CHURCHILL STEPS INTO EDC DEBATE

French Premier Visits Britain To Receive Compromise Plans Prepared By British Leader.

By COLIN FROST

London — (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill stepped personally into the deadlock over West European defence today with urgent talks aimed at getting German troops quickly lined up with the West.

French Premier Pierre Mendes-France flew to Chartwell, Churchill's private estate 25 miles from London, for his first meeting with the British statesman and consultations expected to last several hours. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden rushed home from his Austrian vacation to join them.

Mendes-France came straight from Brussels, where the six-nation talks on the European Defence Community broke down Sunday after four days of practically fruitless bargaining.

Winding up their conference in the Belgian capital, the foreign ministers of France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg issued a communique admitting failure to agree on EDC but declaring they shared these four common political aims for Western Europe:

1. Closer European co-operation to protect West Europe from aggression.
2. The avoiding of neutralization of Germany.
3. Continued efforts to work for unification of Germany and some sort of German contribution to Allied defence.
4. Drafting of a formula to promote Europe's political and economic integration.

It was generally felt that barring some miracle, EDC and the six-country European army it was to set up were dead hopes.

The French premier is reported carrying to Churchill the outline of some alternate plan of European defence, in which Britain would play a major role. Observers in London believed Churchill himself had some such plan to put before the French leader.

In a message to German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer last week Churchill said it was his "belief that all will come out right in the end in one form or another . . ."

The French premier had told the Brussels group he was convinced the French National Assembly would reject the army plan unless the other five countries agreed to the sweeping revisions he demanded in the EDC treaty.

On the heels of Sunday's breakdown, U. S. State Secretary Dulles sent the French chief a note saying the United States reserves its position on EDC if it is either changed substantially or rejected.

The main worry for both Britain and the United States has been the convention giving West Germany almost complete sovereignty, which as presently drawn cannot take effect until EDC becomes a reality. The Allies figure much more delay in granting this sovereignty will mean the end of Adenauer's government.

France, author of the EDC idea, has balked at ratifying the treaty for fear Germany might dominate the organization.

Close Fight Shaping For TLC Ballot

Regina — CP — A tough fight was shaping up today for the presidency of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, top post in Canadian labor.

As the TLC opened its annual convention in a dancehall here, the leadership race appeared to be between a Montreal garment worker-politician and an Ontario man who started up the ladder of labor politics as a milkman.

Favored was burly Claude Jodoin of Montreal, a city councillor there and an organizer for the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union. Jodoin, 41, would be the first French-Canadian head of the TLC in 45 years.

His closest competition was expected to come from A. F. MacArthur of Toronto, president of the TLC's Ontario Provincial Federation of Labor. The dapper MacArthur, former Canadian chief of the teamsters' union, was bounced from that organization about a year ago after an internal squabble. He now heads an office workers' group in Canada.

While many delegates to this 69th convention were expected to be nominated for the presidency, the only one expected to provide serious competition. for Jodoin and MacArthur was R. K. Roly Gervin of aVncouver.

Like Jodoin, Gervin is a TLC vice-president. He is secretary of the British Columbia Federation of Labor. His home town of Vancouver is also that of Percy R. Bengough, 71, retiring president.

Supporters of Jodoin and MacArthur have been staging heavy campaigning in advance of the vote, expected Thursday.

Badges proclaiming "I Like MacArthur" are being worn by backers of the Ontario labor leader. Jodoin glad-hands in the lobby of the Saskatchewan Hotel until the early-morning hours.

The Montreal has the quiet support of the leaders of a big group of AFL unions headed by Frank H. Hall of Montreal, one of the country's most powerful labor chiefs.

Duchess Of Kent Visits Quebec City

By TOM McCUSKER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Quebec—(CP)—The Duchess of Kent who spent many years in Paris with her exiled parents—Prince and Princess Nicholas of Greece—and studied languages there, is looking forward to a round of engagements with French-speaking Quebecers.

"She is especially looking forward to her speech at city hall Tuesday," an official with the party said as the duchess and her beautiful daughter, Princess Alexandra, arrived Sunday to begin a three-week Canadian tour.

The duchess speaks perfect French.

The royal visitors, guests for four days of Governor General Vincent Massey at Quebec Citadel will call on Premier Duplessis at the Legislature before going to city hall where the duchess will deliver a short address in French to city councillors.

In the afternoon they will spend an hour and 15 minutes at the new 400-bed veterans' hospital at nearby St. Foy, Que. Both the 47-year-old duchess and her 17-year-old daughter have taken particular interest in hospitals and nursing work.

Princess Alexandra, nicknamed "Sandra" by her mother and friends, has wanted to be a nurse since her school days.

The duchess, one of the world's best-dressed women, carries a new, streamlined wardrobe of 22 dresses—four of them evening dresses —and 13 hats. The hat she wore today—a cluster of velvet maple leaves designed for her Canadian arrival—brought admiring glances from clothes-conscious Quebec ladies at the airport.

The tall princess—about an inch taller than her mother—has a wardrobe of 16 dresses and 10 hats.

The royal visitors remain here until Wednesday when they leave by train for Toronto where the duchess will open the Canadian National Exhibition Aug. 27, and then tour Ontario and the Maritimes.

Tuesday they visit the 315-year-old Ursulines convent here and lunch at the ancient manor house of Alain Joly de Lotbiniere, 40 miles southwest of Quebec.

Wednesday, 12th anniversary of the Duke of Kent's tragic death in an air crash, his wife and daughter will spend the day quietly and free of engagements.

The duchess is touring Canada by invitation of Governor General Massey and organizers of the Canadian National Exhibition. She has been invited twice before but had to refuse last year because of Coronation celebrations and in 1952 because of her Malayan tour.

Premier Duplessis Officiated At Ceremonies For New Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital Opening

By BETTY BRADSHAW

Sweetsburg, August 23 — Over 2,500 people were on hand Saturday in the sweltering August sun to witness the hour-long ceremony of the opening of the new Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital, by the Hon. Maurice L. Duplessis, Q.C., LLD., Prime Minister of the province of Quebec.

The citizens of Sweetsburg, Cowansville and the surrounding communities of the counties of Brome and Missisquoi packed themselves onto the lawn and driveway in front of the new $800,000 hospital to attend the outdoor ceremony and to welcome the Premier, through whose aid the project to build this much-needed building was greatly realized.

This day marked the culmination of the efforts of the citizens of this district to replace the overcrowded and outmoded building, originally constructed as a hotel in 1830, which has cared for an ever-increasing number of patients since 1910, and had finally reached the limit of its intake capacity. The evidence of the need for this project is strikingly obvious as the old white frame building can be seen standing defiantly at one side of the front of the newer, much more modern brick hospital. The comparison is one that will stand out in the minds of all who see it, as the work of conscientious people working side by side to better the conditions of all those concerned.

This fact was on the lips of every speech-maker at the short ceremony, as they expounded the goodness of the cooperation of the two races who benefit through this hospital and by the contribution and aid that they received through their willing government.

The ceremony opened with introductory remarks from John Sharp, chairman of the Board of Directors, who was acting in the absence of the president, Gordon Scott.

In his remarks, Mr. Sharp mentioned the work of several of the leaders in the campaign for the new hospital, including the untiring work of the President, Gordon Scott. One of the instigators of the idea many years ago was the late H. F. Vilas, president of the Vilas Furniture Company, who worked every minute he could for the cause, up until the day that he died.

Mr. Sharp reviewed the events leading up to the construction of the building, how in August of 1951, three years ago, committees of 14 districts of the Brome and Missisquoi Counties met to lay the initial plans for the hospital. At this time, Mr. Scott was named president of the building committee, and the architecture of the building was immediately taken up by Edward J. Turcotte, prominent Montreal architect.

The plan was taken to the Quebec Government for their aid, which was accepted with the donation of a grant of $400,000. And in May, 1952, the local campaign for $675,000 was opened and in a remarkably short time, this sum plus $77,000 over was realized, this alone showing the enthusiasm and conscientiousness with which this project was so ably received, by all who could help in any way.

Mr. Sharp also stated that although it had taken a very short time from the days that the cam-

Rhee Denies Concern At UN Action

Seoul —(Reuters)— President Syngman Rhee said today that Koreans should not be worried even if all United States and United Nations troops are pulled out of South Korea.

He was giving his first public reaction to news that four U.S. divisions are being withdrawn from Korea and that the British Commonwealth division is being scaled down by about two-thirds.

Rhee spoke at a mass meeting held here by the pro-government Federation of "Patriotic" Organizations to celebrate the "successful diplomacy" of his recent trip to the United States.

Elaborating his remarks about the withdrawal of UN troops, Rhee said:

"When the communists attacked us in 1950, we stood up to them not only because we expected foreign help, but also because our ideal was 'give us freedom or give us death.'

Referring to his talks with U.S. leaders last month, he reported that many Americans said "Dr. Rhee deserves to be a world leader — because they found out I know things, and my predictions about Communists have turned out to be true."

Rhee said the United States does not want war now because it believes an atomic and hydrogen war will mean the destruction of all mankind.

Duke Again In Britain From Tour

Aberdeen, Scotland —(Reuters) —The Duke of Edinburgh arrived back in Britain today from a three-week tour of Canada and headed for Balmoral castle to rejoin Queen Elizabeth.

Several thousands persons gathered around the harbor as the Royal Yacht Britannia steamed in at the end of its voyage from Goose Bay, Labrador. The Duke stood on the bridge of the trim vessel and waved a response to shouts of greeting from nearby fishing boats and from the shore.

At an official reception he declared that the first few days of his voyage had been "rather rough" but that the crossing was on the whole very enjoyable.

He then left, behind the wheel of his own car, on the 40-mile drive to Balmoral, where other members of the royal family, including the Queen, their children, Prince Charles and Princess Anne, the Queen Mother, and princess Margaret, have been vacationing.

The Britannia was escorted by an RAF plane and the frigate Volage through the last stages of its trip to Aberdeen. Fishing boats clustered near the royal yacht as it nosed into the harbor here in a burst of bright sunshine.

The Duke covered 10,000 miles, mostly by air, while he was in Canada. He saw some of the outstanding events of the British Empire Games at Vancouver, and then spent a week touring the remote Canadian northwest.

The Duke now has no immediate public engagements and will be able to join castle guests in the sport of grouse shooting, now in the height of its season.

Indictment Sought In Terrorism

New York—(AP)—The state today will ask a Brooklyn grand jury to indict for first degree murder four teen-age terrorists who allegedly tortured and battered harmless people just for thrills.

Police said two of their victims were killed by this senseless violence.

The shocking reports of the foursome's wanton brutality brought new vigor to a police campaign already started against "undesirables."

During the week-end more than 600 persons were rounded up by police on the lookout for hoodlums and toughs. Police also had their eyes open for any would-be imitators of the kill-for-thrill gang.

One alleged band of imitators was caught only after its victim, Joel Ewen, a 19-year-old student, stumbled into a police station with his face covered with blood. Ewen reported he was set upon by three youths, the leader of whom yelled at his victim:

"I'm Koslow, the thrill killer."

He referred to Jack Koslow, 18, already jailed as the alleged leader of the four who police say prowled Brooklyn parks, viciously beating and killing helpless men and, in one case, horsewhipping two young girls.

Koslow now is being held for assault. His three buddies—Melvin Mittman, 17; Jerome Lieberman, 17, and Robert Trachtenberg, 15—are under indictment for homicide in the death of one of the victims.

Ladies' Department Has Spotlight At Cookshire

By HUGH DOHERTY

Cookshire, Aug. 23. — It was literally a "Ladies' Day" here at the annual fair of the Compton County Agricultural Society which opened yesterday, so far as judging competition was concerned.

Not only were the ladies' sections of the fair the only ones judged for opening day—in fact, judging in this department started early Saturday afternoon—but fair officials said that entries in the department were the heaviest on the grounds, and the best they had seen in years.

But the fair as a whole opened auspiciously under sunny bright skies, and fair officials in every department were optimistic about this year's show.

Well over three thousand people flocked through the opening day gates yesterday afternoon and evening, and the grandstand, though it attracted only some 200 to its afternoon program of races and stage performances, was almost completely packed for the evening performance of the Associated Entertainment Enterprises troupe.

President R. V. Burns was jubilant over opening day showing. "It's way above last year," he said, referring to the first day attendance, "attendance will be up almost a half more than at last year's opening day."

Entries, too, were quite high this year, though a comparison with last year's figures showed a slight decrease in over-all exhibits. This year there are a total of 141 entries, slightly down from last year's total of 186, but Secretary Walter Hodgeman said: "We are much better off than some of the other fairs, and the judges say that the over-all quality is outstanding."

He also said that the manufacturing building is filled to capacity—in fact officials were obliged to turn down several applications because of lack of exhibiting room. In the machinery department, too, he marvelled at the larger numbers of machines on display, especially in the evaporator section.

