LAKE MANITOBA IS HAULED OUT

C. P. R. LINER IN FLOATING DRY DOCK AT MONTREAL FOR REPAIRS.

Montreal, Aug. 1—For the first time since the arrival of the floating dry-dock, Duke of Connaught, in Montreal, last year, the two sections of the dock were joined this morning to receive the Lake Manitoba, C. P. R. line, damaged on Monday night when she grounded in the fog at Ile d'Orleans.

At half-past eight the Lake Manitoba was towed into the dock, both floating sections of which had been submerged to receive her, and the pumps were kept busy the rest of the forenoon, raising the damaged liner high and dry above the water line.

The work was not completed until after three o.clock, and the repairs, which had been contained in the interior of the vessel since she was docked in the early morning, are being rushed toward completion. It is now possible for two shifts to work, one on the outside, and one within the ship's hold. It is hoped to finish the repairs within the week. The sailing of the Lake Manitoba will thus be delayed only about two weeks.

REGIMENT WALKS ON AMERICAN FLAG

RESENT WAVING IT IN FACE, ONE DISMISSED, BUT IS REINSTATED.

Saskatoon, Sask., Aug. 1—The Saskatoon militia are in a ferment over a an incident which occurred during the parade of the 105th Fusiliers last night. When the parade was passing down second avenue, the main thoroughfare of the city, a young girl in a passing automobile waved an American flag in front of one member of the bugle band of the regiment. The man broke ranks and snatching the flag broke the staff in two and trampled it under his feet, the majority of the rest of the regiment passing over it.

The buglar was instantly taken from the ranks and at the conclusion of the parade was court martialed and discharged from the regiment. The rest of the members of the bugle band were waiting outside the armories and as soon as they heard the decision informed one of the officers that they were handing in their uniforms and would resign permanently from the regiment if this decision was allowed to stand.

They stated that the flag was waved in the face of the bugler. The officers of the regiment held a consultation and the man was later reinstated.

Owing to the fact that the bugle band is to take a prominent part in the big parade in honor of the six hundred delegates of the real estate board today, the officers, it is said, decided that they were forced to reinstate the man. The second decision was the signal for a celebration which lasted until late. Members of the regiment in uniform marched through the streets near the armories with a Union Jack at their head singing "God Save the King" and "Rule Britannia."

CANADA COUNTRY OF THE FUTURE

HON. MR. ROY, COMMISSIONER OF PARIS, SAYS DOMINION HIGHLY REGARDED.

Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian Commissioner at Paris, arrived in Quebec today by the Empress of Britain. It is two years since Mr. Roy left Quebec to succeed the late Mr. Fabre.

He will spend two or three days in this vicinity, during which he will visit his sister at Montmagny. He will then go to Edmonton, where he lived for some time before going to France. After that he will return to Ottawa.

Mr. Roy, who is staying at the Garrison Club, says that the Old Country Frenchmen take great interest in Canada now, and that this interest has been accentuated by the visit of Mr. Borden and his Ministers to Paris last year. The Canadian Premier and his colleagues were warmly received in France and left a very good impression. The commercial relations between this country and France are improving all the time, according to the Commissioner, and everywhere in Europe, Canada is hailed as the country of the future, her reputation in France being especially good.

Mr. Roy gives credit to the Comite France-Amerique for its work and commends its action in giving Mr. Edouard Montpetit the opportunity to speak of Canada in France. The lectures of Mr. Montpetit have met with great success, and he has been asked to give more in other cities.

Speaking of the European situation, the Canadian Commissioner says that owing to the rapidity with which the events succeed each other, it is difficult to determine exactly how things are shaping. However, the outlook is very grave, and a conflict might break out at any time, though it is hoped that diplomacy will have the effect of averting a general war. In the efforts to avoid it the entente cordiale is looked on to save the situation.

PLEA FOR HUSBAND WHO BEAT HER

WOMAN IMPLORES JUDGE TO GIVE BRUTAL SPOUSE ANOTHER CHANCE.

Montreal, Aug. 1—Connubial bliss has been a stranger to the house of Peter Derwick for some months past. In less than four weeks Derwick showed affection for his wife by giving her two black eyes.

In the Recorder's Court this morning, Mrs. Derwick stated that she had suffered much at his hands and that last Sunday morning he knocked her down and jumped on her. Derwick stated that the accusations were true but he would like to have another chance.

Mrs. Derwick suddenly became eager and told the Recorder that she had a delicate skin and that it was easily marked. She implored Recorder Semple to give her husband another chance, but she was told that her pleading would do her no good as the prisoner had pleaded guilty to the charge.

Derwick received a severe lecture from the bench and was bound over in two bonds of $100 each to keep the peace for a period of one year or spend three months in jail.

ALL EUROPE NOW SHUNS FAIR AT SAN FRANCISCO

RUSSIA'S REFUSAL FOLLOWS BRITAIN'S AND GERMANY WON'T BE THERE

St. Petersburg, Aug. 1—The Russian Government today decided not to participate officially in the San Francisco Exposition.

BRITAIN'S REASONS FOR DECLINING INVITATION

London, Aug. 1—J. M. Robertson, M. P., under secretary of the Board of Trade, replying last evening to an inquiry as to the reason for the decision of the British Government to abstain from participating in the Panama Pacific Exposition, said: "The ultimate decision in this matter is really one for the traders and manufacturers. We found on investigation that we should have the most extreme difficulty in persuading them to send exhibits on any worthy or useful scale to the Panama Pacific Exposition and should probably have failed entirely to persuade them to send anything. They will not agree to incur the cost of sending exhibits. They point to similar heavy burdens they had had to bear recently and draw attention to the decision of the conferences to have great international exhibitions only every three years.

"It is true that British firms are exhibiting this year at Ghent, where the up-to-date installation of cotton spinning and weaving machinery has proved valuable to the British trade.

"The exhibitions department of the Board of Trade has attaches who are of great value as regards the commercial results of the exhibitions, but the exhibit must be up-to-date and excellent, or they had better be left at home and the prospective results must be commensurate with the outlay.

"Our trade with the Western States of America is relatively small. It is true that it rose in the matter of building material after the San Francisco earthquake, but it fell off soon. While I am far from saying that it might not be again stimulated I feel as the Board of Trade feels that the outlay on an official exhibition would be too heavy a burden to call on the taxpayers to bear. But after all the manufacturers must decide. They refuse to come forward in sufficient numbers in view presumably of the distance to California and the cost of transportation added to the relatively small prospective commercial benefit.

"What more can be said? There was a chance at one time that the Government itself, as a sign of national goodwill, would be represented by a small official exhibit, but I suppose now that the larger scheme has been dropped the smaller one will likewise be abandoned."

KING AND QUEEN OF SPAIN ARE IN PARIS.

Paris, August 1—King Alfonso and Queen Victoria arrived here this evening from London, on their way back to Spain.

EMPRESS OF RUSSIA IS SETTING NEW RECORD.

Victoria, B.C., August 1—Smashing her own record by at least ten hours, the 20-knot turnbine passenger liner Empress of Russia will reach port at 3 o'clock tomorrow morning on her second voyage to this country from the Orient. This will set a new mark of 8 days, 18 hours, from Yokohama.

ILLEGAL WHISKEY IS HIDDEN IN BEEF

Toronto, Aug. 1.—The introduction of whiskey into the forbidden districts of northern Ontario in pieces of beef has been discovered by Chief Rogers of the Provincial Police and several prosecutions have been undertaken as the result.

It was known that a woman in the Porcupine district was getting whiskey, and after the authorities had been puzzled for some time an examination of beef going in was made and deep cuts were noticed.

Exploration developed the fact that cunningly hidden away under each of the cuts was a hot-water bottle filled with whiskey, each bottle containing about two quarts of the fluid, which was mixed with water and sold at fancy prices.

LORD STRATHCONA AGAINST THE ALDWYCH SITE

London, Aug. 1.—Regarding the option offered by the London County County on a central plot of the Aldwych site near the Strand for new Canadian Government offices, it is stated that the option was really offered to Earl Grey, who was not acting in any way officially for the Dominion.

The idea of having all the Dominion offices together on this site is the idea of Earl Grey.

It is said that there are good reasons for believing that it will not materialize. Lord Strathcona is reported to be opposed to it, also Sir Thomas MacKenzie, New Zealand, and Sir Richard Solomon, South Africa.

All these gentlemen, it is understood, are agreed that the Dominion offices should be in classic, historical Westminster instead of in the neighborhood of the Strand.

IMPURE MILK GOES DOWN CITY SEWERS

450 GALLONS DESTROYED AT MONTREAL AS UNFIT FOR HOME USE.

Montreal, Aug. 1.—Since the beginning of the present week 450 gallons of impure milk have been seized at the different railway stations throughout the city, and have been unceremoniously dumped into convenient sewers.

The milk was seized by inspectors of the city pure food department who were appointed to the different depots only last Monday. How well they have done their work and how absolutely necessary they were, Dr. A. J. C. Hood emphasized this morning.

According to the reports of the station milk inspectors, the milk confiscated came into every city depot, the Windsor, Bonaventure, Place Viger and Mile End and they were consigned to various parts of the city.

In many cases the milk was absolutely sour and in one case the inspectors confiscated several cans of milk which had been left standing on the station platform for over four hours, when the city's pure food by-laws distinctly states that the limit of time a can of milk may be left on a railway platform awaiting removal is half an hour.

There was no doubt, Dr. Hood said this morning, that the placing of the extra inspectors at the city depots was working much good. Each of the station inspectors has a testing appliance, and tests are made on the spot to determine the milk's temperature and percentage of acidity.

Under ordinary circumstances, the milk condemned for human consumption was chemically treated, so that it could be used for feeding animals but even this practice has been abolished and now every drop of bad or "going bad" milk seized is poured into the nearest sewers.

FIVE SEAMEN THOUGHT LOST, TURN UP SAFELY.

Vancouver, B.C., August 1—A despatch from Prince Rupert announces the safe arrival there of Captain Helstrom and four members of the crew of the Seattle halibut schooner Welding, which went ashore on Frederick Island, July 23rd. These five men returned to the stranded ship when the othere 29 of the crew were taken to safety, and it was feared they had perished in a storm that swept the coast a few days ago. The captain reports the Welding is a total loss.

NEGRO HUNGER STRIKER REFUSES EVEN CHICKEN

Berlin, Ont., Aug. 1.—Jos. Wood, a negro, who was sentenced here to six months for vagrancy, is on a hunger strike at the county jail. Even when Jailer Cook offered him chicken and a slice of watermelon, the prisoner stubbornly resisted this choice menu.

If he persists in starving himself the authorities will use forcible methods to make him eat. His strike has lasted for over two days, but being of a strong constitution he has not weakened.

ARBITRATION UNLIKELY IN I.C.R. DISPUTE

NOTHING TO ARBITRATE FOR RAILWAY MANAGEMENT, SAYS MINISTER.

Ottawa, Aug. 1—The Minister of Labor is not expected to accede to the request of the Intercolonial Employes' Brotherhood for a board of conciliation in their dispute with the management. The case is an unusual one inasmuch as one of the parties to it is the Government itself as represented by the Minister of Railways, the heads of the Government railway system.

NOTHING TO ARBITRATE.

The Hon. Frank Cochrane is not given to saying much, but his position in this matter is pretty well understood. It is believed to be against the proposal of arbitration for the good and sufficient reason that there is nothing to arbitrate, at least from the point of view of the management of the road.

The employes asked for an increase in wages and improved conditions. Their request has been conceded. In consequence the vital question arising in all such arbitrations is already determined.

All that remains is the issue as to whether railway employes engaged in secretarial or similar work which is essentially confidential shall belong to the union. The management says no, and it is believed that the minister takes this view.

Furthermore, if a board of arbitration decided that such a system, though it obtains on no other road, was proper it is to be doubted if the I. C. R. head would agree to it.

One Department Affected.

In ordinary cases of applications for a conciliation board, if one party refuse to nominate a representative on such board, the Labor Department may do it. The present case is different with one department a party to the issue. If, as seems likely, Mr. Cochrane declines to arbitrate on the remainder of the dispute, it is little to be expected that his colleague, the Minister of Labor, will go over his head and appoint a representative of the department of railways on the conciliation board and proceed to arbitrate any way.

Another noteworthy point is that the application is under the old Labor and Cinciliation Act, which, though applicable to the I. C. R., thereby differing from the Industrial Disputes Act, is very limited in its scope and powers.

It seems today that no arbitration will either be consented to by one minister or granted by another.

The outcome, of course, cannot be forecasted, but it is not believed here that there will be any strike. The great mass of the affected employes are prepared to concede the impropriety of confidential clerks and secretaries belonging to the unions.

PROSPECTS OF STRIKE GROWING MORE GRAVE.

Halifax, N.S., August 1—Prospects of a strike on the Intercolonial Railway are hourly growing more grave. "It is up to Ottawa," said Grand President Mosher, of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employes, when informed tonight of the probable decision to refuse the men's application for a conciliation board. "If we are prohibitive for a settlement of our grievances by means of arbitration, we will reluctantly have to decide them by force. I sincerely hope that if this is Hon. Mr. Cochrane's decision, he will change it very shortly. But if arguments cannot convince him, we must resort to something more substantial."

MILITANT INSISTS ON MARTYRDOM

MRS. WYAN CONTINUES TO REFUSE ALL FOOD AT NURSING HOME.

London, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Mary Wyan, the militant suffragette, who was released from Holloway jail after a hunger strike, although she protested against her release unless it was made unconditionally, and the government "undertook its responsibilities," has adopted a new form of protest against the refusal of the government to grant votes to women.

Mrs. Wyan is continuing the hunger strike she adopted in prison, and says she will keep it up until the militants triumph.

She has refused food since she was sent on Saturday last to a nursing home in the West End in charge of female wardresses from Holloway jail.

I know a man who because his house was struck by lightning decided that he wasn't intended for a landlord, and refused to ever own another, even though he got it at a bargain. Weather outlook's good today."

BREAKS IN THE MAIN.

The citizens of Quebec as a whole are beginning to get tired of the frequent breaks in the water main and the situation produced by the consequent lack of water. There is nothing more wretched than to be deprived of water for hours on end with all the attendant inconvenience, annoyance and sordidness of these occasions

It is true that measures have been taken of late to do repairs to the main with much greater speed than was possible before. But, even with these advantages, whenever a break occurs, it always means a delay of hours before the service is functioning properly again. Steps should be taken, therefore, to find out what is the cause of these continual breaks. It may be that some of them are due to the work which is being carried on in the laying of the new aqueduct. If that is so, then greater care should be exercised by the contractors and their workmen. It is a case where prevention should be better than cure.

THE KING'S PRIZEMAN.

It would be a fine act of courtesy and appreciation on the part of the Quebec marksmen if they were to extend some kind of a reception to Private Hawkins of Toronto who won the King's Prize at Bisley this year. There are a large number of keen shots in this city whose enthusiasm for this useful and excellent recreation is boundless and who have gained Quebec a good reputation as a city of good shots in whatever competitions they have taken part. These men have accomplished much under difficulties and they know well by experience what practice and what qualities are necessary if they are to make a good showing on the targets. To them, then, the victory of Private Hawkins will have a far greater significance than it will have for the ordinary individual.

By defeating the best shots of the whole world the Torontonian has brought credit on the Dominion generally. He has done his share in proving that the younger nations still produce "the men that can ride and shoot."

THE NON-MILITANTS.

The non-militant suffragettes are beginning to make themselves heard in England now. In imitation of the American sisterhood they have organized processions all the way from Land's End to join O'Groat's, converging upon London, and last Saturday a service was held at St. Paul's Cathedral and this was followed by a demonstration in Hyde Park. Needless to say, this movement is regarded with all the more respect because of the contrast which it affords to the organized lunacy of the militants. It will probably be found that these quieter advocates of woman's suffrage who believe in constitutional agitation will greatly outnumber the shrieking termagants who make disturbances out of all proportion to their numerical strength. And it will also probably be found that if the advocates of woman sufffrage, both militant and non-militant, were placed on one side and all those women who do not want the vote placed on the other, the latter would outnumber the former by ten to one.

THE BRITISH MANUFACTURER

The Boston Transcript makes the remark that "American manufacturers and exporters are so often lectured in consular reports and similar publications for not acquainting themselves with the customs, habits and tastes of foreign people whose patronage they solicit that it must be refreshing to them to see British manufacturers coming in for censure as guilty of the same shortcoming."

The remark is evidently provoked by the fact that Mr. C. Hamilton Wickes, British Trade Commissioner for Canada, has recently in a report to the Imperial Board of Trade reproached the manufacturers of the United Knigdom for neglecting the Dominion market and for an astonishing mixture of ignorance of and indifference to the needs and ways of Canadians. Not many British firms are represented by agencies in Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg. While Canada sends many "buyers" to Great Britain, British drummers are not numerous in the Dominion. British manufacturers, in spite of all remonstrances, will invoice in pounds, shillings and pence, and express discounts in the same, a practice which to Canadians is not only annoying but clumsy. Mr. Wickes thinks that if the British exporters would put more energy into their methods and bring them up to date, they would greatly increase their sales in Canada and would check the increase of volume in the commerce between the Dominion and the United States.

London editors are surprised to learn from Mr. Wickes that the proportion of Canadian imports coming from the United States is 65.5 per cent., while Great Britain furnishes only 20.3 per cent. Last year Canada took American goods and products valued at $450,000,000, or more than three times the aggregate of its importations from the United Kingdom. "British preference" does not check the growing preponderance of the United States in the Canadian market. Indeed, the percentage of British imports has fallen from 27.6 per cent. in 1897, the year when the preference was established, to 20.3 in 1912-1913, whereas the American percentage has risen in the same time from 53-5 to 65.5.

AN IMPOSSIBLE STRIKE.

If the redoubtable Sylvia Pankhurst, stern daughter of a severe mother, thinks that she can go very far with her "sleep strike," she is destined to disappointment.

The young lady may force herself to stay awake a night or two, but the inevitable defeat will soon come. Sleep is the most insistent of all human needs and it is powerful enough to overcome any determination not to yield to it. Hunger and even thirst can be endured for longer than lack of that marvellous and inexplicable thing so well called "tired nature's sweet restorer." Militancy can command much but not exemption from that.

THE GERMAN MARKET.

One of the present world-wonders is the development of German industrialism. In little more than a quarter of a century Germany has advanced from the rear among the manufacturing countries to a position very near the front and in some branches of manufacturing industries it occupies the foremost place. In the course of a few more years Germany's supremacy over both Britain and the United States as a manufacturing country is not unlikely to be established.

In recent years there has been comparatively little emigration from the Fatherland, for owing to the expansion of its industries employment could be found at home for the rapidly increasing population. Of the German population of sixty-five millions a far larger proportion than ever before in the history of the country is employed in manufacturing industries and a small proportion is employed in agriculture.

That she has begun to look to Canada for food supplies is made clear by the rapid growth of Canadian exports to Germany. For some years trade between the two countries was held in check by the tariff war which Germany began with the hope of coercing Canada to withdraw the preferential tariff in her favor. Her attempt having failed, she had shown a desire to cultivate closer trade relations with this country, not only because she desires the Canadian market for her manufactures but also because she needs Canadian foodstuffs. The marked effect in the trade of the two countries caused by the cessation of the tariff war is seen in the following trade figures:

In 1908 the value of Canada's exports to Germany was only 7,076,000 marks, or about $1,790,000; last year it was 58,130,000, or about $14,500,000. In 1908 Canada bought from Germany goods to the value of 20,302,000 marks, or about $5,000,000; last year the value of German exports to Canada was 54,254,000, or about $13,500,000. This expansion of trade should and doubtless will continue. The German market is worth cultivating.

