EIGHTY-NINTH

AR. NO. 159.

MONTREAL, FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 3, 1896.

PRICE ONE CENT.

WAITING FOR THE SUMMONS.

Mr. Laurier's Cabinet is Practically Completed.

BANQUET TO MR. THOMAS FORTIN.

Senator Pelletier and Messrs. Mills and Paterson in Town—Most of the Visiting Politicians Return Home.

The Windsor was once again the gathering place for the politicians yesterday.

Interest in the conference between Hon. Mr. Laurier and his lieutenants was further accentuated by the arrival of Hon. Senator Pelletier, from Quebec, of Hon. David Mills from London, of Mr. V. Paterson, from Brantford, and of Messrs. W. Mulock and J. L. Edgar, M.P.s, from Toronto. All these gentlemen, as well as other leading members of the party, had lengthy conferences during the day with the Liberal leader. The evening brought with it some proofs that satisfactory progress had been made with the composition of the new Government, for a number of the prominent visitors left for their homes by the night trains. Hon. A. G. Blair of New Brunswick, and Hon. L. H. Davies, of Prince Edward Island, went away by the Canadian Pacific, while the Grand Trunk took care of Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. David Mills, Mr. C. S. Hyman, and Mr. William Paterson. Messrs. Mulock and Edgar remained over until to-day.

Some mild excitement was caused during the evening by a report that Hon. Mr. Laurier had received a summons from His Excellency, the Governor-General, and would leave for Ottawa this morning. But the rumor was premature. It probably had its origin in the despatch from Ottawa announcing that Sir Charles Fipper was in conference with His Excellency, and the consequent knowledge that Mr. Laurier might receive a vice-regal summons at any time. The general feeling in political circles is that it will be next week before the Premier-elect is summoned to Rideau Hall. When that event does take place, it is probable that the official sweating-in of the new ministry will follow within 48 hours. As little time as possible will be consumed in order that the new Premier and his colleagues may go back to their constituencies for re-election in time to meet Parliament, which is called to meet for the despatch of business on Thursday week. It is not considered likely that any of the gentlemen chosen for Cabinet positions will be opposed by the Conservatives; although it is just possible that contests may take place in some of the western constituencies. But any such opposition will be purely factional, as the country is with Mr. Laurier and is determined that he and his colleagues shall be allowed to get down to business as soon as possible.

MR. FORTIN HONORED.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas Fortin, the member elect for Laval, Co., tendered him an informal dinner last evening, at the St. Lawrence Hall. Mr. A. L. de Martigny, occupied the chair. Amongst the guests were Mr. Fortin, J. L. Tardif, M.P. for Laval, Hon. Odilon Desrosiers, M.P. for St. James Division, Hon. J. E. Robidoux, H. C. St. Pierre, Eugene Lafontaine, P. G. Martineau, Lomer Gouin, J. A. Drouin, D. A. Lafontaine, P. E. Paquet, Thos. Cote, G. E. Langlois, M. E. Kent, S. Hamilton, ex-Ald. Hamelin, A. Me Geoffrion, Amodee Geoffrion, G. Desautels, Amodee Lamarche, J. A. Girard, Oscar Morin, Remy Gohier, A. Fortin, L. A. Morin, sr., M. Germain, N.P., P. G. Martineau, J. Perron, D. Papineau, Gustave Lemay, L. E. N. Pratte, J. W. Brunet, Louis Boissau, O. H. Senecal, Jos. Archambault, Thos. Archambault, Oscar Beauchamp, J. P. B. Casgrain, Chas. A. Wilson, T. D. Shallow, Jos. Demers, J. O. Trempe, P. E. Lessard, J. G. Gauthier, Wilfrid Mercier, Chas. Menier, S. Deschamps, and many others.

After partaking of the excellent menu which was provided by Host Hogan, the usual loyal toasts were honored, to which Hon. Mr. Robidoux responded the health of the guest of the evening. Mr. Fortin replied in suitable terms, and received an ovation.

The chairman proposed the health of the chieftain, Hon. Wilfrid Laurier, and the toast was honored amidst the greatest enthusiasm. Mr. J. L. Tardif responded for him, and in the course of his remarks said that the choice of the members of Mr. Laurier's Cabinet was nearly completed, but nothing could be made public as yet, for, until this morning, he believed, that Sir Oliver Mowat and the Hon. Messrs. Blair and Fielding would be Ministers. (Applause.)

Mr. Lomer Gouin proposed the toast to the health of "Our Representatives in Parliament," which was responded to by Mr. O. Desrosiers. "The Press" was proposed by Mr. H. C. St. Pierre and was responded to by Mr. G. Desautels, of Le Sord, and Thos. Cote, of La Presse. Mr. D. A. Lafontaine spoke in reply to a toast to "Old Time Conservatives," and the event was brought to a close with short speeches by Messrs. Germain, P. G. Martineau, Gifford and Dr. N. W. Tremblay.

THEY ARE NOT SCARED.

Some time before polling day a city journal published an interview with a member of the firm of Ames, Holden & Co., in which that gentleman was made to say that he viewed the prospect of a Liberal victory with considerable misgivings, because, in his opinion, it would mean a very serious disturbance of business. The elections have been held and the Liberals won; yet the firm of Ames, Holden & Co. do not appear to have reached that stage of business despair, which was hinted at in the interview referred to. Since the elections, the firm has continued arrangements then in progress for the addition of another to the many branches which they have throughout the country. The new branch is to be in the Maritime Provinces and bids fair to be as profitable as those already established in Victoria and Vancouver, B.C.

NOTES.

Mr. Paterson of Brant received many expressions of sympathy during the day from his Montreal friends upon his defeat. The gallant fighter of the West did not, however, seem very downcast. He was braced because he was chivalrously aiding friends in other constituencies, and because his riding was one of those gerrymandered by the last redistribution bill. But time will bring its revenges, and Mr. Paterson will yet be again identified with the constituency which he has honored for so many years.

Mr. Justice Warble yesterday granted applications for recounts of the ballots in Jacques Cartier, Beauharnois, Nicolet and Three Rivers-St. Maurice. The recount in Yamaska is now in progress.

THREE DROWNED.

Peter McRae, His Wife and Son, of Ottawa, Upset on Lake Aylmer by a Squall.

Aylmer, Que., July 2.—Another fatal drowning accident happened on the Aylmer Lake about 8:30 this evening. While Mr. Peter McRae, his wife and son and Mr. F. H. Mercer, of the P. O. Department, all of Ottawa, were out in a sail boat, a sudden squall came on, capsizing the boat, when Mr. and Mrs. McRae and little son, aged 10, were drowned, Mr. Mercer being the only one saved. The bodies have not been recovered.

TRAGEDY AT WINNIPEG.

Wm. Warren Kills His Wife and Then Himself.

Winnipeg, July 2.—A double tragedy occurred here this morning, when William Warren, aged forty-three, an Englishman, employed in the C.P.R. shops, butchered his wife with a razor, almost severing her head from her body. He then deliberately ended his own existence with a desecrated weapon, slashing his throat almost clear through to the back of the neck.

The coroner to-night held an inquest on the bodies of Wm. Warren and Elizabeth, his wife. The evidence showed that last night Warren was drinking and his wife was so much afraid of him that she spent the night on the streets. About five o'clock this morning she went to a neighbor's house and borrowed some milk with which to feed her baby. Then she entered her home. It seems that Warren at once attacked her with a razor. She fought desperately for her life, but when she fell exhausted from loss of blood the man saved away at her neck until he nearly severed her head from her body. Then covered with blood he stood before a mirror and gashed his own throat so desperately that he died in twenty minutes.

MASTER PLUMBERS' ASSOCIATION.

A New Organization of the Outcome of the Convention Yesterday.

The National Association of Master Plumbers of the Dominion is now in active existence, having been launched at a convention of master plumbers begun yesterday in their hall, 135 St. Elizabeth Street. Delegates are present from Toronto, Toronto Junction, Montreal, Quebec, Halifax, St. John, N.B., Ottawa, St. Hyacinthe, Peterboro, St. Catharines, Hamilton, Galt and London, besides three delegates from Boston, representing the United States Association. The following officers were elected: President, Joseph Lamarche, Montreal; vice-president, W. J. Burroughs, Toronto; vice-president for Ontario, Wm. Smith, London; for Quebec, O. Maitre, Quebec City; for Nova Scotia, John Borthan, Halifax; for New Brunswick, J. H. Doody, St. John; financial and recording secretary, J. W. Hughes, Montreal; treasurer, A. Fiddis, Toronto; executive committee, R. F. Elliot, Kingston; E. C. Mount, Montreal; G. A. Percier, Halifax; Thomas Campbell, St. John.

The afternoon and evening sessions were devoted to the discussion of matters of interest to the trade.

This morning there will be a business session of the new association. The members of the association, which is under the leadership of Mr. Elliot, will be received by His Worship the Mayor at the City Hall at noon to-day. They will then be taken on a drive around the city and mountain by the local members, and the afternoon will be concluded by a trip down the Rapids.

A Bicycle Swindler.