The main building featured displays of home appliances, television sets, kitchen utensils, and a special exhibit of chinchillas from the Pageau Chinchilla Farm. Out in the brilliant sunlight, the displays of farm machinery, tractors, cultivators, balers, harrows and other modern farming gadgets—winked colourfully about the grounds.

Mr. Burns also said that although over-all entries were down exhibits in some sections were heavier than ever. He mentioned particularly the horse-team section, and the swine and sheep sections where entries were fuller than usual.

The giant Peter March midway was doing a roaring trade with its thrilling rides, traditional games of chance and fascinating sideshows. The large crowd surged through its gates, and lined up in some places to get in the rides and sideshows.

Several distinguished guests were also expected to pay a visit to this year's fair some time in the near future, thought none of them were present yesterday. Invitations have been tendered to J. A. Blanchette, Member of Parliament for Compton County, John French and Dr. Curtis Lowry.

The Judging program for today calls for complete results in the swine, sheep, poultry, field crops, vegetables, and dairy classes, with the Island Brook Calf Club taking the spotlight for their own annual fair held right on the Cookshire Fair grounds. Their annual banquet will take place tonight in the dining hall at which time prizes will be awarded the winners of the judging competitions held in the afternoon. They will round out the junior part of the program on Tuesday with inter-club showmanship competition.

Two harness races were also run off in front of the grandstand yesterday under the eye of Racing Secretary W. Jewkes, who said that the track, for the first time in some weeks, was in the

Airliner Crash In Iowa Claims Lives Of Eleven

Mason City, Iowa — (AP) — A Braniff International Airways DC-3, warned not to land here because of a wild storm, crashed into a pasture Sunday killing 11 of the 19 persons aboard. Eight were injured, two critically.

The violent mixture of heavy wind, rain and hail had "socked in" the Mason City field, and the leaden skies made a landing impossible.

An earlier report had given a power failure at the airport as a factor in the crash, but airport officials said the report was erroneous. A power failure an hour later had disrupted some air traffic temporarily.

The plane, northbound from Memphis, Tenn., to Minneapolis, was only about 10 minutes out from the field, Braniff officials said, when they radioed it to hold off landing because of the storm.

The plane plunged to earth on the farm of Harold Marquardt, 4½ miles south of the village of Swaledale and about 18 miles south of here. There apparently were no eye-witnesses to the crash.

Highway patrolmen reported a wire of a new high-voltage power line between Fort Dodge and Mason City had been snapped and they said they believed the plane had hit the wire.

Debris from the crash was spread along a line of more than 500 feet. The plane was demolished, only the tail section remaining relatively intact.

The plane's pilot, Capt. W. A. Pickering, 40, of Parkville, Mo., died at the scene of the crash. The co-pilot, W. B. Wilde, 31, of Minneapolis, died a short time later at the Hampton, Iowa, hospital.

The hostess, Miss Betty Ann Truly, 23, of Kansas City and Shreveport, La., was reported in "fair" condition at hospital in Mason City.

Rescue workers had to cut through the tangled wreckage with torches to free some of the groaning passengers.

Civil Aeronautics Board and Civil Aeronautics Authority officials were expected here today to investigate the crash.

The pasture where the twin-engine aircraft came down was about a half mile from the residence of the Leo Jones family, who farm adjoining land.

"It was raining and hailing and there was a lot of lightning," Mrs. Jones said. "We heard a big crash but we thought it was just more thunder and lightning."

She said members of her family went to investigate anyway and she went along.

"A girl — I guess it was the stewardess — and another girl were wandering around in a daze and someone helped them and took them to a hospital," she said.

There were "about ten" bodies lying on the ground around the crumpled plane, she added.

In Dallas, Braniff officials said it was the first fatal crash of one of the line's planes since 1939.

Air Force Demand Brazil President Resign Office

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil — AP — Army tanks rallied to the defence of embattled Brazilian President Getulio Vargas today as the air force pressed for his resignation.

The tanks rumbled into position around the presidential palace after Radio Nacional reported Sunday night that Vargas had rejected air force demands that he step down.

Troops and police throughout the Rio area already had been placed on the alert.

One newspaper quoted the battle-seasoned ex-dictator as saying he would leave his palace "only dead."

As rumors spread through the tense capital, the government radio periodically broadcast assurances by Vargas' military chief of staff, Caiada de Castro, that all was calm at the palace and pledged that the armed forces would uphold the presidency.

One rumor said War Minister Zenobio da Costa had ordered army units to prepare to take over the Galeao air base.

Other reports said opposition radio stations were operating under a lid of censorship and that international telephone lines to New York were "out of order."

The sudden turn of events came after a day-long huddle between army and air force chiefs. The airmen said later a "worthy solution" had been found for the crisis resulting from charges that members of the presidential guard were involved in an assassination plot against anti-Vargas editor Carlos Lacerda.

The attempt resulted in the slaying of popular air force Maj. Rueben Vaz and brought rumbles of resentment from air force leaders which culminated in the resignation demands.

Radio Nacional quoted Vargas as replying, "I can never accede to such a proposal."

The broadcast said Vargas conferred at length Sunday night with Vice-President Joao Cafe Filho. In the event Vargas did resign, Filho would succeed him.

The broadcast said the text of the air force note was delivered to Vargas by army chief of staff Marshall Mascarenhas Demorais.

Vargas was quoted as saying: "I will not resign. I was elected by the people for five years and I will fulfill my constitutional duties until the end."

Daddy Ringtail

Wild Donkey

By WESLEY DAVIS

Old MacDonald has a farm, ee-I-ee-I-oh! And on that farm there was a doney, farm there was a donkey, name was Archibald. He was the gentlest kindest, almost-people donkey that you ever saw Why, he was just like one of the family.

But one day Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, got a trouble message from Old MacDonald. The message said please to come in a hurry. There was trouble on the farm, and Archibald was the trouble.

Daddy Ringtail slid down to the ground from the monkey house. He hurried away and along the Elephant Path. He didn't stop until he came to the farm where Old MacDonald had some trouble, ee-I-ee-I-oh.

Old MacDonald ran out of the house to meet Daddy Ringtail. One of Old MacDonald's suspenders was broken. He had been much too busy with trouble to bother about suspenders.

"Oh, Daddy Ringtail!" cried Old MacDonald in his crackly Old MacDonald voice "Oh, Daddy Ringtail, something terrible has happened to Archibald, my donkey. He has gone wild!"

Old MacDonald pointed his finger down toward the barn. Yes, and what do you think Daddy Ringtail saw? He saw pood old Archibald, who has always been so kind and gentle and dignified even. And what was Archibald doing. He was standing on the old rail fence. He was standing on his two back feet. While Daddy Ringtail watched, Archibald put a foot on his side, and he held the other foot high in the air like a hand to help him balance and keep from falling. Then Archibald began to dance on the fence!

"Archibald!" shouted Old MacDonald. "Behave yourself!"

Archibald jumped from the fence to the ground, but he did not behave himself. Instead he began to run and buck like a very wild horse. He had quite forgotten that he was gentle old Archibald, it seemed.

But Daddy Ringtail knew what the trouble was, he thought. He looked in the barn until at last—way back under some hay where Archibald had hidden it—Daddy Ringtail found a secret box. The box had a new cereal in it, and the name of the cereal was Wild Oats. It was made from harmless escapades but Archibald had eaten too much. That is what the trouble was.

Daddy Ringtail explained it all to Archibald, and when Archibald understood, he promised he wouldn't eat too much any more. Archibald didn't either, because a promise is a promise, you know. Happy day!

Mrs. Fred McElravy and son, Barre, of King's Corner, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Currie and family and Miss Iona Davidson, of Kinnear's Mills, and Mrs. Annie Davidson, to Lancaster, N. H., where they visited their cousin, Mrs. Florence Heath.

Mr. Carl King, of King's Corner, spent a day in Thetford Mines, where he called to see Mr. and Mrs. John Henderson and son, Billy, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wright and Mrs. Annie Magwood.

Mr. Gerald Rickaby and Mr. Roy Houle, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Morrison.

Mr. Amos McElravy, of Huntingville, Mr. James McElravy and Mr. Guy McElravy, of Lennoxville, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin McElravy.

COATICOOK—

Interest in the sport of harness racing is being revived in Coaticook and the directors of the association responsible for bringing the events to the public are well pleased at the response. Winners in last Sunday's races were Brook Evans, owned by Dominion Lime Ridge Co., Ritz Teddie, owned by by Mr. E. Cote of Pleasantville, Blondie the Third, owned by P. A. Cote of Richmond, Igara, owned by C. Cameron of East Angus and Dave Adams, owned by F. Desrochers of Richmond.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Perkins, formerly of Coaticook, will be interested to learn that they are on the way to Santa Barbara, California, where Mr. Perkins plans to continue his studies in photography, especially in the field of motion picture taking. They recently motored here from their home in Long Island City, N. Y., to spend a few days with Mrs. Perkin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Meade, before leaving for the West.

Miss Helen Turnbull, of Montreal, was a weekend guest at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cromwell.

Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Hockin and family, from Montreal, were visitors in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay N. White and Mrs. Helen Sirois were on a motor trip through New England, visiting the Rangeley Lakes and Portland among other places.

Mr. Carlton Thatcher, after several years absence from Coaticook, when he was residing in Ontario, has recently returned here and renewed acquaintances with his former friends. Carlton is still very much musically inclined and may be currently heard entertaining guests in the lounge of one of the local hotels.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Turnbull, Mr. Jack Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beerworth, Robert and Betty Beerworth, and Miss Rose Hebert motored to Canaan, Vt., on Sunday.

The many friends of Mrs. Madeleine Brunet extend deepest sympathy in the death of her mother, Mrs. Carrie Gage, of Beebe, on Sunday afternoon last. Mrs. Gage had been in poor health for some time and had been residing with Mr. and Mrs. Brunet, for several weeks.

Word has been received from Mr. Cecil Meade, that he is enjoying his trip through central Africa, although the transportation facilities in that part of the world often leave a lot to be desired as compared to the fast and comfortable means of travel in this country. He expects to arrive at his destination in South Africa before the first of September and plans to spend the coming year teaching at a school there.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Gertrude Baldwin, in their recent bereavement.

Mr. J. Curyis, of Newport, Vt., was a business visitor in town.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peters are pleased to welcome them back to the community. Mr. Peters, who until recently has been doing immigration work in Montreal, has been stationed at the Norton Mills office and will reside in Coaticook.

The Coaticook branch of the Canadian Legion is planning a series of social evenings of a different nature, to be held in the Legion home on Friday evenings throughout the winter, providing enough interest is shown. It is hoped that the public will support the group in this matter, the funds of which will be used to help pay for the Home.

Mr. Camille Laperle reports that his daughter, Pierrette, who was stricken with polio a year ago, will perhaps be allowed to come home for a short stay soon. She has been in a Montreal hospital, undergoing therapy for many months and now, thanks to the Canadian Legion polio fund, she is being supplied with special braces and supports as well as a wheel chair and will be able to visit her home for a time at least.

Mr. K. R. Potter was in Montreal on Wednesday, on business and also visited the Kilgour main plant in Beauharnois. Mr. Donat Bissonnette, of the Coaticook factory, accompanied him.

Like many municipalities in the Townships, Coaticook is experiencing a building boom this season, not only in public buildings, such as the Town Hall, schools and post office, but in private dwellings as well. There have been a few vacant homes in the past, perhaps now the situation will improve.

Amateur Talent Show Highlighted Final Night Of Ayer's Cliff Fair

By HUGH DOHERTY

Ayer's Cliff, Aug. 23. — The 109th annual fair of the Stanstead Agricultural and Horticultural Society closed here Saturday night with a stage show which attracted the biggest crowds of its three-day run to the grandstand — Arthur "Scully" Langevin's "Amateur Talent Show" which brought local talent into the limelight.

Held immediately before Gordon Beerworth's "International Frolics," the show featured some five acts, including the famous Border Majorettes and the Rever Trio among others. Mr. Langevin, who has been putting on these amateur shows at Ayer's Cliff fair for several years, said that approximately 750 people crowded into the grandstand seats Saturday evening to watch the show.

Total attendance for closing day Saturday was down from Friday's high, according to fair officials, when 1,632 fair-goers crowded into the grounds, compared to about 3,000 Friday, and a meagre 800 opening day. A total of 4,512 people attended the three-day show, down from last year's attendance figures.

But it was a good year, say fair authorities. Although total exhibits were not as numerous as usual, the horse section showed a vast improvement, and quality in general was high in all departments.

Closing afternoon featured horse and cattle parades, as well as a parade of glittering new cars, led by laughable Ernie Bruce and his "Boys' and Girls' Band." Two classified trots were also run off under the eye of Racing Chairman H. Cass.

