Mrs. J. Christie Struck By Jeep Asks $16,229

Injured when a "jeep" belonging to the army, streaked across a sidewalk and lawn and brought up against an automobile, Mrs. Joseph Christie is asking damages of $16,229.78 from the Crown in a petition of right before Mr. Justice Eugene Angers in the Exchequer Court today. Judgment was reserved.

In her petition, Mrs. Christie said she was talking to occupants of an automobile parked on Melville avenue between St. Catherine street and Western avenue, when the accident happened. The jeep, she said, had been travelling east on St. Catherine street and after turning north on Melville avenue, suddenly mounted the sidewalk, cut in on a lawn, swung left, after travelling 30 feet off the street, and hit the automobile beside which she was standing. In the impact, she said, she suffered fractures of 16 ribs and of one leg and arm.

In blaming the driver of the jeep, which was driven by a member of the Second Battalion, Black Watch of Canada, Mrs. Christie said that he was familiar with the operation of that type of army vehicle and allowed it to get out of control.

In a defence filed in court, the Crown denied liability for the accident.

A. M. Watt appeared for plaintiff, and Philippe Brais, K.C., for the Attorney-General of Canada.

APPOINTED J.P.

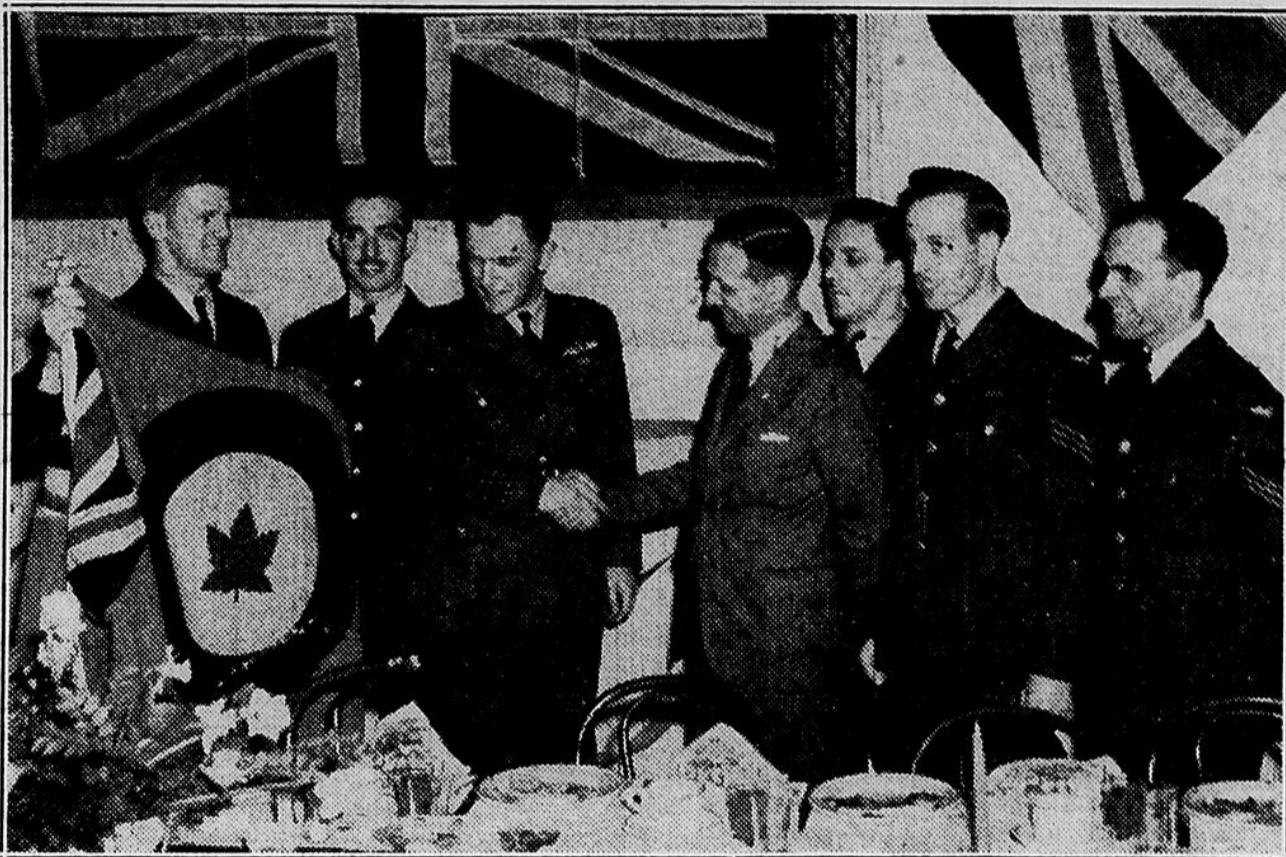

Sergeant Detective M. Harris Belec of the city police force who has been commissioned as a Justice of the Peace by the Provincial Government.

New Ration Book Distribution Ends

Today closes the distribution of Ration Book No. 4 to the general public in Westmount district. Citizens not procuring their new books this week will be forced to wait until April 17th, four days after the first coupon becomes valid, it is announced, and it will be necessary for them to apply to a ration branch.

It is estimated that about 7,000 books were given out the SCENE OF PRESENTATION OF R.C.A.F. ENSIGN TO WESTMOUNT Y.M.C.A.

In addition to E. I. Taylor and Group Capt. A. Watts, photo shows Flt./Sgt. A. C. Stokes, president of the sports' committee; Flt./Sgt. J. C. Falardeau, Sgt. W. J. Fecteau, Sgt. H. Wilcox and Sgt. D. J. Lividotti.

R.C.A.F. Ensign Given To Y.M.C.A.

The ensign of the R.C.A.F., presented to the Westmount Y.M.C.A. by the men of No. 3 Training Command headquarters as a mark of appreciation for the privileges accorded them during the war, will hang in the gymnasium, Y.M.C.A. officials announced this week.

The presentation was made last week by Group Capt. A. Watts, senior administrative staff officer, on behalf of the sports committee and was accepted by Ernest Taylor, branch secretary, in the absence of Douglas Bremner, chairman of the board. The presentation came at the closing banquet of the Command bowling league.

Lt. E. Usher Jones Head Of Corvette

Word has been received here that Lieutenant E. Usher Jones, R.C.N.V.R., has been made captain of Canada's newest Corvette, H.M.C.S. Forest Hill.

Lieutenant Usher Jones who is the son of Mrs. Andrew Usher Jones, of 588 Cote St. Antoine Road, was educated at Selwyn House, Westmount High School, and R.C.M., Kingston.

Unveil Memorial Window Sunday In Tribute To Westmount Couple

A memorial window in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Scott of Westmount will be unveiled during the morning service in St. Andrew's Church, Sunday, by the son, Hugh M. Scott.

The window is a striking representation of the Shepherd's Psalm in three panels. The first panel shows the Shepherd surrounded by his flock, the second a peaceful valley and a flowing stream and the third, the Valley of the Shadow of Death. The window, the work of C. W. Kelsey, Westmount artist, is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Scott's children, Mrs. Garnet Strong, Mrs. Harry Thorpe and Hugh Scott.

In the absence of Dr. F. W. Kerr, Col. G. G. D. Kilpatrick, D.S.O., a life long friend of the Scott family, will conduct the unveiling service. It is hoped that R. S. White, veteran parliamentarian, also a friend of the late Mr. and Mrs. Scott, will be present to unveil the memorial.

Mrs. Scott, the daughter of Scottish parents, because of her sterling character, resolution and persistence, will long be remembered for the great moral and social works which she pioneered in this province and throughout the Dominion.

One of the earliest advocates of equal rights for women in this province, she lived long enough to see her dreams at least partially fulfilled. She was also a life long enemy of the liquor traffic.

A gifted public speaker and debater, Mrs. Scott was known for her wit and ready repartee in both social and political arenas where she formed close friendships, based on admiration, with leading social and political figures of the Dominion.

In her later years, Mrs. Scott's birthdays were always marked by the foregathering of the many notable friends she made in her active life, and the receipt of messages from Canadian statesmen far and wide.

On one memorable occasion, the celebration of her 80th birthday she addressed an international gathering, choosing as her subject, Life Begins at Eighty.

The window dedicated to the memory of the two well known late residents of Westmount, is close to the Scott family-pew.

Lt. C. E. Cartmel Wins Commission

Word has been received here that Lieutenant Charles E. Cartmel, 24, son of the late W. B. Cartmel and Mrs. Cartmel, of 446 Claremont avenue, has received his commission at the Royal Artillery Gunnery School in Wales.

Lieutenant Cartmel, who was born here, and is a graduate of Westmount High School, was with the claims department of the Sun Life Assurance Company prior to his enlistment. He joined the 5th Light Anti-Aircraft Battery in January, 1941, and went overseas with that unit the following month.

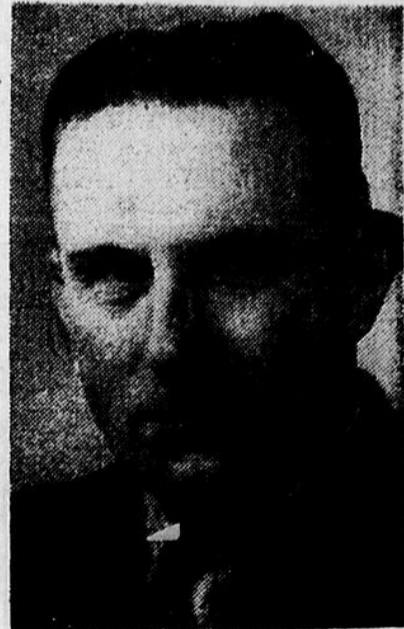

W.H.S. Names R. O. Bartlett As New Principal

It is announced by the Westmount Protestant Board of School Commissioners, that R. O. Bartlett, inspector of schools under the Department of Education, Quebec, has been appointed principal of Westmount High School, succeeding H. B. Parker, who retires at the end of the present session, who has served under the board for a total of 34 years.

The new principal-elect has already had a brilliant career in the educational field. He was born at Sherbrooke, Que., and received his early education at La Tuque High School, later entering the University of Bishop's College from which he received his M.A. degree in 1940. He has also done postgraduate work at the University of Chicago, leading to a doctorate degree.

He taught at the Montreal High School, following which he became principal of Danville, Que., High School. He has also taught at the Shawinigan Technical Institute and served as supervising principal of Noranda High School. He was appointed inspector of schools by the Department of Education, Quebec, in 1940. He now resigns this post to re-enter the field of administrative teaching.

The school to which Mr. Bartlett comes as principal is one which boasts a proud record during the present war. In the school's latest honor roll, made public on March 1, 1,207 former students were listed, of whom 70 had already paid the supreme sacrifice.

FIRST ROBIN IN THE PARK

Robin Red Breast made his first appearance of the season in Westmount Park on Tuesday morning, when Miss Esther Goldenberg, of 417 Mount Stephen Avenue, was making a sketch of the recent March snow-fall.

Miss Goldenberg reports that red-breast perched himself on the rustic bridge just a few yards from where she was sketching.

"Spring Waits In The Hills for The Unwary"

"Spring waits in the hills for the unwary," and on Thursday last it caught up with three-year-old Peter Seely, of 341 Kensington Avenue, who, feeling the urge to go places, wandered from home and was noticed strolling westward on Sherbrooke Street near the Park, by a lady. After several attempts to coax Peter to tell her where he lived, the lady escorted him to the City Hall, where a French member of the staff offered to act as interpreter. This apparently had no effect, whatsoever, until a sturdy member of the Westmount Police Force appeared on the scene, and Peter gleefully recognizing the cop, and probably knowing it was no use to argue with a policeman, knew all the answers in English after all, when questioned. He was returned safely home to his own door.

Q.—What are the requirements to be an elector in Municipal elections in the City of Westmount?

A.—This is covered by Section 128 of Division 6 of the Cities and Towns Act entitled "Persons entered on the Lists and Places where they Vote" as follows:

1. The following persons, if of the full age of twenty-one years, British subjects and not legally disqualified nor otherwise deprived of the right to vote in virtue of this act or the charter, shall be electors and shall be entered on the electoral lists, to wit:

a. All persons whose names are entered on the valuation roll in force as bona fide owners or occupants of immovable property in the municipality, of the value of two hundred dollars or upwards, according to said roll. In cases where such property is held in usufruct, the name of the usufructuary shall alone be entered on the electoral list;

b. Every person, being a resident householder in the municipality under a lease, whose name is entered on the collection roll in force, as tenant of a dwelling house or part of a dwelling house in the ward for which the list is made, of the value of two hundred dollars or upwards or of the annual value of twenty dollars or upwards according to such roll;

c. Every person, though neither owner nor householder, who is entered on the valuation roll or collection roll in force, as the tenant of any store, counting house, shop, office, or place of business in the municipality; provided that such store, counting house, shop, office or place of business, or the share which such person owns therein as partner, be assessed at an actual value of at least two hundred dollars, or at a yearly assessed value of at least twenty dollars, according to the valuation or collection roll.

