Valuable Horse Drowned

On Friday of last week, Hilliard Beattie, of Onslow, lost one of his fine span of matched Clydesdale horses, when, hauling ice at Ireland's Lake, in Onslow.

It seems that the team dropped into a hole slightly frozen over and partially covered with snow, and which had been left unmarked in any way by other ice-cutters.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walsh Honoured on their 25th Anniversary

On Saturday evening, March 22, a surprise gathering of friends and neighbours gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Walsh, Bristol, to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their marriage.

Games and music were enjoyed, and, as supper was ready to be served Mr. and Mrs. Walsh were escorted to the dining room, where they were presented with an address and an electric pad by Mrs. W. J. Murray and Mrs. James Campbell, on behalf of all those present.

Completely taken by surprise Mr. and Mrs. Walsh replied very graciously.

Supper was served and an hour of good fellowship was spent and after the singing of, "For they are jolly good fellows," the guests then took leave of their congenial host and hostess wishing them many more years of happiness.

Three Killed in Train Wreck at Inkerman, Ont.

Three railwaymen were killed and six other men injured early Monday night in a spectacular collision between a freight train and passenger train on the C.P.R. line at Inkerman, Ont., 40 miles south of Ottawa. It was the worst railway disaster to occur in the district in many years.

Widespread destruction was caused when the fast-travelling C.P.R. freight train jumped the tracks and crashed into the passenger train engine knocking it on its side right into the Inkerman station doorway. Upwards of 20 freight cars left the tracks and piled up in a huge mass of wreckage, thirty feet high at places. Some war materials were included in the articles carried in the frieght cars and were badly damaged,

The dead are:—F. Plato, engineer, Smith's Falls; W. Plunkett, fireman, Smith's Falls; W. Maxwell, section foreman, South Mountain.

The injured are:—E. Pennett, station agent, Inkerman, a patient in the Civic Hospital, suffering from painful burns; H. Guppy, conductor on the passenger train, Smiths Falls, head injuries; H. Slack, mail Clerk, Smiths Falls, two broken ribs; Asa Hanes, section hand and mailman, Inkerman, injured back; C. Riley, trainman on the passenger train, Perth, head injuries; D. MacDonald, transient, Montreal, head and leg injuries.

Two members of the passenger train crew, Engineer Fred Plato and Fireman Wallace Plunkett were crushed and scalded to death in their engine cabin.

Hints on How To Grow Plants in the Home

If new clay pots are used for growing plants in the home. they should be soaked in water for a time and dried before using, says Isabella Preston, Horticultural Division, Dominion Experimental Farms Service.

Old pots should be scrubbed inside and out. Before filling the pots with soil. a few broken crocks should be placed over the drainage hole. Pots should not be larger than necessary to hold the roots. It is better to start a plant in a small pot and then repot it to a larger one when the roots have filled the small one. When plants are in active growth, fertilizers may be given, The tablets sold under various trade names are the easiest to use on potted plants in the home.

The soil used in the pots should be fairly rich and porous so that water drains out of it easily. A compost made up of three parts good loam. 2 parts leaf mold. and one part sand, with about a tablespoonful of bone meal to a quart of mixed soil, will suit most plants. All should be throughly mixed and slightly moistened.

Red Cross Women Urged to Keep up Quotas ot Hospital Supplies

With cables from London, England, indicating that the Canadian Red Cross is pouring supplies into distressed and bombed areas of Britain, Red Cross women volunteers across the Dominion are urged to keep up their quotas of hospital supplies and woollen comforts by officials af the Quebec Provincial Division of the Red Cross Society.

'Our workers should deep closely in touch with their branches for information on the type of garments and the quantity required," officials stated, "if the million Canadian women who are Red Cross volunteers continue this cooperation, we can match destruction overseas with production at home."

"The Canadian Red Cross in Britain has been able to fulfil every call for assistance from any of the agencies distributing relief to bombed civilians and our Society and the American Red Cross are now the chief sources of aid for clothing, woollen comforts and hospital supplies overseas. Since the first of the year more than one million articles have been distributed overseas. Red Cross women are urged to keep up their quotas and follow instructions from their branches."

Although Canada has been able to give unstinting aid to British air raid victims Red Cross warehouses in England are endeavoring to keep on hand an adequate stock of hospital supplies and woollen comforts for any emergency needs of the Canadian armed forces in Britain.

In the list of floral tributes to he late James Warren, published ast week. the names Mr. and Mrs. John Graham, were erroneously given instead of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Thompson, of Zion.

Canadian War Service Fund

With more than 15,000 workers in 90 divisions throughout the province, the $ 1,175,400 campaign of the Canadian War Service Fund opened on Monday. In the provincial territories 10,000 canvassers swung into action as the whirlwind campaign got under way in 76 districts,

The province has been organized for the appeal, from Gaspe to Pontiac and from Abitibi to the American border. Each division has it's divisional chairman, under whom serve team captains, who in turn have supervision over hundreds of canvassers.

The campaign was officially inaugurated Friday evening, when His Excellency the Governor General, the Earl of Athlone, spoke at the opening banquet in Montreal.

On Monday evening Wendell L Wilkie, Republican candidate in the recent United States election, broadcast a radio address from Toronto, where he appeared on behalf of the campaign.

Organizations participating in this drive are the Canadian War Services, Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, Y. M. C. A, Y. W. C. A. and, in the western provinces, the I. O. D. E.

The money will be spent on maintaining auxiliary services to the men in Canada's Navy, Army and Air Force. These include recreation centres, residential clubs overseas, canteens, mobile canteens, hostess houses, sports and entertainment centres, educational courses, and personal and religous services. The campaign will continue until April 7.

Throughout the province special events have been planned to help the campaign. One of the first centres to report an outstanding event was the city of Sherbrooke where a special parade has been arranged and a full-fledged "black-out" will be staged.

Radio stations and networks will carry several broadcasts daily. Features of each organization will be highlighted in those broadcasts, stressing the need for generous support from the people of the province if the objective is to be reached and auxiliary services maintained for the troops.

Officials of the campaign point out that already complaints have been received of unauthorized persons canvassing. A statement has been issued stressing that each canvasser is furnished with credentials, together with a permit signed by Lionel Brittle, the campaign director, and counter-signed by the team captain of each district.

Comet of 1858

Few are living who can remember the great comet of 1858—Donati's comet—but the following is a description by one who watched it, and wrote about it to the Rural New Yorker: "I never saw the comet rise, but I have watched it evening after evening, as it would set in the northwestern horizon. I have stood with my back toward the nucleus of the comet as it approached the horizon, and watched the spread of that magnificent tail from north to south, and but little above the horizon in the east." Previous to 1858, Donati's comet appeared in 1556, when it frightened Charles V of Germany into giving away his crowns and retiring to a monastery. And more than 200 years will pass before mortal eyes will see it again.

Getting Into Radio Work

Ambitious girls who have set their hearts on getting into radio work are advised by high-up executives in the leading radio networks, "don't leave home, forget the big city." They are advised to stay where they are and sell themselves to their nearest radio station, however small-time it may be. And the executives prove this by citing the cases of Kathryn Cravens, the Le-Brun Sisters, Phyllis Creore, Adelaide Hawly and many others, all of whom have developed from home-town talent to national radio repute. And as one known ralio star puts it, "to succeed in radio, you need to practice it tirelessly, to love it devotedly and to watch it like a hawk."

Saving Ontario's Natural Resources

G. C. Toner
Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters
(No. 35)
PROTECTING WILD LIFE

I have been describing the natural history of Ontario in this column and now I want to tell you something of the Government agencies that protect and replenish our wild life resources. These activities are of many different kinds, the game warden you meet while hunting or fishing, the hatchery truck taking fingerlings to the little lake back in the hills, the conservation officer speaking before your local association, all are part of the Provincial Game and Fisheries Department.

