

GEORGE MARLER IS RETURNED

Retains Seat Over Webster

HON. George Marler, a veteran of municipal, provincial and federal politics, was returned by the electors of St. Antoine-Westmount for another term — be it short or long — in Monday's parliamentary general elections.

The Liberal minister of transport defeated his Progressive Conservative challenger. A. Ross Webster, 15,304 - 11,722, for a majority of 3,582. The armed services vote is still to be added to these local polling figures.

In a black day for the 22-year-old government of which he was one of the newer members, Mr. Marler

Past Presidents Luncheon Guests At Rotary Club

"The first Rotarians were a group of strangers in a large city," said Col. S. C. Holland addressing the Westmount Rotary at the annual Past Presidents Luncheon held in the Victoria Hall Wednesday. Over 20 past Presidents attended and there were a large number of guests from neighbouring clubs.

"At first," continued Col. Holland, "they met for company and also for their mutual benefit, but later they began to realize that they had started something that was much bigger than that, when the service nature of the club began to develop. Nowadays Rotarians join the movement for company and also to join together for the greater benefit of the community they belong to. The real work of Rotary is not done at the weekly luncheons, but in the time between the meetings.

CROSS SECTION

"A good Rotary Club is a true cross section of the community. We strive to get a representative selection of all the various groups and that is why we have classification. The limited selective membership leads to an active club highly sensitive to the needs of the community. We are not looking for successful men, and there are no distinctions of race creed or color" Col. Holland concluded.

Past Presidents attending were C. T. Medlar, S. B. Cayford, S. A. Neilson, J. H. Colton, S. B. Cuthbert, E. A. Everson, F. C. Whitaker, A. W. Callard, A. A. Boire, P. J. McAndrews, Dr. W. McKean, W. F. Close, D. B. Ross, P. G. Delgado, W. F. Kenwood, J. G. Lawson, F. H. Carlin, W. W. Allison, W. B. Empey, E. E. Mills and S. C. Holland. Among the guests and visiting rotarians were Bert Stuffman, John Moffat, S. C. Colwyn, S. Newburn, Larry Wynn Ross James, Ron Huston and John Golloway from Grange-mouth, Scotland. A new member, W. P. Kerins, was admitted at this meeting.

Next Week's Weather

By ERIC NEAL

June 15 to 22

This is the week we often have windstorms which cross the Island, and also very local heavy rains, or cloudbursts.

Commencing mainly sunny and quite warm, with high humidity, there will be some risk of thunderstorms on both Saturday and Sunday late in the evening.

Generally fair, then clouding for scattered thunder showers mid-week, followed by more hot days, with heavy dews or fog.

Improving generally and hot for the end of the week, with only occasional light rains. Morning fishing fair. The total rainfall in June will be below normal.

survived the cross-country Conservative onslaught which saw nine of his cabinet colleagues go down to defeat.

WAS FAVORED

A long-experienced legislator, Mr. Marler had been favored by many observers of the Quebec political scene who, however wrong about the way the rest of the country would vote, forecast that this Province would remain strongly Liberal federally. Of the 21 ridings on the Island of Montreal, only one gain for a total of two seats went to the PCs.

However, this silver lining to the national Liberal cloud was insufficient to dispel the gloom. It was a rather subdued Reform Club — Montreal gathering of Liberals for decades — at which Mr. Marler arrived early Monday evening to meet informally with other successful candidates of his party.

And his committee rooms were locked and deserted by 9:15, following somewhat muted celebrations by his workers and other supporters.

Victoria's Main Being Replaced

H. Prieur, chief engineer of the western division of the Montreal water works, told The Examiner yesterday that a new main is being laid on Victoria ave. The old one of 4-inch diameter was in good condition, but owing to the increased water flow is being substituted by one of 8 inches.

