The Hon. George P. Graham Throws a Bomb Into the Conservative Camp.

Is the Grand Trunk going to be so blind as to pay interest for half a century on half a million dollars—political subscriptiois?

Mr. M. J. O'Brien, of Renfrew, is the contractor to whch Mr. McGarry seemingly referred. Mr. O'Brien happens to be in the city to-day, and contented himself for the present with a general denial of Mr. McGarry's accusation as palpably absurd. More may be heard of the matter later.

In still another of the western constituencies the date of the election has been postponed by the returning officers on account of the impossibility of covering the district within the time allowed by the proclamation. In Prince Albert, accordingly, the nominations will not take place until Oct. 24.

A TORY CONSPIRACY.

Local political and railway circles are considerably excited over the report that the G. T. R. is backing out of the G. T. P. project. The Conservative press has begun the publication of a series of articles calculated to injure the Liberal cause, though there is no foundation for the stories, according to the Liberal leaders. Daily papers in Toronto, Montreal, and elsewhere, yesterday lent themselves to these tactics. Local Liberals obtained information some days ago to the effect that such a campaign was about to be started, and the information is proving to be correct.

The scheme involves the publication, in certain United States dailies that are in sympathy with the Conservative party, of election lies that have no foundation in fact. These papers have more or less circulation in Canada and Canadian Conservative papers are expected to publish extracts from them after eliminating the libellous statements that, it is alleged, will be made in the American editions. Such, it s asserted, was the origin and purpose of the articles that appeared in a section of the press yesterday, to the effect that the Grand Trunk Railway officials desired to abandon the G. T. P. project, which is as unbelievable as it is false.

CITY IMPROVEMENT.

OVER TWO MILLION DOLLARS WILL BE AVAILABLE FOR PUBLIC WORKS NEXT YEAR.

The city treasury officials are at present engaged on the final revision of the assessment rolls. And as far as the figures show, the city comptroller estimates that the increased values in real estate will amount to eighteen million dollars, after allowing one million dollars for certain reductions. The city can borrow fifteen percent on the big amount stated, which will give $2,700,000 to be spent on public improvements. A large proportion of this sum will be devoted to street paving.

NICE CHEQUE FROM THE STREET RAILWAY.

Under the conditions of franchise the Montreal Street Railway has made a statement to the city treasurer of its gross earnings during the past year, with an intimation that the percentage due to the city, under the existing scale, amounts to $241,967. Last year the percentage paid to the city amounted to $213,682.

CAUGHT WITH STOLEN GOODS.

Alphonse Benoit appeared before Judge Bazin this morning charged with stealing a rope, an overcoat and a skirt from the house of N. A. Walker, 10 Concord street. He was arrested last night by Constable T. Bricault, with the stolen property in his possession. He pleaded not guilty, and enquete was fixed for Wednesday.

STOLE A SAW.

For stealing a saw from a workman on the new post-office building William Michaud was sentenced by Judge Leet this morning to spend three months in jail.

C.P.R. LINER BREAKS RECORD

'Empress of Ireland' Crosses From Liverpool to Quebec in 6 Days, 0 Hrs., 25 Mins.

PREVIOUS RECORD WAS HELD BY HER SISTER SHIP THE 'EMPRESS OF BRITAIN.'

The C. P. R. 'Empress of Ireland' can now well be called the greyhound of the North Atlantic, for on her arrival at Quebec at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, she clipped something like three hours off the record previously held by her sister ship, the 'Empress of Britain.' The new record is 6 days 25 minutes.

This season there has been the closest kind of rivalry between the respective captains and crews of both vessels as to who should hold the blue ribbon of the St. Lawrence route.

On July 30 the 'Empress of Britain' wrested the honor from the 'Empress of Ireland' by clipping some two hours and a quarter off her record. The record held good for over two months, until yesterday, when the 'Empress of Ireland,' being favored with fine weather across the Atlantic and by the tides while coming through the Gulf on this trip, easily made a new mark.

When she arrived at Quebec at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, two special trains were backed to the side of the wharf, waiting to transfer her passengers to Montreal and western points.

The merit of this performance may be guaged by the fact that the 'Empress of Ireland' left Liverpool last Friday evening, and this morning some of her passengers had breakfast in Toronto and dinner in Chicago, just seven days after leaving Liverpool. To-morrow morning those going to Minneapolis and St. Paul will be at their destination. By travelling on the transcontinental line, passengers who left on the 11.15 o'clock train from the Windsor station last evening will be in Winnipeg at 9 o'clock to-morrow evening, thus the time between Liverpool and the prairie city would be eight days.

The 'Empresses' so far this season have not been delayed by the fog and smoke which hung over the river between Montreal and Quebec for almost two weeks. The C. P. R. liners have also wrested a large share of the American tourist trade this season from the different United States ports, for on several occasions three-quarters of the passengers booked were Americans, all of which shows how popular the St. Lawrence route is getting to be with our friends across the border.

THE AQUEDUCT EXPROPRIATIONS

In the Practice Court, this morning, Mr. Justice Mathieu granted a petition presented by Mr. Ethier, city attorney, asking the homologation of the report of the commisisoners for the balance of the expropriations not yet disposed of in connection with the aqueduct improvements. The case of the C. P. R., included in this report, was homologated under reserve, pending the acceptance of the award by the authorities of the company.

CANADIAN ARRIVALS IN LONDON.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

London, Oct. 9.—Excepting four who have gone to Ireland, the members of the Canadian Olympic lacrosse team arrived here to-day. Mr. Foran, the manager, said all were in excellent trim.

Mr. Hamar Greenwood, M.P., with trophies from Canadian forests and rivers, has also arrived

STRIKERS RETURNING.

Western Men Will all Go Back to Their Old Jobs.

A MELANCHOLY PROCESSION THROUGH THE STREETS TO ANGUS SHOPS.

A melancholy procession of C. P. R. strikers this morning paraded through the streets of Montreal, and aroused a good deal of sympathy among those who saw them. There were over two hundred neatly-dressed intelligent workmen. They gathered on St. Catherine street, and marched in a long procession two by two from St. Denis to the Angus shops, where they again made application to be reinstated in their old positions.

Many of the men had pitiable stories of hardship to tell, and evidently needed all the consolation they could obtain from the music provided. This music came from a man with an accordeon and a man with a violin, who marched at the head of the procession and played the most cheerful airs they could remember.

From official sources it is learned that fifty more men have been reinstated at the Angus shops since yesterday.

It is stated at the C. P. R. offices that there were now many more men employed at the Angus shops than there were before the strike started, and that there was not much likelihood of any more being taken on for a time. The men who have been applying for work by no means represent the men who have returned to work. During the continuance of the strike nearly five hundred strikers on the eastern division returned to work, being sent to work at points other than those where they were when the trouble started.

Winnipeg, Oct. 9.—Nearly every mechanic who went out on strike in the C. P. R. shops two months ago has returned to work; all will be back, it is expected, by to-morrow.

Every man who went on strike will get his position back and he will be paid the maximum rate of wages, notice to that effect being posted up in the yards this morning.

The men who have returned are at their old jobs, and are glad they are sure now of getting some money. They are pleased over the settlement of the strike.

ADULTERATION OF CHOCOLATE.

How many people know that when their children are munching those fascinating little chocolate cigars which are so common, they are probably taking varnish into their small stomachs? H. B. Smith, chief of the United States Laboratory at Boston, says this is one of the ways in which some of the manufacturers of chocolate products continue to defy the national food law. In a speech at the recent convention of the Association of State and National Departments Mr. Smith describes the various forms of adulterations of chololate. Mineral matters are used as fillers, weight carriers, and for lending color. Coal tar dyes, too, are employed as coloring agents. Chocolate chips are sometimes actually chips in having bits of wood mixed with the brittle sugar filler. But the most prevalent and dangerous of adulterations is the use of shellac coating on chocolate candies. Scientists, Mr. Smith says, unfortunately have not touched on 'the digestion of varnish or any other form of wood finish,' but it is not necessary to be a scientist to know that anything so uncommonly sticky and insoluble as shellac must be very indigestible.—New York 'Tribune.'

NO MORE LOVE.

Man Who Tried to Kill His Sweetheart Says He is Done With the Tender Passion.

ASKED JUDGE TO PITY HIM, AND RETURNED THANKS FOR TEN YEARS' SENTENCE.

The September term of the Court of King's Bench was concluded this morning with the sentencing by Judge Lavergne of Paul Nicolo, found guilty of attempting to murder his sweetheart, Marie Lamire, of Baie du Febvre, near Sorel, to ten years in the penitentiary.

When asked if he had anything to say before the passing of sentence Nicolo replied that he had been in the country eight years and had not been in trouble previously. He had loved Miss Lamire and had given her his heart for seven months prior to the shooting. All he asked was that the judge would have pity on him.

Judge Lavergne said that the most compassion he could allow him was to sentence him to ten years. This he could, by good conduct, reduce to eight years. His crime was a serious one, and was committed with deliberation. He had asked the young woman to sing for him, and she had refused. Then he pulled a gun, and shot the woman through the arm very close to the heart.

Nicolo thanked the judge, and said there would be no more love in his life.

THREE HOGANS

FATHER, SON, AND ANOTHER MAN OF THE SAME NAME ARRESTED.

When the cases in the Arraignment Court were called this morning, three individuals by the name of Hogan faced Judge Bazin. There were John Hogan, sr., and John Hogan, jr., father and son, and William Hogan of another branch of the family.

John Hogan, jr., is the man who, on Wednesday, with Richard Martin, gained his liberty because of the absence of the detectives to prosecute on a charge of receiving stolen goods. He was re-arrested on a new warrant in Chinatown at two o'clock this morning by Detective Betts, of the Canadian Detective Bureau, and Constables Burke and Shallow, of the city police force.

John Hogan, sr., appeared on a charge of obtaining money by false pretence. When he went to the Court House the other day with the idea of getting his son out on bail, he was informed that there was a warrant for his own apprehension. He then tried to throw the case on his son's shoulders by stating that the younger man was the one described in the warrant. His story did not go down, however, and he was locked up. To-day Mary Verschoyle, with whom the father and son lived at 116 St. Urbain street, appeared against Hogan, sr., and stated that he had by promise of marriage obtained from her twenty dollars, with which to take the lease of a house. He had failed in his promise, and she wished to obtain her money. Both men pleaded not guilty, and were remanded until Wednesday next.

William Hogan was arrested in company with Edward Coleman, on a charge of breaking into a sealed car in the yards of the Grand Trunk Railway, and stealing therefrom three hams. Both pleaded not guilty and enquete was fixed for Wednesday.

BOY INJURED

STRUCK BY A MOTOR CAR ON BEAVER HALL HILL.

A little newsboy named Stone was severely injured yesterday afternoon at the corner of Beaver Hall Hill and Latour street, by a motor car. According to the story of an eye-witness the motor and a street car were descending the hill almost side by side when the little lad attempted to cross the car tracks in front of the approaching street car, but was struck by the motor car, which he could not see until it was upon him.

The motor car was occupied by a chauffeur and two ladies. Their attention was called to the accident by a pedestrian who happened to be passing, and they turned back to learn the extent of the lad's injuries and to see what could be done for him. Already people passing had picked the boy up and found that one of his eyes had been injured.

The occupants of the car took the lad in charge and hurried to a drug store, but were told that he would have to be attended by a physician. They then took him to a doctor near by, who attended to his injuries, after which they took him home.

DRY GOODS STORE ABLAZE.

Fire which did damage to the extent of about $2,000 broke out last night in Mr. Lachapelle's dry goods store, 1811 St. Catherine street east. Firemen under the command of Assistant Chief St. Pierre, of No. 13 station, were quickly on the scene, and they got the fire under control in about twenty minutes, but it was some considerable time after that before they were able to leave the gutted premises, as the material in the store smouldered long after the water had quelled the flames. The fire originated in the office, but it is not known in what way it started. The whole stock was damaged not only by the fire but by the streams of water which were directed on the flames.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

The latest despatches from the Balkans say that Austria has entered upon negotiations for the recognition of the new Kingdom of Bulgaria. The Porte and the powers have not yet recognized it and the former has notified the Imperial Ottoman commissioner at Sofia to continue his functions. The Turkish Grand Vizier to-day submitted to the Sultan the text of an irade ordering the mobilization of the First Army Corps at Constantinople, the Second at Adrianople, and the Third at Salonika and Monastir. At the same time the foreign ambassadors are informed that this move is purely a defensive one. The Servian reservists are reported to have been ordered to join the colors, but the war fever has since shown signs of abatement. A British fleet has sailed from Malta for the Turkish island of Lemnos.

There is said to be a million and a half of unemployed people in the United Kingdom, and on these seven and a half million others depending for food and clothes.

A letter in the 'Yorkshire Post' from Glace Bay draws attention to the return of an English family to England because the emigration agents here refused to admit their crippled boy. The writer declares the case is one of egregious officialdom and heartless cruelty, and should be brought to the attention of both governments.

The British suffragists are planning to storm the House of Commons at the opening on Tuesday next, and are asking 50,000 people to come and help them.

A deputation from the Evangelical Alliance of England is to visit Canada next month.

Charles H. Trotter, an American, and Vincento Toledo and Jose Canavan, Spaniards, were murdered in the Philippines, by natives, last Wednesday.

One man was killed, another fatally hurt, and a score of others injured dangerously, in a collision between two Boston & Northern electric cars on Main street, in the Bradford district of Haverhill, Mass., just across the Merrimac river, to-day. Nearly all the injured were Italian laborers from Boston, on the way to Andover, where a short line of track is under construction.

During a scramble for a better view among the spectators at a baseball game in New York yesterday, one man was killed and many others injured.

Mr. J. J. Hill has written to the Waterways Commission in session in Chicago that the assertion that railways are opposed to waterways is one of the many cheap slanders by which a political campaign against railway interests have been promoted in the past. On the contrary, he says the relation of railway and water transportation is one of harmony and co-operation.

The 'Mayflower,' the old American Cup defender, came to serious grief last Saturday while on her way with her crew of adventurous Harvard students to search for a fabled galleon sunken off the coast of Jamaica with a rich treasure in her hold. She was overtaken by a gale about 300 miles east of the Florida coast, and her men are being brought to Norfolk, Va., by the Norwegian freight steamer 'Hyppolite Dumois.'

Settlement of the Iowa Central Railway shopmen's strike, which has been on since April 22, was effected yesterday after two days' conference. The men will return to work on Monday. The shops remain union. A general advance of one cent per hour is granted over the amount offered when the strike was declared, but the advance is several cents below the demands the men made at that time.

The Canadian Society of Superintendents of Training Schools for Nurses held the first session of its second annual convention in the Lady Stanley Institute to-day. The president, Miss M. Agnes Snively, of Toronto General Hospital, occupied the chair and delivered an excellent address. Mr. J. Ross Robertson, of Toronto, who presented the Children's Hospital of that city with its beautiful new home for nurses, was present, and spoke at some length on accommodation for nurses in hospitals the world over, which he claimed from wide observation was not generally satisfactory.

James Nagle and C. Conrad, residents of the Eastern Passage, a fishing village at the entrance of Halifax harbor, lost their lives last evening, while returning from the government works at McNab's Island. They were taking a shortcut instead of the better known route, ran among the breakers and were swamped in sight of shore. Hundreds of boats put out and rescued four men, but Conrad and Nagle were unable to swim and sank almost immediately. Nagle's wife was standing on the shore at the time. Two of the other men have not yet regained consciousness, and grave doubts are entertained for their recovery.

Citizens of Ottawa have served formal notice on the Council protesting against the erection of the proposed home for consumptives at Bayswater, on the score of danger to health.

UNSEEN BY ENGINE DRIVER

MAN WHO 'JUMPED' FREIGHT RUN OVER AND KILLED.

At an inquest held this morning into the circumstances concerning the death of an unknown man, who was killed by a Grand Trunk Railway freight train in the roundhouse at Turcot in the early hours of yesterday morning, the jury returned a verdict of 'accidental death.'

David Trindall, 36 Cazelais street, the driver of engine No. 608, of the train which is believed to have passed over the man, said that he was not aware he had run over anyone until he was informed while shunting in the Point St. Charles yard that a mutilated body had been picked up. All the lamps on his engine were lighted at the time.

Questioned by Mr. McMahon if he would swear that a man was not lying on the rails, the witness replied that the lamps would not throw sufficient light for him to see along the rails. The freight train which he was driving was proceeding at about six miles an hour, and before approaching Turcot the fireman rang the engine bell and blew the whistle.

William J. Gates, the fireman, gave corroborative testimony.

Robt. Henderson, yard foreman, stated that he observed two men on a flat car which was in front of about ten box cars on the freight train which Trindall was driving. He was of the opinion that the victim was one of the men he saw on this car. The train was coming from Coteau, and anybody getting on the freight cars there would not be disturbed until they reached Montreal.

THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN.

The Hon. G. E. Foster Enters Suit for Libel Against Mr. Levesque, M.P.P. for Laval.

Intense interest is being manifested in the Liberal rally to be held in the Monument National this evening. Representatives of all the divisions in the Montreal district will be present. The Hon. Sydney Fisher will be the principal speaker. Addresses will also be delivered by the Hon. C. R. Devlin, Senator Dandurand, Messrs. R. C. Smith, H. Gervais L. A. Rivet J. C. Walsh and others. It is possible that the Postmaster-General may be present also. The members of the Lemieux Club and the Letellier Club have been notified to attend in a body and will march from their halls to the Monument National.

MR. SMITH'S CAMPAIGN.

Mr. R. C. Smith, K.C., the government candidate in St. Antoine division, is getting his organization rapidly into shape. His central committee room is in the Reform Club, 30 University street. He has also opened rooms at 282 Richmond, 565 Notre Dame, 302 St. Antoine and 378 St. Antoine street, while others will be announced in a day or two. In addition to speaking in the Monument National this evening, and in Raby Hall to morrow night, Mr. Smith is making arrangements to address an open air mass meeting on Chaboillez square early next week. The enthusiasm with which the supporters of Mr. Smith and the Laurier government are entering upon this campaign is at once an indication of the candidate's popularity and an encouragement to his organizers. The disadvantages resulting from the shortness of the time between now and election day are consequently beginning to disappear already.

MR. FOSTER TAKES ACTION.

