NEAR TRAGEDY — A truck, carrying a hot load of asphalt, crossed two front lawns and crashed into a ten foot embankment near the intersection of Belvedere and Lorne Streets, at noon yesterday. Several young children had just passed the corner when the mishap occurred. The truck, owned by H. Nadeau of Sherbrooke, swerved through a hedge and ran over a small tree before it crashed. Jumping clear at the last moment, the driver escaped injury.

South block opens

Regional grade 11's start on Monday

LENNOXVILLE — (RST) — The director-general of the Alexander Galt Regional School, J. Edward Perry announced yesterday that the Grade 11 students will begin classes next Monday.

The school authorities officially took over the completed south block of the building yesterday at 1:00 p.m. They will begin putting in school furniture and equipment tomorrow and the block will be operational by Monday.

At the same time Mr. Perry announced that the North block would be completed and under the control of the school board by next Tuesday. He said that by this schedule the Grade 10 students would begin classes on Sept. 29.

Earlier in the month there was doubt that the school would be operational for any students before the first of November. The contract superintendent, Paul Jalbert, attributed the delay to a lack of available labourers.

In the last week a new plan was implemented to speed up the completion of the south block. The area was closed off from the rest of the construction. A special work crew was assigned to it. The unit worked to put the finishing touches on as well as clean up the building.

The same procedure will be implemented to insure a speedy completion of the north block. The library and cafeteria areas are being rushed as much as is possible. The auditorium and gymnasium will be the last sections to be finished.

In the meantime teachers have been meeting regularly in order to be fully prepared to begin classes as soon as the school is completed. At the present time they are working on a book distribution program at St. Pat's School in Sherbrooke.

Students will be bussed to the school during the next weeks and will be able to receive their books and course study outlines. This will enable the students who will be unable to start school immediately to get a start on their academic work.

The distribution program will begin tomorrow with the Grade 11 students.

Lennoxville and Waterville students will pick up their books at St. Pat's on Wednesday. They have been instructed to take their regular buses and to bring lunches. They will spend the day picking up their books and meeting the teachers and house principals.

Sherbrooke, Rock Forest and Bromptonville are to report directly to St. Pat's School on Thursday at 9:30 a.m.

Compton and Stanstead County groups are to take their regular busses on Friday, for similar session.

Arrangements are now being made for a similar program for Grades 8, 9 and 10 students. The schedules will be announced when they are completed.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE — Time hasn't changed romance very much for Gretchen still has to hold Hans.

Housing project start awaited

COWANSVILLE — (RF) — Sixty-four low rent housing units are slated for construction here as soon as the Laval company planning the project receives a go-ahead from the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

Chateaufort Boise Inc. will build the four sixteen unit apartments under a government plan that offers corporations low interest C.M.H.C. loans for minimal profit undertakings. Ottawa hopes in this manner to stimulate the construction of middle income housing.

The apartments will be located on a presently non-existent street running from Grand Boulevard South to Bellevue, opposite the Tupperware factory.

Future residents will be within walking distance of the Bedford Regional High School and near the industrial area.

In return for the low interest loans Chateaufort Boise Inc. cannot realize more than a five per cent profit on their investment nor sell before 15 years.

The four and one half to five room units will be within the price range of 60 per cent of the population. Aiming for families in the $5,000 to $6,000 income bracket rents will run between $90 and $110 monthly.

The Laval company is reported to have obtained a C.M.H.C. loan of several hundred thousand dollars to finance the project.

Nearly 15 percent of the Cowansville work force, about 600 persons, are forced to live outside the city because of a lack of suitable housing.

Domtar here to stay

MONTREAL (CP) — A spokesman for Domtar Ltd. said Tuesday the giant pulp and paper company has no plans to move out of Montreal or the province.

The statement was a reply to a speech by President Louis Hebert of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, who cited Domtar and Du Pont of Canada Ltd. as examples of big businesses likely to abandon Quebec if the French-English conflict worsened.

Monday, a Du Pont spokesman said the chemical firm has made no decision to move out of Montreal and is not even considering such a move.

The Domtar spokesman said any suggestion of the company moving its head office from Montreal, or any of its affiliates from the province, would be "entirely without foundation."

Domtar has about 19,000 employees throughout Canada, nearly half of them in Quebec.

Mr. Hebert made his speech Sunday in Alma, Que., a town in the Lac St. Jean region 140 miles north of Quebec City.

Claude Lorange, public relations director of the Banque Canadienne Nationale, said the bank's president wanted to convey a warning that Quebec is heading for serious economic trouble if people in the province continue to demand the complete conversion of the head office operations into French.

Despite withdrawal

Vietnam war is still on

SAIGON (CP) — Fighting continued across South Vietnam's battlefields Tuesday as President Nixon announced in Washington that United States troops would be withdrawn from the war.

Coupled with this summer's pullout of 25,000 men, the reduction will leave 473,000 U.S. troops in the war zone.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu called the latest announced withdrawal "a measure of the progress in the strengthening of the army of the Republic of Vietnam."

Premier Tran Thien Khiem in a speech over radio and television, said that security in the countryside was being bolstered with more than 900,000 regular South Vietnamese troops, 90,000 national field police by the end of the year and 1,800,000 civilians taking part in self-defence activities to protect their villages and hamlets.

Units of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division are regarded as most difficult to replace. The marines hold the western two-thirds of the so-called demilitarized zone and any significant withdrawal likely would leave the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division hard-pressed to cover that vast and critical area.

In the ground action Tuesday, infantry killed 21 North Vietnamese soldiers in an hour-long battle 25 miles northwest of Saigon.

In the north, 200 North Vietnamese attacked and burned a small village southwest of Da Nang, killing 24 persons, 21 of them civilians.

Walls coming down

BELFAST (AP) — The barricades began falling Tuesday in "Free Belfast," but British troops sent in to help with the work found stout opposition on some streets in the Roman Catholic Falls Road district of the Northern Ireland capital.

The army, which has had control of all internal security since last month's Protestant-Catholic riots, moved more than 1,500 troops into the area with bulldozers and other heavy equipment intending to clear the roads.

The troops were supported by the Roman Catholic bishop of Down and Connor, Most Rev. William Philbin, who toured the area telling residents: "These barricades must come down."

Women started shifting away the piles of rocks. The army dismantled one of the more elaborate steel barricades, but within three hours the work stopped. Some barricades were rebuilt and late Tuesday night a meeting between the area's Citizens' Defence Committee and the army produced a new scheme for phased withdrawal by Friday noon.

The plan may run into snags. Its final acceptance depends on another meeting tonight at which the defence committee will examine army plans for protection against snipers. It also could be compromised by any new eruption of violence.

STREET CLEARED

The first breach was made by men and women living close to barricades on a small street bordering the Falls Road. Militants tried to make them change their minds, but they began to tear down the piles of paving stones, and by mid-afternoon at least six streets had been cleared.

At one rampart, a weeping priest pleaded with a reluctant crowd to remove the barricades.

The British Army sealed the entire area and moved in 1,500 troops to help with the work and to "provide massive protection" for the Catholic population.

However, heated debates went on inside some barricades, and it appeared the military might encounter serious opposition in clearing streets held by militants.

STAGE SIT-DOWN

At one barricade about 20 women staged a sit-down to prevent the army from dismantling their stronghold, and the troops moved on to another.

