Salvage Men Start Work On Baffin

HALIFAX — Four heavy-duty pumps began spilling tons of water from the cracked holds of the grounded hydrographic ship Baffin Sunday as salvage experts began the task of pulling her off Black Rock, a nearly submerged island about 70 miles southwest of here.

Foundation Maritime Limited officials, handling the job for the federal government, said it will be at least Tuesday before the torn hull of the $4,000,000 ship can be repaired and the Baffin refloated.

She struck Black Rock in dense fog last Thursday while charting navigational hazards in the area. She was testing complex ocean mapping instruments to be used on a voyage to northern waters this summer.

Three ocean-going Foundation tugs are to attempt to move the Baffin when her hull is repaired and her holds emptied.

Fewer Fatalities

QUEBEC — The provincial Transport Department has reported the number of traffic fatalities in Quebec Province has been decreasing since 1953 despite a sharp increase in the number of cars. The average of 13.9 fatalities for each 10,000 cars in 1953 had dropped to nine last year.

Top A-Scientists Meet

How To Stop Man Destroying Self

PUGWASH, N.S. — Twenty-four of the world's top scientists meet in this little Nova Scotia fishing village today for talks that could affect the future of every human being.

Their aim: To think of a way to prevent man from destroying himself with atomic weapons.

There's a look of deadly earnestness in their faces for these are the men who helped give the world the atomic power they now seek to control.

They come from 11 countries — both Western and Communist — probably the first such meeting in history. They sit informally around a triangular-shaped table in a room where until last week kindergarten pupils from the Pugwash school learned their ABC's.

The group includes Alexander V. Topchiev, the Soviet Union's No. 2 scientist; Prof. Leo Szilard of Chicago, who helped devise a system of nuclear chain reaction; Dr. Hideki Yukawa of Tokyo, a Nobel Prize winner, and Prof. J. Rotblat of London, vice-president of the Atomic Scientists Association.

TESTS BANNED
Dr. Yukawa brings a Japanese appeal for an end to tests of atomic and hydrogen weapons.

With them around the table are physicists, biologists, chemists and other scientists from Australia, Austria, Canada, Red China, India, France and Poland.

They began trickling into this quiet lobster fishing port Friday; Saturday they began to get acquainted; Sunday they met for a preliminary session at the Masonic Hall on a tree-shaded back street.

At the Sunday meeting they agreed their talks will be strictly private. Their desire for seclusion goes to the extent of an agreement not to be interviewed individually or otherwise.

The people of Pugwash — less than 1,000 all told — paid them scant attention. The railroad station, where most of them are staying on three sleeping cars, was deserted. The villagers went as usual about their Sunday afternoon pursuits — walking, talking, swimming in the harbor, or dozing in the sun.

The only word that came from the meeting was a brief statement by Prof. Rotblat. He said the scientists are meeting "for private and informal discussions about the problems raised by the development of nuclear weapons."

"Our aim is to exchange ideas about the new importance of science in public affairs, and to think of a way in avoiding a catastrophe to mankind through the use to which scientific achievements may be put," he said.

Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland industrialist who was born near here, is host. He has invited two groups of United States college presidents and deans to meet here for "thinking sessions" later this summer.

ACCUSATIONS LINK TRIO WITH STALIN'S PURGES

Criminal Proceedings Against Ousted Reds May Follow Charges

MOSCOW — (AP) — New charges were piled up against three deposed Soviet leaders during the weekend, linking them with Stalin's bloody purges.

Ex-president Nikolai Shvernik, 69-year-old veteran of Communist party councils, joined in the denunciations against George Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich.

Speaking before a mass rally in Leningrad, Shvernik accused the ousted trio of "tolerating

MOSCOW — (AP) — Former premier Georgi Malenkov was accused today of trying to force a Communist party official to sign a forgery.

The alleged coercion attempt took place in Leningrad in 1949 and apparently was part of a case in which several top Communists were illegally executed. Lavrenty P. Beria and Victor Abakumov, one of Beria's main assistants in the Soviet secret police, were shot for framing the case.

violations of revolutionary law during the period of mass repressions."

This obviously referred to the blood purges of 1937-38, in which thousands were liquidated on charges of anti-government activity.

Shvernik, a member of the court that condemned police chief L. P. Beria to death in 1953, charged that Malenkov and Molotov — both former premiers — and former deputy premier Kaganovich plotted to seize power and recruited fellow conspirators.

The three had "lost all contact with the masses," Shvernik declared. "The ultimate aim of this group was to change the Kremlin."

Civil Servants Give Five-Day Ultimatum

VANCOUVER — The British Columbia government has been given less than five days in which to meet the demands of its employees for salary increases and bargaining rights. The province's civil servants say that unless their demands are met, they'll strike.

The precedent-setting strike threat — believed the first in Canada against a senior government — was issued Sunday night by the policy-making executive of the B.C. Government Employees Association.

It followed eight hours of discussions. From the meeting an association headquarters here sent a telegram to Premier W. A. C. Bennett specifying association terms for settlement of its dispute.

If those terms are not met to the association's satisfaction by 7 a.m. Friday, some 11,000 civil servants will walk off all jobs not considered essential, the association says.

That would mean the closing of all B.C. liquor stores as well as cocktail lounges and taverns, which are supplied by the government. No marriage, death or birth certificates would be issued, the courts would be closed, toll-collecting wickets on bridges would be empty, road construction would be hampered or stopped, provincial pension cheques would not go out and pay offices for government employees — including Premier Bennett and his cabinet — would issue no cheques.

SOME WOULD WORK
If the government requests it, the civil servants would continue voluntarily and without pay to

US Violates Treaty—Dief

UK Press Backs PM On Trade

LONDON (Reuters) — British newspapers today praised Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker for stirring the Commonwealth nations on trade expansion.

The Financial Times said Diefenbaker had "shaken up the settled and defeatist thinking which has already abandoned hope for expansion of Commonwealth trade."

The Times said Diefenbaker was well on his way to bringing about a Commonwealth economic conference that could lead to a policy of expanding Commonwealth trade.

This, it said, was not incompatible with the proposed European free trade area, "which the Commonwealth prime ministers indeed approve."

The Liberal Manchester Guardian said Diefenbaker made "an excellent impression during the conference."

Ship Sinks All Saved

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The Swedish passenger-cargo ship La Plata burned and sank off the central Brazilian coast Sunday. All passengers and crew were taken off safely.

The 7,374-ton ship, owned by the Johnson Line of Stockholm, was en route from Stockholm to Rio and Buenos Aires.

Officials in Salvador said they did not know how many were aboard but that all had been taken off by the Brazilian tanker Bittencourt Sampaio and a ship of the Moore-McCormack Line.

US Holiday Toll Soars Over 700

CHICAGO — (AP) — More than 700 persons were killed in violent accidents during the long Independence Day holiday period. Traffic deaths, although far below the predicted 535, led the staggering toll.

The count for the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. July 3 to midnight Sunday showed 419 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents. Drownings also took a heavy toll, with 201 reported. Miscellaneous accidents caused 99 deaths, for an overall total of 719.

Quake Toll 1,564

TEHRAN, Iran — (AP) — Government officials reported 1,564 persons were killed in seven places along the Caspian Sea in last week's great earthquake. They said the figures do not cover several other hard-hit areas.

OTTAWA — The United States has been charged by Prime Minister Diefenbaker with violating the 37-country General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade in its program of selling wheat surpluses abroad at cut rates.

Mr. Diefenbaker's criticism, sharper against the U.S. in years by a Canadian prime minister, was made Saturday at a press conference following his return from the London conference of Commonwealth prime ministers.

