The city increased its taxable valuation of property by nearly $300,000 during the current year, figures released on Tuesday by C. W. Houston, assistant secretary-treasurer, show.

Services this Sunday evening, First Day Rosh Hashanah, will be held at the Shaar Hashomayim Synagogue at 5.30 o'clock, and on Monday and Tuesday mornings at 7.30. The sermons, which will be delivered by Dr. Herman Abramowitz, at 10.30 a.m. will be as follows: Rosh Hashanah (Monday): "Watchman, What of the Night"; Rosh Hashanah (Tuesday): "The Rosh Hashanah's Message of Hope."

The services will be read by Cantor Nathan Mendelson and Associate Cantor Herman Semiatin. Cantor Mendelson, recently appointed Cantor of Shaar Hashomayim is a native of Scotland. He received his education in New York at the Talmudical Academy and at the Isaac Elchanan Yeshiva. He is a graduate of the College of the City of New York, and pursued his musical studies in that city. Before coming to Montreal, he was Cantor of the Beth Hamedrash Hagadol in Newark, N.J.

Cantor Semiatin, Associate Cantor of Shaar Hashomayim, has been associated with leading congregations in the British Isles and the United States. He is widely known in the Jewish musical world as composer of Liturgic music.

Registration for all classes of the Shaar Hashomayim Sunday School took place last Sunday, and classes will commence tomorrow. Grades 4 to 9 meet on Sunday morning at 9.55. The Junior Department, including the classes from Kindergarten to Third Year, meet Sunday afternoon at 2.30. This Sunday the afternoon session will be dismissed at 3.30.

A special service will be held on Sunday afternoon, October 2nd, at 4.30 p.m., to dedicate a Tablet in the Beth Hamedrash of the Synagogue, to the memory of Lyon Cohen, for many years a President and an Honorary President of the Congregation.

Many Horses Still Used In Cities, Speaker Says

The horse, far from disappearing from city streets, is still widely used in metropolitan centres, Dr. C. Baker, prominent Montreal veterinarian, stated while speaking before the Westmount Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting on Wednesday.

Last year, for instance, a single dealer in Montreal had sold 11,168 horses. It would be impossible, however, to estimate the total number sold.

The speaker who chose as his subject "The City man and His Pet" was particularly anxious to correct the erroneous impression held by many people that the C.S.P.C.A. is responsible for the picking up of dogs from the street. Dog catchers, he said, are employed only by the city. The belief that this activity was carried out by the society was probably due to the fact that the municipal pound is located there, he thought.

taxation revenue each year, a comparison of previous annual financial statements brings out. The greatest of these occurred during the boom years when building was at its highest level.

The City Council this year received thirty appeals on the valuations set by the Board of Assessors. Of this number the board was upheld in 19 cases while 11 appeals were granted, representing an approximate reduction of $23,000.

New Season Opened By Boys Brigade

First Westmount Company to Take Route March Tonight—Number of New Recruits Join

The First Westmount Company of the Boys Brigade was off to a good start last Friday night with a number of new recruits present as well as all the boys from last season. Much enthusiasm was aroused over the re-organization of the band and a great many of the members made application to Bandmaster Rynance.

There are, however, still several openings left for boys who are keenly interested in developing this form of talent and applicants may meet with Captain Richardson any Friday evening between seven and seven-thirty. The Company will take a route march, weather permitting, tonight accompanied by the band of the Fifth Company. Boys are asked to meet in front of Melville Church at 7.15 sharp.

The Company made announcement of special classes which will be conducted by Lieut. Sutherland and Capt Richardson starting on Friday, September 30th. Wayfarer's Badge will be dealt with as well as ambulance, signalling, athletics and many others.

40 YEARS A QUEEN—ALL HOLLAND HONORS HER

All Holland was gay with music and orange bunting as the Dutch joined in honoring Queen Wilhelmina on the fortieth anniversary of her accession to the throne of the Netherlands. The army's part in the celebration was a monster parade in the Hague, which was reviewed by the royal family. Pictured above as, with ranking officers of the army and navy, they watched the troops pass, are Princess Juliana (seated, left), heiress to the throne; Queen Wilhelmina (also seated), and Prince Bernhard (extreme right), husband of the Princess.

Local Entries Invited By Kinsmen

The Westmount boys who have been taking an interest in soap box building and racing during the past summer have been invited to take part in the Kinsmen's meet which is to be held October 8th.

Three series of trial races were held in Westmount and about twenty boys took part, driving a varied assortment of possibilities. Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Henrick, who are the judges of the eligible cars, will be on hand at the Westmount Band Stand, on Monday at 4.30 to meet all boys who are interested in entering the race. In the event of rain, the first day after Monday will be the meeting time.

The soap box derby, which has been widely publicised is of great interest, as the winner will receive a free trip to enter the United States championship. Many other valuable prizes, such as bicycles, cups, etc., may also be won.

Girls Hi-Y Club Elects New Officers

Ruth Livemore Fills Vacancy of Vice-President—First Meeting Held

The first regular meeting of the Girls Hi-Y Club was held at the Y.M.C.A. last week. Following supper at which eighteen members were present, the meeting was called to order by the president, Miss Norma Neilson, and the minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

There being a vacancy for vice-president, a vote was taken and resulted in Miss Ruth Livemore being elected to the office.

Due to Miss Campbell's resignation from the High School as adviser, following her recent marriage, a short discussion was held regarding the candidates for her successor. Miss Beaulieu, having been duly approached, has accepted the position.

The new adviser from the Y. W. C. A., Miss Haslam, discussed the High School girls' week end conference to be held at Y. W. C. A. Camp Oolahwan, St. Marguerite, from September 30th to October 2nd, 1938. After reviewing the subject of new members, it was decided that the Fourth Form girls should send in application in order that they might be included in the forthcoming conference. There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at eight o'clock.

Excavation For New Building Is Started

Excavation was started on Saturday for construction of a $100,000 apartment and business block on Sherbrooke street between Victoria and Grosvenor avenues.

The structure, which will be one of the largest buildings built in Westmount for a considerable period, will house a new unit of Steinberg's and is being constructed by that company.

The structure will have a frontage of 88 feet and a depth of 120 feet at one point, and will contain 14 suites, according to plans prepared by Maxwell M. Kalman, architect. Specifications of the building call for a three-storey structure with basement, brick walls, stone trim and store fronts of structural glass.

The inspection will take in personnel flying and technical equipment, radio apparatus, and official reports of the squadron.

It was also learned that the Westmount military centre has lost the use of the hangar at St. Hubert Airport which it shared with the Montreal No. 118 Fighter Squadron.

The base at the flying field has been taken over by the Government for use by Trans-Canada Airlines. Until further plans are formulated the two squadrons are housing their eight training planes in the large central hangar.

Over the weekend the unit made its second navigation flight of the year, this time to St. Sauver, Que. Flying officers of the Squadron made the round trip on Sunday.

Promote Members Of Force

Lieut. Robert Byford Raised to Captain, and Cons. O. Arsenaull to Sergeant

Lieutenant Robert Byford, of the Westmount Police Department, was promoted to the rank of captain, and Constable Oliva Arsenaull to sergeant, by the City Council at a closed meeting on Monday evening.

Now 37 years of age, Lieut. Byford joined the force on December 4, 1924 as a constable. On Nov. 3, 1931 he was raised to the rank of desk sergeant. He was next promoted on April 6, 1936, when he was made Acting police lieutenant. On July 15 of the same year he became a lieutenant.

Oliva Arsenaull entered the force on August 27, 1931, his appointment this week marking his first promotion.

For some time connected with the Identification Department, he is now in full charge of that office. He will also look after police records.

