QUESTIONS WISDOM
OF THE GOVERNMENTLONDON PAPER CRITICIZES
DECISION TO INDEMNIFY
VICTIMS OF RAID.

London, Jan. 21.—2:57 a.m.—The Morning Post discussing the air raid on the east coast of England, questions the wisdom of the recent announcement by the government of its intention to indemnify residents for loss of property, pointing out that the Germans may take advantage by sporadic attacks to drain the government resources.

"Such a pledge, if it amounts to a pledge," says the Post, "encourages the enemy to proceed with its destruction in the hope of crippling our government financially. The damage done to a country by an enemy is not properly a liability of the government of that country. If the French government had pledged itself to make good the loss sustained by the people in the present war it might already be bankrupt."

"To compensate for all damage done is to accept liability which may be dangerous to the state."

The Mail suggests that the raid was only a reconnaissance, a rehearsal preparatory to a more serious raid during the next moonless period, which will be in February.

Other papers consider that the raid was made merely to please the German people.

KILMARNOCK
SCOTCH WHISKYNEW HOSE FOR FIRE DEPARTMENTCIVIC FIRE COMMITTEE GIVES CONTRACT FOR 22,000 FEET.

The Civic Fire Committee at a meeting last night, on motion of Ald. Galibois awarded the contract for the supply of 2,000 feet of "Keystone" hose at $1.10 per foot, to the Canadian Rubber Co. Ald. Collier made an amendment in favor of splitting up the amount between the four tenders, but this was defeated by a small majority. This particular class of hose was thought to be the best to withstand the wear in a city such as this where the winters are so severe.

Ladder For Belvedere Ward.

Chief Hamel reported that a new ladder was required for the fire station in Belvedere Ward, one that could be driven conveniently by two horses. On motion of Ald. Walling, tenders will be called for two different types of ladders and one will be selected. Ald. Walling stated that he voiced the feeling of residents of Belvedere Ward in proclaiming the new fire station erected there as the best in the city, and all were well pleased.

First Aid For Firemen.

Ald. Cote, President of the Fire Committee stated that he had made inquiries as to what would be the cost of a series of lectures on First Aid being delivered to the firemen. The full course, he stated, would be $125. It is likely that the Committee will decide on having the members of the Fire Department instructed in First Aid at a later date.

A letter was read from some citizens of Belvedere Ward complaining that there was no public hall there and it seemed to be in the strain that a space for this purpose should have been made in the upper part of the new fire station in that section. This was ruled as not practical. It was also announced that there are other wards in the city without public halls.

Tenders for clothing of the firemen will be called for. A motion to this effect being made by Ald. Garant.

London, Jan. 21.—4:14 a.m.—A Madrid despatch to The Express says that owing to lack of communication the news has just been received of an earthquake on January 2nd, which did great damage in 18 villages in the region of Asturias, Northern Spain. In one village a score of people were killed.

GERMANY IS URGING ITS GIRLS TO MARRY QUICKLY.

Officials See Need of Early Start Toward Upbuilding the Population Lost in the War.

Amsterdam, Jan. 20.—In order to provide Germany with a rising generation, now certain to be seriously affected by the war, and its demand for the flower of the Empire's manhood at the front, the suggestion is being made broadcast as a result of an official decision that all young women marry at their earliest opportunity. Their association with soldiers only slightly injured or convalescent in the hospitals is urged in the hope that it may result in a union.

Such are the stories repeatedly brought from Berlin, Cologne, Munich and other of the principle cities of Germany. Certain newspapers recognized as practically official organs have dropped hints recently which bear out these tales. It is said the few restrictions upon the marriage of the very young are being ignored and that even some of the handicaps heretofore the heritage of children illegitimately born are being "systematically eliminated" in order to promote and encourage the bearing of children.

GERMANY PLEASED WITH AERIAL RAID.

London, Jan. 21, 3:42 a.m.—An Amsterdam despatch to The Daily Express says: "Reports from Germany declare that the news of the air raid on England has been received there with great enthusiasm. Emperor William has sent a congratulatory message to Count Zeppelin."

RUSSIANS REPORT REPULSE OF GERMAN ATTACKS, WHILE
FRENCH RECAPTURE TRENCHES

Muscovites Have Defeated The Enemy In Western Galicia—Heir To Austrian Throne Pays A Visit To Kaiser—Things Are Very Quiet Again

London, Jan. 20.—The German airships—for they are thus described by the German official report—which paid a four hours visit to the coast towns of Norfolk last night, dropped twenty or more bombs. These killed four persons, injured ten or more others and did considerable damage to property. The report that a fifth person, a soldier, had been killed, proved to be incorrect.