The Hon. George E. Foster has instructed Messrs. Bisaillon & Brossard to enter a libel suit against Mr. J. W. Levesque, M.P.P. for Laval, for damages for statements made by that gentleman reflecting upon Mr. Foster at various meetings in Laval county.

The claim sets forth that on Oct. 4, at a meeting held at Pointe aux Trembles, in Laval county, Mr. Levesque, actuated by hate and malice, and to the end of promoting the election of Mr. C. A. Wilson, without justification, reason or excuse, stated in a speech that 'Foster has speculated with the funds of the Independent Order of Foresters in such a manner that to-day that order has been obliged to raise its premiums.' By these words, the claim sets out, Mr. Levesque intended to convey the idea that Mr. Foster, acting in a position of trust for the I. O. F., which has a large number of members in the province of Quebec, had dishonestly appropriated the funds of the order to his own use, thereby making so great a loss to the Foresters that they had been compelled to raise their assessments.

Mr. Foster also alleges that on the same day, at meetings at Tetreaultville and Longue Pointe, Mr. Levesque repeated these charges, adding that Mr. Foster was the legal adviser of the I. O. F. and was in the control of their funds, and that in this position of trust with regard to their funds he had so speculated with their moneys as to cause them considerable losses, to such an extent as to cause not only an increase in their assessments, but a diminution in the value of their policies from $1,000 to $750.

'These words,' the claim continues, 'are false and calumnious, without either justification or right, actuated by malice and hate, with the sole end of promoting the interests of the candidate for whom Mr. Levesque spoke.'

While claiming that he is entitled to greater damages than $999, the claim of Mr. Foster concludes by setting forth that in order to secure prompt justice and avoid legal costs he has set his damages at that amount, and takes action for it, reserving the right to take such further action as the cause may render necessary.

ANOTHER LIBEL ACTION.

Chatham, Ont., Oct. 9.—Mr. H. S. Clements, Conservative candidate for the Commons for West Kent, yesterday filed an information before Magistrate Huston, in County Court, charging Dr. Oliver, of Merlin, with criminal libel. The candidate states that Dr. Oliver has been circulating statements about him in effect, that Clements was recently engaged in a poker game when the place was raided by the police, and got away with the money. The candidate describes the statement as utterly false, and says he will make it hot for his accusers in court.

SIR FREDERICK BORDEN'S FIGHT.

Halifax, N.S., Oct. 8.—Sir Frederick Borden is having a hard fight in King's County against Mr. N. W. Eaton, the Temperance Alliance candidate. Every Baptist minister in the county is in the campaign against Sir Frederick, and the clergy of the Presbyterian and other denominations are also taking active part. A force of detectives will be put in the field by the Alliance to watch for violation of the Election Law. It is the most desperate fight the Minister of Militia has ever had to face.

SIR WILFRID'S 'GOOD OMEN.'

The reception given Sir Wilfrid Laurier at Plessisville yesterday by the electors of Megantic and Drummond-Arthabaska, was such that it brought out the remark on the part of the Premier that he never believed such a large crowd could gather in the small town. It is estimated that about eight thousand persons were present. In his reply to the address presented him, Sir Wilfrid said that the enthusiasm displayed was of good omen for the result of the elections, and he called upon all the Liberals to remain united and give their support to the candidates regularly chosen, Mr. Savoie, in Megantic, and Mr. Louis Lavergne, in Drummond-Arthabaska.

Referring to the opposition brought against Mr. Lavergne by one of their own party, he denounced it as unjustified and based on mere personal reasons. Mr. Lavergne deserved the gratitude of the electors, and he trusted that they would give him their support. Sir Wilfrid added that since his policy was to preach peace and concord among all races, he still more strongly advocated union and harmony between all the members of the Liberal party.

The rest of the Premier's speech was devoted to a general review of the Liberal government's work, and speaking on the question of the benefit of the Transcontinental Railway, he remarked that, while the line would not pass through the districts of those he was now addressing, they would certainly derive advantages from the general prosperity to be brought on by the great enterprise. The Premier's speech was much applauded.

Addresses were also delivered by the Hon. Mr. Devlin, Mr. Savoie, Mr. Lavergne and others.

AN 'INDEPENDENT' IN ST. MARY'S.

A certain number of electors of St. Mary's division waited last evening upon Mr. Guillaume Boivin, president of the French-speaking retail merchants' association, and requested him to come out as an independent candidate.

THE NEW PROTHONOTARY.

Mr. Alfred Girard, ex-M.P.P. for Rouville, formally entered upon his new duties as prothonotary for the district of Montreal, this morning. Upon arriving at the Court House, the new head of the department summoned all the officials to his private office, and after one and all had been introduced he addressed them briefly. He said he was happy to state that the good reports received from his predecessor justified him in relying on the efficiency and good will of the staff. He assured them that they would always find him disposed to promote their interests, and in entrusting to each their respective duties, he insisted especially upon two qualities which he expected to be strictly observed: Sober habits and gentlemanly manners towards the public.

A great Liberal demonstration will be held at Farnham, on Monday, at two o'clock in the afternoon, when Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be accompanied by the Hon. Sydney Fisher, the Hon. L. P. Brodeur, and Messrs. Joseph Demers, candidate in St. Johns and Iberville; H. E. Allen, candidate in Stanford; W. F. Vilas, M.P.P. for Brome; J. J. B. Gosselin, M.P.P. for Missisquoi; Dan. B. Meigs, candidate in Missisquoi, and Col. F. W. Hibbard. Excursion rates on the C. P. R. and C. V. R. will be single first-class fare for the round trip, and tickets will be good by all trains on Saturday and Monday, returning till Tuesday.

Mr. Magloire Archambault, a well-known and popular notary of St. Antoine, Vercheres, was chosen yesterday at a Conservative convention to contest the united counties of Chambly and Vercheres at the coming election against Mr. Victor Geoffrion, ex-M.P.

At a convention held yesterday at Papineauville, Mr. Hector Chauvin was chosen as Conservative candidate in Labelle, the constituency formerly represented by Mr. Henri Bourassa in the House of Commons.

A wire received in the city last evening stated that Mr. H. A. Cholette, advocate, of this city, had been chosen to contest the county of Gaspé against the Postmaster-General.

Mr. Henri Bourassa is stumping the county of Rouville in behalf of Mr. Geo. Ares, chosen as the opposition candidate for the local election there.

A meeting of the Jewish voters of St. Lawrence division was held last night, at the Standard Hall, in favor of the candidature of ex-Mayor Ekers. There was a large attenadnce, and speeches were delivered in both Yiddish and English. The principal speakers were the candidate himself, and Mr. Harry Bloomfield, the latter dwelling on the point that the Liberal party was responsible for introducing the Lord's Day Bill, which but for the strong opposition of the Conservatives would have become law and seriously curtailed the religious privileges of the Jews. Other speakers were Ald. Clearihue, and Messrs. S. Lee, Harry Kronenberg and Manuel Levitt.

An important meeting of the Independent Hebrew Political Association will take place on Sunday, at 7 p.m., in the Standard Hall, 176 St. Dominique street. The association will discuss at this meeting its attitude towards candidates and parties in view of the approaching federal elections. The members are determined to take active part in the coming campaign with a view to securing the election of men best qualified to represent the several constituencies in which the membership is interested. Several prominent speakers will be present and deliver addresses in English and Yiddish.

Dr. W. J. Stevenson has been unanimously chosen to contest the city of London, Ont., in the Liberal interests.

CRIPPLED BOY DEPORTED

ALTHOUGH OFFICIALS AT LIVERPOOL ASSURED PARENTS THAT HE WOULD BE ADMITTED TO CANADA.

(Canadian Associated Press.)

London, Oct. 9. Last July a family named Wheeliker, one of whom was a crippled boy, emigrated to Canada. Before sailing Wheeliker was assured by the Canadian Government agent at Liverpool that there would be no difficulty in the boy's admission on account of his infirmity, but he was deported, and in consequence the whole family returned.

Mr. F. W. Gray, of the Dominion Coal Company, Glace Bay, concludes a long letter in the Yorkshire Post, Leeds, in reference to the case, in which he says:—

'It is one of egregious officialdom's heartless cruelty,' and he considers it the duty of somebody in England to bring the matter to the attention of the British and Canadian governments.

MURDERED BY FILIPINOS

Manilla, Oct. 9.—Charles H. Tr[illegible], an American, and Vincente To[illegible], Jose Canayan, Spaniards, were last Wednesday near Lubao, in the Province of Pampanga, by a party of Filipinos. The men were armed with bolos and their bodies were mutilated. Trotter was a contractor and land-owner and had had trouble with a Filipino who had sued him, which killed Trotter and his companions.

The Filipinos assert that Trotter and his companions were the victims of but American neighbors say that the murder was deliberately plotted by Filipinos who wayland the party and provoked a quarrel. They further claim that the Filipino officials are trying to properly investigate the case and prosecute the murderers, and have therefore sent a representative to Manilla with a petition to Governor Forbes to cause a special investigation of the case to be made.

The American and Spanish residents are strongly incensed over the affair.

In this division the detailed reports of the examiners were, on the whole, most helpful, but the one on history was, in the opinion of both Miss Hunter and myself, quite wide of the mark, so far as the pupils of the High Schools are concerned.

The Tercentenary Commissioners offered three medals for the best essays written on subjects in Canadian History, assigned by them. As we pay a good deal of attention to the subject of English composition, we are pleased that two of these—the silver and the bronze—were won by our pupils, William J. Flower and Zelma V. Prather.

Out of eight exhibitions and bursaries open to students entering the second year in arts, our schools took four, a bursary going to Miss Murchison, an exhibition of $150 to Miss Schafheitlin, while Dewey and Scott repeated their successes on entering the first year, and won each an exhibition of $100. To those entering the third year 11 scholarships were offered. Of these our schools won five, the winners being Miss Murphy, Miss Seymour and Cockfield, each of whom gained a scholarship of $75, tenable for two years, while MacNaughton and Couture maintained their previous record, and won a scholarship of $150, tenable for two years. Last year I reported Miss Huxtable as the winner of the Chapman gold medal in classics, and I am sure that the girls will be pleased to hear that this honor has again falled to the High School for Girls, Miss Annie Smith being the winner. I shall close this part of my report by congratulating the High School on having two of its old boys, Dr. Shepherd and Dr. Adams, the new deans at McGill, and by wishing them in their new spheres great success and enjoyment.

Miss Schafheitlin, Dux of Girls' High School.

The Alliance Francaise is doing much to encourage the study of French in Montreal, and last year gave medals for public speaking. Two of these were won by former pupils of the High School for Girls—Miss Schafeitlin and Miss Elliott.

I should like to be allowed to express, in a more public way than I have hitherto had an opportunity of doing, my grateful appreciation of the manner in which the teachers of both schools marked the close of my twenty-five years' service in these schools, and to assure them that the memory of their kindness and generosity on that occasion will greatly stimulate me in my efforts to maintain and, with their support and co-operation, add to the present efficiency of these schools.

The rector, speaking of the sympathy and support with which the board received every proposition made for the betterment of the schools, said that when it was proposed to add an optional course in housewifery to the curriculum of the Girls' School, the proposition was taken up heartily by the board, and it was not too much to say that this course had been most successfully started. When vacancies occur on the staff, these are filled with the best applicants that can be secured with the money at the board's disposal. A fine main clock, an equally fine concrete floor in the basement, a good fire escape, a fence enclosing the new athletic grounds, much headway in the grading of these grounds, are some of the things carried out by the board during the holidays, for our convenience, comfort and safety. And when ammunition was needed for our rifle practice, it was Dr. Yates, a member of the board, who supplied it at his own expense. All these things are an encouragement and stimulus both to teachers and pupils.

DISTRIBUTION OF AWARDS.

The distribution of certificates, medals, etc., followed the rector's report, these being handed to the different classes by Dr. Rexford, Dr. Adams, Dr. Shepherd, the Rev. Mr. Bruneau, Miss Cameron, of the Royal Victoria College, and Mrs. Morton, who was the first lady principal of the Girls' High School.

During the proceedings the fifth year boys presented the graduating boys' class with a large motto card bearing the following inscription:

Sydney Bruneau recited a poetic address to the graduates that was greeted with hearty cheers.

Following an established custom the graduating class of boys presented the High School with two cadets' rifles, and the young lady graduates presented the Girls' High School with two Indian statues by Hebert. Speeches by Drs. Shepherd and Adams, followed by the benediction, brought the proceedings to a close.

NEW RAILWAY REGULATIONS

FOR THE SAFETY OF THE TRAVELLING PUBLIC.

A Royal Commission, in conjunction with representatives of the various railways, have been holding meetings at Ottawa to consider new regulations relating to railway employees and rolling stock. Among the proposed regulations, which have all been practically concurred in by the railways, are the following:—

Regulations as to trains, cars, engines and railway employees have been for some time under consideration by the Royal Commission, in conjunction with representatives of the various railways, the meetings having been held at Ottawa. Amongst the proposed regulations are the following:

Locomotive engineers must have at least one year's continuous experience as a fireman, pass a satisfactory examination as to handling engines, brakes, etc., and undergo an eye and ear test.

Conductors must have one year's experience as brakeman and be 21 years of age.

Telegraph operators must be at least 18 years of age, able to write a legible hand, to send and receive at least twenty words a minute, and to pass an examination upon train rules and the working of telegraph offices.

Every employee must undergo a color test.

Cars containing live stock or perishable freight, when crippled in minor respects, shall be chained up ahead of the car and taken to the first terminal for repairs, when it is safe to haul such cars on chains. In no case are more than two such cars to be handled in any one train except where the cars have been disabled by a wreck and a special pick-up train has been sent out to bring them in.

A crippled car shall include one with any of the following defects: Broken coupler, disabled coupler, cracked wheel, chipped flange over 2 1-2 inches, broken wheel flange, bent axle or journal, broken arch bar or truck steps.

Railway companies or their officers, agents or employees, or any of them, disobeying or failing to comply with the provisions of the regulations shall be liable to a penalty of $50 for each offence.

IS IT A FORGERY?

Authenticity of an Alleged Letter of Ex-President Cleveland Under Discussion.

NEWSPAPER MAN OF 'SWETTENHAM' INCIDENT NOTORIETY MIXED UP IN IT.

There is a great controversy going on in New York and other parts of the United States regarding the authenticity of a posthumous paper of Mr. Grover Cleveland, in which the late president expressed a preference for Mr. Taft rather than Mr. Bryan. The New York 'Times' published it a week or two ago and immediately the hubbub began. It was sold to the newspaper for $650 by one Broughton Brandenburg, an unattached newspaper writer, who paid the Cleveland estate $500 for the privilege of publishing it. The 'Times' received it in type-written form with, apparently, Mr. Cleveland's signature attached.

Mr. Brandenburg explained to the 'Times' in great detail that he had arranged with Mr. Cleveland about March 1 to write a series of three articles on the coming presidential campaign; that the first article was written by Mr. Cleveland and given to him to copy in typewriting. After Mr. Cleveland had corrected this production it was again typewritten and signed by him at his office in the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company Building some time between the 12th and the 15th of March. It is just to Mr. Brandenburg to state that there are several witnesses who have testified that he had long interviews with Mr. Cleveland in the latter's office on the days he claimed to have seen him.

In order to use every precaution possible the 'Times' sent a trusted member of its staff to the residence of Mr. Hastings, Mr. Cleveland's executor, at Greenwich, Conn., with the article, and Mr. Cleveland's signature, of the genuineness of which Mr. Hastings expressed no doubt. A month later Mr. Hastings wrote to the 'Times' that he had secured evidence that the article was neither written nor signed by Mr. Cleveland. As yet the 'evidence' has not been published, but the matter has gone so far that Mr. Jerome, the New York district attorney, has interrogated Brandenburg whose version is that this formed part of a series of three articles on topics of the day for which he agreed to pay Mr. Cleveland $2,000, hoping to be able to sell them to magazines, as anything from the pen of 'our only living ex-president' was worth a good deal in these days of magazine rivalry. The article in question was the only one ready when Mr. Cleveland died, but he had revised that and Brandenburg had made a new copy which he says Mr. Cleveland signed.

The latest development is that Mr. Kern, the Democratic candidate for the vice-presidency, declares it a forgery.

'This is not the first time that Broughton Brandenburg has figured in an unsavory piece of so-called 'journalistic enterprise.' He was in Jamaica reporting a cotton congress when the earthquake occurred. Mr. A. Stuart Ewing, of Montreal, was there too at the time.

'The first time I saw Brandenburg after the earthquake,' says Mr. Ewing, 'was when he was trying to get through cables so grossly exaggerated that I forcibly protested, as I naturally did not want my friends up here to believe that not a person was left alive on the island. Sir Alfred Jones happened to come in at the time and told Brandenburg in plain English what he thought of him.'

'Did Brandenburg have anything to do with the Swettenham incident, as it is called?'

'He had everything to do with it. He saw a chance to raise international feeling over the Governor's action and thus reap a reward by writing columns. He practically monopolized all the news sent out from Kingston immediately after the earthquake.'

It will be remembered that the passengers of the 'Prinz Eithel Freidrich,' from Kingston to New York, were represented as being highly indignant about the Governor's action, and the behavior of the captain and crew of a British vessel at Kingston, and that United States papers declared that the passengers to a man attended an indignation meeting on board and eagerly signed a 'round robin,' blaming everybody and everything but the 'Americans' and their humanitarian behavior.

'Is that true?' Mr. Ewing was asked.

'Absolutely false,' he declared. 'Brandenburg called a meeting. Not a Canadian attended it; not a British subject attended it; not a white American attended it. There were residents of the United States on board who did not have money enough to pay their passage—had lost everything but what they stood up in, but they were too manly to take any part in anything so contemptible as that. If the name of any British subject was attached to that 'round robin' it was forged. The publication of the entire passenger list in yellow journals, with the statement that every passenger but one had signed it, was without any warrant whatever. That was the sort of newspaper report that the British Government accepted, and which resulted in the resignation of a governor of whom, in an emergency of that kind, all Britons have no reason to be ashamed.'

THE 'SOO' MAIL ROBBERY

ACCUSED MAN CONDUCTS HIS OWN DEFENCE.

