Bertrand on language problems

Gendron commission to find answers

MONTREAL (CP) — Premier Jean-Jacques Bertrand said Monday Quebec's language situation must be studied in depth in order to establish a true language policy in the province.

Mr. Bertrand told the Canadian Club of Montreal that is why his government has established the Gendron commission to inquire into the situation of the French language in Quebec.

The commission opens its public hearings here today. The premier said any idea that imposing French as the sole language of Quebec or English as the sole language of Canada would be a Utopian solution to language problems.

The root of the problem was the dual nature of Quebec. The constitution of 1867 had recognized the individual, collective and historic rights of both French- and English Quebecers, and had stipulated that a Quebec majority could not tamper with these rights without the consent of the minority affected.

SEES THREAT TO FRENCH
But Mr. Bertrand said it is French, rather than English, which is threatened with extinction.

However, he said he is convinced French will be as indispensable for participation in Quebec life as English in the rest of the continent.

This was one of the reasons it had become so important to establish a language policy.

But such a policy could not be set up in disunity and quarrelling. Dialogue and participatory democracy were necessary.

Mr. Bertrand said there are as many English-Quebecers now as there were French-Quebecers at the time of Confederation.

It was "essential that they feel... at home in this new Quebec that we want to build with them and not against them."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Autoroute help

MONTREAL (CP) — The Quebec Autoroutes Authority said Monday it is beginning a new service Wednesday to aid motorists who become stranded in any of the province's three autoroutes and provide towing and mechanical assistance at uniform rates.

The Authority has contracted 22 garage operators adjacent to the Laurentian, Eastern Townships and North Shore Autoroutes to provide priority service, 24 hours a day, to motorists using the toll highways.

Rates have been set by the Authority for all services. On-site labor charges have been set at $4 an hour during the day and $6 an hour through the night with towing fees at $6 and $9 a mile in the same time periods.

Fees for towing cars damaged in accidents will be $10 a mile during the day and $15 a mile at night.

Vehicles weighing more than 19,500 pounds will be towed for $20 a mile day and $25 a mile night.

Pot boils over

BELFAST (Reuters) — The cauldron of religious hatred boiled over again in this Northern Ireland capital Monday despite the arrival of troop reinforcements from Britain.

Six hundred more soldiers, including tough commandos from the elite Royal Marines, flew into Northern Ireland to boost the number of British troops in the riot-torn country to 7,300.

Lt-Gen. Sir Ian Freeland, British Army chief in Northern Ireland with special responsibilities for maintenance of law and order, urged a cooling down and general restraint after a weekend of violence in which marauding Protestant and Roman Catholic mobs traded gasoline bombs and other missiles in a series of street battles.

Mini-Armada

GIBRALTAR (Reuters) — Four Spanish naval ships anchored off Gibraltar Monday, 48 hours before Britain is supposed to hand the Rock over to Spain under a 1968 United Nations General Assembly resolution.

The arrival of the ships followed passage through the Strait of Gibraltar during the last 10 days of several British vessels, and a warning from a Spanish newspaper that Spain can "continue to tighten the screws" if Britain does not abide by the UN declaration.

Britain has indicated that it will not abide by the declaration on the grounds that it is against the wishes of the people of Gibraltar.

Hippie Island

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of London's hippies paid $5,200 Monday for an option to buy St. Patrick's Island off the Irish mainland and set up a community there.

They have eight weeks to raise the rest of the $52,000 asked by the island's owner, British real estate agent Herbert Marriott.

Frank Harris, spokesman for hippies who recently took over several vacant buildings in central London and were finally removed by police, said he expects the community to start with 500 British dropouts.

POLICEMAN INJURED — A Sherbrooke policeman was injured seriously yesterday and two other persons were taken to hospital after a patrol car collided with the automobile

Roy promises two new industries

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — The alderman from the north ward, Gaston Roy, yesterday confirmed that two major industries would be coming to Sherbrooke soon.

Recently appointed Northern Electric contract sales manager for the Montreal area, he said he would remain an alderman until the public wants him to leave.

Mr. Roy, whose term expires next year, said that "my future with council depended entirely upon my constituents."

Still living in Sherbrooke and commuting to Montreal regularly, the alderman warned that any controversy over his qualifications as an alderman would bring about a rapid resignation.

President of the industrial commission, he said yesterday that better days were ahead as far as the city was concerned.

"I wouldn't joke about a thing like this," he continued, adding that serious talks were going on between potential industries and city officials.

The industrial commission has done more for Sherbrooke in the past two years than over the past twelve, he said.

Gaston Roy, very serious, added that he liked Sherbrooke very much, stating he was willing to help the city in any way he could.

Talking about the relationships his occupation with Northern Electric had fostered, he told of the many opportunities that had arisen for the city, in the way of new industry.

As for the rest of council, it is agreed upon by observers that the north ward alderman's command of things is much appreciated, since evidence from his commission thus far points towards an increase in the number of

To explain new law

Municipal elections in Brome County and throughout the Province of Quebec will all be held at the same time this year, according to new laws adopted last December. Elections must be either on the first Sunday or the first Monday in November (Nov. 2 or 3, 1969), with nominations one week earlier (Oct. 26 or 27).

A special meeting of municipal officials in Brome County is scheduled for Tuesday evening Sept. 30 at the Court House in Knowlton, at which representatives from the department of Municipal Affairs are to explain the new laws.

Several changes are expected to take place on local councils, with Mayor Lawrence Smith of Sutton Township being rumored as wishing to resign, along with at least one Knowlton councillor.

Talking about Northern Electric, Mr. Roy said that his employers recognized his standing as an alderman and encouraged him to continue to act in his own right.

As for tourism, the alderman added that individuals in Montreal had suggested he join forces with them, where to represent them on the Quebec Triangle board.

"A tight schedule and a lot of expenses" is the way the alderman depicted the past few months, following his new appointment.

"Had I wanted to resign," he said, "I would have done so a few months ago."

Mr. Roy agreed that his new job and salary were sufficient in occupying his time and efforts, and that his decision not to depart from city politics had not been inspired by lucrative motives.

Regulations ruling his eligibility as alderman stipulate that when he is no longer a property owner in the city, his mandate as council representative must be ended.

Strike threat grows as mediation ends

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — Hospital employees involved in the 18-month long negotiations with the government are running out of patience and getting ready for action.

At a special meeting last night in Sherbrooke, union officials said complaints from d'Youville hospital authorities over the 30 minute walk-out last week were misleading and unfair.

Maurice Guertin, technical adviser for the National Federation of Services said that at the time of the walk-out, there was no danger for the public nor the hospital patients.