However, both Dominion and Province accept certain responsibilities in regard to our wild life. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police protect the ducks and geese by enforcing the Migratory Bird Act. The Forestry Branch takes care of much of the reforestation in Ontario. The Game and Fisheries Department looks after the angling interests; the commercial fisheries, the furbearers, the deer and the upland game. It is mainly of this Department I will write about in the next two or three columns.

First Game Law

The present Department was founded about 1905 but there were several forerunners of it in the late 1800's. The earliest game law as applied to what is now Ontario was enacted in 1821. It established a closed season on deer between January 10th and July 1st. Six months and two weeks is certainly a generous open season and there was no bag limit. You could shoot as many deer as you could get between July and January but I suppose even so generous a law was regarded in those days as too severe and no doubt there were plenty of grumblers among the hunters of 120 years ago.

I was reading a book the other day, written in 1800 by Isaac Weld. This gentleman toured Canada between 1795 and 1797 and described the conditions of life in some parts of Ontario. He mentions dining at a friend's home, in Kingston, where they had a saddle of venison and a fifteen pound salmon from Lake Ontario as the main course. The part that rather pleased me was the statement that both the venison and the salmon were bought from an Indian for a bottle of rum and a loaf of bread. Game and fish must have been plentiful but apparently only twenty years later regulatory laws were needed as I have shown above.

Bird Banding Aids Research

Into Habits of Migratory Birds — Helps In Their Conservation

Information gained through marking wild birds with numbered metal bands enables the Canadian and United States Governments to take co-operative measures for the conservation of migratory birds, states the Department of Mines and Resources, Ottawa. An example has recently arisen in connection with reports of the heavy losses sustained by the woodcock on its wintering grounds in the Gulf States last year because of unprecedented cold weather. These reports were substantiated by investigations in the Maritime Provinces, which revealed that the birds were less numerous there than in 1939. Each of the countries concerned took prompt action, by reducing its previous open season for the hunting of these birds, to protect the woodcock and the sport that it affords.

NUMBERED METAL BANDS

Official aluminum bands found on legs of woodcock taken by hunters in the Maritime Provinces definitely establish where these birds spend the winter. In the case of three such bands sent in to the Department recently, investigation showed that all of the woodcock concerned had been banded during the winter months, two of them in Louisiana, and the other in Alabama. The history of one band revealed that the woodcock had been caught and banded on January 2, 1937, at Sherburne, Louisiana, and that it had survived shooting for at least four open seasons and a portion of a fifth, only to fall on October 28, 1940, near Wolfville, Nova Scotia.

THE WAR WEEK—Commentary on Current Events

U. S. IS AIDING BRITAIN IN 'BATTLE OF ATLANTIC'

"Never before in the history of our sea power have we had such need of many more ships and great numbers of men."—British First Lord of the Admiralty, A. V. Alexander.

"The Battle of the Atlantic must be won in decisive manner. It must be won beyond all doubt if the declared policies of the Government and people of the United States are not to be forcibly frustrated."—British Prime Minister, Winston Churchill.

"The British people and the Grecian allies need ships. From America they will get ships. They need planes. From America they will get planes. They need food. From America they will get food. They need tanks and guns and ammunition and supplies of all kinds. From America they will get tanks and guns and ammunition and supplies of all kinds."—U. S. President, Franklin D. Roosevelt.

* * *

First Lord of the Admiralty A. V. Alexander last week warned the British people that they were now witnessing "The Battle of the Atlantic," a titanic struggle for mastery of the Atlantic shipping lanes, the outcome of which would undoubtedly decide who would win the war. He was optimistic that a British victory "will not only be certain—it will be quick," if the Empire could hang on until American aid is received in sufficient quantity.

Prime Minister Churchill followed him with a report on the Battle, which he termed "one of the most momentous in all the annals of war," and declared that Britain and the U. S. must win a final mastery of the Atlantic or face separate attack.

5,000,000 Tons Sunk

British shipping losses for the first eighteen months of the present war reached a total of 5,000,000 tons, more than 600,000 greater than for the first two and one-half years of the last war. This was terrible news. Replacements would have to be found, and rapidly, if not in the shipyards of Great Britain, then in the harbors and shipyards of the United States. (1,000,000 tons of merchant shipping could very soon be made available in the Western hemisphere). Last week President Roosevelt promised the British virtually everything they needed in the way of ships. The question remained whether the transfers could be made quickly enough to turn the tide in the next phases of the Battle of the Atlantic.

Guard Western Approaches

The British themselves in the face of such a desperate situation began a concerted attack on all angles of the shipping problem. A mission was sent to the United States to negotiate for more ships . . . Labor Minister Bevin appealed for more and more workers in shipbuilding and marine engineering. . . . The Admiralty named Sir Percy Noble as commander-in-chief of the western approaches to Britain. (These western approaches are vital for movement of American supplies to Britain. Most of U. S. aid must enter through the west since Britain's big eastern and southern ports have been largely put out of action for trans-atlantic shipping).

Urge Lane Across Atlantic

U. S. experts, it was reported last week, were advising Britain to abandon the convoy system and establish a lane of destroyers, 50 miles apart, all the way across the Atlantic, to thwart German U-Boats. In this lane, vessels carrying supplies to Britain would operate singly, at full speed, and would be given a clear go-ahead.

U.S. Fighting By Summer

President Roosevelt's speech in Washington committing the United States to a total effort, with the objective of a "total victory" over the dictators, was so strongly belligerent that in Rome it was said: "Regardless of juridical fiction the United States is now at war with the Axis . . . the war is no longer one of Europe against England, but of Europe against America." At home in the U. S., Congressman Knutson of Minnesota voiced the general belief when he predicted that the United States would be at war within "60 or 90 days." Chances appeared definitely to be on the side of the United States entering the war not later than this summer. The President evidently was putting off adopting the status of belligerent as long as possible, at least for several months—American warships might be used in convoys, but American merchant ships would not go into the war zone for the present.

Postponement of United States' entry into the war could scarcely be long delayed, it was thought in many quarters last week. Washington could hardly stand idly by while costly war production is sunk in the Atlantic.

Where The Money Goes

The figure $7,000,000,000 asked for by the President March 12, under the Lease-Lend bill was broken down as follows, by Harold D. Smith, United States budget director: $2,054,000,000 for aircraft and aeronautical material; $1,343,000,000 for ordnance; $1,350,000,000 for farm and industrial commodities; $362,000,000 for tanks and armored cars, etc.; $629,000,000 for ships and boats; $260,000,000 for military equipment; $752,000,000 for production facilities; $250,000,000 for repairs, testing, administration, etc.

* * *

Other Theatres of War

In the other theatres of war, the situation was no less tense last week than it had been since signs of Spring 1941 began first to appear. On the Balkan front, the powers were still aligning their forces (Canadians rumored to be amongst them) for the battle which was inevitably to break out, for control of the eastern Mediterranean . . Farther south a great British army was assembling for a final assault on the remnants of Italian East Africa . . . In the Far East, talk of the early signing of a Russo-Japanese non-aggression pact gained momentum with the visit to Moscow of Japanese Foreign Minister Matsuoka, and rumors were heard that when he visited Berlin he would try to enlist German aid to mediate the Sino-Jap war . . . At the same time word came that the rehabilitation of China's air force was well in hand, and that Chinese torpedo and mine-laying planes were becoming increasingly active in South China waters . . .

* * *

St. Lawrence Seaway

In Canada the big news of the week was the signing, after 39 years of negotiation between the U. S. and the Dominion, of an agreement for joint development of the St. Lawrence as a seaway and power project. The pact set the stage for Ontario and New York state each to get 1,000,000 horsepower of electric power, and ultimately for an ocean route from the head of the Great Lakes to the Atlantic. The project will, of course, have to be ratified by both the Canadian parliament and U. S. Congress, but when it does go through, Canadians can look for tremendous changes to be wrought in the fact of their land. The economy as well as the geography of the Dominion will have to undergo adjustment.

