Ontario Steel Products Limited plans to spend between $800,000. and $1,000,000 for its new plant and equipment at Lacolle. The initial plant size will be 25,000 square feet, and will be situated on 25 arpents of land on the north side of Route 52 as far as Lacolle River and on the east side of the Napierville Junction Railroad (D&H Main Line); with up to 50 employees initially and the possibility of doubling the operations in the near future.

At the Press Conference, Mr. Watson, M.P., praised the role of the Lacolle Chamber of Commerce in launching a publicity and advertising campaign to publicize the fact that the Lacolle area, as part of St. Jean County, has been designated for special tax benefits by the Federal Government. He pointed out that the pamphlet prepared by the Lacolle Chamber of Commerce together with a letter from himself outlining the tax benefits, which had been addressed by the Lacolle Chamber of Commerce to approximately 40 Canadian firms had been directly responsible for bringing Ontario Steel Products to Lacolle as the Company had already purchased land in Ste. Therese when it was made aware of the possibilities Lacolle offered.

Mr. Watson also praised the Mayor of Lacolle, Mr. Albert Morin, and the president of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Landry, for straightening out a number of problems for the new company during the past few weeks and stated that the positive and friendly attitude demonstrated by the townspeople of Lacolle had been an important factor in the company establishing in Lacolle.

Lacolle populace are indeed happy and grateful to learn of this very important news to develop their town.

Winners In Lions Public Speaking Contest

Six Public speakers and their coaches were entertained at the Ormstown Hotel by the Ormstown Lions Club, to dinner and entertainment, at 6.30 Tuesday evening. At 8 o'clock all assembled at Ormstown High School where they competed for the Lion Cash Prize for the best speaker from the schools of the counties of Chateauguay and Huntingdon. Each contestant was given a minimum of five minutes with a maximum of seven minutes to present his or her speech. They were then presented with a topic subject and allowed fifteen minutes to prepare a two minute talk. First place winners will compete in the Regional Public Speaking Competition in Montreal and if lucky will go on to the Provincial and Inter-Provincial Contests. Judges for the English section were Mrs. Andrew Kelen, and Messrs. Keith Howden and Seggi. Judges for the French Section were Messrs. Bruno Beaulieu and Eldas Primeau.

The students drew lots for position and Miss Rita Barrington of O.H.S. was first speaker. She chose as her subject, "Are we 20th Century Barbarians" weaving her theme around capital punishment. She appealed to her audience to do everything to ban the barbaric practice of capital punishment. Speaker number two was Mich. Hebert also of O.H.S. who spoke on the dangers of "Separatism in Quebec". He appealed for greater understanding and greater sacrifices on the part of all Canadian citizens, particularly the people of Quebec.

The third speaker was Douwe Rozema of H.H.S. who warned of the threat of Communism. Douwe said that great stress is put on politics in schools in Communist Countries and indeed it is taught to the exclusion of other subjects. While he did not advocate such drastic measures in our schools he would like to see greater emphasis on Municipal, Provincial and Federal politics in our schools.

The last speaker for the English section was Nina Caldwell of H.H.S. Her very enlightening talk on "The Wage Earner and Credit" was very well presented. She cautioned that although credit is an admirable and necessary commodity, it is also a trap for the unwary who try to live beyond their means.

The first speaker for the French section was Gerard Frappier of Ormstown and a student at St. Joseph's School in Huntingdon. He gave a well prepared discourse on "the Use of Vitamins in Animal Husbandry". The second speaker, Louise Frappier of Notre Dame School very forcefully reminded Society of its Responsibility to Youth, Today and Tomorrow.

Miss Caldwell's impromptu speech was "The Ideal Country". She said it is Canada and gave her reason why. Michael Hebert spoke on the Student Council saying it is modelled on our Canadian Parliament.

Rita Barrington's "What I would like to be" revealed that she would like to be a nurse. Douwe Rozema's subject, "The Student Council" forced him to ask the question, "Is it good, or is it bad" In less than two minutes Douwe proved that the Student Council is a good organization for all schools. Louise Dandurand, like Miss Barrington revealed that she would like to be a nurse. Gerard Frappier spoke on the joys of Sugar Making.

Miss Dandurand was the winner of the French section for the girls and Gerard Frappier won in the boys section. Miss Rita Barrington and Michael Hebert were winners for the English section. Mrs. Andrew Kelen represented the English judges and Mayor Bru. Beaulieu represented the French judges as they gave very helpful and constructive criticism to the speakers. All six contestants were of a very high calibre as public speakers and show great promise as future orators.

Lion Cliff Moore in the absence of President Lion Gorden Green expressed his thanks to the judges and the speakers and wished them well in their future endeavors.

Cash prizes were presented to the winners and runners up by Lion Treasurer Mervin Barrington.

Ormstown's Red Cross Family

(By Bernice Cullen)

A letter came to our desk the other day from Red Cross Headquarters in Montreal, informing us that we, in Ormstown have a unique family in our midst. Three members of the Etienne family of Lower Ormstown hold office in the two branches of the Canadian Red Cross in our town.

Mr. Ulysiss Etienne was born in the small town of Namur in northern Quebec, a few miles north of Montebello. At a very early age his parents moved to Eastern, Saskatchewan where the lad grew up. When he was nineteen. he came east again, working for a time at the Chateau in Huntingdon. From there Mr. Etienne went to work for his uncle at Decheaux Cleaners. He was employed there until his enlistment with the R.C.A.F. where he served as an air gunner overseas. He was wounded and sent home but returned to Britain and his gunner duties. At one time Gunner Etienne was reported missing and presumed dead, but he was merely on a prolonged mission. On his return to Montreal he met and married Miss Mary McCormick of the Eastern townships whom he met at R.C.A. Victor, where he was employed. Twelve years ago the Etienne family moved to Ormstown, having purchased the Sangster Lindsay property. Mr. Etienne is employed as Superintendent of the Steam Plant at Canadian Electroletic Zinc, in Valleyfield. He is a member of St. Paul's United Church Choir, as well as a member on the Board of Stewards of the same Church. This year he was appointed President of the Local Red Cross Branch in Ormstown.

Mrs. Etienne has been an active worker with the Girl Guides, at one time she was captain of the Ormstown Troop, she served as President of the Local Association for a time, also as badge secretary and as Camp Secretary. She is Chairman of the ways and means committee of the Women's Auxiliary of the Barrie Memorial Hospital. She is also a member of the Library Committee of the home and school. She has been named Co-Chairman of the Financial Campaign of the Local Red Cross.

Miss Cheryl Etienne, one of the two children of the Etiennes is eighteen years of age. Cheryl became interested in Junior Red Cross work through the School. In 1963 she was privileged to attend the Conference held in St. Johns University, Newfoundland, where she met many students from Canada and the United States, with similar interests in the work of Junior Red Cross. Cheryl still keeps in touch by letter and by visits with many of her conference friends. It was throught her efforts that the group of 13 candy stripers, known as the Volunteens was formed, and which has become a very important part of the volunteer brigade at Barrie Memorial Hospital. Each girl commits herself to at least two hours a week helping with the tasks of making patients comfortable. Cheryl's childhood ambition is to become a nurse, she would like to specialize in children's work. She is a student in grade eleven at O.H.S. Cheryl has one brother Carl, who is in ninth year at the same school. Miss Etienne is now President of the Ormstown Branch of the Junior Red Cross.

Huntingdon Rink Wins Moore Bonspiel At Howick

Gladys Renaud skipped her Huntingdon rink to victory in the Moore Bonspiel held at Howick February 24 - 26. The final game was 10 end battle between the Renaud rink and another Huntingdon rink with Silver D. skip, Lillian McLean.

The score was 8 - 0 for Mrs. Renaud at the 6th end. The opposition took a 3 on the 7th and won the next two ends. The 10th end was a thriller as Mrs. McLean's rink drew in counters enough to win the game. Mrs. Renaud lost her first rock, but her final rock clinched the game. Third play-

Major Automotive Industry May Locate At St. Timothee

As the weeks and the days go by, rumor has it more and more that an important industry will soon be established in St. Timothee parish. It has been told that options, valid until the 1st of May, 1965, were taken on 300 acres of land in the Rang Double.

This new industry is likely to be the Chrysler Corp., but there is also some talk about the Ford Company, Dosco or Dominion Steel. The fact is that the negotiator, who has taken the option on the land is Trans-World Leaseholds Inc. of 218 Elmslie St., Ville LaSalle.

Mr. Eugene Perron, Mayor of St. Timothee Parish, expressed the hope that such an industry be established in the municipality but did not want to confirm anything for the moment.

From a good source it was learned that three 100 acre farms, along with 9 acres of land along the Canadian National Railway were subject to the option. Sounding work was carried out and is now finished. It was revealed as satisfactory and met with the requirements. From the same source, there is a 90% chance that this industry to a cost about $80 millions with jobs for 800 persons, will be established in the limits of the parish. All the facilities are there, navigation, roads and railway. Besides, the village has already started to widen Pie XII Blvd. for a better access to this site.

Mr. Gerard Cadieux, M.P.P. for Beauharnois County, contacted in his Quebec office, had this to say: "If everything goes as hoped there soon would be in the limits of St. Timothee Parish an industry much more important in size than any other in the area, with the exception perhaps of the Montreal Cottons for the number of employees. I am constantly in contact with the interested industry, through the Department of Industry and Commerce. I have to meet with the industrial commissioner Louis Marchand, and if I can reveal other news to the population, I will do it with pleasure. You will understand however that I must exercise extreme caution in this matter. But I will add that I am expecting soon an extraordinary announcement. All is certainly not definite yet, the negotiations being carried on at a higher level.

As it was always believed, the area between Melocheville and Valleyfield promises to become a center of heavy industry. If these rumors, circulating today, do not materialize, it will certainly not mean the end of everything. Inevitably this will become an industrial centre, with all the advantages offered.

Huntingdon Scouts And Cubs Hold Father-Son Banquet

The annual Father and Son Banquet in connection with Boy Scout Week in Huntingdon, was held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Hall, on Saturday, February 27th, with about 180 attending.

All sat down to a well prepared meal supplied by the mothers of the Scouts and Cubs, with Mrs. James O'Hare being the convener. The chairman of the evening was Mr. Wm. Goodall of the Group Committee and he asked Rev. Mr. McMichen to give the Blessing. Dr. K. G. Cameron proposed a Toast to The Queen and Mr. Goodall welcomed the fathers, Scouts and Cubs as well as members of the clergy and other guests.

Jon Proudfoot introduced the guests at the head table as follows: Leo Curran, Mrs. Roy Moore, Mrs. Fred Kyle, Mrs. Harry Scott, Andrew Fawcett, Wm. Goodall, Rev. P. R. Stote, Rev. Mr. McMichen, Lawrence Carrigan, Bruce Smith, Mrs. Howard McLean and Allan Hunter.

Several reports were heard during the course of the evening from the following: Andrew Fawcett, financial statement; Ruth Moore for the Beaver Pack; Lawrence Carrigan for the Bulldog Pack; Bruce Smith for the 1st Huntingdon Troop of Scouts.

A toast to the Fathers was proposed by Scout Brian Mennie and this was replied to by Mr. Richard Reiter.

The speaker of the evening was Mr. Ken Aldridge of the District Council. He spoke of the Scout law and the Scout Promise and also on brotherhood. He spoke to the boys about education and their ability to do creative work with their leisure time. Our school teaches us to reason and to study. Scouting teaches us to use our time productively. Do not be a Scout only when in uniform, but at all times. In closing he asked everyone to join in a sing-song. He was thanked by Wm. Goodall.

Andrew Fawcett thanked the mothers for the fine meal they had prepared and served.

Rev. Stote reported for the nominating committee and the proposed slate was as follows: Chairman, Allan

Council May Extend Curfew Law to Age 16 Years

A regular session of the Huntingdon Town Council was held on Monday night, March 1st., at the County Building, with Mayor Leo Cappiello presiding and all members present.

A number of accounts were read and passed for payment.

The Secretary - Treasurer read a letter from the Shawinigan Water & Power Co. stating their recommandations as a result of a survey of the town's street lighting system. Proposed, was the relocation and addition of several street lights at an annual cost increase of $1,039. The plan was accepted as submitted with the exception of 3 additional street lights on Ridge Road and one on Pigeon St. It was suggested that the Godmanchester Council's cooperation be asked in connection with these.

Another letter from Sullivan & Sullivan of Valleyfield was read, requesting the subdivision of part of lot 27, the plan showing the continuation of Poirier St. from Bouchette and providing for 55 and 50 ft. wide streets. The plan was accepted by the Council provided that the streets meet with the requirements of the Municipal Commission and with no guarantee of water and sewer services unless approved by the Health Department.

During the question period, Mr. Jean-Guy Haineault requested a restaurant permit on West St. Mr. King, who owns a restaurant in the neighborhood and a group of citizens were also present and voiced their opinion on the matter. Since West St. is residential, the parties concerned were asked to bring in a petition in favor or against West St., being commercial and report to the Council at a next meeting.

A letter from Mr. Ian Watson, M.P., was received saying that at a recent meeting of the Regional Committee for Expo 67 delegates expressed the hope that the highways in the County be repaired as soon as possible, and asking that the Council sign a petition, which was included, and return it to the Committee's secretary.

Mr. Cappiello asked if any of the new flags had been ordered. Since this had not been done, it was decided that two 4½ x 9 flags be ordered.

Mr. Cappiello also wanted to repeat what he had said at last month's meeting so as to clear any misunderstanding. He said that he had the permission from the Council to conduct the meetings in English by respect to the English speaking Aldermen who do not understand French. If a matter was raised in French he would try to answer it or ask one of the Aldermen to answer.

A letter was received from the Department of Municipal Affairs with congratulations to the local Fire Department for having obtained a Recognition Certificate in connection with the 1964 Fire Prevention Contest in the E class.

Notice of motion was given by Alderman Brisebois that he will propose at a next meeting a new water by-law holding the owner responsible for the water tax in the case of the tenant's departure.

Notice of motion was also given by Alderman Gaw to amend by-law 263 for the purpose of extending to 16 years the age limit where the curfew has to be respected.

It was decided that the office at the municipal garage be finished and painted, and that the insurance on the garage be raised to $10,000.

At 10 P.M. the Council adjourned for ten minutes after which the meeting resumed behind closed doors.

Next Council meeting will be held March 15.

Ormstown Couple Robbed By Armed, Masked Men

By Bernice Cullen

One of Ormstown's most respected couples have been the victims of a vicious assault and robbery attack. Some time between three-thirty and four o'clock last Thursday morning, Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Beaulieu were awakened by a blinding flash of light in their faces. They suddenly realized that two masked and armed men were bending over them demanding their money. At the least sign of protest they were told to keep quiet or their lives would be in danger. They were forced from their beds and taken to the basement of their home where they were tied to the supporting posts of the lower floor. Mr. Beaulieu implored their tormentors not to tie his wife too tightly as she is a cardiac victim. The thieves then went upstairs and ransacked the home, taking many household and personal articles. Not only did they rob the family of household articles, they used the Beaulieu car for their get away. The car was later found, undamaged on the river at Logan's point near St. Martine. Before leaving the house the masked robbers raided the frig and made themselves a meal, checking on their victims to make sure they were still tied. It was through unusual courage that Mrs. Beaulieu was able to withstand the ordeal and after an hour and a half she was freed of her ropes through sheer manual effort on her own part. She freed her almost unconscious husband and then went to the neighbours, Mr. and Mrs. Germain Laplante, who called the police. The Beaulieu family wish to commend the police on their quick action in coming to their aid, and they also would like to thank their many friends and neighbours who were so generous with their offers of help.

Conference of Catholic Choirs In The Diocese of Valleyfield.

A conference was held at the Seminary in Valleyfield on Sunday, February 21st, that was of importance to all organists, choir directors and choristers in the Diocese. The impending changes in the Mass which should come into effect on March 7th have been causing much speculation among those responsible for the music in church, so the call sent out to all Parishes, 63 in all, by the Director of Sacred Music, to meet in conference, met with a ready response. It was expected that about 150 would be present, actually 400 had arrived by 10 a.m.

Discussion papers had been prepared and in no time all those attending were settled in small groups, scattered in the many classrooms of the Seminary. Directors of large choirs discussed their problems with directors who could call on only a small handful of singers. Organists who sometimes not only had to play the Mass but sing it as well, sat around the table and discussed problems with the organist who enjoyed the best of organs and choirs. Many resolutions were passed during the morning session and again in the afternoon when discussions were resumed after a delicious lunch which was served in the cafeteria.

At 3:30 everyone met in the auditorium to hear a report on the resolutions, but these had been so numerous and thought-provoking that it was decided to print copies and issue them to all present for consideration at home. At 4:30 a half hour of instruction in the singing of the Mass was led by Father Tremblay. Director of singing at the Seminary, and this was followed at 5 o'clock by Mass in the Chapel, celebrated by Bishop Caza. The choir was composed of all the directors present. At 6 p.m. a banquet was offered by the St. Cecil Institute of Sacred Music to all who could stay and Monsignor Caza addressed the gathering.

Favourable comment was heard on all sides following this day of conference and it was felt that much had been accomplished. Two suggestions which received considerable support were, that there should be closer contact between the churches in the Diocese and, that there should be a central headquarters in the Diocese where organists or directors might obtain any new music or books needed where they might go for information. It is certain that the revised form of the Mass will not go into effect in all churches on Sunday next as there are, as yet, no books ready, but a start has been made and if choir directors and organists receive the full support of the congregation together with that of the choir when the Mass, sung in French and English, will soon be an accomplished fact. Attending the conference from Hemmingford were Choir Director Mr. C. Frederick, Organist Mrs. J. H. L'Espérance, and members of the choir, Mr. Gerald Smith, Mr. Raymond Barrière Mr. J. H. L'Espérance, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Marcel Fortin, Mrs. Idola Fortin, Mrs. Roy Holmes, Mrs. Gerald Ouimet. Miss Routier and Miss Marcoux.

