Presentations were also made to Mrs. Wilkinson and the two children by Mrs. J. O. Hastings.

First Westmount Company To Hold Banquet Tonight

Rev. W. Talbot-Hindley Will be Speaker at B.B. Father and Son Affair

The First Company will hold their annual Father and Son Banquet this evening in Westmount Y.M.C.A., commencing at 6.15 p.m. The special speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. W. Talbot-Hindley, well known radio preacher and chaplain in the last war.

The following toasts will be proposed: The King, by Color Sgt. Edwin Goring; The Church, by Corp. Bob Eastwood; The Boys' Brigade, by Sgt. James Wright and The Boys now serving in the armed services, by Lieut. Alex Upham. Captain J. Howard Richardson will preside over the banquet. AC2 Howard Hurst is to be guest pianist for the occasion.

Following the banquet, the Company will give their annual mid-winter display in King's School and will be inspected by F/O T. H. Stirling of the No. 1 Wireless School. Following the ceremonial, a demonstration in Squad Drill will be presented by the Precision Squad under Color Sgt. Edwin Goring. Physical training will be featured under the leadership of Instructor Willard Brown, followed by First Aid and A.R.P. work, under the direction of Lieut. A. G. Anderson. There will be a game of Floor Hockey between two picked teams from the Company and then as a final feature and perhaps the most outstanding of the evening will be the first public appearance of the Brass Band. Lieut. Charles King has been working very hard with the band during the past few weeks and the results he has attained are most encouraging. He has arranged for a special quartet rendition of Beethoven's "God in Nature" and a Euphonium solo by Cpl. Bob Eastwood, "Evening Star" from Tannhauser. AC2 Howard Hurst will preside at the piano.

Prizes will be awarded for Christmas Card sales, topped by Pte. J. Durocher who will receive a camp knife, seconded by Cpl. A. Keith, who will receive a B.B. pen. Calendar sales were topped by Pte. Rufus Curry who will receive a camp knife. Col. Sgt. Edwin Goring will be presented with his Long Service Badge, the first presented in the unit for three years. Sgt. Goring has been with the Company since 1937 and is now in the last year in which he may serve in the ranks. He will be promoted this spring to Staff Sergeant and take up the duties of a junior Officer. During the years he has served, his record of attendance is almost perfect, having the highest percentage attendance of any boy since the Company's inception. This is 99.5%. The very few absences during these years were all due to illness.

Three months service badges will be awarded to the following: Ptes. Monty Dugan, Leslie Parker, James Durocher, George Smith.

The Camp trophy was won this past summer by the 1st Tent, led by Cpl. Bob Eastwood and therefore will be presented on Friday evening.

These awards will be presented by W. A. Crammond, at the close of the evening's entertainment.

Westmount Boys Win Promotions

Two Westmount officers promoted overseas are included in the latest list of overseas promotions released by the Department of National Defence Headquarters.

The senior promotion was that of Capt. O. H. Smith to be acting major. Maj. Smith, Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, is a son of J. Harry Smith, manager of the C.P.R. press bureau, and of Mrs. Smith, 11 Melbourne avenue. He was born in Toronto but received his education at Westmount High School and McGill University from which he received his Bachelor of Science degree. He enlisted in the R. C. O. C. in 1940 with the rank of lieutenant and went overseas in March, 1942. Prior to the war he was a consulting engineer on the staff of Walter J. Armstrong.

Capt. A. E. Brown, Canadian Armored Corps, whose wife resides at 321 Roslyn Avenue, was promoted to acting captain. He is the son of the late Robert E. Brown and of Mrs. Brown, 2292 Girouard Avenue. Born in Westmount he attended the Roslyn School and then joined the staff of the Halifax Insurance Company. He enlisted in the Canadian Grenadier Guards at the outbreak of war and went overseas in 1941. A brother, Capt. Ross Brown, is also serving overseas with the Black Watch.

Two Sparrows Like Indoor Life and Security

Miss H. Gagnon Claims She Has Two of the Most Unusual Birds

Have you ever heard of a sparrow sleeping with a human being for over two years, or of a sparrow adopting and feeding the little one of another? Of two birds, though cageless, living on their own side of the room, and though the door be opened, never straying in other parts of the house, and when being brought down for meals, flying right straight back to their own room, without mistaking their room for another? Have you seen them fighting for a bath!

These are a few characteristics of a couple of sparrows who are fortunate enough to share a room with Miss Hazel Gagnon of Montreal, who is a lover of bird-lore and believes she has two of the most unusual birds (not unusual as to specimen for they are merely sparrows) but rather unusual in their ways, as she puts it.

Miss Gagnon tells of adopting the older bird about two years ago when temporarily indisposed, and who now is not interested in the outside world of uncertainty crumbs. This pet in turn adopted a stray baby sparrow of three or four days old and took it under her maternal wing and fed and reared it like her own. This bird is now seven months old.

If you go to the country on week-ends and when the evening shadows begin to fall when you are on the trail, you will probably hear the clear ascending whistle of the vesper or song sparrow tuning its lovely notes in the evening. This sparrow is easily recognized by two white feathers that show prominently on either

Local Sailor Writes Of Life In Hull Of Ship

Thoughts of Home and Relatives Disclosed In Seaman's Letter

A graphic word picture of a sailor's life in the hull of a ship and what he thinks about when away from home, was given in a letter recently received by a local resident from a relative in the navy. Following are some excerpts from the letter:

"Out here I think a lot of home. No, I can't say where 'out here' is, anyhow tomorrow it will be some other place; for a ship seldom stays still — least of all, our modern hell-divers of steel. In this hull, where my job happens to be, mostly it is dark. Only at each end of a long overhead rod a red bulb puts forth some guarded-light from behind its shield.

Perhaps that's why I keep thinking about candles and stars and lighthouses — all the fire-sparks I've seen in earth or sky during my wanderings. Even a late-in-life seaman, like myself, perforce wanders much.

Of course, you get the feeling that you belong to the boat. But it isn't as easy to love today's steel traps as it was for my gran'dad to love his tub of wood. A wooden ship bears the forest in her beams: A steel hull smells of factory. Gran'dad used to take me aboard his tub. She wasn't much to look at, except when she went winging out with all sail up through the sunrise. She was a coastwise fishing craft — I had to hold my nose when we walked among the barrels of salted cod along the scrubbed deck. I can still see the strong grain of its teak planks and how white it looked!

Best of all, I liked oaring up near her nose in a dinghy where the figurehead showed clearly. It was a well carved portrait of my Grandmother. Her face under her white hair was like a star, — that is how I remember her. But my Gran'dad always saw her in her young days, as she looked on his ship's figurehead, with her head high under gold, coiled hair and her breast cleaving the grey waters."

side of the tail, and he may often be seen perched on a tree or fence-post singing merrily away.

Making a study of birds that stay about your place and keeping a diary about them is an interesting diversion, and if two or three of your friends are doing it too, you can have lots of fun comparing notes.

TOMORROW'S MEAT

Despatch from St. Louis describes a new process by which synthetic beefsteak is being supplied to meet the demand. The cost is only one-fifth that of natural beef and the material will satisfy most palates, says the news item.

In the days ahead
Ere a man is fed
And his hunger satisfied,
For a meal he'll wait
At a plastic plate
While synthetic steak is fried.

There'll be food to spare,
Both well-done and rare,
And the meat will not be dear;
You won't need a cow
To get beefsteak now
That synthetic beef is here.

Epicures will haunt
That restaurant
Where the meat from roasting pans
All factory made
Is of finest grade,
By the best of artisans.

Westmount Highlights

by Buddy Cochrane

By Buddy Cochrane

A highlight of the evening of Friday, Feb. 4 (that's the night of the Purple and White Revue and dance) will be the playing of the band that Westmount High has come to call its own—the Modernaires. This year the band is better than ever. Their musical director and pianist, Walter Gurd, has been driving them hard in practices and the result has been hotter and sweeter music than they have ever played before.

With the addition of Pete King, in the capacity of business manager, the boys have suddenly found that they are very busy. This month they play the Skigulls dance on the 21st, the Montreal High football dance on the 28th, and an engagement at the Shaar this week-end.

The band is composed of twelve men and one vocalist. The latter, who is getting quite a reputation for herself by her singing, is Lillian Adams.

In the band are Walter Gurd, piano, Geoff Merrill, drums, Dick Holbrooke, guitar, Terry Drummond (the Westmount girl's Harry James), first trumpet, Bob Cadieux, second trumpet, Jim Childe, third trumpet, Morrie Lazare, fourth trumpet, Charles Leger, alto sax, Bill Drummond, tenor sax, Baine Mackaskill, alto sax, Doug Robertson, tenor sax, and Ken McCrindle, baritone sax.

