The entire project is being financed by this Westmount group.

X-Ray Specialists Aid Homoeopathic

J. M. McCONNELL, Jr.
General Chairman

Signal evidence of the high standing of the Homoeopathic Hospital in world medical circles was given last night when Dr. Harold Griffith, 3445 Northcliffe Avenue, told campaign workers in the Hospital campaign for $84,000 that the two leading British radiologists have recently consented to become consultants on the Notre Dame de Grace institution's staff.

Dr. Griffith, who heads the Homoeopathic's Dept. of Anaesthesia, made the announcement to a crowded meeting of volunteer canvassers. Col. John B. Lewis, campaign chairman, was in the chair.

A feature of the meeting was a series of educational playlets, produced and acted by "The Benny Farm Players," and designed to instruct canvassers in how best to make personal appeals for funds.

John M. McConnell, Jr., general chairman, told the canvassers that "Subscriptions collected by divisions so far indicate that you will be greeted with willingness and co-operation wherever you go." He said that this encouraging reception was due to the Hospital's wide reputation for its great charity work in the community.

Distinctive Qualities

Outlining the need for the present drive for $84,000, Dr. Harold Griffith said there are three main characteristics of the Homoeopathic that set it apart from other Montreal Hospitals.

"It is first of all a community hospital in all senses," he explained. "The tradition of warm friendliness, of personal interest and kindliness of the hospital has grown over the last 55 years.

"Secondly, the hospital's nursing staff is one of the best to be found anywhere, and as a training hospital we are considered among the nation's finest models. "He pointed out that Miss Marjorie Russell, who heads the Nursing School, was formerly Director of Nursing Services for the entire Royal Canadian Navy.

Dr. Griffith also drew attention to the fact that the hospital had taken on four highly intelligent Displaced Persons on its nursing staff, and was training two more this term. He said that as these girls had no other source of income, some of the money raised might well be used to assist them

"Y" Teenagers Slate Opening Dance Sept. 24

The Westmount "Y" Teenage Committee announced last night that their opening fall informal dance will take place on Saturday night, September 24th, at 9 p.m., at the Westmount Y.M.C.A.

Martin Boyle, President of the club, is in charge of preparations for the evening. It was also announced that an orchestra will be on hand, and that refreshments will be served during the course of the evening.

Marlyne Matthews is in charge of the refreshments, and Lydon McKeown in charge of distribution of tickets. It is pointed out that one important feature of this dance is that it is "stag" or "drag".

Free Immunization At 2 Local Clinics

In connection with National Immunization Week, September 11 to 17, the Health Department of the City of Westmount wishes to remind parents that children may be immunized throughout the year at either of two places: — Child Health Centre, 150 Hallowell avenue, (for pre-school children only) first Monday afternoon of each month by appointment; and the Health Department, City Hall, Sherbrooke street at Argyle avenue, Friday afternoons from 4 to 4.30.

Vaccinations are done against smallpox and a triple preparation is now available which protects against diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus. This is given in a series of three monthly injections and a booster is recommended after one year and then every five years.

There is no charge for these immunizations. If further information is desired, it may be had by calling the Westmount Health Department at FI. 8531.

A special committee has been formed to direct the programme for National Immunization Week in the Province of Quebec. This committee already includes representatives of the Departments of Health of the Province of Quebec and of Montreal, Outremont, Lachine, Verdun and Westmount and the University of Montreal, as well as representative citizens and educational authorities.

The committee will continue to function as a permanent committee of the Health League of Canada.

It is pointed out that the incidence of diphtheria in the Dominion since 1944 has fallen from 3,382 cases to 898 and whooping cough has been practically cut in half. There have been no cases of smallpox in Canada for several years.

Pleads Guilty To Housebreaking

Ben Ferguson, of no fixed abode, was arrested Tuesday at 1.25 a.m. by Sgt. P. Morgan and Const. T. Smith of the Westmount police on a charge of loitering on Sherbrooke street.

After further investigation, two charges of housebreaking on Arlington avenue were laid against him and he appeared before Recorder C. A. Hale, pleading guilty.

His case was remanded until September 13.

Scouts & Cubs

By REG. GROOME

Well, the holidays are all over, and it's back to work (and to school) for everyone. Another Scouting and Cubbing season is on us, and let's see what we can do to make it one of the best in our history. Wellington Pack will be opening next Monday evening at 7 p.m. while the Wellington Troop will commence activities at 8 p.m. A party from the Verdun Optimist Group recently went on a bicycle hike, including Scoutmaster Buddy Crosswell, Assistant Cubmaster Veronica Crosswell, Patrol Leaders Brian Mitchell, Buddy MacNab and Jack Eastham, P.L. Norman Chippendale was unable to attend due to a broken bone in his foot.

The party headed for Grove Hill at Lachine, where they cooked their own meal, listened to a short talk on map-reading by SM Crosswell and indulged in various other Scouting activities and games, such as stalking, building a lean-to, etc. The day came to a very successful close shortly before supper.

Trinity Memorial Wolf Cub Pack will hold their first meeting of the new season next Monday evening, September 12th, in the Church Hall, at 6.45 p.m. All are asked to attend in full uniform. An all day hike has been tentatively scheduled for Saturday and notices to this effect have gone out through the mail Final details will be supplied by telephone Friday night.

St. Saviours

Tomorrow evening, the Cubs and Scouts of St. Saviours will hold their opening meeting at the Grand Blvd. grounds, where a corn roast will be the future of the evening's programme. In the event of rain, the corn roast will carry on as scheduled, but indoors.

CAMP REUNION

Hurry Scouters, Hurry, if you want to attend the Scouters' Cub Camp Reunion Party which will be held on September 17th and 18th. If you haven't yet sent in your card, get in touch with Akela Jean Howe, immediately, if not sooner.

ST. MATTHIAS

St. Matthias Pack will open for the new season Friday evening (Sept. 9th). There are vacancies for several new recruits (between 8 and 9 years old). The new floorball season will also get underway at the same time, and Cubs are reminded that the Pack's annual dues, together with the registration fees, will be collected on opening night. Two events of importance coming up are a "Going-Up" Ceremony this month, and the annual Hallowe'en Party at the end of October. All Sixers should get in touch with their Sixes and see that there is a full turn-out for this week's opening meeting.

Calvary Pack

The first event of the season for Calvary Wolf Cub Pack will be a hot dog roast this Saturday (Sept. 10th). All Cubs and any boys who have passed their eighth birthday and wish to join the Pack will meet in front of Calvary Church at 2 p.m. Bring your own soft drink and two (2) street car tickets. If the weather is bad, the picnic will be postponed until the following Saturday. The first Pack meeting will be held next Monday evening, at 6.45 p.m., in the Church Hall. Akela C. M. Jockel will be glad to welcome any new recruits.

Jamboree Mystery

There's a surprised but pleased milk dealer in Ottawa. He supplied 15,280 quart milk bottles to the recent First Canadian Boy Scout Jamboree at Connaught Camp. When the account was closed the Jamboree Scouts had returned 15,286 quart milk bottles!

Wins World Flight

When the Minneapolis Star and Morning Tribune picked a newsboy by merit to go on a Round-the-World Flight, it was found that the boy, 16-year-old Donald Olsen of Dawson, Minn., was a Boy Scout.

Good Turn

At the request of the Ottawa Branch of Toc H, Boy Scouts of the 8th Ottawa Troop supply Scouts at regular intervals to read to a Hull blind man. The 8th Ottawa Troop is jointly sponsored by Cushman Presbyterian and St. James Anglican Churches in Hull, Province of Quebec.

General Spry At Courses

Maj.-Gen. D. C. Spry, C.B.E., D.S.O., Chief Executive Commissioner of Canada's Boy Scouts, is at present taking Leadership Training Courses at Gilwell Park, the International Scout Training Centre at Chingford, some 14 miles from London, England. General Spry expects to remain in England until September 20th when he will sail for Canada on the S.S. Empress of Canada.

World Journey Camp Theme

Boy Scouts from various Displaced Persons Camps in Europe as well as American, Belgian, British, Danish Dutch, French, German, Liechenstein, Luxemburg and Swiss Scouts attended the Second International Patrol Rally at Fischbauch, near Nuremburg in the U.S. Zone of Germany from August 19th to 29th.

The Rally programme centred around the theme of a Scout journey round the world, and required the campers to imagine they were camping in a different part of the world each day. Thus each day's games, competitions, Scoutcraft and camp-fire items had an international flavour.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

YOUNG ADULT SECTION

Keymen's Retreat—This annual event of the fall will take place at Camp Perrot from September 17 to 18, leaving the Y.M.C.A. at 2 p.m. on Saturday. This is one of the main program planning events, for at this time members discuss the whole of the coming program and make specific plans for the activities in which they are most interested. The program is being planned by a committee of the members themselves, consisting of Inglis Edwards, Allan Oldfield and Jim Kennedy.

Tuesday Trip — On the 13th, which is next Tuesday, members and their friends will try out their hand and eye at bowling. This is a pre-season workout, and we are sure that a large number will be there. In order for us to book the necessary alleys, we would like to know your intention of joining us by Saturday. The place of meeting is the Y.M.C.A.; the time of meeting, 7:30 p.m. Games will be played at the Snowdon Alleys on Queen Mary Road.

Music Appreciation — Members of last year's group are planning to get an immediate start, and will meet on Thursday, September 15, at 8:15 p.m. This meeting will take the form of a business as well as a listening evening. Lorne Hunter, chairman of the group, will be in charge of the program.

Bridge Club — The Bridge Club will be meeting as usual on Monday evenings, with an increased attendance which the cooler weather is causing. If you are interested in receiving elementary instruction and in playing the game whilst meeting and making new friends, you will find this group to be the one to which you will wish to belong.

Last, but by no means least, is the news of the social dances which now take place on Friday evenings at 9 p.m. Everyone is commenting on the fine new floor which has been laid in the assembly hall, and also on the pleasing effect of the new decorations. Here is your opportunity to meet members from all the various activities which take place within our "Y" program.

Don't forget, the invitation still stands for you to make your personal enquiries by dropping in to see the Program Secretary or calling him at EL. 1106.

