

Cancer Support Virus Theory

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — (AP) — Top United States virus experts today presented new and surprising evidence that human cancers probably are caused by viruses.

They also reported that some viruses, contrary to current scientific opinion, can produce substances which destroy cancers.

If specific viruses can be pinpointed in human cancers, new methods might be developed to prevent or control the disease. "Every man in a walking museum of many viruses," Dr. Jerome T. Sylvester of the University of Minnesota told a seminar for science writers sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Man harbors more than 150 viruses, mostly just recently detected, and "we are not sure what many of them do," he said. "But, now we believe that some human cancers must be caused by viruses."

Dr. Sarah Stewart of the National Cancer Institute, Bethesda, Md., reported that extracts from two human cancers, and from the urine of three children with cancer have produced curious, cancer-like growth changes in healthy human cells grown in laboratory dishes.

There are grounds to suspect—but no proof yet—that the extracts could contain a virus.

She also has found that a virus causing leukemia in mice can induce cancers in other types of animals. And humans handling the cancerous mice have been found to have antibodies against the virus, indicating they had been infected with it but had resisted it.

Boy Slips Under Car Is Killed

One child was killed and four adults were injured in Eastern Townships traffic accidents over the weekend, Quebec Provincial Police reports showed today.

Dead is Yvon Belhumeur, 10, of Drummondville, fatally injured at 2.30 yesterday afternoon as he was playing with some friends near the road just outside Drummondville.

Driver of the car was Georges Fafard, also of Drummondville.

Police said the child had been playing close to the side of the road when he suddenly slipped beneath the wheels of the oncoming car.

In the Ste. Catherine Hospital in Coaticook are Lionel Valade, aged 49, and his wife, Laurette, of Coaticook, injured last night when their car collided with another vehicle in Coaticook. The accident was blamed on the slippery condition of the streets.

Driver of the other car was Gilles Morin, 22, an employee on the Alaska Highway. He was unhurt.

Observe Day Of Mourning

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — Reuters — Thousands of Negroes stayed away from work today in response to an appeal from their leaders for a "day of mourning" for 71 Negroes killed by police a week ago.

Only a trickle turned up at their jobs in Capetown and in this industrial centre. Extra police were on duty but no major incidents were reported.

The day of mourning was called as the South African government prepared to take action later today to ban the main Negro nationalist organizations — the African National Congress and the Pan-Africanist Congress.

Today's day of mourning was called for former Zulu chief Albert Lutuli, president of the ANC. It was not supported by the smaller Pan-Africanist movement which told its members to go to work as usual.

BUSES STONED

All non-white buses were running normally in Durban but a bus for Indians was stoned in a Negro township near the city this morning. Many Indian-owned stores were closed.

The day of mourning was reported to be almost a total success in the Negro townships around Johannesburg, where the worst of last Monday's violence occurred. "Just a trickle" of passengers was reported at the biggest Negro township station, Orlando.

In the Cape peninsula the day of mourning was being effectively observed.

Lutuli also has urged Negroes to burn their pass books—the controversial identity cards which led to the riots last week.

His appeal came during the weekend as police announced that for the present they will not demand to see the pass books or arrest Negroes for not carrying them. The government step was received with quiet rejoicing by the Negroes who viewed it as a partial victory in their fight against the pass laws.

Over-Enthusiasm In Marseille

Break Police Lines Nearly Overrun Mr. K.

MARSEILLE, France (AP)—An enthusiastic crowd broke through police lines today and nearly overran Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Leaving the enclosed yard of a children's school he had visited, he mistook which car door to enter, and the crowd evidently thought he was coming over to get acquainted.

The wave of men and women stormed through the police line, shouting and waving red flags.

Right Present Wrong Baby

WALLASEY, England, (AP)—Annie Tedcastle says the gift of baby clothes she sent to a friend has been delivered to the wrong mother.

She has just received a letter saying the Queen is pleased to accept them.

Annie put the baby clothes in a parcel recently and addressed them to Mrs. Mabel Kelsey who lives nearby and recently gave birth to a son.

As a joke, Annie wrote on one corner of the parcel: "To His Majesty the baby."

The mailman thought the parcel ought to go to Buckingham Palace and Annie got a letter from a lady-in-waiting at the palace.

"The Queen," it said, "very much appreciates your kind thought for her."

Annie said she has decided not to make an issue of the mistake.

A spokesman for the post office said: "All we can do is apologize."

Khrushchev was surrounded. The expression on the premier's face indicated he did not find the experience completely agreeable. He stood in the crush until police rescued him and didn't try to shake a single hand.

A cordon of police on foot and with motorcycles quickly pushed in and formed around Khrushchev, then escorted him to his car.

Earlier in his tour of the French provinces Khrushchev showed signs that he thought he was seeing too much of French industry and not enough of the French people.

Khrushchev has remained good natured but at times showed impatience at the tightly packed schedule of official receptions, dinners and guided tours of historic sights and industrial plants.

Visitors to factories and agricultural installations leave him unimpressed. He mixes polite compliments for French achievements with statistics on similar Soviet activities that clearly show he thinks they do it bigger and better in Russia.

Volcano Forms A New Island

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (Reuters)—A two-mile-long volcanic island—burnt, blackened and sizzling—has risen out of the Bismark Sea 25 miles west of the New Guinea island of Manus, according to a report reaching here Sunday. The island was sighted by Capt. Bill Tyrell, an Australian Qantas Airlines pilot. The spot where the new island was reported is 189 miles from Manus Island volcano, which erupted violently 10 days ago.

List 10 Functions Of IDO

GENEVA (CP) — The West today outlined a 10-point plan for international inspection, supervision and control of measures taken for world disarmament.

The plan, giving details of the initial functions of the West's proposed International Disarmament Organization, was presented by Italian delegate Francesco Cavaletti at a two-hour session of the 10-nation disarmament talks here.

The IDO is part of a three-stage plan the West has proposed for ending the world arms race.

10 FUNCTIONS

Today's Western plan listed the following 10 initial functions for the IDO:

1. To receive prior notification of satellite launchings and to gather data from existing tracking stations.

2. To establish a centre for receiving information about the level of armaments and the actual level of land, sea and air forces.

3. To verify and check arrangements for reductions and levels of armed forces and corresponding cuts in conventional weapons.

4. To collect and verify information given by different states on their military budgets.

5. To set up a system for controlling outer space satellites and tracking them.

6. To receive advance notification of the launching of long-range missiles.

7. To install and put to work a system to monitor the "cutting off" of the production of fissionable materials for military use.

8. To verify the transfer of agreed quantities of fissile material from existing stocks to non-military purposes.

9. To establish procedure for inspection and control of military operations of important powers.

Success Seems Assured

Macmillan, Eisenhower Seek 'Joint Decision'

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan meet today to work out a compromise offer to Russia for banning nuclear weapons tests. Their success in avoiding a British-American split over the issue seemed assured.

During the two or three days they will spend together at Camp David, Md., the two leaders also will make a pre-summit meeting review of relations with Russia. They may lay down some new guidelines for development of proposals to be put before Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev at the Big Four summit meeting in Paris beginning May 16.

Before flying with Eisenhower to Camp David this afternoon, Macmillan was scheduled to confer with U.S. State Secretary Christian Herter at the British embassy. It was possible this meeting would produce the basis for quick accord between the president and the prime minister on the nuclear test issue.

The U.S. and British positions on Russia's latest test control plan were said to be very similar with both sides now favoring a positive counter-proposal.

Macmillan flew into Washington Saturday night and promptly called for a "joint decision" on the next Western move in the nuclear test ban conference with Russia at Geneva. What happens in the U.S.-British-Soviet negotiations, he said, "must affect the whole future of mankind on earth."

The urgent problem before the president and prime minister is to shape a reply to a Russian proposition for banning all nuclear weapons tests — most of them by formal treaty and the remainder in a still underground tests, by Common agreement on an indefinite moratorium.

The United States had proposed that any treaty now should exempt small underground nuclear blasts because it said they are too difficult to distinguish from small earthquakes.

Eisenhower and Macmillan may agree at Camp David to approve a moratorium on the small underground blasts, but to impose a time limit of one or two years.

Iwo Jima Picture A Phony?

NEW YORK (AP) — A National Broadcasting Company Sunday Showcase television show Sunday night depicting the life of American Indian war hero Ira Hayes called the famed wartime flag-raising picture on Iwo Jima "a phony."

Hayes, one of the six United States marines, pictured raising the flag when the island was captured from the Japanese in 1945, was quoted in the show as saying:

"They'd taken about 10,000 pictures that day . . . everybody knew it was a phony. Everybody on the island was laughing about that phony flag-raising picture."

The photograph, taken by Associated Press photographer Joe Rosenthal, received world-wide acclaim and a 1945 Pulitzer prize.

Sitdown Campaign Growing

ATLANTA, Ga. — (AP) — The ninth week of anti-segregation demonstrations in the southern United States began today following a weekend wave of cross burnings.

Hooded klansmen burned crosses in Alabama, Georgia, Florida and South Carolina as more students joined Negroes in their sitdown campaign against separate lunch counter facilities.

Five men were arrested as a result of multiple cross burnings near Anniston, Ala., Saturday night.

"We just wanted to show the public we are organized and ready for business," one unidentified klansman told a policeman in Calhoun County, where more than 100 crosses were set ablaze.

Crosses also were burned in Savannah and Marietta, Ga.; Clearwater and Jacksonville, Fla.; and in Orangeburg, Greenville, Columbia, Greenwood, and Charleston, S.C.

New Negro attempts to break color lines at lunch counters in Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina and Texas were made Saturday.

Report Franco Had Heart Attack

LONDON (AP) — A British newspaper Sunday published what it called reliable reports that Spain's generalissimo Francisco Franco suffered a heart attack while returning to Madrid from a hunting trip 10 days ago. The Daily Mail says the reports leaked past Spanish security.

