Post office may deliver assistance cheques

The post office was expected to announce contingency plans today for delivering several million monthly federal assistance cheques as the national postal strike officially became the longest in the country's history.

There still were no signs of negotiations resuming between the two sides in the dispute as the strike by inside workers dragged into its 23rd day. The longest was a 22-day strike in 1968.

Wages are the only outstanding issue blocking a settlement.

The government cheques include old age pensions, veterans' allowance and family allowance benefits, all of which normally are delivered by the 20th of each month.

October cheques were postdated and mailed early by the department of supply and services in anticipation of a postal strike.

A post office source said plans for delivering the cheques were still to be worked out but suggested it might involve sorting the cheques by the few hundred members of the Canadian Union of Postal Workers (CUPW) who have crossed their own picket lines and returned to their jobs.

TO CALL CARRIERS
Letter carriers could then be called in to deliver the cheques, the source said.

Meanwhile, Postmaster General Bryce Mackasey was expected back in Ottawa today although there was no change in his position that he had no more money to offer the 22,000 CUPW members.

Mr. Mackasey has not budged from an initial offer of $1.70 an hour over 30 months. The union is seeking a $2.73 hourly boost in a 27-month contract. The average hourly wage now is $4.56 and the offer would boost annual salaries to about $13,000 by late 1976.

Joe Davidson, CUPW president, said in Ottawa Tuesday that his union is ready to resume negotiations with the post office at any time.

He confirmed that members of the executive of the Toronto local of the union had requested unofficially a membership vote on the post office salary proposals, but said he would not agree to one at this time.

He said union members in the rest of the country are solidly behind the executive and that he is unconcerned that the number of CUPW members crossing picket lines and returning to work might increase.

In St. Catharines, Ont., postmaster Henry Capeluck said Tuesday that the main post office was to reopen today and letter carrier service was expected to resume Thursday.

He said 10 inside workers who returned to work Tuesday were enough to resume operations.

LOCAL BACKS STRIKE

However, Vancouver CUPW members voted Tuesday 90 per cent in favor of remaining on strike to back contract demands. The vote was taken at a meeting of about 900 of the local's 1,400 members.

The Vancouver local, third largest in Canada, plans to take a loan to assist financially-pressed members until the strike ends.

Tuesday, Remembrance Day, was an official government holiday and post offices were closed, except in Ottawa, where the post office reported 70 inside workers turned up to sort mail. The union said there were only 34.

Elsewhere, alternate postal services were being set up or expanded, some by postal workers, and some by private carriers.

Letter carriers are operating courier services in Halifax and Fredericton and in the former, are considering expanding their service into New Brunswick.

And in Ottawa Tuesday, the CUPW local announced establishment of a similar courier service "to show that our struggle is not against the ordinary citizen or the small businessman, but against the post office and the large corporations."

In Calgary, 200 companies belonging to the Independent Petroleum Association and the Canadian Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors are sending their local mail in alphabetical order to a central clearing point downtown. Pickup and delivery is handled by employees of the companies.

ET TEACHERS DISSATISFIED — A first in what could be more study sessions was attended by some 350 members of the Eastern Township Association of Teachers at St. Antoine's Church in Lennoxville yesterday to review and protest the recent government offer. A spokesman from the association indicated that the teachers plan to have more study sessions during class time as well as other actions of protest to make their position known to the government and school boards. The Lennoxville District School Board and the Eastern Township Regional School Board termed yesterday's walkout and further protest "illegal". At the right is Donald Jondreville, president of the Eastern Township Association of Teachers.

3 die in blaze

SHERBROOKE (SB) — Three men died in a six alarm blaze late last night that caused an estimated $13,000 damages. Firemen were called to 79 Wellington St. South at 11:58. The cause of the fire is as yet unknown. The identities of the three men killed in the blaze were not known this morning.

Choquette calls for new political party in Quebec

MONTREAL (CP) — Jerome Choquette, former justice and education minister in Premier Robert Bourassa's Liberal government, Tuesday called for the formation of a new political party for Quebec.

"The national aspirations of Quebec are not represented by the main parties now on the scene—the Liberal party and the (opposition) Parti Quebecois," Mr. Choquette told an audience of about 850 at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

In his first public statement since his split with cabinet and party Sept. 26, he confirmed six weeks of speculation that he was prepared to lend his support to a political "third force", promoted by elements of the decimated Creditiste and Union Nationale parties.

At a news conference later, Mr. Choquette said he would be prepared to lead such a party.

Present for Mr. Choquette's speech were Fabien Roy, parliamentary leader of the two-man Creditiste delegation in the national assembly until last week, and Clement Vincent, chief organizer of the Union Nationale and a former agriculture minister.

Both have been associated with behind-the-scenes attempts to organize the "third force."

Mr. Roy's activities in that domain resulted in his expulsion from the Creditiste ranks last week. He said

JEROME CHOQUETTE

Tuesday that he and Mr. Choquette agreed on the principles and aims of a new political force.

Also in the audience were several Liberal party figures and associates from Mr. Choquette's five-year stint in the justice department, including Yolande Taylor, chairman of the Liberals' political committee and Robert McKay, party information officer.

NO LEADERSHIP

In his speech Mr. Choquette denounced the lack of leadership in the Bourassa government and said that to continue supporting it, he would have had to abandon the principle "that a government must respect its own laws."

He predicted: "Give Quebec a strong government, restore the confidence of the people of Quebec and don't lock them up in a centralizing and jealous federalism and the threat of separation (from Canada) will vanish."

Teachers plan protests

MONTREAL (CP) — Spokesmen for Quebec's English-speaking teachers promised more rotating study sessions after a one-day walkout Tuesday left more than 60,000 students in Montreal and other parts of the province with no classes to attend.

Robert Dobie, secretary-general of the Provincial Association of Catholic Teachers (PACT), called the Tuesday session a success and warned: "Next week we'll start up where we left off."

He said the sessions will remain on a rotating basis, "so as not to inconvenience the population in any one area too much."

About 1,000 members of the Federation of English-

Speaking Catholic Teachers (FESCT), a PACT affiliate, met after picketing the offices of the Montreal Catholic School Commission.

FESCT President Mike Doyle said the teachers rejected a proposal for an immediate vote on a general strike, but they remain in favor of selective stoppages.

In Montreal and nearby communities, 73 English Catholic schools were reported closed, with about 55,000 students affected.

SAY OFFER INSULTING
In the Eastern Townships, about 90 miles east of Montreal, 15 English Protestant schools were closed when 350 members of the Eastern Townships Association of Teachers met to condemn the Quebec government contract offer as "degrading and insulting."

The action affected about 5,000 students, a union official said.

One school was closed by similar actions in Sept.-Oct., 350 miles northeast of Quebec City.

At one east-end Montreal secondary school where teachers remained on the job, a majority of the 900 students walked out in support of the teachers.

The government has offered the province's 82,000 teachers a 40.5-per-cent pay increase over three years. The current starting rate is $8,232 yearly, while teachers with 10 years experience get $11,206.

PACT wants a 47-per-cent increase in a one-year contract, while a common front grouping the 7,000-member Provincial Association of Protestant Teachers (PAPT) and the 70,000-member Quebec Teachers Corp. (QTC), wants 43.8 per cent in a one-year contract.

The World in focus

Angola fighting

LUANDA (AP) — More fighting was reported on the outskirts of besieged Luanda today, but life in the city returned to normal after two days of independence celebrations.

Artillery fire could be heard north of the city as the troops of the Soviet-backed Popular Movement (MPLA) battled forces of the National Front (FNLA), supported by China and Zaire.

The MPLA, which controls Luanda, installed Agostinho Neto as president of the new nation after the proclamation of independence Monday night. But the FNLA and a third nationalist movement supported by some European nations—the National Union, or UNITA—set up a rival government in Nova Lisboa, in the interior 320 miles southeast of Luanda.

Franco hemorrhaging

MADRID (AP) — Francisco Franco has suffered new hemorrhaging but the bleeding is under control for the moment, his doctors reported today.

The first report of the day on the 82-year-old dictator's condition was delayed four hours while the doctors worked on him. Informed sources reported that the intestinal hemorrhaging for which Franco has undergone two operations began again during the night.

The La Paz Clinic in which the general is being treated was the scene of unusual activity during the night.

Anti-Zionism

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — Ambassador Saul Rae of Canada says the anti-Zionism resolution passed by the General Assembly, while unnecessary and harmful, must not be allowed to hinder negotiations for a permanent peace settlement in the Middle East.

"We've got to keep on at this task," Ambassador Rae said in an interview with The Canadian Press Tuesday night. He hoped that the rancor that resulted from the Zionism issue eventually will die down, enabling the UN to continue its work.

Canada strongly opposed the Arab-inspired resolution linking Zionism to racism but it was carried by a vote of 72 to 35 Monday night with 32 abstentions.

The resolution, which is not binding on UN members, defies Zionism, as "a form of racism and racial discrimination."

Interim cabinet

CANBERRA (AP) — Caretaker Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser named an interim Australian cabinet today amid widespread demonstrations and calls for a general strike in support of ousted Gough Whitlam, ousted as Labor prime minister.

Slipping into Parliament House through a side door, Fraser's cabinet was sworn in while the chanting of pro-Whitlam demonstrators rang through the building.

Whitlam told a crowd of 3,000 in front of the building that his removal Tuesday by Gov.-Gen. Sir John Kerr "makes a travesty of parliamentary democracy in Australia."

Kerr also dissolved Parliament in preparation for election of a new House of Representatives and Senate. The election is to be held on Dec. 13, and the makeup of the new lower house will determine whether Whitlam, 59, returns to power or Fraser, 45, remains in office.

Meanwhile, Fraser is pledged not to initiate any new policies.

Remembrance Day marked

Although most Royal Canadian Legion branches across Canada paid tribute to veterans on Remembrance Day, one branch held a memorial service two weeks ago so they could go deer-hunting Tuesday.

About 100 members of the 300-member Brechin-Mara branch in Brechin, Ont., 15 miles east of Orillia, went hunting—leaving 10 members to lay wreaths in a Remembrance Day service.

Tom McKean, poppy chairman for the branch, said the legion held a service Oct. 26 to pay tribute to the 100,000 Canadians who died during the First and Second World Wars.

Newfoundlanders commemorated a traditional Nov. 11 with the annual parade of veterans, cadets, regular forces and reserves in St. John's.

Local legion branches marched to the Newfoundland War Memorial where Lt.-Gov. Gordon A. Winter participated in a wreath-laying ceremony followed by two minutes of silence.

About 50 wreaths were laid and a 21-gun salute was fired at Citadel Hill in Halifax following a parade of military units, RCMP and veterans' organizations from the city.

The parade continued to the Boer War Memorial where Lt.-Gov. Clarence L. Gosse participated in wreath-laying ceremonies. Other ceremonies were held at Sailors Memorial, Artillery Park and the Crimean War Memorial.

Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Prices were higher in moderate trading Tuesday on the Montreal Stock Exchange.

Volume at the close was 319,600 shares compared with 406,800 shares traded Monday.

The composite index was up 1.35 at 174.95. Banks rose 1.70 to 257.54, industrials 1.45 to 177.28 and utilities 0.81 to 124.14. Papers fell 0.71 to 93.46.

Toronto

TORONTO (CP) — Toronto stock prices moved sharply higher Tuesday in the slowest trading in more than three years.

The industrial index rose 1.08 to 173.07, base metals 1.4 to 72.07 and western oils 1.2 to 198.40. Golds fell 1.27 to 3.42.

Volume of 918,000 shares was the lowest since Jan. 3, 1972 and down from 1.13 million Monday. Value was $7.66 million, lowest since Dec. 31, 1974, compared with $10.67 million Monday.

Trading was halted for two minutes at 11 a.m. in observance Remembrance Day. Analysts attributed the low volume of trading to lack of institutional activity with banks and other institutions closed for the day.

New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Intimations that Washington attitudes against federal help for New York City might be softening helped produce a mild advance in the stock market Tuesday.

Trading was restrained by observance of Veterans Day in many states.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks registered a 3.07 gain to 838.55.

Bank of Montreal led industrials, up 1/4 to $16 1/4 on a volume of 10,372 shares traded. Abitibi Copper led mines, up one cent to five cents on a volume of 40,000 shares.

Oil prices were higher. Home Oil A rose 1/4 to $28 3/4. Consumer's Gas 3/4 to $11 1/4.

and Imperial Oil A 1/4 to $23 1/4.

International Nickel A rose 1/2 to $25 1/4. Canadian Pacific 1/4 to $13 3/4. Massey Ferguson 1/4 to $17 1/2. CP Investments 1/4 to $14 1/2 and Royal Bank 1/2 to $31. Consolidated Bathurst fell 7/8 to $24 3/4.

share for the same period a year earlier.

Among other companies which reported lower net earnings for a nine-month period, Hugh Russel A lost 1/4 to $10 and Campbell Red Lake 3/4 to $21.

The largest price changes among industrials included IBM, up 3/8 to $222, General Motors 1/4 to $57 1/4, Canadian Tire A 1/4 to $45 1/2, Molson B 1 to $15 1/2 and Royal Bank 3/4 to $31 1/4.

Standard Broadcasting Corp. fell 1/2 to $6 3/4 and First City Financial Corp 1/2 to $6 1/2.

Among mining issues, Pine Point rose 7/8 to $31 3/4, and Preston 1/4 to $12 1/4. Roman Corp. lost 1/2 to $12 and Consolidated Canadian Faraday 15 cents to $2.30.

Ocelot Industries was up 1/4 to $7 1/4 and Skye Resources 25 cents to $3.10. Siebens fell 3/4 to $9 1/2.

Analysts said the market also drew some support from downward leanings in interest rates.

The U.S. government reported late Monday that yields on 13-week Treasury bills fell to a five-month low at the latest auction. And speculation continued to circulate that the Fed might cut its discount rate—the rate it charges on loans to its member commercial banks.

On the negative side, analysts said, the slowness of other major banks to match a prime rate reduction posted last Friday by New York's First National City Bank raised some questions over how much further the downtrend in rates would go.

Standard and Poor's 500-stock index was up 53 to 89.87 on the day, and the NYSE composite index gained 29 to 47.52.

Otis Elevator, the NYSE volume leader, jumped 3/4 to $44 1/4.

United Technologies declined 7/8 to $49 1/4.

Study supports oil industry's claim for need of higher investment returns

Claims by Canada's oil industry that it needs a higher return on its investment received support Monday from a report by the University of Toronto's faculty of management studies which says it is unprofitable to find and develop oil in Canada.

The report was presented at a seminar on tax and royalty treatment of the petroleum industry at the annual conference of Canadian Tax Foundation.

G. D. Quirin, who prepared the report with B. A. Kalymon, said the present tax system does not offer the prospect of a 15-per-cent return on investment on Alberta oil. A minimum return of 15 per cent is needed to cover the cost of equity capital, he said.

Earlier, T. S. Tuschak, of the federal department of energy, mines and resources, told the seminar that current cash flows of the petroleum industry are consistent with the need for projected exploration costs.

He said the industry can expect to generate, after royalties and taxes, about $2.8 billion to $3.4 billion a year which will be available for reinvestment and for financial costs such as dividends, working capital and interest.

FIRMS NEED MORE

But Sydney Ewens, manager of the tax department of Imperial Oil Ltd., said the oil industry agrees the government must reduce its take of oil revenues if huge capital expenditures required to give Canada long-term self-sufficiency in petroleum energy are going to be committed by the private sector.

And Robert Cochrane, treasurer of Gulf Oil Canada Ltd., said royalty and tax policies of the federal and provincial governments have served to eliminate any "reasonable share" of recent oil price increases to the oil companies.

Meanwhile in Calgary, Mobil Oil Canada Ltd. said it has indefinitely suspended drilling operations on the Scotian shelf and in the Grand Banks after spending $120 million in the last four years.

It said the decision was based on limited success in finding oil and gas reserves, political and economic uncertainty, the lack of federal regulations in the area, the federal-provincial dispute over jurisdictions and equipment problems.

In other business developments Monday:

—MacMillan Bloedel said the B.C. forest industry is being undermined by bureaucratic controls and conflicting regulations.

—The federal labor department said time lost due to strikes and lockouts during the first seven months of the year was about 38 per cent less than the

for the same period last year.

—John Prendergast, chairman of the Air Transport Association of Canada, said the airline industry in Canada will probably ring up one of its largest financial deficits ever this year.

—The Maritime Retail Gasoline Association said it has asked the federal government for immediate legislation for uniform petroleum prices in Canada.

—The anti-inflation board said it will set up at least five regional offices across Canada to handle consumer complaints and inquiries about violations of the selected wage and price controls.

Three new groups interested

Talks to save Bricklin expand

FREDERICTON (CP) — Negotiations to rescue Bricklin Canada Ltd. from bankruptcy have expanded to include three new groups of investors, Lawrence Garvie, New Brunswick's economic growth minister, said Monday.

Besides the original all-Canadian group in Toronto, he said talks now are under way with two more Canadian groups, each with some foreign involvement, and an American group with some Canadian involvement.

Despite the investors' interest, however, Mr. Garvie said there hasn't been one formal proposal to save the government-financed sports car company, now in its seventh week of receivership, and "deadlines" are fast approaching.

One of the deadlines is at noon Friday when tenders close on the sale of many of Bricklin Canada's assets by the First Pennsylvania Bank, one of Bricklin's secured creditors.

There was some indication, however, that the deadline might be extended, perhaps by two weeks or more.

FUTURE UNCERTAIN

Mr. Garvie had little comment when asked in a Canadian Press interview whether Bricklin's future would be definitely determined before noon Friday.