Advertising Pays

The following story says Chet Oney at Lake Worth Florida will prove that advertising pays . . . When returning to our car in West Palm Beach a gentleman stepped forward and asked if we were from Huntingdon and at the same time stated that he had noticed Huntingdon Motors, Huntingdon, Que., on the trunk of the car. Now this is where the reunion, or reminiscence period started . . . I hesitated, then said, Yes McWhinnie, we are and I can still see the surprised look that came over Edson, for it was back in 1940 since we had met.

In the fall of 1940 Edson had the pleasure of working in the composing room of the Huntingdon Gleaner, when the Late A. A. Antoine was foreman. At this point he stated that the Late A. L. Sellar (or to use his phrase, Adam) was a loyal friend of Albert's and that after he (McWhinnie) left The Gleaner, the Late Editor (Adam) was always ready to vouch for Edson as a tradesman when needed. He was surprised to learn that Art Hampson was still with the Gleaner. He also enquired about a Messrs Smith and Napier, also mentioned Miss Eva White and was pleased to learn that they were still in Huntingdon.

Edson took up Curling in Ormstown, Que., with the "IRONS" and recalled such names as the McGerrigles, Bryons. Cottinghams, Chambers Darbys, Osmond and made special enquiry re Mr. A. A. Lunan and Jack Lanktree (when I show him this week's Gleaner with Jack in it he will be pleased).

As a Checker Player, many will remember his playing in the Charlie Lamb store with players such as the Macfarlanes, Goodfellows, Walter Arthur. He also wanted to know where Gilbert Mcmillan was and I was able to report and will be able to show him that Gib. is still on the Ice as he is in the same photo with Jack Lanktree.

Edson McWhinnie is a member of the International Typographical Union and a Past President of Local 636, Moncton, N.B. At the present time the Post Times in West Palm Beach is out on Strike (this is the second year). Edson was foreman of the Truro Daily News, and during the war was foremen and with a skelton staff put out the Daily and three Weekly Newspapers.

Edson's Father and Mother were James J. McWhinnie and Robina McIntyre, therefore, he has many relative near Huntingdon — Roy McWhinnie Mrs. Alex Evans, Mrs. Dan Hamilton (aunt of the Tully boys etc.). The McIntyres and there are many in our district His Sister is Mrs. Russell Kerr Fertile Creek, brothers are William, Garnet, Percy, Norman and Russel (deceased).

Lawrence Brown and McWhinnie are going to meet, as Edson went to school with Lawrence's brother Alex, their farms were close in the good old days.

The photograph shows Mr and Mrs. E. McWhinnie reading The Gleaner (in Florida) and here I may state that his wife was Blanche Falconer of Hopewell, N.S., and she knew the family and relatives of the Late Rev. J. B. Maclean, D.D our former pastor, therefore we had a lot in common.

VALLEYFIELD

The Moco Ladies Evening Section Curling Club held their annual invitation bonspiel on Saturday, Feb. 20th. The teams which participated in this event were, St. Lambert, Beauchateau, Huntingdon, Riverfield, Ormstown, Wentworth, Lorraine, and Valleyfield.

The games got underway at 9.00 a.m., and each team was quaranteed two eight-end games. The system of scoring was "main event" and "consolation". This has been the choice of scoring in the club for the past few years, so as to allow the incoming teams the loss of their first game, yet hold the interest of a comeback in their second game by means of battling for first postion in the consolation event.

Upon the arrival of the teams, coffee and doughnuts were served to those who desired such.

The first games played were fairly uncomfortable with the unfortunate complicaton of extremely cold weather, a great assistant in the specification of the registerated figures on the thermometer in the curling rink, hitting a most undesirable 14 below zelo mark. Ear muffs could have been well in style. The participants thoroughly enjoyed the most appetising lunch of soup, sandwiches, pickles and tea or coffee, after bravely tackling this temperature for two hours.

Following the finale of the second game, a sherry party was held between the hours of five and six o'clock.

A supper was served at 6.00 p.m. consisting of a delicious chicken, salads, dessert, tea or coffee. The table was decorated with lighted candles, whereupon the lights were dimmed to give a comfortable atmosphere. This was quite a plain decorative system, but I would state, immensely successful, as it gave comfort, and the "go" to really enjoy the picking of the "chicken bones" in the soft dim lighting. By the gaiety and laughter at the table, it was obvious that everyone, winners or losers, were enjoying every moment of this day.

Unfortunately, the climax of the day had finally arrived. Mrs. N. Ross, Chairman of the Evening Section spoke words of appreciation to those who had attended the gathering, whereupon, she then called upon the victorious winners of the day to come forward and accept the trophy and prizes. The first place winners in the main event were, St. Lambert, the team consisting of — skip, F. Schmidt, third, R. Shepard, second, N. Walker, lead, J. Boutilier. Second place winners, prizes presented by R. Lacroix, Match Chairman, were: Huntingdon, skip, M. Elliot, third, V. Dixon, second, M. Pringle, and lead, J. Watson. The consolation prizes, first place, presented by H. Baker, were won by the Valleyfield rink consisting of skip, P. Stewart, third, B. Scherf, second, O. Mayoh, and lead, M. Calvert. Runners-up, presented by P. Stewart were the Lorraine Club, skip, N. Labelle, third, M. Renouf, second, I. Pharrand, and lead, C. Thomson.

The raffle was won by M. Renouf from Lorraine Club.

This proved a very successful day, whereupon there was a fine display of curling, and everyone certainly had a splendid time.

Appreciation is extended to those who worked so very hard for the accomplishment of such a success; Miss N. Ross, Chairman, Mrs. R. Lacroix, Match Chairman, and Mrs. H. Baker, Social Convener. Further appreciation is stressed to all those who assisted the chairman in this endeavour, and to Miss P. Anderson, Treasurer, whose job is not yet complete, covering the responsibility of payments of the day.

It was "old home week" to see one of our members, L. Clifford, right in there helping as she has always done in the past years. We missed Lorna during her recent illness, and are very happy to have her back again. Another lady who did not spare the "aches" of the legs, was Miss Iris Amos, and she had quite a "battle" ahead, being a member on the team participating

Boy Scout Week Activities In Hemmingford

On Friday evening Feb. 26, at the Presbyterian Church Hall, 36 Cubs and 12 Scouts gathered to enjoy a hot-dish supper, marking the end of Scout Week in Hemmingford Guests at the head table included Mr. C. Zeagman, District Commissioner for Chateauguay Valley, Mr. Ed. Burgess, District Scoutmaster, Mr. Jim Laurie, Local Representative of the Chateauguay Valley District Staff, Canon L. Corriveau, Reverend G. Ficko, Mr. Walter Smith and Mr. Coombe. Rev. Mr. Prendergast was, unfortunately, unable to be present.

After an enjoyable meal, Mr. Zeagman, guest speaker of the evening, thanked the Group Committee for inviting him to attend this supper, this annual gathering marking the 24th consecutive Scout Week in Canada. Scout Week originated in 1942, marking the 1st anniversary of the death of Lord Baden Powell. The number of boys in Scouting grows, said Mr. Zeagman, but the problem of finding leaders becomes more and more acute. He appealed to the fathers present, and to all interested in Scouting to approach their local Group Council. Any offers of help would be welcome. He asked that this fine work be continued and that through the years the Scouts present would join with the millions of Scouts all over the world in recalling the life and personality of Lord Baden Powell and the fundamentals of good Scouting as laid down by him.

After supper the fine display of articles, made by the boys, was inspected and these articles will remain on display in the window of W.B. Smith's store Several amusing games were enjoyed by the boys and their fathers

TRIBUTE TO MARC ROBIDOUX

Sweet little angel one,
Your face will not grow old;
Your body firm and pink
When all the tale's been told.

No wrinkles as we know
From life as it bestows;
Your mind all clean and fresh
From war or peace time woes.

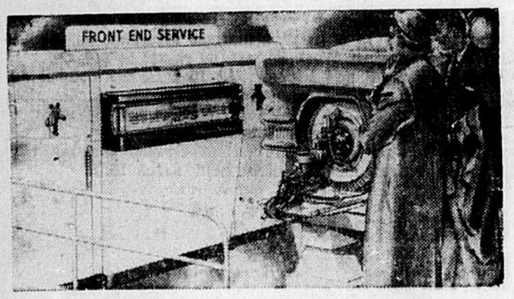

The answer's never clear
For those who must go on;
Yet time and faith will teach,
There'll be another dawn.

God picked the finest shoot
For Heaven's garden fair;
Much as we do on earth
For growth beyond compare.

Life cannot curb your dreams
And oh, the curbs there are!
You'll grow and watch and wait,
Your vantage point, a star.

Optimist Club For Huntingdon A Distinct Possibility

It would seem that Huntingdon is to have another Service Club, for on Wednesday night the nucleus of one was formed. A meeting was held when members of the Cornwall Optimist Club lead by Bob Kirkey, President of the Club, discussed the possibilities with a number of Huntingdon men.

The culmination of this was that the following have agreed to act as follows: Claude Pilon, Acting Chairman with Leon Beaudin, Melvin Harrigan, Bernard Bolter, Ken Walsh, Roland Lavellee and Charlie Grant as co-chairmen. Others have signified their intention of taking interest in the Club.

A proper dinner meeting has been set up to take place at the Chateau on Wednesday, March 10th, at 7 p.m. It is intended that several members from Cornwall and some from Montreal will be in attendance on this occasion. It is then hoped to sign up as many charter members as possible during the evening.

Meantime here are few pointers on the why of an Optimist Club.

Why An Optimist Club In Your Town

An Optimist Club is an active vehicle for building, through fellowship, friendship and harmonious cooperation, constructive civic achievement. Each club is made up of selected individuals with a desire to share in the responsibilities and benefits of community progress.

Aims And Objects

To develop Optimism as a philosophy of life; to promote an active interest in good government and civic affairs; to inspire respect for the law; to aid and encourage the development of youth.

Slogan

"Friend Of The Boy" provides every member with the opportunity to relive his youth by working with boys.

Membership

Membership is made up of a cross section of every community representing all walks of life. Whatever a member's status is in his everyday life, he is just plain "Bill", "Joe", "Pete', "Art" and "Harry" to the other members of his club.

Size and Importance

Optimist Clubs have been in existence since before 1911 and Optimist International is the third largest service club in the world consisting of 2200 clubs with over 80,000 members. Following its birth in the United States, it spread to the far-flung provinces of Canada. Never let it be said that a town is too small, or a city too large for optimism. The oportunity for a service is a loose mold that fits every community. A town with an Optimist Club is a progressive town.

and then came the sing-song round the 'camp-fire'. Both Mr. Zeagman and Mr. Burgess led action songs and all joined in the rousing choruses. The leaders express sincere appreciation to Mrs. J. Robertson of the Presbyterian Guild and to all the ladies who made this evening such a success.

On Sunday, opening Scout Week, all the local churches were well attended.

At St. Roman's Church 13 Cubs, three Cub Leaders, four Scouts and one Leader attended the 8 a.m. Mass. The boys sat in the front of the church and several assisted with the Mass. Seven Cubs, Akela and two Scouts attended the morning service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and took an active part in the service. Eleven Cubs, four Scouts and a member of the Group Committee, Mr. Frank Deery, attended morning service at St. Andrew's United Church. Mr. Deery gave a short address. One Scout attended the Anglican Church service.

The previous week the Cubs held a skating party. Games and races were played, and these were followed by a hearty supper in the Parish Hall which had been prepared by the leaders. Needless to say, the attendance, 36 Cubs, was perfect on this evening! Later in the week, a well-attended card party was held,

A Skunk in Difficulty

Early one morning a certain young man was on his way out of his house to go to work, when he noticed a skunk walking around with his head stuck in a bottle. A call went out to his brother to bring a gun to shoot the bottle off the skunk's head, but the first shot didn't break the bottle. The animal became rather frightened and started to come towards the man: Not wishing to be too friendly with this animal the man made sure that the next shot killed the animal. The family of the house are satisfied there were no bad reminders left to this story.

Dundee

DUNDEE — Mr. Stanley Staveley and Mr. Edward Watterson spent last Friday at Macdonald College, where they attended the Macdonald Royal. Mr. Barry Fraser, Agriculture I, who showed a pig in the Open Gilt Class, ranked second. Miss Jessie Fraser, in company with other classmates from Huntingdon High, also attended the Royal. There were many displays to see as well as demonstrations and glowing accounts were heard about the College. Miss Anne Fraser and Mr. Barry Fraser returned to their homes in Dundee with Mr. Staveley. Miss Ruby Hooker of Ormstown was also with them.

Mr. John MacMillan of Lachine, spent the week-end with Miss Thelma and Mr. Gilbert MacMillan.

Sunday morning a special worship service was held for the Sunday School of Zion United Church. Prizes for good attendance were given to Debbie MacPherson, Dale Ferguson, Larry Ferguson. Hugh Fraser, Joan Fraser and Janice Fraser. These prizes are given in the hope that they will encourage more youngsters to attend Sunday School regularly. There are many children of the congregation who seldom come to Church School. This is regrettable for they are missing much that they should know.

Junior Playoff

It's hockey playoff time at the Arena, and Monday evening the Roughriders won the first game of the Junior League final by a five to four score over the Macs. The win was something of an upset as the Macs went through the season winning seven straight games. The second game of the three game final will be played next Monday.

Town League

The final games of the town league schedule were played last week with St. Joseph Saints winning two games to clinch second place. The Saints won 7 to 3 over third place Athelstan and 5 to 2 over Cazaville. The Red Hawks won their final game of the season with a 9 to 1 win over Cazaville to end the season with an unbeaten record in eight games. Grants ended their season in fourth place by earning one point from a tie with St. Barbe. The score in this game was 2 to 2

Final Standing

	W	L	T	Pts
R. Hawks	7	0	1	15
St. Joseph	6	1	1	13
Athelstan	5	3	0	10
Grants	2	5	1	5
Cazaville	2	6	0	4
St. Barbe	0	5	1	1

Town League Playoffs

The powerful, fast skating Red Hawks were too much for St. Barbe on Friday evening, when they won by an 8 to 2 score in a sudden death playoff. The Red Hawks will now enter the three team final round. Wednesday evening St. Joseph take on Cazaville and Grants will play Athelstan. The two winning teams will enter the final round with the Red Hawks. St. Joseph and Athelstan are favoured to win.

If St. Joseph can win their game, they will meet the Red Hawks Friday evening in the first game of the three team round robin final. Each team will play the other twice, the team with the best record when the games are completed will be the winner of the Huntingdon Sports Association Trophy. In case of a tie at the end of the round a one game sudden death playoff will be held.

This Week at the Arena

Saturday night's the night. The night when the Arena will hold its big Masquerade Party. Look up in the Attic or down in the Cellar and find something to wear, that is if you don't have some creation from bygone days, that might be fitting for the occasion. If you don't have a costume, or look strange enough without one, come on over anyway and have a skate, enjoy the fun, and the Beef Pie Supper being prepared by Charles the Chef. Charles is preparing for over 250 people, he would be very disappointed if he had a lot of beef pie left over, his wife would make him eat for the rest of the month. Make a point to be there, we'll miss you if you're not. All proceeds from this event will go into the fund to improve the building.

Your Help Needed For The Music Festival

The Chateauguay Valley Music Festival, sponsored by the Lions Club of Ormstown, is seeking donations toward the cost of operation and scholarships and has already received a number. Donations of $2.00 and over toward the Festival will be printed in The Gleaner and the Programmes.

This Festival has aroused a great deal of interest in the field of music throughout the Chateauguay Valley and therefore it is a worth-while cause to be supported. Each year the number of entrants is increased and this in itself is a sure sign of the interest that is manifest. It is therefore suggested that the Ormstown Lions Club deserves your support in carrying on this annual event.

Following are some of the donations that have been received to this time.

HUNTINGDON CUB ACTIVITIES

February 24th, the Bulldog Pack held a Parent's night. Mr. Nelson Beattie entertained the boys and parents with the showing of two films "Winter Blunderland" and "Charlie's Haunt". Both were amusing but with the keynote on safety. After the films the leaders served doughnuts, coffee and soft drinks to 29 parents and 26 Cubs.

February 25th., the Bulldogs held a skating party at the War Memorial Arena. Twenty-one Cubs as well as some parents enjoyed an hour of skating. Thanks to Mr. J. Proudfoot for the use of the rink.

February 26, the Bulldogs' Sixers Stephen Deme, Wayne Rowat, Mark Proudfoot, Richard McCallum and Sidney Kyle held a meeting at Sidney's home. With the help of leaders, Mr. L. Carrigan Mrs. Shirley Scott, Mrs. Irene McLean and Mrs. Pearl Kyle, they made plans for a "Special Pack Meeting" to take place in the spring. The boys proved to have many interesting ideas and will help convey these to the rest of the pack at the next regular meeting. This was the first Sixers meeting to be held but we are sure it will not be the last. At the close of the meeting the boys enjoyed refreshments.

February 27, the Father and Son Banquet was well attended by Cubs, Scouts and fathers.