Highlighting the amateur show Saturday night were the Border Majorettes—eight of them—led by Drum Major Andre Gaudreau. The eight, Gabrielle Gaudreau, Hugette Langevin, Pierette Gaudreau, Claire Dumoulin, Faith Greenwood, Carmine Boisclair and Jeanette Boisclair, opened the show with an intricate dance number specially designed for stage performances, and finished off the show with a variation of the same number.

The Rever's Trio from Tomifobia, composed of Sis Rever, Barbara Rever and Buddy Rever on accordion, guitar and bone respectively, played several rousing tunes, and were followed by the Border Trio—Wayne Rev-

Ideal Weather Brought Record Crowd To Annual Two-Day Marbleton Fair

By HUGH DOHERTY

Marbleton, Aug. 23. — The annual fair of the Wolfe County Agricultural Society held here Saturday and Sunday turned out to be much bigger than advertised.

Long famed as a "small" and "informal" fair, the annual Marbleton Fair this year attracted more people—a total of more than 1500 of them—than it has for many years. In fact, this year, it attracted more people in two days than many of the bigger fairs throughout the Townships.

Even with the big crowds however, and heavier entry list, President of the Society Roland Leblanc said cattle exhibits were heavier while other departments remained about the same, the two-day show held in this quiet town nestled in the hills, managed to preserve all of its usual informality.

Perhaps that's what attracted so many distinguished guests, for besides E. O. Gingras, M.P., and Dr. G. Lemieux, M.L.A. for the district who were in attendance at the show all day yesterday, the fair was host to J. A. Stewart, managing director of the Dominion Lime Ltd., and like the other two guests, one of the honorary presidents of the society, F. R. Graham, president of Dominion Lime from Montreal and T. L. Dunbar, vice - president of Dominion Lime, also from Montreal.

And aside from the attractions of the Rainville Midway which was doing a roaring business all day closing day yesterday, and the excitement of a stage program which featured some outstanding Canadian talent — including a wrestling match between a bear and a man—the main centre of attention for the two days was a horse.

Appropriately enough, the horse, Brooke Evans, is the property of the Dominion Lime Ltd. With driver O. Beaudoin, he ran away with both heats of his race on Saturday copping one of them in the remarkable time of 2.08—and yesterday, he duplicated this feat, this time turning in a neat 2.12 on a lightning-fast track ideally conditioned by several days of hot sunshine.

In the other race run off closing afternoon yesterday, A. Gravel's Henry Brooke split the purse with O. Cameron's Charlie Calumet. Fastest time in that race was a comparatively slow 2.20, by Henry Brooke.

President Leblanc was inclined to attribute the amazing crowd to the recent spell of good weather. "The weather has been ideal for our fair this year," he said, "and people have just been taking advantage of it."

Yesterday was the biggest day for the show, as some 700 people crowded through the gates to enjoy the fun. Cars were parked on the road outside the grounds for several hundred yards, while the racing infield was well filled with more parked vehicles.

Judging in nearly all departments was finished late Saturday night. In the ladies' section, the ladies' committee, secretary, Mrs. T. Pare, said that entries on the whole were as good as last year's except in the cooking section, which was unusually poor. "Most of the exhibitors who entered last year, and won, haven't bothered to enter at all this year," she said.

In that department, Mrs. Percy Rolfe and Mrs. Eldred Dawson won the Standard Brands prize for the best layer cake, and Mrs. H. Hunt won the T. Eaton Co. prize for the highest aggregate of points in the housekeeping section. The Sherbrooke Record Special went to Mrs. J. B. Fontaine, of Weedon.

In the horse section, Firmin Gagne of Weedon copped most of the honors, walking off with a total of 13 blue ribbons.

In the cattle department, Placide Pare walked off with all ten classes in the Ayrshire section, and Gerard Morin from St. Gerard did the same in the Jersey class. A major portion of the honors went to Lucien Gosselin, Weedon, in the Holstein section, and tion, and to L. L. Mackey, Marbleton, in the Shorthorn section.

In the swine class, Albert Nadeau and Roy Harrison split most of the firsts, with Mr. Nadeau, Weedon, walking off with the Patry prize for the best litter of pigs.

Fermin Gagne split the honors in the sheep section with Placide Pare, while Louis Gagne took the special prize for the best ram.

In the poultry section, the Canada Packers special for the best spring chickens went to Lucien Gosselin.

Cremerie Weedon prizes in the cattle section were won as follows: Best junior calf, Lucien Gosselin; best senior calf, Lucien Gosselin; best dairy cow, two years, Lucien Gosselin; best dairy cow, three years, Gerard Morin; best dairy cow, four years, Lucien Gosselin. The Arthur Patry prizes for the best Jersey cow, the best calf and the best heifer went to Gerard Morin, Lucien Gosselin and Lucien Gosselin respectively.

The J. A. Stewart silver cup for the best female, any age, beef type, was won by L. L. Mackey, Marbleton, and the J. A. Stewart prize for the best baby beef went to Roy Harrison.

Robert Dumas won the Sherbrooke Daily Record special for the best grade steer, Roy Harrison the Arthur Motard prize for the best beef calf under one year, L. L. Mackey the Dr. G. Lemieux prize for the best beef cow, and Fermin Gagne the Dr. G. Lemieux prize for the best horse in the show, any breed.

John T. Hackett, Q. C., Re-Elected As Stanstead Historical Society Head

Stanstead, August 23 — The little school bell, a symbol of learning, rang once again on Saturday afternoon in the North Stanstead red brick schoolhouse. Members and visitors from near and far armed with a love and knowledge of history (some with cushions and more comfortable chairs) seated themselves in the narrow grey desks. The president, John T. Hackett, Q.C., seated at the teacher's desk, called the annual meeting of the Stanstead Historical Society to order.

Any person who has attended meetings in this beautifully preserved old schoolhouse knows the captivating charm it casts. All the traditional articles of the one-room schoolhouse, now a dying species, are there: the box stove, harmonium, swinging oil lamp above the teacher's desk, the British flag, and pictures of Kings and Queens, past and present.

Minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. At that meeting an unknown grave stone dated 1802 near Lake Memphremagog was mentioned. It had been recommended that the title deed of this plot be added to the others in the society's trust. Since the society holds no such deeds in trust it was moved that the correction in the minutes be made. The grave stone was also identified as that of Francis Peasley.

Mr. Hackett read a letter from Mrs. Bertha Weston Price in which she stated that she would publish in several instalments in the Sherbrooke Daily Record her "Glimpses into the Past". It was moved that the society purchase copies of this article for inclusion in the archives.

An interesting discussion followed on the burial place of Jason Lee and his parents. Jason Lee was an Indian missionary on the Pacific coast and was instrumental in securing Oregon for the United States. He returned to his native Stanstead later in life and died. Later his remains were removed from Stanstead to Oregon and a plaque was placed on his former burial ground. The Americans who like to keep a firm hold on their pioneers have disputed the burial place of Jason Lee claiming that he was originally buried in Oregon. His statue may be seen in the Hall of Statuary allotted to founders and pioneers of the United States in Washington. His parents were buried in a now neglected plot in North Stanstead.

Mrs. Poapst read the annual report of the Custodian committee. Among the recent additions was an 1860 patent reaper fork. American surmisals that there was a Paul Revere bell in Stanstead College had been investigated by Dr. E. C. Amaron. However this theory could not be substantiated. The family of the American hero were bell makers.

Miss Catherine MacKenzie gave the annual Chronicle. Opposing an opinion that the district was suffering from "do-nothingness" Miss MacKenzie cited several examples. The border arena was equipped with artificial ice which brought about great activity. A bon entente was also developed by the children playing together. During the summer months a successful wrestling show was held in the arena. There was a new telephone exchange. At the local school handicraft classes had been successful. Interest in the aims and methods of the United Nations had been aroused. Stanstead North Women's Institute had been active. Local swimming lessons, school meals and drama had all been successful. Local service clubs had a busy year.

Dr. Amaron's retirement from Stanstead College was mentioned. Dr. Amaron has entered the church and will take up his duties in a small country parish in Adamston, Ontario.

After a recess necessitated by the hard benches (what respect we feel for those early thin-boned scholars) the red brick schoolhouse once again became a "symbol of learning." The mayor of Stanstead Plain, E. J. Struthers, gave a fascinating paper on "Custom Houses of Stanstead County."

A history of custom houses is more or less a history of the whole community for the two are linked. In 1821 a Port to collect His Majesty's Customs was established in Stanstead Plain.

Elizabeth Tetu, Prominent Local Resident, Dead

Elizabeth Tetu, aged 77 years, a life-long resident of Sherbrooke, died yesterday after a lengthy illness. Miss Elizabeth Tetu with her 75-year-old sister, Auvune Tetu, own the Tetu Building, where the United Store is located and were proprietors of the Old Grand Central Hotel which long occupied this site. They also own several apartment blocks, as well as two stores and much property.

Daughter of the late Eugene Tetu, who passed away some 34 years ago and Philomene Leclerc, who predeceased him by 15 years, Elizabeth Tetu and her sister came into possession of the land at the corner of Wellington and Meadow streets, which has been owned by the family for some 80 years.

She is resting at her late residence at 1, 1st Avenue North, where the sisters resided for 60 years. Funeral service will be on Wednesday, August 25, at 9.30 at the Blessed Sacrament Church. Interment in St. Michael's Cemetery. Funeral service will be directed by Gerard Monfette.

Train-Car Crash Headed List Of Local Accidents

An American tourist and a Richmond woman were injured in two separate car accidents, an 11-year-old boy received a fractured skull in a fall from a hayloft and another local man was injured in a motorboat collision, in the week-end accident report from police and hospital authorities.

Harry Short, 61-year-old tourist from New Jersey, is in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital suffering from severe wounds received when his car was struck by a train at a level crossing in Richmond on Saturday night. Brought to Sherbrooke by Fleury Ambulance, he was admitted to hospital shortly after 6.00 p.m. He was the only occupant of the car.

The Hôtel Dieu Hospital reported among its patients, a Mrs. Jean-Paul St. Hillaire of Richmond, injured early Saturday night near the city limits of Sherbrooke. Mrs. St. Hilliare is in a state of shock, suffering from a leg wound and lacerations.

Francis Nelke, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Nelke of Livermore Falls, Maine, received a fractured skull when he fell from the hayloft of his uncle's barn at Sawyerville. The family were visiting Udor Dion on Sunday when the youth fell through a trap door onto the pavement some 20 feet below. The young boy was unconscious for three hours, but hospital authorities reported this morning his condition has improved considerably.

Another youth, Marcel Cyr, aged 15, received fractures to both legs when the car in which he was an occupant struck a guide railing of a culvert yesterday afternoon on the Quebec Highway near Coleraine. Laveriere Ambulance of Thetford Mines brought the young man to the Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Ronald Marceau, 24-year-old

EXPLANATION OF MORE DIFFICULT CLUES:

ACROSS:

2. Even a budding astronomer knows about MAPS. Even the best know little about MARS.
6. FINE is best because the clue is worded to imply that this is something it may be necessary to do "BECAUSE" he has committed the offence. The clue does not tell us that we have to FIND him but merely that he has rendered himself liable to punishment.
8. HUNT is a perfectly sound AND NATURAL answer, but HINT isn't the right word to use in connection with police work. "CLUE" or "information" is more suitable.
25. If you GABBLE — talk volubly and inarticulately — you'll hardly give a good impression. GOBBLE is more limited in its application, since at some parties food is not served. Furthermore, to some readers GOBBLE would only refer to turkeys.
26. DROP is best. To speak of letting an oil-can DRIP is not strictly correct. Only FLUIDS can DRIP, thus the oil-can can only be allowed to DROP.

DOWN:

1. HIPS is best, since bathing suits are standard attire in a beauty contest, and the HIPS can hardly be falsified. LACK of shape in the LIPS, however, can be overcome to a considerable extent by skilful make-up or a broad smile.
3. An APE, sometimes a dangerous animal, is an excellent answer. An AXE is an inanimate object, and so it would be nearer the mark if the clue said "... stay out of reach of a MAN WIELDING an AXE."
5. Heavy unexpected STORMS, can of course slow them down. The heaviness of the STORES must surely have been taken into account before starting, and a suitable speed scheduled. This may be slow, but they won't be "slowed-DOWN" unless they fall below it.
6. When a man becomes a FATHER is quite a typical occasion for some jocularity. Also when a man becomes NOTICEABLY FAT, but why FATTER? To become FATTER he must already be FAT, and any tendency to make jokes about his weight will already be in evidence.
11. RAGE is best. If an old man is in a RAGE he may certainly look absurd but there are many kinds of RACE Sin which he would not look absurd.
13. SHEEP is best because the clue says "of great benefit to mankind" which SHEEP are. To BENEFIT refers to something EXTERNAL to man himself. It is something helpful but not necessarily absolutely essential. SLEEP is not a "benefit". It is an absolute essential to man's very living like his head or his heart.
17. LANE is preferred. It's the banks of the LAKE or its surroundings which might look better in the spring. The LAKE itself looks much the same at all times of the year. A country LANE, however, usually looks very nice in the spring.
20. SLAP is the more positive answer, being a definite blow which could have the effect called for in the clue. SLIP is too vague. If a SLIP or fall, yes, but the clue doesn't so indicate; it could be a SLIP of the tongue or a minor SLIP of the foot.
23. SILT is best. The simple method of removing SILT from the water is to dredge it out. The simple method of separating SALT from the water is to distil the water. Distilling means removing the water from the SALT, not the SALT from the water.
24. To actually make a BID could require a little intelligence but to "make a BED" might mean actually to produce or manufacture the piece of furniture — not a simple task.