"It is possible we might not know" this week, he said. An agent for Canada Permanent Trust, which is acting on behalf of First Pennsylvania, confirmed that possibility.

Donald Crosby said the bank could take up to two weeks after tenders close to decide whether it will accept any of them. He would not rule out the possibility that the bank might reject all of the tenders and wait until the government's negotiations are complete.

The government has more than $20-million tied up in the auto project.

Mr. Garvie expressed only guarded optimism for Bricklin's future. Previous statements by government officials have been more confident.

Negotiations progressed only "a bit" last week, he said. "The thing that bothers me is the time element," he added later.

TOLD IT'S VIABLE

Nevertheless, he said he was encouraged by the "moral support from different quarters" and the belief of several experts that Bricklin is a viable company.

Asked about the possibility that the rights to produce the car might rest with General Vehicle Inc., Bricklin Canada's U.S. parent, Mr. Garvie said he had sought a legal opinion on the subject and been told the province has "total rights to produce the car" but might not be able to use the name Bricklin.

84 month sentence handed Coulombe

SWEETSBURG WARD (JM) — Mr. Justice Carrier Fortin sentenced Reed Coulombe to a total of 84 months in Court of Queen's Bench here yesterday. Coulombe, 23, of Waterloo was scheduled to stand trial for judge and jury on counts of attempted murder, armed robbery, wearing a disguise, possession of a stolen car valued at more than $200 and theft of $5,720.33 from a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada in Granby Jan. 17, 1975.

Coulombe immediately pleaded guilty to all the charges save that of attempted murder. Crown prosecutor Claude Noiseux told the bench he accepted the motion preferred by Claude Archambault that Coulombe would plead guilty to discharging a firearm with intent to cause bodily harm.

Judge Fortin then declared the accused not guilty of attempted murder and acquitted him. He was then found guilty of the lesser charge.

Mr. Archambault called a prison guard and Coulombe's fiancée to the stand. Reynald Lapointe, a guard at the Sweetsburg Jail, said Coulombe had behaved well during his 10 months served in preventative detention.

His fiancée, Hilda Freitag, also of Waterloo, said she has known Coulombe for four years and they had planned on being married Aug. 2 of this year. She then said she would marry him on his release.

Mr. Archambault said the 10 months his client had spent in preventative detention was the equivalent of 20 months as there are no recreational or work facilities for prisoners held at Sweetsburg. He said Coulombe had one prior conviction as an adult and asked for the clemency of the court.

The Crown then cited recent sentences imposed in the District of Bedford on charges of armed robbery and asked for a 30-month term on the armed robbery and discharging the firearm charges, then one year each on the possession of stolen goods, and being disguised during the commission of a crime.

Judge Fortin handing down sentence said, "I have heard the representations from your lawyer and the Crown. I must consider your prior record, your conduct in jail and part of my duty in sentencing you is to determine the danger of recidivism. You must learn you cannot act with impunity to the criminal code.

"This is your second charge for qualified robbery and it is my duty to punish, not to seek revenge. You are young and I will give you another chance to come back into society and to earn a living where you may live with the young lady who still wants to marry you.

"You are sentenced to 30 months on the charge of armed robbery, one year for possession of stolen goods, one year for wearing a disguise and 30 months for discharging a firearm with intent to cause bodily harm. The sentences are to be served concurrently."

The money recovered from the robbery was ordered returned to the bank and the firearms seized were ordered confiscated.

The first jury trial in the local assizes will be heard commencing Nov. 18 when Benoit Roy and Denis Pearson face charges of non-qualified murder in the death of Jean-Maurice Tringle. Mr. Tringle was found in the Township of Dunham June 8, 1975.

POLICE PROBLEMS DISCUSSED — Problems municipal police are facing with the recent increase in crime activity were discussed at a regular monthly meeting of regional police officers. Public assistance may be needed in crime fighting COATICOOK (GA) — Closer contact and co-operation between local police and the general public to combat the increasing crime rate, was stressed at yesterday's monthly meeting of municipal police officers at Police headquarters here.

"Fighting crime is just too big a job for the police alone," contends Paul Emil L'Ecuyer, president of the Urban Montreal Security Force, who was the guest speaker. "We must ask for assistance from the general public, but first, he stressed, we must gain their confidence and reassure them that we are not out to persecute them but to aid and protect them," he said.

"For the most part, unfortunately, the general public is reluctant to step forward as a witness or to relate any pertinent information they might have with regard to a crime for fear of court involvement or, in some cases retribution from the criminal element. This is our biggest problem," he said, "somehow we must demystify the court procedure for the public." L'Ecuyer commented.

L'Ecuyer said that in many cases he didn't blame people for being reluctant to involve themselves voluntarily in criminal court proceedings, citing instances where these witnesses are made to feel like criminals themselves.

Another point L'Ecuyer stressed was the growing trend for police officers to be spending too much time in non-police matters. "I think every department should evaluate their own duties and responsibilities," he said. "In our own system in Montreal we were having policemen delivering internal mail and acting as watchmen. Since then we put these duties into the hands of outside agencies, thereby reactivating 56 policemen to do police work." L'Ecuyer added.

LIP grants announced

OTTAWA — Manpower and Immigration Minister

Robert Andras announced yesterday the approval of 10 projects funded under the local initiatives program for 1975-76. These projects will provide 40 jobs creating 1,038 man-weeks of employment at a cost of $151,900.00.

LIP, now in its fifth year of operation, is designed to alleviate winter unemployment by providing funds for community improvement projects while creating jobs for the unemployed.

Projects are conceived at the local level and are reviewed by volunteer constituency advisory groups who rate the projects according to the needs of their communities. Provincial governments are also involved in projects assessments. Final approval rests with the minister. The federal government has allocated $134 million to the 1975-76 LIP projects.

A list of projects for Compton County follows:

- Feu vert ou plein air (Lac Drolet), $20,000; Sante et loisirs pour les jeunes, amelioration de terrains et salles (Lambton), $11,250; Hot Tummies (Coaticook), $23,000; Oasis: Fraternel et Recreatif (Bury), $17,900; Courtes-Pointes (East Angus), $15,000; Amelioration hivernale (St-Isidor d'Anekland), $12,000; Decor et recreation (Piopolis), $9,500; Loisirs-sante (Woburn), $9,750; Recreer, reamenager, recours (St-Sebastien), $14,000.

Culture, recreation grants are named

QUEBEC — Jean Paul L'Allier, Cultural Affairs minister, recently announced subsidies totaling $118,000 to 31 socio-cultural and recreational organizations in Quebec municipalities. The following is a list of local organizations that will benefit from the government's program.

Le service des Loisirs et Parcs de Victoriaville, $4,500; La Grande Roue de Sherbrooke, $1,962; Le Comite Culturel D'Asbestos Inc., $3,000; Le Comite Culturel de Bromptonville, wishes to advise its subscribers of some changes now in effect:

* to get WMTW Poland Spring, Me., turn to channel 10 instead of channel 8.

* to get CIVM-TV Montreal (Radio-Quebec), turn to channel 8 instead of channel 11.

* to get CFTM-TV Montreal broadcasting not transmitted by CHLT-TV Sherbrooke, turn to channel 11 instead of channel 10.

These changes are necessary due to television stations multiplicity and because of technical considerations and for level of cable retransmission. Thanks for your cooperation.

Around Town

SHERBROOKE — Another well-filled card awaits entertainment seekers in the coming week, with many events planned.

Tonight, three activities are taking place in the area. At the University of Sherbrooke Cultural Centre, the Sherbrooke section of Jeunesse Musicales du Canada (JMC) will present mime artist Claude St. Denis at 8 p.m. Mr. St. Denis is a former teacher at the Orford Arts Centre in pantomime and founded a mime theatre in Montreal. His skill and wizardry of sorts has kept his audiences spellbound and his style constitutes a language in itself.

In the Bishop's University Johnson Building, room 20, the documentary film Mein Kampf will be viewed. The film, captured from the Germans after World War II, spares little and shows everything from the capture of Jewish people, their imprisonment and finally, their elimination. Lastly on tonight's program, a sell-out crowd will watch Roger Whittaker in concert at the Grand Theatre beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Nov. 13, Cinemafest at the Cultural Centre, Soleil Vert, the French version of a 1963 American film will be shown at 8 p.m. On Friday, two showings at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. will be presented.

Friday, Nov. 14, Cinema Carrefour will begin its seventh week of the movie Jaws.

The Theatre Populaire du Quebec is performing the Nov. 15 presentation of Il Faut Etre Fou Pour Pleurer. The play is adapted from the Arnold Wesker production by Rene Dionne and starring Jean-Marie Lemieux and Helene Loiselle. Showtime is 8:30 p.m. at the Cultural Centre.

Nov. 16, the Bishop's University Film Society will present Macbeth in Johnson 20. Director Roman Polanski broke away from the stereotype Macbeth with two young, handsome and inexperienced British performers. The movie deals with the psychological drama, probing not so much into the cause of Macbeth's murder, but the effect on his well-being.

Plant opening at Granby

GRANBY — The official opening of Coroplast Ltd.'s new two million dollar plastic extrusion plant in Granby takes place Friday, Nov. 14, at 2:30 p.m. Granby Mayor Paul Trepanier will officiate at the latest plant to open in the city's industrial park.

Coroplast is a versatile double-faced plastic sheet which has been used widely in Europe and Japan for packaging and materials handling since the mid-1960's. The Canadian firm, Coroplast Ltd., was set up in Montreal in 1971 by Peter Martin, president, and R.G. Dinsdale, executive vice-president, who have developed the product's uses for signage and displays.

Union set up by Bishop's faculty

LENNOXVILLE (SB) — Bishop's University professors have formed a faculty union, the Association of Professors of Bishop's University (APBU), to negotiate their collective agreement next year. After a founding meeting Oct. 30, the newly formed union submitted a formal request for certification to the Chief Investigation Officer of the Quebec Ministry of Labor.

after certification, between negotiation committee and the executive committee.

Professor Myhul said there are four main reasons for forming the union.

Although Bishop's is the first anglophone university in Quebec to set up a faculty union, numerous francophone institutions, including the University of Sherbrooke, have such unions.

Secondly, with the increasing involvement of the government in the educational process, a faculty union is necessary, he added.

Thirdly, said Professor Myhul, "non-educators" are getting too involved in the educational process at Bishop's.

And "up until now," says Prof. Myhul, "We've always been behind other universities in salaries."

The Federation des Associations des Professeurs des Universites du Quebec has been picking up the bill for the legal fees incurred by the APBU. It is also possible that the APBU will seek affiliation with the (FAPU) in the near future.

If certified, APBU can start negotiating a collective agreement with the university as a provincially recognized union. Professor Ivan Myhul, association secretary, stated yesterday that certification is expected by the end of the year.

APBU members elected an executive body at a special meeting, which consists of Professor Stan Groves, (Economics) as President, Professors Mary Rhodes (Mathematics), Keith Moore (Biology), and Pat Fitzgerald (Business), as Vice-Presidents, Professor Dieter Reigel as Treasurer, and Professor Ivan Myhul as Executive Secretary. A distinction will be made from the above.

Armistice Day events planned at Lennoxville

LENNOXVILLE — The Army, Navy and Air Force Veteran's Association, Unit 318 in Lennoxville, will be holding their Armistice Day ceremony on Nov. 16 with the following schedule.

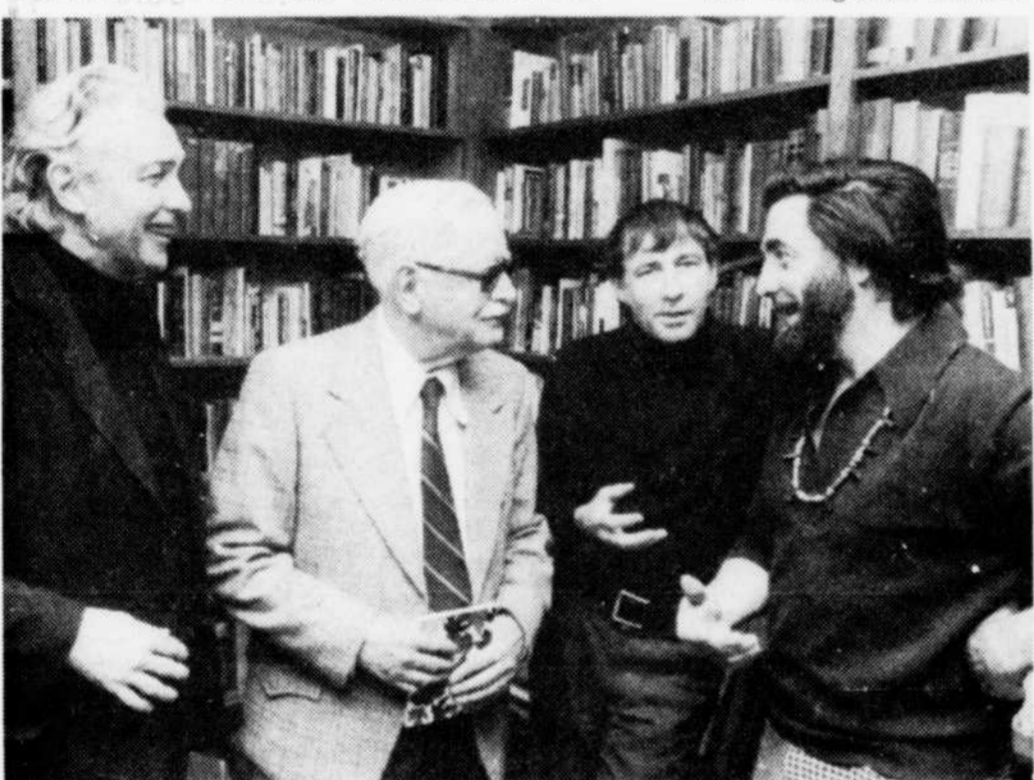

The church parade will form up at the fire station at 9:45 a.m. The parade to the cenotaph will form up on Speid St. at 11:20 and proceed to the cenotaph for noon. The introduction of General Dextrase and the inauguration of the town's war memorial cannon will take place.

Prayers will be offered by Father Georges Gagnon and Archdeacon S. Meade, followed by laying of wreaths and crosses, and by Last Post and Reveille. The march past will be taken by Gen. Dextrase.

A reception will be held in the mayor's office at 12:50 and another at the AN & AF Hut on St. Francis St. will be held at 1:45 p.m. Gen. Dextrase will make a few remarks there before the departure from the Hut to Sherbrooke to take part in the Remembrance Day service at their cenotaph at 3 p.m.

Taking part in the Armistice Day parade will be the 1st and 2nd Lennoxville Cubs and Scouts, a color party from Bishop's College School, two platoons of BCS students, a Sea Cadet color party and band, along with Navy League Cadets, 3rd Lennoxville Brownies, members of the Royal Canadian Legion and AN & AF, representatives from the Lennoxville Optimist Club and Lennoxville Elementary School.

ET poet publishes book

LENNOXVILLE (SB) — "I consider myself an Eastern Townshippier," stated Neil Tracy, poet, one of the many local artists who are gaining recognition in the Townships by the reading public. "I've been here a long time, and my parents were here before me. The Townships has had a great effect on my life." And it has certainly had an effect on Mr. Tracy's poetry, written in an easy flowing style, illustrating his range, versatility and blunt honesty.

Referring to his latest publication, "Collected Poems", Mr. Tracy stated that he had no desire to publish until urged to do so by a good friend, Ron Sutherland, another local writer. "Collected Poems" is a collection of works taken from his two early books, "Shapes of Clay" and "Voice Line," as well as some more recent works.

Probably the thing that sets Neil Tracy apart from most poets is the fact that he is totally blind and has been since his college days. "I have little sympathy for the blind. In most cases, they lack initiative," stated Mr.

Tracy. "Of course I was lucky. I've always had my great love of literature to help me."

Neil Tracy was born in Sherbrooke in 1905. He attended local schools, graduated from Sherbrooke High, took an Honors BA from Bishop's University in Lennoxville in 1928, an MA in 1929. By this time he was totally blind.

He subsequently served on the Sherbrooke Scouts Commission and became the first blind President of a Scout Commission in Canada, and received the Order of Merit for his service.

In 1941 he joined the staff of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind as a Field Representative for Sherbrooke, about which he says, "I hated the work, hated to ask people silly questions, always felt it was an invasion of privacy, which it wasn't really. The information was important to the Institute and the questions had to be asked. I am grateful to the Institute for giving me the job. It was during the depression and a job was mighty hard to come by even for a sighted man, let alone a blind one."

"I always felt that I was made more for teaching rather than social work." In 1963 this feeling took substance in a teaching position on the English staff at the Universite de Sherbrooke. He says it was probably the richest period in his life. "I never used a note the entire time I taught," says Mr. Tracy, "I always talked off the top of my head. That's what kept me young all those years, teaching those young people about the literature I love."

Despite his handicap, Mr. Tracy keeps up an active interest in reading, which is done with the help of "talking book" (a recorded version of a written work) and of course books published in braille. He also has a young girl come in and read to him. His wife Dorothy keeps him informed as to the news of the world.

Reflecting back on his years of blindness, he said "probably the two things I miss most are getting around on my own and observing the changes in women's beachwear over the years."

War Without End

BEIRUT — (LENS) — Lebanon can now boast, if that is the word, of having in Beirut the most battle-scarred of all the Arab capitals. In the embattled suburbs it looks as if at least half the buildings have been damaged and a great many totally destroyed. In the business center, the damage is less than the impression given by press photographs or on television, because the camera lens is distortingly selective. Yet 650 shops have been burned or bombed out in downtown Beirut alone, and the loss to Lebanon to date is of the order of $2 billion.

