ENORMOUS LOSSES IN WALL STREET.

The Gates Following Said to Have Dropped $15,000,000 in the Slump

FINANCIAL GIANTS AT WAR

Discussion of Attitude of the Banks to the Stock Market and Liquidation.

NEW YORK, November 13.—John W. Gates, the Western speculator, whose losses in the big bear raids on the stock market are said to aggregate several million dollars—some put it at $7,000,000—has apparently been made the target for a combined attack from Wall Street operators.

His followers are suffering with him and good calculators say the Western crowd, as they are termed in the financial district, have so far lost $15,000,000.

Every stock issue with which Gates has been prominently identified for the last six months has been made to feel the brunt of continued assaults.

He was the leader of the speculation pool in B. & O., which sent that stock to 117, crossed par on the downward slant today, and for a brief period sold at 99 7-8.

VANDERBILT HITS BACK.

Jointly, with the Moore Brothers, he led the recent attempt to depose W. K. Vanderbilt from the Chicago and Northwestern, which resulted in Vanderbilt retaining control and the Westerners in acquiring a lot of Northwestern stock at high prices.

He was likewise the central figure in the giantic Louisville and Nashville deal where-by the Rothschilds lost control of the road and the stock was sent from 108 to 158.

To-day the stock sold on the exchange at 126 3-4, and it was said that Mr. Gates was a large holder of the stock until recently.

The Rock Island contingent—composed of Judge W. H. and J. H. Moore, W. B. Leeds, Daniel G. Reid, John W. Gates and their western associates—is said to be in a vulnerable market position and the Wall street coterie that is waging war against it is improving the opportunity.

The Rock Island people are just preparing to list on the Stock Exchange $196,000,000 of new securities. The series are divided into $75,000,000 common stock, $56,000,000 in preferred stock and $75,000,000 in bonds.

ROCK ISLAND HAMMERED.

A sensational attack upon the Rock Island common and preferred shares was the feature of the opening curb market.

The common stock, which closed last night at 48 1-4, was forced down under heavy offerings to 42 1-4—a break of six points.

Under the same kind of pressure the preferred stock broke 4 1-2 points, selling down to 70 before its supporters could rally it.

The bonds also broke several points, and the demoralization in the series of Rock Island issues threatened disastrous consequences to many.

Wall street heard that the Vanderbilt interests, who were attacked by the Moore-Gates-Reid-Leeds combination last spring in Chicago and North-Western, and the Belmont-Rothschilds interests, who lost control of Louisville and Nashville because of the Gates attack, had joined forces to punish Gates.

Whether this is true cannot be conclusively demonstrated, but it is asserted positively that Vanderbilt, Belmont and Western contingent in the sensational bear raids of the last three weeks will exceed $15,000,000.

THE ATTITUDE OF THE BANKS.

After expressing the belief that the break in prices has been checked, the financial article in the Post says:

There might be observed in many resorts of speculative Wall Street, a disposition to blame the banks for the stern restrictive measures which have immediately resulted in the recent fall of values. Curious as the fact may seem to impartial outside observers, the Stock Exchange community does not yet recognize why such action should have been taken by the banks, at a moment when the Treasury had extended abundant measure of relief, when New York's surplus bank reserves had risen $16,000,000 in a fortnight, and when the money market as measured by the call-loan rate, had sunk to the neighbourhood of the normal.

The simple answer to such criticism is, that conservative banking policy, like the movement of Stock Exchange prices, is based on the future rather than on the conditions of to-day. It is no longer open to question that the banks delayed too long in putting into force their restrictive measures. Banks as a whole make the same mistake as Wall Street, in assuming that something would occur, in line with our traditional luck of the past four years, to help us out of our dilemma. But they realized last week, far better than speculative Wall Street, that the last card had been played in the line of emergency relief, and that, unless the market wished to invite recurrence of the conditions of a month ago, it must work out its own salvation. To have let down the bars, and to have resumed the indiscriminate lending of last summer to the Stock Exchange, would infallibly have resulted in a renewed fall of bank reserves to the danger-point.

In other words, the warning addressed to the banks by conservative watchers during the six months past, that reserve percentages must not only be restored to a level far above the recent average, but must be maintained there, has at last been heard. The market's perplexities are by no means over. It has before it a continuing drain to the treasury, with no prospect of fresh emergency relief; abnormally long continuance of the movement of currency to West and South, and the strong probability that the eventual return of this currency would be followed by a flow of gold to Europe. The course of action, plainly marked out by this condition of affairs, was to reduce liabilities, and such reduction can be brought about only by forced liquidation of the speculative loans which for months have hung as a millstone on the market's neck. The probability is that this readjustment has already been extremely thorough. Real capital has been touched at last, by the more inviting scale of values, and stocks caried for months with the help of banking capital, for which there were other and far more urgent uses, have been taken up by real investors. He who doubts the improvement brought to the situation by such sequence of events, is incapable of independent judgment.

CANADIAN BOUNTIES ON IRON AND STEEL.

In the English House of Commons on November 4, in reply to Mr. Lough (Islington, W.), Mr. Gerald Balfour said: "I know of no bounties on the export of Canadian pig iron and steel. Bounties are given on the production of pig iron and of steel ingots and puddled iron bars made from such pig iron. Up to April, 1902, the rates were $3 per ton of 2,000 pounds, except on pig iron produced from foreign ores, which received $2. Between 1902 and 1907 the bounties are subject to continuous reduction, and the rates at present payable are 90 per cent. of those quoted above. The quantity of Canadian pig iron exported to this country in the years 1900-01 was 1,903 tons. The corresponding total for 1901-2 is provisionally stated as 100,519 tons. The Canadian accounts do not separately distinguish the exports either of steel ingots or puddled iron bars."

THE SAXE TRIAL COMMENCED TO-DAY

Jury Duly Sworn to Decide Alleged Conspiracy Case.

BAD SYSTEM OF BOOKKEEPING

Mr. Kent, Accountant, Gave Evidence as to His Examination of the Firm's Affairs.

What is now well known in Montreal as the Saxe alleged conspiracy case was commenced in the Court of King's Bench to-day.

The indictment reads as follows:

"That Henry Saxe and David Levi on the first day of December, 1901, at the city of Montreal, unlawfully conspired together by deceit and other fraudulent means to defraud the public, and, more particularly, the commercial firm of W. Moore & Co., Bradford, Eng.; Frank Bujotte, Vienna, Austria, and the Corticelli Silk Company, of St. Johns, P.Q., the Canada Woollen Mills, the Excelsior Woollen Mills, the Trent Valley Woollen Company and other commercial firms."

Mr. Cooke, Crown prosecutor, is appearing for the Crown, with Mr. Gordon MacDougal watching the interests of the private prosecution.

Mr. Quinn leads the defence, appearing for Mr. Levi, and Mr. Martin represents Mr. Saxe. Mr. Charles Archer, who has been in the case from the first, looks after the interests of both the accused.

The work of securing the jury was commenced at 10.20. An English-speaking jury was asked for, and at 11.10 the following jurors had all been sworn in: W. Woodhouse, D. Macdonald, Alexander Wallace, W. R. Chennell, Danial Walters, Robert Brown, James MacDonald, Henry Taylor, Norman Miller, F. E. Ahier, John Galbraith and Thos. Darling.

OUTLINED LAWS GOVERNING CASE

Mr. Cooke outlined the laws governing conspiracy to defraud and quoted several instances which had been referred to by Mr. Justice Hall in the Johnston case. It was stated by Mr. Cooke that the Crown would show that the firm of Saxe Brothers had had two establishments. Samuel Saxe had charge of the business on St. Lawrence and Henry Saxe managed the wholesale business on St. Helen street with David Levi as manager. In the lower courts Samuel Saxe had been acquitted. "The firm was insolvent, yet; we claim," said Mr. Cooke "that Henry Saxe and David Levi conspired together to defraud by obtaining goods and disposing of them for personal gain and to the loss of their creditors."

The Crown prosecutor then detailed the witnesses that would be called and Mr. Ambrose L. Kent, accountant, of Montreal, was called to the witness box.

Mr. Kent said that he had been called by the creditors of the firm to take charge of the insolvent business. He found that the firm owed $200,000 direct liabilities and $100,000 indirect; the assets were $75,000, which was made up of stock and book accounts. The liabilities consisted of money due to the banks and to commercial firms for goods delivered. The liabilities had been arrived at by the firms interested sending in their accounts. Mr. Kent read a detailed statement of his findings. In giving further particulars of the finances of the firm, Mr. Kent said that of the indirect liabilities, $20,000 had been so much paid the creditors that they were now only about $20,000. From an examination of the books Mr. Kent said that he could not tell how long the firm had been insolvent, as the books did not show their liabilities. The only way these could be obtained was by totalling the notes which were out. The bookkeeper could tell at any time what was due and the financial business of the firm was practically in his hands. The system of bookkeeping in vogue was one of the worst he had ever seen. The witness got a list of liabilities from the bookkeeper and checked it over with the claims as they were filed. Mr. Kent thought that from the books themselves he could not have arrived at a decision fit for the statement required. What books there were, were dated from January 1901, when the firm was burned out.

NO BALANCE SINCE THEN.

The books did not show any balance sheet from that time. It was apparent that during the last two months of the business there was an increase in liabilities; he thought the increase was 20 per cent. more than previous to that time.

The Bank of British North America and Moses Vineberg held collateral security for money due, but the books did not show that, except by a memorandum in a private note-book. This private book was found in the hands of an assistant bookkeeper two days after the assignment. Among the notes it was shown that about $22,000 worth of goods had been sent to the warehouse of Mr. Davis for Mr. Vineberg, and on this about $10,000 had been paid. The book showed entries of payments of cash to Miss Anne Saxe amounting to $4,900 and to Mrs. Pauline Saxe Levi the same amount, on account of legacies. All these entries should have been wade in the ledger in the proper course of business.

PRODUCED NUMBER OF BOOKS.

Mr. Cooke produced a number of books which Mr. Kent named as follows: Bills payable book; book in which were entered invoices for goods purchased from January 1, 1901, to the time of the failure; cash book; work book; book of record of goods sent out to sewing girls; book of goods received; cheque book.

In the latter there was a stub showing that $3,500 had been paid to the Bank of Hochelaga and another stub showed "Cash, $1,000." The original cheques were produced. There was nothing to show what the money had been paid for. A cheque was produced for $1,350, payable to bearer, and there was no corresponding stub. These were dated March 4, 1901, and in cash book the references to cash paid out says: "David Levy, balance of cash loaned, $855, and "bank $1,000." It would appear that there had been financial transactions between the firm and Mr. Levy, and a statement made from the books showed that Mr. Levy had loaned the firm $3,045 and had received $1,850 of this during the last three days of the existence of the firm.

The last ten minutes of Mr. Kent's evidence was devoted to showing that amounts had been paid out to certain interested persons just previous to the assignment.

POCKETS WERE SLASHED— MONEY WAS STOLEN.

The police authorities in this city have received inforation to the effect that a very clever robbery has taken place in a hotel at River Beaudette.

An old French-Canadian, named Toussaint Major, who had been working in the woods all summer, went to an hotel there, and had a few drinks with some men from the neighbouring country. He had a lot of money in his pocket.

After having a number of drinks, he went to sleep in one of the rooms, and did not awaken till morning.

When he put his hands in his pockets he found there were no bottoms to them. During his sleep, robbers had somehow or other managed to cut the pockets out of his trousers, and with them went all the money and valuables they contained.

LEAD DUTIES UNSATISFACTORY

Manufacturers Will Assist Miners in Bringing About Reform

INCREASED TARIFF WANTED

A Consumer of Lead Discusses the Facts Brought Out by Recent Conferences in the City.

The meetings between the representatives of the lead mines of the West and the manufacturers of this city, which have been going on in this city for the past couple of weeks, are now drawing to a close, and it was announced to the Star to-day that as a result there was a marked disposition among the manufacturers to consider the situation fairly as it affects the western producers, smelters and refiners. The latter will in consequence be assisted by the manufacturers in the application that will be made to the Government to increase the present tariff.

LEAD CONSUMERS' VIEWS.

In discussing the results of the meetings with a Star representative, Mr. James R. Wilson, vice-president and general manager of the Thomas Robertson & Co., Ltd., the largest consumers of lead in Canada, stated that any manufacturer who himself asks for protection to enable him to reap the benefit of the consumption of his own market could not be consistent in refusing the application of the western men.

"The tariff," he said, "is not perfect. The Government has never said it was, but still it is likely that alterations can only be effected by the manufacturers interesting themselves and advancing their claims as a unit.

"Then there is the question of the quality of the lead produced in the country. There cannot be the slightest doubt but that the quality is highly satisfactory in every respect, and, while there are no corroding works in Canada the lead has been tested for that purpose and found to be equal to the best.

"With the one exception of the condition of the present tariff, I would say that there is not any reason why the corroding of pig lead should not become an active industry in Canada, in order that all the white lead used, amounting to about 9,000 tons per annum, should be manufactured in our own country from our own lead product. The foreign article would be kept out, and the additional duty required to effect such a change would be very little, and the result to the consumer almost imperceptible.

UNITED STATES TARIFF.

"The American tariff is the most scientific tariff in the world. It has been provided to meet the requirements of the varied industries of a great people, and, while, with our lower consuming power, as compared with theirs, their tariff might not be found practical in this country, still it is worth careful study. We might at all events find out the ratio which one article should bear towards another in the payment of duties, and in this way the markets for Canada would be safe-guarded and retained for Canadians.

THE FACTS ASCERTAINED.

"Among the leading and most important facts brought out at the various meetings were the following:

"At the present time about 25,000 tons of pig lead per annum are smelted and refined in Canada, the product of Canadian ores mined in British Columbia.

"Under the present tariff, the refiners are only able to market in Canada about one-fifth of their product, the balance being exported principally to Japan and China, the price realized there being obtained in competition with the London market, which is the lowest in the world.

"For some time past the price has been so low that it was clearly shown that the price netted from the ores mined is unremunerative, and has resulted in the closing down of many mining properties.

"The chief cause of this is that at the present time about 8,000 or 9,000 tons of dry white lead is imported in Canada at an 'ad valorem' duty of 5 per cent., which of course, is reduced one-third coming from England. This dry white lead is ground in oil and distributed in the form of paint, the duty on which is 25 per cent. If the duty on dry white lead was increased sufficiently to stimulate the corroding of lead in Canada, the miners, smelters and refiners would thus secure an additional market for their product to the extent of 9,000 tons."

In reviewing the facts brought out another leading manufacturer stated that as large investments had been made in developing the industry in the West, reasonable protection should be afforded them by securing for them their own market to the full extent of their raw product.

CITIZENS ARE GETTING WOOD AT COST PRICE, SAYS MAYOR COCHRANE

The Mayor is receiving scores of applications every day from poor people, for the wood which the aldermen are bringing into the city.

As stated, the fuel is being put in yards in different parts of the city. In no case is wood given away free. Its price ranges all the way from $4.50 a cord to $8.50, according to the quality of the wood.

Many applicants are complaining at the steep prices which are charged. Some of them innocently come to His Worship and ask if the wood will cost two dollars a cord. When blandly informed that maple will be sold by the city at $8.50 a cord, they turn away with sorrowful hearts.

"How is it the wood costs so much?" was asked of the Mayor to-day.

"Well," replied the Mayor, "when the aldermen decided to purchase the fuel, prices were very high. There was no coal in the city, and wood dealers in the country were charging pretty high prices. The aldermen made the best bargains they could. If we were buying wood now it could be got cheaper. The fuel is being sold at cost."

The aldermen who are advancing the cash for the wood expect that, later on, the Council will return it to them. Of course, if the hundred thousand dollars sent to the Mayor to purchase fuel had been expended, there would have been free fuel galore. His Worship thinks that there is no necessity of spending the sum; so citizens of moderate means have the privilege of buying wood from the corporation at cost.

Protection of Women and Children.

The Society for the Protection of Women and Children met this morning, but in the absence of several of the members, no business was transacted beyond the reading of the monthly report. This stated that in that interval 54 cases, involving the welfare of 36 families and 91 children, had been investigated and dealt with. Six children and two women had been placed in homes during the month.

KNOCKED DOWN BY A CAR.—Michael Donnelly, 40 years of age, was knocked down last night by a St. Lawrence street electric car at the corner of St. Catherine and St. Lawrence streets, and had a narrow escape from death. He was cut on the head and face and was taken in the ambulance to the General Hospital.

SIR W. C. MACDONALD AT TOBACCO ENQUIRY

Never Found It Necessary to Resort to Exclusive Contract System.

EFFECT OF COMPETITION

In His Case it Had Forced Him to Have Recourse to Intense Industry.

(See also page seven.)

The chief witness before the Tobacco Commission this morning was Sir William Macdonald. He was examined at length as to what he knew regarding the operations of a tobacco monopoly, and also as to his own methods of doing business.

Sir William Macdonald testified that he had been a tobacco manufacturer 40 years. He began in a small way and worked the business up. He never found it necessary to resort to any exclusive contract system, and never entertained the idea. He reached the retail trade through the wholesale merchants. He had done this almost from the beginning. He considered this the best channel for getting the goods to the consumer. The machinery for distributing to the retailer direct would be very costly and very troublesome. From the manufacturer's standpoint it must be recognized that legitimate, fair competition exists nearly all the time. In his opinion, if the tobacco trade were in the hands of a monopoly it would be very profitable to be a monopolist.

EFFECT OF AGREEMENT.

He was not sure whether he had ever read through the American Tobacco Co.'s contract. He understood it was in the nature of an exclusive contract as regards the product of home grown leaf. He was informed, but did not know personally. A beginner in small circumstances would find such an arrangement extremely hard to compete with. Whether such a contract is in the interest of the consumer depends entirely on the moderation of the monopolist. A monopoly did not have a tendency to give the buyer the best price. Competition was the life of business. During the period that he had been in business there had been over twenty firms come into the business and go out of it again.

"Who are now your competitors in business?"

"My confreres you mean. I don't think I should say I have any competitors" (Laughter.) Sir William then named over several of the firms in question.

CANADIAN LEAF EXPERIMENT.

Many of those who had gone out of the business, continued Sir William, had been successful. In 1860 he made an experiment with Canadian leaf, but discontinued it after about a year's trial, and since that time he had confined himself to the American leaf. The Canadian leaf then was suitable for smoking tobacco. No other manufacturer was at that time using Canadian leaf, so far as he was aware. He could not say when the Canadian leaf began to be manufactured into plug smoking.

"You have never suffered from competition to any extent?"

"You see my head is bald." (Laughter.)

EFFECT OF COMPETITION.

The competition which he had met with had forced him to very intense industry. Competition had sometimes compelled him to reduce prices below what he considered a fair profit. He had had small rival concerns during the time he had been in business, and he thought he had also purchased the machinery of the late Mr. Scales. Both the concerns he mentioned had been offered to him, and he had bought them for the purpose of closing them. There was nothing strange about a transaction of that kind. He had no recollection of any arrangement with Mr. Tuckett regarding the sale of goods, some five years ago, or at any time. Neither did he know that there had been an arrangement among grocers regarding the exclusive handling of his goods and Tuckett's, or the distribution of territory between them. The recent agreement of the wholesalers to sell tobaccos at a uniform price had been brought to his attention. They had asked him if he objected to their raising prices, and he had told them that was their business. They bought from him and could sell for what they liked. Some years ago he had made an agreement to insert that a stipulated price should be adhered to by the wholesale trade, but he had found this very objectionable, and after a couple of years had abandoned it. Since then he had made no more such agreements.

He had countenanced the recent agreement so far as he could without becoming a party to it. He regarded the profit asked by the wholesalers as not unreasonable. Within the last few years Canadian leaf had made progress on this market.

"It has been helped by the duty imposed by the Government?"

"I should think so. Very strongly helped indeed."

"Do you regard that encouragement as a good thing?"

"No I do not."

"What is your objection?"

"It would be very much more in the interest of this country to grow food products and sustain commerce by importing from other countries what they can produce best. The soil and climate of this country will not grow as good tobacco as that which grows in hot climates."

"You are of the opinion that growing tobacco in this country should not be encouraged?"

FARMERS MAY GROW IT.

"Let the farmers grow it if they want to, but don't pay them a very large price for growing it at the expense of other people."

Sir William, continuing, said that he had sometimes refused to sell to retail merchants who wished to buy direct from the manufacturers. He did this because he wished to sell through the wholesale trade. The largest drop he had ever made in prices was during the American war, in 1864, when he dropped from 28 cents to 19 cents. No such drop had ever occurred since. He considered it quite legitimate for a man to get the best channel he could for the sale of goods. He knew of nothing to prevent arrangements being made with wholesalers to handle the goods of the American Tobacco Company exclusively. He took entire exception to the statement that he had killed off competitors. If anybody had killed them off it was themselves. If the merchant who bought and the merchant who sold made an agreement to deal together according to the law of the country, he did not see how he could prevent it, even though it injured his trade. The man who bought his goods and paid his price could do as he liked with them.

ALD. LAPORTE'S STATEMENT.

Ald. Laporte, head of the firm of Laporte, Martin & Co. The firm was a consignee of the American Tobacco Co. of Canada for cigarettes and the Empire Tobacco Co. for tobaccos. They handled the goods of these firms exclusively. His firm had signed with the American Tobacco Co. without too much opposition, but from the Empire Tobacco Co.'s contract he had erased a clause which would have prevented him handling certain goods which his customers desired. The Empire Company would not accept the contract in this shape and he had afterwards signed with the objectionable clause included. As a result, the competitors of the Empire Tobacco Co. had lost the trade he was doing with them. He had signed because it was a case of making three dollars as against one, on account of the difference in the price charged him. There could be no doubt that such contracts did great harm to the independent manufacturer. He admitted that the Grocers' Guild, of which he was a member, fixed the price of Macdonald's tobacco to the retailer. If the price were lowered the consumer would get the difference. It would make no difference to the manufacturer. There would be no profit in dealing in the goods of the American or Empire Companies at the prices he would have to pay if he did not make an exclusive contract. A similar exclusive contract was made with Eddy in regard to matches. There were also other lines of business in which the firm was offered special inducements to handle only some special output.

He had held out against the Empire Co.'s contract until he was informed that unless he signed, the price of their goods to him would be raised five cents a pound. That would have taken away all his profit.

When you pay cash, you are as much entitled to your Cash Receipts as merchants are to the discounts they get with your cash.

Some merchants say they cannot afford to give Cash Receipts the way they run their business.

That is true, but some merchants run their business wrong, give credit, have losses, make errors in charging, have increased expenses in keeping and collecting accounts, carry a larger stock than they should, buy too much at a time, and are compelled to borrow money and pay bank interest, may be careless and extravagant in hundreds of ways, that the cash buyer is not responsible for and should not be compelled to pay.

Cash Receipts are your discounts, collect them on everything you buy. To the honest merchant your cash is worth more than the richest man's credit, you need never be ashamed to let the world know that you are collecting Cash Receipts, it is proof of your honesty, your economy, and your ability to pay as you go.

The story that the United States Ambassador in Italy, Mr. Meyer, while riding in a motor car near Fertola, had run down and fatally injured a child, and that, consequently, the ambassador had been arrested, is declared to be entirely erroneous.

FOOTBALL

E STRUGGLES FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

ough Riders and College Will Make an Exciting One.

ILL PREPARES FOR QUEEN'S

Local Students are in Good Shape and There Will be Some Systematic Cheering.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

TTAWA, November 13. — Ottawa's Champion Football teams took a practice yesterday afternoon and treated themselves in rain and slush for a little passage and a few runs and the field. As a matter of fact it doubtful if either team requires much more work before the final tussle. The best rumour is that Ryside may not bring to business engagements, be able play for Ottawa, but it is thought that some way may be devised to get over any trouble of this kind because Ryside is one of the men Rough Riders particularly want. The College team has had a certain amount of hard luck. Gleeson, Castonguay, Conner, and Ladieu have all felt the effect of hard knocks and while none of them are in desperate straits they each have been obliged to lay off in places of getting in hard work. An ominous sign for the Rough Riders, however, is the increasing confidence of "King" Clancy, the College Coach, and if his final manoeuvre goes out that College will win many thousands of dollars will be bet on his word. So far there has been very little betting. The College supporters for some reason, are looking for odds. The election of officials, mutually agreed on by the two teams without resort to the Canadian Union, is considered to be a sign that the game will be played in a purely friendly spirit and that the best team may win. In Messrs. L. Nash and Phil. MacKenzie of Montreal as Referee and Umpire and Mr. P. D. Ross, of Ottawa, as timekeeper, the clubs have a group of officials in which the public will have every confidence. It has been decided to type off the far side of the field and to have but the touch line judges and timekeeper will be allowed in the line, no matter how important his business may be. Many enquiries have come in from outside points for seats and the crowd promises to be one of the best ever seen at any game in Ottawa.