He told reporters that the U.S. is breaching GATT in agreements with many countries receiving American "fire sale" wheat. In return for low-priced wheat the countries were committed to provide markets for the U.S. over a period of years.

Mr. Diefenbaker, who faces a major problem in disposing of huge stocks of Canadian wheat, described the U.S. action as a "gobbling up of future markets." The question of whether his government would make a formal protest was one for "future determination."

During the last year, the former Liberal government of Prime Minister St. Laurent made representations on the subject to the U.S. However, the U.S. was not directly accused of violating GATT.

MAY GO TO MEETING
Meanwhile, there is some speculation here that Canada now might place the issue before a GATT meeting in Europe next fall.

Mr. Diefenbaker also told reporters he hopes that increased trade within British countries will be discussed at a Commonwealth trade and economic conference.

Hollywood Photographer May Claim Title In BC

VANCOUVER — A Hollywood photographer said Sunday he may leave the United States and take up residence in Canada to be able to claim a title left vacant by the death of his father, a Vancouver newspaper columnist.

Michael Ian Bruce, 31-year-old son of the late Sir Michael Bruce, said in a telephone interview from his home at Pacific Palisades, Calif., that he now is considering taking up a new life with his family in Vancouver.

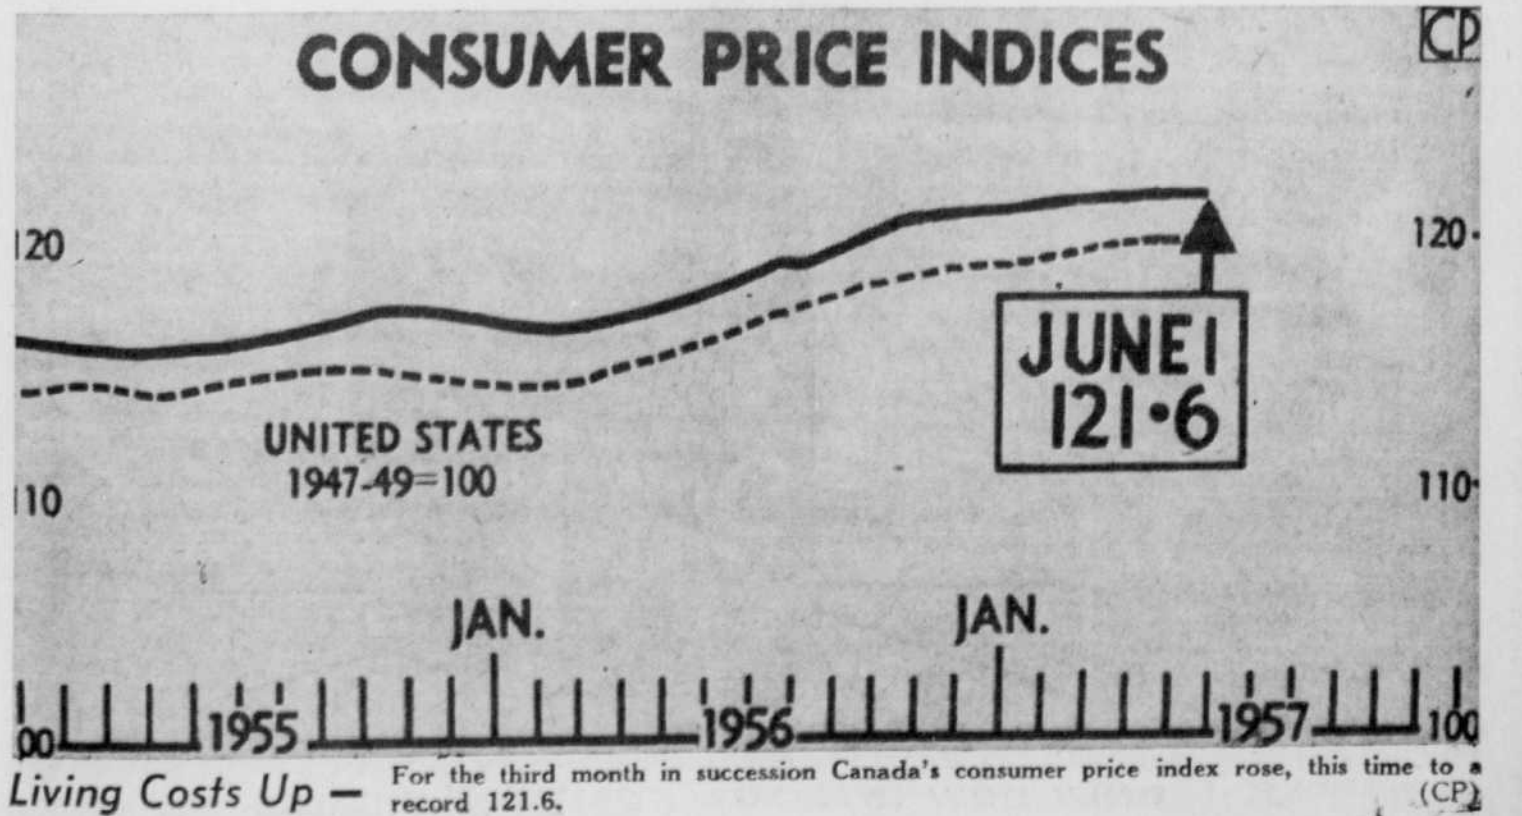

Sir Michael's son by a former marriage, Michael is heir to the baronetcy of Stenhoven and Airth. His father, who died here May 26, was the 11th baronet, a descendant of Robert the Bruce and a well-known adventurer and author.

At his death, Sir Michael was a columnist with The Province, moving to that newspaper from the now-defunct Vancouver Herald.

Michael Bruce said Sunday "I feel strongly about carrying on the title."

He is a naturalized American and as such cannot accept foreign titles under United States law. To be able to claim the baronetcy, he would have to give up his American citizenship and take on the citizenship of a British or Commonwealth country where such titles are permitted.

Sir Michael had one other child, a daughter, by his first marriage and one son by his second marriage. Both live here.

Single Highway Death Reported Over Week-end

One person was killed and eight injured in highway accidents in the Eastern Townships over the weekend.

Dead is Joseph Mongeon, of Winooski, Vt., who perished when the car he was driving swerved out of control into a ditch on the road between Bedford and Stanbridge East yesterday morning. Another youth in the car escaped unhurt.

Adrien Gosselin, 32, his wife, 29, their five children, of Island Brook, and Donat Gosselin, 27, of 483 Lemaire St., Sherbrooke, were taken to the Hotel Dieu with various injuries after the car they were driving in turned over in the ditch one mile from Sherbrooke on the Ascot Highway.

All were released after treatment except Mrs. Gosselin who suffered multiple cuts to the face and limbs, and her two-year-old daughter, Lise, who suffered injuries to the left side of the body and face.

Mrs. Gosselin's condition is reported by hospital officials as satisfactory while her daughter's state is considered serious but not dangerous.

The other children involved in the accident are Raymond, 10, Robert, 9, Real, 5, and Gilles, 1. Traffic accidents accounted for more than half of Canada's 53 accidental deaths during the weekend.

Thirty-two died on the highways between 6 p.m. local time Friday and midnight Sunday, a Canadian Press survey showed. Fourteen were drowned and seven died in other accidents.

The worst mishap was the drowning of a grandmother and three children in Ontario Sunday when their boat tumbled over a 10-foot dam.

Ontario's total — 27 — was the country's highest. Fifteen were traffic victims. Quebec recorded eight violent deaths, six in traffic.