As head of identification, his duties require a thorough knowledge of photography, finger printing, and classification of criminal records.

Re-Opening Of Church On Sunday

Westmount Baptist Building Underwent Extensive Alterations—During Summer

During the Summer Westmount Baptist Church has undergone extensive renovation and redecoration. The official re-opening service will be held on Sunday. At the morning service Rev. J. A. Johnston will have as his theme: "Strength and Beauty are in His Sanctuary". The Sunday morning Children's Talks which are so much enjoyed by a large number of children will be resumed at this service.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the Bible School under the direction of Mr. S. C. Simpson will observe Rally Day. A very attractive programme has been planned.

At the evening service Mr. Johnston will have as his subject: "The Woman, the Dragon and the Beast." This address will be based upon a most significant Bible Commentary in current history. The question in many minds is—Must the Democracies go on yielding before the gangster methods of the Dictatorships? Is the Mark of the Beast or the Name of the Lamb to triumph finally? Our fellow-citizens are cordially invited to attend. The choir will render attractive music.

Book Circulation At Library Is Up

During the months of June, July and August, the Westmount Public Library circulated 30,982 books, Miss Kathleen Jenkins, librarian, reported yesterday. This represents an increase of 1,883 books over the same period last year.

A number of new volumes have recently been added, including some three hundred in the French language.

Messenger Suffers Injury In Fall From Bicycle

When he unexplainably fell from his bicycle while travelling at a rapid rate of speed, Philippe Charbonneau, of 227 Hibernia avenue, suffered a fractured right shoulder on Saturday afternoon, and was taken to the Western Division of the Montreal General Hospital for treatment.

Charbonneau, a messenger employed by Hoffner, Ltd., 4255 St. Catherine street west, apparently lost control of his bicycle while travelling at a fast clip down Clarke avenue. He fell from the machine at the corner of Thornhill and was hurled to the curb.

He was found lying there by a passing motorist, A. Schachter, of 6 Douglas avenue, who removed him to hospital in his car.

He was examined there by Dr. Hornig and was retained for treatment by hospital authorities.

No reason has been advanced for the mishap as the road surface was in good condition.

or reliance on calendars. Indian Summer is here when it feels like Indian Summer! There are signs, to be sure, like the harvesting of pumpkins, the McIntosh Reds, Grimes Golden, and Northern Spies; haze on the hills, pungent fragrance of wood smoke, reddening of the sumac, silence of birds in the meadow and woodland, warm sun in the quiet midday, but early coolness when it drops behind the hill. And before long, honking squadrons of wild waterfowl will scud southward, and the harvest moon will reign the sky.

HOMOEOPATHIC HOSPITAL OPENS $250,000 CAMPAIGN APPEAL ON TUESDAY NEXT

WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 23, 1938

THE HOMOEOPATHIC CAMPAIGN

The Homoeopathic Hospital campaign opens Tuesday—a campaign to raise funds badly needed to maintain the present work of the hospital and to provide for extensions made necessary by the growth of the population the hospital serves. The Homoeopathic is Notre Dame de Grace's hospital. Located on Marlowe avenue, just below Trinity Church, it is Montreal's only "general hospital west of Atwater avenue.

ROME'S APPRECIATION

One can well understand the great satisfaction and delight of Pope Pius as he learned, straight from the lips of Cardinal Villeneuve, of the unparalleled success of the Canadian National Eucharistic Congress held in Quebec City in June. His Holiness bestowed his blessing on the Cardinal, on the Catholic Church in Canada and on the entire Canadian people. "Our salute," says Osservatore Romano, official organ of the Vatican, in commenting on the visit of Cardinal Villeneuve and his associates, "is a salute of gratitude for those who bring to the Pope's heart such consolations, for those who console the church by writing such noble and exemplary pages."

The Eucharist Congress in Quebec served a great national, as well as spiritual, purpose. It was one of those admirable steady influences that we require in these unusual days. It commanded the respect and close attention of many thousands far beyond the boundary lines of the great organization by which it was arranged.

"Labor Board Bars Weirton Steel Attorney; Gives Firm Month to Find New Counsel," says a Washington headline. Remember "way back in the good old days when lawyers were plentiful and you could get a couple of dozen merely by taking off the fly screen?"

In reviewing J. B. Priestley's "The Domesday Men" for the New York Sun, James C. Grey says, "Charlie's rickety old airplane, Bendi, might have been copied from what they say of Corcoran's." Oh, well, for a book reviewer, "Corcoran" is close enough.

FIELD DAY

A Scout and Cub field day and track meet is being held at Westmount Athletic Club on Saturday. The Cub events will start at 11 o'clock sharp while the Scout will start theirs at 1 o'clock.

The list of events and classes is as follows: Wolf Cub Events. Class "A" 8, 9, and 10 years—50 yard dash, three-legged race, baseball throw, running broad jump. Cubmaster to file entry form.

Sir Reginald Dorman-Smith, K.B., M.P., told the members of Ottawa Canadian Club that the British market for Dominion goods is nearly at the saturation point and that a policy of agreement and co-operation by farmers of the Empire is necessary to retain proper trade conditions. He said: "We must try to stop cut-throat competition and let producers agree to some voluntary system of control. To put down unwise competition, the majority should be allowed to coerce the minority of agriculturists if necessary, and have the power to control their own business. Unregulated and uncontrolled expansion must not be allowed." That is, food should be made scarce so that it will be dear to the consumer. This is inevitable until there is as there should be production, world wide, for use.

The chairman thanked the speaker who he said "dealt with the subject in a most enlightening and delightful manner." It is not easy to understand how an appeal to commit sabotage can be enlightening or delightful.

A great scientist and a great man was the late Lord Rutherford. One of his sayings is worth remembering even by those to whom the world of physics is a mystery. "Nature appears to work in a simple way, and the more fundamental the problem, the simpler are the conceptions needed for its explanation." He was a generous, large hearted, jolly, unaffected man, who outside of his classroom, in which it was his part to lead, believed in equality. He could not stand solemn pundits, and he put on no affectations or what we call "side." The story is told of his saying to a shy first-term student, "I am very glad to hear you say that. It confirms what I always thought."

At the Massachusetts Baptist Convention, President Franklin of Crozer Theological Seminary said, "Times like these call for a heroic stand for freedom. Within ten years, we shall face in this country, a struggle for freedom of speech. Many governments are trying to dominate the religious life of their people. The Christian religion faces a great testing. The world will ask for the proof of the realities we teach. The two fields in which a Christian must lead, and prayerfully seek the truth, are economics and international relations."

Demands for a public inquiry into Nazi and Fascist activities in Canada have been made by Rabbi Eisendrath, eminent Jewish ecclesiastic, following the finding of a swastika decorated funeral casket hanging to the door of his Toronto home. Rabbi Eisendrath said it was not the first anti-Semitism threat he had received, a large placard bearing a swastika having been nailed to the door only a few days before the funeral repel.

Premier King's announcement that the next general election will not be held until late in 1940 means that there will not be a dissolution until about the end of the statutory five year time limit. Such an announcement so early in the life of this Parliament will set at rest all rumors and speculations and irresponsible forecasts have an unsettling effect. He has evidently decided that early appeals are not always successful. The first liberal success under Mr. King was on December 6, 1921. A general election was held on October 29th, 1925 and resulted in a Liberal defeat. The time between these two elections was three years, 10 months and 23 days, and he suffered a defeat. These results showed that it is not always a sign of strength to make an early electoral appeal so Mr. King has shrewdly decided to adopt a new method of strategy which he hopes will be more successful.