2. Nevertheless the qualifications granted by the foregoing provision to co-partners or tenants shall not extend to members of associations or persons using or holding the premises for social, educational, philanthropic, and other similar objects.

3. When two or more persons are joint owners, joint tenants or joint occupants of lands or buildings estimated on the valuation or collection roll in force at a real or annual value sufficient to qualify each for electoral purposes, each of such occupants shall be qualified as an elector and shall be entered on the electoral list.

R.S. 1925, c.102, ss 128-129; 5 Geo. VI, c.41, s.6.

Q.—What are the required qualifications for municipal office?

A.—This is covered by Section 124 of Division 5 of the Cities and Towns Act, R.S.P.Q. 1941;

No one may be nominated for, nor elected to the office of mayor or councillor unless he has possessed during the twelve months immediately preceding the nomination and still possesses on nomination day and on election day, as owner, in his own name, or in that of his consort, real estate in the municipality of the value as entered on the valuation roll in force at the date of the election of at least six hundred dollars, after payment or deduction of every privilege and hypothec registered against such real estate.

No one may hold or continue to hold the office of mayor or of councillor if he does not possess or if he ceases to possess the qualifications set forth in this section.

R.S. 1925, c.102, s.124; 2 Geo. VI, c.62, s.5; 5 Geo. VI, c.41, s.8.

St. Paul's Alumnae Holds First Meeting

The first meeting of the St. Paul's Academy Alumnae (English Section) was held on Sunday afternoon last in the Academy, when a large gathering was present. Rev. Mother Superior graciously welcomed those present, following which Rev. Mother St. Florentia, directress of the academy, addressed the meeting, setting forth the reasons for the formation of an Alumnae. Miss Carroll McDonald was then called upon to take the chair and Miss Marguerite Cloran acted as secretary. It was unanimously moved that an Alumnae be formed and, further, that anyone who had attended St. Paul's would be eligible for membership. Election of a temporary chairman and secretary was then held with Miss Rita Legault being elected chairman and Miss Mary Byrne secretary.

The next meeting of the Alumnae will be held on Sunday afternoon, May 7th at 3.00 p.m. in the academy when election of officers for the ensuing year will take place.

SAFETY RECORD RECOGNIZED

A new safety record of 15 years without a lost-time accident, completed by the Bell Telephone Company's west district plant workers, was recognized recently in a ceremony held at Hillside Garage. The west district includes Westmount, Notre Dame de Grace, Montreal West, and Verdun.

In presenting the group with an illuminated scroll on behalf of their fellow employees, D. H. McDougall, general plant manager, pointed out that the record represents some 4,500,000 hours of driving, climbing poles and ladders, and working with all kinds of hand tools in all weathers.

J. P. Egan, west district plant superintendent, received the scroll on behalf of his staff, and brief remarks were made by R. J. Rumball, Montreal division plant superintendent, and A. M. Mackenzie, general employment and safety supervisor.

Lt.-Col. H. Hague Posted To Ottawa Receives D.S.O.

It has recently been announced that Lt.-Col. H. M. Hague, D.S.O., 44, has been decorated for gallantry in the Sicilian campaign, and has been called to Defence Headquarters to become head of a new directorate of mobilization, with the rank of acting colonel.

In civilian life, a member of the firm of Hague, Heney and Hague, barristers of this city, Col. Hague has been overseas since early in the war. In the Sicilian campaign he commanded a field regiment of artillery and the citation to his award of the Distinguished Service Order said that his batteries were in support of an infantry attack of Nissoria July 24, 1943, adding that enemy posts were silenced and the attack enabled to go forward mainly by his "initiative, gallantry and courage." His wife and three children reside at 4477 Montrose avenue, Westmount.

Westmount Stamp Club To Hold Ninth Annual Exhibition April 6

The ninth annual exhibition of the Westmount Stamp Club will be held in Victoria Hall on Thursday, April 6th, from 7.30 to 10.30 p.m. Friday, April 7th, 2.30 to 10.30 p.m. and Saturday, April 8th, 2.30 to 10.30 p.m.

The club has a list of exhibits prepared which will prove exceptionally interesting. There will be displays of practically every country, each exhibitor being limited to one or two frames. The exhibition will have stamps of Abyssinia, Afghanistan, Azerbaijan, Alaouites, all the United Nations, all the Axis nations, and stamps of remote countries like Tanna Touva, Mongolia, Free French colonies, Tahiti, Pitcairn Islands, Obock, Iceland, Allenstein, Armenia and hundreds of other items. There will be stamps over 100 years old, along with some of the latest issues, mint and used, airmails, postage dues, revenue, special delivery, war covers of this, the last and the Boer War. Admission is free and we feel sure that the thousands of stamps on display will more than repay any person for taking the time to visit this, the greatest display of stamps ever held in this city.

The exhibition will be officially opened by Mayor Walter A. Merrill on Thursday evening next at 8.30 p.m.

Wonder Motorcar Is Seen Receding

Expectation of breath-taking new designs in automobiles immediately after the war, fostered by imaginative prophets running riot on visions of miracles to be accomplished through new uses of plastic was somewhat dampened by Ewart Everson, past president of Westmount Rotary Club, in a classification talk to his fellow members on Wednesday in the Oak Room of Victoria Hall.

Mr. Everson told his hearers not to look for any startling changes in the immediate post-war car from the type to which they were accustomed since 1941. Any manufacturer who produced a machine that represented a radical change from existing models, he said, would be tacitly confessing that he had not been fulfilling the one task that is laid upon us all at present—that of winning the war.

Mr. Everson declared that the entire automobile industry from manufacturers with immense plants to dealers with very small investment was concentrating on the work of conquering our enemies. The speaker was introduced by W. H. Girard and was thanked in a splendidly-phrased speech of appreciation from P. G. Delgado. Herbert Welham welcomed visiting Rotarians and A. B. Williamson welcomed two high school boys and two soldiers from Claremont barracks. Chester W. McBride, president, occupied the chair and voiced the pleasure of the club in having Captain Ross, commandant of the barracks as a guest at the head table. Rotarian Rev. R. G. Burgoyne was congratulated on having been presented with a medal on Monday to mark 21 years' of service with the Montreal Boys' Association.

First Company To Be Inspected By Welsh Officer

The 1st Company will have the pleasure of being inspected this Friday night by Sgt. Williams, formerly an officer in the 3rd Cardiff Company of the Boys' Brigade, prior to his enlistment in the R.A.F. Sgt. Williams is stationed at Dorval and looks forward to visiting the various B.B. Companies in Montreal during his stay here as well as helping wherever he can with the program. He will be the guest of Captain J. H. Richardson and the boys during the week-end.

Now that the weather is showing signs of spring, the boys are becoming more and more enthusiastic over the prospects of outdoor programs in the woods on Saturday afternoons and should favorable conditions prevail this Saturday the first venture will be made. Cycle trips to points of interest will also be featured during the open season and all boys with bicycles are urged to register, if interested, with Corp. Alan Keith.

Plans are going forward for the summer camping period and the following N.C.O.'s have been appointed tent leaders: Sgt. Edwin Goring, Corp. Alan Keith, Corp. Bob Eastwood, L/Cpl. Jimmy Dugan and L/C Ian Campbell. These boys will take up a special training course under the direction of Capt. Richardson after which there is good possibility of several lads being accepted by Camp Glasgow, as councillors. The company are planning to attend camp in large numbers this year, and are therefore steadily making the necessary preparation so that everything will run smoothly.

Keen competition is being experienced by the various squads this month and the 3rd is leading by a margin of 15 points. This is the first time in some eight months that this squad had shown such outstanding progress and much credit goes to the efficiency of Corp. Alan Keith who, since taking over control last month, has snapped right into it and shown the company what they can do.

The brass band is progressing most favorably and are looking forward to assisting at the Easter Service in Tyndale House. Lieut. Chas. King will be back this week after a few weeks absence due to special war work, and a very warm welcome awaits him. Lieut. A. G. Anderson has done a great job during his absence and he will be quite surprised at the marked improvement made by some of the players.

Tapping Sugar Maples In Quebec Countryside

(By NINA LE BOUTILLIER)

Life in the woods seems to be stirring this period of the year, and the sun has begun to honey-comb the snow and breathe its warm March breezes through the countryside; a venturesome spring crow "caws" a lot and comes down to look us over, the squirrels chatter shrilly and run along the branches above, and the bush is full of sound and action of new life.

The farmer leans back in his chair at the dinner table at mid-day, and lighting his pipe leaves a happy sigh and exclaims aloud, "Well, the sap will be running—sap about due to rise—soon time for sugaring-off."

There is no lack of willing hands to help during sapping season, from grandfather down to wee Angela, all the family will dig in and help and shovel snow away from sugar-house doors.

Buckets are repaired and washed, big pans are brought out, the team of oxen or horses, buck and board, trace through the woods to the sugar bush with a load of buckets and spiles. The spiles are then put to use and the tapping starts. By next morning the buckets are full, and close to the sugar-house stands a great hogshead to store the sap, and a puncheon is laid on its side on the sled and braced ready for gathering.

Then the team plunges through the snow from tree to tree, and the sled lurches after and there is the continual sound of splash of sap being emptied from buckets or the splashing sound inside the barrel. Some yards ahead the great fire is kindled, the pine-knots splutter, then break into a steady hard roaring blaze—the huge pot of sap begins to steam and bubble—a wooden ladle skims it carefully.

Dusk has fallen by the time the first syrup is taken off and strained, and then brought up to the farm-house where the kind farm-wife has supper waiting for the crowd. Are we ravenous—we pour the thin, clear, amber syrup over fresh baked buckwheat cakes, the smell is simply entrancing. There is much hilarity and singing of French-Canadian songs.

But the climax of the whole affair is the sugaring-off. Early in the day the young son of the house has been sent off to nearby neighbors in the village telling them of the big sugar-party up at the camp. By late afternoon they have all gathered there. The taffy comes first, the liquid is thicker than syrup but is not yet sugar. It bubbles and swells silkily—pans of clean white snow are gathered, and thin dribbles of boiling syrup stream from lades making swirls and patterns on the snow. Then it is hit sharply on the side of the fork, wrapped around the tines, and so eaten.

Never is anything quite so good. The contrast of the cold crispness of the snow and the warm sweetness on it, is sharp on the palate. The syrup begins to thicken and when it boils into a yellow froth all over the pan, it is tipped and turned out quickly into whatever dishes are avail-

Rev. T. W. Jones Speaks At Hi-Y

"Religion is a thing to live with and not merely to die with," was the statement made at last Thursday's meeting of the Westmount boys' Hi-Y club by the Rev. T. W. Jones, D.D., minister of Calvary United Church. Dr. Jones was speaking on "Hi-Y and the Church."

The meeting was held at the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Before discussing his subject Dr. Jones described briefly his experiences since returning to Canada after serving with the Y.M.C.A. in England. He suggested to the Hi-Y members that they aid the battle against juvenile delinquency by investigating and reporting all hang-outs, and dives, which breed trouble.

The speech was followed by a question and answer period.

The speaker was introduced by Derek Ramsay and thanked by Leonard Beaton. The devotional period was led by Harold Corrigan.

Last night the boys' Hi-Y club held a joint meeting with the Westmount boys' Menorah Club at the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Inter-Troop Section Softball To Organize

An effort will be made to organize an inter-troop section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League this Monday night when the representatives from six or seven scout troops in Westmount get together at the St. Matthias church hall.

The scout games would be played at King George Park during the evenings in May and early June.

Monday night's meeting is scheduled to get underway at 7.30 p.m. able. Sugar on snow is the treat of a lifetime and one who has never tasted it has missed something worth while.

The largest maple groves are found in the Province of Quebec, which produces 80% of the entire Canadian crop, and the maple sugar industry has made great progress within the last few years. The annual production in Canada is more than 30 million pounds, and of this amount Quebec produces 25 million pounds.

It's a mighty poor rule if it does not work in your favor.

BUSINESS AS A SYSTEM OF POWER

By Dr. Robert A. Brady,
Associate Professor of Economics at the University of California.

Second Printing, Columbia University Press, Pages 340.
Price $3.00.

