TWO COLLISIONS WITHIN 24 HOURS

BANGOR SCHOONER WILL FINISH HER VOYAGE IN TOW MINUS SAILS

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Oct. 24.—After figuring in two collisions within 24 hours, the schooner William H. Clifford, from Norfolk, for Bangor, will finish her voyage in tow minus a large part of her sails and rigging.

The schooner was at anchor in Vineyard Sound near Gay Head last night, when she was run into by the schooner Hattie H. Barbour from St. John, N. B., for New York, with a cargo of lumber. The Barbour's bowsprit and all her head gear were carried away and she was towed to New Bedford by the revenue cutter Gresham.

With her mizzen rigging and rail damaged, the William H. Clifford proceeded for this port under sail, but late this afternoon, off West Chop, she collided with the five-masted schooner Margaret Haskell, losing has spanker boom, sail and rigging and sustaining other damage.

The Haskell, which was at anchor at the time, had her jibboom and head gear carried away. She is bound from Norfolk for Boston and will tow to her destination.

GAS OVEN EXPLODES SIX BEING KILLED

MORE THAN A SCORE OF OTHERS ARE INJURED; SOME MAY DIE.

New York, Oct. 24—A gas oven in which metal was being enamelled on the top floor of a six story factory building in Canal Street exploded today, killing six persons. More than a score of others were injured or burned in the fire that succeeded the explosion and some of them may die. The identity of the dead was not known, many hours after the bodies had been removed to the morgue. Three of the killed were women. All were workers in the building.

Searchlights played on the ruins tonight while firemen sought for more bodies which it was thought might have been overlooked when entry into the building was effected after the flames had been brought under control, but at 9 o'clock, after six bodies had been removed, it was believed all the dead had been found. The District-Attorney's Office began an investigation. About 200 persons were employed in the building, which was occupied by manufacturers of machinery, mirrors, clothing and other goods.

The escape of some of the trapped workers was spectacular. With their clothing ablaze they climbed out through flame-swept windows on to fire escapes and leaped to the sidewalks. Many were badly injured by the drop from upper floors. Spectators beat out the flames from their clothing and saved them from burning to death.

SCHOONER DAMAGED

Saunderstown, R. I., Oct. 24.—The British schooner Annie M. Parker limped into this port today with part of the sails and deck load of lumber gone after a tempestuous voyage of 35 days from Clarabella, Fla. The vessel is bound for St. John, N. B., where she is owned.

The Parker bore the brunt of two hurricanes, the worst weather, Captain Rafuse declared, he had ever experienced during his 35 years of seafaring life.

LAVIGUEUR MOTION SEEMS UNPOPULAR

MAJORITY OF ALDERMEN ARE AGAINST CHANGE OF REPRESENTATION.

The City Council was again entertained last night with a discussion of Ald. Lavigueur's motion to have the proposition of changing the present system of representation to that of a commission of four and a mayor, the city to be divided into two wards with two commissioners for each. Referred to the Committe on Amendments to the City Charter.

After a long discussion on the question it was finally decided, on motion of Ald. Trudel, seconded by Ald. Morin, that Ald. Lavigueur's motion be amended by instructing the committee, not to study the question, but to oppose all changes in the present system of representation.

In the course of the debate on the question, Ald. Lockwell expressed his surprise on such a motion being made in Quebec. Commissions were usually resorted to where they were a necessity, and he referred to Montreal and Ottawa. Pointing out the improvements that had been made within the past four years throughout the city in all branches of administration, he asked if a commission would have done any better. The city was in full prosperity and he knew of no reason for such a change which certainly had not been asked by the public.

Ald. Morin pointed out, as chairman of the Committee on Amendments to the City Charter, that the question could not be studied in time this year to be included in the amendments to the charter, as all the amendments had to be filed on Monday.

Ald. Lavigueur maintained that it was his right to have the question studied by the committee, and he stated that he had the assurance that a member of the Legislature would propose the change when the Quebec bill came up before the Private Bills Committee of the Legislative Assembly.

Ald. Fiset came forward in strong terms and speaking at considerable length said in conclusion that the system of representation might have its defects, but it was preferrable to the proposed change.

Ald. Trudel opposed the change, while Ald. Cannon felt that it should be studied by the committee.

The question was settled by Ald. Trudel's amendment to the main motion, which has already been explained.

The Proposed Abattoir.

The report of the Market Committee on the new abattoir, which was published in yesterday's Chronicle, was read and left on the council table for a week.

A letter from the Sisters of Limoilou Convent was read opposing the request of Mr. E. T. Nesbitt to open a new street in Limoilou between the church and the convent, leading to his mill.

ARRESTED IN MONTREAL.

Montreal, Oct. 24—Albert James Boyd, who maintained a suite of offices in the Transportation Building, under the name of Boyd & Company, bankers and brokers, was arrested today and locked up at police headquarters. He was taken into custody by Inspector Cowan and Detective McCann on a warrant charging him with having stolen 98 shares of Dominion Glass Company's stock, valued at $9,800. The warrant for the arrest of Boyd was issued by Judge Lafontaine on complaint of Alexander M. McGregor, president of the Dominion Glass Company.

Boyd said he was 35 years of age and had been in Montreal about six months. He formerly resided in Philadelphia. Boyd said his home was in Winchester, Va.

The police have been watching Boyd for some time and claim his correct name is J. A. Boyce, and that his home is in Dallas, Texas. He will be arraigned tomorrow morning.

PREMIER LAYS CORNER STONES AT ST. MALO AND AT LIMOILOU

Officially Inaugurates Works on Transcontinental Workshops and Draining of St. Charles River—Thousands of Workmen Brave Nasty Weather to Honor the Prime Minister Who Leaves Today

The Right Hon. R. L. Borden, Prime Minister of Canada, and his Cabinet colleagues, Hon. Messrs. Hazen and Pelletier, had another busy day in Quebec yesterday, inspecting public works in progress and laying corner stones, and at the same time by their close and unassuming contact with the public, capturing the hearts and confidence of the people. Yesterday morning the Prime Minister and his colleagues proceeded to St. Malo, where he laid the corner stone for the new Transcontinental workshops, and in the afternoon, went to Limoilou, where he presided over the ceremony of placing papers, coins, etc., in a box, to be deposited in the concrete work in connection with the St. Charles River works.

Hon. R. Rogers, the Minister of Public Works, who is manifesting a sympathetic interest in the welfare of the Ancient Capital, and is directly interested in the construction of the Levis dry dock, and damning of the River St. Charles, did not participate in the inspection made yesterday, and the ceremonies of today, for the reason that he received an urgent business call from Ottawa on Thursday last, and left the same night by the 11.30 p.m. train for the Dominion Capital. But before his departure, he expressed his deep interest in all he saw in connection with the work for the development of the port of the city of Quebec, and said he would always keep in touch with the interests of Quebec, which had before it a very bright future.

Inspection of Harbor Works.

At nine o'clock yesterday morning the Hon. Mr. Borden, Hon. Messrs. Hazen and Pelletier left the Chateau Frontenac, accompanied by Mr. Wm. Price, president of the Quebec Harbor Commission; Messrs. A. Gravel and J. B. E. Letellier, associate Harbor Commissioners; Mr. St. George Boswell, chief engineer and manager; Mr. J. M. McCarthy, C.E., and others, and drove to the Louise docks to inspect the work done there by the Harbor Commission, since they came into office less than one year ago. The Prime Minister and his colleagues, were escorted over the docks and were shown the work accomplished, building of all sheds, laying of tracks, installation of locomotive and construction plant, and the work progressed on the construction of the new bulkhead pier in the St. Charles river.

An inspection of the new grain elevator being built for the Harbor Commission by the Canadian Stewart Company, Limited, and its rapid erection was a revelation to the visitors. The new freight depots built, and the work going on along the river frontage in the vicinity of the Customs House, was next inspected, as well as the work in progress at Lampson's Cove, Mr. Borden, seemed to take a deep interest in all he saw, and on his return to the Chateau Frontenac, did not hesitate to express his pleasure and surprise.

In conversation with a Chronicle reporter the Prime Minister said he was deeply impressed with his visit to the Harbor Commission work. The work accomplished by the Commission during the short time in office, was simply marvellous, and he wondered if the citizens of Quebec realized what had been done by the Commission for the development of the port of Quebec. The Commissioners and their engineering staff, said Mr. Borden, demonstrate a great deal of energy by the results. I was among other things, deeply impressed by the advancement of the new concrete grain elevator, only commenced last spring, which has simply grown during the summer, also by the great change made on the river front in vicinity of the Customs House, where the new freight depot is built and occupied by the South shore railways, as well as the accommodation the changed conditions offer for the handling of freight, in connection with the Quebec and Levis Ferry Company car ferry service, that makes it possible to have cars landed on the Quebec side of the river, that must be a great convenience to the shippers.

Laying Corner Stone of St. Malo Workshops.

The Chateau Frontenac rotunda was crowded with prominent citizens yesterday afternoon, when the Prime Minister and his Cabinet colleagues returned from their visit to the Harbor Commission works, who were waiting to escort the distinguished visitors to St. Malo, to lay the corner stone in connection with the construction of the Transcontinental Railway workshops.

It was 11 o'clock when nearly fifty automobiles, filled with citizens, left the Chateau Frontenac to proceed to St. Malo, and one of the features of this imposing function was the pres-

U.S. GOVERNMENT PREPARES NOTE FOR THE NATIONS

Any Intereference In Mexico Will Be Regarded As Unfriendly.

AWAIT THE ELECTION.

Recognition Only of a Government Founded On Law and Order.

Washington, Oct. 24.—The United States government is preparing to notify the nations of the world generally that any interference in Mexican affairs will be regarded as unfriendly to this government.

WILL DEFINE POLICY.

President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Counsellor John Bassett Moore of the State Department have exchanged ideas on what the proclamation to the world should express. It will be communicated to foreign governments everywhere in line with the policy established earlier of keeping other nations informed of every step taken in its handling of the Mexican problem.

The proclamation or note also will serve, it is understood, as an explicit definition of the policy of the United States toward the de facto authorities in Mexico, reiterating the principle that recognition can be given on this hemisphere only to governments founded on law and order.

Earlier today it was expected that it would be only a matter of a few hours when the proclamation would be made public but tonight it was practically decided to hold the matter in abeyance for several days, at least until after the elections in Mexico next Sunday. Two things, it is known, have contributed to the determination of the government to define its policy—the presentation by Sir Lionel Carden, the British minister to Mexico, of his credentials immediately after Huerta had proclaimed himself dictator, and the despatch of several war vessels to Mexican waters.

The British embassy here today at the direction of the Foreign Office officially advised Secretary Bryan that the British government pronounced as unauthentic the now famous interview credited to Sir Lionel, expressing the view that the United States did not understand conditions in Mexico.

Another incident tonight that was regarded with significance was the assurance that came from Ambassador Jusserand to the State Department that the French government in sending a warship to Mexican waters did not intend in any way to embarrass the United States. Officials indicated satisfaction over the apparent trend of the French government's attitude.

There is a possibility that if the powers indicate further an unwillingness to embarrass the United States that this government may withhold its pronouncement, but some officials were of the opinion that sooner or later such a declaration, which they regarded as tantamount to a reaffirmation of the principles of the Monroe Doctrine, would be required.

Administration officials generally maintained a severe reticence in connection with Mexican affairs. They admitted that an acute and delicate situation existed early in the day when word was received that the American vessel, the Morro Castle, had been detained. It was not revealed what orders were in preparation but there was a noticeable relief in official circles when cablegrams announced the release of the ship.

Secretary Bryan was in frequent conference with the President during the day. Mr. Bryan called attention to General Huerta's promise to the diplomatic corps that even if his friends voted for him next Sunday he would not accept the Presidency on the ground that it would be unconstitutional for him to succeed himself. Inasmuch as President Wilson in a note recently announced that the United States regarded the assumption of distatorship by Huerta as a violation of the promises for a constitutional election, the result of this election is not calculated to have any considerable effect on the American policy.

GENERAL DIAZ MAY PROCEED TO MEXICO, SAYS GOVERNMENT

No Charge of Insubordination Is Likely to Be Preferred Against Him.

COMRADES ARRESTED.

Huerta's Minister Guarantees Candidate Freedom From Molestation.

Mexico City, Oct. 24.—There is no intention on the part of the Mexican government to molest General Felix Diaz, according to Querido Moheno, minister for Foreign Affairs, who said today that General Diaz was at liberty to come to the capital when he choose. The fact that General Diaz was officially relieved from his mission to Japan by the Foreign Office after he had completed his assignment from the War Department in France relieves him of any charge of insubordination according to officials here.

MISSION UNFULFILLED.

The members of the embassy which accompanied General Diaz to Europe on the way to Japan were arrested for disobeying orders the government had sent them at Havana to return to Paris as soon as possible. This was the explanation given by Foreign Minister Moheno today. He said they would be re-embarked for Europe on the next steamer to join Francisco De La Barra, Mexican Minister to France, who is the latest person appointed by the Mexican government to carry out the task of thanking Japan for her participation in the Mexican centennial. Senor Moheno regarded it as unjust that these men after spending $45,000 of the money of the Mexican government should refuse to fulfill the mission entrusted to them.

Another crowd but smaller than yesterday's gathered at the railroad station early this morning to greet General Diaz in case he should arrive from Vera Cruz.

Not only General Diaz, but all the candidates in the field have received the assurance from Senor Moheno on behalf of President Huerta that they shall have every guarantee of freedom from molestation during the elections on Sunday next.

In a statement to the press today concerning yesterday's meeting of members of the diplomatic corps at the palace it is said to have come to the knowledge of the Provisional President that in some of the Mexican states his friends purpose to support him for the Presidency. This calls forth the following official statement:

EMPRESS, BEARING DUKE AND DUCHESS, ARRIVES IN PORT

Heavy Weather and Fog Were Responsible For Delay---Health of Her Royal Highness is Reported Good In Spite of Rumors

The C. P. R. Co.'s R. M. S. Empress of Britain, Captain J. A. Murray, from Liverpool, with Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, Princess Patricia and suite, on board, entered the harbor last midnight and moored at the Breakwater.

CAPTAIN RETICENT.

As soon as the gangway was run up a representative of the Chronicle went on board, but nearly all the passengers had retired for the night. Captain Murray, however, informed the reporter that heavy weather and fog were met with, which caused the delay on the trip. He declined to say anything concerning the royal party or their health while on board.

There was a grand concert on board on Wednesday evening, which was attended by the royal party. On another occasion, the Duke distributed the prizes won by the Empress of

WORKING TOGETHER.

In his speech at the ceremony connected with the St. Malo shops yesterday Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Quebec's representative in the Borden cabinet, took occasion to refer to the unstinted support which had been given the government in the case of the great public works at Quebec by the Mayor and City Council of Quebec and praised them warmly for the fact that they had acted throughout for the interest of the city and had put them above all considerations of party.

Mr. Pelletier's compliments are well bestowed. As Mr. William Price so truly said at the Borden banquet the other night, politics have been the bane and the curse of Quebec's history in the past, but a new era has evidently dawned. It is common knowledge that the majority of the aldermen of the city and the Mayor himself are Liberals in politics. The greatest credit is therefore due to them in having assisted a Conservative government in the works of development which it has undertaken for the benefit of the city and district, rather than take a parochial or partisan view. We are well aware that they have been subjected to a lot of criticism by certain dogs in the manger who would see Quebec with rotting wharves and in industrial stagnation rather than have a Conservative government in power. Quebec, however, will be grateful to the aldermen for the stand which they have taken.

It is noticeable that this spirit of co-operation is in evidence everywhere and the Board of Trade and other public bodies are working in the most perfect harmony for the general good of the city.

INCREASE OF WAGES.

The workmen of Quebec cannot fail to be impressed by the manner in which Mr. Hazen, the popular and capable Minister of Marine and Fisheries, has treated the employes of his department in this port. Congratulating the men upon their excellent work, he referred in terms of the warmest praise to the splendid system which prevailed here and the efficiency which characterized the administration of the local branch. This efficiency he proceeded to reward in a fitting and practical way by informing them that to date from the 1st of November, there would be a general increase of ten per cent. in their wages.

This increase should not only encourage the workmen to do good work as they know that merit will be rewarded under the present government, but it also comes at a time when the problem of the high cost of living is engaging the attention of this continent. Of the list of civilized countries where the cost has increased since 1900 Canada has the unenviable record of being at the top of the list. In Australia, where there has been a considerable increase in wages, the level of food prices has only advanced 16 per cent. as against fifty per cent in this country, while there has been nothing like a corresponding increase in wages here. To reduce this expenditure on necessities is a mighty task and one which we have no doubt will occupy the most earnest consideration of our statesmen, but there does not seem much prospect of relief by reduction as yet. If, however, the general wage scale is raised, and it should be, one way of improving the situation will have been adopted.

No class in Quebec has benefited more from the advent to power of the Borden Government than the working class of this city, and the events of yesterday show clearly that they recognize and appreciate the fact. Under no administration has there been more employment and better pay than under the present.

CHURCHILL'S PROPOSAL RECEIVED COLDLY.

It transpires that Mr. Winston Churchill's speech proposing a naval holiday for one year was made without consultation with his colleagues and therefore represents but his individual inclination. In Unionist circles it is said to have been undignified in view of Germany's failure to make any response to his more general proposal of a limitation of armaments made some months ago. We cannot, however, regret that it was made; partly because the object in view was highly desirable in itself, but chiefly because the way in which it was received in Berlin affords a fresh revelation of Germany's real spirit and purpose in her navy-building activity.

Liberal papers affect to believe that the "emergency", which the Borden bill was designed to assist in meeting, is a mere bogey which is fostered by interested contractors. German statesmen are prolific in their utterances that Germany desires only a navy large enough to defend her coasts and protect her commerce. Andrew Carnegie who has recently been dined by the Kaiser, has come away in raptures over that monarch's alleged aspirations towards the ideal of world peace. All the same, the bold truth remains that Germany is not at all prepared to slacken her pace for a moment in the "mad race of armaments," and that she rejects with scorn the suggestion of a compact between the two leading naval nations of the world to trust each other and mark time for a year. One cable despatch says the German newspapers "almost unanimously greet it (the proposal, with a mixture of indignation, contempt and ptiy." So Liberal a paper as the Tagebiatt does not see how the restriction of naval construction can be effected in view of the attitude of the Navy League. The more Conservative papers treat the proposal as "an insidious attempt to cripple Germany, as being too silly to discuss, or as a cheap bid for popularity in England. "The German naval authorities say of it that it "cannot be discussed."

Yet the money that would be saved by a naval holiday is nowhere more needed than in Germany. A current Berlin despatch says: "Germans are looking forward with growing anxiety to the coming winter which threatens to be one of unusual suffering. Already the ghost of unemployment is stalking through the country."

The manner in which the Churchill proposal, which is so reasonable and so accordant with common sense, has been scouted in quarters where it should at least have had a respectful reception and candid consideration is but one of many indications that the German menace is a very grim reality and that Mr. Borden is doing what is right in his present naval policy. For the actual disposition of Germany we must look behind the honeyed words of diplomatists to the outbursts of the press representing all sections of the people. When these unite in declaring that nobody is threatening Germany, and that though the money could be put to so much better use in other ways, her shipbuilding must not be delayed or abated by one jot, then we can only fall back upon the theory that it is the deliberate and settled ambition of Germany to grapple with Britain whenever she is ready and to wrest from her the supremacy of the seas. If Germany does not intend to try conclusions with England, why should she hesitate to unite with her in calling a halt that would save millions of pounds and liberate them to better uses, if not actually sow the seed for a very material reduction of armaments later on.

SUPERSTITION OF THE SEA.

One by one the superstitions of the sea are being abandoned. It is gratifying to learn that Captain Inch is to be given another ship by the Uranium Company in spite of the fact that the Volturno was lost while under his command. The unwritten law heretofore has been that the man who lost his ship, lost his job, whether or not he was at fault. This was not a wholly illogical practice, inasmuch as the knowledge of it might very readily serve a captain to fight harder to save his vessel than he otherwise would. But when a commander has unquestionably done all that was possible, and has still lost his ship it is a matter of injustice to him that he should be left without a means of livelihood merely because of tradition and the unwritten law.