Quebec City has negotiated a $10,000,000 loan at one and three quarter per cent. "Until the control of the issue of currency and credit is restored to the government and recognized as its most conspicuous and sacred responsibility, all talk of the sovereignty of Parliament and democracy is ideal and futile.—Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King.

There is a destiny that makes us brothers; None goes his way alone; All that we send into the lives of others Comes back into our own. —Edwin Markham.

This education forms the common mind. Just as the twig is bent, the tree's inclined.—Alexander Pope.

Who should pay for Falling Water and How Much? The chief cost of water power development is the cost of money. Therefore if a public corporation builds a power dam and sells its bonds it could get the money cheaper than a private corporation. The dams should be built by the water authority (the people), and power for transmission should be sold to the private corporations.—Owen D. Young.

It is reported that the U.S.A. Automobile Finance Companies are making more money this year than ever before. They did very well last year, but so far this year the increase in their profits range from 15 to 80 per cent.

West End Will Have Opportunity of Showing Appreciation of Institution's Work and Service to the Community — More Space Urgently Needed — Working Committees are Named — Drive Under Strong Auspices

Montreal, and particularly the west end, will have an opportunity of showing their appreciation of the Homoeopathic Hospital's work and its services to the public at large next week, when the campaign for $250,000 opens on Tuesday.

The reasons for this campaign are explained elsewhere in this issue and those directing the appeal are hopeful that these reasons will strike a responsive note in the public mind.

According to a survey of the situation as it exists today, this campaign will determine the extent of the Homoeopathic Hospital's services during the next few years.

More Space Required More space is urgently required, increasing demands on the hospital by "free patients" are now a problem of considerable magnitude, but it is hoped this will be solved by the generosity of the public in the forthcoming appeal. This drive is being launched under the strongest auspices as, in addition to Sir Charles Lindsay, as honorary president, Sir Edward Beatty, Morris W. Wilson, Arthur B. Wood, A. J. Nesbitt and J. W. McConnell are honorary chairmen.

Douglas Bremner is president of the Board and assisting him are: Citizens' Committee: Sir H. Montgomery Allan, The Ven. Archbishop J. M. Almond, Dr. Edward Archibald, R. H. Barron, Brig. Gilbert Best, Alderman W. H. Biggar, Gerald W. Birks, Hon. C. H. Cahan, K.C., Arthur W. Campbell, B. W. P. Coghlin, T. B. Dundas, G. B. Foster, K.C., Henry Fyon, Zeph. # Troop Spent Active Term Reports Show

Camp Committee to Hold Meeting This Evening When Summaries Will be Read

The St. Leo's Academy Boy Scout Troop opened fall activities last Friday and this evening a meeting is to be held when the Camp Committee will present reports on activity undertaken during the summer. The committee is composed of M. M. Latendresse, Dr. J. Wickham, Bro. Merry Alphonse, Aime Leblanc, G. Marshall, and H. Walsh.

The reports will reveal, in part, that summer activities commenced on June 25 when the troop left of Camp Tamaracouta, in charge of Mr. McCormick during the first two weeks. Leadership was then taken over by Mr. Valois.

During the camp term patrol camping was carried out for the first time, the boys and officers enjoying the new system as it gave the patrol leaders an excellent test in leadership.

Twenty-four boys and three officers attended this year. Forty proficiency badges were awarded and forty-seven 1st Class tests passed. Scouts deserving of special mention are: Patrol Leader Tom Allan and Second Robert O'Connell, who completed their King's Scout test, also Patrol Leader Kevin Power and Second Helmut Ott, who won their Bushman's Thong, one of the highest awards in scout work.

Tom and Bill Glatzmayer were chosen as Knights of Tamara, an honor paid the best campers in the troop. The troop was fortunate in having one of its members, Tom Glatzmayer chosen as one of ten boys to represent Canada in Camp Manhattan of the Ten Mile River Camp, in exchange for ten American Scouts who stayed at Camp Tamaracouta for ten days. Mr. McCormick, S.M., and Patrol leader Charlie Ciceri enjoyed a week of hiking and camping in the district surrounding Camp Tamaracouta. Scouts in town spent their week-ends at Camp Bois Franc in Cartierville.

Coaster Classic Becomes Inter-Provincial Event

The Kinsmen Coaster Classic being held on October 8 in Montreal and which has attracted considerable interest in the week end, has developed into an inter-provincial event, it was announced by Kinsmen Club officials this morning.

While the race itself is confined to Montreal and district boys between the ages of nine and 15 years a special all-champion feature has been arranged for the Montreal meet and three young speed stars are coming from Belleville, Ontario, to run a special event race against the winner of the Montreal derby.

The Belleville delegation, sponsored by the Kinsmen Club in that city, includes; Bob Wilson, all Canadian champion 1938 who won his title at Toronto and then went to Akron, Ohio, for the international finals; Ernest Young, winner of the Toronto-Danforth Soap Box Derby this summer; and Barney Wright, champion of invitation races held at Cobourg, Ontario this summer.

A western official was recently accused of misuse of public funds. He was trying to economize the money.

Plans for the derby program, already postponed until October 8 because of the exceptionally large entry list, call for an early morning start with the semi-finals and finals being held in the mid-afternoon. Following the Montreal final it is planned to have the new district champion meet the Ontario champions in a special feature race which will be the highlight of the day's meet.

With the Hebrew New Year which begins Sunday evening, September 25, Shaare Zion Congregation, Claremont avenue, will be entering on its fourteenth year as a religious institution in the West End. During these years, it made significant progress so that, today, it ranks among the outstanding congregations in the community.

HEBREWS START THEIR NEW YEAR SEPTEMBER 25

Special Services Will be Held at the Shaare Zion Synagogue

The committee, conscious of the fact that these are days when religion must be the bearer of hope for a broken humanity, is bending every effort to make ample preparation to accommodate in the main Synagogue a capacity attendance for the High Holidays. For overflow services, the Community Hall, Decarie boulevard has been reserved. It is essential for Jewish residents in Notre Dame de Grace to apply for seat reservation without delay. The committee on seat reservation will be available at the synagogue office, every evening from 8 to 10 and on Sunday, all day.

At the same time, parents are reminded to bring their children for registration for the various courses to be offered during the coming season in the daily Hebrew School and the Sunday Religious Department.

For the succeeding meetings speakers of outstanding ability have been secured. The musical programs will be sustained by popular artists, and there will be dramatic sketches by the Dickens Fellowship Players Club.

The president for the coming year is W. J. Messenger, M. A. Miss Winnifred Parker, 810 Upper Belmont Avenue, is secretary, and W. M. Ellis, 4643 Sherbrooke Street, W., is treasurer.

The Family Druggist

By L. Sherwin, Ph.G.

The Modern Drug Store might appear one of the most prosaic places in the world, but behind each and every one of the neatly labeled bottles on the shelves, lies a story of romance which stretches to the remotest corners of the world. Each chemical has its tale of industry, research, failure and success.

Quinine, one of the most important drugs in the Pharmacopoeia has indeed a romantic history. Its use as a specific for malaria has played an important part in the building of the British Empire. The discovery of Quinine like many other important discoveries was purely accidental. Over 200 years ago a wandering tribe of Indians in Peru left one of its fever stricken victims to die on the banks of a pool in the jungle. The delicious Indian drank huge quantities of the water which was richly imbued with the extract of cinchona bark floating for ages on the surface of the water.

In a few weeks he rejoined his tribe invigorated and entirely free from fever. Like most natives the Indians were extremely superstitious and thereafter regarded the stream as a holy place. In time the holy properties of the water was also attributed to the bark found in the water. A few years later some of the bark was collected and presented to the Countess of Cinchona, wife of the Viceroy of Peru, who was suffering from a dangerous fever. An infusion of the bark was made and given to the countess. To the amazement of her friends she made a rapid recovery. The bark is known to this day as Cinchona bark.