The boys are really good.

Busy days are here again for the Westmount High Red Cross. A penny race is scheduled for today and next week there will be another profitable doughnut sale.

However, what the yokels and yokelesses of the building want to know is when the next afternoon tea dance is. How about it, Mr. Spencer? Hal Leavitt is still on hand and willing to run it.

Vox Ducum

Staid members of Westmount High almost jumped out of their seats on Tuesday when they heard a melodious duet asking for contributions in song over the school's loudspeaker system. The pair were Don Fisher and Ian Roberts and judging from reports their unusual appeal touched the hearts of listeners.

All class biographies will be in by the end of next week. Biographers have revealed that they find difficulty in thinking of prototypes for certain persons.

Sports Front

Andy Baxter will be playing hockey this winter. In fact, he got a goal and an assist for himself when the purple and white triumphed over Strathcona Tuesday.

I ask your forgiveness for last week's error when I said that Andy would be playing basketball. The basketball team will miss him.

Speaking of basketball the locals played host to Verdun last Friday and emerged victors by a score of 39-24. Star of the game was Don MacIntosh who sank 18 points.

This afternoon, in a game that does not affect their league standing, Westmount play the reputedly strong West Hill Senior. A team on their own floor.

Last Friday's victory was the first league basketball game that Westmount High has won in its last 19 starts.

Items

Hobby Show President David Johnson has already started planning for 1944's show. On Wednesday night he conferred with Dave Townsend, last year's chief, and he tells me that he will be calling a meeting early next week... Demure Margaret Swaine was at the hockey game Tuesday watching the very creditable performance of her brother Eric. Quite a few Westmount Highers are expected to go to the Park Slide tonight. It is the annual Westmount Y night. Tickets have been on sale the last week and a half... The girl's Hi-Y want the proceeds from the Sadie Hawkins dance which they sponsored. At present the boys have the cash. Next Monday both executives will meet to discuss the matter... The cast of the Purple and White Revue are rehearsing faithfully. It looks good...

Coming Events

Today: Westmount vs West-Hill A, basketball. At W. H. S.

This evening: Annual Westmount Y night at the Park Slide. Saturday: Fraser Vipond will throw a big party at Victoria Hall.

Monday: Joint Hi-Y executive meeting to discuss who is going to get the cash from the last Sadie Hawkins dance.

Wednesday: Girl's Hi-Y meeting.

Thursday: Boys' Hi-Y meeting.

Friday: Skigulls dance at W. H. S.

Friday: L. C. C. basketball team will visit the building to play the locals.

Temple Emanu-El To Hold Dance On Saturday

On Saturday evening, January 15th, The Temple Brotherhood will hold a Mid-Winter Dance for men and women in the armed forces at the Temple Community House. Hostesses will be members of the Young People's Society and a Sisterhood Committee is co-operating with the War Services Committee of the Brotherhood.

Confirmation Class

This evening, after Divine Service, Dr. Stern will meet with the parents and confirmants for the purpose of discussion and study of the Confirmation course. Monthly, Dr. Stern plans to meet with the parents of Confirmation candidates as part of the adult educational program.

Dr. A. E. Cliffe To Address Meeting

A meeting of the Westmount High Schools Home and School Association will be held on Tuesday, January 25th at the Westmount Junior High School. The president, J. A. H. Hamilton, will be in the chair and the speaker will be Dr. A. E. Cliffe, whose subject will be "The Wicks of Life."

THE MINOR KEY

To some minds sadness is nearer akin to happiness than is joy, perhaps because the heart has been so wrung and torn with sorrow that joy seems a mockery, and the key note of rejoicing will not start the tune; in some weary souls it requires rather the minor key of sweet sadness to bring forth the true melody.—M.K.

New Plastic Hailed A Benefit

Local Experts Describe Experiments In Medical Journal

Use of a new plastic material as a lifelike camouflage for facial deformities that can be applied within a day or two after complete healing of a wound is described in the current issue of the Canadian Medical Association Journal, in a joint article contributed by Dr. Hamilton Baxter, Eleanor Swezey, B.A., and Russell Copeman, of Montreal.

The new plastic—a synthetic resinous substance known as "Flexton" and produced by an American concern in Pittsburgh—is hailed as one of the most important developments in the field, not only because of its many qualities as a prosthesis (camouflage) but because of its psychological benefits to the patient.

Dr. Hamilton Baxter, of 4974 Victoria Avenue, a graduate of McGill University, is attending plastic surgery at Royal Victoria Hospital. Eleanor Swezey, formerly of 48 Belvedere Road, is a graduate of Queen's University

Day Of Prayer Service Here Well Attended

On Wednesday evening last the Protestant Churches of Westmount joined in a 'Day of Prayer'. The service was the most enthusiastic in many years with an attendance that overcrowded the Hall of Westmount Baptist Church and overflowed into adjoining rooms. The Rev. Dr. J. A. Johnston, Minister of Westmount Baptist Church, conducted the Service and a large number of laymen led in the prayers. The address was given by the Rev. Dr. Fred Kerr of St. Andrew's United Church and the Rev. Canon Gilbert Oliver pronounced the benediction. Well known hymns were heartily sung and the service appealed so much to the congregation present that they unanimously expressed their desire at the close by a show of hands to continue these meetings at frequent intervals through the year. Consequently, it is expected that the Westmount ministers will make plans to meet this demand and that such prayer services will become a regular part of Westmount religious life.

Kingston, and studied medical art at the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, and Russell Copeman, dental technician.

All joined their varied skills in experiments carried out successfully on three patients in the Royal Victoria Hospital, exemplifying the growing co-operation between doctors and other technicians in utilizing the newest materials of a highly technological civilization to bring new comfort to the human being.

Describing the use of "Flexton" the writers claim the new plastic has a flesh-like transparency the flexibility of rubber without its defects and can be used either permanently or as a temporary camouflage until such time as plastic surgery for a flesh prosthesis, if desired, may be undertaken.

King George Park Gay With Skiers

Sport Enthusiasts Enjoy Park Slopes

The snow-covered slopes and terrain of King George Park are receiving more attention from skiers this past week. With the last big snowstorm the snowy downhill runs are being patronized by sport enthusiasts who recognize this as a fine ski-centre to practice slaloms on short downhill slopes.

Here winter sports pervade in all glory with skiing, skating and sliding — little boys and girls on sleds shriek with excitement and juvenile rapture as the merry skiers flit by — and sometimes land "other side" up.

King George Park, situated between Westmount avenue and Cote St. Antoine Road, is a playground that Westmount citizens take great pride in and enjoy its scenic beauty, and with the economy in week-end travel, which we all try to adhere to, it affords a lot of pleasure and exhilaration to many who make use of this delightful playground.

Solar Club Member is First Donor To New Homoeopathic Blood Bank

A Solar Club member, W. A. Blackwell of Montreal West, one of the first nine members of the club when it was organized back in 1934, was the first voluntary blood donor at the New Homoeopathic Hospital Blood Bank, which has just recently been set up at the hospital with equipment generously donated by the Women's Auxiliary. Mr. Blackwell's determination to be the first donor is a striking example of the keen enthusiasm of the members of the Solar Club in rendering assistance to the hospital. In making this announcement at a meeting of the Solar Club on the 6th of January, Dr. H. R. Griffith, who is in charge of the new blood bank, explained that its purpose was to have on hand a supply of blood quickly available for emergency cases and thus improve the facilities of the hospital. Dr. Griffith cited various examples of the enthusiasm caused by the inauguration of the new Blood Bank amongst the members of the hospital staff, and appealed for more donors in order to build up a large reserve, and was assured that the members of the Solar Club would take up the challenge.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1944

LAST SESSION?

PARLIAMENT opens the new session two weeks from today and the expectation is that it will be the last before a general election, although there could be another. The legal term of office is five years, and the present government was elected in March, 1940. As the term is not over until five years and six months after the return of the last writ, however, the government could, at a pinch, hold office until sometime in September, 1945. Whether it intends to do so or not may be indicated by the nature of the legislation forecast in the Speech from the Throne two weeks hence. The calling of an election is the prerogative of the King's first minister—the Prime Minister—and few persons, if any, outside the Chief Electoral Officer, are ever aware of an impending appeal to the people much before the information is made public. The Chief Electoral Officer must be advised some time in advance because of the necessity of preparing and printing the forms required by law to take the ballots of some five million people—a tremendous job.