Union officials at the hospital knew there were sufficient staff on duty when the walk-out occurred.

At d'Youville hospital, said Mr. Guertin, the reaction from authorities was aimed at alarming the public, "a drama play" with officials pushing their luck in advocating a strike.

Stating figures, the technical adviser added that over 200 of the 320 patients at the hospital didn't care whether there was a strike or not.

There are technicalities to go over before there can be a strike, Mr. Guertin said, one being a general strike vote, another being an eight day notice to the minister of labour.

"Thus far," he said "none of the two have been taken."

Hospital authorities can be blamed for strike agitation, the spokesman said.

The occupancy rate in hospitals throughout the province is at its lowest level now, he confirmed.

Still on d'Youville hospital, adviser Maurice Guertin said that they were under-staffed year round, claiming the budget was mainly the reason.

The labor agreement calls for nursing committees to be set up who strive to update and maintain medical care standards.

Reminiscing over the 1968 radiologist strike, the spokesman pointed out that there had been no complaints from hospital authorities, although the monetary increase represented an 118 per cent raise.

"Aren't patient health and employee morale equally important?" Mr. Guertin asked.

BY RICHARD SPALDING
(Record Staff Reporter)

He said that local demonstrations indicated employee discontent and support for union demands.

Hospitals should exert pressure on the government if the situation inside these institutions is so alarming, he proposed.

As for staff shortages, the union said that the opening of the Medical center had drained part of the staff from local hospitals, who, he said, were not replacing them.

Adviser Maurice Guertin denied reports that a strike would soon be launched, but added that union representatives would be meeting some time this week to discuss strategy.

Last Friday's negotiations broke up with the government displaying an attitude of arrogance and provocation, he said.

"Just what everybody expected."

Explaining why there had not been a settlement yet, he said that the government's five point salary policy was not being applied in the case of hospital employees.

"Could it be a financial impossibility, negligence, revenge or what?" the spokesman asked.

Going back to the 1966 strike, the union said that the government was still bitter about the way the contract had been signed, saying that they were not the ones who had actually signed the agreement.

The union stressed that working in hospitals was just as equitable as working for other branches of the government.

With the mediation period ending today, it is wondered where the conflict will lead to.

Money is not the most important issue in the negotiations, although the $146,000,000 government proposal only represents half of what the union is asking for.

The union is concerned with guaranteed employment, it said, since seniority is not considered when a man is laid-off from the hospital staff.

Hospital employees are not eligible to unemployment insurance if they are evicted, the union said.

In cases where hospital employees will not receive a salary increase, the union says, the government's proposal to raise the price of meals regularly is unfair and will not be permitted.

"Negotiations thus far indicate the government is playing hide-and-seek," Mr. Guertin said, "when you consider that negotiators representing the government are being paid some $40 an hour for their endeavors."

The same official said that figures computed so far indicated the government had wasted an estimated $1,000,000 in negotiator fees.

He wondered whether nationalizing hospitals would not settle the problem in the future.

Fighting the post office

SOUTH BOLTON — (BSL) — The director of postal services in Montreal had better be ready to defend his department's position concerning the closing of small post offices around the country, because the people of South Bolton are going to try hard to make him change his department's decision.

It was decided at a meeting last night in South Bolton that a five member delegation would meet the director of postal services to try and explain to him why they think that small post offices should not be closed. Fifty seven people attended the gathering.

The delegation will be headed by the member of the National Assembly for Brome County Glen Brown and federal Member of Parliament for Missisquoi county, Yves Forest.

The bulk of the delegation will comprise town residents, the mayor, J. P. Terrio, Mrs. Elyan, who has written several letters to officials in Ottawa including Prime Minister Trudeau, on this subject, Charles Labranche, Russel Coates and own Record correspondent for South Bolton, Mrs. Maria Bray.

Mr. Forest said that the main reason for the proposed closing of the South Bolton post office was that the government thought it would be more economical to have one regional post office at Bolton Centre than a large number of small ones in small towns and villages.

The residents of the municipality felt that this is not the case and they will show evidence to the contrary during their meeting with Mr. Vallee. They also feel that the service offered by a regional post office will be of a lower quality than what they are used to.

"We won't be fighting only for the South Bolton post office," said Mr. Brown, "but for every small post office in all small towns across the Dominion of Canada."

It was quite evident by the tone of the meeting that the residents had no intention of giving up their post office without a fight.

Dishrags Spread Bacteria From Utensil to Utensil

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Many handbooks and leaflets have given advice on kitchen sanitation. Although they are beamed at restaurants, much of what they have to say applies to your home kitchen as well but few housewives have read them. One thing all the books agree on is the ease with which the dishrag and dish towel can spread bacteria from one utensil to another. Dishrags have been found to contain more bacteria per square inch than the towels. The wetter they are, the higher the bacteria count. Most of these bacteria are harmless but staphylococci, streptococci, tubercle bacilli and others can be transmitted by contaminated cloths.

After rinsing off all the large dabs of uneaten food and washing in warm soapy water, the dishes should be placed in rinse water at 160 to 180 degrees for four or five minutes, then air-dried in a dish rack. Mechanical dishwashers have been shown to be very sanitary but not every kitchen has one. Where this is the case, paper towels that are discarded after each washing up provide the answer. Another would be the use of disposable dishes. A dry cloth used to polish the glasses after they are dry is not likely to spread germs.

Q—Am I right in believing that Chloromycetin has harmful effects on the blood if taken over a long period?
A—Yes. This antibiotic (chloramphenicol) has now largely been replaced by safer drugs because it may destroy the white blood cells and thereby interfere with the body's defense against those germs not affected by this drug.

Q—My husband has a brain infection due to the Cryptococcus. Is there any cure for this? He is taking amphotericin B. Is this the best drug?
A—The Cryptococcus is a fungus that may affect the skin, lungs or brain where it causes a severe meningitis. Amphotericin B is the standard treatment. It does not cure the disease but, when given early in the course, it holds it in check until the body can build up its own resistance. Recent reports indicate that a new drug, 5-fluorocytosine, is also effective against this disease.

YOUR DENTAL HEALTH

It's Possible to Relieve Allergy to Dentures

By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I'm 60 years old and wear upper false teeth. They're beautiful and fit perfectly but, gosh, I'm a wreck. My upper jaw, tongue and the inside of my lips are red and feel raw and burn all the time. Am I allergic to the plastic in the denture? If so, what can I do? I'd have another denture made but I feel the same thing might happen and I can't afford the money to chance it. Please advise me.—Ann R.

