CANADIAN DESPATCHES.

The Coming Exhibition—Personal—The Distribution Question—A Letter from a Crank.

OTTAWA, September 17.—Arrangements have been made for a post office at the exhibition grounds during fair week.

Prof. Tanner, of London, Eng., is in the city.

Rev. Mr. Huleatt, of London, Eng., is in the city, proposing to present him with a testimonial in recognition of his past services in behalf of the community at large.

The troops at the infantry school turn out for a march frequently with their superb band. Their neat and soldierly appearance elicit praise from all quarters.

QUEBEC, September 17.—A heavy thunder and wind storm visited the city this afternoon. The wind was so strong that it completely demolished the pavilion used in connection with the Dime Museum. Fortunately the performance had ended a short time previously and all the spectators had left. Another violent storm visited the city again to-night when hail-stones fell to a depth of half an inch in several places surrounding the city.

The Mercury of this evening is the authority for the following:—It is reported that one Duchene, of Bout de Isle, is wrongfully detained at the Beauport Asylum. It appears that Mr. Mousseau gave an order one Sunday last winter to have the supposed lunatic confined in the asylum.

An investigation commenced this morning at the Police court, before Judge Chaveau, into the mysterious disappearance of Bellevue, the supposed victim of the recent tragedy at Levis.

A Lumber Firm Falls—The Presbyterian Church—Farmers' Day at the Exhibition—Beckers' Association—Mechanics' Institute in Ontario—A Scotch Minister Called—The Governor-General in Toronto—Death of a Well-known Clergyman.

TORONTO, September 17.—A meeting of the creditors of the lumber firm of S. S. Mutton & Co., has been called. The liabilities are heavy. The assets are not yet ascertainable. The direct cause of the trouble lies in certain of the firm's notes going to protest while in the hands of the Standard Bank, which is said to be heavily interested. Last year the firm was stated to be worth $70,000, with $17,000 liabilities.

A conference of ministers and elders from the different Presbyterian churches commenced on Monday and concluded this afternoon. The object was to discuss the best means of promoting the church's interests spiritually. Various subjects were discussed to that end, many new points of special interest and value to church workers being brought out. A committee was appointed to arrange for calling a similar conference next year.

This was farmers' day at the exhibition and the attendance was almost equal to that of yesterday. Up to and including yesterday the receipts looked up $1,758, being $351 in excess of last year's receipts for the same period.

At the annual meeting of the Ontario Beekeepers Association to-night, Dr. Thomas, of Streetsville, was elected President; S. G. Petrie, of Belmont, 1st Vice-President; A. McKnight, of Owen Sound, 2nd Vice-President; Secretary—Treasurer, Jacob Spence, Toronto. Executive Committee—D. A. Jones, Beeton; E. C. Campbell, Cayuga; S. Webster, Doncaster; Frank McPherson, Beeton; P. C. Dempsey, Trenton.

The annual meeting of the Association of Mechanics Institutes of Ontario, was held to-night, when after a prolonged discussion it was decided to give the system of scientific and literary lectures another trial. The following officers were elected:—President, Otto Klotze, Preston; Vice-President, Rev. Father Harris, Newmarket; Secretary—Treasurer, Wm. Edwards, Toronto; executive—T. P. Rowan, Galt; A. Morton, Wingham; W. C. Polson, Kingston; A. H. Manning, Trenton. Seventy-five delegates were present.

The congregation of St. James Square Presbyterian Church met to-night and decided upon a unanimous call to Rev. John Smith, of Wallace Great Church, Bewick-on-Tweed, Scotland, the stipend to be $4,000 per annum.

The Governor-General was this morning presented with an address from the Anglican Synod by a deputation headed by Bishop Sweetman, to which His Excellency replied in felicitous terms. Afterwards His Excellency paid an informal visit to the Exhibition Grounds and was piloted by the President and Vice-President, returning from there he drove to Woodbine where the artillery competition was going on and remained there for about an hour. Coming back to the city he joined Lady Lansdowne and the other members of the Vice-Regal party to attend a garden party given in their honor by Sir David and Lady McPherson. In the evening the whole party drove to the Exhibition Grounds and viewed the pyrotechnical display of Prof. Pain, of London, Eng.

FRANCE AND CHINA.

Defeat of the Chinese on the Min River with Great Loss.

What Courbet Will Do.

SHANGHAI, September 17.—Two thousand French troops landed to-day at Kin-pai on the Min river below Foo Chow and attacked the Chinese. The latter were defeated with heavy loss and are retreating. The fight was desperate. The French vessels were largely outnumbered, but the shells from the French men-of-war did such effective execution that the Chinese were soon compelled to abandon the works and, becoming dismayed at the onslaught of their land forces, retreated up the river in confusion. It is expected that the French will entirely rid the river Min of Chinese soldiers from his mouth to the arsenal so as to prevent in future such mistakes by the Chinese as the killing of Lieutenant Hubbard of the British warship Zephyr.

The Chinese Peace Party Defeated.

PEKIN, September 17.—The nominee of the war party has been appointed to act in conjunction with Li Hung Chang, Viceroy of Petchili, who rests under suspicion. Li Hung Chang has thus to share his office with a hostile colleague. It is believed this indicates the downfall of the great leader of the peace party. The Chinese have stopped the supplies of coal for the British gunboat Merlin.

An Important Strategic Point.