Three persons were killed and two seriously injured Sunday in a three-car collision at nearby St. Charles sur Richelieu.

Killed were Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Milot of Montreal, and Andre Sagnant, 27, of Sorel, Que.

Injured were Leo Brouillard, 38, of Sorel, and Julien Peliquin, 39, of St. Joseph de Sorel, Que.

Provincial police said Brouillard was the driver of a car carrying Fayon and Peliquin. Mrs. Milot was reported driving another car.

Police said Peliquin, if he survives, may owe his life to U.S. Army doctor Maj. Anthony Britts of the DeWitt army hospital, Fort Belvoir, Va., who administered emergency treatment and got a passing station wagon to take the man to hospital.

Mrs. Milot died shortly after arriving at hospital in St. Hyacinthe, Fayon died later.

Hospital officials said Brouillard and Peliquin are in serious condition but are expected to live.

Fine Weather Favors Festival

FAMILY ENJOY FESTIVAL

Perfect weather throughout the day brought over 11,000 persons—the vast majority of them children—to the annual Firemen's Festival staged at Jacques Cartier Park yesterday. For nine long hours, the throngs of people wandered through the park, talked, watched the various athletic contests and displays or just relaxed and enjoyed the hospitality of the Firemen's Amateur Athletic Association who sponsored the event.

The highlight of the morning program was the three-mile race, which started from No. 1 fire station and wound up at the park. When the runners reached the park, they were greeted by large throngs who had been brought by free buses from various parts of the city and by private cars. During the day, more and more people found their way to the park and by mid-afternoon all available parking space was crammed and the crowd reached the records of previous years.

All over the park stands were dispensing soft drinks and ice cream and, later in the day, more than 500 cases of free soft drinks and 500 gallons of free ice cream disappeared down thirsty young throats from the crowded centers of distribution. During the day, 400 boxes of toys were given away by the firemen to the children at the park.

The ring in the center of the park was a point of interest for many hours with exhibitions and competitions in judo and wrestling. Early in the morning, a series of races took in every class of athlete, from girls of five to seven to the race for men over 200 pounds, in which president Lachance made a brave and determined effort. The race for ladies over 200 pounds was highlighted by the courage of one contestant who fell and then went on to place third.

Stunt performances on the diving tower over the water enthralled the spectators as men jumped into pools of flaming water. Meanwhile, on the grounds, A. Oumet and D. Courchesne wandered about in clown costumes, delighting the thousands of children.

The high point in the day was

the long-awaited appearance of Walter Diedak, King of the Canadian Cowboys, and his horse Thunder, Siedlak, who appeared through the courtesy of the Brading's Brewery, put on a splendid show of trick shooting, singing, and performances with his horse who was soon a favorite with the children.

Although the schedule was soon running behind, nobody cared and the park was dotted with tables of picnicking families while the children played on the swings and swing-abouts.

Celebrities also were present, as Maurice Gingués M.P., and Mayor Nadeau strolled the park observing the festivities.

Winding up the day, Henri Carboneau, R. Paradis and Alfred Goteite were the lucky winners in the drawing for bicycles and other prizes.

Athletically, the hero of the day was a 12-year-old boy, Claude Labrie, who, with his 31-year-old partner, Leo Goupil, took fourth place in the one-mile relay race. In the gruelling three-mile road race which began the day, the winner was C. Goodfellow of the Y.M.C.A. who ran the distance in record time, cutting 14 seconds off the previous record of Leo Goupil, who this year came second.

Other winners in the three mile race were Fred Burns who came third and Wayne Clark, fourth.

In the mile relay, Jim Fearney and Fred Burns were first, W. Clark and C. Goodfellow second, and G. R. Lemire and Francois Lemire, third.

In the one-mile swimming race, A. Simpson was first, Pierre Doyon, second.

Lucien Lachance and the members of the committee of the Firemen's Athletic Association, who arranged and did all the work which made the festival such an undoubted success, won much praise for the manner in which the event was carried out.

Suspension Of Sunday Morning Bus Service Infuriates Riders

Relations between Laramee "Service" Inc. and its patrons, never any too healthy, became suddenly worse over the weekend when the company, without warning, made drastic cuts in its city bus "service," the most serious of which was the complete suspension of operations Sunday morning.

Whereas under former schedules, buses began operating at 9.30 a. m., the first bus does not come into the streets until 11.30 a. m. under the revised timetable.

Other "improvements" in the "service" provide for an increase in the headway on most city lines from 20 minutes to 30 minutes, or a cut from three trips per hour to two after eight o'clock each evening except Fridays. This has been accomplished by a speeding up of the operating speed so that routes generally covered by two coaches will now be served by one during the evenings.

Even more infuriating to the majority of the patrons than the actual cuts in the "service" was the failure of the company to give any effective notice. The first inkling that many of the regular bus travellers had of the curtailment of operations was when they sought to go to church yesterday morning. Long waits at the street corners for the customary bus, which failed to appear, sometimes ended with a telephone call to the company which elicited a curt reply that the first bus operated at 11.30.

No advance warning was given of the "service" reductions, although a single small handbill appeared in each bus Sunday advising those who could get close enough to read that the changes would be effective July 5 — two days before the notices were posted.

Apparently no application was made to the city authorities for approval of the "service" reduction, as Ald. Paul Gervais, chairman of the industrial relations, town planning and transport committee which is supposed to supervise the schedules of the company, said this morning that the first he knew of the changes was when he received a number of complaints from indignant patrons.

He added that he was investigating the situation and might have a statement to make at the Council meeting tonight.

According to the agreement Laramee "Service" Inc. and the City, any change of routes and schedules are supposed to have the prior approval of the city council.

Senior officials of the company could not be reached for comment and the only statement forthcoming from the individual answering the phone was that the cuts were "Boss' orders."

The routes affected by the evening cuts are No. 10, Park Prospect; No. 14, Murray-Argyle, and No. 38, St. Esprit, while all are cut out in the Sunday morning suspension.

MONTREAL — Provincial police said Sunday night a body taken from the St. Lawrence River near Caughnawaga may be that of a nurse believed to have drowned last month as she fled a man who tried to assault her.

Miriel Levesque, 20, of Val d'Or, Que., has been missing since June 24, when she apparently jumped into the river to escape a man her two companions said tried to attack them after giving them a ride.

The Four-Day Itch

Hundreds of thousands of Canadians have started their summer holidays or are preparing to go away within the next two months. Yet it is sad to think that for many, the dreams of carefree hours at the cottage or resort will be spoiled by that mysterious ailment, the "four-day itch."

This is an ailment, unknown to medical science, which usually strikes on the fourth day of vacation. Symptoms can be observed in all members of the family.

Dad will start muttering about the muttonhead who has taken over his office chores, or fret about the customers he could be calling on. He itches to get back to the grind.

Though mother probably won't admit it, she feels the same longing. She misses the bridge clubs, and she can't see the mountains for those familiar mounds of dirty clothes around the house. Moreover, she's discovered that the "conveniences" of the summer cottage aren't so convenient.

The thing spreads to the children. They complain the drinking water tastes like distilled carpet tacks. They miss their neighborhood friends. And they worry that Queenie, who's been left at the kennels, will spitefully starve herself to death.

Still, you can bet they'll all go away next year and, according to the trend, stay longer.

Why? There are lots of reasons. National prosperity is one. Improved highway facilities is another. Enticing installment plans help to spread vacation costs, and industry believes more and more that longer vacations often boost productivity.

The biggest reason of all would seem to be that the "four-day itch" to return home isn't nearly so bothersome as the "50-week itch" to get away.