ANSWER: Your self diagnosis sounds correct—your symptoms are similar to those of an allergic reaction. You're probably sensitive to the pink plastic base material in your denture. It IS possible for you to have a new denture with some assurance of relief. Your physician or dentist can test your sensitivity to various denture materials and determine which one is reaction-free for you. This is a simple skin test, quick, painless and inexpensive.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: Is there any truth in what I've heard: That quick plate reliners are harmful to the gums? They are so easy to use and so inexpensive, compared to reliners done by dentists.

ANSWER: Use of mail-order or drugstore denture reliners is known to be harmful to gums and jawbone. Some dentists even think they have cancer-producing potential. Besides, it's not so simple to reline dentures. It's even difficult for dentists to do it right and get a good result.

If this is so, how in the world can you expect to correctly rebase your own denture and in your mouth, too?

Not only are the mechanical results questionable but some quick-setting reliners chronically irritate gum tissue, weeks after they are "cured" or "set." They also leave rough, porous surfaces which, together with uneven pressures created, cause rapid absorption of ridge bone.

Home-cured denture reliners smell bad, too. They absorb food odors which can't be eliminated, even with the best prophylactic care.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: Can anything be done to stop bone shrinkage? My teeth were extracted about two years ago but my ridge bone is still shrinking and my dentures have had to be relined already.

ANSWER: Absorption of dental bone (not jawbone) that supports teeth is a continuous process throughout life. In some people, absorption is more rapid than in others, sometimes being almost completely absorbed even before all teeth are lost and dentures are made.

Dentures should be relined every few years to compensate for shrinkage of bone and gums.

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

Your birthday today: Your path through the year must have detours around obstacles. Your attention is drawn to activities which do not immediately contribute to success but which, in the long run, are essential. Friends are available when you need them. Romantic interest comes and goes with the ups-and-downs of your other strivings. Today's natives are willing to work.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Today you can pick up the pieces and start afresh. Your morale goes right along. Smooth out family differences now while the opportunity exists. Maintenance of home and workplace is indicated.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your work comes easier and holds interest. Exchanges with relatives and neighbors may be made. Your purchasing efforts could lead farther from home than usual; satisfaction is indicated.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): If you are due any concession, the present time is the most likely for the advantage to show. Proceed with confidence; use your imagination to make your work more valuable and important.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Today promises to be a rather ordinary, normal day in which you can go ahead with your work with general cooperation from the people around you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You run into subtle resistance. Nobody wants to disagree with you, but their own needs and wishes are not quite in the same category as yours. Pay attention to what is required or asked of you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Personal projects thrive today. You get considerably closer to long-held goals. Your creativity is on a rise; listen to your intuitive impulses.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): You will probably have to stay on the move today as your personal needs and projects tend to scatter. Your friends are not much help in this respect either.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): You have the chance to get busy with those self-improvement moves you have been saving up. Education in new skills now will pay off greatly later on.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): People from distant places take up much of your attention today. Group activities in general are lively. Your imagination is working and should be followed.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Use your main efforts to complete whatever you have started. Bring enterprises to their final stages if you can manage. New ventures are better put off until you have space and opportunity for them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): There is less to do today, but greater reward for doing things well. Personal ventures thrive, particularly those you have worked at for considerable time. Add to savings.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Plan now for activities to be started in a couple of weeks. The financial backing seems meager for the time being. Ask for long-range help, the chance to earn more, but not for immediate loans.

There is a certain type of play that occurs regularly in columns and books and we have even seen it in actual games on maybe two occasions. The play has no name but it might be called "The Unnecessary Finesse."

Solomon and Wilson have included it in their book.

North is certainly entitled to go past game after his partner jumps to four spades and he chooses the five-club cue bid. South shows his diamond ace and North settles for the small slam. If South held one more club and one less diamond, the slam would be a cinch. With the actual holdings, there is no real play for it but South finds a line of play to give him a chance.

He wins the heart in dummy and ruffs another heart. Then he cashes his ace of spades, leads a spade to dummy's king and ruffs another heart. This leaves only one heart out against him and one more lead from dummy will give him a chance to establish dummy's fifth heart for a discard of one of his diamonds. He needs this discard, because, otherwise, he will have to lose two diamond tricks.

He needs to get to dummy twice to accomplish this. The ace of clubs is one entry. Where can he find another one?

Maybe the jack of clubs will do. He leads the nine of clubs and plays dummy's jack. If the unusual finesse works, he makes his slam. If East produces the queen, he will be down two instead of one!

It does work but, if West were really alert, he could have foiled declarer's plan by playing his queen on the nine. We wonder if anyone ever made that sort of a defensive play at the table!

Thursday nights

Stores open until 9:30

SHERBROOKE — (RS) — Stores throughout the city will be opened for business on Thursday nights starting this week up until 9:30 p.m.

A resolution by city council yesterday made the move official.

Its instigator, Ald. Gaston Roy argued that the city of Sherbrooke should be given the same opportunity other cities in the province are enjoying, namely the right to shop on Thursday nights.

The alderman continued that the city was growing and expanding, and that such a measure was necessary to support the trend.

"I don't think anyone should have to drive ten miles out of town to purchase anything," he said.

A general movement started three years ago by local businessmen to have stores opened on Thursday nights ended yesterday with the city's acknowledgment.

The new regulation is applicable to most stores, excluding grocers who are under different regulations.

Last week during a council meeting there had been general agreement that the right to open on Thursday night was valid considering that other cities were doing it.

The situation now is just how long will it be before a bill to be presented to the National Assembly, regulating business hours for the province is passed and measures taken to have it applied.

Were the bill to be passed, chances are that the city's newly passed resolution would have to be cancelled and the new hours put into force.

Rheumatism caused problems

SHERBROOKE — (BSL) — Robert Charron, 52, of Coaticook, was acquitted of a charge of impaired driving by Sessions Judge Roland Dugre yesterday.

Testimony by Charron himself and his doctor Dr. Roger Caron rounded defence attorney Raynald Frechette's case.

Charron stated that he suffered from rheumatism in his legs, and if he were to drive for a long period of time this would seriously affect his walking ability. It was later established that on the day of his arrest he had driven from Old Orchard Beach, Maine, to where he was arrested near Coaticook a distance of approximately 230 miles.

Crown prosecutor in this case was Michel Cote.

Rejean Carrier, 18, and Constance Gauthier, 20, of Sherbrooke were sentenced to 24 hours in jail, a $25 fine, and to sign a two hundred dollar bond to keep the peace for two years.

Appearing before Judge Dugre yesterday the two youths pleaded guilty to several charges of shoplifting.

