Full Life Ends For Mrs. Riley

Mrs. Riley died at home Sunday night in her 108th year. It was thought locally that she was

This is the most recent Equity photo of Mrs. James Riley, who brought great fame and notice to Shawville because of her longevity. Heroine of the story is Miss Gertie Riley who looked after her mother, welcomed the many guests who visited her mother and made all who came feel at home in the humble dwelling on Shawville's Center Street. Always in the background yet always taking the responsibility, Gertie gave herself to the cause of her dear mother and now for the first time faces a life for herself. It is as a tribute to Gertie that The Equity publishes once more, this picture of Shawville's grand old lady, now deceased.

At about the time of Canadian Confederation, Mary Ann Smith posed for this tin-type picture. She was eighteen. Last Sunday morning she died. For Shawville, the oldest woman in Canada and actually there is good reason to believe she was, if only for three days. There was gaelic speaking Annie Martin at Reserve Mines, Nova Scotia who was dancing a scottish dance when she was 107. Mrs. Martin smoked her pipe regularly until her death last Thursday leaving a clear field for our Mrs. Riley in her claim of being the oldest. Three days later Mrs. Riley passed on.

By virtue of having survived so long a time, Mrs. Riley had received messages and visits from the great and the curious and had been acclaimed by press, radio and TV. The Queen had greeted her upon her last few birthdays. Mrs. Riley had officially opened the Shawville Fair annually until last year. John and Olive Dieffenbaker visited her when they came to Pontiac during the pre-election campaign last year. Hugh Proudfoot and Ray Johnston were frequent visitors to her home.

Her life story is part of Shawville's history and its fall fairs.

According to the records of Shawville Anglican Church, Mrs. Riley was born at Yarm, three miles north of here, on March 2, 1850. She was the first to be baptized in the church and at the age of six attended the first Pontiac county fair here over 100 years ago.

Attended Most Fairs

Since that time she has attended most of the annual Shawville fairs and in the past several years has officiated at the opening day ceremonies. It was her custom to cut the official ribbon with her favorite pair of old scissors.

Mrs. Riley spent most of her life in the Yarm and Shawville districts except for eight years

Karen Hobbs New Years Baby

There was no baby born on New Years Day at Pontiac Community Hospital but all honor due the first baby of 1958 goes to Karen Beulah Hobbs who made her presence known on the stroke of noon on January 2. The baby's mother, the former Dorothy Hodgins of Shawville, and the baby's father, Cecil Hobbs who works at the Shawville Creamery, are both quite delighted to have produced the first baby of the new year. Two year old Ronnie Hobbs is probably glad to have a baby sister though he has made no statement for the press. Baby Karen, weighed in at five lbs. 14 oz.

when she lived in Mattawa where she was married.

The former Mary Ann Smith, she was the daughter of the late John Smith and his wife, Mary Dagg. Her father was the first teacher in the district school. He had been born in Ireland and when he came to Canada, established residence at a point two miles north of Shawville. The area later became known as Smith's Corners.

She was married at Mattawa in 1880 to James Riley who predeceased her in 1940. They had three children, two of whom are still living. They are a son, Thomas, a monument maker at Amprior and a daughter, Gertrude. Mrs. Riley and her daughter lived together in their Center Street home here. Mrs. Riley also leaves 14 grandchildren, 33 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

To the many friends and relatives who visited her throughout the years, she took great pleasure in recalling her first home. She described it as a log hut chinked with grass and with a sod floor. They cooked over an open fireplace.

Since she celebrated her 100th birthday, Mrs. Riley had received messages of congratulations from the late King George VI, Queen Elizabeth, former Prime Minister St. Laurent former Opposition Leader George Drew, senior officials of various churches and a host of other dignitaries, thousands of friends and other well wishers.

The body rested at her home, from where the funeral was held Tuesday to St. Paul's Anglican Church with the rector, Rev. R. G. Elliott officiating. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Canadian Legion Branch 162 Moves Into New Building

After anticipating the move for many months, the Canadian Legion Branch 162 has moved into its new quarters. Building of the beautiful new headquarters was necessitated by the fact that the old Legion hall over Bolam's in Campbell's Bay burned to the ground and all the Legion's property was lost in the fire.

The members of the Legion under hard working President Andre Audet, were tireless in the efforts to get the new hall built and ready for occupation by the New Year and their efforts were rewarded. The new building has been called one of the nicest halls ever seen in Pontiac.