Little Bit of Sunshine

Interest in Ontario centred on Premier Hepburn's "sunshine budget" report which estimated a $12,600,364 surplus on the curernt year's operation, and announced no new taxation for 1941. Could, by any chance, an election be near?

Waiting passage by the Legislature last week was a bill to pay $1 bonus on Ontario hogs. The Government's probable plan to apply its hog bonusing policies only to rail-graded hogs caused a storm in Ontario farm circles last week and the battle lines were drawn between Small and Big packing interests.

Plenty of Coal In Cape Breton

There Are A Billion Tons There Left to Dig — Submarine Workings Go Four Miles Under Ocean

The coal fields of Cape Breton have a commercially-accessible reserve of 1,000,000,000 tons, Dr. F. W. Gray of Sydney, N.S., told the technical section of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy at its annual convention.

The submarine workings of eight shore colleries now extend almost four miles out under the floor of the Atlantic ocean and are still advancing seawards, Dr. Gray said.

"This is by far the most extensive submarine coal-mining operation in any country and will become relatively more important as the other coalfields of Nova Scotia are worked out," he said.

Sydney C. Mifflen of Sydney said that the Breton coal area was of prime importance to Nova Scotia, as it contributed 80 per cent. of the coal mined in the prvince and afforded a livelihood to 30 per cent. of the province's population.

40% OF CANADA'S PRODUCTION

The field has an ever greater national significance, he added, for from it is mined more than 40 per cent. of the coal produced in Canada, and 22 per cent. of all the bituminous coal consumed in the Dominion.

The Book Shelf

"BLOOD, SWEAT AND TEARS"
By Winston Churchill

The British Prime Minister's public speeches delivered since May 5, 1938, have now been published in book form under the title, "Blood, Tears and Sweat" ("I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat"). The earlier addresses constitute a striking series of warnings to the British Government, (before the war when Churchill was not in the Cabinet), that their policy was leading to catastrophe. The later speeches are those remarkable orations that have thrilled the people of the British Empire in recent months and left a profound impression upon the citizens of all sympathetic countries.

A permanent record of what this indomitable man has said on many dramatic and historic occasions, no library can afford to be without the book.

To What Ages Do Animals Live?

Despite Years of Scientific Research No Definite Results of Calculations Have Been Able to Determine Their Expected Span

There is no rule upon which can be based the expected span of animal life. Despite years of scientific research, no definite results of calculations have been able to set a limit to ages. The variation is too diverse for any set rule to be declared.

The largest of all animals, the whale, growing to a bulk of about forty tons, does not live so long as the elephant, who tops the scales at six or eight tons and lives ordinarily to the ripe old age of 200 years.

CATS OUTLIVE DOGS

Size has nothing to do with longevity; the horse outlives the hippopotamus by five years, but the beaver beats both by usually attaining the half century and a camel doesn't begin to "break up" until past the human three score and ten.

Cats, pigs and cows, with an average of fifteen years beat the dog by a year. Sheep have been known to live to ten years, and rats have escaped traps and extermination to die a natural death at seven.

Use Cello Bags For Apple Storage

Favourable comments from consumers and dealers have been received by the Horticultural Farm Ottawa, on the use of cellophane bags for the storage of apples. During the month of January, 1941, the last of the McIntosh apples stored in cellophane bags were sold. It has been observed that the cellophane covering retained the natural flavour and full moisture content of the apples, and it was further noted that the apples did not mature as rapidly as with other containers, thus prolonging storage life.

NEED FOR GOOD SEED

Good seed and grain is very important at any time, but in war time it may well be doubly so. The weather, of course, is beyond the farmer, but it is not necessary for him to gamble on the seed too.

FROM DAY TO DAY

With spring upon us, with the conflict gathering force, with the future hidden and events obscured, it would be wise for all of us to build ourselves a day-to-day philosophy of life and living. We should realize that we hold and possess today, that tomorrow is beyond us, the days beyond tomorrow quite undiscernible. Let us content ourselves with whatever happiness, comfort and health has been given us. Let us end each day with a prayer of thanks for the benefits, accept with as good grace as possible the reverses, and look steadily into the future. It was such attributes as these which strengthened our pioneer forefathers who dwelt in times of trial, danger and the uncertainty of living, very similar to those we are now about to experience.

Used Elephant As Snowplow

Lindy, the living snowplow, died at Amherst, N.S., this month.

The elephant was one of the main attractions of a travelling show which was quartered there since its owner, Captain J. W. Schultz, was interned last spring as an enemy alien.

Lindy's only winter exercise was in helping clear snowbound roads. But the rigors of the climate were too much for his tropics-conditioned constitution — he became sick and died in spite of all the local horse doctors could do.

DR. KILDARE'S CRISIS

Adapted from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Picture

GERTRUDE GELBIN

SYNOPSIS

Nurse Mary Lamont and young Dr. James Kildare become engaged. Mary's brother Douglas arrives in New York. Doug wants Kildare to interest multi-millionaire Robert Chanler in a business scheme as he evolved. Kildare notices that Doug frequently seems to listen intently as if to some far-away sound. He questions him about this habit. Doug tells him he often hears a woman crying. Kildare is filled with apprehension. He knows that epileptics hear imaginary sounds prior to a seizure. After further observation, he comes to the desperate conclusion that Mary's brother is an epileptic. Since this is an hereditary disease he also knows that Mary is open to it. She realizes that Kildare thinks Doug a seriously ill man. She demands to know what ails her brother. When Jimmy, to spare her, refuses to discuss the matter, she upbraids him bitterly. He suffers her to quarrel with him, rather than reveal the truth.

AN EXPERIMENT

"Who's going to eat a steak with all that salt on it?" Doug protested.

"You are."

"I don't know what kind of experiment this is", Doug said in bewilderment, "but—here goes." The meal over, Kildare insisted that Doug take three or four cups of black coffee.

"This is the craziest doctoring I ever heard of." Doug was plainly annoyed. "And what comes after the coffee?"

"Nothing but wait and see what happens," replied Kildare.

But nothing happened. At midnight, Jimmy gave him a hypo of strichnine.

When a half hour had passed and Doug remained moody and depressed, Jimmy's spirits fell. Then, an idea dawned upon him. Doug was still pleading that he phone Chanler and cancel the appointment.

"Why can it?" Jimmy sneered. "You might as well hear the truth, Doug. I never believed in your scheme. Neither did Mary. And neither did Chanler."

"That's not true!" Doug cried, staggered at the news.

"Don't be a fool, Lamont," Jimmy said evening. "We were all being nice to you. Humoring you—"

"I don't believe it." Doug's breath came in a sob, "Mary wouldn't do that to me—"

Jimmy stared at him coldly. "Mary's afraid you're out of your mind," he said cruelly. "Insane, if you want it in plain words."

"That's a lie!" Doug shouted. "I see it now. You were afraid I'd get something out of your precious Chanler and so you cooked up the idea that there was something the matter with me. You even turned my own sister against me. But your cheap tricks didn't work — so now, you're trying to scare me off—" his hysteria suddenly ebbed. He fell into a chair, a tragic, defeated man.

He suddenly tilted his head and listened intently. "That woman in the next room," he said slowly. "She's crying again. Sometimes she cries the whole night through—"

"IT'S A LIE!"

"There's no one crying in the next room," Jimmy said steadily.

Doug whirled upon him, his eyes filled with fright. Jimmy took his arm. "Douglas," he pleaded, "don't ask me questions now. This is what I've been waiting for. You always hear the crying prior to a period of exhilaration. Now pull yourself together. Go over to that table. Start planning what you're going to say to Chanler tomorrow."

"I can't," Doug said huskily.

"You can." Jimmy answered. "Start talking."

There was a moment's hesitation, and then, as his period of exhilaration began to evidence itself, Doug started to. speak With every word his assurance returned. With clear eloquence he presented his plan, carrying it through to a brilliant conclusion. At its close, he turned to Jimmy. "I'm alright again," he said in wonderment.