Belfast's Catholic minority threw up the barricades during last month's Catholic-Protestant clashes. The Protestants also built barriers but removed them voluntarily after the army strung a barbed wire "peace line" between the two communities.

Lt.-Gen. Sir Ian Freeland, commander of the 7,500 British troops in Northern Ireland, met Monday with British Prime Minister Wilson and Home Secretary James Callaghan and returned from London Tuesday with orders to take down the barricades.

In Londonderry, leaders of the barricaded Bogside area announced they would build their ramparts higher to protest the British government's insistence that they be removed.

Your Horoscope

FOR THURSDAY, SEPT. 18, 1969

Your birthday today: Your basic trend now is toward discovery and the development of your own special way of life—perhaps learning to do everything for yourself without help. If you are to keep and deepen emotional ties, you must make definite consistent efforts. No relationship in the coming year can be taken for granted. Today's natives nearly always manage to drift into a life of service, generally on a group or public scale.

ARIES (March 2-April 19): Be alert today. Consult with financial, credit people; and other specialists. Do not let a missed connection put you off—find some way to reach your party.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Advice comes easily and should be just as easily filed away rather than used early. Your spending ought to be restricted to necessity. Machinery tends to malfunction and must be used only with great care.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your share of the peace today consists of being aware that you may be overly critical; make allowances for others. Take time to think over your recent progress as you retire for the night.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Wear new clothing and go after a better spot in your career. Do something for your friends in the process. It's a very lucky day, according to your performance.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): There is more respect and help from important fellow workers, local connections. Save money on some new device in housekeeping. Pursue romantic interests this evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Intensely personal strivings begin now, and will continue for many months. Changes are not to be forced at this time. Plan for travel if you have reason to go. Make it business if it is at all possible.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The morning opens with pleasant surprises from neighbors and associates. Read technical bulletins carefully, as there is something of special interest to you today. Take your best friend with you visiting.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): This is one of those difficult days; you are ready for action, but nobody else has his mind made up or else is determined to disagree. Be patient until things turn around to favor you more. Harsh words spoil everything.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Your intuition is going strong as you awaken. Follow it, whatever it says. Loose ends are easily tied up on the way toward new ventures, but don't waste time along the way.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your plans should not be announced—do whatever you planned, and let people react to your arrival. Chance meetings provide clues. Things done today pay out in about a month's time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The schemes of friends are great for others to invest in—while you stay clear altogether. Influential people are quite likely to be busy elsewhere if you are expecting anything of them.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Give your associates just a little encouragement and they are apt to open up somewhat and tell you more of their story. Correspondence is strongly favored. Plan a quiet evening.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Many Body Functions Controlled by Hormones

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Many of the body's functions are controlled by chemical rather than nervous signals. The former are hormones, a term that means rousing or setting in motion. Although we usually think of them as coming from the glands of internal secretion (secreting directly into your blood stream), recent studies have shown that they may also arise from such nonglandular tissues as bone marrow and brain.

Some tissues produce, not a single hormone, but two or more. Although each of the hormones has its own special field of activity, they do not act independently but more nearly like a well-tuned orchestra. When one gland plays slightly off-key (secretes too much or too little of a given hormone), a person suffers from a hormonal imbalance. This term is applied most often to the masculinizing effect on a woman of too much male hormone or the feminizing effect on a man of too much female hormone. We all normally carry a delicate balance of both kinds.

A reader has asked whether removal of her uterus would correct a hormonal imbalance but she failed to say whether she had too much or too little of which hormone. Since the so-called sex hormones are produced by the pituitary, the gonads and, to a lesser degree, the adrenals and the pineal, removal of her uterus would not correct her imbalance, but carefully controlled injections of a deficient hormone might.

One amazing property of hormones is their ability to perform their function in minute doses. It is estimated, for example, that in the lifetime of a woman her ovaries produce less than a teaspoonful of estrogen. The two adrenals together weigh about half an ounce yet the functions regulated by their two hormones are essential to life.

A—Acetaminophen, sold under several trade names, requires no prescription. Darvon is a popular pain killer but it does require one.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

There are differences between the expert and the average player. One is that the expert has put in many hours studying the game so he will bid better. Another is that the average player is apt to be too conservative at times and too optimistic at others. Experts go wrong here also, but the expert is either an incurable optimist or an incurable pessimist. He doesn't overbid one hand and underbid the next.

The most important single difference is that the expert makes the best percentage play on all occasions. The ordinary player doesn't worry about possible bad breaks and blames it on bad luck when things go wrong.

Today's hand is an example of how an expert takes precautions. South is very happy with his four-heart contract. West opens the king of spades and continues with the ace and seven. South ruffs the third spade and is ready to attack trumps.

The ordinary player will just lead one of his honors. East will take his singleton ace and undoubtedly will lead a fourth round of spades.

South will have to ruff high and this will establish the nine of trumps as the setting trick. South has been unlucky. There is no reason for the singleton ace of trumps to be in the East hand but the expert would not have been unlucky.

He would have played a diamond to the ace after ruffing the heart and then led a trump from dummy. Most of the time he would make the same 10 tricks anyone else would. This time he also makes 10, whereas the other player has made only nine.

Quebec
Knows How

Once upon a time, in a great Québec city, there lived a conservative zebra who never wore anything but the black and white striped suit Nature gives all zebras. Deep in his heart he yearned for brilliant colours and exciting patterns, but he could not bring himself to shatter the classic zebra image and he grew more and more unhappy. "How silly!" cried his wife when at last she understood the zebra's increasing moodiness. She bought a yellow flowered bathrobe made in Québec City, red tartan shirts made in Chicoutimi and a pair of bright blue polka dot pajamas made in Montréal. For the first time in a long time the zebra smiled. His wife, seeing him in the pajamas wisely hid her smile and they lived happily ever after.

GOUVERNEMENT DU QUÉBEC

SKI-EAST — Mount Sutton is growing, says Real Boulanger, pointing out where three ski trails will be built, and a 2000 or T

Bar. At the left, not indicated, four new trails, making Sutton the best in the East.

Year round attraction

Sutton hoping to be Quebec paradise

SUTTON — Once an agricultural center, now a "paradise within Quebec", Sutton is considering its future as a tourist center, with the development of Mount Sutton.

Bordering the United States, and 10 miles from Cowansville, it is invaded by thousands of Montrealeers with its "SKI-East" symbol, with a late summer rush indicating a full house for this winter. Reservations and season tickets nearly sold out.

"Interesting," says Real Boulanger, vice-president and manager of Mount Sutton Inc., also executive officer of Sutton Milk Products.

"But this is a beginning," added Mr. Boulanger, who is now concerned with turning Sutton into an all season attraction center, with plans for additional accommodations and more ski trails.

Neglected by politicians and unknown to the government on maps with designated zones, Mr. Boulanger is that much more determined to turn the region into a profitable area.

Inaccessible to heavy industry because of mountainous terrain and poor road conditions, Sutton is content with small industries, where handicraft, electronics, and gift shops are able to make money. The wood industry is by far the most important.

Even here, there is a labor problem, with qualified personnel keeping to Montreal, fearing to become lost in Sutton and its isolation. In the past, local farm resources supplied the manpower. The quest for the big city has eliminated this.

