TROOP WITHDRAWAL EASES TENSION

Influx Of War Supplies Still Offers Danger

China Withdraws Thirty-Seventh Division from Peiping Area, Thus Meeting Japan's First Condition for Settling Troubles that Broke Out July 7th in Clash Between Japanese and Chinese Detachments.

Tientsin, July 24.—Tension in north China apparently eased today though the influx of Japanese war supplies continued and seasoned observers pointed to danger spots where friction might renew the dispute between Chinese and Japanese military forces.

The Chinese withdrawal of the Thirty-Seventh Division from the Peiping area met Japan's first condition for settling the troubles that broke out July 7th during Japanese troops manoeuvres west of Peiping and touched off the crisis.

Transportation and other activities in the Hoph-Chahar district approached normal for the first time since the tension arose.

A Japanese army officer at Tangku, Tientsin's seaport, declared however that "this situation is not yet over by any means."

Two Japanese merchantmen were anchored at Tangku unloading light tanks and munitions on the crowded docks that have become a vital part of Japan's system of bringing men and war supplies into China by sea.

Three transports were expected to dock tomorrow, bringing more than three thousand soldiers to add to the nine thousand reinforcements sent into the Hoph-Chahar region in the past two weeks.

Japanese attempted unsuccessfully to halt the unloading of a German vessel bringing rifles, munitions and machines destined for the Chinese army.

On the south side of the river facing the hive of Japanese activity more than five thousand Chinese troops were quartered.

Observers believed the situation south of Peiping was still fraught with danger on a front paralleling the Peiping-Hankow railway, with Japanese and Chinese troops still relatively close together. By mutual agreement railway traffic was permitted to resume in this area.

The Tokyo version of the North China truce included a provision for joint Sino-Japanese action against Communists considered here the most important part of the agreement since it would give the Japanese army a free hand in suppressing anything it labelled Communism.

JAPAN TODAY TURNING TO DOMESTIC ISSUES

Tokyo, July 24.—Japan turned from war-like preparations to domestic problems today after more than two weeks' feverish excitement over the North China dispute.

Parliament convened for a two-week session to deal largely with economic proposals as the Government announced its decision to revalue gold reserves of the Bank of Japan, a move that will triple the value of Japan's gold hoard.

The war scare was allayed at least temporarily by War Office reports that Chinese troops had withdrawn from the Peiping area and by other reports indicating the Nanking Government's willingness to accept the local agreement for terminating the difficulty in North China.

The newly-assembled Parliament faced a batch of important bills, many of them held over from the session that ended in dissolution March 31.

ALL CO-OPERATING TO MAKE CELEBRATION A GREAT SUCCESS

G. D. WADSWORTH.

G. D. Wadsworth, general manager of the Quebec Central Railway and joint-chairman of the Historical Committee, is more than satisfied with the progress of preparations for Sherbrooke's Centenary celebration. "Mr. Tremblay and Mr. Hemmings have co-operated wholeheartedly with the Historical Committee and deserve credit for the efficient manner in which they have carried out the arrangements for staging the 'Evocation of a Century of History,'" stated Mr. Wadsworth.

In Mr. Wadsworth's opinion everyone is doing his utmost to ensure the success of the programme soon to be staged and he is confident their efforts will be crowned with the fulfillment of all their hopes.

I do not think it idle repetition to comment on the beauty of the decorations which are being made by the city and by progressive firms in Sherbrooke, and I am sure that they will remain in the memories of our visitors long after other features of the celebration may be dimmed by the passage of time.

Mr. Wadsworth predicts great financial benefit to the city as well as an immense educational value.

His sentiments may be summed up in this short quotation: "I am one hundred per cent behind the Centenary celebration."

LEVIS WOMAN PERISHED AS HOME BURNED
Mrs. Arthur Fontaine Burned to Death as Flames Overran Her Home—Her Husband Unable to Attempt Rescue.

Levis, July 24.—Trapped by flames which spread quickly through her small frame dwelling here early today, Mrs. Arthur Fontaine, 47, was burned to death in a fire thought to have started from an overheated oil lamp.

Mrs. Fontaine was alone in the little wooden, two-story house at the time of the outbreak. Her husband, because of the temperature, was sleeping on the balcony. Aroused by the crackling of the flames, he was unable to attempt a rescue because the fire had gained too much headway.

Mrs. Fontaine evidently had attempted to escape from the burning building after being awakened, as firefighters found her body only a few feet from the front door. The building was destroyed.

Levis, July 24.—A suggestion the Duke of Windsor shirked his duty as King to meet Mrs. Simpson last September drew a belated denial today from Lord Provost Edward Watt, of Aberdeen.

Passages in the book "Coronation Commentary" by Geoffrey Dunn, intimated that when Aberdeen had prepared an elaborate welcome for the King he declined at the last moment and drove from Balmoral Castle to meet a "gay party of trans-Atlanticans."

Mrs. Simpson, accompanied by her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herman L. Rogers, visited the King at Balmoral early last autumn.

At the last moment, said the book, the King delegated the Duke and Duchess of York, now King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, to open Aberdeen's Royal Infirmary and carry out the programme.

Watt denied this in a letter authorized for publication, saying the King intimated he was unable to participate because of court mourning, but sent his brother.

"The fact that Mrs. Simpson arrived in Aberdeen the same day the Duke and Duchess of York appeared at the ceremony was a mere coincidence," Watt stated. "Whatever may be said about the King's action in not coming that day, it is in no way involved a breach of a Royal engagement to open the infirmary."

KING CAROL PURCHASED YACHT NAHLIN.
London, July 24.—King Carol of Roumania, has purchased the yacht Nahlin, the vessel in which the Duke of Windsor made a Dalmatian cruise in 1936 when he was King Edward VIII.

The yacht, reputed to have cost $1,500,000, was owned by Lady Yule, widow of Sir David Yule.

King Carol, in London incognito, said "She is a beautiful vessel, one of the most splendid afloat."

New York, July 24.—Samuel Jacoby, secretary of the Federation of Koshers Butchers, said today owners of three thousand kosher meat and poultry stores in New York had voted to close indefinitely as a protest against the high prices they must pay wholesalers for meat.

WEEKLY LONDON LETTER FOR RECORD READERS

The Record is shortly to introduce a new feature to its exclusively for the Record by Miss Dorothy Cook, of Montreal, exclusively for the Record by Miss Dorothy Cook, of Montreal, sister of the Countess of Minto, the Countess of Haddington and of Miss Audrey Cook, widely-known Canadian musician.

Miss Cook, who spends considerable time abroad and is a popular and familiar figure in London's social circles, will discuss the highlights of social doings in the Empire's capital, and will take her readers into many exclusive English homes.

In her first letter, Miss Cook will discuss the dinner given by the Hon. Mrs. Ronald Greville, who is familiarly known in London as Mrs. Ronnie, which was graced by the presence of Their Majesties King George and Queen Elizabeth.

The Horse Show at Olympia, which was attended by Queen Mary and the Duke and Duchess of Gloucester, and many other outstanding social events will be referred to in a friendly, informal manner.

It is solely to give Record readers a glimpse into the different events in London that Miss Cook has undertaken to write these letters. It is an exclusive feature which the Record has been able, through Miss Cook's kind co-operation, to secure for its readers.

Plan To Limit Supreme Court Powers To Overrule Congress

Eighty Per Cent. of U.S. House Membership Reported Favorable to Proposal for Constitutional Amendment to Let Congress Pass on Decisions Overturning Legislation—Understood to Have Favor of President Roosevelt.

Washington, July 24.—Renewed proposals for limiting the United States Supreme Court's power to invalidate acts of Congress came today from some House members despite shelving of most of the judiciary programme.

Representative Dies, Democrat, Texas, declared eighty per cent. of the House membership favored a constitutional amendment to let Congress pass on decisions overturning legislation. A two-third vote would be required to reinstate such laws.

Representative Beiter, Democrat, New York, carried this proposal a step further by recommending the people pass indirectly on these decisions. He would stipulate that Congress could not vote to override an invalidating decision until an election had intervened.

Some of Dies' supporters said they were prepared to bring up his amendment at this session. Other legislators pointed out, however, the Roosevelt administration had agreed with Court Bill does not mention the Supreme Court in any measure enacted this session.

Dies called on President Roosevelt yesterday but did not say whether his proposal was discussed. Interested Congressmen said they understood it was acceptable to Roosevelt.