SCORING POWERS OF ROUGH RIDERS AND COLLEGE

Comparison of the Work of the Two Big Ottawa Teams.

The Ottawa College players have been strong scorers this season. Their record to date has been as follows:

	College.
October 4—Britannias	13
October 11—Brockville	12
October 16—Montreal	28
October 25—Britannia	28
November 1—Montreal	8
November 8—Brockville	27
Total	126

The average number of points scored against the College has been 2, and the average number College has scored, 21. This table shows conclusively that the other Quebec Union teams were hardly in the College's class. In four games only two points were scored against College, whereas 126 scored 66.

The scoring ability of the Rough Riders will be shown by the following table:

	R.	R.
October 18—Argonauts	4	9
October 25—Argonauts	0	28
November 1—McGill	4	11
November 8—McGill	1	14
Total	9	54

In four games,9 points have been scored against the Rough Riders, or an average of 2.25 points per game. They have scored 54 points, or an average of 13.5 points per game.

It would appear from these figures that the College was stronger both on the offensive and defensive, but it must be remembered that the Argonauts and McGill are stronger than any team in the Quebec Union outside of Ottawa College. It would seem, therefore, that there is not much difference between the scoring and defensive powers of the two Ottawa teams. The College usually begins to score early in the game, whereas the Rough Riders have not scored a point in the first half of any match they have played this year. They are strong finishers, however, and keep on playing to the whistle blows. The College has scored quite a number of points through rouges and touches-in-goal, but the Rough Riders have, in the main, relied on touch-downs.

CAPTAIN OGILVIE WILL ARRANGE FOR ALL-CANADIAN TEAM.

Will Utilize His Visit to Halifax in That Manner.

There was a private conference at the Windsor Hotel the other night between Captain Ogilvie, of the Montreal Football team; Dr. Clifford Jack, and Mr. McClure. At this meeting, Mr. Ogilvie promised to look after certain preliminary arrangements for the trip of the Association Football team to England, including the arrangements for the exhibition matches in Halifax.

All matters look now, the gentlemen who have taken charge of the trip will have many applications that they will have no difficulty in selecting their team.

Awaiting Canadians.

The Canadian Gazette says: The forthcoming visit of the Canadian Rugby football team is being awaited with great interest in football circles. Though nothing is definitely known at present as to the exact strength of the team, it is claimed that it will turn out as strong a side as any of the Scotch clubs. If that be the case, the visit of the Canadians will certainly prove one of the events of the season. Matches have been arranged with the leading clubs in England and Ireland, but so far as can be seen at present it does not seem probable that the Canadians will be seen much on English grounds, though probably Oxford and Cambridge will be met. It will probably add to the interest of the tour if clubs are decided upon with crack English clubs, such as Blackheath, London Scottish and Richmond. The tour will give the public an opportunity of seeing how far Rugby Union game has developed in Canada, and at the same time we in England may hope to get our own back again as some compensation for the many defeats inflicted upon us in the spring by the Toronto Lacrosse team.

Morrison Professionalized.

TORONTO, Ont., November 13. — Bert Morrison, of the Toronto Rugby team, was declared a professional by the union, and games in the western section, intermediates were thrown out. The action was taken on the ground that all clubs knew Morrison was a professional.

C. P. R. Excursion to Ottawa.

In connection with the Championship Football Match at Ottawa, the C. P. R. advertise an excursion to Ottawa and return at $4.50. Tickets are good going Saturday, November 15th, and to return until Monday, November 17th.

M'GILL MATCH FOR THE COLLEGIATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Saturday's Struggle With Queen's—Cheering Will be a Feature.

The McGill Outlook says:

Next Saturday, the football match of the season will take place. On it depends the championship of the Intercollegiate Union. McGill's team this year is stronger and better trained than any she has had since the organization of the Intercollegiate Union.

The individual men are better; they are playing together better; the record during the present season is better, and the chances of winning the championship are the best that have ever occurred. The goal for which our men have been striving for two months past is at length in sight. If we can defeat Queen's next Saturday, the Intercollegiate trophy is ours. Queen's must be defeated. Our men can do it, we do not doubt. But we must help them. Every student, every man and woman connected with McGill, every friend of the University, should make it their duty to appear on the Campus next Saturday and cheer on the team to victory.

CAPTAIN NAGLE,
Of the McGill Football Team.

The cheering at football games at McGill has never amounted to much, for the reason that it has never been sufficiently organized.

At the American colleges, "rooting" is one of the principal features of the games. Rooters' meetings are held for days before each big match, to practice up the various "yells" and songs, and when the match takes place the "Rooters" are arranged in sections round the field, so that a continuous cheer may be kept up from one end of the game to the other.

There is no doubt whatever that cheering and encouragement from the onlookers greatly helps a team. And on Saturday our team will need every bit of help it can get.

Nothing in the way of cheering, however, can be accomplished without united effort, and we, therefore, suggest that the football management make arrangements to have this important adjunct of the game thoroughly organized.

To do this it is essential that all the students should sit together, and that special cheer-leaders should be appointed to lead the sections.

Kicks.

Applications by Geo. Black, London, and Chancer Elliott, Kingston, for remedial ment, were refused by the Ontario Rugby Union.

The Montreal team to go to Halifax left, as follows: Craig, Burland, Ogilvie, Niven, McMaster, Brison, Hanna, Harman, McLea, Savage, Johnson, Rivard, Reid and two others. They left by Intercolonial at noon today.

A three-year-old South American leopard has been received by Captain Davis, of the Princeton Football team, and it will figure in the Yale game on Saturday. Ex-Captain Hillebrand, who is coaching the Annapolis eleven, got the animal from a naval officer, who loaned it to him for the coming game with Yale. The beast is as tame as a kitten, and is now enjoying the freedom of the field house. On Saturday it will be led across the field just before the Yale game begins, and will be kept on the side lines during the game.

BILLIARDS.

SLOSSON SIGNS TO COMPETE IN PARIS

"Student" Will Play in Billiard Tournament for World's Championship

BEGINS PRACTICE AT ONCE

Maurice Daly May be Contestant, With Best Talent of America and France.

NEW YORK, November 13. — George Slosson will be one of America's representatives in the billiard tournament for the world's championship to be held in Paris beginning in December. The veteran billiardist made his first cash deposit yesterday and signed a contract to be a contestant.

The "Student" is to sail in about three weeks, and as he is in good condition his friends expect him to make a good showing. He began practice in earnest last night, and a good sized crowd watched him manipulate the cue. For some time he has been working with the ivories just enough to keep him from becoming stale, but from now on he will play every afternoon and evening.

Slosson says that never in the history of billiards has a tournament been held that included so many leading players as the coming one will have. This is due to the decision of the courts, which allowed all the academies in Paris to remain open, thus producing a lively competition that resulted in the engagement of nearly all the best players in this country. The best in America will there play the best in France, which include Vignaux, Cure, Fournie and Gibelin.

Maurice Daly said last night that he also might be a contestant. His decision will rest upon later developments regarding the entries, which, according to the conditions, closed in Paris yesterday. It is probable that the time will be extended, for A. F. Troecher, representing the Brunswick-Balke Collender Company, under whose auspices the tournament is to be held, cabled the Paris agent yesterday asking for such extension. The reason for keeping the entries open is that the majority of American players at home, especially those in the West, have not even heard of the tournament as yet and therefore had no chance to enter.

In the preliminary tournament that begins on December 15 a large number of players are expected to take part. In this all must compete who have accepted odds from opponents, and among those Americans who have done so are George Sutton, Leonard Howison, Benjamin Saylor and "Willie" Hoppe. The last named, although only a 16-year-old boy, is likely to try to be one of the two who win the most games in the preliminary, and thus become eligible to meet the more prominent experts in the principal tournament, beginning January 10.

In view of the fact that the competition is to be at eighteen inch balk line, two shots in, a match for the world's championship at eighteen inch balk line, one shot in, will probably be played before Slosson returns to this country. He says he may challenge Schaefer for the emblem, which was offered for the first time last winter, and which Schaefer won, in the Madison Square Garden concert hall.

Julius Adorjan, of Hungary, whose playing here excited some interest at the close of the last season, expects to sail for Paris soon.

CYCLING

FOREIGN CRACKS TO RACE AT GARDEN.

Jim Kennedy Signs Cycle Stars in Paris for Six-Day Contest.

NEW YORK, November 13. — P. T. Powers has just received a cablegram from James C. Kennedy, who is in Paris securing teams for the coming six-day race at Madison Square Garden, announcing that he has signed the strongest lot of European cyclists that have ever appeared in America. He will forward their names in a few days.

No matter how formidable these foreigners may be, they will find it a difficult task to vanquish the American contingent. Our riders have formed strong combinations and already have begun training for the struggle which begins December 8.

The American riders entered to date are: Floyd McFarland, the California sprinter, and Otto Maya, of Erie; Will C. Stinson, New England's champion pace follower, and James F. Moran, of Chelsea, Mass.; Nat. Butler, of Boston, and Charles Turville, of Philadelphia, both crack six-day performers; Will C. Fenn, of Bristol, Conn., and Pat. Keegan, the flying Irishman, of Lowell, Mass.; John and Menus Bedell, of Lynbrook, L. I., C. D. Barclay and Franz Krebs, of Brooklyn; Jed Newkirk, of Chicago, and Jacobson, of New Haven, and George Leander and an unknown of Chicago.

Eddie Bald and Harry Elkes, the Americans who are now riding in such good form in Paris, will also likely start.

GOLF

New Links for Ottawa.

OTTAWA, November 13. — It is probable that the Ottawa Golf Club will lay out new links on the Aylmer road two miles from Hull. Since the sale of the Chelsea links the club has been surveying the country around Ottawa for another site. Four properties are in view—two on the Britannia line, one at Rockliffe, and one on the Aylmer road. The Aylmer road property is being most favourably considered. It is part of the old Fred. Moore estate, now owned by M. H. McVeity, grocer, of Bank street. A price has been agreed upon and nothing remains to be settled but an arrangement as to an entrance to the grounds. The grounds are situated on the north side of the Aylmer road, 100 yards from the electric railway. This proximity to the electric cars makes the prospective links very desirable. There are 115 acres, while the Chelsea links contained only 96. There will be room for a full 18-hole course. Six of the holes on the Chelsea links course have to be duplicated to make a complete course.

There is no urgency on the part of the club to purchase new grounds immediately, as it has the right to use the Chelsea links for two years longer. As soon, however, as the bargain is concluded, the erection of a new club house will be commenced. The club will procure space outside the links for their house if the Aylmer road site is purchased.

SUBSTITUTES FOR "FOOT ELM."

Some unscrupulous manufacturers have put up cheap stuff under various names, but all to be sold as "substitutes" for "Foot Elm." Because the stuff was cheap and the boxes showy, unfortunately some druggists have been duped into buying it. Don't you be duped into buying it. Just ask for "Foot Elm," and insist on having it. It doesn't cost you a cent more than the worthless substitute, and is guaranteed to cure chilblains, corns, sore, tired, swollen, sweaty, blistered, chafed feet. ATHLETICS

WHAT THE BUILDING COMMITTEE SAYS ABOUT SOCIAL CLUB

Full Text of Circular Referred to Yesterday.

Following is the full text of the circular referred to by the Star and which was gotten out by the new M. A. A. A. Building Committee:

To the Members of the M. A. A. A. Montreal:

Gentlemen,—As there appears to be amongst some of our members a misconception of the "New Building Committee's" plan for the erection of the proposed new clubhouse, your committee deems it advisable to make the following statement:

The present membership of the association is, life, 850; active, 950.

The life membership is increasing in a larger ratio than the active membership owing to the present lack of accommodation and unsuitable condition of the present clubhouse.

It is agreed by all that if the M. A. A. A. is good work is to continue, it is absolutely necessary that there should immediately be erected a new building suitable for our requirements, of such a nature as will forcibly attract new members and which would be a credit to the city.

After much discussion of the ways and means of erecting such a building, your committee concluded that it was too great a responsibility for the active members to undertake alone, and that in order to carry out successfully the work entrusted to them, it would be necessary to in some way obtain financial support from the life members, whom, as you are aware do not contribute to the funds of the association.

A systematic canvass was made and a very large number of the life members, expressed their willingness to aid the association, providing some inducement, such as special quarters were offered in return.

With this end in view it was proposed to rent a portion of the new building, having a separate entrance and separate quarters to a life members' club to be made up of members of the association, joined together with the object of retaining their interest in the association, of aiding in maintaining the clubhouse, and of encouraging your members in the active practice of athletic sports.

This club would be incorporated and the association would in no way be responsible for its liabilities or loss in conducting the same, and the portion rented to it would be leased under definite terms and restrictions. Should it be found out in the course of time that the present scheme is not for the best interest of the association, that portion of the building set aside for the life members' club could be used for other revenue producing purposes.

Your committee feels satisfied that the proposed plan can be carried out successfully, is in the best interests of the association, and trusts that you will make it your duty to be present at the semi-annual meeting, when the matter will be brought up and discussed.

On behalf of the Building Committee: A. W. Campbell, hon. president; Thos. J. Paton, Henry Brophy, Ed. Sheppard, J. A. Taylor, W. O. H. Dodds, W. G. Ayling, E. A. Whitehead.

CURLING.

PREPARING FOR THE TRANSPORTATION OF THE SCOTTISH CURLERS

A Special Committee Hard at Work With the Railways.

A special committee composed of Messrs. David Guthrie, Lieut.-Col. A. A. Stevenson and Rev. Dr. Barclay is busily engaged just now looking after the transportation of the visiting curlers from Scotland.

They have had several meetings with the representatives of both the Canadian Pacific and the Grand Trunk Railways, and they hope to have matters satisfactorily fixed up within a short time, so that they will be able to notify the visitors of the exact arrangement.

The time is short, as the Scottish curlers are expected to arrive at Halifax about the first of the year.

AQUATICS

THE CANADA'S CUP DIFENCE.

One Boat Has Been Ordered to be Built in Oakville.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

TORONTO, November 13. — Just at present the defence of the Canada's Cup for 1903 rests upon one boat. As will be remembered Invader went to Chicago in 1901 and regained the cup and the Royal Canadian Yacht Club accepted the challenger of the Rochester Yacht Club shortly afterwards. The match was postponed from 1902 to 1903 because new measures were to be introduced and finally the new forty foot class was selected as the one for the competing boats. The races possibly five, will be held off Toronto Island next summer. It is through the enterprise of the Messrs. Macrae that the only defender in sight has become a fact. Mr. Norman Macrae, who finances the project desires a modern yacht of large size, smart, but with plenty of cruising accommodation.

The Macrae boat will be built and placed at the disposal of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club for the match. If other forty footers are built she will be raced against them in the trials and if the faster will defend the cup.

Captain James Andrews, of Oakville, will put the boat together and is now preparing for the work. She will be planked with British Columbia Cedar. Her spars will be made in Canada and her sails will come from the famous English firm of Ratsey and Lapthorne, who supply Sir Thomas Lipton. The new boat will be approximately 40 feet on the water line and 60 feet over all, her overhangs being well carried out but not excessive. Her draught will be a little under nine feet. Her beam at the water line will be at least 12 feet 6 inches and she will spread 2600 square feet of canvass in a full cutter rig. What her lead ballast will amount to is not known, but it may run up to nearly 20 tons. The yacht's minimum free-board will be 34 inches so that she will be a pretty big boat with the lowest part of her side very nearly three feet above the level of the water.

Four hundred dollars has now been subscribed for the new McGill gymnasium.

THE TURF

JEALOUSY OUSTED BOOKMAKER ROSE

The American Sporting Man Tells of Trouble With French Police

But Neither He Nor Jockeys Reiff and Henry Were Implicated, He Declares.

NEW YORK, November 13.—Robert L. Rose, the bookmaker, who was compelled to give up bookmaking at the French tracks, and who would have been ordered out of France if it had not been for Ambassador Porter and Secretary of State Hay, arrived yesterday on the Kronprinz Wilhelm. He is indignant at the reports that he was banished from France.

"The whole trouble," he said, "was caused by a crowd of American touts who got over to France heaven knows how, and have been there about two years. They are the worst gang of daylight burglars that ever infested a course.

"I was most unjustly treated. Ambassador Porter, at first on his own responsibility, and then at the request of Secretary of State Hay, made a demand that the French authorities do me justice. I turned over all my books, containing a record of every transaction, to the ambassador, who will send them to George A. Wheelock, president of the Metropolitan Turf Association for examination.

"The secret inquiry instituted by the French authorities was conducted by M. Hennion, acting under the Chief of the Department of Security, an office that corresponds to that of Capt. Titus in this city. It was desired to rid the country of these touts, and I was unjustly included.

RECEIVES POLITE REQUEST.

"About September 20 I received a polite request from the police. Would I send them my books? Two days later I received a notice to call again. After a farcical examination I was told that, as I had not, after eight days' residence in France, taken out a permission to reside there, they were going to expel me from the country. When the ambassador made his formal protest they said that I had been simply requested to leave. The order expelling me, they said, had been torn up. So I came away of my own free will when I got ready. I shall go back, but not to make books. Bookmaking is forbidden in France, but it is tolerated to a limited extent.

COMPETITORS WERE JEALOUS.

"I believe that jealousy inspired the action against me. I was doing a good business. Most of the Americans were placing their bets with me. I am going to consult a lawyer, and will sue certain parties who have circulated these absurd reports about me.

"I don't know what is behind the charges against Jockeys Johnny Reiff and Milton Henry. In my opinion the jockeys are absolutely innocent. The percentage of their wins proves that they could not have been involved in scandal. A Parisian newspaper says that a franc placed on Reiff's mounts at the beginning of the season would have yielded 90 francs, and by the end of the season a franc on Henry, 80 francs. I have never spoken to either one of these jockeys in my life."

The Races at Benning.

WASHINGTON, November 13.—The talent secured an even break on the day at Bennings, three favourites finishing first. Carrier Pigeon won the jumping race handily, and Adelaide Prince, after trailing the leaders to the stretch, drew away and captured the Dixie Stakes. Cameron, heavily played in the last race, furnished the third winning favourite. Track records were lowered by Carrier Pigeon, Adelaide Price, Demurrer and Cameron in their respective races. PASTOR REFEREES BOXING BOUTS.

Jersey City Clergyman Starts a Class in Athletics in His Church's Basement.

NEW YORK, November 13.—The Rev. John L. Scudder, pastor of the First Congregational Church, whose members are among Jersey City's exclusive set, happened into the assembly-room, in the basement of the church, last night. There were about a hundred young men members of the Roosevelt Cadets present. It was the regular meeting of the organization. "Boys," he said, "I suppose you are all going to join our boxing-class."

"Sure!" they shouted in chorus.

"Why not start it right now?" said William McDermott, one of the bright little fellows. "I am ready to put on the mitts with any one."

Pastor Scudder approved the suggestion. "Who's ready to have a go with Willie?" asked the pastor. A dozen boys were on their feet in a minute. Dudley G. Sodon, a boy of young McDermott's size and weight, was elected from among the volunteers. Pastor Scudder provide the gloves. He saw that they were placed properly on the hands of the boys, and then announced that he would "referee the bout."

"Let it be understood," he said, addressing the boys, "that slugging will not be allowed, neither will hugging and fighting in clinches be permitted. Now, boys, get together."

The little fellows sparred for a minute and then went at each other in true pugilistic style. Several times Pastor Scudder was obliged to separate them. At the end of two rounds the boys had had enough and Pastor Scudder removed the gloves. There were several other bouts and three wrestling contests.

"I guess, boys, you are all eligible for membership in the class," said Pastor Scudder. It is the intention of Pastor Scudder to form the classes immediately. He expects that all the young men members of the congregation will join. Pastor Scudder is an athlete himself, and he believes that every young man should be able to take care of himself in that line.

"There are three things boys ought to know," he said. "They should be able to box, wrestle and fence. I learned how to box when I was a student at Yale College. That was in 1874, and I have been boxing ever since."

Counted Out.

"Tommy" Feltz, the bantam weight champion of the world, won the decision over "Jimmy" Devine, of Philadelphia, before the Eutaw A. C., of Baltimore.

Tommy Love, also of Philadelphia, was to have met Feltz in a championship battle, but telegraphed late that he was too sick to appear. Devine, the trainer of Love, although out of condition, volunteered on short notice to go on for twenty rounds with the champion. For five rounds he gave the champion an argument, and landed blow for blow. In the middle of the seventh round Feltz landed several rights and lefts on the jaw, which sent the Philadelphian to the mat. His seconds threw up the sponge as Devine arose to his feet groggy.

The wrestling match between James Parr, heavyweight champion of England, and Alois Gonthier, who holds the same title in Canada, was won by the former at Fitzhugh Hall, Rochester, by two falls out of three. The first fall, catch-as-catch-can, went to Parr at the end of 16 1-4 minutes. Gonthier won the second, at Graeco-Roman, in 18 minutes 35 seconds. The third, catch-as-catch-can, went to the Englishman in 11 minutes.

Kid Parker, the crack lightweight wrestler of Boston, is in this city looking for a match. He will wrestle any man in Canada at his weight, which is 125 pounds, for any part of $200, Bell preferred. Or he will wrestle Kennedy, providing he makes 130 pounds, best two in three falls, catch-as-catch-can style. Police Gazette rules to govern; or he will take him on at catch weights, providing he agrees to throw him twice in sixty minutes, with an intermission of five minutes between falls.

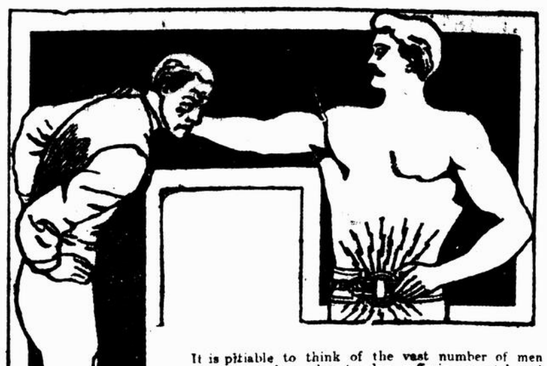
TAKE MY ADVICE.

You can have freedom from pain and again be given life, energy and the vigor of youth if you wear Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt with free electric suspensory for weak men.



It is pitiable to think of the vast number of men who go on from day to day suffering mental and physical torture as a result of their weakness, while right at their doors other men are being cured of the same disease. One who has not known it himself cannot realize the feelings of a man in an advanced stage of Nervous Debility, nor does he hear it, for these men do not talk of their troubles. Even when they are fortunately led to use the remedy which is now so well-known — Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt — and are cured by it, they do not mention it to their closest friends; hence the prevalence of this trouble and the means of cure are appreciated only by those who have had experience. And yet I have thousands upon thousands of grateful patients who are willing to testify to their cures.

D. B. WINTERBOTTOM, WAWA, ONT., wrote me the other day: I was suffering from varicocele in its worst form, but have now regained their natural firmness and vigor. I am also entirely cured of dyspepsia. Thanking you for past favors.

A man who is nervous, whose brain and body are weak, who sleeps badly, awakes more tired than when he went to bed, who is easily discouraged, inclined to brood over imaginary troubles, who has lost ambition and energy to tackle hard problems, lacks the animal electricity which the Dr. McLaughlin Electric Belt supplies.

The whole force of vitality in your body is dependent upon your animal electricity. When you lose that by draining the system in any manner my Belt will replace it, and will cure you.

E. M. CLARK, ATTERCLIFFE, ONT., writes me: I got one of your Belts, and I have never been sorry for doing so. As to its merits, I cannot speak too highly for the cure of all forms of weakness.

My plan is to restore youthful vigor, make men and women feel as they did in early days. I am doing it for thousands. Electricity is vital force, and I know how to apply it. You wear my appliance while you sleep. In the morning you feel a new lease of life.

Pains in your back, Rheumatism, Kidney, Liver and Stomach weaknesses, and debility or organic trouble, Varicocele, Lost Vitality, Female Weakness—all can be cured by this method. No drugs.

WM. HUGHES, 32 BOLTON AVENUE, TORONTO, says: I have been wearing one of your Belts for kidney trouble and rheumatism. The pain in the back is entirely gone. I am not troubled in this way at all now, and my general health is greatly improved.

SAYS ALD. LEBEUF SHOWED PARTIALITY

Police Investigation Committee Has a Lively Session.

