Cabinet called, to talk defence

OTTAWA — (CP) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker today summoned cabinet for the second day in a row to discuss Canada's defence preparedness in relation to East-West tensions over Berlin.

U.S. Army to add 150,000

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Army today was embarked on a program that could add as many as 150,000 men to its present strength by next summer.

Army Secretary Elvis Stahr says the extent of mobilization will be governed, to some degree, by what happens in the Berlin crisis and elsewhere in the months ahead.

He told a press conference Wednesday that among other things the army has placed on the alert 113 reserve units with a total of 23,825 men, that they have been designated "priority units for possible call to active duty."

Stahr said the army expects to reach an authorized total by next June 30 of 1,008,000, but then added:

"We still may not and, indeed, we hope that the international situation will be such that we don't have to call these reserve units and individual reinforcements from the mobilization pool."

EXTENDS DUTY TOURS

However, there was more certainty about the future for other soldiers. The army intends to extend the duty tour of about 84,000 men from the ranks who until now had been scheduled to complete their enlistments between Oct. 1 and next June 30. Instead, they will be ordered to stay on for periods up to four months. In that time, the army expects it will have received enough men from training centres to replace the 84,000.

Officers have their plans cut out for them, too. Those who are now serving what they thought would be six- to eight-month "commandos" are undergoing active duty tours will be liable to up to one year of additional duty.

Fraud hearing

Says QLP employee also worked for CNR

QUEBEC — (CP) — Henri Cassault, CNR personnel director, testified Wednesday that Dell-Ray Laforest was working for the company during intermittent periods from Jan. 29, 1951, to Feb. 24, 1959, while he was a member of the now disbanded Quebec liquor police.

Mr. Cassault's testimony came on the second day of the preliminary hearing of Laforest, his stepfather René Laforest, former district chief of the force, and Leopold Perrault, an inspector.

The three are charged with defrauding the provincial government and the public of more than $500,000 during the last several years.

Most of Wednesday's opening session was taken up with identification of cheques made out to Laforest and in examination of a number of cheques on which the cheques were drawn.

Maurice Arcand, provincial police clerk, testified that study of the accounts brought out irregularities that led to Laforest's arrest.

Russian chemist is granted asylum

OTTAWA — (CP) — Somewhere near Ottawa an award-winning Russian chemist today rested in seclusion under RCMP protection after being granted asylum in Canada.

Here, Dr. Mikhail Antonovich Klotchko, 59, winner of the Stalin prize and Order of Lenin, prepared to make up his mind whether to tell the world why he fled the Soviet Union at the zenith of his scientific exploits in outer space.

Apparently the first important Soviet scientist to defect to the West since Stalin's death in 1953, Dr. Klotchko left a group

Kennedy fights for foreign loans

Urges aid support

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy urged the House of Representatives today to reverse itself and approve long-term authorization of foreign aid loans "in this crucial hour of the nation's history."

Kennedy said Democrats had supported former president Eisenhower's foreign aid program, and "it is urgent that this bipartisan principle be maintained."

A coalition of House Republicans and Conservative Democrats Wednesday struck at the heart of Kennedy's foreign aid program — and dealt him a severe rebuff — by slashing the long-range development loan feature from the House bill.

Helping to make the day a gloomy one for the White House, the Senate whittled more than

Picked up missing girl

MONTREAL (CP) — A motorist Wednesday night told provincial police he is "almost positive" one of two girls he picked up near Montreal's Jacques Cartier Bridge Aug. 8 was Denise Therrien, 16, missing from her Shawinigan South home for more than a week.

Denise, a high school honor student described by her family as "a quiet girl who wouldn't run away," left home Aug. 8 to answer a placement bureau ad for a $25-a-week baby sitter. The address given proved fictitious and she has not been seen since.

"I'm almost positive she's the missing girl," said Paul-Emile Boies, 34, after examining photographs at police headquarters. The motorist said the girls told him they were from Shawinigan and were heading for Toronto.

WANTS A REST

The commissioner said Dr. Klotchko wanted a good night's rest before deciding whether to tell the press his story. Any decision to hold a press conference was up to the professor, whose "motivations would sound better coming from him."

Officials at the Soviet Embassy so far have not been available to comment on Dr. Klotchko's defection. No explanation also was given when three other Russian scientists did not attend a meeting of the international calorimetry conference here Wednesday as scheduled.

Accuse Soviet of Berlin violation

Call Red youths for army

BERLIN (AP) — Communist leaders today called on the 1,700,000 members of their youth organization in East Germany to volunteer for the army.

All members of the Communist youth organization were called to special meetings at dawn Friday to hear the appeal. Leaders of their organization were told to get in touch with headquarters this afternoon for instructions.

Junge Welt (Young World), the Communist youth daily, carried the appeal in red banner headlines: "The Fatherland Calls! Protect The Socialist Republic!"

So far the East German Communist regime has not had compulsory military service. Young men are often pressured to join up, however, with the promise that it will help their chances for an education later.

"Now it is necessary to secure our success and win new victories over the warmongers," the appeal said.

TENSION MOUNTS — As tension mounted in the divided city, the Western allies ringed the Soviet war memorial in West Berlin with barbed wire today after East German gunfire ushered in the fifth day of the border shutdown.

British troops set up barricades around the big memorial, rallying point for anti-Communist demonstrations, as East German police watched through field glasses from across the border a few hundred yards away.

Thousands of angry West Berliners confronted the memorial's permanent guard of armed Russian soldiers Sunday when the East German regime first imposed its border closure to

Won't cross line

TORONTO (CP) — The Lord Mayor of Bristol refused Wednesday to cross the picket line at the strike-bound Royal York Hotel and registered at the King Edward Hotel, five blocks away. Lord Mayor Charles Smith, his wife and three officials, by plane from Winnipeg, cancelled their Royal York reservations.

sorted their posts during the night and fled to the West.

The uniformed factors from communism were among the thousands of police, troops and militiamen jammed around West Berlin to prevent the escape of refugees. Instead of stopping others, they chose to flee themselves.

A soldier of the East German Army and a member of a factory militia unit, both in uniform, last Tuesday managed to dash through the barbed wire cutting East Berlin off from the West.

WOULD TAKE RAILWAY

Mayor Willy Brandt meanwhile sought Western approval to seize the Communist-run elevated railway in West Berlin despite another Red threat to blockade the city in retaliation.

The mayor was to press his plan for "action more than words" at a meeting with the Western big three commanders, who must approve any takeover since Berlin still is an occupied city.

Brandt told 200,000 West Berliners at a rally Wednesday to demand Allied action against the Communist closure of the Berlin border that the allied commandants were giving favorable consideration to the rail seizure. The East German regime controls and nets a neat profit from the elevated lines that run through both West and East Berlin.

New project by Dr. Hans Selye

Skin moulting research program may do away with some surgery

MONTREAL (CP) — The man who gave the English word "stress" to several other languages today started his second quarter century of research into human ills by announcing a new research program.

World-famous Dr. Hans Selye, 54, head of the University of Montreal's Institute of Experimental Medicine, has given details of new experiments which offer the possibility of eventually obviating some surgical procedures.

Given the technical name of "calcephylaxis," the startling new research programme "is the only one we have going on now," said Dr. Selye, "but we are examining it from all angles — as it affects stress, heart, renal, skin and inflammatory diseases."

Famous for exposing stress as a relentless killer of men, Dr. Selye in his new program of research is assisted by post-graduate scientists from Canada, the United States, Belgium, Italy, Argentina, Czechoslovakia and Portugal.

The research group under Dr. Selye has induced moulting in a vertebrate and has opened possible new vistas in treating human ailments.

And, as Dr. Selye explains it, it was while doing cardiac and renal disease research during recent months that his researchers "accidentally" discovered that calcification of animal tissue "could possibly" obviate certain forms of surgery.

The experimental method was to have calcium deposits made at "predetermined sites of the body" of rats, in one case the animal's skin.

One chemical — a derivative of vitamin D, used in the treatment of rickets — was used as a

A capitalist in the making?

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — At a police bicycle auction, city purchasing agent Francis Grady held up a seatless, badly battered bike with only one wheel.

"I'll give you 10 cents," a small boy piped. Touched, Grady replied, "sold," and told the boy to keep his dime for ice cream.

Five minutes later another boy offered the 10-cent bidder $2 for the bike. The deal was closed.

LONDON — (AP) — The three Western powers today formally accused the Soviet Union of complicity in a "flagrant violation" of international agreements on Berlin, and called on the Russians to re-open the border between the two parts of the city.

British, American and French notes, described here as identical, were handed to the Soviet foreign office in Moscow today.

The protests declared the barricades erected in Berlin to stop the flight of refugees and other East Germans from entering West Berlin were completely illegal and "can only increase existing tension and dangers."

The Western Powers called on the Soviet government "to put an end to these illegal measures" by the East German Communists.

These protests marked the second diplomatic step taken by the Western Allies as a result of the border closing which the East German Reds undertook last Sunday.

Two days ago the commandants of the American, British and French garrisons in West Berlin protested to the Soviet Commander about the East German actions.

Set up new advertising system

HALIFAX (CP) — The 42nd annual convention of the Canadian weekly Newspapers Association ended Wednesday with a new system to attract national advertising to small-town weeklies.

More than 250 publishers attending the three-day meeting approved formation of a system for funneling advertising through specific body, set up to relieve advertisers of the job of reaching the newspapers individually.

New association president, publisher J. Ruffin McLachlan of The Empire-Advance of Virren, Man., described the system as a "partial answer" to growing competition from radio, television, dailies and periodicals.

The convention laid the groundwork for the formation of Weekly Newspaper Representatives-Canada to deal with advertisers on behalf of the weeklies. The publishers feel this elimination of individual correspondence by advertisers will make advertising in weeklies more attractive.

About Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In the hills of Hollywood some well-heeled residents collect French provincial furniture and, if they can afford them, French Impressionist paintings.

But at the motion picture and television studios precious collectors' items include such hard-to-find objects as ice boxes with drip pans beneath, hand-wound alarm clocks with bells on top and color reproductions of Maxfield Parrish paintings in gold frames.

One reason is the American Broadcasting Company's preoccupation with the 1920s. This dates from The Untouchables, two seasons back. The Roaring 20s followed last season. Next October a family comedy series, Margie, will continue the trend. It's a rare star who would brave the freeway in anything less than a European sports car. But the automotive darlings of the studios are vintage vehicles—limousines and touring cars with slim tires, wide running boards and horns.

PROWL WAREHOUSES
Property masters and set dressers of Desilu, Warner Brothers and 20th Century-Fox studios, where the three series are being shot, prowl the big warehouses where are stored the ghostly, sheet-shrouded remains of old motion pictures. Many of the Roaring 20s pictures—fringed lamp shades, console photographs and crystal radio sets—were once used for Little Caesar.

The action-packed Roaring 20s often displays authentic 1920 guns, big-nosed flashlights, court plaster instead of adhesive tape.

and big-barrelled hypodermics, where. Producer Hal Goodman wishes that anyone who kept a circa-1920 slicker in an attic trunk would ship it to Fox.

The Margie prop men watch for such homely items as wicker clothesbaskets, glass milk bottles of the prehomogenized era with a special narrow neck to hold "the top of the bottle" cream and flower arrangements featuring dusty pussy willows and dried grasses.

