This number was of professional calibre.

A novelty acrobatic ensemble in which the dancers were all in bed when the curtain rose was well received. Included Wilma Jacobs, Isobel Ann Rubenstein, Elsie Driscoll, Isobel McLellan, Beverley Brooks, Lois Lester, Haidy Vaseha, Doreen Clough, Phyllis Dickson, Jean Barnes, Peggy Jean Ross. The finale of the evening was "Ballet d'Amour." This was a delightful offering and exhibited toe and ballet technique of professional style. The ovation which the ballet received must have been very gratifying to Miss Speirs and her talented assistant, Hulda Semmens. Florence Jenkins at the piano supported the various dancers in splendid manner throughout the evening. Altogether a wonderful performance remarkable for the smoothness with this lengthy program was carried through, and reflecting great credit on the stage management of Peter Miller. We have always remarked about the tremendous support which the children of the Betty Speirs school get from the producers when appearing before the public. Once again this was the case with scenery and lighting effects which could not have been improved upon and costumes that were breath-taking in their beauty of design and color. To accommodate the many hundreds who were unable to gain admission a repeat performance will be given Saturday afternoon at popular prices.

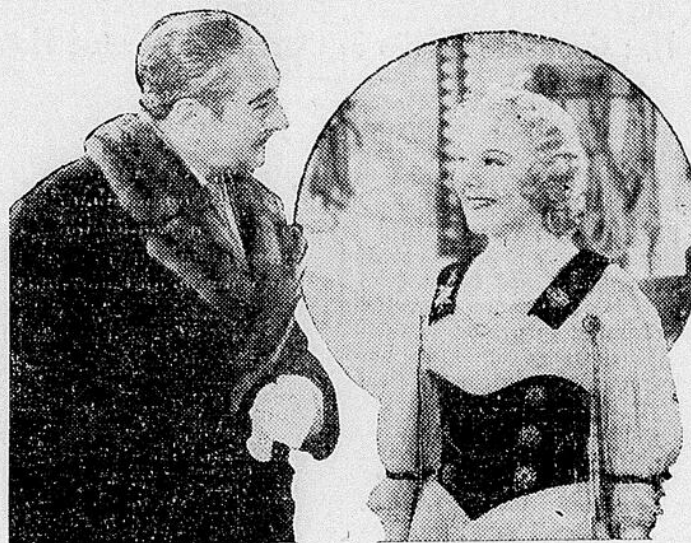

The Business Girls made quite a hit with two smart routines. Included in this smart ensemble were Hilda Austel, Dorothy Craig, Joan Hiam, Nannie McLean, Inez Livingston, May Rillie, Peggy deBeer, Marjorie Oakes, Isobel Wilson, Vivie Balls, Ruth Sutton, Kathleen Williams, Eleanor Townsend, Sophy Bishinsky, Irene Rowe, Lois Lester, and Lillias Swindon. The top soloists who caught the eye were Ella Pye, Peggy Cooper, Margaret Turnbull, Beverley Marron, the Rockheads, N. Ferguson, Shirley Hutt and Rene Montpetit. Others who merited mention were Rosemary Colton, Doreen Hilton, Florence and Rosalind Gold, Barbara Foster and Isabel McLellan in specialty numbers. The Dickson sisters were warmly received in a comedy number and a very fine adagio offering. A very colorful Russian scene presented a large ensemble. The team work here was very good with the solo honors going to little Joan Stock, Eleanor

BETTY SPEIRS

Betty Speirs will repeat Dance Recital next Saturday afternoon to accommodate those unable to gain admission at last Saturday's performance.

IN EXCELLENT MUSICAL ROMANCE . . . !

Adolphe Menjou and Sonja Henie are pictured above in a scene from the outstanding musical comedy romance "One In A Million," in which The Ritz Brothers, Arline Judge, Don Ameche and the entire strong supporting cast are all excellent, will be a delight to patrons of the Westmount United Theatre where it opens a three day engagement on Sunday afternoon. The feature will then move to the Seville and follow directly at the Monkland.