PROMOTIONS ON THE FORCE

Ald. Ouimet Thinks There Was Too Much Delay — Ald. Lebeuf's Denial.

Chairman Lebeuf and the members of the Police sub-committee had to defend themselves at the meeting of the Police Committee yesterday afternoon from unwarranted and unjustifiable attacks from several quarters in which it was alleged that the chairman, especially, was administering the force with partiality, and insinuations, challenging his good faith in the manner in which the select squad of fifty constables had been made. These insinuations were subsequently, to a certain extent, concurred in by Aldermen Ouimet, Robillard and Lamarche who took exception to the delay which had occurred in the examinations and promotions in the force. The former Alderman held, moreover, that the chairman was administering the force,not only in an autocratic, but also in an unsatisfactory manner; that one half of the force was composed of superior officers, "corporals," he called them, who spent their time in the stations; who never went on outside duty, and claimed this was the reason the city was badly policed. At Stations eleven and fifteen there were five corporals over five constables. It was ridiculous. He had repeatedly asked for an enquete to investigate the administration of the force and the chairman had as repeatedly put him off with a promise of next week. "Is that not so," concluded the somewhat excited speaker?

"No, it is not so," emphatically replied the chairman.

"I say it is." replied Mr. Ouimet.

POOR RETURN FOR HARD WORK.

The chairman replied to the charges made, saying that it was a poor return for the hard work he and the sub-committee had performed in endeavouring to raise the morale of the force and in verbally examining 350 members of the force, to have these calumnies and base insinuations thrust at them. They were absolutely untrue and he defied any citizen of Montreal to prove that any unnecessary delay occurred in the examinations or promotions. As to the charges, concerning the administration of the stations, that had been left to Chief Legault, who had been given an entirely free hand in these matters.

The chairman believed Ald. Ouimet would have much difficulty in putting on paper what reforms were needed. The reason that no special meeting had been called was because Ald. Ouimet had not yet indicated what he wanted done. He himself had studied certain questions relating to the police and when these were completed he would lay them in form before the committee.

DIFFICULTY OF EXAMINATION.

Continuing, the chairman said there were perhaps a hundred men on the force who would not be able to pass better examinations six months hence than at present. He gave that instance to show the difficulty of examining 350 men, and doing it in a way to please everybody.

Ald. Lamarche—"That does not speak very highly for the force."

The chairman—"Well, if you compel me to speak I will tell you that there are probably to-day 150 members of the force who are not as well educated as they should be. Of these, there are fifty who could not read or write, and fifty who were not much better. In so far as I am concerned, all the men who were promoted were carefuly examined, and they may be retired for all I care. I have no interest in the matter. I don't care a fig about any one man more than another."

Ald. Stearns regretted the attack on the sub-committee. "We should," he said, "be very grateful for the work they have done in examining the men; as a matter of fact, we should show our confidence in them as I feel we are under a great debt of gratitude to them."

THE POLICE OVERCOATS.

The experts appointed to examine the Drolet, Dufour & Co. overcoats presented their report, which stated that while they were not absolutely up to sample, there was no great difference in the cloth or make. The account was consequently paid, $712.69 for 31 overcoats, and $1,468.28 for 227 pairs of trousers.

The report of the police captains on the number of cases reported to the Chief of illicit liquor selling, which had not been proceeded against, were laid on the table.

On the suggestion of Alderman Ames, it was decided to leave them over until Ald. Walsh, who had asked for them, and other members of the committee had taken communication of them. In the meantime they were to be considered confidential.

McGill Chemical Society.

The programme announced for the first regular meeting of the McGill Chemical Society included two papers, the first entitled: "Racemism and Atomic Motion," by Dr. J. Wallace Walker, and the second, "Native Arsenic Discovered at Montreal," by Mr. N. N. Evans. The meeting was held in the Macdonald Chemistry and Mining Building, with the President, Dr. B. J. Harrington, in the chair, and a large attendance of members. The first paper, embodying some of the results of Dr. Walker's recent researches upon Amygdalin, was listened to with much interest, and was followed by an animated discussion. An account of the lateness of the hour, the second paper was postponed till the next meeting.

A MISSIONARY MAP FOR CANADA PROPOSED BY EPISCOPAL SOCIETY.

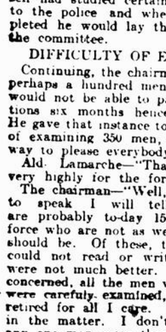
At the afternoon session of the Board of Mangement of the Church of England Missionary Society yesterday the Hon. S. H. Blake read a draft of the Epiphany appeal for foreign missions, which conta ned much information with respect to mission work in Japan, China, Persia, South America, and other countries. The Bishops of Saskatchewan and Calgary, and of Qu'Appelle, were appointed to draw up the Ascensiontide appeal for domestic missions. It was also decided to prepare a missionary map of the Dominion for circulation through Canada.

In the evening the board discussed the plan of operations drafted by the general secretary, Rev. L. N. Tucker, and also considered the relations which shall exist between the Missionary Society and the Women's Auxiliary, and the Canadian Church Missionary Society. The apportionment of the $75,000 needed for the work during the coming year among the different dioceses was also taken up, but the final division was left over until to-day.

Conferred With Canadian Pacific.

Mr. C. R. Flummesfer, general manager of the Granby Smelter at Grand Forks, B. C., was in the city to-day conferring, with the Canadian Pacific authorities. Both the Granby and the Trail Smelters are very active at present and additional furnaces are being built. A ready and profitable market is being obtained for the output.

BAD BLOOD



Reveals itself in many ways. Sometimes the impurities in the blood mark and mar the skin with blotches, pimples, boils or other eruptions. Sometimes the result of bad blood is rheumatism or a debilitated condition which is popularly described as "feeling played out, hardly able to drag myself around."

The impurities and poisons which corrupt the blood, clog the liver and cloud the skin are removed by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It does more than eliminate the poisons; it increases the activity of the blood-making glands so that there is an increased supply of pure, body-building blood. It brightens the eyes, cleanses the skin, and gives new, physical energy.

Accept no substitute for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"I thank God for the good your medicines have done me," writes Mr. James M. Sizemore, of Mitchell, Lawrence Co., Ind., Box 50. "I was not well for two years. My throat was always sore, head ached, and back ached nearly all the time. My weight was 155 pounds. I was taken sick with typhoid fever, and when the fever left me I had such a pain in my left side I could not breathe without pain. I thought I must die. My wife went to the drug store and procured a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and a vial of his 'Pleasant Pellets.' I discontinued the use of my doctor's medicine and began with the 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pellets.' I at once began to feel better: the pain soon left my side and I could breathe with ease. In a week or so I felt so good I could not stay in the room. I began to walk about the streets; I felt better each morning. After a month's use of the medicine I was well. That was over a year ago. Now I weigh 184 pounds and feel better than ever in my life."

THE PUPPET CROWN

BY HAROLD MACGRATH

THE GREAT ROMANTIC NOVEL

Together they left the hall. As they passed through the barroom Sadler looked questions, but refrained from asking them. Maurice put away the revolver. As they went out into the street he drew Kopf's arm within his own.

"What do you want?" asked Johann, savagely.

"First. What is your place in this affair?"

"What affair?"

"The abduction."

"I had nothing to do with it, Herr, on my honour. I was only a porter, and I supposed my errand was in good faith."

"How about the gentle push you gave me when the door opened? My friend, I'm no infant. Lies will do you no good. I know everything, and wish only to verify. You are a police spy, in the employ of the duchess." Maurice felt the arm draw, and bore down on it.

"If I was, do you suppose I'd fool my time on this side of the Thalians?" Johann shrugged.

"I'm not sure about that," said Maurice, puffing into Johann's face. "When cabinet ministers play spy, small fry like you will not cavil at the occupation. And you are not in their pay?" Johann glared. "I want to know," Maurice went on, "what you know; what you know of Colonel Beauvais, his plans, his messengers to the duchy, what is taking place underneath."

Johann's face cleared and a cunning light brightened his eyes. "If that is all you are after, I'll tell you. I'm a spy no longer; they have no more use for me, despite their promises. I'm to them off for quite."

"If that's all," repeated Maurice, "what did you think I wanted to ask you?"

Johann bit his lip. "I'm wanted badly by the chancellor, curse you, if you must know. I thought he might be behind you."

"Don't worry about that," said Maurice, to whom this declaration seemed plausible. "We'll talk as we go along."

And Johann loosened his tongue and poured into Maurice's ear a tale which, being half a truth, had all the semblance of straightforwardness. What he played for was time; to gain time and to lull his captor's suspicions. Maurice was not familiar with the lower town; Johann was. A few yards ahead there was an alley he knew, and once in it he could laugh at all pursuit. It might be added that if Maurice knew but little of the lower town, he knew still less about Johann.

Suddenly, in the midst of his narrative, Johann put his leg stiffly between his enemy's and gave a mighty jerk with his arm, with the result that Maurice, wholly unprepared, went sprawling to the pavement. He was on his feet in an instant, but Johann was free and flying up the alley. Maurice gave chase, but uselessly. Johann had disappeared. The alley was a cul de sac, but was lined with doors; and these Maurice hammered to ease his conscience. No one answered. Deeply disgusted with his lack of caution, Maurice regained the street, where he brushed the dust from his clothes.

"I'll take it out of his hide the next time we meet. He wasn't worth the trouble, anyway."

A sybil might have whispered in his ear that a very large fish had escaped his net, but Maurice continued, conscious of nothing save chagrin and a bruised knee. He resumed the piecing together of events, or rather he attempted to; very few pieces could be brought together. If Beauvais had the certificates, what was his object in lying to Madame? What benefit would accrue to him? After all, it was a labyrinth of paths which always brought him up to the beginning. He drooped his shoulders dejectedly. There was nothing left for him to do but return to the Red Chateau and inform them of the fruitlessness of his errand. He would start on the morrow. Tonight he wanted once more to hear the Land, to wander about the park, to row around the rear of the archbishop's garden.

"A fine thing to be born in purple—sometimes," he mused. "I never knew till now the inconveniences of the common mold." He tramped on, building chateaux en Espagne. That they tumbled down did not matter; he could rebuild in the space of a second, and each castle an improvement on its predecessor.

His attention was suddenly drawn away from this idle but pleasant pursuit. In a side street he saw twenty or thirty students surging back and forth, laughing and shouting and jostling. In the centre of the swaying mass canes rose and fell. It was a fight, and as he loved a fight, Maurice pressed his hat firmly on his head and veered into the side street. He looked around guiltily, and was thankful that no feminine eyes were near to offer him their reproaches. He jostled among the outer circle, but could see nothing. He stooped. Something white flashed this way and that, accompanied by the sound of low growls. A dog fight was his first impression, and he was on the point of leaving, for, while he secretly enjoyed the sight of two physically perfect men waging battle, he had not the heart to see two brutes pitted against each other, goaded on by brutes of a lower caste. But even as he turned the crowd opened and closed, and the brief picture was enough for him.

Her dog! And the students were beating it because they knew it to be defenseless. Her dog! toothless and old, who could not hold when his jaws closed on an arm or leg, but who, with that indomitable courage of his race, fought on and on, hopelessly and stubbornly.

He was covered with blood, one of his legs was hurt, but still the spirit burned. It was cowardly. Maurice's jaws assumed a particularly ferocious angle. Her dog. Rage choked him. With an oath he flung this student aside and that, fought his way to the centre. A burly student, armed with a stout cane, was the principal aggressor. Maurice doubled his fist and swung a blow which had one hundred and sixty pounds behind it, and it landed squarely on the cheek of the student, who dropped face downward and lay still. This onslaught was so sudden and unexpected that the students were confounded. But Maurice, whose plans crystallized in moments like these, picked up the cane and laid it about him.

The students swore and yelled and stumbled over one another in their wild efforts to dodge the vindictive cane. Maurice cleared a wide circle. The dog, half blinded by his blood and not fully comprehending this new phase in the tide of events, lunged at Maurice, who nimbly eluded him. Finally the opportunity came. He flung the cane into the yelling pack, with his left arm caught the dog about the middle, and leaped back into the nearest doorway. The muscles of his left arm were sorely tried; the dog considered his part in the fray by no means ended, and he tugged and yelped huskily. With his right hand Maurice sought his revolver, cocked and leveled it. There came a respite. The students had not fully recovered from their surprise, and the yells sank into murmurs.

"You curs!" said Maurice, panting. "Shame on you! and an old dog that can't defend himself! You knew he had no teeth."

"God save your Excellency!" laughed a student in the rear, who had not tasted the cane; "you may be sure we knew he had no teeth or we wouldn't have risked our precious calves. Don't let him scare you with the popgun, comrades. At him, my brave ones; he will be more sport than the dog! Down with the Osians, dogs, followers and all!"

"Come on, then," said Maurice, whose fighting blood was at heat. "Come on, if you think it isn't over. There are six bullets in this popgun, and I don't give a particular snap where they go. Come on!"

Whether or not this challenge would have been accepted remains unwritten. There now came on the air the welcome sound of galloping hoofs, and presently two cuirassiers wheeled into the street. What Maurice had left undone with the cane the cuirassiers completed with the flat of their sabers. They had had a brush with the students the night before, and they went at them as if determined to take both interest and principal. The students dispersed like leaves in the wind—all save one. He rose to his feet, his hands covering his jaw and a dazed expression in his eyes. He saw Maurice with the revolver, the cuirassiers with their sabers, and the remnant of his army flying to cover, and he decided to follow their example. The scene had changed somewhat since he last saw it. He slunk off at a zigzag trot.

One of the cuirassiers dismounted, his face red from his exertions.

"Eh?" closely scanning Maurice's white face. "Well, well! is it you, Monsieur Carewe?"

"Lieutenant von Mitter?" cried Maurice, dropping the dog, who by now had grasped the meaning of it all. "You came just in time!"

They shook hands.

"I'll lay odds that you put up a good fight," the Lieutenant said, pleasantly. "Drat these students! If I had my way I'd coop them all up in their pest-hole of a university and blow them into eternity."

"And how did the dog come in this part of the town?" asked Maurice, picking up his hat.

"He was with Her Royal Highness. This is charity afternoon. She drives about giving alms to the poor, and when she enters a house the dog stands at the entrance to await her return. She came out of another door and forgot the dog. Max there remembered him only when we were several blocks away. A dozen or so of those rascally students stood opposite us when we stopped here. It flashed on me in a minute way the dog did not follow us. And we came back at a cut, leaving her Highness with no one but the grodom. Max, take the dog to her Highness, and tell her that it is Monsieur Carewe who is to be thanked."

Maurice blushed. "Say nothing of my part in the fracas. It was nothing at all."

"Don't be modest, my friend," said the cuirassier, laughing while his comrade dismounted, took the dog under his cloak, and made off. "This is one chance in a lifetime. Her Royal Highness will insist on thanking you personally. O, I know Mademoiselle's caprices. And there's your hat, crushed all out of shape. Truly, you are unfortunate with your headgear."

"It's fit," said Maurice, slapping it against his leg. "No harm done to the hat. Well, good day to you, Lieutenant, and thanks. I must be off."

"Nay, nay!" cried the Lieutenant. "Wait a moment. There is a tide in the affairs of men, which, taken at the flood—' How does that line go? I was educated in England and speak English as I do my mother tongue—"

"Won't you let me go?" asked Maurice. "Look at my clothes."

"You ought to be thankful that they are dry this time. Come; you'll have a good story to carry back to Vienna. Princesses do not eat people."

"No," said Maurice.

"Ye gods, listen to that! one would think by the tone of your voice that you wished they did!"

There was no resisting this good humour, and Maurice wanted only an excuse to wait. He sat down on the steps, sucked the knuckles of his hand, and contemplated the grin on the cuirassier's face.

"I like you," said the Lieutenant: "I like your sangfroid. The palace is a dreadfully dull place, and a new face is a positive relief. I suppose you know that affairs here are bad; no honesty anywhere. Everybody has his hands tied. The students know this, and do as they please. Think of two hundred gendarmes in the city, and an affair like this takes place without one of them turning up!

"I tell you frankly that it is all I can do to withhold the edge of my sabre when I meet those students. Last night they held a noisy flambeau procession around the Hohenstaufenplatz, knowing full well that the king had had another stroke and quiet was necessary. They would have waked the dead. I have an idea that I forgot to use the flat of my sword: at least, the hospital report confirms my suspicions. Ah, here comes Max."

"Her Royal Highness desires to thank Monsieur Carewe, and commands that he be brought to her carriage."

Lieutenant von Mitter smiled, and Maurice stood up and brushed himself. The troopers sprang into the saddle and started on a walk, with Maurice bringing up behind on foot. The thought of meeting the princess, together with his recent exertions, created havoc with his nerves. When he arrived at the royal carriage, his usual coolness forsook him. He fumbled with his hat, tongue-tied. He stood in the Presence.

AMERICAN COMPANIES EAGERLY BUYING UP LAND IN CANADIAN WEST.

"Keen American capitalists are seizing the opportunity of organizing companies whose operations in the Canadian North-West will next year be felt in the increased prosperity."

Such is the opinion of Mr. Geo. Ham, of the Canadian Pacific literary bureau, who has just returned from a two months' business trip over the system extending to the Pacific. Land seekers are found everywhere, he says, hotels crowded and in some places accommodation obtained with difficulty. The activity in the towns and villages is remarkable and Winnipeg is fast approaching the boom period again and property values are everywhere increasing.

"The increase in the grain elevator capacity throughout the West will give an idea of the growth of the country. Ten years ago, it was equal to 8,000,000 bushels; last year it was 21,000,000; this year it is over 30,000,000, and this will be appreciably increased next year."

Mining in British Columbia is picking up and if the prospective market for zinc is assured, a boom in the Slocan district may be looked for. The fruit growers of the province are also finding a ready and profitable sale for their products in Manitoba and the Territories. In a word, he says:

"It would be utterly impossible for any person who has not been beyond Lake Superior this year to realize the wonderful progress that western Canada is making. Business is brisk in all lines, large parties of settlers are flocking in, land is being occupied in vast tracts, and there are no idle men, except those who don't want to work. In all my experience of Manitoba and the Territories, and it dates back to 1875, I never witnessed such evidences of prosperity there."

His Excellency Will Attend.

His Excellency has signified his intention of being present at the Academy of Music on Monday evening, the 17th, at which time Mr. Herbert Kelcey and Miss Effie Shannon will present "Sherlock Holmes." It is expected that the Governor-General will be accompanied by Lady Minto and some members of their suite.

A year ago, in haying time, William Sale, of Arcade, N.Y., lost a pocketbook containing $750. A few days ago he sold a load of hay to Ira Parker, of that town, who found the money in the middle of the load.

BRITISH ATTITUDE TOWARDS KAISER.

Vienese Opinion is That it Will Not Do Germany Any Harm.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 13. — The London Times Vienna correspondent says that while German Austrians display disappointment at the attitude of the British public toward the visit of the Kaiser, independent opinion inclines to the view that it will not do Germany any harm to be left out in the cold for a time and that it will benefit those who have had dealings with her, since Germany is always more accommodating when she receives the cold shoulder from the other powers.

It is thought nothing more than the cool politeness of keen business competitors is possible between England and Germany and that even that is difficult in face of the outbursts of Anglophobia, such as those recently filling the pages of German press, which were encouraged by the inconsiderate and far from friendly utterances of German statesmen. Any show of favour toward the Kaiser would be interpreted as an attempt to curry favour, resulting in a repetition of the old Bismarckian warnings of the pernicious influence of the English Royal family in German affairs.

AWAKENING OF AH SIN.

...fifty years or so the Western world ...nocking at the door of China in a per... effort to wake up the dwellers in ...t empire. Sometimes the knocking ...the form of a vigorous bombardment ...towns, sometimes of the capture of ...pital. China would sleepily enquire ...was the matter; and in silky tones ...ask the foreigner what he would ...to go away. It had no consuming de...for western goods, and with all its ...politeness could not be got to ex...any admiration for western ways or ...people. Certainly the latter had ...ships and more powerful guns and ...drilled soldiers, but all this did not ...interest John Chinaman, whose ...were of a peaceful kind, and who ...not be brought to look upon war as ...ation worthy of absorbing the high...alties and powers of a civilized na...h as he conceived his own to be. ...Europeans, however, continued to ...knock, and sometimes they would ...off a piece of Chinese territory and ...was their own; and they would al...ere or less insist that John needed ...goods, whether he knew it or not, ...he must therefore give European ...a chance to sell their valuable wares ...kingdom.

...process of wakening China was a ...w one; but a useful intermediary ...nd in Japan. That country had for ...me just as hard to wake as China; ...of a sudden it rubbed its eyes, took ...look at European civilization, and ...th emphasis: "That's what I want!" ...Japan, having laid in a large store of ...nations, went to war with its enor...but still slumbering neighbour, and ...it about pretty badly. This did ...awaken China than all the pre...hammering of the Europeans at its ...door. The Europeans saw their chance ...gan to talk of treaties, concessions, ...of influence and territorial compen...for this or that real or imagined ...Then a hum began to be heard ...vast hive; and soon it distinctly ...d that it was an angry hum. The ...movement was born; and "China ...for the Chinese!" began to be the cry. What followed we all know. The angry swarms defied the authority of their government, and began to sting the Western intruders, as they regarded them. Then Europe and America gathered their forces. Arms, discipline and military science prevailed over the rude tactics, imperfect armaments and but half developed military spirit of the Boxer forces. The dance for a time was a wild one; and in the end China had to pay the piper's bill which was huge.

But the hum has not ceased; it is a vaster and louder hum than before. It has an angry sound at times, but in the main it is the hum of awakened industry. The long effort of the Western world to arouse the slumbering east has been successful at last; and the East is beginning to find that it possesses powers of which it was not in the least aware. What is the compass of those powers is now the question. The Chinaman knew he was industrious and patient, and he more or less scorned what looked to him like the restless idleness of Europeans. He is beginning now to discover that he is resourceful and inventive as well, that he possesses powers of organization, that scientific methods are for him no less than for the Western invaders. An officer in the British army is quoted at stating that the Chinese arsenal at Yien-Tsin is manufacturing cannon and small arms which fall very little short of being as good as those of European manufacture, and this without any help from European supervision. An officer of the United States Government in a report addressed to the Secretary of Agriculture says that "the precision of movement; the concentration, the earnestness of application and the continual activity which are now exerted on the pettiest trifles cannot fail, when employed in the manufacture of articles which the white man wants, to have a marked influence upon the market supply of such goods."

He adds that the impression you get from daily converse with the Chinese is that you are "in the midst of millions of the most industrious, temperate and philosophically minded people in the world." The object of Europe in waking up Ah Sin was to get time to take a hand in a game (of commerce and manufactures) which he did not understand. Ah Sin has made up his mind to learn the game.

THE FOUNDATION OF GOOD MANNERS.

Amongst the duties which public opinion in the present day is disposed to require of public school teachers is the training of the rising generation in manners. The schools are more and more expected to be the source of all good things to those who receive instruction in them; but there seems to be a danger lest, in making such large demands of the schools, parents may be divesting themselves of some of their own responsibilities. Manners should, in the first place, be taught in the home; and the atmosphere of the school ought to be favourable to the establishment of proper social habits; but we doubt whether it is desirable to impose on the teachers any direct or formal instruction in what may be called the technique of manners. If a child is rude or coarse in manner he or she should be suitably admonished and instructed, and made to feel that such and such acts are below the level of conduct which it is desirable to maintain in the school. A simple reference to the golden rule will generally suffice on such occasions; for the rudest person does not enjoy rudeness on the part of others.

In a recent number of an educational journal we find a certain individual quoted as saying, "When my boys are old enough to go to high school or college, they are going where the teachers are first of all gentlemen." The sentiment is a good one if we understand the word "gentleman" in a right sense. Unfortunately the word has frequently been understood as signifying little more than a man with the manners of a limited and privileged class. In that sense a man may be a gentleman without being in the best sense a man. He may be a man without virtue and without any high sense of honour, except along conventional lines. A "gentleman" in that sense recognizes gambling debts as debts of honour, but feels perfectly free to defraud ordinary creditors if he can. In earlier days the character of a gentleman was something purely conventional. He was either a man of more or less noble birth, or else one upon whom some distinction had been imposed by the sovereign. A gentleman could not engage in trade, though he might prosecute the most infamous intrigues, without forfeiting his station in society. In early Canadian history the French King made an exception in favour of the half starving noblesse of this country, and permitted them to engage in trade without derogating from their rank.