This book is controversial. There can be no disputing the fact that business has not only become very powerful, but has also centralized and mobilized its forces by means of strong trade associations which exert an incalculable influence upon the social and political as well as the economic life of the various nations. But whether this immense power is exercised for the popular good or not—whether it can be reconciled with continuation of a democratic way of life, or must lead to some form of totalitarianism—these are the controversial questions which must be answered by those who are concerned for the future of the world—and that should of course mean everyone everywhere.

Dr. Brady presents the facts upon which an answer may be based. He describes the evolution of manufacturer's peak associations in four countries which are now totalitarian (Germany, Italy [when he wrote], Japan and France) and in two countries which still maintain the liberal capitalist position (Great Britain and the United States); the branching, interweaving, surprisingly widespread and complicated organization of these associations; their domination by small groups of men representing a few giant concerns; their economic, social, and political policies, and the "public relations" programs by means of which these policies are propagated; and their relations to governments in time of war and in peace, under democracy and under dictatorship. The book offers amazing facts and disturbing parallels for the complacent liberal and the well-meaning conservative, and much solid meat for the scholar.

In a brief but brilliant foreword Professor Robert S. Lynd of Columbia University wrote in part: "Men have always experienced difficulty in perceiving the thrust of deeper tendencies beneath the surface phenomena of their day. Particularly when long-established institutional systems have been breaking up under them have they tended to mistake symptom for cause and to greet predictions of major change with incredulity and aversion. In the main, they wrestle with obvious immediacies in familiar terms; for the rest, the deeper tendencies, they prefer to wait and see. If such a policy has seemed to be not without some justification in more leisurely eras of change, it is today nothing less than disastrous. For we are living through one of the great climatic eras of history, a major faulting of the institutional crust. A symptom of the extent of current change is the extreme ideological confusion. Fascist monopoly capitalism adopts 'National Socialism'; organized industry opposes organized labor in the name of 'democracy'; the ideological opposites fight side by side for goals that sound alike only because they are left vague. In such a time, when men and their cherished concerns are being dragged headlong at the heels of confused events, the one chance for constructive recovery of control lies in the diagnosis of underlying causes.

"As things stand, the fight is not an equal one. On the one side is abundant good will but lack of organization and channels of communication, some suspicion of the way business is fencing in the war for itself, divided counsels in organized labor, large confusion as to the issues and a tendency to trust that 'they' in Washington will somehow bring us through the war and then everything will be all right again. Effective organization and the crisis nature of the present favors those who seek to exploit the war to make the United States safe for big business.

"One stout weapon remains in the hands of the little people at the grass roots of democracy: No one dares to challenge in frontal attack the basic democratic thesis. (If an American version of fascism comes, it will have to come disguised in the full outward trappings of democracy.)

The people can seize this remaining weapon and use it offensively and defensively as the price for their participation step by step in the war effort. We live in a heroic time. And democracy will either throw off its lethargy and rise insistently to the stature of the times—or it will cease to exist."

This volume will probably be regarded as pioneering work of equal value in its field to that of Berle and Means in the related area of corporate ownership. The author concludes that, in the epoch of growing monopoly capitalism, whether in Fascist states or in those still contained within the liberal-capitalist scheme, business is building, or BOTH JOBS MUST BE DONE...

...until Victory is Won

Neither job can be shirked. He's doing his at the risk of his life . . . doing it in a way that every Canadian can be proud of.

But he can get his job over with . . . and get home sooner . . . if you, and every man and woman in Canada, will back him up with Victory Bonds.

It's true . . . we're on the road to victory. But our fighting men still have a tremendous job of fighting to do. The wreckage of equipment in the terrific battles of invasion must be quickly replaced so that our troops may never lack the advantage of superior fire-power over the enemy. Keeping vital supplies flowing overseas . . . that's the job of every one at home.

In the coming Victory Loan, remember that our fighting men are depending on you . . . and millions like you . . . until the last shot is fired. Think of them . . . and all they are sacrificing . . . when the Victory Loan salesman calls on you.

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, MARCH 31, 1944

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR THE BIBLE

IN A RECENT address to the Westmount Rotary Club, R. A. Speirs, assistant headmaster of Lower Canada College, put his finger on one of the few weaknesses of Protestant education in this province—the virtual absence of religious instruction from the curriculum. Mr. Speirs believes that there is no substitute for Bible instruction in the building of character. Character training without the truths of the Bible is "drained of its very life-blood."

Mr. Speirs was taking exception to a statement recently made by H. G. Hatcher, superintendent of Lachine schools, who expressed the opinion that Bible instruction had little effect on the formation of the character of school children. As Bible instruction is conducted now, it is understandable that it might have very little effect on the child's character. Perhaps that is what Mr. Hatcher meant. However, if he really meant that Scripture teaching as it ought to be taught, cannot be a substitute for character training by the teaching of right habits 'through conducting the pupils' activities in a favourable atmosphere,' we have to take issue with him. Character built on 'activities conducted in a favourable atmosphere' is a pretty flimsy substitute for the great and vital truths contained in both the Old and the New Testament. The world is full of men who amount to little in the way of character yet whose lives were largely spent in 'a favourable atmosphere.' Real character comes from an inner, inexplicable, yet overwhelming conviction that the principles laid down in the volume of the sacred law are the surest guide to all our conduct. Behaviorist theories are plausible, but they don't work.

A DANGEROUS BILL

ANGUS MacINNIS, C.C.F. member of Parliament for Vancouver East, is the author of a bill that would amend the criminal code and make illegal the utterance or publication of statements tending to set race against race and religious groups against religious groups. The purpose of the measure,

Mr. MacInnis says, is to prevent the dissemination of material calculated to cause discrimination or disharmony on account of race or religion. Heavy fines are provided for violators.

With the idea of preventing racial or religious discrimination and disharmony, we are in full accord; but with trying to put such laudable intentions on the statute books, we are in disagreement. Efforts to define in law what is uttered in good faith and in bad faith, in reasonable or unreasonable language, seem to us to be futile, and might lead to loss of one of our oldest and most cherished liberties—the freedom of speech. It will depend entirely upon who is interpreting the law, and who is passing judgment, in every individual case.

What does Mr. MacInnis mean when he says his bill will not prevent a person from expressing, in good faith and in language not calculated to cause dissension, his opinion on, criticism of or disagreement with matters relating to race or creed? Who is going to determine the line between legal and illegal opinion and criticism? Who is going to know how much he can say or how much he can print on these matters?

The libel law is sufficiently explicit to protect the public against the abuses Mr. MacInnis deplures, and at the same time it protects freedom of speech and of the press. Why tinker with it?

This question was first raised by Fred Rose in the Cartier by-election and he promised he would introduce a bill on the subject when he got to Ottawa, but the C.C.F. have evidently beaten him to it, perhaps with his blessing. The whole thing bears out what we have said many times in these columns, that civil and political liberty and freedom of speech and of the press are apparently not as important in the socialist scheme of things as their so-called economic freedom.

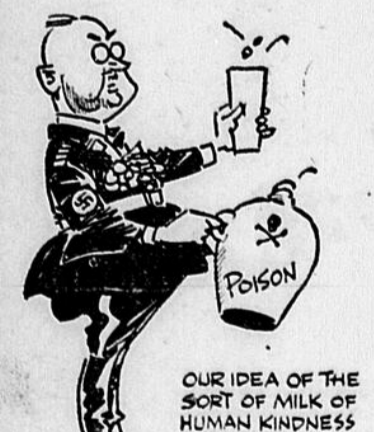

Sunlight Through a Window

On the little yellow carpet
The sun spreads on the floor,
The new dog now is lying
As the old dog lay before.

The carpet moves along the floor,
The dog stirs and lies flat,
He, too, prefers this shining rug
To any braided mat.

He takes the gift which the sun gives
Across the universe,
His breathing is his gratitude
As I give thanks in verse

For this small eastward-facing room
Where the new dog and I
Are well aware of that great light
Circling our northern sky.

JUST A FEW SUGGESTIONS

THE FORUM

Conducted by HOWARD S. ROSS, K.C., D.C.L.

In Which Subjects of General Interest Are Discussed

The opinions expressed in this Forum are not necessarily those of this newspaper, and it does not accept responsibility for them.

The U.S.S.R. Daily "Pravda" is the biggest newspaper in the world. The New York News and the Chicago Tribune have two million circulation each but the "Pravda" has reached more than three million and no doubt would have more but for an apparent permanent news print shortage in Russia. "Pravda" is the official organization of the Communist Party of the U.S.S.R. while "Izvestia" is the organization of the Soviet Government. "Pravda" means "truth" and "Izvestia" means "news."

Pravda was started in 1912 with the encouragement of Stalin and Lennon its first editorial running to 60,000 copies. Its early editors had, it is said, even by the standards of radical European journalists, a pretty difficult time. During the first two years of its existence 36 editorials were confiscated by the police, it was completely suppressed eight times and eighteen editors went to jail. The final suppression lasted almost three years. Since then it has been doing well. It sells today for 20 kopecks, or about 3 cents. Informative it is far from sensational, running chiefly to small headline and small close-set type. There are six widecolumns on a page, slightly smaller than the standard size of Canadian Daily newspapers.

"There are four vast areas for rebuilding America, when we look through our engineering spectacles. They are not quite so dramatic as the blasted areas of Europe but they are just as urgent, in the long run.

1.—Housing — At least ten million decent dwelling units are immediately needed, according to competent survey, see My Goals for America.

2.—Urban Reconstruction — Slum clearance, street widening, parking space, play-grounds, public health, sunlight, air—making our cities fit to live in.

3.—Conservation of soils, waters, forests, wild life. Rebuilding a resource base for countless communities. The T.V.A. gives a good working model. Its great dams are the cathedrals of the power age.

4.—Integrating the continental transport system into one dynamic efficient organism—airways, railways, highways, waterways and pipelines. Consider the task of building a system of super highways—from coast to coast, alone. Think of abolishing great crossings, alone.

In these four categories we have work enough to give us full employment at vital construction tasks for a generation. Every man hour expended would be in the direction of creating real national wealth and well-being. Every worker would feel that he was doing something important.

"With twelve million husky young men, more or less, coming back into the labor market, with this vast increase in output per man hour, where is the work to take the place of killing and of making the equipment for killing. Let no one underestimate the importance of this question. Government war orders at one hundred billion dollars a year are now underwriting perhaps forty million jobs, directly or indirectly. When the orders cease what are the forty million going to do. Even if they are cut only in half, to fifty billion, what are the twenty million people going to do. At the bottom of the depression in 1933 not more than fifteen million people were unemployed. No nifty little plans for plastic bath tubs will fill this gigantic gulf. No programme for more aggressive sales campaigns will be of much use. No conceivable expansion of foreign trade will be more than a drop in the bucket. Friends we have encountered here the most important economic question of the 20th century. What labour on the peace front can take the place of killing. What pyramids, what cathedrals can we build that will effect a hundred billion dollars worth of Air-craft carriers, tanks and bombers."

STUART CHASE,
Economist.

The Government of Nova Scotia "is ready to use every dollar it can reasonably use to keep the Province thriving after the war. It is ready to spend and borrow to the utmost to assure that none in Nova Scotia lack a job."

Three sections of the Government's post-war program are: 1.—Large-scale expansion of the fishing industry, "something we have long neglected"; 2.—Paving program to hard surface every trunk highway and important secondary road; 3.—Extension of the low-cost housing scheme "perhaps in some instances without interest."

"Our earth is degenerate in these latter days. There are signs that the world is coming to an end. Children no longer obey their parents. Everybody wants to write a book. The end of the world is near."

—An Egyptian Priest, 4000 B.C.

One pound of learning requires ten pounds of common sense to apply it.—Persian proverb.

Cheerfulness is health; its opposite, melancholy, is disease.—Halliburton.

STOP ME

If—

Torpedoed Jeep!

From the Second Army in Tennessee comes the latest "tall story" about an umpire with a sense of humor:

After a recent downpour, a "seep" — sea-going jeep — sped down a muddy road and splashed through a pond at the bottom of a hill.

When the vehicle emerged on the other side, the umpire rushed out and stuck a black flag on it, signifying it had been destroyed by the enemy.

"What's the big idea?" protested the bewildered "Blue" driver.

"You have just been torpedoed by a 'Red' submarine," the umpire said.

this last address will be: "The Moment at the Parting of the Ways—Paradise or Perdition?"

Following the evening service, the Westmount Fireside Fellowship will be held. At this gathering George Adam will tell of a recent visit to Camp Borden and of how a large number of soldiers recently responded to the call of Christ. These fireside gatherings have proved a boon and a blessing to many young people.