There is another of these unwritten laws which we think could be repeated to advantage. It is that which requires the captain of a ship to stay on the bridge during fog or very bad weather, no matter how long it continues. It is a fairly common thing to read in despatches that the captain of this or that ship had been on the bridge for twenty-four or forty-eight hours or even sixty hours at a stretch because of storm or fog. Why should this be the practice? The most rugged man alive cannot be as alert, mentally or physically, after twenty-four hours of exposure as he was when he went on duty. He cannot be as competent to render quick decision—such, for instance, as an impending collision might call for—as a man who was unfatigued. The average trans-Atlantic passenger, we fancy, would much prefer to trust his life in an emergency to a fresh chief officer than to a jaded captain.

Comment of The Press

Mr. Borden's programme for the development of Quebec and its environs, as outlined at the banquet Wednesday evening, is very comprehensive and lavish of detail. It will earnestly be hoped by the whole Dominion that it will prove to be effective as its sponsors expect. Quebec is the gate-way of Canada. While we in Montreal are proud that our city occupies the enviable position of standing at the head of ocean navigation, we are entirely conscious that Quebec City possesses also a unique point of vantage with regard to both sea-going vessels of unusual size and the new Transcontinental Railway. It is bound—if properly equipped and developed—to enjoy now a growth and prosperity which have been denied it for decades; and the Federal Government is wise and broadly patriotic in endeavoring to help it on. This is a period in the career of Canada when we can not afford to be niggardly. We should spend money—spend it wisely and with foresight—if we can get it to spend. We are building for the long future. We are staking out our claim in an almost virgin country. We must not be timid—we must not think poorly of ourselves or our prospects—we must not be pound-foolish and penny-wise.—Montreal Star.

The celebration recently in honor of the Indian chief Tecumseh was a nation's tribute to a man of another race and blood whose devotion to the British flag and British interests make him for all time one of the country's great heroes. For allegiance to that flag he gave "the full measure of devotion" and was never greater than in his death at the battle on the Thames River. It is a tribute to his real greatness that time but serves to increase his renown. One hundred years after his death the might and power of Britain, as typified in the Canadian militia, comes to the scene of his death that what he did there may be impressed upon the people of this country. No monument has yet been raised that fittingly honors his deeds, the very place of his burial remains a mystery, but he has an enduring monument in Canadian history that none may take away and that time will not destroy. The splendid allegiance which Tecumseh gave to British interests was due to his belief that Britons were his friends and that from them he and his people might expect to receive justice. And how well, through all the years, that belief in British justice and fair play has been justified. The story of the Indians in Canada and of their treatment by the Government of this country is a story of fair dealing and absolute justice. It is a great tradition handed down through all the years and never has it been broken.—London, Ont., Free Press.

Sir Wilfrid has had another change of policy—in power he boasted of a surplus, no matter even if obtained by peculiar bookkeeping, while in the Chateauguay campaign he denounced the Conservatives for paying off the national debt. Hon. Mr. White's great surplus of $55,000,000 last year was strongly condemned. Mr. Fielding, formerly Sir Wilfrid's finance minister, has become editor of the new Liberal organ in Montreal, and says, in his announcement of his acceptance of the position: "I shall take the position with the cordial approval of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and leading Liberals, and under conditions which assure Liberal control." In the same issue, and along with Mr. Fielding's acceptance, the Daily Telegraph boasts of its new editor as the finance minister, who, in sixteen budgets, was able to report a surplus of fifteen times. We therefore find that Sir Wilfrid approves as editor of the chief Liberal organ in Quebec a finance minister that was guilty of reporting a surplus in fifteen out of sixteen budgets. Sir Wilfrid condemns in his opponents what recommends Mr. Fielding to him for the responsible position of editor of a Montreal daily paper.—Winnipeg Telegram.

ence of two large traction cars, one the property of Mr. Beaubien, contractor, and the other owned by Mr. P. T. Legare, profusedly decorated with flags, and carrying 200 Laval University students, who entered the line of march through the streets with college songs.

The auto-car parade, which contained some 300 citizens, was led by a car in which was seated His Worship the Mayor Mr. Nap. Drouin, the Hon. Messrs. Borden, Pelletier and Hazen, and after the start was made, proceeded down Du Fort street to Buade street, thence along Fabrique and St. John streets, down Palace Hill, and along St. Joseph street, St. Roch's, and St. Valier street to St. Malo, where the procession wended its way through several streets to the grounds on which the workshops will be built.

All the streets through which the parade passed, were decorated with flags and bunting, in token of respect and honor of the Canadian Prime Minister and his Ministers. The firm of Holt, Renfrew & Company, on Buade street, was very tastefully decorated, as also were several buildings on Fabrique and St. John streets, including the Fabrique street frontage of the City Hall and the Central Fire Station. Palace Hill was also dressed with flags strung across the street, and the same conditions prevailed all along St. Joseph and St. Valier streets in St. Roch's and St. Sauveur, where the streets were lined with citizens to watch the parade go bye and show respect to the Canadian Premier.

When the leading car reached in front of St. Peter's market, six young ladies, carrying beautiful bouquets of chrysanthemums and carnations, halted the leading car, and presented Mr. Borden, the Ministers and the Mayor of Quebec, with the floral offerings that came from various organizations of St. Sauveur, in compliment to Mr. Borden and the other gentlemen, who were manifesting an unusual interest in the welfare of Quebec. The presentation was a surprise as none expected the honor, and the Prime Minister very graciously acknowledged the honor, which greatly pleased him.

When the parade reached nearly opposite the Sacred Heart Convent, a lady holding a poor child aloft, rushed into the roadway, and caused the auto-cars to come to a halt, when Mrs. George Donaldson, handed her child into the car for the Premier to kiss, which he graciously did, and after saying a few courteous kind words to the mother, the parade continued its way to St. Malo. Here indeed, the Premier, his Ministers accompanying him, and every occupant of the auto-cars in line were treated to a surprise. St. Malo was decorated, and every house draped with flags and bunting in honor of the visitor, who was everywhere received by acclamation by the population.

When the parade reached the St. Malo grounds the auto-cars passed through the premises of the Eastern Canada Steel Company, which was prettily decorated in honor of the occasion, and emblems of welcome displayed on the facades of the industrial buildings.

On reaching the location where the foundation work for the new locomotive shops of the prospective workshops are being built, a large covered platform was observed, dressed in bunting, where the contractor, Mr. J. Gosselin, stood, waiting to receive the Prime Minister, his colleagues and friends, and surrounded the platform, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, were congregated over 3,000 residents of St. Malo, waiting to greet and welcome Mr. Borden, and who cheered him on his arrival.

Mr. A. E. Doucet, Divisional Engineer of the Transcontinental Railway, with his assistant engineers Messrs. Porter and Forrester, received and welcomed the Premier when he mounted the steps leading to the platform. Mr. Gosselin then handed Mr. Borden a silver trowel, suitably engraved, to use in laying the corner stone, while the R. C. G. A. band present played "Hail to the Chief."

Besides the large crowd on the grounds there were fully 200 prominent citizens on the platform, including Mayor Drouin, Aldermen Verret, Lavigueur, Madden, Lockwell, Campbell, Trudel, Dussault, M. D., Cote, Martin, M. D., Berube, Messrs. W. Price, president Quebec Harbor Commission, and Commissioners A. Gravel and J. B. E. Lettelier, Lt. Col. W. J. R. W. Boswell, Lt. Col. D. Watson, J. E. Scott, representing Quebec Board of Trade; Capt. A. E. Doucet, C. E.; D. O. Lesperance, M. P. for Montmagny; A. Sevigny, M. P. for Dorchester; B. Leonard, W. H. Leonard, Henri Carrier, Romeo Langlois, Dr. Faucher, Harry Price and many others.

Laying of Corner-Stone.

Hon. Mr. Borton, after his reception by the district engineer of the Transcontinental Railway, Capt. Doucet, received the silver trowal from Contractor Gosselin and immediately left the platform and amidst great cheering laid the corner-stone, and after a survey of the large amount of work accomplished since the signing of the contract, resumed his place beside his ministers, when Mayor Drouin approached him, and read the following address:

To The Right Honorable R. L. Borden, Prime Minister of Canada:

Sir—You have not only honored but you have also greatly pleased the population of Quebec by taking the trouble to come here today to lay the first stone of the St. Malo workshops.

It is thus you satisfy the legitimate desire which we have long cherished, to see our old Quebec provided with these large workshops such as are the necessity of his cities of Canada.

It is but truthful to state that up to 1878 our city was completely ignored in the development of railways with which the governments or private companies so richly provided all the regions of Canada.

Even since that time our city was only touched by one railway line, that which operated today by the Canadian Pacific Railway. And again is it not only in recent years that we have secured a suitable service sufficient for passengers and freight.

Today it is your wish, not only to have us see, but to have us touch, something tangible, a reality.

We shall to correspond with the terminal facilities, railways coming into Quebec, a bridge over the St. Lawrence, a tunnel through the Quebec rock, large railway yards at Sillery and at St. Malo, a central union station, an auxilliary maritime depot at Lower Town, at Levis the largest drydock in the world, and to complete this marvelous groups, the workshops at St. Malo, which will create a new industrial centre equivalent to a new ward of the city.

It is you, Sir, who have come in person to preside over the inauguration of all these great works and have been the bearer of all those good tidings.

Those people whom you see gathered around today wish to thank you through the voice of the Chief Magistrate for having listened to their grievances, for having granted their just requests, and for having furnished us the means of fulfilling our destiny and accomplish the role which falls to our lot in the development and progress of our dear country.

You who represent public favor at this moment, you are in the midst of a population composed in large part of artisans and laborers, and they all extend to you and to Mrs. Borden, who so well represents the grace and elegance of Canadian womanhood, their best wishes for health and happiness.

The Prime Minister's Reply.

Hon. Mr. Borden on coming forward to reply, was greeted with enthusiastic cheering interrupted with a college song by the Laval students. He made a brief reply in both French and English, and after thanking the Mayor, City Aldermen and citizens of St. Malo for their cordial reception, said it gave him the greatest pleasure to be present at the grand ceremony of laying the corner-stone for the building of the new Transcontinental Railway workshops. He thanked the Mayor personally for the words of welcome contained in the address, and said he need not assure him and the people of St. Malo of the great pleasure it afforded him to be with them this day on the occasion of laying the corner-stone, which marked the beginning of a great public work which was national in its undertaking and trusted would contribute to the prosperity of Quebec.

He desired to impress upon his audience that he as Prime Minister and his colleagues were engaged in building up the whole of Canada, and not any special city or locality in particular. He was Prime Minister of the whole of Canada, Quebec, Ontario and the west, as well as New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, and had a duty to perform to the whole country at large, in the development of its natural resources, and place it in a position to meet the expansion of trade with the development of the entire country.

The works inaugurated in Quebec were a part of the national work the government had in mind as a part of the development of the whole country and must be considered such. The destinies of Canada were great and a marvellous heritage and our trade was increasing with wonderful rapidity, and therefore we must be prepared for the future, and Quebec as an important part of the Dominion would receive its fair share of government attention in this respect, especially as it would destined to become a commercial centre and distributing point.

The Transcontinental Railway was to prove an important factor in the development of Canada, and the railway workshops being built here would be a part of its system, which no doubt would contribute to the future prosperity of Quebec's future. His government had carefully considered the terminals for the Transcontinental Railway at Quebec, and would be developed in accordance with their importance.

He referred to Hon. Mr. Pelletier as one of his valued colleagues, who was very energetic in his endeavors to push the interests of Quebec. I have said to him on occasions that he was so persistent in the interest of his district that he was becoming a nuisance. He always keeps the claims of Quebec before us, but his suggestions in this repsect did not fall upon deaf ears.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane, Minister of Railways, who could not be with us, is also concerned in Quebec by the extension of the Transcontinental Railway to this port. Hon. Mr. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and the best-looking man in the cabinet, who yesterday excelled himself in a speech at Lauzon in presence of the ladies in a French speech, also takes an interest in the work going ahead in Quebec, and not only looks after the destinies of the entire St. Lawrance, but is interested in your harbor works, which come under the direction of his department.

We all are interested in the development of our country, and he was glad to see young men taking such an interest. It was the youth who would take our places, and sustain the ideals that will eventually build Canada and cause her to rank among the nations of the world, and when we disappear from the stage, we can safely depend upon the young men to take our place and continue the work for their country.

He concluded his remarks by again thanking Mayor Drouin and the people of St. Malo for their cordial reception, and politely thanked the Mayor for the valuable assistance he had given his government in respect to the inauguration of the public works for Quebec, which is to give every advantage in the development of the city and district of Quebec.

Hon. Mr. Pelletier.

Hon. Mr. Pelletier was the next speaker, who was loudly cheered as he advanced to the front of the platform. He thanked the Mayor for the magnificent reception tendered the Prime Minister, which he truly deserved, and was personally pleased to be present to assist at the important ceremony in connection with the laying of the corner-stone for the new workshops that meant so much for Quebec. He referred to the complimentary remarks made to him by the Prime Minister in regard to his energetic work for Quebec, and said he only done his duty as a citizen, and not as a politician in the interest of his city and district.

He said he was in duty bound to thank the Mayor of Quebec for valuable assistance given him in connection with the government works in Quebec, who put politics one side in the interest of the city and citizens. He appreciated the Mayor as the chief administrator of the city, who met him in the spirit of a good citizen, and guardian of the peoples welfare, and in this respect did much to aid the government. He set aside all party considerations in his work for the interest of Quebec, and the citizens were indebted to him.

He had several comparisons to make between the Winnipeg Transcontinental workshops and the prospective St. Malo workshops, when it was said that the latter would not be as important as the former. "He (Mr. Pelletier) had been to Winnipeg and visited the Transcona workshops, and would say in positive contradiction, that the Quebec workshops would be similar in size and equipment, and the large machinery that was installed in the Winnipeg workshops, would be duplicated in the Quebec shops

Mr. Pelletier next referred to the Prime Minister in eulogistic terms, who, he said, took a great interest in the City of Quebec and always lent a sympathetic ear to any suggestion in its regard. He was an Englishman in sympathy with the whole of Canada and exhibited the highest regard and friendship towards the French-Canadians of the country, and in all his acts was a Canadian, where party politics, whose aim was the uplifting of his country as a nation.

Mr. Pelletier, also referred to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries in complimentary terms, who he said, was interested in Quebec, and had shown his interest, when he recommended $3,500,000 to be spent on the port of Quebec.

Hon. Mr. Hazen.

Minister of Marine and Fisheries, was the next speaker, who thanked the mayor and the citizens of St. Malo for the honor shown the Prime Minister. He was surprised to see the large gathering present, considering the condition of the weather, which had been desirable from the time of their arrival until today. After a humorous allusion to the remarks made of him by the Prime Minister in regard to his French at Lauzon, he said that their visit to Quebec was a splendid experience which they all would remember.

They had been overwhelmned with hospitality, and kindness, every place they went, and when they came to St. Malo, they experienced the same flattering attention. He was, however pleased to see the citizens of Quebec honor the Prime Minister, and when they honored him, they honored themselves.

Mr. Hazen spoke of the public works inaugurated by the government and in progress in Quebec and referring to the great work proceeding in connection with the Harbor Commission for the development of the port of Quebec, said he was pleased at the astonishing progress made, as he had recommended the appointment of the commission that was working with such energetic zeal, and he felt sure that the people of Quebec had not retalized it, that they had done, and the results the Commission had already attained.

We also spoke of the work of the opening up of the North channel, which was being carried out under the direction of his Department, and when completed, would be a great benefit to the shipping interests of the St. Lawrence, and must result in a powerful successful argument, to reduce the insurance on shipping in the St. Lawrence trade.

He complimented Hon. L. P. Pelletier on the good and indefatigable work he is doing as a Minister in the interest of the city, and his sympathy for Quebec. He was always pleased to be in Quebec, which reminded him of his own province, where the French-Canadians abound, and were also excellent citizens, and helping to build up and develop the resources of their province. They were also in cordial sympathy with the Province of Quebec, and would be delighted at its progress and prosperity.

When the Transcontinental Railway was in operation and the port of Quebec developed to meet the requirements of shipping, it would become one of the largest and most important ports of the world, and prove an important factor in the distribution of trade in keeping with the trade expansion and progressive prosperity of the country.

Messrs. Sevigny, M.P., and D. V. L'Esperance, M.P., followed in appropriate telling speeches. Mayor Drouin also spoke, likewise Ald Verret, which brought the ceremony to a close.

Prime Minister Lays Corner Stone of St. Charles River Locks, Amidst the Greatest Enthusiasm of Over 3,000 People at Limoilou.

In the afternoon Hon. R. L. Borden accompanied by his Cabinet colleagues and some 200 prominent citizens, left the Chateau Frontenac at 2.30 o'clock to proceed to Limoilou, where he had engaged to lay the corner stone in connection with the damning of the River St. Charles and building of two locks.

Over 30 auto-cars formed the parade that left the Chateau, including two traction trucks filled with students of the Laval University. Hon. Messrs. Borden, Hazen, Pelletier, with Mayor Drouin and Alderman Lockwell occupied seats in the leading car, and as the procession of automobiles proceeded down through the streets of upper town to St. Roch, and via Crown street and the Drouin bridge to Limoilou, the streets were lined with people to demonstrate their respect for the Canadian Premier and his ministers.

Limoilou was gaily decorated with flags for the occasion, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, over 3,000 people were congregated in the vicinity of the works, where a large platform had been erected by the contractors. The R. C. G. A. band was also present, which mingled its music with the cheers of the people of Limoilou, as the Prime Minister and his colleagues with Mayor Drouin alighted from their auto-car and walked on to the platform.

Messrs. M. J. Butler, C.E., of the firm of Messrs. Quinlan & Robertson, and A. J. Powell, the firm's resident engineer, received their distinguished visitors, and after the preliminaries of the reception, Mr. Borden was handed copies of the Quebec newspapers and coins, with a parchment bearing the inscriptions of the undertaking and those connected with it, which were placed in a box, afterwards sealed, to be deposited in the concrete work.

Mayor Drouin next approched the Prime Minister, and read to him the following address.

Sir—As Mayor of the City of Quebec, I feel happy to offer you the homage of the citizens of Quebec in this important ceremony, by which you inaugurate the work on the locks on the St. Charles River.

This enterprise is of such importance for the city of Quebec that I feel quite at ease to thank you for the promptness with which you have acted in this matter and the diligence with which you have ordered the commencement of the work.

The large works, which this enterprise entails, presage the importance of this amelioration for the extension and prosperity of Quebec.

Apart from the extension of the wards, already well populated, which are situated along the banks of the St. Charles River, by the construction of large deep-water outlets which will have to be built, the locks on this river will open large spaces of land which will permit the establishment of a double line of wharves, which will be covered with warehouses and manufactories of all kinds.

Our coasting trade, which is so important for us, will be furnished an ideal mooring place for small vessels, and the new market, near the Drouin Bridge, will become a most important business centre.

The construction of locks on the St. Charles River will necessitate the dredging of the river to give an equal depth of water in all parts. And who knows if, in the near future, we shall not see this St. Charles River joined by a canal to the Cap Rouge river, in a manner to establish a new communication with our large river by means of a waterway which would transform the promontory of Quebec into a populous city, extending from the mouth of the Cap Rouge River to Montmorency Falls.

We should be tempted to believe that all this is but a dream, were it not the clear-cut precise declarations which fell from your lips Wednesday night, and today's ceremony which marks the official inauguration of these works, already underway for many weeks.

You may rest assured, Sir, that the people of Quebec highly appreciate the enlightened and energetic action of your Government, and that they have faith in the good will of which your administration gives such material proof.

Thank you, Sir, for the honor you have done the City of Quebec by coming to preside over the inauguration of such important works, and please accept our wishes for health and happiness which we extend to yourself and Mrs. Borden.

Premier's Response.

Hon. Mr. Borden replied in a happy speech. He first thanked the Mayor and people of Limoilou for their courteous and cordial reception, and amidst cheers expressed his happiness of being present at the momentuous occasion, that inaugurated a future development of the resources of the St. Charles River, and the Valley of the St. Charles. He commenced his speech in French and made a pleasing impression upon his hearers, who appreciated the compliment by punctuating every sentence with cheers.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Borden said he regretted the absence of Hon. Mr. Rogers, Minister of Public Works, who had the direction of this special work, and who was obliged to cut short his visit to Quebec on a call from Ottawa.

He, however, thanked the people of Limoilou with all his heart for their cordial enthusiastic reception, and trusted that they would permit him to say that the work of damning the St. Charles River, like other public works inaugurated by the government in Quebec, was part of a great national development of the whole country of Canada. He was the Prime Minister of Canada, and as such represented every section of the country, and therefore, Prime Minster of Quebec as well as any other part of Canada, and had to fulfill his duty as chief administrator without any other consideration than the benefit of the whole, and was not, therefore, politically partial in his administration.