Producers of the new Margie series, however, are faced with one criminal shortage. The plot of an upcoming episode, to be filmed within a couple of weeks, requires a number of those yellow slickers which high school and college students once decorated with such witticisms as "Oh, You Kid," "This Side Up," and "You're My Chicken, I'm Your Fresh Egg."

They can't find them any.

Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Supposing a girl reminds producers of a combination Liz Taylor-Grace Kelly. Is that good?

Dolores Faith shakes her lovely head.

You might take a look at her and disagree. In fact, you'll probably take a second look.

Most people do.

"I suppose it's only natural to be compared," says Dolores. "People need a point of reference. But I still want to make it on my own."

She's making it. The doll has been jumping up the scale from bits to a lead in Wild Harvest, taken from Stephen Longstreet's novel. But she admits that resemblance has sometimes held her back.

"There was the time I tried out for a contract at Warner Brothers," she recalls. "They told me I was a combination of Elizabeth Taylor and Grace Kelly and they wouldn't know what to do with me."

DOLL-LIKE FACE

The Taylor look is obvious: the black hair, the doll-like face, the dark eyebrows accentuating the blue eyes. Kelly? "They thought I acted like her," she claimed. "I was aloof. Aloof? I was scared to death, that's all."

Still, she shows remarkable composure for a 19-year-old. You get a notion why when you view her childhood.

She was born Dolores Faith Hedges in Cleveland. Her father was of Hungarian descent and her mother Italian. At four, Dolores was stricken totally deaf.

"My eardrums burst while I was playing one day," she says. "The doctors couldn't really account for it. For six months I could hear absolutely nothing. Then I could hear a little at the eardrums began to heal. But my hearing never returned completely until I was nine."

The years of deafness also left her with a lisp. She got rid of it only a year ago with such exercises as talking with a pencil in her teeth.

Ball family re-union held at historic Border home

ROCK ISLAND — The historic home of Lady Henrietta Banting, was the scene of a recent weekend reunion of the Ball family. It was the first such reunion for the present generation. Previously family get-togethers were organized by the late Mrs. Albert P. Ball.

The families gathered from many parts of the United States and Canada. First arrivals were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ball and daughter, Mary Lee, of Cambridge, Mass., then came Mrs. Mary Ball Manning, of Montreal.

The weekend was spent in reminiscing, with frequent references to Forst and Clearings. The guests indulged in golf, fishing, and searching for antiques.

On Saturday evening, Lady Banting, the former Henrietta Ball, entertained at a buffet supper. Guests included her mother, Mrs. Henry Ball, of Newcastle, N.B.; David B. Mansury, and daughter, Judy, of Toronto, Ont. Dr. and Mrs. William Lee Ball, Ottawa, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ball and Mary Lee; Mrs. Mary Ball Manning, Col. and Mrs. Jack McCannell, the former Eleanor Ball, of Ottawa.

The same afternoon, Mrs. Manning and her brother, Frank Ball, travelled to Richmond, and Dr. William Ball to North Hatley to visit their birthplaces.

Sunday, the family was joined by Lindsay Hovey, of Winnipeg, a Mansur descendant.

The Lee Farm, home of Lady Banting, was cleared in 1797 by Jedediah Lee and was probably the first farm in this community.

Presentations to Scotstown couple SCOTSTOWN — Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth MacIver were happily surprised recently when several of their friends, including Mr. and Mrs. Albert Murray and son, Stanley Murray, and Mr. David Nicholson and daughter, Miss Gail Nicholson, of Montreal, called for a social evening and presented the couple with an automatic electric percolator. At the close of the evening the ladies served refreshments.

One evening previously 30 of Mr. and Mrs. MacIver's friends from Milan gathered at their home for a social visit and presented them with a beautiful heirloom bedspread and a rug. A pleasant evening was spent and refreshments were served.

Both of the gatherings were a complete surprise to Mr. and Mrs. MacIver.

EATON — Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Davies and two children, of Madoc, Ont., are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Davies.

Premier Lesage:

Citizens of Quebec aware of own entity

SACKVILLE, N.B. (CP)—Premier Jean Lesage said today the citizens of Quebec now intend to live "as an adult people in a world of sovereign nations."

In an address to the Mount Allison summer institute seminar on "French Canada today," Mr. Lesage said Quebec has "awakened to a consciousness of their own entity, their place in the Canadian Confederation, and their responsibilities as an adult people."

Text of Mr. Lesage's address was distributed to the press in advance of delivery.

"The great majority of Quebec's population recognizes the sovereignty of the federal Parliament and of the provincial legislatures, in their respective spheres of jurisdiction, as being the basis of Canadian federalism."

Mr. Lesage said there is much change but no transformation. The people of Quebec had changed their way of looking at things but they had remained faithful to themselves and more than ever were holding on to their culture, language and religion.

At one time Quebec thought its only asset was its culture and its various characteristics. Now the people have come to realize the land in which they live belongs to them and that it is up to them to develop its immense resources. They felt they could ensure their survival as a distinct group by conquering their economy.

Contest for East ward seat

At least one of the aldermen who are seeking re-election in the forthcoming municipal elections probably will face opposition.

Wednesday evening, Armand Desbiens announced that he would probably oppose Ald. Felix Thibault for his seat in the East Ward.

This is an ironic twist, as Mr. Desbiens has been one of Mr. Thibault's most ardent supporters in the past elections.

Mr. Desbiens was formerly a member of the Sherbrooke police force, and at present is president of the Market Gardeners of the Sherbrooke region as well as vice-president of the Federation of Gardeners of the Province of Quebec.

"There is no question, however, that they will withdraw into a state of isolation that would be illusory for one member of our Confederation as it would be for all."

Mr. Lesage said life is changing in Quebec but what is particularly new about it is the speed with which the present changes are occurring.

"As a matter of fact, the people of Quebec have developed more during the past five years than they did during the previous 25 years."

Their philosophy of life and history has changed, he said.

The people of Quebec formerly lived in the shade of their glorious past and feared an uncertain future.

Now they respected their past but looked to the future with confidence and were prepared for it.

They used to think their education system could prepare them for any situation in life.

Now they insisted it must be improved to meet modern requirements.

In the past they believed instinctively in the virtues of private enterprise.

Now they wanted the government to play its part in the planning of their economic activity.

They used to live in isolation. Their world was Quebec.

Man injured in falling from truck

An employee of the Carnation Milk Company was taken to the Sherbrooke Hospital early Wednesday morning after he fell from a Carnation milk truck.

Hospital authorities said this morning that Malcolm Morrison of R.R. 3, North Hatley, is not seriously hurt but is being kept in the hospital for observation.

Allow Bell to construct phone line

WATERLOO (Special)—At an adjourned meeting of the Council of Waterloo held Aug. 15 at 8 p.m. under the presidency of Pro-Mayor Maurice Lalumière, the Bell Telephone Company was given authority to run a new line on Gervy Street.

Bylaw No. 253 was amended to read $100,000, in place of $125,000, and a notice of motion for a working loan By-Law No. 254 was given for the sum of $25,000, to be repaid in 15 years.

Mr. Leon Duroche, surveyor of the City of Granby, was authorized by the Council to give a technical description on a piece of property 100' x 200' on Park Street that the town is selling to Bernard Bachand.

Twenty properties have changed hands in Waterloo from the first day of May to the fifth day of August. Six of these properties were sold by Norris Bros.

Announcer dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Harry Balogh, 70, a boxing announcer for both radio and television died Wednesday in hospital. Balogh, a former amateur fighter and manager of a gym, became widely known in the 1930s when he announced most of Joe Louis's heavyweight championship fights.

Quebec cabinet studies $750,000,000 road plan

QUEBEC — Roads Minister Bernard Pinard Wednesday said the Quebec government is studying a $750,000,000 province-wide road building program.

Speaking to a delegation of politicians and businessmen from Megantic county in the Eastern Townships, Mr. Pinard said many highways in the province are being built or improved, "but we must proceed within the limits of our budget."

Open late, 9 grocers given fine

Doing business after the legal closing hours is starting to prove very costly to Sherbrooke storekeepers.

Nine grocery and combination grocery-store-restaurant owners were given fines ranging from $5 to $25 and costs for selling groceries after the legal closing hours and on Sundays.

According to authorities, the inquiry is continuing into the practice of keeping open after hours and the police officials have been notified to be on the watch for these offenders.

Nails his man, same name, too

MIAMI (AP)—Detective Leon Hall filed three worthless cheque charges against fugitive Leon Hall in criminal court Wednesday.

The detective filed three cheques totalling $78 and a picture of the alleged cheque passer.

Detective Leon S. Hall said he had never met fugitive Leon G. Hall, but he'd like to.

Effective Aug. 22

Evening, Sunday services curtailed under new schedules announced by bus company

Radical changes in autobus circuits operated by Laramie Service Inc., especially in connection with evening, Saturday and Sunday services, will become effective next Tuesday morning, August 22, according to an announcement by the company.

Basically there will be few changes of routes or present schedules on weekdays, the only major alteration being the restoration of the Bouchette circuit No. 12, serving the North Ward, which was suspended during the summer months.

But after 6:30 p.m., the revision of routes is widespread.

For instance, Route 10 Prospekt 7th Avenue and Route 14 Murray-Argyle, linking the North Ward and East Sherbrooke, will be suppressed and replaced after 6:30 p.m. and on Sunday by new route 16 Argyle 7th Avenue.

Circuit 16 will follow the following route in the North: King and Wellington, Wellington North, Frontenac, Dufferin, Crespe, Prospect, Victoria, Ontario, Prospect, Argyle, Portland, Vimy, Russell, Ontario, Portland, Montreal, Dufferin, Frontenac and Wellington North.

In East Sherbrooke, the following route will be followed: King and Wellington, King West, King East, Bowen North, Morkill, Hebert, 1st Avenue North, Terrill, Park, King East, 7th Avenue, Council, Murray, Woodward, Bowen South, King East and King West.

Buses will operate on a 20-minute schedule from 6:30 p.m. to 11:50 p.m. weekdays and Sunday from 11:30 a.m. to 11:50 p.m.

On market night, these changes will become effective only at 10:10 p.m.

Another important change affects Route 33 Fairmount-10th Avenue and 36 McManamy, East-West ward links.

These will operate as at present during week-days to 6:30 p.m. and on market days to 10 p.m., but will be suppressed in the evenings and on Sunday to be replaced by a new route 34, Galt West and 10th Avenue.

In the East, this circuit will operate from King and Wellington, King West, King East, Bowen South, Woodward, Normand, Council, 10th Avenue, Langlois, 7th Avenue North, Cormier, Assomption, Trieste, La Bruere, St. Michel, Papineau, King East and King West.

The West section of the route will operate from King and Wellington, along Wellington North, Frontenac, Bellevue North, King West, Alexander, Larocque, Short, Galt West, Pacific, Haig, McManamy, Bellevue South, Union, Dorval, McManamy, Alexander, Notre Dame, Larocque, Alexander, Aberdeen, Wellington South.

This will operate on a 30-minute headway.

While the existing Lennoxville circuits, 40 and 42 will follow existing routes, there will be some curtailment of service. No. 40, now operating daily except Sunday, will be withdrawn on Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays.

On Route 42, the present 30-minute service will be cut to one bus per hour after 6:30 p.m., except on market days, leaving King and Wellington on the half-hour for Lennoxville and on the hour for the North Ward. The hourly service will prevail on Sunday.

Circuits 37 Union and 39 Colinsville which are operating daily except Sunday will also be suspended on Saturdays. No route changes are planned.

