RUSSIAN TROOPS JOIN ALLIED SOLDIERS IN FRANCE

Were Welcomed By General Joffre in an Army Order. French Troops Take The Offensive at Verdun. Capture Part of German Trenches Occupy a Redoubt And Took Several Hundred Prisoners.

Paris, April 20, 12.18 p.m.—(Special)—A strong force of Russian troops disembarked at Marseilles at noon to-day.

The Russians are to fight beside the Allied soldiers in France. General Joffre welcomed the Russians in an order of the day, saying their arrival was another striking proof of the devotion of Russia to the common cause.

FRENCH TAKE HUN TRENCHES AND PRISONERS

Paris, April 20, 12.01 p.m.—(Special)—French troops took the offensive on the right bank of the Meuse.

The War Office announcement of this afternoon says that they captured parts of German trenches, occupied a redoubt, and took several hundred prisoners.

The text of the statement follows: "In the Argonne at Haute Chevauchee there has been some mine work which resulted to our advantage. We caused the explosion of a small mine which destroyed some subterranean works of the enemy.

"On the left bank of the River Meuse the bombardment of our second line continued last night. On the right bank of the river our troops yesterday evening delivered a spirited attack against the German positions to the northwest of the Pond of Vaux. This operation made it possible for us to occupy certain sections of the German trenches, as well as a fortified redoubt. In the course of this action, which caused heavy losses to the enemy, we took prisoner, ten officers, sixteen under officers and 214 men. In addition to this we captured several machine guns, and a certain quantity of war material.

"In the Woivre district our artillery has directed a concentrated fire upon the communicating roadways of the enemy.

NEWFOUNDLAND FINANCES STRONG

Estimated That There Will Be Surplus of $60,000 at Close of Fiscal Year

St. John's, Newfoundland, April 20 (Special)—A preliminary statement on the Colonial Budget made to-day indicates that Newfoundland is in the strongest financial position in the colonies history.

Officials estimate that there will be a surplus of $60,000 for the fiscal year ending in June next, and that the next year also will show a large surplus notwithstanding the loss of $250,000 in revenue which will follow the going into effect of the prohibition law next January.

ELEVEN KILLED IN TORNADOES

Kansas City, Mo., April 20 (Special)—Eleven persons were reported dead to-day and scored injured severely, in a succession of tornadoes which swept through the central portions of Eastern Kansas and Western Missouri last night.

Property damaged is believed to be heavy although accurate information was unavailable early to-day because of the disabled telegraph and telephone service.

MUST REPORT TO GREAT BRITAIN

London, April 20.—(Special)—A Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that Danish ship owners have been informed that in future the British Government will not allow Danish ships to make contracts for carrying oil unless permission of the British authorities is received in advance. Failure to regard this rule will result in a refusal by England to supply coal. Certificates giving the required permission must be signed by British Consuls.

HEAVY SHELLING REPORTED ON BRITISH FRONT

London, April 20.—The British official statement, made public last evening, says:

Last night the enemy exploded a small mine east of Neuville St. Vaast. Our trenches were not damaged. During the night the enemy attempted to bomb our posts in craters in the quarry sector, but were driven off. During the day there was heavy shelling north of Carney and about Carey, St. Eloi and Vornetzelle. The enemy was also more active in the quarry sector. We shelled the enemy's trenches at Haisnes.

ITALIANS TAKE MONTE ANCORA FROM AUSTRIANS

London, April 20.—There has been considerable artillery activity west of the Meuse on Hill 304, the French first line between Dead Man's Hill and Cumieres. At Les Epergnes the Germans, after three attacks, entered French trenches on a front of about 200 yards, but were immediately expelled from them, suffering serious losses.

ON RUSSIAN FRONT
Artillery duels are still in progress on the Russian front, but there has been no important changes in positions. A Russian attack against Austrian positions on the Upper Sereth River, in Galicia, was repulsed.

ITALIANS TAKE MONTE FUME PASS
The Italians have captured Monte Fume Pass from the Austrians, and taken the extreme western peak of Monte Ancora, where the Austrian trenches were shattered, with heavy casualties to their occupants.

ANOTHER DEFEAT OF TURKS
Still another defeat of the Turks in the region of Erzerum is recorded by the Russians. Near Aschikala the Russians, in a night attack, captured strong organized hills and inflicted severe casualties on the Turks, who left hundreds of dead on the field of battle.

CABINET REACH AGREEMENT

Proposal on Recruiting Will Be Submitted to Both Houses of Parliament

VOLUNTARY ENLISTMENT WILL BE CONTINUED FOR MONTH OR SIX WEEKS.

London, April 20.—(Special)—At a meeting today of the British Cabinet an agreement was reached upon the proposals which the ministers will make to Parliament on the subject of recruiting. Their proposals will be submitted at a secret session of each House of Parliament on Tuesday. The foregoing was announced in an official statement issued this afternoon.

MUST GIVE ALL FACTS.

London, April 20.—(Special)—It is understood that a proposition advanced by Arthur Henderson, President of the Board of Education and a Labor leader, will have the effect of re-opening the voluntary enlistment scheme for a month or six weeks and that this proposal was accepted in principle by the Cabinet with a view to ascertaining whether sufficient men would come forward for military service without the introduction of general compulsion.

The Labor members, however, demand that all facts and figures regarding the military situation and requirements shall be submitted to the House of Commons before they consent to any measure of universal conscription. This has not been confirmed officially.

PLOT OF IMMENSE RAMIFICATION

London, April 20.—(Special)—6.16 p.m.—As the result of the seizure of German and Austrian subjects aboard the China Mail liner China, last February, while bound from Shanghai for the United States, the Intelligence department of the British Government claims to have uncovered a plot of immense ramifications conducted with the purpose of causing a revolution in India.

CLAIMS $1000 DAMAGES

O. Senez, of Ditton, Sues A. Vezina For This Sum in Superior Court

PLAINTIFF CLAIMS THAT DEFENDANT KICKED HIM CAUSING SEVERE SUFFERING AND OPERATION.

The case of Oliver Senez vs. A. Vezina came before Mr. Justice Hutchinson in the Superior Court. Both parties belong to Ditton. Plaintiff claims 1000 for damages, alleging that while he and defendant were having a discussion in July 1915 at the hotel at La Patrie, defendant assaulted and kicked him; that in consequence he was brought to the St. Vincent de Paul hospital at Sherbrooke and was operated on for hydrocele, and had suffered a severe illness.

Nine physicians were examined in the case. Messrs. Nicol, Lazure and Couture are plaintiff's attorneys and Mr. E. Rioux is acting for defendant.

ACTION AGAINST POLICE OFFICER

Joseph Venne, of Magog, Sues A. Lacroix For $500 As Exemplary Damages

PLAINTIFF ALLEGES THAT DEFENDANT INSULTED HIM AT HOME IN PRESENCE OF VISITORS.

The case of Joseph Venne of Magog vs. Arsene Lacroix, a police officer of the same town, came before Mr. Justice Hutchinson in the Superior Court yesterday.

This is an action in which plaintiff claims $500 as exemplary damages for insult under the following circumstances. In the month of August 1915 plaintiff had occasion to punish his little boy for disobedience. The boy left the house, and went to the police station and complained to the Chief of Police. Lacroix, the boy's home whom plaintiff alleges insulted him in the presence of visitors, telling him he had no reason to strike the boy and adding "I will arrest you on Monday." Plaintiff told the officer he understood the duties of a parent and invited him into the kitchen where the conversation could be private, but defendant refused, saying he wished his remarks to be public and added "Don't say another word or I will arrest you."

Messrs. Nicol, Lazure and Couture are attorneys for plaintiff and F. Campbell for defendant.

CONVENTION OF CONSERVATIVES

Mr. P. Cousineau, Leader of Opposition, Addressed Public Meeting Last Evening

CAMPAIGN IN CONNECTION WITH APPROACHING ELECTIONS DISCUSSED AT MEETING OF DELEGATES.

Hon. P. Cousineau, leader of the Conservative party in the province, addressed a public meeting last night in the Monument National.

Messrs. R. A. Ewing and F. H. Hebert acted as joint chairmen. Amongst those on the platform were Senator Pope, F. R. Cromwell, M.P., Dr. W. L. Shurtliff, F. X. Giroux, H. Verreault, M. O'Bready and Crepeau.

ELECTIONS FORCED ON PROVINCE.

Mr. Ewing in opening the meeting said the election had been forced upon the province, although the Government had another year to run.

The dissolution of the Legislature was not expected, neither was it wise, in the opinion of the Conservatives, but as a fight had been decided upon, there should at least be a contest in Sherbrooke—if not, what would the surrounding counties think. Mr. F. H. Hebert complained of the abuse of power by the Gouin Government in precipitating an election at this time, when the result would naturally be more favorable to the Government, as owing to various circumstances, the state of the roads, pressure of farm work, etc., many people would not be able to interest themselves in political questions and cast their votes. He protested energetically against such action; however, he was not a short time ahead until the election and that should be used for preparations in connection with the campaign.

SENATOR POPE.