Yarmouth and King's Lynn, the largest towns visited suffered the greatest damage. Eight bombs were dropped in the former town, one of them killing an old man and an old woman, injuring three others and smashing every window within a radius of several hundred yards.

In King's Lynn a woman and a boy were killed by bombs which demolished a row of cottages.

The aircraft also visited Cromer, which, however, was not attacked; Sheringham, where four bombs were dropped, Derwentham, Grimston, Snettisham and Heacham, each of which received one missile. Snettisham and Heacham are within three miles of the King's Sandringham residence, and near the former place, where the windows of the village church were shattered, Queen Mother Alexandra has a summer bungalow.

The constitution of the raiding fleet is still a matter of discussion. Major Astley, who commands the National Reserve at King's Lynn, says that, as the result of information received by him, he will report officially that one of the latest Zeppelin dirigibles took part. Some persons declare that they saw huge airships, but others assert that only aeroplanes and seaplanes participated.

Aeronautical experts are of the opinion, from the size of the bombs dropped—weighing from sixty to one hundred pounds each—that airships of the small non-rigid Parseval type were employed, and as the German official account refers to "airships," it is presumed that these were the ships used. They can be built more quickly than Zeppelins, but are slower and carry less ammunition.

Whether by coincidence or because the British and French authorities had knowledge of the enterprise, more stringent regulations as to lighting came into effect in both Paris and London last night. As a consequence of the raid the insurance rates against damage by aircraft were doubled today and is now from fifty to sixty shillings per cent. A large business was done even at those high rates.

The battles both in the east and the west now consist largely of artillery engagements, with occasional attacks by the infantry. The French claim to have made further progress in the region of Pont-A-Mousson, to which military men attach so much importance. It is predicted that the Germans will launch a heavy offensive, as they did with great success at Soissons, to put a stop to the French advance towards the roads leading to Metz. The Germans have captured some more trenches in the Argonne, but according to the French official report these trenches were re-taken.

The only other matter of importance disclosed by the official statements is an intimation in the Berlin communication that the Germans have taken a counter offensive in Alsace.

In Poland and western Galicia the Germans and Austrians continue isolated attacks against the Russian lines, which, according to the Russian report, have been repulsed with heavy losses to the attacking forces. The Russians are advancing slowly through the mountains separating Bukowina and Transylvania and are approaching Dorna-Watra, a town of some importance near the Roumanian border.

As for the Turkish Caucasian army, it is believed that it will not retire to Erzerum but will be put in readiness for defence against the Russians when they decide to advance. It is considered likely, however, that the Russians will be content for the present with the successes already gained in this region and turn their attention to the Turkish forces in Azerbaijan before invading Turkey.

REQUEST RELEASE OF GERMAN SHIPSBRITISH AND CANADIAN COM-

Ottawa, Jan. 20.—Advices have been received by the government to the effect that British and Canadian shipping interests have made representations to the British authorities for the release of a number of captured German ships. This action results from the taking over of so many ships of British register by the Admiralty and the consequent congestion of traffic. While the sea routes are practically safe from German raiders the rates rule high by reason of the great number of vessels removed from commerce for purposes of war.

The shipping interests deem it perfectly proper to release some of the German ships, man them by Britishers and let them engage in commerce. Over 400 ships have been seized and

FRENCH STATEMENT.

Paris, Jan. 20.—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"Last evening the enemy gained a footing in one of our trenches to the north of Notre Dame De Lorette. This morning he was driven from it following a counter attack, leaving in our hands more than one hundred prisoners."

"During the course of the night of Jan 19-20 in the region of Albert, an attack to the south of Thiepval which had progressed as far as our wire entanglements was thrown back. Three successive attacks on La Boisselle met the same fate."

"In the Argonne an attack by the enemy on La Fontaine Aux Charnes was repulsed after a hand to hand struggle."

RUSSIAN STATEMENT.

Petrograd, Jan. 20.—The following communication from General Headquarters of the Russian army was issued today:

"There is nothing of importance to report of the operations on Jan 19 along our entire front, except the usual rifle firing and cannonading."

"In the region north of Rawa the Germans made two attempts at a partial offensive. These were stopped by our fire and the enemy was compelled to fall back."