An enterprising American wheelman on his way back from Quebec, gave a Herald reporter an interesting warning against wheeling swindlers, last evening. The scheme is worked in this way. Parties call at hotels and pretend that they are authorized to select official hotels for the League of American Wheelmen and for other wheeling organizations, some of which have no existence outside the imagination of the swindlers. The practice then is to collect fees from hotel proprietors and managers, to make a pretended inspection for the ostensible purpose of reporting the hotel's condition to officials at headquarters. Upon the receipt of from $2 to $5 bogus certificates are issued, by which the several houses are led to believe they have been appointed official hotels for the wheelmen. The great point is that the American leagues, nor yet Canadian leagues, make no charge for appointments of this nature.

A Railway Change.

The St. Lawrence & Adirondack Railway has amalgamated with the South-western Railway, under the name of the St. Lawrence & Adirondack Railway Company, with capital stock of $1,000,000, and head office in this city. The directors are Dr. Wm. Seward Webb, Shelburne, Vt.; Chauncey M. Depeew, Edgar Van Etten, John Jacob Astor, Charles H. Burnett and Henry L. Sprague, of New York; Martin E. McCleary, Malone; E. C. Smith, St. Albans, Vt.; and R. W. Leonard, Beauharnois, Que. The new company decided yesterday to take over the lease made by the St. L. & A. Co., of the St. R. Line, between Valleyfield and Beauharnois. The distance is only about 83 miles, but the change is significant.

SELKIRK IS NOW LIBERAL.

Mr. J. A. McDonnell Elected by a Majority of One.

TUPPER CONFERS WITH ABERDEEN.

The Council in Session—Mr. Davin's Majority in West Assinaboia is Only Five—Recount Demanded.

Winnipeg, July 2.—The missing ballot boxes in Selkirk constituency turned up to-day, and it was found that Mr. McDonnell, the Liberal candidate, had a majority of just one vote. However, the Conservative candidate, Mr. Armstrong, believes that many rejected ballots will be allowed for him, and he has applied for a recount.

N. F. Davin was to-day declared elected for Western Assinaboia by a majority of five. The Patron candidate, Mr. McInnis, has applied for a recount.

TUPPER INTERVIEWS ABERDEEN.

Ottawa, July 2.—Lord Aberdeen arrived in the city this afternoon, and Sir Charles Tupper had a long interview with him at Rideau Hall afterwards. The interview lasted from about 2:30 until 4 o'clock. A meeting of the Cabinet was held after Sir Charles returned.

Jos. F. Rowan was to-day elected alderman by acclamation for By Ward, in place of Mr. Stairs, appointed to the Court of Revision.

Pembroke, Ont., July 2.—The recent for North Renfrew, formerly held by Hon. Peter White, to-day lowered Thos. Mackie's majority from 65 to 63. Mackie is a Liberal.

The Conservatives of Richelieu, who at one time were preparing to contest Mr. Brunneau's election, have come to the conclusion that it is best not to do so. Accordingly the popular member for that county will not be disturbed.

POLITICAL NOTES.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., July 2.—Mr. Dymally's (Lib.) majority in Algoma, so far as heard from, is over thirteen hundred. The "Sault" majority for Dymally was one hundred and fifty.

Toronto, July 2.—At a meeting of the members of the Patron Grand Board, held here yesterday, Grand Secretary Welch, who exposed the Liberal-Patron-McCleary in the recent election campaign, turned over the books and correspondence in his possession, and was relieved of his duties as Grand Secretary.

St. Thomas, Ont., July 2.—The Conservative Government has appointed Dr. H. Price to the postmaster's office at St. Thomas. Mr. Price is proprietor of the Aylmer Express. Mr. Nunn is an auctioneer.

Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux, the new member for Quebec, has issued an address of thanks to the electors of that constituency.

VIGOROUS ACTION.

To be Taken to Compel the City to Improve Jacques Cartier Square.

The condition of Jacques Cartier Square, from Notre Dame Street to the river, is declared by the property owners and tenants abutting on it to be a menace to the health of the public. It is the only neglected square in the whole city, and that in face of the fact that it is the most centrally located of any square in the city. It is claimed that thousands of dollars are spent annually on Dominion, Victoria, Belle-Rive and other places of public resort, but Jacques Cartier Square seems to have earned the deep rooted hostility of the city on many days, which, by the by, in summer time, is six days out of the week, the whole square reeks with decaying vegetables, rotten fruit and manure. It is hardly ever removed, and the combination of pestilential odors is enough to bring a plague.

The presence of the market on the square is bad enough, but if the city is determined to keep it there, the property owners and tenants interested are also determined that it shall be put in a proper sanitary condition. As it is now, while being a loss to the property owners and tenants, it is a source of revenue to the city, and it is resolved that some of this revenue must be spent in some shape that will lessen the nuisance. The Board of Health is to be called upon by an intervention to compel the Road Committee to channel the square on the four sides, asphalt or cobble stone, the two roadways, and have men permanently engaged, whose duties will be to see that all refuse matter dangerous to public health is removed every night. A large petition is in circulation with this end in view.

HON. V. W. LARUE.

An Unexpected Appointment to the Legislative Council.

Quebec, July 2.—The Plyn Government sprung a surprise on the public this morning. Hardly before any one knew that there was a vacancy in the Legislative Council, caused by the resignation of Hon. Dr. Larue, of Portneuf, his close relative, Mr. V. W. Larue, N.E., of this city, Federal revising officer for Quebec Centre, was appointed to fill it. Mr. Larue is, therefore, now Hon. V. W. Larue, member of the Legislative Council for the La Salle Division.

Real Estate Owners Meet.

The regular monthly meeting of the Real Estate Owners' Association was held last evening in the Monument National, Mr. John Barry in the chair. There were present Messrs. A. Levesque, treasurer; W. D. Patterson, secretary; John Kane, Joseph Lamoureux, Frigon, J. F. Depatie, John Towle, O. Chaput, L. Michon, A. Meunier and others. After preliminary work, the report of the committee named to look into the question of the less costly expulsion of non-paying tenants was read. It favored the amending of the present law to the effect that a judge or the Prothonotary could give a non-paying tenant notice to quit inside of 24 hours, said notice to cost 25 cents. If the tenant did not obey the notice, a warrant of expulsion to be issued, the whole not to cost over $1. The report was adopted. It was resolved that a copy of the report be sent to Mr. Ange, with the request that he do what he could to promote the passing of this amendment to the existing law. Mr. Levesque remarked on the unsatisfactory nature of the report of the City Treasurer, and said that determined efforts were being made to prevent the appointment of the Royal Commission asked for by the association. The meeting then adjourned until September.

TO-DAYS WEATHER.

Partly Fair and Cooler. Toronto, July 2.—Pressure is highest north of the lake region and over the Southern States, and a trough of comparatively low pressure extends from the Gulf of St. Lawrence westward across Quebec and Ontario. Anderson, Chief Engineer of the Department, has been ordered to inspect Belle Isle and report upon convenient lighthouse sites.

There was a very large attendance at the funeral of the late Dr. Dagenais which took place at 8:15 yesterday morning. The chief mourners were Mr. F. X. St. Charles and the Messrs. Leclerc, cousins of the deceased. The professor and students of the Laval University, attended in a body, and representatives of sister universities and many of the medical men and other prominent gentlemen of the city were present. After a solemn requiem mass had been chanted at St. James Church the remains were conveyed to Cote des Neiges Cemetery for interment.

THE RACES AT BEL-AIR YESTERDAY.

Everett, Owned by Shields, Won
the Herald Cup from Bushbolt.

SIX GREAT RACES DURING THE DAY

A Good-sized Attendance—The Meet a Success—Yesterday's Baseball Game—Other Sporting News
of the Day.

The second day of the Bel-Air meet saw an entry of six races for the afternoon and an attendance of over a thousand. The three Grand Trunk tandem races were well filled, but the car service back was lamentably poor taking almost an hour for the last train in and a lengthened time for the other two. The day was rather hot and the track, as frequenters of Bel-Air know, somewhat deep and dusty but no better racing has ever been seen in this part of Canada. Of the six entries only one horse, Minnie Clyde, was scratched and the racing was unexceptionally good. There could not have been better fields and betting was brisk. The Herald Hunter's Handicap flat race was the place of resistance of the day. There were six entries and every horse ran. This race created probably greater enthusiasm than the Queen's Plate on Wednesday. Everett,
all Blue, Martello, Bushbolt, Quitski, and Laddie were the horses that received an equal amount of patronage
from the public with locally the favours on Mr. Fennie's last year's winner, Bushbolt. The race was as exciting as ever a race has been on the Dawson track. Mr. Fennie's horse led until the stretch when he fell behind, two and five lengths owing to having broken his saddle. Consequently Mr.
Shields horse, Everett, with Landon riding, won the cup for the year with Fennie coming third. All other races were first class, in fact the entries were better than Toronto, Hamilton, or Windsor had ever been and,
for Bel-Air the improvement was so great that there was no comparison with previous races. The Victoria Rifles Handicap was engaged and it certainly was a great source of enjoyment and a sufficient consolation to the winners and losers as well as a delight to the grand stand hearers. The managers had, as on Dominion Day, everything arranged to satisfaction, including the gala which has been provided from the embarrassing position of Wednesday, to the main entrance and there was no crush.

