SYNOPISIS OF CHAPTERS PRINTED.

In the first instalment of his thrilling story, "The Conquest of the Pole," printed in The Star of Wednesday, September 15, Dr. Frederick A. Cook told of the start from Gloucester on the Bradley; of the voyage to the polar seas and of the overhauling en route of the equipment needed for the dash to the pole.

In a graphic manner the discoverer wrote a story of Eskimo life that never has been excelled for human interest. He told of the home life, the tragedy and comedy that mingle in the dreary existence of the dwellers in the Arctic, and of the childlike eagerness of the natives to trade their valuable furs and ivories for the simplest things of civilization.

The yacht, her owner, Mr. John R. Bradley, the explorer, and his party were pictured in their preliminary work for the final dash.

Finally, after describing the various places visited in Greenland in search of guides and information as to conditions further north, Dr. Cook wrote of the trip across Inglefield Gulf, past Cape Auckland and on toward Cape Robertson.

Here the discoverer closed the first part of his narrative, with Etah and Annotook, the last points of call, looming in the icy distance.

In the second instalment Dr. Cook described the voyage to Etah and then on to Annotook, the place of plenty, which he selected as the base for his dash to the Pole.

In the third chapter the explorer described the work of preparing his winter quarters, closing with a graphic description of a narwhal hunt.

In the fourth instalment, Dr. Cook told of the approach of the long Arctic night which caused his party at Annotook to become very active in preparing for the dash to the Pole

FIFTH INSTALMENT.

Early in January of 1908 the campaign opened. A few sleds were sent to the American shores to explore a route and to advance supplies.

Clouds and storms made the moonlight days dark, and, therefore, these advanced expeditions were only partly successful.

On February 19, 1908, the main expedition started for the Pole.

Eleven men, driving one hundred and three dogs and moving eleven heavily loaded sleds, left the Greenland shore and pushed westward, over the troublesome ice of Smith Sound, to Cape Sabine.

The gloom of the long winter night was but little relieved by a few hours of daylight and the temperature was very low.

EIGHTY-THREE DEGREES BELOW.

Passing through a valley between Ellesmere Land and Grinnell Land, from the head of Flagler Bay, in crossing to the Pacific slopes the temperature fell to 83 degrees below zero Fahrenheit.

In Bay Fjord many musk oxen were secured, and though the winter frost was at its lowest, there was little wind, and, with an abundance of fresh meat and also fat for fuel, the life in the snow house proved fairly comfortable.

The ice in Eureka and Nansen Sounds proved fairly smooth and long marches were made, with an abundance of game, musk ox, bear and hares. We found it quite unnecessary to use the supplies taken from Greenland. Caches of provisions and ammunition were left along Heiberg Island for the return.

WILLING SAVAGE HANDS.

Thus we managed to keep in game trails and in excellent fighting trim to the end of known lands. Camping in the chill of the frowning cliffs of the northernmost coast (Svfitevog), we looked out over the heavy ice of the polar seas through eyes which had been hardened to the worst polar environments.

There was at hand an abundance of supplies with willing hands and a superabundance of brute force in overfed pelts, but for a greater certainty of action over the unknown regions beyond, I resolved to reduce the force to the smallest numbers consistent with the execution of the problem in hand.

We had travelled nearly four hundred miles in twenty-eight days. There remained a line of five hundred and twenty miles of unknowable trouble to be overcome before our goal could be reached. For this final task we were provided with every conceivable device to ease this hard lot, but in addition to a reduced party, I now definitely resolved to simplify the entire equipment. At Svfitevog a big cache was made. In this cache fresh meat, tondu, pemmican and much other food, together with all discarded articles of equipment, were left.

In the northward advance, every factor of the dog train had been carefully watched and studied to provide a perfect working force for the final reach over the Polar Sea. Etukishuk and Ahwelh, two young Eskimos, each twenty years old, had been chosen as best fitted to be my sole companions. Twenty-six dogs were picked and upon two sleds were loaded all our needs for a stay of eighty days.

All For Progress.

To have increased this party would not have enabled us to carry supplies for a greater number of days. The sleds might have been loaded more heavily but this would reduce the important progress of the first days.

With the character of ice which we had before us, advance stations were impossible. A large expedition and a heavy equipment seemed imprudent. We must win or lose in a prolonged effort at high pressure and, therefore, absolute control and ease of adaptability to a changing environment must be assured.

It is impossible to adequately coontrol the complex human temperament of unknown men in the polar wilderness, but the two Eskimo boys could be trusted to follow to the limit of my own endeavors, and our sleds were burdened only with absolute necessities.

Because of the importance of a light and efficient equipment much care was taken to eliminate every ounce of weight. The sleds were made of hickory, the lightest wood consistent with great endurance, but every needless fibre was gouged out. The iron shoes were ground thin, and in every way the weight of nearly everything was reduced, even after leaving headquarters.

The little train, therefore, which followed me into the further mystery was composed of two sleds, each carrying six hundred pounds, drawn by thirteen dogs, all under the lash of an expert driver. The combined freight was as follows: Pemmican, 805 pounds; musk ox tenderloin, 50 pounds; tondu, 25 pounds; 2 pounds tea, coffee, 2 pounds; sugar, 25 pounds; condensed milk, 40 pounds; milk biscuits, 60 pounds; pea soup, powdered and compressed, 10 pounds; surprizes, 5 pounds; pelecom, 40 pounds; wood alcohol, 3 pounds; candles, 3 pounds; matches, 1 pound.

The Camp Equipment.

The camp equipment included the following articles: 1 blow fire lamp (Jeuel); 3 aluminum pails, 3 aluminum cups, 3 aluminum teaspoons, 1 tablespoon, 3 tin plates, 6 pocket knives, 2 butcher knives (10 inches), 1 saw knife (13 inches), 1 long knife (15 inches), 1 rifle (Sharps), 1 rifle (Winchester, 22), 110 cartridges, 1 hatchet, 1 alpine axe, extra tin and lashings, 2 personal bags.

The sled equipment was 2 sleds, weighing 52 pounds each, 1 12-foot folding canvas boat, 34 pounds, 1 silk tent, 2 canvas sled covers, 2 sleeping bags (reindeer skin), floor furs, extra wood for sled repairs, screws, nails and rivets.

The instruments were as follows: 3 compasses, 1 sextant, 1 artificial horizon glass, 1 pedometer, 3 pocket chronometers, 1 watch, charts, map-making material and instruments, 3 thermometers, 1 aneroid barometer, 1 camera and films, note books and pencils.

The personal bags contained four extra pairs of kamiks, with fur stockings, a woollen skirt, three pairs of sealskin mittens, two pairs of fur mittens, a piece of blanket, a sealskin coat (Netsha), a repair kit for mending clothing and dog harness, extra fox tails.

At the time on the march, we wear snow goggles, blue fox coats (kapitips), birdskin shirts, woollen drawers, bearskin pants, kamiks and have skin stockings. We fastened a band of fox tails under the knee and about the waist.

Helping the Advance.

On the morning of March 18, preparations were made to divide the party. The advance must be helped over the rough ice of the packedge, and for this purpose Kooloötingwah and Inugto were selected. The other six Eskimos prepared to return. One sled was left with the cache to insure a good vehicle for our return in case the two sleds were badly broken en route.

A half gale was blowing into Nansen Sound from the northwest, but this did not interfere with the starting of those home-going Eskimos. With abundant game for the return, they required little but ammunition to supply their wants.

When the word was given to start the dogs were gathered and the sleds were spanned with a jump. Soon they disappeared in the rush of driving snow. The crack of the whips and the rebound of the cheering voices was the last which we heard of the faithful savage supporters. They had followed, not for pay, but for a real desire to be helpful, from the dark days of the ending night to the bright nights of the coming double days, and their parting enforced a pang of loneliness.

With a snow-charged blast in our faces it was quite impossible for us to start, so we withdrew to the snow igloo, entered our bags and slept for a few hours longer.

At noon the horizon cleared, the wind veered to the southwest and came within endurable force. The dogs had been doubly fed the night before; they were not to feed again for two days. The twelve hundred pounds of freight were packed on our sleds, and quickly we slipped around deep grooves in the great poliocrystic floes.

The snow had been swept from the ice by the force of the preceding storm, and the speed attained by the dogs through even rough ice was such that it was difficult to keep far enough ahead to get a good course.

The crevasses and pressure lines gave a little trouble at first, but the hard irregularity of the bared ice offered a dangerous surface for the life of our sleds. Passing through blue gorges among miniature mountains of sea ice, on a course slightly west of north, we soon sank the bold headland which raises at the northern point of Hiebergis Island.

Camp is Pitched.

After a run of twenty-six miles, we pitched camp on a floeberg of unusual height. There were many big hummocks about, to the lee of which were great banks of hardened snow. Away from land it is always more difficult to find snow suitable for cutting building blocks, but here was an abundance conveniently placed. In the course of an hour a comfortable palace of crystal was erected and into it we crept out of the piercing wind. The first day's march over the circumpolar sea was closed with a good record.

The dogs curled up and went to sleep without a call, as if they knew there would be no food until the morrow. My wild companions covered their faces with their convenient long hair, and sank quietly into a comfortable slumber, but for me, sleep was quite impossible. Letters must be written. The whole problem of our campaign must be again carefully studied and final plans must be made, not only to reach our ultimate destination, but for the returning of the party and for the security of the things at Annotook.

It was difficult at this time to even guess at the probable line of our return to land. Much depended upon conditions found in the northward route. Though we had left caches of supplies, with the object of returning along Nansen Sound into Cannon Fjord and over Arthur Land, I entertained grave doubts of our ability to return this way. If the ice drifted strongly to the east we might not be given the choice of working out our own return. In this event, we would be carried, perhaps helplessly, to Greenland, and must seek a return either along the east coast or the west coast.

This drift did not offer a dangerous hardship, for the musk oxen would keep us alive to the west, and to the east it seemed possible to reach Shannon Island, where the Baldwin-Ziegler expedition had abandoned a large cache of supplies. It appeared not improbable also that a large land extension might offer a safe return much farther west.

Francke's Instructions.

Because of this uncertainty, Francke was instructed to wait until June 5, 1908, and if we did not return, he was told to place Kooloötingwah in charge and go home, either by whalers or by Danish ships to the south. No relief which he could offer would help us, and to wait for an indefinite time alone would have inflicted a needless hardship. This and many other instructions were prepared for Kooloötingwah and Inugito to take back.

In the morning, the frost in crystals had been swept from the ice, but there remained a humid chill which pierced to the bones. The temperature was minus 56 Fahrenheit. A light air came from the west and the sun burned in a freezing blue.

After a few hours' march the ice changed in character. The extensive thick fields gave place to moderate sized floes. The floes were separated by zones of troublesome crushed ice, thrown in high pressure lines, which offered serious barriers, but with the ice axe and Eskimo ingenuity we managed to make fair progress.

The second run on the Polar Sea was with twenty-one miles to our credit. I had expected to send the supporting party back from here, but progress had not been as good as expected. We could hardly spare the food to feed their dogs, so they volunteered to push along another day without dog food.

On the next day, with increasing difficulties in some troublesome ice, we camped, after making only sixteen miles. Here a small snow house was built, and from here, after disposing of a pot of steaming musk-ox loins and broth, followed by a double brew of tea, our last helpers returned. With empty sleds and hungry dogs they hoped to reach land in one long day's travel. But this made the fourth day without food for their dogs, and in case of storm or moving ice, other days of famine might easily fall in their lot. They had, however, an abundance of dogs and might sacrifice a few for the benefit of the others as we must often do.

Cook's Answers Unsatisfactory.

Special to The Montreal Star.

New York, September 23. — Harold Jacobs, professor of astronomy at Columbia University, pronounces Dr. Cook's answers to the journalists' questions as unsatisfactory. He finds that Cook's answers, especially his refusal to supply details of a single observation at the Pole, make impossible at present a decision upon the question whether he did or did not reach the Pole. He says "Cook's outfit of instruments was sufficient except with regard to an artificial horizon. This is a thin plate of glass easily broken. Without it, the explorer could not properly determine his latitude. It is difficult to understand that an expedition should start without a duplicate glass plate. They weigh but little.

The name of the maker is plainly engraved on every sextant. It is almost incredible that the navigator should not remember who made his one instrument of prime importance. Cook should have mentioned that he used a delicate spirit level to level his artificial horizon. He should have had a duplicate spirit level in his outfit."

BEDWELL STILL FIGHTS TURNEY AT SELLING RACES

Seismic Won the Durham Cup Race at Woodbine.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., September 23.—With threatening weather the attendance at the track yesterday afternoon fell off considerably. The fields were all of a fair size, withdrawals being fewer than on any day at the meeting. The feature of the card of seven races was the running of the Durham cup for Canada bred horses, which was won by J. E. Seagram's plate winner, Seismic. His stable companion, Mendip, being third, with Cannie Maid second. She set the pace for the Seagram pair all the way, but could not stand off the winner when he was set down. The bidding up war between A. Turney and H. G. Bedwell was resumed here when Bedwell bid Martin Doyle eighteen hundred over entered price of twelve hundred. The extra five was bid and the horse retained. This is the second time that Bedwell had bid up the Turney horse in a week. The other events were well filled and the racing was the keenest throughout.

Davenport arrived from New York to-day and will ride the Turney horse for the rest of the meeting.

Shimonese, the star of the Hendrie string, has broken down, and will be raced no more. She will be bred to David Garrick.

Summary:

First race, Grafton Purse, selling, 3-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Woodlane, won; C. W. Burt, second; Cooney K., third. 1.13 3-5.

Second race, Huron purse, selling, 3-year-olds, six furlongs—Pulka, won; Banives, second; Fearnought II., third. 1.14.