The Sunday school which is showing marked progress, meets each Sunday at 3 o'clock. New scholars are always welcome. The competitive plan now in operation is creating a great deal of interest.

The Young People's Union has its meeting each Monday evening. This is an inspiring gathering of young people who think, study, pray and plan.

The Red Cross has its meetings each Thursday, the day group meeting at 9.30 a.m. and the evening group at 7.30 p.m.

The Westmount Mid-week Fellowship is held on Wednesday at 8 o'clock. These gatherings are greatly enjoyed by the large company of those who attend.

Calvary Church

Services will be conducted in Calvary United Church, Westmount, on Sunday next, Palm Sunday, at the usual hour of worship.

The church school will meet in all departments from beginners to adults at 10 a.m.

The preacher at the morning hour of worship will be the minister, Capt. the Rev. T. W. Jones, M.A., D.D. The subject of the sermon will be "In praise of courage, not in uniform". We praise, and rightly so, the magnificent courage of our gallant men and women enrolled in naval, land and air forces, these are hazarding their lives on our behalf and we do well to constantly and gratefully remember them, keeping a shrine of remembrance for them in our hearts. There are other forms of courage, however, that we are in danger of forgetting, and on this Palm Sunday, when we recall the Master's entry into Jerusalem, we are reminded of the courage that flamed in His life and the elements of that courage that burn in the lives of men and women today.

The evening service will be conducted by The Young Adult Department of Calvary Church, one of the thriving, energetic departments of the congregation. The sermon will be delivered by Dave T. Jackson, superintendent of the church school, and one of the active workers of the young adult section. His theme will be "What Price Peace?" facing in a realistic way the great issues of the life and death struggle in which we are engaged.

The Young People's Union will not meet in Calvary this week but instead, will meet with Chalmers United Church Y.P.U. in their church, Verdun, where the representatives of Calvary and Chalmers will participate in a debate held under the auspices of the Montreal Presbytery Young People's Union Council.

The Calvary branch of the Red Cross will meet in the church parlours on Tuesday from 10.30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Women's Association will meet in the church parlours on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m.

On Wednesday at 8 p.m., a Passion Week service for prayer and Bible study will be held in the church parlours with the pastor in charge. At 9 p.m. a special meeting of the deacons will be held to receive applications for church membership in preparation for reception at the Easter Day services.

On Good Friday at 8 p.m. in the church auditorium Dr. Jones will conduct a service of worship and deliver an illustrated lecture on "Pilgrim Trails through France, Belgium, Holland and Germany to Oberammergau and its world famous Passion Play." This moving story, illustrated with 150 coloured slides has been told many times by Dr. Jones, who visited Berlin and attended the Passion Play in Oberammergau in

Mr. Bonham is a graduate in chemical engineering of the University of Toronto.

WEDDINGS

YEATMAN-SEYMOUR

News has been received of the marriage which took place on Saturday, March 4, in the Chapel of St. Peter's College, Adelaide, Australia, of Mrs. Elizabeth Elliot Seymour, to Capt. John Charles Yeatman, Australian Medical Corps. Mrs. Yeatman, by a former marriage, was the wife of Maj. Stanley L. Seymour, Australian Medical Corps, who was killed on active service in Egypt.

Prior to marriage, she was Miss Elizabeth (Betty) Elliot, daughter of Mr. Gordon E. Elliot, of Westmount.

MASSON-JORON

The marriage of Lucille, daughter of Mr. Lionel Joron and of the late Mrs. Joron, to Capt. Antoine Masson, M.C., Fusiliers Mont Royal, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Masson, took place on Saturday morning at half-past nine o'clock in the chapel of St. Leo's Church, the Rev. Father Gaboury, padre of the 2nd Battalion of the Fusiliers Mont Royal, officiating. Snadragons were used as decorations.

The bride, given away by her father, wore a gown of pale blue crepe with a hat of tulle matching, and carried a bouquet of gardenias.

Mr. Masson acted as witness for his son.

A reception for the immediate family was held at the St. Denis Club.

Later, Capt. and Mrs. Masson left on their wedding trip, the bride travelling in a suit of grey wool, under a topcoat of Oxford grey, and wearing a matching hat.

DOUGLAS-JOLLY

The marriage of Joyce Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Jolly, to LAC. Henry Richards Douglas, R.C.A.F., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Douglas, of Vancouver, took place at five o'clock in Trinity Memorial Church on Wednesday afternoon. The Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor was the officiating clergyman.

Spring flowers adorned the altar, and the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a full-skirted gown of white silk jersey and tulle, the fitted bodice having a high round neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip-length veil of tulle illusion fell from a Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of Wedgwood iris and white sweet peas.

Heavenly blue jersey and tulle was worn by the bride's only attendant, Miss Eleanor Moore, with Juliet cap to match and shoulder-length veil, she carried a bouquet of Joanna Hill roses.

LAC. Edward Hawthorne, R.C.A.F., of Winnipeg, acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. John Newman and Mr. Arthur Hazell.

The reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, 4899 Sherbrooke street west, where pink roses and white sweet-peas were used to decorate.

Later, LAC. and Mrs. Douglas left to spend their honeymoon in the Laurentians.

Oasis Temple 46 Reviews Aid to Shriners' Hospital

A successful year of sustained interest and endeavour, notwithstanding the pressure of war work, was evidenced in the reports of the annual meeting of Oasis Temple No. 46, Daughters of the Nile, held recently in Victoria Hall, with Mrs. K. W. Matheson presiding.

Mrs. Matheson has completed a very successful year, and as presiding officer complimented the different chairmen of committees on the work accomplished for the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children; and also those presenting the war report which showed a substantial increase.

Mrs. W. R. C. Field, orthopedic chairman, reported that the following items had been made and donated to the hospital: 274 sewn articles, including, feeders, tray cloths, diapers, pants, girls' housecoats, and boys' dressing gowns. Parties were given the children on such days as Easter, Hallowe'en and St. Valentine's, at which time candies, ice cream, favours, etc., were prepared and sent for each child.

Mrs. Field was thanked sincerely for her work in this connection.

The sewing club meets once a month for the purpose of adding garments, etc., to the hospital supply.

Also this year members were pleased to purchase "Life Membership Certificates" in the Shriners' Hospital, which certificate entitles the donor to a quarter interest in the happiness of one child.

A contribution was also made to the Convalescent Relief Fund. Through this fund it has been possible to assist many crippled children of the out-patients' department in the purchase of crutches, braces, cod liver oil, etc., and the Montreal Unit has benefited from this fund in the past.

Also members have contributed to the A.M. Hospital Fund, which helps defray expenses of the dental department, the occupational therapy room, etc., and provides a follow-up or social service dept. after the children leave the hospital, for home treatments.

Two large military whist parties were held during the year, which were most successful, both financially and socially.

The Red Cross work, under the sponsorship of Mrs. K. W. Matheson showed a substantial increase over last year, and the workers were congratulated on the work they contributed. In all over 616 articles had been finished and turned in at the various units.

The Daughters of the Nile units have contributed articles of clothing, toys, spreads, etc., to the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children, from Seattle, Watertown, and Detroit, Mich.

Members also work enthusiastically to aid in the task of rehabilitation in the care of the crippled children. At the close of the meeting they voted an additional sum of money to be donated to the Shriners' Hospital in the form of a second "Life Membership Certificate", which was unanimously carried.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are as follows: Mrs. Chas. Roman, Queen; Mrs. K. W. Matheson, junior past-queen; Mrs. Alex. Leslie, Pr. Royal; Mrs. Arvid Groven, Pr. Tirzah; Mrs. Norman Johnston, Pr. Badoura; Mrs. J. D. Clements, recorder and Mrs. H. A. Thomas, banker.

The installation of officers took place yesterday evening at 8.30 p.m. in Victoria Hall, followed by supper in the club room.

Additional names of patrons for "The Messiah" to be given at St. Matthew's on Good Friday at 8.00 p.m. are: Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Hulbert, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jones, Mrs. R. L. Reeves, Mrs. J. F. Shupe and Miss A. Weatherhead.

NDG Women's Club Members See Democracy at Work

Twenty-seven members of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club journeyed to Ottawa on Tuesday where they visited the Houses of Parliament and had the honour of meeting the Prime Minister, the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King. Mr. Fred P. Whitman, M.P., for Mount Royal Division, acted as host to the group, conducting them personally over the buildings and also introducing the club group to various distinguished ministers. Mrs. MacSween, President of the club, performed the introduction of individual club members.

The party arrived in Ottawa about noon and were met by Mr. Whitman who gave an address of welcome to the members when they had luncheon in the diningroom of the House of Parliament. Mrs. Norman Seath thanked Mr. Whitman. The party was then conducted over the House of Commons, where Mr. Whitman explained the seating arrangements for those helping to conduct the Dominion's affairs. After a peek into Room 16, which is reserved for the use of ministers meeting delegations, the club members visited the Speaker's Chamber and were presented by Mr. Whitman to the Speaker of the House and his wife, the Hon. J. A. Glen and Mrs. Glen, who made them welcome and pointed out among other interesting things, the favourite chair in which Sir Wilfrid Laurier used to sit in that room. Mrs. D. K. Gowans expressed the thanks of the club to Mr. Glen.

Through the Commons Reading Room the party was taken into the Old Library which is the only part of the building which survived the 1916 fire. The 500,000 books here, and their arrangement, the crests of the Provinces, etc., were much admired, then the Senate Receiving Room, decorated in a red color scheme and known as the Red Chamber, claimed their attention. The throne where Their Majesties the King and Queen sat during their visit to the House of Senate in 1938 was another point of interest, and also the beautiful portraits of Kings and Queens of England which hang in the entrance to the Senate.

In the Memorial Chamber, erected in memory of the Canadians who lost their lives in the last war, the ladies inspected the book of Remembrance containing the names of all those who made the supreme sacrifice.

Mr. Whitman next conducted them to the chamber of the Minister of Justice, the Hon. L. S. St. Laurent who welcomed them and was thanked by Mrs. R. G. Bain. The Hon. Angus L. Macdonald, minister of National Defence for Naval Services; the

From Java come these delicious and unusual recipes:

Javanese Rice Bars

- 3 cups milk
 - 2-3 cup raw rice
 - 1 pinch salt
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 2 well-beaten eggs
 - ½ cup broken nut meats
 - 1-3 cup crystallized fruits
 - 1 egg, beaten with 1 tablespoon milk
 - Shortening, sugar, crushed rice or corn flakes
- Boil rice in milk until soft and fairly dry. Press through ricer, add sugar, salt, eggs, nuts and fruits. Mix well, and spread in buttered pan. Chill in refrigerator until needed. Cut into sticks or bars, dip in the egg and milk mixture, then into crushed flakes, and fry in shortening. Sprinkle with brown or powdered sugar, and serve at once.

Hon. C. W. G. Gibson, Minister of National Revenue and the Hon. J. L. Ralston, minister for National Defence also welcomed the club in their chambers and were thanked by Mrs. Norman B. Muir, Mrs. F. H. Sproule and Mrs. J. H. Maude respectively.

After listening to the debate in the House of Commons, they were met and greeted by Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King, and Mrs. S. A. MacSween, on behalf of the club, thanked him. Members of the Notre Dame de Grace Women's Club making the trip and tour were as follows:

Round Table Chats

(BY INEZ MACAULAY)

Letters, letters, letters! Sacks of them tumbled into airplanes, thrown into the holds of ships, tossed into the waiting mail train, rushed across the land, across the oceans to lonesome, homesick boys. We're all urged to write them; we've been told how much they mean in keeping up "morale." ("You'll never know what your first letter meant to me—" wrote a husband to his bride.)

But what about the letters that come winging back, those little letters in the familiar V-mail envelopes with no clue as to where they came from, those letters that no one needed to urge the boys to write back to us? Those letters, it seems to me, all unheralded and unknown, are bringing a great awakening to stay-at-home Canadians.

"They're so cheerful through it all, kidding and making jokes out of their troubles."

It was a woman's voice at the other end of the line-up in front of the meat counter. She took a worn letter from her handbag. "Listen to Don's description of the flies in Sicily—written last August:

"They practice low level bombing and strafing and high altitude dive bombing. They land in the most out-of-the-way spots and they've lighted on my fingers now—that's what makes my typing so erratic."

The woman reading the letter looked up, a crooked sort of smile on her face.

"I just read that when I have to wait in line a bit," she said. "Sort of restores my balance, makes me realize how petty our troubles are."

Her words brought to mind a sentence in a letter I had recently received from Italy:

"I hope you are maintaining your sense of balance, and your humor.—This is but a transitory period from which we shall emerge better people. I am learning patience which I need."