On Sunday, February 28th., at 1 p.m. the Cubs of the Bulldog Pack met at the arena. From there they were transported to the farm of Mr. Harry Scott in Dewittville. With their leaders, Mr. L. Carrigan, F. Kyle, P. Kyle, I. McLean, S. Scott, also several fathers and Boy Scouts the boys were escorted to the bush where they gathered wood to build two campfires. This achieved they were divided into groups and taken for a trek through the woods. It was a glorious day and the verification of animal tracks and tree identification was carried out. Mr. Harry Scott explained the use of a compass to the Second Star boys who were pleased to have a chance to pass this test.

It appeared likely for a moment that a search party would have to locate one of the leaders and his group; but the wind carrying the aroma of hot dogs cooking brought them out of the woods.

Appetites whetted by the ramble the twenty-four cubs tied into over nine dozen hotdogs cooked over their campfires. The "champion hot dog eater put away eleven hot dogs plus hot chocolate, doughnuts and marshmallows. Can anything compare with a hungry healthy Cub's appetite?

After playing on the ice for awhile the afternon was brought to a close by the boys doing the "Grand Howl", with great enthusiasm. The leaders would like to thank the parents of all these boys for all the interest shown during this past "Scout Week". A boy whose parents are interested in what he is doing makes a better Cub. Thanks also go to the Group Committee, McCoy Bros., The Huntingdon Gleaner and Grover's Store of Chateauguay. These people all helped make a successful week.

Federated Charities 'Caritas' President's Message

Since my personal message was not printed for my English-Speaking friends in a pamphlet which has been mailed a few days ago, the local newspapers have kindly accepted to reproduce it.

The Seventh annual campaign to the Federated Charities begins in March and we are counting on your generosity to help us reach our goal. To aid your fellow citizens in distress, we know that each of you will give the maximum contribution within his means. Our aim is to try and reach everyone — workers, farmers, merchants, professionals and businessmen.

Each of us has his individual favorite charities at the community level. However, the ever increasing needs of the larger area covered by the Federated Charities can only be met by the broader campaign. The eleven welfare agencies working together offer a wide range of social services, and enable us to see that every individual in our five counties, whatever his need, will receive help in time of distress.

When our representative knocks at your door, I appeal to you to give generously so that our good work can be continued and extended. Show the world, that we can pull together in this work of mercy and, in helping your less fortunate brethren, that YOU really care.

H'don Rink Wins . . .

er was Ruby Martin, 2nd Alice Lefebvre and lead Anna Barton.

On the opposite ice an Ormstown rink skipped by Marjorie Roy had a closely contested game versus Lacolle. skipped by Margaret Dawson to decide the Consolation event.

They tied about the middle of the game. Lacolle trailled on the 10th end but drew counters, giving the Ormstown rink some uneasy moments. Miss Roy who is skipping this year for the first time was happy to win the Consolation. She was supported by Marjorie Hope, Marion White and Madeline Greig (lead).

This was a most successful bonspiel. The weather was perfect and excellent ice was provided. The club rooms were crowded morning, noon and night, as the twenty-four rinks followed a closely-spaced schedule under the direction of the Match Committee, convened by Beatrice McCaig. They did a fine job of organization.

The social committee, headed by Anne Logan did a wonderful job and the players voiced their appreciation for the delectable meals that were served during a great part of each day.

After the finals, the president, Mrs. W. K. McRae, welcomed everyone and thanked all who had contributed to the success of this annual event which includes rinks from Ormstown, Huntingdon, Valleyfield, BeauChateau, Riverfield, Lacolle and Howick.

Mrs. Gerald Roy, President of L. C. A., was invited to present the trophy to the Huntingdon rink skipped by Mrs. Renaud. This was the first win for Huntingdon in 15 years.

Mrs. Robt. McCaig called on the winning rinks to select their prizes. There were tablecloths, place mats. casseroles, salad bowls, tea pots, wallets, curling gloves and sweaters. A choice to please everyone, thanks to Phyllis Letto's shopping.

A ticket was drawn for the table decoration of colourful mums and Mrs. Renaud went home with both trophy and flowers. Harold Robertson won the cake draw.

Doughnuts, cakes and coffee were served at the close of the evening.

There are now over 100 boys enrolled in the Scouts and Cubs. The need for leaders is urgent and anyone wishing to assist would be welcomed. The annual campaign for funds is now in progress and the full support of all would be appreciated.

Ormstown High School Notes

(By Nancylyn Cullen)

On Friday, February 26th. Grades ten and eleven visited Macdonald College, under the supervision of Mr. Petch and Mr. Henry. The occasion was the 18th Macdonald Royal. Many new thoughts filled the minds of the students after seeing the educational booth and displays set up by the college students and especially after watching the magnificent Green and Gold Review. We were particularly pleased to see a former O.H.S. student, Miss Janet Cavers take part in a difficult gymnastic display. The intermediate hockey team pulled through with a win against Howick boys last Tuesday afternoon after a long and vigorous game. Congratulations on your win, team.

O.H.S. was visited twice last week by the regional inspector, Mr. John Ferris, who was particularly impressed by our school band. Mr. Ferris pointed out how fortunate we are to have a band of the calibre of O.H.S. in a country school.

We learned last Wednesday, never again to underestimate our teachers. They challenged the girls basketball team, and whether it was the original costumes they wore or whether it was just plain good luck, they won the game with a score of 38 to 18.

Lions Club Public Speaking contest is scheduled for Tuesday evening, with Rita Barrington and Jim Sproule representing O.H.S.

Howick

Curling Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Baillie entertained friends from Montreal on Saturday. During the afternon they played two short games of curling and for most of them it was their first game. Dinner was served later at the Baillie home and a social evening enjoyed.

Winners of the Saturday evening curling were Sharon Ness and Ross Peddie, (skip)

A rink skipped by R. B. Ness won the Consolation at the Riverfield Men's Bonspiel. Third was Robert Tennant with Roy Gourley, second and Earl Craig, lead.

Macdonald College Royal

Those who attended the Macdonald Royal were pleased with what they saw and heard.

Two local girls played prominent parts. Sandra McFarlane took part in a Phys. Ed display which consisted of a modern display, a pairs display, and a demonstration of judo. The judo demonstration was given by Sandra and her instructor, and was fascinating to watch. The entire showing took about ten hours.

Carol Carson was the pianist in a 12-piece orchestra which provided the music for the Green and Gold Revue. "The Glass Slipper," an enjoyable entertainment.

Another, who worked behind the scenes was Jacqueline Gourley, in make-up, and as secretary of publicity. Congratulations to these young ladies.

Among those who attended from this district were: Mrs. T. Gourley, Miss Laura Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Logan, Mrs. C. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Chisholm, Mr. and Mrs. E. Carson, Miss Sherrill Carson and Mrs. M. Glasgow.

Mrs. Herbert Pilon and Wendy of Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Buchanan.

We know one tiny girl who is yearning for a change of seasons. Returning home from Sunday School last week she wondered if God had a calendar. She feared he might not know when spring should come as she was tired of "these old leggings".

HOWICK High School HIGHLIGHTS

(Jo Anne Rorison)

There is not much news this week; students at Howick High are too busy practising for events in the future. Our public speakers are preparing speeches for the finals next Friday, our musicians are practising for the choirs and our Junior Basketball teams are preparing for future games.

The highlight of the week was Grade 10 and 11's trip to the Macdonald Royal on Friday. From the time we left home early in the morning until we returned, the day was packed with many interesting events. The displays and booths gave us an idea of the different activities at Macdonald. We found the gym display particularly interesting as one of last year's graduates, Sandra McFarlane, was taking part. The Fashion Show really made the girls envious. The climax of the day was the Green and Gold Revue. Again the pianist for the orchestra was a graduate from this school, Carol Carson.

Custom-Organized Top-Flight Shrine Circus Coming To Forum In May

The Montreal Karnak Temple has just signed a contract with Frank Wirth of New York City for the Shrine Circus to appear again this year starting May 22nd., at The Forum in Montreal.

This is the 26th consecutive year the Shrine Circus has performed each spring at the Atwater Avenue showplace.

World-famous impressario Wirth has gathered together a program of international circus and vaudeville acts, with great emphasis on the controlled performance of large groups of wild animals such as tigers, leopards, elephants, bears.

In addition, the usual funnymen, the clowns, will be around, as well as acrobats and aerialst known throughout the world.

For example, the universally celebrated Karl Wallenda and his troup of high wire stars, including members of his family, will be on hand. It will be remembered that some two years ago a very unfortunate accident happened during a Detroit appearance causing the death of two members of the family and seriously injuring another. Completely revised and brought up to date, this inspiring and thrilling act of courage and skill will be one of the many highlights of the Shrine Circus coming to the Montreal Forum on May 22nd. for eight days.

The revenue from the Shrine Circus is very important to the Montreal Shriners Hositals which serves the Province of Quebec, the eastern half of Ontario, the Maritime Provinces, plus northern New York and New England States with free-of-charge facilities for indigent crippled children of all denominations.

This And That In Town

Is it true that the new Canadian Flag at St. Joseph's School in Huntingdon has been stolen... if not, where is it now?

Last Thursday about 4 a.m. Mr. and Mrs. Adrien Beaulieu who are residing in their new home on the Outarde Road just outside the town limits of Ormstown, were awakened by flashlights shining in their eyes and the blades of hedge shears next to their necks. The thugs forced this respected couple to go down to the basement where they tied them hand and foot. Of course, they demanded money and they ransacked the house. Not only that, but they raided the refrigerator and made themselves a leisurely snack before making their get-away in the Beaulieu family Chrysler, found later on the river where the new and old highways meet east of Howick. The victims of the robbery, both in the advanced middle-age bracket, are thankful that they were able to free themselves after they were tied and that they were not maltreated more than they were, also that their beautiful home and furnishings were not damaged. For the first few days after the incident, the phone rang constantly at their residence and at the home of their son Bruno, Mayor of Ormstown: people inquired if they were all right after their harrowing experience and offered to help, if possible; few, if any, asked if the thieves had taken much in the way of loot. In time of trouble, as at the Ville LaSalle tragedy, friends forget material losses and are concerned about lives, which cannot be replaced as Mr. Beaulieu reiterated to a Gleaner representative.

Why do humming birds hum all the time?

So many dead skunks on the highways and byways is surely another indication that spring is half-way round the corner.

Scores of localities attended the annual Sportsmen's Show at the Show Mart in Montreal during the past few days. The same event in Toronto the previous week attracted a few local boating enthusiasts to the Queen City, including Earl Sault, Ormstown; the Lionel Richer family, Valleyfield; H. J. McMahon, Ormstown and one or two from Huntingdon.

Oh, about the humming birds: they don't know the words.

Too early for summer complaint, so it must be a touch of 'flu. Anyway, a lot of people seem to be complaining of old-fashioned beilyache these days.

Read elsewhere where the hackney horses, ponies and equipment owned by Colonel and Mrs. Frank J. Ryan of Kilreen Farms, Ottawa are to be sold. Interesting news in itself but more so because some of the animals trace their history to the former Jas. Franceschini (one time Forsythe) farm in Dundee. Undoubtedly horse fanciers in the Chateauguay Valley will be writing to Radio Station CFRA, Ottawa, for one of the sales brochures.

Ontario Steel Products Ltd. will build a plant at Lacolle (see pic. and story)... Welcome to the Chateauguay Valley!

An Optimist Club in Huntingdon will be a reality within a matter of weeks, according to R. H. (Bob) Kirkey, Past President of the Cornwall Optimist Club. Notary Claude Pilon is acting chairman in Ourtown. (see story).

Ormstown restaurateur Frank Blanchette's car was stolen one day last week when someone crossed the ignition wires to start the motor. The car was located near Riverfield the next day.

The LaSalle disaster Monday morning touched the hearts of everyone. Why so many innocent victims of the explosion, especially children, had to die in such a tragic manner is another question mortals cannot answer. In Chateauguay, where the blast was felt and heard, residents responded with enthusiasm to the plea for aid. St. George's Anglican Church, one of the depots named to help, sent two large truck loads of clothing to help the victims; also food baskets, a large sum of money and a lengthy list of people who offered to supply transportation and give shelter to survivors. At a time when some sources would have Canadians believe that French and English do not understand one another, it seems that the people of Chateauguay and the entire area surrounding Montreal have again proved the supposed barrier is a fantasy: in a time of emergency and sorrow everyone works together to help his fellow man. The people of Chateauguay who answered the call for help deserve the admiration and respect of all Canadians.

Safety Sam is at it again. This time he is throwing a Masquerade Skating Party at the Huntingdon County War Memorial Arena, on Saturday night. He is hoping for the same big success as he had with the Rink Romp last month. The Arena has been going great guns this winter, get over there and support it.

People from all walks of life were saddened to learn that Colonel Frank Ryan died suddenly Tuesday morning following a heart seizure. He and Mrs. Ryan were returning to Ottawa after spending several weeks on a combined business and pleasure trip in South America when the Colonel was stricken in Florida. Frank Ryan was president of Radio Station CFRA in Ottawa and was a candidate in the capital city's mayoralty election late in 1964. He was well-known to many local people, being an annual exhibitor of horses at Ormstown Exhibition, and his interest in agricultural affairs gained him wide acclaim in this area. The programme Valley Notebook that Frank and Mrs. Ryan compiled each week from gleanings of weekly newspapers in the Ottawa Valley area had many listeners in the Chateauguay Valley and The Gleaner was regularly quoted from half a dozen times or so every Sunday. Elsewhere in this column we mentiond that Col. Ryan was finalizing plans to sell his hackney horses and ponies at a dispersal auction...we believe this decision was made because of impaired health and it is now probable that his herd of cattle will also be sold. The Gleaner joins in extending sympathy of Chateauguay Valley friends to Mrs. Ryan and to Dr. Charlotte Whitton.

Admission tickets to the McGill Choral Society Concert to be held at Ormstown High auditorium Saturday, March 13, are at a premium. In Huntingdon, Mrs. Mons Duke and Miss Gilberte Demers still have a few available and local residents are urged to reserve their tickets immediately. Ormstown and Howick people may contact any member of the Ormstown Lions Club and if the member contacted has sold his quota, he will contact fellow members until every ticket has been sold. Please act now, tomorrow may be too late.

Mr. and Mrs. Normand Lazure were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Miller Carmichael and Raymond in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ray spent a pleasant holiday during the month of February at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hamilton. They also visited Mr. Ray Sr., in Lennoxville, friends in Lachine and enjoyed a stay in Nassau before returning to Wabush, Labrador.

Le conseil songe à étendre l'application du couvre-feu jusqu'à l'âge de 16 ans

Une réunion du conseil de la ville de Huntingdon avait lieu lundi le 1er mars sous la présidence du Maire Léo Cappiello et en présence de tous les membres.

On approuva le paiement d'un certain nombre de comptes.

Le Secrétaire-Trésorier lut une lettre de la compagnie d'électricité Shawinigan contenant leurs recommandations à la suite d'une étude du système d'éclairage des rues de la ville; on suggérait le déplacement et l'addition de plusieurs lumières de rue pour des frais additionnels de $1,039. par année. Le plan fut accepté tel que présenté excepté pour ce qui est de 3 lumières sur le chemin Ridge et d'une sur la rue Pigeon. Il fut suggéré qu'on demande la coopération du conseil de Godmanchester à ce sujet.

On lut aussi une lettre de Sullivan et Sullivan de Valleyfield demandant la sub-division d'une partie du lot 27, soit la continuation de la rue Poirier de Bouchette, et prévoyant des rues de 55 et 50 pieds de large. Le plan fut accepté par le conseil à la condition que les rues répondent aux exigences de la Commission Municipale et sans garantie des services d'eau et d'égouts à moins d'approbation du Ministère de la Santé.

Au cours de la période ouverte, M. Jean-Guy Haineault fit une demande pour obtenir un permis de restaurant sur la rue West. M. King, propriétaire d'un restaurant dans le voisinage, ainsi qu'un groupe de citoyens, émirent aussi leur opinion à ce sujet. On demanda aux parties intéressés, la rue West étant actuellement une rue résidentielle, de faire signer une pétition aux propriétaires de la rue West en faveur ou contre un changement au règlement déclarant commerciale, cette rue.

On lut une lettre de M. Ian Watson déclarant que le Comité Régional pour l'Expo 67 a, lors d'une récente assemblée, formulé une demande pour l'amélioration des routes dans le comté et demandant au conseil de signer une pétition endossant cette demande.

M. Cappiello demanda si on avait commandé des drapeaux. Il fut donc décidé qu'on commande deux drapeaux de 4 1/2 par 9 pi.

M. Cappiello voulut aussi répéter ce qu'il avait dit lors de l'assemblée du mois dernier pour éviter tout malentendu. Il avait déclaré avoir la permission du conseil pour diriger les assemblées en anglais par respect pour les conseillers anglais qui ne comprennent pas le français. Quand une question sera soumise en français, M. Cappiello y répondra ou demandera à un conseiller d'y répondre.

On reçut une lettre du Ministère des Affaires Municipales demandant de faire parvenir des félicitations au Chef des Pompiers et au corps des pompiers de la ville pour avoir obtenu un certificat de Reconnaissance en marge du concours 1964 de prévention des incendies dans la classe E.

Le conseiller Brisebois donna avis de motion qu'il présentera à une prochaine assemblée un nouveau règlement d'eau pour tenir le propriétaire responsable de la taxe d'eau en cas de départ du locataire.

Le conseiller Gaw donna avis de motion pour amender le règlement 263 dans le but de hausser l'âge limite d'application du couvre-feu jusqu'à 16 ans.

On décida de finir le bureau au garage municipal et de hausser l'assurance à $10,000.

A 10heures p.m. le conseil ajourna pour dix minutes, après quoi la réunion continua à huit clos.