SHANGHAI, September 17.—Admiral Courbet's squadron has been cruising about Chusan Islands. It is thought Courbet may make this island his headquarters during his operations in the Yang Tze river. The islands are of great strategic importance but the malaria there is of a deadly character.

EGYPT.

Wolsey's Camel Corps Ready To Start.

Another Defeat of the Rebels.

The Camel Corps Complete.

CAIRO, September 17.—Wolsey's men are volunteering eagerly for the camel corps, more than the required number having offered themselves. The steamer Massifhir has successfully passed the second cataract of the Nile.

Another Defeat of the Rebels.

SEKIM, September 17.—Two thousand men of the friendly Amarr tribe yesterday attacked the Haddendowas, and after an engagement of four hours defeated them, killing seventy and capturing many arms and camels. The Amarrs had thirty killed and wounded.

THE CHOLERA.

Extending Time for Checks.

ROME, September 17.—The Minister of Commerce has telegraphed the president of the Bank of Naples and other banks throughout Italy suggesting an extension of time for the payment of checks and other obligations maturing during the cholera scare.

Increasing at Marseilles.

LONDON, September 17.—The Daily News states that there were thirty deaths from cholera at Marseilles yesterday. This indicates an increase in the epidemic, which has daily been reported on the decrease.

MARSEILLES, September 17.—There were thirty deaths from cholera the past twenty-four hours in the South of France. There were eighteen deaths in the Department of the Eastern Pyrenees.

Decrease At Naples.

NAPLES, September 17.—There is a marked decrease in the number of cases of cholera and deaths. Great quantities of sulphur are still burnt to purify the atmosphere. The Hawaiian Prince died this morning.

In Spain.

MADRID, September 17.—Fifty-two fresh cases of cholera and twenty-six deaths are reported in Spain in the past twenty-four hours.

Religious Processions Prohibited.

QUEBEC, September 17.—A heavy thunder and wind storm visited the city this afternoon. The wind was so strong that it completely demolished the pavilion used in connection with the Dime Museum. Fortunately the performance had ended a short time previously and all the spectators had left. Another violent storm visited the city again to-night when hail-stones fell to a depth of half an inch in several places surrounding the city.

A Lumber Firm Falls—The Presbyterian Church—Farmers' Day at the Exhibition—Beckers' Association—Mechanics' Institute in Ontario—A Scotch Minister Called—The Governor-General in Toronto—Death of a Well-known Clergyman.

TORONTO, September 17.—A meeting of the creditors of the lumber firm of S. S. Mutton & Co., has been called. The liabilities are heavy. The assets are not yet ascertainable. The direct cause of the trouble lies in certain of the firm's notes going to protest while in the hands of the Standard Bank, which is said to be heavily interested. Last year the firm was stated to be worth $70,000, with $17,000 liabilities.

A conference of ministers and elders from the different Presbyterian churches commenced on Monday and concluded this afternoon. The object was to discuss the best means of promoting the church's interests spiritually. Various subjects were discussed to that end, many new points of special interest and value to church workers being brought out. A committee was appointed to arrange for calling a similar conference next year.

This was farmers' day at the exhibition and the attendance was almost equal to that of yesterday. Up to and including yesterday the receipts looked up $1,758, being $351 in excess of last year's receipts for the same period.

At the annual meeting of the Ontario Beekeepers Association to-night, Dr. Thomas, of Streetsville, was elected President; S. G. Petrie, of Belmont, 1st Vice-President; A. McKnight, of Owen Sound, 2nd Vice-President; Secretary—Treasurer, Jacob Spence, Toronto. Executive Committee—D. A. Jones, Beeton; E. C. Campbell, Cayuga; S. Webster, Doncaster; Frank McPherson, Beeton; P. C. Dempsey, Trenton.

GLEN HOUSE BREEZES.

September in the White Mountains—The Changing Foliage—Incidents of the Closing Season—The First Snow of the Autumn—The Various Railroad Routes—Canada as a Pleasure Ground—The Success of the Hotels, etc., etc.

GLEN HOUSE, N.H., Sept. 16.

September has come, bringing crisp and bracing breezes that cause the blood to bound more freely through the body and course through vein and artery in a life-giving current that infuses new vitality into the whole being.

Mr. J. Frost has already paid us several visits—and slyly rasped—kissed his favorite trees on the hill sides and in the village, until they—shamefaced—blush rosy red beneath his caresses.

And this adds new beauty to the massed foliage and the red and gold leaves of the maple flame out gloriously under the glowing sun and heighten the sombre hues of the forests among which they are sprinkled, into far greater beauty.

High up above us lie the towering peaks of the Presidential Range, and this morning their rugged outlines are softened by a slight covering of snow which has drifted down from the clouds during the night, and clothes the grim old mountains with a fleecy mantle of purest white.

The day is as clear as the clearest crystal, and so that objects miles away are now brought close to hand and points that at other times are barely discernible now stand out boldly and clear cut as cameo.

This is considered by true mountain epicures as the loveliest month of the year, and many remain until the first of October in order to enjoy September to its fullest extent.

And then, to add to the numbers already here, excursions keep pouring in and fill the hotels to overflowing, so that no lack of company is found here, and the walks and drives are thronged with careless tourists.

determined to make the most of their holiday. Many of these excursions come from the cities and the youths and maidens that compose them are fearfully green where mountain sights and sounds are concerned.

