World News In Brief

Cabano, Que., May 27.—This little mill town on the shores of Lake Temiscouata, ravaged by fire May 9, was visited by Prime Minister St. Laurent yesterday and told that federal aid would be forthcoming.

The Prime Minister, who made an automobile tour of the town's ruins and inspected tents where some 1,500 homeless take their meals, spoke from the church square and expressed sympathy for residents who lost their homes and praised their courage.

It was the first time Mr. St. Laurent had visited the town, only 65 miles away from Montreal where a two-day fire destroyed a third of that city.

Montreal, May 27.—A desperate 35-hour fight for life ended last night when R.C.M.P. Constable Alex Gamman died in hospital here of bullet wounds inflicted by a would-be bank robber Thursday noon.

The 58-year-old veteran of 14 years with the R.C.M.P. was shot three times at point-blank range when a gunman came running out of the Bank of Toronto branch on downtown Beaver Hall hill.

The constable, an unarmed member of the protective detail at Montreal's Bank of Canada head office near the Midway scene, was on his way home for dinner when he heard a shot coming from the bank.

Oak Ridge, Tenn., May 27.—A strike by 3,000 workers on a vital atomic plant construction job spread to other building projects yesterday, virtually halting all construction work here.

The Atomic Energy Commission reported that American Federation of Labor Workers on an atomic laboratory, a high school and 450 new dwellings joined the wildcat walk-out which began Wednesday on a $227,000,000 atomic plant project.

Involved in the additional work stoppage is $20,000,000 in construction, making a total of "about a quarter of a billion dollars" in building affected by the strike, an A.E.C. spokesman said.

Montreal, May 27.—Provincial police said last night a series of nine thefts in summer cottages at Cedarville, Lake Memphragog, in Stanstead County, had been solved with the arrests of two youths. One is from Montreal and the other from the Eastern Townships.

Detective-Sergeant Maurice Valquette said the two will be arraigned in Sherbrooke police court today, charged with nine burglaries which netted loot valued at $3,000.

The arrests were made by Sgt. Steno Brasseur and Detective Rene Coupal of the Provincial Police Sherbrooke detachment.

The loot, made up of various household articles, was seized in Montreal and Sherbrooke.

Rail Probe Is Entering Last Stage

Ottawa, May 27.—Another week of hearings by the Royal Commission on Transportation closed yesterday with indications that the commission would end its inquiry June 1—a year from the day it began taking evidence.

The Canadian National Railways had not completed its main case laid yesterday, and all that remained were miscellaneous submissions by the railways and the seven provinces engaged in the inquiry.

At the conclusion of evidence, the three-man commission under Hon. W. F. A. Turgeon will get down to writing its report and recommendations on national transportation problems.

In the closing stages of its final argument, the C.N.R.:

1. Completed a two-day summation on its proposal for a $1,000,000,000 capital reorganization of the national line.
2. Advocated legislation to give the railways greater freedom in negotiating "agreed charges"—special low freight rates given shippers in return for a fixed proportion of their traffic.
3. Supported proposals for having the Board of Transport Commissioners establish uniform accounting methods and statistical procedure for the railways, with a view to providing greater comparability of the results of their operations.

4. Opposed recommendations from seven provinces for tighter policing of a 1933 statute ordering the two big railways to undertake joint economies. The C.N.R. said there was a considerable field for exploration in this respect, but held that co-operation must be voluntary.

5. Proposed legislative amendments that would give the Board of Transport Commissioners power to set rates for the carriage of mail and the armed forces. These now are set by the government.

Hugh O'Donnell, senior counsel for the C.N.R., wound up an 11-hour presentation on the reorganization plan—main point in the company's case before the Commission. Henry Friel, company counsel, argued the other points.

Mr. O'Donnell reiterated the company's view that its reorganization would not injure the finances of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which has been arguing that the C.N.R. might get into such a favorable position that it would refuse to go along at rate levels necessary for the Canadian Pacific.

Today, he introduced figures indicating the C.N.R. would have an estimated deficit of just $112,000 this year had the reorganization and the current level of freight rates been in effect from the start of 1950.

The latest rate of increase of 3.4 per cent was awarded only yesterday by the Transport Board.

Closing Of Czech Consulate-General In New York Likely To Result From Latest Crackdown Order.

Washington, May 27.—(AP)—The United States was reported set today for a new crackdown on one of the Soviet-bloc countries—this time Czechoslovakia.

Officials indicated the Czech Consulate-General in New York might be closed as one possible result of a demand by Prague for a second reduction in the American diplomatic staff in Czechoslovakia.

The Consulate-General is the last establishment Communist Czechoslovakia has in the U.S. aside from the embassy in Washington. Consulates at Pittsburgh and Cleveland were shut down this month after an enforced two-thirds cut in the number of American official representatives in Czechoslovakia.

The latest exchange presumably would mean the closing of the American consulate at Bratislava, leaving only the embassy at Prague, manned by a skeleton staff.

Authorities ruled out the likelihood of an order restricting movements of Czech officials in the U.S. to a 35-mile radius around Washington, such as was ordered yesterday for the Romanian staff of seven persons here. The Czechs, unlike the Romanians, thus far have not hampered the movements of Americans in their country.

The sole certainty was that the State Department was set to go a step further with the tough, tight-fort policy toward the soviet satellites which has been followed in recent months.

Czechoslovakia, charging that Americans have been involved in espionage against the Communist regime, last month ordered the Prague and Bratislava staffs cut from a total of 76 to 26.

The American response May 13 was to order a proportionate reduction by the Czechs in the U.S. The closing of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh consulates followed.

Last week Czechoslovakia demanded a further cut, to a maximum of 12 Americans and seven locally-employed aides.

The travel ban against the Romanians was announced yesterday by James Webb, Undersecretary of State.

While he indicated there might be still further reprisals in the making against the Soviet bloc, Webb said there is no present plan to limit the movements of Russian Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin and his staff.

One of the largest in the country, the Soviet embassy numbers nearly 40 officials, aside from dependents.

All of these persons remain free to travel whenever they wish in the United States.

The embassies were ordered not to stray more than 35 miles beyond the capital boundary, except with specific permission from the State Department.

Deficits On Television Are Likely

Ottawa, May 27.—The CBC expects that it will pile up deficits during the first five years of operations in the field of television, the Commons committee on Radio Broadcasting was told yesterday.

A. D. Dunton, CBC chairman, said he believed that by the end of five years revenues would be sufficient to balance expenditures.

The CBC has been authorized to construct one television station in Montreal and one in Toronto. It is hoped to start operation by Sept. 1, 1951.

It was estimated that the operating costs of the Montreal and Toronto stations would total $1,500,000 in the first year; $2,175,000 in the second year; $2,825,000 in the third year, and $3,000,000 in the fourth year.

A $4,500,000 loan obtained from the government last year to cover the initial cost of television likely will be used on capital expenditures and installations.

Mr. Dunton estimated that another loan of $5,500,000 may have to be obtained from the government to help cover operating costs in the first few years.

He was asked by members from various parts of the country when the CBC was likely to build television stations in points other than Montreal and Toronto. He replied that the CBC was anxious to develop television and could do so fairly quickly if the money to cover initial costs is voted by Parliament.

But whether television would be developed by private stations alone, or by private stations and the CBC probably would depend a lot on the report of the Royal Commission on Arts and Science.

Mr. Dunton said the Montreal and Toronto stations will serve as production centres which will be able to provide television service to stations in other parts of the country through the use of kinescope recordings.

He believed it would be better to establish television transmitters in various parts of the country and service them with recordings from production centres. Later the transmitters could be joined in a network either through use of coaxial cable or through micro-wave radio lengths.

The CBC hoped to establish a network between the Montreal and Toronto stations. If this is done the network will pass through Ottawa and provide service to the capital.

Mr. Dunton said the CBC board of governors could not dictate to parliament how the CBC should be financed. But the board was basing its estimates on the equivalent of $10 per television home annually. This would be in addition to commercial revenues.

Whitsuntide Focal Point

In this aerial photo-diagram, you're looking at Berlin's Potsdam Platz (center) where two western sectors of Berlin converge with Soviet-controlled territory. It's one of the focal points of possible trouble in East Berlin's big Whitsuntide Red rally, to be held May 28-30. Special guard units of West German police, backed by armed forces of U.S. and Britain, have been organized against possible Red invasion.

Canadian Seamen Now Suffering Effects Of Communist-Inspired Strike Of 1949

Gas Ration End May Aid Industries

London, May 27.—Britons received a welcome Whitsuntide gift from the government in the form of abolition of gasoline rationing.

The order—winding up 10 years of "petrol pinching" for the country's more than 2,000,000 motorists—came just in time for the Whitsuntide holiday week-end.

News of this step in the slow relaxation of Britain's wartime economic controls was given in the House of Commons yesterday by Fuel Minister Philip Noel-Baker.

The order came with an agreement between the Labor Government and two American oil companies. The oil firms agreed to furnish additional oil and to take payment in pounds sterling, instead of dollars. A provision of the agreement was that rationing be ended.

Noel-Baker said in Parliament that no change in the existing price of gasoline is being considered. The fuel now costs three shillings (about 45 cents) a gallon.

Noel-Baker said Britain's stocks are ample to meet the anticipated rush of thousands who have been saving their rations for a summer holiday trip.

The oil companies concerned are the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and the California Texas Oil Company. Spokesmen for the firms said they will use the additional sterling they earn through the end of rationing to build sea-going tankers in Britain and to buy equipment for their oil fields.

Early Move Is Needed Over China

Ottawa, May 27.—The disastrous communist-inspired seamen's strike of 1949, which paralyzed ports both here and abroad, produced an ominous echo in the Commons yesterday.

It seeped into debate as Transport Minister Chevrier, giving an outline of Government shipping policy, told of Canadian seamen who now are losing their jobs because of their association with that long-drawn, hard-fought walkout.

This is developing through the transfer of Canadian merchant ships to British registry. Efforts are being made to have Canadian seamen stay aboard the ships, but the British Seamen's Union is "doubtful" about taking them into their ranks because of a fear of communist activity.

Mr. Chevrier said he could not blame the British Union.

He added: "I know that the great majority of Canadian seamen are not communist, but the lesson to be learned from what occurred is that men who allow themselves to be misled by communist leaders must suffer the penalty for their mistake."