Also left unchanged is the West Section of 38 Saint-Esprit which gets some improvement in its evening schedules, the existing 30-minute service after 8:15 p.m. being replaced by a 20-minute service, similar to that in effect during the day.

However, the East Sherbrooke section of the route will be suspended Saturday as well as Sunday.

Circuit 24 King West - City Limits will be renamed Lowney's and will operate on a 20-minute schedule weekdays from 6:10 a.m. to 6:50 p.m. and to 10:50 p.m. market days. There will be no service Sundays and holidays.

Closing exercises held by Vacation School at Magog

MAGOG — The closing session of the fifth annual Vacation Church School of St. Paul's United Church, Magog, was held in the Church hall Friday evening, Aug. 11, with a large number of parents and friends in attendance.

Under the direction of the minister, Rev. R. A. Mitchell, assisted by Miss Mauney Catchpugh, 42 boys and girls completed 10 days of intensive instruction in the school. The materials used, which were recommended by the United Church of Canada, included the text "Love one Another" in the Primary Department and "Living and Working Together as Christians" in the Junior Department. Among the activities carried on by the children were worship, Bible study and Bible verse memorization, making favors, for sick friends and shut-ins, collecting money for the Canadian Bible Society and the Canadian Council of Churches, playing games together, group singing and other related activities.

The Primary department, with Mrs. Ron Trew as superintendent and Mrs. Julius Richardson, pianist, had classes for six, seven and eight-year-old children. The Junior department, which enjoyed the recently completed Sunday School rooms for the first time, had classes for nine, ten and eleven-year-old children.

The Friday evening program began with a visit to the various classes by those attending, when the children proudly described the work completed. The boys and girls of the Primary department then offered a program of songs and hymns.

Mrs. Richardson's class offered a number of Rules for Living as Friends of Jesus; Mrs. Moffat's class portrayed the story of Jesus and Zacharias using flannel graphs and Mrs. St. Jacques class repeated a number of Bible verses and told where each could be found in the Bible. Richard McLaughlin, a helping teacher in the department, admirably described the "Sharing Gifts" plan illustrating his remarks with the tray

Partridge season is reduced

QUEBEC — The Quebec government has shortened the partridge hunting season this year and lifted some restrictions on bear hunting and beaver trapping.

The partridge season this year will be Oct. 7-Nov. 26, a week shorter than last year's Oct. 1-Nov. 27 season.

Bear hunting, now open, will be permitted all year, except in provincial reserves and parks. Last year, bear hunting was prohibited from July 1 to Aug. 20 on grounds of private hunting clubs.

Trappers will be permitted to capture 30 beavers this year, up from a limit of 20 last year.

Three insurance men win degrees

The Institute of Chartered Life Underwriters of Canada together with The Division of University Extension, The University of Toronto, and The Extension Department of the Faculty of Commerce, Laval University, announces that in the 1961 Chartered Life Underwriter examinations, 116 students successfully completed the third year examinations: 110 of these are awarded the designation "C.L.U."; 6, the designation "Associate C.L.U." Another 37 students completed Part II of the C.L.U. course of study while 135 were successful in Part I examinations.

Flower show dates are set

STANBRIDGE EAST — The 26th Stanbridge East Flower Show will be open at 2:30 p.m. on August 18 and 19 in the Memorial Hall.

The show is being put on by the St. James Anglican Church of Stanbridge East.

Many beautiful varieties of flowers will be on display. It should be a treat for the whole family.

Executive dies

TORONTO (CP)—Kenneth T. Moore, 56, executive with the Manufacturers' Life Insurance Company, died in hospital Wednesday. A native of Amherst, N.S., Mr. Moore joined Manufacturers' Life in 1929 in the Alberta branch and moved to the Toronto head office in 1933.

Mt. Orford lift is transferred

MAGOG — Seventeen Magog businessmen took possession last Monday of the assets at the Mount Orford Provincial Park Ski Centre formerly owned by the Syndicat Co-operatif de Magog. The property consists of a double-chair lift, T-B and rope tow.

The newly-formed group, known as Compagnie de Gestion du Mont-Orford, have guaranteed $250,000 for the assets, the same amount offered by the Montreal firm of Willyn Industries.

The new owners are headed by Claude Langlois as president, with Germain Rivard as vice-president, M. J. Boisvert as secretary and N. Lacasse, treasurer. Directors are A. Lussier, A. Demers, R. Crevier, G. Rouleau and L. Martin.

Theatre to open doors to children

Children over 10 years of age will be allowed to attend motion picture showings at Sherbrooke's Grand Theatre for the first time under new provincial regulations Saturday at 10 a.m.

The new regulations allow children over 10 into motion picture theatres, provided the showings are given before 6 p.m.

Saturday's program at the local theatre will be the first of a regular series under the new laws.

Cigaret sale set by tennis club

East Berlin's sealed borders

Some of the jitters about the sealing off of East Berlin have worn off a bit by now, but there still seems to run through some Western reaction to the situation a note of injury, and even of surprise that the Communists should do this thing to the East German people.

But it was a logical development, long predicted by many observers on the scene. From the East German point of view, it was an absolutely essential move.

Thousands of East Germans have been seeking refuge in West Berlin for the past few years. They have been streaming over the borders in large numbers, slowly but surely draining East Germany of her brains and her muscle power.

As they came, they were greeted with fanfare on our side, particularly from the Americans, who almost daily crowed long and loud in public about the fact that the Western way of life was preferred by so many to life in East Germany.

We chose to turn the refugees into instruments of propaganda. Under the circumstances, this may have been unavoidable.

But now, those instruments are no longer available in large numbers, and the West, as a result, is faced with loss of prestige in Europe, and in other parts of the world.

Sealing off the East Berlin border is wrong, and certainly against everything we stand for. But however distasteful it may be, it should not be an occasion for shocked surprise.

Did we expect East Germany to go on allowing itself to be slowly sapped of people for ever?

Did we expect the propaganda challenge this posed for the Communists to go unanswered?

If we did, then we showed distressing naivety.

Rural civil defence

In small, rural communities, there is sometimes a tendency for residents to regard civil defence in the event of a nuclear attack on Canada as unnecessary for them.

In reality, however, it is something about which everyone should think and plan.

If a nuclear attack came, no one would be necessarily immune from the deadly dangers of radioactive fallout, even if they lived in a rural area far from a strike point.

No one would be able to ignore the crowds of refugees from larger areas, some of them possibly target cities; that would be sure to flood the rural districts.

And there would be, of course, always the danger of nuclear weapons missing their targets, for one reason or another and exploding their awesome power haphazardly.

For these reasons, it is heartening to see communities such as Stansstead taking concrete steps towards civil defence preparedness.

The Stansstead council Monday night took constructive action on three civil defence fronts; it has ordered 500 copies of the booklet, "Eleven Steps to Survival from the Emergency Measures Organization for distribution throughout the community, it has named one of its members to keep abreast of civil defence development and inform council of them, and it has decided to ask R. B. Curry, head of EMO, to speak to the Boundary communities.

These are good beginnings, and augur well for future civil defence developments.

A Better Business Bureau

Romuald Bourque, mayor of Outremont and MP for Outremont-St. Jean made a telling point this week when he talked to the Sherbrooke Rotary Club about the work of the Better Business Bureau across Canada.

He pointed out that freedom of private enterprise has been responsible for the development of the prosperous, democratic way of life we know today, but that freedom also demands responsibilities.

The responsibilities of free enterprise are represented by the Better Business Bureau, Mr. Bourque said.

For this reason, a bureau is an asset to any community, and would be an asset to Sherbrooke.

There is no Better Business Bureau in Sherbrooke now. Nor would it be a completely simple matter to set one up. The support of the entire business community would be necessary, both from a financial and a moral point of view.

A good man would have to be found to head the bureau and a good salary paid to him. A Better Business Bureau, by its very nature, is no place for an unqualified, underpaid person. Both deficiencies, or either one of them, would only lead to a poor bureau.

Full support and a good man are not come by without effort.

But if the city's business community want a Better Business Bureau, and are willing to join in a common, serious effort, then there is no reason why Sherbrooke, like other urban centres, could not have one.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

FINESSE GUESS IS EDUCATED
Sometimes the two-way finesse against a queen is a guess. On other occasions, you have a little information to guide you, but sometimes you have a sure thing if you just bother to count your opponents' distribution.

West leads the ace, king and queen of hearts against South's four-spade contract. South ruffs the third lead with dummy's ace of trumps and notes that he will have to locate the queen of clubs to make his contract.

He also notes that West has shown up with six hearts.

CRUMBLD FORTRESS — Tourists take pictures in the crumbled stone ruins of what was once the French fortress of Louisbourg on the east coast of Cape Breton Island 20 miles from Sydney. The Nova Scotia government has taken steps to have the fortress partly restored in time for Canada's centenary. The fort, built in 1713, was destroyed in 1758 by an English invading party led by General Wolfe. (CP Photo)

To restore old Fort Louisbourg

LOUISBOURG, N.S. (CP)—The tall stone walls of the once-mighty French fortress here have crumbled. The desolation is broken only in summer by tourists coming to see the remains of the stronghold and visit a small museum.

The wide, sheltered harbor is watched over only by a light-house. Warships haven't been there since 1758 when General Wolfe led the English to victory and flattened the fort.

Now Cape Bretoners and the Nova Scotia government are moving to have the fort partly restored, a project that would give work to unproved coal miners and would provide a shot in the arm to the growing tourist industry.

The provincial government, in a brief submitted to the federal government, estimated that with the restoration 100,000 visitors might be attracted yearly by 1970. About 50,000 came to the three-day commemorative ceremonies in 1958.

BIG BUDGET
The submission recommended the establishment of a Fortress Louisbourg Committee, a $750,000 budget for the work this year and a project supervisor. The program calls for restoration of the sea wall, moat, dauphin gate, chapel, hospital, bakery, tavern, women's shop, apothecary's shop, prison, a typical home and a corner of the soldier's barracks, among other things.

The submission urges that the work, which would also include building better roads to this east coast town about 20 miles from Sydney, should be completed in time for Canada's centenary in 1967.

The records of settlement here date back to 1700 but the fort was not built until 1713. It was declared a national historic site in 1928.

Warsaw begins to lose drabness

Cheerfulness and sadness are strangely blended in Poland. In this story, Alan Harvey, chief of CP's London bureau who has toured the Communist-ruled country, tells how a resurgent Warsaw is beginning to live down a reputation for drabness.

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer
WARSAW (CP)—Daily around noon waiters in the Warsaw club for journalists glance hopefully skywards and pray for rain.

If it comes, they are spared the long haul from the kitchens to the garden, where gay tables topped with parasols circle a tinkling fountain. They are sad when the sun shines.

That is one side of Warsaw. Life moves to Mediterranean rhythms. Service is slow, waiters look the other way, lunch laxes on so that anyone arriving at 6 p.m. never knows whether the patrons are just starting dinner or just finishing the mid-day meal.

There is occasionally a reckless, insouciant inefficiency, somehow almost appealing. Graft, corruption and petty pilfering, though diminishing, are still fairly common in a nation the Germans systematically tried to turn into a race of drunks.

In all seriousness, one newspaper published an analysis of the average size of bribes. Consumer goods such as refrigerators are hard to get, but the store director magically produces one if you add a sweetener to the asking price.

