MAJOR RUSSIAN BLACK SEA PORT IMMOBILIZED

German Shelling Lowers Value Of Sevastopol Base

German Bombardment of Port from Land and Air So Intense as to Render It Valueless for Refuelling and Servicing Russian Warships Which Control Black Sea Shipping Lanes—Major Assault Due Soon.

London, Nov. 4.—(P)—German bombardments were reported here today to have immobilized Sevastopol as a main base of operations for the Soviet Black Sea fleet.

A fortified city of 80,000 population, Sevastopol is a major objective of the intensified German drive into the Crimea.

The invaders have reached a point close enough to harass the city with artillery as well as bombers, London military observers said, so that it would no longer afford practical shelter for refuelling and servicing of the Russian warships which control Black Sea shipping lanes.

Without detailing exact positions, the Nazi high command claimed yesterday German troops were proceeding from Simferopol, the Crimean capital, forty miles North of Sevastopol.

Another Berlin claim said a land assault on Sevastopol was expected to begin "in a very few hours."

Russians insisted, however, that the defenders would take full advantage of the rough terrain and military fortifications about the city, which resisted a British-French-Turkish siege for eleven months in 1854-55.

Soviet warcraft moving out between the chalky cliffs of the Sevastopol estuary for another base probably would head toward Novorossiysk, a Caucasian commercial port of 100,000 linked by railway with the menaced city of Rostov, on the Don, and Baku, a Caspian Sea port.

Even Novorossiysk, however, may lie in the path of a German drive. The second fork of Germany's forces in the Crimea is now two or three miles from the East coast only eighty miles by sea and land Northwest of Novorossiysk, in an apparent attempt to strike at Russia's Caucasian oil fields.

Complete control of the Crimea by Germany would furnish a possible by-pass to the East and eliminate the necessity for a decisive engagement at Rostov, where Axis armies have been halted by stiffening Russian resistance and autumn floods.

On the Moscow front the Russians were declared in a position to London to be holding fast against renewed assaults and to have recaptured several villages in counter-offensives.

One report said the Russians had brought up 200,000 fresh troops specially equipped and trained in Siberia for winter fighting.

The Soviet Information Bureau's early morning communiqué told of particularly fierce fighting yesterday in the Kalinin sector, ninety-five miles Northwest of Moscow, and the Crimea.

The Moscow radio said "There is no doubt that the Russian people will win the war."

VIVID ACCOUNT OF ATTACKS ON U.S. DESTROYER

United States Navy Department Releases Account of Brush of Destroyer Kearney with U-Boat.

Washington, Nov. 4.—(P)—A vivid story of the torpedoing of the United States destroyer Kearney and of her labored voyage to safety has been released by the Navy Department, more than two weeks after the stricken ship sailed into Reykjavik, Iceland.

An account of the Kearney's brush with a submarine in the North Atlantic was written by Drew Middleton, Associated Press staff writer stationed in Reykjavik, on October 19, the day the ship reached port.

The tale was gleaned by Middleton from members of the Kearney's crew—chiefly from Ensign Henry Lyman of Ponkapog, Mass., as he lay in a United States army hospital at Reykjavik recovering from shock and exhaustion.

At the time of the attack—1:30 a.m. on October 17, Lyman was on the bridge as junior officer of the deck.

The Kearney, he explained, had been on escort duty with a West-bound convoy the day before when he received word that an Eastbound convoy escorted by Canadian corvettes had been attacked by submarines. She immediately started to the rescue at top speed of thirty-six knots.

When the destroyer reached the scene, Lyman said, the attacks had ceased—temporarily—and the Kearney began to cruise about seeking survivors.

British Vessels Place Boarding Parties On Vichy French Ships Running Contraband For Germans

REPORT ENGAGEMENT IN CHANNEL

London, Nov. 4.—(P)—The Admiralty today announced that a naval engagement between British patrol ships and an escort for an Axis supply ship occurred in the English Channel last night. One British ship was commanded by a Canadian.

A communiqué said that a craft commanded by Lieut. C. E. Bonnell of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve hit a large enemy supply ship with two torpedoes.

The enemy craft "has either sunk or been beached in a seriously damaged condition," the Admiralty said, adding that "no casualties or damage were suffered by Lieut. Bonnell's vessel."

One British ship was damaged. The communiqué did not state the size of the warships engaged.

The supply ship which was hit probably was sunk or beached, the communiqué said.

GERMANS CLAIM HEAVY DAMAGE

Berlin, Nov. 4.—(P)—The German high command claimed today that Nazi submarines and bombing planes had sunk a destroyer and fourteen merchant ships totalling 73,000 tons in a series of attacks on Britain's supply lines.

A special communiqué said eleven of the ships, aggregating 53,000 tons, were sent to the bottom by submarines which attacked a convoy.

United States Naval Tanker Latest Victim Of Submarine

Washington, Nov. 4.—(P)—The United States Navy Department announced today a naval oil tanker, the Salinas, had been "torpedoed without warning" on the night of October 29-30 Southwest of Iceland but had reached port in safety despite serious damage.

There was no loss of life nor serious injury to personnel, the Navy said.

The attack occurred the night before the torpedo sinking of the American destroyer Reuben James in which ninety-seven crewmen were killed or are missing.

The Navy announced that the sinking of the Reuben James was on the night of October 30-31. In the case of the Salinas, the Navy said that announcement of the attack was withheld until the vessel reached port in safety.

"No details of the damage will be released as it will be of no value except to the Nazis," the Navy added.

"The ship was in a convoy when attacked, which was about a day prior to the attack and sinking of the U. S. S. Reuben James."

WAR BULLETINS

London — The Soviet Army newspaper Red Star today estimated that the Germans had lost at least 90,000 soldiers killed and wounded and 150 planes and 250 guns in Crimea fighting, a Reuters dispatch from Moscow stated.

Berlin — Northeastern Germany was penetrated last night by "weak enemy forces," the German high command said today.

The nationality of the invaders was not given nor were any details of their flight included in the high command's communiqué.

The war bulletin said one British bomber was downed in RAF flights over German-occupied regions.

Ottawa — The press censors have banned two Japanese-language publications from Canada under the Defence of Canada Regulations, the National Revenue Department disclosed today. The papers are "Chuo Koron" (The Central Review) and "Syonen Club" (Youth Club), both published in Tokyo.

ELECTORS CAST BALLOTS TODAY IN METROPOLIS

Fiorello H. LaGuardia and William F. O'Dwyer Seeking New York Mayoralty Post in Straight Fight.

New York, Nov. 4.—(P)—The job sometimes described as next to the Presidency in importance—Mayor of New York City—was presented to about 2,500,000 registered voters today for a decision on who shall fill it for the next four years.

Fiorello H. LaGuardia, rotund and raucous two-term incumbent, and William F. O'Dwyer, mild-mannered Irish immigrant who vaulted to political importance on his smashing of a gang of killers-for-cash as Brooklyn District Attorney, were the principal choices offered as voting machine booths opened at 7 a.m. (E.D.T.) for a 13-hour period.

LaGuardia, a political free-lancer, had the four-ply backing of the Republican, American Labor, City Fusion and United City parties, while O'Dwyer drew the unified support of the City's Democratic organizations, including Tammany Hall.

For LaGuardia, who attends to duties as Chairman of the U.S.-Canadian Joint Defence Board and as President of the U. S. Conference of Mayors in addition to running the nation's biggest city, there was only one issue—scientific municipal government which he said he introduced when he slew the Tammany Tiger eight years ago.

But at the outset, O'Dwyer declared his independence of all Democratic politicians and countered with the charge that the Mayor was only a "part-time" chief of the city—because of his other duties—and that LaGuardia's administration had been costly.

She found a piece of paper imbedded in the bar of soap. On it was "Heil Hitler."

Invasion Of Russia May Prove Turning Point Of War, Premier King Says

No Picture of Early Allied Victory Painted by Prime Minister King in War Review at Opening of House of Commons—Admits German Threat to Russia in Crimean Fighting Remains Very Serious.

By JACK WILLIAMS (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Nov. 4.—(P)—Opposition Leader Hanson today launches in the House of Commons a general discussion of Canada's war effort when he speaks in reply to Prime Minister Mackenzie King's 8,000-word review of the war since Parliament's adjournment June 14.

The statement which the Prime Minister made to members who returned to Parliament Hill yesterday for resumption of the session covered war developments and gave special emphasis to:

1.—The "appalling" prospect of increased human suffering through continued strife;

2.—United States abandonment of a policy of neutrality;

3.—Deepening of British-United States interdependence;

4.—The seriousness of the German threat to Russia on the Crimean front;

5.—The possibility of the Russian campaign yet being the turning point of the war;

6.—The importance of action in the Middle East;

7.—Japan's delicate position in conflict with both the Axis and democratic powers.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hanson's address this afternoon the House will go into Committee and will hear acting leaders of the two other groups represented in the House, Angus MacInnis, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, and E. G. Hansell, New Democracy. Then ministers particularly concerned with the Canadian war programme are expected to review work of their departments.

