GOVERNMENT'S POLICY AT PARLEY OUTLINED BY HON. H. H. STEVENS

Minister of Trade and Commerce Declares Government Will Approach Conference With Open Mind and in Mutual Spirit of Co-operation—Representative Gathering of Eastern Townships Business Men and Industrialists Attended Banquet Tendered Cabinet Minister by Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce.

"The Government has purposely and deliberately refrained from expressing the policy it will adopt at the forthcoming Imperial Conference," Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, told a representative gathering of Eastern Townships business men and industrialists on Saturday evening at a banquet tendered him by the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, at the New Sherbrooke House. "A declaration of this nature on the eve of the Empire parley would be both unwise and unprofitable, and would precipitate opinions and discussions about what will happen in Ottawa next month. The Government will approach the Conference with an open mind and in a spirit of mutual co-operation, well-prepared with the valuable material it has accumulated to co-operate with the other units of the British Commonwealth."

This statement, answering "criticisms from any quarter," was made during the course of the encouraging message delivered by the prominent speaker and politician to the leading public men of this community who had gathered in large numbers to listen to a word picture of existing conditions in the Dominion and to learn wherein lay the means of solving the problems confronting this country today. Many interesting questions came within the scope of the Minister's address, special attention being accorded to internal and external trade, and to exchange as applied to international trade.

Seldom has a local audience had such an opportunity as was afforded Saturday night to obtain a concise view of existing conditions from an authority whose public position has permitted him to review the strategic and vital questions affecting a country's state of affairs. From a wealth of knowledge, Hon. Stevens drew figures and comparisons to substantiate his theories that Canada is recovering from the slough of depression and with the co-operation of its citizens will in a short time attain its former prominence.

"In our system of civilization, commonly called democracy," Hon. Stevens remarked, "the principal weakness lies in the fact that we do not keep before our mind the complex machinery, outside of government, which carries on the affairs of a country. The time has arrived, if democracy is to be preserved, for the key men to take greater interest in the affairs that affect the community at large and study the present problems and difficulties. There are encouraging signs to warrant confidence in our Dominion. If Canada is not prosperous, it is not the fault of nature, but the blame rather rests on the shoulders of its citizens. There is an abundance of natural resources, but there is something radically askew in the manner we are handling affairs. The basis on which our prosperity is laid is both rich and sound, but the efforts of the citizens must be directed towards developing this natural heritage."

Broadening these views, the Minister continued with "there has been a crop failure in the West for the past three years, but today there is every indication that a 400,000,000 bushel crop will be harvested. Other factors show that there has never been such a demand in Great Britain for fruit and other commodities as at the present time. With the idea of taking advantage of these promising indications, the citizens should contribute their intelligence and effort to Providence for the welfare of their country."

"A pre-emptive question to every nation is the present price of commodities, one of the direct causes of much of the present distress," the speaker declared. "The price of wheat, lead, copper, zinc and other commodities have dropped from the mark of three years ago, with the result that the debts incurred when times were better have to be met at the present price level. All monetary obligations must be paid out of the soil, from the farmer, miner and lumber man, but it is obvious that unless the price levels are raised to a higher plane many of the debts cannot be written off."

"The debtor has a right to consideration," Hon. Stevens declared in condemning repudiation of debts as a solution. "Repudiation means sapping the life blood of a community, and this means of absolving debts should be stamped out wherever it makes its appearance. The Macmillan report a year ago said that there was no hope for Great Britain or any other country to face its problems until prices were restored to their 1928 level. It is idle for us to ignore this important problem, hoping that the present cycle will turn and prosperity return without assistance from the citizens. We should inject some element of equity and common sense, and use our intelligence to solve the present problems."

Concrete evidence of the success of the two treaties entered into by Canada with Australia and New Zealand was stressed as the question of external trade was treated. "These two treaties constituted a good stroke of business to the countries concerned," Hon. Stevens asserted. "Australia has secured complete control of the dry fruit market and is breaking into the market in other lines, while Canada has obtained and is handling between ninety and one hundred per cent of Australia's soft wood products. These two pacts have amply demonstrated the value of clear understanding between nations."

As further testimony of Canada's progress in external trade, the Minister quoted statistics which indicated that the Dominion was still doing business, producing and marketing goods despite the fact that profits had almost vanished. Drawing an interesting comparison from the fact that whereas the volume decline of trade in Canada during 1930-31 was twenty-eight per cent while the reduction of value over the same period was but twelve per cent, the speaker exhorted his audience to continue producing and, when better times arrive reap the rewards for their persistency.

"The theory is advanced by many economists that the cause of the present economic stress is the hoarding of gold by the United States and France," Hon. Stevens said in introducing the question of exchange. "In

CHINESE MISTAKE BRITISH GUNBOAT FOR ENEMY CRAFT

No Damage Done to Gunboat Moorhen During Accidental Bombardment by Planes of Cantonese Forces.

Hongkong, June 27.—The British gunboat Moorhen was bombed by mistake today by Chinese aeroplanes sent by General Chan Chai-Tong to recover a quantity of munitions captured by Admiral Chan Chak, rebel commander of the Cantonese navy.

Admiral Chan Chak's gunboats earlier in the day had captured a Chinese steamer carrying a quantity of rifles valued at $500,000 which belonged to the regular Cantonese forces.

The planes were sent out to bomb Chan Chak's boats, but near Kiao Island they apparently mistook the British boat for a Chan Chak craft. Six bombs were dropped near her, but she was not struck.

Ten Chan Chak boats were in Hongkong harbor tonight for repairs following the battle.

CANADIAN DOLLAR STEADY

New York, June 27.—The Canadian dollar was steady on local foreign exchanges this morning, opening unchanged at 87 1/2 cents.

The pound sterling sagged slightly, losing five-eighths of a cent at 86.00.

WILL ATTEMPT TO REMOVE RESTRICTIONS ON CATTLE

Suggest Scheme to Be Worked Out at Imperial Economic Conference.

Oshawa, Ont., June 27.—Removal of restrictions on the entry of Canadian cattle into Great Britain was suggested as a scheme to be worked out by the Imperial Economic Conference by Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, in an address delivered at the annual field day of the Dominion Shorthorn Breeders' Association here Saturday.

"Today we can only send in steers and the others are barred under the Health of Animals Act. It seems ridiculous to take in steers from a herd and refuse cows and heifers from the same herd," said Mr. Marshall.

Dr. Manion attacked the record of the former Liberal administration and explained the policies of the present Government.

Murray MacLaren, Minister of Pensions and National Health, also spoke.

In the general election of 1930 it was a straight party fight between the same candidates. Mr. Jones secured 8,698 votes to 5,774 for Mr. White. Mr. Jones has represented the constituency since 1921, when he was first elected with a majority of 117 votes. In 1925 his majority was 1,871. In 1928 his majority was 1,293, and in 1930 it was 2,924.

The constituency of Mr. Jones was established in 1914 by the Redistribution Act of that year which combined Kings and Queens counties.

YOUNG GIRL IN MEGANTIC SHOT BY HER BROTHER

Six-Year-Old Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Grenier Shot Through Lung When Gun Was Accidentally Discharged.

Lake Megantic, Que., June 27.—Shot through the left lung when a rifle held in the hands of her four-year-old brother, Fernand, accidentally discharged yesterday morning, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Grenier succumbed to her injuries a few minutes after the mishap.

The tragedy occurred on the Grenier farm about three miles from this place on the Spaulding Road. Mr. Grenier and his two children left the farm house for the pasture, the father carrying his rifle. He was in the habit of doing this as the farm is situated on the outskirts of thick woods. The farmer had to attend to some livestock in the barn before reaching the pasture. He placed his rifle against the side of the barn and entered, leaving his two children outside.

While he was busy inside the barn the children picked up the gun. It is presumed to have been in the hands of the young boy when the hammer fell and the weapon discharged. The girl fell with a wound in her chest. Hearing the shot, the father ran out of the barn and saw the wounded child. Dr. Charles Boisvert was called, but could do nothing to save the girl's life.

An inquest into the tragedy is being held this morning.

CONTINUE BRIDGE MATCH

Elberon, N.J., June 27.—P. Hal Sims' "Four Horsemen" have rolled up an apparently unbeatable lead over the Cavendish Club contract bridge team led by Harold S. Vandenberg.

In the third session of their match last night "The Horsemen" increased their lead by 3,445 to a total margin of 6,260. To date 120 boards have been played, leaving forty to be played.

MANION WARNS ROYAL VOTERS OF REAL ISSUE

Railway Minister in Replying to Mackenzie King's Speech Declares Liberals Hope for the Failure of Conference.

Sussex, N.B., June 27.—Electors of Royal went to the polls today to name a representative for the vacant seat in the House of Commons. The contest is a straight party fight between Hon. George B. Jones, Conservative, who resigned the seat last April under a technicality in the House of Commons Act, and Donald V. White, Liberal.

The Imperial Economic Conference to be held at Ottawa this summer was an outstanding point of issue during the closing days of the bye-election campaign. This subject was introduced here last week by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Liberal party in Canada, who said the conference would fail if the Government maintained its trade and tariff policies. Speaking here on Saturday night, Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, read a telegram from Premier R. B. Bennett, stating in part:

"In effect, he (Mr. King) asked the electors of Royal to vote against the Government so that he may be in a position to say that the country is opposed to our proceeding with the Imperial Economic Conference which from the standing of the delegates and the interest taken in the proceedings in every part of the world, is rightly regarded as the most important gathering of its kind ever held in the British Empire. Through the efforts of the Government, the conference will meet in Ottawa. I trust that you will stress the responsibility which the issue Mr. King has raised places upon the electors of Royal, and ask them whether or not they are prepared to weaken the influence of Canada at the Conference by voting of confidence in the Government which has made possible the gathering, which offers Canada the greatest opportunity we have ever had for securing some form of trade stability within the Empire and stimulating world movement toward normal conditions."

Dr. Manion attacked the record of the former Liberal administration and explained the policies of the present Government. Murray MacLaren, Minister of Pensions and National Health, also spoke.

FIVE SEEK FAVOR OF MAISON-NEUVE ELECTORS

Montréal, June 27.—Electors flocked to the polls today to settle the Parliamentary representation of the Maison-Neuve division, which since it was formed in 1896 has returned only Liberal and Labor Members of Parliament.