DENIES FORMER KING SHIRKED ROYAL DUTIES
Lord Provost of Aberdeen Takes Issue with Article Concerning Action of Duke of Windsor at Opening of Hospital.

London, July 24.—A suggestion the Duke of Windsor shirked his duty as King to meet Mrs. Simpson last September drew a belated denial today from Lord Provost Edward Watt, of Aberdeen.

Passages in the book "Coronation Commentary" by Geoffrey Dunn, intimated that when Aberdeen had prepared an elaborate welcome for the King he declined at the last moment and drove from Balmoral Castle to meet a "gay party of trans-Atlanticans."

PRISONER OF REBELS

Apparently more concerned with the position of his wife than about his own future, Harold Dahl, United States aviator in the Spanish Government forces who was captured by the Nationalists, is awaiting transfer to France in exchange for an insurgent prisoner.

STATISTICS PROVE MORE MONEY SPENT

Increase of Nearly a Billion Dollars Spent by Canadians Attributed to Greater Industrial Activity and Better Prices.

Ottawa, July 24.—Canadians spent nearly $1,000,000,000 more by cheque in the first half of 1937 than in 1936. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics today placed the bank debt aggregate at $18,186,007,000 compared with $17,246,852,000 in the first six months of last year.

The increase was attributed to greater industrial activity and higher price levels.

SENATE FIGHT WEAKENS CROP CONTROL BILL

Now Considered Improbable that Measure to Establish Ever-Normal Granary Will Be Introduced this Session

Washington, July 24.—A Senate dispute weakened today the possibility of passing crop control legislation before United States Congress adjourns.

Chairman Smith, Democrat, South Carolina, of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said: "I don't anticipate any general farm legislation at this session. I've been in the Senate thirty years, and we have passed some legislation for the farmer every year—and we all know what it has amounted to."

Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, urged passage of a farm bill, but Majority Leader Barkley told reporters he doubted whether the committee could get a bill in shape for a vote this session.

The Senate turned over to its Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 4.

Many Expected To Flock To British Courts To Make Void Marital Vows

More than Twenty-Two Thousand Applications for Legal Separation Last Year on Grounds Which Would Qualify for Divorce Under New Law.

London, July 24.—Hundreds of even thousands of husbands and wives, hitherto barred from divorce, are expected to flock to the courts early next year to cancel their marital vows after the old statute dies.

A divorce reform bill fashioned by A. P. Herbert, the humorist-parliamentarian, and enacted by the House of Commons yesterday, is expected to become operative in January.

Royal Assent to the legislation will be given in a brief ceremony in the House of Lords next week.

The bill was hailed by the press generally today as "the biggest change in social laws of our time."

In addition to adultery, the only ground for divorce under the present law, the Herbert bill establishes these other causes: Desertion without cause for at least three years, cruelty and incurable insanity for five years.

There were more than 22,000 applications for legal separation orders on grounds of cruelty and desertion last year and it was estimated most of these would now be eligible for divorce.

It was considered almost certain additional judges would be required to meet the increase in litigation.

There were still other problems in connection with the change.

"The question now seems to be how far the Divorce Court will administer the bill so as to make divorce reasonably accessible to poor persons," said Alfred Fellows, vice-chairman of the Divorce Law Reform Union.

"The bill is a satisfactory step forward, although it is only three-quarters of what we desired."

The position of the King's Proctor under the new regime was the subject of speculation. This officer, under the old law, when armed with sufficient evidence of collusion, could obstruct the granting of final divorce decrees.

Herbert, author of the new law and himself happily married since 1914, chuckled over his victory and said "I am a proud man."

"One of my greatest ambitions is realized," he said. "Even I thought it was impossible. But we live to see the House of Commons the dominant hub of our national life, a place through which all public life may be rectified. Of that I am now convinced."

Sabre Rattling Il Duce Again Seeks To Involve European Powers In War

Declaration that "Reality" Would Some Day Overwhelm International "Make Believe" Taken to Indicate Mussolini Is Prepared to Go to War Over Spanish Situation—Renews Demand of Belligerency Rights for Franco.

Rome, Italy, July 24.—Il Popolo d'Italia, Premier Mussolini's newspaper, declared today that "reality" some day would overwhelm international "make believe" and well-informed persons said this "reality" was war.

The newspaper's strongly-worded editorial cited as one item of a group of "fictions" the belief that some day Great War debts would be paid. Another "fiction," the newspaper said, was the belief abroad that Valencia is the real seat of the Spanish Government.

"One day all these castles of cards will be overwhelmed by reality which in all time has had a single, grave and unsubstitutable name," the article added without using the word "war."

But the remark was given a martial significance by authoritative sources.

The newspaper centered its attack on nations opposed to granting belligerent status to Spanish insurgents.

The article, which usually well-informed sources said could be interpreted as an indication of the stand Italy intended to maintain in the deadlocked non-intervention negotiations, called these nations perpetrators of "fiction."

In London last Tuesday Italy brought British conciliation efforts to a fresh impasse by demanding that granting of belligerent rights to both sides of the Spanish civil war be considered before the withdrawal of foreign volunteers.

Britain then began drawing up an entirely new plan to break the deadlock—a scheme thus far secret—which possibly will be laid before the directing sub-committee of the twenty-seven-nation non-intervention group early next week.

Il Popolo d'Italia's editorial was a denunciation of all the international "make believe" which it said followed the Great War.

"The fiction of denying belligerency of General Franco—who controls two-thirds of Spain and all the colonies—is of such a nature as to complicate things," it said.

The newspaper said the question of foreign volunteers in Spain was "practically non-existent" and asserted that if no more volunteers were sent to Spain, the problem would resolve itself according to the terrible law of war.

NEW ATTEMPT TO BREAK SPANISH DEADLOCK
London, July 24.—Foreign Office experts were believed working today on the text of a questionnaire to be sent to all non-intervention powers in a new attempt to break the Spanish neutrality deadlock.

French Ambassador Charles Corbin, who conferred with Foreign Secretary Eden and Lord Plymouth, chairman of the Non-Intervention Committee, yesterday, left last night for Paris to report to his government. He is due back Monday.

Reliable sources said Corbin informed Eden his government would be willing to assent to the alternative procedure of a questionnaire as now proposed in order to break the impasse in the chairman's sub-committee.

The press today continued pessimistic over the prospects of any improvement in the situation and doubted whether any means could be found for arriving at a rapid solution.

The sub-committee will be called into session on Monday or Tuesday to pass upon the procedure now suggested.

All the powers concerned, it was understood, will be asked to commit themselves in writing on the various points embodied in the British compromise formula. Answers will be sought during the next week.

HEAVY LOSSES WEAKEN FRANCO'S REBEL ARMY
Madrid, July 24.—Insurgent pressure on the flanks of General Jose Mija's western front salient was reported weakened today with the government still holding its two-week old positions despite five days of furious counter-thrusts.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco's army was said to have suffered heavy losses in the desperate effort to retain its siege grip on Madrid.

Franco's troops concentrated their drive today on the tip of the "pocket" which Mija's militiamen, artillery and planes had opened in the insurgent rearward positions about fifteen miles west of Madrid, near Brunete.

They attacked government trenches along the banks of the Guadarrama River, three miles east of the town, but the panorama of war on the sun-baked hills and plains remained generally the same as after Mija executed his thrust in the "battle for Madrid."

Some units of Franco's army were said by a government communiqué to have lost half their men.

NATIONALISTS OF WALES FIND SCANT SUPPORT

Leading Welsh Paper Calls Campaign "Muddleheaded Propaganda" of "Disgruntled Rump at Sixes and Sevens Among Themselves."

London, July 23.—The Welsh Nationalist party, which tried without success to have Wales boycott the Coronation celebrations, showed its hand again during the visit last week to Wales of the King and Queen. The party's endeavors to cool the widespread enthusiasm manifest at this latest visit met with little support.

On the contrary, by writing a letter to the King before he reached the Welsh coast, the party expressed its opinion that the Welsh were given Dominion status Walesmen could show no devotion to the British throne other than "a servile tribute of respect as the personal symbol of the unity of the Commonwealth of Nations."

The letter explained the party had declined to attend the ceremonies at Carnarvon Castle which the King visited because his Majesty had gone there officially as King of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, "a kingdom of which Wales is a mere constituent area, in which her separate nationhood is refused recognition and whose government has recently done her grievous wrong."

