

NEW YEAR GREETINGS To Everyone

As the New Year Cupid gaily rings in 1947, let us pause a moment and resolve to make this year one of fulness and happiness in our relations to each other. Let us help each other achieve love, happiness, peace and prosperity this year and every year to follow.

As we ring in the New Year let each of us resolve to contribute to the best of our ability and in our own way toward one common goal - love and brotherhood among men - peace the world over. May the joy that the year 1947 holds be shared by one and all.

Dundee Red Cross Branch Forms Group to Affiliate with Huntingdon Branch

Decision Made by Meeting as Being Best Plan for Peace-time Activities

Members of the Dundee Branch of the Quebec Provincial Red Cross Society held an important meeting at the Dundee Community Hall, on Monday, Dec. 16. Mr. A. P. O'Reilly, president of the Dundee Branch, presided at the meeting. Since its formation on April 15, 1945, the Dundee Branch has been active in various peace-time activities. At the meeting, a decision was made to affiliate with the Huntingdon Branch. This decision was reached after a thorough discussion of the advantages and disadvantages of such a move. It was felt that affiliation would allow the Dundee Branch to share the resources and experience of the larger Huntingdon Branch, while still maintaining its local identity and focus on the needs of the Dundee community. The meeting was well-attended and the decision was met with unanimous approval.

Special Films Available For Organization Showing

The National Film Board realizes that films have a known educational value, and they have made arrangements to have a number of films available within the Huntingdon-Chateaugay area during the next two weeks. Mr. Liversidge of Huntingdon will have the films for organizations in the Huntingdon area from Dec. 23rd to Jan. 6th, and in Ormstown for two days and then Hawick the following two days. The program is strictly a Canadian one, featuring "This is our Canada." This film is an impressive story that portrays Canada as a land of wonderful opportunity and makes us realize that Canada is a country to be proud of. Other films on the program are all in the interest of Canadian Life.

SPORTS

CAMERA

By FRED KERNER

A recent Washington news item related that a meeting of sports writers had been called by Tom Clark, United States attorney-general, to discuss sports as a means of combating juvenile delinquency.

From early days in university sociology classes it has been our belief that the term "delinquent" should be avoided. It is a nasty word which shouldn't be given to any child. When a boy or girl gets into trouble, it usually is someone else who is delinquent.

The field of sports is certainly one that can be brought into full play as an agent of prevention. It's cheaper and more satisfactory to maintain a few playgrounds and gymnasiums than an equal number of courts and jails. It's cheaper than paying premiums on insurance against theft and destruction.

There alone is reason for the average business man to contribute a few dollars to provide such facilities, though it isn't the best reason. The best reason is that every youngster deserves the right to have some fun to grow up with the right ideas.

A program of sports and recreation, properly conducted, is a great investment to a boy or girl to stay on the right side. Police-conducted programs in many cities have proved this. Such programs must have certain basic requirements: they must be made attractive and the beneficiaries must understand that participation is a privilege denied to them if they misbehave. There must be adequate facilities and equipment and there must be more than adequate leadership.

A sandlot or an old barn is better than no place to play, but a boy does appreciate a real baseball field or hockey rink or gym. Capable persons must be there to show them what to do—it isn't enough to provide the material and place and say: "Go ahead and play!"

There are dozens of teachers and coaches who give their time and service to such projects with little if any remuneration. There must be thousands of others. It will take a lot of large and small scale planning. It will take a lot of work and a lot of money. But in the long run it is worth it, a million times over.

An acquaintance who is an avid sports page reader suddenly came up with a problem which had, he said, been bothering him for some time. "What," he asked, "is the correct title for the man who is editor of the sports page—sporting editor or sports editor?"

That all depends. If said editor bets on the horses and indulges in sundry other forms of gambling, is a man-about-town in appearance and manner, then perhaps he is a "sporting editor."

But if he confines himself mainly to his work then it seems correct to call him "sports editor."

Rotarians Enjoy Xmas Programme

Blind Pianist Delighted All With Playing

Mr. Allan Murray, Montreal, accompanied by Mr. Edgar Astles, Montreal, and at native of the Gaspé, and who has been stone blind since birth, presented a programme of entertainment at the Christmas Rotary meeting on Monday, Dec. 23rd. Mr. Murray, who is so very well known locally, entertained the Rotarians in his usual fine form, but he did not try to steal the show, so to speak, from his companion, Mr. Edgar Astles, as a matter of fact Allan boosted him along. Allan stated that Edgar, though blind, was a pianist of note and his accomplishments displayed on the piano delighted everyone. Edgar is not only a pianist, but a story teller, and his Winston Churchill quotations repeated are in perfect harmony with the voice of the original Winston. Edgar looks for no expressions of sympathy but carries at all times the happiest of happy facial expressions and particularly was that noticeable when he sang "O Canada" and "God Save the King."