BOYS' DIVISION

Camp Westmount Official Closing—Camp Westmount, the Westmount Y.M.C.A. city camp, held its official closing last Thursday night, September 1, at the Westmount "Y". Nearly 100 boys and their parents attended the closing festivities. Included in the program was an enthusiastic floor hockey game, a swimming demonstration, and aquatic games put on by the campers. During the latter part of the evening, awards and cards were presented by Mr. J. G. Atkinson, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee. The following were presented with Junior Beginner's Swimming Certificates: Howard Wiggett, Jimmy Atkinson, Bruce Jones, Robert Thomas. Those receiving their First Card were: Jimmy Atkinson, Brian Patterson, Tony Patterson, Walter Thompson, Drasko Bubalo, John Reed, Charles Casey, Gerald Arich; Second Card: Tony Patterson, Charles Casey, Robert Matthews; Third Card: Tony Patterson; and Fourth Card: Stuart Decary, David Taylor.

This ended a very successful city camp, and congratulations were extended to Mr. Bill Johnstone, the city camp director, who all agree did an outstanding job in guiding the camp for the summer. All campers are looking forward to returning to Camp Westmount 1950.

The boys and girls Hi-Y clubs of the City of Montreal are holding their annual conference at Camp Otoreke on the week-end of the 24th and 25th of September. Representing the Westmount Y.M.C.A. club at the conference will be Mr. Richard Swan, president, Mr. John Vipond, vice-president, and Mr. Paul Arnold, secretary. Plans for the fall program are well under way, and the junior and senior Hi-Y clubs, the Trianglettes and the Teenage Club are holding their opening meetings within the next two weeks. The gym classes and hobby groups will be commencing towards the end of the month. There is swimming every afternoon from 4:00 to 4:30 for the Juniors and 4:30 to 5:00 for the Intermediates and Seniors.

The big event being looked forward to by the Leaders Corps and the executives of the various clubs is the week-end of October 17 and 18 at Camp Perrot. The group will be leaving the Westmount "Y" on Saturday afternoon, and the program for the week-end will include an informal dance at Camp Perrot on Saturday night, chapel service on Sunday morning, as well as the swimming, sports, etc., which the Camp has to offer. So all those keymen and ladies are asked to bring their blankets, a good appetite, and some good ideas for the coming year.

Women first appeared as professional dancers on the French stage in the 17th century.

The Pillar

FOR NICOTINE ADDICTS

The Mastercraft Pipe Company, whose products are smoked by none other than Harry Lillis Crosby, have brought out an informative little booklet about pipes which they entitle "Did You Know!" The punctuation is theirs, not mine.

The Mastercraft people want to know if you know that pipe smoking may have started for religious reasons. Seems that in pre-historic times, tribal priests, in the performance of ceremonial rituals, burned herbs and gums, and they learned, by preparing various concoctions, a perfumed smoke was given off. (The original rum and maple, no doubt.) This eventually led to the custom of burning incense. Later they attempted to inhale the incense smoke through tubular plant stems. As far as is known, this was the earliest "pipe smoking."

Hippocrates, the famous Greek physician who lived during the Peloponnesian Wars (431-404 B.C.), prescribed the inhalation of smoke to cure certain diseases.

The word nicotine came from Jean Nicot, a Frenchman who lived during the sixteenth century. He visited the French embassy in Lisbon and while there, he was told about tobacco by sea-captains returning from the newly discovered Americas. He planted some of the tobacco seeds given him in Embassy gardens, and when the plants blossomed, he sent the new seeds to his friends for medical use.

American Indians smoked two pipes — a pipe of peace, and a pipe of war.

Sir Walter Raleigh, after whom a middling good tobacco has been named, set the fashion for pipe smoking in England in the year 1586. After that the custom spread through Europe.

Most governments opposed pipe smoking until the Republic of Venice, in 1626, levied a tax on tobacco, and other governments, starting to tax tobacco, lifted their opposition.

Pipe smoking was usually a ceremonial tribal custom. In Africa, in Central, South and North America, the various tribes gathered for pipe smoking ceremonies. The connection between ceremonial pipe smoking by American Indians and the African tribesmen may trace the origin of American Indians to Africa.

It has taken at least a thousand years, commencing with the pipes of the early American Indian, to bring the fine art of pipe smoking to its present day perfection.

Briar was discovered and first used for pipes during Napoleon's time. No other material equals it for pipes.

CHOOSING A PIPE

In choosing a pipe the Mastercraft people suggest that you handle it to judge its weight and balance. It should not be too heavy for mouth comfort — its balance should show that the weeight is so evenly distributed that holding it in your mouth, or between your teeth, no leverage will be exerted.

Look for correct proportions in the shape of bowl and stem and for delicate beauty in the grain.

Look for the hand-rubbed finish of the fine briar — the gracefully cut bit that is made especially for the pipe it is fitted to.

And then, remember the words of Tobias Hume, an English gentleman who died in the year 1645 and who wrote:

Tobacco, tobacco, sing sweetly for tobacco!
Tobacco is like love, oh love it;
For you see, I will prove it.
Love maketh lean the fat man's

Mrs. A. Stikeman Announces CSPCA Tag Day Sept. 24

Mrs. A. T. Stikeman, President of the Canadian Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, announces that a tag day will be held on Saturday, September 24.

In making the announcement, Mrs. Stikeman stated that this organization has been in operation for eighty years and that the C. S.P.C.A. has proved itself to be an essential part of the humanitarian service of the community.

Mrs. Stikeman, who resides at 4250 Sherbrooke Street, W., added that the Montreal Headquarters maintains a staff of twelve, and operates a free clinic, staffed by volunteer workers.

Last year the C.S.P.C.A. raised $7,846 through a tag day. Because of the increasing number of demands made on it for assistance and guidance in the prevention of cruelty to animals, Mrs. Stikeman says it is necessary that this year the figure be at least doubled. The proceeds from this tag day are of vital importance to

Vernon F. McAdam Tells Of Need For Boys' Clubs

Vernon F. McAdam, Executive Director Boys' Clubs of Canada, speaking to Montreal Westward Rotarians at Montreal West Town Hall, definitely outlined "What Is A Boys' Club" to the intense interest of members. Well known worker amongst boys in Montreal and Secretary-Manager of Weredale House, Mr. McAdam was introduced by J. Gordon Herron. Pointing out why every Canadian community needs a Boys' Club, Mr. McAdam said that throughout the nation, in every community, large and small, there are hundreds and often thousands of boys who must find recreation and companionship in the streets, where they form gangs and follow the wrong leaders, and do the wrong things.

These are boys who become delinquent and develop wrong attitudes and these are the boys with whom the Boys' Club is especially concerned, the speaker said. Since 1943 there has been a 50 per cent increase in juvenile delinquency, he stated, quoting figures of 6,000 as against 4,100 in that year.

He revealed the interest of Service Clubs in Boys' Work and as one example told of the interest of Westmount Rotarians in the Unity Boys' Club project while Club premises are promised for erection in the near future on Greene avenue.

Why Clubs Needed

Citing reasons why Boys' Clubs are needed, the speaker suggested among others the need to provide everyday leadership and guidance in behaviour and attitude; to give boys opportunities to discovevr vocational skills and aptitudes; to guide choice of vocation; and to combat delinquency and subversive forces, in other words, to build good citizens.

Mr. McAdam further pointed out unique features about Boys' Clubs. He revealed that they are non-sectarian in control and leadership while activities are carried on by paid, trained leaders and competent instructors and varied programs are carried to attract boys of differing inclinations and interests.

The speaker also outlined minimum requirements of a Boys' Club and told how Boys' Clubs were successfully established. He said that while it was essential for Service Club to get behind such projects as forming Clubs for Boys he felt that such Service Clubs should not be encumbered by continuous support and responsibility for them, but that rather it should eventually become a responsibility of the community.

Mr. McAdam praised the efforts of Service Clubs in general for support of Boys' Work and concluded by saying he knew the measures he stressed were understood and appreciated by Service Club members.

Reading Not Only Looking at Words Study Needed to Aid The Retarded

By MRS. M. T. HESLAM

In this age of quick motion and speed there is no need to explain how important it is to be able to read fluently, and with understanding. Right thoughts developed into words, and real truths brought about by critical reading are better tools than guns and bombs for accomplishing the world's great tasks.

How many of us as well as the rising generation are critical readers; or are we content to read our newspaper, a popular magazine or two and an occasional light novel and let it go at that? In the United States Dr. Frances Triggs wrote in 1943 that "only about one fourth of the American people read books of any kind and those who read non-fiction are a distressingly small proportion of that quarter".

Individual Differences . .

How can this be accounted for? There are great individual differences in reading ability just as there are great individual differences in the ability to become a musician or an expert golfer. Reading is a tool, not a subject and so just as we develop through practising certain techniques, so as to become musicians or an expert golfer, so can we become efficient in reading. A child is not born with the capacity or ability to read. Capacity for reading comes with the maturity of certain functions and maturity means sheer growing up, plus training. Some people mature, others just grow older. That is why some adults are unable to tackle anything beyond the lightest materials in reading. It is not necessarily because they are unintelligent nor mentally lazy, but often because they were never taught the techniques of mature reading.

Reading is a set of mechanical and perceptual habits and more than that it is an interpretive process. The eyes do not do the work. They merely bring in the sensation set up by the printed word inside the brain, and not until the brain gets an answer and interprets it does the student really see to read — or does he really read. Eyes sweep over the page like graceful dancers on a perfectly waxed floor. But that is more than muscular achievement. It means definite coordination within the brain. So the central nervous system is the master key to the ultimate goal of reading instruction.

When a student is unable to give meaning to what he reads he is academically ill and remedial and corrective work is required, for most of these patients are normal or superior in intelligence.

There are two kinds of reading difficulties, specific and general. The specific shows that the child is low in one or two reading skills. These students can be adequately analysed, the difficulties identified and proper remedial measures applied. But when we find a general reading difficulty, we have a severely disabled reader. There is confusion, lack of basicc and elemental skills. Then too emotions have contributed to attitudes which are detrimental to the learning process. Once a child has failed to learn to read, an emotional problem has been created and this is the biggest obstacle to overcome in remedial work, for undesirable acquired attitudes come to the surface. This deep seated feeling that he cannot learn to read, may change to rationalization that he does not want to read and so this problem that appeared at the beginning as a strictly pedagogical one is much more complex. It is psychological and cannot be remedied by schoolroom procedure alone. These serious difficulties are a peculiar combination of circumstances. No one cause, and no one remedy dominates.