Whether an election is pending or not, one thing is certain: most of the attention of Parliament will be given to the prosecution of the war, for even though the war may end in Europe in a few months, it is generally recognized that a long, hard struggle with Japan is ahead. It is likely, though, that legislation will be introduced to take care of workers in war industries who face temporary unemployment through change-overs and the shutting down of plants no longer required. This will be part of the larger legislation to avoid post-war dislocation that might result in any considerable unemployment. A start will be made on a comprehensive employment and social security plan which will eventually cover all Canada.

INVOCATORY ELEGY

Temper the whirlwind to the unborn lamb,
Mother of us all, lapped in your shawls of cause;

Large in your arms wrap our sad amalgam
That, spinning its tails among the other stars, Mopes, lost and weeping, far, far from its home.

Cover with your pity the broken Pole
Where, like a rag, the pride of the human hangs

Dirty as dishcloths; and with summer console

Them for the equinox of their anguish,
Humour the arrogant ships that sail.

Too near the tooth of the truth and the weather,

The thinkers in their cockleshells, the captains
Sinking each other; and always permit neither
Wholly to find their ends, for they seek islands
Of Death and Truth that should always be further.

And in due season to their last bed take
The lovers who are the cause of all the trouble;
Let the gibbering Adam successfully undertake

What Atlas only, bending an apish double,
Hitherto managed with the world on his back.

O temper the whirlwind to the unborn lamb!
And on the tongue of the young in its cradle
Lightly lay silver spoons; and the same
Love extend to those who groom your bridal That they, mother of us all, suffer in your name.

GEORGE BARKER.

A PROPHECY

SAY not, the struggle nought availeth,
The labour and the wounds are vain,
The enemy faints not nor faileth,
And as things have been they remain.

If hopes were dupes, fears may be liars,
It may be, in yon smoke concealed,
Your comrades chase e'en now the fliers,
And but for you possess the field.

For while the tired waves, vainly breaking,
Seem here no painful inch to gain,
Far back, through creeks and inlets making,
Comes silent, flooding in, the main.

And not by eastern windows only,
When daylight comes, comes in the light,
In front, the sun climbs slow—how slowly,
But westward, look! the land is bright.

—A. H. Clough.

HYMN FOR THOSE IN THE AIR

ETERNAL Father by Whose Might
The firmament was planned,
Who set the stars their paths of light
Who made the sea and land,
Thou Who art far yet near,
In the bright Now and Here,
And where the Void is sleeping,
Take them who dare to fly
Into Thy keeping.

Guide them who move through dark and cloud
Parting the pathless sky,
Sustain them when the storm is loud
Till night and storm are by;
Driving through snow and sleet
When wild the head-winds beat,
Thy sovereign Will commanding,
Bring them who dare to fly
To a safe landing.

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General
Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

A Pageant of co-operation, written by Dr. L. du Garde Peach, well-known British radio dramatist, will be presented by Co-operative societies throughout the length and breadth of Britain next year, in Commemoration of the founding of the Pioneer Co-operative Society by the Rochdale Pioneers in 1844.

Unfortunately, there are elements in the world of business and industry which prefer restriction of output to full development. In the judgment of Thurman Arnold, a former member of President Roosevelt's cabinet, these block the road to abundance.

"We are on the verge of a new industrial age," Mr. Arnold writes in "Modern Digest." "We shall have more abundant housing, transportation, food clothing . . . plastics and chemical substances at prices everyone can afford to pay.

"We shall have these things IF—and it's an if we must all be aware of—domestic and international cartels are not permitted again to restrict production and destroy the value of the consumer's dollar in the exchange between the products of the farm and the products of industry . . .

"The aim of the cartel is to prevent outsiders from producing and distributing, except on the terms which the cartel dictates. Cartels operate within one nation, or extend their controls throughout many nations, often throughout the whole world . . . Cartels will either prevent the use of new materials or techniques or render their use so expensive as to be prohibitive to most of the people who need them . . ."

Mr. Arnold cites the notorious case of synthetic rubber—the pooling of patents by Standard Oil of New Jersey and the Germans under terms which made of buna rubber a high cost specialty in North America. Similarly, he points out, aluminum, copper and steel have been the most closely controlled metals in the past. Today they are on the list of shortages.

"Now, with victory in sight," he concludes, "the cartels are preparing to pick up their old arrangements. These men cannot have their way if the public is aware of the problem. But if the public is asleep, they may be able to get control of the vast new production created by the war and turn our peace into a morass of technological unemployment caused by restricted production.

The Board of Education has decided that 75 per cent of British children in elementary and secondary schools shall be given a hot mid-day meal. Now 20 per cent of the elementary and 47 per cent of the secondary school children are served these meals. Lease-lend food has substantially aided the growth and general health of British children.

Australia—During January, our meat begins to be rationed. The discussion as to how the rationing will be managed has drawn attention to the enormous quantity of meat consumed by racing dogs, who are likely to take a poor view of any suggestion that they should go vegetarian because of the war. It is reliably stated that there are in Australia at the very least 100,000 such animals, each of whom disposes of 10 pounds of meat per week. The civilian ration will probably be 2 1/4 pounds per person per week. This state of affairs prompts some of the less sport-minded to inquire, "How much then is a greyhound better than a man—and why?"

A very unusual convention is the annual convocation of the Church of God in Christ (Negro). This year it opened Thanksgiving Day to run 24 hours per day for three weeks. The services consist of preaching, singing and praying, and the members shift from one to the other as the mood strikes them. When the spirit tells Elder Utah Smith to quit preaching and start singing and strumming his famous guitar, he does it. The singing is unlike any other ever heard at a religious convention. The songs are "shout songs" with quite a hypnotic rhythm. Everything goes in swing time. This denomination was founded in Memphis in 1905 by C. H. Mason who still makes Memphis its headquarters. It is said to be the only new sect which Negroes have given to American religion. It has expanded into the West Indies and Bermuda and sends missionaries to Africa. This church takes pride in caring for its own need; and boasts that none of its members went on relief during the depression.

The annual tri-state convention of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union (biracial) recently held in Memphis, declared that "the United States government should make every effort to apply the Four Freedoms to this area so as to end the injustices which now make these words a mockery . . . The pool-tax laws, still existing in eight southern states, should be repealed so that no citizen will have to buy the right to vote. Social security should be extended to farm workers and the National Labor Relations Act should be amended to include them." When 4,000,000 slaves were freed 79 years ago it was proposed that each freed man be given "40 acres and a mule." Nothing was done about it then. Now the S.T.F.U. proposes "40 acres and a steel mule," meaning a tractor.

Rev. C. Bernard Cockett, who about six months ago was in the United States on a mission of good will, told the Newcastle conference that seven modern sins have become marked features of present-day community life. The seven are: Politics without principles, pleasure without conscience, wealth without work, knowledge without character, industry without morality, science without humanity, and worship without sacrifice. Dr. Cockett, who is the minister of the Pitt Street Congregational Church in Sydney, is president of the Australian Council of Churches.

FIRE WATCHERS

Rules for London fire watchers in 1677 included this one, cited by the magazine Britain: "The sentinel hath a place on the top of the highest steeple whereby he may look all over the town; one is by day, the other by night, and every two hours in the night he plays half an hour upon a flagelet, being very delightful in the night, and he looks around the city, if he observes any smook or fire or danger of fire, he presently sounds a trumpet and hangs out a bloody flag towards that quarter of the city where the fire is."

St. Andrew's To Ordain Elders At Sunday Service

Dr. F. W. Kerr to Officiate at Induction Ceremony

A very interesting event will take place on Sunday morning in St. Andrew's Church, when four men will be ordained to the Eldership and inducted into the Session of the Church. Over a month ago, an election was held, and Messrs. Malcolm McIntyre, George Richardson, A. I. Stewart and Franklin Tait were the men selected for this honor. Due notice of ordination having been given for three successive Sundays, and no valid objection having been raised, the minister acting on authority of Presbytery, will proceed to ordain them on the coming Sabbath at the morning service. In the United Church, the Session constitutes the Supreme Advisory Council for the minister, and the chief tribunal on all spiritual matters, just as the Board of Managers are entrusted with authority in material concerns.

Rev. Dr. F. W. Kerr will preach at both services. In the evening his topic will be, "Fascinating Stories from the Master-Teacher."

Following the evening service, a special musical meeting has been arranged by the Alpha Omega Society. H. L. Gnaedinger will give an address on music, and will illustrate his theme by selections rendered by himself. Young men in uniform are always cordially welcomed to this gathering of young folks. Mr. A. Leonard Griffith is director of the Alpha Omega Society.

