ALLIED CONFERENCE REACHES AN AGREEMENT Week-End Effort Being Made To Persuade Ulster To Act

Dawes Plan Agreed Upon At Conference

London Gathering of Premiers Decides Upon Programme for Launching Reparation Settlement Plan—Compromise on Technical Point Aided by U. S. Ambassador—Way Open for Settlement of Vexed Question.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

LONDON, August 2.—A complete programme for launching the Dawes reparation settlement plan was agreed upon by the Inter-Allied Conference during a half-hour plenary session at the Foreign Office this morning. The Allied Premiers and United States Ambassador Kellogg took up the technical point with which the experts had vainly struggled in two all-night sessions, and after modifications, which Premiers Macdonald and Herriot accepted, the compromise settlement was reached.

INVITE GERMANS TO LONDON

When the agreement was reached the wearied experts, who have slept little during the last forty-eight hours, left the conference room and the chief delegates began framing the invitation for the German Government to send a delegation to London.

Prime Minister Macdonald will hand the invitation to the German Embassy this afternoon, and Foreign Minister Stresemann and his colleagues are expected to reach London Monday night.

Meanwhile the conference will take a recess with the exception of the jurist's committees which are drafting the results of the fortnight's work so that the document can be submitted to the Germans.

The conference will enter its final phase with the arrival of the Germans who will be asked to express their opinions on the programme for putting the Dawes scheme into operation. After the Germans have been heard a protocol embodying the programme will be signed by the allies and the Germans it is expected and then the reparation commission will make its appointments and set up the organization necessary for carrying out the Dawes proposals.

The plenary session adopted the report of the first committee of experts dealing with defaults and penalties. It also adopted the report of the third committee, pertaining to reparation transfers.

The fate of the conference hung on this latter committee through the early hours of this morning. Unable to reach an agreement the experts passed the problem along to the plenary table where the chief delegates worked out a compromise.

The report of the second committee of experts dealing with the fiscal and economic unity of Germany had been adopted at a previous plenary session.

LONDON CONFERENCE REPORTED STIMULATED WALL STREET BUSINESS

(Associated Press Despatch)

NEW YORK, August 2.—London cables stating that the reparations conference had reached a complete agreement stimulated the buying of stocks at the opening of today's market which exhibited a firm tone. Oil, rails, steels and coppers were most in demand, but initial changes as a rule were small. Magma copper advanced a point, and Schulte Stores moved up fractionally to a new 1924 high. S. S. Kresge dropped two points and Willys Overland preferred one.

FRENCH DEPUTIES ADJOURN

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Aug. 2.—The Chamber of Deputies adjourned yesterday for the summer vacation, subject to a call by President of the Chamber Painleve to hear a report which Premier Herriot may make on the proceedings of the interallied London conference.

The expectation is that M. Herriot will suggest to M. Painleve that the Chamber be summoned to hear a report on the reparation settlement as soon as the premier returns from London.

BETTER ACCORD FOR GERMAN

(Associated Press Despatch)

PARIS, Aug. 2.—The economic arrangements under which the German industrialists in the Ruhr have been delivering some material on reparation account and paying license and export fees has been extended by the dye, brick, tile, textile, paper and other industries on a similar basis to the extension recently agreed upon by the mine owners and the Franco-Belgian commission. Under this extension the accord remains operative until the Dawes plan goes into effect, except that after August 15 the arrangement is denounceable by the Germans on five days' notice. The Germans are given better terms than under the previous arrangement.

TURNED BACK IN FLIGHT FOR ICELAND TODAY

U. S. Airplanes Ran into Fog—One Plane, the New Orleans, Missing.

(Associated Press Despatch)

KIRKWALL, Aug. 2.—The American army airmen on their world flight struck a heavy fog off the north coast of the Orkneys after setting out from here for Iceland early today and the planes became separated. Lieut. Lowell H. Smith and Lieut. Leigh Wade circled their machine for some time in a hunt for Lieutenant Eric Nelson in the New Orleans, who was apparently in the rear, but not finding him returned to Kirkwall.

Lieuts. Smith and Wade returned to Kirkwall at 11:20 o'clock. Their machines flew over Kirkwall, and a message from Lieut. Smith was dropped reading:

"Send a message to the Richmond that we all became separated in the fog and that Wade and I have returned. Have not seen Nelson since we became separated on the course 25 miles from Birsay."

The flight commander said that just after clearing the Orkneys the three planes plunged into a dense fog extending up 3,000 feet. The fliers avoided it by dodging eastward, but were soon trapped in another and thicker fog.

The fliers immediately lost sight of each other but Smith and Wade, turning eastward, came together in a clear space 25 miles off Birsay, in the Orkneys.

They searched half an hour for Lieutenant Nelson and then abandoned the hunt.

Lieut. Smith expressed his belief that Lieut. Nelson was continuing on to Iceland.

AN EXCITING BANDIT CHASE IN WINNIPEG

One Dead, Two Arrested and a $2,000 Bank Roll Recovered—One Was University Graduate.

(Associated Press Despatch)

WINNIPEG, Aug. 2.—One bandit dead, two under arrest, a $2,000 payroll recovered, and city wide search now under way for another man, believed implicated, is the story of a two-hour crime wave in Winnipeg yesterday. The dead man, Mike Kolson, 25, committed suicide after he had been captured in possession of a stolen taxicab. The police refuse to divulge the names of the men arrested, but they were taken into custody following the robbery of A. F. Henderson, an accountant for a local manufacturing company, who was carrying a bag containing $2,000 in currency.

Kolson, who had been married only three weeks, before leaving his home yesterday left his bride a note, saying:

"If I do not return you will find the car at the general hospital and I will be no more."

Kolson and a companion hired a taxi at the general hospital, drove to a suburb, and forced the driver out, trussing him to a tree. They returned to the city, and while driving at a terrific rate of speed were apprehended by a motorcycle patrolman.

Kolson's companion escaped, but Kolson was taken to a nearby house, and while the officer was phoning for the patrol wagon, he whipped out a revolver and shot himself through the head. He died just after admittance to the hospital, which he had left only a few hours before. Police declared the two men were bank robbers and had evidently planned to hold up a bank during the noon hour. The car contained masks, guns and jimnies. Kolson was a druggist and a graduate of the University of Manitoba.

Shortly after the suicide, the police were called to the warehouse district in the centre of the city, where the accountant of the manufacturing company had been held up. A man shoved a gun in Henderson's face and grabbed the satchel containing the money. He was followed by a bystander, who after a struggle, forced him to drop the bag. The robber, however, broke away and escaped.

BIG SCIENCE CONVENTION IN TORONTO

British Association Gathering Will Open on Wednesday Next.

(Associated Press Despatch)

TORONTO, Aug. 2.—Secretaries endorsed the 1900th application yesterday for membership in the British Association for the Advancement of Science which will enter the 95th year of its activity here when Major General Sir David Bruce delivers his inaugural address next Wednesday night as president of the 1924 meeting.

Delegates from the universities of Great Britain with their wives and families, numbering 540 in all, arrived in Quebec yesterday, and 200 prominent scientists from the United States will complete the party. Over 1,000 Torontonians will attend the sessions, and an additional 200 from neighboring cities in the province have signified their intention of participating in the meetings during the week of August 6-13.

Organized in 193 different sections, each with a panel of officers, recorders, and secretaries the conference will debate the latest advance in all fields of all scientific research.

Plans for the science meetings, programmes for the visits, and excursions in the Toronto district and time tables for the trips to various points of scenic and scientific interests throughout the Niagara peninsula have engaged the attention of a large staff for several months and the details have been worked out so that the strangers can derive the utmost from their brief stay.

RAILWAY POLICE SHOT MAN AS HE ENTERED CAR

Were Watching for Freight Car Breakers at Niagara Falls.

(Associated Press Despatch)

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 2.—Frank Gardner, formerly of this city and for some years of Niagara Falls, N.Y., was fatally wounded by New York Central policemen when he entered a merchandise car. He was shot in the abdomen, his body being literally torn to pieces from the discharge from a sawed-off shotgun.

There have been many robberies of cars on the railway recently, and Sergeant Hardeker and Officer Clark took places on board the "hot shot" freight train. They were hidden in a merchandise car. As they passed over the river they heard someone land on the roof of the car, and soon it was seen that the seals on the door were being broken and the door opened. Gardner was hanging on to a rope ladder. He entered and used a flashlight. As he stepped in the officers turned a flashlight on him and ordered him to put up his hands. Instead, he pulled a revolver and fired three shots. The police returned the fire, and the two charges took effect in his stomach. Even after Gardner was wounded he fired one last shot which, like the others, went wild. Although told he had only a few minutes to live, he refused to reveal his identity.

SPECULATION RE COUNCIL SESSION ON MONDAY NEXT

Suspension of Secretary Gatten an Important Item—Auditor Bryce's Report to Be Submitted.

To date there seems to be no apparent change in the municipal activities of the city. Everything is in readiness and everyone is waiting for the meeting which is scheduled for Monday night, August 4th.

There are many different business items to come up before the council at this meeting and nearly each one is of interest to the city.

The question of Mr. Gatten's suspension is one of the outstanding questions which will be decided. At next Monday's meeting the Mayor will give his reasons why he saw fit, in the interest of the city, to suspend Mr. Gatten. It will be up to the council to consider the mayor's reasons and then decide whether or not Mr. Gatten will remain out of the employ of the City Hall.