No Single Method

There is no one best way of teaching reading and it is unlikely research will ever discover a single method which will be most efficient for all, for there is no simple solution of providing for individual difference in reading ability. Some children cannot profit by auditory training; others have visual disabilities, and even the first year at school may be hampered because of the enormous differences in pre-school training.

We must do all we can for the disabled reader and we must do more than that. We must work beyond the remedial or corrective stage. We must pass beyond analysing symptoms and be more concerned with causes of reading disabilities. Intelligent insight must displace snap-judgment and we must be more alert to prevention rather than cure.

The readers of today will be our leaders of to-morrow. They are the hope of the future, for on them rest the opinions and decisions that they will make in their critical reading.

Sentenced Monday

R. Gosselin, 27, of no given address, was arrested by Westmount police yesterday morning on a warrant charging attempted theft of a motor car belonging to an American tourist.

Appearing before Recorder C. A. Hale later in the day, he entered a plea of guilty and was remanded until September 12 for sentence.

AN ANCIENT MANSION

The history of Petworth House, the magnificent mansion which stands near Midhurst, Sussex, in Southern England, is linked with the Duke of Somerset.

The Duke, who acquired Petworth, along with other fine properties through his alliance with Lady Percy, immediately had the Elizabethan house which stood there demolished and built a palatial mansion in its place. It stands there still, a long rectangle of freestone with Portland stone dressings.

Dorothy Davis-Violet Walters Return From C. T. Convention

The directors of Montreal Children's Theatre, Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters have returned from New York where they attended the Children's Theatre Convention at the Belmont Plaza Hotel in New York.

The Children's Theatre convention afforded children's theatre workers the opportunity of evaluating developments and techniques in every phase of children's theatre work, — acting, broadcasting, television as well as scripts which should be used for children's theatre work. About 300 delegates from 48 states, plus Hawaii, the Phillipines, Alaska, India, Ireland and Canada attended the session, and Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters, the Canadian delegates from the Montreal Children's Theatre, whose excellent activities are so well-known throughout Canada and the States, were delighted to have been invited to attend this stimulating convention.

The north and west-end studios of the Montreal Children's Theatre reopens shortly for the new season and registration commences next Monday, September 12th.

Dorothy Davis and Violet Walters spent some time in New York with Claire Tree Major of Children's Theatre fame, and arrangements have been made that talented pupils of the Children's Theatre who have completed their training here, can be auditioned at the National Academy of Dramatic Art by Mrs. Major.

A very ambitious programme is planned by the Montreal Children's Theatre for the coming season, and classes are now being formed for juniors, intermediates and seniors for diction, deportment, stage and radio work.

MRT Prepares For New Season

The Montreal Repertory Theatre is currently preparing for the opening of its season with a first major production scheduled for October. The popular Guy Street Playhouse has echoed all summer, stripped of carpets and hangings while painters worked to renovate the interior.

The season will open with Arthur Wing Pinero's poppular comedy, "Trelawny of the Wells", to be directed by Charles Rittenhouse.

The studio, MRT's intimate theatre which presents unusual and experimental plays as well as first productions of new plays of merit by Canadian authors, will give three performances during the year.

The MRT has announced that the year's membership lists are not yet filled, and applications may be made.

BACK TO STAGE

Dan Duryea has been reading stage scripts. On the stage prior to being brought to Hollywood, where his latest film is "Manhandled" for Paramount, Duryea is anxious to return to Broadway.

SAFETY FOR THE ASKING

Medical science has placed the opportunity to protect their children against smallpox, whooping cough and diphtheria into the hands of Canadian parents. Immunization is the only safe, sure way to prevent these diseases. Immunization is painless. Immunization is available to everyone. Don't neglect to protect YOUR child. Your provincial or local health department will tell you where your child may be immunized free of charge.

"Nepotism" means favoritism to relatives.

NAVY LEAGUE — BOON TO CANADIAN YOUTH

Joseph C. Moore, of the Navy League of Canada, reminds us that the League will shortly begin its annual membership campaign, and he appeals for widespread support of the campaign. "The Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps offer a medium of youth training not duplicated by any other organization," he stated in a recent broadcast. "Throughout the winter months corps members are given an interesting programme of training and recreation aimed at the building of better citizens. During the summer each cadet receives two weeks at camp — without charge — where he is given an opportunity to put into practice the things he has learned during the previous winter. And I should like to add just a word or two more to dispell the uncertainty which exists in the minds of some with regard to this training. Membership in a Sea Cadet Corps does not obligate a boy to join The Navy, the merchant navy or any other organization. Should he desire upon attaining 18 years of age, to make seafaring his career, he will discover that his Sea Cadet training will stand him in good stead. But the choice is entirely his own. The aim of The Navy League of Canada in sponsoring Sea Cadet Corps is to inculcate a healthy regard for those values which we, the democratic peoples of the world, consider worthy — values such as self-respect, toleration, self-reliance, respect for authority, initiative, which will enable a man to command respect and give a good account of himself in whatever walk of life he may choose."

ELEANOR BEGINS XMAS SHOPPING

"I began my Christmas shopping yesterday," writes Eleanor Roosevelt. "One really can have quite a Christmas spirit about it in the month of August. It is so far away there isn't the least hurry and one can enjoy the choice of each article. If I have to be at work in the United Nations General Assembly from September 20th on, however, it is as well to do all the personal things I can now!"

So What?

IX

By Rev. Canon R. Kenneth Naylor,
Rector of Trinity Memorial Church.

There is a mild, diffused form of Christianity about with which many people are inoculated to such a degree that they think they have the real thing. The ingredients of this mild form are a combination of the Ten Commandments, the Beatitudes and the Golden Rule, and the self-assurance that I never do anybody any harm, or at least, I am no worse than my neighbour. Inoculated with this we do not take time to consider what Christianity really is.

To St. Paul to be a Christian was to be in Christ; to be so united to Christ "I no longer live but Christ liveth in me"; to feel that to depart and to be with Christ "were very far better"; to live rejoicing in Christ even though one were in prison for Christ's sake. St. Paul knew and observed the Commandments and thought of them as very secondary; he probably knew the Golden Rule, because in its negative form at least it was a common saying; probably he did not know the Sermon on the Mount.

How did he come by his Christian faith? He had seen Christ and knew Him to be alive. He knew that Christ had been crucified by His enemies, that He had died on the Cross. But he knew also that that was not the end of the story. He knew by his own experience that that same Jesus was alive again, that God had raised Him from the dead, that "He was declared Son of God with power by the resurrection from the dead." "Son of God with power." He brought with Him from the dead the powers of the world to come, and bestowed them upon His Church. To be a Christian, to be in Christ, is to share in those powers.

St. Paul knew that it was the Death of Christ that took away the sins of the believer — but it was the Resurrection that gave the believer power to live in that new life that Christ opened up to him.

Our emotions lead us to emphasize the Nativity of Christ. It is a lovely way to approach the sanctity of family life — it is the beginning of the greatest human family. Christmas is the festival of the family and the home. But the family is made up of individuals, and each one of them is a sinner, and each one requires salvation, and it is by way of the Cross that salvation comes to each individual in the home; and it is through the Resurrection that we get the power to use that salvation.

So while Christmas may be the festival of the home, Easter is the greatest festival of all for the whole Christian family. Without Easter, i.e., without the Resurrection, there is no salvation, for "if Christ be not raised your faith is vain; ye are yet in your sins."

If then we ask what it means to us in our everyday life to say that "On the third day He rose again from the dead" the answer lies in two words, "power" and "assurance." "I believe" is the key that unlocks the door and lets us into the presence of Christ, that makes us free of the "powers of the world to come." Curiously enough it is also the outward sign that gives us the inward assurance that these things are so.

The unbeliever stands outside and is quite unable to know the treasures of power and assurance that are within, but he who has entered into that stronghold is a new man, for "he knows whom he has believed."

Christian Science

"Substance" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from 1 Corinthians 2: 9, 10. "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him. But God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:— "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be forever; nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it: and God doeth it, that men should fear before him. That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past." (Ecclesiastes 3: 14 and 15.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:—

"Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. God's thoughts are perfect and eternal, are substance and Life. We define matter as error, because it is opposite of life, substance and intelligence. Matter, with its mortality, cannot be substantial if Spirit is substantial and eternal. Which ought to be substance to us—the erring, changing and dying, the mutable and mortal, or the unerring, immutable and immortal?" (Pages 468, 286, 278.)

Westmount Baptist

To teach the Art of Christian Living. This is the task which Christ has entrusted to the Christian Church. With this goal in view, Westmount Baptist Church gives itself to the task of the fall and winter. Dr. J. A. Johnston, who has been convalescing, has now resumed his Ministry and will preach at both services on Sunday, September 11th.

At the morning service the theme will be "He'll Walk Beside You". The fact of Christ's abiding presence is one of the things that makes a Christian life possible. When Jesus said "Lo! I am with you always' He meant exactly what He said. In the practice of the Presence of this Person each of us may find the secret of successful, progressive living.

At the evening service Dr. Johnston will have as his theme "The Drive of Desperation". In many cases in the New Testament it was the fact that they were desperate that drove men to Christ. This is illustrated in the particular case of one man who, taking his courage in both hands, literally confronted Christ with a challenge that he could not, would not and did not evade.

The Church Bible School resumes its sessions on Sunday. The Young People's Union, many of whose members have just returned from camp, is already geared for action. The Hour of Christian Fellowship is held each Wednesday at 8 p.m. and is under the direction of the Minister.

Church of the Advent

"The Garden of God." Ezekiel XXXI 8.

Dear People:

By our Dedication Festival we honor the Catholic Church as a whole, and our own little bit of it, that is, our Parish.

The Church of God's Garden. The flowers of the Garden are people, human beings: we were planted in God's Garden, when we were Baptized. Christ Himself is the Sunshine of the Garden, and the Holy Spirit is the Fresh Air we breathe. The Grace of God is like the Dew; the Lord's Supper provides our Nourishment; Confirmation gives us Power. By the Ministry we are tended and guided.