This was the feudal idea of the gentleman; and it is by no means extinct in the world to-day. A later and better development of it is that which considers a gentleman as a thoroughbred man, one whose conduct, bearing, language and tone of thought show that he has lived in a large world and undergone the refining influences of good society, and whose character is as finely tempered as his manners—a man who instinctively shrinks from whatever is base, mean, vulgar or uncharitable. In this sense a gentleman sums up, we may say, all the good that can be accumulated in human nature.

It is vain, however, to expect too much of average humanity. Every one cannot walk in the high places of the earth; everyone cannot gather the rarest flowers of human culture; everyone cannot be a Damascus blade. There is just one thing that is open to all men for the dignifying of their lives and the elevation of their characters. They can look into "the perfect law of liberty," and catch a vision of the equality of human rights. Here is the one true and practical foundation for manners—a sense of our own rights and of the rights of our fellow men. What gives the aristocrat his easy manners is the enjoyment and practice of equality in the circle in which he moves. Where social life is intense social usages become established and thoroughly understood; hesitation and mauvaise honte are banished. That source of good manners is not only a restricted, but it is to-day a dwindling and much perturbed one. A better and wider school is wanted; and it is to be found in the cultivation of a sense of human worth and of a consciousness of the essential equality of all men. Timidity and bashfulness, and mealy mouthedness in all its forms are fatal to good manners; and so, on the other hand, are swagger and self assertion. The teacher who himself lives in an atmosphere of intellectual, moral and social freedom, and who will teach his scholars, mainly by example and silent influence, to live with one another upon terms of noble reciprocity in good offices and mutual consideration, will fully acquit himself of any responsibility he may have for the formation of their manners.

Signor Mascagni has been up against the Theatre Trust of the United States, because the Mittenthals and Krongberg were rash enough to outbid the magnates for the great composer's tour. Shut out of the attractive regular theatres, the company could not draw enough to pay the speculators. It is to be hoped that the Trust will not carry enmity so far as to deny to such cities as have not yet heard the Maestro, that excellent pleasure. It can seldom be surpassed, though an American critic did write of Mascagni's first performance in New York that he "failed to realize the intentions of the composer." This joke was taken seriously by an English paper, which devotes a good deal of space to explaining that Mascagni, being himself the composer in question, must have realized the composer's intentions!

The famous coat of Sir John Throckmorton is on exhibition at Newbury, England, for the benefit of a local museum. It was made in 1811, on Sir John's successful bet of one thousand pounds that he would wear to dinner at eight o'clock p.m., June 25th, a coat made from wool that had been on the back of sheep the same morning at five o'clock. Eleven hours after the shearing began the cloth was finished; two hours and a half later the coat had been completed in presence of 5000 people. Sir John won by an hour and a half. Probably the appliances for executing such a feat do not now exist, but then plenty of consolations for their supersession.

THE WIDOW COMES BACK.
RONDEAU.

"We marry them," I said, "but why?
Is it because their husbands die,
And we are sick of life? Or can
A widow hypnotize a man?
Why is it? Can you tell me? Try"

"Of course," she said, "we please the eye."
"Ah, yes, madame, but sometimes shy
Young girls a great coup d'oeil can plan—
We marry them."

"True," she replied, "I don't deny
That simple statement." I reply
To what you said when you began.
"Why do men marry widows?" Man—
They don't! Hear me—I testify:
We marry them."

A contemporary quotes the definition of "gimcrack" from the latest German dictionary. According to the author, it has four meanings, which translated into English, are "The handsome girl; The bad machine; The ordinary hand-shake; and A magician." If this sort of literature prevails in Germany, one need inquire no further into the causes of Anglophobia. Who but foes of the human race could speak such a tongue?

The New York detectives are an admirable body. Hearing that a gang of cardsharpers were arriving in New York, they boarded a boat and seized on the man whom their intelligence and experience indicated as the arch offender. He proved on inquiry to be an English detective. If a thief can best catch a thief in the Old World, in the New they set a detective to catch a detective.

THE COMPANY'S LOGIC.

An amusing extract from a Belgian paper gives the following incident:

A woman whose husband had lost his life in a railway accident received from the company ten thousand francs by way of compensation. Shortly after she heard that a traveller who had lost a leg had been paid twenty thousand. The widow at once put on her bonnet and shawl and went to the office of the company.

"Gentlemen, how is this?" she asked. "You give twenty thousand francs for a leg, and you allow me only ten thousand for the loss of my husband."

"Madam," was the reply, "the reason is plain. Twenty thousand francs won't provide him with a leg, but for ten thousand you can get a husband."

SURPRISED HIS WIFE.

(From the Omaha Mercury.)

A story is told of a Pennsylvania farmer who wore his old suit until everyone was tired of it, and his estimable wife was almost ashamed of the hustling man who had been inside it so long. But one day he went to town to sell his produce, and while there he determined to buy a new suit, and, happy thought, surprise Eliza. So he bundled a neat suit into the waggon and drove homeward.

It was after night as he hurried homeward, and at a bridge over a river he stood up on the waggon and "peeled" and threw the despised old suit in the water. Then he reached for his new clothes. They were gone—had jolted out of the waggon. The night was cold and his teeth chattered as he hurried home. He surprised Eliza even more than he anticipated.

Wasting Away.

Lack of fat in the food is the beginning of a wasting condition. So many people that we meet are thin and keep getting thinner. Perhaps there are some in your own family. Look for the cause and it is more than likely you will find that such people do not eat the fatty portions of their food. They either will not or cannot eat fat, and yet it is the absence of this element in their ordinary food that causes a wasting condition.

For such people we offer Scott's Emulsion as containing in the most palatable and easily digested form the element of fat they need. It supplies, and more than supplies, the lack of fat in ordinary food. A small quantity (a teaspoonful for a child and a tablespoonful for an adult three times a day) will enable the body to get the strength and proper fat supply that it needs.

Scott's Emulsion is cod liver oil so prepared that all of it is utilized by the system. Raw cod liver oil is not only repulsive to the taste but only a part of it is taken into the system the weakened organs being unable to digest it all.

The emulsion passes almost immediately through the stomach and into the blood. The stomach is scarcely aware of its presence there. It shows itself first in the nourishment it affords and the new strength that it gives. The weight gradually increases and the flesh becomes firmer. It is the return to health; the stopping of the wasting condition. Scott's Emulsion has supplied the elements of fat that the body needed.

It is not a question of how much you eat or can eat or even of appetite. It is rather what becomes of the food. Does it contain the proper nourishment and the right proportion of fat? If the food does you no good it does you harm, for digestion is work, and when the body is in a wasting condition the stomach must work to some purpose. Scott's Emulsion saves a great deal of this work, and what is more makes it effectual.

We place on every package of Scott's Emulsion our trade mark label of a man with a big fish on his back. It is our personal guarantee that the emulsion is right in every respect. If this label is missing you are not getting the genuine Scott's Emulsion, which means that you are not getting the full value of the oil or the kind of a preparation you need.

We'll send you a sample free upon request.

The Late Madame Marechal.

The death of Madame L. T. Marechal, which occurred last evening after a short illness, will be deeply regretted by a large and influential circle of relatives and friends. Madame Marechal was a daughter of Hon. C. B. de Boucherville, ex-Prime Minister of Quebec, and of his deceased wife, Dame Celeste Lanvier. Married but a few years to Mr. Marechal, the well-known advocate, she was cut off in the very prime of life in the midst of happy surroundings, beloved and respected far and wide. The deceased leaves, besides her husband, a little daughter two years of age, to mourn her loss.

...S STRONG PLEA FOR FREE SCHOOLS

Mr. D. A. Ansell Points Out Defects in Educational System.

PROVINCE IN A BAD WAY

Claimed That Present Indifference Will Result in Much Crime and Ignorance.

In speaking on the subject of compulsory education and free schools yesterday, Mr. D. A. Ansell, of the Baron de Hirsch Institute, who for many years has given much study to the subject, said to a representative of the Star:

"It seems to me that the cardinal question we have to face in this province to-day is, 'Are the children living in this country and the immigrant children which are daily coming to us from other countries to be educated or not?' The wailing cry among the educationalists and Government officials to-day is 'We have no money to defray the expenses of educating the young.' And this same lament, this same complaint, this same excuse for non-fulfilment of obligations resting on the Government has been heard year by year for goodness knows how long. I am thoroughly exasperated at the condition of educational affairs in this province. Every day of my life I see the results of the evil policy which the Government is pursuing. Children all around me are becoming bad citizens, menaces to the State, and criminals, simply for want of proper education.

"I have been working for years now in the cause of humanity and the children, and apparently I am to see no change in the condition of affairs as they have existed in this province for years back. Had the country devoted the money it has spent and is spending in trying to solve the insoluble prohibition question to the education of the young, the investment would have been a patriotic and a paying one. To me, it looks as if the money was now being squandered, as the prohibition problem is one that will never be solved satisfactorily.

THE IMMIGRATION POLICY.

"Do Governments send to other countries for immigrants in order that their children may grow up in ignorance? What inducement does this province present to a foreigner with respect to education? Does the province do anything to check the terrible disease of illiteracy, and the train of diseases that follow in its wake? Is it my place as an old citizen of this province to beg the Government to do something for the educational system of the province? Is it not the Government's duty to see that every child in this province shall receive at least an elementary education without appeals from individual citizens?

"The present policy of the Government with respect to education is going to have fearful results. Children are now growing up in crime and sin who should be going to school. In after years these children are going to curse the country for its failure to provide them with an adequate education. Thus the seeds of anarchy and disloyalty are being unconsciously sown to-day by the failure of the Government to provide free schools and compulsory education.

LACK OF SUFFICIENT MONEY.

"To meet the present difficulty—that is, the difficulty under which the Roman Catholic and Protestant School Boards are labouring, namely, the lack of sufficient money to educate the children of Quebec—I would suggest that the Government levy a special tax, which would result in such an increase in revenue for school purposes as would make certain the education of all those who presented themselves to the Roman Catholic and Protestant Boards for admission to their schools. Having no compulsory schools in the province of Quebec, it becomes the duty of the Government to see that the children receive such an education as will transform them into honest, zealous citizens and fervent patriots, in other words, that will make them worthy citizens of this great Canada of ours, and worthy of the grand future that this country offers to all who will assist in building it up.

THEY WILL NOT PAY.

"I am aware that large numbers of parents will not pay for the education of their children. Although condemning the conduct of such parents, I would ask, 'Are we, even in that event, to allow the helpless young ones to suffer? Are we to transform the children of truth into the children of sin?' It is a criminal action on the part of the Government to allow those who wish to be educated to grow up in ignorance. Were our children properly cared for and educated there would not be so many criminals in our reformatories and prisons. The lack of education and the apathy of the Government in providing adequate education for the young are stocking our reformatories and our gaols with what under other circumstances would be the flower of Canadian manhood and honest and reputable citizens.

IS A PATRIOTIC WORK.

"To educate the children of this country, or those of any other country, is a patriotic work. To make a child a real patriot and a useful citizen is a duty incumbent on the State. To do so, however, it is necessary that he should be educated. The child should be taught loyalty, not only to the Sovereign, who rules the destinies of Great Britain, but also a deep and abiding sentiment of Canadian patriotism. Affection for the Fatherland by no means excludes love for the land of one's adoption. Tradition dictates the former, gratitude ordains the latter. I know of nothing that tends so much to promote loyalty, to foster true patriotism, as education.

"I fail to see how under present conditions—that is, under the dual school system—compulsory education can be brought about in this province. But there is nothing to prevent us from having free schools if the school tax is increased. Therefore increase it!"

Bell Cow A. A. A. Entertainment.

The Bell Cow A. A. A. gave its first entertainment Tuesday night in Drummond Hall to a crowded house. The dramatic section presented "The Doctor" in good style. The leading role was in the hands of Thos. J. Duggan who handled it creditably and was warmly applauded by the audience. "Mrs. Billowshy, the unhappy mother-in-law," was in the hands of Miss Rita Lasca, who also played her part well. Ab. Metcalfe and F. Ben Sutton portrayed the part of Chuggs and Plunger, and kept the audience in good humour from the rise of the curtain to the finish. Mr. Chas. McClenaghan depicted the role of Thomas Picton and Miss Libbie Tasse and Margaret Johnston, as Effie and Fannie Mayfair, made a decided hit. During the evening Miss Genevieve Glycie creditably rendered a solo Messrs. Chas. Anderson and J. Hardman in duetts were also heard to advantage.

Lachine Company Had Small Fire.

Many business places and private dwellings were in darkness for a short time last evening as a result of a fire which broke out in the Lachine Company's power house at the corner of McCord and Seminary streets. The blaze got headway on the main floor, but was quickly extinguished by the firemen.

JOHNSTON GUILTY OF CONSPIRACY

Jury Only Took Two Minutes to Find Verdict in C. P. R. Case

RECOMMENDATION TO MERCY

Prisoner Was Evidently Much Disappointed at the Result — The Judge's Charge.

It took the jury less than two minutes, at six o'clock last evening, to decide that H. G. Johnston is guilty of conspiracy to defraud the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, by selling secret information to the company's conductors.

The trial lasted three days and was one of the most interesting to railroad men that has taken place here in some years. Johnston seemed dazed at the verdict and sank back into his seat in the dock as though he had received a heavy blow.

Mr. Quinn's address to the jury was a clever arraignment of all the witnesses but he did not upset in any way the facts which had been brought to light. His chief argument was that King had acted untarily to a brother employe and that if Johnston had erred, at all, he had been led into doing what he did. Mr. Quinn did not agree with the methods adopted by the detectives but Mr. Cook's argument, and the summing up of His Lordship put a different complexion on the case.

The Crown Prosecutor complimented both the Canadian Pacific Special service and the Thiel Detective Service operatives for the honesty and care with which they had collected the evidence which clearly showed the guilt of the accused. Mr. Cooke pointed out for instance that one of the Thiel men had stated that in one of his "shadows" he had heard Johnston and another man talking in a room, he being on the street, and that one of them said to the other that he had been told that Conductor Reynolds had told Conductor Cerlin that they could check his train whenever they liked and as often as they liked. This had been attacked by Mr. Quinn who asked if such a thing were at all likely, yet, when Conductor Reynolds was called, he declared in very emphatic language that he had told Carlin that they could check his train whenever they liked and as often as they liked. Such a class of detective work was conclusive beyond all question. Mr. Cooke put the links together and asked for a conviction.

REVIEWED THE EVIDENCE.

Mr. Justice Hall reviewed the evidence in a most impartial manner. His Lordship gave an impression to his hearers that he saw no other course open to the jury than to bring in a verdict of guilty. When he suggested that justice might be tempered with mercy and a strong recommendation to mercy might accompany a verdict, there seemed to be a feeling of relief come over the jury, and when they reached their room they were unanimous in favour of "guilty, with a strong recommendation to mercy."

RECIPROCITY TREATY AND CANADIAN TRADE

Some Montreal Merchants Fear Premier Bond's Arrangement.

BIG TRAFFIC IN FLOUR

Treaty Between Newfoundland and United States May Disarrange Many Things.

The ultimate effect upon Canadian trade of the reciprocity treaty between Newfoundland and the United States, should the same receive the ratification of the United States Senate, is troubling the Canadian merchants a good deal at the present time.

The Canadian trade with Newfoundland in flour, butter, cheese, peas, oats and cattle is no inconsiderable item, and there appears a very general idea among the merchants of Montreal, interested in this trade, that the treaty now under consideration in Washington is likely to be detrimental to Canadian interests.

There are others, however, who are of the opinion that the treaty will leave Canada on an even footing with the United States. The differential duties being taken off as regards all goods entering Newfoundland from England and British colonies, would leave the Dominion on an even footing, but should the treaty be as broad or broader than the Bond-Blaine treaty, which was rejected, there will be trouble ahead for the Canadian merchants. Up to the present time no draft of the treaty has been made public, so it is impossible for the Canadian merchants to gauge the situation with any accuracy.

LARGE FLOUR SHIPMENTS.

The shipment of flour from Canada, and particularly from the port of Montreal, to St. John's, Newfoundland, is very large, indeed, running, according to Montreal merchants, considerably over 200,000 barrels per year. A good share of this flour, however, is of American manufacture, which can be shipped during the summer season at a cheaper rate from Montreal than from an American sea port.

The present duty on flour collected by the Newfoundland Government is 25 cents per barrel, and this is the maximum rate allowed by the old Bond-Blaine treaty.

Following are the imports received at St. John's, Newfoundland, between the 1st of January and the 9th of October of this year, the greater portion being from Canada:

CHAMBRE TO INTERVIEW NEW MINISTER AS TO NAVIGATION SCHOOL

At the meeting of the Chambre de Commerce yesterday, Mr. Emile Leonard, M.P. for Hochelaga, sought the influence of the chambre to have the market by-laws amended so as to afford the public and truckisters alike more accommodation. The market he claimed to be badly congested.

Ald. H. Laporte was in favour of taking the matter up and it was arranged to have a meeting with delegates of the adjoining municipalities to discuss the matter, and finally to approach the City Council.

Mr. J. X. Perrault suggested that the Government should be approached with a view of the establishment of a school of navigation here, and it was decided to send a deputation to interview the newly-appointed Minister on the subject.

The new members admitted to the chamber were: Messrs. J. Israel Tarte, J. H. Leclair, J. E. Lecours, Thomas O'Farrell, N. Tetrault, Arthur E. Gohier, Ant. Laurence, R. P. Lajeunesse, Jos. H. Plouffe, D. Ouimet, Ed. Fortin, F. W. Heath, Chas. Fortier, Charles Ledoux, F. J. Pelletier, J. Maillet, A. C. Lalonde, Dr. Eudore Dubeau, Edward Ouilette, J. E. Clement, J. Sieyes, Raoul Lacroix, J. Z. Resther, L. A. Boyer, Wilfrid Seers, C. A. Parmeault.

PROF. LEGER INAUGURATES LAVAL LECTURE COURSE.

Before a large audience at Laval University, last evening, M. Augustin Leger, the new Professor of French Literature, successfully inaugurated a series of lectures on French literature of the seventeenth century.

Mgr. Racicot, administrator of the diocese, presided and around him were to be noticed Canon Archambault, vice-chancellor of the University; Mr. Justice Lorange, Hon. J. I. Tarte, Hon. F. L. Beique, Hon. Horace Archambault, F. D. Monk, T. C. Casgrain, Hon. L. O. Taillon, J. D. Rolland, Rev. G. Bourassa. The students of the university occupied the gallery.

In handling his subject, M. Leger showed that he possessed the qualifications of a talented professor. A thorough knowledge of the matter he had to treat with, and, above all, the power to place it in such a way before his hearers that there would not be any difficulty in grasping the main points. Although by no means a forcible speaker, M. Leger is a very neat and finished conversationalist.

In taking up his subject the lecturer pointed out that the seventeenth century had been a critical one in the history of French literature. A new style of literature was introduced. The classics which up to that time had been followed very closely were somewhat abandoned and some radical changes made. On this account he thought that it would be particularly interesting to study the characteristics of the writers of that century and not their influence on the writers who came after them. M. Leger then outlined the course he would follow and announced that on Wednesday, November 26, his subject would be St. Francois of Sales.

Female Disorders.

For the past two years I have been afflicted with female troubles. I had serious bladder disorder; inflammation would set in and I would suffer intensely. Sometimes I could not urinate and the pain was so severe I could not sleep at night. I always had heavy bearing-down back and womb pains. I went to the hospital for three months, paid two visits a week but got no relief. I was advised to try Powley's Liquified Ozone and before I had finished the first bottle I began to feel better. I have taken in all three bottles and now I am quite well.

MRS. JOHN WAY,
39 Church St., Verdun, Montreal.

There may be a better way of curing female ailments than by Ozone, we don't believe there's a quicker or safer method or one that gives such permanent beneficial results. Powley's Liquified Ozone is peculiarly adapted for disorders of the mucous membrane. If you try it once you will make use of it regularly.

REMARKABLE SUCCESS
Of a New Catarrh Cure.

A large and constantly increasing majority of the American people are catarrh sufferers. This is not entirely the result of our changeable climate, but because modern investigation has clearly proven that many diseases, known by other names, are really catarrh. Formerly the name catarrh was applied almost exclusively to the common nasal catarrh, but the throat, stomach, liver, bladder, kidneys and intestines are subject to catarrhal diseases as well as the nasal passages.

In fact, wherever there is mucous membrane there is a feeding ground for catarrh. The usual remedies, inhalers, sprays, douches or powders, have been practically failures, as far as anything more than temporary relief was concerned, because they simply dry up the mucous secretions, without having the remotest effect upon the blood and liver, which are the real sources of catarrhal diseases.

It has been known for some years that the radical cure of catarrh could never come from local applications, but from an internal remedy, acting on the blood and expelling the catarrhal poison from the system.

A new internal preparation which has been on the market only a short time, has met with remarkable success as a genuine, radical cure for catarrh.

It may be found in any drug store, sold under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, large pleasant tasting lozenges, composed principally of antiseptic ingredients, Blood-root, Red Gum and similar catarrh specifics.

Dr. Ainslee in speaking of the new catarrh cure says: "I have tried the new catarrh remedy, Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, upon thirty or forty patients with remarkable satisfactory results. They clear the head and throat more effectually and lastingly than any douche or inhaler that I have ever seen, and although they are what is called a patent medicine and sold by druggists, I do not hesitate to recommend them as I know them to be free from cocaine and opiates, and that even a little child may use them with entire safety."

Any sufferer from nasal catarrh, throat or bronchial trouble, catarrh of the stomach, liver or bladder will find Stuart's Catarrh Tablets remarkably effective, pleasant and convenient, and your druggist will tell you they are absolutely free from any injurious drug. 247 Send

CAPE LOYALISTS COMPLAIN

Because Disloyal Dutch Keep Their Rifles.

LONDON, November 13.—The Times's Cape Town correspondent says that a motion by a progressive member of the Cape Town Parliament to prevvide a continuance of the maintenance of district mounted troops for guarding towns, raised in Capo Colony in 1901, has been shelved.

The correspondent says that there is considerable feeling caused by the disarming and disbanding of these forces, as it is notorious that in the vicinity of Kimberley the disloyal Dutch retain their rifles, while the loyalists who served during the war are compelled to give theirs up.

The Peace Preservation Act, which is a dead letter in many of the districts, prohibits all persons from bearing arms. The Progressives want an act passed allowing all approved persons to keep their rifles on registration.

The Hawaiian Elections.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 13.—The recent election in the territory of Hawaii resulted in a sweeping Republican victory. Prince Kalanianaole, popularly known as "Prince Cupid," was elected delegate to Congress over Robert W. Wilcox, the incumbent and Democratic candidate, by a marjority of over 2,000.

The Legislature will be almost entirely Republican.

The election, it is thought by Republicans, marks the end of the home rule party and a division of the voters along the lines of Republicanism and Democracy, as on the mainland.

A Scarlet Fever Serum.

(Brooklyn Eagle.)

If Dr. G. A. Charlton, a member of the medical faculty of McGill University, of Montreal, is not mistaken, the profession of which he is a distinguished member may be equipped hereafter with a new weapon against disease as efficacious in its relation to the treatment of scarlet fever as anti-toxin has proved to be in cases of diphtheria. Dr. Charlton thinks he has discovered a serum which promises to neutralize the effects due to the presence of a malignant microbe in the system of patients in the more dangerous stages of fever. So far his experiments have met with unqualified success, and, therefore, the publication of all the details connected with his discovery is naturally awaited with interest. A scarlet fever serum is said to have been found lately by an Austrian physician, but whether it is produced by the same methods followed by Dr. Charlton is unknown. The credit due to the Montreal man will, however, not be lessened because he cannot claim priority either in experimentation or achievement.

Payment now insists that the Board of Health shall have the right to exercise a veto power, and has succeeded in getting a resolution through requiring Miss Ritchie to submit for the consideration of the board her nominees.

THE RUSSIAN FLAG HAD NO PLACE.

Therefore Count Cassini Did Not Attend Banquet in New York.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

NEW YORK, November 13.—Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, did not attend the banquet of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday. Instead he sent a note of regret. It was remarked that while the flags of Great Britain, France and Germany bore a conspicuous place with the American flag on the first page of the menu, that of Russia was omitted. The Count declined to attend the banquet because he felt his country had been slighted by the omission of the Russian colours from the menu card, and also by the omission of any reference to Russia in the text of the souvenir programme. The Count's name and full title appeared on the official list of guests, next after that of Jules Cambon, who led the list, and ahead of the name of Sir Michael Herbert.

PHILADELPHIA MAN SEIZED FOR PERJURY

Abraham Leonard Pleaded Guilty To-day Before Judge Lafontaine.