"Yes," Jimmy answered gravely. "And you remember what that means, don't you Doug?"

Doug's face underwent a transition. "Tell me the worst, Jimmy."

"You must know everything," Jimmy explained sadly. "Then we can treat you. Doug — it's epilepsy."

"YOU'RE KIND'S DIFFERENT"

"But epileptics fall down in fits," Doug cried. "They roll on the ground and foam at the mouth—"

"Your kind is different. Artifically exhilarated by the disease, you have your high gear spells, followed by the equally unnatural and vicious periods of depression. But we can control it, if you will avoid the things that bring on the aura — the period when you think you hear a woman crying. Whiskey, meat, salt, coffee all hasten your nervous response. Above all, you must avoid shock. For medicine, there'll be a new drug for which we have high hopes—"

"Hopes of what?" demanded Doug. "A lifetime of mediocrity? Suppose I decide it's not worth it?"

"Then you'll face gradual disintegration of the mind—probably insanity — a wretched, living death."

Doug buried his face in his hands. "Does Mary know all this?" he asked. "Epilepsy is hereditary—if I have it — she may have it!"

Jimmy's face contorted with pain. "Sometimes it skips people," he said slowly. "And I don't intend her ever to know. Never. Unless it strikes her, And if it does — well — I'm a doctor."

Will Doug keep his secret from Mary? Read next week's chapter?

NONE FINER MADE

Sailor Collars Quite Popular

Sailor collars assume new aspects and new importance along with the popular nautical themes for spring. These collars are made in a great variety of materials and interpretations. For daytime there are crisp white piqué versions embroidered in bright red scrolls; or sky blue ones embroidered in navy scrolls. For afternoon frocks there are fine embroidered batistes and linens edged in Val lace.

Some of the new sailor collars have the square sailor effect in front, cut to fit V-neck dresses, with round or oval contours in the back. Others drop in deep squares to back and front. One large sailor that is smart for a suit is made of crisp white birdseye piqué with cartridge-pleated piqué edging it. This one is in regular middy-collar shape.

Navy Still Leads For Spring Wear

Navy still leads for spring by a wide margin. This is a bulletin from the New York fashion field, not the gridiron. Every fashion show, every shop window and a great majority of the girls are in the navy up to their pompadours, colors, middies, insignias and even waves—finger waves. The army-brown shades are doing nicely, thank you—as a fashion influence a little slower on the uptake, but a real fashion as its colors shade from army browns to creams, cedar and beige.

Fashion Flashes

This season there is a Polaka jacket suit as well as a beach Polaka (fashions inspired by the costumes worn by the laborers in the fields). The jacket suit is in navy and white checked cotton, with white pipings.

* * *

New and interesting ideas are reflected in free cape-type sleeves, sometimes pleated. This type of sleeve was often allied with a round shoulder treatment.

* * *

Next to red shoes for every hour of the day, soles are the most interesting spring fashion news in accessories. New York designers do them in all furs and in wool, embroidered with colored stones in floral patterns.

* * *

Current collections reflect Chinese and Persian as well as Hawaiian influences, and again one is impressed with the imaginative quality that marks new costumes.

* * *

Everybody is calling it the mechanic's suit — the tailored one-piece shirt and slacks outfit that will be important for summer.

* * *

In place of small patterned prints, a Spring collection gives prominence to dots, dotted costumes, also dotted dresses with solid color jackets, with larger prints reserved for interesting appliques, to make a gay spot of color.

Studios Prefer Brunettes Now

Brunettes outnumber blondes among a group of new actresses signed by leading Hollywood studios.

Of 11 starlets, only two, Martha Driscoll and Veronica Lake, who lived for some years and received her education in Montreal, are blondes.

The remaining nine consist of four redheads, Catherine Craig, Susan Hayward, Margaret Hayes and Jean Phillips; three dark brunettes, Lillian Cornell, Ella Neal and Esther Fernandez; and two brownettes, Frances Gifford and Eleanor Stewart.

People who study such trends say the brunette era began with the rise to stardom of Hedy Lamarr.

TAILORED SUIT For Spring Chic

By Louise Lennox

It isn't Spring without a suit and this year it's tailored jackets and slightly flaring skirts. Nothing could be smarter than this well cut style with its trim lapels and gored skirt. Make it with a contrasting jacket or all of one material and you'll wear it for many months. An extra skirt is also a wise investment for mixing and matching with sweaters, jackets and blouses. The jacket of your new suit is also handy to slip on over your daytime frocks on cool days. Make your suit now and be ready for the first Spring days.

Style No. 3004 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18 and 20. Size 16 requires 1¾ yards of 54-inch fabric for jacket; 1⅜ yards for skirt.

Send twenty cents (20c) (coin is preferred) for pattern to Louise Lennox, Room 421, 73 West Adelaide St., Toronto. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size you wish.

Capital Girls Have Problem

Civil Service Clerks Coming to Ottawa From All Over Canada Have to Do Close Corner-Cutting With Their Small Salaries

How to manage in the war-time capital of Canada on $55.80 a month, the net salary—national defence tax paid — of non-permanent Grade 1 clerks in the civil service is the big headache for hundreds of girls from all parts of Canada writes Gladys Arnold.

Examination of the budgets kept by some of these girls reveals plenty of close corner-cutting. One girl who said she came from the "Far West" came nearest to making a neat job of it and keeping herself out of debt. "But my mother gave me $30 before I came and bought my winter coat so I was able to manage until I became a Grade 2 clerk—now it's much easier," she said.

An analysis of clothing showed she bought one winter and one summer dress, one skirt and two blouses. She spent $5.72 for soap, cosmetics, toothpaste, and $2.60 for cleaning and pressing.

Y.W.C.A. ADVISES

Nothing a month for diversion, debt or doctors is the way the majority of these all-across-country daughters of Canada have solved the problem according to Miss E. M. Tyhurst, general secretary for the Y.W.C.A., who has dealt with hundreds of them in the past 15 months.

"Except for exceptional cases the girls must pay $35 a month for room and board or else pay it in poor health and diminished resistance to illness," she said.

Pumps Lead New Shoes For Spring

Show Many Variations On Always-Flattering Shoe Style

The new spring shoes deserve a certain amount of having. Pumps are, after all, the most flattering of shoes, and the variations on the pump idea are infinite this year. Also, there is more variety in leathers and colors than ever.

LOTS OF BRIGHT RED

Everywhere you look in the stores these days — in clothes, shoes, bags—there is a great deal of very bright red. The store people hope that the general public will curb its use of red to one or two spots to a costume. As to shoes, they think that red shoes ought to be fine with a black, beige or navy suit, with no other touch of red anywhere. That means neutral gloves, bag and hat.

Alligator, which used to be almost exclusively a fall leather, is all over the place for spring this year. The shoemakers have improved their method of handling it; it is lighter and seems more flexible than it used to be.

New Hair-Do For Spring Is Urged

Change It From Last Year to One of 1941 Styles—Bangs Are Back

You'll have a head start toward fashion perfection this spring if your hair-do is right. And with so many lovely new coiffures, you should have no trouble in selecting one that is becoming from all angles. True, you may have to shear your locks or even buy a hank or two of hair, but among these new styles, you should find more than one you like.

GIBSON GIRL TYPE

As for pompadours — do wear one, but don't wear the one you wore last year. This fashion has undergone alterations and emerged in a dozen or more chic new styles, some sassy and pert, others extremely formal in their elegance. That "Naughty Nineties" look that has always characterized this style of hair-do seems even more pronounced. In fact, considering some of the hats to be worn atop the new pompadours, it looks as though fashion were determined to make Gibson girls of us all.

CURLED, POMPADOUR STYLE

The biggest news in hair-dos is that bangs are back. Not the straight Saucer Cut or Buster Brown variety, but curled bangs pompadour style. Many famous hair stylists have adopted them, each showing slightly different arrangements . . . front bangs, side bangs, and even double-feature bangs.