In an earthly garden there is much variety in kind and color: so in the Church. God likes variety: in His Garden people vary in intellect, temperament, talent, stature and color. No one may boast of superiority, or indulge in envy. Imagine roses of different colors refusing to associate! Equally silly, and indeed downright wicked, is it for people of different colors to ridicule and malign each other.

The beauty and richness of God's Garden are for ever being enhanced by the intermingling of people of varied tradition, intellect and color; and there should be no clashing, because God has made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the whole earth. (Acts XVII 26.)

His Blessing be upon you.

Sincerely,
Sydenham B. Lindsay
John W. Kerr

C.P.R. Fish Story Not Too Fishy

Here's a fish story — 532 pounds worth in fact, and the fellow who caught the fish still can't believe it himself. Bob Hager, of New York, walked into the Canadian Pacific Railway Tourist Bureau at Montreal recently and announced that he wanted to go tuna fishing, a sport he had not tried up until then. Sent down to Yarmouth that afternoon, Hager was in a boat and out fishing the next afternoon.

His bait had hardly entered the turbulant waters of Soldier's Rip when a vicious strike signified — Tuna!

A bitter 80-minute struggle ensued until the 532 pound denizen of the deep, once monarch of its watery domain around Soldier's Rip, rested lifeless on the deck of the sport cruiser.

No one was more surprised than Mr. Hager, who maintains he has pictures to prove it.

Mankind has been provided by medical science with the tools which can eradicate certain communicable diseases. A death from smallpox today means neglect of vaccination. The person who dies of diphtheria has not been adequately immunized. The baby lost through whooping cough has very likely received no vaccine protection.

BONNETT - STANIFORTH

White gladioli and candles in candelabra were used to decorate Dominion Douglas Church, Westmount, for the marriage of Joan Dewar, daughter of Mr. Sydney J. The Misses Joan Erzinger and Patsy Scott, as bridesmaids, wore frocks of sandalwood crepe with bodice having off-the-shoulder necklines and three-quarter length sleeves and very full skirts. Stuttering Isn't Funny

"We have a new boy at school, Mom. You ought to hear him talk."

"Oh? What his name?"

"Sam The boys call him 'Stuttering Sam.' He talks like this: 'C-c-c-c-catch the b-b-b-b-ball.' "

'Are you being good friends with him, Billy?" Mother asked.

"Yes, of course; only he's so funny. You ask him a question during a ball game, and by the time he gets around to answering, it's your turn to bat, or something."

"Billy, I wonder if you know how serious this is. You have been laughing at the way Sam talks, but, instead you must help him — waiting to hear what he wants to say is very important."

Billy looked at his mother in wonder. This had started out to be only a joke for Mother, about Sam. Billy was rather proud of the way he could imitate Sam's stuttering.

"How do you know we ought to wait for him to talk, Mother?" he asked. "Maybe he'll speed up if we don't — well, baby him."

"Experts who have watched such boys have found that waiting to learn what they want to say helps them. Can Sam play ball?"

"Yes; he's pretty good."

"Why not tell him so? It makes you feel encouraged to know people think you do things well."

"Oh — all right."

"I went to school with a boy who stuttered. His name was Harry."

"Was he — pretty bad?"

"Yes. We used to call him 'Ha-Ha-Ha-Harry.' We laughed at him, and some of the children mocked him. I didn't, because I was such a bashful little girl; but I often think how much kinder we might have been. We knew it might hurt Harry's feelings, but we didn't know it might keep him from talking better."

"Will Sam always stutter?"

"I don't think so. I hope not. Those who have made a special study of the difficulty know so much more about stuttering than they used to. Some specialist may already be working with Sam's parents to find out what causes his speech trouble. It is quite possible that he will go away to another school where they can help him more."

"Cousin Sandra used to say 'tat' for 'cat.' But she can say it all right now," commented Billy.

"Yes, but that was baby talk. Aunt Sue just kept repeating words correctly for her and helping her to hear them correctly pronounced until she talked plainly. You used to say 'wun' for 'run,' yourself."

"Did I?" Billy's tone showed disbelief.

"You certainly did — all the time. We thought it was cute at first and let you go on saying it when we should have corrected you."

"I'm glad I was cured without having to go to a special school, or anything like that."

"So am I, Son. Yours wasn't a serious difficulty. Many little boys and girls — boys especially — have trouble in learning to talk properly. But almost all can learn if they have help."

"I don't know how I could help Sam."

"Being kind to him is one way, I'm certain of that, and waiting for him to finish what he is saying is another. Take time to listen."

"I'll try, Mom."

Though it's been in the headlines for days, the weather report is hotter news than ever.

The Better Way

SITUATION: You really want a person to visit you.

WRONG WAY: Say, "I wish you'd come to see me sometime."

RIGHT WAY: Be more definite in your invitation.

In Furniture Field Plywoods Lower Costs

The use of plywoods has helped lower costs of furniture so that some of the best craftsmanship in the furniture industry today is expressed in furniture that is not sky-high in price.

This — added to the fortunate fact that today's natural finishes are less expensive and less detailed to process than the highly glossed dark woods or bleached woods — and the fact that other low-priced materials, like caning, are used in conjunction with them are like "fair weather" reports ahead for those who will be looking for furniture for their homes.

Let's Eat

By IDA BAILEY ALLEN

"Pardon, madame," said the chef. "What is this calorie?"

"A calorie (or calory) is really a measure of a unit of heat. Food is the source of energy for the body. And the amount of food needed to create the necessary energy is measured in terms of calories."

"Aha, now I understand. Do we need to eat as many calories in warm weather as when it is cold?"

"No, chef. Unless a person is doing heavy labor it is much better to eat about a fourth less high calory foods during the heat."

Fresh Vegetables

"I should think then, it would be better to eat more fresh vegetables and fruits, and nice salads."

"That's right, chef. For the fruits and vegetables are bulky and help to fill up the stomach. Otherwise one is likely to feel hungry. But it isn't a good plan to use much oil or mayonnaise on the salads. For these are both fats, and fats produce a great deal of heat. That is why they are called high energy or fuel foods. Sugar is also high in calories. A single tablespoonful, or three teaspoonfuls, is about 50 calories. Most of us use far too much sugar in sweetening our beverages and cereals, and in cooking. And almost all canned fruits and many commercial foods are unnecessarily sweet."

"And what about bread?"

Cereals Are Starches

"Bread and cereals are starches, and we need a reasonable quantity of both each day. A slice or two of bread at a meal is sufficient for most people."

"Are there any calories in vitamins and minerals, madame?"

"No, chef, they are agents which activate the body processes and so cause food to be utilized by the body. Many persons are not getting enough vitamins and minerals. Most of the foods lowest in calories are highest in vitamins. For instance, a handful of leafy vegetables contain only a few calories or energy units, but is a potent source of vitamins and minerals."

Tomorrow's Dinner

Jelled Vegetable Bouillon
Smoked Tenderloin
Horse-radish Mustard
Parslied Potatoes
Quick Cabbage Slices
Blueberry Flan
Coffee or Tea Milk (Children)
Include enriched bread or rolls with butter.

Jelled Vegetable Bouillon

Soften 1 envelope unflavored gelatin 5 min. in ¼ c. tomato juice, and dissolve over hot water. Add 2 envelopes broth powder and 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce. Stir in ½ c. of the liquid drained from boiled green lima beans. When smooth add 1½ c. additional lima bean liquid. Add ½ c. cooked green lima beans and ½ tbsp. minced parsley. Transfer to a refrigerator dish; cover and chill until jelled, about 4 hrs. Serve in bouillon cups, with or without a garnish of soured cream and minced parsley.

Blueberry Flan

This consists of two parts: A "pie-cake" crust and blueberry filling. Prepare once the recipe for pie cake crust and roll to ⅛-in. thickness. Fit into a 7 x 11-inch shallow cake pan. Bring up to the top as in making a pie-crust shell. Then prepare the filling, using fresh blueberries, if obtainable; or use 1 pkg. quick-frozen blueberries, or one (No. 2) can blueberries, or 1 pt. jar home-canned blueberries. If frozen blueberries are used, add ½ c. water. In any case bring to boiling point. Add ½ c. sugar or enough to make quite sweet. Combine 2 tbsp. cornstarch with ½ c. apple or other fruit juice or use water; and stir into the boiling berries. Add ⅛ tsp. salt and cook and stir 2 min. Transfer to the lined pan and bake 20-25 min, in a hot oven, 425 F. Cool. Cut in squares. Serve plain, or top sparingly with sweetened whipped cream or with ½ tbsp. vanilla ice cream.

Pie Cake Pastry

Into a bowl sift 2 c. enriched flour, ½ c. powdered sugar and ⅓ tsp. salt. Heap up to make a "well" in the centre. Into this put the grated rind one-half lemon, 2 egg yolks, and ¾ c. vegetable shortening or ⅔ c. lard. Chop with a pastry blender until the shortening is distributed in flakes the size of bran. Gradually stir in 6 tbsp. cold water; then roll and use as directed.

Trick of the Chef

For unusual flavor add ½ tsp. powdered ginger to the blueberries when making the flan.

Well-Oiled

Purrs like a kitten our sewing machine does! We followed the instruction booklet as we opened the head, cleaned it out with hat pin and cloth, squirted it with cleaning fluid, then brushed it and finally oiled the exact places with sewing machine oil. There is a caution note in the book which reads, "Never oil the tension. Operate the machine to work oil thoroughly into the bearings. Wipe excess oil from all parts."

Joan's CHATTER

To brighten copperware, a little crushed borax, if sprinkled thickly on a flannel cloth that is wet with hot water and well soaked, will brighten the copper like magic.