Ninety-three registry transfers already have been approved and 23 others are pending. The Canadian Maritime Commission estimated that not more than 1,500 Canadian seamen would be put out of work by the transfers.

Mr. Chevrier made the statement as the Chamber continued item-by-item study of his departmental estimates.

Earlier, the Chamber gave first reading to a bill amending the Canada Grain Act and third and final reading to measures modernizing the Aeronautics Act and providing for another vice-president in the National Research Council.

In the opening stages, Finance Minister Abbott and Justice Minister Garson both said they were not aware of any request from Manitoba for an interim grant for flood relief.

Supreme Court Decision On Taxation Powers Deferred

Ottawa, May 27.—A move to extend the powers of the provinces in relation to taxation and other matters will be considered by the Supreme Court of Canada following a two-day legal battle between federal and provincial lawyers.

In the Supreme Court yesterday Chief Justice Thibaudeau Rinfret and six other justices reserved their decision on a submission by the Nova Scotia Government that the Dominion and provinces should be permitted to exchange their legislative powers.

Ontario and Alberta supported Nova Scotia, while opposition was raised by the Federal Justice Department. Argument centred around a bill introduced by the Nova Scotia Government in 1947, which was subsequently ruled out by the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia as "unconstitutional."

Chief Justice Rinfret said the principle involved was "one of the most important ever brought before this court." He said the court had to deal "with an entirely new problem which must be decided in accordance with the present status of the British North America Act."

The court decision is not expected before June 30. It is expected to have a major bearing on the outcome of the Dominion-Provincial constitutional conference, adjourned until later this year.

If the Nova Scotia bill is approved, it may permit the Parliament of Canada to delegate authority to provincial legislatures to make laws in regard to employment; and to raise provincial revenue by imposing a retail sales tax

Allied Armor Prepared To Halt Drive On West Berlin

Berlin, May 27.—(AP)—Allied Armor stands guard on the Western city borders tonight with guns pointing eastward where 200,000 Communist-led German youth gathered for their Whitsuntide march.

No trouble was expected by western commanders; Communist leaders ordered the youngsters to stay out of West Berlin.

The only war thus far was one of words between East and West. Yesterday saw these developments:

1. British authorities sent armored cars and steel-helmeted soldiers to back up West Berlin's German police at traditional trouble spots.
2. The British Commandant, Maj. Gen. G. K. Bourne, claimed the Communist Freie Deutsche Jugend (Free German Youth) rally would result in "clear victory" for the West.
3. The East launched a weird propaganda campaign charging the West is dropping potato bugs from airplanes to destroy East-zone crops.
4. Several members of the Soviet zone "People's Police"—which the three Western powers contend is a new illegal German army—deserted to the west.
5. The three Western Allies countered the Communist "peace and unity" campaign with new demands to Russia that all Germany be unified through free elections and guarantees of individual freedom.

Both the West and East in this divided focal point of the bitter cold war agreed on only one thing: There probably would be no big violence in the week-end celebration scheduled to climax in a six-hour march of up to 500,000 East-German boys and girls.

Communist Youth in blue shirts and black shorts who already have poured into Berlin wandered about the Eastern sector or marched in small, disciplined groups.

The West was taking no chances on a possibility that the East zone Communists might revive their original threat to storm the Western sectors of the city. This line was dropped more than two months ago after the Western Allies said they would meet such an attempt with force.

The day's oddest development came when Soviet-sponsored East German propaganda agencies led by Gerhart Elsler, the Communist who jumped ball in the U.S. to become East Germany's propaganda chief, charged the West with a potato-bug attack on the East.

The East's radio and press poured out thousands of words on the charges that U.S. planes had dropped millions of potato bugs on East zone crops in "an attempt to sabotage our food supply."

It drew amazed laughter in the West, and an official air force comment of "ridiculous."

Lapalme Is Offered No Opposition

Quebec, May 27.—Premier Duplessis announced yesterday the Quebec Government will offer no opposition to a bid by Liberal Leader Georges-Emile Lapalme for one of the eight Liberal-held Legislature seats.

Mr. Lapalme, 43-year-old member of the Federal Parliament for Joliette-L'Assomption-Montclair was chosen last Saturday as the Quebec Liberal party's new leader. He still occupies his Commons seat.

Premier Duplessis said at a press conference that if one of the eight Liberal members of Quebec's 92-member legislative assembly is ready to resign to make way for the new leader, the Union Nationale party will not oppose Lapalme.

He said the government would issue writs for a by-election immediately to supply the new Liberal leader with "a chance to enter the Legislature."

"If no Liberal member wants to offer his seat to the new chief," the premier added, "the conclusion is easy to draw."

Strong Forces Counter-Act Russian Pressure On Reich

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
 Associated Press News Analyst

It would be far-fetched to draw too close an analogy, but something of the whole world pattern is involved in the Berlin situation this week-end.

Months ago Communist-led Youth Movement officials in Russia's East German zone announced plans for a major demonstration. Some of them got all worked up over the prospects that it might turn into a putsch by which they could take over the whole city.

It still is designed to work up a German fever against the Allied occupation, Russia having suggested that all conquering troops be removed. Russia, of course, has established a corps of Moscow-dominated Germans who would look after her interests—in fact take over the city—in such an event. The Allies have only anti-Russian sentiment and a certain foetus of democracy among the Germans with which to work.

The Russians are using typical Hitler methods to organize and arouse the East Germans. They are playing on the German military bent with military police and uniformed glider corps, just as Goring did when he was rebuilding the Luftwaffe. They have officially removed the political stigma of Nazism to attract the support of Hitler's remnants.

But top Communists have clamped down on the Putsch talk. East-German police, mindful of the determined and well-organized defense masses taken by the West Germans and the Allied occupation forces, apparently are working

Defence Act Revision Is Odd Affair

Ottawa, May 27.—Even that legendary landmark of soldiering, omnibus section 40, is moving to another address and getting its face lifted under the most sweeping revision of military law in years.

Old soldiers, now members of the Commons, are moving steadily through a vast bill to put military discipline and legislation for all forces into one code instead of three. They have found that section 40, the catch-all section for soldier crimes, is only one of numerous sacrifices on the altar of uniformity. It's now section 118.

And the navy even has to refer to a ship as "it." Its discoveries like that that set the members talking. They reminisce. They chuckle. They ask hosts of questions.

Four law officers from the Defence Department answer the barrage. These in brief are some of the exchanges:

A. No, pack drill isn't being abolished. The Act neither provides for it nor excludes it. (They all laugh). It can be covered by department regulations. (Groans and laughter).

Q. This clause says a serviceman must put forth this "utmost exertions" in the face of the enemy. How can you tell? A Canadian corvette challenged a battleship in the last war. The battleship, fortunately, turned out to be British. If a corvette didn't challenge an enemy battleship would that be a crime? A. It wasn't the corvette's duty to challenge a battleship.

Q. This refers to a vessel as "she." Since when has a ship ceased to be a "she"? A. It's a navy sacrifice to uniformity. The clause refers to convoys and they include far more than His Majesty's ships. But the navy's ships, sir, are she's. The feminine gender has no basis in military law but it has in naval tradition.

Q. This makes it unlawful for an officer to accept gifts. Isn't it possible to allow him to accept even retirement gifts legally? A. It's always been forbidden. Open the door and you might start a move to "very undesirable developments."

Q. Can a soldier refuse to be inoculated for religious reasons? A. Yes.

Q. Desertion is covered in a general section. Why has there a separate clause for the navy? Do more navy men desert? A. (With naval warmth) On the contrary. Because the navy goes to sea and it's hard to replace deserters there, we are underlining the crime. The navy's desertion rate, sir, is the lowest. Q. Leonard Stick (L-Trinity-Concept): "I don't know what you think; early Newfoundland got quite a number of em to citizens from naval deserters." Naval answer: "British navy, sir."

Q. Isn't this old section 40? It is, the "conduct to the prejudice of good order and discipline" clause that takes in everything the others miss. Now its penalties are being made the same for all ranks, that is up to discharge with disgrace.

The navy used to know it as section 87, the army and air force as section 40. But it's 118 for all three now.

Waterloo Kiwanis Club Was Host To The Winners Of Montreal Club's Public Speaking Contest

Waterloo, May 27.—The Waterloo Kiwanis Club held its weekly meeting on Tuesday night at the Canada Hotel, when a very special program was enjoyed by a large number of the regular members, as well as upwards of twenty-members from the Kiwanis Club of Sherbrooke.

President Mike Cardinal was in charge of the enjoyable evening and the president of the Sherbrooke Club, Kiwanian Len Keeler, also said a few words on behalf of the boys from the visiting club. Two speakers were on hand for the meeting, both of whom were excellent in their addresses. These boys were the two first in the recent Public Speaking Contest held by the Montreal Rotary Club, in which there were thirty-eight contestants, representing thirty-eight schools, and the speakers present were first and second respectively.

The first speaker Robert Burns, was representing D'Arcy McGe High School, and was runner-up in the contest, and his subject was "Be Bilingual - Be a Good Neighbor." He said that Canada is no longer a nation of one race, but rather it is founded on the relations of two separate languages, living together as one and, doing a good job of it. "There is a positive value in bilingualism," stated Robert Burns, "and it is no one's fault but our own if we don't learn to speak the two languages as there are about nine million teachers of the English Language and about four million French teachers, most of whom are free and only too glad to help you." "We know and fully realize," the speaker pointed out, "that ignorance breeds distrust, something Canada can well do without. Prevent this fungi of trouble by becoming bilingual, it helps. It will lead toward National Unity, the Utopia to which all Canadians are striving."

The second speaker, Terry Goodwin, won the Rotary's Speaker's Contest, and he is at present attending Loyola College. His subject was "What I could Tell and Show a Young Russian." "We could show him the modern American and Canadian home with its radios, automobiles, electric dish washers, washing machines, television, and everything we take for granted. But this would not impress the Russian. We would find that it is the spirit of the Russian that is suffering, and cannot be reached by material things, which we would show him in our homes. We could show him his own country with his government, we could show him where it is not Communist, but Beaucrat, one-which has not even begun to live up to its promises. We could open up the doors of our churches and synagogues, and let them listen to an uncensored sermon by our ministers, priests and rabbis, something they know absolutely nothing about. It is unheard of in Russia," Terry stressed, "and it is something in which any Russian would be interested. "We could show him our country and our democratic form of government, which is far from perfect, but so much better than he has in his country today. Yes, our government has all its faults, it is imperfect, but the world and its people too are imperfect. We must be careful and not insult his spirit or his way of life, but we must learn to love and to understand him. What the Russian seeks is basically good," the speaker warned, "but it is not to be found in Communism. Communism stops the very life blood of a country, and Russia is strangulating under the strain. So we study and learn the Russian's way of life, teach him his errors with kindness and understanding, and above all show him the true, the best way of life by a good example."