Probably the chief business of the meeting and the item which will interest people generally is the auditor's report which it is understood has been carefully arranged by Mr. Bryce and which now is waiting adoption by the city council.

The reports of different committees will also be given, as well as considerable correspondence which has accumulated since the last regular meeting.

It will be remembered that the last council meeting was held nearly three months ago, and since that time practically no business has been done by the council. The mayor, however, informed the Record recently that the city's business was not being held up during the present misunderstanding. The different committees, he said, were meeting regularly or when ever necessary, and were transacting their own business. Paving, he also remarked, was being completed very satisfactorily. It will be noticed that since the last meeting of the council, the C.P.R. tracks on King Street West have been paved, as well as the sidewalk on Frontenac street. The Galt street viaduct, however, still remains unsettled.

In the meantime everyone is waiting for Monday night, and citizens hope that satisfactory reports will result from this meeting and that once again the Council of the city will function as a Council and make the interests of the city their aim and watch word.

CASE AGAINST SPANISH CONSUL IN MONTREAL

Crown Furnishes Evidence on Charge of Smuggling Alcohol.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—When Miguel Maluquer, Consul for Spain in Montreal, was arrested by Sgt. Salt and constables of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, he objected, argued and treated Salt "as a piece of dirt," according to the evidence given here in the charge against the consul and Ramon Tey de Torrents, Spanish importer, of smuggling alcohol into Canada and conspiring to smuggle narcotics.

Sergeant Salt swore that the consul raised his ebony cane as if to strike. Then the "Mounties" pushed his elbow a little using the consul's energy against himself, so that he tumbled backwards. He denied that he or any of his constables had taken the consul by the throat.

R. L. Calder, Crown prosecutor, declared the case for the Crown closed and the defence will begin on Monday.

GOOD CROPS IN PROVINCE ARE FORECASTED

All Sections of Quebec Will Have Good Harvests—Spring Late, But Recent Rains Helped.

(Associated Press Despatch)

MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Between the opening of navigation and July 31, 61,425,039 bushels of grain have passed through this port, Dr. W. L. McDougall, president of the Harbor Commission, stated here yesterday. This compares with 54,328,625 in the corresponding period of 1923. Dr. McDougall said there was every reason to believe that the record of 165,000,000 bushels of wheat in 1922 would be broken this year.

PREMIER MACDONALD HOPES FOR AGREEMENT IN THE IRISH BOUNDARY COMMISSION MATTER

Will Endeavor to Persuade Ulster to Appoint Commissioner—This Will Make Parliamentary Measure Unnecessary—Important Week-End Conference—Irish Premiers to Meet British Premier and Minister.

(Associated Press Despatch)

LONDON, August 2.—Strong hope and even belief is expressed in many quarters that the week-end conferences arranged between the British ministers and the heads of the Northern and Southern Irish Governments will result in persuading Ulster to appoint a member to the boundary commission set up by the Anglo-Irish treaty, thus breaking the deadlock which has existed since the ratification of the pact. Those taking part in the conferences will be Premier Macdonald and Colonial Secretary Thomas, for the British Government; William T. Cosgrave, for the Irish Free State, and the Marquis of Londonderry and Hugh Pollock for Ulster.

The moderate conservatives are said to be backing the British Government's efforts toward such a settlement, but doubt is expressed by some whether the Ulstermen will be able to induce the Free Staters to agree to such a definition of the commissioners' duties as to limit them to rectification of the boundary line between Northern and Southern Ireland without transferring any considerable part of the Northern area to the Free State—a point upon which the Ulstermen are declared to be inflexible.

In the event of the week-end efforts failing, some of the political writers discuss the possibility of the Government forcing the issue immediately, without awaiting until autumn to introduce its projected bill which would sanction the formation of the boundary commission without the participation of Ulster. These writers say that Secretary Thomas' statement on the matter in the House of Commons yesterday does not necessarily imply that the Government will wait until October before putting the bill through, assuming it is introduced in Parliament, and that the country may be dramatically surprised by finding itself plunged forthwith into a general election.

Mr. Thomas' statement that, in the event of Ulster's refusal of the introduction of such legislation and its pressure for passage would be undertaken "regardless of consequences," is interpreted to mean that the Government would treat the measure as a question of confidence and that, if it were rejected by the House of Lords, Parliament would be dissolved and an appeal to the country made.

PROV. AUDITORS NAMED TO AID CIVIC FINANCE

Three Men Have Been Appointed for This Work.

QUEBEC, Aug. 2.—Acting under the authority of legislation passed at the last session of the Legislature the Provincial Cabinet appointed today three auditors to be at the disposal of municipalities to organize their financial affairs and as much as possible to render more uniform the various accounting systems of those bodies. The three appointees are Albini Messier, controller of St. Hyacinthe, A. S. Towner, of Rimouski, controller of the Lower St. Lawrence Power Company, and J. S. Bourmet, secretary-treasurer of the municipality at Chambly.

The move of the government follows several cases of bad financial administration reported in municipalities and school commission, which will also be a subject to the supervision of the three auditors mentioned. The government may delegate the three auditors for inquiries or they may be requested to act by the two categories of bodies concerned to reorganize the financial administration. Costs of such inquiries or reorganization will be looked after by the Provincial Government.

HATLEY

Mrs. (Dr.) McCreary, of Notre Dame de Grace, with two small daughters and her father-in-law,
Rev. Mr. McCreary, who is pastor of a Lutheran church in Montreal, is spending the summer on the western shore of Lake Massawippi.

Dr. McCreary coming for the weekend. Upon recent morning Mrs.
Creary had an unpleasant experience, when Mr. McCreary, accompanied by his elder granddaughter, Kathleen, crossed the lake in a motor boat for the morning's mail. When returning Mrs. Mc-Creary noticed that they were in difficulty and were unable to proceed. Accordingly, taking her little child, she rowed around a point to the Hewton cottage, about a quarter of a mile distant, where Major and Mrs. R. J. Hewton have been staying for the past three weeks. The services of Major Hewton were enlisted, who at once left for the scene, and after attaching the boat was returning, when Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chalk, who were on their way from North Hatley, reached the spot. They affixed both boats to their motor and pulled for the shore, which was reached without further delay. This relay formed quite a spectacular pageant, which could not fail to be appreciated by those on the lookout when assured that all was ending well. Except for anxiety, together with a certain amount of discomfort arising from the intense heat of the day and the loss of a fine silk umbrella, none were any the worse for the incident.

Later in the day Mrs. McCreary motored across the lake to Massawippi station to meet her mother, Mrs.
Schurman, of St. Joseph Boulevard, Montreal, who will be her guest for a time. It is thought by those in possession of the facts that this and similar troubles may have been caused by the two assiduous attention of small boys who are unduly interested in mechanics, and efforts will be made to prevent further recurrence.

Principal R. E. Howe, of the Westmont high school, accompanied by Mrs. Howe, left the lake for a few days in Montreal before their trip West. Forty teachers from the Montreal district, under the leadership of Principal Howe, have arranged to travel to the convention of the Canadian Teachers' Federation in Victoria by the "Teachers' Special," the first of its kind to be operated in Canada by the C.P.R. Leaving Montreal on Sunday, August 3, they will join a party numbering nearly two hundred at Toronto, from which city the special will set out. The progress of the train through Canada to the extreme western province will not be unmarked. All along the route teachers' clubs and other organizations have made arrangements to entertain the travellers.

At Port Arthur on August 5 the local teachers' organization will entertain at a dinner and drive, which will terminate at the Fort William station. On the following day the teachers will be likewise entertained at Winnipeg. The Rotary Club has arranged a lunch for them at the Parliament Buildings, Regina, on August 7, and the Moose Jaw Board of Trade will provide a drive on the said day. At Calgary the Teachers' Association of that city will entertain the visitors at the Palisier Hotel, while at Vancouver a reception will be given them at the Hotel Vancouver. Apart from these diversions the itinerary allows for visits to Banff, Lake Louise and Sicamous, and sightseeing drives up Tunnel Mountain and Moraine Lake. After the convention the travellers will return independently.

One large party, including many of the Montreal delegation, have already made plans to return
by the Okanagan and Kootenay valleys. Principal Howe, who, at the convention held at Vancouver in 1922 was chosen as president of the Canadian Teachers' Federation, is the only son of the late Mr. Edwin Howe and Mrs. Howe, of this place, where he received his preliminary education before entering Bishop's College, Lennoxville.

On Wednesday afternoon the regular fortnightly meeting of the Ladies' Aid was held in the church hall, with a basket tea at the hour of five. Although Rev. A. E. and Mrs. Hopper were unavoidably absent, as well as others who are usually present, the attendance was increased by visitors from outside, including Mrs. J. Bruhmüller and two young sons, Edwin and Paul,
of Coaticook, and Miss Margaret of Cookshire. An invitation was extended the Aid at this time by Mrs. F. C. Ayer to meet on Wednesday afternoon, August 13, for a picnic tea at the cottage at Lake Massawippi. It is hoped that as many as possible will avail themselves of this summer treat.

Rev. E. M. Taylor, of Knowlton, who on Sunday, July 2, was engaged in filling the three appointments on the Compton circuit, was pastor of the Hatley-Cassville Methodist Church for a period of three years, coming to the parsonage in this village upon his marriage to the late Louise Woods, a daughter of the late Capt. Woods, of Marlinton, in 1878, and where their eldest child,
Mr. Aubrey Taylor, was born.