RAPID TRANSIT CO'S TROUBLES

Philadelphia Corporation Has Had a Unique Experience in Fighting Frauds.

Abraham Leonard, alias Joe Davis, of Philadelphia, was arrested to-day on a charge of perjury, at the instance of the Rapid Transit Company, of Philadelphia.

Detective James O'Keefe, of this city, accompanied by Inspector H. G. Silcox and Officer Brown, of the Philadelphia Company's staff, found the young man on St. Maurice street, and took him into custody.

He was brought before Magistrate Lafontaine, and pleaded guilty. He will not be extradited, however, for two weeks, as the law demands that this interval shall elapse between the commitment and extradition of a prisoner.

The charge of perjury is based upon the evidence given by the young man, who is twenty-two years of age, in a case taken by his sister, Mrs. Sarah Brown, for $10,000, against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. The accident on which she based her action was supposed to have happened on March 15th, 1900, at the corner of 37th and Spruce streets, Philadelphia. She alleged that as was on an east bound Angora car and has been thrown to the ground through premature starting of the car. She claimed that she had suffered permanent injury, and claimed $10,000 damages. At the trial she gave evidence, and stated that she had disinterested witnesses who were unknown to her.

She cited a man named Maurice Goldberg alias Blenda, to support her evidence. He is polularly supposed to be a brother of Czolgo, the assassin of the late President McKiley. He refused to state whether or not he ore that relationship to the executed murderer. Goldberg swore that he had never known the plaintiff before he witnessed the accident. The company had information to the fact that he was an intimate friend of hers and had visited her house for a years before the supposed accident. A woman who gave her name as Bertha Leourd also gave evidence of the accident, and said she did not know the plaintiff, whereas she was her sister-in-law. A sister of the plaintiff gave the name of Jennie Cohen. The prisoner here now, Abraham Leonard, likewise testified that he was a perfect stranger to the plaintiff, who was really his sister.

WHOLE CROWD SKIPPED OUT.

After two days' hearing the plaintiff was called to the box to say whether or not she was related to he witnesses. She refused to speak and on that night the whole crowd skipped out of town. She went to New York, whence they were extradited. The others have been arrested at different times. Jennie Cohen was arrested when she came to take part in he Passover festivities, at Philadelphia, last April. All confessed the perjury and gave detailed evidence of the plan. Sarah Brown threw herself from the car according to reconcerted arrangement, and had taken by relatives and friends to the spot to make an investigation of the circumstances, so that they could swear to the facts.

ONE OF SERIES OF CASES.

The officers here for the company state that this is only one of a series of cases taken against the company under like circumstances. During the last eighteen months, thirty-eight persons have been arrested for similar crimes in connection with damage suits. Thirt-five sworn confessions are now in the hand of the officers. Whole families were engage in fooling the company. Four grown women and three children were arrested ad confessed to having repeatedly thrown themselves from cars, simulating serious injry. The cases were settled for small amounts and criminal prosecutions instituted.

William Doran, an acrobat formerly in the P. T. Barnum circus, was arrested in New York, a few weeks ago, and sent down for two years. He had acquired the habit of standing out in the street, and allowing the car to strike him when he vaulted away and was picked up. Some other man was put to bed, ad Doran went to work on another case. So many damage suits came in that the company is forced to employ a large staff of expert detectives to trace the circumstances of every accident.

NAVIGATION SCHOOL AND ITS INCEPTION

Chairs Will Be Founded in the Various Canadian Universities.

INTEREST IN NEW PROJECT

Hon. Mr. Prefontaine Leaves To-morrow for Survey of the St. Lawrence Route.

The announcement made by Hon. Raymond Prefontaine last night that he would favour the establishment of a school of navigation, has caused considerable discussion in all quarters.

It is said that the plan contemplated by the Minister of Marine and Fisheries is the subsidizing of the existing institutions of education, in order that they may add navigation experts and professors of kindred subjects, to their staffs. Thus, one of the Toronto Universities would have a chair of navigation, McGill and Laval here would also found chairs, while some college in the Maritime Provinces, probably Dalhousie University at Halifax, would receive the students from that section of the country. These places would form the bases for the education of sailors just as the military colleges train soldiers. The Minister is said to be studying the matter carefully, and is expected to make a more definite announcement within a short time.

Hon. Raymond Prefontaine leaves to-morrow on the steamship Frontenac to make a survey of the St. Lawrence. He will be accompanied by Mr. Cowie, of the Department of Public Works, and Lt.-Col. Anderson, of the Department of Marine and Fisheries. The fact that the boat belongs to Public Works and that the two officials accompanying him belong to different departments is significant. It shows that the two departments, if not conducted by one man, are at least working in close harmony.

STREET RAILWAY AND OVERCROWDING

Management Orders Cars Already Filled Not to Stop.

Once more the Montreal Street Railway is taking up the question of overcrowded cars, and will endeavour to mitigate the evil. Orders are being issued to the conductors not to stop for passengers after a car has received its proper quota of passengers.

The management anticipates a drove of "kickers," when the order is put into effect, and "the-car-wouldn't-stop-for-me correspondent," will no doubt be very much in evidence. Mr. Fred L. Wanklyn, general manager of the Montreal Street Railway, stated, however, that they intended to persist, as it was the only manner of getting over the difficulty.

There are sufficient cars to carry the people, but they cannot all go in one direction at the same time, so people will simply be obliged to wait.

CITIZENS MUST DO THEIR SHARE.

Mr. Wanklyn states that the citizens must be prepared to do their share to reduce this daily crush by using some judgment and not a little patience. Nearly every one is always anxious to take the first car which looms in sight irrespective of the fact that it may be followed by two or three more of the same line, all within a few feet of each other. This occurs on St. James street and other thoroughfares every afternoon, the foremost cars travelling up Beaver Hall and Windsor streets filled to the limit, while directly behind will be other cars with barely any one in them.

LACK OF VENTILATION.

Regarding the complaint of lack of ventilation, Mr. Wanklyn states that when passengers wish the fan-light open all they have to do is tell the conductor. The conductors are, as a rule, intelligent men, but are not mind readers, and it is impossible for them to know whether people want the fan-light open or closed. Mr. Wanklyn further states that, as fast as renewals are made, the Prouse ventilating and heating stoves are being placed in the motorman's vestibule. This ensures a current of warmed fresh air directly from out of doors.

SLATER SHOE STORE DISCOVERED IN FLAMES EARLY THIS MORNING

There was a fire in the Frank W. Slater shoe store, at 249 St. James street, at 8 a. m. to-day, and did damage to the extent of about $1,000.

It started in the ceiling of the store and worked its way through to a private office on the next flat occupied by Mr. Slater. The office furniture was badly damaged. The fire was a lively one while it lasted. When one of the clerks opened the store in the morning he was greatly surprised at finding the rear portion of the establishment in flames. He immediately sent in an alarm to the fire department and the central division responded.

A couple of lines of hose were connected and after a few minutes fighting they got the fire under their control. Captain Taylor and the men of No. 2 station spread rubber covers over the stock and this prevented a heavy water damage. The cause of the fire is unknown. There had not been any fire in the stove for some time.

Mr. Slater thinks it may have been caused by rats. The burning of the boots and rubbers made a strong odour and the store was full of smoke when the firemen arrived on the spot. The work of the firemen was well directed and what might have been a big conflagration, had not the clerk arrived when he did, was avoided. The damage is fully covered by insurance and the business will be continued just as soon as the insurance inspectors make their report.

NATIONALISTS' ACTION RE EDUCATIONAL BILL DENOUNCED BY A PRIEST

"Although in favour of Home Rule for Ireland, I would denounce the action of the Nationalist party in the British House of Commons with regard to the Education Bill as a disgrace to the country."

The speaker was Rev. Richard Carr, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Compassion, Liverpool, Eng., who was at the Windsor to-day. He is accompanied by his brother Rev. Wilfrid Carr, who is pastor of St. Bartholomew's Church, Liverpool. They have just concluded a pleasure trip through Canada and New England.

Blaze at W. D. Stroud & Sons.

A fire broke out at 10.44 a.m. to-day in the wholesale tea house of W. D. Stroud & Sons, 33 St. Sacrament street. The blaze was noticed before it had made much headway, and a telephone message was sent in to the department. The central division was soon on the spot, and the flames were quickly extinguished. Only a small quantity of tea was destroyed. The fire originated in the vicinity of the chimney.

ARMY RESERVISTS SAIL FOR CANADA

A Batch of Thirty-Five on the Steamer Lake Ontario.

ARE SEEKING NEW HOMES

They Have Taken Advantage of Sir Alfred Jones' Generous Offer of Cheap Passages.

The steamer Lake Ontario is bringing out the first batch of South African Reservists who are seeking a home and suitable employment in Canada.

After the war great difficulty was found in providing berths for the unusual number of army Reservists who were discharged from military associations. Their employes found it impossible to keep their positions open, owing to the unusually long duration of the war, and a number of Reservists have been wandering about the large towns of England unable to obtain employment. Many lost the associations they had with former firms, and they have been in considerable peril of sinking in the social scale.

Sir Alfred Jones, who has an eye to pity and a heart for melting charity, has noticed these otherwise capable men wandering about wearily and listlessly, and has been moved to action on their behalf. He arranged to give special facilities to likely men, in the way of reduction of fares and other advantages. The result was that a first contingent consisting of 35 men left Liverpool on the Lake Ontario of the Elder, Dempster Beaver Line on November 4th.

The men looked strong, says the Liverpool Post, and have all the capabilities which are wanted to become good colonists. The hope of some definite programme in their lives seems to have brought back all their manliness of character. There were no lighter footsteps up the gangway of the Lake Ontario than those exhibited by the Reservists on their departure from "The Gate of the West."

Sir Alfred's kindness was spoken of with much enthusiasm, and his gift of 1lb. of tobacco to each of the Reservists was most cordially welcomed.

RUDDER CHAIN SNAPPED— SS. QUEBEC NOW ASHORE IN VICINITY OF VARENNES

The steamer Quebec of the R. and O. Navigation Company, which left Quebec for this city between four and five o'clock yesterday afternoon, ran aground this morning near Varennes, owing to a break in the chain connecting the wheel with the rudder.

The passengers, 30 in number, were subsequently transferred to the Terrebonne and brought to the city.

Tugs were then despatched to the relief of the Quebec, but up to two o'clock this afternoon, the vessel had not been pulled off.

The company is in hopes, however, of having the vessel in port this afternoon.

The spot where the Quebec ran aground is probably two miles distant from the ships channel.

One of the passengers, who has since reached the city, says the accident was due to the snapping of the steering geer under the pressure of a swift current and a heavy head wind. The passengers, he says, felt the shock of the grounding, but no panic resulted therfrom. When the Terrebonne passed up on her regular trip those on board who wished to get to the city at once were transferred to that vessel.

The passenger stated that when he left the Quebec it was lying in very shallow water, so much so that the normal water line was two feet above the surface of the water.

NO ADDITION ALLOWED TO BILL OF PARTICULARS IN EAST WARD CASE

Mr. Justice Langelier made an important prouncement in connection with the East Ward contestation to-day.

He dismissed a motion made by Mr. S. Beaudin to allow three or four cases to be added to the bill of particulars. These are cases of which the petitioners learned only during the hearing. A man named Charland swore yesterday that he had received $5 for the use of his cab election day. That evidence cannot be used, however, because it is not contained in the bill of particulars.

"As the contestation of municipal elections is now provided for by the new charter," remarked the judge, "it is practically impossible to contest an election."

The provisions of the charter demand that after the petition and plea have been produced, the petitioner must furnish a bill of particulars. The law does not allow the examination of the defendant before the filing of particulars as does the Election Act in cases of parliamentary elections. The consequence is that it is practically impossible for the petitioner to make a case unless he has specific and detailed information of the acts of corruption before he takes his action.

The defendant will produce his witness today, when the case will probably be argued.

$75,000 NOW WANTED FOR MISSIONS BY THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND.

The members of the Church of England in Canada will be asked to contribute $75,000 to the cause of missions next year.

This decision was reached at to-day's session of the Board of Management of the Board of Missions of the Anglican Church in Canada.

The $75,000 will be raised by the several dioceses of the Dominion, and the basis on which the apportionment will be made will be so arranged as not to bear too heavily on any one diocese. In making the apportionments the contributions of each diocese in the past to the mission fund, and the population of each diocese, will be taken into consideration.

A circular will shortly be issued showing the amount that will have to be raised by each individual diocese.

Brought Budd From Toronto.

High Constable Bissonnette returned from Toronto last night having in charge Benjamin C. Budd, wanted here for the past year in connection with a charge of defrauding Mayor Beck, of London, Ont., who owns a cigar box manufacturing establishment in Montreal. It is charged that he is short in his accounts to the extent of $800. He appeared before Judge Lafontaine to-day and pleaded not guilty. The enquete will take place next week.

Ex-Inspector Lapointe's Case.

The action of ex-Inspector Lapointe against the Police Benevolent Association was continued until Monday next, after the hearing of the greater number of the witnesses. On Monday, before the argument, Mr. Recorder Weir and former Chief of Police Hughes will be heard, but their evidence will be very short, so that the case will probably be argued on the same day.

GENERAL MOLINEUX SPENT ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND.

Question Now Arises Was Mrs. Adams Killed by a Decomposed Drug?

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

NEW YORK, November 13.—General Molineux spent about $100,000 defending his son. He still has a fortune estimated as $200,000. He intends to resume business as a colour maker, and believes he will be able to recoup the amount spent on the two trials. Roland says he can never repay his father, but intends to do what he can in that direction.

With the acquittal of Molineux has again arisen the question whether Mrs. Katherine Adams was murdered, or was she the victim of a drug, harmless when pure, but poisonous when decomposed, or after having been kept under improper conditions. Outside of Barnet and Mrs. Adams, whose deaths were attributed to cyanide of mercury, one of very few persons known to have presented similar symptoms, was Miss Ida Halporn, who recovered. Miss Halporn was taken violently ill after a small dose of effervescent powder which she had taken in a drug store for headache. She sued the manufacturers of the drug, and recovered $7,500 in private settlement.

A PERSECUTED WOMAN.

General Molineux to-day declared his daughter-in-law, Blanche, had been the most bitterly persecuted woman he ever heard of. He said he had spent thousands of dollars running down scandalous stories which had been circulated about her, and found in each case they originated in imaginations of vicious people. One of these stories was traced to a minister's wife, another to a police official, and both were found baseless. He believed his daughter-in-law to be one of the most upright and honest women that ever lived. He had offered $1,000 cash for a damaging picture of her said to be in existence, but was told by the police official referred to the story was a fake.

EIGHT THOUSAND CASES OF RUBBERS WERE SOLD— BIG CROWDS AT AUCTION.

Rubber!

Nothing but rubber. Eight thousand cases full of it, and scores of people trying to acquire it. That was the situation to-day in the sales rooms of Benning and Barsalou, auctioneers, on St. Peter street.

There was a big crowd of buyers from all over Canada, and they were all entertained at luncheon by the auctioneers.

It was the occasion of the thirty-fifth rubber sale which the firm has conducted since its existence, one being held every year.

GERMANY PREPARES FOR TARIFF WAR

Reichstag Gives Government Power to Fight United States.

DISCRIMINATORY DUTIES

May be Imposed Against Countries Which Discriminate Against German Merchandise.

BERLIN, November 13.—The Reichstag, to-day, adopted by 192 to 71 votes, the paragraph of the new tariff bill authorizing the Government to discriminate against any country discriminating against German merchandise. The Agrarians openly affirmed that it was necessary to arm the Government with weapons for reprisal, especially against the United States' customs practices.

Dr. Brumer, National-Liberal, created an instance in which, he said, $200,000 worth of enamelled goods were ordered in Germany for New York, but, the speaker asserted, the customs officials "changed the classification at the instance of the American trust, whereupon the New York importers cancelled the order." It was proven, the speaker continued, to the customs officials, that the invoice was in exact accord with the German sellers books, and that, instead of the goods being under-valued, the books showed that shipments had been made to India at still lower prices. Dr. Brumer further asserted that the customs officials' treatment was dictated by the interests of the home manufacturers. He continued:

"It is said that we must not offend the United States; but, they will respect us more, and we shall gain more, by showing our teeth than by always giving pleasant words."

Herr Gothein, Radical-Liberal, replied that such words were no fitting epilogue to the sentiments expressed by Count Posadowsky, the Home Secretary, in the presence of the Foreign Secretary, Baron von Richthoff, at Ambassador White's farewell dinner. "They will make discord," he continued, "among the wishes spoken there for friendly relations with the United States, why empower the Government to do something it does not want to do? Although the present Government would not apply the paragraph, some succeeding government might commit such a folly. Retaliatory duties are the weapon of chauvinism and not of patriotism."

Herr Fischback said all the Chambers of Commerce were opposed to a tariff war with the United States.

Herr Broemel, Radical, remarked that if Germany adopted retaliatory measures against the United States, it would be a breach of the existing treaties.

The ministry has not decided to drop the tariff bill, as published in London, but is determined to persist until the dissolution of the Reichstag.

BOSTON'S MYSTERY STILL OBSCURE

NEW YORK, November 13. — Thomas Jenkins, a negro who was arrested last night, accused of stealing a woman's pocket book, was remanded to police headquarters to-day, to await possible identification by the Boston police. According to Police Captain Lantry, the description of the prisoner answers that sent out from Boston of a man wanted in connection with the recent assaults and robbery of women.

EVIDENCE AGAINST PERRY

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., November 13—The only point upon which the police can now base a complaint against Perry, the negro under arrest for the murder of Clara Morton, is the possession of the watch of the murdered woman, which Perry admits he pawned.

Clothing which Perry had worn has been sent to Prof. Wood, the Harvard University blood expert, for tests.

The police have have received a fragment of a watch chain, which, in texture and pattern, matches that worn by Miss Morton with her watch, from F. R. Murdock, who lives near the house occupied by the Perry family.

Mr. Murdock was clearing up his yard when the glitter of an object caught his eye. The find being rather unusual, and knowing that people traversed his yard to reach the Perry house, he turned the fragment over to an officer.

AN IMPORTANT LINK.

Last night the Somerville police found Perry's girl, and after persuasion, got her to exhibit whatever jewellery she had received from Perry. Among the trinkets was a gold chain, which was recognized immediately as having belonged to Miss McPhee. Private marks on the chain proved the identification, and the jeweller who sold it to Miss McPhee later described his own marks upon it. The chain had been given by the woman to her sister. The officers next secured letters written by Perry to the same woman, and one to her sister, and in the latter missive there is reference to a chain and the instructions not to say a word about it. When Miss McPhee was in the hospital during a lucid moment, she asked: "Where is my chain?"

At the time there was no abrasion on her neck caused by the forcible tightening of a chain worn there. After her death search was made for the chain, but without success.

BLOOD STAINS.

All of Perry's clothes which he wore to gaol were taken from him, because an officer thought he detected a blood spot on the shirt sleeve. Perry admitted the spot was blood, saying that he had a bleeding tooth. Last night all the negro's clothing at home was seized. Some of these, especially a coat, has stains which look like blood.

THEIR EXCELLENCIES' VISIT TO MONTREAL.

Any Entertainments They May Give in This City Will Not be State Functions.

His Excellency, the Governor-General and the Countess of Minto and their suite will, according to present arrangements, leave Ottawa on Friday to spend a month in Montreal. As yet their plans have not been arranged, but it is certain there will be no state functions. Like their predecessors Lord and Lady Aberdeen and Lord and Lady Lansdowne, they will give entertainments and accept the hospitality offered them.

During their visit it is probable they will give a number of small dinner parties, and a ball is being discussed, though as yet the matter has not been decided. As Lord Minto's term of office expires next year, this may be his last visit for any length of time to Montreal, and, in consequence, it is believed that the visit will be made memorable by more extensive entertaining than were the reverse the case.

Boot and Shoe Men to Meet.

There will be a meeting of the Montreal Boot and Shoe Retail Association to-morrow night, in the Monument National, when important questions will be presented.

HON. R. PREFONTAINE AND HIS PROGRAMME

New Minister of Marine Advocates School For Navigation.

PROTECTION FOR INDUSTRIES

He States That His Views on Canada's Fiscal Policy Remain Unchanged.

The establishment of a school of navigation and making navigation entirely safe day and night from Lake Superior to the Strait of Belle Isle are among the projects which Hon. Raymond Prefontaine submitted to his friends last night as part of his programme.

He intimated that in a short time he would be in charge of all the navigation from the Yukon River to Belle Isle, and possibly would have the control of the canals. He laid stress on the fact that he was making this announcement with the entire approval of the Cabinet, and assured them that in view of the proposed changes, Hon. James Sutherland had been loath to leave the department. He repudiated the idea that the province of Quebec was being sacrificed by letting the Department of Public Works go to another province, and assured them that he was not the kind of man to stand by and allow the interests of his province to be sacrificed.

DEPARTMENT'S IMPORTANCE.

The important department of Marine and Fisheries had since Confederation gone to a Maritime Province man, and people believed that it was the property of that section of the country. Owing to the growing importance of that department, he had believed that it was incumbent on him to accept it, when it was offered to him by his distinguished leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

He also reminded his hearers that an agitation had been carried on for some years to establish a Vice-Admiralty Court in this city, but so far without success. He believed the people of Montreal would be in a better position to obtain such favours if one of their own was at the head of the department, than if they had to deal with a stranger.

CONFLICT OF AUTHORITY.

For years, there had been a conflict of authority between the Departments of Public Works and of Marine and Fisheries. A ship which left Lake Superior came under two or three jurisdictions before it reached the sea. This should all be changed. The harbour of Montreal needed looking after, and the channel should be better lighted. Much had already been done by Hon. James Sutherland, and by the Government in connection with the Harbour Board. Millions had been voted to the Harbour Board to carry on the work, but a condition had been included that the East End must have its share, and that a dry dock must be established. All these things would be brought about in the near future.

NEED FOR TECHNICAL SCHOOLS.

There was another problem which had occurred to him. It had been said that the professions are overcrowded. The necessity for technical schools is generally recognized. McGill and Laval had done some good work in that respect, but they could not be expected to accomplish everything. He had, for years, observed all the ships coming up our river, and entering the harbour of Montreal. Of all those ships' captains, men who occupied a good position and drew remunerative salaries, how many were Canadians? French-Canadians, English-Canadians, Irish-Canadians, or any other Canadians were just as intelligent as the people born across the Atlantic, or on the other side of line forty-five. They need only the opportunity. It had occurred to him that the establishment of a school of navigation would meet a long felt want. He would study the subject further, and report on the matter to his colleagues.

AN IMPORTANT PORTFOLIO.

He assured the people that they could depend upon his word, when he told them that the Department of Marine and Fisheries was about to become one of the most important. He had been entrusted by his colleagues with the duty of studying and reporting upon the conditions of the inland and seaboard navigation, and the portions which should belong to each department. He told them this because he was authorized to do so by the Government, for he would not make such an announcement if it had not been thoroughly understood and decided by the members of the Cabinet.

PROTECTION FOR INDUSTRIES.

As to his fiscal policy, he was the same to-day as he was in 1896. As he had told them at that time, he believed that the legitimate industries of the country should be protected ever and always. This question could now be discussed more freely by every man in politics, because it was out of the political arena. The manufacturers had so declared at a recent meeting, and they could be depended upon to know what was best for themselves. He believed that the Fielding tariff met the requirements of the situation, and was the best Canada had ever had. The Minister of Finance had announced at the last session that the tariff was not a finality, but might be revised in the future to meet the exigencies of trade. He had every reason to trust the good sense and the good will of his colleagues on the subject.

His record for the past would be the best earnest of his conduct for the future. He was nothing by himself, but owed what he was to the people of Chambly, to the people of Montreal, of Maisonneuve and Terrebonne. He hoped and expected that the people of Maisonneuve, when called upon on November 26th, would give him their unanimous support. He regretted leaving the people of Terrebonne, but his friends and himself believed it better, for the influence he was destined to exercise, that he should represent a Montreal division.

The speech of which the above is a summary was delivered at the rooms of the East End Liberal Club, where a meeting was held under the chairmanship of Mr. Honore Gervais, K. C., the president of the Club. The Minister arrived from Ottawa at seven o'clock last evening, accompanied by Hon. M. E. Bernier and Mr. Prefontaine's private secretary, Mr. Jules Clement. The old Liberals, or Vieux Rouges, were present in full force, and cheered lustily when the new Minister alighted from the train. He was also heartily congratulated by all who had journeyed down to meet him. The only political man around who seemed indifferent was Ald. Dan Gallery, M. P., who arrived on the train and walked away without waiting to greet any of those present.