THE RACES.
The first race of five and a half furlongs, a purse of $200, was won by Everett, owned by Mr. Gibson; Rhiven and Pyramis were the favorites, one at 1 to 6 and the other at 8 to 4 to win. Pete Kelly came second and Font D'Ore third, at 4 to 1.
The second race was won by Parmekan, the hottest favorite of the day.
This horse was ridden by Blake, the favorite jockey of Eastern Canada, and he had many backers. He led all the way and finished by a neck. Maud Lyle came second and Sir Lawrence,
Mr. J. P. Davies' horse, third.
The third race was a hotly contested
one, Halstone, owned by Mr. Conover, blake rode the horse, and there was considerable betting on that account.
Alamo finished second after running behind up to the finish, and Lake Shore, Mr. Parker's horse, the favorite at even money, came in third in a canter.

LADIES DAY NEXT MONDAY.
Secretary Parmier has announced that next Monday will be "Ladies Day" and the fair sex will be admitted free. An attractive card will be arranged and a steeplechase for hunters ridden by gentlemen jockeys will be the feature.
This will be a great chance for the ladies to see the races, and Mr. Parmier's action in announcing that they will be admitted free on next Monday cannot be commended too highly. The management have shown a spirit of liberality in all their undertakings and the grand racing that is given at the Bel-Air track should receive the encouragement of all lovers of the "sport of kings."

The meetings heretofore given by the Bel-Air Jockey Club have never been as good as the present one and the horses racing over the course are the best that were ever brought together in Canada. The jockeys and the gentlemen interested with them are sportsmen in every sense of the word and their efforts to give a race meeting that will eclipse all others will be applauded by all who have the interests at heart. The races have brought hundreds of strangers to the city and have put thousands of dollars in circulation among all classes of trade. The hotels are crowded with visitors brought here by the Bel-Air meeting and the dry goods merchants, haberdashers, and keepers and many others are reaping a golden benefit from their coming.

There is in the neighborhood of 20 horses stabled at the track and in the adjacent barns and twice that number of men, including owners, trainers,
jockeys and grooms, are with them.
The money paid for their keep alone amounts to many hundreds of dollars daily. The remaining eight days of the meeting should see large crowds present and the high quality of the sport furnished will amply repay visitors for a trip to the track.

The train service to and from the grounds is excellent and the trip is now made in twenty minutes.
The programme arranged for Saturday will be one of the best racing days meeting and the attendance should be that of the opening day.

The gates are now so arranged that there is no delay in getting in and the arrangements are perfect.

THE HERALD CUP

The Herald Hunters' Handicap Flat
race was the most engaging of the day's programme. The favorites were all Blue, the fast western horse, and Everett. Bushbolt, the previous winner, took second place as favorite, and Martello, Quitski and Laddie were also fancied to a considerable extent. It was a great race. Bushbolt got into the lead, as he did last year, and kept it until the last half, when Everett drew ahead, as did all Blue, and the finish was: Everett first, all Blue second,

and Mr. Fennie's horse third.

SUMMARIES.
First race, 5 1/2 furlongs, $300—Merry
Duke, 108, Healy, 4 to 1, won; Pete

Longbrook, Lady McCann, Bowling
Green also ran in the order named.

THE OTHERS.

In the fifth race, seven high class horses were entered, and the public plunged on Mrs. Morgan, and backed her into 7 to 5 favoritism, from 2 to 1, her opening price in the betting. Sea-gram's Rossmar was also well played for the place, and McCann's erratic, but fast horse Priz was lightly played at 8 to 1. The start was perfect, Stark being the first to show, but gave way to Prig, who raced to the front and set a merry pace around the first turn, where he opened up a gap of two lengths. Mrs. Morgan was his nearest attendant, and Jockey Blake
by vigorous riding, caught and passed the big son of Galore before the half mile pole was reached. Balbriggan showed a brief burst of speed, but died away early, and Prig had enough behind the three-quarters pole was passed.
Rossmar set sail after the flying favorite when the stretch was reached and Cave Spring came from the bunch like a cyclone, and getting alongside of Rossmar, they challenged Mrs. Morgan. The effort came too late, however, as Jockey Blake kept his mount in motion by the most vigorous kind of riding, and in as pretty a finish as one ever looked at, landed her winner
by a neck from Rossmar, and Cave
Spring was at his saddle girth.

The book-makers lost heavily on the race, and there was many a happy face about when the numbers went up.
A fast lot of sprinters were carded
in the sixth race, a five and a half furlong race, and Prig had enough behind the three-quarters pole was passed,
and R. A. Smith's Longbrook was made favorite by the weight of his party dollars, which were sent in to the betting ring. The Toronto contingent were loyal and backed Zeal persistently at odds of 10 to 1 and 12 to 1. The effort came too late, how-

NOTES OF THE RACES.
Jockey Blake was the star of the day in the saddle yesterday and landed three winners out of four mounts.
There are all kinds of boquets due to Mr. Blake for his direction and his ride on Everett in the Herald cup.
He set his horse like a veteran professional, and showed a generalship, that many who ride for a living lack.

The last race of the day went to Zeal, the Canadian bred racer, while Disturbance III, also a Canadian, ran third. The finish was a rattling one, and the good horse Elano from the States made a noble bid for the prize,
but could not reach the flying Zeal.

The excitement commenced early in the day and the finish in the first race was one that would call for enthusiasm on any track in the country. It was a rattling race from the eight pole home and it was only by game building courage that Merry Duke nipped Pete Kelly on the post.

When Mrs. Morgan and Rossmar
"backed up" in the fifth, excitement ran high in the grand stand. Little Zeal, who rode Scott's speedy candidate, worked like a demon, while Blake set down on his mount in a businesslike fashion. There was a cloud of dust, and the racers swept by with the mare snoring fast enough to scare a verdict.

The books got decidedly the worst of it yesterday, and many lucky speculators had testimony in flinging dollars to that effect. While Ruthven was made favorite in the first he was rather the favorite of the books than of the public, and many books would scarce have had him win than Merry Duke, who had 8 to 1 chalked up against him. Parmeskan, in the second race, was backed down to prohibitive prices, Hallstone carried as much (if not more) money as Lake Shore. Everett, who Mr. Landon rode in the saddle, had many admirers. Mrs. Morgan was a liberally backed favorite, while Zeal
naturally carried Canadian wagers.
The result was that the trains to the city brought home many who were richer than when they went to the track.

Sir Lawrence the Canadian two-year-old, who started in the second race yesterday is a grand looking fellow and after running a few more races should give a good account of himself.

John Sullivan was "set" on his big Salvador vote, John Sullivan, yesterday and while strolling through the ring he reduced his price from 50 to 1 down to 15 to 1. The colt ran the past race but broke from the post so awkwardly that he was almost left. On his last appearance he had to jump over Whisper when that colt fell, so that altogether he has had an unlucky career
in Montreal thus far.

Lake Shore, who was a well played favorite was slow to get away at the start but closed up ground enough to inspire confidence. He is another that needs just a little more work.

Mr. J. W. Carr, and the winner was sec-

THE WHEEL.

THE C. W. A. MEET.

Quebec, July 2.—The second and last racing day of the C. W. A. meet opened warm and cloudy, but a brisk breeze sprang up which dispelled the clouds, and the racing was very good.
The day's proceedings were opened by the hill climbing contest at eleven o'clock this morning. The contest took place from the wharf of the Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Company to the Frontenac, and was won by Messrs. G. V. Reid, Ed. Lal-
bertie, O. De Varennes, J. Lachance,
and R. Stocking, all Quebecers. The crowd was so great that the two first
were thrown off their wheels and were out of the race before the middle of the hill was reached, and the others finished in the order given. Lalbertie is protesting this race.

A more magnificent exhibition of speed than that which took place on the Q.A.A.A. grounds this afternoon was seldom seen. The race was won by Messrs. G. V. Reid, Ed. Lal-
bertie, O. De Varennes, J. Lachance,
and R. Stocking, all Quebecers. The crowd was so great that the two first
were thrown off their wheels and were

ROD AND GUN.

THE BIG SHOOT AT SHERBROOKE.

Sherbrooke, July 2.—The most successful day pigeon tournament ever held in the Province of Quebec came off yesterday on the grounds of the Sherbrooke Gun Club at least that was the opinion of all those present. Expert shots from every part of the province were present, and among the well known fairs from a distance were noticed: J. H. Cameron, New York; H. H. Woodton, E. W. Matthews, G. E. Cote, J. Stewart, W. L.
Cameron, R. E. Hinchinson, Montreal;
J. G. (Gibson), Rock Island; A. W.
Westover, Robt. Curley, Dr. Page, Mr.
Greely, G. Clark, Mr. Boright, J. R.
Safford, Sutton; Major Baker, F. Sel-vigny, J. Morgan, Cookshire; R. F.
Slaw, J. B. McFarlane, Waterloo.
The day was a perfect one for such an event, and everything went off in a manner that reflected great credit on the management of the affair. The arrangements for pulling the traps in the quadrant system were perfect, and pigeons
were out in a very rapid manner, without a hitch. Shooting commenced at 8:30 in the morning, and continued throughout the day until seven o'clock in the evening, and to give one idea of the day's sport, it might be mentioned that not less than seven thousand pigeons were secured. The following is a summary of the score in the several events:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY.