Few people realise the complexity of the vast network of gas pipes and electricity cables which lie beneath Westmount's streets. Mr. Prieur has a plan of this layout which has to be avoided by the waterworks crews who started laying the new pipe on June 3 under their foreman, J. E. Melling. At one period in this tricky laying, Sherbrooke traffic had to be diverted.

The new system will run in series, being connected from St. Catherine street main to Western avenue main, and then from the Sherbrooke street main to its ultimate destination, the Chesterfield avenue main. The Chesterfield avenue objective is hoped to be reached by mid-July.

Don't Abandon Pet Pleads The SPCA

When the latch locks as the key turns in the back door, and the family waits in the car to start their two-week vacation, has something been forgotten?

The SPCA reports that many local residents will "simply shut their houses and turn their former pets out to starve, while they go off to enjoy their holidays". In order to prevent such cruelty to animals, the society suggests that pet owners provide proper protection for them while they are away or turn them over to the SPCA. Stressing that the SPCA does not board animals, the society reports that unwanted pets may be brought to the SPCA at 5215 Namur street at any time, and that the society will call for animals on request.

The SPCA also suggests that a dish of water under the outside tap will provide a summer boon to thirsty birds and animals.

West End Ice Club Officers

At the West End Figure Skating Club's annual meeting in the Loyola Auditorium, the following executive for the 1957-58 season was elected: President, L. N. Cann; 1st Vice-President, T. Shibley, 2nd Vice President, S. Russell, Secretary, Mrs. J. A. Carney, Treasurer, G. Wood; Ice convenor, Mrs. Wm. King, Membership director, Mrs. M. Mills. The West End Figure Skating Club, which has several hours of ice time weekly in the Loyola Arena, offers an excellent opportunity for the children to learn and enjoy the art of figure skating.

Fire Loss Total Up In Westmount

Value of property destroyed by fire in the City of Westmount during 1956 amounted to $83,083 — a jump of almost $50,000 over the preceding year, the city's annual report shows.

It pointed out the value of buildings and contents endangered by fires in the municipality during the year totalled more than $8,000,000. The per capita loss for 1956 was $2.86, compared to the last five-year average of $2.01.

The city's police department reported 985 accidents, 836 in traffic, injuring 274 persons. There were seven fatalities.

School Vacation Dates Are Set

Summer holidays are here again for students.

Local Roman Catholic students in junior and senior matriculation have been on holiday since June 3. Students in eighth and tenth grades with 70 percent or more attended their last classes Tuesday while elementary and other students will go to their last classes June 21.

Local Protestant students began their high school matriculation examinations yesterday. Other students will attend their last classes on June 19, and receive their reports on June 21.

Westmount Library Hours For Summer

Westmount Public Library hours go into effect tomorrow.

The library will be closed all day Saturday until after Labour Day, and will close Wednesdays at 6 p.m.

Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday the library will be open from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m.

Summer Fun Club Booming

The Summer Fun Club of Westmount "Y" is ahead of last year with registrations of boys and girls not only from Westmount but from many other parts of Montreal.

Eight weeks of carefully planned program includes swimming, games, creative crafts, beach trips and plant tours.

This year a feature of the camp will be the Thursday afternoon "plan yourself" trips. Groups of 8 to 10 youngsters assisted by a capable leader will plan their own program for this half-day period each week. Choices may be made of such activities as challenge games, park visits, museum trips, swimming, outdoor games and plant visits.

ALL-DAY TRIPS

All day trips again will be featured every Wednesday. The schedule now includes trips to Saratoga Beach, Fort Lennox, Granby, Hudson Beach and Macdonald College.

Counsellors for the Fun Club are now meeting each Friday for training in games, crafts and camp leadership.

The "Y" Summer Fun Club is open to all boys and girls age 9 - 15 years of age. Registration forms and brochures outlining the Fun Club in detail may be secured at the YMCA or by phoning Lew Waller, director of the program at GL. 3916.

REALTY TOTALS

Real estate sales totals for March, issued by the Montreal Real Estate Board, gives a Westmount figure of $616,258, for 23 sales. January to March 1957, inclusive, reveals Westmount at $1,919,122, for 68 sales.