The official opening will take

Two Break-Ins At Shawville

Two break-ins have been reported in Shawville since the New Year. On the night of Dec. 31-Jan. 1, an entrance was forced into Dean & Merritt's General Store by way of a warehouse ventilator and a 2" thick steel door. An as yet undetermined quantity of merchandise was stolen as well as a small quantity of cash. Damage to the building and cash register may run as high as $100.00. On the night of Jan. 5-6, the corner Service Station owned by John L. Hodgins Limited was broken into and a quantity of cigarettes and candy bars were taken.

Both break-ins were reported to Det. Andre Audet, Q.P.P., of Campbell's Bay, who advised at press time today that a 16-year-old boy of Shawville had been arrested in connection with the break-ins, pleaded guilty yesterday in court at Campbell's Bay on charge of breaking, entering and theft; and has been remanded for sentence to February 5.

Two other arrests arising out of the same break-ins are expected within the next few days.

As a result of break-ins to premises in Fort Coulonge in December three arrests have been made by Det. Andre Audet, Q.P.P., of Campbell's Bay.

Charged at Campbell's Bay yesterday, with theft from Nadelle's Store, Fort Coulonge, of jewelry and watches valued at $350, were Cyril Graveline and Jean Lavoie of Fort Coulonge. Both pleaded guilty and were remanded for sentence to February 5.

Charged yesterday with breaking into Poupore School, Fort Coulonge, with intent to steal was Archille Graveline, who pleaded guilty. He also was remanded for sentence to February 5.

Former Resident Cedric E. Shaw Dies

Cedric E. Shaw, who for the past eight year has been manager of the Exeter branch of the Bank of Montreal, died on Thursday, December 26 in St. Joseph's Hospital, London, following an attack of coronary thrombosis suffered early Monday morning.

Mr. Shaw had been in his usual health and looking forward to the Christmas season when he was taken suddenly ill and removed to the London hospital in the Hopper-Hockey ambulance.

Since going to Exeter, Mr. Shaw has taken a keen interest in community affairs and was known to his friends as "Ted". His greatest community service has been as treasurer of the South Huron Hospital from the time the Lions Club first organized the drive for a hospital in 1952. He has also been active in the work of the Lions Club and was a member of the Masonic Order and the Exeter Lawn Bowling Club.

Mr. Shaw succeeded James L. Henry as manager of the Bank of Montreal in Exeter in September, 1949, coming to Exeter from the Ingersoll branch. In 1940, his first appointment was manager of the place on January 29 at which time Legionnaires and their wives and many top officials of the Legion will be present for a buffet supper.

My way of joking is telling the truth. That is the funniest joke in the world.

PLAIN FACTS FOR THE DISPASSIONATE

An appeal for funds to help the physically handicapped will strike fertile ground among those who feel for others; who understand the plight of the unfortunate through some close experience with physical handicap themselves; or who are just naturally sympathetic with their fellowmen.

Now it has been demonstrated that an appeal for funds can also be directed to those whose own financial and other problems blind them to those of others. The mathematical type who is more impressed by figures than by feelings can now sit up and take notice. The March of Dimes, which now concerns itself with rehabilitation, is saving the public dollars each day in the year by collecting dimes during their campaign.

Here is why it is dollars and cents(ible) to support them.

There are about 235,000 disabled people in Canada. Most of them are unemployed but could have their disabilities corrected to enable them to support themselves and their families.

Rather than continuing to pay out welfare allowances to support disabled people when they want to work and are capable of working, the March of Dimes people consider it a privilege to make effective rehabilitation possible.

During the past two years 598 disabled citizens of Ontario have been rehabilitated with March of Dimes funds. Before correction of their disabilities, $321,734 was paid out each year in public welfare grants to this group. Following rehabilitation procedures carried out with March of Dimes funds, the annual earning capacity of the group became $1,344,304.

That sort of arithmetic makes sense.

Happy 102nd birthday to Herminigilde Godin at St. Charles Hospital in Ottawa. All his friends at Fort Coulonge and district who weren't able to attend the celebration in his honor last Monday will think of him today as he starts his 103rd year.

Mrs. Ruby Armstrong, who uncompromisingly brought forth music out of the old relic at St. Andrews previously, should be quite thrilled with the new Holman Electric organ recently installed by Bill Kenny of Fort Coulonge.

