DELEGATION OF THE BOARD OF TRADE

Had an Interview with the Federal Premier at Ottawa Yesterday.

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—(Special to Chronicle).—Messrs. Vandry and Marsh, of the Quebec Board of Trade, accompanied by Messrs. Turcotte, Lachance and Carrier, M.P.'s, waited on L. P. Brodeur and the Premier to-day to ask for the dredging of the St. Charles River and the removal of the headquarters of the Marine Department from its present site to the St. Charles River with construction of a new building and wharf. They presented resolutions of the Board of Trade recommending this. The delegation also discussed the proposal of reducing the Harbor Commission from 9 to 3 members, as in Montreal. The usual expression of respectful consideration by the Government was given, the ministers being evidently impressed with the necessity of the work. No mention was made of graving docks.

Mr. T. Levasseur, secretary of the Quebec Board of Trade, received a telegram last evening from Mr. G. A. Vandry, president of the board, who, with Mr. William A. Marsh, yesterday afternoon waited upon Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in connection with a number of resolutions passed by the board at its last meeting. Mr. Vandry desired that the result of the interview should be communicated to the press. As seen by the despatch above the delegation was accompanied by several Federal members from Quebec and Lewis. According to the despatch from Mr. Vandry, the Premier stated that the delays in connection with the construction of the new graving dock was due to some disagreement with the Dominion Dry Dock Company, which was formed to build the proposed dock. In regard to the Custom House, the delegation was informed that the Custom House would be rebuilt upon its present site. The Premier assured the delegation that the deepening of the St. Charles River was an assured fact. The offer of a site on the banks of the St. Charles River for the workshops and wharves of the Marine Department was very favorably viewed, and the proposed reorganization of the Quebec Harbor Commission was also regarded with favor.

DROPPED DEAD IN A BALL ROOM

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 1.—Just as he was about to ask a young woman to dance with him, George L. Johnson, 21 years old, dropped dead before her at a local dancing school to-night. Physicians say death was due to a weak heart, aggravated by excessive dancing.

INAUGURATION OF PRESIDENT DIAZ

Ceremony Was a Simple One and Took But a Brief Half Hour.

Mexico City, Dec. 1.—Nothing occurred to mar the solemnity of the simple ceremony which marked the inauguration of President Diaz and which occupied less than half an hour. It took place in the temporary quarters of the Chamber of Deputies. Dr. Manuel Flores, President of the Chamber of Deputies, administered the oath of office, first to President Diaz and then to Vice President Ramon Corral in the presence of the diplomatic corps and high Mexican officials.

This over, the President and Vice President entered carriages and were driven to the national palace. There felicitations were extended by the Federal department chiefs and diplomats. This afternoon General Diaz and Senor Corral received delegations of business men and foreign residents.

To-night there will be band concerts, free theatrical performances and the distribution of food and blankets among the poorer classes. The usual inauguration display was absent to-day. The President and Vice President were driven from the national palace to the Chamber of Deputies and back to the palace through double line of soldiers, and escorted by the presidential staff and guard. As the party returned to the palace a salute was fired by a battery of artillery. There were no crowds in the streets and the business of the city proceeded as usual.

Notwithstanding that the possibility of any attempt being made to interfere with the inauguration programme, was generally thought to be remote, every safeguard had been taken against an overt act by those during the past two weeks thought to be seeking to overthrow the Diaz administration. There was a feeling of relief apparent among the public when the affair was over and this feeling was doubtless shared by those in authority.

CARSLAKE HOTEL IN MONTREAL CHANGES HANDS.

Montreal, Dec. 1.—The Carslake Hotel, one of the best-known hotels in the city, has been secured by a syndicate headed by the Timmins Brothers, the Cobalt magnates, who have taken a lease of it from Mr. George Carslake for five years with the option of buying it at the end of that time.

PORTUGAL DOES HONOR TO ITS NEW COLORS.

Lisbon, Dec. 1.—The anniversary of Portugal's independence of the Spanish yoke and the fête in honor of the new flag of the republic were celebrated to-day amid great popular rejoicings. The new colors were hung on Independence Monument, in the Avenida Liberdade, in the presence of the Cabinet Ministers and a great gathering of people.

MILLION-DOLLAR ELECTRIC ROAD TO BE BUILT.

Welland, Ont., Dec. 1.—Final steps toward the construction of a million-dollar electric railway between Niagara Falls, Welland and Dunnville are now being taken. The officers and directors of the road, the Niagara Falls, Dunnville & Welland Railway, at a meeting in Welland, have decided to go ahead with the construction of the road. The road may be in operation by the middle of next summer.

PLANS OF LEADER ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION.

Berlin, Dec. 1.—Lieut. Wilhelm Filcher, of the general staff of the army and leader of the projected German antarctic exploration expedition, says that $175,000 has been contributed toward the enterprise and that he is arranging to sail next spring. A Norwegian whaling vessel is being overhauled for the use of the explorers and the officers and crew are being chosen. Lieut. Filcher will push forward as far as possible in the Weddel Sea before the winter of 1911 sets in, when he will establish a base for further operations.

NO PASSENGER RATE WAR TO BE WAGED.

New York, Dec. 1.—"There will be no passenger rate war," declared General Traffic Manager E. W. Cooke, of the Erie Railroad, this afternoon, when advised of reports from Chicago that cuts in rates by trunk lines in Chicago-New York fares were impending. "You may rest assured that there is no basis for such reports," said Mr. Cooke. "No changes in passenger rates are in contemplation and the situation is perfectly serene." Mr. Cooke said he could only make a guess as to the origin of the reports and that would be that they grew out of the recent sessions of the railroad rate men to discuss the usual annual revision of rates.

BIG FIRM WAS BEING DEFRAUDED DAILY.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—The T. Eaton Co. this morning unearthed a scheme which had been working for some weeks and defrauding them daily of a large quantity of Persian lamb skins. The result was the arrest of Louis Lumski and Marcus Rosenthal, two Hebrew cutters, who when taken in custody are said by the police to have admitted the thefts. The way the men worked was to take a quantity of clippings every day and carry them away at lunch and when they left in the evening.