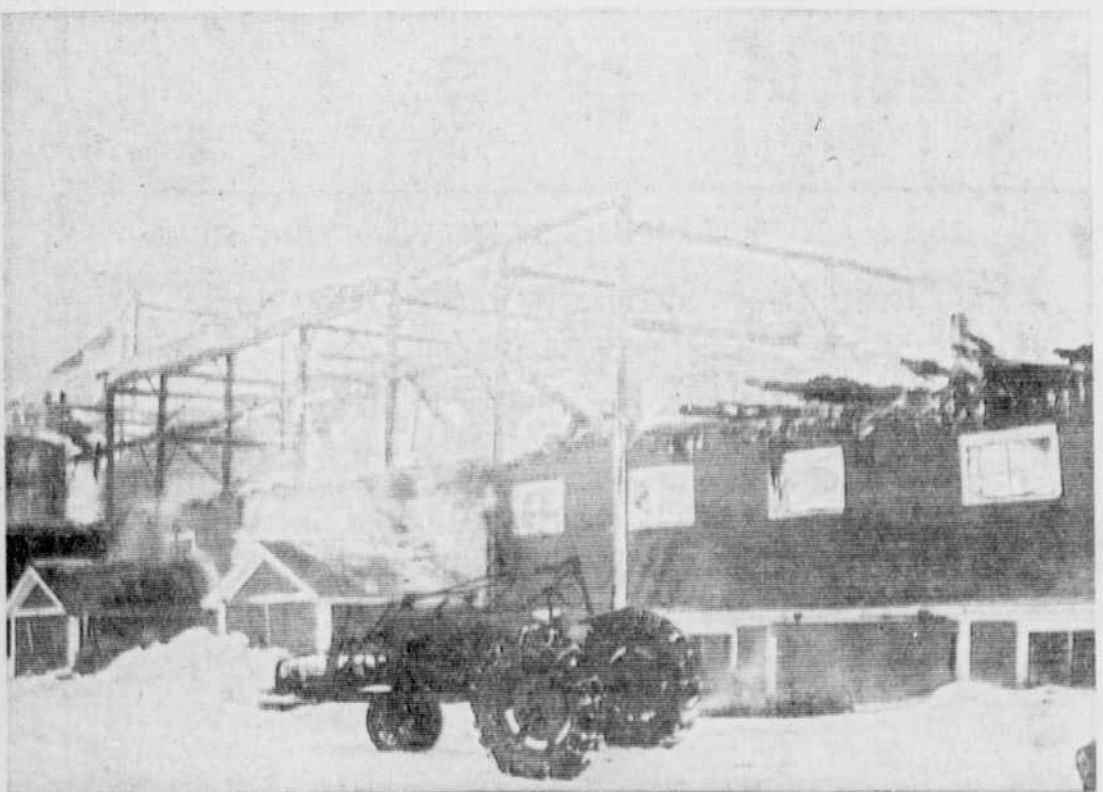

Other messages reaching London from Madrid tended to discount the report in view of the intensive calendar Franco recently has been following.

Palestine Army

BAGHDAD, Iraq (Reuters) — Premier Abdul Karim Kassam Sunday announced the formation of a Palestinian army to restore "the sacred land of Palestine." In a speech over Baghdad Radio, he called on Palestinians to volunteer for the new army and said training courses will start April 15. In a speech Dec. 16, Kassam said Palestine was "carved up" by Israel, Jordan and Egypt.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Stars who campaign for Academy Awards drew a blast today from three-time Oscar winner Walter Brennan.

With the awards event coming up next Monday, campaigning is over. No one knows how many thousands of dollars were spent trying to sway the academy voters, but the amount is considerable. It went for trade paper ads, free admissions to nominated films, press agent fees, cocktail parties and other stunts. "Why, I never would have thought of asking someone to vote for me. Never. An Academy Award should be a recognition by your fellow craftsmen of your achievement. It isn't something you should ask for."

THEY MEANT MORE

The actor said that he won his Oscars back in the days when they meant more — "and I won three out of the first five awards for support. In 1938 Come and Get It, in 1939 Kentucky and in 1940 The Westerner."

"That was when it really meant something to belong to the academy. You had to achieve something in the movie business. For instance, I was invited to join after I had won two awards."

"Nowadays, anybody can get in the academy."

Brennan also deplored the decline of good character roles in

Bring And Buy Sale Planned By Melbourne Group

MELBOURNE — The Melbourne Group of the Woman's Association of Richmond and Melbourne United Church held a regular meeting in the church parlor at which it was decided to hold a bring and buy sale at the next meeting.

The captain, Mrs. E. L. Pierce, conducted the devotional period. The secretary read the minutes and correspondence reporting 27 calls made.

Mrs. W. Moreland gave the financial report and report of the February meeting.

The members were reminded that the Group will be in charge of the devotional and provide the hostesses for the April meeting.

The members adjourned to the hall, where the Emerald and Ruby Groups were holding their annual St. Patrick's salad tea.

films, now that producers place so much emphasis on a few star performers. This year's slim pickings in the supporting category are evidence of that.

"The trouble is that today's young actors don't realize the value of having experience around them. They start upstaging you and all that nonsense. That's a sure sign of insecurity."

Heavy Weekend Political Activity In The E.T.

Two Ridings Select Liberal Candidates

By CUTHBERT JONES
(Record Staff Writer)

The selection of Liberal candidates in Sherbrooke and Liberal dinner meetings in Sherbrooke and Rock Island highlighted political activity in this district over the weekend.

At the Sherbrooke Liberal convention held in St. Francois Xavier School in East Sherbrooke yesterday afternoon, Louis-Philippe Brousseau, local insurance agent, was selected as party representative on the second ballot.

Arthabaska Liberals chose Albert Morissette, of Victoriaville, in a straight fight, his only opponent being Leo Faucher, of St. Albert.

Three names came before the Sherbrooke county convention: Mr. Brousseau, who has been chief Liberal organizer in several elections; Ald. Carrier Fortin, chairman of the Sherbrooke City Council General Administration committee, and Roger Gauthier, organizer for the Sherbrooke Young Liberal Association.

In the first round of balloting, Brousseau gathered 194 votes, Fortin 142 and Gauthier 98.

The details of the second vote were not announced, the successful candidate being proclaimed by Dr. Aime Fauteux, chief organizer of the Montreal district, who acted as chairman of the convention, assisted by L. LaJeunesse, of Montreal as convention secretary.

Following the announcement of the vote at about 6.15, short speeches were given by Glen Brown, MPP for Brome, and Emile Lafrance, MPP for Richmond.

In his remarks, the Richmond member told the delegates that it was the duty of every militant Liberal to warn the public against the myth of honesty being preached by the Union Nationale. The scandals to be uncovered during the coming campaign should be enough to assure the overthrow of the government, he said.

Other speakers included J. A. Mongrain, former mayor of Three Rivers, Dr. Fauteux and J. L. Pelouin, of Sherbrooke.

LIBERAL DINNER

Mr. Mongrain was also the speaker at a mixed dinner held in the Hotel Sherbrooke Saturday evening by the Sherbrooke County Women's Liberal Association.

One of the greatest dangers facing the youth of today was the acceptance by adults of corruption in public places, Mr. Mongrain declared. This attitude on the part of parents, he said, was as bad for young people as evil companions.

Morality in public life should be as high as in private life but he claimed that politicians did not put into practice the principles they proclaimed on the great religious feasts.

PERMANENT SCANDAL

He denounced what he called the permanent scandal of the Union Nationale, saying that in four years men who had been poor had become millionaires through politics.

"It is a scandalous miracle to become so rich within so short a time," Mr. Mongrain affirmed. He condemned the drinking establishments which existed on the outskirts of the cities and denounced the bribes, favoritism to friends and the systematic calumny created by the Union Nationale, one sign of which was the practice of calling anyone opposed to them "Communists."

He urged that the province be swept clean and that true Christian morals and a government based on real democracy replace the present regime.

Attacks Man In Store

Fear of having killed a man may have frightened off a would-be thief, Sherbrooke police officials said this morning.

Saturday afternoon, a brutal attack was made by an unknown assailant on Mr. Saul Cassar, in his store at 70 King Street East. Mr. Cassar required hospital treatment for severe cuts to the head.

Capt. Armand Genest of the Sherbrooke Police said today, that a man entered the Cassar store Saturday morning, and charged a pair of shoes. He said he would return that same afternoon to pay for them and pick them up.

Mr. Cassar's statement claims the man returned to the store at about 1:30 p.m. Turning his back, Mr. Cassar was struck over the head from behind and was knocked unconscious. When he came to and called the police, he discovered nothing had been stolen.

Capt. Genest said that it is possible the assailant may have been frightened away by the result of his attack.

Triplets Born In Thetford; Mother Dies

THETFORD MINES — For the second time since its foundation in 1910 triplets have been born at the St. Joseph Hospital here.

The three — all boys — are doing well, but their 39-year-old mother, Mrs. Rosaire Vachon of Tring Junction, died 24 hours after their birth.

The babies, as yet unnamed weighed five pounds two ounces, six pounds four ounces and seven pounds five ounces.

Mrs. Vachon was the mother of six other children, of which two were twins.

The first birth of triplets at the St. Joseph Hospital dates back to January 27, 1952. The triplets are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Emilien Bourque, of 1334 Catrier Street, Thetford Mines.

Fine Form

Bishop's Glee Club In Satisfying Concert

By BARBARA WARK
(Record Staff Reporter)

The Bishop's University Glee Club were in fine form Saturday night for their eleventh annual concert in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Under the direction of Dr. J. W. McCubbin, the young singers showed a good style and sound training. This coupled with their natural enthusiasm produced a strong and satisfying program.

There was good variety for one thing—from religious selections and spirituals to traditional and contemporary pieces. Some were given by the full glee club, some by a smaller group of 35, known as the Deep Purples and some by the men and women separately.

A female quartette made up of Anne Cox, Sue McCubbin, Judy Bignell and Dinny Simpkins gave one very pleasing number, Scarlet Ribbons. And a male quartette, David Marler, Charles Coleman, Robert Cruickshank, Tom Matthews and Robert Gordon, with a very easy and informal style, entertained with a variety of songs.

In fact, it seemed for a time as if there were no stopping them since there was no hint on the program as to what they had in store. But a beautiful rendition of The Seine more than made up for some of what went before.

SMALL FLAW

It might be well to point up one small flaw, noticed not only with this group, but with the glee club as a whole and that was the slowness in enunciation. It was by no means a glaring fault and indeed not even a constant one. But to our way of thinking just took the edge off what was otherwise a professional performance.

It is doubtful if there has ever been a more original or more delightful rendition of Dry Bones than the one offered by the Deep Purples. It could almost be said to have stolen the show. Peter Ritchie handled the rhythm requirements, using a table full of

More Than 100 Attend Regional JMC Banquet

Well over 100 representatives from 13 centres in the Maritimes and Quebec were present for the candlelight supper in the Sherbrooke Hotel Saturday night, the social highlight of the week-end Regional Congress of Jeunesses Musicales.

Raoul Jobin, national president of JMC and Gilles Lefebvre, its general director, presided both at the supper and at the business sessions which took place Saturday and Sunday.

On Friday evening the city received local committee members and visitors at City Hall when Pro-Mayor Paul Gervais extended the city's best wishes to the group for a successful congress.