Westmount Park

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning service at 11.00 a.m. Preparatory service and reception of new members will be held on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Goth's evening sermon will be on "The Tower of Babel." This is the first of a short series of sermons on the major problems of life as illustrated in the Bible. What permanent values lie back of this story of man's confusion and pride?

The Red Cross group meets every Monday and Wednesday.

The Young People's Group meets each Tuesday at 8.00 p.m.

The new series of mid-week services will begin on Wednesday at 8.00 p.m. A meeting of the Official Board will be held on Wednesday, at 9.00 p.m.

Calvary Church

The services in Calvary United Church on Sunday will be conducted by the Minister, Capt. the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D. The Church School will meet in all departments from beginners to adults at 10 o'clock; while the Nursery Division and the Mission Band will meet from 11 to 12 o'clock.

At the preaching service at 11 o'clock, Dr. Jones will preach on the theme "Do you advertise your religion?" Here is a question for every one of us to consider and answer. Would others be attracted to the religious life by the example we set?

At the evening service at 7.30 p.m. Dr. Jones will preach the second sermon in the series on Lessons for life from the Parables of Jesus — (b) The Good Samaritan on the Jericho Road. A timely lesson in good neighbourliness.

On Monday, instead of the regular meeting of the Young People's Union—a most attractive program has been arranged to be given in the Church Hall under the auspices of the Y.P.U. Musical items from very popular concerts rendered for men and women in The Services will be given by Star Artists of several of these entertainment groups; while "A Tapestry in Music" will be woven by that artistic and creative leader in music and song, the Rev. "Charlie" Dawes. Those who have heard him will require no other invitation to induce them to attend, while those who have never heard him should no longer delay in sharing this wonderfully inspiring experience. Doors open at 7.45, program commences at 8.15 p.m.

The Red Cross will meet on Tuesday from 10.30 a.m. to 4 p.m. There is an urgent need for more workers in this branch.

The 67th anniversary of Calvary Church will be observed on Sunday, January 23 by special services at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. The annual meeting of the church and congregation will be held on Wednesday, January 25th, at 8 p.m.

St. Luke's Church

"Keeping Serene in a Chaotic World" will be the subject of Rev. R. E. Spencer's address Sunday morning, and certainly there has been no time in the world's history when the need of poise and balance was more emphasized than right now. In the evening his subject will be "The Greatness of Jesus".

The War Services Committee is now preparing to send boxes to those of our armed forces overseas at the end of this month. Mrs. Pope and Mrs. Gill are in charge of this work and would appreciate the co-operation of parents or family in seeing that the latest addresses of our boys are given to them at once, and any additional names. The congregation can help by their donations in the box for that purpose in the vestibule of the church—it's one way of doing your bit for victory.

The teachers and officers of the Church School will hold their annual meeting on Friday, January 14, at 8 p.m. for the purpose of receiving the year's reports, and the election of officers for 1944.

The Leadership Training School to be held in Divinity Hall on Thursday evenings, from Jan. 20 to March 9th, under the auspices of the Religious Education Council, will provide an excellent opportunity for present and prospective leaders in the Church School to secure further knowledge, skill, and inspiration for their work.

Westmount Baptist

Sunday will mark the 11th anniversary of Dr. J. A. Johnston's assumption of the pastorate at Westmount Baptist Church.

At the morning service, the Minister will deliver a revised version of his first sermon entitled: "The Unveiled Splendour of God."

At the evening service, the sermon will carry the title: "An Out-of-Date Scene in an Up-to-Date Setting." The text will be: "The Master is come and Callesth thee... and she arose quickly and came to Him."

At 8.45 and under the direction of Hibbert Troop, the choir will present an inspiring recital of sacred music. The programme will include a "Chinese Carol," arranged by Tertius Noble of New York; a male voice chorus entitled "How Far is it to Bethlehem?" arranged by Donovan; solos by Miss Norma Bull, Mrs. E. Friendship, and R. W. Atkinson.

Westmount Fireside Fellowship follows the recital, in the Assembly Hall. All young people of the community, especially those in the armed forces, are cordially invited.

He will preach at the Church of the Advent, Westmount, at 7 p.m. on Sunday. Father Owen was formerly the assistant priest of the Church of the Advent.

I (Lord God) will overturn, overturn, overturn it: and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.—Ezekiel 21: 27.

GOOD BREAKFAST "MUST" TO START THE DAY RIGHT

"I can't stop for breakfast... I'll be late for school." And Sally dashed out of the house with coat tails flying.

Sally's teacher checked up on her class of high school youngsters one morning recently. She found that out of the 35 boys and girls in the class, 16 of them had come to school without any breakfast at all.

As she aptly put it... "You children would get more 'A's on your report cards and fewer 'A's on the register for sickness if you all had a good breakfast before coming to school."

Dr. L. B. Pett, director of Nutrition Service at Ottawa agrees wholeheartedly with Sally's teacher.

"In many ways, breakfast is the most important meal of the day," he says. "Its literal meaning is 'Break-the-fast' and for the majority of people this is a fast of approximately 12 hours. The body needs food to provide it with energy for the morning's tasks and it is very difficult to get the day's needs of the important protective foods unless an adequate breakfast is eaten."

The ideal breakfast for the school child includes fruit, a whole grain cereal, Canada approved or whole grain bread and milk.

THE MENACE

He's clever as a quiz kid, advanced beyond his years, A perfect little gentleman, yet I could box his ears, 'Tis true, I never like him, but I like him less because He put a bug in my kid's ear about who's Santa Claus.

RUSSIAN HOME-FRONT FIGHTERS

During four years of war, Canadian women, flocking to war industry and engaged in voluntary work, have contributed to the success of the Dominion's war programme. Women in Russia have been doing work undreamed of by Canadians and are one of the important factors in the incomparable performance of Russia on the world's fiercest battle grounds.

Russians have their own unique system of replacing male workers with women. The husband, brother of father, teaches his wife, sister or daughter his own particular factory job. This is usually accomplished in a one to two month period of apprenticeship before he joins his regiment. Russian authorities say that this scheme has worked with exceptional results in literally millions of positions.

All For Family

The theory behind the programme is that the wife, sister or daughter is now really working for her own family and not from an abstract, patriotic motive. She is actually releasing her own man for active service.

In many sections of the Union, women have taken over complete charge of railway jobs. In Canada, too, women are engaged in various positions on the railways, but as yet have not been engaged in actual driving of engines, etc.

Russian women are doing every kind of task performed by their men folk from the most highly skilled to the heaviest manual labour. Some 60,000 women are working in the Russian mines. Reports say that 30,000 are serving as sailors on Russian ships, throughout the lakes, rivers, and even in the Arctic ocean.

Women Army Doctors

More than half the army doctors of Russia are women. At first, women doctors took over from the physicians and surgeons who had to leave their practices in the cities and towns for duty on the battlefronts. But now the women doctors are steadily advancing to the roles of battalion officers and are serving with field ambulance units in the forefront of the Russian advances.

Early in the struggle, Russia set up a severe rationing system. This was made necessary to offset the food shortages which were occasioned by the loss to Nazi Germany of about 40 per cent of the country's agricultural resources.

According to available information, food stamps are required to purchase almost every food, including the staples, bread and cereals. For rationing purposes, citizens are divided into different groups with the manual workers, college students and scientists receiving the largest food allotments.

The state requisitions enough food to meet the ration and this food is sold at a controlled price—any surplus may be sold in the open market and is not subject to price control.

MAGILLIVRAY WMS ELECTS EXECUTIVE AND OFFICERS

A year of sustained interest and endeavour, in spite of the pressure of war work, was evidenced by the report of the secretary at the annual meeting of the MacGillivray Auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society of St. Andrew's United Church, which was held on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 4.

Generous supplies of clothing were sent to the Montreal Presbyterian Supply Department for distribution to city missions. Cartons of supplies were also sent to the Northwest. The Library convener delivered 988 magazines and books to the Sailors' Institute.

Two names were added to the Life Membership roll and two in Memoriam subscriptions were received.

The sum of $2,173.66 received from 100 contributors was sent to the Montreal Presbyterian.

The following is the list of officers for the year 1944:—

From the Outside In

If you have an old suede jacket that has become worn around the neckband and wrists rip it and wash it—it will wash like cotton if lukewarm suds are used—dry it and cut it over for a lining. It will make little sister's coat invulnerable to icy winds and cold.

Fasten or press a slice of bread to the cut portions of cake. This will keep it from drying out.