"In the evening of Jan 18 the Germans in the region of the village of Vitkorize (on the left bank of Bzura) made an attack against the head of the bridge, under the glare of searchlights, rockets and straw which had been set on fire at a distance of 300 paces. This attack was repulsed by the efficient fire of our artillery."

"The same evening in western Galicia the Germans, after cannonading heavily our positions south of the small town of Radloff and setting on fire two villages behind our positions, made an attack on them. Complete detachments of the enemy reached our barbed wire entanglements, but our destructive fire prevented further progress. They suffered heavy losses and were compelled to fall back on their position."

"In Bukowina our troops are advancing with success. They have occupied, after some fighting, the village of Ichaneschti, about ten miles north of Katra Dorna, where they captured and made prisoners both officers and men."

GERMAN STATEMENT.

Berlin, by wireless to Sayville, Jan. 20.—The following official statement was issued here tonight:

"From Jan. 19 to 20, German airships bombarded the fortified place of Yarmouth and other places on the English east coast. The attack was successful. Considerable damage was done."

"The airships were shelled but regained their home port undamaged."

A few of them sold by auction, but the latter course may not be followed generally.

The Admiralty has the request under advisement.

WAR SUMMARY

The Russians report repulses of German attacks north of Rawa and on the Bzura River, and assert that they defeated with heavy losses the Germans near Radloff, western Galicia. They have made advances also in Bukowina.

The French official statement announces the recapture by the French of one of the trenches taken the day previously by the Germans north of Notre Dame De Lorette.

The French customs administration reports that France's foreign commerce in ten months of 1914 diminished in value to the extent of $400,000,000 as compared with the same period of 1913.

"I not only hope, but I know that we shall be able to fight through this immense struggle. In the domain of financial and economic affairs we are equal to every demand, however long the war may last." This utterance is attributed to Rudolph Havenstein, president of the German Reichsbank and one of the foremost financial authorities in Germany.

Archduke Charles Francis of Austria, heir apparent to the Austro-Hungarian throne, has left Vienna to visit Emperor William at the German headquarters and the new Austrian foreign minister Baron Burian, will leave for Berlin in a few days to visit the German Chancellor and the foreign minister.

From the battlefield word comes that so many men perished during the eight days struggle for the heights across the river from Soissons that four days after the conclusion of the battle the dead lay around in heaps although thousands of men had been engaged without cessation in clearing up the field.

We have been thinking and the more the Oracle talks, the harder the strain on our thinking piece has become. At last we have come to a definite conclusion. "The Oracle never was in Europe." Where he has been hibernating we have not yet decided—but this we do know: that if you take a man of inferior, say the Oracle's intellect, maroon him on a farm with a lot of war literature, keep him there for two or three months, with the only break in the monotony, an occasional visit to Coney Island or Dominion Park, and then suddenly let him loose on an unsuspecting audience, he's liable to imagine he's from anywhere. And that's what we think has happened to the Oracle. We do not intend to correct him however, for it will wear off. We will merely swallow his tales, substituting however, Hoosertown for Berlin, or, say, Lewis for Paris, the shoot the chutes for gondolas, and so forth, absorbing the whole tale thus expurgated, for what its worth. And you, we beseech, do likewise, for, as he himself would say, "what are a few remarks between friends?"

And so likewise our goods, if you don't find them satisfactory, tell us about them. We'll stand it—we need it. We want to have the VERY BEST IN STATIONARY SUPPLIES and criticism will help us get it.

MEN WHO LEAD THE CZAR'S FORCES

FAMOUS AS AUTHORITIES ON VARIOUS BRANCHES OF MODERN WARFARE.

Not much is known outside of Russia concerning the generals who are leading the great Russian armies, and the facts collected by Byron Lomax in Petrograd and communicated to the Philadelphia Ledger are unusually interesting. Despite popular ignorance upon the matter, Mr. Lomax says that before the war the Russian generals were better known than the German generals, some of them being famous as great authorities on various branches of warfare. The commander-in-chief is the Grand Duke Nicholas. Because he happens to be a near relation of the Czar's there is a popular notion that he occupies his present important position by favor and not by merit. This is a mistake, for the Grand Duke has been recognized for many years as one of the most forceful personalities in Russia. He has been a close adviser of the Czar's, and has been a soldier from boyhood. He was president of the committee that controlled all naval and military affairs for Russia at the time of the Russo-Japanese War, and while remembering the Russian blunders in that war, this may seem no great certificate of military efficiency, there is reason to believe that the chief Russian disasters were due to a disregard of his advice.

The Grand Duke.