Housing is sadly short. The size of apartments has just been reduced, and there are nearly two people for every available room. Private flats are still advertised, but you may have to pay rent two or three years in advance. The landlord invests the money in another property and the process starts all over again.

Public transport is hopelessly inadequate. There isn't room inside the streetcars for everybody. Groups of riders clutch the outside of the cars like clusters of grapes, and that's what they are called—"wino-grona."

Many new buildings are faced about further bidding to your partner.

TODAY'S QUESTION
You hold the same hand. The bidding starts out the same way, but your partner's rebid over West's two hearts is three diamonds. What do you do in this case?

REPORTING
OTTAWA — Canadian interest in the economic progress of Latin America is professed by the official Canadian observers who attended the Montevideo conference that ended earlier this week.

Whether this neighborly interest will be backed up by Canadian tax dollars to finance a Latin American economic aid program is not at all certain. The government's view is, as Prime Minister Diefenbaker told President Kennedy here last spring, that Canada is doing its share elsewhere, under the Colombo Plan and other aid programs.

The feeling here is that the despatch of a junior minister — Defence Associate Pierre Sevigny — plus a couple of medium rank foreign service officers and a trade official to represent Canada at the special meeting of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council was about the least Canada could do. In reality, Canadian interest can only be called perfunctory compared with the interest in Asia and Africa that Canada is expressing in dollars.

If you disregard the post-war aid to Britain, which was a special case by itself, the Canadian foreign aid program really started with the Colombo Plan in 1950. The Conservative government increased Colombo Plan spending from $35 millions a year to its present $50 millions (a fact not generally realized) has launched four other economic aid programs. This is the box score:

Colombo Plan: Over a dozen years, $382 millions spent in or committed to India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Malaya, Indonesia, Burma, Cambodia, South Vietnam, Laos, Thailand, North Borneo, Sarawak and Singapore. The first three get 84 per cent of the aid.

British West Indies: $10 millions being spent over five years to supply two inter-island ships and technical assistance.

Special Commonwealth Aid to Africa Program: Canadian participation, $3.5 millions per year for three years, mainly for technical assistance and training. Ghana, Nigeria and Sierra Leone are the principal Canadian beneficiaries.

Special Aid Program for French States of Africa: A new $300,000 program, mainly for educational and technical training in some 20 former French African colonies and protectorates.

Assistance for Empire Areas Not Otherwise Eligible for Canadian Aid: A new program costing $120,000, to provide technical assistance and training to British Honduras and British Guiana.

The total cost is about $3.10 a year for every man, woman and child in Canada — less than the cost of a carton of cigarettes. By this standard of munificence it is little wonder that President Kennedy seemed unimpressed.

The government blows hot and cold on membership in the Organization of American States, but there is nothing in remaining outside the OAS that precludes Canada from wooing a warmer Latin American friendship with a modest aid program.

Against a national budget of more than six billions, and a national product about six times six billions, the amount of money involved would be negligible. And as the Colombo Plan has proven, economic aid engenders political affection, trade, and jobs for Canadians.

Polish gaiety? The sign in the Warsaw hotel said "night silence" would be observed from 10 p.m. But three hours after that there was a sound of revelry by night and glancing out the window I saw five couples dancing ring-around-the-rosie on the sidewalk.

A Canadian militiaman in the same hotel said he witnessed a 5 a.m. race in the main street between farm wagons manned by laughing young men and their girls.

On a short visit, staying in the good hotels, going through the menu (meatless day Monday only), attending the smart parties, one naturally notices the bright side. My only nervous moment came in a Polish bank queue, waiting desperately to change zlotys into sterling with an airport deadline drawing ominously near.

All allowances made, a broad conclusion could be that Poland and other satellites are coming reluctantly to terms with communism. If they can "soften" the rigid Soviet system, liberation may not be as distant as it seems. It won't be precisely the liberation envisaged by the late John Foster Dulles, but something a little easier to live with than unbending doctrinaire Stalinism.

Finally perhaps such "coexistence without tears" might have an attraction for both East and West.

Bygone Days

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
(From the Record of Monday, August 17, 1936)

The North Hatley Canoe Club will travel to Lake St. Louis in a fortnight with a five point lead over the Pointe Claire Yacht Club as a result of the outcome of the opening programme of the annual home and home series here over the weekend. With fifteen-year old Doug Bradley, a freshman skipper, accounting for nineteen points and tying with the veteran Gray Miller, for individual honors, North Hatley was credited with forty-four points to the thirty-nine credited to the visiting team.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
(From the Record of Saturday, August 17, 1946)

Three Eastern Townships men were among a group of forty-eight medical students from Quebec Province who were successful in passing their examinations to obtain doctor's degree. They were Jean P. Fortier, of Sherbrooke, Dennis C. Draper, of Bedford, and Robert Cliche, of East Angus.

FIVE YEARS AGO
(August 17, 1956)

Robert Simpson, of Richmond became the Pony-class winner at the Richmond Fair. One of the few animals judged on opening day of the Fair, the pony led the ten hands and under class.

Mr. Homer A. Mitchell was re-elected as president and R. Fisher was named to fill the vacant office of vice-president at the annual meeting of the Brome County Historical Society. Harry B. Shufelt was re-elected as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Ed. Struthers, of Stansstead read a very interesting paper dealing with the migration from New England and Great Britain to the Eastern Townships. Mr. Struthers was thanked by Mr. Glen Brown, M.L.A., for his informative talk.

Sleepy villages hide a fierce war

By PETER SMARK
LONG TOAN, South Viet Nam (Reuters)—The 13 hamlets that made up this southern Vinh Dinh province village lie sleepily in the midday sun. Young boys hopefully set up fishing lines and doe-eyed girls roll with a sailor's gait under their burdens of water in cans, strung from each end of a long pole. But these people are at war. A desperate guerrilla war has divided the 7,000 people of the village into two camps: the government and the Communist guerrillas. The village is typical of hundreds in the heavily infiltrated rice-growing provinces south of Saigon, where the government controls the roads and main towns, but few of the villages. How can an anti-Communist element in a village survive when the Communists control the area all around? The village officials live in the main hamlet of Long Khanh, as do the eight members of the village self-defence corps, who are farmers by day and soldiers at night. Armed with obsolete French rifles, the eight men and a Catholic priest who organizes them are the sole immediate defence of the five government-controlled hamlets. All around the main hamlet, stone and wooden lookout posts rise 30 or 40 feet above the ground. Here, village men and women keep watch for any Communist attack. Quite often, Communist guerrillas come to within a few hundred yards of Long Khanh and fire volleys, but this is mainly a move to weaken the morale of the people. The Communists have not yet mounted a full-scale attack on the hamlet. But the other four hamlets under government control have not been so fortunate. Every two or three nights, Communist propaganda agents enter them, attempting to turn the villagers against the government. As soon as a Communist agent enters one of these hamlets, however, a runner brings members of the self-defence corps. Knowing that this will happen, the Communists do not spend long in these hamlets. The picture in the other eight hamlets of the village is dismal. There the people are forced to submit to Communist taxes, Communist justice, Communist propaganda, and to give their young men as recruits to the guerrillas. The village officials agree that many of the people were genuinely sympathetic to the Communists. But, they say, the majority are not.

Scattered showers for Nfld.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—Scattered showers were forecast for eastern Newfoundland where fire-fighters continue an unrelenting battle to save the forests from fire. However, the showers were to give way about noon to clearing weather with temperatures in the mid-60's and light winds. Brief outbreaks of rain during the last week slowed the Trinity Bay fires enough to allow evacuees to return to their homes, but hardly ruffled the more-dangerous conflagration in Bonavista North. Helicopters flew men and equipment into the Bay de Verde Peninsula where fires burned inland in a 30-square mile area, not threatening homes. The village officials agree that many of the people were genuinely sympathetic to the Communists. But, they say, the majority are not.

PREVENT OUTBREAK

Water-bombing planes prevented a major outbreak at Glenwood, 20 miles west of Gander. They were on the scene a half hour after the outbreak and quickly brought the fire under control with a deluge of water from their 800-gallon tanks. During the two-months that fires have been devastating spruce and fir woodlands, the winds have been the decisive factor. Twenty-three homes were quickly destroyed when winds veered suddenly toward Brownsdale, Hare Bay and New Chelsea. Meanwhile, at Gander, 150 women and children from Aspen Cove and Carmenville in the Bonavista Bay area are billeted in an abandoned hotel.

RUSSIAN CHEMIST

disappeared and was given protective custody by the RCMP. An NRC scientist, who attended the Montreal congress, described Dr. Klotchko as a thin, ruddy-complexioned man of medium height with grey hair and a small moustache. He is a widower and has no family in Russia. In several he was a member of Russian editorial boards responsible for the publication of chemistry journals. From 1947 to 1955 he was head of a laboratory in the N. S. Kurnakov Academy of Science. A Canadian chemist commented that it seemed unlikely the Russian's work would be of any strategic importance to Canada. Dr. Alan D. Westland, assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Ottawa, said he had read briefly some of Dr. Klotchko's scholarly papers in the chemistry field. They appeared largely concerned with electrical properties and a study of electrodes. RCMP Commissioner Harvison declined to assess the political importance of the Russian's defection, but described him as "a world important and leading scientist." An immigration department spokesman said there is no political connotation to the case and similar action would be taken in the case of any individual in similar circumstances. It is understood that if the Soviet chemist remains in Canada, no restrictions will be placed on his movements and he will be free to do as he pleases.

HATLEY

Gore Institute makes plans for early fall events

GORE — The regular meeting of the Women's Institute, was held at the home of Mrs. Melvin Griffith, Mrs. S. Husk, in the absence of Mrs. G. Coote, who had been injured in a recent accident. A sum of money was voted to the Ploughmen's Association for prizes for the ploughing match to be held on the farm of R. W. Simpson on Sept. 13 and 14. The branch will serve meals on the first day of the match. It was decided to hold a lawn party at the summer cottage of Miss Rachel Woodburn, at Lisgar, on Aug. 23, at 3 p.m. Conveners are Mrs. M. W. Carson and Mrs. R. Griffith. Mrs. Ross Nixon won the fancy apron contest and her apron will be sent to the County booth at the Richmond Fair. The branch hopes to be able to take the sewing course to be given by Mrs. Wells, of Macdonald College, in the evenings of Oct. 9 — 13 inclusive. Mrs. E. Vogelsang offered the use of her home, for the course. Mrs. S. Doyle reported on the County meeting held in July in the Richmond High School auditorium. Mrs. M. W. Carson read an article concerning out-of-print books for a library, which the Federated Women's Institute plans to build up in the H. O. D. Museum. The authors of the books mentioned were, Nina Moore Jamieson, Judge Emily Murphy, Nellie McLung and Ethel Chapman. The monthly drawing was won by Mrs. A. Coddington. At the close of the meeting a food sale was held, netting $160. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Myrlyn Griffith, Mrs. C. Nixon, and Mrs. A. Coddington. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. R. Griffith on Aug. 31, when Miss Bonnie Skillen will give a talk on her trip to the United Nations.