La prochaine assemblée du conseil aura lieu le 15 mars.

George Kennedy, M.P.P., Discusses Bill 13 And City of Chateauguay

By Fergus Horsburgh

Bill 13, The Voluntary Amalgamation of Municipalities Acts, was given its second reading in the Legislative Assembly last week, following which the House went into Committee to study in detail the principles of the proposed legislation.

Bill 13 is intended to enable two or more municipalities to amalgamate as a new municipality without having to go through the present practice of steering a private bill for the purpose through the legislative process.

The Bill in effect enables the councils of neighbouring municipalities to pass by majority votes resolutions authorizing the presentation of a joint petition to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council for the amalgamation of the municipalities and the creation of a new city, town, village or rural municipality as the case may be.

Concern has been expressed in certain quarters that under the terms of Bill 13, it would be possible for majority votes of two town councils to lead to amalgamation even though a majority of ratepayers were opposed to amalgamation. The proposed Act stipulates procedures whereby objecting ratepayers are to be given the opportunity of placing the grounds for their objections to the Quebec Municipal Commission. Although the draft Bill does not make mandatory the holding of referendums to determine majority opinion, it may safely be assumed that in the event of serious dispute, a referendum would in fact be held.

In the case of the Town of Chateauguay and the Town of Chateauguay Centre, the ratepayers of both municipalities voted overwhelmingly in favour of amalgamation in a referendum held last September. A private bill seeking amalgamation of the two towns was submitted to the Provincial Parliament last December.

Mr. George Kennedy, M.P.P., informed The Gleaner last week-end that third and final reading of Bill 13 is expected shortly. Should the Bill be passed by the Lower and Upper Houses, formal enactment can be expected within the next two or three days. In this event, the private bill for amalgamation of the two Chateauguays would be withdrawn from the Private Bills Committee and presented to the Quebec Municipal Commission.

I understand that the most likely date for the election of Mayor and Aldermen for the new City of Chateauguay is Monday, November 1st, 1965.

Second Chateauguay Guides Hold Thinking Day Ceremonies

In honour of Lady Baden-Powell's birthday, Second Chateauguay Girl Guides Company held Thinking Day ceremonies on February 22nd. Many parents were present and saw badges awarded and new Guides enrolled.

The following recruits were enrolled by Captain Russell of the 1st Chateauguay Company, and are now fully-pledged Guides: Ann Baylis, Janet Hughes, Cheryl Burnside, Sandra Chopping, Darlene Fountain, Christine Russell, Joan Hutton, Sandra Jennings, Patty Whalen and Pamela MacElroy. Other contestants were John Greig and Sam Stevens whose speech titles were "Truly Canadian" and "Progress At Sea" respectively. Chateauguay Toastmasters meet weekly and their programmes are organized to promote Better Speaking, Better Listening and Better Thinking, if interested please call Gilles Germain at 692-2337.

Chateauguay Centre Teen Club

By Fergus Horsburgh

The monthly meeting of the Chateauguay Centre Young Canadian Teen Club was held at 88 Hillsdale Drive, on February 18th. Present were Chairman Miss Jane Miller, Vice Chairman Donna Pasquini, Treasurer Sharron O'Connell, Secretary Barbara Pasquini, Programme Chairman Wayne Wakelam and Group Leader Mr. Tony Cornford. Main items discussed were a membership recruiting programme and the calendar of forthcoming events.

This teenage group was formed last August by Mr. Cornford and Mr. George Barnabee. Mr. Cornford, who has had five years' experience in social work for the Y.W.C.A. in Montreal, stated last week-end that the principal objectives of the Teen Club group are to provide a good social programme for all teens in the district. The Group is associated with Parkview Recreation Association, whose President, Mr. Ken Leake, maintains close co-operation with the Teen Club executive.

Next item on the Club's programme is a Hard Times Dance next Friday, March 5th, at 161 Parkview Boulevard, Chateauguay Centre. Other coming events in the coming weeks are a sleigh ride (weather permitting), a Club debate on the drop-out problem, and a Fashion Show (Comedy). It is also rumoured that Father Bernard and his guitar will shortly be invited to be the star attractions of a social evening in the very near future.

Magnificent Response To Appeal For Lasalle Disaster Relief

March 1st, 1965, will long be remembered by many. The horror of this terrible tragedy, however brought out some heart warming response from one and all.

During Monday afternoon, Art Walker, Sr. of Lucerne Avenue in the Terrace, President of St. George's Men's Club organized a Depot for receiving clothing, food and any other help offered for the relief of the survivors. St. George's Church Hall on St. Francis Blvd., was used as a convenient center for sorting and packing.

The response to local appeals was tremendous. Two truck loads were dispatched to Clement School in LaSalle, with the Town of Chateauguay Police supplying the trucks. Money donations were also given, and these are to be forwarded to The Emergency Relief Fund. Maplewood Church was also open during the evening for the receipt of clothing and food.

Those who gave of their time included Dave Currie, Bill Bartlett, Pete Pederson, Cliff Schofield, Ron Houldsworth, Jackson Sheppard, Art Walker, Jr., Members of the W.A. — Mrs. M. Parker, Mrs. M. Houldsworth, Mrs. H. Airlie, Mrs. R. Simms, Mrs. E. Clayton, Mrs. Shirley Gaston, and Mrs. P. Hollingdale. Acting as Secretary, and making all the phone calls, and in addition coffee for the workers was Miss Judy Houldsworth. Mr. Art. Walker would like to express his most sincere thanks to all who responded in the emergency, and if there are names omitted please excuse, as this was quite a bustling place for a considerable time during Monday afternoon and evening. Many thanks also to the ladies of Maplewood Church, who donated and delivered the clothing and food collected.

TOASTMASTERS PERFORM USEFUL FUNCTION

Toastmasters may come and go, but speech contests go on forever. Everyday man must speak, must be heard and understood, for living is in a way a continuous speech contest which starts with such a simple and yet meaningful word as "mama" and grows into a full deliberation before one or more persons, a wife or a group of friends, an audience or other gatherings. In each case, success depends upon what is said and how it is said.

At the Chateauguay Toastmasters annual speech contest held last week the win-

Heights Council Delegation At Quebec City

Moving quickly to push forward Chateauguay Heights' water and sewage plans, a Heights Council delegation led by Mayor Jean Laberge went to Quebec City last Thursday, to meet Provincial Government officials. Accompanying Mr. Laberge were Aldermen Roland Thauvette and Fred Lunn, consulting engineer Mr. William Cosgrove and Legal Councel Jacques Decarie.

The delegation was received by Mr. Faucher, of the Commission of Municipal Affairs. The main objective of the delegation was to bring to the attention of Provincial Government officials the current status of the Heights' plans for a modern water and sewage system. It is reported that the Commission's reactions to the financial statement of the Municipality, and to the feasibility report on the project were highly favourable.

The delegation next met Mr. Clark, Chief of the Financial Bureau for the Commission of Municipal Affairs. Mr. Clark is understood to have indicated that no opposition is expected to the Heights application for a Provincial rebate of 4% relative to the proposed borrowing bye-law to finance the water and sewage project. Exact amount of the borrowing is not yet determinable, but is expected to be in the order of $700,000.

Another visit to Quebec City is planned for mid-March, at which detailed costs of the project and typical examples of the tax impact on individual ratepayers will be submitted.

An estimated total valuation of $3 million and a total of approximately 300 ratepayers indicates an average valuation of $10,000 per house. This in turn projects an approximate increase of $14 per month in the average ratepayer's tax bill applicable to the proposed water and sewage improvements.

Pre-Education Week Program Held At Maple School

In conjunction with Education Week, which is held March 7th to 14th all across Canada, Principal, Mr. Colin Harrowing and the staff of Maple School presented a program on "Audio-Visual" aids in education at the Elementary School level. Held last Tuesday evening, Feb. 23rd, in both the Gym and seven classrooms, with an attendance of ninety, the program was opened with a brief business session of the Maple Home and School Assoc. Mr. Ken Condy, President, in the chair. Members were asked at a previous general meeting to think about the Bursary of $200.00 which had been set aside for a student or students of Chateauguay High School. In the past two years no applications have been received for the Bursary. After some discussion a motion was made to make this money available for Maple School to be used at the discretion of the Principal. An additional amount of $200.00 towards this, making a total of $400. to the use of the school was also unanimously carried. An extension is to be started in the near future to Maple, and no doubt this money will be put to good use when the building is completed. Mr. Condy thanked Mr. Harrowing and his staff before the presentation of their programme, and for their continuing co-operation all during the year.

The programme presented an overall picture of audio-visual equipment at present in use in Maple School. It was stressed that this was not replacing the teacher, but merely aids to assist the student.

9th Chateauguay Brownies Hold First Fly Up Ceremony

On Wednesday afternoon, February 24th, a very memorable event took place at the Municipal Hall in Chateauguay Centre, for the 9th Chateauguay Pack held their first fly up. Present for the ceremony were a few mothers and guest of honour was Mrs. H. Russell, Guide Captain for the 1st Chateauguay Guides along with several girl guides from the 1st Chateauguay Pack. In one corner of the hall an arch was put up separating Brownie Land from Guide Land and thus three young Brownies came to ask their leaders if they could have their wings to fly into Guide Land and so it was they were presented with their wings and also donned a pair of large golden wings and at the door to Guide Land they were stopped by one of the Guides who asked them who they were and by what right they were coming into Guides and they in turn replied by the right of their fairy wings. Three other Brownies who had not been in Brownies long enough to earn the privilege to fly up donned golden slippers given them by Brown Owl and Snow Owl and they tip-toed into Guide Land. The Brownies who donned their golden wings to fly up to guides were: Brenda Ritchey, Debbie Pryde, and Rosemary Favreau. Those who donned their golden slippers and tip-toed into guide land were: Anne Kavannagh, Sylvia Brown and Pierette Sauve. Chateauguay Protestant Schools To Expand - Kindergarten Classes To Start This Year

By Fergus Horsburgh

It was announced on Monday evening by School Supervisor Mr. R. D. Mosher that commencing in September, 1965, kindergarten classes will be introduced in each of the elementary schools within the jurisdiction of the Protestant School Municipality of Chateauguay. This decision is prompted not only from recommendations of the Parent Commission, but also from the evident demand for this service from the ratepayers of the area.

Kindergarten services in the past have been operated privately, and there has been a widespread demand that kindergarten training should become a charge against the community at large rather than be dependent on the individual parents' ability to pay the cost.

It was announced that the Department of Education having given authorty for the provison of a fifteen classroom extension of Maple Elementary School, the Board will make every effort to expedite the construction programme in the coming months.

These and other far-reaching educational developments in Protestant Chateauguay were announced at last Monday's monthly meeting of the Board. Cuisenaire arithmetic will be introduced as a supplementary method of teaching arithmetic in all Grade I classes commencing in September. The new reading programme introduced last year in primary classes and found to be highly successful is to be extended to all grades in the elementary school system. This programme has been given full support and much assistance by the Department of Education. Audio-visual aids for teaching are to be further developed for the next school year.

In order to provide space for kindergarten classes in the local elementary schools and in line with the recommendations of the Parent Commission, it has been decided to locate all Grade VII classes in the High School building, next September. Subject promotion will be intiated as part of the Board's development and expansion programme.

The Board has again decided to make a supplementary grant for the further development of the Chateauguay High School's library, and to provide comprehensive central libraries in each of the elementary schools, with a full-time librarian to supervise these facilities.

The development of the professional competence of its staff will continue to be supported by the Board or by inservice training programmes, educational visits to other school areas, the financing of teachers for special courses taken at the Board's request and a system of loans to assist teachers in approved summer studies.

St. Patrick's Plans Include Parade And Dance

(By Russ Faughnan)

Plans have been made for a full turnout from Chateauguay for the annual St. Patrick's parade to be held in Montreal in mid-March.

Organizers for Our Lady of Perpetual Help Parish have announced that they have made arrangements for a seventy-five piece band to lead their group in the annual frolic. A team of majorettes will lead the band which hails from Point St. Charles and call themselves the "Gladiateurs". That may have an odd spelling for an "Irish" band but it sounds like they will be a great help if an old fashioned donnybrook developes. Be that as it may, The Grand Marshal for this affair will be Des Harwood (692-8442). Des will be assisted by Frank Conrik (692-0341) and Harry McGuire (691-1067). Foine boys, the lot. Call them if you want to march along with the rest of us. Buses will be provided from Chateauguay to Montreal and cars have been arranged for those who want to be there but cannot walk the distance. And don't forget. There'll be a party in the Church hall after the parade with a spot of refreshment and all. Somthing to put some life into frozen toes and wilted shamrocks.

A St. Patrick's dance has been scheduled for Friday, March the 12th at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church hall. This will be an all Irish night with lots of music and dances from the aulde sod. Here again, refreshments will be available and a good time is absolutely guaranteed, to those who enjoy themselves. One important point, this event is sponsored by the Parish but every one is welcome to come and celebrate the "day". And speaking of the "day", another movie will be shown on the 17th itself, in aid of local Boy Scouts and Cubs. This time it will be "La Dolce Vita" which, while not really Irish, all Irishmen can enjoy.

New Official Crest For Caughnawaga

Caughnawaga, one of Canada's oldest Indian communities, has decided upon the adoption of an official municipal crest.

Like white man's symbolic shields, it tells a pictorial story of the origin of the Indians and their subsequent affiliations.

The Mohawk tribe, a member of the Iroquois Six Nation Confederacy, will recognize the shield as the reservation's official standard.

The new crest was designed by Chief Howard Deer, a member of the Caughnawaga municipal council. Hand-carved on a wooden plaque shaped in the form of a pelt, it took more than nine months to complete.

Basically, it bears the symbolic figures of the Iroquois Cayuga, Oneida, Onondaga, Seneca and Turcorora.

The shield clearly indicates that God created the earth and from it and the water came the turtle and the native peoples of the world.

Outstanding on the plaque is an eagle with wings outspread, representing peace and the national emblem of Indian nations. There are also figures of five Indians — North America's first people plus the figure of a man, recognized simply as a visitor to this land.

A pipe of peace represents Indian difficulties over the years and the sun, moon and stars, plus a tree and lightning and thunder all emphasized as God's creations.

Last week's column brought to reader's attention the potentially dangerous situation at the top of the Seigniory Drive loop, where the excavation for a house, if left untended, could become a hazard for children in the Spring. I am very happy to report that Mr. Louis Coulter tells me that the big hole in the ground will be back filled as soon as weather permits. Although this lot is no longer the property of the contractor, arrangements have been made between Bailords and the land-owner, Dr. Gudbrote, for the former to backfill the excavation at their own expense, as a safety precaution. Plans for completion of the house scheduled for this lot are not known.

In the Big 12 Bowling League there was almost a full slate of regulars for last Friday's play. The Wasps, with out the doubtful assistance o Mr. F. Kay Birtz bea her old high triple with a 479 The Flies and Bees are now climbing steadily as the Flie beat the top Groundbogs 5 - 2 This was the surprise result o the evening, as the Groundhogs, freed from the assistance of Jane Horsburgh, were highly favoured.

Mr. Ken Golightly of Chateauguay Depths, in an exclusive interview last week-end warned of a forthcoming sharp increase in the price of tooth brushes.

A fence has been erected at the Montcalm side of the so called right-of-way between Montcalm and St. Francis Boulevard. I understand that the vacant lot or lots west of Club premises will be graded and lightly seeded for grass in the Spring. The Home Owners Association are said to be looking for ways of co-operating with the contractor in this matter.

Seen strolling through Seigniory Park last Sunday at noon were Mayor and Mrs. Jean Laberge of Chateauguay Heights. They walked it here, across the fields, but didn't walk back.

A friend in the insurance business tells me to beware of accepting at face value recent reports that a 40% decrease in automobile accident claims in the Province of Quebec.

Quebec was linked with the recent curtailment in liquor supplies. What base was used in computing a 40% decrease? Claims in January have a long established pattern of being considerably fewer than in the preceding December. Most people are so penniless after Christmas and New Year festivities that they just stay home. I.I.R.T.!

St Andrew's United Church Notes

Many women, active in the life and work of our Church, now recall with gratitude their experiences as Messengers, Explorers and Ultimately as Canadian Girls in Training. During this year as C.G.I.T. celebrates its 50th anniversary as an interdenominational Christian Education group for teenage Canadian girls, the whole church looks with appreciation upon the contribution made by C.G.I.T. to the lives of girls in the church family during the past 50 years. Truly an ecumenical venture, the United Church co-operates with the Baptist, Church of Christ (Disciples), and Presbyterian denominations to sponsor C.G.I.T. The 50,000 members belong to groups all across Canada and share in study and activity as varied as their geographical locations.

In small groups, girls meet for worship, fellowship, recreation and study. In larger areas girls gather for rallies, camps and service projects. A provincial Camp Council, for seniors, brings girls of the province together, and all feel a part of a national movement as they share in the Christmas Vesper service. Interest beyond our borders is encouraged by a study of missions, using the annual theme of the particular denomination. This year, as a fiftieth anniversary project, Canadian Girls in Training groups are making a donation through the World Council of churches to build a Christian Camping-Conference Centre in Indonesia.

Morning service last Sunday saw St. Andrew's own members of the C.G.I.T. group and their leaders in Church. Also present were the cubs and scouts of the St. Andrew's Charter, with their leaders and members of the Group Committee.

Teenagers (14 years and over) who wish to attend a weekly church membership class from March 1st to the end of May are asked to contact the Minister.