Among the excursionists who came here last week from Boston were a young fellow and his girl, she being under the chaperonage of a married sister.

He was one of those who would be know-alls, and was continually posing for effect that he might win recognition from his sweet-heart.

This was fatal to him and his hopes, and the result will show. The day after their arrival the two started out for a walk, and clambered around amongst the foot-hills and up Mt. Washington until they were tired, and then seated themselves on a convenient log to rest before beginning the descent.

DESCANTING ON EVERYTHING in general and nothing in particular, all that he said being uttered with a view of making himself out a hero in the eyes of his chaperone with what result was best known to herself.

But suddenly his, until then, uninterrupted flow of language was stopped as the girl laid her hand on his arm and whispered in an awe-struck manner: "Oh! Charlie, look at that lovely little squirrel!"

Charlie looked, and, true enough, slowly walking down the path, not far away, was a squirrel, black and white, with bushy tail curled high over his back, an innocent little creature it appeared, and one eminently adapted to adorn a lady's boulevard.

Charlie sprang to his feet, with a remark that it was the well-known striped squirrel that was peculiar to the White Mountains, and that he would steal up on it and endeavor to capture it for his lady, and this he proceeded to do, quietly approaching the slowly moving little "squirrel" until he arrived within reaching distance, when he gave it a sharp BLOW WITH HIS STICK, and the little creature curled up, apparently knocked insensible. "Gleefully exclaiming, 'I've stunned it! I've stunned it!' Charlie stooped to pick it up, when—

Had a cyclone struck the youth, or had Mr. Washington toppled over into Tucker's ravine, he would not have been more astonished, while the circumstance was blue with language that was more sulphurous than polite and filled with an odor that certainly was not wafted from Ceylon's happy isle.

The girl was in hysterics, Charlie with rage, while the "squirrel" after looking around in placid astonishment, sauntered off down the mountain where he evidently had other engagements.

NOTHING BUT PRAISE to bestow upon all of them, this being the result of enterprise, excellent management and thorough equipment.

The three principal and favorite hotels in the White Mountains—the Glen, Fabian and Profile houses—have all done remarkably well during the past season, and have been so excellently and admirably kept that their proprietors and managers have made thousands of friends and won glowing encomiums from public and press.

At the Fabian House, where I took tea a few evenings ago, I was seated at the table with two English gentlemen and an English lady, who were in ecstasies over the table, everything being so neatly served, so piping hot and so thoroughly palatable and appetizing.

The remarks they were addressed to each, real, and at the St. Louis in Montreal, and as for them, they are young, pretty and wealthy, they will no doubt meet with a warm reception, and your Canadian gallants will have an opportunity to secure rich and pretty wives among the number.

WILL THEY DISARM?

It is stated, and with an appearance of truth, that one of the reasons of the meeting of the Emperors is to arrange for a general European disarmament, or at least a very considerable reduction in the present enormous armaments which the great nations of the Continent are obliged to maintain.

Standing Army and Navy. Austro-Hungary..... 267,811 $ 67,165,000 German States..... 449,257 119,250,000 Russia..... 971,771 168,300,000

These are large figures, but they only relate to matters on a peace footing and but feebly represent the actual condition of the empires in question. Austria professes to be able to bring into the field 1,080,000 men in case of war, Germany 1,770,000, and Russia 2,430,000 men.

To maintain these armies conscription has to be resorted to and three years or more in the army, spent by every able-bodied man. In Austria military service for three years in the army is compulsory on every man of 20 years and upwards, and no substitutes are allowed.

But on Tuesday last it was proved by the evidence of Lynam himself, of a neighbor Mrs. Peters, of Mr. Peters and of Mrs. Lynam's two children that there was no delusion about the matter. The testimony of all these witnesses agreed in every particular with Mrs. Lynam's except one. Mrs. Lynam said that on that occasion she saw her two children and spoke to them. The children said that they were there and spoke to their mother.

THE MOWAT RECEPTION. The reception given to the Premier of Ontario in Toronto on Tuesday was magnificent. Delegates from all parts of the Province assembled to do him honor.

There are very few unprejudiced persons in the Dominion, no matter to what party they may belong, who will not cheerfully admit that the Hon. Oliver Mowat deserved the ovation, splendid as it was.

But if the case of the three Empires is bad that of some of the other European states is even worse. Italy, a comparatively poor country, is maintaining a standing army of 736,500 men and has piled up a debt which is very large in proportion to the resources of the country.

matter briefly, is maintaining standing armies to the number of 3,860,000 or with reserves amounting to 12,450,000 men, which are maintained at a cost of $800,000,000 annually.

Few people, however, will place implicit faith in the statement that the three Emperors are about to disarm. A disarming to be efficacious, must include France and Italy, neither of which has been called in to assist in the deliberations of the three Emperors.

THE VALUE OF MEDICAL TESTIMONY. It was seen in the Lynam case that it is very easy for even professional men to make a very grave mistake in a most important matter.

That the Reformers of Ontario took a wide and patriotic view of Mr. Mowat's efforts to assert the rights of the Province whose Government he leads will be seen by the following extract from their address:—"As citizens of this Province we desire on the occasion of your return home to express our great gratification on the successful result of your able and masterly advocacy of our territorial interests before the highest court open to us in the British Empire, and to convey to you our admiration and gratitude for the faithful, courageous, and skilful manner in which, during the last four years, you and your colleagues have guarded and upheld the interests of Ontario throughout the dispute now, mainly through your exertions, so happily ended in the confirmation by Her Majesty on the advice of her Privy Council of the right and title of this Province to a territory as great as the whole of her undisputed area."