A Professor Tells Them

Few addresses have been delivered since the close of the Second War which have demonstrated so great an unawareness of the facts of life as that credited to Prof. D. G. Creighton, of the University of Toronto's history department, a few days ago. Professor Creighton claimed the American picture of the ideal Western negotiator centred around "a diplomatic gangster with a truculent manner, a rasping voice . . . and an up-to-date equipment of blackjacks."

The most complimentary adjective an American newspaperman could apply to his country's foreign policy, was "tough," the professor of history pursued.

"Diplomacy," said Professor Creighton, "means tactful and adroit dealing but it has been indicated to us that this is an old and indecent European definition."

There have been many charges of "ivory towerism" against members of the academic world. There have been few better examples of this academic weakness than that provided by the Varsity man who held forth at Geneva Park, Ont.

A Rip Van Winkle, coming alive for a century's sleep, would conclude from Professor Creighton's remarks that American negotiators had been unduly rough, tough, offensive and, possibly, even brutal with Communist representatives who, it might reasonably be concluded, were gentle, sincere and desirous only of reaching a peaceful settlement.

The worthy professor may be, as he should be, an authority on history but his study of world events must have stopped with, or before, the Communist Revolution of 1917.

The fact (even though it may have escaped the notice of Professor Creighton and of our twentieth century Rip Van Winkle) is that Communist negotiators, following in the Nazi footsteps and excelling the Germans, have been outstanding exemplars of toughness in Korea and elsewhere. And for this reason American representatives have been tough, in their turn, as it has become evident that no other attitude was efficient or result-producing in dealing with the Communists.

The "tactful and adroit dealing" of the old-time diplomacy was used even up to the Second War. It permitted Japan to occupy Manchuria; Italy to overwhelm Abyssinia and the Nazis to take over the Saar. In short, the weakness it revealed sowed the seeds of war.

The Americans, who have evidently studied recent history to much better purpose than their Toronto critic, are determined that the oldtime diplomacy, which has seen the birth of two catastrophic struggles, shall not be allowed to foster a third.

They are determined to preserve the democracy, (which allows history professors, as well as others, to make ostrich-like observations,) by building up power and by handling the Communists at the conference table in the only way which the Reds understand and the only way which is effective.

If Professor Creighton had had the advantage of a few months at Panmunjom, when a Korean peace was being hammered out, he might feel a little differently about the employment of "tactful and adroit dealing" when one sits down opposite the Reds.

Reds' Golden Daze

Not such a very long time ago a Tokyo newspaper reported that there was a gold rush on in northeastern Siberia. According to the story, three Japanese repatriates said that war prisoners discovered gold nuggets "bigger than kidney beans."

This is a trifle bewildering. A short time ago stories were filtering out to the effect that Russia had discovered a method to synthesize gold chemically and was actually unloading the synthetic stuff on the world market.

We have been pondering upon the subject and have even imagined that the next gold rush in the Soviet Union would see determined little bands of Malenkovs descending on gold laboratories and hauling off test tubes, beakers, Bunsen burners and other crucial devices.

We had even settled down with the pleasant thought that somehow, somewhere the secret would leak out and we could go into business ourselves.

All these romantic notions have vanished with the news that the Russians, like grubstakers the world over, are in a frenzy for the natural product.

More Prestige Undermining

Another example of the way in which public men in the United States have been attacked recently was furnished last week when Stephen Mitchell, the Democratic National chairman, declared that President Eisenhower had personally ordered awarding of a contract to a syndicate in which one of the President's "closest friends" had an interest.

Mr. Mitchell added that the contract, one for providing electrical power to the new atomic energy plant at Paducah, Kentucky, was given at a figure ninety million dollars higher than that quoted by a rival syndicate. His office later identified the President's close friend as being Bobby Jones, the great golfer of other days, who was the subject not so many months ago of a portrait by the Eisenhower brush.

This charge, involving the honor of President Eisenhower, is probably the most serious which has been made in recent years for its implication of favoritism at the expense of the public pocket is clear.

It is the kind of charge which truly needs investigating, as Mr. Mitchell has urged.

It can probably be shown that Mr. Jones' association with the award-winning syndicate was coincidential and that other, and far weightier, considerations governed Washington's action. If this be the case of the Democratic National chairman should at least resign his post.

The charges which have been made by Senator McCarthy and many others in the United States including Stephen Mtichell are not the concern of the Americans alone.

They are charges which have reflected upon the reputation and motives of the President, the administration and the armed forces of the leading nation of the Free World today. More Americans should realized that political capital is being made at the expense of national prestige and that this prestige is a matter of wide concern at the time of the present world struggle.

Two Days In Kingston

Kingston, Ont., newsmen and police should find themselves heartily in agreement upon at least one thing: they had enough activity in two days recently to satisfy their taste for the sensational for some time to come.

It started with the riot in the big penitentiary which caused damage of more than a million dollars and saw Kingston city police called in to aid guards, members of the provincial force and soldiers in quelling the disturbance.

Most persons would agree that last Sunday's prison excitement was enough. But no. The next day, Monday, brought a $21,000 holdup of a Kingston bank. A constable with a drawn revolver joined in the pursuit of the bandit who surrendered.

Half a dozen police force members were called on the same day to subdue a youth who went berserk and was wielding a carpenter's knife on Union street.

If these are "the dog days" in Kingston what will happen when the brute shakes himself out of his lethargy and wakes up?

What Other Papers Say

LET'S TURN THE LIGHT ON THE "HIDDEN" TAXES

Financial Times

There is no denying the fact that Canadians are carrying a heavy load of taxation, not only direct in the form of income tax but also indirect in the shape of sales tax, excise taxes etc. There has been, and is however, altogether too much bleating about high taxation without sufficient consideration being given to the basic reasons therefor.

In this connection, the latest issue of "Industry," publication of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association refers to a question asked: "Why don't manufacturers in this country label their goods with taxes shown separately. Then everyone could see how much he is paying in taxes alone when he buys a car, refrigerator, a set of tires, an electrical appliance." The questioner, the CMA publication says, then goes on to express the opinion that such action might influence the governments to reduce taxation.

Admitting that there is good reason why everyone, not only manufacturers, should indicate what part of a price is tax, "Industry" suggests that this should be done not so much in the hope of shaming governments into a reduction of taxation, as to supply a very sound reason for demanding fewer things and services which require taxation to pay for them.

At first glance it might appear rather peculiar that a spokesman for the manufacturers should not favour the shaming of the government into reducing taxation. The fact is, of course, that the manufacturer better than anyone else, knows that services rendered, obligations undertaken, must be paid for in some form or another. Hence he is well aware that the the surest means of having taxes reduced is to lighten the obligations of government; to think twice before demanding social welfare schemes, unnecessary public works and other forms of governmental assistance.

It is, generally speaking, the man who pays least in direct taxation who looks most to the government for financial outlays in different directions. Few, if any however, realize how much in the way of taxation they are paying without being aware of doing so. There is virtue in the suggestion that the hidden taxes should no longer be hidden.

Tokyo Heading For New Record In Population

Tokyo — (Reuters) — Tokyo soon will become the world's biggest metropolitan area. The 500-year-old Japanese capital already sprawls over more than 772 square miles, but still has insufficient space for a population growing at the rate of more than 300,000 every year.

There is not enough space, not enough water, not enough roadway, and in only one small inner-city area is there any modern sewage disposal system.

In the whole metropolitan area, a city survey reported 7,669,000 people this year. The present average population increase will bring this to 8,628,000 in 1957, the 500th anniversary of the erection of the first organized fortification centre on this site.

In the inner area alone, the official figure for the population now is 6,672,000. This is expected to become 8,551,000 in 1961, and in the whole metropolitan area the population then will be 9,772,000.

Although the two cities are contiguous, these totals exclude the population of Yokahama where there are another million —odd people.

Tokyo set a population record as early as 1721, when it had a population of about 1,500,000. No other large city had a population exceeding 1,000,000 before the industrial revolution.

But Tokyo's record aggrandisements were interrupted by more tragic records. The earthquake of Sept. 1, 1923, and the bombing raids of the Second World War successively reduced the centre of the city to rubble and ashes.

The city fathers now say that the destruction opened the way for city planning, but foreigners still see Tokyo as an accumulation of villages, with few thoroughfares, and near-impassable lanes where pedestrians ineffectively compete for space against overflowing stalls, bicycles, buses and automobiles as wide as the roadways themselves.

Modern Trend In Decorating Said On Way Out

By DOROTHY ROE

New York—(AP)—The extreme modern trend in home decoration and furniture is on the way out, says C. Eugene Stephenson, president of the American Institute of Decorators.

"The shock value has worn off," explains this knowing expert in the evolution of the American home. "All the tricks have been done. Modern design is getting more sensible and traditional furniture is getting more contemporary. A happy medium now is in prospect."

Stephenson and his wife form a highly successful decorating team, operating from their spacious apartment in New York's fashionable East river section. Their own office-home combines modern and traditional pieces harmoniously, tied together in a color scheme of off-white and bristol blue, a deep, bright turquoise color.

Week-ends they relax in an early American Connecticut farmhouse, in which the only thing they have modernized is the kitchen.

The Stephensons have a great admiration for the average housewife.

"The little woman is well-informed today on all the latest news in home decoration as well as food, fashions, beauty, child-raising and the newest quirks of psychology," says Stephenson.

"The modern woman knows all about what's going on in almost any field. The only trouble is that she may know too much, and have trouble selecting from all the welter of information the things suitable to her individual needs and tastes."

Here is where the advice of a decorator comes in handy, he points out. Often a decorator can save the householder money—a fact many people do not realize. A reputable decorator charges no fee for his services, and merely sells the customer furniture and furnishings at established retail prices. His profit comes from being able to buy at wholesale prices, like any other merchant.

This decorator does not believe in ready-made decorating schemes, but feels each home decorator should be keyed to the personalities and individual customs of the people who live there. He's even playing around with color schemes to flatter the individual skin tone of the lady of the house. He explains: "A living room, like a dress, should be planned to make the owner look her best."

IT'S YOUR DEAL...

WATCH YOUR BIDDING IN 500

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD

"We moved into a new community recently," writes a Pennsylvania correspondent, "and joined a 500 club. I hadn't played 500 for about 35 years and had forgotten whatever I may have known about bidding.

"Would you please give me a rule for bidding your hand or raising your partner's bid? We play the four-handed game, two against two, as in bridge."

An experienced bridge player should have little trouble in bidding reasonably well at 500. Many of the same principles apply to both games.

In bidding your own hand, look for a trump suit of five or more cards. Beware of bidding with a shorter trump suit. Count one trick for each high trump (ace or better), for each trump in excess of three, and for each king or ace in a side suit. This is slightly optimistic, but the two-card widow is more than enough to make up for optimism in most hands.

Bid the full value of your hand, leaving it to your partner to raise if he has tricks that you don't know about. When you have a choice, be aggressive with a partner who is a good card player and be conservative with a partner who plays his cards badly.

In raising your partner's bid, look first for trump support. Avoid raising unless you have three or more trumps. An occasional raise on two trumps may be made if one trump is very high (ace or better). If you have a good hand without trump support, consider a bid in your own suit or in no-trump.

In judging the value of a supporting hand, count 4 points for each ace, 3 points for each king, 2 points for each queen, and 1 point for each jack—just as you would in bridge. Count 3 points for a void side suit, 2 points for a singleton side suit, and 1 point for a doubleton side suit—provided that you have at least three of your partner's trump suit.