Frederick Oliver Jock, accused of robbing His Majesty's mails by removing two sacks from a postal car of the 'Soo' train on the Canadian Pacific Railway a couple of months ago, was placed on trial yesterday afternoon, before Judge Choquet, in the Court of Special Sessions. The case of the Post-office Department was prosecuted by Mr. W. D. Lighthall, while Jock conducted his own cross examination.

The evidence was all of a circumstantial nature, but the case of the prosecution was not concluded when the court rose.

Dr. McTaggart gave evidence as to red stains appearing on the letters that were found beside the railway track, which he said were caused by blood. He had also found a small piece of skin and a portion of muscle adhering to one of the envelopes. This, he said, might have been the skin of some animal, but in all probability it was that of a human being. It was merely the outer layer, and therefore hard to make certain of. This skin the prosecution tried to show might have come from the head of the accused, who was injured the night of the robbery, and went to the General Hospital to have his head dressed. The doctor had not examined the wound on Jock's head at the time, and could not say. To Jock the doctor replied that the skin might have come from the arm or the head. All human skin was about the same.

When a C. P. R. yard foreman entered the box to give evidence, Jock cross-examined him as to the possibility of a man being able to conceal himself behind mail bags in a mail car, as Jock was thought to have done. The point of Jock's cross-examination was to prove that there was no room for a man to hide himself, and that an employee who was really doing his duty in looking through a car would know whether or not anybody was hiding.

LONG LIVED APPLE TREES.

(From 'Outing.')

How old can an apple tree grow? I have a few of the trees planted by Seconndoah, the Oneida chief, with Dominie Kirkland, the missionary, in 1791. These trees, now considerably more than 100 years old, still bear an abundance of fruit. The wood is in good condition notwithstanding many years of neglect.

The average age of an orchard as generally planted and cared for rarely exceeds fifty years. I am inclined to think that the more sturdy sorts can be made to exceed 150 years. In order to attain any such age there must be a selection of varieties and they must be grafted high up on tough stock. Our fathers' apple trees were grafted in the tops, but the apples planted in these days are grafted in the roots. However, one must not cling too long to an old tree.

SPORTING NEWS

CHICAGO WON PENNANT.

Defeated New York in National League Series Before Immense Crowds.

New York, Oct. 8.—'Chicago 4, New York 2.' This was the tale in a phrase told at the end of a most exciting baseball game played at the Polo Grounds to-day to decide the National League championship for the season of 1908. In the presence of a record-breaking crowd, which swamped the capacity of the grounds, and still left many thousands outside long before the game began to-day, the decision as to which team should hold the coveted pennant was arrived at.

The game was played in the cheerful sunshine of an ideal baseball day, before a vast concourse of people, who carried with them to the Polo Grounds the pent-up enthusiasm, hopes and fears accumulated day by day through the closing weeks of a season's fight for a National League pennant which which had been unprecedented for intensifying interest and uncertainty. At dusk, the great multitude left the enclosure, hushed and disappointed.

The pennant does not wave above the skyscrapers to-night. Its winners, who arrived here on the Twentieth Century Limited this morning, are now on their way westward.

The New York manager, Mr. McGraw, remarked: 'I do not feel badly about the game; we merely lost something we had won before.' Fair or not, this appears to be the view generally obtaining in Greater New York.

It was great baseball, and spectators who know the game, however bitter they may feel over the tie decision which made to-day's game compulsory, seem to concede that the work of the Chicago team was practically perfect The Giants, well though they fought, were outplayed. They had been under a continuous strain for a week. Chicago, fresh from rest and well-judged practice and coaching, was superb in form. Errorless fielding, artistic base running, and opportune hitting in the third inning won the game. New York could not hit at critical times. Mathewson could not hold his invincible arm power, and the effect of a moment's lapse in that third inning could not be overcome. McGraw's substitution of Wiltse in the box in the last two innings may or may not have been wise. The home team needed a long hit; needed the tremendously rallying power which Mathewson has more than once inspired into them at the very finish, and brought victory out of seeming defeat.

At daybreak the enthusiasts began to assemble in mediately the gates were swung open hundreds upon hundreds hurled themselves within the enclosure. The stands rapidly began to fill. By noon the sale of tickets ended, and soon there was not a seat, hardly standing room. And out beyonc the enclosure every overtopping structure, chimneys, derricks, roofs, held its precariously-hung swarm of rooters. Outside the grounds for an hour preceding the call of the game at 3 o'clock there was a crush of many thousands, anxious to get inside. Suddenly the corner gates to the diamond were flung wide, and hundreds rushed madly to the sides of the field, fighting for places, stopping the practice of the nines, and causing pandemonium, which seemed likely to become uncontrollable. Police fought the crowd back, and a sufficient margin of field was maintained around the diamond.

To be brief, the game was lost in the third, when the temporary weakening of New York's pitcher allowed Chicago to score four runs. They were held down pointless after this, and New York was able to add a run in the seventh to the one scored in the first inning.

INTER-PROVINCIAL RUGBY.

Great Game Between Montreal and Hamilton Tigers Expected on M.A.A.A. Ground To-morrow.

The executive of the two Interprovincial football teams to meet here to-morrow, Montreal and Hamilton Tigers, have been unable to agree on officials, so the matter has now been left in the hands of the Union. Both clubs expressed willingness to have Norman Lash as referee, but he was unable to travel to Montreal, so matters are again where they were.

If the weather is fine a large gathering can be confidently looked for. This is the first match of the season at home, it is against the team with the greatest reputation in the league at present, and beside the early hour at which practices are held makes them, except for a few enthusiasts, as hard to attend as if proceedings were held in camera.

The two new backs, who were tried yesterday, Baxter and Wills, both did well, and the likelihood is that one of them will be given a place on the team to-morrow.

The actual team will not be picked definitely until just before the match, but there is not much doubt that the team will be picked from the following.

Full back—Stinson.

Halves—Scott, Sclater, Wills, Totholl, Baxter.

Quarter—Baillie.

Scrimmage—1, Severs; 2, Cameron; 3, Douglas.

Wings—Savage (captain), Ross, Colligan, Molson, Murphy, Kelly, MacNamee, Kalls.

Adespatch from Ottawa is to the effect that the club will take the following players to Toronto for the Argonaut game:—Williams, Kennedy, McCann, Kilt, Ryan, Disney, Aylmer, Ferguson, George Kennedy, Phillips, Kilmartin, Church, Vaughan, Gaisford and Stronach. Murray Kennedy, who is at present in Toronto, will join the team on its arrival, and play in his position at centre-half. This afternoon the team had a final work-out. Argos are not underrated, and the players are prepared for a hard struggle from start to finish. Kilmartin and Gaisford will probably be th spares on Saturday. Phillips replaces Shirreff in the scrimmage, and Gaisford gives place to Stronach on the line.

Phinn, of 91st Highlanders, third. McCuaig did the twelve miles over a hilly and heavy course in the good time of one hour ten minutes, beating the Indian by about three yards.

A UNIQUE RECORD

CHICAGO HAS SUCCEEDED TWICE IN WINNING THREE CONSECUTIVE PENNANTS.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—News of Chicago's victory assuring the National League pennant to this city for the third successive year, was received with wild jubilation by the crowds watching the bulletin boards. Chicago won the pennants of 1906 and 1907 with ease, but this year's race was a gruelling one, leaving the thousands of baseball enthusiasts on tenter hooks until the last moment. By capturing this year's pennant, Chicago created a unique record of having twice in its career won three consecutive pennants. The first championships were won in 1880, 1881 and 1882.

THE McGILL TEAM.

Chances of Defeating 'Varsity in Toronto To-morrow Look Bright.

The McGill team had its final practice last night, in preparation for their match with Toronto 'Varsity to-morrow. 'Varsity will have the same team as defeated the Toronto Athletic Club last Saturday, with the addition of Lee, their captain, who has recovered from early season injuries. Black, Cassils, Galbraith, Gilmour, Saliman, Mathieson, Turnbull, Eakin, Smith, Renaud, Reid, Raphael, Hastings, and Brock will go to Toronto; and Forbes, Malcolm and Frith will probably be taken along also. The forward line is the heaviest seen in intercollegiate football in years. The backs are all steady players, and can catch safely. Renaud is playing a heady game at quarter; Forbes's injuries kept him from the game till a few days ago or the battle for the quarter-back position would have been more serious.

ST. ANDREW'S CURLING CLUB

MEMBERS OF NEW ORGANIZATION HELD SUCCESSFUL PRELIMINARY MEETING.

The organizing members of the St. Andrew's Curling Club met in the Windsor Hotel last evening and carried through its preliminary work. The election of office-bearers, however, was left over until next Thursday, pending the granting of letters of incorporation.

About thirty-five prospective members, all of them curlers of established reputation, were present. Mr. Walter M. Kearns was in the chair, and Mr. J. G. Stewart was appointed secretary temporarily. The motion founding the new club was proposed by Mr. Kearns, seconded by Mr. A. G. Racey, and carried unanimously.

Among those present in addition to gentlemen already named, were: Messrs. C. A. Patterson, John Allan, A. W. Garner, C. N. Schnare, L. L. Martel, J. E. Tanner, Hugh Watson, J. Ash, Fred. S. Brush, J. Baird, W. J. Wright, W. W. Middleton, D. Bethune, J. C. H. Dussault, Dr. W. J. Kerr, F. A. Beachy and H. Fortier.

AIRSHIP CONTESTS

INTERNATIONAL MEETING COMMENCES TO-MORROW IN GERMANY.

Berlin, Oct. 9.—Eighty-six balloons have assembled here to take part in the series of airship contests that begin to-morrow. Among the pilots are several army aeronauts of world-wide reputation. The races will start from the suburb of Schmargendorf. The principal event will be the contest for the international cup. Great public interest has been aroused by this event, for which there are 22 entries, representing eight nations.

SPECTATOR KILLED

NEW YORK FIREMAN FELL FROM A POLE WHEN WATCHING GREAT BASEBALL GAME.

New York, Oct. 9.—One man was killed, another was seriously injured and many were hurt during the scramble to secure points of vantage from which to view the game, and the following rush into the field when the last New York batter was put out. H. T. McBride, a city fireman, lost his life by falling from an elevated railway pillar outside the grounds, and an unidentified man either fell or was pushed off the high fence to the right of the main entrance to the grand stand. A list of persons injured cannot be compiled, as the injuries consisted chiefly of sprains and bruises sustained in the crowding to get seats, and the small riots that occurred at the conclusion of the game.

NO CONTRACT

COMPETITIVE SCHEME FOR ELECTRICITY SUPPLY TO THE CITY FALLS THROUGH.

The enterprise of the Robert syndicate for supplying electric light and power in the city has fallen through with the lapse of time allowed, under the civic law, for the signing of the contract authorized by the by-law passed by the City Council in July last, and signed on Aug. 7. Ald. Levesque, who had charge of the by-laws, said yesterday afternoon that he regretted the failure of the plan, as the citizens of Montreal would suffer from lack of competition. His personal opinion was that if no injunction had been sent in last December by the Montreal Light, Heat & Power Company preventing the city from granting the company a street lighting contract as well as the power to enter the city and supply electricity to citizens, all would have been well. As the case stood, the syndicate not having the street lighting contract was not sure of securing sufficient customers in Montreal, and of course this fact was not favorable for a financial undertaking.

HIGHLAND CADETS.

The engagements for next week are: Monday, gymnasium class, recruits and bugle band; Wednesday, battalion, drill order (trews), bugle band to attend, march out; refreshments after drill; Saturday, gymnasium class.

MISSING ACCOUNTANT.

Mr. James P. Dent Disappeared From Steamer Bound From Quebec to Montreal.

NOTE LEFT IN HIS STATE SAID HE INTENDED JUMPING OVERBOARD.

Where is Mr. James P. Dent, of the firm of Dent & Baker, accountants, Sovereign Bank building.

He boarded the SS. 'Marquette' at Quebec on Wednesday evening, and arrived at Montreal, and when his stateroom was opened at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the vessel's arrival in port, was found from Dent, saying that he intended jumping from the deck of the steamer at midnight on Wednesday.

It is feared that he has committed suicide, as some of his friends are under the impression that he might possibly have changed his mind and left the steamer at Three Rivers, while she was moored at her wharf there yesterday morning on account of the fog.

Mr. C. W. Baker, Dent's partner, received word from Dent to the effect that when the boat arrived in port, Dent was not among the passengers who ascended the gangway. Mr. Baker then went on board and questioned the captain and crew, but none of them had seen the missing man yesterday. Mr. Baker ascertained, however, that he had occupied one of the staterooms, and had registered with the purser. When his stateroom was searched his overcoat, hat, valise and a few papers were found. Mr. Baker says there was nothing wrong with his business. They had been in partnership for over two years, and were in a flourishing business. The only explanation that Mr. Baker can give is that he might have been suffering from a fit of overwork, as they had been under a strain of intensive auditing work lately.

Mr. Dent has a wife and two children living at 520B Mance street.

DID I DO MY VERY BEST.

In a little seaside village
At the dawn of one cold day
Men espied a strange, huge vessel
On the reefs, not far away,
Foaming billows boomed and thundered
As they swept across her deck,
And alas! for those in peril
In that tossing, breaking wreck.

Soon the news spread o'er the village
Then from many a cottage door
People rushed in sore amazement
And they hurried to the shore.
Could they save the souls out yonder?
Ah, alas! it could not be,
For no boat could launch in safety
From the shore in such a sea.

There among the anxious watchers
Standing near the breaking wave
Was a youth, a famous swimmer,
Who was very strong and brave
There he watched the stricken vessel
Till his heart could bear no more,
'Boys,' he cried, 'I must go yonder,
I must bring those souls to shore.'

Casting off his outer garments,
Heedless of the cold and storm,
He attached a rope securely
Round his sturdy, agile form;
Throwing one end to his comrades,
Standing there upon the beach,
He at once plunged through the breakers
Those poor helpless souls to reach.

From the shore they watched the swimmer
Soon he reached the sinking ship
See! he grasps a drowning woman
With a firm unyielding grip.
Hark! he's calling to his comrades
'Mid the breakers' angry roar,
And together with his burden
They now pull him safe to shore.

Then the brave and hardy swimmer
Plunged again into the sea
Where poor struggling, drowning victims
Near the wreck were seen to be.
One by one he grasped them bravely,
Heedless of the raging wave,
Till he'd saved ten helpless beings
From a cold and watery grave.

Then his strength was all exhausted
He had scarcely power to stand
As he bent before a bonfire
Which they'd kindled on the sand
As he stood beside that fire,
Shivering in the chilly air,
Ah, he saw brave men and women
Who were struggling still out there.

'Boys,' he said, 'those souls are yours
I must go out there again.'
'No,' they cried, 'you're too exhausted
Your attempt would be in vain.'
'But they're drowning,' he implored
drowning,'
Was the quick reply he gave.
And before they could detain him
He had plunged into the wave.

Once again they watched the swimmer
And the watchers held their breath
As they saw him going bravely
In the very jaws of death.
Soon he seized a drowning victim
Brought him safely to the shore,
Then another, and another
Till he'd rescued seven more.

Then they pulled him through the breakers,
Ah, he now could do no more
Weak and worn he staggered forward
But he sank upon the shore.
Loving hands now raised him gently
Bore him quickly from the spot
To his home upon the hillside
Lying near within their reach.

Then they took him to his chamber
Laid him softly on his bed
Where he lay awhile unconscious
Pale and silent as one dead.
Soon they saw his life was waning
As the sun sank in the west,
And they heard him faintly whisper
'Did I do my very best?'

INCONSISTENT EVIDENCE.

Witness at Marine Inquiry Surprised by His Own Statements at Another Investigation.

MR. MERWIN ADMITS THAT SOME OF HIS EVIDENCE IS MISLEADING.

Some remarkable inconsistencies of statement were brought out at the marine inquiry yesterday afternoon by Mr. Watson, the chief counsel, in his further examination of Mr. Merwin, who had acted as the agent of the Safety Car and Heating Company, of New York, in several transactions with the Marine Department, in which buoy and lighthouse supplies were bought from the company. The examination of this witness, which commenced yesterday morning, was not concluded until the Court adjourned for the day.

At the outset, counsel's questions were renewed in order to obtain further information regarding the business relations that had existed between the witness and Mr. J. F. Fraser, the superintendent of lights, now under suspension. Witness said he had not informed Mr. Fraser of the cost to the firm of certain goods which the department had to purchase. He did not know the cost himself and he would not have told Mr. Fraser or anyone else the cost if he had known it.

Mr. Watson—Not even if your refusal had meant the loss of the trade?

Witness—We could not have lost it all.

Mr. Watson—Why not?

Witness—Because no one else could supply the goods.

'Oh, I see! you had them by the neck!' commented Mr. Watson.

'No, sir; not necessarily,' said the witness, who, in reply to further questions, denied that he had ever made sales direct to Mr. J. F. Fraser, nor had he had negotiations with him regarding the cost of goods.

When shown letters from Mr. Fraser certifying that certain goods were sold at prices fair and just, the witness said he knew nothing about the certificate, whereupon Mr. Watson remarked that Mr. Fraser must have made some inquiries about the cost before he issued such a statement. That seemed to him somewhat inconsistent with Mr. Merwin's evidence that there had not been any negotiations regarding prices.

Mr. Watson—You say you know nothing about the cost, or the profit, of these goods?

Witness—Yes.

Mr. Watson—You never inquired, and deliberately refrained from doing so. Is that so?

'That is so,' replied witness.

Mr. Watson—Of course, 'deliberately refrained from doing so' implies that in the ordinary course you would have inquired.

'No,' corrected witness, 'it does not imply that. I never made it a practice to find out what the cost of any material was that we sold, either to the Marine Department or to a railway company.'

Still on the point of negotiation over prices, Mr. Watson produced a letter written by witness, in which he said:—'Would say that, after going over the matter thoroughly, I find it would be impossible for us to make any reduction in prices.' That looks as if there was some question raised about prices, after all,' remarked counsel.

Witness admitted that the letter was written by him.

Mr. Watson asked that the certificates from Mr. Fraser regarding fair and just profits might go on the official file, and the request was granted.

Mr. Watson then quoted extracts from the official report of witness's evidence given before the Public Accounts Committee in 1906, in order to show the inconsistencies of his statements that day and those made before the committee in 1906.

Mr. Merwin replied that certain of the old statements were mistaken and others he did not remember making; but he would not say the 1906 reports were not correct.