PRESS COMMENT.

In all the Dominion Immigration Department literature circulated in Britain there is the warning, prominently displayed: "Farmers, farm laborers and female domestic servants are the only people whom the Canadian Immigration Department advises to go to Canada. All others should get definite assurance of employment in Canada before leaving home, and have enough money to support them for a time in case of disappointment." The immigration authorities would be doing less than their duty if they failed to publish such a caution to intending emigrants. Canada has for years been absorbing without congestion, or serious non-employment, all English-speaking labor presenting itself. It was only last Summer that Western Boards of Trade and City Councils passed resolutions and otherwise made representations to the Immigration Department that the shortage of labor made it advisable to encourage by official assistance the migration of British general labor. Perhaps the publication of such reports, bearing out on paper the actual dearth of general labor that existed, led to an unusual emigration of labor other than for farm and domestic service purposes. In the year ending March 31, 1913, only 19 per cent. of the British emigrants to Canada, Australia, New Zealand and the United States were agricultural. Skilled trades furnished 32 per cent., general labor 25 per cent., and commercial and professional lines 15 per cent. The British statistics show that 185,349 persons emigrated to Canada, 92,629 to Australia and New Zealand, and 94,176 to the United States. If in the emigration to Canada the same ratio of trade classification obtained as to the four countries, this country absorbed three times as many non-agricultural Britishers as agricultural. If a contraction of business on account of the money stringency is likely to produce a reaction in our power of putting such non-agricultural newcomers at useful employment without delay, it would be well to give intending emigrants even more direct warning than is habitually posted by the Dominion immigration authorities.—Mail and Empire.

WATER SERVICE FROM CHICAGO TO THE GULF.

Chicago, August1—The first regular waterway service between the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico will be inaugurated before September 1, according to the plans announced today by a Chicago transportation company. The proposed service will be for both passengers and freight.

The plans of the company provide for the transporting of freight and passengers from Chicago to La Salle, Ills., by barges, routed through the drainage canal and the Illinois and Michigan canal. At La Salle a transfer will be made from the barges to steamers, which will continue down the Illinois and Mississippi rivers to New Orleans.

KRUPP AGENT TESTIFIES IN BERLIN COURT MARTIAL.

Berlin, August. 1—The greater part of the second day of the court martial which is trying four lieutenants, the chief clerk and two non-commissioned officers of the ordnance corps, on the charge of accepting bribes for giving information of pending government contracts for arms and ammunition, was spent in hearing the testimony of a former agent in Berlin named Bradt, of the Krupp works, The witness is being detained in prison awaiting trial later before the civil court on a charge of bribery.

Brandt, who is an ex-army officer, tsstified that on beginning his work in Berlin for the Krupp Company he spent extra sums of money, amounting from $25 to $100 monthly, for which an itemized account was not rendered. Later, he said, an arrangement was made with the company by which he received a yearly remuneration for expenses of $533, which he used "in associating with comrades."

Emperor Wilhelm is taking a deep interest in the trial, and daily receives a detailed report of the proceedings.

Mrs. Jarley's Wax Works... .....
Group: Sneezing Gypsy, Dancing Lady, Japanese Lady, Mrs. Winslow, May Queen, Italian Organ Grinder, Simple Simon, and Lord Roberts.

Every item was thoroughly enjoyed by those present, and those taking part had to respond to many an encore, especially so in the Working Tableau, when the audience beheld how rapidly various sorts of house work can be performed when assisted by the lively strains of "We'el May the Keel Row.

The entertainment was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

ELUCIDATED.

"Henry, it says here that Mr. Jackson pelted the pill for three sacks. What does it mean?"

"Good heavens, Mary, can't you understand plain English? It means that he slugged the sphere safe and landed on the third pillow."——Chicago Record-Herald.

UNCLE WALT MASON'S DAILY PROSE POEM

MODERN GIRLS.

Our modern girls are talented in fifty-seven ways; I'm full of admiration when I watch their skilful plays. One damsel wears her brother's clothes and at the tennis court convinces all the lookers on that she's a nifty sport; another drives a motor car with wondrous grace and ease, and runs down a pedestrian and breaks him at the knees; another takes her fountain pen and writes a gripping book; they all are wonders in their way, but mighty few can cook! I read of girls on aeroplanes, and girls who practise law, and dentist girls who dig the teeth from out your aching jaw; and preacher girls, and painter girls are everywhere I look; they're demonstrating lots of things—but mighty few can cook. And in a million gloomy homes good grub is being spoiled, and wives are busy frying things which rightly should be boiled; they're busy baking loaves of bread as hard as brick or stone; they ruin everything they touch, while heartsick husbands groan; they do not know a chicken from a buzzard or a rook; they're great on elocution, but they don't know how to cook. Oh, I am full of sympathy, my good old bosom aches, for husbands who must fill themselves with charred and stringy steaks, who once had dreams of pleasant home and cheerful inglenook, and hooked up with the gifted girls who never learned to cook.—Walt Mason.

LOVE.

Love's pictured as a little chap,
A little chap he may be,
At any rate his troubles seem
The troubles of a baby.
He must be fed so tenderly,
This winsome, wee gossoon,
And often he spends hours and hours
A-crying for the moon.

A BOOM TO HUMANITY

Read the following letter
Re SANOL
From Prof. Auguste Dereume.

Altona, Man., July 7th, 1913.

To The Sanol Manufacturing Co., Ltd., 975 Main St., Winnipeg, Man.

Dear Sirs:

These few lines are to add to my testimony in regard to the benefits derived from your SANOL; although still ailing from lumbago through the lack of proper care of myself I find SANOL a panacea not to equal it for instant relief from excesses of uric acid in the blood. The trouble with many of our people we do not give the treatment long enough a trial to make a cure, and sometimes people quit taking the medicine when they should continue taking it until all the symptoms of pains in the loins, or rheumatic pains have left them.

I have recommended the SANOL to an old friend of mine who is about 70 years old, and who was troubled with his inability to pass water without experiencing excruciating pains. After having taken two bottle of SANOL he got relief; he then ordered a half dozen bottles from your Company, and I told him if he would continue he would get better altogether, which to my delight he does.

I have, certainly, no flattery to make, but it is my duty to report it to the skeptic public that do not believe in a scientific epoch-making panacea for kidney trouble.

May you live long to manufacture SANOL, and help suffering humanity.

SANOL, positive cure for gall stones, kidney and bladder troubles, gravel, rheumatic pains, and ailments or uric acid origin. Price $1.50.

SANOL'S ANTIDIABETES, only positive cure for Diabetes. Price $2.00.

CURRENCY BILL IS OUT OF COMMITTEE

ONLY SLIGHT CHANGES MADE IN DRAFT FAVORED BY PRESIDENT WILSON.

Washington, Aug. 1—Consideration of the administration currency bill was practically concluded tonight by the Democrats of the House Banking and Currency Committee after more than five weeks' of constant and stormy discussion. The bill was ordered closed and reprinted, and on Monday the Democratic committee members, will take a formal vote on recommending the easure to the Democratic caucus. It will go the caucus with the disapproval of at least three members of the committee, it was practically certain tonight.

As closed tonight, the bill differs little in its essentials from the administration measure framed by Representative Glass, Chirman Owen, Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, and approvode by President Wilson. The complete government control of the federal reserve board, which will direct the new banking and currency system, deemed by the President the all-important factor of the bill, was retained. At the eleventh hour, however, the Democratic members of the committee incorporated in the bill an amendment providing for an advisory board of bakers ton "advise" the federal reserve board. This amendment was in the nature of a compromise with the banking interests, which protested vigorously against the exclusively governmental feature of the control of the board.

Another important amendment incorporated in the bill altered the rediscount section conferring the power to require federal reserve banks to mutually rediscount paper.

Change Division of Earnings.

A change was made in the division of the earnings of the federal reserve bank created by the law. Originally, these banks were allowed a yearly cumulative dividend of 5 per cent and a surplus equal to 20 per cent of the paid-in capital stock. All earnings above these amounts reverted to the Government. As amended, the balance of earnings after the 5 per cent dividend and the 20 per cent surplus will be paid, 60 per cent to the Government, to be used as a sinking fund to reduce the national debt, and 40 per cent to be divided among the member banks in proportion to their balances in the federal reserve bank concerned.

In the reserve section the committee reduced the period during which a bank must hold a 25 per cent reserve against deposits from 26 months to 60 days. As finally passed, the reserve section requires that after a period of gradual changes the country banks must keep their 15 per cent reserves either in their own vaults or in the federal reserve bank of the district in which it is located.

By a vote of 7 to 5 the conference today struck from the bill a provision previously ordered inserted forbidding interlocking directorates between banks. It was stricken out on representations that the President believed it should be considered apart from general currency legislation.

The so-called "insurgent amendments" to the bill, providing for currency on warehouse receipts for cotton, corn and wheat, were voted down today by a viva voce vote, with little discussion. Representative Ragsdale and Representative Henry, of Texas, will carry the fight for these amendments to the floor of the Democratic caucus, however.

QUITE A MISTAKE.

A gentleman given to habits of extravagance found himself in the bankruptcy court, and was severely questioned by the presiding official.

"At what precise date did you first find yourself in trouble?" asked the judge.

"I beg your pardon, I do not understand," replied the gentleman, with a puzzled air.

"The question is a simple one," sharply. "Please answer it. At what precise time did your trouble begin?"

With an air of the utmost perplexity, the gentleman gazed round the court until his wandering eyes fell upon the anxious countenances of his creditors, when, with a genial wave of his hand in their direction, he said, pleasantly:

"Oh, you must mean these gentlemen's troubles. I can't say I've ever had any myself."

And on thinking the matter over, the judge agreed with the bankrupt's opinion.—Tid-Bits.

QUITE TRUE TO NATURE.

"What is it which a cat and no other animal has?" inquired the teacher.

One pupil answered immediately: "Fur."

"Haw-haw!" guffawed another pupil. "Rabbits and moles have fur!"

"I know, teacher!" exclaimed No. 3. "Whiskers!"

"Haw-haw!"—this from No. 2 again. "Father has whiskers!"

"My pa ain't."

"'Course he hasn't," retorted No. 2. "Haw-haw! Your father's no good! Now, my father—"

"Silence!" cried the teacher. "Can't any one tell me what a cat has which no other animal can have?"

A little girl timidly held up her hand.

"Well, Eva?" smiled the teacher encouragingly.

"Kittens!" replied Eva.

And the little girl went to the top of the class—although she did not give the answer the teacher intended—Answers.

Correspondence

LADY OF GASPE WRECK.

Quebec, 1st August. 1913.

To the Editor of the Chronicle.

Sir,—Since the unfortunate accident which occurred to our steamer, the Lady of Gaspe, on the night of July 28th, we have had lots to do to float our vessel, and it is only now, when she is safe in the port, that we have a complete account of the accident and are in a position to reply to certain erroneous declarations which have been published in almost all the Montreal and Quebec newspapers by a certain Mr. Horner.

The gentleman declares that the passengers who tried to enter the lifeboats knocked up against barrels and packages, which the boats contained. Apparently he is not aware that the law obliges us to have in each boat two barrels full of fresh water, lanterns, axes, six oars, a compass, life preservers, etc., which were the packages alluded to by Mr. Horner.

As regards the other declaration "that there was not one lifeboat on board the Lady of Gaspe that was not in a deplorable condition, that they made water and that all were unfit for the work they were intended for." To contradict this version we have the annexed certificate from Mr. Duclos, steamer inspector, which clearly shows the falsity of this assertion.

Cool people will easily understand that Mr. Horner, still under the effects of his great scare at the time of the accident, allowed himself to be entertained by all the newspaper representatives, before having completely regained his faculties; this is probably the only way in which he can explain his conduct.

We must also add that the first boat to leave the Lady of Gaspe, with thirty passengers on board, was one of her own boats in charge of the first mate, contrary to what he affirms.

We invite the public and representatives of all these newspapers to pay a visit to the Lady of Gaspe to examine the boats and all the life saving appliances, so as to see for themselves what Mr. Horner's declarations are worth.

We are all of us captains and have a certain experience in navigation and we seize this opportunity to declare that we are perfectly satisfied with the conduct of Captain Vezina and all his officers after the accident.

The public will understand, we hope, the enormous difficulty of getting passengers in boats, during a very dark night in the midst of a thick fog, with a large number of excited passengers, who impede the crew in their work, notwithstanding the coolness displayed by the latter.

We especially wish to convey our thanks to the residents of Cap Madeleine who devoted themselves in a most praiseworthy manner in attending to the wants and comforts of the women and children who were saved from the wreck.

We also most sincerely thank the passengers who gave a helping hand during the saving of the passengers.

We would be very thankful to you, Mr. Editor, to publish the few above remarks in your paper, as well as the Government inspector's certificate.

Yours respectively,

BOUCHARD & FRERES,
Proprietors and Managers.

BOATS ALL RIGHT, SAYS GOVERNMENT INSPECTOR

Quebec, 1st August, 1913.

I, the undersigned, do declare that I went on board S.S. Lady of Gaspe on 8th April last and that I inspected that steamer's lifeboats, including two new steel boats, 20 feet long, which had not yet been in use, another steel boat in excellent condition and two wooden boats, 22 feet in length, one of the latter having been renewed in March last, the five boats being all water tight, in perfect order and provided with all the apparatus required by law.

I also examined these same boats after the collision between the Lady of Gaspe and the Crown of Cordova on the 28th of July.

I certify that they are all in perfect order and I therefore give the above certificate.

(Signed) PHILIPPE DUCLOS,
Government Hull Inspector.

DECLINING BIRTH RATE HUGE NATIONAL PROBLEM.

The decline in birth rate so long observed in France is beginning to worry England. In a recent study of the subject by Sydney Webb the following conclusions are formulated: (1) The decline in birth rate is greatest in those sections of the population that give proof of thrift and foresight; (2) the decline is principally, if not wholly, due to deliberate restriction in the marriage state; (3) this state of affairs is not due to any alteration of the ages of the population, nor to the number or proportion of the married women, nor to the depopulation of the country districts and consequent centralization in the towns; (4) it is equally definite all over the country, and, in fact, every civilized country with the exception of Russia and Japan, shows the same conditions as England; (5) the condition does not prevail in Jewish and Irish Roman Catholic communities.

These conclusions apply not only to England, but to almost all the civilized world. They show it to be a deliberate refusal of parentage on the part of those best fitted economically to be parents, while those to whom parentage entails much self-denial continue to accept its burdens. If the educated and thrifty classes continue to commit "race suicide" and leave the poor immigrants to populate the land "the imagination," in the words of the Medical Record, "does not have to make a very great leap to foresee a national problem of huge proportions."

FINLEY STAR AT CANADIAN HENLEY

NEW DON SCULLER WINS IN JUNIOR AND INTERMEDIATE EVENTS.

St. Catharines, Ont., Aug. 1.—The Canadian Henley opened here today, with almost perfect weather. It was not too hot, and the light breeze did not chop the course or in any way interfere with the races.

Only five finals were reached in the course of the afternoon, and it would scarcely be correct to refer to any of them as surprises. Thomas Finley, the new Don sculler, who is regarded by many as a comer, won the junior and intermediate events. He rowed his races with good judgment. He made his initial appearance in the first heat of the singles, when he seemed a little anxious. He took a commanding lead at the start and had two lengths at the turn. On the way back he did not exert himself, and Greenwood of St. Catharines was only a length behind at the finish.

In the finals, Harcourt, of the Argonauts, got a good lead, but Finley caught him half a mile from the finish and rowed away from him, coming in with a three length lead. Gardiner, the husky Boston man, was a disappointment and finished third in the first heat.

In the intermediates Finley did even better than in the junior. He had a hard fight with Neer of Detroit, the latter crossing the line three-quarters of a length behind him, but the time was very fast, being better than that made by Bobbie Dibble, when he registered his sensational triple win last year.

The Argonaut 140-pound eight had little difficulty in winning its final, rowing right away from Hamilton. The Britannias made an excellent showing in the junior fours, and won their final in an exciting finish. Of course the St. Catharines victory in the working boat four was a popular one.

Ottawa Juniors Beaten.

The surprise of the afternoon was the defeat of the Ottawa junior eight, which was so well regarded by the members of the club that it had a large following. It made a very poor showing, and although it finished second in its heat, the crew only got that position on account of an accident to the Argonaut boat, No. 7 breaking his oar lock. The Argonaut juniors showed up unexpectedly well, and they were in front when the lock broke. Hamilton took advantage of the piece of bad luck and won by three lengths.

Detroit had a hard time winning from the Dons in their heat, only getting home with a third of a length to the good. They are picked as the likely winners of the finals.

Junior singles, first heat—Thomas Finley, Don R. C., won; A. H. Greenwood, St. Catharines R. C., second; W. T. Gardiner, Boston R. C., third; D. Roberts, Argonauts, fourth. Time, 10:19.

GARDENS OF OLD CHELSEA

Chelsea, which is again to steal from the Inner Temple the Royal Horticultural Society's show, is more than any other London suburb the paradise of gardeners. One of these, who lived in the King's road in 1837, is credited in a book of popular delusions with pricing a single tulip in his catalogue at 200 guineas—" a remnant, perhaps, of the tulip raising mania which two centuries before had ruined half of the merchants of Holland and threatened to prove as disastrous as the South Sea Bubble." The first red geranium grown on English soil was reared in the garden of a Mr. Davis in 1822.—London Chronicle.

Montenegrin Surgery — Healing a Duellist's Wound by Pouring in Rakija—Observances for the Dead.

(W. P. Pycraft, in the Illustrated London News.)

When the Montenegrins took Europe by surprise and plunged into war, leaving their sister States still shivering on the brink, they entered the fray armed with the most modern weapons. One wondered at the time whether they had in like manner adopted the latest methods of dealing with their wounded, for until lately, at any rate, they were content to follow the old-time Scriptural usage of oil and wine. Herein was displayed more science than they realized. On no account would a native surgeon use water in dressing a wound, but cleanses the injured part with strong wine, or a spirit called rakija; and the people will recount with pride the number of desperate cases which have thus been cured.

One in particular is never forgotten. This was furnished by two duellists, one of whom received a sword-cut which slashed through three ribs. This terrible wound was first washed with white wine, a quantity was poured into the body through the "envious rent," and the man was rolled backwards and forwards; then the work of nursing him back to health began, and was successfully accomplished! Another tells how he was shot through the lungs in the battle of Vucidol so long ago as 1876 and was taken to the Russian hospital, where he got "worse and worse." The doctor finally told him he must cut another hole in him between two ribs, but, he remarks, "as I had two holes in me already, I thought this was very stupid, and I knew I should die if this were done, so I asked the black sister to tell my people to come and save me." They came, bringing his wife, who took the poor emaciated sufferer and carried him as if he had been a baby. They poured rakija, he tells us, "in at my top wound, and some of it ran out at the other hole." Then the black sister came and put the bandages on. "They poured rakija into me very often, and the wound got well, and in a year I was strong." He is now a hale old man, and remarks that he has drunk rakija ever since, and no wine, for it is firmly believed that whichever you are dressed with wine or rakija—that you must always drink in future.