Mr. Boulanger notes that union demands for equal wages is keeping important wood industries in Montreal.

Brome is essentially an agricultural region, where it was once recognized throughout the province for the quality of its products and breeders.

Farm mechanization and heavy mountains left many farms abandoned, where machines failed and human strength prevailed. Farm centralization has become the solution for the future.

"Because of this phenomenon," says Real Boulanger, "Sutton Milk Products will disappear."

"To demonstrate," he continued, "let's consider the Granby Cooperative, which in 1953 had only one milk plant, and today operate six." Other milk companies are doing the same, he said, since the centralization of milk services is a matter of time.

Conscious of the trend, the Boulanger brothers slowly started concentrating on the development of Mount Sutton, where a number of cottages and motels are planned for next year to keep the tourist wheel turning.

As for the coming winter season, the brothers said the ski-shop at Mount Sutton, operated by Jean Lessard, will be the biggest in the country.

Employee dismissal an isolated incident

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — "Could it be because the city has not dismissed a great number of employees in the past years that heavy machinery workers at the Municipal Roads Department are contesting the recent dismissal of a machinery superintendent," asked Ald. Marc Bureau yesterday also president of that commission in reply to criticism by civic workers.

"Public Works employees are obviously confused by rumors that other dismissals might occur in the parks department as well as in public works."

Mr. Bureau specified that city hall had no personal grudge against any of the departments in which it is employing a great number of men.

"As for the dismissal of the heavy machinery superintendent," he said, "we think we did the right thing and committed no prejudice."

As an elected custodian of city affairs, the alderman said, "I think it is our duty not to tolerate persons deemed incompetent in the fulfillment of their duties."

Referring to an open letter from the dissenting municipal employees on charges of general incompetence, Mr. Bureau commented that in general, "our staff is most competent."

He continued that not too many firms would agree to sending certain machinery operators out of town, at no expense, to attend special training courses.

Two other Public Works Commission members, Alderman Romeo Quintal and Antonio Pinard voiced their support in the dismissal issue, with Mr. Quintal pointing out that council had acted upon serious recommendations before enacting its decision.

As for Mr. Pinard, he stressed a previous argument, and asked "to find me a firm that would send its employees to special training sessions, when they could be hired fully trained."

Wagner explains dissent

MONTREAL (CP) — assembly for Montreal Claude Wagner, probable contender for the leadership of the Quebec Liberal Party, said Tuesday it would be "naive and dangerous" to believe that dissent in Quebec is merely a reflection of world-wide unrest.

The member of the national ourselves isolated in the midst of a world which, long ago, had given up or altered the values we still adhered to.

"Herein lies the deep root of dissent... dissent is first of all the manifestation of a real crisis in the re-appraisal of our values... it also passes a harsh judgment upon the failure of our past leadership."

While dissent is the only guarantee against a perpetuation of obsolete ideas, it is also only permissible to the extent that it is willing to be challenged, Mr. Wagner said.

Global dissent is dangerous because "men, trained in the techniques of anarchy, infiltrate many movements of dissent. ...This is where one can find the source of violence—it stems from the work of agitators rather than from passionate convictions."

Stanstead School Fair a success

AYER'S CLIFF — The 53rd annual Stanstead County School Fair took place at the Ayer's Cliff Fair grounds on Saturday, September 13. The weatherman was kind so that exhibits of flower and vegetable gardens were excellent. There was an abundance of home cooking, school lunches, domestic science, wood work and Arts.

The trophy for most points in the boys section was presented to Danny Gosselin of Coaticook, while in the girls section there was a tie between Linda Vance of Ayer's Cliff and June Gosselin of Coaticook. However, Linda had the most first prizes and the trophy was presented to her. June won the trophy in 1968.

While the exhibits were being judged by W.

G. MacDougall, Mrs. Thelma Piercy, A. Richardson, H. Richies, Mrs. E. Taylor, Mrs. D. Belanger, Mrs. R. Waite, Miss E. Miller, Mrs. W. Dustin, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Marth, Mrs. B. W. Brown, Mrs. E. Hyatt, C. Davis, H. Costello and Mrs. Rosinska, all of whom did a grand job, a talent show took place in the hall of the main building.

Mrs. R. Knight was in charge of the talent show, with Mrs. Nelson Pierce the announcer. The judges in the junior and intermediate section were Canon H. C. Denton, Mrs. Gordon Shipway and Rev. Kenneth McLaughlin, but the latter did not judge in the senior division.

There was a great deal of talent displayed as the young people presented short skits, some written by themselves; piano solos and duets; motion songs; individual and group singing. The judges' decisions of winners in the junior section were Debra Wintle, singing, "Up With People"; Brian Smith, who sang a delightful solo; and Kathy Fisher, who also sang.

In the intermediate class, prize winners were: Melanie Drew, with a fine piano solo; Lynn Down, who sang and played the piano; Heather Simpson, Nancy Laberee and Joanne Smith, who performed a skit with Henry, the Frog.

In the seniors, David and Donna McLaughlin played a trumpet and accordion duet to place first, while Carole and Nancy Johanne played a piano duet placing second.

The schools participating in the fair were from Rock Island, North Hatley, Ayer's Cliff and Coaticook.

At noon, a large group went to the nearby Beulah United Church Hall for a chicken pie dinner served by the Ayer's Cliff Women's Institute who also had a canteen on the fair grounds for snacks and beverages. Many of the students brought picnic lunches.

In the afternoon, there was a program of races on the track, delightful square dancing by the juniors and intermediates of Coaticook School and the Pee Wees of the Ayer's Cliff schools. Each placed first, judged by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nutbrown.

After this, everyone filled the Horticultural building where they heard comments by Mr. MacDougall on how to exhibit. He also presented the trophies to the two top winners.

Exhibits were gathered to take home and so ended another very successful fair.

TALENT SHOW — David and Donna McLaughlin, a brother and sister act, proved their musical ability, winning first prize in the Seniors division, Saturday afternoon at the Stanstead County School Fair.

An unwarranted attack

Criticisms of the financial position of Sherbrooke appearing in a weekend French-language publication in Montreal, which would indicate the city is on the verge of bankruptcy, only support the statement made years ago by a United States politician that "there are lies, damn lies and statistics."

That statistics are not an infallible indication of the financial solvency of a municipality or any other organization was made clear by Ald. Marcel Savard in his statement Monday evening. Statistics must be used in connection with the overall situation and must be used with judgment.

In judging the debt service burden upon any municipal treasury, the gross debt figures contained in official government publications must be adjusted to take into account the revenue producing services operated by the municipality.

Sherbrooke, for instance, has valuable utilities services which make substantial contributions to the civic exchequer and serve to keep the municipal real estate tax levels at the lowest rate in the province.

In fact the operating profits of the electric and water which amount to somewhat more than $6,000,000 annually exceed by some $2,000,000 the outlays of debt services.

And the value of the saleable assets — electric plants, distribution systems, etc. — is approximately that of the entire funded and floating debt.

None, not even Alderman Savard, will deny that like most other cities on this continent, Sherbrooke is experiencing financial problems.

Expenditures are growing faster than revenues and deficit budgets are the order of the day.

But when comparative statistics and all other relevant data are studied, it probably will be found that Sherbrooke enjoys a far better financial standing than most other Canadian cities and towns.