"Kiwanian Pick Pickford introduced the two speakers who in turn were thanked by Kiwanian Clyde Walker. The students of Grades VII and up in the local High School were invited to attend the meeting. After the dinner, and a very large group took advantage of this occasion to listen to the two boys, who did a remarkably fine job. Next week the guest speaker will be Mr. Romuald Bourque, of Montreal, who has spoken to the club before, and who is a very popular speaker. Another big meeting is anticipated to be on hand for this special speaker. All fines collected at last week's meetings are to be sent to the Rimouski Fund.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY On Tuesday evening, the Waterloo Public Library held its annual meeting in the reading room of the Library, with the vice-president, Mr. Robert Millinchamp, in the chair. The election of officers resulted in the following being elected. Mr. C. W. Slack, Honorary President; Robert Millinchamp, president, A. V. Beale, secretary-treasurer; and the committee is made up of the following members: Mr. O. T. Pickford, Rev. H. Andrews, Rev. E. D. Mitchell, Mrs. Dorothy Adam, Mrs. C. G. Hall, Mrs. E. M. Blake and Mrs. F. R. Graves. The book committee will include Mrs. Graves, chairman; Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Adam; and Mr. Millinchamp is chairman of the Ways and Means committee. On Maintenance committee are Rev. Mr. Andrews and Mr. Beale and the auditor is Mr. R. B. Moysiey. The chairman of the book committee gave her report in which she stated that regular purchases have been made during the year, and that the committee had excellent co-operation with the Librarian, Miss Labelle. It was also decided at this meeting to change the fiscal year, and consequently the annual meeting, from the month of May to that of January. In the report of the librarian, she stated that the circulation for the past eight months was a total of 3,405 books, which showed considerable increase over all. There is a total of 113 members. Miss Labelle pointed out. Thirty-seven books were added to the adult collection, 23 fiction, 10 detective and four non-fiction. In the French section, Miss Labelle reported that Mr. Jean Jolin, is the chairman, and Miss Rita Nantel, the secretary-treasurer; Mrs. H. M. Paquette, Miss Rita Fournier, Mr. Cardinal and Mr. St. Denis, are councillors and Miss Labelle, librarian. The circulation in this new addition to the Library was a total of 1,610 books, which the librarian stated, showed that this had almost doubled, with a "Young Modern" section added. All in all, it was felt that the Library is making steady progress, with memberships increasing, the book shelf remaining modern and interesting, and in general the support is adequate.

Peace Body Uses Pressure Tactics

Montreal, May 27. — The Gazette has reproduced a photostatic copy of a letter from "the Canadian Youth Peace Movement" which demanded that the unidentified recipient attend a meeting under threat of having his name turned over to the R.C.M.P. as "an active member of the communist party."

In a newspaper note introducing the photostat, the Gazette said the "authenticity of this document has been established by R.C.M.P. officials." Name of the recipient, a woman, was erased "to avoid reprisals." The photostat said "The object of the Canadian Youth Peace Movement is to have a major communist party in Canada which will bring lasting peace throughout the land." It called on the recipient to attend a meeting of the body and added: "We must inform you that if you do not attend next Friday's meeting your name, along with the names of other absentees, will be turned over to the R.C.M.P. along with fool-proof evidence that you are an active member of the communist party."

The Gazette also ran an editorial on the photostat headed "Blackmail in the Name of Peace."

Kidnappers Ask Pay In Gold Coin

Mexico City, May 27.—(P)—Two men kidnaped the six-year-old daughter of a millionaire movie house operator Thursday and left a note demanding $18,000 ransom in gold.

The child, Norma Granat, was snatched as she and her nurse left the home of her father, Samuel Granat, owner of a chain of movie houses. The men gave the nurse the ransom demand then drove quickly away with the child. The note gave no instructions for delivering the gold, but warned that if police were notified "the child will be killed."

Police said they had no report of the kidnaping, but it was confirmed by the child's mother. Theatre sources estimated Granat's fortune at between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000.

Mexico's federal law provides its heaviest penalty—30 years — for kidnaping a child.

"I'll give anything to have my child back," Mrs. Granat told a reporter. "If they will only take pity and tell me how Norma is."

The ransom note demanded 400 hundred- peso gold pieces. The gold pieces, worth considerably more than their face value, are no longer minted but can be bought legally.

Ugo Ugolini, the maitre d' at the Villa Nova restaurant, is a dead ringer for Charles Boyer. Other night a woman rushed up to him and gushed: "Oh, Mr. Boyer, that 'Arch of Triumph' just about finished you, didn't it?"

Tall order for the gal who gets the title role in March Robson's next, "Big Blonde." The script calls for "an actress of great talent, busty, but not too husky, who can portray a manner luster." Jane Russell? . . . Bill Periberg and George Seaton will shoot for the whimsy of their "Miracle on 34th Street" in their next, "For Heaven's Sake." Clifton Webb will play an angel whose mission on earth is to get a little girl born to a vaudeville team.

for Eddie "Rochester" Anderson and his wife, tossed by Hattie McDaniel. About 500 guests milled around in Hattie's mansion, tore into the fried chicken and gaped at a painting of Hattie in an abbreviated costume leading a chorus line. Hostess Hattie, in a modish gown far removed from her "Beulah" apron, told the guests: "Have a good time. You've all been thrown out of better joints than this."

Gloria de Haven is gnashing her teeth. Fox cut one of her big musical numbers out of "I'll Get By." . . . The celluloid West is getting glamour. A big gambling saloon in U.F.'s "Frenchie" has 10 Hollywood cuties working as dealers . . . Franchot Tone, who usually growsls at photographers, broke down and let the camera boys, snap him with his new date, Peggy Cummins . . . Maureen O'Hara is being "introduced" to U.S. audiences on TV. "Jamaica Inn," playing the TV circuit, has a title sheet reading: "Introducing Maureen O'Hara." The picture was filmed 12 years ago.

Not Buggy But— I asked Edmond O'Brien if "The Los Angeles Story" is a film biography of gangster Bugsy Siegel. He answered: "It's the story of an anti-social fellow who thinks he has climbed too high to respect human dignity and the simple rules of the game of life. It could be the saga of Siegel or Hitler. Only the Hitler yarn would need DeMille bathstubs to make it spectacular."

Not In The Script: "A good performance in a movie doesn't always mean a person can act. In Hollywood we go on photographing people until they do act."—Director Gordon Douglas.

An audience at London's Palladium wouldn't let Dorothy Lamour survive until she changed from an evening gown into a sarong. Dottie has been trying to shed the sarong girl tag for several years but apparently there's no escape.

Jan Peerce Left Medicine For Career On Opera Stage

By MARGARET DOHERTY
 The medical profession may have lost a doctor, but the musical world gained an artist of the highest calibre, when Jan Peerce, as a young New Yorker, switched from science to music.

It was not an easy transition at first, but great talent and determination won out and today the famous tenor ranks among the top names in the roster of the Metropolitan Opera Company and the whole musical world.

"I suddenly found myself singing," he said, when asked how it all came about. "I studied with Samuel Rothafel, or 'Rosy' as he was better known—the man who conceived the idea of Radio City. I sang at the Music Hall from 1933 to 41, kept on studying with an eye on opera, began travelling with small companies, doing radio broadcasts and finally in 1941 made my debut at the Metropolitan in La Traviata."

Jan Peerce is interested in opera from the standpoint of playing a part but finds his greatest challenge in recitals when the necessary to win over an audience composed of varying temperaments and tastes.

He believes that the Metropolitan, being the only organization of its kind in the world, has helped greatly to develop the standards of the American public, has always strived and will continue to strive for better performances. "It develops the taste of the public through its radio activities," he continued, "reaching many people who could never dream of getting to New York where the Metropolitan is performing."

Mr. Peerce combines a dynamic personality with a great talent. He is friendly, interested in people, not at all temperamental, in fact reminds you of the fellow next door, so little is he affected by his success and popularity.

Essentially a family man, every minute he can spare from his exacting career on radio, operatic and concert stage, is spent at his home in New Rochelle, with his attractive wife Alice, and his three children, Mrs. Peerce in addition to being her husband's staunchest supporter is also his severest critic.

Apart from forgetting a word now and then, Jan Peerce claims that his career so far has been free of any extraordinary or embarrassing happenings. He did remember one episode however, during the heavy snow storm which struck New York a couple of years ago.

He was due to make some recordings in New York for R.C.A. Victor, but was at home in New Rochelle when the snow began to fall about 1.30 in the afternoon. As the storm did not show any signs of abating and taxis were absolutely nil, the tenor decided that although his appointment was only for 7.30 in the evening he had better make tracks for the station if he ever expected to get there. He began to walk, when a milkman came along in his truck—he was having trouble too—and asked where he was going. Milkman and singer threw in their lot together and after three hours, finally made the train.

When Mr. Peerce reached Grand Central Station and the subway there were millions of people swarming around so once again he decided to walk, this time to 6th Avenue. The little stroll of three blocks seemed to take an eternity, but he eventually arrived for the recordings, just in time. It had taken him from 1.30 to keep an appointment which ordinarily meant a drive of from 50 to 55 minutes.

Next stop for the artist is the Carrington, with concerts scheduled for Kingston, Jamaica, and Bogota, Columbia. He then hopes to visit Palestine before the end of the summer.

Toscanini's favorite tenor, as he is affectionately called, was much taken with Sherbrooke and the beauty of the surrounding countryside, as much as he was able to see during his drive from Montreal.

He was also very favorably impressed with the Sherbrooke people and seemed most sincere in stating that he would be very pleased to return in the near future.

Dominion Day To Witness Annual Picnic Of Former E.T. Families Now In Ontario

At a recent meeting of the Planning Committee of the Eastern Township Get-Together Club held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart Glass in Guelph, Ont., it was decided to again hold the annual picnic on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Locke, near Guelph. It was decided however to alter the date of the picnic and it has been planned for the First of July, as this date seems to meet with greater approval from those interested in attending.