Spring Sweets and Trifles

Many of you are peeping around the corner these days watching for the first glimpse of spring. Such beautiful sunshine we have had this March—It does show up all dust and indoors everything begins to look drab and soiled ready any moment for housecleaning. But before that will be wonderful Easter Day. Most of you will be mentally planning some goodies for Eastertide. The cereal confections are usually quite economical so try this new one:

KRISPIES MARSHMALLOW SQUARES

⅓ cup butter
½ lb. marshmallows
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 package Kellogg's Rice Krispies.

Melt butter and marshmallows in double boiler. Add vanilla, beat thoroughly to blend. Put Rice Krispies in large buttered bowl and pour on marshmallow mixture stirring briskly. Press into shallow buttered pan. Cut into squares when cool. Yield 16 2-inch squares (10 x 10-in. pan.) Nut meats and cocoanut may be added. 2 ounces of melted unsweetened chocolate or 4 ounces of melted semi-sweet chocolate may be added to the marshmallow mixture just before pouring over Rice Krispies.

JIFFY SPICE CAKE

2 cups pastry flour
1 cup sugar
3 teaspoons Calumet baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
¾ cup strong coffee
¼ cup soft butter
1 egg.

Sift dry ingredients into bowl. Make hollow in centre and pour in remaining ingredients. Beat altogether 2 minutes. Bake in layer pan in a moderately hot oven — 25 minutes. Ice with three-minute icing.

JELLIED APPLES AND RAISINS

4 red apples
¾ cup granulated sugar
1 cup boiling water
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1½ cups apple syrup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ cup Sultana raisins.

Combine sugar, water and lemon rind. Drop in sections of apple—pared and cored. Cook slowly in syrup until clear. Cover part of the time. Lift sections out carefully. Measure syrup. Add lemon juice and make 1½ cups. Soak gelatine in cold water adding to boiling syrup and lemon juice. When practically set add apple sections and raisins, carefully folding them into jelly. Put in sherbet glasses — Serve with whipped cream.

APPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

3 tablespoons butter
½ cup brown sugar
5 or 6 thick slices peeled apples
6 Maraschino cherries.

Place butter in round cake pan and melt. Sprinkle on sugar, place on slices of apple placing cherry in middle of each. Cook slowly for 1 minute covered.

2½ tablespoons butter
⅓ cup fruit sugar
1 egg
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
1¾ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup milk.

Cream butter very well—Add sugar gradually and cream well. Add well beaten egg and beat well, add flavoring. Sift and add dry ingredients—adding alternately with milk. Pour over fruit arranged in pan. Bake 35 minutes. Loosen cake from pan, invert on serving dish — Serve with whipped cream.

Knit A Turban For Spring Wear

Easy to Make, This Will Be Most Useful For Spring Evenings

Turbans will be more pupular than ever this spring and summer. When fine weather tempts you to greater outdoor activity, you'll need snug-fitting headgear that will preserve your coiffure against the breezes.

This turban is easily knitted by a tyro. The decorative knitting needles stuck in as "hatpins" give it a novel touch. The only materials you need are five one-ounce balls of double wove in any color, and a pair of No. 7 knitting needles.

Follow these directions:

Gauge: 9 sts make 2 inches; 7 rows make 1 inch. Using double yarn throughout, cast on 37 sts and work in pattern as follows:

First row: K 1, *p 1, k 1. Repeat from * across. Repeat this row for 34 inches. Bind off.

Block piece to measure 40 inches. Fold piece in half. Shirr piece at fold. Place shirred part at back of head and tie ends in a square knot at front, tucking ends under knot. Drape to suit individual taste, and tack in place.

It is moved by Cr. McLeary, seconded by Cr. He is supported in his appeal by the Rev. T. P. Shaver, secretary of the County Organization, and the Rev. D. Andrews, both of whom very ably explain the purpose and nature of the services for which these funds are being solicited. Mr. W. R McDonald, M. P., also briefly addresses the Council in support of the campaign for funds for War services.

Cr. McCann moves, seconded by Cr. McDowell, that the Municipal Council of Pontiac donate a sum of $350.00 to the Canadian War Service Fund. It is moved in amendment by Cr. E. C. Lawn, seconded by Cr. McCann and Barr, the report is adopted as submitted.

Dr. H. T. Hurdman here addresses Council on behalf of the Pontiac Community Hospital, he reports on the excellent paogress being made in advancing the efficiency of this Institution as a County Hospital of the first order, and requests Council to be as generous this year as it was last, when passing their estimates for 1941.

Council now takes up the estimates in the 1941 budget, all usual grants are included and the additional grant to the Canadian War Services Fund increases the amount to be levied, to the sum of $3689.99, but with the cash on hand and considering the collectable arrear of $465.89. Council will not increase the levy over the rate struck last year, consequently, following the notice of motion to introduce a by-law levying a rate of taxation for 1941, given at the December session, the by-law No. 82 is duly moved, read three times and adopted. Accounts payable in the amount of $32 05 were approved for payment, and on motion of Cr. McDowell and Rouleau, the meeting was duly adjourned.

He Was Plenty Hot

Hereafter when a certain Portland, Ore., citizen hears the word "fire," it will probably serve as a bad reminder to him. Recently a man walked up to him and told him his coat was on fire and went through the motions of beating out the flames. After the "good friend" had disappeared, the citizen discovered that his coat had not burned, but that his wallet had disappeared.

Old Magazine Predicted Terrible Warfare in 1938

"Terrible explosions," wrote Arthur B. Reeve, "will rend huge, jagged holes in the earth; tons of metal will crash suddenly from the clear blue sky."

The year was 1908, and Reeve was writing a magazine article on "Newest Man-killing Devices and the Warless Age."

Among the devices, he said, would be aerial torpedoes, anti-aircraft guns, mine-laying motorcycles, electric artillery.

"This," he declared, "is war—war in 1938."

The prophetic article, which appeared in the November, 1908, issue of Hampton's Broadway magazine, has been brought to light by J. N. Farrar, a salesman who discovered the issue in a collection of old periodicals.

Some of Reeve's predictions for the 1938 war:

Dirigibles advancing under the protection of manufactured clouds.

Spectroscopes used to detect presence of aerial gases.

Tiny submarines which would be launched from battleships.

Describing a battle scene—in the war of 1938—where "a constant rain of steel bullets whips about everything that moves," Reeve wrote:

"Nothing can be seen in that valley of death except effects; the causes are hidden with all the ingenuity of which the human brain is capable.

"Everything is tense with a nerve-wracking suspense such as ancient warfare never knew. Heroism has taken on a new meaning; it consists in being here at all."

Horse for Fox Hunting Needs Careful Training

One of the most difficult things about fox hunting is the training of horses for the hunters to ride. They must be strong and have plenty of endurance, so that they can run for hours at a time over rough, uneven country.

Teaching them to jump is perhaps the most tedious job of the trainer. They must be able to clear fences, bushes and other obstacles in the hunter's path so as not to retard his progress.

And yet, despite the necessity for great speed while on the chase, a hunter's horse is trained always to stop after going through a gate. This is to allow the hunter to close the gate, and prevent the farmer's stock from wandering out of his fields and going astray.

This rule of hunting etiquette is a good rule for all of us to adopt. Closet and cupboard doors carelessly left open often result in bumped heads, skinned scalps and sometimes in even more serious accidents. Don't let any of these things happen to you. Make it a habit NOW to close any door that you open as soon as the necessity for its being open has passed.

GET THE FACTS AND YOU'LL GET A FORD!