In their observances for the dead they are no less singular, and for an account of these we are indebted to the vivid narrative of Miss Edith Durham, who spent some months among these most primitive but interesting people. She had the privilege of being present at something like an Irish wake on one occasion. In this case there was only the semblance of a body, the dead youth having been killed while fighting with the Russian army in Manchuria, and the news of his fate only reached his native village six months after his death. But he was duly mourned after the custom of his people. On a bier his clothes and weapons were laid; and this done, his relatives and neighbors began their mourning. They met at some distance from the house and came in procession—first the men, then the women. When within a hundred yards of the house, they began the death-wail: an awful, wailing, rhythmical chant—"Woe, woe to us, Stevo, O my brother!" The cry was taken in a quick breath which rapidly became a convulsive sib, and by the time they had reached the house all were in a state bordering on frenzy. The men then hurled themselves into the room and danced madly in front of the corpse, or what should have been, leaping a yard high, thumping their breasts with their great fists, and yelling frightfully. With tears streaming they threw themselves on the dummy corpse, almost fighting to kiss it. Meanwhile the mother and sisters in the background sang the praises of their dead boy.

The men were allowed five minutes of this ecstacy of grief, then the priest came forward and said: "Brothers! you have wept enough, make way for others." They withdrew, some reeling with exhaustion; then came the women, who followed the same observances, save that they did not jump. And so, village by village, came the whole tribe to which he belonged. Some did not even know the poor boy's name, and had to be coached in the details before beginning to wail, but they sobbed as bitterly as any. Going home the mourners compared notes as to who had cried best.

At the burying, apples, bits of bread, and quantities of rags are thrown into the grave, with fragments torn from the mourners' clothes. In remote districts even today both men and women tear their faces with their nails, that they may mingle their tears with blood in token of their grief, though the practice has been forbidden and has fallen into disuse in the larger villages.

The Montenegrins, it may be remarked, belong to the Serbo-Croats, one of the Southern Slav groups, in which must be included the Bulgarians—a people who, however, are really of Turco-Finnish origin, but their Slavonisation dates back some ten centuries.

The present reigning family are Petroviches, and trace their origin back to the fifteenth century in the person of one Jerak, who, with his brother Riach, founded the two greatest houses in Montenegro—the Jerakoviches and the Riachoviches.

MENTAL LAZINESS MAKES BOYS LEAVE SCHOOL EARLY

That the boys and young men of today are afflicted with mental laziness is the opinion expressed by the American Machinist. It says at least half the boys the country over leave school at fourteen.

On the other hand, the majority of employers who have work to offer which is fit for these boys do not want them until they are at least sixteen years old and many not until they are eighteen. The amount of money which boys up to these ages can earn is certainly not in any degree an equivalent for the education which they should obtain in school.

The almost universal plea on the part of the children is that they hate school and want to work. What does this mean? What part of school life do they hate and what part of shop life do they crave?

The American Machinst answers that the largest cause of this defection is a lack of willingness to think and to take responsibility—in other words mental laziness. The fourteen-year-old boy gets only work that is almost automatic, which needs no thought for its performance. Only when he begins to think does he get advancement. Consequently many never rise and others only slowly.

REVISED ATLANTIC LANES.

Following the sinking of the Titanic lanes for summer travel across the Atlantic, running about sixty miles south of the point where this disaster occurred, were adapted temporarily by the transatlantic steamship lines. A permanent arrangement has now been made by which the summer routes will run only thirty miles south of this point, as the American revenue cutters Seneca and Miami and the British vessel Scotia are to act as ice scouts and give warning to approaching vessels. During the summer, which is the period of greatest danger from icebergs, the east-bound route will cross the meridian of forty-seven degrees (west of Greenwich) in latitude forty degrees, thirty minutes north, while the north-bound route will cross the same meridian in latitude forty-one degrees, thirty minutes north. These routes will be in effect until September, when winter routes, lying about two degrees, thirty minutes north of the summer routes, will probably be adopted.—Popular Mechanics.

TWO OF MORGAN'S HOUSES IN ENGLAND TO BE SOLD.

London, Aug 1—Two of the English houses of the late J. Pierpont Morgan will hortly be on the market. The size of Mr. Morgan's art collection in London necessitates the renting of a house next door to the residence he inherited from his father at No. 13 Prince's Gate. The transferring of the greater part of the collection to New York left no use for that house, which is No. 14. It is now being disconnected from No. 13 and will shortly be offerd for the remainder of the Morgan lease.

Mrs. Pierpont Morgan has been staying at No. 13 recently, but has now on the Continent.

The beautiful suburban mansion, Dover Lodge, at Roehampton, which overlooks Richmond Park, on which Mr. Morgan spent large sums, is also to be put up for sale, as the family finds no use for it. It is expected that this house can be sold very profitably, for not only has it been modernized without interfering with its old-fashioned charasteristics and decorations, but houses on the Roehampton district have gone up greatly in value and are much sought by fashionable people.

INTRODUCING NEW CLOCK.

The British postal authorities, in order to educate the public into counting the hours of the day from 1 to 24, have decided to introduce special clocks at the general post office in London. The hours are to be counted in the ordinary way from midnight to noon, but at midday a new clock face will automatically cover the other and will show the hours numbered from 13 to 24.

WAGON CAPSIZES, TWO MEN HURT

HORSE FELL ON MOUTAIN HILL, OCCUPANTS HAD A NARROW ESCAPE.

Mr. George Mulcair, of the firm of Mulcair Bros., grocers, and a young man with whom he was driving, had a narrow escape yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

They were driving down Mountain Hill, when their horse stumbled and fell, capsizing the wagon. Mr. Mulcair was thrown from the vehicle on to the street, while the young man who was in company with him fell under the wagon and was pinned to the ground.

Passers-by rushed to his aid, and lifted up the wagon, releasing the victim from his critical position. He was taken into Le Soleil office, where his injuries were attended to. He complained of his left shoulder and side being very stiff and painful. His neck was considerably lacerated.

Mr. Mulcair said he felt badly shaken up and was sore all over his body.

Although the horse fell heavily, it appeared to have only a few scratches after it had been got on to its feet by the spectators. The wagon received considerable damage.

BEFORE THE RECORDER.

Five prisoners, charged with drunkenness, appeared before the Deputy Recorder yesterday They were condemned to fines varying from $2 and costs to $5 and costs respectively. One arrested for loitering, complained of being in ill-health and was sent to the jail for eight days, at his own request.

BEFORE POLICE COURT ON SERIOUS CHARGE

Onesime Martin was arrested on the St. Foye road by the guardians of the municipality of Montcalmville on Thursday night, charged with a serious offence, indecent conduct and assaulting a woman. He was taken to the Police Court yesterday to answer for his conduct, and remanded to jail pending investigation.

FIREMEN'S GOOD WORK AT ST. JOSEPH DE LEVIS BLAZE

In regard to the fire which destroyed a barn at St. Joseph de Levis on Thursday evening last, it is only right to state that the municipality of that parish owns 1700 feet of hose, which was used on this occasion, and if the flames did not extend further it is due to the good work of about 50 volunteer firemen.

SIMS-ST. REAL.

The marriage takes place today in New York of Mademoiselle Rita Vallieres de St. Real, younger daughter of Henry B. Vallieres de St. Real, Esq., of Trois Rivieres, and granddaughter of the late Chief Justice Remy Vallieres de St. Real, to Mr. Randolph Percy Sims of Montreal.

The bride will be given away by her brother, Mr. Henry B. Vallieres de St. Real, Jr., of Ottawa.

IN THE POLICE COURT.

A boy of 11 years, from Levis, was before the Police Court yesterday charged with stealing $10 from a man named Gosselin. The young defendant pleaded not guilty, and was admitted to bail until his case comes up for trial.

A defedant from the Parish of St. Girard, Country of Quebec, was tried on the charge of vagrancy. No witnesses appeared for the defence. It was shown that several witnesses had been summoned to appear and give their evidence, who refused unless their expenses were prepaid. The hearing was conseqeuntly adjourned.

A resident of St. Agapit, charged with selling liquor without a license, was found guilty and condemned to pay a fine of $50 and costs.

FREE TRIP TO MONTREAL.

A good many people would have no objection to receive a free first-class ticket to Montreal and return. Those who use picture post cards—and who does not these days—have an opportunity of securing one if they are good at guessing.

Mr. T. H. O'Neill advertises, in another column, a free guessing contest in connection with the sale of his Premium Post Card Packets. The first person who will guess a certain number (between 1 and 250) will receive a free ticket to Montreal and return, by rail or boat. As each Premium Packet contains ten different post cards, and as these cards are sold at only 10 cents per packet, there is no risk in hazarding a guess, one guess being allowed with each packet purchased. BABY TRAVELLING ALONE TO WEST IN CHARGE OF THE ALLAN LINE.

This new addition to the population of the Dominion was just three months old. His parents are dead and he is going to relatives in the West, in charge of the Allan Line.

Although the baby had no relatives on the Corsican, he was the best cared for child on the ship, and had numerous loving and careful nurses and attendants.

CITY WITHOUT WATER ALL DAY

STREETS IN DARKNESS AS THE ELECTRIC PLANT COULD NOT MAKE STEAM

The people of Quebec were given to understand when the break in the 30-inch water main occurred Thursday night that the pipe would be repaired and the service resumed yesterday afternoon. The Waterworks Department made every effort to accommodate the public by giving water in turn to the different wards through the old 18-inch pipe, but this service was so very inadequate that the consumers were put to great inconvenience.

Last night the street lamps went out for want of water to supply the Dorchester Electric Company plant, which caused the city to be in darkness until the electric company could replenish their supply from the St. Charles River.

The Dufferin Terrace promenade was crowded with people last night to hear the R. C. G. A. Band, which had to give up playing, as the bandsmen had no light to enable them to read their music.

The water reached the city between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning.

ST. PATS AND VICTORIAS IN HOT GAME TOMORROW

When the St. Patrick's Baseball team meets the Victorias tomorrow it is probable that they will be minus the services of their clever third baseman, Jimmy Walsh, who is now away on his holidays and is not likely to return until next week.

Jimmy, who was the star defence man of the St. Patrick's hockey team last winter, is likely to be playing hockey with Sarnia next season.

There will be keen interest in the match between the Irishmen and the Victorias as the latter are said to be determined to do their utmost to take a fall out of the leaders. Though St. Pat's have two victories to their credit the margin in either case has been very small.

The batteries tomorrow will be Frezell and Loisell for St. Pat's and Levesque or Breton and Marks for George Belanger's men. The umpires in this game, which will be the second of the double-header, will be Bowen and Bruneau.

The first game, which will take place at 1:30 will be between Laval and C. B.'s. Beaule and Begin will be the battery for the Laval men and Giguere and Bernard will furnish the fireworks for the C. B.'s. The umpires will be Bowen and Belanger.

PLAN NEW THEATRE ON ST. ROCH'S SITE.

Quebec is going to have another theatre which, like several others,, will again be erected in St. Roch's. The promoters of this new show house are residents of that part of the city, among whom are Messrs. P. Allaire and Jos. De Varennes, who have purchased the properties of Messrs. Amyot and Racine, destroyed by fire on last Saturday evening. These two buildings together with the adjoining one, owned by Mr. Allaire, will be taken down and an up-to-date theatre will be erected on the site, with a frontage of 135 feet and a depth of 70 feet. Plans will be immediately drawn up by an experienced theatrical architect and it is expected that work will be commenced on the new theatre in the near future.

SIGH OF RELIEF AT FALSE ALARM

NO WATER TO FIGHT FIRE IF THERE HAD BEEN ONE ON KINGS WHARF.

A fire alarm was sounded in from box 43, located near the Kings wharf last night, which created considerable excitement in the lower town, on account of there being no water supply.

The alarm was sounded at 10 o'clock and brought all the fire apparatus from stations 3, 4, 5 and 6 to the scene, as well as the motor hose wagon from No. 1 station.

Dufferin Terrace was crowded with people at the time and the crowd, attracted by the screech of the syrens and clang of the bells, rushed to the Terrace railings to take in the sight.

The alarm was a false one, but instead of the firemen heaping imprecations upon the man who rang it in, they all breathed in great relief when they discovered that they would not be called upon to fight a burning building without water.

In the meantime the firemen took no chances on account of the water situation, and the moment the alarm was sounded the fire engine in No. 5 station were sent to the scene and it was puffing away with steam up when it reached the scene.

It was also an object lesson to the civic authorities and woke them up to what might happen if a fire broke out and there was no water to stay the spread of the flames.

LABORERS STRIKE AFTER MEN KILLED ON TRACK.

Duluth, Minn., August 1—Three laborers are known to have been killed, two were fatally injured, four were badly hurt and a score more are unaccounted for, as the result of a collision of ore trains at the Allouz ore docks last night. The men are indignant over the accident, and 250 dock hands struck.

The accident is blamed to careless switching. A moving ore train ran into a standing train, throwing the workmen into ore pockets and covering them with ore. All the ambulances in the city and a dozen doctors were summoned.

The dock managers ordered work resumed, but the foreigners refused. Special police then took charge of the docks. A number of loads will be delayed unless a settlement can be arranged.

MONTREAL WINS THIRD IN FOUR

NEWARK, LEAGUE LEADERS, ARE DEFEATED BY A SCORE OF 5 TO 1.

(International League.)

Montreal, August 1—Montreal made it three out of four from the leaders by defeating Newark today, 5 to 1. Lee was hit hard in the first and eighth innings. Gilhooly's single, Yeager's double and two outs scored two runs in the opener. Lee started the eighth with his only pass. Three singles and Almedia's double followed.

Cleveland, 6; Boston, 2.

Boston, August 1—Several hundred members of the Boston Lodge of Elks who attended today's game as the guests of President McAleer of the local team, saw Cleveland defeat Boston, 6 to 2. It was known as "Elks Day" at the ball park and the guests brought a band with them. The visitors batted Leonard hard and in the third inning he was taken from the box. Errors by Gardner and Manager Carrigan were indirectly responsible for three of the visitors runs. Cullop allowed but three local players to reach first base after the third inning.

Philadelphia, August 1—St. Louis won its second successive game from Philadelphia today 5 to 3 by a batting rally in the sixth inning. Play was stopped in the eighth owing to darkness.

The start of the game was delayed owing to a light shower and Umpire Evans was obliged to call a halt in St. Louis' half of the eighth owing to darkness. In this inning Houck succeeded Bender and gave Wiliams a pass before play was stopped.

Shawkey, who started the game for Philadelphia, pitched to only one batsman. This was Shotten, who single. Bender then took his place. As Hamilton has not been successful in games against Bender this season, Manager Stovall sent Mitchel to the mound in the second inning.

PITRE IS STILL UNDER SUSPENSION

PRESIDENT QUINN, OF N. L. U., SAYS OFFENCE ISN'T EASY TO OVERLOOK.

Toronto, Aug. 1—A story coming from Montreal today to the effect that Pitre, if the Nationals, had apologized for striking Tom Humphrey and that his suspension had been lifted. President Quinn, of the Dominion Lacrosse Association denies that such is the fact. He holds that Pitre's offence cannot be overlooked so easily, and if he plays it will be in defiance of the ruling of the president of the league.

Mr. Quinn said today: "I will allow the game to be played under protest if Pitre plays. As to the Torontos, and my decision there, there is absolutely no comparison. And for the fact that R. J. Fleming controls the situation there is absolutely nothing in it. I am sorry for Saturday's fiasco, but we have forgotten about it."

This means that the Nationals would become liable to a fine and suspension. There has been such a determined effort in certain quarters here to discredit and disrupt the Big Four that the fans have undergone a revulsion of feeling in favor of the league. It is generally believed that the executive of the Nationals will act calmly in the matter. Their team may be weakened by the absence of Pitre, but he is thought to have deserved his suspension, no matter what provocation he received from Mr. Humphrey. Mr. Quinn has confidence that President Caron will guide the Nationals wisely. Interest in the meeting of the Torontos and Tecumsehs on Monday is keen, especially as last year's champions have strengthened their line-up. The general hope is that no fresh row will be precipitated in the Big Four.

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

New York, 5; Chicago, 2.

Chicago, August 1—Christy Mathewson, the idol of the New Yorkers, went to Manager McGraw's assistance today and checked the slump of the league leaders by defeating Chicago 5 to 2. Mathewson held the local bunch to five hits, only two of which were bunched, in the first inning, and he did not issue a base on balls. Whenever any of Manager Ever's men threatened to score, the New Yorker would tighten up and the runs would not mature. The visitors were playing like fiends behind Mathewson and spoiled many a hit by startling plays. Mathewson also fielded his position to the Queen's taste in the pinches.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
New York	010 100 012—5	9	2
Chicago	100 000 100—2	5	1

Mathewson and Meyers; Humphries, Moore and Bresnahan.

Philadelphia, 5; Cincinnati, 1.

Cincinnati, August 1—Cincinnati played weirdly in the field in the early innings of today's game and Philadelphia won easily 3 to 1. J. Alexander was master of the situation at all times, while the poor working of the locals placed Johnson continuously in the hole. Egan was the worst offender, making errors on every chance that he had. Kling also played poor ball from a fielding standpoint.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Philadelphia	000 310 010—5	11	0
Cincinnati	000 100 000—1	7	6

Alexander and Killifer; Johnson, Packard and Kling.

Pittsburg, 3; Brooklyn 2.

Pittsburg, August 1—Jack Miller's double, Wilson's sacrifice and Simon's single gave Pittsburg the winning run over the Dodgers in the tenth inning today. Both Allen and Adams pitched beautiful ball thought Adams was hit rather hard in the early innings. From the third inning to the finish the world's series hero of 1909, was invincible.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	000 200 000 1—3	6	1
Brooklyn	011 000 000 0—2	7	2

Adams, Gibson and Simon; Allen and Miller.

Boston, 8; St. Louis, 0.

St. Louis, August 1—Otto Hess pitched one of the best games here this afternoon, holding the home team to two hits and as a result Boston won from St. Louis 8 to 0. Doak worked for the home team today and was hard hit while his support was poor, his team mates making three errors of commission and numerous of the omission sort. Hess hit a home run over the right field fence with a man on bases.

The score:

	R.	H.	E.
Boston	000 430 100—8	11	2
St. Louis	000 000 000—0	2	3

BRADEN DIRECT IS FEATURE WINNER

FIRST START OF SEASON IS MARKED BY VICTORY AT GRAND RAPIDS.

Grand Rapids, Mich., August 1—The most featured, although not the speediest, races of the week were staged at the Grand Circuit meet here today when the four events of Thursday's card put over for a day because of rain, were decided.

Braden Direct, signalizing his first start of the season, won the free-for-all pacing event with little opposition in straight heats. The indisposition of Joe Patchen II, which precluded his starting in this race, detracted from its interest. Don Densmore was a mild contender, Evelyn W., was a consistent third and Vernon McKinney, breaking repeatedly, was distanced in the first heat.

In the deciding heat of the 2.17 pace unfinished from Wednesday, Mackthistle, with Dean up in place of Stead man, went to the post a strong favorite. Strathstorm, splendidly driven by Murphy, had the speed at the finish, however, and won by a god margin.

Six scored for the world in the Comstock $5,000 Stake, for the 2.11 pacers, with Murphy's Frank Bogash, Jr., the favorite. Bogash won the first heat, hard pressed by Grattan Royal, and the second with Cabel as the contender. Loata J., forged to the front in the third heat, while Grattan Royal, knocking his knees together through the failure of his "spreader" gear to work right, was distanced. Both Bogash and Loata J., broke on the turn into the home stretch in the fourth and Foote Prince won with Cabel at his flank. Loata J., held the lead the entire route in the fifth heat. Then, with all but the double heat winners eliminate the California mare raced Murphy's good gelding off his feet for the decision.