This farm, owned by former residents of the Eastern Township, affords an ideal spot for the picnic, with ample parking space prepared, as well as shady picnic places in the groves beside the Speed River, where the basket lunches brought by the picnickers will be spread at mid-day. It is advisable to bring folding chairs, camp stools or blankets, if possible. Good cold spring water or hot water for those who like their cups of tea will be provided.

No admission is charged, the picnic being held as a simple get-together of old friends, former residents of the Eastern Townships, or other parts of Quebec, and now residing in Ontario. However, donations each year are accepted in order to pay the cost of advertising the picnic for the coming year. Prizes for sports and other events are donated by members of the committee and by friends.

A program of contests and games has been planned, principally to entertain the younger generation, but the main diversion for the older folk will be meeting and talking with old friends, many of whom have not met for twenty years or more.

If further information is desired it may be secured by writing to the following officers of the committee: Mr. William Peak, 74 East 34th St., Hamilton, Ont.; Mr. Ralph Libby, 106 East 4th St., Hamilton, Ont.; Mrs. Ewart Glass, 1 Rosewood Ave., Guelph, Ont.; Mrs. Cecil Locke, R.R. 4, Guelph, Ont.; or Mrs. Harold Roarke, Box 144, St. George, Ont.

After the meeting of the committee was adjourned, the members with their families were guests of Mrs. Glass and Mrs. Locke at a delicious buffet supper and a pleasant social hour was spent.

Fire Chief Advises On New Numbers

Fire Chief Percy Donahue wishes to draw the attention of the public to the new telephone number of the Fire Department which is 3-2511. In the case of an emergency, if citizens cannot remember the number or it is not available they should dial Operator and ask for the Fire Department, giving at the same time the correct address and the nature of the fire.

It is necessary for the Fire Department to know whether the fire in question is caused by a chimney, burning rubbish, an oil burner and so on. This prevents them sending out a whole apparatus for a minor fire and then in the case of a second conflagration, having to contact the men on the apparatus to have it rerouted. There by losing valuable time.

The Chief also suggests that every householder should keep a card near his telephone with the fire and police numbers listed.

because the Canadian government gave free tuition in the Royal College of Veterinarians, he chose that course as a first step toward a medical course upon which he had set his heart. He worked his way through and was graduated with highest honors in 1887.

Armed with his diploma and "a bale of debts," the young veterinarian went to Detroit, Mich., and then on to Arizona, and was the first territorial veterinarian there, having been brought to that territory by the Arizona Livestock Sanitary Board for that purpose.

Ending his services for the Territory, he saw the possibilities existing in the unimproved acres of Southern Arizona, and in the years which followed he acquired, by location and purchase, upwards of about 20,000 acres of land, in the Tempe, Mesa, and what is now the Chandler district.

Until illness and advancing age forced his retirement from active business, about five years ago, Dr. Chandler was more interested and active in promoting Chandler's and Arizona's future than any other Arizona citizen.

He pioneered the growing of long staple cotton in Arizona, and incidentally, in the United States. Chandler's great stock feeding industry is the result of his foresight and encouragement.

The plaza in the center of Chandler was his gift to the people of the community. Widely traveled with at least two trips around the world, the last in 1938, and several trips to Europe, Dr. Chandler was familiar with many internationally known figures, including such men as Theodore Roosevelt, Judge K. M. Landis, Owen D. Young, Herbert Hoover, and scores of others.

He was a familiar sight on Chandler's streets, until only a few months ago, and he enjoyed stopping and greeting everyone he knew, his home folks. He never looked back. It was hard to get from him much information about himself, or the things, which he had done.

The fact that it was his constant work, which did more to secure the building of the Roosevelt Dam, and subsequent subsidiary structures, and to build the great Salt River Valley, as it stands today, than any other man, who ever lived in the state, was not generally known, except to those pioneers who saw the work he did during his 63 years of hard work here.

He was married in 1891, to Julia Pope, of Atlanta, Ga. His second marriage was in 1920, to Charlotte Boyd, who died here in June, 1936. He married Rosa B. Bowling, of Denver, in September, 1941, and she survives him. Also surviving are the following members of the family: Harry Chandler, brother of Meza; two nephews, Harry Baldwin, of Coaticook; Austin Baldwin, of Everett, Mass.; and the following grand nieces and nephews, Miss Helen Baldwin, of Boston, Mass.; Miss Natalie Chandler, of Coaticook; Miss Bernice Baldwin, of Montreal; Mrs. Lynn Casadden (nee Vivian Baldwin) of Lindsay, Ont.; Mrs. Richard Elliott (nee Ruby Baldwin), Malden, Mass.; Mr. Stanley Baldwin, of Lennoxville; Miss Jeannie Baldwin, of Montreal; Mr. Morris Baldwin, of Lindsay, Ont.; Miss Irene Baldwin, of Chandler; Mrs. Wilbur Morrier, of Denver, Colorado; Mrs. Jack Propstra, of Pullman, Wash.; Mrs. D. Fullerton of the City of Mexico, D.F., and his stepchildren, Mrs. Dudley F. Taylor and Stephen J. Bowling, of Denver, Colo.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon, at 3.30 from the A. L. Moore and Sons Funeral Chapel, Phoenix, Ariz. Services were in charge of the Rev. Francis T. Brown, rector emeritus, of Grace Episcopal Church, Phoenix, Ariz.

WATERLOO

Miss Rosemary Martin, of Frost Cillage, a pupil of Waterloo High School, is receiving many complimentary congratulations since winning a prize of one hundred dollars in the Cowanville Amateur Musical Contest. One hundred and sixty-three contestants, from various centres of the District of Bedford took part, in the Princess Theatre, in Cowanville, where sixteen of the number won prizes from the purse of sixteen hundred dollars provided by thirty-one merchants in Sweetburg, Cowanville and Dunham. There names appeared on the screen at various times during the auditions, and to whom grateful appreciation was expressed for having encouraged the local talent of Bedford to take part. Various kinds of musical instruments were used and many accomplished pianists were heard, one of whom was Miss Martin, who is a pupil of Mrs. Colwell, of Waterloo.

On Sunday, May 21, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dow, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Campbell and Miss Myrtle Gaw attended the funeral service at Melbourne Ridge, for Mr. Henry Wheeler Fowler.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Chapman and family, on Sunday and Monday, included Mrs. F. H. Cumming, Mr. Gerald Cummings and Miss Verna Cummings, all of Montreal, and Mrs. C. H. Frizzle, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Frizzle and son, Allen, of Brome.

Mrs. Harry Spinney and Mrs. Maurice Ashton were in Montreal several times to visit Mr. Spinney, who was a patient in the Royal Victoria Hospital, where he was taken after fracturing one of his legs. Mr. Alfred Jenkins, of Westmount visited Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Pickett over the week-end, while in Waterloo, Mr. Jenkins called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. Millen-champ.

Mrs. W. C. Benson, of Drummondville, has been spending a few days with her aunt, Miss Edith Mairs, who has been ill. Mrs. W. T. Greer, of Rock Island, Mrs. Raymond Wallace and son, Ralph, of Stanstead College, visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wallace and Mr. Donald Wallace. Mr. Lloyd Stevens is spending some days at his home at Melbourne Ridge, while suffering from an abscessed foot. While in Brantford, Ont., to visit Mr. Arthur Smith, who is ill, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith called on Mrs. Smith's brother, Mr. Nelson Lewis and family, in Toronto, Ont., and accompanied by their Grace Episcopal Church, Phoenix, Ariz. Interment was made in Greenwood Mausoleum. The casket was covered with a blanket of yellow roses. There were very many offerings of flowers besides the blanket of roses. In conformity with the proclamation of Donald Francis, mayor of Chandler, business houses in Chandler closed during the hours of the services, to honor Chandler's first and oldest citizen. The entire community united in mourning with his family, the passing of Dr. Chandler.

The last year or so, will preach against the class warfare which the Communists seek to promote. This demonstration is being sponsored by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Karl Arnold, President of the Upper House of the German Parliament, and the Ministers President of the various West German states. There will be gathered thousands of people from the heart of the industrial Ruhr to hear Dr. Frank Buchman's appeal for class unity and democracy in the world's industry and business. They will be people vitally interested in the new and imaginative idea for a pooling of French and German industrial interests and its corollary, the end of Franco-German strife.

The Communists will be making a lot of noise in Berlin. But as they preach disunity they will not draw out other and constructive forces at work in the world today.

legislation relating to subject matters assigned to the Parliament of Canada by the Act and were therefore unconstitutional. Earlier the court heard arguments in support of the bill from John A. Y. MacDonald, Deputy Attorney General of Nova Scotia; C. R. Magone, representing the Ontario Government; and John C. Osborne of Alberta.

Mr. MacDonald, in his closing argument, held that a "certain distribution of power" was contemplated in the British North America Act. In reply to Mr. Varcoc, he said that the word "delegation," as generally used, did not mean that the body granting delegation parted with its powers. It meant the "conferring of an authority" to do things which the body would otherwise have to do for itself. He said the suggestion that there are powers of legislation not conferred on either provincial legislature or Dominion parliament by the British North America Act and the statute of Westminster was "contrary to the modern conception of Canada's status."

because it would mean that civil servants were working almost every day, especially on long trips, and not sitting idle in railroad trains. Mr. Chevrier reported sales of radio licences totalled $5,474,000 in the 1949-50 fiscal year and said they were increasing steadily. That total, from the licensing of 2,172,445 radio sets, was turned over to the CBC.

A. L. Smith (PC-Calgary West) suggested the department extend its checking procedure because he knew of a lot of people who did not have a licence for any radio in their home. Stanley Knowles (CCF-Winnipeg North Centre) protested against war-initiated federal subsidies to Steep Rock iron mines in isolated northern Ontario, although he agreed it was necessary during wartime. But, in peace, the government should not pay a private company to ship ore out of Canada.

Mr. Chevrier, noting that the subsidy was to be paid until 5,000,000 tons of ore had been developed, said deliveries now total 4,354,000 tons. Thus, the subsidy soon would expire. Mr. Chevrier disclosed these proposed expenditures in his department's air services: $1,000,000 to provide additional runways and improve others at Malton airport, Toronto; $870,000 to provide a runway at Saint John, N.B.; $570,000 for improvements at Dorval airport, Montreal; $615,000 to complete the air strip at Fredericton, and $485,000 for improvements at Gander, Nfld.