Senator Pope appreciated the fact that it was more or less an exceptional occasion upon which a Canadian senator felt justified in standing upon a public platform on political issues and discussion, no one appreciated the dignity of a senator's position more than he did and his only justification for his presence was his interpretation of what was right and wrong. At this time when the province, the dominion, the Empire and every part of the world that had pluck enough to fight were on trial for the supremacy of liberty and the rights of small nations, while the people everywhere in the dominion and the Townships were wrapped in intense patriotism and had given their men and money freely, no government unless forced to do it, should sacrifice the people with an unnecessary election. He called it an outrage.

Mr. Pope regretted that the English speaking electors were not very numerous at that meeting. The reputation of the province of Quebec was not confined to itself as the interest, intelligence and wisdom displayed by the only French Canadian province in the confederation on behalf of good government were being watched closely by all the sister provinces, and it was no use for the English speaking man to say there was a minority here. The minority had always been used with justice and fair play, and no man knew that better than himself after spending 27 years in the public life of the province. Both races should shoulder to shoulder in this election as they would when the Dominion election came with its greater issues. Ontario and the other provinces were watching to see if Quebec was awakening to the realization that the greatest election outside the federal election was about to take place.

Mr. Pope affirmed that the principles of the Conservative party had always been those of fair play, equality and justice. If he were not a senator he would like to discuss the injustices he had seen in the province, but he was in duty bound not to transgress beyond a certain line on public questions. However he must send out a note of warning to his friends to awaken on this great issue. The voice of public opinion should be aroused in regard to corruption and fraud and insist on a straightforward government.

In conclusion Senator Pope commended the opposition leader for the vote he gave supported by only two or three other members for what he believed was right and in the interests of the common peace and unification of the great races which make up the Dominion.

LEADER OF OPPOSITION.

Mr. P. Cousineau, leader of the Opposition in the Quebec Legislature, received a warm welcome from the audience present. After expressing his pleasure at the enthusiastic reception which had been accorded him, he spoke at considerable length in French. Sir Lomer Gouin, he said, took the direction of the affairs of the Province of Quebec in March, 1905 and since that date with a considerable majority of members to assist him he has been all powerful in the Province of Quebec. During the ten years of his regime he has been the face totum, and it is of him, and of him alone, that the people of the Province have the right to demand an account. If he has been a good administrator and if his politics have been really progressive and he has given to the Province of Quebec an intelligent and progressive and honest government the electors of this province owe him a debt of gratitude, but if, on the contrary, during this regime he has not given to his province an honest, progressive and intelligent government, the electors of this province owe him a debt of gratitude.

H. A. PARSONS, SUTTON, DEAD

Was For Many Years Secretary of Village and Protestant School Commissioners

WELL-KNOWN THROUGHOUT WIDE SECTION OF COUNTY, AND HIS PASSING IS DEEPLY REGRETTED.

Sutton, April 20 (Special)—Sutton was shocked yesterday to learn of the death of Herman A. Parsons, for some 30 years the devoted Secretary-Treasurer of the Protestant schools of Sutton, also for many years holding the same position in municipal affairs for the town of Sutton. Mr. Parsons was taken ill about two weeks ago with asthma followed by La Grippe and pneumonia, but people felt sure he would come up again as he had many times in the past, but alas it was not to be though on Wednesday morning he was reported better.

About nine o'clock he was stricken with heart failure, and he passed away shortly afterwards.

His wife and other relatives will have the sympathy of all who knew him. Her husband was a friendly and helpful man, and he had the respect of all, in school and road affairs was supreme. Knowing this town and a good part of the county like an open book.

The funeral will take place at the house at 2 o'clock on Saturday and will be conducted under masonic auspices; he being an honored member of that fraternity.

He would have been 62 years old had he lived to June 20th next.

STREET TRAFFIC REGULATION

Many Rules to be Observed by Drivers and Owners of Vehicles

PERSONS IN CHARGE OF TEAMS MUST ALWAYS STOP WHEN REQUESTED BY POLICE.

Under the provisions of the Traffic By-law which was adopted by the City Council on October 27th last and recently received the sanction of the lieutenant-governor in council, all vehicles must be driven along the sidewalk to the right. If the driver desires to pass a vehicle ahead of him he must pass at the left and then go to the right. When vehicles that are being driven in an opposite direction meet, they must be driven to the right. When the driver of a vehicle comes to a cross street where he wishes to turn to the left, he must not cross such street diagonally but drive across it in a straight line and then turn to his left. In crossing from one side of a street to the other the driver must cross as far as possible at right angles and not diagonally. No driver is allowed to leave his vehicle stationary with its left to the sidewalk, except on cabstands.

No driver is allowed to leave his vehicle standing in a street or public place at any other place than next to the sidewalk at the right, unless to give right of way to another vehicle or pedestrians and in no case must a street crossing be obstructed. Drivers desirous of changing their direction must move forward and not backward. Drivers must give right of way to the fire brigade, police, waterworks and postal service vehicles and ambulances. Drivers going from north to south or from south to north must give right of way to those going from east to west or west to east.

When a street railway car is stopped to allow passengers to leave or enter, drivers of vehicles on the side where such passengers stand must stop and remain stationary until the passengers have left the roadway. When requested to stop by a policeman, either verbally or by sign of the hand, drivers must obey his orders and follow his directions. Owners of vehicles must not leave them standing in the streets more than half an hour, except in front of theatres in the evening between 7.30 and midnight only. No vehicles must be left standing on street crossings. Drivers reaching the intersection of a street must indicate with their hands the direction they intend taking. No horses may remain in any place unless tied by a halter or weight.

Any infringement of the by-law is subject to a fine not exceeding $30 or 30 days imprisonment.

RICH GERMAN TAKES HIS LIFE

Berlin, via London, April 20 (Special)—Heinrich Lange, a Hamburg multi-millionaire and a member of one of the most respected families in Germany, had committed suicide in order to escape prosecution, for selling grain for the feeding of livestock. Herr Lange, who was a partner in a big milling concern at Altona, disposed of grain which were to have been made into flour to cattlemen contrary to the regulations of the Bundestierth.

WASHINGTON TURNS WITH GRAVE EXPECTANCY TO BERLIN

Decision Rests With Imperial Government as to Whether Break Will Take Place With Washington. Ultimatum Sent by President Wilson Must Be Answered Before End of Week. Country Will Stand by President

Washington, April 20.—(Special)—The United States Government, having said its last word to Germany in the submarine controversy, turned to-day with grave expectancy to Berlin, where rests the decision whether the Imperial Government shall abandon its present methods of submarine warfare or break with Washington.

President Wilson probably will wait at least until the end of the week for Germany to reply to his virtual ultimatum, which declares the intention of the United States to sever diplomatic relations unless the Berlin Government "immediately" gives up the use of submarines against commerce and squares her submarine policy with the principles of humanity and international law.

NO TIME LIMIT SET.

No time limit was set in the communication, but the President is known to hold the opinion that three or four days would be a reasonable period to allow to Germany for a decision. If none is forthcoming within a reasonable time, the step accomplishing a break in relations, with all its grave possibilities, will be taken.

Count von Bernstorff, German Ambassador, would receive his passports and American Ambassador Gerard at Berlin would be instructed to come home.

IMPRESSED WITH ACTION.

Congress assembled to-day, impressed with the deep significance of the President's action. The dispassionate words in which Mr. Wilson yesterday told a joint session of the House and Senate of his purpose took on a fuller force of meaning when publication of the note to Germany, almost identical with the address in outline and phrase, revealed in what unmistakable terms the American Government had declared itself.

COUNTRY WITH PRESIDENT.

New York, April 20.—(Special)—The newspapers of the United States, with few exceptions, voice the general sentiment that the country should stand by President Wilson whatever be the outcome of his latest note to Germany. They indicate that America can no longer submit to continued outrages by German submarines, with the consequent loss of the lives of non-combatants.

Considerable difference of opinion exists regarding the probable action of Germany, the majority appearing to believe that she will yield, but nearly all agree that the United States will not shrink from the alternative in case she refuses.

HOW GERMANS VIEW CRISIS.

New York, April 20.—(Special)—German newspapers published in New York and other American cities charge in their editorials this morning that the present climax with Germany is due to the efforts of "big business" and England working with the purpose of embroiling the United States in the war on the side of the Entente Allies.

BRITISH SURPRISED AT SHARP NOTE.

London, April 20.—(Special)—Although recent despatches from America had led the British public to expect a sharp note from the United States to Germany in regard to the submarine controversy, the language employed by President Wilson in his address to Congress came as some thing of a surprise. The evening newspapers generally refer to the note to Germany as an ultimatum, pointing out that although no date for a reply has been fixed, Germany is expected to send its answer by the end of the week.

NOTE REACHES BERLIN.

Berlin, via London, April 20.—(Special)—The American note to Germany arrived in Berlin late yesterday evening. Ambassador Gerard probably will present it to the Foreign Office early this afternoon. REPRESENTATIVES APPROVE OF PRESIDENT'S COURSE.