In his report to the Congress Saturday morning, Mr. Lefebvre summarized the progress attained during the year. He mentioned the National Council meeting held last summer and stressed the need for leaders of the various centres to learn more about organization and administration.

A more active season, with a greater number of centres accomplishing a more vigorous program of presentation of local artists, new records and documentary films.

Mr. Lefebvre announced that a special provincial grant for $135,000 would enable the J. M. Musical Camp at Mount Orford Provincial Park to realize a dream in the building of a concert hall.

Projects for the summer camp were outlined, these to include concerts by guest artists and campers, and lectures, one series to be given by Antony Hopkins of London.

Two major projects for next season were discussed and approved by delegates—the sponsoring of the Canadian Comic Opera, Une Minute de Silence by Maurice Blackburn and the orchestral group, Orchestre Paul Kuentz from France.

At the Saturday night supper a special representation was made to the founder of the Sherbrooke Centre, Mrs. Rodrigue Boisvert in the form of a plaque. President of the group, Mrs. Robert Richard, made the presentation.

Postal Drama

30-Year Gap Bridged

A Sherbrooke Postal employee has been instrumental in reuniting by letter two sisters, one in Poland and one in Sherbrooke, who had not heard of each other for 30 years.

A few days ago Albert Foucault, in charge of public relations and investigations for the Sherbrooke Post Office, received a letter with the address "35 Rue, Sherbrooke." The name of the recipient was practically illegible. It was postmarked Air Mail, Poland, March, 1960.

He went to considerable trouble telephoning around the Polish community in the city, finally locating the person to whom the letter was addressed.

Mrs. Christina Fudakowska, 101 Bowen Avenue, North, speaking for Sherbrooke's Polish community said: "Mr. Foucault's efforts to find the missing family here will always be remembered with gratitude."

"Such an important letter from behind the Iron Curtain does not often come. It was from a lady's sister whom she hadn't seen in 30 years—when she first left Poland. It could easily have been sent back just because the address was wrong, but thanks to Mr. Foucault he has made one of us very happy."

Mr. Foucault refused to take all the credit for helping. "I know a number of Polish families in the city, and all I did was make a few telephone calls. When we located the right one, we forwarded the letter to the correct address."

"It is all part of my job and with a letter from behind the Iron Curtain it became important. The least I could do was locate the right family."

The name of the recipient of the letter has been withheld to avoid repercussions behind the Iron Curtain.

Trading Stamp Ultimatum Given To Magog Stores

Four Magog grocery chain stores have been served an ultimatum by their suppliers to re-instate the use of trading stamps in their stores or be faced with expulsion from the chain to which they belong, it was learned yesterday.

The use of trading stamps in the city was discontinued last December by the Magog Retail and Service Association, an association of local merchants, when a textile strike threatened the economy of the town.

At the time the association decided that the use of stamps in stores boosted the cost of merchandise.

English-Speaking Pupils Wanted

Stanstead Regional Group Heads Trade School Drive

WANTED—At least 37 English-speaking boys and young men to take advantage of a golden opportunity to learn a trade and through it, to make for themselves a secure, rewarding life.

The facilities are available in Sherbrooke, the teachers are ready and willing.

The cost is very small. And if the applicants will just present themselves before April 23rd, they will crown with success a drive spearheaded by the Stanstead Regional Council of Home and School Associations to make available in the City—for the first time—two trade schools for English-speaking young men and boys in the Eastern Townships.

Present plans call for the schools to open this fall. The only thing that can upset them is lack of students.

But the Council points out there should be no lack. Questionnaires sent out to its member Associations in Stanstead, Beebe, Coaticook, Ayer's Cliff, North Hatley, Waterville and Magog, and filled in by parents show that there is a vital need for trade schooling in those areas.

They are sure, too, that the same need exists all over the Townships.

The facilities:

The school runs from August 15 to June 1.

There is no charge for tuition, tools or materials.

At the completion of the course, a pupil has the equivalent of 2,000 hours of an 8,000 hour apprenticeship.

A minimum of 12 English-speaking boys is required to have English-speaking classes.

Barn, Garage Hit

Fires Cause $67,000 Weekend Damage

An estimated $67,500 in damages were caused over the weekend as flames swept through a dairy barn in Derby Line Saturday afternoon and a two-car garage in Richmond Friday night.

Most-heavily hit was the Kelley Crystal Brook dairy barn, its adjoining milk room and tool shed, levelled in a spectacular blaze which started shortly after 3 p.m. Saturday.

Much of the machinery had been moved by the proprietors, the Kelley brothers, assisted by some volunteers who arrived on the scene shortly after the outbreak.

A small supply of fertilizer was removed from the immediate area but the loss of the barn is estimated at about $50,000 and the equipment at about $15,000.

There was no stock in the barn at the time of the fire. Cattle were sold by auction last fall to make room for repairs to be made this spring.

The property is partially covered by insurance.

In Richmond Friday night, flames caused about $2,500 in damage as it swept through a two-car garage belonging to Richmond pro-Mayor Alfred Geoffroy.

Also lost in an adjoining shed were a number of power tools and a small dog, all the property of Mr. Geoffroy.

Flames were first noticed about 10:45 p.m. by Richmond policemen making their rounds.

Firemen said Saturday that the outbreak may have been caused by a short-circuit.

No Sentimental Journey

It is significant that Nikita Khrushchev should have visited the old lodgings-in-exile of Nikolai Lenin during his visit to Paris.

Mr. Khrushchev has never shown himself to be a sentimentalist and his visit may safely be interpreted as a public affirmation of Lenin's policies rather than as a sentimental journey.

This cast an interesting light on a proposal advanced by the Soviet Premier, also during his Paris visit, for a non-aggression pact between the West and the Communist bloc. Russia could strike back at any aggressor, he explained but he did not want it to come to that. A non-aggression pact, he reasoned, would preserve world peace.

Well enough. Mr. Khrushchev has again indicated that he is in favor of continued peace and if he wants to put it on paper we may as well go along with him. But let no one in the West attach any great significance to this proposal or any resulting pact.

The goal of Lenin and the goal of Khrushchev are one and the same — to bring the entire world into the orbit of Communism. And the double-standard set by Lenin is followed by Khrushchev: A treaty may be entered into in good faith. But it may be discarded without qualm if it fails to further the ultimate aim of world-wide Communism.

Easter Seal Campaign

When you look out the window and see snow it may be hard to realize that Easter will soon be here. But it will, on April 17.

And with Easter will come that stirring of Nature that signals the coming of Spring and then Summer to the Eastern Townships.

Will you enjoy this Summer after the rigors of Winter? — of course you will.

And would you like to share that enjoyment with someone smaller and less fortunate than you?

The opportunity is yours. All you have to do is support the annual Kiwanis sale of Easter seals in support of the nations crippled children.

Seals were sent to all householders by the Sherbrooke Kiwanis Club recently. And many people have responded freely and generously. But more money is needed if the club is to match the $2,000 collected during the campaign last year.

All money raised by the Club is donated to the Camp for Crippled Children at Ayer's Cliff.

Technical Training

With all the emphasis on the state of education in Canada today, what is sometimes lost sight of is the fact that a university degree, which only a small percentage of our young people obtain, is not the only patch to a socially and financially adequate life.

Working conditions, living conditions, and our whole way of life have undergone radical changes in the last few years — changes which now mean that a skilled craftsman in almost any field can hold his own with a university graduate.

Many of our youth are not suited to go on to university, nor do they want to. For them, training in technical or trade schools is available which is just as valuable and vital to the country and to themselves as any number of college degrees.

In Sherbrooke, a trade school and an Institute of Technology, both offer sound schooling in those skills upon which our Canadian way of life is founded. For some time now, they have been turning out French-speaking graduates who have gone on to make for themselves rich and worthwhile lives.

The same facilities here are available for English-speaking youths, but the problem has always been obtaining enough English-speaking applicants to justify separate courses for them.

At the present time, the Stanstead Regional Council of Home and School Associations is spearheading a campaign to round up enough English-speaking applicants to bring these facilities into use.

A minimum of 37 applicants is asked for — 12 for each school is the minimum, but in the Institute of Technology, 25 is preferred for the four-year course.

It is planned to start the English-speaking sections of the schools this August. For this reason, an April 23 deadline for applicants has been set by the Regional Council.

The opportunity, as the Council points out, is a splendid one. The facilities exist, the teachers are available. Only the students are needed. And there should be no lack of young men in the Eastern Townships to take advantage of the opportunity.

WISE TRUMP PLAY REWARDS

The time to pull trumps is as soon as you can afford to, but not earlier.

Fortunately, South knew this otherwise he would have gone down at his slam contract.

South ruffed the second club lead and played his ace of trumps. In view of East's club bid it was likely that West would hold all three trumps if they were going to break unevenly. Sure enough, they did but now South abandoned the trump suit for the spades. He might need dummy's trumps for entries.

He led his singleton spade to dummy's ace and ruffed a small spade. When both opponents followed to that second spade he was in clover. He led a second trump and finessed the jack (East had already shown out). The king of trumps picked up the queen and another spade ruff established the rest of the suit while he still had a trump left in dummy and an entry.

If South had played three rounds of trumps before attack-

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I see by recent papers that the truckers are complaining to high heaven about the railways taking over truck lines.

The railways were the backbone that built this country. They have immense expenditures in equipment which has to be continually remodeled, heavy investments in property and facilities, maintain their own road bed, plow their own snow, pay excessive taxes in every town and city they go through and pay standard wages.

Where did the truckers get their start? By undercutting the railroads' rates, greasing the palms of shippers and traffic managers, take the cream of the traffic refusing the unprofitable traffic, run on roads maintained and plowed by the government, renting facilities on which they pay no taxes all for the price of a licence and permit.

Now when the railroads are fighting back to regain their just traffic loss by buying up some truck lines to co-ordinate and supplement their services what do we hear? That the railways should not be allowed to compete to regain their own business lost to trucks. Why?

It's positively amazing to just take a trip down the main drag and inquire of the store keepers how they got their goods, railway freight and express or truck. But they are mighty glad to take our money earned on the railways, but we are not good enough to patronize. Why?

A 35-year Railroader.

Dear Sir:

The Quebec Provincial (English) Branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers have submitted to the Federal Government their strong endorsement of existing laws which prohibit manufacturers from setting retail prices.

CAC's submission expressed concern about any proposed change in the Combines Investigation Act which would broaden the terms under which a manufacturer may refuse supplies to a retailer. The provincial branch of CAC says: "We believe that it is equitable and definitely in the best consumer interest that the supplier be required to prove his allegations before being allowed to penalize a retailer by withholding merchandise. The burden of proof should be imposed on those who wish to apply penalties."