Illustrating the growth of his department, he reported that in the last 10 years the number of terminal and intermediate fields has increased from 27 to 75, the number of radio ranges and landing instrument systems from 31 to 109 and the number of departmental radio stations from three to 28.

Moscow, that Stalin's health is excellent. He said Moscow has done much building since his last visit in 1946. Other high spots of the press conference were: 1. Lie asserted the nations must begin work on an end of the cold war this year or the world faces the gravest danger of being put finally on the road to a Third World War. Reminded that a U.S. representative had said the only way to end the cold war is to win it, Lie said he did not understand how the cold war can be won. 2. Lie will go to Washington next week to talk once more with Truman and State Secretary Dean Acheson. Lie does not plan to make another round of the Big Four capitals unless it is necessary. 3. He made no proposals on his trip and did no negotiating. It was an exploratory trip.

outside the United States. Britain's gasoline consumption now runs about 5,000,000 tons a year. Estimates of the additional consumption involved run from 750,000 to 1,000,000 tons. The larger figure is equivalent to about 800,000,000 gallons.

Montreal, May 27.— North Atlantic air fares have been "bumped" up seven per cent but the world's air lines will continue in 1950-51 special winter bargain rates between Europe and North America. The International Air Transport Association announced from its headquarters here today that a recent semi-annual traffic conference in Madrid decided to boost basic North Atlantic fares to meet "part of the increased costs of operating new equipment."

Charlottetown, May 27.— Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, leader of the Progressive Conservative party in Prince Edward Island since 1933, resigned last night. Announcement of his resignation was made following a meeting of party officials. A provincial convention to elect a new leader is scheduled for June 27.

Dr. MacMillan, 69, was first elected to the Provincial Legislature in 1923, and has represented Charlottetown since, except for one four-year period. He succeeded the late Sir J. D. Stewart as premier in 1933. In 1931 he had been made the first Minister of Education and Public Health for the Province.

Montreal, May 27.— Written legal arguments on the merits of a petition for a vice probe in Montreal were submitted to Associate Chief Justice O. S. Tynande of Superior Court yesterday. They were taken under deliberation and the Justice set no date immediately for a ruling on them.

The probe petition was submitted last week by the Comité de Moralité Publique de Montreal, which charged the existence of organized vice in Montreal and claimed several hundred persons could be linked with it. The petition, signed by 75 taxpayers, contains a request for legislation not conferred on either provincial legislature or Dominion parliament by the British North America Act and the statute of Westminster was "contrary to the modern conception of Canada's status."

LETTER FROM BRITAIN -

There's Nothing Like Leather

By A. K. ASTBURY
One of the most exclusive of occupations in Britain is that of the paid walker. It requires few qualifications apart from the ability to put one foot in front of the other, and its only occupational hazard would appear to be heavy rain; and yet the number of persons in this profession is small indeed. The fact that it exists at all shows the lengths to which some leather and footwear manufacturers are prepared to go to find the ideal shoe—for the paid walker is, in fact, nothing more than a human shoe taster.

In Liverpool, England, there is a Miss Robertshaw, who for over 16 years has been walking 12 miles a day to test footwear made at a local factory. She has already walked, and been paid for walking, some 40,000 miles or more through the streets of the city, sometimes picking up shopping for friends in the factory; and sometimes just walking. In Kettering, home of Britain's Shoe and Allied Trades Research Association, the postmen wear boots whose soles are made of different kinds of leather, and of natural and synthetic rubber. They keep an account of the miles they walk and return their boots at regular intervals to the Association for analysis.

And the Post Office is not alone in helping the leather and footwear manufacturers. I heard only today that the Army is co-operating with the British Leather Manufacturers' Research Association in an attempt to find the perfect sole leather. With the help of half-a-dozen young soldiers who volunteered for this duty, leather soles are being literally worn out with walking inside a Chatham barracks. The left and right soles, both of standard thickness and weight, but treated differently, are fixed to the men's boots so that they can be taken off easily after 300 miles. It takes 300 miles of walking to wear off half-an-ounce of sole, and in all some 12,000 miles will have been marched before the experiment is completed. Meanwhile, as I write, these young volunteers are marching smartly round and round their concrete track, seven hours a day, five days a week, accompanied by the sound of whatever radio program is being broadcast at the moment through the barracks loudspeaker.

The Black Prince
Leather has ministered to human needs since the dawn of civilization. We have a phrase in Britain, "There's nothing like leather," and there's certainly nothing like leather for long wear. Just to give you an example I went the other day to the Tower of London to have a look at the funeral armor of Edward Plantagenet, the Black Prince, which for 600 years has hung above his tomb in Canterbury Cathedral, and was recently sent to the Tower for cleaning. There I saw his scabbard (made of leather), his gauntlets (complete with leather lining), his shield (covered with leather) and his crest (of leather). In fact, the only things not made of leather, as far as I could see, were his vast black helmet of iron, his coat of woollen material, the wooden frame of his shield, and the brass gauntlets.

It was customary in these days for the armor of men of rank to be carried before the bier at funerals and to be hung up over their tomb. And now these relics, so carefully guarded in Canterbury Cathedral during the centuries, so carefully cleaned during the winter in the armories of the Tower of London, can be seen once again, with gleams of gold standing out among the tarnished threads of the coat and patches of red and white showing on the crest.

The irreverent thought that struck me most powerfully as I looked on the armor of the Black Prince was wonder that any man, dressed in a thick coat of quilted wool and wearing an iron helmet as big as a coal scuttle, a leather cap on top, and the leather model of a lion on top of that—to say nothing of the rest of his armor—could fight so well as he did at Crecy and Poitiers in the heat of a French August and September. How hot he must have been!

Honor For Sportsman

A good deal of that surplus energy which medieval heroes like the Black Prince spent on battle is diverted nowadays into exploration, or mountain climbing, or sport, and today we honor men outstanding in more peaceful encounters than those of the Hundred Years War. That famous sportsman Lord Burghley, for instance, chairman of the British Olympics Committee, who was recently installed as Rector (or nominal head) of the Scottish university of St. Andrews, himself described his installation there as the proudest moment of his life—and this genial sportsman has had many proud moments.

The students certainly welcomed him in friendly fashion. He was met at one of the town gates and dragged in an open carriage through the streets by 18 young men students. At one point he was presented with a garland of cigarettes and an empty whisky bottle containing a tulip (to signify the athlete's temperance); yet he was not allowed to be an abstainer for long, for further on bare-legged men students dressed in sack-cloth solemnly drew up a bucket of beer from an old, dry well, and offered him a tankard full; he was made Lord High Chief Pipe Smoker by women students who handed over an outside hookah filled with straw and benzine which gave off dense clouds of black smoke; and, laughing heartily, he was called on to inspect a guard of honor of queerly clad students who presented arms with golf clubs and umbrellas.

Those who have already met Lord Burghley (he visited Pakistan some weeks ago, and by the time this appears in print he may already have landed in Canada) will not be surprised to hear that this even tempered sportsman emerged with flying colors from his boisterous and unusual half-com-

Legion Log

Activities of Legion Branches in the Eastern Townships

A meeting of the St. Francis Valley regional Council was held in the Memorial Home last Saturday, under the Chairmanship of Comrade Howard Wells. Delegates were present from all branches in the Zone. After the completion of the business affairs, the members heard an interesting talk on the Provincial Rifle Association by Major O'Connor, of Montreal, who also presented Stansfield with the Trophy they won in 1949, and silver plates for the individual members of the team. Comrade Wells was re-elected Commander of the Regional Council and J. A. Bourgeois, of Sherbrooke, replaced John Kay, who had to resign on his appointment to the Provincial Command Council.

It is expected that Branch Officers will be formally installed in office at a special meeting of the Branch on June 19th, next regular meeting will be June 12th. Two members of the Branch Pipe Band are competing in the Piping competitions at the Canadian Games in Montreal today. James Gamble and Fred McLean are going to try their luck against the Montreal Pipers, neither have competed before.

Two members of Branch No. 10, Comrades Dorothy Pope and Ann Gustafson, are right in the thick of things in Winnipeg these days. The girls went out West last fall and have been working as drivers for the Red Cross since then. From information received from "the front" I gather that things are pretty hectic. Comrade Pope had 3 hours sleep in 3 days and not very much to eat; and had done most everything but travel around in a submarine. Incidentally, the girls have been welcomed by Branch "97 (Manitoba) Fort Rouge, Winnipeg, which seems to be quite a Branch—500 members, their own building with all the trimmings, and their own monthly magazine. We take this opportunity to express our thanks to Fort Rouge Branch for their kindness and hospitality extended to our two comrades.

Last Saturday night members of the Pipe Band and friends staged a surprise party in the Memorial Home for Piper Kenny Major and Miss Margaret Cole, of Magog, who are getting married in the near future. Pipe Major Andy Forret presented the happy and surprised couple with a gift from the members of the Band. Which leads me to observe that our genial Pipe Major turned out to be quite the little speech maker, and our guess is that he's done it before on similar occasions.

Gefreiter Irving presided at the piano, and willingly and ably assisted by scads of pipers complete with bagpipes, proceeded to supply the assembly with very danceable music which was thoroughly enjoyed by ninety-nine percent of those present. One a.m. came all too soon for the revellers (but probably not for the neighbors!) and the general sentiment seemed to be "Let's do it again, and soon, so let's. Let's also have the storm windows off, please, somebody."

The Legion Pipe band is playing in East Angus tomorrow after, if you happen to be out that way, you will see and hear them.
See you at the meeting?

when those two disciples on the way to Emmaus met Jesus, though they know Him not until they entertained Him at an Inn and He revealed Himself in the blessing of the food. This was such an amazing experience that they refused to stay overnight and returned hastily to Jerusalem to tell others. As they were returning they said: "Did not our hearts burn within us while he talked with us by the way?" (Luke 24:32).

Whenever and wherever Jesus walks with men, there are hearts burning to tell others the "good news" of His love. Paul, Columbia, St. Patrick, St. Francis Xavier, Wesley, Booth, Moody, Bishop Bompas of the Arctic, these, and a host of others, belong to the Order of the Burning Heart whose news is too good to keep. Won't you celebrate the Birthday of the Church by making Whitsunday your birthday in the Order of the Burning Heart? To do this, invite the Holy Spirit to take up His permanent abode in your heart. He will purge it so perfectly that the earthly part of you shall glow with the fire Divine. Then will you go forward with a tongue of fire and a heart of love, ready to do good. Then will Peace, Brotherhood and Mutual Service become the norm, and our daily life shall be beautiful, good and true, for we shall be obedient subjects of Christ the King.