At this meeting an exchange of Christmas gifts took place, each person present drawing a gift from a box. Edgar drew a jig-saw puzzle and of course Allan Murray insisted on exchanging gifts with Edgar, knowing that a jig-saw was useless to him, but Edgar wanted the jig-saw to give to a kid brother in Gaspé. What a wonderful example of a good heart with a true Xmas spirit. While Allan and Edgar provided a delightful Xmas program for the Rotarians, the real Xmas spirit they imparted into the hearts of all present was of immeasurable greater importance. Thanks, Messrs. Murray and Astles for your visit to Huntingdon.

Not Disappointed in White Christmas -- Plenty of Snow

Weather Man Has Provided Plenty of Snow and Stormy Weather

While the weather was such that it looked as if there would be no "White Christmas" this season, the weather man decided to see to it that there would be plenty of snow and just a tang of frost in the air. The first real storm came on Friday morning, December 20th, covering the bare earth with a mantle of snow that piled into drifts from the wind that was blowing. It remained cold, but not too cold. But on Thursday, December 26th, the weather changed again with a high wind blowing the snow and temperatures that hovered just a few degrees above the zero mark and which by evening took a sudden drop to about 10 or 11 degrees below zero. While main highways were opened up by snowplows, the sidewalks were blocked and wheel traffic could not travel these roads. No general tie-up of traffic was experienced but service on the Lord's Day shall pass the gates free of toll." If the company had a profit in any year exceeding 10%, the excess was to be applied to a sinking fund to retire their shares and the Legislature retained the power to take over the shares at a premium of 15% less the amount in the sinking fund.

Mr. Sellar adds that he does not know when the road was built, but it is over 100 years ago that the authority to build was granted. To be exact—May 23rd, 1846.

START LIGHTING PROGRAM

PORT WILLIAMS, N.S.—(CP)—Port Williams, the Cornwallis valley's inland port, has started a program of street lighting and installing lights on Main Street already is completed. It is hoped to have the whole Port Williams area completed in 1947.

REFORESTATION

It may appear to some people that the lumber industry itself should do something about reforestation. It is this industry which has reaped the profits from the forest wealth of the country. The public should not be expected to assume the whole responsibility of repairing the damage that has been done.

BUILD NEW HOSPITALS

Sherbrooke, Que. (CP)—A new Protestant hospital will be constructed on a 12-acre area here shortly with the aid of $500,000 received during a recent campaign.

Shawinigan Promises New Line Will be Completed Soon

Some Supplies Still Hard to Obtain, Weather May be Factor

A letter has been received by Mr. A. L. Sellar, from Jas. Wilson, President of the Shawinigan Water and Power Co., relative to the interruptions in electrical service experienced in Huntingdon and it reads in part as follows:

"We face many difficulties in the operation of our power business at the present time. These, however, are not common to our particular Company, they are being experienced by all utilities. In the main they consist of a tremendous number of new industries requiring power. This is due to the transition from war to peace conditions with the result that materials we require for new construction are in very short supply, the manufacturers being unable to keep up with the demand. We foresaw this situation some time ago and ordered tremendous quantities of material, but the manufacturers have failed generally to keep up with the demand through conditions over which they have no control. We have always had the power requirements of Huntingdon well before us, and we believe we have contributed in a certain way to the building up of your prosperous community.

At the present time we are making large expenditures in improving the supply to Valleyfield which in turn will help Huntingdon. A line now under construction approaching your town is definitely lacking one small article of construction; that is, 34,500 volt insulators. The manufacturers promise that we shall receive a shipment of insulators for this line about the third week in January, and when we get them we should be able to connect the new line into your town about three or four weeks after the date of receipt. If, however, the manufacturers disappoint us we shall have to bear with them, and I am afraid you with us. Another factor that might come into the picture would be extreme bad weather conditions.

We shall be glad if you will convey this information to the various gentlemen who signed the petition addressed to me, and we wish you the Compliments of the Season.

Yours very truly,
JAS. WILSON,
President.

Who is to Blame For High Prices?