The party then requested His Majesty to have his government withdraw the Air Ministry's bombing school from the Llyn peninsula of Carnarvonshire as a "threat to Welsh life and culture and an outrage to some of their deepest convictions." The party is firmly anti-war. It added, however, that the school might be converted into a civil airbase.

Publishing the party's letter in full, the Western Mail carried an editorial the same day which found the letter "another example of the muddleheaded propaganda of a now notorious faction which, while claiming to speak on this as on other occasions on behalf of Wales, has no more title to do so than the Three Tailors of Tooley Street."

"The Welsh Nationalists have no right to arrogate to themselves such a title. They speak for themselves and no one else. Their party has no considerable following in Wales. They are not even a party worthy the name, but a disgruntled rump at sixes and sevens among themselves."

"The people of Wales have shown not the slightest disposition to support their demand for the removal of the Llyn bombing school. They do not regard it as incompatible with the part which they may be called upon to play in defence of their country, but as a disagreeable necessity imposed upon them by the paramount duty of rearmament. They would certainly not vote for the removal of the school and it is therefore sheer impudence to pretend this is a national demand."

As to the party's contention that the Welsh Nationalists have no right to arrogate to themselves such a title. They speak for themselves and no one else. Their party has no considerable following in Wales. They are not even a party worthy the name, but a disgruntled rump at sixes and sevens among themselves.

Estimates of the number involved in the struggle have ranged as high as 100,000 on each side.
Seventy bodies of insurgent soldiers were found yesterday at E. P. Nava, a position of insurgent-held Navagamella, abandoned yesterday when the Madrid forces drove the insurgents across the Peralas River.

U.S. FLYER CAPTURED BY SPANISH REBELS

Salamanca, Spain, July 24.—Harold Dahl, twenty-eight-year-old United States aviator, captured by insurgents after his plane was shot down over the Madrid front, today awaited disposition of his case but appeared more concerned about his wife than what happens to him.
Mrs. Dahl, whom he married six months ago, is living at Cannes, France, where she supposedly is receiving the $1,500 weekly which Dahl said the Spanish Government promised to pay for his services.
Dahl, who made two flights for the Madrid forces, encountered a squadron of insurgent planes a few miles west of Madrid on the afternoon of July 12. Insurgent machine-gun fire riddled his plane and he bailed out.

Insurgent soldiers took him prisoner and subsequently brought him to the military prison here where he has been held incommunicado.
It is likely he will stay in jail for weeks for the next batch of prisoners to be taken to the French frontier and possibly traded with Spanish Government forces for an insurgent prisoner.

This writer is the only person who has seen and talked with Dahl since his capture.

TRULY MODERN ROADS SYSTEM MINISTER'S AIM

Hon. F. J. Ledue Determined to Place Provincial Roads on Par with Best in Ontario and U.S.—Large Programme Announced.

Montreal, July 24.—An extensive programme of road construction and repair is being carried out in the Province of Quebec. Approximately 500 miles of road will be built or repaired, 600 miles of roads of local or regional importance will be constructed and a coating of tar will be laid on 500 miles of main travelled highways. It was announced in an official statement issued by Hon. F. J. Ledue, Minister of Roads.

A large part of the proposed work will take place in Montreal and vicinity, while highways leading from Montreal to the Laurentians and Montreal and Ottawa will be repaired.
Seventy miles of construction are under way on the Montreal-Quebec highway, while the Montreal-Sherbrooke road has been widened between Longueuil and Chambly and is now being paved.

A road is being built to join Montreal with the mining districts of northern Quebec and with Temiskaming and the neighborhood of Rouyn.
Work is already underway in the Eastern Townships, on the lower St. Lawrence and in the Lake St. John area.

Mr. Ledue stated that a determined effort is being made to give the province a truly modern system of highways, one that will rank with the best in Ontario and the United States.

CAT IS EFFICIENT ELECTRICAL HELPER

U.S. Navy Air Station Officials Use Cat to Drag Telephone Cable Through Subterranean Pipe.

New York, July 24.—There are two ways to run a telephone cable through a subterranean pipe. One is the hard way and the other is the way the United States Navy did it.

Instead of ripping up the linoleum, wood and cement floor of the naval air reserve base at Floyd Bennett Field, Chief Radioman Harold A. Williams and Ralph Cabanillas, Jr., recruited a cat yesterday.

To the cat, they attached a gauze harness, hooked the harness to a line, put the cat at the mouth of the tunnel and said, "Scat!"

The cat didn't scat. So a police dog was called. The cat ran through the pipe. The job was done.

DROUGHT PLAGUED AMERICA IN DAYS OF COLUMBUS

Washington, July 24.—Drought fire and insects were plaguing parts of the west in the days of Columbus. F. P. Keen, of the United States Bureau of Entomology, said today. His study of tree rings showed a long dry spell ended in 1492.
Generally the rings are wide in years of plentiful moisture and thin in drought years, he found. Keen said his record does not support the theory that short cycles occur regularly.

Welsh loyalty was but servile tribute, the Western Mail exclaimed: "What a dishonest travesty of the truth."
"Despite the fact the party petitioned all Wales to boycott the Coronation not a dog barked. Every public authority that considered the request dismissed it by contempt and Wales ignored it by entering from end to end with spirit and loyalty into the celebrations."

A ROBBER GANG ROUNDED UP BY LUCKY CHANCE

Arrested Because They "Just Didn't Look Right," Two Overly Well-Dressed Men Found to Be Members of New York Jewel Gang.

New York, July 24.—Booked in the West 88th street police station on charges of assault and robbery are Frederick Manigieri, 34, of Brooklyn; Meyer Lembersky, 29, Murray Cohen, 29, and Jack Saunders, 29, of the Bronx.

Detective Thomas Cox felt that Lembersky and Saunders, whom he noticed leaving a restaurant on Broadway and 74th street, were "just too well dressed and didn't look right" as he walked toward them. They immediately started to run. Saunders later hailing a cab.

Cox and three other detectives trailed Lembersky to a hotel and were still there when Saunders hurried in. The men were searched and three diamond rings, a wrist watch and a bracelet were found in their possession.

An alarm was sent over the wires describing the men and the jewelry, and word was shortly received from Boston that the jewelry had been taken to a jeweler in that city.

It has been disclosed that the gang had carried on the system of luring female victims into hotels, treating them to a few drinks and then robbing them.
The master-mind of the gang is still at large and an extensive search for him is being carried on by metropolitan police.

STATE ACTS TO HALT BUFFALO TRUCK STRIKE

"Little Wagner Act" of New York State Called into Service in Dispute Between Buffalo Truckers and Employers.

Buffalo, N.Y., July 24.—New York State pressed its untitled "Little Wagner Act" into service today to mediate twin strikers that menaced the basic food supply of one million persons.
Dr. John P. Boland, chairman of a commission created to handle labor problems outside the jurisdiction of the National Labor Relations Board, offered his services as mediator.

Bitter rivals on the nation's labor front, the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization have pooled their efforts here to tie up forty-two wholesale butchers and egg markets and close three meat-packing plants.
C.I.O. pickets paraded before wholesale creameries and warehouses where truck-drivers affiliated with the A.F. of L. teamsters union struck for higher wages, shorter hours and a preferential closed shop. In turn, truckers ordered their union members not to deliver at packing plants where C.I.O. workers asked union recognition.

A merchants' committee headed by Raymond Wattles pleaded with Governor Herbert Lehman yesterday to intervene.
Only a thin trickle of trucks made their way out of strike-bound warehouses under police guard.

Howard F. Toy, A.F. of L. organizer, said the teamsters walked out because wholesalers failed to meet demands for a $25-a-week minimum wage, a forty-four hour work week and a closed shop. Wattles' committee claimed the sole point at issue was the closed shop.

Meanwhile, poultry and dairy products, flour, sugar and canned goods ran low on store shelves. Retail grocers estimated that by Monday there would be a serious shortage.

GIRL CHARGED WITH MURDER SEEKS BAIL

Louisiana Supreme Court to Decide Upon Request of Seventeen-Year-Old Girl Who Shot Chum During Argument.

Coukatta, La., July 24.—Comey, seventeen year old Jessie Pepper looked today to the State Supreme Court for freedom pending grand jury action on charges that she killed her girlhood chum in an argument stirred by neighborhood gossip.

District Judge James W. Jones, Jr., refused at a preliminary hearing yesterday to admit the girl to bail and her counsel indicated he would appeal at once.