TRIAL OF HATTIE LEBLANC

Widow of Murdered Man Was Closely Examined in the Case Yesterday.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 1.—A verbal duel between Mrs. Lillian M. Glover, widow of Clarence F. Glover, and Melvin M. Johnson, leading counsel for Hattie Leblanc, who is on trial for the murder of Glover, held the interest of the courtroom for the whole of the day's sessions, and was not concluded when court adjourned. The cross-examination by Mr. Johnson, who had announced yesterday that he intended to show that Mrs. Glover "had the motive, the capacity and opportunity" for the murder of her husband, covered much of Mrs. Glover's life since she came to Boston from Cape Breton, and dealt minutely with her actions and feelings on the day and night of the murder and the few days that followed. Mr. Johnson brought out the fact that Mrs. Glover was twice married to Glover, once in Boston in 1890 and a second time in Providence ten years later. She said the second ceremony was because she understood that the first was not legal. She admitted certain falsehoods regarding her birthplace and her name and certain discrepancies in her testimony with that given at other hearings were pointed out. She said that she sent for Hattie Leblanc, who lived near her own birthplace, clothed her, fed her and finally found her husband with her. She sent the girl away for a week, but took her back, and on the fateful November 20, 1909, Glover took both women to a football game. One of the liveliest incidents of the day was over some letters said to have been written by Hattie's relatives, which Mrs. Glover admitted holding. These letters had apparently disappeared, but Mr. Johnson was very anxious to get them, and became so insistent that the District Attorney started to defend the woman. Judge Bond, however, ordered the District Attorney back to his seat. Just before the close of the forenoon session Mr. Johnson asked: "Do you know any reason why Hattie Leblanc should have shot your husband?" Mrs. Glover said she did not. She admitted that she was familiar with firearms and had used a revolver at a target. Coming to the night of the murder, she said she went to the hospital, where her husband was dying, accompanied by a police officer, but after starting upstairs to see Glover she retraced her steps because she felt faint and also because she heard Glover vomiting. She further understood that he was to be operated upon. An hour later she left the hospital without seeing him, and a few minutes after reaching her home she was told of his death. She accounted for the greater part of the time on the fatal evening, saying that she was in the house until called to the hospital. Mrs. Glover throughout the day was cool and collected.

GRAND TRUNK BRAKEMAN WHO STOLE THOUSANDS.

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 1.—Edward E. McIntosh, the Grand Trunk brakeman wanted on the charge of stealing $20,000 in Traders' Bank bills and $1,500 in cash from the Dominion Express Company two years ago, was in Kingston this week. He called twice at the Randolph Hotel for letters addressed to him there, but did not stay in the hotel. He did not return yesterday. The hotel clerk recognized him from newspaper cuts. McIntosh is supposed to have crossed the border.

WOLGAST READY TO MEET OWEN MORAN.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 1.—"I will meet Owen Moran in a bout of 45 rounds or to a finish, February 22, one year from the day I defeated Nelson and won the lightweight championship, in any ring, providing my end of the purse is not less than $12,500," said Ad Wolgast to-day in answer to the challenge of Owen Moran. Wolgast says he sets the date so far ahead only because of his fractured arm. At first he set the time for next May.

YOUTHFUL COUPLE LIVED IN CAVE

Happy Ending to Romance of Boy Romeo and His Girl Bride.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 1.—Lavro Tallman, 17 years old, and Beatrice Sanders, of the same age, were married here to-night. For six weeks they lived in a cave in the Catskill Mountains, having left home because their parents would not consent to their marriage. The young bride is a member of a well-to-do Newark family. Her boy-husband was a drug clerk. They fell in love last summer and when their pleas for permission to marry failed, the fled, September 18, taking what little money they had and went to the cave, which they furnished with cheap rugs and rustic furniture. Tallman shot rabbits and caught fish. The girl cooked flap jacks on a griddle which they found. Cold weather drove them from their mountain retreat, and they went to Yonkers, N. Y. The boy got work as a driver, but lost his place because he did not know the streets. Then their money gave out. They were in the railway station, trying to keep warm, when they were arrested last night on a charge of vagrancy. The girl's parents withdrew further opposition to the marriage when the girl was located and the pair came here to-night and the knot was tied.

FAMOUS GANG OF COUNTERFEITERS WIPED OUT.

New York, Dec. 1.—The famous Lupo gang of counterfeiters, whose members were implicated in at least one murder and countless black hand cases, was put out of existence, the police believe, by the arrest here to-day, by Secret Service officers, of 13 Italians and the seizure of a large amount of counterfeit bills. Nine of the prisoners are believed to be the remaining members of the gang, the leaders of which were arrested last winter and are serving terms aggregating 150 years in the Federal prison at Atlanta for counterfeiting.

SOME INSTANCES OF QUEBEC JUSTICE.

The sentencing of Murphy, the bank robber, closes the last case of an interesting quartette. Compared together, these four furnish an attractive instance of the manner in which "equal" justice is given out in Quebec.

The first case is that of James Barry, a stranger, who, while in the Salvation Army building, robbed a drunken man of fifteen dollars. His sentence was five years in the penitentiary.

The second is that of an employee in the Post Office, who had evidently been robbing it consistently and systematically for several months. His takings for the day on which he was found out amounted to $59.

When one considers the loss that he has perhaps inflicted on persons who may have been entirely dependent for their living upon the money that was stolen, it is hard to conceive of any one would not deem this second case worse than the one quoted above.

There is no need to be carried away by the imagination, but it is quite likely that among the sufferers was some poor old widow or aged and practically helpless man deprived for a while of a regular pension or remittance. Or there may have been some stranger in the city out of work and anxiously expecting money to keep him until he could find some.

But the chief enormity of the offense lies not so much in the theft, which was bad enough, but in the fact that the culprit was so contemptible as to steal from the mail of his fellow letter-carriers in order that, if there were any complaints, the suspicion might be thrown upon them.

Compare this case with Barry's and the punishment meted out to him, and then adjudge what you consider to be a fair sentence in proportion, and see if it corresponds with the sentence in the second case.

The sentence was three years. The third case is that of an insurance collector who pleaded guilty to stealing $126. What punishment did he get?

He was let off on suspended sentence.

The fourth case is that of Murphy, one of a gang of three who dynamited the Banque Nationale at St. Pamel and got away with $6,000. These men appear to have been armed with revolvers.

In sentencing Murphy the judge is reported to have said that he belonged to the class of tramps who go all over the country spreading terror everywhere and committing the most audacious crimes; that instead of attempting to earn an honest living he preferred to depend for subsistence on theft; further, that he was entitled to no mercy at all and would therefore be given the full penalty provided by the law.

When Murphy was arrested he was found to have almost $1,500—a hundred times as much as Barry stole—in his possession. What was his sentence?

The same as that of Barry—five years. It would require a big stretch of imagination to say that, here in Quebec, we "make the punishment fit the crime."

Certain Ontario papers characterize the "vote of thanks" as being superfluous. In this they have our sympathy and, we should imagine, the sympathy of a good many citizens who have been afflicted with the necessity of listening to the moving and seconding of such a vote.

Asthma and Consumption

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey Gave Health and Strength When All Else Failed. It Made Mr. Nash Feel Like a New Man.

He recently wrote: "A year ago I coughed all the time. My doctor said I had consumption and asthma; he gave me some medicine, which did me no good. I saw your advertisement in the paper and decided to try your medicine. It has done me much good and has given me lots of strength. I am sure it will cure me. I am still taking Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey and I recommend it to my friends."—James W. Nash, Cottageville, Ky.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a wonderful remedy for all diseases of the throat, lungs, stomach and weakened condition of the body, brain and nerves. It builds new tissue, quickens the circulation and aids in driving out all disease germs. It is prescribed by doctors and is recognized as a family medicine everywhere.

abused, the most misunderstood institution in Quebec.

We do not agree altogether with those who would relegate it to the limbo of effete customs, as it frequently has to serve a purpose. But it should be cultivated as an art. It should be short, crisp and relevant.