The youths committed their offences against five stores: Bon Marche, Metropolitan stores, Messiers, United stores, and Woolworth.

Marcel Mailhoux, 26, of Sherbrooke, was fined $100, and had his licence suspended for one year by Judge Turmel after pleading guilty to a charge of impaired driving. Mailhoux was also fined $10 for driving without a licence. He had been living in Alberta but is now back in Sherbrooke.

The sentence of Gilles Gaudreau, and of Roger Bruneau was again postponed in sessions court yesterday. Their sentence has been postponed on two previous occasions. They are to appear again on Oct. 2 to receive their terms for breaking and entering.

Donald Gilbert, 20, Sherbrooke, received a suspended sentence and was ordered to sign a $200 bond to keep the peace for two years, by Judge Dugre. Gilbert was appearing on three breaking and entering charges. Defense attorney, Raynald Frechette, asked for clemency on the grounds that it was his first offense and that he has since repaid all the damages caused.

A warrant is out for the arrest of Guy Perras, 31, who was to appear on three charges of obtaining goods under false pretenses. Raynald Frechette, his defense attorney, asked to be, and was released from the case. Frechette gave as a reason that he had tried to reach Perras all weekend but could not find him.

Area man writes novel

SHERBROOKE — (DM) — Russell Marois, who attended St. Patrick High School and Bishop's University here, has been doing big things since he left Sherbrooke.

He has travelled across North America and Europe, spending more than a year in Germany where he wrote a play. For the last two years, he has written extensively and now his first novel has been published.

His book, The Telephone Pole, is part of a five novel series in Spiderline Editions, published by the Canadian based House of Anansi.

It tells a psychological story in a Montreal setting. Its characters gradually overcome each other and finally succumb to the futility of their situations.

The publication of the five novels in Spiderline Editions prove their worth. Anansi notes, "A series of first novels by the most exciting young writers we've found. Among them, we expect, are several of the important novelists of the next decade."

Sherbrooke Symphony has new man

SHERBROOKE — (DM) — The Sherbrooke Symphony Orchestra has a new musical director, Mr. Claude Paradis, an accomplished musician and former member of the group, replaces Mr. Sylvio Lacharite, who has recently resigned.

Mr. Paradis was introduced at a press conference held by CHLT Television, yesterday.

His 45 member Orchestra will feature three special events this year.

The first, on Dec. 7, will be a Christmas Concert in the Cathedral here. Then, on March 2, an evening of Baroque music will be offered.

Twenty-five talented children, chosen from all over Quebec, will be the performers in this year's unique third concert.

Until his appointment as symphony director, Mr. Paradis was an active member of the orchestra, playing piano, flute and organ. He has written several pieces since joining the group 27 years ago.

He studied music in Europe for three years, returning to Canada in 1958. Recently, he was named chapel director at the Cathedral and secretary of the Liturgical Diocesan Committee.

NEW CONDUCTOR — Mr. Claude Paradis, newly-appointed Musical Director of the Sherbrooke Symphony Orchestra, speaks with Mrs. Marcel Savard, the group's President, after his introduction at a CHLT Press Conference yesterday.

Sherbrooke policeman injured in crash

SHERBROOKE — (DM) — Three persons, including a Sherbrooke Police constable, were sent to hospital yesterday, following a two car collision at the intersection of King Street West, Jacques Cartier, just before 11 a.m.

Two Sherbrooke police officers on an emergency call, were driving east on King. A second car, travelling west tried to turn south onto Jacques Cartier. It collided with the patrol car and finally struck a traffic light post at the corner.

Constable Ronald Guay was taken to Hotel Dieu Hospital in serious condition but the driver, Constable Armand Chauvin, escaped uninjured.

The occupants of the other car, Mr. Joseph Lacours, 58, and his wife, 54, of Maddington Falls, Athabaska, were also sent to Hotel Dieu Hospital.

Both cars are total wrecks.

Prison reform caution

The report of the Oumet committee on corrections contains some recommendations that should be helpful to the federal government in further efforts to update the Criminal Code, especially those designed to reclaim young offenders.

But many of the suggestions must be taken with reservations as the report seems to put the welfare of the law-breakers before law-abiding citizens.

Basically there are two factors in assessing the prison system, one being the protection of society and the second that of rehabilitating the prisoners, each of which must be given equal importance.

Unquestionably the many Canadian prisons and jails are woefully lacking both in their physical plants and in trained staff, but improving the jails and providing the trained psychologists and social workers would cost huge amounts of money, something lacking at all levels of government today.

The report recommends greater use of probation as an alternative to incarceration but fails to give any inkling as to where the trained people required to operate an effective parole system are to be obtained.

And an inadequate parole system holds grave dangers for the public. There are numerous examples of criminals improperly screened for parole or probation who subsequently commit grievous crimes.

The anxiety to give law-breakers the best possible break rather than a determination to protect society also seems inherent in the suggestion that criminal records be annulled after a crime-free period of five years. No person should have to carry the burden of suspicion for life because of a youthful mistake but five years seems a short time in which to remove all reasonable doubts as to the rehabilitation of those convicted to serious crimes.

Suggestions that greater use be made of fines in lieu of jail terms are likely to work to the disadvantage of the economically underprivileged and would tend to make lack of money a crime in itself.

Action to protect first offenders or innocent people convicted in error is desirable but this should not be extended to incorrigible criminals.

We discovered — we thought — a new use for three-day-old pizza, but guess that the fire companies beat us to it by a few decades.

Kiss off a short life

A group of German insurance companies and psychologists have established a correlation between work attitudes and a morning goodbye kiss.

Their studies show that men who do not kiss their wives when they leave for work are inclined to be moody, depressed and disinterested in their jobs. But kissing husbands on the other hand — or doorstep, rather — start off the day with a positive note.

This positive attitude results in more efficient and safer driving practices. Kissing husbands also live five years longer than their less romantic counterparts, the investigators claim.

This sounds like a very easy and pleasant way to extend one's life span. One suspects, however, that kissing is more a consequence than a cause of a happy life situation.

And it takes two to kiss and a wife's response has a lot to do with her husband's positive or negative mood.

Anyway, the subject warrants continued investigation by every husband and wife.

People who think crime doesn't pay haven't checked the status of some movie-makers lately.

TODAY in history

Sept. 30, 1969 . . .

Canada was elected to the United Nations Security Council 22 years ago today — in 1947 — for a two-year term to fill one of the three vacancies that would occur at the end of the year. The two-year terms of Australia, Poland and Brazil were due to expire. The council contained 11 nations — the permanent members — the Soviet Union, Britain, France and China, and six members elected for two-year terms.