LEGION NEWS CHATEAUGUAY

(By G. H. Robinson)

The excutive meeting of Branch 108 was held Tuesday, February 16th. This was the first meeting called for 8 p.m., instead of 8.30 and Pres. Norm Palmer was able to commence with a fair attendance about 8.15.

Two items under discussion took up most of the evening namely our new building and the Legion's summer sports program for children.

A representative from Hill Clark, Francis (Quebec) Ltd., submitted a type of unit constructed building which could be adopted to our requirements and it is hoped to have a report of substantial progress for the next general meeting.

On the sports scene chairman Tony Croft opened his remarks by saying that our Legion is now an accredited member of the Canadian Boating Association and that the entrance fee of $70.00 has been paid to hold the date of August 15th, for a speed boat regatta at Chateauguay. Competitors are expected from various parts of Canada and the United States.

An extensive program of children's summer sports has been prepared by Tony Croft and his committee, full particulars of which will be issued at a later date. Supervision will include a Sports Director Assistant Director and six Junior Councillors, and Coaching clinics will be held evenings in the schools.

Resolutions for changing Legion By-Laws should be presented to the secretary without delay as these must be forwarded to Provincial Command within a short time. Any such resolution should be passed by the branch at the next general meeting, March 2nd.

Letter to the Editor

February 25, 1965.

To the Editor,
The Chateauguay Gleaner.
Dear Sir:

The Board of School Commissioners of the Protestant School Municipality of Chateauguay would like to use this medium to record their sincere appreciation of the work of the Kinsmen Club of Chateauguay, in their sponsoring of transportation from school to home each day for a number of children enrolled in auxiliary classes of schools under the Board's direction.

These children are assigned to auxiliary classes for a variety of reasons that prevent their satisfactory advancement in a standard grade structured class. Some of them suffer from various degrees of physical and emotional disability. It is most important that their energies not be unduly taxed. The regular school transportation system does not allow for them to be transported to their homes within a reasonable time after their dismissal from classes. The service provided by the Kinsmen is, thus, of very great value to a handicapped few.

Congratulations are extended to the Kinsmen Club for their humanitarian outlook and thoughtfulness!

Yours sincerely,
R. D. Mosher,
Supervisor of Schools.

ROUTE BOY:
Gordon Foster
120 Labelle, 692-4502

A belated welcome to our new Route Boy Gordon Foster of Labelle St., who took over from Mark Stafford a couple of weeks ago. Many of you will no doubt remember the name Foster for it was Gordon's Mom who at one time was your reporter. Sorry to be so tardy Gordon and welcome to The Gleaner, we hope that you will enjoy your work with the paper.

Thanks to our reporter in the Crown Homes area we have a lot of birthday and social news for you from that particular area. Dianne Sneddon of Labelle Street celebrated her birthday on February 8th, when she was all of 4 years old. For the event her Mom planned a party and Dianne's guests included, Carol Randle, Stephen Randle, Debbie Willard, Danielle and Celine Morette, Frank Foster and Danny Butt.

Belated birthday wishes also go out to Mrs. Ruby Landry of Maisonneuve St., who celebrated her birthday on February 18th. Also to Mr. Gordon Lang of Labelle St. whose birthday was on Feb. 19th. And greetings also to Mrs. Helen Randle who celebrated her birthday on Sunday Feb. 21st and last but not least a very happy birthday to our route boy, Gordon Foster, who celebrated his 10th birthday February 24th.

The Lang household on Labelle Street was a busy one over the weekend for Mr. Lang's brother Felix and his wife dropped in for a visit, from Ottawa.

And around our way a belated Birthday wish to Mrs. Dawn Moody of Ethier Street who celebrated her birthday on Sunday, February 21st.

Sorry I was incorrect last week in stating that the Catholic Brownies were having their church parade on Sunday the 21st. The Brownies of the Portestant Faith had their church parade on the 21st at St. George's Anglican Church and the next Sunday, February 28th, the Brownies of the Catholic Faith attended a special mass at 9:30 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church.

The 9th Chateauguay Brownies are very busy young ladies for this coming week a very special but somewhat sad event will take place at Brownies. They are going to hold their very first fly up and several of the Brownies will be flying up to guides and no doubt while they are happy to be flying up to guides they will be sorry to be leaving their old friends in the 9th Chateauguay Pack. Will have more news for you about the fly-up next week.

I hear the crowd from Imperial Gardens had a wonderful time skating on Saturday night at our lovely rink. Wish someone would give me a call if you want to see more of the events in this column.

And that's about it for this week and I would kindly like to ask whether there is anyone in this area who would like to take over this column. I find I can't handle it and it would seem such a pity after all these years to have it dropped so do give me a call ladies or gentlemen if you are interested. My number is 692-9272.

Cooks' Corner

By Mary Fabio

Looking for something in the way of a peanut butter cookie recipe? Well then how about trying this one:—

Peanut Butter Oat Cookies

1 Cup sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2/3 cup butter at room temperature
1 cup smooth peanut butter
1/3 cup granulated sugar
1 cup well-packed brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats.

Combine sifted flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Beat butter until it is creamy. Add peanut butter and continue beating until thoroughly blended. Gradually beat in granulated sugar, brown sugar and vanilla. Add eggs and beat well; stir in rolled oats and sifted flour mixture. Drop dough by level teaspoonfuls, well apart, on greased baking sheet. Flatten in crisscross fashion with wet tines of a fork. Bake in preheated oven, 350 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes. Transfer cookies to wire cake racks and allow to cool completely. Makes about 12 dozen cookies.

(Special thanks to Trina Vineberg, Food Editor for the Family Herald for the above recipe).

Kitchen Horticulture — A single sweet potato grows into a delightful trailing vine. Tooth picks stuck in the sides will keep it half submerged in a glass of water. Set in a light but not sunny window until it begins to grow. Occasionally change the water. The vine itself enjoys sun as it grows but keep the water in the shade. A handful of lentils placed in a shallow dish of water will grow into a bowl of delicate greenery.

And last but not least would like to share with you a 'Recipe for a Home" which I found in this month's issue of a magazine called "Zenska Jednota" which I just received.

Recipe For A Home

Take half cup of friendship and a cup of thoughtfulness creamed together with a pinch of powdered indulgence. Then, in a bowl of loyalty, beat very lightly, one cup of faith, one of hope and one of charity. Be sure to add a spoonful each of gaiety that sings, and also the ability to laugh at little things, moisten with sudden tears of heartfelt sympathy; bake in a good natured pan and serve repeatedly.

Chateauguay News Notes

By Fergus Horsburgh

Miss Jane Miller, Editor of the Chateauguay High School Blotter, was featured in the Montreal Gazette last week, doing an interview with the Beachboys.

Mr. George Kennedy, M.P.P. and Mrs. Kennedy are back home, complete with sun tan, from their vacation in Acapulco, Mexico. This was the Kennedy's first trip South of the Border, but perhaps not the last.

Of outstanding interest to all Chateauguay garden-lovers was last week's spectacular offer from an Ontario seed-house of dandelion seeds at 25 cents a package.

In response to this column's plea last week for notification of the first crocus in bloom, Mrs. John Hemmings, 148 St. George Street, Chateauguay Centre, phoned in on Monday morning to say that although she could not yet boast of a crocus, she did have a hyacinth shoot one inch above the ground. Congratulations, Mrs. Hemmings, and congratulations, Chateauguay! Spring is on the way!

Chateauguay Heights residents were the lucky ones last Monday, when nearby Town of Chateauguay suffered a three-hour breakdown in the supply of water. The good old-fashioned wells and pumps in the Heights continued their supply of water, and at least one harried housewife from the affected area made a quick trip for an emegency supply from a friend in the Heights. Thanks, Kitty!

The Town of Chateauguay has purchased a Pontiac for the Police Force from Chateauguay Auto Limited.

The Town of Chateauguay has donated $200. to the Committee of Co-ordination concerning the Overhaul Base of Air Canada at Dorval. The Committee is studying the question of the future of the Base at Dorval or Winnipeg.

Motorists are cautioned that the flashing lights at the railroad crossing at Church Street are apparently not working.

I understand that Mayor Joseph Laberge and Alderman Philip Bonneau are taking the initative in the provision of Bus Shelters at the junction of Dunver and St. Jean Baptiste, and at the gas station at the St. Francis Boulevard intersection with Routes 3 and 4. The cooperation of Provincial Transport Co. is being sought. The shelters are estimated to cost between $650 and $1,000 each.

A three-hour breakdown in the water supply affected the Salaberry - Route 4 area last Monday around noon. The break occurred at Smith and Salaberry. Town Foreman Henri St-Marie was in charge of the work force which repaired the break.

C.H.S. Reports

By
Heidi Pemoller

Thursday night was our dance. It was a great success — thanks to everyone who attended.

On Friday, another ski trip was held. We went to Glenn Mountain in the Eastern Townships. Everyone had lots of fun even though it was rather cold. We were practically the only ones there so we had the tow and the hills to ourselves. Everyone hopes that this won't be our last trip.

Accidents? Yes, two, but not serious. Stephen Dettmers broke the tip off a ski and Lynn Appleton sprained her ankle. It was thought that it was broken, but luckily it was only a sprain.

On March 7th, that's a Sunday, the Public Speaking contest, sponsored by the Lion's Club, is being held at Chateauguay High. The contestants representing C.H.S. are Connie Newton and Kent Harding. They both have very good speechs and are certainly worth listening to as will be all the other speeches. The public is invited to attend.

Right now everyone is starting to get nervous for exams, which are just around the corner. This week mid-term reports will be out and then around March 16th, the second term exams, will start. After that only two more months and we'll be in June exams, which of course are the ones which really count. So if you haven't been doing much about the books lately I suggest you start right now. Over half the year is gone.

Well, Chateauguay High is still standing. Did you notice the new flag is flying. How do you like it?

The C.H.S. boys are really doing well in basketball. They're right at the top. Congratulations!

The girls aren't doing as well unfortunately, but then several of the best players had ski mishaps.

Our last ski trip, or at least for a few weeks was held Friday the 18th, at Glenn Mountain. Being practically the only ones there, skiing was lovely, even though it was a little cold. Everyone came home in great shape except for one sprained ankle and one pair of broken skis.

Kent Harding and Connie Newton are representing C.H.S. in the Lion's Club Public Speaking contest Sunday night. Best of luck to you!

I've been keeping you informed of our play rehearsals. The plays are "Sunday Costs Five Pesos", "Sixth Hour", and "Who Will Buy"?

The first is a comedy, the second a religious drama, and the third a musical.

The plays are to be held March 12th and 13th at Chateauguay High. They commence at 8.30.

The cast of the first consists of: Daria Kiperchuk, Vlasta Vrana, Jane Miller, Judy Lazell, and Sandi Mustill.

The second cast: Eda Janosch, Lynda Perry, Ann Farmer, Bruce Johnston and Mike Arpin.

The third cast: Sandra Scott, Sheila Cooper, Uta von Beckmann, Jim Tyler, Russell Dindial, Kent Harding, Bob Hogg, Susan Hurst, Meva Hughes, Evelyn Maher, Sandi Mustill, Jimmy Jennings, Lynda Perry, Louise Allison, Francis McBurnie, and the accompaniment by Albert Jones.

That's it for this week. Stay tuned next week for more information. Bye now!

A Vetville item first this week. Regret to report the death of Mrs. Joseph LaVine, mother of well known Nelson LaVine of Cambrai, (Nelson is assistant to Major Mitchell at the Hall).

Mrs. Marie (Asselin) LaVine died at the age of 94 in Woonsocket, Rhode Is. Mother of 12 children, she is survivevd by four sons, and five daughters; 43 grandchildren; 62 great-children; and 23 great-great grandchildren. Burial was in Woonsocket. Our sympathy to Nelson and the family.

Other Vetville items consists of mostly get-well wishes for the great number who are ill with the flu, cold bugs and generally "fed-up-with-winter" blues. Hope you will all feel very sunny and smiling in no time at all.

How and where did the monstrous big boulder come from, now seen in front of 61 St. Francis Blvd? And how will it ever be moved out of there?

Last Sunday, February 28th, Tamara Jane was christened in Maplewood Church, and a reception held at the home of her parents, Cec and Betty Blenkhorn of Lang St., in Colonia. Tamara is their sixth daughter.

Other news from the Blenkhorns is that Betty attended a re-union of all previous members of the C.G.I.T. Provincial Committee. This was held at Westmount-Park United Church on Western Ave., and Lansdowne. The re-union was held in conjunction with the fiftieth birthday of C.G.I.T. Attending were two ladies who had been with the group for it's fifty years. A great deal of reminiscing by all; looking back to the various good times and the hard work too, but with no regrets.

Heights Council...

er of Municipal Affairs, construction is expected to start in April. Target date for completion is November 5, 1965.

Alderman Behrens moved, and Alderman Lunn seconded the motion that the Water Board of the Province of Quebec be requested to establish the point of delivery and unit price for the sale of water by the Town of Chateauguay to the Town of Chateauguay Heights. The motion was carried. Consulting engineers Lindsay Cosgrove and Associates have been instructed to submit the Heights' case to the Board. The Heights are reported to have been negotiation with Town of Chateauguay's consulting engineers Messrs. Lalonde, Girouard and Letendre, but have to date been unsuccessful in obtaining assurances of water delivery on the Basin side of the Chateauguay River. Delivery on the South Bank would be undesirable from the Heights' point of view, as this would imply the added cost of a delivery system from the South Bank to the Heights, at the latter's expense. It is in an attempt to resolve the problem of the point of delivery that the Heights Council has moved to seek assistance and possibly arbitration from the Provincial Water Board.

It was also resolved that the Water Board's advice be sought as regards Heights plans for construction of a sewage treatment plant. Specifically, the Board is to be asked to approve Heights plans to build their own plant or alternatively to fix the Heights' share of the cost of a regional plant, in conjunction with the Town of Chateauguay, at the estimated cost of constructing and operating the Heights' own plant. Alderman Friedlander observed that it was his clear understanding that neither motion in any way committed the Council to either course of action.

A letter from Pestray Company Limited in connection with mosquito control was read and considered. No action was taken pending receipt of another estimate.

Mayor Laberge announced that Shawinigan Water and Power Company would be topping trees within the course of the coming week.

It was agreed that Mr. Arthur Laberge was to purchase an electric heater to replace the one belonging to him currently being used at Town Hall.

In the open period of the meeting, Mr. Lucien Colle of Hurtubise and Paradis agreed to provide a revised estimate of the cost of an aerial photograph of Chateauguay Heights.

The next Council Meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, March 9th. It is possible that a draft of the proposed borrowing bye-law for the water and sewers projects will be submitted for preliminary consideration. It is even possible, though far from probable, that Mr. W.J. Heck will receive satisfactory answers to his long list of questions. Mr. Heck's participation in the question period of Council meetings has been a notable feature since the present administration took office. Opinion is sharply divided as to the value of the open periods of such meetings.

OUR LADY OF PERPETUAL HELP CUB AND SCOUT NEWS

The group committee of Our Lady of Perpetual Help held their Second annual Father and Son Banquet on Feb. 23rd. Guests of honour were Father Frederick Belanger, O.M.S.; Pastor, Rev. Father Terrance Dionne, O.F.M.; also P. S. Hutcheson, Chairman of the Holy Name Society; Frances Edwards A.D.C. Cubs; Billy Arnel A.D.C. Scouts. The guest speaker was Gino Barrette, of the Montreal Alouettes. After the delicious meal of fried chicken, Mr. Barrette spoke on the importance of all young boys to complete their education so as they may be better prepared to take their place in society. The evening ended with a fifteen minute question and answer session and signing of autographs by Mr. Barrette.

In keeping with the theme of Scout Week "Adventure into the World" on Feb. 27th, cubs of Our Lady of Perpetual Help were loaded into waiting cars and driven to Air Canada Maintainance Base, for a guided tour of the premises, aircraft and equipment. The boys returned to Chateauguay for lunch, which was scheduled to be held outdoors but due to high winds was transfered indoors. Many thanks to Mr. and Mrs. R. Saretsky for the preparation of hot dogs, hot chocolate, and cookies. The group dispersed at 12:30.

On Feb. 28th, Cubs and Scouts closed Scout Week by attending Holy Mass at 10.30 a.m. Although this marks the end of Scout Week for another year we hope that all cubs and Scouts will continue their good work. To quote a recent message "To be a member of a group for the sake of belonging is not good enough, one must be willing to sacrifice and participate not wait to be served but to serve and to live up to our promises" To do a good turn for someone every day".

A Paying Customer Or a Sports Fan ?

Over the past few weeks I have been urging all friends and relatives of the hockey players to get out and cheer, now I am wondering if I have done the right thing.

A few stories have been passed on to me from Players, Coaches and also League Officials.

What do you think of a parent who blasts the Coach of a team for not playing his son more often so that he may fatten his points total. Sure the idea might be to win, but not at the expense of his teammates as they also have a desire and a right to play. If you want the coach to teach your son how to play hockey, then let him. He knows what is best for the team.

How about the fans that continually ride a referee during a game because he missed an offside pass or didn't call a penalty in the game, or was it because of the game he officiated in last week. Sure, we all get peeved at times, but the next time it happens, stop and think a little about how you would feel behind the whistle. On the ice you sometimes need 20 eyes to catch everything. Watching the game from the sidelines you might see a trip, a fight or a slash but did you see the puck at the same time? The referee could have been following the puck and missed what you saw. How would you feel if the fans got on your back for something you didn't even see?

How about the fans that continually complain to League Officials because week day games are no good, all games should be played on the week-ends? Ever try to run a League on week-ends only? Ever try to run a League?