Among those who met Hon. R. Prefontaine at the train were Hon. Robert Mackay, L. P. Demers, M.P., J. L. Perron, Charles Archer, Lt.-Col. Hughes, Lawrence A. Wilson, Joseph Perrault, Henri Laurier, Arthabaskaville, Robert Taschereau, C. A. deB. Corriveau, Pierre Leclerc, jr., Dr. Boyer, Raoul Hector Garneau, J. N. Chevrier, L. H. Semeud, J. A. Thivierge, Ald. E. N. Hebert, D. Rouleau, Honore Gervais, K.C., M. A. Baril, Michel Campeau, E. L. Ethier, Frs. Ethier, A. Bergevin, M.L.A., P. M. Sauvalle, J. A. C. Madore, M.P., J. A. Drouin, Camille Piche, Jeremie L. Decarie, Arthur Demers, Prof. J. Hirtz, Geo. Caverhill, John Humphreys, Denis Lanctot, Thomas Gauthier, Ald. Lebeuf, James Harper, Lucien Lasalle, Amable Collin, and many others. As the Minister stepped from the car, Ald. E. N. Hebert of St. Jean Baptiste Ward, a portion of Maisonneuve electoral division, presented a beautiful bouquet.

At the rooms of the East End Liberal Club, the same people had gathered and several others had joined them, while the crowd came in from the different sections of the city and swelled the attendance, till the old Delville theatre was comfortably filled. When the Minister appeared on the platform, he was roundly applauded and cheered. Among those on the platform, outside of those mentioned as having met Mr. Prefontaine at the station, were Hon. Lomer Gouin, Hon. J. J. Guerin, Hon. H. B. Rainville, Dr. Ostigny, St. Hyacinthe, Wilfrid Mercier, K.C., C. A. Wilson, W. Crepeault, ex-Ald. Faucher, H. Dupre, ex-M.P., Jos. Archambault, U. H. Dandurand, and many others.

THE NEW MINISTER OF MARINE AND FISHERIES—"How many of the captains who command those great ships are Canadians? There is no reason why our young men should not seek a successful career at sea. Therefore, I have under consideration a school of navigation."

PRESIDENT MADE SHORT SPEECH.

After proposing the suspension of the orders of the day, Mr. Gervais, president of the club, made a short speech, congratulating the new Minister on his appointment, which was one that gave pleasure to all the friends of the Liberal cause in this city and district. (Cheers.) He went on to refer to several questions that must occupy the time of the House of Commons at the coming session. The representatives of the people would be called upon to discuss tariff, transportation and the appointment of commercial consuls, who although sent out by England, should more particularly represent Canada.

Senator Dandurand wrote regretting his inability to attend, and congratulating the new Minister.

The president was followed by the guest of the occasion, who received renewed applause at each declaration.

MR. BERNIER'S PLEA.

Hon. M. E. Bernier next spoke, and told his hearers that the French Canadians were generous, and had shown it on many occasions by electing English-speaking people to represent them in Parliament. He wanted them to be equally generous in this matter of the Ministry. They could afford to be so, for Quebec had five departments—Prime Minister, Justice, Agriculture, Marine and Fisheries, and Inland Revenue, besides the Solicitor-Generalship and the Speakership, while Ontario had only five departments altogether. He spoke of the pleasure which the "Vieux Rouges" like himself felt at the appointment of Mr. Prefontaine, and hoped that he would be elected by acclamation.

Hon. Lomer Gouin also paid his tribute of praise to the new Minister and leader for Montreal district. He criticized those who had done everything in their power to prevent the new Minister from reaching his present position, but who now sang his praises in every key. He hoped the Conservatives would give the new Minister fair play and a fair trial.

Hon. H. B. Rainville rejoiced at seeing his companion of many years at last rewarded for his good work, and heartily congratulated him.

Hon. J. J. Guerin also offered congratulations. Messrs. A. Bergevin, M.L.A.; C. A. Chenevert, M.L.A.; A. Christin, Honore Mercier, son of the late Honore Mercier, and Denis Lanctot, president of the Laval Liberal Students' Association, also gave their approval to the new nomination, and congratulated the Minister.

THE NEW MINISTER OF MARINE AND FISHERIES—"With regard to the tariff, my past is there. I will not go back on what I said in 1896. I believe in protecting legitimate Canadian industries."

The Domination of the Stomach.

The strength of every organ is controlled by the stomach. Hence to the extent of the weakness of that organ will there be a depression of the force of the whole system, and as strength depends not on what is eaten, but on what is digested, the least little lesson must be looked after at the very outset.

Eat slowly, masticate your food well, remember that the longer it stays in your mouth, the less it will stay in your stomach.

After eating take two ST. JAMES WAFERS, and follow it with a cup of weak tea or a glass of hot water, and you will soon regain strength and comfort.

ST. JAMES WAFERS are a good tonic for the stomach and a tissue builder.

In diseases of the Stomach, St. James Wafers are almost if not quite a specific. I have great faith in them.

Dr. Edward A. Robinson,
Cork, Ireland.

If you cannot procure the Wafers from your dealer send $1.00 for one bottle, or $5.00 for six bottles, to the St. James Wafers Co., 179 St. Catherine St., Montreal, Canada.

CHARTER COMMITTEE AND CIVIC SUFFRAGE

Ald Lavallee Would Extend Franchise to Non-British Residents

MOTION, HOWEVER, DEFEATED

Property Qualifications for Aldermen Also Came Up at Meeting for Discussion.

A proposal that created some surprise at the meeting of the Civic Charter Committee last night was made by Ald. Lavallee. He moved that non-British subjects in Montreal be allowed to vote at civic elections.

In support of his motion, Ald. Lavallee said that it was only fair that all persons living in the city and paying taxes should be allowed to vote. He knew persons who had been in the city twenty years, and yet had never had a voice in civic elections; this was because they were not British subjects. Those who paid taxes to the corporation should be given a vote.

Ald. Laporte: "Then you would give Chinese, Syrians, and all foreigners the right to administer the city's affairs like British subjects?"

Ald. Lavallee said he was willing to alter his motion to the effect that white people, whether British or not, would be given the right to vote.

Ald. Laporte — "I do not see why we should treat strangers in Montreal differently from what French-Canadians are treated in the United states. Before a Canadian can vote in the United States, he has to be naturalized. The law in Montreal is that all persons voting at civic elections must be British subjects. Those who take the oath of allegiance can vote."

Ald. Lavallee still held that it was only fair that persons who paid taxes should have the right to vote. The motion was voted upon, but was defeated. The only two in favour of it was its mover and Ald. Couture.

TO POST LISTS IN WARDS.

The Mayor said that something should be done to prevent so many names being left off the lists by mistake. He thought the city clerk should be given power to put names on the list that had been omitted by mistake.

"I am afraid," said Ald. Laporte, "that this method would be a dangerous one. It would be a great power to place in the hands of one man; unscrupulous persons might take advantage of such a system."

"Then," said the Mayor, "I would suggest that in order that all persons can see if their names are on the lists, that all the lists be posted in the different wards. Voters then, can see if they are properly inscribed."

There was a feeling among the committee that the above system would be a good one.

At present citizens are supposed to check off their names at the City Hall. Few do so, and, it sometimes happens that old residents are deprived of voting through clerical errors. The posting of the lists before elections in the different wards would enable the public with little trouble to see if the names were correct.

ELECTION OF ALDERMEN.

A suggestion was made by Ald. Carter that it might be a wise thing to alter the method of having all the aldermen elected at one time. The present system of elections, every two years, had many drawbacks.

It was pointed out by Ald. Ames that some years ago the aldermen used to be elected at different times. The system did not work well, however; the old members of Council, who had no elections, used to give all their energy to elect their friends. This often resulted in the re-election of men that the taxpayers desired to see defeated. He thought the present system, of a general election every two years, was a most satisfactory one.

Ald. Carter remarked he would bring up the subject again at a later meeting.

It was now held by Ald. L. A. Lapointe that a woman, who was separated from her husband and who owned property should be allowed to vote. He knew cases of where wives paid the taxes and where the husbands did the voting.

It was admitted that a hardship evidently existed. The matter will be brought up later.

A suggestion from a labour organization that the city allow manhood suffrage was not accepted. The city fathers decided to stick to the system of people paying taxes if they wanted to vote.

PROPERTY QUALIFICATION.

There was a discussion now about altering the system in regarding to persons having a certain amount of real estate before they could serve the city as aldermen. It was the opinion of the mayor that the present system was not a good one. A man who had no real estate might have tens of thousands of dollars in business; this would do no good, however, if he did not own real estate. He could not see the justice of continuing such a system.

It was remarked by Ald. Ames that it was hard to find out how much a man was worth when he had his money invested in business. He could not see that much was wrong with the property qualification clause. The subject dropped for the present.

It was suggested that all parties who took out nomination papers, to be candidates for aldermen, should also file a record showing just what real estate they owned and whether it was mortgaged or not.

In bye-elections, it is likely that the charter will be amended so as to allow saloons to be open.

Clendenning Homestead on Fire.

Last night at 9 o'clock a fire broke out in the cottage formerly owned by Sheriff Thibaudeau, but now the property of the United Shoe Manufacturing Company of Canada, which intended to utilize it as offices for the new brick factory which is being erected alongside at the corner of Palace and St. Monique streets. The origin of the fire cannot be accounted for as the building has been unoccupied. When the fire was discovered, the flames were in possession of the lower floor, and gained headway through the interior of the building. The firemen worked hard for about two hours before the flames were finally subdued. As the building is located on an elevation the fire was fanned by a strong breeze, but at no time was the Palace of Archbishop Bruchesi, which is close by, in danger. The cottage is known as the Clendenning homestead.

POWERFUL FOOD

That Can Lift You Out of Bed.

The proper food to build up the system after an attack of illness, or any other time, is important to know about.

"Last year, I had typhoid malarial fever," says a lady in Manilla, Ia., "and it left me so weak I could scarcely turn in bed. I was very nervous, the least noise annoyed me, and I could hardly eat anything.

"A friend recommended Grape-Nuts Food, thinking maybe I would like that, and I did. I commenced gaining strength and am now able to walk around out of doors, having gained over twenty pounds, and Grape-Nuts did it.

"My little brother used to be thin and pale. Although he seemed to eat enough food, what he did eat did him no good. He was put on Grape-Nuts regularly, and is now strong and well and gaining fast in flesh. I recommend Grape-Nuts to all who are weak and run-down." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

MR. BLAIR WILL RETIRE OWING TO ILL HEALTH, SAYS MR. TARTE'S PAPER

La Patrie of last evening, in writing of the departmental changes, said:

"For our part we believe that the presence of Hon. Jas. Sutherland in the Department of Public Works will be of short duration.

"Public opinion certainly intends him for the Department of Railways and Canals, as Hon. Mr. Blair's health is not at all good, and he will soon abandon the political arena."

CANADA ATLANTIC RAILWAY.

Rumour That Mackenzie and Mann May Buy it.

OTTAWA, November 13. — In railway circles no credence is placed in the rumour that the Government has any intention of purchasing the Canada Atlantic Railway and making it a part of a trans-continental system. Since Dr. Seward Webb failed to make good in his negotiations for the purchase of the road the most likely purchasers of the line are Messrs. Mackenzie and Mann. From an official authority it is learned that these gentlemen entered into negotiations several months ago for the acquisition of the road, and the deal progressed through preliminaries, and, as far as the financing of the proposition, which was to be placed in the hands of an American banking house, acting in conjunction with one in Canada. Nothing further was done, but as the parties referred to were not in a hurry to acquire the line until more of the Canadian Northern was completed, it was agreed to allow the negotiations to remain in abeyance. It is said, however, that any understanding arrived at did not acquire the force of an option, and the line is free to be purchased. If the deal started some months ago culminates in the acquisition of the Canada Atlantic by Mackenzie and Mann it will be for the purpose of connecting it, at or near Parry Sound, with the Canadian Northern, the new trans-continental line, at present in course of construction.

FRANCO-CANADIAN SERVICE.

Government's Steamship Negotiations Hanging Fire.

LONDON, November 13. — A despatch from Paris, referring to the negotiations carried on in France by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. W. S. Fielding, of Canada, says that those gentlemen left satisfied with the results obtained, but that the success of the negotiations hangs on a condition which has not been realized yet, and which does not seem to make much progress. M. Delcasse, the foreign minister, promised Sir Wilfrid Laurier an annual subsidy of £10,000 to the company running a French line of steamships between France and Canada.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier was visiting Lille he used this promise to induce manufacturers to find money to purchase the steamers, and was assured that something would be done to that end, but this as yet has amounted to very little.

Sherbrooke's Valuation Roll.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

SHERBROOKE, November 13. — Sherbrooke City Council has been busy with extra sessions in connection with the revision of the valuation roll, properties belonging to the British-American Land Co. and the Sun Life Insurance Co. being the subjects of much discussion.

Ninety-three acres of the Land Company's property had been valued at $7,000. The Council this year voted to raise it to $25,000. The reason of the large increase was that a year ago, when the city hoped to secure the Kingston locomotive works, the Land Company were asked to sell fourteen acres of this lot for a site. Commissioner Heneker at first refused a price, but finally said "$14,000 for 14 acres." Hence the raise in valuation by the Council to $25,000. The company protested. Sworn evidence was taken. The company claimed that a price asked did not establish a value. They desired to hold lands for prospective values. After a midnight session the valuation was finally fixed at $15,000.

The new Sun Life building, which had been valued at $50,000, was raised to $70,000. The Council reconsidered its action, and reduced it again to $50,000.

Cuban Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, November 13. — Gen. Bliss will proceed at once to Cuba to make a personal investigation of the present industrial situation and the fiscal possibilities of the island. It is improbable, that pending his return from his Cuban visit, the State Department will advance the treaty negotiations.

The cardinal objection of President Palma to the treaty as it stands, is the insufficient rebate of 20 per cent. which it is proposed shall be allowed on Cuban imports into the United States. Secretary Hay's purpose is to ascertain, if possible, how far he can yield in that matter, and still be able to rely upon the support of Congress next session, when the treaty is submitted.

Rose Goes to Gallows.

OTTAWA, November 13.—The Cabinet has decided to let the law take its course in the case of Rose, sentenced to be hanged at Rossland on November 21. Rose killed a brother rancher named Cole in a drunken spree at Hakusp.

OTTAWA, November 13.—The properties of the Maclaren-Ross Lumber Company, British Columbia, were sold yesterday at auction, by Mr. W. L. Scott, local master, at the Court-House. They were offered in three parcels and realised a total of $169,800.

Case of Independent Operators — Miners in Council.

SCRANTON, Pa., November 13.—The answer of the independent operators of the Lackawanna and Wyoming region to the statement of President Mitchell, of the Mine Workers, was made public yesterday.

They say that the present wages are such as to enable the diligent and skilful miner to earn more an hour than any class of labour, skilled or unskilled, in the towns in which the mines are located. They deny that mining is extremely dangerous and unhealthy, and tends to shorten life. The demand for the weighing of coal is characterized as a thinly disguised effort to secure a 40 per cent. increase in wages.

They deny the declaration of the miners that labour unions improve the morals and discipline of their members, and say of the United Mine Workers' Association:

"We believe we will be able to prove such tremendous losses of life and money as the direct results of the methods of that particular union, as to convince your honourable commission that it is not expedient to do any act which may contribute to its continued existence."

WILKESBARRE, Pa., November 13.—President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers', and several members of the executive board of the United Mine Workers', of the third anthracite district, were in session at miners' headquarters, yesterday. Later on they were joined by half a dozen attorneys whom Mr. Mitchell has employed to look after the miners' case before the arbitration commission.

NEW CABINET POSITION.

May be a Minister of Mines and No Secretary of State.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OTTAWA, November 13.—Advices from the Yukon indicate that a strong bid is being made to the electors to vote for Hon. J. H. Ross, the Liberal candidate, on the ground that if elected he will be taken into the ministry as Minister of Mines. As the present administration is pledged not to make any additional portfolio, the idea is to wipe out the Department of the Secretary of State and amalgamate it with the Department of the Privy Council, Mr. Scott retiring to the serener atmosphere of Governor of Ontario. Should Mr. Ross not be returned, and there is considerable doubt as to his chance of success, as the Conservative candidate is said to be making friends every day, the matter may be allowed to remain in abeyance.

The Guatemala Eruptions.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 13.—The steamship Newport, from Panama, brings particulars of the recent eruption of Mount Santa Maria in Guatemala. According to the officers of the Newport, the destruction of life and property has been immense and necessity for relief is said to be urgent.

Coffee plantations in the districts of Costa Cuaca, Chuava, Reforma, Palmar, Costa Grande and Kolhutz have been buried seven feet deep in volcanic ashes and debris. Thousands of cattle have been destroyed and the loss of life is thought to be large.

The towns of Palmar, San Felipe, Colombia and Coatepec are said to have been completely buried in debris from Santa Maria. Rethalhuleu, Mazatenango and Quezaltenango so far have escaped with little damage.

Winter Sets in in the Yukon.

VICTORIA, B.C., November 13. — The steamer Amur, from Skagway, reports that the Yukon has been frozen solid, and the steamer Lafrance was caught and held in the ice when en route down near Minto. The steamers Wilbur Cummin, Thistle and Eleanor, which reached White Horse on November 4th, were the last in service. The first stage from White Horse reached Dawson on November 8th, after six days' travel, and the first stage from Dawson was due at White Horse on Monday.

A Dawson despatch says that Mail Carrier Eli Verreau left Dawson Tuesday morning, October 28, with 500 pounds of Lower River mail in a canoe. He was caught in an ice jam six miles below the mouth of Forty Mile, his canoe crushed and all mail lost. Verreau narrowly escaped with his life.

Exclusion of Chinese.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 13.—United States Commissioner of Immigration Sargent, who arrived here last night, says the Government is striving to strengthen the patrol on the Canadian border and to more vigorously enforce the requirements of the Chinese exclusion act. Conferences have been held with Canadian officials on the subject. One proposition advanced is to have the Canadian railways centralize their Chinese passengers at certain points where they can be inspected.

TOBACCO COMMISSION CONTINUES ENQUIRY

Manager of St. Laurent Company Gives His Side of Case.

BEGAN TO LOSE ACCOUNTS

Claims the Canadian Industry is Doomed if Contract System Remains in Force.

At the afternoon session of the Tobacco Commission, yesterday, Judge McTavish stated that he had received by mail copies of resolutions passed by the Wholesale Grocers' Guilds, of London, Toronto, Kingston and Hamilton. These resolutions were in the secretary's hands and could be seen by any person interested.

Mr. O. W. Legault, manager of the tobacco factory at St. Laurent, where Canadian and combination leaf is manufactured into plug smoking, stated that the firm began to lose accounts in Ontario as soon as the agreements with the Empire Tobacco Company came into force. The firm also lost accounts with wholesale grocers in Montreal, who represented the cream of the trade in this province. Nearly one-half of the firm's business was done with these people, and it had to double its travellers in this province and in the Maritime Provinces to try to keep up the sales to what they were before. His firm did not now sell to wholesale in the province of Quebec, but it did sell to persons in the province at wholesale rates. It did not sell to any in Montreal at these rates, but it did to a few in the province. The firm formerly dealt direct with the retailer in Montreal, but it did not do any business in this city now.

If the contracts system continued there would be no future for the manufacture of Canadian tobacco, and unless he could find some way of improving his business, it would be perfectly useless to try and continue it at a profit.

TOTAL PRODUCT 100,000 POUNDS.

Its total production was over 100,000 pounds a year, and of that output about 80 per cent. was plug tobacco, and the remainder was cut.

Mr. Isaie Tetrault, manufacturer of Canadian tobacco, Montreal, said that until a year or two ago he distributed his goods in Montreal to jobbers and other dealers, but since the Empire Tobacco Company's contract came into force, he could not sell to the jobbers any more. The effect of this contract had been to diminish his business about three-fourths.

Mr. C. de Cazin, manufacturer of cigarettes and tobacco, testified that the American and Empire companies' contracts had not affected his cut tobacco business much, but they had affected his cigarette trade, and he found it very difficult to sell them outside of Montreal, on account of the consignee system.

CONSIGNEE FOR CIGARETTES.

Mr. A. Roy, wholesale and retail dealer and tobacco jobber, stated that he was a consignee of the Empire Tobacco Company for plug tobacco. The American Tobacco Company of Canada had asked him to become a consignee for cigarettes, but he had refused. He had been waging war against this company for a long time in cigarettes, and he was of opinion that if he had been willing to come in on the contract, he might have got a horse and buggy to cease competition. His contract with the Empire Company called upon him to sell only that company's plug tobacco, but he had no undertaking with regard to cut tobacco. The people under contract were checked very carefully, the company having several agents looking after its trade.

MARCONI'S WONDERFUL WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Captain of Italian War Vessel Repeats Statement That Transatlantic Message Was Heard.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

ROME, November 13. — The Minister of Marine has received a despatch from the captain of the Italian cruiser Carlos Alberto, which was placed at the disposal of Signor Marconi for wireless telegraph experiments, and which is now at Sydney, N.S., stating that the ship daily communicated by means of the Marconi system with the station at Poldhu, Cornwall, England, throughout the voyage and after entering the port of Sydney. The experiments confirmed the possibility of communicating simultaneously with Europe and America during the navigation of the Atlantic at a distance of at least 3,000 miles. It will be easier to assure communication when the instruments more powerful than those that can be carried on ships are installed at shore stations.

UGANDA LOCOMOTIVES.

Why British Government Bought American Engines.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 13. — The Government has been blamed for purchasing United States locomotives for the Uganda Railway. Lord Cranborne stated last evening, in reply to a question in Parliament that these locomotives had been ordered in the United States because they were urgently wanted, and because British firms could not guarantee delivery within a reasonable time.

NEWFOUNDLAND JOYFUL.

Reciprocity Treaty Covers Partly Cured Fish.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., November 13.—The convention with the United States, negotiated by Sir Robert Bond, the Prime Minister, includes the free entry into the United States of partly cured as well as cured fish. This is an important concession to Newfoundland.

New Fleet of Lake Steamers.

DULUTH, Minn., November 13. — The Pittsburg Steamship Company has called for bids for the building of twenty steel steamships to be 52 feet longer than anything at present on the lakes. They will be capable of moving from Duluth to Buffalo 129,000,000 bushels of wheat in a lake season. The Steel Corporation owns the Pittsburg Steamship Company. These ships will sail from Duluth.

Bridge Contract Let.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

VICTORIA, B.C., November 13.—The contract for the building of the Point Ellis Bridge across Victoria Arm has been awarded to the Victoria Machinery Depot, which will build the superstructure for $65,000, the bridge to be completed in ten months.

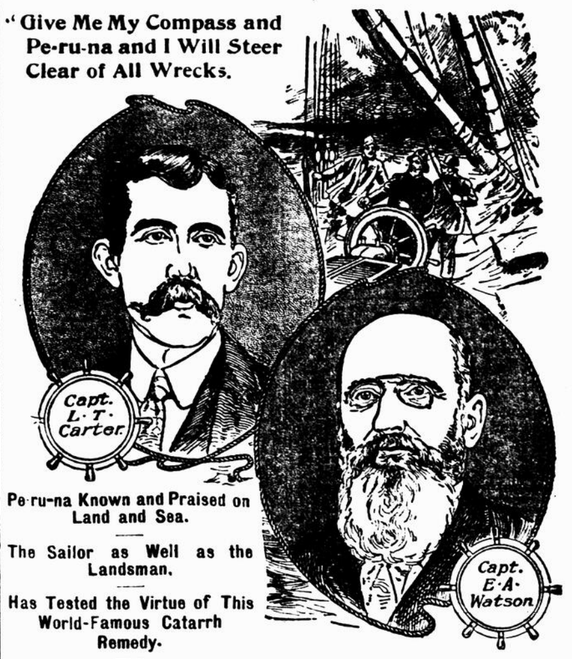
PE-RU-NA IS THE SAILOR'S SAFEGUARD

"Give Me My Compass and Pe-ru-na and I Will Steer Clear of All Wrecks.



Pe-ru-na Known and Praised on Land and Sea.

The Sailor as Well as the Landsman.

Has Tested the Virtue of This World-Famous Catarrh Remedy.

"A sick sailor is a pretty helpless man. I have found that Peruna will do more to restore one than any other medicine I know, and I have carried a couple of bottles on board for many seasons. Seven years ago Peruna cured me of bronchial Trouble in a few weeks and gave me such new life and nerve force that I certainly believe in telling you of it.