He was pleased to be in Limoilou on the occasion of the laying of the corner-stone of these work which had been inaugurated by his friend and colleague, Hon. Mr. Pelletier, who gave his assistance as it was his duty.

These works must be undertaken to meet the trade conditions of the future progress of the country, and his colleagues were in perfect sympathy with the work, and when you have men like Messrs. Sevigny and Lesperance, eloquent and energetic in their labors in your behalf, you may be sure that your interests are well looked after.

He concluded by personally thanking Mayor Drouin for the assistance he had given him and his government in these works in progress at Quebec. Assistance that had been valuable, and he also thanked the citizens again for their reception.

Hon. L. P. Pelletier.

The postmaster general and minister for the district followed in an eloquent speech, in which he reviewed the various works undertaken by the government in Quebec, and in the name of the people of Quebec and its district, thanked the Prime Minister and his colleagues for their disinterested sympathy in the interest of Quebec that made the demonstration now taking place possible, and he was proud and pleased to be present at the laying of the corner-stone that was the beginning of the end of the work that means so much for the development of the River St. Charles, the people of Limoilou, and the citizens of Quebec in general.

He dwelt upon the sweeping advantages the construction of the locks would have in developing the Valley of the St. Charles by bringing shipping six miles from the River St. Lawrence up the St. Charles and benefit Limoilou, St. Rochs, St. Sauveur and St. Malo, and opening the way for industrial propositions of the future. He also referred to the projected Union Station at the Palais, and work of developing the harbor, which would make the port and city of Quebec a centre of prosperty, together with the workshops at St. Malo, brought about by the assistance of Mayor Drouin, Messrs. Sevigny and Lesperance.

Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Hon. Mr. Hazen spoke along the same lines in an eloquent speech, and thanked the Mayor and citizens gathered in such large numbers to do honor to the Prime Minister of Canada.

Mayor Drouin spoke next, followed by Messrs. Lesperance and Sevigny, M. P., and Aldermen Trudel and Berube, who closed the meeting, when the Prime Minister and colleagues and friends took their departure amidst the cheers of the populace.

It was, to say the least, a grand and enthusiastice demonstration in honor of Mr. Borden, and went to prove that the citizens of Quebec appreciated the good work he was doing for Quebec.

Choice of Colors in Dress

By Mrs. Frank Learned, author of "The Etiquette of New York Today."

One of the most important matters in dress is in the choice of color. There are certain elementary principles in regard to colors appropriate to different complexions. Red is usually becoming to a distinct brunette and to those of less positive coloring. It lends a roseate color to pale complexions and intensifies the color of delicate of shell-pink skins. Red should be avoided by any one with a florid complexion. Green, white, cream or black are best for those with florid coloring.

Green is one of the most charming of colors. It is almost universally becoming and its beauty is evidenced by nature's partiality for it, and the fact that it may be combined, as in nature, with practically every color. Blue, pink, yellow, tan, orange, mauve or violet go well with green. Brunettes can wear warm shades of green, the shades inclining to yellow or bronze; these shades harmonize with the orange tones of a brunette's complexion, instead of deepening them, as cold, bluish shades of green are apt to do. Green, of course, throws its complementary color of red upon the face. It improves a pale complexion.

Yellow is supposed to be a good color for a brunette, as its complementary violet neutralizes the yellow of the skin and leaves the red, thus giving freshness to the complexion, but if the skin has more yellow than orange in its the orange color worn with it would change it to a pallid white. Pale yellow or old gold is more becoming than greenish yellow. Corn yellow can be worn by a woman whose hair has unusually rich, dark tints, almost blue-black, and whose complexion is clear white and red.

Blue in its deep shades or pale tints is, as a general rule, becoming where the skin is clear in tone and the hair brown or chestnut, but blue injures the brunette if there is too much orange in the complexion. Pink, green, dark red, warm brown, pinkish gray and some shades of violet may be worn by those with light or dark brown hair and a clear skin. Blue is the standard color for blondes. It improves the color of the hair because it imparts the complementary orange. It enriches fair complexions. Jonquil yellow is charming for a girl whose hair is fair or with amber tints in it, and whose complexion is white and shell-pink.

The girl with auburn hair needs to be careful in choosing colors to bring out the beauty of her hair. Tans and golden browns harmonize with this color, especially where the shade chosen is nearly the same or a shade deeper. Green has a good effect with this coloring. Black, especially black velvet, is becoming. White or cream is suitable, but gray or buff should be avoided. Red or pink should not be used, unless a very pale shade of pink like flesh color.

The shade known as Titian hair, from the great Venetian painter, whose partiality was for that color, looks well with purple or lavender. These colors are supposed to harmonize with red hair of almost any tint, although some persons contend that they intensify too strongly the yellow in the complexion. Purple against golden hair is beautiful, for the reason that it brings out the color by contrast, and the very fair skin which accompanies golden hair has less yellow in it than any other complexion.

Women whose hair is gray look well in certain shades of mauve, purple or violet, provided the complexion is sufficiently clear, without too much yellow in it. Blue is usually becoming with gray hair. Black, especially in velvet, is becoming. Brown or red should be avoided.

SALONIKI, ETERNAL CITY.

The city we now call Saloniki has had a continuous history for more than 2,500 years. Even before it was refounded and renamed by Alexander the Great, in the year 315 B. C., a city had existed on this beautiful gulf, facing mighty Mount Olympus. But its known history dates from this year when Alexander rebuilt it and called it Thessalonica, after his sister, the wife of Cassander. It is said that Philip of Macedon named his daughter Thessalonica, because on the day he heard of her birth he won a victory over the Thessalians. Thus the victory of Philip and the name of his daughter, the half-sister of the conqueror of the world, are all embalmed in the name of the city.

A great city, with its harbor full of shipping, its white houses rising in tiers one above another from the edge of the water to the summit of the acropolis behind the city, and around all a white wall five miles in extent. Through the heart of the city stretched forth the great artery of trade, the Egnatian Way, of which we have spoken. At the eastern end it passed under a magnificent marble arch, which was built in honor of the victory of Octavius and Antony over Brutus and Cassius in the battle that took place on the plains of Philippi.

Fortunately for Thessalonica, she had sided with the republicans in this battle, and when it was over both Antony and Caesar visited the city and commemorated their triumph by erecting the arch of victory, which remains to this day. Under this archway doubtless Paul and Silas passed many times during their somewhat lengthy stay in the city.

It has been my privilege more than once to visit Saloniki, to enter it from the sea, as one journeys from Athens, and to leave by the route by which Paul entered it on his first visit. It is interesting to note the characteristics of the city, which are the same now as in Paul's time, as well as the changes which the centuries have wrought.—Christian Herald.

CHARLES H. HYDE SEEKS REINSTATEMENT

New York, Oct. 24—Charles H. Hyde, a native of Truro, N. S., and former City Chamberlin, who was disbarred automatically on his conviction on a charge of bribery growing out of his relations with the Carneigie Trust Company and the Northern Bank, applied through his attorney, John B. Stanchfield, to the Appellate Division today for reinstatement. Unless he is allowed to practice his profession he and his family may suffer privation, Mr. Sanchfield said.

Since Hyde's disbarment the Appellate Division itself has decided that he was wrongly convicted, the lawyer pointed out, and although the state had taken the case to the Court of Appeals, he pleaded that Hyde be allowed to resume his law practice while the appeal was pending.

"He is utterly without means and has a family dependent upon him," said Mr. Stanchfield. "Unless he is allowed to resume the practice of law I don't know how he will be able to exist." No action was taken on the application.

JOE MALONE WINS POPULARITY PRIZE

PADDY MORAN SECOND IN CONTEST IN AID OF ST. BRIDGET'S HOME.

The Knights of Columbus Hall was well filled at last night's concert, given by the Ladies of the Sacred Heart Table in aid of St. Bridget's Home, under the patronage of the Quebec Hockey Club.

The several performers acquitted themselves to the entire satisfaction of the audience, so much so that each of those taking part had to respond to encores, which fact caused the audience to appreciate the heartiness with which the performers entered into the work.

Master Earl McKeaney, dressed in a Quebec Hockey suit, made a hit with his song, "Every Year They're Doing It," referring to the championships which the Quebec Hockey Club had won for the past two years.

After the catchy song Senator Choquette thanked those who had undertaken the good work for such a noble cause, and related what he thought was the cause of Joe Malone being the most popular hockey player; he had so many of the fair sex working for him, he being still a bachelor. He called "Joe" to the stage and presented him with a twenty-dollar piece as the prize. He also congratulated the ever popular Paddy Moran for being a good second with Goldie Prodger in for a rush in the third quarter.

Rev. Father Woods then announced the winner of the two reserved seats for all hockey matches in the Quebec Arena for this season, which fell to Mr. F. X. Chevalier, 497 St. Francois St., and the person who sold the lucky ticket (Mr. Arthur Lemoine) was entitled to a ten-dollar gold piece.

The concert was brought to a close with the singing of "God Save Ireland" by several young girls, with the colors of the Quebec Hockey Club entwined around them.

Joe Malone had 1546 votes cast for him, while Paddy Moran had 1056 in his favor. There were 3,000 votes cast in all, netting the sum of $300. A like sum was also taken in for reserved seat drawing.

CORRECTION.

In the report published yesterday of the demonstration to Rt. Hon. R. L. Borden at Levis, we made a typographical error in connection with the presentation of the bouquet, which presentation was made by the daughter of Mr. Maurice O. Dion, of Levis. We hasten to make the necessary correction with regard to this matter, as the presentation so made was carried out in such a graceful manner by the young lady in question.

RECORDER'S COURT.

Three prisoners were before the Deputy Recorder yesterday morning on the accusation of drunkenness. One was fined $10 and costs or fifteen days. He paid. Another was fined $5 and costs or eight days, and he also paid. A young man named L. Vezina, who for the past year was not working, and came home under the influence of liquor, for blaspheming and insulting his mother, was fined $40 and costs or two months' jail. The Judge told him that he was an undesirable citizen and that he hoped the sentence that was imposed on him would bring him back to be a good and respectable citizen. He went to gaol.

FOUR ARE CONVICTED AT RIVIERE DU LOUP

Charge Was That of Selling Shares in Bogus Stock Company.

The four men, Daigle, Gauthier, Gamache and Duchene, who were committed to the Court of King's Bench at Riviere du Loup, by Judge Angers, some time ago on the charge of selling bogus stock shares, but subsequently chose a speedy trial, were sentenced each to serve six months in the jail at Fraserville by Judge Langelier, who presided over their trial at Riviere du Loup.

The man named Belle, who is alleged to have been at the head of the scheme, and who was also committed to the Criminal Court for trial, wishes a jury trial and this will be given at Riviere du Loup on the 5th of December, the accused being out on bail in the meantime.

These are the men referred to in the Chronicle some days ago, who vicitmized a number of farmers in Temiscouta county by selling them stock in a bogus shoe company.

CITY WILL BORROW EXTRA $475,000

ORIGINAL FIGURE IS REDUCED BY $125,000—FAVING SUM CUT OUT.

The final decision of the City Council last night was that the total sum for which borrowing powers will be sought from the Provincial Legislature at the next session will be $475,000.

This amount will be expended as follows:

Permanent works in Town of Montcalm, in the event of annexation	$250,000
Permanent works in Little River, in the event of annexation	50,000
Permanent works in Limoilou ward	50,000
Payment of ornamental lights	125,000
	$475,000

It was the original intention to seek power to borrow the sum of $600,000, but at a meeting of the Committee on Amendments to the City charter last evening and at the Council meeting which followed, Mayor Drouin and Ald. Cannon sounded a note of warning with regard to borrowing too heavily, hence a sum of $75,000 which was to have been fixed for paving purposes in the city was eliminated, and the amount of $100,000 fixed for Limoilou ward was reduced to $50,000.

Ald. Lavigueur made a strong bid to have the city borrow $100,000 for the widening of Abraham Hill, but motions for the purpose before the committee and the Council failed to carry.

Limoilou was also to be left out of the provisions, but on motion of Ald. Trudel, seconded by Ald. Berube, and strongly supported by Ald. Lockwell, a sum of $50,000 was inserted.

Among the other charter amendments, which will be sought from the Legislature, are the ratification of the contract with the Sisters of Charity for the construction of the Civic Hospital in the vicinity of Beauport Asylum; the validation of contract with the Transcontinental Railway relative to tax exemptions and the closing of certain streets for the terminals and approaches to the Union Station; the increasing of the rate of per cent from 4 to 4½ on a loan of $800,000 already authorized as well as provisions to meet a bond issue which comes due on January next; the power to force proprietors to build wooden sidewalks without any contribution from the city; the power to pass a by-law to annex any adjoining municinpality or portion of municipality to the city of Quebec.

BETTER BARGAIN FOR LITTLE RIVER

STATIONARY TAX PERIOD WILL BE SEVEN YEARS INSTEAD OF FIVE.

The by-law to annex the municipality of Little River to the City of Quebec was given final reading at the meeting of the City Council last night, after the period of stationary tax following annexation was increased from five years to seven on motion of Ald. Fiset, seconded by Ald. Madden.

The question came up again last night on Ald. Fiset's motion of reconsideration and in supporting his motion for seven years Ald. Fiset expressed the conviction that the taxpayers of Little River would not favor annexation unless they were given the same period of stationary annexation as the Town of Montcalm.

Mayor Drouin thought that Little River was wrong in feeling that it was as important as the Town of Montcalm and he feared that the project of bringing the two municipalities into the city at the same time might result in neither of them being annexed. He would almost be in favor of suspending the annexation of Little River for the time being.

A vote being called on Ald. Fiset's motion the amendment of seven years was carried and the by-law was given final reading.

The vote was as follows:

For:—Aldermen Lockwell, Trudel, Berube, Martin, Fiset, Plamondon, Emond, Gosselin, Beaumont, Madden.—10.

Rgainst:—Gauvin, Lantier, Pouliot, Lavigueur, Cannon, Dussault, Dinan, Verret, Cote.—9.

APPROVE REFORM OF MONTREAL COUNCIL

Board of Trade and Other Bodies Are in Favor of a Change.

Montreal, Oct. 24.—Announcement that the new plan for reforming the civic government of Montreal has been endorsed unanimously by all the public bodies to which it had been submitted; the formal adoption of the report by the delegates assembled, and a general discussion on allied subjects, including the extension of the municipal franchise to married women, which in turn led to proposals of universal woman suffrage in municipal matters, marked the general joint meeting of delegates from the various public bodies interested, held late today in the council room of the Board of Trade.

The new scheme involves the division of Montreal for municipal matters into five electroal districts, each district to be represented by three aldermen; the three aldermen for each district to be elected by the whole body of electors in that district; increasing the membership of the board of commissioners to five, and the retirement of a certain number of the commissioners in rotation every two years; increasing the salary of the mayor to $12,000 per year, the commissioners to $10,000 per year, and that of the aldermen to $1,500 per year, and one or two other minor changes.

Don't forget that we have the largest and nicest stock of Overcoats for men, boys and youths that can be shown. Also Furlined Coats with Otter and Persian Lamb Collars; Mackinaw Coats and Pants of all kinds.

HUDSON BAY COMPANY OUT FOR FUR TRADE

Winnipeg, Oct. 24—A small advertisement in the columns of a Victoria newspaper has revealed a story of sweeping reorganization in the development of the Hudson's Bay Company's fur trade in Northern Canada.

The advertisement calls for tenders for the building of two new auxiliary steamers—large enough for ocea ntravel—to be ready for launching early next spring. Upon inquiry, the information was given out that they were to be used on the Arctic Ocean, about 2000 miles north of Winnipeg, principally around the delta of the MacKenzie River.

TAMPERING WITH NOTES.

More Traces of Those Robbed From Bank of Montreal.

Chicago, Oct. 24—Michael Flanigan, a saloonkeeper, was arrested here today on charges of having in his possession and passing altered or counterfeited Canadian bank notes. The arrest was made in connection with the search for the men who robbed the New Westminster branch of the Bank of Montreal of $271,000 on Sept. 14, 1911. Among the notes stolen from the bank were those of series 492,000. Flanigan is charged with having in his possession Canadian notes altered from series 492,000 to 69,000.

ROUSING INTEREST IN OLYMPIA GAMES

GENERAL SECRETARY STARTS CAMPAIGN IN GERMANY—PRAISES THE STATES.

Berlin, Oct. 24.—A campaign to arouse interest in the Olympic games to be held here in 1916 was inaugurated tonight in a lecture by Carl Diem, general secretary of the Olympic games. Herr Diem told of the recent trip to the United States of the Athletic Commission of which he was a member. He described with unmixed praise athletic conditions in the United States and said they were an example for Germany. A large audience listened to the lecture. James W. Gerard, the American ambassador, was the guest of honor.

HOCKEY MEETING.

There is to be a meeting on Tuesday next in the Q. R. L. & P. Co. Montmorency Stn. Bldg. of the various hockey clubs of Beaupre coast. The object of the meeting is to organize a league of the different clubs along the Q. R. L. & P. Co. line.

CONDITIONS GOVERNING MARCHING COMPETITION

Active Service Rules Will Prevail—What the Men Will Wear—Must Not Run, as Competition Is Not a Road Race.

The Montreal Star contains the following item regarding the marching competition in which the 8th R. R. will take place:

Conditions, which will govern the Marching Competition of Quebec regiments, to be held November 8, were announced this morning by the committee which has had the affair in hand. Emphasis has been laid on the fact that the marching for the handsome trophy donated by The Star must be done under actual service rules. The men who will take part have been turning out twice a week and showing tremendous enthusiasm over the competition.

"The companies will consist of two officers, two non-commissioned officers, and forty-eight men, non-commissioned officers of any grade being permitted to march in the ranks. In view of the fact that the Royal Highlanders have two battalions, they will enter two teams, and possibly three. All men who have been enrolled in their regiments since September 1 will be eligible to take part in this competition. The officers will be asked to certify to this fact.

To Wear Service Dress.

The uniforms and equipment will consist of service dress, forage cap, staff cap, or Glengarry; officers to wear Sam-brow belts and swords. Non-commissioned officers and men are to wear side arms and carry Ross rifles. Regiments with Lee-Enfield rifles will wear Ross side-arms. All ranks will wear Web equipment with water-bottles. Overcoats are to be carried, packed in a Web valise on the back. Each person is required to carry fifteen packets of ammunition.

The starting point will be Fletcher's Field, at the start of the incline railway. From thence the route will be—Park Avenue, Bleury street, Dorchester street, Green avenue, Sherbrooke street, Decarie street, Queen Mary road, St. Laurent road, St. Catherine road, Mount Royal avenue, and Park Avenue.

"The total marching distance is approximately ten miles, and the finish will also be at the bottom of the incline railway, Fletcher's Field.

Will March in Fours.

"The companies will march in fours, the officers marching where they can best supervise the units. The general rules of march discipline will be followed. There will be no bugle calls, bands, drums, or music instruments permitted.

"The officers commanding the units will be responsible for the pace, but no member of the unit will be permitted to move faster than a walk, under penalty of disqualification. Any unit may halt or not during the march as desired by the officer commanding the unit. Men may march at ease, but must not smoke. It is not designed to make this competition a road race, and therefore the provision against a pace faster than a walk has been inserted.

The start of the first regiment will be made at 2:30, and the others will leave at twenty-minute intervals. Precedence will be decided by drawing. Half the regiments will march one way around the Mountain, the other half going in the opposite direction.

Col. Denison Chief Umpire.

Colonel S. J. A. Denison, C. M. G., A. D. C., O. C., 4th Division, will act as umpire, and will appoint assistants to accompany the regiments.

"It is understood that regiments will be entered from the First Grenadier Guards, the 3rd Victorian Rifles, the 5th Royal Highlanders, the 8th Royal Rifles of Quebec, the 65th Regiment of Montreal, and possibly the 53rd Regiment of Sherbrooke. The Scots will have two teams entered in all probability, as they have two battalions, and there is a possibility that this number may be increased, as immense enthusiasm is being displayed on the part of the Highlanders, as well as the men in other regiments entered."

FOOTBALL MATCH AT MONTMORENCY

IF KENT HOUSE TEAM WINS TODAY, THEY TAKE OVER TWO CUPS.

There will be a football match in the Drouin Cup competition series this afternoon between Montmorency and the R. C. R. The game will begin on the Kent House grounds at 3 o'clock and will be refereed by Pike.

If the Montmorency team wins today's match, and they are strong favorites, they take over two cups. One of these, the Crescent cup, is held only for a year, while the Drouin cup is won outright.