The 2.10 trot furnished three heat winners, with Tommy Finch, the favorite, finally prevailing. Owner G. Castle, after driving the winner the first thre heats, relinquished his seat to Murphy, whose fine handling landed Finch in front the next two heats, though closely pressed by Baron Penn and Echomore.

The meet will conclude tomorrow with the events originally secheduled for Friday. These are the 2.13 pace, 2.06 trot, and 2.16 trot.

FIVE FAVORITES ARE WINNERS AT HAMILTON

Hamilton, Ont., Aug. 1—Five favorites won here this afternoon, two of them being odds-on choices. Ten Point annexed the Niagara Handicap and Donerail, who defeated Aste's crack three-year-old in the Kentucky Derby, finished first in the Bayview purse. Both were favorites in their respective races.

At the meeting of the Canadian Racing Association this morning a number of important cases were disposed of. Owner J. W. Hedrick was reinstated upon payment of a $50 fine and A. Malone, owner of Carleton G., was also restored to good standing. A ruling was made that horses claimed in selling races must remain for 30 days in the stable of the claimant. The stewards this afternoon decided not to allow Jockey Knapp to ride at the meeting until the race in which Plate Glass was beaten is further investigated.

THUNDERSTORM STOPS N. Y.-AUSTRALIAN CRICKET GAME

New York, Aug. 1.—A violent thunderstorm interrupted this afternoon during the first innings of the two-day cricket match between the Australian eleven and All-New York fifteen at Livingston, Staten Island. The local players were dismissed in the opening innings for a total of 118 runs and the Australians had lost six wickets for 101 runs before the grounds were deluged. N. F. Hart and C. A. Worm had scores of 38 and 31 respectively for the home team, while G. C. Campbell 26, G. S. Down 24, and D. A. Arnot, not out, 19, were the men who scored double figures for the visitors.

The wicket was in fine shape until the storm broke. Mailey took six of the New York wickets for 34 runs and Crawford a similar number for 61 runs. Play will be resumed at 11 o'clock tomorrow.

FOOTBALL

The Montmorency and Empress of Britain football teams will play at Kent House grounds this afternoon. The kick-off will be at 3 o'clock.

SARATOGA HANDICAP IS OPENING DAY FEATURE

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 1.—The twenty-five-day race meet of the Saratoga Association opens here tomorrow with six events carded, the feature being the Saratoga Handicap at one mile and a quarter. Out of a field of forty-one entries originally named six are expected to go to the post. Lahore will be top weight, carrying 110 pounds, with the other entries and weights as follows: Cock O' The Walk 107, G. M. Miller 105, Bob R. 100, Rollingstone 95, Col. Holloway 92, Whisk Broom II., winner of the Metropolitan, Brooklyn and Suburban handicaps, slated to carry 135 pounds, will not start.

The Saratoga Handicap was first run in 1901 at one mile and a furlong. In 1902 the distance was increased to a mile and three-sixteenths and in 1903 to one mile and a quarter. The record for the latter distance is held by F. R. Hitchcock's Dandelion, which won the 1906 handicap in 2:04 2-5 carrying 113 pounds.

GRIFFIN VS. ARMSTRONG IN WESTERN TENNIS FINALS

Chicago, Aug. 1.—Clarence Griffin, California's latest tennis marvel, upheld the reputation of his state today by qualifying for the western championship finals through a victory in his hardest match of the tournament over William Blair, of Lake Geneva, Wis., 6-2, 7-5, 6-2.

Tomorrow in the final round, upon which, through the absence of champion Maurice McLoughlin, depends the title, Griffin will meet Joseph Armstrong of St. Paul, who today downed Harry Waidner, of Chicago, 4-6, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3.

RESERVES ROOM FOR THE WORLD'S SERIES

There is at least one man who has already made up his mind that he is going to see the next world's championship baseball series, and he does not live in the United States, either. He is J. W. Gibson of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, Quebec.

A letter was received yesterday at the Imperial from Mr. Gibson, who said that he was coming to New York to see the baseball games, and that he wanted accommodations for himself and wife for the first three weeks in October. His is the first booking that has been heard of at the hotels. —New York Times.

A PLEA FOR CHURCH UNITY

BY JUDGE SAVARY, ANNAPOLIS ROYAL, N. S., IN THE CANADIAN CHURCHMAN OF JULY 17.

As a member of the Church of England deeply interested in anything that tends to unity among Christians, I am grieved and disappointed at the attitude of the Eastern Bishops towards the appeal of the Unity League and its two definite practical proposals for a modification in that direction of the methods and practice of our Church. I am sorry on account of the Bishops themselves, because it has the effect of weakening their influence by making them appear to obstruct instead of promoting that for which the episcopate should stand, the union and solidarity of the Christion Church. My disappointment is the greater because the two proposals are the minimum concessions which we can offer our separated brethren, and involve no sacrifice of principle.

Even if the first proposal were never put into actual practice, embodied into a canon, it would be as it is in our sister American Church, a sign that we have in a small degree relaxed from that rigid and to the minds of outsiders haughty exclusiveness that deters so many worthy Christians from our fold. I do not suppose that this is a step towards an organic union, but to that unity of spirit and harmony in work that now happily prevail among the various Protestant bodies around us, and so vitally necessary for the furtherance of the cause of Christ in this practical age, when so much and such a diversity of Christian work has to be done.

Organic Union Impracticable.

Organic union of all Protestant bodies into one under one Church government is impracticable, with the infinite diversity of human mentality and temperament, nor did such a condition exist even in the primitive Church. The various churches founded by the Apostles had no one visible head or centre of unity. The action of the Bishops, I submit with deference, is about the same as if the British Parliament or, say, the House of Lords in the early part of last century had passed resolutions denouncing the Anti-Corn Law League or any other society proposing to promote by the arts of persuasion any measure which its members considered to be for the public good, or as if the British Parliament of today should denounce and seek to suppress the proposals of the Tariff Reform League, as coming from "unauthorized" or "irresponsible" persons. There is evidently nothing revolutionary or even radical in the two proposals, or uncanonical in the methods adopted for promotig them. The expressed opinion of so many strong clergy and laymen of our Church might have influence with the Synod Committee, and the Commission on Faith and Order, and ought to command the respectful attention of even the Bishops themselves. Even they who have so hastily condemned the appeal may on more mature consideration modify their views. Indeed we already have a gratifying indication of this in the recent charge of the Bishop of Nova Scotia, who said: "Occasionally when some special object is to be served, as when the laymen's Missionary Movement was first organized, and an expert can be found in one fold and not in another there can be no reasonable objection to such an one being invited with the sanction of the Bishop to speak in one of our churches." This is exactly as far as the first proposal of the appeal goes. It is surely a travesty of the proposal to call it, as many do, a plea for an absolutely "open pulpit," for that no sane Churchman can support. I was not only disappointed but surprised that the second proposal met with their Lordship's disapproval, for I cannot see in it anything opposed to the spirit of our Church's order.

More Open Communion.

I do not call this "occasional conformity," but "a more open communion." Under the name "occasional conformity," it was not deemed illegal in days when Dissenters in England came to the Holy Table from the mere wordly motive of qualifying for office, and it has also been the practice of the Church on special occasions, sanctioned by the highest authority. It is only sought to legalize what has been considered useful and proper, and extend it to those who come to us, not for a mere worldly object but to testify that they are our brethren in the service of our Common Lord, engaged each according to his own light in the promotion of His Kingdom. How much more cordially should these be welcome to our spiritual feast than those who merely came to find relief from official disabilities.

An Awful Responsibility.

Personally, on the lines of the second proposal I would go much further than the appeal. I do not see what right we have to refuse to any one except an open and notorious evil liver the Blessed Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ. Surely those who hold that its authoritative administration is in the hands so exclusively of our Church take an awful responsibility when they withhold it from any hungry and thirsty soul. St. Paul reproved certain Corinthians for claiming this or that Apostle as their favorite spiritual guide, but he did not order such offenders to be excluded from Communion. Historical research has disclosed that there were churches in primitive days which were governed by elders without a Bishop, but we cannot imagine that the members of these churches were cast off from the Body of Christ and ex-communicated.

An Old Custom.

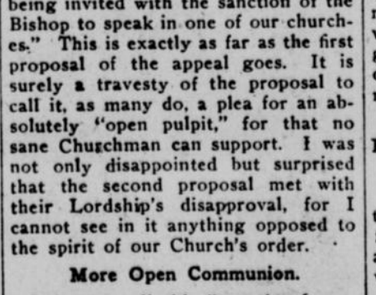

In the old town of Annapolis Royal there lived a considerable number of Presbyterians, who until they were strong enough for Church organization and the support of a pastor, partook of corporate Communion at the hands of the rector of the parish. This was assuredly done with the full knowledge and approval of the Bishop of that day. The result was that one of the leading men among them after a while formally joined the Church, was confirmed and served for years a useful churchwarden. And our Bishops today reprove us for wanting to make such action legal. It is because I believe that the adoption of the proposals, (especially the second one), conservative and restricted as they are, would largely increase the members and strengthen the influence of our beloved Church, that I earnestly hope and pray for their ultimate adoption.

Growth of Methodists.

The secret of the phenomenal growth of the Methodist body in Canada, lies, I firmly believe, in the blessing of God on her absolutely free and open Communion. When the rite is about to be administered, the minister reminds the people impressively, that this is not the Methodist Communion, but all who love the Lord Jesus Christ are freely invited to His Table. The Bishop of Quebec is afraid that even Unitarians might be unwittingly admitted under this proposal of the appeal, but suppose it might so happen, might not the blessing he would receive bring better light to his soul, and what absolute security have we that some who come to Communion now may not, in their secret heart, stumble at the stupendous doctrine of the Trinity? As Queen Elizabeth said, "We cannot make windows into men's hearts and secret thoughts." I once considered the Methodist Church a schismatic body until I heard this free sacramental invitation.

The Real Schismatic

The Church which ex-communicates other Christian Churches or forbids the Lord's Supper to individual Christians on account of their religious belief or their membership in a religious body of a less perfect organization, is the one guilty of scism. What a blessed thing it would be if the Church of England, as one of God's greatest agents for the promotion of His Kingdom would cease to curse those whom God has so evidently blessed, and with a Communion as unrestricted as that of the Methodists, as unrestricted and all-embracing as the love of Christ, would open the Kingdom of Heaven to all believers. With such an open Communion and a degree of fraternal recognition and co-operation with other churches in Christian work, we would soon see our separated brethren, constrained to enquire concerning our Zion "with their faces thitherward." If our Bishops wish to see our Church absorb the other Protestant bodies around us, or any considerable number of their adherents, those measures are the most effectual means for doing it. Under them she would experience a degree of progress and prosperity unattainable under her present exclusive and repellent methods.

FIRST NATIVES TO LEAVE TIBET

The people of Tibet are the least travelled people in the world. For the first time in history, a party of Tibetans has left the native country for a visit in England.

The visit received the sanction of the dalai lama. The party consists of six persons—four Tibetan boys, whose ages range from 11 to 17 years, and a Tibetan army officer and his wife. The travellers are attired in their native costumes, but have adopted the English shoes, finding them more comfortable for travel than those of Tibet.

The boys will attend school at Aldershot, England. None of the party ever has travelled before. They always have lived in an altitude of 10,000 feet. It has taken them a month to travel 300 miles across the mountains of Tibet. They saw a railway train for the first time when arriving at Darjeeling. At Marseilles they saw an aeroplane and had their pictures taken.

They have taken with them to England a small, square, red box which contains a portable shrine, images, and cloth blessed by the dalai lama.

HEART DISEASE ON THE INCREASE

Dr. Newsholme, medical officer of the local Government Board, London, England, points out in his annual report that diseases of the heart and arteries are rapidly increasing among men in middle age. He attributes this to the strain, the worry, the hurry, the dreadfully high pressure of modern commercial life.

The New York Medical Record remarks that physicians in this country have for ten years been aware of the same prenomena, while the statistics of the Census Bureau prove it with the following figures: For every 100 deaths in 1900 from diseases of the heart and blood vessels there were in 1901 101.2; in 1902, 105.7; in 1903, 110.7; in 1904, 119.8; in 1905, 120; in 1906, 122.9; in 1907, 134.1.

The condition is worst in big cities. The latest census report shows that New York's death rate from heart disease increased 29 per cent in 1907 over 1906; Chicago's and Boston's 13 per cent; Detroit's 26 per cent, and Philadelphia's 5 per cent.

The Medical Record comments that one reason for this alarming increase is the fact, well known to doctors, that business men "who have come down with pneumonia, grippe and like infections, simply cannot be made to take the prolonged rest which is imperative during convalescence from these diseases."

Another cause, proved by the reports of insurance companies, is that modern medicine and hygiene, by lowerng the death rate among infants, are preserving to manhood persons who are constitutionally unfit to survive and who have not the strength or stamina to resist the diseases of middle age. Meanwhile these weaklings are becoming parents and transmitting their constitutional weakness to their children.

Safe Sanctuary Against Arrest Under English Law

Much water has flowed under London Bridge since the British criminal could defy the strong arm of the law by the simple expedient of escaping to the nearest church or hospital and claiming the protection of "sanctuary."

Down to early Stuart days Great Britain bristled with thousands of such refugees for the criminal, from cathedrals and royal palaces to scores of towns and cities, such as Manchester and Wells, Derby and Chester, where the man guilty of felony could laugh with impunity at the officers of law and justice for a period ranging up to 40 days.

If, before that time, he chose to go before the coroner, clothed in penitence and sackcloth, and confess his guilt, he was free to quit the realm without any hand daring to stay him.

But, although no such asylum exists today for the criminal, the principle of "sanctuary" still manages to survive in many modified and little-known forms.

For our legislators this immunity begins 40 days before Parliament meets, and lasts for 40 days after prorogation, during which time they can smile at the man armed with a warrant for their arrest for any civil offence. And this privilege includes not only the members themselves, but all the officials of the House, down to messengers and porters, and also to all lawyers and witnesses whose business takes them there.

This privilege, however, refers only to civil offences, and not to crimes, as in older days, for even our lawmakers can be arrested for a felony in the sacred precincts of the Parliamentary chambers. In such cases, however, the House demands to know the grounds for such an invasion of its dignity and for removing a member from his service to the state.

The courts of law are other little-known sanctuaries of today—a privilege which is claimed for all, from the supreme tribunal of the Lords to the modest court of the coroner; so that no persons who has legitimate business in any one of them can be arrested for an offence against the civil law, not merely within the court itself, but while he is on his way to and from it. Thus the man who is summoned to appear as witness can defy the warrant-bearer from the moment he leaves his house until the door closes on his return.

And not only the law and Parliament can claim this protection for their ministers. The clergy still have many "benefits," and this is among them.

No clergyman, in fact, down to the fledgling curate, can be arrested within the walls of his church, or while he is going to or returning from his duty. Bishops and archbishops are still more protected, for not one of them can be haled before a magistrate, even though it be for a crime, unless the King specially commands it. Nor must we forget that even today no warrant has any effect within the precincts of any of the King's palaces.

Nor is the modest householder without his sanctuary. The Englishman's house still remains his "castle" to the extent that no officer of the law bearing a warrant may break his way into it. Even if the offence be a crime, the officers of the law may not make a forcible entry until they have first summoned him to surrender and he has declined.

As a matter of fact, any county or town in England may serve as a temporary sanctuary within which the law may be successfully defied, for a warrant is usually of no effect outside the particular county or borough for which it is issued. Thus, a few feet beyond the limits of either, a man may snap his fingers in the face of the man who is sent to arrest him.

There are at least two houses known to the writer so situated that one part stands in one county, the rest in another. Thus, if a constable of one county appears with his warrant, all that is necessary to avoid arrest is for the delinquent to walk into another room which is situated out of his jurisdiction.

In the front sitting room the law can claim him, in the kitchen he is safe—until a second warrant is procured.—London Answers.

EMPEROR HAS ONE PAIR OF GLASSES

CHARACTERISTIC ANECDOTE OF FRANCIS JOSEPH OF AUSTRIA.

Vienna, Aug. 1—This characteristic anecdote of Emperor-King Francis Joseph was told by the only person would could tell it, since there were no witnesses to the scene.

The Minister of National Defences, Baron Georgi, appeared at the usual hour to report on the military affairs of his department.

The Emperor, seated at his writing table, turned toward the officer, who was standing, as etiquette requires, with a bundle of papers in his hand. But he did not begin his report as usual, coughed twice and seemed to be terribly embarrassed.

The Emperor said, kindly:

"Well, what have we today?"

Still the general did not begin his report.

Smiling, His Majesty observed:

"I know what ails you! You have left your glasses at home and cannot read without them—just like me. Perhaps mine will suit you."

Saying this, the Emperor held out his nice-nez to the minister. As the lenses suited very well, Baron Georgi finished the report in the usual time.

When he stopped reading he pushed the glasses into the front of his uniform between the second and third button.

"No! No!" the Emperor exclaimed. "You must give me back my glasses; they are the only pair I've got. I can't do without them."

Dignified Minister Georgi almost blushed as he handed the glasses back, remarking:

"What a beautiful keepsake they would have made."

Three days afterward Baron Georgi appeared before the Emperor again to read his report and this time he had not forgotten his glasses. When he finished the Emperor reached for a small red leather case and held it out to his minister.

"There are the glasses you wished to have for a keepsake," said His Majesty. "I bought myself another pair."

Then, smiling, the Sovereign showed the new ones he was using. Of course the Emperor did not go to a shop to buy new pince-nez but the optician went with a selection to Schoenbrunn Castle for his exalted customer to choose from.

PRINCESS SOPHIE WANTS TO WED A YOUNG LAWYER

Bad Nauheim, Germany, Aug. 1—Emperor William will soon have to permit another morganatic marriage. Overjoyed at his own daughter's love idyll, he cannot very well refuse at this particular moment. So at least hopes the would-be bride.

Princess Sophie of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, thirty-four years old and pretty, has been betrothed secretly for some months to a young lawyer named Hans Bleichroeder. They have been here, chaperoned by the lady's mother, Princess Augusta.

Princess Sophie's uncle Bernard renounced all his rights twelve years ago to marry an actress, becoming the Count von Crayenberg, while more recently (in 1909) her elder brother, Prince Hermann, also renounced his rank and privilege to wed a plebeian, taking the title of Count von Ostheim.

SINGLE TAX A DISMAL FAILURE

BERLIN EXPERIMENTS DO NOT BEAR OUT THE HENRY GEORGE THEORY.

Berlin, Aug. 1—Henry George's "single tax" theory is declared by its opponents to have proven a dismal failure in the Kaiser's capital. It is held partly responsible for the utter collapse of the real estate market in Berlin and stagnation in building operations. Between the inability to obtain money even on first mortgages, on the one hand, and the improvement and increased increment taxes on the other, practically a complete cessation in building has taken place.

Scores of buildings in Berlin are in bankruptcy proceedings, and others are but partly completed, because the builder ran out of money and has been unable to obtain any loans. Real estate transactions have largely ceased and there is little property changing hands, it being asserted that no one wants to pay the increased increment tax necessary when property is turned over.

Although there are over 600,000 people in Berlin living in what are known as "one-room" dwellings, consisting of apartments and flats of one room and kitchen, at the rate of five to eight persons to each such dwelling, it is claimed that there are more than 76,000 flats and dwellings vacant in the city.