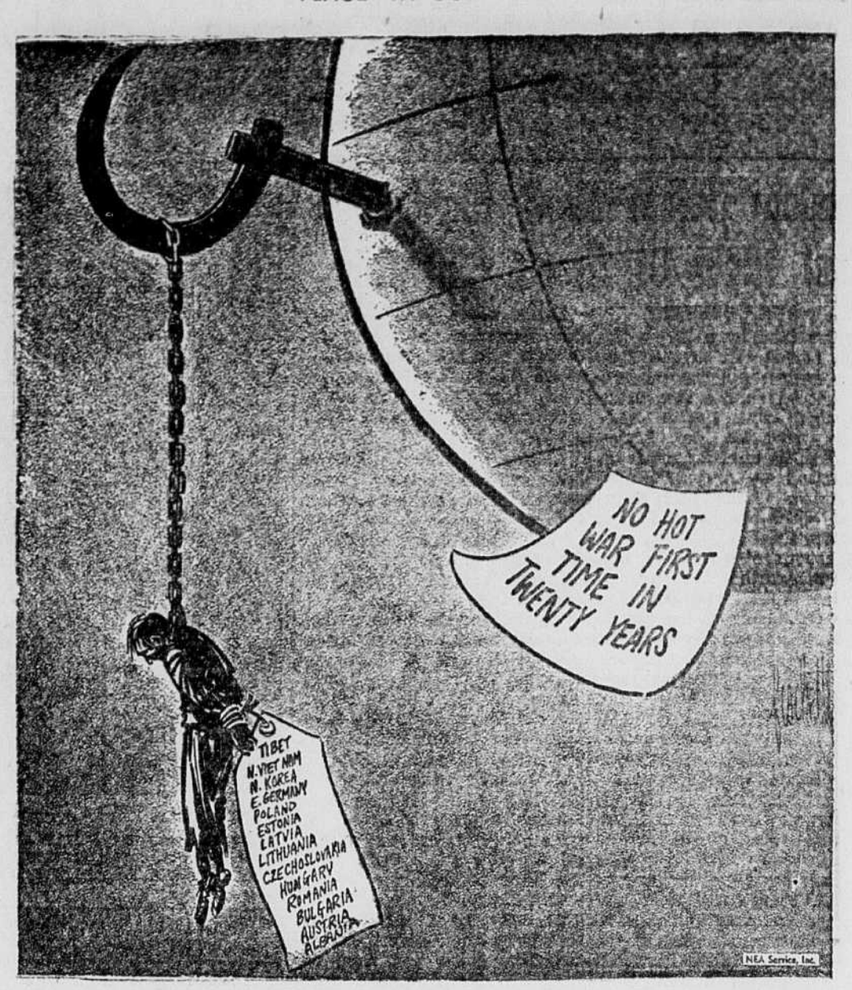

When you have counted up your points, you can figure 4 points to a trick. Raise your partner one trick for each full 4 points in your hand.

If your partner is a poor card player, make allowance for this by deducting 2 or 3 points from the value of your hand. Don't overbid even if your partner is a good player; the penalty for overbidding is too big compared to what you can gain for bidding one extra trick.

THE MATURE PARENT

PLANNED FUN NOT ENOUGH; CHILD NEEDS ADVENTURE, TOO

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Joel, says his mother, demands constant entertainment. If other children aren't around, he grows bored, complaining, and wants to be told "what to do."

His mother, worried by his lack of "resourcefulness," writes: "We can't understand it. Though Joel is an only child, he has more toys than any other four-year-old in our neighborhood."

What kind of toys? The tricycle, train, dump truck kind?

These machine toys have their uses. However, like other machines, they cannot vary their uses.

When Joel presses on his tricycle's pedals, he knows exactly what will happen just as he knows what will happen when he presses on his dump truck's lever. There is nothing new, adventurous and unpredictable for Joel.

Yet without experience that is new, adventurous and unpredictable, we cannot develop resourcefulness.

Says Director Diane Johnson of New York City's Boardman School, "A child's resourcefulness is unfolded by the chances we give him to extemporize and experiment in play."

To give him these chances, we have to provide him with the materials for such play.

So I suggest that some of these be provided for Joel:

A pair of blunt scissors and cardboard cartons from which anything from skyscrapers to aircraft carriers can be constructed.

Plasticine and colored straws from which to landscape a garden.

An old orange crate to imagine into a raft at sea or a high-powered racing car.

Crayons, paints, and old popsicle sticks to serve as a stockade for a beleaguered fort.

Old book bindings from which the pages have been torn, to be turned into Indian tepees, tunnels, railway stations, the fort for his stockade, a good fleet of ships or a freight train.

With these suggestions, perhaps Joel's mother can now turn to her own resourcefulness. She can be sure that the moment she gives him some leadership in it, he'll follow her.

Many of us neglect this kind of leadership these days. We've become so used to machine amusement ourselves that we expect little boys and girls to be satisfied with ready-made fun, too.

Well, let's thank our stars they're not. If we plan to take Joel on an adventure with scissors, cartons, old cans and popsicle sticks, who knows?

It may end surprisingly for us as well as for him. It may give us wholly unexpected release from our own boredom.

USE JUMP OVERCALL TO SHOW STRENGTH

Perhaps some of my readers will be puzzled by East's overcall of two spades in the hand shown today. The jump overcall is used by most experts to show a strong hand, but some of the best players use such a bid as a mild shutout. In this case, East intended his jump bid to make matters difficult for his opponents.

As a matter of fact, South did have a problem. For all he knew, the best play for game or even slam might be in one of the red suits. Nevertheless, South properly decided that no-trump was most likely to be the best game contract.

West opened the deuce of spades, following the practice of many advanced players of leading low from any three-card holding in partner's suit. East played the nine of spades, and South won with the king.

East's play of refusing the first trick would have been perfectly reasonable in a total-point game. There was no way to defeat the contract and it didn't much matter whether East played high or low on the first trick. Since the hand was actually played in a match-point game, however, East's play at the first trick was a decided error.

South won the first trick with the king of spades and saw that he could easily win nine additional tricks in the red suits, together with the ace of clubs. South promptly took his nine red tricks, saving a spade and two clubs in each hand.

East was likewise obliged to save one spade and two clubs. Thereupon South led a spade to East's ace and forced East to return a club. This allowed declarer to take the last two tricks with the queen and ace of clubs.

South earned a very good score for winning 12 tricks, but he had to admit that his own fine play was only partly responsible for this good result.

East should have won the first trick with the ace of spades and returned the queen of spades at the second trick.

He would then have one trick safely in and could wait for a club trick to come to him eventually. The difference between winning one defensive trick and winning two of them would have been quite important in tournament play.

CARD SENSE

The bidding has been:

| South | West | North | East |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1 Spade | Pass | 3 Spades | Pass |
| ? | | | |

You, South, hold: Spades Q-J-9-6-3-2, Hearts A-8-4, Diamonds 7, Clubs A-K-3. What do you do?

A—Bid four clubs. You have only 14 points in high cards, but your spade length and your singleton indicate that a slam is not out of the question. You can afford to make a gesture towards slam, but if your partner displays and difference you will be quite content to play the hand at game.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-Q-J-6-3-2, Hearts A-8-4, Diamond 7, Clubs A-K-3. What do you do?

AMATEUR TALENT

er, Tomifobia, Aime Leonard, Stanstead, and Camille Gilbert, Rock Island.

Two soloists, Pauline Roy and Louis Dewey, both from Stanstead, closed out the evening's program.

The Associated Entertainment Enterprises troupe comprising the "International Frolics" put on another of their fun-filled performances, showing a knack for improvisation, and considerable skill in ad libbing which added greatly to the enjoyment of a varied show.

In the two feature races run off Saturday afternoon, both for $200 purses, Dr. Taylor's Spartan Peter outstripped the rest of the field to cop both heats of the first classified A race.

In the classified B, R. Dupont's Halwood split the top money with E. Binet's Jackie Vonian, Halwood also turned in the fastest time of the afternoon, winning the second heat of the race in 2:17 4-5.

Entries this year were reported by fair officials as being heaviest in the horse class and in the draft section of that class, Gordon Cass and Miss Elin Beit-Speyer walked off with most of the honours, each copping seven blue ribbons. In the same section, Mr. Cass won the Canadian Bank of Commerce prize for the best Percheron female, while Miss Beit-Speyer took the Scalabrini and Dupuis prize for the best heavy draft mare or gelding. Edward Sarasin took the Canadian Bank of Commerce prize for the best agricultural draft team.

In the standard-bred section, W. J. Whitcomb led the field with seven blue ribbons, and in the roadster section, honors went to S. J. Whitcomb, who won seven firsts, too, and Christopher Lax who won four.

The Women's department was another heavy section of competition so far as entries were concerned, in fact it was the heaviest section in the fair. Miss Viola Moranville won the Louis Roberge, M. P. prize for the most outstanding exhibit in the embroidery and crocheting section, while the Beebe Women's Institute took the Stanstead Agricultural Society's prize for the club having the best exhibit of a designated list of articles.

Mrs. Conrad Beaudreau won the Simpson-Sears prize for the best drawn rug, while Mrs. Alphonse Gagnon drew with Michel Gauthier for the prize awarded to the highest aggregate number of points won by some one who has never exhibited before. Mrs. Beaudreau also won the Harold F. Baldwin prize for the most outstanding exhibit.

In the Cattle and horse parades held in front of the grandstand closing afternoon, John Nichol and Sons, Lennoxville, took the R. G. McHarg and Felix Walker prize for the best display of dairy cattle, while prizes for the best bull and six females, donated by the Canadian Bank of Commerce and Sherwin Williams Co. Ltd. went to L. S. Webster and Miss Elin Beit-Speyer in the Jersey section, and to R. G. Connor in the Holstein section. Mr. Webster's herd also copped the H. F. Baldwin prize for the best display of Jersey cattle in the parade.

The Co-operative Agricole de Magog prize for the best display of Ayrshire cattle went to Douglas Johnston of Stanstead, while the L. MacDougall special for the best display of Holsteins went to Oliva Nadeau and Fils. John Nichol and Sons also copped the Tapatco Co. and Canadian Industries Limited prize for the best display of beef cattle Friday afternoon.

In the Showmanship competition which wound up activities for the Junior Department in inter-4-H Club contests, Rosario Nadeau won the Iona Dress Shop special for the Holstein section, Joan Johnston the D. Johnston prize for the competition. Martha Coates took the Miss Elin Beit-Speyer prize for showmanship in the Jersey section.

In the children's department, Mrs. J. H. Turner's prize for the best darning and the best patching went to Thelma Gennwell and Phyllis Curtis respectively. Miss Curtis also won the C. D. Beerworth prize in the 11 to 14 section, and Shirley Morse the Miss Elin Beit-Speyer prize in the under ten section.

In cattle judging completed early Saturday, Miss Elin Beit-Speyer led the Jersey competitors with a grand total of 19 blue ribbons. Miss Beit-Speyer also won the female grand championship, while the male grand championship, along with seven firsts went to L. A. Webster.

Jean Paul Verpaelst led the Canadian competitors with eight firsts, while Ovila Nadeau took most of the honours in the Holstein section, copping a total of 12 firsts. Mr. Nadeau also won the male grand championship, while R. G. Conner won the female grand championship.

Revenge Given As Ayer's Cliff Battle Reason

Ayer's Cliff, August 23. — A small group of midway men, claimed to have been "looking for revenge" precipitated a minor riot at the exhibition grounds here early Saturday morning, and gave one townsman, Newton Blake, 28, a rather severe battering.

During the brawl, several shots were fired in the air from .22's brought out by the midway men for effect, and stories soon spread throughout the area of a pitched battle being waged along the length of Ayer's Cliff main street.

Actually no one was seriously hurt, and the disturbance itself reached a peak for about twenty minutes, though it was well into the early hours of the morning before the streets were normal again.

According to Blake, the argument leading to the conflict started in a restaurent here Thursday evening between himself, three friends and a small group of March midway men. The midway men were ejected.

Friday evening, two of them showed up again at the same restaurant, and as Mr. Blake said, "started to taunt me, and goaded me into chasing them down the street to the fair grounds. I noticed several other fellows from the midway behind some trees about the entrance to the fair, and when I got inside, they closed the gates behind me."

"I don't remember much after that," he continued, "because a gang of them jumped me inside the grounds and started to give me a good going over. I guess it must have been twenty minutes later when some of my friends outside managed to drag me through the gates."

Mr. Blake suffered a bruised back ("I guess some one kicked me"), a black eye, and a swollen left check ("One guy hit me with a hose."), but no other injuries were reported in the melee.

In the meantime, a small group of the townspeople gathered outside the gate, to confront the midway guards who brandished steel tent spikes, axes and guns from the midway shooting gallery. Four shots were fired into the air, but little action took place.

Fair patrons still on the grounds were understandably shaken by the affair. One man picked up a long length of steel pipe, and walked along the midway with it swung over his shoulder. "I have a wife and two kids here," he said, "and I might need some kind of protection."

However, the disturbance soon blew over, and the protection was not needed.

No police were evident on the scene at any time during the outbreak, which settled down of its own accord. Justice of the Peace John Lavers expressed the opinion that "the midway was just protecting its property from a lot of tough guys." No charges will be laid.

Saturday night, closing night for the three-day annual show, the fair operated quietly as scheduled and a small contingent of Provincial Police patrolled the grounds. It moved on to Cookshire Sunday morning.