The late Mrs. Harry Kingdon, who passed away suddenly at her home at North Hatley on Sunday, July 30, was the eldest daughter of

Worth Its Price

"We have cheaper teas, madam, but I think you'll find 'KING COLE' is worth its price." So said a wise grocer recently to a questioning customer. He was there not merely to serve her, but to serve her well.

He might please her purse with the cheaper article but her final judgment of his service would be on the quality of the tea supplied. He wanted a satisfied customer.

This was one of the many merchants using "KING COLE TEA" in their own homes, and so he could say with sincerity: "It is worth the price."

CEMENT ALL LAID ON QUEEN STREET

The cement base of the roadways on both sides of the centre plot on Queen street is now completed on the whole section of the street which is being paved this year, namely from Melbourne Street to Portland Avenue. It now lacks only the top layer of asphalt, which is a fairly quick job, but which cannot be laid on until the cement is thoroughly dried and hardened, which takes a few days. The hill at the north end of the street, which has only a single roadway, is entirely finished, including the laying of the granite blocks. Work on Frontenac Street is progressing well. Excavation for the north side of the street, or that side nearer the river, is nearly finished, and the street car rails are being laid. The switches and a short piece of track at each end of what is to be double track were constructed last year, so the laying of the present rails is not interfering with either car service or roadway traffic.

PARKING LAW TO BE ENFORCED BY LOCAL BLUE COATS

The local Police stated this morning to the Record that a very large number of cars are being parked on Wellington street, at a distance of three and four feet from the pavement, thus making traffic very dangerous.

A short time ago the Police issued warning through the Record and elsewhere that they intended enforcing the law which required the parking of cars as near the pavement as possible. Recently the Police have been given much trouble in this matter, and they report that some motorists are still as careless as ever.

The Police have now adopted the policy of taking cars which are left in this condition to the Police station, and when they are claimed by their owners, the Police have a chance to deal with the offenders. Last night a car, the property of a Spring Hill man, was left parked on Wellington street, at a good distance from the sidewalk, from the hours of ten o'clock at night until three o'clock this morning. The car was then taken to the Police station where the case will be dealt with by the local blue coats. The Police are anxious that citizens would bear in mind that cars must be parked as near the pavement as possible, and if this would be born in mind much trouble would be saved both to the Police and motorists.

Mealtime's a Delight Where Electrical Cooking Reigns

It's so much easier to cook electrically, so much cleaner, so much more comfortable, so much cooler! Women who own an Electric Range notice these facts from the very start. They notice too, that meals taste better and go further, that waste in cooking is eliminated and that housekeeping bills shrink. No wonder mealtime is a pleasure with all these old-time terrors removed.

An Electric Range

starts paying for itself with the first meal it cooks. It keeps right on doing it. It takes less water to boil vegetables electrically—therefore less of them to make a dish. Meats shrink less when cooked electrically. They retain all their flavor and nourishing juice. Intense, even, concentrated electrical heat means lighter pastry and better bread.

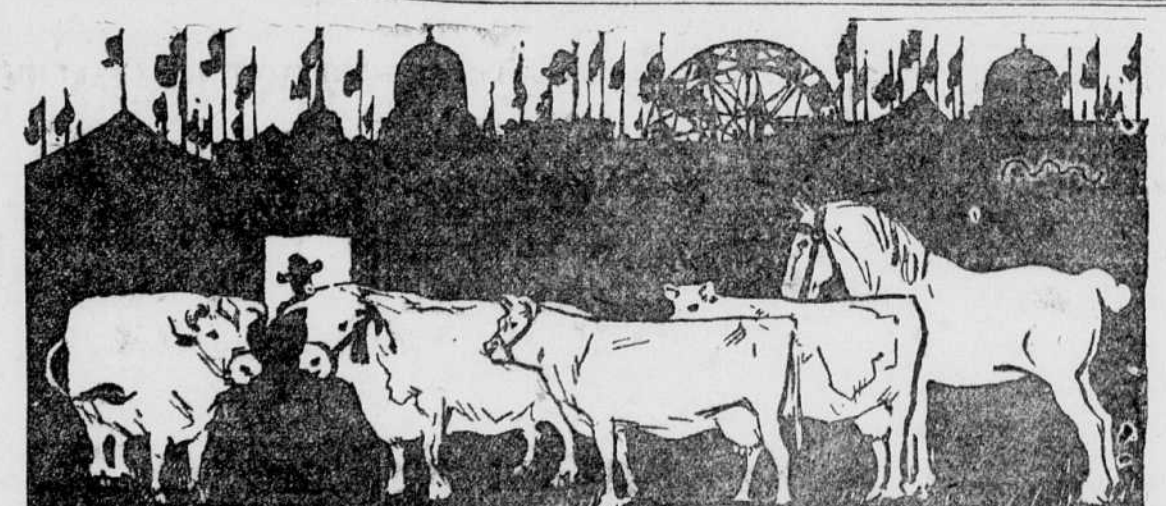

Make cooking a delight instead of a drudgery. Make every meal a feast and save money at the same time by cooking electrically. Get a range on our plan of deferred payments.

MOTORISTS IN TROUBLE ON TAVIA ROAD

Usual Precautions Not Taken in Re-covering Road Beginning at Lennoxville.

The method employed in the re-covering of the tarvia section of the government road through Lennoxville and beyond is meeting with a storm of protests from motorists.

It appears that the usual course of immediately covering the fresh tarvia with a good coat of sand was neglected and as a result passing cars were covered with tar and the new work itself no doubt damaged.

It is understood that many cars have been brought to local garages for the difficult task of being cleaned up.

It is also reported that numerous telegrams of protest have been despatched to Quebec.

Dr J. C. McConnell, secretary of the Automobile Association, when interviewed by the Record, said that undoubtedly the matter was serious and the trouble unnecessary.

He said that the proper way to have fixed the road would have been to lay the tarvia over one small section and immediately cover that with sand and gravel, then proceeding to the next section. Instead of this, however, the whole tarvia section through Lennoxville to some five or six miles beyond had been given the new coating without the necessary sand protection. If this latter method were insisted upon, the road should have been closed and a detour made.

A large number of cars suffered severely from being splashed with the new tarvia and when an attempt was made to remove it the varnish on the cars came off with it. A number of other motorists ran into the ditch through skidding, with varying amounts of damage.

Mr. A. W. Kerridge, of the Bank of Commerce, in this city, had his car badly damaged and came very near being severely injured on Thursday, when his Gray Dorr roadster was a victim of the road. He was turning onto the Comstock bridge beyond Lennoxville when he skidded off the road, swung around and turned turtle over the embankment. Luckily Mr. Kerridge escaped without a scratch, but the top and windshield and other parts of his car were smashed very badly. The accident, he declares, was caused by nothing else but the slippery new tar. Several other similar smash-ups have occurred.

Up to the present no protest has been sent by the Automobile Association to Quebec, as the Association decided that no good could come of such action. The road, it is admitted, is undoubtedly greatly improved by the work, but certainly much nuisance was caused while it was being done. The highway is in fairly good condition now that the tarvia has dried and hardened.

RICHMOND, Aug. 2.—A very pretty wedding was solemnized here Tuesday morning at St. Bibiana's Church when Miss Isabel Hinch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hinch, was united in matrimony to Mr. Ernest Wattier, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Wattier, of Montreal.

Rev. Father Lavallee officiated, and during the ceremony special singing was rendered. Solos were given by Mrs. Wm. Leonard, Miss Marie Desaulniers, Miss Ola Desmarais, accompanied by Mrs. A. Hall.

The bride was handsomely attired in a costume of powder blue tulle and carried a beautiful bouquet of roses. She was given away by her brother, Richard A. Hinch, of Montreal.

The groom's gift was a beautiful green gold wrist watch. The wedding breakfast, at which were many relatives and friends, was served at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hinch. Out of town guests included Mr. Alexander Wattier, Montreal, grandfather of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. F. Up to the present no protest has been sent by the Automobile Association to Quebec, as the Association decided that no good could come of such action. The road, it is admitted, is undoubtedly greatly improved by the work, but certainly much nuisance was caused while it was being done. OLD AMERICAN REGIMENT IS REORGANIZED

Artillery Unit Founded in 1794 Fought in Many Different Wars.

(Associated Press Despatch) SAN PEDRO, Cal., Aug. 2.—Reconstituted as the Third Coast Artillery, the Third Regiment of Artillery, historically famous fighting unit of the United States army which first saw service on July 1, 1794, recently reopened its history of Fort MacArthur, near San Pedro, under the command of Major George Ruhlen, jr.

Battle rations won on home and foreign fields during the last 130 years fluttered from the color standards as "The Fighting Third" was ceremoniously reconstituted at the fort.

The Third Regiment of Artillery came into being following the Revolutionary War. It was recruited among the veterans of that war for service against the Indians in the conquest of the west.

It first became prominent among fighting units on February 22-23, 1847, at the Battle of Buena Vista. General Santa Ana, commanding the Mexican forces, had swept all American resistance before him. Without infantry to support him, and at the expense of losing his own guns, Capt. Bragg, then commanding "The Fighting Third," brought his troops into action with a withering charge of canister. The first charge halted the Mexican advance. The smoke from the second and third salvos cleared away with the Mexicans in rout. Thus the regiment won its present motto, "Saved the Day," which was conferred upon it by General Zachary Taylor, following the engagement.