The state charges the 104-pound blonde sent two bullets into the body of May Elvin Allen, seventeen, in the climax of a dispute between the girls and their mothers on July 5.

Selective Buying and Selling Churned Canadian Stock Prices Around within Narrow Limits During Past Week.

Toronto, July 24.—Nothing happened to stocks this week to greatly cheer or depress the bulls or the bears. Selective buying and selling churned the Canadian list about within narrow limits but there was no sustained movement in any direction. The golds finished the week just about where they started. Other shares were up about 3 1/2 points in the Toronto Exchange index and the industrials finished about 1 1/2 points higher.

Traders continued to think well of the outlook for Brazilian Traction as a result of the dickered between the United States and Brazil which is expected to render transfer of Brazilian funds easier.

Fanny Farmer also was in the spotlight as a result of an unconfirmed report that Senator O'Connor, who is said to hold 100,000 shares, was selling part to a Toronto group at $25.50 a share. The stock traded heavily all week and at the close yesterday was up $2.12 for the period at $25.12.

Implement, bank and building shares had a quiet week and, but for a gain of $1.65 for Building Products, gains and losses were narrow. Liquor stocks were strong with Walkers up more than one dollar and the steels were quiet and weak. Steel of Canada lost $1.12 and Dominion Steel dropped sixty-five cents. Paper issues traded slowly at steady prices.

International Nickel stood out in the week's proceedings, netting an advance of $3.25 in heavy trading. On this leadership all the active base metal shares picked up with exception of Ventures.

The gold ferment appears to be simmering down. Heavy conversion of francs recently into sterling and gold, sending sterling higher, has had the effect of easing the rush of metal to the United States. In the week ended July 16 Washington received about $26,000,000 in gold from abroad compared with $61,000,000 in the previous week.

Caution however is still in watchword among buyers of the yellow metal shares. Volume for the whole board is still down around the 500,000 share mark daily or about one-third of the turnover in July of last year.

A few of the junior producers and some soon to be producing were given a work-out this week on the Toronto market, registering gains in one session and losing them in the next. Rallies invariably brought considerable profit-taking. The big golds registered dullness.

The western oils attracted attention through the reported success of the drilling on the Monarch property and more gains than losses were registered in the week. Two new oil listings, Firestone Petroleum Limited and Prairie Royalties Limited, came on the Toronto Exchange board this week.

ragged line across the track. Despite his reputation and title of captain of the visiting team, Brown received no special consideration. In fact, he received none. He didn't even get a place in the front row.

Still puffing and perspiring, Brown shouted "Go! And go, they did. For about fifteen feet it appeared that Brown might find an opening and forge to the front. He eased up, ward at a pace that would never enable him to cover a hundred yards in much less than a minute. But he was getting to the lead. Then something happened. Brown couldn't hold the pace. The kids swept onward for about fifty feet, they realized their idol was missing.

But the loss was only momentary. The youthful galloping herd turned again and Brown was caught again and again defeated. Twice more he went down in defeat. There was a moment's hesitation for wind, a few more photographs, and Brown had found himself.

With a "Goodbye" he suddenly turned and bolted as a streak of lightning across the field to the clubhouse.
Back in the milling group, kids in the rear, circle were still shouting "Mr. Brown, will ya please sign my programme?"

SEVEN-YEAR-OLD BOY ORDAINED MINISTER

Youngest Ordained Minister in the World Speaks Six Languages and Plays with Electric Train.
Peoria, Ill., July 24.—A seven-year-old boy evangelist, an ordained minister, took time off from his preaching duties today to roll in the sand and play with an electric train—his favorite diversions.

Tomorrow the boy, Charles Jaynes, Jr., of Riverside, Calif., will deliver a sermon at Bloomington, Ill., and then will join his parents at his California home for a rest. He arrived here Thursday from Roanoke, Va., after making a cross country speaking tour, accompanied by a tutor, Miss Neva Duff.

The Rev. B. G. Drake, at whose Trinity tabernacle the boy was admitted to the ministry Thursday night, described the young evangelist as the "youngest ordained minister in the world."

The child usually stands on a chair when he delivers his sermon. Miss Duff said, and claps his hands and pounds his fists on a table to emphasize his points. He wears a knee length black suit, trimmed with a white collar and cuffs. He is short for his age and a bit pudgy. His black hair is bobbed.

Miss Duff said he had been preaching since he was three years old. His father said a youngster had conducted services in seventeen states and 130 cities and had given more than one thousand sermons. He speaks five foreign languages—Spanish, German, Japanese, Indian and a Congo-Belgian African dialect.

He memorizes sermons prepared by his parents or Miss Duff, the latter, described the young evangelist as the "youngest ordained minister in the world."

"When I grow up," he told an interviewer today, "I want to be a fireman or a baseball player in the daytime, but preach at night."

The tutor said psychologists rated the boy's mind equal to that of a twelve year old.

Canada For Canadians.

The whole question of Canada's attitude toward the development of her natural resources is brought into prominence again by the recent publication in the Toronto Globe and Mail of a letter from T. M. Kirkwood. As one of the original operators of the nickel mines in Northern Ontario, Mr. Kirkwood is an unusually interesting advocate of developing Canada's resources in behalf of Canadians. His letter was in part as follows:

"This letter is to ask you to induce the Federal Government to stop the exports of nickel to foreign countries and this is what will happen: The Empire will control all future wars without the League of Nations' assistance. It will be the means of inducing the manufacturers of Europe that use nickel to establish plants in England, and it will be the means of inducing the manufacturers of the United States using nickel to establish plants in Canada, and this will not lessen the output of the Sudbury nickel mines. The value of the output of nickel in Ontario is Ontario's greatest asset. Why export to foreign countries to enrich themselves at the expense of Canada when it can be the means of bringing the American manufacturers that use nickel to Ontario? This would give employment to all of the unemployed.

"God help the Empire if we allow the export of nickel to foreign countries. Canada is mining nickel for foreign countries to win wars against the Empire."

Too Many Automobiles In Canada Are Unsafe.

That over seventy per cent. of motor vehicles in Canada are in an unsafe condition, due to defective lights, horn, windshield-wiper, brakes, tires, glass, steering or in other respects, was the contention of A. H. Wood, M.S.A.E., Toronto automotive safety engineer, in an interview recently.

The Dominion shows a thirteen per cent. increase each year in fatal accidents, twenty-five per cent. increase in injuries suffered and forty per cent. increase in property damage, he pointed out, and the economic waste in Canada due to loss of life, physical injury and property damage claims amounts to $23,000,000 yearly.

"Causes of accidents largely lie in the non-realization of the potential hazards connected with the operation of a motor car," he said, "and in the first place the driving public is allowed to obtain licences to operate motor vehicles far too easily, all over Canada.

He pointed out three factors which enter into an accident. "First, there is the car. The manufacturers have placed in our hands the safest, easiest-operating piece of equipment available; but if improperly used it can become the greatest death-dealing instrument known. Secondly, there is the road. These have not increased in efficiency in proportion to the use of the automobile, and we, therefore, have to drive accordingly. Thirdly, there is the driver. The outcome rests with him, as to whether he is going to live a long time, without injury, and whether he will be allowed to keep the privilege granted to him by the various provinces to operate a car."

Mr. Wood emphasized that few drivers are aware of the time and distance required to stop a car in an emergency. "For instance," he said, "we know that the best possible stopping distance with brakes one hundred per cent. efficient is 13.4 feet at twenty miles an hour. However, the best practical brake is only about eighty per cent. efficient. At twenty miles an hour the braking distance is eighteen feet, and while the driver is transferring his foot from the throttle to the brake pedal there is a lapse which we know as 'driver reaction distance' of twenty-two feet, during which distance the brakes have not started to function. This makes a total stopping distance of forty feet. At that speed he is travelling at twenty-nine feet per second. While the average car may have twenty-five horsepower under the hood to propel the car, the brakes have to develop sixty-nine horsepower to bring the car to a stop at twenty miles an hour, which is equivalent to sufficient power to lift that car thirteen feet in the air in 1.2 seconds.

"At sixty miles an hour, the braking distance is 160 feet, the driver reaction distance sixty-six feet, making a stopping distance of 226 feet. The speed of the car is eighty-eight feet per second. The brakes have to develop 208 horsepower, sufficient to lift the car 120 feet in the air in 3.6 seconds.