Strive To Protect Integrity

Asians Tread A Wary Middle Path

JAKARTA, Indonesia (CP)—The uncommitted nations of South and Southeast Asia are striving to protect their political freedom and economic integrity and avoid becoming new cold war battle-grounds.

Amid increasing competition between the Western democracies and the Communist bloc to gain influence in the under-developed, newly-independent countries, most Asian nations prefer to tread a wary middle path of non-alignment.

India, Indonesia, Burma and Ceylon continue to follow policies of strict neutrality between East and West with professed friendship towards all nations. This attitude is being maintained despite a growing awareness in recent months of a military and economic threat from a powerful, surging Communist China.

However Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines are members of the pro-Western, anti-Communist Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO). The Federation of Malaya pursues an independent course in foreign affairs but has invited Commonwealth military forces to fight Communist terrorists on Malayan soil.

But all Asian forces today afford top priority to the preservation of peace, without which they cannot hope to achieve a degree of economic self-sufficiency in which independence can hold any true meaning. With this objective foremost, they are compelled to exercise restraint and conciliatory behavior even when their tolerance is under severe duress.

Many individuals in Southeast Asia continue to express sincere resentment against Chinese suppression of the Tibetan uprising, armed Chinese incursions into Indian and Burmese territory, and Chinese dumping of cheap goods in Southeast Asian markets. However, in a fervent bout of diplomacy, attempts are being made to ease strained relations between Peking and New Delhi, Rangoon and Jakarta.

Chinese Premier Chou En-lai is to visit India soon to discuss differences with Prime Minister Nehru; a border dispute between Burma and China was settled following a visit to Peking by Gen. Ne Win; and efforts are being made to smooth relations between Indonesia and China which has expressed concern over action taken by Indonesia against activities of Chinese traders.

Relations with Moscow seem unchanged and one purpose of Soviet Premier Khrushchev's Southeast Asian tour seems to have been to repair any damage done to the Communist cause in the area by Chinese actions.

Meanwhile, both the United States and Soviet Union are stepping up their activities in this region. President Eisenhower's and Premier Khrushchev's recent tours were followed by promises of increased economic aid from both Washington and Moscow.

Although Eisenhower appears to have received warmer welcomes than Khrushchev and Western economic assistance outstrips Russian aid, Western observers of the Asian scene are not over-optimistic.

For the Soviet Union claims a moral advantage over Western nations, which have a colonial record in Asia or are suspected of trying to re-establish imperialism by economic penetration. During his tour Khrushchev, continually playing on this theme, pledged Soviet support for Indonesia's claim to Dutch West New Guinea (West Irian).

In this respect, Canada with no colonies and a sympathetic voting record in the United Nations towards new independent states, seems to hold a unique and respected position in Asia.

Both Russia and the United States have large embassies in all Asian countries, with big information departments.

many United States-assisted projects combined.

Asian political leaders are aware that the largest proportion of aid in most countries has come from the West and not from the Iron Curtain, but insist on their rights not to accept any assistance with strings attached.

They also voice bitterness over unequal distribution of aid in which tiny countries such as Laos or South Viet Nam may receive proportionately far more American assistance than Indonesia with its 85,000,000 people.

One Ceylonese cabinet minister said he considered acceptance of one dollar's worth of Soviet aid meant taking $100 worth of propaganda along with it. For a while the Bhilai steel mill project, only sizeable Soviet-aided scheme in India to date, seemed to receive more free publicity than all the cently, Russia promised Indonesia a $30,000,000 seven-year credit on easy terms to build a steel industry and textile factories.

At last October's Colombo plan conference in Jogjakarta, Indonesian President Sukarno summarized a viewpoint shared by many Asians. The West's aid for undeveloped countries, he said, is welcome because "it demonstrates a sense of responsibility and an awareness of past injustice" and shows a realization "that Asia has a great potential contribution to make to this sorely troubled world."

But Sukarno added that all economic aid should be moulded to realities of the country, and donor nations must understand the demands and requirements of the people they are aiding.

"Do not think that assistance will produce a nation in your own image," he warned. "Do not think that what applies in other countries will necessarily apply here."

tic governments, as in Singapore, insist they are non-Communist and not pro-Communist, sympathies of civil servants, scientists, newspaper men and most educated persons seem to lie clearly with the West.

To them communism with its rigid mass discipline and denial of religion is alien to a society in which the sanctity of the family unit and religious beliefs have been honored and respected for hundreds of years.

President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan, who recently receives American military aid, said communism poses a threat to the Moslem religion. He said: "It is a gross misconception that only the Christian world is threatened by communism. Events now taking place in the Middle East clearly indicate that the world of Islam is not immune from Communist danger."

instruments that defy description, but which interspersed appropriately took on the aspect of the various bones.

Another high spot of the evening was their handling of Me and My Shadow, very well arranged. A shadow flashed on the backdrop was an appropriate addition.

Extra effects were used in two other cases as well. For the selection, Calm as the Night, twinkling stars appeared in the background and in the first group of religious pieces, a cross was silhouetted.

Dona Nobis Pacem, The Navy Hymn, impressively done, and Psalm 23 with descant, were included in this group, given by the whole glee club.

They also concluded the concert with two powerful numbers. Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor by Irving Berlin and I May Never Pass This Way Again by Wizzell and Melsher.

The women's group gave a good swing to Wonderful Copenhagen and were especially good in Calm as the Night, while their male counterparts were equally well received in the quiet, All Through the Night, and the boisterous There is Nothing Like a Dame.

The Deep Purples were heard in To a Wild Rose, Steal Away (nice harmonizing), Inch Worm (very good), Sentimental Journey, Tenderly and The Blue Tail Fly (another favorite).

Roberta Mumby was an excellent accompanist.

following their agreement to a world disarmament treaty in order to prohibit secret rearming.

10. To survey and check on subsequent reductions of armaments and armed forces and to establish means of giving greater protection against surprise attack.

The first two weeks of the conference resolved none of the basic East-West differences on how to negotiate a treaty to end the world's arms race.

The Soviet bloc still wants an agreement to disarm before talking about an international control system to prevent cheating. The Western powers want to reach agreement on controls before committing themselves to any specific arms cuts.

"NEW" CONFERENCE — But Western officials still are almost unanimously optimistic, citing these notable differences between this and previous disarmament conferences:

1. There has been no argument over the conference agenda or other procedural side issues.

2. The atmosphere has been consistently relaxed, and Soviet delegate Valerian Zorin has left the familiar cold-war propaganda speeches to his colleagues from Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania and Bulgaria.

3. Even these speeches seemed to soft-pedal the old Communist complaints against "German militarism" and the military bases of the North Atlantic alliance.

4. Neither side has rejected the other's proposals so firmly as to leave no room for negotiation and compromise.

5. Each side has tacitly accepted the other's definition of points of agreement on principle.

BALDWIN'S MILLS — Mr. and Mrs. L. Baldwin and daughter, of Montreal, visited Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Baldwin recently. Miss Eunice Baldwin was a guest at the same home.

Word has been received from the travellers going south, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Baldwin, that they are enjoying the trip but were still encountering snow in Kentucky.

Friends are pleased to see Mr. Rob Markwell out again following a painful injury to his leg, which incapacitated him for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Markwell and son, of Greenfield, Mass., were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. Markwell.

The Doctor Says

STUDIES SUGGEST STUTTERING IS MENTAL, NOT PHYSICAL

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M. D.

Many of us have disorders of speech. And since we communicate with one another mostly by the spoken word, a speech disorder may be a crippling handicap in our social lives and careers.

Some speech disorders may be corrected. A hairlip, cleft palate, tongue tie causing a lisp or a nose obstruction causing a twang may be remedied by skilled surgery.

Some disorders are due to paralysis of the nerve that regulates the tension of the vocal cord. These are very difficult to correct. And some are due to over-use or misuse of the delicate cords as in the case of singers, clergymen and political orators. These respond to rest and instruction in voice production often best given by a singing teacher.

But the two disturbances that worry most parents are delayed speech in the growing youngster and stammering or stuttering.

Wendell Johnson of the University of Iowa, perhaps the leading student of speech disorders, has recently completed a study of 500 child stammerers and their parents. While professor Johnson insists that he is engaged primarily in the gathering of facts, there are valuable hints in his work that may be of service to stammerers and their families.

Each of us has noted that there is no set pattern for the stammerer. The block does not always occur at the same time, in the same place or with the same word or subject.

This suggests that the block is mental rather than physical. And the Johnson work suggests that the cause of the block may rest not with the stammerer but with the listener, particularly a nervous and high-strung parent.

This is how the trouble takes place.

The child with perfect normal speech equipment manifests the same amount of hesitation and repetitions that all children exhibit as they learn the very difficult art of talking. The doting parent, frightened by what he or she regards as the beginning of a speech disorder, redoubles efforts to get the child to speak.

Parent and child become tense and excited. Hesitations and repetitions snowball. The parent labels the child a stammerer or a stammerer and the child accepts the label, though the Johnson studies show that no difference exists between stammerers and nonstammerers.

This possible explanation for stammering appeals to me. It has been my experience that most stammerers are the spoiled children or the only child of doting parents. Later, of course, the stammering becomes worse and worse as thoughtless school companions imitate and ridicule their playmate.

I am inclined to believe that the mechanism of delayed speech is like that of stammering. The baby who is showered with love and the good things of life has no great urge to speak.

An amusing story illustrates the situation better than pages of scientific explanation.

A six-year-old who'd never spoken despite frantic efforts on the part of parents, family physician and consultants clearly asked his father to pass the maple syrup

If you have tapering fingers and beautifully-shaped nails, you can wear any shade of nail polish that appeals to you. But if your fingers and nails are short, you'd do well to choose the pale shades of polish. Dark polish creates the illusion of stubbiness on short nails.

From Toupees To Pigtails He'll Suit Them To Taste

VANCOUVER (CP)—Adam Derry deals in pony tails and switches, pigtails and buns. He'll make up and sell a wig or toupee to suit any taste, size, color or purpose.

A barber by trade, he's a hair-piece manufacturer by choice and he's encountered many tastes and purposes in 17 years in business in Vancouver.

There was the woman, for instance, who loved to swim but had to look glamorous for entertaining during a southern vacation.

She purchased a wig, swam when she wished and, as simply as pulling on a bathing cap, had a fresh, attractive hair style when her guests showed up.