Where should the blame lie for present high prices in Canada? There is apparently a substantial difference of opinion on that question in the public mind. Results of a recent poll of public opinion on the subject showed that a large percentage of those polled blame the government and the prices board, some blame labor, and so forth. The percentage results were as follows:

Government and Prices Board	22%
Labour union tactics, high wages, etc.	21
Hoarding, selfish consumers, black market	11
Natural after-effects, scarcity shortages, etc.	10
Financial interests, manufacturer, middleman the capitalist system, etc.	9
Exports	2

GREETINGS TO THE PEOPLE CHATEAUGAY-HUNTINGDON RIDING

It is my earnest hope that the year 1947 will see great changes in the lives of all in this constituency and that these changes will be for their betterment. The past Christmas season is probably the best that has been witnessed for the past seven or eight years and it seems to indicate that conditions are improving. The change over from war to peace is a slow procedure, but it seems to be going along successfully with as little hardship as possible. No one seems to be suffering, in fact, all seem to be progressing. Under such conditions I feel that I can quite readily wish you all a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Authority Granted For Plank Road 100 Years Ago

A little bit of the past history of Huntingdon has come to light through the fact that Mr. Watson Sellar was obliged to look up some facts in an 1846 volume of The Statistics of the Province of Canada. This little item will make interesting reading for many of the residents here. At a session held in the year mentioned the following was enacted:

Huntingdon Plank-road Company was incorporated with a capital of $15,000 and power to increase it to $30,000.

Purpose: to build a plank or macadamized road from the Village of Huntingdon to the upper entrance of the Beauharnois Canal.

Directors: Robert B. Somerville, William Bowen, Benjamin Douglas, John Somerville, James Reid and Francis H. Sheriff.

Power given to collect tolls, but "All persons, horses or carriages going to, or attending or returning from any funeral of any person, or going to or returning from divine

BEST WISHES FOR 1947 AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR

What the new year holds for us all is something we can only estimate as the present indications show. If we could look beyond that, we may wish that we did not have to live it, or we may become so thrilled that we would never live to see it. It is well, therefore that we cannot see what the future holds for each and everyone of us—but we certainly can hope for what we would like it to hold for us. Thus it is that I express the hope that for each and everyone of you that 1947 will bring those things you want the most.

A Gift That is Worthwhile

CHRISTMAS gifts today are a practice that means a regular trade, or blind swap. Irrespective of how one wishes to term it, this is a practice that does a lot of good to the donors as well as the recipients.

What value can be placed on power is indeed difficult to estimate. In the industrial plants alone in Huntingdon some 600 hands are employed, therefore it is safe to say that every minute the power is off, that minute will represent $6.50 or $390. an hour.

We Look to a Better New Year

WHILE we cannot look to the future and we are not able to speak with any authority as to what the year 1947 holds for us, we believe that the prospects are much brighter than they have been for several years past.

Toward the end of 1946 conditions seemed suddenly to change for the better, the apprehension seemed to lift like the clouds after a storm and the sun shines through.

There is still much to be done before we can say that this country or the world has regained its former peacetime status. Canada has every hope of continued prosperity so long as its productive capacity is taken care of and kept in healthy condition.

employment is the least it has ever been in the history of this country and more workers in practically all lines are still required and urgently needed.

January 1st New Era For Canada

JANUARY 1st, 1947, will mark a new era in the life of the citizens of this Dominion. It will be as important to the people of today as Confederation was to the people when that event took place.

CANADIAN CITIZENSHIP ACT HIGHLIGHTS

The Act was proclaimed on July 1st, 1946, and as the Canadian Citizenship Bill was piloted through the House of Commons by the Honourable Paul Martin, Secretary of State.

- 1. For the first time, our naturalization statute states that a Canadian citizen is a British subject.
2. A native-born Canadian, or a British subject domiciled in Canada, brides of Canadian servicemen, and all those who now possess naturalization certificates, are declared to be Canadian citizens immediately.
3. The bill provides for the establishment and recognition of Canadian citizenship. Formerly the only definition of Canadian citizenship was to be found in the Immigration Act.

January 1st will be an important date in the history of this Canada of ours and that the changes that will become effective on that date will mean much in the future of every citizen.

The Shape of Things to Come

WE have repeatedly been told that there will be many improvements and marvelous inventions in the years to come as a result of the war. It always seems that certain developments come from war—some of them good, some not so good.

vanity chair and overhead light. These are only a few of the highlights, but such comforts for travelling have not been known before. Then if that is not enough, another news note tells of a new streamlined bedroom-buffet-lounge car.

The Royal York hotel features what it calls Day-Night Rooms. These are fitted with furnishings that can be converted to either day or night use.

making them ideal in which to entertain or invite friends. At night, the room is quickly converted for use as a bedroom and the desk becomes a dressing table.