Through the war of 1812 and in the Florida peninsula campaigns the regiment served the colors creditably. It was present at Monterey, Vera Cruz, Cerro Gordo, Buena Vista, and the final engagement at Molino del Rey. It was present when the opening gun of the war was fired at Palo Alto, May 8, 1846, and took part in all major engagements.

On December 21, 1853, five batteries of the Third Artillery embarked from the east coast for station in California, via Cape Francisco. Of the 600 souls aboard, 500 were men of the Third. On the day before Christmas the San Francisco struck a nor-wester that completely disabled her, and during which 175 men were lost overboard. A week later assistance was rendered the derelict by the American ships Kilby and Three Bells and the British sloop of war Antarctic. The latter vessel carried 142 survivors to Liverpool, the first American troops to land in England.

After a year's trials and misfortunes the Third was again assembled, and arrived in California, where it was actively engaged in marching and scouting until the outbreak of the Civil War, when its history was marked with distinction.

It served at the memorable capture of Manila, P.I., during the Spanish-American War, and was broken up into separate companies in 1901 to form the artillery corps of the army. Parts of the famous Third saw action on all the fronts of France during the World War.

CITY BRIEFETS

INTERESTING CASE UP IN MAGISTRATE'S COURT

A case involving two prominent business men of the city, namely Messrs. Hebert and Fortier, came up yesterday for hearing in the Magistrate's Court, Judge Godbout presiding.

Messrs. Hebert and Fortier have been partners in business in this city for a number of years, and during that time have built many houses and stores throughout the city. This present case resulted from a charge made by Mr. Hebert against Mr. Fortier charging him with having taken possession of a building by violence, thus committing a criminal offense.

The case took up the greater part of yesterday's session as many witnesses were heard, and the proceedings were very lengthy. Following the evidence which was given, the Judge did not give out a judgment but reserved the case "en delibere".

Miss Jean Murray, of Sherbrooke, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Murray, in Scotstown.

Mr. G. F. Savage, B.A., of Waterloo, is in town and will attend the re-union at Bishop's University today.

Visitors from Scotstown yesterday included Mr. Fred Start, Miss Freda Start, Miss Dorothy Ladd, Mr. and Mrs. J. Macdonald, Mrs. P. A. Sherman and Mrs. McNeal.

Mrs. Mitchell Guillolette, accompanied by Mrs. P. H. Royer and son Leopold, spent yesterday in Lake Park, guests of Mrs. A. Durocher at her cottage, "Villa Belle-Vue".

Mrs. A. F. Sharpe and children, of North Lakefield, who have spent the summer at North Hatley with Mrs. Sharpe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Slack, have returned to their home.

Mrs. Harry Campbell and children, of New Richmond, Gaspe, are visiting Mrs. Campbell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Slack, in North Hatley, and her sister, Mrs. Thomas Cohoon, in Sherbrooke.

Miss Cynthia Adams entertained at a small informal dance last evening at her home on Ontario street. Dancing took place on the veranda and in the house and supper was served inside. GOOD WORK AT SMALL COST.

Very often comparatively small organizations, with limited financial support, show results far beyond that to be expected from the expenditure involved. The Eastern Townships Immigration Society seems to be one of these. Mr. Hillhouse and his staff of one clerk are doing the work. The Provincial Government recognizing the importance of the work, is giving some financial aid. The Society strives along practical lines and shows results. Over five hundred men have been secured for Eastern Townships farms since the first of the year. And this work has been going on for a dozen years or more.

It would be difficult to estimate the extent of the service rendered to Eastern Townships agriculture by this Society. Thousands of farmers, up against it in the matter of farm help, have appealed to the Society and had their problem satisfactorily solved. Production has been increased accordingly.

The Society has always been handicapped for funds. It is now appealing for some additional support and on its record will deserve the help it seeks.

Farmers throughout the Townships will testify to the value of these services. They have been continuous, year after year. The present increase in the flow of immigration adds to the demands upon the office. Applications for farm help come from all parts of the Townships and are filled with remarkable facility.

The Eastern Townships can readily absorb a very considerable number of farmer immigrants annually. The Eastern Townships Immigration Society is the best instrument available for the distribution of these newcomers. It is serving the Province in general and the Townships in particular and deserves adequate support from those in authority.

ADVANCE IN FARM PRICES.

Farm conditions have been reported as exceedingly bad in the States, worse than in Canada. The complaints, at least, have been louder than here.

The Christian Science Monitor, Boston, in reviewing the situation finds indications of improved conditions and even suggests that they have not been quite as bad as painted. To quote from an editorial which appeared on Wednesday:

"Contrary to precedent, the present advance in the market price of nearly every commodity the farmers of the United States have for sale comes at harvest time rather than at a season when the granaries and cribs are empty. It is not exactly easy for the uninitiated to discover just why there should be, with a fair promise of good crops, so marked a rise in prices. There are no indications of a shortage, except possibly in the yield of corn. The late season has retarded the development of the corn crop, but it is remembered that there is seldom a failure of this crop, and it is improbable that it will fail this year. Throughout the corn belt the major portion of the fields are harvested long before the corn ripens and the product is stored away in silos for use during the winter months. Perhaps far less corn is husked and marketed than in an earlier period when Kansas, Missouri and Iowa farmers hauled practically their entire crop from twelve to twenty miles to the nearest railroad station and sold it for less than twenty-five cents a bushel.

"Now it is intimated that corn may sell at a price ranging from $1.25 to $1.50 a bushel wheat at $2 and oats at 60 to 65 cents. With these prices advancing there will be a sympathetic rise in the price of hay even with the excessively heavy crop that has just been cut. With higher feed prices there cannot fail to be a corresponding advance in pork and beef prices. There are convincing indications that the lean years of which the farmers have complained have come to an end.

"So much has been said and written, and so many statistical tables have been prepared to convince the public that the plight of the American agriculturist is serious, that it might be regarded as presumptuous to intimate that his economic status is not actually so deplorable as it has been made to appear. It is an indisputable fact that the prices at which long-established farms in the middle west are held are, on the average, from 100 to 150 per cent. higher than thirty or thirty-five years ago. The farmers, acting voluntarily and without the restraining supervision exercised over public service corporations, have inflated their "reproduction cost" and multiplied their capital investment twice or three times. Farms which, not many years ago, were offered for sale at $25 to $30 an acre, are now held at $100 to $150 an acre. The farmer who buys at such a figure, mortgaging his equity for the major portion of the purchase price, finds it difficult to make both ends meet. He is, quite naturally, disposed to blame the consumers and the middlemen because they refuse to pay him enough for his products to insure him a profit on his inflated capital stock. Perhaps it has not occurred to him that millions of wage earners have found it hard to adjust themselves to the economic condition entailed.

"There are indications, with the coming of what seems to be a natural advance in farm commodity prices, that the processes of readjustment are at last at work which will equalize, at least to a great extent, the inequalities which have existed between the prices which the farmer has been able to charge and those which he is compelled to pay. It is only by such a readjustment that those who have invested in farms at present prices, and those who have mortgaged their lands to invest in other enterprises can escape what has long seemed an inevitable disaster.

PRESS COMMENT

IN KANSAS.

(From Horne's Monthly)
In books it is represented as difficult for a man to propose marriage to a woman. In real life, a fairly respectable man could propose to twenty women in a day, and be accepted.

PAYING AS YOU GO.

(Toronto Financial Post)
It has been said that many farmers in western Canada can't afford to go bankrupt. This is another way of saying that the conditions of the Bankruptcy Act are such that they cannot pay the legal expenses of going through the necessary motions. It has been suggested that the act be changed to make it easier to go bankrupt.

But this is not the whole story. When the matter came up in the House of Commons the other day, Mr. Lapointe took the contrary stand that the act was lenient. He declared that the credit of the farmers had been undermined and that if the way was made still easier for them to go bankrupt their credit standing would be destroyed altogether and they would be unable to borrow from the banks or buy on terms.

All of which goes to show that credit is a two-edged sort of weapon and that the man who dodges his debts, legally or otherwise, will not find it easy to borrow again. It is better to pay as you go if you want to go very far.

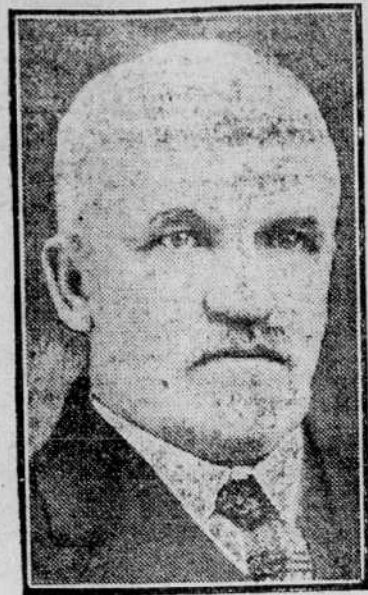

SITUATION IN CHINA.

(Christian Science Monitor)
Foreign intervention would be little apt to help the cause of permanent good government in China. It is possible, of course, that the reformers might be able, in an interim of enforced order, so to strengthen their lines and consolidate what ground they now hold as to make more rapid and certain later progress. To judge from past events, however, the appearance of "outsiders" more probably would give the politically minded opportunity to secure their own corrupt positions through specious appeals to a spurious nationalism. This is precisely what twice has happened, and recently. Sun Yat-sen, who, after all, was the founder of China's new order, and so properly may be heard in such connection, declared, in his recent famous interview, that "chaos and strife will last here just so long as the powers interfere with the work of our revolution." If that be fact—as there are many close students of the situation to affirm—the non-Chinese officials, called to reside in the eighteen provinces by state or commercial enterprise, while unfaltering in looking after the safety of their people, must leave the ultimate salvaging of China to the Chinese.

