ALLIED TROOPS CROSS VOLTURNO AT EVERY POINT SECOND FRONT TO BE DEBATED AT MOSCOW PARLEY

Tripartite Conference Inaugurated in Moscow

First Full-Dress Tripartite Conference of War Formally Opened Following Arrival of British and American Representatives—Post-War Matters of Military, Political and Economic Nature Will Be Discussed.

By EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer
Moscow, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, United States State Secretary Cordell Hull and Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov were embarked today on the first full dress tripartite conference of the war—a conference at which, the Russians have said, the issue of a "second front" in Western Europe will be an important topic.

Preliminary discussions were held at the Kremlin last evening shortly after the arrival of the British and American visitors at the Moscow airport. It was recalled that the first real business session would take place this afternoon between the representatives of the three countries, who are expected to discuss not only wartime but post-war matters of a military, political and economic nature.

While the subjects which will be discussed here are a matter of speculation, it was recalled that the Communist party organ Pravda declared last week that the Russians intend to use the meeting to broach the issue of a "second front," by which they mean the opening of an Allied offensive across the English Channel and the North Sea, an operation which they have repeatedly urged the Western Allies to undertake.

It is not Russia's intention at this time, Pravda added, to discuss post-war frontiers or the status of the Baltic states.

(Despite this assertion by Pravda, the view prevailed generally in Washington today that the meeting is expected to deal largely with post-war political problems—what should be done to preserve the peace and what sort of Europe is to be fashioned.)

5,000 BRITISH PRISONERS ARE ON WAY HOME

Fifty Canadians Among Disabled British Empire Servicemen in War's First Military Prisoner Exchange with Germany.

London, Oct. 19.—(AP)—More than 5,000 disabled British Empire servicemen, including 50 Canadians, who were captured by the Germans on many battlefields and who spent months and even years in prisoner of war camps, are on their way home in the war's first military prisoner exchange with Germany.

The exchange for an undisclosed number of wounded Germans in Allied hands is taking place by way of Swedish and Spanish ports.

(An Ottawa announcement yesterday said the Canadians in the exchange could be sent back to their homes in the Dominion after any necessary hospital treatment in the United Kingdom and when they are considered physically able to make the journey.)

The Foreign Office said the repatriation was being carried out in three separate movements, with a transfer of Allied and German casualties at Gothenburg, Sweden, a similar exchange at Barcelona, Spain, and an embarkation of German prisoners, without an exchange, at an Allied port in Northwest Africa.

A Gothenburg dispatch, disclosing that the exchange there had been in progress for more than three days, said the transfer involved 5,175 invalids, of whom 4,340 were Allied personnel and 835 Germans. The

GERMANY AGAIN ASSAULTED IN GIGANTIC RAID

London, Oct. 19.—(AP)—R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. attacked Germany in strength last night, directing the main blow against Hanover, while Mosquito bombers blasted targets in Berlin and Western Germany, it was announced today.

Seventeen bombers were lost during the operations, the full results of which were obscured by clouds which partially covered the targets, the Air Ministry said.

The raids broke a ten-day lull in large scale R.A.F. bombardment operations and represented the fourth heavy assault on Hanover within 30 days. The city was the target of the last major R.A.F.-R.C.A.F. night raid Oct. 8.

Hanover, a city with a normal peacetime population of about 500,000, is the site of the great continental Gunniwerke, where much of Germany's finished rubber products are manufactured. To reach the city the raiders had to fly a round trip of about 700 miles—provided they travelled in a direct line to and from the target.

Bitterest Fighting Of War Rages Inside Of Melitopol

Germans Rushing Reinforcements from Crimean Manpower Reservoir in Desperate Attempt to Hold South Ukraine Stronghold—Fresh Russian Gains Below Gomel.

London, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Germans were reported rushing reinforcements from their Crimean manpower reservoir today in a desperate attempt to hold the South Ukraine stronghold of Melitopol in the face of Russian offensives from the East and North aimed at cracking that gateway to the Crimea and engulfing the hundreds of thousands of Nazi troops in the great peninsula.

Some of the bitterest fighting of the war was raging inside of Melitopol itself, the Russians said. Red Army shock spearheads, battling with bayonets and grenades in a blinding dust storm, inched their way through a formidable maze of blockhouses and street defences, a Soviet communiqué said, cleared several districts of last ditch defenders, hurled back a strong German counter-attack Southwest of the city and "captured large quantities of war materials."

U.S. BOMBERS SMASH GERMAN RAILWAY YARD

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 19.—(AP)—United States medium bombers and fighters, reaching out in support of Yugoslav guerrillas, swooped deep into Yugoslavia yesterday to smash the vital railroad centre of Skopje controlling the Vardar Valley leading South into Salonika and Greece. Allied headquarters announced today.

Tracks were ripped up, the Skopje rail bridge Southeast of the city bombed, and at least three locomotives and 15 rail cars destroyed by two waves of planes which caught the German defences completely off guard.

Neither enemy fighters nor anti-aircraft fire were encountered. Bombers with fighter escorts began the attack on Skopje, hitting the North and South ends of the yards where switching facilities were concentrated. Other bombs struck in the centre of the yards, destroying tracks.

Two hours later a wave of bombers, carrying 100 tons of incendiary bombs, attacked the bridge four miles away and hit the nearby signal building and passenger station.

Americans Capture Five Villages on Eastern Sector of 5th Army Line in Sweeping Advance, While British Troops Span Difficult River Barrier at All Points on Bridges Put Up by Engineers.

By WES GALLAGHER,
Associated Press War Correspondent
Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The battle of the Volturno River has ended in victory for the Allied 5th Army with the British and American troops crossing the river at all points, it was announced today.

American troops captured five villages on the Eastern sector of the 5th Army line in a sweeping advance of from three to five miles. Simultaneously British troops between Capua and the Sea swept over the difficult river barrier at all points on bridges constructed by engineers.

At the same time, Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army, of which the Canadian 1st Division is a part, continued to push back the Germans and captured the towns of Santo Stefano and Montecellone in their drive from the Adriatic coast.

The 5th Army push put them astride the Tiber River where enemy resistance slackened. They captured the villages of Gioia, Liberi, Faicchio, Pontelone and Albignano and also Roma, near the West coast North of the Volturno.

(The Cairo radio said the Germans had taken up new positions on the mountain slopes North of the Volturno in the Mondragone region.)

Brescia, near the West coast North of Volturno, also was captured.

Allied Headquarters, Algiers, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Fires flaming behind the German line North of the Volturno river—ammunition dumps set ablaze apparently in preparation for a quick retreat—indicated today that the Nazi legions had abandoned all hope of holding the Volturno line.

GERMANS PREPARING TO EVACUATE ROME BY OCTOBER 31

Stockholm, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The Germans apparently are planning to evacuate Rome by October 31, a Berne dispatch to the Swedish newspaper Svenska Dagbladet said today.

All food requisitions for the Rome area for the first week in November have been cancelled by the Germans.

Dominion Signs New Agreement

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The External Affairs Department announced today that Canada has joined the United States and Britain in signing the third Lend-Lease protocol with Russia to supply the Soviets with war materials and foodstuffs.

The announcement said the agreement was signed in London today, with the Dominion taking part for the first time although Canadian supplies previously have formed part of the commitment of the United Kingdom and, in some cases, of that of the United States.

It was the third such agreement for Britain and the United States. The first was signed in Moscow in October, 1941, and the second in Washington last October.

The period covered by the second agreement ended last June 30 but provisions of the third agreement, though it has just been signed, have been effective for the past three months, with the flow of armaments, equipment, materials and foodstuffs going to Russia without interruption.

Hon. Vincent Massey, Canadian High Commissioner in London, signed the protocol on behalf of the Dominion.

Average Daily Total of More Than $66,666,000 Will Be Needed to Achieve Minimum Objective of $1,200,000,000 Within 18 Days of 5th Victory Loan Drive.

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Canadians subscribed for $67,729,450 worth of Fifth Victory Loan bonds yesterday, first day of the three-week campaign for $1,200,000,000, National Headquarters announced today.