Mr. Watson—Did you state what was true on that occasion?

Witness—To the best of my knowledge, I did.

Mr. Watson read further extracts to show that witness had told the Public Accounts Committee that he had sold goods to the government for the Brooks Company. That day he had stated in evidence that he never sold goods for the Brooks Company.

Witness said his reply was misleading.

The Judge—Were you misleading the Public Accounts Committee, or are you misleading this Court?

Witness—I hope I am not trying to mislead anyone.

The Judge—Trying!

The only explanation the witness gave in reply to further questions regarding the inconsistency of statements was that he was looked upon as a sort of partner in the Brooks Company, and before the Accounts Committee he was speaking in that relationship—in fact, he was speaking for Brooks. 'Brooks,' he added, 'would not appear, and so I gave evidence for him.'

Mr. Watson said that in view of this condition of affairs, he did not think he would be assisting the judge in arriving at a correct conclusion of the fact by pursuing this testimony further.

The Court then adjourned until this morning.

To Digest the Food

Bile in the intestines is as important to digestion as are the gastric juices in the stomach, and bile is only supplied when the liver is in active condition.

The serious and chronic forms of indigestion are cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills because of their influence on the liver, causing a good flow of bile to aid digestion and keep the bowels regular, thereby preventing fermentation of the food, the formation of gas and all the disagreeable symptoms of indigestion.

Long standing cases of chronic indigestion yield to Dr. A. W. Chase's Kidney Liver Pills after all else has failed. Here's the proof.

"I was for many years troubled with indigestion and headache and derived no benefit from the many remedies I used. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and after taking four boxes the result is that I am once more in the full enjoyment of the blessings of good health."—Mr. Duncan McPherson, Content, Alta.

PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

MR. WATTERSON UPON THE DANGER OF THE REPUBLICANS REMAINING IN POWER.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 8.—Mr. Henry Watterson, the editor, speaking at a Democratic rally to-night, 'rejoiced that he had lived to look upon a reunited Democracy.' He continued:—

'The politicians tell us there are many issues, but I see only one. If we cannot change our rulers at will, if an organized and defiant minority inside a fortress can withstand the siege of an undisciplined and ill-equipped majority on the outside, how shall talk about trusts and tariffs, about rebates and bank deposits, about money and morals, and stocks and bonds, profit us?

'The Republican party, grown corrupt and arrogant, is putting forth a tremendous effort to retain power which it has so much abused. If it succeeds, it will never surrender it short of some dire catastrophe making its exit the signal for, it may be, a civil war.'

Colonel Watterson, referring to the campaign waged by the Republican party, said:

'We see all disguise of decency thrown aside; the black flag of trustism run up to the masthead; the decks crowded with corporation counsel. The occupant of the White House summons the unspeakable Hearst as his star witness.

'Having pitched the campaign on a false note, starting out with a man of straw, on a platform of imposture, no argument is too absurd, no illustration is too rank for the men and the interests that do not mean to be dislodged if fraud and force can save them.'

Mr. Watterson declared that the White House 'is already the palace of a king,' and that President Roosevelt 'has thrown duty and dignity to the winds, and gets down like a matador into the bull ring, mud-stained and powder-smirched, swearing like a trooper at all who come within the sound of his voice and the reach of his inflamed fancy.'

MR. EUGENE DEBS WELL RECEIVED.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 8.—Mr. Eugene V. Debs, presidential candidate of the Socialist party, wound up his New England trip on his 'Red Special' to-night with a great mass meeting in a local theatre, at which hundreds were turned away at the door, although an admission fee was charged. The meeting was preceded by a street parade, in which several hundred men and women, with sticks of red fire and red banners marched to band music, in which the 'Marseillaise' was the favorite air. A squad of police officers was necessary at the theatre to control the crowd which sought admission. Mr. Debs made a lengthy address upon the aims of his party.

FIRES IN ADIRONDACKS

Malone, N.Y., Oct. 8.—The forest fires in this section of the Adirondacks are again assuming a most threatening aspect, and to-day a big force of men was sent to assist in protecting Dr. Seward Webb's property at Nehasane. Other serious fires are reported at Bay Pond and Mountain View. At the former place, the country home of Mr. William Rockefeller, the woods are ablaze in hundreds of places. With the dry leaves now falling fast, a big wind would drive the fires through thousands of acres of green timber. The conditions are considered here to be fully as bad as before the rain a week ago.

ANOTHER AUTO. VICTIM.

Englewood, N.J., Oct. 8.—The second death from the automobile accident in Fort Lee on Sunday occurred in the hospital here to-day, when Louis Ungrich passed away. Suffering from a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain, he had but short periods of consciousness since the accident. The crashing of the automobile into the telegraph pole resulted in the instantaneous death of Charles Weisbecker, a wealthy provision dealer in New York city, who was the owner of the machine. The wives of both men were badly hurt, but they are reported at the hospital as doing well, but neither is considered to be out of danger.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1908.

The aldermen are home from Omaha, Nebraska, where it seems that they learned many things. Among others, they learned how little is known of Montreal in the far west of the United States. Like some benighted English people of the long ago, the people there imagined that we always dressed in furs and that our principal occupation is trapping wild animals and fighting Indians. But they know better now, and will know better still next year when the American Municipal League will meet in this city. What interests us is what they will learn about us when they come. The chief thing the aldermen learned was of the admirable public spirit animating the citizens of the west, and the fine appearance of their streets and cities generally. The aldermen come home deploring the unsightly poles in our streets and the 'how not to do it' way we go about most of our public works; and we may hope that, henceforward, all our travelled aldermen, at least, will be on the side of efficiency in all departments and directions. If they were to set about it immediately they might make a big advance before the advent of the critical visitors next year. If they do not, how do they and our city expect to be described abroad? Will they permit us truthfully to be spoken and written about as—apart from the many beauties of our natural situation that the work of man cannot disfigure—'a rather shabby sort 'of place, worse administered than one 'of our little one-horse towns'? They might, if they would, prevent this, and send our visitors away with some such phrase as, 'They are up-to-date, and 'among the best!'

Turkey covered her retreat in not marching at once against Bulgaria and against Austria-Hungary, by appealing to a conference of the powers that had guaranteed the condition that these two powers were violating. Austria has very naturally protested against any conference whose object would necessarily include a review of her act in annexing Bosnia and Herzegovina. She has done that and does not propose to submit it to anybody's judgment. This darkens the sky, as far as hope from a European conference is concerned. What further resources diplomacy may have remain to be unfolded. Whatever may be done to prevent war there seems little hope that all the king's horses and all the king's men will ever set Humpty Dumpty up again. War would probably be prevented if all the powers were working towards that end, but the appearances are that Germany would rather see war than not, as it could not but exhaust the countries to the south-east of her; and she will act the obstructionist, as she did at the time of the Armenian massacres, and at the time of the former revolt of Crete. This, and the turbulence of states outside of the recent proceedings, may easily, if not cautiously handled, result in blows. Servia, which is in the very centre of the changes going on, and which has been entirely ignored, is buzzing like a beehive that has been shaken up by some outside commotion. The Servians do not wish to see their fellow Slavs of Bosnia and Herzegovina come under the Austrian rule, partly, perhaps, because they have ambitions themselves in that direction, and partly because they see their own turn coming next, which, in view of the rottenness of their own government, might not be long in finding occasion. Great Britain has given them advice to keep quiet if they do not want to bring about the very thing that they fear.

A most serious aspect of the questions relating to immigration in Canada and the United States, from a social point of view, is how to prevent the transfer of criminals from Europe to this continent. Police Commissioner Bingham, of New York, having retracted his statement that the Jews of that city supplied over fifty percent of its criminals, though less than one-fourth of its population, has led the immigration authorities to take measures for ascertaining the records of foreign criminals, so that they may determine just what races are the most undesirable. The records of the criminal courts on this side of the Atlantic show that each race has a bent towards criminality of a certain kind. It has, therefore, been thought advisable to obtain a tabulation of crimes by nationalities in the United States and in the countries of Europe. It is also proposed to obtain the pedigrees of convicted criminals, as far as may be possible, in the countries to which they belong, with a view to their exclusion or deportation. It is commonly averred that the local authorities in all European countries systematically endeavor to get rid of their criminals, paupers and imbeciles by sending them to America. Whatever truth or the opposite there may be in this surmise it is easily believed. It is a matter of self-defence for Canada and the United States to be alive to this, and, as far as may be, put a stop to the intentional dumping of undesirables, though it is possible to carry exclusionist rules to the extent of selfish cruelty. Hereafter intending immigrants will have to show a clean record, both of person and family, before being allowed to go aboard ship bound for the United States. Nor will the records furnished by their home authorities be accepted, for the immigration agents at the port of departure must be satisfied as to their truth. In this way it is hoped to keep out degenerates and social wrecks, and in this way many a poor fellow anxious to rise out of untoward conditions will be deprived of his one chance.

AUTHORITIES DIFFER.

The 'Gazette' this morning publishes a letter signed 'Anti-Shoddy,' which it is generous enough to entitle: 'A correspondent corrects some errors of an opponent of the woollen industry.' Needless to say, the 'Witness' is thus described because it opposes the campaign to add more than a third to the cost of our clothing. However, among other things of which the 'Gazette' thus assumes the responsibility, 'Anti-Shoddy' says:—

> In the universal trade returns for the last year I find this entry under the heading of free goods imported. Rags of cotton, jute, hemp and wool, paper waste, clippings and waste of all kinds, N.O.P., except metallic broken glass or glass cullet, cwt. 323,453.' Ignorant, apparently, that a 'cwt.' is 112 pounds, the 'Witness' adds two ciphers, and makes it 32,000,000 pounds, when the correct figure is really in excess of 36,000,000 pounds. . . . . Most ghastly of all, is its assumption that the entire importation of cotton, jute, hemp, wool, paper waste and clippings and waste of all other kinds not provided for elsewhere in the tariff, went into the manufacture of shoddy woollens in the few remaining woollen mills of Canada! If it had the woollen manufacturers would not have stood in need of the advice given them by Sir Wilfrid, to gain the Canadian market by giving the consumers shoddy 'shiney tweeds.' Of course the great bulk of this fine assortment of waste did not go into the woollen mills at all, but to the paper mills and other channels in which waste is utilised. The woollen mills' share was about as skimpy as the sympathy that suffering industry obtains in the columns of the 'Witness.'

Our critic accuses the 'Canadian Textile Journal,' the spokesman of the trade, of ignorance more than the 'Witness,' as it was from that high authority we took the figures so animadverted upon by 'Anti-Shoddy.' The 'Canadian Textile Journal' said:—'If the importation of English shoddy goods into Canada were 'dangerous to health, why should not 'the importation of rags and shoddy 'into Canada, to be made up by our 'own manufacturers, be also dangerous 'to health, as there has been a large 'increase of such importations during 'the past few years?'—and it then goes on to give the figures we quoted from it, including the reckoning by the short instead of the long hundred weight which does not materially affect the question. 'Anti-Shoddy,' however, says that 'the woollen mills' share was 'about as 'skimpy as the sympathy that "suffering" industry obtains in the columns 'of the 'Witness.'' Our sympathies are naturally with the sick and the afflicted, whatever the history of their malady, but they are naturally stronger with the people of Canada, who are paying quite enough now to keep a 'suffering' industry in life. But which is the highest authority upon the subject, 'Anti-Shoddy' or the 'Canadian Textile Journal'? We must leave them to decide.

FINANCIAL REVIEW.

Stock panics and business depressions are generally followed by periods of extremely cheap money, and absolutely secure securities, especially bonds, rise to higher prices. But this is not an indication of restored confidence. It may be the reverse. A bondholder is a mortgage-holder, while a stockholder is an owner. A bondholder is secured on all there is; a stockholder depends on earnings. So that when the stocks which represent the industries of the country begin to rise, and keep on rising, even though slowly, that means that investors look for extension of industry and consequently greater profits. This is exactly what has happened on the stock exchanges of the world recently, and notably those of New York and Montreal. As a barometer of industry the stock market is moving towards 'set fair' with gratifying progress. In other ways, the gradual recovery from adverse conditions is recognized.

The past week on the local stock exchange has been quite an interesting one. The Balkan question gave the market a hesitating tone, and in consequence the advances and recessions were about equal. While traders recognize in the present situation their old friend, the Eastern war-clond, they are disposed to be conservative, and no particular stock showed any great change. Early in the week, trading was rather limited, and prices weakened more or less. This, however, did not continue long, and as the days passed the market became more buoyant and quotations, for certain of the leaders, were inclined to show advances. The selling of Power is a feature of the market, and the demand continues from abroad, while prices are inclined to stiffen as the volume of the stock on the market decreases. Montreal Street is on the quiet side of the market, but is strong and it is being well looked after by those who appreciate the value of this security as an investment. Canadian Pacific appears to be a favorite in London and New York, and considerable of the buying just now is emanating from these places. The unanimous sanction of the shareholders to the proposal of the directors at the annual meeting to increase the capital stock of the company by another $50,000,000 was a foregone conclusion. How the new stock is to be issued has not yet been announced, but it may be taken for granted that as in previous issues the shareholders will be given a preference in subscribing the amount required. Though the past year has been a most trying one for all the railways in Canada, the management of the Canadian Pacific can point with justifiable pride to its record during that period, and the consistently steady price of the stock all through the time of depression would indicate further advances during the more prosperous times which seem now to have started throughout the country.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. Charles Hosmer upon his election this week to the Board of the Bank of Montreal. The appointment is universally commended as adding strength to that enormously influential institution.

'Soo' Common has eased off considerably, and the buying of this stock appears at the moment to be in the hands of a few powerful interests. International issues, such as Mexicans, Illinois Traction, Detroit United, Mackays, have been quiet, but steady. Heavy buying has taken place in Mexicans on the strength of the merger proposition. Industrial securities, such as Ogilvies, and Lake of the Woods, Shawinigan and Laurentide, have been purchased in small lots, but in keeping with the general tone of the market they have maintained quite well the advances gained some weeks ago. The annual meetings of Ogilvie and Lake of the Woods, held this week, were satisfactory, and while the earnings were not as large as last year, they were sufficient to afford gratification when the difficulties of the past season are taken into account. The bond market has been quiet, but steady, while mining stocks have enjoyed a fairly active business, with prices inclined to advance.

While United States military and state authorities believe that serious complications between the European powers will be averted, there appears to be much uncertainty in financial quarters regarding the final outcome of the Balkan affair. While there is not the least likelihood of the United States becoming involved, the possibility of war in any part of the world is far from a favorable market factor, and according to reports received from across the border, until this matter has been adjusted Wall street will be susceptible to advances from European capitals. This factor, added to uncertainty about the presidential election next month, should make for irregular and even erratic movements of prices. The underlying tendency of Wall street, in spite of the Balkan uncertainty, is upward, and the market is in a position to give the best response to favorable developments. Following the elections, it is expected that business throughout the United States will show a big improvement, which would serve to create a better demand for money, and if speculation revives that too will have to be taken into account. It looks at the moment as if the lowest rates in money had been reached, and that while cheap money might be expected for some time to come, the tendency points to higher prices. It is now almost a year since Wall street trembled with panic fear, which spread throughout the financial and industrial world. Recovery has made good headway across the border, but it is not yet complete. Liquidation did its work in eleminating weak spots and leaving the financial situation much stronger than before. It is within reason, therefore, to look forward to increasing activity all over the Republic, in all lines of business, the chief obstacle to a full resumption being the continued high cost of production. Financiers, brokers, and holders of stock seem pretty well satisfied that the worst has been seen, and that from now on trade is more likely to improve than retrograde.

MEDICAL INSPECTION.

St. Louis Commissioners Decide to Have it in Fairmount School.

The Protestant School Commissioners of the town of St. Louis, at a meeting held last evening, decided to inaugurate a system of medical school inspection for the Fairmount School. This school has an attendance at present of about a thousand children, and the commissioners are deeply impressed with the necessity of proper inspection. They have secured the consent of Dr. A. A. Bruere, lecturer in clinical medicine at McGill, and one of the foremost bacteriologists of this city, to act as inspector. The doctor will have access to the school rooms whenever he finds it convenient, or considers it necessary. He will be available whenever a pupil is suspected of being ill of a contagious disease, and he will also have full charge of the sanitary condition of the school. In addition to inspection of contagious diseases, Dr. Bruère will examine cases of defective sight and hearing.

The commissioners have also decided to enforce the regulation regarding vaccination, and the principal has been instructed to ask all pupils of the school for their vaccination certificates. At the suggestion of Dr. Bruère they have also decided to recommend that the pupils provide themselves with individual drinking cups in the school, and the commissioners expect this will shortly become the fashion.

Although the medical inspector will be engaged by the commissioners, and act under their control, the commissioners and influential taxpayers consider that the Municipal Council, in view of the great benefit that this inspection will bring to the community, should give it their approval and encouragement to the extent of a grant towards the cost of the inspection.

Although the school has been rendered practically fireproof, the commissioners have decided to do away with all board partitions in the play rooms and replace them with brick walls.

Twenty years ago Russia had 3,000,000 acres under flax cultivation. This has been reduced to 200,000 acres, owing to labor troubles and the increasing use of several exotic fibres that rival flax.

THE ST. LOUIS QUARRY.

May Now be Bought for Nine Thousand Dollars, Instead of Thirty Thousand.

DEED OF SALE STIPULATES THAT LAND MUST NOT BE USED AS A QUARRY.

A few more facts which may interest the taxpayers of the Town of St. Louis have come to light on the subject of the stone quarry which Mayor Turcot proposed to buy for $30,000.

It will be recalled that when the scheme was before the town council a great deal was said about the value of land in Outremont, and written opinions were read to show that building lots on St. Catherine road, in the immediate vicinity of the famous quarry were held at fifty cents and even at seventy-five cents a foot. Since that time inquiries have been made to ascertain from independent sources the real value of the particular lot offered for a quarry; and it was learned that this land is comparatively of little value. It is rock land, so rough and uneven that it cannot be built upon without terracing, which would entail a heavy outlay.