Under such conditions and providing the prices for this type of comfort are within reach of the everyday person, there should be a return to travelling on the trains for those long trips. It is certain that the discomforts of travelling could be largely eliminated under such conditions.

NEW YEAR GREETINGS

From 1863 to date it has been our pleasure each year to cordially express our appreciation of your friendship and goodwill with the hope that our service will continue to be a factor in the prosperity we wish for you during the coming year.

Sugar Holds Secret of World Peace By LEWIS MILLIGAN

"Whenever there's nothing we can view with alarm, life isn't worth living for an American," says Ed Erard in the Kingsville (Texas) Record. But that epigram does not apply only to Americans, the whole civilized world has acquired such an appetite for alarms and jitters during the past seven years or more than that, although the war is well behind us, we still crave for something to worry about.

1/4 teaspoon salt

1/4 teaspoon pepper

2 tablespoons catsup

1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

2 tablespoons flour

Bring chicken stock to boiling point and add seasonings. Blend flour with cold water and add to stock. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Continue cooking 8-10 minutes. Serve hot over turnovers. Yield: 1 1/2 cups.

Notes: A very large number attended the Christmas concert held at the Ormstown High School on Thursday evening, Dec. 19th.

Council Meeting

ORMSTOWN VILLAGE COUNCIL: A meeting of the Council of the Corporation of the Village of Ormstown was held on Wednesday, December 18th.

The Secretary reported having received a letter from Councillor D. F. McIntrye, resigning his office as Councillor on account of ill health.

On motion this resignation was accepted. On motion of Coun. McNeil, seconded by Coun. Brunet several changes in ownership of properties were made.

Moved by Coun. Lassalle, seconded by Coun. McNeil that the following accounts be paid: Moffats Service Station, $57.36; D. A. Barrington, $156.78; D. S. McColm, $21.15; White Rose Service Station, $1.75; Shawinigan Water & Power, $99.17; Empire Garage, $38.72; Brookdale Bros., $5.88; Honore Montreal, $10.00; Paul Viau, $14.41; Pigeon Bros. Construction Co., $192.50; C. J. Dryden Co. Ltd., $8.40.

The Secretary was asked to write the Shawinigan Water & Power Co. stating the Spot Light on Soldier's Memorial Tablet was out more than half the time.

Roland Thibault asked for permit to build a cement block restaurant on the property presently owned by Lucien Dandurand, permit was granted.

M.P. ESTABLISHED FUND: Nelson, B.C. (CP)—The Mary E. Davidson Fund for providing oculist service and eyeglasses for Kootenai children with defective vision keeps alive for local residents the memory of W. K. Esling, one-time M.P. for Kootenay West, who died recently. Nearly blind himself Mr. Esling set up the fund in 1937 on the death of his sister.

The chicken sandwiches wrapped in paper and two cups of tea cost 70 cents. The tea was good but I ate only one bite of the sandwich. Bill ate most of his, with unfortunate results.

The Rawdon Hills: We were on a paved road for a few feet and then in a drizzle, the road turned to gravel. There was a herd here to locate on a farm somewhere among the hills of this forgotten cross-section. I peered anxiously at faded road signs and once or twice we pulled in to a lone gas station to check directions. I was sure we were hopeless, lost in the rain and fog, but kept my fears to myself. After a couple more miles of woods and no habitations, Bill backed into a cross-trail and turned around.

Back at the last corner we hailed a man coming out of a barn carrying a lantern. He was the brother of the man we were looking for and assured us we were on the right road. We turned back and finally came to the clearing on the right with a good firm lane into the buildings. Mr. X had just returned from Windsor where he had been on the jury.

We reached Windsor about 9.30 and at the Hotel Victoria were shown to a room on the second floor; no room service and you carried your own bags. However, the room was 30 X 15, two beds and a bathroom.

Hotel Victoria wears its air of faded elegance as a legacy from a brilliant past. After 1755, to take up the lands of the exiled Acadians came Colonial New Englanders, to be followed twenty years later by United Empire Loyalists, exiled also. For more than a hundred years Windsor was a Garrison Town for the British Regular Army. I greatly regret that time did not permit of a visit to the Halliburton Museum.

It was raining when we left Windsor the next morning, traveling along the Avon River to Wolfville, where we called at the home of Lorne Logan. While Bill and I were to make a call I visited with Mrs. Logan.