The daily average required to reach the loan's objective is $66,666,000. First-day sales in the Fourth Victory Loan drive last spring were $63,295,750.

The breakdown showing what proportion of Monday's $67,729,450 came from individuals was not obtainable from the first day's telegraphic advices. Headquarters said in the daily press release.

It announced the City of Halifax yesterday purchased $350,000 worth of bonds, one of the first cities to subscribe.

Reports poured into Ontario headquarters of plants going over their quotas on the payroll savings plan. Sixteen companies in Hamilton alone went over the top. At Michipicoten Iron Mines at Josephine, Ont., $12,300 was invested by 77 employees, an average of $160 a worker.

During the first day of the campaign, 14 seagoing ships of the Royal Canadian Navy oversubscribed their loan objectives, several of them more than doubling their quotas, said Halifax reports. H.M.

Canadian Tank Squadron Which Knocked Out Eight Nazi Tanks Is Honored By British Brigade

By LOUIS V. HUNTER,
Canadian Press War Correspondent
With the 8th Army in Italy, Oct. 9.—(Delayed)—(C. P. Cable)—A Canadian tank squadron which knocked out eight German tanks the previous day and foiled a determined attempt to recapture the Adriatic coast town of Termoli. The Canadian 1st Division is fighting with the British 8th Army. He said "we lost only two tanks and tank casualties in men were four killed and two wounded."

Although this was the first time the Eastern Canadian Regiment has been so signally honored by a British formation, it had been honored before by a Canadian infantry brigade which presented its pennant to Mills' squadron.

The presentation ceremony to Walker took place in a plowed field beside a wrecked German tank while enemy artillery shelled a nearby ridge. The black-belted Canadians stood easy and their smiling 35-year-old lieutenant-colonel from Windsor, Ont., stood beside the British Brigadier while he spoke.

In front of the men during the informal gathering were the squadron officers: Maj. Walker, Capt. R.

Sgt. Gordon Brown, Of Danville, Is Among Few Canadians Flying A "Walrus" In Italian Theatre

Written for The Canadian Press By F. L. KEN MacGILLIVRAY, R.C.A.F.

Taranto, Italy, Oct. 19.—(AP)—If you're picking the unsung heroes of the Air Force, don't forget the Walrus Boys, probably the most unpublicized unglorified lads who ever wore wings.

You'd understand how difficult it is to make popular heroes of these chaps if you could see the plane they fly. It's been called "The Flying Bird-Cage."

It awakens nostalgic memories in pilots of the First Great War. It's a big, ponderous, amphibious bi-plane, with that rarity, a pusher engine. It staggers into the air like an aged duck, and lurches along at maybe 100 miles an hour. Its fire power is insignificant, and it's probably the only operational kite on the Royal Air Force that has never—so far at least as this record can learn—shot anything down.

It looks and sounds like a museum piece. But it isn't.

In its own specialized field, the Walrus is one of the most valuable, indispensable and irreplaceable aircraft in service. It has done one of the most consistently excellent jobs of any plane since the war began, defying all competitors and confounding all critics of its archaic design.

One of the few Canadians piloting a Walrus in this theatre of war is Sgt. Gordon Brown, 26, of Danville, Que.

Like other Walrus pilots, Brown looks longingly at Spitfires and dreams of some day getting back on fighter operations. But, meanwhile, he confesses a grudging fondness for the ungainly-looking machine on which he is building up his hours and adding to his list of rescues.

"The queerest case I've had since the Italian campaign began," says Brown, "was when we dragged a chap out of his rubber dingy off Sicily, to discover that he was a German fighter pilot. If he'd pulled his gun as soon as we got him aboard, it might have been awkward. But he was too busy shaking hands with us, in his delight at being saved."

"On the way back to base we had to force-land in a vineyard, and it was then that our prisoner showed his colors. He refused to walk with us to the nearest military camp, and insisted on being taken in a vehicle."

WAR BULLETINS

London.—The Berlin radio announced today that Allied planes raided targets in Yugoslavia yesterday for the first time in 2½ years.

Allied Headquarters, the Southwest Pacific.—Allied troops and airmen have beaten back an attempted Japanese landing near Finschhafen, New Guinea, and destroyed 24 of 35 planes bent on raiding Allied shipping.

Allied Headquarters, Algiers.—Allied bombers based in North Africa blasted Skopje in Yugoslavia yesterday, smashing at rail yard installations on the vital road from Belgrade to Athens.

UNITED CHURCH RALLY TERMED GREAT SUCCESS

"Praise the Lord, and Pass the Ammunition"—thus quoted the Rev. John W. Woodside D. D., L. L. D., of Chalmers' Church, Ottawa, when addressing a largely attended Missionary Rally, in Plymouth Church Hall last evening.

The guest speaker was introduced by the Rev. John Fulcher, chairman of the Missionary and Maintenance Committee, under which auspices the Rally was held. Mr. Fulcher referred to the kindly co-operation of the Pastor and people of Plymouth Church for incorporating it with the celebrations in honor of their church's 108th anniversary.

Prefacing his address with a few potent statements, Dr. Woodside first stressed the blessing of having Christian leaders, His Majesty the King, Premier Winston Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt, afterwards quoted ing as the text of his address the now familiar war slogan of Pearl Harbor, "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition."

"We must play our part in Christian Enterprise," said Dr. Woodside, "God's is not the full responsibility, if we do our share we need have no fear, for the God of Righteousness is on the Throne."

Another highlight in the guest speaker's address was his statement that it was not, in his judgement, right to ask people for "new money" until they had been told what had been done with cash already donated.

In stating that the deficit of $1,700,000 of the United Church in Canada had been liquidated, Dr. Woodside expressed his thankfulness also for the fact that this year's receipts were $60,000 in advance of last year's.

Later Dr. Woodside listed Christians under three classes, first those who do their duty; secondly those who just do something because it is the "thing to do," and lastly the tremendous number who literally do not give or do anything. "To which group do you belong?" asked the speaker.

"Today regimentation is destroying personal freedom said Dr. Woodside, "Christians must remain free to decide between right and wrong. If we are on the side of God who shall be afraid?"

The chairman called upon the Rev. Edwards to extend thanks to the guest speaker on behalf of the many representatives who came from Danville, Waterville, Marlborough, Hatley, Ayer's Cliff, Megantic and Melbourn Ridge, to unite with Sherbrooke citizens in welcoming Dr. Woodside and to hear his stirring messages. Dr. G. Elery Read, the Reverend F. A. C. Dossie and others paid tribute to the guest speaker whose challenging message no one could easily forget.

Mr. Fulcher, as Chairman, voiced thanks and appreciation to the members of the W.M.S. who had served the delicious supper held prior to the Missionary Rally.

The Reverend and Mrs. F. A. C. Dossie, acting officially as host and hostess, cordially received the upwards of two hundred guests who attended the supper.

W. G. Cross acted as cashier. Supper was served under the general convener'ship of Mrs. W. W. Gibson and Mrs. George Ogston, the attractive decorations in the hall and on the tables being in charge of Mrs. Walter S. Sutherland and Mrs. Norman Flint. It seems superfluous to remark that everything possible was done for the entertainment of the many guests, including delegations from almost every section of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery.

Seated at the head table were the Very Reverend Woodside, the Reverend G. Elery Read, D.D., Rev. John Fulcher, Chairman of the M. and M. Committee, the Rev. and Mrs. Edwards, Mr. Henry Woodside, the Rev. and Mrs. Norman McLeod and family, the Rev. Scott Milley, the Rev. and Mrs. A. Hunter and the host and hostess, the Reverend and Mrs. F. A. C. Dossie.

Assisting the conveners were Mrs. George Lothrop, Mrs. Arthur Cross, Mrs. J. S. Baldwin, Mrs. Z. W. Griffith, Mrs. W. O. Rothney, Mrs. F. A. C. Dossie, Mrs. L. W. Cook, Mrs. W. G. Cross, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Abbott.