The committee procedure was adopted at a conference of party leaders. It will allow a question and answer discussion and is hoped by party leaders to facilitate completion of the session which now is expected to last ten days or two weeks.

Mr. Hanson yesterday expressed disapproval of legislative methods followed by the Government. The people's elected representatives had not given the Government carte blanche to do as it pleased, by Order-in-Council, he maintained.

Mr. King, who at an earlier stage expressed the Government's readiness to answer questions and provide information, said the Government was acting under authority provided by Parliament; that the House and Senate had been in session and adjourned but not prorogued in order that it might be ready to meet in an emergency.

The Prime Minister devoted a large part of his war review to the Russian campaign and warned the most serious strategic threat to successful Russian resistance was in Crimea.

No direct reference was made by the Prime Minister to his week-end visit to President Roosevelt, but a considerable part of the review dealt with the part being taken

First War Isolationist Praises Proposed Neutrality Act Changes

Washington, Nov. 4.—(P)—Senator George Norris (Ind., Nebraska) declared today that the United States "has no choice except to arm our ships and permit them to sail to the ports of our friends," as provided by the pending legislation or Neutrality Act revision.

The only man still in the Senate who cast his vote against United States entry into the First Great War, Norris told reporters that "You cannot compare the present war with the last one."

He voiced his views as the Senate went into its eighth day of debate on the revision measure—to the accompaniment of a spirited cloak-room dispute on how slim or substantial the bill's generally conceded victory would be.

Opponents of President Roosevelt's foreign policy predicted a hair-line vote. Senator Robert Taft (Rep., Ohio) went even further, contending that "There still are enough uncommitted members to beat this thing."

All such claims, however, failed to perturb Administration leaders who looked forward to the decisive

United States Man-Power Needed To Win War, Southerner Declares

Montreal, Nov. 4.—(P)—Herbert Agar, editor of the Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal and member of the Fight For Freedom Committee in the United States, told a People's Forum meeting here last night that Britain and her allies could not win the war with United States tools alone, United States manpower was also needed to assure a victory, he asserted.

Prime Minister Churchill's oft-quoted statement "Give us the tools and we will finish the job" had created in the minds of Americans a sense of false security. He said some Americans thought that the tools of war were all that were needed by beleaguered Britain.

Mr. Agar explained how he had met opposition in the United States when he sought to convince an audience his country should enter the war at once. His opposition had quoted Churchill's statement "Implying Britain did not yet need United States manpower."

Mr. Agar said one member of his audience in the United States quoted the Churchill speech that had just come over from Britain

CLAIMS CHINA GIVES EXAMPLE

Springfield, Mass., Nov. 4.—(P)—Dr. Russell Henry Stafford, President of American Board of Foreign Missions, said today that Chinese resistance to the Japanese may well be a pointer "for our own decision in contingencies not unlikely to arise on the domestic scene."

Asking "even to protect our country from destruction, is it ever right to take up arms?" the Minister of the Old South Church, Boston, told the Board's 132nd annual meeting in a prepared address:

"That is a question that puzzles and distresses many upon our own ground.

HALIFAX EQUAL TO GIBRALTAR FOR DEFENCES

Units of Allies' Armadas Crowd Her Harbors, Skies Are Dotted by Planes and Streets Thronged with Fighting Men.

(This is the last of a Canadian Press Series on Wartime Halifax) By ANDY ROSS (Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Halifax, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Halifax is Canada's ringside seat in the Battle of the Atlantic and, as in the First Great War, one of the great dispatching points for aid to the Motherland. Here you can almost feel the hot breath of war on your neck.

A few minutes atop the city's Citadel Hill and you can take the pulse beat of a warring Canada. You'll see a panorama of busy wharves, mercantile mounds of many flags loading the paraphernalia of war and the food and supplies for a rationed Britain.

You'll see a parade of liners, tankers and freighters—some out-bound bound with bulging holds, others coming in light-breaded their way through the harbor's outer defences, passing through the gate of a submarine net laid immediately on the outbreak of war.

From former luxury liners to the most insignificant tramps, all are surrounded with the aura of war. They mount business-like anti-submarine guns, pom-poms and machine guns for anti-aircraft defence lift their muzzles from their super-structures, and here and there, is one with Britain's latest device—a catapult and its fighter plane.

You'll see sleek units of Canada's growing navy, knifing their way through the harbor's tranquil waters—destroyers, corvettes, armed merchant cruisers and one-time palatial yachts. For this is the Royal Canadian Navy's No. 1 home, its main base and training centre.

You might think of Britain's far-flung armadas. Rear-Admiral S. S. Bonham-Carter, while here as commanding officer of the Royal Navy for the Atlantic coast, was once quoted as saying Halifax was "probably the most important port in the world."

During his term of office, such capital ships as the new King George V, Rodney, Renown, Malaya, Revenge, Warspite—dropped anchor here; such aircraft carriers as the Furious came and went and miscellaneous other Royal Navy craft made this a port of call.

Halifax is also headquarters for the Eastern Air Command of the Royal Canadian Air Force. So you'll see a sky dotted with planes of all types—huge flying boats, grim long-range bombers, training planes, observation craft, fighters from Canada's coastal defence stations.

Colonies Come

A further decree included French colonies in the ban of listening British and other "anti-national" radio broadcasts.

The procedure established for the colonies in America and Reunion Island and Indian Ocean possessions provided that the courts should hand down verdicts without disclosing the charges and that they were not bound by any procedure other than that of their own choosing, provided the sentence be passed immediately.

The courts were given power to pass in absentia judgments on persons outside French soil, to be executed if the condemned are ever arrested on territory adhering to the Vichy Government.

FINNS CAPTURE IMPORTANT RED COASTAL BASE

Occupation of Koivisto Islands in Gulf of Finland Reported to Have Followed Severe Battle.

Helsinki, Nov. 4.—(AP)—The Finns announced today the occupation of the Koivisto Islands in the Gulf of Finland.

The islands and fortress served as the Western anchor of the Mannerheim Line which was lost by the Finns in their 1939-40 winter war with Russia.

The communiqué said the islands were occupied in operations during November 1 to 3.

One large and two small Russian ships were destroyed in military operations on the morning of November 3, it was claimed.

The three ships were presumed to be carrying soldiers of the Russian garrison trying to escape.

The Koivisto Islands are forty miles Northwest of the great Russian fortress of Kronstadt, which guards Leningrad and has held out for weeks despite heavy bombardments.

The islands were heavily re-fortified following their cession to Russia in the 1917-18 Moscow peace ending the winter war. Russian batteries there almost continuously harassed Finnish traffic on the mainland after the Red army withdrew across the 1939 frontiers in the present war.

SOLDIER'S AID ACCOMPLISHES SPLENDID WORK

Lake Megantic Group Looking After Comforts of Twenty-One Home-Town Boys—Letter Shows How Comfort Boxes Are Appreciated.

When it comes to working for the boys in uniform, whether Overseas or in training in Canada, the people of Lake Megantic, through "The Soldier's Aid Society" are setting an example of service which might well be the envy of many other localities.

"The Soldier's Aid Society" looks after twenty-one boys in uniform, three of whom are already in England and seven others who will shortly proceed Overseas. Practically every month two boxes are packed and sent to Lake Megantic boys, whether they are actually Overseas or still stationed in Canada.

The Christmas gift box to the troops will consist of one thousand cigarettes to the boys Overseas, and a smaller number to those in Canada. The sending of the regular monthly boxes will be resumed after the New Year.

A series of Galloping Teas is being given to procure funds for the Christmas cheer. Some of the supporters of the Fund are making up their contribution by the sale of Christmas cakes and similar articles. Donations to the Fund may be sent to Miss C. McKenzie, Treasurer and only officer of "The Soldier's Aid Society."

The following letter from Arthur Rider, one of the boys from Lake Megantic who was remembered by "The Soldier's Aid Society" explained itself and shows how greatly appreciated are the boxes received. The letter reads as follows:

"The Soldier's Aid Society, Lake Megantic, Que. Dear 'Soldier's Aid': That's a new one on me, I must say, a Group I've never heard of in my own home town! But I'm all for you, whoever you may be, and here's why:

"That parcel I received the other day was positively, without exception, the nicest one I have ever received. We can't drink the water here (by the M.O.'s orders) so what would be more logical than chewing on what we call our 'chick' and what nicer than Oxo to drink in place of the water we can't drink? What water we do have for washing is cold so new razor blades are a necessity rather than a luxury.

Eating all one's meals in barracks gets very monotonous, and the odd snack of home-made cake at night before retiring is a treat.