During the last twelve months approximately 1,150 foreclosure sales have taken place in the real estate and building market. The "Merchant Elders" organization, in a recent report, characterized the situation as "hopeless."

GOURDS AS NESTING PLACES FOR BIRDS.

By hollowing our gourds and suspending them from trees and poles, an Illinois farmer provides nesting places for the native American birds, the wren and bluebird, and protects them from the aggressive English sparrow, which has a tendency to monopolize the desirable nesting places. The gourds designed for wrens have entrance holes about the size of a silver quarter. This is sufficiently large for a wren to pass through, but not large enough for a sparrow. The bluebird is about the same size as a sparrow, so a different arrangement was necessary. The farmer discovered that the English sparrows would not use the gourds if they were placed in the sun, but that the bluebirds would. Secure nesting places were therefore provided for the latter by suspending the gourds from poles placed out in the open. —From the August Popular Mechanics Magazine.

WHEN BABIES AND BEARDS WERE TAXED

A tax on babies!

That is the remedy proposed by Mme. du Morier of Versailles. Mme. du Morier declares that if parents had to pay a tax on babies people would think more carefully before bringing "little strangers" into the world, and that it would be one step forward to "better babies."

This would not be the first tax on babies, however, for in 1695 there was an actual tax on babies in England. A tax of two shillings had to be paid at the birth of each baby. This fell very heavily upon the parents, for at that time a shilling meant much more than it does today. The nobility, too, felt the burden of the taxes, for each baby was taxed according to rank and the birth of a child of a duke added 30 pounds to the revenue.

Beards were once the subject of taxation. In the time of Peter the Great each man was taxed 100 rubles if he wore a beard. Queen Elizabeth put a tax upon beards, too, and each man was taxed three farthings for a beard of a fortnight's growth.

KING'S HEIFER WINS BIG PRIZE

GEORGE V. CELEBRATES HIS VICTORY WITH FESTIVITIES AT WINDSOR.

London, Aug. 1—King George is the proudest and happiest farmer in all England, having won a number of prizes at the Royal Agricultural Show, just held at Bristol. He infinitely prefers the role of farmer to that of King, and devotes all the time he can to his private estates, especially to the farms at Windsor and Sandringham.

At Bristol his roan shorthorn heifer Windsor Belle took the championship after a close contest.

This has been the King's busiest month of the year, with numerous important London engagements, in addition to the arduous tour of eight days through the industrial centres of Lancashire, according to the programme arranged by Lord Derby. Yet he took time to go to Bristol, and indeed insisted that any plans made for him should not interfere with this engagement. He confessed that he was not acting from any high sense of public duty, but he thought he was entitled to have the pleasure of a few hours with the farmers of the West Country.

Celebration at Windsor.

Windsor Belle belongs to the pedigree shorthorn herd which was established in 1853 by the Prince Consort on the Shaw farm close to Windsor Castle. It includes now about seventy head of cattle. Windsor Belle has taken several minor prizes before, but nothing as important as the Bristol prize. The King greedily devoured the telegram announcing it at the close of the show, and there was a great celebration at Windsor that night.

As Prince of Wales he devoted himself exclusively to the exhibition of pedigree pigs and took many prizes. When he ascended the throne he came into possession of all of King Edward's farming stock and since then has been one of the most enthusiastic as well as one of the largest breeders and exhibitors in the kingdom.

At Windsor the King owns a cluster of farms which extend over 1,500 acres, where the short-horn herd is kept. It is an extremely profitable investment, the herd sometimes producing as much as $5,000 a year in prizes. There are also farms at Windsor where the King breeds Herefords and Devons, and there are pedigree Jerseys and dairy short-horns at the Royal dairy farm, as well as a flock of 300 half-bred ewes for breeding fat lambs, and a small farm where cattle are bred especially for the fat stock exhibitions. The dairy farm contains sixty cows which are milked every day to supply the households at Windsor Castle and Buckingham Palace.

It is said that the King takes even a livelier interest in his Sandringham farms than in those at Windsor. King Edward spent much time and money upon his cattle there, and the shorthorn herd which he left to King George at Sandringham produced the famous yearling bull which took all the British prizes in 1896, and was then sold to a South American millionaire for something like $6,000.

Likes to Be Called "Squire."

The King will be at Sandringham more or less all summer looking over his farm stock. He loves the place and is delighted when the villagers call him "The Squire of Norfolk." He is a good landlord but a strict one, and does not allow a public house (saloon) on his property. Each village has its clubhouse instead, which is provided by the King.

The estate is always open to the public and the broad highways winding in and out are used by the villagers as much as by the royal family. Even when big shooting parties are entertained the villagers are not excluded from the grounds, but go in increased numbers as onlookers.

The Norfolk royal farms around Sandringham are principally used for the breeding of a fine stud of heavy horses and a flock of Southdown sheep. King Edward also bred his racing horses there, and this stud produced his two Derby winners, Persimmon and Diamond Jubilee, the latter winning for its owner some $250,000 in stakes during its career.

King George wants his eldest son and heir to be as much of a British farmer as he is himself. Some time ago he started a farm in Cornwall for the Prince of Wales. There pedigreed stock will be bred, especially Devonshire cattle and farm horses.

All of the King's farms pay good interest upon the investment. He does not care to imitate the so-called "fancy" farmer, the rich gentleman who draws a big check at the end of the year from his bank to pay for the losses he has sustained in the pleasure of calling himself a farmer.

Pheasant Costs $5, Brings 60 Cents.

It is well known that the enormous cost of breeding pheasants worries the King intensely. He enjoys shooting them upon the estates of his friends, but when it comes to breeding them for his friends to shoot upon his own estates he views the matter quite differently. Every pheasant costs, it is declared, from $3 to $5 by the time it is ready for the sportsman, the mortality among the very young birds being enormous and naturally making the breeding a very costly process. But when the shooting party is over and the gamekeepers have sent the birds to the market they can get only about 60 cents apiece for them, giving rise to the old saying:

"When a pheasant rises to the sportsman's gun, up goes a guinea, bang goes three halfpence, and down comes half a crown."

But in calculating his losses in providing pheasants for his guests to shoot, the King ought to consider the sums of money the guests lay out themselves for this honor, in tips to the servants around the game, and to the butler, footmen, &c., in the house. A man is lucky who pays less than $50 in tips before he leaves the royal shooting party. And he is not even then allowed by etiquette to take with him the birds he has bagged with his own gun. The gamekeepers instantly collect them and send them off to market.

The King wants that 60 cents apiece for them.

CARE OF FERNS.

The hardy fern with glossy leaves is a much better plant for the table than the delicate fern-like ferns. It becomes a "life struggle" for any variety of fern in the dry and heated atmosphere of a house, and so one should select only the hardiest for table decoration.

It is well to be sure that there are enough holes in the receptacle in which the fern is planted to afford good drainage.

Ferns thrive best in a moist atmosphere, and this congenial atmosphere can with very little trouble be procured for even the table fern. Have a case made of four pieces of window glass set in a wooden frame, sufficiently large to cover one or more ferns without brushing their sensitive fronds. After sprinkling the leaves (do not pour water on the soil in this instance) plentifully with water, place the case, which has no bottom, over the fern and allow it to remain thus over night. In the morning take the fern out and place near an open window for a few minutes so that it may "breathe" the fresh air. A small glass showcase, a large glass bowl or an aquarium would of course serve the same purpose.

TO CLEAN WHITE ENAMEL.

When a white enamelled bed becomes soiled it may be cleaned with the following solution:

Dissolve one tablespoonful of baking soda in one pint of warm water. Saturate a soft cloth with this mixture and wash the bed. This process will clean all white enamelled furniture.

When matches are scratched upon light paint or woodwork they leave an unsightly mark. This may be removed by rubbing the stain with a cut lemon.

The Electric Light in Quebec.

Thirty years ago last night, for the first time in Quebec, the new harbor works were lighted by electricity. The light has been installed by the contractors, Messrs. Connolly, Larkin & Co. This will enable the work to be continued by night as well as by day.

Quebec Board of Trade.

At the quarterly general meeting of the above board, 30 years ago, there were present the following gentlemen: Joseph Shehyn, M. P. P., President in the chair; Wm. Macpherson, S. Peters, Wm. Brodie, J. C. Dinning, Jas. Carrel, R. Brodie, John Glass, E. H. Wade, E. H. Duval, J. H. Andrews, &c, &c.

To Avoid Sunstroke.

Sunstroke is caused by excessive heat, especially if the weather is "muggy." It is more apt to occur on the second, third or fourth day of a heated term than on the first. Loss of sleep, worry, excitement, close sleeping rooms, debility, abuse of stimulants, predispose to it. When out in the sun wear a light hat (not black) and put inside of the hat a wet cloth or a large green leaf. Do not check prespiration, but drink what water you need to keep it up, as prespiration prevents the body from being overheated. If a feeling of fatigue, dizziness, headache, or exhaustion occurs, lie down in a shady and cool place, apply cold cloths to and pour cold water over head and neck. If the person is pale, very faint, and pulse feeble, let him inhale ammonia for a few seconds, or give him a teaspoonful of aromatic spirits of ammonia in two tablespoonfuls of water with a little sugar.

LITTLE BROTHER SPEAKS.

Florence, who was an ardent admirer of her own vocal qualities, had been selected to sing a solo at a church entertainment.

The following morning at the breakfast table she remarked to her younger brother:

"Well, I never thought my voice would fill that large hall."

"Neither did I," answered her brother, unfeelingly. "I thought it would empty it."—Saturday Journal

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

The Campaign in Europe.

The events of the campaign in Europe between the Russians and the French are fresh in the memory of all the readers of these columns; the advance of the French army from the Victula; the Declaration of War, its progress, the disastrous retreat from Moscow, the successive losses during the winter, the arrival of the Russians on the Elbe; the defection of Prussia as an ally of France, and a partial rising against the French throughout the north of Germany. Such armies, such events, such waste of human life, and the riches of nations, has no parallel in history. In the late interval of destruction the voice of peace was indeed heard, but it was soon drowned in the clash of arms, when the advanced parties of each encountered on the plains of Saxony. The allies attacked the French; between 200,000 and 300,000 men were engaged, aided by all the art and inventions which can contribute to the destruction of human life. The French resisted the attack with varied success. Night parted the combatants, leaving, probably, between 40,000 and 50,000 men on the field, killed and wounded. Both parties claim the victory; few prisoners, or trophies of victory were taken on either side. The battle was fought in the presence of three crowned heads. Napoleon commanded his army in person. If we judge from subsequent events, the result seems to have been favorable to the French, although both sides claimed the victory. Such was the battle of Lutzen.

CAR SEAT HOG GETS LESSON

IS HALED TO COURT AND MADE TO PAY A FINE OF 100 MARKS

Munish, Aug. 1—The first conviction under the new law against car hogs ended with a hundred mark fine and the price of an additional ticket. It appears that the Frankfurt-Munich express was short a seat. There was one seat occupied by a satchel, but the man next to it insisted that it's owner was in the dining car. By this ruse he kept the seatless man standing all the way to Munich. When they arrived there, he grabbed the satchel and the seatless one grabbed him.

"You said the satchel belonged to a man in the dining car. You are not going to steal his property!"

"The satchel is mine."

"Either you are lying now or shortly after we left Frankfurt," cried the seatless one. Meanwhile the conduc had been attracted to the scene. He promptly confiscated the satchel until the claimant should prove his right ti it. Then the gentleman was lugged off to court and fined a hundred marks. Likewise the price of the seat his satchel had occupied.

COSTLY MANUSCRIPTS.

There is more value in the actual written manuscript than the young author who carefully sends his typewritten efforts to the editor ever dreams. Of course, one must allow something for fashion, even in manuscript. For instance, the original manuscript of Besant's "Herr Paulus" realized only $10, Gissing's "Eve's Ransom" $55, while Edna Lyall's "Donovan" was adjudged worth $250. These are but small figures compared with the $235 paid for a single leaf of one of Captain Cook's logbooks. Even this paled before the immense sensation afforded by the bidding for another leaf—this time from the lost journal of Captain Cook's first voyage in 1770. Collectors of Australiana were specially keen, as it contained the earliest reference to Botany Bay, and ultimately this particular leaf was secured for $2255.

Anything by Stevenson is of great interest to collectors, and it is not surprising that for one page containing the autograph list of title and 13 chapter headings for a projected novel, "The Adventures of Henry Shovel," with a scribbled memo of some medicines the novelist wanted, an enthusiast should have given $260.

Robert Burns, Scotland's national poet, wrote three and a half pages of verses to a friend, requesting a favor. Manuscript hunters thought nothing of paying $675 for it.

"MAKE-UP" STONE AND EPITAPH BY HOWELS.

Jefferson, O., Aug. 1—A remarkable grave stone was placed in the cemetery here a few days ago. It stands at the head of the grave of J. A. Howells, veteran editor of the Ashtubula Sentinel, who died here recently. It consists of one of the "make-up" stones used by Mr. Howells for fifty years, during his career as printer and editor. On it is inscribed the following verse, written by William Dean Howells, the novelist, a brother of the dead man:

"Stone, upon which, with hands of boy and man,
He framed the history of his time until,
Week after week, the varying records ran,
To its half-centuried tale of well and ill.
Remember, now, how true through all those days
He was—friend, brother, husband, son—
Fill the whole limit of your space with praise.
There needs no room for blame—blame there was none."

The boyhood of William Dean Howells was spent in the office of the Sentinel. The father of William Dean and J. A. Howells was editor of the paper.

UNVEIL TABLET TO "FATHER OF CANADIAN GEOLOGY" AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, Aug. 1.—A luncheon tendered them at the Experimental Farm by the government, at which they received an official welcome from Premier Borden on behalf of Canada, and the unveiling this afternoon by Hon. T. W. Crothers of the tablet erected by the congress in honor of Sir William Logan, founder of the Canadian Geological Survey, formed the features of the visit to the city today of some 200 delegates to the International Geological Congress at Toronto.

Arriving in the city last night and this morning, the delegates were taken around to see its sights in the morning and then conveyed to the experimental farm. In Auditorium Hall there luncheon had been arranged at which about 350 sat down. At its conclusion speeches were made by Rt. Hon. Mr. Borden, who just returned in time for the event; Controller Parent, President Frank D. Adams and other delegates hailing from many countries far spaced apart on the Globe.

After welcoming the congress to Canada Premier Borden expressed his appreciation of the coming of so many distinguished gentlemen representing nearly all the civilized nations of the world; a visit which meant much to a country like Canada, still busy with its best problems of development. This country, in fact, was so large that just a few months ago the government had sent an expedition north to find just how far its boundary extended in that direction. It was expected to be heard from in about four years' time. He hoped the visit would give the delegates a new idea of Canada's resources and that she might learn from them some things that would help her to solve the problems of the future.

After a few words of welcome from Controller Parent on behalf of the city Dr. Frank D. Adams, dean of the Faculty of Applied Science at McGill University and president of the International Geological Congress, replied on behalf of the latter body. In announcing the future program of the party he made the interesting statement that on visiting Caughnawaga several of the delegates would be made chiefs of the Iroquois tribe.

Other brief addresses were delivered by Dr. A. Strahan, director of the British Geological Survey; Dr. P. M. Termier, of Paris, director of the French Geological Survey; Dr. Max Belosky, of Berlin, president of the university there; Prof. J. F. Kemp, of Columbia University, New York; Dr. J. H. Sederholm, director of the Geological Survey of Finland. Hon Mr. Perley, who acted as chairman, also spoke a few words.

Unveiling of Tablet.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the visitors were shown over the farm and were then taken to the Victoria Museum, for the unveiling of the tablet to the founder of Canada's geological survey and first director. The tablet has been affixed to a huge specimen of the Laurentian formation, the oldest in the world and the one with which Sir William Logan's work was chiefly connected. It was procured, after half Canada had been searched for it, in Rockcliffe and has been set on a concrete pedestal in front on the main entrance of the museum. On the tablet of copper is the following inscription: "Sir William Logan, kt., LL.D., F. R. S., 1798-1875, the father of Canadian geology, founder and first director Geological Survey of Canada, 1842; 1869; erected by the International Geological Congress of Canada, 1913."

The tablet was unveiled by Hon. T. W. Crothers, Minister of Labor, in the absence of Hon. Louis Coderre, Minister of Mines. After a few remarks by Mr. James White of the Conservation Commission, Hon. Mr. Crothers accepted the tablet on behalf of the government of Canada.

Dr. A. E. Barlow, chairman of the Logan Memorial Committee, also said a few words, stating that besides the present tablet one had already been erected in Perce, in Gaspe peninsula, where much of Dr. Logan's early work was carried on. President Adams of the congress then gave a sketch of Sir William Logan's career.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the delegates were entertained to tea in the museum and then left for Montreal.

The fire broke out at one o'clock from some unknown cause and spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything.

among whom were scattered seven prisoners. When the child saw the men it took her only a few seconds to pick out Marechal, and she pointed to him with the remark.

"That man there, with the green hat is the man who attacked me."

Now that the girl has practically recovered from the effects of the assault, the police believe she will be able to tell a clear story of what happened.

Pleaded Not Guilty.

Marechal, who arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, accompanied by Detective Walsh and Lieut Belac, was brought before Judge Leet this morning, and after pleading not guilty was remanded until August 7.

Joseph Denis, the father of the child, and who is a large property owner in Notre Dame de Grace, said this morning that he was determined to do all in his power to aid the police, and with this end in view has engaged an attorney, G. A. Masson.

Toronto, Aug. 1—Mr. John MacGregor, the well-known barrister, died here today from heart failure after an illness extending over some months, in his 67th year. He was born in England, of an ancient Highland Scotch family and came to Canada in his infancy. He was an excellent lawyer and had a thorough knowledge of text book law, and made many able and convincing arguments before the Supreme Court and other courts in appeal. He left no children, but is survived by a number of nephews and nieces. He married a daughter of the late Hon. Donald McDonald, Toronto, who survives.

TIES HIMSELF TO TREE TAKES DOSE OF POISON.

Brockville, August 1—Philip John Greent, aged forty-two, a despondent patient at the asylum, chose a novel way of committing suicide. He disappeared Monday, and this afternoon his body was found securely tied to a young tree, while an empty bottle of carbolic acid lay at his feet.

The patient had taken a leather belt from his waist, and apparently fastened himself securely to the tree before drinking the contents of the bottle, which bears the label of a local druggist. An inquest is being held to ascertain how Greene obtained the acid. The body was found in an upright position, with the belt around it and the tree.

MURDERED IN BED WITH HER BABY BESIDE HER

Winnipeg, Aug. 1—Mrs. David Fienstein, a Russian Jewess, aged 28 years, was found early this morning by Victoria Komanowska, her hired girl, with a bullet through her right temple and blood and brains spattered over her two-year-old baby, Fanny, who was sleeping beside her.

At 3 o'clock the maid was awakened by the crying of the nine-months-old baby. She went into the room and tried to awaken the mother, but without success. She went to the next door neighbor, who rushed in and discovered the murder.

No trace has as yet been found of the revolver. The maid, Victoria Komanowska, and a girl who was dismissed a week ago, Mary Manastaka, are being held by the police pending an investigation.

DR. SUN YAT SEN IS CONFIDENT OF RESULT

Shanghai, Aug. 1.—Dr. Sun Yat Sen, one of the leaders of the southern rebellion, today declared that the reoccupation of the city of Nanking by government forces was only temporary. The spirit of the southerners, he affirmed, is undaunted and they hope to renew the struggle when arrangements with Kwang-Tung and other southern provinces have been completed.