Members of the Young Ladies' Guild acted most efficiently. They included Mrs. F. Patterson, Mrs. H. Rawlings, Mrs. G. Spafford, Mrs. W. E. Porter, Mrs. W. Rook, Mrs. E. Hodges, Mrs. C. Jameson, Mrs. R. MacLeay, Mrs. T. Marshall, Mrs. L. Pergau, the Misses Margaret Montgomery, Jean Larabee, Ruby Whitting, Vina Brownlow, Eunice McIntyre, Pearl Strew, Eva Hall and Ruth Billingsly.

The supper was delicious, including the piece de resistance, hot chicken pie, vegetables, salads, hot rolls, tea and coffee, and for dessert luscious apple, pumpkin and lemon pies.

That the hospitality of the W.M.S., of which Mrs. George Lothrop is President, was greatly appreciated was evinced on every side, several of the visitors voicing their thanks to the Pastor and members of Plymouth Church, whose co-operation with the M. and M. Committee, the Chairman of which presided over the Missionary Rally which

MAN OVERCOME BY FUMES IS RESUSCITATED

Overcome by seeping coal fumes from the furnace while he was in the room, S. Duval, forty, janitor of the York Apartments, 118 Wellington Street North, was revived at 9:30 o'clock this morning by members of the Sherbrooke Police and Fire Department, who used a pull-motor for more than thirty minutes. After the man was revived, he was removed by police to St. Vincent St. Hospital where he was treated by Dr. Roger Vaillancourt. Hospital authorities reported Duval's condition as fair.

According to police, Lionel Paquette, a local plumber, who was working in the building at the time with Michael Prevost, detected the coal fumes and started investigating. After being unable to open the room door, they forced a rear window and found Duval overcome in bed.

The Marquette Street Police and Fire Station was notified and Police Captain Arthur L'Heureux, Fire Captain Ernest Renaud, Sgt.-Detective Pierre Arcand and Constable Belisle rushed to the apartment block with the pullmotor. These members of the department were credited by Dr. Vaillancourt with saving Duval's life.

(Acting United States State Secretary Edward R. Stettinius took both military and political problems into account yesterday, declaring that the conference should contribute greatly to the achievement of what "we are all striving for, the complete defeat of the ruthless Nazis and the establishment of a just and lasting peace.")

Those accompanying Mr. Eden and Mr. Hull included W. Averell Harriman, newly-named U.S. Ambassador to the Soviet Union; Green Hekworth, U.S. State Department counsel; James Dunn, political adviser; Maj.-Gen. John Dean, U.S. Army; William Strang, British Assistant Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs; and Lt.-Gen. Sir Hastings Ismay, Chief of Staff of the British Ministry of Defence.

Washington, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Allied commissions to fix Russia's frontiers may result from the Moscow meeting of British, American and Russian Foreign Ministers at present underway.

Arrival yesterday of Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and United States State Secretary Cordell Hull in Moscow with a staff of personnel trained almost purely in European politics reinforced opinion here that the three-power conference would attempt to clear the road for settlement of Russian territorial demands. Recent issues of the Soviet information bulletins indicate that these include the Baltic states — Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania — Bessarabia and Bukovina in Rumania, the 1939 Finnish frontiers, and a large slice of Poland.

North and South of Kiev itself, the Moscow war bulletin reported that the Russians had "considerably improved their positions" beyond the West bank of the Dnieper in their pincer drive on the Ukrainian capital.

Yesterday's Russian gains against the crumbling German Dnieper defence system heralded what may prove to be a major disaster for the enemy, Moscow dispatches intimated. German radio commentators frankly admitted the gravity of the German position in Lower Russia and the Crimea.

followed the supper, also gratefully acknowledging the friendly gesture which had made possible the delightful social gathering which so happily concluded the celebration of the 108th anniversary of Plymouth Church.

At the anniversary services, conducted by Rev. F. A. C. Dossie, Dr. Woodside preached on the topics of "The Everlasting Gospel," and "What All the World's A-Seeking." The congregation was joined in the evening service by members from the Trinity United Church, and St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The special music was under the direction of C. V. (A Reuters news agency dispatch from the Drottningholm at Goeteborg mentioned Fred Gray of Tyndall, Man., as being aboard Gray, whose rank was not given in the dispatch, was captured at Dieppe and was quoted as saying he refused to believe Dieppe was a "decisive British defeat."

(The German news agency D. N. B. said in a Berlin broadcast recorded by the United States Federal Communications Commission that 5,000 seriously wounded German soldiers, medical corps members and sick merchant sailors would be returned from Britain and Africa.

(The announcement said it was expected that further repatriation movements would be agreed upon from time to time.)

Describing the Allied war invalids who boarded the Drottningholm at Goeteborg, Associated Press Correspondent Edwin Shanke said they were all smiles and full of hope for the future, although "some hobbled about on home-made peglegs, while some squinted at the bright autumn sunshine with but one good eye."

Associated Press correspondent John F. Chester, who watched the German repatriates boarding the Atlantis at a Scottish port last week, said their faces showed neither sorrow nor pain and "if they felt any joy at the prospect of returning to their fatherland it was carefully hidden."

none have such high hopes been built."

Looking back through the months of 1943, Smuts disclosed that the United Nations already have gone farther and achieved more than they had planned to do by next winter.

The real turning points of the war, he said, were Stalingrad and El Alamein, and while great American forces would play their decisive part, nothing could rob Russia and the British Commonwealth of the glory and honor of having turned the tide when the enemy was in sight of a colossal achievement.

Field Marshal Smuts admitted that the Russian contribution to the war has been immense, but said there had been no greater event in the war than the success of Allied strategy in the Mediterranean.

"I say with all emphasis that nothing comparable or of greater importance has been achieved in this war," Smuts' address contained a generous compliment to Prime Minister Churchill, of whom the South African said:

"You have found a leader greater than Clemenceau (Georges Clemenceau, Premier of France during the First Great War); and he will lead you to a more conclusive and fruitful victory than that of the last war."

from the target.

Last night's raid on Berlin was the second successive night assault on the German capital by the speedy Mosquito bombers, and their fourth this month. Mosquitoes also hit targets in Western Germany as well.

A procession of heavy bombers moved Eastward toward the continent early in the evening, and could scarcely have reached the target before a small force of German raiders crossed into East Anglia and South-east England around midnight, with attacks pressed as far as London.

It was London's third alert in as many nights. The raiders dropped flares and some explosives, causing at least two deaths and wreckage in some areas. A hot anti-aircraft barrage was thrown up against the Nazi planes, which instead of flying singly as in the recent past, managed a small formation in attacking one district.

In at least one London area, rescue workers still were digging in the ruins of a crowded apartment house hit Sunday night when the new raid was staged.

Canadian Lancaster squadrons participated in the Hanover raid and all returned.

The city, packed with vital war industries and the site of an important railway junction, now has been attacked 62 times. Three days after the last raid, which was delivered in force, fires still were raging in the city.

Beginning Sept. 22, the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. began a series of concentrated assaults on Hanover, following with another Sept. 27. Oct. 8 attack was thrown in conjunction with a subsidiary raid on Bremen.

and were ready to fall back. Their next stand is expected to be taken at Gaeta and along the Garigliano river, some 20 miles North of their present positions and 80 airline miles from Rome.

However, the Germans were still fighting stubbornly although being steadily pushed back by the recently reinforced 5th and 8th armies. Latest reports had the 5th Army occupying the towns of Cancello, Ruviano and Nerone, while Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's veterans were stabling through the Apennine Mountains in the direction of Rome.

The speed-up in the Allied advance was mostly due to the arrival of troops, tanks, guns, ammunition, food and other supplies which were debarked at Italian ports and quickly sent to the fighting fronts.

Capture of Nerone and Ruviano, situated on dominating heights North of the Volturno river, took place yesterday, as did the taking of Cancello, eight miles from the mouth of the Volturno in fighting that was described as fierce and fluid.