"SUMMER DEATH."

(Boston Transcript)
Summer days see the ponds, the lakes, the sea and the rivers crowded with pleasure seekers. And among those bent on recreation, there is a great number who do not know how to swim, how to handle a boat or a canoe, how to do any of those things that they should know when they venture upon the water. We read daily of their catastrophes. They themselves read daily of the deaths of those who, like themselves, take no heed of the risks they run. What happens to others does not affect them! They are lucky. They are sensible people! Maybe they can't swim, but they're going to tip over! If only they were the sufferers! But for almost every man, woman or child who drowns, there is a man, woman or child who tries to save the endangered one. And the total number of persons who have drowned while attempting to save others from a similar fate probably reaches to the hundred thousands.

The two classes who contribute so largely to the roll of those who die the "summer death" are really one. They are the law breakers. There are man-made laws against speeding and driving automobiles at the risk of the public safety; there are natural laws against boating when one knows nothing about it. The class, and it is a large one, is a product of the apparent lack of willingness in this country to observe law of any kind. Some of the offenders pay, but, as often as not, it is the innocent bystander who is the victim of their lawlessness.

BRYAN RIGHT ON DEFENCE DAY, DECLARES DAVIS

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE ASSETS THAT HE IS IN ENTIRE ACCORD WITH RUNNING MATE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 2. — John W. Davis, Democratic presidential candidate, announced yesterday after his return from Maine that he was in entire accord with his running mate, Governor Bryan, of Nebraska, regarding "mobilization day."

Mr. Davis declared that the view expressed by Governor Bryan at this time for encouraging civilians to leave their occupations "for the purpose of engaging in what would be only a military demonstration without any practical educational effect is entirely sound."

The Statement.

Mr. Davis' announcement was contained in a formal statement issued after he had conferred with his campaign manager, Clem L. Shaver. It said:

"Since my return from the State of Maine I have taken the occasion to inform myself fully concerning the views expressed by the governor of Nebraska in regard to 'Mobilization Day.'

"I am surprised at the statements which I see in the press to the effect that I am in disagreement with him or that his action has in any way proven an embarrassment to me. On the contrary, I think that the view expressed by the governor of Nebraska to the effect that there is no necessity at this time to encourage civilians to leave their occupations for the purpose of engaging in what could only be a military demonstration without any practical educational effects is entirely sound.

"It is one thing to keep the military organizations of the country in adequate practice; it is quite another to encourage demonstrations which can be nothing else at a time when every energy should be bent toward getting the world back to peace and to work, ending the prejudices and passions growing out of the World War and encouraging fruitful trade and commerce. In all these America should take the lead."

UNCLE JIM'S LETTER

Dear Corner Family:

This week I want to talk to you about playing games and we can usually tell what kind of friends we have by the way they play. Have you ever noticed how some players when they lose a game go up to their opponents and shake hands or congratulate them? While another slinks away, probably with a sneer on his face, as if none of it was his fault. The former player is the one we would all like for a friend, good-natured, of course, and trustworthy, the other is the type that I hope no one knows of, for there is no doubt but that he is the opposite in every way. Every day we play a game, have you ever thought of it that way? so let's be happy and trustworthy in our every day game of life.

Now, corner children, I want to tell you about some big porpoises that I saw last week. We were sitting on the deck of a big boat when suddenly we saw some great big white looking animals dive up out of the water, go down and repeat this. There were about twelve together in one place, we didn't know what they were at first, but a sailor told us about them, and said that one had just been caught which had a black head and tail. They look like a seal and are not fishes but mammals. We went way down the St. Lawrence River and the sea gulls were so tame and flew so low that I would have given anything to have all the Corner Family with me, it would be so much fun to feed them, wouldn't it?

There were several picture paintings that came in late and the list with comments about each will be found in another column.

Faithfully,
UNCLE JIM.

THE PERSISTENT CHIPMUNK

By Claribel Weeks Avery.

The Hall family had kept no cat that summer. While thirteen-year-old Marjorie was observing the birds, her small brother, Malcolm, was taking the opportunity to get acquainted with a lively chipmunk—a striped squirrel. Malcolm called it. He scattered corn around the door for his pet every day and was delighted to see how tame it became. Even Russell and Marjorie found great amusement in watching the little animal run out on slim chokecherry bushes that bent beneath his weight, to gather the cherry stones. But they were not so well pleased when the chokecherries were gone, and the chipmunk turned his attention to their own particular plum tree.

Mr. Hall had given this plum tree to Russell and Marjorie years ago, before little Malcolm was born. It bore only a few plums, and the older members of the family did not think them worth picking. So for a number of years, the children had picked and eaten the plums, as fast as they got ripe. But the fall before this, all the schools in town had united to hold a Children's Fair, at which the boys exhibited garden products of their own raising, and the girls, fancy work or cooking. Russell had been much interested in the competition, and brought a number of vegetables. But his teacher would not allow him to show the basket of purple plums that he had picked from his own tree.

"It's my sister's and mine; father gave it to us," Russell had protested.

"Yes, but you didn't plant the tree. The rules are that you shall plant and care for the products you exhibit. But if Marjorie owns it, too, she might have canned some of the plums and shown them. There is a prize for canned fruit, and it is not necessary to have raised the fruit yourself. Why don't you do that next year?"

Russell had been disappointed, for the plums were very pretty, and he had wanted the children from the other schools to see them. Next year had seemed very far away to him. But now it had come, and the plum tree was bearing a larger crop than usual. And now Malcolm's tame chipmunk showed signs of repeating the chokecherry performance in the plum tree!

"Would it do any harm to shoot him?" Russell asked his father, one night after Malcolm had gone to bed. Russell owned an air rifle, and had very few opportunities to use it, for shooting birds, or even frightening them, was strictly forbidden on the Hall farm.

"No squirrels but grey ones are protected by law, and even they may be shot when they are doing mischief," replied Mr. Hall. "Chipmunks are pretty and interesting to watch, but they are rodents, and all rodents are nuisances when they get too numerous. Don't let Malcolm know, however, if you shoot this one. However, I'd try to keep him away from the plums some other way. Malcolm thinks a lot of his squirrel."

Marjorie agreed with her father. Malcolm was not yet old enough to go to school, and cared nothing about the fair, and she knew he would miss the chipmunk.

"We might put a tin around the tree, as we did to keep the rats from robbing the goldfinch's nest," she suggested.

"So we can," said Russell in a relieved tone, for he hated the thought of killing his little brother's pet.

The next day, the tin was put around the tree. Russell put it quite close to the ground to please Malcolm, who came out to watch, and was much more concerned about the chipmunk than the plums.

"Don't make poor squirrel climb way up the tree for nothing!" he begged.

But the industrious chipmunk had no idea of climbing the tree for nothing. He ran up a willow sapling that grew near by, and then jumped from that into the plum tree.

"Cut the willow," advised Mr. Hall. "It is of no use."

Russell cut the sapling, and went to school, sure that the chipmunk was now outwitted. But when he and Marjorie came home that afternoon, Malcolm ran to meet them shouting:

"See! See! My squirrel is eating your plums again!"

Sure enough, the busy worker was back in the tree. Russell threw a stone into the branches, not to hit the chipmunk, but to drive him down. He leaped to the ground, and sat looking saucily at the children. Russell stooped for another stone, but Marjorie stopped him.

"I wasn't going to hurt him, just scare him away," Russell explained. "I know, but let's watch and see how he manages to get up there now."

The chipmunk was quite willing to show them. He ran out a little way from the tree, took a long running start, and jumped the trunk, above the protecting tin.

"Altogether too smart," Russell agreed. "What shall we do now, Marjorie? Move the tin higher up?"

Marjorie had gone under the tree and was looking at the plums. "I'll pick them now," she decided. "We can get enough ripe ones to can for the fair. Then he may have the green ones."

So the children picked all the purple plums, and put them in a small wooden box in the back room. Marjorie planned to can them the next Saturday when there would be no school. The chipmunk worked contentedly on the green plums left on the tree. But Friday night as Russell was going through the back room just before dark, he saw the chipmunk just whisking out the open window with a plum stone in his mouth. A look into the box showed that he had damaged several plums. Russell stepped back from the box and waited. The chipmunk was too tame to mind his presence, and soon came back for another plum. The boy hurried to the window and closed it. Then he went in to tell Marjorie. "He's trapped now," he finished excitedly. "And Malcolm has gone with father after the cows, so he won't know it. What shall we do with him?"

"Let's see what he's doing now," suggested Marjorie.

They found him sitting on the window sill, a little puzzled at finding this exit closed, but not at all afraid. "Oh, we can't hurt him!" said Marjorie laughing. "Let him out, Russ. We'll keep the window shut tonight, and we were going to can the plums tomorrow anyway."

"All right. Get out of here, you striped mischief!" said Russell, raising the window. The chipmunk disappeared with a flit of his tail.

The next day Marjorie canned the plums. Russell brought the work for the fair, and watched the wood. Malcolm sat in the open kitchen door, tossing kernels of corn to his chipmunk. Marjorie declared that the chipmunk was watching her, too, and eyed every plum that she put into the glass jars. The plums were well worth looking at when they were done, and at the fair the next week they won the blue ribbon that meant first honors.