It evidence was needed as to the entire confidence of the more substantial business men of the country in the ability and integrity of the Liberal leaders, it would be found in the statement of Mr. David Morrice, published in another column, to the effect that the Dominion Cotton Company's Mills, some of which are at present closed for alterations and repairs will "start up full blast on Monday next." "This talk of closing down," says Mr. Morrice, "is all nonsense whoever makes it." Mr. Morrice has not the slightest fear that the Liberal Government will do anything to make it necessary for the mills to close down permanently. A similar statement is made by Mr. J. Alex. Gordon, of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refinery. The substantial business men of the country are not alarmists. The decent men and decent newspapers in the country are not among the calamity howlers.

A NOTABLE CONVERSION.

One of the signs of the times is the determination of Ames, Holden & Co., the big boot and shoe firm of Montreal, to open a branch in the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Holden's name figured in the Star's pre-election list of those who apprehended the direst possible results to the industries of the country in the event of a Liberal victory at the polls. Mr. Holden may have been misreported in the Star. Other local manufacturers, who were reported by the Star as having made similar statements, repudiated the published "interviews." But as Mr. Holden has made no public repudiation of the words that the Star placed in his mouth, it may be assured that he credits the Star with a reasonably fair report of his remarks. In light of the determination of the firm to add one more to the several branches which it already has in operation in various parts of the country, Mr. Holden's pre-election remarks must be held to have had rather a partisan than a strictly business significance. Immediately before the elections he predicts "business uncertainty as the inevitable result of a Liberal victory. Immediately after the Liberal victory, his firm enlarges the sphere of its own business activities. There is no reason to fear that thereby it will do other than enlarge its already substantial dividends.

THE LIBERAL CABINET.

The conference of the Liberal leaders which has been in progress at the Windsor Hotel may be said to have ended yesterday, and it is assured that when its results shall be revealed they will be welcomed by the people of the country as constituting a substantial guarantee of honest, economical and efficient government by a Cabinet of men of ability and patriotism and of the highest standing in the world of affairs. Mr. Laurier has been engaged in nothing more formal than a simple conference with the leaders of the Liberal party and with certain of his friends and advisers representing the substantial interests of the country. For the benefit of the "state makers" who since election day have been so busy in speculation as to the formation of the Liberal Cabinet, it may be said that such understanding as Mr. Laurier may have reached as to the personnel of his Cabinet, is purely tentative. Until summoned by the Governor-General, the Liberal leader will postpone a formal choice of his colleagues. But he has received such loyal support from the gentlemen whom he has called into consultation, and the result of his deliberations during the past few days has been so entirely satisfactory that the people may rest assured that he will be surrounded in his Cabinet by able and strong men, admirably representative of the several sections of the country, and of its many varied and important interests, industrial, commercial and financial. The Liberal Cabinet will be pre-eminently a Cabinet of business men, the first that the country has owned for many years, and the best and strongest since Confederation. The result of Mr. Laurier's Cabinet making will be found to be such as to commend itself most favorably to the good sense and the commendation of every business man in Canada, and Canada is a country of business men.

THE LOCAL STOCK MARKET.

For fully four months past the conspicuous feature of the local stock market has been its extreme dullness. Various influences at different periods have been responsible for this, and although none have created any great uncertainty in the situation, the majority has been sufficient in prominence to narrow the volume of speculation. In the early part of the year the indisposition on the part of the banks to lend money had a decided tendency to retard business, and although this difficulty has been overcome and money since has been free enough, the market has failed to recover entirely, and has dragged along up to the present time in a most unsatisfactory way. The last two weeks have witnessed an extremely dull market and lower prices. In some quarters this has been attributed to the Liberal victory, and the uncertainty supposed to exist regarding changes in the trade policy of the country. It would be a grave injustice to suppose that the thinking brokers are in any way apprehensive in respect of possible results of the Liberal victory, but the fact cannot be questioned that the silly twaddle which the less decent Government organs have talked regarding the business outlook is freely swallowed by a great many speculators, and hence emanates their desire to steer clear of the market for the time being. The market at present is no quieter than it was a month ago, and there is no reason why it should not become broader and more active. It would be difficult to imagine a duller condition of general trade than existed in the dying year of the National Policy, and now that the dawn of prosperity is upon us, the slow market which is generally considered a reflex of conditions, good or bad, should very shortly give us every evidence that the commerce of the country is taking on healthy proportions.

THE MUNROE DOCTRINE.

An American professor, John Bach McMaster, has published a book of "Studies in the History of the United States," in which he devotes a lot of space—far too much, one will feel inclined to state—to a very lame discussion of the Monroe Doctrine. After narrating the history of the Holy Alliance, the revolutions in Spain and Naples, the policy of Great Britain under Caning, and much other irrelevant matter, he frankly admits that the doctrine has no place in the law of nations. But the fact makes no difference with the professor. "It does not need to be there," he assures us with a triumphant smile. "It belongs to a class of facts whose existence does not and must not depend on the consent of nations." The Monroe Doctrine is a doctrine which only a strong nation, he goes on, could afford to proclaim. "Either we determine the status of republican government and republican institutions in the two Americas, or the nations of the Old World will do it for us." The professor's logic is ludicrously faulty. With him it makes no difference whether what is called a republic in South America is a republic or a tyranny; whether the Government of England is really democratic rather than monarchical; whether civilization would not be advanced and human welfare increased by the extension of British influence; no European power, he asserts, shall increase its power or influence on this continent, or overthrow any existing government, or establish any direct control over its policy. But what about Canada? Apparently Professor McMaster ignores its existence. And as to the South American states, supposing that one of them grew to be more powerful than the United States and forbade the United States to meddle in European affairs, such as Spain's rule in Cuba, and Turkey's administration of Armenia, on the ground that it had set up another doctrine to that effect and was strong enough to uphold it; or, again, supposing that this strong new state should enter into an alliance with one of the European powers, and bestow upon the latter a large slice of its territory in return for favors received—what would become of the Monroe Doctrine then? The professor admits that the doctrine has nothing to do with international law. He might have added that it has nothing to do with international morality.

For many years the Herald has been blacklisted by the Star. Under no stress of circumstance was its name to be mentioned in the columns of that twinking satellite. From time to time other newspapers, and also distinguished citizens of Montreal, who have had the misfortune to incur the displeasure of the little autocrat who presides over that publication, have shared the same fate. It is not necessary to mention names, as the experience of a well known Queen's counsel in this regard must be fresh in the memory of all readers of the Herald. Usually the embargo is raised to record some calamity; sometimes, as evidence that the autocrat, though always a tyrant, is not an entirely implacable one, and the offender is released on a kind of ticket-of-leave of good behavior. In the Herald's case, it has been raised to insert an item, which it was hoped would wound the sensibilities of the conductors of this paper, and which was old news two months ago. The paragraph, as inserted in the Star, was both hypocritical and mendacious. Shakespeare makes Hamlet say of hypocrites that it is "as easy as lying." With the Star's most recent performance before us, we are not disposed to dispute the bard's estimate, but to admit at once that one seems about as easy as the other, and that the Star would have no difficulty to rank as a past master in both.

Hear the Montreal Star: "The victorious Liberal party is not to be judged by the excesses of its needy camp followers. Mr. Laurier is not responsible for the brutalities of the campaign, the mean insinuations or coarse vulgarities which are being indulged in by some of his exuberant supporters.

The educational defects and lack of good taste thus revealed are merely personal misfortunes and do more characteristic of the Liberal party than of its polished leader." Bah. The Star, of all papers, ought to keep out of the pulpits. It advocated tariff reform up to the eve of the election, and then it went in up to the eyes for protection, threatened blue ruin, printed lying Yankee despatches designed to fix the stigma of disloyalty to their country on the Liberals, gave space to campaign despatches so bitterly and mendaciously partisan that they would discredit the meanest party organ Canada ever saw, and stopped at nothing to help the Government and injure the Liberal party. The people of Canada are not going to take lessons in political decency from Sir Charles Tupper's chief organ at Montreal.—Toronto Globe.

The Auditor-General's report for the year ending June 30, 1895, shows that J. S. Larke, the Conservative Government agent in Australia, collected $182.11 as travelling expenses. Why? Mr. Larke received a free pass from the New South Wales Government over all their railways two days after his landing in Sydney, and this was followed afterwards by a similar pass from the Government of Victoria. Why, then, should Mr. Larke, a Conservative pensioner, collect money from the Canadian people when he has already free transportation over Australian railways?

A child at school learns what laws will bind him when he no longer hears the tutor's voice bidding him do this, or forbidding him to do that. A good education fits a child to exercise his rights as a free man in a free land. Freedom is seen to be, not a demagogue waving a red cap and howling fiery nothings, but a calm and holy presence which denounces any pseudo-freedom that gives license to a special individual, while it curtails the rights of others. Training which has so desirable an aim ought to be free to every child.