The men returned in about an hour and as Mr. Logan was to be our guide on the trip up the valley, we said good-bye to Mrs. Logan. I was just a little disappointed, however, to find out that during my visit they had gone to Grand

Rotary Club Meeting

A New Year's Message was delivered before the Rotary Club, on Monday, Dec. 30, by the Rev. Father O'Neill, curate of St. Joseph's Church, Malone. Father O'Neill is an orator of the first order and his message was not only wonderfully delivered but expressed in such simple language it had a most compelling effect. He urged his listeners to first be sincere with themselves and be of a good heart. Think of God's Ten Commandments and live according to them; should you wander away from those ten laws to man, correct yourself, and if you see another person who is falling away, endeavour to help him, don't look down on him. If we could all abide by the ten commandments we would not be thinking of war but first peace within our hearts, which in turn would be spread throughout our homes, our streets and communities and on throughout the world.

Wedding

NILES-O'NEIL
Shelburne, Vermont.—One of the prettiest autumnal weddings of the season took place on the evening of Nov. 8 at 8 o'clock in Shelburne Trinity Church, when Charles Alan Niles, son of Mrs. Jessie Niles, and Elizabeth Laird O'Neill, daughter of Mrs. Sarah O'Neill of Hinesburg, were united in marriage by the Rev. J. Lynwood Smith, pastor. The double ring ceremony was used. The church and steps leading to the altar were decorated with large urns of red and white roses forming an archway through which the bridal party passed.

The bride was on the arm of her brother, Warren O'Neill, recently discharged from the U.S. Army, who gave her in marriage. The groom's best man was Robert C. Deal of Williston and the bride's sister, Marion, was maid of honor.

The bride was gowned in white silk with a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her embroidered lace veil was held in place with a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms. She carried a bridal bouquet of white pompons and orange blossoms.

The maid of honor wore a heavenly blue satin brocade gown with overdress of shadow lace, and matching headress. She carried red American Beauty roses.

A royal blue velvet gown with black accessories was worn by the bride's mother. The groom's mother wore a velvet gown with white accessories.

Reception Held
Immediately following the ceremony, reception was held for relatives and intimate friends. The bride's gift from the groom was a Hamilton jeweled wrist watch and the groom's gift to his best man was a leather billfold. A luncheon was held later at the hotel for close friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Niles left on an unannounced wedding trip, after which they will reside in Williston. The bride's going away dress was of bright fuschia with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Hinesburg High School and for three years has been living in Connecticut where she was engaged in war work. Mr. Niles is a graduate of Burlington High School and has served three years in the U.S. Army, one year being spent in the ETO. He now is attending the University of Vermont. (Adv.)

were Misses Annie and Agnes Paul, Mrs. Jennie Patton, Miss Agnes Patton of Huntingdon; Miss Anna V. Rutherford, R.N. of Montreal; Mr. Dave McFarlane, Miss Mary McFarlane, Glenelg; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rutherford, Ann and Doreen.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Wilson, Henry and Sheila were guests of her parents, on Thursday.

Services were cancelled in Kensington United Church and Elgin on account of bad roads and weather on Sunday, Dec. 29.

Christmas Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dear were Mr. and Mrs. John Dear, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dear and daughter, Mildred, Cadet Nurse in Syracuse; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dear and Ernest, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Wood, daughters Janice and Joyce, all of Massena, N.Y.; Mr. and Mrs. G. Marlowe, Lorena and Dorothy of Whippleville, N.Y.; Mr. Arthur Dear of Burke; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Allen, Aubrey; Mr. and Mrs. J. Russell McDonald, Billie and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. Dear received a call from their daughter Dorothy, Mrs. Olmstead from Peekskill, N.Y., who were unable to be present on account of sickness.

A family gathering took place at the home of Mrs. Mary Anderson for Christmas. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Ray Richardson, Dixie; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Anderson and Jean, of Huntingdon, and Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Elder.

Why VICKS Vaporub Is So Good For Relieving Misereries of Childrens Colds

More than two generations ago—in grandmother's day—mothers first discovered Vicks Vaporub. Today it is the most widely used home-remedy for relieving misereries of children's colds. And here is the reason...

The moment you rub VapoRub on the throat, chest and back at bedtime it starts to work two ways at once—

"YES, BUT HE HAS THE MONEY"
How often has that comment come to your mind when you have admired a handsome new barn or other evidences of prosperity on a neighbour's farm? But have you considered that you, yourself, need no longer postpone necessary improvements to your farm and home?

The money to put up a new barn, to buy new machinery, to install labour-saving appliances, inside plumbing, hot running water—to make your farm a better farm—to make your home more comfortable—to make your family the happier... may be yours through the Bank of Montreal's farm improvement loan plan.