"But I'm glad the fair wasn't any later," laughed Marjorie, when it was over, and she was carrying the jars of plums down cellar. "I don't expect anything else but that chipmunk will get into the cellar and break open the jars! He's the most persevering chipmunk I ever saw!"

LETTERS FROM THE CORNER FOLK.

Dear Uncle Jim:

It has been a long time since I wrote to you. But I guess you have not forgotten me. My eldest sister, Violet, is sending some riddles to your corner. Our school starts soon, and then I will be glad. I go to Sunday School every Sunday and like it very much. Dad has begun having. For pets I have one black and white kitten. I will close as my letter is getting long.

Your loving niece,
ELMA LANCASTER.
St. Christine, Bagot Co.

Dear Uncle Jim,

It has been a long time since I wrote to you. Our school closed in the first part of May. I came out first in my grade. I was in grade five. I failed in four subjects. I haven't had any vacation yet. I have been fishing and strawberrying a good deal. You can print this letter if you like.

Goodbye,
CAROL MANUEL.
South Bolton, Que.

Dear Uncle Jim,

I have not written to your corner before. But have enjoyed the reading and pictures very much. Last winter my sister and I colored all the pictures and saved them for a book. I am twelve years old and will be in the seventh grade this fall. For fear my letter will be too long, will close with lots of love to Uncle Jim and the cousins.

Lovingly,
LILLIAN M. TAYLOR.
Newport, Vt.

Dear Uncle Jim:

I thought I would write to you for I have not written to you for a long time, for I have been busy. I came first in my grade. We have started having. I have six cats now. I will go into grade five next year. Hope to see my letter in print.

Your nephew,
RAYMOND SARGENT.
Stantead, Que., R.M.D. No. 2.
Age 11.

Dear Uncle Jim,

Hurray for the holidays for two months now and who isn't glad? My brother, George, is certainly making the best of them, for the other evening he got a calf out and tried to ride it. He got on and held to the rope that was to take the place of the surcingle and away the calf went. It didn't go very fast but kept kicking behind some. Another boy kept hold of the rope and the calf, George rode the calf till it stepped into a hole. George is eight years old and is rather small for his age (not a bit like me) so we thought his calf riding well done. He has ridden the calf since and loosened some of his teeth more than they were. You once guessed that I lived on a ranch, Uncle Jim, but you are mistaken, for it is only a farm. Although we have fourteen hundred acres.

It is raining a little now and a minute ago my little sister came in and said, "Where is that umbrella?" so I guess she isn't going to get wet nor stop having a good time for the rain. At about ten o'clock this morning it was one hundred degrees heat but it is cooler this afternoon, of course. I suppose there are a lot of book-worms in the corner and I am one, too. My favorite poet is Robert J. C. Stead, and I think it would pay anyone to get his books. I am going to send in one of his poems and you can put it in the corner.

Thanks, Louise D. for the little present. I am going to write some time.

Well, I will have to tell you about Binlass Stampede. It was about twenty-five miles from here. When we first got there, they were playing baseball but later they started riding wild steers. There were about ten ranchers and cowboys rode. One boy came out and when the steer bucked he went up and came down backwards on it. Later in the day they had wild broncho riding, too, but I did not see that for I was up at the baseball game so I guess I missed the best part of all.

Well I guess I will close.

Your niece,
HELEN POPE.
Haven, Alberta.

LATE PICTURE PAINTINGS.

There were several picture paintings that came in late, and the best of these was one by Lillian Thayer, age 12, from Newport, Vt. It was done very well, but why didn't you get it in on time, Lillian? Julia Wilson, age 14, from Compton, and Donald Clowery, age 15, from 33 Mt. Pleasant St., Sherbrooke, tied for second place, and in accuracy Orleans

CONSTANCE BENNETT, elder daughter of Richard Bennett, well known actor, who supports his contention and her mother's contention that real married love comes from separation.

A NICE ADJUSTMENT

"I can't make up my mind where to go for my vacation."

"Why go anywhere?"

"Well, I like to be thoroughly uncomfortable for a few weeks each year, so that I can enjoy my home all the more the rest of the time."

THEY REACT.

On the other hand, don't say it with flowers.

Davidson, age 14, from Lower Ireland, came a very close third, but why weren't you on time? It's always worth while to be. Una Little, age 10, from Henderson Vale, had a very carefully done picture, but next time keep within the black lines. Rachell Comstock, age 10, from North Hatley, sent in a very well done picture, but Rachell's colors were a little dark. Raymond Sargent, age 11, from Stantead, sent in a delightful picture with soft shaded colors, and his name deserves to come well toward the head of the list. Lois Andrews, age 12, from Mansonville, a picture that was well done had you only smoother crayons.

In the age of 11, we find three that tie, Mona Monahan, from Danville, Eunice Fournier, from 44 Peel St., Sherbrooke, and Tyler McHarg, from Bishop's Crossing. They were all very good, but the first two were a little incomplete and Tyler's crayon wasn't smooth.

Next we find two done by children 8 years old that both had the same mistake, that is, not complete enough. You will remember this next time, won't you, Marion Minor, from Magog, and Hilda Armstrong, from Knowlton? Our tardy list is ended by a very good picture, (don't think we ever leave the worst until last; we never do.) This picture was done by Roderick Green, age 17, from Lennoxville. Your contrasting colors were good, Roddy.

Always your Uncle Jim.

LENGTH OF LIFE IN ANIMALS

The elephant is one of the long-lived animals. There are elephants now living which were well along in years when the Declaration of Independence was signed, more than 145 years ago. Students of natural history have found that the species has a range of life reaching two hundred years.

The lion is another best of the jungle which has a comparatively long span of years. Sixty years is the age allotted the king of beasts. The camel lives fifty or sixty years, while the rhinoceros is limited to the comparatively brief average of twenty years. The busy little beaver keeps going for fifty years. The clumsy tortoise passes the age of one hundred years, which is probably necessary in order to give this slow mover a chance to accomplish anything in connection with his life work. As if confirming the old fable, the hare is allotted but 25 years of life in which to outrun the tortoise. The tiger and leopard are classified at 25 years.

Among the birds several species live to be one hundred years of age, as for instance the eagle, the crow, the raven, the parrot and the swan. The heron reaches sixty years, the pelican fifty and the peacock twenty-five, while the goose may live to be fifty.

One of the long-lived fish is the carp, which grows to be one hundred and fifty years of age.

Structural steel work rises as if by magic—a network of light, powerful girders tracing against the blue the outlines of a lasting building.

Structural steel, made to specification and needing only to be riveted into place, out-distances all other building material in point of speed of erection.

In Hot Weather

Prepare for the cold weather which we know is sure to come. As a proof of this take a look around, also a "think." The Golden Glow is nearly ready to bloom, Sherbrooke Fair opens three weeks from today, and after that, dig the potatoes, put on the double windows, and then winter.

How about your heating system, is it all ready to function for about eight months of steady feeding—that is what you have to figure on, then why not be ready in time? If it is steam, have it gone over to be sure it is all right. If hot water, have the boiler emptied and cleaned, the whole system got ready. If not air—you know the kind we mean, what comes up through the pipes and registers, the result of burning fuel, not the kind emitted from the opening in the facial map of walking "gas bags," be sure the grates and pipes are all right, and if you think you need a new one, just let us show you some of the good points of the ones we handle, Supreme and Hecla, piped and pipeless, and while you are at it don't forget the Humidifier for the top of the hot air furnace, and better have one put in the old furnace, and see how much better the air in your house will be during the winter when you have to keep windows and doors closed for warmth. Think it over and give us a call any time. How about that roof, is it rain and snow proof, if not better have it repaired or replaced?

APPEAL OF HON. J. E. CARON HAS BEEN DISMISSED

Privy Council Sees No Reason Why Minister's Salary Should Be Exempt from Income Tax

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The appeal of Hon. J. E. Caron, Minister of Agriculture for the Province of Quebec, to the Privy Council from a judgment of the Canadian Supreme Court in the case of Caron vs. the King, over a question of income tax, was dismissed today by the judicial committee of the Privy Council.

Hon. Mr. Caron objected to the levying of the Dominion income tax on the salary paid to him as a minister of the crown, hence legal proceedings were begun, carried through the Canadian courts and ended here today with the dismissal of his appeal.

Their Lordships of the judicial committee in giving judgment remarked that certain incomes, such as those of the Governor-General and consuls, were exempt from taxation, and if there were foreign ministers resident in Canada, doubtless it would be proposed that in accordance with international law their incomes should be either expressly exempted or impliedly held to be exempt from taxation, but their Lordships could see no reason in principle why any sources of income of taxable citizens should be removed from the power of taxation given by the Parliament of Canada.

PRICES AND DETAILS OF SHERBROOKE MARKET

Fruit and dairy prices on Lansdowne Market yesterday were with only a few exceptions the same as quoted last week showing a continuance of the stability of some weeks past. Meat prices were also quite steady, but a number of changes were marked in vegetables.

Business up to yesterday afternoon was dull in the meat dept., but an improvement was looked forward to towards evening. All day Friday business in the other three sections was satisfactory and steady.

Butter and eggs were unchanged from a week ago and cheese only a little higher.

A number of vegetables fell. Butter beans and green peas were both lower. Lettuce fell from five cents a head, which it has been for some weeks, to three heads for ten cents and cucumbers also were easier. New beans were lower, while carrots, onions, cauliflower and cabbages were unchanged. New potatoes were selling at the low price of forty to forty-five cents, a decline of five cents over last week.