JOHN T. HACKETT,

With the building of the post roads and the operation of stage coaches from Boston to Montreal and Quebec came an increased customs' activity.

The discomfort of this stage coach journey caused the early historian, Francis Parkman, to reflect rather painfully. The railroads made their first appearance in the district in 1853 with the construction of the Montreal-Portland line. A customs port was established at Coaticook. In 1878 the Massawippi Valley Railroad was completed and Stanstead junction (Beebe) became an active rail centre.

Water transport on Lake Memphremagog was important. By 1854 a customs house was opened in Georgeville, in Cedarville in 1866 and Magog in 1864. With the turn of the century a change began as the automobile began to dominate transportation. To cope with the increased traffic the present Rock Island customs house was built in 1929. Looking into the future Mr. Struthers hoped that a new customs house would be built in or around Rock Island to deal with the increasing highway traffic.

For this comprehensive and interesting paper, Mr. Struthers was thanked by Mr. Hackett.

The treasurer, Mr. Arthur Cowles delivered his favourable report which was approved by the meeting. After deliberation the Nominating Committee — which this year was added to by the appointment of Dr. Amaron and Mr. Porter Dixon, re-elected all the members to their former positions.

The members are as follows: Honorary president, Dr. C. W. Colby; honorary vice-presidents, Miss Jessie Colby, Arthur E. Curtis, Miss Mary Flint; president, Mr. John T. Hackett; vice-presidents, Orson Wheeler, Harold F. Baldwin, Mrs. Byron Brown; directors, J. D. Ferguson, Orson Wheeler, Byron Brown, Joseph Maheux, A. C. Skinner; treasurer, Arthur C. Cowles; secretary, James W. Downing; corresponding secretary, Leonard Auger; custodian, Mrs. Effie Poapst; custodian's committee, Messrs. J. D. Ferguson, Orson Wheeler, Joseph Maheux, E. J. Struthers, Dr. Amaron, Porter Dixon; chronicler, Miss Catherine MacKenzie.

The meeting adjourned and tea was served at the summer residence of Mrs. F. Win Hackett.

Four Killed In Illinois Train Crash

Lomax, Ill.— (AP) —Santa Fe railroad officials sought the cause today of the derailment Sunday afternoon of the 13-car Chief east of Lomax.

Of approximately 200 passengers, four were killed and 53 were injured. Of the 13-car train only the locomotive and a mail car held the rails.

The rest zigzagged along the track, some crashing into a parallel string of refrigerator cars on another track. All remained upright except No. 9 which rolled onto its side.

It was No. 9 which contained most of the victims.

Two of the dead were identified by Henderson county Coroner Dean F. Beals. They were Edward E. Monty, Phelps, Wis., and Mrs. Gina Guilfi, Albuquerque, N.M. Another woman and a man, both unidentified, were killed.

Of the 53 listed as injured, at least 11 were in serious condition in hospitals in Burlington and Fort Madison, Iowa, across the Mississippi river.

The Chief had left Chicago at 11 a.m. EDT and cracked up about 2:50 p.m. The cause of the derailment was not determined immediately.

A hospital train carrying doctors and nurses was dispatched from Chicago by Santa Fe officials but state police at the scene reported about two hours after the accident additional help was not needed.

Santa Fe's regularly scheduled train No. 11 westbound to Fort Madison arrived at Lomax about an hour after the crash and took some of the injured to that city.

A Chief passenger, Dr. Edwin Henry Schorer, who proceeded on to Kansas City on another train after treating the injured at the scene, called it the worst wreck he had ever seen.

Montreal—(C)—Some calf prices lost as much as $1 while other prices were mainly unchanged in slow trading on Montreal livestock markets today. Early sales were not sufficient to establish cattle or hog prices.

Good lambs made 20-21 a cwt. on a flat basis, good sheep 8-10, common 4-8.

local man from 430 Dominion street, was reported in very poor condition at the Hotel Dieu. He was struck by another oncoming motorboat while cruising around Brompton Lake, yesterday afternoon. Cookshire, Aug. 23—Cookshire was saddened by the sudden death of Mrs. O. A. Osgood at her home on July 21. Though Mrs. Osgood had been in poor health for several years, her sudden passing was deeply felt by the community.

Mrs. Osgood was born in Cookshire August 10, 1878, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Planche, and spent all her life here.

In 1906 she married Mr. O. A. Osgood. Of this union there were two children, Gerald, of Cookshire, and Aleta (Mrs. Jack Johnson), of Ottawa.

Mrs. Osgood led a very quiet life and was devoted to her husband and family.

The funeral services took place July 23. Prayers were said at the residence by the Rev. Canon Dunn, then proceeded to St. Peter's Church, where the Rev. Canon Dunn conducted the service.

The hymns, "Rock of Ages" and "Abide with Me," were sung by the choir.

The bearers were Messrs. C. M. MacRae, J. E. Drennan, J. W. French, J. R. French, R. G. Hodge and A. H. Pope.

Those left to mourn her loss are her husband, Mr. O. A. Osgood a son, Mr. Gerald Osgood, and family; a daughter, Mrs. Jack Johnson, and family, of Ottawa; a sister, Mrs. Phelan, of Merrick, N.Y., and a brother, Mr. John Planche, of Cookshire.

The hostesses and guests were neighbor-friends of the guest of honor, who had led a close community life for many years in that particular section, and to express their high regard for Mrs. Slattery and their regret at her departure, presented her with several pieces of flat silver.

In the dining-room, where the buffet supper was later served, the table was arranged with pale yellow and white gladioli in a silver bowl and matching tapers in silver candlesticks.

WAY'S MILLS—

Mrs. W. Dobb Is Hostess To W. I.

Way's Mills, Aug. 23—The August meeting of the W. I. was held at the home of Mrs. W. Dobb, with Mrs. W. B. Holmes, president, in the chair.

An interesting resume of an address by Rev. Mr. Gallagher to the A.C.W.W. in convention at Toronto, was given by Mrs. G. H. Cass.

The panel discussion, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Dobb, convener of education, held the close attention of the members. The topic was "And so we grow", and the panel was made up of Mrs. Shipway, nurse, Mrs. McClary, mother, and Mrs. Young, teacher.

A lively discussion followed the excellent papers given by these ladies. It was agreed that a decided change was needed in our school system—a backward trend to the days when pupils exerted themselves to learn and had to think for themselves instead of having their education (?) served on a silver platter.

Mrs. John Smith reported from the County convention held by Ayer's Cliff on Aug. 4th. She was thanked by the president for her resume of the work of the convention.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Cass and Miss Beverley Dobb.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer gave her report. In the correspondence a letter of thanks was read from the "Cecil Memorial Home" Austin for a $10.00 donation from this branch.

Suggestions for the different conveners were read and pamphlets were distributed. Plans for the anniversary dinner celebration were discussed, but not completed.

A very interesting report of the annual convention was given by the delegate, Mrs. Loren Sherrer.

Mrs. G. Kuhring entertained the members with a quiz. The special prize from Mrs. Alex. Booth was won by Mrs. Norman Tibbitts.

MODERN LIVING

RUTH MILLET

FOR HAPPINESS, SLOW DOWN ENOUGH TO ENJOY FAMILY

"What would you do if you knew you had only 24 hours to live?" Perhaps it is a foolish question, but when a national magazine recently asked its women readers what they would do, almost all of the published answers expressed the same wish.

They would spend the time with their families, much like any other day, but with this exception. They would try to make the day seem gay and leisurely.

Perhaps, that is a wish of most wives and mothers. That the time they spend with their families could be lived at a more leisurely pace and that there was more light-hearted laughter among members of the family.

If that is your wish, are you doing anything about it?

Have you cut out all the unrewarding outside activities that you took on when you had more time but which now make you feel rushed and pushed?

Learn To Relax

Have you cultivated the habit of really relaxing when you have a few free minutes.

Some women can't sit down without noticing that there's dust on the piano or listen through to the end of a child's excited confidence without telling him his face is dirty or he has left his baseball mitt on the living-room couch.

Can you laugh at small annoyances, or at least accept them calmly?

Do you stop your work for a minute to watch a bird or look at a sunset or notice the pattern of shadows, and share the moment's beauty with any member of the family who is nearby?

Do you usually remember that it is more important to listen to what your children want to tell you than to rush through the job you are doing, while you merely pretend to listen?

In short, if you really wish that you had more time to enjoy each day with your family, are you doing anything to slow down each day enough to enjoy it?

paign had been launched and the corner stone laid, the people of the two counties could be justly proud of the fact that "..we are now open for business as a public institution with all our bills paid."

In his closing remarks, Mr. Sharp voiced the thanks of everyone to Dr. Sherman Roger and Mrs. Elizabeth Paintin, R.N., under whose direction the staff of able nurses and doctors carry on, and to the Ladies Auxiliary, under the presidency of Mrs. A. Gordon Scott, who have all contributed valuable time and effort to the project. And lastly, he thanked Mr. Duplessis, not only for the help that his government had given them, but also for honoring them with his presence at this memorable day when their dream has become a realized fact, in the opening of the doors of the new Brome-Missisquoi-Perkins Hospital.

Mr. Sharp then introduced Jean-Jacques Bertrand, M.L.A. for Missisquoi, who was called upon to introduce the Premier. In his short address, Mr. Bertrand said, "We have reason to be proud of the contribution of the Quebec Government and to them, Missisquoi and Brome wish to say thank you." He said that this new hospital had brought the goodwill together of the two flags, which were hanging over the entranceway, the Fleur-de-Lis and the Union Jack.

He said that these two peoples were showing a great example to the whole world, by living in close harmony and good relationship. "We have seen the result of men of good will, working together, in spirit of understanding."

Following his introduction by Mr. Bertrand, Mr. Duplessis began his speech by saying that "It is a real treat for me to be able to attend this ceremony. "He said that everyone had a right to be proud, as this undertaking was made possible through the effort and devotion of those who subscribed their money.

Mr. Duplessis went on to say that nowadays, people are inclined to rely too much on their government. They did not realize that the government does not manufacture the money, but only is a body to administer the use of the people's money, after it had been taken in taxation. That is why the people should be proud of the fact that "Brome and Missisquoi got together to help themselves."

He said that this was one of the best hospitals in the province of Quebec and that as everyone knows the health of both the body and mind is essential, and the health of the body can only be obtained if there is a healthy mind. That is why the province of Quebec builds schools and hospitals together. Since 1945, Mr. Duplessis stated that the Quebec government had built 91 hospitals. This last project, with the added generosity of the people of Brome Missisquoi, should make the people proud of themselves and the province.

"Let us hope that this example will be followed all over the province. No place in the world is there where the understanding between two races is so evident as in the province of Quebec. This can set an example to the rest of the world.

"The main aspect of the province is this fact. I am pleased to see all the people working together here today. The government wants to keep up this tradition that the province is noted for, and wants to have the people co-operate in this aim. You may always rely on us, being sure that we have reason to rely on you."

After the closing remarks of his address, the Premier was thanked by C. J. W. Fox, M.L.A. for Brome. Mr. Fox said that he could see there today the shining example to bring out what can be done when people get together. "Brome and Missisquoi may well be proud to see the results of their efforts here now."

In his thanks, Mr. Fox pointed out the other hospital, a few feet away, saying that the people of Brome-Missisquoi realized that they had to keep up with the needs of the growing community. He stated that when he took this up with the Government, their question was "Is it possible that the people of Brome-Missisquoi have taken upon themselves such an enormous task that will entail the two races working side by side through the hardships to attain this end? If so, I have no alternative but to go along with them wholeheartedly, after the people have been so agreeable in their own generosity."

Upon the close of the few short addresses, the Premier then proceeded to the entrance where he officially opened the hospital by cutting the ribbon across the door. With this ending of the ceremony, the people were allowed to inspect the new modern hospital.

At Saturday's ceremony, the decorated platform was filled by members of the committee, members of Mr. Duplessis' cabinet, of the Legislative Council and of the Legislative Assembly. Mayors and other civic officials from the district were on hand, as were a number of clergymen and other prominent citizens.

The hospital building itself, which cost $657,000, as stated by Mr. Sharp, in his opening address, has a present capacity of 60 adult beds, a six-bed children's ward and a 21-crib nursery. Every possible architectural and technical feature has been embodied in its construction to facilitate the work of the medical and nursing staff and provide for the comfort of the patients. The color schemes and the furnishings of the rooms have been carefully planned and correlated to present a cheerful restful atmosphere, and these new furnishings have been made possible in every room, through the generosity of individual donors or organizations who provided the funds.

The nursing staff is under the able direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Paintin, R.N., who has had wide experience in hospital operation and all doctors practising in the District of Bedford are free to admit their patients, regardless of race or creed.