The Compton County Chronicle, an ultra Conservative organ says: "When the heretofore almost solid Province of Quebec, the stronghold of the Conservative party, gave such a majority against the late Government, and against the wishes, lectures, and instructions of the bishop and clergy, the conclusions are forced upon us, that hereafter the electorate purpose being their own judges as to how, and for whom, they will vote. In other words, they will take their religion from the clergy, and vote according to their own convictions."

According to the poor-rate statistics the number of paupers in England was formerly over 47 per 1000. In 1804 it had fallen to 22 per 1,000, that is to say, it had fallen over one half. This fall is coincident with the change in the educational system, and is but another example of the power of education to fit people to earn their own bread. No wonder education is free in the motherland. Taking it as a business transaction, if nothing else, the result has proved of the greatest benefit to the taxpayers.

The education is that which connects the training of the child with the life of the citizen. The realization of this truth to the full must be deeply impressed upon the mind of every one who is convinced that to-day is the father of to-morrow. It is not enough that children go to school—they must be trained to be good Canadians; more, there must be no obstruction placed in the way of even the poorest. In short, elementary education must be free.

The sarcastic references of the organs of Tupperism to the eagerness of the Liberals to get their ladies in the Ottawa soup, lead us to remark that that eagerness—whatever its degree—is amply offset by the death-grip with which Sir Charles holds on to the tureen. Come to think of it, Sir Charles is right inside that tureen.

It is not satisfactory to find an old province like Quebec lagging behind new states such as the State of Washington, in so important a matter as education. The longer the time the more shall we fall behind until it is realized that education is a necessity, and must be both free and compulsory.

The Gazette intimates that the people may not be well enough off to celebrate next Dominion Day as enthusiastically as they celebrated it on Wednesday. All the decent men and all the decent newspapers in Canada have quit calamity howling.

The Star says that the Canadians who attended Sir Donald Smith's Dominion Day reception in London were "of most excellent quality." The Star in the guise of a social authority, will afford its Sherbrooke Street friends some mild amusement.

"Wednesday," says the Gazette, "was the brightest Dominion Day the Liberal party has seen for the past twenty years." Wednesday was the brightest Dominion Day the Canadian people have seen since Confederation.

As the door on its hinges, as the limpet on the rock, as the horse-leech on the vein, and as the sleuth-hound at the throat of his quarry, even so is Sir Charles Tupper to his office, in respect to stick-to-it-iveness.

A FAKE STORY.

The statement published in an evening paper to the effect that agents of bogus United States business directories were here attempting to swindle the public is void of fact.

THE FRENCH PRESS.

Disloyal Tactics.

We sincerely regret the attitude taken up by the Gazette of Montreal, and the Mail and Empire and World, of Toronto. We understand how difficult it is for them to digest the defeat of the Government of which they were the chief organs. But will making appeals to race prejudices improve the situation? Is it by opposing Ontario to Quebec that they will regain the ground they have lost? If the Province of Quebec, hitherto so strongly Conservative, is to-day so overwhelmingly Liberal, is it not because a certain English-speaking element in Ontario and other portions of the Dominion have been for years endeavoring to diminish its influence, to ostracize it, and to withhold every favor from it? Things have come to such a pass that the very fact of being French-Canadian has sufficed to prevent the advancement of many men of our own race, who could bear comparison with their competitors of all other nationalities in talent and ability. There is no reason why anybody should be surprised because our electors have risen in revolt against this system of organized persecution. The Gazette, the Mail and the World had better accept philosophically the defeat they have sustained, and draw from it lessons which may be useful on some future occasions.—L'Evénement.

The Liberal Majority.

The Bleu press has undertaken to lessen the importance of the Liberal victory. According to them, Mr. Laurier's majority is only 16 or 17. Our opponents take very good care not to explain themselves. They content themselves with a simple table of figures. We shall take the trouble to explain their tactics. In the first place, they count all the votes of the Conservatives and the Patrons. This electoral dodge having failed, they now claim as their supporters those whom they regarded with scorn and contempt before the 23rd. Is not this an example of charity and bad faith? The fact is that the Patrons sympathize with our cause, as we have all along maintained. They will perhaps be found to be the most devoted followers of Mr. Laurier. As to the McCarthyites, they are not our friends, but they will continue to be the implacable foes of the Conservative party until that party has placed Mr. McCarthy at the helm. It is amusing, too, to find our opponents classing Mr. Dobell as one of themselves, after having done their best to defeat him. Mr. Laurier will have a majority of about 50 on the first vote of want of confidence.—L'Electeur.

Mr. Laurier's Task.

The task which Mr. Laurier has to accomplish is extremely difficult. It attains to power when the country is in a very bad condition; when agriculture, commerce and manufacturing are passing through an acute crisis. The deficit for the fiscal year, ending July 1, is over $4,000,000. During the recent electoral campaign, the Tupper Administration has increased our obligations by about $20,000,000 by Orders in Council. Violent appeals to racial and religious prejudices have seriously disturbed the social and political atmosphere. Mr. Laurier, therefore, and those who surround him, must act with energy, firmness and breadth of view. Mr. Laurier must, in fact, rise to the height of the hopes his fellow-citizens have founded upon him.—Le Cultivateur.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE FLORIST BUSINESS.

To the Editor of the Herald: Sir,—We read an article in Saturday's Star, signed Maple Leaf, giving his views and experience as a gardener, florist, etc. I also read the Star's comments on the same, which only fail to demonstrate the old saying, "One half of the world does not know how the other half lives." Maple Leaf claims that he would have been better off had he stayed in Old England, for the reason that he could buy good goods in England (not shoddy) at a much lower price than he has received in wages. The Star's answer amounts to this: The protected manufacturer buys his flowers. Now this is a perversion of facts, as the finest flower gardens in Montreal belong to the protected manufacturers and the holders of that railroad that Florist will never travel over, for they would never have owned said railroad (National) (we might say, damnably) policy. All the flowers they buy won't buy the Florist's baby a dress.

OLD ENGLAND.

Montreal, July 2nd.

To the Editor of the Herald: Sir,—I have just read the Star's editorial, headed Mandements and am glad to find out that the proprietor is a Protestant (for the present at least), but shall have to move, if this bomb acrobat should jump to the Vatican at any time. We supposed by his former editorial, some of which you reprinted, that he was for tariff reform. But it seems that when Sir Charles Tupper was at Sohier Park and that the bomb acrobat was made at that befitting place and land in Sir Chas. Protective arms. But I notice one thing, the Star's mandements don't amount to much politically, as every one whom it supports seems to have got left.

A PRECEDENT FOR SIR CHARLES

How Hon. Alexander Mackenzie Acted in 1873—The Constitutional Points at Issue Discussed.

Politicians are speculating as to how far Sir Charles Tupper will avail himself of the precedent set by Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, who was defeated on September 17th, 1873, and remained in office until October 9th. Before leaving office Mr. Mackenzie made the following appointments: Hon. H. E. Tachereau, Supreme Court of Canada, $7,000 a year. Hon. R. L. Weatherbe, puisne judge, Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, $4,000 a year. Hon. H. T. Tachereau, puisne judge, Superior Court of Quebec, $4,000 a year.

Two other minor judgeships at $2,500 a year each. William Buckingham, Deputy Minister of the Interior, $2,800 a year. Mr. Webster, Collector of Customs, Belleville, $1,400 a year. Mr. Horton, Finance Department, $2,200 a year.

THE LIBERAL PREMIER'S POSITION.

Mr. Mackenzie defined his position in regard to these appointments in the following letter:

Ottawa, Sept. 24, 1873.

My Dear Edgar,—It would do you little good to console with you, and I am sure that you and Mrs. Edgar will accept the situation philosophically as usual. Nothing has happened in my time so astonishing. It is impossible to understand how so wise a defeat could be met by our own friends without our knowing it. You advise that we should make no appointments. This, I think, I can hardly accept as sound advice. Ordinary vacancies should be filled up. Of these there are a number, some of them existing for weeks. I do think that we ought not to make any new appointments or create vacancies by any process, in order to get our friends' offices. It is quite constitutional for us to do even that, but the ground I took in 1873-4 was that I did not object, even after the motion of no confidence was made, to the Ministry filling vacancies required in the public interest.

(Signed) A. MACKENZIE.

VACATING THE PREMIERSHIP.

In regard to vacating office, Mr. Mackenzie laid down his views in the following letter to the Governor-General:

Ottawa, Oct. 9, 1873.

Dear Lord Dufferin,—The elections for the House of Commons are not yet all concluded; nor is it at all certain what may be the final determination of many disputed returns, but enough is known to induce me to take decided action with reference to the general result. In my proposed course my colleagues all concur.

The protectionist principle undoubtedly obtained a victory at the polls. The knowledge of the powerful success of Great Britain in developing her trade and commerce under the opposite system, and the sad results of the attempt by the United States to carry out a protectionist policy, as exhibited in the ruinous state of their shipping and manufacturing and the growth of a communistic feeling were alike disregarded. Under these circumstances the proper course would probably be for the Government to meet Parliament at the earliest possible moment in order that no time should be lost in giving effect to a policy the country had approved of. We felt, however, that it would be unpleasant to remain in office after ascertaining that there was no probability of the policy of the Government being sustained by the new House. The other course would doubtless be one in accordance with English practice, but there are two precedents of a recent date in favor of a resignation before the meeting of Parliament. These precedents being made by leaders of both political parties in England. Feeling that we are justified in pursuing that course, I have resolved, with the concurrence of my colleagues, to close up all business in the departments at the earliest possible moment, with the view of enabling our successors to meet Parliament at an early day with measures for carrying into effect the policy to which they committed themselves at the election.