WOVEN in WESTMOUNT

By DONALD J. HENDRY

ELECTION AFTERMATH: When Hon. George Marler takes his seat in the next session of the House of Commons in Ottawa, it is doubtful whether he will retain his post of Federal Transport Minister, but one thing is certainly not doubtful, and that is that he will not be representing a majority of the voters of the City of Westmount in the 23rd Canadian parliament . . . The Progressive Conservative candidate in the Saint Antoine-Westmount riding — A. Ross Webster — received the popular vote in the City of Westmount by more than 500 ballots . . . Why then did Mr. Webster lose the election? . . .

Was it because, as a cabinet minister, Mr. Marler was too tough a candidate to beat? No, not when a Chinese-Canadian can defeat the Defense Minister by almost four thousand votes. The answer is two-fold. First, only 26,617 of the eligible voters in the riding cast their ballots . . . Of the remaining 13,337 who did not perform their duty as Canadian citizens there must have been at least four thousand Conservatives who, had they voted would have given Mr. Webster a majority. Secondly, Mr. Webster did not win one poll below the CPR tracks in the riding. Let this be a lesson to all Westmount Conservatives . . . It is not sufficient to complain about the structure of the riding. If a PC Candidate is ever to be elected in the West-mount-Saint Antoine riding, the Conservatives on the "hill" will have to come down from their "boulevard mansions" and do a little work "on the wrong side of the tracks".

FASCINATING FACTS . . . Miss Alice Lighthall of the Westmount Historical Society says that the oldest house in Westmount is located on the northeast corner of Victoria and Cote Saint Antoine Road. Built between 1687 and 1690 it is now owned by Molson-Beatty interests and there has been some talk of converting it into a museum . . . Charlie Foon Lee, the launderer on Victoria avenue near Somerville, washed my grandfather's shirts as well as my father's shirts and is now washing mine. His father, Charles Foon Lee, Sr., first opened the business at the turn of the century in what is now Young's Fruit and Vegetable Store . . . Roger Huysmans of the Westmount International Travel Service, speaks six languages. He was born in Belgium and came to Canada five years ago . . . Mr. Filiatrault the manager of the Westmount Theatre has admitted that the Westmount Theatre is actually not in Westmount. It misses the border by about 75 feet.

WHY DOESN'T THE WESTMOUNT CITY COUNCIL . . . call for a public referendum on the establishment of liquor-licensed dining rooms in the city. Cornwall and Niagara Falls, Ontario, recently voted in favor of the measure and they can certainly not be regarded as sin-cities . . . Landscape Summit Park, at the top of Westmount mountain. It could become one of the foremost tourist attractions in Montreal . . . Hire someone on a part time basis to teach tennis on the city courts. It seems a shame that with 17 courts in the city, Westmount youngsters are not instructed in the fundamentals of the game. . . Put a lighted fountain on each side of the lawn in front of Victoria Hall. They would replace the one at the east end of the park which may be removed for construction of the artificial rink.

STUNNING STATISTICS . . . Sergeant Wood at police headquarters told me that there are about one thousand dogs in Westmount . . . and according to Fire Chief Emile G. Durocher, there are 352 fire hydrants in our suburb . . . Eric Aho, the greenhouse foreman at the Westmount Conservatory says that, on the average, there are about fifty thousand plants in the conservatory . . . Bill White, city tree foreman has estimated that there are approximately five thousand trees in our suburb . . . Miss Wools of the City Hall, says that there are 79 members of the Westmount Quarter Century Club.

