CANADIAN TRADE. Toronto, July 10.—R. G. Dun's report of trade in Canada for the last week has been active in general business at Montreal since the quieting down of the political excitement, but this is not the case in other parts of the country. There has been a moderate volume of trade at Toronto this week. Orders for the last week-to-month character for seasonable goods and prospects are fair. The feeling with regard to the political situation is what, and there is apparently less uncertainty than a week ago. Failures for the week are as against 35 for the same week of last year.

HARVIE'S STRANGE DEATH.

Drank Beer and it Killed Him.

ONTARIO AUTHORITIES TAKE THE MATTER UP.

A Sensation in the Muskoka District.

(Special to the Star.) Rousseau, Ont., July 10.—The talking of Muskoka district settlement is whole and wondering over the death of Albert Harvie at Rousseau, on the night of June 29, and who, according to local developments, may have been poisoned with drugged beer.

Inspector Greer, of the Attorney-General's Department, has been here making investigations, and has gone to Parry Sound to interview the coroner who held the inquest.

He will probably report in favor of having an analysis of the dead man's stomach and intestines by provincial analysts.

The facts of the case are these: Harvie had lived in Rousseau nearly all his life. He used to be a hard drinker and an associate of a bad lot. Two years ago, however, Miss Puller, daughter of the young man, and her father, the holder of him and induced him to join the Good Templars. The young lady was successful in reforming Harvie, and he took the pledge, much to the disgust of his old companions. He "cut" them and got into the habit of spending his money in the young man's company. Harvie kept his pledge until a month ago. One day in early June he was doing his ordinary manual labor with a number of his old associates, and they drank at him so for being afraid to drink with them. He went off with them and drank a few glasses. That afternoon he did not appear for work, and it was not until the next day that he was found dead in a bed. His body was found in a room, and he was found dead in a bed. His body was found in a room, and he was found dead in a bed.

He did not drink any more until the day of his death. On June 29 his friends persuaded him to go off again, and he had half a dozen glasses of beer, and went home to tea; then to see his sweetheart, and confessed having broken his word. He drank beer three weeks before a while his feet began to get numb. He asked Miss Puller to get him a new pair of shoes, and she bought a pair of shoes for him. He was unable to move. Miss Puller called a doctor, but he was unable to help. He was taken home and laid on the bed quite conscious, but complained that he could not see, and also of the numbness of his feet. He died at 11 o'clock, and an hour and a half after he had been taken ill, he was dead.

He told his sweetheart that his sensations were exactly the same as those which he had experienced in the woods when he drank beer. He was found dead in a room, and he was found dead in a bed. His body was found in a room, and he was found dead in a bed.

The two doctors, in searching for symptoms analogous to those of the dead man, discovered that the exact formula of poisoning by a drug called, in common phrase, the extract of hop, is very similar to that known as the Levant beer, much in use by English publicans to adulterate beer, and by thieves as "knockout" drops. It is much in use by poachers to kill fish. By dropping some of it into a stream the fish will die in a few minutes. For this reason the drug has in Canada, got the name of "fish berries," and its use is a criminal offence under the game laws.

Dr. Waddy claims to have ascertained that the use of the drug was known to some members of the crowd with whom Harvie associated, and had been used by one of an ordinary dealer in commodities. The Crown prosecutor, and coroner, organs of the dead man and traces of the drug are discovered, it will prosecute the theory that there was a deliberate attempt to murder Harvie, and that some one of his companions was guilty of manslaughter in "housing" his beer.

THE GLENCAIRN.

Mr. Duggan's Boat Out for a Spin.

HE IS WELL PLEASED WITH THE COURSE.

Glencairn's Great Spread of Canvas Attracts Attention.

(Special to the Star.) New York, July 10.—Mr. G. J. Duggan took advantage of the fine weather today to take out the Glencairn for a line spin in the neighborhood of Oyster Bay, where the international races for half-raters are to be sailed next week.

He expressed himself as being well pleased with the course, and said he was getting his tiny racer into first-rate condition.

He would have been none the worse of another week for preparation on the spot, but was satisfied that the Glencairn would give an account of herself and not fall for want of being at her best.

He has seen El Heiro, his rival, and is not disposed to underestimate her abilities. "She's a good one; I am sure of that," he remarked, "but then you can never tell till the race is well under way. We would rather meet and beat a fast boat than a sluggish yard and, of course, we don't want to be second to a tub."

The great spread of canvas, which the Glencairn carries, has attracted the attention of local yachtsmen, and they are curious to see how she can stand up under it in a strong breeze. Thus far, in practice, she has found only zephyrs, and in them has bowled along in a perfect manner of cloth without trouble. She picks up a lot of water at the bow; a good deal more than El Heiro, and for this reason the question of her pace cannot very well be answered. She seems to travel very fast, indeed, especially on a close hauling reach, but whether she is actually making good headway it is difficult to say. The indications now are that Oyster Bay will be crowded during the races.