"The 'driver reaction distance,' it will be noted, increases one hundred per cent. for every twenty additional miles of speed. Incidentally, these stopping distances are possible only with brakes in first-class condition and on a paved, smooth road surface."

The driving public, he continued, never realize the terrific impact forces involved in a collision. "Based on kinetic energy, expressed in foot pounds, we find that the average car weighing some three thousand pounds has a striking force, at twenty miles an hour, of 40,300 pounds; at forty miles an hour, 160,300 pounds; at sixty miles an hour, 360,000 pounds. It should be noted that the impact force increases nine times between twenty and sixty miles an hour."

Speaking of "momentum versus centrifugal force," the engineer said many accidents occur when a car runs off the road for no apparent reason while travelling on a sharp curve. "The reason is easy to find," he pointed out, "when we realize that momentum impels us to travel in a straight line, but when we try to make a curve, another force, known as centrifugal action exerts itself. This has a tendency to overcome momentum, and becomes increasingly hazardous the higher the rate of speed.

"A 3,000-pound car making a curve of 300-foot radius at twenty miles an hour has only to overcome 156 pounds centrifugal force; but at thirty miles an hour, 360 pounds; sixty miles an hour, 1,414 pounds, or nine times the value of twenty miles an hour. The only thing that keeps a car on the road, on a curve, is the friction between the tire and road surface, and the moment that centrifugal force becomes stronger than the friction, off the road goes the car. When we realize that a dry concrete road has only a seventy-five per cent. traction coefficient, which is reduced to ten per cent. when wet and about two per cent. when ice-covered, we recognize the terrific chances taken in speeding on curves, especially with smooth tires."

EDITOR'S NOTE-BOOK

It is too hot these days to even talk about the weather.

Neither do the 1937 bathing suits amount to much—when the price tag has been removed.

The opening day of Sherbrooke's centennial celebration is rapidly approaching. One week from today and the great show will be in full swing.

Because of taxes and industrial and labor rackets, 476 manufacturers moved away from New York between 1931 and 1933. The Eastern Townships will be found a safe and sane place in which to locate.

We are inclined to sympathize with the North Hatley Regatta officials. By getting together and having a heart to heart talk with the Sherbrooke civic authorities and the centennial organizers, however, it would seem as though the matter could be straightened out satisfactorily.

Rev. Ernest M. Taylor, of Knowlton, at the age of eighty-nine years, has published the second volume of "The History of Brome County." We pay tribute to this fine old gentleman, clergyman and scholar. Rev. Mr. Taylor is a model to the younger men of the Eastern Townships. He has proven that age is no barrier to achievements.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

July 24th, 1907.

T. M. Craig, of Sherbrooke, who has extensive lumber interests in the Megantic district, is offering a reward of fifty dollars for the detection of the person who trapped beaver last winter on his property in Ditchfield.

Burglaries reported at the homes of Forest Sears and Albert McKenny, of Frost Village.

Births reported: At Sherbrooke, twin sons to Mr. and Mrs. George Mahon; at Stanhope, twin daughters to Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Turgeon; at Danville, a son to Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Stevenson.

Mrs. Coombs, a young woman residing in Orford, on the Montreal Road, had a narrow escape from serious injury in a runaway accident. Mrs. Coombs and her young daughter were driving in the vicinity of the saw mill bridge in Sherbrooke when the horse became frightened. Awaiting her chance, Mrs. Coombs dropped the child over the side of the wagon to a grass plot and then managed to jump to safety. The frightened horse was later captured.

The large and handsome residence of Mr. F. N. McGee, at the corner of Melbourne and Queen streets, is nearing completion, workmen at present being engaged in building a conservatory.

Miss Grace Houghton, formerly superintendent of the Sherbrooke Hospital, has accepted the position of superintendent of the Pottsville, N.Y. General Hospital.

STRIKES IN JAPAN.

The number of labor disputes in Japan, which had been on the decline from 1931 up to 1936, began to take an upward course last year, and this tendency has become very pronounced since the beginning of this year. Compared with the corresponding period of last year, this year's figure is fourfold. Confining attention to Tokyo and the neighboring district, which is under the jurisdiction of the Metropolitan Police, it is eight times as large. During the last few years small factories were largely involved, but disputes are now steadily spreading to big factories. The fact that the demand for higher wages constitutes fifty per cent. of the disputes this year testifies to the serious effects of the rising prices on the livelihood of the working classes. Compared with the days when the gold embargo was re-imposed the cost of living has increased by some twenty per cent., while wages have rather declined, though overtime has somewhat increased. Actual receipts of laborers.—Hong Kong Weekly Press.

KNOWING THE EMPIRE.

The suggestion recently of Imperial Conferences for ordinary citizens and their wives has brought out the further suggestion that what is really needed to make the Empire a live conception in the minds of the people is the stimulation of Imperial tours for children of school-leaving and university age. The proportion is large of men in city, Provincial and Federal Governments in the Dominions who have never seen either Great Britain or the other parts of the Empire. Even a youthful glimpse of "how the other half lives" would give them such a breadth of mind and knowledge that both political and economic co-operation would be made easier. It would be interesting to know how many British members of both Houses have been out of Britain and out of Europe.—London Sunday Dispatch.

NEWSPAPER SANITY.

Mary Pickford has gone and got married again and our newspapers, who tell us they strive to be an influence for good, turned on the gush in great style.

But at least one paper kept its balance. Noting that the farce, comedy, or burlesque took a column or so of good space in most journals, The Examiner of Peterborough, Ont., says:

We read in several places it was "America's Sweetheart" who had been wed, and the Toronto Globe and Mail gushed it was "Toronto's Mary" who had been hitched. We recall it was Toronto's Mary who was given a hilarious civic welcome once when she happened to drop in on that city to fill in some profitable theatrical engagements.

Some of the papers are developing a candor which threatens to be embarrassing for these oft-wed folk. They publish a nice and a very large picture of the bride, and at the bottom they also publish in smaller size photographs of her former and present husbands. It is recounted how she wed and got rid of the first and how divorce ended the second, and how she happened to marry the third. Likewise they gave forth the interesting bit of statistics in an item, saying Mary is 44 and Rogers, husband three, is 32.

We have no desire to grow sarcastic when much-married people become more-married, so we merely add what we consider a very appropriate word: We wish them much bliss.

We congratulate the Examiner on picturing this sort of thing in its true light. People are sick and tired of all slush about Hollywood and its much-married "stars." It cannot but have a harmful influence on the young generation of children who brazenly defy the conventions and violate moral standards are poor types to crown with a halo.—The Canadian Freeman.

AIR TRAVEL FACILITIES IMPROVING

It seems that Montreal is resolutely on the way to overcome the handicap it has been obliged to let the big American cities take in the development of air services, a new means of communication which all the urban centres of importance are hurrying to add these days to water, rail and highway transportation.

It is remarkable that so much of the development here has come this year, with the establishment of new services to New York, to the mining districts, to Boston, and finally the transcontinental line expected to start this summer. — La Presse, Montreal.

EMPLOYING SPARE TIME

One of the most pressing problems to be solved on the North American Continent, it appears, is how to satisfactorily utilize people's spare time. The working classes, according to all indications, now have more spare time on their hands than they have ever had before. The assertion has been put forward that this continent has no less than four and a half billions of hours of spare time each year although, as far as we know, no proof has been made to substantiate this claim and these figures.

But regardless of exact or approximate statistics, it is an acknowledged fact that all citizens, and especially the laboring classes, are finding themselves with more spare at their disposal.

Spending of this spare time must be organized on an orderly and logical basis and for the best benefit of all concerned. There is a Government of Recreation in France, and in Ontario, here in our own country, there is a Minister of Public Welfare, Society, here and elsewhere, must make proper use of people's spare time. — La Presse, Montreal.

A Frequently Misunderstood Parable

St. Luke XVI, 8: "The Lord commended the unjust steward because he had done wisely."

This story of the unscrupulous manager of an estate has always presented considerable difficulty to a great many people. It would almost appear as if Jesus rather admired unscrupulousness, if it were sufficiently adroit. More, it would seem as if a decidedly unpleasant rascal were held up for Christian emulation.

Let me say at once, this is not the case! So, we shall proceed to ascertain our Lord's real intention, and try to grasp the special lesson He wishes us to learn.