Not until many years later was the actual fever curing properties of cinchona found to be due to the presence of the alkaloid Quinine. The isolation of this important drug was brought about by Pelletier. Other important alkaloids of cinchona are quinidine and cinchonidine, and they have shown themselves to be worthy of a place in modern medicine.

Amalgamation of Columbia University's Department of Chinese and its Institute of Japanese Studies under the head of the Department of Chinese and Japanese, was announced here by Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of the University, Sept. 5

Managing Director of the Westmount Transfer and Storage Limited, W. Gordon Kenwood heads one of the city's pioneer business organizations.

But for a few years when he lived in Notre Dame de Grace, Mr. Kenwood has been a life-long resident of Westmount. He was born on Christmas day in 1894, receiving his education at the old Westmount Academy, situated where Argyle Commercial High School stands today.

He entered this firm founded by his father, the late William Henry Kenwood, when he was thirteen years of age and received a thorough knowledge of the trucking business before taking over leadership of the company on the death of his father 14 years ago.

The senior Mr. Kenwood inaugurated the Westmount Parcel Delivery service when this city was known as the Town of Cote St. Antoine and in 1903 expanded his business to take in heavy cartage.

Since that time it has shown steady progress, becoming mechanized in 1903 when the first truck was purchased. Today it boasts a fleet of fourteen vehicles and owns the largest furniture van in Canada. This latter truck it got six feet under the length of a railway freight car and is used primarily for long-haul work.

Classes in the Shaar Hashomayim Hebrew School are now in session. Classes meet at the Notre Dame de Grace branch on Girouard avenue. A taxi service has been organized to bring the children living in the West end to the Synagogue and back home again. Lessons in the Home Instruction department have also commenced. Parents who are interested in these departments should get in touch with the Education Director at WE. 1668.

McGill Conservatorium Music Classes Open Here

The McGill Conservatorium piano classes in the Westmount schools started yesterday under the direction of Miss Irene Nichols, L.R.S.M., London.

These classes, which commenced six years ago in Westmount, have now fully established themselves as the most pleasurable and economical means of providing a child with the fundamentals of a sound musical education.

Two concerts are given annually, in order that the parents may keep in touch with modern methods of class teaching as well as to encourage the children to develop poise and self-confidence from the beginning. Music is a social art, and these classes foster a feeling of confidence in the children, accustom them to play before others naturally, and the competition with their class mates stimulates their interest and ambition.

The children of Westmount residents are accepted in these classes irrespective of what school they may attend. The registration has been taken, but has not yet been closed for the first term and any information required about these classes may be obtained from the secretary, McGill Conservatorium of Music.

Christian Science Church Notes

"Reality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday. The Golden Text is: "Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: the sceptre of thy kingdom is a right sceptre." (Psalms 45:6).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "I am the Lord, and there is none else, there is no God beside me: I girded thee, though thou hast not known me. That they may know from the rising of the sun, and from the west, that there is none beside me. I am the Lord, and there is none else." (Isaiah 45:5, 6).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas." (P. 331).

Follow These Hints To Keep Youth And Beauty

The woman who is determined to stay as attractive as possible through the years tries to correct each beauty fault as it appears.

For instance, she gets on the bathroom scales every day and this doesn't gain weight without knowing it. As soon as she discovers that she has gained one pound she takes immediate steps to lose it. She knows that it's a simple matter to lose one, but that it takes more will power than the majority have to lose several.

Even though her hair is in perfect condition, she brushes it every night, and she treats it to a hot oil shampoo about once a month. As a result she never has to look carefully to see if there are flecks of dandruff or dry cuticle on her scalp or if her hair is setting too oily.

Furthermore, she keeps informed on current hair styles, uses a new coiffure occasionally — without waiting until it is obvious to her and to her friends that her coiffure is out of date.

When she notices that the hem in a certain dress is about to fall

Miss Evelyn Forster, who was her sister's only attendant, was in a gown of coral dust net, over taffeta, with a short bolero, with a matching halo head-dress and slippers. Wallace Kerry, of Toronto, was best man for Mr. Iredale, and the ushers were Jack H. McBride and Chris. Schroeder, of Toronto.

A reception was held at the Windsor hotel, where gladioli and palms were used to decorate.

down or that its little white collar looks slightly shoddy, she repairs or has it repaired immediately. She found out long ago that it is far easier to keep a wardrobe in excellent order than it is to put one back to order after weeks and weeks of neglect.

If she notices that a few pores on her nose seem enlarged she immediately gets a jar of mask, uses it once a week, and begins to cleanse her skin more carefully and to apply some kind of mild astringent regularly. She would not dream of waiting until practically every pore is definitely larger.

She's meticulous about less serious faults too. The minute the lacquer on one nail chips or gets discolored she removes it and applies a fresh coat. She doesn't try to make her wave "do" one more day, either. And if the directions on her jar of night cream say that the preparation is to be used every night, she uses it every night. Consequently she never suddenly discovers a network of new, fine lines or a bade case of excessive dryness.

Hospital Drive Outlined To Ladies Of Community

Under the chairmanship of Mrs. Harold Mills, the women's division of the Homeopathic hospital campaign organizers held an afternoon tea and meeting, on Tuesday in Victoria hall. The purpose of the meeting was to enlighten the ladies of the community of the dire necessity of hospital needs.

Douglas Bremner, president of the campaign, spoke of the many charity cases handled daily at the hospital and stressed the importance of the campaign. Mr. Bremner said, "During the past ten years the marked advancement of medicine necessitates more intensive hospitalization. Montreal hospitals enjoy an enviable record, and this high standard must be maintained." He continued saying that "if hospitals are to continue, further financial assistance is imperative."

The ladies at the meeting were impressed by facts stated by Mr. Bremner concerning the maternity ward. "5,100 babies have been born in the Homeopathic Hospital during the past ten years. All mothers receive the best care and the services of efficient surgeons, regardless of the fact that many of them do not pay any service received. Of all the hospitals on the North American continent none reach the same high standard of deaths occurring at childbirth. Only one mother in every 428 cases dies," the speaker said.

With the erection of the proposed Nurses' Home, forty four extra beds will be available for the general public.

Mrs. Mills thanked Mr. Bremner, and introduced St. Clair Holland, chairman of the teams' organization.

He said that most families in this community has had at some time or other during the course of their lives had some connection with the Homeopathic hospital. "The Homeopathic Hospital, is truly a general hospital, it is the only one west of Atwater avenue, and it needs the assistance of the public to carry on its splendid work," he said.

Mr. Holland spoke highly of the twenty-nine staff doctors of the institution for the fine example they were setting. These doctors have underwritten the entire cost of all meals given to workers during the period of preparation for and during the actual campaign. This is their contribution to a noble cause.

Mrs. F. H. Dorothy Sproule, noted Montreal author and poetess was the next speaker introduced. Saying that the ladies of Montreal never failed to make any objective that they set out to acquire, she was sure that by co-operation this record could be maintained. "Do your best to help and you will not fail," she said. Mrs. Sproule concluded her remarks by reading one of her own compositions, a poem entitled, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

Following the closing of the meeting Mrs. Mills thanked Mrs. Will Harrison for her time spent in decorating the hall so tastefully and Mrs. Colin Forrest, who presided at the organ.

Short Hair On Top For New Dressing

Things to remember in trying the great high hair experiment are to have your hair cut short on top — about two inches. Let it grow to about six inches in back — long enough to reach the top of the head. Have a good permanent to make it stay up. And have your hairdresser shape your hair so it's becoming to the back of the neck as well as the face. Probably he would anyway. But it's particularly important if the back neck is thin and the hairline is bad.

