

The Huntingdon Gleaner

THE LEADING ADVERTISING MEDIUM OF THE DISTRICT OF BEAUHARNOIS

HUNTINGDON, QUE., WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 6TH., 1929.

SIXTY-SEVENTH YEAR

EIGHT PAGES

LAYMAN'S BANQUET HELD IN HUNTINGDON UNITED CHURCH

Meeting Attended by Upwards of One Hundred United Churchmen of District—Guy Tombs Gives Impressive Address.

THREE SPECIAL SPEAKERS ON PROGRAM.

Rev. E. Leslie Pidgeon, D.D., Speaks on "The Layman's Responsibility in Supporting the Enterprises of the Church."

For the first time in the history of the Huntingdon United Church a layman's banquet was held in the Lecture Room on Monday evening and was catered to by the Women's Auxiliary. The meeting was not a local gathering, but one made up of 100 men from the various United Churches in this District. A large number of men were present from St. Paul's Church, Ormstown; Howick, Franklin, Athelstan, Kensington, Valleyfield, Dundee, as well as Huntingdon United Churches. The pastors of these various congregations were all present, including the Rev. T. S. St. Aubin, who has been super-annuated and now residing in Valleyfield.

The purpose of the meeting was to hear three special speakers, who delivered three excellent addresses, all of which led up to the advisability and necessity of contributing towards the missionary and maintenance fund of the United Church.

Mr. Guy Tombs of Montreal, is favorably known to the United Church statisticians and in his opening remarks he emphasized the magnitude of the Dominion, and how we led in the production of so many materials. We have here a big population that needs the church, but along with that the church has what might be considered an equally as great a task in creating a greater interest in church work amongst the people who are to attend our United Churches in Canada.

Mr. Tombs wended his way into the heart of his subject, "The Every Person Canvass." Mr. Tombs address on this subject is so complete and will be beneficial not only to church work but for any campaign work that might be carried on here in the future; we are therefore reproducing it in full.

"The Every Person Canvass." Purpose: An organized effort to have a representative of the local Congregation visit and personally interview every household and every individual associated with it in order that the co-operation of every possible contributor be secured for local support and for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund of our Church.

Preparation: Begin early. Use the special literature which may be had on application. See that it is carefully and systematically distributed. Place some plan to place "The Record and Missionary Review" in every home. Arrange for adequate presentation of the claims of the work—local, national and world-wide—from the pulpit.

The National M. & M. Committee suggests: March, Foreign Missions. April, Evangelism & Soc. Ser. May, Education. June, Pension Fund. September, Religious Education. October, Home Missions. November, Missionary & Maintenance Fund, with special reference to Christian Stewardship, Proportional and Systematic Giving and the Every Person Canvass.

The Annual Every Person Canvass is absolutely essential to the success of the Budget Plan of our Church. It should be planned to take place about the middle of November—not later. It should be a joint canvass for the support of the local church and for the enterprises represented in the M. & M. Fund. It should be for the two-fold purpose of closing successfully the current year and underwriting by promises for weekly or monthly offerings the obligations of the ensuing year.

As early as possible in October the Official Board should appoint a strong and active Canvass Committee. What's everybody's business is nobody's business. This Committee should be composed of representatives of the Session, the Stewards (Managers), the Missionary Committee, and the various organizations interested. This Committee should go to work (Continued on page 5.)

TWO WOMEN INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

Malone Automobile Ditched on Highway Between Newman's And Anderson's.

Mrs. Raoul Robideau and Mrs. W. J. Fayette, of Malone, were badly injured when Mrs. Robideau's car skidded on the wet macadam, a few miles above town on the highway at the point of junction of the new and old roads between Newman's and Anderson's and crashed into a telephone pole early Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Robideau received a fractured collarbone and bruises, while Mrs. Fayette was badly shaken up and bruised. They were brought to town and medical aid rendered while word was sent to their respective husbands. Mr. Robideau and Mr. Fayette, accompanied by Dr. A. L. Rust, motored to the scene of the crash and took the injured women to Malone.

Mrs. Robideau said she and Mrs. Fayette were on their way to Valleyfield in their sedan to get a fur coat which was being repaired by one of the furriers there. Mrs. Robideau applied the brakes on car quickly, causing the machine to skid on the rain drenched highway. The machine went into a ditch and collided with a telephone pole.

The Robideau sedan was badly damaged.

ELGIN SUPPER PROCEEDS $150.

Presbyterian Church of Elgin Maintains its High Standard For Harvest Supper.

The Roast Chicken Supper held in the basement of the Elgin Presbyterian Church on Friday evening was a decided success in every way. The attendance of people was exceptionally large and the programme, both during and after the serving of the supper, was enjoyed by all. Much credit is due the Huntingdon people, who with Miss Evelyn Purcell, as pianist contributed the greater part of the programme. Rev. J. B. Maclean, D.D., in his congenial form spoke a few words of appreciation. Total proceeds $149.70.

HUNTINGDON

Profit in Timber Growing. Since the last issue of the Gleaner we have heard of a farmer who owned a wood lot on the Gore, who at one time offered the 50 acre lot for sale at $1200. The wood lot was not sold for this amount. The owner then decided to sell the wood off and he sold the 35 acres and for this section received $1300. He is retaining the 12 acres and is now intending to reforest 50 acres of land under the Department of Lands and Forest regulations. Farmers who have acreage to reforest would do well to advise either Arthur Taylor or Adam L. Sellar who will advise the Department of Lands and Forests accordingly.

Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins and little son of North Lawrence, N. Y., were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hunter, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith of Burke, N. Y., were Sunday guests at the Hunter home.

Miss Annette Pariseau of Rigaud, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Fournier.

Miss Cecile Trotter, of Alexandria, Ont., is spending a few days with her friend Miss Therese Valle.

Miss Carmen Lefebvre has returned from Quebec City after spending two weeks holidays, the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Hebert, Turnbull Apartments.

Miss Laurette Robert, of Montreal, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Leblanc.

A happy reunion took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Leroux, when their son, Olivier Leroux, wife and family from Ironsides, Quebec, Department, came to visit. Mr. Leroux is to be a partner with his father in the barber shop. Among those from a distance who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Leroux, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Leroux and sons Roland and Maurice, of Montreal.

Mrs. Wm. McCartney is visiting friends in Burlington, Vt. this week.

Miss Isabel McKee, of Havelock, spent Sunday with her friend Miss Edna Harrigan.

AIDS TO BETTER HOUSEKEEPING
Valuable Material and Valuable Time Often Wasted by Wrong Cooking Utensils.

The right tool for the right purpose is no less necessary in cake baking than in carpentering, piano tuning, or any skilled trade. Valuable material and more valuable time are often wasted by baking a good cake in the wrong pan.

Sizes are important. Do you like a large muffin or cup cake with a soft centre, a shallow cup cake with a crisp or a small, deep cake which is crispier than the large one and softer in the centre than the shallow one?

For baking thin sheets of jelly roll, chocolate, chocolate brownie, and the like, a shallow pan is much more convenient than a deep one of the other requisite dimension. These, again, will be governed by the size of your recipe and the size of your oven, or space in the oven. When the oven for free passage of air currents. The combination pans with the detachable rims may be had in two sizes, 2 1/2 inches deep and either 9 or 10 inches in diameter. When the raised bottom is used, the inverted cake has a hollow centre which may be filled with fruit or with filling and whipped cream. The tube inset is used for fruit cake, angel-food, or sponge cake. It is used for loaf cake. It will make it easier to bake the cake through to the centre and will shorten the time of baking. The plain bottom is used for coffee cake, apple cake, cottage pudding, Washington pie, or for thick layers of cake.

Angel-cake or sponge cake pans should not be used for other purposes. They should be so constructed that the pan can be inverted and the cake allowed to hang by its own weight.

Layer cake pans with detachable bottoms save a considerable amount of both worry and disappointment. Small individual molds add zest to simple desserts and cakes. Some are ample in size for a serving of fruit or cottage pudding, while small ones offer a dainty morsel for afternoon tea or for service with ice-cream or blanc mange.

Loaf pans, shallow pans, and custard cups of heat-proof glass are all suitable for baking cake. Cottage pudding or sponge cake, to be served with a sauce, makes a generous and attractive serving if baked in the custard cups. Ginger bread to be used with whipped cream and cheese as dessert can be served at the table if baked in the shallow glass pan.

Travellers in Edinburgh can now see the house where Walter Scott met Robert Burns in 1787. Scott was a boy of 15, and he little realized that his name would be linked with Burns' as a great native genius of Scotland. Burns' house was at 477 Baxter's Close.

ST. ANICET
Miss Cecile Leduc spent the week-end at the home of her parents in St. Anicet.

"If ye break faith with us who die

--- we shall not sleep though poppies grow in Flanders' Fields."

Eleven years . . . more than a decade, though it hardly seems that long . . . have passed since that memorable morning of November 11th., 1918, when Victory of the great Allied Armies silenced the guns on European battle fronts. 'Twas the day that set the entire civilized world to bursting with joyous thanksgiving. Nothing like it had been experienced since "the morning the stars sang together and the Saviour of mankind lay in a manger at Bethlehem."

Time has erased the enmity of the warring nations . . . Peace and Progress the scars of torn battlefields. But there is one thing Time can never expunge. And that is the memory of these "crosses, row on row" and "growing poppies" under which lie the heroes who made the Supreme Sacrifice for love of country and their fellow man! Those brave lads who, in the prime of life, went forth with a smile and gladly laid down their all for World Freedom and Humanity. To them is due our reverence.

W. M. S. THANK OFFERING $140.

Mrs. Logan, President of Montreal Presbyterian Speaks to W.M.S.

Wednesday, Oct. 30th, the members of the United Church W. M. S. gathered in the Lecture Room of their church for their annual Thankoffering Service. Members from Auxiliaries in Kensington, Athelstan, Brookside, and Franklin, also came to hear Mrs. Logan and Mr. Miller and Rev. J. Webster and daughter filled out the gathering. Mrs. Logan is President of the Montreal Presbyterian and before the Union belonged to the American Pres. Church. Her subject was "Experiences of a President with Co-workers, specially with those passing through Montreal this year, and with the Missions in Montreal. Part of a letter was read from Miss Mitchell, Field Secretary, who is now in Newfoundland, and one from Miss B. McNaughton in China. Devotions, singing, recitations, treasurer's statement of our responsibility and her appraisal of our ability to meet it was followed by the collection which amounted to $140. A social half hour followed.

MISS ISABEL DODDS BLIND WORKER, DIES
A great loss has been suffered by the blind people of the Montreal Association for the Blind by the death, which occurred Tuesday of Miss Isabel Dodds. She was admitted as a pupil of the school of the Montreal Association for the Blind when that organization was opened in October, 1912, and after graduating from the school in 1924 filled the position of teacher in the junior department for four years. For the past year and a half she served as home teacher, visiting the unemployed, the aged and the infirm blind in their homes teaching them the Braille system of reading and writing, also some light occupation to pass the long hours. Miss Dodds possessed a sweet voice and often was called upon to give vocal selections in various churches, both in Montreal and outside the city, and also at entertainments given by the school.

At the curlers bonspiel held each year her songs were always welcomed. Recently Miss Dodds made several records of popular songs.

Miss Dodds has visited in Huntingdon on various occasions and is remembered as the girl with such a sweet voice.

OUR AUTOBIOGRAPHY
Our lives are lived by days, not years. The days are our autobiography; they are the leaves folded back each night in the great volume which we write by our words, our thoughts, our deeds. Each day takes us not newly, but is a continued story. It finds us what yesterday left us; and as we go on living, each day is telling to every other day truths about us, showing the kind of being that is to be handed on to it, making of us something either better or worse, as we decide.—Dorothy Dix Forges.

Hon. Mr. Robb's Condition Shows Good Improvement

According to a telephone message received this morning from R. Watson Sellar we are pleased to report that Mr. Robb's condition continues to improve. Mr. Robb showed good improvement on Tuesday and continues to hold the advantage gained.

ROBSON

Mrs. Whiteside Kearns is enjoying a couple of weeks vacation with her daughters in Montreal.

Mrs. John L. Robson spent Sunday with her friend, Mrs. Chauncey Humphrey, of Moers.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Blair and Mr. and Mrs. T. Cleland visited friends in Plattsburgh on Sunday. Mr. Cleland visited his brother, Mr. Albert Cleland of Moores Forks, who is a patient in the hospital there. Mr. Cleland is doing as well as can be expected since his recent operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gale and family of Valcour, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Sample. Sorry to hear Mrs. Gale is quite poorly.

Mr. W. H. Stewart, Mrs. M. Stewart, Miss Elleda Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Beattie and Miss Ella visited friends in Ormstown on Sunday. Miss Elleda W. Stewart entertained the young folk on Halloween evening.

Mrs. Robert Clark spent from Wednesday until Sunday with friends in Moers.

Mrs. F. Robert is preparing to go to Hemmingford for the winter months.

Mr. Thos. Kyle has been laid up with an attack of lumbago.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Grey and family enjoyed a motor trip of about 60 miles on Sunday and visited with friends in Ormstown for a time.

Mr. Payton had charge of the service here on Sunday last.

Wedding bells are to ring this week. Messrs Robert Blair, Walter Barr and Emmet Cleland are to attend the Liberal convention in Huntingdon on Wednesday.

The meeting of the W.M.S. will be held in Knox hall on Thursday afternoon.

TRAIN STRIKES WAGON, KILLS FATHER, SON

Malcolm and Albert McDermid Victims of Crossing Crash at Apple Hill.

Two well-known residents of Apple Hill, Ont., were instantly killed, and a young boy narrowly escaped death, when a milk wagon was run down by the fast Montreal-Chicago C.P.R. express on the level crossing close to Apple Hill station last Tuesday forenoon.

Victims of the accident were: Malcolm A. McDermid, 72 years old, and his son, Albert McDermid, 41 years old. Joseph Lefebvre, a 17-year-old neighbor whom they were giving a "lift" home, saw the oncoming express and leapt from the rear of the wagon to save his life literally by inches.

Both farmers met an instantaneous death, their bodies being dragged more than 50 yards by the engine. The horse was killed and the wagon demolished. Dr. J. Howard Munro, of Maxwellville, coroner for the district, held an inquest at Apple Hill Station shortly after the accident, and adjourned the hearing until today. The bodies were taken to Clugnet's undertaking parlors at Apple Hill.

The scene of the accident is regarded as particularly dangerous in view of the fact that the tracks are obscured when trains approach from the east.

The train crew reported that the driver of the wagon apparently saw the train when it was only three car lengths away from the crossing and made a desperate attempt to rein in his horse. The startled animal was slow in stopping, and was not brought to a halt until the wagon was right across the railway tracks. The train, travelling between 50 and 60 miles an hour, was braked to a stop within fifty yards and the crew went to the rescue of the victims. The younger man was found on the cow-catcher and the father under the wheels.

Members of the train crew were: Thomas Martin, Montreal engineer; C. R. H. Johnson, Smith's Falls, fireman; and J. Bohan, Toronto, conductor. After the accident they remained at the scene until the arrival of the coroner from Maxwell seven miles away. Apparently the only witness of accident was the boy the McDermids were helping home after delivering their milk in Apple Hill.

The McDermids have a number of friends and relatives in this district. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved families.

"Is she singing in English?" "I don't know. Look at your program."—Life.

LADY KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY TRAM CAR

Mrs. Alice Moriarty, Aged 65, a Former Resident of Huntingdon, Died From Injuries.

The community was shocked on Friday evening to hear of the sad accident which befell Mrs. Alice Moriarty, 140 Mayfair Avenue, Montreal, a former resident of Huntingdon.

Mrs. Moriarty was in the downtown district of the city Friday morning and was crossing south on Sherbrooke Street near Mayfair Avenue, when she was struck by a street car and knocked to the pavement. The car was stopped quickly and a crowd gathered. Strangely, a daughter of the injured lady, Miss Ruby Moriarty, spied the excitement and rushed to ascertain the cause only to find the victim to be her mother. An ambulance was summoned and rushed Mrs. Moriarty to the Homeopathic Hospital where it was found she had sustained a fractured clavicle. Soon after her admittance to the hospital she became unconscious and passed away Saturday. Mrs. Moriarty was 65 years of age.

The deceased is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Robt. Rolfe, Huntingdon; Mrs. P. H. O'Leary, Chateaugay, N. Y.; Misses Mae, Ruby and Ena Moriarty, Montreal; and one son, Mr. Michael Moriarty, Montreal. She also leaves to mourn her loss one sister, Mrs. John Coffey and three brothers, Messrs. M. W. P. A. and M. J. Curran. The funeral was held at St. Joseph's Church here on Tuesday morning. The large concourse of relatives and friends who attended, testified to the high esteem in which the deceased was held. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to the bereaved.

EXECUTIVE W. I. MET AT HOWICK

Refusal of School Board to Accept District History Discussed.

County Convention. Miss Barbara Morris Presented With Life Membership And Pin.

The semi-annual meeting of the executive of the Chateaugay-Huntingdon Women's Institutes was held at Howick on Saturday, November 2. With an attendance of 17 representatives from the six branches it is evident that interest in Institute affairs is constantly increasing.

Plans were made for the annual County Convention, which is to be held at Aubrey, the first Friday in May 1930. The work of the Convention was discussed and the Presidents urged to see that each Branch Convener immediately after the branch annual meeting a committee on Resolutions was appointed to report at the County Convention, viz: Miss Morris, Mrs. James McKell, Mrs. W. L. Carr.

Miss Barbara Morris, Hon. President, was presented with a Life Membership and Pin by Mrs. Chas. Smallman, Dundee, who read an appreciative address.

Mrs. Smallman, the County President, urged all members to subscribe at once to the new Quebec Women's Institute magazine, "Home and Country."

The report of the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. W. A. Orr, showed that the County finances were in a sound condition and that since the convention $15 had been paid for the Essay Contest Prizes and $15 to the Fresh Air Fund.

The County Convener of Education, Mrs. T. S. Gardner, reported that the prizes for the essay on "Our County" had been duly distributed to the winners. In this connection an effort of the Huntingdon Women's Institute of presenting a copy of the History of Huntingdon, Chateaugay and Beauharnois, by Robert Sellar, to the Academy was frustrated. The Principal, Mr. J. B. McMillan, the Chairman of the School Board, Mr. E. C. McCoy and Dr. R. N. Walsh, each in turn, declined to accept the History on behalf of the Academy. No reply has been received to a letter written in July to the secretary, Mr. W. K. Phillips, asking for an explanation. The report on Education was received with considerable interest and some surprise.

Attending the meeting were: Mrs. Easton, Miss Barbara Morris, Aubrey; Mrs. James McKell, Mrs. Alfred Greig, Howick; Mrs. C. E. Petch, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. W. A. Orr, Hemmingford; Mrs. Smallman, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. Ed. Bruce, Dundee; Mrs. Manning, Mrs. Rowe, Franklin; Mrs. W. A. Hunter, Mrs. T. S. Gardner, Mrs. W. L. Carr, Huntingdon.

ST. AGNES

Mr. and Mrs. Alcide Leblanc and family and Miss Simone Dupuis were visitors in Massena, N.Y., on Sunday.

Miss Lucy and John Quenneville spent the week-end visiting relatives in Montreal.

Mr. Hector Laprade, of Massena, spent Sunday in this vicinity.

Miss Cecile Leduc, of Montreal is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Leblanc and family.

Mr. Hector Caza and Mr. Gerard Caza of Cedars, spent Friday visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity.

ODDFELLOWS 50 YEARS IN VALLEYFIELD

Anniversary Takes Form in Church Service And Banquet.

Seventy at Banquet. Canon Gower-Rees, M. A., M. C., Grand Chaplain Officiates.

Loyal Palmerston Lodge, No. 6350, Manchester Unity of Valleyfield, celebrated their 50th anniversary on Saturday, Nov. 2nd, by attending Divine Service at St. Mark's Anglican Church. The service being called for 6:45 p.m., finishing in good time to allow the brethren to wend their way to Larcocque House, where the banquet took place. The local members were well represented, with some 40 from Montreal District to help Loyal Palmerston do justice to such an occasion. Canon Gower-Rees, Grand Chaplain of the Order, in his sermon, spoke on the fraternal love and fellowship, the great strength that can be handed to the weak, by the trust that may be given to the fallen or probable victims to the underworld, let the hand of fellowship be given and in many ways this great order does help. In his address, Canon Gower-Rees, Grand Chaplain of the Order, in his sermon, spoke on the fraternal love and fellowship, the great strength that can be handed to the weak, by the trust that may be given to the fallen or probable victims to the underworld, let the hand of fellowship be given and in many ways this great order does help. In his address, Canon Gower-Rees, Grand Chaplain of the Order, in his sermon, spoke on the fraternal love and fellowship, the great strength that can be handed to the weak, by the trust that may be given to the fallen or probable victims to the underworld, let the hand of fellowship be given and in many ways this great order does help.

Rev. W. J. H. Lummis the incumbent assisted, P. P. G. M. Crawford of Montreal district read the lesson, P. G. J. H. Whalley and N. Y. A. Williams the appointed sidesman. Concluding with the service it went long before members were at the hotel as there was a lengthy program and festivities to get on the way with. Close on to 70 were seated at the table. The dining room was neatly decorated and the tables arranged in a getting way for such an occasion. Those seated at the head table were: P. P. G. M. Crawford, P. G. M. Mayoh, chairman; Prov. C. S. Geo. Wilkinson; Canon Gower-Rees, M. A., M. C., Grand Chaplain of Montreal District; P. P. G. M. Clark, Rev. W. J. Lummis; P. P. G. M. John Lowe, P. P. G. M. Willington, P. G. A. V. Gurnham, P. P. G. M. Crawford. Starting the program with the toast to the King, then by songs by Mr. S. Hartley, who was all applauded by the brethren. P. P. G. M. Willington proposed a toast to the order and the Montreal District in a very able manner and Prov. C. I. Geo. Wilkinson responded. The Prov. C. S. A. well known officers of the Montreal District gave a splendid report on the great work and growth of the Manchester Unity and the things that the order may yet accomplish. Another gentleman who impersonated the weaker sex, also sang a popular song. P. G. Albeston also sang.

P. P. G. M. Crawford in his toast to Loyal Palmerston stated that he had on many occasions visited Loyal Palmerston Lodge and had many fond recollections of its younger days. He recollects some of the brethren who were present on this occasion, such as P. P. G. M. Crawford, P. P. G. M. John Lowe, P. G. M. Gurnham and a few others. P. G. M. Mayoh, chairman in responding to this toast very ably replied and remarked the love that he had for Loyal Palmerston Lodge and Oddfellowship. That it was his hope that the order would be as long as he was able to do anything for the good of the Order. A comedy sketch in which Bros. Spencer, Thomson, and Cornell were the artists, something on television and what the future may be when we may see our friends or loved ones leaving their home across the seas and watching their every movement until they land in our home in Valleyfield, was given. As our friend, P. G. Harry Thomson, arrived in the hall in such a witty and witty manner, that he knew so well, his contact with the various ways they receive you, their independence, but a good heart and a people to love through it all. What greater memorial could we do or give than to contact with our helping hand that this order is now doing, far better than tombstones, etc. that bazaars, concerts, etc. to raise funds for such a memorial was useless.