Third race, Doncaster purse, 3-year-olds and up, one mile—Fort Johnson, won; Lawrence P. Daley, second; Pinkola, third. 1.42 4-5.

THOUGH SOME WISH STRONG M.S.C. POLO TEAM WOULD BREAK UP IT WILL NOT

The M.S.C. water polo team had their first work out of the season, last night, at the Laurentian Baths, and they show every indication of being able to hold the "Goulden Cup" for another season, as the team will suffer very little, if any, from changes. Although it has been stated in some quarters that Capt. Moore and Bert Smyth intended to withdraw from the game, they stated to the Star that they intended to be very much alive this season and they said that the report had no foundation. Billie Gathercole was also in line and showed as much dash and go as at any time last season.

Longboat at the Fairs.

Toronto, September 23.—Tom Longboat, and his manager, Sol Mintz, of Hamilton, are taking in the fall fairs, giving exhibition runs and reaping a rich harvest. The Indian has cut out his loafing and drinking and has got down to business with the result that Mintz says he will be in his old time form when the running season opens again this fall. The professional racing game opens up again here on October 2 at Scarboro Beach when Tom Flanagan will bring Al. Herzberg's new wonder, Mueller, of New York, over for an open twelve-mile race. Percy C. Sellen, Fred. Meadows, and Frank Nebrick, of Buffalo, are all sure starters against Mueller, and Flanagan says that Shrubb, Longboat, or any one else that likes can come in.

MONTREAL RUGBY CLUB IS BRACING UP FOR OCT. 2

The Montreal Rugby Candidates had a rattling practice this morning and will have practices each day for the rest of the week in preparation for the game with Ottawa in Ottawa on October 2nd. Early this morning the squad took the field for a line-up workout, the second of the week, and some twenty-five players slept at the club house over night. Last night President Hagar decided to call a signal practice at the Peel street gym. for to-morrow (Friday) night, at 8 o'clock, and a line out practice at the grounds for Saturday afternoon. With only ten days intervening before the first match of the season the players will need all the work they can get.

The formation of a new minor Rugby league is proposed, all teams interested being invited to communicate with Geo. Shapiro, care of Debenhams, 18 St. Helen street, who will arrange with applicants where to send delegates. St Stephen's and St. Lambert's clubs are included in the invitation.

QUEENS EXPECTS TO BE VERY STRONG THIS YEAR.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Kingston, Ont., September 23.—Queen's University football teams this year will be fully as strong as last season. Several veterans have been lost to the senior team, but there has never been a time when Queen's was disabled. Edwain Elliott, last season's crack outside wing, says he won't play again, but it is not believed he can keep out of the game.

E. O. Sliter, of the Collegiate Institute, a veteran Rugby player, will coach Queen's this season.

The Royal Military College will have two good teams for the intermediate and junior series, and the men have been at practice for over a week.

A $2,200 HORSE KILLED AT THE CHATHAM TRACK.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Chatham, Ont., September 23.— A big smash up occurred at the Chatham driving park race course yesterday afternoon, resulting in the death of Sidney R., a horse for which the owner, George McGarvin, refused $2,200 last week. In the third heat of the 2.30 pace, a dog ran across the track in front of the horse, causing the animal to fall. The driver, George McGarvin, jr., was thrown skyward, but landed on his feet. The horse following Sidney R., fell over the fallen horse breaking a leg, which necessitated his being killed. The accident jumbled up all the pacers in the race, but the dog, which caused it escaped injury.

Black Led in Batting.

J. Black, of Point St. Charles, made the best batting average in B division of the Montreal and District Cricket League this year. Black had an average of 22 runs for the eight innings he played, and carries off the bat presented by Mr. D. A. Ansell. The batting statistics for B division were compiled by the secretary of the league, Mr. W. E. Hansford.

JIMMY M'ILWAINE ILL AT HOME AND MAY HAVE TYPHOID FEVER--ROUGH MATCH EXPECTED ON THE SHAMROCK GROUNDS

Montrealers Will Turn Out in Large Numbers to Watch the Shamrocks Work Saturday---Changes on Shamrock Team---Referees Accepted

Messrs. McIntyre and Foran, of Ottawa, have kindly consented to act as referees for Saturday's match on the Shamrock Grounds, which will need firm hands to control, for it will be a match for blood.

Advices from Toronto say that the Tecumsehs will bring their strongest possible team, and really have an idea that they will win.

Charlie Querrie is apparently afraid of rough work, but he has great faith in McIntyre as a quencher of turbulence.

When it comes to matches like these, the best of friendship ceases and men and teams watch one another like a cat watches a mouse.

Every official will be carefully scrutinized, and the timekeepers will be particularly watched

Montreal will be present in large numbers to get a line on the Shamrocks in case they do win, and if the weather is good one of the largest crowds of the season ought to be on the Shamrock grounds.

That the Shamrocks are in hard luck is evident from the fact that Jimmy McIlwaine is ill at home, and it is feared that his illness is typhoid fever.

Ald. O'Connell, Tim Slattery and other officials of the Shamrocks watched the players at work yesterday.

The interest being taken in Saturday's struggle can be judged from the fact that there were between 400 and 500 followers of the Shamrocks in the stand watching the practice.

Jack Tucker is of the opinion that individually the Shamrocks are as good as any team in the league, but that they need to be placed differently to what they have been. He thinks they can be moulded into a combination strong enough to beat both Tecumseh and Montreal.

There will be a double-header, as the Nationals, of Ottawa, will be here to play the Young Shamrocks for the Intermediate League honors.

So far there has been more reserved seats sold in advance than for any game the Shamrocks have played this season, and it is said most of them have been bought by followers of the Montreal team.

Saturday's game is of more vital importance to the Shamrocks than that of last Saturday, but the executive is very close about changes on the team. However, the men who will likely be laid off are Johnny Brennan and Hyland, both of whom appear to have gone stale, that Eddie Robertson and Secours will probably replace them. Jimmy Hogan, who was pretty well battered last Saturday, is spending the week resting at Ald. O'Connell's summer home in Ste. Rose, but will be in the game Saturday.

Jack Laviolette is blossoming out as a full fledged boxing impresario, and has issued the following defi on behalf of one of his proteges:

Ted Marsh, hearing Kid Black is styleing himself featherweight champion of Montreal, Marsh is willing to box Black 10 to 25 rounds for $200 aside. If Black has no backers Marsh will box him at any club offering the best purse, winner to take all. Jack hopes that Black will answer this challenge as soon as possible, and appends his address as follows: Jack Laviolette, Jack's Cafe, 2709 Notre Dame street.

MONTREAL TAKE NOTICE.

Nick Bawlf is going to Ottawa the 27th of this month, and will remain there permanently, having taken a position in the Government. It is therefore safe to assume the famous Nicholas will be seen in the colors of the Ottawa Football Club after all, despite the reports of his indisposition which came from Quebec. Full back is Bawlf's natural position and it is there the Ottawas will work him out if he plays. And with a strong line in front of him there are none who can touch Nick in the kicking and running department of the game. The news of his advent is good news, and although he may not be in shape for the first game he will be in prime condition for the battle with Hamilton Tigers on October 9th.

OPENING OF DELORIMIER PARK'S AUTUMN RUNNING RACES YESTERDAY.

Favorites were in hard luck at the second running meeting at Delorimier Park opened yesterday. There were six races which provided some good contests. The Delorimier Handicap at six furlongs, the feature, had seven starters, and was won by the second choice, Warner Griswold, Grace Kimball, an outsider, was second, and the favorite, Sir Walter Rollins, third.

The time all through was on the fast side yesterday. Lafayette won the second race at a mile, in 1.43, a good performance for a half-mile track.

About 900 spectators were present for the opening. Six books were doing business in the ring.

First Race—Four and one-half furlong; all ages; purse, $200.—1, Perry McAdow, 122 (Garwood); 2, Maud Sigsbee, 121 (Nelson); 3, Bal Star, 97 (Dryer). Time, 58. Also ran, Hurlock, Tommy Wood, T. F. Henry, Alta McDonald, Betsy Binford, Miss Ceaserion.

Second race—One mile; four-year-olds and up; purse $200—1, Lafayette, 109 (Griffin); 2, San Primo, 109 (Dryer); 3, Don Hamilton, 109 (Crowley). Also ran Sabado.

Third race—Delorimier Handicap; 6 furlongs; three-year-olds and up; purse $200.—1, Warner Griswell, 120 (Crowley); 2, Grace Kimball, 111 (Haynes); 3, Sir Walter Rollins, 110 (Griffin). Also ran, Grenesque, Minni Bright, Great Uncle Jim.

Fourth race, six furlongs, three-year-olds and up; purse, $200—1, Bitter Hand, 109 (S. Flyn); 2, Pio Pico, 117 (Daly); 3, The Thorn, 109 (Robinson); also ran, Pleasing, Autumn Maid, Floss S., Haymarket, Lillian Leigh.

Fifth race, six furlongs, two-year-olds, purse $200—1, Two Drop, 110 (Simmons); 2, Cassie Aregregor, 105 (Griffin); 3, Kith and Kin, 106 (Wilson); also ran, Billy Mahue.

Sixth race, five furlongs, three-year-olds and up, purse $200 — 1, John Marre, 111 (Crowley); 2, Toddy Hodge, 114 (Haynes); 3, Almena, 106 (Flynn); also ran, Donation, Laura A., Pinion, Miss Felix.

Notes.

Three undesirables were picked out of the crowd and handed over to the police to be escorted to the gate.

Judge Boden called the two jockeys, Nelon, on Uncle Jim, and Simmon, on Two Drops, two heavy played horses, over to him when going to the post, and told them he would keep his eye on them and for them to try and win.

Starter Milton exercised great patience yesterday with horses and jockeys at the post and his reward was every race was a first-class start.

Well Known Boxer Hurt.

Among the fatally injured as a result of the gun play at the New York election primaries on Tuesday is Fred. Lucas. He is in the worst condition of any of the injured and no hope is held out for his recovery.

Many of the sporting public in Montreal, and especially the boxing fans, will remember Lucas as the New York welterweight boxer, who came on here about 18 months ago to box Willie Lewis, the prospective champion welterweight. In the first round of the contest Lucas showed up well and carried the fighting to Lewis, but in the second round Lewis cross cut him with a terrific right to the jaw, and Lucas fell on his head on the floor, and was unconscious for a considerable time. When he came to he could not get over the fact that he had been beaten in such a short time, and so decisively, and the boxer cried like a child, his chief fear being what his friends in New York would think of him after the easy victory of Lewis.

British Ladies Tied.

The five golf players from Great Britain, who are starting a tour through Canada and the United States played over the Pointe Claire links yesterday afternoon against five members of the Beaconsfield Club. Three of the games finished even up, the visitors won one and Beaconsfield the other. The games that finished all square were those between Miss Campbel and Mr. W. S. Clouston, Miss Stirling and Mr. H. Boner, Miss Temple and Mr. D. W. Oliver. Miss Teacher won her game with Mr. A. Glasco; and Mrs. Gray lost to Mr. G. H. Napier.

Parson Bowlers Won Final.

The rink skipped by Mr. D. Wilson succumbed to that skipped by Mr. H. B. Parsons, in the final game of the rink tournament, in the Back to Montreal programme, by one shot. The winning shot was only a fraction of an inch ahead of his opponent's, but sufficient to carry the victory. The rinks were:

1. M. Armstrong	F. C. A. McIndoe
2. C. A. Lockerby	H. A. Ayer
3. J. A. Bucknell	W. W. O'Hara
4. H. B. Parsons	D. Wilson

HIGH SCHOOL GAMES WELL CONTESTED AND WELL ATTENDED

G. Draper Won the Rector's Trophy for General Efficiency.

Hundreds of mothers, sisters and brothers of the participants, the sisters waving flags, crowded the grand stand on the M. A. A. A. grounds yesterday afternoon to watch the High School athletic games.

Some of the races were very exciting, even though the participants were sometimes so small that they could not get running shirts small enough for them, and had to hold up the bottoms like ladies hold up their skirts in muddy weather, so they would not trip over them.

The High School record for the mile race was broken by G. Draper, who also won the rector's trophy with a total of 25 points. His time for the mile yesterday was 5.32 4-5. The previous record had been that of J. Aird, whose time last year was 5 min., 44 1-5 secs. Aird's record was thus beaten by 11 2-5 seconds.

The winner of the mile had previously won putting the 12-pound shot with a distance of 30 feet 9 1-2 inches, and also the 880 yards, open to school. In the contest for the rector's trophy for the largest total of points, R. L. Gale was second to Draper with a score of 23, and was at one time in the afternoon ahead of Draper, the scores being 23 and 20 respectively. The winning of the mile, however, added five points to Draper's total, making him 25 to Gale's 23. Gale's successes were the 220 yards, the 440 yards, and the 120 yards hurdles.

Following are the results:—

Hop, step and jump, open to school —D. Craig, G. Draper, H. Urquhart; 37 ft. 6 in.

75 yards, under 11 years—T. Lyall, R. Kennedy, D. Lyall; 10 3-5 secs.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies and by consantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and, therefore, requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

A REAL PEACE MEET HELD AT TORONTO YESTERDAY

Lukeman Again Beaten in the Hundred, This Time by Sebert.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., September 23.—The Ontario athletic championships, held under the auspices of the Irish-Canadian A. C., at Scarboro Beach last night, the first local meet to show the effects of the Athletic Peace, proved a great success. Bobby Kerr and Budd were not present, but some of the picked athletes of the Federation and the A. A. U. were there. The games were witnessed by the largest crowd which has attended an amateur athletic meet this year.