The actual price at which this land is offered for sale to-day is fifteen cents per foot. This is the lot which Mayor Turcot and his followers, Councillors Grignon, Jubinville and Desjardins, wished to saddle upon the town at a cost of fifty cents a foot, or exactly $30,000 for sixty thousand feet, instead of $9,000, the value put upon it by the real owners. This land was sold not long ago by the present proprietors at ten cents a foot, and the purchaser has not yet signed the deeds which would indicate that it is not a great bargain even at ten cents. The land is for sale at fifteen cents a foot. It is not and never was worth anything like fifty cents. This information was obtained from those who are competent to speak on the subject and may be depended upon as correct, although the figures are so startling as to appear almost incredible.

Other circumstances have come to light which would seem to show that the Council of St. Louis was unaware of the existence of a restrictive condition in the deed of sale from the real owners of the property to the party who bought it at ten cents. It is expressly stipulated in that deed that the land shall not be used as a stone quarry; yet it was precisely as a stone quarry that the Mayor and his supporters proposed to use this lot. It is to be presumed that the real estate agent with whom the council was dealing had not read the deed, and knew nothing about this restrictive condition; because to suppose that he had knowledge of the fact and had made his clients aware of it, would be to open the door to all sorts of theories as to what the council would have done with this property. Could they have worked it as a quarry in spite of any restrictive condition in a former deed, or did they merely intend to blast away some of the rock so as to terrace the slope of the mountain, and then resell the property and realize that $70,000 which, acording to Mayor Turcot, the town must infallibly lose through the neglect of the council to purchase this lot?

It is certain, however, that at the council meetings, when the question of purchasing the property was under discussion, it was stated that even if thirty thousand dollars was paid for this lot it could be resold at an immense profit after a certain quantity of stone had been removed, and it was the loss of this anticipated profit that the Mayor so much regretted.

WARNING TO MOTORISTS

JUDGE LEET TELLS THEM WHERE THEIR INTEREST LIES.

Judge Leet in condemning two chauffeurs in the Police Court this morning, for fast driving, drew attention to the fact that the practice is becoming more frequent.

This year there had been more complaints than ever, and he would point out to motor-car proprietors that if they do not wish to incense the public against them, as has happened in some of the States across the border, and thereby have application made to the Legislature for more stringent regulations, it is to their own interest to see that the law in regard to speed is conformed with.

C.P.R.'S SUMMER SERVICE

The changes in the transcontinental service of the C. P. R., which it was announced some time ago were shortly to take place, have been indefinitely postponed. So heavy is the passenger traffic that it has been decided to continue the double daily transcontinental service between Montreal and Vancouver, and also the daily service between Toronto and Winnipeg, until further notice. It is said to be extremely probable that this service, which is the regular summer service, will be continued until the New Year. This is the first time that the summer transcontinental service has been extended into the winter, and it is a good indication of the business conditions and returning prosperity in Canada.

HIGHLANDERS BACK AGAIN.

A contingent of the 48th Highlanders of Toronto, under the command of Col. Robinson, arrived in Montreal last evening on their way home. The 'kilties' were passengers on the 'Empress of Ireland,' which arrived in Quebec yesterday afternoon. While they were taking a course of instruction at Aldershot, they had the honor of being reviewed by King Edward. They all speak in the loudest terms of praise of their trip. They left on the 11.15 p.m. train for Toronto.

MOUNTING A MAMMOTH

HOW THE RECENT FIND BEING IS BEING DONE FOR RUSSIAN MUSEUM.

St. Petersburg correspondence of the 'Globe.')

After a journey lasting six months and costing £1,700 the skeleton of a mammoth found last January by a native in the sandy bed of the River Yurach has reached St. Petersburg.

The skeleton was found by the native on the Arctic Ocean. The Governor of Yakutsk telegraphed at once to the Imperial Academy of Sciences, and set off straightway a mission to secure the interesting discovery to the museum. The specimen now brought to light is of remarkable size, but some parts of the carcass have been preserved, while others as far have not been found; thus, for example, only the teeth are absent and the greater part of the softer portions of the carcass weighs only 257 stones. The journey took six days for the remains to be prepared and treated properly by experts, who had to work in an underground tent at a temperature of 30 degrees below zero cold.

The proboscis is found now for the first time in an uninjured state. The remains has been put into spirits; the whole journey to Bulun, a distance of 1,000 miles, took a fortnight, and the mammoth was carried on reindeer sledges. At Bulun the skeleton was carried down the River Lena to Schegalov, and from Schegalov by carts to Yakutsk. It will take at least a year to mount the skeleton in the Zoological Museum here.

FINE AND COOL

Jack Frost came the other day
Turned the meadows brown and gray
Ruddy oaks and maples bright
Now are in their glory.
Summer birds are on the wing
Autumn breezes loudly sing
Nutting days have now begun
Oh, what fun!

When the winter storm arrives
Makes the house seem cozy
And the firelight flaming high
Turns our faces rosy,
Then we'll bring the hickory
Then we'll pass the nuts about
Stay at home if storms are
Oh, what fun!

KIRKDALE GRAVEYARD

ONE AT KIRKDALE, THROUGH THE GENEROSITY OF THE PUBLIC, WILL BE KEPT IN GOOD ORDER FOR ALL TIME.

The sum of five hundred dollars, which was needed for the maintenance of Kirkdale cemetery, has been raised. The promoters of the movement feel that there are many dilapidated graveyards in the country; and with the object in view of assisting other communities to see that their sacred grounds are properly kept, the Rev. W. A. Adcock, of Kirkdale, has issued a letter to the subscribers which will, no doubt, prove interesting to those desirous of maintaining such property in their own parishes. Mr. James Lyster, manager of the Great Western Life Assurance Company, was actively identified with the raising of the Kirkdale fund. The interest derived annually from the $500 will be sufficient for the payment of all expenses necessary for keeping the graveyard in a respectable condition.

NEW PASTOR INDUCTED.

The Rev. J. K. Unsworth Formally Received as Minister of Bethlehem Church.

ADDRESSES OF WELCOME DELIVERED BY MR. LIGHTHALL AND SEVERAL CONGREGATIONAL MINISTERS.

Amid manifestations of loyalty and sympathy, which were intermingled with feelings of joy, the members of Bethlehem Congregational Church, Westmount, formally welcomed and received the Rev. J. K. Unsworth as pastor of their church at the induction service, which was held last night.

The preliminary proceedings consisted of an examination of Mr. Unsworth by the Congregational Council as to his fitness to fill the position after which the regular induction service commenced, the Rev. Dr. E. Munson Hill reading the decision of the council, which approved of the appointment made by the members of the church.

The Rev. Dr. Warriner, moderator, occupied the chair, and he called upon the Rev. Hugh Pedley to deliver the charge to the pastor.

The Rev. Hugh Pedley spoke in a reminiscent vein of the days when Mr. Unsworth was his assistant at Winnipeg. This was twenty years ago, and his knowledge of Bethlehem's new minister would enable him to say that he would prove a power not only to the Church, but to Westmount and Montreal. Addressing the new pastor directly Mr. Pedley said: 'You must be a man of study, both of literary and worldly affairs. From eight o'clock in the morning till twelve or one o'clock in the afternoon you should be the student, and after that the administration and management of the church should occupy your attention and closest consideration. You should exhibit kindness and sympathy and also enter joyfully into the life of the people.' In conclusion, the Rev. Mr. Pedley urged the congregation to be loyal to their new pastor.

The Rev. A. W. Main, of Point St. Charles Congregational Church, then delivered the charge to the congregation. He congratulated them on the choice of their pastor, and proceeded to say that the Church was growing a more and more practical organization which necessarily meant that spiritual aggressiveness was required. He felt assured that Mr. Unsworth would fulfil the desired qualifications. Mr. Main urged the congregation to give their pastor a free hand, and also actively to co-operate with him in all matters which had for their object the betterment of the Church. He also asked them to protect their minister from all financial burdens, and to unite with him in companionship and who co-operation. By so doing he felt that the success of Bethlehem Congregational Church would be assured.

The Rev. E. H. Tippett, of Calvary Congregational Church, then offered a prayer, after which the Rev. Dr. Warriner, as moderator and chairman, extended the right hand of fellowship to the inducted pastor in the orthodox manner.

This concluded the installation part of the service and Ald. Murphy then took the chair, the moderator sitting on his right and Mr. Unsworth on his left.

Mr. W. D. Lighthall, K.C., on behalf of the members of the church, formally welcomed the new pastor, who stood up while the address was being delivered to him. In the course of his brief speech, Mr. Lighthall said: 'We want your work and our work to go as one.' In conclusion, he stated that it gave him great pleasure to assume the responsibility of extending the hand of fellowship on behalf of the church.

Mrs. Lighthall then formally welcomed Mrs. Unsworth, the pastor's wife, and presented her with a bouquet.

The Rev. Dr. E. Munson Hill, speaking on behalf of the educational department of the Congregational College, said that Mr. Unsworth would be welcomed by the students, who would be pleased to see him and obtain his advice occasionally on theological and other matters.

The Rev. Frank J. Day, of Zion Congregational Church, followed. He very heartily and very cordially welcomed Bethlehem's new pastor. Mr. Day said that one of the most sacred relationships that existed was that between a pastor and his congregation.

Dr. E. A. Cook was introduced to the congregation, and he was called upon to speak. He said that he felt sure their new pastor knew God, and he was pleased that they had the Rev. Mr. Unsworth with them.

The Rev. Mr. Corrigan, of Westmount Methodist Church, and the Rev. W. J. Clark, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Westmount, also made addresses of welcome.

A letter from the Rev. G. O. Gates, of the Westmount Baptist Church, who regretted his inability to attend, was read. He pointed out that obstacles would have to be surmounted and wished the Rev. Mr. Unsworth every success.

Amid hearty applause Ald. Murphy then called upon Mr. Unsworth to reply. The latter thanked the congregation very much for the hearty welcome extended to his wife and himself by the members of the church and fellow-ministers. He said he already felt at home with them and he trusted that God would spare him to work in their midst for a long time to come, and that the congregation and himself combined would be able to help in raising the old world a notch higher.

After the benediction had been pronounced refreshments were served, and before the congregation left for their homes Mr. Unsworth and his wife accomplished the task of shaking hands all round, the evening's proceedings terminating shortly after 11 o'clock.

A couple of solos were rendered during the evening, Miss O. E. Climie being loudly applauded. Mr. Sterling also gave a solo, which was well received.

The Rev. J. K. Unsworth was ordained twenty-one years ago, and he has gone through the ceremony of induction on four former occasions. Previous to accepting the pastorate of Bethlehem Church he ministered for eight years in Hamilton.

A CONFEDERATE BILL

CUSTOMERS TRIED TO PASS IT, BUT WERE ARRESTED.

Two Poles were taken to police headquarters yesterday afternoon on a charge of attempting to pass a worthless $50 bill. Entering the store of R. Levy, on Craig street east, they selected a couple of suits of underclothing, and tendered a bill of the Merchants' and Planters' Bank of Savannah, Ga., in payment. Levy could not give change, and tried a couple of shops in the neighborhood. Then he went to the ticket wicket in the Place Viger Station, where he was told that the bill was useless. The police were notified, and the Poles arrested. All that could be learned from them was that they were working at the Angus shops, having come here from the United States a few weeks ago. One of them claimed to have received the bill in a town across the border in cashing a pay cheque.

CANADIAN PARTY ENGAGED ON ALASKAN BOUNDARY HAVE TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 8.—The annals of the North furnish few stories more thrilling than the recent experiences in the wilds of Alaska of Mr. George Bruce White, of Ottawa, the Canadian representative on one of the American parties engaged in the Alaska boundary survey and his assistants, Mr. D. V. Ritchie, of Ottawa, and Mr. Archie Runnells, of this city. It is a story of heroism, privation, starvation and adventure.

The three Canadians were marooned on an island in the swift-running Alaska river, owing to their boat escaping from her moorings. The craft virtually contained all their food, with the exception of a few supplies landed for use while in camp. Mr. Runnells volunteered to go for assistance. Breathlessly his companions watched him struggle through the rapids, never expecting him to reach the shore. Then, after a four-days' walk across the mountains without food, he dragged himself into the main camp of the expedition. It was on the tenth day after his departure that he brought help and food to the famished Canadians, who were utterly exhausted. A delay of another day would probably have proved fatal. Mr. Runnells has not yet recovered from his heroic act.

BOY VICTIM OF A STRIKE.

New York, Oct. 8.—Robert Quiley, the fourteen-year-old schoolboy, who was shot last night while standing in front of his home during a clash of striking and non-union chauffeurs, died to-day in the hospital. Robert Stuttsk, who gave his residence as one of the Mills Hotels, and Richard Dineen have been placed under arrest in connection with the shooting. Both are said to be special officers of the Taxicab Company, against which the chauffeurs are on strike.

Vancouver, B.C., Oct. 8.—Judge Lampman found George Walkem guilty this afternoon of procuring an abortion on Blanche Bond, but acquitted the accused of the charge of counselling. Mr. Martin secured permission to argue tomorrow morning on a reserved point as to the amount or ergot in the pills given to the girl. Walkem was retained in custody over night.

CHIEF DEEPSKY'S PRESENT.

400-Year-Old War Dress Being Sent From Caughnawaga to England.

WILL BE PERMANENTLY EXHIBITED IN THE BRITISH MUSEUM.

Chief Deepsky, one of the few remaining representatives of the bluest blood of the Iroquois aristocracy, went blundering into the Colonization Department of the C. P. R. headquarters yesterday afternoon, knocking things right and left with a huge parcel, which he said contained $500 worth of Indian war dresses.

He had an audience in the twinkling of an eye.

The black eyes of him flashed with excitement, his red countenance shone with the fervor of his feelings and with perspiration. Chief Deepsky loves an audience.

'I will show you,' he said, in a mixture of French, English, and Iroquois, 'you wait a minute, and you shall see.'

But even these three languages were not sufficient to express the complexity of his emotion, for he held up his hands as if to implore silence, put a red finger to his redder lips, and made other signs, as if some strange Indian rites were about to commence.

Then with the most delicate care, as if he were uncovering some precious and fragile object that would vanish into thin air if one only breathed on it, he slowly undid the wrappings of his parcel, and revealed to the aforesaid audience his treasures.

'Look at dat!' he exclaimed. 'Ah! You think that fine, eh? Then what you t'ink of dat?' Eh? Ah! And dat and dat! Eh? What you t'ink?'

Very tenderly he handed round some of the finest Indian war dresses which have ever been seen in Montreal.

'Dis one,' he said, 'dis is the dress of the big chief—the very big chief. Dat for Meester Lascelles. You tell Meester Armstrong—he know. He send it to Meester Lascelles.'

The dress was a magnificent Indian costume of buckskin, and was so profusely ornamented with colored bead work that the coat itself must have weighed a quarter of a hundred weight. The bead work was in designs representing the beaver, the deer, the buffalo, and the bear, with maple leaves—the whole forming splendid specimens of Indian art. The head-dress was even more elaborate. The headband was ornamented with traditional symbols of the Iroquois, worked out in beads on buckskin, while the upper part was composed of numerous magnificent eagle's feathers, each tipped with red. Every feather, Deepsky said, cost him a dollar and a half. By the side hung two long strings of black hair—or were they scalp-locks?

This costume, which Deepsky declared was worth about $250 complete, had been made by the Caughnawaga Indians at the order of Mr. Frank Lascelles, the master of the Quebec pagents, who, it will be remembered, was made a chief of the Iroquois tribe when the pageants were over.

Then Deepsky showed another costume, which he intimated was too valuable even to have a price fixed to it. It was a costume which he declared had been in the teepees of his tribe for nearly four centuries. Right back in the dim past, before the paleface landed in America, his great-great-grandfather's father, or some such distant relative, wore it. His name was Deepsky, too, so Deepsky said. He was one of the sub-chiefs of his tribe, and the costume had been worn on great occasions, like going on the warpath, ever since that time by the descendants of that long-dead Deepsky and his successors to the title of sub-chief. The headdress had scalp-lock strings ending in eagle's claws.

'Many wars dat dress have been wore in,' said Deepsky. 'Look here!—see dat red marks dere on the de trouser? Dat's where de scalps have hung from de belt. You know what dat mean?' and he looked round with fierce intensity.

As a proof of the age of the costume, which is in good condition, Chief Deepsky pointed out that the beads on it were of Indian manufacture, and were made so long ago that there is not a single Indian living who now knows how to make them. Indian beads nowadays come from England!

This particular costume is a present from Chief Deepsky to Mr. Dennis, who was Mr. Lascelles' assistant at Quebec, and who was made a sub-chief of the tribe. Chief Deepsky once went to England, and went into the British Museum, and he has given the costume to Mr. Dennis, on the express condition that he is to make a permanent loan of it to the British Museum.

Soon, therefore, there will be a very proud man at Caughnawaga. For Chief Deepsky will be walking about with the knowledge that away over the water, in the heart of the Empire, there will be displayed in a glass case, for all to see, the war dress of his illustrious ancestors, with a ticket in big black letters on it, saying, 'Presented to Mr. Dennis by Chief Deepsky, of the Iroquois tribe at Caughnawaga.'

STUDENTS' THEATRE NIGHT.

Arrangements Made and Marshalls Selected to Keep Order.

FIRST AND SECOND-YEAR MEN WILL OCCUPY DIFFERENT PARTS OF THE THEATRE.

The men of the first two years held a meeting yesterday in Strathcona Hall, and unanimously voted that a theatre night at His Majesty's Theatre should be held. Oct. 19 was the date fixed on.

Three conditions were laid down by the proprietors, and the students have agreed to them all. These conditions are, that the furniture shall not be damaged, that absolutely nothing shall be thrown in the theatre, and that the play shall be allowed to proceed without unnecessary interruption. These conditions were considered necessary, owing to the behavior of some of the students two years ago. Owing to the number of first and second year men this year, it has been decided that the four hundred first year men shall occupy the gallery and the two hundred second year men the family circle. Eighteen marshals, pledged to keep order, have been selected from the students of the first two years, and any one who fails to comply with the conditions laid down will be speedily put out.

The parade will take place as usual from the college gates by way of Sherbrooke, Union avenue, St. Catherine and Guy. The students will be in costume, and a liberal supply of fireworks will be used to increase the effect.

THE ANNUAL SPORTS TO-DAY.

The dull weather to-day had no effect on the spirits of the students of McGill, who held their annual sports this afternoon. At about 1.30 the second-year men met at the corner of Atwater avenue and St. Catherine streets, and from there paraded to the M. A. A. A. grounds. Horns were supplied to all, and a deafening racket was kept up as they passed along St. Catherine street.