Dr. Sun Yat Sen will leave Shanghai tonight for Hon Kong, where he will personally make an appeal for further support in his campaign to overthrow Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai for crimes which the southern leaders claim have been committed by the President, namely, the illegal execution of military officers, the assassination of the Nationalist leader, General Sung Chiao-Jen, the issuing of unconstitutional mandates and the enacting of laws without consulting parliament.

MONTREAL PHONES AGAIN IN SERVICE

FAST WORK AT THE "MAIN" EXCHANGE, WHICH WAS HIT BY FIRE.

Montreal Aug. 1—"At nine o'clock this morning practically the whole telephone service was restored. There are about 400 cases of trouble on the board yet and for a day or so there will be a little inconvenience, but the worst is over," said Mr. R. P. Jones, manager of the Bell Telephone system.

Over one hundred additional men from Ottawa, Quebec, and Toronto are working in relays on the repair work of the main lines which were damaged by Tuesday's fire, when the "Main" Exchange was put out of business. Every minute of the twenty-four hours is being utilized to get a temporary service in operation.

"The men have done good work," added Mr. Jones, "and we appreciate the patience the public showed during the breakdown when they realized we were more concerned than they to get the service restored. Until the permanent repairs are effected, of course, there will be intermittent troubles but the chief difficulty is over."

The Division Plant Superintendent, Mr. G. E. Higgins, is in charge of the repair work, which is only tem porary, and will have to be repeated later. The men are restoring connections at the rate of 400 per hour.

In connecting up the two portions of the large "A" switchboard, which were parted by the fire, 900,000 feet of wire was used, and 30,000 sockets into which the plugs are inserted to establish a connection, are being erected in the damaged section of the board. For the temporary work, 15,000 plugs are being used, 300,000 new wire connections made, and 25,000 feet of cable, each containing 60 wires, will be replaced behind the damaged board. The spanning of the break is almost completed, and all the wires that have been used will have to be moved again, but this will be done without dislocating the service.

The cause of the fire has not been ascertained, and it is thought to be hopeless to expect to trace the origin.

BOSTON MAN IN LONDON TO GET G. T. R. EXTENSION

Boston, Aug. 1.—Henry C. Long, representing the Massachusetts Real Estate Exchange, will sail for London tomorrow for the purpose of attempting to influence the directors of the Grand Trunk Railway to extend their lines to Boston.

Mr. Long will carry a letter signed by officials of the exchange which sets forth that the exchange wants the Grand Trunk to come to this city. The letter says that independent and competitive lines are necessary for the welfare of New England.

PARLIAMENTARY PARTY HALTS AT MOOSE JAW

Moose Jaw, Sask., Aug. 1—The British Parliamentary Association delegates spent forty minutes in this city today, Mayor Pascoe, P. R. Pickett of the Board of Trade and W. B. Willoughby, M.L.A., were among a crowd of prominent citizens who welcomed the distinguished travellers.

Lord Emmott expressed himself as delighted with his trip so far. "It is my first visit to the west," he said, "and it is all very wonderful to me, this spread out and obvious prosperity."

Hamar Greenwood, M.P., met many old friends, but it fell to Will Crooks, M.P., to be the centre of attraction, many old country workers claiming a handshake from the Labor member.

The party left for Banff at 2.30 p.m.

CHARGES GROSS CRUELTY AT HOUSE OF INDUSTRY

Toronto, Aug. 1—Aged, penniless, a fit candidate for an old man's home, if there were such an institution in Toronto, Alexander Cruickshank faced a Police Court audience this morning and told a story of cruelty practiced on inmates at the House of Industry that compelled the attention of Magistrate Denison, and will result in an investigation by the Detective Department.

To the detectives Mr. Cruickshank gave the name of an official of the House of Industry, at whose hands, he alleges, two inmates received treatment which hastened their deaths He said that he had been ejected from the house because he knew too much about the beatings and trocities committed within its doors.

The old man has been in turn high school master, professor and lawyer, and has lately spent much time in institutions for the improvident. His appearance in court was on a charge of vagrancy, and he was remanded to jail for a week.

"Thank you," he said to the magistrate, on hearing the sentence, "I shall be well cared for there."

TO TEST THE LAKE AND RIVER LEVELS

GAUGES IN POSITION FROM PORT ARTHUR TO QUEBEC FOR PROOF.

Montreal, Aug. 1—The claim which has frequently been made by shipowners and others, and which has been confirmed to a considerable extent by official records kept by the Marine and Fisheries Department and by the Harbor Commissioners, that the level of the river and Great Lakes is being constantly lowered, principally by drainage operations on a large scale, is about to be subjected to a practical test which should prove convincing to the most sceptical.

According to information obtained today from Thomas Robb, secretary of the Shipping Federation, the gauges between Port Arthur and Quebec, which are to be used in making the test, are now all in position, their laying having been carried out under the instructions of the special commission appointed to make the required tests. This commission consists of Professor Haskell, of Cornell University; V. W. Forneret, chief engineer of the ship channel, and W. I. Stewart, chief hydrographer to the Marine Department.

As the United States Minister of War did not grant the application made by the Chicago drainage authorities last year for permission to increase the quantity of water they are entitled to take from Lake Michigan, and as it has been admitted that more water is being taken than is legally permissible, the results of the practical tests which are about to be made are awaited with interest in local shipping circles.

I. C. R. STAFF CHANGES.

Toronto, Aug. 1.—As a result of the general re-organization which Hon. Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways, has promoted, the two main positions of the Intercolonial Railway's agencies in Toronto will be changed. Mr. S. G. Tiffin, the general agent, has been transferred from the city to St. John, where he will be divisional freight agent, while Mr. George Fernley, the city freight agent, will be appointed commercial agent at Montreal.

These appointments mean that the two Toronto officials will occupy the most important divisional positions on the system. Mr. E. Tiffin, of Moncton, will be the successor to the general agent, while the position held by Mr. Fernley will be filled by Mr. Cronk, of St. John. Although nothing official has been announced by the Minister of Railways, it is said in official railway circles that the appointment of Mr. E. Tiffin means that Toronto will be one of the leading Intercolonial offices.

FOLLOW CLUES TO JEWEL ROBBERS

SUSPECTED "FENCE" IS UNDER CLOSE WATCH — LOSSES REACH $250,000.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., Aug. 1.—Private detectives are tonight watching a residence in a suburb of Providence. This home is the long sought "fence" for the gang of thieves who obtained more than a quarter of a million dollars worth of jewelry here during the 24 hours ending at last Saturday midnight, according to the theory of one of the four detective agencies engaged on the robberies.

The occupant of the house cannot escape surveillance, but the police have no positive evidence upon which to proceed against him.

Another detective agency is watching a house in South Boston, believing it to be either the headquarters of the jewelry stealing band or the home of their agents.

Mrs. J. H. Hanan, who lost $150,000 worth of jewels, has placed her case in the hands of a firm of detectives at Providence. New York detectives are entrusted with the mission of recovering the jewelry of Mrs. Charles C. Rumsey, estimated to be worth $125,000. Several detectives are still in town but a great number who have been here were sent today to New York, Boston and other points to which more or less vague clues led.

The detectives watching the house near Providence are said to have a speculative commission from both the Hanan's and Rumsey's. According to their manager, the suspect made a specialty of taking servants on automobile rides during which he seized the opportunity to obtain information of the habits of the families in which his guests were employed.

It is claimed that the touring car which was seen near the Rumsey cottage Saturday night corresponds with the machine owned by the suspect and the latter occupied by three servants and the owner was driven through the streets of Providence on the night of the Hanan robbery at so high a speed as to attract attention. The man who is being watched is said to be suspected not only of maintaining a "fence," but also of being the guiding mind of the robberies.

CAN'T FORM A NEW CABINET IN HOLLAND

The Hague, Aug. 1.—Dr. Kirk Bos, a Liberal Democratic member of the Chamber of Deputies, who for some time had been endeavoring to form a coalition cabinet, was relieved of the task today by Queen Wilhelmina. Dr. Bos was unable to carry out the wishes of the Queen by reason of the fact that the Socialists declined to accept portfolios in a coalition ministry.

The formation of a new cabinet is made necessary by the resignation in June of Premier Theodorus Hoemskerk and his ministers following the elections to the Second Chamber of the States General, the results of which left the coalition of parties supporting the ministry without a majority in the Chamber.

GOOD BLOOD THE SECRET OF HEALTH

To be Healthy You Must Keep the Blood Rich, Red and Pure.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are useful in any disease caused by thin or impure blood, and the list of such diseases is astonishingly large. Anaemia literally means a condition in which the blood is thin and watery. In rheumatism the blood becomes thin more rapidly than in any other disease. After an attack of la grippe or acute fevers the blood is always thin and impure, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the tonic to use during convalescence. When the blood is poor and thin the stomach suffers. The food ferments, gas and certain acids form and the trouble is pronounced indigestion or dyspepsia. The nerves receive from the blood all of their nourishment to keep up their energy and repair waste or damage. Some forms of paralysis are caused by thin blood. The progress of locomotor ataxia is stopped in many cases when the blood is made pure, rich and red. This is only a partial list of the troubles having their origin in impure, watery blood, and all can be cured by supplying the blood with its missing constituents.

This is exactly what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. Their chief mission is to make rich, red blood, and this good blood reaches every organ and every nerve in the human body, thus driving out disease and bringing renewed health and strength to thousands of weak, despondent people.

Ask your neighbors. There is not an inhabited corner in Canada where Dr Williams' Pink Pills have not restored some sufferer, and all over this country there are grateful people who do not hesitate to say they owe health—in some cases life itself— to this great medicine. If you are ailing begin to cure yourself today by using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Sold by all dealers in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WESTERN FUEL CO. TRIES TO HAVE WITNESS VANISH

San Francisco, Aug. 1.—At a conference with the special counsel who will prosecute the Western Fuel Company cases here this month, David G. Powers, formerly an employe of the company and now the chief witness for the government, said today that he had been offered $50,000 if he would vanish.

Powers gave the names of those who had approached him and the phraseology of the offers. Matt. I. Sullivan and Theodore J. Roche, in charge of the case as assistants to the attorney-general, declined to discuss Powers' story beyond saying: "We shall vigorously prosecute every person connected with this immense fraud."

The president and directors of the Western Fuel Company are charged with having defrauded the government of customs dues aggregating nearly $1,000,000 by manipulating weighing sheets showing the tonnage of imported coal.

This is the second charge of corrupt influence made since indictments were returned. When John L. McNab resigned as United States attorney he charged in a sensational letter to President Wilson that pressure had been brought to bear on Attorney-General McReynolds to order the trial postponed.

RAISE CLERKS SALARIES IN MONTREAL COURT HOUSE

Montreal, August 1—Authoritative announcement was made yesterday at the Court House that the question of raising the salaries of the clerks in the Prothonotary's office will be taken up by the government this fall. It is intended to readjust the wage scale so that the high cost of living may be met. Salaries of the clerks within the past ten or fifteen years have been practically at a standstill, although the work of the office has trebled, and the revenue derived in the office has also mounted considerably.

The qualifications demanded of the clerks are very high. They must possess a knowledge of both language, and a working knowledge of legal procedure and of law. Of the thirty odd clerks in the office, some twenty-five are graduates of art courses; and of these thirteen are also graduates in law, and four or five are graduate notaries.

The salaries very between $900 and $1,700, the majority being around $1,000 to $1,100. Six are rated at $1,700, these being the heads of various branches of the work. About a year ago the provincial authorities granted small increases to a few employes.

KEEPING CLOSE WATCH ON GENERAL CASTRO

Teneriffe, Canary Islands, Aug. 1.—General Cipriano Castro's wife and children and his brother-in-law, Senor Lazaro, all of whom are in Teneriffe, refused today to give any information regarding the Venezuelan ex-President, except to say that he was in Hamburg on Wednesday of this week.

It appears, however, that a transportation company has received instructions to arrange for the shipment of an automobile belonging to Castro to the Island of Trinidad during the month of August.

The Gomez administration, it is stated by the port authorities here, has recently sent a number of spies to the Canary Islands with the object of keeping the Venezuelan government posted concerning every action of General Castro.

RIGHT KIND OF WIFE.

A man who had been drinking too much liquor for his own good was induced to sign the pledge the other day. His wife was delighted. She took the document and said:

"You must let me have it. I will keep it for you."

So the paper was confided to her custody. On the next day the man was drinking as freely as before.

"How is this?" asked a friend. "You signed the pledge yesterday, and now you are drinking whiskey again."

"'Tis all right," replied the pledge-signer, in unsteady tones. "I don't have to keep that pledge. My wife says that she'll keep it for me. That's the right kind of a wife to have. Let us take a drop more."—Tid-Bits.

CHANCE SAYS HE WILL NOT RESIGN

LEADER OF N. Y. AMERICANS WILL STICK UNTIL HE GETS A WINNER.

New York, August 1—Manager F. Chance, of the New York American League Baseball Club, denied emphatically today the report that he would resign as leader of the Yankees at the close of the present season. Manager Chance was at a loss to explain the rumor, which originated in Los Angeles. He stated that he was perfectly satisfied with the present outlook for the team and the conditions under which it is working.

"I have not the slightest intention of resigning as manager of the New York Club," said Chance "Instead I am working and planning to put a real pennant contender into the American League next season. It is slow work, to be sure, for I have to go to the bushes for new material and then develop it for the big league. Unless circumstances over which I have no control arise, and I know of nothing of the sort at present, I shall continue with the New York club until I close my active baseball career.

"I have no apologies to offer for the showing of the club to date. I realized from the start that it would have to be entirely rebuilt in order to prove a winner and this task, which cannot be accomplished in a week, is the one which is engaging my entire attention at this time. I expect by trade, purchase and draft to gather players who will strengthen weak points on the team, and when I get the combination together, we will have a team to be feared. In fact, the boys are already beginning to play a fast game. Zeeider will arrive in a few days, and with two new players whom I expect in a week or ten days, will almost double the playing strength of the club.

'My relations with President Farrell are most harmonious and the support given both the club and myself by followers of baseball is all that could be desired. I am absolutely satisfied with New York as a baseball and home proposition. When I can give the local fans the kind of a team they deserve my every wish will have been gratified. Until that time talk of my resigning is out of order."

EXEUNT: THE VICTORIANS.

For the past five years there have been mutterings of a storm of discontent with the things understood by the term Victorian. It began, we may say, in the world of the arts, with drama. The public made the abrupt discovery that much, if not most of the drama of the period, was outmoded. This discovery spread to the written page, and Mr. Chesterton voiced it the other day in no uncertain language. Yesterday, in London, at the sale of modern pictures and water color drawings at Christie's, the property of the late Lord Holden of Nun Appleton House, Bolton Percy, Yorkshire, there was fresh indication that this general disesteem has begun to be shared in the realm of certain famous Academy pictures.

"The Otter Hunt," by Sir Edwin Landseer, which was acquired by Baron Albert Grant for $52,500 and was afterward sold for $34,390, brought only $6300. Sampson was the purchaser. It was painted for the Earl of Aberdeen, whose huntsman and hounds appear in the picture. It was exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1844, under the title of "The Otter Speared."

"In the Temple," by Sir Laurence Alma-Tadema, 1871, from the collection of John Graham, went for $2100. In 1876 it brought nearly twice that amount.

"The Earl of Strafford Going to Execution," by P. Delaroche, from the collections of Prince Demidoff, 1870, and A. G. Kurtz, 1891, was knocked down for $735. In 1891 it sold for $3675.

"The Execution of Lady Jane Grey," by the same artist, dropped from $3150 to $760. It also came from the Prince Demidoff and A. G. Kurtz collections.

"From Dawn to Sunset," by T. Faed, exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1861, brought $3255, as compared with $8925 in 1891.

"Sir Walter Scott and His Friends," also by Faed, from the collection of J. Gilliott, 1872, sold for only $480. In 1872 it brought $4775.

"The Eve of the Deluge," by J. Linnell, exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1848, and from the collection of J. Gilliott, 1872, fell from $5460 to $945.

Wallis obtained for $7980 "The Bride of Lammermoor," by Sir J. E. Millais, 1878, exhibited at the Royal Jubilee Exhibition, Manchester, in 1887.

"A Country Cooking School," by Erskine Nicol, 1867, exhibited at the Royal Academy that same year, brought $1940, as compared with $5775 in 1872.

"The Wooden Walls of Old England: Hulks on the Medway," by C. Stanfield, exhibited at the Royal Academy in 1834, sold for $840. In 1872 it brought $14,175.

"The Travelling Jeweler," by T. Webster, from the collection of J. Gilliot, dropped from $2780 in 1872 to $220.

"Star of my life," whispered the lovelorn youth.

"And what star would you call me?" asked the beautiful girl.

"Venus. Bewitching, entrancing Venus."

"But I would rather be Saturn."

"Why, my fair one?"

"Because Saturn gets a new ring occasionally."—Tid-Bits.

THE NEWS OF THE WEEK FLASHED FROM ENGLAND AND FRANCE

COLONEL HARVEY IS HOPEFUL FOR THE WILSON REGIME

Editor of Harper's, in London, Discusses the Situation in the United States.

CONDITIONS ARE SOUND, CAPITAL WAITING

Economic Laws, He Says, Are Stronger Than Ordinary Statutes and Change Little by Legislation.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2

COLONEL GEORGE HARVEY, of Harper's, who arrived here recently, and is staying for the month of August at Claridge's, was asked yesterday for his views on the Wilson administration.

"It is a case, as Disraeli said of the gentleman about to take a second wife, of hope over experience," he said.

"What is the nature of the hope?"

"That the administration will not be signalized by history as the initiator of class legislation in the United States."

Asked about business conditions and the tariff, Colonel Harvey said:—

"Fundamental conditions in America are sound, but capital awaits the adjustment of the relations of government to business. That was inevitable. Economic laws are stronger than ordinary statutes and are affected little by executive mandate. Adjustment of the complicated relationship of manufacturing industries to reduced tariff duties cannot be made in a week or, sometimes, in a year. Nor can it be wrought out successfully by fine spun theory. Practical experience, covering sufficient time to determine the new relative positions of supply and demand, affords the only possible solution.

"The enactment of a tariff measure such as that now pending necessarily involves a certain period of industrial depression as a consequence of the inevitable uncertainty of experimentation. It is idle to maintain the contrary and it is equally shortsighted on the part of those in authority to hold out hopes that must, in the light of all experience, prove to be false and consequently disappointing. Far better to be frank with the people and rely upon their good judgment to recognize that so serious an operation, however essential to ultimate health and prosperity, cannot be performed without allowance of time for resuscitation.

"That is the true and sure way to put into effect a needed reform when merely acting for the best interests of intelligent communities in response to their own command. The time has passed when a political party can succeed through misguidance. It must confide in the common intelligence and must rely upon the common patriotism and the common sense to justify the payment of the comparatively small price requisite to the achievement of a great economic correction. If security lies not that way, fidelity is without shelter and popular government is a failure."

Colonel Harvey said that he expected the forthcoming tariff to be one, at least, which would benefit the consumer by reducing his cost of living, but he did not expect to see a change at once, probably not in time to furnish any capital to the democrats in the next Congressional elections. He thought that taking the duty off fish would permit the country to get a cheaper supply from Newfoundland and from the British Pacific coast.

"Meat should also be cheaper with the tariff off," said Colonel Harvey. "The American packers are now selling native beef in Europe for twenty-five per cent less than we have to pay at home. With the tariff off prices in the United States will have to come into line with those determined by the supply from Argentina and elsewhere."