Science Blazes New Trails

One of the remarkable aspects of the new industrial revolution is that science not only is constantly blazing fresh trails but is going back over old ones to make exciting and helpful discoveries.

The rubber industry is a striking instance. With the World War II arrival of synthetic rubber on a major scale, it was widely assumed that to the extent its price could be made competitive with natural rubber, the man-made product would soon be grabbing off the big markets.

As it turns out today, however, the demand for natural rubber is greater than ever, and scientific experts are helping producers meet the need.

Synthetic rubber is indeed now preferred for items comprising about a third of the rubber market, including car tires.

But the natural material is favored for another third, including medical supplies and airplane, truck and bus tires, and in the remaining third of the market synthetic and natural rubber are competitive, with the edge depending on price at any given time.

Consequently, producers of natural rubber are toiling hard to expand the productivity of their rubber tree acreage. Here's where science comes in.

The experts have found that by developing careful replanting cycles, eliminating the older trees, and improving their methods of tapping the latex or raw rubber, they can boost the yield per acre to around 2,000 pounds a year. Averages below 450 pounds annually are still common in many producing areas.

Thus the big companies now are embarked on extensive replanting efforts in quest of these larger yields per acre. Some even talk of yields as high as 2,400 pounds a year per acre.

Interesting experiments are going forward with chemical "tree hormones" to stimulate latex output further. It isn't yet known what these hormone injections will do eventually either to the rubber trees or the tropical soils in which they grow.

But what has been achieved in recent times with natural rubber output is one more proof that no industrial process or material can be quite written off so long as fresh scientific imagination can still be applied to its development.

This And That

When the Commonwealth finance ministers gather in Ottawa in September to discuss matters of high policy, they might take time to figure out a way for the average man to balance his weekly budget.

Canada's $4,000,000 ocean-charting ship the Baffin was so busy mapping marine hazards off the Nova Scotia Coast that it ran aground in fog. That's not the kind of marker they're supposed to leave on the rocks.

The Russians have developed a new crime, that of being "anti-party." In plain language, this means simply anybody who doesn't agree with the boss of the moment.

UTTER CONFUSION NETS SMALL SLAM

South's two-club bid was Stayman and North's two no-trump rebid showed a maximum no-trump and no four-card major suit. From then on the bidding may best be described as utter confusion.

North thought his partner was showing strength and South was trying vainly to get off the hook. By the time they reached six, East and West were ready to double and all South could do was try to make the best of a bad contract.

West opened the ace of clubs. I can't really blame him, although the result was most unfortunate. South ruffed and promptly tried the diamond finesse. When it worked South saw that there was some chance to make the hand and proceeded to play as if he was peeking in the opponents' hands.

A second club was trumped and a second diamond finesse worked. A third club was ruffed and a third diamond led to dummy. When both opponents followed South saw daylight ahead.

He trumped the fourth and last club with his ten of trumps. East and West had to follow. A spade was led to dummy's ace and dummy's last diamond ruffed with the ace of trumps.

Since West held the jack of trumps there was no way to keep dummy from making all his three trumps and while South had to lose a spade he had succeeded in making eight trump tricks, one spade and three diamonds. Since 12 tricks are all he needed, the slam was home.

PROGRESS OF SORTS

Victim Of Textile Slump

When Town's Only Industry Closes

By GEORGE McNEVIN

MILLTOWN, N.B. — (C) — A ghost town? Not on your life!

So say the people of this attractive, Southern New Brunswick border town now facing the prospect of almost total unemployment with resulting loss and hardship.

The town's only industry, a textile plant operated by the Milltown Textiles Co-operative, Limited, is scheduled to lock its doors Aug. 22. Meanwhile, employees are working themselves out of jobs as back-logged orders are filled.

A last-ditch meeting by mill, federal and provincial government officials Thursday failed to provide a ray of hope although government representatives promised all support possible.

During another crisis in 1934, when the condition of the Canadian textile industry forced closure, the workers banded together to form the co-operative and rented the 450-loom factory from Textile Sales Limited of Montreal.

An announcement from Textile Sales earlier this week said they would close the mill because competition from imported synthetic fabrics made it unprofitable. President Alan C. Salter said the plant was "another victim of the general depression in the Canadian synthetic textile industry."

The mill now employs about 450 persons including office staff. At one time it employed almost 1,000. With the mill shut down, the number of unemployed in the town is expected to come close to 950. The textile plant has been the town's mainstay for the last 76 years.

Co-operative President William Booth Jr. said Friday night the people won't give up without a struggle. Most were born here and have lived here all their lives. Families, relatives both near and distant are either here or in the neighboring communities of Milltown and Calais, Me., or St. Stephen, N.B.

The four towns comprise a single unit so closely integrated socially and economically that the troubles of one are the troubles of all. Many mill employees are American born and commute to and from work across the border.

Mr. Booth refers to the St. Stephen crossing point as the "friendliest from coast to coast." The Canadian and American communities are separated only by the tiny St. Croix River. "Boundary" Street divides St. Stephen, from Milltown.

Population of the entire area taking in rural territory for a few miles in each direction is about 20,000. Milltown itself has a population of about 2,500 made up of about 850 families most of whom depend — directly or indirectly — on the mill for subsistence.

Textile workers earn their money in Milltown but most of it is spent in St. Stephen or Calais, both with fine business districts. A post office and a few small grocery stores comprise Milltown's commercial assets.

Foremost on Mayor Ralph

Eagon's list of worries is keeping Milltown essential services, including schools, open for the people. A tax agreement between the mill and the town in the last few years called for payment on a monthly instalment basis and application was made by the company for renewal of the agreement.

Mayor Eagon says schools are pretty well assured until the mill-closing date but he can't foresee what will happen after that. If payments are kept up, schools will remain open. Nothing can be said about other town services.

The mill's products have been called second to none in their fields, and their very quality is considered to have made competition with imports possible. They can neither be produced or marketed quickly enough. Among finished products turned out are car seat covers, all kinds of draperies, plaids, suit linings, casement linings and others.

Officials say lines have been more varied in the last few years and orders of all types have been picked up in order to keep the mill operating.

Mr. Booth said notice was given in April that the company was leaving the rayon field and the ability of the mill to survive without it would be noted. The Montreal closure announcement followed a two month trial, when it was seen that the mill's position was steadily falling.

Mr. Booth said there are very few industries in any of the surrounding areas that could absorb the volume of laid-off men. He said when the mill at Marysville, N.B. closed down, workers were taken into Fredericton industry and the federal government Camp Gagetown project. There were no such centres available for Milltown workers.

There has been talk of selling the mill and Mr. Booth says the owners are "anxious to sell and will take 75 cents a square foot for the building." At the Thursday meeting, J. Whitehouse of the Textile Workers' Union, Toronto office, asked that the federal government declare the town a "disaster area" and take "emergency action."

The actual building was purchased by Textile Sales in 1932, the buyers installed $1,000,000 worth of new machinery and began producing their new lines.