The freshmen met at the college gates at about one o'clock; they, too, were supplied with noise-creating instruments, and paraded to the grounds, where they met the sophomores. A species of guerilla warfare was kept up between the two classes, and class pennants, horns and other trophies frequently changed hands in the good-natured struggle. The superior organization of the second-year men aided them to score off the freshmen in a novel way.

Programmes with parodies of popular songs, especially designed to insult and discovery the first-year men, had been provided, and two hundred second-year men's voices told the first year men of all their faults and failings. They had no answer ready, and could only repeat, after each insult, their class yell; but this the others twisted into the following, 'Oh! Mr! Poon! Pooh! 1-9-1-2,' and gained a complete vocal victory.

To-night a great crowd of students are visiting a theatre.

OFFICERS UNDER SUSPICION

Marine Inquiry to be Followed Up in New York.

JUDGE CASSELS SAYS RECENT TESTIMONY IS LIKE A SURGEON'S KNIFE CUTTING INTO A WOUND.

All the evidence at present available from Montreal was concluded at the marine inquiry this afternoon, and the court adjourned, with a possibility of resuming the investigation on Tuesday next in New York, the testimony which has been given during the last two days having made it of great importance, according to the expressed opinions of Mr. Justice Cassels and Mr. Watson, the chief counsel, that something should be heard from Mr. Brooks, of Brooks & Company, and Merwin & Company, of New York.

Mr. Watson said the evidence of Mr. Merwin yesterday ought to be speedily followed up, as it indicated a condition of things which, in the present phase, looked very serious, as affecting those people who had been dealing with the Marine Department, showing, to his mind, a want of discipline on the part of someone.

Judge Cassels—Including some of the officials?

Mr. Watson—'Yes, I was about to say, including some of the officials. Whether or not they are directly concerned, is a very serious question as the case stands now. There is certainly enough before the court directly pointing that way.' Therefore, Mr. Watson added, he had thought it advisable to make inquiries by telegram to New York to ascertain if Mr. Brooks and members of other companies would be willing to give their testimony if his Lordship went down there. Mr. Brooks replied: 'If commission comes to New York will give evidence. Notify me as to where and when to appear.' Mr. Watson said he had sent another telegram asking if Messrs. Brooks would produce their books so far as they bore upon the transactions that had been conducted with the Marine Department, but no answer had yet been received to that telegram. However, counsel took it that Mr. Brooks could hardly go into the witness box to give evidence unless he did produce the books. It was obvious that his testimony could not be in any sense complete without the production of the books.

The Judge—Those are the books they would not produce at Ottawa?

Mr. Watson—Exactly. Counsel proceeded to inform his Lordship that he believed the Safety Car and Heating Company and the Submarine Signal Company would also produce their books.

It was accordingly arranged that Mr. Watson should go down to New York on Monday evening next, and on Tuesday make arrangements for the judge to hold a court in that city.

The judge said that he quite appreciated the importance of going to New York to follow up the evidence that had been offered in Montreal this week, evidence which, he said, pointed suspiciously towards one or two officers in the Marine Department.

From New York the investigation will be continued at Quebec, St. John, Halifax, Toronto, and again at Ottawa.

The judge expressed a hope that the investigation would be completed by Christmas, and counsel undertook to render the court all the help that was possible to that end.

With reference to the evidence of the witness of yesterday (Mr. Merwin), the Judge asked Mr. Watson if he proposed to produce evidence as to the prices paid for the goods bought?

Mr. Watson—'I regret to say that it just so happens that I have no material in satisfactory form at present. I hope to have it very soon.'

The Judge—'It seems to me that it will be necessary now to have (1) all the contracts in their proper order; (2) to find out the actual prices paid; and (3) to ascertain the market prices, in order to show the necessary comparison and ascertain whether the prices were reasonable or not.'

Mr. Watson—'In addition to the material which will be found of record in the books of the Department, I shall find it necessary to bring before Your Lordship some other witnesses on the same subject. From the way the matter is trending now, I anticipate that it will be necessary to have quite a long sitting at Ottawa, and perhaps considerable time will have to be expended there in review of matters already touched upon, as well as these other matters.'

Judge Cassels—'I have made a note of some other matters upon which I think we should have further information. Mr. Fraser appears to me not to be the only guilty one. If he is guilty, several others are implicated. Then we shall have to go into the cost of the diaphone plant, the cost of the Wilson buoys, and other points, regarding which the records of the Department should afford us all the information we require. The allegations against Colonel Gourdeau will have to be gone into, and I think it would be advisable to inquire into the administration at Prescott.

Mr. Watson—'As we proceeed to develop the evidence, it is quite apparent that there is a great deal more to be gone into than I at first anticipated.'

Judge Cassels—Yes, the experience of yesterday is like the surgeon's knife cutting into a wound.

Mr. Watson—I do not hesitate to say that several of the officials will have to be put on the stand again and the closest kind of examination made.

Mr. H. P. Boucher, late department agent in Montreal, was recalled, and said that he had made due search, but had failed to discover in his office any further records in regard to receipt of moneys or of cheques denosited in his own personal account, other than the bank book already produced before the commission. He has found the details of his advance from the government for last year, and that was all. After he had remitted by his personal cheque the advance he received, he had no further use for any memoranda of the latter. He had no stubs of cheque books current either, beyond that already put in, three months old. He remembered throwing the stubs away in the waste-paper basket.

Mr. Watson—Your cheques came back to you. They were your own property. Where are they now?

Witness—I forwarded them to the government.

Mr. Watson—I am informed quite to the contrary on that.

Witness—You will find them all on record at Ottawa. I never issued cheques for paying any accounts. They were all for pay-lists only.

Mr. Watson—Take this bank-book, for the month of May, 1908. Do you find any deposit of departmental moneys? What is this deposit for $1,500?

Witness—That is a loan I effected.

'Well, here is another for $492. What is that?'

'That is for board on the dredgers 'Shamrock' and 'Sydney.' That is money I received and deposited.'

'Show me, in this cheque book, where that money was paid out?'

Witness indicated various items paid out by cheque, totalling $244.

Mr. Watson—Well, where is the balance of the $492?

Witness—I gave the steward cash to buy provisions. He always has cash to buy provisions as he requires them.

Mr. Watson—But I am asking for the cheques. The money could not have got out of the bank except by cheques.

Judge Cassels elicited from witness that he frequently drew money out of the bank by drawing a cheque other than one out of his cheque book.

Last summer, continued witness, an inspection was made of the accounts by Mr. Faulkner.

Yes, said Mr. Watson, but that was in connection with the establishment of a new and different system in the Department. I want to know whether, apart from Mr. Faulkner and his establishment of a new system, there was an inspection and examination of the accounts by an official?

Witness—Yes, Mr. Boudreau came down from Ottawa last summer and certified that everything was O.K.

'Did you ever pay any money or remit any cheque to Colonel Gourdeau, the Deputy Minister? No.

'Did you ever make any payment to him, directly or indirectly of one sum, $190?'

'Never.'

'Try and think again?'

'I am quite sure.'

'Well, what about this $190?' (producing a paper).

'I know nothing about it,' said witness.

'What have you heard about it?'

'I heard that young Tremblay, clerk at Sorel, had said I had paid $190, but I say it is a falsehood. I never gave any money to Colonel Gourdeau; and what is more, we have never been on good terms, and if he had needed money he would not have come to me for it. I did not hear Tremblay say that; I just heard he made the statement, and I also heard Tremblay had said I asked him to falsify the pay-lists in 1906, but that is not true. I never spoke on the subject to Tremblay in my life.'

'Well, how do you account for the statements having been made against you?'

'I suppose some of the officials in Sorel wanted to say something which was wrong.'

'Is Tremblay still in the public service?'

'Yes.'

'And you were also, until you put in your resignation recently?'

'Yes.'

Mr. Watson—Is it not rather peculiar that one official should charge another in that way?

Witness—It was a clerk charging a superior.

Mr. Watson—And yet he is there in the service?

Witness—Yes, I hear he is still there.

'What did you say to him the next time you saw him?

'I told him he had told falsehoods, and that he would have to account for them. We did not discuss the matter any more.'

'What charges did Mr. Charland make?'

He said that because I looked at the men's boarding list I was financially interested in it, but that is a falsehood.

Witness further denied that he had been a party to 'padding' other boarding-lists.

Mr. Watson—Mr. Charland, who made the chargke, is still in the department's service?

Witness—He has charge of the boarding now in place of Mr. Roy.

Mr. Boucher explained that his inspection had nothing whatever to do with the quality of the work done. He simply had to make an examination to ascertain what progress was being made. In that respect he found everything all right, and he understood that the work was well done, only it was afterwards found that some of the piers could not withstand the pressure of the ice.

'Have you any information of any irregularity, or money-making by Mr. J. F. Fraser or Mr. B. H. Fraser?'

Witness said he had not.

Mr. Watson — To what extent have you made gain by reason of this system which prevailed of the personal use, for a time, at all events, of departmental moneys?

Witness—I have never made a cent out of it. I swear that, positively.

'What is your salary?'

'Eighteen hundred dollars.'

Mr. Watson—I may say, fairly and frankly, that information has been given to me that you live at a rate three or four times above your official income.

Witness—No, sir; I do not.

Regarding commissions on purchases, witness declared that he knew nothing of them in any instance, and in giving orders he never showed favor.

Witness had not seen Mr. Gourdeau or Mr. J. F. Fraser during the last three months.

This concluded Mr. Boucher's testimony for the present, Mr. Watson remarking that he might be called again at Ottawa.

LAND GRANTS.

Warrants to South African Volunteers Will be Issued Shortly.

Ottawa, Oct. 9.—The warrants for the issuing of the South African volunteer land grants will be issued by the Militia Department as soon as the necessary authority can be obtained by order-in-council. The order in question will be put through at the next meeting of the Cabinet, which will be the week after next. The Department of the Interior will then immediately send out the certificates for the lands to the veterans as applied for.

'VERY LUCKY'

JUDGE TELLS PRISONER HE HAS GOT OFF LIGHTLY.

The judge remarked that he could consider himself very lucky in getting such a light sentence.

OGILVIE FLOUR MILLS CO. NET EARNINGS, $511,473.

Past Year a Successful One in Face of Trade Depression—Directors Re-elected.

The name and fame of the Ogilvie Flour Mills Company are growing and to-day this corporation is generally recognized as one of the most modern and progressive flour concerns on the continent.

The company, through persistent and energetic management, has developed from a small enterprise into a huge manufacturing and exporting industry. The flour of the Ogilvie Company has become famous, and at the present time it is finding a market even in far away China and Japan, making the name of Canada better known in these distant countries.

Mr. Charles R. Hosmer, in his address to the shareholders at the annual meeting yesterday afternoon, said that although the past year had proved a hard and trying period owing to trade depression all over the world, the company was in a position to report net profits amounting to $511,473. The management has, with the approval of the shareholders, increased its common stock by $1,250,000 and also made a fresh bond issue of $750,000 Supplementary letters patent were obtained confirming the increase in the capital stock and increasing the general powers of the company. The various mills and elevators have been maintained in first-class condition and are doing most excellent work, and last but not least, from a shareholder's point of view, the usual dividends have been paid during the year.

In his remarks to the meeting Mr. F. W. Thompson, the indefatigable vice-president and managing director, said that in view of the character of last year's crop and the limited quantity of high grade milling wheat available, resulting in a curtailment of the export trade, he felt certain that the profits for the year will be found satisfactory. He was of the opinion that the wheat yield in the West would be at least 115,000,000 bushels, and with the high prices at present prevailing, Mr. Thompson failed to see why normal business conditions and prosperity should not return.

Mr. E. S. Clouston paid a well-deserved compliment to the management for the splendid showing of the year, and said that it gave him much pleasure to note the progress being made by the company.

The comparison between the statement of this year and last year shows some striking changes. In 1907, the company owed the Bank of Montreal, for instance, $1,452,214, now it does not owe the bank one dollar, while the cash on hand in 1908 is $597,282, against $170,000 in 1907. Current liabilities outside of the bank also show a decrease in 1908 of $126,551, but the most gratifying showing is, notwithstanding the difficulty in making collections, the company was able to reduce its open accounts and bills receivable from $1,118,143, to $507,331, or a decrease within the year of $610,812. The company's stock of merchandise was reduced during the past twelve months $497,196.

After the usual vote of thanks was passed to the management the following gentlemen were re-elected directors of the company for the ensuing year: President, Mr. C. R. Hosmer; vice-president and managing director, Mr. F. W. Thompson; Sir George A. Drummond, Sir H. Montagu Allan, Mr. E. S. Clouston, Mr. H. S. Holt, and Mr. Shirley Ogilvie.

MEETING STILL IN SESSION AT PHILADELPHIA.

Interesting Discussion Taking Place at Lake Superior Corporation Gathering.

The meeting of the Lake Superior Corporation, which convened at Philadelphia on Wednesday, continued in session this morning, owing to the fact that a disagreement regarding the management of the company is said to have arisen between certain elements, not only among the directors, but with the shareholders.

A wire states that Mr. R. Floyd Clarke, attorney, of New York, formerly legal representative for the Canadian Improvement Company, and representing at the meeting five shares of stock, objected that the stock books produced at the meeting were not sufficient. These books, he said, were the same zooks which had heretofore been presented at all prior meetings of the company.

The shareholders, in harmony with, and who approved of the present management, are present with proxies representing o 193,000 shares, which is slightly less than the number required for a quorum. The Canadian Improvement Company representatives failed to present their proxies, and the meeting had consequently to be adjourned until this morning.

It is rumored that an interesting and unexpected announcement may be made shortly regarding Canadian interests represented on the directorate of the Lake Superior Corporation.

FIRM PRICES RULED AT LONDON WOOL SALES

London, Oct. 9.—A moderat selection of 13,844 bales, including a large supply of cross-breds, caused brisk competition at the wool sales yesterday. Prices were steady throughout. Scoureds were in request for all sections, and realized extreme rates. Merinos were taken chiefly by Continental buyers. Super greasy combing was in good demand for America. The sales will close on Oct. 20.

CHEESE BOARD PRICES WERE FROM 12c TO 12 1-8c

Brockville, Ont., Oct. 8.—Boarded, 2,855 boxes of cheese. The market was a decidly dull one, buyers and sellers being apart in their ideas as to values. Offers of 12 and 12 1-8c were repeatedly refused, after which an adjournment was made. On the street the salesmen failed to better these prices, and the usual shipments, possibly 4,000 boxes, will go forward. For the corresponding week last year the ruling price on this board was 13 1-8c.

Belleville, Ont., Oct. 8.—Boarded, 2,620 white and 118 colored cheese. Sales: 525 white at 12 1-8c, and 118 colored at 12 1-8c; 370 at 12 1-16c, and 150 at 12c; balance refused at 12c and 12 1-16c.

Vankleek Hill, Oct. 8—Boarded 1,041 boxes cheese. Some sales were made at 12c, and it is reported that some cheese were sold on the street at the same figure. Six buyers were present.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 8.—Boarded, 1,250 boxes of cheese, of which 488 were colored. The sales were at 12c to 12 1-8c. A year ago the price was 13 1-16c.

Alexandria, Oct. 8.—Boarded, 540 boxes of cheese; all sold at 12c.

Russell, Oct. 8.—Boarded, 232 boxes of white cheese; 147 sold at 12c, balance held. Next board meeting in two weeks.

Winchester, Oct. 8.—Boarded, 434 boxes of white and 108 colored cheese; 12c offered; none sold on board.

TORONTO'S ELECTRIC INTERESTS MAY COMBINE

To Fight Government's Cheap Power Policy, if Mr. Wm. Mackenzie Can Get Control.

Toronto, Oct. 9.—The local electric situation acquired a new aspect this morning, when it became known that Mr. William Mackenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway and the Toronto Railway Company, and lately the controlling figure in the Electrical Development Company, was working for the acquisition of the Toronto Electric Light Company.

The movement appears to be one to consolidate all the rival electrical interests in and around Toronto, and perhaps Hamilton, with the object of presenting a united front against the efforts of the Hon. Ada Beck to carry out his cheap-power policy.

PRIVILEGE OF FREE CANALS SHOULD BE WITHDRAWN

To Bring Inland Freighters to a Realization of Their Position, Says a Grain Merchant.

The discussion on the subjects of lake freight rates, the combination among vessel owners, and the diverting of grain from Canadians ports, all of which bear very closely upon one another, has brought forth various expressions of opinion on the matter. There has been no denial of the statements made by grain shippers, and others who are close enough in touch with the situation to quote dates and figures, that there has been a combine, and that it has not operated to the benefit of the Canadian grain trade, or for the expansion of the country's foreign commerce, but remedies for these evils, which are said to exist, have not been so plentiful as have the denunciations of the evil-doers.

To-day, however, a grain operator, in talking the subject over, made some remarks which outline a course of action that might have a big influence on the matter.

'There is nothing to show,' said he, 'that the improvements and concessions made by the government have brought a single bushel more wheat down the Canadian canals than would have come under the old conditions. We know that the benefit of every reduction in the cost of carrying grain to the seaboard has been grabbed by the carriers engaged in the trade, and that absolutely no reductions have been brought about in the freight rates by the improvements in the route and the abolition of the canal tolls, which the government undertook for no other purpose. Every cent taken off the cost of transportation might have been an inducement to shippers to use the Canadian route; to the advantage of everybody in the trade—even of those who have blocked this expansion, if only they could see that far ahead.

'We have a pretty good idea, judging from past experience, how things will progress under the same control in the future, and the best thing we can do is to collect tolls on the canals again. Their abolition did not have the effect that was intended, and there is no logical reason why they should not be producing revenue for those who are charged with their upkeep, instead of swelling the profits of a few individuals.

'If the government would appoint a commission to investigate the conditions under which freight is moved on our inland waters some interesting evidence would come out. The truth about the existence of a combine among the grain carriers would be established, and a commission might even unearth a combine among the coal freighters. It would be certain to reveal the fact that the handlers of this class of freight have also taken to themselves the benefit of the free canals, as there has been no reduction in prices that can be traced to this lowering of the cost of the anthracite coal that comes down the canals from Oswego, Ogdensburg and Charlotte. Not satisfied with the benefits they received by the removal of these fees, they even had the effrontery to apply to the government for the abolition of the nominal wharfage dues that are paid by barges docking in the canal basins. This was not granted, however.'