It is Kenneth Pope's business—his favourite business to help farmers smooth out their financial problems. Mr. Pope, local manager of the B of M, has helped many go-ahead farmers to better farming, better living and better profits. His attitude is: "When you ask for a loan at the B of M you do not ask a favour." (Adv.)

Presbyterian Y.P.S. Hold Christmas Party
On Monday evening, the Presbyterian Young People's Society held its Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Brown. The early part of the evening was spent singing Christmas carols with Miss Genevieve Cullen at the piano. The committee in charge had prepared many interesting games, these were conducted by Misses Margaret Brown, Jean Brown and Donald Goodall and provoked much laughter. The prize for the widest grin was awarded Miss Myrtle Cullen.

A Christmas supper was served following the games, each member wearing a gay Christmas hat. Music supplied by Mrs. Stanley Elliott and Raymond was much enjoyed. Mr. Lindsay Cullen expressed the thanks of all present to Mr. and Mrs. Brown and family for the use of their home and all agreed that the Christmas party was a happy and gala event.

Mrs. Eva Cavers, who has spent the past few months with Mr. and Mrs. Gerard O'Kelly, Ottawa, is spending the Christmas holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Cavers. Miss Margaret Murray was also a Christmas guest at the Cavers home.

25c AND UP

Should you be one of the many who at present is indebted to the Gleaner for 25c or more, it would be appreciated if you would settle your account without further delay.

FOR decades the expression "Safe as the Bank of England" has meant dependability of the highest possible order.

It remained for the Quebec Hydro-Electric Commission to publicly ignore that symbol... that inspiration. At the same time as the British Labour Government was arranging the taking-over of the famous Bank with an advance settlement with the stockholders on a mutually satisfactory basis, the Quebec Government was expropriating a great publicly owned utility without payment... and without promise!

NOW BRITISH RAILWAYS TOO!

It has now been announced that an offer is to be made by the Labour Government of Britain to the British Railway Companies for their shares, based on the average open market value of those companies in the first week of November, 1946. A fair proposal and made in advance of expropriation action.

With Canadian Editors at Imperial Press Conference

By C. H. HALE

Sightseeing and Entertainment This series on the Imperial Press Conference it remains only to touch briefly on a few of the incidental features of our six week's experience, without reference to which the record would be incomplete. While we had a full programme was not by any means entirely confined to the serious subjects which have been dealt with in previous articles.

Throughout our stay in Britain the overseas delegates were the guests of the British Press. This hospitality included the month spent in Grosvenor House, the month when we were the guests of the Manchester Guardian, the Kemsley Newspapers, the Liverpool Daily Post and Liverpool Echo, the Scottish Daily Newspaper Societies and the Yorkshire Post. In addition there were civic luncheons and dinners in Manchester, Liverpool, Edinburgh and Leeds. There were, besides, a number of other functions, of which perhaps the most noteworthy were an hour spent with the King and Queen and the Princess Margaret Rose in a reception at Buckingham Palace; a dinner in the beautiful Painted Hall of the Royal Naval College at Greenwich, and a dinner by the Lord Mayor of London was himself a guest. Besides there were innumerable private dinners where delegates met and intimate many of the leaders of the British public life visits to the industrial establishments usually were accompanied by luncheons or dinners. English hospitality is famous, and it was lavished on the gathering of journalists that make up the British press.

Went to Hever Castle Nor was the Conference "all work and no play" in the sense that sightseeing was confined to industrial plants and Commonwealth problems, and other interests of them. Hever Castle the beautiful country home of their much beloved President, Col. the Hon. J. J. Astor, and of his charming wife, Lady Violet Astor. Lady Astor, by the way, is a daughter of Lord Minto, one of the former Governors of Canada, and had spent several years of her youth in Ottawa. Hever Castle was the home of Anne Boleyn, one of the ill-starred wives of Henry VIII. The castle, which is filled with historical art treasures, had recently been visited by some of them.

While we were there, Mr. Winston Churchill, who lives nearby, dropped in to have luncheon with us, and treated us to a half hour of "off the record" frank speech, followed by some informal conversation.