Its mover and seconder should not be under the impression that their utterances form the piece de resistance. There are still old-fashioned people who, when they attend a lecture, do not attend it from any aesthetic anticipation of the vote of thanks. They want to hear the lecturer, and when the lecture is finished and has started a train of thought, they have no wish to have that train shunted off abruptly on some siding. And they have no use for a vote of thanks which is longer than the lecture. All of us have attended public meetings. We have listened, perhaps, to good speeches, appreciated their points and "bons mots," and followed the speaker to the climax. But—as often as not—then comes the frost, the killing frost, the bathos. Even as we gather at the cloak room we still feel the jar of that anti-climax, and the pleasant impressions made by the man who was supposed to be the chief figure of the entertainment are almost entirely effaced.

There are times when the vote of thanks is necessary and can be effective, but for the most part it might just as well be left to the chairman, who would close the meeting with a brief and appropriate expression of the appreciation of the audience.

SIR WILFRID'S CHALLENGE.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with all his arguments at a discount in favor of a bolstering up of his unsavory regime, has at last thrown out the challenge to the people of Canada, which is sure to be taken up by the people at large. "My government," he has said, "is being attacked from the right and from the left, the object being the destruction of that government." And thereafter he assumes the role of a leader of the Opposition in a prophetic kind of way, to tell us what would happen were his government to be defeated. It is needless to say that the people of Canada are ready to accept Sir Wilfrid's challenge. As we have pointed out on many occasions, the steeds attached to the Laurier administration are all three of them in a sorry plight. That gaily caparisoned jade, sired by personal pride from the showman's mare, has been subjected to a humiliating exposure, on the Arthabaska-Drummond race course. His second steed, the race cry pea, which he has been riding during all these years of his career, has become the laughing stock of the multitude during the debate on the "Speech from the Throne," which went to show, through the "illogicalities" of that patriarch of modern times, the Minister of Marine, that the Laurier government is the only element in our population which ought to be excused for indulging in the criminality of setting the electors by the ears in the matter of racial and religious pleading. But Sir Wilfrid's challenge is assuredly in the way of being taken up by the Canadian public, now that one of his own stable boys, in the person of the Hon. Charles Murphy, Secretary of State, has declared his intention of turning King's evidence during the present session of Parliament, in regard to the unsavory condition of another of the premises' stables. For fourteen years Sir Wilfrid Laurier has had charge of these stables; and, now that Mr. Murphy is about to take the confessional to reiterate in the ear of the public a stock-taking of the filth that has been allowed to accumulate in his department during all these years, it is going to take "all the king's horses and all the king's men" to make the public believe in Mr. Murphy's subsidiary plea that the responsibility of having these stables as filthy as they have been proved to be lies with certain Conservative governments now dead and gone, and not with the Laurier administration of today. "As Premier, I am responsible for any irregularity that may occur in any of the public departments of the State," exclaimed Sir Wilfrid once from his place in the House of Commons. And now, when one of his favorite stable boys, his new Secretary of State, is about to proclaim in the public ear of Canada that for fourteen long years the filth of corrupt methods of doing business in an important sub-department under his own oversight is as bad, if not worse, than anything which has yet been exposed in the Marine Department, the Department of Public Works, the Railway Department, etc., etc., what course is there left open to the public but to accept Sir Wilfrid's latest challenge, and confess that the consensus of public opinion is in favor of "the destruction of his government." Canadians all over the Dominion cannot but believe their own ears. The Laurier administration has betrayed every moral trust placed in its hands by the Canadian electorate; and what is there for the Canadian electorate to do but to accept Sir Wilfrid's challenge against it as a whole?

It is surely neither a sin nor an impropriety on the part of the people to desire to rescue their own from the hands of men who self-confessedly declare that they are guilty of wrongdoing.

WORKING MAJORITY FOR UNIONISTS.

It will be almost impossible for the British Unionists to acquire a working majority in the next House of Commons. There are 670 members in the House, and out of this total the Unionists held 273 in the last election. If they wish to have a majority of one alone over all combinations in the new Parliament they must retain their 273 seats and gain 63 more.

The question is, where is that gain to come from? It is hardly likely to come from Scotland, where the Liberals carried 61 out of 72 seats at the last election.

Nor does there seem any hope for the Unionists in Wales, where they could only gather two seats out of thirty last January.

Ireland is not likely to show much sympathy, since she returned no less than 83 Nationalists out of 102 members representing her.

The Unionist possibilities of gain are therefore practically confined to London, the English boroughs and the English counties. These are now divided as follows:—London, 28 Liberals, 34 Unionists; the boroughs, 87 Liberals, 77 Unionists; the counties, 111 Liberals and 122 Unionists.

The Unionists held a lead in the last Parliament of 11 on the 465 English seats. It is hardly likely that they will make enough gains to offset an Irish majority of 66, Scotch of 50 and a Welsh of 26.

FIRE LOSSES.

According to the fire register of the Monetary Times 370 persons in Canada have lost their lives in fires since January, 1909, while nearly $37,000,000 worth of property has been burned. At the present rate the monetary loss for the two years will probably exceed forty millions.

If, says that weekly, we estimate our population at seven millions, the fire loss per capita last year was $2.70. On the other hand, recent figures establish that the annual average of Austria, Denmark, France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland was only 33 cents. Canada's average monthly fire waste last year was $1,750,461. This bad record seems likely to be exceeded this year.

THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

The Baltimore Sun is authority for the statement that two men, one of whom was formerly a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature, have been convicted by the Allegheny County Court at Pittsburg of trafficking in "white slaves." This is the first conviction under a new law enacted in Pennsylvania to meet the demands of such cases. We do not know what the penalty for the violation of this law may be, but it is to be hoped long sentences and heavy fines will be the lot of these moral lepers.

And the conviction should, as the Sun says, encourage those who have fought against the evil to believe that their efforts will eventually be crowned with success.

DOCTORS TELL NOW "CUTICURA" CURED SKIN DISEASES

One says, "I have Great Faith In Cuticura Remedies." Another, "They Always Bring Results."

"I wish to let you know of a couple of recent cures which I have made by the use of the Cuticura Remedies. Last August, Mr. — of this city came to my office, troubled with a severe skin eruption. At first I could not understand the nature of the case. I finally traced it to his occupation, as he was a painter and decorator. It was dermatitis in its worst form. I started with a slight eruption and would affect most parts of his body—thighs, elbows, chest, neck and abdomen—and would terminate in little pustules. Itching and burning was dreadful and he would almost tear his skin apart, trying to get relief. I recommended all the various treatments I could think of and he spent about fifteen dollars on prescriptions but nothing seemed to help him.

"In the meantime my wife who was continually suffering with a slight skin trouble and who had been treated by several physicians and methods with my assistance, told me she was going to get some of the Cuticura Remedies. But as I did not know much about Cuticura at that time I was doubtful whether it would help her. Her skin would thicken, break and bleed, especially on the legs, wrists and arms. I could do nothing to relieve her permanently. When she first applied the warm bath of Cuticura Soap and applications of Cuticura Ointment she saw a decided improvement and in a few days she was completely cured.