My friend Mrs. Jones has just waved Good Morning to her departing family and she returns to her house. Her mind is teaming with all their little problems and she knows they'll be back on schedule for lunch. In the meantime there are many chores to be done. Yes, Sir! She had better step — but wait. Mrs. Jones never thinks of tackling her day without that extra cup of COFFEE — that pepper-upper when she gathers herself together. I happened to be passing one day at this time and she insisted on me joining her. It was one of the most delicious cups of COFFEE I have ever had. — BOKAR, and it's been my brand ever since. It is certainly stimulating with that winey, vigorous flavour. Mrs. Jones says she always has that extra cup as her whole family does when they're all home o nSundays. Sometimes alternating with A&P's other equally fine RED CIRCLE, rich and full bodied, or 8 O'CLOCK, mild and mellow—all custom ground at your neighbourhood Store. Exquisite Finery

Here is one of the distinctive shops that make Montreal beloved. It is both smart and intimate, like entering a charming living room with chintz covered chesterfields, coffee tables with ash trays, pretty pictures and prints on the walls and cosy mushroom shaped lamps. MARJORIE BECK makes lingerie to order — your exact size — your taste and ideas or she will design especially for you. You might find something already for you from the stock, every stitch hand-made, from which to help select your style. Unobtrusively at the back of the room are cupboards housing it. Listen to this, Ladies! Share my enthusiasm for such exquisite beauty — only pure silks are used and the loveliest of lovely laces! One powder blue négligée and nightgown were brought out for my attention, made of sheer with satin appliqués on net of flowers and leaves and touches of embroidery. It closed with a tiny self covered button at the neck and again at the waist. The waist was gathered and Princess fitting; another of pure silk satin, Empire style, with dark Alençon lace encrustations and cap sleeves, with sweetly designed hemline and a matching slip. The infinitesimal, detailed work called for "oohs!" and "ahs!" There were others, all very fetching, such as the girlish buttercup yellow, and some extremely smart black pan-velvet lounging pyjamas with a checked brick coloured blouse and lining. MARJORIE BECK specializes in awkward sizes not to be found elsewhere. There is a plentiful supply of darling little French panties of pure crêpe, two Bridal sets, though a number "on order" for Autumn Brides, slips, nighties and pyjamas — should you dash in, in a hurry for something exclusively yours. A large picture window proclaims the shop and looks so inviting at 1468 Drummond Street — MARJORIE BECK, HA. 1141 — just as inviting and delightful as you will find its owner.

Now's The Season For Cabbage Delicious Eating At Low Cost

Cabbage, now plentiful in the market, served hot or cold makes delicious eating at low cost. You can serve it raw in any number of ways. From the old standby, cole slaw, to modern shredded cabbage aspic creations there are hundreds of combination using raw cabbage — with other vegetables, with fruits, raisins, nuts and various salad dressings.

Tender, succulent cooked cabbage satisfies hearty appetites in such tasty dishes as stuffed cabbage, cabbage soup, baked creamed cabbage and cabbage in tomato sauce. Something for the cook to remember in the preparation of cabbage is not to overlook it. If overcooked, fresh cabbage loses its delicate flavor and turns an unsightly color.

Shred fresh cabbage or cut it in thin wedges and cook in salted water only until tender. This may take from seven to 15 minutes, depending on the type of cabbage. Then drain and dress with melted butter and pepper, or a light cream sauce.

Trends in scarfs must be co-ordinated with the all-over fashion picture such as stoles and shawls for bareshoulder evening gowns and resort sundresses as well as smaller prints in muted tones for feminine fashions. Scarf theme of gold and dark tones will carry out the metallics influence this year..

Boiled Chinese Cabbage

This milk-flavored member of the cabbage family comes in a between a head of romaine and a long head that looks like a cross bunch of celery. Tie the leaves tightly into place at intervals of one inch. Slice crosswise with a sharp knife halfway between the strings. Carefully drop the tied rolls of cabbage leaves into boiling salted water, and simmer gently until the leaves are tender, about seven minutes. Lift gently from water with a pancake turner, drain and place on a hot platter. Remove the strings, dust with pepper and pour melted butter over the rolls and serve at once.

Russian Cabbage Soup

1 cup shredded raw beets
1 cup minced onion
1 cup shredded cabbage
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup heavy sour cream
Pinch marjoram
½ cup minced raw carrots
4 cups hot meat stock
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon lemon juice
4 whole cloves

Add the beets, carrots and onion to the meat stock, cover and simmer 30 minutes. Add the cabbage and tomatoes with the seasonings and simmer 20 minutes. longer. Add lemon juice and garnish each serving with a spoonful of sour cream. Serves six. (If it is to be served as a main dish, double the recipe.)

Cabbage-Beet Salad

Make a cole slaw from finely shredded green cabbage and add enough finely shredded green pepper and radishes to add color. Marinate in a well-seasoned French dressing and serve with crisp lettuce leaves on individual salad plates. With a French cutter, cut small balls from pickled beets and use as a garnish.

Cabbage in Tomato Sauce

Saute one small onion in two tablespoons fat or oil until soft but not brown. Add one cup canned tomatoes and a dash of pepper. Add one medium-sized head of cabbage, chopped. Cook until cabbage is tender. Add salt to taste. Stir once or twice during cooking period. Serves six.

A tablespoon of dry mustard and a little cold water deodorizes bottles. Repeat, if necessary, or let the mixture stand awhile, then rinse. Dry mustard also deodorizes silver, pans, dishes and one's hands after handling fish. Sinks and drains get sweet and clean after sprinkling with borax.

Lilian Kert Cornfeld To Address West-End Chapters Of Hadassah

Lilian Kert Cornfeld, of Tel-Aviv, Israel, who will address a joint meeting of all westend Chapters of Hadassah on Monday. Pictured with Mrs. Cornfeld is her son, Givon Cornfeld, of the Israeli Air Force.

Lilian Kert Cornfeld, of Tel-Aviv, Israel, a former Montrealer who has been visiting here since May, will address a joint meeting of all West-end Chapters of Hadassah at the Shaar Zion Community Hall — 5575 Cote St. Luc Road — on Monday, September 12th, at 8:30 P.M.

The subject of her address will be "Art, Culture and Education in Israel and the Part Played by Women in these fields".

Mrs. Cornfeld, who is a nutritionist and teacher, has lived in Israel since 1922 and is well qualified to touch on the problems facing the Israeli economy as well as the opportunities afforded today.

When UNRA was established in the Middle East, she became its chief dietitian and was placed in charge of twenty kitchens, which fed 35,000 refugees each day. With the creation of the State of Israel, Lilian Cornfeld went to the front with the Israeli troops and organized the feeding of soldiers in the Negev. During World War Two she acted as dietitian for the American Army and the American Red Cross in Israel.

Lilian Cornfeld has had a distinguished career as author of many leaflets and books on nutrition, and her works appear in German, Hebrew and English. Her most recent book, "The Palestine Cook Book" includes recipes from over 30 different countries and takes into account the requirements and conditions peculiar to Israel. It is written in Hebrew and contains over 1,600 different recipes.

On her return to Israel Mrs. Cornfeld will be asociated with the Satayar Tourist Camp Project, which is Government-backed and promises to be of the main industries of Israel — bringing currency to the country and providing employment. The project will fill an urgent need, as 50,000 tourists are expected this coming year and it promises to imbue the entire Tourist Industry with a new character according to the Economic Department of the Jewish Agency.

Mrs. A. Slavouski, President of the Shaar Hashomayin Chapter of Hadassah, will preside at this rally.

Follow Simple Method to Make Tasty Coffee

Do you make good coffee — strong, clear, fragrant coffee? A lot of otherwise excellent cooks don't. The reason? Too weak.

The basic rules for coffee making—that is, the rules that apply to every type of coffee maker—are simple. Here they are from the Pan-American Coffee Bureau:

1. Keep your coffee-maker sparkling clean, and scald it before using.
2. Start with fresh, cold water.
3. Allow one standard coffee measure (or its equivalent, two level measuring tablespoonfuls) of fresh coffee to each three-quarters of a measuring cup of freshly drawn water. For demi-tasse service, use one and a half as much coffee to the same amount of water.
4. Never boil coffee.
5. Be sure your coffee is the proper grind for your coffee-maker.
6. Serve coffee immediately after brewing — and serve it piping hot.

Drip coffee: To make good coffee in a drip coffee pot, first bring water to a full, rolling boil. Measure coffee carefully into the coffee basket. Then measure the exact amount of boiling water to allow three-quarters of a cup to each standard coffee measure of coffee. When the water has dripped through, remove the coffee basket and water container. Then — this is an important point — stir the hot coffee thoroughly to insure a brew of even strength.

Vacuum Coffee: For this type of brew, measure freshly drawn water into the lower bowl. Place over heat, and, while it is reaching the boiling point, insert the filter in the upper bowl. Then measure out the correct quantity of finely ground coffee. When the water boils, lower the heat and insert the upper bowl, stir the water and coffee briskly. After two or three minutes, remove the coffee-maker from the heat. When all the coffee has returned to the lower bowl, remove the upper section and serve. Keep cloth filters in water in the refrigerator between uses — never wash them with soap.

Percolator coffee should be treated gently: To get consistently good results with a percolator, first measure cold water accurately into the pot and place it on heat. When the water boils, remove it from the heat and then measure the proper amount of coffee into the basket. Cover, return to heat and allow it to percolate gently for six to eight minutes. That's all there is to it.

Remember, coffee should never be boiled. It may be kept hot by placing the coffee-maker on an asbestos mat over low heat.

Marshmallow Mixture — Mighty Fine Eating

If you go in for super desserts, then these marshmallow recipes are what you've been looking for:

Coconut Mallow Balls

One envelope unflavored gelatin, ⅓ cup cold water, ½ cup sugar, ⅔ cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 12 cupcakes, one-inch diameter, 2 cups shredded coconut.

Soften gelatin in cold water; place over boiling water and stir until dissolved. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat. Place corn syrup and vanilla in large bowl of electric mixer. Add gelatin and sugar mixture and beat on highest speed until mixture becomes thick and of soft marshmallow consistency, about 15 minutes. Measure 2 cups of the mallow mixture. (Reserve remainder for mallow ice cream sauce.) Dip cupcakes in mallow mixture and then roll in coconut.

Mallow Ice Cream Sauce

One 9-ounce can crushed pineapple, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, remaining mallow mixture (about 2 cups).