P. P. G. M. John Lowe in the toast to our country, stated that this called for big things more than he could deliver in such a short time, that was at his command to-night, referring to the prosperity of the country and that this did not prevail anywhere else any more than in our own midst and could vouch for the heads of the various industries in this respect. P. P. G. M. Lowe remarked that Mr. Robb who was to respond to this toast was very ill and that late reports were not very encouraging which was deeply regretted and hope was expressed for his speedy recovery. The chairman called on Rev. W. J. H. Lummis to reply in this instance. The Rev. Mr. Lummis like Canon Gower-Rees, had to be brief on account of the hour being near the midnight mark. He remarked although being born in this country, he thought that there was plenty of room for improvement and that foreigners were preferred in many respects and our loyal citizens often suffer.

Concluding these remarks the National Anthem was sung thus ending this memorial event that will go down in history of Oddfellows for many years to come. Loyal Palmerston.

(Continued on page 8)

The Huntingdon Gleaner

Published by the Huntingdon Gleaner, Inc.

Offices in the Brown Building, Huntingdon, Que.

A Beaudin & Sons, Ormstown, Que., Agents.

Subscription Rates, $1.50 to Canada or the United States; $2.00 elsewhere.

Advertising Rates on Application.

Huntingdon, Que., Wednesday, November 6th., 1929.

1929 AND ONWARD

The Thirty-to-Fifty generation of this age marks the movement of years by two anniversaries: the official New Year and the 11th of November. One date has all the freshness of the morning, the other is of the twilight, or the sombre hour of memories. Those who served in the warring armies are beginning to feel the price of those years, though they may have escaped battle wounds. The ever-increasing number of appeals for pensions proves this. Young chaps who entered their teens with all the ambition of youth find those endless hours of fear left a mental strain which now slows them down and not infrequently, results in lessened ability to produce as the years roll on. So we find that, as another Eleventh of November arrives, many look back and then look forward through the same glasses—faint shades of the twilight. They realize that War has robbed the world's generation of two million active bodies; they see that the army of misfits, or unfit, is swelling and they observe that the generation ahead of them, the generation on which they have leaned during the past eleven years, is thinning out and that a greater responsibility is coming to the present Thirty-to-Fifties.

It may be an overdrawn picture, but it is not an illusion. It is a challenge to the generation, not only in Canada but throughout the world. The world of to-day moves quickly, and it gambles without thought of the morrow. From 1914 to 1919 it was with warfare, and the history of the last ten years in battle losses have gone ahead most quickly. The others have dragged behind, crippled by unrest, lack of initiative and, sometimes, of hope. What does the next ten years promise?

Will the next ten years not mark the advancement of those countries where the thinned-out-generation seeks to present a united front working for each other through the national good for all? May it not prove that the nations which go ahead are those having the assistance of abundant natural resources? Some may question the right of this generation of Canadians to permit a general, perhaps extravagant, utilization of the timber, mineral and other resources of Canada, but let us not forget that Canada is alongside a great and wealthy Republic whose generation was touched but lightly by the War gods, while young Canada threw its all into the struggle from the 4th of August 1914. To keep pace with the world until the next generation seizes control of business affairs it may be necessary for the generation which fought to deplete things which in the national interest might be conserved. Fortunately, Canada is rich in material things. There is a good spirit of harmony throughout the land, and, as November Eleventh comes, Canadians may look forward with faith.

THE ONTARIO ELECTIONS

On the eve of the elections Mr. Ferguson declared that his party would gain seats. Some thought it was bombast, but the polls proved Mr. Ferguson knew his Ontario. The decisive victory of the Conservative Party was due, in no small extent, to the political knowledge of Howard Ferguson. He dominates the picture and was a beacon light where Sinclair and Widdell, the leaders of the Liberals and Progressives, were spluttering matches. Rarely is a decision in provincial politics dominated by a political issue; generally personalities dominate and on Wednesday last Premier Ferguson was the magnet.

Looking back over the campaign it will be noted that Mr. Ferguson made few promises. Lighter automobile taxes and cheaper electric power for the farmers were his baits. It promised to be a dull campaign until the Globe injected the temperance issue. In this it was supported by Progressives, by Mr. Sinclair and by some of his followers. The question developed so, by election day, the question was: for or against Government Control. Mr. Ferguson stood firmly by his policy and won. He took many more seats from the Liberals than they gained from him and he practically wiped out the Progressives. Ontario has gone "wet" both in the cities and in the country, and it has gone back to the two-party system. These are the outstanding features of the decision.

Some time ago Mr. Ferguson declared it was his intention to retire from his office when sixty years of age. He is now fifty-nine. Whether or not he meant the statement is not known, but if he wants to retire it is his right. Mr. Ferguson has fought three elections as leader of his Party. In each he has been successful, and being a leader in what is a one-man government is a burden no man should be called upon to bear longer than he desires. But, if Mr. Ferguson retires from provincial politics, his eyes may turn to the federal field which would create an interesting situation. He loves power, and will not play second fiddle to anyone. It is well to remember, also, that Mr. Meighen and Mr. Ferguson have clashed in the past and that Mr. Meighen's name is still one to conjure with throughout Ontario. Mr. Meighen has never said that he was done with politics. It is said that he has become well-off and has mellowed. Should Mr. Meighen decide to return to politics, and should Mr. Ferguson offer to exchange Toronto for Ottawa, Mr. Bennett may have a troublesome nut to crack. A successful political party can only have one leader and there is ample historical precedent to prove that too many strong wills in a political party can be a handicap and not an advantage. To those who love the manipulations of political strategy the next year promises interesting programmes.

THE QUEBEC ELECTIONS

Mr. Ferguson decided to clear the political air in Ontario by a general election; in Quebec the Latin love of rapier thrusts has dominated the strategy of Mr. Taschereau. The Quebec government is strongly entrenched in power, but this year the Conservative Party dropped Mr. Sauvé and took Mr. Houde in his place. Mr. Sauvé was a placid spirit, Mr. Houde mimics the whirlwind. He is ambitious and is active. He fought and defeated Mederic Martin in Montreal, no small victory, and he wants to conquer in the provincial field.

The first test came in the county of Compton where Mr. Nicol vacated the seat by retiring from the cabinet. It was a hot fight in which everyone in provincial politics took part. The Liberal majority was substantially reduced, but the official election count showed that in comparison with the last general election, the reduction was due to more people voting for the Conservative candidate than in 1927 and that about the same number voted for Mr. McMaster as did for Mr. Nicol in 1927. It improved Mr. Houde's reputation, but was not a victory, and you must win in politics or you lose.

Mr. Taschereau had watched his opponent in action in Compton and evidently decided his vanity was a political weakness. So when it came to Richelieu, instead of facing Mr. Houde with an array of cabinet ministers, the Government stayed in their respective offices and let Mr. Houde bludgeon his sword against the local talent of Richelieu. It was not a dangerous experiment, for in that county lives Honourable P. J. Arthur Cardin, the Dominion Minister of Marines and Fisheries. Mr. Cardin is one of the interesting personages in public life. No man can sway a French-Canadian audience with greater ease than can this Sorel lawyer, and no man uses this talent less than does Mr. Cardin. He is an orator who appreciates the value of silence. A man of high personal character, his honesty is never challenged by opponents, but they never underestimate his political abilities. It was this man Mr. Houde had to out-manoeuvre. As Mr. Houde is reputed to have federal ambitions and has the ear of Mr. Bennett the by-election, therefore, offered a test. French-Quebec sat back to enjoy the contest. Nomination Day came and the outstanding speaker for the Liberals was Honourable Honoré Mercier, a man whose personal character is never questioned either by friend or foe. He was given a good hearing, but those who followed had unruly audiences. Mr. Houde tried to speak. Mr. Cardin was silent. Mr. Houde campaigned throughout the county. Mr. Cardin said nothing. Election day came. The Liberals again won. This time they increased their popular vote, while Mr. Houde's candidate stood still. The result of that election cannot be under-estimated.

Now comes an election in Montclair. Mr. Perron bows to the popular demand and takes his chances in the elective Assembly. Unless the unexpected happens, he will win, for the constituency is considered a safe seat. Should this happen the situation may be summarized by saying that instead of Houde cutting into the Government's majority, Mr. Taschereau is whittling down Mr. Houde's political prestige. Guess-work in politics is a dangerous thing, but this fall the French-Canadian population of the province needs no radio to secure enjoyment.

Chronicle News Bits

Specially Written for The Huntingdon Gleaner.

Old Age Pension Surprises.

The province of Ontario has recently adopted the provisions of the Dominion's system of old age pensions, and those desiring the $240 a year are required to register. At Kingston, Ont., the other day an elderly gentleman came to the desk and asked for particulars about the pensions. He looked to be over seventy years of age and a query elicited the information that he was seventy-five. The clerk told him he was entitled to the pension, but the gentleman declined. He said he was there on behalf of his mother. A clerk visited the home of the old lady who signed the forms with a neat hand. She is 98 years of age. In the city of Kingston 325 have applied for the pension.

The Aftermath of Stock Panic.

The word panic will alone describe conditions last week on some of the stock exchanges. In New York the papers were filled with human interest stories and one reporter, searching for a fresh vein, turned to the classified advertisement section of his paper and found five Rolls Royces for sale with "must sell, will sacrifice" after the particulars. Another little notice offered a platinum diamond bracelet with 87 Marquise diamonds, "recently purchased," the advertisement ending with "must sacrifice immediately."

Raw Beefsteak Does Not Mix.

A gentleman, much under the weather, called on a butcher in Hanover, Pa., last week. Whether he wanted to take home a peace offering or not is not known, but he knew what he wanted: A large and thick steak. On the way home he started to eat it and just as he turned into the house, drooped dead. The man was sixty years of age. The verdict of the inquest was that death was the result of drinking liquor and eating raw beefsteak.

Good Wood 50 Years Old.

The other day Norman Reid, of Coulonge Lake, North Bay district, decided to cut up some wood. On his farm was an old pine tree which had been chopped down upwards of fifty years ago. It was a huge log, so Mr. Reid decided to examine it and found the white pine was "remarkable in size, symmetry and the soundness of its wood." The size is best explained by stating that it yielded 17 cords of perfect stove wood.

Speedy Stealing At College.

Wednesday last the police in Toronto were summoned to deal with a remarkable theft in the women's residence of the Victoria College. The girls were at the meal table and at 6:55 p.m. the janitor made his rounds and found everything in order, but ten minutes later an alarm was raised and investigation showed that twenty rooms had been visited in the space of ten minutes and $45 stolen. In each room a faint smell of smoke could be sensed, showing that the thief did not work so quickly that he or she could not keep a cigarette going. The only room which was not visited had a sign "no pedlars" on the door.

Prison Moves But Not Address.

All mail for inmates of the great Sing Sing prison in New York goes through the business offices of the institution, and many prisoners conceal their misfortunes by having their mail addressed to 354 Hunter St., Ossining, N.Y. It reaches them because that was the address of the business office. The office has now been moved a few hundred feet and to a new street, but the authorities have decided to make no change in the address on the letterheads and envelopes which are supplied, thus saving many from the embarrassment of admitting they are confined to jail.

After 3 P. M. Marriage Illegal.

The law of London, England, is that it is illegal to ceremonize a marriage after three o'clock in the afternoon. Outside of London marriages can be solemnized at any hour of the day, and at a famous spot in the north of England there are few time restrictions, while across the border in Scotland, there is no time limit at one or two famous marrying places.

Bootlegging of 100 Years Ago.

The Boston Herald has been investigating the schemes followed a hundred years ago by liquor smugglers, whose goal was England, and has decided they knew more tricks than the modern workers. At that time it was against the law to bring liquor into England without paying of a heavy duty and many means were followed to beat the law. The French wanted to sell as much as they could and the government set aside a part of the city of Dunkirk where the smugglers could have an official headquarters. Oars were hauled out and bottles of brandy were stored in them, false bottoms were frequently made in boats, one of the most popular being a bottom which had no entrance from the inside of the boat. The loading had to be done at low tide. One skipper worked a plan for years with success. He would lash about forty kegs of brandy together and attach a small buoy to the raft thus made. In the upper section was a short candle which he would light. It made so small a light that it was noticed at night. The tide would float the raft into shore and, by a careful time adjustment, the candle would burn down to the lamp which was attached to the candle and light the larger flame, thus giving the smugglers on land the needed signal. They would pull the barrels ashore and hide them. The coast guard did what it could, one of the best schemes being to use dogs. It was the rule of smugglers to hide the barrels by scooping holes in the sand, so the officers raised dogs on a brandy diet so that they would ferret out the caches through their sense of smell.

1,800,000 Inventions Registered.

Washington is the mecca for those who have an invention to patent and the authorities are now hard-pressed to work out a proper filing system. Already they have 1,800,000 patents in force and each week a thousand more are granted. To look after these requires 120 miles of shelving. There is endless trouble, for only one man can patent the same idea, although more than one may think of the idea, and the authorities report that this means over 2,000 suggestions are rejected each week. The experts find that while the scientific men, who are paid to experiment and invent, bring forth many good ideas, the great pioneers in any new idea are frequently those who spend their time "chopping wood, planting corn, washing windows or shining shoes." In other words, those without a scientific understanding of things but who dream the possibilities of some idea. Edison, when working on the electric light lamp declared his ambition was to make electric lanterns so cheaply that only rich men could afford to burn candles.

Paris Drinking Water.

Those who have visited France know that the French are wine drinkers and that experienced travellers only use bottled water. Rarely, if ever, will they use the water which comes from the taps. Waiters shudder when an American orders water and warns them that it is not healthy, but the authorities of Paris declare such is not the case. However, while the water passes the test, and is brought many miles to the city, another water question has arisen. It concerns the water used for bathing. Along the Seine are a number of bathing pavilions where the water is brought from the river. This has been criticized and it is stated that if you go to Paris you can drink water and be safe, but you run chances if you bathe in Parisian waters.

Now It's Duck Stories.

The fishing season is ended but those who hunt enter the field with new and marvelous stories. J. H. Cornish of the Parry Sound, Ont., district, reports he put out his decoys the other day and sat back waiting for the ducks to come. Suddenly there was a rush through the air and an eagle grabbed one of the wooden decoys. The weight of the wooden duck slowed it down so when about fifteen feet in the air, it came into the path of the shots from both barrels of Mr. Cornish's 12-gauge shot gun. The bird has a full-extended wing spread of seven feet, five inches. He was offered $75 for the specimen but, on the request of the Ontario Government, he sent it to the Department.

Nothing Is Ever Lost.

The tremendous storm of last week on the Great Lakes, while sending vessels to the bottom, also brought up a wreck of many years ago. Now comes the story of a recovery in New York harbour. Miss Thea Rasche, the Germany flyer, boarded the liner Resolute to return to Germany last week. When checking over her luggage it was found that a bag was missing, and a radio message to the company brought the news that it was thought the bag had fallen into the water at the dock. A diver was engaged and he prowled around the harbour bottom, with the result that the authorities have wired Miss Rasche that her bag containing her passport, several hundred dollars, and a gold cigarette case, on which some of the most widely known pilots had scratched their names, had been found, and is going on the next boat.

Thief Breaks Into Prison.

A chap by the name of Burling, 21 years of age, came before the Guelph, Ont., courts last week charged with 16 different offenses. The most remarkable was that of breaking into the Wellington County jail by crawling in through a cellar window, picking the lock of a cupboard in the turnkey's office and stealing a revolver. He then made his escape. The magistrate decided that a penitentiary sentence would harm rather than improve the lad so he was sent to the reformatory for two years, less a day.

Making Forests To Order.

A new reason for reforestation comes from England, although it concerns the state of Illinois. Over in England they are concerned with the problems of roadside billboards and this promoted the correspondent of the London Spectator in the United States to write about what Illinois is doing. The intention is to plant trees between the billboards and the highways in sufficient numbers to shut the advertisements effectively from view. Commenting on the suggestion the writer adds: "The idea is admirable so far as it is practicable, but to make an appreciable impression upon all the billboards in the United States in this way would entail the removal of whole forests."

Radio Gives Warning.

The people of Baldwin Harbour, Long Island, while willing to admit that there may be persons who will sit up all night listening to a radio, still, something must be wrong when they keep the radio going day and night. Therefore, the police were summoned and the apartment of Joseph C. Murphy was broken into. It was found that he had died of heart failure and had been dead for 24 hours. His wife and children were preparing to move from Washington to the new home and until they arrived he had been living alone.

Flying Is Cheap In Germany.

The German people are systematic about everything and it is now announced there are 300 private owned aeroplanes in daily use in Germany, one being by a woman. While the license fee to operate an automobile in Germany is high, frequently running into hundreds of dollars, the annual fee for operating an aeroplane is 35 cents. The planes themselves are not expensive either. A Klemm with a Mercedes motor costs about $1,700 and another with a 35 horse-power motor is sold for about $1,500. There is an additional charge which generally goes into the purchase price. Before an aeroplane can be flown for the first time it must be tested by the government to see that it is airworthy. This inspection costs $42 and is reckoned as part of the purchase price.

What Our Home Telephone Can Reach.

The New England Utility News carried a little item the other day which struck me as interesting. By it I learned that if I asked the telephone operator to connect my telephone with all the numbers within its range, she would have to connect me with 28,500,000 different numbers. Anyone who wants to calculate what the cost would be for the long distance charges can do the figuring himself, because it will include telephones on both sides of the Atlantic. In the whole world there are 33,700,000 telephones in use, an increase of almost two million within a year. The automatic, or dial, telephone is increasing, there being 3,530,000 in use in the United States on the 1st of July last.

Stiff Toll Charges.

The other day R. F. Greer, a timber contractor in the Port Arthur, Ont., district, appeared before a police magistrate on a charge of obstructing the right of way of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The "obstruction" was that of running an automobile along the railway line for a distance of seven miles. He had some men he wanted to take to a camp, and trains not being available at the moment, loaded them in an auto and ran it along the right of way. He pled guilty and was fined $1,000. The magistrate warned him that he was letting him off light, as he could send him to jail for fourteen years.

English Is What It Means.

Our language is rated as one of the most difficult in the world to learn, and evidently a small boy in Toronto finds it such. He is a foreign-born lad and was instructed to write an essay on any subject he might select. He decided his dog was the best topic and wrote: "I have a pet dog. His name is Nell. One day my dog made four pups. One was a spaniel, one was a bull, and two were hounds. He always stayed by his pups. He was a good mother."

Harvesting Practices Change.

The Moose Jaw Times reports a great change which is taking place in the harvesting operations of the West this year. It reports that a combined reaper and thrasher used at Lethbridge, Alberta, cut a swath 34 feet wide, thus mowing down a hundred acres of grain a day and at the same time threshed 3,000 bushels of wheat. It is estimated that the use of these combines—not all as large as the one referred to—saved the Western farmers from requiring several thousand harvesters from the East.

HEALTH SERVICE

of the Canadian Medical Association CAN WE PREVENT COLDS?

A cold in the head is generally thought of as more of a nuisance than anything else. It certainly is a nuisance because it makes the sufferer a fairly uncomfortable individual. Colds are something more than a nuisance, however; they are serious for certain reasons. In the first place, they are the greatest single cause of absence from work and school, and, consequently, they cost more, in lost time and lost wages, than any other single illness. Secondly, what appears to be an ordinary cold may be the beginning of some serious illness, such as pneumonia. Because you have often had colds which were merely a nuisance, you cannot count on escaping serious results in the future. It is a good idea to do everything possible to escape colds altogether. While there is yet much to be learned about colds, and extensive research is being carried out in an attempt to unravel the mysteries which surround this common complaint, there are some simple things which we may do to protect ourselves.

The first is to keep in good health. Eat the right kinds of food and sleep with the bedroom window open (eight hours of sleep for adults—longer for children). Avoid people who have colds, because colds are spread from one person to another. Wash the hands thoroughly before eating, because the hands become soiled and are very likely to have disease germs on them. Keep the body clean by regular bathing, using cold or cool water, followed by a rub with a rough towel. Keep the feet dry; if they get wet, change to dry shoes and stockings, first giving the feet a good rub with a rough towel. Dress according to the thermometer, not the season of the year, as too much clothing (especially indoors) causes perspiration and should, therefore, be avoided. The person who suffers from repeated colds should have his nose and throat examined by a doctor. The germs may lodge in diseased tonsils or adenoids and cause repeated colds; this can only be prevented by correcting the disease condition of the nose and throat. Questions, concerning Health, addressed to the Canadian Medical Association, 184 College Street, Toronto, will be answered personally by letter.

When washing feather pillows use lukewarm water with a good suds. Add about one tablespoonful of ammonia to the tub of water, then squeeze and wring until clean. Rinse in clear water and hang the bags in the sun to dry.

DELICIOUS FIRST CROP JAPAN TEAS

Chase & Sanborn's

"Indian Chief" (FINE)

"Seal Brand" (FINEST)

"Fancy" (SUPERFINE)

A sample of any grade will be gladly mailed on request to Chase & Sanborn, Montreal 127

In sealed air-tight packages.

Whatever your plans for the future, the strongest foundation upon which to build is systematic saving in the bank.

THE Bank of Montreal offers safety, convenience and compound interest for those who build up their savings accounts here.

BANK OF MONTREAL
Established 1817
TOTAL ASSETS IN EXCESS OF $900,000,000

Huntingdon Branch: N. W. SPARROW, Manager.

Electric AND Battery

RADIOS

$25.00 and up

Second hand radios to clear at bargain prices. Electric and battery equipped.

Range of models going on Sale.

Huntingdon Radio Electric
Sales and Service
Phone 222 S. J. Currie Huntingdon, Que.

Buried Far from Home

These Lads Who Rest Beneath the Sun-kissed Skies of France, Where Those Who Pass Speak a Strange Tongue—They Paid by Giving Everything.

(By A. R. KENNEDY, Editor, Stratford Beacon-Herald.)

The following sketch of a visit to Vimy Ridge, is written by Mr. A. R. Kennedy, editor of the Stratford Beacon-Herald, who was a member of the Canadian Newspaper party in Europe, which but recently returned after several weeks of absence. Mr. Kennedy tells of his visit to a little Canadian cemetery near the Ridge and from his visit brings home a very effective answer to those who still favor war in the settlement of the disputes between nations. Mr. Kennedy's article is as follows:

It is very quiet here this afternoon. Overhead the sun shines brightly. In the fields around are poppies, also little yellow flowers that look not unlike our buttercups.