Five candidates sought the seat left vacant when Clement Robitaille, Liberal, died in January. They were Jean Fautoux, Conservative; Joseph Jean, K.C., Liberal; Heliodore Binette, Canadian Labor party; Alexander Gauld, Socialist; and Deuts Courchesne, Independent Liberal.

The fight was generally regarded as being between Fautoux, Jean and Binette. The record of the constituency shows it was held by Liberals from 1896 until 1906 when in a bye-election A. Verville captured it for Labor and held it until the election of 1917 when Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, later Speaker, took it. Clement Robitaille held that seat from 1921 until his death.

Conservatives, Liberal and Labor staged a determined campaign all week, winding up in a burst of oratory last night with big guns booming from several platforms. To aid the Labor cause, J. S. Woods, Humphrey Mitchell and A.A. Heaps, three of the principal Labor members of Parliament, appeared on a platform with Binette. Jean was flanked by Hon. Ernest Lapointe and Hon. P. J. A. Carlin, Liberal front benchers, while Hon. Arthur Sauve and Hon. Alfred Durnan, cabinet ministers, made last minute appeals for Fautoux.

Courchesne and Gauld also held meetings last night. The Socialist admitted he did not have a chance of election, but declared that the spade work he was doing in a "workingman's" constituency would be valuable to the Socialist cause later on. Courchesne entered the campaign through dissatisfaction with the convention that nominated Jean.

In the 1930 election Robitaille faced three opponents. He polled 18,894 votes against 13,494 for the Conservative candidate, Desjardins; 1,053 for Courchesne, who ran in the same role that he undertook today, and 313 for Simard, Communist.

CITY MOURNS SUDDEN DEATH OF D. J. STEELE

Prominent Local Citizen Passed Away Suddenly After Attending Banquet Tendered Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade

"Dan" Steele is dead. Departing he leaves fond memories of a worthy citizen, a kind husband and father, a man of sterling qualities and one whom Sherbrooke was always proud to call her own.

Word of his sudden death, which occurred shortly after eleven o'clock on Saturday night, came as a great shock to his family, his friends and the community in general. He had attended the banquet given at the New Sherbrooke House by the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce, at which the guest-speaker was Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. Leaving the hotel about ten thirty o'clock he was stricken with an attack of acute indigestion and passed away shortly afterwards at his home on Frontenac street.

His death is a distinct loss to the community, for D. J. Steele was one of those men who put service to others above self-interest. He was in every sense of the word a one-hundred per cent "Sherbrooke booster."

He loved his home town, took pride in her past achievements and was ever optimistic of the future. Whenever his services, help or co-operation were needed for the success of any worthy undertaking, he was ever willing to grant his assistance. He was of fair stature and B. Kenny Steele, Daniel James Steele was born at Stanbury, Quebec, on October 6th, 1868. His father came from Vermont and settled in Stanbury in 1891. Educated at St. Hyacinthe and Farnham colleges, he began his career as a freight clerk at Farnham in 1886 as clerk in the freight department of the South Eastern Railway, (afterwards taken over by the Canadian Pacific Railway).

From the position of freight clerk his rise was rapid, and in 1894 he was made a freight agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Sherbrooke, a position which he ably filled until his death.

As a mark of tribute for the valuable services which he rendered his company during the long years of his career, and also as an outward expression of the esteem in which he was held by his large circle of friends, he was tendered a complimentary banquet here on January 15th, 1927. On that occasion officials of the C. P. R. prominent members of the Sherbrooke and many distinguished men from various parts of the province were present to honor the man who was occupying the place of honor.

In spite of his devotion to duty, Mr. Steele found time for any worthy cause of the community. He was a faithful worshipper, is better because it had among its supporters D. J. Steele; St. Patrick's Academy has grown through his efforts and personal interest; the Sherbrooke Council of the Knights of Columbus, of which he was a loyal member and past Grand Knight, owes a debt of gratitude to him; the Sherbrooke Board of Trade, (now the Chamber of Commerce) of which he was president in 1916, relied greatly upon his support and advice; St. George's Club, where he spent many pleasant, social hours, and the other organizations to which he gave his support, have been deprived of a valued member. He was also closely identified with the Eastern Townships Associated Board of Trade, the Eastern Townships Immigration Society and the Eastern Townships Agricultural Association, to which as chairman of the industrial committee, he was devoting all his spare time in an effort to fill the main building at the 1932 Fair with a representative display of articles manufactured in this district when death overtook him.

His passing removes a loving figure from the family circle. His widow, who before her marriage on September 8th, 1891, was Mary A. Kelly, daughter of Mr. John Kelly, of Farnham, has been deprived of a kind help-mate and his children have lost a father for whom they held the highest esteem.

Apart from his wife, he is survived by four sons and three daughters, namely, Messrs. John, Marcus, William and Charles Steele, all of Sherbrooke, Miss Loretta Steele, also of this city, Mrs. George Donaldson, (Irene), who resides in British Columbia, and Miss Bertha, "Betty" Steele, who has recently graduated at the Montreal Hospital.

He also has four grandchildren and other more distant relatives.

Mr. Steele's death will be keenly felt in many circles, for his friends included men of all classes, creeds and nationalities. He cherished his own beliefs and lived a worthy life. He believed in living and let live, which is in itself a mark of greatness.

There is not a citizen in Sherbrooke who would speak but in a praise-worthy manner about D. J. Steele. His service to the community cannot be over-estimated. For over forty years he has been closely identified with the growth and development of Sherbrooke. He has labored most earnestly on its behalf, and many hours of useful endeavor have been given to the betterment of Sherbrooke, the hours of untiring work which people knew little about. He was not the type

DANIEL J. STEELE

The sudden death on Saturday night of Daniel J. Steele removes from Sherbrooke a citizen who was held in the highest esteem by the entire community.

During the forty-five years that he held the position of local freight agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway, he gathered about him an ever-widening circle of friends, both in Sherbrooke and throughout the province, who were proud to know "Dan" Steele and to call him their friend.

EVANGELIST INFORMED OF ACTION AGAINST HUSBAND

Surprise Witnesses Promised by Defence at Close of Cross-Examination of Plaintiff.

Los Angeles, June 27.—Myrtle Joan St. Pierre's breach of promise suit against David Hutton, husband of Almee Semple McPerson, will be resumed today. The evangelist, now known the trial is in progress.

The starting of the $200,000 suit a week ago was kept from Mrs. Hutton because she is seriously ill. She was informed yesterday when she sought information from her physician, Dr. E. H. Williams, who said she became slightly worse after hearing the trial had begun, but stated it was not because of the information she received.

Hutton said his wife treated as a joke the suit brought by the thirty-year-old twice married nurse. Defense attorneys promised "surprise witnesses" today.

LAUSANNE WAR DEBTS CONFERENCE IS TODAY APPROACHING A CLIMAX

Premier Herriot, of France, and Chancellor Von Papen, of Germany, This Afternoon Resumed Their Conversations on the Ultimate Liability of Germany to Pay Reparations

Lausanne, June 27.—The Lausanne Reparations Conference moves to its climax. Premier Edouard Herriot, of France, and Chancellor Franz Von Papen, of Germany, this afternoon resumed their conversations on the ultimate liability of Germany to pay reparations, and the British and other delegations awaited the outcome.

The success of the Conference now turns broadly on these points:

(1) Whether the countries represented will be willing to make sufficient mutual sacrifice to meet public opinion;

(2) Whether the Germans can offer an economic scheme which would be adequate compensation for the non-resumption of reparations payments at the end of the proposed further moratorium.

Premier Herriot returned from Paris today, and Chancellor Von Papen returned from Berlin. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and Dino Grandi, head of the Italian delegation, with the other delegates, remained at Lausanne over the weekend. Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, hopes however to return to London to co-operate in the British preparations for the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa.

An action advocating postponement of further negotiations suggested creation of a committee of experts to determine upon a formula of agreement in the disputed question of cash payments by Germany. This committee would assemble its data so that the powers could meet again before the next war debts instalments to the United States fall due on December 15, if this plan was necessary.

John Southere, of Granby, Was Found in Woods This Morning—Made Attempt Upon Life of Mrs. Arthur Gingras.

Granby, June 27.—After making an attempt upon the life of Mrs. Arthur Gingras, who lived with her husband on a farm a short distance from this place, Joseph Southere, sixty-six years old, took his own life last night.

Southere, believed to have been momentarily unbalanced, was found at an early hour this morning in the forest near his home. He had hanged himself from the limb of a tree.

The man lived on a farm near here with Mr. and Mrs. Gingras. Yesterday afternoon the three were out fishing, and Southere stated that he was going to town to obtain some tackle. However, instead he went to the home of Raymond Racine and borrowed a revolver with the explanation that he wished to shoot some crows on his farm. He returned to his home with the revolver, and when he had entered the house aimed the gun at Mrs. Gingras and fired. The shot missed, however, and Mr. Gingras grappled with the man and disarmed him. Mr. and Mrs. Gingras then hurried to Granby to swear out a warrant for Southere's arrest. Constable St. Martin went to the scene, but could find no trace of the man. A search about the premises revealed that a rope was missing from the stable. The search for Southere continued until this morning, when he was found in the woods.

The district coroner was notified and will hold an inquest tomorrow.

TASCHEREAU TO ACCEPT FEDERAL SCHEME FOR LAND COLONIZATION

Although Certain Municipalities Cannot Assist in Settlement of Unemployed Families on the Land, Premier Taschereau Announces that Province Will Join in the Movement—Preliminary Stage Calls for Settlement of One Thousand Families from Province of Quebec.

Quebec, June 27.—Although believing that the Federal government proposals for the return of the unemployed to the land are not the best suited to the Province of Quebec, Premier Taschereau has announced that at the next meeting of the Provincial Cabinet the three-way scheme announced by Hon. Wesley Gordon, Minister of Immigration and Colonization, will be accepted. Under the Gordon plan, the sum of $600 is allotted for settling a family from the city on the land. The Dominion Government, the province and the municipality each shoulder one-third of the cost.