Norma Darling School Presents Dance Recital

On Saturday, April 24th, 8.15 p.m., Miss Norma Darling will present her pupils and concert dance group in their annual spring recital. The entertainment will be given in aid of the Labrador Voluntary Educational League under the distinguished patronage of the Right Reverend Lennox Williams, Dr. Percival, director of Protestant Education; Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, provincial president I.O.D.E.; Dr. J. A. Johnston, Mrs. E. de L. Greenwood, Mrs. W. Gibbs, Mrs. J. Wallis, Miss D. E. Hutton, Alain Joly de Lotbiniere Esq., Dr. N. W. Morton, Dr. E. C. Webster.

The Montreal Concert Dance Group which now completes its fourth season under Miss Darling's direction will contribute six varied presentations. "Spirit of the Rumba" and "Excerpts from Cappelia Ballet" promise to be of outstanding merit. "Rumba" is a comparative recent importation to this country from Cuba and is too often classified as modern "jazz"—in reality it is a national character dance which when sincerely performed is outstanding in rhythmic and emotional qualities. The interpretation of six dances from Cappelia is one of the most difficult and truly classical numbers ever presented by the concert group. Discarding the original story of the ballet the dances will have new arrangements in form but adhere strictly to the original style. Other presentations of the Concert Group will be "Clair de Lune," "Dance of the Workers," "Revolutionary Etude," and "Roman Lament."

Ballet Recital On Monday Evening

The first performance of a ballet, designed by Clare Lauche, to Bach's Prelude and Fugue in G minor, number 16 of the "Forty-eight," will be a number in the program of the Canadian Ballet at the Monument National on Monday evening. This will be played by a string quartet.

A second ballet to music by Bach will include a Bourree, a Minuet and a Gavotte from the sixth English Suite. A "Russian Carnival" ballet will be danced to an orchestral arrangement of Russian folk music and the "Dance of

ELGAR CHOIR TO GIVE ORATORIO

Will Sing "Elijah" in Windsor Hall on Thursday
Next — Successful Season Enjoyed

The Montreal Elgar Choir, whose presentation of Mendelssohn's oratorio, "Elijah," will be heard on Thursday, April 22nd, at the Windsor Hall, brings to a close with this concert a season of some musical achievement. At the first concert the choir performed, among other works, Purcell's "Dido and Aeneas," a work new to Montreal audiences; and recently, at the Quebec Musical Festival, were awarded the Ladies' Morning Music Club trophy for the open choral class.

At the performance of the "Elijah" next week, the choir will be assisted by four outstanding local singers, Mrs. Myra McNeil Hamilton (soprano), Miss Frances Smart (contralto), Mr. Richard Manning (tenor), and Mr. Finlay Campbell (baritone), who will sing the title role. A full orchestra has been engaged.

The story of the oratorio is Biblical; the prophet Elijah is one of the great figures of human history, and the matchless language of the Old Testament, austere and grave, serves to accentuate the indomitable courage and will of the "mighty man of God." Mendelssohn succeeded in giving wonderful musical expression to the spirit of the Bible narrative.

DOMINION-DOUGLAS CAGERS WINNERS OF FIRST LOCAL TOURNEY

Defeat All-Stars 48-25 In Hard Fought Contest At Queen's On Tuesday

Crowds Attended Final Game of Tournament—Long-Range Sniping Brought Many Points—Art. Cochrane and Kenny Grant High Scorers for Winners—“Bunny” Talpis High for Losers—Presentations Made

Dominion-Douglas became the first holders of the “Sammett-Blair” trophy, emblematic of the basketball championship of Westmount, by riding roughshod over the strong “All-Stars” team in the final round of the tournament by the score of 48-25, at Queen's School on Tuesday. The double blue team started off at a fast pace that caught the “All-Stars” flat-footed and then gained momentum, went on to display the strongest offensive play that any team has shown in this district to date.