The races in which the New York athletes figured excited considerable interest, although the results were foregone conclusions. Wilson, of Olympic fame, won the mile open, but Chuck Skene made him go the limit right to the tape. Lunghi had less trouble in the half-mile, as he led all the way. Lister, of the Central Y. M. C. A., Toronto, beat out Henri Hebert, of Montreal, for second place.

The surprise of the meet was the defeat of Lukeman, of Montreal, by Lou Siebert in the 100 yards. The race proved a thriller. Lukeman got the lead at the start, but the West Ender came up and caught him. The finish looked like a dead heat to the spectators, but the judges said Siebert breasted the tape first by inches. His opponent fell at the finish. Lukeman got the 220 easily from Bob Elliott, of the Irish-Canadians, and went two inches further than Dr. Bricker, an Olympic representative in the broad jump, though neither did his best. Siebert did not meet Lukeman in the 220 as he saved himself for the quarter mile, in which he completely outclassed the field.

100 yards, open, first heat—Lou Sebert; J. H. Emerson, Montreal A.A.A.; F. McGillicuddy, I.C.A.C.; 11 seconds.

Second heat—F. Lukeman, Montreal A.A.A.; R. Elliott; S. Hilhard, I.C.A.C.; 10 3-5 seconds.

Final—Lou Sebert, West End Y.M.C.A.; F. Lukeman, Montreal; R. Elliott, I.C.A.C.; 10 seconds.

220 yards, final—F. L. Lukeman, Montreal; Bob Elliott, I.C.A.C.; F. McGillicuddy; 23 seconds.

Mile, open—Harold Wilson, Irish-American, New York; Chuck Skene,

FOURTEEN POUNDS IN TWO MONTHS

Remarkable Gain Made by Terra Nova, Cape Breton, Woman

"Father Morriscy's No. 10" (Lung Tonic) has wrought some wonderful cures. Here is a typical case, as described by the patient herself:

"During the Fall of 1906 I contracted a severe cold, which settled upon my lungs. After being treated by two physicians of high standing my condition was not any better, but in fact getting worse. My friends began to have serious doubts about my recovery.

I had heard of Father Morriscy's remarkable career as a medical adviser, and wrote to him explaining my case. In a few days I received an encouraging letter from him, and some of his "Lung Tonic," and immediately I began to improve, gaining fourteen pounds in two months.

I strongly recommend his "Lung Tonic" for Colds and any form of Lung Disease."

Yours sincerely,
ANNIE McDONALD.

"THE WINGS OF WAR."

One of the most impressive of the "alarmist" articles which have appeared so freely since the successful invention of the flying machine, is in the Nineteenth Century Review for September. It argues that the transfer of the centre of military gravity from the sea and land to the air, will bring so many changes in its train that international politics will hardly know itself and even such fundamentals as liberty and democracy will be imperilled. A fleet of Zeppelins, for instance, might "render our position in Egypt . . . untenable in five years from now." That is, "if a voyage of two or three thousand miles should be within their reach, and if Germany and Austria should then possess a large fleet of these craft, it would be within the power of those States to transport in less than forty-eight hours what would be literally a 'flying column' of several thousand men, to any point or points in Egypt which they chose to attack."

But this horror is only a "starter." The flying machines will be able to sail about the sea highways at will and hold the merchant marine at their mercy; while the largest super-Dreadnoughts must lie in helpless wrath and watch them fly over their heads to attack the nations they are supposed to attack. On land, they would be almost equally destructive. To-day a feet or an army must be of superior power to the defending forces to be able to besiege and bombard a city; but these aerial enemies can attack an enemy a hundred times their size—like a swarm of mosquitoes—and may select the city to be bombarded in the midst of the country and entirely undefended. Moreover, the huge armies of Europe will become useless; for it will no longer be of any value to bring masses of soldiers into line of battle. The flying death above them would only find this a more convenient arrangement for dealing out their destruction.

Worse still, democracy, the writer tells us, is likely to encounter a very real peril. These flying machines will be the weapons of the few and can only be worked by highly trained fighters. Thus the conditions of the seventeenth century will be revived, when the fighting forces were in the hands of a few despots who could overawe a comparatively unarmed world. In Britain, they have always held that a great navy could never be an enemy to liberty because it could never be brought on shore by any Government, no matter how ill-disposed, to fight against the people. But this aerial navy will cover the land like a shadow; and, in the hands of a despotic executive, could compel the people to submit to its will. As for the British Empire, the writer sees special perils before it. Its command of the sea will become useless; and it will be as much exposed to attack as any of its neighbors. Even New Zealand and Australia will be in far greater peril; for when China becomes acquainted with flying machines, her "five hundred millions of beings will be brought within a few hours' distance of an almost empty Continent."

This is a sufficiently gloomy picture; and, in view of the marvellous rapidity with which the flying machine has been developed of late, he is a bold man who would say that it is impossible. But there are some things to be remembered. One is that it will be a long day—apparently—before the flying machine will be able to carry much in the way of heavy artillery. Now a force without artillery may do a great deal of damage and can carry through a desolating "raid"; but it cannot permanently occupy a country or defeat its defenders. Thus if the troops or Austrians were to make a flying-machine raid into Egypt, they could only fly back again; and they might find this difficult if British gun fire managed to disable any large number of their delicate air vessels. The same thing would be true of an invasion of the British Isles.

As for bombarding defenceless inland towns, that is sheer nonsense. It is to-day against the usage of civilised warfare to bombard any but fortified places and if we imagine that civilised warfare is to disappear in the face of new discovery, there are worse instruments which might possibly be employed for the destruction of the human race discovered every year in the laboratory than the most daring of the aviators has yet given us. In the same way, war upon democracy in countries where it now commands, is unthinkable. The discovery of gunpowder and the putting of arms within the reach of every man, may have given democracy its chance, but it has now taken advantage of that chance and its defence to-day is not a rifle over every fireplace but intelligence in every mind. If democracy found that the flying machine was being used by an oligarchy to rob it of its rights, it would very soon take possession of all flying machines and hang a number of the "oligarchs."

The flying machine will doubtless become an instrument of war; but the nations will all have them, and they will do nothing more than change the style of fighting. Long-range rifles have done that within recent years, and so have nickel-steel fighting ships. Unless the British people have lost their virility and patriotism, they will keep well to the front in the aerial naval competition; and if they have lost these qualities, they must lose their prestige, no matter what conditions may prevail.

MR. BALFOUR AT BIRMINGHAM.

Mr. Balfour has been at Birmingham to repel the late Asquith attack on that Chamberlain stronghold; and, quite naturally, he availed himself of the weapons in the Chamberlain arsenal. His speech seems to have been a determined effort to call the attention of the country back once more to Tariff Reform; and we may be sure that so astute a strategist as Mr. Balfour recognizes this to be the best line of tactics. On the question of the budget, the Radicals seem to have captured the people; but on the question of "work for the workless," the Unionists had the people well in hand before the Lloyd-George diversion was made. The British workingman is probably in favor both of "taxing the Dukes" and opening the factories. Thus it is merely a matter of which question is most pointedly put to him at the general elections how he will vote.

Mr. Balfour's tactics are admirable, and his speech is hailed by the Unionist press as "fighting" and effective. Whether it will be able to withdraw public interest from the novel subject of the land taxes is another question; but the experiment was undoubtedly worth the trying from a party point of view. For it is upon the possible success of precisely this line of strategy that the Unionists must depend if the Lords throw out the finance bill. If the Lords kill or delay the budget, and the Government succeed on going to the country on that naked question, it seems altogether probable that the country will support the Government against the Lords. The Lords will then be the "revolutionists" as well as the spokesmen of that universally unpopular individual, the landlord. But if the Lords can manage to hold up the budget for the avowed purpose chiefly of giving the wage-earners of Britain a chance to vote into force a policy which will bring them more work and better pay, then the tide is likely to flow with them.

One fact augurs well for the Unionists. The war upon the Free Trade section of their party seems to be in temporary abeyance. We are told that arrangements are being made to withdraw opposition to the return of the few Free Trade members of the party who aspire to positions in Parliament. The Spectator has been asking that the whole Tariff Reform issue be left on the shelf until yet another general election can be fought thus permitting all opponents of the budget to unite heartily against it. Mr. Balfour's speech, however, is an answer to this appeal; and an answer in the negative. Still something will be gained if the individual Free Trade Unionists are no longer pursued as they have been for some time now by the party organization. On the other hand, the very circumstance that they are allowed to carry the party banner will create a doubt as to the fixed determination of the party to introduce Tariff Reform if it be successful at the polls. And doubt as to the genuineness of this issue, will make it easier for the champions of the budget issue to press it to the front.

As for the Radicals, they are fervently concentrating attention on the budget. A fabulous number of Lloyd-George's Limehouse speech have been printed and scattered throughout the country; and Mr. Winston Churchill has introduced a new element into the fray by insisting that the new attitude of the State toward wealth is not merely—"How much have you got?" but "How did you get it?" The soberer section of the Ministry are not going so far, however, but there is here what Mr. Stead calls a rare dose of "the real old stingo" for the men who like it. Nor, with the broad suffrage of Britain, is it of much use to hold up one's hands in holy horror. The people who are not oppressed with too much personal wealth, are very apt to delight in just such questions; and the only way to keep them from voting for the men who put them, is to offer them some captivating plan by which they can get more wealth for themselves. Mr. Balfour is undoubtedly on the right road if he can succeed in attracting attention to his procession in spite of the many novelties in the rival parade.

The Passing Hour

Dr. Cook is gradually getting back to civilization. He has already got as far as New York.

There is a way of depriving Rochester of the pennant, but Jersey City has lost the combination.

That eminent body of scientific experts, the New York Board of Aldermen, have recognized Cook.

To remedy unfortunate conditions Montreal has reduced the number of its aldermen one-half, and has created a Board of Control. Perhaps this change will throw some light on the difference between the theory and practice of municipal economy.—Indianapolis News.

The King of Belgium comes to the fore as a distributor of art treasures. He is selling off his private collection for the amiable purpose of preventing his daughter from inheriting them. The result will be, however, that his pictures will find their way out of the country and probably many of them will come to America. This will be a blessing, though from a doubtful source; for America needs art treasures more than Europe at the present time. If there were plenty of good pictures on this Continent available for public inspection, they would do much toward forming public taste; and forming it in the right direction. We rather jibe the millionaire who buys pictures; but he could not do better with his millions. What we ought to do is to coax him to follow the European example and let the people see them at stated hours. English Dukes give the shillings they get for this service to the nearest hospital.

There is much to be said in favor of the method of making up a voters' list by registration. It, at all events, prevents the man who really intends to vote from waiting until polling day to find out that he is not on the list or not at the poll where he expected to find his name. If he must go and register, then he knows that he is on the list and where he must vote. The present system gives us a few days longer in which to work up the enthusiasm of the indifferent citizen to the pitch of actually going to the polls and marking a ballot; but it is questionable whether the gain in this way is equal to the loss from obsolete and imperfect voters' lists.

We might as well say without grudging that Monday gave us a pretty good vote on an academic question put at an out-of-season plebiscite. We would have probably got a larger vote if we had kept the polls open till eight o'clock, and so given the workingmen a better chance to get there after work. It takes some pretty lively "hustling" for a man, who only stops work at six o'clock, to get ready for the street, catch his car at the crowded time and reach a polling booth in a distant part of the city within the hour. Then when he does get there, he probably finds a number in before him. The polls should have remained open till eight.

It is singularly fitting that "Cap." Bernier should turn up as the man who carried supplies to the discoverer of the North Pole. As collectors and conveyors of supplies, the "Cap" and his good ship, the "Arctic," have no rivals.

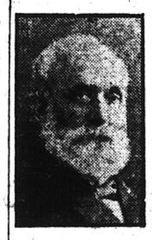
FROM THE STAR FILES THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY



Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

"Ottawa, — The closing ceremonial in connection with the matches took place to-day in the Senate chamber, when the prizes won during the week were distributed by Her Royal Highness the Princess Louise. Shortly after the hour fixed, the Princess arrived on the scene, accompanied by His Excellency the Governor - General and suite, and escorted by Captain Stewart, with the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards. One hundred men of the G.G.F.G., under Capt. Weatherly and Lieut. Toller, furnished the guard of honor, and were drawn up in the main hall. Among those of the Cabinet Ministers present in the chamber were the Hon. Mr. Masson, Sir Chas. Tupper, Sir S. L. Tilley, Hon. Messrs. O'Connor, Bowell and Baby; also Senator Aikens. The officers included Lieut.-Gen. Sir Edward Selby-Smythe, Lieut.-Colonel Gzowski, A.D.C., president of the Dominion Rifle Association; Major Macpherson, Lieut.-Cols. Worsley, Bacon and Fraser, Capts. Balfour, McEachern, Beer, White, Stewart and Major Wicksteed."—From the Montreal Star, September 23, 1879.

SIR MACKENIE BOWELL has been well known for many years in the Bay of Quinte, his home being in Belleville. A capable and able journalist, he successfully contested the county in the Conservative interests on several occasions; also was a member of Sir John Macdonald's Cabinet. He succeeded the late Sir John Thompson as Premier of the Dominion, and was himself succeeded by Sir Charles Tupper.

"The London Engineer says: The fastest trains now run are as follows: Great Western, 53½ miles an hour; Great Northern, 51; London & Brighton and London & North-Western, 47½; Midland, 46 miles."—From the Montreal Star, September 23, 1879.

EVEN thirty years ago the speed of trains on the Great Western Railway exceeded that of the much-vaunted Empire State Express of the present day running from New York to Buffalo, and recently the Great Western, running in connection with the Cunard steamships from Fishguard to London, a distance of 296 miles, covers the entire journey in 270 minutes. Evidently, Great Britain still leads the world in railroad speed.