THE OPTIMISTIC MR. LAPALME (Ottawa Journal)

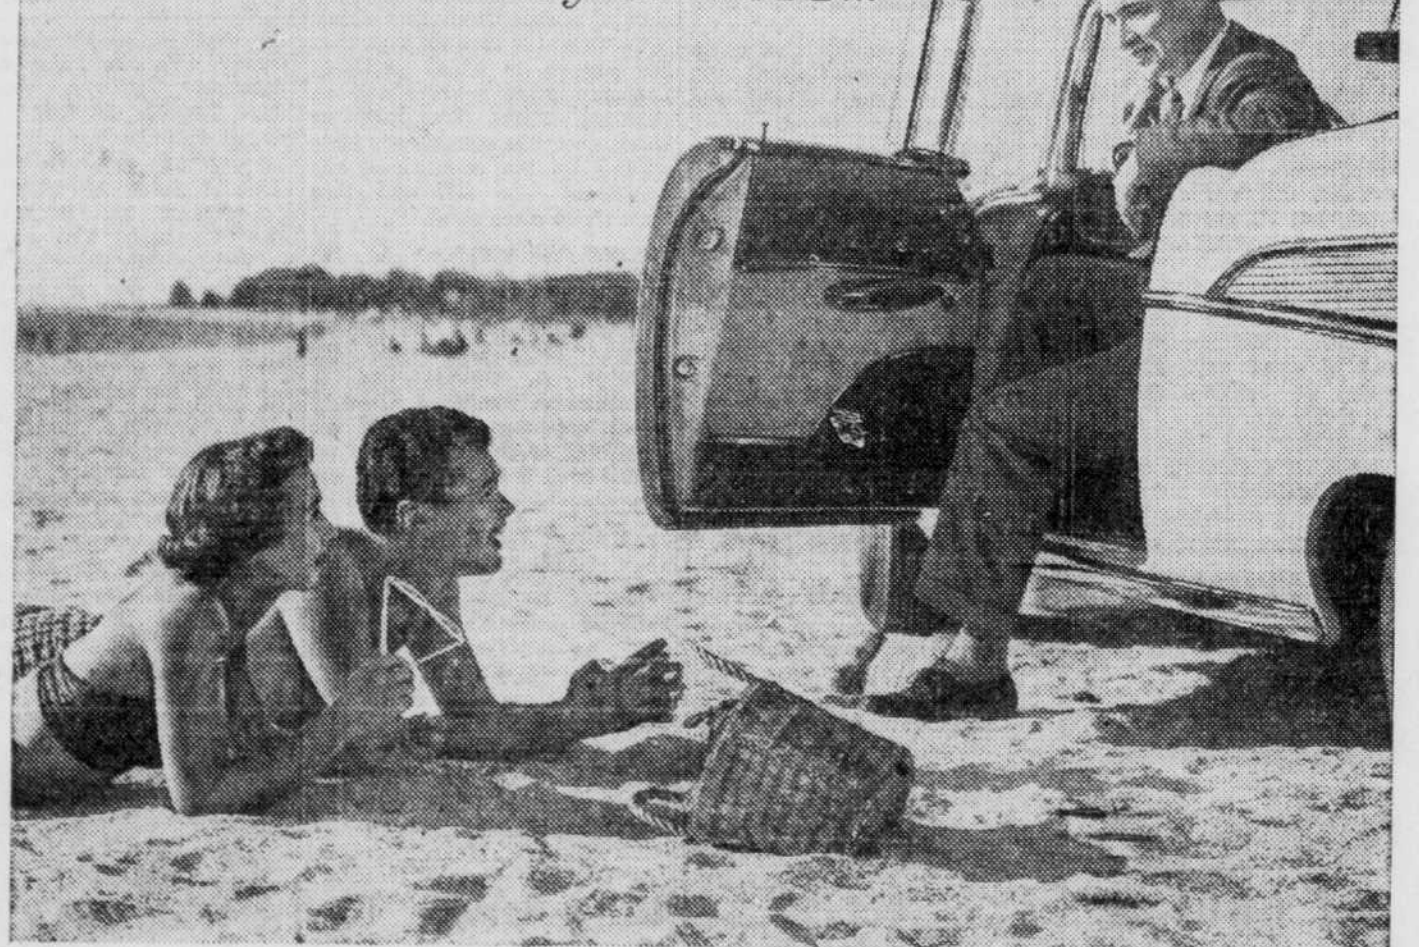

For his skill in the extraction of sunshine out of cucumbers we commend the case of Mr. Georges Lapalme, leader of the Liberal party in Quebec.

Mr. Lapalme, announcing that he proposes to keep his job, says he feels the provincial Liberal party "will not be adversely affected" by what happened in Canada last week because Mr. Duplessis no longer will be able to accuse "provincial Liberals of a tie-up with the federal government." In other words he thinks the Quebec Liberals will do better to stand on their own feet.

At least they cannot do much worse. In the Quebec legislature today there are 19 Liberals and 69 members of Union Nationale.

Such charges could pave the way for criminal proceedings against Malenkov, Molotov and Kaganovich. In the past, conviction on such charges has led to the death sentence.

Shvernik repeated Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev's charges that Malenkov was a chief organizer of the 1949 Leningrad purge in which several top Communists were executed.

Khrushchev told a Leningrad audience Saturday Malenkov was one of the "main organizers" in the purge. Four officials were executed in 1954 for their part in the purge.

MAY COURT TITO

During his speech denouncing Stalin before the 20th Soviet party congress last year, Khrushchev labelled the Leningrad case a frameup.

Shvernik made the trip to Leningrad with Khrushchev and four other members of the Presidium who addressed mass rallies throughout the city. Meetings are being held throughout the Soviet Union.

Reports were current that a group of top Soviet officials soon may visit Belgrade in a new venture to President Tito. One of the charges Khrushchev made against Molotov and those accused with him was that they tried to sabotage the reconciliation between the Kremlin and the Yugoslav leader.

Imperial Fuel Price Decreases

TORONTO (Special) — A decrease of half a cent a gallon in the price of light fuel oils, including furnace and stove oil, kerosene and diesel fuel, was posted by Imperial Oil today throughout Quebec, the four Atlantic provinces and most parts of Ontario.

The reduction applies immediately to the price paid by consumers for domestic furnace oil and diesel fuel. It will also apply to stove oil and kerosene prices paid by consumers who purchase directly from Imperial or its agents.

The decrease is chiefly due to a lowering of world tanker rates and a decline in the wholesale price of fuel oils in the U.S. Gulf Coast and Great Lakes areas.

ference some time next year. The holding of such a conference was one of Mr. Diefenbaker's main proposals at the London conference of prime ministers.

The press conference was held immediately after Mr. Diefenbaker returned to the capital. He presided at a cabinet meeting after his talk with reporters but there were no announcements.

The prime minister said Canada will not object to United Kingdom participation in the proposed six-country European free market provided it does not include Canadian farm products. His understanding was that these products would be excluded.

IMPORTS DIVERTED — Mr. Diefenbaker said he would like to see about 15 per cent of Canadian imports from the U.S. diverted to Britain to give that country more dollars with which to buy from Canada. He did not believe such an arrangement would be "detrimental" to Canada-U.S. trade.

No consideration had been given as yet on whether Canada might take payment for some wheat in non-dollar currencies to reduce current stocks. Canada now accepts only dollars for wheat.

The prime minister said he expects Queen Elizabeth will be in Ottawa Oct. 12, 13, 14 and perhaps open Parliament Monday, Oct. 14. However, he could not confirm the Oct. 14 opening until he had talked with his cabinet colleagues.

He also said in the next two weeks he will name five new cabinet ministers to fill vacant portfolios — agriculture, defence production, mines and technical surveys, citizenship and immigration and health and welfare.

have not yet indicated in his caution which older, tired and sometimes embittered ministers show almost automatically," The Guardian said.

PREDICTS TROUBLE — But The Guardian predicted Diefenbaker would soon become aware that the free trade area proposals would be a double-edged sword that increases within the Commonwealth.

It also predicted Diefenbaker would run into trouble at home because "his party made no easy promises—as one easily does when not expecting to win" an election.