Dorothy (Mrs. Carson) Hodgins, who has been compiling our three interesting columns from The Equity of 25, 50 and 74 years ago, very conveniently went to the hospital to give birth to little Randy George Hodgins during the week we didn't publish so there will be no interruption in the columns. This is good because many of our readers tell us they make the back page the most interesting page in the paper!

Mr. Phil Ross of Montreal, campaign chairman of the current provincial March of Dimes, told the Rotary Club of Shawville that he had "never been in a better place than the Pontiac." He said he had been charmed by the friendly and congenial people he met here, and had never been better treated anywhere. "Indeed," he said, "it is a real pleasure to visit here."

Joe Russell and the Mrs. have taken off for the ends of the earth and will have seen most of Canada and the U.S. to the west of Bristol up to and including Alaska before they return next July 1, just in time to help out at a grand opening of a renovated St. Andrews United Church. The day before Joe left he was in Shawville collecting funds to pay for this work which will keep the folks at Bristol mighty busy for the next six months.

When Jennifer was on CFRA last week, the power had failed on one rural line so everyone out that way let their phones off the hook and one battery driven radio supplied the whole neighborhood. This is what we call a very heartwarming demonstration of loyalty to home town talent.

A number of local merchants have been rudely shocked as a result of their kindness to strangers in our midst. Now where do we go from here? Do we continue to trust people and treat newcomers as we do our old friends or do we turn into an unfriendly town and lose a century old reputation? Not an easy decision and one which has to be made by each for himself.

It seldom occurs to us except through the eyes of visitors but did you know that our town is not only unusually beautiful, picturesque and situated in a scenic wonderland but it is also quaint. Jingle bells here is more than a song and old oaken buckets are still in use. As for quilting parties, they're commonplace and barn raisings are current events despite the general belief outside that these things are not done any more. We know they are, in the nicest places.

A donation of $10 was given to the Anti Tuberculosis Fund.

Thank you cards were read from Mrs. Bronson and Mrs. Walsh, also Christmas cards from Clarendon, Elmside, Wyman, Bristol and Pontiac County W. I.

Mrs. Reynolds conducted a survey regarding use of premiums in breakfast foods. All but one were against it. The short course was discussed and the new course on metal work was the choice for this year.

The exchange of Christmas gifts followed, also the singing of Christmas carols.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Steele, assisted by Mrs. H. Burke and Mrs. G. K. O'Donnell.

Letters to The Editor

The members of the Maryland Catholic Women's League wish to thank the Editor and members of The Equity for their kindness in publishing the minutes of our meetings. Rotarians Hear About Polio

In Pontiac County this week were two representatives of the Quebec Chapter, Canadian Foundation for Polio-myelitis. Speaking in Campbell's Bay on Sunday, and at the Shawville Rotary meeting on Monday were Phil Ross, Campaign chairman for the Quebec March of Dimes; and Alex Newton perennial field worker for this yearly campaign for funds.

At the Rotary meeting, Mr. Ross stated that the Quebec chapter, through its March of Dimes campaign, this year hopes to raise $125,000.

The other speaker at the Rotary meeting, Alex Newton of Montreal, emphasized the importance of the annual March of Dimes drive for funds, used for the rehabilitation of polio victims. Right in the Shawville area, Mr. Newton stated, our post-polio cases were last year made known to the Quebec Chapter, were taken to Montreal for treatment and later returned to their homes better equipped to carry on useful and happy lives.

"It is for reasons like this", said Mr. Newton, "that we conduct our annual campaign."

The keynote of the Foundation's activities is rehabilitation, continued the speaker. Part of the problem here is to get to know who are all the victims of polio in the province, and which of them require treatment or other assistance. In this field the Foundation has been greatly helped by the provincial department of health under Dr. Foley, Chief Medical Officer, and the field units of that department operating throughout the province. In addition to these very fine sources the Foundation depends heavily on information supplied by individuals in order to locate all polio victims. The procedure Mr. Newton gave to

In Shawville Cliff Schwartz is the local representative. Following receipt of a report of this nature, the Foundation will do what it can to help the victim.

On the preventive side of the picture, the Quebec Chapter of the Foundation hopes this year to vaccinate, free of charge, over 300 thousand people in the province of Quebec with 1 million shots of anti-polio vaccine donated by the provincial government. This program will be organized at the local level throughout the Province by the Canadian Legion. Administration of the vaccine will be by teams of doctors and nurses sent out by the Quebec Chapter of the Canadian Foundation, Mr. Newton said.