The head of the merchants' association, trying to be optimistic, says it will take the country at least two years to recover.

Is the current ceasefire, the latest of more than a dozen, the peace of the brave, the peace of exhaustion, or merely a pause for replenishment? It is probably something of all three — and, as the renewed outbursts of fighting at mid-week showed, not fully peace anyway.

The earlier rounds of fighting were started by right-wing Christian Phalangists. In the fighting that led to the latest ceasefire it was Moslems and left-wingers who took the initiative. The Moslems were taking revenge for the burning down of a Moslem souk by the Phalange; they drew in their leftist allies, who in turn pulled in the leftist Palestinian groups of the Rejection Front, who oppose a settlement with Israel and are jealous of the prominence being achieved in Lebanon by Yasser Arafat.

The security forces did not try very energetically to prevent these groups from mauling a Christian souk. With accounts squared, and both sides bloodied, it became possible for the Syrians and the Palestinians once again to pressure their proteges into accepting a ceasefire.

The successive rounds of fighting have shown that neither side has been capable of improving its position on the ground in a major way. The Phalange has come out marginally better because it is a united force, it is better organized and it has generous suppliers of arms. The Palestinians, who outmatch the Phalange in firepower and efficiency, have been staying partly on the sidelines. The Phalange also has the stronger motivation — a deep-seated fear about the future of the Christian community.

Such fears lead inevitably to the idea of partition, but in the past few weeks that idea has been knocked down successfully by the hierarchy of the Maronite church, under the farsighted leadership of its patriarch, and by the secular leaders of the Maronite community. This left the Phalange with nothing positive to fight for; so exhaustion took its course.

The Phalange has for some time wanted to widen the Lebanese conflict, first by "Arabizing" it and then by making it an international issue. It has achieved the first through last week's meeting of Arab foreign ministers in Cairo. The Palestinians and Syrians declined to attend this meeting, partly because they feel it is an attempt by countries like Egypt and Iraq to get into the act and deprive the Palestinians and the Syrians of the credit they deserve for containing an explosive situation.

Legion launches 50th anniversary

OTTAWA (CP) — The Royal Canadian Legion is starting off its 50th anniversary year with what it calls an action program of public discussion on such themes as law and order, family structures and freedom of the press. Legionnaires' hope, during the next five years, to see legion-sponsored, community-based symposia give the "little guy" a chance to express his views.

Any consensus which might emerge from these meetings, sponsored by 1,800 legion branches across the country, will be relayed to government. The program, three years in creation and testing, was announced Monday by legion President Robert McChesney of Kirkland Lake, Ont., and other officials at a news conference. The action program indicates a greater emphasis on community involvement by a 460,000-member organization, whose primary aim has been somewhat diluted by the fact Canada has not been in a major war since Korea.

The legion, which has opened its membership to children and grandchildren of veterans, has been progressively more involved in community activities since the 1950s. The action program was described by Mr. McChesney and Robert Kohaly of Estavan, Sask., the man in charge of it. Legions across the country have been invited to hold public discussions on 14 items; law and order, drug abuse; capital punishment; parole; quality of justice; protection of citizens; civil liberties; decline of the family structure; freedom of the press; work ethics; foreign influence in Canada; environment; Canadian image; and the price of Confederation. The Legion will spend about $500,000 providing advance advertising, expert information on the subject and possibly speakers. Branches first will seek moderators who can bring out all forms of opinion from an audience and persons to express all points of view.

Both men acknowledged that the Legion image is conservative and that printed matter dealing with the action program tends along a conservative, law-and-order line. NEUTRAL ATMOSPHERE But they said they are not attempting to create that atmosphere and will make changes to overcome it. Feelings emerging from local branch meetings will be presented to government, even if the consensus went against legion policy.

Mr. Kohaly said the meetings will give the little guy, who might be frustrated because his feelings are not made known to government, a chance to express himself. He said that to get co-operation from experts and leaders in the country, the legion may call for repayment of thousands of IOUs it has across the country. There was a danger that members of the legion would consider the program an encroachment on the legion's rule on keeping out of politics. But they said the legion was willing to take that chance in the hopes of eventually improving the quality of life.

"It is only through public discussion that differences can be aired and resolved."

Poetry

"FROM OUR WINDOW"

The other day I heard a "thud"
 Upon a pane of glass
 I ran to see what it could be
 My heart a-beating fast!

On our driveway, lying still...
 A grosbeak — creamy-brown and yellow
 He'd hit the window, come to grief
 What a tragic little fellow.

My husband brought him in the house
 Warmly cupped in careful hands
 He lay so still, his heart beat slow
 We feared he'd surely "leave our land."

However, sometime later on
 His heart much stronger grew
 Then before long, his eyes flew wide
 And to his feet he wobbled, too.

Snugly wrapped in cloth so soft
 And warm milk down his quivering throat
 Soon he was hopping, hopping 'round
 Eager to take wing, and float.

He flew from gentle, friendly hands
 Into a nearby sheltering tree
 Perched there awhile, chirped "Goodbye"
 Then flew off bravely... whole and free.

A COSMIC CREED

With simple faith and active hand,
 I cry the meaning of the land;
 To every colour, every race
 I extend the same embrace
 I honour each religious creed
 And also those who feel no need;
 Knowing God's the same for all,
 True kindness answers any call.
 I place each class on moving history's shelf,
 And take each man for what he is himself.
 I hold that every being may love or sex reveal,
 And judge not in narrow limits
 What may be natural to feel.
 Though sympathy for some
 May prove against the grain,
 I'll try as best I can
 To ease the common pain.

US switches to hard line with Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (CP) — State Secretary Henry Kissinger's sudden switch to a tough line against the Soviet Union may be a subtle way of appealing to China while at the same time appeasing right-wing political forces at home.

The odd way in which he brought in the word "hegemonial" in expressing American resistance to those countries seeking expansion suggests he was deliberately using the same word China has often used in condemning Soviet foreign policy.

But now there are also questions whether Kissinger has complete power over U.S. foreign policy.

Many observers had been predicting a new, softer line toward the Soviets in the wake of the firing of tough-talking Defence Secretary James Schlesinger.

Among the questions being asked is whether the new line—calling for the Soviets to bridge the "chasm"—is a political move to placate powerful forces on the U.S. right which may have been resentful of Schlesinger's summary dismissal.

It is by no means the only question. Some also are asking whether the new line is an early triumph for Donald Rumsfeld, who moved from the White House to take over Schlesinger's job.

OUTLINED ROLES

President Ford, in his shakeup, stated that Kissinger's dominant role in foreign policy was determined by his responsibilities as state secretary. He said, also, this would be balanced in the military field by the dominant role of Rumsfeld in the defence department.

In other words, the two would be equal in foreign policy deliberations—a situation which did not exist when Schlesinger held the post.

Kissinger has stressed that the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) with the Soviets are not lagging because of any differences between the state and defence departments, although he acknowledged disagreement between Schlesinger and himself in the past.

He has stated in the past that if there is no new SALT agreement before the Soviet party congress in February, the possible retirement of Leonid Brezhnev and the U.S. presidential election campaign might play havoc with any further progress.

REVERSAL SEEN However, Kissinger's statement that there will be no further proposals on limiting nuclear weapons until the Kremlin comes up with a solid offer appears to reverse, to some degree, his previous views.

This leads to speculation whether this may indicate a further weakening of the state secretary's power.

Ford has stated repeatedly that the U.S. is under no pressure or time limit to conclude the negotiations. The question now is whether this new stand has been dictated to Kissinger against his stated beliefs.

Some analysts had predicted that Kissinger would press for a new SALT agreement as the crowning achievement of a brilliant career. Then, possibly, he would retire at the peak.

Their feeling now is that the abrupt turnaround—coupled with other recent in-house reverses for Kissinger—may be an indication that the secretary may be losing the president's ear.

Nixon's got Haldeman on his mind

WASHINGTON — In the seclusion of San Clemente, Richard Nixon is beginning to question whether his slavish former staff chief, H.R. "Bob" Haldeman, always leveled with him.

The questions have come up as Nixon has tried to patch together his memoirs. Without his presidential tapes and papers to jog his memory, he has had trouble reconstructing White House events.

He has started to question former aides to help refresh his memory. The deeper he has delved, the more he has wondered aloud whether Haldeman kept him fully informed about crucial matters.

While Nixon was President, he had a desire for solitude and a craving for an orderly environment undisturbed by trivial interruptions or interminable discord. He sought to encapsulate himself from unnecessary turmoil and to gain the information he needed by reading, not rapping.

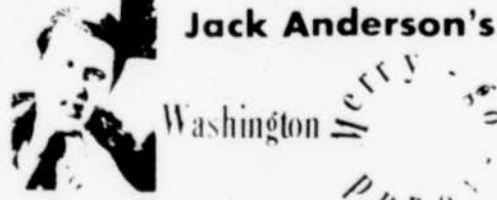

The hard-nosed Haldeman protected him from intrusions. Nixon has now begun to question whether he was overprotected. He has dropped remarks indicating he has deep misgivings about Haldeman.

Even before Nixon began doubting Haldeman, the tight bond that once linked these two men had been broken. They have not kept in touch with one another since Watergate sent Nixon into self-exile and threatens now to send Haldeman to prison.

The former President intends to invite Haldeman to San Clemente, nevertheless, to help him recall past events for his memoirs.

Footnote: Two former Nixon intimates, who won't be invited to San Clemente, are John Ehrlichman and Charles Colson. The former President has broken all contact with both men, according to our San Clemente sources.

Oil Buccaneers: From our oil notebook, here are more fascinating facts about those modern buccaneers, the oilmen, whose profits are more fabulous than the pirate treasures of the Blackbeard era.

— The world's No. 1 corporate power is Exxon, the supercorporation, whose $10.9 billion profit last year exceeded the annual budgets of most nations. Its corporate ruler, J. Kenneth Jamieson, is little known outside of the world's board rooms. Yet his $677,000 annual salary is more than triple what President Ford is paid. Exxon faces antitrust charges brought by Connecticut, Florida, Kansas and the Federal Trade Commission, not to mention three air quality violations, 45 environmental violations and 53 oil discharge violations.

— The multinational, multi-billion-dollar Texaco empire operates in 84 countries, with its own fleet of 205 tankers and 37,000 miles of pipeline. Last year, the company paid a scant 1.6 per cent federal tax on a $2.8 billion net profit. This means the American taxpayers indirectly helped to keep Texaco's executives in Cadillacs and their women in mink. The company is defending itself from more than 50 legal actions involving antitrust, ecology and pollution.

— Mobil also paid a 1.6 per cent federal tax last year on an even greater $3.6 billion net profit. Founded in 1866 as Vacuum Oil, Mobil is now deep into oil shale, natural gas, coal and solar power. This company, too, is defending itself from multiple environmental, water quality and antitrust charges.

— Gulf, the oil company of the fabulous Mellon family, ran up its profits a fantastic 440 per cent during the 1972-74 period. Last year, the company paid less than a 5 per cent federal tax on a $3.9 billion net profit. Some of the Mellons, with personal fortunes in the hundreds of millions, have managed to juggle their finances so that they sometimes pay no federal income taxes at all. Gulf is fighting environmental regulations, has been cited for environmental violations and is involved in illegal political contributions.

— Standard Oil of California by no means limits its operations to California. It is active in no less than 35 foreign countries, is also building a large tanker fleet. In 1973, the company was slapped on the wrist for monopoly practices in American Samoa. It has also been cited in antitrust cases.

— Only two of the Big Eight pay federal taxes worth mentioning. Last year, Standard Oil of Indiana paid an 18.2 per cent tax on a $1.7 billion net income. Shell paid a 28.6 per cent tax on a $903 million income. Yet even these taxes were far below the 49 per cent average corporate tax. Nor were the two companies so hard-pressed that they had to deprive their executives. Standard of Indiana paid its chairman, John Swearingen, a $476,000 salary last year. Shell's president Harry Bridges collected $410,000.

Here are additional oil notes: Conoco, with $7 billion in oil sales last year, is also the nation's biggest seller of bituminous coal... Phillips, once run by an American Indian, now operates in 16 countries and is involved in the North Sea explorations.

— Amerada Hess, a family firm run by Leon Hess, has boosted its profits an incredible 676 per cent since 1972... Getty Oil, owned by the aged playboy and art collector J. Paul Getty, has scored a 245 per cent profit increase since 1972.

Record Yesteryears
 45 Years Ago

MONTREAL — Jean Gregoire, described by Judge Lacroix in the Court of Sessions yesterday as "an incorrigible chicken thief" made the mistake of including a rooster in the flock of stolen poultry he was transporting through the streets at break of day in an automobile that was also stolen. The streaks of dawn lighting the eastern sky caught the rooster's eye and he crowed lustily. The "cock-a-doodle-doo" attracted the attention of Detective Lasnier of the Provincial Police and he took the travelling hen house and its proprietor to the police station. Yesterday, Gregoire was given four years in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary.

Clark-Bennett

In St. Peter's Anglican church, Sherbrooke at 4 o'clock on Saturday, August 9th, Helena Edythe Grace, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman C. Bennett of Lennoxville, was united in marriage to Mr. Bruce Douglas Clark, only son of Mr. and Mrs. George K. Clark of St. Lambert. Canon J.D.R. Franklin, assisted by Dr. Art VanSeters of Montreal, officiated at the double ring ceremony and celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

Mr. Morris Austin, organist, accompanied Mrs. Iris Laduke in her beautiful renditions of "O Perfect Love" which prefaced the Eucharist and "The Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register. Standards of white shasta daisies and fern decorated the chancel, arrangements of summer flowers adorned the altar and white satin bows marked the guest pews.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, chose a traditional floor-length white organza empire gown with venise lace motifs trimming the sheer yoke bodice, skirt and chapel train. A pearl-studded lace tiara supported the three-tiered elbow length veil of chantilly lace. She carried a cascade of burgundy sweetheart roses in an inverted triangle arrangement.

Mrs. Mabel Bennett, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, was in a "Priscilla of Boston" blue floor length gown of chiffon over taffeta, featuring long sheer sleeves with baby ruffle cuffs, a high neckline and empire waistline. She wore a shasta daisy in her hair and carried a casual cluster of marguerite daisies and yellow sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Mary Enright, Mrs. Esther MacLeod and Mrs. Barbara Yarnell, friends of the bride, as bridesmaids, wore gowns identical to that of the matron of honor. They carried casual clusters of marguerite daisies and adorned their heads with large shasta daisies.

The Rev. Brett Cane, a friend of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Mr. Keith Bennett, brother of the bride, Gary Comerford and Ted Ronberg, friends of the groom. The male attendants were attired in white shantung dinner jackets with notched lapels and black trim, side-striped black pants and ruffled dress shirts with black bow ties. Their blue boutonnières complemented the attendants' dresses.

Miss Shelley Bennett, six year old niece of the bride, was the flower girl. Her dress was identical in style and color to the gowns of the other attendants. In her hair, Shelly wore a shasta daisy and on her arm she carried a basket of yellow rose buds and marguerite daisies.

Master Jeffrey Bennett, five year old nephew of the bride, was the ring-bearer. He was attired in a black vest, black pants and a white ruffled shirt with long sleeves. Jeffrey carried a white heart-shaped satin pillow on which rested the wedding bands.

The bride's mother chose a sheer floor-length turquoise lace-trimmed coat over a sleeveless turquoise crepe gown, with matching shoes and picture hat. She wore a corsage of two-toned pink carnations.

The groom's mother wore a floor-length pastel green jersey crepe fashioned in empire style with a beaded bodice, long tapered sleeves and a victorian neckline. Mrs. Clark complemented her gown with white accessories and carried a two-tone pink carnations.

MR. and MRS. BRUCE DOUGLAS CLARK

Following the ceremony, the Holiday Inn hosted a dinner reception for 150 invited guests. The junior attendants, Shelley and Jeffrey, were in charge of the guest book and Mr. Keith Bennett assumed the responsibilities of prefect for the evening. The four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was made by the bride's parents and decorated by the bride and her mother, with white rose-buds and silver trim.

During the evening music was provided for dancing while the bride and groom prepared to leave for their two week honeymoon in Hawaii. The bride chose a two piece blue knit with shirring-detailed front with a notched lapel, on which she wore a translucent sapphire orchid. The groom chose a white safari suit with a rust ascot tie.

Guests attended from Hardwick, Vt.: Hampton Beach, N.H.; London, Smiths Falls, Bolton, Barrie, St. Catharines and Ottawa, Ont.; Quebec City, St. Lambert, Montreal, Inverness, Ste. Therese, Stanstead, Lennoxville and surrounding area.

After the rehearsal, on the eve of the marriage, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Clark entertained the bridal party and friends in the "Salle L'ecuyer" of the Le Baron Motel. During the party, the prospective bride and groom presented gifts to their parents and attendants, as tokens of appreciation.

Among those who entertained in honor of Helena's forthcoming marriage were: miscellaneous shower given by Miss Mary Neate and Mrs. Barbara Yarnell in Montreal; Jack and Jill party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Herb Simons and Mr. and Mrs. Reg Enright, in Lennoxville; miscellaneous shower given by the bride's aunts and cousins, Mrs. Helen Bailey and daughters and Mrs. Gertrude Robinson and daughters, in Lennoxville; Jack and Jill bathroom shower given by Mrs. Marilyn Bennett and Mrs. Nancy Bennett in Thornton, Ont.; Kitchen shower given by Mrs. Esther MacLeod in Sherbrooke; Dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Stewart in London, Ont.; Dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Wally Hemmings in St. Lambert; Presentation given by the staff at C.R.H.S. in Greenfield Park;

Presentation by the staff of Hanscomb-Roy and associates, Firm, at the Olympic Village Site. Upon their return from Hawaii, the Clarks took up residence in Greenfield Park, Que.