How about the fans that keep yelling 'Hit him!' 'Hit him!' or 'Belt him!' or 'Go get him!' or - or - - or. This is unwanted, unsportsmanlike and calls for a penalty. Why not yell. 'Hit it!' or 'Belt it!' After all, there is a puck in the game. Remember?

Being a Coach, Referee, Scorer, Timekeeper, Area Representative or League Official from the President down to the lowly Game Secretary is not much fun. It is hard work bringing up boys is always hard work. After you hear a story such as above or get a phone call from an irate fa or get a blast from a parent you can't help but think if it's all worth-while.

Believe me Folks, the pay is small (there is none) but the rewards are great. In a few years time we will be able to lift our heads and point with pride to Chateauguay and know we helped in its development. You, as fans and parents can also help in the development of Chateauguay and its future men by standing by an official when he has made a decision. Show the boys how to accept a decision humbly and not by flying off the handle.

Children always follow an example, good or bad, so let's set them a good one. Let's have good sportsmanship and good clean fun. This would make it all worth-while.

Game Secretary,
RON LEE,

A film entitled "The Test" was first shown, and judging by some comments after viewing this, a lively discussion may have developed, but the displays in the various classrooms were next on the programme. These consisted of 1, Primary Visual materails used in grades 1, 2, and 3. 2, The Filmstrip — a useful teaching aid, presented by Mrs. G. Klemba, and Mrs. Herwander. 3, The Taperecorder in Primary Grades, by Mrs. G. Bullard for grade 1. 4, "The Book on the Wall", a delineascope presented by Miss J. Smith and Miss H. Connelley. 5, An overhead projector with Mr. Marnes and Miss M. Morey. 6, The uses of the tape-recorder by Mr. K. Keippert. 7, The last was a display of Single-concept cartridge by Dynamic Film Productions, Inc. All those who were able to visit one or more of the displays were able to obtain a comprehensive idea of what great value audio-visual aids can be to their children. Parents were certainly made aware of the changes in teaching, in the past few years and how fortunate we are, here in Chateauguay, to have a high standard of education.

Refreshments were served in the Gym, and the date of the next meeting of Maple Home and School Assoc. was announced as April 6th. At this meeting details of the new extension to Maple School will be given during a talk by Mr. Colin Harrowing, Principal. The School Choir will also be in attendance, and as this is the final meeting for the present H. and S. year, elections will naturally be held on this date. The Executive is looking forward to a good turnout on this occasion.

Disaster Victims Aided by W.A., L.G.H. Chateauguay Group

Mrs. Lucille Leroux, President of the Chateauguay Group of the Women's Auxiliary to the Lachine General Hospital and Mrs. Beatrice McDermott O'Connor wish to express their sincere thanks to their fellow members, friends and neighbours for their quick response to their request for aid for the disaster victims of the tragedy which occurred in LaSalle early Monday morning. A total of 21 boxes were collected and they included men's and womens and children's clothing and non-perishable foods. This act of kindness speaks very highly indeed for the folk of Chateauguay.

NEXT SUNDAY "THE DAY" FOR LOCAL CATHOLICS

(By Russ Faughnan)

Sunday, March 7th, will see Chateauguay Catholics starting on a new era in the practice of their religious service. There has been much talk and some apprehension as the time approached when the many and somewhat radical changes were to be put into affect. In fact, the changes will evolve much more slowly than is realized. Rev. Father Fredrick Belanger of Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church stressed that while the immediate effect will certainly be noticeable, the general routine of the mass is not to be altered.

The most noticeable difference will, of course, be that the greater part of the mass will be said in English. Next among the drastic changes will be the use of new translations of Epistles and Gospels. Then, some prayers such as the 42nd Psalm, will be completely eliminted. In this area, the biggest change is the elimination of the last Gospel in it's entirety.

The whole program is geared to move along with some caution. It has been arranged to give a flexible approach with some discretion allowed the clergy. For example, announcements will likely come before the start of the service and will likely be read by the narrator, in some cases.

Projecting into the future, we will probably see the priest sitting during some parts of the mass, facing the congregation while the narrator reads such passages as the Epistle. It is even planned to have the choir sit among the Congregation as an aid to the overall use of music and promotion of participation among the laiety.

One aspect that has probably not occurred to many is the situation in which the more elderly priests find themselves. The task of learning the new mass must loom large enough but some will find it near impossible to Unlearn the latin. It is anticipated that many will go into retirement from active duty. This will be a sad and difficult loss to both clergy and Society but as with progress in any field, some must suffer.

So let us face these changes with an open mind. Necessary adjustments can and will be made. But every effort must be made to provide an honest trial period. Catholics and non-Catholics alike will be watching for the effect of this new era.

many apples with candles inserted in them which the brownies blew out before they sang the birthday song. Following this the guides took over and served lunch to the Brownies and assembled guests. The afternoon came to a close with taps and a little sadness perhaps in the hearts of the leaders of the Brownies to see their girls leaving but joy in the heart of the Guide Captain to be welcoming six young ladies into her group.

BEST AND WORST OF HUMAN NATURE

Much has been written of the tragedy in suburban LaSalle this week. Perhaps we can now reflect on the demonstrations of the best and the worst sides of human nature as displayed last Monday. Perhaps Chateauguay can learn something about the preparation for such a disaster.

Many Chateauguay residents were delayed in arriving home on that dark night. But one wonders how many crossed the Mercier bridge as we did later in the evening and were witness to the circus — like atmosphere on Lafleur street. It was almost unbelievable. Thousands of people mostly youngsters, milling about flushed with the excitement of this latest spectacle. We all heard how the curious blocked ambulance and other services earlier in the day. But to witness the carnival atmosphere more than fourteen hours later, filled us with disgust. Police reported a considerable amount of looting all through the day. Can this be true human nature?

Or is human nature really exemplified by the tremendous over the district who rushed response by citizens all in with effective aid in the way of shelter, clothing and food.

And if such a disaster should hit Chateauguay, to which side would we turn? Are our city fathers prepared? Do we have such an effective Civil Defence organization? Are our police equipped to cope with this type of emergency? We don't have the answers here and now but let us hope that the proper authorities will check to see if anyone does...before they are put to the test.

NITRO NEWS

(Mrs. E. St. Onge)

Sunday mornings we don't open the store until 9.00 a.m. altho' I am always up before that as I have two very clean cats — one with a very loud "meow" when he wants out — then I go back for another snooze until I hear him jiggling the latch which is his door bell. This Sunday was no exception and come 7.30 a.m. I was just letting in my four legged family and giving them breakfast before going back to bed when I heard a car drive in the lane and then a knock at the door. I just thought "You can knock, store doesn't open until 9.00 o'clock." Curiousity got the better of me tho' at a very persistant second knock and the thought just flashed through my mind "Lawrence?" I saw a tiny bit of a white car and that front door has never been opened so fast before! He had brought friends from Pa., to Vermont and when he was that close to home, decided to come the rest of the way and spend a few hours with us. I phoned the MacDonalds in Howick and they came over for dinner — a Birthday party for Stuart a few days in advance — and we all enjoyed a family reunion. Time passed all too quickly tho' and it was soon time for Lawrence to leave again. I was amazed later to find that altho' he had had a sleep and was only out for a short time just how many old friends he managed to see for a few minutes each.

Up to now, when Mrs. Shannon and I go to the Pre Liberation Camp it has been to give a Show for the boys there. Last Wednesday was an exception to the rule as we were invited guests to enjoy a Show being given by another group. We were there soon after eight o'clock and that was a later hour for us, as we are usually there much before that on our Show nights. As it turned out we had a good two hours visit on our own before the Judy Starr and Ronnie Vallee Show arrived. Once more I was at a disadvantage not knowing enough French. But music is the same in both languages and I really enjoyed this Show.

Wonder what happened to the storm we were all prepared to received last week? This is not the first time though that a storm has been heading in this direction and then for some unknown reason has swerved. I'm afraid I haven't been very popular with friends tho' when I have said how much the ground needed all that snow. I wasn't brought up on a farm, but Riverfield is good farming country and it is surprising how much I take for granted and just seem to know. I have to do a lot of explaining at times.

Geologists state that the pre-Cambrian Shield, which lies like a giant horseshoe around Hudson Bay and covers nearly half of Canada, has more lakes than all the rest of the world.

BOY SCOUTS In The COMMUNITY

BY TOM HARGRAVE, PUBLIC RELATIONS OFFICER, CHATEAUGUAY VALLEY DISTRICT

B-P once said "As a matter of fact, I didn't actually see the start of the Boy Scout Movement because the blooming thing started itself unseen."

In the period of 58 years the movement has gained world-wide esteem and is recognized as the world's largest youth movement, it now numbers 334,000 members in Canada alone.

Our District now has 14 groups comprising 1035 boys and leaders, both Cubs, Scouts, Rovers and Sea Scouts. Nowadays, it has become quite fashionable to criticize B-P's writings as being out-of-date, and in some cases even ridiculous. It is noticeable that these criticisms, however well-meaning, are invariably from adults who too often tend to forget that all the basic tenets set out by B-P are still as valid as they were, and foremost among these is that "Scouting is for Boys". Detailed program changes however are being made to suit the current needs.

A noteworthy development in the past year has been the further progress made in improving thePowerscourt camping area known as the "Gordon Dunn Memorial Campsite" which was kindly donated by Mrs. Gordon Dunn and family of Ste. Martine and Mrs. Work of Toronto.

The campsite improvements are:

(1) The generous donation and work by the Chateauguay Kinsmen Club in the installation of improved drinking water facilities which has enhanced the value of the campsite. Thanks Kinsmen for the "Good Turn".

(2) New fencing and tree planting.

(3) Improved sanitary facilities are being planned and installed as soon as weather permits.

The Campsite was used last year for a total of 1420 camping days and comprised 266 boys.

It is hoped that a large number of citizens in this district have read in "The Gleaner" of the Scout movement work in the area, and that they will feel that it is true that Scouting is worthy of their support.

We need financial assistance to continue the desired growth of Scouting in every community, and this year especially to proceed with the planned development at the "Gordon Dunn Memorial" campsite. Groups are now busy with their Annual Financial Appeals to your generosity to assist in a practical way, and members of the Chateauguay District Council on whose shoulders the general organizing falls, under the guidance of this year President, Mr. H. Brodie Brittain, and the District Commissioner, Mr. C. E. Zeagman, will appreciate your help however small when the delegated Group Committee man in your Community calls on you.

Editorial Notes...

Education Week

NEXT week from March 7 to 14 has been designated Canadian Education Week and the slogan is: "Education — Gateway to Progress." The reason for the week is to focus greater attention on education.

It would seem that we here in Quebec, need no pressure brought to bear to make us focus on education. In this Province with so much change taking place in the plans for education, we are constantly focusing attention on it.

However, it does not do any harm to think about this important part of our lives and it concerns adults as much as children. For the most part the children are taking it, but it is the adults who have to do the planning. It has been many years since education in Quebec had an overhauling, but it is certainly getting a going over now. We believe it is all to the good and that we shall see some startling results as the years go by. Slowly, education is becoming the right of all and slowly our schools are being integrated instead of being run on separate planes. A ministry of Education has now been set up and we believe that as time goes on children of all faiths will assemble in one common school for their instruction.

As consolidation came about and many schools were housed under one roof, so the regional school is the fore-runner of all High School students being taught as a unit. Actually in this day and age of wider understanding and the bonding of the religions to a far greater degree, there is no need for a separation of pupils. The same facilities could be shared and thus help to bring down the cost of education. Such a move would also help to bring about a better cultural atmosphere among the future citizens of this Province. Children are more easily indoctrinated than are adults for they are in the realm of learning. Thus they would learn from one another and not be as strangers among friends.

The theme of this week is "Education — Gateway to Progress". We can only progress if we work together, if we try to go different ways we end in failure. Moreover, if we do not use the gateway, progress will be impeded, there is only one gateway so we need to keep it open.

It will be 1967 before this present plan of education in Quebec can be got into full swing. Right now we are in the preliminary stages and we still have a lot to learn, before everything is shipshape, many problems will have to be ironed out and many changes will have to take place in order to make the plan workable and easily managed. A start has been made and we feel sure it will go steadily on to a beneficial climax for all concerned. In the present age in which we are living it is necessary to advance rapidly in order to keep up with the changes taking place. We must not lag behind or we shall be lost, the rest of the world will pass us by. Gateway to Progress, yes we must progress, we cannot stand still — education is the key that opens the Gateway to Progress.

Prompt Action Needed

IT would almost seem that there is an infiltration of the Communistic element into some areas of our political groups and that some rather dangerous ideas are being fed to at least some of the members. The Communists would like to get a hold on this country of ours, it contains much that would be useful to them. But never will the Communists shed their own blood to achieve their objectives. They will expend the other person first. If they can urge means to take over in a peaceful fashion, they will work unceasingly to this end.

The recent talk of making Canada a republic and breaking all ties with the monarchy, has more the flavor of Communism than the true thoughts of the Liberal Party. It was therefore very refreshing when Prime Minister Pearson lost no time in asserting that nothing of this sort was contemplated now, or ever.

However, the situation will need to be watched very closely for it is known now that there are elements in the ranks who have such thoughts and have actually voiced them in resolution form. If they persist, they will gain a following and it is just possible a coup may be tried at some time or other.

The Communists would like nothing better than that Canada set itself up under a President, for it would not take much then to swing it any way at all and they would work the harder to assure their cause. Gradually Communism is winning first this one and then that over to its side. So far no major coups have been made, but those which have come about have had their effects in all parts of the world. At present we have two great fields, but there is disagreement in each camp so no union is possible while this exists. It will be noted how Communism will come to roost in a certain nest and then like the greedy bird keeps pushing the eggs and other birds out of the nest until it is in complete control. This period of pushing is when eruptions and uprisings are taking place until the control point is reached. The next move is to do the same thing in the larger territory until that too is won.

It is thus that we say there is need for prompt action when suggestions such as those which have been put forth are made, in order to keep our control. There are always those who will follow any lead without weighing the consequences. It is they who have to be restrained before they have gathered too much momentum. Prime Minister Pearson must assert more authority over the Party he leads, no matter which section of the group appears to be jumping over the traces. In this case he came quickly to the fore.

Report On Bilingualism And Biculturalism

THE first part of the B and B report has been released and the Federal Parliament will no doubt give some time to its study at an early date.

As far as any sign of a solution to the findings is concerned, it would appear that the Commission studying the problem has not come up with an answer. It has formed the conclusion that there is something dangerously amiss in Canada and that it needs immediate study to arrive at a plan to remedy the situation.

That should be warning enough to the Federal Government in particular and to all Provincial Governments that this is an important matter and even approaching a National Emergency. Such of course would require extraordinary measures and we feel this matter does require just that. We feel that the matter is not beyond solution, but that it will require great qualities of statesmanship on the part of all members of Government, Federal and Provincial. The citizens must also view the matter calmly and matter-of-factly in order to arrive at a true solution amicable to all.

As the fears of the Commission would seem to indicate, for Canada to become disunited would be a fatal mistake. Yet the Commission finds that there are signs of much unrest in this country and that most of it is centered in this Province.

Actually, the findings of the Commission brings no element of surprise to anyone. Most everyone knows there has been unrest for some considerable time. The proportion is the uncertain quantity. Broad minded people of all cultures have spoken out against it, while some others had attempted to press their views in favor.

There are people outside of this Province, who are not fully aware of the views of the people here and do not understand the significance they place on the language and culture being fully recognized. Not all the people here stress this point either, being perfectly contented with things as they are. In this particular part of the Province the people have become to know one another better over the years and therefore the distinctions are less in evidence. All work together in harmony and understanding and friendship maintains throughout. If this same condition could exist throughout the whole of the Province, then it is doubtful if there would be any misunderstanding at all. Each citizen has his rights and maintains them, no one questions it. All mix freely with one another and there is no question of anyone being different to another. It is the way it should be. There is no reason then why the same condition should not exist in all parts of the Province.

With careful guidance and the proper education tactics we feel that this so called crisis could be dispelled. Action should not be delayed, the warning note has been sounded and there must be immediate attention given.

SUGAR AND SPICE
by Bill Smiley

THEY COULD HAVE ASKED ME!

That aging enfant terrible, Pierre Berton, has churned out another book. With the encouragement of the Anglican church, he took what was supposed to be a long, hard look at contemporary Christianity.

According to the critical reviews, the result, entitled The Comfortable Pew, turned out to be a short, soft look.

For years I have envied Berton for a number of reasons; his facility with words; his TV interviews with gorgeous dolls; his colossal gall; his big, fat income. Every time the big fuzzdome scores another coup, I get the green sickness.

But this is different. My jealousy is complicated by sheer hurt. If the Anglicans wanted somebody to write a book about them, why did they turn to a back-slid Anglican like Berton, when they had a front-slid Anglican, me, available.

Like most concerted Anglicans, I was hauled, kicking and struggling, into the fold, on sexual grounds. My wife was an Anglican.

At first, she used to shame me into accompanying her to church a couple of times a year. Then the outfit fastened its tentacles to the kids and first thing I knew I was going to Bible Class pageants and Sunday School picnics.

The pressure increased. "Wouldn't it be lovely," she speculated with that phoney wistfulness that makes you want to run for the nearest exit, "if you could be confirmed at the same time as your little son?"

I dug in my heels. I refused to join in the general confession, because I could hear my mother, with her solid Methodist background, groaning in her grave every time we came to that bit about believing in the holy Catholic church. I wouldn't kneel, but just sort of crunched down, like my Ulster Presbyterian father.

To cut a long conflict short, I was confirmed at the same time as my son. And frankly, I must admit that once the last rug was pulled from under my feet, I've enjoyed every minute of it.