Indians Drop Four To Braves; Bobby Locke Hurls Win

With Three-Hit Performance; Drop Into Second Position; Hosts To Three Rivers Tomorrow At 8:00

Sherbrooke Indians managed to salvage only one game out of the disastrous week-end series with the Quebec Braves and are now two-and-a-half games behind the pace-setters in second position. They dropped two Saturday, and last night they earned a split as Bobby Locke set down the Braves with a neat three-hitter to win 3-1.

This evening the locals travel to Thetford to take on the Miners while tomorrow night they will be hosts to the Phillies in the first tilt of a two-game series. Three Rivers gained on the leaders as they swept three from the Miners while Drummondville copped two from St. Johns.

In the Capital City Saturday the locals dropped two close ones. In the afternoon fixture the Wylie squad dropped a 3-1 verdict while in the evening the locals went 15-innings before they were edged out 5-4. Jack Bowes commenced the game and was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth as the locals rallied to knot the count 4-4 and send it into extra innings.

Merl Beatty came in and worked the balance of the game until the Braves pushed across one run in the 15th to win the closely-fought battle. John Luthern opened the short fixture last night before 2,094 fans and allowed only two hits until the third when he ran into trouble.

The Indians shoved home the first run in the opening frame but this lasted only two innings before the roof caved in. Luthern, who has worked seven games within the last two weeks, ran into trouble and before Bill Miller came in the Braves had registered seven runs. Miller lasted only one-third of an inning and was greeted with two singles while he gave up a walk. The locals committed two errors during the spree. Manager Wylie came in and retired the side to kill off the rally.

In the sixth the Braves got their other two runs after Wylie hurt his pitching arm while batting. The Indians picked up a run in the fourth when the visitors erred twice aad they got their other in the seventh to end the scoring.

In the second game it was a different story as Bobby Locke, the locals' strong-armed right-hander, kept things under control and only once did he run into any trouble. He retired nine via the swinging method and issued four walks.

Going into the top of the eighth he had allowed only one hit for no runs. Player, his opponent, was tagged for two in the second, good for a run, and in the sixth they got to him again for two more tallies on three hits. They finished off the hitting with two in the seventh.

Phil Williams, the Braves' classy left fielder and one of their best hitters, suffered an injury which may sideline him for some time. He hurt his hand when he came running in to make a shoestring catch of Jim Fishback's line drive. It robbed the local second sacker of what looked a sure hit.

Stephens, Williamson and Mayhew drove in the locals' three runs. Mayhew hit the only extra base hit of the game, a two-bagger, in the second and drove in Bill Williams for the first tally.

Yankees Buy Jim Konstanty

Boston—(AP)—New York Yankees have purchased Jim Konstanty, 37-year-old righthander, from Philadelphia Phillies.

It was a straight cash deal with Konstanty being waived on by seven National League clubs and the six below New York in the American League.

The former Toronto Maple Leaf has a 2-3 record this year. In 1950 he was voted the most valuable player in the National League.

Little Fisherman Cops Whitney

Saratoga Springs, N.Y. — (AP) — Little Fisherman couldn't quite make it Saturday as Alfred Vanderbilt's Social Outcast sped away from him in the stretch at Saratoga to capture the $58,300 Whitney Handicap.

Earlier, the Belair stud's Nashua had established himself as just about the top two-year-old in the East by winning the $27,800 Grand Union Hotel Stakes with highly regarded Pyrenees second.

Fisherman, one of the year's best three-year-olds, is owned by C. V. Whitney, as is Pyrenees, and both were odds-on favorites in their races.

Social Outcast paid $12.60, $3.30 and $2.60, the Whitney entry, $2.40 and 2.20, and Domquil, $2.90.

Claude Prod-Homme Hurls His Second No-Hitter Of Season; St. Joseph Cops Little League Pennant With Win

St. Joseph Indians won Little League honors when they defeated Mohawks Friday night 22-4 at Sangster Park. Coach Claude Guimond has built himself a strong team in their first year. Indians and the Sherbrooke Paper Products entry in the league. The game Friday evening was not as close as the previous one played on Wednesday evening between the same two teams. Mohawks took this one 6-4.

Indians got runs in every inning but the second. They tallied three times in the first inning, and built up their score in the remaining inning to 21 runs. Mohawks tried hard to make the game closer, but it just was not their night. The Desrochers brothers with pitcher Garand were the stars for Indians. Their team mates Robinson, Guillmette and St. Jacques hitting home runs. Kirby, Mawhood stood out for the losers.

Claude Prud-Homme, Giants pitcher in the Babe Ruth League, came up with his second no-hitter of the season when the Giants defeated the winless Phillies 25-0 in the second game of a doubleheader Saturday afternoon at Sangster Park. In the opening game Braves and Indians battled to a 3 all tie.

Braves fighting for a play-off spot could only get a division of the points in their game with the Indians. Braves opened with one run in the top of the first inning, getting their run on one hit and one error by the Indians infield. Indians bunched 3 hits in the bottom of the second to score 3 runs, and take a 2 run lead. Braves kept pegging away and squeezed home two runs in the remaining innings to tie the game. Provencher pitching his first game for the Braves showed up well, and only allowed five hits.

Claude Prud'Homme did not allow one Phillie to reach first base when he chalked up his second no-hitter of the season. He sent nine men down by the strike-out route and had control of the game all the way. Giants by winning this game took the Babe Ruth League Championship and finished the season in a blaze of glory. Prud'Homme is a young player who will make his mark in local baseball circles before very long. Coach Lyodd Baldwin has built himself up a strong team and should take the playoffs.

Played at the Baseball Stadium Saturday evening St. Joseph Yankees took the Dodgers 6-1 assuring themselves of second spot in the Babe Ruth League. Yankees got away to a four run lead in the top of the first inning and got themselves two more runs in the third inning. Dodgers got their lone tally in the bottom half of the first inning. Young Castonguay, on the mound for the Yankees, allowed the Dodgers only 2 hits. Thibodeau, his opponent, gave up five hits to the Yankees. A meeting of the league will be held this week to arrange the play-off dates.

Plenty Of Good Outsiders In U. S. Amateur Which Opens Today In Detroit; Don Doe Enters Event

Detroit—(AP)—The 54th United States amateur golf championship, the tournament which seldom sees the favorite go home with the cup, opens at the plush Country Club today with more talented outsiders than you can shake a five-iron at.

Minus a defending champion since Gene Littler, the 1953 winner, turned professional, the field of 200 doesn't include a single player who might be tabbed as an odds-on choice even to reach the semi-finals.

The nearest thing to a favorite probably will be Billy Joe Patton, the crew-cut North Carolina lumberman who charms the golf galleries with his booming drives and his personal magnetism. He has the best record this year of any American amateur.

Five former champions in the field, three former British amateur titleholders and the members of the 1953 Walker Cup and 1954 Americas Cup teams also must be given due consideration. But a quick rundown of the field shows a lot of bright new stars who have the ability, but possibly not the experience, to win the tournament.

Match Play

The 200 qualifiers start right in at match play Monday. The first six rounds consist of upset-breeding 18 hole matches, with double rounds scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday. The semi-finals Friday and finals Saturday will be at 36 holes.

Among the talented young players are Canada's two entries, Don Doe of Granby, Que., and Doug Silverberg of Red Deer, Alta.

Patton, in spite of his sensational third-place finish in the Masters and a sixth-place tie with Ben Hogan, Tommy Bolt and other prominent pros in the national Open, still is an erratic golfer.

That could be less harmful in match than in strike play, but there's a good chance that Patton will get his come-uppance during those 18-hole matches. It might happen in the first round against Rex Baxter, 1953 U.S. junior champion, who led the entire field in the sectional qualifying scores.

Other experienced stars include Harvie Ward, who won the Canadian Amateur at London, Ont., Saturday, and Bill Campbell, finalist in both the Canadian and British amateurs.

Also in the field are former U.S. champions Chick Evans 1916-1920, Willie Turnesa 1938-1948, Ted Bishop 1946, Charlie Coe 1949 and Sam Urzetta 1950 and two other former British amateur kings besides Ward, Frank Stranahan and Bob Sweeney. Don Cherry, who won the 1953 Canadian Amateur and Dale Morey, last year's U.S. Amateur finalist also are entered.

SUNDAY'S STARS
Pitching

Early Wynn, Cleveland Indians, snared his 17th victory of the season while limiting the Baltimore Orioles to three hits before stepping out for "second-team" replacements in seventh inning of 12-1 triumph.

Batting

Del Ennis, Philadelphia Phillies, hit three-run homer in both games of doubleheader sweep over Brooklyn Dodgers, 6-2 and 6-0.

John Landy's Mile Approved; Eight Records OK'd

Bern — (AP) — John Landy's magnificent 3:58 mile was approved officially as a world record Saturday by the International Amateur Athletic Federation.

The Australian runner established the mark at Turku, Finland, last June, clipping 1.4 seconds off Roger Bannister's record which had been approved only a few days before.

Also approved by the federation was American Bud Held's 263-foot, 10-inch javelin throw of Aug. 8, 1953 at Pasadena, Calif.

The federation also recognized Landy's 1,500-metre record of 3:41.8 recorded in the same race in which he hung up the new mile mark.

Hogan Dash Recognized

Australia's Hec Hogan got his 100 yards time of 9.3 seconds approved. It was made last March 3 and ties Mel Patton's world standard.

Other records approved included:

5,000 metres — 13:57.2 by Emil Zatopek of Czechoslovakia May 30.

10,000 metres—28.54.2 by Zatopek June 1 at Brussels.

Six miles—27:54.2 by Zatopek June 1.

Three miles—13:32.2 by Fred Green of Great Britain July 10 at London.

2,400-metre relay—7:26.8 by Soviet army team July 27 at Kiev.

Longjoe Wins Quebec-Montreal Cycling Classic

Montreal —(CP)— A. Longjoe of the Worcester Cycle Club, Fitchburg, Mass., Sunday won the 166-mile, Quebec-to-Montreal cycling classic in record time.

He led the field of 89 with a time of seven hours, 22 minutes and 14 seconds, almost six minutes better than the previous record.

Two lengths behind was Pat Murphy of Delhi, Ont.

Third, inches behind Murphy, was Andrew David of Montreal. Yvon Guillou of Quebec City's Velo Sport Club was fourth.

Jean Bozec, Velo Club, Quebec, was eighth, and Victor Hauben, Poliquin Sportif, Quebec, 15th.

Indians Roll Right Along And All But Knock Yanks Out Of Contention; Increase Gain To 5½; Dodgers Lose

While the American League in general and New York Yankees in particular wait breathlessly for the Cleveland Indians' teepee to collapse, the Tribe blithely ignores the somber warnings from their enemies.

Al Lopez' remarkable Redskins were five and a half games in front of the Yanks today and showed no signs of tapering off. The race has reached a point, in fact, where about the only chance the Yanks have of winning their sixth straight pennant is a collapse by the Indians.

The Tribe whipped Baltimore 12-1 Sunday, while the Boston Red Sox were putting the crusher on Casey Stengel's operatives, 8-2. That action enabled the Indians to gain another full game.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit halted Chicago. The White Sox are just about out of it, 7-4, and the Philadelphia A's defeated Washington, 3-2 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. The second was called after nine innings because of the Sunday curfew with the score tied 4-4.

In the National League, the York Giants cemented their claim to the pennant by gaining two games on the Brooklyn Dodgers. They swept a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-4 and 5-3 while the Philadelphia Phillies were crushing the Brooks twice, 6-2 and 6-0.

The Milwaukee Braves, seven and a half games off the pace, blasted Chicago 12-6 and the St. Louis Cardinals outlasted the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-7 in other National League action.

The Tribe slapped out 20 hits while Early Wynn held the Baltimore club to three in his seven innings on the mound.

Ted Williams knocked in the first four Sox runs with a homer and a double. That was all Frank Sullivan needed to hang up his 11th victory. Harry Byrd was the victim.

Detroit jumped on Billy Pierce for four runs in the first two innings and the White Sox never did get back in the game. Frank Bolling drove in three of the Tigers' runs. Billy Hoeft was the winner.

Joe Demaestri drove home the winning run for the A's in the 12th inning of the opener against the Senators to give Charlie Bishop his victory. The A's almost had the afterpiece before the curfew, too, but the Nats scored 3 in the ninth to tie it.

The pesky Pirates knocked both the Giants' ace pitchers, Johnny Antonelli and Sal Maglie, out of the box before bowing. As it was the Giants had to score twice in the ninth to pull the first one out. A pinch single by Bill Taylor drove in the winning run after three straight passes and an error forced in the tying marker.

In the nightcap, the Pirates chased Maglie in the fifth, and from there on in, a brilliant relief job by Hoyt Wilhelm held them in check.