Undoubtedly, the gentleman in the parable may be fairly described as a crook who had been found out, because we are told he was about to lose his position, as a waster of his master's goods. Modern frenzied finance and political jobbery furnish us with sufficiently obvious parallels. And, really, the steward, unlike many of our costly parasites today, had at least some shadow of excuse. With him it was not a question of a few more unearned thousands to add to an already fat bank-roll. All the poor fellow wanted was to provide against utter destitution. He was in real distress—and there were such matters as doles in those days. He was too old and infirm to dig, and too fastidious to beg. His need was genuine!

Necessity is the mother of invention. So he calls his lord's debtors to confer with him, and induces them to falsify their accounts, so making them accessories to his fraud, and thus in no position to refuse him hospitality when he would sorely need it!

Far be it from us to justify the man's act. His conduct is the reverse of commendable; and, I shall try to prove, our Lord does not condone it for a moment. He was no more an admirer of successful roguery than, He in our day finds the corrupt public servant, or the lying stock-manipulator pleasing in His sight. Assuredly not!

I think, then, we may best see what Jesus really meant by this parable, if we compare it with the very similar story of the Unjust Judge. In both these stories there is just one lesson involved: there is just one point of similarity between the Judge and God, namely, that they yield to no request and persevere in prayer. Here, however, the likeness ends. The Unjust Judge does it out of weariness, the Lord out of love; and that is all the difference in the world!

So in the case of the steward. We must bear in mind that it is not Jesus Himself who commends this clever misappropriator of trust-funds; but it is the victim of the steward's cleverness!

It is not often the case that we find something to admire, some decent quality, some good feature, in an otherwise thoroughly reprehensible individual. We may even admire the stubborn hardness of the candidate for the gallows, though we can only hate and despise the crime of which he is guilty. We may experience a thrill in reading a tale of daring highway robbery, or may marvel at the ingenuity of the super-crook in a detective yarn. But assuredly this is not because we condone felony or consider it an estimable thing.

Now, in this parable of the Unjust Steward, we find Jesus calling attention to the fact that His followers to just one good quality in that otherwise despicable character. And what was that quality? Let us see.

The man had planned for the future, foreseen difficulties, made vital decisions, marked out the only course possible for him, held to it!

PARLIAMENT HILL HEARS...

By Wilfrid Eggleston

I was reminded last week of a radio incident in which Mr. Bennett was the central figure. The topic came up while we were discussing the decision of Mackenzie King to have the Prime Minister's office permanently wired for radio talks.

The Bennett episodes go back to 1934, according to my informant. The then Prime Minister was to deliver a broadcast to the people of Ontario trying them to support George S. Henry rather than Mitchell F. Hepburn in the forthcoming elections.

Arrangements in some way were bailed up, and Mr. Bennett was taken to the wrong studio. It was necessary to dash across the city in a taxi, and then run upstairs a couple of flights in order to reach the microphone in time.

The result was that when Mr. Bennett arrived at the studio he was completely out of breath. He had no time to relax for a few minutes. The provincial hook-up was waiting. So he rose to the occasion and did his best.

He realized, however, that his delivery was far below normal, and, the moment the speech was over,

PROMINENT PEOPLE OF THE EASTERN TOWNSHIPS

ANTONIN DESLAURIERS.

It requires a man of tact, cool temper and the ability to smile to successfully occupy the position of City Clerk of a city such as Sherbrooke. The City Clerk's office is the rendez-vous of citizens of all walks of life. They come with complaints. They come for information. They come for favors. They come with requests. The City Clerk functions as an intermediary between the City Council and the citizens, which is not always a pleasant task.

Sitting behind the desk in the City Clerk's office in Sherbrooke's City Hall one will find a young man of forty-one years. He is a quiet, unassuming young man, but in every way qualified for the position which he has successfully filled since October 1, 1924.

His name is Antonin Deslauriers, a native of St. Camille, Wolfe County, where he was born on June 5, 1896. It was to the elementary school of his native village that Antonin Deslauriers wended his way as a lad. Then, as a teen age youth, he enrolled as a student at St. Charles Seminary, Sherbrooke. In 1914, he was graduated from Arthabaska College, a widely-known school under the administration of the Christian Brothers. Mr. Deslauriers' interest in his former schools has never waned. He is vice-president of the alumni association of Arthabaska College and always a strong supporter of any movement in connection with St. Charles Seminary.

Mr. Deslauriers began his business career at Montmagny, as assistant-secretary to the general manager of the Usines Générales de Chars et Machineries, Limitée.

In 1918, he came to Sherbrooke to be stenographer in the secretary-treasurer's office of our City and later was appointed secretary of the Hotel-Dieu Hospital.

Since assuming his present position Mr. Deslauriers has rendered most efficient service to the city. He has, in addition, found time to devote to many civic enterprises. He has for many years ably filled the position of secretary-treasurer of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, the Anti-Tubercular League of the District of St. Francis and of the Sherbrooke Athletic Commission.

Mr. Deslauriers was one of Canada's sons to offer his services during the years of the World War, enlisting, in 1918, with the 1st Battalion 2nd Quebec Regiment, at Quebec City, and saw active service overseas.

Returning to his native country, Mr. Deslauriers welcomed the chance of living in peace and following his daily occupations. True to his own beliefs, Mr. Deslauriers is a broad-minded gentleman who is happy to claim a friendship, and classes among his friends leading citizens of all races and creeds.

The father of three charming young daughters, Mr. Deslauriers spends his happiest hours with his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Juliette Grondin, of Ascot Corner, and with his family. His chief forms of recreation are motoring, tennis, fishing and hunting.

Mr. Deslauriers has experienced one great disappointment in life. He has always hoped that he might have a son or two to bear his name. His family, however, has numbered but three daughters, Jacqueline, Huguette and Pierrette. By way of compromise the latter two were given names with a "boyish tinge."

Sherbrooke is fortunate in having in its City Clerk a man of the type of Antonin Deslauriers and it is certain that so long as he occupies his present position the secretarial work of the City is in most able hands.

EACH NATION SHOULD CONTROL OWN LABOR

St. Thomas, Ont., July 24.—A. S. Mosher, president of the All-Canadian Labor Congress, in an address here last night declared that while he believed in co-operation with labor organizations of any country, he felt that each country should control and direct its own labor interests.

"In my opinion the labor movement is twenty-five years behind in Canada," said Mr. Mosher. "We have been sitting at home twiddling our thumbs and waiting for the United States labor unions to do something for us and getting nowhere. No matter how good the labor organizations of the United States are, if we are content to tie up to their apron strings, and wait for them, we are wasting our own initiative and ability to develop, and use our own political strength."

TEXTILE UNION TO BE GRANTED INCORPORATION

Delegation Representing Dominion Textile Union Opposed to Proposed Collective Labor Agreement Accorded Favorable Reception by Public Minister Bourque this Morning.

"L'Union Ouvrière de l'Industrie Textile" of the Dominion Textile Company's local plant, which is opposed to the province-wide move by the National Catholic Federation of Textile Workers for a collective labor agreement—will be allowed incorporation under the Syndicate Law, Col. the Hon. Johnny Bourque, Provincial Minister of Public Works, assured a delegation, headed by Eugene St. Pierre, the union's legal adviser, that waited upon him at his Court House office this morning.

Mr. St. Pierre stated to the Record this morning that the application for incorporation, so that the union might obtain legal existence, was made some time ago but met with strenuous opposition from the National Catholic Syndicate, local of the Federation of Textile Workers.

Col. Bourque promised the delegation that waited upon him today that the permit to incorporate under the law governing syndicates in the Province of Quebec would be issued as soon as possible.

Important developments were expected in the textile situation over the week-end, with a meeting of Syndicate delegates from various parts of the Province scheduled to be held in Montreal this afternoon. Eugene Caron, general organizer of the Catholic Syndicate, will represent Sherbrooke. Results of the secret strike ballot held on the issue of the proposed provincial collective labor agreement will be made known tomorrow.

AUTO TIRE RING FLIES OFF RIM AND KILLS MAN

Gordon Stanley Arbery Victim of Unusual Accident Yesterday Afternoon—Garage Employee Injured.

One man was killed and another seriously injured yesterday afternoon when they were struck by the loose ring that suddenly snapped loose from the rim of a tire they were filling with air.

The victims were: Gordon Stanley Arbery, thirty-three years old, 1235 Belvidere street, who succumbed to his injuries in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital at 6:45 o'clock last evening; and Theodore Perrault, twenty-five years old, 17a St. Pierre street, who suffered a severe gash underneath the chin and was removed to the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital for treatment.