Those lines were written in a tent on a mountainside in Italy with rain pouring from leaden skies, seas of chocolate mud all about, wounded men being taken down the mountainside, shells screaming, bombs bursting. It is from letters like that Canadians are learning what the really worth-while things in life are.

Boys thrown in with all sorts and conditions of men are learning to understand and appreciate their good qualities. My correspondent had never met Englishmen before he went overseas. Now he writes:

"Had lunch with some RAF boys today. They've been through hell, but are just as gentle and courteous as ever. We talked about Canada and Canadians.

Mrs. Owen Campbell Addresses W.C.T.U.

Addressing the Frances Willard W.C.T.U. in Dominion Douglas Church Hall on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Owen Reid Campbell, speaking on "Many Voices," stressed the need of women's voices being heard first in the home, the church, the educational and political field.

The soloist of the afternoon was Mrs. W. K. Davis, accompanied by Mrs. H. Neville.

Mrs. C. W. Baker was group convener.

Those boys are intensely democratic. There'll be an afterwards worth living with people like them in the world."

Sentences like that stab you to the realization that those boys know what they're fighting for, that they are determined the world will be a better place for their sons than it has been for them.

Food plays a large part in the soldier's hard life and in his letters he often writes of what he eats or of what he would like to eat!

"Wish I could be looking at you across one of O'Donnell's steaks!" my soldier correspondent writes wistfully. "Just finished supper, three different forms of beans, had coffee, one slice of pineapple. It's tough getting the supplies to us up the terribly muddy trails."

In another letter he wrote: "Am supremely happy, had a really good dinner tonight. Simple pleasures like that over here mean more than you can possibly conceive. I'll never take the luxury of Montreal for granted again when I get home."

The last letter I had from him was written just after he had received my Christmas gifts.

"I don't want to sound like a gushing schoolboy, but I just can't express to you my appreciation of the package you sent from civilization to me here in the mud and horror of the Italian battle front. But your package was better than sunlight—homemade fruit cake—all those delicious delicacies—I just felt weak in the knees when I opened the box."

Letters like that work a subtle change in your thinking. You have done with foolish spending of either time or money. You think ceaselessly of how you can best help to shorten this war—to bring boys like that home to Canada, which needs so badly their idealism, their strength, their courage. You see with a sudden blinding illumination what homes and families in the Dominion are for, what is our purpose in life.

Letters, letters, letters! Messages of cheer, of courage, of hope and dreams for the future. He who receives one is a better Canadian because of it, for in the letters of the boys to us the heart of our country is revealed.

Anyone caring to share interesting little bits of letters from overseas with the rest of us should address them to the Editor of the Round Table, c/o The Examiner, 2191 Hampton Avenue. We'll save them up until we have a few and then print a batch. So send them along, or tell us about them. Letters written by the boys will be returned.

The waste paper being salvaged by the school children has a multitude of war uses. For instance, army medical supplies require new and advanced packaging practices in which paper and paper-board play a vital role. Life-giving plasma journeys to the fronts in fibre shipping containers made from waste paper. Waste-paper also goes into the water-proof linings of crates for sterilizers, X-ray transformers, operating tables and litters.

Look for two new and exciting colors this spring: "Revival Pink" and "Grecian Gold."

Greek War Relief Fund Thanks Westmount Club For Donated Clothing

The Westmount Women's Club, Inc., have received the following letter dated March 17, 1944 from the Greek War Relief Fund:

Ladies:

We have received from your organization, 88 pieces of assorted clothing which will be very useful to us.

Canadians have shown deep sympathy for the Greek cause, and it is difficult indeed for us to find words of expression of gratitude and appreciation of this fund and of the Greek people toward such generous benefactors.

The Greek people will long remember Canadians for what they have done and are still doing to alleviate their terrible suffering in the most crucial hour of their existence.

On behalf of the national executive committee, we avail ourselves of this opportunity to express to you and through you to all assisting in this campaign, our heartfelt thanks.

Yours faithfully,
National Executive Committee.
Geo. Genetakos,
Chairman.
B. C. Salamis,

Conrad's Novels Appraised By Professor G. Clarke

Joseph Conrad and his art—seen as his own personal and peculiar contribution to the many chaptered gospel that is the motivation of all great novels formed the subject of a fascinating and thought-provoking address delivered before the Montreal Women's Club on Monday by Professor George Herbert Clarke, editor of the Queen's Quarterly and former head of the Department of English at Queen's University.

"Conrad was a Slav, a Pole by nativity and temperament," said Professor Clarke, "an Englishman by choice, affection, long residence and formal naturalization; a Frenchman by cultural sympathy and understanding; a seaman through the habit and experience of 20 years; a husband and father, and the creator of 12 novels, eight volumes containing 28 shorter tales, three plays derived from his fiction, four works of personal reflection and reminiscence and two romances written in collaboration."

Born in 1857, in the Ukraine, Teodor Josef Konrad Korzaniowski said Dr. Clarke, was the son of a dauntless patriot, poet and playwright who was exiled to Siberia by the Czarist Government. Dr. Clarke quoted the novelist's testimony to his father's "ardent fidelity" and his "fearless confession in word and deed of a creed which the simplest heart could feel and understand." The father, freed from restraint in 1868 died in 1870. The reunited family was then in Cracow, and a description of the life of the city at that time is given in Conrad's work Poland Revisited. Strongly influenced by his instructor at the institution he attended in Cracow, the young Conrad in turn made an indelible impression on his mentor. The teacher's influence, however, combined with that of the youth's relatives proved unable to dissuade him from going to sea at 17. Conrad served before the mast on two French ships engaged in the Mediterranean trade and in voyages to South America. He first landed in England—at Lowestoft—in 1878 and later joined a North Sea coastal vessel. Further experience at sea took him on voyages to the Antipodes. By 1884 he had become Captain Conrad and a naturalized British subject. Three times he revisited his native Ukraine, making his way back from the third with great difficulty in 1914 in the early days of the first World War. From 1894, when he forsook the sea he made his home in England. In 1896 he married a young Englishwoman, Miss Jessie George, whom he had met four years earlier. She was 17 years younger than he and survived him by 12 years.

Touching on Conrad's reading in English, Professor Clarke places him in debt to the Bible, Shakespeare, Jeremy Taylor, Dickens, Thackeray, Trollope, Marryat, Cooper, W. H. Hudson, Henry

Public Ownership Versus Private Discussed At Club

An interesting panel discussion of Public versus Private Ownership with reference to the Montreal Light, Heat and Power, was presented to the Cote des Neiges and Snowdon Women's Club, Tuesday afternoon, by the following members of the Cinics League: Mrs. G. V. Roney, Mrs. J. L. Hickey, Mrs. H. J. Rowley, and Mrs. D. W. Heywood.

Mrs. A. Borlase sang several delightful solos accompanied at the piano by Bernard Leshley.

The president, Mrs. J. Crawford, was in the choir and thanked the artists. Mrs. E. Sharpe expressed the clubs' thanks to the speakers.

Mrs. J. Lorimer and her committee served refreshments.

OUR SHORT STORY

ROAD TO THE GUILLOTINE

By DERRY PLEMING

When Marguerite, Comtesse de Varennes heard the roll of the drums she knew the morning had come when she would either die by the guillotine or escape by a last minute miracle.

So far, all attempts to rescue her from the heavily-guarded Conciergerie had failed. Day after day she had received messages of encouragement from her brother, Jules. But nothing happened. Yesterday she had found a note in her bread: "Courage! You will be rescued in the streets tomorrow."

Rescued in the streets? How could Jules and a handful of friends rescue her from under the eyes of hundreds of soldiers and the people of Paris? It seemed incredible.

She sat upon her rough bed. There was nowhere else to sit. The only furniture was a wash-basin on the floor. Her only possessions were a comb and a few articles of clothing.

It was October 16th, 1793. Three weeks since she had been imprisoned. Last week, after a short trial she had been found guilty of plotting the escape of Marie Antoinette from the Conciergerie.

She wondered about the Queen, once so gay and beautiful in her thousand-room palace at Versailles. Now in a damp basement cell, and like herself, condemned to die today. Was she, too, lying awake, thinking of the guillotine? Was she afraid? If she was, she would never show it—though she was ill, and had aged terribly during her long imprisonment. She looked fifty, instead of thirty-eight. She had lost all hope of escape. "The only thing I can do now," she had said, "is to die like a daughter of Maria Theresa."

Her husband, Louis XVI, had been executed. Her only son, the little Dauphin, had been taken from her and placed under the guardianship of Simon, a rough shoemaker. Her friends had either been executed or were in Europe, helpless to aid her. The French Republic hoped, by executing the ex-Queen, to frighten England and Austria.

At ten o'clock the tramp of feet told Marguerite they had come for her.

A tall young man, wearing white breeches and a three-cornered hat, entered her cell. Was this Samson, the famous executioner? His face was impassive.

Silently, he cut her long golden hair, and tied her hands behind her back. He led the way through the dark passages of the Conciergerie and through the gates.

At the sight of the tumbril waiting for her, Marguerite felt faint. Hundreds of soldiers with muskets stood on guard in the street. Ahead, in another tumbril, she saw the erect figure of a woman in a plain white gown and cap—Marie Antoinette, Queen of France and Navarre, daughter of the Empress Maria Theresa of Austria.

Marguerite stepped into the tumbril and sat on the hard wooden seat on which so many aristocrats had gone to their death. As the cart jolted over the stone pavement she searched the faces of the soldiers for her brother or the friends who had sworn to rescue her or die in the attempt. But there wasn't a familiar face in the rows of infantrymen with their fixed bayonets, or the lines of cavalry with drawn sabres, behind.

These soldiers were for Marie Antoinette. The Republic was afraid, even at the last hour, that she would be snatched from the guillotine. France was in a state of panic. The English were attacking from the north, the Spaniards from the south, the Austrians were in Belgium, and the Prussians were massed on the Rhine.

The women in the streets screamed filthy remarks at Marguerite, but the men stared admiringly. She was young and very beautiful. Among many beautiful women at the Court of Versailles she had been the loveliest.

Those had been gay, carefree days! Costly gowns, fantastic coiffures, lavish dinners. Her husband, whom she had married at fifteen, was old and ill, but he had let her go where she willed. She had never loved him, but he had been kind. Two months ago he had been executed.

VERSAILLES had been so gay with entertainment that no one had seen the storm clouds of the Revolution. Marie Antoinette, gay and wilful, had spent a fortune trying to save herself from boredom. How she had loved attending masked balls in Paris! It was at one of these that Marguerite had danced with Denis La Fontaine, the handsome, philandering lieutenant, son of an innkeeper, who had openly admired her at the court, though she repeatedly snubbed him.

This night, appearing from nowhere, he had drawn her into the dance before she could protest. His arms, sinewy and masterful, held her prisoner.

In a dim corner of the great hall, he had said:

"I love you, Marguerite." His eyes searched hers. "I had to tell you before I left for England. It may be years before I return to Paris."

His hands hurt her arms by their pressure. "If you ever need a friend, I am ready to die for you."

Angrily, Marguerite wrenched herself free. "How dare you touch me! The Count will have you thrown in prison for this!"

He had laughed. "Your old man will never catch me!" His arms drew her to him. "You were made for love, Marguerite—wild, passionate love. When I return, I swear you will be mine!" He kissed her eyes, her throat.

Struggling furiously, Marguerite broke free and ran back to the royal circle.

She had never seen him again, though he sent her many gifts. She had thought of him often these last three weeks. No man had ever stirred her so deeply.

Was he here in Paris today? Among the thousands of citizens who had gathered to watch the execution of Marie Antoinette and herself?

As the tumbrils rumbled and jolted into the Place de la Revolution there was an eager stir among the thousands of spectators.

High in the air towered the guillotine, its sharp knife glittering in the October sunshine.

Marguerite had to clench her teeth to stop herself from trembling. Had her brother, Jules, failed her?

SITTING in front of the guillotine she saw Fouquier-Tinville, the public prosecutor, and Herman, president of the Revolutionary court.

Marie Antoinette was the first victim. She was not afraid. Regally she went up the wooden steps of the guillotine. The executioner and his assistant seized her and forced her to kneel with her neck on the hollowed board.

Marguerite felt faint as she watched them fasten the upper board over the Queen's neck. Quickly the string was pulled, and the knife flashed down. And the executioner picked up the bleeding head and held it aloft for the spectators to see.

A fierce shout arose, "Long live the Republic!"

Marguerite closed her eyes. Her heart pounded madly. Now it was her turn.