Sir Melbourne Tait.

"To-morrow, at high noon, the tenth annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of Quebec, A. F. and A. M., will be convened in the British Masonic Chambers, on Place d'Armes. The session will be presided over by Most Worshipful Bro. Melbourne Tait, Esq., G.M., and delegates will be present from all the lodges working under the Q. R. in the Province of Quebec. The business to be attended to is of a various Masonic character, the session lasting for two days. The board of general purposes have been in session to-day, and to-night the Grand Chapter, presided over by Companion John H. Graham, meets at Royal Albert Lodge rooms, No. 6 Phillips Square."—From the Montreal Star, September 23, 1879.

SIR MELBOURNE M. TAIT, G.M., has been a member of the Masonic order for many years. In his capacity of Grand Master he was enabled to give to the service of the order a reflection and judgment of a clear judicial mind. On more than one occasion he has given to the brethren of his own lodge, Mount Royal, the benefit of his Masonic researches in the form of interesting and instructive lectures.

Mr. A. J. Small, manager of the Russell Theatre, Ottawa, has instructed his Montreal lawyers, Messrs. Walsh and Walsh, to take action against the Sparrow Amusement Company for the sum of two thousand dollars. The theatre being dark, Mr. Small asks for reimbursement.

OFFICIALS WERE EXAMINED BEFORE ROYAL COMMISSION

Subsidized Steamship Service Between Canada and West Indies Might Be Improved.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, September 23.—Features of trade relations as between Canada and the West Indies, with more particular reference to the steamship service, were referred to in evidence before the royal commission enquiry into the subject, at its initial meeting here yesterday afternoon. There was a full attendance, Lord Balfour of Burleigh presiding along with Sir Daniel Morris, Sir John Dickson-Poynder, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Hon. William Paterson. Yesterday's sitting was the only one to be held in Ottawa, for the present, at least, and was confined to the examination of Government officers.

In opening, Lord Balfour outlined the instructions given the commission which provided for enquiry into present conditions and future prospects of trade between Canada and the West Indies. Transportation methods, telegraph communication, the extent of trade and all other matters having reference to the subject would be looked into. He was hopeful that these objects would commend themselves to the sympathy and co-operation of all having imperial interests at heart and desirous of promoting trade between the component parts of the Empire. The commission would sit in Toronto on September 27th; St. John, 29th; Halifax, October 1st, and Montreal October 4th. Ample time would be taken at Montreal which, he said, was probably as important a seat of West India commerce as any existing. The enquiry would be essentially a business one, and he wished it to be understood that it was desired to be as thorough as possible.

Mr. F. C. T. O'Hara, deputy minister of Trade and Commerce, explained the existing contract for the St. John and Halifax-West India service by the Pickford and Black lines. It was a 14-day service down, the ships calling at Bermuda, Antigua, Barbadoes, Trinidad and British Guiana. The subsidy was $131,400 per year, half paid by the British and half by the Canadian government. There were four boats, one of them 32 and another 31 years old. The service could not be rapid by reason of the many calls made, while another element of delay was the "red tape" of officials as to clearances, etc.

Sir Daniel Morris remarked that he had heard complaints about the Canadian steamers arriving at the same time as the royal mail steamers, instead of alternating.

Mr. O'Hara stated that no such complaints had reached the department. Questioned by Sir Daniel Morris, Mr. O'Hara said the contract called for a ten-knot service at sea. The subsidies had been pretty fully paid, no deduction to any extent having been made. The Pickford and Black contract expired in June next. The department had received complaints about the service, and in his opinion he did not think it was adequate to requirements, either from the standpoint of a passenger or freight business. A trunk service going to South America, calling at one or two of the West Indies with subsidiary lines, would, in his opinion, be better. In 1908 a total of 4,361 passengers were carried.

Out of seventeen voyages last year the time limit was exceeded ten times. The service to Jamaica was by the P. and B. line, one steamer being employed, and receiving $13,800 subsidy. From Jamaica the principal imports were fruit, rum and sugar, and from the West Indies molasses and sugar.

Mr. W. H. Rourley, president of the E. B. Eddy Company, stated that he had heard of Americans persuading West India merchants to believe that it was to their advantage to import from Canada via New York rather than directly.

Mr. John McDougall, commissioner of customs, gave a number of figures from departmental reports touching the volume of trade with the West Indies. Canada had benefitted by the preferential arrangement inasmuch as imports were cheapened. The value of exports from Canada to the West Indies and British Guiana totalled $3,098,468 in the fiscal year of 1908. The imports into Canada from the above countries were $9,293,804, of which $8,041,755 was dutiable and $1,252,049 free.

Mr. J. A. Russell, tariff expert of the Finance Department, submitted a bulky statistical statement giving details of the trade.

SERIOUS RIOTING IN OMAHA.

Attack on Strike Breakers Results in Serious Injury to Several Men.

Omaha, September 23.—Eight strike-breakers were injured, one of them perhaps fatally, John Petricek, a bystander, was shot through the hip, and eight cars were partly demolished as the result of riots which occurred after dark in connection with the street car strike which began here on Saturday last.

One of the strike-breakers, a motorman, was probably fatally injured, being struck in the abdomen by a flying brick. The police patrol was unable to quell the disturbance for some time and many of the strike-breakers received injuries from missiles, thrown by strikers or strike sympathizers.

Eight cars, which were abandoned by their crews, were attacked and almost demolished by the angry crowds.

MANY RESOLUTIONS WERE PRESENTED TO LABOR CONGRESS

Ex-President Hobson's Remarks Cause Stir in Ranks of Labor.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Quebec, September 23.—Fifty-six resolutions, dealing with all kinds of questions, were introduced at yesterday afternoon's session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, but as they had to be referred to the various standing committees the session was adjourned early in order to give the committees an opportunity to do their work.

The most important resolution submitted from the workers viewpoint was the one dealing with international trade unionism.

During the discussion which followed, ex-President Hobson, of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, was characterized as being very unfair. It was alleged that Mr. Hobson had made a statement at the recent meeting of his association to the effect that American labor agitators should be excluded by legislation from Canada. It was said that Mr. Hobson had made an unjustifiable attack on trade unions during which he was reported as having said:

"No more should American agitators be allowed to enter Canada to prey upon Canadian labor and to wreck Canadian institutions." Mr. Hobson remarked at the same time, it was claimed, "that Canadian labor agitators would not be permitted to enter the United States to do similar mischief over there. Canadian labor men would not be allowed to clog the wheels of industry in the United States."

It was stated that the "American agitators," to whom Mr. Hobson alluded, are the members or agents of the executives of the International labor organizations. These organizations, it was said, have business in Canada as well as the United States, and their officials are delegated to do duty in both countries. It was explained that a good many of the officials are Canadians and British subjects, and that these Canadian "agitators" have much more work in the United States than in Canada. It was claimed that representatives of labor in Canada entered the United States freely and regularly to do there what the American "agitators" do in Canada. It was pointed out that the following well-known Canadian labor men were engaged in such work: John A. Flett, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor and former president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada; whose duties keep him in the United States most of the time; Hugh Robinson, Hamilton, of the Journeymen Tailors' International Union; E. W. O'Dell, organizer of the Boot and Shoe Workers' International Union; Allan Studholme, M.L.A., organizer of the Stonemounters' Union; S. L. Landers, an organizer of the executive of the United Garment Workers of America; Charles Welby, vice-president of the International Metal Polishers' Union; Ernest Villard, secretary-treasurer of the International Builders' Laborers' Union; E. B. Lowe, general president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trackmen; Louis Beuloin, former president of the Montreal Trades and Labor Council; Joseph Ainey, Montreal, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor; Thomas Fisher, Montreal, Painters and Decorators Union, and many others. Further discussion was postponed until the Committee on Resolutions made its report.

A resolution to the effect that the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress go on record as being in favor of co-operative societies, and that a federal law should be enacted legalizing co-operative societies, and that a copy of the resolution be forwarded to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Mr. R. L. Borden, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Minister of Labor, and Mr. F. D. Monk, Montreal, was unanimously adopted.

Before adjournment telegrams were received from the Mayor of Fort William, the Mayor of Port Arthur and the Mayor of Guelph, Ont., cordially inviting the Congress to meet in their cities in 1910. The question was deferred until the election of officers.

COMMANDER PEARY PASSED THROUGH ST. JOHN EARLY TO-DAY

Dr. Cook Replies to Long List of Questions Propounded by Journalists.

Special to the Montreal Star.

St. John, N.B., September 23.—Commander Peary was greeted at St. John this morning as he went through the city. The reception at St. John was hindered by the early hour, yet it was the warmest of any received by the explorer since his departure from Sydney. With the United States boundary growing nearer and nearer as Peary's train advanced, the wayside receptions to Peary seemed to grow warmer and warmer.

At Truro, where Peary stopped between trains a few hours yesterday evening he received a call from Mayor Murray and other citizens of the place.

Peary has announced the receipt of invitations to lecture before the Royal Geographical Society and the Scottish Geographical Society in Great Britain and is much pleased by the double honor. He will probably appear before both.

DR. COOK SUBMITS TO LONG EXAMINATION.

New York, September 23.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook submitted last evening to a long examination by newspaper representatives. His replies did not differ materially from previous statements, and not once did he refuse to answer. He said his reasons for imposing secrecy on Whitney and Pritchard, Commander Peary's cabin boy, and the Eskimos, were prompted by his desire to be the first to tell the world his discovery. He had done the work, he said, and was entitled to relate how it had been carried out. Some of the more important questions put to Dr. Cook during the interview and his replies follow:

Did anything ever occur in the life of yourself and Mr. Peary that would create any enmity or bitterness between you?

A.—No, nothing whatever that I know of.

Q.—Did you know Mr. Whitney when you had met him on your return to Etah?

A.—No; he introduced himself, but I did not catch his name, and did not know it until the following day.

Q.—Did you know that Peary was going to start up at that time?

A.—No, I did not know.

Q.—What caused you to have such confidence in Mr. Whitney that you entrusted your instruments to him?

A.—I knew him by name, and circumstances that arose while I was with him justified my confidence. I gave him the instruments to bring back because I thought they would be less liable to injury on board his vessel than if I took them across glaciers and rough ice covered country.

Q.—Knowing that a ship was coming north this summer for Whitney, why did you not wait for that ship and come direct to New York, instead of going to South Greenland and sailing from there to Copenhagen?

A.—I knew that the Danish Government would get me home before Whitney's ship.

Q.—What instruments did you have with you from Cape Thomas Hubbard and back?

A.—Sextant, artificial horizon, three compasses, three chronometer watches, thermometers, barometers and a pedometer.

Q.—What kind of sextant did you have, and how many?

A.—One sextant—a French apparatus.

Q.—What kind of artificial horizon did you have?

A.—Glass.

Q.—What kind of transit or theodolite did you have, and how many?

A.—We did not use any.

Q.—What kind of compass did you have?

A.—We had one liquid compass, one surveying compass.

Q.—What kind of compass did you use to determine your compass variation?

A.—A surveying compass; it had an azimuth attachment.

Q.—What compass course did you take from Cape Thomas Hubbard north?

A.—Well, that changes every day. If you follow the course on a map, you have got the compass course.

Q.—Was your determination of the Pole solely by an observation of the sun's altitude, or did you take observations of the Pole Star twelve hours apart, and by the determination of the celestial Pole midway between the two positions prove the accuracy of your position on the terrestrial Pole?

A.—How are you going to take an observation by the Polar Star when you have a continuous sun? There is no night; you cannot have any stars; there is no darkness.

Q.—Will you describe in detail any single observation taken by you at the North Pole, with the exact figures of the results and the corrections applied?

A.—Not at this present moment. We will describe every one of them in detail when they go to the University of Copenhagen. They will go there within two months.

Q.—In your original narrative as published in the New York Herald, you said, "The night of April 7 was made notable by the swinging of the sun at midnight over the northern ice. Our observations on April 6 placed the camp in latitude 86.36, longitude 94.2." The astronomers say that in the latitude you mention the midnight sun would have been visible on April 1, and that if you really saw it for the first time on April 7 you must have been 550 miles from the Pole, instead of 234, as you supposed. Therefore, to have reached the Pole on April 21, you would have had to travel 39 miles daily. What is your explanation of the apparent discrepancy?

A.—In the first place, that indicates the point I have taken; that nobody can pronounce judgment on a matter of this kind until they get the complete record. The northern horizon at midnight had been so obscure that we could not tell whether the sun was below the horizon or above it. We were not making observations at midnight. Therefore, this statement is based on the fact that we have said that it was possible to see the sun on midnight of that day. I have not looked through the Herald's story as it has been written out in full. My impression is that we were absolutely unable to see the sun the midnight before that. The horizon was obscured.

Provincial Workmen's Association Opposed to American Agitators.

Halifax, N. S., September 23.—At the meeting of the Grand Council of the Provincial Workmen's Association yesterday, a committee was appointed to discuss affiliation with the Canadian Federation of Labor. The resolution in connection was in part as follows:

"Whereas, the officers and members of the Provincial Workmen's Association, in Grand Council assembled, representing the miners and other workmen of Nova Scotia, have viewed with disgust and alarm the unprincipled efforts of American labor organizations to usurp the rights and privileges of Canadian organizations to manage Canadian industrial affairs.

"And, whereas, said American unions, pretending to be international in character, have refused to become members of the only real international federation of labor—the International Labor Congress—on the grounds that the methods of European nations do not suit American ideals.

"And, whereas, any union having its seat of government in America and pretending to be international in character must suit American ideals and fight industrial battles according to American methods.