Colonel Harvey also looks for satisfactory currency legislation in the United States soon, but not at the present session of Congress. He thinks a centralized system will be devised, somewhat on the order of the former Aldrich plan.

JEWELLED BAG LOST AT CHILDREN'S FETE

Theft Seems To Be Growing More Popular in Upper English Classes.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2.

HOW the habit of stealing is increasing among the upper classes, how unsafe it is for women to lose sight of their bags or anything at all valuable in shops, clubs or hotels for a single moment was told in the HERALD recently.

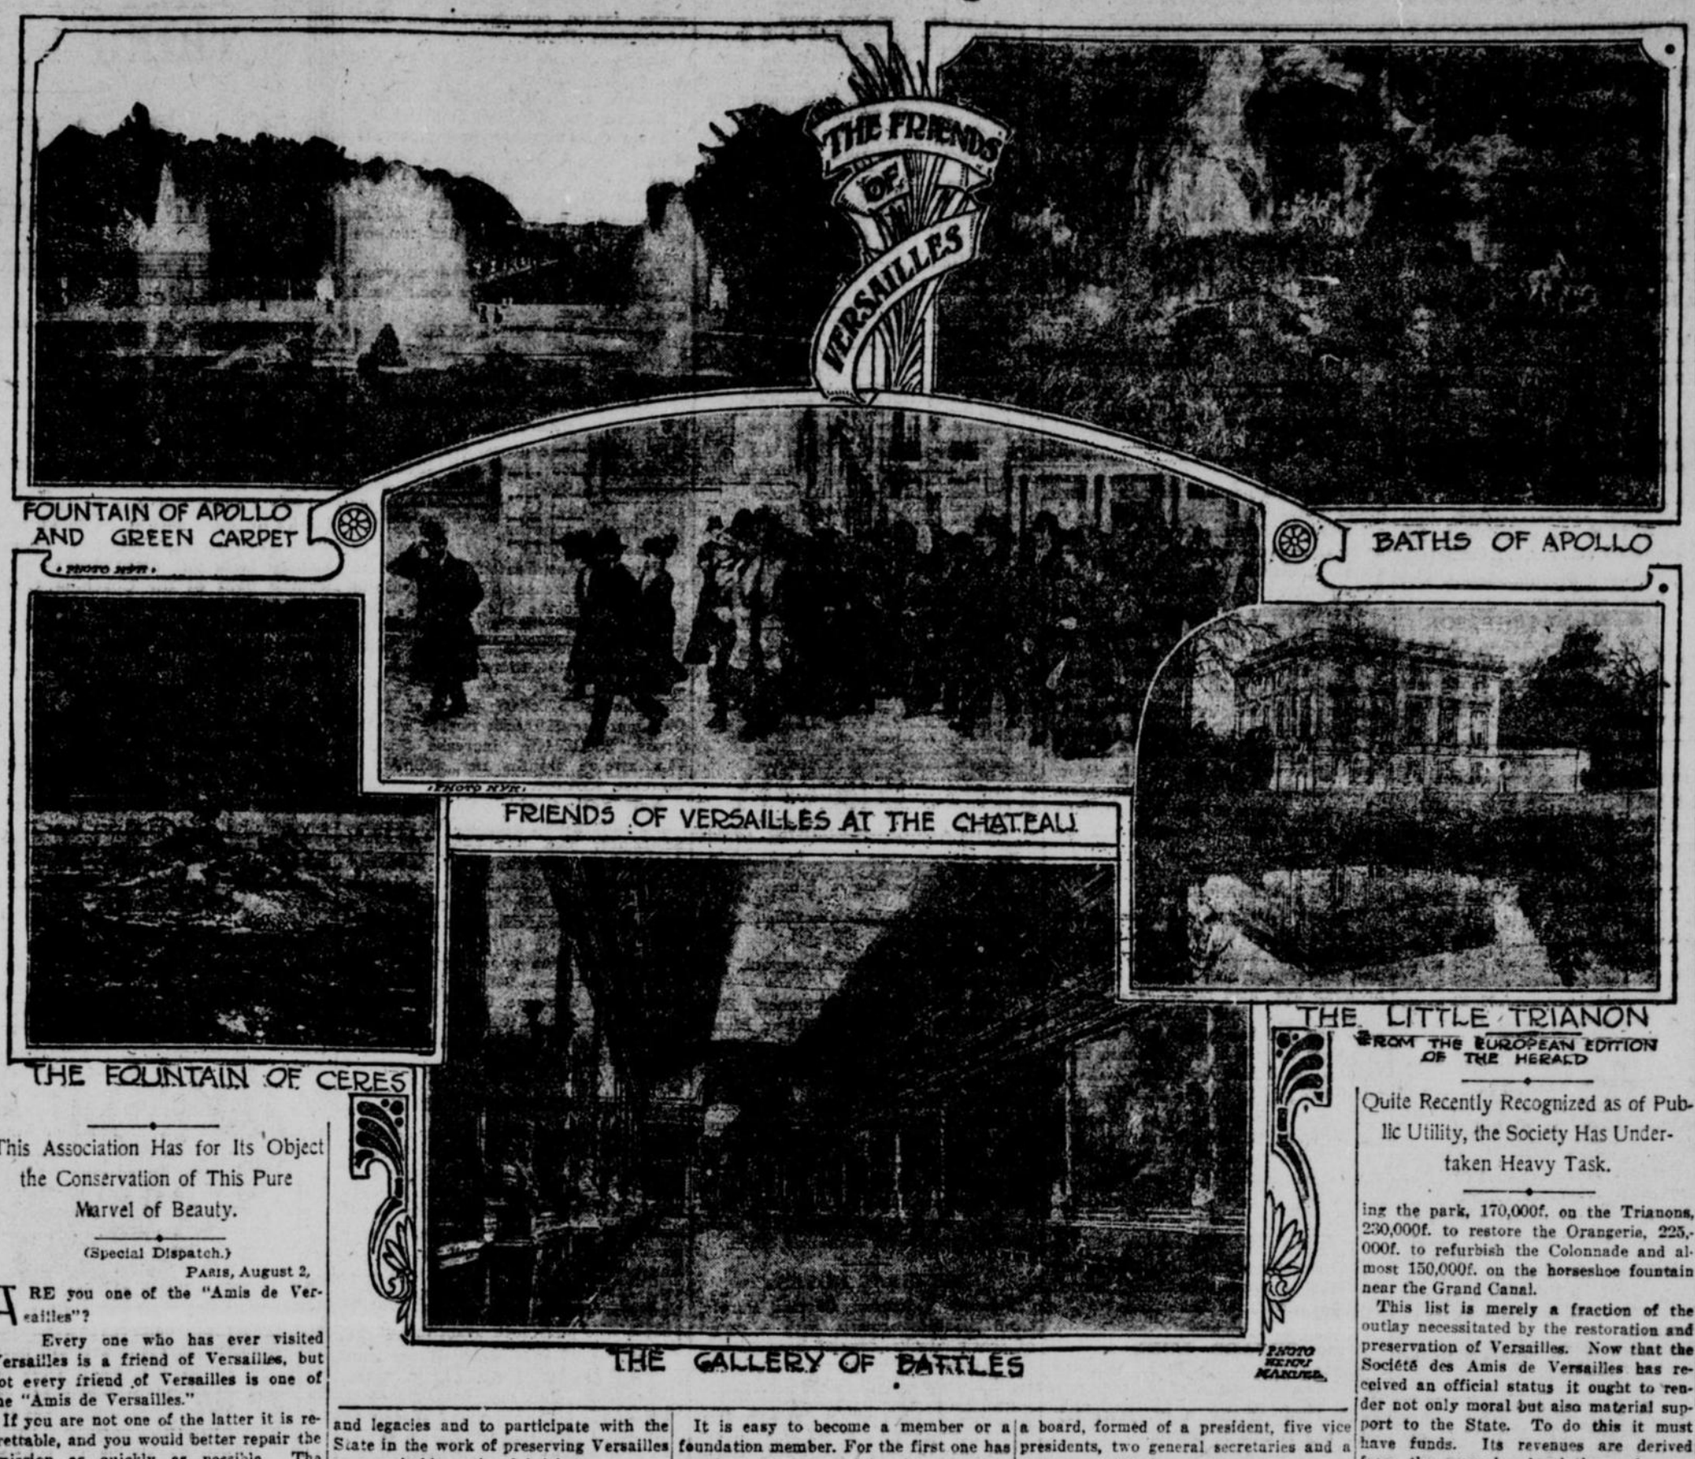

This unpleasant fact is further illustrated by a story told by Lady Magdalen Williams-Bulkeley, who lost a gold chain purse, set with rubies, at select, fashionable Ranelagh, of all places.

"I was at the children's fête," she said, "and while having tea I put my black silk bag, containing the purse, on a chair beside the table. Then it came on to rain suddenly, and I went under a tree.

"Directly I reached shelter I remembered that I had left my bag behind, but the bag and purse had gone. Another lady who left her purse on the tea table close by suffered the same loss.

"My purse was a present, worth about £100. I advertised for it, but as it has not been returned to me it must have been stolen."

All You Who, Having Seen Versailles, Were Delighted with It, Have You Ever Dreamed of Joining the "Friends of Versailles"?

This Association Has for Its Object the Conservation of This Pure Marvel of Beauty.

(Special Dispatch.)
PARIS, August 2,

ARE you one of the "Amis de Versailles"?

Every one who has ever visited Versailles is a friend of Versailles, but not every friend of Versailles is one of the "Amis de Versailles."

If you are not one of the latter it is regrettable, and you would better repair the omission as quickly as possible. The more "Amis de Versailles" there are actively at work the better. The aim of the Société des Amis de Versailles is to safeguard the monuments which represent the most artistic period, and perhaps the most glorious, in the history of France.

There is a weighty reason for calling attention at the present moment to the Société des Amis de Versailles. It is that the association is now in a position to work effectively to realize the objects for which it was created. By a Presidential decree, recently promulgated, the society is declared to be of public utility. The practical value of this declaration is immense. The Société des Amis de Versailles is now more than a group of individuals animated by a desire to prevent further vandalism and to protect historic Versailles. It is, since the signature of the degree by President Poincaré, an official organization, recognized by the State, empowered to receive donations and legacies and to participate with the State in the work of preserving Versailles as a veritable national heirloom.

As it is desirable that you become a member of the society, particularly if you have wealth and influence, a summary outline of its constitution is advisable.

The association known as the Société des Amis de Versailles was founded in Paris almost six years ago, that is, in December, 1907. Its purpose is to co-operate with the State in protecting and looking after Versailles and adding to its artistic treasures. By means of lectures, &c., it tries to make more widely known and appreciated the beauties of Versailles and to further, in this respect, the education of the public.

THREE CLASSES OF MEMBERS.

Its headquarters are in Paris, but it has a branch office in Versailles. The members of the society are divided into three categories—members, pure and simple; foundation members, and honorary members.

It is easy to become a member or a foundation member. For the first one has merely to be approved by the committee and to pay an annual subscription of 20f. To become a foundation member one must be approved by the committee and redeem the annual subscription by the payment, in a lump sum, of 500f. As for honorary membership, it is conferred by the committee on any one who makes a gift of at least 10,000f. to Versailles, or to the Société des Amis de Versailles.

Suffragettes ought to approve unreservedly of the Société des Amis de Versailles. It is an organization based on the principle of the equality of the sexes. Women are admitted in each category of membership and are eligible for appointment to every official post connected with the society.

What are those posts? The society is governed by a committee (Conseil d'Administration) of sixty members, elected at a general meeting for a term of four years, just as though the members were ordinary deputies. The committee elects a board, formed of a president, five vice presidents, two general secretaries and a treasurer. All these posts are honorary, an article in the constitution stipulating that no member of the Société des Amis de Versailles shall accept salary or honorarium for work connected with the society.

NO CONTRIBUTIONS WASTED.

Thus every centime contributed to the association is utilized to improve and preserve historic Versailles. The upkeep of Versailles naturally necessitates heavy expenditure. How heavy may be judged from the fact that the State spent in two years—1875 to 1877—2,000,000f. to restore the chapel in the palace. The restoration of the fountains in the park cost 500,000f.; another 500,000f. was spent to put the domain of Versailles in good condition for the exhibition of 1889, and since then almost 200,000f. has been expended to restore the façades looking on the marble courtyard, more than 100,000f. on the façades, in the Cour d'Honneur, almost 1,000,000f. on the façades overlooking the park, 170,000f. on the Trianons, 230,000f. to restore the Orangerie, 225,000f. to refurbish the Colonnade and almost 150,000f. on the horseshoe fountain near the Grand Canal.

This list is merely a fraction of the outlay necessitated by the restoration and preservation of Versailles. Now that the Société des Amis de Versailles has received an official status it ought to render not only moral but also material support to the State. To do this it must have funds. Its revenues are derived from the annual subscriptions of members, the sums contributed by foundation members to forego the necessity of paying an annual subscription and the gifts of honorary members.

In order that the Société des Amis de Versailles may render services commensurate with its ambitions greater revenues are essential. Versailles is more than a miracle of beauty; it is one of the most glorious chapters in the history of France.

The whole civilized world is interested in the maintenance intact of Versailles as a historic monument. Every civilized being can help to maintain it by contributing to the funds of the Société des Amis de Versailles.

FALCONRY IS NOT TO BE REVIVED, EXPERT THINKS

The Hon. G. W. Lascelles Discusses Exhibition of Hawking at Juvisy.

NO TIME NOWADAYS FOR ANCIENT SPORT

Only Occasionally, He Says, Does He Find Young Men with the Genuine Spirit in Them.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2

ASKED if the exhibition of hawking at Juvisy, France, described recently in the European press, indicated revival of the ancient sport of falconry, the Hon. G. W. Lascelles, Deputy Surveyor of the New Forest, a royal domain at Lyndhurst, and himself a keen falconry enthusiast, said that modern conditions were all against any considerable development of falconry, but that it still had a certain number of enthusiastic devotees who had no intention of letting it die.

"If you seek to know if falconry is likely again to become a common, not to say the commonest, form of sport, as it once was, I can say positively that such a thing is impossible.

"The general enclosure of the whole of England, save only the various tracts of downs, renders it impossible to practise falconry except in a few parts. The men who happen to delight in this sport, and also to live in a country where they are able to practise it, are few, while those who are so fond of it as to leave home for certain seasons and go to a suitable country for falconry are fewer still.

"Moreover, in these days of hurry and scurry big bags and rapid locomotion an old world sport which requires time and infinite patience, and is one of the most difficult to succeed in which man has ever attempted, is not in accord with the prevailing temperament of the modern sportsman, who wants everything made easy for him and looks for large results in a brief time.

"It is only occasionally that I meet young men who have the genuine sporting instinct in them and will spend time, good temper and patience in falconry, though those who can thus succeed will deem it the noblest sport in which man has ever indulged. Unfortunately, the men who could and would succeed are generally those whose occupations are such that they cannot devote the necessary time to it.

"Of all things falconry, being a purely wild sport, lends itself least to exhibitions on race courses or at aerodromes, such as that recorded in the newspapers. The account of what took place is enough to damn the whole performance in the eyes of any genuine sportsman. To fly hawks before an aerodrome crowd at pigeons which they catch 'in a few seconds' is just as near to real falconry as the chase of an enlarged fox by a pack of dogs around a circus would be a genuine exhibition of fox hunting as followed in this country."

"The expression 'revival' of falconry is absurd. Falconry has never been dead for a single year and needs no reviving. For reasons which have nothing to do with it as a sport it has become possible only in a few places, and consequently is followed by only a few men. But it goes on, and always has gone on, as the favorite pursuit of a certain small number of persons who are fortunate in having the facilities for it.

New Hotel Opens in Four Years

London Promoters Select Valuable Site Overlooking Buckingham Palace.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2.

A MAMMOTH new hotel overlooking Hyde Park—it is even averred by its promoters that it will be the largest and finest in the world—is to be erected, at a cost of $6,250,000, upon the site at present occupied by St. George's Hospital, but it will not be ready for opening within four years.

The project has been in the air for a considerable time, but it has only now been made definitely possible by the decision of the Westminster and St. George's Hospital governors to combine these institutions, to sell the sites upon which they stand and to build a joint hospital in South London, probably near Wandsworth Bridge.

Certain formalities, such as an arrangement with the Duke of Westminster for the rights of pre-emption over a certain portion of the site, have to be concluded, but the scheme is virtually cut and dried.

The site, which comprises the land upon which the hospital now stands, together with five mansions in Knightsbridge, rather more than an acre and a half, will cost $2,300,000. The purchaser is Mr. Mallaby-Deeley, M. P., who said:—"The site is, I think, admittedly the best in any great capital in the world, and I know them all. First of all, the hotel will overlook Buckingham Palace and the Green Park, which can never be built upon, and residents will enjoy the experience of being able to see from their own windows the King and Queen drive to and from the Palace. On another side the hotel will overlook Hyde Park, which also can never be built upon."

Society Is Deserting the Private Ballrooms

London Finds Hotel Accommodations Better Suited to Large Dancing Parties and None but Truly Palatial Residences Can Now Attract the Younger Sets.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2.

NOTHING is more significant of the change which has come over society during the last decade than the growth of what, till recently, was unheard of except in the suburbs—the dance given in a hotel. The fashion seemed to spring up in a night, for during this season the Ritz Hotel ballroom in particular has not been in darkness one single evening, Sundays excepted. In reality the change came gradually.

The beginning was the giving of dances in empty houses. An enterprising hostess suddenly realized the saving of wear and tear to temper and furniture alike which would be gained by hiring for one night some large and convenient empty house, and this custom gradually crept in. But at the best the "empty house dance" is a poor thing. There is something depressing and temporary in the atmosphere of a house the upper rooms of which are known to be empty. Then some one, greatly daring, decided to send out invitations for dancing at one of the big hotels.

The idea caught on, and now not only are the hotel dances more popular than any except at the really palatial houses, like Lansdowne or Derby House, but many young persons actually refuse to go to the dances at private houses. The fashionable girl of the period is not the maiden of twenty years ago, who was excited at the idea of a dance—any dance.

At a very recent ball at which several royal personages were present a quite young girl caused some amusement by confiding to her friends that she had come only because her chaperon had wept when she announced that it would be too much bother to go.

The truth is that another indispensable point to the up to date girl is the permission—or the possibility—of "taking her own men" to a dance. Otherwise in the heterogeneous world of modern London she risks meeting none of her special friends. And at the very formal balls, with royalty present and decorations and full dress worn, she is not asked, of course, to take, nor dare she take, her own friends with her.

SIMPLE LIFE RULES FOR MODERN BEAUTY

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2.

"Simple life" beauty culture seems to be the vogue now, and it is said English women are turning away from elaborate and expensive preparations in favor of the homely, old fashioned remedies. A London expert advises washing the face only in water that has been previously boiled or distilled, and recommends:—

Distilled water instead of expensive washes.
Elder and thyme waters for the face.
Lemons for bleaching the skin.
Buttermilk both for a wash and to drink.
Cucumber juice for the complexion.
Nettle, dandelion and colisfoot beers to drink, as good for the skin.
Cocoa butter instead of more complicated face foods.

Disease Spread by Dirty Streets

Sanitary Experts Urge English Cities to Adopt Stringent Anti-Spitting Bylaw.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2.

THE methods by which disease is spread by the unthoughtful were explained by Dr. Morley Mathieson at the Sanitary Congress, held this year at Exeter.