New York, April 20.—(Special)—A Washington despatch to the Herald says:

Senators and Representatives to-day generally expressed hearty approval of President Wilson's course with regard to Germany. Republicans and Democrats united in saying that, although they deeply regretted that such a decision should be necessary, there was nothing else the President could do. There were a few exceptions to this rule, notably a statement by Representative Mann, of Chicago, Republican floor leader of the House. Mr. Mann did his best to drag the President's action down to the level of the politician. He asserted that Mr. Wilson was pro-Ally in sentiment and was trying to force the United States into the war against Germany without justification.

On the other hand, Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, ranking Republican member of the Foreign Relations Committee, approved of the President's course in the strongest terms.

AMBASSADOR CONFERES WITH SECRETARY OF STATE.

Washington, April 20.—(Special)—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, went to the State Department today for a conference with Mr. Lansing on the submarine warfare situation, and also to discuss the arrest in New York of Wolfe von Igel, secretary of former German Military Attache Von Papen.

A LUCKY SHOT

How a "Medico" at the Front Potted a Hun in a Khaki Uniform

A Highland officer from the front writes as follows: "Here is a true yarn of a certain medical officer who was out in front during the battle of Mons, helping to evacuate the wounded. Mind you, it was pitch dark and raining torrents. He heard a scream and thought he could distinguish some one. Not knowing if it was friend or foe, but knowing that the scream came from from there, he picked up a rifle and started potting, and, good luck to him, got his bag (thanks to the many lights that were going up), and lo and behold, it was a Boche snipper dressed in khaki tunic who had evidently been going round polishing off the wounded 'a la bayonet'—the well-known 'got 'em' and is now before a higher judge."

The presentation was made by the superintendent, Mr. J. Massie, at the regular session of the school on Sunday last.

WILL ENTERTAIN MEN OF 117TH BATT.

The citizens of Magog have made arrangements to tender a complimentary banquet at the Batties' House on Saturday evening, April 29th, to 63 Magog boys of the 117th Battalion. Indications tend to show that this event will excel even the occasion on which the Magog boys of the Fifth Mounted Rifles were given a send off. Over one hundred tickets have already been sold so that there will no doubt be difficulty in accommodating the banquetters unless special arrangements are made.

SPECIAL SERVICES

Special services are being held each evening this week in the Methodist Church.

GOOD SUGAR SEASON

This week saw the close of the sugar season. At first it appeared as if the run would be a poor one but subsequent weather conditions made it probably a banner season as many farmers came near to the average of three pounds to a tree. The quality except for the first run has been high as well as the price, so that those farmers who tapped this year, have found the product of the farm at least for the commencement of the season quite profitable.

MISSION BAND FOLD SERVICE

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist Church and the Mission Band a Junior Society connected with this Society held their Easter service in the Sunday School room of the Methodist Church on Tuesday evening of this week. The programme was supplied by both organizations but the little members of the Mission Band supplied the major portion of it, and it is seldom that so large a number of young children ranging in years from four upwards do their bit so uniformly well, and this in spite of the fact that they have only had it in preparation for a couple of weeks, a fact which reflects great credit on the abilities of Mrs. E. Donald, who had them in charge. At the close of the program little refreshments were served by the ladies of the Missionary Society, thus bringing to a close an interesting and instructive social function.

A BERTRAND DIED IN MONTREAL

Mr. A. Bertrand, who has been ailing for some time past, went into Montreal on Friday morning last to seek help in an endeavor to regain his former health. On Saturday morning his relatives and friends in this vicinity were shocked to learn that he had passed away. The body was brought home and the funeral held at St. Patrick's Church on Monday morning. A large number of the sorrowing relatives and friends were present to pay their last respects to their departed friend.

NOTES

Mr. L. Roy, Master H. Doherty, and Miss C. Sheddick are home from Stanstead College, spending the Easter holidays at their respective homes here.

Quick Deduction

The teacher was earnestly trying to show the outcome of laziness and idleness. He drew a terrible picture of the habitual loafer, the man who hates work, and his ultimate fate. "Now, Charlie," he continued to a little boy, who had been looking out of the window, and whose mind was far from the lesson of the hour, "tell me who is the wretched, miserable individual who gets clothes, food, and lodging, and gives nothing in return." "Well, sir," he replied, "the baby!"

MEGANTIC CO. HAPPENINGS

Budget of News from Various Sections of County

LEEDS VILLAGE

Mr. R. E. Wark of Leeds Village, is in Quebec this week with three car loads of beef cattle (about 75 head) for the Easter market.

Mr. William Hume sold a calf, about four months old, for the Easter market, for the sum of $25.00.

The sugar season is proving very much better here than anyone expected. Some have made one pound to the tree.

Potatoes are selling now as high as $1.00 per bushel. Mr. F. Squire took a load of twenty bushel to Robertson Station and was paid his $20.00 for same. This is a steep price to pay at this time of the year.

Some farmers are wishing for the spring to come, as feed is getting pretty low at present.

If those 135,000 soldiers that are drilling now in Canada, by Senator Choquette's statement, were at the front, it would surely help to put some of the Kaiser's army out of existence.

KAISER'S RIVAL AS

WORLD'S BEST LIAR

Enver Pasha of Turkey Holds Second Place in Followers of Ananias—A Conceited Puppet

In Europe the Turk is called the prince of liars. Enver Bey is a Kaiser among princes. He is the most artful, cunning, and quick-change artist for many generations, and when you have said that you have said a lot. Yet this man was unknown to the vast majority of the world before 1908. In the July of that year the Sultan sent for him to promote him to high rank. Enver Bey refused the invitation and flew for his life.

Overthrew the Sultan

He organized the revolt of the Young Turks, which overthrew the Sultan. Four months he wandered from village to village in Turkey and Macedonia as a peasant. In every village through which he passed he influenced the young men with his ready tongue and spurious promises, enrolling them into armed bands for the overthrow of the Government in Constantinople. Enver Pasha promised them freedom, a properly constituted Parliament, wise laws, and an ever increasing and more powerful Turkish Empire in the future, at peace with all nations.

The Young Turks greedily swallowed all Enver told them, and overthrew the Government. The result has been that since Enver Bey has had the power his country has been engaged in three disastrous wars, has sunk almost to nothing in Europe, and will probably be pushed out altogether.

Sold Himself to the Germans

Since the great war broke out Enver has sold himself and his empire to the Germans. Always greedy for money he has taken every scrap he can get from Berlin. The Turkish army and navy are organized and officered by Germans; they are armed with German guns and ammunition; they are paid with German money. And this has all been due to Enver Pasha. He is the apostle of German Kultur in Turkey.

Here is what a well known Turk wrote of him a short time ago: "This man, who has the celebrity and the ambition of a little Apollo, is, at the bottom, nothing more than a child with a large dose of vanity. He worships publicity; he loves to see his photographs in those big foreign papers, to read the gossip about his private life in which he used to pose as a blasé man of the world, surrounded by a full score of wonderful princesses waiting only to marry him."

A German Official

During the present year the following advertisement appeared in the "Times": "Jack F. G.—If you are not in khaki by the 20th I shall cut you dead—20th 20."

The Berlin correspondent of the "Cologne Gazette" was so greatly struck by this ghastly threat that he telegraphed the following version to his paper as a sample of the brutal English methods of recruiting: "If you are not in khaki by the 20th I shall hack you to death."

She Coughed

Day and Night.

Mrs. Fred. Fears, Cedarville, Ont., writes: "I am sending you this letter telling what Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup did for me. Ten years ago I had a terrible cold. For days I could not speak above a whisper. I coughed day and night. One evening I was so bad I went down to our storekeeper, and when I went in he said, 'You better get something done for that cold of yours.' I told him, as well as I could, that I had just come to get a bottle of the best cough medicine he had. He told me Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was the best he had, and said for me to take a little of it before I left the store. I took some, and in fifteen minutes I could speak as well as ever. I think 'Dr. Wood's' is the very best on the market."

That persistent cough must be gotten rid of immediately, for if it hangs on to it may develop into some serious lung trouble, such as bronchitis, pneumonia and perhaps consumption.

Get rid of it by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. A remedy that has been on the market for twenty-five years. A remedy that cures when all others fail.

When you ask for "Dr. Wood's" see that you get what you ask for as there are many imitations on the market. "Dr. Wood's" is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price, 25c and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Millburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

YELLOW STREAK SHOWN

BY SHIRKERS IN KHAKI

Mothers' Darlings in Uniform Who Disgrace the Army—London Writer Says Not Fit to Wipe Tommy's Boots

Mr. Maynard McGregor, a well known London correspondent has something to say about shirkers in khaki. Writing in John Bull, a London weekly, he says, in part, as follows:

"Surely it is nothing short of monstrous that now, when compulsion has practically forced every single man to do his bit, the only men who can shirk will be shielded by khaki from the contempt they so richly deserve. These 'men' called by Mr. Tennant, Under-Secretary for War, 'Refusiliers,' are they, who, enlisting for home service some years back, still continue to wear the uniform of a soldier, but steadfastly refuse to act up to that honorable calling. These men are of course morally right, for by the terms of their enlistment they were not liable for service out of the country. However morally indefensible the action of the non-volunteering officers may be, the cowardice of them stand forth in the full limelight.