Equally fierce fighting was reported on the 8th Army front, where British and Canadian soldiers continued to advance. Latest town took fall there was the town of Montecellone, 10 miles Southwest of Ternoli on the Adriatic Coast. Field reports said enemy resistance was increasing along the entire 8th Army front.

Meanwhile Allied heavy bombers attacked Maritza air field on Rhodes and Kos Harbor in the Dodecanese and Syros harbor in the Aegean. In support of the ground forces on the peninsula bombers and fighters of the Northwest African force continued to rake the enemy's communications behind the fighting line.

Three Allied planes were reported as missing from all operations.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL URGES LOAN SUPPORT

Montreal, October 18.—Only a few weeks back from an official trip to Great Britain, W. M. Neal, Vice President of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, yesterday told the company's almost 70,000 employees that they must prove their right to the good fortune which is Canada's, in comparison to the rest of the war-torn world, by subscribing to the limit in the Fifth Victory Loan.

Speaking from his office in the Windsor Station here over a 7,569-mile wire circuit, extending from Halifax to Victoria in the most extensive private broadcast network in the history of Canadian communications, Mr. Neal told of the still unhealed scars of the Battle of Britain which he had seen on his trip.

It was Canada's good fortune that it could hope to emerge from the war "without the scars of actual conflict, and without its social and economic system reduced to the chaos which the enemy have created in almost all of Europe and much of Asia, said the general chairman of the committee directing officers and employees of the company in their drive for 12 1/2 per cent of the Canadian Pacific payroll as their part of Canada's objective of $1,200,000,000 in this loan.

Following Mr. Neal's speech a French version of the stirring message was read for a Quebec network by L. G. Prevost, K. C., of the company's law department.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK MARKET

Montreal, Oct. 19.—There were 458 cattle, 2,761 sheep and lambs, 543 hogs, and 675 calves for sale on the two Montreal livestock markets today, including 340 cattle, 2,500 lambs and around 600 calves held over from Monday's markets.

Since a couple of weeks butchers are quoted to slaughter so many heads per week and the last three or four weeks' receipts being heavy, several hundreds heads of livestock were held over from weeks to weeks. Yesterday's receipts being the heaviest for any one day this year to date brought about lower prices on practically all classes of livestock. Today's trading was practically at a standstill. Prices on calves and lambs were weak.

COUNTRY AND DAIRY PRODUCTS PRICES

Montreal, Oct. 19.—Tone was generally firm throughout dealings on the local produce market. Eggs were strong with supplies limited, especially of top grades, arrivals of which were insufficient for the demand. The Dominion Marketing Service reported prices were generally the same except that C's were 41 to 42 cents instead of 40 cents. On the potato market supplies continued heavy, demand good and the market steady with Maritime receipts bringing 5 cents or so more in range. Quebec continuing at $1.50 to $1.55 per 75-pound bag.

Arthabaska County in Zone Five is leading the eleven other counties, maintaining its same pace as in the two previous drives, by virtue of 27.7 per cent, which represents $232,050. Shefford district was in second place with a percentage of 7.5, while Compton and Nicolet Counties were fighting it out for third place with percentages of 6.6 and 6.1, respectively.

A total of $110,000 in special names was recorded in Shefford County.

Special names in Sherbrooke amounted to $1,380,000 in the opening day. These names included Sherbrooke Trust Company, $150,000; City of Sherbrooke, $50,000; Mrs. Gertrude A. Scott, of Lennoxville, $150,000; J. S. Mitchell & Company,

The Victory Loan campaign in Brome County opened with a rally at Sutton at which Corporal Brenda M. Willis, of the R.C.A.F., Women's Division, was the guest of honor. Mrs. Willis is stationed at No. Nine Bombing and Gunnery School at Mount Joli. She joined the R.C.A.F. in February, 1942, and was the first woman in North America to qualify as a meteorologist.

Her husband, Captain Lawler Willis, is Overseas with the 32nd Canadian "Recon" Regiment. Her brother and two brothers-in-law are also on Active Service in England. Mrs. Willis received special leave from her Commanding Officer to be in Brome County to open the Victory Loan drive.

Douglas Erskine and A. J. Darragh, Joint Chairmen of Brome County, were unable to be present because of illness. Mrs. Willis gave a short talk, describing within the limits of service regulations her life in the R.C.A.F., and stated that the work of Brome County in Victory Loan campaigns was appreciated by those in the armed services.

The committee for Sutton then turned in applications amounting to 12 to 1-2 per cent of the town's objective.

St. Etienne de Bolton was the first canvassing district in the county to pass its objective and has reached 165 per cent.

Richmond County reported that the York Knitting Mills' employees have exceeded their quota. They are the first payroll savings plant in the county to do so.

Work Carried On By Colonization Society Under Review At Meeting

All settlement societies should plan for the time when thousands of servicemen will be returning to the land in the post-war years, Rt. Rev. Philip Carrington, Lord Bishop of Quebec told the annual meeting of the Eastern Townships Protestant Colonization Society here yesterday.

Bishop Carrington also praised the close link between the Eastern Townships Society and the Quebec Protestant Colonization Society, which was carrying on a valuable work in other parts of the Province. The Quebec group has been entirely reorganized recently.

Rev. R. W. Carr, of Cookshire, was re-elected as President, and the other officers for the coming year were named as follows: Honorary Presidents, Rt. Rev. P. Carrington, Quebec, D. J. Salls, Sherbrooke, and Rev. W. Edwards, President of the Quebec-Sherbrooke Presbytery of the United Church of Canada; Vice-President, Rev. W. J. Rowe, Bury; Secretary-Treasurer, R. W. S. Nutbrown, Sherbrooke.

A report of the cordwood had resulted in a marked boost in the financial condition of the Newport colonists. Mr. Carr said in his President's report. However, the church in the colony had suffered considerable damage as the result of frosts and poor drainage and on his recommendation approval was given the work ordered by the Secretary Treasurer to remedy the situation.

The President also expressed the belief that the best interests of the colony would be served if future applications for entry to the colony were received without interference or prejudice.

The educational problems of the colony also came in for considerable attention at the business session held

$200 IN BONDS TO BE AWARDED AT NEW PREMIER

R. L. Vallee, Manager of the New Premier Theatre, announced today that $200 in Victory Bonds will be given away to patrons holding lucky tickets. The drawings will take place on the stage of this popular show house twice weekly during the first and last weeks of the Fifth Victory Loan drive when a total of four $50 bonds will go to the winners.

The first $50 Bond will be changed off this evening at 8:30 o'clock. The winning person gets the Victory Bond immediately following the drawing. Every moviegoer is entitled to a chance to win a Bond. With every paid admission, a ticket bearing a number is given those attending any show from now on.

The drawing for the next Bond will be held on Friday evening at the same time, while the last two are to be given away on November 2 and 5, respectively.

Victory Bond Nights are not an innovation at the New Premier Theatre, as Manager Vallee has followed this procedure during past Victory Loan campaigns.

LAST TRIBUTE ACCORDED TO GEORGE W. LOKE

An impressive tribute was paid to the memory of the late George William Loke when many friends gathered at Blake's Funeral Home for the funeral service which was conducted by the Rev. Fred Williams. Mr. Loke passed away at his late home last Friday morning. Relatives and comrades in the South African War assembled to pay a last tribute to the popular veteran. Interment took place at Elmwood Cemetery where the Last Post was sounded by Pte. Voyer, of the Veterans' Guard of Canada, now stationed at the local Internment Camp.

Mr. Loke, a veteran of the South African War, enlisted first in 1901. He served at Malta, Gibraltar, Bermuda and South Africa, and also served in the Zulu Rebellion of 1906. He leaves to mourn his death: his wife, three sons, George, Stanley and Sydney, all serving in the Canadian Army, three daughters-in-law and four grandchildren.

Bearers were all members of the Canadian Legion: Jim Strickland, J. Fitzsimmons, G. Newman, G. Chapman, A. Nelson and A. Smith. Honorary bearers were T. Keeley, M. Howcroft, A. Walker and G. Bighie, all South African War Veterans and comrades of the late Mr. Loke.