Nicholas desired to take charge of the Manchurian campaign, but the Czar objected on the ground that defeat for him would bring responsibility for disaster too close to the House of Romanoff. Nicholas said that the chief weakness of Kuropatkin was lack of nerve, that he could not bring himself to fight a decisive battle. He was replaced, therefore, by Limvitch, who had all the confidence of the Grand Duke, but lacked his quickness in seizing an opportunity. Absolute confidence in themselves has been a characteristic of most great soldiers. None of them had more than the Grand Duke. At the outset he made it plain to his staff that its function was to advise him and not decide things. He is not very popular with his officers. He treats them distantly, but he loves the Russian soldier, and is in turn loved by the peasants. While a lieutenant may object to address a lieutenant as "High-Wellborn-ness," he will speak of the Commander-in-Chief as "Father," and the Grand Duke in turn speaks of the soldiers as his "children."

A Real Fighting General.

Grand Duke Nicholas is, in fact, a rather rough, tough sort of commander, choleric, but warm-hearted. When his generals blunder it is said that he gives vent to his emotions by "cussing them out." More than once in the course of the present campaign he has had brought before him private soldiers who have distinguished themselves in battle, and has publicly kissed them. He plans his campaign some 80 miles behind the fighting line, and as soon as he has come to his decision he goes to the front in his automobile. Several times he has been actually under fire, but the great alarm of his staff, but the Grand Duke seems to delight in the thunder of the great guns. It is said that if the Russian ranks should show a disposition to waver all that is necessary to turn them into walls of steel is to send the whisper along that "Father Nicholas" is coming.

A Student of Warfare.

His chief of staff is a young man of poor physique and unimpressive appearance. This is Yanushkevitch, a Pole. He is not the fighting man that the Grand Duke is, but a scientific soldier who studies war as a man might study a game of chess. He is credited with having planned the present plan of campaign, although the Grand Duke has modified some of his suggestions. He and the commander-in-chief are said to have differed radically as regards the invasion of East Prussia. Nicholas, however, had a political motive in view. He ordered the raid which penetrated as far as Königsberg and Allenstein to relieve the pressure upon the Allies in Flanders. It achieved this end, but one of its results was the disaster at Tannenberg, where the Russian General Samsonoff was killed and nearly four army corps wiped out of existence, because the main advance on Posen and Breslau was not ready. After this battle the chief of staff offered his resignation to the Grand Duke, but it was not accepted.

Two Noted Generals.

General Alexander Brusilov, who commands against the Austrian flank on the slopes of the Mid-Carpathians, is said to be the coolest, boldest and most unsparring of the Russian generals. He is a believer in the frontal attack, which he holds to be, on the whole, less costly than the more popular flanking assault, because it is over quicker and requires fewer men. In time of peace he is devoted to art and poetry. Ruszki, the conqueror of Galicia, is the most popular of the Russian generals. He is the picturesque, chivalrous figure, who issues notable addresses to his troops and fires them with fanatical zeal. Before the war he was considered a mere theorist, but as such occupied the highest rank in Europe. He has proved himself a daring commander in the field and is credited with having more imagination than any of his colleagues.—Mail and Empire, Tor.

WORLDS OF THE UNIVERSE.

All Might Be Annihilated and Not Affect the Solar Systems.

I am asked, "Are distant stars which shine by their own light visible only, or are worlds like our earth visible by reflected light?"

Go to Neptune, our own last local world in our modest solar system; turn around, look back this way; then you must have a large telescope to see the earth. Only the sun of all bodies in our solar system is visible from space deeps. And it looks like the point of the finest sewing needle from stellar distances.

Thus from space depths only suns at terrific heat are visible in any telescope, even the largest that can be made. Then all worlds are invisible and unknown. The earth and man are both totally unknown to people on worlds revolving around any of the hundreds of millions of other suns, if there are such worlds and inhabitants.

Imagine that there are 1,000,000,000 suns, each surrounded by eight worlds like those revolving now around our sun. Then if an accident suddenly annihilated the 8,000,000,000 worlds, people and all, the accident could not even be noticed. The suns would all move on with velocities in between four and eighty miles per second precisely as if there had been no accident. Thus if there are intelligences in the depths of the sidereal universe they have not heard of man nor his infinitesimal world—the earth.—Edgar Lucien Larkin in N.Y. American.

BRAGGART'S PROGRAM.

Remarkable Record of Unaccomplished Feats.