Premier Taschereau explained that the Ottawa project for land settlement is based on the return to the land of one thousand families. "Yet last year we settled about six thousand families on the land," he commented. "Today the situation is such that the municipalities have not the means with which to pay $200 per family, as the scheme calls for, another $200 to be paid by us and the third $200 by Ottawa, a total of $600,000 being involved."

Mr. Taschereau did not have before him figures as to the cost of settlement by the province last year, but some figures obtained elsewhere show that a total of $1,800,000 was involved, which works out at around $300 per family, the family unit being such as to bring the figure about 25,000 people. That is for settlement, of course. There was no lumbering work to be done, and spring found little other work, so it meant that in addition to the $1,800,000 the province had to provide seed, and practically feed the 25,000 people. It is a question whether it could not have been done more cheaply in the cities or town, but the Premier made no comment on that phase of the situation, but working on the basis which the city of Chicoutimi has been forced to adopt of paying seventy-five cents per week per person the total would be close to $1,800,000, but, of course, anything like an accurate comparison cannot be worked out without exact figures as to what it cost to feed the 25,000 once placed on the land.

Mr. Taschereau said that he is receiving letters daily from municipalities saying they cannot provide money with which to send people back to the land, as proposed at Ottawa.

"However, we will go ahead with the scheme proposed by Ottawa," said the Premier. "I repeat, we do not believe that the municipalities are in a position to pay $200 to move a family to the land, but if Ottawa wishes to stick to that plan we will follow them. At the same time, if Ottawa should have a change of mind, we are still ready to put up a million with them, and have a joint committee distribute the two millions for the benefit of those who wish to go back to the land, but so far, Ottawa has not made any change."

Mr. Davis built some of the largest projects in the Dominion. His outstanding work was the construction of the piers for the Quebec Bridge.

WELL KNOWN CONTRACTOR DEAD

Ottawa, June 27.—M. P. Davis, one of Canada's outstanding contractors, died here yesterday after a protracted illness. He was in his 84th year.

Mr. Davis built some of the largest projects in the Dominion. His outstanding work was the construction of the piers for the Quebec Bridge.

ADVERTISING AIDS EARNINGS OF COMPANIES

Automobile and Tobacco Companies Show Results of Increasing Expenditures in Newspaper Advertising.

New York, June 27.—Many companies have maintained and even increased their earnings by consistent newspaper advertising, the American Newspaper Publishers' Association said yesterday in announcing the results of a survey by its bureau of advertising.

One automobile concern which increased its newspaper budget 33 per cent, the Bureau announced, showed a forty per cent increase in earnings during 1931. A manufacturer of electric refrigerators spent $200,000 last year in newspaper space, and dollar sales for the year were 400 per cent of sales in 1930.

Of four leading tobacco manufacturers, one increased newspaper advertising in 1931, three showed an increase in earnings, and one a slight decline from the high net of a year preceding. Aggregate expenditures of these four companies in newspaper advertising were increased from $200,000 in 1930 to $280,000 in 1931 and aggregate earnings increased from $105,200,000 to $111,300,000.

On the other hand, the bureau said that four tobacco companies which decreased their aggregate investment in newspaper space in 1931 showed a forty-five per cent decline in combined net earnings.

FRACTIONAL RECOVERIES FOLLOWED EARLY DECLINE

New York, June 27.—A quiet sinking spell in the stock market in the first hour was halted toward mid-day today.

The list gave way easily in the first hour with several losses of one to three points or more, but support for American Can, which more than recovered a dip of three-quarters of a point to a new low at 29 1/2, was accompanied by fractional recoveries elsewhere. United States Steel Common stiffened after sagging one-half, but the preferred dropped two and failed to come back.

Norfolk and Western lost three and Auburn four, but the latter recovered partially. Issues of one to two included American Tobacco "B," Allied Chemical, National Biscuit, Coca Cola and Union Pacific. Call money renewed at 2 1/2 per cent.

CANADIAN NATION THREATENED BY LACK OF UNITY, SAYS STEVENS

time is coming when we cannot afford to ignore the situation.

"Take the case of the Prairies, for instance," he said. "There are thousands of New Canadians in those three provinces who have come to the Dominion within the last thirty years."

"They landed in Quebec or Montreal, spent a few hours in a railway station, and then got on a west-bound train. Before they had reached Ontario night had fallen. By the time morning came they were at North Bay. All they have ever seen of Canada, except the province in which they ultimately settled, they saw from the deck of a ship or the window of a train. And the majority of our Canadian-born, in the older provinces, have not even seen that much."

"This country is so big, its interests are so varied, that it is rapidly becoming one of the most difficult nations in the world to administer."

equitably. Its population is scattered across three thousand miles, and contact between the different sections is not free enough."

"Would you suggest," Mr. Stevens was asked, "that some changes in our methods of government would help?"

"Yes and no," was the reply. "The basis of Confederation is sound. We need a central government, and we need provincial governments for the administration of local matters."

"I would suggest, however, that changes in the British North America Act are necessary."

"Why, for instance, should nine different provinces have nine different insurance acts? Or nine different railway acts?"

"I think our system of legislatures could be altered to advantage. We do not need ten parliaments in Canada. We have altogether too much parliamentary pomp and circumstance. Elected provincial councils, like municipal and county councils, but on a wider scale, would, it seems to me, do the work just as well. And a lot of political jockeying and clap-trap would be done away with."

"You are very frank, Mr. Stevens," said the reporter.

"I am frank because it is time we faced issues in this country," retorted the Minister of Trade and Commerce. "We cannot afford to let things slide any longer. We have brains in Canada, and we must use them."

"How would you suggest, sir, that a better understanding could be brought about between the provinces?"

"Mr. Stevens' eyes twinkled. "It may not be safe to say it," he said, "but here it is."

"Members of the Dominion Parliament, who are in a perfect position to know the needs of the Dominion, might be a little more courageous about telling their constituents the plain, unvarnished truth. I grant you a member's duty is to represent the point of view of his electors. But, at the same time, I think he ought to try to educate those electors to the problems of Canada as a whole, try to modify their point of view when he knows that it is in need of modification in the best interests of the country."

The Minister suggested, also, that Canadian universities might exchange students; so that at least the college graduates might understand conditions in different sections of the Dominion.

"What," Mr. Stevens was asked, as the reception committee appeared to escort him downstairs to the Chamber of Commerce dinner, "do you think of the depression? Is it nearly over?"

"I think," he replied, "that we have been teetering for several months on the edge of better things. If it was not for the awful mess south of the border I believe we would be definitely on the up-grade. There are indications that business is improving. But I do not expect any marked turn for the better in Canada until after the United States election."

of man who sought publicity, but preferred to carry on in his own quiet, characteristic manner.

His death removes one of the most valued employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a man who was admired, respected and loved by everyone from the president of the company down to his own office boy.

"My ideal of a one hundred per cent. railway man is Dan Steele," said the tribute paid to him. "He was a man of no other than E. W. Beatty, president of the C.P.R. When Mr. Beatty made this statement he was not speaking in Sherbrooke or in the presence of the man whom he was praising. The remark was made in far-off Vancouver, but it expressed the true value of D. J. Steele, and showed in no small way the high esteem in which he was held by the officials of the company to which he had devoted so many years of useful and faithful service."

Speaking to a representative of the Record this morning Mr. R. G. Davidson, Sherbrooke's Industrial Commissioner and a personal friend for many years of the late Mr. Steele, spoke very highly of his fine qualities and service to Sherbrooke.

Mr. Davidson was greatly touched by Mr. Steele's sudden death as he and Mr. Steele had spent Saturday afternoon together at the Davidson estate at North Hatley and were also present at the banquet at the New Sherbrooke House in the evening.

"Yesterday morning when I heard of his death I was shocked," Mr. Davidson said. "I could not convince myself that Dan Steele was dead. I do not see how his place, either in the C.P.R. or in Sherbrooke, will ever be filled. It will be a long time before another like Dan Steele will be found. For over forty years he has been in close touch with Sherbrooke. He has always taken an active interest in every civic project and has done more for the progress of the city than many people realize. Dan Steele was the symbol of sincerity. He lived his own life and I never heard him say a harsh word about anyone. I will greatly miss his daily visits to my office," Mr. Davidson said.

Although Mr. Steele had been offered many promotions at different times, he was not the type who sought glory. He preferred his own quiet way, surrounded by his many friends and his family. He loved Sherbrooke, where everyone knew him and where he regarded everyone as a friend. He was "sold to Sherbrooke" and no undertaking was too big if it would benefit his home city.

Tomorrow morning the city will pay its last tribute of respect to his mortal remains but his name and memory will live on after his funeral which has been held at rest in St. Michael's Cemetery.

CLAIM ENTERED FOR A SHARE OF SALVAGED GOLD

French Tug Owner Demands Compensation for Pointing to Location of Sunken Liner Egypt.

Plymouth, England, June 27.—Captain J. B. Garli of the salvage vessel Artiglio II, was considerably surprised today when he was told his cargo of gold bullion, brought up from the wrecked liner Egypt, was "under arrest."

On reaching Plymouth from the scene of the Egypt's hull near Brest, the chief preventive officer of the port acting on instructions from the Admiralty Marshal, informed Captain Garli his hold must be sealed and the bullion held aboard.

It was understood the action followed a claim filed by Captain Jean Davy, former captain of the tug, to share a share in the gold on the ground he was first to locate the wreck.

It was believed negotiations will follow with the result that Lloyd's bond will be accepted and the gold shipped to London tomorrow.

The Artiglio II was successful in its quest for $5,000,000 worth of gold and silver in the treasure room of the Egypt after two years of effort that cost fifteen lives.

The Egypt was sunk in 1922 in a collision, and French salvagers spent some time trying to locate her. Dispatches from France last week, following reports that the Italian salvagers had been successful, said French searchers would claim the treasure on the grounds that they were the ones who pointed the way to the wreck.

Tommy's father had been away on business, but he returned unexpectedly one day.

The first person he met on his arrival was his small son.

"Well, Tommy," he said, "and have you been a good little boy in my absence?"

A thoughtful look came over the boy's face.

"Well, daddy," he calmly replied, "fair, with bright intervals."

my opinion there would still have been a shortage of gold for business even if these two countries had not hoarded. It is wrong of public men to leave this vital problem entirely in the hands of the bankers. Co-operation is required, and you business men must take hold of the situation. During the past few years the banking fraternity has accomplished yeoman service for Canada. But the co-operation of the public is needed to bring about a practical solution to the perplexing situation."