She felt the executioner's assistant behind her touch her hands, and the rope securing them was loosened.

"Don't move!" he whispered. "Your brother is going to start a riot."

Cannons boomed loudly, and a man shouted in terror, "The English have come! They are at the gates!"

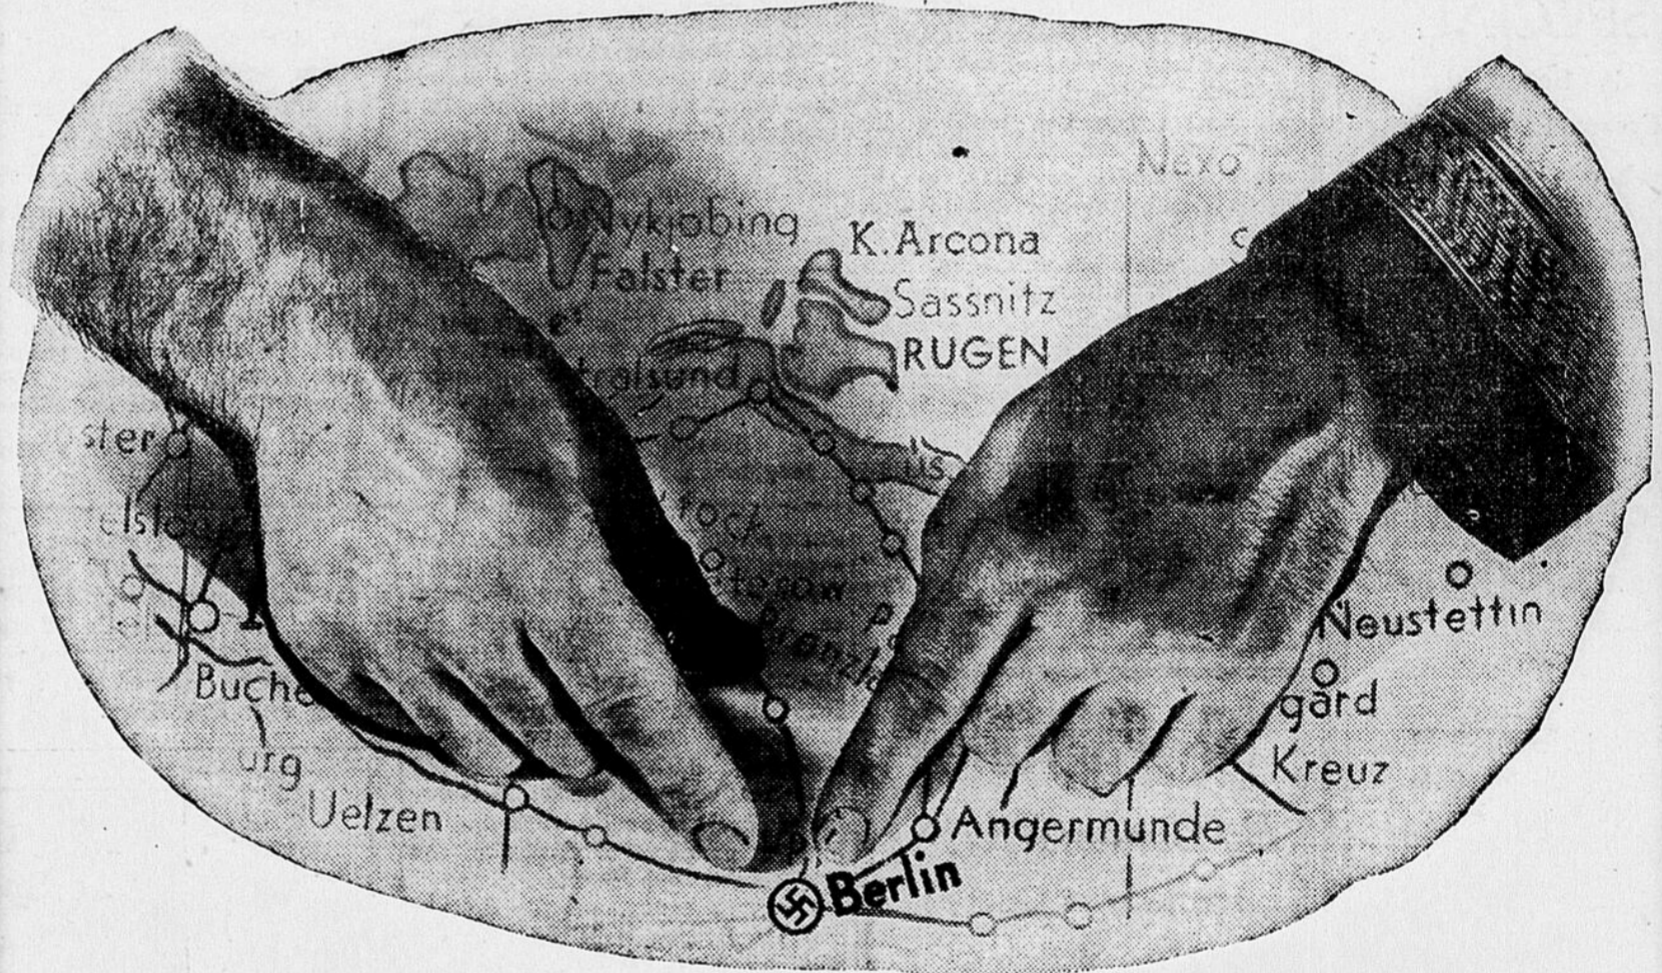

Instantly, others took up the cry. "The English are at the gates!"

Panic-stricken, the crowd fought to escape from the square. Soldiers fired their muskets. Horses reared and neighed in fear. Women screamed as they were trampled underfoot.

A man pulled Marguerite from the tumbril, threw a great cloak over her head, and led her to a doorway. She recognized Denis la Fontaine's dark head and broad shoulders.

First Objective

In these decisive months all Canada's effort is concentrated on one great objective—the attack that is to destroy the Nazi menace and all that it represents. Years of work have gone into its preparation. The best of our young men are staking their lives on its success.

We in Canada must support and strengthen this attack with all our effort. This one purpose must command our work, our minds and our hearts.

We must not permit any scramble for private gain or individual selfish ends, to distract us from our main task. If we concentrate on seeking, individually or jointly, higher prices, higher pay or higher profits, we shall be diverting our attention from the main task at this critical time. We shall also endanger the stability of prices which we in Canada have achieved after great difficulties—a stability that is essential to efficiency and fairness in war, and to peacetime prosperity afterward.

Our young men are fighting for a Canada and a world in which all men can have faith, hope and security. Each of them wants to come back to a job—or a farm—with a future. We at home must keep secure for them a strong and stable foundation on which alone a post-war period of promise and achievement can be built.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

NEWS OF THE THEATRE WORLD

AT WESTMOUNT THEATRE

Something of an "amateur's or Too Old." The dashing Errol Flynn comes up in a Cockney turn and John Garfield also sings. Joan Leslie shadow-boxes through an impersonation of—of all people—"Gentleman Jim" Corbett.

Ann Sheridan Sings

Ann Sheridan holds a tuneful class in love in a girl's dormitory for a dazzlingly lovely peck of precocious pupils and Alexis Smith shakes a streamlined leg in the light fantastic. Jack Carson, Alan Hale and George Tobias are also prominent in the boisterous brawl.

Frenetic Eddie Cantor double-stars at the top of the all-star cast in a story which merrily ties up the above mentioned capers. It commences with Cantor's radio show and John Garfield doing a well-received "guest shot." Edward Everett Horton and S. Z. Sakall, as a couple of producers scouting talent for a mammoth benefit, agree that "we want everyone but Cantor." The only one who seems to have any use for Eddie is a phony agent who uses his autograph to mulct a $60 commission from singer Tommy Randolph (Dennis Morgan). Pat Dixon (Joan Leslie), chasing the phony agent, meets up with Joe Simpson (Eddie Cantor), a bus driver who can't get on the stage because he looks too much like Eddie Cantor.

He takes her to Gower Gulch, the colony where Hollywood's "cowboys" and Indians live. Pat cooks up a scheme to have Joe Simpson impersonate Cantor so that the big show can go on without interference from the "real" Eddie. A trio of Gower Gulch Indians abduct Eddie and induct him, over his strenuous protests, into the tribe.

"He's a really wild "Indian" by the time he gets back to the broadcast theatre, but Joe Simpson is so convincing an impersonator that Eddie is thrown out on his ear, Tommy and Pat can go into their clinch and the show winds up in a triumphant finale.

Adapted from the famous novel by the late Eric Knight, "Lassie Come Home" has been made into a compelling motion picture, in Technicolor by MGM and starts Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre.

It is the simple story of Lassie, a beautiful collie, whose love for Roddy McDowell is even greater than the boy's love for her. To prove it the dog makes two escapes from a kennel after she is sold by Donald Crisp, to be with the boy. To prevent a third escape, her new owner takes Lassie to Scotland, but again the dog pries loose from her shackles and negotiates the homeward trip to Yorkshire, despite a series of hazardous adventures which almost cost her life. Finally Roddy and his family are united with the dog when the new owner offers Crisp a job as a kennel keeper. The story is as simple as that; but it is so beautifully and sincerely told that everyone will be gripped and stirred with its honest beauty. Filmed in Technicolor amid gorgeous scenic locales never before photographed and with a sterling cast of such talent as Roddy McDowell, Donald Crisp (both seen in the Academy Award "How Green was My Valley") Dame May Whitty, Edmund Gwén, Nigel Bruce and Elsa Lanchester, "Lassie Come Home" starting Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre, will please everyone.

One of the best stories I have recently heard is that told by Mr. H. A. L. Fisher, warden of New College, Oxford, and former Secretary of Education, speaking at a Teachers' Conference at the Guildhall, London, the other day. He said that a friend of his, a great Greek scholar, when visiting a women's college in the United States, was asked whether he would do the institution the compliment of translating their college motto into Greek. He most courteously agreed and then asked what the motto was. It was placed before him and he read the words: "Pep without purpose is piffle." — H. W. Peet in "The Churchman."

M.R.T. To Stage 'Hotel Universe'

A first class play and a strong cast will feature M.R.T.'s fifth production of the current season, when on April 15th, "Hotel Universe" opens at the Guy Street Playhouse. Philip Barry's play which is being directed by Rosanna Seaborn who played in the professional production in England, is far from being a play of surface values and superficial understandings.

Miss Seaborn, for her first directorial attempt at M.R.T., will be supported by a strong cast comprising Mildred Mitchell, Betty Taylor, Mary Douglas (who returns to M.R.T. after a lapse of time) and another newcomer to M.R.T., Cicely Howland. The male roles will be carried by Douglas Peterson, Sol Miller and Ernest Buck. Sets and lighting will be taken care of by Quentin Lawrence who designed the striking set for "Men in Shadow" which opened M.R.T.'s season.

"Hotel Universe" will run for the whole week of April 15th with a matinee on Saturday, April 22nd.

AT THE YORK SATURDAY!

Jimmy Dorsey, Eleanor Powell and Red Skelton in a scene from the film "I Dood It," which opens at the York United Theatre on Saturday, playing until Tuesday night.

Bach's Passion To Be Presented

Bach's Passion according to St. Matthew which was given last spring by the Montreal Festivals was an event which ranked high among the musical productions of the year. Critics united in giving unstinted praise for the reverence and taste which was preserved throughout and many purists who went with strong prejudices against this new form of oratorio expressed themselves as delighted with the entire performance; some of them went back two or even three times to hear it again.

This year, owing to the great expense which the production involves, there will be one performance only and it will be given in His Majesty's Theatre on Good Friday evening, April 7th. Edward Kane who made unforgettable impression as the evangelist will sing the part again and the Christ will be sung by Hugh Thompson. The other soloists are: Kenneth Schon, bass-baritone; Regina Resnik, soprano, and Margery Mayer, contralto.

At York Theatre

A new canine star is introduced to screen audiences, and a beautiful story of love and loyalty is unfolded in "Lassie Come Home," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's filmization in Technicolor of Eric Knight's haunting story, now playing at the York United Theatre.

The story revolves about the love of a beautiful collie for her youthful master. Sam Carracough (Donald Crisp), a Yorkshire farmer, is forced by circumstances to sell the dog, beloved by his son Joe (Roddy McDowall.) The nobleman (Nigel Bruce) purchasing the animal, takes her to his Scottish estates. The dog escapes and by instinct travels 1000 miles, sometimes on the verge of starvation, sometimes befriended by kindly farmers and an old peddler, and makes her way back to her young master. Then the Duke, her new owner, realizing the great love of boy and dog, solves the problems of the Carracough family.