The London Daily Telegraph said that Britain's insistence on the exclusion of agricultural products from any free trade plan was proof "that we have the Commonwealth very much in mind."

Yet, The Telegraph said, it was hard to see how Britain can sacrifice European cooperation "for the sake of preferences which are themselves diminishing in value."

Lord Beaverbrook's Empire minded Daily Express said the conference missed a chance to make a clear decision on expansion of "Empire trade."

Keep Guest Room Neat

By ALICIA HART
(NEA Beauty Editor)

THE temptation in many households to regard the guest room as a combination store-room, family den and/or haven for castoff furniture is strong.

A lamp doesn't work? It doesn't get repaired, either. It still looks all right so into the guest room it goes. The closet is equipped with clothes not in use at the moment. Reading material? Lots of magazines that a dentist would sneer at.

If this in any way resembles the guest room in your house, it's time to spruce up a bit. A neat, clean room with comfortable bed, plenty of hangers, lamps that work, fresh linens and blankets, is essential.

To this, add the thoughtful touches that mark you as a good hostess. These should include fresh flowers, some new and interesting books, and a wellstocked dressing table. The things on the dressing table can be inexpensive small sizes but they should be there.

Include a new toothbrush, tooth paste, emery board and cleansing tissue. Those little quilted cotton squares that are handy for removing make-up and applying it, too, can go into a glass apothecary jar from the five-and-ten-cent store.

In short, your guest should feel most welcome in your home during her stay.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

IF your hostess has a maid who might possibly be within hearing distance, don't start talking on the "servant problem." Such a conversation is likely to be resented by the maid.

And then your hostess really will have a servant problem.

Ontario's Woman Radiographer

TORONTO. — (CP) — More women are climbing to executive posts in Canadian business these days, but as an industrial radiographer Gwen Barnes is unique in Ontario. There's only one other woman doing this work, and she's in Montreal.

Gwen who came from a Derbyshire village in England, is the only woman among 70 members of the Society for Non-Destructive Testing here. No stranger to a laboratory, she works for a large electrical company and totes around an iridium isotope bomb.

In England her daily routine included analysis, statistics and industrial testing. She came to Canada with her husband John, an electrician, in 1951.

EXPERT IN FIELD

Not content with doing housework only, she went to work as a darkroom technician. Her judgment of finished X-ray and gamma ray plates impressed her colleagues. A recognized, government approved industrial radiographer since 1954, Gwen attributes her success to "the helping hand of Bill Havercroft," an inspector of industrial radiographers whose headquarters is at Ottawa.

Mrs. Barnes tests various materials from lightweight aluminum aircraft parts and castings to small but heavy plastic-encased transformers.

In the course of her duties 26-year-old Gwen has pursued some work with fluoroscopic and electronic testing apparatus.

"One of the most interesting parts of my work," she says, "is doing estimates on work under construction."

MOE'S RIVER —

Lundeborg of the "Good Cheer." It was decided that a lamp be donated to the "Christian Home" at Huntingville. At the close of the meeting, two contests were held, with prizes going to the winners. A salad tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Wade.

Marriages

LAROCQUE — TICEHURST
DERBY LINE, Vt. — The marriage of Faith Carol, twin daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie E. Ticehurst, of Tomifobia, to Mr. J. P. Charles LaRocque, of Mont Joli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert LaRocque, of Saint John, N. B., took place at ten o'clock on Saturday, June 29th, at St. Edward's Church, Derby Line, Vermont. Rev. Father Armand Fortin, Parish Priest, was celebrant of the Nuptial Mass, and officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The wedding music was played by Miss Bernadette Fortin, with Miss Rita Moss, as soloist, in the rendition of "Ave Maria" and "O Lord Most Holy." American Beauty roses and white snapdragons were used to decorate the altar, with baskets of white Shasta daisies used in the Sanctuary. White satin ribbon-bows marked the family pews.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was in a waltz-length gown of white rose point lace, designed with a cascade skirt of lace over net and bridal satin, the sleeveless bodice was topped with a cocktail jacket of lace finished with a Peter Pan collar and lily point sleeves. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a cap of small white blossoms centered with rhinestones, and she carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white snapdragons. Her only ornament was a pair of pearl earrings.

Miss Fay Ticehurst, as maid of honor for her twin sister, in forget-me-not blue, and Miss Anita LaRocque, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, in orchid, wore nylon chiffon gowns over net and taffeta, of identical styling, with full skirt and shirred bodice finished with a draped neckline, trailing from a V in the back. They had chapel-length veils held in place by a bandeau of toning rose buds, and carried nosegays of toning carnations.

Miss Sharon Ticehurst, as flower girl for her sister, was dressed in a shrimp pink nylon frock embellished with white flowers, styled similar to that of the bride and worn over a crinoline, with a bandeau of pink rose buds and forget-me-nots in her hair.

Engagements

Mr. and Mrs. William John Northey announce the engagement of their daughter, Joanna Rose, to Mr. Charles Franklin Smith, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franklin Smith. The marriage has been arranged to take place on Saturday, August 17 at nine o'clock, in the chapel of St. Michael's Cathedral.

Homemaking

Dusting in nooks and crannies is a task only for double-jointed persons. However, there is a pliable duster with flexible wire frame. It goes around curves to dust in the crevices. The duster itself is of washable nylon yarn for easy cleaning.

Little girls like to play house. For a few hours' peace mother can provide a child with a small size laundry set. The youngster will keep busy with her wash tub and suds, scrub board, ironing board and play iron.

It's screen time. And small hands will be trying to pry open screens and screen doors just as they tried windows and regular doors. Open windows should have firmly set guards, and screens should be fastened so tots can't push them open and fall out.

Summer is time to putter around, either on the golf course or at home. Maybe you want to match table tops to rubber flooring patterns. The trick of repeating the tile pattern in the table top is one of illusion. It gives a low-ceilinged room the illusion of greater height by holding the eyes to the floor.

WASHINGTON. — (NEA) — Women in other parts of the world are now discovering what Canadian women have known for a long time: that emancipation of the female also brings with it a lot more work and responsibility for the female.

And nobody has a more realistic appreciation of this than Lulu Bilquis Banu, a recent official visitor from Pakistan. She has been called the hardest-working woman in Pakistan.

Mrs. Banu is one of the first women to take full advantage of the new freedoms which women in Pakistan and other Far Eastern countries have been getting since the war. She won several degrees in education in England and returned to her country where she is now assistant headmistress of the Vignarissa School in Dacca, which prepares its students for entrance to Cambridge University, England.

NORMALLY THIS WOULD be a full-time job for a woman. But not for Mrs. Banu, who also has a two-year-old daughter, by the way.

She is active in the Girl Scouts and a nosegay of multicolored snapdragons.

Mr. Raoul Roy, of Quebec, was best man for the groom, with Mr. Joseph Michon, as sidesman. The ushers were Erwin Taylor and William Dustin, Jr., cousins of the bride.

Mrs. Ticehurst, mother of the bride chose a jacket frock of Dresden blue silk tulle, with which she wore a navy blue satin hat, navy accessories and a corsage of red roses.