Worse Than Cowards

There are men being sent back to the front after being wounded two or three times, and it is surely a scandal that any man, no matter how strong his nerves may be, should be subjected to such a strain, while others, wearing the same uniform and receiving the same reward, should be exempted from all hardships and all risks. Surely now that every eligible man is being not only challenged, but practically made to go, the shirker in khaki should be the first to be compelled to go. He is a sham and disgraces the uniform of heroes. Those men who sit by their fireides and openly refuse to go, are infinitely less contemptible than they who stalk about in khaki, who are saluted by men bearing the honorable scars of war, and whose shoes they are not worthy to black. They are more contemptible than the man who has enlisted for home service, and resigns his commission on the outbreak of war, and heaven knows he is bad enough. But a man who has won decorations on the field of battle, having to salute the 'Refusiliers' is disgusting. Instead of saluting him, he should kick him off the sidewalk. He is a useless nonentity, and always the first one to yell for recruits.

Here's good health to our gallant soldier boys, and perdition to his enemies, and the 'Refusiliers'!

The Limit of all Things

It was at a village concert, where some pretty girls were acting as attendants, showing people to their places. One specially charming damsel approached an old gentleman, and said: "Shall I show you to a seat?" she murmured, with a bashful blush. The old man stared at her, and the girl repeated her question, feeling most abashed. "Can I show you to a seat?" she said, in louder tones. "Oh, what—what?" exclaimed the old man, who was very deaf. That finished the poor girl. "Shall I show you to a seat?" she screamed wildly.

According to Indian mythology, the earth is supported by eight white elephants.

Its Mayor a Murderer

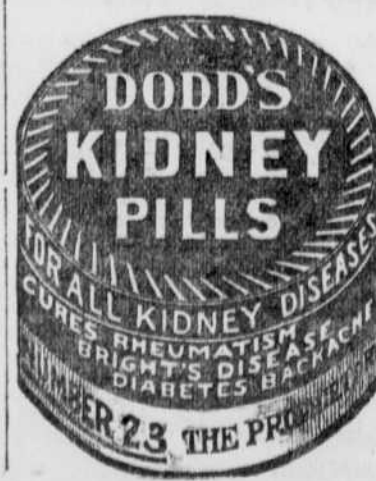

Irkutsk is a city that is governed by brutality. Its mayor for some years was a murderer exiled from the terrible quicksilver mines. On an average there are over 500 murders there every year. The majority of the inhabitants are illiterate, and half savage. The city council for many years were as bad as the rest, holding up civilians in the streets at the point of the revolver and forcing them to hand over their money. Although times are changing in the city, there was a time when stories of vice and crime went on which cannot be printed here. Truly it bears the title of the world's wickedest city.

Shrapnel Cases Similar

As far as the construction of the shrapnel shell and case is concerned, there is very little difference in those employed by the various governments. Starting with the case, it will be seen that these are almost identical, except for length, and the arrangement of the head for carrying the detonating primer. There is a marked similarity in this respect between the Russian, British and German, and between the American and French.

A Privileged Regiment

There is only one regiment in the British army which is permitted to wear its badge on both the back and the front of the helmet—the Gloucesters. This is in commemoration of the battle of Alexander (1801), in which the 1st Battalion of the regiment, then the 28th Foot, being pressed front and rear, fought back to back.

Had a Nervous Breakdown, Could Not Sleep or Work

Is Now Cured and Attributes His Recovery to the Use of Dr. Chase's Medicines.

Some splendid results have been reported to us from the combined use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and Nerve Food. In complicated cases they work together with great success.

While the Kidney-Liver Pills arouse the action of liver, kidneys and bowels, and so overcome derangements of these organs, the Nerve Food enriches the blood, strengthens the nerves and builds up the system in a general way.

Mr. R. B. Hillman, Purbrook, Muskegon, Ont., writes: "About four years ago I was all run down and could not work, and as to writing a letter, I could not do it on account of my hand shaking so badly. My nerves were unstrung and I was troubled with a nervous breakdown. I could not sleep normally and would start up so suddenly as to almost jump out of bed. My kidneys were bad, too, and I had awful pains in the back all day. I doctored with our family doctor, but he did not seem to know what I needed. I was recommended to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and could sleep well three nights after starting the use of the Nerve Food and Kidney-Liver Pills. I take great pleasure in recommending these medicines as I have proved that they do all that is claimed for them."

When used together the Nerve Food should be used after each meal and at bed-time, and the Kidney-Liver Pills only as often as is necessary to keep the bowels in healthy condition. Dr. Chase's medicines are for sale by all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

MAPLE LEAF PAINT

It Makes Good Because It's Made Good.

—the millionaire can't buy better paint anywhere.

—and the man who owns the humble cottage can't save money any surer way than with MAPLE LEAF.

MAPLE LEAF PAINT is the sum total motor driven adding machine of paint progress when it comes to comparison with the old pot and paddle days I had to go through.

For the "old man" with his shirt sleeves up and nothing to do on a Saturday afternoon—but a little job of painting—there's nothing to it but MAPLE LEAF and follow the directions on the can. Perhaps he won't need my services, but here's my advice to him—go to it strong with MAPLE LEAF and the eternal smile will become a permanent fixture on his face—for every time he'll look at the job he'll say MAPLE LEAF for mine every time.

The man with the MAPLE LEAF around his store is the man to buy paint from, look him up in your town.

Honduras a Rich Country

Honduras is a rich country and its resources remain in almost a virgin condition. It possesses a climate that varies with its topography, the temperature on the coast being hot, and the lowlands of the interior it is warm, and in the mountains it is temperate and in some places cold. Its mountains abound in minerals, and its tablelands and valleys are especially adapted for raising cattle and for agriculture.

Possible But Not Probable

Using radio-active phenomena for the basis of their calculations, two British scientists believe that the world is at least 211,000,000 years old.

The Queen's Flag

Queen Mary has a flag of her own, which is flown to indicate the presence of Her Majesty, just as the Royal Standard is flown to indicate the pres-somewhat elaborate in design, one half bearing the Royal Arms of the United Kingdom, and the other half a combination of the arms of Her Majesty's parents, the late Duke and Duchess of Teck.

The whole kingdom is mapped out in eleven munition areas, seven in England and Wales, two in Scotland, and two in Ireland. The areas are sub-divided into a varying number of districts, and each district has a local board of management, acting under the Ministry of Munitions.

The boards of management have drastic powers for taking the lathes, engineering equipment, and factories in their areas. At the Ministry of Munitions is an official for each local area.

At one factory in Birmingham 7,000,000 rifle cartridges are turned out every week. Of the 7,000 employees at the factory, over 4,000 are women, each earning from $6 to $15 and more, a week.

In the Leeds area there was not a single munition factory at the beginning of the war. Now there are 500.
The National Shell Factory at Keighley turns out thousands of shells a week.

So keen is the competition between the munition factories in Yorkshire to break records in output that they have a challenge shield for the best shift, the competition being a weekly one.

In Scotland is to be found the largest munition factory in the kingdom.
In size it is second only to Krupp's.
It is at present directly employing 60,000 persons, including 6,000 women.

Some idea of the varied requirements of modern warfare may be gained from the fact that at this Scottish factory seventy-seven different varieties of shells are made.

The champion of the factory is a girl who is machining the copper bands on shells. Her record is 1,014 in a ten-hour shift, or, say 101 an hour.
She earns $25 a week.

The munition factories in Scotland have been given names that have become famous in the war, such as Ypres, Albert, Liege, Marne, Anzac,
Mons, etc.

The patriotic enthusiasm of the Scottish munition workers may be gathered from the fact that a new factory covering 200 acres is nearing completion, although it was begun less than two months before.

The secret of this lightning speed is perhaps the best thing of all. The contractor is doing the work for nothing and the men, inspired by his lead, are playing an equally patriotic part.

At one small Scottish factory there are 320 girls, with only eight skilled men to look after them. They are making high explosive shells and they turn out many thousands a week. Most of the girls munition workers wear knock overalls and caps, while each bench or lathe "sports" its national flag.

Leeds was the first in the field in West Riding, and now has a munition factory in which 1,200 men are employed.

Quiet But—

Britons don't wear their hearts on their sleeves, and they have too keen a sense of humor to organize such a movement as the German campaign of hate against England. But a German-American returned from a visit to London said to the New York Evening Post: "There is something appalling in the calmness of the people of England. I should not like any nation to feel against America what Britain feels against Germany." He said in England he felt as though he were in the presence of some colossal elemen-tal force.

Could Not Stand
The Least Excitement.

Was So Weak and Run Down.

Many women become run down and worn out by their household cares and duties never ending, and sooner or later find themselves with shattered nerves and weak hearts.

When the heart becomes weak, and the nerves unstrung, it is impossible for a woman to look after her household or social duties. The least little exertion excites her in an exhausted condition, and not fit to do anything.

On the first sign of any weakness of the heart or nerves, you will be wise if you start to take Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

This remedy will act directly on the disordered heart making it beat strong and regular, and will also invigorate and strengthen the nerves so as to make them steady and firm.