SERMONS IN MATCHES?

Occasionally, as you look at, or light, a match will you recall the Flame of the Holy Spirit? The light of that Spirit which God sent upon the Church at Pentecost? With that light we can accomplish whatsoever is good, beautiful and true. Life will be rich and abundant for we will then possess a right judgment in all things. Fear will disappear; our only fear, that of being unfaithful to God. So with hearts aflame and made clean by the Divine Flame, our affections shall be projected heavenwards and, steadfast in faith and active in work, we will evermore rejoice in the holy comfort of the Holy Spirit provides. So effective, so rich, so fragrant will be our lives that others will surely realize that we are living temples of the Holy Ghost where He abides for ever and ever enabling us to lead others into the Order of the Burning Heart.

Matches can suggest sermons, you know! As the glow of the matches is constant and steady, so must our enthusiasm for Christ and His Church. This requires our unconditional surrender to the Holy Spirit and our willingness to burn out for Him. And when our clergy and teachers have burning hearts, then will things spiritually happen. You cannot be cold and warm up others. Burn and you can warm them! Fire kindles fire. Faith kindles faith. Purity kindles purity. Heroic Christians kindle heroic Christians. So if we would belong to the Brotherhood of the Burning Heart and win others to join, we must be on fire for Jesus. If I am not mistaken our generation, our century needs a quickened spiritual apprehension, a reinforcement of character plus an attitude of sturdy, indomitable optimism which was the basic need too of the first century. Opening our hearts to the spirit of truth that our allusions may be dispelled, to the spirit of love that pride and prejudice may be done away, bringing to our Christian profession will power, thought and prayer, we move toward the goal of a spirit-filled life.

Immediately the Church needs volunteers, enthusiasts, missionaries. We can't be neutrals. "He that

Musically Speaking

By MARGARET DOHERTY

Well, once again we have practically reached the end of the musical season and therefore the end of "Musically Speaking" for the summer months.

As far as we know the last local musical event will take place on Tuesday, May 30, when Jean Scarth and Malcolm Brown will be soloists at the Sher-Lenn Choir recital. The concert is under the auspices of the Ladies' Committee of the Sherbrooke Library and the place is the Sherbrooke High School Auditorium.

As many of you are aware, we have long been of the opinion that a new piano is urgently needed at the Granada for the numerous concerts which are presented here each season. We are pleased to see that many of our musical public agree with us. In addition to a number of comments, a letter to the editor deploring the piano situation was published in yesterday's paper. Perhaps if enough people get behind the movement something will be done about it. In a city the size of Sherbrooke, there certainly must be one piano available for concert purposes.

As things are now, not only are we insulting our artists, but we are establishing a rather bad reputation musically for ourselves. This is the season for house-cleaning, so let's air all our grievances at once. Those of you who attended the much enjoyed Jan Pearce concert will remember that the artist was continually interrupted during his first group by late comers who trailed down to the front of the theatre in search of their seats, then walked back to the rear while he stood on the stage waiting. It seems to us that if the patrons do not wish to display ordinary courtesy, the management should refrain from showing anyone to a seat until the artist has finished his group.

"Unless you believe in fairies you can't be a sculptor, musician, singer or painter. Anyone who doesn't believe in fairyland is no musician and is simply wasting time trying" Alec Redshaw, adjudicator at the annual Alberta Musical Festival, said recently. Nine girls aged 14 and 15 sang with lovely voices a song of fairyland but they "never left the earth" he said. They did not show any real quality, none of them believed, in fairies, Mr. Redshaw lamented.

The annual campaign of the Community Concert Association gets under way next week and music lovers can be assured of an excellent series next season, in keeping with the tradition of the Association. There is music everywhere—According to a New York press release an inmate of Clinton Prison, who took a correspondence course in music, has written a popular love ballad which a publisher hopes to make a top hit. It was disclosed today that the prisoner, Joseph Schumacher, now serving his 11th year of a 25 to 30 year sentence for robbery, wrote the song several years ago and gave it to his sister to sell. The sister, Mrs. Margaret Arnone, of Brooklyn, after several failures, interested the Saintry-Joy Music Corporation. It got Al Hoffman of "Mairzy Doots" and "Baked a Cake" fame to write the lyrics and give the song its title "Nightwind Singing."

And now to all the readers of the column, our best wishes for a pleasant summer and we'll be back again in the fall to keep you posted on the musical doings of the day. is not with Me is against Me," said Jesus. Take your stand this Pentecost by resolving to develop a heart that is pure, warm and changeless. A living fire! That you may with your "tongue" speak a good word for Christ and His Cause, and possess a burning heart, is my prayer for you on this anniversary of that day "when first the light divine on the Church began to shine." Burning hearts came from the Eternal Flame—the Holy Spirit—and that's the direction my thoughts travel as I muse on Matches.

MARRIAGES

ASSELIN-D'AMOUR

Montreal, May 27.—The marriage of Iris Barry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. K. D'Amour, of Arvida, Que., to Mr. John Tobin Asselin, son of Mr. J. O. Asselin and Mrs. Asselin, M.B.E., took place Wednesday morning, May 24, at nine o'clock, in the Church of the Ascension of Our Lord, Westmount, the Rev. Father Frederick S. Noll, of Loyola College, officiating. Mr. J. F. Savaria played the wedding music and Mr. David Asselin, brother of the bridegroom, sang during the service. Pink and white snapdragons, arranged with palms, and candles in candelabra were used to decorate.

The bride, who was given away by her stepfather, was in an ankle-length gown of white organza, the fitted bodice having a bateau neckline with a staupeu embroidered collar and cap sleeves and the very full skirt banded with embroidery at the hemline. Her short veil of tulle illusion was held by a bonnet of white lace and she carried a round bouquet of stephanotis and white carnations.

Miss Kathleen Pellowe, as maid of honor, was in a redingote frock of pale blue nylon marquisette over white faille. She wore a bandeau of matching marquisette, trimmed with blue lace, in her hair and carried a Colonial bouquet of pastel flowers.

Mr. Michael Tobin Asselin acted as best man for his bride, and the ushers were Mr. Brian Sney and Mr. Patrick Asselin, also a brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. D'Amour, the bride's mother, was gowned in navy blue sheer and she wore a hat of grey Baku straw, trimmed with navy blue, a moleskin cape, navy blue accessories, and a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. Asselin, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of navy blue crepe remaining with a hat of white straw, navy blue accessories, mink fur, and a corsage bouquet of crimson carnations.

Mrs. S. G. O'Connor, of New York, grandmother of the bride, was in a gown of grey silk and wore a hat of black straw, black accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations.

The reception was held in the Blue Room of the Ritz-Carlton where single white stock and Rapture roses were used as decorations.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Asselin left for Bermuda, the bride travelling in a suit of French blue and beige wool, under a matching three-quarter length coat, and wearing navy blue accessories.

The bride is a graduate of the McGill University School of Physiotherapy and Mr. Asselin is a student at McGill University.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. S. G. O'Connor, of New York, grandmother of the bride; Mr. Ashton Tobin, K.C., and Mrs. Tobin, and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Mullins, of Bromptonville, Que.; Dr. Philippe Beaudry, Mr. and Mrs. Benoit Turmel and Miss Elizabeth Ann Blue, of Sherbrooke; Dr. Jacques Beaudry, of Forestville, Que.

The Ladies' Guild met with Mrs. Douglas Mayne. There was a large attendance of members and several visitors. A busy afternoon was spent knitting and sewing.

The business session opened by singing a hymn. It was decided to clean the church hall. A discussion took place regarding repairing the Hall, and it was decided to have the men talk it over at a meeting in the Hall on Monday night.

The hostesses at Plymouth Ladies' Guild meeting held in the church parlor, on Tuesday, May 23, were Mrs. Gordon Philbrick and Miss Florence Wark. The president, Mrs. Percy Gray, presided and opened the meeting with prayer. Sums of money were voted to the Manitoba Relief Fund, the Plymouth Sunday School picnic and other projects.

Christian Science FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST Montreal and Island Streets. Sunday School, 10 a.m. Subject: "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced." Testimonial meeting: Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock. Reading room open Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 3-5 p.m. Friday evenings, 7-9 p.m., at His Majesty's Building.

"Ancient and Modern Necromancy, Alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced," is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Church of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 28th, 1950. The Golden Text is from Romans 8:31 "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, saying, let us alone; we have to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art: the Holy One of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not." (Luke 4:33 to 35)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus cast out evil and healed the sick, not only without drugs, but without hypnotism, which is the reverse of ethical and pathological truth-power. The Christian Scientist demonstrates that divine Mind heals, while the hypnotist dispossesses the patient of his individuality in order to control him. No person is benefited by yielding his mentality to any mental despotism or malpractice. All unscientific mental practice is erroneous and powerless, and should be understood and so rendered fruitless. The genuine Christian Scientist is adding to his patients mental and moral power and is increasing his patients spirituality while restoring him physically through divine Love." (Pages 185 and 375).

WOMEN'S CLUBS ALDERSHOT CHAPTER, I. O. D. E. The regular monthly meeting of the Aldershot Chapter, I.O.D.E., was held at the I.O.D.E. House on Tuesday, May 23, with the regent, Mrs. N. Munkittrick, presiding. The meeting opened with the raising of the Standard by Mrs. R. Gittel, Standard Bearer, and the repeating of the Prayer of the Order. Miss Mary Long, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting, which were approved and business arising from the minutes was discussed. In the absence of the treasurer, Miss Elsie Welsh read the financial statement which was approved. A report on the Spinners' Spree XI was given showing it to have been a successful project. The treasurer was authorized to pay the chapter's outstanding obligations. The regent thanked all members who had assisted in connection with the Spree for their good work. Plans were made for the tag days and members asked to tag. Several I.O.D.E. projects were discussed and plans made for the chapter's participation and contribution therein. Rummage was reported collected and members were urged to bring in all rummage before the next meeting. The proposition that members sell boxes of birthday cards, hasty notes, enclosure cards, papers and napkins, etc., was talked over. After discussing other summer activities the meeting adjourned. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. J. Reid and Mrs. S. Allen.

Sam Snead Much Better Than His Record Indicates, Says Sarazen; Golf's Goldwynisms Add To Charm

New York — (NEA)—The Cardinals needed a right-hand power hitter, so unhesitatingly picked up Johnny Lindell at the waiver price of $10,000.