OBITUARIES

CLAYTON EARL BALL, of GRANBY
GRANBY — On Aug. 7, 1961, the death occurred at his residence, 27 Church Street, Granby of Clayton Earl Ball, following a lengthy illness. Born at Abbotsford on March 1, 1898, elder son of the late Arthur Ball and his wife, Alice Roman, Mr. Ball received his formal education in the Abbotsford Intermediate School. Having a keen mind for business, his career started early in life in municipal road work, with heavy double teams, later changing to motor trucks. His first contract was about 1930, when the Sacred Heart College was built, for which he furnished grading gravel and did the cartage of cement. At that time the business was known as the Granby Transport, later changing to Ball Brothers Transport. Direct transport established between Granby and Montreal was expanded to Magog, Sherbrooke, Ste. Hyacinthe, Drummondville and Three Rivers, until the fleet of trucks was sold in 1960 to Dumont Express Company of Quebec City. On May 23, 1935, Mr. Ball married Margaret Robinson, of Granby, who survives him. He also leaves three daughters and one son, Linda, Mrs. Bouskill, Marilyn, Mrs. Garth McElrea, Miss Katharine Ball and Franklin Ball, of Granby, the last two residing at home with their mother; and a brother, Loran Ball, of Granby. One sister, Miss Hazel Ball, predeceased him at the age of 20 years. In May 1960, Mr. and Mrs. Ball quietly celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at their home here. During the many years spent in Granby, Mr. Ball had been a devoted member of the United Church and was at one time chairman of the board of stewards. He was chairman of the Granby High School Board, chairman of the Horticultural Society of Granby, of the Kiwanis Club, of the Board of Trade, past president of the Quebec Truckers Association, a member of the Masonic Order, the Curling Club and the Golf Club. Mr. Ball was ever a generous donor to all worthy causes and he will be greatly missed around Granby where he was well known by a wide circle of friends. In addition to the numerous floral tributes, many cash donations were sent to the Canadian Cancer Society, as requested by the deceased. The funeral service was held in the Granby United Church at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday, Aug. 9, the pastor, Rev. Cyril Foggo, officiating, assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon I. M. Lidstone, of St. George's Anglican Church. The large surpliced choir led the singing of the hymn, Nearer My God to Thee. The bearers were, close neighbors and friends, were Fred Wallace, Nelson Tarrant, Pete Lortie, Mac McComiskey, John Hogan and Fernand D'Arcey. The church was filled with relatives and friends. Interment was in Pinewood Cemetery.

PUBLIC NOTICE

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC, SCHOOL MUNICIPALITY OF SHERBROOKE, COUNTY OF SHERBROOKE.

Public notice is hereby given that at a summoned meeting of the members of the Catholic School Board of Sherbrooke, held at their usual place, on Thursday August 10th 1961, presided by Mr. Francois Thibault and attended by the commissioners William F. Steele, Dr. Adrien Berube, J. Conrad Cayer and Pierre Bachand, it has been decided:

Whereas it is essential to enlarge the Pie X School of four classes and to build a gymnasium, according to the plans and the specifications approved by the Superintendent of the Public Instruction Department. Whereas the total cost of the project (including the architect's fees) is estimated at $133,110.00;

Whereas it is essential to buy for the school year 1961-62, the school furniture and equipment for the amount of $31,000.00;

Whereas the printing fees for bonds and the discount fees that will be paid to the brokers for the sale of the bonds are estimated at $13,890.00;

DETAILED SUMMARY

1.—Cost of construction $124,400.00

2.—Architect's fees $8,710.00

3.—Furniture and equipment $31,000.00

4.—Discount—Printing fees $13,890.00

Total $178,000.00

Whereas it has been proposed by the commissioner Adrien Berube, seconded by Pierre Bachand and carried unanimously in an electrically equipped country home. Please write to Mrs. Arthur Lyster, South Durham, Que. Tel. TA. 6-3167.

1.—The school commissioners for the said Municipality are hereby authorized to do the works above mentioned.

2.—The commissioners are authorized to spend a sum not exceeding $178,000.00 for the purpose of the present resolution, and, to obtain the necessary amount, to borrow through an issue of bonds to the amount of $178,000.00;

3.—These bonds will be issued in denominations of $100.00 or multiples of 100.00;

4.—They will be payable to the bearer or to the registered holder as the case may be, at any branch of the Canadian National Bank in the province of Quebec and also at the main office of the said bank of Toronto;

5.—The bonds will be dated October the first 1961 and will be reimbursed in series in 20 years;

6.—An interest at a rate not exceeding 6% per year will be paid, semi-annually, the first of April and the first of October of each year, on presentation, at maturity, of the coupons attached to each bond;

7.—The bonds will be signed by the President and the Secretary. A facsimile of the signatures of the President and the Secretary will be printed, engraved or lithographed on the interest coupons;

8.—The said bonds will not be redeemable in advance;

9.—It is by the present resolution imposed, and it will be collected each year, for the duration of the loan, on all taxable real estate of the municipality, a special yearly tax at an adequate rate as per the evaluation roll in force each year, to be able to provide, when due, in capital and interest the annual expiration.

10.—The undersigned, Secretary of the Catholic School Board of Sherbrooke, certify that the above document is exact.

Given at Sherbrooke, this 15th day of August 1961.

GUSTAVE LAFONTAINE, Secretary.

Propose sputnik

LONDON (Reuters)—Professor Ary Sternfeld, Russian space flight specialist, has suggested the launching of a sputnik which would be stationary in relation to the earth.

Such a sputnik moving in relation to the stars, would appear stationary to an observer on the earth. That result would be achieved if the sputnik made a full revolution round the earth in exactly 24 hours.

Marriage

MEUNIER-BOYER

SUTTON — The marriage of Marie Rose Jocelyne Boyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Boyer of Chomedey City, to Gerald Francis Meunier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Meunier, of West Sutton, took place on August 12 at St. Andre Roman Catholic Church in Sutton. Rev. Father Arthur Gilbert officiated at the ceremony. The organist was Miss Mary Amos and the soloist was Mrs. Avila Paquette, of Montreal.

Baskets of gladioli and seasonal flowers decorated the church.

The bride who was given away by her father wore a gown of white Italian lace over satin with a full skirt and fitted bodice having long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her veil was held by a coronet of roses, and she carried a bouquet of American beauty roses and white carnations.

The groom's father acted as best man.

The mother of the bride wore a two-piece ensemble of lilac lace with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The mother of the groom chose a gown of gold lace with a beige chiffon duster, beige accessories, and a corsage of red carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Prince of Wales Hotel in Abercorn where vases of summer flowers decorated the bride's table which was centered with a four-tier wedding cake.

Later the couple left on a wedding trip to the United States the bride travelling in a two-piece outfit of mocha brocade with lime green accessories and a corsage of carnations.

Out of town guests were from Chomedey City, Ottawa, Granby, St. Lambert, Dorval, Waterloo, Montreal, Sutton, North Sutton, Cowansville and Waterbury.

North Hatley W.I. holds annual fall fashion show

FOR THE COCKTAIL HOUR — Mrs. Bruce Bishop models one of the many exciting outfits presented at the North Hatley W.I. fashion show Tuesday night.

Social and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ham-tura, California, are spending some time in Sherbrooke guests of Mrs. M. Mandigo, London Street.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Gaffney, of Ontario, California, are spending the next two weeks visiting friends and relations in the Sherbrooke area and are at present guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Mitchell, Glenday Rd., Lennoxville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Norman Flint, Mount Road, Lennoxville, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Richard V. Wood, and granddaughter's Susan and Barbara, of Bangor, Maine, and Mrs. L. B. Pierce, Lennoxville, motored to Stanstead on Saturday, to attend the Stanstead Historical Society meeting and the Garden Party held at the home of Lady H. Banting, M.D., Rock Island.

Mrs. Richard V. Wood and daughters, Susan and Barbara, have returned to their home in Bangor, Maine, after spending the past month with Mrs. Wood's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Norman Flint, Mount Road, Lennoxville, and at Bacon's Bay, Lake Massawippi.

NORTH HATLEY — Fall styles were featured at the North Hatley Women's Institute fashion show held here Tuesday night.

Eight models showed fall fashions in casual wear, afternoon dresses, cocktail gowns and furs in the memorial gymnasium of the North Hatley high school.

Conveners of the fashion show were Mrs. Fred Holland, models, Mrs. E. Hatch, public speaking and music, and Mrs. Claude Smith, transportation.

The models were Mrs. Peter Lake, Mrs. Charles Coleman, Mrs. R. Hatrick, Mrs. N. Pike, Mrs. Bruce Bishop, Mrs. Paul Theobald, Miss Ginya McKay, and Miss Linda Knutson.

Coats of English wool fashioned with yoked backs and wide collars were among the first numbers presented. Two piece-dresses and suits were also featured. A black mohair suit and a checked suit in blue tweed were two of the most popular shown. Camel hair is apparently back again and popular as ever for fall coats. Two coats, one in the classic tuxedo style and one with 3/4 sleeves and a shawl collar were presented.

Liberty's wool and pure silk dresses for afternoon wear were shown. The handblock print on the brown Liberty wool was particularly interesting. This was one of the many outfits shown styled by Nat Gordon.

One of the highlights of the evening were two men's outfits modeled by Ginya McKay and Mrs. N. Pike. As the commentator pointed out a well dressed man is a woman's best fashion accessory. It was noted that trouser legs are slimmer this year.

As well as camel hair coats for college, some excellent ideas in separates were modeled as well as a middy suit in all wool with permanent pleats.

Following intermission some more formal styles were shown including a black lace gown with luxurious satin buttons on the sleeves combined with an emerald green velvet coat, and a green chiffon cocktail dress with butterfly sleeves. One starting number was a Chinese red dinner dress modeled by Mrs. Pike. Black is certainly not going out of style although brilliant prints and greens and gold were also much in evidence at the W. I. Fashion Show.

Fashion commentary was provided by Mrs. Glen Bennett. The outfits were provided by Rosenbloom's and Echenberg's and furs by A. Martin. The gloves were all from Boulton Brothers exclusive to Rosenbloom's in the Eastern Townships. Drapes and sweaters were by Brown's Drapery and Drygoods store in North Hatley.

Members of the decorating committee for the fashion show included Mrs. H. Plow, Mrs. H. Krichew, Mrs. N. Lamb, Mrs. E. E. Spice, and Mrs. John McKay. Mrs. E. Phillipson and Mrs. Charles Daintry were in charge of tickets. Assisting the models were Mrs. G. LeBaron, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Rod Sterling and Mrs. R. Lindskou.

Door prizes were donated by Rosenbloom's, the Pleasant View Hotel, Roger LeBaron, Candlelight Shop, Earl Davis, Lodo's Beauty Parlor, Brownings, Stewart Reed, Mrs. E. Phillipson, and members of the Institute.

Thought for today

Toil only gives the soul to shine, and makes rest fragrant and benign. (Lowell)

Expectant singer increases range

NEW YORK (AP) — When opera singer Phyllis Curtin added three low notes to her already considerable range, she looked around for the reason.

After reviewing her practicing habits and life in general, she put her finger on the vital difference.

Try the hidden bed trick

A TRANSFORMATION — A quick bed in this modern room is a sleek sofa by day. Latex cushion is made up with sheets and blankets concealed by upholstery covering. Rolling back section forward readies bed for the night. Pillow is housed in compartment in back.

The now you see it now you don't bedroom holds special fascination for dwellers in one-room apartments and for families without guest rooms. How long, in fact, has it been since you saw a bona fide guest bedroom?

With the summer influx of guests in full tide, I sometimes feel more the hotel-keeper than the homemaker, as I schedule friends and relatives bent on a visit according to room availability.