1954 — USS Nautilus, first nuclear-powered submarine, was commissioned.

1963 — The Federal Republic of Nigeria was proclaimed.

Second World War
Twenty-five years ago today — in 1944 — Admiral Nimitz announced that Kongouru, Ngesbus and an unnamed island in the Palau group were in American hands along with six previously captured islands of this group. Russian troops entered Yugoslavia. Allies opened drive on Balikpapan, source of aviation gasoline and lubricating oils on Borneo.

Letters to editor

Quebec province comes of age

The Editor:
Sir:
To a French-Canadian Quebec always was a French nation. To the rest of Canadians, Quebec was always regarded as the strongest member of the Canadian mosaic family. Now Quebec has matured to full nationhood. Who will dispute that?

In the recent Quebec cultural renaissance, the youthful elements expressed the feeling that they could play a more important part on the North American continent. They felt that Americanism and the English language continually swamped out their pattern of living, therefore tending to kill their way of life. Even the most modest Quebecers felt that the North American life was not permitting a rapid enough development of their cultural patterns.

The first enemies of the cultural renaissance movement were the Old-guard, Duplessis, church hierarchy and other custodians of French culture. The Old-guard had no intention of jumping into the main stream of North American life; they were satisfied with the slower and more sheltered existence. The Old-guard (Quebec traditionalists) decided to sit out that storm.

The second-line enemies of this cultural renaissance movement consisted of the minority English-speaking elements — the capitalists who managed the industry, commerce and the accumulated wealth of the province. These minority English-speaking elements decided to do something about the impending threat to their hegemony which came from Quebec nationalism. The result of their efforts culminated in the presently adopted Bilingual and Bicultural approach to Canadianism. Mr. J. MacSwain has recently corroborated this view indirectly. The Old-guard Quebec traditionalists favored this solution from the start, because it was a means of exporting the troublesome Quebec revolution, thus reducing the pressure upon the Old-guard (traditionalists).

What happened in the rest of Canada during this period of Quebec renaissance? To encourage the export of the rebellious Quebec elements, Canadians in general were encouraged to welcome them and to roll out the red carpet. We are still in this honeymoon phase.

We thus have double phenomena existing side by side in Canada.

1 — A romantic honeymoon relationship with Frenchness in the rest of Canada.

2 — A realistic, down-to-earth struggle for Frenchness — only in Quebec province which is regarded by most Canadians as the true place of abode of Frenchness. These two are obviously incompatible, and they cannot both survive. Need you ask which will have to go?

The mantle of leadership of the Old-guard elements passed from Daniel Johnson to J. Bertrand. Today it is becoming quite clear that the Old-guard elements are not too happy with this solution. This shift has become evident from the composition of the N.U. party which is half-nationalist today. The complete lack of decisive government policy in the present St. Leonard school situation confirms this. Opinions of noted Quebec journalists reflect the same doubt.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Although Miles Coverdale's version was the first English translation of the entire Bible to be printed (1535), it was the unfinished translation of his contemporary, William Tyndale, which prevailed. The World Almanac notes, Tyndale translated from the original Hebrew and Greek texts into the vernacular English of his day. Some 60 per cent of the King James New Testament (1611) was derived from his translation.

History of Bedford post office traced on opening of new building

BEDFORD — On Sept. 29 an outstanding event in the history of Bedford took place with the official opening of the new post office, which has been in operation since last January. It is a handsome brick building 50 by 60 feet, stone fronted, which adds much to its appearance. It was built on the site of the home of the late Hobart Butler, after whom the local elementary school was named. Since Mr. Butler's day the house has passed through several hands, the last owner being Mrs. William Walmsley. The house was purchased by Mr. D. Kimmell who moved it to Dutch Street and where he is now living. The contract was originally awarded to G. Methe, but owing to illness Mr. Methe was unable to carry on, and the contract was taken over by the Coupal Construction Company of Henryville.

It was not until 32 years ago that Bedford had a permanent post office, previous to that time there were two post offices in town, one called Upper Bedford, the other Lower Bedford. Allan Palmer was the last postmaster in the former office, which was always in the same place, in a store, first owned by the late D. Connor, and taken over by Henry Connor, who sold it to the late Robert Palmer. Not so in Lower Bedford, where for years the post office was in the store of Edward Coslett, with his brother Samuel as postmaster, in what is now the Jones Block, purchased by the late C. O. Jones, who carried on as postmaster. On his retirement the post office was moved to where the Bank of Montreal now stands, with Maitland Hungerford, now of Haverhill, Mass., as postmaster, his assistant was the late Miss Adrienne Demers, the next move was to the store, now occupied by the Fournier jewelry store.

When it was decided that there should be only one post office, the Kimmell Block at the corner of Phillipsburg Avenue and River Street was bought, which also provided quarters for the local detachment of the RCMP. Miss Adrienne Demers was appointed as postmistress, and the staff of three, included the late Miss Mildred Steel and Mrs. P. Patenaude. Following the retirement of the late Miss Demers, the present postmaster, Paul LeBlanc, was appointed. The present staff includes Mrs. P. Patenaude, Mrs. Yves Casavant, Mrs. G. Montagne, Miss Therrien, G. Coupal and Robert Perron.

When postal service was first established in Bedford, over 100 years ago, the first postmaster was Galen Freleigh, Freighsburg, after whose family the village was named. Mr. Freleigh lived on Dutch Street in the home now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Hannibal Shelts.

The ceremony opened with the raising of the flag by Police Chief, George Perron and the playing of O Canada. Marc Malouin, architectural services officer of the Department of Public Works, was master of ceremonies and welcomed the guests. Seated on the platform were Hon. Arthur Laing, M.P.,

Minister of Public Works, Yves Forest, M.P., Missisquoi, representing the Hon. Eric Kierans, Postmaster General, Hercule Vallee, acting director of postal district of Montreal, Postmaster Paul LeBlanc, Mayor R. W. Craighead, Rev. Father Desparts and Rev. Wallace Sparling.

Mr. Vallee gave a brief resume of historical facts in connection with the town, followed by Yves Forest, who brought greetings from Mr. Kierans and congratulated the town on the new post office. Mayor R. W. Craighead welcomed the guests and expressed thanks and appreciation of the town of Bedford to the Department of Public Works for providing the excellent building, and for finishing the front of the building in stone.

Hon. Arthur Laing spoke of the vast possibilities for advancement and progress which the future holds for the Canadian people, and of the necessity of the importance of welding the many nationalities and ethnic groups throughout the country into a whole, each in his own sphere to work for the good and the future of Canada, which today has one of the highest standards of living in the world.