One is all the gaiety of Paris, and the conversation and laughter of the friends with whom we travel. Only on other men is around the Captain Simpson, of the Imperial War Graves Commission. With bare heads and a feeling that combines reverence, loyalty and grief, I walk within the little walled city of the dead. May I quit near the start, as sure those whose loved ones are buried in the war cemeteries of France, assure them that the cemetery is a quiet resting place; it is cared for with a thoroughness and a reverence that could hardly be exceeded by relatives and loved ones.

I walked on. Before me are the first four little white stones that come to my attention. With a feeling that produces a great lump in the throat and that gives a tear to the eye, I read that the ages of these lads were 16, 17, 23, and 19. Caught up with the fancy of war, they were like those, who with hasty feet, seek to outrun his fellows up the slope of some great hill.

This is not a large cemetery, perhaps it would be regarded as one of the smaller ones among the 600 war cemeteries of France. It is on Grinchy Road, and there are not over 120 graves there. They were the lads who fell around Vimy Ridge. With design, it must be admitted I asked the privilege of visiting a small Canadian cemetery. The larger ones, on the main roads of travel, are kept in wonderful condition. The same is done, I know for a fact, for the smaller ones.

The Nation Building
Strange the feelings that surge up in one after such a day as this which is now well spent. I have passed through such places as Amiens, Albert and Arras; have had opportu-

DEWITTVILLE
Mr. and Mrs. Richard Quimet and family spent the week-end with relatives in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Darragh, of Peru, N. Y., were week-end guests of his brother, Mr. John Darragh.

Mrs. Wm. Ross, of Ormstown, spent a day last week with her daughter, Mrs. Colin McArthur.

Miss Elizabeth VanVleet visited her sisters in Montreal over the week-end.

One day last week Rev. Isaac Norman and son, Ainsley, motored up to the home of Mr. Ernest McEwen; the next day they came to visit Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, returning home on Saturday.

A meeting was held in the church on Wednesday evening, under the direction of Rev. J. B. Maclean, D.D., to discuss the making of some repairs to the church building, with a view to having it more comfortable in winter. It was decided to have a double door made, the windows made to fit more closely, and a hole in the foundation repaired. The sheds also are to be put into proper condition, this to be done by the men of the congregation at a bee, with Mr. John Gordon in charge.

Mr. Harold McLean has sold his lot in the village, the one on which the old butter factory stood before it was destroyed by fire a few years ago. The purchaser is Mr. John Savage, who purposes to erect a house there.

There was no service in the church here on Sunday afternoon, as the minister, Rev. J. B. Maclean, D.D., had to officiate at a funeral service at that time.

Halloween passed off quietly, only a few children with the customary false faces making calls on all the residents.

Last week Moore Bros., with their "Case" clover huller, cleaned up over 3,000 pounds of No. 1 red clover seed in Boyd Settlement and around Dewitville.

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held in the church on Thursday afternoon. A quilt for the Bowman Tucker mission in Montreal was tucked and bound and a letter was read from Miss Barbara McNaughton, a native of this place, now a missionary in China. Two delegates were appointed to attend the convention of the League against Alcoholism, which is being held in Montreal on November 4th. The delegates were Mrs. Frank Martin and Mrs. Colin McArthur. The treasurer's report showed there were $129.19 in the treasury. The annual box for the Bowman Tucker mission is to be packed about the middle of this month. Will those who have cast off clothing, jellies, preserves, or pickles to contribute, please leave the same at Mr. Holiday's store at your earliest convenience.

Soak a cauliflower, prior to cooking in unsalted water. This draws out the insects. If the water is salted the insects are killed, but remain in the vegetable.

HAIRDRESSING PARLOR
Boivin's Barber Shop
Open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of every week. Expert and courteous work.

Phone 199 for appointment.
Miss Simonne Leduc.

GLENELM

Miss Bessie and Robina Seaward and Mae Montgomery visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Fraser, Dundee, recently.

Mrs. Mearns Harvey returned to her home in Barrington on Sunday after spending the past week at the home of Mrs. John Dear.

Miss Annie Seagar, of Ottawa, is spending a few days with her sister, William Paul.

Miss Marquerite Donnelly has returned to Lake Placid Club, N.Y., after spending two weeks at her home here. Mr. Ward Donnelly returned with her and spent a few days.

Mr. Clarence King, of Montreal, spent a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard King.

Miss Verna Fraser, Dundee, spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Seaward.

Miss Evelyn Hughes, of Lake Placid, N.Y., spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Donnelly.

Mr. Nicol Stark, of Montreal, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stark.

Miss Beverly Rutherford, R.N., and Gwendolyn Mabon, of Montreal, spent a few days with relatives here.

Mr. Gordon Anderson, of Buffalo, N.Y., visited at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Anderson, over the week-end.

Mrs. George Cousineau, Montreal, is spending a vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Tannahill.

The regular meeting of the Kensington Y.W.A. was held at the home of Misses Bessie and Robina Seaward on Saturday afternoon. Fourteen members and visitors were present.

Arrangements were made for the sale of work on Tuesday evening in Kensington Hall. The meeting was conducted by the president, Miss Grace Gordon. At the close of the afternoon a delicious supper was served by the hostesses.

The pupils of Elgin School No. 1, under the leadership of the teacher, Miss Eileen Murphy, held a Halloween party in the school on Thursday afternoon. Several visitors were present.

The Ladies' Aid of Kensington church was held at the home of Mrs. John Scriver on Thursday afternoon. About 35 members and visitors were present who spent the afternoon in piecing a quilt. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Charles Brown. At the close a delicious supper was served by Mrs. Scriver, assisted by Mrs. C. H. Brown and Mrs. D. K. Gordon.

We regret to report the death of Mrs. D. C. Morrison, which occurred at the home of her sister, Mrs. Duncan in Ormstown on Friday. The funeral was held at St. Andrew's church, Huntingdon on Sunday afternoon and was largely attended. The sympathy of the community is extended to the bereaved relatives.

ST. LOUIS DE GONZAGUE
The annual Thankoffering meeting of the Women's Missionary Auxiliary of Knox United Church was held on the evening of October 30th. The pastor, Rev. D. R. Morrison acted as chairman. The Rev. Mr. Pollock, of Ormstown, gave an inspiring address on some of the heroic qualities of missionaries. Rev. Mr. Greig, of Valleyfield had a very optimistic message for the people of St. Louis, while Rev. Mr. St. Aubin spoke impressively of the duty of all to cultivate the Missionary spirit. The presence of many friends from Howick, Ormstown, Valleyfield and other places added much to the success of the gathering. A good offering of over $70.00 was taken. After the address, the women of the church served a bountiful supper in the church hall.

ROCKBURN
Mrs. H. Henzel, of New York City, was the guest last week of Mrs. Cordick and other friends in Rockburn. Mrs. James Farquhar, of Piercefield, N.Y., is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. Pollock.

Mrs. F. Rankin is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Jamieson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Goldie were guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rogers, in Antwerp, N.Y.

Dr. R. L. Ballantyne of St. Andrews and Rev. A. S. Reid, of Montreal, were guests last week of Mrs. Cain and attended a meeting of the Rockburn congregation Friday evening.

Heard of the Golf Course
That fellow ahead is so slow that if he fell down it would be half an hour before he hit the ground.

10,000 Bottles a Day
Every day 10,000 women buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know that there is no better remedy for their troublesome ailments with their accompanying nervousness, backache, headache, "blue" spells, and rundown condition.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

4 SUPREME BUILDING ADVANTAGES
WHEN building a new home or making over an old one, use this greatest of all wallboards. You will get these four supreme building advantages:

Full 3/8" thickness—giving greater structural strength and rigidity.
Easier Application—Goes up quickly, without muck—saving time, labor and money.
Fire-Proof—Non-Warping—Gyproc walls are fire barriers. Cannot crack, warp or shrink.
Takes any Decoration—Including Alabastine, wallpaper, paint and panels.

GYPROC Fireproof Wallboard
For Sale By
Tully Lumber Co., Ltd. - Huntingdon, Que.
T. G. McClatchie - Hemmingford, Que.
Tully Lumber Company, Ltd. - Howick, Que.

Marriage and Death

Although a spinster at her thirty-fifth year may look with varying degrees of envy on her sister of fifteen there is one respect in which they are quite on a par, according to a recent study made by the statistical bureau of a life insurance company. This shows that both the older woman and the young girl have the same chances of marrying and dying within five and one half years. Similarly a young woman of twenty five is in exactly the same category as the fifty-year old girl when it comes to marrying and dying within a period of seventeen and one half years.

As an example of both comparisons, the insurance statisticians cite the example of the woman of thirty-five and the girl of fifteen as follows: "It is due to the fact that the young girl of fifteen has a greater chance of marrying within five and one half years than an older woman of thirty-five; but, to balance this, the young girl of fifteen has a considerably smaller chance of dying within five and one half years than the woman of thirty-five."

The study, linking marriage and death together in this manner, was made for the purpose of determining what is the combined probability of a person marrying within a specified period and then dying before the end of that period. It supplements another study made by the statistical bureau some time ago, on the subject of the combined probability of a person marrying and surviving for a given period and being married within the period.

Results of the new study are of special interest to social welfare workers, who not infrequently find themselves confronted by a situation in which the so-called premature death of a husband or wife, leaving dependent children, has to be met.

These so-called premature deaths, the study shows, are not premature at all when considered from the viewpoint of the statistician who treats the subject as it affects large groups, and not single individuals. It has been proved that, instead of being premature in relation to the length of time a couple has been married, such deaths, on the average, are a certainty—not for any particular individual, of course, but for the average individual of which a group is composed. But who knows on what particular man or woman the law of averages will align to demonstrate itself?

A young man, single and twenty-five years of age has seven chances in a thousand of being married and dying within five years, and two chances in a hundred of being married and dying within ten years, and over six in a hundred within twenty years.

Similarly, a young woman, twenty-five years of age, has seven chances in a thousand of marrying and dying within five years, over two chances in a hundred within ten years, four within fifteen years, and over six in a hundred within twenty years.

ATHELSTAN

The annual Thank offering meeting of the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Auxiliary was held in the basement of the church on Sunday evening. Mrs. A. W. Pae, first vice-president of the Montreal Presbyterian was the speaker for the evening, and gave an illustrated lecture on the work in Japan, which was extremely interesting. Mrs. Pae is a very fluent speaker and thoroughly conversant with the work of the Missionary Society. The offering amounted to $63.50, making a total in excess of the amount allocated to this auxiliary for 1929.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rowat and sons motored from Montreal on Sunday and were guests of Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Rowat Master Eddie Rowat, who had the misfortune to fracture a limb recently while playing rugby is enabled to move about with the aid of crutches.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pae and Mr. and Mrs. Morton, of Montreal, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Elder on Sunday.

Mr. Brady, Inspector of Schools for this district paid a visit to the Athelstan Intermediate School on Thursday.

Miss Grace Rowat, of Montreal, spent Saturday at her home.

The Young People's Society met on Monday night at the home of Mr. George Elder. There were about 40 of the young people present, most of whom enrolled as members for the next six months' term.

Winter holidays to Europe are increasing so fast on account of reduced steamship and hotel rates at that season it is as difficult to get a passage before Christmas as to get one before Independence Day in the summer.

HUNTINGDON
Miss Viola M. Lucas, R.N., spent a few days with Mrs. Wm. Ferns before going to New York, where she is going to do private nursing.

Mrs. W. K. Phipps recently spent a few days at Sutton with her mother, Mrs. Florence Holmes, and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cappiello, of Fort Covington, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Lefebvre.

Mrs. E. A. Seale, of Cookshire, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Allan Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Paquette and two children, Master Cameron and Arthur, Montreal, Miss Ilo Balthazie, Ottawa, Mr. Stanley Rough, Montreal and Mr. E. A. Seale, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dawson.

Mrs. W. G. McCullough, of Winthrop, is at present visiting friends in town.

On Halloween night, at Woodbine Cottage, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cooper, a Halloween party was given, when about thirty guests attended in costume. The house was very prettily decorated and the games and amusements were all in keeping with Halloween. An enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA
A BABY REMEDY APPROVED BY DOCTORS FOR COUG, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHEA

Relieves fatigue OXO CORDIAL Sustains—Strengthens

ROCKBURN
Mrs. H. Henzel, of New York City, was the guest last week of Mrs. Cordick and other friends in Rockburn. Mrs. James Farquhar, of Piercefield, N.Y., is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. Pollock.

Mrs. F. Rankin is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Jamieson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Goldie were guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rogers, in Antwerp, N.Y.

Dr. R. L. Ballantyne of St. Andrews and Rev. A. S. Reid, of Montreal, were guests last week of Mrs. Cain and attended a meeting of the Rockburn congregation Friday evening.

Heard of the Golf Course
That fellow ahead is so slow that if he fell down it would be half an hour before he hit the ground.

10,000 Bottles a Day
Every day 10,000 women buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know that there is no better remedy for their troublesome ailments with their accompanying nervousness, backache, headache, "blue" spells, and rundown condition.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

4 SUPREME BUILDING ADVANTAGES
WHEN building a new home or making over an old one, use this greatest of all wallboards. You will get these four supreme building advantages:

Full 3/8" thickness—giving greater structural strength and rigidity.
Easier Application—Goes up quickly, without muck—saving time, labor and money.
Fire-Proof—Non-Warping—Gyproc walls are fire barriers. Cannot crack, warp or shrink.
Takes any Decoration—Including Alabastine, wallpaper, paint and panels.

GYPROC Fireproof Wallboard
For Sale By
Tully Lumber Co., Ltd. - Huntingdon, Que.
T. G. McClatchie - Hemmingford, Que.
Tully Lumber Company, Ltd. - Howick, Que.

FOOD AFTER FORTY

Youth is poor and cannot afford to pay for a rich meal at a high-priced restaurant, but After-Forty drives up in his high-powered car and orders a heavy meal of steak; biscuits, butter, gravies, coffee, thick with cream and sugar; and tops it off with rich apple pie a la mode. He pays the bill and thinks he is through. But there are other bills to pay.

Kidney's liver, pancreas and heart being to extract their toll. Before thirty they were perfectly willing to slave for him, but they are becoming sluggish now and before he is aware he is beset with all sorts of snacking diseases. Bright's disease, diabetes, gout, palpitation of the heart, apoplexy, and all because he constantly takes on an overload of rich foods.

After forty, an ideal allowance for the day would be: Breakfast—fruit, bread, bran, egg or bacon with whole wheat bread and sowered butter, coffee with little cream and no sugar.

Luncheon—Two hot vegetables, other than potatoes; a large salad made with raw vegetables and without rich salad dressing; one or two slices of whole wheat bread with scant butter; a glass of milk.

Dinner—Vegetable soup; very small serving of meat; one plain potato; double serving of other vegetables; no bread at all; a glass of milk; small serving of dessert.

Winter holidays to Europe are increasing so fast on account of reduced steamship and hotel rates at that season it is as difficult to get a passage before Christmas as to get one before Independence Day in the summer.

HUNTINGDON
Miss Viola M. Lucas, R.N., spent a few days with Mrs. Wm. Ferns before going to New York, where she is going to do private nursing.

Mrs. W. K. Phipps recently spent a few days at Sutton with her mother, Mrs. Florence Holmes, and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cappiello, of Fort Covington, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Lefebvre.

Mrs. E. A. Seale, of Cookshire, is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Allan Dawson.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Paquette and two children, Master Cameron and Arthur, Montreal, Miss Ilo Balthazie, Ottawa, Mr. Stanley Rough, Montreal and Mr. E. A. Seale, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Dawson.

Mrs. W. G. McCullough, of Winthrop, is at present visiting friends in town.

On Halloween night, at Woodbine Cottage, the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cooper, a Halloween party was given, when about thirty guests attended in costume. The house was very prettily decorated and the games and amusements were all in keeping with Halloween. An enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Children Cry for Fletcher's CASTORIA
A BABY REMEDY APPROVED BY DOCTORS FOR COUG, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHEA

Relieves fatigue OXO CORDIAL Sustains—Strengthens

ROCKBURN
Mrs. H. Henzel, of New York City, was the guest last week of Mrs. Cordick and other friends in Rockburn. Mrs. James Farquhar, of Piercefield, N.Y., is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. Pollock.

Mrs. F. Rankin is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Wm. Jamieson.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Goldie were guests over the week-end of Mr. and Mrs. E. Rogers, in Antwerp, N.Y.

Dr. R. L. Ballantyne of St. Andrews and Rev. A. S. Reid, of Montreal, were guests last week of Mrs. Cain and attended a meeting of the Rockburn congregation Friday evening.

Heard of the Golf Course
That fellow ahead is so slow that if he fell down it would be half an hour before he hit the ground.

10,000 Bottles a Day
Every day 10,000 women buy a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know that there is no better remedy for their troublesome ailments with their accompanying nervousness, backache, headache, "blue" spells, and rundown condition.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

4 SUPREME BUILDING ADVANTAGES
WHEN building a new home or making over an old one, use this greatest of all wallboards. You will get these four supreme building advantages:

Full 3/8" thickness—giving greater structural strength and rigidity.
Easier Application—Goes up quickly, without muck—saving time, labor and money.
Fire-Proof—Non-Warping—Gyproc walls are fire barriers. Cannot crack, warp or shrink.
Takes any Decoration—Including Alabastine, wallpaper, paint and panels.

GYPROC Fireproof Wallboard
For Sale By
Tully Lumber Co., Ltd. - Huntingdon, Que.
T. G. McClatchie - Hemmingford, Que.
Tully Lumber Company, Ltd. - Howick, Que.

Manistee Expects

The amusement of overseas visitors, London has 470 theatres, 64 parks comprising 91,000 acres, 197 bus routes, 40 day coach trips, 65 steamboat trips, 122 golf courses, 615 tennis courts, 49 dance-halls, 171 historic buildings and 624 restaurants.

Manistee Expects.—The young man who played possum several days in a Manistee hospital, taking treatment for automobile injuries which he had never received, is again at large on the streets. Automobiles, do your duty!—New Liskeard Speaker.

Now in pocket packs of 5 CIGARS CHECK

5 good cigars 25¢

ALL ROCK CITY TOBACCO CO. COUPONS ARE OF EQUAL VALUE. Save the valuable Premium Coupons now enclosed in the pocket packs of Check Cigars. All Rock City Tobacco Co. coupons now in circulation are of equal value in securing premiums, notwithstanding any condition printed thereon. Ask your merchant for a list of Rock City Tobacco Co.'s Quality Premiums.

Not a Fad but a Feed

There are Balanced Rations—and Balanced Rations. Some are reasonable in price—some are expensive. Some are suitable for a practical dairy man—Some for a millionaire who farms as a "hobby." Some contain nothing but good grain and grain products—Some also contain a "filler."

"UNION DAIRY FEED"

{22% protein}

is a Feed ---- not a Fad

A practical feed for practical farmers—Nothing fancy—Not even the price—No "filler" of any kind—No Oat hulls, no screenings, no alfalfa—nothing but the best of grain and grain products and minerals, properly balanced to give the best results—High in digestible protein, low in fibre.

On sale in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces—Ask your local dealer.

UNION GRAINS LIMITED

LENNOXVILLE, QUE.

Local Representatives:—A. H. Dawson, Huntingdon, Que.
Thos. Baird & Sons, Ormstown, Que.
W. C. Collings, Hemmingford, Que.

The Consolaire "Radio's Pleasure Craft" Sweeps Distance Aside

It brings into your home the complete recreation and thrilling beauty of living music. It has back nothing. Rich undertones—exquisite harmonics, racing staccatos—sweeping crescendos—all reach your ear with the realism of the stage itself.

Its amazing sensitivity towers to its climax through the new and wonderful Synchronic Speaker.

It alone provides radio's latest innovation—the Tone Modulator. Here is perfection new to radio.

"Brings you face to face"

Beauharnois Electric Company Limited
Huntingdon - Valleyfield - Beauharnois - St. Remi

Westinghouse Consolaire

"Radio's Pleasure Craft"

Huntingdon Town Council

Met Monday evening, Ald. Faubert absent. The following bills were presented for payment: Laurendeau & Cossette, $19.15; A. H. Reid, $1.00; Nichols Chemical Co., $0.36; E. Cunningham, $25.75; R. E. Kelly & Son, Reg., $20.00; R. A. Small, $14.00; Eastern Steel Products, $41.19; Mrs. Macrow, $1.50; Braithwaite Bros., $30.18; Municipal Service Corp., $2.25; Department of Roads, $50.00; Standard Clay Products, $38.05; W. Warden, $6.00.

It was moved by Ald. Brown, seconded by Ald. Derochie, that the bills as read be paid. Carried.

Mr. J. L. Cluff was present and extended his thanks to the Town of Huntingdon for the valuable assistance rendered at the time of fire on his farm. On account of the fact that several lengths of hose were broken or damaged at this fire a committee of three were appointed to interview the insurance companies who carried the risk upon Mr. Cluff's home, which was unquestionably saved through the use of the Town's fire fighting equipment.

It was moved by Ald. McCracken, seconded by Ald. Hunter, that the secretary be instructed to hand in for collection the account against the estate of Ellen Fortune provided it is not paid by the 15th inst. Carried.

The secretary was instructed to make arrangements with Mr. Anderson of the Beauharnois Electric Co. to meet the council on Wednesday night if possible when a satisfactory street lighting contract might be negotiated.

The Council took communication of a letter received from Notary Rowat in regard to the title to the Fire Station property.

Godmanchester Council

The regular session of Godmanchester Council was held Monday, November 4th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Hall. Mayor Mr. W. J. Sherry and Councilors Ernest Watterson, James Ruddle, John J. Tannahill, M. I. Rankin, Wm. Graham and Alfred Latuvala.

Mr. James E. Barrett, municipal valuator, came before the Board and reported that nine sheep belonging to Mr. John McCarthy had been worried or damaged by dogs and were practically worthless, that he and Mr. M. T. Ross had visited the premises and after taking into consideration the weight of the sheep, and the prevailing price of mutton, etc., had decided that Mr. McCarthy's loss be placed at $125.00 and would recommend that Mr. McCarthy be paid the municipal indemnity out of the compensation fund.

After due deliberation it was resolved that in accordance with the By-law governing the sheep compensation fund that Mr. McCarthy be paid an amount of $83.33 out of the fund.

The Secretary was authorized to settle in full with Nap. Kleppner for work done on the Curran road and Carr front road after the grade is properly completed and the curve on said road east of the Curran Hill is straightened by putting in a few loads of gravel on north side of the road.

The secretary was also authorized to pay Joe Brisebois $300.00 on account for travelling work done on No. 9 sideroad, in 1929.

A resolution of condolence was unanimously passed and a copy ordered to be forwarded to Mrs. J. E. White.

A number of communications were read.