Anyone with cash to spare these days has every right to cherish his slavings account.

Beware the pedestrian

By all means, look out for the crazy driver — but keep an eye on the careless pedestrians too.

Pedestrian deaths account for a sizable 18 per cent of the more than 50,000 traffic deaths in the United States each year and comparative figures indicate a similar portion of the traffic fatalities in Canada are pedestrians.

According to a report by the University of Michigan's Highway Safety Research Institute, accidents involving pedestrians are most likely to occur at night, in clear weather, under artificial lighting and on a dry, straight asphalt road.

The Institute studied 286 pedestrian deaths in Detroit and suburban Wayne County. It was found that 106 of the victims were crossing a street outside a crosswalk or in the middle of the block. Another 102 were crossing at intersections. The rest were walking or standing in the roadway.

Alcohol was the single factor most commonly associated with these fatalities. Of the 195 victims over 12 years of age tested for alcohol, 61 per cent had been drinking — and half of these showed over .10 per cent alcohol level in the blood, the generally accepted level for intoxication.

The boss had a kind word for us the other day, but misplaced it.

TODAY in history

The Canada Steamship Lines passenger vessel Noronic was destroyed by fire at her dock in Toronto 20 years ago today—in 1949—taking the lives of 119 persons. The majority of the 542 passengers aboard were from Cleveland and Detroit, making the last excursion of the Noronic's 36th season. The fire spread quickly, resulting in the worst Great Lakes tragedy in 100 years.

1928—A six-day hurricane killed 4,000 in West Indies and Florida.

1951—The first election was held in the Northwest Territories.

Second World War
Twenty-five years ago today—in 1944—the Russians captured Sofia, capital of Bulgaria; parachute troops and glider-borne infantrymen of Allied 1st Airborne Army landed in The Netherlands in the first employment of the new formation; 10,000-ton cruiser Admiral Hipper was sunk by Finnish aircraft and submarines.

Foreign policy changes

NZ seeks closer ties with Americas

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent
AUCKLAND (CP) — New Zealand in the next decade is likely to be looking for increased contacts with other nations bordering on the Pacific, with specific reference to Canada and Latin America.

This prospect was featured in Insurance cost up in riot areas

NEW YORK (AP) — Some American cities hit by racial and student violence are finding riot insurance dear and hard to get.

Individual property owners are having similar difficulties, but in some areas state and local governments have established insurance pools to provide protection.

Premiums for riot insurance that is available have gone up. The reason: Insured losses from riots rose from $1,000,000 in 1966 to $67,000,000 in 1967 and to $79,000,000 in 1968.

A Swiss insurance firm cancelled the riot insurance of the City of Berkeley, Calif., in June on grounds that the university town was "a particularly bad risk."

Intermittent disturbances have hit the city since a major disruption on the University of California campus in December, 1964. Negotiations with another company are in progress.

After a riot in Milwaukee's inner core in 1967 the city sought bids on riot insurance. The lone response was from a company which insisted on a $500,000 deductible policy and a cost-plus arrangement.

Last year the Michigan legislature created an insurance pool as a result of the Detroit riots to take care of properties in high risk areas. Since going into effect Oct. 21, 1968, the pool has insured 15,800 properties for a total of $378,000,000.

a major review of New Zealand foreign policy problems for the 1970s by External Affairs Secretary G. R. Laking at a special conference of the New Zealand Institute of International Affairs. His projection of likely trends has been widely hailed as a blueprint for the coming decade.

Laking, permanent head of the department of external affairs and a diplomat of wide experience, summarized his findings in these terms:

"Reshaping will be necessary to take account of changed British and American approaches and of the need for increased effort to protect our interests in Europe."

"As the decade proceeds, we shall need to direct attention not merely to the development of new relations in the South Pacific, but to wider contacts in the Pacific Basin as a whole — with Canada, for instance, and perhaps with one or two of the countries of the western coast of Latin America."

"There will be need, too, to reconsider the pattern of our representation in Europe and Asia, to examine relations with Russia New Zealand has no diplomatic post in Moscow, if not China, and to assess the value of representation in East Europe and Scandinavia."

CHANGES NEEDED

Earlier in his survey, Laking made these points:

—New Zealand will never again pursue an international policy of such simplicity as in 1939, when the then prime minister summed up the national will in a single phrase: "Where Britain goes we go."

—The decision to retain forces in Southeast Asia after Britain leaves in 1971 was one of the most significant of the post-war era.

—The South Pacific posed fewer security problems than Asia, but New Zealand could not complacently assume that it was not relevant to its security.

—New Zealand was not likely to be directly threatened in the 1970s. Effort was likely to be turned toward ensuring that no threat developed in the 1980s.

—Communist China, could not or should not be excluded much longer from the United Nations would become more and not less important.

—New Zealand was one of the countries that could not afford to see the Commonwealth fail.

—Ties with Australia would take on new range, depth and significance.

—Trade with the United States would expand and there could be a flow of American investment into New Zealand.

Laking's survey formed the keynote speech for discussions which continued for two days. The conference was attended by leaders of opinion from many fields of life in New Zealand.

Debates following Laking's address reflected an isolationist trend in some quarters. But on the whole there was widespread support for the view that the Anzus joint defence alliance between Australia, New Zealand and the United States is likely for the next decade to form the basis of New Zealand security.

Future of today's youth topic of panel discussion at UCW meeting

RICHMOND — The September meeting of the Richmond-Melbourne U.C.W. was held in the church hall with a large attendance. Members and guests were welcomed by Mrs. Ralph Healy, president.

The program took the form of a panel discussion on the challenge of the future to today's youth, led by Mrs. R. A. Cameron. The panelists were Sharon Armstrong, who has completed the first year of her teachers' training course at Macdonald College, and students at the Richmond Regional School, Christine Delaney, Sue Jondreville and Janet Butler. The subjects touched on included getting along with others at local and national levels, education, attitudes towards church and religion and the drug question. Opinions voiced by the participants showed that these were subjects to which they had given some thought. Mrs. Cameron thanked the guests for their part in the program.

Mrs. Healy asked the group captains to be responsible for the collection of the fall supper money, which should be in by the first of October, if possible.

A letter was read from Mrs. D. Grapes, supply and welfare convener of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbyterial U.C.W., thanking the local U.C.W. for the parcel sent to her in June, for forwarding to St. Columba House.

Card convener, Miss Edith Pepler, reported that 15 cards had been sent out since June. Calls made during the summer were 54 to the Wales Home and nine local.

At the October meeting, the speaker will be Rev. Wm.

An interesting article written by the late Allie Healy on the work of a Sunday School superintendent, was read by Mrs. MacNaughton. Mr. Healy was a superintendent of the Sunday School at Chalmers Church, more than 40 years ago.

Members were reminded of the fall rally to be held in Danville on Oct. 2. Unit leaders were asked to mention it at their meetings, and let Mrs. Healy or Mrs. Galen Coote know how many would be attending.

The report of the 1969 Summer School held in August will be given at the Chalmers Unit meeting, by Miss Ruth Lanigan, one of those who attended.

The New London Unit was the only one to meet during the summer. Its members are planning a rummage sale in the basement of the church on Sept. 27 at 10 o'clock.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction. The next meeting will be held on Oct. 1 at 2 p.m.