WIGS FOR MODELS

Mr. Derry has made up three or four wigs of different colors and styles for models who want frequent quick changes and some for women wishing to experiment without resort to dyes.

"But most of our business is made up of ladies who actually have to wear them," he said.

Mr. Derry, 44, learned the business from Carl Hanson, who had been trained in Germany. When Mr. Hanson died, Mr. Derry took over the firm, Hanson Co. Ltd., one of three such operations here.

IMPORTS HAIR

He imports most of his material—hair in all shades, textures and lengths—from Germany or France and occasionally orders the finished product from manufacturers in these countries. But most of his orders are filled in his Vancouver quarters, where the hair is hand-knotted into the headcaps, curled and styled.

In the same shop, hairpieces are cleaned and set—advisable every two or three months—repaired and restyled. Mr. Derry said most women have two or more wigs so they can leave one for cleaning or style change.

Men's hairpieces cost from $75 to $150, women's from $100 to $175. They last from two to five years.

"With today's modern hair-styles," Mr. Derry said, "you can bring the hair forward and make it almost impossible to detect them at all."

With men it's more difficult to disguise a full wig, but a toupee can be made almost undetectable to the layman.

To the practised eyes of Mr. and Mrs. Derry—Mrs. Derry worked with her husband for several years before their son was born—even the most expert job is detectable.

"I can pick those Hollywood fellows with toupees on TV every time," said Mr. Derry.

Much of Joy in Gardening Is in Sharing With Others

One of the seldom-mentioned joys of gardening is the joy a generous gardener with a green thumb gives to others.

The gardener almost always has a gift to give — to someone ill in the hospital, to a newcomer in the neighborhood, to a drop-in visitor.

One flower grower I know keeps dozens of African violets growing and blooming the year round. Let a visitor admire an especially beautiful plant and she says, "I'll start one for you from a leaf if you would like me to" — and she never forgets. Along with growing African violets for herself she is always starting new plants for others — which not infrequently starts someone else on the fascinating hobby of growing African violets.

Another gardener I know greets each newcomer to her neighborhood with a sack of bulbs or a small shrub or chrysanthemum roots or whatever is available at the time, so that the newcomer will immediately have something to plant in this new yard.

And almost anyone who loves flowers and grows them in profusion enriches friends and neighbors with beautiful bouquets.

"Let me cut you some flowers before you leave" seems to be an almost instinctive gesture with anyone who loves and grows them.

Few hobbies are so easy to share with others as is flower growing. For the gardener always has something at hand to share, some bit of beauty or potential beauty to pass along.

Don't say "Thank you." The Gardener who has given you a "start" of a favorite plant reminds you: "If you do, it won't grow."

Perhaps, the reason for that old superstition is that the gardener who shares doesn't need thanks. For the greatest pleasure in gardening is in sharing.

Don't Try To Understand Abstract Art

MONTREAL (CP)—Trying to understand abstract art is as ridiculous as trying to read intellectual meaning into a bird's song.

So says Mrs. Nancy Petry Wargin, Montreal artist just returned from five years in Europe.

"So often people feel 'I must understand this.' That's not the idea at all. You don't try to understand a bird's singing, do you?"

A graduate of the McGill school of Fine Arts, Mrs. Wargin, 28, spent 4 1/2 years in Paris and six months at Ibiza, a tiny Spanish island famed for its active art colony.

She said inexperienced abstract artists are sometimes responsible for people's mistaken ideas.

"Some artists start off immediately in non-objective art and consequently have no discipline or control. I think this is where the public gets the wrong idea about it. The beginner thinks it's easy whereas it's actually much more difficult than figurative art."

Defining non-objective art as a study in color, texture and form, Mrs. Wargin said its lack of limitation makes it difficult to do.

"You don't start with preconceived ideas so you're liable to go off completely wild when organization and composition are most necessary."

Animals About Town

There's No Need
To Abandon Pets

Hi folks! I'm mad! I'm so mad I'm hopping right up and down on all four paws. Normally I'm a pretty even-tempered fellow but not today! What's making me so hopping mad? It's the cruelty that some depraved human beings heap on the animal world—and in case you don't know what depraved means, a rough interpretation of it is that they are not normal, or they couldn't do the things they do.

I used to think that some of the cases of cruelty my folks in the S.P.C.A. told about just could not be true because I did not think that humans could be like that! But take the case that happened in a town near Sherbrooke where someone put—and it must have been deliberately—three dogs into a vacant house. People drawn to the empty house by the barking, found the dogs, who had been without food or water for several days, in poor condition aside from the damage the poor dogs had done to the house and furniture. I could tell you lots of other stories about cruelties, but I do not like to talk about it.

It is surprising the number of people who have never heard of the S.P.C.A. or the services that they are prepared to give—all on a voluntary basis. Many people who have pets that they do not want, abandon them in various ways, but this is not necessary!

A call to the S.P.C.A. (L.O. 9-3533) will provide a happy solution to this. (We are not listed at present in the telephone directory but we will be when the new book comes out.) One of the things we DO do is operate a shelter where unwanted pets may be brought. We want to emphasize this because this is the time of year when your pet dog or cat is likely to present you with a litter of unwanted pups or kittens. So if this happens and you do not know what to do with them, please give the S.P.C.A. a call.

Now for a wee bit of chitchat—did you know that one of our members found a blind crow a year ago last October and that it has happily spent two winters warm, comfortable and well fed, with them?

Also, did you know that we have a Junior Section to which membership up to the age of 16 years, is 25 cents a year.

This section is in the charge of Miss Cynthia Wright of Sherbrooke.

We have been given May 27-28 for tag days so we are preparing for this too. Do you know someone in your community who would like to help out the S.P.C.A. either as chairman of the tag day in your community or as a tagger? If you do, please write to P. O. Box 211, North Hatley.

If you think I am talking about this too soon—you'd be surprised how quickly it's coming up. Well, be kind to your pet, and bye for now.

Interesting Map Copies Presented To Missisquoi Historical Society

BEDFORD. — An executive meeting of the Missisquoi Historical Society was held in the United Church Hall. The president, Fred Rousseau, conducted the meeting, letters were read by the secretary, Mrs. Richard Craighead, including one from Gerald Hawke of Farnham, asking that an historical program be presented at the meeting of the Farnham Home and School Association on April 28.

The treasurer, Mr. Neil Creller, reported a balance of $128.20. Included in this sum was a donation of $71.20 from the Farm Forum County Council, which has been abolished.

Through the kindness of Mrs. J. B. Moore of Fordyce, a number of interesting maps were presented to the society, to be used in the office. These were photographic copies of originals. Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Moore for her help to the society and regret expressed that, owing to illness she was not able to be present.

A letter of resignation was read from Mrs. A. Bibby of Cowansville, as that town's representative and Miss Phelps was appointed to succeed Mrs. Bibby.

Mrs. George Tremblay, corresponding secretary, was asked to contact E. J. Struthers of Stanstead, asking him to speak at the April 23 meeting on Cauldwell Manor.

Miss Phelps was appointed to look after the formation of a working committee, each section of the county to have its own chairman. Research work will start in each section as soon as possible.

The question of having county presidents of the Women's Institute as members of the executive was laid over for further discussion at the April meeting and it was decided to hold the annual meeting in September instead of in August.

Other proposed changes from the original constitution of the old society was that the office of secretary-treasurer be changed to two officers for the whole society. Formerly each municipality had its own secretary-treasurer. It was also decided to eliminate the women's committee, formed under the old constitution.

LADIES CURLING CLUB
A meeting of the Ladies Curling Club was held in the club rooms with the president, Mrs. Harold Deming in the chair. The minutes were read by the secretary, Miss Marjory Steele, and the treasurer, Miss Wanda Jones, reported a balance of $375.

Mrs. Harry Jones reported on the recent bonspiels and thanked the members of her committee, Mrs. Jack Faten, Mrs. C. Dawes and Mrs. Roy Cook, for their help during the season. The annual dinner will be held on Saturday evening, April 2. Following the dinner the playoffs and the presentation of prizes to winners of the Bradshaw Trophy will take place.

For the coming year it was decided to have six members on the hospitality committee, three committees of two members, each group to look after different events. Additional committees would be two members to look after the Saturday evenings and one member to be in charge of the Friendly.

Beavers Down Rockets 4-2 In Overtime To Tie Series

Sudbury And Montreal Post Wins In EPHL Playoffs, Top Hull-Ottawa 3-2 While Royals Registered 3-1 Victory

Sudbury Wolves and Montreal Royals gave a convincing demonstration in Eastern Professional Hockey League semi-final play Sunday that they have lost none of the skill that earned them a one-two finish during the regular season.

The first-place Wolves all but clinched one final berth by downing Hull-Ottawa Canadiens 3-2 in Hull to take a 3-0 grip on the best-of-seven series.

In the other semi-final bracket, the Royals hung a 3-1 defeat on Trois-Rivières Lions in Montreal and now lead the best-of-seven series 2-1.

Fourth game in each series will be played Wednesday in Hull and Trois-Rivières.

Sudbury, playing before a packed house of 5,222 fans, never appeared in real danger of losing. Wolves led 1-0 at the end of the first and 3-1 at the end of the second.

Sam Bettio, Gerry Moore and Cleland Mortonson scored for Sudbury. Mortonson's second - period marker turned out to be the winner. Bob Attersley, playing his first game with Canadiens after being picked up from Whitby Dunlops, and Bob Courcy scored for Hull-Ottawa.

Canadiens pulled goalie Charlie Hodge in the last 49 seconds of play in a futile attempt to get the equalizer.

In Montreal, Royals scored at a steady goal-a-period clip before 7,619 fans. It was the largest crowd to watch an EPHL game at the Forum this season.

Ken Mosdell, Michel Lagace and Guy Black scored for the Royals. Jean Paul Denis got Lions' lone goal.

Lagace, a star with Quebec City's Laval University team, scored the winning goal at 17:18 of the second period when he beat goalie Claude Evans to Black's rebound.

Royals outshot Lions 36 to 23.

Springfield Indians Open Series With Providence; Rochester Dumps Quebec Aces 11-2 To Meet Barons

Springfield Indians, American Hockey League champions, open their best-of-seven Calder Cup semi-final series Wednesday against Providence Reds. Rochester Americans face Cleveland Barons the same night.

Indians, who long ago clinched first place, wound up their regular season with an 8-4 victory over Buffalo Bisons Saturday night.

But the Reds didn't find out they had their place clinched until Hershey Bears beat the fourth-place Barons 4-0 Sunday. The Reds then edged Buffalo 5-4 in overtime.