Help needed for shut-ins

By Polly Cramer

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — When my husband and I visited a friend in the hospital, we marveled at her narrow escape. She had fallen in her own home and since she lives alone she was not missed until a neighbor noticed her mail had not been picked up. The neighbor alerted the police. I wonder if there are any neighborhood groups concerned with elderly men and women who live alone. Perhaps a telephone committee could be organized to phone daily, or at least several times a week, just to talk and be assured of the well being of these stay-at-homes. Perhaps every few blocks could organize such groups to phone or stop in to see these shut-ins once in a while to bring news of the world, check on shopping needs or extra house cleaning. I would like to know if there are any such groups. — CLAIRE.

DEAR CLAIRE — I am sure such good work is being done in many places. Betty, my right hand helper, has several friends who belong to such a group in our city. They have lists of shut-ins and the elderly, whom they call and check on every day. The formation of such a group would certainly be rewarding work. — POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — One of my Pet Peeves is with people who walk up and down a moving escalator. I try to teach my child to stand still on one step for his own safety but it is tempting for him to move when he sees others doing it. — ETHEL.

DEAR POLLY — Many are now making Christmas gifts and I have an idea for a fairly inexpensive gift for a shut-in. Buy a wreath, and since this is the Bicentennial year, add a wide red bow with spools of red and blue thread in the center of the bow. Also attach a book of needles with large eyes. If you have any pretty scraps of material, send them along. Suggest they be used for making patchwork items since doing such work will make the hours roll by faster. — MRS. L.N.

DEAR POLLY — When there are grease stains on a rug I rub dry baking soda into the spots, leave it on overnight and then vacuum up the extra soda the next morning. The stains will have disappeared. — MARY S.

DEAR POLLY — Yesterday I went to a discount store with ten coupons for specials the store was offering during a sale. I would pick up a special and then lay the proper coupon on the item. When my shopping was finished and I went to the check-out counter, the checker said "What a wonderful idea. I wish everyone would do this since it helps so much." I plan to do the same thing at the grocery store. — MRS. W.W.S.

DEAR POLLY — Apply red fluorescent tape to your car keys and the flashlight you keep in the car. This makes them much easier to find in the dark. — MRS. W.R.K.

DEAR POLLY — Musty clothes closet odors can be removed by placing a pan of water with household ammonia added, on the closet floor overnight. — MRS. H.H.

Fashion and Beauty Tips

Color ahead
Brunettes who want to remain that way can still add color to their life. Tints being introduced to highlight darker hair include tones ranging from mulberry to deep damson. These are "plum" different.

Relaxing bath
Ease the day's tensions with a relaxing tub as with tiny bubbles from a milk bath preparation.

Homemade
Make your own fragrant, soothing dusting powder using corn starch. Put fragrant flower petals in container and fill container to brim with corn starch. Cover. Shake container several times during a day and also sift ingredients through a coarse sieve. Throw away old flowers and add new ones. Continue process for four to five days or until the fragrance is right.

Wrinkled knees
Exercise to tone knees and stave off wrinkles. Stand with feet slightly apart, gripping the floor. Try to raise heel off floor but resist for five slow counts. Relax and repeat several times. As an extra aid against wrinkling dryness rub on petroleum jelly at night.

Ann Landers says: I had it coming

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a 17-year-old girl who just read your reply to "Seen Plenty." I agree with you that parents can be too permissive with young, sexy daughters, but why didn't you say something to parents of teenage boys? I've "Seen Plenty" of them around and they could sure use some talking to.

Some guys in this town walk around with their jeans so low on their hips it's a disgrace -- belly-buttons showing, no shirts, als "four-fifths naked." I've seen guys walking the streets in bikinis no bigger than a diaper for a three-month-old baby. They are more like loincloths than bathing trunks.

My mother knows where I am and who I'm with every minute of my life. I also have to honor a curfew or get grounded. But my 16-year-old brother is never asked a single question -- like, "What were you doing until 2 o'clock this morning?"

I'm not criticizing you for suggesting that girls be kept in line, but I'm plenty bugged because you said nothing about boys. It's a real pleasure to spend an evening with a guy who has been taught to respect a girl and not have to fight him off every ten minutes or argue with him about keeping what belongs to me in the first place. Please be fair, Ann -- You Let Us Down In Riverside

Dear L.D.: Thanks for hauling me up short. I had it coming. Nothing I can say could be half as effective as your letter. I hope the parents out there give it the thought it deserves.

CONFIDENTIAL to What's With Him?: Never mind HIM. What's with you that you'd waste five years with a three-time loser who lives with his mother and needs to spend three evenings a week in a bar "solving life's problems" -- alone?

Update old-fashioned sweet rolls

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Homemade hot rolls for Sunday dinner is an old family tradition that is being revived in many homes. Passing such hot rolls around the table, even with a simple dish, brings back a real "down home" feeling for those sharing such a meal. It is all part of the bread baking revival. Keeping the past in mind update old-fashioned yeast rolls by adding spicy sweet potatoes and oats to the dough for more taste and texture.

- SWEET POTATO ROLLS
- 2 cakes compressed or 2 packages dry yeast
 - 1/2 cup lukewarm water
 - 1 cup milk, scalded
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 1 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 1 teaspoon nutmeg
 - 1 cup butter or margarine
 - 1 cup mashed cooked or canned sweet potatoes or yams
 - 5 to 5 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 - 1 1/2 cups quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked

Soften yeast in lukewarm water. (Use warm water for dry yeast.) Pour scalded milk over sugar, salt, cinnamon, nutmeg and butter in a large bowl. Add mashed sweet potatoes; beat until well blended. Stir in 1 cup flour and softened yeast. Add oats. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out onto lightly floured board or canvas. Knead until smooth and elastic, 8 to 10 minutes. Place in greased large bowl, turning to grease top. Cover; let rise in warm place until double in size, about 1 hour.

Punch dough down. Divide dough in half. Divide each half into 16 equal pieces. Shape each piece into a smooth ball.

DRESS UP old-fashioned yeast rolls with sweet potatoes, oats.

Place 16 rolls in each of 2 greased 9-inch square baking pans. Brush with melted or liquid shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place until nearly double in size, 25 to 30 minutes. Bake in preheated moderate oven 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 32 rolls.

Street punk to star

The philosophy of Tony Curtis

TONY CURTIS isn't looking back to Hollywood's good old days.

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — It's a curious thing about Hollywood. It takes a kid with little education, and makes him or her a big star. Over the years, by nobbling with the important people, that kid acquires a certain polish. After enough years, the kid considers himself or herself a philosopher.

Tony Curtis is Exhibit A. When he started, back in '49, he had been through the war and had barely made it in high school. He had been a tough teenager, narrowly escaping problems with the law. Hollywood took Bernie Schwartz, the New York hoodlum-elect, and made him Tony Curtis, idol of millions.

A quarter of a century later, as one of Hollywood's veterans, he is urbane, sophisticated and given to philosophical observations. He also has a new series, McCoy, now part of the NBC Sunday Mystery Movie group.

He and his current wife, Leslie, make their home in London, in a town house on Chester Square. That's a long way from the East Side of New York. And McCoy is an equally long way from the old days as a movie star.

He is not one to look back with nostalgia to the life he once led. To Curtis, the present is exciting.

"I am leading a unique and full and wonderful existence," he says. "I couldn't be having a better time. There are always opportunities to come up with some new information."

He was 22 when Universal signed him, and stuck him in a movie called "The Prince Who Was a Thief." As he — remembers it, it cost $220,000 and made $2.5 million. Naturally, that was enough for the studio to make him a star.

They built him up as a young male sex symbol. There were always reporters and photographers around his house. He remembers that when TV first came in, photographers, on orders from the studio heads, would cover his TV set in some way so it didn't show in the pictures. That was when Hollywood studios hoped that TV would go away.

"We're all changing every day," he says. "Our attitudes, our mores, everything changes. All the time. And yet some people still linger in that studio way of life of 20 years ago."

Curtis has changed along with most of the others. Now he feels that television is the only place for an actor to be.

"There's no other game in town any more," he says. "Anybody who says different doesn't know what he's talking about."

He thinks television is today's entertainment.

"I think TV today is excellent," he says. "McCloud is good, so is Kojak, so are a lot of them. Each show has its own number, its own look, its own sense."

He lets his children — he has custody of five of his six children, by three marriages — watch whatever they want. The only limitation is when one of them is "naughty," and then the child is deprived of TV.

"I think," he says, "it's a great mistake to hide things from children today. I let them see everything."

But he says there is one flaw on television.

"There is no really beautiful, slinky girl on TV," he says. "All they give us on TV are the ugs. There is a lack of sophistication — maybe it just hasn't been tried right. But I wonder why a woman cannot be a woman on TV? There are too many man-oriented shows."

He says he likes to look at attractive people on it — particularly female people.

His own show happened when, a year ago, he got a letter in London from Dean Hargrove in Hollywood. Hargrove enclosed the McCoy script. Would Tony consider doing it?

"I liked it," Curtis says, "but I thought I had another commitment, so I passed. NBC said they would wait with it until I was ready to do it. That perked up my interest. So I did it."

"It was a chance to develop an entirely new character. It's growing as we're going. The evolution is good. We are getting less obvious with our criminals, which makes it more interesting for the audience, I believe."

Curtis gets angry at suggestions that he is doing TV because he can no longer get movie parts. He says that argument has no validity, because he says he can do movies, and cites his starring role in last year's "Lepke." But he admits that today's features are being made for the younger age group, and good parts "for a man my age" are hard to come by.

This is his second series. His first was the English-made "The Persuaders," with Roger Moore, which has been a hit everywhere but here.

"There's no such thing as failure," he says, "philosophically. If something doesn't work, you try something else, that's all."

And he isn't looking backward, to his Hollywood heyday.

"No, I don't miss the old days," he says. "I remember them, but the past is gone. We were different people 20 years ago. Everything has changed — take pornography. If the porno films and magazines of today had existed then, Fatty Arbuckle would have been laughed at."

But he can look back with pride at his accomplishments, and he does.

"My old movies," he says, "are proof that I was there. My kids see my old movies. I like them all — some parts more than others, of course. I never went into a film as a tax shelter or because I had a commitment, but only because I felt it was a good part in a good film."

Still, he'd rather look ahead. One day, he would like to make his own movie — write it, direct it, star in it. And he wants to continue his painting and sketching. And some day build a ranch on a 200 acre hunk of land he owns between Los Angeles and San Diego.

Showbeat

Shipwrecked in a sea of criticism

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The men and women who run the rating services for TV shows have a problem this season — but they may not know it.

The problem is caused by the new family hour concept. Some shows designed for that time period are really kiddie shows. They are not meant to appeal to an adult audience, and yet the rating services are still using their same old sample. And critics are using their same old criteria.

"We've gotten bad reviews," says Martin Milner, of ABC's Swiss Family Robinson. "Forget the reviews and the ratings — we're a kiddie show and the kids love it."

"I hate critics," says Cameron Mitchell, who plays Jeremiah on the show. "I'd like to bomb the L.A. Times (whose critic gave the show a bad review). All the Times' critics like are shows about homosexuals."

Mitchell and the rest believe the show is doing what it intended to do — amuse the children. To that end, it is successful.

"I think," Mitchell says, "our show is important. It has good values for kids. The Waltons has good values, too, but I don't think they'd understand that show in Germany, for example, while we're selling all over the world. And here in the U.S., ABC has cleared 178 out of its 182 stations, which is remarkable."

The Swiss Family Robinson is the work of Irwin Allen, a veteran TV creator and producer, who also did such movies as "The Poseidon Adventure." He's an expert at building an action-packed show.

This series is a skillful work, well-produced and well-made, and it makes no pretense of being anything but what it is — a kid's show. Yet it takes a lot of time, effort and money to turn it out.

At the 20th Century-Fox studio, I watched them shoot a scene. They were in the family's island tree house. This is an exact duplicate of the tree house they have built at the Fox ranch, miles away. For each show, they shoot for seven days, usually five days at the ranch, two at the studio.

"I love the show," Mitchell says. "I like doing it because I like animals and I like kids. We've had a 600-pound Bengal tiger on the show, and goats and, of course, our parrot."

"I think everybody likes the idea of the show. All of us would like to get away from this crummy world. If I could find an island like the Robinsons found I'd go there today."

I think the question eventually will be why do they want to leave? They've found Paradise."

For Milner, after years as a cop on Adam-12, this is harder work in one way, easier in another.

"I like the costume I wear here a lot better," he says. "It's a lot more comfortable and it doesn't matter if it's a little wrinkled. But the work is much harder — twice as hard because the show is twice as long."

For all of them, it's a struggle at the moment. It always is, with a new show but this time they are pioneering a new concept. It's a show for children, but the ratings are still judging it as though it were for adults.

It isn't easy, being a pioneer.

Ask Dick Kleiner
A classy diva

By Dick Kleiner

DEAR DICK: Whatever became of Princess Yasmin, the daughter of Rita Hayworth and the late Prince Aly Khan? — MARY BOHUS, Taber, Alta., Can.

MARY's friends tell me that Yasmin is studying opera in New York. She comes out to Los Angeles frequently to visit her mother, however.

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me who sings the song on The Family Holvak, and if it's the same person who sang the song for the show, Sierra? — JERRY BRINK, Brush Valley, Pa.

Denny Brooks is the voice who sings The Family Holvak's theme. "Look How Far We've Come." And, yes, Brooks also sang the Sierra theme. Since both shows did poorly, maybe poor Denny will become known as "The Voice of Death."

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me where I could purchase a tape or record of the theme songs from M.A.S.H. and The Mary Tyler Moore Show? — MRS. L.K.F., Detroit, Mich.

It's going to be tough. The M.A.S.H. theme was once recorded on Capitol, but I'm told the record is out of print, and Capitol has no plans for re-issuing it. The M.A.S.H. people are trying to get somebody else to record it. As for Mary's theme, that tune, written by Sonny Curtis, has two recordings — a single by Sonny on Ovation, and as part of a Sammy Davis Jr. album of TV themes. Both are old, and may be hard to get. Your best bet is to try used record shops.

DEAR DICK: Regarding your comment about Mark Shera — "he's not Italian, he's Jewish" — let me say that you have fallen into the 2,000-year-old trap of confusing nationality and religion. There is no Jewish nationality. Your comment is as absurd as saying "he's not French, he's Protestant" or "he's not British, he's Catholic." There is no Protestant nationality, no Catholic nationality, no Jewish nationality. EUGENE ZWEIG, Southfield, Mich.

I sit corrected. You are absolutely right. I shall try to keep my foot out of that trap in the future.

DEAR DICK: In 1935, I saw a movie in which the song, "When I Grow Too Old to Dream" was featured. Do you know the name of the movie, who starred in it, and is it still around? I would like to see it on TV. — MRS. C.C. LEATHERMAN, Ponca City, Okla.

That beautiful song came from the '35 film, "The Night Is Young," starring Ramon Novarro, Evelyn Laye, Charlie Butterworth and Una Merkel. I doubt you'll see it again on TV; it's 40 years old and that's too old for TV.

DEAR DICK: How did David McCallum become invisible, or is it true? — DARREN MACRAE, Kensington, P.E.I., Can.

Are you pulling my visible leg? Nobody can become invisible at least not yet. If you're referring to how the trick is done on TV, they use a process called Chroma-Key. If you mean, how did the character he plays become invisible, he supposedly discovered a system of breaking down molecular energy. Basically, it's supposed to be the same gizmo by which the Star Trekkers transport themselves from space ship to planet.

DEAR DICK: Can you please tell me the height of Johnny Carson and Jack Palance? — KAREN LAWSON, Pueblo, Colo.

Johnny is listed at 5 foot 11. Jack at 6 feet 4. No matter how you slice it, Jack is taller.

DEAR DICK: Could you please tell me why Rose Marie of the Hollywood Squares always wears that black ribbon bow in her hair? — CATHERINE DAVIS, Grove Hill, Ala.

I asked her producer who said, facetiously, "It keeps her hair on her head." So I asked Rose Marie who said, "I've never told anyone. It's a very personal thing that I'd rather not talk about."

DEAR DICK: I have three questions about the show, Movin' On. Was the show moved to the east because Frank Converse disliked the west? In last year's shows, wasn't Sonny's last name spelled Pruett, instead of Pruitt? And what color are Claude Akins' eyes? — DONNA WILSON, West Texas City, Tex.

First, the move East was simply to give them a change of scenery. Second, you have good eyes. In the pilot, the name was Pruett, but whoever painted the name on the truck misspelled it so everything had to be changed to conform to the misspelling. Third, very blue.

UCW meeting

BISHOPTON — Mrs. Oral Downes entertained the Bishopton U.C.W. at a dessert meeting.

Mrs. Rufus Stevenson opened the meeting with the Purpose, U.C.W. Creed and the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. S.N. Bishop led the Devotional period with a Thanksgiving theme.

Roll call was answered by nine members repeating a Bible verse.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

Mrs. Ralph Gilbert gave the financial report.

Correspondence was read by Mrs. Ralph St. Pierre, a thank you from the Optimist Club for a donation to the dental clinic, a thank you for a donation to the 50th anniversary of the United Church Fund and a letter from Mrs. Mary Smith.