UBIQUITOUS UNDERTAKINGS . . . Joe Primeau, of the Veteran's Taxi Cab Association (which recently bought out the stock in the Western Taxi Association for a reported seven thousand), tells me that the Vets are negotiating for another stand—this one in the south east section of Westmount . . . Wilfred Griffith, head foreman of the City Parks Department, says that the floral clock should be "implanted" by next week . . . Doctor L. P. Pratley, who engineered the Jacques Cartier Bridge, now working on modifications of bridges for the Saint Lawrence Seaway . . . A diplomatic source has been quoted as saying that the Westmount Athletic Grounds might be the site of a new Westmount Senior High School . . . Johnny Garland of the Westmount Recreation Department has named June 24 as the date for registration at the city's summer-schools . . . J. C. Keyes, president of the Westmount Lawn Bowling Club, (beside City Hall) has announced that the Westmount green will play host to the Dominion Lawn Bowling Championships from August 26-

WE SAY

Democracy Is Not 'Just Plain Silly'

OUR observations last week in this corner on City Council deliberating behind closed doors and excluding citizens was expected to draw reaction — and it did. (See "You Say" in adjoining columns.)

We will not deny that running a city such as Westmount is, as Mr. Scott says, "big business". But we must resist his evident conclusion that this City, or any other municipality or provincial or federal government, should operate as a business, large or small.

The City of Westmount is not a commercial enterprise, with trade secrets, sales campaigns, market problems, profit margins, dividend calculations. In short, Westmount's corporate business is not private business.

Nothing to Hide

ON the contrary, it is public business. Mayor and councillors are not chairman and directors — they are elected representatives of the citizens and ratepayers of the municipality. Except for any delicate matters concerning civic personnel, there should be nothing hidden; what is there to hide?

We are not less, but hardly more, familiar with the affairs of Westmount than the average citizen — thanks to a self imposed City Council policy of conducting public business in private.

We are well aware of the willingness of the mayor and councillors to grant interviews at any time — they are most obliging in that respect and we agree that they are outstanding citizens who accept responsibilities and give their time and abilities to the running of the City free.

Everybody's Business

BUT we say again, Westmount's business is everybody's business — which may be a revolutionary thought for present occupants of City Hall but is accepted as normal elsewhere, in larger and in smaller municipalities to all sides of us.

An informed and interested public is not made such by periodic "releases," interviews or annual reports, however attractively prepared. Good citizens become better citizens through a lively awareness of public affairs — whether local or in broader fields — and this is nurtured only through the day to day and week to week news resulting from presence at or news coverage of deliberative bodies ranging all the way from village meetings to international conclaves.

Westmount Set Apart?

WHAT then sets Westmount's City Council apart from that of say the Village of Beebe, Que., the City of Montreal, the Ontario Legislature, the Parliament at Westminster, or even the United Nations?

Are these company meetings of directors and management? Or are they live, vibrant, vital instruments of democratic government where public issues are or should be debated and where the issues affect many?

Which idea is "just plain silly?"

● The statement attributed to Westmount Secretary-Treasurer A. W. D. Swan in last week's editorial was not made "last week", as was understood from our reporter, but some two months ago, when arrangements to cover City Council closed sessions were sought but denied to The Examiner.

THEY SAY

When you rise in the morning, form the resolution to make the day a happy one for a fellow-creature.
— Sydney Smith

YOU SAY

Reader Supports Closed Council

Sir: Evidently with your change in ownership you are not familiar with the affairs of Westmount which conclusion I arrive at after reading the editorial in your last issue.

The operation of running the City of Westmount is big business and do you know any company which allows newspaper reporters at their meeting of directors and management? The idea is just plain silly.

Any citizen of Westmount or groups of citizens can obtain an interview by request with the Mayor and councillors; indeed they are welcomed.

Over a period of years Westmount has been very fortunate in securing outstanding citizens to accept the responsibilities of running the City giving their time and abilities free. If during their deliberations they had to put up with a newspaper reporter trying to make headlines for his paper they would be limited in discussion and curtailed in their work. Perhaps you would suggest that they have TV and radio also.