Now I can mumble the general confession and the creed with the best of them. And I take a certain childish pride in kneeling, straight-backed, through the long communion service, when all about me — other people my age are groaning and reverting sneakily to a squat, a crouch, or a mere bending of the head. Sometimes my family has to lift me back into the pew and massage my knees so that I can come up for the next hymn, but it's worth it.

One thing I like about the Anglicans; they keep you busy. None of this stuff of sitting there dreaming for an hour while a preacher wanders through the dark forests of his own interpretations. They have you popping up and down like a jack-in-the-pulpit, on your knees praying, on your feet singing, or on your seat getting your wind back.

Another thing I like about Anglican services is the prayers. I don't think I could ever go back to those interminable, homemade prayers in which the preacher acts as though God had nothing better to do on a busy Sunday morning than listen to him displaying his eloquence and endurance. At least, in the Anglican ritual, you can craftily flip over the page and be reassured that there are only two more paragraphs of the thing.

Last and I hesitate to say this, I like being an Anglican because of the snob in me. Anglicans, if pressed (up against a wall with a knife at their throats), will admit that some other faiths have certain merits. But underneath, they know that a good Anglican is a couple of jumps nearer heaven than a good R.C. or Methodist or Baptist or Presbyterian.

In this way, they are exactly like good R.C.'s, Methodists, Baptists and Presbyterians. But it's heartening to those who lack confidence.

I told you they picked the wrong fellow to write that book.

"COUNTRY NOTEBOOK"

BY WALKER RILEY

"Country Notebook" by Mr. Walker Riley, Agricultural Extension Specialist with Macdonald College, appears in The Gleaner with this edition. The column will be a weekly feature which we trust will be of interest to all in the Chateauguay Valley.

" We are feeding our cows 15 to 18 lbs. grain a day before they freshen; by the time they have been milking a month, they are getting all they can clean up. That could be as much as 40 lbs. grain a day." This was how dairyman John Rich describes "lead feeding" to us when we visited some of the good D.H.I.A. herds south of the border last month. John's herd averaged over 15,000 lbs. milk last year.

Mr. Rich explained further, "But as soon as their production starts to fall, we cut back steadily in their ration. Over the year, they don't get much more grain than they ever did. We are just feeding a larger part of it earlier in the lactation." We asked John how much difference the change in program had made". Some of our cows are giving 2,000 lbs. more milk per year for the same feed cost", he said.

Now that made very interesting listening for this ex-dairyman whose herd average had never been above 11,000 lbs. So I have been making enquiries about lead feeding and this is what I have found.

Lead feeding has been around for three or four years now. It is being successfully practised by top dairymen in U.S. and in Canada.

The plan consists of accustoming the cow to liberal grain feeding before freshening. By the time she calves she is already getting 10 to 18 lbs. concentrates a day.

After calving, this is increased as rapidly as possible to the limit of her appetite or to maximum milk yield. After the peak is reached in about three weeks, the grain is slowly reduced until it just affects milk yield.

Then, when production really starts to taper off, grain is reduced in anticipation of the normal drop. This is the stage where real savings can be made in the feed bill. By the time a cow has dropped to 40 lbs. milk a day, she will need very little grain if hay and silage quality is good.

At the peak of production, though, she can hardly eat enough, grain and roughage, to meet the demand for maintenance and milk.

The whole program hinges on the fact that a cow's yearly production is determined very clearly in her lactation. If she doesn't get enough energy in her feed to meet her needs in the first six weeks, no amount of grain feeding later in her lactation will bring her milk yields back up.

The fear of more udder trouble seems to be unfounded. Research indicates Mastitis and udder Edema are not caused by high grain feeding. Some men admit the cows do go off feed more easily, but say it is not serious if watched closely.

It is worth noticing that the year's grain bill need be no higher under lead feeding. John Rich fed 3,900 lbs. concentrate per cow last year, just under two tons each. Averaged out, that's about a four to one ratio of milk to grain.

Protein level of the concentrate has lost its former importance; it's energy they are after. With "excellent" forage, a 12% protein level in the grain mix is sufficient. If very high levels of corn silage are fed, the protein content may need to go to 18-20% to balance the ration.

Now the challenging question comes up. Under lead feeding, can you forget about all those complicated formulae relating the amount of grain to feed to the price of milk? Can you afford not to full-feed your cow in the first six weeks whatever your market? I haven't heard the answer.

We are trying something new at the College, and we think you will be interested. It's a Maple Day on March 11th, and we are making a charge for it. We want to try out the idea that you feel it is worth something to bring the top men in the industry together for real pooling of all their newest information in syrup making and marketing.

That's in the morning. The afternoon's program will be "on location" in the Morgan Arboretum, where Professors Arch Jones and Dan MacArthur will show you what they are up to. And we guarantee it is interesting.

Commentary will be in two languages. The program will start with a cup of coffee at 10 o'clock, and be finished in time for chores. The charge? Oh, yes — $4 including a good dinner.

25 YEARS AGO

March 6, 1940

Retires From Presidency

Huntingdon Agricultural Society, Division A, held its annual meeting Thursday afternoon. Mr. Robert A. Arthur asked to be relieved of the presidency after serving in that capacity for 11 years. Mr. William Graham was named to succeed him.

Active in War Effort

A native of Huntingdon, Madame Gaston Riou, now a resident of Paris, France, is actively engaged in the present war as an ambulance driver between the French capital and the famed Maginot Line. Daughter of the late Thomas (Tommie) Moir, of Moir's Hotel, Huntingdon, Madame Riou (nee Aileen Moir), is a niece of Mrs. J. B. McIntosh of Ogdensburg, N.Y.

Population on Increase

Huntingdon's population is growing. The last official figures gave the number as in the neighbourhood of 1,700.

Foodstuff Prices and 20 Years Ago

In The Gleaner of the first week of March 1920, it was reported that eggs were selling from 70c to $1. a dozen and that bacon cost from 50 to 75c a pound. Butter, it was said, was "out of sight" in price. The first of March in this year finds the prices very different, eggs selling for about 25c a dozen and bacon around 30c a pound.

Provincial Capital Report

QUEBEC (CP) — Premier Lesage and Union Nationale Leader Daniel Johnson found themselves in rare agreement last week over the preliminary report of the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism.

Mr. Lesage said it is clear that the situation described in the report exists. That was why he plans to go to Western Canada to explain Quebec to the people there.

Mr. Johnson said it is evident that Canada is undergoing a crisis, as the report stated.

Agreement on this point aside, the two party leaders and their supporters in the Legislative Assembly were at odds on other political affairs.

Their biggest battle of the week was over Bill 13, which would allow "voluntary fusion of municipalities" — that is, amalgamation of cities and towns by means of a majority vote of the Municipal Council concerned.

Mr. Johnson called it undemocratic.

The Union Nationale won a point at the end of the week when the Government accepted an Opposition amendment which would require Municipal Councils to give notice if intention to consider amalgamation. This would allow the public and councillors time to rally forces for or against.

Earlier, Mr. Lesage tabled a partial file of letters on the project for a racetrack in St. Luc, Que., in 1961. The Premier, in one of the letters, was not in favor of the idea But Yvon Dupuis, who recently resigned from the Federal Cabinet, wrote that he and others, from Chambers of Commerce to the parish priest, did favor it.

There was still another exchange of letters that Mr. Lesage made public This concerned the Federal-Provincial dispute over off-shore mineral rights. Prime Minister Pearson wrote Mr. Lesage in December to suggest that the Supreme Court of Canada should deal with the dispute. Mr. Lesage, in his reply, did not agree.

The Premier, as Finance Minister, also announced that he will bring down his budget April 8. In addition, he told the House that the government is granting a salary increase to Provincial civil servants.

Labor Minister Carrier Fortin introduced a bill, which received first reading, to allow teachers the right to strike, though with certain restrictions. In case of strikes that might endanger education, health or public security, there would be an eight-day injunction to give time for arbitration.

Round Byre and Ring

By FRANK NAPIER

It is gratifying, indeed flattering to learn that someone has taken the trouble to read and has been interested in one or another of one's writings, particularly so in the case of James E. Barrett, Clerk of Huntingdon County Council. Mr. Barrett informed us that he had been particularly interested in our writing about James and Walter Biggar of Galloway Cattle fame, inasmuch as he had in his early days been closely connected with several people of that name, the elders of whom had migrated from the Galloway district of Scotland to Huntingdon County; were perhaps relatives of the present day James Biggar and his late father Walter Biggar of Castle Douglas (Galloway) Scotland.

In that respect "Jim" Barrett, a third generation Canadian of Irish descent, made several references to Sellar's History. Incidentally his grandfather, Patrick Barrett, out of Ireland, figures on page 238 as one of the original lot holders in the Laguerre - St. Anicet - Irish Ridge area.

Also in that respect "Jim" Barrett mentioned that in bygone days there was a Biggar Church and a Biggar School; that there were originally three brothers of that name. Anyway, page 416 ("The Biggar Settlement) of Sellar's History reads, in part: "On the stretch of country between Cowan's and Clyde's Corners the first settler was James Biggar, who came from the Borders (Galloway district of Scotland), and arrived in Canada in 1819 .After trying Dundas Country (Ontario). he resolved on taking up land in Huntingdon and visiting it acquired 25 (actually, according to page 631 — lots 24 and 25 5th Range, registered in the name of James and Wm. Biggar).

"He moved his family over the last of the sleighing (presumably over the St. Lawrence or Lake St. Francis in 1823. There was no road of any kind, but one of the American squatters to the west of him, Force, undertook to draw his stuff from Laguerre on an oxsled, which he managed to do."

Later on, (page 417), there is another reference to James Biggar, in the narrative of William Cunningham who joined the Settlement in 1825. He said, in part, after relating his experiences in a French cart to Lachine, a Durham boat to Coteau, from there to Port Lewis by boat, back again to Coteau and from whence to Fort Covington: "I reached the Fort without more trouble, and being directed which road to follow, I started on foot. The road was good until I got to Trout River Lines where I rested at John O'Reilly's. My feet were sore by this time, and O'Reilly told me to pull my boots off, and bringing a tumbler of spirits, with part of which he rubbed my feet, and made me drink the rest. "The road along the Trout River was very bad, fit only for oxen. I met two of the Elder boys working on it. I passed quite a number of small clearances. Towards evening I reached John Wallis', where I went in to rest and ask my way. There I found James Biggar, who told me he was a neighbour to my cousins, and I went with him. The road from Wallis' to the Ridge was merely a blazed track". All that and more makes an interesting chapter about the early days of the Ridge Road etc., too long to repeat in full here but which we would recommend others interested in the Pioneer days to read. However, we might repeat a few more items from William Cunningham's narrative. About his trip to Montreal to sell a load of wheat for 75 cents, but with a romantic sequel to same. En route to Montreal, he stayed at William Cairns' at Ormstown where he completed his engagement with a daughter of William Cairns' whom he had previously met at a "reaping bee". They were married in March 1829, when he bought lot 20. Of that holding he says in part: The timber was heavy. One elm near the house was 7 feet across, and took nigh an acre of timber to burn it. We worked very hard to make a home and were the more eager from having bad luck, our first cow dying, and our second being drowned in the spring in a hole made by a fallen tree. After underbrushing, I determined to clear an acre each week, got up before daylight, did my chores, and was out with an axe by sunrise. My wife helped me in everything, and placing our first baby in a sap-trough beside us, lent a hand. There was a great swale between us and Huntingdon ,which was hard to pass in the spring. I have often carried two bushels on my back to mill when oxen would sink. The Biggar Creek in those days was quite a stream, and when high you couldn't wade it. I don't think there has been any change in the climate, only the land is now drained".

Half an' Half

To return to "Jim" Barrett. He recalled that the six sons of James Biggar were "cradled" in a cradle made by him, and that when Jim's father's family began to arrive he went across the line fence to the Biggar farm and there borrowed the Biggar Cradle to be used, in turn, by the six Barrett's. "And so it is", said Jim Barrett, "that I often claim that I am half Irish half Scottish".

Another Gilbert Macmillan

There's another sequel to the Smithfield Fat Stock Show report from which emanated by comments on the Biggars. In the December 18, 1964 issue of Farming News there was in illustration showing Gilbert Macmillan of Castlefairn, Moniaive, Dumfriesshire, holding the first prize junior steer and being interviewed for T.V. On seeing that illustration, our Gilbert Macmillan, of Huntingdon, wrote to the others Gilbert Macmillan congratulating him and at the same time asking about his lineage (there's a saying to the effect that when a Scot meets another Scot for the first time he says, "Oh aye, an' fa (who) was yer father, an' fa' was yer mither, and far (where) de ye come fae (from).

Gilbert Macmillan, O.B.E. was therefore agreeably surprised to learn that his namesake in Scotland is a cousin with a family of the Macmillan name to succeed him. Up to that time our Gilbert Macmillan was of the opinion that his branch of the Macmillan Clan in Scotland had been a' wede awa'. He has a nephew left over there, but he is childless

Holstein Milk

Not facetiously intended on my part, but it would seem rather ironic that after their efforts, albeit quite successfully, to raise their butterfat standards to a 4 per cent basis, the Holstein men may be forced to enter the 2 per cent milk market. At the time of the annual meeting of the Holstein-Friesian Association of Canada, held February 17th the Extension Committee of that Association reported: "We are entirely in agreement with the Dairy Farmers of Canada's statement that the promotion of breed milks is undesirable and that the advertising programme of dairymen should be directed towards selling more milk rather than attempting to take from one another the market that already exists

"However, the current emphasis on the advertising of breed milks may force Holstein breeders into selling a special breed milk in order to retain our share of the market. We have a superior product which would enable us to more than match the claims for any other breed and our much greater number of producers should allow us to advertise on a scale that the other breeds would find difficult to match. We note that sales of two percent milk continue to increase, in some markets now comprising as much as 30 percent of the sale of fluid milk. It is our opinion that the promotion of this product was unwise from the standpoint of dairymen as a whole, but since it is now an established commodity, we must be prepared to supply it. We would like to see as much effort put into the promotion of standard milk as of two percent. Our position in the marketing of milk in Ontario will have to be reviewed in the light of any action resulting from the report of the Milk Industry Inquiry Committee."

Public Speaking Contest At Hemmingford High

The Annual Public Speaking Contest in Hemmingford High School sponsored by W.I. branch took place on Friday, February 19th. Sixty-seven children took part in the lower grades, forty in Grades 2-3 and twenty-seven in Grades 4-5. Mrs. F. Greer acted as Chairman and the judges were Mrs. R. W. Pendergast, Mrs. E. Millroy and Mrs. D. Woolley. The speeches held their usual high quality, so once again the judges were placed in a difficult position when making their decisions. One never ceases to be amazed at the imagination of some of these young orators. The subject matter and manner of delivery deserves exceedingly high praise, not forgetting, of course, the help and co-operation of parents and teachers. The winners were:— Grade 3 (1st) Nancy Somerville — "My Visit to a Museum". Grade 2 (2) Billy Engelage — "My Favourite Pet". Grade 2 (3rd) Marita Buettner — "An Interesting Trip I Took. Grade 5 Daisy Hughes (1st) "The Eskimo". Grade 4 (2nd) Sharon Somerville "Hemmingford". Grade 5 Roland Seiler (3rd) "Africa".

Mrs. L'Esperance acted as Chairman for the afternoon session of the Contest for students in Grades 6 -11. Her opening remarks explained that this venture was not something new, it having originated in Hemmingford High School well over twenty years ago. It was sponsored by the ladies of the W.I. who wanted to encourage children in their formative years to collect their thoughts and be able to express them with confidence and poise. This, they felt would be of great help to them in later life if called upon to speak in public.

She expressed great disappointment that although this year Grade 11 with sixteen pupils was the largest it had ever been, no one took the trouble to prepare a speech despite the fact that special arrangements had been made to make sure that the Contest would not interfere with the early Spring examinations. She stressed that a great opportunity had been lost by this lack of effort, as today when history is changing almost overnight, the power of words can sometimes avert a serious crisis, citing as an example Mr. Adlai Stevenson's speech at the United Nations a few days ago.

The Judges were Rev. Prendergast, Rev. Ficko and Mayor W. B. Smith, who were placed in a difficult position to pick the best speech, all being of such an interesting and informative nature. When judging Grades 10-11, Rev Ficko was replaced by Mrs. L'Esperance for obvious reasons.

The winners were as follows:— Grade 6 (1st) Elsie Engelage — "Brothers." (2nd) Marilyn Ross — "Making a Speech". (3rd) (Tied) Corrie VanderVoet "That Little Booklet" and Martin O'Connor "The Anzacs". Grade 8-9 (1st) Susan Barbe "The Modern Teenager". (2nd) Jeanette Robertson "The Incredible Micro Miniatures". (3) David Palmer "Olympic Games". Grade 10 (1st) Barry Palmer "The Problems of Canadian Unity". (2nd) (Tie) David Ficko "The Older Boys' Parliament" and John Webb "Canada's Unity." There were twenty-one speeches in all which extended beyond the class period so that children who travelled by bus could not stay till the finish and therefore did not know whether or not they were successful.

At the invitation of Mr. Matheson, School Principal, classes 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 from Langlois Academy attended the Contest.

Grateful thanks are extended to all responsible for the preparation of this Contest, the judges, parents, Mr. Matheson, teachers and members of the W.I.