Consistent long range sniping by the church team gave them a ten point lead at the half-way mark which they steadily increased in the second half. Although playing a relentless game themselves, the “All-Stars” were no match for the inspired Dominion-Douglas team.

Art Cochrane with thirteen points and Kenny Grant, playing his last game in this city, with nine points were the high scorers for the winners, while “Bunny” Talpis' even dozen points kept the “All-Stars” in the winning.

It was “presentation” night in all senses of the word for Norman Johnson's Dominion-Douglas team, for prior to the game, Ronnie McKee, manager of the church team, presented coach Ken Grant with a lovely silver cigarette box with all the members of the team's names engraved on it, in token of his fine coaching and help to the players in the past few years.

The double-blue team then went out and “presented” their departing coach with a fitting climax to his career with them, by playing unbeatable basketball to win the tourney honors.

The third and final “presentation” took place when Mr. A. W. Seaman, past president of the Montreal Basketball League presented the “Sammett-Blair” trophy to the Dominion-Douglas team, after the game.

To achieve the final round the “All-Stars” had previously scored the major upset of the tourney when they defeated the favored Westmount “Y” team 41-24.

And so the first basketball tournament for teams in the city of Westmount fades into history, a distinct success and a possible fore-runner of the day when this city will have a representative

POSSIBILITY OF 2ND CAGE TOURNEY

With the victory of Dominion-Douglas basketballers over All-Stars Tuesday night, the first local basketball tournament drew to a close.

Jimmy McCormick, who planned and organized the entire affair, is to be congratulated on his aggressiveness and for the way he handled the tournament.

It is to be hoped that the success of the tourney just finished, a second one may be organized locally in the fall. This is just the sort of thing Westmount needs to stimulate a keen interest in athletics here.

Avail Yourself Of Waste Space

The parent who wants to make a hit with the very young lady of the house will certainly do so by providing a room for the club, dear to the heart of every child. A place where these “secret” meetings can be held may be provided in basement or attic.

Funds for the building of a room may be obtained under the Home Improvement Plan and waste space made useful. As the child grows older the room may be used for study and later it will be an ideal spot when the girls come in for bridge. Such a room gives a child a right of privacy and aids her in respecting the same right of others.

Whenever possible it is advisable to build in a fire place. This is decorative and adds to the appearance of a room and also, especially in attics, where probably no provision has been made for heat, will be found useful in cold weather. Book-cases may be built under sloping ceilings, utilizing space that might otherwise have been wasted.

Numerous composition materials are on the market which are suitable for the walls and ceiling of attics rooms. They come in plain colours or decorated panels or they may be decorated by the future occupant of the room. Board floors may be painted and varnished or a composition covering laid, and from the occupants rather than the owners. That is to say, the incidence should be occupancy and not ownership.

In the City of Montreal, for instance, such a change in the incidence of property taxation would mean that instead of 80 per cent of the City's tax burden resting directly on less than 20,000 property-owners—omitting small lot owners—it would spread to 230,000 householders. Each householder would receive a tax bill every six months showing the amount of tax to be paid and how it is made up—so much in the dollar for each public service.

The writer went on to say that this was the system in Great Britain, where it works out so well that, although the per capita cost of municipal government is much higher than in Canada, the burden of local taxes is borne cheerfully because it is shared by every family in the community proportionately to its ability to pay. A special advantage of this form of local taxation is that the tax being a direct charge on the rent actually paid there is no need for the costly and uncertain assessment system that we have in Canada.

What I like about the plan I have just mentioned is that it taxes the householder directly instead of indirectly. This would mean a better civic spirit, for there is nothing like a tax bill to make a breakfast nook. A distinctive composition floor covering and unique lighting fixture continue the scheme. Venetian blinds give privacy but allow a proper amount of light and ventilation.