Historic Places From a Tourist Standpoint Then there were visits to Shakespeare's home (and Hugh Savage's birthplace) at Stratford-on-Avon where a special presentation of Love's Labour's Lost was put on for the benefit of the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre; and to the Burns country and memorials at and around Alloway. A short visit to York gave time for only a cursory inspection of the great Minster and of the marvels of the Treasurer's Museum, new to most of us was Temple Newsum, an historic old country house where Lord Darnley, husband of Mary Queen of Scots, was born; lately owned by Lord Halifax, purchased by the City of Leeds, and developed along some of what might be called art galleries and museum. In passing, it may be remarked how great is the attraction to tourists of such historical shrines. The historical is, in fact, the chief drawing card of the United Kingdom, upon which they count to develop a lucrative tourist business when travel conditions return to normal. This does not minimize the beauties of the English landscapes and of the Scottish hills. It does contain a lesson for Canadians, as to the value of their own historic background from a tourist standpoint.

Sermons and Addresses Even our religious life was not overlooked. There were special services for the Imperial Press party in St. Giles' Edinburgh, Presbyterian central cathedral, and in Westminster Abbey. On both occasions the sermons were addressed to the Press party in particular. In the Abbey Canon Marriott argued that Christianity was practical and the Sermon on the Mount attainable in an ideal but contended that compromise between actuality and idealism was necessary and allowable in a world which had not yet accepted these standards. On this basis he delivered a powerful vindication of the record of the British Empire.

The delegates listened to many excellent addresses. Indeed, the general standard of the speaking was remarkably high. One of the most striking was delivered by the Earl of Selkirk, successor of the Scottish peer, who had a hand in the early settlement of Manitoba. Speaking at Prestwick, Britain's chief overseas aerodrome, he made the striking remark: "Many political problems are, in fact, insoluble."

In Lighter Vein All the speeches were not in serious vein. Some of the partook of the "after dinner" variety. Perhaps the most sparkling delivery of this type was made by Mr. B. Mount Jones, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Leeds, in the course of which he got off this jingle, ascribed to a mother with a pair of eligible spinsters. Probably it will do service for the delegates in many parts of the world, since it stuck in their memories—and was frequently repeated.

I have two girls; they're a couple of pearls. What could a fond mother want more. But I see no sign Of a couple of swine To cast those two pearls before.

Mention of the after dinner speeches would not be complete, however, without reference to the address in which Sir Francis Low, editor of the Times of India, thanked the officers of the Army, Navy and Air Force for their conduct of the European battlefields tour. The occasion was the final dinner of the tour in the banquet hall of the Atlantic Hotel in Antwerp, which is being used as an officers' club. It was the most graceful and most gracious "vote of thanks" to which the writer has ever listened—and certainly did the Press party proud.

Educational Institutions We had a couple of glimpses at British educational institutions. One was the Borough Polytechnic in London, a technical institution carrying on in spite of the damage sustained from bombing in which five thousand students receive training in a wide variety of trades. The visitors were particularly intrigued by some of the confessions in the department known as the Bakery School. At Manchester, we spent an afternoon in the University, a larger part of the time in the remarkable Dental School, which has accommodation for 170 to 180 students, and for 80,000 to 90,000 patients, attendance per annum. We also went through the science department, and saw the simple quarters in which Sir Ernest Rutherford carried out his brilliant researches into radio active transformations, the electrical structure of matter and the nature of the atom.

Under this heading, perhaps also should be mentioned a visit to Homewood, the fine country estate where Mr. Arthur Rank is producing "cinema" pictures, some of which are expected to reach Canada in increasing numbers. There the party was introduced to the technique of "shooting" moving pictures. We were told that if the shooting covered a foot of film in a day it was considered satisfactory progress.

British Railway Travel Travelling sides through England and into Scotland, we learned to appreciate the luxury comfort of British first class trains, the smooth speed at which they cover the ground and the courtesy and attentiveness of the officials and crew.

When the battlefield tour was over, about forty of the delegates accepted an invitation from the French government to visit Paris. They report a most enjoyable, but somewhat strenuous, couple of days spent in the gay and beautiful French capital. One of our writers had returned to London, and was not with the party, he cannot give any details.

Valued Personal Friendships The final joy and satisfaction derived from the Imperial Press Conference was the association developed among our fellow craftsmen from all parts of the Empire. It was a gratifying pleasure to learn from Australian and New Zealand delegates of the deep desire to have an African Nationalist declare that India bears no ill will or resentment towards Great Britain; to hear from the lips of Miss Strickland, our own woman delegate, the inside story of Malia's brave defence; to have a native Sinhalese assure us that in Ceylon there is contentment with her treatment in the Empire; to listen to the editor of Le Canada declare "there'll always be an England," and pay tribute to British fortitude and leadership; to have an African say that the Dutch element in South Africa realise the advantages of Imperial connection and have no desire to break from the Commonwealth; to have friendly delegates from the West Indies plead for closer relations with Canada; to be brought into close and intimate contact with the British Press and its leading personalities; not to forget the new friendships formed with members of our own Canadian Press. It made us feel that we belong to a great family, and the prevailing sentiment among all the delegations was that the ties that bind the British Empire together should be tightened and strengthened. As, with regret and yet with a certain yearning for home, we said good-bye to our new-found friends and close comrades of a month, there echoed back from schoolboy days the lines:

Like flossam on the ocean's breast We meet and greet with fond endeavour.