Pot-luck refreshments were served buffet style.

Stanstead County Council holds quarterly meeting

AYER'S CLIFF — The quarterly meeting of Stanstead County Council of Municipal Mayors was held on Sept. 10 in the hall of the County building.

A resolution to allow the Stanstead County Agricultural Society to take over the County building, with full maintenance and responsibilities for a legal fee was tied by the vote of the 18 mayors attending. The Warden, making the decisive vote defeated the motion. A second motion, approved by the floor, was quickly made that the County Council will keep the building as in the past, for at least another year, with permission for the Agricultural Society to use it as before.

For the past year there have been discussions about selling the building, pros and cons studied, and finally the decision was made on Wednesday.

A committee of the Warden, E. Cloutier, Royce Martin and Louis Cliche were named to be in charge of the maintenance of the building, as there is immediate repairs needed done, and to attend to renting of the building to the public.

Bruce Bishop, Arthur Eke, Roland Bartlett and George Carrigan, the latter an engineer of the Lake Massawippi Water Protection Association were a delegation at the meeting. They presented in French and English an interim report on the achievements the past year since organization, noting a full report of the survey of Lake Massawippi pollution will be made public this month. They made reference to the

Stanstead Chapter IODE plans annual bazaar, tea

STANSTEAD — The Sept. 8 meeting of the Stanstead Chapter IODE was held in the Le Baron Hall at the Stanstead College reception room.

The main business was to plan for the Oct. 4 annual bazaar and tea. The conveners and their committees are Mrs. H. M. Cass, aprons, noting several pretty ones on hand; Mrs. George Carruthers, boutique, displayed some items, which will be on sale; there will be a candy and food table; garden nook, Christmas table; and other attractions.

The regent, Mrs. W. T. Greer, and the members completed the plans for what is always a highlight of the social season at the Border. Mrs. Greer read excerpts from the Provincial office news and further mentioned she will be attending a meeting in Montreal within a few days.

Mrs. K. E. Baldwin, Educational secretary, reported the committee had met and the Mabel Stockwell Nursing Bursary for 1970 will be awarded to Miss Pearl Wallace, Stanstead. Miss Wallace entered the Sherbrooke Hospital School of Nursing on Sept. 8. The scholarship winner is Miss Evelyn Gaudine, who will be CHRISTINE LEBLANC, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Octave Leblanc and STEPHEN HICKS, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. W. Hicks, whose approaching marriage is announced.

The wedding has been arranged to take place on September 27, at St. Jean-Brebeuf Church.

Fournier-Johnson wedding

FITCH BAY — A very pretty autumn wedding was solemnized at St. Ephrem Church, in Fitch Bay, at 4 p.m. on September sixth, when Ann Phyllis Johnson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson, Beebe, became the bride of Jean Louis Fournier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Fournier, Fitch Bay. The double-ring bilingual ceremony was performed by the parish priest, Father Ayotte. The church organist played the traditional wedding music and the church was decorated with seasonal flowers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in a floor-length gown of white satin, the bodice having a V-shaped neckline, with long sleeves. Her bouffant, hip-length, tiered veil of nylon net, with rose applique, was held in place by a crown of silver, trimmed with pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses, white carnations and green leaves with tulle and long sating streamers. She wore a pearl necklace with matching earrings.

The fathers, Mr. Johnson and Mr. Fournier stood as witnesses for the bridal couple.

Mrs. Johnson, mother of the bride, chose a two-piece purple dress with black fur fabric trimming at the hemline, sleeves and neckline. Her accessories were black and white, with a white carnation corsage tied with a white satin ribbon bow.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Fournier, was attired in a blue and white dress, with black accessories. She wore a pink tinted carnation corsage.

Mrs. Ada Vancour, paternal grandmother of the bride, wore a printed dress, with black accessories.

The bride and her father were driven from home to the church, by Raymond Houle, cousin of the bride, who also drove the bride and groom from the church to the Crystal Beach Hotel. Approximately 75 relatives and close friends attended the reception, where refreshments were served.

The table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, made and decorated by the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ada Vancour, who is 94 years old. She was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Fred Palmer, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Johnson.

A toast was proposed to the newly-weds by the brother-in-law of the groom, in English, with Fred Palmer, uncle of the bride, responding in French.

Following the dinner, dancing was enjoyed.

For travelling, the bride wore a two-piece double breasted suit of blue tweed, with white accessories. She carried her bridal bouquet.

The bridal gown and travelling outfit were made by a sister of the groom.

On returning from their wedding trip, the couple have taken up residence in Montreal North.

Guests attended from Montreal, Sherbrooke, Magog, Fitch Bay, points in Ontario and the surrounding area.

History of Isle aux Noix fort feature of annual cavalcade

BEDFORD — A delightful day was spent on Sept. 6 when the annual cavalcade of the Missisquoi County Historical Society was held to Isle-aux-Noix and Fort Lennox. The members met at St. Paul's and went to Isle-aux-Noix by boat, where a tour was made of the fort and a picnic lunch enjoyed, after which the boat ride was continued down the river, returning to St. Paul about 5 p.m.

Isle-aux-Noix was of great strategic importance in the early days, owing to situation on the Richelieu and was of importance against the invasion of Quebec by the Americans, before this the French found it of great help in their war with the British. The Richelieu River and Lake Champlain have been called the Warpath of the Nations. First the Hurons and the Algonquins in their wars against the Iroquois. It was here that Samuel de Champlain in 1609 collected his force of Huron and Algonquin Indians and fought the Iroquois at Ticonderoga, which resulted in the fierce hatred of the Iroquois against the French. In retaliation the Iroquois made many raids against the French, which resulted in the building of the French forts, including one at Isle-aux-Noix. Two of these forts, one at Carillon and the other at St. Frederic on Lake Champlain were afterwards abandoned. St. Jean Nicholas Desandrouin, a French royal engineer, recommended Isle-aux-Noix to Montcalm as a fort site, when it was built in 1758.

On the withdrawal by General Bourlemarque of his troops from the frontier in November, 1759, he made a stand at Isle-aux-Noix, determined to stop the English commander Haviland. With his force of 2,000, Bourlemarque put on such a show of strength that he held up Haviland's attack for six months. At this time the fort was under the command of de Bougainville. To strengthen the fortifications the French had closed the river on two sides with log booms, on Aug. 23 Haviland bombarded the island, which surrendered on Aug. 27, 1760, and retreated to St. Johns.

Prior to the capture of Isle-aux-Noix, Rogers' Rangers attempted to get by the island, their objective being the surprise capture of Fort St. Jean. It was about two months before the capture of the island, he was forced to turn back, when attacked by a patrol at the island. At the second attempt Major Rogers was successful in evading detection, but owing to the strength of the garrison at Fort St. Jean, it was by passed, the party succeeded in damaging Fort Ste. Therese, which they set on fire, in stolen boats they escaped, pursued from Isle-aux-Noix. Following his escape de Bougainville went to Montreal and laid down his arms when New France surrendered on Sept. 8, 1760.

The defences of the island deteriorated and the buildings were destroyed by the British, until the American Revolution when the American General Philip Schuyler invaded Canada and took over the island in 1775. The island was then used as a base for the Canadian invasion. Forts St. Jean, Chambly and Montreal General Schuyler used the island as his headquarters, where he issued a proclamation urging Canadians to join him and regain their "rights and freedom."