The groom's mother, Mrs. LaRocque, was in an ensemble of silk crepe, the eggshell frock printed with brown, over which she wore a matching duster, with a white lace straw hat and accessories and a red rose corsage.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Tomifobia, which was decorated with early summer flowers. Ninety relatives and close friends of the bride and groom attended the luncheon served at tables effective with white linen and lace covers and floral decorations. The bride's table was centered with a four-tier wedding cake made by Miss Ruth Wing, aunt of the bride, and decorated in white and silver and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Red tea roses, and white tapers in crystal holders completed the arrangement.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. LaRocque left by motor for their wedding trip to Old Orchard Beach, Me., Prince Edward Island, and Saint John, N. B., where they will visit at the groom's parental home before going to reside at Mont Joli. For travelling, the bride wore a Leonard's d'Italia model suit, pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Guests attended from Saint John, N.B., Seven Islands, Montclair, Chatham, N.Y., Ayer's Cliff, Massawippi, Beebe, Rock Island, Stanstead, Tomifobia and Derby Line, Vt.

Beauty Tips

Final steps to a facial mask are just as important as the mask itself. To wash off the mask, use hot water and a washcloth. A creaming follows this. The final step is to apply a skin lotion or freshener. For a half hour's work, your face will be tingling pleasantly.

Rough spots on hands or elbows can be whisked away in short order. As part of the washing routine use a pumice stone once a day. Elbows especially are culprits that often become rough and grimy. A good trick is to check them weekly in the mirror as an added precaution.

Fashion

If summer finds you city-bound, be sure to wear stockings. Stockings along with city clothes and further, they protect your feet from the dirt and dust of city pavements.

Your bathing suit should be sudsed out promptly after each wearing. The sun and salt water are hard on it and so is perspiration. Follow the manufacturer's directions. But in any case, use warm water, mild soap suds and gentle handling. Roll it in a terry towel briefly before you hang it on a smooth hanger to dry.

If your summer handbag is one of those transparent ones, make sure that what you carry about in it is pretty to see. Women who stuff such handbags full of grubby handkerchiefs are defeating the very purpose of the handbag.

Medical Service Annual Meeting Held At Sutton

SUTTON — The eighth annual meeting of the Brome County Co-operative Medical Service was held in the Sutton High School with Murray Mason, of Fordyce, presiding. Mr. Mason announced that the guest speaker, Dr. Robert O'Donoghue, of Cowansville, was unable to attend as a death had occurred in his family that day.

The minutes were read by Mrs. Gordon Shufelt, after which Mr. Shufelt gave a detailed account of the year's finances, showing an appreciable balance on hand which was subsequently voted into the regular fund.

In the president's report, it was noted that a successful year had been enjoyed. The membership now stands at 188, including 14 new members during the past year. Twelve meetings have been held by the directors, with the members of the Board of Supervision sitting in on the meetings.

The Board has considered the possibility of adding a Surgical Insurance Plan, "but with the present membership it was felt that the risk is too great," said Mr. Mason. The advisability of hospitalizing for diagnosis only, has been considered, but it is doubtful if the majority of the members would be willing to pay the higher rates which would be necessary. The Board would welcome suggestions from members, or member groups, on how to improve the service. In concluding

Guessing Game In National Is Over For A Few Days With Cards On Top

Buffalo Retains Slim Lead In IL; "Old Satch" Still Rolling Despite His Age; Royals Split with Leafs

In Buffalo, the folks are talking about the Bisons' big rush to the top of the International League standings—but in Miami they're still celebrating ol' Satchel Paige's birthday.

The old pitching master, who may have been Abner Doubleday's opening day pitcher, celebrated his 51st birthday Sunday, with a brilliant relief stint as Miami edged Columbus Jets 4-3 in the opener of a doubleheader. The Jets came back to win the seven-inning nightcap 3-1.

Buffalo, which took over possession of first place from Toronto to Saturday, maintained its half-game lead as the teams split twinbills.

Buffalo came back after losing the opener 6-3 to shut out Rochester 6-0 in the nightcap. Toronto edged Montreal Royals 5-4 in 10 innings of the opener before dropping the second 6-2. In another split, Miguel Cuellar picked up his fifth victory without a defeat while leading Havana Sugar Kings to a 9-1 triumph over Richmond Virginians. Richmond had won the opener 4-3.

Old Satch stroled to the mound to relieve Miami starter Dick Bunker with two out, the bases loaded, and a run across for Columbus in the fifth inning. He struck out pinchhitter Ken Toothman and coasted the remaining distance.

The Marlins got all their runs on homers off Jet starter Ron Blackburn. Bob Micelotta blasted a two-run homer in the second and Whitey Herzog and Frank Herrera hit solos in the fifth. Powers' second two-run homer of the day in the first inning and Russ Sullivan's solo effort were all the Jets needed in the nightcap. George O'Donnell went the distance for Columbus.

Luke Easter's 26th home run, a grand slam in the third inning, climaxed a six-run frame for the Bisons in the nightcap. Rochester's pitcher-manager Cot Deal went down to his first defeat in six decisions. Ray Herbert went the route for Buffalo to pick up his seventh victory against five losses. Reliever Bill Greason's pinch homer in the seventh tied the score 3-3 and Gene Green's three-run blast in the same inning provided Rochester starter Dick Ricketts with his seventh victory against three defeats in the opener.

Harry Schwegman, driving in five runs on two home runs and a single, carried Montreal to its second-game victory. Schwegman also had three doubles and a single in the opener. Humberto Robinson served in both games, but only lasted 1-2-3 innings in the opener, giving up all four Montreal runs on seven hits. Jack Crimian got credit for the victory over Glen McMinn. Jim Pearce suffered the second-game loss, his fifth against nine victories.

Havana backed up Cuellar's five-hit performance in the nightcap with a 14-hit assault on Jim Post and Wimpy Nardella. Jim Coates came on in the ninth inning of the opener to preserve Marty Kutyna's sixth victory in eight decisions. Gordie Windhorn and Harry Chiti homered for the Vees.

Casey Stengel Adds Six Of His Own Yanks To All-Star Squad; National Installed 6-To-5 To Win Fixture

ST. LOUIS—(P)—Casey Stengel may pin his hopes on his own New York Yankees as he seeks to end his mid-summer jinx here Tuesday when the best of the American and National Leagues clash in the silver anniversary of the all-star game.

The grizzled Yankees pilot selected six members of his own team to the squad to go along with the two Yankee starters picked by the fans. Casey has a profound respect for the power of the National League, which has defeated Stengel-led teams five times in six games.

The odds-makers apparently have the same respect for the senior circuit slugger. They've established them a 6-to-5 favorite to capture their seventh in the eight All-Star games. The American League leads 13-0 in overall games.

Diane Matheson Of Montreal Sets Canadian Record For 220-Yards At Toronto Meet; Three Others Set

Toronto—(P)—Pretty Diane Matheson of Montreal, one of Canada's top women athletes, is wondering whether she will finally receive official recognition for her record-breaking performances in the Canadian women's 220-yard sprint.

Saturday in the Canadian relay championships at Varsity Stadium, the 20-year-old member of Canada's 1956 Olympic team covered the distance in 24.9 to beat the previous mark of 25.2 set by Geraldine Bennister of Vancouver in 1951.

The judge's announcement that the time was the fourth Canadian record of the day took Miss Matheson by surprise because in other meets she has done much better.

Four Canadian track records were broken and nine relay championships were decided during the meet, held in fine weather with only a slight breeze.

A Toronto Olympic Club quartet opened the record breaking by winning the four-mile relay in 18:3.4, easily bettering the former standard of 18:12, set in 1955

by the Vancouver Olympic Club.

Four speedsters representing the University of Chicago Track Club combined their efforts in the sprint medley relay for a Canadian open record of 3:29.3. The former mark was 3:32.4 set in 1949 by the University of Western Ontario.

The fourth record went to Downtown YMCA of Buffalo, N.Y., which won the two-mile relay in 7:45.9 erasing the mark of 8:00.2 set in 1928 by Hamilton Olympic Club.