If hair grows too far down on the back of the neck, don't have them clipped, or worse, shaved. The very low hairs can be removed with a reliable depilatory, such as the sulphideless cream. It can be applied warm or cold and discour-

Woman Studies World Affairs In Her Travels Far And Wide

If your interest is world affairs, it would be the idea of Henrietta Sands Merrick that the best way to keep step with it is to travel as far and wide as possible. Go to India by way of Jerusalem, for instance. Or live for 10 days in a haunted castle in the Kulin Valley, and learn that the way to scare bears out of the grain fields is to get some natives to spend the night beating some boards together—it is a form of drumming which bears, apparently, don't care for. Or go and watch the sun rise on Mt. Everest, and cross the Himalayan Range by pack train.

You'd never think Mrs. Merrick would be the one to undertake such hardy doings. She has a kind of fragility, and a pink and white complexion that never came out of a jar... Every once in a while she causes her itinerary to bring her back to New York, and her apartment on Gracie Square; but that's only for long enough in which to plot out a new itinerary. She was born and brought up in Washington, but has spent most of her life-time travelling. She went to school in Austria; she's lived a great deal in Europe; but it's the Orient which her mature judgment convinces her she likes best of all. "It is more vivid and, if you will, more tragic. It isn't easy for a woman to travel alone in the Orient—especially a woman who is a product of a Western civilization. The women of India, of course, are the power, but they rule behind the veil."

It wasn't even easy for Mrs. Merrick to begin travelling in the Orient, as an "entri-actress" to get like it best of all. The first comprehensive trip she wanted to make was over the Himalayas, but the authorities didn't want her to, though they did say that she could come back across them—a bit of characteristic, Oriental circumlocution. So she simply began at a different point than she had intended. When she had done that and "come back" as the authorities told her she might, they said if she wanted to do it again, she could go over them, but not come back across them. Thus they merely reversed her route, and apparently everyone was happy.

Both India and Palestine have convinced Mrs. Merrick of the difficulties confronting English rule today. She believes that if the British had made public the correspondence which passed between King Hussein, Sherif of Mecca, and Sir Henry McMahon, Lord High Commissioner, present trouble in Palestine could have been avoided, because the correspondence clearly defined the boundary lines, and the Arabs and the Jews believe that it was a case of two separate parties being promised the same piece of territory. She thinks the prospects of a settlement of the Palestine question are greatly retarded by the suspicions of the racial groups involved; and she said she discovered from observation that "The Arabs make good friends, and they also make grave enemies."

Mrs. Merrick has found time to sit down and write her impressions of her last trip through the Near East and the Orient, and she has called it "Caucas Race." Because she says "What I saw reminded me of the caucas race the Dodo organized in 'Alice in Wonderland.' I see the leading nations of the world racing in a sort of circle. But I doubt whether even a Dodo would be able to say, at the end of this race, 'Everybody has won. All must have prizes.'"

Mrs. Merrick feels far safer on a Tibet trek than she does in a New York taxi cab. And as for the cab drivers she says, "I would far rather trust my 'Tibetan guide whose name, if you will believe it, is Sunnum Wancheck."

The Way To A Man's Heart Making Sure-Fire Sunday Dessert Is Easy As Pie

Pies for Sunday dinner is a proper thought.

From the tested cook book which an electrical-appliance manufacturer sends along, comes this pie lore. The recipes can be used in any good oven. So let's have pie for Sunday.

Chocolate Pie
(Serves 4 to 6)

One baked pie shell, 1 cup sugar, 4 tablespoons corn starch, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 2 1-2 cups milk, 3 eggs separated, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 cup cocoa or 3 squares unsweetened chocolate.

Scald the milk. Combine sugar, corn starch, salt and cocoa and stir until smooth. (If chocolate is used, add it to the scalded milk to melt.) Cook until thick, stirring constantly to prevent lumping.

Add the beaten egg yolks and cook 5 minutes longer, stirring constantly. Add butter and vanilla. Pour into a baked pie shell, cover with a meringue.

If preferred, sweetened whipped cream may be used instead of meringue, after filling has cooled.

Butterscotch Pie

One baked pie shell, 3 eggs separated, 1 1-2 cups brown sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 5 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 2 teaspoons vanilla, 2 tablespoons butter.

Beat together the egg yolks, sugar, flour, salt and milk until smooth. Cook until thick, stirring constantly to prevent lumping. Add vanilla and butter. Pour into baked pie shell. Cover with a meringue made as follows:

Meringue

Three egg whites, 1-8 teaspoon cream of tartar, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, few grains of salt.

Beat egg whites, salt, and cream of tartar together until stiff, but not too dry. Gradually add sugar and beat in thoroughly. Fold in 1-2 teaspoon vanilla. Spread the meringue to an even thickness so that it touches the edge of the pie shell at all points, but leave the surface uneven to make the ridges and peaks when baked. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Bake about 15 minutes.

Pitted sour cherries make grand pie for Sunday dinner. Chocolate pie is popular, too, and butterscotch pie is a favorite. This is also the open season for tart apple pie served with Canadian cheese.

Can you make good crust? If not, now is the time to learn.

EIGHTEEN HOURS FROM CALIFORNIA BY LOCAL GUEST

N. A. Jasby Flies Here by New Southern Route — Admires Air Hostesses

Eighteen hours by air from Los Angeles to Montreal—once a feat possible only to Jules Verne and other adventurers in fiction—is the record hung up this week by N. A. Jasby, Hollywood drug store operator, who is a guest at the home of Jack Notkin, 4986 Victoria avenue, N.D.G.

Mr. Jasby, whose brothers operate Macy's chain of drug stores in Montreal, made the trip merely as "a little jaunt back home to see the folks!" He plans to return to Los Angeles Friday, flying first to Newark, and then hopping an American Airlines plane which will land him at Burbank Airport in time for breakfast next morning.

Asked his opinion of airline hostesses, the one feature of air travel with which this correspondent is familiar, Mr. Jasby smiled broadly and answered: "Beautiful, just beautiful. One hostess accompanied us as far as Dallas, Texas, where she was replaced by a second girl who accompanied us to Newark. Both were stunning blondes, trained nurses, and wonderful travelling companions. So much more attractive than Pullman car conductors..."

In making his speedy hop from coast to coast, Mr. Jasby travelled a southern route which took him through Tuscon, Arizona, Nashville, Tennessee, Washington, D.C. and Newark.

"This is the new route pioneered by American Airlines," he explained last night. Though slightly longer than the Newark-Chicago Alhuguequal route, it is much safer. On the southern route we encounter no high mountains and are able to make better time."

Mr. Jasby left Los Angeles at 8.30 p.m. E.D.S.T., and arrived

Educator Would Control Inventions Affecting Man

The creation of a board of scientists and philosophers empowered to give or refuse permits for inventions likely to affect human life was proposed today by Prof. Cyril Edwin Mitchinson Joad, distinguished British philosopher, in a bitter attack on modern civilization.

"Science has given us powers fit for gods, yet we bring to their use the mentality of schoolboys and savages," the head of the department of philosophy and psychology in Birbeck College, University of London, told a teachers' summer school meeting.

"The symbol of this is the airplane, the greatest of man's inventions which nevertheless threatens his civilization with destruction," he said.

"The Superman made the airplane but the ape has got hold of it.

here at 6.30 p.m. the next day. He stopped off in New York to see a movie en route. Though not new to air travel, this is his first transcontinental hop.