The following bills were ordered paid:—

Huntingdon Gleaner, Inc., $7.80; J. G. Laurendeau, $17.00; Wm. Beattie, $215.44; Coupon Interest, $332.38; Jas. McPherson, $168.00; Antoine Latrelle, $30.00; Frank Allard, $1.50; Lloyd Kelly, $20.00; Geo. Finnegan, $18.00; Jos. A. Daoust, $295.25; Adela Hart, $17.50; Nap. Kleppner, $8.00; Costs re jury list, $2.95; Ray Kleppner, $10.00; M. W. Curran, $58.35; T. J. Whealon, $13.60; Antoine Rabidou, $15.00; Wm. Graham, $5.00; David Anderson, $137.50; Oliver Rabidou, $45.98; T. E. Whittall, $113.58 and $32.40.

Hinchinbrooke Council

Met on Monday the 4th instant with the members all present except Councillor Anderson. Mayor Wallace presiding.

On motion, Harold Steele was appointed to repair the road east of the bridge on the William's road, also the culvert and have the ditch cleaned.

On motion the report of Mr. M. W. Leehy on the Pringle and Anderson-Crutchfield Discharge was accepted, the secretary-treasurer was instructed to pay the costs on the above discharges, and collect the same from the interested parties.

On motion the following bills were ordered paid viz:

County rate and other expenses, $1613.91; Wm. Beattie, $27; A. H. Taylor, $51.30; A. Rosevear, $10.50; Erskine, $17.50; Wm. Graham, $5; Willard Anderson, $7.87; Samuel Henderson, $7.87; George Douglass, $9.25; Clarence Wilson, $4; Norman Wilson, $21.49; The Gleaner, $14.64; James Brown, $0; Wm. Hoyer, $4.25; E. Lindsay, $2.25; Jos. Anderson, $4.62; Stanley Anderson, $16.75; Duncan Neely, $16.50; John Matther, $3; Walter Elliot, $2.25; M. W. Leehy expenses on Pringle discharge $62; and on the Anderson-Crutchfield discharge, $44.

St. Malachie Council

Met on Monday, members all present, Mayor Alfred Greig presiding. A resolution, moved by Coun. McNeil and Collum was passed that the secretary write the manager of the Farmers Telephone Co., stating that unless their lines throughout the Parish are not put in order to render better service to the public, the matter will have to be taken to the Public Utilities Commission.

On motion of Coun. Kilgour and Dumas, the following accounts were ordered paid.

Laurendeau & Cossette, advice, $5; A. Beaudin, posting notices, $20; Fortunat Lepage, repairing bridge, $2; Thos. Baird & Son, cement, $22; L. Tarshis & Son, steel rails, $59.50; Hector Frappier, overseeing road work, $12; Quebec Road Dept., int. on road work, $2905.69; Oliver Bergevin, overseeing road work, $25; John Paul, lumber and sand, $12.96; Paul Edmund, work on bridge, $20.10; Louis Ferrault, work on bridge, $80.80; Expenses on Reid discharge, $76.17.

Franklin Council

Met November 4th. Members all present, under the presidency of the Mayor, C. H. Cassidy.

Mr. Charles Dickenson was present and gave his report on the cutting and burning of the brush through the Municipality, he reported every road in pretty good shape, except the Grumshaw and Welch roads, which need some cleaning up.

Moved by Councillor Lamb, seconded by Coun. Barrette, that the following bills be paid: Ernest Vaillancourt, $5; Chas. H. Cassidy, $3.84; A. Brunet, et. tiles, $90; County rate, $429.87; Nat. Tremblay, $5; Legal Blank Printing Co., $2.31; Octave Tremblay, $10.48; Peter Donnelly, $4.50.

St. Anicet Council

At a general monthly session of the municipal council, held on Nov. 4th, at 7:30 p.m. present Messrs. Clota Caza, Mayor; James Clarke, Arthur Trepanier, R. Dupuis, Avila Carriere and Olivier Bonnevillie, councillors.

It was proposed that the following accounts be approved and paid: O. Bonnevillie, $2.50; P. Vaillancourt, $6.25; R. Caza, $3.80; R. Hart, $1.25; D. Hart, $2.50; A. Tripanier, $155.15; S. McNicol, $12; Ed. Tripanier, $35.00; Geo. Rabidou, $12.50; O. Tripanier, $3.80; L. McSwain, $9; Wm. McNicol, $7.50; Antoine Mainville, $32.25; P. Guerin, $1,486.30.

HEMINGFORD

The death of Miss Janet Laurie occurred very suddenly on November 1st at the home of her nephew, Mr. Douglas Laurie, Miss Laurie had attended the W.M.S. meeting in the afternoon at 11:30 p.m. and returned home about ten o'clock that night. She suddenly fell and passed away the following morning. The remains were taken to Montreal where the funeral service was held at her brother's residence, Mr. Wm. Laurie, 398 Melrose avenue, Monday afternoon at 2:30.

The members of the Junior Red Cross enjoyed a Halloween party in the Intermediate school Thursday evening. Games were provided. The Fortune Telling booth was enjoyed by all an dthe chamber of horrors, was a horror to some of the younger children. Prizes were given for the best costume and awards were given to Aileen McMillan and Wilma Curry. Mrs. Lindsay and her pupils were invited to be present and assisted with the evening's programme. Others who assisted were Miss Florence Keady and Miss Millicent Orr. Much credit is due the teachers in charge of the Junior Red Cross, Miss Seale and Miss Thompson in their undertaking. Proceeds from the sale of candy, fortune booth, etc., goes to the Red Cross fund.

The regular monthly meeting of the Brooklet W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Ernest Rosevear on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 2nd. A goodly number of members and visitors were present. The president, Mrs. J. A. Levers, conducted the devotional and business meeting. A splendid report of the Provincial Convention, held in Ottawa, was given by the delegates, who attended. The president's address, given at the convention was also read. A box of jam and jelly was packed to be sent to the Junior Red Cross. The flower mission supper, reported one wreath sent to bereaved, two cards and three bouquets sent to sick and five sick calls made since our last meeting. A number of quilt blocks were pieced during the afternoon. The hostess served a delicious supper at the close of the meeting.

BROOKLET

Miss Bernice McClatchie entertained the Wide Awake Club, of Atholton on Friday evening, November 1st. A good time was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Palmer, of Waterloo, is visiting at the home of her brother, Mrs. H. E. Wilson. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Farquhar were guests on Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce, of Aubrey.

CHEESE CUSTARD

One cup cheese, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 cup cream or con-salt and paprika densified milk. Place cream and cheese in a double boiler and heat slowly, stirring. Beat until smooth and pour over the yolks of eggs. Add seasoning. Bake in custard cups till firm and serve with jelly or preserves.

Parknasilla, Ireland, is in the same latitude as lower Hudson Bay, but is in such a sheltered situation that the vegetation is sub-tropical, with palm trees lining the roads, very much as in the West Indies.

Thanksgiving Specials

Our line of bakery delicacies affords ample suggestions for you to grace your festive board on that eventful day.

Ganong's Chocolates

Ottawa Dairy Ice Cream

TEDSTONE'S DOMESTIC BAKERY, Phone 48. - Huntingdon.

CREAMED DISHES TO REPLACE MEAT.

Creamed vegetable dishes are wholesome and nourishing and serve excellently as the main dish for luncheon or supper—when a meat dish is not required. The following dishes are inexpensive and are easily made.

Asparagus Luncheon Dish—Prepare a round of toast for each serving and place on it five stalks of hot canned asparagus. On top of this place a poached egg (cut round), then cover with cheese sauce and serve piping hot.

Celery and Carrot on Toast—Boil sliced carrots and celery, cut in half-inch pieces in salted water until tender. Serve on toast with a well-seasoned cream sauce. Make the sauce of half vegetable water and half cream.

Scalloped Corn—One can corn, 2 cups milk, 2 eggs, 6 soda crackers, rolled fine, 1 tablespoonful butter, salt and pepper.

Scalloped Potatoes With Eggs—Place in a buttered baking dish alternate layers of sliced cooked potatoes, sliced hard-cooked eggs and parboiled onions, pour over them a well-seasoned cheese sauce, cover with crumbed crumbs and bake in a moderate oven until heated through and crumbs are brown.

Luncheon Potatoes—Cut boiled potatoes in neat slices, sprinkle with salt and pepper and a dash of celery salt. Make one and one-half cupfuls cheese sauce, seasoned to taste, add the potatoes, pour into a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with buttered crumbs and place in a moderate oven until desired, the mixture may be served on toast—doing away with the necessity of heating the oven when a gas or electric stove is used.

Cream Sauce—The sauce for these dishes is made as follows: Melt two level tablespoonfuls of butter; add 2 level tablespoonfuls of flour and the seasonings, and stir until the mixture bubbles; then add 1 cupful of milk, and stir until the mixture is smooth and thick. Do not stop stirring for a moment. Grated cheese is added for cheese sauce.

To make a more nourishing sauce, use only 1 tablespoonful each of butter and flour; when the sauce is smooth and thick, stir in a slightly beaten egg, and continue stirring only for two or three minutes longer. Remove and serve immediately.

THE "BABY TEETH" AND THEIR CARE

Paradoxically speaking, the care of baby's teeth should begin before they are born. Symptoms of tooth eruption in the young child are, as a rule, not lacking. Locally there will be slight inflammation, with swelling; the area in which the tooth will erupt shows redness and shininess of tissue. The child will exhibit a tendency to bite at anything such as its toes, fingers, etc., and evidence a general irritability and restlessness, accompanied, possibly, by a slight fever.

Should the eruption of the tooth seem too tardy and cause the child considerable pain, the family dentist should be consulted. As soon as the first tooth has erupted use a soft brush and clear water for the daily brushing. Later when the child has reached the age when it will not swallow everything that is put in its mouth, a little good dental cream may be put on the brush.

However, along with these efforts, attention should be given to a correct diet, and the parent should insist on proper mastication of its food by the child. Little children should not be allowed to eat candy or other sweets; they are ruinous to the young teeth. It would not be too early to take the child to the dentist at two and a half or three years of age, and thereafter at intervals of from three to six months, as may prove necessary. In this way, small cavities can be detected early and treated with practically no discomfort to the child, and so the teeth are preserved from further and extensive decay.

Born Drum-Major—A leader of men," said Hi Ho, the sage of China, town, "is one who sees which way the crowd is going and steps in ahead."—Washington Star

Oversight—No wonder people scoff at detectives. Some thief stole a St. Louis man's cornet and they didn't even interview the neighbours.—Lindsay Post

HEMINGFORD

Last Wednesday evening the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's and Knox United churches held their annual chicken supper and entertainment in the Town Hall. More than three hundred people partook of the bountiful supper supplied by the ladies and then a programme was carried out. Vocal solos were given by Mr. G. H. Buzzell, of Abbotville, Que., and Mr. W. F. Welch, of Howick, both of whom delighted the audience with their singing and responded generously to the enthusiastic encores. Our old friend and always popular reciter, Mr. F. A. Sweet caused much laughter by his humorous recitations, his personification of the old lady who thought so much of the men "special-ly Jim" was most humorous. Chorus and vocal and instrumental duets in which Mrs. T. E. Cleland, Mrs. R. Turnbull, Mrs. Harold McNaughton, Mrs. Herbert McNaughton, Mrs. S. Grey and Miss Millicent Orr took part combined to furnish an entertaining programme. A humorous playlet entitled, "How the Story Grew." The characters being taken by Mrs. G. J. Brown, Mrs. J. P. Simpson, Mr. F. A. Sweet, Mrs. W. F. Orr, Harold Orr, Mrs. E. McNaughton, the Misses May Bennett, Helen Manning and Millicent Orr. The play which recalled old times closed with the old chorus "Seeing Nellie Home." The National Anthem brought to a close a very enjoyable evening.

Rev. J. Payton, B.A. had charge of the services in St. Andrew's and Knox churches last Sunday and was the week-end guest at the Manse.

Mrs. McVior, of Swanton, Vt., and family spent Sunday at Farnham with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Orr. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Orr and Miss Millicent Orr spent the week-end at Swanton, Vt., guests of Mr. and Mrs. McVior, Mrs. Orr's parents.

Mrs. David Orr, of Mooers, N.Y., is a guest at Orr's Hotel.

Mrs. W. F. McKay was a visitor in Montreal a few days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McKay and family spent Sunday at Farnham with Mr. and Mrs. Walker.

Mr. Joseph Kyle returned last Tuesday from a prolonged trip in the West visiting relatives at different points.

Rev. Mr. Payton, Russelltown, conducted services in the United church Sunday last. Mr. Fuicher conducting communion services at Russelltown.

Mrs. J. S. Cleland and two sons, Moore and Donald, spent the week-end at Chateaugay.

Mr. and Mrs. Hayden and Mr. Eddie Hayden, of Montreal, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hayden.

Mrs. Sam Thompson is visiting at Swanton, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. John Fosburg and daughter, of Lacolle, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Paine.

Mrs. Alfred Fenney visited at Swanton, N.Y., last Sunday. Mrs. W. M. Laurie entertained a few of the wet tots at a Halloween party Thursday last.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian W.M.S. convention, at the home of Miss Nellie Stewart, at a small attendance than usual. One quilt was finished and some other work done. At the close of the afternoon Miss Stewart served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wallace and daughter Lillian of St. Albans, were week-end guests at the home of Mr. John Wallace, Roxham.

Mrs. W. T. Hayes has been very ill the past week, but glad to report she is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. George Orr and Miss Mabel Keddy attended the funeral of Mrs. Orr's cousin, the late Mulo Scriver, of Champlain, N.Y., on Thursday.

Mr. John Glass is spending a week in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Peacock were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Glass.

Mrs. Kendall and Mrs. Robert Blair called on friends Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Thompson were in Howick Tuesday to be with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Thompson, who are celebrating the fortieth anniversary of their marriage.

Mrs. Lorraine is very ill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Emerson.

COVEY HILL

Mrs. H. Lowden is spending some time with her son at Dewittville.

Mr. W. R. Perry attended a "bee" at Mr. Beattie's on Tuesday.

Mr. Bourdon's sale on Monday was largely attended. Cows brought only a medium price but other articles sold well. Mr. Bourdon is going to reside in the city.

Messrs. W. H. Stewart and Geo. Harrington motored to Burlington on Friday.

Mrs. M. Stewart visited her brother Mr. J. R. Beattie last Tuesday.

The Presbyterian Thanksgiving service on Nov. 10th. will be held at 7:30 instead of 2:30.

Mr. Roderick Sutton and family, Mr. Richard Taylor and Mr. Geo. Sutton attended a party at Mr. Sutton's on Wednesday.

Mr. Carl Semple's friends were sorry to hear of his home being burnt a short time ago with the loss of nearly everything in the house.

Mr. and Mrs. James Watt and daughters, also Mr. R. C. Whyte were amongst those who spent the week-end in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Lowden and children were recent visitors of Mr. Manning and family at Greenfield Park.

Mrs. M. Churchill and Mrs. W. A. Churchill were guests this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barr. Mrs. Ida Blanchard made a number of farewell calls before leaving to spend the winter with her daughter in Methuen, Mass.

Miss Marie Houle returned this week from a visit with relatives in Ludlow, Mass.

Hallowe'en was observed here with a good deal of enthusiasm and some amusing encounters. One such was a case in which a farmer was roused by his faithful watch-dog in time to see his buggy being removed by two stalwart youths. Under cover of the darkness he nimbly slipped out and pulling backwards on the rig impeded their progress so greatly that they began to investigate and found the owner at the rear.

An interesting meeting of the Presbyterian W. M. S. took place at the home of Mrs. John Jackson, Sr., last Friday, and a good amount of work was accomplished. An enjoyable lunch was served by the hostess. Mr. and Mrs. John Lowden of Dewittville and Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, Jr. visited at Mr. E. Lowden's recently.

Desperation prevailed in the office of the Daily Tab. Strong men bowed their heads in grief and weak men were out of the picture altogether. It was obvious that stark tragedy was in the air.

"My Gosh Bill!" groaned the managing editor. "Nothing scandalous has happened for twenty-four hours! What'll we ever do for the front page?"

"Aw, don't get discouraged, Steve," the city editor comforted. "Something'll happen. I've still got faith in human nature."

—American Legion Monthly.

A whole cityful of cheerful, smiling people rushing about with no hats on; this is the visitor's first impression of Prague, capital of Czechoslovakia.

30RN

Cooper—At Dr. Leighton's private hospital, Portland, Maine, on Oct. 30th., to Mr. and Mrs. Duncan A. Cooper, a daughter, Margaret Nelson.

DIED

McCarthy—At New Erin, Quebec, on October 29th., 1929, Dennis Joseph McCarthy, in his 41st year.

Moriarty—Accidentally in Montreal, Saturday, November 2nd., 1929, Alice Curran, wife of the late Michael Moriarty, in her 66th year.

Morrison—On November 1., 1929, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. John Duncan, Ormstown, Que., Annie Segar, wife of the late D. C. Morrison, of Huntingdon, aged 77 years.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. John McCarthy and daughters wish to thank assistance relatives and friends for their sympathy and kindness in their recent sad bereavement.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for their kindness and floral offerings at the time of the death of our mother.

W. G. & J. F. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Storm

CARD OF THANKS

We sincerely wish to thank our kind friends, and neighbors, for their sympathy and assistance shown us during our recent sad bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Rolfe and family, Mr. Michael Moriarty and Sisters.

JELLY COOKIES

1 cup butter, 1 cup brown sugar, 3/2 cups flour, 2 cups Corn Flakes, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup water, jelly.

Cream the butter, add the sugar, and beat thoroughly. Add the flour, which has been sifted with the baking powder and salt, then the water, and last the Corn Flakes. Roll the cookie dough thin, and cut into rounds. Spread one round with jelly and put a second layer on top, pressing the edges together. Bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for ten to twelve minutes.

The cheapest air trip in the world is to be had in Germany at Bad Oeynhausen, Westphalia, where for $5 a passenger can fly over half of Germany in about three hours.

FREE

you can have absolutely FREE our beautiful box of TOILET POWDER perfumed with and also a SURPRISE GIFT given away with each box. Send in your name and address and we will mail you a free sample.

CHARMAINE

Du Jour Co.

Dept. A, 2049 St-Denis Montreal.

Electric Wiring and Fixtures Work Guaranteed Estimates furnished on request S. J. CURRIE Phone 222 Huntingdon, Que.

We have just received a shipment of Bridge & Table LAMPS Come in while the selection is large, they are just what you wanted for your living room. Beauharnois Electric Co. Limited Huntingdon, Valleyfield, Beauharnois, St. Remi.

Explained—Father: "I'm surprised that you should become infatuated with that girl. Why, you should have been able to read her like a book." Son: "Well, you see, dad, the light was rather low."—Sydney Bulletin.

Ungallant Comment—"Women don't fool themselves no more than men do, except I ain't never seen one that didn't blame her fat on something else besides eatin' too much."—Nelson News.

A Stock Reducing SALE from NOW to NEW YEAR'S of Footwear of all kinds, Rubbers and Men's Furnishings. A chance to save money at the time you need the goods. This Week's Offerings Pullover Sweaters, priced from $4.25 to $6.00. Now $3.95. Men's Underwear, "Penman's 95" and "Mercury" Shirts and Drawers, Reg. $2.25 for $1.95. Combinations, Reg. $4.50 for $3.95. Fleece-lined Shirts and Drawers, 75c. each. Fleece-lined Combinations, $1.45 and $1.95. Jaeger ladies' Hose, 6 shades, Reg. $1.75 for $1.45. Men's Flannel Shirts, $1.00. Ladies' Boudoir Slippers, 75c. Men's and ladies' Wool Slippers, $1.00. Children's at 60c., 70c., 80c. Men's 16 in. Brown Laced Rubbers, all sizes. Now $4.95. Shoe Polish, Black, Brown, Tan, 10c.

Kelly & Lanktree Huntingdon, Que.

HUNTER'S A Hummer of a DRESS SALE Dress bargains is right at five dollars. One hundred snappy style Dresses on the racks today. Sizes 16 to 50. Silk and Wool Dresses, Printed Silk Dresses, Flat Crepe Dresses. Good styles, good colors. Real Dress values at five dollars. Fifty kiddies warm Winter Coats of all Wool Velours in six colors. Some with Fur Collars, some with Storm Collars. A real buy at $4.49. Girl's High School Coats of Navy Blue Whitney, lined with Kosy Red Flannel. Sizes 10 to 17. The price $5.95. Junior Coats of fine Broadcloth. Sizes 14 to 19 with Fur Collars and Cuffs. The price $9.95. At three forty-nine a sale of ladies' Coat Sweaters. Sizes 36 to 44. Good styles, good colors. Some Silk and Wool, some pure Wool. A sale $3.49. Dollar ninety-five sale of ladies' Silk and Wool Slipover Sweaters. All sizes. Six colors, $1.95. A ninety-five cent sale of kiddies' pure Wool Sweaters. Sizes 22 to 30 in four colors.

49 cent Hosiery Sale Penman's full fashioned Cashmere Hose. Sizes 8 1/2 to 10. Black and six colors. Warm serviceable Hose for 49c. Big special thirty dozen ladies' Silk and Wool Hose. Six colors, 39c. or three pair one dollar. A ninety-five cent sale of ladies' Flannel-ette Night Dresses of extra quality in white and colors. SUPER VALUES in Men's Clothing Ready for November selling with a clothing stock the biggest and best of them all. This season men's Suit prices are good prices, $6.50, $9.00, $12., $15., $20., $25., $30., $35. Boy's Suits, $5.95, $8., $10., $14. Some snappy values in men's Overcoats at nine dollars, twelve, fifteen, twenty, twenty-five. The Store of Good Values A. E. HUNTER

LAYMAN'S BANQUET HELD IN HUNTINGDON UNITED CHURCH

(Continued from page 1.) Immediately and carefully selected captains and teams as may be required according to the size of the Pastoral Charge. It should discuss plans, determine objectives and fix the date of the Canvass. The M. & M. Allocation sent down by Presbytery is the minimum amount required of the Charge if it is to bear its full share of the cost of the general work of the Church.

This Committee should secure from the minister a complete list, corrected to date, of all members and adherents, and a small but dependable select sub-committee should be charged with the responsibility of preparing the canvassers' cards (white). See that the addresses are correct and that the names of all present and prospective givers in each household are entered, also that amounts now being contributed both to local support and to the M. & M. Fund. In the special column provided for the purpose enter the amounts which in the judgment of this select committee the contributor might be asked to give. This is of great importance, not only to the canvasser, but frequently to the contributor who is anxious to do his duty and welcomes a suggestion. The information on this card is for the canvasser's use only and is intended to enable him to make an intelligent and effective canvass.

In large congregations after these cards have all been prepared, they should be divided among the team captains and by them to the canvassers. In smaller congregations when teams are not necessary the cards should be divided among the canvassers. Plan so that canvassers shall not have more than ten households to interview in five or six days. The distribution of these cards is usually best accomplished at a supper meeting of the canvassers where instructive and inspirational addresses may be given. Full typewritten instructions should be given to each canvasser.