It may be that narrow-minded partisans will continue to belittle Mr. Mowat and endeavor to lead the public to believe that the victory he has gained is of little importance, but all public spirited Canadians will readily give him the credit which is his due for having fought a good fight and for having done his country a service of very great importance from every point of view.

France has a standing army of 495,000 men and a total force with reserves of 2,420,000 men, maintained at an annual cost of about $160,000,000, while the interest of the French debt incurred by wars and the payment of indemnities amounts to the enormous sum of $250,000,000. Burthened Europe, to put the assertion of provincial rights is broken when as a duty by the inhabitants of all the Provinces. It is the deep-seated conviction of the people of the Dominion generally that it is upon the preservation of those rights that the stability of the Confederation depends.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Letter from Rev. Mr. Northwick. To the Editor of THE HERALD: First, let me thank you for the kindness you have at once shown me in allowing me space in your paper, I suppose I am the rev. gentleman alluded to in A. Perry's letter of yesterday...

First, Mrs. Sheriff was condemned by the Magistrate of Hochelaga somewhere in the end of August, 1882, to serve a term in gaol. There I met her, heard of her case and in communication with the late Mr. Ibbotson, Recorder's chief clerk, he advised me to act for her in the settlement of her suit with the sheriff who had sold her house for foreclosure mortgage and which had been bought by Mr. Ibbotson...

My husband, in Chicago in 1873. Mrs. Hill, the late mistress of the gaol, kindly took Mrs. Sheriff to the "Home for Friendless Women" after she left the prison, and there I occasionally saw her in connection with the pension business. After she had been between two and three months in the Home, Mrs. Crane, President of the Institution, wrote to me enclosing the certificate of the medical adviser of the Home, Dr. Geo. W. Maylor, who says in the testimony which I hold that Mrs. Sheriff "is of unsound mind and liable to become at any time a dangerous person, and it is therefore expedient that she should be placed in a place for safe keeping..."

To the Editor of THE HERALD. In your issue of Saturday last you quote a paragraph from an Irish paper, the Tyrone Constitution, which stated that a letter from "A. S.," Montreal, arrived too late for manufacturers there to make arrangements for sending exhibits to the grand Dominion Exhibition to be held in Montreal. You ask what does it mean? and who will explain? Perhaps I am the proper person to give the following explanation, being the special correspondent in Canada for that journal.

When the Exhibition was first talked of, as well as at subsequent periods, I made the subject a special feature of my correspondence to my home papers, being led to believe that this Exhibition would express anything like the one attempted in Montreal, and, on the faith of such, I held out inducements to the Irish manufacturers to send some exhibits. I received communications asking me to send full particulars and a supply of entry forms. On the receipt of such I applied to the Secretary's office asking for the necessary documents, or if they preferred to send them to do, I giving them a list of the journals I represented. This, I was told, would be done. Some time after I was asked why I did not send on the information. I then came to the conclusion that I would procure a supply myself and send them, which, it now appears, arrived too late for any exhibits to be sent forward to be in time. One thing is certain, I am not to blame if Omagh or Londonderry manufacturers were not represented at the late Grand Dominion Exhibition of Canada, which was open to the world. Taking all things into account I am now rather satisfied they were not.

There does exist facts to prove that, even though most of us do not possess a well balanced mind, nevertheless, we are entitled to the same freedom as those who believe that nine-tenths of the people are cranks. So long as our violence does not tend to take away life, our slight insanity—at times—far less dangerous than the borrowings of capital, who, caught in the net of colossal robbery, and tried by able counsel, never bring forward the plea of insanity. Men, of certain filthy class, go about our cities, and under the cloak of religion, entice away youth, and even men, till overcome by their cunning style and means of furthering their brutal appetites, teach them a philosophy that brutalizes their conduct, unfit them for social and domestic happiness, and finally robs them of their better judgment. Are those people ever placed in duress? Are those people ever locked up in a mad house? Yet of the different species of madness, which is the worst? Does an ill-used wife, whose temper has been augmented by improper treatment, cope with a class of hounds that rob widows and orphans, seduce youth and destroy virtue? If, for instance, a wife has a natural bad temper, and that her mind is weak on certain points, is it the duty of a husband to place her in a mad house, give her another name and grow indifferent to the fact that she is in the society of born lunatics? Will this treatment improve her condition, and will this act lessen her fears? Such treatment as this would be a fearful giant brain of the wife, just as an outrage perpetrated on a certain high dignitary, many years ago, caused him to die a raving maniac. Under certain circumstances, conduct proves nothing, no more than sickness proves death, for as many times as a doctor has pronounced incurable, as many times has the curable contradicted family physician were being commented on. Since doctors fail to diagnose between heart, lungs and kidneys, it is plain their knowledge of brain force is just as vague as their ideas of infinite space. To prove a man's cleanliness is not at a time, when, under the influence of liquor, he is picked out of the gutter, nor is it consistent to suppose that, when a person is locked up, with a full knowledge that it was totally mad, and if there was an exception to this belief, then the one who battled with the double foe must needs be a mind, if properly trained, superior to the tenth who condemned the nineteenth. Doubtful insanity should not be put in the hands of specialists, no more than money should be invested on margins. To prove our origin we must not look to Darwin, no more than we prove our innocence we should place our case in the hands of the public executioner. To prove our sanity, according to certain doctors, few of us would escape their mania. Therefore it is evident that to place our future in the hands of ordinary men we can hardly dwell on the result without going mad.