It's a scant wonder that dual-purpose furniture which converts a room to accommodate the sleeper enjoys steady popularity. Where a careerist or a couple in the apartment will be converting the living room to bedroom each night, convenience, comfort and durability are prime factors in a purchase. Where such conversion will be made only for guests, you can take a more relaxed attitude.

How do you accommodate overnighters? In our home, we are still at the lowest level — or folding-cot stage — but the folding cot does have a foam rubber mattress. Some day when the budget will hold it, I hope to arrange a room corner with more class.

There are many types and kinds of sleeping equipment to choose from. At the recent summer home furnishings market, there was a marked increase of day beds, of lounges long enough to sleep on, of modern sofas sized for bedding. Most of these, of course, have to be made up with sheets, blankets and pillows at night.

One convenient quick bed, however, converts from sofa to make-up bed by pulling the back section over. Sheets are in place and the pillow hides in a zippered compartment in the back. Only a 15-inch clearance in front of this instant bed is needed.

A four-inch latex rubber mattress makes this a good bed and comfortable seat. Styling is modern — off-the-floor walnut base with brass-tipped legs, wood arms with cane insets.

As I note the sofa-bed combinations, the end tables that hide cots, the chairs that open to bed length, a thought occurs to me. I could furnish, given the money, a fairly attractive living room which by night would convert to a dormitory spacious enough to sleep my brother and sister-in-law and all their children, luxuriously. Well, well, there isn't anything really wrong with folding cots, is there?

Ruth Millett

Sometimes it's a good idea you forget you are his Wives often complain that husbands never really talk to them. Sure, they'll listen and make a few gruff comments when wives talk about the children or household problems. They'll even listen politely while wives gossip about the neighbors.

But what women mean is that their husbands show no real interest when they talk and rarely talk enthusiastically themselves about the things that interests them.

It's frustrating to the wives. They can't just demand that their husbands talk to them. So what can they do?

The one thing they can do is vary their own approach. Tonight, for instance, instead of saying: "Did you have a good day?" or "Anything happen at the office?" and getting the disinterested answer you usually get to those questions—try another start.

Choose a definite situation. Ask some good, sensible, concrete questions that have to be answered.

Then instead of gossiping about the butcher, the baker, the children and the neighbors, tell him something you read on a subject you know he's interested in. Ask him what he thinks about it.

Forget you're his wife and as you talk, treat him like a guest you want to draw out and give a chance to shine.

Tell a funny story if you've heard or read one during the day. That may remind him of one he heard at lunch.

In short, get away from your usual wifely approaches to conversation—the ones you have made a habit. (NEA)

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

It is correct to type a personal letter, but not invitations, thank you notes or letters of condolence.

FASHION'S STRETCH Stretch gloves, longer and more style conscious, make their mark in coordinated sets, consisting of gloves paired to hats, handbags, caps, belts and/or boots.

ABOUT SLEEVES While three-quarter funnel sleeves and even shorter bell sleeves appear in fall suits and coats, there's a trend to the longer, slimmer sleeve.

WELL SEAMED Adroit use of seaming enhances the simple lines of fall fashions. Seams define yokes, flares, tiered effects.

White Sox Belt Indians 17-9 To Knot Series 1-1

Roger Maris Clouts His 47th And 48th Homers To Lead Yanks To 5-4 Win, Orioles Tounce Tigers 8-2

When Wahoo Sam Crawford off southpaw Billy Pierce as New York Yankees defeated Chicago White Sox 5-4 Wednesday on the 13th anniversary of Ruth's death, Maris ran his season total to 48. He is 15 games ahead of the Babe's record pace.

While the Yankees have played 119 games, one was a tie and doesn't count toward a 154-game limit set by baseball commissioner Ford Frick. The ruling was made to equalize the league's 162-game schedule with the 154-game schedule in use until this year's expansion to 10 teams. Maris has 36 games (decisions) in which to get 13 homers.

New York moved three games ahead of second-place Detroit when the Tigers lost 8-2 to Baltimore Orioles, Cleveland Indians defeated Boston Red Sox 6-4, Washington Senators beat Los Angeles Angels 3-2 and Kansas City Athletics belted Minnesota Twins 12-7.

HIT BATTER WINS
Despite Maris' slugging, it was a hit batter with the bases loaded in the ninth inning that gave the Yankees victory. Al

Money, Not Glory, Is Driving Force In Bid By Roger Maris To Shatter Babe Ruth's Home Record Of 60

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris is known as "the angry man." Even his own teammates among the New York Yankees refer to him, on occasions, as "the red-necked Roger."

The man who today has the best chance of anybody in baseball history to shatter Babe Ruth's most fantastic of all home run records—60 in one season—admits he is not the easiest person in the world to get along with.

"I was born surly," he says through thin lips that always that always seem to be snarling, "and I'm going to stay that way."

"Everything is tough in life." A recent man by nature, Maris, 26, has found it extremely difficult to cope with the comparatively sudden fame that has resulted from his dramatic battle with teammate Mickey Mantle in their twin assault on Ruth's 1927 record. A lover of solitude, he finds the almost daily questioning by reporters, radio and TV commentators extremely trying.

TOUGHER THAN PITCHERS?
"You fellows are tougher than some of those pitchers," he once said testily. "Where do you think up these silly questions? How the heck do I know whether I'll break Babe Ruth's record? Besides, you're the only guys thinking about it. I don't. All I'm interested in is having a good season and winning the pennant."

"I'd rather have the dough than the record. And if I have real good season, I'm going to ask for real dough next year, too."

For the record, Maris' 1961 salary is $32,500. Next year, it is expected he will demand around $75,000. Mantle's estimated earnings this year.

Maris currently is three homers ahead of Mantle. He slammed two Wednesday, boosting his total to 48 in 119 games, including a tie. That puts him 15 games ahead of Ruth's 1927 pace. Maris has 36 games left in which to top Ruth's mark for 154 games. He will have the advantage, however, of eight more contests because of the expansion of the American League schedule to 162 games.

HITS A LEFTHANDER
Wednesday has to be one of Maris' most satisfying games—not so much because he slammed two homers, giving him a record-tying seven in six games—but because both of his four-baggers came off a left-hander, Billy Pierce of Chicago.

Up to now most experts have leaned toward Mantle as having the better chance for Ruth's record, largely because of Maris' inability to hit southpaw pitching. Maris does not agree with that thinking.

"I was always able to hit left-handed pitching," said the left-handed slugger. "That is, until last year. That was because I didn't see enough of that kind of pitching. Now that they're using more southpaws against us, I'm getting used to it."

Of Maris' first 22 home runs this season, only one was hit off a left-hander. Nine of his last 26, including the last three, have been hit against southpaws.

Luis Arroyo Not Worried Over Threat
NEW YORK (AP)—Luis Arroyo, 34, New York Yankees' relief pitcher, says he's not worried about a death threat he received in the mail.

"I'll pitch when they call on me—here or any other place," the left-hander said Wednesday night.

Arroyo said a letter postmarked from Jersey City was delivered to his Bronx hotel Wednesday with this threat: "I don't like Puerto Ricans. The next time you go to the mound in Yankee Stadium I'm going to shoot you through the head."

The letter was turned over to Ralph Houk, Yankee manager, who passed it along to police. Both Houk and Arroyo said the threat apparently was made by a crackpot.

O'Keefe Golf Tourney To Be Held At Granby

The home club champions are favoured to capture top honors in the O'Keefe Amateur Golf Tournament which will be held at the Granby-St. Paul Golf & Country Club, Saturday, August 19.

Gerry Huot, the Granby-St. Paul Pro, reports the fairways and greens in top condition. Gerry also feels the par 71 course will prove a tough challenge to the 175 entries expected for the event.

Gerry picks John Ducloux, who holds the amateur record for the course, with 67 Gerald Allaire and Armand Allaire, all home club members, have the most chances of carrying off the O'Keefe Trophy.

Strong participation is expected from the Magog Golf Club, as well as Sherbrooke, Cowansville, St. Johns and Mount Orford.

The amateurs will be competing for $500.00 value in merchandise and the O'Keefe Hole-in-One Trophy, with its award of $100.00, to lucky golfers.

Golf fans are cordially invited to attend this O'Keefe event and admission to the Granby-St. Paul Golf and Country Club, located on Highway No. 1, two miles out of Granby, is free.

No. 54—Mental Map

Unlike most games played with a ball, golf gives players time to think.

This can be either good or bad, depending on how the player uses the time. He who makes up his mind, and sticks to it has a good chance of making each shot count.

As I emphasize in my long-playing record, Hear How to Play Golf with Bob Rosburg, the good golfer plan, every shot. He makes a mental image of the shot the way he wants it to go, transforms that mental picture into reality. Without the image firmly fixed in his mind, his chances of executing a good shot are practically nil.

Once you have made up your mind how and where you want the ball to travel, shoot quickly. The longer you delay after you have mentally visioned the shot, the more chance that you'll vacillate.

It is very helpful when playing any stroke around the green to select the exact spot where you want the ball to land. Visualize the ball in flight and landing with just enough run to carry it to the hole.

Although you won't always make shots as visualized, you'll be surprised how many times your muscles will respond by fulfilling dream shots.

SELECT the exact spot where you wish the ball to land.

Leonard And Balding Clash In Playoff

QUEBEC (CP)—Most of the entries in the 49th annual Canadian Professional Golfers' Association championship share one thought about nearby Boischatel's Royal Quebec Golf course: It's a tough one and will be hard to master.

Even Vancouver's Stan Leonard and Toronto's Al Balding, veterans of the United States professional golf circuit who kick off the tournament today with a special 18-hole playoff for the Rivermead Cup, think this course is not an easy nut to crack.

Balding and Leonard toured the 6,650-yard, par 72 layout separately Wednesday and were shaking their heads when they came back to the clubhouse.

Neither star was willing to give his exact score. However, both admitted shooting "about 71."

The two "statesmen" of Canadian golf are scheduled to tee off at 3:30 p.m. today for the Rivermead Cup and $500 in prize money which goes annually to the low-scoring Canadian in the Canadian open.

TIED IN OPEN
In this year's open, held at Winnipeg July 13-16, Leonard and Balding tied with 72-hole scores of 278—eight strokes behind winner Jacky Cupit of Longview, Tex.