Several days before the date of the canvass a letter should be sent to every member and adherent from the Canvass Committee or the minister or both, commending the canvass to the sympathetic consideration of the people of the congregation, starting the total amount required for local purposes and for missions, and intimating approximately at what time the canvassers will call.

Most communities contain one or more families that can best be approached by picked workers. A small Special Names Committee will be necessary in many congregations to secure the best results. Where such a Committee is required it should begin its work well before the date of the canvass. Before starting out, every canvasser will, of course, conscientiously canvass himself, and should inform himself regarding the Church and its work.

The most successful canvassers are those completed within a few hours. This can be achieved in the ministerial Charge by proper organization. If the undertaking is spread over several days, attention becomes divided, interest dulls and the work drags.

Two canvassers should usually work together, a younger man with an older, experienced man is excellent. They should take with them a good supply of blank contributor's pledge cards (buff). The training of new workers and cultivation of future leaders is important. A determined effort should be made to get all cards returned to the Chairman of your Committee promptly. Where results are unsatisfactory, another worker may do better if action is taken at once. It is important that every canvasser's card (white) be returned with the corresponding pledge cards (buff) attached to it, indicating refusals, if any. The Chairman of the Canvass Committee should check off on his master list all cards as they come in.

Canvassers should aim to close each prospect promptly. The person who insists on delay and wants more time to consider is likely to ultimately prove a disappointment.

Intelligent, tactful and sympathetic canvassers will be able to render invaluable service in re-awakening interest in the local church, and in dispelling incorrect notions or obscure grievances.

Aim to secure 100% of the objective. Anything less means a problem. To stop short of the entire objective will throw of the entire obligation upon others.

Many of the most successful canvassers known have been held on Sunday afternoon. Where this is adopted the Canvass is announced at the morning service. The names of the canvassers are read from the pulpit and at the close of the service the workers are solemnly dedicated to their task.

In rural charges it may be more advantageous to conduct the canvass on a Monday or a Saturday or some other week day. The preparation and method may be varied as occasion requires, but what is here recommended has been tested in all sizes and types of congregations and proven successful.

Pay no heed to anyone who says, "That scheme may be right but it won't work in our church."

After all cards are in, tabulate and total the results. If the returns are not sufficient to give assurance that the objective will be reached, the official Board should be immediately summoned, and the results of the Canvass reported in order that supplementary steps may be taken without delay. Where the interests of the Kingdom of God are concerned no Board should cease its efforts until complete success is assured.

Issued by the Missionary and Maintenance Fund Committee of the Montreal Presbytery.

Rev. William Munro, D.D., was the second speaker of the evening. He spoke of the important work that fell upon the United Church in Canada as its lawful duty to administer the Gospel to the newcomers to Canada. This work rests upon the very Christian principle of evangelization, and it is we Christians who believe in evangelization.

As the United Church came into being for the purpose of accomplishing great ideals, one of them was to release our energies, release our resources and to do a great work in evangelization that was possible in our divided state.

The most important thing to us, is the welfare of our human lives. This is more important than all our commercial enterprises or even our governments. In this intricate world life it is impossible to live into ourselves. Our life is bound up with the splendid adventurous life of our young people who have gone forward and extended our boundaries, and also of the influx of peoples who have come to live within our Dominion. Consequently 300 communities and 600 congregations have been combined, and 400 mission fields tapped.

Through the church amalgamations and readjustments the administration work has been curtailed, and now has great a task and opportunity awaits us.

In Alberta 25 areas overlapping of the mission work of the various churches was everywhere evident. Today no overlapping is found. In Saskatchewan the population is 50% English speaking and the other 50% French speaking. In the 50% English speaking are to be found 400 ministers, but in the 50% non Anglo-Saxon only 19 missionaries are at work. This fact is not good for Canada.

In the great Peace River Country, in the Northwest Territories, there is a land the United Church has 26 ministers of the gospel, and only 7 other missionaries of other denominations are to be found. As we are the only Canadian Church it is but natural that they should look to us for assistance. With the resources we have, how could it be otherwise. It is our challenge, we who have now 8,000 points of contact in Canada. Our task is to evangelize our Canada and then send out "His Saving Gospel" to the ends of the earth.

Dr. E. Leslie Pidgeon, of Erskine United Church, Montreal, gave a very interesting and inspiring address on "The Layman's Responsibility in Supporting the Enterprises of our Church." He pointed out that the three great institutions that help to build the nation are the home, the school and the church, and from his wide experience as a minister in the West he gave many instances of the value of the church in the great land. He pictured villages where the church had been established and where it had been impossible to send a missionary and showed how one place had become a place of abiding and prosperous and the other so lawless that it was unsafe to live in them.

He urged those present to do their utmost to see that the Missionary money would be raised so that the many places in our great West and in other lands where we have opened missionary work that the work may be carried forward more vigorously than ever.

ORMSTOWN

We were pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Eric LeMay of Montreal, with us for Communion in the United Church Sunday morning.

The young people who were at the Halloween party at Franklin Centre, Thursday night, report a splendid evening.

Miss Edith Snydore, who has been in the General Hospital at Montreal, returned home Monday, very much improved in health.

The local Catholic Church is having a Mission this week.

Miss Bessie Harrison of Montreal, spent the week-end the guest of Mrs. J. McNeil.

Mrs. Gentle returned home Saturday after having spent a few days in Howick.

The Misses Lucy, Sybil Carter, and Miss Deven were visitors of Miss Grace Lindsay, Thursday and Friday.

Mr. Clarence Baird of Montreal, visited with the home folks over the week-end.

The Masonic service held in the United Church Sunday afternoon was well attended.

Miss Lorna Middleton left Thursday morning for Belleville, Ont. where she will be enrolled at the Business College.

294 members took Sacrament in St. Paul's United Church Sunday morning. Five new members were added to the church, the Misses Elizabeth Roy, Gladys Hamilton and Messrs. B. McGerrig, Victor and Donald Lang.

Miss Beryl Moore spent the week-end in Montreal.

Wednesday evening of last week about fifty members of the local Y. P. S. motored to Howick Hall and spent a most enjoyable Halloween evening. They were guests of the Howick Y. P. S. They had a fine lunch, visited, played games and danced.

The Misses Rhoda and Eunice Cullen spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rodger.

Miss Lucia McMillan spent the week-end in Franklin.

Miss Emma Reid of Howick, is teaching in the Tateshurst School in the absence of their teacher, Miss Edith Sproule.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams were most agreeably surprised last Saturday evening when their friends and neighbours, to the number of seventy five came with them to celebrate with them the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. Rev. Mr. Pollock, on behalf of those present, after making a few pleasing remarks, called on Mr. and Mrs. Williams to come forward and presented them with two beautiful arm chairs and several pieces of silver. Although taken by surprise Mr. Williams thanked them all most heartily for their kind remembrances.

Mr. James Winter, Mr. W. R. Stewart and Mr. Alfred Farquhar were then called upon and made a few remarks. After a bountiful lunch was served the remainder of the evening was spent with music and dancing.

Rev. William Munro, D.D., was the second speaker of the evening. He spoke of the important work that fell upon the United Church in Canada as its lawful duty

VALLEYFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart of Ormstown were visitors to our city on Friday.

Mrs. E. F. Potter arrived home on Wednesday from Montreal bringing her little daughter. Both mother and little one are doing well.

Mr. Aubrey McBride and Mr. James Dobbie consider that All Saint's Day is their lucky day, going out for a drive in Mr. McBride's car when nearing Beauharnois in some unaccountable way the car skidded and after turning clean over landed in the ditch, as by a miracle the occupants of the car escaped with a severe shaking. The car was badly damaged.

Advertise a thing, be it visible or not, an ideal, a thought, an aspiration, yes, even a commonplace article, and then keep on repeating the advertising often enough and people will not only believe in it, but if needed, fight for it. That was the motive for the Trinity Players put forth their farce comedy, "It Pays to Advertise." This well-balanced company of players who have a reputation of many years behind them were visitors to Valleyfield on Friday evening under the auspices of the managing board of the Presbyterian church. Though the night was a disagreeable one, a large audience greeted the players as they appeared on the stage of the Gault Theatre.

The play is the residence of Roy C. McGruer and Walter Hackett, is a fast moving comedy with many subtle interweaves in the pride that a father bears towards his son and also the touch of romance which is as needful as salt or spice. The hero is the son of a wealthy soap manufacturer. When the first act opens he is quite content to be merely a rich man's son but when his father discovers him for wanting to marry the former's secretary, he nobly decides to go to work. The secretary, however has been hired by the father because she promised to get the son to stop loafing and to evangelize our Canada and then send out "His Saving Gospel" to the ends of the earth.

The duchess was the reigning beauty of Rome, and was as well known in London. No smart party was complete without her, and these pages testify to her unflinching zest.

At Farnborough Hill, the ex-Empress's house, she often met the composer, Dame Ethel Smyth, who used to bicycle over from her cottage and change into evening clothes behind the bushes in the park.

On one occasion when the guests were assembled in the drawing-room, she advanced towards her hostess running and curtseying at the same time. Several doctors have decided to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

SO FULL OF ELECTRICITY HE CANNOT USE TELEPHONE

Plymouth, Eng.—Frederick Stone, a chauffeur at Holsworthy, north of Devonshire, is so charged with electricity that:

1. He cannot use a telephone or wear a radio headphone without receiving a shock, and

2. He cannot drive his automobile or walk without wearing vulcanite insulation pads in his shoes, and

3. He can locate buried gold, silver and copper.

This strange "electrical" man has spent 20 of his 49 years in hospitals puzzling doctors.

A public test of his divining power has been held at Plymouth Municipal museum under the supervision of the curator. The electric man located without trouble buried nuggets of gold, gold bearing quartz and even gold jewelry.

Stone finds hidden gold and copper by means of a wand consisting of an ordinary steel clock spring. This twists and wriggles in his hand like a snake when he approaches buried treasure. The number of wriggles denotes the number of feet he is away from the exact spot.

Discussing his unusual gift, Stone said that these divining spells put a great strain upon him and were always followed by periods of intense lassitude.

"The only way I can get relief from the electric currents when I am thus overdone," he said, "is to touch wood."

"I enjoy listening to the wireless but loud speaker, but as soon as I put on a pair of headphones I feel physical helplessness as if I had received a blow on the head. I cannot use a telephone without intolerable discomfort."

"I once wore my wife's wrist watch and it came all my pieces. I must be supercharged with electricity."

The shoes Stone wears have soles an inch thick made of old motor tires. Several doctors have decided that he suffers from some form of St. Vitus dance.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

HOWICK

Mrs. Thomas Kerr spent Tuesday in Montreal.

Week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson were Mrs. Jacobie, Miss Jacobie, Mr. Howard Burgess and Mr. Earl Wilson, of Cape Cod, also Miss Mary Burnfield of Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rutherford and little daughter of Spencer, Mass. spent last week with Mrs. Rutherford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Peattie.

Mrs. M. Knox and Miss Eva Knox spent last week visiting friends in Montreal.

Upwards of seventy members and friends of the Georgetown Bible Class enjoyed their annual Halloween party at the home of the President, Mr. Albert Wilson, on Friday evening, 1st inst. Prizes were given for the best costumes, which were won by Miss Winnette Greig and Mr. John Holmes. The first part of the evening was spent in playing games suitable for the occasion. Then after refreshments were served Mr. and Mrs. Robert Craig were presented with a bible by Mr. Albert Wilson, from the members of the class. The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing after which Miss Lois Elliott thanked the Wilson family for their kind hospitality. The evening was brought to a close by singing, "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows" and "Auld Lang Syne."

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland have taken up their residence in the Irish Concession, Mr. Sutherland will manage the fox farm which is about completed.

Week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Stewart were Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Stewart, son Rodgie and Mr. A. Ross Stewart, of Montreal.

Mr. Graham, Experimental Farm, Ottawa, is spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Ness.

SHAKESPEARE'S SCHOOLMASTER

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

Roche evidently possessed some practical knowledge, for in 1573 he drew up a deed of conveyance of a piece of land which John Shakespeare added to his garden.

Roche was followed by Thomas Hunt. It was said that his salary at Stratford was twice that of the headmaster of Eton at that time. It was from such men that Shakespeare acquired his "small Latin and less Greek," and there is no excuse for the assumption that he was illiterate.

"H.B.

Many people assume that Shakespeare was a man of little or no education, says the Daily Mail. In fact, the Baconians boldly assert that he was an ignorant booby who was paid to assume the authorship of the plays to save the real author from the discredit and possible danger of having written the play of Richard III.

He had no excuse for being uneducated, except that financial difficulties compelled his father to take him from school earlier than was usual. His schoolmasters were scholars. The first was Walter Roche, Fellow of Corpus Christi and rector of Clifford Chambers.

He lived in the picturesque timber rectory at Clifford Chambers, not far from Stratford.

"STORM HOUSE"

by KATHLEEN NORRIS

Copyright 1929.

Elsie took to having long, leisurely afternoon talks with the old clergyman who had been her mother's and her grandmother's friend.

"I tell him that the doctor says that there is no reason why I should not live for twenty years."

Jane was inclined to have a reaction of impatience, but Jerome would send his wife a quick, uneasy look when musically and amusedly, she expressed herself after this fashion.

"Why, you were a lot sicker than this four years ago, Petty," Jerome might say gently.

In the end they were all, ever Elsie herself, taken completely by surprise, stunned with the suddenness of a blow which came quite without warning.

They were out on the terrace on a certain exquisite April afternoon. The air was actually hot, the sea a stretch of palest blue satin and the great trees that shaded Storm House were in tender leaf, through which delicate shadows moved and were still.

One of those golden days, flawless in warmth, perfume, and beauty, was holding them all in its spell; Elsie and old Dr. Graham were silent, Jerome was stretched in a long chair, doing with his hat over his eyes, and little Carol was walking an inverted satin poppy to and fro on the fresh grass, murmuring an occasional conversation in her play.

Jane was sitting on a canvas cushion, near enough to the child to contribute a word or a suggestion to the game now and then, half asleep in balmy air and warm afternoon silence.

"We didn't find the seven-letter word meaning aware," she said lazily, reverting in a long pause, to last night's game. "Come on, now, Doctor, you're smart. A seven-letter word meaning aware."

"Doctor!" Elsie said, chucking, and then clutching Jerome's arm as he grasped her, and leaning, panting heavily, against him, she raised smiling, sinking eyes to his. "This is it, Jerry," she said clearly, unalteredly. "This is it, dear!"

"Doctor!" the man said hoarsely. "Quick—it's nothing. She's faint." He laid her back in her chair. Her eyes were closed, she seemed to shrink and shrivel in their very presence. The glasses she had been wearing slid over the unmoving silk at her breast, clinked on a stone hidden in the green, green grass. Jane had a strange quick thought that it would not matter, now if they broke. Jerome was kneeling, his face buried against her shoulder, one of her hair hands held against his lips. He looked up, and Jane thought that never in her life had she seen so ghastly a face.

"Fainted," he said in a whisper to the doctor.

The doctor, laying down the wrist his fingers had been holding, faintly shook his head.

"We must get her into the house," the old man said to Jane.

"But, my God, she was speaking to us only a minute ago!" Jerome said frantically. "Jane caught his arm, spoke in his ear."

"Mr. Delafield—we'll do everything. But will you take Carol away?" she said. "You know we don't want her frightened."

Jerome got to his feet, looked at the vaguely.

"Yes—yes," he said dazedly, "she mustn't be frightened."

Carol had risen from her flower play and was looking from her mother's collapsed body and unconscious face to all the other faces in turn, a dawning uneasiness and fright in her eyes.

"Come with me, dear. Mother's fainted," Jerome said to her, taking her hand. They went off through the farmyard gate together.

The whole world seemed oddly changed with Elsie dead. Jane was conscious of a steady surprise that the lean, sickly recluse had been so important a figure in her small world. All Los Antonios came to do her honour, and scores of muddy, comfortable cars drove in from all the outlying ranches, from Santa Rita, and Salinas, and all the neighbouring towns.

Elsie lay in state in the downstairs bedroom that had been her own, the old-fashioned shutters drawn at the window; the sunlight, streaming with golden notes, came through chinks and cracks, mellow sunlight that sent a queer light into the apartment. Jane, solemn and scare-eyed, dressed Elsie's hair, and in her folded fingers set the three creamy rosebuds that Carol had gathered for "Mummy."

The doctor's wife had carried Carol off, at first, to play with her grandchildren, but Jerome appeared to be anxious, and fretful at this, and Jane herself went and brought the child back, to move about the disordered house quite cheerfully and entirely unaffected, with her small hand tight in her father's. Jerome was restless, he knew few of those of the old families who came mournfully into the downstairs chamber, darkly dressed, plain country women, who stood looking fearfully at Elsie's pered, and sighed, and followed one another slowly out into hot sunshine and flower scents again. He would not enter that apartment unless he could be sure of being alone there.

It was for Jane to greet arriving visitors and to pilot them through the halls. Afterward she stood with them on the narrow, ugly gray porch for a few minutes, or perhaps asked them to sit down, and have a glass of water, glasses of gingerale. They had come a long, dusty way. The stout women, panting in their limp dark voile dresses, small and grave and useful, with curiosity.

"No, she's only four."

"For pity's sake."

"And then," Jane might add, "her mother being ill so long, she rather depended on her father, anyway."

"Says that Mrs. Delafield being so sick, Mama, she sets a lot by her father."

"Will you have a little more? It's hot to-day."

"Oh, it's terrible. Thank you, Well, I don't know but what that's a dispensation, Florrie. Child that age."

"And then, reluctantly, 'Well, we'd better be going. We'll be at the church to-morrow. My father thought the world and all of Dr. Storm. They've always been fine people, the Storms.'"

It was in these days that Jane came to see for the first time that Jerome Delafield, who had been lost to sight for so many serene and happy years, the man who had crept broken and half mad out of the world to Elsie's knees, and had been soothed, and healed, and in the end loved, by her.

It was not that he was selfish or stormy in his grief; he showed no grief whatsoever. But he had shown his nervous, apprehensive, bewildered helplessness infinitely more alarming. He seemed dazed, unable to think or act for himself; the man's fine intellect was temporarily eclipsed. He moved and spoke like a man in a dream.

Only with Carol was he at all himself, and Jane and the doctor contrived to keep him as much with the child as possible.

"Car, you go on here for a while," the doctor asked Jane, a few days after the quiet funeral.

"I suppose I must, Doctor," she said anxiously. "He simply couldn't manage alone, for a while anyway."

Outwardly, he was living his usual life, disappearing to his cabin for work hours in the summer mornings, coming down chilled and hungry and nervous for lunch, going off for nearly walk after a long sleep on his wife's bed late in the afternoon, and attempting to work again at night. Usually he played with Carol before her bedtime, and sometimes he took her with him to the shore, he ate, apparently he slept, quiet as before.

But there was an absent-mindedness in his manner, a strained look in eyes that made Jane uneasy. She began, herself, to feel the infection of his strange moods, to feel the loneliness and gloom of the old house, even in broad summer, with the figs ripening over the terrace, and birds and bees busy in the garden and in the air.

One day, when Elsie had been two weeks dead, he came down upon Jane and Carol, who were on the terrace, with a look of frenzy—of desperation—in his eyes.

"Jane, I can't write!" he said. "It's all gone from me! It's just words, words, milling around and around. It's been that way for days." He said, "I don't know what to do!"

"She was frightened herself, but she did not show it."

"That's just nerves," she said soothingly. "And then, persuasively, 'Mr. Delafield, wouldn't it do you good to take a trip somewhere? Honolulu, for instance, or Mexico—anywhere that would shake you up—give you a change.'"

He considered it a minute, troubled and frowning. "That would mean meeting people," he said restlessly, "talking to them!"

"She hated to tell him; it seemed so stupid and petty, in the face of his grief."

"You see, I'll have to go—now," she offered timidly.

"Where?" Jerome asked, quite in the dark. Drawn from his own thoughts, he looked at her almost with impatience.

"To San Francisco—home, I suppose," she said lamely.

"What for?" the man asked sharply.

"Probably—'" She tried to laugh about it. "Probably because you are a man and I'm a woman!" she said desperately.

He bit his lip, scowling, looking sharply at her, looking away, bringing his gaze back again.

"That's a consideration, it is?" he asked coldly.

"Not with me!" she hastened to say, distressed. "But everyone—my grandmother, in her letter—and Mrs. Graham."

"Your grandmother, my dear, belongs to a totally different generation," Jerome said with his kind, patient air. "As for old Mrs. Graham, should pay not the slightest attention to her."

Jane laughed, a rueful little laugh that was more eloquent than words. The man stood looking at her, considering.

"You think... eh?" Jerome asked, discontentedly, after a pause. "Oh my God, what utter rot!" he broke off to say impatiently.

"I know," said Jane.

"But look here," Jerome said alarmedly, after a further pause for thought, "what the deuce do they propose we do?"

"Put Carol in a boarding school," Jane offered.

The man visibly winced.

"She's not yet five years old, the poor little woman!" he said pitifully. "My girl, who likes to go down to the shore with her daddy..."

"Well, you could get a woman here, maybe," Jane suggested uncertainly. "Somebody older—married—"

Jerome sat down with some violence, looking at her haggardly.

"If you could have seen them! We tried them out before you came," he said despairingly. "Every woman over fifty in this state, who couldn't make a success of anything else, had to come down here! Elsie and I almost went mad with them!"

Suddenly he bent over and buried his face in his hands.

"My God—haven't I had enough!—haven't I had enough!" he heard him mutter. She stood still, pity and perplexity struggling together in her heart.

"Well, I don't mind it," she said dubiously. "But they all seem to feel it was only the day after Mrs. Delafield's funeral that Mrs. Graham talked to me about it."

"Damn such interfering old busy-bodies!" Jerome said. "And Jane laughed briefly and mirthlessly again."

"Carol could board with you, at your grandmother's," he said suddenly.

"Well, I thought of that," Jane said. "But it's an old-fashioned, quiet atmosphere for a child. It might be better to have her with other children."

"What will you do?" Jerome demanded, after dissatisfaction and frowning reflection.

She smiled philosophically, a little sadly.

"Get a position, I guess. And then abruptly she added, 'What will you do?'"

Easy to make good bread with ROYAL YEAST CAKES FULL DIRECTIONS ON EVERY PACKAGE E. W. GILLET CO. LTD TORONTO, CAN.

Hill; she and Carol went on with their play. The child was quite content with Jane, and had seemed to feel no change in her life. She and Jane had played together down on the shore, during the long day of her mother's funeral, and had cooked their luncheon there, and Carol, sandy and weary and sweet, had flung herself into her father's arms, when he came home that night, with and perplexity struggling together in her heart.

"Well, I don't mind it," she said dubiously. "But they all seem to feel it was only the day after Mrs. Delafield's funeral that Mrs. Graham talked to me about it."

"Damn such interfering old busy-bodies!" Jerome said. "And Jane laughed briefly and mirthlessly again."