Sleeping accommodation in transcontinental planes surpasses that offered by the railways, said Mr. Jasby. Upper and lower berths, all air-conditioned, are of the latest design; and there is no noticeable noise from the engine. Berth, food and incidental refreshment are all included in the fare, and a sizeable library of late periodicals is provided for the amusement of the passengers.

Most travellers flying from Los Angeles to Montreal, cover the northern route.

"To step on foot throttles, insert coins into metal slots, scan headlines, crowd through clicking turnstiles, turn on the radio, hurl ourselves over the surface by petrol—these constitute the modern notion of entertainment.

"Men of genius by the dozen, ment of talent by the hundred, labored in order that the radio might be. A miracle was performed, but with what result?

"Science, in short, has provided in abundance the means to the good life, but it has not taught us how to live."

Hopeful Chiropodists To Prove Women's Heels

The National Association of Chiropodists formally opened its 27th annual convention among other things, the question, "How high should a heel be?"

The men, and women who doctor the nation's feet think they can find the answer but admit their findings probably won't take a fraction of an inch from the support of a fashionable woman's foot.

The delegates took up, too, foot exercises, the effect of sore feet on the automobile driver and on the army and navy.

Dr. Charles E. Krausz, of Philadelphia, elected president of the association discussed auto drivers. He said:

"Feet play a more important part in driving than do the hands. People with sore and hurting feet are too heavy on the gas and too light on the brakes."

Refuting the old adage that the army travels on its stomach, Dr. Harry L. Goldwag, a vice-president, offered the suggestion that the army, after all, travels on its feet.

He is the author of a congress-sional bill that would provide a chiropody corps for the United States army and navy.

Dr. Joseph Lelyveld, of Rockland, Mass., estimated the foot carrying the average person a mile "endures a stress of 250 tons."

That's why Dr. Cecil P. Beach, of Cleveland, advised girls to "buy stockings long enough so that there is additional material beyond the toes" and shoes that fit "regardless of size."

Dr. Arthur R. Morley, of Chicago, was elected secretary-treasurer and California was chosen for next year's convention state. The California locals will select the city and name the date later.

Will Hold Y.M.C.A. Fall Conference In Ottawa

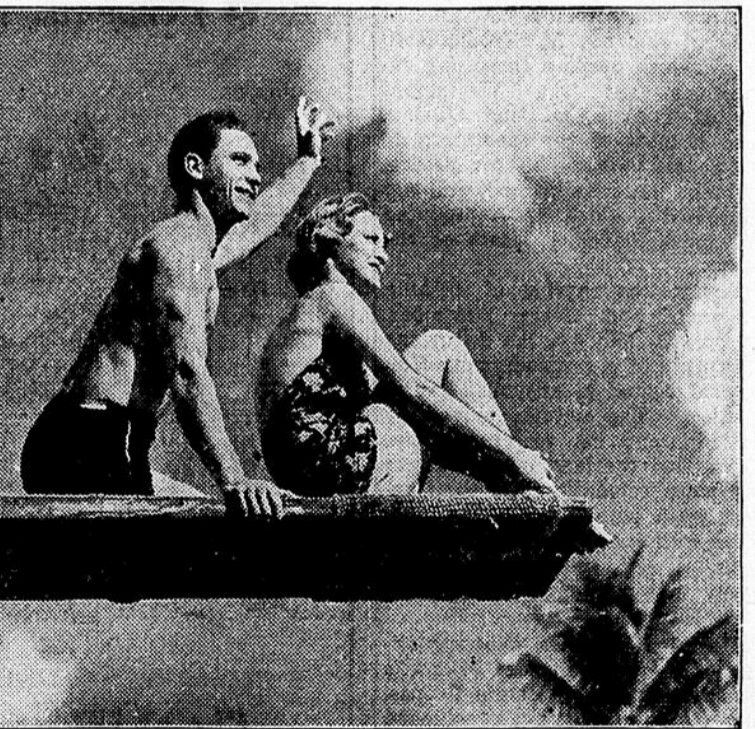

Under the auspices of the Eastern Ontario and Quebec Young Men's Council of the Y.M.C.A. the fall conference will be held at Ottawa, October 8th to 10th. Subjects affecting the welfare of young men will be dealt with at this Thanksgiving week-end rally. Such subjects as unemployment, health, training, war, and other questions arising from the modern social scene will be dealt with. It is expected that a good delegation will go from N.D.G.

Four Seppala Siberian Kennels Dogs In Show

Among the dogs which will be shown at the Montreal Dog Show this week-end will be four from the Seppala Siberian Kennels at Gray Rocks Inn, St. Jovite. The four dogs entered in the class designated as "Siberian Huskies" are Nicholas, Tzar, Kingeak II and Molinka, all members of one of the Gray Rocks Inn dog teams with which Winter guests at this hotel are so familiar.

The dogs are being entered by Mr. Harry Wheeler of Gray Rocks.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD POINT OF VIEW

Low viewpoint, as here, gives a picture one aspect. High viewpoint produces a different picture. Try both.

MANY things go into the making of an artistic, appealing picture—and not the least important is the point of view.

In fact, the viewpoint determines the type of picture you get. Consider a picture of a person out of doors. Stand back thirty feet to take the picture, and you get a landscape view with a figure in the foreground. Stand only a few feet from the subject, and you get an informal portrait with the minimum of background. In other words, if you want to feature the person—get close to your subject. If it's the landscape you want—stand back.

Angle shots are unusual and attract attention. Shoot from an elevation, and you get a "bird's-eye" view of your subject. Shoot from below and you get a "worm's-eye" view. The resulting pictures of the same subject from the low and high viewpoints will be quite different and they will lend variety to your snapshot collection.

For example, the picture above was snapped from the beach below the diving board. If the snapshot had been perched aloft in the diving tower, with his camera pointed downward toward the pair

COMEDY AND DRAMA

THE REALM OF ENTERTAINMENT

NEWS AND PLAYERS

"Holiday", Smart Comedy, Hepburn-Grant Triumph

The idea that money and the accumulation of money are not the main purposes of life is brilliantly expressed in a delightful comedy-romance now playing at the Westmount United Theatre and opening at the Seville United Theatre starting Sunday. "Holiday", the production of the Philip Barry Broadway stage hit, is a blessed change from the bright and scintillant whimsies of modern times, with Katharine Hepburn and Cary Grant co-starring. The film is packed with humor, with human humor instead of zany antics. Its situations are the normal one of reality and not the insane jocularities of the recent crop of cockeyed comedies. "Holiday" presents a rebellious socialite who knows a real man when she sees one, and a young man who insists upon doing his own groping in life's grabbag, rather than marry a million-dollar baby. The problems of "Holiday" are very real to the film's characters, but they are revealed with typical George Cukor deftness, with humor and honesty, in a grandeur of setting which emphasizes the dilemmas of the two rebels. Miss Hepburn, who with easy grace slips into the skin of any character entrusted to her, gives Linda Seton brilliant reality as a caste-shackled girl who never permits herself heroics but in whose ultimate triumph anyone can feel joy. It is her greatest performance to date.

Cary Grant is cast as the young man who plans to earn enough money to retire while he is still young, so that he can take a "Holiday" long enough to think things over. Mr. Grant's performance matches Miss Hepburn's for sincerity and brilliance.

Those Twinkling Toes Are Large Investments

Beautiful legs are among the most attractive sights to be seen on any motion picture screen and therefore the Warner Bros. studio does not begrudge the expense entailed in enlivening a picture such as "Gold Diggers in Paris," which is now playing at the Seville United Theatre and will open at the Monkland United Theatre starting Sunday, with beautiful legs performing graceful dance routines. Still, they are an expensive addition to any film.