They will play the same team today as did duty against the R. C. G A. last Saturday.

PLANS NEW BLOW TO BRITISH SPORT

NEW YORK MAN HOPES TO CAPTURE ENGLISH GRAND NATIONAL STEEPLECHASE.

London, Oct. 24.—Alex Cochrane, of New York, is expected here soon on a visit. He will go to Ireland later.

Cochrane hopes to add another to America's triumphs over England by capturing the prize for the grand national steeplechase for 1914.

The horse with which he hopes to win, namely Postboy, has just arrived in London, and is to be sent to Ireland, where he was born, to be trained.

When he first arrived in America he was a gaunt-looking animal and it took some time to acclimatize him, but eventually he won two steeplechase events at Saratoga.

Postboy is a three-year-old gelding and stands sixteen hands high. The agent for Lloyds who insured the owner of Postboy against ocean risks was Captain Tyrwhitt Drake, who is well known in racing and hunting circles on both sides of the Atlantic.

Alex Cochrane, by the way, may not only win the Grand National, but there is also a possibility that the yacht which he has commissioned Herreschoff to build may be chosen to defend the America's cup against Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV.

WELSH IS REAL TOP-NOTCHER

Writing on the margin "we fans in San Francisco know Ritchie had cold feet; he is easy for Welsh any time he starts," a San Francisco boxing enthusiast has forwarded a copy of the "Post" of that city in which T. P. Magilligan, the well known sporting writer, takes Ritchie to task for not meeting Freddie Welsh and boosts the British champion. Here is what Magilligan has to say of that affair:

"A Dr. Pangloss of pugilism, tells an open-eared and open-mouthed public that Freddie Welsh 'does not figure high up in the list of lightweights.' To let such a statement go unchallenged would be unfair to the Welshman, equally unfair to the boxing game.

"The writer holds no brief for Freddie Welsh, is not the special pleader for any pugilist, but it is his business to write about boxers, and write as the facts present themselves.

"Welsh requires no special pleaders; his record can be offered in evidence and the fight fans can then draw their own conclusions.

"If Freddie Welsh does not figure high up in the list of lightweights, who does?

"Welsh holds a decision over Willie Ritchie. He beat him to a twenty-round decision in Los Angeles on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, 1911.

"And Freddie Welsh holds a decision over Matty Baldwin. And Matty Baldwin holds a decision over Willie Ritchie.

"Freddie Welsh boxed the great "Packey" McFarland three times Once, in Milwaukee McFarland gained a ten-round decision over Welsh. The late Malachi Hogan refereed that bout. So incensed were the fight fans and the newspapermen of Milwaukee over the verdict rendered by Malachi Hogan that, though Hogan had refereed all the big Milwaukee bouts previous to that time he was never again allowed to act as the third man in the ring in any bout in Milwaukee."

Subsequently Freddie Welsh boxed "Packey" McFarland a twenty-five-round draw in Los Angeles, and good judges of boxing who saw that affair claim it was one of the greatest battles it had ever been their good fortune to witness.

Later, in London, England, Freddie Welsh boxed McFarland a twenty-round draw.

Welsh's Great Record.

Freddie Welsh beat Matty Baldwin in a twenty-round bout in San Francisco on the night of June 23, 1911.

The same Matty Baldwin whom Welsh beat defeated Willie Ritchie in San Francisco on the night of August 31, 1911, and unless the writer is horribly mistaken, Harry Foley, who is now Willie Ritchie's manager, refereed the Baldwin-Ritchie bout. Now, surely Ritchie could hardly have felt that Foley gave him a raw deal in the Baldwin bout. If he did, Harry Foley would not be his manager today.

Freddie Welsh has been fighting since 1905. In his entire ring career, to the best of the writer's knowledge and belief, Welsh has been knocked down only once, and that was in his bout with "Packey" McFarland in Los Angeles. Welsh always claimed that in reality he slipped down in this bout. Anyhow the mishap to Welsh occurred very late in the contest, and allowing that McFarland did score a knockdown, it must not have been a very severe one, in view of the fact that Welsh got a draw with 'Packey.'

Matt Wells and 'Packey' McFarland are the only men in the ring who hold decisions over Welsh. he McFarland decision is explained above. After Matt Wells defeated Freddie Welsh for the lightweight championship of England and the Lord Lonsdale belt, Freddie Welsh came back and re-won his lightweight title and his Lord Lonsdale belt. And right here it is interesting to note that Freddie Welsh is one of the only three men who ever lost a championship and then re-won it. The other two were Stanley Ketchell, who lost his title to Billy Papke and re-won it, and Tom Allen, who lost his title to Mike McCoole and came back and defeated the same man who beat him for the crown.

"Speaking of Freddie Welsh, 'Packey' McFarland once remarked to the writer: 'Freddie Welsh is the toughest lightweight in the world. He may not beat you, but you cannot beat him.'

Moran Respected Freddie.

"Owen Moran, who certainly never could be accused of cowardice, or lack of a heart of golden courage, once told the writer that the only lightweight in the world whom he did not want to fight was Freddie Welsh, and this was over at Shannon's when Moran was training for his championship bout with Ad Wolgast.

"When Abie Attel was at his very topmost best, Freddie Welsh made him look like a novice in a Los Angeles bout. Of course, Welsh had the pull in the weights with Attel, but up to that time Welsh was the only man of any weight who ever really outboxed Abe Attel.

"Also Freddie Welsh beat the great Jem Driscoll of Cardiff, Wales, and a little reference to the record book will show a number of other good ones whom Welsh beat.

"The writer insists that 'Harlem Tommy' Murphy is entitled to first meeting with Willie Ritchie. He also insists that a fair perusal of Freddie Welsh's record and ring work will not admit of Freddie Welsh being ignored as a future opponent for Ritchie.

"Murphy and Ritchie first. The winner and Freddie Welsh next. That's the way the lightweight cards for championship honors should be dealt out.

"Murphy is a better card than Freddie Welsh, but when all is said and done Freddie Welsh has as clean, if not a cleaner record than any lightweight now before the public.

"Welsh's style of fighting is not so pleasing to the modern ring follower as is that of some other boxers, but it is because Welsh possesses too much and not too little ring knowledge.

"If some of our writers on fistical topics were compiling a list of famous generals we fear they'd class Napoleon Bonaparte as a sixth-rate commander.

"And as to the Ritchie-Welsh affair, though the matter is closed it is worth re-opening on one score, and that is that Welsh beat Ritchie once.

"And just unravel this little question for yourself: If Willie Ritchie was cocksure that Freddie Welsh is a regular tapioca for him, wouldn't he have boxed him in Vancouver on almost any sort of terms, if for nothing else than just to clear up his score with the Welshman?"

RITCHIE SETS NEW LIGHTWEIGHT FIGURE.

New York, October 24—Fight fans were much excited today over the posibility of a real fight between "Packk" McFarland and Lightweight Champion Willie Ritchie, as a result of the latter's announcement that he did not consider 133 pounds the ringside lightweight limit.

Ritchie declared that as the champion, he believed he had the right to name the limit, and proceeded to raise it to 135 pounds.

"There is no rule under which championship fights are held that fixes the limit at 133 pounds," said Ritchie. "I believe 135 pounds ringside or one hour before the fight, is fair enough. Nelson made Gans come to 133 and Joe was a physical wreck. Wolgast did the same thing to Nelson, and also made me make 133."

Friends of McFarland believe he can make 135 an hour before a fight.

VERDICT RETURNED IN RUBENSTEIN CASE.

Ottawa, Oct. 24—"That Abraham Rubenstein came to his death by violence consisting of a blow on the head followed by strangulation by a person or persons unknown to the jury."

The above verdict was returned tonight at the adjourned inquiry into the death of "Abe" Rubenstein of Brooklyn, N.Y., the bookmaker's clerk, whose body was found in a vacant shop on Somerset street following the fall meeting at Connaught Park. But little new was produced at the concluding session of the inquest tonight. A witness swore that he saw two negroes carry a trunk along Somerset street, and identified a photograph of a negro named Slinn as one of the men. Slinn's whereabouts are at present unknown.

ATTORNEY JEROME STILL AFTER THAW

LEAVES FOR CONCORD WITH PAPERS REQUESTING FUGITIVE'S RETURN TO NEW YORK.

Albany, N.Y., October 24—William Travers Jerome and Deputy Attorney General Franklyn Kennedy left today for Concord, N.H., armed with new papers requesting the return of Harry K. Thaw to this State. Governor Glynn signed the new requisition for extradition today, after a conference with Jerome, Kennedy and Attorney-General Carmody. While it was agreed that new papers were not absolutely necessary, it was decided that they be issued in order that there might be no question raised as to the validity of the requisition formerly made on the New Hampshire authorities. The original requisition was based on his indictment yesterday in New York for alleged conspiracy.

"The government cannot prevent the provisional president's friends supporting him owing to the lack of time to do so before the elections are held, but while the provisional president appreciates the attitude of his friends he declared once for all he cannot accept votes and if through them he should be elected President such an election would have no effect, as it would be contrary to the constitution."

MADERO'S BROTHER PROPERLY TREATED

Mexico City, Oct. 24.—The Mexican government today gave Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American Charge D'Affaires, assurances in regard to the proper treatment of the two brothers of Francisco Madero, who were arrested at Monterey and brought to the federal capital on a charge of conspiring against the administration.

Charge O'Shaughnessy took the matter up on instructions from Washington.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy said also that he has received assurances that no harm will come to Rodolfo Reyes, former Minister of Justice, and Jorge Vera Estanol, former Minister of Public Instruction. The rumors that they had disappeared and were no longer in the penitentiary are without foundation.

HUERTA'S ELEVATION ENTIRELY LEGAL!

Mexico City, October 24—President Huerta is to be upheld for all the acts of his administration. His elevation to the Presidency likewise is to be shown to have been entirely legal. This will be done through an opinion that is being prepared by the judges of the Supreme Court.

Several of the judges have been engaged for days searching the records for precedents and applying them to the acts of the executive. This business has engaged their attention to the exclusion of the affairs of the courts in their jurisdiction. It is expected that the opinion will be rendered by Judge Demetrio Sodi and probably concurred in by one or two other members of the Supreme Bench The opinion, it is said, will deal chiefly with the subject of the dissolution of congress and doubtless will show that act was fully justified by the alleged treasonable conduct of the members of the Chamber of Deputies.

U. S. AMBASSADOR.

Absents Himself From Engagement to Preside Lecture.

London, Oct. 25.—"Owing to important business" Walter H. Page, the United States ambassador, last night excused himself from keeping an engagement to preside over the lecture of an American professor whose subject was "Great Britain and the United States." The ambassador's "important business" is believed here to have been connected with the Mexican situation.

The British press is now completely alive to the gravity of the Mexican affairs. The Daily Graphic, which finds it significant that one of the secretaries of Foreign Secretary Grey, Sir William G. Tyrrell, is being sent to Washington, again in an editorial today denounces President Huerta, whose statement of Thursday, it says, proves his unfitness for any responsible office and abundantly justifies President Wilson's refusal to accord recognition to his government.

The Graphic, however, is almost alone in taking the view that Great Britain is wrong in recognizing Huerta. The tendency of the editorial opinion generally is to regard it as impossible that the two English speaking peoples should quarrel over the affairs of a South American state.

At the same time the Daily Telegraph recognizes the serious danger of Huerta attempting "to marshal the people of the United States and the less interested nations of the Old World into opposing camps," and says it feels convinced that the good sense and political wisdom in America will see the risk and by sagacity and restraint avoid it.

READY TO FINANCE $13,500,000 LOAN

BANK OF MONTREAL MAKES OFFER REGARDING WINNIPEG WATER PROJECT.

Winnipeg, Oct. 24.—A. F. D. MacGachen, manager of the Bank of Montreal, told the members of the administration board of the Greater Winnipeg water district at the special meeting held this morning, that his institution was prepared and willing to finance the entire $13,500,000 loan that will be required for the carrying out of the Shoal Lake water project. The account for the present will be operated on the overdraft principle and the necessary funds will be available whenever they may be drawn upon.

TROUBLE IN DUBLIN.

Hostility Against Scheme to Provide Homes in England Increases.

Dublin, Oct. 24.—The hostility against the scheme to provide homes in England for the children of Dublin transport workers who have been on strike since September is increasing. A crowd, among which were several clergymen, tonight boarded a train as it was about to leave the station here and took from it eleven children who were being taken away. Later seven other children were prevented from departing by another train.

PRISON REFORM.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 24—The prison reform commission adjourned this afternoon and will not resume its sessions here until early in November. It will hold a sitting in Toronto next week to secure expert testimony with regard to the central prison and prison farm at Guelph. When it convenes again in Kingston further charges against penitentiary officers will be heard.

ACCUSED OF ROBBING BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA

Toronto, Oct. 24—Charged with the theft of $10,000 from the Bank of Nova Scotia, at St. John, N. B., William McIntyre was arrested here tonight.

McIntyre had been a clerk in the bank in St. John and was transferred to Chicago. It was while he was in Chicago that the large shortage was discovered in the eastern branch, and the Chicago police were wired, but McIntyre had disappeared. Pinkerton men traced him across the border into Toronto, finally locating him at the King Edward Hotel here.

TORONTO FAVORS AN ABATTOIR

Toronto, Oct. 24.—The city of Toronto may engage in the wholesale meat business. If the City Council endorses the action of the Board of Control, a plebescite will be taken in January on the question: "Are you in favor of the city engaging in the dead meat trade to supply retailers, and to raise $200,000 by an issue of debentures in order to carry on this business?"

The proposition was brought forward by Alderman Dunn. If it is favored both the people and the city probably will kill live stock at the new civic abattoir and endeavor to compete with the private companies which are now supplying the retail butchers.

GLYNN DETERMINED TO SWEEP CLEAN

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 24.—Several investigations begun by John A. Hennessy, an inquisitor in the employ of Governor Sulzer, will be continued under the new administration, Governor Glynn declared today.

"It is my intention," the Governor said, "to continue to completion every investigation which appeared to disclose that anyone had a dollar of the state's money which he had no right to have, either because he procured it improperly or for any other reason. The inquiries will be conducted in a legal manner, quietly and without ostentation or newspaper display and solely for the purpose of ascertaining the facts and procuring legal evidence.

"Wherever the facts warrant it, the most vigorous prosecution will be insisted upon without the least concern to whom the culprit may be."

Governor Glynn also revealed the fact that he had been in communication with Hennessy regarding some of the charges now being made public by him. Hennessy first offered to furnish the state with information in his possession and the Governor accepted the offer, requesting that all documentary and other kinds of proofs of the charges be forwarded immediately. A letter from Mr. Hennessy followed and the Governor replied to it and renewed his request for all proofs and statements of facts in Hennessy's possession.

Certain engineers who assisted Hennessy in some of his investigations probably will be called on to make written reports of the information they have at hand. A request for such action has been made by the Governor in a communication to Hennessy.

WINNIPEG RINKS MAY VISIT EAST

THIS WILL BE THE FIRST TIME IN MANY YEARS—MAC BRADEN SKIP.

Winnipeg, October 24—For the first time in many years a Winnipeg rink of curlers may visit Eastern Canada this winter and play friendly games. With Lindsay, Ont., as their destination, owing to the fact that the veteran J. H. Favelle, has attended the Winnipeg bonspiel for 18 years, President E. J. Rochon, of the Manitoba Curling Association, is now endeavoring to make arrangements so that at least two strong rinks will make the trip sometime in January.

It is stated that "Mac" Braden, the champion of the local bonspiel for the past two years, will skip one rink, and "Mac" Rochon, the other, if the trip goes through. Dr. Coglan, of the Thistle Club, formerly of Lindsay, is one of the prime movers.

STRIKE RIOT LEADS TO SERIOUS RESULTS.

Trinidad, Col., October 24—One striker killed, two strikers reported seriously wounded and one mine guard slightly wounded are the net results of attempts by strikers, it is said, to prevent defection in their ranks at Walsenberg, this afternoon.

Shortly after four o'clock, two wagon loads of former strikers with their wives who had decided to return to work at the Walsenberg mine were on their way to the mine under guard, when news of the defection brought a mob of strikers about the vehicles. Stones were thrown and a shot was fired by a striker in the mob. It is reported the guards used their weapons in reply.

BERLIN PITCHER WANTED.

Berlin, Ont., Oct. 24—President Kalfleisch, of the Berlin Canadian League baseball team, today received notice from Secretary Farrell, of the National Baseball Association that Fred Bramble, pitcher, had been drafted by the Fort Wayne club, of the Central League. President Fitzgerald, of the Canadian League, has been communicated with in the matter.

It is understood that Fort Wayne has drafted Bramble for Manager Shaughnessy, of the Ottawa club.

LIVED 3,000,000 YEARS AGO

Mastodon a Youngster Compared With the Ectoconus.

(Fro mthe New York Tribune.)

Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of Natural History, told yesterday of a most important discovery in Northeastern New Mexico by members of the staff of the institution of a mammal that will round out a period in the world's history about which little has heretofore been known. Professor Osborn said: "The mastodon is like a thing of yesterday when compared with it."

The mammal in question is known as an ectoconus, a herbivorous creature that lived 3,000,000 years ago. In fact, in geological time it is thousands of years older than any other mammal skeleton discovered up to now. Only in Northern France and in Belgium have any fragmentary evidences of mammals nearly that old been found. The 200 specimens collected by the museum's party in New Mexico include a complete skeleton of the ectoconus, which will take its place in the mammalian hall as one of the museum's most treasured possessions.

Professor Osborn, who has just returned from a two-month visit to three regions in the West where museum expeditions are at work, was greatly gratified by the find. He said that Dr. Walter Granger, who had found the complete skeleton of the four-toed horse some years ago, had also been at the head of this expedition in New Mexico.

"The ectoconus," said Professor Osborn, "dates from the very beginning of the age of mammals. The skeleton was discovered in a stratum not far removed from that in which the remains of the dinosaur of the reptilian period were found. It showed that ectoconus followed shortly after the reptilian period came to a close. The discovery rounds out a very little known period in the world's history. It is of great significance, and high praise should be given the men who discovered it."

Professor Osborn said the ectoconus, judging by its skeleton, somewhat resembled the wolf in size and contour and was peculiar to the North American continent, and was of a type no longer existing.

The skeleton was discovered 2,000 feet below the surface of the earth. It was found on the side on a bluff. Remains of the nearest existing mammals have in the past been found at 1,200 feet.

The present arid region where the important discovery was made at the time of the ectoconus was traversed by a stream somewhat in size and shape like the Orinoco river of South America. The ectoconus lived in large numbers in this land of plenty at that time.

Prof. J. H. Sinclair, of Princeton University, was one of Dr. Granger's expedition.

The discovery about completes the museum's work in that part of the country, where excavations have been conducted for three or four years. All the specimens have come to the museum.

Professor Osborn also visited the Niobrara region in Western Nebraska, where a museum party under Albert Thompson has been at work. He was shown the bottom of an old stream which was exposed through the use by the expedition of 500 pounds of nitroglycerin. Here had been discovered skeletons of the morphus, a herbivorous animal larger than the rhino, and specimens of the pygmy rhino. They existed in a period midway between the mastodon and the ectoconus. Three of each will be exhibited in a group to go in the centre of the mammalian hall.

LOCUSTS GOOD TO EAT

Khartoum Residents Have Learned To Turn the Plague to Account.

The latest advices from Khartoum state that the usual ditches have been dug in all directions in anticipation of the summer rains, which, however, have as yet put in an appearance. In the meantime these ditches are having their use, for a plague of locusts has set in. Immense swarms have for days been passing over the city.

Locusts, of course, do a vast amount of damage to the fields. They multiply most rapidly, and wherever they settle they devour every vestige of green and leave the land bare. The Sudanese are waging a vigorous campaign against them, and their zeal is whetted by the fact that locusts constitute for them a very palatable dish. These locusts are generally caught by the "cypress system," which consists in digging trenches and erecting on their farther side the screens against which they dash and kill themselves, eventually falling into the trenches.

It is not thought that the invasion will reach Egypt. The last time this country was visited by locusts was in 1904, when no fewer than 1,000,000,000 egg masses were destroyed. The work was carried out by over 240,000 men and cost the Government close to $50,000, which was in all conscience a cheap riddance of the plague, seeing that it might quite easily have ruined the entire cotton crop, not to mention crops of other summer products.

The Magnetic Girl

How She Compels Others To Obey Her Will.

100,000 Copies of Remarkable Book describing peculiar Psychic Powers to be distributed Post Free to readers of the Quebec Chronicle.