Maurice Allard of the Sherbrooke County Club emerged the winner in the annual competition for the Joe Colby Memorial Trophy Saturday afternoon when he toured the 18-hole layout in 93 less his 29 handicap for a 64 net.

One hundred and twenty-three players took part in the tournament which is a net competition. Allard had the low net of the field winning the trophy while in Class "A" John Turnbull of Lennoxville had a 77-3-69 while Russ Marois of the Country Club registered 81-10-71 and Armand Dussault also of the Country Club, had 81-9-72.

In the gross section of the low class John Lindell of Asbestos Golf Club posted a 77 while Tony Turmel, Country Club, was next with 78 and Marcel Fortier of the Lennoxville Club followed with 79.

The honors in Class "B" were topped by members of the Country Club with Paul Cordeau with 84-13-71 while Raoul Boisvert had 86-15-71 and Alex Allard with 86-14-72. In the gross section Gordon Glass, Country Club, and Pete Dauncey, Lennoxville, both had 84's while Russell Reid of East Angus copped the third prize with 87.

Jean-Paul Champagne of the Country Club copped the net honors in Class "C" when he completed the 18-holes in 89 less his 22 handicap for a net 67 for the second lowest of the field. C. Clark of Windsor was next with 102-31-71 stalemated WINS THREE MILE RACE — C. Goodfellow, of the Sherbrooke "Y", wins the three mile race in record time. He ran the difficult course from the No. 1 Fire Station to Jacques Cartier Park in 15 minutes and 16 seconds, cutting 14 seconds off last year's record held by Leo Goupil. The race was part of the Firemen's Festival held yesterday.

Moore Has Week To Sign For Bout

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (P)—The four contenders include Yvon Durelle of Baie Ste. Anne, N. B.

The NBA suspended Moore last month.

Moore has signed for a defence of his title by "one week from tonight we definitely will strip him of the light-heavyweight championship."

Stevens also said the NBA "might at any hour" after midnight tonight declare the championship vacant and order the title "put up for grabs in a four-way elimination tournament."

Although Wallace was recently shorn of his British Empire light-heavyweight crown by the British board of boxing control, the match is to be billed for the British Empire championship, Sheppard said.

Jacques Anquetil Wins Ninth Leg On Tour de France

THONON-LES-BAINS, France (P)—Jacques Anquetil of France won Friday's 118-mile ninth leg of the Tour de France bicycle race from Besancon as nine straight days of torrid temperatures continued to cut the field.

Jean Forestier of the French national team kept the yellow jersey of overall leadership.

Don Stewart Turns Down Als' Offer

KINGSTON, Ont. — (P) — Don Stewart, Canada's most brilliant professional football prospect in a decade or more, has turned thumbs down on a career with the Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four.

The Queen's University backfield ace, who had balked at signing with the Eastern Canada champions because of a desire to attend law school, Thursday revealed he had telephoned president Leo Dandurand of the Als, turning down the Big Four contract. He was on the Alouette draft list.

Stewart had been negotiating with the Alouettes since the season ended last year, but in his own words "it was to try and have my services traded to the Toronto Argonauts."

The 175-pound halfback had originally wanted to attend Osgoode Hall and catch a spot with the Toronto pro club.

Stewart said: "I will return to Queen's if I am accepted by the law school here."

Patterson Is Training For 15-Round Battle

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y. — (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson insists he is training for a 15-round fight and will be "ready for anything" when he takes on his first defence, July 29 against Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson at the Polo Grounds in New York.

"It would be nice if I could finish him off," he said at his training camp. "But I'm not predicting any fast finish. I'm training for a 15-round fight. I've seen too many fellows try for easy knockouts, get all tired out and lose. I don't want to lose. I want to win. That's the main thing."

"I've got to be ready for almost any style of fighting. Nobody knows what Jackson's going to do at any time. I've got to be prepared."

Patterson knows plenty about Jackson because he beat him last year on a split decision.

Patterson has boxed 63 rounds to date in preparation for the Jackson match.

Lead By 2½ Games As New Hand Is Shuffled; Yanks Hold Same Over White Sox; All-Star Tilt Tomorrow

You can skip the "who's on first" guessing game in the National League for most of this week anyway. It's St. Louis Cardinals by 2½ games as the majors head into the all-star game break with no pennant action scheduled until Wednesday night.

Judging by the Cards' five-game winning streak, they may be in first place a lot longer than that. Meanwhile, the champion Brooklyn Dodgers whirled out of the first division in a dizzying reshuffle of the standings from second to fifth place.

The Cards belted Cincinnati Redlegs twice Sunday, 3-2 and 9-6. Philadelphia blasted Brooklyn 2-1 and 5-3 and Milwaukee whipped Chicago 4-2. This sent the Redlegs from second to fourth, the Braves from third to second, the Phils from fifth to third, and Brooklyn from fourth to fifth.

Pittsburgh even got into the act. The Pirates, with Frank Thomas and Dick Groat on a homer binge, whaled New York Giants 10-6 and 8-1 and moved out of the cellar. The Cubs dropped in.

In the American League, New York Yankees also held a 2½-game edge over Chicago White Sox in the two-team race. The Yanks whipped Washington 7-5 but lost half a game to the White Sox who bounced Cleveland twice, 9-8 in 13 innings, and 7-2. Baltimore beat Boston 8-4 on Bob Nieman's four runs batted in and Detroit doubled Kansas City 5-2 with Al Kaline and Charley Maxwell driving in all five runs.

Saturday, the Cards walloped Cincinnati 13-3, Chicago edged Milwaukee 3-2, Philadelphia trounced Brooklyn 9-4 and Pittsburgh defeated New York 3-2. In the American it was New York over Washington 10-6, Chicago 5-1 over Cleveland, Boston 11-2 over Baltimore and Kansas City 3- over Detroit.

The Cards' two wins Sunday gave them a sweep of the four-game set with Cincinnati. A St. Louis crowd of 30,566 cheered as young Joe Cunningham kept the Cards blazing with six hits—three in each game—to boost his average to .391. The 25-year-old outfielder hammered home all three runs in the opener, the first two with a homer, and the winner with a single in the 10th.

Cunningham got plenty of help from Wally Moon and Bobby Gene Smith in the second game. Wally whacked a double and a homer, and B.G. sent home four runs with a single, triple and homer.

Milwaukee drew 33,616 customers to become the first club in the majors to hit the million mark in attendance. This is becoming a Milwaukee tradition. The Braves have drawn 1,008,980. The big crowd in County Stadium went home happy as Lew Burdette spun a six-hitter for his first victory since May 18. Wes Covington and Frank Torre climaxed a three-run first inning with successive triples.

A crowd of 16,805 in Brooklyn didn't have much to cheer about as the Phils took their

Ford Frick To Be Re-Elected For New Term

NEW YORK (P)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick is expected to be re-elected for another seven-year term at the joint meeting of the major leagues to be held Tuesday at St. Louis.

Frick's first term does not expire until Sept. 21, 1958 but, under baseball law, the leagues must give notice of their intentions a maximum of 18 months or a minimum of 12 months before expiration. The commissioner's salary is $65,000 per year.

Frick was elected in 1951. Both the American and National leagues will meet briefly Monday morning before the joint meeting.

Frick will meet with the presidents of the five higher minor leagues Wednesday to consider changes in the baseball map that might lead eventually to a third major league.

League presidents to meet with the commissioner are Leslie O'Connor of the Pacific Coast, Frank Shaugnessy of the International, Ed Doherty of the American Association, Dick Butler of the Texas League and Charley Hurth of the Southern Association.