So, well to say the least, they are always a welcome gift, but a hundred times more so in the Service, and particularly so at this time of the year.

The flashlight, now I don't know exactly what to say about that. Maybe if I were to explain a little of what this Station is like you'd better understand how I feel. As far as the eye can see there's nothing but mud and more mud, and not only that but it's piled up in heaps and great ditches are left with boards over them to walk across. The night lights leave a lot to be desired, so you can imagine any one coming in at night with no light slipping into any one of these numerous trenches. A flashlight is absolutely THE thing to have.

Then there's the writing paper, the tooth paste, the soap and so on. Well what I'm trying to say is thank you all a million times for being so good to me. I'm sure you will never realize just how I felt when I opened that parcel, or how much I appreciated all the things you gave me enough to feel that sort of good a fellow the feeling that maybe the going isn't so rough after all somehow. And it makes you feel down inside that it's pretty nice to have someone thinking of you that way.

It's rather odd getting a gift like that and not knowing who it is from. Won't someone in your Group write me and tell me who you people are? Surely I must know someone or you'd never have known me or my dress.

Thank you all very much, and I do mean that. Guess I'm just lucky to have come from a place like that.

Best regards to you all. Sincerely yours always, ART. RIDER

News Bureau Declares United States Note Did Not Give True Picture of Finnish-Russian War.

Helsinki, Finland, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Finland's answer to the United States warning that she must cease fighting Soviet Russia if she wants to retain American friendship may be expected shortly, the Finnish news bureau said today.

The news bureau quoted authoritative sources as saying foreign reports about the content of the American note "are not in all respects correct" and said "more exact information about the matter" will be made public with Finland's answer.

GERMAN PRESS DISLIKES UNITED Berlin, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A German Foreign Office spokesman today asserted "No words are sharp enough to characterize Washington's ghetto methods whereby the Government, with gangsters at its head, in Jewish shamelessness and with pitiful dilettantism tries to tell the Finnish people what to do."

He made the comment when asked about a State Secretary Hull's announcement yesterday that the United States Government had advised Finland she runs the danger of losing American friendship if she pursues her war with Russia.

"The government of a democracy cannot support the government of another democracy, which is neither a democracy nor a republic," the spokesman said, "and is not an adherent to the tri-umvirate pact, and say 'You take your troops back,' and dares intimate that if Finland does not acquiesce England will be prevailed upon to declare war on the spokesman continuing.

"This is not a Finland affair alone. It concerns all Europe. The importance of this American attempt on Europe cannot be underestimated. All Europe will arise in moral indignation against these lying, perverted gangster methods. America's demand is an act without parallel in Europe's political history."

"The reply by the Finnish news agency is refreshing and inspiring. This agency of the people of only 3,500,000 dares respond to the arrogant notification by a government with gangsters at its head, that a reply will be given if and when it pleases Finland."

A Associated Press dispatch to the news bureau said the Finnish answer could be expected shortly.

FARM PROBLEMS WERE DISCUSSED BY BURY SCHOOL

Bury, Nov. 4.—"Industry is drawing all the young people from the farms. What is going to happen to those farms when the old people who are running them die?" W. E. Haskins, Secretary of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, asked this question in his address to the Community School last night.

Haskins also described the problems of agriculture today at the Sawyer-ville Community School.

The other serious problem which Mr. Haskins brought up was that of farm labor. He said that the farmer comprised one-third of the population of Canada, and received one-tenth of the national income. The drop in income since 1915 has been twelve per cent for labor, ten per cent for industry, and fifty-three per cent for farmers.

"No country such as this can be happy and prosperous, if its rural population is not happy and prosperous," Mr. Haskins declared. He pointed out that any money which the farmers received was in the last analysis spent in the cities. Farmers cannot afford to produce at present prices, said Mr. Haskins, for farm labor is too expensive, and seed prices are also high. "I do not think you will do it, and in your behalf I intend to inform the Government of Canada that you will not," he concluded.

The fact that other major groups such as industry, commerce and labor in Canada were strongly organized, so that when a reduction in the price of a commodity such as canned tomatoes is suggested, the industry, commerce and labor who is paid less. The Manufacturers' Association, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and the various trade unions all have a solidarity which forces the Government to listen to them.

"No organization can exist successfully which operates from the top down—it can exist successfully only through the efforts of individual members," Mr. Haskins said. "Farmers must discuss their problems. They are the only ones who know where the shoe pinches."

This is the last week of lectures in the Community Schools. Closing meetings will be held next week, and plans for next year will be discussed.

"This is not a Finland affair alone. It concerns all Europe. The importance of this American attempt on Europe cannot be underestimated. All Europe will arise in moral indignation against these lying, perverted gangster methods. America's demand is an act without parallel in Europe's political history."

"The reply by the Finnish news agency is refreshing and inspiring. This agency of the people of only 3,500,000 dares respond to the arrogant notification by a government with gangsters at its head, that a reply will be given if and when it pleases Finland."

A Associated Press dispatch to the news bureau said the Finnish answer could be expected shortly.

FARM PROBLEMS WERE DISCUSSED BY BURY SCHOOL

Bury, Nov. 4.—"Industry is drawing all the young people from the farms. What is going to happen to those farms when the old people who are running them die?" W. E. Haskins, Secretary of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, asked this question in his address to the Community School last night.

Haskins also described the problems of agriculture today at the Sawyer-ville Community School.

The other serious problem which Mr. Haskins brought up was that of farm labor. He said that the farmer comprised one-third of the population of Canada, and received one-tenth of the national income. The drop in income since 1915 has been twelve per cent for labor, ten per cent for industry, and fifty-three per cent for farmers.

"No country such as this can be happy and prosperous, if its rural population is not happy and prosperous," Mr. Haskins declared. He pointed out that any money which the farmers received was in the last analysis spent in the cities. Farmers cannot afford to produce at present prices, said Mr. Haskins, for farm labor is too expensive, and seed prices are also high. "I do not think you will do it, and in your behalf I intend to inform the Government of Canada that you will not," he concluded.

The fact that other major groups such as industry, commerce and labor in Canada were strongly organized, so that when a reduction in the price of a commodity such as canned tomatoes is suggested, the industry, commerce and labor who is paid less. The Manufacturers' Association, the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, and the various trade unions all have a solidarity which forces the Government to listen to them.

"No organization can exist successfully which operates from the top down—it can exist successfully only through the efforts of individual members," Mr. Haskins said. "Farmers must discuss their problems. They are the only ones who know where the shoe pinches."

This is the last week of lectures in the Community Schools. Closing meetings will be held next week, and plans for next year will be discussed.

FINN AND HOLDS BACK REPLY TO UNITED STATES

News Bureau Declares United States Note Did Not Give True Picture of Finnish-Russian War.

Helsinki, Finland, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Finland's answer to the United States warning that she must cease fighting Soviet Russia if she wants to retain American friendship may be expected shortly, the Finnish news bureau said today.

The news bureau quoted authoritative sources as saying foreign reports about the content of the American note "are not in all respects correct" and said "more exact information about the matter" will be made public with Finland's answer.

GERMAN PRESS DISLIKES UNITED Berlin, Nov. 4.—(AP)—A German Foreign Office spokesman today asserted "No words are sharp enough to characterize Washington's ghetto methods whereby the Government, with gangsters at its head, in Jewish shamelessness and with pitiful dilettantism tries to tell the Finnish people what to do."

He made the comment when asked about a State Secretary Hull's announcement yesterday that the United States Government had advised Finland she runs the danger of losing American friendship if she pursues her war with Russia.

"The government of a democracy cannot support the government of another democracy, which is neither a democracy nor a republic," the spokesman said, "and is not an adherent to the tri-umvirate pact, and say 'You take your troops back,' and dares intimate that if Finland does not acquiesce England will be prevailed upon to declare war on the spokesman continuing.

Newspapermen Ejected From Corridors Of City Hall As Ediles Hold Secret Session

Newspapermen covering Sherbrooke City Hall can't play peek-a-boo any more, according to a decree handed down by Ald. J. A. Savard, Chairman of the City Hall Committee.

Formerly reporters sat in the ante-room of the Committee Chamber while the Aldermen discussed the momentous decisions which they were going to take when they were "duly assembled" in public.

In spite of the sealed doors the newspapermen could not help but hear Ald. Eugene Thibault, Chairman of the Finance Committee, as he laid down the law to his fellow-Councillors, but at no time did the reporters ever take advantage of the information which they might have overheard while waiting for the Council meeting to start.

When reporters arrived at City Hall last night to take up their usual hour and a half vigil while waiting for the scheduled eight o'clock meeting to start they were informed by Sgt. Albert Breton, police officer attached to the City Hall, that they were no longer permitted to wait in the ante-room of the Committee Chamber and were escorted down the corridor to the elevator.