Fearful of having trespassed too much on your valuable space, I must conclude with Yours very truly, LIONEL.

The Sunday School. To the Editor of THE HERALD. Such is the title your correspondent, "Protestant," gives to the church parade last Sunday. Allow me in a few words to show this individual that his remarks are lacking in reason and logic, when he can charge the Rev. Mr. Norton (by the selection of the text, "Let us alone that we may serve the Egyptians.") with a desire to bring Protestants back to the practice of desecrating the Lord's Day. And what right has "Protestant" to say that "Mr. Norton is responsible for drawing out thousands of idle men and women and children on our streets? Who told "Protestant" the "spectators" were idle people? He certainly shows crass ignorance or speaks falsely by saying the marching on the parade ground disturbed the Sunday Schools, for, as a fact, all the schools were dismissed before the men left the parade ground; and a further display of ignorance by saying the British were regulars, when, as a fact, they are volunteers.

As one who was present, I think Mr. Norton's sermon was exceedingly good; it was short and to the point. He spoke in a kind and brotherly manner, and was listened to with close attention. If "Protestant" is a man and possessed of a big heart he would feel glad that so many of our strong young men were within the walls of the Cathedral listening to the truths of the Gospel, which, I, suppose, professes to believe. Yours, ROYAL SCOT.

The Exhibition. To the Editor of THE HERALD. Sir—Allow me through your medium to call the attention of the authorities of the Exhibition to the necessity of some means being taken to stop the sale of will-disposed persons or jealous exhibitors from damaging the property of contending competitors. I bring pressed with business for the Exhibition generally, it caused me to be behind hand in sending my own exhibit in until too late for the judges. I put a notice to that effect on my exhibit, thinking it might be of use for advertisement, as recommended by the Secretary, which some one almost immediately took away, leaving my exhibit useless. Thinking that these things should be remedied, and hoping that some remedy may be arrived at for the future, I take the liberty of addressing you at this length, being aware of your great impartiality. F. HEWSON, 201 St. James St.

SPORTING INTELLIGENCE.

THE ST. JOHN'S REGATTA. We would direct the attention of our readers to the regatta to be held at St. John's, on the Richelieu, on Friday of this week, and promise those who attend it a good day's sport. McKay of Boston, and McDonald of Ottawa will compete for a purse of $1,000, and are the race for ground going practice week. The race for the championship of the Richelieu is as well as by competitors from Belleil and elsewhere. For the double sculls several first-class crews have entered, and there is every prospect of a most successful and enjoyable meeting.

The Richelieu. River at St. John's, Que., affords one of the best courses for boat racing in Canada, and it is a matter of surprise that it has not been more frequently utilized for this purpose. The river above the railway bridge is half a mile wide, and is free from any bar, perceptible, so that no particular knowledge of the course is needed. The surroundings, too, are beautiful, and we see no reason why an annual regatta at this point should not be one of the leading aquatic events of each season. The St. John's people are desiring themselves with a will in the present instance, and we trust will meet with such encouragement as will lead them to arrange for a meeting next year of all the leading scullers. They have all the natural advantages, fine river, good location, town easy of access, and with a little enterprise success is assured.

GAUDAUR WINS A RACE VICTORY. ORILLIA, Ont., Sept. 17.—The boat race between Charlie Gaudaur and Charlie Annis was rowed this evening at 6 o'clock. The wind, which had been blowing strongly all day, fell at about 5 o'clock and the water at 6 o'clock was in good condition. At 6.30 Mr. F. Gaffait, the referee, called the men into position and the start was given to go. Annis caught the water first, but Gaudaur, with a few powerful strokes, shot past him and at the end of the 100 yards was leading by a boat length. Passing to lead the race, Gaudaur was still improving his lead. At the turning buoy he was about 4 boat lengths ahead and was pulling with apparent ease, while Annis appeared to be laboring. On the home stretch Gaudaur settled down to work and gradually increased the distance between him and Annis. Nearing the winning buoy he put on a spurt and passed through six boat lengths ahead. Time, 13 minutes, 58 seconds.

The Wheel. THE GREAT MEET AT SPRINGFIELD. Springfield, Mass., September 17.—Another beautiful day, with little wind, greeted the assembled wheelmen in connection with the tournament was witnessed by an immense throng. All the streets through which the procession passed were packed with crowds anxious to see the sight. There were about 500 men in line, only half as many as there were last year. There were no hands in the procession, but two along the line gave concerts during its progress. Next to the Springfield Club the Meriden, Conn., Club had the largest number of men in line, namely, 25. There was a very large attendance at the races in the afternoon. The surprise of the day was the winning of the one mile professional race in the extraordinary time of 2.39, beating the English and American records; James was 2nd, Howell 3rd. Sellers beat Hendee in the slow time of 6.03. Sellers also won the half-mile in 1.18.