If you want to do something constructive, publish in your paper the letter mailed by the Westmount Municipal Association giving all details about the proposed rink. This is issued by people who have studied the question over a period of years and not by letter writers to the press, a great many who are not Westmount citizens including the Montreal Star and Gazette.

We have an excellent Mayor and councillors and you would be well advised to work with them.

Hugh M. Scott.

Alternative Sites For Rink Offered

Sir: Your editorial in the May 31st issue about the placing of the artificial ice rink in Westmount indicates that you have not been in very close touch with what has been presented to the authorities in our City Hall. Some of the sites suggested to them as more suitable than at the corner of Sherbrooke and Melville are:

1. On the playing strip south of Western and in front of the Junior High School, on part of the space now occupied by four baseball diamonds. Putting the rink there would mean the sacrifice of only one of the diamonds but this loss would be far more than compensated for by the advantages of the rink to the students of the Junior High School;
2. In Westmount Park, north of Western avenue, and so placed as to interfere as little as possible with present facilities for play;
3. Some citizens feel strongly that the rink should be placed in the WAAA Grounds;
4. On the area beside the armories at the corner of Lansdowne and Ste. Catherine street.

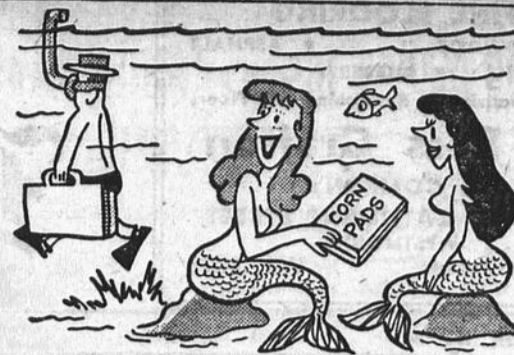

City Hall is fortunate in having so many options any one of which would be preferable to the corner of Sherbrooke and Melville, and you will destroy my faith in the engineering profession as a whole if you insist that none of these other areas can be adopted for this structure.

Walter C. Lloyd-Smith.

Municipalities' Relief Is Urged

Sir: All who are interested in municipal welfare and progress are aware that the revenue of the municipality, with rare exceptions, not sufficient to meet its needs.

Taxpayers complain they are

"That's what I call a salesman!"

Westmount Municipal Association Explains Siting Of Indoor Rink

● The Examiner is pleased to reproduce here, as suggested in an adjoining letter to the editor, the May 29 news letter of the Westmount Municipal Association.

In view of the differences of opinion expressed on the proposed site for an artificial ice rink in Westmount, it is felt that a short review of the recent history of this project, particularly as it relates to the Westmount Municipal Association, would be of interest to its members.

The provision of an artificial ice rink had for some time been urged by the association and it was a matter of satisfaction to learn in the fall of 1955 that the City Council had this matter under active consideration. By keeping in touch with the City Hall, it was determined that the Council was giving the entire question very careful study before proceeding with plans. At the fall general meeting of the association on Dec. 11, 1956, it was announced that taxed to the limit and the result of this is that many who are or would become home owners rather than live in apartment barracks with their limitations must, on the score of economy, take smaller quarters.

One cannot well bring up a family in a small apartment. Furthermore, the owners of these apartment dwellings are not sympathetic in renting their premises to families that have several children. They prefer childless couples.

The leaders of municipal administrations contend they should share in some degree, in the revenues collected by the superior government. They have already imposed taxes to the limit on persons and things. The municipalities are the creation of the provincial government. Their first appeal for aid must therefore be addressed to it.

The provincial premiers say that they cannot, with their limited revenues (no matter how urgent the needs of the deserving municipality may be) do more than they have done, particularly since they make substantial grants to public service institutions and other agencies.