"We did this without knowing what Lindell's contract with the Yankees called for," said Eddie Dyer.

"With the cut he took this spring, it is $13,500," remarked someone, adding that the St. Louis Nationals' payroll must now be an important item.

An athlete collecting $13,500 a year is still regarded as a plutocrat, despite all the tub-thumping about the $100,000 paychecks to Joe DiMaggio and Ted Williams.

"Why shouldn't we pay these fellows?" replied Manager Dyer. "We drew 1,430,000 paid admissions at Sportsman's Park last year. We've played to less than a million since 1946. We know we will draw more than a million if we are in the race."

"As a matter of fact, the Cardinals have been one-two at National League cashiers' windows since '46 and in the first five in the majors."

This has to be true with Musial at $50,000, Slaughter at $30,000, Pollet at $26,500 with a bonus arrangement, Marion at $25,000, Brecheen at $22,500, Lanier at $18,000, Schoendienst and Mungler at $15,000, Eddie Miller and now Lindell at $13,500, Harry Walker, Staley and Wilks at $12,500 and the rest.

The Cardinals are paying $38,500 for shortstops alone, the veteran Eddie Miller having had to be taken from the Phillies when Marty Marion injured his knee.

"The most gratifying thing to

Jimmy Dykes Gets New Job With Athletics

Philadelphia, May 27—(AP)—Connie Mack announced tonight that in a move to bolster his sagging Philadelphia Athletics, Jimmy Dykes has been appointed assistant manager of the American League club.

The 37-year-old Mack remains as manager of the club he has directed on the field for the last 50 years.

Mack announced also that Mickey Cochrane becomes general manager of the Athletics, Earle Mack, son of the veteran pilot, who had been assistant manager, now becomes chief player scout.

Dykes and Cochrane are both former big league managers and both played for Mack when he was directing championship clubs in the late 20s and early 30s. All changes are effective immediately.

The team and fans about the moves for Miller and Lindell," said Country Slaughter, "is that it proves Fred Saigh and the front office is out to win now."

"They don't make excuses for not taking on expensive and experienced men by saying they are building for the future."

Owner Saigh tossing money around strikingly illustrates the vast change that has taken place on the National League side in St. Louis.

It could account to a great degree for the Browns' situation becoming increasingly more desperate.

The famous Gas-House Gang—the Deans, Hallahan, Frisch, Durocher, Pepper, Martin, Medwick and that bunch—one appeared before no more than 350,000 at home.

Sam Breardon and Branch Rickey were more frequently than not were unfairly criticized for coolie labor methods made necessary by customers remaining away in droves.

But when Rickey departed for Brooklyn the late Singing Sam Breardon had so contracted the habit of paying the hired help off in the dark that he couldn't shake it even during the lush war years.

Morton and Walker Cooper kicked up such a fuss after signing at $12,500 for 1945 that they had to be disposed of. Conditions were so bad that the Giants paid $175,000 for Catcher Walker.

Billy Southworth didn't do the Cardinals any harm winning three pennants and twice finishing second in five campaigns, and Eddie Dyer has kept up the good work, winning once and thrice finishing second. The Cards haven't been worse than second in nine years.

That is the principal reason why it is no longer can be said that the Cardinals won't pick up the check.

The Red Birds definitely are out of the red.

Glen Lasswell, New York's 18-Year-Old Riding Sensation, Is Stealing Headlines; Has 37 Winners In Meet

New York, May 27—(AP)—Glenn Lasswell, the 18-year-old riding sensation of the New York turf season, is stealing the headlines from the horses.

The colorful kid out of San Ysidro, Calif., has a record of 37 winners in 26 days of New York competition, including four victories at Belmont Park yesterday.

The New York season now is 46 days old, but Lasswell sat out a 30-day suspension for rough riding at Jamaica.

The youngster, who stands exactly five feet in his socks, has reddish, curly hair and brown eyes. He has the assurance of a veteran both on and off a horse, but he doesn't like the reports that have gone around that he's "cocky."

"That just ain't true," says the lad, and a talk with him gives the impression that confident would be a more suitable description.

Thirty of Lasswell's New York winners were ridden at Belmont, which has run 16 days, and the California kid is far in front for that meeting. He's only three victories behind Eddie Arcaro, the old master, for the New York season.

Yesterday he clicked on Gorgeous Reded ($29.30), Your Sun ($5.29) — that pair combining for an $88.50 daily double — Demon ($22.70) and Task ($13.20).

Only last Monday, Glen lost the precious five-pound apprentice allowance, but he's showing no signs of fading because of it. As an apprentice, he had 257 winners, 201 seconds and 180 thirds in 1,341 mounts.

Like most up-and-coming riders, he rates Arcaro the best jockey. "Eddie's the best I ever saw. He knows more about a horse than any jock I know of," said Lasswell.

Lasswell weighs 108 and says he keeps in shape by roller skating. "There's a roller rink near Belmont," he said, "I give it plenty of business."

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
New York, May 27—(AP)—You can't say those Dodgers aren't right up to date . . . cake that gooty play Wednesday night, for instance, when Gil rouses and Jackie Robinson thundered down on the plate together . . . The rule under which Jackie was declared out had only been in the book for 2 days . . . When the major league rules' interpretation committee met May 4, they found a long-standing interference rule had been overlooked in re-writing the code for 1950 . . . So they came up with an amendment which says: "The penalty provided by this rule shall be inflicted also on any batter or base runner who has just been retired and who obstructs or interferes with any following play being made on a base runner. The base runner shall be declared out for the interference of his teammate or teammates."

. . . this was sent out in a bulletin from the Commissioner's office with a note that the interpretations were to go into effect not later than May 22 . . . and, it seems, not a minute too soon.

Brown Study
This happened a few years ago, so Paul Brown can get a chucky out of it now . . . The Cleveland Browns coach is father or three times as lively and football-minded as Robin, Mike and Pete . . . When Mike was five years old, he tried to emulate a comic trip favorite by tying a sheet to the foot of his bed and climbing out a second-story window. He lost his grip and broke a leg when he hit the ground . . . When the distraught parents were summoned to the hospital, Mike greeted him: "Dad, I'll bet you're glad it was me instead of Horace Gillom."

Gillom was Brown's star fullback at Ohio State University.

New York, May 27—(AP)—The other day Gene Sarazen was quoted as saying present-day golfers, especially the amateurs, lack "color."

Then we hear about rotund Dynamite Goodloe wowing the Scottish natives by wearing bright green slacks and a maroon sweater while playing in the British amateur . . . There's no question about Dynamite's color and crowd-appeal; his only trouble is that he isn't a brilliant golfer . . . And you can't say that such guys as Frank Stranahan, Jimmy McHale, Big Bill Campbell and Charlie Coe are exactly colorless. They just don't slap it on you with a broad brush and, come to think of it, neither did Bob Jones in his heyday . . . The difference, as we see it, is that the writers don't seek out the color and write about it as enthusiastically as they did in the 1920s . . . That goes for most other sports, too.

Savold Trains Hard For Fight With Woodcock

Scarborough, England, May 27. Savold figures on winning British version of the world heavyweight championship inside six rounds.

Savold's training schedule is being worked out that way. Manager Bill Daly says, "because Lee is punching viciously and Bruce Woodcock won't be around after that number."

Savold is training for his June 6 fight against the British champion at this bracing northeast coast resort, and the big American is coming along nicely.

He plans to weigh in at 190 pounds, which leaves him about four pounds to shed with nearly two weeks to go.

At an impressive workout today before British sports writers Savold sweated heavily as he went through six rounds of fast sparring with three heavyweights.

For a fighter who hasn't been in the ring for 18 months, Savold has retained his timing and judgment of distance. He moved around the ring beautifully as a crowd of 1,000, including hundreds of small schoolboys, watched his workout.

The gymnasium has been set up on the floor of the Municipal Dance Hall on the edge of the North Sea.

Lennoxville In Closing Inning Win Over S.H.S.

A six-run spurge by the Lennoxville junior softballers in the final inning gave them a 16-10 win over Sherbrooke High in a regular junior fixture this week.

This upset by the Lennoxville crew on the Sherbrooke home field created a three-way tie in this Junior High School League.

The Sherbrooke team took a two-run lead in the second frame but the Lennoxville team caught up to them in the sixth inning on Dupuis' homer. The Sherbrooke outfield collapsed in the final frame behind pitcher Paul Chute, who was tagged with the loss, as the outer gardeners were guilty of three glaring misdeeds.

Mike Allcorn hurled a steady game for the winners and came through with five hits including the game-winning double in the final frame.

The line-ups:
Sherbrooke: Enair, Richards, Doherty, Tribble, Smith, Larrabee, Bishop, McMurray, Quintin, Hollander, Chute Hymen.
Lennoxville: Sullivan, Warner, Jenne, Allcorn, Dupuis, Ladd, Bullock, Brady, Nichol.

Dick Wakefield Leaves To Join Oakland Club

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 27—(AP)—Outfielder Dick Wakefield said tonight he was leaving for Oakland, Calif., "within 48 hours" to join the Pacific Coast League club there.

The major leagues' problem child, who has said for weeks he wouldn't step down to the minors, Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler talked to him.

After that telephone interview Wakefield said:
"Chandler has been wonderful to me. He has given me some very sound advice. The chances are I might take his."

A few hours later, at his Ann Arbor home, the former University of Michigan star and Detroit Tiger bonus player told reporters he was packing his bags to head West.

New York Yankees, who bought Wakefield from the Tigers and tried a few weeks ago to trade him to Chicago's White Sox in a deal that didn't go off, sold his contract to Oakland.

Wakefield appealed to Chandler, and the Commissioner advised him to accept the sale.

Sam Snead Sets Page In Colonial Golf Match

Fort Worth, Tex., May 27—(AP)—Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., shot a two-over-par 72 yesterday to take over undisputed leadership in the $15,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament at the half-way mark with one-quarter of the field in.

His 138 for 36 holes appeared fairly safe as Skip Alexander of Knoxville, Tenn., Snead's co-leader at the end of the first round with a 66, was coming in three over par, and Ed Oliver of Seattle, who was in third with a 68, shot one over par 71 today.

Saigh Padding Payroll Picking Up Lindell Further Shows Cards No Longer Coolies; Out To Win Flag

New York — (NEA)—Gene Sarazen calls Sam Snead the greatest hitter of the ball since Bobby Jones.