"The wonderful power of Personal Influence, Magnetism, Fascination, Mind Control, call it what you will, can surely be acquired by everyone, no matter how unattractive or unsuccessful," says Mr. Elmer Ellsworth Knowles, author of the new book entitled: "The Key to the Development of the Inner Forces." The book lays bare many astounding facts concerning the practices of the Eastern Yogis, and describes a simple though effective system of controlling the the thoughts and acts of others; how one may gain the love and friendship of those who might otherwise remain indifferent; how to quickly and accurately judge the character and disposition of an individual; how to cure the most obstinate diseases and habits without drugs or medicines; even the complex subject of projecting thoughts (telepathy) is explained. Miss Josephine Davis the popular stage favourite, whose portrait appears above, declares, that Prof. Knowles' book opens the door to success, health, and happiness to every mortal, no matter what his or her position in life. She believes that Prof. Knowles has discovered principles which, if universally adpoted, will revolutionise the mental status of the human race.

The book, which is being distributed broadcast, free of charge, is full of photographic reproductions showing how these unseen forces are being used all over the world, and how thousands upon thousands have developed powers which they little dreamed they possessed. The free distribution of the 100,000 copies is being conducted by a large London institution, and a copy will be sent post free to anyone interested. No money need be sent, but those who wish to do so may enclose 5 cents (stamps of your own country to cover postage, etc. All requests for the free book should be addressed to: National Institute of Sciences, Free Distribution Dept. 848. LARGEST NUGGET OF NEVADA MINES FOUND.

Manhattan, Nev., October 24—What is believed to be the biggest gold nugget ever found in Nevada, was taken from the Wilson placer mine here last night. The nugget was not weighed, but experienced miners have agreed that it will weigh at least four pounds. This amounts to a total of 960 pennyweights, valued at $576.

Estimates of the weight of the nugget have gone as high as 1,750 pennyweights. Many other nuggets of unusual size have been found in the Manhattan placers recently. One that is worth $50 was found in one of the mines.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of the CHRONICLE, October, 1813 and 1913.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Fashionable Wedding.

In a special to the Morning Chronicle from Montreal 30 years ago appeared the following announcement:

St. George's Church was well filled with a fashionable gathering, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Ethel, daughter of S. B. Foote, Esq., late of Quebec, to P. T. Gibb, of Montreal. The bridesmaids were Miss Foote, sister of the bride; Misses Maggie, Lillian and Isabel Foote, daughters of John J. Foote, Esq., of the Quebec Chronicle. Mr. H. L. Goodhue acted as groomsman. After partaking of a dejeuner at the home of the bride's father, with a large circle of friends, the happy couple left for New York.

Quebec Field Battery.

At this time, thirty years ago, Major Lindsay, commandant of the Field Battery, received a telegram informing him that his battery had won the Governor-General's Cup, the prize for general efficiency. This competition is between all the field batteries of the Dominion and points are given for uniforms and equipment horses, marching past, drill and manoeuvres of all kinds, theoretical instruction of officers and men, etc., etc. In winning this prize the Major and the Battery does great credit to Quebec, and has our warmest congratulations. It has already won this year, the prize for the highest score at target practice.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

Our Disasters on Land and Water.

The disasterous results of the contest on Lake Erie has been followed by a misfortune of equal magnitude on the land. General Proctor overwhelmed by numbers, has shared the fate of the fleet under Captain Barclay. We shall wait for the more official account of this unfortunate affair with anxiety, though not with peevish impatience. Our difficulties have of late followed close upon each other, but they are difficulties which the enemies of a great and powerful nation entrusted to the hands of able commanders, will surmount almost without an effort. A portion of Upper Canada may, for a time fall into the power of the enemy, but his possession of it will be little longer than when he entered it on a former occasion. The genius of the illustrious Brock still survives among us, and will again rescue the country which was the seat of his earthly glory. We know that there are many who have wrapped themselves up in gloomy despair, and will not be comforted; who give up all Canada even to Quebec. So far from despairing, on the arrival of reinforcements this season, with the opening of navigation, we will have such reinforcement as will enable us to wrest every inch of ground that he now occupies within our territory.

The Season.

Since yesterday, 100 years ago, the tops of the mountains and the high grounds in sight of the city, have assumed the aspect of winter, being partly covered with snow. This morning, there was ice half an inch thick.

CHINESE DISCARD EUROPEAN DRESS

Cost of Modern Garb Drives Them Back to the National Costume.

Pekin, Oct. 24.—A comparatively brief experience of European dress seems to have sufficed for many of the Chinese who adopted it, since large numbers are reported to have reverted to the national costume. According to a correspondent of a Shanghai journal, there are good reasons for this revival. When the movement for the adoption of European dress and manners was started there was great enthusiasm among a certain section of reformers, and also very little sense and much absurdity. The throne was memoralized for the promulgation of an imperial erict ordering all to discard their nattional dress, but the central government declined and the movement finally resolved itself into a matter of personal choice and convenience.

For a time the vogue found many followers, especially among the young "bloods" of the coast towns. But when it came to be reckoned up that the cost of foreign apparel for a single season would purchase Chinese clothes to suffice for twelve months' wear there was a very decided falling off in the fashion. And as this copying was most conspicuously practiced by those who were least acquainted with foreign customs and results were generally ridiculous in the extreme, and far from eliciting the admiration and respect of their fellow-countrymen, these ardent "reformers" were more often the object of their ridicule. The correspondent holds that the Chinese are well advised to retain the national costume in preference to foreign attire, which can never become them or satisfy their wearing needs. There is no question, he adds, that the Chinese costume is a most graceful one, as it is one of the most hygienic and economical.

Japan Has Its New Women, Too.

Chief Yamanoto, of the Tokio Detective Bureau, is greatly concerned at the tendency among Japanese young women to free themselves from the shackles of convention, and has warned them in an official communication of the dire consequences of following the lead of advanced members of their sex. "The modern education of women," he says, "seems to me defective in the promotion of womanly virtues, with the result that the time-honored ideal of women to be good wives and wise mothers has lost its authority.

"There are large numbers of young women who clamor for their rights and freedom to oppress men. Men and women are born differently, and women can not beat men in intellectual and physical power. In Japan the spheres of activity for men and women are definitely fixed. Men have to work out and women to keep house. Now women would like to imitate men in working out, in motoring, in making speeches, and even in demanding freedom in morals. There are women who openly advocate such extreme views and their influence on the thoughts of young girls is simply appalling.

"If I were permitted to express my views frankly," he adds, "I should say that the conduct of the wealthy class is reckless and calculated to encourage the vainglorious desires of young women. The result is that they welcome the arguments of the 'new women' and envy the lives of actresses. The arguments of the 'new women,' half-digested by young girls, are driving them to liqueurs and the company of men. Girls will not be badly affected by the theatre if they go only to the shows with moral teachings. But they do not like such plays. They patronize cheap shows and motion pictures, some of which the police have had to suppress."

It appears that in municipal enterprise, as in other matters, the zeal of "young China" is apt to outrun discretion. Some interesting observations on this phase of development are offered by Consul V. L. Savage in his report on the trade of Hangchow. "In a good many of the larger native cities," he remarks, "partly educated youths combine to form a group capable of articulate opinion, whereby they acquire influence and authority, often far in excess of their individual or collective qualifications. Dissatisfaction with their surroundings, as compared with improvements seen by them elsewhere, creates a desire to introduce such improvements into their own native cities, and this soon sets up a spirit of emulation between kindred communities, so that the one is anxious not to be outclassed by the other in respect of modern progress and civilization.

"Unfortunately, these otherwise laudable aspirations of young China are not always wisely directed in practice. There is no doubt that the great mass of the population living in Chinese towns does not require and can not really afford the luxury of electric light. It does badly need a good water supply and better drainage than it can usually boast of, and its streets might with advantage be repaved, and, whenever the opportunity occurse, widened sufficient to allow of the passage, with some approach to speed, of a fair-sized fire engine. But at present the tendency of modern China is distinctly to wish to run before it can properly walk."

MOTHER LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE

IF CROSS, FEVERISH CONSTIPATED, GIVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS."

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, bad breath, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailments, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treament given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

CITY OF QUEBEC.

City of Quebec,
District of Quebec.

BY-LAW No. 24a.

To Amend By-Laws, Concerning the Buildings.

(Drawn up in French Language.)

At a meeting of the City Council of the City of Quebec, held at the City Hall, in the said City of Quebec, on the seventeenth day of October, One Thousand Nine Hundred and thirteen (1913) in conformity to law, and in virtue of a By-Law passed by this Council pursuant thereto, and after the due observance of all the formalities prescribed by the statute in such case made and provided, at which meeting two-thirds of the members composing the Council of the City of Quebec, that is to say:

His Worship the Mayor, Aldermen Berube, Campbell, Cannon, Collier, Cote, Dinan, Dussault, Emond, Fiset, Gauvin, Guillot, Lantier, Lavigueur, Lockwell, Madden, Morin, Pouliot, Trudel, Verret.

It is ordained and enacted by the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, and the said Council ordains and enacts as follows:

1st. In the following wards of the City, to wit: St. Peter's, St. Louis and Palace, it is forbidden to erect any building whatsoever, even sheds, otherwise than in stone or brick or concrete or wooden wall recovered with brick of at least four inches in thickness, or with asbestos cement.

2nd. In the following wards of this City: St. John, Montcalm, St. Roch and Jacques Cartier, not only the houses, but also all the other buildings, shops, ware houses, must be constructed of stone or brick or concrete or of wood covered with brick of at least four inches in thickness, or with materials of cement asbestos, or with a rough cast of cement laid upon metallic laths, with the exception of such sheds as are used exclusively to put in fuel or coal.

3. But even as regards such wooden sheds, their front walls bordering on a street, or public square, must also be of stone or brick or of wood recovered with brick of at least four inches in thickness, or of materials of cement asbestos, or of rough cast of cement laid upon metallic laths. The other side may be covered with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise.

4. But if such shed does not border on a street or public square, the four sides may be covered with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise.

5. In the following wards of this City, to wit: St. Sauveur, St. Valier, St. Malo, Limoilou and Champlain, the front walls of the houses, shops, ware houses, bordering on a street, or (beton), or of wood with brick of at least four inches in thickness, or with materials of cement asbestos, or of rough cast cement laid upon metallic laths.

6. The walls of wooden houses not bordering on a street of public square must be shielded with brick of at least four inches in thickness or of materials of cement asbestos, or with a rough cast of cement laid upon metallic laths, or with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise, and the sheds must be completely covered with sheet iron.

7. In all the wards of the City, if a proprietor raises his wooden building by adding one or more stories, and that by this fact, the gable ends or side walls exceed the roofs of the neighboring buildings, such gable ends or side walls may be covered with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise.

8. In all the wards of this City, if the owner of a house already built wishes to shield the gable ends or sides thereof, facing a yard or a vacant lot, he may cover them with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise.

9. In all the wards of this City, the porches and enclosed stairways situated on the outside of buildings must be shielded on their sides and on the top and bottom thereof with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise or square, or with other incombustible material above enumerated.

10. The wooden sheds or outhouses used as store houses upon the wharves must be shielded with sheet iron laid upon asbestos building felt of at least fourteen pounds to the toise or square. And if there is no wooden board covered such asbestos must exceed by an inch on all sides the studs, rails or rafters.

11. Such sheds or out houses built on wharves must not be occupied as offices or rooms used as lodgings, unless such sheds be put in the same conditions as those required for the building of houses.

12. In the following wards: St. John, St. Roch, Montcalm, Jacques Cartier, St. Sauveur, St. Valier, St. Malo, Limoilou, Champlain, private stables and dependencies occupied for domestic purposes shall be considered as sheds (hangars).

13. In all the wards of this City, it is forbidden to construct wooden buildings of more than thirty-five feet in height from the average level of the sidewalk to the highest point of the roof, nor having more than three stories above the masonry walls of the cellar or basement.

14. In all the wards of the City, a wooden building constructed in conformity with the present by-law must be coated with brick, stone, materials of asbestos cement, or sheet iron im-

In case the proprietor or builder should neglect to conform to the present by-law within thirty days after being notified by the City inspector of buildings to build such coating, the said building shall be considered as having been constructed contrary to law and to the by-laws of this Council.

15. In all the wards of the City, no wooden building already built and not covered with incombustible materials will be allowed to be transferred from one lot of land to another, or from one portion of the said lot to another portion of the same lot, unless it be covered in incombustible materials, as required by the present by-law immediately after such displacement.

16. In all the wards of the City, it is forbidden to use saw dust or shavings of wood between the floors or in roofs except as regards ice houses and refrigerators.

17. The outside cornices of buildings must be in incombustible materials, and in all cases the stone or brick walls behind the cornices must be extended up to the under side of the planking of the roof (or cut-fire wall, if need be), and such cornices shall be solidly fixed to the wall independently of all wood work.

18. Whenever there shall be within the limits of this City any old walls, chimneys, or buildings in ruins, either through age, or after fire which may menace public security, it shall be the duty of the City Inspector of Buildings to inspect the same and examine them, in company with a competent person and to draft a report stating the facts, and to deliver a copy of this report with a notice summoning the proprietor of the said building to demolish, throw down immediately the said walls, chimneys or buildings or any portion thereof which may be a menace to the public security, and the said proprietor shall then be bound and compelled to demolish or take them down immediately at his own cost or expense.

19. Every proprietor or builder must remove the rubbish from buildings in construction or in process of demolition through a conduit made of wood or metal, running from the upper story down to a distance of two feet from the ground.

20. When a wall of a building must be erected alongside another wall already existing, whether the latter be a wall belonging to an adjoining building or that it belongs to a wall of a building the property of the person who erects the new wall, such new wall must be built of stone or brick or of wood covered with brick of at least four inches in thickness.

21. In all the wards of the City, if a proprietor builds of wood or of brick two or more houses, he shall be bound to erect the dividing or cut-fire walls (coupe-feu) in brick or concrete, of at least eight inches in thickness between each or the said houses, and moreover the said dividing or cut-fire wall must be laid on a stone or concrete foundation.

22. The roofs of buildings in this City may be covered with five layers of ten ounce tarred paper with one layer of gravel over. The said gravel must be imbedded in warm pitch.

23. Whoever proposes to build in this City any building whatsoever, or to execute upon a building repairs, the cost of which is valued at more than one hundred dollars, must, before beginning such works of construction or of repairs, obtain from the City Building Inspector a written permit to execute the same.

24. The following sums shall have to be paid for the water from the waterworks used in the preparation of mortar or concrete to be used in the construction of buildings as follows, to wit:

A. For each thousand of bricks employed for the said building, ten cents (10 cts.).

B. For each cubic yard of masonry of stone, concrete or terra cotta, three cents (.03).

C. For each one hundred superficial yards of plastering or deafening floor, fifty cents.

25. When a building is in course of construction in line with a street, the sidewalk must be kept all the time free of obstruction.

26. Every sidewalk, whether temporary or not, fronting a building in course of construction, must be provided at a height of eight feet above the said sidewalk with a planking sufficiently strong and waterproof to protect the passers by against the fall of objects which might drop over them.

27. That all the former provisions in the City By-Laws which are incompatible with the provisions of the present by-law, are by the present by-law repealed.

28. Whoever infringes any of the provisions of the present by-law is liable to a fine not exceeding forty dollars, and in default of the said fine and costs thereof, liable to be imprisoned for a space of time not exceeding two months.

29. Each separate day during which an infringement of any of the above provisions shall be committed or continued during the day, shall constitute a distinct and separate offence punishable in the manner above prescribed.

SIX MONTHS IN JAIL FOR JUST ONE KISS

Philadelphia, Oct. 24.—James Irwin, thirty-five years old, this morning threw his arms around Mrs. Annie O'Neal and kissed her. This afternoon he went to jail for six months.

Irwin did not know Mrs. O'Neal and she did not know him. In court Irwin declared he had an uncontrollable desire to kiss Mrs. O'Neal.

WOMAN THINKS SNAKE IS ROPE; SHE'S SORRY.

Federalsburg, Md., October 24—Mrs. Ida Adams, wife of Wm. T. Adams, proprietor of Riverview Inn here, had a thrilling experience with a snake in one of the rooms of the hotel yesterday. Mrs. Adams entered the room with a broom to sweep it, when she spied what she took to be a piece of rope wrapped around one of the chairs.

Grabbing the supposed rope she was horrified to fell it wiggle in her hands, and was panic-stricken when she discovered it was a snake. A lively battle ensued, in which the woman and broom came out victorious.

Upon investigation, she found the reptile to be a pet snake belonging to a theatrical troupe stopping at the hotel.

AUSTRIA MUST BORROW AT THIS TIME $30,000,000

"Unfavorable Budget," Diet Is Told, Is Due to "Recent Events in the Balkans."

Vienna, Oct. 24.—Loans amounting to nearly $30,000,000 will be necessary to meet the deficit in the Austrian budget for the first half of 1914. This so-called transition budget, intended to pave the way for transferring the date of the beginning of the fiscal year from January to July, estimates the expenditure for the six months at $312,891,776 and the proceeds of the loans required to balance the deficit between the revenue and expenditure will be applied to the army, the navy and the railroads.

In introducing the budget in the Austrian Diet Baron Engel von Mainfelden explained that this "unfavorable budget" is due to recent events in the Balkans, but that the economic organization of the country is sound.

FISH HAVE FUR!

Boston, Oct. 24.—Polar trout, the only fur-bearing fish known to natural history, is the latest contribution of the Arctic regions, according to John Bunker, of Northwood Centre, N. H., known as the 'Isaak Walton" of New Hampshire, who reached Boston from a two months' exploring trip in Greenland.

He brought photos and actual specimens of strange fish, which he has called Polar trout.

This peculair denizen of the Polar regions resembles a square-tail trout in shape and gameness and reaches 10 to 15 pounds in weight. The skin is a fine brownish fur resembling the texture of moleskin.

ABRUZZI TO RECEIVE THE AMERICAN SQUADRON

Naples, Oct. 24.—The Duke of the Abruzzi, commander of the Italian navy, with the battleship Regina Elena as his flagship, has been intrusted with the duty of receiving the American squadron which will arrive in Italian waters about the middle of November.

The commander of the American squadron and his staff, it is expected, will be received by King Victor Emmanuel at Rome. Other officers and the crews will be received in audience by the Pope.

MAN "TAKES THOUGHT;" GROWS HALF AN INCH

Chicago, Oct. 24.—"And which of you by taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?"

Dr. E. T. Olsen, physical examiner for the civil service commission, found a man yesterday who was able to add a part of a cubit, but he refused to give his name. He is an applicant for a position as pipe-man in the city fire department and when measured a few days ago he stood 5 feet 7¼ inches. He appeared again yesterday and meanwhile he is supposed to have "taken thought," for he measured 5 feet 7¾ inches.

Dr. Olsen recognized the applicant and looked puzzled. He examined him carefully and noticed a peculiar protuberance on top of the applicant's head. He ran his fingers over the man's skull and found it soft and pulpy. He decided the swelling had been caused by a subcutaneous hypodermic injection.

LIFE'S SUNSHINE

Gladdens Those Who Regain New Health and Strength

When the glow of health comes back to sallow cheeks; when languid weakness gives place to vigor; when you notice some pale, exhausted invalid restored to active health—enquire. More than likely you will find the cure to have been yet another of the thousands already wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Headache and neuralgia, St. Vitus' dance and twitching of the limbs, indigestion and rheumatism, eczema and disfiguration eruptions, and ailments of growing girls and women all disappear when the veins are filled with the new, rich red blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. Here is one instance among thousands; Mr. F. Ashford, Haileybury, Ont., says: "Some years ago I contemplated a lengthy term of service in India, the last three years being spent in the beautiful but treacherous Poshawar Valley. Ague and dengue fever were rife, and although I was fortunate enough to escape a severe attack of either, on my return home it soon became apparent that the enervating climatic conditions had left their ravages on my constitution. In short the reaction had set in, and inexorable nature was exacting a severe toll from years of strenuous labor. My first warning of the impending breakdown were severe pains in the back of the head and eyes, insomina, irritability, a general anaemic condition and an indefinable nervousness. Life had lost its zest, work became impossible and companionship intollerable. It really seemed that I was swiftly passing to that stage where nervousness ends and insanity begins, when by chance I read an advertisement of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I confess I was skeptical of them doing what doctors had failed to do, but concluded that the cost was small, and perhaps, the chance in their favor, and so decided to try them. To my joy there was soon an improvement, and a continuance of the treatment effected a complete cure. I was now as fit and as healthy as any man, and am ever grateful that the lucky perusal of an advertisement brought to my notice the wonderful curative properties of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

TWELVE YEARS HORRIBLE TORTURE

Ontario Lady Suffered Tortures for 12 Years with Burning Eczema. "Fruit-a-tives" and "Sootha-Salva" Completely Cured Her.