"I lost no time in recommending the Cuticura Remedies to Mr. —, and this was two months ago. I told him to wash with warm baths of the Cuticura Soap and to apply the Cuticura Ointment generously. He writes me from the very first day's use of the Cuticura Remedies he was greatly relieved and to-day he is completely cured through their use. I have great faith in the Cuticura Remedies and shall always have a good word for them now that I am convinced of their wonderful merit." (Signed) B. L. Whitehead, M.D., 108 Dartmouth St., Boston, Mass., July 22, 1910.

"I am a practicing physician and very often prescribe Cuticura Remedies in cases of eczema, and they have cured where other formulas have failed. I am a broad-minded enough to proclaim their virtues to the world. I have been practicing medicine for twenty years, and must say I find your Remedies A No. 1. I still find the Cuticura Remedies as good as ever. They always bring results." Cuticura Remedies are sold by druggists everywhere. Fottler Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. KING GEORGE IS ARBITRATOR IN CASE.

London, Dec. 1.—King George, as arbitrator, to-day received the counter cases in the Alsop claims dispute between the United States and Chile as presented to the Foreign Office last summer by United States Ambassador Reid and Chilean Minister Gana. It is expected that His Majesty will render his decision within a month.

The United States claims something over $1,500,000 from Chile in satisfaction of money advanced to the Bolivian Government in 1874 in exchange for concessions in Arica. Before the agreement was fulfilled Arica passed to Chile in war. Chile subsequently agreed to assume the obligations of Bolivia to the American concessionaires. The matter, however, has never been settled and after prolonged negotiations was submitted to the arbitration of King George.

RHEUMATISM? USE ZAM-BUK

When you feel the aching of rheumatism, or lumbago, or the shooting pains of sciatica, apply Zam-Buk.

Mrs. Frances Wyatt, of 25 Guy avenue, Montreal, says: "I have found Zam-Buk most soothing and valuable for rheumatism and stiffness of joints and muscles. I suffered long and acutely from rheumatism, and tried one liniment after another in vain. I also took medicines internally, but it remained for Zam-Buk to effect a cure. "Zam-Buk seemed to penetrate to the very seat of the pains, driving them completely out, and I am now quite cured."

Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for piles, ulcers, cold sores, chapped hands, cuts, burns, scalds, scalp sores, babies' rashes, and all skin injuries and diseases. All druggists and stores, 50c box, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

OLD JEM MACE HAD FINE RECORD

Was Once a World's Champion and Great Bare-Knuckle Fighter.

GRIFFITH THE FALLON OF 1910

Shillington Says the Little Professor Is Only Successor to the Bishop.

Jem Mace, the pugilist, whose death has just been announced, was born in Beeston, in Norfolk, and in his day was one of the greatest of boxers. His first great fight was with Bill Thorpe, whom he beat in 18 rounds. When Tom Sayers retired from the championship in 1860 Mace was regarded as the legitimate successor, but his supremacy was soon challenged by Tom King.

Jem Mace's first big bout was with Hurst, whom he defeated in eight rounds and 40 minutes on Jan. 18, 1861, in London. He then beat Tom King in January, 1862, for $1,000 and the belt. In the same year, on Nov. 26, King defeated Mace in 21 rounds and 38 minutes. King claimed the belt, which he gave up, declining to meet Mace again and Mace claimed the belt.

In 1865 Mace claimed the belt again, and Joe Wormold forfeited it through not agreeing to meet Mace. Then Mace met Joe Goss to a draw for $1,000 and the belt in 1866, and his next important bout was with Baldwin, an American, who drew with Mace for the belt in 1867.

In 1870, Jem Mace beat Tom Allen for the American championship at Hennerville, La., on May 10, in ten rounds, and wound up his brilliant career in 1871 by fighting Joe Cobourn, another American championship aspirant, to a draw for 12 rounds for the championship of America, at St. Louis, on Nov. 30. Mace was considered one of the cleverest bare knuckle performers of his day, until John L. Sullivan came into prominence. He has owned public houses and property in England, but high living and fast friends soon set him downward, and Jem, in his last days received only his pension to keep the wolf from the door.

An old time sport of the Ancient Capital states that many of the facts in the above story are not founded on fact. Mace never fought O' Baldwin, Joe Wormold, who died in Quebec, and who came from Wolverhampton, Eng., fought O' Baldwin to a draw. Mace boxed in the Music Hall (subsequently the Academy of Music) in October, 1871. He then made his second match with Joe Cobourn. The starting point was Erie, Pa., and they fought near Port Dover in May, 1872. The sheriff of the county stopped the fight with the assistance of the local volunteer corps, and whilst the magistrate was reading the riot act to the principals his watch and chain was "pinched" by one of the "fancy." Mace was pre-eminently the finest exponent of boxing prior to James J. Corbett.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY WILL HAVE COACH.

Kingston, Ont., Dec. 1.—It has practically been decided by the Rugby executive of Queen's that a capable coach must be secured for next season. Queen's had a championship team this season, a 14 that was fully equal to that of Varsity, individual, and in some respects better, but lacked proper training.

HERB CLARK MAY PLAY FOR RENFREW.

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—It is announced from Renfrew that Herb Clark, formerly of Toronto, and Steve Vair, both of whom played on the Cobalt team last winter, will be seen in creamery town uniforms this year. It is almost certain that Lindsay, Frank Patrick and Fred Taylor will comprise the defence, while on the forward line they will have Clark, Vair, Rowe, Fraser and Jordan. The first practice is called for Dec. 12.

OTTAWA PLAYERS WITH TEAM THOUGH UNIGNED

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—Although not a man has attached his signature to an Ottawa hockey contract, the indications point to an early settlement of the salary question. There is, of course, considerable speculation as to whom the Players Committee will select, but from present appearances the composition of the team for this season will consist of LeSueur, Lake, Stuart, Shore, Ridpath, Walsh and Kerr, with Horace Gaul, Currie and Nick Bawlf carried as spares. Walter Small, who finished the season with the Ottawas last winter, will be given his release. The initial practice has been called for Dec. 15.

SHRUBB'S BREAKDOWN GAVE GAME BLACK EYE.

New York, Nov. 30.—The Marathon racing game, revived a few weeks ago under auspicious conditions, is in a bad way to-day, as the result of last night's international team race, won by Holmer and Queal, the American team, in the record-breaking time of 2 hours, 2 mins., 16 1-5 secs.

The failure of Alfred Shrubbs, the speedy Englishman, to run to form gave the race a bad color. He and his partner, Wood, were the favorites. Shrubbs, however, appeared in broken-down condition, and ran a miserable race, finally being forced to quit. Shrubbs' performance was hardly in keeping, according to the sports, with his recent race in Boston, when he went 15 miles alone at a fast clip.

Do not throw your worn-out hot-water bag away, but cut it in round or oval pieces and use them as mats put under flower pots.

Harry Griffith is the one and only successor to Mike Fallon, now Bishop of London, who coached the Ottawa College team a decade ago," said Bob Shillington, formerly of Ottawa, but now of Haileybury, after Saturday's game.