If a dancer is engaged for the duration of a long production such as "Gold Diggers," the studio pays the cost of what might be termed maintenance and repair on her legs.

Every dancer provides her own rehearsal clothes, including shoes and socks. But when production starts, the studio provides dancing shoes and stockings. The cost of training dancers' legs and teaching them specific routines is a considerable item. Dance directors such as Busby Berkeley command a high salary and they may devote weeks to the perfection of a single routine. They have, of necessity, a corps of assistants, piano players, masseurs, etc., all of which adds to the total balance against the drawing power of the pair of twinkling toes you see in "Gold Diggers in Paris."

Turkey is pushing its national defense program. Constance Bennett and Vincent Price had to do four retakes because a fly found his way into the microphone and buzzed right through the dialogue. The fly wasn't concerned with making pictures, he was having a good time while twenty people were chasing him.

MOLASSES AS FUEL. Sugar growers of South Africa are considering a plan to utilize all molasses in making motor fuel alcohol.

Soybean meal now is used to harden iron and steel.

On and Off the Set

Marie Antoinette

Louis B. Mayer is known to be a man who seldom makes statements for the press; the result is that when he does speak for publication, you know he really means it. Recently Mr. Mayer was quoted as saying that "Marie Antoinette" was "the biggest thing to come out of our studio since 'Ben Hur.'" "Marie Antoinette" is not just another historical costume film, but rather the story of a queen, who was first and foremost a woman, with all of her faults and failures, married to a man, who instead of being king, wished he had been born a carpenter. "Marie Antoinette" is undoubtedly one of those motion pictures that will be talked about for years to come, even as "Birth of a Nation" and others are talked about today.

Young Jenny Lind

In the near future Deanna Durbin will portray the role of an operatic star when she does a picture based on the life of Jenny Lind. This will come after "Three Smart Girls Grow Up" and "First Love," her next two starring pictures.

A Fly Flew In

Just about anything can throw a monkey wrench into the works when motion pictures are being made. The other day on the set of "Service De Luxe," Constance Bennett and Vincent Price had to do four retakes because a fly found his way into the microphone and buzzed right through the dialogue. The fly wasn't concerned with making pictures, he was having a good time while twenty people were chasing him.

Randolph Scott has been signed for the role of Sheriff Wright in "Jesse James." Tyrone Power, Henry Fonda and Nancy Kelly play the stellar leads.

Humphrey Bogart, George Brent and Walter Abel, the trio featured in the recent "Racket Busters," will be teamed again by Warners in "The Bigger They Are," a screen play concerning politicians and rackets.

Anatole Litvak, who directed Danielle Darrieux and Charles Boyer in "Mayrving," has been signed to direct the French stars second American production, "Rio."

Warner Baxter has been named by Darryl F. Zanuck, to head the cast of "Khyber Rifles," soon to go into production.

Ginger Rogers and James Stewart, ideally suited to the top roles in "Vivacious Lady," clever romantic comedy. This is Rogers' first appearance since her hit in the screen version of "Stage Door," and Stewart's follow up to his success in "Seventh Heaven," and "After The Thin Man."

Don Ameche And Simone-Simon In New Film Roles

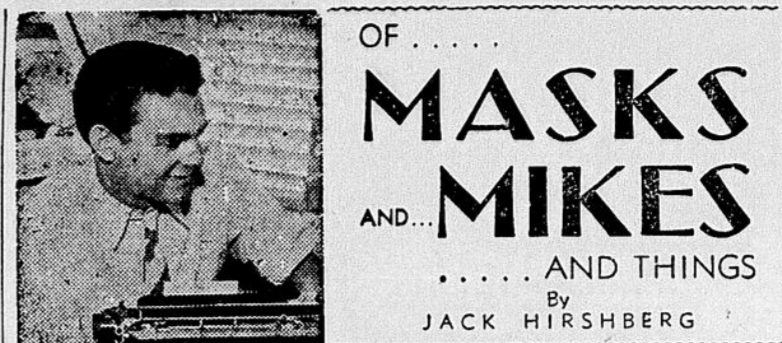

How he does it is a mystery, but the way he does it is a pleasure to Don Ameche's millions of radio and screen fans. Master of ceremonies of the nation's most popular air show, broadcast every Sunday night, Don at the same time is appearing in starring roles in a succession of screen hits.

No sooner had he completed his role opposite the radiant Sonja Henie in "Happy Landing" than Don was co-starred with Simone Simon and Robert Young in the gay and provocative comedy, "Josette," now playing at the Snowdon United Theatre. Bert Lahr and Joan Davis head the featured cast.

The film is Joan Davis' first since she was voted No. 1 comedienne in a New York daily's nationwide fan poll.

"Josette" is a frothy story of two young stalwarts who try to prevent their father from falling for a showgirl, only to fall for her themselves. The appearance of two Josettes, however, serves to make the story the maddest escapade in the history of love.

Greta Garbo will soon star in M-G-M's "Madame Curie."

MERRY-GO-ROUND

Despite contradictory rumours which have kept leading booking agents on the hop all summer, Lloyd Huntley's orchestra will stick at the Normandie Roof throughout the winter months, according to a late report exclusive to this corner. Bob Harrington's danceable arrangements and the personable antics of Don Turner have helped win for Huntley's crew a wide following across the Dominion. Huntley is currently vacationing at Marshfield, Mass., but returns to the podium Monday evening. Several topnotch Canadian bandleaders, including Mart Kenney and Alan McIver, had been mentioned as possible successors to Huntley at the Peel Street hostelry. McIver, with loads of American and Canadian network experience, would appear to be the ideal man for a smart supper spot anywhere, but his heavy schedule of radio shows keeps him close to the studios most of the time.

PEERCE JOINS "GOLDBERGS"

Jan Pearce, tenor star of Radio City's Music Hall, will sing "Kol Nidre," ancient hymn of the Hebrew atonement services, when he joins "The Goldbergs" through CBS October 2 for one broadcast only. Hockey fans will be able to tune in all but Sunday games locally this winter. Announcers for the series are as yet unnamed, but it would not be hard to improve over past performances. Jan Paderewski, who has faced a radio microphone only once in his life, will end the Magic Key's fourth consecutive year of broadcasting Sunday at 2 with a special performance of works by Haydn, Wagner and Chopin from Lausanne, Switzerland. Though approaching his 78th birthday, the famous pianist will perform for a full hour in his first broadcast to America.

PUPILS OF HILDA GALT DELIGHT HOSPITAL KIDDIES

Presents Excellent Out-Of-Doors Program at Shriners Hospital Saturday

A most delightful program was presented Saturday afternoon to the children at the Shriners Hospital and a large audience of guests. One of the highlights of the afternoon's entertainment was Miss Hilda Galt and her expertly trained troupe of dancers.

The program which was held out-of-doors, included song and tap dance routines, as well as toe and acrobatic numbers. Some of the numbers were: Marilyn Cumming in a clever song and rhythm tap dance; little Sonie Grover who made a big hit with her comic song "I've got a cold in my Nose," followed by a snappy tap dance. As usual, Shirley Elkin danced her way into the hearts of all the audience with her clever tap interpretation of the "Poet and Peasant Overture."

Moir Cumming, who is well-known for her acrobatic work, thrilled the children with her number "Cocktails For One," as well as her exceedingly difficult stair-dance. Shirley Liebman's dainty toe work and the wonderful tap on toe on a drum by Irene Ratcliffe, were a few of the numbers on the diversified and well-prepared programme. The dance numbers were accompanied by

EDUCATION — the right kind of education — represents the most valuable capital on which young people can draw in their adult years. Recognizing this fact, we limit our enrollment and use the INDIVIDUAL system of instruction, which enables our teachers, through a friendly and intimate contact with pupils, to discover their individual requirements and characteristics, and thus fit each pupil into the position best suited to his or her capacity. The exceptional success of our graduates during the past 30 years is thus explained.