IT'S THE BIG CAR

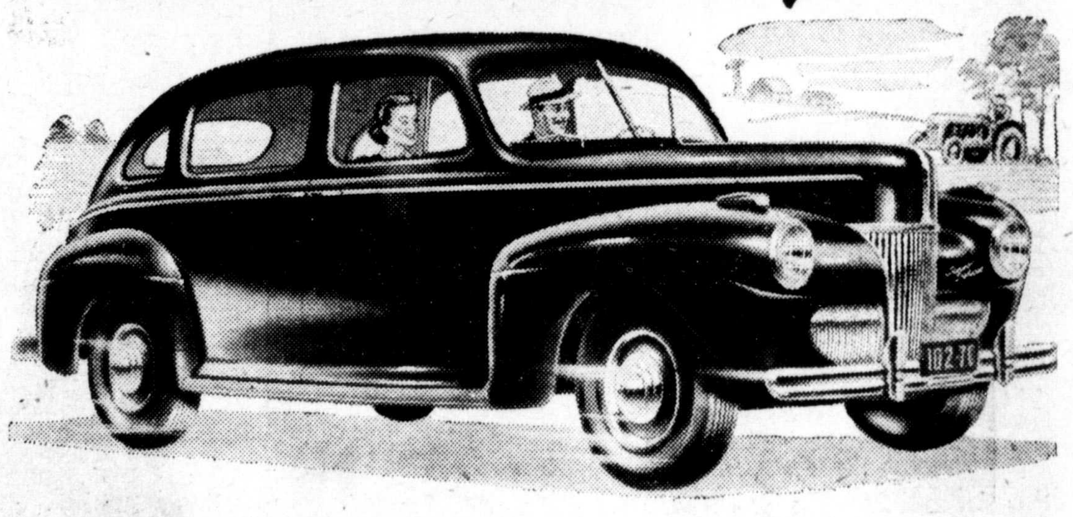
with the THRIFTY Engine!



Have you seen the Ford . . . the big new 1941 Ford. In actual feet and inches it's the roomiest car in its price class. Greatest inside length! Greatest total seating width! Extra knee-room and head-room! Wider doors! Larger windshield! A spring-base that's inches longer.

It's the big car with the thrifty engine. Only Ford, at this price, is powered with an eight. Eight cylinders for smoothness as in America's highest priced cars. Gasoline economy, that has outstripped all competition in its class, in one official contest after another. Long life and reliability that persuades Ford owners to buy one Ford after another.

What's more, the 1941 Ford has that big car "feel"—that road-hugging stability on the curves or on the straightaway.

This year Ford riding qualities are a revelation—a completely new ride made possible by "Slow-Motion Springs," plus improved shock absorbers, new stabilizer, a more rigid frame.

Ford prices are still lowest. Get in touch with a Ford dealer and see what an attractive deal he is willing to offer.

Farm Lands Value

The average value of occup'ed farm lands in Canada in 1940 was reported as $ 24 an acre, a decrease of $1 per acre from the 1939 value. Declines in land values were reported in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Manitoba, and British Columbia. The greatest reduction occured in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, where average land values were reported at $5 an acre less than in 1939. Values remained the same as in 1939 in Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

Everybody Welcome

Yes! Every farmer who uses Hydro power should know the time and labor saved by the electrically operated Renfrew—or, how easy it is to convert a hand-operated Renfrew machine for electric operation. The time has passed when electric machines were considered a luxury on the average farm or a necessity for larger dairies only. Today it's easy for the average farmer to own a Renfrew Electric Separator or obtain at very low cost a compact Renfrew electric drive for any size Renfrew hand machine. The Renfrew man in your neighborhood will demonstrate the many exclusive advantages of these separators—and tell you how easy it is to own one. See him today.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

LESSON XIII

CHRIST'S COMMISSION.—Luke 24:36-53.

GOLDEN TEXT.—Behold, I send forth the promise of my Father upon you. Luke 24:49.

THE LESSON IN ITS SETTING.

Time.—The appearance to the ten disciples, Thomas being absent, took place on Sunday evening, April 9th, the day of the Resurrection; the particular time when the events recorded in verses 44-49 took place, we are not able to determine. It was of course during the last two weeks of April, or the first two weeks of May. The Ascension occurred on Thursday, May 18, A.D. 30.

Place.—The appearance to the ten disciples occurred in the upper room in Jerusalem. The exact place where the events of verses 44-49 took place we do not know. The Ascension occurred at the village of Bethany, on the western slope of the Mount of Olives.

In this lesson we feel the desire on the part of the Lord Jesus to persuade His disciples beyond all doubt that He was indeed the Jesus who had been crucified on Calvary, that He had truly, in His own body, risen from the dead; and, this being true, He pressed upon the disciples the obligation to proclaim to the world the truths involved in His life and death and Resurrection.

Evening of Resurrection

Suddenly, while Peter and John were describing what had previously passed between themselves and the risen Christ, they became conscious of a Presence in their midst. Luke 24:36. "And as they spake these things, he himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you." With Christ the words of greeting were no empty formality. The Resurrection was a divine assurance that peace had been re-established between God and His world; and the original disciples of the Lord, who had continued with Him in His temptations, were the first to receive the message of this reconciliation, as they were to be the first to publish it to mankind.

"Why Are Ye Troubled?"

37. "But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they beheld a spirit." The disciples probably at once recognized that the person who stood before them was the Lord, yet they did not believe it was Christ in a body, but simply the disembodied spirit of Jesus. And such an apparition would frighten the most hardened individual. 38. "And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? 26. And wherefore do questionings arise in your heart?" They believed, and they did not believe.

39. "See my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: handle me, and see; for a Spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye behold me having. 40. And when he had said this, he showed them his hands and his feet." If these disciples were not to have a profound conviction of the truth that he had risen from the grave, then they could never unflinchingly, incessantly, boldly, preach the Resurrection of Christ. They must have abundant evidence, incontravertible evidence: they had it before the forty days of Christ's appearance had been completed. 41. "And while they still disbelieved for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here anything to eat. 42. And they gave him a piece of broiled fish. 43. And he took it, and ate before them."

Final Instructions

44. "And he said unto them, These are my words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must needs be fulfilled, which are written in the law of Moses, and the prophets, and the psalms, concerning me. 45. Then opened he their mind, that they might understand the scriptures." Christ eagerly began to interpret to the disciples some of the greater Messianic passages of the Old Testament which His coming, and death, and resurrection had fulfilled. Soon He would go away, but the word of God would not depart from them; it would remain in their hands, and, knowing its meaning, convinced of its divine origin and the fulfilment of its prophecies, they could go forth to proclaim the Lord Jesus as the Christ of whom Moses and the Prophets had spoken. This is what we constantly find the Apostles doing in the Acts of the Apostles.

Witnesses of These Things

46. "And he said unto them, Thus it is written, that the Christ should suffer, and rise again from the dead the third day. 47. And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his name unto all the nations, beginning from Jerusalem." This is not an invitation, but a command: it is not a suggestion, but an order. Those who believe that Christ died for our sins and rose again, who believe the word of God, are those to whom this commission is given. 48. "Ye are witnesses of these things." The word "witness" implies fact. The task of the disciples was to say, "We knew Him living, we mourned Him dead, we saw Him risen."

The Ascension

49. "And behold, I send forth the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry we in the city, until ye be clothed with power from on high." The promise of the Father is the promise of the Holy Spirit, referred to in Isaiah 44:3 and other Old Testament books and by Christ himself during Passion Week. 50. "And he led them out until they were over against Bethany: and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them. 51. And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he parted from them, and was carried up into heaven. 52. And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem with great joy: 53. And were continually in the temple, blessing God." This worship of Jesus, in whom we see the deity, and who in His person is deity, will continue to all eternity. The visible presence of Jesus was gone, not to appear again as before, but when the disciples returned to Jerusalem, their hearts sang with great joy. They were not bereaved, but enriched.

This Is Typical of England Today

The magnificence of the British stand often is reflected in little things . . . little things such as this picture. A London mother and baby, bombed out of their home, wear strikingly similar expressions of the will-to-go-on as they wait among their belongings to be taken to a safer place.