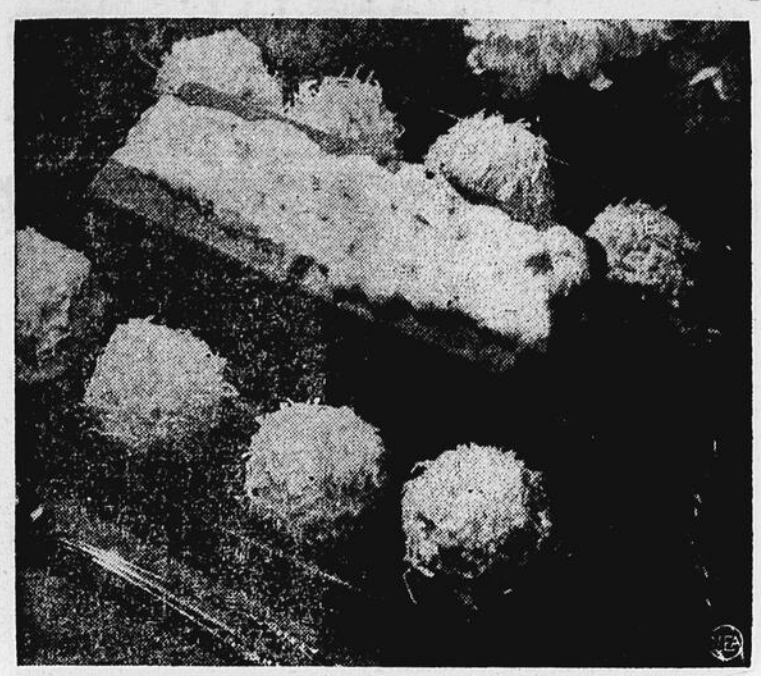
Add crushed pineapple and lemon juice to mallow mixture. Use as ice cream or cake frosting.

Apricot Mallow Pie

One cup dried apricots, 1 envelope gelatin, ⅓ cup cold water, ½ cup sugar, ⅔ cup light corn syrup, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup heavy cream, whipped, one 9-inch baked pastry shell.

Cover apricots with water and simmer slowly in covered pan until tender. If all water is not absorbed, uncover to evaporate liquid. Remove from heat and gelatin in cold water and stir until dissolved. Remove from heat.

Place corn syrup and vanilla in large bowl of electric mixer. Add gelatin and sugar mixture and beat on highest speed until mixture becomes thick and soft marshmallow consistency, about 15 minutes. Measure 2 cups of the mallow mixture; fold in mashed apricots and whipped cream. Turn into baked pastry shell. Chill in refrigerator 4 to 6 hours until firm.



DESSERT BOON—Chocolate ice cream with mallow ice cream sauce is neatly garnished with coconut mallow balls.

Stuffed Pepper Is Fine Fall Dish For All

Creole Stuffed Peppers
(Makes 6 servings)

Six medium green peppers, 1 small onion, chopped, 1 cup ground cooked ham (or ¼ pound dried beef), 3 tablespoons fat, melted, one 10½-ounce can condensed tomato soup, ½ cup cornmeal, 1 egg, slightly beaten.

Heat oven to 375 degrees F. (moderate). Remove seeds and tops from peppers. Combine remaining ingredients, mixing well. Stuff peppers. Place upright in greased 2-quart baking dish; add water to cover bottom of dish. Cover and bake one hour at 375 degrees F.

Quick Mix Brazil Nut Cookies
(Yield: 3 dozen cookies)

One cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, ¾ cup fat, 1¼ cups firmly-packed brown sugar, ⅓ cup milk, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 cups rolled oats, ½ cup chocolate pieces, ¾ cup chopped Brazil nuts.

Sift together into mixing bowl flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Add fat, sugar, milk, eggs and vanilla. Stir until blended. Beat 1 minute. Stir in rolled oats, chocolate pieces and Brazil nuts. Drop by teaspoonfuls on baking sheet. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

Brazil Nut Sugar Cookies
(Yield: about 3 dozen cookies)

One and three-quarters cups sifted all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, ½ cup fat, ¾ cup sugar, ½ cup ground Brazzil nuts, 2 eggs, well beaten, ¾ teaspoon vanilla.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream fat. Gradually add sugar; cream until light and fluffy. Add Brazil nuts and well-beaten eggs and beat well. Add vanilla. Add dry ingredients; mix thoroughly. Chill. Shape into very small balls and place on baking sheet. Cover bottom of glass with damp cloth and press each cookie ball very thin. If desired sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon or decorate with finely cut cherries. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) 10 to 12 minutes.

Mary Martin Washes Out Bold Rumors

16 Shampoos a Week Make South Pacific Star's Hair Grow

By EPSIE KINARD

New York — Excessive cleanliness hasn't done "the world's cleanest girl" any harm. A day spent with Mary Martin proves that the warnings of well-meaning fans, who claimed that her part in "South Pacific" would soon leave her as bald as an egg, are incorrect. Her hair is growing faster than ever.

Mary takes eight showers in public every week on the stage of "South Pacific," while she sings, "I'm Gonna Wash That Guy Right Outa My Hair." To wash the stage suds out of her hair, she gives herself eight more shampoos. Add to that a morning shower, and you can see that the gal is spotless.

I was invited to be Mary Martin's guest on matinee day — or double-the-usual-number-of showers-day — and breakfasted with the star and her husband in their hotel suite.

She looked well-scrubbed, which is to be expected. Her part little-girl face was deeply tanned for the part. She was wearing tailored white crepe hostess pajamas, blue satin mules and her now-famous hair-do.

Her reddish hair is crew cut, curled one inch high, and looks like a snug, red cap. When she totalled up her shampoos for me, I asked her if she'd noticed any change in her hair.

"It's healthier than it's ever been and grows so fast that I have to cut it every two weeks," Mary answered. She said she'd received many dire letters from her fans, telling her of the horrors in store if she kept on with her shampooing binge. But nothing's happened.

Mary has a kind word to say for the hair style's effect on her clothes:

"You have no idea how much time it saves in dressing."

Her first stop at the theatre is a room in the basement where she dons sun suit and sun glasses and redevelops her sun tan.

"If I get a dark tan," Mary explained, as she exposed her shapely legs to the lamp, "I don't have to wear body make-up."

Back in her dressing room, she went through her usual matinee routine. She changed into her first costume, ate her dinner and read some of her fan mail.

With her first cue, she changed from the calm hostess to the singing, clowning, and romancing actress. The part calls for countless costume changes—blue denim skirt and shorts, a sailor's "whites," comic-strip dancing skirt, glamor girl organdies and nets, and a lady ensign's uniform. All the changes were made with amazing speed.

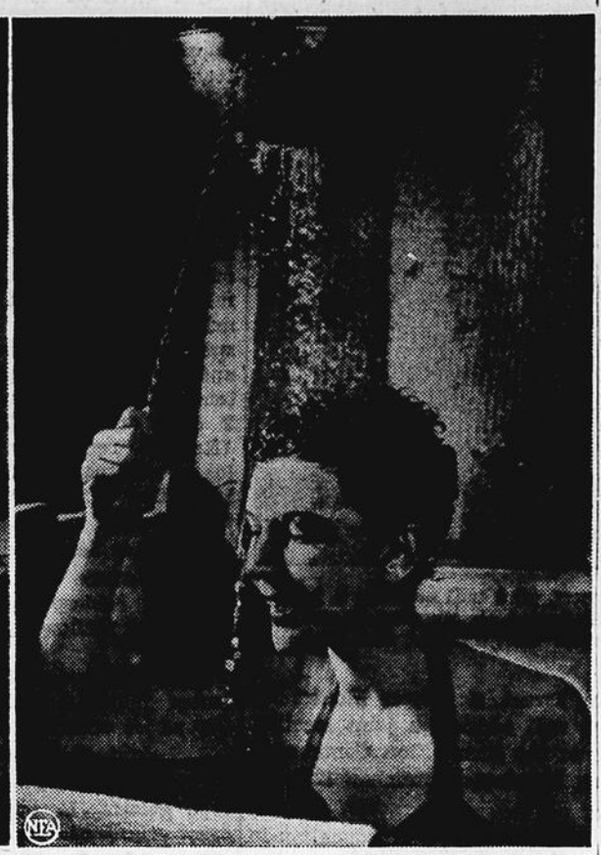
As I watched, the off-stage Mary Martin from Weatherford, Tex., became the on-stage Knucklehead Nellie from Little Rock, Ark., and brought down the house with her shampoo (Number 111) under a GI-built bucket-and-rope shower.

After the curtain calls, Mary went back to her dressing room, and washed shampoo Number 111 out of her hair. As she ducked over the basin, I asked how the kitchen-sized bar of soap she used on stage yielded such instant lather under a cold shower.

It doesn't, Mary explained. There's a shampoo jelly, lying hidden in a soap dish inside of the stall. She slaps that on her hair and the bar of soap is just so much stage business.

After I left Mary, I watched the property man squeezing the soap jelly into the dish for the night performance. Mary was ready, and shampoo Number 112 was coming up.

ON STAGE shampoo requires hidden soap trick.



Shower is a GI bucket-and-rope model.

Municipal Putting League Scores

In the Firday night putting tournament held in Westmount Park, R. J. Kent carded a gross of 77 and a net of 76 to win first prize. Other low nets were T. Mahaffy 79, C. Regan 81, W. Creighton 82 and H. Smith 83.

Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. P. Warner tied in the ladies section carding nets of 81. In the play-off Mrs. Smith defeated Mrs. Warner to win the prize. Other close scores were Mrs. W. Stott and Miss M. Sargent 82, Mrs. J. J. Smith 83, Mrs. A. Bryant, Mrs. Creighton and Mrs. T. Mahaffy all tied with 84.

A sealed hole competition was held on Tuesday evening. M. Soden, P. Warner and G. Cairns all tied with 12. In the play-off M. Soden came out on top to take the honors.

The ladies' section winner was Mrs. T. Mahaffy who scored a 12. She was followed by Mrs. R. J. Kent and Mrs. J. J. Smith with 14, and Mrs. H. Smith with 15.

If raveled yarn is full of kinks, wind it around a glass jar as you unravel it; you then dip jar in warm water and allow yarn to dry. It will be soft and usable.