"Were Sam gifted with Jones' command of himself, he might well have equaled Bob's record," says Sarazen, in his illuminating book, "Thirty Years of Championship Golf."

"He is at least five major tournaments better than his record," Sarazen points out that Snead has smoothed up enormously since he came out of the mountains of western Virginia in 1937 to receive the waning interest in tournament golf almost single-handed.

The winner of them all assures you, however, that there is no cause to fear that the incredible hillbilly will ever lose his unique charm or deny us further wonderful Sneadisms, the Goldwynisms of golf.

"In the days when the term 'golf clinic' was first being used," writes Sarazen, "I asked Sam one time to get a hurry on or he'd be late for the clinic that they were going to hold by the 15th green."

"Ah'm perfectly well, Gene, drawled Sam. 'An' even if I was sick, you wouldn't catch me goin' to any ol' clinic. Ah've got a personal doctor."

"Success has never altered Snead's devotion to thrift. When I met him at an exhibition in Harrisburg, Pa., last summer after he had won three straight tournaments, I began to kid Sam that he'd better begin spending his millions right away because there was rumor going around that the government was thinking of devaluating the dollar 50 per cent."

"What do you mean, devalue?" Sam asked, with a worried frown. I explained that what it worked down to was that the government would take a pair of scissors and cut every dollar bill in half.

"Why, that ain't bad at all!" Sam said, cocking his head in relief. "That gives me two for one."

"I asked Sam to describe what he thought of when he was actually playing a shot in a tournament."

"Ah don't bother 'bout too many things," Sam said. "Ah just take that club back slowly and then Ah try to bring it right down on the barrel-head."

The Old and the New

TIMBERS were ripped out of their 52-year-old positions in the front of our store during the past week, as we are preparing the place for the new display windows. As the old materials were disposed of, there came to light window backgrounds which we had used in years gone by, things which brought back memories of days when business was conducted in a slower tempo. There are steel beams which no one had seen in 27 years, and they reminded us of the contractors' surprise in finding them in 1923, when we last did a major window alteration. These beams were apparently installed around 1893, five years before Rosenblum's was established, and we believe that they were the first steel beams used in any building in Sherbrooke.

And somehow, mixed in with the historical debris, was a show card advertising a hockey broadcast dating back to the days when Rosenblum's pioneered the local sportscafe, with Rolie Bayer at the mike. But the old material is almost all gone now, and within a short time the new modern display windows will begin to take shape.

THE MAIN FEATURES of the new front will be a large canopy which will offer protection from the weather, a bright and spacious entrance, greater unity of our three windows, and the complete absence of steps at the entrance. We are striving for a rich and dignified modern appearance which will be in keeping with the quality and good taste of the merchandise we sell.

WHILE ALL THIS WORK is going on, we're receiving shipments of smart new apparel for men. High quality ankiel socks, made in England of good pure wool, featured at $1. The new style ski-pyjamas, also made in England, of comfortable knitted cotton, which requires no ironing, at $4.95. An inviting assortment of summer headgear, including everything from fishing helmets, and ventilated caps with polaroid goggles attached to the more conventional gabardine hats and panamas. We're ready to serve you for Father's Day, just three weeks off.

General Admission Or Reserve Seat Ticket Entitles Fan To One Chance In Free New York Week-End Drawing

Two baseball games are on the agenda here this week-end. Tonight at 7:15 the Athletics will play hosts to St. Johns while tomorrow afternoon St. Hyacinthe will be the visiting team.

Tomorrow will be a lucky day for some fan who attends the ball game. Each adult cash customer, whether he buys a general admission ticket or a reserve ticket, will be given a ticket which will entitle him to a free trip to New York if his number is drawn.

During the game the drawing will be made and the winner will receive the opportunity of a life time. All expenses, with the exception of meals, will be paid by the ball club for two people. If you are the winner you may choose a partner for the trip.

The agenda for the trip is this: You leave Dorval and fly to New York arriving at 9:35, leaving the day free for whatever you wish to do. In the evening you take in the show and dinner at the Diamond Horse Shoe Night Club. Sunday you enjoy a motor trip around the big city and in the evening you leave for home by air. Reservation is made for you at the Hotel New Yorker.

Tickets for Sunday afternoon's ball game are going fast and if you still have not yours—call 921.

Tonight Rollie Gladu will send Lefty Bournout to the mound in an attempt to halt the hard-hitting St. Johns club while tomorrow either Roche and Shapiro will toss for the A's.

Sherbrooke Athletics are holding down top position in Albert Molini's circuit and the week-end games will play an important part in the standing.

Two Club Matches For Sherbrooke And Lennoxville Golfers Today

The cry of "four" will undoubtedly be heard frequently this week-end as Sherbrooke and Lennoxville golfers have two tournaments on the agenda.

The annual president vs. vice-president match will be held at the Sherbrooke Country Club while a similar contest will be staged at the Lennoxville Golf Club. Both the Sherbrooke and Lennoxville matches will be played on Saturday.

The eighteen-hole Sherbrooke Country Club course is in top-notch condition and all tees and greens will be ready for use this week-end. During the past few weeks the members have been using temporary tees but today the club will be in full swing.

The Fowles brothers, Harry, professional at the Sherbrooke Country Club and Jimmy, pro at the Lennoxville Club, both expect large turnouts this week-end.

Most golf enthusiasts claim that the courses throughout the district are in better shape this year than last.

The Dufferin Heights Golf Club have been open for several weeks and Sherbrooke and district golfers will most likely turn out en masse this week-end and attempt to break par.

St. Pat's Midgets regained possession of first place by outscoring Lennoxville 15-13 in a game played at L.H.S.

For the first two innings play was very close and the scoreboard read 3-3. Then in the third inning the Irish scored four runs, moved into the lead which never relinquished.

The Lennoxville squad kept picking away at that lead and set up the stage for a thrilling seventh inning. Lennoxville scored 2 runs to make the count 15-13. Two men were on base and Allcorn the L.H.S. pitcher hit a very high fly ball up in the sun at second base. Nevertheless Hayes caught the ball, juggled it but held on for the game winning out.

Professional Shows How

Harry Fowles, professional at the Sherbrooke Country Club, is about to send another white ball for a long ride. Today is the official opening of the club and the picturesque 18-hole course is in top notch condition. This afternoon at 1:30 the president vs. vice-president match will be played.

Clubhouse Overlooks Greens

The clubhouse at the Sherbrooke Country Club is situated in a very appropriate position. The large verandah faces both the ninth and eighteenth greens and both the first and tenth tees. The eighteen-hole course officially opens today.

Prince Simon, a big bay three-year-old out of Dancing Dora by Princequillo is a hot 5-2 favorite to take the greatest British classic which is run over the tough, tricky Epsom Downs course of grades and left hand turns. Post time is 11:30 a. m. ADT.

Tomorrow's race will be the 171st running of the Derby and it will be the richest in its history. Twenty-five are expected to start.

First money will be $47,629. Second place will be worth $5,636 and third will be worth $2,818.

Prince Simon had his first workout over the track this morning, ridden by his regular jockey, Harry Carr. He pleased onlookers.

British Amateur Golf Title Returns To U.S. For Third Time In Four Years As Chapman, Stranahan, Meet In Final

St. Andrews, Scotland, May 27.—(AP)—The British Amateur Golf Championship will return to the United States this year for the third time in four years. Today's final will be the second all-American affair in four years.

Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N.C., the 1949 Canadian Amateur King, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., meet on St. Andrews' historic "old course" in the final 36 holes to decide who will take the 65-year-old trophy back to the U.S.

Stranahan squelched the last British hope today with a decisive 4 and 3 verdict over veteran Cyril Tolley.

Chapman kept alive his fifth bid for the crown by outlasting Jim McHale, the long-driving former professional from Philadelphia, one-up in the other 18 hole semi-final.

The only other time two Americans clashed in the final round of the British Amateur, Chapman lost to Willie Turnesa at Carnoustie, Scotland, 3 and 2. That was in 1947.

Stranahan will be seeking his second British title in three years. He won his first in 1948.

After some brilliant golf earlier in the week, yesterday brought nothing outstanding. A lot of it wasn't even good.

McHale, who had been regarded as the main American dark horse, never was on speaking terms with his putter. On the 18th green against Chapman, when a 35-foot putt would have squared the match, he tapped the ball straight at the cup only to have it stop three feet short.

Stranahan simply waited for the 54-year-old toley to run out of gas, which he finally did after giving Frank some anxious moments.

15 Entrants To Face Starter In 91st Running Of King's Plate At Woodbine; Rain Forecast For Race

Toronto, May 27.—(AP)—The 91st running of the King's Plate at Woodbine today is a wide open affair with at least six of the 15 entrants given a good chance.

A crowd of approximately 35,000 is expected to jam Canada's most beautiful race track to see the renewal of North America's oldest consecutively-run annual horse race. Governor-General Alexander will attend.

Fifteen of the country's best three-year-olds will gallop the mile and an eighth for the King's 50 Guineas and the $15,000 added.

Nephisto, owned by R. S. McLaughlin's Parkwood Stable, has more supporters among the experts than any other entrant but leading trainers, clockers and handicappers also called Unionville, McGill, Sir Strome, and Brazen Buz.

There was strong support too for J. R. McIntyre's Blue Dance and J. E. Frowde Seagram's Roanite, winners of the two divisions of the Plate Trials last Saturday.

Today's classic is a full three furlongs longer than the trials and the fit Blue Dance is expected by some to be able to retain his speed for the full nine furlongs while Roanite, who won last Saturday at odds of slightly more than 44 to 1, will have much backing if the track is heavy.

Woodbine's mile-long oval on the shores of Lake Ontario in Toronto's East End was fast tonight but the weatherman forecast scattered showers for this afternoon.

Handicappers figure the winner could pop up among any one of the other runners—Maplewood, Pine River, Day's Eye, Bard of Avon, Lady's Lover, Jim's I.C.R.A., Tinderrill and Medalofredom. The only filly, Day's Eye, will carry 114 pounds, the others 119.

All are owned in Ontario. Three-Pine River, Medalofredom and Tinderrill—were bred in Western Canada.

Three riders have been brought from United States tracks to ride in the Plate. Chris Rogers, formerly of Toronto, will be aboard McGill, Clarence Picou on Blue Dance and J. Nichols on Unionville.