Greenland Buys Canadian Goods

All Purchases of Northern Government Will Be Made In the Dominion

All purchases of the Government of Greenland, Island colony of Nazi-occupied Denmark, will be made in Canada, it has been announced by Albrecht Fischer, a representative in New York of the Greenland Government.

Mr. Fischer, returning to New York after conferring with Dominion Government officials at Ottawa, announced also the appointment of the Aluminum Company of Canada Limited as purchasing agents for Greenland, which is governed by two Danes, Eske Brun and Axsel Svane.

FOOD, BUILDING MATERIALS EXPLOSIVES

Purchases of Greenland inhabited by 500 Danes and 16,000 Eskimos, will include foodstuffs, livestock, building materials, electrical and mechanical equipment, oils, explosives.

It was estimated that $1,000,000 in United States currency will be available annually for the purchases.

Newsprint production in Canada for the year 1940 aggregated 3,418,803 tons, an increase of 549,537 tons over 1939.

Flying From Halifax To Vancouver

New Air Mail Service Will Be In Operation April 15

Air mail service will be extended from the former eastern terminal at Moncton, to Halifax, on or about April 15, thus providing a direct service between Halifax and Vancouver, Postmaster General W. P. Mulock announced in the House of Commons.

Mr. Mulock, in answer to a question put by Gordon B. Isnor, Liberal, Halifax, said: "I have pleasure in stating that the Trans-Canada air mail service will be extended on or about April 15 from the former eastern terminal at Moncton, N.B., to Halifax, and that the frequency of service between Montreal, Moncton and Halifax will be increased to two round trips daily including Sunday.

"This will furnish a direct air mail service between Halifax and Vancouver, and by eliminating the necessity of a transfer of mails and passengers at Moncton will further reduce the elapsed time necessary to fly between the Atlantic and Pacific shores of this Dominion. The inclusion of Halifax on the main transcontinental air route is the logical outgrowth not only of the continually increasing volume of air mail destined for and originating in Halifax, but also of the progressive policy of the post office department in furnishing Canadians with best possible air mail service, an air mail service second to none."

A Hen Responds To Kindly Care

Large Egg Production Endorses English Woman's Theories

A woman poultry keeper in Essex, England, swears that hens appreciate kindness and endeavor to return it in their laying, and her theory is backed up by the fact that in the midst of one of the most chronic egg shortages Great Britain has known, her hens produced prolificly.

She feeds them on a special preparation made from sheep's paunches, it is true, but she declares that hens are "fuss" conscious and have to be kept lively to lay their best. She talks to them and knows them by name and sings to them on their "off" days. Once, she avers she had an assistant they disliked and the egg production during the period went down with a bump.

Most kinds of fish are rich in two of the vitamins—"A," which helps to ward off colds and night blindness, and "D," which helps in the growth of bone.

ANSWER: A bird.

Due to perturbations displayed in the orbit of the planet Uranus, two astronomers, each working without the other's knowledge, arrived at the conclusion that an unknown planet was causing the disturbance, and that this planet could be found at a certain location. A telescope proved the calculations to be correct.

DIAL CHANGES

Radio in North America takes another important step this month. Frequency assignments decided upon at a conference in Washington earlier this year become effective at 4.00 a.m. EDST, on March 29, pursuant to the North American Regional Broadcasting Agreement.

All stations in Canada, the United States, Mexico and Cuba, are involved in the complicated technical operations which will place nearly 800 stations on new wave lengths at the end of March. Tuning circuits and antennae must be adjusted to the new frequencies. Many other intricate operations are necessary in order that the listeners may receive the full benefit of the change-over.

To limit interference from other stations and to improve the service radio is now performing, is the object of this widespread reallocation. It is the desire of the radio industry that the listeners will experience greater enjoyment when the job is completed. So, be sure and look up the dial number of the station you want after March 29th.

CBL will be heard at 740—CFRB at 860—CKOC at 1150—CBO at 910 and CKLW at 800.

BROKEN HEART

Here's a sad but TRUE story. Seven months ago 11-year-old Pamela Marion March was sent from England to Windsor, Ontario. She has listened ever since for her father's voice on a program from England but it never came.

As a surprise for the girl, arrangements were being made for her father to speak to her right from her own home in England. The day before the broadcast, she died. The hospital records call it nervous shock. We think it was a broken heart.

NOTES AND NEWS

Radio commentator H. V. Kaltenborn has been right more often than wrong in his forecasting of war moves and trends so far. The other day he expressed this as his considered opinion: "On military factors alone, the war will end in two years with a British victory." He qualified it a little with the remark that political upheavals might throw his reckoning out a bit.

One of the best shows on the air on Monday nights is heard in this part of Ontario from CFRB, when the Radio Theatre is presented. Stars of the stage and screen are heard in scenes from the hits of the day—making altogether one of the most enjoyable 60 minutes dramatic interludes offered radio listeners at any time.

Roosevelt Rallies U.S. Nation For All-out Aid

President Roosevelt pictured making his stirring speech, bristling with anti-dictator barbs, calling for sacrificial co-operation by management and labor in America's "all-out" aid-to-democracies program. The President broke an eight-year precedent by making this historic address at the annual dinner of the White House Correspondents' Association in Washington.

Modern Etiquette

BY ROBERTA LEE

1. When a woman is indebted to several people who have entertained her, wouldn't it be all right to give one large party, and invite all of them?

2. Which is usually less expensive, a table d'hote or an a la carte meal?

3. When a professional entertainer attends some social function, is it all right to ask him to perform?

4. If you are in a crowd, and your companion is talking in such a loud voice that it is attracting attention, what should you do?

5. Is it all right to call an office employee by her first name when speaking of her to the employer?

6. When calling on a friend and she is not at home, is it all right to leave a message?

Answers

1. It would be better perhaps, if a large number of people, to give several smaller affairs, inviting just those to each whom she thinks would be congenial. 2. The table d'hote meal is usually cheaper. 3. Not unless it has been previously arranged. Otherwise, it is very presumptuous to ask him. 4. Lower your own voice perceptibly. If this is not effective, say "Let's step aside where people cannot hear us." 5. No. Say "Miss Brown," not "Alice." 6. Yes. "Sorry to miss you" may be written on one's card.

Heads Are Smaller

The hats men wore fifty years ago were bigger than to-day, for the average size was 6⅞ against the present 6⅝.

Gene Tunney, former world-boxing champion, and Bing Crosby, the crooner, are exceptions, for they both take 7½. So are Mr. Churchill (7⅛) and President Roosevelt (7⅜). Mr. Anthony Eden's hats, however, are only 6¾. The biggest head of note in history was that of David Hume, the philosopher, who took 8½. In some cases men's heads become bigger as they grow older. Sir Flinders Petrie, the archaeologist, took a 6½ when he was 21, 7⅛ when 30, 7¼ at 40, and 7½ at 50.

Earth Going Slower

Astronomers say the rotation of the earth is getting slower. Eventually it may take a month to revolve; then there will be a fortnight of daylight followed by a fortnight of darkness, as on the moon now. The slowing down is due to friction caused by the ocean tides acting as brakes, and to the increase in the earth's weight caused by falling meteors. Newton estimated that about a million meteors fall to earth every twenty-four hours; though most of them are burnt up in the atmosphere, they form part of the earth and add to its mass. Against this, the cooling and shrinkage of the earth's crust tend to increase its pace.

Canadian Fish Sells In Chicago Market

Canadian fisheries supply about one-fifth of the fish sold in Chicago markets amounting to 11,556,286 pounds brought in during a year. To transport that quantity of sea and lake food required approximately 590 cars, reports the Canadian National Railways which serves this U.S. city over its own lines and carries fish from Atlantic, Pacific and inland waters. Total weight of fresh and frozen fish sold on Chicago wholesale markets last year amounted to 59,432,557 pounds representing a consumption of approximately 17⅛ pounds for each individual of the 3,384,556 population.