"Therefore, resolved, that this Grand Council take its stand to fight for our nation's best interest, never relinquishing the rights our fathers fought for, the privilege of managing our own international affairs.

"Resolved, also, that this Grand Council immediately join the Canadian Federation of Labor, and endeavor with our best will to have our brother workmen of all trades and crafts in Canada do likewise, that we may present a solid front to the common enemy and maintain our independence."

Fatal Flood in Northern Syria.

Constantinople, September 23.—Torrential rains have caused the loss of 100 lives and the destruction of five hundred houses at Homs, a town of Northern Syria.

HAD TRYING EXPERIENCE.

Sailors of the Earl Grey Nearly Came to Grief.

St. John's, Nfld., September 23. — A tale of suffering and danger was related by the crew of a boat which left the new Canadian cutter Earl Grey to attempt to obtain coal and provisions on the bleak Newfoundland coast when the vessel's supply was nearly exhausted. A number of the crew manned a boat and rowed fifteen miles to Baie de Verde, where they obtained two and a half tons of coal in sacks and some provisions, and started to return.

Meanwhile a severe storm had arisen and the seas became so high that the boat was nearly swamped. Finally it became necessary for the men to jettison the coal to escape foundering. The mast and sail of the boat next went by the board. The men were adrift all night, and at daylight were picked up by a passing schooner. In boarding the schooner one of the seamen was badly crushed, while another had his arm broken. The men were landed at Corbonnear, whence they were conveyed here. Tugs were sent out from this city and brought in the disabled steamer.

FIREMAN IS SCALDED AND FALLS TO DEATH

Fire Plug on Speeding Engine Blows Out, Filling Cab With Steam

Engineer Wilson, of North Shore Ottawa Train, Manages to Close Throttle and Saves Train.

THE NORTH SHORE FATALITY—Engineer John Wilson.

Nearly suffocated by blinding steam, which poured from his fire box, Edward Edwards, a fireman on the Ottawa to Montreal North Shore train, jumped from his post to his death, between St. Augustin and St. Scholastique last night about 9.50. A similar accident to a locomotive caused the Windsor street station catastrophe this spring.

The train left Ottawa on schedule time, and at the time of the accident was going at a rate of thirty-five miles an hour. As the train reached a point about two miles west of St. Augustin a blinding sheet of steam burst out of the fire box. Fireman Edwards, burned horribly, staggered to the side of the cab. But there the steam was as bad. Surrounded by the stifling steam, he jumped from the train to the ground, a distance of about fourteen feet.

The engineer, who was almost stifling, got hold of the trottle and shut off steam as he crawled out of his cab to a place of safety on the running board. There he clung until the train had spent its impetus.

As the train slowed up the engineer, fearing the worst, called loudly for his fireman. The engineer had seen Edwards overcome with the steam which flooded the entire cab and tender, endeavor to crawl up onto the coal in the tender, and finally, unable to get relief, saw him stagger near the cab door. The fireman was not to be found.

The passengers wondering what had caused the stoppage of the train between stations and without the aid of the brakes were peering out of the cab windows into the intense darkness as the engineer, unable to find his fireman had started up the track. About three-quarters of a mile up the track the fireman was found lying on the ground to the left of the track, dead.

The body was conveyed to this city, where it was brought to the morgue.

Engine All Right in Ottawa.

At the inquest this morning Engineer Wilson described the circumstances with detail, though he spoke falteringly. "There was nothing the matter with the engine when it left Ottawa," the train man testified, No leakage of the fire box denoted a defect. An explosion in the fire box caused the blowing out of the fire plug. The steam issued from this break in the boiler. He also said that such accidents were infrequent.

This run aside from the events which transpired would have been a memorable one to Edwards. His examination for a position as engineer being successfully passed, this was to be the last run as a fireman and he was soon to report for his new duties in the company.

His wife is the bride of a few months and was waiting for his return when the fatal news reached her. Edwards is 35 years old and was a resident of Ottawa.

The jury brought in a verdict of accidental death.

STARVATION CURE DID NOT CAUSE THIS DEATH.

Death From Natural Causes Was Verdict in Case of a Patient of Miss Virginia Gobeille's.

That the "starvation cure" practiced by Miss Gobeille, now charged with causing the death of James J. O'Neill, one of her "patients," does not cause death in every case, was proved this morning at the inquest held in the death of Mrs. Annie G. Lortie, one of her patients.

The examination of the body of the woman by Dr. McTaggart, of the morgue staff, brought out the fact that death was due to a complication of diseases. No emaciation was noticed to indicate that the woman was denied nourishment. Dr. McTaggart thinks that the woman could have lived much longer on the treatment if other complications had not been present.

The woman had been treated at the hospital and yesterday returned to her home at 703 Cartier street, where she died last evening.

The verdict was death from natural causes.

HONORABLE ACQUITTAL FOR MR. J. J. DUGGAN.

Mr. J. J. Duggan, of 60 City Councillors street, who was accused some time ago of having forged a cheque for $47 and bought horses which he was alleged to have stared, was this morning honorably acquitted by Judge Choquet in the Court of Sessions. It was found that the cheque was perfectly correct, the only thing that made it worthless was the fact that it was dated Sunday by mistake, which date is not counted as legal. The horses which were found starved in the rear of a house on Sherbrooke street, were given to two men who were paid to look after the animals while Mr. Duggan was away at New York. Mr. Duggan had an account in the bank and no liability whatever can be held against him.

FAKE ACCIDENT CHARGES UP TO-DAY IN KING'S BENCH

The morning session of the Court of King's Bench was taken up entirely in the hearing of evidence in the case of Nathan Aloff, Ofal Skykofsky and Abraham Katsoff, who are charged with having entered into a conspiracy to defraud different corporations throughout the city, including the Canadian Pacific Railway; Grand Trunk Railway, Montreal Street Railway Company and Shearer, Brown & Wills, Limited.

Mr. Wm. J. Flemming, Claims Agent of the C. P. R., was the principal witness called by the prosecution this morning. Mr. Flemming stated that on May 15th last a claim for $3,000 was made by J. A. Ouimet, advocate, on behalf of Aloff, for the alleged breaking of an arm during the accident which took place in Windsor Station on March 17th last. He said the claim had been investigated by the claims department and settled for $130. A receipt in full settlement signed by Aloff was produced.

Suspicion was aroused when, on May 18th, a claim was received from Katsoff for $2,000 for an alleged broken leg during the same accident. The whole matter was then put in the hands of the special service department.

Mr. B. H. Wills, managing director, of Messrs. Shearer, Brown & Wills, Limited, said that he knew Aloff, who came to his office with a claim for $400 for injuries received by the falling of an icicle from their building in January, 1909. After consulting Dr. Rogers, Mr. Wills decided that the whole claim was a fake, and the company had thrown it out.

Jos. Dussault, advocate, said that on February 19th, the accused Aloff had come to his office, claiming damages from the above company. He said that he had taken the case up, but later found to his own satisfaction that it was a fake and decided to have nothing further to do with it.

Harry Siegler, engineer for the company, was called and told of the conversation which took place through him as interpreter between the accused and Shearer, Brown & Wills, Limited.

George M. Harris, solicitor and collector, told of going to the C. P. R. headquarters on behalf of Katsoff in an effort to secure a settlement of a claim made by Katsoff, for alleged injuries received at the Glen Yards by a falling icicle on February 21st last, while the accused was endeavoring to secure work. When the accused failed to produce a certificate from Dr. Fourtier, who, he said, attended him, Harris threw the case up.

L. Boisnieu, special agent of the C. P. R., was in the box when the court adjourned for lunch.

During yesterday afternoon's session Dr. Max Robinovitch, told of visiting the accused Aloff on different occasions, but at no time had he ever found anything seriously wrong with him.

Mr. A. Wells, claims agent of the G. T. R. and Mr. James Taylor, assistant claims agent, told of efforts which had been made by the accused Aloff to obtain damages from the G. T. R. for alleged injuries received at Bonaventure Station.

Crown Prosecutor Hibbard is being assisted in the case for the Crown by Mr. J. C. Walsh, K.C., and the accused are being represented by Mr. Marcus M. Sperber and Charlemagne Rodier.

SEARCHING FOR THE BROTHERHOOD OF MAN

But Carries No Gun, Announces Will Crooks, of London, Who Is Studying Labor Conditions.

"I am here in an effort to find the brotherhood of man without the aid of a big gun," was the exclamation of Mr. William Crooks, a labor representative of the Imperial Government, who arrived in Montreal this morning en route from Quebec, where he was attending the Trades and Labor Congress.

Mr. Crooks has been for years interesting himself in the cause of the unemployed in London. He has been a labor representative of the Imperial Government for the past eight years, eighteen years previous to which he held a seat in the London County Council.

Labor conditions, as well as the question of providing for the unemployed of London has been gone into very thoroughly during the past four years said Mr. Crooks, during which time over four million pounds has been meted out to the unemployed, the manner in which this is distributed is very simple continued Mr. Crooks. For instance if the City of London have a park which they desire laid out and for which a sum of one thousand dollars has been voted by the City Council, this work is done at a cost of probably three thousand dollars, the additional two thousand being provided by the government and from subscription, this work being distributed solely among destitute persons. In most instances this money is spent on work which otherwise would not be undertaken.

Mr. Crooks expressed himself as greatly interested in the proceedings of the Labor Congress at Quebec and said that he was particularly surprised at the interest shown by the clergy, who, he said, did not interest themselves in labor conditions on the other side, he hoped, however, that within a short time they would take an active part in this good work.

The Imperial House in 1886 contained but four labor representatives, said Mr. Crooks, and these have grown until at the present time there are 36, which will give you an idea of the progress we are making.

Mr. Crooks, who is accompanied by Mrs. Crooks, leaves Montreal to-morrow morning for Ottawa and from there will go to Toronto, Niagara, Winnipeg and Vancouver, sailing from Victoria for Sydney, Australia, stopping at Honolulu He has accepted invitations to address gatherings at most of these places.

Prior to their departure from Quebec last evening, Mrs. Crooks was presented with a handsome silver tea service by the members of the Trades and Labor Congress.

PEARY DECIDES SILENCE IS BEST

Refuses to Discuss Cook's Latest Statement and Will Not Accept Invitations.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Vanceboro, Maine, September 23.—Commander Peary read without comment to-day the reported remarks of Dr. Cook that the results of Cook's Polar work were now before the world. "Is it time for you, now that Dr. Cook has rejected your challenge to bring his scientific results out into the open to make any further statements concerning the Polar controversy that you have to make?" Peary was asked.

"The time has not come for me to make any further statements in regard to the matter not yet," replied the explorer cheerfully.

The Commander had word this morning of the preparations for his reception at Bangor, Me. When told that a banquet of 400 covers was to be spread for his arrival in Bangor, he said that he would wait over for a train and attend it. The invitations from Bangor and Portland were accepted by him before his determination to refuse honors before the settlement of the controversy.

Roosevelt Sets Sail.

North Sydney, N.S., September 23.—The Arctic steamer Roosevelt left here at midnight on her journey to New York. Hundreds of steam craft whistled their farewell as the Roosevelt moved out.

Shortly before the Roosevelt pulled out, Matthew Henson, Commander Peary's colored bodyguard, leaned over the side of the Roosevelt to shake hands with Chief Engineer Swicker, of the Tyrian, who was standing on the deck of a launch. Swicker has a grip like a vise and he held fast to Henson's hand as the Roosevelt swung away. Henson could not release his hold, and he was drawn over the side of the Roosevelt and fell into the sea. He was promptly fished out, however, by Swicker, and half an hour later the Roosevelt was out of sight on her way south.

FIND GAMBLING DEN SIX WEEKS AFTER STAR GAVE ADDRESS

Police Raid 112 Bleury St. and John Carpenter Admits Keeping Gaming House.

More than six weeks ago a story appeared in The Star stating that a pool room was being run wide open in a small room at 112 Bleury street, and that bets could be placed there on any of the race meets throughout the country.

Yesterday afternoon the police found time to investigate and at three o'clock Chief Detective Carpenter and Sergeant Charpentier visited the resort and found betting slips, slates bearing the names of the horses and advertising the odds, and a sporting ticker.

John Carpenter, clerk, 42 years of ago, who claimed to be the proprietor of the place was caught in the raid. With him were Percy Cutin, confectioner, East Lagauchetiere street; Everett Wescott, electrician, Huntly street; E. V. Collins, clerk, Dowd street; and John Jones, storeman, Cadieux street.

The five were taken to police headquarters where they were arraigned before Judge Leet. Carpenter pleaded guilty to the charge of keeing a gambling house, the others entering pleas of not guilty on the grounds that they did not know it was a gambling house. Carpenter's case was fixed for to-morrow, while the trial for the other four was fixed for Wednesday.

Over $500 was found in Carpenter's possession when he was searched at police headquarters.

THREE FIRES IN HOUR IN THE SAME STABLE

Alphonse Barbeau Arrested on Charge of Arson Pleads Not Guilty.

When firemen were called for the third time to the horse stables at 450 St. Catherine street east last night, they found the place burning so fiercely that it was impossible to save it. The stables were burned to the ground and Alphonse Barbeau has been arrested on the charge of being responsible for the damage. He appeared before Judge Leet this morning, and declaring his innocence of incendiarism, was remanded until Wednesday next.

NORWEGIAN SHED TEARS WHEN FALKEN CAST OFF MOORINGS

Government Purchase of Whaling Steamer for a Lightship Fills Sailor With Sorrow.