Apples took a considerable drop, twenty cents to be exact. Only a very few strawberries were for sale and they quickly disappeared. Raspberries and grapes made their appearance for the first time. Grapes were twenty-five cents per pound and raspberries twenty-five cents a basket.

A small increase in pork and a lowering in the price of lamb were practically the only changes in meat prices. Veal, beef, chickens and liver were the same as last week.

THE DAIRY MARKET

Butter, best dairy, per lb. 38c
Butter, best creamery, per lb. 38c
Cheese, per lb. 24c to 30c

GRAIN MARKET

Montreal, Aug. 2nd. GRAIN.—Heavy liquidation and general weakness in the Winnipeg cash wheat market this week has brought down the price of No. 1 Northern and other grades by from six to eight cents between Monday and Wednesday. On the latter day prices were quoted as closing at: No. 1 Northern, $1.48 1-8; No. 2 Northern, $1.42 1-4; and No. 3 Northern, $1.39 1-8, per bushel, ex-store, Fort William.

Deliveries of grain on July contracts on Wednesday were: wheat, 327,000 bushels, a considerable decline from the amount shown the preceding Wednesday; oats, 101,000 bushels; barley, 49,000 bushels; flax, 15,000 bushels; and Rye, 10,000 bushels.

Broomhall cables that the Liverpool market is down and is undergoing heavy liquidation entailing severe price losses. Old crop Manitoba is a shade lower, while the new crop and American winters are 9d to 1s lower and in plentiful supply. Spot No. 1 Manitoba is quoted 13s 3 1-2d, 1-2d down; No. 3 Manitoba, 12s 8 1-2d, also down 1-2d.

There are no bids for No. 1 Northern for export and very little for oats or barley, having in view the uncertainty of the market. It is reported that there are five or six cargoes of Argentine corn arrived here or afloat, all of which is for domestic consumption. All of this has already been sold ahead of receipt.

In view of above weakness the local grain market was very dull and an easier feeling is reported in the oats market with reductions all around of two cents for all grades. No. 2 Canadian western oats sold at 58 to 59 cents, No. 3 C.W. at 56 to 57 cents, No. 1 feed at 54 to 55 cents, and No. 2 feed at 53 to 54 cents per bushel, ex-store.

FLOUR AND FEED

Montreal, Aug. 2nd. FLOUR.—Between Thursday of last week and Wednesday of this there has been an advance in price by millers of forty cents a bushel for spring wheat grades of flour, due to the great strength of the cash wheat market earlier in the week. After Monday there was a break and the wheat market slumped, but so far has not affected the flour market locally. Prices on Wednesday were: first patents at $8.20; second patents $7.70; and strong bakers $7.50 per barrel, in jute bags, ex-track, less ten cents per barrel for spot cash.

The winter wheat flour market has shown no change in prices for the past seven days and there is a moderately steady demand with supplies limited. Car lots of choice grades sell at $6.75 to $6.85 per barrel in second hand jute bags, ex-track, with smaller quantities quoted at $7 to $7.10 per barrel, ex-store, while winter wheat patents go at $7.25 to $7.35 per barrel in new cotton bags, ex-store. White corn flour remains at $6.60 per barrel in jute bags, delivered to the trade.

MILLFEED.—Last Friday this market was advanced $1 a ton owing to the strength of the wheat and allied markets, and the subsequent weakness has not so far affected the local prices, which are holding firm in the face of a steady demand. Manitoba bran was quoted Wednesday at $29.25; shorts at $31.25; and middlings at $37.25 per ton, including bags, ex-track, less 25 cents per ton for spot cash.

COUNTRY PRODUCE

Montreal, Aug. 2nd. EGGS.—Production throughout the country continues to decrease, according to reports received from a number of points. Holders of storage eggs are very firm in their views, believing the situation to have been strengthened by the comparatively large sales that have been made for fall export and also the strong statistical position in the United States. Extras have increased in price 3c a dozen since last week and were quoted here Wednesday at 38c per dozen. Other grades are unchanged and firsts continue at 30c per dozen and seconds at 25c per dozen.

POULTRY.—Receipts of poultry are only fair in spite of substantial reduction in buying prices at country points, specially for broilers. The latter are still being packed for storage and in another week or so there will be no more of this class. Demand remains light for spring ducks, which are still in very light supply. There is practically no turkeys or geese coming to the market. Demand is strong for cold storage dressed poultry, and a good trade is passing in roasting chickens and turkeys, of which stocks are now very light. The latter will, according to general opinion, all move at good prices before the new season's chickens and turkeys are in condition to market. In wholesale jobbing selected turkeys sold at 30c to 35c per lb. as to weight, selected broilers at 35c to 45c, milkfed chickens at 37c to 42c and fowl at 20c to 25c.

MAPLE PRODUCT.—There is no improvement in the demand for maple product, and the market in consequence is quiet, but the undertone is steady owing to the fact that there is no pressure on the part of holders to force sales, and prices are unchanged, with maple syrup quoted at $2.15 to $2.25 per tin of one gallon, and at $2.05 per gallon in five gallon tins. No. 1 maple sugar at 20c per lb. and No. 2 grade at 18c per lb.

HONEY.—The trade in honey in a wholesale jobbing way is slow and the market dull with no change in prices to note. No. 1 white clover honey in comb being quoted at 25c per section, No. 2 grade at 20c per section, and No. 1 amber at 19c per section, white extract honey in 30-lb. tins at 12c per lb. 10-lb. tins at 12 1-2c per lb. and 5-lb. tins at 13c per lb.

POTATOES.—There is very little to report in this market, business has been almost nil and there is no change in prices which remain as last week, with Green Mountain white stock quoted at $1.60 to $1.65 per bag of 90 lbs., in bulk, and reds at $1.35 to $1.40 per bag of 90 lbs. in bulk, ex-track.

HAY MARKET

Montreal, Aug. 2nd. HAY.—There is a possibility that the Quebec and Ontario hay crop this season will be adversely affected by poor weather during the cutting. Reports from most centres state that rain has been intermittent and in places heavy. There is a fair crop in Quebec province with more Timothy and less clover than in the 1923 crop. Receipts continue fair and supplies are ample to meet requirements with sales of car lots of No. 2 Timothy hay at $13.50 to $17.00 per ton and No. 3 Timothy at $14.50 to $15 per ton, f.o.b. cars here.

DAIRY PRODUCE

Montreal, Aug. 2nd. BUTTER.—Fractional shading of prices in butter have obtained this week and business is reported as being quiet with a weak undertone. No. 1 pasteurized is quoted at 34c to 34 1-8c, No. 1 creamery at 33c and No. 2 creamery at 31 3-4c per pound.

CHEESE.—There has been no change in prices in this market in the past seven days and business is very dull with a generally easier feeling. Cables are again much easier and as the prices bid were below sellers' views little new business was done. Exports, however, show a substantial increase in the previous week's figures though still much below those of the week before. That No. 1 white and colored continues to be quoted at 15 3-4c to 16c, No. 2 grade at 15c to 15 1-8c, eastern No. 1 white and colored at 15 1-2c to 15 5-8c and No. 2 grade at 14 3-4c to 14 7-8c per pound.

NEW YORK PRESS MARKET COMMENT

Furnished by McManamy & Walsh

Journal of Commerce—Professional traders are of the opinion that further realizing sales will be witnessed during the next few days and would not be surprised to see some further reactions.

Wall Street Journal—In the face of a considerable profit taking following an early rise the market gave excellent evidence of underlying, generally absorbing offerings with only fractional reactions.

New York Tribune—In those parts of the list which were reactionary, no particular developments could be found upon which responsibility might be placed. Rather it appeared to be of a more or less normal character.

Wall Street Journal will say today—Ajax Rubber sales increase. Earned 33 cents a share in 6 months against 97 cents.

Northern Pacific outlook good. First half's operations point to further improvement during remainder of 1923.

Southwest joyous over wheat money. Deposits seeking investment. Debts rapidly paid.

PREMIER REFUSES ACTION.

(Associated Press Despatch.) ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 2.—Premier Monroe has definitely refused to act on the suggestion of Alfred Prince, leader of the 4,000 men on strike at Cornerbrook, who yesterday demanded the immediate presence of the Premier at the scene of the strike and announced that the failure of the Premier to accede to the request would result in violence including the destruction of the company's plant and the forests, and the tying up of the railway.

A message received last night from Prince by the Premier reads: "Your country needs you at once at Cornerbrook. Don't fail. If you do your government is doomed. Immediate reply." The Prime Minister promptly replied: "In view of your insulting messages I refuse to act on your suggestions." In the House of Assembly last night Premier Monroe charged the opposition with deliberately engineering the strike in order to influence the bye-election in Bonavista in the autumn, which he will have to contest. The charge was defied by the opposition.

There have been no further developments in the situation at Cornerbrook.

Can You Beat This One?

In Mark Twain's time they used to say that a mine was a hole in the ground and the owner a liar. There seems to be a persistent belief among laymen that anglers are in the same category as mine-owners. "The one that got away" is, traditionally, the biggest bass that ever flipped a fin and Ananias, in popular parlance, a fisherman.