THE CHAMPIONSHIP MATCH. The date for the next match for the championship, between the Shamrocks and Toronto, has not been fixed yet. Saturday was the day. The Shamrocks have left the naming of the date to the Toronto, and the latter will certainly not name Saturday. They do not wish to fix the following Saturday, the 27th, either, as that is the day of the first championship games of the Athletic Association of Canada. The probability is that October 4th will be decided for the match.—Mail.

THE FOOTBALL CLUB. A match between the Victoria Football Club and the Standard Football Club will take place on Saturday, September 20 or 21. The former are a good team, and are expected to look to a brilliant success, and the latter are sure of success, and their team are twice the weight of the Victoria, but as for kicking the Victoria are not extra, although their practice on Wednesday was good, and also their backing. There were twenty to twenty-five in the last practice.

THE SACRED WHITE ELEPHANT IN A STORM AT SEA. The Voyage of the City of Chester. Among the passengers of the steamship City of Chester, which reached New York from Liverpool yesterday evening after a tempestuous voyage, was Henry Van Bell, well-known wine importer, of 1310 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia. "The voyage," said Mr. Van Bell, while conversing this morning with a Bulletin representative, "was full of incident. We left Liverpool on the afternoon of the 6th instant, having on board, besides the usual complement of passengers, four or five white elephants and a band of Soudan Arabs. Until we reached Queenstown the voyage was comparatively smooth. Just after leaving Queenstown on the 7th instant, the gale struck us, continuing without cessation until the 15th instant. Day and night the hurricane continued, dashing the waves mountain high and tossing the ship about as though she were but a cork. Sea after sea swept the deck, carrying away everything movable in their tempestuous fury. One seaman was washed overboard and was never seen again.

THE CANADIANS WIN THE INTERNATIONAL MATCH. The international cricket match was resumed at Philadelphia on Tuesday evening. It was short and to the point. He spoke in a kind and brotherly manner, and was listened to with close attention. If "Protestant" is a man and possessed of a big heart he would feel glad that so many of our strong young men were within the walls of the Cathedral listening to the truths of the Gospel, which, I, suppose, professes to believe. Yours, ROYAL SCOT.

THE CANADIANS VICTORS by 101 runs. As the old proverb says, it is a long lane that has no turning, and thanks to the pluck and enterprise of the Canadian Associations, a handsome win for Canada has at last been gained. Strange to relate, the team is the youngest one which ever represented Canada in any international contest. It is thus quite a feather in the caps of the youngsters who have thus turned the tide of high favor towards Canadian laurels in the cricket field. A BOURGEOISE ROMANCE.

Handsome Mme. Bayard, in her black dress and plainly braided hair, was sitting at her desk at the back of the shop, writing quietly in an immense brass-bound ledger, when her husband came home, after having done his commissions for the morning. He stopped on the threshold to grumble at his workmen for taking so long to unload a wagon from the Northern Railway, that was drawn up by the pavement, filled with a dozen barrels of glucose for the great chemist of the Rue Vieille du Temple.

time with the splash of the oars, with which her husband was rowing in his shirt sleeves. They dined in the same room, but he had lunched in; but this second meal was sadder; the night moths which came and buried themselves in the candles frightened the children, and Mme. Bayard, overcome with fatigue, had hardly strength to guess the simple riddles on her dessert plate.

No matter! They had had a good day, and when they came back in a first class car they felt they had done the thing thoroughly. Mme. Bayard, with her head leaning on her husband's shoulder, watched Leon and Norine, who had fallen asleep on the nurse's knees, and half asleep herself, whispered in a happy voice:

"We are doing a good action, Ferdinand, in taking in the poor little thing. And then she shall be a companion for Leon. They will be like brother and sister."

And so they grew up together. Those Bayards really were very worthy people. They made no difference between the humble orphan and their own beloved son, who was destined some day, under the firm of "Bayard & Son," to monopolize the rhubarb and engross castoreums, and they loved her as if she had really been their daughter, little Norine, who was as intelligent as she was dainty of body.

The nurse took two children now to the square of the Tour Saint-Jacques when it was fine, and in the evening at the family dinner table there were two high chairs side by side for the foster-brother and sister. M. and Mme. Bayard were not long finding out for that matter that Norine had a very good influence on Leon. She was quicker, more nervous and more teachable than the boy, who was lymphatic and heavy, as his father said, and she seemed to communicate something of her own lightness and flame to him.

"She shakes him up," said Mme. Bayard.

Since his foster-sister's arrival Leon had grown brighter and more animated every day. When they were old enough to learn to read Leon drove his mother to despair. He could not get on, but stuck over one of those alphabets with pictures, where the letter E is under an elephant and the letter Z under a zouave; but as soon as Norine, who had learned to spell very quickly and could read syllables already, came to his aid, the little fellow made wonderful progress. It was the same thing when they were both sent to a children's school kept by an old Miss Merlin in the Rue de l'Homme-Arme. According to the misleading prospectus sent out by Miss Merlin to the shopkeepers of the quarter that the establishment—that is to say, four brown-sticks in a sandal court—and it was there that on the first day in the play hour the innocent Leon broke out into cries of terror at seeing the mistress drive one of her knitting-needles into the front of her dress when she tried to interrupt her work for a moment. One of the big girls, who was sitting in the corner with the fool's cap on, explained this phenomenon to Leon and Norine, but all the same the boy could never get rid of an impression of superstitious terror when he was in the school mistress's presence. This terror would have paralyzed his childish faculties and prevented him from learning, if not for Miss Merlin's wand when she pointed to the map of Europe or the table of weights and measures if Norine had not been there to reassure and encourage him. From the beginning she was the best pupil in the school, and to the idle and backward Leon came a sort of fraternal counsel and affectionate teacher. At about four o'clock Mme. Bayard used to watch the children, whom the nurse had brought home to the shop, settle themselves by her glass bureau and then, opening a copy-book or a lesson book, would explain to Leon some exercise he had not understood, or make him repeat the imperfectly learned lesson.