"As far as external trade is concerned," Mr. Stevens said in referring to the forthcoming Conference, "the problem of exchange is at the root of the present troubles and must be adjusted. It is hoped that at the parley Great Britain will design a formula to stabilize exchange in the Empire, and if this plan is successful, one of the greatest achievements of the conference will be successfully carried out."

"Overproduction is not the cause of the depression," the Minister averred. "Overproduction might occur in individual communities, but the world market, I think, could not be satiated for thirty years. The failure of the present monetary system has been devised to transport the money to countries which are in need, and it is the duty of civilized business to find a medium through which this transportation can be brought about."

"Russia's introduction of new methods to replace the old means of business has entailed a tremendous and fatal effect," the speaker alleged. "Nations must learn to do business in a much different way than before. Russia, with her new schemes, dumped wheat on the congested market of the world, and any possible way and now the whole wheat process has been reversed. It is a wheat buyers' market instead of a sellers' market. The price of wheat has dropped as a result of the introduction of new methods, and the sole solution to the problem is instead of drifting along."

In conclusion Hon. Stevens exhorted his hearers to keep abreast of the times, learn the new methods and keep abreast of them. "I have placed before you the problems you are facing. You have to attack them. Offer you any solutions," he merely Minister's parting words. "I merely appeal to you to get a composite view of how business in Canada should be carried on, and in this way to contribute towards the return of prosperity."

After the toast to the King had been honored, Col. Johnny Bourque spoke a few words about the organization of which he is the present head. In the course of his remarks, Col. Bourque stated that since April 1929, when the Chamber of Commerce was formed, he had been through the efforts of the chairman of the recruiting committee, Mr. Emile Levesque. The president asked for the co-operation of the members to augment the present membership of about fifty more public spirited citizens.

In the name of the City of Sherbrooke, Mayor Ludger Forest delivered the civic address of welcome.

In a brief speech His Worship expressed the regret of the city that the distinguished guest was unable to extend a first visit to the Queen City of the Eastern Townships, but hoped that the citizens would be afforded the privilege in honoring the Minister of Trade and Commerce as their guest again at some near future date.

"I have great honor in introducing our distinguished Canadian," Charles Howard, M.P., told the gathering in presenting the guest speaker. "Hon. Mr. Stevens, during his twenty-one years in politics, has occupied the position of Minister of Trade and Commerce twice, and today shoulders part of the heaviest burden ever experienced by a Canadian government."

Continuing his introduction, Mr. Howard pointed out that in no section of Canada is the Bonne Entente between the great races more pronounced than in the Eastern Townships, giving examples of municipal government and representation in the governments to substantiate his statements. Turning to Sherbrooke's Annual Fair, the local member mentioned that the policy of the sponsors has been to change this year, and greater stress would be laid on industrial exhibits. As a favor, Mr. Howard, in conclusion, asked the Department of Trade and Commerce to send its photographic equipment to the exhibition in order to obtain a souvenir of the success of this new venture. Before he launched into his address, Hon. Stevens promised that he would do everything in his power to accede to this request, and, furthermore, that he would try to personally visit the Fair if circumstances permitted.

To Mr. E. J. Page fell the task of moving the vote of thanks to the speaker. In his characteristically humorous manner, the President of the Associated Boards of Trade suggested that the expression "a boon of infinite small proportions" should be employed instead of the current word, depression. Expressing the hope that a Sherbrooke audience would be again privileged to hear Hon. Stevens, Mr. Page assured the citizens of Sherbrooke and of the Eastern Townships that the Government for the success of the Imperial Conference.

Sitting at the head table with Hon. Stevens were Johnny S. Bourque, president of the Sherbrooke Chamber of Commerce; Mayor Ludger Forest; E. J. Page, president of the Eastern Townships Associated Boards of Trade; Charles B. Howard, M.P.; and Walter H. Lynch, K. C. Among those present were Senator Rufus Pope and C. C. In several parts of Northern Ireland Catholic pilgrims, on their way to the closing ceremonies of the Eucharistic Congress at Dublin, were attacked, stoned and beaten. After earlier riots in four cities, seven of nine trains carrying the pilgrims were stopped between Portadown and Belfast. Excursion steamers carrying pilgrims also were pelted with stones at Larne, and several men were struck. Stones also were crashed through the windows of the Narcissus Chapel at Larne.

At Belfast stones were thrown through the windows of street cars. Two policemen were injured when they charged the rioters. Omnibus windows were broken in Coleraine in a similar attack.

Papal and Eucharistic Congress flags were torn down and burned at Donnemarnagh, in County Tyrone, by Orangemen who were holding a parade celebrating the Battle of the Boyne. Stones were thrown and revolvers fired, but no one was hurt.

Armed police were assigned this morning along the railway line to protect the children's trains on their way home from the conference to Belfast. The pilgrims also were met by police in motor tenders at the railway station and escorted to their homes without incident.

IBERVILLE MAN IS SHOT AFTER DARING HOLD-UP

The men had taken twelve dollars from the cash drawer and were leaving the premises when the shot was fired. The robbery and shooting were committed as hundreds of people were across the street attending a field day.

Forget is suffering from a wound in the left side of the body, and is in a serious although not critical condition.

THE PIPE DREAM ON THE AIR.

Should the nationalization or public ownership of Radio broadcasting be accepted in Canada we can look for another White Elephant in its cost of operation.

The cost of conducting such a design may have been overlooked by those who voted blindly for it. Take the cost of the National Symphony Orchestra operated by the British Broadcasting Corporation. It is a staggering $500,000 a year.

The Canadian Radio League, urging the Government on to nationalization, put in a programme estimate of $250,000, which will meet with the same fate as will the financial genius at the head of the C.N.R.

The New York Philharmonic costs $1,000,000 a year. It runs a perennial deficit.

The Detroit Symphony lost $200,000 despite its well-attended concerts. The Chicago Symphony has a payroll of $268,000, and lost $82,000. In other American cities the experience has been costly, and there is likely to be a suspension of all symphony concerts for a time.

We bought up all the bankrupt railways in Canada and hitched them to the C.N.R. to prevent their going into the hands of a receiver. Now we will be expected to subsidize for radio all the singers in the land because radio has made their concerts unprofitable.

Everything which does not pay is wished on the Public Treasury. A writer in the Montreal Gazette said:

"With these figures in mind, it would certainly seem unwise for Canada to attempt to establish any National Symphony Orchestra for broadcasting purposes, confined to any one city. The cost of operation can be held within reasonable limits only by securing subsidiary revenues from concert audiences, and there is no one city in Canada large enough to provide more than twenty or thirty thousand dollars from this source. The sensible method seems to be for the Radio Commission to subsidize existing Symphony Orchestras where such exist in the larger Canadian cities, giving each a proportion of the hours allotted for broadcasting programmes according to the repertoire of programmes which they are capable of adequately rendering. Under such a system both Montreal and Toronto would on their past experience be entitled to the larger share, but opportunity would be given to the other orchestras in Hamilton, Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton, Vancouver and other cities, to show their merits. Like many of the other proposals submitted by the Canadian Radio League, the Canadian National Symphony Orchestra is a pipe-dream."

Of course we might unload on the public purse our own Harmony Band, which is among the super-musical organizations in Canada.

HALIFAX CLAIMS THERE IS A FRUIT SHIPPING MONOPOLY.

The charge is made that the United Fruit Company, a New York organization, has niggled a monopoly service on West Indian fruits shipped into Canada, and that this is the reason for the higher costs of fruits from Jamaica and the other British colonies.

An Halifax fruit dealer has made the charge, and has substantiated it with facts.

The United Fruit have made a contract with the Canadian National Steamships line to have complete control of the Canadian banana trade. The reason advanced was that prices would be stabilized.

And the stabilizing has resulted in higher prices. The Halifax dealer was refused space on the C.N.R. steamships, and he at once dug in and developed the existence of the monopoly.

The West Indies Treaty provided free entry of Jamaica bananas into Canada. They should be cheaper than ever.

If the C.N.R. has granted a monopoly of space to one fruit firm they have violated the spirit of the treaty.

We cannot conceive the truth of the charge made, even though it is vouched for by the Halifax Herald—unless it was preceded by a Jamaica rum party. For it is not a sober story.

BAD POLITICS AND POOR DIPLOMACY.

The Postmaster-General admitted that during his regime 650 postmasters had been dismissed, and Mr. Sauve offered as an excuse that during Mr. Veniot's reign under the Liberal regime they decapitated 1147 postmasters who were dismissed. Two wrongs do not make a right. Of 2,469 postmasters in Quebec 317 have been dismissed on charges of partizanship or for reasons akin. This would indicate a wolfish desire on the part of politicians in this province when they are so greedily demanding the spoils of victory. For every dismissal there ensues one ingrate and twenty lifelong enemies. Mr. Sauve is making the error which cost his predecessor so dear, and he is not adding to the prestige of his party. What matters the futile and foolish political expressions of a few minor political postmasters who do not know any better than to forget that public office is a public trust. Their importance is magnified; their influence is as that of a boomerang, and they become martyrs under persecution.

Posing as a martyr often wins unexpected sympathy. Because Baron Byng followed the rule of his office as Governor-General, the Hon. Mackenzie King posed as a martyr and whined his way back into power with the aid of the Western Progressives and the Winnipeg Communists.

It does not pay to martyrize even a little fellow. It is poor politics, and smacks of the bully.

KEEPING IN TOUCH IF YOU WOULD BE ALIVE.

Here, there and everywhere—we read of the activities of the members of the Bennett Cabinet Executive, who goeth about the country making speeches and gathering degrees and coronets. It is an awakening to the idea that during the interregnum between parliamentary sessions the politicians and statesmen should keep their ears to the ground and listen to the voice of the people, which cannot be done from a cloistered office in the Parliament buildings. It is important that every public man should keep in close touch with his countrymen, just as important as it is for every resident of the Eastern Townships to read his own newspaper.

EDITOR'S NOTE BOOK.