Bob was the best organizer of athletes, and could handle football and hockey players with more skill than any other man in Eastern Canada. It was his management that brought Rough Riders up to such a high state of proficiency in the past five years of the present century.

Griffith has football brains; he knows rugby material when he sees it; he develops a player, and he can devise plays that no other coach in Canada or the United States could or would attempt. That was a masterful exhibition of the rules I helped to revise, those college boys gave Saturday, and what makes it all the more interesting to me is the fact it is the first game I have seen under the new rules. If Tigers represent the best style of play that is put up among city teams, then I must confess Ottawa, Montreal, Hamilton, and Argonauts have not advanced any in the last ten years.

"It was a grand struggle, clean, hard fought, and fair. It was quite on a par with the Dominion championship played here in 1897, when Ottawa beat Hamilton 14 to 10. At that game the crowd tore down the fences and the last few minutes were fought in a playing space not quarter the dimensions of the field.

"I take off my hat to Ben Simpson. But for his wonderful kicking Saturday Tigers would have lost 25 or 30 points.

And Bob said the very same thing to the schoolmaster a few minutes after the game.

An Expert Opinion.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—Referee Phil McKenzie has handed out his official statement in regard to the final game between Hamilton and Varsity. His views are as follows: "The better team won. It was the best drilled aggregation I ever saw. The team work was perfect; there were no fumbles behind the line during the game and they handled the pigskin at times like a baseball. They seemed to take great chances from an outside view, and yet were not, as the backs were undoubtedly sure of themselves and had perfect confidence in each other. There was nothing to choose between the backs—Maynard and Dixon were as good as Gall, with the light line held heavier Hamilton line well. The game was clean and hard, and there was no dirty play and no dispute of decision by Varsity and only in one or two instances by Hamilton. I warned Isbester repeatedly for disputing decisions before ruling him off. Simpson played a grand game, and bore the brunt of the work on the back division. He ran well and stood a lot of hard tackles, especially in the last half. The Hamilton team was in the game at all stages, especially in the third quarter, but lacked the team play and the finished style of Varsity. All credit is due to Coach Griffiths. One thing I want to say, and that is, too much betting does the game harm, and gives partisans distorted ideas as to the merits of the play. A man with money on the game thinks of that first and the game itself is a secondary consideration and is judged from a biased standpoint. It is thought Isbester might have been used oftener on line backs for he is a hard man to bring down, as he has great speed and weight. There was one delay only, of about five minutes, due to the crowd. The police were of little assistance. Mr. J. B. McArthur made an able umpire and an excellent assistant."

DONALD MACDONALD WON FEATURE AT JACKSONVILLE.

Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 1.—Donald Macdonald, favorite in the betting, jumped into the lead at the fall of the flag in the feature event to-day and after a hot fight through the stretch beat out Master Robert by a neck.

AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICERS ENTERTAINED.

London, Dec. 1.—Rear Admiral Seaton Schroeder, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Atlantic fleet, Rear Admiral Jos. B. Murdock, commander of the third division and the officers of the American battleships, with their wives were the guests at dinner of Ambassador and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid at Dorchester House to-night. A distinguished company of British naval officers and American residents in London were invited to meet the visitors, the guests including Admiral Sir Edward Hobart Seymour, Admiral Sir Arthur Knyvet Wilson and Sir John and Lady Lister-Kaye.

CREW OF WRECKED ESSEL PICKED UP.

London, Dec. 1.—The steamer British Sun, from Port Arthur, Tex., Nov. 10th, for Portland, passed the Lizard to-night and signalled: "Have the crew of the American schooner Cox and Green, of Boston, aboard. She foundered in 39-59. Crew all well." The American schooner Cox and Green, Captain Rickson, sailed from Baltimore Nov. 8th for Bath, Me. She was of about 500 tons. She carried a crew of seven and was built at Newburyport, Mass., in 1889.

PARI-MUTEL AT WOODBINE

Will Follow the System in Vogue at Louisville and Latonia

Toronto, Dec. 1.—The Ontario Jockey Club's adoption of the Pari-mutuel system of betting at the Woodbine meeting next spring will follow the system used at Louisville and Latonia. At Louisville the machines were placed at as high as $25 a ticket and as low as $2, and that will probably be the price at the Woodbine meet. There will be no pool betting or combination machines. The Australian totalisator, which sums up the entire wagering in the ring at each price on one big machine, letting the public know at a glance what each horse is paying at any time during the betting, will not likely be installed just yet, though in the near future it may be. Plans are being prepared for the new sheds for the machines. The old betting ring will be torn down at once and work on the new building will be begun during the winter, so as to have everything in readiness for the May meet.

In a Handicap Match—Tom Flanagan Lays a Thousand Dollars.

Tom Flanagan has more queer ideas in his head than a water melon has seeds. Last night he spent two bones on a trip to Hamilton, carrying a thousand simoleons with him. He fussed around Hamilton Armories, where Geo. Hackenschmidt, the Russian Lion, was toying with Rory O'Moore, the Irish champion, and when Hack's manager made his famous "$1,000 that I throw any three men in an hour" challenge Thomas, of Toronto, separated his wad from his jeans and cried, "Halt, the cheelid's in London," or words to that effect. Anyway, Tom made the Hack crowd scatter and admit they hadn't a "thou" celskins handy, but they invited Tom to let go the double Nelson he had on the wad and give them a chance to make good. The Irishman turned it over to Billy of the Clan Carrill, and there it lies awaiting the Hack coin.

Who will Tom secure to try and grab off the $1000?

Well Yankee Rogers is one, and DeRiaz, the French Swiss, is said to be another, but the other is said to be none less than Jack Johnson.

The Big Smoke?

Ye! the Big Black!

Flanagan does not say anything, but Johnson is coming to town in a few days to see Flanagan, and this may be the secret of the visit.

What chance would Johnson have? Frankly, he wouldn't have much, if experience counts. He is a big, powerful fellow, and the ease with which he pinned Jeffries' arms to his sides and shoved him around at Reno on July 4 was an eye-opener, but beyond some mauling around during his training he has not done any wrestling. In training he threw all his partners all over the room.

"While I have not named Johnson as one of the three, it wouldn't be out of the way," said Flanagan to-day. "It would take Hackenschmidt ten minutes to catch Johnson and bring him to the mat, and if it takes him another five to put him down, surely Rogers and DeRiaz could last the other 45 between them. I'll get three to beat Hack if they are to be found in America."

Flanagan wouldn't say where he would pull the match, but it is shrewdly suspected that it would be here.

Hackenschmidt threw O'Moore in Hamilton in '74 minutes, and repeated in five minutes.

ARGENTINE AND BOLIVIA ARE FRIENDS AGAIN.

Buenos Ayres, Dec. 1.—It is announced that friendly relations will be re-established between the Argentine Republic and Bolivia, following negotiations which have been going on between Gen. Jose Pando, ex-President of Bolivia, and the Argentine Government. The trouble between the two countries arose out of resentment, over the verdict of Argentina as arbitrator in the Peru-Bolivia boundary dispute.

GREEK BAND ATTACKS A TURKISH COLUMN.