Following Mr. Newton's talk the Rotary Club decided to discuss at its next meeting the advisability of sponsoring a March of Dimes Campaign this month in the Shawville Area.

Two films supplied by the Canadian Foundation for Polio-myelitis were shown at the meeting by Rotarian Orval Smart. These films, which all agreed were excellent, dealt with the incidence of polio, and the re-

Medal Awarded To Radio Man

Hon. Louis Briethaupt, in one of his last acts as lieutenant governor of Ontario awarded a special silver medal to Frank Ryan of Ottawa, for his work in agriculture.

Mr. Briethaupt said in a letter received by Mr. Ryan that the special medal was awarded for his "tremendous interest and helpfulness in agriculture pursuits, not only in Ottawa but throughout Ontario".

Mr. Ryan is owner of radio station CFRA and operates a farm near the capital.

Mr. Briethaupt lauded Mr. Ryan's contribution in bringing the Capital's annual horse show and Winter Fair to a new high for efficiency and general interest.

The medal given Mr. Ryan is a special one the lieutenant governor can award when he sees fit.

Men are vain, but they won't mind women's working so long as they get smaller salaries for the same jobs. —Cobb

Joan Baxter is a very pretty young woman, Les Lye looks as good as he sounds and the Happy Wanderers are just as happy as they say they are. These conclusions were reached after a visit to CFRA last week. The big moment of the visit, of course, was when they let Jennifer sing on the air with that gay gang of travelling musicians, but seeing the people behind the CFRA voices was also a very interesting experience.

Bob Walters was busy "listening over" a few thousand records, Gord Picknell was taping away, script writers were typing away, Campbell McDonald was sorting out his newscast; in fact everyone from Mrs. Kent at the switchboard to pr man Don McKinnon with his camera seemed to be very busy at a job they obviously enjoyed. And here, there and everywhere was the fellow they call Mr. Ryan, locally known as Frank; a boss who is apparently both respected and admired by every employee at CFRA. The impression was one of a happy family.

Nova Scotian Joe Brown and his HW's, guitarists Vince Lebeau,

Ken Davidson, Bob King (who also sings), and Ward Allan with the adroit fiddle, really enjoyed their broadcast along with the listeners. Ken Reynolds, entertainment director, conducted the tour, making the visitors feel right at home.

Town Hall Packed For Bryson Rock Kings

Saturday night Dec 28th the Bryson Rock Kings completed Rock and Roll successes by playing to a record crowd in the Bryson Town Hall; Though there were several other dances in the surrounding area, the Rock Kings succeeded in drawing a crowd greater than that of any dance held in the Hall in recent weeks; Their success has continued to soar and now they can readily be said to be the top teenage band both in vocals and music, in the Valley.

At this last dance of the old year these musical boys featured music from Elvis Presleys Jail-house Rock' to Perry Comos 'I'm just born to be your baby' with a tempo that never let up until Paul Anka's Auld-lang-sine ended the fantasia. They are arranging an opening dance for the New Year Friday evening January 3rd.

Christmas Meeting Of Radford Auxiliary

The ladies of Radford Hospital Auxiliary met on Dec. 11 in the Penthouse with 14 ladies present including several visitors.

The president was in charge and the meeting opened with a minute of silent Prayer. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison.

As this was our Christmas meeting Mrs. H. Hamilton gave a reading, The Truth about Santa Claus, also a poem The World Is Mine. Several carols were sung.

A couple of contests were enjoyed, then we wrapped gifts for six patients, seven articles were sewn.

An exchange of gifts, candy and refreshments brought the meeting to a close.

Fat Girls Diet

Now that winter is here there is no opportunity for our wives to get the vigorous exercise that the warmer months offer in such forms as lawn cutting, grass raking, garden cultivating, washing and waxing the car and all the other beneficial outdoor tasks that wives are so anxious to indulge in to retain some vestige of figure control.

In order to prevent going to pot during the winter months, some wives will take up badminton, curling bowling and other sports in an attempt to retain their slyph-like figures.

For those who would prefer some less athletic method of retaining a measure of control over their waist line, the following diet is offered:

Low Calorie Diet

Monday

Breakfast: — Weak tea
Lunch: — 1-Bouillon cube in ½ cup diluted water
Dinner: — 1 pigeon thigh and 3 oz. prune juice (gargle only.)