This year's class won the Great Gold Seal Proficiency Certificate, in a competition which brought together 30,000 shorthand writers from every quarter of the globe. Ask to see it. Early enrollment recommended. Only a limited number accepted.

ANNUAL CITY SPORTS DAY SCHEDULED FOR OCT. 1

WESTMOUNT JUNIOR FOOTBALL CLUB ROUNDING INTO SHAPE; AIMS AT PROVINCIAL CROWN

Under Coach Andy McGillis, Squad Has Been Practicing For Past Two Weeks—Sixty Candidates Have Sought Position on Team—Coach Confident of Team's Success

The Westmount Junior Football Club of the C. R. U. under Coach Andy McGillis, after two weeks of constant and strenuous practice drills at the Westmount Athletic Grounds is fast rounding into shape. In what, from all appearances will develop into a highly formidable squad and a serious threat for the Junior Provincial crown.

With sixty candidates from all corners of the local football universe, out seeking a berth on the team, Coach McGillis is finding it difficult in pruning down to a working proportion.

With the school rules of 10 yard interference, and forward pass anywhere behind the line of scrimmage, being introduced into league competition, wide open play will be the keynote of the Westmount team and the spectators will be treated to exciting and daring football, of the type that acts like a magnet in packing the American stadium every Saturday afternoon, during the pigskin season. Another feature of the game will be that the spectator will have a much better view of the ball and be able to see what is going on during the sixty minutes of play.

Among some of the most promising players signed are: Craig Campbell and Johnny Thornburg, brilliant linesmen and mainstay of last year's team; Vincent Murphy and Frank Mullins, starry backfield men, hailing from the Point; Gerry Burns, fleet back prospect from D'Arcy McGee; Art Burton, a highly effective wing, formerly of St. Lambert's Juniors, and Don Randall another brilliant running half and Eric Fleet, snap, both Ex-Westmount High boys.

There are a few of the players who are showing plenty of enthusiasm and spirit in their daily workouts and Andy McGillis when asked of his team's chances replied, "My gang are shaping up fine and the spirit of the team is marvelous, considering the short time they have been together. I am not predicting a championship on paper, but any team that expects to beat

CRICKET CHIRPS

Harry M. Williams

This is a hail and farewell to cricket and summer. Summing it all up, it has been a most disappointing and unsatisfying cricket season.

We cannot look back and see one bright spot unless it has been the renewal of summer contacts and friendships.

Cricket itself has been made up of unsatisfactory, unfinished games, mediocre umpiring, arbitrary rulings and not a few heart-burnings.

Not one constructive thing has been done to ensure the future of cricket. The juveniles upon whom the game relies have never been so neglected. Cricket as a whole has never been so sloppily conducted. Late starts and utter disregard for the supporters of the game seem to stand out uppermost along with a schedule that was poorly arranged, began too late and ran too far into precarious weather.

One of the great farces was the Davidson cup finals. To begin with, a neutral ground was not chosen. Appeals to the umpire about light were not over-ruled. A substitute fielder practically robbed one team of its chances of retaining the cup.

Under the rule that only players with certain qualifications may participate — and the rule is justifiable — one player had to fly from Vancouver for 14 minutes of play, so we are given to understand, to participate in the third bite at the apple. One would almost imagine this was a Hollywood personal appearance.

If that and the whole conformation of the four game final was not playing under disabilities, please show us.

On the top of this an ardent cricket devotee and dispenser of cricket largesse, his wife and dog (on lead) were refused entrance to the sacred precincts of the cup final grounds.

Let it be thought that we are churlish and lapsed in our view point our heartiest congratulations to Westmount on their magnificent showing for the season.

Might we suggest that if cricket is to survive it must take stock between now and the opening of next season.

More attention must be paid to the young stock farm. A lot of the dead wood must be cleared out principally in the executive end of the game.

Self appointed arbiters and dictators must not only be discouraged but totally eliminated.

Might we at this point suggest a pleasant winter pastime — a school for umpires with an examination for physical, mental and practical knowledge of the game fitness before they again don the white coats?

We hate to wind up the season with such melancholy dirge but to one who loves the game, it's traditions, valued associations and friendships 1938 has been a keen disappointment.

PRAY AGAINST BUGS

Mass prayer meetings to ask divine help in fighting a mealy bug plague are being held throughout Natal.

REALLY MAKING IT A PUTTING GAME

Joe Franco, Northwestern University student and nephew of the Spanish insurgent general, blasts his way out of a sand trap in a marathon to end all golfing marathons at Techny Fields, Chicago. That motor scooter parked close by was the medium by which Franco was able to play 301 holes in one day. His lowest score for the par 72 course for the first 15 rounds was 69, and the highest 76. Franco was runner-up in the Chicago public links championship this spring and participated in the Western Open.

Play To Health Through EXERCISE

BY HUGH A. NOBLE

It is an established fact that our bodies are only a direct result of our mode of living and what we make them. Our muscles and our organs are a reflection of man's previous hygienic habits. The function of our various organs, the strength of our muscular tissues and nerve fibers, are a result of our diet, our personal habits, and our exercise.

Because of this modern 'mechanical age' of living the lack of organic vigor is outstanding. This is particularly true in the city, where a noticeable trend in physical degeneration is primarily due to sedentary employments, which limits necessary muscular exercise. The man who sits at an office all day, is deprived of those opportunities which tend toward better health and longevity of life.

There are various forms in which this sedentary life is made evident; a few of them being — protruding abdomen, flat chest, poor posture, lack of endurance — as indicated by shortness of breath — even indigestion, headaches, and constipation, (a general organic inefficiency.) It seems that the evolutionary processes of man have placed him in the category of the 'out of doors'. In order to overcome this physical deterioration then man should adjust himself to just that state. However, the 'out of doors' is not practical or accessible to all; therefore, the gymnasium, with its various programs, would be admirably utilized.

The regularity of systematic exercise and training has done and will do much to overcome the 'confinement' in which man is finding himself today.

Often the average business-man thinks that after a hard day's mental work he is much too tired to commit himself to any physical exertion. But this is definitely untrue; it is a universal slogan — that a change is as good as a rest — and how much better the rest when this change is of a recreational nature.

One should enthusiastically exercise with vigor and regularity. Not too strenuously in the morning or in the evening, as sleep is more restful during normal circulation. The best time to exercise is from four p.m. to six p.m. It also should be kept in mind there is no one exercise which will insure health, and often abnormalities result from too much specialization. Variation together with recreation will usually accomplish the desired physiological results.

Don't associate exercise as work, and most of all don't worry, but be completely relaxed and enjoy your exercise as you take it. If one does not have the opportunity to exercise daily it is better to divide the time on alternative days; being sure to keep up to the minimum numbers of hours, which is about four. More frequent exercise will make for better development and a healthier body.

A few things to keep in mind when exercising; one should begin with a very light warm-up, working up to more vigorous exercise, then finishing quietly. Should corrective exercises be needed, practice them first before becoming tired. Heavy exercise will slow up coordination but tend for greater strength, while lighter exercises will make for proper proportions between the corrective and the re-creative forms. The strength, endurance, skill and coordination of the muscle is best accomplished by the 'happy medium' between small amounts of strenuous effort and large amounts of lighter exercise.

For the best results from exercise one should keep in mind, 'systematic regularity'. Because without these two half of our efforts are futile.

Bill Tobin, president of the Hawks, said the deal was the first of several contemplated to strengthen the champions for the defense of their title this winter.