Some of the regular patrons of the municipal kitchen are said by the farmers to be like the lazy fellow who, lying down on the grass, soliloquized, "Oh, how I do wish this was called work, and well paid for." The nests of thieves on Moulton Hill and at Ascot Corner have not yet had a visit from the provincial police, who are musing, "Don't wake me, for I must slumber again."

Reproach or mute disgust is the reward of candid friendship that disdains to hide the unpalatable truth, said Smollett, whilst the smaller soul of the volatile and narrow Canning said, "But of all plagues, good heavens, thy wrath can send, save, oh save me from the candid friend." The politician who thrives on unadulterated doses of adulation will have indignation of thought, and grow self-satisfied and lazy in initiative. He that has no friend and no enemy is without talent, power or energy, and he who resents fair criticism lacks poise, purpose and conviction, and becomes merely stubborn.

The Democrats are now trying to outdo their political opponents in framing an agreeable platform and in displays of enthusiasm for their candidate. The exhibition of Republican enthusiasm was a disappointment. It lasted twenty-seven minutes, but it was a laboured effort supplemented by devices for noise-making and for theatrical effects. Parading through the aisles, snatching, or snitching standards, cheering, shouting, howling—all to impress the public, and deceiving no one except themselves. The system is organized. But real enthusiasm is spontaneous. The manufactured article is a pale counterfeit. It sounds tinny, tastes synthetic and looks silly.

That the Earl of Bessborough is a philosopher and a scholar was proven by his sound advice to the graduating class at Bishop's University, and not the least of his observations was his homely advice to lads whom one hears complaining of the "luck" of one of their comrades. Said His Excellency:

"Opportunity knocks at every man's door, but she comes in different guise. One so often hears, 'Oh, if only I had had Tom's chance.' True, Tom may have had a chance, a bit of luck some call it, due to circumstances or environment, but Tom's success was due not so much to his opportunity, but to his ability and preparedness to take full advantage of that opportunity; and the character he acquired during his education gave him that ability."

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

June 27th, 1902.

Visitors in town included the Misses Placey and Miss Skillen, of Ulverton, guests of Mrs. B. C. Doyle; Mrs. C. S. Buckland and son, of Barnston, guests of Mrs. L. S. Channell; Mrs. Duncan and Miss Agnes Duncan, of Lake Megantic, guests of Mrs. Jarrett.

In a letter to the press, Rev. Ernest M. Taylor, of Knowlton, suggested that as a further acknowledgment of the services of the Fenian Raid veterans, 100 acres of forest land in the Province of Quebec be granted to the family of each man who served.

Departures from town included Mrs. Lucke and Mrs. W. Duncan Smith to spend a fortnight at North Hatley; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Hobson to visit relatives at Westfield, N.J.; Miss Winifred Wiggott and Miss Annie Griffith to visit friends in Montreal.

The annual county convention of the W. C. T. U. was held at the Methodist Church, Mrs. L. D. Phelps presiding. New officers elected were Mrs. G. G. McCurdy, Mrs. W. B. Neil, Miss Robinson, Miss Bradley and Mrs. W. H. Abbott.

Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier were among those who attended a service of intercession for the recovery of King Edward conducted in London by Mgr. Del Val, papal envoy to the coronation.

Mayor Cambrand was one of the guests at a dinner given at "Spencerwood," Quebec, in honor of the Papal Delegate.

Rev. P. L. Richardson, newly appointed pastor, preached his first sermon in the Methodist Church on Sunday.

LOONBEAMS

by Ted Bullock.

I have just been shown a letter written in 1916 from "Somewhere in France".

The man who sent it never came back.

There are four pages of it, messages of thanks for parcels sent across by friends in Sherbrooke.

The letter ends: "Sorry there is no news!"

The government of British Columbia has decided that it will cost too much to support in jail the hundreds of Doukhobors who have been sentenced to long terms for parading in the altogether in the orchards of the Interior.

To save public money, the Douks will be interned on an island off the British Columbia coast.

The government owns thousands of islands in B. C. waters.

Only a few are privately owned. Yet the sagacious Doctor Tolmie has leased one of the privately-owned islands for the prisoners.

Now that Ottawa and Quebec are at loggerheads over the "Back-to-the-Land" movement, it seems a good time to look into the whole scheme of taking people from the cities and dumping them on farms.

Farmers in Canada are producing already more than they can sell. That is why prices are so low.

It seems rather silly to take population away from the consuming centres—the cities—and to add it to the producing areas—the farming districts.

A man to be a successful farmer must love his land and his work. People go to cities because they do not like farming, or because they are misfits in agriculture. Now the governments are trying to lure those people, with bribes and promises, back to work they can never do successfully.

Why not leave the millions this scheme is costing in the consolidated revenue funds of the Dominion and Provincial Governments? Farmers and city folk alike need relief from taxation more than they need any other kind of relief.

Or, if the itch to spend is more than the bureaucrats can resist, why not lend the money outright to bona fide farmers?

A friend of mine writes:

"They say odours recall long-forgotten memories."

"I wonder what in the name of all that's holy has recalled to my palate today the awful taste of lukewarm senna tea."

"Did your mother ever give it to you kids?" "It was a Saturday night ritual with us—went with the bath. You know, a thorough cleaning in and out, topped with a group of the family for prayers."

"I still shudder when I remember that senna tea. Mother always put lots of milk in mine, assuring me that I could not taste it then."

"Maybe. But my childish mind soon figured out that warm milk alone never tasted like that."

In the Bullock family the dose was castor oil.

Mother used to give us half an orange to suck at to kill the taste.

It helped somewhat, but the taste remained.

I had a great-uncle who was supposed, according to a family legend, to be able to drink castor oil right out of the bottle.

I never saw him. But in my extreme youth I always pictured him as a mystical kind of personage, a sort of slayer of dragons, a Super-Jack-the-Giant-Killer.

I admired him even more than I did the cousin who could eat raw potatoes and drink kerosene.

The best I could do in that line was green apples, stolen from a neighbour's orchard.

Ideal for apple-stealing were the waistcoats that fastened at the bottom with a string around the middle of the body. An ordinary top-shirt would slip out of our trousers after we got a dozen or so apples tucked away inside it. But the string-tied waist held fast. Even a barbed-wire fence, swarmed through in a hurry, could not spill the stolen fruit out of its hiding place.

By the way, I am still looking for a boy who really enjoys the taste of stolen green apples.

BANK ROBBERY WAS PREVENTED AT ST. ALBANS

Three Men Arrested Following Thrilling Gun Fight With Provincial Detectives.

St. Alban's, Que., June 27. — Three men, who police say intended to rob the local branch of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, were arrested here Saturday following a thrilling gun fight with provincial police officers.

The three men gave their names as Ovide Cardinal, Henri Morin and Hippolyte Foucault, all of Three Rivers.

Information that the bank at St. Alban was to be robbed early Saturday morning was received by Chief Jarguillat at Montreal. The informer even describing the men to the chief and giving him details as to how the robbery had been planned. He could not give the exact time, but stated that it would be sometime over the weekend.

Chief Jarguillat communicated with Chief Rosario Lemire, at Quebec, and gave him the information which he had received. He also told Chief Lemire that he had arrested a man in Montreal who had supplied the alleged bank robbers with weapons and tools.

A squad of officers headed by Chief Lemire watched the bank until two o'clock Saturday afternoon.

A large automobile drove up to the bank and stopped. There were three men inside, and two of them got out while the driver remained at the wheel. The two men who were later recognized as Morin and Cardinal, were climbing the stairs of the bank when Chief Lemire and Detective Verette ordered them to put their hands up. Instead of obeying the command the two men are said to have fired four shots in the direction of the hiding place of the detectives. Chief Lemire and Detective Verette replied with four shots. From across the street the other detectives each fired a shot. Concluding that there was no way out of it, the two men dropped their revolvers and put their hands up.

While the shots were exchanged, Foucault, who was driving the large automobile, drove away at fast speed. Detectives Aubin saw this and jumping into the police car gave chase. They drove for a long distance and Detective Aubin fired six shots at the fugitive automobile.

Seeing that the shots failed to scare the driver of the machine, the detective decided to make one final effort to stop him. He accelerated the speed of his automobile until he succeeded in reaching the fugitive. The detective then fired a shot at the automobile which he had pursued. He saw Foucault leaving the wreck and starting to run across the field. Detective Aubin fired a shot in his direction and this stopped him. It was later found that Foucault was uninjured while the automobile was badly damaged.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a smart brown silk suit, trimmed with figured silk, a small black hat and carried a bouquet of peonies, sweet syringa and ferns.

The matron-of-honor, Mrs. Wilbur McCurdy, was becomingly gowned in figured navy blue silk, with which she wore a black hat, and her bouquet was of peonies and syringa.

The groom was supported by Mr. Wilbur McCurdy. After the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Paige, where the sumptuous wedding supper was served. The guests included only members of the family and a few intimate friends. Later the bride and groom left for Mirror Lake, and going away the bride wore a tweed suit in shades of green, with small matching hat, handbag and shoes. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Paige will reside with Mr. and Mrs. B. Paige. The groom presented the bride with a club bag, the matron-of-honor with a white gold bar-pin, and the best man with white gold cuff links.

CANADIAN LOAN FLOTATIONS TO AID STERLING

New York Believes that London Bankers Welcome Issues as a Preventive to Hasty Rise in Sterling

NEW YORK, June 27.—Successful flotation of two provincial bond issues in the London market is accepted by New York bankers as a fore-runner of increased resort by Canadian borrowers to the London money market, during the present period of financial strain and unsettled exchanges," says the Herald Tribune today.

The paper refers to the placing of British Columbia's £1,500,000 of 5's issue in London in May, which was quickly oversubscribed at 99, and of 1,000,000 Alberta 5's last Thursday at 98 1/2.

"The new trend," says the paper, "is something of a tribute to the London new issues market, which recovered poise last December."

"It remains the opinion of almost all competent authorities that the Canadian dollar will eventually be re-established on a parity with that of the United States, notwithstanding the present discount of nearly thirteen per cent. on Montreal funds in New York. The close inter-relationship of United States and Canadian business interests, and the large aggregate of Canadian gold bonds held in this country, are considered ample assurance of eventual exchange parity. Nor is it thought that such parity will be difficult to achieve or maintain in a normal world."