"The good God reward us," Mme. Bayard would sometimes say to her husband at night, between the curtains. That little Norine is a treasure. So good and so happy working. I was listening to her, to-day, working with Leon. Only really think without her he would never have learned his multiplication table."

"Trust me, Mimi," replied Bayard; "I shall not forget. We are getting on very well; we will give her a dot and a dash for her, won't we, when she is old enough?"

(To be concluded.)

WONDERFUL KNIFE-THROWING PERFORMANCE.

An exchange thus describes the "im-paleant act," as it is called, performed by the Arabs now traveling with the great Forepaugh Show:—"Three of the Arabs, stripped bare to the waist, are fastened to a pine frame, with both arms extended and facing a dozen knife-throwers, who stand about twenty feet from their victim and hurl a shower of sharp-pointed glittering daggers at their bound comrades, the cold steel piercing the wooden plank above, below, and all around the motionless man, some of the daggers striking within a quarter of an inch of the bare, unmovable body of the Arab." Forepaugh will be here September 22 and 23.

LOCAL NEWS.

VERY MILD CIGARS—Just received from Havana several thousand fine cigars in Claro and Colorado Claro, which are the mildest made. Any gentleman requiring the same should call and select a box.

For drawing room, parlor, library, hall, boudoir and bedroom suits go to H. J. Shaw & Co's, 726 Craig street, where you will be sure to get suited.

For bedroom suits call at the warehouses of H. J. Shaw & Co., 724, 725, 726, 727, 728, 729, 730, 731, 732, 733, 734, 735, 736, 737, 738, 739, 740, 741, 742, 743, 744, 745, 746, 747, 748, 749, 750, 751, 752, 753, 754, 755, 756, 757, 758, 759, 760, 761, 762, 763, 764, 765, 766, 767, 768, 769, 770, 771, 772, 773, 774, 775, 776, 777, 778, 779, 780, 781, 782, 783, 784, 785, 786, 787, 788, 789, 790, 791, 792, 793, 794, 795, 796, 797, 798, 799, 800.

CREATION CIGARS—Five thousand of these new fine cigars just received from Havana, and will be selected at the Regal Tobacco Emporium and branch stores, 1385 St. Catherine street, at 3 for a quarter. The above named cigar is a very good fresh imported cigar, and is full value for the money.

CABINET MEETING—A meeting of the Provincial Cabinet will be held to-day. The Hon. J. G. Robertson arrived yesterday, and the Hon. Messrs. Taitton, Lynch and others were expected last evening or this morning.

BOY LOST—Mrs. Julia Kenny of 12 Devienne street, complained that Thomas Station last night at her son, Thomas, aged 11, was missing from home. When last seen he was dressed in light pantaloons and coat, gray stockings, Scotch cap and blue tie.

BENEFICENCE AND LAW.—The Irish Catholic Benevolent Society has been sued by Mrs. John Nolan for the weekly allowance due to her children from it, which amounts to $300. The Society contests the claim, saying that Mr. Nolan was not a regular qualified member of the Society at his death, and that he had not been a member for more than twelve months previously. Mr. Doutré represents the plaintiff and Mr. Doherty the defendant.

INVESTIGATION AT LONGUE POINTE.—Acting under instructions received from the local Government, Messrs. Desautels and Smith, Government inspectors, visited the above asylum for the purpose of making a special investigation of Mrs. Lynn's case. They also investigated the case of Mrs. Sherriff, first brought into public notice by Mr. Alfred Perry's letter to THE HERALD on Monday last. The inspectors did not conclude their investigation yesterday.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE.—The attendance at the High Schools this season is larger than ever before. At the High School of Montreal there are 200 pupils, 225 at the Preparatory High School, and 235 at the Girls' High School. Owing to the increased attendance at the Boys' High School, extra accommodation has had to be provided by the removal of the office of the School Commissioners' Accountant to the new Preparatory School building.

A QUESTION OF EXEMPTION.—The city has just entered an action against the Grey Nuns for $2,597.25 arrears of taxes on property owned by them at Point St. Charles. The Sisters, it is understood, will resist the claim on the ground of privileges granted them at the time of the cession of Canada by France to England. The Sisters further claim that this property is now being used by the Government for rifle ranges and other purposes, and that as such it is free from all municipal charges, inasmuch as the Government, which would be liable to pay the taxes, if there were any, is exempt.

THE LATE MR. CORSE.—The funeral of the late Mr. Norton B. Corse took place yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended. The services were held in his late residence No. 76 University street, and were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Wells and Rev. Dr. Wilkes. By the special request of the deceased there were no pall bearers. The chief mourners were his sons-in-law, Messrs. C. Mason, Mills, P. D. Dods, C. C. Clendinning, and his grandsons, Messrs. W. D. Dods and J. N. Dods. There were also among those present Messrs. Henry Lyman, H. N. F. Marshall, of Boston, and Mr. Perry. The Mechanics' Institute was represented, as was also the Citizens' Insurance Company, and both places were closed in the afternoon during the funeral.