The second-place Americans wound up with an 11-2 victory over the last-place Quebec Aces — the most goals the Americans have ever scored. In other Saturday action, Cleveland beat Quebec 10-2 and Hershey won over Providence 6-4.

Parker MacDonald of Springfield fired three goals within five minutes in the third period Saturday to break open what had been a tight 4-3 struggle.

He and linemate Bill Sweeney, who picked up a goal and three assists, each finished the season with 37 goals.

Ken Douglas, Harry Pidhirny, Bill McCreary and Ron Smith scored singles. Larry Wilson scored twice for the Bisons. Dick Gamble and Howard Glover got one goal each.

Claude Laforge scored twice for the Bears against Cleveland and Willie Marshall and Howard Yanosik got the others.

The Bears rallied for two third-period goals to beat Providence. The score was tied 4-4 when Laforge and Dunc Fisher found the mark for the deciding goals.

Yanosik, Forbes Kennedy, Les Duff and Ray Kinasevich accounted for the other Hershey goals. Dutch Reibel tallied twice for Providence. Don Ward and Nick Mickoski picked up one apiece.

WINNER PLUS TWO
Bo Elik came up with three goals for the Reds against Buffalo, one of them at 5:44 in overtime to win the game. Danny Lewicki, Ken Yackel and Mickoski produced singles. Wally Hergesheimer scored twice for Buffalo and Eddie Kachur added one.

The Americans had a party against Quebec. Pat Hannigan scored twice. Bill Saunders, Hank Ciesla, Cec Hoekstra, Ted Hampson, Dave Creighton, Guy Rousseau, Stan Smrke, Dick Van Impe and Al Macneil contributed one goal each. Bob Barlow and Guy Brassard were the Quebec scorers.

The defeat rang down a disappointing finish to the Aces' first try in the AHL. They managed only 19 victories and two ties in 70 games — finishing 23 points behind sixth-place Hershey in the seven-team loop. The Aces scored 179 goals, while the opposition poured in 333.

Seven Barons figured in the scoring Saturday. Ear, Ingarfield, Mike Labadie and Cal Stearns each scored two goals. Singles came from Don Hogan, George McAvoy, Spider Mazur and Hoekstra. Mike Stankiewicz, Bob Barlow scored for Quebec.

Ray St. Cyr Leads Way With Two Goals, Normie Dussault Gets Big One To Break Tie Before 2,889 Fans

By LEN O'DONNELL

Rallying in the overtime Sherbrooke Beavers posted a 4-2 victory over the Drummondville Rockets here yesterday afternoon before 2,889 fans. The win put the locals on an even footing with the Rockets in the four-out-of-seven final of the Eastern Townships Intermediate Hockey League playoffs.

The next game is slated Wednesday in Drummondville with the fourth back in Sherbrooke next Sunday. The Rockets posted a 7-1 verdict over the Beavers in the opener last Wednesday and are slight favorites in Wednesday's game.

It was a close-checking affair with both teams playing it close. The Beavers had the better of the game at the start but Joe Lacoursiere, Drummondville's net-minder, stopped them on his door-step.

Normie Dussault got the first goal in the overtime and then Ray St. Cyr, who had been missing all afternoon, connected for what proved to be the winning tally.

He registered two in the overtime while Marcel Fournier got the first tally for the locals and G. Paquin notched the other Drummondville marker.

The Beavers started with a bang but poor shooting and good work by Lacoursiere held them at bay. Gaudreau and Forgues drew majors near the half-way mark in the opening period and then two quick calls by the referee left the Rockets short two men but the Beavers failed to take advantage of their extra man power.

Sherbrooke was all over but again the rangy net-minder came up with the saves to ease the pressure while his mates were in the cooler. Bouvrette and Dussault were close but failed to click.

At the start of the middle session Gildor Levesque got the nod for cross-checking but his mates held. Gaudreau registered the first goal of the afternoon when he picked up rebound in front alone. Pratte had stopped two shots in a row but was off-balance on the third one. Drummondville was called for too many-men on the ice and only Marcel Benoit came close during the penalty.

Gilles Dube helped to set up the first Sherbrooke tally. Marcel Fournier raced into the corner after the rubber and passed back to Dube, who waited and when he saw the youngster in front he laid over a nice pass and the light went on.

At the start of the middle session Gildor Levesque got the nod for cross-checking but his mates held. Gaudreau registered the first goal of the afternoon when he picked up rebound in front alone. Pratte had stopped two shots in a row but was off-balance on the third one. Drummondville was called for too many-men on the ice and only Marcel Benoit came close during the penalty.

Gilles Dube helped to set up the first Sherbrooke tally. Marcel Fournier raced into the corner after the rubber and passed back to Dube, who waited and when he saw the youngster in front he laid over a nice pass and the light went on.

Wolverhampton And Blackburn Post Victories In English Football Cup Matches, To Meet May 7 At Wembley

LONDON (Reuters) — Wolverhampton Wanderers and Blackburn Rovers emerged victorious in the semi-finals of the English Football Association Cup play Saturday.

The Wolves shut out Aston Villa 1-0 and Blackburn upset Sheffield Wednesday 2-1.

The Wolves and the Rovers will square off May 7 in London's Wembley Stadium in the cup final.

The hard-driving Wolves now stand within reach of English soccer's elusive double crown, the league championship and the cup.

Finishing on top in the First Division of the league and winning the knock-out series to take the cup last was achieved in 1897 by Aston Villa.

Wolverhampton now is in second place in the league standing, 1½ games behind London's pace-setting Tottenham Hotspur, with six games left to play.

The favored Wolves have been to Wembley eight times and came away with the cup three times.

Blackburn has only been beaten once in seven cup final appearances.

With most interest centered in the cup semi-finals and the rival attraction of the Grand National steeplechase, scheduled league games drew only small crowds.

In the Second Division, Cardiff joined Aston Villa at the top of the standing while Villa had its hands full in the cup semi-final.

The Cardiff team tied 3-3 with their fellow Welshmen at Swansea, edging one point forward in the standing at 52 points from 36 games. But Villa has a game in hand.

Both Aston Villa and Cardiff appear certain of promotion to the First Division next season by reason of their strong hold on the top two places in the Second Division.

The First Division leaders, Tottenham Hotspur, went down in defeat to Bolton Wanderers 2-1.

Wolverhampton is three points behind the Spurs, with one game in hand.

Frank Mahovlich Tallies Winner After 103 Minutes To Edge Wings 5-4

Longest Game In Last Nine Years, Red Kelly Sets Up Clincher While Johnny Bower And Terry Sawchuk Star

DETROIT — (CP) — Frank Mahovlich, on the griddle for ineffective play, broke 43 minutes of scoreless overtime Sunday night with a goal that gave Toronto Maple Leafs a dramatic 5-4 win over Detroit Red Wings in the third game of their Stanley Cup semi-final series.

It was the longest playoff battle in nine years and propelled Leafs into a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven affair. The fourth game is scheduled here Tuesday night with a fifth in Toronto Saturday.

Mahovlich, a powerful six-foot-one left-winger who fell into coach Punch Imlach's disfavor for his apparent inability to shake off a scoring slump late in the National Hockey League season, made up for all of it as he casually tipped Red Kelly's blistering 30-foot shot past goaltender Terry Sawchuk at the three-minute mark of the third overtime period.

He also scored the winning goal in Leafs' 4-2 victory against the Wings in Toronto Saturday night. Detroit won the opening game of the series 2-1.

Despite Mahovlich's emergence as a clutch man, much of the glory for Sunday night's gruelling triumph must go to netminder Johnny Bower and Kelly, in the twilight of their big league careers.

Bower, a 35-year-old who has had trouble sticking in the NHL in his 17-year professional career, turned in one of his most brilliant games, turning aside 62 shots in the marathon. Sawchuk, a sitting duck for the game-winning goal, was also great. He handled 47 shots.

Kelly, a former Wing picked up by Leafs late this season, scored twice as Leafs erased a 2-0 Detroit lead with a four-goal outburst in the second period.

THE BIG ONE
The deciding goal came as Mahovlich cut across the goalmouth as Kelly let go a hard drive.

"I just got the tip of my blade on it," Frank said. "The goal was wide open. Sawchuk was on the other side of the cage."
Leafs went wild, vaulting over the boards to mob Mahovlich and Bower. The 13,337 fans fell silent in a moment of disbelief.

Coach Imlach Uses Money To Impress Leafs

TORONTO (CP)—Coach Punch Imlach tossed $1,250 on the dressing room floor Saturday night and sent his inspired Toronto Maple Leafs out to wrest a 4-2 victory from Detroit Red Wings and square their best-of-seven Stanley Cup semi-final 1-1.

Leafs, shaking off their opening-game tension, thrilled a roaring crowd of 13,759 with a fast-moving performance which gave them an edge in play most of the night and forced Wings into a tremendous defensive effort.

Wings pulled goalie Terry Sawchuk in favor of an extra attacker in the dying seconds of the game but lost the gamble when Bob Pulford scored on the empty net to sew it up for Leafs.

George Armstrong, Larry Regan and Frank Mahovlich got the earlier Leafs goals. Pete Goegan and Alex Delvecchio scored for Detroit.

WADS OF BILLS

Just before the start of the game, while Leafs were warming up, Imlach dropped 10 wads of $1 bills on the dressing room floor and scrawled this message on the blackboard:

"Take a good look at the centre of the floor. This represents the difference between winning and losing—$1,250."

The money represents the extra pay for each player on the club's reaching the Stanley Cup finals.

Leafs, who lost 3-1 to Wings here Wednesday night, got the message. They were on top of Sawchuk right off the opening faceoff.

AHL Semi-Finals Open Wednesday

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—The American Hockey League semi-finals playoff schedule was decided Sunday night by means of a four-way telephone conversation among the first four clubs.

The first-place Springfield Indians will be at home against Providence Reds, who finished third, and the second-place Rochester Americans will play host to the Cleveland Bears as the two best-of-seven series get under way Wednesday night.

The regular season was concluded Sunday but the final standings were in doubt until this afternoon when Cleveland Barons, tied for third place with Providence, lost to Hershey Bears. Providence defeated Buffalo Bisons Sunday night to move into third place.

The semi-final schedule: Springfield - Providence series—March 30 and April 2 at Springfield; April 3 and 6 at Providence; April 8 at Springfield if necessary; April 9 at Providence if necessary; April 10 at Springfield if necessary.

Rochester - Cleveland series—March 30 and April 1 at Rochester; April 2 and 3 at Cleveland; April 5 at Rochester if necessary; April 9 at Cleveland if necessary; April 10 at Rochester if necessary.