"Carol could board with you, at your grandmother's," he said suddenly.

"Well, I thought of that," Jane said. "But it's an old-fashioned, quiet atmosphere for a child. It might be better to have her with other children."

"What will you do?" Jerome demanded, after dissatisfaction and frowning reflection.

She smiled philosophically, a little sadly.

"Get a position, I guess. And then abruptly she added, 'What will you do?'"

Jerome sat down with some violence, looking at her haggardly.

"If you could have seen them! We tried them out before you came," he said despairingly. "Every woman over fifty in this state, who couldn't make a success of anything else, had to come down here! Elsie and I almost went mad with them!"

Suddenly he bent over and buried his face in his hands.

"My God—haven't I had enough!—haven't I had enough!" he heard him mutter. She stood still, pity and perplexity struggling together in her heart.

very happy, wrote Laura Cross, and Carol would be too busy and too content to miss anybody or to be homesick.

Jane and Jerome accepted this decision with the philosophy of those who know no choice, and Jane showed Carol the pictures of the jolly little girls swimming and cooking.

"And here's your tent, Carol, see? They call it Humming Bird Lodge!" "An' where will you sleep, Jane?" Carol, with that fatal instinct of the child approaching a parting, had never seemed so small, so sweet, so affectionate and confiding as during these last terrible days at Storm House. She was after all, a very little creature—she had never been a strong or boisterous child—and at five she had not shed all her baby endearments, her love of being cuddled, her liking for kisses, when she and her white bear and her Raggedy Anne were tucked into bed together at night.

"Well, you see I have to go and see Granny," Jane said brightly. "What's the matter with you, old granny, do I not ever come and see her?" "I could go see her, too," suggested Carol, clinging tight.

"Well, of course you could, and I hope you will, darling! Daddy and I were just talking about Thanksgiving holidays; you will have to come to me for that," Jane said cheerfully. "But this camp is just for little punkins your size. I wouldn't fit into the beds, you know—my legs would dangle out at the bottom."

Carol placed a small finger tip upon the figure of a woman in one of the photographs of the school.

"She could go home, and you could sleep in her bed!" she suggested hopefully.

"Well, said Jane, 'I certainly am coming to see you, little humming birds in your camp, and I'll find you swimming and riding horses and cooking and making fires, and we'll have for fun!'"

Carol rested her face thoughtfully against Jane's, their cheekbones touching.

"I would always be good if you were there, Jane," the child said in a delicious voice of her usual clear little voice. "I wish we could live at Storm House, and you take care of me, and then I would never be sad, and I would be happy."

And when she said things like this Jane's heart was wrung with an exquisite love and pain, inextricably blended, and she felt as if she were brutally betraying this innocent, trusting little creature as well as breaking her own and Jerome's heart.

The last night came, with the child's little clothes neatly laid out on a chair for the next day's trip, and the child herself irresistibly engaging and gay, jumping about in her little pajamas, bestowing her most fascinating butterfly kisses upon Jane and her father. Jerome sat in the nursery with her until she was asleep; after that he did not know what he did. He disappeared, to ease his misery perhaps by walking alone on the shore and looking out upon the summer sea.

"Get a position, I guess. And then abruptly she added, 'What will you do?'"

Jerome sat down with some violence, looking at her haggardly.

"If you could have seen them! We tried them out before you came," he said despairingly. "Every woman over fifty in this state, who couldn't make a success of anything else, had to come down here! Elsie and I almost went mad with them!"

Suddenly he bent over and buried his face in his hands.

"My God—haven't I had enough!—haven't I had enough!" he heard him mutter. She stood still, pity and perplexity struggling together in her heart.

"Well, I don't mind it," she said dubiously. "But they all seem to feel it was only the day after Mrs. Delafield's funeral that Mrs. Graham talked to me about it."

"Damn such interfering old busy-bodies!" Jerome said. "And Jane laughed briefly and mirthlessly again."

"Carol could board with you, at your grandmother's," he said suddenly.

"Well, I thought of that," Jane said. "But it's an old-fashioned, quiet atmosphere for a child. It might be better to have her with other children."

"What will you do?" Jerome demanded, after dissatisfaction and frowning reflection.

She smiled philosophically, a little sadly.

"Get a position, I guess. And then abruptly she added, 'What will you do?'"

Jerome sat down with some violence, looking at her haggardly.

"If you could have seen them! We tried them out before you came," he said despairingly. "Every woman over fifty in this state, who couldn't make a success of anything else, had to come down here! Elsie and I almost went mad with them!"

It was all like a horrible dream: Jerome's haggard quiet, Carol's growing uneasiness, the meeting with Miss Younger at the ferry, and Miss Younger's taking kind but firm possession of Carol's hand as she told Jane enthusiastically that dear Miss Cross was a perfect genius with children—all the babies loved her.

Carol cried alarmingly at the end-not-quite-five-year-old Carol, who had lost her mother less than a month ago, and Jane went home feeling like a murderer. Jerome had put an envelope into her hand at parting and had tried to say something. She had been conscious that his eyes were brimming with tears.

"This may not be the right solution," she had faltered. "You will let me know how things go with her, won't you? And if there's anything—ever! You know you seem like my family."

She was crying now, crying like a big baby down here at the busy ferry. She was crying because the touch of Carol's warm, anxious little hand was still on her own; crying because Jerome, big and gentle and bewildered and helpless, looked so forlorn in his black clothes, as he turned away.

(To be continued.)

Doris, age six, was radiant over a recent addition to the family, and rushed out of the house to tell the news to a passing neighbour.

"Oh, you don't know what we've got upstairs?" she cried.

"What is it?"

"It's a baby brother! And expectantly she watched the effect of her announcement.

"You don't say so! Is he going to stay?"

"I think so," very thoughtfully. "He's got his things off!"

The place where two friends met is sacred to them all through their friendship; all the more sacred as their friendship deepens and grows.

—Philip Brooks.

My office will be closed every Tuesday and Friday evening.

J. C. Moore, M.D.

BONDS. Issued in sums of $100, and upwards, bearing the attractive rate of 5 Per Cent.

These Bonds are issued by Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, which is one of the oldest financial institutions in Canada (established 1859) and has assets exceeding $50,000,000.

Interest commences the day the money is received.

Full particulars may be obtained from DONALD McKENZIE ROWAT, The Royal Bank Building, Province of Quebec Representative.

L. N. ROY, HEMMINGFORD, QUE. Asst. Municipal Secy-Treas. Secy-Treas. of the Catholic Schools, Agent for La Societe de Vieillesse, Agent for The Mutual Life and Citizens' Assurance Co. Ltd. Agent for The London & Lancashire Fire Insurance Co. Ltd.

LEDUC & PRIEUR, Departmental Store, Valleyfield, Que. Specialty: Ready-to-Wear Garments for Ladies and Gents, Tailoring, Dress-making and Millinery.

LUCIEN BAILLARGEON, NOTARY PUBLIC, J. E. CAZA, Successor of L. E. Leduc, Notaries Public. Office in the O'Connor Block, entrance next to Moriarty's Building, Money to loan, Estate and succession settlement.

DONALD M. ROWAT, NOTARY PUBLIC, 360 St. James Street, Montreal. At Huntingdon every Saturday unless notice to contrary in Gleaner. Phone: HARbour 2469.

NUMA E. BROSSOIT, K. & C. ADVOCATE, Recorder of the City of Valleyfield, Valleyfield, P. Q. Will attend all the courts in the District of Beauharnois and Montreal. Phone No. 60.

A. LONGTIN, ADVOCATE, King Street, HUNTINGDON, QUE. LAURENDEAU & COSSETTE, Advocates, VALLEYFIELD, P. Q. J. G. Laurendeau, J. P. Cossette, K. C., L. L. B. Mr. Laurendeau will be at Huntingdon, at Moir's Hotel, every 15 and 3rd Saturday of each month. Mr. Cossette will be at the City and County Building, the 2nd and last Saturday of each month.

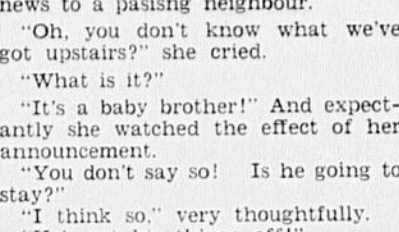

Erle C. Martin, B.A., B.C.L. Located in former Canadian Ass'n Bldg. Breckers office, King St., Huntingdon. Phone 173. Mr. Martin will be in Ormiston the first and third Monday of each month.

H. E. PURCELL, Surgeon Dentist, Located over Braithwaite Bros. Store, Chateaugay St., Huntingdon. Evenings by Appointment. Phone 139.

Mutual Fire Insurance Co. COUNTY OF BEAUHARNOIS. (Incorporated 1832). Insures nothing but Farm and Industrial Property. President—W. M. Lecky. Vice-President—Arthur Doray. Directors—N. M. Brooks, R. J. Ness, Frank St. Louis and M. McNaughton. W. K. PHILPS, Secretary, Huntingdon, Que.

T. J. GRAHAM, Live Stock Auctioneer. A life time experience with live stock. A very wide acquaintance of buyers. Arrange your dates early. Terms in keeping with present stock conditions. Phone: 634 r 1-2. R. F. D. No. 1. MACHINE SHOP, Goyette & Frère, 87 Champlain St., Valleyfield, Que. DEATHS - BIRTHS MARRIAGES. We are willing to insert notices of deaths, births and marriages in the Gleaner free of charge but it must be clearly understood such notices must come to the Gleaner in writing. It is also important that the party sending the notice affix his or her signature to the copy. The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc. The Huntingdon Gleaner is published every Wednesday by the Huntingdon Gleaner Inc., 100 Brock Building, Chateaugay St., Huntingdon, Que.

Is a wicked disease; sure death if you don't stamp it out with

Pratt's ROUP TABLETS Save the Flock

Sold by all dealers. Write for Pratt's Roup Book—Free. PRATT FOOD CO. of Canada Ltd. 325 Carlaw Ave., Toronto 8, Ont.

NOTICE. My office will be closed every Tuesday and Friday evening.

J. C. Moore, M.D.

BONDS. Issued in sums of $100, and upwards, bearing the attractive rate of 5 Per Cent.

These Bonds are issued by Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, which is one of the oldest financial institutions in Canada (established 1859) and has assets exceeding $50,000,000.

Interest commences the day the money is received.

Full particulars may be obtained from DONALD McKENZIE ROWAT, The Royal Bank Building, Province of Quebec Representative.

L. N. ROY, HEMMINGFORD, QUE. Asst. Municipal Secy-Treas. Secy-Treas. of the Catholic Schools, Agent for La Societe de Vieillesse, Agent for The Mutual Life and Citizens' Assurance Co. Ltd. Agent for The London & Lancashire Fire Insurance Co. Ltd.

LEDUC & PRIEUR, Departmental Store, Valleyfield, Que. Specialty: Ready-to-Wear Garments for Ladies and Gents, Tailoring, Dress-making and Millinery.

LUCIEN BAILLARGEON, NOTARY PUBLIC, J. E. CAZA, Successor of L. E. Leduc, Notaries Public. Office in the O'Connor Block, entrance next to Moriarty's Building, Money to loan, Estate and succession settlement.

DONALD M. ROWAT, NOTARY PUBLIC, 360 St. James Street, Montreal. At Huntingdon every Saturday unless notice to contrary in Gleaner. Phone: HARbour 2469.

NUMA E. BROSSOIT, K. & C. ADVOCATE, Recorder of the City of Valleyfield, Valleyfield, P. Q. Will attend all the courts in the District of Beauharnois and Montreal. Phone No. 60.

A. LONGTIN, ADVOCATE, King Street, HUNTINGDON, QUE. LAURENDEAU & COSSETTE, Advocates, VALLEYFIELD, P. Q. J. G. Laurendeau, J. P. Cossette, K. C., L. L. B. Mr. Laurendeau will be at Huntingdon, at Moir's Hotel, every 15 and 3rd Saturday of each month. Mr. Cossette will be at the City and County Building, the 2nd and last Saturday of each month.

Erle C. Martin, B.A., B.C.L. Located in former Canadian Ass'n Bldg. Breckers office, King St., Huntingdon. Phone 173. Mr. Martin will be in Ormiston the first and third Monday of each month.

H. E. PURCELL, Surgeon Dentist, Located over Braithwaite Bros. Store, Chateaugay St., Huntingdon. Evenings by Appointment. Phone 139.

Mutual Fire Insurance Co. COUNTY OF BEAUHARNOIS. (Incorporated 1832). Insures nothing but Farm and Industrial Property. President—W. M. Lecky. Vice-President—Arthur Doray. Directors—N. M. Brooks, R. J. Ness, Frank St. Louis and M. McNaughton. W. K. PHILPS, Secretary, Huntingdon, Que.

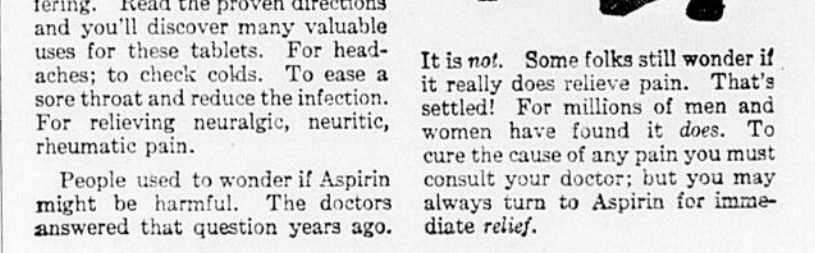

T. J. GRAHAM, Live Stock Auctioneer. A life time experience with live stock. A very wide acquaintance of buyers. Arrange your dates early. Terms in keeping with present stock conditions. Phone: 634 r 1-2. R. F. D. No. 1. MACHINE SHOP, Goyette & Frère, 87 Champlain St., Valleyfield, Que. DEATHS - BIRTHS MARRIAGES. We are willing to insert notices of deaths, births and marriages in the Gleaner free of charge but it must be clearly understood such notices must come to the Gleaner in writing. It is also important that the party sending the notice affix his or her signature to the copy. The Huntingdon Gleaner Inc. The Huntingdon Gleaner is published every Wednesday by the Huntingdon Gleaner Inc., 100 Brock Building, Chateaugay St., Huntingdon, Que.

Needless Pain!

The man who wouldn't drive his motorcar half a mile when it's out of order, will often drive his brain all day with a head that's throbbing.

Such punishment isn't very good for one's nerves! It's unwise, and it's unnecessary. For a tablet or two of Aspirin will relieve a headache every time. So, remember this accepted antidote for pain, and spare yourself a lot of needless suffering. Read the proven directions and you'll discover many valuable uses for these tablets. For headaches; to check colds. To ease a sore throat and reduce the infection. For relieving neuralgic, neuritic, rheumatic pain.

People used to wonder if Aspirin might be harmful. The doctors answered that question years ago.

ASPIRIN TRADE MARK REG.

Doctors know they recommend STANFIELD'S

DOCTORS SAY "Keeping the skin circulation at the proper temperature prevents a great many acute diseases." That is why they prescribe Stanfield's Underwear as a health safeguard.

Wear Stanfield's as a protection against changes in temperature and other things that cause colds, pleurisy, pneumonia, etc. Using the best quality wool, it prevents the warmth of the body from escaping rapidly. Resists the penetration of the cold.

Stanfield's Underwear is tailored to fit and is non-irritating. Made in weights to suit every requirement of indoor and outdoor workers. In sizes for every member of the family.

Wear Stanfield's and Keep Well STANFIELD'S LIMITED,

VALLEFIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Areno, Sr. have left to spend the winter in France and Italy.

Miss Antonia Beauchamp, R.N., who spent the summer at the home of her father, has returned to Santa Monica, Calif.

Mr. J. A. McDonald has returned from Quebec, where he attended the Agricultural Council, of which he is a member.

Mr. Eugene Quenneville has been named organist of the Valleyfield Cathedral, replacing Mr. Arthur Frappier.

Mr. Lionel Chicoine, of Montreal, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Leduc.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howarth, of Drummondville, Que., spent the week-end in town.

Mrs. W. Hastie, of Verdun, Que., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ross returned home on Sunday.

The marriage was celebrated on October 30th, at the Cathedral of St. Emile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Laberge to Emile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zolique Perron.

The marriage was celebrated on October 30th, at the Cathedral of St. Emile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Laberge to Emile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zolique Perron.

Miss Leduc, R.N., Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her father, Mr. Godfroi Leduc.

Mr. and Mrs. Emile Cousineau have returned from their honeymoon and are residing on Nicholson street.

Mrs. T. McCuaig had as her guests last week-end Mrs. Snyder, of Lancaster, Ont., and Mrs. Lewis, and Dr. Lewis, of Sag Harbor, Long Island.

Holy Communion was observed on Sunday, Nov. 3rd, in the United Church at 11 a.m. The service was exceptionally well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Greig, will take place in December. The interior of the church is distinctive in its design, with a subdued effect, which will undoubtedly contribute to the spirit of worship.

The evening was not allowed to die, and about ten o'clock, the company sang the National Anthem with spirit and fervor.

Mrs. Hugh Findlay was visiting in Montreal during the week-end, and was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Towne.

Mr. McKay, of New Glasgow, N.S., has arrived here and intends to take up residence in Valleyfield.

Two children night last Thursday, and old men said, what is coming over those boys? They should be in bed instead of worrying people with their fool tricks.

Gates and plank walks and rigs were erected away and more energy was used up that night than would drive many a machine.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham and family were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Dear, Chateaugay.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Manson and little daughter, Doris, Miss D. Stewart, of Malone, were the week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anderson.

Mr. Allister Watson, of Kensington, was the over-night guest recently of Mr. and Mrs. John Furey.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Graham and little son, Walter, of N.D.G., were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. John McCracken and family of Malone were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. Whaley.

Mr. Wm. Johnston, of Lawrenceville, N.J., spent a couple of days recently visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Graham.

ATHELSTAN

Miss Meryl Alexander, of Trout River, visited her friend, Miss Charlotte Boyce for a few days last week.

Miss Annie Wilson spent the week-end with friends in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. McHardy, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Chauvin, motored to Loon Lake on Sunday and visited Mr. James Auger and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Damase Larche and children of Malone, spent the week-end at the home of his father.

Sunday was World's Temperance Sunday and at the Sunday school session in the United Church, a most interesting account of the Provincial Women's Christian Temperance Union Convention recently held in Ormstown was given by Mrs. J. McIntosh, who was one of the delegates from this local union.

Eight members of the U.C. Women's Missionary Society attended the joint Thank-offering and District meeting held in the Huntingdon United Church on Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Mr. George Sproule and Mrs. R. C. Manning and Mr. James Manning motored to Howick in Saturday and attended the semi-annual convention of the executive of the Woman's Institute at Mrs. Ritchie's.

Mrs. Miles Towns motored to Howick and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Vass on Saturday.

Mr. George Sproule and Mrs. R. C. Manning are building a house at Havelock for Mrs. Churchill Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sproule and son Edward, spent a few days last week-end visiting Mr. Sproule's sister, Mrs. Manely and family in Malone, N.Y.

A party of Darkeys visited the several homes in Franklin last Thursday evening "Haloween," and were well received, being treated to apples, nuts and candy.

The Haloween masquerade party held in the Town Hall Thursday was well attended and all report a very enjoyable evening.

Rev. Mr. Thomas, a returned missionary from Egypt, gave a very interesting lecture in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. S. B. Pelton and daughter, Miss Lillian Pelton, Burke, N.Y., and Mrs. Charles Porter, of Lake Placid, N.Y., were the guests of Mrs. M. E. Young on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitehead motored to Dannemora, N.Y., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Cowan, and son, Clifford, of Ormstown, were guests of Mrs. M. E. Young on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, of Montreal were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Leahy.

Mr. William McKinnon, of Massena, N.Y., is all at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickenson, Dr. Moore is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crawford, Mrs. McNiece and Miss Anna Waddell were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Waddell.

Mr. and M. Johnson, of Malone, and Mrs. John Angell, Phyllis and Bruce, of Montreal were week-end guests of Mrs. W. Parham.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Waddell were Mrs. William Parham, Mr. and Mrs. John Angell and Phyllis and Bruce of Montreal.

Miss Luella McMillan, of Ormstown, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert McMillan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sproule were guests at his sister's at Champlain, N.Y., on Sunday.

Official Abuse—The traffic officer had raised his hand and the lady motorist stopped with a jerk. Said the officer, as he drew out his little book: "As soon as I saw you come around the bend I said to myself, 'Forty-five, at least.'"

"Officer," remonstrated the lady, indignantly, "you are very much mistaken. It's this hat that makes me look so old!"—Motor Age.

FRANKLIN CENTRE

The regular monthly meeting of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. B. M. Johnston on Thursday, October 31st.

On account of it being the packing day, it was an all-day meeting. One quilt was quilted and finished for packing.

Twenty quarts of preserves and jellies were donated. A feather pillow and quilt were sent to the Children's Memorial.

Two members of the W.C.T.U. were packed for the "Old Brewery Mission." A letter of thanks was received from Mrs. Robertson for the Sailor's bags.

Mrs. C. A. Rowe and Mrs. R. C. Manning and Mr. James Manning motored to Howick in Saturday and attended the semi-annual convention of the executive of the Woman's Institute at Mrs. Ritchie's.

Mrs. Miles Towns motored to Howick and was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Vass on Saturday.

Mr. George Sproule and Mrs. R. C. Manning are building a house at Havelock for Mrs. Churchill Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sproule and son Edward, spent a few days last week-end visiting Mr. Sproule's sister, Mrs. Manely and family in Malone, N.Y.

A party of Darkeys visited the several homes in Franklin last Thursday evening "Haloween," and were well received, being treated to apples, nuts and candy.

The Haloween masquerade party held in the Town Hall Thursday was well attended and all report a very enjoyable evening.

Rev. Mr. Thomas, a returned missionary from Egypt, gave a very interesting lecture in the Town Hall on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. S. B. Pelton and daughter, Miss Lillian Pelton, Burke, N.Y., and Mrs. Charles Porter, of Lake Placid, N.Y., were the guests of Mrs. M. E. Young on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Whitehead motored to Dannemora, N.Y., Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Cowan, and son, Clifford, of Ormstown, were guests of Mrs. M. E. Young on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, of Montreal were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Leahy.

Mr. William McKinnon, of Massena, N.Y., is all at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickenson, Dr. Moore is in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crawford, Mrs. McNiece and Miss Anna Waddell were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Waddell.

Mr. and M. Johnson, of Malone, and Mrs. John Angell, Phyllis and Bruce, of Montreal were week-end guests of Mrs. W. Parham.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Waddell were Mrs. William Parham, Mr. and Mrs. John Angell and Phyllis and Bruce of Montreal.

Miss Luella McMillan, of Ormstown, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert McMillan.

Mr. and Mrs. George Sproule were guests at his sister's at Champlain, N.Y., on Sunday.