Mrs. J. A. Williams, Tillsonburg, Ont., writes: "I cannot speak too highly of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I suffered greatly with my nerves. I was so weak and run down, I could not stand the least excitement of any kind. I believe your Heart and Nerve Pills to be a valuable remedy for all sufferers from nervous trouble."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are the original remedy for all heart and nervous troubles. Price 50 cents per box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

WAR NEWS

A single projectile from a 15-inch naval gun weighs 1,950 pounds.
The French armies are being supplied with 200,000 shells a day.

With only one exception, every bank in Manchester is now employing girl clerks.

It is estimated in official quarters that the public in Britain since the outbreak of the war has subscribed roughly $135,000,000 for various charitable purposes.

The record for bullet holes in a flying machine, a much prized record, is held by a pilot who returned from one flight recently with over 300 holes.
The previous record being 240 odd.
Since the outbreak of war the British Government have purchased for the army 36,033,523 pairs of worsted socks, 44,692,733 yards of flannel (enough to make 12,500,000 shirts), and 4,592,733 yards of white flannel for hospital shirts.

SPORTSMEN ALWAYS

Tommy's Love of Sport in Face of Danger Strikingly Illustrated

The curious character of Tommy at the front is strikingly illustrated by a couple of stories which Mr. Ian Malcolm, M.P., tells: "One day," he says,
I was talking to some townspeople at Tripart. They were telling me stories of the retreat, and how highly they thought of our army. "But we shall never quite understand you," they added. "What other army is there which after retreating for so many days and nights with the enemy at their heels, would have behaved like the English?"
They reached Meaux, monsieur, and what did they do? They at once began to play football, they took boots and rowed on the river, they even bathed; and then they went on fighting."

Very amusing, too, is the story of a certain Tommy, whom Mr. Malcolm and a friend discovered when they were motoring behind Ypres on a road in which Jack Johnsons had dug immense holes. The heavy Belgian rain had filled these with water, and by the side of one such such Tommy, scarcely fishing with rod and line.
"What are you doing?" asked Mr.
Malcolm's friend. "Fishing," replied the angler, without a smile on his face. "But you can't catch fish in a shell hole like that, you know?"
To which the answer was, "Wait and see." So my friend waited and saw.
Tommy soon landed quite a big fish, to the utter amazement of the onlookers, who asked how it was done. "Well, you see, yesterday I was off duty and I went down with my net to the river yonder. I caught lots of fish and put them into these holes for me and my pals to catch when we wanted them."

TEUTON CHARMS

Even the Huns Carry Mascots—Little Willie's Horseshoe

The soldiers of the Kaiser are very superstitious, from the men in the ranks clear up to the Crown Prince.
Wilhelm's eldest son carries a horseshoe with him on all his motor trips, and the Crown Prince spends most of the day in his motor car. The horseshoe is attached to one of the doors of the car, and when being photographed in his motor car the Prince always insists on the photographer "taking" the side of the car with the horseshoe.

The soldiers of Wurtemberg pin their faith upon a little bit containing the dry pollen of flowers, which, they believe, has the power of warding off the bullets.

The Saxons sew into the lining of their waistcoat the wings of a bat and think themselves to be invincible.
The Bavarians hold on tenaciously to a still more bizarre custom. Before going into battle each soldier finds a birch tree, cuts his skin, and lets a few drops of blood fall upon the tree.
This ceremony, they assert, assures recovery, no matter what the nature of the wound, when the leaves begin to grow again.

SELECTING GOOD ROADS

Best Way of Selecting Route to be improved

The only reasonable basis for determining which of perhaps a great number of public roads in a community should be improved, or the order in which improvements should take place, in public convenience. In order to make each improvement add the maximum amount to the convenience of the public, however, it is necessary that the engineer who plans the improvements must have a comprehensive understanding of the economic and social relationship which exists between different parts of the community under consideration and also the effect which different roads, if improved, would have in making this relationship more advantageous.

In order to gain a comprehensive understanding of this kind it is usually necessary for the engineer to prepare a plan showing the various highways in proper relation to each other, and showing also how population and industries are distributed. The amount and character of traffic using each important road, or which would use an improved road having the same location, may be estimated by means of traffic counts or otherwise, and should be shown on the plan.
With such a plan before him, it is practicable for an engineer to lay out an intelligent system of improved highways which would accommodate the entire community, and to assign relative weights to each unit of the system according to its importance.
This system would serve as a model toward the development of which all road improvement work should be directed, but which might be readily modified to meet the extensions arising from the system developed.—Canadian Engineer.

THE APPROACH OF EASTER

In all the Anglican and Roman Churches of the city began today the celebration of the most solemn period in the whole of the ecclesiastical year, comprised by Holy Thursday, Good Friday and Easter Saturday. The ordinary ritual of the services is replaced by others expressive of sorrow, which culminates on the Friday, the day of the crucifixion of the Saviour.

SWAT THE FLY

The early fly's the one to swat. It comes before the weather's hot, And sits around and flies its legs. And lays at least ten million eggs. And every egg will bring a fly To drive us crazy by and by. Oh, every fly that skips our swatter, Will have five million sons and daughters, And countless first and second cousins, And aunts and uncles, scores of dozens, And fifty seven billion nieces; So knock the blamed things all to pieces. And every niece and every aunt, Unless we swat them so they can't, Will lay enough dodged eggs To fill up ten five-gallon kegs, And all these eggs as summer flies Will bring forth twenty trillion flies. The Smelting Pot will be in evidence at the Tea and Bridge to be given by the members of the Duke of Wellington Chapter I. G. D. E. at the Overseas Club on Wednesday April 26th.

What is the Smelting Pot? It is a collection of old silver ware, such as broken manicure set handles, old silver plated ware, old jewelry, in fact any thing that has a coating of silver or gold on it.

Do drop something in our Smelting Pot either big or small and so help along the good work we are doing for our soldiers and sailors.

Donations for the Smelting Pot are already coming in. Mrs. S. W. Jenches has received a silver tea service, table napkin rings and pickle stand and fork, cake basket, silver jewel case, spoons, butter knife, paper knife, manicure handles etc., and so it is hoped our list will be greatly augmented on April 26th.

FLOWER AS FOOD

The food value of flowers is a matter just beginning to interest the scientific world. Violets are said to contain considerable nourishment. They formed the basis of a refreshing drink, and in other forms figured conspicuously in the feasts of the ancient Preslans. The modern confectioner crystallizes them in sugar.

The old Turkish confections made of rose leaves are declared delicious by those who have eaten them. A number of cooks have discovered that a handful of rose petals imparts a flavor of unparalleled delicacy to desserts of many kinds.

For those who do not care for candy the gaily colored nasturtium offers delights to the palate. It may be used as a filling for sandwiches, mixed judiciously with other materials in salad. Its delicious pungency appeals to the epicure, while physicians say it aids digestion.

A favorite Italian dish consists of fried squash blossoms. When properly prepared this food is both appetizing and nourishing. The yellow blossoms of the common field pumpkin may be cooked in the same way, and to some tastes are even more pleasing.

TRENTINO

In the Trentino, where the Italian Alpine troops are operating, the natural difficulties are so great that any advance at all would almost appear impossible. The beautiful Dolomite peaks have long attracted rock climbers from every nation, and some of the hardest ascents present tests of skill of the severest kind. The character of the district is described by Guido Rhy, a famous Italian mountaineer, as a labyrinth of tortuous passages, with dark defiles and unexpected openings; a jumble of rocks, of huge masses and little hillocks, thrown here and there at haphazard, of great plateaux and short valleys, of towering crags and pits, sunk deep in the earth. Yet it is through this labyrinth that our ally's troops are slowly forcing their way.

The possession by Austria of the passes leading to the fertile plains of Northern Italy is a menace to the security of the country. In the Trentino there are "dramatic citadels, ruined battlements, crumbling minarets, broken stems of obelisks, worn profiles of sphinxes, solitary trunks of gigantic pillars ten times higher than those of Thebes, still bearing their capitals of lotus leaves, the only remains of the great ruined temple. From the fantastic towers of the Brenta group, to the huge mass of the Sasso Lungo which looks on the Upper Adige, the whole is an architecture of dreamland." What nation would not fight to redeem a country so splendid and magnificent?

TURKS TROOPS MASSACRE GREEKS

400 Were Killed And 300 Wounded
After Houses Had Been Pillaged

London, April 20.—(Special)—A Reuter's Saloniki despatch says that enemy detachments carried off a number of Greeks from the villages between Doiran and Akinjall on Wednesday but did not molest the Turkish or Bulgarian inhabitants.

400 KILLED AND 300 WOUNDED
London, April 20.—Wholesale massacres of Greeks at Adrianople, Constantinople and Smyrna are reported in a Saloniki despatch to the Morning Post.

"In Adrianople and Demotica, Turks and Bulgarians, acting together," says the despatch, "killed 400 and wounded 300 Greeks, after pillaging their houses. In the Smyrna district several Greek villages were raided, 200 persons being killed and many wounded."

"Constantinople was likewise the scene of serious massacres, no figures pertaining to which," adds the correspondent, "being available. All the massacres occurred on April 11."

SHERBROOKE MAN WOUNDED

Pte. Herbert Banks Was Well-Known as a Star Soccer Football Player

WAS A MEMBER OF THE 53RD REGIMENT BEFORE ENLISTING WITH MONTREAL REGIMENT LAST SUMMER.