Frankfort-on-the-Main; Germany, Dec. 1.—A despatch to the Frankfort Zeitung from Soloniki, European Turkey, says that a Greek band attacked a column of Turkish troops near Santiquaranta, mortally wounding three of them. A Turkish company patrolling the region near Monastir fell into an ambush arranged by the Greeks, three of the Turks being killed and one wounded. Two Greeks were killed.

The Supreme Tonic

The best evidence of the unique properties of

is to be found in the fact that the reputation which it enjoys is mainly due to the spontaneous personal testimony of many prominent members of the Medical Profession, who having experienced its remarkable energising powers have recommended it to their patients.

Dr. L. ARTHUR DEACON, M.B., B.A., etc. Flamboro Centre, Ont., says: "With regard to Wilson's Invalids' Port Wine let me say that it is in reality 'a big bracing tonic.' Its generous action in debility and general convalescence is unsurpassable. I thank you very much for having brought it to my notice."

Dr. A. COWAN MOFFATT, Member Pharmaceutical Society of N. B., Kilburn, N. B., says: "I have used Wilson's Invalids' Port, it is certainly THE BEST of tonic wines, and I have much pleasure in prescribing it."

Dr. ROBERT HANLEY, 130 Wellington Street, Kingston, Ont., says: "I recommend 'Wilson's Invalids' Port' to all my patients."

FORMER WAR CORRESPONDENT

Picked Up on the Streets of Washington and Dies— Was a Canadian.

Washington, Dec. 1.—Picked up on the street five weeks ago in an exhausted condition, Emil Dumais, 73 years old, once war correspondent in India and South Africa for the London Times, died to-day at a local hospital. He kept his identity a secret until the last moments of his life. He had stopped here on his way to Florida, where he hoped to recuperate from general ill-health.

Dumais has for years been interested in agricultural problems, being the founder of the Manitoba Agricultural College, and his purpose here was to study the methods of the Department of Agriculture. He was a graduate of the University of Toronto.

After achieving a reputation for his work in India, he went to South Africa, where he became a personal acquaintance of Oom Paul Kruger. In recent years he had been devoting himself to agricultural studies exclusively. His only surviving relative is Mrs. Aurelia Chartier, wife of the postmaster of Lazare, Manitoba, who was notified of the death of her brother, and will reach here in a few days to take charge of the body.

Topics of the Day

THE MILITARY SYSTEM

CANADA SHOULD HAVE.

Toronto Mail: It is a pity that General Sir John French was not called upon to express an expert opinion on universal military service as applied to Canada. The volunteer system at present in force is no doubt susceptible of improvement, and if the General's recommendations are followed it will be improved. Nevertheless, it can never be as good as the system they have had in Switzerland for many years, or the system they have recently adopted in Australia and New Zealand, where every man and boy will be taught to defend his country, should need arrive. Of our military system it might be said, as it was said of a revolver in the Western States in the old days, "You may not need it for years; but when you do need it you will need it badly." Our volunteers have been needed more than once in Canada's history, and they have risen to the occasion, but to say that the present system is as good as the Australian system is to say that 10,000 trained men and a patriotic mob of 690,000 is as good as an army of a million trained men.

Lieut.-Col. Hamilton Merritt delivered an address on Monday night, in which he called attention to the fact that for a century and more there was practically universal military service in Canada, designed by the French to protect themselves from the Indians, and later applied with admirable effect to the defence of Quebec against the Americans. He believed that the dropping of the old Canadian militia laws and the substitution of the volunteer system was a deplorable blunder. Not only was the effective fighting force of the country weakened, but the discipline and self-respect of the men was impaired. The work of defending this country ceased to be every man's job and was left to the paid regulars, or the few enthusiasts who enrolled themselves as volunteers. While as late as 1867 the militia was forced to turn out once a year on muster day, the old manly, martial spirit had departed, and only the fear of a fine caused the men to appear. When their names were called, such responses as "Sitting on the fence" or "Chewing a quid of tobacco" were often returned. The militia had become a mob.

Colonel Merritt finds an analogy between the old Canadian system and then he figures out what it would mean if Canada 322 areas, 525 (staff corps) permanent instructional officers (graduates of the military college), and some 600 warrant and N.C.O.'s (instead of the 4,834 officers and men in the permanent corps as at present). There would be a peace establishment of some 120,000 trained fighting men (from our 2,000,000 males of a fighting age in Canada, 336 guns, and a cost in the seventh year (including cost of military college) of less than fourteen million dollars. The war establishment, of course, would be the total male population of Canada of fighting age, estimated at 2,000,000. The fact that Canada could at a crisis put two million men in the field, armed with modern weapons, accustomed to their use, and to military manoeuvring, would be the best guarantee on earth that there would never arise need of their services.

In the report he was commissioned to make to the Government of the Commonwealth, Lord Kitchener remarked:—"The first and imperative principle for the enrolment and maintenance of these men as an efficient (citizen) force is that the nation as a whole take a pride in its defenders, insist upon the organization being real and designed for war purposes only, and provide the means for properly educating, training and equipping their officers and men. The second principle for a successful (citizen) force is a complement of the first. The force must be an integral portion of the national life. The citizens should be brought up from boyhood to look forward to the day when he will be enrolled as fit to defend his country; and he should be accustomed to practise those habits of self-denial, of devotion and of emulation of his duty, or reticence, and of prompt obedience to lawful authority, which are essential to the formation of patriotic and efficient citizen soldiers."

It will be generally admitted that in time of war the system of universal, patriotic military service would be the very

MADE ATTACK UPON BISHOP

Speaker at Empire Club Luncheon Made a Somewhat Startling Address.

Toronto, Dec. 1.—Notwithstanding a protest from Mr. Featherstonhaugh that he was getting personal, and the fact that sitting next to him was Bishop Sweeney, Mr. Arthur Hawke, the well-known essayist, severely attacked the Bishop of Niagara at this afternoon's Empire Club luncheon. "Last week," said Mr. Hawke, "the Bishop of Niagara, in speaking upon the political situation in Great Britain said the suffragettes were a class upon whom rats should be set. I venture to think," he remarked, with emphasis, "there is not a man in this room who would dream of turning a rat on a woman who was convicted of murder. When we hear those whose duty it is to be charitable to the weak and to be kind, using language of that sort about the political situation, it just illustrates how easy it may be to talk with authority, but absolutely without knowledge.

"The bishop also said," continued Mr. Hawke, "that the Socialist Laborites were the rudest, roughest and most ruthless gang that could possibly be collected. He said they were the most disreputable of all tyrants. All I can say in answer to that is that it will become one who follows in the footsteps of the Holy Nazarene. He evidently does not understand the lesson which history teaches us. If he did he would know that the political prosperity which is enjoyed in Great Britain is the result of subjects being placed before the judgment of the people. Mr. Arthur Balfour will tell the bishop of Niagara that the labor party in the House of Commons are as good a crowd as are to be found in that Assembly."

Mr. Hawke also criticised the statements made by the Bishop on the subject of the Irish question, and he remarked: "Such men might well occupy themselves in trying to cure the ills in their own household before dabbling in matters on the other side."