In tow of the steamer Vercheres, the whaling vessel Falken left Victoria Pier, this morning, for Sorel, where she will be converted into a lighthouse vessel for use on the Upper Lakes. She was purchased by the Government from Thomas Gauthier, of Montreal, for $8,000. The Falken was used, up to last season, off the Labrador coast, where, during the four years of her service, she was responsible for the death of some 300 whales.

And when the Falken was leaving the pier this morning, Hans Larsen waved his big red handkerchief, and the tears came to his eyes, for he was formerly a member of the steam-whaler's crew, and the thought of the old ship, on which he had spent many years, cutting up blubber, being used in the future as a mere lighthouse boat, filled him with sorrow.

Hans is employed by the Allan line as longshoreman. Yesterday he begged a day's leave, and all the morning he lingeresd on the Falken's deck, fingering the harpoon gun that he had usedd many times, and playing with the patent steam winch.

Hans has a history that is closely connected with that of the Falken. He told of the time some five years ago, when the Falken was one of a huge fleet of steam whalers employed off the Norwegian coast by Sven Faen, the millionaire inventor of the patent dynamite cartridge, from which a whale never escapes. Hans said these were joyous times, and big wages, and lots of good blubber until the simple fisherfolk complained to the Norwegian Government that the whaling industry was taking away their livelihood. They explained that whereas formerly the whales would chase big shoals of herring and other fish down the coast. Sven Faen's continued slaughter stopped this, and many families were starving. So the Government strictly limited whale killing, and many of Sven Faen's fleet were sold to Newfoundland fishermen, the Falken among them.

Hans wouldn't desert the old fo'castle. He came out to Canada, where he had heard the fishing was good.

"Good whaling men at Newfoundland," said Hans, "but not so good as Norwegian; squareheads you call us."

Then Hans was ordered ashore. The Vercheres hitched on her tow-rope, Falken's shore lines were cast off, and away she went to a new life. Hans gazed after her, his dirty black shirt fluttering in the river breeze, and there were tears in his eyes. When the Falken had faded from sight he turned and went back to the hauling of cases in the Allan shed.

The Falken was attached to the Quebec steam-whaling company until last year, although owned by Mr. Thomas Gauthier, of Montreal, who to-day detached the vessel's patent harpoon gun, which will be retained as a souvenir. The Falken lay all last winter at Lachine awaiting a purchaser, and is an especially staunch craft, well suited to the hard work of the Great Lakes lighthouse service.

SECOND ARREST IN THE LIBEL CASE AGAINST STRIKERS

Lestage Admits Sending the Advertisement and is Arrested as He Steps Out of Court.

There were two important developments this morning in the case of Dan McDougall, President of the United Mine Workers' Association, some of whose members are on strike at the Dominion Coal Company's mines.

John Lestage was placed under arrest on the same charge as that preferred against McDougall, that of criminally libelling the Coal Company and Judge Leet made the following statement from the Bench:

"Either Dan McDougall has a knowledge of this whole affair or he is a catspaw in the hands of American labor organizers."

Lestage was again called to the witness stand, having commenced his testimony yesterday afternoon. His memory was so poor that it required in many cases a dozen questions from Mr. Greenshields to get an answer. He admitted finally that it was the International Board Member Bousefield, who handed him the English copy of the advertisement which is alleged to libel the company and he made a translation of it and sent it to La Patrie, La Presse and Le Canada.

Only La Patrie published it.

He admitted that he sent the money to pay the bill and that he got it from International Vice-President Patterson in McDougall's office. When questioned closely as to the connection McDougall had with the sending out of the advertisement the witness could remember little and it was pointed out by Mr. Maddin, who is acting for the accused, that McDougall was in Newfoundland at the time the advertisement was sent out. It was then that His Lordship gave utterance to the above quotation.

Mr. Chevrier, general manager of La Patrie, testified to the receipt of the advertisement and the letter accompanying it was signed by Lestage.

There was a wordy duel over the date of the postponement when Mr. Greenshields announced that he had a number of witnesses to bring from Glace Bay. Mr. Maddin urged that a three weeks adjournment should be decided on so that Bousefield and Patterson might be present; they are now attending a congress in Indianapolis. Mr. Greenshields hinted there were important developments expected in the near future and one of these turned out to be the arrest of Lestage.

An adjournment for eight days was settled on and as soon as Lestage reached Notre Dame street, Mr. E. A. Williams, of the Thiel Detective Agency, served him with a warrant and he was taken to the High Constable's office. This afternoon he pleaded not guilty.

JOHN HENRY'S SELECTIONS FOR TO-MORROW'S RACES AT DELORIMIER PARK.

The card for to-morrow is just comfortably filled, having an average of seven horses entered for each race.

First race, five furlongs:

POLICE WATCH GAMBLING AT DELORIMIER BUT TAKE NO ACTION

THE BOOKIES AT DELORIMIER DOING A RUSHING BUSINESS Y ESTERDAY—Lieut. Turner, of the Police, may be seen in the centre of the photograph.

Four bookmakers were doing a fine business yesterday afternoon at the opening of the second meeting at Delorimier Park. They were operating at the left end side of the grand stand, in the open air, and under the eyes of the police.

"Is not betting forbidden on this track?" a constable was asked.

"I don't know," was the answer, "but I don't see why it would here when it is not at Blue Bonnets."

It seems that there is very little chance of seeing the police authorities stop the betting this year at Delorimier. Crown Prosecutor Hibbard has already given it as his legal opinion that betting should be prohibited at Delorimier. It is said that Chief Campeau has again submitted the question to Mr. Hibbard's colleague, Mr. D. A. Lafortune, but as this gentleman is now engaged in a political election in Montcalm, it is most probable that he will give his decision only a few days after the meet closes.

How much the bookmakers pay Messrs. Richard and Lemay, the owners of the track, to run their business there, and who is paying the purses at these races are two other questions one might naturally ask for answers to.

It might also be pointed out that, although the police are continually raiding poolrooms in the city in which betting is being carried on under cover, they still neglect to take any action against a place where the law is being openly violated.

LORD NORTHCLIFFE SEES WAR AHEAD

Germany is Preparing to Snatch Control of the Seas From Great Britain.

Special to the Montreal Star.

San Francisco, Cal., eptember 23.—Lord Northcliffe and Mr. Moberly Bell, who were in the city yesterday, both expressed the belief that war between Great Britain and Germany is certain to come.

"The facts are plain," Lord Northcliffe said. "We know Germany has declined to discontinue preparing her vast armaments, we know that all of her ship building yards are engaged in naval construction; that 100,000 men are working day and night, and that scores of her leading statesmen and writers make no secret of her intentions.'

"We have the German Emperor declaring that Germany's future is on the water. We have the fact that the population of Germany must have an outlet and her industries new markets, and that the most likely field is in places where the British flag floats.

"Much has been said about the war scare in England. There is not enough of the war scare there. The conditions which confront Great Britain are ominous, and it is to be deplored that the British are not better prepared."

POLICE CLAIM TO HAVE UNEARTHED A "POLICY" SHOP

The Star Showed the Game Up Long Ago But Police Steadily Professed Ignorance.

In spite of the publicity given to the selling of lottery tickets and the publication by The Star of the drawing slips themselves, the police professed to believe that there was no policy game in the city since the raid in Maisonneuve two months ago, when Jack Darley was put out of business, till last night, when they made a raid on a cigar store at 108 Shearer street.

The policy game has been going on steadily all the time and there are dozens of cigar stores and barber shops in the city where tickets can be secured and the drawing slips obtained. Yet for the last six weeks the police have claimed that there were no policy games going on.

At 108 Shearer street the police found tickets, blanks and books, which they claim were used in the "game.'

They had a warrant for the arrest of the proprietor, whose name was said to be Pyn, but he was nowhere to be found. The detectives were told that Pyn was out of town, but that he was expeced home at any time.

'HIGHER PRICES,' SAYS ROADS COMMITTEE

Authorizes City Surveyor to Pay Higher Than Lowest Tender for Curb Stones.

The Roads Committee, at its meeting yesterday afternoon showed no particular disposition to let matters of paving drop. A report was made to Council asking $50,000 for crushed stone. The idea is to open some of the city's quarries.

The complaint was that as other municipalities were buying stone so rapidly it was impossible for the city to get all it wanted.

"Yes," said Ald. Major, "and outside municipalities are paying more for curbstones than what Montreal is offering. This being the case (sarcastically) it is a wonder the papers are not ventilating another civic scandal."

There was quite a confab about the committee not being able to get certain kinds of curb stone, and the city surveyor tried to get the committee out of the problem by making a report that curbs be laid in cement. This was according to the recent offer of Mr. Hofeller.

Just how anxious the committee was to get curbs was shown by the prompt manner it voted down the city surveyor's report. The high price aldermen got into line and contended that stone curbs could be purchased if the city would pay a little more for them.

This desire to pay high prices was implied. The city has been buying the curbs at 42 cents a foot, but only about one-third of what is wanted is delivered. A resolution of Council some months ago authorized that they be bought up to 48 cents, providing that lowest tenders be accepted first.

The City Surveyor—"It will be wise to get cement curbs if we cannot get stone."

It was the opinion of Ald. Gallery that the Hofeller people should be given an order for cement walks; if this was not done the papers would find fault with the committee.

Ald. Major.—"We shall be blamed anyway."

Ald. Giroux—"Yes, that is so. The papers have treated the Roads Committee fine this year."

On the question of curbs Ald. Major said St. Louis was paying 43 cents a foot, and he knew that was why the city was not getting much, as the city price was one cent a foot lower.

It was resolved to authorize the chairman and Mr. Barlow to order curbs at 43 cents a foot, or a cent higher if they were obliged to do it.

The committee also decided to ask Council for $50,000 to complete a section of the Sherbrooke street sewer. Tenders will also be called for the remodelling of the bridge over St. Catherine street.

LABOR CONGRESS OPPOSED TO SALE OF INTERCOLONIAL

This and Several Other Questions Discussed at This Forenoon's Sitting.

Special Staff Correspondence.

Quebec, September 23. — At this morning's session of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, child labor and long hours in the cotton factories of the province of Quebec were discussed. Delegate Airey, Montreal, informed the Congress that men, women and children were forced to work sixty hours per week, which, he said, was altogether too long for the health of the workers. It was decided to ask the Legislature to amend the law, reducing the hours of labor and providing for improved sanitary conditions.

Delegate Robert, Iron Moulders' Union, Montreal, declared that the factory laws in Quebec are not enforced in foundries and requested that the executive of the Congress be instructed to interview the Government in this connection. There was a lively discussion regarding the fair wage clause in public contracts.

Delegate Bancroft, Toronto, stated that agreements were openly violated by contractors and that the clause was useless as no penalty for breach of contract was provided in the fair wage clause. It was claimed that contractors should be made to live up to agreements. They were forced to put proper material into buildings and they should be made to pay wages. It was decided to ask the Government to appoint sufficient fair wage officers for all the provinces.

A resolution was passed protesting against public men holding half a dozen offices at the same time.

Running boards on open street cars received the condemnation of Congress and it was decided to request the Government to pass legislation dealing with "pay-at-the-door" street cars. It was claimed that passengers were obliged to stand on open platforms, frequently in the rain, where they were robbed while trying to get their tickets into the box.

A resolution was also passed in favor of an eight hour day for street railway employes.

A resolution was unanimously adopted protesting against the sale of the Intercolonial Railway to a private company.

Fraternal Delegate Jerome Jones, of the American Federation of Labor, congratulated the workingmen of Canada on their progress. Canada, he said, was growing immensely and was destined to be a great country.

He denounced the injunction law in the United States. He said that nearly all the judges were appointed from among large corporation lawyers, and as a result it was impossible for the working classes to get justice. He denounced Mr. Justice Wright, who had convicted President Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, of the American Federation of Labor. He declared that an English king lost his head for a less tyrannical sentence.

Delegate Jones referred to the slavery days in the Southern States, and stated that industrial slavery had not yet been abolished, particularly in southern cotton mills. He denounced the working of little children as brutal.

The American Federation of Labor, he said, was heartily in favor of the international labor movement. He believed the hope of workers lay in the solidarity of labor. He denounced war and expressed himself in favor of universal peace. Mr. Jones declared that as long as there is one hungry child in Canada the two millions of organized labor in the United States would be interested.

Mr. Will Crooks, M.P., British House of Commons, was given a great reception at the public meeting in the Auditorium last night. After an able speech he was presented with a silver tea service by Delegate S. L. Landers, Hamilton, on behalf of the Congress of Canada.

Mr. Crooks, who was completely taken by surprise, said he would cherish the gift until the day of his death.

His address, listened to by an audience which filled the Auditorium to its fullest extent, was a striking one. The British labor leader denounced strikes. A strike, he said, was the last resort. The English labor men realized this, and their 33 representatives in Parliament had won many victories not from their beauty, not from their winning ways.

Mr. Crooks holds different views in many respects from Mr. J. Keir Hardit, M.P., who attended the Halifax convention. Mr. Hardie expressed radical views, while Mr. Crooks appears to be very conservative. He said the land question was the curse of the British Isles. In Great Britain and Wales the population was in the vicinity of forty millions and more than thirty-eight millions did not own one foot of land.

MANY LIVES LOST IN STORM.

Terrible Loss of Life and Property in Louisiana.

New Orleans, La., September 23.—The list of known dead who perished in Terrebonne parish, during Monday's hurricane had swelled to more than forty, and it is believed a score or more may be added to this number. Additional reports of death in other portions of Louisiana are also being received and the toll of human life exacted by the hurricane will count perhaps a hundred people when the final count has been made.

Further details of property loss, reaching millions of dollars, come in with the gradual restoration of communication.