Tuesday

Breakfast: — Scraped crumbs from burnt toast
Lunch: — Doughnut hole (without sugar) and 1 glass dehydrated water
Dinner: — 2 Jellyfish skins

Wednesday

Breakfast: — Boiled-out stains from tablecloth
Lunch: — ½ doz. poppy seeds
Dinner: — Bee's Knees and mosquito knuckles sauted with vinegar

Thursday

Breakfast: — Shredded egg-shell skins
Lunch: — Bellybutton from a Naval Orange
Dinner: — 3 eyes from Irish Potatoes (diced)

Friday

Sunday

NOTE:

Persian setting and costumes brilliantly reproduced in Vista Vision and Technicolor, this is an exciting adventure drama with thrills and intrigue that will provide lavish and spectacular entertainment for all. Starring, Cornel Wilde John Derek and Raymond Massey, Debra Paget and Margaret Hayes. Showing at Bryson Theatre Monday and Tuesday January 13 and 14.

By balancing your grains with SHUR-GAIN 40% HOGMIX CONCENTRATE, you can get out of them, not just more, but twice the feeding value. You can feed twice as many hogs on the grain you have — when you balance it with SHUR-GAIN.

On straight grain, you will feed at least 1100 pounds per hog to market weight. But 550 pounds of grain and only 100 pounds of SHUR-GAIN Hogmix Concentrate will finish the same hog — faster — better!

Quebec Increases Budget Without Increasing Taxes

(from Ottawa Journal)
The provincial government has brought down record expenditure estimates of $506,537,400 for the 1958-59 fiscal year beginning April 1.

Finance Minister Onesime Gagnon tabled the estimates in the Legislative Assembly Monday. They call for expenditures roughly $35,000,000 higher than estimated for the current fiscal year ending March 31.

The original 1957-58 estimates totalled $471,467,800. Early during the current legislature session, Mr. Gagnon presented supplementary estimates boosting the total to $482,911,360.

Up $100 Million
Estimates for 1957-58 were nearly $100,000,000 higher than for the 1956-57 term. The increase was due to the start of equalization payments by the Federal Government and high corporation income taxes.

The relatively small increase forecast for the coming term indicates the government is not planning new taxes. The additional $35,000,000 means the government anticipates an increase in tax yields as a result of continued expansion and good economic conditions.

Mr. Gagnon listed increased expenditure in nearly every government department. Most important increases were earmarked for social welfare, education and roads.

Social welfare is up to $75,453,000 from $43,363,000, making it the third largest budget item. The department is taking over social assistance duties from the health department whose credits are dropping to $67,897,000 from $83,407,000.

Revenue Later
No estimate of anticipated revenue is made at this time. The finance minister will outline this in his budget speech expected earlier than usual this year.

It is widely rumored that the speech may be delivered by Welfare Minister Paul Sauve.

In some quarters it is said Mr. Gagnon plans to retire in the near future and perhaps take up a Dominion appointment. His name has been mentioned as a possible successor to Lieutenant Governor Gaspard Fauteux of Quebec whose term has expired.

It is unlikely Mr. Sauve would be appointed finance minister on a permanent basis. He probably would act in an interim capacity and retain his welfare portfolio if Mr. Gagnon retired from the cabinet.

Mr. Gagnon, a former minister in the Conservative administration of R. B. Bennett, was seriously ill last Spring. He resumed his duties as finance minister after an extended vacation.

Record for Education
Expenditures for education in various government departments are estimated at $116,358,500—a record.

The budget of the education department alone is up to $84,296,200 from $79,769,700.

Estimated grants to universities for the coming term are below those for the current term, dropping from $13,153,700 to $10,328,700. The reason is that construction grants are reduced sharply because most projects are completed or near completion.

The estimates also show the government plans to spend more money for its civil service. It is not known however, whether salary increases are planned or whether the number civil servants is to be increased.

Mr. Gagnon listed for 1958-59 a total of $388,941,400 for ordinary expenditures, $85,190,000 for capital expenditures and $32,406,000 for public debt charges. This compares with the current term's estimated ordinary expenditures of $354,413,860, capital expenditures of $85,370,000 and public debt charges of $31,684,000.

My Window on The World

BY THE REV. E. REX TAYLOR

This will keep the coming year—and life itself—new.

Wasn't it Jefferson who said, "Give me liberty or give me death?" He knew that life could only be exciting and adventurous and novel if there was freedom. And he saw further that this freedom should be for others as well as himself. Many of us will spare a thought and a prayer for those unfortunate people for whom the coming year means just another 365 days of bondage; people in slave camps, in police states and political gaols behind the Iron Curtain.