Rev. W. Sparling spoke briefly, congratulating the town on having acquired such a modern building, and expressing appreciation to Postmaster LeBlanc and the members of his staff for efficiency of the post office.

Postmaster LeBlanc expressed his pleasure at the new building and invited the guests to view the post office, the ribbon was cut by the Hon. A. Laing and the building was blessed by Rev. Father Desparts of St. Damien's Church.

Following the ceremony the invited guests adjourned to the town house, where a reception was held by the municipality of Bedford.

Talk, films on phones highlight U.C.W. session

WATERLOO — The September general meeting of St. Paul's U.C.W. was highlighted by a talk and films about the telephone. The meeting was preceded by a tour of the telephone building on Court Street.

Mrs. Plouffe, Sherbrooke, showed two films, entitled Telephone Courtesy, and Telephone in Business, and told of the many uses of the telephone, including conference calls. She was introduced by Mrs. Mildred Irwin and thanked by president, Mrs. Myrtle Pope.

Twenty-six members attended as well as several from St. Luke's A.C.W. The business meeting included the setting of dates for a card party, to be held on Oct. 16 and the Christmas Tea on Dec. 4.

It was decided to pay $500 to the Board of Stewards for the Kitchen Fund.

Mrs. A. Dunsmore reported that 262 visits had been made to the sick and shut-ins during the summer months; Mrs. Dora Young, Christian Education, on the summer services led by the choir. Board of Stewards in Rev. A. Haley's absence.

Mrs. Bobby Cochrane, social functions, reminded everyone of the Workshop to be catered to at Waterloo Elementary School and the Armistice Banquet in November. Mrs. Glenna Maynes report of the sale receipts, $44.17 sent to the needy, and asked for used nylons. Mrs. Bea Juby, work table, has purchased material for aprons to be made up.

The area workshop for presidents and vice-presidents was attended by Mrs. Pope and Mrs. Juby, and they came back with some good ideas. A rally was held in Knowlton on Sept. 23 when Rev. J. D. McCord was the speaker.

It was reported that the youth groups will have the following leaders this year: Messengers, Mrs. S. Waver, Explorers Mrs. A. Haley and David Mercer, and C.G.I.T. Mrs. Bobby Cochrane. Mrs. Haley will also be in charge of the babysitting class during church.

Refreshments were served by the evening unit. In November the roll call will be answered with a suggestion for something different for the work table or the kitchen.

Mansonville U.C.W. holds season's first meeting

MANSONVILLE — The U.C.W. held its first meeting since the summer recess on Sept. 18 at the Bradley-Traver home with an attendance of 16 members and one visitor, Mrs. Winnie Heath, as well as Rev. E. J. McDonald.

The devotional period was led by Mrs. Alice George, who used as her theme Weekday Witness. The president, Mrs. Gloria Cabana conducted the meeting. Treasurer, Mrs. Ruth Fullerton, reported gratifying proceeds from the summer activities, including the auction at the Church in July, a wedding reception catered to in August as well as private donations.

Delegates for the fall rally in Knowlton on Sept. 23 were five ladies from Mansonville and six from the unit at Vale Perkins.

As the general meeting of both the Mansonville and Vale Perkins Units will be held in Vale Perkins on Oct. 7, there will be no meeting in Mansonville until Oct. 16, when Mrs. Merton Bailey will entertain the group at her home.

Among those remembered with cards were Fred Jewett, Dan Jones, H. Hemphill, Fritz Warnas, Henry Stehr and Mrs. Homer Gardner.

After hearing reports from the various committees, it was decided to tie one quilt and maybe two, also hold a fall supper.

The study period, conducted by Mr. McDonald, was an introduction to the study, Man in Life, with Scripture readings taken by Mrs. Alice George and Mrs. Marguerite Ommel, tape recordings were heard also on the subject of Loyalty.

A social hour with luncheon and tea, served by the hostesses, brought a pleasant afternoon to a close.

South Durham U.C.W. plans October events

SOUTH DURHAM — The U.C.W. held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. Neil Mountain, with the president, Mrs. Galen Coote, opening the meeting with the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. M. W. Carson was in charge of the devotionals, using as her theme, Talents.

Thank you notes were read from Mrs. Charles Wright, who had been remembered with a card while hospitalized and from Mrs. Hartley Gunter for the gift for her baby.

The Kentucky Fried Chicken Supper will be held in the Church Hall on Oct. 1.

Members were reminded of the Presbytery Rally to be held on Oct. 2 at Danville.

The food sale, held in August, realized a fair sum. Work convener handed in $29.35. Fall tea and bazaar was discussed, the date is to be announced later.

Meeting closed with Mizpah Prayer. Mrs. Hartley Gunter will entertain the U.C.W. for the next meeting on Oct. 8.

St. Anne's ACW holds meeting

RICHMOND — The meeting of St. Anne's A.C.W. was held in the parish hall on Sept. 11. Mrs. L. Somerville, treasurer, reported a substantial bank balance on hand and continued with reports and plans.

Thanks were extended to those conveying residents of the Wales Home to the June tea. Mrs. H. Moret and Miss H. Penfold reported having made 12 visits to the Wales Home.

It was announced that more bright colored wool is needed for interested knitters. It was decided to order 200 calendars this year. The Deanery meeting is to be held on Oct. 9 at St. Anne's Church. Names of three departed members are to be sent to the Diocesan Book of Remembrance.

The hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. M. Griffith and Mrs. I. Fallona, who were thanked. Mrs. L. Liljegren and Miss M. Nixon are to be hostesses for the November meeting.

Rev. W. E. Walker closed the meeting with prayers, after which refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Mansonville

Mrs. R. H. Miller, who spent the summer at Edgewater Lodge, Vale Perkins, has opened her home in town for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Kilpatrick and two daughters, Montreal, were weekend guests at the Eldridge-Kilpatrick home. Miss Madeline Jersey, Victoria, B.C., was a recent dinner guest of Mrs. Ethel Bailey.

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM The Upper Room
Being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ. (Romans 5:1)
PRAYER: We love Thee, Father, for the gift of Thy peace. We praise Thee in thought, word, and deed that Thou hast first loved us. We thank Thee unceasingly for Thy gift of Thine only Son, in whose name we pray. Amen.

MRS. FLORENCE PARKER, OF LENNOXVILLE
The death occurred at the D'Youville Hospital Sept. 6, 1969, of Mrs. Florence Mabel Parker in her 89th year.

Mrs. Parker, the former Florence Mabel Stronach, was the daughter of the late Thomas Stronach and Alice Coates.