A moment on the same wave's crest, The wave divides, we part forever. Yet the Canadian delegates trust it will not be "forever" but that we shall meet many of the friends we made in London when the next Imperial Press Conference is held in Canada in 1950.

"Guess-Again Desserts"

The age-range of the family may be from six to sixty but it makes little difference, since all are interested in the dessert course. That atmosphere of suspense and "what's-coming-next" has given it a touch of glamour. Some times when the enthusiasm of the junior members of the family can be restrained no longer, you'll hear them ask—"what's for dessert?"

It has been said that the dessert course determines the success of the meal. It should create a lingering sense of satisfaction. To do this, the meal must be well-balanced. Never choose the dessert course without casting your eye in the courses which have preceded it. If the main course has been light, then round out the meal with a rich, steamed pudding. Contrast in colour, which makes for attractive appearance, may be achieved by the type of sauce with the pudding—e.g. if pudding is dark, serve a light-coloured sauce or vice-versa.

The home economists of the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture have a few pointers, which will help you to produce a light, feather-weight steamed pudding—they need never be heavy. Such puddings are always a treat on cold, wintry days.

Greetings For 1947

I wish to extend to the ratepayers, and their families, of the Township of Godmanchester a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

SOUTHERN MOLASSES PUDDING

1 egg 2 tablespoons sugar 3 tablespoons melted fat 1/2 cup light molasses 1 cup sifted pastry flour or 1 cup less 2 tbsps. sifted all-purpose flour 1/4 teaspoon salt 1 teaspoon baking soda 1/2 cup boiling water Beat egg, add sugar gradually and continue beating until light. Add fat, molasses and blend well. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with water. This batter will be quite thin. Fill large, well-greased mould or individual moulds 2/3 full. Cover with wax paper and steam, large mould 1 hour; individual moulds 30 minutes. Six servings.

CRUMB PUDDING

1/2 cup molasses 1/3 cup sugar 3 tablespoons melted fat 1 egg 1/2 cup sifted pastry flour or 1/2 cup less 1 tbsp. all-purpose flour 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg 1 teaspoon cinnamon 1/4 teaspoon cloves 1/4 teaspoon allspice 1 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup fine, dry, bread crumbs-tossed 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk 1 cup raisins, dates or figs, chopped Combine molasses, sugar and melted fat. Add well-beaten egg. Sift together the flour, spices, baking powder and baking soda. Add bread crumbs and mix. Add dry ingredients and milk alternately. Add chopped fruit. Fill large, well-greased mould or individual moulds 2/3 full. Cover with wax paper and steam—large mould 1 1/2 hours; individual moulds 45 minutes. Six-eight servings.

BUTTERMILK PUDDING SAUCE 1 1/2 cups buttermilk 1/3 cup sugar 1/8 teaspoon salt 3 tablespoons flour—blended with cold water 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla Mix together the buttermilk, salt and flour. Cook in double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened. Do not beat buttermilk before adding flour—otherwise it will curdle. Add flavouring. This sauce has a delicious, unusual flavour. Six servings.

Price Control and Rationing Notes

This column is conducted under the supervision of the Women's Regional Advisory Committee to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Q.—When I am desirous of going into the candy business, do I have to get a special quota of sugar? And how do I do it?

A.—Any one intending to make candy for commercial purposes should make application to the Sugar Administration through the nearest W.P.T.B. office for a sugar quota. If you are successful in getting this, you then make application for a license in order to sell the candy.

Q.—Is there a ceiling price on plain milk sold at a soda fountain? A.—Yes. The ceiling price for regular milk sold at a soda fountain is ten cents for 10 fluid ounces.

Q.—Is it true that if I make a purchase on the 28th of any month that will now be considered as being made at the first of the following month? A.—Quite true. Recently a ruling was brought in by the Prices Board that all purchases made on a charge account basis after the 25th of any month may be considered as having been made on the 1st day of the following month.

Q.—What is the ceiling price of Grade A turkeys? A.—The ceiling price to the consumer of Grade A turkeys is 49c.