Asked who had issued the orders, Sgt. Breton was reluctant to admit that the instructions had actually been given by Ald. Savard. When the City Hall Committee Chairman was questioned he was equally evasive and declared that "it was the order of the entire Council."

Mayor Labrecque was equally non-committal but said he had received reports that information had been leaked out prematurely and he endorsed the order given by Ald. Savard.

A statement made by Ald. Thibault at the Council meeting partly explained the decision of the Aldermen. Last week Ald. Thibault was reported to have introduced a resolution at a meeting of the Committee of the Whole suggesting that all employees of the Roads and Waterworks Departments be placed on a three-weeks-month basis during the winter months but last night he declared he wanted to make a "formal denial" he had ever introduced such a motion.

The Finance Committee Chairman emphasized that he had never introduced a "resolution" but did not deny he had made such a proposal to the Committee.

Ald. P. A. Cinq-Mars said that the report concerning employees of the Waterworks and Roads Department "had been thrown out to see what would be the reaction." Ald. Cinq-Mars did not comment on what the reaction had been.

NOTE INCREASE IN NUMBER OF TOURIST CALLS

Continued increase in the number of inquiries made at the City Bureau of Information was reported today by Jean Joncas, director. The number of persons who made inquiries during the month of October, 1941, was 1,071 as compared with 686 in the same month last year.

A marked increase was reported in the number of persons making inquiries about the Gaspe tour. In October, 1940, only one person sought information about Gaspe, while this year ten wanted details of the scenic tour of the peninsula. Inquiries about the White Mountains were on a par with last October, fourteen in each case, while inquiries about Quebec increased from thirty-five in October, 1940, to 234 in October this year.

Total number of inquiries about roads increased from 225 to 601, according to Mr. Joncas' report.

Heavy Fine Will Be Imposed On Persons Refusing To Obey Blackout Rules November 10

Persons refusing to obey Civilian Protection Committee regulations governing the blackout which will be held in Sherbrooke and other parts of the Province of Quebec on Monday night, November 10, will be liable to a fine of $500 or two years in jail, it was announced last night by Col. J. S. Bourque, local C.P.C. Chairman.

Col. Bourque presided over a meeting in the City Hall auditorium of the men who will act as Civilian Protection Committee wardens during the blackout, and spoke in both English and French, explaining the duties the workers will be called upon to perform.

It was announced that use of troops to aid the volunteer workers during the blackout, which will be in force from ten o'clock until ten-thirty next Monday night, has been forbidden by military and C.P.C. authorities, who ruled that the test will be in the hands of civilians alone. Col. Bourque, however, said that members of the Provincial Police will be assigned the duty of guarding the fourteen roads leading into the city and preventing any cars entering while the blackout is in force.

At the sounding of the "alert" at nine-forty-five o'clock, all traffic will immediately come to a halt, and motors and lights in the vehicles will be turned off. Each householder will be required to extinguish every light in his dwelling and remain so for the duration of the blackout. There will be some cases where this will be impossible, such

HOLD SERVICE FOR MINE BLAST DEAD

Nordegg, Alta., Nov. 4. — Funeral services were conducted by clergy of two denominations here today for nineteen of twenty-nine coal miners killed in an explosion in the No. 3 section of the Brazeau Collieries Friday. The body of a twentieth man—Steve Romanow—was sent to Edmonton where burial services will be held.

Rescue crews working continuously, have recovered four more bodies, bringing to twenty-five the number removed from the workings, and early today were reported to be working under "great danger."

Officials said the roof of the mine was supported by only light timbers and the force of the blast caused crackings which now are hampering attempts to get the other four bodies out.

Funeral arrangements for the other men have not been completed.

clared that the belief that "it can't happen here" must be knocked out of people's minds and replaced by the realization that everybody is in this war against the totalitarian powers.

Mr. Skinner said that the two chief arguments advanced by men who refuse to buy War Savings Certificates are that they are too busy; and that they can't afford to spend the money, and declared that if a few enemy bombs were dropped on Sherbrooke perhaps people would wake up and realize the seriousness of the situation.

The sale of War Savings Certificates is a means of providing a most important source of revenue to the Government, it was pointed out, and by purchasing them people can save for the future. In addition, use of extra money to purchase Certificates discourages the manufacture of articles non-essential to the prosecution of the war.

Pointing out that insurance men have greater responsibility than most people with regard to the sale of Certificates and Stamps because of their ability to meet and sell the public, Mr. Skinner asked each member of the Branch to contact six people and interest them in the bank deduction plan.

Georges Deslongchamps, Joint-Chairman with Mr. Skinner, addressed the meeting in French. The speakers were thanked by Ernest Germain, Through the Branch President, J. A. Rouleau, the members agreed to do the work which was asked of them by the local Committee.

Resignation as Secretary of Gerard Fortin, who has been transferred to Montreal, was accepted with regret, and Henri Robitaille was elected to fill the vacancy. A motion of sympathy was extended Mr. Rouleau in the death of his brother-in-law in a Montreal hospital. The speakers were introduced by H. A. Peabody.

Does the Grease in Dishwater Drive You Crazy?

THEN TRY RINSO — grease will vanish in no time!

OH—but I hated greasy dishwashing—grease on the water, on the dishes, on the plates as I drew them out. Ugh! But when I tried a little Rinso in the dishwater, the grease just vanished. Rinso's thick, rich suds absorbed all the grease in no time. Dishes came out sparkling clean. Drying was much easier! Try Rinso for your dishwashing. For greater economy get the GIANT package.

YOUR TELEPHONE OPERATOR POINTS THE WAY TO SPEEDIER SERVICE!

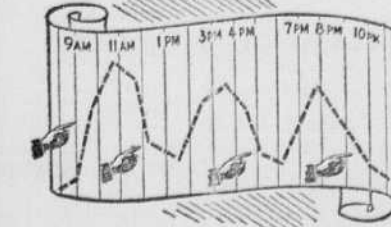

Long Distance telephone lines are carrying more calls today than at any time in our history.

Although circuits on many routes are double what they were only a few months ago, urgent calls connected with Canada's war effort are loading our facilities as never before.

We want to continue to give you the speediest possible service, so your operator makes this suggestion—

Perhaps you could arrange your social long distance calls for slack periods. The diagram below indicates that these periods occur before 9:30 in the morning—around 1:00 and 6:00 in the afternoon, and after 8:30 in the evening. This will help to speed up the country's business by keeping our lines free during the business day, of all but necessary calls.

Your co-operation will help us to keep everybody's telephone service at its accustomed high standard! Thank you!

M. GRAHAM, Manager.

WAVELL VISITS SINGAPORE

The arrival in Singapore of General Sir Archibald Wavell at the time when a critical situation in the Pacific is rapidly approaching a head can be no mere coincidence, as the British Commander-in-Chief of India, whose military command includes Burma, and whose troops form a large part in the Malaya Peninsula defence force, is holding consultations with two high officials who are old acquaintances of his. Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, Commander-in-Chief of the Far East, is the first airman ever to be placed in such a high command and is the man who built up Kenya's defences before the war, while Alfred Duff Cooper, the War Cabinet's co-ordinator in the Far East, was a former War Secretary and First Lord of the Admiralty.

The parley is the latest of a series of diplomatic and military conferences being held all over the Orient, as Sir Robert has just returned from a tour of defences of the Netherlands East Indies and Australia, while Mr. Duff Cooper is to go to Australia shortly. Officials of the Netherlands administration have been in Singapore, and Sir Earle Page, Australia's new representative in London, travelled to Britain through these vital defence points.

It does not seem probable that the issue of peace or war in the Orient will be affected immediately by Germany's charge that the United States has attacked her, thus making the tri-partite alliance operative and forcing Japan to challenge America. But the tone of the Japanese press against America, against what it calls the "encirclement" policy of the ABCD powers, America, Britain, China and the Netherlands continues to harden. Week-end dispatches indicated that General Tojo's Government hopes to be able to report something concrete to the Japanese Parliament at its next meeting, November 15. Hence that day may be regarded as an unofficial dead-line for some action.

It is hard to see how any Japanese move now can be shrugged off by the consulting powers, Indo-China probably representing the last bit of land that Japan can have without fighting, as at some point an expansionist programme must be resisted as Hitler discovered in 1939.

Probably more important to the issue than the German charges is the apparent bogging down of the Japanese-American negotiations in Washington, which talks have been the most secretive conversations in some years. All that has been released is that the Japanese ambassador had one conversation with Mr. Roosevelt, and that State Secretary Hull received the Japanese representatives on a number of occasions. As Japan instituted these talks, Tokyo must have something to ask. As Tokyo indicates that there has been little progress and Japanese newspapers declare relations with Washington are "the worst in history," it follows that Washington rejected the request.