The families of Thomas and Walter Rhodes, numbering fourteen people, are now reported as being almost certainly among the dead. Others not located who are believed to have perished, are Dick Gray, wife and seven children; Inez Verret and family of 4. Two children near Bois du Tacre were drowned when skiffs in which families were fleeing, struck obstructions. Two were killed by the collapse of a house near Clinton, La. No trace of the crew of nine men on the Seven Brothers wrecked near the Rilogets, 20 miles east of New Orleans, has been discovered.

RIOTING IN BARCELONA.

Two Men Killed and Several Injured in Religious Riot.

Barcelona, September 23.—Religious rioting at Castro resulted yesterday in the killing of two men and the wounding of fifty-six others. A religious procession with the local priest at its head, was about to enter the church at Castro when it was attacked by an armed mob.

The priest and another man were killed instantly, and before the gendarmes could restore order, 56 persons had been wounded.

to sell by public auction,

Saturday, October 2, at 2.45 p.m.

1. Farm—Cadastre 329, having a frontage on the river of 2 arpents. The portion between the main road and the river has a stone residence thereon. The whole farm contains an area of about 128 arpents, with farmer's house, barns, piggery and 1800 apple trees. The rolling stock will be sold separately and consists of cows, horses, vehicles, agricultural implements, gas engine, etc., according to inventory, which can be seen at our office.

These farms are situated between Beaurepaire and Bay D'Urfe. This will be the last chance of securing a bargain, as all farms from Montreal to Ste. Anne's will sooner or later be covered with residences.

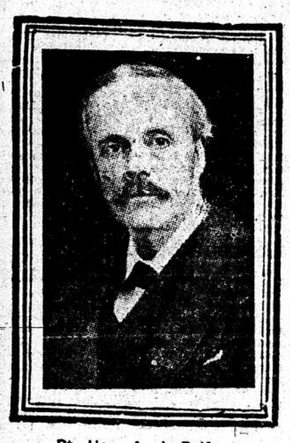
BIRMINGHAM GAVE MR. BALFOUR A WARM WELCOME

Unionist Leader Delivered Slashing Attack on Budget—Mr. Chamberlain Sends Message



Rt. Hon. A. J. Balfour.

New York, September 23.—A London cable to the Tribune says Hon. A. J. Balfour's speech at Birmingham last night contained nothing so aggressive and defiant as Joseph Chamberlain's message. Approval was roared from eight thousand throats when it was known that the veteran statesman, in enforced retirement at Highbury, was eager to have the Lords throw out the budget and force a general election. The enthusiasm of the vast assemblage was unrestrained when Mr. Chamberlain's name was mentioned, and the message was read that he hoped the Lords would see their way to obtain a referendum from the people on the rival financial policies.

Mr. Balfour's own success in commanding the warmest welcome which he has ever received at Birmingham was due to his unequivocal acceptance of Mr. Chamberlain's cause. He described it as a progressive, hopeful and constructive policy for the Kingdom and the Empire, which would produce an adequate revenue for the navy and for social reforms, and contrasted it with the socialistic legislation which was creating wide pread depression and bottomless confusion. While he did not undertake to work out in detail a tariff reform budget, he made it plain that the Unionist party if returned to power would broaden the basis of indirect taxation and would raise the requisite millions by a higher revenue tariff.

His speech has satisfied tariff reformers that he can be depended upon to take up Mr. Chamberlain's work and carry it out. At the same time, he has not needlessly irritated the unconvinced free trader of his own side. His speech was a better debating effort than either that of Lord Rosebery or of Premier Asquith. There were many passages of sustained eloquence, while his criticism of the Government for "Budgeting" for a large surplus and playing fast and loose with socialist demagogues was most destructive.

UNIONIST PRESS IS PLEASED WITH SPEECH

Canadian Associated Press.

London, September 23.—Mr. Balfour, speaking at Birmingham last night, said the old fiscal system had broken down and that the choice now lay between Socialism and tariff reform. It was intolerable that while other empires were forging weapons by which they were going to withdraw from our sphere of commercial influence our own colonies, we should sit by with folded arms, and, hiding ourselves under some antiquated formulae, refuse to look facts in the face. He complained strenuously because the budget did not meet half way, or even quarter way, the offers of the colonies to make with Great Britain a commercial and industrial system, which should not be hostile, but which should in some respects counterbalance the other great commercial systems which were growing up before our very eyes.

Mr. Joseph Chamberlain wrote a letter to the meeting, hoping that the House of Lords would see their way to force a general election. He said he did not doubt what the answer of the country would be.

The Unionist press expresses great delight with what is generally described as a great fighting speech. The Daily Mail says it marks the turning point in the tariff reform campaign. "Upon Balfour has descended the mantle of Chamberlain," it concludes.

Mr. Chamberlain, who heard the speech by electrophone, declared that after Mr. Balfour's speech the Lords were sure to act.

MEETING DECLARES FOR TARIFF REFORM.

New York, September 23.—A London despatch to the Sun says that ex-Prime Minister Arthur Balfour, the Conservative leader, definitely threw down the tariff reform gauntlet in a great speech at Birmingham yesterday.

The Budget, he said, with its dangerous tendency toward slipshod communism, has raised the most important issue for many years, and the nation had now to decide whether it would enter an upward, hopeful, forward movement of tariff reform, or take the first, though in no wise last, step on the downward track which leads to the bottomless confusion of Socialistic legislation.

The country's condition, he said, is not now and never again can be what it was in the halcyon days of British industrial supremacy. There was nothing, unhappily, more certain than that in many of the greatest industries Great Britain was no longer first among her equals, was not even second among her equals, while in some directions she had to rejoice in holding third place.

While America was building up the greatest commercial empire the world has ever known, and while Germany, with unexampled, almost staggering success, had promoted the growth of her own industries, and through the partial, unequal working of the "most favored nation" clause had become the centre of the mid-European body, commercially armed against British competition, it was amazing, even contemptible, that the people of this country should sit by with folded arms, hiding themselves behind the antiquated Free Trade formula, and watch other empires forging the weapons with which they were going to capture Great Britain's colonies from her sphere of commercial influence.

He did not believe the verdict would be long delayed. The opposing forces of the tariff reformers and socialists were marshalling for the conflict, but it would not be the House of Lords or the House of Commons which would decide the issue. It rested with the voice of the people.

The meeting was highly enthusiastic. Everything was done to emphasize in his constituency Joseph Chamberlain's position as the pioneer of tariff reform. His son, the Right Hon. J. Austin Chamberlain, who occupied the chair, read a letter from his father appealing to the democracy of Birmingham to aid in getting the present controversy referred to the people. In the course of the letter, Mr. Chamberlain said:—"I hope the House of Lords will see the way to force a general election and I have no doubt of what the country's answer will be."

The letter was tremendously cheered. Mr. Chamberlain, in his home, Highbury, near Birmingham, listened to Mr. Balfour through an electrophone. The meeting, with a few dissentient voices, adopted a resolution, which pledged the Unionist party's loyalty to Mr. Balfour's leadership, and announces among other things that "recognizing the financial proposals of the government are intended to postpone indefinitely the policy of tariff reform, this meeting declares its determined adherence to that policy as a necessary means of increasing employment at home and strengthening the Empire at large."

Steel Over 51--Crown Reserve $4.85--Mackay Soaring in Wall Street

DOMINION STEEL CROSSES THE 51 MARK TO-DAY

Richelieu 88, Street Ry. 225, Quebec Ry. Higher.

There seems to be no halt to the upward march of Daminion Steel common, and to-day it crossed the 51 point in the face of a weak market in Wall Street.

While various surmises are being made as to the character of the trading in Steel, the general opinion seems to be that it is a public market, and that the buying is based on the now widespread belief that the stock is bound to go higher in the course of time.

There is no fresh news on the stock, and everything is highly favorable, except the rather irregular coal supply. The company has been obliged to purchase United States coal right along, and this is costing, it is said, in the vicinity of $2.70 a ton.

The Penmans movement was less conspicuous, but the price was firm at 57.

Montreal Street Railway was stronger, selling up to 215.

Textile is looking better. There was a sale at 74.

Richelieu showed strength again, selling at 88.

Another strong spot locally was Quebec Railway, which moved up to 57½.

Pacific was off to 181½, but rallied a little.

In Wall Street

A wire to E. & C. Randolph said:—Lehigh Valley had another bad break, and this had an unfavorble effect on the coalers, especially Reading, which was weak, and the rest of the list very general declines during the first hour of trading, Pennsylvania being the only important stock to show any marked resistance to the declining tendency. There did not seem to be much liquidation, however, and the trading fell off greatly at the low level, so that transactions in the second hour were extremely limited. The market has now rallied in a sluggish way from the lowest, but remains very dull. Steel had an extreme decline from its high point of yesterday of 2½ points, which is more than it has had in some time, but continues to show very marked resistance to the declining tendency on the general market, considering the large rise it has had.

SHORT 40,000 SHARES?

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, Ont., September 23. — With the upward movement in Little Nipissing, which was started Tuesday and continued yesterday, a rumor was circulated through mining circles that a big local brokerage house had been caught short over 40,000 shares of the stock.

A Broker in Mining Fraud

Echo of Blue Bell and Highland Mary Exploits.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Cleveland, Ohio, September 23. — William Russell, wanted since 1907 in Toronto on the charge of obtaining money by fraud in connection with the flotation of Blue Bell and Highland Mary mining stock shares, surrendered himself Tuesday to United States Deputy Marshal Clobiz, and was released on $5,000 bonds. He will get a hearing before United States Commissioner Walther to-day.

Although a fugitive from justice is not, under the law, permitted to be admitted to bail, a special arrangement was made with the Ontario Government in the case Russell, mainly because his young wife pleaded so hard for him.

Former Judge F. J. Wing, representing the Ontario Government, let Russell go on a bond signed by Mrs. Russell, on the man's promise to appear when wanted for a hearing. Mrs. Russell, who is considerably younger than her husband, and remarkably handsome, is the owner of a $30,000 home in Lima, Ohio, and also owns the opera house, worth $40,000 in that city.

Russell was arrested in Lima some time ago on request of the Canadian Government, but was released later on bond by a commissioner.

It was feared, however, that he might not show up when wanted, and the first case against him therefore was dismissed, and a new warrant was issued. United States Deputy Marshal Fanning went to Lima to arrest Russell, but could not find him. Russell's wife then began negotiations, which resulted in the getting of permission from the Canadian authorities to release Russell on a bond if he would surrender, whereupon the man gave himself up as stated.

CAUSE OF AIRSHIP FLIGHT OF CROWN RESERVE STOCK

Instead of Selling Some of the Insiders are Increasing Holdings.

Crown Reserve attained another new high mark in its flight to-day, and in explanation of the movement Mr. W. P. O'Brien, who trades very extensively in the stock, said:

"The trtuh is that Crown Reserve is phenomenally rich, and some people are just beginning to realize it. And the stock is scarce. Instead of being tempted to sell at these higher levels, the insiders are in some cases actually increasing their holdings.

"In regard to dividend disbursements there seems every reason to believe that the directors will give the shareholders an extra bonus in December."

Crown Reserve sold at $4.85 to-day, and seemed to be in good demand.

OPINIONS ON THE MARKET

Laidlaw & Co.—The market is more susceptible to reactionary influences, but the general business situations show more substantial and progressive improvement from week to week that it is reasonable, in the light of precedent, to assume that the market will follow its usual course and sell as far above a conservative level as it went below the same line last year.

Oswald Bros.: "New York stocks have reached a point beyond the conservative investment level, and without support of this character the market is more susceptible to reactionary influences.

Burnett — Co. — There seems to be no abatement of the interest in Steel common as the price advances. A member of an active commission house firm says that he regards Reading and Penna. as the two cheapest stocks, and would place Steel common as third.

DR. HERSEY IS TO OPEN NEW MINES

Dr. Milton L. Hersey and his mining engineer, A. Mosco Vici, M.E., left for Cobalt last night to open up the three new silver properties he purchased with Mr. Ascher Pierce from the Ontario Government last week.

These properties are in the Gillies Limit, and the largest adjoins M. J. O'Brien's, next to Waldman's, where the wide vein of native silver was recently discovered.

TOPICS OF THE STREET

The fortunes (on paper) of some of the big Crown Reserve insiders have taken the elevator again for a trip upwards.

The recent advance in the stock has enhanced the market value of their holdings anywhere from $20,000 to $150,000.

The fresh jump in Crown-Reserve will, of course, rekindle the fire in the imaginations of the advertising writers, who try to lure people to buy other stocks by telling the touching story of John Jones, who owed Sam Smith $500, and paid him in Crown-Reserve, then worth 10 cents a share.

"Look at Sam Smith now—riding in automobiles and buying diamond tiaras by the carload."

An advertisement along these lines appeared in one of the American magazines the other day, written by a well-known Montrealer.

It wound up with an appeal to buy Cleopatra-Cobalt.

The Bank of Germany is the only important bank abroad which is carrying less gold than at this time last year. Its supply to-day is below $200,000,000, against $214,000,000 a year ago. The following table shows the amount of gold owned by the principal foreign banks at this time and in the corresponding week last year:

	1909.	1908.
England	£ 40,312,000	£ 38,384,000
France	146,495,000	129,184,000
Germany	39,818,000	42,792,000
Russia	127,578,000	116,379,000
Austria-Hungary	57,797,000	47,841,000
Spain	16,037,000	15,712,000
Italy	38,386,000	37,118,000
Netherlands	10,528,000	7,768,000
Nat. Belgium	4,221,000	4,020,000
Sweden	4,382,000	4,081,000
Switzerland	4,883,000	4,556,000
Norway	1,787,000	1,731,000
Total	£ 492,023,000	£ 449,566,000

That "tip" on Lehigh was good—while it lasted, which was not long.