Huntingdon High School Notes

By Beverly Murray

Three cheers for the H.H.S. Seniors and well they deserve it after bombarding every other team out of their path and coming up the top winner. Their day of victory was Wednesday, February 17 when they overwhelmed poor Howick 5-2. It was clear from the beginning that Howick didn't have a chance, but at least they tried even though they were backing up a brick wall. The goals were scored by George Tannahill (2), Darryll Johnson (1), Russel Fournier (1) and Lyndon Graham (1). The grins must have stretched from ear to ear on the announcement that our H.H.S. Hockey Seniors won the C.V.T.A. trophy, but then, who else could have possibly won it? A good part of the credit goes to Mr. Sandmark for his superb coaching.

There were quite a number of early birds on Saturday morning, February 20, when the Senior Girls' and Boys' Basketball team plus the cheerleaders had to meet at the school at 8:30 for the bus which took them bag and baggage, to Chateauguay High School for the Round Robin Basketball Tournament. Among the schools which participated were Chateauguay, Hemmingford Howick, Ormstown, Valleyfield and Huntingdon. The H.H.S. girls who made the semi-finals played the following teams: H.H.S. (22) vs. Hemmingford (16); H.H.S. (25) vs. Valleyfield (17); H.H.S. vs. Ormstown, but alas, lost. As soon as a team lost, they were automatically eliminated. The H.H.S. boys who made the finals (33) vs. Howick (22); but our boys were slightly embarrassed by Chateauguay who beat the socks off of them in a 81-18 victory. The Ormstown Girls' and the Chateauguay Boys' took the "bows" and also the two C.V.T.A. trophies. Congratulations!

Wouldn't you know it, just as soon as you seem to have gotten rid of one set of exams, another set comes up and slap you on the back, and sometimes knocks you over! So up and at 'em. The week of judgment is March 22-26.

There were plenty of 'swing your partners' on Saturday, February 20 in the school auditorium, with The Meltones supplying the music. The square-dance came as a concluding note to the afternoon's hay-ride. Both events were well supported by the "Young Moderns."

This Saturday will come and with it will bring the Winter Carnival which was originally planned for February 20. The Carnival gets 'ready for business' at 2:00 p.m. and will be hosted by the Student Council and the R. R. Club. Among some of the activities included are sleigh rides, toboggan trains etc., a costume skating party (weather permitting; if unfavorable, it will be held in the gym). Hot dogs, candy bars, potato chips, soft drinks and hot chocolate will be on sale in the cafeteria. So if you haven't eaten for a week, this is the place to come!

Bring the entire family for we plan to having an exciting day but please leave your dogs and cats at home — we don't want it to be too exciting!

Personal Baggage Checks Used By Railways In Earlier Years

Above are shown a number of brass tags, once the property of various Railway companies in Canada and the United States, such as Grand Trunk, Great Northern, Detroit and Mackinac, Wabash, New York Central, etc. Some of the names of the companies may be read if a close look is taken. Back in the 1800's and 1900's these were used when checking personal baggage for the travelling public. A cardboard tag was attachd to the brass one and it had a number on it. When the baggage arrived at its destination, the cardboard tag was detached and the brass tag was returned to the original railway checking the baggage. The cardboard tag was kept on record. The brass tags are about 2 inches by 3 inches and have a leather strap attached. This information was supplied to The Gleaner by Mr. E. C. MacDonell.

Liturgie — La tentation du Christ. Le démon fausse complètement la mission du Christ. Il lui pose de sauver l'homme par des moyens humains. Pour avoir rejeté tout compromis, Jésus sera rejeté par les siens. "Ordonne que ces pierres deviennent du pain." Tentation de s'appuyer sur les moyens matériels au risque de sacrifier l'esprit aux institutions. Mais Jésus choisit la pauvreté. "Jette-toi dans le vide." Tentation de s'imposer par la propagande. Ce n'est pas à coup de miracles qu'on gagne les âmes, mais par l'amour, la croix. "Tout cela, je te le donnerai si tu m'adores." Tentation d'accepter les compromis, de marier le ciel et la terre. Mais Jésus répond qu'il est impossible de servir deux maitres en même temps. Jésus nous apprend que le vrai Royaume, le salut, se trouve dans la Parole. Dans le Christ lui-même.

Liturgy — Our life should reproduce the life of Our Lord through all its mysteries: Joyful, sorrowful, glorious. But the mysteries of the life of Our Lord are no more past events without link with the present. When He lived through them He was thinking of us, and meriting those graces our souls would need in time to come that we might renew these mysteries in ourselves. Having then acquired these merits in ourselves. Having then acquired these merits He now applies them to each of us in the measure in which we adopt His own dispositions when He lived through these mysteries as Son of the Father.

The Aims of the Mass are: 1-to adore God in union with Jesus; 2-to give thanks with Jesus; 3-to atone with Jesus; 4-to submit our petitions through Jesus and with Him.

Le livre le plus cher du monde: "L'Apocalypse"

"Ce monument!" "Cette tour de Babel de l'édition!" "Un livre extraordinaire!" "Une oeuvre incomparable!" "Une cathédrale qui s'exporte!" Tels sont les termes employés par la presse française pour décrire cette merveille de l'édition, "L'Apocalypse", imaginée et réalisée par l'éditeur Joseph Foret. Livre unique, "L'Apocalypse" ne comprend qu'un exemplaire. Livre cher, il a coûté $400,000. Livre lourd, il pèse environ 400 livres. C'est le livre le plus cher et le plus lourd au monde. Sept grands peintres ont illustré les sept chapitres de l'"Apocalypse" de Saint-Jean: Bernard Buffet, Salvador Dali, Leonor Fini, Foujita, Mathieu, Trémois, Zadkine. Sept grands écrivains ont apporté leurs commentaires, rédigés à la main: Jean Cocteau, Jean Rostand, Daniel-Rops, Jean Guitton, de l'Académie Française; E.-M. Cioran, Jean Giono, Ernst Junger.

Douze ateliers d'artisans ont travaillé à cette oeuvre comme on le faisait au Moyen-Age. 300,000 peaux de mouton ont été utilisées pour obtenir les 150 parchemins du livre. Sept hommes sont requis pour transporter la couverture coulée dans du bronze par Dali. Ce monument, après avoir fait la tournée de 79 villes européennes, dont Paris, Bonn, Zurich, Rome, verra l'Amérique. Il sera à la foire mondiale de New York où il constituera avec la Pieta de Michel-Ange la plus illustre attraction. Au sein de la mécanique moderne, apparaîtra le chef-d'oeuvre réalisé à la gloire des artistes et des artisans.

La santé par le chiropratique

Cet article est le premier d'une série que vous recevrez chaque semaine, qui traitera de sujets divers sur la chiropratique, ce qu'est la chiropratique, ce que sont les chiropraticiens, ce que vous avez droit d'attendre de cette science.

Avez-vous cherché à savoir, dans quelle mesure les chiropraticiens sont d'un grand secours à leurs malades, si la chiropratique est un art de guérir? Il est probable que vous êtes déjà renseigné et que vous en êtes déconcerté; un ami vous a conseillé d'essayer la chiropratique pour vous débarasser de vos ennuis qui ont refusé de céder à d'autres sortes de traitement? Il est possible également que votre ami vous ait dénigré la chiropratique en termes violents. Voici chers lecteurs, de ce qui précède, la question est de savoir si la chiropratique est un art de guérir, il est de la plus haute importance de savoir et d'être renseigné sur ce sujet.

Peu de personnes se rendent compte de la rapide extension de la chiropratique depuis sa découverte en 1895 par D. P. Palmer.

Aujourd'hui, plus de 25,000 chiropraticiens pratiquent aux Etats-Unis seulement, dans la province de Québec, 400 chiropraticiens chaque jour à votre service, près de 30 millions de personnes ont déjà consulté des chiropraticiens et près de 2 millions de malades les consultent chaque année. (Mans Magazine 2 déc. 1958).

Les chiropraticiens ont l'autorisation de pratiquer, au même titre que les dentistes, avocats et médecins dans 41 états sur 50. Ainsi que la Colombie, l'Alaska, Hawai et Porto-Rico.

Il y a actuellement 523 compagnies d'assurance aux Etats-Unis et 40 compagnies au Canada qui reconnaissent la chiropratique et acceptent les certificats de chiropraticiens relatifs aux demandes de remboursement des assurés, pour accidents et maladies. Parmi ces assurances on compte trois des plus importantes, telles que: Metropolitaine, Prudential et Travelers.

De très importantes compagnies privées et associations, reconnaissent la chiropratique sans restrictions, règlent les dépenses de leurs membres pour les soins et acceptent les certificats délivrés par les chiropraticiens. 37 états possèdent des lois relatives aux indemnités dues aux travailleurs ainsi que le comité national de retraite des chemins de fer acceptent intégralement les certificats chiropratiques.

Les industries les plus importantes, dans 21 états possèdent des chiropraticiens dans leur personnel de santé.

Les dépenses chiropratiques peuvent être déduites de l'impôt fédéral et provincial au Québec sur le revenu au même titre que les autres types de dépenses médicales ou autres. Les grands syndicats ouvriers A.F.L. et C.I.O. ont soutenu sans restrictions les efforts de la profession chiropratique, pour obtenir un standard d'étude et d'éducation au public.

En 1951, le congrès Américain reconnut dans la loi du service sélectif, que la chiropratique est nécessaire au maintien de la santé nationale. Dans l'armée américaine, les chiropraticiens sont maintenant affectés au corps médical. La chiropratique s'est étendue à de nombreux pays étrangers, dont l'Angleterre, l'Australie, la France, l'Allemagne, la Belgique, la Suisse, l'Italie, la Suède, la Norvège, l'Espagne, le Danemark, la Finlande et j'en passe... Parmi les personnalités mondiales qui ont été soignées par la chiropratique, nous pouvons citer feu Henry Ford, John D. Rockfeller, le Shah de Perse, Mme Tchang Kai-Chek, innombrables sont les gens en vue, membres de la Cour de Cassation, présidents de Banques, célébrités du monde sportif et du théâtre, qui sont des fervents de la chiropratique. Tout ceci, constitue à mon sens, en 65 années la plus extraordinaire réussite, en comparant les autres professions qui n'ont pas évoluées aussi rapidement, la popularité de la chiropratique augmente de jour en jour dans le Québec et ceci est la preuve, que la théorie chiropratique en ajustant la colonne vertébrale, peut guérir d'innombrables maladies, sans remèdes, sans régime, que traitement du système nerveux.

La semaine prochaine — votre colonne vertébrale, symbole de santé ou symbole de maladies — Ce que la chiropratique peut faire pour vous.

Nouvelle usine de pièces automobiles à Lacolle

A l'occasion d'une conférence de presse tenue à Lacolle, vendredi le 26 février, on remarquait la présence de M. Albert Morin, maire ainsi que de tous les conseillers municipaux, de M. Paul Landry et M. Charles Guay, respectivement président et secrétaire de la Chambre de Commerce de Lacolle ainsi que les membres de la Chambre, de M. Martin, Directeur du Comité de la Promotion Industrielle, et de Me Ian Watson, député fédéral des comtés de Châteauguay-Huntingdon -Laprairie. A cette occasion, on a annoncé officiellement que la Compagnie Ontario Steel Products Limited projette la construction prochaine d'une usine dans les limites du village de Lacolle.

La filiale du Québec de l'Ontario Steel Products sera connue sous le nom "Les Produits d'Acier Lacolle".

La construction sera mise en marche au cours du mois de mars et la production proprement dite commencera au début du mois de novembre.

L'Ontario Steel Products Limited se propose d'investir entre $800,000 et $1,000,000. pour la construction et l'équipement de l'usine. Celle-ci aura une superficie initiale de 25,000 pieds carrés et emploiera jusqu'à 50 hommes.

Le président et gérant général de l'Ontario Steel Products Limited est M. O.D. Cowan de Toronto. On mentionne que la compagnie est très optimiste en ce qui a trait à une expansion future considérable de l'usine lorsque la mise en marche de celle-ci aura été complétée.

L'Ontario Steel Products Limited manufacture des produits variés en métal et plastique destinés à l'industrie de l'automobile, aux entreprises ferroviaires, aux manufacturiers de machineries aratoires, etc. Elle a des filiales à Gananoque, Chatham, Oshawa et Milton Ontario ainsi qu'à Clayton, N.Y. Elle a un actif total de $15,420,580. et une liquidité de $5,386,730.

La filiale de Lacolle produira des ressorts d'acier type spirale pour les besoins des entreprises ferroviaires et des manufacturiers d'autos. Elle fournira entr'autre la compagnie General Motors présentement en construction à Ste-Thérèse.

La compagnie Ontario Steel Products Limited est sous le contrôle de la firme américaine Rockwell Standard Corporation de Pittsburgh, laquel le détient 75% des actions ordinaires de cette compagnie La compagnie Rockwell Standard est engagée principalement dans la production et la distribution de produits connexes. Elle produit également des filtres pour l'industrie aéronautique ainsi que différentes pièces d'équipement mécaniques spécialisés.

La compagnie Rockwell Standard jouit d'un actif de $207,000,000. et d'une liquidité courante de $78,000,000.

Au cours de la conférence de presse, Me Watson a loué l'effort déployé par la Chambre de Commerce locale qui a su lancer une campagne de publicité soulignant le fait que, Lacolle, faisant partie du district de St-Jean, avait été désigné par le gouvernement fédéral comme une zone pouvant bénéficier d'avantages fiscaux. Il mentionna que le pamphlet spécialement préparé par la Chambre de Commerce de Lacolle ainsi que la lettre rédigée par lui-même décrivant les différents avantages fiscaux intéressant les compagnies investissantes et distribuée par la Chambre de Commerce à plus de 400 compagnies, avait été un facteur prédominant dans la venue de Ontario Steel Products Limited à Lacolle. En effet, cette compagnie avait déjà acheté des terrains à Ste-Thérèse quand on porta à son attention tous les avantages que Lacolle offraient.

M. Watson souligna aussi le travail du maire de Lacolle, M. Albert Morin et du président de la Chambre de Commerce, M. Landry qui résolurent les différents problèmes qu'avaient à faire face la nouvelle compagnie.

Il ne manqua pas d'ajouter que les gens de Lacolle démontrent une attitude très progressive et manifestent une mentalité des plus aimables, ce qui a sans doute beaucoup influencé la décision de Ontario Steel Products Limited à venir s'établir à Lacolle.

La Revue des Sports

par Réjean Racine

Mercredi dernier, le 24 février, la Town League terminait sa saison régulière avec une partie opposant l'école secondaire St-Joseph aux Braves de Cazaville. Les Red Hawks commençaient leur semi-finale contre Ste-Barbe.

Déconfiture de Ste-Barbe contre les Hawks

Les red Hawks ont gagné leur semi-finale en disposant de Ste-Barbe au compte de 8 à 2.

Les Hawks ne semblent pas vouloir donner aucune chance à leurs adversaires avec neuf parties sans défaite. Ils ont favorisé un jeu de position et les joueurs d'attaque ont non seulement excellé à l'offensive mais ils ont aussi été efficaces à la défensive. Ils ont facilité la tâche de leurs joueurs de défense et de Réjean Racine. Mais Ste-Barbe a causé une surprise en marquant le premier but du match; par la suite, cependant, les Hawks se sont tout simplement moqué de leurs adversaires. Pendant que les Hawks jouaient avec un homme au cachot, Roger Lessard s'est échappé pour compter le premier but de son équipe. Les Hawks ont à nouveau pénétré à volonté dans le territoire ennemi et André Fournier a compté sur un lancer de 25 pieds dans le coin droit du filet. Les compteurs pour les Hawks ont été Roger Lessard et André Fournier, avec deux buts chacun, Ronnie Tremblay, René Lecavalier, Arthur Murphy et Louis Lalonde.

Denis Raymond règle le sort du Cazaville

L'école secondaire St-Joseph a décroché sa sixième victoire de la saison en défaisant Cazaville au compte de 6 à 2.

Après 8 secondes de jeu seulement, Denis Raymond enregistra son premier but. Cinq secondes plus tard, il compta son deuxième but; après 30 secondes de jeu, Raymond avait trouvé le fond du filet pour une troisième fois. Ces trois buts en 30 secondes constituent un nouveau record pour la Town League. Je le félicite. Cazaville devait par la suite réduire cette avance à 2 buts, mais Denis Raymond y alla de ses quatrième et cinquième buts de la soirée et Brière compléta le pointage. Les dernières minutes du match donnèrent lieu à du jeu rude mais il y eut quelques jeux très spectaculaires.

Howick

Une des plus joyeuses soirées de la saison a eu lieu à la salle St-Jean-Baptiste de Ste-Martine, samedi soir le 13 février. La J.R.C. de Howick y tenait une danse au cours de laquelle Mlle Francine Tisseur fut couronnée Reine du Carnaval. Ses princesses étaient Mlles Lussier et Catherine Tellier.

Un grand nombre de jeunes de la région y prenaient part, de même que quelques groupes de la J.R.C. de l'extérieur.

La danse débuta par une grande marche au début de la soirée. Plus tard, le Président de la J.R.C. de Howick, M. Arthur Tellier, présenta des boites de chocolat de la St-Valentin et des chèques de la part du groupe de Howick. Trois prix furent tirés au sort.

Dimanche après-midi, le carnaval se termina par des parties de ballon-balai et des courses à l'école de la rue Académie. La température était idéale et un grand nombre de personnes étaient présentes. Les jeunes garçons jouèrent au ballon-balai. Les filles et les femmes mariées jouèrent une partie et les filles gagnèrent. Des courses eurent lieu sur la glace et on présenta les trophées.

Dans la soirée, on dansa, on présenta des films etc. Plus de 400 membres de la J.R.C. participaient à cette réunion.