CADETS OF 67TH SQUADRON HOLD WEEKLY PARADE

New uniforms are being issued and those which have grown too small are being replaced. Boots of standard R. C. A. F. pattern are to be issued shortly to all the Squadron at a nominal charge.

Lectures are being given regularly by local civilian instructors, who have taken qualifying courses and by instructors from the Windsor Mills Flying School.

An outstanding event of the evening was a visit by LAC, Gilles Lesard, a former member of the Squadron who is presently stationed at

O God, Who art the author of peace and lover of concord, defend us Thy humble servants in all assaults of our enemies.

A DEFINITE CHALLENGE

Initial indications are that the response to the Fifth Canadian Victory Loan of the present war will be generally satisfactory, with the subscriptions on the opening day being well up to the expectations of the organizers, but there is one important matter which must be impressed upon the minds of Canadians in general—the objective of $1,200,000,000 asked by the Government is not the top limit sought, rather it is the bare, essential minimum which the national leaders believe necessary to bridge the gap between Government revenues and Government expenditures upon all accounts during the next six months.

Thus the call is issued to every Canadian that he or she must subscribe to the new issue to the full extent of their resources. The question they must answer for themselves is how much they can take in the Fifth Victory Loan and not how little, for it is only by the substantial oversubscription of the Fifth Victory Loan that Canada can display to the world—friend and enemy alike—that it is wholeheartedly behind the war. Undersubscription is unthinkable, to meet the objective indicates half-heartedness and war-weariness, but a substantial over-subscription is a certain sign of the will to victory.

CONFUSION WORSE CONFOUNDED

To those outsiders seeking to understand the somewhat involved political situation in the Province of Quebec, the events of the past few days must have tended to further confuse an already complicated issue. On one hand, the leader of the Official Opposition is found condemning the principles of public ownership of utilities—as proposed by the Government. Long and loud was his denunciation of the proposal of Premier Godbout to expropriate the Montreal Light Heat and Power Consolidated. In his La Tique declaration he declared that it was necessary to have the resources of the Province developed for the benefit of the people and that same capital, which he asserted meant private initiative exercised within the limits of justice and equity, carries within itself the living germs of progress, prosperity and stability.

Furthermore he doubted the good faith of the Government in making the declaration on expropriation and hints that it is either a political manoeuvre which will never be fulfilled or that it is designed to enrich the friends of the Government by permitting them to buy up the shares thrown on the market by panic-stricken investors at sacrifice prices.

This rather complicates the position of the Opposition leader with his one-time allies, Dr. Philippe Hamel, Paul Gouin, Jean Marché, René Chaloult and Edouard Lacroix, who have been operating the Bloc Populaire in recent months. Not only has Duplessis apparently split once and for all with his erstwhile friends, but they themselves are suffering severe internal pains. Supposedly the champion of the common people, a certain section of the party finds the support of the Bloc Member of Parliament, reputedly a millionaire or better, somewhat embarrassing to their pleas of poverty, honesty and the absence of campaign funds. Thus, this group in a public statement have read themselves out of the party publicly but indicate they will support it privately.

Which brings in the C.C.F. who are also making a bid for support in Quebec Province with their programme of advanced Socialism. However, theirs is a nation-wide scheme rather than a Provincial one, so that they have hopes of pulling in votes from all quarters.

To all of this is added the question of participation in the war, each group having ideas of its own as to the best way of limiting Canadian participation. And out of this plethora of ideas and platforms, complicated by the rise of individual personalities, the electors of Quebec Province will be called upon to make a reasoned choice in the near future.

HITLER LEARNS ONE LESSON

Hitler, the much-vaunted creator of the greatest military machine in the history of man and master of intuition as winners of battles, apparently has learned one thing from the progress of the war to date—it takes something more than men, guns and planes to win wars. At the crucial moment in this history of a nation there is something greater that is equally important, the morale and will to fight of the people. And this he admits learning from the people of Great Britain. Even if the admission is only half-hearted, it is definite and came in an article in Der Fuehrer's own newspaper, Voelkischer Beobachter, which sought to prop sagging German morale against what it calls "dead spots" such as Stalingrad, by advising the Germans to copy their British enemies.

"Sometimes life no longer seems to run forward," it said. "It seems that one has reached the highest output of strength, power, organization and power of invention for war."

"But that is not enough. Today we must be stubborn. Stand on stiff legs and be obstinate as the Britons, who have shown this character when faced by dark moments. To fight against these dead spots is the duty of all Germans. Today we know that in the big German nation nothing can be impossible."

This is in marked contrast to the earlier boasts of the German leaders that National Socialism had made the Huns into a race of super-men who would find little difficulty in wiping the thick-headed English off the face of the earth and had definitely eliminated the Russians for all time.

In the meantime reports of the crucial struggle on the Russian front give the impression that the Hitlerites are on the verge of another great withdrawal of their line in face of the continued Soviet onslaught. As a matter of fact, an unexplained German official reference to a "big detaching movement" of Nazi forces invites speculation whether a fresh retreat is not already in its initial stages. This whole vast front of more than one thousand miles is in a state of volcanic eruption at half a dozen strategic points. At the moment, however, the crisis is pivoting in the South.

The Russians have made a major breach on the German Dnieper line North of Dnepropetrovsk on the bend of the great river and threaten to surround big Hitlerite forces to the South. Also in danger of being cut off is the Nazi-occupied Crimea.

The Crimea has a special significance beyond the fact that it is an important part of the general engagement. The big peninsula is connected with the mainland to the North by the spindly isthmus of Perekop. The hard-driving Russians to the North are fighting in the City of Melitopol which is the right-wing anchor of Hitler's line and is one hundred miles East of Perekop isthmus. Now that isthmus provides the only land avenue for something like one hundred thousand Nazi troops who are cooped up on the Crimea. It is reported in Stockholm, that the Fuehrer has ordered these forces to "defend, if necessary, to the last man," this peninsula which, as things now stand, is the key to domination of the Black Sea and is thus a mighty atom in the war.

But in event of the annihilation of the German army on the Crimea, Hitler, Goering and Goebbels will have some explaining to do to create "stubbornness" to withstand the shock among the German people.

LIFTING THE BAN

The action of the Dominion Government in lifting the ban on Jehovah's Witnesses and a number of other organizations will be hailed generally by the Canadian people as in line with the principle of free speech for which this country is fighting. Whether or not the doctrines preached by these groups are sound or whether they are fallacious is aside from the argument. They have a number of supporters, the exact extent of which is undetermined, many others study their preachings in the light of spectators, but to the average Canadian they are a pain in the neck. Most people are convinced that they should have their heads examined and believe they are more entitled to be treated as mental cases rather than as criminals.

Be this as it may, they are entitled to express their views, subject to the usual laws of libel and of criminal responsibility for subversive utterances. But aside from this, they are considered by most people as more of a nuisance than as a danger.

THE FAT STOCK SHOW

Tomorrow will mark the official opening of the three-day Provincial Fat Stock Show and sale at the Sherbrooke Arena.

This will be the eighth year for this Show and the increasing success achieved each year bespeaks the popularity of this event and the important part which it is playing in the agricultural life of this community and of the Province of Quebec as a whole.

The organizers have received authorization from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board for exemption from price ceilings on the fat cattle, market lambs and bacon hogs, which will be exhibited and sold during the sale.

There can be no argument that this sale has contributed substantially towards improving "the production of quality meat" in the Province of Quebec and too much encouragement cannot be given to those who are devoting their energies towards its continuance.

The importance of the sale may be gauged by the fact that $2,000 has been offered for prizes by the Quebec Department of Agriculture.

This year's Show and Sale promises to be one of the best yet held and should receive the support and encouragement of the public generally.