Roy Emerson Loses Title, Money, Emerald
CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Australia's Roy Emerson lost $1,000 and a $200 emerald Sunday but helped his countryman, Neale Fraser, win the men's doubles championship of the international tennis tournament.

Emerson and Fraser defeated Andres Gimeno and Jose Arilla of Spain, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

In the women's doubles, Maria Esther Bueno of Brazil and Darlene Hard, Montebello, Calif., won the title by defeating Anne Hayden of Britain and Mrs. Betty Pratt, Samaila, B.W.I., 6-3, 6-3.

Emerson said he definitely had the money and the jewel when he arrived at his hotel Sunday after a party Saturday night.

The Australian pair were both tired—but so were their Spanish opponents. They went to the same party.

man Tim Horton drew high-sticking penalties at 10:32. The teams split the game's 10 penalties five apiece.

SATURDAY WIN

Leafs shook off their opening-game tension in a fast-moving performance Saturday. Pulford salted the win away with 47 seconds remaining as he scored into an empty net after Wings had pulled Sawchuk in favor of an extra attacker.

Armstrong scored at 13:37 of the first period, the Wings tied it up at 16:12 on Goegan's bouncing 20-footer and late in the second period Larry Regan completed a nice combination with Kelly to put the Leafs ahead to stay.

Mahovlich made it 3-1 at 4:02 of the third period. Delvecchio took Howe's pass between the legs of Leafs' Bert Olmstead to rap it home and cut the margin to 3-2.

Only five penalties, three to the Leafs, were called. Wings outshot Leafs 38-31 but time and again Bower came up with sparkling saves before 17,759 customers.

The series winner goes against Montreal Canadiens or Chicago Black Hawks for the Stanley Cup. Canadiens lead that best-of-seven skirmish 2-0.

Diomedes Olivo, 40-Year Old Rookie Pitcher, Is Again Impressive In His Battle For Berth With Pirates

A minor baseball miracle is taking place at Fort Myers, Fla., where Diomedes Olivo, 40-year-old rookie pitcher, is trying to earn a berth with Pittsburgh Pirates.

Picked up from the Mexican league, Olivo impressed again Sunday by pitching one-hit ball for two innings in his exhibition debut as Pittsburgh blanked Washington Senators 4-0 for its 11th consecutive victory.

Olivo compiled a 21-8 record in the double A Mexican circuit last season. He appeared in 35 games, completed 23 of 30 starts, worked 247 innings, struck out 238 men, walked only 61 and turned in a 3.02 earned run average.

Despite Olivo's age, Pirate manager Danny Murtaugh decided to take a look at the six-foot-one, 195-pound native of the Dominican Republic. He may be just the man to spell relief specialist Roy Face.

Olivo's pitched creditably in most of his intrasquad workouts and showed a hopping fast ball in his first official outing for the Pirates, who haven't lost since dropping their first three games.

CARDS, REDS WIN

Other fine pitching performances were turned in Sunday by St. Louis Cardinals, Vinegar Bend Mizell, who went nine innings and beat Detroit Tigers 3-1 on a five-hitter, and Cincinnati Redlegs, Jim Brosnan, a 43 victor over Milwaukee Braves with a six-hit, nine-inning performance.

In other games, Chicago White Sox edged Philadelphia Phillies 7-6, Baltimore Orioles defeated New York Yankees 3-1, San Francisco Giants beat Boston Red Sox 6-3, Kansas City Athletics nipped Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2 and Chicago Cubs defeated Cleveland Indians 3-2.

In Saturday's action, Chicago downed Los Angeles 12-5, Detroit defeated Cincinnati 5-3, Pittsburgh edged Milwaukee 1-0, Kansas City defeated Washington 7-5, St. Louis defeated Philadelphia 3-2, Chicago defeated San Francisco 2-0, Cleveland downed Boston 3-2 and Baltimore swamped New York 9-2.

Harvey had started for the Pirates Sunday and checked the Senators for five innings with three singles. Olivo then took over. Gene Baker accounted for two runs with a first-inning double and a home run in the eighth.

The Cards won their eighth in the last nine games with Mizell duplicating Larry Jackson's route-going performance of Saturday—first of the spring.

Lee Wallis' two-out homer in the ninth inning broke a three-game losing streak for the Reds.

The White Sox won their fourth one-run game when rookie J. C. Martin singled across the clincher in the eighth after Luis Aparicio tied it with a two-run homer. Pitcher Don Cardwell drove in two runs for the Phils in a five-run, fourth-inning uprising against Barry Latham.

Jackie Brandt and rookies Chuck Staniland and Dave Nicholson hit homers for the Orioles while Arnold Portocarrero and Gordon Jones scattered seven Yankee hits.

Bud Daley and Ned Garver, who drove in one run and scored another for the Athletics, had the Dodgers shut out until the ninth. A single and three errors gave the world champions two runs.

Eddie Bressoud went 3-for-4, Orlando Cepeda homered, and Mike McCormick pitched one-hit ball in a five-inning workout for San Francisco.

Rookie Ron Santo, who drove in the first Cub run, also knocked in the tie-breaker in the ninth with a sacrifice fly to beat the Indians.

Harmer and John Turnbull won the men's doubles draw tourney defeating Sevigny and Doug Davies, 10-15, 15-12, 15-10. Harmer and Mrs. Rousseau won the mixed draw downing McNeill and Turnbull 15-8, 18-17.

The draw events were keenly contested as no two "A" players were allowed to play together and all pairs consisted of an "A" and a "B" player.

Following the tournament, which was organized under the direction of vice-president Harry Blue, the annual meeting was held in the Officer's Mess. Rene Monty, the club president, officiated.

Dick Stewart was elected president for the 1960-61 season and John Turnbull vice-president. Other officers are: Peter Watson, club captain; and Mrs. Dick Stewart, secretary-treasurer.

Two candelabras were presented to the Officers Mess by president Monty in appreciation for the privileges extended to the club. Lt. Col. Doug Ward and Mess President, Capt. Gerry Bryant received the gifts.

Tan Joe Hok Of Indonesia Retains His Canadian Badminton Crown By Defeating Finn Kobbero Of Denmark

WINNIPEG (CP)—Tan Joe Hok of Indonesia successfully defended his men's singles crown Saturday by battling from behind to defeat a tiring Finn Kobbero of Denmark in the deciding game of their final at the Canadian open badminton championships.

After Kobbero had taken the opening game 15-10 and Tan the second by 15-8, the 21-year-old Indonesian fell behind 18-6 in the rubber game before driving back to tie it 13-13.

Kobbero elected to have the game decided on the next two points and Tan made them, after each had broken the other's service.

Dallas Long Sets New Shotgun Mark
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dallas Long of the University of Southern California Saturday surpassed all shotgun marks with a heave of 64 feet 6½ inches.

The recognized world record is 63-2, set by Parry O'Brien Nov. 1, 1956.

Long's throw climaxed a duel between Long and Dave Davis of the Southern California Striders, a local track club.

The 260-pound Long got the throw off on his third try.

Ten minutes earlier, Davis, 22, put the shot 63 feet 10½ inches.

Dressing Room Comments

By MARVEN MOSS

MONTREAL (CP)—"You should be punching me in the face instead of slapping me on the back!"

That's what crew-cut 35-year-old Doug Harvey told his team mates in the dressing room Saturday night after his overtime goal gave Montreal Canadiens a 4-3 overtime win over Chicago Black Hawks.

Harvey, his face glistening with giant drops of sweat, said grimly: "It was my fault we were there (playing overtime) in the first place."

"We never should have been there at all. It was only through the grace of God we pulled through."

But Montreal's exuberant Canadiens and Coach Toe Blake ignored Doug's self-censure.

Harvey's 40-foot tally at 8:38 of the extra period—assisted by Dickie Moore and Henri Richard—gave Montreal a 2-0 edge in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup series.

What brought on the self-proclamation was a flagrant blunder Harvey made that enabled Chicago's Billy Hay to score at 18:58 of the third period, sending the game into overtime.

PUT IT ON HAYS' STICK

Trying to clear the puck against the boards just inside the Montreal blue line, Doug put it right on Hay's stick and the shifty center streaked in unopposed to beat goalie Jacques Plante.

Coach Blake had little to say about the game beyond that both clubs had played much better than in the opener—it ended the same way, 4-3 for Montreal.

In the Chicago dressing room coach Rudy Pilous said that while there was no penalty, his Hawks were actually playing a man short when Harvey scored.

He said defenseman Dollard St. Laurent—who played with Montreal for seven seasons before going to Chicago in 1958—had broken his stick just seconds before.

"Dolly was out of the play, unable to cover his check. And that was young Richard, who helped on Harvey's goal."

Goalie Glenn Hall shook his head sadly when questioned about Harvey's shot.

"It was hell-high. There were players in front of me. I first saw it a couple of feet ahead and then, zingo, it was in the net," he said, gesturing with his hand.

Dick Richardson KO's Kalbfell To Win Title

DORTMUND, Germany (AP)—Dick Richardson of Britain knocked out Hans Kalbfell of Germany in the 13th round of their scheduled 15-round win the European heavyweight championship Sunday.

The end came amid wild protests from the 12,000 fans who had strongly rooted for the German boxer to capture the heavyweight crown vacated by Ingemar Johansson, when the Swede won the world title last June.

Richardson, a Welsh ex-milkman, connected with a series of left and right hooks to the German's head and a hard right to Kalbfell's chin which sent the German sprawling. The referee counted him out.

Pandemonium reigned in the giant indoor arena when Richardson hit the German again after he got up from the canvas.

Spectators seemed to believe that Richardson should not have hit Kalbfell again. It appeared to be a misunderstanding between French referee Robert Vaisberg and Richardson with the British fighter thinking that the round was to go on.

The referee's scorecard was not made public as is customary in rings here. But the Associated Press tally had the two fighters about even.

Richardson appeared to be more aggressive throughout the fight which saw no knockdowns up to the 13th round.

Kalbfell's handlers carried their boxer to the German's corner. Wild booing and whistling followed. There were shouts of "foul!" Fans rushed to the ring-side protest.

Amidst all that the referee calmly went to Richardson's corner and lifted the Welshman's right arm declaring him the winner.

Wiffi Smith Cops Columbus Women's Open

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Freckle-faced Wiffi Smith shot a brilliant 68 Sunday to win the $8,000 Columbus women's open golf tournament by one stroke.

The St. Clair, Mich., 24-year-old got a big lift from an eagle three on the first hole and went on to cut four strokes off par. Her tremendous round lifted her from a tie for seventh to the title.