After the American defeat at Quebec, the army reformed at Isle-aux-Noix. A terrible winter was spent here, due to an outbreak of smallpox, from which many died. In June the militiamen left the island, a sadly depleted lot. In July the island was occupied by a regiment of mercenaries and was used as a supply base for the British fleet, after its defeat of the American fleet on Lake Champlain and commanded the lake until the end of the war.

An ambitious scheme of renovation was started under the renowned British engineer, William Twiss, interest waned and the work was not completed and Isle-aux-Noix was forgotten.

When the war of 1912 started Isle-aux-Noix again was necessary. In that year the present Fort Lennox was built, extensive improvements took place, fitting Fort Lennox as a naval base, a shipyard barracks, hospital and storehouses were built. Among the ships built were the Niagara, followed by the Linnet, 16 guns. It was followed by the building of the largest warship on Lake Champlain, the Confiance, 1200 tons, 36-gun frigate, which was quickly built and with work still being done on her, went down to defeat in the battle of Plattsburg. The shipyard was of vital importance, the British realized advantages and decided to construct a strong fortress, as envisioned by the French in 1759. The plans called for the fort to cost $6,726 pounds, the building of which took nine years to complete. The fort was named after Charles Lennox, Duke of Richmond, Governor-General of Canada, who had died in 1819.

Due to the steps of progress, which included the building of the Chamby Canal and the railway between St. Johns and Laprairie, the importance of Fort Lennox diminished. In 1834 the naval station was closed. Fort Lennox had ceased to be needed. In 1837, it was used briefly as a prison for prisoners implicated in the Lower Canada rebellion and garrisoned for fortifications were not maintained. From 1850 - 1857, a company of the Royal Canadian Rifles was on duty and in 1858 the fort was used as a reformatory. During the Civil War, when war was threatened with the northern states, due to the Trent Affair, when the British mailboat was stopped and searched by the north, Fort Lennox was re-garrisoned and troops were rushed from England. Repairs were made and the fort was garrisoned. Occupation was short-lived as in 1870 the troops were withdrawn, the fort became Canadian government property. It was used for a short time as a penitentiary. The last time that the fort was used was in the last war, when a protected camp was held, as a haven for Europeans who sought sanctuary in Canada and were in danger of their lives, due to their activities against the governments of their countries. Today the island is a national Historic Park.

Isle-aux-Noix has an area of 210 acres on the Richelieu River, in English its name is Nut Island, so called for the many walnut trees that grew on the island. It formed part of the seigneurie granted in 1733 to Pierre Jacques Payan de Noyan, Sieur de Chavoie. The island was first occupied by a mustered out soldier, Pierre Jourdanet, who had the island for the yearly rent of one bag of walnuts. Following lunch and the tour of the fort, the boat ride was continued down the river, William Taylor, president, expressed the thanks and appreciation of all to Donald MacCallum for his commentary, Mrs. George Tremblay and Miss Lila Primmerman for such an interesting and informative trip

Tennis revival in Waterloo

WATERLOO — Tennis came alive again in Waterloo this summer, even though the town that boasts of being The Home of Francois Godbout, international tennis star, can boast of only one court for the entire town.

Notwithstanding the lack of facilities, several people who were interested in the revival of tennis, took it upon themselves to clean up the courts two years ago. The teens who wanted to play put the tapes down themselves, hosed down the courts, and were self-supervised.

There were upwards of 70 players this year. The players ranged in age from 10 to 15 (juniors), 16 to 20 (intermediates) and over 20 (adults).

The club championships were concluded recently with the following winners. In the adult section, Men's singles was won by Real Choiniere; Doubles, Real Choiniere and Jeannot St. Louis; Women's singles, Janet Tucker; Doubles, Marlene Graves and Janet Tucker; and Mixed Doubles, Janet Tucker and Tom Wilkinson.

The Intermediate Section singles champs are Sylvia Rainville and Denis St. Francois; Boys doubles, Denis St. Francois and Pierre Rainville; Mixed doubles, Patty Pugh and Billy Neely.

The Juniors singles winners were Susan Pugh and Kim Copping; doubles champs, Susan Pugh and Susan Rainville and Robert Couture and Daniel Gariepy. Mixed doubles winners were Susan Chapman and Kim Norris.

President of the Waterloo Tennis Club, situated on the grounds of St. Luke's Anglican Church, is Dexter Larose.

Pretty Boy Floyd: golf's answer to J. Namath

AKRON, Ohio — (NEA) — Raymond Floyd, quite honestly, is a tad too pudgy to be considered audition material for the nudist off-Broadway play, "Oh! Calcutta!"

Too much of his belly hangs over his belt and too much of his ample bottom pouches out in back.

Unkind observers, in fact, have noted something of a waddle in Floyd's walk, although more informed sources have identified it as merely a bloated strut. The midsection, it appears, is not the only expanding thing about Raymond Floyd.

At 27, the 6-foot, 200-pound professional golfer suddenly finds his bankroll ($100,000, plus change) growing, his myriad interests (women, horses, the Chicago Cubs, women) flourishing and his reputation as a blattant Joe Namath-type swinger stamped forever in the friendly skies of United.

While Namath's tastes run to Copenhagen snuff, Aqua Net hair spray and any able-bodied females (except red-heads), Floyd frankly prefers airline stewardesses.

"They're usually good looking," he says. "I like to be seen with good looking women. I like for guys to look at the girl I'm with and say, 'Man, I'd sure like to be with her.' I like that. Of course, I've known as many dogs as the next guy, but you'll never see me with them."

Like Namath before the New York Jets' quarterback became the nation's prima rogue, Floyd also has managed to offend enough people to make himself generally disliked but generally discussed.

Since he became a regular factor in most tournaments this year, in fact, many people have wondered if Floyd was ready for success. Not that getting booed out of an occasional bar had anything to do with it, understand.

Many good men have been requested to vacate such establishments.

Floyd's unpopularity stems, like Namath's did, from his seeming disregard for other people. He irked no few citizens here this summer when, after winning Firestone's American Golf Classic, he abruptly left, leaving exasperated officials with the excuse that he had to catch a plane. He later was reported at a private party in Akron.

Newsmen, who have sworn more than one seed of discontent with Floyd, often make a point of calling him rude and uncooperative. "I never read anything good about the guy," says one prominent magazine writer.

Yet Floyd—like Namath—is capable of considerable charm on proper occasions.

Glib, maybe even captivating, in his Fayetteville, N.C., drawl, he speaks with genuine warmth on such topics as "my Cubs" and "my girls." At other times, however, his only merit is his golf talent, which is considerable.

It is true that, despite his plumpness, Ray Floyd probably qualifies as handsome, although not in the knotty-pined Namath genre. They call him "Pretty Boy" Floyd and it fits. Loopy curls of light brown hair hang from his rather large head, framing a round face and hazel eyes.

"They're actually red most of the time, he says, and makes no secret of his late hours. "I oversleep a lot."

Floyd lives in San Francisco now—he also has claimed Dallas as home, as well as Lake Havasu, Ariz.—

but plans to move to Chicago soon, presumably to be close to his Cubs.

"I'm getting a great apartment near State and Rush Streets," he says, "and that's a real swinging neighborhood."