Four members attended the Fall Rally at Bury and reported an interesting day.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Rufus Stevenson.

The meeting closed with the Benediction.

Card Parties

MELBOURNE — The Melbourne Townships Youth Center held their first card party of the season in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church hall on Thursday evening, October 23 when Mr. and Mrs. R. Westman were host and hostess for the evening. This was the first in the series of five parties to be held, one every week. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed.

Prizes were won by - Ladies 1st - Mrs. L. Beattie; 2nd - Mrs. V. Dumont; Consolation - Mrs. M. Jameson. Gents 1st - Albert Doyle; 2nd - Trenholm Nelson who had to draw for first place. Consolation - Thomas Gilchrist.

The door prize was won by Mrs. L. Beattie. At the close of the evening refreshments given by the parents of the young people, and a social time was enjoyed by all.

The second in the series of card parties given by the Melbourne Townships Youth Center was held in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church hall on Thursday evening Oct. 30, with a good given by Mrs. Sicard, was won by Mrs. H. Smith. Short articles were read by the Convenors.

Names were drawn for the members to exchange small Christmas gifts, at the next meeting. A few other items of business were discussed, after which the meeting adjourned.

Mrs. M. Hilliker, Convenor of Health and Welfare, then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Geo. Courville who gave a very interesting talk on the new Nursing Home which they expect to soon have open. Following this, she was thanked by Mrs. Hilliker and presented with a gift.

Delicious refreshments were served by hostesses Mrs. L. Maynes and Mrs. H. Smith.

The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Maynes.

are the proud parents of a baby girl Allison, born at Maisonneuve Hospital on Oct. 16, mother and dad doing fine. Needless to say Allison is wonderful.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Phelps and daughter Heather of Greenfield Park were guests of Mr. Phelps' sister Mrs. Doris Wescott and other relatives.

Mr. Robert Blakeslee is on an extended trip to Sweden, in the interests of his company.

Several members of the Eastern Star, Maple Leaf

Chapter 2 of Stanbridge East attended the banquet in the Le Baron Hotel, Sherbrooke recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Barnum of Toronto, former residents of this community celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary on November 13. The best wishes of their many friends from here go out to them.

Mr. Donald Laduke of Tilton, N.H. was a recent guest of Mrs. Ruby Moore and of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Laduke for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Otis of Hartford, Conn. were also visiting Mrs. Moore.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gage gave a family dinner for the Gage family. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Belisle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Gage and Holly, also Rosemary and Floyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bracey have sold their riverside cottage to Mr. Neil Rhicard who has taken immediate possession.

Stanbridge East has a new look these days. The town council is to be congratulated on having new cement sidewalks built along the length of the main street from the I.G.A. store to Rhicard's Corner and from the bridge, around the corner to the museum driveway. The Quoibion Construction Co. of Sabrevois did an excellent job.

The old sidewalks were completely removed, a new base put in and an ample depth of cement used on top.

The top of the walks are raised seven inches above the level of the pavement, thus eliminating any more parking on the sidewalk. The townspeople can now look forward to next summer, when there will be no more unsightly weeds and low brush growing between the pavement and the sidewalk, at least where the new walks have been built.

Again congratulations for a job well done and it goes to show what can be accomplished by a bit of agitation at the proper time.

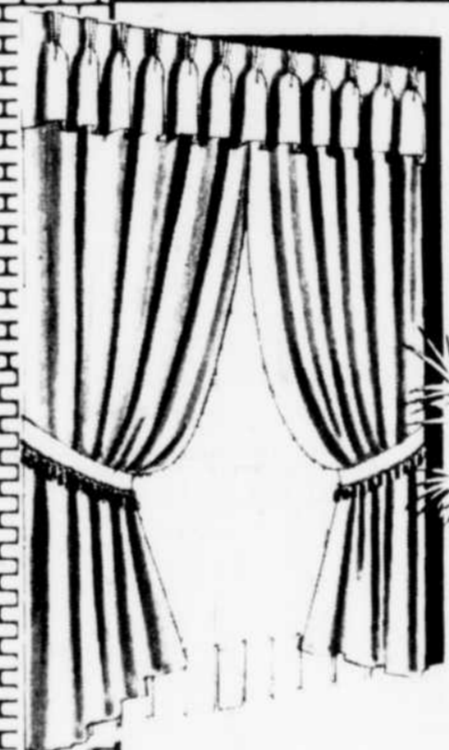

There was only one change here in the Municipal council. Mayor Donald Blinn was unopposed, as were councillors Graham Neil and Louis Senkerik. John Vanherck replaces Scotty McCulloch who did not choose to run for a second term.

UEL holds semi-annual meeting

BEDFORD — The semi-annual meeting of the Sir John Johnson Branch of the United Empire Loyalists was held in the United Church Hall at Bedford recently with 35 members in attendance.

The UEL group assembled in the hall and marched in a body to the United Church and attended the morning service conducted by Rev. Keith Eddy, who preached a fine sermon, which was listened to very attentively by the large congregation. Although Rev. Eddy is a comparative newcomer to the Bedford Charge, he has gained a remarkable amount of historical knowledge of this part of the country. His sermon touched principally on the pioneers who settled here. In fact he emphasized this point to the large Sunday School class which attended.

Rev. Eddy is writing a book about the old stone church at Phillipsburg, which is 156 years old.

The book will mainly concern Samuel Embury and other Loyalists who helped build the church. This church was the first Methodist church to be built in the Province of Quebec, 1819 Samuel Embury was a Class Leader and the first preacher to hold service in this distinctive old edifice. Rev. Eddy will be very pleased to have anyone contact him who has any knowledge of the building of Phillipsburg Methodist Church. Many founders of this church were Loyalists who came to Canada via Lake Champlain after the American Revolution to show their loyalty to the British Crown. Samuel Embury was most prominent among them.

The UEL meeting was very pleased to have present Mrs. Frances Embury Harris, a descendant of Samuel Embury, and Mrs. Phoebe Hyde, descendant of his sister, Catherine Embury.

Following the service the UEL members repaired again to the Church Hall and partook of a box lunch. The ladies of the church served coffee which was greatly appreciated. After lunch the meeting was called to order by the President, Mrs. Gwendolyn Fuller, and all joined in by singing O Canada. A report of the annual meeting held on June 7th at the United Church in Phillipsburg was read by Murray Mason, as well as the report of the annual picnic held on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Don McCallum's at Noyan. The treasurer's report was given by Stuart Hawke and showed a very satisfactory balance. The June 21st outing at Don McCallum's place on a lovely June day proved very enjoyable as well as a visit to Rev. Keith Eddy's home in Phillipsburg.

The report of the annual meeting at the UEL Headquarters in Toronto was given by Mrs. Joyce Bradford who attended as a representative of this branch and proved very interesting. A cable from Sir John Johnson of London, Eng. wishing the meeting good success was then read by Mrs. Fuller. The last report of the archivist, Mrs. Ruby Moore, who has resigned due to failing health was also given. One new member in the person of Mr. Chester Adams of Clarenceville has been accepted since the last meeting but he was unable to be present to receive his certificate. A Life Membership Certificate for the branch was suggested by Mrs. Ruby Moore and Mrs. Fuller is going to design a suitable card. Mrs. Moore has received a cheque of $30. from the French Network of the CBC for an interview she gave them pertaining to the UEL and has donated it towards the cost of printing these certificates.

Chas. McCaw read an article from Dominion Headquarters in regard to a new yellow form for Loyalists to fill in.

These new forms will provide a more detailed report on the ancestors of the UEL members. Mr. McCaw went to considerable length to explain the purpose of these new forms. Further notice regarding them will appear in local papers.

Mr. McCaw also gave a report on the progress made in cataloguing the Pigeon Hill Cemetery. About one third of the more than 700 stones have been done and he is in hopes of volunteers to complete the task next summer. Tom Baker has single handedly completed cataloguing all the stones in the Phillipsburg Cemetery which is also one of the largest in the country.

Messages of good wishes were sent to Miss Julia Wehr and Miss Mabel Westover, the two oldest members, who were unable to be present. Mrs. Phoebe Hyde of Como, Que. extended an invitation to the branch to hold their annual picnic at her home next summer.

A vote of thanks was given the ladies of the church for the use of the hall and for their hospitality and a cheque to cover costs was given them. The meeting closed with the singing of "God Save The Queen" with Andrew Johnson at the piano.

Following closing of the meeting, the members proceeded to the Cornell Museum at Stanbridge East where many members had brought antiques which were displayed in the library. Each person who had brought articles was then called upon to give a short talk concerning same. This proved to be a very worthwhile finale to a most successful meeting and brought forth much favourable comment.

On conclusion, an appeal is again made to anyone whose ancestors came to Canada previous to 1797 to contact Chas. McCaw, Sutton, Que. who will assist them in filling out their application for membership in the UEL. There must be many especially in the Eastern Townships who could apply.

Obituaries

JOHN T. FALLONA
of Portland, Maine

John T. Fallona, age 77 years, of 1500 Forest Ave., Portland, Me., died unexpectedly on Thursday, November 6, 1975 at a local hospital, following a long illness.

He was born on May 18, 1898, in Melbourne, Que., son of the late Patrick Fallona and Catherine Kelley.

He attended Quebec schools and came to Portland in 1923. He was employed as a construction superintendent with F.W. Cunningham & Son for over 40 years.

Mr. Fallona was a communicant of St. Joseph's

Church and a member of the 60-Plus Club and of the Falmouth Volunteer Fire Department.

Besides his wife, the former Clarinda C. Hyde, Mr. Fallona leaves two sisters, Mrs. M. Dalton of Richmond, Que., and Miss Rose Fallona of New York, N.Y., as well as a niece and several nephews.

Funeral was held at 9:15 a.m. on Monday, Nov. 10 at 749 Congress St., with a Mass of Christian Burial at 10:00 a.m. in St. Joseph's Church. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery.

MRS. E. LANCASTER of Richmond

The residents of Richmond were shocked at the sudden death of Georgina Victoria Lancaster on August 24, 1975, at the Sherbrooke Hospital.

She was born in St. Remi D'Amherst, Que., on April 26, 1912, daughter of the late George Lancaster and his wife, the late Victoria Davidson.

She was married to Ernest Lancaster on Feb. 21, 1933. Of this marriage five children were born.

She was a well known seamstress in the Richmond area and the many beautiful floral tributes were a silent token of the esteem in which Georgie was held by her many friends near and far.

The remains rested at the J.H. Fleury Funeral Home, Richmond, where prayers were said, followed by the service at St. Anne's Anglican Church. The hymns, Nearer My God to Thee and The Rough Wooden Cross were sung by the choir.

Burial took place in Davidson Hill. The members of the Spooner Pond W.I. formed a body and preceded the casket into the church. An honor guard of W.I. members was formed outside the church.

The bearers, all brothers-in-law, were Donald McArthur, John Phillips, Franklin Lancaster, Thomas Lancaster, Douglas Biggs and Roy Davidson.

She leaves to mourn her husband Ernest, three daughters, Joan, Mrs. William Brock of Westlock, Alta., Norma, Mrs. Paul Morin, Montreal, Mona Lee, Mrs. Gerald McGee, Richmond and two sons, Hughie of Melbourne and Raymond of Richmond, 12 grandchildren, one brother and seven sisters.

She also leaves to mourn, two daughters-in-law and three sons-in-law. Two brothers and two brothers-in-law predeceased her.

Relatives and friends attended the funeral from Richmond, Melbourne, St. Felix de Kingsey, South Durham, St. Christine, Montreal, Magog, Windsor and Rutland, Vt.

Compton Co. W.I. extend sympathy

It is with deep regret that we have learned of the sudden passing of Mrs. Edyth Westover, Provincial President of the Quebec Women's Institute, on Sunday, Nov. 9, 1975. Sincere sympathy is extended to her family and friends in their bereavement from the Compton County Women's Institute members and friends.

Armistice Service held

COOKSHIRE — The weather being ideal, a large number of the townspeople attended the Armistice Day service which was held in the town park on Sunday, Nov. 9, at 11:30 a.m.

The veterans assembled at the town hall parking ground, and marched to the cenotaph. They were led by Major M. Mowle and the color party and East Angus Majorettes made up the rest of the parade.

O Canada was sung to open the service, and it was closed with God Save the Queen.

The Rev. A. Fairbairn and Father Turcotte gave short prayers at the cenotaph. Osborne Matthews, vice-president of the War Veterans, read the list of names of the fallen heroes.

War Veteran, Sam Vermette, unveiled the new monument, which is placed adjacent to the old one, and the Rev. A. Fairbairn dedicated the new monument.

An address was given by the new mayor of the town, Mr. Jacques Therberge in French and English. Dr. Lepine explained the reason for having another monument, and how space had been left to place the names of those who were eligible in the future.

Wreaths were placed at the foot of the cenotaph by the town, the veterans, various organizations and by some individuals.

The Reveille and the Last Post were played by a young trumpeter.

The group then paraded to the Legion Hut, where refreshments were served.

Though Mr. Tracy is blind, I am not sure as to whether or not this has impaired his vision.

As it says on the cover of his book "Collected Poems," he has the ability to see clearly and to express the vision of outer and inner eye with precision, grace, and blunt honesty and that's what the book is about.

WI meeting

STANBRIDGE EAST — The monthly meeting of Stanbridge East Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon, Nov. 6 at St. James Church Parish Hall with 23 members and two guests present. The motto for the meeting was "Civility costs nothing and is worth everything."

The president, Mrs. Short opened the meeting in the usual way, welcoming the members and guests, Mrs. Griffiths, a former president of the Branch and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. R. Wanzer. Members were wearing a Poppy in remembrance of those who "shall not grow old" and the Hymn of All Nations was sung.

The roll call "In a few words give your impression of International Women's Year" brought more negative than 'pro' responses, though several good points were given and hopes that the wheels of justice would turn faster in women's favor would follow as a result.

The minutes of the October meeting and Arts & Crafts Display were read by the secretary, Mrs. Symington.

Correspondence included a letter of thanks from Mr. Stocks, chairman of the Nesbitt Residence, for gifts donated to the Annual Sale at the Residence, also an invitation to the 65th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Calno Primmerman which will be celebrated in St. James Church Parish Hall, Stanbridge East, on Nov. 15, from 2:30 - 5 p.m., "no gifts" by request.

Results of the Arts & Crafts Display and Tea for CanSave were given by the treasurer, Mrs. J. TenEyck, as $30.15. It was voted to send $1.00 to the Hoodless Homestead Year, as requested.

Convenors' Reports: Agriculture, Mrs. Riordon read an interesting article on the Energy Crisis - what it entails and comprises. The object of agriculture is to feed the world and vast amounts are produced by the farmers.

Citizenship: Mrs. Shepardson reported that she took 185 UNICEF boxes to the local school, which comprises grades IV-VII. Stanbridge East and Butler Elementary Bedford Schools, the receipts being $117.50. This was the largest amount ever collected and the Institute wishes to thank all those who carried UNICEF boxes on Hallowe'en night, showing their concern for those children less fortunate than themselves.

Education: Mrs. C. Harvey reviewed the book "Family Happenings in Missisquoi County", the authoress being one of our members, Ruby Laduke Moore.

Home Economics: Mrs. Corey advised everyone present, especially the younger members, to ask questions of their parents, grandparents or any elderly acquaintances, while they are still here, concerning their ancestors. She also gave a list of edible plants such as dandelions, fiddleheads, milkweed, marsh marigold, and even burdock, when picked as it is shooting up out of the earth.

Publicity: Mrs. Tremblay read the report of the annual F.W.I.C. Board meeting and plans for the 1976 National Convention to be held in Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Welfare & Health: Mrs. J. Moore had listened to Minister Marc Lalonde telling of the increase of the new vaccine for 'Flu' which will make Quebec the largest producer in Canada.

A donation of material for making stuffed toys for the Mentally Retarded Home, Bedford, had been received. Thanks are to be sent the donor.

The program for this month being Citizenship, Mrs. Shepardson, convener, had invited Charles Bockus, Customs Officer, Frelighsburg, and president of the Royal Canadian Legion, Phillipsburg Branch, as guest speaker.

He first thanked Mrs. Shepardson for inviting him and congratulated the Branch on our work. He introduced his talk by a tape recording of a talk he gave at Phillipsburg United Church last Armistice. He then spoke to us on what the Legion is doing in our community and on why he is a Legionnaire. After his talk he asked for questions from the members and guests. His answers and talk gave us a much better understanding of the Legion and the wonderful work it does not only for the veterans and their families but also for the young people through the sports program, Boy Scouts and many others, old or in need, supplying wheel chairs, beds, crutches and many other services on occasion.

He was given a hearty round of applause and thanked by Mrs. Tait, who also presented him with a small gift as a token of our appreciation.

UCW meeting

BIRCHTON — As the clock hands neared eight o'clock on the evening of November 5, a goodly number of the local ladies arrived at the home of Mrs. W. Oliver Todd, where, after gracious greetings by the hostess, the President, Mrs. Howard Picard, opened the meeting with the Purpose being repeated in unison.

Mrs. Murdo MacKinnon read Psalm 46, after which she enlarged on the opening theme, "God is our refuge and our strength", followed by an article on "The Power of God", referring to the sacrifice made by our Canadian Forces, with prayer as closing.

Routine business was disposed of: Welfare asked that articles be left with Mrs. M. MacKinnon in the near future; a large number of packages for the cancer cupboard were handed over to Mrs. Stanley Logan who will deliver them before the Christmas distribution.

Plans were drawn up for refreshments for the rockers at the Rock-a-thon.