Miss Laura E. Mattice.

NEWINGTON, ONT., Jan. 21st, 1913.

"I was a dreadful sufferer from that awful complaint Eczema, or Salt Rheum, and this trouble bothered me for about 12 years. My hands and arms were chiefly attacked, and the pain and irritation were terrible. I consulted several doctors and tried every remedy I heard of, but nothing did me any good. Last June, when in Ottawa, a friend asked me to try "Sootha-Salva" Ointment and to take "Fruit-a-tives" at the same time. I had little hopes that this would be any better than the other remedies, but after I had taken two boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" and used one box of "Sootha-Salva," I was entirely cured and all the irritation annoyance left me. My hands have been, ever since, perfectly free from the Salt Rheum, and I have had no return of the disease. I look upon the cure as wonderful, inasmuch as no physician was able to cure me, and I had tried every remedy that I had been told about, yet without the slightest benefit, until I used "Sootha-Salva" Ointment and took "Fruit-a-tives." "Fruit-a-tives" cooled the blood, and practically relieved the disease and the Ointment completed the cure.

I cannot sufficiently thank the proprietors of these medicines for my relief and I make this statement with the hope that some sufferers from Chronic Eczema or Salt Rheum, will read my testimony and try this wonderful ointment and "Fruit-a-tives," and get well. No one can estimate the torture of this terrible disease who has not suffered from it, and I want the good news, that a remedy has been found, to be known everywhere."

(Miss) LAURA E. MATTICE

"Fruit-a-tives" and "Sootha-Salva" will cure any case of Eczema, no matter how severe or how long you have suffered. Eczema is caused by impure blood, chronic indigestion, constipation and nervousness, but there is usually a tiny parasite or germ which attacks the skin and causes the burning and itching. "Fruit-a-tives" removes all impurities from the blood, tones up the stomach, improves digestion, and regulates the bowels. "Sootha-Salva" kills the germs of Eczema, allays the burning and inflammation, and stops the intense itching. If you are suffering with Eczema, no matter what you have tried for it, take the advice of Miss Mattice and use the wonderful combination of "Fruit-a-tives" and "Sootha-Salva."

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. "Sootha-Salva" is 50c a box Sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

IS ALL EUROPE AGAINST WILSON

MEXICAN PAPERS SAYS GREAT BRITAIN, FRANCE AND GERMANY ARE IN ACCORD.

Mexico City, October 24—The controversy between the United States and Great Britain appears to be having the effect of convincing the Mexicans that the European nations are coming into line with England in opposition to the United States. Under the headline of "Entire Europe is on the side of Mexico," El Independiente says:

LONDON INTERESTED.

"In London everybody is taking note of the posibility of Anglo-American complications. The United States has not taken into account that at the back of England there are many other nations interested in the solution of the Mexican problem. On this line it is known absolutely that three chancelleries are working in perfect accord—namely, those of London, Paris and Berlin. Back of them are the great European alliances and the Anglo-Japanese alliance. It would be neither diplomatic or prudent to defy these great nations."

El Independiente quotes various London newspapers, the following extract being credited to the Daily Graphic:

"If England does not oppose the expansionist policy of the North Americans, she will lose the commerce she has with Mexico and Central America. It is certain that the efforts of the Americans are directed to secure a rich oil well, and if possibl the control of the traffic of the Tehuantepec Railway, the victorious rival of the Panama Canal."

THE OPERA STARS.

Leo Slezak, known the world over as the giant Czech tenor, the idol of Vienna and Berlin and one of the most popular members of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, will appear with the National Opera Company of Canada as Lohengrin and Othello, the two parts in which he achieved the greatest success of his career.

Marie Rappold, dramatic soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company and for four years one of the greatest stars of that institution, will appear with the National Opera Company of Canada as the "street singer" in Ponchielli's "La Gioconda" and as Elsa in "Lohengrin."

Jeanne Gerville-Reache, principal contralto of Hammerstein's Manhattan Opera House, Boston Opera Company and the Chicago-Philadelphia Company, will be principal contralto of the National Opera Co. of Canada. She will appear as Dalila, the part which she created in America when that magnificent opera was produced at the Manhattan Opera House.

Luisa Villani, wonderful young lyric soprano, who is the favorite at the famous Italian opera house, Teatro La Scala, and former member of the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, who sang in almost every principal opera house of Europe, Central and South America, will sing the roles of Butterfly and Desdemona.

Rosa Olitzka, one of the best known contraltos on both sides of the Atlanntic, has sung at Convent Garden, London, Opera in Paris, Metropolitan Opera House, New York, Boston Opera Company and Chicago-Philadelphia Opera Company. She has been especially engaged to sing Ortrud in "Lohengrin" and La Cieca in "La Gioconda."

Helen Stanley, one of the younger members of the Chicago-Philadelphia Opera Company, who during two short seasons has achieved fame as a full-fledged star, has been engaged to sing "Thais" with the National Opera Company of Canada.

Guiseppe Gaudenzi, principal tenor of the Boston Opera Co. and Chicago-Philadelphia Opera Company, is one of the most prominent Italian tenors. He will appear as Pinkerton in "Madama Butterfly."

Mishaska Leon, the young Russian tenor, is one of the discoveries of the director of the National Opera Company of Canada. He will appear as Nicias in "Thais" and as Samson in "Samson et Dalila."

Max Salzinghoff, the eminent baritone who sang in all of the principal opera houses in Europe, will appear as Sharpless in "Madama Butterfly" and as Telramund in "Lohengrin."

Dora de Phillippe, French lyric soprano, who created the role of "Madama Butterfly" in America, will appear in several roles.

Jane Noria, American dramatic soprano. She sang at the Opera and Opera Comique in Paris and at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Maria Claessens, mezzo-soprano of La Scala, Milan, Teatro Colon, Buenos Ayres, and the Metropolitan and Boston Opera Houses. She is well known in Montreal, where she sang with the Montreal Opera Company

"THE HAPPY HUNTERS"

A whimsical sporting frolic in which Matthew Ott has woven a delicious comedy around an outing by a party of hunters, whose experiences happened to be pretty strenuous, especially as complications galore arose before the party got fairly settled in their first camp. Yet with all the complicated situations and side-splitting surprises, "The Happy Hunters" are ever on the spot with merry dances, novel figures and pretty musical numbers, rendered by a company of players, many of whom have been secured from grand opera especially because of their remarkable range and quality of voice and tone.

"The Happy Hunters" will prove a refreshing surprise in every particular.

It will be given Friday and Saturday of next week.

IMAGINATION NEARLY KILLS WOULD-BE SUICIDE.

San Bernardo, October 24—Imagination nearly killed Rex Langbehn yesterday. A druggist arranged to save his life by filling an order for carbolic acid with a harmless fluid. Langbehn sent a farewell note to his wife, drank the liquid and apparently suffered all the agonies of poisoning. He was rushed to the county hospital where it was said he would require a week to recover from the mental shock. Langbehn lives in Cromberg, Cal., and formerly resided in Detroit.

AVERAGE GIRL NOT FIT FOR MOTHERHOOD.

Chicago, October 24—The first sex hygiene lecture in the local public schools was delivered in the Coonley School today by Dr. Caroline Hedger to parents of school girls. She said:

"The average Chicago girl is unfit for motherhood. The material for motherhood is discouraging. There are two causes for the inefficiency of Chicago girls for motherhood. These may be traced to the school and the home. In neither place have the girls been conserved. People have been so carried away with the economic necesity in the last fifty years that a girl has never been considered as a race factor. She has been judged as an earning power, but not as a future mother.

"Girls may be divided into three classes as to future motherhood. To the first class belong the girls who are so fine that nothing hurts them. These girls may go through college without harm. If of necessity they enter the economic mill to earn their own living they come out without physical injury.

"The second class of girls ought never to marry. They were never intended to reproduce their kind and become a factor in the race. They are nervous, tubercular and irritable.

"To the third class belong the army of women who have weaknesses, but who are not unfit to take their places in the scheme of life. They should think of marriage and learn of the divinity of motherhood."

ANOTHER IMPROVEMENT ON THE QUEBEC AND LAKE ST. JOHN RAILWAY

On Wednesday last, the Quebec & Lake St. John Ry. inaugurated a Buffet Observation Parlor Car Service, on their morning train, between Quebec and Chicoutimi.

These Buffet Observation Parlor Cars have been specially designed to give all the comfort possible to the traveling public of the Quebec and Chicoutimi Line.

A thing which particularly characterizes these cars, is their observation platform. This platform will give a good opportunity to the travelers to see the beautiful panorama of the Lake St. John Region, through which this line runs, and will render their trip more pleasant.

Another point which is also to be considered is their Buffet. Excellent "A LA CARTE" meals will be served at moderate prices, and the great variety of food shown on the Menus, will be of first choice.

The architecture of those cars is also of exquisite taste and of palatial style.

The Quebec & Lake St. John Railway Co. did not spare anything to make these nice cars comfortable in every respect to the Traveling Public, and sincerely hope that it will be appreciated.

This shows that the New Management of this Railroad is doing everything possible to ameliorate its service and give entire satisfaction to its patrons. oct23x3

BY-LAW NO. 449.

CONCERNING THE ANNEXATION OF VILLE MONTCALM TO THE CITY OF QUEBEC.

(Drawn up in the French Language.)

At a meeting of the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, held at the City Hall, in the said City on the 10th day of October, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (1913), in conformity to law and in virtue of a by-law passed by this Council pursuant thereto, and after the due observance of all the formalities prescribed by the statute in such case made and provided, at which meeting were present two-thirds of the members composing the Council of the City of Quebec, that is to say:

His Worship the Mayor, Aldermen Beaumont, Campbell, Cannon, Collier, Cote, Dinan, Dussault, Emond, Fiset, Gauvin, Gosselin, Lantier, Lavigueur, Lockwell, Madden, Morin, Piamondon, Pouliot, Trudel, Verret.

DRAFT OF BY-LAW

Concerning the Annexation of the Town of Montcalm to the City of Quebec.

It is ordained and enacted by the Municipal Council of the City of Quebec, and the said Council ordains and enacts as follows:

1. After the approval of the present by-law by the majority of the municipal electors of the town of Montcalm who are proprietors, and who shall have recorded their vote on this by-law in the manner prescribed by law, and especially in accordance with section 71 of the Act 51-52 Victoria, chapter 78, it is enacted that the territory now comprised in the limits of the Town of Montcalm, shall, through the operation of the law, and in virtue of the present by-law, be annexed to the City of Quebec and shall form part thereof to all intents and purposes. The said Town of Montcalm shall then be one of the wards of the city of Quebec, and shall be known and designated as "Belvedere Ward."

The said annexation shall be effected on the following conditions, to wit:

2. The said ward shall be represented in the Council of the City of Quebec by two aldermen, in conformity to the Statute 1, George V, chapter 59, section 27, sub section 3a.

3. The first election of the two aldermen after the annexation shall take place under section 72 of the Act 51-52 Victoria, chapter 78, and shall be effected in the manner prescribed by law, by the municipal electors of the territory so annexed who possess the qualifications required by the charter of the said City for voting at the elections of such Aldermen respectively, according to a list previously prepared by the secretary-treasurer of the annexed municipality who shall transmit the same to the City Clerk after having subdivided the polling districts in accordance with article 5378 of the Revised Statutes.

4. When the said Aldermen shall have been so elected and shall be legally entitled to sit in the City Council, the secretary-treasurer of the Town of Montcalm shall hand over to the treasurer of the city all the minute books, registers, assessment or valuation rolls, archives, papers and all documents whatsoever belonging to the Corporation of the Town of Montcalm, as well as all sums of money which may then be in his possession in his said capacity of secretary-treasurer, and from and after such delivery, all sums of money due and to become due to the former corporation of the Town of Montcalm shall be payable to the City Treasurer only.

5. After the election of said Aldermen, the assets and liabilities of the Town of Montcalm shall be consolidated with the assets and liabilities of the City of Quebec, and that City shall be vested with the rights and be liable for the obligations legally contracted by the Town of Montcalm.

6. From the date of the annexation to the 30th of April, 1914, no other taxes shall be levied upon the inhabitants of the new ward than those imposed by the Council of the Town of Montcalm for the fiscal year 1913-14.

7. During the seven (7) years following the 1st May, 1914, the immoveables of the new Belvedere Ward on which one or more buildings are erected, shall not be valued, either as to their real value or yearly or leasing value, for an amount higher than that at which they are now entered on the valuation roll of the Town of Montcalm. Lots of land on which one or more buildings are erected within three (3) years from now, shall during the remainder of the said years, be entered on the valuation roll at their real value.

8. During the ten years following the 1st May, 1914, the lands not divided into building lots and used solely for farming purposes, shall continue to be valued at the same rate as that for which they appear on the valuation roll of the Town of Montcalm, notwithstanding any improvements thereon, either as regards farming purposes or in connection with the houses and other buildings actually on them or those which may replace them for the same purposes, during the said ten years.

9. The buildings and lands which are to have the privilege of a certain valuation for a certain number of years on the conditions set forth in articles 7 and 8 hereinabove, shall, during the said years, be assessed at the rate of ½ of 1% (one-half of one per cent.) for assessment on immoveables, and ½ of 1% (one-half of one per cent.) for water rate on water and drainage, based upon the value mentioned in the valuation-roll. This last mentioned tax on buildings surrounded by large tracts of land shall be imposed according to the mode actually practised in the city of Quebec, and as regards the lands upon which the water from the waterworks and drainage are not yet introduced, the water rate shall be one-eighth of one per cent. upon their value.

10. The waterworks now existing in the town of Montcalm shall become the property of the City of Quebec, remain as separate as they are now; they shall be fed from the present sources and shall be maintained in good and effective condition and, except in case of fire, shall be used solely for the service of the Ward so annexed, and that so long as the City Engineer will judge it convenient in the interest of the efficiency of the general service of said Ward.

11. During the five years following the annexation, the City of Quebec shall spend an amount of at least two hundred and fifty thousand dollars on works of a permanent nature required in the ward, at the rate of at least one hundred thousand dollars for the first year; seventy-five thousand dollars for the second year; forty thousand dollars for the third year; twenty thousand dollars for th fourth year, and fifteen thousand dollars for the fifth year.

12. The Corporation of the City of Quebec shall introduce and maintain the water of the waterworks and shall construct and maintain sewers for drainage as well as cesspools, and put hydrants in the streets and avenues of the new ward when it shall deem the same expedient.

13. Within the limits of the new ward, the St. Foye Road, the St. Louis Road, the Belvedere Street, the Levis Avenue in Montcalm Park shall be paved or macadamized during the year 1914, as needs be, provided the water works and drainage systems shall have been introduced therein in a permanent manner.

14. The other streets shall be opened, paved or macadamized as need for the same arises.

15. All the streets and avenues of the new ward shall be as well lighted as those of the other wards of the City.

16. During the first year following the annexation, a fire alarm system shall be organized like the system of the City of Quebec, and at least as perfect.

17. During the year following the annexation, the City of Quebec Corporation shall improve the fire and police services of the new ward.

18. The City of Quebec shall ask the Provincial Government to not grant any licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors within the limits of the new ward.

19. Proprietors or occupants of farming lands shall, during the ten years following the annexation, pay no taxes or licenses whatever for the live stock or moveable effects used for farming such lands, except for water rates.

20. Carters, hackmen, bakers, milkmen, and other persons residing in the Town of Montcalm who may have obtained licenses from the City of Quebec previous to the annexation, for plying their business, trades or occupations in the said City for the current fiscal year, may obtain from the city the repayment of the amounts they have paid over and above that paid for such licenses by persons residing in the City of Quebec.

21. MINUTE SUBSTANCE SOURCE OF CURES

RADIUM INSTITUTE OF LONDON BOASTS OF HAVING FOUR GRAMMES.

London, Oct. 24.—The wonders of radium never cease. Its curative properties are believed in by the highest representatives of the medical science, and while the amount possessed in concrete form is infinitesimal, the results obtained are claimed to be wonderful. The London Express prints the following:

Sir Frederick Treves outlined the future of the Radium Institute recently in the course of an informal report of the work of the institute given to a small invited party, which included an Express representative.

The whole of the side of Riding House-street, opposite the queen's hall, has been bought by Lord Iveagh and Sir Ernest Cassel for eventual extension purposes, so that as the work of the Radium Institute grows, the building will spread over the sites where now a garage, a chapel, an eating house, and a tailor's shop stand.

Among the more important developments are the creation of

1. Instruction classes where the use and application of radium may be learnt.

2. A research officer for the curative side of radium.

Sir Frederick Treves told briefly how the institution originated at the wish of King Edward VII., had been built and equipped by Lord Iveagh and Sir Ernest Cassel. With this endowment the institute had made itself self-supporting.

There will be no beds in the Radium Institute of the future.

"We do not wish to compete with the hospitals," Sir Frederick Treves said.

"Our supply of radium for curative purposes is the largest in the world. We have four grammes—80,000 pounds worth of radium of the highest purity."

Seven Thousand Treated.

During the year treatment has been given to 3,000 paying patients, and 4,300 poor people have been treated free.

"We see nobody, rich or poor," Sir Frederick said, "except on the introduction of a medical man. The poor come here with neglected cases, and therefore they get a great deal more out of the institute than the well to do, whose cases are taken in an early stage.

"The actual number of rich and poor patients at present is about the same—400 of each.

"The institute is open sixteen hours a day, from 8 in the morning until midnight, and the staff consists of 3 doctors, 5 women nurses, 3 men nurses, 3 laboratory staff, 2 clerks and 5 porters.

"Denmark, the United States and Germany send radium to the institute to be mounted, for it is the finest equipped building of its kind in the world.

"Radium is the one thing of today that cannot be insured, nor can you insure anybody against mishap caused by using radium.

"Because we can not insure it, we find it impossible to lend our radium; and because the hands of the people who work with radium all day long are affected by its use we have to close down for a month each year.

"Our people often get their hands burnt, and the only thing to cure them is to keep them away from radium for a time.

"We have been attacked for closing out premises, and leaving £80,000 worth of radium unproductive for a month, but we can not find a single locum tenens for our posts.

"The work is highly specialized and requires difficult training. We must close for a month in August."

One of the most interesting announcements that Sir Frederick Treves made was that the "emanation," or gas, from radium is as good for curative purposes as the radium itself.

"It solves, in a measure, the question of the limited radium supply," said Sir Frederick. "Radium is, indeed, the 'burning bush that is never destroyed.' We have invented hollow plates. Into these the radium gas is drawn, and it is fixed there by liquid air.

"The emanation is not permanent. It falls to half strength in three and a half days.

"We are now supplying emanations for curative purposes all over England. In ten days we send out thirteen pieces of apparatus containing radium emanation, representing 860 milligrammes, which is equivalent to £17,200 worth of actual radium.

The price is £12 12s for twenty-four hours' use."

More radium miracles were related of the treatment by radium water, made in the institute, which is 5,000 times as strong as the best-known mineral water.

"Out of every 100 cases of rheumatic gout 40 show a most marked benefit," Sir Frederick said.

The treatment consists of drinking half a pint of radium water six days a week for six weeks.

An Express representative who tasted a glass of radium water—water which has been aerated by the actual gas of radium—found that its flavor resembled the still German and French mineral waters.

FARM HOUSE IN LONDON!

It Is the Last One and Is Doomed to Destruction.

London, Oct. 24—Central London is to lose an interesting link with the past by the disappearance of a farm house from Bloomsbury, and it will be news to most Londoners that an old Georgian building, which once stood in its own orchards and fields, with cowsheds attached, has survived so long within a mile of Charing Cross.

The building stands at the back of the premises of Messrs. Heal and Son, furniture manufacturers, of Tottenham Court road. For some time past it has belonged to the firm, and now they are reluctantly pulling it down in view of necessary rebuilding arrangements.

Mr. Ambrose Heal, a great grandson of the founder of the firm, who has known and loved the old building all his life, read a paper on its history when the London Archaeological Society visited it a few months ago, and this paper, reprinted with photographs, drawings and old maps, is an interesting memorial of a landmark that is so soon to disappear.