Instant Cure

Four boys had their hearing restored instantly when a physician examined 93 hard-of-hearing school children at Belleville, Ill.

Out of the ear of one boy the doctor took a deeply-embedded bead. He removed a piece of lead pencil for another lad and from the ears of the others took two wads of cotton.

The number of hogs on farms in Canada at December 1, 1940, was the highest ever recorded, the total being 6,117,200, an increase of 28 per cent over the number reported on the corresponding date in 1939.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

Two women were discussing the best method of getting rid of unwelcome visitors.

Said Mrs. Brown: "My dear, it's quite simple. I always put on my hat and coat when I hear the doorbell. Then, if it's someone I don't want to be bothered with, I just say, 'What a pity, I'm just going out.'"

"And suppose it's someone you do want to see?" asked the other.

"Oh, then I say, 'How fortunate. I've just come in.'"

Stranger: "Have you lived in Bingville long?"

Native: "Have I lived here long? Why, mister, you won't believe it, but I lived here when there wasn't a single gas station in town."

Brown said he could teach his parrot to say "Hullo" in an hour. He started and went at it for 30 minutes without his parrot taking the slightest notice.

At last the bird turned his head and, fixing Brown with a cold eye, screamed: Line's busy!

A certain customer always fell asleep in the barber's chair. That wasn't so bad in a shop in which he was well known. But where he wasn't known, well—

The day came that he marched into a strange barber's shop and found himself the only customer in the place. He eased himself into a chair.

"A light trim," he ordered. "Not much off the top."

The barber nodded; went to work. And as he worked, the customer followed his usual habit of falling asleep.

Three hours later he awakened. He looked in the mirror, and, to his horror, discovered that the barber had given him a haircut that made him look practically bald.

"I only asked for a light trim!" he howled. "Why have you cut off all my hair?"

The barber gazed moodily out the window.

"What else could I do?" he demanded. "Business is slow—and I'd go crazy just sitting around idle!"

Two men were arguing.

"What's the meaning of tact, Jim?" asked one.

Jim wrinkled his forehead.

"It's—it's—" he began.

"Well, what is it?"

"Look here. I'll give you an illustration. The other day I went to mend a pipe in a bathroom. When I got inside I saw a woman in the bloomin' tub. I gave one look, raised my hat, and said, 'Beg pardon, sir!' that's tact."

Mother was telling stories of the time she was a little girl. Little Harold listened thoughtfully as she told of riding a pony, sliding down the haystack, and wading in the brook on the farm.

Finally he said with a sigh, "I wish I had met you earlier, Mother."

Automobiles entering Canada for touring purposes during 1940 totalled 3,405,537. Canadian automobiles touring in the United States in 1940 totalled 539,553.

How Can I?

BY ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I clean celluloid?

A. Rubbing with a woollen cloth and a little tripoli, and then polishing with a clean woollen cloth is very effective. Saleratus is also very good for cleaning celluloid.

Q. How can I prevent chamois gloves from hardening after washing them?

A. The gloves will not become hard if a few drops of olive oil are added to the water; the oil also helps preserve the chamois.

Q. How can I replace a small bit of wood that has been chipped off a piece of furniture?

A. This can be replaced by using the white of an egg.

Q. What can I do if the toe of a shoe seems a little too large?

A. When this is the case, fill the toe with hair combings. This also prevents the shoe from cracking across the top.

Q. How can I mend broken marble?

A. Make a very stiff paste of Portland cement and water. Clean the edges of the marble thoroughly, apply the cement to both broken edges, press the edges together very tightly, and tie securely until the cement has set.

Q. How can I remedy ink that has become too thick?

A. Add a little vinegar to it, and the ink will be usable again.

BABIES RESIST BOILS

Babies are born with insurance against developing boils and abscesses during their first year of life.

Dr. Alfred B. Longacre of the Tulane University School of Medicine, New Orleans, La., declares that infants show a marked resistance to the staphylococcus germ, which causes skin eruptions and other infections.

This resistance lasts only from a few months to a year.

LIVES WITHOUT STOMACH

It is possible to live without your stomach, sometimes more happily than with it.

Science reports the case of a man suffering from cancer of the stomach who has been getting along well without that organ for the past year.

At operation the entire stomach was removed and the upper opening to it was stitched directly to the large intestine in a delicate surgical manoeuvre.

The patient has to eat more frequently than other people and in smaller amounts but he has no difficulty in digestion because digestion is a function of the intestines and the stomach is merely a natural concrete mixer to stir up the food you eat.

Finding New Use For Corn Syrup

May Replace One-Fourth of Cane Products

Experiments carried on in the dairy laboratory of the New York State Agricultural station at Geneva, N.Y., indicate that corn sugar or syrup may replace approximately one-fourth of the cane sugar now used in the manufacture of ice cream, ices and sherbets.

IN ICE CREAM

In a bulletin describing the experiments, Dr. A. C. Dahlberg said the most satisfactory results were obtained with ice cream when 25 per cent. of the sucrose or cane sugar was replaced by corn sweeteners.

Canadian Red Cross Quebec Division

Women workers of the Quebec Provincial Division, the Canadian Red Cross Society, are receiving words of appreciation from the men in Canada's navy for the supplies of clothing provided, not only by themselves, but the women throughout the Dominion. Letters expressing this appreciation have been received at Red Cross House in Montreal.

One letter received last week from an ordinary seamen aboard the H. M. S. Ramilies voices this appreciation. It reads:

"May I be allowed to record my deep appreciation of the work being done by the Canadian Red Cross Society, its subscribers and its women workers in providing a splendid issue of warm clothing for the use of the ship's company of the H. M. S. Ramilies. As a member of the crew I have heard so many comments expressing the deep appreciation felt throughout the entire ship's company. The fact that there are people in so many parts of the Empire who are so interested in our personal welfare as to give so unstintingly of their time and money and work for the purpose of providing us with these comforts is in itself a tonic, and indicates how great is the bond between the peoples of the Empire in the face of a common danger. Please convey the thanks of the men on this ship to your colleagues in Canada, and may our own efforts bring us a speedy victory."

Another letter from a ship's officer reads:—"I am trying to write a few words of appreciation and thanks for the kind gifts of warm clothing which our ship's company has just received from the Canadian Red Cross Society.

I am merely one of the many who has been benefitted by these comforts, and I can assure you they are much appreciated for they came at a time when they were urgently needed. We were not prepared for the severe cold weather we have encountered. Will you please thank all members of the Canadian Red Cross for their kind gifts. We all are more than grateful."

A chaplain in the Royal Navy also expresses his gratitude for the gifs of clothing received by the men under his charge He writes:

"As chaplain of a ship's company that has been greatly benefitted by the wonderful kindness of the Canadian Red Cross Society please permit me to express the appreciation of our men for the recent shipment of clothing and other comforts they have received. This generous gift of clothing has made all the difference between acute discomfort and real warmth during these cold days at sea. Please convey to the subscribers and workers of the Canadian Red Cross Society, how much we appreciate their efforts."

Head of Canadian Corps Endorses Work of Auxiliary Services

"It is to the great social welfare organizations, grouped together for convenience of administration in the Canadian Auxiliary Services that we look for the provision of the valued extras in the way of comforts and conveniences and personal help which otherwise, could not be made available or or distributed to the individuals we desire to benefit," Lieut.-General A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian Corps Commander, stated in a broadcast from England this week, in behalf of the united appeal of the Y. M. C. A., Salvation Army, Canadian Legion, Knights of Columbus, I. O. D. E. and the Y. W. C. A.

"The wholesome use of leisure and the satisfaction of personal needs are problems which do not lend themselves to being solved effectively through the complex and highly specialized mechanism of military proceedure," he pointed out, adding, "it is in this field of useful and constructive effort that the great Canadian social and welfare organizations have sought and found their opportunity for useful service, and it is through them that the people of Canada can give expression to their thoughtfulness and goodwill for their fellow citizens in the armed forces overseas and yet in Canada."