Official Abuse—The traffic officer had raised his hand and the lady motorist stopped with a jerk. Said the officer, as he drew out his little book: "As soon as I saw you come around the bend I said to myself, 'Forty-five, at least.'"

"Officer," remonstrated the lady, indignantly, "you are very much mistaken. It's this hat that makes me look so old!"—Motor Age.

AUBREY-RIVERFIELD

Mr. Wm. Allen, Sr., who has been out West for the past year and a half the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Colin McMillan, and other friends, returned home Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Allen and Mr. Wm. Allen spent Thursday in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Black, Mrs. Geo. Robb and Mr. S. Couillard spent Wednesday in Montreal.

Several of our young people attended the Y.P.S. Halloween party in Howick Hall on Wednesday evening.

All report a good time.

Mrs. Jos. McLeod and Miss Elizabeth McLeod spent several days this past week in Montreal.

Mr. John McKell spent several days in Montreal.

Mr. W. W. Orr, who has spent the past five weeks in the city, returned home Saturday evening, and intends remaining for a few days.

The Red Cross concert given by the pupils of Aubrey school in their school house Friday evening was a decided success.

The program consisted of recitations, Red Cross songs, and a playette, "King Disease," in which it was shown how disease could be avoided by following the health rules.

Both the teacher, Miss Cowan, and the pupils deserve much praise for the manner in which this concert was conducted.

The sum of $11.50 was added to the Red Cross funds.

Haloween passed quietly, the usual number of plows, gates and wagons being removed from their accustomed places and the owners finding them for the most part in our local school yards.

Miss M. Savage is spending a few days in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce and family spent the week-end in the city, Mrs. Bruce remaining for a few days.

Mr. Ewart Orr spent Sunday in Montreal.

Examiner of Ambulance Class: How long would you keep on artificial respiration?

Pupil: I would keep working his arms until he was dead.

Mr. Oliver LeRoux Will Cut Your Hair

as artistically, as skillfully, as individually, as fetchingly, as if you had it cut in any Fifth Avenue, New York, establishment.

For Ladies and Gents. Two Barbers at Your Service. Next to Hunter's Store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Orr, who has spent the past five weeks in the city, returned home Saturday evening, and intends remaining for a few days.

The Red Cross concert given by the pupils of Aubrey school in their school house Friday evening was a decided success.

The program consisted of recitations, Red Cross songs, and a playette, "King Disease," in which it was shown how disease could be avoided by following the health rules.

Both the teacher, Miss Cowan, and the pupils deserve much praise for the manner in which this concert was conducted.

THE STORY OF THE FLUTE

In a great orchestra, made up of many people who played all kinds of instruments, there were great stalwart men who beat big drums and brought forth music from big horns, and more sensitive souls who drew bows over the strings of violins and left on the air lovely music for all, and then a young boy who played the flute. All these were under one master. The master knew and loved every sound. One day the great orchestra began to play. To most ears all was going well but the master said, "Stop!"

When all was quiet he asked, "Where is the flute?" The little boy had thought his tiny bit of music would not be missed and had failed to render his service. But the master knew that the whole was not complete. Because of the missing flute no harmonious music went up to the ears of the master. Just as the music of the flute was necessary to the protection of the harmony of that orchestra, so is the faithful doing of the task of each one of us necessary to the whole tasks of our church.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hood and family, of Montreal, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. T. Ruddock.

The Misses Pratt and Ruby Ruddock spent last week-end with friends in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hood and family, of Montreal, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. T. Ruddock.

The Misses Pratt and Ruby Ruddock spent last week-end with friends in Montreal.

Mr. Ewart Orr spent Sunday in Montreal.

Examiner of Ambulance Class: How long would you keep on artificial respiration?

Pupil: I would keep working his arms until he was dead.

Mr. Oliver LeRoux Will Cut Your Hair

as artistically, as skillfully, as individually, as fetchingly, as if you had it cut in any Fifth Avenue, New York, establishment.

For Ladies and Gents. Two Barbers at Your Service. Next to Hunter's Store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Orr, who has spent the past five weeks in the city, returned home Saturday evening, and intends remaining for a few days.

The Red Cross concert given by the pupils of Aubrey school in their school house Friday evening was a decided success.

The program consisted of recitations, Red Cross songs, and a playette, "King Disease," in which it was shown how disease could be avoided by following the health rules.

Both the teacher, Miss Cowan, and the pupils deserve much praise for the manner in which this concert was conducted.

The sum of $11.50 was added to the Red Cross funds.

Haloween passed quietly, the usual number of plows, gates and wagons being removed from their accustomed places and the owners finding them for the most part in our local school yards.

Miss M. Savage is spending a few days in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce and family spent the week-end in the city, Mrs. Bruce remaining for a few days.

Mr. Ewart Orr spent Sunday in Montreal.

Examiner of Ambulance Class: How long would you keep on artificial respiration?

Pupil: I would keep working his arms until he was dead.

Mr. Oliver LeRoux Will Cut Your Hair

as artistically, as skillfully, as individually, as fetchingly, as if you had it cut in any Fifth Avenue, New York, establishment.

HUNTINGDON

Mrs. T. H. Thompson, of Farnham is a guest at the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tedstone, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson and Mr. Jack Wilson, of Farnham, were week-end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Tedstone, Jr.

Miss Eva Monique returned home Friday after spending a week with her sister in Montreal.

Miss Carrie Monique, of Malone, and Miss Eva Monique, Huntingdon, accompanied by Messrs. William and Eddie Cockayne, of Massena, enjoyed a motor trip to St. Paul's on Sunday, going by way of Rouses Point and returning to Malone via Lacolle.

Mrs. J. E. Seale and Mrs. J. McConnell have returned to their home in Morin Heights, after having spent a few days with Mrs. A. H. Dawson.

Mr. S. G. Barrington has left for St. Anne de Bellevue to resume his studies at Macdonald College.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hood and family, of Montreal, spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. T. Ruddock.

The Misses Pratt and Ruby Ruddock spent last week-end with friends in Montreal.

Mr. Ewart Orr spent Sunday in Montreal.

Examiner of Ambulance Class: How long would you keep on artificial respiration?

Pupil: I would keep working his arms until he was dead.

Mr. Oliver LeRoux Will Cut Your Hair

as artistically, as skillfully, as individually, as fetchingly, as if you had it cut in any Fifth Avenue, New York, establishment.

For Ladies and Gents. Two Barbers at Your Service. Next to Hunter's Store.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Orr, who has spent the past five weeks in the city, returned home Saturday evening, and intends remaining for a few days.

The Red Cross concert given by the pupils of Aubrey school in their school house Friday evening was a decided success.

The program consisted of recitations, Red Cross songs, and a playette, "King Disease," in which it was shown how disease could be avoided by following the health rules.

Both the teacher, Miss Cowan, and the pupils deserve much praise for the manner in which this concert was conducted.

The sum of $11.50 was added to the Red Cross funds.

Haloween passed quietly, the usual number of plows, gates and wagons being removed from their accustomed places and the owners finding them for the most part in our local school yards.

Miss M. Savage is spending a few days in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bruce and family spent the week-end in the city, Mrs. Bruce remaining for a few days.

Mr. Ewart Orr spent Sunday in Montreal.

Examiner of Ambulance Class: How long would you keep on artificial respiration?

Pupil: I would keep working his arms until he was dead.

Thanksgiving Delicacies. To grace the festive board. Secure them here. Fresh and Tasty -- the kind that melt in your mouth. Fresh Chocolates. Purity Ice Cream for your Thanksgiving Dinner. Z. ROUSSELLE Baker and Confectioner. Phone 60. Huntingdon.

QUESNEL'S, CAZAVILLE. A Real Sale of Seasonable Goods. Boy's dark grey and blue Overcoats. Sizes 23-28 this week $5.50. Men's navy blue Overcoats, Plush lined, to clear at $22.00. Reg. $28.50. A few Overcoats at $15.00. Leather Jackets, all sizes at $7.95. Leather Caps $1.69 to $2.00. All Wool Windbreakers. Reg. $5.00, on sale at $3.75. Heavy ribbed Sweaters, bargains at $1.95. Boy's and Girl's all Wool Sweaters in different styles, sizes 24 to 34, priced from $1.50 to $2.75. One lot of children's Sweaters to clear at 79c. each.

Underwear. Men's Combinations in heavy and light weight Wool. Penman's heavy Fleece Combinations. Price $1.49. Boy's Combinations, heavy weight Fleece. Sizes 20 to 26. $1.00. Sizes 28 to 34, $1.15. Fleece Undershirts and Drawers for boys and girls, 40c. each. RUBBERS. A large assortment of men and boys' and children's heavy Rubbers and Boots arrived. Overshoes and Gaytees for ladies and children. Shades black, dark brown and beige in the latest styles. Prices $2.75 and $1.75. 50 pairs of ladies' and children's Rubbers to clear at 49c. Boy's and girl's fine and coarse Shoes. Sizes 11 to 5. Some real bargains at $1.49 per pair.

Ladies' Hats. 3 dozen of ladies' Velvet Hats, all good shades. On sale, $1.00 each. Just in a lot of ladies' Fall Hats in felt and satin. The newest styles. Shades, dark brown, black, wine and navy. Smart Hats for girls 6 to 14 years. Price $1.60 to $1.95. One lot of men's and boy's heavy Winter Caps. $1.00 each. New Fall Caps, Gloves, Scarfs, etc. Children's Wool Gloves, 39c. per pair. Wool Toupes, 49c. each.

SPECIALS. 3 pairs men's Wool Socks. Reg. 45c. Sale $ 1.00 Home knit Wool Mittens per pair 85 3 pairs Cotton Gloves 59 Girl's Fleece Blankets 39 4 skeins of Clark's 6-strand Cotton 10 6 yards fine Silk Lingerie Elastic 25 1 doz. ladies' Hemstitched Handkerchiefs 39 Large Comforter Batts 75 Quilting Wadding, 12 yards 70 "Little Daisy" all Wool Cashmere Hosiery. All sizes and several shades.

GROCERIES. 5 lbs. pail pure Clover Honey 60 40 oz. jar of pure Strawberry Jam 50 Clark's pure Peanut Butter, per lb. 25 Several lines of fresh Biscuits, 2 lbs. for 25 4 pkgs. Jell-O 25 Clark's Mince Meat, per lb. 17 Swansdown Cake Flour, per pkg. 45 500 sacks Cement in stock. Try Floglaze 4 hour Varnish and 4 hour Floor Enamel. Dries hard in four hours. J. A. C. Quesnel. PHONE 646 R. 1-4. CAZAVILLE. Advertise in the Huntingdon Gleaner. It Pays!

929. VALLEFIELD. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Areno, Sr. have left to spend the winter in France and Italy. Miss Antonia Beauchamp, R.N., who spent the summer at the home of her father, has returned to Santa Monica, Calif. Mr. J. A. McDonald has returned from Quebec, where he attended the Agricultural Council, of which he is a member. Mr. Eugene Quenneville has been named organist of the Valleyfield Cathedral, replacing Mr. Arthur Frappier. Mr. Lionel Chicoine, of Montreal, was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Leduc. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howarth, of Drummondville, Que., spent the week-end in town. Mrs. W. Hastie, of Verdun, Que., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Ross returned home on Sunday. The marriage was celebrated on October 30th, at the Cathedral of St. Emile, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Laberge to Emile, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zolique Perron. Following the ceremony, dinner was served in the K. of C. hall later Mr. and Mrs. Perron left by motor to spend their honeymoon in New York. Mr. Armand Lapointe of Montreal spent the past week in town. Miss Leduc, R.N., Montreal, spent the week-end at the home of her father, Mr. Godfroi Leduc. Mr. and Mrs. Emile Cousineau have returned from their honeymoon and are residing on Nicholson street. Mrs. T. McCuaig had as her guests last week-end Mrs. Snyder, of Lancaster, Ont., and Mrs. Lewis, and Dr. Lewis, of Sag Harbor, Long Island. Holy Communion was observed on Sunday, Nov. 3rd, in the United Church at 11 a.m. The service was exceptionally well attended. This being the first since the renovation of the church. The formal opening was announced by Rev. J. G. Greig, will take place in December. The interior of the church is distinctive in its design, with a subdued effect, which will undoubtedly contribute to the spirit of worship. The preparatory service, held previous to Communion was on Friday, November 1st, at this service two new members were received into church fellowship. On Thursday Oct. 31st, the basement of the United Church was crowded with children and young people in fancy dress. Haloween was certainly kept up to its reputation. The costumes were really good and the children had a ripping time. A number of willing helpers, assisted by Mr. McKee, and Mr. Melrose, transformed the hall into a spooky underground grotto. Apples, candy and games were part of the entertainment. Music was supplied by Mr. Macalpine and son Jack. The evening was not allowed to die, and about ten o'clock, the company sang the National Anthem with spirit and fervor. The Haloween was an affair of the past. The Granite City, Aberdeen, is well represented in Valleyfield and last week another Aberdonian, Mr. John Dow, arrived to swell the ranks. Mr. Dow, formerly employed by the Montreal Cottons. Mrs. Hugh Findlay was visiting in Montreal during the week-end, and was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Towne. Mr. McKay, of New Glasgow, N.S., has arrived here and intends to take up residence in Valleyfield. Two children night last Thursday, and old men said, what is coming over those boys? They should be in bed instead of worrying people with their fool tricks, but the boys went on their way, for boys will be boys, and girls will be girls too, sometimes. Gates and plank walks and rigs were erected away and more energy was used up that night than would drive many a machine. The Presbyterian Sabbath school celebrated the occasion in a gala way, in a newly decorated church hall. There gathered a great crowd of little folk, young folk, who would like to be young, there were the emblems of the night in pumpkins, cats and witches. There were negroes and pirates, nurses and Peter Pan's, there were hoboes and clowns, Pierrots and witches and even Old Nick was there, boys that once were girls and girls that once were boys and laughter and fun, merriment and joy. Games of all kind were indulged in and each child had a parting gift of a bag of candy and some fruit and none who called went away empty handed, nor were those who could not come forgotten. The evening was in charge of Messrs. Hagen and Millar and Misses Moore and Younger-Lewis. The Sabbath school executive wish to thank the very many friends, some known, some unknown who by their gifts brought joy to many a child's heart, and made the eve of "All Saint's Day" such a bright one. A very pleasant Haloween party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dawson Thursday evening. A goodly number of young people gathered and had a joyous time. We are pleased to be able to compliment Miss Grace M. Baugh, one of Valleyfield's young ladies and a daughter of Rev. C. Baugh incumbent of Morin Heights, P. Q., a past student of Gull Institute and being awarded the Hon. Robert Jones scholarship which has a value of $125 per annum. Mrs. (Rev.) Ross and her daughter, Helen, of Ormstown, were visitors to Valleyfield, on Friday last.

Everything seemed a Burden. I feel I must write and tell you of the great benefit I have derived from Kruschen Salts. For years I suffered from constipation, depression and nerves, which made everything seem a burden. After attending doctors on and off for this period, I commenced to take Kruschen, and from then I gradually got back to my usual state of health. I have now resumed my duties, and work is once more a pleasure. I am continuing with Kruschen Salts, and after being back at business nearly six weeks am keeping back the "Kruschen feeling" and recommending to take the "little dose," and keep themselves fit these hallooing days. Kruschen Salts can be obtained at any drug and department stores in Canada at 75c. a bottle. A bottle contains enough to last for 4 or 5 weeks—good health for half-cent a day.

Get your full money's worth in Quality. Buy the old reliable.. PEG TOP. Pocket pack of 5 for 25c. Quality maintained for 50 years. 5 CIGARS FOR 25c. The Old Reliable Quality maintained for 50 years.

Only the smartest dinner clothes will do: that means SOCIETY BRAND. When you choose your evening tuxout for the opening of the Huntingdon Chateau, you'll want the smartest dinner suit to be had. This season—as in seasons past—that means SOCIETY BRAND. Our new selections are ready. Faultlessly tailored—utterly correct in cut. Order now. Continuing our Special Overcoat Sale. For this sale you have your pick from a 100 Coats, all styles, models, and materials. Blue Milton, Blue Chinchilla, Ulster and the popular Guard models. Reg. $30.00 values, $23.50. Genuine Barymore's in Plaids and Overchecks; these are exceptional values. Selling everywhere for $38.00 to $40.00. Our price $32.50. Genuine Holland Camel Hair Coats, winter weight, college style, made like a Topcoat. Special $42.50. Camel Pile Coats, the newest sports Coat for winter, $49.50. SPECIAL SPECIAL Never Such a Value Before. Blue Milton Overcoats, full plush lined, Ulster style, Guard model. Reg. $30.00. Special at $16.50. W. E

FARM FOR SALE—Sited near Border on Malone-Cauchonwaga highway, 200 acres, 80 acres in U.S., 120 acres in Canada. Excellent location, good household outbuildings, good sugar bush, near churches, schools, stores and factory. Electric light in house. Priced to sell. Apply, A. W. Watson, Glenelg, Que.

FARM FOR SALE—278 acre Dairy Farm, good fields, pasture, water, wood, orchard, buildings—Consolidated school with Stanstead College, including tenth grade. For quick sale, $3,600.00. Half cash. Homer G. Curtis, Owner, Stanstead, Que.

FARM FOR SALE—Sited 4 1/2 miles north-east of Chateaugay, N. Y., 120 acres, all first class condition, running water, water in house and barn, frame house and outbuildings in excellent state of repair. Apply: W. H. Graham, Ormstown, Que.

FOR SALE—Two choice young milk cows; one recently freshened, the other a springer to freshen soon. M. Gilbert, Denville, N. J.

FOR SALE—Quebec heater with square top and two griddles. Set of light bobs for milk sleigh. Doherty organ, all in good condition. Phone: 634 r 1-2.

FOR SALE—Six heifers, three are two years olds; and three 18 mos. old, Holstein breed, due to freshen in spring. Jos. Teste, St. Armand, Que.

FOR SALE—30 cords, dry, hard wood, 16 inch; also 40 cords 14 inch, in yard at Athelstan. F. X. Roy, Athelstan, Box 46.

FOR SALE—An Essex sedan, in good repair and running order. Apply to Oliver & Rankin, Garage.

FOR SALE—50 select white Wyandotte pullets. Apply P. M. Elder, Glenelg. Phone: 619 r 6.

FOR SALE—One pair pure bred Bronze Turkeys; 1 pair goose feather pillows, size 42 x 29 inches, weighing 5 lbs. Mrs. C. McFarlane, Phone 635 r 3.

FOR SALE—Old hand-made violin, extra loud, mellow, clear tone; form case and bow. Complete $18.75. Thos. Farley, Phone: 623 r 1-1, Dundee.

TO RENT—House, on King street, Apply to Leo Legault, Phone 636 r 2.

MEN and WOMEN—If you like trees and shrubs, why not sell them? Make a business of it. Part time or full time. 900 varieties of proven Red Tag Nursery Products. Cash every week. Equipment and instructions free. Write, DOMINION NURSERY, Montreal.

WANTED—Poultry, 500 chickens and 200 turkeys. Highest prices paid. Stanley Gowan, Rockburn, Que. Tel. 616 r 2-4.

WANTED—To purchase, Modern house of about six rooms, in town of Huntingdon. Box 60, Gleaner Office.

INSURANCE. Reliable agents wanted in all localities to organize for old established Life Insurance Co. writing policies on monthly premium plan at low rates. Have vacancies for several agencies for large non Tariff Fire Insurance Co. For liberal agency contracts and full information apply to P. C. HART & Co., Ltd., 264 Hospital St., Montreal.

Chop one stalk of Chinese cabbage or celery-lettuce as it is sometimes called. Cut fine an equal amount of apples, add chopped nuts and squeeze the juice of one lemon over all.

GROW ACRES OF TREES Convert your rough pasture lands into bush lots that will enhance the value of your farm and put money in your pocket. For further information inquire from Arthur Taylor, Herdman, or Adam Sellar, Huntingdon.

Auction Sale 20 Western Horses will be sold by Public Auction at Huntingdon Fair Grounds on Saturday, November 9th. These 20 horses have been brought from Alberta by a Mr. Hammel. According to Mr. James, who held a previous sale in this District, this car load is a little the best load to be offered for sale here. The horses are all young and weigh from 1200 to 1550 lbs. TERMS:—Made known at time of sale. Sale at 1.30 p.m. T. J. GRAHAM, Auctioneer.

Modern Standards—The measure of a man is the sum of money required to make him call his old acquaintances "the common people"—Vancouver Province.

Brave Lads—A charter, we learn, has recently been granted to a group of New Yorkers who have formed an anti-tipping society. They are, we take it, resolved to give no quarter.—Judge.

Sales by Fred J. Donnelly To be sold by public auction at the residence of John E. Oumet, at Denville, on the main highway on Saturday, November 9th, 1929, the following property: One heavy work horse, one work horse, light, 4 year old driving horse, Titan tractor, twenty, Moody thresher, grain binder, mower, (nearly new), drill seeder with phosphate attachment, disc and smoothing harrows, walking plow, double wagon, wagon box, (new), hay rack, dump cart, steel scraper, stone wagon, milk sleigh, new hand-made bob sleighs, cutter, single harness, double harness, express harness, cart double harness, rubber tired buggy, 180 feet belting 6 inches wide, Ford dump truck, Star milk cooler, barrel churn, buffalo robes, 50 bushels oats, about 10 tons straw, a quantity of corn stalks, about twenty tons of hay, about twenty cords mixed stove wood, timber new and old, soft maple lumber, ash, scantling, oak and hickory lumber. Household furniture consisting of kitchen range, about 1925, single and double beds, child's crib, and many articles not mentioned. The whole to be sold without reserve as Mr. Oumet has no use for machinery. Hay and straw may be seen at the farm of Edmund Oumet, Boyd Settlement.

Sales by T. J. Graham Auction Sale at the residence of Emmet McCovic, Upper Ormstown, on Tuesday, November 12th, 1929, the following property: Twelve head Holstein cattle; 1 grade yearling; 2 grade cows; 1 pure bred Holstein yearling; 2 pure bred Holsteins; 2 years old; 3 pure bred Holsteins; 4 years old; 2 pure bred Holstein seed cows; 1 bull 2 years old; 1 brood mare in foal, age 7 years; sucking colt; 2 mares rising 2 years; 1 driving mare, 8 years old; double wagon and rack; Massey-Harris mowers; rakes; walking plow; double furrow plow; set of rangles; set of double harness; set of single harness; set of bob sleighs; milk wagon; buggy; 20 tons of hay; 10 tons of straw. All to be sold as the farm is improved. Terms of Sale: Eight months' credit on sums over $10.00. Sale at 1 p.m.