Louise Suggs of Atlanta, who started the final round with a one-stroke lead, tied for second with Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay. Both had 309.

Miss Smith's victory was worth $1,330. Miss Suggs and Miss Crocker won $917.50 each.

Doug Harvey Redeems Himself With Winning Tally After Getting Caught Off Balance, Edge Black Hawks 4-3

MONTREAL (CP)—The Montreal Canadiens - Chicago Black Hawks Stanley Cup semi-final series now shifts to Chicago after a dramatic chapter written into the record books by veteran defenseman Doug Harvey.

The great clutch player scored at 8:38 of the first overtime period Saturday night to give Canadiens a 4-3 victory and a 2-0 lead in games in the best-of-seven series.

The pressure was on Harvey when he won the game with a 40-foot screened shot. As he said after the game in a moment of self-criticism: "It was my fault we were in overtime."

The veteran of 13 National Hockey League seasons had misused an attempt to clear the puck at his own blue line 62 seconds before the end of the third period, laying the puck on the stick of Chicago centre Bill Hay.

OUT OF POSITION

Hay was around Harvey and in front of goalie Jacques Plante in nothing flat, scoring easily after faking Plante out of position.

Hay's goal was the third comeback by Hawks to tie the score and it sent the game into sudden-death overtime.

Now, the series shifts to Chicago for the third and fourth games Tuesday and Thursday. There is a strong suspicion in the Montreal camp that Hawks, who have come close to upsetting Canadiens in the first two games, may succeed in front of their home crowd.

Goalie Glenn Hall had no chance on Harvey's game-winning, as the puck whizzed through several milling players in front of the net. Hall said he saw the puck only as it went by him waist-high.

Dickie Moore scored two goals for Canadiens, in addition to setting up Harvey with a pass from the corner. His first in the first period came after a drop pass from Henri Richard and his second on a deflection of Boom Boom Geoffrion's shot from the point while Chicago were short-handed in the third period.

TIENG TALLIES

Marcel Bonin was the other Canadiens scorer, in the second period, beating Hall with a chest-high angle shot.

The Chicago goals by Ken Wharram, Bobby Hull and Hay were all scored in tieing tallies. Hull's marker in the third period was his first in the Montreal Forum and marked his return to action after missing the first game due to a tonsil infection.

Wharram, who scored on a wide-angle shot, was a standout performer for Chicago playing on a line with rookie Stan Mikita and veteran Ted Lindsay.

Geoffrion, who picked up two assists, was playing his 100th cup playoff game. His lifetime playoff scoring output now stands at 52 goals and 40 assists for a total of 101 points. He ranks second in goals and points to Maurice Richard who has a record of 81 goals and 41 assists for 122 points.

Four minor penalties were handed out to Chicago and two to Canadiens. Only one—a tripping call against Al Arbour—figured in the scoring.

Dortmund, Germany — Dick Richardson, Wales, stopped Hans Kalbfell, Germany, 13 (for European heavyweight title).

St. Patrick High School Wins St. Francis Valley Basketball Crown

Downs SHS 43-28 In Second Game To Cop Finals 72-51; Mike Leveque Sets Pace With 18 Points In Tilt

St. Pat's High School Seniors came through with a thrilling 43-28 victory over Sherbrooke High School in an exciting match played Friday evening at St. Pat's before a packed house. The first game of the two-game, total-point affair was won by St. Pat's 29-23, and the powerful green and white quintet captured the second encounter handily by a 43-28 margin to win its second straight St. Francis Valley Interscholastic Basketball League title by a 72-51 count.

Mike Leveque of St. Pat's took top scoring laurels of the fray as he netted a total of 18 points. Teammate Mike Bryson and Mike Allatt of S.H.S. followed with 12 points apiece.

Sherbrooke High surprised the host squad by quickly forging into a first quarter lead of 10-9. However, this lead didn't last very long as the Irish came back strongly during the second quarter and overtook the maroon men to lead at half-time 21-16, a lead which was never relinquished thereafter.

Each team featured a close man-to-man defense which resulted in a total of twenty-two fouls being called, fifteen against S.H.S. Sherbrooke High kept trying to move the ball in close through an unyielding defense while Bryson and Leveque were connecting on their outside set-shots for St. Pat's.

Play was very close in the third quarter, with St. Pat's outscoring S.H.S. 10-8. Both teams played at full tilt all the way but St. Pat's exhibited the better defense and offense to overcome the hard-working High School squad.

St. Pat's applied the pressure during the last quarter and tallied 12 points to the opposition's 4 to win the game 43-28 and the series 72-51. S.H.S. battled valiantly all the way and refused to say die till the final whistle had sounded. Though they gave their best, S.H.S. was unable to cope with the Irish quintet and went down to defeat.

Dick Finlay, Mike Leveque and Mike Bryson were the standouts for St. Pat's while Mike Allatt, Bob Coates and C. Jennison were the best for Sherbrooke.

It was a great team victory for St. Pat's as they have been working hard all season long under their coach, Brother Ray. Jim McKinnon's boys, though defeated, are to be congratulated for the fine battle they put up.

Even though there was a 21 point spread in the scores, both teams displayed considerable skill in the game. The match was a fitting end to interschool basketball.

The summaries of both games follow:

Richmond Wins Provincial Mosquito Championship

Ahuntsic Of Montreal Edges Richmond 3-1 To Cop Pee Wee Title; Mosquitos Top Sherbrooke 3-2 To Earn Crown

By MAURICE MALICK

RICHMOND — Ahuntsic Braves of Montreal copied the Provincial Pee Wee Hockey Championship edging the Richmond team 3-1 in a well-played and exciting game before some 300 fans. The locals earned the right to meet the Montreal champs by blanking Three Rivers 3-0 in the first game played in the day's activities. A second game saw the local Mosquitos, E. T. Champs, win the Provincial Mosquito title by edging Sherbrooke 3-2.

Coach Maurice Dagenais received the Quebec Minor Hockey Association Provincial Pee Wee Trophy from Minor convenor Maurice Parsons after his club beat the Richmond team. Dagenais' young son paced his club to the championship by scoring two goals with Michel Mongeau notching the other. Billy Doyle scored for Richmond just after three minutes of play in the first fifteen-minute period. Doyle had scored all three Richmond goals in the shutout win over Three Rivers in the first tilt, giving him a total of four goals on the day.

Ahuntsic was a more experienced team and had the better of the play through most of the game. The Richmond boys, however gave a very good account of themselves as this was their second game of the day. They had about an hour's rest before meeting the Braves for the title. Colin Tibbitts, in the Richmond nets, played a very sound game though he was beat for three goals. He turned away several attacks by the Ahuntsic team and was ably helped by his defense.

Doyle opened the scoring on a play with his brother Michael and Michel Tanguay assisting at 3:15 to beat goalie Andre Vezina. Dagenais scored his first of two markers at 8:10 on a play with Mongeau. The period ended with a 1-1 tie. Two penalties were called by referees Morehouse and Allanson, one to Migneault for tripping at 1:50 and to Mongeau for highsticking at 11:35. These are both Ahuntsic boys. The second frame saw Dagenais count again to give the Montrealers a 2-1 lead at 9:40. Belair assisted on this play. Only one penalty was called, that to Beltroco of Allanson, one to Migneault for Mongeau scored the insurance goal for Ahuntsic at 8:35 of the final period on a beautiful play going around a defenseman moving in alone on goalie Tibbitts. The locals tried their best to score but Vezina turned away several shots and was aided by the good work of his men in front of him.

The Braves came close on other occasions before Mongeau scored the third goal for his team.

Two penalties were called in this last frame, one to Allaire of the visitors at 5:20 and to Thibault of Richmond at 7:30. This penalty proved costly to the locals as Mongeau scored to put his team ahead 3-1 and sailing home to win the Provincial Pee Wee title.

The other games were close and the first tilt went two periods before any scoring was done. Six penalties were dished out in this game three in the first period, two in the second and one more in the third.

Billy Doyle, who scored all three Richmond goals, took a tripping penalty in the first frame at 10:10, then Three Rivers took two, one to Rejean Mailhot at 11:00 and Maurice Goneau at 13:40. The second saw two penalties dished out. Yves Charbonneau of visitors going off at 2:10 and Michael Doyle at 6:15.

The scoring started with Billy Doyle connecting at 1:10 on a neat play with Basil Wheeler to beat goalie Jean Pierre Camirand in the Three Rivers nets. Doyle got his second shortly after at 1:40 unassisted as he sailed in to grab a loose disc and pot it in the net. Guy Thibault was sitting out a tripping penalty when Doyle got his third marker with Wheeler assisting. The first shot hit the goal post but Doyle grabbed it to slap it by Camirand for his hat-trick. All the boys gave a good performance in taking this first tilt with a solid defense and hard skating forwards. Jimmy Pye coached the local squad.

Richard Thibault scored two goals, one that proved the winner as the Richmond Mosquitos edged Sherbrooke 3-2 in the second tilt played Sunday afternoon. Raymond Laperle counted the other while Jutras and Labone scored for Sherbrooke.

By winning this game Richmond takes the Provincial Mosquito title since there was no team from either Montreal, Quebec or Three Rivers represented. Minor convenor Parsons says that the Richmond club takes the title by winning over this Sherbrooke aggregation.

Laperle opened the scoring for Richmond at 2:10 on a lone play to beat goalie Gerard Dupre and at 5:50, Thibault scored his first of two markers to give Richmond a 2-0 lead. Jacques Roux assisted on the play. Daniel Labonte, playing a stalwart defensive job for Sherbrooke, made the play for his team's first goal at 9:35 with Jutras netting the puck behind goalie Richard Paquette. The second period saw Thibault score his second goal with Pierre Cormier and Laperle assisting. The goal came at the 12:50 mark. One penalty was called, going to R. Poulin of Sherbrooke at 4:10.

The third frame saw Labonte score unassisted at 7:45 and this was a neat goal for him. He was about the best player on the Sherbrooke squad though other boys showed well. Thibault got the only penalty in the third period at the eleven-minute mark.

All teams showed well throughout the day and the large crowd enjoyed every bit of it watching the youngsters make their plays and try their best. Harry Smith, president of the local group, was on hand for the activities as well as other minor officials and noted the boys gave a good account of themselves.

The second and final frame of play saw action much closer with the pressure exerted by both teams being very high. The visitors started to click more often during the half and kept Bury on their toes by matching them shot for shot until the final whistle ended play.

Actually, a win by Bury with only a three-point margin would have to put the hosts in a tie for the crown with SHS. However, thanks to the five-point lead they racked up in the primary frame, the hosting Bury team took the game and the championship by