PRESS COMMENTS

SENATOR IS OUTSPOKEN

St. Thomas Times-Journal.
Businessmen everywhere in Canada will agree with a statement made by Senator William Duff with regard to the "complexities and irritations" caused by Government business controls. Senator Duff is former Liberal member of the House of Commons, who was elevated to the Senate by Mackenzie King in 1936, but his political leanings haven't interfered with his independence of thought in this matter. A news story in the Halifax Herald of recent date says:

The Senator said frankly that the complexities and irritations of trying to carry on an export business under "present restrictions, bureaucratic red tape and quota and controls" has become almost impossible, especially when not only the Canadian but American Government regulations now apply to many fish shipments.

Government departments at Ottawa have no idea what a business man has to go through," he said. "These regulations require such labor and bookkeeping and accountancy staffs that ordinary office help is powerless to cope with the flood of duplicate, triplicate and sextuplicate manifests, permits, bills of lading and permissive forms of all kinds, which are mostly unnecessary. It's just bewildering and the delays are ruinous, when perishable cargo is involved."

"When I take it up with the Minister he tells me he can't interfere with his own staff, you imagine such an answer? Business men are badgered to death trying to comply with the regulations, which are getting tougher and tougher and which are being issued to responsible men who know their own business, when the officials have often been pitchforked into position without any qualification whatever in the business world or the matters which come up in their own departments."

Well spoken, Senator. It is to be hoped he will carry this matter to Ottawa and follow the suggestion of the Ottawa Journal to launch a debate on it in the Senate.

STRAIN IN FOR A GLOAT

Windsor Star.
It is part of the job of Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, to extract all possible satisfaction out of Canada's achievements in trade. That is no reason, however, why he should throw his hat in the air over the obvious, and that is what he did, triumphantly announcing that this Dominion is now the third largest trading nation in the world.

Where could Canada be other than in third place? Every other serious rival, with the exception of Britain and the United States, is now out of the trading picture. Germany, France, Russia and Japan, to mention the largest ones, are much too busy with a war to engage in international commerce, so Canada, her industries booming with military production and her exports swelled by the free gift of a billion dollars' worth of goods a year to her Allies, automatically steps into third position.

There is, of course, satisfaction to be taken from our increase—if one is not too squeamish about gloating over the unfortunate circumstances which have furnished the stimulus—but there is no reason why we should make ourselves look slightly silly by cheering over an "accomplishment" which has forced itself upon us.

MORRISON'S EMPIRE DEFENCE

New York Herald-Tribune.
A forthright defence of the British Empire from a Laborite cabinet minister—even when it is so moderate a Laborite as Mr. Herbert Morrison—may seem surprising to that considerable number of Americans who still regard the Empire as axiomatically a shameful thing, and themselves as entitled to pass righteously superior judgment upon it. Probably they do not realize to what an extent the British, of all parties, are taking a new pride in that peculiar institution; or how fully they responded to Mr. Churchill's celebrated statement that he had not become Prime Minister in order to preside over its liquidation.

Mr. Morrison, addressing his American critics ("I am talking of the genuine critics—not of those tough, unscrupulous tacticians who do not hesitate to make of Anglo-American relations and the hope of world peace a mere pawn in some dark, devious industrial or political game") has no apologies for it; he calls the "Empire" and not a "commonwealth," and that it compares favorably with other forms of political organization in the several sections of the world which it occupies.

It would not be quite fair to call the spirit which he well voices a "new imperialism," for it is not expansionist or motivated by dreams of imperial exploitation. But it does reflect a conviction that the Empire has proved a thing of immense value and strength in meeting the world's crisis; that it is, despite its admitted faults, continually improving in its power to serve the peoples who live in its orbit, and that it is conducted better and more liberally, in all its various contrasting parts, than would be likely under any visible alternative. It reflects a new but still humane and progressive British belief in themselves and their works.

Mr. Morrison makes an excellent case for the British determination not to see that very remarkable work destroyed.

(The critics) think that the very idea of empire is out of date. The only mild report I would make is that their idea of an empire certainly is. They are idealists, and they profoundly believe that their political ideas are thirty or forty years in advance of the British Empire. It may be that the Empire has not improved quite as far as the British believe. But none can overlook their renewed belief and pride in it.

HE LOVED INDIA

St. Thomas Times-Journal.
Lord Meston, who died in England on Friday, spent many years in administrative departments in India and South Africa. He was twice in India, first a financial adviser, and spent the last 14 years of his official life there, retiring in 1919. He served as Lieutenant-Governor of Agra and Oudh, and represented India in the Imperial War Cabinet.

One of the historic investigations of Indian affairs took place in London in 1919 when a joint committee of the Lords and Commons took evidence and produced what came to be known as the Montagu-Chelmsford report which played a large part in the succeeding discussions that brought Gandhi and others to London. One of the witnesses called by that committee was Lord Meston. One of the first questions put to him by the chairman was: "You have just returned from India for good?"

Lord Meston paused, brokenly said, "Yes, I am sorry to say my time was up," then laid his head on the table and sobbed. It was some time before he recovered his composure sufficiently to proceed with his evidence.

Lord Meston was deeply attached to India and the Indian people. Many other servants of the British Government in India and other parts of the Empire experience the same feelings. Members of the Civil Service, who were raised in fine British homes, who were educated at Oxford, Cambridge or some other university, and who might have spent their lives in comfortable, even luxurious surroundings at home, go to remote parts of the Empire and devote their lives to working for the native peoples in tropical and sometimes not very healthy areas; but when the day comes that they can come home for good and enjoy retirement, they leave with genuine sorrow.

The best friends these natives have are the British civil servants who administer justice with an even hand, and who feel that greatest reward is that they have left the country a better place than when they went there.

WHOLESOME POLITICAL BREEZES

Fort William Times-Journal.
Wholesome breezes are being wafted into the political air of Canada. Like most of Canada's benign winds they blow out of the West. It really is wholesome to see staunch journalistic supporters of the two old line parties reading lectures to the powers that be in their respective parties and urging on them prompt and forthright courses. Just to hand are issues of the Winnipeg Tribune and the Vancouver Sun. The Tribune, which admits that it is an enthusiastic believer in the leadership of John Bracken, calls upon him to assume at the earliest possible opportunity the full role of leadership of the Progressive Conservative party by obtaining a seat in Parliament and being in the House during the next session, which will be most important and memorable in a historical sense. The Sun, which is in general a supporter of the Liberal party, calls upon the Government at Ottawa to make clear, and unmistakably define, its plans and its policies for continuing the war effort and for the welfare and happiness of the Canadian people after the war.

In both these significant pronouncements are reflected the fervent, if somewhat naive, protests of the Canadian electorate against anything in the nature of the current stage in Canada's affairs. As to Mr. Bracken and his role as a leader of a great and historical party the Tribune believes that the time has come for him to direct and lead the opposition on the floor of the House. As to the administration now in charge of affairs at Ottawa the Sun believes the time has come for a positive outlining of present and post-war policies The Tribune, a supporter of Mr. Bracken ever since his choice as leader, has sounded a call that he cannot disregard and that he is not likely to disregard. The Sun has also sounded a clarion call that is likely to have repercussions in Ottawa.

In these tremendous times there are certain matters that count heavily and there are others that are as the froth on the waves. The people are looking to the Government for just such firm and abiding declarations as are suggested by the Sun. The people are looking to Mr. Bracken as the Leader of the Opposition to add his voice to the debates and deliberations of Parliament. They want him to co-operate with the Government in the one great purpose of winning the war and they want him to criticize and denounce anything he thinks inimical to the war effort or the interests of the country.

The editorials in these two Western papers are straws in the wind which show the current of public opinion. The people want politics in the sense of the most intelligent and advanced section of government. They do not want that lowest form of politics which is known as party politics and which only seeks to advance its own interests at the expense of the people.

TEAM OF SERGEANTS WINS DEFT VICTORY

The friendship between Sgt. Morris Ellis and Sgt. Phil Abramson of New York is often commented upon. Abramson is strictly a percentage player, while Ellis is noted for his ability to out-fox the foe.