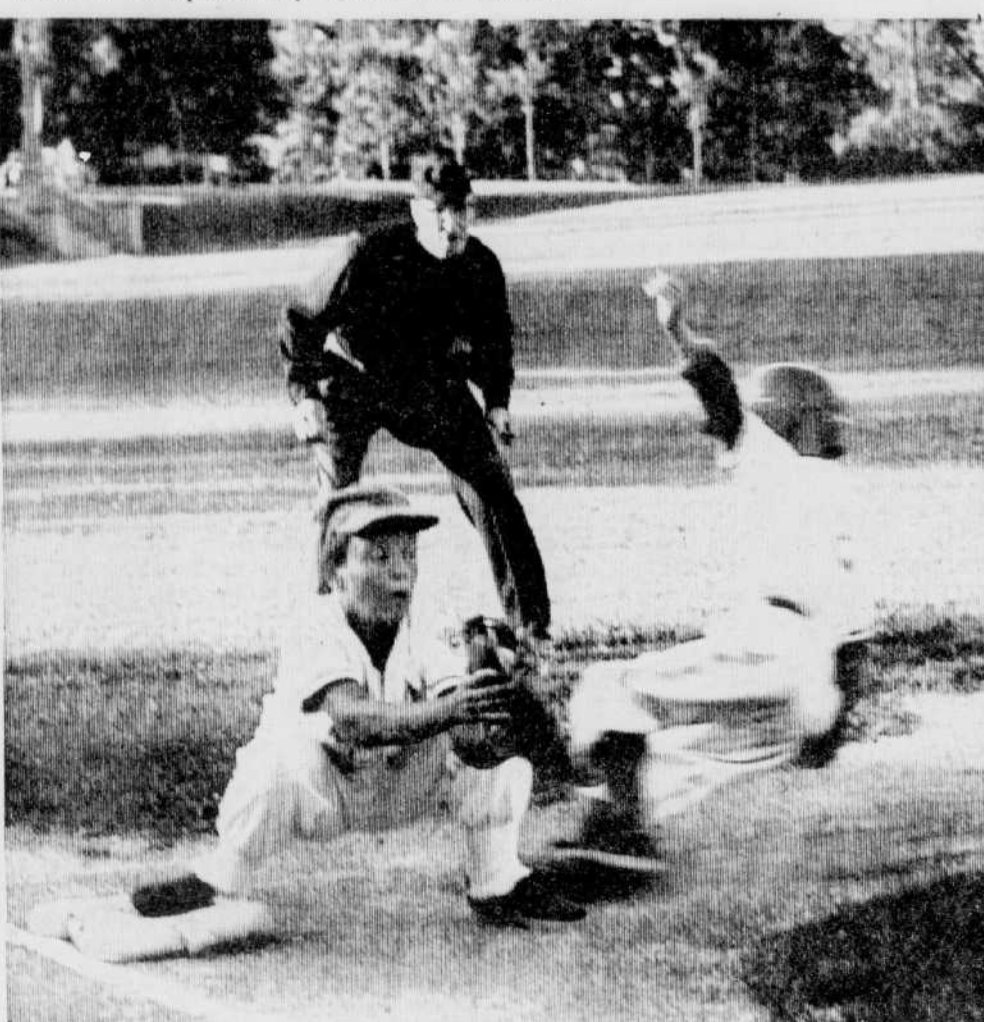

Their playoff will be preceded by the traditional pro-amateur event—a strictly social get-together where local amateurs have a chance to match strokes with the pros.

The first round of the $5,000 CPGA championship, a 54-hole medal-play affair, gets under way Friday. Second and third rounds will be played Saturday and Sunday.

This year's CPGA has attracted a record entry of 120 pros. The previous record was 106—at Hull, Que., two years ago.

The competitive record on the rolling, bending Royal Quebec is a seven-under-par 65, a mark shared by U.S. pros Don Finsterwald and Henry Ramson. The host pro, Rudolph Huot, has matched 65 about 10 times but never in a tournament.

The record entry includes golfers from every province, with Ontario and Quebec having the most delegations. Eleven and possibly 12 former titleholders also will participate.

72,140 Were On Hand As Redlegs Knock Down And Brush Off Dodgers Twice, Giants And Pirates Win

Cincinnati Reds, knocked down and brushed off by Los Angeles Dodgers as contenders in the National League pennant race, are back on top again after giving the Dodgers a flogging.

Right in the Dodgers' own yard and in front of the largest night crowd 72,140 in league history, the Reds made off with a sweep of a three-game showdown by beating Los Angeles 6-0 and 8-0 Wednesday night.

The Dodgers, who have been firing knockout pitches at the Reds all season and making pointed talk of the pennant threat from San Francisco Giants and Milwaukee Braves, hadn't suffered a doubleheader shutout in 26 years. That was when they were in Brooklyn and Carly Hubble and Clyde Castleman pitched shutouts for New York Giants.

Righthander Bob Purkey, allowing four hits in the first game, and left-hander Jim O'Toole, giving up two hits in the nightcap, paired for the victories.

SPAHN WINS 301st
San Francisco, in third place 7 1/2 games behind the Reds, defeated St. Louis Cardinals 4-3 and Milwaukee, nine games back in fourth spot, beat Pittsburgh Pirates 2-1 as Warren Spahn won victory No. 301.

Philadelphia Phillies suffered their 19th consecutive defeat, tying the modern league record, in a 9-5 loss to Chicago Cubs.

The Reds, in first place after a 10-day stay in second, made it in breeze as their two top Dodger killers, Frank Robinson and Gene Freese, went to work at the plate while Purkey 14-7 and O'Toole 12-9 extended Los Angeles' shutout slump through 26 innings.

Robinson hit his 34th home run of the season, the sixth against the Dodgers, in the opener and drove in four runs in the doubleheader for a season total of 24 runs batted in against Los Angeles. Freese drove in four runs in the second game with a pair of home runs. He has hit eight against the Dodgers.

Cincinnati beat Larry Sherry 4-3, making his first start in more than a year, with four runs in the first inning of the opener.

Eddie Kasko started the rally with a single and scored on Don Blasingame's triple. Vada Pinson of the Reds was hit in the back of the head by a pitch from Stan Williams in the seventh inning. He went to hospital for x-rays, then returned in time to hit an RBI single in the nightcap as the Reds collected 12 hits off loser Johnny Podres 15-4 and two relievers.

WINS FOURTH SHUTOUT
Purkey, gaining his first shutout of the season, and O'Toole pitching his third, gave up nothing but singles. The Dodgers haven't had an extra-base hit in 37 innings.

Two-run homers by Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou won for the Giants against Ray Seckert 10-6. Jack Sanford 9-6 checked the Cardenas on seven hits and had a shutout until the eighth inning.

ANGLING AROUND

BLACK BASS

The black bass is the most universally sought freshwater game fish in America.

Such is his population explosion rate that from a handful of breeding stock he can fill a lake with his descendants in a few years. He more than any freshwater sport fish is best taken on artificial lures.

The largemouth bass (his mouth extends beyond the eye) is probably the most pursued, largely because he is more abundant.

He can live the spartan life of the smallmouth but prefers more opulent living where the weeds are thickest, the food more abundant. Like the smallmouth, he is best taken in the late spring just before spawning, but he can be caught any time of the year.

During spawning, he is found in shallow water and will attack topwater plugs, spoons and spinners with equal fervor. In the early summer, cast the tree stumps in the water, beside brush piles, along trees that have fallen from the bank into the water. These also are his favorite haunts in mid and late summer.

The smallmouth (his mouth ends at the eye) is a tough, pug-nacious customer whose acrobatics are equaled at his weight only by the rainbow trout.

The match, in which Palmer fired a 69, was the third of the 15-game series. Player's willed them in strokes for the three matches.

Player picks up $2,000 for the victory and Palmer $1,000.

Gary Player Defeats Palmer In Golf Series

TORONTO (CP)—South Africa's Gary Player shot a four-under-par 67 Wednesday to defeat British open champ Arnold Palmer by two strokes in their world series golf championship series.

The match, in which Palmer fired a 69, was the third of the 15-game series. Player's willed them in strokes for the three matches.

Player picks up $2,000 for the victory and Palmer $1,000.

Meet Saturday At 1.30 In Deciding Game, Young Danny Farrell Chalks Up Win, Brooks, Blais Hit Homers

The amazing White Sox, a team that has been up there since the Sherbrooke-Lennoxville Little League playoffs commenced, are still staging upsets. Last night in a do-or-die attempt they clobbered the highly-favored Indians 17-9 to knot the best-of-three finals at one game each.

The third and deciding tilt is slated for Saturday afternoon at 1.30 at the Parade Grounds. In the semi-finals the White Sox knocked over the Senators in two straight, dropped their first game to Coach Bob Morin's club 7-6 in a close battle but last night bounced back with a win to deadlock the series.

Young Danny Farrell, with help from Johnny Year in relief, along with the return of Steve Brooks were the men who pushed the series to a deciding game. Steve Brooks holding down the catching job added the strength needed in the White Sox defence. He also connected for a home run with two men on in the big fourth inning.

Indians started off with two runs in the first part of the opening inning on hits by Blais, Chamberland, Vincent and Raymond. White Sox, in the same inning, got one of these back with Laforce and Mongeau hitting back-to-back accounting for the tally.

Singles by Blais and Chamberland was all for the Indians in the top of the second. Sox took the lead in this inning getting two runs on hits by Laforce and Labonte. The lead changed hands again in the top of the third when Ronnie Blais came up with a bases loaded homer. This made it 6-3 for Indians going into the last half of the third.

The last of the third was costly to the Indians. Two infield miscues along with hits from Year, Duplessis and Labonte drove six runs across the plate. Johnny Year, replaced Farrell on the mound for the Sox in the top of the fourth, and he held the Indians to three hits in the last three innings.

White Sox were full value for their win and had many stars. A steady infield was the backbone of the team. Players standing out above others were Brooks, Meisner, Labonte, Farrell and Year. Indians have played better games and probably were glad to get this bad one off their chests. Vincent, Blais and Pepin stood out. Mullin, O'Connor, Thompson and Webb were the umpires.

RICHMOND'S TOM TRESH HAS EYE ON TWO TITLES IN INTERNATIONAL LOOP, MAPLE LEAFS EDGE JERSEY CITY 4-1

Shortstop Tom Tresh of Richmond Virginians has his eye on two individual titles in the International Baseball League.

He is Richmond's No. 1 candidate for rookie-of-the-year honors. Getting two singles and a walk in three at-bats in Wednesday night's 2-0 victory over Syracuse Chiefs, Tresh became the first player in the league to get 150 hits. This raised his average to .323, four points behind Ted Savage of Buffalo Bisons.

Rochester Red Wings snapped an eight-game losing streak to blast the league-leading Columbus Jets 8-1. Charleston Marlins survived a late Buffalo rally to defeat the Bisons 6-5 and Toronto Maple Leafs swept their second straight doubleheader from Jersey City Jerseys 3-2 and 4-2.

HITS DOUBLE
Frank Carpin's three-hit pitching and a two-run double by George Risley carried Richmond to victory. Carpin walked only one man and struck out seven as he chalked up his fifth victory of the 1961 campaign.

Risley's game-winning hit came with two men out in the sixth inning, a walk to Jake Gibbs and an infield single by Tresh. Herb Moford squared his won-loss record at 12-12 as the Jets' five-game winning streak came to an end. Six Jet errors gave Rochester six unearned runs with starter Fred Green the victim. Moford lost a shutout in the fifth inning when Duncan Campbell hit a home run.

Charleston exploded for five runs in the seventh inning to break a 1-1 tie. Buffalo scored one in the eighth and three more in the ninth but fell one run shy.

Bob Smith and Steve Ridzik were the winning hurlers as the Leafs took a 4-1 lead in the six-game series against Jersey City. Demeter belted his 24th home run of the season in the opener.

Als Drop 5-4 Decision To Granby, Royals And Beavers Win

Meet Here Tonight At 8.30 In Second Tilt, Drummondville Pulls Upset, Prud'Homme Works Tonight

Granby, Acton Vale and Drummondville emerged with victories last night in the opening fixtures of the Provincial Eastern Townships Baseball League playoffs. The Knights edged the Als 5-4. Beavers came up with a 4-2 win over Coaticook while the Royals upset Waterloo 4-2.

The second games are scheduled for this evening as the teams switch sites. Granby moves to Sherbrooke and Claude Prud'Homme seems the logical selection to try and get the Als back on an even keel in their five-out-of-nine series. Game will commence at 8.30.