It would seem that Tokyo asked Washington to recognize at least part of her conquest of China and probably abandon aid to the Chiang Kai-Shek Government at Chungking. Mr. Roosevelt's response to such a demand can readily be imagined.

SUEZ CANAL CONTROL

Throughout the financial centres of the Middle East, reports are being heard that the Germans are seeking to acquire share control of the Suez Canal through massive purchases of French holdings, one report reaching Cairo from Vichy claimed that a certain Fritz Keller had recently purchased a block of 25,000 shares from Philip de Wendel, a prominent French industrialist, and from the heirs of the internationally-known banker, Octave Homberg, Keller supposedly acting on behalf of the Goering Corporation. However, as despatches from Vichy are sometimes German-inspired, observers caution that they might represent a German trial balloon to sound out the general Suez Canal situation.

Suez Canal shares are reported to have jumped twenty-five per cent on the Paris and Lyons Bourses during the past few weeks following heavy buying for German interests, the Germans making their payments in francs of which they receive 300,000,000 daily from Vichy for upkeep of the Nazi army under the armistice terms, so that in reality they are getting the shares for nothing.

The exact number of shares held in France is not known but it is believed to be about forty per cent of the total of 619,848. The Netherlands holdings, prior to the war, were also large, the late Sir Henry Deterding, Holland oil king being a big stockholder, and the Germans presumably could obtain control of this and other Netherlands interests. Britain holds 177,000 shares purchased in the famous deal negotiated by Benjamin Disraeli, and the remaining shares are held by United States, Egyptian and Italian interests. But it is pointed out that the holding of Suez stock during this war has no meaning for the Germans, Italians or those residing in German-held territory since Britain has physical domination of the canal. The Canal agent, Baron Louis de Benois, was among the first Frenchmen in Egypt to join General Charles de Gaulle's Free French movement and he is working in close collaboration with Britain, all pro-Vichy elements having been eliminated from the staff.

In theory the Canal is neutral territory open to ships of all nations in war or peace. In 1914 a number of German and Austrian vessels sought refuge at Port Said and remained there for three months. Eventually the Canal Company ordered them to leave and outside the three-mile limit they were taken in charge by the British fleet. At the start of this war, enemy ships were well clear of the Canal when the shooting started.

ONCE AGAIN

Once again the German Government, or its leaders, have issued a weighty statement on the international situation, this time dealing with the place of the United States in the world picture. That such a statement would be forthcoming was not unexpected in view of recent declarations of President Roosevelt condemning the Nazi policies and pledging United States' aid in their extermination.

The Nazi declaration covers a wide territory, starting with an explanation of the sinking of the Destroyer Reuben James, in which it is asserted that the destroyer started the trouble. Past German declarations have enabled the world to put the proper word on such a statement, as it does not appear reasonable from any point of view for a United States warship to open up a fight with a pack of German U-boats or dive-bombers. Such an attack must have been started by the Germans.

Naturally the Germans deny the charges of desiring to carve up South America and declare the maps of which President Roosevelt speaks, vile forgeries. To admit the truth of the accusations would ruin any Nazi prospects in the Southern Continent where they hope for valuable trade, if not territorial concessions.

The German statement is lengthy and flamboyant but offers little information on the general situation. Its contents are all old stuff.

STRESSING ADVERTISING NEED

Declaring that the newspapers and similar publications are playing an important part in sustaining public morale during the present crisis, Alex M. Miller, Director of Advertising for the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, urges that every dollar which can be conserved by advertisers out of their budgets should be spent in these mediums.

"The high morale we need for victory is impossible in a democracy without a well-informed public," he explained. "Newspapers are consequently performing a war-time job of supreme importance. To build and sustain that morale, the news must be told—all the news, faithfully and accurately. A dollar spent in actual purchase of space, therefore, will be a victory dollar because the peculiar strength of a democracy is its ability to face the facts and carry on."

FROM THE RECORD FILES OF THIRTY YEARS AGO

Technicalities resulting from a dispute between the City Secretary and a special committee of the City Council may prevent a large number of Sherbrooke citizens from having their names inscribed on the new electoral roll.

Among those providing the entertainment for the Halloween Party in the Cowansville Congregational Church were C. E. Christie, G. W. Johnston, Irving Scott, R. H. Russell, J. H. Hunter and Rev. S. W. Anthony.

The City Council have nearly completed their revision of the severely-condemned valuation role, only three more properties remaining on the protest list.

A series of meetings are being sponsored by the Sherbrooke Board of Trade in the interests of the establishment of the Commission form of government for the municipality.

The demands of office-seekers for positions under the new Federal administration are reported too much for the defeated Conservative candidate in Stanstead County, who is said to have taken to the woods to avoid their importunities.

The imposition of interest charges on tax arrears has resulted in a marked improvement in Catecook collections, officials reporting that virtually the entire assessment was met on the due date.

A POOR ACCOMPLISHMENT

L'Information, Montreal. Judging by certain communications from Mr. Cottelette, the motorist driver, serves congratulations for the manner in which he has responded to the appeal made to him. In other communications Mr. Cottelette says he has not done enough, and talks of rationing. The other day, with no reason apparent, an increase in the price of gasoline was announced. There have been two or three others since the Spring. Why these increases? Surely not to aid the Government to finance war work, since the Government profits not at all. All profits go to the oil companies. Why? To compensate them for the diminution of their sales? As far as we can see, the oil companies have lost nothing by this regulation. Perhaps they sell 25 per cent less to the public, but it is not credible that what they sell for military purposes amply compensates them for this 25 per cent. It seems that there is something that is not quite clear in all this and that it would be interesting to throw a little light on the whole situation. Up to the present, the most apparent results of this policy of regulation have been some new annoyances and an increase of price.

HAVE A SMILE

"How much for your puppies, lad?" asked the customer. "Sixpence for the one and a shilling for the other, sir," replied the young fellow, who had just started business. "But why is one sixpence more than the other?" "Cos he swallowed a sixpence this morning," explained the young salesman.

"Well," said his grandson, "I think we are much better today than in your times—better than they were thousands of years ago—even the babies swore in the olden days."

"How do you make that out?" gasped grandpa. "Why," replied the youngster, "it says in the Bible that Job cursed the day he was born."

PRESS COMMENTS

WHAT MAKES BRITAIN RUN

Detroit Free Press. Saturday Ernest Bevin, British minister of labor, told Midlands munitions workers that "things are really desperate." This judgment would be more alarming if it were not for the Churchill Government's policy of telling the people the worst. When William Pitt was called in to save the Empire in the Eighteenth Century, things "were really desperate." Yet Britain pulled through safely. Thus rose the saying that the British never will extend themselves to the limit, until they see the whites of ruin's eyes. Viewed in this light, all is a long way from being lost for Britain.

A LEAGUE WITH TEETH

Winnipeg Free Press. It is not unreasonable to hope that when the nations that will for the second time save the world from enslavement by a self-appointed "master race" meet to consider the rebuilding of a ruined world, the controlling factor in making provision for the future will be not regard for national susceptibilities and jealousies but insistence upon the subordination of every other consideration to the supreme necessity of creating an international organization that will outlaw war not by vain professions but by providing both the will and the power for action when the need arises. Given this firm purpose the building of an organization equal to its fulfilment will not be beyond the capacity of the democratic peoples.

REMEMBER THE "LITTLE FELLOW"

Calgary Albertian. Now that the production of war materials has nicely got under way, there should be greater consideration given the smaller manufacturer in other sections of the country, particularly the West. Some thought has been given these small plants as shown by the recent trip of an industrial co-ordinator through this section of Canada estimating the possibilities of the Western plants in war production. But in addition to the orders now available to these small plants some provision should be made for the renewal of machinery in these same small plants. Otherwise, at the end of the war, they will find themselves without the tools, and without the wherewithal to obtain them, that would enable them to continue in any sort of competition with the East.

DOING BUSINESS WITH HITLER

St. Thomas Times-Journal. Fritz Thyssen, greatest of German industrialists before the war, has written an account of his experiences with Hitler and the Nazi system. He came to the conclusion that Hitler was a smart man. So he was, but not in the way Thyssen and his co-tycoons believed. Fritz financed Hitler because he thought the Nazis could make Germany independent of Russia and other countries of raw materials. Hitler's promises led the industrialists to feel that they could make money and Germany the dominant people in the world—without a war. But Herr Thyssen soon found that "You can't do business with Hitler." The Fuehrer double-crossed them at every opportunity.

A SPLENDID LIFE WORK

Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph. The notable distinction of having been more responsible than any other for making millions of trees grow in Canada where none grew before may be claimed by Norman Mackenzie Ross, who has just retired on superannuation as superintendent of the Dominion Forestry Station at Indian Head, Sask., after more than forty-three years' service. Largely as a result of his work, the old phrase, "the bald-headed prairie" has been reduced to practically a meaningless term. To more than 65,000 farms in the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, Norman Ross has arranged, since 1901, for the distribution of 180,000,000 deciduous trees and 3,600,000 evergreens, which now form fine shelter belts around farmsteads and adjoining broad acres.