I have now, therefore, the honor of placing in Your Excellency's hands my own resignation and that of my colleagues of our Ministerial offices. I have the honor to be,

Your obedient servant,

(Signed) A. MACKENZIE.

ENGLISHMEN AND AMERICA.

Many Who Have Been Warm Friends of This Country.

The fact is that the English public men who have understood America, or who have seemed to care to understand her, have, at least until recently, always represented a small minority. During the first century of our national life scarcely an Englishman of eminence was clear sighted enough to perceive America's real devotion to great ideals. Our British kinsmen thought us a horde of grackles and nothing else, whereas, in spite of a seeming absorption in material things, the national life was grappling with mighty ethical and political ideas, which the selfishness and irresponsibility of politicians might sometimes distort, but could never stifle. Leigh Hunt, as Lowell used to remind us, could never think of America without seeing in imagination a gigantic column stretching all along our seaboard, and we bore Hunt's ridicule with a complacency that was the more cheerful because his caliber and weight of men were scarcely great enough to do much execution over sea. Carlyle sneered; we remembered his dyspepsia and forgave. Ruskin emptied the vials of his eloquent contempt upon our sacrifice to America's freedom and integrity; we abated no jot or tittle of our veneration for his prophetic message, while we strove to make just allowance for the vagaries of the hyperaesthetic temperament. These things it was easy to condone.

The Englishmen who have understood American life have judged it by something besides the froth of the irresponsible "statesmen." Cobden's fatal exposure of his life to do us service and John Bright's brave words in the hour of our distress can never be forgotten. The memory of Thomas Hughes—alas! that we must write "memory" now—will always remain a rich and fragrant legacy, to which, in a peculiar sense, we are coheirs with Englishmen, while the work of Mr. Bryce has not only won our respect and gratitude, but is bound to leave deep impressions on our life. None of these men was blind to the evident foibles, defects and crudities of the strenuous life of an earnest and virile people. On the other hand, none invited distrust by silly attempts to flatter or cajole. But all were quick to recognize in American aspiration, achievement, and representative character something other and better than mere bigness. They even ventured now and then to speak of these things as great; but the words sit better on their lips than on ours.—From "Days of Englishmen to America" in Century.

A Qualified Victory.

"What's the matter, Jack? You don't behave like a man who has just become engaged to a lovely girl—smoking all day and pretending to read instead of finishing your picture for the academy." "Oh, what's the use? The fellow I cut out is on the hanging committee." —Pearson's Weekly.

CHURCHES OF GRANADA.

They Are at Once Magnificent and Beggarly, Solemn and Gay.

It was in its churches that I thought Granada at once most magnificent and beggarly, most solemn and gay. I know nothing in France or Italy to compare with the effect of the cathedral when the sun steeped streets were left, the leather curtain was lifted and we were suddenly in darkness as of night, a great altar looming dimly in far shadows, vague, motionless figures prostrate before it. Their silent fervor in the strange, scented dusk gave a clew to the ecstasy of a Theresa, of an Ignatius. But it was well to turn back quickly into matter of fact daylight. To linger was to be reminded that mystery has its price, solemnity its tawdriness. In cathedral and capilla real if we ventured to look at the royal tombs at the grille—which even in Spain is without equal—at the retables, with their wealth of ornament, one sistrarian after another kept close at our heels, impatiently expectant.

If in unknown little church our eyes grew accustomed to darkness, it was that they might be offended with Virgins gleaming in silks and jewels, with Christs clothed in petticoats. And if we did once visit the Cartuja it satisfied our curiosity where other show churches were concerned. The word Cartuja hung upon the lips of every visitor at the Hotel Roma. Foreigners wrestled hopelessly with it. Spaniards repeated it tenderly,

LIES IN AN EVENING PAPER.

The Herald was informed last evening, that the alleged "terrible experience" of Rev. A. R. McNeill, being sickened with East India sugar, reported in an evening paper, is absolutely without foundation. From Abbotsford, Que., a Herald representative learned that Mr. McNeill simply went for a holiday without announcing his visit. The unfortunate misreading reports about Mr. McNeill have been a source of much annoyance to the family, and a special request was made to contradict all false statements. Mr. McNeill is well and happy.

SOME WEDDING CUSTOMS.

In Wales Forty Years Ago.

A wedding as it was, forty years ago, was an interesting affair. In those days, as soon as the young people had made up their own minds, before they could speak of a wedding, the consent of the bride's parents had to be obtained. This was done by the best man, who was called the Gofyn-y-fach, and could be found by a good word for the parents were known to be willing. The accepted lover had many anxieties, and among them was the peace of his best horse and the pace and mettle of his friends' horses. At last the wedding day dawned. The bride was dressed early, but over her fiery she wore a long cloak; buttoned all the way down to the ground, while a hood entirely covered her head and face. In the course of the morning the bridegroom sent some of his friends to seek out the bride. Arrived at her father's house, they found the door locked, and before they could be admitted, they had to recite some poetry. Sometimes the fair lady's whims and caprices made the delay in unlocking the door very long. When the door was opened the bride was still to be found. She had taken refuge in some obscure corner of the house, where she was crouching out of sight, completely covered with her long cloak. This game of hide-and-seek was sometimes so prolonged that when the bride was found, it was too late to be married that day, but this did not happen often. When the bride was really found there was a great mounting of emotion; she, in her modest cloak, was seated behind her father, and all the company set off as fast as their steeds could go—all except the bride's mother, who seldom if ever attended her daughter's wedding. Up hill, and down dale, over smooth and rough ground, the mountain ponies galloped, and the bridegroom if he and his friends did not reach the church before the bride. Service over, the bridegroom had still to keep guard over his wife, for in one country parish, it is not many, it was the custom of friends of the young man to wait outside the church until the service was over. When the happy couple appeared the bride was seized and placed behind one of the men, who galloped off with a Native, she was to be married by the bridegroom, who, of course, after an exciting chase, eventually captured her. When at last the wife was secured she took her seat behind her husband, and on his own horse, and the company rode off again to the bride's old home, where, at the house, all the party drank the health of bride and bridegroom out of the same pewter.

A Pedouin Wedding.

There is an account in the New York Ledger of a Pedouin wedding as witnessed in Ramleh, a town on the Nile, near Alexandria. The bride and groom of the young man in good old Bible fashion looks up the bride, and he has good luck the engagement is forthwith celebrated early. In this case the search for the young lady took three days, and the engagement lasted a week, during which time the friends of the prospective bridegroom waited merry. The bride didn't come in until later in the course of events. The men gathered about the tent of the bridegroom's father on the evening of the engagement, and he began by forming a circle, they danced about, clapping hands, one of them occasionally waiting a song, which they all chanted. This was all by the light of the moon and there were no refreshments, variations were introduced on subsequent evenings, such as dancing girls, picturesquely dressed. As the week of the engagement drew to a close a new tent was pitched for the young couple, and on the morning of the wedding day the bride was carried in a palanquin, and remained all day. The father-in-law, where she sat down on a rug, being the only furniture surrounded by the women. She wore a long, dark red silk garment caught at the waist by a large sash, and on her head a dark blue muslin veil. A red and silk handkerchief, under which her black hair showed in fine braids over the temples. The marriage contract was performed by a sheik between the parents of both parties, the young couple being seated on a rug. It was the time the guests were partaking of the "breakfast," and immediately on the conclusion of the meal the party broke up, the bridegroom now joining his bride in the one of the two compartments of the tent, where the women had left her sitting when all adjourned to the ceremony and banquet. The contract called for 250 to be given by the bridegroom's father to the bride's father, this sum to be given back if the bride should ask for a divorce.

Nature's Spring Garb.

No wonder that every one hails with delight the appearance of June. Nature in her emerald spring gown. After the long dreary winter when we have been muffled up like mummies it is a treat to throw off heavy clothing and enjoy the mild air. Winter is especially trying in the country, where there are such long distances to travel and so much outdoor work to attend to. The cold seems even more penetrating than in the cities and the question of suitable clothing is one of vital interest. Full lined garments, which are too heavy and cumbersome to move about in with comfort to say nothing of the expense and a Fibre Chamois Interlining seems to be the best thing yet found for all round satisfaction. It gives no weight or bulk and yet is absolutely wind and weather proof, and what's more, it is cheap enough to be in every one's reach.

JOSEPH BRESSETTE'S DEATH.

THE WOMAN'S PAGE

THE WOMAN ABOUT TOWN

(Any contributions suitable for this column may be addressed to "The Woman About Town," Herald Office.)

TO OUR READERS.

It is hoped that those who have already interested themselves in the proposed "home boarding house" for ladies engaged in business will persevere in their efforts to put the idea into practice. The fact that there are similar homes in different parts of the States in prosperous working order should convince the most sceptical of their practical use and desirability.