On May 6, 1903, she was married to Albert Joseph Parker of Parker Hill. They lived on a farm there for a number of years.

After leaving the home farm, they purchased a smaller farm in Eaton Corner but with failing health were forced to give up farming and moved to Sawyerville.

Her remains were interred in the Eaton Cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Albert Parker, her four daughters, Blanche, Mrs. Horace Coates, of Lennoxville, Mildred, Mrs. Albert McCormick, Saranac Lake, N.Y., Della, Mrs. Osborne Taylor, Port Dover, Ont., and Hazel, Mrs. Lennis Ewing.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, October 1, 1969, at the home of the deceased, Graydon Stronach, Chester Stronach, Carl Speck, Clayton Parker, Clem Lowery and Burton Hill.

Interment was in Eaton Cemetery. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, Albert Parker, her four daughters, Blanche, Mrs. Horace Coates, of Lennoxville, Mildred, Mrs. Albert McCormick, Saranac Lake, N.Y., Della, Mrs. Osborne Taylor, Port Dover, Ont., and Hazel, Mrs. Lennis Ewing.

Miscellaneous shower

AYER'S CLIFF — Prior to her marriage on Sept. 20, Miss Debbie McVeay was feted at a miscellaneous community shower held in St. George's Church Hall on Sept. 15th.

The bride-to-be was met at the door by Mrs. Peter Despres, and presented with a corsage fashioned of kitchen gadgets and a plastic doily. Mrs. Lorraine Harrison, president of the guild also presented corsages to Mrs. McVeay and to Mrs. William Black, mother of the groom-to-be.

They were escorted to the front of the hall where they were seated before a large table covered with an assortment of prettily wrapped parcels. Mrs. Harrison welcomed the guests present and presented the gifts to Debbie.

The gifts from the community consisted of a set of Corningware and a purse of money presented in a small teapot. Miss McVeay expressed her thanks to everyone. Mrs. Nelson Pierce sang two delightful solos accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Claire Shipway.

Refreshments were served buffet style, with Mrs. Arnold McVeay pouring tea and Mrs. William Black pouring coffee. A social hour was spent.

The guests departed, all wishing Debbie much happiness in her future married life.

Alain Dumas, Gaston Boulanger sign with Beavers

Alain Dumas      Gaston Boulanger

Real Veilleux, general manager of the Junior Beavers announced the signing of three new forwards over the weekend. Gilbert Smith played last season with Theford Mines, he is 18 years old, weighs 160 lbs. and stands 5'10". Smith is a native of Chandler, Que. he played his first season in Saguenay Senior B Hockey League for Gagnonville and tallied twenty goals and 36 assists for a total of 56 points. He is a speedy left winger and has stood out in all the exhibition games the Beavers have played lately. Lou Poliquin expects big things from this youngster.

Bruno Isabelle, a left winger is another big Beaver prospect for the coming season. Bruno hails from Disraeli, stands at 5'9", weighs 150 and is only 17 years old. Isabelle played last season for the Royals of Lake Megantic, scored twenty goals and assisted on twenty-seven others in the forty games he played. Bruno is speedy and has a hard shot from any angle.

Centerman Michel Lefebvre is another prospect on Coach Poliquin's roster. Michel comes from Rouyn, is 16 years old, stands 5'10" and weighs 147 — a bit light for a centerman but his quick moves and speed will get him through Michel was much thought of by the Drummondville Rangers. He should fit in well in the Beavers' camp.

On Monday Real Veilleux announced the signing of two more players to the Beavers roster — right winger Gaston Boulanger and left-winger Alain Dumas.

Boulanger is a local boy and played last season for St. Pats. This will be his second year of play in Sherbrooke, having played his minor hockey in Ville LaSalle. Boulanger is 17 years old, weighs 155 and stands 5'8".

Real Veilleux thinks this youngster will pull his weight in the Beavers' lineup.

Alain Dumas who plays left wing saw action last season with Royals of Lac Megantic and at times played a few games for Theford Alain is another boy that the hard working general manager anticipates will add power to the Beaver forward lines.

This brings up to date 13 players who have signed and the roster should be complete by this weekend.

Remember when

Benny Paret took Emile Griffith's world welterweight boxing title eight years ago tonight—in 1961—after 15 rounds at New York's Madison Square Gardens. Griffith came back to beat Paret the following year, then lost to Luis Rodriguez and regain his world title in the return match in 1963.

Contest tonight crucial for both Ticats and Eks

HAMILTON (CP) — The battle for playoff positions in both divisions of the Canadian Football League puts extra pressure on Edmonton Eskimos and Hamilton Tiger-Cats in their interlocking contest tonight.

With only five games remaining in each club's schedule after tonight, a victory could be crucial to Edmonton's third-place hopes in the Western Conference or to the Ticats' first-place ambitions in the Eastern Conference.

With a victory in the non-televised game over Hamilton, the Eskimos could move one point ahead of Winnipeg Blue Bombers into the third and final playoff spot in the WC.

Hamilton, on the other hand, could move to within one point of Ottawa Rough Riders, the EFC leaders. The Ticats now have 13 points, one more than Toronto Argonauts, but the Ticats face Ottawa and Toronto twice each and Montreal Alouettes once before the season ends.

First place means a bye into the two-game, total-point EFC final while second and third place clubs battle in the sudden-death semi-final.

Eskimos coach Neil Armstrong hopes history will repeat itself to give his club the edge. Armstrong, whose club was beaten 17-0 by Ottawa Saturday, recalls a similar schedule in 1965 when Eskimos went into Ottawa and were whopped 40-1. Edmonton went on to Hamilton the following Tuesday to beat the Ticats 9-3.

Armstrong said he intends to start quarterback Charlie Fulton who had six passes intercepted Saturday by Ottawa. Corey Colehour may also see some action at quarterback.

The Eskimos will be without left defensive end Ron Forwick who suffered a charley horse injury in Ottawa.

Hamilton quarterback Joe Zuger had a cast removed from his left hand Monday, but Ticats coach Joe Hestie said he was still not counting on using Zuger for a couple of weeks.

Zuger had the skin and flesh torn from his little finger in a game against Saskatchewan Roughriders two weeks ago.

Rookie John Eckman, who handled quarterback duties in Ticats' last encounter against Montreal, will start again. Hestie would not say whether Zuger would again handle punting chores as he did against the Als.

John Williams will return to his old spot in the Ticats' defensive backfield after sitting out for three weeks with a knee injury. The Ticats will also introduce middle linebacker Mike Strofolino who has played the last three years with St. Louis Cardinals in the National Football League.

Strofolino replaces Bill Overton in the linebacker slot.