The Als staged a big rally in the ninth but the Andy Pratte club managed to kill it off. The locals shoved three runs across the plate but this fell short by one tally to knot the count.

Johnny Elias held the Als to six scattered hits to earn the win. He retired 13 at the plate while Rovelt started for the Als but was replaced by Jean-Guy Mathieu in the sixth when he ran into trouble and allowed three runs to cross the plate. Mathieu held them scoreless for the balance of the game.

The Als took a 1-0 lead in the first frame. Wozie drew a walk was sacrificed again by Paul Emil Ruel while Jacques Morlette drove him home with the first tally of the game. The Knights came up with two in the second and it remained this way until the sixth.

The Knights trailed in the sixth when Pete Taillefer walked and came home when Jacques smashed out a double. He and Lamoureux drew a free pass and then Dion hit a sacrifice fly to register the Knights' fifth run.

In the ninth the Als opened with Serge Gregoire's single moved to second on an error, but was thrown out when he tried to steal third on a passed ball. Wozie and Ruel both drew walks and Normie Jacques connected for a single to load the sacks.

Monette drove in one run on a sacrifice fly to deep right field. Dubois reached first when the Knights' second sacker booted one. Riopel banged out a clean bingle to send one more home and put the Als within one run of tying the game.

Wayne Nugent was sent in to pinch-hit but rlias settled the issue when he retired him via the swinging method to end the game. The Als came close to tying it but they lacked the real punch in the dying minutes of the game.

WATERLOO UPSET BY ROYALS

The Royals of Drummondville pulled the surprise of the evening when they managed to nose out the highly favored Waterloo club. Andre Bessette came up with a homer with two aboard to settle the issue.

It gave the Royals a 3-0 lead in the first frame and from then on they managed to hold on. Waterloo hit 12 safeties but left 13 stranded on the base. This was costly to the home club. The Royals picked up only five hits but left only four stranded.

Rejean Plourde came up with a fine job on the mound. He struck out 13 but was charged with the loss. Andre Paquette started for the Royals but needed help from Gaetan Gervais in the ninth to get the side out.

Brown Shoe And Brompton Hotel Meet Tonight

RICHMOND — The Brown Shoe-Brompton Hotel best-of-five series will resume Thursday night at Bromptonville in the semi-finals of the Richmond County Senior Softball League. Three games have been played to date with Brompton leading two games to one.

Brown Shoe lost the first of the series 9-2 but came back to win at Brompton 6-1. Last week they lost by a close 4-3 decision in the final minutes of play. Both clubs were scheduled to play the fourth game last Monday night but rain postponed the tilt as it did Tuesday.

The club officials have set a playing date for tonight, weather permitting. If Brompton pulls off another win then, they will advance in the final series against the winner of the Windsor-Cookshire series.

In junior softball, the Richmond Royals lost out to Windsor's St. Gabriel club 6-5, their first setback this season. Royals play their next tilt here Thursday night with the Windsor-JOC club visitors. Royals are assured of first place in the loop.

U.S. And Canada To Hold Talks On Conservation

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. and Canadian officials Wednesday opened informal talks on greater co-operation in water-fowl conservation.

The first session was devoted to consideration of the distribution and availability of wetlands where migratory water-fowl breed.

It was agreed steps should be considered by the two countries working together to stop the rapid decrease in the wetlands available for migratory water-fowls.

SOURCE OF POWER — In the renewed arguments about the lively baseball, the consensus is that the difference is in the stitching. Beryl Gauthier sews covers on balls at the main A. G. Spalding & Bros. plant at Chicopee, Mass.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Pitching: Bob Purkey and Jim O'Toole Cincinnati Reds, handed Los Angeles Dodgers, their first doubleheader shutout since 1935. Purkey fired a four-hitter in the opener and O'Toole had a two - hitter in second game for a 6-0, 8-0 sweep that put the Reds back in first place in the National League race.

Hitting: Roger Maris, New York Yankees, drove in four runs with his 47th and 48th homers of the season in a 5-4 victory over Chicago White Sox.

Canada Drops Decision To US In Girls' Event

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Defending titleholder Southern California defeated Canada 6-1 in the quarter-final round of the U.S. girls' grass court tennis team championship Wednesday at Germantown Cricket Club.

The point for Canada was won by Faye Urban of Windsor, Ont., with a 4-6, 7-5, 6-4 victory over Hal Ledyard, a former Rough Riders who has been sensational with the Bombers this season, as a defensive halfback.

Rough Riders Take On Tough Blue Bombers As Winnipeg Fans See Their 1961 Western Conference Action

WINNIPEG (CP) — Winnipeg's Blue Bombers staged their home opener of the Canadian Football League's 1961 season tonight and may give followers an idea of how optimistic to get about the future.

The Bombers, unbeaten in three road games, tussle with the tricky and powerful Ottawa Rough Riders of the Eastern Conference. The Riders, defending Grey Cup champions, belted British Columbia Lions 41-7 in their only regular-scheduled game so far this year.

The Bombers were rated the best of the Western Conference last season but were eliminated in the West's final playoffs by Edmonton Eskimos. The Eskisder, Riders will see a familiar face in a Bomber uniform—Frank Fraser, a 196-pound halfback the Bombers purchased Wednesday from Ottawa for an undisclosed price.

Fraser played last season with Saskatchewan Roughriders, refused to sign this year and ended up at Ottawa in a deal involving Saskatchewan, Ottawa and Montreal Alouettes.

Carver Shannon, Baz Nagle and Cec Lanning were minor casualties for the Bombers Monday in Toronto, but they will see action tonight.

He said he might move quarterback Ron Lancaster into a defensive halfback spot to fill a vacancy left by an injury to Doug Dagerault. Dagerault hurt his knee in last Saturday's battle against the Lions and did not accompany the team here.

Otherwise, the Easterners are in good condition, except for "the odd bruise," Clair said. Grant wouldn't commit himself on his starting quarterback, but it is expected to be Hal Ledyard, a former Rough Rider who has been sensational with the Bombers this season, as a defensive halfback.

Winnipeg will be without the services of fullback Roger Hagberg, on the sidelines with a sprained ankle, and fullback linebacker Jack Delveaux, who is bothered by a bruised shoulder.

Riders will see a familiar face in a Bomber uniform—Frank Fraser, a 196-pound halfback the Bombers purchased Wednesday from Ottawa for an undisclosed price.

Gerald Clark New Head Of Frontier Jets

ROCK ISLAND — Gerald Clark, Rock Island, was elected as president of the Frontier Jets Hockey Club of the St. Francis Valley League, Intermediate "C", at a meeting held Tuesday evening, August 14.

Other officers elected were: Paul Tellier, first vice-president, Jean Lecours, secretary, and Jean Beasse, treasurer. Directors are E. W. Gagne, Alcide Beaudin, Denis Blouin, Lawrence Goodsell, Maynard Rollins and E. Courtemanche.

Another meeting will be held on Monday evening, August 21, to plan the 1961 - 62 activities. Last year the Frontier Jets were the league champions.

Two-Cent Bet And $71,668 Is Collected

LONDON (AP)—Jim Stevens, a 63-year-old railroad engineer, hit the jackpot in the soccer pool Wednesday, collecting $71,668 for a two-cent bet.

From now until April, millions of Britons will be betting in the pool each week hoping to win the fortune and retire.

Stevens won the first games of the Scottish season. He sat down in his cottage in the railroad centre of Reading, 40 miles from London, and picked the matches he thought would end in ties. He sent in 30 tickets at a total cost of 70 cents and hit with one.

James Eugene Craig, a 37-year-old retired army captain, shot the works and scooped up $37,153. Craig mailed $28 worth of selections and one was a winner. He and Stevens bet in different pools. Pool winnings in England are not taxable.

Curacao, Netherlands Antilles — Sam Langford, Aruba, outpointed Ray Villalona, Santos Domingo, 10 (middleweights).

Eight Of Canada's Top Junior Golfers Survive Elimination In Canadian Junior Championships

SASKATOON — Eight stars survived elimination despite heat, dust and wind Wednesday on the first 36-hole day of play of the Canadian junior championships.

The eight, including the four pre-tournament favorites, set the stage for what probably will be one of the toughest finishes the event has seen.

Gaining a berth in today's quarter and semi-finals were the co-favorites, defending champion Brian Wilcox of Toronto and medalist Johnny Kindred of Peterborough, Ont.

Also given a favorite label were Gord Robinson of Vancouver, runner-up to Wilcox last year, and Quebec star Gordon LeRiche of Montreal.

Wilcox was paired with Kindred in the quarter-finals. Wilcox predicted the winner of the match will "take the championship."

Wilcox picked up a 4-and-2 victory Wednesday over Brian Bamford, 15, of Saskatoon, who had been showing older competitors how to play his home course here.

Kindred, turning in consistently fine rounds since the tournament began, beat Danny Juras of Prince Albert, Sask., 3 and 1. LeRiche, who fell behind on the front nine, forged back for a two-up win over Lawrence O'Hearn of Dartmouth, N.S.

Pounding out good drives but running into some chip-shot troubles, Wilcox played close to par in his afternoon round. So did Kindred.

LeRiche, hit almost full in the face several times by a swirl of dust on the back nine, was three over par in his afternoon game.

Terry Campbell of Vancouver, Clifford Batten of Montreal, Earl Francis of Victoria and Ron Folk of Saskatoon also survived first- and second-round action.

The golfers were frustrated in turn, by a Prairie sun that sent the mercury to 97 degrees, dust-carrying winds that whipped over the 6,240-yard course and a five-minute downpour in late afternoon.

Rousseau, Hicke And Backstrom Sign Contracts

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League announced Wednesday the signing of rookie forward Bobby Rousseau and of holdover forwards Billy Hicke and Ralph Backstrom.

Rousseau, who scored a goal and two assists in 14 games with Canadiens last year, played most of the season with Hull - Ottawa Canadiens of the Eastern Professional Hockey League. He scored 34 goals and 26 assists in the EPHL.

Hicke, a right winger, scored 18 goals and 27 assists last year and Backstrom, a centre, scored 12 goals and 20 assists. Canadiens now have 12 players under contract for next season.

Horses pull in contest

Following in the successful tradition of the Brome Fair, the annual Cookshire Fair this year will present for the first time a feature of special interest to district spectators—a horse-pulling contest.Farmers are entering their strongest teams to sweat and strain to move the massive stone-weighted carriers that the horses will be hitched to.It's always exciting for the spectators, and interesting for the farmers too, since they can judge the comparative strength of rival teams.And of course the winners will receive prizes, just like all winners at the Cookshire Fair.For the interest of those planning to enter or merely attend the horse-pulling contest, the following facts will prove interesting.—The competition will be held Saturday night and Sunday, August 19 and 20. Starting time is 7 p.m. Saturday.—The contest will be free for all.—$900 is to be awarded in prize money.Besides the horse-pulling, the Cookshire Fair will offer a full program of traditional livestock, farm products and carnival events.The midway rides, Gastoni Attractions' grandstand show, harness racing and games-of-chance booths will be on hand.
The East Angus Band will also be in attendance to provide music for footsore fairgoers.Cattle, horse and calf club parades and a sheep show will complement a complete list of livestock showing and judging.All livestock exhibited must be in by 10 a.m., August 18.All exhibits for the ladies must be in by 11 a.m., August 18.The Cookshire Fair directors have announced that Children's Day this year will be Friday,
August 18.