Private Herbert Banks, regimental number 65044, who was named in the casualty list issued from Ottawa on Tuesday, as having been wounded—probably in the fighting which took place at St. Eloi—is a Sherbrooke soldier and went to Montreal to enlist in one of the battalions formed last summer. He has a wife and three children who are now living at 23 Birch street.

Banks is well known here as a star soccer football player, and he was one of the mainstays of the 53rd Regimental team and the Royal Athletics in the Eastern Townships Football League.

Banks drilled regularly with the 53rd regiment and is only one of many which the regiment sent to war as soon as the call came. He is an old countryman, but has lived both in the United States and Canada many years. He was a bricklayer by trade.

THE APPROACH OF EASTER

At St. Peter's Church the services consisted of a celebration at eight o'clock, morning prayer and reading at ten, and evening prayer at 5.30.

In the Roman Catholic churches of the city the Mass was celebrated and in the afternoon the impressive office of the Tenebrae was chanted.

The Tenebrae consists largely of selections from the Psalms and prophetic passages from the Old Testament, bearing on the incidents of the Passion, all of which are rendered without organ accompaniment, in the simple but dignified Georgian chant.

The churches are but dimly lighted, all lights being extinguished but those on the altar.

All speaks of the Cross of Calvary.

The "Seven Last Words" will be sung this evening at the Cathedral by the choir.

taligent government, he merits the most severe censure. Passing to the financial statement issued by the Provincial Treasurer for the year 1914-15 he found that there was claimed a surplus of $194,416, but if they turned to the English edition of the public accounts they would find that the government collected from one estate alone succession duties, namely, from the estate of the late Lord Strathcona, $513,193 and from another estate $109,559. If the Government had not had the good fortune to receive this amount in that year it would have had a deficit of $428,336.

DEBT OF THE PROVINCE

The debt of the province of Quebec on the 30th June, 1905, was $24,502,473, and seven years later this was increased by $3,123,281. The receipts of the government during this period from taxes was $103,949,369. What were the durable public works erected with this enormous sum. He mentioned the Bordeaux jail of which the interest on the cost of construction, and the cost of maintenance exceed $500,000 annually. He would refer especially to the question of roads. The provincial treasurer claims that the government has spent $12,300,000, and that this constitutes the capital expenditure, and he tries to justify the loan on account of this expenditure, but he does not tell, for example, that the revenue from the lands department, which is the price of the alienation of the public domain, amount to $14,163,870.

The administration in the Province of Quebec has cost $8,611,294 during the Gouin regime, and this does not include the salary of judges nor the cost of legislation. Mr. Cousineau asked why the cost of administration of justice should be doubled at this time. The Toronto Globe has stated that the Premier of the Province of Quebec was personally responsible for the administration of justice in this province, but it is rather unfortunate that the Globe did not describe Sir Lomer Gouin's close identification with the administration of justice in this province as in the case of Mr. Mousseau.

Mr. Cousineau then cited from the speeches of Father Donnelly at St. Patrick's, Montreal, and of Bishop Bruchet, on the low moral state of the country and the province. Referring to the cost of legislation Mr. Cousineau stated that the amount expended in 1905-06 was $217,000, while that expended last year was $415,000, and he asked if they had any better legislation now than they had ten years ago.

GOOD ROADS ACT

Coming to the matter of roads Mr. Cousineau spoke of the Good Roads Act of 1911 and that of 1912, and said that the result of this legislation had been predicted by the opposition. The department of good roads had not brought about in any way a systematic condition of highways, and the result was that there was only good roads to be found in patches. If the government had appointed at the beginning a commission of experts, who could have treated this question in a systematic and technical way, the province would have had better roads and more of them.

Speaking of education Mr. Cousineau said that according to the census of 1911, the province of Quebec occupied the fifth place regarding those who did not know how to read or write.

It was the Conservative government which first voted subsidies to encourage technical education in this province. The present government has built a large technical school in order only to give out a large contract, but it has done little in reality to assist technical education.

NO SYSTEM IN ADMINISTRATION

There was no system in the provincial administration of justice, agricultural or of education. There was nothing progressive as regards agriculture, and if the federal statistics regarding agriculture are true the Province of Quebec is at the end of all the provinces in the matter of agricultural production. The Gouin government claims that it has given more for education and more for agriculture than the previous government but it does not show by the results that this expenditure has been justified.

The Gouin government has always protected the public man of wrong doing, and instead of seeking to purify the public life it had contributed to leave it at the low level where it now is. In this connection the speaker spoke of the Turgeon-Lepine and Kelly scandals, and spoke at some length on the Mousseau scandal.

There are honest men capable and accomplished to undertake the task of purifying the administration of the province, and it is the duty of the electorate to elect these men. It is the duty of the electorate to consider the past, public and private life of those who will demand the confidence of the people, and to see that they are animated with that patriotism that they will do honor to you, your children and your province.

Before commencing to reply or to lay a plan for reforms it is necessary to turn out the present government. To do this the electorate of the province of Quebec would be given an opportunity on the 22nd of May. Mr. Cousineau concluded by stating that he had sufficient faith in the good judgment of the electors as a whole to make him believe that the result would be the end of the Gouin government.

MR. HECTOR VERRET.

Mr. Hector Verret also spoke and emphasized the necessity of choosing good all round candidates. He also referred at length to the various scandals in connection with the Gouin administration.

MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR CAMPAIGN.

A meeting of the Eastern Townships Conservative Association was held here yesterday afternoon to make arrangements for the forthcoming provincial elections.

Every county was well represented and Senator R. H. Pope, president of the association presided and explained the object of the meeting. In his introductory remarks he scored the Provincial Government for calling on the electors, at this time when the people were engaged, or should be engaged, in an effort to win the present war. He reproached the English speaking electors of the Province for their lack of interest in provincial elections, and expressed the opinion that they should be as equally interested in provincial matters as they were in federal matters. He advised a contest in every constituency in the Eastern Townships, stating that this was not a time when the Conservatives should be down, but rather that they should be seen in action. He then called upon the different persons in the audience to speak for their respective counties in the following order: L. P. Fréchette for Mégantic County; M. Laplante for Wolfe; Dr. Hayes and Dr. Allard for Richmond; F. R. Cromwell, M.P., and L. Bolduc, for Compton; F. X. Giroux for Missisquoi; Dr. Shurtliff, K. C., for Stanstead; and R. A. Ewing and M. O'Bready for Sherbrooke. These gentlemen having expressed their views the meeting was then adjourned to give an opportunity for the leaders from the various counties to meet the leader of the opposition, Mr. P. Cousineau in consultation.

Mr. Cousineau during the meeting gave a short address and explained the necessity from his view point of candidates being placed in every constituency in the Eastern Townships to whom he promised the support of himself and the leaders of the party as far as possible.

Conventions will be called shortly in every county when the question of placing candidates in the field will be considered.

USE SHELLS AGAIN

Hunters Can Reload One Hundred Half Hour

Are you paying a high price for your cartridges? The abnormal demand for metallic cartridges, resulting from the European conflict resulted in raising the cost of materials and labor in the production of arms and ammunition, considerably, and the result is increased cost to the individual shooter—if he uses only new factory loaded cartridges. This brings up the question "Is there any practical way to reduce the high cost of shooting?" and the practical answer is found in the experience of many thousands of shooters who are reloading their center-fire cartridges for rifles, pistol and shotguns.

The modern metallic cartridge is a remarkably well-made article—made apparently without regard for expense. The material used is of the highest grade; the workmanship is remarkably uniform and accurate—and the shell is so strong, and so perfectly designed for the chambers in which it is used, that it is just as perfect and serviceable after the first discharge of the cartridge as when new. Any good metallic shell can be reloaded from 10 to 30 times on the average—and by utilizing the empty fired shell in this way you are saving the cost of the one biggest item in the production of the cartridge.

Having the empty shell, it is a very simple matter to insert a new primer, insert the correct powder charge, place a bullet in the end of the shell and crimp the shell onto the bullet. This gives you a complete cartridge. The investment of a little spare time, with a moderate expense for primers, powders and bullets, has given you a new cartridge at about half the expense of the original factory load. And it's mighty interesting work. In its simplest form you simply buy the bullets ready made, buy the primer and powder—and with a simple, inexpensive reloading tool you can reload your tool in about half an hour.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

What to do and What to Avoid in Regulating Heart Action

Do not get angry. Any strong emotions adds to the labor of the heart, and a heart overworked means shortened life. So reasons Dr. J. Strickland Goodall in a recent paper on the prevention of heart strain.

From before birth until a little after death the human heart beats from seventy to 150 times a minute, and each beat means work equivalent to raising a 3-pound weight through one foot. To form an idea of this work one has only to take such a weight in his hand and lift it over that distance as many times in a minute as the heart beats.

Anything that quickens the heart's action increases its labor. Accurate tests have shown that a man riding a bicycle up a 10 per cent grade for 1,500 feet in four minutes adds an amount of labor to his heart that would lift a ton and an eighth one foot.