Lassie, the collie, is not only an animal of amazing intelligence and personality, but a beautiful specimen that holds audiences breathless with interest. Crisp and young McDowall are as tenderly effective as father and son as they were in "How Green Was My Valley." Elsa Lanchester plays a sympathetic and understanding mother to the boy. A gem is the performance of Dame May Whitty and Ben Webster, the kindly Scottish couple who befriend the starving dog and nurse it back to health. Edmund Gwenn plays a whimsical old peddler who also helps Lassie on her pilgrimage. Elizabeth Taylor, J. Patrick O'Malley and other principals are also in the cast.

At The Monkland

Warner Bros.' "Action in the North Atlantic" is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre, where it will bring to screen audiences the heroic story of the men of the United States Merchant Marine. They are the hardy, courageous, resolute men who make it possible to carry on a global war. They continue to "go down to the sea in ships" when every ocean highway is a road of danger from Axis raiders in the air, on the surface and underseas.

Yet the survivors of torpedos, men rescued often after days, weeks and sometimes months of hunger and exposure in open boats or life-rafts, go back again to face the dangers that took the lives of their comrades and reluctantly spared theirs. It was the men of the Merchant Marine themselves who coined the slogan bannered in their union halls and hiring halls: "Keep 'em Sailing—Deliver the Goods!"

Starring Humphrey Bogart, Raymond Massey and Alan Hale. "Action in the North Atlantic" has a powerful cast befitting its hard-hitting theme. Cast as seamen are Sam Levene, Art Foster, Kane Richmond, J. M. Kerrigan, Peter Whitney, Dick Hogan and Dane Clark, a new "find" from the Broadway stage. Julie Bishop, attractive blonde actress, who was recently elevated to stardom, is cast as the girl Bogart marries and leaves behind when he ships out on a convoy bound for Murmansk. Others in the cast are Ruth Gordon, Minor Watson, Chic Chandler, Michael Ames, Iris Adrian, Dick Wessel and Frank Puglia.

Musical Sharps Flats and Naturals

ily he wished to be known as a historian, perhaps his "History of Mankind" was his favorite "brain child" but we all know that he was a writer that will go down in history as a great man.

Now that "Delinquency Prevention Week" has passed, let us have articles continually throughout the year, to remind us of the state of affairs and since so much necessary publicity was given during that special week, everyone must be conscious of the situation and can help by guiding youth into the right channels in early childhood, the formative and important days.

We noticed, with pleasure that many children were in the capa-

VARIETY

Hendrik Van Loon. Just to mention his name one immediately thinks of the finer things of life, art, music, literature. A great man has passed on but he enjoyed fame during his life and his works are fully appreciated. His books, which include "The Story of Mankind," "The Story of the Bible," "Van Loon's Geography," "Ancient Man," "The Arts," "Around the World With the Alphabet," "The Songs We Sing," "Christmas Carols," "Ships," "An Elephant Up A Tree," "Tolerance" and many more were illustrated by himself and these delightful pictures alone would have endeared him to the public. They are pulsating with life and as colorful as anyone could wish. Van Loon's knowledge of music was colossal and through his radio talks one found that he had a genius for imparting scholarly wisdom on any subject in language which comprised the choicest vocabulary but was simple enough for the ordinary individual to comprehend easily and clearly. Primarily audience for Lorin Maazel, the fourteen year old conductor and Sondra Bianca, the thirteen year old pianiste. Both are extraordinary children endowed with rare musical gifts that easily could be termed phenomenal. But oftentimes child prodigies do not develop beyond a certain point and what is wonderful in a child is not always thought as great in a grown up. In our humble opinion, we would venture to say that both these youngsters are so mature in musical understanding that one feels they will continue to win laurels providing they keep up their studies.

has built, a system of power-relations which, in effect, nullifies the authority of political democracy. One could not overestimate the value of the evidence here collected and so expertly documented opinions of a political economist who knew thoroughly Germany and the U.S.A. To those who believe the peace is being largely made during the war, this book is very timely and another demonstration that democracy and freedom, and the opportunity to create security and plenty, require not only a victory over the Axis, but the defeat of anti-democratic forces in many of its forms and in many (often unsuspected) places.

The volume contains an extensive and helpful Bibliography and index.

Stanley Choir To Present Messiah

Handel's "Messiah" will again be presented in Stanley Presbyterian Church on Good Friday, next week, by the church choir augmented. Soloists will be Miss Frances James, of Toronto, soprano; Marion McGregor, contralto; Kenneth Neate, late of New York, now with the R.C.A.F., tenor; James C. Scott, L.R.S.M., bass. Full orchestral accompaniment. Pianist, Doris Killam, Lic. Mus. (McGill). Organist, J. E. F. Martin. Director, Walter S. Clapperton, Hon. A.R.C.M.

Many people will remember Ruth Slenczynski, a child wonder who performed in the Imperial Theatre February 5th, 1935. We marvelled at the heavy program presented by this ten year old pianiste. It was a taxing list of masterpieces which included a Prelude by Bach, the Thirty-two Variations in C Minor by Beethoven, Rondo Capriccio by Mendelssohn, a Schumann Arabesque, Moment Musical and Impromptu in E Flat by Schubert, a Concert Study by her father, Josef Slenczynski, a Nocturne and the difficult Sonata in B Flat Minor by Chopin. This program would have been a hard task for an older musician but this sturdy little girl added encores! We remember distinctly a Waltz and the Etude in C Minor Opus 10 of Chopin.

Soon after this concert Ruth retired from the public eye for further study and last season made her return to the concert stage with a New York concert. The amazing result was that she was not extraordinary as a mature artist. The critics referred to her childhood triumphs and said she had not fulfilled expectations. Every child prodigy does not develop into a Menuhin, Heltz or Hofmann!

Presents Cantata

Mauder's Cantata "From Olivet to Calvary" will be presented by the Choir in St. Luke's United Church, on Sunday evening, at 7.30 p.m. The programme is as follows:

Part I—Special Soloist are: Mrs. L. A. Calvert, R. Reynolds, D. J. Gulliver and F. C. Mac-Millan. "Leave to-morrow till to-morrow."

Municipal Hockey League Hold Presentation of Prizes Here

The Westmount Municipal Hockey League held its annual presentation of prizes at Victoria Hall on Monday night. The championship teams received their trophies while the players were awarded their individual crests.

The Golden Eagles juveniles were the recipients of the "Johnny Hill Trophy," the Golden Eagles midjets received the "Russ McConnell Memorial Trophy," St. Leo's Academy bantams were awarded the "Walter A. Merrill Trophy" while the 2nd Westmount troop carried home the "B. W. Roberts Trophy," emblematic of the inter-troop section title. In the pee wee ranks, the Staynor Beavers received the "Jack Rimmer Trophy" for coping the Staynor section title while the Panthers received the newly awarded "Westmount Rotary Club Trophy" for winning the championship of the Prince Albert section.

An hour and a half of entertainment preceded the presentation with magician Sgt. Tom Auburn and four year old Jacqueline Adams, who sang, danced and answered questions, headlining the bill. Others to appear were "Billy" Bushell, cowboy singer; Barney Flegal, pianist; "Bozo" the strong man; Terry Goodwin, singer and tap dancer; Hal Brady, juggler.

Invited guests were R. N. Dawe, president of the Q.A.H.A.; Bill Liddell, convener of the Q.A. H.A. Minor Series; Captain Ross of the Claremont Barracks; Beau Thurston and P. R. Minto of the Westmount Services Hockey League; W. R. Hill; C. McBride, president of the Westmount Rotary Club; W. G. Moxley, chairman of the boys' work committee in the Westmount Rotary Club and other members of the club. E. J. Anderson, superintendent of parks, acted as master-of-ceremonies in the presentation of prizes.

Eighth Annual Boys' and Girls' Hobby Show To Be Held April 12

The Eighth Annual Westmount Boys' and Girls' Hobby Show sponsored annually by the Westmount Boys' and Girls' Hi-Y clubs is being held at Westmount Y.M.C.A. on April 12, 13, 14 and 15.

This year's president is David Johnson, and he reports that all the organization work connected with the show has been done. The executive is now sitting back and waiting for the entries to start flowing in.

The entry office opens at the Westmount Y.M.C.A. tomorrow morning and remains open for one week, until April 8. The show is open to all residents of Westmount, pupils of Westmount schools, members of a Westmount hobby club, or members of the Westmount Y, who have not yet reached their twentieth birthday.

David Johnson's principal aides have been vice-presidents Eleanor LeRiche and Charles McCrae and advertising manager Peter W. King. Other luminaries are Mary Chatterton, secretary Harvie Wal- treasurer Janet Nicholson, manager of exhibits, Beverley Gallop, manager of entries, John Peirson, manager of prizes and judges, Allison McDonald, assistant advertising manager, and advisers David Townsend, last year's president, E. I. Taylor, executive secretary of the Westmount Y.M.C.A., and Parker L. Wearing, teacher at Westmount High.

The syllabus committee, consisting of Laurie Hutchison, Deborah Pierce, Leonard Beaton, Ingor Jorgenson and Peter Scott, and the publicity committee, consisting of Buddy Cochrane, Derek Ramsay, Barbara Lamb, John Pepper, and Pat McGoun, have done good work on this year's show. The Hobby Show booklet came out a couple of weeks ago and proved that the syllabus committee has done a good job. The publicity committee has distributed posters in every school under the jurisdiction of the Westmount Protestant School Board, and have spoken to the pupils of the three elementary schools, Roslyn, King's and Queen's.

The show, however, could not have survived without the kind and generous help of its 23 patrons. They are: D. C. Abbott, K.C., M.P.; Walter Merrill, K.C.; Rev.

Operations carried out in France by the Nazi troops of occupation in order to wipe out the "Maquis" are costing heavily in the lives of patriots. The enemy, which proceeds on the principle of taking no prisoners, has been making daily attacks for four months, killing more than 100 members of the Resistance every week. In spite of their lack of weapons however, the men of the Maquis have been able to inflict considerable losses on the enemy.

Senior Section Of Municipal Softball To Meet

The senior section of the Westmount Municipal Softball League will hold its organization meeting one week from tonight, Friday, April 7th, at the Victoria Hall.

Ten teams, nine of them service units, played in the loop last year and from early indications, a larger entry list may be expected this year. If such a thing materializes, the league will undoubtedly be split up into two sections. Last season the teams played a breakneck schedule of 18 games, ending up by playing three games a week during July. This will be done away with if possible, with the clubs engaging in 12 or 13 tilts during the season, exclusive of the playoffs.

One of the latest teams to apply for an entry into the circuit is the R.C.A.F. No. 9 Repair Depot from St. John's, Que. While the airmen from the Richelieu River town are anxious to enter a team, the long trip in to Westmount Park at least twice a week, does not seem feasible.

Any information regarding the league may be obtained from the recreation supervisor, Jim McCormick at Fitzroy 1929.

Centennial Badminton Tournament Tonight

An inter Y.M.C.A. Centennial Badminton tournament is to be played this evening at the Westmount Branch of the Y.M.C.A.

Westmount Highlights

by Buddy Cochrane

Judging from the advance ticket sale tonight's Westmount High dance is going to be one of the most successful, and one of the most enjoyable, dances of the season.

Refreshments are being provided and the Modernaires promise some new numbers.

Other dances coming up soon are the Eaton's Junior Council Sadie Hawkins dance on April 14th, and the Hobby Show dance on April 21st. Both dances are being held on Fridays and the Modernaires will be tooting at both. All proceeds from the Junior Council's affair are going to war charity while the Hobby Show dance's cash will help swell David Johnson's Hobby Show fund.

Hi-Y

Occupying the minds of most Hi-Y members are two things. First, the eighth annual Hobby Show being held at the Westmount Y from April 12 to 15 inclusive; and, second, the annual conference which is being held at the Southwestern Y on April 13 and 14. Two Westmount members are being chosen to present ideas on religion at the conference. Bob Lord and Len Beaton, the Westmount boys' club's representatives on the Grand Chapter, have been busy of late exhorting Westmount boys to go.

The local Y's Centennial poster contest is attracting wide attention. The contest is open to all boys and girls of not more than 19 years. The minimum size of the poster is 18 by 24 inches but the suggested size is 22 by 28 inches. The only words that must appear on the poster are, "Y.M.C.A. Centennial Year, 1944." Suggested inscriptions are "Serving with Youth Throughout the World," and "Serving Youth That Youth May Better Serve." Judges are C. V. Frayn, A.R.C.A., Miss E. L. Egerton and John Lewis. Prizes are $10, $5 and $2.50.