Melville Ladies' Aid Will Hear Poems At Social Tea

The Ladies' Aid Society of Melville Presbyterian Church will hold a Social Tea at 3 p.m., on Tuesday, in the Church Hall.

The Chairman will be Mrs. Owen Rede Campbell, Honorary President of the Society. Miss Martha Martin, the Poetess, will give a recital of her own poems; and Mrs. Colin S. Forrest, will give piano solos.

A Miscellaneous Table will offer for sale Things New and Old.

Open not thy mouth to speak evil.

Successful Home Run On Good Will

A good home, like a good society, is not governed by rules and dogmas, but by good will and by facing realities. In it there is no dogma of the basic equality of all persons. Actual inequalities are recognized, but mutual regard strives for the welfare of every member. There is no theoretical assumption of the right of every individual to participate in shaping decisions which affect him. Infants do not share in family budget-making. Yet all existing capacity to participate is recognized, and its growth is encouraged. Superior capacity is used to help and protect, not to exploit, and advantages are not held by arbitrary power or authority. The only equality in such a home is of good will and desire for the family welfare.

Snap and slide fasteners are scarce and things can't be pinned up either—there are not enough pins to do it.

HOME EDUCATION

A CURE FOR A CHILD'S ENNUI

LYDIA LION ROBERTS

When that mournful or impatient wail is heard, "Mama, what shall I do now?" the wise and ever-ready mother will answer quickly, "Isn't there someone who would be very much cheered by something that you could make or do?" She knows that the surest way to turn a child's thoughts from himself is to help him think of others.

"Write a picture letter to Grandfather," advised one mother. "Take an old magazine and cut small pictures from it. Paste them in different places on the pages of your letter to decorate it. Grandfather would enjoy getting such a pretty letter."

Another mother suggested that her little boy take some of his colored paper and cut designs from it until he had a boxful to give the new little boy next door.

In one family the mother made an attractive sign which she hung in the children's playroom. It was headed, "Things I Can Do for Someone." The list read:

- I Make a scrapbook
- II Write a letter
- III Draw or paint a picture
- IV Prepare a surprise box
- V Make paper dolls

This list was always useful because of the rule that the activity must be worked out differently each time it was chosen. If Jane chose number I twice in the same week she must make a different kind of scrapbook each time. If she had decided on animals the first time she might perhaps choose sky pictures (any picture showing a part of the sky) the second time. The books might be made of unusual materials such as pieces of cardboard from old suit boxes cut into squares, circles or diamonds and tied together; or assorted colored papers could be used for the pages. If two children chose the same number they must work out their project in a different way.

Suppose Mary and Billy each want to make a box of paper dolls to send to a playmate. Billy might make funny ones by using heads from pictures of animals found in magazines, while Mary could cut out the usual dolls and dress them in red, white and blue.

Weaving, painting, cutting out attractive colored advertisements from magazines, and every other little activity the children enjoy, may well be directed toward some definite purpose that will bring surprise and pleasure to someone else. This plan not only provides an opportunity for imagination and creativeness, but also helps the children to think more specifically of other people's needs and pleasures.

It will be good for them to think what Milly, who is a shut-in just now, would best enjoy for a surprise. If Grandma likes flowers, wouldn't it be a nice attention to make her some paper flowers or a garden scrapbook? Brother Jack is at camp a long way from home so he might enjoy a composite letter from the youngsters, or a box of stuffed dates that little sister fixed all herself. The plans might include making games and puzzles for a birthday, a Bible scrapbook for the church class or a new idea for helping Teacher. Doing something for somebody will provide busy contented hours of work and play for the children at any time.

REFRESHING TANG FOUND IN RAW WINTER SALADS

No longer are salads considered only as summer foods, for increased knowledge of nutrition has taught us the value of serving salads all the year round.

Salads add to the menu a freshness, a crispness and an attractive colour note; and to the diet... a generous supply of vitamins and minerals.

Vegetables that would never have been served uncooked a few years ago are today finding favour in salads. Turnips, beets, carrots, spinach and cauliflower contribute their full quota of minerals and vitamins when served raw. Cabbage takes the place of honour as the chief of the winter salad vegetables. And served alone or in combination, in main course or side salad it makes a real contribution to variety and nutrition.

Here are a few suggestions for winter salads.

Winter Fruit Salad

- 1½ cups diced apple
- 1 cup diced orange
- 1 cup cottage cheese
- 2 cups finely shredded cabbage
- Few grains salt
- Lettuce or other greens
- Mayonnaise or French dressing
- Combine apple, orange, cottage cheese, shredded cabbage and salt and toss lightly together. Serve on lettuce or other greens with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Cabbage Salad

Shred crisp, green cabbage finely; add salad dressing and season to taste with salt and pepper. Cabbage salad should be made just before serving to retain vitamins and crispness.

Variations

1. Add grated onion, diced celery, pimento strips.
2. Use equal parts of shredded cabbage and chopped red apple, adding seedless raisins, if available.
3. Use equal amounts of shredded cabbage and grated carrot.
4. Vary the dressing, ringing the changes with plain cooked dressing, mayonnaise, Russian, French or Thousand Island dressing.

Jelled Tomato Loaf

- 2½ cups home canned tomato juice (one 20 oz. tin)
 - 1 teaspoon spicy meat sauce
 - Salt to taste
 - 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 - 2 tablespoons gelatine
 - ½ cup cold water
 - 2 cups shredded cabbage
 - 1 tablespoon chopped onion
 - Salt and pepper
 - Mayonnaise or cooked dressing — to moisten
 - 1 cup diced cheese
- Combine tomato juice, spicy meat sauce and salt, heat to boiling and add lemon juice. Meanwhile soak gelatine in cold water, then add to boiling tomato juice stirring until dissolved. Rinse a deep, narrow loaf tin in cold water or grease well. Cover bottom with half of the tomato mixture and allow to set firmly. Combine cabbage, onion, salt and pepper with mayonnaise and arrange on top of the jelly. Cover with diced cheese. Add remaining, partially set tomato aspic and chill until firmly set. Unmould on platter and garnish with lettuce cups. Serves six.

Flax for fibre and oil is a new Canadian crop which has been outstanding. Whereas only about 8,000 acres were planted to fibre flax four years ago, there were close to 50,000 acres of it this year, chiefly in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec.

Buttons have been reduced from 600 shades to 15 and various shapes have been cut out. By this one act, 750,000 pounds of bakelite were released for war materials.

Talk On Prolonging Life Of Electrical Appliances

The Catholic Mothers' Club of Westmount held its first meeting of the new year in St. Leo's school hall on Tuesday afternoon. An interesting explanatory talk was given by Mr. A. B. Harcourt of the General Electric Company who stressed the importance of caring for all household equipment and appliances. The speaker emphasized the fact that most electrical equipment cannot now be replaced due to wartime conditions. Such important conveniences as the refrigerator and the stove should be treated with the utmost care. Perishable foods only should be placed in the refrigerator which should be defrosted every ten days in order to permit the circulation of cool air. The washing machine should not be overloaded, the waterline being taken as the maximum capacity of the tub; and best results are secured by placing articles in singly. The motor should be run at ten-minute intervals.

Radios, Mr. Harcourt advised, should not be installed near windows or doors if best reception is to be obtained. The care of other electrical appliances were touched on by Mr. Harcourt who counselled his audience to select their repair men from dependable tradesmen and thus avoid poor workmanship and damage.

In the absence of the President, Mrs. A. A. Pare, the chair was taken by Mrs. E. T. Reynolds, Vice-President, who introduced the speaker. The vote of thanks was tendered by Mrs. P. J. Melvin.

Reports were read by Mrs. A. McDonald, secretary, and Mrs. D. Donnelly dealt with the correspondence.

The chamberlain's necklace makes its bow as a piece of importance among modern jewels. Consisting of a jeweled open-work medallion and a flat 24-inch chain of jeweled links, this provides a stunning decoration for the simple sheath gown with either a round or bateau neck, now so much in vogue. In an unusual combination of rubies, turquoise and diamonds, this necklace, for all its gorgeous jewels, takes a practical turn. It may be demounted, the chain worn as bracelets, and the two-inch medallion as brooch.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

Musical Sharps Flats and Naturals

by
Frances Goltman

The Russians are a wonderful people. Their artistry is unique, uncommon and lasting; of a sombre, bold and grandiose eloquence that is unsurpassed in the field of drama, writing, painting and the world of music. Since this column is devoted to the last mentioned art, we are not surprised that the Russian Government would take a lively interest in producing at the present crucial moment a new National Hymn. Not only did they sponsor a competition (it would have been honour enough to win) but gave such awards that one gasps with open amazement to think of music being appreciated to such an extent. The monetary award was almost $20,000 to each of three winners, Sergei Mikhalkov and E. L. Registan, who jointly wrote the words and A. V. Alexandrov, who composed the music. This makes history. Altogether, the Soviet Union spent about $384,000 for one piece of music, a colossal sum, but this total included compensations to 165 musicians and 40 poets as all contestants were rewarded for their efforts.