A CONTROVERSY

For several years quite a controversy has been raging between the provincial legislatures and the Ottawa government in the matter of a fairer apportionment of the revenues collected by the Federal government. The most outspoken of the provincial prime ministers has been the Hon. Maurice Duplessis. He has on scores of occasions emphasized the injustice suffered by the province because of the huge amounts collected by the Federal government, as compared with the insignificant sums which the province gets. Since the provinces have to meet constantly growing expenditures they must also exhaust every possible sour-the City proposed the construction of an artificial ice rink in Westmount Park, comprising a full size hockey surface plus 100 feet of ice for pleasure skating. The Gazette, The Star and The Westmount Examiner all gave prominent space to the meeting and the announcement on the rink.

REACTION SURPRISE

In view of the publicity given to this announcement, it is surprising that when the plans and proposed site were decided on and described at the annual meeting of the association five months later on May 7 last, there have been suggestions from individuals and the press that hasty, unconsidered decisions have been made.

When the City Council had come close to making a decision on a specific site for the rink, the plans were explained to representatives of your association and it was apparent that very careful consideration had been given to the many factors affecting the issue, and taking all circumstances into account, the proposed site was logical. Some of the more important factors were —

(1) The rink should be in a location readily accessible to the greatest number of people;

(2) The natural beauty of the park should be maintained with the least change possible;

(3) Present recreational facilities, playing grounds, etc. should be preserved intact;

(4) Traffic hazards should be kept to a minimum;

(5) Construction costs should not be needlessly increased on account of location. For example, soil soundings showed that some locations would involve undue construction costs and might also involve substantial risk of failure;

(6) The project should be integrated with long range plans in respect to other public works, street widening, parks' rearrangements, etc.

LITTLE OBSTRUCTION

It was fully realized that by using the proposed site at Sherbrooke and Melville the pond and some trees would disappear but that the construction of the skating centre with all that it will offer would more than offset those losses. The architect's sketch indicates that the proposed structure presents a good appearance, being largely open and that many of the trees will be preserved. It is also to be noted, that the structure, being parallel to Melville avenue, will not obstruct the view from Sherbrooke street to any marked degree.

While not all members of the association may be in agreement with the selection of the site for the rink, it is hoped that this letter will show that all concerned in this project have given it very thoughtful consideration, and it is hoped that there will not be any controversy to threaten this long overdue project which will mean so much to our citizens.

The New Parliament

By
The Venerable
R. Kenneth Naylor, D.D.,
Rector, Trinity Memorial Church

This is written on the Saturday before the General Election, and therefore has no personal bearing, except that it is a welcome to the New Parliament. It will be new because it will contain many new faces. It will be new in its alignment of parties. There are bound to be some changes. There will be some frayed tempers, for there has been some hard hitting in the campaign, as there should be. A man has no right to be in politics unless he feels strongly about the rightness of the party that he supports and about its policy. A colourless politician is

THE TROJANAIRE

From Troy, Ohio

36 LOVELY YOUNG PEOPLE

This is a musical treat to be given at the close of the service which have been made in the past.

I spoke of the part played by the Opposition — Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition. There lies one of the safeguards of democracy. The majority rules, but the fact that there is a loyal Opposition is a reminder that the majority is not necessarily right. And the fact that Governments change is a reminder that the Opposition was judged by the people to be right.

The system can only work when there is a certain degree of agreement between the two major parties, for it is they who make up Government and Opposition. But if the two parties represented two completely different points of view like Monarchy and Republicanism, or Communism and unrestrained Capitalism, the system would not work at all, for the passage from one party to the other would result in chaos.

So now that the Election is over let the new Parliament begin a new five-year plan, and let the Opposition be as active and critical as possible, for there never was a good plan that could not be bettered by criticism. If a Government tries to ride roughshod over the criticism the duty of the Opposition is to use delaying tactics until its criticism is fairly considered. So only do we prevent democracy becoming totalitarian.

The Federal government contends, that owing to its commitments in the carrying out of social security measures and the defence budget, that it has little money to spare.

One important fact is, that as the productivity of the nation increases (largely through the exploiting of resources belonging to the provinces) the taxes imposed and collected get larger. As Premier Duplessis has told his audiences when speaking of this fiscal anomaly, all that Quebec gets out of the tax dollar is thirteen cents. More than three-fourths goes into the national treasury.