Violent physical exertion of any kind quickens the heart beats. Strong emotion has the same effect. Intense anger may increase the heart's labor from 150 pounds per minute to 225 pounds. Under such a strain the heart of an animal has been known to literally break, causing almost instant death.

Acute heart strain is practically impossible in the young, healthy, and well nourished adult, but quite likely in all others. Once it occurs the heart is incapable of extra work and falls when called upon to do it. The doctor argues, therefore, that one cannot be too careful to economize in the work laid upon this organ.

PATRIOTIC WORK IN LENNOXVILLE

Subscriptions Coming In For Serbian Relief Fund—Numerous Activities

$20 RAISED FROM SUGAR SOCIAL FOR WOOL FOR SOLDIER'S SOCKS

The Lennoxville Patriotic Association met on Friday, April 14 in the Village Library. The sum of $20 was received from the proceeds of the sugar social given by the Knitting Club. This money was used to buy wool for the machine-made socks.

No official report had been received from the Council regarding the grant for the Patriotic Fund.

Mrs. Johnston reported that since the last meeting thirty-four pairs of socks had been sent to boys at the front who had enlisted from Lennoxville, whose addresses are as follows: Private C. J. Sewell, 3rd Can. Tunneling Co.; Pte. Richard Edwards, 3rd Can. Tunneling Co.; Pte. Reidshaw, also of the 3rd C.T. Co.; Pte. A. Saunders, Machine Gun Section, 13th Battalion; Pte. R. D. Martin, No. 3 Co. Princess Pats, British Expeditionary Force.

The Red Cross report was very encouraging, the total number of articles made during the month being 1263.

S. Lucke, Treasurer Serbian Relief Fund acknowledges the following: Stewart, Lyster, $10.00; Col. Amer, $5.00; Hon. Mrs. Lovell Amer, $10.00; Mrs. Lucke, $5.00; rs. Vial, $1.00.

Mrs. Lucke also acknowledges $10.00 from Mrs. Stewart, Lyster, for the Lennoxville Patriotic Association.

The Records for the coming month will be mailed by Mrs. Lalumière.

CAPTURED GUNS

Guns captured in battle are seldom used by the captor, and for a very good reason. Take the case of the field guns, for example, used by present-day armies. They all take practically three-inch shells, but there is a very slight difference in the actual size used by each nation. It is this slight difference in diameter, amounting in many cases to only a few hundredths of an inch, which prevents German guns, say, taking our shells. The diameter of the shell used with the Belgian field gun, for example, is 2.95 inches, a tenth of an inch smaller than that of the German gun.

A Belgian shell would enter the bore of a German gun too easily, and it would be impossible to fire it accurately. If a German shell were forced into a Belgian gun, that gun would burst when fired, because the shell is too big to go down the barrel. Unless a gun is captured undamaged, together with a supply of its proper ammunition, it is useless. The capture only means reducing the fighting power of the enemy.

HUNS' DREAM EMPIRE

No Hope of Population or Safety or Markets

Under British rule and with the natural lines of traffic not warped and twisted to suit dreams of world empire Mesopotamia will have all the material development that Germany can give her and more, and in addition the advantages of better connection with the world's markets. Where Germany hoped to get sufficient population to work for a Mesopotamian dependency is beyond comprehension and British rule, thanks to the possession of the Indian Empire, offers the additional advantage of an earlier realization of the Prussian dreams of galvanizing into prosperity the decadent Garden of Eden. Perhaps colonists were to come from all parts of the Turkish Empire, but the Turk is not so overcrowded elsewhere as to be a colonist that any great success could be hoped for from this direction. Perhaps the fat burghers of Frankfurt and Munich were destined, like the Superman that they claim to be, to defy the rigors of 133 degrees Fahrenheit. Perhaps the Germans intended to secure their colonies from their own Indian Empire which was to be created by a march across Persia and Afghanistan from Baghdad. Truly the Arabian Nights would have returned and Tamerlane and the Mongols and the other conquerors of Mesopotamia would have turned over in their graves at the sight of this latter day Kultur progressing east instead of west. But the long, lean flanks of the Dachsund reaching through into Afghanistan are in danger from the Russian in Caucasian Armenia and in Northern Persia and from the Indians themselves sent up the water routes of the Tigris and Euphrates by the only race that knows how to win the respect and affection of India.

War Snobs

A Welshman, commenting on those people who refuse to allow "common" soldiers into high class refreshment bars, etc., sends a paragraph which should be read by those English ladies who invite wounded soldiers out to tea and then provide that valuable rest in the servant's hall. Here is the story: "A certain pompous lady had a much needed lesson in this respect recently. She invited three wounded Australians to tea, which was taken of with the servants in the kitchen. The gallant warriors enjoyed themselves and proved highly welcome guests in the servants' hall, and made their farewells promising that their acquaintances of the evening should hear of them again. So they did; each servant receiving a cheque, together with the warriors' cards. One was a banker in Sydney, another was a barrister-at-law from the same city, and the third was a harbor inspector! Each had a banking account capable of being drawn on for six times the lady who invited them was worth!"

ENGLAND'S NEWSPAPERS

In London there are three newspapers which came into existence in the latter part of the eighteenth century, the oldest of these being the Morning Post, which dates from 1772. The Times was established sixteen years later (1788), and next came the Observer, in 1791, and the Morning Advertiser in 1794. At the beginning of the next century the Weekly Dispatch appeared (1801), and in 1803 the Globe was first printed and still occupies an honorable place among its younger contemporaries. Outside London the Sheffield Telegraph claims to be the oldest newspaper, but the Leeds Mercury, as a newspaper, can claim a longer record, for it was founded in 1718, and the Yorkshire Post came into existence as a weekly in 1754. On Jan. 1, 1916, there were in the United Kingdom 2,400 newspapers, making allowance for recent publications which have succumbed in the struggle for existence—and supremacy. Within the postal radius of London there are 460, of which at least 27 are morning dailies and six evening dailies. In the English and Welsh provinces there are close on 1,500 newspapers, in Scotland 255, and in Ireland 190. There are forty-two London daily papers to-day—though, of course, comparatively few are known to the public, many of them being purely business papers, and no fewer than five are Jewish dailies.

Nothing in Talk

The late Sir John Bullend Maple, one of London's best business men, once said, in a discussion on efficiency in salesmanship:

"The young salesman can make no greater mistake than to think that loquacity and gab are the chief factors in making sales. They are, but too often, the chief factors in losing sales. The representative of a promising novelty complained to me one day about his want of success. 'The machine,' he said, 'has got wonderful points, but I can't make people see them.' Knowing the young man's weakness, I answered: 'How can you expect a customer to see your point, George, when you talk him blind?'"

MARVELLOUS CRICKETER

Dr. Grace Unbeaten For Length and Glory of Career

Wherever cricket is played the name of Dr. W. C. Grace is associated with it. No man in the history of the sport was as well known or had accomplished as much as "W.C." as he was affectionately called the world over. The veteran was known as "The Grand Old Man of Cricket."

Every one loved him because of his wonderful success in the field and because of his many qualities. Dr. Grace, who was Governor of Gloucester County, was one of three brothers, all of whom were almost equally famous, and they all played for Gloucester County. The other brothers were Gilbert F. and E. M. The trio played a prominent part in English cricket for fifty years, and later Dr. Grace's sons took up the sport, although they failed to attain the prominence which marked the career of their father.

Dr. Grace was a lover of Gloucestershire, and was born there on July 13, 1848. His active cricket career started at the age of 16, and he soon proved that his powers as a batsman were far above the average. He went rapidly from success to success, piling up huge scores, including many centuries, and even scores of 200 and 300 and more, against the best bowling England could produce, until he was regarded as the world's premier batsman. A position he held for about forty-five years. His highest score in first-class cricket was 344 runs, while he compiled another of 400 not out against twenty-two players of Ormsby and district. His record in first-class cricket compiled up to 1900 gave him 1,280 innings, with a total of 49,122 runs, a high score of 344, with 96 times not out, and a batting average of a little over 40 runs per innings. His highest score in first-class cricket was 344 runs, while he compiled another of 400 not out against twenty-two players of Ormsby and district. Up to about 1905 Dr. Grace was associated with Gloucestershire cricket, but gave up active cricket for a time. He organized the London County Club, which had its headquarters at the Crystal Palace near London, and again resumed active work in the cricket field. With this club he was connected as late as 1914 and in 1915 he was the hero of an inning which netted him 90 runs.

Several years ago a movement was started to create a testimonial fund subscribed by cricketers from all over the world, which netted an income providing for his maintenance the rest of his life. At one time he possessed a lucrative medical practice, but this he sacrificed for cricket. For more than forty years no All-England team was complete without him, and he made several tours in distant parts of the world, including Australia, South Africa, Canada, and the United States. He was aged 67 in 1915 when he died.

WONDERFUL RISE OF
AUTOMOBILE RACING

When 7.5 Miles Per Hour Won Prize—France, Britain and United States Share Glory

In 1895 the most powerful racing automobile attained an average speed of 7.5 miles an hour in the first American motor derby. Twenty odd years later the winner of the Astor Cup Race traveled 101.86 miles an hour. This great increase in speed is due not only to the development of the racing car, however, but to the scientific construction of tracks and speedways as well. The first automobile road race was run between Paris and Bordeaux in 1895. A series of trials had been held on the public highway between Paris and Rouen the year before, but they were only tests and not competitions.