FOREST NEEDS

Owen Sound Sun-Times. If we had started about forty years ago planting trees to replace some of those taken out by our pioneer ancestors—well, conditions in South-Western Ontario would be far better today than they are. There would not be for one thing anything like the wind damage because the wind would not get much of a chance; the trees would be there to break its force. Wire gangs would not have to turn out; roofs would stay in place; fruit-growers would be able to market their apples instead of having to make cider of some and feed the rest to hogs.

THERE IS NO "QUEBEC PROBLEM"

Toronto Globe and Mail. The Globe and Mail never has believed that there is a Quebec problem or a French-Canadian problem, but, on the contrary, has always maintained that given intelligent leadership from Ottawa, Canadians of French origin are just as ready and eager to defend their king and country as Canadians of British descent. The idea that there is a French-Canadian problem developed from what Sir Robert Borden characterized as "maladroit methods" which reached their highest point in arrangements for recruiting among French-Canadians in 1916, with an English Protestant placed in charge of recruiting propaganda in Quebec. The resentment then created has been fostered ever since by miserable politicians, and the conscription bogey still is being used to promote the political fortunes of petty partisans who appear to be more concerned about party welfare than national welfare.

HUN-MADE DUCK PONDS

"London Calling." In one of the Southern countries of England, farmers are saying "Thank you" to Hitler. Ducks are a useful addition to the poultry yard, especially in wartime, but you can't keep ducks without a pond. The German air force, however, obligingly provided several large bomb craters in the neighborhood. These soon fill up with water and make first-class duck-ponds without all the trouble and expense of excavation. The duck population is increasing rapidly as a result.

A STRANGE SYSTEM

Toronto Star. While Canada, Australia, South Africa and Northern Ireland have not adopted conscription, New Zealand conscripts men of eighteen to forty-five, and gives them two months of elementary drill before sending them Overseas. According to a New York Herald-Tribune dispatch, "the New Zealand draft operates like a lottery with no classification by age groups. You will see a boy of eighteen or nineteen drilling alongside a man of forty-five." It seems hardly an up-to-date way of securing the most effective manpower.

PRESIDENTS AND WARS

Lincoln, who fought in the Black Hawk Indian War, is the only U.S. president who ever fought in one conflict, then served as president during another. Many of our chief executives have been military men, however, as these questions on presidents and wars will show.

2—What two presidents were re-elected while the U.S. was engaged in a major conflict?

3—Who was president during the Revolutionary War?

4—Two of our presidents served in a military capacity in the Revolution, three in the War of 1812, three in the War with Mexico, and six in the Civil War. How many can you name?

5—Who was the last military man elected president?

Under the "V.V." system, hand No. 1 theoretically should be opened with two spades, as it does not contain three high cards. Von Zedtwitz recommends, however, that you open this hand with one spade, because, after two spades, your partner would pass a hand as good as No. 2.

If you shade hand No. 1 and open with one spade, although you do not have three high cards, your partner with hand No. 2 would first respond with a constructive one no trump showing six aces or kings in the combined hands, and then three hearts over hand No. 1's two spades, thus arriving at a game contract of four hearts.

Hand No. 3 is an example of the three-bid. It contains two high cards, and with its seven-card heart suit, it justifies an original three-bid.

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
Spiced delicately, here's a food-value dessert cake for the dessert budget. Cranberries provide vitamins and minerals, butter and eggs do their nutritional share, and the seasoning and spice keep the appetite up to 100 per cent enthusiasm.

Cream butter and sugar until light; add beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients together; add raisins and nuts. Combine, alternately with cranberry sauce, to first mixture. Bake in 2 greased layer cake pans in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Cool. Put together and cover with cranberry icing.

CRANBERRY ICING
One and one-half cups granulated sugar, pinch of cream of tartar, 1/2 cup 10-minute cranberry sauce juice, 2 egg whites, whipped stiff, pink vegetable coloring.
Combine sugar, cream of tartar and cranberry sauce juice in sauce pan and cook until syrupy, 5 minutes in cold water—238 degrees F. Pour slowly onto whipped egg whites, beating constantly between each addition. Add pink coloring to give delicate tint. Continue beating until icing holds its shape. KING GEORGE FIFTH CHAPTER I.O.D.E.

The large number who attended yesterday's monthly meeting of the King George Fifth Chapter at the MacKinnon Memorial, with Mrs. T. H. Bradley, Regent, in the chair, voted money, answered many appeals and disposed of the regular business pertaining to each department as the various convicts submitted their monthly reports.

Mrs. F. J. Southwood, who is splendidly "carrying on" the Chapter's War Service work, during Miss Mitchell's protracted illness, which every one so much regrets, gave a most satisfactory report of this, perhaps the most urgent of all branches of service at the present time.

That the Chapter's educational work has not been neglected but was if anything progressing, was revealed by Miss Ina Cobleigh, Secretary of this important department of I.O.D.E. activities.

Mrs. W. L. Reford Stewart, in reporting for Child and Family Welfare, stated that milk was being supplied to a needy family and that medicine had been given for a sick woman.

In reporting for colonization, Miss Margaret Melver made two appeals, one for cocoa and milk for school children and another for clothes for the same purpose.

It was announced that the postponed bridge party will be held on November 10th at the home of Mrs. H. L. Allen.

Of special interest was a letter from the Municipal Regent, Mrs. W. E. Loomis, in connection with the I.O.D.E. plaque, which will be on exhibition at the MacKinnon Memorial on Tuesday, November 18.

This plaque, donated to the I.O.D.E. by Lord Beaverbrook in recognition of the Order's War Service Work, reveals that the I.O.D.E. is the only organization which has received this honor.

Miss Hunt reported that the response in answer to the entertaining of soldiers had been most encouraging, several members having already acted as hostesses.

Further requests for playing cards had also been made, Miss Hunt stated.

The question of forming a sewing group within the Chapter was left over until a later meeting.

Money was voted to buy print for making pinafores for children in the bombed areas in England, and the donation of $5 from Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kerbridge, to purchase blankets for these same victims was gratefully acknowledged.

MARRIAGES

WHEELER—CONNER
The marriage of Doris Grace Eva, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond W. Conner, North Hatley, to Mr. Oscar Elmer Wheeler, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wheeler, Bulwer, took place in the Minton United Church at four o'clock on Saturday afternoon, October 18, the Rev. N. McLeod, officiating.

The church was decorated by the ladies of the community, the altar being adorned with asters and lighted candles, while the small windows were effectively lighted with white candles and the guest pews were marked with snow-balls tied with white ribbon, and autumn leaves, interspersed with asters, formed an arch beneath which the bridal party stood.

Mrs. Stanley Saunders, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music from Lohengrin, and also accompanied Mrs. Allan Wheeler, aunt of the groom, who sang "O Promise Me" during the signing of the registers.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a dress of pure blue wool crepe, a navy blue picture hat and accessories, with a double kolinsky neck-piece, and she carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Her only ornament was a gold cross and chain, a gift of the groom.

The maid of honor, Miss Mavis Johnson, and the bridesmaid, Miss Thelma Sanders, both cousins of the bride, were dressed alike in dusty-rose wool crepe with which they wore navy tams and accessories.

Both were wearing gold crosses with chains.

Mrs. Conner, the bride's mother, wore a gown of Air-Force blue crepe with a black hat and accessories and a corsage of pink Johanna Hill roses. Mrs. Wheeler, mother of the groom, was gowned in black crepe with matching hat and accessories and a corsage of red Johanna Hill roses.

Mr. Arnold Wheeler acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Donald Sanders, cousin of the bride, and Mr. Chester Caswell, cousin of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the decorations were carried out in pink and white with many lighted candles.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped with bouvardia, and above which white wedding bells, tied with pink and white streamers, were suspended. Lighted pink and white candles completed the effective decorative scheme.

Later the bride and groom left to spend their honeymoon in Ottawa, the bride travelling in an olive green crepe dress with a matching hat and accessories, under a grey tweed topcoat. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler will reside in North Hatley.

The out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hill, of Bulwer; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. SCRATCHED FURNITURE

To make deep scratches on a dark wood less noticeable, try to match the color of the wood exactly with a commercial wood stain and then apply to the scratch with a very fine brush. When it is completely dry, apply a reliable furniture polish to the entire piece and polish with a soft, lintless cloth.

FRESH COFFEE IS BEST

Coffee experts say that a freshly opened package of coffee will retain its flavor for about a week. Therefore, if you do not use a full package of coffee per week, it might be more economical and more satisfactory to buy it in smaller lots. Also, fresh coffee should never be mixed with an older supply.