Three Alexandrovs worked on the new Russian Hymn. A. V. Alexandrov composed it and B. A. and V. A. Alexandrov helped with the arrangements. Shostakovich also assisted with orchestrating the composition. Russia has been one of the most musically progressive countries in the world and although there is a touch of the oriental in its melody, the music has a distinctive quality all its own.

Even the Russian modernists are distinctive, such as Serge Prokofiev, Igor Stravinsky, and Dmitri Shostakovich. Classicists who immediately come to mind include Moussorgsky, Tschai-kowsky, Rimsky-Korsakoff, Cesar Cui, Balakireff, Rachmaninoff, Borodin, Arensky, Liadov and Glinka, who founded the Russian National School. So long as the Ballet lasts, the name of Serge Diaghileff will be linked with it. Rubinstein was considered in the same category as Liszt with regard to pianistic virtuosity. Many people speak of Toscanini as the greatest conductor, but in this columnist's opinion, he is not greater than Serge Koussevitsky.

Both are equally great but their interpretations differ widely.

No violin teacher ever turned out as many famous pupils as the late Leopold Auer and Feodor Chaliapin will forever be remembered for his great histrionic ability coupled with vocal supremacy. Truly, the Russians are a remarkable people.

At York Theatre

"Claudia" represents escape into reality, according to Dorothy McGuire, who should know — she plays Claudia!

"Comfortable existence on a tiny farm, such as the Naughton's home in 'Claudia' represents ideal living to the majority of Americans," says 20th Century-Fox's newest star, who appears with Robert Young and Ina Claire in the film which is now playing at the York United Theatre which has been hailed by critics as the season's best.

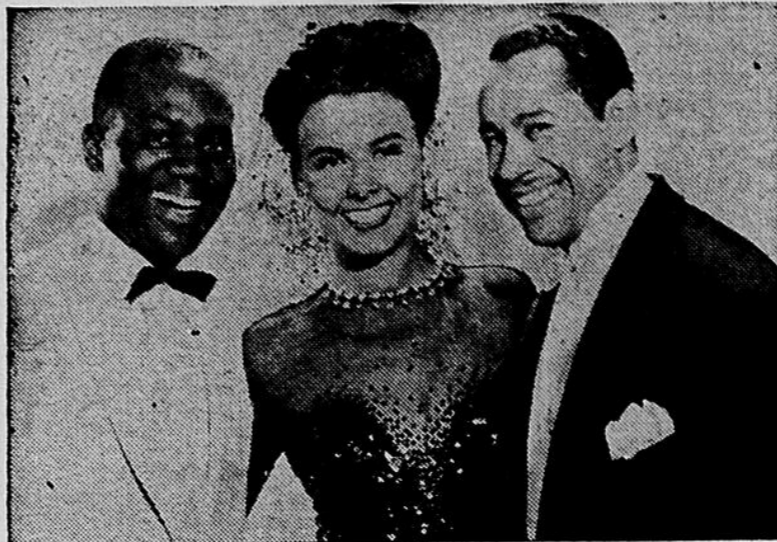

"If war and the changes war brings, have taken people away from such a home for the duration, they'll enjoy looking back at life as it was before Pearl Harbor.

"Audiences thinking of after-war living, as most people are today, see in 'Claudia' the new type of living we all look forward to after Victory. Many who have worked in their own gardens, done their own housework, and lived the simple life demanded by present day conditions, will have learned the value of fresh air, plain food and uncomplicated living. 'Claudia' embodies all these things.

"It is the story of a family—a family which changes as all things in nature progress. A leaf dies and a new leaf comes out on the plant. It is that way with the Naughtons."

In "Claudia" with Dorothy McGuire, Robert Young and Ina Claire is a top-notch cast which includes Reginald Gardiner, Olga Bacianova and Jean Howard. Edward Gouling directed this delightful tale of young married love.

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

Superb acting, an intense and searching love story, and a remarkably fine production keynote Alexander Korda's latest film, "Lydia," which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre until Saturday night. Fully up to the high standards that are the hallmarks of the Korda production, "Lydia" is one of the most dramatic love stories to emerge from Hollywood.

With beautiful Merle Oberon supported by a quartet of suitors, this film story of the loves of a Boston debutant examines the heart of a woman in a manner never before attempted on the screen. In the most modern film technique, the roles that the four men played in the life of Lydia are brought to light. The story is told with an understanding that places it in the ranks of the year's great films.

Miss Oberon in the title role, is as usual, vivacious and charming. But more than that, "Lydia" gives her the opportunity to show her abilities as an actress. She handles the transition from youth to old age with a deftness that denotes real understanding of the character.

The four young men who love Miss Oberon are excellent. George Cotten, as son of the family butler who becomes a doctor, renders a portrayal that should win an Academy Award. As the football player, George Reeves creates the finest of the many lighter scenes of the film. Hans Yara, as the blind concert pianist, and Alan Marshal as the naval officer who is Lydia's last and greatest love, contribute sterling performances. Edna May Oliver, John Halliday and Sara Allgood complete the all-star cast.

A wealth of good taste and artistic integrity, coupled with a good story, well told, make this a "must" for every filmgoer.

Eaton's Masquers To Help Mrs. Churchill's Fund

Canadian girls in the services in England will enjoy the comfort and relaxation provided by new recreation huts.

Administered by the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. Churchill's Fund, to provide rest and recreation huts for women in the forces overseas is still $30,000 short of the objective. Canadian girls will share in the comfort and convenience offered by these centres — a haven away from home where they can be quiet and peaceful, where they can read letters from home and write, play cards, ping-pong and darts, a place to get a hot drink and a sandwich with congenial companions.

As a direct boost to this worthy fund, Eaton's Masquers are celebrating their 200th performance of troop entertaining with two shows for the public at Victoria Hall, January 19th and 20th. Entire proceeds of both perform-

Discover Source Of Comic Battle Cry

HOLLYWOOD. — That old researcher, C. B. De Mille, has traced Hugh Herbert's "trademark" to a Javanese ape.

Herbert's celebrated battle cry's "Woo-Woo." And, De Mille says he's discovered, so is that of the simian which takes its name from the sound, viz., the Wou-wou.

The producer-director came upon this bit of zoological lore while digging up information on the animals that inhabit Java for his forthcoming "Story of Dr. Wassell."

We hear the Germans did their Christmas flopping early.

ances will be pooled with contributions of Eaton's employees across Canada whose objective is a total of $10,000 to build a complete hut.

Shortly after war was declared, the Eaton Masquers, under the direction of Mr. J. J. Russell, were organized... a group of Eaton employees who wanted to do their bit by entertaining the troops at local training centres and camps. The first show was staged at the Red Triangle on Phillip's Square back in September 1940. From a modest beginning, they have grown to be one of the outstanding shows touring this district, and one of the most popular too, if the flood of letters of praise and commendation which pour in from training centres can be used as a criterion.

There are now thirty-six performers, as well as an advance party of eight who travel ahead to set up stage and equipment. Many of the lovely costumes for the dance routines have been designed by Jean Blatchford, of Eaton's Ensemble Shop; many of the original compositions used by the Masquers have been composed or arranged by Arthur Davidson, talented violinist, who, with Flo Jenkins, handles the musical end of the show. All of the cast are Eaton boys and girls, giving voluntarily of their leisure time after work in the store, to bring fun and cheer to men and women in the forces. It requires two Eaton trucks to transport their stage effects, costumes, lighting and sound equipment. They have travelled over 17,300 miles and entertained over 260,000 troops.

The Masquers have been as far east as Mont Joli and west to Toronto. Their itinerary has included Kingston, Petawawa, Cornwall, Valcartier, Rimouski, Huntingdon, St. Jerome, Rockcliffe, Palais Montcalm Theatre at Quebec, Farnham and many Montreal centres.

Dear Land to which Desire for ever flees;
Time doth no present to our grasp allow;
Say in the fix'd Eternal shall we seize
At last the fleeting Now?
—Bulwer-Lytton.