One foot of the ticker tape on Monday contained sales of three popular, highly-manipulated stocks at one price, 84½.

These were Steel, Amalgamated and Chesapeake and Ohio. All are paying different dividend rates—Amalgamated 2, Steel 3, and C. & O. 4 per cent. So remarkable a coincidence seldom is witnessed, and naturally it created much discussion of the relative merits of these securities.

Was the 2 per cent. issue cheaper than the 4 per cent. one? Or was the 3 per cent. industrial common preferable to either?

Which would be selling highest one year from now?

Heard Usual Swan Song

The Old Chestnut Story of Why a Stock Doesn't Go Up.

Financial Editor, Montreal Star:

Sir,—I have been informed, on what I would call excellent authority, that Nova Scotia Cobalt at 56 or 57 is a first-class investment, and that in the course of five or six months, this stock will have a phenomenal rise. The reason given for the present low price of Nova Scotia is that the directors and the people on the inside are purposely declaring no dividends and not developing the mine to its capacity simply in order to buy in as much of the stock at 56 or 57 as possible, and then they will let it soar.

My informant, who is connected with a reputable brokerage firm, tells me they are taking out the ore in quantities as large as Crown-Reserve, but that the fact is being kept a secret, and further that in a year or so the stock ought to sell at $3 or $4 a share.

I am, however, a little puzzled by the fact that "Scotia" has only shipped 43,000 lbs. of ore during the present year, and during last week none at all, and that Crown-Reserve has shipped over a thousand times as much. So you see, I am rather in a quandary. I may say I am in a position to buy 2,000 shares of this stock on the hope of it going to $2.50 or $3. Would you advise me to do so?

The information referred to above was vouchsafed by a very particular friend of mine, who would certainly have no ulterior motive in advising me as he did.

J. S.

P.S.—Does "Scotia" pay any dividend, and what has been its record so far?—J. S.

"Scotia" does not pay a dividend, and its record has been decidedly erratic.

Made Big Profit On the Mine

Some weeks ago Mr. M. J. O'Brien, of the famous O'Brien mine at Cobalt, purchased a new property from among the Gillis limits for the sum of $10,500, a Mr. Young being associated in the purchase, the property being since known as the O'Brien & Young mine. Valuable silver veins were uncovered and several offers were made for the property, but thinking they were not sufficient, all were declined. Yesterday, however, the statement was made on excellent authority that the mine had been sold for the sum of $400,000.

DID BIG HOLDERS SELL OUT ON THE ARMY OF LAMBS?

Looks Like Loaded Dice in the Lehigh Valley Deal.

If to-day's rumors from Philadelphia are correct, the people induced to buy Lehigh Valley stock on the "tip" that it would go to 140 were neatly trapped.

One wire said: "The Stock Exchange has a story that the Reading and New Jersey Central Companies disposed of their large holdings of Lehigh Valley at an average of 110. This stock, it is said, was bought around $30 a share."

President E. B. Thomas, of the Lehigh Valley, is uncommunicative regarding questions of financial policy. "I give my exclusive attention to operating this property in a way to return as big earnings as I can to the owners," is the way he put it. "If the directors decide that these earnings are of such size as to justify an advance in the present rate it is for them to announce that fact. Miscellaneous earnings have been improving, but the coal traffic is excessively dull."

It looks as if some of the inside stock crew loaded the dice.

MARCONI WIRELESS STOCKS.

Canadian Marconi was 1⅛ to 1¼; American, 9 to 13, and English, 2⅜ to 4.

50 P. C. Over Subscribed

Those Were the Cement Figures Heard on the "Street."

While no official statement was given out, it was stated to-day that the subscriptions for the Cement issue totalled $2,700,000.

As $3,200,000 of the underwriting was taken "firm," that left an offering of $1,800,000 for the public, so that the public issue was about 50 per cent. oversubscribed.

The allotments will likely be made on Monday next.

In the unlisted department to-day, Cement common sold at 31 to 31½.

CHATS ON CHANGE

The party of Montreal and Toronto gentlemen who have just returned from Black Lake were very much impressed with the activity displayed in the various plants of the Amalgamated Asbestos Corporation.

Several of the mills are being enlarged, tunnels are being driven and new tramways erected for the purpose of reducing the cost of production, and as these are nearing completion, the company will soon derive the benefit from them. The pits at Thetford especially are being rushed to full capacity, work being carried on at night with powerful electric lights, and everything is being done to get sufficient ahead of the requirements to enable the company to fill its orders during the winter months, when production is naturally curtailed to some extent.

BIG FLOUR CO. IS TO INCREASE CAPITAL LARGELY

From the Special Correspondent of the ¼ Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chiago, September 23.—James Bell, a leading spirit in the flour world, a high official and big stockholders in the Washburn-Crosby Milling Company of Minneapolis, and who was on 'Change to-day, is a mull on the north-western country, including Canada.

"The greatest country in the world is in the north-west," said the big miller. "We are prosperous to a man, and prosperity will continue to smile upon us. The one thing we are lacking, however, is farmers. We must have more of them in our midst. The boy is going to the city and he remains there. This talk of consumption overtaking production would be set aside with the tilling of our idle soil. There is big money for the farmer and the popular movement now under way will see a big increase in the grain area in the next few years."

When asked as to the reported increase in the capital stock of the Washburn-Crosby Milling concern from $3,500,0000 to $6,000,000, Mr. Bell said that the company is now making preparations to increase its capital. Flour sales by this company since September 1st are reported at 1,800,000 barrels.

Nervousness was a feature in the market, and the trade was large and quite general. While there were no official reports on the receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth for the day, these were estimated at 1130 cars, compared with 1214 cars last Thursday and 1063 cars a year ago.

Winnipeg Receipts.

Winnipeg wheat receipts were 669 cars against 441 cars a week ago and 343 cars a year ago.

The wheat markets of the old world were mainly lower, ⅜d to ⅞d at Liverpool, ½c to ⅜c at Paris, 1¼c at Budapest, and ⅛c at Berlin. There were advances of 1¼c at Antwerp and ¼c at ⅜c Buenos Ayres.

Spot at Liverpool was unchanged to ½c lower, and Paris flour was ¼c higher. Argentina shipments for the week are estimated by Broomhall at 400,000 against actual shipments of 296,000 bushels last weke.

CHAMBRE DE COMMERCE WANTS MORE DETECTIVES

At the first meeting of the Chambre de Commerce after the holiday, Mr. H. Laporte proposed that in view of the great number of bank robberies in the province the Government be asked to increase the number of the provincial detectives. This was endorsed by the Chambre.

In regard to the Montreal Exposition Mr. Laporte said the last news was that the city would shortly give its answer to the request for the loan of $600,000 for the erection of buildings. He felt that the city and all the railway companies would do all in their power to aid them.

Hunting Accident Near Belleville.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Belleville, Ont., September 24.—While Fred. Mills and Bert Bell were out hunting yesterday, Bell tripped and the gun was discharged, the bullet entering Mills' thigh. He will recover.

ENTIRE FAMILY KILLED.

Robbers Murdered Six Persons and Then Fired the House.

Bluefield, W. Va., September 23.—An entire family of six persons were murdered and the bodies of all but one of the victims were burned with their home at Hurley, Buchanan County, Va. The motive was evidently robbery, as the owner of the house, an aged woman, known as "Aunt Betty" Justus, was generally supposed to keep a large sum of money about the place.

Mrs. Justus, her son-in-law, George Meadows, his wife and three children, were the victims. Meadows' body, badly mutilated, was found, lying in the yard of his destroyed home.

Bloodhounds were rushed to the scene and in a short time took up the trail of the supposed murderers. Footprints of three men were found in the soft soil. A posse of citizens, heavily armed, are following the bloodhounds, bent on lynching the murderers if they are captured.

A Victory for Tammany.

New York, September 23.—The Independence League withdrew from the conference of allied Tammany forces which for several days has been trying to agree upon Fusionist candidates for municipal offices. Charles E. Gehring, the Independence League member of the committee on candidates of the Fusionists, said that the League withdrew because it did not desire to be "party to bargaining for offices." The action is regarded as an indirect Tammany victory, since it is the first break in the proposed alliance of opposition to that organization.

HAIR THAT FASCINATES

R. H. Bryson is Willing to Guarantee Parisian Sage Because He Knows it Gives Satisfaction to All Who Use it.

Most druggists know that there is no hair preparation that gives so much satisfaction as Parisian Sage which is now on sale all over Canada.

The reasons are many:

A large, generous bottle for 50 cents.

The only hair tonic that is sure to kill the dandruff germs.

A large generous bottle for 50 cents, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks or money back.

Keeps the scalp cool in summer and free from unpleasant odors.

Will make any woman's hair bewitchingly charming in one week.

Grows hair and makes it soft, brilliant and luxuriant.

Leading druggists everywhere sell Parisian Sage. R. H. Bryson, 501 St. Catherine street west, sells it in Montreal, for 50 cents, on the money-back plan. The girl with the auburn hair is on every package. Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont., Sole Canadian makers.

WINTER QUARTERS NEEDED.

Colonel Fages Notifies Glace Bay Authorities to Provide Them.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Glace Bay, N. S., September 23.—Col. Fages, officer commanding the troops, has sent a communication to the town authorities advising them that unless the town takes steps at once to furnish winter quarters for the militiary he will proceed himself to build the same and in the latter event it will likely cost the town considerably more than if the town authorities did the work.

The Coal Company has made an offer to the town to erect buildings at the net cost of labor and material. The estimated cost is $7,800. The company offers to supply the site without charging rent. The land selected belongs to the company, which will also give as many of its houses as soldiers need without charging rent for these dwellings.

INDIAN WAS ACQUITTED.

Kenora Magistrate Dismissed Murder Charge Laid Against Red Man.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Kenora, Ont., September 23.—Magistrate McLennan yesterday dismissed the charge of murder laid against Joseph Kadegewagan, an Indian, 17 years of age. Kadegewagan was accused of having shot and killed a squaw named Miskikawetung.

The prisoner claimed that he had mistaken the woman for a bear while hunting.

Danderine

GROWS HAIR and we can

PROVE IT!

A lady from Minnesota writes: "As a result of using Danderine, my hair is close to five feet in length."

Beautiful Hair at Small Cost

HAIR troubles, like many other diseases, have been wrongly diagnosed and altogether misunderstood. The hair itself is not the thing to be treated, for the reason that it is simply a product of the scalp and wholly dependent upon its action. The scalp is the very soil in which the hair is produced, nurtured and grown, and it alone should receive the attention if results are to be expected. It would do no earthly good to treat the stem of a plant with a view of making it grow and become more beautiful—the soil in which the plant grows must be attended to. Therefore, the scalp in which the hair grows must receive the attention if you are to expect it to grow and become more beautiful.

Loss of hair is caused by the scalp drying up, or losing its supply of moisture or nutriment; when baldness occurs the scalp has simply lost all its nourishment, leaving nothing for the hair to feed upon (a plant or even a tree would die under similar conditions.)

The natural thing to do in either case, is to feed and replenish the soil or scalp as the case may be, and your crop will grow and multiply as nature intended it should.

Knowlton's Danderine has a most wonderful effect upon the hair glands and tissues of the scalp. It is the only remedy for the hair ever discovered that is similar to the natural hair foods or liquids of the scalp.

It penetrates the pores quickly and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities.

One 25-cent bottle is enough to convince you of its great worth as a hair growing and hair beautifying remedy—try it and see for yourself.

NOW at all druggists in three sizes, 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

MONTEAGLE WAS DESTROYED

Special to the Montreal Star.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., September 23.—The steamer Monteagle, which while on the way from Duluth to Oswego, struck a submerged crib at the upper end of Mud Lake, near Sault Ste. Marie, Sunday night, and had to be beached, caught fire last night and was destroyed. Captain Murphy and the crew, with the exception of the watchman, were asleep when the alarm was given. It is now thought that the fire was caused by spontaneous combustion in the wet wheat, which constituted the cargo.

CHEAP HAIR

is a bad investment, no matter how little you pay for it. The hair goods you buy at "bargain prices" are usually made of Chinese hair, which, along with other cheap grades, is flooding the markets more and more as the demand for a finer quality European hair increases. By clever processes this cheap hair can be made to resemble real hair so closely that the ordinary eye does not notice the difference. Those who have had experience, however, know that Chinese hair has no natural lustre; will not hold the curl, cannot be redressed, and fades when exposed to the sun. It would be advisable therefore to purchase your hair goods at a reliable store—an old established hair house that would lose its reputation instantly if it attempted to substitute cheap dyed hair for natural human hair. Just such a place is Palmer's, 441 St. Catherine street west. Here may be obtained everything for the hair — Pakes, Puffs, Curls, Wavy Switches, Pompadours, Marie Antoinettes, Wigs for ladies and gentlemen, etc.—every piece guaranteed to wear and look well for years. What Makes a Perfect Ladies' Tailored Suit —principally careful attention to details. The little details that go to make a perfect suit—and there are many—we insist upon most severely. Our tailors are trained to recognize the importance of these details. For instance, the handwork of the collar and lapels. The modelling of the curve with every stitch. The accuracy that produces a collar that hugs the neck. The lapel that lies flat against the curves. A shape that all the wear in the world would not remove.

And so on in every stage of the construction of our suits. The details are absolutely perfect. We know their sterling quality will prove their intrinsic worth.

No Flag on Court House.

Brockville, Ont., September 23. — In replying to the Grand Jury's presentment at the close of the assizes here, Chief Justice Falconbridge roundly scored all concerned for the absence of the flag during the assizes. The reason given for the absence of the flag is the fact the front of the building had been removed in order to facilitate recent improvements.