"It is accepted here that the Canadian borrowing in London had the tacit approval of the highest banking authorities in England. This assumption is justified, since the effect on the exchanges according to impressions prevalent here in regard to London financial policy. All exchange transactions between Montreal and London are mediated by New York. Canadian borrowing in London means, therefore, that additional pressure will be exerted to depress the British currency in terms of the United States dollar, while a favorable effect will be exerted on the Canadian unit in terms of the dollar.

"That London is averse to any substantial rise in sterling has been shown by the establishment of currency stabilization fund. The effect of Canadian borrowing in London coincides with the operation of that fund, and it is, therefore, assumed that such encouragement will be given the flotation of Canadian bond issues in London."

CITY BRIEFLETS

HELD ANNUAL PICNIC

The annual church school picnic of Plymouth United Church took place on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sangster. The members of the school were conveyed to their destination in two buses and private motor cars.

After lunch the school sports were held. Games were won under the direction of Messrs. S. H. Gallinger, Charles Rose and Gordon Richards. Bathing was popular both in the morning and afternoon, notwithstanding the fact that there was a cold wind blowing. Ample provision had been made for the enjoyment of all who attended, and all took advantage of their opportunities to have a good time.

The cordial thanks of the school were expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Sangster for the hospitality which they have so often extended to their visitors. The return was made to the city soon after six o'clock. Under the able leadership of Mr. Thomas F. L. Cohoon and his competent committees, the event was carried through with success and pleasure to all who were privileged to attend.

CHILDREN'S FLOWER SERVICE—VICE IMPRESSIVE

"The Children's Flower Service" held at Trinity United Church yesterday morning was unusually beautiful and impressive. Special music and lovely floral decorations, together with the reverent manner in which the children performed their parts in the devotional exercises, lent a simple dignity to the well-arranged programme. Quantities of beautiful flowers were artistically used in decorating. Two large fan-shaped trellises, entwined with syringa and pink peonies, were placed on either side of the pulpit, with the same design done with yellow roses, adorned the center at the back of the platform. Massed in the spaces were many baskets and vases of cut flowers and potted plants, while canary birds in their gilt cages completed the charming scheme of decoration.

Mr. Walter Mutchler, superintendent of the Sunday School, conducted the service, assisted by Mrs. Bertha Allen presided at the organ.

The order of the special choral flower service opened with the "Children's Processional" when the Sunday School children entered from the far end of the church and took their places in the front reserved for them. The small children in the beginners and primary departments each placed a daisy in a moss covered cross on the Communion Table before taking their seats.

After the Invocation by the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. S. Lennon, B.A., B.D., the programme continued as follows: "It's Time," sung by Roberta Richardson, Phyllis Onions, Doris Pimman and Kari Nullmeyer; hymn, "For the Beauty of the Earth," prayer: "The Lord's Prayer," followed by the Lord's Prayer; "Overtones" by Mary Long, Barbara Long and Jean Richardson; "Nature's Message," by the beginners departments; recitation, "The Glory of the Garden," by Miss Doris Buckley; song, "He Loves Me Too," by the primary department; hymn, "My Father's World," and the offertory: hymn by the primary department, "Children's Song," by the junior, intermediate and senior departments; recitation, by Miss Roberta Richardson; song, "Tell me the Stories of Jesus"; by the primary department; chorus, "Trees of Spring," by Horace Martin, Chas. Terrey, Reginald Rublee, Walter Mutchler, Douglas Long, Keith McLean, Billy Richardson, Jack Mutchler and Eric Fuller; story, "What the Butterfly Learned," by Miss Gladys Lester; song, "Jesus Loves the Little Children," by the primary department; vocal trio by the Misses Eleanor Wheeler, Betty and Molly Hayward; song, "Tis the Children's Day," by the junior, intermediate and senior departments; hymn, "Praise Him Praise

LOCAL SCHOOLS CLOSED TODAY FOR HOLIDAYS

Official Day for Closing of Protestant Institutions in City—All Schools Now Closed for Summer Period.

Pupils in the Protestant schools of the city are today closing their study books and entering upon their first day of summer holidays—a few upon their first day in the business world, the world of hard knocks and experience.

The closing of these schools today was marked by very little ceremony—and after a long week of arduous labor, the labor of writing examination papers, the many students are slipping quietly away. In the elementary grades, the reports of the examinations will be given out shortly, while the results of the matriculation examinations will not be known for some time yet. The High School will hold its commencement exercises in the early fall.

The Protestant institutions are the last to close in the city this year—all the Catholic schools having closed their doors about a week ago.

ATTEMPTED HOLD-UP
"He pointed a gun at me and told me to put up my hands."

This is what a certain local young man told the police late last evening, when he reported an attempted holdup on Belvidere Road about a half-mile from Lennoxville. He was returning home, in the company of a young lady, when someone signalled him to stop his car. He did so and a man approached his side of the automobile. He held a gun in his hands.

"Put up your hands, quick!" he commanded. The driver of the automobile, however, proved no easy victim. He threw the car into gear and it darted away. The man with the gun jumped on the running board of the automobile, opened the front door and attempted to drag the driver out. He was unsuccessful and finally leaped off the moving vehicle.

The Sherbrooke police are today investigating the matter.

SICCAWEI FARM WAS PLEASANT MEETING PLACE

Jersey Field Day at Charming Estate of Mr. R. G. Davidson, at North Hatley, Proved Most Successful Event.

An ideal place for such a gathering, fine weather, a congenial host, a large gathering of friends and a right royal good time for one and all. That in brief sums up the Jersey Field Day held on Saturday at Siccawei Farm at North Hatley, the popular summer estate of Mr. R. G. Davidson, Sherbrooke's popular Industrial Commissioner.

When one visits Mr. Davidson at Siccawei Farm, whether it is to attend a Jersey picnic or just to make an informal call, a real genuine welcome is awaiting, and Saturday afternoon was no exception.

Holding a picnic at such an ideal location, it is not surprising that the attendance was so large. There were in the vicinity of three hundred "picnickers" present, as well as several distinguished guest speakers. These included Dr. H. H. Grisdale, ex-Deputy Minister of Agriculture at Ottawa; Adrien Morin, chief of the live stock branch of the Province of Quebec; Bower Henry, Ottawa, president of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club; Mr. McWilliams, county agent of St. Albans, Vt., which is a position similar to the local agronomist; James Bremner, acting secretary of the Canadian Jersey Club; C. B. Howard, M.P., J. A. McClary, superintendent of the Lennoxville Experimental Farm; L. C. Roy, of the C.N.R.; L. V. Parent, secretary of the Jersey Breeders' Association, and others.

Another honored guest of the afternoon was D. J. Steele, whose death was to occur but a few hours after his return. Mr. Steele had followed with much interest the activities of the day and chatted freely with Mr. Davidson and the other friends which he met. Mr. Steele returned from North Hatley about seven o'clock and retired to his home to prepare for the banquet given at the New Sherbrooke House in honor of Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. It was following this banquet that he became ill and passed away about eleven o'clock Saturday night.

Siccawei Farm is always a picturesque spot, but seldom did it ever look more inviting than on Saturday afternoon. The large, spacious barns were also in ship shape, and it was a pleasure for the guests to be able to wander about at will and view to their hearts' content the charms of the estate which nestles so peacefully on the shores of beautiful Lake Massawippi.

The addresses of the afternoon were all of a very interesting and helpful nature. The chief speaker was Dr. Grisdale, who always has a cheery message for the farmers, but in his remarks are always words of wisdom. In his message on Saturday he stressed the importance of good stock, the advisability of getting rid of non-producing cattle and the building up of a good foundation. It was only by getting rid of the poor stock and replacing them with thoroughbred cattle that a profitable herd could be secured, he said.

Speaking as a representative of Appetites just can't resist!

When you have Kellogg's Rice Krispies for breakfast, the day gets a flying start. These toasted rice bubbles are delicious — so crisp they actually crackle in milk or cream!

Nourishing too, Rice Krispies are rich in energy that is quickly released. Enjoy them with fruits or sweetened with honey. Delightful for lunch.

And of course, Rice Krispies are splendid for the children's evening meal—as countless mothers know. So easy to digest they encourage restful sleep. How much better than hot, heavy foods.

Always oven-fresh in the red-and-green package with the sealed waxette inside bag. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Quality guaranteed.

the Quebec Government, Mr. Adrien Morin referred to the better understanding which was developing between the Provincial Government and the Jersey breeders.

The Government, he said, was ready to do all possible to assist the Jersey supporters, and he agreed most emphatically with Dr. Grisdale in his advice to build up a herd of the best stock. He also referred to the Government's policy of assistance for any farmer who wished to purchase pure-bred cattle.

Mr. Bower Henry is a practical man and he gave a very practical talk. Associated with farming since he was a young lad, he has years of useful experience behind him. Mr. Henry could not stress too strongly the importance of keeping a complete record of the production of each cow. It was, he said, impossible, he maintained, for any person to look at a cow and say off-hand how much milk was being given. Only by keeping a regular record could the real value to the farmer of any animal be ascertained. He also stressed the importance of getting rid of non-producing cattle.

A high tribute to Quebec cattle was paid by Mr. McWilliams. In Vermont, he said, Quebec cattle were held in high regard, and his state looked to this province for a large quantity of its good stock. Breeders in his district, he said, liked to keep in close touch with Quebec breeders.

Other speakers included Messrs. J. A. McClary, L. C. Roy and W. G. MacDougall, agronomist from Lennoxville, while Mr. Davidson extended a very cordial welcome to all present.

An interesting demonstration of Jersey cattle was given by Mr. Bremner, and a judging competition added interest to the day's activities. The drawing for two fine Jersey calves was also one of the features of the afternoon, the winners being Messrs. D. A. Carr, of North Hatley, and D. C. Eccles, of Swetsburg. Mr. Davidson, who is president of the Jersey Breeders' Association, expressed himself as being more than satisfied with the day's outing and looks forward to an even greater gathering next year.

Your hands tell you . . .
SUNLIGHT is safe for clothes

How red and rough an ordinary laundry soap leaves your hands! . . . What harm, you wonder, are such harsh soaps doing to your clothes, your linens? Yes, your reddened hands ARE a warning that your valuable things are suffering washday abuse.