So far as can be ascertained, the house was built about 1770, but the farm was there much earlier, for there are references to Christopher Capper, who grazed cattle here, in the London Gazette of Oct. 5, 1693. About the middle of the eighteenth century the farm was in the possession of the Misses Capper, two maiden ladies, of one of whom J. T. Smith in his "Book for a Rainy Day," writes:

"They wore riding habits and men's hats. One used to ride with a large pair of shears after boys who were flying their kites, purposely to cut their strings; the other sister's business was to seize the clothes of the lads who trespassed on their premises to bathe."

Apparently the farm house, as it stands today, was built by William Mace, a carpenter, who in 1776 was granted a lease by Gertrude, Dowager Duchess of Bedford—"in consideration of the great expense he hath been at in erecting a farm house on part of the field known as 'Cantelowe Close.'" It was a condition of the lease that he should provide sheds for at least 40 cows, and a similar clause stands in the lease today, though the time of keeping cattle in Bloomsbury is far past.

By the end of the eighteenth century farming was being crowded out of the Tottenham Court road district, and the cowsheds became livery stables for the well-to-do tradesmen who rode or drove into business daily from their country homes.

For many years in the middle of the last century the grandfather of the present head of the firm of Heal lived in the old farm house. In 1871 the cowsheds gave place to a factory, but the farm house was allowed to remain, and, with its quaint old furniture, was used among other things for a board room and staff dining room. Now, at last, it is to disappear, and a model bedding factory will rise in its stead.

HARD ON THE REPORTER.

There is a well-known business man in a certain town who, though somewhat advanced in years, insists on superintending personally every bit of his business. He is more than a little hard of hearing—though he will not acknowledge it—and he is kindly but brusque.

The other day a situation developed in this gentleman's office which was of more or less public interest. One of the evening papers immediately despatched a representative to get a statement from him. The reporter chosen was a young man, and not so self-assertive as he might be. Having gained admission to the presence, the young man said:

"I am a reporter from the Evening ——, and I ——"

"Speak louder, young man!"

"I am a reporter from——"

"That's too bad. I can't help you out. We advertised for a porter yesterday, but we filled the place this morning. Besides, I think you are too young and under-developed for the job. Try the building across the street—I understand they need an office boy there. Good Morning!"

THAW WANT DELAY.

Governor Felker ordere the application reduced to writing, and gave counsel until ... to file the request with him, ... it will probably be granted.

"SOCIETY WOLF," A KEEN SWINDLER, IS SUED BY WIFE

She Demands Divorce From Harry Silberberg, Who Used Name of J. Coleman Drayton as One of His ...Aliases.

$4,000,000 RAILROAD IS HIS LATEST PROMOTION

Samuel Newman, Last Wife's Father, Says She Is on Verge of Collapse.

New York, Oct. 24 -Harry Silberberg, declared to be one of the most accomplished swindlers in the world, who has been known as "The Society Wolf" and has used the aliases James Jaffrays Williams, J. C. Davis and J. Coleman Drayton, has been sued for divorce in the Supreme Court here by Mrs. Florence Sophie Williams, daughter of Samuel Newman, of Rothschild & Newman, cotton merchants.

In the papers, Silberberg is called Williams, as it was under this name he married Miss Newman. A woman of promience in London, where Silberberg has been living, is said to be named as co-respondent.

Mr. Newman said yesterday his daughter was at home and declined to give her address, asserting she was on the verge of collapse.

Now It's a $40,000,000 Railroad.

Silberberg recently has been promoting a $40,000,000 railroad in Chili. He maintained a luxurious home in London, where his wife lived with him for seven years, leaving him when she discovered his alleged relations with the other woman.

"The Society Wolf" was born in Atlanta, Ga. His father was a rabbi, who during the civil war became a blockade runner and accumulated a fortune. At his father's death Silberberg became owner of a chain of stores in Kansas, Missouri and Arkansas.

After spending his partimony Silberberg turned up at Rochester, where he was known as J. C. Davis. He married a wealthy widow, forged drafts for $4600 and was arrested, but his father-in-law got him out of prison. Then his wife divorced him.

Next Silberberg married a countess in Venice. She, believing him very rich, had divorced her husband to become his wife. On her advice he began calling himself J. Coleman Drayton. He opened a gambling house, did not prosper and went to London. There he was arrested for a swindling transaction in Germany. He was extradited and served three years in prison.

Out of Prison, He Marries Again.

After his release Silberberg went to Texas, where he married again, still calling himself J. Coleman Drayton Gov. Thomas, of Texas, appointed him a special commissioner to raise funds for a mining exhibit at the Paris Exposition. The funds he collected never reached Paris. Later he stumped Montana for Senator William A. Clark, who made him editor of a newspaper.

Silberberg next got into print when he lost $100,000 on race tracks here. A Mrs. Susette, convinced he was the real J. Coleman Drayton, and believing his promise to marry her, went around the world with him. "Mr. and Mrs. Drayton" were entertained much in India, where Silberberg won 66,000 rupees at gambling. Finally he reappeared in London as James Jaffrays Williams, promoter, and married Miss Newman. In London he was recognized as Silberberg by ex-Judge E. P. Coyne, of New York.

W. C. T. U. CONVENTION.

New York, Oct. 24.—Addresses by delegates from foreign countries held the attention of the W. C. T. U. convention at its session tonight. Baroness De La Laveleye of Belgium told of saloon conditions in her native land. Miss Agnes O. Slack of England, declared the organized liquor land, declared the organized liquor traffic is woman suffrage's greatest enemy today. Mrs. Ormiston Chant of England asserted that the English women as a whole are opposed to militancy in their fight for the ballot. Mrs. Gordon Wright of Canada reported that the W. C. T. U. had established itself as far north as Dawson, Alaska.

Dinner Given in Berlin for Mr. James W. Gerard by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark Grew Attended by the British Ambassador and Danish Minister.

AMERICAN NAVAL ATTACHE ALSO ENTERTAINS

(Special Dispatch.)
BERLIN, Oct. 25.

MR. AND MRS. JOSEPH CLARK GREW were the hosts at the first official dinner given for the United States Ambassador, Mr. James W. Gerard. Among the guests were the Under Secretary of State, Herr Zimmermann; the British Ambassador, Sir Edward Goschen; the Danish Minister and Countess Moltke and Baroness Speck von Sternberg.

The party was augmented later in the evening by a number of guests who came in for dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Grew left for London on a short leave of absence to meet their children, who are returning from America.

The United States Ambassador was the guest this week also of Lieutenant Commander Walter R. Gherardi, the United States naval attaché, who entertained at the Royal Automobile Club at déjeuner the Ambassador and his staff. The Ambassador in his address before the American Luncheon Club pronounced it the most delightful and brilliant entertainment he had ever found awaiting him.

MERCHANTS GREET AMBASSADOR.

Officers and directors of the American Association of Commerce and Trade went yesterday in a body to the embassy to pay their official respects to the new Ambassador. The party was composed of Mr. I. Wolf, Jr.; Mr. W. A. Derrick, Mr. W. C. McCann, Mr. Hans Schimmelffeng, Mr. Richard Siering, Mr. George S. Atwood, Mr. Simon L. Bernheimer, Mr. W. B. Kugemann, Mr. A. L. Peters, Mr. John G. Simon, Mr. A. C. Wilkie, Mr. Henry E. Schmidt, Dr. Schneider, Mr. J. M. Daffron, Mr. Paul Koning and Dr. George A. Kubler.

Mr. and Mrs. John Selmes, of New York, who are stopping at the Hotel Esplanade, entertained at dinner the Consul General and Mrs. Thackara. The American Ambassador was among the guests, as also were Mrs. Harry James Luce and Miss Margaret Ludee, of New York. Mrs. Thackara received a call this week from Mrs. Charles Bartlett, of Worcester, Mass.

Miss Helen McFadden gave a thé dansant for young women of the Willard School, and the other hostesses of the week in American circles were Dr. Alice Luce, who is receiving for the first time since returning from a summer sojourn in America, and Mrs. Cleves Symmes and Mrs. Arthur Fickenshor, of San Francisco, who had among their guests many well known musicians.

MUSIC AND ART.

The German-American Society in large numbers responded to the invitation of Herr Fischer Arenburg to participate in a musicale and view the collection of his paintings. The host, who is well known in tennis and sporting circles, belongs to the team of the Berlin Hockey Club, which at present holds the European championship. He has also achieved much distinction as a painter and his canvases have revealed a particular facility for landscapes and interiors.

Among the guests was Prince Friedrich Carl of Prussia, who has just returned from Leipzig, where he participated in the riding tournament.

Others noticed viewing the pictures were Mrs. A. M. Thackara, who had with her Mr. and Mrs. John Selmes, of New York, and Mrs Eginton Willing Spencer; Mrs. Stephen S. McFadden, with Mrs. George J. Bultman and Mrs. H. V. Fisher; the American Consul General in Dresden, Mr. T. St. John Gaffney; Mme. Sela Beeth, Mr. Lamer Winslow, Dr. K. O. Bertiling, Herr Leo Frobenius, the African explorer, and Colonel von Dewitz, prominent in German aviation circles.

UNIVERSITY RECTOR INDUCTED.

On Wednesday the ceremony of handing over the title and insignia of rector magnificus of Berlin University to the new incumbent of the office took place in the large auditorium. This is a rotating and elective office and now passes from Count Baudissin, of the theological faculty, who is well known in the American educational world.

Professor Archibald Cury Coolidge, the newly arrived exchange professor from Harvard at Berlin University, was among those present.

Much interest has been caused here by the announcement issued by the American Institute that Herr Carl Diem, general secretary of the sixth Olympian games, will speak next week on impressions received during his recent trip to America as one of a commission appointed to study athletic sports there.

Many well known persons attended the wedding of Fraulein Irma von Luttwitz to Herr Gustav Braun von Stumm in Hamburg. Baroness von Stumm, widow of the famous German steel king, Baron von Stumm-Halberg, and the grandmother of the bride elect were present, as were Count and Countess Adalbert von Sierstorpff, Frau von Schubert, Mrs. H. K. Devereux and Miss Aileen Devereux, of Cleveland; Baron and Baroness von Schlotheim, who was Miss Clinton Paine, of Baltimore, and Mr. W. J. Clemson, of Taunton, Mass.

The six bridesmaids are all well known in the younger set. Court and society included Princess Daisy Hohenlohe, Fräulein Sylva von [illegible], who was one of the ladies in waiting at the wedding of Princess Victoria Luise; Fräulein von Heimburg, Baroness Esther von Luttwitz, a cousin of the bride; Fräulein Ida von Schubert and Fräulein von Lucius.

They were dressed in pink and wore pink tulle veils, thus reproducing the color scheme used at the wedding of the bride's mother, who was Miss Mary Cary, of Cleveland, prior to her marriage to Colonel Baron von Luttwitz, commander of the so-called Hamburg regiment. The newly married couple left immediately for an automobile trip through Southern France.

Frau von Gontard has returned from Langenschwalbach, whither she was called by the death of her father, Adolphus Busch.

DR. ALLEN'S ART LECTURES.

Dr. George H. Allen, director of the Berlin branch of the Bureau of University Travels, commenced his course of lectures on the Berlin museums. As in previous years, these art talks are attracting a large number of Americans who are preparing for spring tours in Italy and Greece.

Mrs. Eginton, who, with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Charles Whitehead, has been passing some months in Weimar and Dresden, is at the Hotel Adlon.

Mme. Aino Akte, the Finnish diva, who will be the drawing card in the third programme of the series of élite concerts being given this season in the music room of the Hotel Esplanade, has arrived here.

Miss Lucy Brown has left for America to see her sister, Mrs. John Morrison, of Beaver, Mass., and Mrs. W. J. McCroskey, at East Orange, N. J.

Signor Enrico Caruso, who is to sing at a number of performances at the Berlin Royal Opera, is stopping at the Hotel Bristol, where also are registered Mr. and Mrs. Le Grand Burton, of Chicago; Mr. R. L. Bacon, of Chicago; Mrs. T. B. Wright, of San Francisco, and Mr. T. L. Dickinson, of Brooklyn.

CHANNEL TUNNEL HAS AN ADDED IMPETUS

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.

STRONG indorsement of the Channel tunnel scheme was heard at a meeting of the United Wards Club of London before a large attendance in the pillar hall of the Cannon Street Hotel. Mr. H. S. A. Foy, treasurer of the "Entente Cordiale" and formerly president of the club, emphasized the advantages of the tunnel, and the debate that followed showed that his ideas had made a profound impression.

After summarizing previous efforts to promote the tunnel project, extending as far back as 1802, when a French engineer named Mathieu brought it to the attention of Napoleon, Mr. Foy showed the fallacy of the old objections to the tunnel based on military grounds. Then he emphasized the commercial and social advantages to both France and Great Britain.

The total expense would be less than $90,000,000, he said, and the time of construction between six and seven years. The commerce of England and France and of the entire world, he thought, would be greatly benefited and a tremendous increase in imports and exports would be facilitated.

Mr. Foy said that the number of passengers now crossing the channel was number of travellers from England to France and vice versa would increase sixfold with the completion of the tunnel. He added that he did not believe the channel steamship lines would suffer, but argued for the advantages of tunnel travel in bad weather, or when time was a prime consideration. The trip from Paris to London would take approximately five hours, via the tunnel route. The proposal is for forty to fifty passenger trains to run through the tunnel daily, with another train schedule for merchandise.

Fragile merchandise and perishable products, such as fruit, would greatly benefit by the tunnel route, Mr. Foy continued, as there would be no necessity for shifts and unloading from train to steamship.

POOR NAT! A DOG HAS NO PRIVILEGES TO-DAY

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.

A DIRTY looking, unkempt, wire haired terrier got himself into trouble the other day for knocking a box of eggs off a stall in a shop and attempting to make a meal of them, and went off howling from a kick in the ribs. The unknown dog is now believed to be Nat, who disappeared from his home at Lancaster Gate Gardens some weeks ago.

Why Nat should have taken it into his head to leave a comfortable home and risk the prison cell by stealing eggs is more than his owners can comprehend. Nat's fondness for raw eggs is inherent, not acquired, and the fact that he—assuming, of course, that it should be he—should be obliged to steal them, points to his being in a very sorry plight.

Nat's description has been circulated, but he has not yet been found.

No Feathers.

Judge:—"The umpire calls a foul," said she, "Yet not a feather do I see."
"Correct!" he answered; "even so! But this is a wicked bias, you know!"

Royal Bridal Couple Centre of Interest as They Begin Their Happy Honeymoon

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.

THE royal wedding is having a far reaching effect on the autumn season, as it has brought in a way nothing else would have done many persons back to town much earlier than is customary, the assemblage of royal personages being responsible. There will be a certain amount of official entertaining of the royal personages during the autumn, and these also will be the guests at several private entertainments, and themselves in turn will give dinners and luncheons during their stay in London. It is customary for the foreign guests of a sovereign to remain for a time in a private capacity when the State functions end, and their retirement to private life always is the signal for a round of gayeties, though the presence of the English royal family has no permanent prospect.

Meanwhile on the breezy, wind swept links of Sandwich Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught have been passing the first part of their honeymoon at Rest Harrow, Mr. Waldorf Astor's lodge overlooking the bay.

The royal couple have made themselves immediately popular with the villagers, showing not the least concern at the small crowds, mainly women, coming around the grounds to catch a glimpse of them. Short automobile trips and golf practice have made up their days, with rests in the garden, where there is not much privacy. There they are seen, the Prince enjoying his briar pipe and the Princess occasionally accompanying her husband by smoking a cigarette by his side.

A charming incident was one when the royal couple's automobile passed the gates of the lodge and an aged woman, who never had seen one of the royal family since Queen Victoria, came all the way from Ramsgate and waited patiently for four hours, standing on the edge of the road and made an old fashioned curtsey, saying "God bless you." The Prince and Princess heard the exclamation and turned, and the Princess gave a pretty bow and a winning smile, while the Prince raised his cap in acknowledgment, to the great joy of the woman.

Now that the Prince has been promoted to the rank of major it is considered highly probable that he will be called soon to leave his regiment, the Royal Scots Greys, to take up a staff appointment in the War Office. This will be a source of regret to the Prince, but will mean his constant presence in London, which will please everybody. Also it will mean that the bride couple will not require a house leased on the outskirts of York. With considerable regret the Scots Greys will part with the soldier Prince, who has made himself exceedingly popular in all ranks of the regiment.

The return of the Prince and his bride to London will be the occasion of much entertaining. The royal couple will take a beautiful house in Mount street, where they will begin housekeeping. The Princess Royal may be counted on to do something to entertain them, and the establishment in town of the newly married couple will add greatly to the zest of the little season.

The Princess of Pless, the beautiful daughter of Colonel Cornwallis-West, who returned to London in time for the wedding from the rest cure at Buenos Ayres with her sister, the Duchess of Westminster, said to your correspondent:—

"I am remaining in London a fortnight before going to my home in Silesia. Perhaps you can tell me," said the Princess, "why it is the newspaper photographers insist on snapshotting persons getting on and off steamships whether they want to be photographed or not. Really it is hardly fair, for you get the most atrocious photographs, and they are circulated as an exact likeness. When I saw the cameras ready to snapshot me I put up my arm for protection, but not a bit of it. The photographs came out more ridiculous than ever, and no one understood why I was walking with my arm up in such an absurd fashion."

There is a surprise, the Princess said, waiting for competitors in this year's deer stalking exposition in Berlin. The German Emperor killed one of the largest stags ever known in Germany on the grounds adjoining the Prince of Pless' castle in Silesia. The Emperor is confident of winning first prize, as this stag's head has twenty-six points. It took three days to get the stag, and it was on the third day, after attending church, that the Kaiser continued his pursuit and killed the stag. If he had gone to church on the first day he might not have had such exciting sport.

Though less of the American language is now heard around the hotels and though business so far as Americans are concerned has slackened a bit, the season has been the busiest and most lucrative to the London hotels ever known. It began earlier than usual and also closed earlier; at any rate, great numbers were carried off on the latest westward voyages of the Atlantic giantesses. The Imperator, the Lusitania, the Mauretania and the Olympic made a big gap, which even the numerous arrivals from the Continent have not nearly filled. Mr. Heln, managing director of the Piccadilly Hotel, said:—

"It certainly has been a remarkable season, though the last week has seen a sudden change. American travellers are considerable, as our accommodation proves, and there were several occasions when we had to turn away as many as fifty or sixty arriving from steamships and who had not taken the precaution to engage rooms in advance. During July and August it is always advisable to write or cable for accommodations and then we do our best, for it is unpleasant to tell weary passengers arriving in the middle of the night that there is no room."

Mr. Kramer, manager of the Carlton Hotel, said:—

"The season has been busier than even in coronation year. Americans came early and entertained lavishly."

Mr. Kroell, of the Ritz Hotel, said:—

"There has been no dull month this summer. August, which was expected to be quiet, was one of the busiest months ever known."

"This was easily a record season," said Mr. Kaiser, manager of the Cecil.

King George Has Rival for Royal Shooting Honors in an Archduke

Empress Marie of Russia Expects to Pass Remainder of Her Life in England with Her Sister, the Queen Mother —Prince of Wales at Oxford.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.

THE King, who, as every one knows, is one of the keenest of sportsmen, and a remarkably good shot, will welcome at Windsor in November the Archduke Franz Ferdinand, the Austro-Hungarian heir-apparent, who is regarded on the Continent as the best all-round shot anywhere.

If the Archduke proves the cleverer exponent he will deserve all the credit in view of King George's very high reputation as a shot, and by reason of the fact that he will himself be shooting under entirely novel conditions.

The Archduke has visited England before, but it is very difficult to trace whether he has ever shot pheasants before, and he certainly has never done so with King George.

As a rifle shot, the Archduke Franz Ferdinand is probably much better than King George, not, perhaps, through natural aptitude, but because he has unrestricted opportunities of practice. The King, on the other hand, is limited to a little deer stalking and an occasional shoot on a Colonial or Indian visit. But when it comes to the use of the shotgun, King George probably starts with a few points in his favor.

Pheasant shooting at Windsor will prove to be very different from what it is in Austria. In Austria it is not the custom, as a rule, to hold big drives with stationed guns awaiting the swift and powerful birds as they sweep across a clearing or over the end of a wood.

It is understood in Court circles that the Empress Marie of Russia, at the earnest wish of her sister Queen Alexandra, has definitely decided to pass practically the whole of her time in the future in England. Special suites of apartments for her accommodation are being provided at both Marlborough House and Sandringham. She purposes to dispose of her magnificent castle at Gatchina, some thirty miles from St. Petersburg, where she has passed much of her time during her widowhood. This royal residence is filled with art and other treasures of very considerable value, and it is the present intention of the Empress to transfer the bulk of these to England during the next few months. She is to present her country estate, near Swadia, in the Crimea, to her only surviving brother, Prince Waldemar of Denmark, who will represent the Danish Court at the forthcoming royal wedding.