Fashion Hints

A smart variation of the shawl collar claims attention for this useful coat, cut on fitted lines, in brown and tan checked woollen. Two little curved pockets are placed slantwise on the collar which has a fringed border. The midriff is snugly buttoned with four plastic brown buttons. The waistline is defined all the way around the back stopping at either side of the front panel. Tucks below the waist give a slight fullness to the skirt.

George Gahan's Record Rendez-Vous

We got a lot of laughs out of "Only for Americans", a new Decca release which pokes fun at American tourists visiting France. This march time tune is vocalized by the Andrew Sisters who provide a more romantic mood on the reverse "Homework".

While we don't really care for Guy Lombardo's orch and we don't at all care for the way the old time tunes are being revived, we must admit we enjoyed hearing Guy's version of a very old number "Sun". The reverse of this platter is not much to talk about and is entitled "There's Something About Paree."

Elliott Lawrence with his somewhat unconventional orch gives us some more of his fine and different music in his latest for Columbia—"Every Night is Saturday Night." Jack Hunter does the vocal on "Single Saddle" which makes a very fine flipover.

One of Frankie Laine's best to date is his newest for Mercury, "Georgia on My Mind." The tune is well suited to Laine's style and he does it in the best form.

Canadian Concerts and Artists of Montreal will present the opera "Barber of Seville" at His Majesties Theatre. Mail orders are now being accepted.

Anatole Kitain, the Russian-American pianist will give a concert at the Ritz-Carlton on October 17 and lovers of good piano should not fail to hear this virtuoso .... which brings to mind lovers of another type of piano, the one and only Hazel Scott will perform at His Majesties Jan. 28, 1950 .... Direct From Hollywood

By Jack Hirshberg

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 8 — Barbara Ann Scott drew the largest crowd of the season to Hollywood Bowl last Saturday evening when she skated to the accompaniement of a 100-piece symphony orchestra. She's being tested by two studios and interviewed by an army of top agents during her brief local stay .... Former Montreal Mark Robson, who made both "Champion" and "Home of the Brave", has been named top director of the year by the Screen Directors' Guild .... Hollywood has so abandoned hope of getting an even break in British theatres that films are now being made without regard for British tastes at all .... Raymond Massey, the Canadian already famed as Abe Lincoln, may soon be seen as Cardinal Mendszenty in a picture based on the life of the churchman imprisoned by Hungarian communists.

Not one, but two pictures on the Valentino legend are being readied for the cameras. One is a large scale production masterminded by Edward Small. The second is a cheap quickie to be produced by Jan Grippo, who makes the Bowery Boys sagas for Monogram release ... Natalie Kalmus, long divorced from her husband, Technicolor chief Herbert Kalmus, is suing him again for several hundred thousand dollars ... Mary Pickford is shutting her fabulous home, Pickfair, and moving to New York. She wants to be near her husband, Buddy Rogers, who heads his own television program for ABC ... Now Bing Crosby's publishing comic books. He already sells gadgets to sweeten a drunkard's breath, and everything he touches turns to Uranium.

Gloria Swanson's young daughter, Michele Farmer, is due for a film career ... They're talking about another Maurice Chevalier film, "An American in Paris". Music, presumably by Gershwin ... Color television is just around the corner nationally ... Television sets are selling in Los Angeles for as little as $99 — and still coming down. This city now has seven video stations on the air, and more to come ... Unable to get a sponsor for the program, Eleanor Roosevelt's five-a-week commentary leaves the air tomorrow after 29 weeks of broadcasting ... The Great Guildersleeve will be heard on 41 Canadian stations next autumn under sponsorship of Kraft. It's been a top U.S. comedy show for many years.

Edgar Bergen becomes a television attraction in October and already has a staff of eleven writers preparing his material... Included among the backers of "South Pacific" is Henry Ford, II. Which reminds me of that old proverb — "Them what has, gets" ... J. Arthur Rank is reported trying to organize a Hollywood production company, but with little luck ... Director John Farrow, former RCNVR officer, became a father and a grandfather the same month. His eldest sented him with a grandson a few days after his wife, Maureen O'Sullivan, gave birth to their sixth child ... Bebe Daniels' daughter, Mrs. Jack Rose, prepay from the British Broadcasting Corporation for a weekly airshow in only five pounds — less than $25 ...

Sign in a local cafe: "Please Come In and Eat — Before We Both Starve" ... Almost one third of American video stations are newspaper owned, with the movie companies and radio networks controlling another huge percentage. Cost of television operation is so high that independent operators think twice before risking their money ... Now they're having male-versus female boxing matches in England. No foolin' ! And we thought Hollywood had a corner on screwballs.

Ascension Do Or Die Tomorrow

Record Crowd Anticipated For Semi - Finals Finale

By GEORGE COCHRANE

The largest crowd ever to attend a Snowdon Senior Fastball League playoff battle is expected to be on hand at Macdonald this Saturday afternoon when Steinberg's meet Ascension in the seventh and deciding game of their semi-final playoff series. Game time has been announced as 3.00 o'clock.

If the dew drops fall in profusion on Saturday this all-important clash will be shoved ahead to Sunday afternoon, same park, same time. If the weatherman is in a benevolent mood and the game is played as scheduled, the final playoff series will start at Macdonald Sunday afternoon with a single game between Columbus, who knocked Robitaille Motors out in straight games in the other playoff series, and the winner of the Ascension-Steinberg's go. The finals will be another best of seven games affair.

12-INNING THRILLER

The 2,000 and some odd fans who braved an overcast sky and a pessimistic weather report from the little men at Dorval on Labour Day to amble up to Mac's Yard got their money's worth in class A fastball entertainment.

In the opener Steinberg's edged Ascension 5-4 in 12 innings. Columbus won the nightcap 11-9, of which more elsewhere in this section.

It was that Seinberg's-Ascension battle that gave the customers most of the day's thrills. And it was the Detroit Red Wings' Jimmy Peters, making his last appearance of the season in a Steinberg's uniform, who scored the run that broke up a deadlocked ball game after three overtime nerve-tingling innings.

With two out in the last half of the twelfth, the score knotted at 4-4 and the bases empty, Peters lifted a pop into short right field. It should have been a routine out but second sacker Kevin Kennedy let the ball slither through his hands and carom off his knees towards the foul line. Peters, no slouch on the basepaths when acceleration is needed, streaked around and crossed the platter standing up. That was the ball game.

TOUGH ON EMMETT

It was a tough game for Emmett Jones, the Ascensionites' veteran right-hander to lose. Jones, who had hurled the Westmount aggregation to a win the night before that had halted Steinberg's playoff win streak at two straight, tossed a magnificent game. He held the grocers to nine hits, not allowing more than two in any one inning, walked only three and fanned five.

Gerry Snyder was credited with the win. The manager-outfielder-hurler took over mound duties for the Steinbergers in the eighth after Saindon had been lifted in favour of pinch swinger Bill Flookies. The Sny held the A's scoreless for the rest of the contest.

PELOQUIN COMES CLOSE

Leo Peloquin, Ascension's lean third sacker who won the Snowdon Senior Fastball League batting crown last season, came close to breaking up the ball game in the tenth.

First man up in that inning the taciturn Peloquin laced one of Snyder's more inviting deliveries into right centre. The ball travelled on a line, streaked past centrefielder Bill Flookes, Peloquin raced around the hassocks. He raced for home as Flookes heaved the ball to shortstop Ricky Tomlinson and the grocers' teenage infielder relayed the throw to catcher Dick Barber. Peloquin hit the dirt. Plate umpire Pat Oss yelled, "No" then cried, "You're out" as Barber went over to where Peloquin was lying prostrate on the gorund and tagged him with the spheroid.

Ascension squawked long and hard but Oss ruled that Peloquin had missed the plate and stuck to his decision.

The game third sacker strained his ankle on the play and while he made a brief appearance in the bottom half of the inning in right field he had to be lifted.

GROCERS TAKE LEAD

Steinberg's jumped into a 2-0 lead in the bottom half of the third when Maurice Racette slammed a homer with Jerry Maguire aboard.

Ascension got back into the ball game with a vengeance in their half of the sixth. Peloquin led off with a single and advanced to second as Snyder juggled the ball in centre field. Kennedy walked. Then Noel Romney came through with a three-run homer to centre to put the Westmounters out in front 3-2.

The Ascensionites stretched their lead to 4-2 in the seventh when Tommy Brennan led off with a four-baser to left centre.

But the Steinbergers proved themselves a team that won't give up until the last man is out by notching singletons in the seventh and eighth to tie up the ball game. Both their third and fourth runs were unearned.

BATTING STARS

In a batting way the stars for Steinberg's were Don Callaghan with two for four, Jerry Maguire and Maurice Racette with two for five, and Bill Flookes with one for three.

For Ascension Peloquin led the way with three for five.

With the game tied up Doug Heron and Maurice Racette pulled off fielding gems for Ascension and Steinberg's respectively. Heron came streaking in from left field and made a sliding, shoestring catch that earned him the ovation of the afternoon. Racette went way back into right field and grabbed one of Romney's smashes with one hand.

Jackie Robinson is far and away the most spectacular player of the game—in the field, at bat and on the bases. The Brooklyn second baseman leads the National League in batting, runs-batted-in and stolen bases.

Lou Greenbaum Local Rep For Cycle Derby

Westmount's Lou Greenbaum, a man of varied capabilities and interests, has come forth in a new role. Backer of the Westmount Warriors Junior basketball club last season, Lou has announced that he is the Montreal representative of a Cycle Derby which will be at the Verdun Auditorium from November 5-22.

The derby will be a rebirth of the old six day bicycle race but will be unique in that 16 male riders will compete with 16 female riders. Entertainment in the nature of trick riding, sprints and amateur vaudevillians will be served up to enhance the general proceedings. A number of former six-day bike race stars have been signed, among them the well-known Rene Cyr.

The show, which is slated for a New York opening and will then move on to Chicago and other American cities before coming to Montreal, is being promoted by James Proscia. Public relations man for the show is the famous Abe Yager, who entertained members of the press and radio on Wednesday.

If the show goes over well, it'll be back in the Aud next year. The promoters signed an option to that effect.

18-Hit Attack Highlights A's Win Over Grocers

Snapping out of a team batting slump which had seen them score a scant three runs in their last three games, Ascension racked up a 10-4 win over Steinberg's in a regular semi-final playoff tilt played at Macdonald Park Sunday afternoon. The win gave the Westmounters a 3-2 lead in games in the series.