I.O.D.E. Endowment Fund

Money was voted for the Chapter's weath for Remembrance Day.

The minutes were read by Mrs. W. Davidson, Secretary, and the financial statement was presented by Mrs. W. L. Reford Stewart, the Treasurer, Mrs. J. H. Bell, being absent.

CANNING TIPS

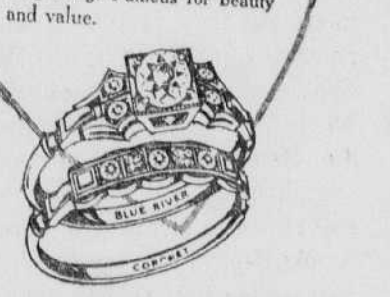

At least a part of your success in fall canning will be due to the careful preparation you give your containers. First of all, select perfect jars—and tight-fitting tops — jars that are cracked or chipped at the neck should be discarded. Use new rubbers. Be sure that tops, rubbers and jars are absolutely clean—washed in hot, sudsy water and thoroughly rinsed. Then sterilize all.

WOMEN SHOULD PUT TEETH IN THEIR SPEECH

They Are Loyal and Selfless, Says Feminist Leader, but Must Strive to Get Things Done.

New York, Nov. 4.—(AP) Women talk too much. They not only are inclined to talk too much at home, but in world affairs they talk themselves out of the very things they are trying to get.

You have that straight from Dr. Lena Madson Phillips, a woman lawyer who is President of the International (Canada and the United States) Federation of Business and Professional Women.

"The thing that makes me maddest about women is that they spend so much time talking about social reforms and won't put teeth into their own words," Dr. Phillips said when I asked her "What's right and what's wrong with women?"

"Take women's work for peace, or in civic affairs. More women really study the issues of war than men. But then what do we do? We have a week's convention and talk, talk, talk. Expend time and energy for accomplishing something by talking about it. Release pent up emotion and then feel we've saved the world. It's out of our system and we think we've done it."

"But that doesn't put the right people on the school board or make peace in the world. If women are going to get anything done they'll have to talk less and work more."

Dr. Phillips ran her hand through her silver shock of close-cropped hair and turned on the heat again.

"Women don't drive at the fundamentals. They won't make up their minds and do something about getting the things they want done, such as bringing peace to the world—and then go about getting those things in the way they go about managing their husbands."

"They know how to do that superbly—set the stage, give him a good dinner, let him take his nap and get all eased up and then broach the subject of a new fur coat. Even then they don't do it directly. They suggest how stunning his competitor's wife looked in her new sables and how everybody admired her and then let it drop right there. But they keep coming back again and again and again till they get what they want."

"They don't use that system in their work in civic or world affairs. In a war caused by maladjustment among beings and an upset of spiritual values, it's the men who are making the decisions. The women are sitting by and saying 'aye, aye' and letting them do it. We follow them and have no more initiative and backbone than just to follow along. We compromise for second best. In the last analysis, women won't pay the price—hard work, criticism, censure and misunderstanding. They want to save the world and still not make enemies."

"I'd like to say a word about what's right about women," Dr. Phillips said. "They have a great ability to see the fundamental issues—even if they don't always drive at them. They are loyal and selfless. They're more adaptable and more flexible than men. And most important of all they understand human beings and their weaknesses. That's why I wish they'd stop talking so much, and get something done."

"Pre-View" Of Super-Liner Normandie In Rumored Role Of Aircraft Carrier

"Even a blind man could tell" that when the 83,423-ton French luxury liner Normandie was built she was designed for quick conversion into an aircraft carrier in case of war. This opinion by a U. S. The Danger of Coughs Among the Children

In young children a cold or cough is not a thing to be disregarded, as it is often of a grave matter, and unless attended to immediately may, eventually, cause serious trouble.

On the first sign of a cough or cold the remedy will find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a mother to help get rid of the trouble.

Its promptness and effectiveness in loosening the phlegm, and stimulating the bronchial organs is such that the cough may be checked before anything of a serious nature sets in.

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size, about 3 times as much, 60c, at all drug stores.

At The Premier

Drama, comedy, suspense and action are interwoven in "Bowery Blitzkrieg," starring the East Side Kids, which begins tomorrow at the New Premier Theatre.

The story is deftly written and believable, is the saga of Muggs McGinnis, a tough young character who rules the East Side with an iron fist. Muggs, played by Leo Gorcey, finally gets in one fight too many and winds up in reform school.

Policeman Tom Brady believes that Muggs has the stuff to make good and has him paroled in his custody. Reacting to Brady's action, McGinnis makes a valiant effort to justify this faith in him by training hard for the Golden Gloves bouts in which he is to represent the Police Department.

Gambling racketeers, however, move in on the amateur fights and offer Muggs $1,000 to throw his championship bout. From this point the action is hot and heavy as Muggs and his "East Side" crew handle the gangsters in their own way.

Leo Gorcey turns in a first class job, making Muggs a likeable and dynamic character. Preview critics claim it is Gorcey's best acting job since he played the role of "Spit" in "Dead End." His cohorts, Bobby Jordan, Huntz Hall and the rest of the "East Siders" are as competent as ever.

Other members of the cast include Bobby Stone, Donald Haines, David Gorcey, Jack Mulhall, Martha Wentworth and Keye Luke.

The other picture is "Ice-Capades," starring Dorothy Lewis. Miss Lewis was a dancer before she became a skater, and her skating is two-thirds dancing. She has applied to the ice with sensationally successful effect.

LOCAL HOCKEY TEAM TO SEE ACTION SUNDAY

Jolietto To Provide Test For Indians In First Hockey Game

Sherbrooke Will Ice Forward Line with Military Flavor—Three Members of 16/22 Saskatchewan Horse Regiment to Be in Uniform—Omer DeBonneville Has Strong Jolietto Outfit Ready for Work.

Local hockey fans will get their first taste of action next Sunday afternoon at the arena when Omer DeBonneville's Jolietto Cyclones come here to engage the Sherbrooke Indians of the Eastern Townships League in an exhibition clash.

While the opening of the local league is still more or less a matter of conjecture with little definite accomplished, the Sherbrooke team has been working hard, and should be in fine condition when the circuit gets off the mark, probably in the first week of December.

Roger Cormier, local manager, has announced the signing of a new forward line, Chuck Tamblin, Peewee Pachal and Bill Jensen, members of the 16-22 Saskatchewan Horse Regiment stationed at the Exhibition grounds. These boys have been playing together for several years. Two years ago they played for Yorkton, Sask., and last winter they were with an army team in Vancouver.

Sherbrooke will use three forward lines during the season, with Cormier keeping in shape to perform as a utility man and probably get on the ice to direct the Indians' power plays when the team is a man short.

Probably the Sherbrooke second line will be Ovide Gaudet, Emil Leclerc and Roger Mercier, all three holdovers from last year's team. Henry Boisvert, last year with Richmond, is in the fold. Phil Piche is slated for Baltimore Orioles, but if he is unable to get across the line will play for the Redskins. Cormier still needs two more players to complete his lines. Leroux, Dugre and Ranger will man the defence, with Roger Dion in the nets.

Jolietto will have a strong team on the ice, with Leclerc in the cords, Arcand, Daglish and Leger on defence, and Burr, Bellemare, Hudon, Bechette, Perreault, Tremblay, Levesque, Alberts, Desautels, Lapointe and Bastien up front.

Today's guest star: Harry O'Donnell, Elmira (N.Y.) Star-Gazette; "Joe DiMaggio" becoming a father provoked a 400 word editorial in the Sporting News. . . . What if Ovide Dionne had been a first baseman?

WHY "DOSE" CONSTIPATION?

There's a "Better Way" Than Harsh Purgatives!

LONDON, Canada: "Dosing" constipation brings only temporary relief, at best. If yours is the common type, due to lack of the right kind of "bulk" in the diet, try correcting it instead. Eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day! This crisp, delicious cereal (it's good in muffins, too) supplies the proper "bulk" to help keep you regular. . . . naturally. But it must be remembered ALL-BRAN doesn't work like purgatives. It takes time. Eat ALL-BRAN every morning, drink plenty of water, and see if you don't look and feel worlds better! At your grocer's, or in two convenient sizes. Or in individual serving packages at restaurants. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

REARDON LOST TO CANADIENS FOR LONG TIME

Scrappy Westerner Suffering from Streptococcal Ailment—N.H.L. Teams Idle Until Thursday Night.

Since the National Hockey League season opened Saturday a lot of things have happened—and most of them, it seems, have happened to Dick Irvin and his Montreal Canadiens.

First they lost the opener at Montreal 3-2 to Detroit Red Wings and during the game lost the services of speedy Elmer Lach, last season's star rookie, who shattered an elbow and is out for an indefinite period.