But there are many people in the West who are due to spend another twelve months in thrall not of the body but of the mind. People who are afraid of new ideas and voices, people who never examine their own beliefs and positions for fear they might be wrong, people who are living in an out-moded past because of a refusal to face up to the conditions, challenges and opportunities of the present day. For such life cannot be adventurous and exciting and novel.

If you or those who are dependent on you in one way or another have nothing to fear why prevent them from listening to what anybody has to say? It's simply because Russia has a lot to fear that liberty of speech and press and platform are denied. Milton in his famous pamphlet, "Areopagitica" in which the freedom of these priceless things is classically defended for all time said, "Let truth and freedom grapple. Whoever knew truth to lose in free and open encounter?" Even an atheist recognized these basic values. Voltaire said, "I disagree with what you are saying but I'll defend to the death your right to say it. One of the leaders of the Reformation opposing a motion that books of differing points of view should be banned saw this as a grave threat to the forward march of the Church. And he was right, of course.

We don't want to produce people who are hot-house plants liable to shrivel at the first wintry blast of another opinion but hardy annuals capable of maintaining a truly personal life of beauty throughout the whole gamut of their environment's challenge. It's only as we respect to such adverse environmental conditions that we grow.

A third century Bishop of Carthage had these very penetrating words to say, "Why give your attention to the weakness of a Christian's body? Assail the vigour of his soul. Break his strength of mind. Destroy his faith. Subdue him by reasoning—if you can. Or if your Gods have anything of divinity or power let them act for their own vengeance."

You can't stem the tide by refusing to give a man a hearing. All you will succeed in doing is forging another link in the chain which will bind you with a progressive slavery.

The Bible says that where the spirit of Christ is there is perfect liberty. Let us, then, in the coming year concentrate on giving the Lord Jesus sufficient elbow room in which to work so that His mind shall be in us. As the great hymn writer sang, "Thy nature gracious Lord impart. Come quickly from above."

Set up Thy Standard Lord that we Who claim a heavenly birth May march with thee to smite the lies That vex thy growing earth.

Kenny McCagg Dies In Sleep

William Kenneth McCagg, a well known resident of this district for many years, died suddenly early Sunday morning at his summer cottage at Sand Bay, after spending the night with a couple of friends. He had been in good health the day before, but was found by his friends dead in the morning.

He was 51 years of age. Born in the Austin section of Clarendon he was the son of the late George McCagg and his wife the former Caroline Sturgeon.

He was educated in Austin Protestant school and after a year of training in barbering, he opened up a business on Main Street in Shawville.

He later went North to New Ontario where he became a diamond driller working in several of the mines in and around South Porcupine. In the second war he enlisted in the Scotch Highlanders Regiment and spent three years in service overseas.

When he returned from overseas he went to Niagara and spent several years being employed by the Hydro. Seven years later he returned to Shawville and has been residing with his sister, Mrs. M. Hodgins in Clarendon and has been operating a grocery store at Sand Bay during the summer.

He was an adherent of the Austin United church; a member of the Shawville Lodge No. 40 of the I.O.O.F. and was a member of the Pontiac Branch Canadian Legion at Campbell's Bay.

He never married. Surviving him are two brothers Frederick and Manson of Austin and two sisters, Mrs. Roland Russell of Bristol and Mrs. Melburn Hodgins of Clarendon.

The funeral was held from the W. J. Hayes & Sons funeral home, Centre street to the Shawville United Church, where the service was conducted by the Rev. Rex Taylor, pastor of Austin United Church. Interment was in the Austin church cemetery.

On Friday, December 22nd, the usual half yearly examination of the pupils attending Bryson school was held in the presence of H. Porteous, Esq., chairman of the board of school commissioners, and a few of the parents of the pupils. The examination which lasted from 10 o'clock a.m. till 5 p.m., included reading, spelling, dictation, geography, English grammar, history, arithmetic, algebra and mensuration. At the close of the examination the pupils were put through the ordeal of a spelling-match and exhibited excellent ability in this important branch of study. At the conclusion Mr. Porteous expressed himself highly pleased with the results of the examination mentioning several cases of marked improvement. He also called for a vote of thanks to the teachers Mr. and Miss Ringland for the care they had taken in promoting the progress of the pupils.