TORONTO GRAIN VALUES ARE GENERALLY FIRMER

Toronto, Oct. 9.—The Balkan war scare, and the contracted winter wheat supply are combined to produce a very excited grain market to-day. Exporters are realizing that the hole in the world's grain supplies which required to be filled, was much larger than they imagined, and that if anything happened to increase the demand for wheat in America, prices would rule high. In addition, local grain deliveries have fallen off one half in the past three days as farmers are at their ploughing. Peas are offered lower, but oats, corn and barley are firm on unchanged quotations.

Local dealers' quotations are: Ontario wheat, No. 2, white or red, outside, 89½c to 90c; No. 2 mixed, 89½c to 90c. Manitoba wheat, spot, No. 1 northern, $1.06; No. 2 northern, $1.04, bay ports; No. 1 northern, for late October shipment, $1.04; No. 2 northern, $1.02 on track, bay ports. Barley, No. 2, 56c; No. 3 x 55c; No. 3, 54c. Oats, Ontario, No. 2 white, 38c to 38½c outside; No. 2 mixed, 37c to 37½c outside. Corn, nominal at 86c to 86½c, Toronto freights for No. 2 or 3 yellow. Rye, No. 2, 78½c to 79c outside. Peas, No. 2, 85c to 85½c outside. Buckwheat, No. 2, 60c to 61c outside. Bran, scarce and quiet; quoted at $21 to $21.50 per ton in bags outside. Flour, Manitoba, first patents, $5.80; seconds, $5.30; strong bakers, $5.10. Ontario winter wheat patents for export, $3.50 bid to $3.55. Shorts, quiet, $24 to $25 per ton in bags outside.

New York, Oct. 9.—The banks have lost $287,000 to the sub-treasury since last Friday,

HEAVY SELLING IN C.P.R., SOO COMMON & POWER.

With Prices Firm—M.S.R. Strong—Other Stocks on Quiet Side of Market.

There was no let up in the sale of certain leaders on the stock exchange this morning, such as Canadian Pacific, Soo common, Power and Montreal Street. Canadian Pacific opened at 170, and on aggressive buying it advanced fractionally. About 850 shares changed hands, and the trading was continuous. 'Soo' common was purchased in large consignments, and after opening at 120, it touched 121 1-8 reacting to 120¾ at the noon closing. Nearly 1,000 shares changed hands on active buying. Power is in demand, especially from outside sources, and during the session a new high record was reached at 106¼. About 800 shares found ready purchasers. Montreal Street was firm at 187, with a quiet, but influential demand. Toronto Rails held at 102, and Illinois Traction was on the easy side, but steady, selling at 87. Sao Paulo was quoted at 145⅜, while Lake of the Woods common was sold at 90. Richelieu and Ontario was offered at 72, while Mackays were neglected. Iron issues remain firm, with a strong undertone although there appears to be no stock offering for sale in any quantity.

Bank and industrial securities appear to be held for future advances.

The exchange value of £1 sterling to-day is $4.86.24.

FARMERS' MARKET PRICES—Oct. 9.

All the available space in the vicinity of the Bonsecours Market and Jacques Cartier square was fully occupied by produce-laden vehicles this forenoon, and the basket brigade filled both of the market halls. Owing to shipwrecks and other unpropitious events, the supply of bananas has run short and there will be none for sale until next week. Oats sold at $1 to $1.10 per bag; buckwheat, $1.35 do.; beans, $2.35 per bushel; potatoes, 70c to 80c per 80-lb. bag; carrots, beets and turnips, 45c to 50c do.; onions, 90c do.; pickling onions, 40c to 50c per pail; cabbages, 30c to 40c per dozen; celery, 25c to 65c do; cauliflowers, 35c to 75c do.; pumpkins, 50c to $1 per dozen; hubbard squashes, 75c to $1 do.; citron melons, 40c to 70c do.; dead turkeys, 12c to 15c per lb.; geese, 9c to 10c do.; ducks and chickens, 12c to 15c do.; tub butter, 23c to 26c do.; print butter, 30c to 35c do.; new laid eggs, 35c to 40c per dozen; older eggs, 25c to 30c do.; apples, $1.50 to $3 per barrel; California oranges, $5 per box; lemons, $5.50 do.; pears, 30c to 70c per basket; peaches, 70c to 90c do.; grapes, 20c per small basket; plums, 40c to 50c per gallon; cranberries, 40c do, or $8.50 per barrel; hay, $10.50 to $12.50 per 100 bundles of 15 lbs.; straw, $5 to $6 per 100 bundles of 12 lbs.

BOARD OF TRADE COUNCIL WANTS NEW MEMBERS

And a General Meeting Will be Asked to Sanction a Special Inducement.

The membership of the Montreal Board of Trade, as a result of the agressive work of the executive, now numbers 1,300 prominent business men of the city. The council has set a membership of 1,500 as its present objective point, and with a view to adding the required number of new names to the roll, advocates the temporary reduction of the entrance fee from $100 to $50, and to that end will submit the following amendment to the by-laws, at a special general meeting of the board, which will be held in the Exchange Hall at 12.30 on Monday, Oct. 12:

'By-law 5.—An entrance fee of $100 shall be paid by all persons becoming members of the Board after the membership numbers 1,500, but until that number have joined and qualified, the entrance fee shall be $50.'

The present by-law 5 is as follows: 'An entrance fee of $100 shall be paid by all persons becoming members of the board after June 30, 1887.'

It is hoped by temporarily reducing the entrance fee to the amount that has actually been paid for membership certificates for some time past, that the roll will be increased to a total that is more in keeping with the size of the city, and not only will the board's finances be materially benefited, but the increased membership and the fixing of a higher entrance fee when the 1,500 mark has been reached, will give added value to the certificates that have already been taken up.

DEEP WATERWAYS.

Mr. J. J. Hill Declares Railways are Not Hostile to Their Development.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—The second session of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep Waterways Association was attended to-day by as great and enthusiastic an audience as that which listened to William H. Taft, on the opening day.

William J. Bryan was the magnet of the second session, and his appearance on the platform and introduction by David R. Francis, of St. Louis, was the signal for a tumult that forced the Democratic candidate to bow repeatedly and wait many minutes before delivering the first sentence of his speech.

Gifford Pinchot, chairman of the National Conservation Commission, later delivered an address on 'Waterways and the Conservation Movement.'

A letter from Mr. J. J. Hill was read by Congressman Rainey, of Illinois. Mr. Hill declared that the assertion that the railway interests are hostile to the development of the country's waterways is one of many cheap slanders by which a political campaign against railway interests have been promoted in the past. He said: 'I am glad to emphasize right here the fact that the relation of railway and water transportation is one of harmony, helpfulness and co-operation.'

Mr. Hill cited the failure of certain waterways as competitors of railway lines, and said that up to this time the rivers has been unable to compete with the railway, notwithstanding its lower charges, because of the rapidity and certainty with which the latter carries and delivers freight.

He continued:—

'I have for years been urging that the building up of a transportation machine commensurate with the growth of the country should not only be permitted, but encouraged in the only two possible ways:

'First, by encouraging capital to invest in railway construction instead of scaring it away by hostile and unjust legislation; the

'Second, by a comprehensive and national system of waterways improvement. There is no other way now, nor will there ever be, by which the business of the country can be done.'

The speaker complained of what he termed the restriction by legislation of the legitimate powers and profits of railway enterprise, which, he said, has not only checked investment, but brought about a year ago a business reaction from which the country is still suffering, while the multitude of hostile laws, increasing expenses and cutting down income of railways, make this year's showing the worst since the years of national railway disaster.

Mr. Hill declared that the future of the waterway is assured, not so much as a competitor, but as a helper of the railway.

SUPREME COURT

Ottawa, Oct. 8.—In the Supreme Court to-day the hearing commenced in the appeal of the Byron N. White Company vs. the Star Mining & Milling Company, from a judgment of the Supreme Court of British Columbia. The dispute affects quartz mining locations, near Sandon, B.C., in the Slocan division, known as the Slocan Star, Jennie, Silversmith and Windsor mineral claims, held by the appellants (defendants), and adjoining locations known as the Rabbit Paw and Heber Fraction claims, held by the respondents (plaintiffs). The action was brought in 1901 for trespass by taking ore, an injunction and damages. The defendants justified under the old apex mining laws of British Columbia (1891) on the ground that the mineral in question was contained in the Slocan Star vein, which they claim they may follow extralaterally throughout its entire depth downward, though it might depart from a perpendicular course downwards so as to extend outside the vertical side-lines of the surface location. At the trial Chief Justice Hunter dismissed the action, but his judgment was reversed on appeal to the full court, and the defendants appeal from that judgment maintaining the plaintiffs' action. Bodwell, K.C., and Lennie for appellants. S. S. Taylor, K.C., for respondents. The arguments were not concluded when the court adjourned.

SUB-TARGET GUN MATCHES.

Ottawa, Oct. 7.—The Canadian Rifle League will conduct a series of sub-target gun matches this winter. Arrangements for the series are being made, and the object is to encourage rifle shots to keep in practice in the winter on these machines. The winter series will be under very much the same rules as the summer rifle series. Teams will be entered from the different corps which are equipped with sub-target guns. They will have regular shoots, and the scores forwarded to the secretary of the league. There will be a series for city battalions, a series for rural corps, and a series for cadets. This is the first move on the part of the league to encourage practice on the sub-target gun, and it is hoped that there will be a large entry. The series as in the rifle shooting, will be open to corps from all parts of the Dominion.

READABLE PARAGRAPHS

THE SHAH NOT HORSE CRAZY.

When the Shah was in London they wanted to take him to Goodwood (the race-track); but he declined to go. 'That one horse can run faster than another,' he said, 'I am perfectly aware; which one it is doesn't matter to me in the least.'—Washington 'Star.'

AN EXTENDED INTERVAL.

Two clergymen in a Southern State were once discussing the process of sermon writing, when one of them remarked that the only really hard propositions for him were the introduction and the conclusion.

'You remember,' said he, 'the sermon I preached at the installation of Brother Morley not long ago? Well, I flattered myself that the exordium and the peroration of that sermon were pretty well done.'

'Yes,' responded the other divine, with a faint smile, 'but, as I remember, they were awfully far apart.' — Philadelphia 'Public Ledger.'

'Why do you wear a yachting cap, dear boy? It's your brother that owns the yacht.' 'Very true, old chap. This is me brother's cap.—Cleveland 'Plain Dealer.'

'Any mail?' asked the eminent politician 'Here's a letter,' answered the secretary, that begins "My Dear Senator." I don't know what the finish is.' 'Of course not. Nobody knows what the finish of a letter beginning "My Dear Senator" is going to be.'—Washington 'Star.'

Church—'My son lost an eye and an arm in the Philippines.' Gotham—'Oh, has football reached there already?' — 'Yonkers Statesman.'

'How is young Chunkett getting on in college?' 'Splendidly. He would have made the scrub team his first year if he hadn't been deficient in all of his studies.'—Cleveland 'Plain Dealer.'

Squire's Daughter — 'Would you mind throwing your little boy into the pond? I want to see if my dog will rescue him.' Villager—'Certainly not.' Squire's Daughter—'I do wish you would. You're the second woman I've asked who has said "No." '—'Punch.'

'What will we do when the trees are destroyed?' asked the forestry experts. 'I suppose,' answered the serenely solemn statesman, after some thought, 'that in such an event we will be obliged to depend for wood entirely on the lumber yards.'—Washington 'Star.'

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

ANY EVEN NUMBERED Section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the North-West Provinces, excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Applications for homestead entry must be made in person by the applicant at a Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency. Entry by proxy may, however, be made at an Agency, on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister of the intending homesteader.

An application for entry or cancellation made personally at any Sub-Agent's Office may be wired to the Agent by the Sub-Agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is vacant on receipt of the telegram such application is to have priority, and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of 'personation' or fraud the applicant will forfeit all priority of claim, or if entry has been granted, it will be summarily cancelled.

An application for cancellation must be made in person. The applicant must be eligible for homestead entry, and only one application for cancellation will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

Where an entry is cancelled subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for cancellation will be entitled to prior right of entry.

Applicant for cancellation must state in what particulars the homesteader is in default.

A homesteader whose entry is not the subject of cancellation proceedings may, subject to the approval of Department, relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother, or sister if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment.

DUTIES.—A settler is required to perform the duties under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) A homesteader may, if he so desires, perform the required residence duties by living on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of his homestead. Joint ownership in land will not meet this requirement.

(3) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of a homesteader has permanent residence on farming land owned solely by him, not less than eighty (80) acres in extent, in the vicinity of the homestead, or upon a homestead entered for by him in the vicinity, such homesteader may perform his own residence duties by living with the father (or mother).

(4) The term 'vicinity' in the two preceding paragraphs is defined as meaning not more than nine miles in a direct line, exclusive of the width of the road allowances crossed in the measurement.

(5) A homesteader intending to perform his residence duties in accordance with the above while living with parents or on farming land owned by himself, must notify the Agent for the district of such intention.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL.—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres shall be leased to one individual or company. A royalty at the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the merchantable coal mined.

QUARTZ. — A person eighteen years of age or over, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1,500 x 1,500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year, or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 per acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ percent on the sales.

Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee, $5, renewable yearly.

An applicant may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ percent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

about to make a remark when she noticed the pleading in Beatrice's eyes. She flashed a twinkling protest and accepted the situation.

'Dear me!' said Mrs. Trenham, looking at her in pleased surprise; and Mildred felt the air already perceptibly warmer.

The next minute the Squire had her by both hands.

'My dear Miss Masterson, what an unexpected pleasure. I never dared to hope that London would spare its treasure to grace our dull countryside.'

The Squire's good-tempered lady shook Mildred warmly by the hand like an old acquaintance, while Mrs. Trenham looked on gasping with amazement.

'I had no idea——' she started. Before she could finish Lord Frensham entered, and after shaking hands with his hostess turned to Mildred with a fine show of glad surprise.

'Miss Masterson—you? Well, I am glad!'

'Do you, too, know Miss Masterson?' asked the astounded Mrs. Trenham.

'Know Miss Masterson, the painter of this year's Academy picture? Of course I do. Not to know Miss Masterson would be—not to be known oneself.'

This was too much; Mrs. Trenham was convinced she had made a huge mistake.

'I am so glad,' she stammered. 'You know, Geoffrey and Miss Masterson—Mildred—are engaged'

'Really, is that true, Miss Masterson? Well, he is a lucky dog. I congratulate him.'

'I thought as everybody was here we might as well announce it, dear,' whispered Mrs. Trenham. 'I've only been waiting for Lord Frensham's arrival, you know.'

That night Mildred retired supremely happy, for in her presence Mrs. Trenham had told Geoffrey that he couldn't have chosen more to her liking, and had then kissed Mildred on the brow.

When the lights were out Beatrice burst into her room.

'Wasn't it just lovely?' she gasped. Milly, wake up; wasn't it just ——?'

'Oh, you dreadful girl,' said Mildred. 'I feel — I don't know what I feel like . . . . a conspirator. But you are a dear, and it was awfully good of you.'

'I didn't do it all for you, you know. It was partly for myself.'

'Why, what do you mean?' asked Mildred in surprise.

'Well, you see,' said Beatrice, plaintively, 'I really do want to marry and —and nobody could make love to one nicely here, could they? And—well, I know you'd be a dear to stay with——'

'I see,' replied Mildred, laughing. 'But I am not going to be married for ages.'

'No,' Beatrice continued eagerly; 'so I couldn't wait; and that is what I have come to tell you about. I thought I'd strike while you were in high favor. I've told mother you've invited me up to stay with you, and she says I may come next week.'

'Really,' said Mildred joyfully. 'That will be awfully jolly. Geof. and I will ——'

'I don't think that will be necessary,' replied the imperturbable Beatrice. 'I've told Lord Frensham that I am going to stay with you, and given him your address.'

'Well, you——' commenced Mildren; but Beatrice had gone.

A week later Lord Frensham went up to London on business; and now it seems extremely likely that two marriages will shortly take place, and that Mrs. Trenham will look with a favorable countenance on both.

CHILDREN'S CORNER

BETTY'S PLAYTIME.

'Oh, pshaw!' said Betty, when mamma called her from play, 'somebody's always a-wantin' me to do something!' She ran into the house with a frown on her face.

'Betty,' said mamma, 'if you can't obey cheerfully'—

'Well, I always have to be doin' somethin',' burst out Betty. 'I never can play'—

'You may play this whole day long,' said mamma quietly.

'And not do anythin' else?' asked Betty.

'Not do another thing,' said mamma.

'Oh, goody!' cried Betty, and she ran and got her doll things and began making a dress for Cora May, her new dolly.

Grandma came into the room while she was sewing.

'Betty,' she said, 'will you run upstairs and get granny her spectacles?'

'Yes, ma'am,' cried Betty, jumping up in a hurry, for she dearly loved to do things for grandma.

'No, Betty,' said mamma; 'you keep on with your doll things. I'll get grandma's glasses myself.'

Betty returned to her sewing, but somehow it wasn't so interesting as it had been. She threw it down the minute Benjamin waked from his nap and ran to take him.

'Nursing is took much like work,' said mamma, taking the baby out of her arms; 'you must not do any to-day.'

Betty's cheeks turned rosy. She thought of the times she had grumbled when mamma had told her to hold baby. Now she would have given anything just to hold him a minute.

Mary Sue, Betty's best friend, came by to get her to go on an errand with her.

'I am sorry, but you can't go,' said mamma. 'Running errands is not play, you know.'

Jack came running in with a button to be sewed on. Betty put on her little thimble and began to sew it on. But mamma came in before she had it finished.

'Why, the idea of sewing, child!' she said, taking the needle and thread out of her hand. 'Run along to your play.

When father came home to dinner, Betty started, as usual, to open the front door for him. But mamma called her back.

'You forget, Betty,' she said, in her pleasant way, 'that you are not to do anything for anybody to-day.'

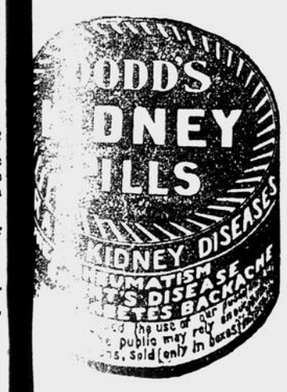
'Then I guess I'd better not ask her to drop my letter in the mail box,' said Cousin Kate; 'it might interfere with her play.'