Caledonian Society Honors Burns' Memory

The Caledonian Society of Montreal is celebrating the 184th anniversary of the birth of Robert Burns with a supper dance in the Salle Dore, Mount Royal Hotel, on Friday evening of next week. For some considerable period of time, this function has been looked on as one of the highlights of the year, not only by the local Scots but also by numerous other friends. Curtailed from its pre-war style, the celebration will nevertheless be as close to "A night w' Burns" as wartime conditions permit. Through kind permission of the Officer Commanding, pipers of the Black Watch (Royal Highlanders) of Canada will pipe in the haggis to the strains of "For a that an' a that."

The address to the haggis will be given by Past President William McBroom and Burns' songs will be heard. Dancing will commence at 9.00 p.m. to the strains of Terry Bittle and his orchestra with the Black Watch Pipers assisting. Supper will be served at 11 p.m.

A. P. Proven is president of the society. The arrangements for the celebration are in the hands of Past President J. W. Graham.

M.R.T. To Present AT THE WESTMOUNT SUNDAY! Detective Drama

When the curtain goes up at the Guy Street Playhouse on January 29th, the audience at M.R.T.'s third major production are in for some sinister moments. "Suspect" might be called a detective story but yet this play is almost unique of its kind, a drama with a difference. There is no violence in it, no corpse, no pistol shots, no arsenic (or old lace), and yet the atmosphere of tension and suspicion conveys a menace worthy of Chicago at its best (or worst). There are many lighter moments and amusing lines but the main interest is claimed, and held, by the central character's terrible situation, and the desperate struggle to conceal facts which, if disclosed, will mean a broken marriage and a so-called estranged from his mother.

The play is directed by Neil Little, who has a number of splendid jobs to his credit, including Shaw's "Geneva," "The Ascent of F-6," "Murder In The Cathedral," and in lighter vein, "See Naples and Die" and "The Mask and The Face."

A splendid cast is headed by Magnetic — unusual — unpredictable . . . Dorothy McGuire is "Claudia" in the film version of Rose Franken's great novel, which also had considerable success on Broadway as well as in book form and on the air. A newcomer to Hollywood, Miss McGuire has had a great deal of experience in the role as she starred in the Broadway version of the play. Robert Young and Ina Claire are featured with her in the film which opens at the Westmount United Theatre on Sunday playing until Tuesday night.

At The Snowdon

The entire production staff of "Women In Bondage", starting Saturday at the Snowdon theatre, attest to the authenticity of this scathing indictment of the Nazi regime. All have first-hand knowledge of the conditions depicted, which deal with the degraded status of women in present-day Germany.

Herman Millakowsky, producer of the picture, made many pictures in Germany, and hastily transferred his production headquarters to France, when Hitler came to power in 1933. In Paris Millakowsky kept in close touch with former associates in Berlin and when the Nazi hordes stormed France, he again escaped and made his way to America, by way of Casablanca.

Jeffrey Bernard, associate producer, conducted exhaustive research of conditions in Germany and was technical adviser on "Pastor Hall", an intimate picture of the conduct of Nazi concentration camps.

Steve Sekely, director, also formerly produced in Germany, leaving the country on the accession of Hitler, and continued to make films in the nearby Hungarian capital of Budapest, as well as in France, Austria, Italy, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

Frank Bentick Wisbar, author of the story, who produced "Maedchen In Uniform", escaped from Germany in 1939, after he was informed by Joseph Goebbels that the government was taking over his company, and that he must henceforth work under Nazi supervision. The combined efforts these four staff members put into "Women In Bondage" represents the true facts regarding present-day Germany even though many of the incidents in the picture seem almost unbelievable in our enlightened world. "Women In Bondage" starring Gail Patrick, Nancy Kelly, Bill Henry and Alan Baxter, opens Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre in conjunction with the showing of the new mystery-thriller, "The Unknown Guest" co-starring Victor Jory and Pamela Blake.

Research Difficult On Nautical Terms

HOLLYWOOD. — Even the mental wizards and human encyclopedias on the quiz programs would be stumped if asked to identify many of the nautical terms which the technical brains have to wrestle with in the making of "Frenchman's Creek".

For instance, what's a Cromster rig? And how does one use a quant? How did the fiddle block come about, and what is same, by the way? Describe how a whipstaff works. Or a backstaff. What's a Jimmy Green?

Hollywood's Newest Fad

If you want to adopt Hollywood's newest fad, take your dog to the nearest artist and have his visage reproduced on a piece of felt. Then with a bead to match his eyes he is quite complete to be worn on your sport frock. Claudette Colbert, Paramount star now in "No Time for Love," was the creator of this clever fad, and whenever she wears a sport costume a contrasting felt replica of Lulubelle, her French poodle, is sure to be seen.

Miss Colbert has added a bit of realism to her dog ornament by using a string of tiny gold beads as a collar and leash for Lulubelle.

Miss Colbert has copies of Lulubelle in black, brown, white and red felt, to be worn with the gowns that harmonize.

Pine-Thomas Thank Navy In Film Titles

HOLLYWOOD. — Formal appreciation for the co-operation of the Navy Department in making "Minesweeper" will be expressed by Producers William Pine and William Thomas on the screen.

The main title credits for the production will record thanks to the Navy for making possible the filming of the story which pays tribute to the heroic crews of Uncle Sam's minesweeping ships.

Unusual Ranch Bar For Riding 'High'

HOLLYWOOD. — An intriguing feature of Paramount's handsome lude ranch set for "Riding High" was a 50-foot bar. Such elbow-bending room is rarely seen even on the screen. The bar is backed with a framework of polished steer horns fitted together tip to tip. It is faced with pony skin upholstery and it has a hammered silver rail. Behind are glass shelves displaying every brand, shape and size of liquor ever offered on an altar to Bacchus. In front are cozy stools also upholstered in pony skin.

WESTMOUNT TRIMS STRATHCONA 10-1 IN FIRST GAME OF SEASON ON TUESDAY AT THE FORUM

Westmount iced a squad for the first time this year on Tuesday afternoon at the Forum, and trounced Strathcona by the rollicking tune of 10-1. The game was in the Inter-scholastic Hockey Union Senior "A" Protestant Section.

John Pierson, who countered once and assisted in four others, led the Westmounters in the smashing attack. Harvey performed the hat-trick for the winners to add to their victory, while Coles scored twice and added an assist, Lord got two and an assist, DeLalanne and Baxter getting the others. Reubin was the scorer of Coach Rip Jonas' team's only goal.

The teams:
Westmount: Goal, Fraser; defence, Swaine, Robinson; centre, Harvey; wings, Pierson, Coles; subs, Baxter, DeLalanne, Lord, McKinnon, Prescott, Reid.

Strathcona: Goal, Russell; defence, Graham, Stevenson; centre, Binnie; wings, Brown, Dowbiggin; subs, Fyon, McVittie, Mingie, Moody, Reubin Schwartz, Stewart, Zakuta, McCord.

St. Leo's Team Beat Mohawks 8-2 In Bantams

Last week-end's snowfall put a bit of a damper on the opening of the bantam section in the Westmount Municipal Hockey League. Nevertheless two games were completed.

In the league opener Andy McGillis' St. Leo's team trimmed Johnny Fry's Mohawks, 8-2, while Richard Lord's Staynor Black Hawks shut out Allan Smith's Regals, 7-0.

The following games are scheduled to be played this week:

Tonight at 7.30 p.m., East Rink, Golden Eagles vs. St. Leo's. West Rink, at 7.30 p.m., Regals vs. Mohawks; at Staynor Rink, 7.30 p.m., Sky Chiefs vs. Staynor. Saturday, at East Rink, 2 p.m., Staynor vs. Mohawks; at West Rink, 2 p.m., St. Leo's vs. Sky Chiefs; at West Rink, at 3 p.m., Golden Eagles vs. Regals.

Royals and Eagles Battle For First Place In Midget 'A'

Neither Team Tasted Defeat In First Two Scheduled Games

R. Boxer's Royals and Bert Read's Golden Eagles are battling it out for first place in the group A division of the midget section in the Westmount Municipal Hockey League.

Neither team has tasted defeat in their first two scheduled games. The Royals showed a smart last period effort to down Falcons, 5-2 and account for their second win while the Golden Eagles downed Martin Dodick's Olympics twice by scores of 3-0 and 8-2.

The following games are scheduled for this week:

Tonight at 8.30, West Rink, Royals vs. Falcons; Saturday at 4 p.m., at East Rink, Golden Eagles vs. Falcons (postponed game). Monday, Jan. 17, at 8 p.m., West Rink, Olympics vs. Falcons. Wednesday, January 19, West Rink, at 9 p.m., Falcons vs. Golden Eagles.