After much discussion, it was voted to send $100.00 to the Anniversary project, Afflicted Children of the World, $25.00 to the work of the local Sunday School; the Nominating Committee was reminded to have the slate at the December meeting, which will be at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Nutbrown on December 3, and an Anniversary Spoon was given to Denis James Taylor.

The Presbytery delegate, Mrs. Picard, gave a short talk on her three days there.

Mrs. Nutbrown and Mrs. Nick Turcyn were appointed to look into the purchasing of a new electric stove for the Hall kitchen.

For programme, Mrs. Basil Prescott and Mrs. Stanley Logan with Questions and Answers on SI (System International) i.e. Metric System, "interesting and educational" they said in introduction.

The Group expressed their pleasure that the local merchant, Nick Turcyn, won the councillor-for-Seat-one election. He and Merlin Harvey, another local resident, will make a good team with the other council members of the Eaton Municipality.

After the close of business, the hostesses served tasty refreshments, when a social hour was enjoyed.

Card Party

MELBOURNE — The Melbourne Townships Youth Center held the third in a series of card parties in the Melver Hall of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Upper Melbourne on Thursday evening, Nov. 6, when 14 tables of cards were played.

Prizes were won by Ladies 1st: Mrs. Marion Jameson; 2nd: Mrs. May Stimson, consolation: Mrs. Ethel Wilkins.

Gents 1st: Trenholm Nelson; 2nd: Gordon Healy; consolation to Danny Enright.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Gordon Healy.

At the close of a very pleasant evening, refreshments were served.

Champlain Cougars meet Rosemount CEGEP for Provincial title

LENNOXVILLE (BP) — With an improved win-loss record over last season, the Champlain Regional College football Cougars will try for one final victory before they hang up their cleats for the year — the provincial championship.

The Cougars, presently sporting a hefty eight win, no loss record will face Rosemount CEGEP Saturday in Lennoxville for the Quebec 'A' section title, trying for the honor for the second time since their inception last year.

In last year's battle against La Pocatiere CEGEP, the Cougars were defeated 20-13 to give them a seasonal record of five wins and three losses against league teams.

The Champlain squad has overwhelmed the opposition equally, or more, than they did last year, including their 55-0 divisional championship triumph over St. Georges de Beauce Condors.

Dave Henderson and Steve Bely were the stars of the title game. Henderson scampered into the St. Georges end zone three times for touchdowns and Bely, after rushing for only 39 yards at the half, sparked the Cougars' offensive drive with 218 yards on the ground in the third and fourth quarters.

Bely scored what eventually was the winning TD early in the first quarter, and that major was complemented by Chris Mitchell and himself, along with three converts by Mark Winokur and a single to give Champlain a 22-0 half-time edge.

In the second half, Henderson scored his third major, while Mitchell picked up his second. Other touchdowns for CRC were made by Dan Dubois, Bely and Barry McCormick. Winokur converted three more TDs in the last half.

Coach Tom Allen of Champlain termed his team's play in the opening half of the game "terrible", despite their 22 point lead, but stated the holes in the St. Georges line were "just incredible" in the second half. It was in the latter half that the offensive line really went to work, he added, allowing for Bely especially to chalk up another big running game.

The Cougars seemed to have everything going for them, besides the basic statistics. Along with the 359 yards rushing and 169 passing, they picked off five Condor passes and recovered a couple of fumbles St. Georges, on the other hand, moved the ball 74 yards on the ground and 49 in the air.

Bely's 257-yard performance added to his 1,000-yard plus season rushing record to bring it to a seven game total of 1,258. He has scored 18 touchdowns in those seven matches.

Other rushers made a few yards, but nothing as spectacular as Bely. Dan Dubois ran for 56 yards and Dave Henderson collected 24 yards. In pass receiving, Henderson led the team with 94 yards in four catches, while Greg Suito and Aaron Skolnik chalked up 30 and 25 yards respectively. Quarterback Dave Jardin completed seven passes in 15 attempts for the 169 yard total.

In comparison, the leading rusher for the Condors made 24 yards in 12 carries and their top receiver pulled in two of three passes for 34 yards.

Champlain made a name for themselves last season when they went into the provincials without having completed their first grid season in the province. Their loss to La Pocatiere was disappointing, but left them one step higher to reach for this season.

The Cougars' no loss record after eight games, shows either that the Champlain squad has improved over last year's team or that the competition in their section is getting weaker.

General opinion has it that the Cougars are getting better and a victory against Rosemount on Saturday would likely push them into the elite three-team 'AA' league for Quebec CEGEPs.

Cougars coach Allen is optimistic his team can take the year with an unblemished total but adds that Rosemount should give his squad a better run than the teams played so far.

Rosemount completed their regular season with two players topping their league in their categories. The Cougars will have to be extra careful of Andre Larose, who led the league in rushing and scoring, and quarterback Rene Garneau, who was the best passer in their circuit.

The Cougars will be on the lookout for both rushing and passing games from Rosemount, but the local squad can also cause a few headaches in those departments.

Champlain fans may not see the accustomed 40 or 50 point difference in Saturday's contest, but the Quebec championship promises still to be an exciting finale to the season.

The opening kickoff is at 1 p.m. at the Bishop's University stadium in Lennoxville. For this game, league rules state an admission charge of $1 per person must be levied. The money collected will help defray costs of the championship game.

Danville dumps Lennoxville

40-12 to win ETTFL crown

DANVILLE — For the second consecutive year Danville has captured the ETTFL championship last Sunday afternoon in Danville when they trounced Lennoxville 40-12.

In the first quarter Danville intercepted a pass to set up their first scoring play which was a long pass from Mike Williams to M. Daillaire for six points. The attempted single to Bob Gartshore was completed.

A few plays later Danville again scored by means of the long pass with the same combination of Williams to Daillaire. The attempted single point was scored by M. Boisvert.

Lennoxville briefly got back into the game when late in the first half Barry Badger scored on a 30-yard pass from Johnny Daniel. The attempted comeback was shortlived as Danville scored a few plays later on a pass from Williams to J. Boisvert for a comfortable 20-6 half-time lead.

Action in the second half was an almost identical repeat of the first two quarters as Danville clicked on the long pass for three more touchdowns by M. Daillaire, with one, and M. Boisvert, with two. Single points were scored by Bourassa and Boisvert.

Lennoxville's last scoring play came on a 20-yard pass from Daniel to K.O. Mullin for the final score of the game which ended 40-12 in Danville's favor.

Sports Brief

PETERS NAMED
BALTIMORE (AP) — Henry J. Peters, president of baseball's minor leagues since 1971, has been named executive vice-president and general manager of Baltimore Orioles effective Dec. 15, the American League baseball team announced Monday. Peters, 51, who succeeds Frank Cashen, was head of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues.

TOSSES FIRST STONE — Cecile Joyal, president of the Ladies Border Curling Club, is seen getting set to toss the first stone to officially open the 1975-76 season. Watching is James Masson, club president.

Border Curling Club opens

BORDER (IH) — The Border Curling Club opened their season with a special New Members Bonspiel on Nov. 5 with a total of 28 rinks taking part in the opening games.

Last Saturday play continued and following the games an oyster party was held. This Saturday the finals are on tap and it will be followed with a dance with music by Cliff Hall and Aubin Brass.

It is encouraging to the executive that several new people are interested who visited the club these past two weeks with either the thought to become curling members or social members, all to enjoy the club house.

The Ladies League starts Monday, November 17, with curling each Monday night with lots of socializing, playing cards, enjoying the stereo music now installed for "instant music", watching TV and enjoying each other.

The same applies for the Men's League that gets underway November 19. There will also be mixed curling Thursday and Friday evening starting November 19 and 20.

The New Year's Eve dance is planned and tickets are selling well. Members have first crack at the tickets until December 1, then they will be sold to the public. This year the evening will include dancing to start at 9:30 p.m. and continue to 1:30 a.m. with music by the Green Gems. There will be snacks and favor throughout the evening with breakfast at 2:00 a.m.

This dance is being limited to 60 couples. Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. Irene Hodge, Mrs. Helen Edgar, Mrs. Anne Emslie and Mrs. Faith Olson.

There will be another season of Junior Curling under the chairmanship of Donald Emslie and his committee, who will instruct and arrange bonspiels. Any youngsters interested, boys and girls, may contact Mr. Emslie, or at the club house, the custodian, Ralph Munroe.

The executive is determined to give all persons interested a good season of curling and for non curlers, other enjoyments.

Barry Gage Memorial Trophy to be presented by friends

STANBRIDGE EAST — The Barry Gage Memorial Trophy will be awarded annually to the "Outstanding Stanbridge East Teenager" in memory of Barry Gage.

The trophy has been created by his family and a group of friends, to honor each year a local teenager who portrays the qualities of sportsmanship and citizenship that is felt that Barry Gage stood for.

To be eligible an individual, (boy or girl) must be 13 to 19 years of age, demonstrate in his (or her) daily life good sportsmanship, honesty, a respect for, and willingness to help others. He (or she) should be making a contribution to the community through his (or her) efforts in sports recreation, his (or her) church or other community.

Anyone may make a nomination. The name along with relevant information as to the individual's character and contributions must be handed in writing to the Vice-President of the Sports Association, John Butler by 6 p.m. November 14, 1975.

The final selection is made by the Stanbridge East Sports Association (members in regular attendance) at their final meeting prior to this Annual Awards Banquet.

The award will be presented at the Stanbridge East Awards Banquet to be held at the Memorial Hall, November 21, 1975.

United States wins top honors in National Horse Show with fine display

NEW YORK (CP) — The United States had the horsepower and Rodney Jenkins and that was more than enough to dominate the National Horse Show, including Tuesday night's Grand Prix of New York, the last of the international jumping events.

Jenkins, a professional rider, put on another of his patented finishes, guiding Number One Apy cleanly over nine fences to win the jumpoff as the last rider and take the $1,500 first-prize money.

For Jenkins, the leading individual rider, it was the fifth win of the eight-day show in international jumping, bringing his final total of points to 60.

The U.S. captured seven of the 10 international classes, including the prized team event, the Nations Cup, and Australia's one-man team, Kevin Bacon, won two jumping events. The other went to Frank Selinger of Calgary.

Only Terry Leibel of Oakville, Ont., riding Merchant of Venice, reached the jumpoff for the Grand Prix with a clean round, but she faulted on one fence and finished sixth.

CANADA FOURTH

The U.S. was the runaway winner of the team title with 143 points and France a distant second with 42. Australia finished third with 37 points and Canada was fourth with 34. Then came Poland with 15 and Belgium's one-man team, Eric Wauters, with 11.

Elder will be captain of the Canadian team at the Royal Winter Fair where the show starts Friday. Miss Leibel also will join the team along with Moffat Dunlap of Newmarket, Ont., and Ian (Torchy) Millar of Perth, Ont.

Millar, a native of Halifax, is recovering from a broken arm suffered in a training accident at the Pan-American Games in Mexico City last month.

Ken Dryden has easy time Blanks North Stars 6-0, Rangers lose again

Goaltender Ken Dryden of Montreal Canadiens found the going a little too easy in registering his second shutout of the season Tuesday night, a 6-0 waltz over Minnesota North Stars in one of four National Hockey League games.

"I'd like to be able to say I had a difficult shot to stop, but I can't," said Dryden, who faced only 14 Minnesota drives. "I can't just invent shots that weren't there."

In other games, St. Louis Blues dumped New York Rangers 5-3, Vancouver Canucks edged Toronto Maple Leafs 3-2 and California Seals clipped Los Angeles Kings 3-2.

Dryden was called upon to make three saves in the first period and two in the second before the North Stars opened up with nine shots in the final frame at Montreal.

"Of course, you have to take shutouts, because that's a goal that goaltenders are always trying to reach, but I must say I don't hold much satisfaction in this one," Dryden said. "It would have been very hard for us not to get a shutout tonight." MANIAGO EM-BARRASSED

Minnesota goalie Cesare Maniago stopped and then watched trickle past him. Lafleur was honored before the game with Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion as the only Canadiens ever to score 50 goals in a season. Richard scored 50 in 50 games in 1944-45, Geoffrion 50 in a 70-game schedule in 1960-61 and Lafleur 53 in 80 games last year.

Lafleur's pair against Minnesota gave him 13 in 16 games this year and helped the Canadiens move into first place in the Norris Division, a point ahead of Los Angeles.

At St. Louis, Blues goalie Yves Belanger turned in 22 saves in the last two periods as the Rangers suffered their fifth defeat in six games.

Wayne Dillon, with two goals, and Rod Gilbert connected for New York in the first period against Gilles Gratton. Chuck Leffley scored twice for the Blues, while Floyd Thomson scored the winner against Rangers goalie John Davidson at 2:20 of the third period. Wayne Merrick hit for St. Louis in the first period and former Ranger Derek Sanderson beat Davidson in the final minute.

Gord McRae from 30 feet at 11:05 of the final period. Ken Lockett made 31 saves for the Canucks, who had 19 shots at McRae.

Defenceman Rick Hampton scored the Seals' winning goal on a 45-foot slap shot at 1:52 of the third period at Los Angeles, handing the Kings their first home-ice loss this season and snapping their seven-game unbeaten string.

The Seals, who had not beaten the Kings in their last four meetings, got other goals from Larry Patey and Gary Sabourin, while Bob Berry and Butch Goring's breakaway provided the Kings goals.

Forum honors former greats

MONTREAL (CP) — It was nostalgic time at the Forum before Montreal Canadiens engaged Minnesota North Stars in their National Hockey League game Tuesday night.

Prior to the opening faceoff the Canadiens honored the three players in their history who have scored 50 or more goals in a single season.

Two of the guests were Maurice (Rocket) Richard, whose record of 50 goals during the 50-game schedule of 1944-45 still stands as an NHL record, and Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion, who reached the 50-goal mark in 1961.

The third player honored was current Montreal right winger Guy Lafleur, who scored 53 goals in last season's 80-game schedule.

Richard's famous sweater No. 9 was donned by the Rocket again, as both he and Geoffrion appeared in full playing attire for the ceremony.

Minnesota goaltender Cesare Maniago, the victim of Geoffrion's 50th goal, started in the nets for the North Stars. He was a member of Toronto Maple Leafs when Geoffrion hit the 50-goal plateau.

Richard, Geoffrion and Lafleur were presented with plaques bearing their 50th goal puck. Jean Beliveau, former Canadiens captain, made the presentation to Lafleur, while another former Montreal great, Dickie Moore, did the honors for Geoffrion, an old linemate.

Joe Blake, the former all-star left winger and coach of the Canadiens, had been scheduled to present the plaque to his former linemate Richard. But Blake entered hospital earlier Tuesday for gall bladder surgery scheduled today.

Stanstead College presents sports awards

STANSTEAD (IH) — The Stanstead College Athletic banquet took place on Wednesday evening, November 5, in Pierce Hall with the presentation of trophies, awards and comments by the team coaches to bring to a close the first term of sports.

The trophies, for all-round excellence and sportsmanship, were presented to Joey Vaitekunas, the Bobby Moore Varsity Soccer challenge, The Senator Howard Varsity football trophy, won on points between BCS and Stanstead presented to captain Peter Jacobson and the W.W. Ketcham Trophy football for all-round excellence and sportsmanship was awarded to George Baptiste.

The Eastern Townships Varsity J.C. Allison Trophy was presented to John Nadeau, Captain, the Stanstead College Varsity football team for winning the championship and their third ETIAC title. The Varsity Soccer ETIAC League trophy was received by captain Eric Maily.

Headmaster Thomas Russell spoke opening remarks to the assembly. "This is very special occasion for some of our boys who have played major games and represented Stanstead College very well". He referred to the good school spirit, win or lose games, and asked the boys not playing to support their home teams in the coming sports season.

Arthur Burke, coach of the tennis club, said this season's program was well challenged, interest was keen despite good, poor or inclement weather conditions. Blake Harrison was winner of the singles, Steve Carden, the winner novice, and Eric Steeves and Phillip Casgrain, winners of the doubles. They were each presented with a small trophy.

In the absence of Dave Audet, Coach of the Archery Club, his report was presented by Peter Howard. The remarks noted a productive term, a noted improvement in archery as the season advanced with top scores recorded by Mark Davies, Mark Duolos and Ted Orr, each of whom were presented the Major S award and the Senior S to Alec Rutgers. Mark Davies was team captain.

Mr. Howard, coach of the skeet shooting club, said that the finals were very close with Mark Vaillancourt the winner. The Rifle Shooting club awards are somewhere in the mails so they will be announced and presented at the winter assembly.

Alex Hatfield presented the announcements of A.R. Eveleigh, for the Lower School Intramural games of six different sports and appropriate awards were made to them. The soccer "All Stars" were, captain Paul Wright, G. Jones, C. Sanders, D. Patrick, J. Senechal, K. Mayo, M. Irwin and J. McCallum.

In Bantam Soccer, Richard Chen, coach, said it has been a very good season. The team joined the ETIAC League for the first time in several years. The success of the season was through team work and coordination of players to add up "to one of my best teams in his six years as coach".

Presented with the Bantam S awards were, Philip Hukins, Jim Kyle, Kevin Phillips, Steve Powers, S. Rodighiero and John Stacey.

A Gomez, coach for the Junior Soccer, noted his team made it to the finals, this is also a first year in the ETIAC League. The team finished second in the finals when they lost to Alexander Galt. Junior S awards were presented to John Cornell, Jim Prowse, F. Stacey, Johnny Wallace, M. Heney and Eddy Hermosillo.