WALTER DOWNS' TALKIE-MOVIE EQUIPMENT

This compact apparatus, situated in the home of Walter Downs, well-known and popular radio announcer, is an example of up-to-date the art of motion and talking pictures and is vice-president of the Montreal Amateur Movie Club.

Amateur Movie Enthusiasts Are Active In This District

Gathered Monday at Associated Screen News—Produce Own Films, Plots Scenarios—Walter Downs Has Complete Studio in Claremont Avenue Home

Gathering en masse Monday evening at the Decarie Boulevard studios of the Associated Screen News, amateur movie photographers of the city and district were treated to a special screening of experimental films as the local film company host to the members of the Montreal Amateur Movie Club.

PRODUCE OWN FILMS

Organized early in 1933 to study the principles of and latest developments in the science of motion picture photography, and to facilitate the exchange of ideas amongst those interested in the field, the Club has experienced an amazing growth and celebrates its fourth birthday next month with a membership of over 35. Schedule of club activities has been exceptionally broad, ranging from intense study of the art of action photography to production of special club films with plots, scenarios, direction and photography all handled by club members using their own apparatus.

Many amateur motion picture addicts have gone so far as to fit up special laboratories or makeshift studios and projection chambers in their homes or garages. Outstanding amongst the amateur “studios” in the west end of the city is that of Walter Downs, well-known radio announcer, 381 Claremont avenue.

Downs' Apparatus

Downs, who is first vice-president of the Montreal Amateur Movie Club, has fitted up one room in his home with elaborate projection and production apparatus, and projects his film through a camouflaged hole in the wall, across the hallway and onto a screen which sets on the desk in the living-room. Loud speakers are concealed beneath the desk and wired to the projection chamber where both sound-effects and sound-on-film pictures are used.

The projection room, an excellent example of compactness and completeness, is fitted with a double-turntable system and twin 500-watt Ampro projectors, one of which is suited for sound-on-film projection. The turntables, which enable Mr. Downs to provide suitable musical backgrounds to his silent films or to aid to their effect with recorded sound-effects, are exact replicas of those used in radio studios and may be faded one into the other. The walls of citizen take an interest in the administration. As we all know, the purpose of taxation is to secure revenue for the public services—and it is the task of the local administration to keep the cost of the public services to the lowest figures. And here the Montreal administration can learn much from the outside municipalities where administrative costs are kept to a minimum. If the City Hall authorities were wise they would seek the co-operation of our neighbours rather than their resentment by stupid interference in their affairs. The Municipal affairs of the City are in anything but a happy condition, and the sooner those in charge realize that such neighbourly co-operation is needed, and that it can only be secured by mutual goodwill the sooner will they get happy results, both for the City and the metropolitan area.

ARGYLE Echoes

By A. de B.

Once again, holidays are over and pupils are slipping back into the old routine. The Student Council is very busy sponsoring Public Speaking Contest. The 7th year's finals were held yesterday and the 8th and 9th in a week or so. Then after that's all over the very same S.C. will get together and arrange for a minstrel show as the monthly entertainment. The scenery, directing, etc., is entirely in the hands of Mr. H. Gall.

The social side of the club is blooming forth in all its glory. The “Argylean” is to give a tea shortly and very likely will present an entertainment at the same time.

“Tramp, tramp, tramp.” Yep, the Astronomy is planning another one of its hikes to Mount Royal. As usual, refreshments will be awaiting the star-gazers on their return.

And then the executives of the Girls' Choir are all in a fever because they too, are holding a social evening to be on May the 8th.

The young camera enthusiasts are still going around snapping pictures at every opportunity.

They'll snap anything, teachers, pupils, class-rooms, and what have you.

FUNERAL TODAY

The funeral is being held this morning at the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, of Margaret Metcalf, widow of the late James Metcalf, who passed away at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. F. Foy, 1119 Greene Ave.