The massage treatment for hygienic purposes is now so favorably known and generally adopted that it affords a wide field for women as a profession. Some women are peculiarly adapted for such work possessing the firm, sympathetic touch which is so soothing to disordered nerves and useful in rubbing out wrinkles, reducing flesh and performing numberless other offices of this nature. A new branch of this interesting treatment has lately been developed. The masseuse devotes her skill exclusively to affections of the nerves in any form. Of course besides the necessary careful training requisite for this art one must possess in some degree that quality known as animal magnetism. There is no muscular effort required in this particular form of treatment as the magnetic healing touch of the fingers with scarcely any friction alone produces the beneficial and soothing results.

It is generally observed that those people with shapely hands and long tapering fingers are most likely to have this magnetic influence at their fingers' ends. This power is undoubtedly a gift which can be claimed only by a few but to those who possess it and so desire it can be used as a precious legacy and adopted as an invaluable profession.

PARIS NOTES.

For Evening Gowns Satin is the Material Par.

For evening gowns satin is the material par excellence tulle, flowers, paillettes, ribbons and various fantasies being used as trimmings. A profusion of tulle is placed round the décolletage and the sleeves are also usually made of tulle.

For day wear there is one material which is most seriously considered of the Frenchwoman at the moment, and its name is crepe de Chine. Many of the gowns displayed are made of this most charming fabric, the palest shade of pavement gray and a Tuscan tone being unquestionably the most favorable for the evening. The trimming is mostly embroidered lawn traced with a little gold thread, and the belt may be found of glass silk; and belts are details to which the Frenchwoman is much devoted. She prefers these in crepe de Chine, and her waist, extending almost up to the bust, where some soft muslin or chiffon will overhang them. Black silk and chine silk make these crepelets as a rule.

Without exception, the sleeve is made of a short puff and reached to the wrist. This obtains on all sorts and conditions of gowns; indeed, on every costume worthy of the name, excepting that made in the simple coat and skirt style, the coat sleeves being slightly full and drooping.

Hats are small and worn much on the face, while the toque when adopted is only permitted to show the smallest suggestion of fringe. Dark blue is a favorite color for straw, and hats of this color may be found trimmed with mauve and violet, pansies, violet and blue tulle and a posée of violet feathers. A plaid appearance is what the milliners endeavor to attain, and certainly succeed in their endeavor, the violet and blue combination being their most elegant.

As a trifle worthy of mention, it may be said that lemon-colored gloves have completely ousted from the public regard the gloves of white, and also that the tulle bow is dead.

To sum up the fashions of Paris of the hour. As a fabric, crepe de Chine is the ideal of the moment, together with tulle. The most popular color is pale gray, while as a combination of colors blue and violet hold sway. Skirts are full, sleeves are small, basques are short, belts are ubiquitous, and even the most capacious of critics could be found to say a good word for the modes of Paris as they are today, when realized by the best artists and worn by the woman of taste.

THE PEOPLE BELIEVE IN LAURIER.

Alarmists' Rumors Fade Under the Interview With Mr. D. Morrice
of the Cotton Mills.

Without exception the gentlemen interviewed by the Herald representative yesterday expressed themselves as being under no apprehension whatever of the deluge of disaster which the organs of the Conservative party have so busied themselves in predicting as the result of the triumph of the Liberals at the polls.

"It is all the merest nonsense," said one gentleman, a Conservative of prominence both in political and business circles, "to suppose that Mr. Laurier would even think of adopting any policy that would be a detriment to the country to the extent those newspaper writers indicate. Why, if he did, the country would rise as a unit and send him and his colleagues packing in short order. No, no, those alarmist writers don't for a moment believe in what they have been predicting."

Having heard that the organs referred to were busy circulating the report that the Dominion Cotton Mills Company at Hochelaga and one or two other points had been shut down in consequence (of course) of the result of the elections, the Herald man called on Mr. D. Morrice, the well known merchant, whose firm handles all the output of the mills in question, and asked him if there was any foundation for the rumor.

Mr. Morrice smiled as he said: "The mills are certainly closed down, but not, by any means, for the reason given by those alarmists. The company has simply taken action of this kind because of the work to be done for necessary repairs and alterations. We have not the slightest fear that the Liberal Government will do anything to give us reason to take such an extreme step as to close down. If they treat us half way decent we shall certainly keep our mills at work. This talk of closing down is all nonsense, who ever makes it. Mills were not made to be closed down, but to keep on running so long as a return is made for the money invested in them. Our mills, I may add, will start up full blast on Monday."

Mr. J. Alex. Gordon, of the St. Lawrence Sugar Refining Company, said that as far as entertaining any apprehensions of having to close down the refinery was concerned, he could only say that he thoroughly agreed with what Mr. Labatt, the vice-president of the company, had stated to the Herald last week, namely: That he had too much confidence in Mr. Laurier's good sense to expect him to give any cause for such apprehensions. The outcry was being made only by chronic alarmists who were blinded by partisan prejudice.

"Of course," added Mr. Gordon, "I am not justified in speaking with any authority in regard to the manufacturing part of our firm's business, simply because my particular province is the marketing of the manufactured article, but this much I may safely say, that we are giving the people of Canada as good an article as, if not better than, the Americans can furnish, and far above the best product of Germany. Of course, seeing that the American manufacturers are protected and the German manufacturers punished, the removal of the existing tariff on sugar would injure us very materially, for the Americans would at once make this country the dumping ground of the surplus product of their refineries. I do not, however, apprehend that anything of the sort is contemplated. Nor can I see any reason why there should be. Surely sugar, in Canada to-day, is sufficiently cheap, when good bright yellow is sold at 23 cents, and when granulated at 43 cents per lb., and of a quality fully as good as anything the Americans can produce. I am sure that every wholesale grocer in Montreal will bear me out in this assertion."

THE FUNERAL OF MR. JOHN KERRY.

The funeral of the late Mr. John Kerry took place yesterday afternoon from Christ Church Cathedral, where he had worshipped for many years, and of which he was one of the churchwardens. In strict conformity with the wishes of the deceased, the funeral was as private as possible, but a large number of old personal friends gathered at the church to pay their last mark of respect to him. The body, in a plain casket, covered with black cloth, arrived at the church at 3.30 o'clock, and was met by the Rev. Canon Dixon and Rev. H. J. Gomer, who conducted the service. This was very simple, consisting of the proper Psalms and a selection from the New Testament, and the funeral then proceeded to Mount Royal Cemetery, followed by several intimate friends in carriages.

Amongst those present were: Very Rev. Dean Carmichael, W. S. Kerry, son of the deceased; J. M. Harper, Dr. Watson, John Lewis, Macmillan, J. J. Gomer, James J. Cleghorn, E. Muir, S. Carter, T. Costen, J. Findlay, W. H. Chapman, representing the College of Pharmacy; H. F. Jackson, J. Saunders, Nathan Mercer, J. O'Neil, C. S. Snowdon, ex-Judge Marcus Doherty, Jas. H. Peck, James Crathern, J. P. Sexton, J. L. Gilmour, Geo. Brush, E. B. Greenhalgh, S. Lachance, Joseph Richards, president of St. George's Society, George Hadfield, representing the Board of Trade; and the staff of Kerry, Watson & Co.'s office and warehouse.

The following resolution was passed at a special meeting of the Board of Trade Council held yesterday morning: "That the Council of the Montreal Board of Trade deeply regrets the death of Mr. John Kerry, a prominent merchant of this city, and an old and highly esteemed member of this board. That the Council gratefully recalls the valuable services rendered by Mr. Kerry during the 17 consecutive years he held office in the board, he being its treasurer from 1868 to 1879, its vice-president during 1880, 1881, 1882 and 1883, and its president in 1884 and 1885; That the Council ascribes the family of the deceased of its sincerest sympathy with them in their bereavement, and trusts that they may find some consolation in the knowledge that Mr. Kerry's high principles, gentle manner, and gentle personality will long be kindly remembered by the members of this board and by all with whom he came in contact; That the Council attend the funeral this afternoon."

CITY AMUSEMENTS.

Only two days more remain before the Theatre Francaise stock company will make their final bow to the Montreal public. That they have become very popular here is attested by the fact that the audiences this, the closing week of the season have filled the theatre to its capacity. The Shakespeare of a Great City, though a sensational drama, is splendidly performed and the scenic effects are alone worth a visit to the theatre. The vaudeville bill is headed by the Darling Sisters, in sensational dances, and Joe Natus, humorist.

WALLACE, THE RIDING LION.
Of all the great equestrian performances of the circus world there is none more strange or attractive than the perfectly trained equestrian lion to be seen with the Walter L. Main, Enormous R. R. Shows, 3-Ring Circus, 5-Continent Managerie, New West, Roman Hippodrome and Trained Wild Beast Show. This remarkable animal, which a few years ago, roamed, king of an African forest, is now seen at every performance of the Walter L. Main Show, riding a bare-back horse, with all the ease, grace and agility of a champion human equestrian. There is no act or part of any act performed by champion bare-back bled artists which this intelligent quadruped does not duplicate, and many things in which he excels the gamely artists of the Big Shows. The Big Show exhibits here on July 10 and 11, and every one should see the only horse-riding lion performer.