The accident occurred in A. Guillotte's Service Station, 131 King street west, where Perrault was employed. Arbery was the driver of a truck owned by Jim Lynn.

Perrault and Arbery were pumping one of the truck tires with air when the accident occurred. The tire rested on a stand inside the garage and had been filled with ninety pounds of air, the required pressure, when the cast steel ring, inserted outside the tire on the edge of the rim and acting as a locker, snapped loose without warning.

Propelled by the ninety-pound pressure it struck the two men.

The ring caught Arbery in the eye and forehead. Perrault was more fortunate, receiving the blow under the chin. An ambulance rushed the two men to hospital. Arbery died without regaining consciousness.

Eugene St. Pierre, district coroner, is empanelling a jury today. The inquest will be opened this afternoon and adjourned until Monday or Tuesday.

Christian. Her faith never wavered. The funeral services were held at Cassville and interment took place in the cemetery there. The many beautiful flowers were silent tokens of the love and esteem in which she was held by all who knew her.

"Tell me more about Instant Frozen"

One More Advantage

Q. Does Hunting's new method of eleven seconds freezing improve the flavour as well as the texture of ice cream?

A. Absolutely. The short length of time the mix remains in the freezing tube is undoubtedly largely responsible for the finer flavour. The flavouring element is accentuated and brought out to a greater degree than can be done in the slower batch process. This is particularly noticeable in the case of fruit ice cream since the real flavouring element, the fruit juices, are finely divided and incorporated throughout the smoothly frozen mix.

CUBS GAVE CARL HUBBELL QUITE A BAD MAULING

Chicago Sluggers Had Field Day at Expense of Giants' Ace Hurler and Stretched Their Margin Over New Yorkers to Two Games.

Bill Terry picked the wrong restaurant to use his "meatloaf" this time and the kidding Cubs are sporting a two-game lead over the Giants in the National League race today.

Terry has grown so used to tossing meatloaf that he has been anywhere in the National League jungles and finding him as good as money in the bank, that it's become a habit.

But the Cubs held their bargain day on base hits at Hubbell's expense yesterday, and upset pre-game calculations of the faithful and "experts" alike who had about conceded the opener of the series to the Giants.

With Hubbell in there, the belief went, the Cubs didn't have a chance. And for a time, it looked like the thing was cut and dried along these lines.

However, the Cubs finally wound up with a top-sided eleven to three decision, and now are in a fine spot to finish up the series with a commanding edge in the hot fight for the league pace.

Tex Carleton, riding along on a personal two-strike winning streak, is the betting favorite to take the second game from the Giant flingers.

Yesterday, the White Sox, chasing after the American League lead, did big things against the Yankees. Despite Joe DiMaggio's twenty-sixth homer and a couple of other four-base wallop, the Sox slugged "Murderer's Row" nine to six to cut the Yankees' lead to six games.

Otherwise, there wasn't any cause for cheers along the big league front. The Cardinals whipped the Dodgers four to one. Elmer Foss made it two in a row for the Browns, blanking the Senators by eight to nothing. The Athletics trampled the Tigers, seven to four in the opener of their double-header, and then lost the nightcap by nine to eight in eleven innings. The Red Sox scored early to topple the Indians' twenty-two and the Reds returned the Phils by six to three. The Pirates and Bees were idle.

NEWARK HAS SURPLUS HITTING POWER
It seems that even the Newark Bears have their problems. But nobody is extending sympathy to Manager Oscar Vitt.

While most of the International Baseball League managers wonder where they can dig up that "certain" 200 hitter to put the extra punch in the line-up, Manager Vitt ponders on what slugging he'll have to bench for the day.

In order to make room for first-baseman "Babe" Dahlgren, sent down by the New York Yankees early in the season, the Newark pilot benched Gene Kelleher, a third baseman, who happened to be leading the loop batsmen at the time. The reason for that was George McQuinn, McQuinn it appeared, was the league's best first-sacker the year before.

So Dahlgren was shifted to the hot-corner, Kelleher benched and McQuinn remained as first base. Today Dahlgren and McQuinn are both hitting around the 350 mark, and with Joe Gordon and Bill Richardson, at short and second, respectively, round out the hardest hitting infield in the minors.

The Bees were in their glory last night as they sent their league-lead soaring to nineteen and a half games with a ten to nothing triumph over the second place Montreal Royals. The Bees walloped out fifteen hits, Dahlgren belted out a homer and single that drove home five runs, while McQuinn also belted for circuit. Two other Bruins, Charlie Kelleher and Jimmy Gleeson, also smashed out four-runners.

The other two first division clubs, Syracuse and Toronto, engaged positions, with the Chiefs going into third by virtue of a five to four decision over Rochester, while the Leafs were being nosed out by Jersey City in a twelve inning thriller to the tune of five to four.

Baltimore Orioles evened their current series with Buffalo Bisons when they pushed over two runs in the ninth inning to win by seven to five.

SOFTBALL LOOP PENNANT CHASE GROWS TIGHTER

Dominion Textile Moved into Second Place Tie with Kayser by Defeating Latter Fourteen to Twelve—Hotelmen and Beavers Recorded Victories.

Dominion Textile moved up to a second place tie with Kayser in the City Softball League standing, four points behind the loop-leading City Transit squad, by handing the Silkmen a fourteen to twelve setback on the Parade Grounds last evening. In the other contests, New Wellington downed Rubin by ten to three to remain in third place and Beavers nosed out Westward by eight to seven.

Textile took a big lead in the third inning when they combined eight free tickets to first with four singles for a twelve-run spurge and remained out in front during the remainder of the tilt, although Kayser made a game effort to null the contest out of the fire, chalking up eight runs in the last three frames.

Don McLeod belted a four-base blow after the bases had been filled with walks in the fourth and Courchesne connected for a two-bagger in the third.

The Textile lads tallied their other two markers in the sixth on two walks and a pair of singles. J. Baker, Raymond, R. Baker and G. Riel each crossed the plate twice, and L. Roy, Boisvert, J. Riel, Lefebvre, Gaudet and Boutin each once for the winners. Scores for Kayser were Courchesne, Drapeau, Dion, Chantier and McLeod, each with two, and Morin and Latulippe one apiece.

Kayser used three hurlers in the tilt, which was called at the end of the sixth because of darkness. A six-run attack in the fourth frame assured New Wellington of a victory over Rubin, tight field play holding the losers to one run in the last six stanzas. "Moon" Mullins clouted a homer with none on for the Hotelmen in the second.

Ben Brooks, Fournier and Mallin, each tallied twice for New Wellington, while P. Couture, R. Couture, Cote and Dugre each scored once. Pare, with two, and Lachance were Rubin's scorers.

Dave Reid's eighth-inning blow proved the deciding hit in the Beavers' battle with Westward, bringing in the winning tally. Reid was also responsible for three other of his team's runs, poling a circuit clout with two men on in the sixth.

Scorers for the winners were Reid, with two, and C. Terrey, D. Wooten, Elkas, N. Welsh, St. Francois and W. M. Miller, while Rousseau and Slat each circled the bases twice for Westward, and J. Davidson, J. Burton and F. Humphreys each once.

Scores by innings:

SULLIVAN TOPS SLUGGING LIST IN BALL LOOP

Three Rivers Star Has Batting Average of .395, Provincial League Statistics Show—Joyce and Moge Have Best Records Among Locals.

"Nippy" Joyce, top-flight flinger of the Sherbrooke Provincial Baseball League team, is setting the pace for the locals' hurling staff with a record of seven wins against two losses and Bill Moge, versatile infielder, in leading the homesters in hitting with an average of .351, latest statistics reveal.

Gene Sullivan, Three Rivers shortstop, is leading the league in batting with an average of .395 and is also out in front in hits, his total of fifty-one being eight more than his nearest rivals, Jim Winn, of Sorel, and Paul Corrigan, of Granby.

Al Gibo, Notre Dame student and right-handed ace for Sorel, and his clubmate, Ted Frank, top the pitching talent. Gibo has three wins to his credit and has yet to suffer a reverse, while Frank has chalked up nine victories against one defeat. The only other hurler to turn in nine triumphs at this stage is Bill Turner of Granby, who leads in strike-outs with seventy-four. Turner has received three losses.