'I'm tired of playin'!' cried Betty. She ran out to the kitchen. Callie, the cook, would let her help her, she knew. But, for a wonder, not even black Callie would let her do anything.

'I's agwine ter a fun'ral,' she said, 'an I's in a mighty big hurry to git off. But law, honey! I wouldn't hab you 'rupted in your play fer nuthin'!'

Poor Betty! She thought the day would never come to an end.

'O mamma!' she cried, as she kissed her at bedtime, 'do wake me up early in the morning. I want to get a good start. Helpin' is so much better than playin' all the time.'—Mary Callum Wiley, in the 'Morning Star.'



WHAT SAITH THE SCRIPTURE?

FRDAY, OCTOBER 9.

JESUS IN HEBREWS.

This epistle is all about Jesus. It begins and ends with Him. He is the Son, through whom God reveals Himself. Whom He appointed Lord of the universe, through whom He made the ages, the Adamic the Abrahamic, the Mosaic, the Christian. He is the effulgence of God's glory, the very image of His being, upholding the creation by His almighty power, and now seated on the throne of God, crowned with honor and glory, having a more excellent name than the angels, who worship Him. No where is the Deity of Christ more clearly taught than in this epistle. In His human nature Jesus was made a little lower than angels in order to suffer death for the redemption of the sinning race of men. He tasted death for every man. (ii., 9) and thus cleansed away sins (i., 3; ix., 12; x., 12.) He offered sacrifices for sins. (v., 1; vii., 27.) His death was an atonement for sin. (ii., 17.) He put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself. (ix., 26.) Believers are sanctified, or set apart by the offering of His body. (x., 10.) There is needed no more sacrifice for sin. He has perfected forever those who have been sanctified or set free from the guilt of sin. (x., 14.) On the ground of His redemptive work there is no more remembrance of sins. (x., 3, 12, 17, 18.) Next, there is a cleansed conscience (ix., 14), and thirdly, right of access into the very presence of God. (x., 19-22.) Jesus is there as our priest, ever interceding in our behalf. (iii., 1; iv., 14, 15; vi., 20.)

DAILY TEXT.

October 9.

He was their Saviour: in all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them. (Isa. 64:8, 9.)

He that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye. (Zech. 2:8.)

'We sometimes wonder why our Lord has placed us
Within a place so narrow, so obscure,
That nothing we call work can find an entrance:
There is only room to suffer—to endure.
Have you ever thought that some day you will never have anything to try you or anybody to vex you again? There will be no opportunity in that happy realm to learn or to show the spirit of patience, forbearance and long-suffering.
If you are ever to learn these things you must learn them now, and oh, when you shall see those glorious jewels shining in some one else's crown which were formed out of tears or sorrow and drops of blood, what would you not give to be able to live your life over again and win the recompense which can only come from trial and suffering? —Matthew Simpson.

Too Risky

Ask your doctor if he does not think it would be wise for you to keep a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house.

"A hard chill, pain through the chest, difficult breathing." If this should be your experience, send for your doctor. It may be pneumonia! To doctor yourself would be too risky. If your doctor cannot come at once, give Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. When he comes, tell him exactly what you have done. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

MOBILIZATION OF TURKISH TROOPS.

Irade Submitted to the Sultan by the Grand Vizier —Purely a Defensive Measure, Says Kiamil Pasha.

AUSTRIA BEGINS NEGOTIATIONS WITH THE POWERS FOR RECOGNITION OF NEW KINGDOM OF BULGARIA— BRITISH WARSHIPS SAIL FOR ISLAND OF LEMNOS.

Constantinople, Oct. 8.—It is stated on good authority that Kiamil Pasha, the Grand Vizier, to-day submitted to the Sultan the text of an irade ordering the mobilization of the first army corps at Constantinople, the second at Adrianople, and the third at Salonika and Monastir. The irade, it is said, will be published immediately. The Grand Vizier has assured the ambassadors that the mobilization is purely a defensive measure.

It is rumored that the Turkish fleet has been ordered to mobilize and proceed to Varna, a Bulgarian port on the Black Sea.

AUSTRIA BEGINS NEGOTIATIONS.

Budapest, Oct. 8.—Austria already has entered upon negotiations with the various powers for the recognition of the new kingdom of Bulgaria, and the establishment of peaceful relations between Turkey and Bulgaria. Baron von Achrenthal, the Foreign Minister, made this announcement in his speech at the opening sitting of the Common Delegates to-day. The Austrian newspapers and politicians have steadfastly denied that there was any understanding between Austria and Bulgaria in the recent double movement, but Austria's adoption of a protecting role toward Bulgaria indicates a strong community of interests.

AUSTRIAN WARSHIPS.

Berlin, Oct. 8.—A special despatch to the 'Lokal Anzeiger' from Budapest, says that four Austrian monitors proceeded down the Danube this afternoon.

BRITAIN COUNSELS MODERATION.

London, Oct. 8.—The British Government this evening telegraphed instructions to the British Minister at Belgrade, to counsel the Servian Government in strong terms that Servia's own interests demand the exercise of great moderation on her part, and the maintenance of a strictly correct attitude.

SERVIANS WARLIKE.

Belgrade, Oct. 8.—The patriots are much dissatisfied with the tone of the protest of Servia against the occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. They declare it lacks vigor and does not represent the feeling of the nation, which would rather go to war than acquiesce in this act of Austria-Hungary. There is a steady flow of telegrams from the interior assuring the Government of support in the shape of money, men and arms in the event of hostilities.

Great crowds again surrounded the palace to-night, shouting for war and calling for the King to appear. Finally, King Peter, accompanied by the Crown Prince, came to the balcony and implored the people not to cause disturbances. He said: 'Trust me and my Government; both will do their duty.'

The crowd cheered the King, but continued to shout, 'War with Austria.' All of the Belgrade newspapers threaten King Peter with the loss of his throne unless he takes up the sword. One paper says: 'Woe to you and yours if Bosnia is not rescued.' The 'Politica' says: 'We can depend on 1,000,000 in all of Servia, all of Montenegro, and all of Bosnia.'

SERVIA AND AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Oct. 8.—War between Austria-Hungary and Servia is a recognized possibility, although it is believed here that it will be averted. King Peter is in a difficult position on account of the clamor of the Servians for war, particularly since his tenure on the throne never was very safe.

The Austrians, on their part have a new feeling of national enterprise, on account of the forward movement in the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, and would be more ready for further adventures now than they were a week ago. That the Government recognizes the possibility, the military precautions in Hungary show. All the bridges over the Save and Danube near the Servian frontier are strongly guarded by patrols, and four Danube river Monitors were concentrated at Budapest today.

The Government explains that this manoeuvre was planned some time ago but the Austrians would have Belgrade at the mercy of their guns if that were necessary.

The newspapers contain warnings to Servia. The 'Weiner Tageblatt' says: 'The next few days or hours will show whether official Servia joins in this manner of bluff. If it wishes to make a declaration of bankruptcy, that can soon be managed. The people of Belgrade must not forget that when once the mischief has begun there can be no pardon.'

Information has reached the Government that Servia is planning the organization of a guerilla warfare in Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is proposed to flood these two provinces with armed bands. Austria is taking precautionary steps to protect her frontier. The railway tunnel near the fortress of Peterwardein, Hungary, is now held by troops.

THE CRETAN COUP D'ETAT.

Constantinople, Oct. 8. — Second thoughts have raised doubts in Constantinople as to the advisability of the proposed conference of the powers to discuss the occurrences of the present eventful week, and Great Britain's hint to the Ottoman Government that such a meeting might possibly only add to the complications and result in further detriment to Turkey, may induce the Porte to abandon its demand therefor.

The Porte will protest strongly to the powers regarding the Cretain declaration for union with Greece, but it is expected to take the view that, as this island is under the protection of the powers, it is their duty to see that the rights of Turkey are upheld.

Greece has not yet given any sign as to whether it intends to confirm the Cretan proclamation of union now, or await a more propitious time.

The Greek Minister to Turkey to-day presented to the Porte a communication from his Government announcing that the people of Crete had spontaneously proclaimed the union of that island with Greece. He assured the Turkish Government that Greece was not responsible for the proceedings of the Cretans, and he expressed the hope that this action would not disturb the present friendly relations between the two powers. It is feared here that this hope can hardly be realized.

WORDS OF M. CLEMENCEAU.

Paris, Oct. 8.—Both the necessity and the uselessness of a conference on the future of European Turkey seem emphasized to-day. The only prospect mentioned in Paris is of a more summary coup by the Servians, who may rise and join the Bosnian Serba and create a state of war against Austria. Meanwhile it is ominous that M. Stancioff, the Bulgarian minister here, shows in an interview in the 'Temps,' a defiant spirit towards the British, French and Russian censors of King Ferdinand. He says:

'It is becoming urgent for the so-called great powers to make a quick decision on their attitude in the Balkans, for the situation at this hour is such that the ball on a volcano may very readily turn out badly for them.'

He further says:

'If there be any European conference we will be at the table. We have a right to the audience of Europe.'

Premier Clemenceau's speech to-day to the senatorial electors at Var only deepens the impression that the Balkan deadlock will eventually have to be overcome by force. He said, in rebuking the anti-military agitations of the Socialistic organizations: 'The only purpose of our military power is to give effective support in moments of difficulty, such as the present, when facts reveal how feeble is the guarantee of international treaties against recourse to force. When all peoples are hoping for peace and all governments are making pacific professions it has often occurred to me that we were then on the eve of sanguinary conflicts.'

The Premier's speech immediately affected the Bourse adversely. The situation is further darkened by a message printed by the 'Temps,' that King Ferdinand has summoned the commanders of the Bulgarian army to Sofia because the Government finds the Turkish Grand Vizier's last communication insolent.

There is the keenest anxiety to learn the outcome of the interviews of M. Isvolsky, the Russian foreign minister in London.

Diplomats have summarized the situation to-day as follows: 'England is pleading the case of the physicians against the surgeons, because she has nothing to gain by an operation. Such also is Turkey's opinion, but France will support Russia in the further surgical operations of lifting the bar on the Dardanelles.'

PESSIMISM IN BERLIN.

Berlin, Oct. 8.—The latest Balkan news created general pessimism here. The Bourse was depressed and shares of the Deutsche Bank, which is the most heavily engaged of any German financial house in Turkish affairs, fell sharply.

INFLAMING THE AUSTRIANS.

Vienna, Oct. 8.—The Servian restlessness is irritating the Government and inflaming the public here. The newspapers print serious reports of the war temper being displayed by the Servians, which, it is feared, will force King Peter's Government into an invasion of Bosnia. To this is ascribed the military precautions Austria is taking on the Servian frontier, such as guarding bridges and tunnels. Four Danube gunboats have gone south from Buda-Pest as part of the precautionary measures. The newspapers warn Servia not to yield to illusions, which might end her losing her independence.

It is reported that Prince Nicholas of Montenegro, telegraphed King Peter, saying: 'When the Servian army marches to the bank of the Drina river, my army will advance against Herzegovina.'

The Roumanian Foreign Minister is reported in Bucharest as saying:—'Servia's fate is already sealed by the Austrian annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is merely a question whether the Servians prefer to perish like heroes in war or like mice in a trap.'

BRITISH WARSHIPS SAIL FOR LEMNOS.

Valetta, Island of Malta, Oct. 9.—Several of the British warships here have been instructed to sail under sealed orders. Their destination is believed to be the Turkish island of Lemnos. The fleet includes the battleships 'Gloria' and 'Prince of Wales,' and the cruisers 'Diana' and 'Lancaster.'

Lemnos is an island in the Grecian archipelago, about fifty miles west of the entrance to the Dardanelles. It belongs to Turkey. The population mainly is Greek.

London, Oct. 9.—The Foreign Office and the Admiralty have confirmed the press cablegram from Malta, saying that British warships have been ordered to the Aegean Sea. It is believed that the vessels are sent out simply to watch events, but it is understood from other sources that Turkey intimated she would welcome the appearance of the British fleet as likely to calm the population.

INDEPENDENCE NOT RECOGNIZED BY PORTE.

Constantinople, Oct. 9.—The Porte has instructed the Imperial Ottoman Commissioner, resident in Sofia, to continue his functions, as neither Turkey nor the powers have recognized the independence of Bulgaria.

SERVIAN RESERVISTS ORDERED TO JOIN COLORS.

Budapest, Oct. 9.—According to information received here, the Servian reservists have been ordered to join the colors October 11. It is reported also that Servian bands are being formed, and directions consequently have been given to guard the roads and the bridges on the Bosnian frontier.

SERVIA WARNED.

Official advices received here this morning declare that the situation at Belgrade, Servia, is improving. The general excitement among the Servians is calming down. In Vienna the fears of a war with Servia are noticeably less. The morning papers, however, warn Servia not to play with fire, as Austria-Hungary will not stand any nonsense.

In spite of the official statement that the despatch of river gunboats from Budapest in the direction of Belgrade is only a manoeuvre, this action is believed here to be a measure of precaution similar to the guarding of the bridges near the frontier by regiments of infantry. The hope is expressed that this will make an impression on Servia and prevent that kingdom from precipitating hostilities.

CONFERENCE OF POWERS.

Paris, Oct. 9.—The fate of the international conference as a solution of the Balkan crisis depends upon the answer given by Great Britain to M. Iswolsky, the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, who is proceeding to London.

France is confident that if a programme can be arranged a diplomatic way can be found by which Austria-Hungary will participate, and that after this no difficulty need be expected. Germany and Italy are now said to be in direct negotiation with Constantinople and Vienna. The recognition of the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina would remove Austria-Hungary's only objection to being represented at the conference.

France, while sympathizing with Russia's desire to open the Dardanelles to her warships, supports the British view that the conference should be limited to the regularization of the existing situation by obtaining compensation for Turkey instead of at her expense. These compensations are to be largely moral, and are to take the shape of the withdrawal of capitulations, the suppression of restrictions in Macedonia, and possibly a money consideration from Bulgaria for Eastern Roumelia. M. Stancioc, the Bulgarian diplomatic agent in Paris, intimated to-day that his government was ready to accept this last-named proposal.

If an agreement on a programme and the participation of the signatories of the Berlin treaty can be assured, Russia will issue the invitations. The conference probably will be held at Brussels. It is thought that the selection of a minor capital will avoid international jealousies. Geneva had been suggested, but this idea was rejected, as the Swiss capital is taken as a seat of revolutionary propaganda. M. Iswolsky asked France to take the initiative in summoning the conference, but this the French Government declined to do. The main danger to the conference lies in the possibility of complications in the Balkans during the delays incident to the elaboration of a programme on securing the assent of the powers.

M. Iswolsky will return to Paris after his London visit. Ten days, therefore, must elapse before the invitations can be formally issued.

In the meantime France and the other powers are using all their influence to prevent an explosion in the Balkans.

No official confirmation of the report of yesterday that the people of Albania had declared their independence of the Sultan has been received, but the advices from Servia this morning are less reassuring. It is feared that the Servian Government, in order to save itself, will have to surrender to the popular excitement and countenance some hostile act against Austria-Hungary.

AN EXPLANATION AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, Oct. 9.—Baron Hengelmuller, the ambassador from Austria-Hungary to the United States, was in conference with President Roosevelt at the White House last night for purpose, it is understood, of explaining Austria-Hungary's position regarding Bulgaria and the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria.

Upon his returning to the embassy Baron Hengelmuller expressed a desire to know how the American public regarded the action of Austria with regard to the Balkans.

As to the Balkan situation, the ambassador said: 'I am satisfied that there is no reason to fear war. There is nothing involved that cannot be composed at a conference of the powers.'

SERVIAN WAR FEVER DECLINES.

Belgrade, Servia, Oct. 9.—The war fever among the people of Servia is distinctly on the decline this morning. The saner element of the population are gradually obtaining an ascendancy over the more excited politicians and patriots, who, during the past few days, have persistently demanded the immediate advance of the Servian army. This morning many of the firebrands are beginning to comprehend that an attempt to measure swords with Austria-Hungary would be equivalent to national suicide, and the opinion is slowly gaining ground that Servian interests probably would be best served by depending on the joint action of the powers.

The local newspapers are much less inflammable this morning, and altogether it would appear that the warnings sent King Peter by France and Great Britain are proving effective. In spite of the general improvement, however, the enlisting of volunteers is still going on.

PROTEST OF THE PORTE.

Constantinople, Oct. 9.—The protest of the Porte concerning the annexation by Austria-Hungary of the occupied provinces of Bosnia and Herzegovina was despatched to the Powers to-day. It is practically identical with the protest against the Bulgarian declaration of independence.

Doubt regarding the success of the proposed international conference persists in Constantinople. It is declared here that Austria-Hungary is willing to participate to the extent of discussing Bulgarian independence, but she insists that all debate on the occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina be excluded

POPE BLESSES NEW COLLEGE

MESSAGES FROM CARDINAL MERRY DEL VAL AND ARCHBISHOP BRUCHESI.

The hall of the Mother House, Sherbrooke street east, was full of people yesterday who celebrated the inaugural ceremonies of the community's new college for the higher education of young women. The Rev. Canon Dauth occupied the chair. Mr. F. D. Monk delivered an address in which he referred to the interest the public now took in the movement for the higher education of women. He felt sure that the Congregation of Notre Dame would see that there was no neglect in the carrying out of the worthy project.

Addresses were read in English and French by Miss Gerin-Lajoie and Miss Crossan. The musical part of the programme consisted of renderings by the Misses Barbeau and Saucier, and the pupils of Mount of Ste. Marie.

A cablegram was read conveying congratulations from Archbishop Bruchesi, who is at present in Lourdes, while a message from Cardinal Merry del Val conveying the blessing of the Sovereign Pontiff upon the new school of learning, its professors and its pupils, was also intimated.

London, Oct. 9.—The General Federation of Trades Unions has issued a manifesto declaring that there are 1,500,000 unemployed in the United Kingdom, with dependents numbering 7,500,000 suffering thereby. The Federation recommends the creation of a Minister of Labor and a permanent 'unemployment board,' and that all members of labor unions refuse to work overtime.