Here's a fish story that makes the average rod-wielder look like the youthful George Washington. The gigantic musky whose portrait is seen above was landed by an Indian with his bare hand! This is the gospel truth. Some few days ago, setting out from Devil's Gap Bungalo Camp, on Lake of the Woods, Minn., an ardent sportsman hooked this tremendous fellow, a 35-pounder, on a fifteen-pound test black Japanese silk line and an eight-ounce split bamboo fishing rod with a No. 3 Star double-spinner as a lure. The captive, offering the type of battle anglers thrill to, struggled for forty-five minutes, then, at the critical moment, made a supreme effort, snapped the line and disappeared. The sportsman groaned, believing all was over. But the wily Indian guide, paddling round quietly, spotted the fish lying exhausted in four feet of water. "Don't move" he urged. "She's up!" And, sure enough, the lunge presently rose to within a few inches of the surface. A lightning movement of the Indian instantly followed and, seizing the fish through the back of the gill, he flung him triumphantly into the canoe.

Next time you swap yarns with your pals and want to cap their best efforts with something that is no less remarkable than it is correct in every particular, ask them "Can you beat this one?"

YANKEES STILL IN LEAD IN THE PENNANT HUNT

Defeated St. Louis Yesterday—Senators Defeat Detroit—Philadelphia Beats Cleveland and Chicago Wins from Boston.

(Associated Press Despatch.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—The Yankees are still in the lead in the hunt for the American League pennant as the result of their victory over the St. Louis club yesterday when they took their nemesis Urban Shocker, into camp, to the tune of 3 to 2, in the third game of the series. The Yankees were the first to score sending a run across in the second and putting two more men over the plate in the fifth. The Browns came back strong in the eighth inning with two tallies but could not produce the tying run. Babe Ruth and Joe Bush of the Yankees, both had arguments with the St. Louis rooters, police preventing Bush from climbing into the stand in an effort to reach a fan who had incensed him. Ruth was put out of the game in the ninth inning when he took issue with Umpire Bowland, over a close decision.

Senators Defeat Detroit
The Senators won their third successive victory over Detroit winning by the score of 7 to 3. They are just half a game back of the leading Yankees and are making a red hot race of it. Washington bunched eight of its hits off Wells in the first three innings for five runs and scored two more in the sixth on a hit and an error.

Y.M.C.A. vs. ST. FRANCIS

games.

FOLLOW THROUGH

Some time ago Isaac Mackie, one of the four Mackie Brothers, all famous for playing and teaching the game, suggested that the best advice he could offer to the average golfer was to hit through the ball.

This bit of advice stands out as a gem in golf instruction because it is so easy to understand. When the average player stands on the tee all he thinks about is hitting the ball. This means that it may result in a terrible slice, a wide hook, or it might be badly topped.

Now, if this golfer has been told to hit the ball in such a manner that the club might go on through it, he will obtain at once a correct idea of the follow through. What really happens is shown in the top picture. The club head going through, travels with such great force that the ball flattens out. It will stay close to the club head for some inches until it regains its round shape and bounds toward the hole.

The lower picture shows the idea one must keep in mind. The club head coming on to the ball should travel on through in a direct line to the hole to insure direction. If the golfer will practice this he will find that it will improve his game fifty per cent. in a short time.

games. In last night's game Charland met Hammond in singles losing out 9-7 and 10-8. The other single was played by Kittredge, of Y.M.C.A., and Jencks, of St. Francis; in the first set Jencks looked as if he would have an easy time and took the set 6-0, but Kittredge getting more used to the court took the second and third 7-5, 6-4. In the doubles Charland and Densmore, of Y.M.C.A., won from Wedd and Hammond fairly easily 6-1, 8-3. In the other doubles Thornton and Bryce lost to Jencks and Baker, first set going to Y.M.C.A. 6-1, but in the other two sets St. Francis took them 6-4, 3-2.

The "Y" team is promised a very full week starting Monday, August 4th, when they meet Fairbanks in singles. Tuesday they meet East Angus. Wednesday they meet Woodlands, and Friday they meet the United.

SPORTING NOTES

MR. INGRAM'S MARE WINS IN WINDSOR
WINDSOR, Aug. 2.—More than 3,500 persons watched the opening programme of the six-day Detroit blue ribbon club Grand Circuit meeting at Devonshire track today. The card weakened somewhat by withdrawals for fear of rain but all of the heats were characterized by speed on the home stretch. A high wind slowed down the time.

The feature of the opening day was the Detroit stake for 212 trotters in which Tilly Brooke, owned by Mr. H. H. Ingram, of Sherbrooke, stood out as much the best. Voltage and Thompson Dillon staged a pretty race for second place, the latter winning out. Tilly Brooke did not have to race the third heat under the new three-heat plan.

NECESSITY MAKES THIEF OF HUNGARIAN NOBLEMAN
(Associated Press Despatch)
BUDAPEST, Aug. 2.—Baron Ernst Banffy, member of one of the oldest noble families of Hungary, has turned thief. Driven by economic worries, he embarked upon a career of stealing little odds and ends of things from members of his social set, who at first never suspected the brilliant society lion of being the culprit. As he had entree to the homes of the richest and most exclusive families of the Hungarian aristocracy, it was an easy thing for him to pick up objects of value and to have them disappear in his coat pockets. He was especially fond of thieving objects made of gold or silver.

On one occasion he stole a valuable watch. The owner caught the baron in the act and reported him to the police. Banffy fled from Siebenburgen, where the theft had occurred, but was caught in Budapest. He confessed to having committed ten thefts.

WM. M. BIRKS

Might Split Conservative Vote, as Leslie G. Bell Was Chosen at Earlier Convention.

(Associated Press Despatch)
MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—Representatives of all sections of the division of St. Antoine waited on Wm. M. Birks yesterday and asked him to accept the official nomination as Conservative candidate for the federal bye-election in the division set for September 2. Leslie G. Bell who was chosen by the Conservative convention of June 16 says he will remain in the field. Mr. Birks will give a definite answer this morning.

MR. BIRKS ACCEPTS
MONTREAL, Aug. 2.—William M. Birks, leading Montreal business man and a past president of the Montreal Board of Trade, will stand as Conservative candidate in the St. Antoine bye-election. Mr. Birks' decision was announced this morning.

His campaign, he stated, would be based wholly on "the imperative necessity of Canada maintaining a consistent policy of tariff protection."

Mr. Birks' decision opens an interesting situation in that there are now two Conservative candidates standing in St. Antoine. Leslie G. Bell, who captured the Conservative convention some weeks ago but who has since met with some opposition from within the ranks of his own party, has refused to withdraw.

MATTHEWS NOW SAYS WILL FIGHT EXTRADITION
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 2.—After word late yesterday from his attorney in Toronto, Charles A. Matthews, Jr., former Deputy Provincial Treasurer of Ontario, held here on a technical charge of illegal entry to the United States, announced he would fight extradition proceedings if any are brought by the Canadian authorities.

Advices received here from Toronto said that Matthews was wanted there in connection with alleged irregularities in the disposition of bonds. Matthews was arrested at Santa Clara, Wednesday and told immigration officials then that he would not fight extradition.

With receipt of word from Seymour Coffey, K. C. Matthews retained counsel here and announced determination to fight extradition proceedings.

CLAREMONT HILL
Thieves endeavored to force an entrance into Mr. Forrest Rief's garage on Monday night, but they were frustrated by a Scotch collie that was at large outside. No further damage was done than a badly-battered lock.

Miss Jessie Haggart, who has been the guest of her niece, Miss H. Denison, has returned to Richmond.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Demers died suddenly from indigestion on Tuesday morning. The funeral was held on Thursday afternoon in St. Anne's Church and interment in the local cemetery.

There was a fair crop of wild strawberries this year. Raspberries are scarce. Fifteen years ago about every farmer had a small patch of this fruit, which supported the owner's family as well as his neighbors, but today raspberry fields are few and far apart. It is reported that blueberries will be a bounteous crop. There is every indication of an abundant crop of blackberries, one of our most delicious wild fruits.

Not including the senior 100 yard dash, concerning which it was undecided as to whether yesterday's race should be considered a heat or a final, the standing of the clubs on the finals decided yesterday was as follows:

Dons 2 1 2 10

West Side, Buffalo 1 0 1 4

Big Increase in Quantity of These Goods Brought into Canada.

(Associated Press Despatch)

In that month 46,663 pairs of shoes were imported from the United Kingdom, as compared with 13,772 pairs in June, 1923, an increase of 238.8 per cent. Importations of British shoes into Canada in June were valued at $77,138, as against $45,220 in June, 1923, an increase of 70.6 per cent. The June figures also show 3,900 pairs of women's shoes imported from Germany at a valuation for duty of only $1 per pair.

TURKEY STILL FAR BEHIND THE TIMES
LONDON, Aug. 2.—(By Canadian Press)—A correspondent of the London Times, in a somewhat caustic letter commenting on the slowness of the telegraphic system in Turkey, says: Turkey is advancing in civilization, and may soon hope to reach the stage of India in the middle of the last century. A news item in the Times of July 12, tells how the American airmen reached Constantinople two hours before the telegram announcing their departure from Aleppo.

In 1763 there was performed in Calcutta a play entitled The Dawk Bungalow. In it the Globe trotting, Mr. Cholmondeley asks his servant if a telegram has come for him.

ONE ON THE GEOLOGIST
The late Charles P. Steinmetz was fond of telling this story: A geologist one day saw a laborer digging flints from chalk. "Do you think flints grow?" he asked the man.

"I don't think nothing about it," was the positive answer. "I know they grow."

The geologist laughed. "Take one home then and put it on the mantel and watch it grow."

"All right, I will," said the laborer. "And you do the same with a petter and see how much that grows."