It is a peculiar coincidence in motor racing that the first recorded victory in a road race is credited to a Peugeot, while the first to travel over 100 miles per hour was of the same make. Count de Dion has the distinction of driving the first self-propelled vehicle on public roads in competition. His "car" was a quadricycle, and his "speedway" was a Paris boulevard. In the first recorded race, Paris to Bordeaux and return, the Peugeot was declared the winner, although it did not finish first, the leading car being disqualified for not complying with the rules. The distance was 732 miles. Twenty-two cars started, and nine covered the course. The Peugeot ran the race at an average of 12.2 miles an hour, and finished three days after it started.

Introduced the Invention
The first motor car race in America was held in 1895. It was held by a Chicago newspaper. A car manufactured by C. E. Duryea came off victor, averaging 7.5 miles an hour for a fifty-four mile course covered with snow and ice. Only two years later Alexander Winton, in his little Winton runabout, set the first American record by travelling a mile in 1.40. Between 1898 and 1901 several motor race meets were held. They served one purpose, giving the public the idea that a new means of transportation had arrived. There was no apathy in the public's reception of the motor car as a racing engine. Huge crowds turned out to witness the sport whenever a meet was announced.

In 1901 motor racing became more than experimental. Cars had been so perfected that they could finish a race. Their speed almost equaled that of the common object of comparison, the railway engine. On August 30, 1901, at Newport, R. I., William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., drove his Mercedes five miles in about seven and a half minutes, and ten miles in 15 minutes. On Nov. 16 of the same year the Automobile Club of Long Island held its famous speed trials on the Coney Island Boulevard. In this event Henri Fourner drove his Mors car one mile in 9.51 seconds. This feat caused the greatest excitement.

Enclosed Tracks Next
Early in 1904 W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., offered a trophy to be contested for on an international basis, no country to be represented by more than ten cars. The first race was run on Oct. 3, 1904, over a course on Long Island measuring 32.24 miles. The total distance was 234.4 miles. The race was run yearly until 1906, when crowding of the spectators on the course, and failure to obtain militia to patrol the road, caused the abandonment of contests on the public highways. A plan to build a motor parkway on Long Island was then formulated, and although only a portion of it has been completed, it was the first American speedway. Then for several years motor competitions were held on horse racing tracks and sand shores.

The first specially constructed, enclosed speedway for motor racing was built by Locke King at Brooklands, about twenty miles from London. This was a saucer-shaped course, with a cement racing surface of 2 1/2-18 miles. America's first speedway was built at Indianapolis in 1909 and had a monopoly until 1914, when a new era of track construction began. Indianapolis is two and a half miles in circumference. It had a gravel surface originally. After several persons had been killed in mishaps caused by the poor condition of the track, the surface was rebuilt with vitrified brick. The first races at Indianapolis were short sprints of not more than fifty miles. The speedway, as well as the car, must have credit for the remarkable records recorded later.

SMOKY JOE WOOD
hero of two world's series contests. Is a shining example of a pitcher "coming back" after a slump in form which at one time made his friends fear that his days with a major league were numbered.

KNOW THE "PERFESH"
Pass Fiend Beat the Gatemans at the Ball Park

Frank Bancroft, business manager and critic of the Cincinnati Reds, has engaged in almost every line of the amusement business, from tomatoes to grand opera and naturally, through his forty years of experience with theatricals and baseball, has formed a large acquaintance, which is embarrassing on the pass gate. One day Banny was loitering near the pass gate and a fellow stepped up.

"Do you recognize the profesh?" he inquired.

"Sure," said Banny. "What's your line?"

The man took his cheeks between his fingers and thumbs, stretched them to arm's length and let them snap back.

"Rubber-skinned man," he retorted.

"Come in," said Banny. "Gotta perch you in the press box."

"Ill Blows the Wind—"

A well known professional footballer enlisted in the Black Watch, and was in the habit of receiving a parcel from home regularly every week. It contained the usual assortment of cakes. On one occasion, however, the parcel was found to contain nothing but a lady's corset and an invoice from a London firm, with a lady's name and address. What had happened was obvious—the labels had been torn off two packets and got transposed in putting them back again. A very nice letter was dispatched with the corset to the lady, explaining the circumstances, and requesting that if she had received their parcel would she kindly forward it to the camp. In due time a letter was received from the lady, explaining that their parcel had reached her some few days previously, but it was not much good to return it, as the things were all stale, but she hoped to forward in a day or two a parcel in its place. From that date until the regiment left for active service, a parcel, full of eatables, was duly received every week from the lady.

SOLDIERS PLAYED AGGRESSIVE- ly and led all the way.

The 117th Batt. basketball team succeeded in beating the Maple Leafs at the Y. M. gym last night in a lively, well-played game.

The soldiers' team was strengthened by the inclusion of Locke, and they also had Bassett, who helped the Maple Leafs win the first game but who is now a member of the regiment. Bassett contributed two baskets with long accurate shots, which was the feature of the game.

The regiment five were aggressive, and the checking was close. The score at half time was 18 to 12 for the winners, and the final count, 25 to 23.

For the Maple Leafs, Kerr, Cortfield and McKee played effective games.

RED CROSS WORK AT SCOTTS TOWN

Scotstown, April 19 (Special)—The Scotstown Red Cross Society met on Friday with Mrs. C. A. Nodding. There was a good attendance and a large amount of work done on towels and caps. After refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Nodding, the secretary treasurer, Mrs. Boy, read a communication from Miss White of the Sherbrooke Red Cross branch to carry on the work and suggesting that money be collected, or a monthly pledge be made. After some deliberation it was voted that $10.00 per month at least be sent as long as it is possible to raise said amount and the Society hopes to be able to do so for the coming year.

The secretary was requested to write a letter of sympathy to one of the members, Mrs. Donald Morrison, at this time of her great sorrow in the death of her son and sister.

The following donations have been received during the past week as follows: Mrs. John MacDonald, $3.00; Mrs. R. A. Scott, $1.00; Miss Margaret Bowman, $1.00; Rev. P. R. Roy, $1.00; Mrs. Houston, 50 cents. The secretary reported having a consignment to forward to Sherbrooke consisting of 12 suits of pyjamas, 2 flannel shirts, 32 pillow cases, 13 pairs of socks, 3 face cloths, 8 bed pads.

The next meeting will be held on Friday, April 28th with Mrs. R. B. Scott.

"DRY" FIGHT ON IN WATERLOO

Both Temperance and Liquor Interests Working Hard in Present Campaign

VOTE AS TO WHETHER HOTELS WILL BE CLOSED TAKES PLACE ON THURSDAY AND FRIDAY OF NEXT WEEK.

Waterloo, April 20.—(Special)—The campaign for the closing of the four hotels in Waterloo is well started and both sides have settled down to work in earnest. The town is placarded with posters informing citizens that "The Bar Must Go," and advising them to "Vote Dry." In reply, the liquor interests have put out placards informing the dry and thirsty ones that "The Bar Must Not Go," and advising them to "Vote Wet."

The temperance party are looking for a slide in which the liquor men will be snowed under. Meantime both sides are confident of success, and both sides are consequently happy. So determined are the temperance workers to success in the coming contest that at a great expense they have secured the services of the world-renowned temperance lecturer, Tennyson-Smith, of England, for a full week, commencing on Wednesday, April 19th, and closing on Wednesday, the 26th April. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings the Town Hall has been secured and on Sunday morning the Methodist Church will be used. On Sunday evening a mass meeting will be held in the Theatre at 8.15 p.m. On Monday there will be a great union meeting in the theatre which will be addressed by Judge Lafontaine and Dr. Gouveau and Tennyson-Smith.

Tuesday evening the meeting will be held in the Methodist Church, and on Wednesday evening, Tennyson-Smith will give his dramatic recital in the Theatre. Mr. Tennyson-Smith will be supported by his Australian wife, who is considered a remarkably fine singer, and whose voice will be heard in song at evening meetings.

The contest is attracting much attention in Sheffield and adjoining counties and much interest is shown, and there is much speculation as to the final issue of the fight.

The vote will be taken on April 27th and 28th, and arrangements are being made to get every voter out to poll their vote for or against the abolition of the bar in Waterloo.

THE 117th, 1000 strong, are going to represent the Eastern Townships in the fight for Liberty. —Will YOU be there? Will YOU be there?

HUN FAMILY KILLED

Deserter Loses Nine Brothers Killed and One Missing

A German deserter who arrived in a small Dutch town just over the frontier told an extraordinary story of fatalities.

He is about twenty-five, and was a clerk in Cologne. He had ten brothers all of whom took part in the war. Six were killed in Belgium, and three fell on the eastern front. The remaining brother is still fighting somewhere. He himself has been wounded several times, the last time near Warsaw, after which he was moved to a hospital in Belgium.

He and four comrades ran away, intending to cross into Holland, but the others were killed by electrified wires along the frontier, where electrified metal plaques are hidden in the grass along those parts of the frontier line most liable to be chosen by intending deserters.