I was watching them play in a recent duplicate game in which today's hand came up. While there was nothing unusual in the bidding, several pairs who bid six failed to make it, and a few pairs failed to arrive at the six contract. When East's opening lead of the ace of diamonds held, he shifted to the eight of clubs. Abramson (North) went right up with dummy's ace then turned to me and said, "Of course if the heart suit breaks there is nothing to the hand. And if West has the four hearts, he's going to be squeezed."

Abramson figured, when East sided to the eight of clubs, that West held both the king and queen of clubs. So he simply started to run his spades. When he played the last spade at trick nine, West was helpless. Having to bare down to

The marriage of Miss Marion Swail Wedleigh to Pte-Sergeant Clayton Romayne Gordon took place on Wednesday, October 6th, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. W. H. Truscott, of the Ulverton United Church, officiating.

Campbell, of Dalesville, Que., to Mr. Mason Henry Crosby, son of the late William Crosby and Mrs. Crosby, of Stanbury, Que., was solemnized on Saturday, October 2, at four o'clock in the afternoon, at the home of the bride's parents.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Hicks, while Mr. Harold Hodge, of Montreal, who presided at the piano, played softly throughout the service. Miss Eleanor Young, of Montreal, attended the bride as maid of honor, and Mr. Ralph Crosby supported his brother.

- 1 cup custard sauce
- 1 package JELL-O (Strawberry, Raspberry or Cherry)

Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Turn into shallow pan. Chill until firm. Cut in cubes. Place cubes lightly in sherbert or parfait glasses. Pour custard sauce over the cubes of shimmering Jell-O. Serves 6 to 8.

Easy, isn't it? And here's an idea for Jell-O Puddings:

JELL-O TRIFLE

- 1 package JELL-O PUDDING (any flavor, but vanilla is specially good)
- 6 or 7 squares plain cake
- Home-made jam

Prepare Jell-O Pudding as directed on the package. Spread top of each square of cake with jam. Place squares of cake in individual dessert dishes. When pudding is cool, pour over cake and chill.

This recipe gives 6 or 7 servings of as delightful a dessert as you ever tasted. You can thank the unvarying quality of Jell-O Puddings for that full, rich flavor—that smooth, creamy consistency.

"Come Ye Thankful People, Come Raise the Song of Harvest Home." This invitation was answered by the people of St. Paul's parish, Knowlton, when Thanksgiving service and social evening were held under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild. The church was adorned with harvest decorations, reflecting the beauty and bounty of "Nature." The same scheme was carried out in the hall, where the "V" for victory arrangement predominated. The service was conducted by Rev. Canon Mason assisted by Rev. James Bancroft, Rev. Rural Dean Lidstone, of Stanstead, gave the address which inspired his listeners with a deep sense of thankfulness and praise. Taking the general Thanksgiving from the Prayer-Book for his theme, the speaker related the prayer to our present day blessings, safe homes, peaceful night skies, unmoiled harvests, the opportunity to give to the "Victory Loan" and other worthy causes, and the chance to worship freely as on the present occasion. The speaker referred to the priests of two hundred years ago to whom we ought to feel grateful for their courage and vision, which made our present-day churches possible. Rev. Mr. Lidstone praised the autumn handiwork of the "Master Architect," "the giver of every good and perfect gift." He reminded his listeners that in other countries, church members were kneeling under the open sky on stones that had formed the foundation of their ancient churches, which had been reduced to rubble. Groups of soldiers were meeting in army carriers to celebrate the memory of our Lord. "We professed to admire the sacrifices they were making so that we might continue our freedom to worship. We could only give real meaning to our words, however," he said, "by giving up ourselves to His service and by walking before Him in holiness and righteousness all our days." Following the service, the congregation met in the church hall, where refreshments were served. A quiz programme and community singing completed the evening. Votes of

At The New Premier

One of the most memorable romances ever written for the stage,
Robert E. Sherwood's "Waterloo Bridge" has been made into a timely and tender love story, starring Vivien Leigh and Robert Taylor, and coming tomorrow to the Premier Theatre.

With its vital and exciting background of London of the war years, 1917 and 1940, the story is woven around a baller dancer and an aristocratic young British officer, who meet on historic Waterloo Bridge during an air raid and seek shelter in the Waterloo underground. They realize that they are in love almost at first sight and their whirlwind courtship is telegraphed into twenty-four happy hours. But before they can be married he is called back to the front. Later she reads his name among the dead and life fails to hold anything for her. Their almost miraculous reunion at Waterloo Station, when he returns after being held in a prison camp, brings their romance dramatically to a climax.

Miss Leigh is the most talked of actress on the screen today as the result of her Academy Award performance of Scarlett O'Hara in "Gone with the Wind." People have naturally asked, "After Scarlett, what?" The answer is "Waterloo Bridge." No role could be further apart than Scarlett and the little baller dancer, Myra, whom Miss

Leigh plays in the film. They have only one thing in common—magnificent acting opportunities which reveal further Miss Leigh's amazing versatility.

The other picture is "Highways
by Night," starring Richard Carlson and Jane Randolph. The plot of the story revolves around the experiences of a wealthy young theorist who decided to go and learn how the other half lives.

L.H.S. DOWNS SHERBROOKE JUNIORS 15-11

Sutherland Chalks Up Three Majors To Steal Whole Show

In a fast, hard-fought game played at the Parade Grounds, Lennoxville High School's one-man team took S.H.S. for a ride yesterday afternoon.

Sutherland, L.H.S. half, went on a mad scoring rampage to count three touchdowns against the locals. Playing every position, Sutherland took part in almost every Lennoxville play and broke up Sherbrooke attempts to gain yards time and time again. He persistently tore around the S.H.S. players for seemingly impossible end runs of twenty, thirty and forty yards. His first touchdown came on a thirty-yard dash when he circled the Sherbrooke end, skirting the offside line practically all the way. Sutherland, realizing the S.H.S. weak spot, knew a good thing when he saw it and kept at end runs until they paid off in two more majors.

McMillan, Black and Greenberg played good games for Sherbrooke offensively but were weak on tackling as were their team-mates. McMillan and Black each scored a touchdown with Greenberg setting the ball rolling in both cases.

In the first quarter, Greenberg kicked the ball deep into S.H.S. territory. Sutherland took the pigskin and covered twenty-five yards before he was stopped. On the third down, Sutherland kicked and Greenberg reapt up the field in a beautiful forty-yard end-run, thereby setting the stage for a Sherbrooke touchdown. Greenberg advanced the ball from the ten-yard to the two on a strong eight-yard buck. From through the mass of players for a time, McMillan battled his way to a touchdown. Greenberg's attempt to convert was spoiled by Everett.

Not to be outdone, Sutherland came back with a thirty-yard end-run that was good for a touchdown in the second quarter, after a series of bucks and plunges. The convert didn't click. The score being tied at five-all, both sides tightened up and play was centred around the middle of the field for the remaining few minutes.

At the opening of the second half,

Greenberg botched for forty yards, Sutherland retaliated with a thirty-five-yard end run, Sutherland and Greenberg then embarked on a little kicking competition, each running the other's kick back a good distance and each pulling a thirty-yard run. On Sherbrooke's second down, an attempted pass by Holtham was intercepted on Lennoxville's fifty and raced sixty yards for his second major of the day. The convert again failed. Sherbrooke then started an attack but it fizzled out, largely due to stout tackling by Sutherland.

The Lennoxville "whiz" started things off in the last quarter with a broken-field running forty-yard end run. Johnson pushed through to Sherbrooke's five on a straight plunge. Sutherland came through with the pay-off in fine shape, tearing around the S.H.S. end for his hat-trick. Pettis came back with a twenty-five-yard end-run and two plays later Black went over for a Sherbrooke touchdown. Greenberg was successful on the try for the convert. Sherbrooke didn't get a chance to tie up the score because Sutherland got hold of the pigskin and gained so many yards at a crack that the S.H.S. boys didn't see much of the ball. The whistle blew to give Coach Campbell's lads a 15-11 win.

MODIFIED N.H.L. RULES HELP TO SPEED UP PLAY

Quebec, Oct. 19.—(C)—Manager Art Ross of the National Hockey League Boston Bruins seemed very happy today. Although the Bruins were held to a 3-3 draw by the Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League in an exhibition game here yesterday, Art seemed very pleased with his team's performance.