Four Teams To Operate In Inter-Troop Section

The inter-troop section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League has been re-organized and its schedule was slated to open at the King George rink last night.

Four teams will operate in the loop this year with the No. 1 Westmount troop being the newcomer. The Sea Scouts and 2nd Westmount, champions of the section for the past two seasons, are back again along with an amalgamated team from the St. Mathias and St. Andrew's troops.

Single games will be played on Tuesday and Thursday nights at King George Park with the starting time seven o'clock.

The schedule for the season follows: Tuesday, Jan. 18, 1st Westmount vs. 2nd Westmount; Thursday, January 20th, St. Matt-And. vs. Sea Scouts; Tuesday, January 25th, Sea Scouts vs. 1st Westmount. Thursday, January 27th, 2nd Westmount vs. St. Matt-And. Tuesday, January 28th, 2nd Westmount vs. 1st Westmount. Thursday, February 10th, St. Matt-And. vs. 2nd Westmount. Tuesday, February 15th, 1st Westmount vs. Sea Scouts; Thursday, February 17th, Sea Scouts vs. Westmount and Tuesday, February 22nd, St. Matt-And. vs. 1st Westmount.

Avoid anger; cool reflection can take place only when you are calm.

Y's Chats

Tonight is the annual Westmount Y night at the Park Slide. Tickets for the event have been on sale the last two weeks and it is expected that a large number of the local Y's members will be on hand to enjoy the toboggoning, skiing and skating. There is also dancing.

The swimming pool is expected to open early next week. Extensive repairs are being carried out.

Ten boys were inducted into the Westmount Hi-Y club at a special induction ceremony held at the Y last Sunday evening. There are only four members of the club who have not yet been inducted.

Due to the Park Slide night there will be no Friday night club for high school boys and girls tonight. It is improbable that there will be one next week for that is the night of the Ski-gulls dance.

The Listening Group will hold its weekly meeting Tuesday. More members are needed.

Both Jack Sinclair's photography club and George Gay's woodworkers will meet at the Y this Saturday morning at ten. The boys are taking quite an interest in these groups.

The Y's hockey league resumes its weekly games tomorrow morning. Bob Bennett is in charge. Members of the boy's Hi-Y club are expected to referee the games.

Last Saturday night's servicemen's party was a great success. Ernie Taylor deserves a bonus for the masterful way he runs these weekly affairs. Boys', business girls', and men's gym classes will hold sessions Monday.

The boy's Hi-Y resumed their weekly meetings last Thursday and will continue until Easter. They have planned a joint meeting with the girls' Hi-Y for January 28. The speaker will be either J. M. C. Duckworth or Howard S. Ross, K. C.

Local Barracks Receive Hockey Equipment Gift

Men of the Special Employment Company stationed at Westmount and Claremont Barracks, who are being trained in vocational work under army routine, were the recipients recently of a consignment of new hockey equipment, the gift of the Auxiliary Aid Association, Bell Telephone Employees of Montreal Fund, in cooperation with sports officials and the Auxiliary Services of Military District No. 4.

Prince Albert Pee Wees To Get Underway Saturday

The Prince Albert Pee Wee section of the Westmount Hockey League will get underway this Saturday at Westmount Park.

The league was scheduled to open last week-end but the snow-storm cancelled the opening. The games are to be played at the Westmount Park rinks this week as it is not thought that the Prince Albert rink will be ready for three games.

Two games are scheduled for this Saturday, Ross Gillingham's Panthers will meet Jim Brown's Hurricanes on the East Rink while Pete Hennessey's Grads will play John O'Reilly's unnamed club on the West Rink. Both games will start at one o'clock.

The Staynor Pee Wee section will also start this week-end with Richard Lott's Beavers meeting Brian Murphy's Tigers in a game scheduled for one-thirty o'clock at the Staynor rink.

FOUR LANGUAGES STUDIED
Schools in Iceland require the study of four languages — Icelandic, Danish, English, and either German or French.

GOLDEN EAGLES SWAMP ARMY "A" AT WESTMOUNT PARK WEDNESDAY

Dougie Alexander's Golden Eagles are still pacing the juvenile section of the Westmount Municipal Hockey League. Last year's titlists swamped the Army "A" team at Westmount Park last Wednesday night 13-0.

In other games played during the week, the Staynor team upset the Army "B" team 4-1 while the Monarchs handed the Staynor Club an 8-1 shellacking on Monday night.

Captain Ross, officer in command at the Claremont Barracks, has withdrawn one of the Army teams due to a shortage of players but the Barracks will still be represented in the loop, by a stronger team.

This necessitated a re-modeling of the schedule. All the games between the Army "B" team and their opponents will go down in the standing as defaulted games with the opponents getting credit for a win. Six more games have been added to the schedule so that each team will get enough of hockey to keep them satisfied.

The following games are slated to be played this week under the new set-up:

Tonight at 8.30 p.m. at East Rink, Staynor vs Golden Eagles;

Monday, January 17th, at 8 p.m., East Rink, Golden Eagles vs Army;

Monday, January 17th, at 8.30 p.m., at Staynor Rink, Monarchs vs Staynor.

Wednesday, January 19th, at 8 p.m., at East Rink, Staynor vs Army.

Wednesday, January 19th, at 9 p.m., at East Rink, Golden Eagles vs Monarchs.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

By BILLY HAROLD

Sports Menu for the coming week
by Billy Harold

This evening Bantam B meets up with Golden Eagles at Westmount Park with the starting time set for 7.30. On Saturday our Bantam B gang will take on the Sky Chiefs at Westmount Park, this game will get underway at 2.00 p.m. St. Willibrords will make their first visit in two years to the Academy rink when they will engage our Bantam A squad in a regular scheduled game of the Interscholastic Hockey League on Monday 4.15 p.m. The Senior B team will make their initial start on their home rink on Tuesday at 4.15 with their opponents begin the formidable Catholic High sextet. Thursday the school Intermural League will take over playing a double-header. In the first game Mickey Bourassa's Red Wings will clash with Jack Lunny's Rovers. Maroons last year's title holders will try in the second game to stop Canadians the present leaders from increasing their lead.

Odds and Ends:
Our Bantams scored an impressive win at Loyola last Sunday when they whitewashed the young Collegians 7 to 0. In justice to the Loyola team the score hardly indicates the strength of their team as they have not had the opportunity to round into form as our Bantams took them on with five exhibition games played under their belt. With seven teams in the school it brings the total number of boys playing competitive hockey close to the hundred mark which is indeed a feat to be proud of no matter which way you may want to look at it. Through the courtesy of the City of Westmount all boys in the School received a Membership Card entitling them to skating privileges on any of the Rinks in Westmount. Robert Bulger, former St. Leo's boy, has joined the Air Force and will report to Toronto Manning depot around the eighteenth of this month. Bob will be remembered as one of the most popular athletes to pass through the school. A tragic note interrupted our holidays when on New Year's Eve the local papers reported the death overseas of P/O. Edmund J. Conway as the result of a flying accident. Eddie played end on the 1940 Senior football team and graduated from the school in 1941. An excellent student and a dandy little athlete he was admired and respected by all who knew him for his cheerfulness and gentlemanly qualities and we feel his loss is irreplaceable. The Orr family has a representative on each one of the school teams with Bucky captain of the Bantam B's, Raymond with the Bantam A and Milton captain of the Senior B team, all of them typical St. Leo's boys.—Eric Barry who had the misfortune to suffer a rather bad leg injury while ski-ing up near St. Sauveur is convalescing now and well on the road to full recovery and it is the wish of all his friends that he may soon be able to get around again. St. Leo's Ski Club has held a few practice sessions and should be ready for the competitive meets soon to start. Vic Walsh is showing up as a real promising goaler and is close to the clas of the Intermural League. Our Coach is far from satisfied with the spirit shown by two members of the Bantam team and well he might as the indifference shown by these two players has wrecked his plans for a second line and a serious blow to the title aspirations of the team. Vince Heeny is playing a bang up game on the Bantam B defence and stands a good chance of moving up to the A team. Pat Palmer of the Bantam A Club is one of the most improved players in the school. Jack O'Brien is trying for a come back with the Senior B team. Gabby Lunny is confident that his Maroon team will repeat in the Intermural League. Jack Shannon was seen in a new role when he successfully pinc'ed hit for the coach and piloted the Bantam B's to a victory in their debut in the Q.A.H.A. Bantam Division.

A recent American Gallup Poll reveals that the great majority of Americans have not the faintest idea what the population of Canada is. And the great majority of Canadians can't tell 'em.