"Give me my compass and Peruna and I will steer clear of wrecks of all kinds and land in port safe and well with vessel and men."—Capt. L. T. Carter, 1231 10th Avenue, Pensacola, Florida

Capt. E. A. Watson, M. E., 48 Elizabeth street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"Peruna has my hearties endorsement. If there is any place that you are helpless when ill it is on board a steamer at sea, miles away from any assistance. Sometimes two or three of my men would be sick at one time and seriously cripple the force, but since we have learned the value of Peruna, by taking a few doses they recuperate very quickly. We use it for colds, lung trouble and kidney diseases, and have also found it very fine for grippe.

"Peruna is always one of the most important supplies of my steamer."—E. A. Watson.

Peruna is known and praised on land and sea. The sailor, as well as the landsman, has tested the virtue of this world's famous remedy. Captain Carter says: "I have carried Peruna on board with me for many seasons. Seven years ago, Peruna cured me of bronchial catarrh."

Captain Watson says: "Sometimes two or three of my men would be sick at one time, and seriously cripple the force, but since we have learned the value of Peruna, they recuperate very quickly. We use it for colds, lung trouble and kidney disease, and have found it very fine for the grip."

The sailor's vocation is a healthy one. He escapes all the ills due to poor ventilation and the various ailments derived from the soil and city. Yet even the sailor is liable to climatic ailments. Catarrh is carried to the sailor by wind and storm. Sudden changes in the temperature has the same effect on him as those who dwell on the land. Therefore, the sailors know Peruna. It is popular among them. With a bottle of Peruna aboard, though they may be far away from drug stores and doctors, they have a remedy on which they can rely.

Commodore U. S. Navy.

Commodore Somerville Nicholson, of the United States Navy, in a letter from 1837 R St., N. W., Washington, D. C., says:

"Your Peruna has been and is now used by so many of my friends and acquaintances as a sure cure for catarrh that I am convinced of its curative qualities and I unhesitatingly recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint."—S. Nicholson.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

THE WEST REPUBLICAN,

But There is a Spirit of Enquiry as to Tariff Revision.

WASHINGTON, November 13—Secretary Wilson, who has just returned from the West, says that its attitude as to tariff revision is one of inquiry. "The returns out there," he continued, "show that the West is Republican and for protection But there is a spirit of enquiry among the people. They are questioning whether the great combinations of capital may not have got beyond control and whether certain industries longer need the protection of the tariff. They do not wish to deprive a single man of his occupation, but they are asking themselves whether in certain industries the reduction of the present duties would constitute a menace. The people out there do not believe that the tariff schedules are inspired. They are studying the subject, and they want Congress to study it, and they recall that the Republican party has in the past reduced duties and put articles on the free list when protection was no longer necessary."

ENGLISH COTTON TRADE.

Manchester Wants to Rival Liverpool as a Market.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 13. — The United States syndicate's project for shipping cotton direct by to Manchester, warehousing it there, and establishing a spot trade and futures market, has found favour with great favour in Lancashire. This is because the United States merchants and capitalists representing the movement are playing off Manchester against Liverpool, developing the traffic of the ship canal, and establishing direct connection between the cotton fields and the Lancashire factories.

STEADIER TONE IN STOCK PRICES

Wall Street and the Local Market Had a Breathing Spell.

RECOVERIES NOT EMPHATIC

Caution in Evidence in the Dealings—No Disposition to Rush Prices Up at Present.

The correspondents of the Montreal Star in Wall Street and on the Chicago Board of Trade report that stocks were steadier while wheat was steady. In the local market stocks were steadier. Sales on the New York Stock Exchange yesterday were 1,- 500,225 shares.

There was a steadier tone to the stock market this morning, and there was some improvement in prices from the low level of yesterday ranging from ⅛ to 2 per cent. Richelieu was the most notable exception to the general tendency, and some more liquidation in that stock depressed the price to 92 with later transactions at 93½. The lowest yesterday was 94. Outside of Canadian Pacific, Montreal Power and Dominion Iron, the trading was in very small lots, and was mostly purchases made by a few bargain hunters.

The improved tone in the New York market had a marked influence on the local feeling and there appeared to be a cessation of the pressure to liquidate, which allowed the market a breathing spell. The early improvement in Wall street was not, however, continuous, and towards noon the market was in a feverish condition. Calculations regarding the termination of the liquidation movement have been so badly upset during the past few days that traders appear to be suspicious, and are not disposed to buy until there is some definite assurance on the situation.

Canadian Pacific, which sold down to 129 yesterday and closed at 129¾, opened stronger at 131½, and moved up to 132, but later receded to 131⅝. Dominion Iron, which went to 53 yesterday and closed at 53½, opened a point higher at 54½, and made a gain of another point to 55½, which was held at the close of the forenoon board. Montreal Power was active at 93. The low of yesterday was 92¼.

The advance in Bank of Montreal to 270 was one of the features of the market. The highest heretofore in a good number of years has been 268. Lake of the Woods continued to sell at 170. Trading in Toledo 1st pfd. at 32½ was 2 points higher than yesterday. Toronto Rails recovered a point to 115. Twin City recovered to 114½ from 112½ yesterday, and Detroit United rose to 86¾, compared with 84½ yesterday. Dominion Coal sold at 125¾ and Nova Scotia Steel at 102 to 102¼. Dominion Iron bonds recovered 1¼ to 87¼.

The Bank of England's rate of discount was unchanged to-day at 4 per cent.

Twin City Rapid Transit earnings for the first week of November were $89,617, an increase of $8672. From January 1 the earnings increased $371,657.

This is settling day in the London market. The tone of the securities markets there has improved throughout. Home rails were strong on the excellent traffic returns, and money is plentiful. American railway shares were firm, while Africans are unaltered.

The Montreal Clearing House returns of banks clearings to-day were $4,338,407.

Messrs. L. J. Forget & Co.'s London cable to-day quoted Grand Trunk first, 106¾; second, 55¾, third, 45¾; Canadian Pacific, 134⅝.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the follow changes:

Total reserve, increased	£229,000
Circulation, decreased	366,000
Bullion, decreased	136,517
Other securities, increased	731,000
Public deposits, increased	1,000,000
Notes reserve, increased	365,000
Government securities, unchanged.

The proportion of the Bank of England's reserve to liability is 46.78 per cent. Last week it was 45.71 per cent.

Among the Toronto sales were: C.P.R., 250 at 131 1-8 to 131 5-8; Twin City, 425 at 114 to 114 1-8; Dom. Steel, 200 at 55 to 55 1-2; Dom. Coal, 120 at 126; N. S. Steel, 65 at 101 to 101 1-2; Superior, 50 at 21 1-2.

Montreal exchange quotations: N.Y.funds buyers, 3-64 dis.; sellers, 3-64 dis.; counter, 1-8 prem; sterling, 60 days, buyers, 8 25-32; sellers, 8 13-16; sterling, demand, buyers, 9 1-2; sellers, 9 17-32; sterling, cable, buyers, 9 5-8; Paris cheques, buyers, 5.15 4-8; counter, 5.14 3-8.

In New York at noon money on call steady at 5 1-2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper, 5 1-2 to 6 per cent.; sterling exchange, slightly easier, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.86.875 to 4.87.125 for demand, and at 4.83.75 to 4.84 for sixty day bills. Posted rates, 4.85 and 4.88. Commercial bills, 4.83 1-4 and 4.84. Bar silver, 49 5-8. Mexican dollars, 39 1-4.

IMPROVED FEELING IN WALL STREET.

Recoveries in Prices at the Opening —Big Operators Said to be Heavy Buyers.

NEW YORK, November 13. — Wall Street—Opening prices made violent advances all through the list, owing to the better sentiment caused by reports of adjustment affected yesterday in the speculative situation. The new Rock Island securities listed yesterday and dealt in on the exchange for the first time this morning were watched with especial interest. The common stock sold up to 48¾, compared with 46¼ bid on the curb at the closing last night and the preferred advance to 77¼, compared with 73½ bid last night. There were 6,000 shares of St. Paul sold at 178 to 178¾, compared with 177 last night and this stock advanced further to 179. There were gains of 2 points in Illinois Central, Delaware and Hudson and General Electric and of from 1 to 1½ in Southern Pacific, U. S. Steel, B. & O., Amalgamated Copper and other leading stocks among the soft coulers. Pacifics and Southwesterns. The transfers were in very large blocks, opening sales running from 1,000 to 3,000 shares in several prominent stocks, followed by other sales of even larger blocks.

Large new buying orders were well distributed and carried prices up to the top level again and some stocks slightly higher than top of the morning. Penna was in large demand and Louisville rose 1¼ over the opening level. Amongst the less active stocks Pittsburg, C. C. & St. Louis rose 4½, Wheeling and Lake Erie 1st pfd. 4, New Haven 3 and Erie seconds pfd. and Lackawanna 2. There were fractional recessions and a dull market again before noon. Bonds were strong.

The New York American says: William K. Vanderbilt went into Wall Street yesterday while prices were crumbling under the attacks of bears fighting to make a poor man of John W. Gates, and, with E. H. Harriman acting for a syndicate, poured in round figures $17,000,000 into the market.

Mr. Vanderbilt for himself through J. P. Morgan took 25,000 shares of Chicago & Northwestern stock at 224.

Mr. Harriman, for his syndicate, took over 75,000 shares of Southern Pacific stock at 89¼.

The stocks of the Northwestern, in which Mr. Vanderbilt is a heavily interested, and of Southern Pacific, of which Mr. Harriman is president, have declined heavily in the recent bear raids, and their object evidently was to protect them from the consequences of further heavy liquidation.

Money, 2 to 2 1-4 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 3 5-16 to 3 3-8 per cent.; do for 3 months bills is 3 7-16 per cent.

Messrs J. S. Bach & Co., New York, send the following Wall Street advices through their local manager, Mr. C. D. Monk:

Americans in London 1-4 to 1 1-8 above New York close. Consols unchanged. Sterling eased off after early firmness. Unusually heavy demand for stocks in loan crowd, especially for St. Paul, B. and O. and Canadian Pacific. World's gold production for year estimated at $262,270,000. United States led in gold output, producing $78,666,700. Iron Age reports more furnaces blown out in October than were blown in iron trade. Conditions favourable. Consumption very heavy. Inquiry for rails is large enough to cover unsold capacity for next year. Wabash ordinance to enter Pittsburg over Pittsburg, Carnegie and Western Railway approved. J. J. Hill says earnings of Great Northern Railway this year will exceed any previous year's. For two months ended Aug. 31, R. I. Railway earned gross $7,522,411; net, $3,411,768, and had surplus of $1,557,306. Car shortage west is more pronounced. Stock Exchange has listed $47,491,800 preferred and $57,855,200 common of R. I. Co.; also $67,853,000 fours of Chicago, Rock Island and Pac. R. R.

J. B. Picken & Co., stock and exchange brokers, received the following New York advices over their private wire:

The arbitrage houses failed to do some business for London during the first hour, but they found little market abroad, and closed off their contracts here, having done practically no foreign business. The first feature has been the selling by traders of stocks bought yesterday. This caused most of the little reactionary movement around 11 o'clock. The investment demand for securities at all times continues very heavy, and is fully absorbing the current profit taking. It is asserted that a veteran operator frequently identified with Southern Pacific ventures is still heavily short of the market through a house with which he was actually identified in the last decade, but with which he has had no important account for at least in the last five years. Western houses are not buying stocks heavily this morning. Sales to noon, 411,800.

Toronto speculators, who have for some weeks been pidgeing heavily in Wall Street, have been hard hit lately, and they attribute their ill luck partly to a trick played on them by the Waldorf contingent, who, they declare, sent one of their crowd to Toronto a couple of weeks ago, and again last week, to discover what stocks the local speculators were dealing in, with a view of breaking the price of those particular stocks in New York, and shaking them out. Toronto traders for the most part largely follow three or four stocks on the long side, and the plan of the Waldorf speculators, so it is charged, was to ascertain just what stocks they were long of, and when a favourable opportunity offered to break the price. The Toronto crowd was long of Canadian Pacific and "Soo" common, among others, and these stocks, finding little support in New York at the moment, it was an easy matter to carry the prices of them so low ... contend that valour's best part was discretion, and inrew over their stocks. This was just what the Wall Street men wanted, and they succeeded in picking up the stocks at low prices.

A London cable to the Star says: The prices of United States and Canadian securities fell mechanically here yesterday, in response to declining prices in New York. There were no signs of excitement, however, and the downward fluctuations were anticipated precisely as a reaction upward was forecasted for to-day. Financiers frankly assert that the markets must remain irregular, with alternate declines and recoveries, so long as the monetary stringency prevails in New York and Chicago, and the largest operators are overloaded with shares of industrial and com-

THE WHEAT MARKETS ARE VERY STEADY.

Oats on Spot or for Immediate Delivery are in Demand and Higher —Other Grains Steady.

The Liverpool wheat market was steady to-day. December closing unchanged at 5s 10d. March closing unchanged at 5s 11d. May closing ¼d down at 5s 11½d. Antwerp closed ¼ up at 15½ for No. 2 red winter. Paris closed steady, November being 5 up at 21.80. March and June being unchanged at 21.35. London quoted No. 1 standard Cala, prompt, 30s 9d; Walla Walla, white, passage, 29s 6d.

Weather in England and France was fine.

Chicago quoted grain at noon as follows: Wheat, December, ⅛c down at 72c; May, ⅛c down at 74 3-8c. Corn, December, ⅜c up at 51¾c; May, ⅜c up at 41 3-8c. Oats, December, ⅛c up at 29¾c; May, steady at 30¾c.

There were 2,387,465 bushels of wheat in store at Fort William and Port Arthur on November 3. Receipts for the week were 1,886,667 bushels, and shipments 1,752,453 bushels. A year ago stocks in store at Fort William were 1,824,535 bushels. Stocks in store at Fort William, Port Arthur, Keewatin, Winnipeg, and Interior points are estimated approximately at 10,985,000 bushels, compared with 7,058,000 a year ago, 2,880,000 bushels two years ago, 7,250,000 bushels three years ago, and 3,000,000 bushels four years ago.

The first cargo of wheat to be shipped from Tacoma to Australia has been taken by the British ship Celtic Chief. Leading grain exporters of Tacoma have expressed the opinion that the drought in Australia will result in a large amount of wheat being shipped there from the Pacific coast.

Free rains are reported in Australia, and the late active demand from there for wheat and flour is likely to fall off. The late sales of spring patents for that destination from the North-West mills and Canada have been nearly, if not quite, 75,000 barrels. In addition South Africa has taken within the last week about 40,000 barrels more of same flour.

LOCAL MARKET.—Considerable anxiety was displayed this morning to purchase oats. On spot the market is firm, and goods which can be delivered immediately are at a premium over those for future delivery. Receipts are light and there is such a good demand for local account that export business cannot be done at a profit. The market was strong and prices showed an advance.

Quotations were as follows: No. 2 white oats, afloat, for export, 36 to 36½c, in store, for local account, 36½ to 37c; peas are in fair demand at 76c afloat; rye at 56c afloat; barley, No. 3, 47c, and No. 3x, 48½c, afloat.

New Manitoba wheat, first half October, is quoted at 73½c for No. 1 hard and 71½c for No. 1 northern, afloat at Fort William.

FEED—Bran and shorts were firmer today. Quotations in car lots on track: Man. bran, in bags, $17 to $18; shorts, bags, $19 to $20; Ontario bran, in bulk, $15 to $16; shorts, $19 to $20; in bulk; middlings, $22 to $23; moullie, $23 to $30, according to quality.

ROLLED OATS—The market is steady, and prices range from $4.15 to $4.25 in wood and $2 to $2.05 in bags for broken lots.

FLOUR—Quotations in Montreal on track are $3.80 to $3.90 for straight rollers in barrels; in bags, $1.70 to $1.75; extra bags, $1.60 to $1.65; winter patents are $3.75 to $4; Manitoba finest strong bakers, $3.70 to $3.80; patents, $3.90 to $4.10.

HAY.—The market continues steady, and trade is fairly active. Baled hay is quoted as follows: No. 1, $9; No. 2, $7.50 to $8; clover, $6.50 to $7.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

TORONTO, November 13.—Wheat—No. 2 red winter wanted at 68c east, while it offered at 68c; Midland, No. 2 white, 68½c bid east, without offerings.

Barley—No. 3 extra, 48c bid outside, without offering.

Peas—No. 2 white wanted at 71c east on Grand Trunk, without sellers.

Oats—No. 1 white, 32c bid east, No. 2 white, 31c bid, low freights to New York, and No. 2 mixed, 30c bid, middle freight, but none offered.

Wheat Steady To-day.

(From the Special Representative of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.)

CHICAGO, November 13.—Wheat was steady. May sold at 74⅞ to 74¾c. There was a lack of support, yet the offerings were small owing to the fact that Armour is long fully 8,000,000 bushels of May, and short sellers under such conditions is considered a hazardous risk. Report of a sale of 100,000 bushels of wheat for export via the Gulf, and talk of an improved cash demand for wheat in the North-West, helped no little. The strength in December corn was a help to wheat. Primary and North-Western wheat receipts exceeded last year's. There is doubtless a squeeze on in December corn. It was bid up 1½ cents this morning, and the offerings were small even at the advance. Joe Leiter's name is mentioned in connection with it.

LARD SITUATION IS FIRM.

Foreign Buyers Paying High Prices in the U. S. Should Affect Canada.

The N. K. Fairbank Co. writes, under date of November 11, regarding the lard market, as follows:

It is an unusual condition when the price of hog lard in the States affects the Canadian market, a duty of 2c per pound always prohibiting the importation of American hog fat. At the present time a peculiar condition, however, is that U. S. lard has advanced to a point that the foreign market is paying more for lard purchased in the States than they could buy at in Canada. This, for the first time in years, gives the Canadian producers of lard an opportunity in the English market. Hog lard in the States closed Saturday at $10.80, or fully 3-4c above the Canadian price. To-day foreign buyers can get a better grade of lard for 3-4c less in Canada than in the States. The export records show that Canada has exported all of the products of the swine excepting lard, and with this opportunity, it looks as if the price of lard in Canada will soon be on a par with the price in the States, as the foreign market is the balancing power. Buyers would do well to consider this phase of the situation, and its effect on lard and kindred products like refined compounds. Hog receipts in Chicago last week were 455,000, compared with 480,000 for the corresponding week in 1901, which probably means continued advances in the States and better prices abroad, and in turn higher prices in Canada.

PRODUCE MARKET WAS VERY FIRM.

No Changes in Prices Were Noticeable To-day, But Everything Was Firm in Tone.

CHEESE—The market was unchanged to-day and strong. The Liverpool public cable was steady at 58s. There was a fair demand in the local market, and several lots changed hands at full prices. Finest Quebecs are quoted at 11 1-8 to 11 1-4c, and Ontarios at 11 1-4 to 11 3-8c, some asking higher.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 5558 boxes.

BUTTER—The market was quite firm today, and many expect to see higher prices before long. At present finest Quebecs are quoted at 21 to 21 1-4c, and finest Townships, 21 1-4 to 21 1-2c. Fine stock is very scarce.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade amounted to 2,362 packages.

EGGS—The market was steady to-day. Dealers are offering 17½c f.o.b. for straight stock, and there is very little to be had. Straight receipts selling at 19 to 19½c; July and August, cold storage, 17 1-2c; Western limed, 17 1-2c; Montreal limed, 18 1-2c, and straight candled at 20c.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning, for local account, amounted 237 cases.

HONEY.—The supply is light, and the demand is not active. White strained is offered all the way from 8 to 8½c a lb., and white comb at 10 to 11½c. Very little buckwheat honey is now offering.

POTASH.—Very little demand for potash, and prices for first pots are $4.85 to $4.40, and seconds at $3.60 to $3.70. Pearl ash is wanted at $6 to $6.50.

POTATOES—The market for potatoes is very strong owing to the demand for shipments to the west, stock being very scarce there. Dealers are now paying 75 to 77c a bag of 90 pounds on track, and selling at 90c in a jobbing way.

BEANS—The market was steady to-day at $2.06 a bushel on track for primes, and $2.06 to $2.10 in broken lots. Stock is scarce.

Heavy Insurance Carried by the Late Archibald N. Waterhouse.

NEW YORK, November 13.—The late Archibald N. Waterhouse, of Philadelphia, who died suddenly last Friday, held policies amounting to $80,000 in The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. The forms of insurance under which these policies were issued were so selected that his widow will receive at once $20,000 in cash and an annual income of $3,000 for twenty years, and if she is living at the end of that period she will receive $60,000 in cash, making the total amount received under these policies $140,000, on which the premiums paid by Mr. Waterhouse amounted to only $27,492.20.

Of the total amount of this insurance $50,000 was taken under a form of policy devised and introduced by The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, popularly known as the 5 Per Cent. Debenture Policy. These policies will pay his widow $2,500 a year for twenty years, and at the end of twenty years $50,000 in cash if she is then living. Should she die before the expiration of that time $50,000 will be paid her estate. On these policies ten premiums of $1,955 each had been paid.

Another policy held by Mr. Waterhouse was a 5 Per Cent. Twenty-Year Gold Bond Policy for $10,000, on which he had paid six annual payments of $448.70 each. This form of policy was also devised and introduced by The Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, and in settlement of this policy the company will issue ten one-thousand dollar 5 Per Cent. Twenty-Year Gold Bonds, the income from which will be $500 a year for twenty years. The face of the policy, $10,000, will be paid at the end of twenty years. Mr. Waterhouse held another policy for $20,000, on which he had paid only seven annual payments of $750 each. Under this policy $20,000 in cash will be paid his widow at once.

COMMITTEE WILL SEEK A SUCCESSOR FOR REV. DR. M'WILLIAMS

The Rev. Dr. T. S. McWilliams, who has resigned the pastorate of the American Presbyterian Church, said a few farewell words at a meeting of the congregation held last night in the church parlours. After a short service, Mr. John Murphy took the chair, and Mr. George R. Lighthall, clerk of sessions, acted as secretary.

Mr. George Hannah was unanimously appointed a commissioner to go to New York and represent the church when Dr. McWilliams asks the presbytery for a dissolution of his pastoral relations with the church at Montreal. This is a formality necessary before Dr. McWilliams is free.

Messrs. W. S. Paterson, D. A. Budge, Francis McLennan, F. E. Nelson and John W. Ross were appointed a committee in the matter of securing a successor to the Rev. Dr. McWilliams.

Mr. Nelson expressed the opinion that it was a big undertaking for five men, and said he would like to be relieved of the responsibility.

Mr. Murphy, the chairman, said that Mr. Nelson would only have to shoulder one-fifth of the responsibility; in fact, the committee could add to its numbers and would finally have to act with the session in the matter which would relieve the committee of considerable responsibility. Mr. Nelson after the explanation consented to act.

The intention of the committee is to proceed leisurely until it finds a man it is satisfied will meet the requirements.

Dr. McWilliams announced that he would leave for New York on Saturday evening, and will attend the meeting of the presbytery on Tuesday, after which he will leave for Ohio, where he will spend a few weeks before entering upon his duties in Cleveland.

Mrs. McWilliams and son will leave for home to-morrow evening.

PROF. F. J. STEEN'S LECTURE ON ANCIENT EGYPTIANS.

At the Art Gallery last evening Prof. F. J. Steen delivered a most interesting and instructive lecture on the ancient Egyptians. The lecturer has gathered together much valuable information in regard to this oldest of civilized nations. He has dressed the matter in his usual excellent style, and while the lecture has already been heard in Montreal, having been delivered last winter in the Art Gallery, it was listened to last night with great attention by a fair sized audience.

The lecture, which is one of a course of three, was given under the auspices of the Woman's Art Association, and this particular lecture, as Mr. Steen explained, was given by special request. He began by explaining fully the physical features of the great Nile valley, how the country was suited for the early civilization it received, and how nature had conspired, as it were, to save for this day and generation, a written record of a civilization which was old, old when David was alive. The fortunate discovery of the Rosetta stone has given us the key to all these old writings so, to-day, the lives and incidents of these people who lived, five, six and seven thousand years ago are more familiar to us than the centuries of civilization which came after in other portions of the world.

Prof. Steen took up the story of Egyptian civilization from the days of Menes who was probably the ruler to unite the two kingdoms of Upper and Lower Egypt under one sceptre. Prof. Petrie sets him down at 4777 B.C., and some faint conception of his antiquity may be gained by reflecting that far away as the days of David seem to us, he was nearer modern times by 900 years than he was to the great Egyptian.

A large part of the lecture was taken up with a description of the hieroglyphic pictures on the tombs that have given us so clear an idea of the old Egyptian life.