If rumor is to be believed, half the royalties in Europe will be visiting London this winter. The latest addition to their number, according to court gossip, is the Dowager Queen of Denmark, widow of King Frederick VII., who will be entertained here by Queen Alexandra in October or November. King Christian's mother is a remarkable woman in many ways. She is certainly the tallest European queen, for she stands well over six feet, and is said to be the wealthiest.

When she married King Frederick, at the age of eighteen, she was the greatest royal heiress of her time. Her fortune at that period was estimated at $15,000,000, and since then she has increased it to $28,000,000 by careful management and judicious investment.

Not many are aware that Prince Albert, in addition to being an enthusiastic sailor, is a very keen engineer. Indeed, his bent is all toward mechanics. During his holidays at Balmoral the Prince amused himself by fitting up an almost complete workshop. In every way he is a handy man, and he delights in fixing up the broken thing, in doctoring the fractured engine. Now that he has returned to the Colingwood it is expected that he will devote himself chiefly to the engineering branch of the navy. Among his friends on board the vessel he has been nicknamed "The Lobster," owing to his vivid complexion under the rays of the sun.

The Prince of Wales intends to do much footballing this season and has just selected his sporting attire. Among this is a variety of shirts with soft turndown collars. But it is only for such sport that this class of shirt is ever worn by members of the royal family. Even when shooting at Balmoral it is never used by the King or his sons.

There is high authority for stating that Prince Arthur of Connaught will ultimately succeed his father as Governor General of Canada. Indeed, this is one of the reasons for his marriage being hurried forward, since it was made a condition when the appointment was first mentioned to him that he must be married before he took it over.

The Duke of Connaught also has decided, so it is understood, when he relinquishes his appointment in Canada next September, to bring his lengthy public career to an end. The sugestion was made to him some time ago that he might ultimately become Viceroy of India, but the Duke declined to consider it, as he has done the proposal that he should become the King's representative in Ireland under the Home Rule regime. He proposes to pass most of his leisure at Bagshot Park, where he is ambitious to establish a stud farm where he can raise horses of a type likely to be of service to the army.

There seems to be some doubt whether Princess Patricia will accompany her father and mother to Canada; but if she does remain behind she will not be long in following them out. She is too devoted to her mother to remain long away from her, especially as she is still far from strong.

Princess Patricia is one of the greatest royal sportswomen in Europe, though, like many other members of the royal family, she does not like "killing things." That is why she is seldom seen on the moors. Nor does she fish, but there are few of her sex who can beat her as a golfer or cyclist. She charmed herself into the affection of the Canadians by her skating, but it is in her dancing that she excels.

Excepting Queen Mary, she is the best dancer in the royal family. That she has more than a fancy for some of the new steps is pretty well known, although she only has a chance of dancing them when she goes to the houses of some of her American friends, like Mrs. Jack Leslie and Lady Granard. It is probably because she is so graceful that nobody realizes she is so tall. She is really the tallest Princess in Europe.

ENGLISH PHYSICIAN ARRAIGNS THE WOMAN

Her Morality, He Says, Is Personal and Domestic, and He Decides Against Suffrage.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, Oct. 25.

"PRACTICALLY every man feels that there is in woman—patent or hidden away—an element of unreason which, when you come upon it, summarily puts an end to purely intellectual intercourse."

Thus, in startling, outspoken phrase, Sir Almroth Wright, the eminent physician, condemns woman in his book, "The Unexpurgated Case Against Woman Suffrage."

Speaking of "woman's disability in the matter of intellect," he says woman's mind:—

"Is ever influenced by individual instances;" "arrives at conclusions on incomplete evidence;" "has a very imperfect sense of proportion;" "accepts the congenial as true and rejects the uncongenial as false;" "takes the imaginary which is desired for reality;" "treats the undesired reality which is out of sight as nonexistent."

Thus woman's mind, says Sir Almroth, builds up for itself in this way, when biased by predilections and aversions, a very unreal picture of the world.

Woman's morality, says he, is personal and domestic, not public, and while she will "rise and respond to the call of any strong human or transcendental personal affection," it is "only a very exceptional woman who would, when out to her election between the claims of a narrow and domestic and a wider or public morality, subordinate the former to the latter."

In a severe indictment of the suffrage movement, Sir Almroth says there is mental disorder evident in the programmes of the militant suffragist, and immorality in her aims and methods.

"Woman," he adds, "feels no interest in and no responsibility toward any abstract moral ideal.

"If woman had to fight for her position," is another of his conclusions, "her status would be that which is assigned to her among the Kaffirs."

Marchioness Townshend, criticising Sir Almroth's indictments, says:—

"The statements made by him are so astounding and almost enough to take one's breath away. Woman has been fighting her way ahead—and not without success—for a good many years. Her status is not among the Kaffirs, however. Does Sir Almroth Wright forget what brilliant successes women have achieved outside their own home? I am not rabid in my desire that women should have the vote. At the same time, I think there should be an equality of sexes."

Mrs. Luke Paget, wife of the Bishop of Stepney, says:—

"Women are different from men, and hence they have a necessary and different contribution to make to the good of the whole. We hold that this contribution should be direct and not indirect, a matter of responsible conviction, and not of hidden and yet insistent influence. Indirect control has left disfiguring marks on her character. Indirect influence commonly ends in the unworthy methods of intrigue."

Miss Ruth Rose, women's secretary of the World's Students' Christian Federation says:—

"It is impossible not to recognize that the trend of things indicates increasing co-operation in public affairs between men and women. It is also clear that such co-operation is expected to justify itself by the raising of the standard of public life. Women, therefore, are on their trial. There are four ideals which every woman who proposes to devote either the whole or part of her life to the public service must set before her. They are (1) a just habit of mind; (2) the sense of proportion; (3) the idea of truth, and (4) the ideal of patience."

Products Compared.

Washington Star:—"Of course," said the salesman, "anything handmade is sure to be superior to what is made by machinery."

"Not always," answered the musical person. "If you start up a music box it generally plays something in the way of a standard composition. But when anybody sits down at the piano and turns out something by hand, the chances are that it will be ragtime."

Of Course He Did.

Judge:—Charlie, aged six, asked at the soda water counter for a cone of ice cream. The clerk, not catching his order, asked, "Do you want two cones?"

"I want two," said Charlie, "but I've only got one nickel."

MILLION IN BONDS FOR FUTURE BRITISH KING.

London, October 24—King George will shortly invest more than $1,000,000 in stocks and bonds for the benefit of the Prince of Wales. The purchase will be made in the name of Leopold de Rothschild, who has lately become associated with the conduct of the financial affairs of the royal family. The money represents accumulated revenues from the Duchy of Lancaster, which is the property of the Prince of Wales, but the latter will not have complete control of the income until he reaches his majority.

INDIGESTION, GAS, DYSPEPSIA GONE
"PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN" FIXES SICK, SOUR, GASSY STOMACHS IN FIVE MINUTES.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

CLOSING LETTER.

Received over the private wire of Neuville Belleau & Co., brokers, 93 St. Peter st., Quebec.

New York, Oct. 24—Again professionalism governed the course of prices and caused an opening market directly contrary to public expectation.

However, after the first quarter hour there was selling from various sources and the advance (which was limited at the best) was checked, the market becoming dull and heavy and declining fractionally to about last night's closing.

The market withstood the reports of war with Mexico, which were later denied, also the Vanderlip currency proposition, which may cause dissension in Congress and delay the passage of any remedial legislation and in the afternoon dealings turned firmer and regained its lost position.

Steel sold 57¼, Union Pacific 151⅝ and Reading 162⅛, being gains of ½ to 1 point.

Business was very dull throughout, only 180,000 shares being handled up to 2 o'clock.

London sold about 15,000 shares.

Copper metal sold 17 cents and exports increased for the week 2351 tons.

Money is returning from the interior and the banks have gained $1,800,000 cash so far this week, including government payments.

The $10,000,000 bond issue by Chicago Northwestern has been easily disposed of by the bankers.

The statement by Secretary of State Bryan that Huerta would not accept the election to the Mexican Presidency helped the bulls in the late dealings and Baruch and his followers were reported as bidding prices up.

The buying of 7000 American Can common was said to represent covering of shorts by a large trader.

Judge Gary's speech was not unfavorable on the outlook, putting the blame for depressed conditions on the politicians.

Mr. John Claflin states that the dry goods situation is very good, stock on merchants' shelves low and disposed to be cautiously buying supplies.

The closing was closing at the best prices, with disposition to buy stocks more in evidence.

A few items of encouragement would go a great ways towards reassuring the public and the public is really anxious to be reassured.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

McDonald & Lesperance, stock brokers, private wire to New York and Montreal, Hochelaga Bank Building. Telephone 1227.

(Canadian Press Service.)

New York, Oct. 24—Fluctuations of stocks today were irregular. Opening with an advance, the market fell below yesterday's close, and during most of the day's session made little progress in either direction. The close came with an upward swing in prices, and the leaders ended the day with material gains.

Professional traders shifted frequently, and were evidently perplexed as to the immediate course of the market. The technical position appeared to have been weakened by extensive covering recently. There were plenty of sellers whenever the market showed the capacity to take stocks. On the other hand substantial depression in any quarter served to uncover buying orders. Weakness of various investment isues, among which Pennsylvania was most prominent, served to hamper operations for the long account. The only definite movement of the day was that of the last hour, when the market broke away from the conflicting influences bearing upon it, and showed signs of important strength.

There was little connection between the various developments of the day and movements of stocks. Traders accounted for the early advance by referring to the plan for a central government bank, presented by President Frank A. Vanderlip, of the National City Bank of New York, which was reported to have found favor with some members of the Senate committee which has the currency bill before it. President Wilson's uncompromising opposition to this plan, as made known later in the day, nullified the effect of this factor. The new record for foreign trade shown in the September statement had a sustaining influence. Despatches from Mexico were regarded as disquieting, but Secretary Bryan's giving out a telegram this afternoon, setting forth the Mexican executive's determination not to participate in the election as a candidate, was a factor in bringing about the upturn in stocks during the final hour.

New Haven reached a new low record at 81⅛, as did the convertible 6's at 104¾. Confirmation of the reports that the Pennsyvania was contemplating a huge bond issue was followed by renewed depression of the stock at 107¾, although it did not reach the year's low point. Later it rallied strongly. Rock Island stocks and bonds were buoyant, rising 1¼ to 3½ points.

Bonds were irregular with support for some recently weak issues. Total sales, par value, $1,860,000.

United States 2's advance ½, Panama 2's ¼ and Panama 3's coupon ⅛ on call.

DOHAN'S CLOSING LETTER.

Received over the private wire of M. L. Dohan, broker, Dominion Building, St. Peter st. Phone 4748.

New York, Oct. 24—An improving tendency developed in late afternoon and the most notable feature of it was that the stocks which had previously been the weakest were among the leaders of the recovery. This indicated that selling had been largely of a bearish kind and that floating supply was smaller than traders in general had supposed. Rock Island issues recovered with considerable vigor, but best feature of the market was pronounced recovery in Pennsylvania. The pressure on latter stock had not shaken out any considerable amount of that issue and confidence of investors remained unimpaired. The rally was chiefly a result of assurances given by President Huerta that even if elected to the presidency he would not accept the office, and that he was in sympathy with plans of United States Government.

Money closed at 3 per cent.
Total sales 277,886.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.

Received over the private wire of McDougall & Cowans, Stock Brokers, 81 St. Peter St. Quebec. Tel. 246.

New York, Oct. 24—The market was fairly active and generally higher than last night's close. The Street took a cheerful view of the reception accorded by the Senate Finance Committee to Mr. Vanderlip's plan for a central bank and were inclined to think that the Mexican situation was more favorable than it has been of late. Stock was encountered on the advance, however, and when news came from Washington that Mr. Wilson was as strongly against any radical change in the bill as it left the House, as he had ever been, the early advance was lost, and stocks turned dull and during most of the day ruled near to last night's final level. The final dealings were strong with general net gains showing throughout the list. Total sales 293,000.

ELECTION IN ITALY MOST ACTIVE ONE

THREE TIMES AS MANY AS IN 1909 WILL POLL VOTES — CATHOLIC CANDIDATES.

Rome, Oct. 24.—The campaign for the general elections which will take place next Sunday is a most active one, due to the widespread participation in it of all classes of the people of Italy. It is foreseen that the number of persons who will cast ballots will surpass that of any former election. It is estimated that about six million persons will vote Sunday, three times as many as did so in 1909.

The Socialists are making a fiery propaganda, but their efforts are being neutralized by splits in their party. The Republicans also are divided, half of them favoring and half opposing the conquest of Libya by Italy.

Candidates of the Clerical party are running in nearly sixty constituencies, but the Osservatore Romano, desiring to reiterate the impossibility of the Clerical party being represented in the Italian Chamber of Deputies, publishes tonight a statement, evidently inspired by the Vatican, saying that the designation "Catholic candidates" as given to certain persons standing for election, is inadmissible, even if their principles deserve the support of Catholics, which is allowed in some constituencies under certain circumstances and under prescribed rules.

This statement is an important one, being an official admission of the prohibition of Catholics to vote except in those constituencies in which they will be permitted to support either a purely Clerical candidate or a candidate whose principles and individual opinions are guarantees that he will not oppose religion or morality. What the Vatican still strongly prohibits is that the deputies so elected shall be considered to form a Catholic or Clerical group for whose actions the Holy See will be held responsible.

WREAKING REVENGE ON SUFFRAGETTES

BRISTOL STUDENTS SMASH OFFICES OF SUFFRAGETTES AND BURN FURNITURE.

Bristol, Eng., Oct. 24—Students of Bristol University today avenged the burning of the sports pavilion of the university yesterday by suffragettes by smashing the windows of the offices of the militants, dumping the furniture in the streets and making a bonfire of it. The stduents were cheered by large crowds as they wreaked their vengeance upon the suffragettes.

RITUAL MURDER TRIAL.

Mass of Irrelevant Matter Bores the Jurymen.

Kiev, Oct. 24—While public interest in the trial of Mendel Beiliss on a charge of murdering Andrew Yushinsky has not abated, it is significant that it is now chiefly centred in Vera Tcheberiak's connection with the case. Much of the time of the court today was occupied with the reading of depositions of Karavayoff, a notorious criminal, who is now undergoing a sentence of exile, who assisted former Chief of Police Krassovsky in his investigations of the case. They added nothing of importance to the evidence already adduced.

A long discussion took place concerning the incorporation in the record of the copy of a letter addressed to Karavayoff by Theophilaktoff when he was in prison in January, 1912, and which was seized by the prison authorities. It consisted in the main of an incomprehensible jumble of words, the tendency of which was to discredit Karavayoff. The mass of irrlevant matter that is being introduced at the trial is visibly wearying the judges and boring the jurymen.

QUEBEC PROVINCE MAN DIES IN ALBERTA

Gladys, Alta., Oct. 20.—The death is announced of Mr. John McKeage of Gladys, Alberta, aged sixty-two years, who passed peacefully away at his residence on Sunday evening, October 12th, 1913. He had been in failing health for some months past and was under medical treatment.

Mr. McKeage came to Gladys, Alberta, from Leeds Village, Quebec, in the year 1898. During this time he held many offices of responsibility in the district. He was Church Warden of Gladys Church for several years, trustee of school for many years, Councillor of Local Improvement District and when it was formed into a municipality he was elected Reeve.

He was interested in everything that was for the benefit of the district and gave it his support.

He gave liberally to the church and before his illness was a most regular attendant.

Funeral service was conducted by Rev. W. E. Herbert on Tuesday, October 14th. Pall-bearers were Dr. G. E. McKeage, Robert and Dave Suitor, Rob. John and Isaac Laycroft, all nephews of deceased.

The deep respect that people had for him was shown on that day, when a large number of people attended the funeral.

He leaves a wife, two daughters and five sons, also his mother now ninety-three years of age, six sisters and four brothers to mourn his loss.

OSPREY FEATHERS ARE NOW IN VOGUE

London, Oct. 24.—The publication of photographs of a society bride leaving for her honeymoon wearing a hat adorned by a tuft of what looked like osprey feathers of incredible height and fluffiness has aroused strong indignation in many minds, but West End milliners are not agreed that this is a sign of a "coming vogue."

One milliner has no doubt that the new season would see ospreys worn more than ever and real ospreys inserted whenever the purse could afford it. The bird of paradise, she said, already threatened with entinction, would suffer more than any other; paradise plumes are to be the thing.

Other milliners said it was too early in the season of prophesy, but they all agreed that just now French watering places are bristling with ospreys, usually worn in pairs, and that few women, even if they weighed the matter, could resist the temptation to wear real ospreys.

SPLIT ON QUESTION OF NEGRO BISHOP

AMERICAN EPISCOPALIANS HAVE DEADLOCK BETWEEN BISHOPS AND DEPUTIES.

New York, Oct. 24—A deadlock between the House of Bishops and the House of Deputies, the governing bodies of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was brought about at the general convention today when the bishops voted to establish a separate bishopric for negroes of the South, the bishop of this district to have a seat in the upper house. The House of Deputies a few days ago rejected this plan and asked the bishops to refer the matter to a joint commission which would report at the next triennial convention.

The houses having reached divergent conclusions in what is regarded as one of the most important problems that has ever come before the present convention, one of the two bodies is expected to withdraw its vote and concur in the action of the other. The bishops have asked the deputies to do this. The lower house will consider the matter probably tomorrow. No hint was forthcoming tonight as to what its action would be.

The House of Bishops voted that the Episcopal Church shall sanction religious communities within diocese. This was suggested in a speech early in the convention by Bishop Franklin S. Splading, of Utah, and was introduced later in the form of a proposed canon. The bishops requested the House of Deputies to concur.

Under the legislation voted by the bishops a religious community seeking recognition would have to submit to the church for approval the rules and constitution, no change in which could be made without the consent of the bishop of the diocese containing the mother church of the community. The community could elect a chaplain, who would be responsible to the Episcopal bishop for his ministrations, the same as a parochial clergyman. The real estate and endowments of the community would be held in trust for it by the Episcopal Church.

NOSE SAID TO AID AMERICAN SINGERS.

London, October 24—Mr. Van Noorden, director of the Carl Rosa Opera Company, which has just completed 43 years on tour, has a great opinion of American musical talent. He does not condemn the English as an unmusical people. "Musical, not operatic," is his opinion.

"All the same," he added, "the success of our company convinces me that if opera is going to have a real future in England it must be in English; the audience must be able to follow the story all the way through and the artists must sing distinctly. Artists trained in Paris have the best diction, and for distinct enunciation there is no one who can beat the American artist. The twang in their speech, the way in which they use their noses, seem to make for it, and, apparently, without any effort, they succeed in protruding every syllable perfectly clearly.

CHRISTOPHER'S COMPLAINT.

Lula McStubbins had been a bride but a short time when the startling truth was forced upon her that her young husband was not exactly a teetotaller. One evening, a few weeks after the wedding, the strict old cold-water crank, Papa M'Stubbins, dropped in to call. He found his daughter all alone. After a while he asked:

"Where is Christopher?"

"Well, the fact is, Christopher isn't ...ng very well this evening."

"Is that so? What seems the matter-"

"Well—ea—the fact is—er—Christopher is suffering from a bad attack of—of—propinquity."

"Propinquity, propinquity," repeated the puzzled old gentleman. "That's a disease I never heard of. You must be mistaken."

"Oh, no, father! Let me explain. Propinquity means nearness, doesn't it?"

"I think so."

"And to be near is to be close, isn't it?"

"Em—yes—yes."

"And when we speak of a man as being close we mean that he is stingy, don't we?"

"Certainly."

"And when a man is stingy we call him tight, don't we?"

"I believe so."

"Well," she concluded, with a sigh, "that's what's the matter with Christopher."

ACTION FOR DEATH OF HUSBAND

Dame Emelie Pelletier, widow of the late Philippe Fournier, has entered an action against the Levis Ferry Company for $4,025 damages. Fournier was employed as a guardian on board one of the defendant company's winter steamers and mysteriously disappeared during one night early last spring. His body was subsequently recovered from the river.

IT IS AGAINST OUR CUSTOM

To keep goods too long in stock. It deteriorates and grows out of fashion.

To sell cheaper and renew our stock oftener. It is our policy and we believe it good. Following is a proof—