All The Way!

DETROIT — (N.E.A.) — Bill von Breda Kolff has one goal in mind for the Detroit Pistons this season.

Says the new coach: "I don't believe in this making the playoffs jazz. I think we can go all the way—and win it."

Remember when

REMEMBER WHEN — Sunny Jim Bottomley, St. Louis Cardinals first baseman, set a major league record 45 years ago today—in 1924—by batting in 12 runs in one game. Playing against Brooklyn Dodgers, Bottomley had a perfect six-for-six record and the Cards won 17-3.

SURE FOOTED as a WILDCAT

PREMIUM QUALITY NYLON TURNPIKE SAFETY '4'

Safety '4' Wildcat has a lot going for it. Much more than you'd expect to find in medium-priced nylons. Where else would you get the tenacious grip of a great cat, the racy look of a Grand Prix tire? Yet that continental look runs more than skin-deep. Built to set your car closer to the road, Safety '4' has the high-speed stability and easy handling that take highway problems in stride. Like a Wildcat, it has the instinct for swifter stops, faster take-offs. Its inner strength and stamina spring from a Dupont Nylon 4-ply cord body that measures up to the toughest road tests. A great tire—a great value! And it's not alone. If long mileage is on your mind, take a look at its running-mate—Turnpike '78' Nylon. This one has the low, wide proportions of tires you'll soon be seeing on the new 1970 high-performance cars. And it's a Whitewall at only $2.50 more than the regular Safety '4' Blackwall.

*Manufacturers' List Price—If you're confused about this term, here's the gen: Each manufacturer publishes a list of prices. Generally speaking, for similar grades, these prices are pretty much the same. Newspaper advertised sale prices may cut these list prices 15% to 25%. By contrast, Canadian Tire cuts list prices by more than 50%. Come in—compare—and see for yourself!

Dodgers sweep a pair from the Reds; Mets rained out

NL West Division reshuffles with Giants on top

High-kicking Juan Marichal continued his mastery at Candlestick Park Tuesday night, limiting the visiting Atlanta Braves to four hits and leading San Francisco to a 2-0 win and into first place in the National League's West Division.

The victory brought the right-hander's record to 19-10 on the season, but he's virtually unbeatable at home with 13 victories and one defeat. The shutout was his eighth of the year, tops in the National League.

Elsewhere Tuesday, Chicago Cubs tripped Montreal Expos 5-4. San Diego Padres drubbed Houston Astros 8-1. Pittsburgh Pirates downed Philadelphia Phillies 9-5 and Los Angeles Dodgers swept a doubleheader from Cincinnati Reds, winning the opener 2-1 and taking the nightcap 3-2 in 12 innings. New York Mets' game at St. Louis was postponed by rain.

Willie Mays drilled three hits and doubled home one of the two San Francisco runs.

The other came on consecutive second inning singles by Ken Henderson, Jack Hiatt and Hal Lanier.

WINS EIGHT STRAIGHT
It was the eighth consecutive complete game for Marichal and his 25th route-going effort in the last 33 starts.

LA's sweep moved the Dodgers into second place, one-half game behind the Giants and one percentage point ahead of the Braves.

Wes Parker drove in all three Dodger runs in the nightcap victory. The Dodgers rallied for two runs in the ninth inning to take the opener, the second on Johnny

Bench's throwing error as the Cincinnati catcher attempted an inning-ending double play.

San Diego dealt a jolt to Houston's pennant hopes, tagging the Astros with their sixth consecutive loss. The loss left the fifth place Astros six games behind the Giants.

Chicago used home runs by rookie Oscar Gamble and veteran Billy Williams to beat Montreal. The victory combined with the Mets' rainout at St. Louis, moved the Cubs back to within four games of New York. The Mets' magic number remained at 11.

Pittsburgh used a 13-hit attack including homers by Jose Pagan and Al Oliver to whip Philadelphia.

Dave McNally's run-scoring single in the sixth inning Tuesday night gave Baltimore Orioles a 1-0 victory over Washington Senators and gave the big left-hander his 19th American League victory of the season.

McNally had just six hits and a .071 batting average entering the game and the win was his second in a row, the first time he's been able to put two consecutive victories together since his two-season, 17-game unbeaten string was snapped Aug. 3.

Meanwhile, Harmon Killebrew continued to set his sights on the AL's home run title when he smashed his 44th of the season—a three-run blast—in leading Minnesota Twins 11-3 past Oakland Athletics.

The Twins victory stretched their lead over Oakland to 10 games in the AL West Division and Killebrew's homer moved him to within two of the junior circuit's co-leaders—Oakland's Reggie Jackson and Frank Howard of Washington.

In other games, Cleveland Indians whipped Boston Red Sox 5-2. Kansas City Royals nipped Seattle Pilots 2-1. New York Yankees topped Detroit Tigers 7-6 in 13 innings and Chicago White Sox won a doubleheader from California Angels, 7-4 and 3-2.

McNally, who won his first 15 games this season, needed Ed Watt to get the last Senator out

HOMERS IN FIRST

Killebrew, who was 6-for-6 with four homers and 12 RBI in the three games with the Athletics before his sixth inning strikeout, lofted his homer into the left field pavilion in the first inning.

It also raised his major league-leading RBI total to 134.

The Twins put the game out of reach with six runs in the fifth, when Rod Carew drove in two runs with a triple. Cesar Tovar two with a single and winner Jim Perry, 19-6, and Leo Cardenas one each with singles.

Wally Bunker checked Seattle on four hits and drove in the winning run with a double in the eighth.

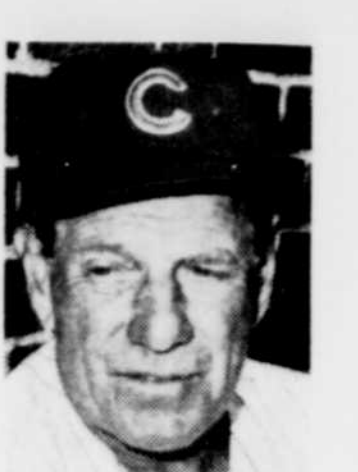

Ken Harrelson's three-run homer, his 29th, in the eighth snapped a 2-2 tie and gave Cleveland its victory over the Red Sox. Jose Cardenas, No. 10, also homered for the Indians, while Rico Petrocelli hit his 39th for Boston. Bobby Cox' sacrifice fly in the 13th inning produced the Yankees' winning run. The Tigers had tied it with three runs in the ninth, including two on Jim Northrup's homer.

Catcher Duane Josephson, in the starting lineup for the first time since June 21, hit the first pitch tossed to him and also scored a pair of runs in leading the White Sox to victory in the nightcap. Rookie right-hander Bart Johnson earned his first major league triumph in the opener.

IRON MAN BILLY WILLIAMS — one of the Cubs' stalwarts in the stretch pennant drive. The Bruins from the Windy City are currently four games behind the pace set by the New York Mets.

1969 Pennant Reflections?

Rookie told to get haircut

One of the hottest shooters around the Toronto Maple Leafs training camp is an unheralded rookie from Montreal with a yen for styles.

Jean Fauteu says management keeps telling him he has a chance to catch on with the National Hockey League club's farm team at Tulsa in the Central League "if I get a haircut."