THE C.P.R. WILL TRY

Membership in the Joint Traffic Association for a Year.
New York, July 2.—The Canadian Pacific has decided to become a member of the Joint Traffic Association. The decision was reached today after a conference lasting nearly two hours between President Van Horne and Vice-President Thompson, consisting of President Thompson, the Canadian Pacific, of the Big Four, and Chesapeake and Ohio, and Wilson, of the Grand Trunk. The Canadian Pacific, however, will go into the association tentatively, that is to say, it will try it for one year, and if it will enjoy the same benefits as are accorded to every system in the big association.

FREE MILITARY CONCERTS.

Proposed in the Different City Parks.
Stanley Park, on the corner of Atwater Avenue and St. Catherine Street was crowded, last night, by citizens and their families attended under the concert given by the band of the Victoria Rifles. The music was well rendered and the selections good. The street cars were taxed to their utmost capacity to accommodate the people anxious to hear the band. The concert was a decided success, so much so that it is proposed to make arrangements to have free concerts nightly in the different city parks, in their turn, by the local military bands. The two expeditions of the Royal Scots and the Victoria Rifles proved so successful that the other regiments will be asked to join in.

BREVITIES.

The inland revenue returns for June, 1896, amounted to $132,232.22, against $154,191.71 for the same month of 1895, an increase for this year of $21,959.49. The Boston J. Bourne embezzlement case was continued yesterday in the Police Court, Mr. Plimsoil, auditor of the R. & O. Nav. Co., being the only witness. There were fifty-three cases before the Recorder's Court yesterday as the Dominion Day's aftermath. The only specimen was that of a bicyclist, who was fined $1 and costs for neglecting to have a license. A fine of one dollar and costs was imposed upon Alfred Turcotte by the Recorder yesterday for failing to have a license for his bicycle. He claimed to have had only rented the machine for a week.

Grand Trunk Railway Notes.
A large pilgrimage, under the direction of the Rev. Father Barils, from St. Bonifacio, arrived in the city yesterday morning and were transferred to the R. & O. steamer Three Rivers en route to St. Anne de Beaupre. Another pilgrimage to the same place from Valleyfield will arrive to-morrow under the direction of Bishop Emard. The Highland Cadets of this city leave this evening for Ogdensburg via G. T. R., where they will participate in a grand celebration of the 4th of July, to-morrow. They will return Sunday night.

St. Lambert Boating Club have made application to the G. T. R. for an extra train running between St. Lambert and Montreal between the hours of 11 and 12 p.m. Sunday night. The G. T. R. will give their answer to-day.

The Hardware Clerks' Association of this city have arranged their annual excursion Sunday next to Otterburn Park. The train leaves Bonaventure depot at 9 a.m.

Catholic Sailors' Club.

The weekly concert of the Catholic Sailors' Club, last night, was a great success. Mr. P. J. Gordon presided, and there was a very large attendance. The great attraction of the evening was an exhibition of the Edison photograph, which was very interesting and enjoyable. In the musical part of the entertainment, several skamen from steamers in port did their share. Miss Collins gave a piano duet, Mr. L. C. O'Brien, a recitation, and songs were given by A. Reid, J. Scott, F. Lawlor, J. Taylor, and F. Landung.

Removal of Cab-drivers' Strike.

It was rumored about the city last night, that the cab-men employed by some half dozen master cabs in town would go out on strike in a day or two. This was denied by the employers seen last night, who knew of no such thing, and of any reason which could lead the men to strike.

Men Will be Discharged.

William Henry of Ottawa, charged with bigamy, will have his case disposed of to-day in the Police Court, and it is probable that it will result in his discharge. The evidence and witnesses against him are all in England, and the Provincial Government does not feel like incurring the expense of bringing them over and sending them back.

INVENTORS DON'T PATENT.

Discoverers of Epoch Making Devices Took No Pains to Keep Them.

If you look back on the history of human progress, you will find that none of the great epoch making inventions has ever been patented. The man who is the first to see whether Prometheus or the party from whom he stole the idea, did not get a patent for it. Neither did the man who made the first wheel—in every sense one of the most revolutionary inventions in the history of man. The same thing may be said of the invention of soap, candles, gunpowder, umbrellas and the master's compass, or, to come down to our own day, of the steam engine and the electric telegraph.

Patents are mostly concerned with small mechanical details and improvements—it may be in candles or umbrellas or it may be in the application of steam and electricity—and by means of these patents enormous profits have been secured to second rate inventors, but the great ideas and discoveries which underlie these details have been given to the world gratis.

There is a general notion that if you did not protect inventions by means of patents inventors would cease to invent, and material progress would come to a standstill. But history does not bear this out in the least. Men with great mechanical gifts do not exercise them any more than astronomers search the heavens for new worlds with an eye to registering patents and floating companies on the results of their discoveries.—London Truth.

At the Wrong Nuptials.

"If any man can show just cause why these two persons may not be lawfully joined together, let him now speak or else hereafter forever hold his peace."—Slowly and impressively the officiating clergyman spoke these words.

The solemn pause that followed their utterance was broken by a deep, strong voice from the rear of the church: "May I ask you, sir, to repeat the names of those two persons who stand before you as candidates for matrimony?"

"George Washington Spoonmore and Jophenia Shaw," answered the clergyman, astonished at the interruption.

"Go ahead with the marrying," rejoined the owner of the deep voice, clapping on his hat and starting for the door. "It's all right. I had just got here, and hadn't heard the stop must be in church a block and a half below here."—Chicago Tribune.

Got Rid of the Chaperon.

"I thought I saw you riding alone with a gentleman last evening." "You did."

"But does your mother let you go bicycling with gentlemen without a chaperon?"

"Go, indeed."

"But you had none."

"Oh, we had one when we started, but we punctured her tire to get rid of her."—Chicago Post.

Stop Quite Yet.

"Still putting up high buildings, I see," said the stranger.

"Oh, yes," replied the native carelessly.

"How do you do it now?" asked the stranger.

"How? I don't believe I understand you," answered the native.

"Why, I have heard so many remarkable things about your methods of construction and the improvements that have been made in them," said the stranger. "I didn't know—I wasn't quite sure that—that?"

"Well? That what?"

"That you hadn't reached a point where you begin at a cloud and build down."

"No-o. Not yet," returned the native thoughtfully. "But we're getting there."—Chicago Post.

Sour Grapes.

The fox had jumped and jumped and jumped. He sat down with his tongue hanging out and eyed the untamable grapes with a well assumed air of indifference.

"Dear me!" he remarked airily. "How careless of me not to notice that these were not edible grapes, but good only to make into table d'hôte wine."—Indianapolis Journal.

Where the Waiters Ask No Odds.

Common as the practice of tipping is becoming in this city, there must still be restaurants in which tips are neither given nor expected, and among these must be some, at least, of the beef and bean places in the neighborhood of Park road. I have not been so familiar with these places in recent years as I used to be years ago, before they had grown so large and when coffee and cakes furnished the chief staple of the food provided. In those days I am quite sure that nobody ever thought of tipping the waiters, and I believe that the same practice prevails in them now. It might be that a waiter would take a tip from some old customer with whom he was on friendly terms, but I doubt if he would take one from a casual guest. I think if such a guest should put a tip on the table the waiter would wipe it off on the floor with the cloth with which he swabs the table.

The beef and bean places are refreshing, not only in the food they furnish, but in the spirit of self-reliance independence that pervades them.—Cor. New York Sun.

Charging a Bear With Bayonets.

Russian soldiers in Siberia are not only encouraged to exercise their martial ardor on big game, but are actually led out in squads to take part in the hunt. On a recent occasion a local police inspector joined in the hunt and got two of the soldier hunters to set as his bodyguard. When the bear came merrily romping toward him over the snow, the inspector got flurried, missed both barrels, flung down his gun and buried his head in the snow, seeking to burrow out of sight. The bear came in a great fury. Two of the soldiers waited till he came to close quarters and turned him back with a volley. They then charged with fixed bayonets and finished him off in one military style. They have been rewarded for their presence of mind in saving the life of the guardian of the peace by having their photographs hung in their headquarters and being each presented with one ruble.—London Globe.

Who Steals the Bibles?

Although nearly all the passenger cars running out of Chicago have little overhead racks marked "Read and Return," few of these racks contain Bibles, as they used to. The explanation is that the American Bible society discontinued furnishing them, believing that they could employ their money in fields in which it would be more appreciated. The suggestion has been made that the Bibles be attached to the car with chains, as city directories are in drug stores and hotels, but the idea of chaining down a Bible is incongruous that it has met with little favor.—Chicago Tribune.

Why?

"Why does that Blodgett girl wear such a thick veil?"

"She thinks it increases her beauty."

"Then why doesn't she get behind a screen door?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

I learn several great truths—as that it is impossible to see into the ways of futurity; that punishment always attends the villain; that love is the fount of the human breast.—Goldsmith.

It is said that the first English duke was Edward the Black Prince, who, by his father, Edward III., was created Duke of Cornwall in 1337.