Why not turn to Sunlight Soap? Sunlight does NOT redden and roughen the hands—graphic proof of its safe and gentle action. Yet Sunlight's rich, lasting suds are full of cleansing power because Sunlight is all pure soap and nothing else.

On washday night look at your hands. Hands are first to show the injurious effect of a harsh soap. If they are red and rough, heed the warning! Just try a bar of Sunlight Soap. It is the purity of Sunlight that leaves your hands so fresh and smooth—evidence that your clothes have not been the least bit injured.

VICTORY KEEPS ST. ROCH HOME RECORD INTACT

Saints Avenge Only Setback of Season to Date by Turning Back Drummondville by Odd Run in Thirteen — Largest Crowd of Season in Attendance.

Revenge for the only defeat they have experienced to date sweetened St. Roch's victory over the Drummondville nine at the ball park yesterday afternoon. The Sherbrookeers have played six exhibitions to date, and lustrous slugging and fine pitching have resulted in five victories. A perfect record was marred when the local boys travelled to Drummondville a few weeks ago to be handed a five to four reverse by the Celanese representatives. Yesterday, however, they reversed the tables, taking the second fixture of the home and home series by a count of seven to six.

The largest crowd of the season turned out to see the Saints keep their home record intact. Aime Morin was on the mound for the home team, while his opponent was "Lefty" Degan. Both hurlers pitched good ball, although the visiting moundman was touched for fourteen safeties, five more than Morin allowed. In the strike-out column, Morin was credited with seven victims, while Degan obtained one less. Degan walked four batters compared to the three free tickets to first issued by Morin. However, the visitors had a better fielding record than their opponents, being charged with but one error, while Sherbrooke committed four costly misplays. The majority of these misplays, however, could be blamed on the sun, which persisted in causing the outfielders to drop flies which would have caught under ordinary conditions.

Old Sol shined on both Drummondville and Sherbrooke for the first runs they notched in the initial frame. Two men had been retired when Pete Landry, former Saints' catcher, doubled and came home when Gingués lost Coriveau's fly in the sun. The same event happened to Tessier when Sherbrooke came to bat, the visiting right fielder losing Asselin's pop with Savage on second. Two runs, accounted for by means of a single and Coriveau's triple in the third frame, sent the Drummondville squad into a temporary two-point lead which was whittled down to a single run in Sherbrooke's third turn at bat.

The Saints assumed the lead in the fourth chapter. P'ard beat out a hit to first. Savage walked and Perron came through with a Texas League whiff which peopled the bases. Charlie Clark carried on the good work with a single, which was sufficient to bring in a brace of tallies. Three successive singles by Morin, Savage and Perron resulted in run number five in the sixth canto, while in the "lucky" seventh two singles, a base on balls and a force-out combined to register two more runs, which concluded the Saints' scoring activities.

Morin faced a difficult situation in the eighth frame when eight opposing batters confronted him. Before the last man was retired, the Saints' lead had been seriously threatened, Drummondville coming within two runs of equalizing the count. On two occasions the bases were loaded and each time a forced out at the home plate temporarily curbed the danger. However, before the damage was finished, three Drummondville runners had slipped across.

Several opportunities were missed by both sides, failure to hit in the pinches keeping the score down. Perron, batting second on the rearranged Sherbrooke line-up, led the willow-wielders with four hits in five official trips to the plate. Asselin, Camire and Morin had two safeties apiece to their credit, while ever man on the team hit safely except Gingués and Briere.

For the visitors, three men failed to connect, but Pete Landry showed he had not lost his keen eye by blasting a double and a single, while two of his team mates, Burke and Tessier, also hit on two occasions. Several close decisions featured the work of the two umpires, Mathieu, of Sherbrooke, at the plate, and Gauthier, of Drummondville, on bases, but the work of the two officials was performed the way they "saw the play."

PIRATES TAKE LEAD IN KEEN PENNANT RACE

Pittsburgh Jumped to the Fore Yesterday in National League Fight When They Registered a Double Victory Over Cincinnati—Fox Record Another Homer.

New York, June 27.—Quietly and unobtrusively, George Gibson's Pittsburgh Pirates have moved into temporary command of the hottest fight in the National League has ever known. Winning both ends of a double-header from the Cincinnati Reds yesterday, the Pirates snatched first place by three percentage points from the Chicago Cubs, who split even with the St. Louis Cardinals. The Cubs and Pirates are in a virtual tie in games won and lost, but the Pirates gain the edge in percentage because they have played fewer and lost fewer games.

Gibson's Corsairs have been winning because they have been getting air tight pitching and timely hitting. Yesterday Larry French gave them their seventh shutout victory of the year when he limited the Reds to four hits and won by five to nothing in the opener. They won the nightcap by nine to five by scoring six runs in the ninth inning, driving both Carroll and Ogden to cover.

Jimmy Reese's pinch double in ninth frame drove in two runs and enabled the Cardinals to trip the Cubs by four to three in the first game of a double bill. Charley Root outpitched "Dizzy" Dean in the nightcap and the Cubs won, also by a four to three count. A crowd of 31,000, the biggest of the season at St. Louis, saw the games.

The Boston Braves split two games with the Phillies, taking the first by five to four and dropping the second as Ed Holley held them to nine scattered hits. Bill Clark pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to a five to two decision over the New York Giants. Tony Cuccinello driving in three runs with a home run, double and single.

In the American League, the New York Yankees protected their eight and one-half game lead by beating the Athletics again by six to two, touching Rube Walberg for four runs in the first inning. Charley Ruffing gave only seven hits and fanned six. The Athletics fell back into fourth place behind the Washington Senators, who tripped the Boston Red Sox by eight to four.

Blanked by Milt Gaston for seven innings, the Detroit Tigers took advantage of three errors and two walks after two were out in the eighth to score five runs and down the Chicago White Sox by five to one. Wes Ferrell won his thirteenth game as the Cleveland Indians stopped the St. Louis Browns by ten to five in the first game of a double-header, but the Browns came back to win the second battle by six to five. Earl Averell closed his thirteenth homer in the seventh inning.

The upward rush of the Pirates was under full steam on Saturday. They then began the week-end drive that captured four games in two days. On Saturday, just as yesterday, they clamped a double defeat on the floundering Reds, while the Braves were winning a single game through a ninth inning effort from the Dodgers. The Cards overcame the Cubs and the Phillies nosed out the Giants.

The Yankees opened their home stand Saturday with No. 1 victory over the Athletics behind Lefty Gomez' fancy pitching for his eleventh straight win. Jimmy Foxx poked out his twenty-ninth homer of the season and Lou Gehrig hit his nineteenth. The Senators moved insignificantly fell before the tail-end Red Sox, and Chicago defeated Detroit. The Browns and Indians were idle because of rain.

E. T. TEAM TOOK CLOSE VERDICT FROM MONTREAL

Picked Squad from Eastern Townships Football Association Defeated Coach Yards by Score of Three Goals to Two — Many Attended Benefit Exhibition Game.

If Saturday afternoon's exhibition soccer fixture at the Parade Grounds may be used as a criterion, the brand of football played in the Eastern Townships comprises very favorably with that furnished Montreal fans. For, on that occasion, a picked squad representing the Eastern Townships Football Association took a three to two decision from Coach Yards, champions of the Montreal Midweek League and 1931 holders of the Fletcher Memorial Trophy. A large crowd of soccer enthusiasts wended its way to the field to see the two teams in action, and their support helped considerably to save the local organization from the crisis it faced as a result of the financial difficulties confronting some of the entries.

Although both sides missed several opportunities of adding to their scoring column, the final score represented the trend of play. For a team which had never played together before as a unit, the home aggregation showed up well and surprised the gathering by their exhibition.

Backed by the stellar netminding of Harold Styles and the stonewall defensive tactics of Herbie Loach, Harry Andrews, Jim Anderson, Jack Heyes and Skidmore, the local forwards gained confidence and set a lively pace for their opponents to follow. Although their efforts in the first half, when they faced the wind, availed them naught, they were rewarded in the final chapter by notching three goals before Coach Yards could finally outwit Styles.

Poor finishing around the Eastern Townships' citadel and inability to take advantage of the "breaks" presented them were a few of the direct causes for the Montrealers' defeat. Their combination efforts did not attain the same standard of efficiency as their opponents and, although their plays were well started by the long-range kicking of their backs, they quite apparently were unable to find a weak spot in the local rearguard.

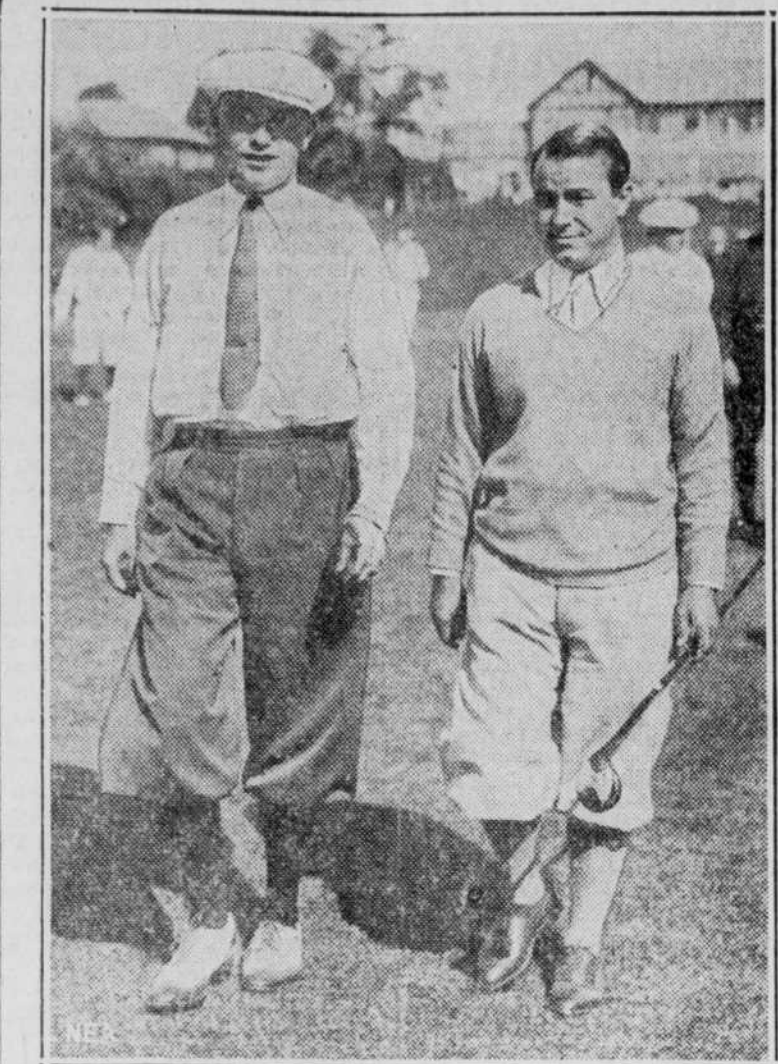

An outstanding feature of the visitors' play, apart from the long distance booting, was noticeable in the fact that very few of their passes went astray, a team mate nearly always being at the receiving end. They put up a splendid fight, but lost the game in the initial frame when they were unable to score with the assistance of the slight breeze which blew down the field.