1969 Major League season produces at least a dozen 20-game winners

This was supposed to be baseball's Year of the Hitter but the pitchers, faced with lowered mounds and smaller strike zones, haven't fared badly.

There are a dozen 20-game winners around the major leagues, the most since 13 pitchers reached the 20-victory plateau in 1951.

And four hurlers with 19 victories each could reach 20 as the season swings into its final week.

Phil Niekro, one of the 20game

Sport briefs

At a meeting held recently, the Ladies Section of the North Hatley Curling Club under the presidency of Mrs. R. G. Hatrick, decided to again hold their popular Warm-Up Bopspiel. In order to accommodate as many players as possible games will start Sun. Nov. 9 and continue in the evenings through Friday with semis and finals taking place during Saturday. Mrs. Charles Guild will take entries for the two trophy event. A supper will be held on Saturday night prior to the finals and presentation of prizes.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota Vikings Coach Bud Grant said Monday he is confident quarterback Joe Kapp will be able to play in next Sunday's game with Green Bay, despite his injured left wrist.

Kapp suffered a small fracture of his non-passing wrist in the third quarter of Sunday's 52-14 victory over Baltimore Colts in which he threw seven touchdown passes, tying a National Football League record.

Grant said the break is high enough that it does not affect the use of the hand.

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Johnny Sample, New York Jets cornerback, said Monday professional football would be better off without Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

"He's no more than a dictator," the American Football League player told a news conference at which he announced that he plans to publish a series of books on black athletes and their struggle for equality in professional sports.

"As a person, Rozelle has too much power," Sample said. "He's biased against the AFL because it was the National Football League which gave him his job."

The 32-year-old veteran, who is under contract with the Jets, was taken off the roster after he hurt his back in the All-Star game.

"Whether I go back depends on what the doctors say," Sample said. "Right now I'm grounded."

winner, goes for Atlanta Braves tonight against Cincinnati Reds as the Braves try to clinch the National League West Division title. Orié Atlanta victory or San Francisco Giants loss, ends the race.

Mike Cuellar, another member of the 20-victory club, was beaten 4-1, by Detroit Tigers Monday night, only the second loss in 15 decisions since the all-star game for the Baltimore Orioles left-hander.

Bill Freehan, whose run-scoring second-inning triple was the only hit off Cuellar through the first eight innings, drilled a two-run single as the Tigers rallied for three runs to break a tie in the ninth.

In the only other game played in the majors Monday night, Boston Red Sox whipped Washington Senators 8-5 as Rico Petrocelli set a record by hitting his 40th homer of the year, most ever by an American League shortstop. Petrocelli broke the mark of 39 set by Vern Stephens, who also played for the Red Sox.

Frank Howard ripped his 48th homer of the year for the Senators, tying Harmon Killebrew for the major league home run lead.

Besides Cuellar (23-11) and Niekro (22-13), the 20-game winners this season are Minnesota Twins' Jim Perry (20-6) and Dave Boswell (20-11), Tom Seaver of New York Mets (25-7), Detroit's Denny McLain (24-9), Dave McNally of Baltimore (20-6).

REGGIE JACKSON, left, of Oakland A's, and Frank Howard, right, of Washington Senators compare notes on home run hitting as they go down the stretch neck-and-neck for major league home run lead. Both landed spots in the All-Major League team outfield, selected by the players for NEA.

Vic Stasiuk foresees changes in Flyers

Philadelphia general manager, said. "But we never had one guy like that up front and we're hoping Fleming is the guy who will do the same for the forwards."

FORESEES CHANGE

Vic Stasiuk, who took over from Keith Allen as coach of the Flyers this season, vows the Flyers' style of play is in for a big change this year.

"We'll stress hustle and fundamentals and the wins will come."

Fleming, an eight-goal scorer with Rangers last season, is expected to do bigger things with the Flyers this year on a line with Gary Dornhoefer and Jim Johnson.

"Fleming had a good year with New York and he should have a better one here," Stasiuk said.

"Dornhoefer should be better this year and possibly good for 20 goals and Johnson was leading all rookies mid-way through last season when he got hurt and it set him back."

Fleming, determined to make the best of things with the Flyers, led the NHL in penalties—166 minutes—in 1965-66 when he split his time between the Rangers and Boston Bruins.

"I'm not worried about penalties here," Fleming said. "I'll just make sure that if I get one I'll take a man from the other team along with me."

In their two previous seasons the Flyers scored fewer total goals than their opponents. In 1967-68 it was 173 goals for and 179 against, while last season the gap stretched to 174 goals for and 225 against.

Ski-Doo is your number one choice in snowmobiles

Number one in sales
Ski-Doo has introduced more people to the sport of snowmobiling than any other make. That's because Ski-Doo invented snowmobiling. And ever since its first appearance on a snowfield, Ski-Doo has been the undisputed snowmobile leader. Last year alone, Ski-Doo dealers sold over 14,000 models. That's more than the next six manufacturers combined. There are many reasons for Ski-Doo's great sales success. And a better choice of models is certainly one of them.

Number one in selection
For 1970, Ski-Doo offers five exciting series — each with a totally different personality. We're sure you'll find one to match your own. It's luxury you're after, there's a Ski-Doo Nordic. If it's sporty action you're itching for, there's a Ski-Doo Olympique. If you want a Ski-Doo that's big, comfortable and fun to drive, there's a twin-track Invader. If you're looking for speed and power, there's a Ski-Doo TNT. And if price is on your mind, there's the Ski-Doo 12/3. It's so low priced, a lot of people are buying two and three.

Number one in sizzle
Every one of our snowmobiles is powered by the world famous Rotax engine — designed exclusively for Ski-Doo. No other engine delivers more efficient power for climbing, towing, just plain funning around. And no engine acts better, at all speeds — all temperatures. And this year, our Rotax engines are even more dependable. They're bigger in size, with more cc's, but deliver the same horsepower as before for the most trouble-free performance in snowmobile history.

Number one in service
Your Ski-Doo dealer is a good guy to know. Not just because he sells the number one snowmobile. But because he can offer better service after the sale. He's a pro with know-how, ready to give you qualified repair service — whenever you need it. He's the man who offers a free 15 hour service check to new Ski-Doo owners. And a parts and service warranty that gives you real peace of mind. He's also the one person in town who can tell you where to find all the best snowmobiling trails. If you want the number one choice in snowmobiles, in high-fashion winter sportwear and accessories, see your Ski-Doo dealer. He'll show you all the 1970 reasons why you go one better when you go Ski-Doo.

There's a Ski-Doo dealer near you. *T.M. Bombardier Ltd.