Kevin Kennedy's Krew slammed out a total of 18 hits, blasting Paul Saindon from the mound in the fourth and going right on with their barrage against Gerry Snyder. Each hurler was nicked for nine hits.

The free-hitting fray saw Noel Romney, Doug Heron and pitcher Emmett Jones all strike home runs for the winners. Every member of the club figured in Ascension's slugging spree with Toots Provost, who hadn't had a single hit in the first four playoff games, leading the parade with three for five, including a triple.

For Steinberg's, Gerry Snyder had three for four, catcher Dick Barber, two for four.

Emmett Jones went the route for the winners and pitched another good game. He held the grocers to nine pretty well scattered hits while striking out four and walking two.

Buddy Atcheson Best for Columbus

Slugging Buddy Atcheson, as good a fastballer as you're likely to see in this or any other decade, paced Columbus' Snowdon Senior Fastball League entry at the plate over the course of the regular 1949 schedule. Though he didn't figure in enough games to earn the Snowdonites' batting crown (that honour went to the Knights' Jack Eagan), Atcheson led his team with an impressive .519 average. The former grid ace collected 27 hits in 52 official trips to the plate.

Complete averages of the Jay Killoran aggregation are as follows:

WESTERNERS CAPTURE SWIM TITLES

Canadian amateur men's swimming champion George Bevins, 16, of Winnipeg, who nosed out William Ross of California in the mile race at the Canadian National Exhibition. He defeated 70 entries from U.S. and Canada to win the event.

Winning woman miler at the C.N.E., was another westerner, Vivian King, 20, of Winnipeg. An Olympic swimmer, Vivian swam the mile in 26 minutes, 12 seconds, only one minute behind the men.

Booth, Bowen, Smith to Quit

The "big three" of the Snowdon Senior Fastball League executive ..The hard-working trio, presi-won't be back next year.

dent Clary Booth, vice - president Harold Bowen, and executive committee member Ken Smith, have made no official announcement to that effect but they have let it be known around league circles that this, their second, will be the last year that they are going to pilot the destinies of the classy Snowdon circuit.

This three-pronged blow to the organization of the local fastball loop is causing considerable consternation among the executives of the six clubs that comprise the fastball league, generally rated as the best in the province and just about equal to anything else in the dominion. The Booth-Bowen-Smith combine is credited in the minds of most league followers with putting senior fastball over in truly big-time style in Notre Dame de Grace.

SUCCESSORS UNKNOWN

Just who'll succeed the threesome is anybody's guess at this time. It's most likely that the league managers and team executives will do all in their power to persuade Messrs. Booth, Bowen and Smith to stay on for another term. But, judging from what the three men have said, it's unlikely that their efforts will be successful.

Some names have been bandied about in informal discussions but no one has been formally approached. It's improbable that possible successors will be interviewed until the "big three" tender their resignations at the Snowdon League's annual meeting, generally scheduled for as soon as possible after completion of the final playoff series.

Westmount Lawn Bowlers Set Record By Reaching 3 Finals

During the last week the members of the Westmount Lawn Bowling Club made history, as their representatives reached the finals in three important events, the first of which was the Governor General's Trophy Competition, which is open to the clubs located in four centres, embracing those affiliated with the P.Q.L.B.A. Cornwall, St. Lawrence and Ottawa. the Clubs of which play down in their several Districts, the winners of the first two of which play off in the semi-final and are pitted against the winners of the other two Districts, in the final which took place on the Highland Park Greens last Saturday afternoon.

The conditions for play were ideal, both as to weather and the condition of the greens, under the management of Mr. J. E. Roy, Chairman of the Committee of Management governing the most important competition, before a large audience, who evidenced their appreciation of the excellent shots on frequent occasions, and as the total of the two rinks engaged on each side, that is of the Elmdale Club of Ottawa and Westmount, was extremely close all the way, the liveliest of interest was maintained right up to the last end, as it was only then that the possession of the Trophy for a year was finally determined, as, previous to that point, the lead had alternated time and again, and Westmount was only trailing by one shot when the 21st end commenced.

During this final end the Westmount rinks lay three shots until the skips came to play, and by several skillful shots by the opposing skips these were dislodged and ultimately ended in a win for the Elmdale Club by four shots. After the game the visitors were lavishly entertained to supper in the Masonic Temple at Westboro, presided over by Mr. Williams of Cornwall, at which some 75 bowlers, ladies and gentlemen, sat down, and did full justice to an excellent meal provided by the Ladies of the Highland Park Club.

Badges Presented

The Silver Commemorative Badges were then presented to the Winners, and the Bronze Badges to the Westmount players, whose representatives were J. M Heggie, L. C. Allen, R. C. Braithwaite and J. R. Douglas which rink won out 23-21 and A. S. MacIntosh, J. Jesse, Wm. Hunter and Willie Brown, who suffered defeat 15-21. Since this marked the first win for the Elmdales during their twenty-one years' history, and had evidenced the very highest type of sportsmanship, it is certain that the losers in no way begrudged their well-earned victory, more particularly since they could readily appreciate their feelings of satisfaction in winning the most highly-prized Trophy in the bowling world, as many of the Westmount players had previously experienced this thrill. All returned feeling that they had thoroughly enjoyed their outing, to which the atttitude of the winners had made such a contribution.

The Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the Notre Dame de Grace Mixed Tournament which steadily gains in popularity, was brought to a most successful termination last Friday, when the finals in the Primary and Consolation Competitions took place, in the former of which the rink composed of Mrs. Leach, J. Turner Jr., Mrs. Gall and Wm. Hunter was pitted against a rink skipped by A. Henderson of the Verdun Club, and after 18 ends they were on the short end of the score by ten shots. It was regrettable that on account of a delay in the completion of the Tournament, due to adverse weather conditions, two of the original players had to be replaced, because of their unavoidable absence, but the substitutes fittingly supplanted the absentees.

In the Consolation Final we were represented by Miss Young, C. D. Hendeson, Mrs. Cheese and W. Lambert, and although they got off to a bad start their fighting spirit manifested itself, as it became a real contest towards the end, as they entered the last only one down, but their adversaries registered two shots, leaving them three down against the rink skipped by J. J. McGee of the Mount Royal Club. At a pleasant function, presided over by the Vice-President of the Notre Dame de Grace Club, at the close of the Tournament, both winners and losers were presented with handsome prizes, suitably acknowledged by all, fitting references being made to the efficient manner in which the Tournament had been conducted, and to the Ladies of the Club for the excellent refreshments which they had served each evening to the players and spectators alike, thus bringing to a fitting close one of the most enjoyable Tournaments ever held in this District, in which some 192 players participated.

Heron Leading Ascension Hitter

Big Doug Heron, the erstwhile McGill grid and puck star, was the only man on Ascension's pennant winning Snowdon Senior Fastball League entry to finish the regular schedule with a batting average over the .300 mark. Heron, who patrols the outfield for the Westmount aggregation, collected 29 hits in 86 official trips to the plate for a .337 average.

Averages of the Ascensionites over the regular schedule are as follows:

British Have Many Wrong Ideas Says London Curate

"I find the people have many wrong ideas at home," Rev. John Smith, moderator of the United Church of London, England, told members of the Westmount Rotary Club at their regular luncheon meeting held on Wednesday.

Introduced by Kenneth Carver, the former miner, who did not become a minister until he was 40 years old told Rotarians that many people of the British Isles feel that once the rationing was eased, Britain was back to normal again. He told a simple story about the way they acted when candy and other sweets were taken from the rationed lists.

"On the day following the announcement people stood in deep queues at nearly all candy shops in the country, and ordered as much of the commodity as they could take away. The food ministry thought that after this initial rush, everything would fall into a general pre-war practise, but it didn't, and as a result, the supplies ran so low, that candies had to be put on ration again."

"For ten years now", the speaker said, 'we have been rationed on some of the most substantial foods, such as meat, butter, tea, fats and sugar. He also pointed out that while there is plenty of cereal on the market, people don't buy it to any great extent because each person is only allowed one half pint of milk per day.

Outlining several of the major problems confronting the people of Britain today, the speaker dwelled on the social embarrassments caused by the present food shortages.

"The British people are ordinarily home loving type, who used to ask their friends to come to the house for supper and a game, but now they are forced to say, "come over after supper and we'll play a game." He maintained that such actions are distasteful and embarrassing to the would-be hosts, therefore adding to the long list of frustrating conditions which they live through.

"But," said Rev. Smith in closing, "our lot would have been very much harder had it not been for the terrific, and I choose the word carefully, generosity of our Dominions." I have absolute optimism about my country, that through the shadows and the darkness, light will suddenly burst through, and we shall be better Britons."

The speaker was thanked by Douglas McKean, who said that perhaps the Westmount Rotary Club would see fit to send further gifts to Britain in her still needy hours.

to complete their courses — money well spent in a land so short of nurses as Canada.

The third point made by Dr. Griffith was that from a laboratory standpoint the hospital is exceptionally well-equipped, not only with instruments but with highly qualified specialists, as well. Hospitals are often judged by the medical profession on the number of autopsies they perform, he explained. The Homoeopathic rates among the highest, with 60%.

Among the many special services available, Dr. Griffith spoke of the hospital's introduction of the detective thriller drug, curare, which is now being used with remarkable effect to relax muscles during operations.

High Operating Costs

Douglas Bremner, president of the hospital, spoke of the high cost of patient care, which averages $11 per person — although, as he explained, patients do not pay this much. He said that Homoeopathic patients, whether public or private, get almost exactly the same care, which naturally means a much higher average cost. A big percentage of patients, of course, pay nothing at all for services.

Speaking of hospital expenses, Mr. Bremner said that payment of staff constitutes nearly 60% of the cost of running the hospital. It takes 250 people to look after 150 patients adequately, he said.

John B. Lewis, in closing the meeting, stressed the importance of having a hospital handy in case of emergency. "When something goes wrong, even the nearest hospital is too far away," he said, telling of the Homoeopathic's efficient ambulance service to Notre Dame de Grace and surrounding areas.

Following the meeting, a tour of the hospital was made by the canvassers.