The Bruins manager, of course, is taking into consideration that his charges put on skates for the first time in the middle of the week and also the snappy performance turned in by the Crowley-Cain-Jackson line. Harvey Bennett of Oshawa Generals and Maurice Courteau, former Washington Lions goaler, were given a crack in goal and they both showed smart form but Art hasn't decided yet. Jean Paul Renaud, of Montreal, formerly with Q.S.H.L. Royals, is third on the list and although he was not picked for the exhibition game that doesn't mean he is eliminated.

The new N.H.L. rules allowing the defending team to pass up the centre ice from defence without drawing an offensive penalty, a red line being drawn at centre ice to indicate the new zone, and stating that players facing off now will face their opponents goal instead of the side of the rink, was tested for the first time yesterday.

Generally speaking, the new rules proved to be help in speeding the play, eliminating many slow-down offside. Bruins Captain Dit Clapper said he liked the two rulings and Art Ross already has given his approval.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By CHARLES EDWARDS, Canadian Press Staff Writer.

Toronto, Oct. 19.—(C)—The Broda case adds fuel to the belief, common among Canadian sport fans, that players on certain service hockey teams receive more than regular service pay.

Canadians don't take kindly to the idea that a few men of military age may be making extra money by staying in Canada to play hockey while others fight overseas. This belief reflects more seriously upon the services than upon the players. When any man enlists he places himself at the disposal of Army, Navy or Air Force. If hockey influences his position it is the services' responsibility. But hockey is an infinitely lesser role than that of a fighting man and the hockey player deserves no special favours.

On good authority it is learned the boys overseas don't take kindly to reports of enlisted hockey players remaining in Canada season after season while other less athletically-gifted men move to the fighting front.

The Broda case is an off-shoot of the problem. Turk Broda, 29, goalkeeper for Toronto Leafs in the National Hockey League, received his call-up notice to report before midnight October 14 in Toronto. He had indicated intention to join the army and play hockey with the Toronto Army team next winter.

Early on October 15 Broda was taken from a Montreal-bound train by R.C.M.P. after he had failed to report in Toronto as ordered. He was promptly turned over to the army for induction. It was reported that a man connected with the Montreal Army hockey team was with Broda on the train.

The inference is that Broda had been offered financial inducement to enlist in Montreal at the last minute and had decided to accept.

This corner believes without question that the services themselves pay no extra money to hockey players. However, Snapshots joins in the fans' suspicions that those financially interested in hockey either high-class players into the services in certain cities with attractive money offers.

Money paid to amateur hockey players is invariably described by both parties to the transaction as a "gift." But offending players should either be prohibited from playing hockey or be transferred elsewhere. Probably no greater punishment could be given such men than to make them play hockey for nothing.

SHERBROOKE IN CRUCIAL MATCH AGAINST B.C.S.

Sherbrooke High and Bishop's College School will clash for their third time this season tomorrow afternoon when they will come together for a game that will have the unofficial Eastern Townships interscholastic championship at stake.

So far the local school has made a fine showing in the games that have been played this year and in their home and home series with Stansfeld College and Bishop's College School teams they have won two out of the three games played. Both these games were taken from Stansfeld and their one loss was chalked up on the Parade Grounds two weeks ago when Bishop's took a close win. It is for this reason that the game tomorrow is so important, because if Bishop's should win they will have an almost clean sweep of the field since it is very much doubted that Stansfeld will be able to hold the heavy attackers. Should Sherbrooke High win their game tomorrow afternoon another game will be necessary and the High would have a fair chance of coming through.

A most successful season was held by the club this year and one of the largest fields of entries ever to take part in the club tournaments was fielded this summer. Competition was keen all through the tournament and officials announced that during the summer months more people made use of the three courts both in the day time and at night than at any other time in the history of the club. The executive wishes to thank all who helped to make the season such a success and they hope that next year the same rapid pace will be set in all activities.

The school will be at one disadvantage tomorrow afternoon in the fact that they will be playing away from home. This will influence their play to a certain extent, but they will also have one factor to their credit and that is that their star backfielder, Charlie Bunting, will line up with them and it is expected that his assistance will help the team considerably.

TROPHIES TO BE PRESENTED ON SATURDAY

The Jacques Cartier Tennis Association will bring their season to a close on Saturday night when they have their annual distribution of prizes and trophies to the members. The evening's entertainment which will be held at the pavilion at Jacques Cartier Park will begin at about eight-thirty and will include a lunch as well as dancing and other forms of entertainment.

The cups to be presented to the winners of the various sections of the club tournaments will be presented by the officials of the club and all the trophies were purchased with the membership fees as well as the entry fees for the tournament.

The public is invited to attend this evening's entertainment on Saturday night, and it is expected that a large number of friends of the players will take advantage of the hospitality offered by the Jacques Cartier officials.

Among those who will be receiving trophies and prizes at the pavilion will be Miss Rita McGenty, the women's singles champion, Jean Marie Cote, the men's singles champion, Miss Carmen Charest and Jean Marie Cote, the mixed doubles champions, the Misses Annette and Carmen Charest, the women's doubles champions, and Jean Marie Cote and Bill Blodgett, the men's doubles champions.

A most successful season was held by the club this year and one of the largest fields of entries ever to take part in the club tournaments was fielded this summer. Competition was keen all through the tournament and officials announced that during the summer months more people made use of the three courts both in the day time and at night than at any other time in the history of the club. The executive wishes to thank all who helped to make the season such a success and they hope that next year the same rapid pace will be set in all activities.

The school will be at one disadvantage tomorrow afternoon in the fact that they will be playing away from home. This will influence their play to a certain extent, but they will also have one factor to their credit and that is that their star backfielder, Charlie Bunting, will line up with them and it is expected that his assistance will help the team considerably.

Montreal, Oct. 19.—(C)—Like the neighboring Boston Bruins at Quebec, Montreal Canadiens, opening pre-season drills here tonight, will be primarily interested in settling a goale problem.

Last season's netminder, Paul Bibeault has joined the army and gone to the wars. They have called up Bert Gardiner, their property on loan to Chicago Black Hawks last season, and have also available Bill Durnan of the Quebec Royals. Also in the running is Jerry McNeil, 17-year-old Quebec Aces junior star.

Mike McMahon, bumping defenceman from last year's club, is being counted on for the rearguard along with Leo Lamoureux, Emile Bouchard and Glen Harmon, also on the club call last year.

Art Lessard, formerly with Canadian Juniors and senior Quebec Aces, will also try for a defence berth. There is quite a hole to fill in this department, Jack Portland and Charlie Phillips, also having gone to the services.

Murph Chamberlain's future is indefinite but Coach Dick Irvin is half counting on him to fill up the centre berths with Barry O'Connor and Elmer Lach.

Captain Toe Blake will be back on his old left wing spot and he will have Maurice Richard, last year's rookie-of-the-year candidate, for one relief. Despite his announcement that he had retired from hockey, Canadians hope to be able to persuade Ray Gelfin to provide their third post-ster.

The right wing lane is the club's worry spot with Joe Benoit and Gordie Drillon, both missing this season. Dutch Hiller and Charlie Sands are expected to report and Canadian officials have made an approach to Jerry Heffernan, a teammate of Buddy O'Connor on the amateur Royals' famous razzle-dazzle line of two years ago.

Among the newcomers reporting to start training is Larry Reardon, brother of the famous Terry and Kenny, who has just arrived from Moose Jaw. He plays either centre or right wing. Another is Tommy Findale, of Morrisburg, Ont. John Dinning from Hamilton, Ont., and Fernand Majerus of Royals are others.

Trials will also be given Alex Smart, Smiley Meronek, Andre Perron, Bernie Lauzon, Tod Campeau and Bobby Filion, all Q.S.H.L. players.

Negotiations are still under way for the Lemay brothers, Tony and Albert of Ottawa and Winnipeg. They may report the last of next week.