TARIFF REFORM STILL A CHIEF PLANK

In the Programme of the Unionist Party, Says Balfour in Speech.

London, Dec. 1.—There is a possibility of an unlooked-for result in the attempt of A. J. Balfour, the Opposition leader, to remove tariff reform from the immediate field of play. The question looms up as eager as ever in the campaign, inasmuch so that Mr. Balfour, himself, in a speech at Reading, was fain to explain that his party had not altered its view on this subject and that tariff reform was still a chief plank in the party's constructive policy; but, he explained, the Unionists need to have the formal and the explicit consent of the people thereto. The policy of referendum, he said, was consistent with the true idea of popular government.

The fact that Mr. Balfour's pronouncement, Nov. 29, that he was willing to submit tariff reform to a referendum, has rather sundered than knit his party, and supplied the Liberals with another effective argument against tariff reform, namely, that Mr. Balfour has been compelled to side track it.

The interest in the speeches to-night centered in Premier Asquith's reply to the Opposition leader. This was delivered at a great meeting at Wolverhampton. The Premier said: "We are living in times of rapid movement, when it is a wonder to wake in the morning and not find some fresh part of the Constitution reconstructed."

He described Mr. Balfour's turn about face on the questions of the reform of the House of Lords and tariff reform as unique—almost indecent. He said he could not imagine a greater caricature of the referendum known in putting a few abstract questions to the people without concrete embodiment of their proposals. If anyone but a sane and responsible statesman had contemplated such a scheme he would be called a mad man.

After a study of the workings of the referendum in foreign countries, the Premier continued, he had arrived at the conclusion that "I had proved a most unsatisfactory and disappointing method of ascertaining public opinion."

Winston Spencer Churchill, the Home Secretary, displays untiring energy. He addressed several meetings at Dundee to-night and will deliver two speeches at Cheshire to-morrow. From there he will go by special train to Grimsby, where he will speak at midnight, replying to a speech which Mr. Balfour will make earlier in the evening. In order to ascertain the nature of Mr. Balfour's address, special relays of motor cars will convey a verbatim report of it to the Home Secretary in Sheffield, enabling him to study the address on the train. After his speech at Grimsby, Mr. Churchill will return to Manchester, where he will speak on Saturday afternoon. He will go from there to Chester for another Liberal demonstration on Saturday night—a heavy 24 hours' programme. The Home Secretary will have a special guard of detectives against suffragists' attention.

TYPHOID FEVER IN THE LUMBER CAMPS.

Ottawa, Dec. 1.—If the reports brought to Hull by shantymen be true, the conditions in the lumber camps, near Whiteville, and also up the Gatineau, are more alarming than at first thought. It is rumored that typhoid fever and scarlet fever are prevalent and even small-pox is in evidence. Several of the camps are in quarantine and all steps are being taken to prevent further outbreaks.

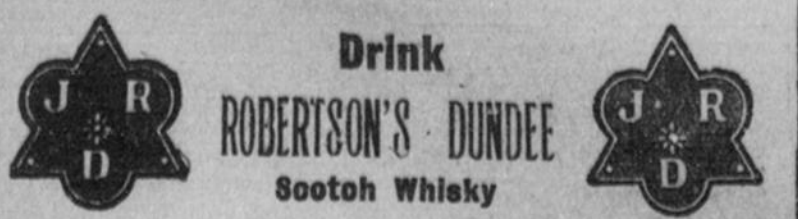

ALLEGED CHILD SLAYER'S BLASPHEMOUS PLEA.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 1.—"If I killed the little girl no one saw me but God, and he can't come down and testify." With the testimony of Chief of Detectives Carey of Louisville that Jos. Wendling had made the foregoing statement immediately after his arrest in San Francisco, the prosecution in the trial of Wendling, who is charged with having murdered 8-year-old Alma Kellner, rested its case to-day. The defense will offer its opening statement to-morrow.

INSURGENTS ALSO MAKE TROUBLE IN PERU.

Lima, Peru, Dec. 1.—An insurgent attack on Ferrinayo, in the Department of Lambayogue, has been repulsed by government troops. The rebels were dispersed. Many on both sides were killed.

OUR NEIGHBOR'S GENTLE SARCASM.

"Canada is doing well these days," says Financial America, of New York. "Indeed, she has done remarkably well in the 43 years of her united existence, starting from the year 1867, the date of Confederation. And it was potentially evident at the Canadian gathering in the Hotel Astor, the other night, that this lusty youngster among the nations of the world is duly impressed with her own importance. 'Remember,' said one of the speakers, 'that Canada has suddenly emerged from the colonial stage and now feels stirring in her blood the sense of national dignity and national responsibility.' There is nothing backward about this sense, either; for another speaker had no hesitation in stating that the day was not distant when Canada would give a Prime Minister to the British Empire."

"As a natural sequence, we were prepared for the rather unnecessary declaration that the annexation of Canada by this country was a dead project. We are not aware of the existence of any pronounced desire either on the part of the sober-minded people or of the Government of the United States to separate the Snow Lady from the British Empire and install her under the American flag, thus cutting off, in the bloom of her youth, her expectation of giving Great Britain a future Prime Minister. Far be it from us to harbor a thought of interfering with such an ennobling, such a scintillating prospect, the very thought of which must quicken afresh our neighbor's sense of national dignity and national responsibility. What have we to offer by way of recompense to the budding statesman, whom annexation might ruthlessly deprive of his hauberk? Nothing, absolutely nothing."

"It is doubtless a good thing for Canada that she feels stirring in her blood a sense of national dignity and national responsibility. Youth will be served, and surely no one will deny a country, constructively 43 years old, the privilege of expressing its confidence in itself, its independence, and its early recognition of greatness in store for it. It is beside the question, we suppose, to point out to Canada that moderation is a serviceable constituent in the make-up of a nation, as well as in that of an individual; and that in extolling her own achievements and aims it was mere redundancy to tell us she would neither join our republic nor follow our flag, and that her 'dominant and most alluring sentiment' was hostility to American contentment. The conclusion was inevitable after learning of Canada's national pulsations; and, if

NOW FOUR WOMEN IN.

Four women are now in the Eighteenth Assembly of Colorado, since the recent election, Alma Lafferty having been the only one at the time. Others elected from Denver were Louise U. Jones and Louise M. Kerwin for the House of Representatives on the Democratic ticket, and Agnes Riddio, a Republican elected from the outside counties. Mrs. Lafferty was also re-elected.

WHAT TEXAS MOTHERS WANT

At a recent congress of mothers held in Austin, Texas, a law was advocated that will require a certificate of good health from each person contemplating marriage, the certificate to be signed by two reputable physicians. Other things that the mothers of Texas asked were that the laws prohibiting the sale of tobacco to children under 16 be enforced and that picture shows be regulated.

FOREIGN TRADE OF UNITED KINGDOM.

The foreign trade of the United Kingdom in the year that has just ended resulted in totals of $3,120,000,000 for imports, and $1,800,000,000 for exports. This was an increase over the preceding year in both the inward and outward trade, but at the same time the totals were still below the record figures of 1907, when imports reached $3,230,000,000 in value and exports $2,080,000,000.