HERE AND THERE.

Any subscriber of the Bell Telephone Co. can now be put in direct communication with any police or fire station in the city, by means of the new system of switches in the Fire Alarm Department of the city hall.

The Victoria Rifles have received notification that the High School building is needed for other purposes, and they are therefore required to vacate the building. Work has been commenced on the clock in the tower of the City Hall. It will probably be ready in about three weeks.

A man with a lantern was engaged on Bleury street, near Languecheterie, last night at 10 o'clock looking for a gold ring he had lost.

ORDINATION SERVICE.

Rev. Hector MacKenzie Inducted into Zion Church.

The ceremony of ordaining the Rev. Hector MacKenzie as pastor of Zion Congregational Church took place last evening, when a large congregation was present. The following gentlemen officiated at the ceremony: Rev. Dr. Jackson, Rev. Mr. Hall, of Kingston, Rev. Dr. Stevenson, Rev. Mr. Hill, of Calgary, Canada, Rev. K. Black, of Granby, and Rev. Mr. Barton, of Toronto. After the Rev. Dr. Jackson, who presided, had made the opening prayer, the Rev. Mr. Hall addressed a short discourse to the congregation. Dr. Stevenson then asked the usual questions of the candidate, after which the candidate made a declaration of his belief. The ordination prayer was made by Dr. Stevenson, and the ceremony of the laying on of hands was performed by the ministers present. The ceremony of extending the "right hand of fellowship" was then gone through by the Rev. Mr. Hill, of Calgary. The usual charge to the pastor elect, after which a short address was made by the Rev. Mr. Barton. The doxology was then sung, and the pronouncing of the benediction by the new pastor brought the proceedings to a close. Mr. McIntyre has been engaged in ministerial duties for six months previous to this in the city. He is a native of Manila, Ont., and graduated from Yale College.

At about half-past seven the Association again assembled, and the evening was spent splendidly at table, the banquet having been prepared by the well known caterer, Mr. Kabat. After justice had been done of fine quality, many toasts were proposed and responded to by Mr. Bergeron, M.P., Mr. Curran, M.P., and Aldermen Beausoleil, Dubuc and Tansey.

In the afternoon the City Band played the finest pieces of their repertoire, and at night a splendid orchestra furnished good music for dancing. The dancing was well patronized and kept up till eleven o'clock, when all returned to their respective homes highly pleased with their day's sport.

HOCHELAGA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The Annual Exhibition on the Exhibition Grounds Yesterday. This exhibition was held yesterday on the Exhibition Grounds at the Mile End, and was quite a success. The cattle were numerous and of fine quality. The horses were not very numerous but those exhibited were as fine if not finer than those exhibited at the late exhibition. The exhibition was carried through in fine style and great credit reflects on the committee of management. After all the prizes were awarded a splendid banquet was given to the exhibitors. The menu was all that could be desired and the guests enjoyed it greatly. Mr. and Mrs. Wiseman, who got up the dinner, deserve great praise for the way in which it was served. After the dinner was disposed of, many toasts were proposed and enthusiastically responded to. The men who were present in honor of the Queen and the Governor-General were heartily received. The toast to Hon. Louis Beaubien, the representative of the County of Hochelaga, was drunk in a manner which showed the esteem his constituents have for him. He responded briefly, saying that he meant to be at the exhibition more by pleasure than by duty, and the fine exhibit of the farmers of his county showed their prosperity and richness. He wished that the Counties of Hochelaga and Jacques Cartier would come to an understanding to have their Exhibition at the same time and on the same ground. He said he would like to see an Exhibition of the whole Island and would take place in the middle of it—the "great city" of Montreal. He said this Exhibition would be in many ways equal, if not superior to the Provincial Exhibition.

The next toast was to the judges who had been kind enough to come from all parts of the Province to witness and judge the exhibition. Some had come from L'Assomption, Chambly, Jacques Cartier, &c. This toast was received with great applause and Mr. Graham was asked to answer it. This gentleman said he did not expect to witness such a fine exhibition, that the cattle shown was superior to anything he had seen at a county exhibition, and that the farmers should be proud of their exhibition in 1884. He said he had risen to speak; he had also risen to tell the truth. He had been judge of the butter and cheese and in this class the exhibition was not what it might be expected to be. The exhibits were not numerous enough and the butter was of an inferior quality. He thanked the gentlemen who had invited him and hoped he would be present at the next Exhibition.

The next toast was to Mr. Brodie, Secretary of the Hochelaga Show, and to Messrs. Stevenson and Leclerc, Secretaries of the Permanent Provincial Exhibition Committee. This toast was received with immense applause, and showed the great respect and consideration these gentlemen enjoy among the country farmers.

Mr. Brodie responded to this toast, saying he was sorry Mr. Leclerc could not be present at the Exhibition, and he supposed he had good reason for his absence. He said this was the best exhibition ever given by the farmers of the County of Hochelaga, and the cattle and horses exhibited were far superior to those exhibited at the last Provincial Exhibition, and this all the visitors acknowledged. He hoped that the country farmers would continue to be as active as they are now, and that shortly the farmers of Hochelaga would surpass all others.

Messrs. Graham, Scott, Potter, and many others were asked to speak, which they did in flattering terms, after which the company separated.