Visitors to London, especially Americans, are often disgusted by the objectionable habit of the lower classes, and even of those who ought to know better, of spitting in the streets. It not infrequently happens that passersby on the sidewalks find themselves spat upon, not wilfully, perhaps, but carelessly, by passengers on omnibuses.

It was this habit of spitting that Dr. Mathieson took for his subject. "There are few circumstances that necessitate habitual spitting," he said. "Tobacco smoking, for example, ought not to call for it.

"While the most common infection distributed is that of tuberculosis, it is well known that casual organisms of many other diseases, such as pneumonia and cerebro-spinal meningitis, can be similarly spread. The part played by indiscriminate spitting in the one disease of consumption is, however, sufficient illustration of the need of compulsory control.

"The majority seem to regard habitual spitting as natural and necessary and observe neither care in the manner of disposal nor anything approaching privacy in the act. Spitting here, there and everywhere is regarded as a prerogative by the freeborn Briton."

Airship Line to Connect London and the Provinces

Passenger Service to Manchester and Other Interior Cities and Regular Schedule to Paris Promised by Promoters with English Built Machines.

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2.

AN airship passenger service between London and Paris, between London and Manchester and other English cities will be commenced very shortly. The scheme is above all a commercial proposition, in which anything experimental will be eliminated.

Mr. E. C. Powell, of Lombard street, the originator of the proposal, says:—"Apart from the commercial aspects of the question we will endeavor to demonstrate by object lessons the efficiency and safety of dirigible airships and to establish an airship building industry in Great Britain."

A start is to be made "as soon as possible." It is to be a passenger airship service similar to those which have been tried elsewhere, notably in Germany.

"We can make excellent aeroplanes in England to-day, but at present we cannot turn out an all-British airship. Our airship, however, will be built in England. Everything will be the result of the co-operation of British labor and capital, but at first it may be necessary to go abroad for some things. We shall start with a non-rigid or semi-rigid type of airship. These can be built more cheaply and more quickly than the rigid type, and they will sail higher than the rigid. On the other hand, the industry once thoroughly established, it will be necessary, as far as we know at present, to build rigid ships if we want larger vessels.

"The airship will be made to carry, nominally, a dozen passengers, as well as a fair cargo. We have secured the services of the most competent and experienced men, and we shall begin the industry of airship building in England as far as possible at the point to which the experience of other countries has brought them. Underwriters have already guaranteed our capital, but we wish to enlist the interest of the business community and the public generally in the scheme."

"FOXGLOVE YEAR" THE FLORAL DESIGNATION

(Special Dispatch.)
LONDON, August 2.

They are calling this "foxglove year" in England on account of the unprecedented height and the magnificent blossoms which these flowers have attained this season.

Foxgloves in Kew Gardens are eight feet high and Lady Dorchester has one which measures ten feet three inches But even this is below the record of a plant in the garden of a woman in Bishop's Stortford, if her description of it in a letter to a London newspaper is to be credited. Her foxglove, a creamy white variety, has a stem sixteen feet in height, carrying 300 blooms and seed cases.

It is explained that the unusual wonders of the foxglove this summer are due to perfect conditions for the last two years. The foxglove is a biennial, and the warm, sunny summer of 1911 caused its complete and extensive fertilization by the bumble bee. The cloudy, wet season of 1912 offered the best possible conditions for the development of the seedlings, while the mildness of last winter allowed them to grow on unchecked, bringing them into blossom at their best this summer.

HOW BROWNING DID IT

"It is my opinion that Robert Browning would never have been a great poet if he had been forced to support himself by his writings, and if he had been subjected to the petty annoyances which the average mortal must endure. Throughout his life he was protected from all that was sordid. He was able to live amid beautiful surroundings, to associate with people who possessed beautiful minds, and to devote his entire time, outside of sleeping and eating, to thinking beautiful thoughts. Under such circumstances I believe that any person with the requisite vitality and power of concentration should be able to become a poet."—From "How to Become a Poet," by Luther Abbotsford McRae.

This Browning person has a cinch:
He never needed to control a
Wish to throttle, shoot or lynch
The guy who used a pianola.

He lived in Venice, where the streets
Are silent, being made of water;
He never heard a sparrow's tweets,
Or music for a turkey-trotter.

No furnace kept him up at night
To shovel coal against his wishes;
And when he wished to sit and write,
He never had to wash the dishes.

He never had to run and hide
When marketmen became too dunny:
He never heard his tailor chide;
For he was heeled with easy money.

But I could never duck the stuff
Which Browning — lucky dog — evaded.
. . . . . .
I trust I've made it clear enough
Why Browning has me slightly shaded.

—Kenneth L. Roberts in the Boston Post.

HOW TO REMOVE SHARP SPECK FROM THE EYE

The quickest and safest way of removing a particle of steel or other sharp object from the eye is described by Hugh Wrigley of Philadelphia, in a letter to Popular Mechanics. He says that when working at an emery wheel a speck of steel flew into his eye, whereupon a fellow workman felt along the lapels of his coat until he found a protruding horse hair. This he pulled forth and formed it into a loop by folding it double. The eyelid was turned back over a pencil; the speck of steel was found and removed by drawing the loop of horse hair over it.

This is painless and cannot injure the most sensitive eye.

Passes Cigars.

He passed his cigars around, and one coster lady lighted a weed.

After the judging of donkeys the costers gave an exhibition of dancing, and Lord Lonsdale led the first number with a partner whose costume would have made Joseph's coat of many colors look like a mourning garment.

Lord Lonsdale is one of the best judges of horse flesh in England, is a master of hounds—a position ranking almost with an archbishop's—in a leading light of the Coaching Club, shoots, boxes and plays billiards. Only recently he pursued a pickpocket through a crowded street, caught the man and handed him to the police.

THE HEREAFTER.

A quarrelsome couple, having exhausted many subjects, came to discussing tombstones, and the husband asked: "My dear, what kind of stone do you suppose they will give me when I die?"

"Brimstone," was the reply.—Tit-Bits.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

McDonald & Lesperance, stock brokers, private wire to New York and Montreal, Hochelaga Bank Building. Telephone 1227.

(Canadian Press Service.)

New York, Aug. 1—Contrary to expectations in some quarters, the intention of the Government to deposit funds at points in the West and Southwest so as to expedite the movement of crops to market failed to exercise more than a momentary stimulating effect on security values todya. In financial quarters the statement of the Secretary of the Treasury dealing with this matter was received with some resentment, there being a disposition to question the legar right of the authorities at Washington to accept commercial paper as collateral for federal deposits.

Other developments, including the first real "crop scare" of the season and the Government's unfavorable estimate for cotton were more disturbing and far reaching. Advices, more or less authoritative, indicated further severe damage to corn by reason of the extended drought in the Southwest, and the cotton estimate was more than 2 points under that submitted a few weeks ago, though less than a point under the average of the past decade. Corn options rose excitedly at leading markets and shares of roads in the South and Southwest were correspondingly depressed.

The movement spread until it embraced practically all railroad groups, almost the sole exception being Baltimore & Ohio. Illionis Central fell lower than any day since the announcement of its dividend reduction, while New York Central and some of its allied lines, Atchison and Pennsylvania, all of which submitted adverse July reports, were under more or less pressure. A sharp break in Mexican Railway second preferred called attention to the increasing financial embarrassments of the Mexican republic, with hints of an early suspension of fiscal obligations. The reaction ran from 1 to 2 points with no material change in the later dealings, which were dull and circumscribed.

The local money market was practically unchanged, save for a stiffening of 90-day accommodations. The general supply was lighter with a decrease of interior offerings. The cash movement indicated a gain for the week of about $4,500,000.

The general bond market was inclined to yield, with sharp declines in speculative issues. Government 2's and Panama 2's advanced ¾ and Panama 3's ¼ on call.

Total sales, par value, were $1,300,000.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER

Received over the private wire of McDougall & Cowans, stock brokers. Phone 4076.

New York, Aug. 1—There was no change in trading during the last hour's business, trading continuing almost lifeless, fluctuations even in the more important were confined within a narrow range.

Canadian Pacific Railway recovered about all its early loss of this morning on moderate covering of shorts. Lehigh on few sales declined to 149¼ and a fractional recession occurred in Acp. Many of the usualyy curred in Acp. Many of the usually active stocks in the final trading were practically unchanged from yesterday's final.

Total sales 167,000; bonds $1,235,000.

CLOSING LETTER.

By private wire to Neuville Belleau & Co., 93 St. Peter st., Quebec. Phones 946-4076.

New York, Aug. 1—In view of the fact that London sent prices ¼ to ½ of a point higher our market failed to respond and the opening here was at a small fractional loss except in the case of a few of the leaders, notably Steel, Amalgamated Copper, Union and Southern Pacific; however, these did not retain the betterment and by 1 o'clock were all below the closing of yesterday.

Hot weather without rains for the corn srop sent it up 2 cents per hushel, while wheat sympathized, rising 1 cent.

Oats were 1½ cents and cotton 10 to 15 points higher on the Government report, which was considerably below expectation.

Apparently, there has been serious crop deterioration during the past week.

Secretary McAdoo's announcement that 25 or 50 million of dollars would be deposited at once in the banks in the West and South by the Government to facilitate the moving of the crops and that municipal bonds and commercial paper would be accepted as security, is another evidence of lack of judgment the situation demanded no such radical action.

The Mexican muddle seems no clearer than heretofore, although President Wilson asserts that he will not intervene and believes the matter capable of solution.

Steel Corporation's statement, it is thought, will show a loss of 400,000 tons in orders.

Atlantic Coast Line for June increased $199,650 in net, nearly 20 per cent.

London was said to have bought about 20,000 shares on balance today.

Copper metal moved up another ⅛ cent per pound, to the accompaniment of large buying for export.

The Baltimore & Ohio notes were all placed and the Illionis Central equipment notes sold, while time money was offered for slightly longer periods at 5½ per cent.

Brandeis' meddling instincts resulted in his attempting to hold up the New Haven financing, but it is not believed he will be long successful.

Business for the day was in small volume, only 147,000 shares up to 2 o'clock.

A resolution was introduced in Congress today attacking the coal trust, so-called, and several anthracite coal railroads.

The Edison Company of New York and Astoria Light, Heat and Power Company, together, request permission to issue over $30,000,000 of securities to repay advances from the Consolidated Gas Company.

The closing was extremely dull, with prices at near the lowest and at net losses of ½ to ¾ of a point for the day.

Business is so sluggish that it is almost idle to forecast the future, but we still believe in buying on weak spots and in ultimately higher prices.

BANK OF ENGLAND BULLION MOVEMENT

London, Aug. 1—Bullion amounting to £210,000 was taken into the Bank of England on balance today.

NEW YORK CLOSING LETTER.

By private wire to M. L. Dohan, broker, Dominion building, St. Peter street. Phone 4748.

New York, Aug. 1—The Street talked of everything but the market in late afternoon for the good reason taht there was hardly any market to discuss. What there was of it lacked strength and indicated that speculative holders were tired of their position. Traders professed disappointment oved New York Central statement for June, and was some selling of the stock market showed no rallying power. Prices did not decline much but when they went down they remained down. Brokers said it was not easy to sell some of the specialties. C. & O. was one of the weak features again today on rumors of a reduction in the dividend rate. Canadian Pacific at one time showed a decline of nearly one point from the previous close, but on the decline there was some very good buying orders received on the floor and that stock quickly made up its early loss. Closing at 215¼ or the same as Thursday's closing.

Foreign houses again were buyers of American issues, taking about 20,000 shares on balance.

Steel common is well bought on every little dip, and the gossip of the Street is very friendly towards this corporation.

Money closed 2a2¼ per cent.

Total sales 135,500.

DREAMS OF MONEY HE NEVER HAD

MAN FROM HULL SPENDS AN IMAGINARY FORTUNE IN QUEBEC STORES.

Adelard Jarry, dit Falardeau, from Hull, P.Q., arrived in this city a few days ago and for a time created a sensation by the way he began to spend his imaginary wealth. Adelard evidently got mixed up with cocaine before he struck Quebec, or had started in here to "sniff the snow" until he became a veritable aeroplane in the flights of his imagination.

He started in to have a good time spending his millions, and began by buying real estate, giving his note for $140,000 to cover one purchase, and made known his intention of buying pianos and other expensive articles of household furniture with a lavish hand. Finally he paid a visit to the jewelery store of Mr. J. O. Massicotte, No. 7 St. Joseph street, and purchased $20 worth of goods, for which he paid by check. Mr. Massicotte lost no time in going to the bank to have the check cashed, when he found three were no funds. This put an end to Mr. Falardeau's career in Quebec. He was soon in the keeping of Detective Defoy, who escorted his prisoner to the Police Court, where it was seen that he was heavily charged with cocaine, and he was remanded to goal until he recovered.

LAUDER'S HARP.

Harry Lauder's greatest bores are strangers who claim old friendship with him. One day he was pressed to have a cigar by one of those professing friendship, and while smoking he tore the red band off and threw it away.

"Those cigar bands are very valuable," protested the giver, trying to enhance his gift as much as possible. "For 200 of them you can get a gramophone free."

"My lad," answered the great comedian, "if I had used 200 of these smokes, I wouldn't want a gramophone, but," he added, looking toward the skies, "I would want a harp."—Tid-Bits.

AS CONFIDENT OF THE WEST AS EVER

GENERAL MANAGER OF AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENT CO. ON CONDITIONS.

Among the vistors now in town is Mr. H. W. Hutchinson, managing director of the John Deere Plow Company, who came here to meet his wife, who has just returned from a trip to Europe. The concern with which Mr. Hutchinson is connected has its headquarters in the States, where it has eleven branches, employing more than nine thousand men. In this country it has branches at Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Lethbridge, Clagary, Edmonton and Toronto, in addition to a manufacturing plant at Welland, Ontario.

The annual output of the firm, which deals in agricultural implements, amounts to nearly a hundred million dollars. The headquarters in this country are at Winnipeg and it is probable that a branch will be established at Montreal next year with a view to catering to the needs of this province.

In addition to being a director of the Deere Plow Company, Mr. Hutchinson is president of the Brockville Atlas Co., the Consolidated Mortgage Co., the Mortgage Investors' Co. and the Winnipeg Trust and Mortgage Co., the last three of Winnipeg. He is vice president of the British Crown Mortgage Co., the Queen Investment Co., the Crown Security Co., the Security Investment Co., the Anchor Wire Fence Co., director of the Dominion Bank, the Chandler Fisher Co., the North British Fire Insurance Co., the Dalton Mfg. Co. and the Brauzeau Coal and Land Co.

West In Adjusting Stage.

Interviewed last night as to the situation in the West, Mr. Hutchinson said that it was just now in an adjusting stage. As regards the crop, the reports were pretty good all over the country, and he thought that there would be a good average crop if the weather was in any way decent. The farmers would harvest more than last year.

He did not anticipate that there would be any difficulty in handling the crop unless it was a question of weather here again. It was true that money was tight and that trade was not up to previous years' average. Collections had not been as good as formerly and the grocery and bott and shoe trades were held up to a certain extent. There was, however, a redeeming feature in that the farmers were not buying so much and were thus avoiding the creation of new obligations and enabling themselves to retire a large percentage of the old ones.

Financial Stringency Temporary.

Sales of agricultural implements had shown a marked decline, but this, no doubt, was merely temporary, as was any financial stringency that might be felt out there.

Mr. Hutchinson has been 30 years in the West, and he has just as much confidence in its as he had ever had. No setback could ever last for long. Inside real estate values were still good, but there had been almost an entire cessation in activity in subdivision propositions. That there had been a halt was a good thing in several ways, as it enabled reflection and realization of the true state of affairs. Besides, a whole lot of irresponsible persons who had been all too anxious to shoulder all kinds of obligations before had now had their wings clipped.

Mr. Hutchinson was of the opinion that Medicine Hat was one of the best propositions in the West, and said that any man who had interests there should hang on to them, as he would be well repaid by doing so. That town had splendid prospects.

THE HEART OF HER.

With gentle patience that no man might boast,
She does her daily task year after year,
Meeting her worries as they come, she waits—
In her brave smile there is no sign of fear.
Putting behind her each white, little ghost
Of longings that were once so dear, so dear,
She lives her life today—today and here!

Not always speed those days on happy wings
Not always from her heart trills forth a song;
Sometimes it trembles on the tender lips,
Yet in the brave eyes courage lingers long.
Seeing—and understanding—still she sings,
Nor feels that life has been all sad, all wrong—
To her a wondrous faith and strength belong.

Perhaps some day the one who knows her best
Will know how through the storm and stress and strife
She stood steadfast through troubles multiplied,
When every day dull doubt and pain were rife.
Smothering all within her faithful breast,
When he had turned his back on hope, on life—
She showed the quiet courage of a wife!

A PEACEMAKER.

"I was only acting the part of peacemaker," explained the prisoner.

"But you knocked the man senseless," the magistrate pointed out.

"I did," was the answer. "There was no other way to get peace."

LAST RITES FOR LATE MR. SHARPLES

OFFICIALS OF CITY AND THE PROVINCE AND CITIZENS PAY THEIR RESPECTS.

The funeral of the late Hon. John Sharples, M. L. C., Knight of St. Gregory, took place yesterday morning from his late residence, D'Auteuil street, to St. Patrick's Church, and was one of the largest and most representative witnessed in Quebec for years.

The hearse was proceeded by a carriage containing floral tributes. The chief mourners, who immediately followed the cortege, were Major J. J. Sharples, R. C. A., and Col. All nationalities and creeds were represented in the demonstration of respect and genuine sorrow in the loss of so good a man and citizen, who in his lifetime was honored by all classes of society.

When the funeral procession arrived at St. Patrick's Church and the casket was borne from the hearse to the interior, the Rev. Father Woods, rector, performed the leve du corps.

The church, which was draped in black, was filled with mourners and members of the congregation to assist at the solemn high requiem mass and Libera, which was celebrated by Rev. Father Woods, C. SS. R., assisted by Rev. Fathers Costello and Healey, C. SS. R., as deacon and subdeacon, and Rev. Father O'Hara, C. SS. R., as master of ceremonies.

There were also present within the sanctuary rails His Grace the Archbishop of Quebec, Mgr. Begin, who gave the last absolution; Mgr. Gosselin, rector of Laval University; Mgr. Tetu, Mgr. At the conclusion of the very impressive service the body was conveyed to St. Patrick's Cemetery for burial, followed by some sixty carriages containing mourners. The Rev. Father Woods, assisted by Rev. Fathers Costello and Healy, were present and recited the last prayers as the casket was lowered, and the male choir of St. Patrick's Church sang the Benedictus.

CANTON TROOPS TO MARCH AGAINST CHINESE ARMY

Peking, Aug. 1.—The announcement from Canton that three divisions of Cantonese troops are preparing to march against the northern forces is welcomed in Peking, as government officials say they will anticipate their coming and it will enable the government troops to inflict a crushing defeat on the rebels without risking the sacking and perhaps the burning of Canton city and the disorganizing of southern trade.

Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai issued a manifesto today in which he asserted that most of the supporters of the rebellion belonged to the Kwo Ming-Tang party and he denied the cancellation of their membership, threatening that the law would be sternly enforced if he received an unsatisfactory reply. The President also ordered General Tuan Chih-Koei, commander-in-chief of the government forces in the Yang-Tse River region, to arrest and punish the rebel leaders. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, as in the previous proclamation issued by the government, was again unmentioned in President Yuan Shi Kai's manifesto.