JAPAN'S AWFUL DISASTER. More Than Fifty Thousand Lives Lost by the Recent Tidal Wave. Victoria, B. C., July 10.—Additional details of the Japanese tidal wave which destroyed the steamer Braemar from Yokohama, the advice are to June 23, and show that the disaster was probably the most fearful of modern times. The death list has been greatly augmented since last week, and it is undoubtedly going on. Thousands of injured are still being treated, and many are upon the verge of starvation, subsisting on fish washed ashore from the wrecked boats. The most serious trouble around Warrion Run and Sugar Neck, near here, is composed of women. This startling discovery was made and is now the talk of the two towns. Henry Wilson, who lives in an outlying portion of Warrion Run, was going home, last night, shortly before 12 o'clock, when at a lonely spot on the road three persons sprang at him from an empty lot, and demanded his money. He turned to run, but they were too quick for him and one of them caught him and held him by the neck. Wilson struggled, during which Wilson discovered that the robber wore skirts, had long hair, and emitted a couple of decidedly feminine shrieks as Wilson's blows struck true. Then her companions disappeared in the darkness. Wilson knocked down and relieved of his watch and some money, and the highway robber hurried back to the town, told his story, and a number of men hurried to the spot, but the women had long since escaped. It is supposed that they are responsible for several hold-ups which have taken place in that vicinity during the last few weeks.

LEAD PACKETS ONLY. ALL GROCERS. 1011

over by Rev. William Patterson, of Toronto. All doubt as to the convention city for 1897 removed, when announcements were made at the various gatherings that the meeting of next year would be held at San Francisco.

While final arrangements with the railroads have not yet been consummated, the latter have assured the trustees that this will be done, and the board has accepted their representation on this subject.

The first of the bicycle runs planned for this convention took place to-day, starting from Lafayette square and Vermont avenue, July 8, when a large line, many being gaily decorated with convention badges, banners and ribbons.

THE TRIP TO WASHINGTON. Washington, July 8.—(Special.)—A Star correspondent was up bright and early on Tuesday morning and was down at the Bonaventure Station at 7 o'clock, waiting for the train which was to take the expected look in his eyes that something particular was about to happen.

Expecting to meet a large company like-minded to himself, and going to the same destination, he was surprised to find the reason of his early departure from the city would have replied, "Hurrah for Washington."

Upon our arrival we were immediately marched to the Central Presbyterian church, where we were delighted to find that over one hundred and twenty people had already registered. Comfortably escorted in our various lodgings, we were anxiously awaited the evening meetings.

At 8 o'clock notwithstanding the down-pour of rain, the church was filled with cheerful Endeavorers, decorated with bright-hued badges, wending their ways to the various meetings. The evening sessions were held in twenty-two different places.

In each church there were two addresses given. The subject for all these meetings was "Deepening the Spiritual Life." After the meetings a "quiet hour" was held in each church. This "quiet hour" was occupied by prayer testimony and song. There were four Canadian addresses at these opening meetings. In the First Baptist Church the Rev. E. J. Edgerly, of Toronto; in the Epiphany Episcopal Church, Bishop Baldwin, D. D., of London, Ont.; in Hamilton's First Church, Rev. W. F. Wilson, Toronto; and in St. Vernon Place M. E. Church, Rev. W. D. Reid, of Toronto.

Each of these gentlemen gave addresses of about half an hour. The meetings were deeply interesting, and the points emphasized by the various speakers. Everything points to the Convention being a most successful one. The spiritual of all the gatherings yet held. At the present time it is impossible to give any statistics of the number of converts. The usual features of the orthodox Christian Endeavor convention are prominent. Badges without number, all the colors of the rainbow. Bright smiling faces, and cheerful, joyous singing. There is a happy and every body contented.

EDWIN GOULD'S MATCH WAR. Diamond Game Has Not Sold Its French Patents Yet, He Says. New York, July 10.—Edwin Gould, whose Continental Match Company is fighting the Match Trust, denies the report that his competitor, the Diamond Match Company, has received $600,000 for their French patents. Mr. Gould yesterday made public this speech, just received from his Paris agent.

"Government agrees to close no contracts with others for sixty days, provided the Diamond Match Company, within that time, Cable conformity, President Barber, of the Diamond Match Company, is not successful in his effort to discredit your system."

To this message Mr. Gould has responded: "Will send complete machine as once."

HIS TWO-DOLLAR BICYCLE. The Wheels are All in Charles Stedman's Head. New York, July 10.—The lunacy examiners at the Kings County Hospital have for the second time declared Charles Stedman insane. He had been committed to the hospital for the Long Island State Hospital. He was sent there on August 10, 1895, and was committed to the hospital officials, who declared him sane. He was placed in the almshouse, where he showed unmistakable signs of insanity.

Stade's delusion is that he is a great inventor. He thinks he has got a scheme for inventing bicycles, and believes there are millions in it.