In Junior football, coached by Brian Martin and Peter Neve, the Junior S awards were presented to Ian Goodfellow, Andy Care, Peter Lloyd, Richard Delisle, Jean Benoit, Dave Caron, Wolf Schmitt, Marc Lacoste, and Don Hewson. As these were presented Mr. Martin made comments. Coach, Philip Boyd, Cross Country running, said the program is not an easy one. The season started out with 16 boys and finished with 11 who ran in all kinds of weather. The team also participated in several meets. To receive the Major S was Mike Bailey, a Junior school boy, the Senior S to Roger Casgrain, Steve Hiscock, and Peter Carpentier.

Michael was the star runner of the season and has great promise for the future. He also participated in the Provincial Meet. Varsity pins were presented to Doug Allsebrook, Mike Bailey and Carpentier.

Bill Walker, coach of the Varsity Soccer, referred to the past season as outstanding, and the most successful of his seven years as coach. The team won the ETIAC League but lost to Alexander Galt in the final game. During the season the team played 12 exhibition and League games winning nine, tied two and lost one. He noted the team was well balanced and difficult to make a choice for awards.

The major S was presented to Peter Churchill, Steve McKay, Steve Donahue, Joe Vaitekunas, Eric Maily and Tom Rowan. The Senior S went to Albert Brandt, Peter Hu, Mark Roberts and Angelo Tozzi. Nine boys received the Varsity pin that included manager Mike Thayne.

The Varsity Football was coached by Alex Philip and Andy Elliott. Mr. Elliott paid tribute to the champion team in the ETIAC League. The team had five wins and one loss. Mr. Elliott said it was an interesting and challenging season as he reviewed the highlights. He said the championship was a team victory.

The Major S awards were presented to John Nadeau, Bobby MacLeod and Peter Jacobson, Scott Pride, Wayne Sullivan, George Baptist, Tom MacKay, Dan Murphy, Doug Patterson, Steve Davies and Phil Charron. The Senior S to Steve Philip, Bill Haggerty and Marc Brault. There were also 24 Varsity pins presented. Team bars were presented to the players.

Alex Philip, Athletic Director, was MC for the program.

Under a 5-3-1 point system, Rhett Dawson catching 16 for 313 yards and one touchdown, Steve Mazurak nabbing 12 for 217 yards and four of the five TDs he scored this season, and Tom Campana catching six for 91 and one TD.

Wilkinson, who connected on 62 of 101 passes for 784 yards, and Lemmerman, who completed six of 10 for 64, mounted a more varied pass offence, using five receivers liberally.

George McGowan caught 19 for 189 yards and one TD, John Konihowski made 10 catches for 177, Harrell grabbed 10 for 119 and one TD, Tyrone Walls eight for 112 and Bell seven for 90 and two touchdowns.

If the total net offences of the two clubs mean anything, Sunday's game should be something of a tossup. Saskatchewan's 1,102 yards were just 11 more than Edmonton's 1,091.

The Eskimos had the ball a lot more, mounting 232 plays from scrimmage compared with 194 for the Roughriders, and they also picked up more first downs—76 to 61.

CUTLER ACCURATE

Edmonton had an edge in punting, averaging 42.8 yards to 37.3, but the work was pretty well divided, with only Terry Bulych of Saskatchewan punting more than five times. He kicked 14 for 527 yards.

Dave Cutler was good on nine of 13 field goal tries compared with one of four by Jack Abendschan, but the fact that the Eskimos tried that many field goals could be an indication that they were less successful in keeping their marches alive.

Jim Elder of the

George Reed key man for Roughies

If statistics mean anything, George Reed will be a key performer for the Saskatchewan Roughriders when they take on the Edmonton Eskimos Sunday in the Western Conference final.

Although the Roughriders finished second to the Eskimos in the West, they won two of the three games in which the two teams met, and Reed's rushing was one of the dominant factors.

He rushed for 344 yards on 72 carries, scoring touchdowns in each game, and that was more than the 290 net rushing yards gained by all Edmonton players in the three meetings.

What's more, Reed was at his consistent best, exceeding 100 yards rushing in every game.

Steve Molnar made the only other significant contribution to the Saskatchewan net rushing total of 407 yards, with 10 carries for 46 yards.

BELL TOPS ESKIMOS

Roy Bell was Edmonton's leading rusher, with 41 carries for 195 yards, while Calvin Harrell gained 57 yards on 21 carries and Don Warrington picked up 27 yards on six rushes.

Edmonton won the opening game, beating the Roughriders 28-24 at home, but then lost 28-18 in Edmonton and 36-27 in Regina.

The Eskimos had the edge in net passing yardage with Tom Wilkinson and Bruce Lemmerman combining for 848 yards while Ron Lancaster hit on 43 of 71 for a net of 699.

Lancaster directed most of his passes to three players—

George Reed was the only other significant contributor to the Saskatchewan net rushing total of 407 yards, with 10 carries for 46 yards.

Michael was the star runner of the season and has great promise for the future. He also participated in the Provincial Meet. Varsity pins were presented to Doug Allsebrook, Mike Bailey and Carpentier.

The Senior S to Steve Philip, Bill Haggerty and Marc Brault. There were also 24 Varsity pins presented. Team bars were presented to the players.

Alex Philip, Athletic Director, was MC for the program.

Roughriders was tops in both punt returns, with seven for 107 yards, and kickoff returns, with four for 123, while Larry Highbaugh was best of the Eskimos with four for 102 yards running back punts and four for 89 yards on kickoffs.

If the regular-season pattern holds, there won't be many fumbles on Sunday. Reed was the only Roughrider to fumble in games against Edmonton, and Saskatchewan got the ball back. Wilkinson at Bell each fumbled once and Edmor'on lost the ball each time.

Mets' Seaver wins Cy Young Award to tie Sandy Koufax's record

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Seaver of New York Mets today won the Cy Young Award as the outstanding pitcher in baseball's National League for the third time in his career, equalling the achievement of Sandy Koufax, the only other player in baseball history to win the award three times.

Koufax, of Los Angeles Dodgers, was named the National League's top pitcher in 1963, 1965 and 1966.

Seaver, named previously in 1969 and 1973, was given the award by the Baseball Writers Association of America in a battle with Randy Jones of San Diego Padres.

Seaver took 15 first-place votes, seven for second place and two for third from the 24 writers, two from each of the National League cities, for a total of 98 points.

Under a 5-3-1 point system,

Jones was given 80 points, based on seven first-place ballots, 14 for second and three thirds.

RELIEVER THIRD

Al Hrabosky, the spectacular relief ace of St. Louis Cardinals, pulled down 33 points, based on two firsts, three seconds and 14 thirds.

Seaver, despite being hampered by a bad back, rebounded from an 11-11 season in 1974 to lead the National League in victories with 22 and in strikeouts with 243. It was his eighth successive year with 200 or more strikeouts, a major league record.

Seaver also was tops in three other categories—complete games with 15, shutouts with five and innings pitched with 280. The season was the righthander's fourth 20-victory year in eight in the major leagues.

Que. Farmers' Association holds annual meeting

STE. ANNE DE BELLEVUE — Kevin Drummond, Minister of Agriculture of Quebec, was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Quebec Farmers' Association held Monday, Nov. 10 at Macdonald College in the Centennial Building.

In the morning the Association business was conducted.

Mr. Drummond arrived at two o'clock to find a capacity-filled assembly hall where the session was held. Included were farmers from all over the province, consumers, and the general public, plus several agriculture students at the college.

The minister's remarks were brief and spoken "off the cuff". He noted his appointment to the Ministry of Agriculture and expressed his willingness to work with the farmers to solve their problems.

He remarked upon the regulation applying to the abattoirs in Quebec. He spoke of the beef situation in Quebec and elsewhere as deplorable. He said that legislation is increasing the amount of funds needed to modernize dairy facilities. He also spoke of agriculture zoning and the revenue insurance bill. Mr. Drummond said he was at the gathering to meet as many farmers of Quebec as possible.

He then opened the afternoon to questions from the floor. Marc Cote was the chairman. Many questions were asked why the English farmers of the province and the farmers' Associations do not receive more government communications in English as apparently they had until May of this year.

Mr. Drummond said, "I've got your message", and explained there is a shortage of translators. With French the first language and English second, communications in the province are geared to French and although he promised to see what he can do for the English farmers in this aspect he said physically it can't be done right away. He noted 98 per cent of the civil service employees are French-speaking.

Stabilization of revenue to beef farmers was another topic brought up by several farmers as they asked for speed on this action so they will know what to do. Mr. Drummond said hopefully an announcement will be forthcoming soon, possibly within a 10 day period, after approval by the government finance department. He said there will be a grant but he does not know to what extent and added, "I cannot see why we cannot have a beef program in Quebec."

A consumer asked why she paid two dollars a pound for beef. Mr. Drummond replied there is a commission study under way. The farmers get about 40 cents a pound, the consumer pays about two dollars, and looking into the matter it seems no one is getting much money. However, the study is continuing. He added, "The consumer is not getting near the screwing that the farmer is getting." This brought forth chuckles from the floor.

One farmer said he personally was pleased to see an English minister in Quebec, the first since 1909. Here Mr. Drummond stated, "I do not look upon myself as English or French in Quebec but as a Quebecer working for my province, but trying to answer all communications in the language the letter is written. (Mr. Drummond is perfectly bilingual).

The Quebec Farmers' Credit Bureau requires a farm with 100 acres of cleared land to apply and qualify for a loan. It was noted this is pretty discouraging to a young farmer at today's land prices. The speaker asked if this could not be reduced to 50 acres. Mr. Drummond said he was not aware this amount was required and promised to look into the matter. He said he feels acreage is meaningless. It is the production of the land that counts.

The matter of Quebec Hydro taking farmer's land for a US Hydro line came under fire. Here the answer was "Go to the local governments". The speaker said "the farmer has been here a long time but it begins to look he has little rights". Mr. Drummond said the farm zoning act will help this situation.

What compensation is there for farmers who have brucellosis in their herds? Mr. Drummond said they are aware of this situation and are working with federal government on grants. One farmer said that the federal government has offered but not paid. He added that a third of his herd has been decreased through this disease. They will pay $200 for graded cows, $400 for purebred with papers, but they do not take into account the loss of production. Mr. Drummond acknowledged there is no grant on production and that for the present he would rather the federal government handles the situation. Evidently there has been no reply to communications from Ottawa to the farmers, so Mr. Drummond asked the farmer to meet him after the meeting and he would give him names and phone numbers to contact.

A farm worker asked what recourse they have as to minimum wages. Mr. Drummond said that Quebec is in a turmoil and he looks at this matter as an issue in the coming years as one of the priorities and said the only recourse is through minimum wage control.

Mr. Drummond said when he came into office in July he found everyone wants money. One section is too wet, another too dry, another is perfect but the crops are so good the prices are low and all need money.

By IVY HATCH
(Record Correspondent)

To the bonafide dairy farmer who works seven days a week they asked for more money exemption from income taxes. Mr. Drummond advised starting at the UPA level concerning this.

Mr. Cote thanked Mr. Drummond for coming to this gathering and answering the many questions. Dennis Keenan on behalf of QFA voiced appreciation to the minister and said, "We might not agree with all your answers but all were pleased of the personal contact."

Mr. Drummond remarked it had been an afternoon of value to him and he felt he had gained a lot concerning agriculture from the farmers.

ANNUAL MEETING

Douglas Johnston, of Stanstead, the QFA president conducted the annual meeting with everyone brought up to date when Mrs. Joan Habel read the secretary reports of the Oct. 8, 1974 annual meeting and of the Feb. 18, 1975 semi-annual meeting.

John Brus presented the financial picture. It was noted this year the dues are $10 for membership with a half going into the provincial association treasury; the other half is retained by the club. Mr. Johnston said it is expected all clubs will make this assessment.

Walter Hodgman, who was on the constitution committee for the association when it was established, served on this revision committee and presented the proposed changes which were several. All were approved.

Rudy Dallenbach took the chair for the nomination of directors. Although 15 were required, 18 were nominated and a resolution approved that all names stand elected, thus creating more interest in the association.

Directors elected were Ormstown - Huntingdon areas, Dennis Keenan, John Boersen, and Bernie Walter Kilgour, Bill Hanna and Chris Judd; Brome, Fred Albers; Richmond areas, Denis Kunan, John Boersen, and Bernie McAdam; Lachute - Rawden, Roger Lyster, Robert Rogers and Norman Graham; Ayer's Cliff, John Brus, Doug Johnston and Doug McKinnon; Bulwer, Peter van Lierop, Alden Nugent and Malcolm Fraser.

Later, the directors met and elected Mr. Albers of Foster, the president, Jim Todd, of Huntingdon, the vice-president; Roger Lyster of Lachute, the secretary - treasurer.

The meeting was interrupted for a short period for lunch. A door prize of Agri-Guide was won by Wells Coates, he withdrew as recipient. The second ticket was that of Mrs. Coates. She too withdrew and the third was Mrs. Albert Smith, who accepted.

The afternoon session began with Mr. Johnston giving the president's report. He spoke of his delight to see so many people attending but expressed disappointment that there was only one from Brome, Mr. Albers. His report covered action of the association and concluded with appreciation to Martin van Lierop and Mrs. Joan Habel of Macdonald Extension Service and all his supporters in his own zone as well as other zone members.

Doug MacKinnon gave the UPA report from the Sherbrooke Branch of activities the past year. Jim Fenny, secretary - manager of the Young Farmers Federation of Quebec, gave his annual report of what the federation does for the QYF clubs in the province. From the Extension Department there are two young workers, one being Mitch Miller in the Townships. This has proven most satisfactory. Jim outlined 1976 programs and said they will try to interrelate the Young Farmers with other similar organizations.

QFA Club reports were given by Dennis Keenan, Richmond; Judy Johnston, Kingsbury; Fred Albers, Brome; John Brus, Ayer's Cliff; Malcolm Fraser, Bulwer; Jim Todd, Chateaugay.

Mr. Fraser noted the resignation of Mrs. Alice Wilson as secretary after 19 years and a vote of appreciation was accorded her. The report of Judy Johnston was outstanding and showed this club perhaps the most active in the province. The picture from Brome was dismal. Mr. Albers said they hope to create more interest this year. Otherwise they will be forced to disband, yet the potential in this area is good. At Chateaugay, the UPA has replaced the QFA.

RECEPTION

The session with Marc Cote and Mr. Drummond was followed by a reception held in one of the assembly rooms. Wines, cheese, crackers, sandwiches and coffee were served and many had the opportunity of speaking personally to Mr. Drummond. There was a feeling that Mr. Drummond had been favorably received by those attending. Mr. Drummond acknowledged he has a lot to learn about agriculture. He has had a farm in the Chateaugay valley the past four years and seemed to be sincerely earnest in his desire to hear the farmers' problems and try to help them.

In the summer Martin van Lierop married and Mr. Johnston presented to him and his bride a gift of pottery for their new home along with the good wishes of all. Martin is very popular among the farm folk. Clark Blackwood, Dean of Agriculture, vice-principal of Macdonald College, welcomed the large number attending. He spoke of immediate changes to take place at Mac and welcomed all back again to the college facilities.

US reports record 1975 corn harvest

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States farmers have almost completed a record corn harvest of 5.8 billion bushels this fall, 25 per cent larger than last year's harvest and one per cent more than forecast in October, the agriculture department reported Monday.

As livestock feed, the crop will provide the most important raw material for producing the country's meat, poultry and dairy products in the coming year. It also is in great demand for sale to other countries, including the Soviet Union.

By Nov. 2, the department's crop reporting board said, farmers had harvested 82 per cent of their corn, well ahead of last year's pace of 62 per cent on the same date when the crop was only 4.65 billion bushels.

The crop results will be reflected later in retail food prices which now are expected to average for all of 1975 about nine per cent higher than they were last year. The prices jumped 14.5 per cent in each of the last two years. The department said consumers may see food prices go up only four to five per cent in 1976 but warned that much depends on final export levels and grain costs.

MISSES RECORD
Soybean output, a source of high-protein meal for livestock, was estimated at 1.52 billion bushels, up 23 per cent from last year's skimpy harvest but still short of 1973's record of 1.55 billion bushels. The new soybean estimate also was up three per cent from October.

Officials said farmers had harvested 75 per cent of their soybeans by Nov. 2 against 68 per cent on that date in 1974.

Earlier this year, farmers harvested a record wheat crop which also is a big export item. In all, the department estimated that about 60 per cent of the wheat crop will be shipped abroad, along with 50 per cent of the soybeans and at least 25 per cent of the corn. Officials predict corn exports, for example, will be 1.4 billion to 1.5 billion bushels. The Soviet Union has bought about 340 million bushels of corn this season, or more than one-fourth of the total the department expects to be exported.

Says shortage of rail cars cut cattlemen's incomes

OTTAWA (CP) — A shortage of railway cars in Western Canada will cut cattle producers' incomes and probably boost retail meat prices. Progressive Conservative Bert Hargrave said Tuesday.

He was elaborating in an interview on a question he raised in the Commons. He had suggested that railway companies are deliberately withholding cattle cars until a rate increase later this month.

Mr. Hargrave, a rancher who represents the southern Alberta riding of Medicine Hat, said the issue has come to a head because of several large cattle sales in the West.

Railway cars are needed to transport the thousands of head to eastern markets, but CP Rail, which serves the main cattle-producing regions of southern Alberta, said it only had six cars west of Moose Jaw, Sask.

Transport Minister Otto Lang, who said he is sure the railways are not deliberately withholding cars, said the shortage is likely caused by heavy demand, which is normal at this time of year. Mr. Hargrave said outside the House that heavy demand is part of the problem, but it was "very likely the case" that the railways also wanted to be able to charge the higher rates that will come into effect Nov. 14.