WELL FOUNDED

One can understand the viewpoint of the Ottawa officials who believe, that what they have, they should hold. Equity, however, suggests that the complaint of Mr. Duplessis and his provincial counterparts is well founded. The problem is not peculiar to this country. It exists in the United States.

In his well written work: "The Standards We Raise" the author, who is an eminent economist says: "The Federal government has become a tax collecting and spending agency that makes the appropriations of local government agencies small by comparison and substantially inadequate without benefit of Federal aid."

The viewpoint quoted, is that of Mr. Duplessis who has reiterated his determination to keep on fighting until the Federal government will recognize Quebec's just and needed claims to a larger share of the revenues collected by the Federal government. At present, the burden is largely borne by the provincial government and the municipality, which is called upon to make ever growing appropriations to enlarge and maintain needed services to protect the health of the citizen and give him that protection to which he is entitled.

The residents of this area have had their tax assessments increased particularly on residential property, with no allowance for depreciation and other contingencies. TELEVISION AND THE SCHOOLS
 By E. George Cochrane, B.A., M.Ed.
 Guidance Counsellor,
 Northmount High School

concerned, both from the point of view of administrative arrangements as well as from the point of view of showing the film at a time when students are going to derive the most benefits from seeing it.

The other advantage to the motion picture is that it can be shown more than once. There are many films that can be shown to advantage two or three times. But in the case of television, there is no opportunity for repetition.

I shall discuss educational television as a teacher replacement in another article.

Can the miracle that is television be utilized to advantage in the educational institutions of North America? That is a question that has been agitating the minds of professional educators and interested laymen for some time. Any discussion of educational television must be divided into two parts: a consideration of TV as a teaching tool, to be classified in the same category as educational motion pictures and other audi-visual aids to instruction; secondly, a consideration of TV as a means of partially overcoming the present shortage of qualified and competent teachers by broadcasting lessons taught by master teachers into hundreds of classrooms. This week I should like to discuss television under the first of those two headings.

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation has conducted two series of experimental educational television programs, the second one in 1956. Just recently, the National Advisory Council on School Broadcasting released its report on the school telecasts.

More than 90 per cent of 1,800 Canadian teachers canvassed by the council expressed a desire for more school telecasts. More than 80 per cent of the teachers rated the teaching value of television as medium or high.

I write as one who did not participate in either of the series of experimental broadcasts. I have, however, had the opportunity to read a good many of the articles and reports on television as a teaching tool that have been published in both the United States and Canada. I have also had the opportunity to discuss the possibilities of educational TV with other teachers. The conclusion that I have reached is that television is not as useful a teaching device as is the educational film. The sole exception that I would make is the case of the television simulcast, that is, a broadcast of some significant event as it is actually in progress.

MGH Auxiliary Plans To Entertain Internes

From all over Canada, the United States, England, Northern Ireland, Switzerland — from even as far away as New Delhi in India — internes will be gathering at the Montreal General on June 15 to commence the final stages of their training at one of the world's most famous teaching hospitals.

To mark the occasion to welcome them to Montreal, the Women's Auxiliary of the Montreal General will hold a buffet supper on June 18. Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Annesley this will be held in the garden of their home, 1 Sunnyside avenue, Westmount. In addition to the internes and their wives, specially invited guests will be out of town graduate nurses who also come from such widely separated places as England, Australia, Holland and Germany.

The party scheduled to begin at six o'clock, will be an informal one with summer cottons suggested an appropriate dress for the ladies. Should the weather can prove un-corporative the party will take place in the internes' Residence of the Hospital.

Mrs. A. E. Moll who, as chairman of the Welcome Committee, was responsible for the very successful buffet supper given for the internes last November, is again in charge of arrangements. She will be assisted by the branches through their chairman and delegates and by members of the Auxiliary board.