A strong offensive from the opening whistle gave Styles a few anxious moments, but the tide of battle soon reverted to the visitors' end of the field and Williamson had his hands full warding off the threats supplied by the home eleven. Jimmy Andrews missed the first golden opportunity of the afternoon when he accepted a pass from Harry Grime to hit the cross bar. At the other end, Styles was out of position, but the sphere missed the post by inches. Benny Grime had a duel with David, visiting back, and his shot from twenty yards out almost evaded Williamson.

The resulting corner kick, however, was cleared from the danger zone. Play ranged from end to end, Benny Grime sending the ball ranging across the top of the goal on a pass from his brother at outside right. The Montreal goalie made a fine save as Andrews headed Harry Grime's kick goalward, and then thwarted Styles' best efforts to draw first blood. As the interval arrived, Coach Yards mastered the situation and brought the ball to the locals' goal mouth, only to miss an open net.

Low replaced McArthur at left half for the Montrealers as the second half got under way, while the E.T. squad continued with its original line-up. Four minutes elapsed when Jim Andrews' kick headed the ball into the net. The game was now in a close and scored as the Montrealers fumbled momentarily. At this juncture Bell replaced Copeland at outside left. Styles put an end to a promising rally by evading several forwards before he got rid of the ball, while Downey was off-balance as he took Yule's pass and his shot was wild. Bell figured in Sherbrooke's third and final goal as he passed to Surtees, who registered after thirty minutes.

This third setback injected new life into the visiting forces. Rowley was alone in front of a vacated net, but hesitated too long and Styles dove headlong to shove the ball around the upright. On a penalty shot, Mellon gave Styles no chance, and a few minutes before the final whistle Downey placed

With a winning total of 284, a figure equalled only once in the thirty-six years of championship history, Gene Sarazen (right) on Saturday added the United States open crown to the title he captured a few weeks ago in Great Britain, and became the second man with Bobby Jones to annex two major titles in one season. Sarazen is seen above with Billy Burke, the defending champion, who ranked seventh, marching over the Fresh Meadow Country Club course at Long Island, where the tournament was held.

CANADIANS DO GOOD WORK IN OLYMPIC TESTS

Records Topped in Toronto, Edmonton and Vancouver as Stars Met to Test Skill in Trial Events.

Montreal, June 27.—Athletes of three provinces of Canada today were a step further along the difficult path to Olympic honors. The best that Ontario, Alberta and British Columbia could furnish met in a series of three track meets over the week-end and uncovered new reasons for hope that wearers of the maple leaf will bring honors to the Dominion in competition at the Olympic games this summer.

Records topped in Toronto, Edmonton and Vancouver Saturday as the stars of each province met to test their skill in provincial Olympic trials and strive to qualify for the Dominion Olympic trials at Hamilton.

In the Pacific Coast City, Percy Williams, Canada's sprint star, flashed some of the form he showed in the 1928 Olympic games by equalling his former Olympic record of 10 3-5 seconds in the 100 metre, a world record was equalled when Mary Frizzell, of Vancouver, dashed the sixty metre distance in 7 6-10 seconds.

Harold Wright, of Edmonton, flashed to prominence by breaking the Olympic mark of 10 3-5 seconds for the 100 metre, clipping one-fifth off that time and also bettering fleet-footed Percy Williams' own time the same day. A strong wind aided contenders at the prairie city.

Hampered by a rain-soaked track, Ontario stars nevertheless stepped in fast time to break two Canadian records. Bert Pearson, of the renowned Hamilton Olympic Club, ran the 100 metres in 10 1-2 seconds, the seventeen year old's time being only one-fifth slower than Williams' and two-fifths off that of Wright.

his team within striking distance of the Eastern Townships club by converting Rowley's pass. Herbie Loach filled the breach as Styles was taken out of position, but before any further damage could be perpetrated the whistle announced the end of the game.

The fixture was satisfactorily handled by Ted Croft, an old Sherbrooke soccer player of note, whose decisions were impartial and well received. The squad which faced the metropolis team was very representative of the local circuit, although Drummondville players were not included on the roster. A monster field day in the Celanese town prevented the Drummondville boys from participating. Their presence would undoubtedly have bolstered up a few weak links in the home team's line-up.

Line-ups were: Coach Yards: Williamson, goal; Davis and Brown, backs; Mellon, Yule and McArthur, halves; Rowley, centre; Jacks and Downey, insides, and Tirley and McEachern outsiders, with Low as sub. Eastern Townships: Styles, Sherbrooke, goal; H. Andrews, Asbestos, and Anderson, Beebe, backs; H. Loach, Sherbrooke, J. Heyes, East Angus, and Skidmore, Asbestos, halves; B. Grime, Sherbrooke, centre; Surtees, Asbestos, and J. Andrews, Asbestos, insides; H. Grime, Sherbrooke, and Copeland, Asbestos, outsiders, with Bell, Sherbrooke, and Mosher, Beebe, as subs.

SARAZEN ADDS U. S. TITLE TO BRITISH CROWN

Duplicates Bobby Jones' Feat of Winning Two Major Titles in One Season by Capturing National Open

New York, June 27.—Gene Sarazen, recently crowned monarch of the Great Britain open golf championship, sealed the heights which only one man, Bobby Jones, has yet ascended by capturing the United States open tournament on Saturday to annex his second major title in a season. Establishing a new record for the Fresh Meadow Country Club course at Long Island, to which were attracted a large field of the world's best golfers, Sarazen set a winning total of 284, a figure equalled but once during the thirty-six years of championship history. To his par round of 70 on Saturday morning, the title holder added a punishing 66 in the afternoon, to take the title with a margin of three strokes over his nearest rivals, Phil Perkins, former British amateur champion, and Bobby Cruickshank, who, nine years ago, lost the title to Bobby Jones in a play-off.

Five strokes behind the two leaders, Perkins and Jose Jurado, Argentine, broke up at the end of the second round. Sarazen played two smashing finishing rounds, unquestionably the greatest ever played in any golf championship. The afternoon round was a series of thrills which began when Perkins refused to crack under the terrific strain of a championship and posted a brilliant 70 to give him a seventy-two-hole score of 289. Cruickshank then turned in a 68 to equal Perkins' mark, but all hopes floundered as Sarazen, a bold, flashing player, who, as a boy, won the United States open ten years ago, burned up the course with a 66, two strokes under the course record held by Leo Diegel.

10,000 wild-eyed spectators surrounded the home of the Sarazen came up to play the final hole. His second shot, following a perfectly placed drive, went a bit too far to the right and dropped into a bunker from where, almost without waiting for quiet, he pitched out roughly eight feet wide of the pin.

Sarazen had that putt for a 66, something almost unheard of in a championship, and when the ball rolled straight and true right into the cup, he was engulfed in a throng that swept him away, paying not the slightest attention to the expensive green on which they were tramping.

The scores of the first ten were as follows: Sarazen 220 68-286 Cruickshank 221 68-289 Perkins 219 70-289 Diegel 224-294 W. Cox 223 72-295 Jurado 220 76-296 Burke 223 74-297 Dutra 221 76-297 Hagen 227 71-298 Clark 225 75-300

PHILIP ROBINS TOOK HONORS IN EASTERN TOWNSHIPS FIELD DAY

Sherbrooke Country Club Star Outdistanced Large Representative Field to Capture Initial Tourney Here on Saturday—Despite Strong Wind, Robins Negotiated Course in 164, Five Strokes Ahead of Nearest Rival, E. R. Tucker, of Drummondville—Sixty Players Participated in Event.

Playing his usual brand of steady golf that has brought him numerous laurels, Philip Robins outdistanced the large field that competed in the initial Eastern Townships Field Day staged over the beautiful eighteen-hole Sherbrooke Country Club course on Saturday to make a handsome addition to his numerous trophies. True, Robins' holes was not as low as some had expected, but it was an excellent exhibition when one takes into consideration the strong wind which was blowing throughout the day, and which added many strokes to all the players' totals. He negotiated the eighteen holes in the morning in eighty-two, and repeated the same performance in the afternoon round, to give him a grand total that was five strokes ahead of E. R. Tucker, of Drummondville, who finished with the second best gross total, in turn one stroke in front of Don McLaure, the 1931 Eastern Townships champion.

The Field Day was an immense success. True, the strong crosswind caused all the golfers no end of worry, but the course was in excellent condition and sixty players, representative of the clubs throughout the Eastern Townships, competed for the prizes.

The field was divided into three classes, and prizes awarded in each for the low gross and the low net, but no player entitled to win more than one prize. With the honors for the low gross in "A" class carried off by Robins, the low net prize went to E. R. Tucker, Drummondville, and Alex Ames, of Lennoxville, who tied with nets of 147.

In Class "B" Len O'Donnell, of the local club, turned in the best gross of 178 for the 36 holes, while L. A. Brooks and D. R. Clarke, of Lennoxville, with 146 and 148, respectively, had the two low net scores. Frederick H. Baldwin with 184 gross led the Class "C" entries, the large number of which were Norcross with 146 and Graeme Taylor with 151 carried off the honors for the best net scores in this class. Messrs. A. Wood and Dave Salls were in charge of the competition.

Mr. George Murphy, president of the Sherbrooke Country Club, presented the prizes at the conclusion of the tourney. The scores in detail were:—