COSTS TO RISE

The rate for double-deck cars is to go up by 25 per cent while single-deck costs will increase by 15 per cent.

The Alberta rancher said this will mean the double-deck rate will have increased by 86.9 per cent since a federal freight rate freeze was lifted Jan. 1. The increase for single-deck cars over the same period would be 64.4 per cent.

Meanwhile, Mr. Hargrave said, there was a sale of 2,000 head scheduled Tuesday in Brooks, Alta. Others of a similar size were expected today in Medicine Hat and Fort Macleod, Alta.

Mr. Hargrave said about 300,000 head are sent east from Alberta and British Columbia every fall, beginning in late September.

BIRCHTON

Those entering the Birchton Hall on that very balmy October 25 were given a lift by the sight of the gaily decorated sale tables and the tea tables, with their articles for sale and the very colourful centre-decorations in Hallowe'en and Autumn colours. Added to this was the goodfellowship pervading the place, the black cats on the walls, and even a live cat, completely black, appearing near the Hall.

Both the U.C.W. and the Youth Club tables were well patronized, as one visitor remarked; "It is amazing what a variety is displayed here!"

Refreshments were served by younger members of the Community, delectable eats in abundance.

The sponsors of the event appreciate the support given them by folk from Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Bulwer, Cookshire, Sawyerville, Sand Hill, High Forest and other localities.

Your home folk welcome you back into their midst, Mrs. Gilbert Nutbrown, and pleased to see you well after several weeks of holiday in your home area of Waldron, Sask., and other western spots among relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry French of High Forest were evening visitors at the Percy Jackson home.

It is reported that Mrs. George Jackson, formerly of this area, suffered a fall, but is shaking off the ill effects quite well, for her years.

Quite a number attended the turkey supper in Sawyerville on October 23, "a delectable meal" they say.

Mr. and Mrs. George Latewood motored to Boston, Mass., where they were joined by the latter's sister, Mrs. Helen Demars, then going on to visit another sister, Mrs. George Fudge, and Mr. Fudge, in Topsfield, Mass.

Friends of Mr. G. Houle are pleased to know that he has been released from the Hotel Dieu in Sherbrooke after having undergone surgery.

Miss Joan Halsall, student at John Abbott School of Nursing, spent a week-end at her home here.

Mrs. Charles Robinson, accompanied by Mrs. Murdo MacKinnon, called on Mrs. Norman Gill at the Wesley Bowker home in Flanders.

Word has been received of the passing of Master Gordon White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert White of Shilo, Man., after a lengthy illness. In this area Gordon leaves to mourn his passing, his grandmother and great-grandmother, Mrs. Alex Glen and Mrs. Ray Coates, besides other relatives and friends. His mother is the former Joan Glen of Eaton Corner. The sympathy of the Community is extended to all Gordie's mourners.

Callers at the Murray home included Mrs. P. Gaudine of Lennoxville; Mrs. P. Logan of Sherbrooke and Mr. Peter Clement of Sherbrooke.

Mrs. George Darling of Sawyerville spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Jack Murray.

Those who went to Kinnear's Mills on Saturday to attend the funeral of the late E. Nugent, included Mr. and Mrs. Basil Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore and their house-guest Mrs. Garnet Morrison of "The Mill"; Mr. and Mrs. Keith Allan and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Little.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Prescott were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Patton. Mr. and Mrs. Nick Turcyn spent Sunday with her parents, the Hugh Pattons.

Mrs. Nina Taber, West Stewartstown, N.H. and Mr. Mark Buxton, Littleton N.H. were callers at the home of her nephew and his cousin, Mr. Basil Prescott and Mrs. Prescott.

Mrs. R. James of Toronto, Ont. was a week-end guest of her mother, Mrs. W.O. Todd.

One-time neighbours who have visited the Thomas Littles to wish them well in their new home include Mr. Douglas Marshall, Burlington, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. John Evans, Sherbrooke; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cruickshank, Cookshire and Mrs. Clinton King and daughter of Cookshire Highway.

Mrs. Little's sister, Miss Marion MacRae of Sherbrooke spent a week-end with the Littles; her two sisters, Mrs. Robert Leith and Mr. Leith of Stanstead and Mrs. John Lowry and Mr. Lowry of Waterville, visited them; as did Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wallace and Bonnie; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wright, all of Thetford Mines; Mr. Little's brother, Mr. Herbert Little and Mrs. Little of McIndoes Falls, Vt. and brother Kenneth; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Leith with Mr. and Mrs. William Leith, all of Irvine, Alta.; Mrs. Emyln Jessop and son Paul of Calgary, Alta. and Miss Doris Banfill of Milby.

As guests Mr. and Mrs. Alain Verlinden entertained Mr. and Mrs. R.E. Grant of Pointe Claire and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Halsall and children of Quebec City on October 25.

Miss Marlene Mathers of Montreal spent the week-end at the same home.

Mrs. Eileen Lindsay of Orleans, Vt. called to see her grandson, Mr. Dwight Martin and Mrs. Martin, and to admire her great-granddaughter.

Mrs. Jeanette Wasson of Fredericton, N.B. visited her sister and brother-in-law at the same home.

Mrs. Billing of Lennoxville was a recent guest of her daughter, Mrs. Nelson Richards, Mrs. Richards, Gail and Carol.

Baby Jason Leith was with the Thomas Littles while his parents were moving to another home.

Mr. Hubert Conner of North Hatley spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. George Judge.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jackson recently visited their daughter, Mrs. Roland Lowry, Mr. Lowry and family, in High Forest.

Among those who paid their respects to the late Lynn Chute at the Webster-Cass Funeral Home in Lennoxville and (or) attended his funeral in the Community Church in Huntingville were Mrs. Robert Kirkby, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Harron, Mrs. Curtie Chute, Sr. and Mrs. Jack Murray.

Miss Debbie Taylor of Ottawa spent the week-end at her home. Miss Donna Sparkes and Miss Shirley Kelso, both of Sherbrooke, spent the weekend at the Sparkes and the Kelso home, respectively.

To try his hand at hunting, Mr. Roma Croteau, accompanied by Mrs. Croteau and the two girls, spent the weekend at their cottage at Notre Dame de Bois.

Mr. Croteau's uncle, Mr. Aime Charest of Sherbrooke was a visitor at the Croteau home.

Accompanying her sister, Mrs. Audrey Waterman of Lennoxville, Mrs. Howard Picard spent a weekend in the Littleton, N.H. area.

Mrs. Howard Picard, delegate to the Presbytery in Sherbrooke, reports a very helpful, and inspiring three days.

Mrs. Charles Robinson was happy to have her daughter, Mrs. M. Spafford, of Dorval, spend a short holiday with her.

Week-enders at the Murray home included Mrs. Jessie Colby of Lennoxville and Mr. Frank Steffox of Westmount. Mrs. Reta Darling of Sawyerville joined them for Sunday dinner.

Callers at the same included Mrs. M. Smith, Bulwer, Mrs. A.W. Murray, Scotstown; Mrs. E. Lowry, High Forest and Mr. D.L. McLeod, Milan.

Mrs. Alex Glen of Eaton, with her daughter, Joan, Mrs. Robert White, and daughter Bethany of Shilo, Man., were evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Picard and called on other friends in the area.

On the 31st of October, there were quite a number of youthful goblins around. All were enjoyed by those on whom they called, and again decided "Birchton is a good place to live in!"

Mr. and Mrs. R. Drake of Bulwer and Mr. and Mrs. D. Wood of Lennoxville visited Mr. and Mrs. Basil Prescott. S. Prescott and Master Ian were Hallowe'en callers at the same home, Ian's first experience of this evening.

Dr. and Mrs. Roland Lapointe of Montreal called to see Mrs. Pearle Damon at Maplehurst. Pearle and Dr. Lapointe were on the summer staff at Grey Rocks, St. Jovite over forty years ago, and had not met since.

Alice Hill of Bulwer and Edith and Margaret Swanson of Waterville were also on the staff, earning money to further their education.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Others will be willing to go out of their way to be helpful today in situations where it was difficult to get their support before.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) This will be a very pleasant day if you make arrangements to share it with a friend of long standing, whose company you enjoy.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your actions today will call favorable attention to yourself in the eyes of persons in a position to help you advance.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Your popularity is at a high point. You'll be the center of attention today, whether the group is large or small.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's a good day to make a major change you've been contemplating that will have an affect upon all the family. However, discuss it first.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You tend to treat others fairly and generously today. Those you'll deal with will be greatly appreciative and respond in kind.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your financial prospects are very encouraging today, especially in areas where money is earned by the sweat of your brow. Price your services wisely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You have a marvelous way of managing today, without anyone getting ruffed or knowing you're pulling the strings.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) An excellent day for you to entertain at home those you either owe social obligations to or want to discuss business matters with.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Something interesting is developing for you. You may get an inkling of it today. This will raise your spirits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You'll fare better in business transactions today if you deal directly with the top man. Avoid underlings if possible.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're up to meeting any challenge today if you set your mind to it. Be positive. Go in expecting to win.

The bonds will be drawn tighter this coming year with one you love and others who play important roles in your life. Mutual benefits will result from each relationship.

heart to the queen; losing two hearts and a diamond and exclaiming, "I made it!"

The principle of play he taught from the hand was that in general you should work on your longest side suit. It is hearts, so at trick two South should lead the nine of spades, let it ride, draw trumps and lead a heart toward dummy's king.

Then a heart back toward his hand with the low heart, not the queen being played. This is the so-called automatic finesse and succeeds since West must play the ace. After this start South makes six, not a mere four.

Ask the Jacobys

A Wyoming reader asks: "My left hand opponent opens one notrump. There are two passes. What should I do vulnerable with ♠ K J 10 9 8 x ♥ x ♦ A J 9 3 ♣ 4 3 2 1?"

The answer is that he should bid two spades. He can be hurt, but there also is a good chance that his side can make game and little chance of serious damage. A winning player can't wear both suspenders and a belt.

(Do you have a question for the Jacobys? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and writers will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Paul Cromelin shows today's hand as an example of what happens when beginners play hands that have not been specially prepared for them. South's jump to two spades was correct in expert standard American bidding, but most beginners would just bid one spade. However, four spades was the normal contract to reach.

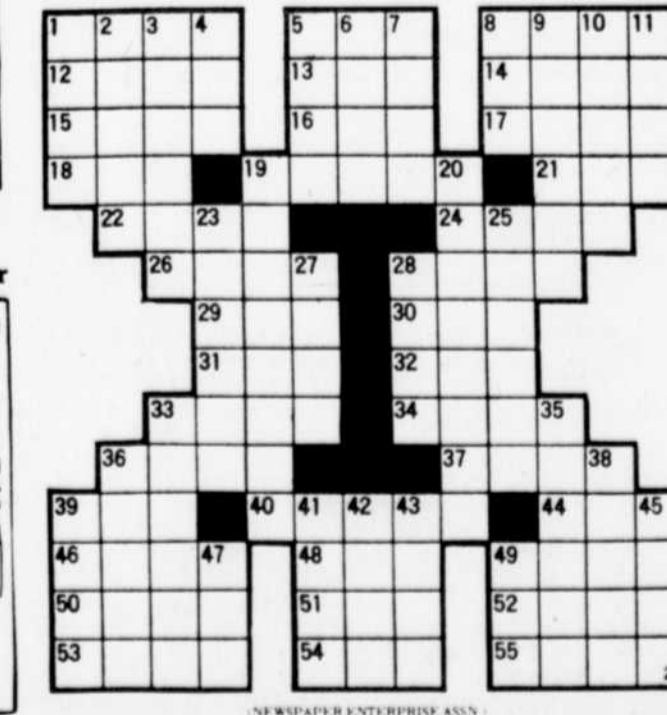

Paul explains typical student's play by South cashing dummy's ace, king of diamonds and ace of clubs; leading a spade to the 10; ruffing a club; drawing trumps with a second finesse; ruffing a diamond with dummy's last trump; leading a heart to the queen; losing two hearts and a diamond and exclaiming, "I made it!"

W.I. meetings

CANTERBURY — The November 3rd meeting of Canterbury W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Sturnis Coates with Miss Susan Wood as joint hostess.

The meeting was opened by the president Mrs. Elwin Herring, with the Opening Ode and the Collect.

The roll call was to "Read a short item on "Prince Edward Island." and was answered by twelve members.

The minutes were read by the Secretary and a thank you card from Mrs. Bill Aulis.

The treasurer Mrs. Harry Rowland, gave her report with all bills being paid and a good balance on hand.

The treasurer paid Mrs. Tom Chapman, for a trip to Brookbury to the convention.

It was moved that we give Susan Wood $10.00 to buy treats for the children's Christmas party to be held in Canterbury hall in December.

It was moved by Mrs. Leslie MacLeod and seconded by Mrs. Prentice Jacklin that we give $25.00 to the Salvation Army for Christmas treats.

A Christmas party is to be planned for the W.I. members and their husbands, with Mrs. Leslie MacLeod, Mrs. Lindsay Groom, Mrs. Elwin Herring and Mrs. Reginald Thompson taking charge, with all members helping.

Our branch will go in with

Bury Branch on the wreath for Remembrance Day.

Mrs. Tom Chapman, was to see about getting a plant for a lady who is ill.

It was decided to give about a $2.00 gift for exchange of gifts this year and to put who it is from.

It was decided the members who didn't want to have card parties would give $5.00 instead of having a party.

Four members decided to have a card party in Canterbury Hall Nov. 8.

We decided to have a musical evening in the spring if the other branches were agreeable.

The Convenors reports: Mrs. Alice Coates, agricultur convener, read a paper on the outline of agriculture.

Mrs. Sturnis Coates, Citizenship, read a lovely poem on Hands.

Mrs. Tom Chapman, Economics, gave a paper on the outline of Home Economics.

Health and Welfare, Mrs. Leslie MacLeod, voiced her opinion on different ones who were sick and different ways we could help to cheer them.

Education convener was absent.

Publicity convener reported she had sent in all reports to the Sherbrooke Daily Record and to the Journal.

Mrs. Tom Chapman gave a splendid report on the convention in Brookbury.

Mrs. Alice Coates won the lucky draw for the month of November.

The meeting was adjourned and delicious refreshments served by the hostess.

BURY — The November meeting of the Bury W.I. was held in the Bury Town Hall Thursday evening, Nov. 6, with 15 members present.

Mrs. G. Pehlemann presided and the meeting was opened with the Opening Ode and the Mary Stewart Collect.

The motto was "Lest We Forget" and the roll call was "Buy and Wear a Poppy."

The minutes of the October meeting were read and approved.

A report of the trip to Brompton Road W.I. was given by Mrs. Gordon Dougherty. The meeting, delicious supper and the beautiful weather were enjoyed by everyone.

Mrs. Pete Goodin gave a report of the Hallowe'en dinner served at the school.

Mrs. Gilbert Wintle mentioned several favourable remarks she had heard from the children about the dinner. Bills for the dinner were brought in and ordered paid, the cost will be divided with Brookbury and Canterbury branches.

The Brookbury branch would lay the wreath.

Mrs. G. Morrison, Agriculture convener read an article stating that too many iron pills can be poisonous.

Citizenship convener, Mrs. R. Fitzsimmons read part of an outline by our provincial convener, Mrs. Gordon French, "Let us as W.I. members set a good example as citizens."

Health and Welfare convener, Mrs. D. Pehleman read an article concerning the need for milk in our diet as the best source of calcium.

Home Economics convener, Mrs. G. Wintle, gave a tip on using a little kerosene in the water while washing windows, giving a sparkling finish.

Publicity convener, Mrs. H. Powell, read a report from the Sherbrooke Record on the four students who won the Compton County Bursaries.

Mrs. M. Coates read a poem "Remember when."

With Mrs. R. Fitzsimmons as auctioneer, an auction of jams, jellies and pickles was held. The proceeds to go the A.C.W.W. Education, Nutrition, Save the Sight Fund. As it was decided at the semi-convention to give $1.00 per member towards this fund, it is expected that the members not present will make up the balance.

The meeting was adjourned and a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. G. Pehlemann and Mrs. E. Bailey.

The next meeting will be held December 4 with "pot luck" refreshments.

Mrs. Pete Goodin announced that the Bury School Committee are planning an Amateur Night at the School on Saturday evening, Nov. 15.

WINDSOR — The Doyle home here was the scene of two very happy events last week when birthday parties were held on two occasions.

On Monday, Oct. 27, five school friends came home with Deirdre to help celebrate her 12th birthday.

The home was decorated in keeping with Hallowe'en. The girls enjoyed playing "spooky" games before sitting down to a hot turkey supper. A birthday cake, decorated with Hallowe'en motifs centered the table and was later cut and enjoyed by all.

Attending were Mary Coddington and Cathy Mastine from Richmond, Marise Dupuis, Donna McCourt and Anne Robb, with Mary and Cathy being overnight guests.

On Thursday, Oct. 30, a second party was held for Rory, who was nine years old that day.

Friends Kevin Morey, Billy Cumby, Mark and Steven Devries and Jamie Cunningham arrived to spend the afternoon playing games and having fun.

A Jack 'O' Lantern and other Hallowe'en decorations were in evidence and at the supper hour, a birthday cake, decorated with pumpkins and witches and topped with lighted candles delighted the gang.

Both Deirdre and Rory received gifts and cards from their friends, with the best wishes from all.

Each guest received a souvenir of the day and candies as they departed for home.

Jamie Cunningham of Melbourne was an overnight guest of Rory.