Since arriving at the Peterborough camp, the 20-year-old has trimmed himself three times, but apparently not to the satisfaction of Leafs management which this year agreed to let players wear sideburns.

Fauteu, who had a goal and two assists Tuesday and is top scorer at the camp, tallied 45 goals and 52 assists in the Quebec Junior A League last season. Fauteu said Tuesday he'd probably see a barber. But he plans on leaving the team this weekend to return to Montreal to complete his studies for a BA degree at Brebeuf College.

Other NHL camps were preparing for the start this week of exhibition games beginning with the Toronto-St. Louis Blues encounter at Ottawa Thursday.

Montreal Canadiens reported the signing of Marc Tardif, high-scoring left-winger with the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, last year's Canadian junior champions.

CAME TO TERMS
Rod Gilbert came to terms with New York, bringing to eight the number of players Rangers have signed for the 1969-70 season. Los Angeles Kings, however, are experiencing contract troubles with Eddie Shack. The 12-year veteran, picked up from Boston Bruins during the off season, reported late to camp and, according to Larry Regan, the Kings' general manager, they're far apart in negotiations.

Shack continues to practice with Los Angeles although he is listed officially as a holdout.

Left winger Frank Mahovlich returned to Detroit Red Wings camp at Port Huron, Mich., Tuesday after doctors were unable to determine the nature of a "floating body" discovered in his left knee.

Red Wings officials said the Big M should resume practicing today, but general manager Sid Abel said an operation is still possible.

Pancho Gonzales of Los Angeles swept over Eric Sturgess of South Africa 21 years ago today—in 1948—to take the United States amateur tennis championship in three straight sets. Seeded eighth, the swarthy 20-year-old was the sensation of the tournament. He won again in 1949 and then turned professional.

NHL officials, Clarence Campbell at odds—salary estimates differ

TORONTO (CP) — Twenty National Hockey League referees and linesmen who walked out of their training camp in Brantford, Ont., Monday night have set up their own base here.

The dissenters, all members of the National Hockey League Officials Association, said Tuesday they will not handle any games until the NHL recognizes their association.

"We're paying our own way here too," one official said. "We lost our per diem when we left Brantford. We wouldn't be here if Campbell's figures about salaries were correct."

He was referring to statements made earlier by NHL president Clarence Campbell who said referees earn between $11,000 and $25,000 a season, plus fringe benefits.

"There were linesmen who worked in the NHL last year who received a basic salary of $5,000," another official said. "One referee who worked in the NHL got a basic salary of about $6,000 and he has been around for six years or so."

The officials refused to let their names be publicized, saying one restriction placed on them by the league is that they refrain from discussing their jobs or league policy.

The NHL has five holdovers from last year's officiating staff who did not leave the camp in Brantford. They are referees John Ashley and Art Skov, and linesmen Neil Armstrong, Matt Pavelich and Claude Bechard.

PLAY BRUINS THURSDAY

NHL teams begin their pre-season schedule tonight with Toronto Maple Leafs playing an intra-squad game in Peterborough. The Leafs play St. Louis Blues in Ottawa Thursday.

Scotty Morrison, NHL's referee-in-chief, said in Brantford Monday he has enough officials—19—in camp to supervise exhibition games. He said he will need a minimum of 17 referees and 10 linesmen.

He said he does not intend to meet Toronto lawyer Joe Kane, legal adviser to the referees' association.

Meanwhile, Kane said Tuesday the NHL has not made any attempt to negotiate with him. He has called a news conference here today.

He said he had made three attempts to talk to William M. Jennings, president of New York Rangers, by telephone, but Jennings was not available. Jennings is chairman of the NHL board of governors.

"The NHL has made the financial issue the big thing," said Kane. "Money is not the issue here."

The officials' association said it feels it has made some gains even though it has not received formal recognition.

Sport briefs

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Nadezhda Chizhova of Russia won the first gold medal of the trouble-plagued European track and field championships Tuesday by shattering the world record in the women's shot put with a heave of 67 feet 1/4 inch.

Paul Nihill of Britain won the 20-kilometre walk by more than 30 yards over Leonida Caraiosifloglu of Romania.

The Russian woman's recordbreaking performance came at the end of a dramatic opening day in which the entire West German team announced it would boycott the championships and go home. The athletes were angry because Jurgen May, the East German who defected two years ago, was ruled ineligible for the West German team because he had not lived in his new country three years as the rules require.

The West Germans participated in the opening parade, then marched back to their hotel. Earlier, the German athletes, going against the advice of their officials, voted 29 to 27 to go home.

West German athletes here agreed at a meeting Tuesday night on a partial boycott of the games as a protest against the International Amateur Athletic Federation's decision to expel a member of their team.

The team's decision reversed an earlier one calling for a total walkout by the 70 West Germans.

The athletes announced that they would compete in Friday's and Saturday's men's and women's relay races as a symbolic gesture. They would not compete in individual events.

One athlete said this was being done to emphasize team cohesion and in order not to show disrespect to the Greek Amateur Athletic Federation, organizers of the games.

QUEBEC (CP) — Quebec Aces of the American Hockey League, will retire sweater No. 9 from the team's roster in honor of Jean Beliveau, captain of Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, it was announced Tuesday.

The No. 9 sweater was worn by Beliveau when he played as an amateur with the Aces in the Quebec Senior Hockey League. The team now is a farm club of the NHL Philadelphia Flyers.

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) — Stafford Smythe thinks Bob Pulford is the key to the fortunes of Toronto Maple Leafs in the 1969-70 National Hockey League season.

Smythe, Leafs' former president and now on the club's executive committee took a look at the Leafs' training camp Tuesday and said:

"If Pulford fits into the line of Norm Ullman and Paul Henderson, we'll be back where we once were."

Smythe said that if Pulford fits in on right wing then the Leafs will have "three big lines."

Optimists hold hockey school

The Lennoxville Optimist Club will be organizing a hockey school beginning October 18 and running through six consecutive Saturdays to November 18. Bishop's University has donated ice-time at the W.B. Scott Rink, site of the hockey school. Instruction is to be sectioned into three age categories: 8-10, 11-12, and 13-14 under the watchful eye of coach Jim Moore and assistants, Dave Watson, Allen Hunting, and Gerry McKindsey.

A $10 fee is required and if every session is attended, $5 will be refunded. Hockey sticks are to be provided. Registration forms may be obtained from Miss Love, physical education, Lennoxville School or from any of the coaching staff. This hockey school will be modelled somewhat similar to Doug Harvey's classes. Teaching the boys to skate and shoot properly will be the primary goals of the hockey program.

"Natural Aging" is the only way to get meat that is... naturally tender!

It's Mainly Because of "Natural Aging"... that more and more Canadians have come to depend on Dominion's "Man Behind the Meat Counter". Dominion has always sold only "naturally aged" meats to ensure their shoppers of only the finest meats available.

"Natural aging" is an exacting and lengthy process. In fact it requires carefully controlled aging of all meats for a full 12 to 14 days before you can buy it. But, it is the only way to guarantee the natural juicy meat tenderness that has made Dominion meats famous. That's the secret behind the melt-in-your-mouth tenderness and taste of all Dominion meats. After all, our customers depend on us to offer them only the finest meats available. And we'll never let them down. You can depend on Dominion.