To top it all, doctors last night notified the club that Kenny Reardon, young defenceman who was hurt in pre-season training and missed the first game, won't be ready to play for at least another three or four weeks.

The scrappy Westerner suffered a blow over the eye at St. Hyacinthe, where the club trained and an infection has set in. Doctors say he is suffering from a streptococcal ailment.

Now Coach Irvin has to cast about for another centre to take Lach's place, and perhaps for another defenceman to fill Reardon's big shoes. There's no more action booked for the club until next Saturday, when they engage Chicago Black Hawks in Montreal, so Irvin has a little time to figure his way out of the problem.

The N.H.L. teams are idle until Thursday. Then Chicago makes its bow at home against New York Americans, who surprised everyone by holding last year's Stanley Cup finals; Detroit Red Wings, to a 3-3 draw at Detroit Sunday.

The Stanley Cup-holders, Boston Bruins, don't get into action until next Saturday when they're due to invade Toronto for a renewal of last year's epic final series in which the Bruins won after seven hectic games, and then went on to take the Stanley silverware.

IN SPORTING VEIN

By ALLAN BRYCE

This shows how much the Stansied College football players think of their principal and coach, Rev. Errol Amaron.

As the two teams walked off the Parade Grounds at half-time on Saturday afternoon with Stansied leading Sherbrooke High School 14-0, one of the Stansied boys came up to Mr. Amaron and said, "Sorry, sir, we should have kicked for that point instead of trying to get a touchdown, but we thought we could get the ball over."

That Stansied team, while winning 38-0 over Sherbrooke, showed what hard work and driving spirit can do for a team.

Mr. Amaron has a great athletic background. He was one of McGill's outstanding basketball players, and also a strong football performer. He learned at McGill the importance of fundamentals in the building of winning teams. His Stansied machine showed a thorough grounding in the fundamentals of the game on Saturday afternoon. The linemen knew what they were supposed to do on the attack and on the defence, how to open holes for their ball carriers, and break through the opposing line to nail the ball-carrier.

Those Stansied College boys played a great game in the mud. Chaddock, Lindsay Jenkins and Peewee were sure-footed as if the field was dry as a bone, and made scores of brilliant runs. In spite of the greasy ball the team completed several pretty forward passes, with a Jenkins-Chaddock-Jenkins play, the piece de resistance.

On this play, one that the boys had never tried before, Jenkins received the ball from centre and threw a wide lateral to Chaddock, who was far over to the left. Jenkins then cut down the field and took a forward pass from Jenkins while the Sherbrooke lads were trying to figure out where the ball had got to. Mr. Amaron was highly pleased with the way the trick succeeded.

Lorne Campbell deserved all the cheers he received from High School supporters. He was a tower of strength for Sherbrooke, and it is hard to say just what the score would have been had he been out of the lineup. On almost every play Campbell was down in the mud underneath a pile of players. Practically every play saw a Stansied plunger break through the School line, and Campbell was there to pull him down. He was tireless, shouting encouragement to his team-mates and backing up his words with action.

Whistle Gap Normal's 60-0 Shellacking Great Upset

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

An imaginary conversation with Oscar Hocks, the average football coach:

"Coach, how do things look for Saturday?"

"Bad. You may quote me as saying the outlook is grim. Whistle Gap Normal is a football colossus."

"But Whistle Gap hasn't won a game this year. Bicarbonate Poly beat the Gaps, 86-0. Minsky School of Mines dumped them, 73-0. Francois Hairdressing Institute eked out a 54-0 win. Can Whistle Gap be so tough?"

"They have a terrific offense, those Whistle Gaps. They use the modern X formation with a man L. Lafrabiose. He's a real kicker. They button you up with button-hook passes."

"What does your scout say?"

"He is depressed no end. I put Peepert Petritz, the man with the X-ray eyes, on 'em. He can spot a buck lateral off an unbalanced line a mile away in a mirage. Peepert tells me Whistle Gap's offense has everyone confused, including himself."

"What makes you suspect they're so dangerous. They haven't scored yet."

"Haven't scored! My dear young fellow, how long have you been around football? Don't you know that's a mere technicality."

"Why, the best defensive job this season was turned in by Frank Leahy of Notre Dame when he held the Irish to 16 points against Carnegie Tech."

"Against Francois, the Whistle Gaps crunched away on a sustained drive of yards in the last period. I call that latent power."

"Against the first team?"

"No, Francois put in a couple of hair dressers at the tackles. Whistle Gap double moustapped 'em. I call that intelligence."

"We're so crippled I seriously considered calling the whole thing off. Molotov, my scorched earth fullback, has a hangnail. He won't see any action. Everything my breakaway back, Panzer, eats, goes to his stomach. He's on the shelf. Antoinette, the guard who guards against passes, is growing a moustache. That lets him out."

"And your reserves?"

"I'm less than one deep in the line and may have to use a couple of ushers in the backfield. How big do the ushers run at Yankee Stadium?"

"Is Whistle Gap in good shape?"

"There, young man, you have physical specimens. You could match

Q.A.H.A. LAYS DOWN LAW TO HOCKEY TEAMS

Suspends Three Quebec Senior Hockey League Players for Bad Behavior in Sunday's Opening Game.

Montreal, Nov. 4.—(P)—Indefinite suspensions were handed out last night to three Quebec Senior Hockey League players who received match penalties in Sunday's games by the Quebec Amateur Hockey Association.

The players were Marcel Dheere, Canadians, Johnny Mahaffy, Royals and Dunc Cheyne, Ottawa Senators.

In announcing the banishments, Alphonse Therien, Secretary-Treasurer of the ruling body said the "Association is determined to cut out rough hockey right from the start. Therien also said that an investigation will be held to find out the reason for the number of penalties in the wild game at Quebec Sunday, when 22 banishments were made.

Theo Mathieu, President of the Canadian Club which lost 10-1 to Aces, also announced last night that his team "would not play at Quebec again unless neutral officials were appointed. The referees on Sunday made a joke of the game and it was lucky our players did not receive more severe injuries, all on account of the incompetent officiating."

One of the big problems before New York voters today is whether the state shall build a ski run on Whiteface Mountain.

HATLEY

The men of the United Church were kept very busy on Tuesday evening, serving their New England supper. Mr. Allan Wheeler had charge of the tables and was ably assisted by Messrs. George Emery, Homer Ayer, Archie Moulton, Murdo Parker and Dale Miller as waiters. The coffee was made by Mr. Ronald McCarty and C. W. Moulton sold tickets. Others worked in the kitchen. A nice sum was realized for the church treasury.

Members of the Young People's Union gathered in the Vestry for a short business meeting in which the reports of the delegates to the Y.P.U. convention in Knowlton on Saturday and Sunday were read. A social hour followed with games and contests, also refreshments.

Mrs. Harold McClary is spending a few days as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Colt at Stunstead. Mrs. J. F. Woodman entertained the members of the Hatley Branch of the W.C.T.U. at her home on Thursday. One visitor, Miss Emma Stevenson, of Massachusetts was present.

Dolph Camilli Voted Most Valuable Player In National Circuit

Brooklyn Siege Gun Carried Off Highest Individual Honor in His League Without Contest—Led Loop in Home Runs with 34 and Runs Batted In with 120—Far Ahead of Pete Reiser and Whit Wyatt, Who Placed Second and Third in Voting.

New York, Nov. 4.—(P)—The most valuable player in the National League this year was Adolph Louis Camilli, the siege gun of the Brooklyn Dodgers, a committee of the Baseball Writers' Association of America announced today.

The stocky first baseman, whose blasting bat and skillful defensive play led the Dodgers to their first pennant in twenty-one years, carried off the highest individual honor in his league without a contest.

Of the twenty-four members on the committee, nineteen voted for Camilli for first place, two listed him second, and he received one vote each for third, fourth and tenth.

He was the only player to be named on every ballot. On the basis of fourteen points for first, nine for second, eight for third, etc., he received a total of 300 points, compared with 183 for his closest rival, Pete Reiser, and 151 for Whit Wyatt, both teammates and also outstanding figures in Brooklyn's success.

Camilli led the National League in home runs with 34, in runs batted in with 120, and pushed the Dodgers over many humps along the pennant trail.

But his batting average was only .285 and it is rare—almost unheard of—for the most valuable player award to go to a hitter below the .300 bracket. Therefore, the universal recognition given Camilli as a tremendous tribute to his leadership and all-around play.

Record roundup:

Howard Pisanman, U. of Miami sophomore fullback, has averaged 45 yards on his 22 punts this season and booted one 74 yards on the fly. That isn't a record but he hasn't booted over the goal line once—which probably is. Another soph, Emory Nix, passed for 337 yards and three touchdowns for Texas Christian against Baylor Saturday. . . . The previous high mark for a T.C.U. pitcher was Davey O'Brien's 259 yards against Centenary in 1938.