Auction Sale at the residence of John McDowell, at Havelock Corners, 3 miles from St. Chrysostome Village, on Tuesday, November 12th, 1929. The following property: One work horse, 7 years old; aged mare, color rising 2 years old; mare 5 years old; 18 milk cows; 4 2-year old heifers; 7 yearling heifers; 3 spring calves; 5 pigs. Farm machinery: Frost & Wood binder; drill broadcast seeder with fertilizer attachment; horse rake; disc harrows; smoothing harrows; spring tooth harrows; mowing machine; double wagon; hay rack; walking plow; two-furrow plow; dump cart; hand plow; set of bob sleighs; square box sleigh; land roller; milking machine; family sleigh; cutter; double harness; single harness; set of scales; water trough; quantity of lumber; cream cans; 100 sap buckets; 400 red ar posts; 90 tons of hay; quantity of straw 300 bushels oats; 50 bags potatoes. Household Furniture: Consisting of Kitchen stove; parlor suite; dining room suite; bedroom sets; bedsteads; bed clothes, Bed-a-Brite cream; and all small articles used about a home and farm. This machinery and furniture has all been purchased within the last three years, as Mr. McDowell suffered a loss through fire at that time when his property was destroyed. Sale without reserve as Mr. McDowell is moving away. Terms of Sale: $10.00 and under cash; 6 months' credit on furnishing good approved joint notes. Sale at 10 o'clock sharp.

MAIL CONTRACT SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa until noon, on Friday, the 6th, December, 1929, for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mails, on a proposed contract, for a period not exceeding four years, ending on the week over the Huntingdon No. 1, Rural Route, for the 1st, April, 1930 next. Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed contract may be seen at the blank form of Tender may be obtained at the Post Office of Huntingdon and at the office of the District Superintendent of Postal Service. J. TAYLOR, District Superintendent of Postal Service, Montreal, 24th, October, 1929.

Sales by C. A. Gavin At the residence of Felix Lepage, half mile west of St. Agnes Church, St. Agnes de Dundee, on Wednesday, November 13th., the following property:—9 milch cows, 14 heifers, two years old, all to freshen early spring and winter, 6 yearling heifers, 11 calves, 1 bull three years old, 1 sucking colt, 15 hens, lot of geese and turkeys, 10 cords of wood, 10 tons of hay, and also other articles not mentioned. Sale without reserve as Mr. Lepage is giving up dairymaking. TERMS:—10 months credit on all sums over $10.00 upon furnishing good approved joint notes. Sale at 1 p.m.

At the residence of J. Roch D'Aoust, opposite the new school house, Rang du Six, at St. Stanislas de Kostka, on Friday, November 15th., the following property:—3 work horses, 5 milk cows, 2 of which are senior milkers, 4 pigs, single plow, double furrow plow, square box harrows, smoothing harrows, mowing machine, hay rake, double wagon with rack, double sleigh with rack, cart, rubber tired buggy, St. Catherine cutter, box sleigh, 1925 light delivery Ford truck, forks, shovels, picks, fanning mill, a lot of pickets, De Laval separator No. 15, cook stove, heater, cultivator, double harness, cart harness, driving harness. TERMS:—$10. and under, cash; over $10., 11 months credit on furnishing good approved joint notes; 5 per cent discount for cash. Sale at 1 p.m.

DISTRICT NEWS ABOUT OUR FARMS

80 Ayrshire Cows Shipped from Lachute—During the course of the last two or three weeks some 80 Ayrshire cows have been shipped out of the Lachute district of Quebec.

TO CLEAN RUGS Light colored rugs may be cleaned by rubbing black magesia into them and then sweeping it out.

Expert piano and organ tuning and re-building done on scientific principles. Violin repairing and tone improving specialties. Thomas Farley, Dundee. Phone: 623 r 1-1.

NOTICE Notes given at my sale last January, fall due on November 14th, 1929, and are in my hands for collection. J. T. McCarty.

Province of Quebec Municipality of the Township of Elgin To the Ratepayers of the aforesaid Municipality.

PUBLIC NOTICE Is hereby given by the undersigned C. E. Ewing, secretary-treasurer of the Municipal and School collection rolls are now complete and deposited in his office.

All persons whose names appear therein as liable for the payment of said assessment are required to pay the same within twenty days from the date hereof to save costs. Given this second day of November, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine.

C. E. Ewing, Sec'y-Treas.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC, District of Beauharnois, IN THE SUPERIOR COURT, No. 5899.

LEANDRE BOYER, of the parish of St. Stanislas de Kostka, district of Beauharnois, Farmer, Plaintiff, vs. OLIVA LEDUC, of Fulkton, in the State of New York, one of the United States of America, Defendant.

The Defendant is ordered to appear within one month, Salaberry de Valleyfield, this fourth day of November, 1929.

J. R. LAPOINTE, Dep. P. S. C.

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC, District of Beauharnois, IN THE SUPERIOR COURT, No. 5900.

JAMES A. BROWNLEE, of the city of Salaberry de Valleyfield, district of Beauharnois, Foreman for bridges and buildings constructions, plaintiff, vs. NATIONAL ACCIDENT SOCIETY, a body politic and corporate, according to the laws of the State of New York, one of the United States of America, and having its principal place of business in the city of New York, in the said state, defendant.

The defendant is ordered to appear within one month, Salaberry de Valleyfield, this 28th. day of October, 1929.

J. R. LAPOINTE, Dep. P. S. C.

DISTRICT OF BEAUHARNOIS Superior Court, No. 5908.

Dame ANNIE MCCOVIC, of the parish of Ste-Malachie, district of Beauharnois, wife common as to property of Ernest Benoit, farmer, of the same place, duly authorized by her ester in justice, has, this day, instituted an action for separation as to property against her said husband, Laurendeau & Cossette, Attorneys for plaintiff, Valleyfield, October 24th., 1929.

MAIL CONTRACT SEALED TENDERS, addressed to the Postmaster General, will be received at Ottawa until noon, on Friday, the 6th, December, 1929, for the conveyance of His Majesty's Mails, on a proposed contract, for a period not exceeding four years, ending on the week over the Huntingdon No. 1, Rural Route, for the 1st, April, 1930 next. Printed notices containing further information as to conditions of proposed contract may be seen at the blank form of Tender may be obtained at the Post Office of Huntingdon and at the office of the District Superintendent of Postal Service. J. TAYLOR, District Superintendent of Postal Service, Montreal, 24th, October, 1929.

Sales by C. A. Gavin At the residence of Felix Lepage, half mile west of St. Agnes Church, St. Agnes de Dundee, on Wednesday, November 13th., the following property:—9 milch cows, 14 heifers, two years old, all to freshen early spring and winter, 6 yearling heifers, 11 calves, 1 bull three years old, 1 sucking colt, 15 hens, lot of geese and turkeys, 10 cords of wood, 10 tons of hay, and also other articles not mentioned. Sale without reserve as Mr. Lepage is giving up dairymaking. TERMS:—10 months credit on all sums over $10.00 upon furnishing good approved joint notes. Sale at 1 p.m.

At the residence of J. Roch D'Aoust, opposite the new school house, Rang du Six, at St. Stanislas de Kostka, on Friday, November 15th., the following property:—3 work horses, 5 milk cows, 2 of which are senior milkers, 4 pigs, single plow, double furrow plow, square box harrows, smoothing harrows, mowing machine, hay rake, double wagon with rack, double sleigh with rack, cart, rubber tired buggy, St. Catherine cutter, box sleigh, 1925 light delivery Ford truck, forks, shovels, picks, fanning mill, a lot of pickets, De Laval separator No. 15, cook stove, heater, cultivator, double harness, cart harness, driving harness. TERMS:—$10. and under, cash; over $10., 11 months credit on furnishing good approved joint notes; 5 per cent discount for cash. Sale at 1 p.m.

GRANDMOTHER'S DAY OBSERVED BY H'DON W. I.

Interesting Meeting Held at Home of Mrs. W. J. Goundrey Yesterday.

Souvenirs Presented. Mrs. E. C. Boyce Gave Delightful Talk—Folk Songs Rendered.

The Grandmothers had a red-letter day at Mrs. W. J. Goundrey's on Tuesday afternoon when the Women's Institute entertained seventeen grandmothers and two great-grandmothers, Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Bell, great-grandmothers, and Mrs. Partridge, the grandmother with the most children, viz. 26, received china cups and saucers in memory of the occasion.

Mrs. W. H. Walker brought several old souvenirs, among them a white satin bag hand-painted with blue, in which was found a letter written in September 1823, to accompany the gift to a bride and groom.

Mrs. E. C. Boyce, of Athelstan, gave a delightful talk on the history of what was known as the Graham farm. The property first belonged to Thomas McClay Gardiner, Dumbartonshire, who married Marion Fringle, of Winton Hill, Marion Gardiner, a daughter, married John Graham, who bought 300 acres from her father. The first home of Robt. Graham and Marion Gardiner was the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Reece, then known as the Mill House. It is said that people show their character in the building of their homes. I think that one of Mr. Graham's characteristics must have been thoroughness. Hugh Graham, now Lord Atholstan, received his education in the old stone school house, a little above Athelstan, towards Herdman. Mr. Wells is now building a house on almost the site of the old stone school. He went one year to Huntingdon Academy and then to Montreal, and in a few years the family all moved away. The farm was twenty-five acres, and was bought by Mr. Boyce and his father bought it and there we still are living on about 208 acres which we find quite large enough to work under present conditions.

The speaker said that changing times had brought changes in manners as well as methods and that we had possibly much to learn from the old settlers. They had a sense of duty and knew how to build a life we lack today. There was one refining influence that could be practiced with a little patience and forethought in the farm homes, and that was to be particular in setting our tables.

Practical ideas by Mrs. Miller:—Clean velvet stains with steel wool and brown shoes with lemon juice. Miss Agnes Macfarlane: Plant a moth ball beside cabbage to keep away the white moth.

Miss Barbara Morris gave an excellent address on the origin and meaning of Folk Songs, Folk Songs, said Miss Morris, "know no national boundaries. Parts of the same songs will be found in many different countries. Songs from the past recorded the emotions of the people. When we have a tragedy we put it in the papers; they put it in a song.

Accompanying the talk was a musical program arranged by Mrs. H. R. Graham, including such old time favorites as "The Girl I Left Behind Me"; "John Peel"; "Sweet and Low"; "Weavin' of the Green"; "Bonnie Dundee"; "Comin' Thro' the Rye"; "Old Kentucky Home"; "Old Black Joe." A group of French-Canadian songs by Mrs. Graham was very much appreciated. "Sur Le Pont," "D'Avignon," was illustrated in pantomime by Miss Margaret Kelly and Miss Albert Brantwaite. Mrs. Graham spoke of the great pleasure and satisfaction a knowledge of French has proved to be. She urged all children to study and make use of this language as much as possible.

After the meeting a social hour was held, and the afternoon closed with a delicious refreshment.

At the meeting a social hour was held, and the afternoon closed with a delicious refreshment.

At the meeting a social hour was held, and the afternoon closed with a delicious refreshment.

At the meeting a social hour was held, and the afternoon closed with a delicious refreshment.

At the meeting a social hour was held, and the afternoon closed with a delicious refreshment.

The mothers should encourage the children to acquire a perfect knowledge of French from an intellectual standpoint as well as for its undoubted commercial advantages.

The modern style, solo "Mother Macchree," by Miss Greta Rankin, was charmingly rendered.

A hearty vote of thanks to Miss Morris, Mrs. Boyce and the soloists was moved by Mrs. Brantwaite and seconded by Mr. George H. Graham.

Mrs. VanVliet, on behalf of the Grandmothers, thanked the Institute for the entertainment.

A delightful tea was served to fifty guests by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Adam Sellar, Mrs. W. A. Hunter, and Mrs. D. M. Houghton.

The meeting was not to be satisfied, however, without a final group of songs in chorus: "She's a Jolly Good Fellow"; "Auld Lang Syne," and "God Save the King."

BEAUTIFUL FARM HOME GROUNDS (J. G. Moore, in Hoard's Dairyman) Beautiful home grounds are the first essential to a beautiful state. No matter how attractive the grounds around public buildings, or how well cared for the borders of our highways, or how numerous and fine the natural beauties of the state, if our home grounds are ily kept, slovenly, and unattractive, then we cannot boast of a beautiful state.

Our slogan should be "All home grounds attractive home grounds." Do I hear someone no longer look for lame excuses as a reason for not doing something which we know needs doing and which richly rewards him who brings about the transformation?

Two expert men, not necessarily for a little labor and the seeds of a few annual flowers to be had for a few cents can often change a repulsive yard into a place which will attract attention and elicit favorable comment. Let us no longer look for lame excuses as a reason for not doing something which we know needs doing and which richly rewards him who brings about the transformation?

An attractive home grounds must be cared for. Nothing detracts more from a place than to have the yard littered with objects, the best implement belong there. This applies to the grounds in the rear of the house as well as to those in front. If it becomes necessary to store machinery, two expert men, not necessarily for a little labor and the seeds of a few annual flowers to be had for a few cents can often change a repulsive yard into a place which will attract attention and elicit favorable comment. Let us no longer look for lame excuses as a reason for not doing something which we know needs doing and which richly rewards him who brings about the transformation?

When broiled, place the steak on a hot platter, season with salt, pepper and melted butter, and serve at once.

Irregular hemlines still persist, but even hemlines outnumber the uneven. The latter are chiefly in formal, evening gowns.

In spite of plaits and godets, the slim silhouette refuses to give way to the much heralded figure which has been predicted but not popularized.

Flares, tiers, scarfs and godets maintain the feminine note in fashions which has supplanted our late boyish fad.

Three color combinations are smart as blue, yellow and black or white; or even blue, yellow and red. Yellow and green are the two most popular shades of this spring, or the new greenish-yellow.

Collars may be starched for business, and soft for sports or formal wear.

There are two ways to weed a gravel walk. One is by the use of a hoe, scraping the walk up and down, cutting off the weeds near the ground, and raking them up as well as one can. The result is that a lot of the weeds that were cut off take root again, and a lot of roots that were left in the ground send forth new shoots and flourish, so that the state of the walk is worse than the first and all the work must be done over again.

The kind of weeding which is far preferable is weeding by hand. You must get a small box or get down on your knees, and you must pull those weeds out of the gravel one by one, getting every root.

Exactly so it pays to do a thorough job when one is pulling the weeds out of one's character. Scrape off the tops, and you will easily satisfy yourself, but you will really accomplish nothing, so to the root of the evil, do thorough work, or your work will be in vain.

To make a dustless dust cloth, soak a large piece of cheese cloth and hem it in strong, hot soap suds, to which a few drops of turpentine have been added. After two hours of soaking, wring it out and let it dry. Such a cloth will hold the dust and also polish the furniture. Wash and renew the treatment frequently.

Yellowed piano keys may be restored to their original whiteness with a solution made by pouring one ounce of nitric acid, slowly into twelve ounces of soft water. Do not reverse this; for nitric acid is destructive to skin and clothing and may safely be handled only in this way, so avoid boiling and splattering. Never pour acid close to the eyes.

THE RETURN OF ARMISTICE DAY. November, 1929. (Tune—Dundee.) Dear Lord, we lift our hearts to Thee In songs of grateful praise; Remembering all the debt we owe For peace that crowns our days.

In deep humility of soul, We think of those who served, Who gave their strength, their health, their life, That freedom be preserved.

The call to arms, the clash of steel, Was echoed round the world; The cheer of every land marched forth, Their banners bright unfurled.

"Bear on the torch we pass to you!" Our conquering heroes cried, "This cause is yours which once was ours. For right we fought and died."

We meet around our cenotaphs, Our sorrowing tears are shed, As we in solemn silence stand, In memory of our dead.

Great statesmen meet and bow in prayer, That flags of strife be furled, And solemn vows are made, upon The altar of the world.

Lord, give us strength in years to come, As men both brave and free, To keep aloft that "flag of peace" Which always leads toward Thee.

By Rev. L. Nelson, St. Johns, Que. November, 1929.

Broiled Steak A tender cut, two inches thick, or less, broiled is considered a great delicacy. It may be broiled over live coals, under an electric grill or the flame in a gas oven or in a pan. Trim off the excess fat, and lay the steak on the greatest part of the broiler and place it over the coals or under the flame. If in the oven, have it first on one side, then the other, being careful not to pierce the brown crust and let the juice out. When seared on both sides, reduce the heat and turn the steak occasionally until cooked to the desired stage.

If broiling a steak in a pan, have a sizzling hot skillet slightly greased, and sear the meat on both sides, then reduce the temperature and cook to the desired stage. Do not add water nor cover. From time to time pour off the accumulated grease so that the steak will not fry. If a rack is slipped under the steak in the pan, the broiling may be finished in a hot oven.

When broiled, place the steak on a hot platter, season with salt, pepper and melted butter, and serve at once.

PERMANENT WEEDING There are two ways to weed a gravel walk. One is by the use of a hoe, scraping the walk up and down, cutting off the weeds near the ground, and raking them up as well as one can. The result is that a lot of the weeds that were cut off take root again, and a lot of roots that were left in the ground send forth new shoots and flourish, so that the state of the walk is worse than the first and all the work must be done over again.

The kind of weeding which is far preferable is weeding by hand. You must get a small box or get down on your knees, and you must pull those weeds out of the gravel one by one, getting every root.

Exactly so it pays to do a thorough job when one is pulling the weeds out of one's character. Scrape off the tops, and you will easily satisfy yourself, but you will really accomplish nothing, so to the root of the evil, do thorough work, or your work will be in vain.

To make a dustless dust cloth, soak a large piece of cheese cloth and hem it in strong, hot soap suds, to which a few drops of turpentine have been added. After two hours of soaking, wring it out and let it dry. Such a cloth will hold the dust and also polish the furniture. Wash and renew the treatment frequently.

Yellowed piano keys may be restored to their original whiteness with a solution made by pouring one ounce of nitric acid, slowly into twelve ounces of soft water. Do not reverse this; for nitric acid is destructive to skin and clothing and may safely be handled only in this way, so avoid boiling and splattering. Never pour acid close to the eyes.

Apply the solution with a brush carefully avoiding contact with woodwork. Wash it off with clean flannel dipped in water, and wipe with a dry cloth. The same mixture efficiently cleans the handles of cutlery.

TO WHITEN PIANO KEYS. Yellowed piano keys may be restored to their original whiteness with a solution made by pouring one ounce of nitric acid, slowly into twelve ounces of soft water. Do not reverse this; for nitric acid is destructive to skin and clothing and may safely be handled only in this way, so avoid boiling and splattering. Never pour acid close to the eyes.

Apply the solution with a brush carefully avoiding contact with woodwork. Wash it off with clean flannel dipped in water, and wipe with a dry cloth. The same mixture efficiently cleans the handles of cutlery.

One Car Feed on Hand E. W. McCaffrey, Phone 644 r 24 St. Agnes de Dundee, Que.

HAVELOCK Mr. Nelson Pettes of Ormstown, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gilmore.

Mr. Preston Prince of Montreal, accompanied by his father, Mr. P. Prince, visited Mrs. Eliza Roberts on Sunday.

Miss Hazel Gilmore spent the week-end with her aunt, Mrs. Florence Pettes.

Dr. Cameron Stewart of Montreal, and the Misses Margaret and Annie Brown, visited their uncle, Mr. Jas. Stewart last Tuesday.

Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gilmore were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Pettes and family of Ormstown and Mr. and Mrs. Sprague Pettes and baby Joyce of Champlain, N. Y.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed in Russetown United Church on Sunday. The Rev. Mr. Fulcher of Hemmingford taking charge of the service.

Miss Anna Sayer spent the week-end at her home. Mrs. H. Sayer is spending a few days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Miller, Jr., Bath, Ont.

Mrs. Martin Beattie gave a delightful Halloween party to the school children on Tuesday evening. The children were all dressed up in their fancy costumes for this occasion. All report a delightful time.

Mr. R. S. Brown spent the week-end in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Roberts returned home Monday from Champlain, N. Y., where they have been visiting friends for the past two weeks.

And No Vinegar—Honey-moon salad—lettuce alone. Yeh—And talking movies will teach us the word "been" shouldn't be pronounced "bin."

Figs should be put in the feedlot with steers being fattened for market for they will gather all grain dropped by the steers and clean up the grain scattered around the feed bunk. The pork produced from this feed, otherwise wasted, will add materially to the profits from fattening steers.

NO SERVICE Sunday morning in St. John's Anglican Church.

HOLY COMMUNION SERVICE at 10.30 a.m. in St. Paul's Church, Herdman.

Thanksgiving Service, Evensong and Sermon as usual in St. John's Church in evening. REV. D. J. McDONALD, Rector.

NOTICE The Women's Association of the United Church, Huntingdon, will hold their annual Sale of Work on Friday, December 6th. Kindly remember the date.

The Weredale Players of Montreal, will present "THE ROAD BACK" A Comedy in Three Acts in the Temperance Hall, Howick NOV. 23RD., 7.30 P.M. Further announcement on Week of 23rd.

Popular and Old Time Dances. Admission:—$1.00 couple. Extra ladies free.

SUBSCRIBE TO THE HUNTINGDON GLEANER.

Special Thanksgiving Dinner — At — BURKE'S INN Monday, November 11th. From 12 noon until 8 p.m. Telephone 4, Ormstown, for Reservations.

O'CONNOR HALL Huntingdon, Que. No Show Friday, November 8th. Saturday, November 9th GLENN TRYON — in — "The Kid's Clever" A very enjoyable and bright Comedy Drama. SPECIAL - - SPECIAL - - SPECIAL

Thanksgiving, Monday Nov. 11th 'Cohens and Kellys in Atlantic City Ravishing Beauts In Bathing Suits made business a pleasure for Cohen and Kelly, but vamps and wives make hectic lives. Prepare to laugh as you've never laughed before. It's a Riot No advance in prices - - Admission 30c. tax included.

Roast Chicken Supper in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Huntingdon, — on — Thursday Evening, Nov. 7th Supper served from 6 to 8 o'clock. A good program. Admission: Adults 50c., Children 35c. Everybody made welcome.

A Family Af-fair Ladies' Aid Sale of Work in Athelstan Presbyterian Church Basement, FRIDAY, NOV. 8TH. Afternoon and Evening There will be booths filled with articles for The Whole Family from Grandfather down to the Baby. Hot Supper served 5.30-7.30. Adults 30 cts., Children 20 cts. Good Programme in the evening.

The Georgetown Ladies' Aid will hold their annual THANKSGIVING SUPPER and sale of work MONDAY, NOV. 11TH. Supper and sale to commence at 4 p.m. Supper 40c., Children 25c.

Thanksgiving Roast Chicken Supper will be held in the basement of the Zion United Church, Dundee MONDAY EVENING NOVEMBER 11TH. There will also be a booth of useful and fancy articles for sale. A good programme is being prepared. Starting at 6 p.m. supper will be served. Admission:—50c. and 25c.

The Presbyterian Ladies' Aid will hold a Roast Chicken Supper and Mystery Sale in the Community Hall, Dundee, Wednesday Evening, Nov. 20th. Supper served from 6 to 9 p.m. Admission:—Adults 40c., children 25c.