JOHNSON'S FAST HALF-MILE. London, July 10.—At Offord this morning, John S. Johnson, the American cyclist, rode a half mile with flying start in 49.4 seconds, and a half mile with a standing start in 54.27 seconds.

THE ANCIENTS BANQUETED. PRINCE OF WALES MAKES A FRIENDLY SPEECH.

Ontario on being communicated with declined to recede from its position. The point in dispute appears to be the way in which the securities which are to be allotted, it was accordingly decided to send Judge Rankin to Kingston to discuss the matter with the Ontario Synod in hopes that an amicable arrangement might be completed. LOBSTERS FOR THE PACIFIC.

A shipment of Live Ones Arrive at Vancouver From Halifax.

Vancouver, B. C., July 10.—Attached to yesterday's Pacific express was special freight car containing a shipment of live lobsters and oysters, which have been sent out here by the Dominion Fisheries Department to be transported in the Pacific waters in the hope of propagating them. The journey from Halifax occupied exactly a week, and Mr. Slayton, who is in charge of the car, has his live freight arrived in much better condition than was expected. The temperature of the car was kept at 44 degrees by means of ice, and fresh salt water was shipped from here a few days ago to insure the result is satisfactory. A large number of lobster eggs and some black bass for transplanting in the Fraser River, which is now in the car. The oysters are in fine condition. The officials leave tomorrow in a steamer with their crates and return on cruise up the coast to select a suitable spot to "plant" them. This will be enclosed with a note until it is seen whether the experiment is a success or not.

ADRIET FOUR DAYS.

Halifax, July 10.—George Upham and Herbert Foley belonging to the fishery schooner "Helen G. Willis, of Gloucester, Mass., arrived in Halifax to-day en route for Boston. They were landed at St. John's N.B., by the Dominion which picked the men up adrift in an open boat almost in mid-ocean. They had been four days and three nights adrift. The weather was intensely cold for the season of the year, and the men experienced additional suffering from exposure and from the pangs of hunger and thirst. One of the men said: "We did our best to keep from despondency, but it was a hard job, especially when the third day passed without hope of rescue. Hungry, exhausted, and in a position where we were unable to help ourselves, we still sailed on, hoping against hope to be picked up. The first day a vessel was sighted, and steering so as to cross her track, we were taken on board the schooner more dead than alive."

THE ARMY WORM.

Jamestown, N. Y., July 10.—(Special.)—That much-feared pest, the army worm, has made its appearance in Chateauguay county in large numbers. Unless some method of checking its ravage is discovered, the crop in the county will be practically a total loss.

A POOL-ROOM CASE.

Hamilton, Ont., July 10.—(Special.)—On Saturday last A. J. Brown, of Buffalo, booked bets on the Dominion races at Davis & Haskin's pool room and won $1750. He was paid $750 in cash, and given a cheque for $1000, the remainder of which was subsequently stopped, on the ground that the wires had been tapped. Brown was called away by business on Monday, but he returned yesterday and says if the cheque is not paid he will sue for the amount. He denies that there was any wire tapping in his case.

TIRED OF LIVING.

(Special to the Star.)—Oshawa, Ont., July 10.—Nellie Bowhay, aged about twenty, one of a number of girls brought to Canada by Miss Rye some years ago, and who had a domestic in the employ of Mr. Hogg a farmer near here, committed suicide yesterday, by taking a dose of poison which she had bought for her reason for taking her life that she was no good, and tired of living.

HAMMOND'S TRIAL. An Application Made for a Change of Venue. (Special to the Star.)—Toronto, July 10.—The application to have the trial of Hammond, the alleged wife poisoner, changed from Bracebridge to Toronto having failed, application will be made to the new Attorney-General for the issuance of an order for the holding of a special Assize Court at Bracebridge to try the accused.

Hammond's counsel argue, with some force, that it would be unfair to keep their client detained in custody a year without being afforded an opportunity to defend himself, simply because the higher court only sits in Muskoka once a year. The application will, in all likelihood, be granted. There is every probability of the case rivaling, in sensational incidents, the celebrated Hyams trial.

Advertisements may draw a temporary custom, but to effect an enduring trade order and more genuine means must be resorted to. We prefer to rely on what we know to be bona fide statements of what we have to offer and in all our representations are no misrepresentation shall be found. Relying as you can therefore upon all we say, you can readily give us your confidence and rest assured that your purchases of us will be all that we assert them to be. This week we have on exhibition in our Clothing Show Window samples of some of our goods, worth examining. The Boys' and Children's Exhibit is certainly attractive and the prices remarkably low. Especially noticeable are the Tweed Suits at $2.00, Blue Serge at $2.50, Sailors at $1.00, Worsteds at $3.00. We show a 5-piece Boys' double breasted Blue Suit at $4.50, a Men's at $6.50, besides many other Men's Suits at from $5 to $10. Do not be drawn elsewhere by apparently low quotations, the kind of clothing that is sold so cheap is especially made up to sell. It's worthless as you will surely discover. Run no risk, call on us and be assured of fair treatment.