Doodling and Dawdling

Boys sport photos for Vox Dicum, with the exception of the skiing team, were taken in the gym last Friday. The girls had the last of their pics taken Tuesday. Photographer Joe Duffin is the man who did the job.

Pee Wee and Bantams Softball To Meet Shortly

The organization meetings of the pee wee and bantam sections of the Westmount Municipal Softball League will be held very shortly. All the games in these sections are played in the afternoons after school or on Saturday mornings.

Boys weighing ninety pounds or under and not over 13 years of age, are eligible for the pee wee group while the bantam section is for boys weighing 115 pounds and under, not over 15 years of age.

Teams interested in joining these two sections of the league are asked to get in touch with recreation supervisor Jim McCormick immediately, by telephone at Fitzroy 1929 or in person at the office in the greenhouse.

MARCH WINDS

Let me know forever this warmth of soil
And earth; let me feel the softness
Of the grass and the new spring hills.
Let me touch the coolness of the clear
Creek water, and let the March winds
Blow, they cannot slow the year!

Our Short Story

"Hurry!" he whispered. He led her through an empty house to a quiet street where two horses stamped impatiently. His strong arms helped her into the saddle.

They rode through the gates of Paris in the midst of hundreds of terrified citizens.

At the first village, Denis put her into a waiting carriage and they drove on, through village after village, exchanging their tired horses for fresh ones, never stopping for food.

Marguerite, on first settling back into the carriage, had looked gratefully at Denis. He was older, with gray hairs at the temples, but his smile was as gay as ever.

He took her hand. "In a few hours you will be over the frontier."

She smiled weakly. "Is Jules coming too?"

He nodded. Marguerite closed her eyes and lost consciousness.

They passed through Chalons-sur-Marne, Pont-de-Somme-Vesle, Sainte-Menehould, and Varennes, where the King and Queen had been captured on their disastrous flight from Paris two years before.

She was still asleep when they passed the frontier fortress of Montmedy, and was only half-conscious of being helped to bed in a quiet inn.

IT WAS late in the morning when she went downstairs. Denis was waiting. Marguerite gave him her hands.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

By BILLY HAROLD

By Billy Harold

In the feature game of the Xavier Apostolate Carnival held last week at the Forum our Bantams successfully defended the Canon Heffernan Trophy by virtue of a 4 to 4 draw against Catholic High Bantams. This is the fourth time in the last five years that Red, White and Green of St. Leo's have brought the Cup back.

It was a slam-bang battle all the way with both clubs going all out to win and like the score there was nothing to choose with our gang enjoying an advantage in the first half of the tilt while Brother Paul's Black and White squad held a slight edge in the second half of the match.

Holding the spotlight for the Academy was Dave Manning and Jimmy McCarthy up on the front line for the Saints and the diminutive Bob Harwood in goal whose spectacular play bordered on the sensational at times. Fleming MacKell as usual was the sparkling for C.H.S. and this promising youngster is undoubtedly one of the future stars of our national pastime.

At the conclusion of the game Father Wilfred McDonagh, P.P., presented St. Leo's popular young captain, Jack Martin, with the coveted trophy.

Now with the curtain ready to be drawn across the 1944 hockey campaign it would be well to dwell for a moment on the fine spirit that prevailed between these two keen rivals all through the season. All the games were hotly contested but at no time was there ever any bitterness or unsportsmanlike conduct and when these young sportsmen assembled on the ice after their last game there was genuine handshakes all around and to the large throng gathered in the Forum it was a highly creditable exhibition of school spirit at its best.

The final game of the Intermural League took place at Lachine Arena last Saturday with the Red Wings holding the Rovers to a 4-to-4 draw but losing out on the round score of a two-game total goals series by 8-to-5, so it's congratulations to Vincent Heeny and his Rovers.

Contrary to all rumours there was nothing out of the ordinary took place in the senior B series between St. Leo's and West Hill High School.

The Easter social will take place on Monday, April 10th in the school hall. This social is under the auspices of the Mothers' Club.

Plans for a huge boxing show are now under way with the date likely to be on Friday, April 28th.

After such a successful hockey season there was a lot of demands for a hockey social and there is at present an executive looking into the possibilities of giving recognition to our athletes as there is no question but that something should be done along these lines.

The fourth high class team were submerged 6 to 4 by a team composed of the remaining boys of the high school. The fourth high troupe put up a game battle but were no match for the better conditioned youngsters of the school.

The possibility of a fifth high class being introduced next year are improving but nothing definite along these lines will be known for some time.

Phil Martin, Kenzie Black and Palmer Strong will form the first line of next year's Academy Bantam B team.

Sunday evening bowling as a means of recreation was introduced for the benefit of the students of St. Paul's Academy and St. Leo's. This is merely in the nature of an experiment at present but there is a strong hope that properly organized mixed groups for bowling and tennis will be established very shortly.

This Winter's snow is not so deep as formerly, but the mud splashes just as high.

Famous Discovery Made By Smithies

Cast-iron with the strength and elasticity comparable to those of steel is now being made in British foundries. It is called "acicular iron," and though it is eighteen months since it first reached steady production, news of the development has been kept quiet.

After the war the new cast-iron will give us better and cheaper gas-stoves, boilers, and lawnmowers. Like the marvellous new plastics, this material will mean less work and greater comfort in millions of homes and lower costs in thousands of factories.

Britain has often led the way in iron and steel. Her smiths were famous centuries before steel was ever made, and the iron-workers of Sussex, who smelted ore with charcoal made from the trees of Ashdown Forest, were the true ancestors of our unrivalled craftsmen.

Since 1939 the development of acicular iron has trebled the hammering-strain of fine quality cast-iron from 15 lbs to between 40 and 60 lbs per square inch.

“OVERPROOF” — “PROOF” “UNDERPROOF”
Do You Know What They Mean?

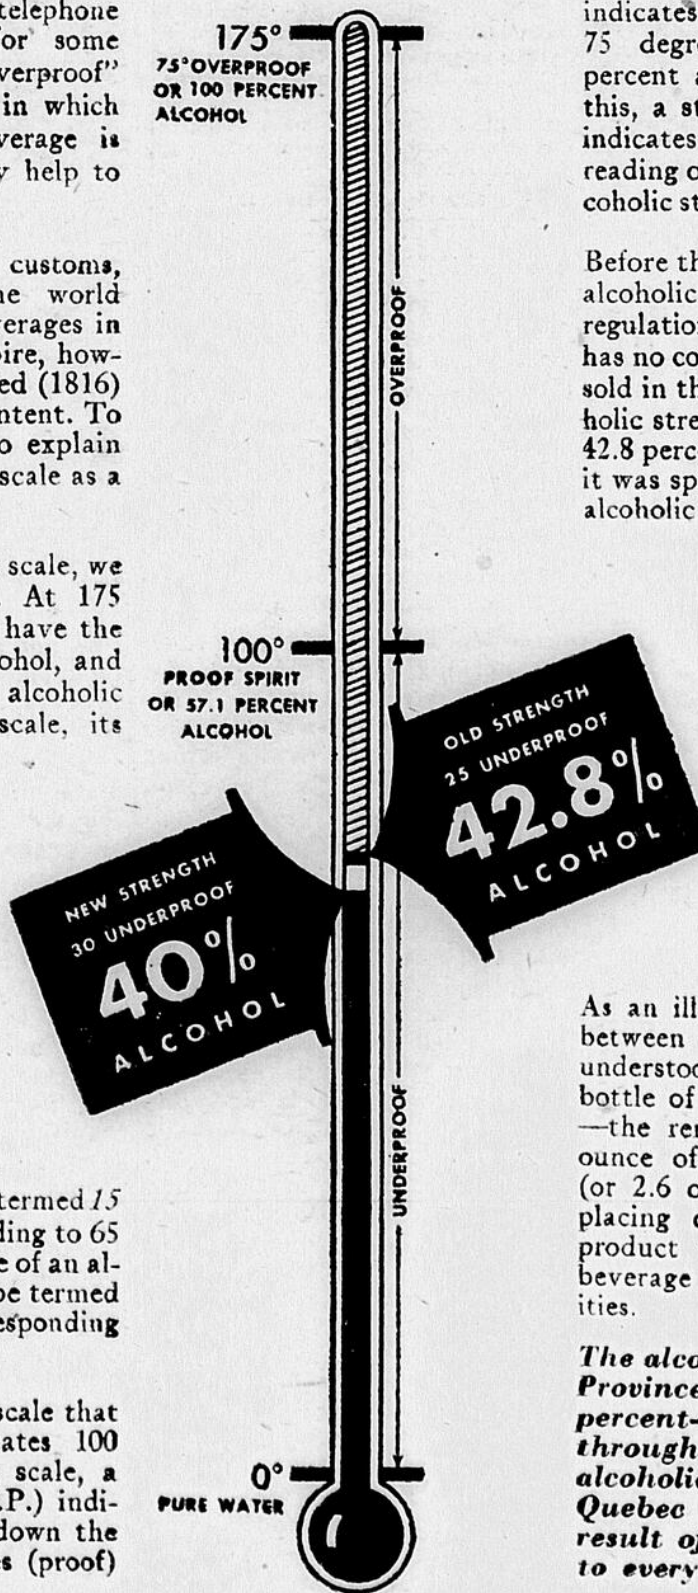

WE have received a number of telephone calls and letters asking for some explanation of "proof spirit", "overproof" and "underproof" and the manner in which the strength of any alcoholic beverage is expressed. The following facts may help to clear up any misunderstanding:—

From the standpoint of excise and customs, different countries throughout the world express the alcoholic content of beverages in different ways. In the British Empire, however, the Sikes table has been adopted (1816) as a base for expressing alcoholic content. To better illustrate this method and to explain the Sikes scale, one can imagine the scale as a thermometer marked off in degrees.

At zero degrees, or the bottom of the scale, we have pure water, and no alcohol. At 175 degrees, at the top of the scale we have the maximum alcoholic strength, all alcohol, and no water. Thus by measuring any alcoholic beverage by its degrees on the scale, its alcoholic strength can be determined.

PROOF, or proof spirit, corresponds to 100 degrees of the Sikes scale and a beverage of this strength contains 57.1 percent alcohol by volume. All alcoholic beverages of greater strength than this proof strength are called "overproof" and all beverages of less than this proof strength are called "underproof". To illustrate—a beverage of an alcoholic strength of 115 degrees would be termed 15 degrees overproof, (15 O.P.) corresponding to 65 percent alcohol by volume. A beverage of an alcoholic strength of 60 degrees would be termed 40 degrees underproof (40 U.P.) corresponding to 34.3 percent alcohol by volume.

Thus, it can be seen from the Sikes scale that 175 degrees Sikes (75 O.P.) indicates 100 percent alcohol. Coming down the scale, a strength of 120 degrees Sikes (20 O.P.) indicates 68.5 percent alcohol. Farther down the scale, a strength of 100 degrees Sikes (proof) indicates 57.1 percent alcohol. Still lower, 75 degrees Sikes (25 U.P.) indicates 42.8 percent alcohol. And just a little lower than this, a strength of 70 degrees Sikes (30 U.P.) indicates 40 percent alcohol. The lower the reading on the Sikes scale, the lower is the alcoholic strength of the measured beverage.

Before the new Federal regulations concerning alcoholic strength came into effect—over which regulations The Quebec Liquor Commission has no control—most of the alcoholic beverages sold in the Province of Quebec were of an alcoholic strength of 75 degrees Sikes (25 U.P.), or 42.8 percent alcohol. Under the new regulations it was specified that all domestic and imported alcoholic beverages offered for sale anywhere in the Dominion were not to be stronger than 70 degrees Sikes, corresponding to 30 underproof or 40 percent alcohol. As a result of that Federal law, the strength of all alcoholic beverages, most of which were 42.8 percent alcohol, was lowered to 40 percent alcohol. It is interesting to note in passing that this strength of 40 percent alcohol is actually a little stronger than the strength of most of the alcoholic beverages sold in Great Britain during these last few years.

As an illustration, and so that the difference between the two strengths can be better understood—if one were to take a 40-ounce bottle of the pre-regulation or stronger stock—the removal of one and two-tenths of an ounce of the pure alcohol from the bottle (or 2.6 ounces of the beverage) and the replacing of this with water would yield a product within the legal limit of alcoholic beverage strength as fixed by Federal authorities.

The alcoholic beverages sold today in the Province of Quebec are of the same 40-percent-alcohol strength as those sold throughout the rest of Canada. This alcoholic strength was not set by the Quebec Liquor Commission but is the result of a Federal regulation applying to every province in the Dominion.