TROUBLE FOR REDMOND.

Radical Irish Urge Countrymen Not to Support His Propaganda.

BOSTON, November 13.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Transcript says: The Parliamentary delegation, under the leadership of John Redmond, recently arrived in the United States for the purpose of attending the United Irish League Convention in Boston and collecting funds to carry on the free Ireland campaign at home, is not going to have a smooth path to travel. A secret meeting of members of the more radical Irish patriot element held at the house of a Federal office holder in Washington, has borne fruit in a letter, mailed to prominent Irishmen in all parts of the country, advising against the encouragement of the work of the visitors from abroad, on grounds stated as follows:

"First—It is several years since a Parliamentary delegation, under the same auspices, collected funds in this country for the purchase of Avondale, Charles Stewart Parnell's ancestral home. The place is now owned by a Dublin butcher, and the funds given to purchase the place are still unaccounted for by Mr. Redmond.

"Second—Mr. Redmond is a prime, if not the sole mover, in a most worthy scheme to erect a statue to Mr. Parnell in Glasnevin Cemetery. If ever there was a project which should be distinctly Irish and patriotic in scope and character, this was pre-eminently the one. Yet what do we find? Instead of giving the work to an Irish sculptor, the Redmond promoters turned it over to a foreigner, St. Gaudens. This is only one of many decisions reached by John E. Redmond and his satellites that are more convenient than patriotic. They seem to be constructed to suit the desires of certain English admirers of Redmond, and having served their purpose for a time, are quite in danger of being forgotten.

"Third, still fresh in the public mind is the dismissal of James J. O'Kelly, M.P., as London correspondent of a newspaper, which Redmond controls, and also a nephew of a prominent New York editor, an Irishman who risked his life and liberty in defence of Ireland. The man is now employed by a Tory newspaper, the Irish Times, which fact shows that he was not discharged for incompetency. Mr. Holland, a Chicago journalist, who was brought to Dublin by Mr. Redmond to take charge of his newspaper, quit the job in disgust, and is now on the staff of the London Daily Mail."

The letter is signed by John Martin O'Brien, who was formerly identified with Irish organization in Chicago, but is not well known here. Though he appears as personal sponsor for the charges, it is understood that a number of conspicuous Irish agitators are behind him in the plan to block Mr. Redmond's work here, and that they will come to the front when the effect of the letter had been made evident by responses from the parties addressed.

AFTER CIVIL STRIFE.

Not many are left who remember the events of 1837 in Canada. But they are numerous who recollect the natural bitterness with which loyalists in both the Upper and Lower Provinces regarded the rebels and all who gave them any sympathy. This inevitable result of armed conflict and trade disturbance continued long after the grievances which caused the insurrection had been recognized, acknowledged and redressed. Papineau and William Lyon Mackenzie, both sat in Parliament and both died before the natural deplorable bitterness ceased to be a factor in politics. It is still cherished by a few of the old who were children when their fathers and uncles were fighting down, or cheering the fighters down, of a rebellion that was the improper manifestation of proper demands for reform.

In 1870 the Manitoba half-breeds stood for recognition of their just rights, which were recognized and redressed later by the Ottawa authorities. In 1885 the Saskatchewan Metis, after seven years petitioning for such a settlement as had been given to their kin in Manitoba rose in insurrection. Though they put Canada to great pecuniary expense, and considerable sacrifice of volunteered lives, their grievances were promptly admitted and redressed.

In each of these three cases it was most improbable that a quieting settlement would have been made had the loyalists on the ground been left to arrange with the vanquished, or been taken as sound advisers in the settlement. They could not be so when embittered and not to have been temporarily embittered would have implied in them qualities surpassing the human. In one case the Imperial Government was far enough distant to judge impartially and act wisely on Lord Durham's advice; in the others the statesmanship of Sir John Macdonald shone all the more grandly because he could not but recognize that his Government had been in some degree to blame for not permitting by timely concessions the troubles he finally quieted. In all the cases amnesty of the most inclusive possible, amnesty almost extravagantly inclusive, was promptly granted to the rebels.

Mr. Chamberlain will bring to South Africa the unexcited mind of a great man not embittered by the late almost fratricidal war. His purpose will not be to place one set of men on top of the other, much less to keep them there, but to so settle matters that the late opponents may agree as far as possible, and cease to disturb the progress of industry by recriminations, bickerings, and claims to domination. The similarity of the parties in creed and race should make the settlement less difficult than it was in Canada. That he will proceed on the most liberal ideas, recognizing that not only a full measure of justice to the vanquished, but one heaped up and running over, is politic, if not absolutely due, may be safely assumed. Should he fail in quieting South Africa it will not be easy to convince observers that the stubborn Boers are not irreconcilables.

For many years France, Russia and Germany have been apparently trying their purses against Great Britain's in the matter of building up navies. No matter how they increased their outlay John Bull went them several better, adhering to the policy that his navy should be more than equal to any other two combined. From continuing this contest of the purse it may well be that the others are shrinking. At least France seems getting tired, since her naval estimates have this year been slightly reduced. It is a hopeful sign. Could the impossibility of out-building the Masters of the Seas be once clearly evinced the effort might be given up and naval expenses reduced to the normal, from which not Great Britain but the minor naval powers first departed.

ALARMING NEWS FROM MOROCCO

British Squadron Sent to Tetuan to Protect British Interests.

KABYLES IN REBELLION

British Subjects Assassinated—Spanish Authorities Aid Europeans to Escape.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

LONDON, November 13.—The situation in Morocco is becoming alarming. News reaches here from Madrid to the effect that the Governor of Tetuan has imprisoned several Moors, important members of the Bender Kabyls, who are accused of assassinating several British subjects. The Moors have, in consequence, revolted, and are plundering the caravans and threatening to assail Tetuan, which place is terrified and has asked for relief. The Spanish authorities have sent a mail steamer to Tetuan, with the object of facilitating the escape of European families, and a British squadron has also started for the same port to give assistance. A stubborn fight is expected; and if the rebels succeed in capturing Tetuan the situation will be very serious.

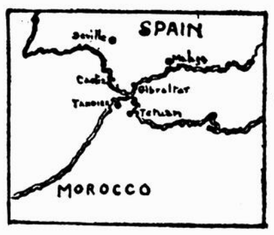
REBELS DEFEAT TETUANITES.

MADRID, November 13.—A despatch received here from Tetuan, (the seaport of Morocco where the Kabyle tribesmen have rebelled in consequence of the refusal of the local governor to liberate certain Kabyles, including the murderer of an Englishman), shows that the situation has grown more serious. A body of armed Tetuanites has been defeated in a fight with the rebels and compelled to retreat to the town. The rebels are encamped at Samsa, half an hour distant from Tetuan, where all business is suspended.

In Madrid, the position of the Europeans at Tetuan is considered to be most grave. The newspapers comment on Spain's continued ill-fortune, as again evinced by the fact that the country is without a cabinet at the time of such an important crisis.

BRITISH CRUISERS SAIL.

GIBRALTAR, November 13.—The British cruisers Furious, Pactolus and Prometheus have sailed from here for Tetuan, Morocco.



SCENE OF THE TROUBLE.

Tetuan is a walled seaport town of Morocco, in the province of El Garb, 18 miles south of Ceuta, 35 miles south of Gibraltar, and 6 miles from the Mediterranean. It has a population of 18,000, of whom 6,000 are Jews, a few Christians, and the remainder Mussalmans. The town is built on an elevation and commands a magnificent view. The harbour is protected by a fort at the mouth of the river. Tetuan was founded in 1492 by refugees from Granada, and many of the families still retain the title deeds to their former estates in Spain. In 1860, the Spaniards, who were at war with Morocco, on account of the decapitation of Consul Darmon, for the wounding of a Moor, captured Tetuan from Morocco, after a decisive battle between General O'Donnell and the Moors. By the treaty of Tetuan, Morocco was to pay 20,000,000 piastres to Spain as ransom, but money not being obtainable to pay the indemnity, the Spaniard obtained control of the customs for a term of years. Hence Spain's concern in the present difficulties.

Morocco is ruled by a Sultan, who is head of religion as well as head of the State. The present Sultan is Abdul Aziz. He is absolute, but the tribes beyond the mountains scarcely acknowledge his authority. He has a disciplined standing army of 10,000 infantry, 400 cavalry, and some artillery, with militia infantry of 10,000, cavalry 8,000 and irregular forces 40,000.

SPAIN'S CABINET CRISIS.

Sagasta's Troubles in Securing New Colleagues.

MADRID, November 13.—The Duke of Tetuan and Marshal Lopez Dominguez have absolutely declined to support Senor Sagasta in the formation of a Liberal concentration cabinet.

Senor Sagasta was received in audience by King Alfonso yesterday, and subsequently said that he hoped to be able to form a cabinet with the assistance of Senor Romero Robledo.

General Weyler will again receive the war portfolio, provided Senor Sagasta succeeds in forming a cabinet. That the general is to be included in the new ministry is due to the fact that Marshal Topez Dominguez declined his support to Senor Sagasta.

SIR WILFRID'S DEPARTURE TO VIRGINIA DELAYED UNTIL NEXT MONDAY

It is announced that the departure of Sir Wilfrid Laurier for Hot Springs, Virginia, which was expected to take place on Friday evening, will not take place before Monday, in any case, and may even be delayed longer.

He will be followed by Messrs. Robert Bickerdike, M.P., Senator Dandurand, M. Hutchinson, M.L.A., J. C. Madore, M.P., Ald. Lebeuf and others. The chair will be occupied by the president, Mr. W. E. Dickson.

DEADLY WORK OF EMPEROR'S GUN

Kaiser Does Havoc Among the Sandringham Pheasants.

AUSTRIA AND THE VISIT

Vienna Journals Would Like to See Germany Left Out in Cold—Cool Politeness.

SANDRINGHAM, England, November 13.—Emperor William yesterday proved his prowess as a crack shot. Clad in a light green hunting suit, he kept three loaders busier than they had ever been in their lives. King Edward, the Prince of Wales, Count Wolff-Metternich, the German Ambassador, and the other members of the shooting party who accompanied the Emperor are all good shots, but twice as many pheasants fell to Emperor William's gun as to those of the others.

The large crowds who had come to witness yesterday's drive, which was the biggest one arranged for the royal visit, had an excellent view of the sport, and as bird after bird dropped before the unerring aim of the German Emperor, the spectators openly expressed their astonishment and admiration, much to the Emperor's amusement. The day's bag was one of the biggest on record.

LONDON, November 13.—The Times's Vienna correspondent says that while the German Austrians display disappointment at the attitude of the British public toward the visit of Emperor William, independent opinion inclines to the view that it will not do Germany any harm to be left out in the cold for a time, and that it will benefit those who have had dealings with her, since Germany is always more accommodating when she receives the cold shoulder from other powers.

It is thought that nothing more than the cool politeness of keen business competitors is possible between England and Germany, and that even that is difficult in the face of outbursts of Anglophobia such as those recently filling the pages of the German press, which were encouraged by the inconsiderate and far from friendly utterances of the German statesmen.

It is pointed out that any show of favour to the Kaiser will be interpreted as an attempt to curry favour resulting from a repetition of the old Bismarckian warnings of the pernicious influence of the English royal family in German affairs.

PORTUGAL HOLDS HER COLONIES

Her Minister to Paris Denies That East Africa is to be Ceded.

PARIS, November 13.—With reference to the report that Germany and England have acquired Portuguese East Africa, M. de Souza Rosa, the Portuguese minister to France, says:

"There is not one word of truth in the report, and if I consent to make such a categorical denial, it is not because similar reports with regard to the Portuguese colony deserve a contradiction. On the contrary, they refute themselves. Their very extravagance is sufficient proof of their inaccuracy, but I contradict them emphatically and unreservedly solely for the purpose of putting the public upon their guard, as I am convinced such reports are put into circulation for speculative purposes. Portugal has not the slightest intention of parting with her colonial possessions, nor any portion of them, either to England or to any other Power. I may assure you that the British Government has never made any representation, directly or indirectly, concerning Portuguese territory in Africa."

Dinner to Lord Dundonald.

The complimentary dinner to be tendered the Earl of Dundonald, General Officer commanding the Canadian militia, by the district officer commanding and the officers of the 5th military district, will take place in the Windsor Hotel at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening, November 19th, instead of Thursday evening, November 20th, as previously announced. A reception will be held at 7.45 o'clock in the parlours of the Windsor, at which the commanding officers of the city regiments will present their officers to His Lordship. Tickets for the banquet may be had from all commanding officers, at the Military Institute, and from Major Millar, 40 Hospital street.

Death of Mr. John Lydon.

The death occurred yesterday of Mr. John Lydon, son of Major Lydon, of the Highland Cadet Battalion, and a former member of that corps. The deceased had been in poor health for some time past, and his death was not unexpected. He leaves a wife, whom he married about a year and a half ago, and an infant child. Ex-members of the Highland Cadet Battalion are requested to meet at 21 Argyle avenue, in this city, this evening, at eight o'clock, to make arrangements for the funeral.

Itching Piles Most Annoying.

Cause Uneasiness and Often Keen Suffering—There is One Positive Cure—

Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is a question whether there is another preparation for sale in this country that is so heartily endorsed by persons who have used it as Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Professional and business men and women, farmers, mechanics, railroad men, miners, labourers, all classes of men and women use and endorse Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only actual cure for piles.

Mr. John Harvey, Mayor of Arnprior, Ont., states: "Only persons who have experienced the torture of itching piles can form any idea of what I suffered from this horrible disease. I was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment, and can positively say that it has completely cured me. I had tried very many so-called cures for piles, and can truthfully say that there is no remedy on the face of the earth like Dr. Chase's Ointment for this purpose. I would not be without it for any amount of money, and can heartily recommend it to all sufferers, as it is the best thing I ever used."

W. E. Talbot, of Talbot Bros., tobacco merchants, 382 George street, Peterboro', Ont., states: "It is from a desire to help other sufferers that I offer a statement of my experience with Dr. Chase's Ointment as a cure for itching piles. I was for a long time troubled with this unpleasant and torturing disease, and though I tried very many treatments, remained uncured until I came across Dr. Chase's Ointment. It was highly recommended to me, and I find that every word of praise that is given to it is true. I can truthfully say that I am completely cured, and, knowing the misery that this ailment produces, I am anxious for others to know of the surprising virtues of Dr. Chase's Ointment."

CANADIAN TRADE WITH SOUTH AFRICA

Topic of Address Delivered at Ottawa by Postmaster General.

TRADE WITH AUSTRALIA

Sir William Thinks a Service Across the Atlantic is What Manufacturers Require.

(Special to the Montreal Star.)

OTTAWA, November 13.—There was an unusually large attendance of members and others in the rooms of the Ottawa Board of Trade, last evening, to hear Sir Wilam Mulock address the Board on matters in connection with trade with South Africa. Amongst those present was Mr. John Charlton, M. P., who occupied a seat in the back of the hall.

Mr. J. R. Read, seconded by Mr. Holland, moved a resolution congratulating Sir Sandford Fleming on the completion of the Pacific Cable.

This having been carried, Mr. Thomas MacFarlane, seconded by Mr. G. B. Greene, moved a resolution thanking Sir William Mulock for and congratulating him on the success of his efforts to establish a direct line of cargo steamers between Canada and South Africa, which the Board believes will greatly extend trade between the two countries, and expressing their hope that a similar line may soon be established between Canada and Australia. The resolution also thanked Sir William for his services in connection with the Pacific Cable.

Sir William Mulock on rising to reply was warmly received. He reminded them that this was not the first occasion on which the Board had recognized his acts, but on this occasion he was not to be credited with having secured the South African line. He had simply assisted his colleagues in the matter. When, in 1898, he was attending the Imperial Penny Postage at the Westminster Palace Hotel, the Australian delegates who had voted against it were withdrawing, when he said to Sir Horace Foyer, "Sir Horace, there is something more important than penny postage if Canada and Australia are to be brought together, there is communication by electricity." Sir Horace said he was with him there, and the next day they met at Lord Strathcona's, he being always ready to do all he could for Canada, and the arrangements for shares by the colonies for the establishment of the Pacific Cable was the outcome.

GERMAN BONUSES.

Speaking on the question of the bonuses paid by the German and other governments to steamship companies, and the necessity of inter-Imperial preference, Sir William said Canada contained all the material resources and the geographical position to trade at least on equal terms with every nation. Outside of Great Britain and Ireland, every nation was to-day hedging itself about with protective wails. The natural outcome of this would be that the different portions of the Empire would be brought more and more with each other. The Empire was world-embracing, and if this was aimed at the trade would surely grow. He alluded to the notice that Sir Edmund Barton had given of a British preference, and the resolution adopted at the London Conference. These were steps towards inter-Imperial preference. The Motherland had not pledged itself to this policy, but when a preference in grain was suggested Great Britain, instead of scouting it as she would have 50 years ago, took it into her serious consideration. This was a great step towards inter-Imperial preference. Take India, if she put a 7½ per cent. duty on all the world with 5 per cent. off, that would mean a great deal. Let them be patient, it would come in time. At any rate the Government was of the opinion that Canada was too big to be built up by protection. If she could not trade with all the world, then lines of trade would open.

At present the efforts of the Canadian and Australian governments to secure a fast service had not been successful. One thing was certain, Eastern Canada must have a line via the Atlantic and round South Africa to Australia in order that her manufacturers might reach all parts of Australasia. This line would leave Montreal in summer and the Maritime Province ports in winter, proceed to Cape Town and thence to Australia. The latter would always be an importing country to a large extent. Western Australia was a mining country, and a valuable one to manufacturing countries, like Eastern Canada. They had no soft woods. Our hardest woods are soft compared with Australian, and Canada enjoyed an immense advantage over all the nations of the world in supplying Australia. Furniture not considered of a very high character in Canada would be very favourably received. Mr. Coate had spoken of $35,000 worth of furniture sent from Ottawa last week via New York. Large quantities of paper from Eddy's was sent out, but it did not go as Canadian. It was shipped from New York and supplied freight to American lines. The South African line was the thin end of the wedge.

DIVERTING TRADE.

Already South African shipments were being diverted to the Canadian line. There was a large Australian market for iron and steel. There was a deep feeling of regard in Australia for Canada. They felt we were all under one flag. We had small trade relations now, which would grow. The Government felt that in order to increase the trade they must have the electric spark. They had it, and it would tend to increase trade and the cost would be repaid many times over. He read a letter from the Elder-Dempster line speaking of the success of the second vessel chartered for South Africa. The contract called for one ship a month and as many more as there was freight for. It rested with the manufacturers and farmers of Canada whether it remained one a month or became one a week. There was already a full cargo for the vessel sailing on the 18th instant. He mentioned incidentally that Germany paid one million dollars a year, nominally for mail subsidies for their lines to Australia, and France paid over five million dollars for the same service. This, of course, was to cover freight generally.

As a preliminary step to improving trade between Canada and Australia, it was necessary to improve the fast line across the Atlantic. If the line were not faster than the progress made towards getting it, it would not be worth much. A good line of steamers would divert to Canada the immense tourist traffic which every year comes to the Continent, and would so bring Canada and the Motherland more and more into touch. He did not think Canada would complain of the cost. He hoped it soon might be an accomplished fact. When accomplished, it would shorten the journey from Australia to London by more than a week, and make Canada the centre of the Empire. In a few years the Pacific would be as full of shipping as is the Atlantic to-day. He wished he would live to see the future of this country if Canada be true to itself.

EXHIBIT OF CROWNS.

POPE LEO XIII.

Amongst the Crowns being exhibited at The S. Carsley Co. Ltd., none are more interesting than the tiara and sceptre of His Holiness Pope Leo XIII. It is a marvel of beauty and of intense interest to everybody. It alone attracts thousands of people.

The Exhibit closes Saturday and for the remaining two days the admission will be free to adults and children accompanied by their parents.

At Belleville yesterday the marriage took place, in Bridge Methodist Church, of Dr. A. B. Cyril Dando, of Sault Ste. Marie, to Miss Lillian F. Mills, of Belleville. Rev. Dr. Crothers, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by a large number of people. The bridesmaids were Miss Myrtle Mills, sister of the bride, and Miss Ada Dando, sister of the groom. The best man was Mr. James Thompson, of Sault Ste. Marie. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the residence of the bride's parents, and later Dr. and Mrs. Dando left for Montreal and other eastern points. On their return they will take up their residence at the "Soo."

Mrs. Irwin's dance in Ottawa this week for her daughter, Miss Gladys Irwin, was very enjoyable. Mrs. Hugh Fleming wore a black gown embroidered with jet sequins; Miss Fitzpatrick wore a lace gown over pale blue satin with trimming of chiffon and pearls; Mrs. J. Pope, black spotted net with Chantilly insertions, over white silk, and touches of turquoise blue; Mrs. Vidal, white net gown spotted with black and mounted on white silk, with trimming of black velvet; Mrs. Sifton, white satin brocade with point lace and chiffon trimming; Mrs. Stanley Maude, in black velvet, with duchesse lace trimming; Mrs. W. Mrs. Campbell Lane, Durocher street, was among the hostesses entertaining at tea yesterday afternoon. The drawing-room, where Mrs. Lane received, was prettily decorated with palms and ferns and yellow chrysanthemums. In the tea room the flowers used in the arrangement of the table were Sunrise roses arranged as a centre-piece in a large silver bowl, and also in cut-glass vases. In place of candelabra the table was lighted by tiny lamps placed in holders resembling candlesticks, and shaded in yellow. Mrs. Kenneth Young and Miss Haynes presided at the table, assisted by Miss L. Young, Miss MacCallum, Miss Plimsoll and Mrs. Anstey. Mrs. Lane received her guests in a charming gown of fawn voile mounted on white taffeta, and trimmed with revers and collar of brocade, in which there were touches of purple and yellow. Among the many guests present were: Miss Macfarlane, the Misses Budden, Miss M. Roddick, Mrs. F. Robertson, Mrs. McDuff, Mrs. Percy Scott, Mrs. C. E. Gault, Mrs. Baldwin Hart, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Birkett, Mrs. C. D. Monk, Mrs. F. D. Mrs. George Hannah, Mansfield street, entertained a number of friends yesterday at a reception given in honour of her daughter's debut. The house was effectively decorated with quantities of palms and white mums, the same colour scheme being observed in the arrangement of the tea room. The polished mahogany table had a centre-piece of white mums arranged in a cut-glass vase, and the silver candelabra were shaded in green. Mrs. Thomas Gilmour and Mrs. George Low presided at the tea table, assisted by Miss Jessie Newman, Miss Hays, Miss Perry Wilson, Miss Ethel Edgar, and Miss Ruth Lyman. Mrs. Hannah, who received in the drawing room with Miss Hannah, was handsomely gowned in black and white brocade, with yoke of black and white embroidered chiffon, and touches of turquoise blue panne velvet and chiffon. Miss Hannah wore a frock of white nun's veiling embroidered in white silk, the bodice made with a white chiffon yoke. She wore some lilies of the valley on her bodice, and carried a bouquet of "Jack" roses. Those present included Mrs. Charles Drinkwater, Mrs. Arthur Drummond, Mrs. Jas. Thom, Mrs. Hugh Allan, Miss Skelton, Mrs. Ibbotson, Mrs. Atwater, Mrs. Hastings, Mrs. H. Birks, Mrs. Pease, Mrs. D. Sailors' Club Concert.

The concert at the Catholic Sailors' Club last evening proved an unqualified success. The entertainment was under the auspices of the Imperial Army and Navy Veterans. Owing to the absence of President Jones, whose brother died last Monday, Commander J. Bolster occupied the chair. Among those who contributed were Miss Durand, Mrs. Durand, Mr. Arthur Jones, Masters Willie and Charles Eckstein, the Misses Brennan, Brown, Wnylock, Delahanty, Harrington, McCarthy and Messrs Jack Hall, Finn, Mattice, McMahon, Blackford and Joe Donnelly. The Army and Navy Band played "Soldiers of the Queen," and closed the concert with "God Save the King. Specially worthy of mention is Miss A. Price, who gave some pianoforte selections, and accompanied Mr Jones in his songs.

Two Steamers Injured.

A collision occurred in the river on Tuesday morning opposite Battiscan by which the Monteagle, of the Elder-Dempster Co., and the Black Diamond steamer St. Andrews were both slightly injured. The two steamers were passing inwards for Montreal, the St. Andrews a little ahead of the Monteagle, when they met the Louisburg coming down the river. The St. Andrews moved to give the Louisburg room to pass, and as the Monteagle had gained on her they collided, causing slight damage to both steamers.