A couple of pitchers, who have had indifferent success to put it charitably, mowed down the Brooks. Herman Wehmeier, whose record shows six victories and nine defeats, whipped them in the opener, and, in fact, had a shutout until the eighth. Murry Dickson was nursing a 10-game losing streak until he whitewashed them in the second game.

Del Ennis was the chief thorn in the side of the Brook pitchers, hitting a three-run homer in each game and driving in seven runs for the day. Carl Erskine was the first-game victim and Russ Meyer the second, although neither was around at the end. Brook batters produced only three extra base hits in the two games—all doubles.

Bobby Thomson returned to full-time duty with Milwaukee and promptly belted a two-run homer for the cause. Gene Conley, third of three Braves' pitchers, was the winner.

St. Louis' victory over Cincinnati dropped the Redlegs to fifth place. Stan Musial had a pair of doubles in the 13-hit Card attack on five Red pitchers. Al Brazle was the winner.

Harvie Ward Cops Canadian Amateur Golf Title Downing Bill Campbell 5 And 4 In 36-Hole Final Match

London, Ont. — (CP) — Harvie Ward, Jr., stubbornly refused to crack and his steadiness won him the Canadian amateur golf championship Saturday.

In the all-United States final over the London Hunt club course, the 28-year-old car salesman from San Francisco only once let Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., get a hole away from him. Then Harvie poured on par golf and Campbell, unexpectedly floundering, was submerged 5 and 4.

The match was won and lost on the third nine. The 32-year-old Huntingdon insurance man had courageously overcome Ward's two-hole lead acquired early in the morning round and went to lunch with a comforting one-hole margin.

After that it was all Ward. The native North Carolinian let the 19th hole slip out of his grasp when he missed a four-foot putt, and the hole was halved. But Ward immediately threw three pars and a birdie at Campbell and the tall West Virginian couldn't match them.

Campbell's short game had suddenly curdled. He was missing greens and scrambling. In that disastrous nine he virtually made a present of six holes to Ward, who won five of them with pars. Campbell salvaged only one.

They rounded the final turn for home with Ward in front by four holes. But Ward's seven-foot putt for a birdie four at the 560-yard 31st again put him five up and he ran out the match at the 32nd, halved in par fours.

This was Ward's first appearance in the Canadian amateur, and in winning the title he also takes home the Earl Grey Trophy. He is a native of Taboro, N.C., and won the British amateur in 1952. He was finalist the following year. Campbell was runner-up this year.

Aussies Show Brilliant Form To Cop Cup Matches

Rally To Edge Defending Champions By Four; Canada Finishes Fourth As Jules Huot Fails To Break Par

LAVAL-SUR-LE-LAC, Que. —(CP)— Australia, already a power in world tennis, proved its stature in professional golf Sunday with a four-stroke victory in the international Canada Cup matches.

The Aussies had to battle from behind to edge Argentina's Roberto de Vicenzo and Tony Cerda, who held a two-stroke lead going into the final round of the 72-hole tournament. But with Peter Thomson posting a six-under-par 66 to go with partner Kevin Nagles 69 they overhauled the defending champions and won going away.

The favored United States entry of Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret finished third and Canada's Stan Leonard and Jules Huot fourth. Leonard, the long-hitting Vancouver veteran, took low-medal honors with a score of 275, 13 under par, for 72 holes.

Canada Fourth

Australia wound up the medal play matches with 556, 20 under par. Argentina had 560, the U.S. 565, and Canada 570.

The pressure was on both Australia and Argentina from the tee-off for the first of two rounds Sunday. They started out all-even at 281, only three strokes ahead of the U.S., Canada and Scotland.

Little Cerda, the low-medalist in last year's inaugural matches, pushed the Argentinians into a two-stroke lead at the end of the first 18 as he carded a five-under 67.

Take Lead

The Australians wasted no time squaring the matches in the afternoon round. Four birdies by Thomson and two by Nagle on the first five holes put Australia ahead to stay.

Huot's inability to break par in any of his four rounds over his home course stymied the Canadian bid for the cup. He had his best day of the tournament Sunday, posting round of 72 and 73 to go with a pair of 75's he carded earlier.

Leonard played sparkling golf in posting four sub-par rounds of 66, 68, 71 and 70. He had his iron shots dropping all around the pin and rarely missed a short putt.

Balky Putter

It was a different story with Snead, who never did solve his putting dilemma. He shot a 70 and a 71 in the final days but came away moaning about his balky putter.

The Scottish team of Eric Brown and Tom Haliburton, which took over the lead briefly in the third round, faded when Brown rocketed to a 79 on his final 18 holes. They wound up fifth, a stroke back of Canada.

Nineteen-year-old Jean Garaialde and 24-year-old Francois Saubaber of France were a surprise sixth with 573, three under par. They were followed by England at 574 and Brazil at 575.

Seixas - Trabert Cop Doubles Title From Aussies

Brookline, Mass. — (AP) — Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert, winning United States Davis Cup combination, rallied for a 3-6, 6-4, 8-6, 6-3 victory over Australia's Lew Hoad and Ken Rosewall Sunday to give the U. S. its first national men's tennis doubles championship since 1948.

Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, won their fourth straight women's crown with a 6-4, 6-4 triumph over Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Dela.

Granby, Aug. 23 — Dusty Miller, playing on his home course, shot a one-under-par 67 to win the low gross honors in the annual Granby Field day held on Saturday. Miller fired an even par 34 on the first nine and one under par 33 on the second nine.

J. Rigney, Granby, with 73 won the low gross in class "B" while Bruce Cotterell, Mt. Orford, with 75 was second. Doug MacDonald, Lennoxville, with 77 won the third gross in "B" class and John Mathias with 78 won the fourth gross prize after winning the flip.

J. Douesnard, Granby, with 81-20-61 won the low net in class "B", A. Nolin, with 82-19-63 was second. Paul Cordeau, Sherbrooke Country Club, with 81-18-63, was third and Jack Findlay, Asbestos, with 80-16-64 was fourth.

There were 106 entries in the annual event and Granby club captain George Hellis officiated at the distribution of prizes.

Bobby Thompson Returns; Homers In First Trip

Milwaukee — (AP) — Bobby Thomson, knocked out of action for nearly five months with a fractured ankle, gets his first starting assignment with Milwaukee against Cincinnati tonight.

Encouraged by his performance in Chicago Sunday after appearing as a pinch runner for the injured Eddie Mathews and hitting a home run in his first turn at bat, Thomson said today he expects to play regularly from now on.

The 30-year-old Scot moved to the outfield for the first time this year following his pinch running chore and his two-run homer in the seventh inning snapped a 6-6 tie. The Braves went on to defeat the Cubs 12-6.

"The home run gave me a terrific thrill," Thomson said, "almost as great as the one I hit that won the 1951 pennant for the New York Giants. It made me feel for the first time like I belonged.

Until Sunday, Thomson appeared in 14 games, all in the role of pinch hitter.

Mathew suffered a split finger on the left hand when hit by a pitched ball and is expected to be sidelined for about a week. X-rays showed no break.

Mexico Eliminates Canada In Davis Cup Play 4-1; Main And Macken Cop Doubles; Bedard Forced To Sidelines

MEXICO CITY —(CP)— Long-legged Gustavo Palafox, Mexico's 31-year-old national tennis champion, outlasted Lorne Main of Vancouver and Toronto in a rousing five-set match Sunday and won his country a final berth in the Davis Cup North American zone eliminations.

Palafox's 8-6, 3-6, 6-4, 1-6, 6-4 victory, plus Mario Llamas' easy straight-set conquest of Canadian substitute Paul Willey of Vancouver, gave Mexico the round by four matches to one.

Main and Brendan Macken of Montreal salvaged a doubles victory over Francisco Pancho Contreras and Francisco Guerrero Arcocha Saturday 7-5, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2.

Burden On Main

The burden was on Main's shoulders in week-end play and Canada's little No. 1 player fought gamely. He entered the doubles paired with Macken, originally scheduled to be a non-playing captain, when Bob Bedard of Sherbrooke, Que., suffered an upset stomach and was unable to play.

Both Main and Bedard had dropped their opening singles assignments Friday to Llamas and Palafox respectively.

But Main, who had been plagued Friday with inability to adjust his game to Mexico City's 7,500-foot altitude, found himself in the doubles and overpowered the Mexicans with his two-handed drives at the net.

Against Palafox, a craft veteran of international play, he continued his powerful volleying and at times appeared to have his opponent on the run.

Takes Fifth Set

But Main's inability to hold his own service—only in the fourth set was he able to escape a service break—finally proved fatal. Palafox wore him down in the sizzling fifth set and made his winning breakthrough in the 10th game.

With the series no longer at stake, Paul Willey of Vancouver substituted for the ailing Bedard in the last match and Llamas downed him easily 6-1, 6-4.

That gave Mexico her third victory over Canada in five Davis Cup meetings and sent the winners into the zone final against the winners of a United States-Cuba round in which the Americans rank as prohibitive favorites.

The zone final will be played here in mid-September.

Roughriders And Bombers Cop Tilts

The underdog Saskatchewan Roughriders and the defending western champion Winnipeg Blue Bombers Saturday opened the 1954 Western Interprovincial Football Union schedule with victories.

More than 12,000 rain-coated Regina fans saw their Riders cross up the experts and beat Edmonton Eskimos 21-13. And 16,887 watched the Bombers bounce Calgary Stampeders 17-5.

Quarterback Frank Tripucka, former Dallas Texan, completed nine of 10 passes, and one of them went for 65 yards, to spearhead the Regina attack.

Glenn Lippman, halfback brought in from Texas A. and M., scored both Edmonton touchdowns. Rod Pantages converted both and added a single.

MARY G. HERBERT COPS FREE-FOR-ALL IN 2.10

Laurel Theresa Upsets Field To Pay $79.90 On Straight; Double Pays $19.90; Quinella $23.70

Mary G. Herbert, owned by Adelard Dumas of Sherbrooke and driven by the popular Percy Lynaught, captured first place honours in both heats of last night's Free-For-All at the Sherbrooke Racing Club. The daily double paid $19.90, the highest quinella $23.70, and in straight as high as $79.90 and $46.50.

Dr. Romeo Veilleux's entry of George Brooke copped both the first and eighth races. The initial race, ran in 2.16 3/5, saw F. St. Denis drive Peter Adeline across the wire in second position, while A. Beaton driving Simeon Hanover, owned by Mrs. V. B. Kidder of Woodsville, N.H., followed closely. Straight paid $2.20, place $2.70 and show $3.00 on George Brooke, while Peter Adeline paid $16.70 to place and $12.40 to show.

Bobby Taylor, owned by Mrs. A. Ager, of Chartierville, and driven by B. Blanchette lowered her mark of 2.15 to 2.13 2/5, as she upset the field in the second race. Baden's Ray, handled by Percy Lynaugh placed second while Hallie Hanover came third. The six race saw Mahlon Harves, who came seventh in the second race, win in 2.15 1/5. Hallie Hanover was second and Baden's Ray third.

The second race paid $46.50 straight on Bobby Taylor, $16.60 to place and $8.30 to show. Baden's Ray paid $6.70 and $5.00 while the pari-mutuel issued $14.10 on show for those holding $2.00 wagers on Hallie Hanover. George Brooke, having won the initial race and Bobby Taylor having followed suite in the second race, the daily double paid $19.90.

Five-year-old Dixie's Baby, owned by C. Blanchette, of Colebrook, N.H., and driven by B. Blanchette classed second and first in the third and seventh races. At the three-quarter mark of the mile, Dixie's Baby holding down eighth place, suddenly pulled to the outside and passed the field but tiring on the home stretch lost out to Laurel Theresa. Sarting in seventh position, Dixie's Baby managed to take the fore and held it all the way to win seventh race, a "CC" trot-pace for $300.00.

Laurel Theresa, owned by A. R. Mullins, of Knowlton, with a mark of 2.15, was clocked at 2.13 1/5 for the third race, in the biggest upset of the week-end racing card. A sigh of surprise rose from the 1,500 racing fans, when the pari-mutuel flashed $79.90 for straight, $34.50 to place and $18.40 to show. Dixie's Baby paid $4.30 to place, $3.70 to show. Prewin paid $4.90 to show. Lady Josey Ritz, placed fourth in both races whereas Pac Mac, whose sixth place running in the third race caused the odds to go up considerably, came through in second place. The time for the seventh race was 2.13 3/5.

Mary G. Herbert, a young four-year-old with a mark of 2.09 2/5, won both the Free-For-All heats. In the fourth race, Clever Volo, owned by Coombs Garage of Sherbrooke placed second while L. Huckins drove H. K. Volo across the finish line in third position. The time was 2.10.

Direct Hanover, owned and driven by Amedee Beaudoin, whose sixth place showing in the fourth and previous mark of 2.11, accounted for the few tickets sold on her in the eighth, pushed into second place. The combination Mary G. Herbert and Direct Harvester brought the quinella money to $23.20.