In this country as in all other civilized countries it is the majority of the day that rules. Yet in Ireland we have a country where four-fifths of the population are being and have been governed for over a century past by the remaining fifth; surely fair play, of which we hear so much in Britain, calls on everyone vaunting this attribute, and most Unionists claim their share of it, to give Ireland a trial at self-government. It is no clamor for a passing fad, it is the clamor of years from the great majority of the people, in face of untold opposition, demanding what is no more than their rights. Surely fair play should at least entitle them to a trial.

If any Unionist is afraid of the ultimate separation of the nations comprising the United Kingdom, harboring an enemy at Britain's doors and all other such bogeys as they are in the habit of conjuring up and which arguments they back up, as I have often heard them do, with the statement that Redmond has one story of his demands for the British and Canadian public and another for the American public, let him read Redmond's article in the American public in McClure's October Magazine, which will enlighten them on the subject and moreover show that the Irish leader's utterances to the public, whether Irish, British, Canadian or American, are consistent.

Do our Canadian Unionists imagine that the Unionist party in Britain run their elections without funds; if so they are sadly mistaken, and no fair minded man will say that it is any more disgraceful to collect funds openly in the light of the day for political purposes as John Redmond does than to collect funds to oppose these ideas, figuratively speaking, in the dead of night by selling peppercorns and titles of successful brewers and tradespeople as the Unionists did for years.

Thanking you for the space given to this letter.

Correspondence.
HOME RULE.
To the Editor of the Chronicle:
Sir,—It is highly entertaining to anyone interested in the coming general election in Great Britain and Ireland to read the despatch of the 28th in your paper, reporting the Unionist meeting recently held in Belfast.
Living in Canada under a Home Rule Government we find that while our most prominent and enlightened public men do not hesitate to show their sympathy with the struggle of the Irish to secure Home Government for themselves by constitutional means, there is also a large section of the educated classes of this country posing as Unionists, though hardly knowing why, and generally treating as disloyal all who think otherwise. This class are apt to deride the hard fight Redmond and his colleagues have to put up and openly holds to scorn the pilgrimages they make to Canada and America to collect funds for their struggle, which is not one of arming the masses or of preaching open resistance to the law, but one of trying to gain their ends by constitutional means.
It would be interesting to know what our Canadian Unionists think of the behavior of their brother Unionists in Ireland to-day preaching open rebellion to constituted authority, as Home Rule would be if it passes, and moreover openly subscribing funds for armed resistance. Of Lord Londonderry's other remarks trying to stir up the religious side of the question they are not even worthy of contempt.
Let us imagine the leaders of the Home Rule movement preaching these means to their followers as the proper way of obtaining their end. What a howl would go up, what troops would be hurried across the channel, and yet I warrant these utterances of Lord Londonderry, foolish as they are, will stir no fear in the breasts of the British, for under his present title of Londonderry he hides his name of Castlereagh, that of his ancestor who sold the Irish nation to the British in 1800, and men of Castlereagh's stamp were better at bribing than fighting.

ACCIDENT TO VISITOR TO THE CITY.
Mr. C. J. Oakley, of Toronto, who is a guest at the Chateau Frontenac, was driving in a sleigh on St. John, near Palace street, yesterday afternoon, when he was struck on the head by a sign which fell from an electric car. He was attended to by Dr. Lemieux and is now confined to his room at the Chateau.

KATHLEEN PARLOW.
The marvelously gifted young Canadian virtuoso, who has just toured the European Continent, Miss Kathleen Parlow, violinist, made her first appearance in American yesterday evening in New York, where she performed a concerto with the Russian Symphony Orchestra at Carnegie Hall. An unusual interest is manifested in seeing and hearing Miss Kathleen Parlow, the young Canadian girl who has captured the musical centres of Europe, and whose wonderful genius the entire European press eulogizes in glowing language. The first appearance of Miss Parlow on Canadian soil will be next Monday evening at Loyola Hall. Miss Parlow is already, young as she is, a shining star in the musical world, of whom every thoughtful Canadian citizen should be proud.

DECREASE IN THE ENGLISH POPULATION.
Sherbrooke, Que., Dec. 1.—The French-speaking population is increasing and the English-speaking decreasing in the Eastern Townships. This was shown very conclusively at Bedford, when the School Commissioner of the Townships sold three buildings that had formerly been used as English-speaking schools. The reason for disposing of them was that there were no scholars. The English-speaking farmers are selling out to the French and going west. The section of the township referred to was formerly wholly occupied by English-speaking people.

CANADA'S CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION.
Canada's greatest Christmas celebration this year will be The Christmas Number of The Standard of Montreal. To say that the people are delighted with this wonderful souvenir is to put the matter very mildly. From coast to coast, from the United States and from the Continent the orders are pouring in, and it is now considered impossible that the thirty immense presses now roaring ahead full speed can overtake the demand. Nearly every dealer has hastened to double and some to treble his order as soon as he saw the number. The Christmas number of The Standard gives Canadians a chance to rejoice their friends at a distance by sending them a really fine Christmas souvenir on a scale never before attempted in Canada. There is now such a rush on for it that thousands of Canadians are bound to be disappointed in not being able to procure it.

FATHER IDENTIFIED DEAD BODY OF SON.
Philadelphia, Dec. 1.—"That is my boy," declared Leon Wiener, of Roxbury, Mass., to-night, when he viewed the body in the morgue of the man who shot Special Policeman Barnett in a pistol duel the night of November 28th, in which he himself met death. Barnett also died from his injury. Hyman Wiener was the dead man's name. He left his home in Roxbury about two months ago. He was 26 years old and had served two terms in the Reformatory and a term in the House of Correction in Boston, it is stated. The identification helps to clear a mystery on which the police force of this city has been working ever since the double killing.

TWO EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT IN VICTORIA, B.C.
Victoria, B.C., Dec. 1.—Two sharp, well-defined earthquake shocks startled Victorians a few minutes before midnight. In the residences of the southern portion of the city the disturbances were so severe as to make a clatter of everything movable. No damage is reported.

LADY FRIENDS OF THE DUMB ANIMALS
Held a Most Successful and Enjoyable Dance at Chateau Frontenac.

The women's branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals were the hostesses at a most successful ball given last evening at the Chateau Frontenac, which was attended by about 200 guests of the elite of Quebec society. Special preparations had been made by Mr. Hutchison, the popular manager of the Chateau, for the entertainment of the guests, and dancing was kept up until an early hour this morning. As the guests entered the ball room they were received by Mesdames M. Joseph and Oscar Pelletier, who at once made everybody feel at home. The decorations of the ball room were exceptionally fine, while the music was served at midnight. The culinary department of the Chateau for this occasion had surpassed themselves and the chief table contained a number of pieces de resistance, consisting of a number of animals, the like of which had never been seen in this city. The music was furnished by the Chateau Orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. Herbert Spencer, one of the principal items performed being a waltz—"Reminiscences of the Chateau"—composed by Mr. Spencer.

The guests retired at an early hour this morning, everybody highly pleased with the success of the evening's entertainment.