New Englanders and Westerners are the heaviest coffee drinkers in the United States.

The motion picture has at least two very important advantages over television. In the first place, the motion picture can be screened at any time that is convenient to the teacher and the students

Combines Stopped By Verdun In Their Bid To Capture 1st Place

SNOWDON Combines' bid to take over first place in the Snowdon Major Fastball League race was stopped short last night when Verdun Sportsmen, deep in last place of the six team race scored a 5-3 victory over the Combines.

For the Verdun team it was their second win in nine starts, as pre-schedule favorites to battle Grocers for the title again. For the past two weeks they lost three tough games by small margins.

The loss for Combines prevent Patterson's crew taking over first place from Grocers who remained a single point in the lead. The next four teams are bunched with Dow Brewers holding down third place with nine points; FBI, who scored three games in two days in fourth place with eight points; Pepsi Cola fifth with six points and Verdun in the cellar with four points.

The Brewers failed to gain any ground on the weekend when they dropped two to FBI on counts of 2-0 and 8-6 with Gibby Wesolowski picking up both victories.

His third win was at the expense of Verdun on a 7-3 count. These wins put FBI in their best position since they were chosen as pre-schedule favorites to battle Grocers for the title again.

But, the roof fell in on Tuesday night when Combines tightened their hold on second place with a 13-0 win over FBI.

Marty Goodman, in his first start since returning from the United States, was charged with the loss.

Wesolowski, a tired pitcher was no help to Goodman in the relief role, as Combines picked off five more runs.

Grocers saw action once on the week-end and that was on Sunday when Combines hit them for a 7-1 win. It was Grocers second Sunday: Verdun at Dow, Trenholme Park, 2:00 pm; Grocers at FBI, Trenholme Park, 8:00 pm.

Monday: FBI at Pepsi, Trenholme Park, 8:45 pm.

Tuesday: Verdun at Grocers, Willibrord Park, Verdun, 8:00 pm.

Wednesday: Dow at Combines, Westbury Park, Van Horne avenue, 8:45 pm.

loss of the season against eight wins and one draw.

The picture can change by this time next week but Combines will be in second place as they are only scheduled once next week.

Indians Snap 6 Game Losing Streak With Win

Unity's Indian coach Bob Robinson hasn't had too much to cheer about the past few weeks as far as winning ball games go, however, Monday evening the Indians snapped a six game losing streak by edging the second place White Sox Club 3-0 behind a steady four hit pitching performance from Gordon Cole.

The tall, hard throwing right-hander struck out 12 Six batters and walked three to register his first victory against two defeats.

White Sox hurler Bill Dwyer pitched equally well, fanning 13 men but was the victim of a towering, bases empty home run in the fourth inning off the bat of Indian left fielder Buddy McKaig which broke a scoreless deadlock.

Bill Dwyer was best at bat for the Sox with a triple, while Cole had two hits for the Unity Team.

Local Boy Jim Tsonos Verdun Football Coach

Verdun Rugby Football Club have dropped their junior entry from the Quebec Rugby Football Union for one year at least, but took time out to honor the team's outstanding performer at an awards night.

Peter Campanelli was the young man who had the odd experience of hearing that his last year's team - the Shamcats - exist no more, and then being called up to accept a trophy as most valuable player on the team during its final season.

Young Campanelli, a two-way centre, shared the evening's spotlight with burly Milo Klacko who was selected as most valuable player on the senior Bearcats, and youthful Jimmy Tsonos of Victoria avenue, who was announced as next year's coach of the senior Stamps.

Tsonos replaces Gus MacFarlane, who leaves for his new post as assistant athletic director at Mount Allison College in New Brunswick in the fall. Tsonos has played under MacFarlane's coaching for many seasons.

Both players, Klacko and Campanelli, received the Bunny Sabbath Trophies from the donor for their efforts, and Klacko in particular will be mighty proud of his signal achievement.