JUDGE MONET TO THROW FIRST BALL TOMORROW

When Sherbrooke takes to the field in the first game of a twin bill with Drummondville tomorrow afternoon at the local ball park, Judge Amadee Monet, president of the Provincial League, will set the tilt in motion by throwing the first ball. Judge Monet will attend the double-header in company with a number of other league dignitaries.

Drummondville, a powerful squad holding down third place in the loop standing, will probably face the slants of Manager Tom Hammond and "Nippy" Joyce.

This afternoon the locals travel to Sorel for a clash with the champions.

"BUNNY" AUSTIN WON FIRST GAME FOR BRITAIN

Defeated Frank Parker, Young United States Tennis Player, in Straight Sets in Initial Match of Final Davis Cup Contest.

Wimbledon, July 24. — H. W. "Bunny" Austin sent England away to a flying start in her defence of the Davis Cup against the United States today, defeating twenty-one year old Frank Parker in straight sets.

The scores were 6-3, 6-2, 7-5. The Britist stylist, one of the world's greatest players when the Davis Cup chips are down, won almost as he pleased from the Milwaukee youngster, named to the American team as a replacement for Bryan "Bitsy" Grant, of Atlanta, Ga.

The result of the match had been forecast in advance for Parker does not yet rate in the same tennis class with the thirty year old Austin.

CANADIAN TOURNEY OPENS AT TORONTO ON MONDAY

Toronto, July 24. — Most of a record field practised on city courts today preparatory to the Canadian lawn tennis championships, starting Monday at Toronto Cricket Club. The expansive Cricket Club grounds were being used to determine which unranked Toronto players will enter the tournament.

Stars have come here after events in all parts of Canada and the United States, and others — including the brilliant Reinold brothers from Detroit — are expected tomorrow after playing major parts in the western Ontario tourney at Windsor.

The British women's Wightman Cup, team, led by pretty Kay Stammers, will not arrive until Tuesday morning, just in time to get into second-round play. But from Vancouver and Halifax in Canada and from as far south as Texas performers were arriving today for the classic.

ASKS NAZI CAMPS BE INVESTIGATED

Washington, July 24. — Representative Citron has asked the Federal Bureau of Investigation to "investigate at once" the so-called "Nazi military training camps being established at Andover, N.J., and other places."

In a letter to the Bureau, Citron said his informants had complained that the camps were being established under a single, planned organization whose probable financial backing, direction and control is not only by aliens but probably indirectly the present German Government.

Lake Park, July 24. — Miss Therese Boisvert, women's singles titleholder, chalked up her initial victory in defence of her championship when she defeated Miss Mariette Daigault 6-4, 6-4 in the Lake Park tennis tournament last evening.

In the first round of the tournament, Bill Shink defeated Bill Jones by a score of 6-2, 6-4.

Week-end matches will be as follows, the winners in the men's singles qualifying for the quarter-finals:

Today: 5 o'clock, Johnny Hibbard vs. Bill Shink; 7 o'clock, Sunny Moody vs. Paul Rigney.
Sunday: Miss Edith Lacroix vs. Ida Goyette, and Hector Prefontaine vs. Leonde Cote.

GOLF

EIGHTY-NINE TO COMPETE FOR CANADIAN TITLE

Ottawa, July 24. — Ottawa's Hunt Club today awaited the challenge of amateur golfers of two nations who will struggle next week towards naming two champions — the best provincial team in the Dominion and the holder of the 1937 Canadian title.

Canada's team championship will be settled quickly Monday in thirty-six holes of medal play. Seven four-man teams have been entered, including the combined New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island quartet, who will carry the challenge of the Maritimes. Nova Scotia did not enter a team.

From then on a field of eighty-nine will battle it out for the amateur crown. Post entries may lift the starting number to one hundred. It will take five days of match play to decide whether Freddie Haas, Jr. of New Orleans, will retain his Crown or whether the big spoils will be gathered in by a Canadian or any of nine other entrants from the United States.

On the basis of entries, Canada holds an eight to one advantage. But Haas walked through a field just as large at Winnipeg last year and carried the Dominion crown back to the United States for the fourth time.

C. Ross "Sandy" Somerville, the London, Ont., star who has gathered in five Canadian amateur titles and one from across the border, is drawn against Jules Chartier, of Laval, Que., in the opening round.

"Sandy" named out in the semifinals at Winnipeg last year at the hands of Haas, who went on to outclass Bobby Reith, home player, eight and seven.

Reith will open his bid Tuesday against Aubrey Steeves, of Morcton, N.B., veteran of provincial teams seeking the Willingdon Trophy.

Phil Farley, Quebec amateur champion, drew D. O. D. Higgins, of Brockville, for his first round opponent, and Ernie Palmer, Winnipeg's veteran team member, faces another veteran, J. Watson Yuille, of Royal Montreal.

KEEN CONTESTS PREDICTED AT LAKE PARK MEET

Paddlers, Swimmers and Divers from Many Sections of Eastern Townships Will Take Part in Annual Regatta of Lake Park Canoe Club Tomorrow Afternoon.

Keen competition in all events is promised for the annual regatta of the Lake Park Canoe Club, which will be held at Little Lake tomorrow afternoon.

This annual aquatic meet has been eagerly anticipated by Eastern Townships paddlers, divers and swimmers, and should prove one of the most exciting and entertaining held in many years.

Canoe races will be a major item on the programme, and a large number of Sherbrooke Canoe Club athletes are expected to give the Lake Park boys and girls a thrilling "run for their money."

An innovation this summer will be the mile swim, for which numerous entries have been received. In past years, swimming competitions have usually been limited to the dashes, but it was felt by the club officials that many athletes would appreciate the longer course.

The diving competition should prove the most colorful event on the programme. The club's twenty-two foot diving board, now solidly erected on a stone and cement pier, and stationed in front of the Lake Park Hotel, will be used for this contest.

A large area of free parking space will be available for cars and the club has made arrangements for a sound amplifying system so that all spectators may distinctly hear the announcements.

The distribution of prizes will take place at the White House Pavilion Monday evening at eight o'clock.

AN "AWFULLY JOLLY" DEFEAT

Montreal, July 24. — They handed Arthur Godfrey Kilner Brown the worst defeat of his athletic career — and he liked it. As a matter of fact he thought it "awfully jolly" though at the same time he conceded it was the "worst beating" in his life.

The defeat — and there was no doubt about it — came just after the touse-haired captain of the visiting Oxford-Cambridge track and field team had swept to victory on the last leg of the 440 yard relay at Molson Stadium last night.

Applause from the couple of thousand spectators had been subdued by the playing of the National Anthem, and Brown had slipped unnoticed to the far end of the grandstand. He disappeared from view. All that could be seen was a milling crowd of school children, flow-

BROWN SMASHED TWENTY-EIGHT YEAR OLD MARK

Captain of Oxford-Cambridge Track Team Led the Way in a Convincing Victory Over a Bolstered Quebec Squad of Athletes.

Montreal, July 24. — Master of his specialty among runners in the British Empire, quiet-spoken Arthur Godfrey Brown sailed home today for "Old England" with other members of the combined Oxford-Cambridge track and field team after treating a crowd of 2,000 spectators to the greatest quarter-mile ever run on Canadian soil.

The bespectacled captain of the British Collegiate team, out to show he could average two defeats suffered at Hamilton, Ont., and Toronto, sped to a new Canadian record here yesterday of 48.4 seconds in the quarter to toss into discard a mark that had withstood every onslaught for 28 years.

In 1909, W. C. Robbins, of New York established a record of 48.6 seconds in the quarter, that any speedster who came to Canada, along with the home brews, found unbeatable. But Brown, off from his mark like a flash, had at least six yards of daylight between himself and Johnny Loaring, of Windsor, Ont., as he crossed the line in record time.

Victory for Oxford-Cambridge gave them a clean sweep in five appearances on this side of the water, with the one against the bolstered Quebec team here the most convincing. Previous winners against Harvard-Yale, Princeton-Cornell, Hamilton Olympic club and Toronto West End Y.M.C.A. the Brits won by eleven first to two against the Quebec team.

Brown found extra-sweetness in his record making quarter for Loaring, long-limbed member of Canada's Olympic team, had defeated him at Hamilton. Then at Toronto, Bill Fritz, of Hamilton defeated the British ace, who fell while coming into the stretch and injured his knee.

But it was evident the knee hurt wasn't bothering him yesterday. Running in the first lane the Britisher passed each man in turn and then caught up with Loaring as they made the final turn on the track.