To realize the depth of the German depression one has only to recall some of the things which the Kaiser and his minions threatened to do at the outbreak of the war. They boasted that the British Empire would not hold together—that Egypt, India, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand would all "cut the painter." They boasted that we were impotent, that we had more and more become a nation of gentlemen at ease and of sportsmen, and that it was very doubtful if our army could act effectively on the offensive against Continental European troops. Having been taught by their professors that it was their mission to conquer and convert us, they boasted they could do it. They would enter all capitals. They would humiliate proud London. When war broke out the German Emperor arranged for his stay in Paris, where he expected to arrive between August 15 and 20. A cinematograph firm was engaged to take a film of the imposing entry. France was to have peace at the price of territory, colonies and £800,000,000. The boasting Germans were to be in London a fortnight later, and the Emperor was to review his glorious troops, presumably in Hyde Park. Field Marshal von Haesler did some bragging of his own. He announced that he would be in Paris before September 10 or commit suicide; that 300,000 Germans would beat 3,000,000 Russians and take Petrograd; that the British fleet would be destroyed to the last pinnacle before the end of September; that German troops would be landed at Dover in November; and on the taking of London 100 English journalists would be shot in the streets. One boast, however, they have stopped repeating. We no longer hear that German financial credit is better than ours. And they are far from enthusiastic about the condition of German commerce. Little by little, it may be hoped, the whole truth will dawn upon the braggarts, though they will not acknowledge until they must that the measure has been taken of the German mission to free the universe from "the nightmare of English world-oppression."

TALKS WITH THE DEAD.

Sir Oliver Lodge Is Certain That Soul Survives Death.

Sir Oliver Lodge, president of the Society for Psychical Research, recently made a striking declaration of his spiritual faith. He expressed his absolute conviction of a future existence and stated that he had conversed with friends who had passed away.

Sir Oliver said that once he realized that consciousness was something outside of the mechanism it made use of one realized that survival of existence was naturally the simplest thing.

It was unreasonable, he added, that a soul should jump out of existence when the body was destroyed.

"We ourselves are not limited to the few years that we live on this earth. We should go on without it; we should certainly continue to exist; we should certainly survive."

"Why do I say that? I say it because I know that certain friends of mine still exist, because I have talked to them."

"Communication is possible. One must obey the laws and find out the conditions. I do not say it is easy, but I say it is possible, and I have conversed with them as I could converse with any one in this audience."

"Now, being scientific men, they have given proof that it is real, not an impersonation, not something emanating from myself. They have given definite proofs. Some of them are being published. Many are being withheld for a time, but will be published later."

"I tell you that it is so with all the strength of conviction I can muster—that it is so; that we do persist; that people still take an interest in things going on; that they will help us and know more about the things that we do and that they are able from time to time to communicate with us."

"I know that man is surrounded by other intelligences. If you once step beyond man there is no limit until you come to the infinite intelligence itself. Once having gone beyond man you go on and must go on until you come to God."

"But it is no strange land to which I am leading you. The cosmos is one. We here on this planet are limited in certain ways and blind to much that is going on; but I tell you that we are surrounded by beings, working with us, co-operating and helping, such as people in visions have had some perception of, and that which religion tells us saints and angels are. That the Master himself is helping us is, I believe, literally true."

Sir Oliver is one of the best known leaders of the Society for Psychical Research and one of the most courageous defenders of the theory that the occult may itself be a science with laws of its own, for all that its phenomena are intangible.

In the summer of 1908 there were widespread reports that he and some of his friends had had unquestionable communication with Edmund Gurney, Dr. Richard Hodgson, Frederic W. H. Myers and other persons no longer living. These stories were quite circumstantial and declared that the communication had been established through several mediums, among them Mrs. Margaret Verrall, wife of the Cambridge professor; Mrs. Piper and Mrs. Holland.

LOOKING FOR CHIEF.

British Government Seeks the Man Behind Lieutenant Lody.

Since the execution of the German spy, Lieut. Lody, who was shot in the Tower of London, remarkable details have come to light concerning his career. He appears to have represented the executive side of the German spy system in Great Britain. His duty was to carry through plots arranged in Berlin, to disguise himself and be everywhere. Behind him, mapping out the ground, was Geo. Steinhauer.

Lody was brave and skilful, quick to sustain a false character, always relevant and useful in his reports. But he and the rest of his agents danced on wires worked by the hand of Steinhauer. The latter has had a liberal education in his profession. Six years ago he was a member of the German police force, but his subtlety and lightness of touch marked him out for greater things. He was transferred to the navy and took an elementary course in espionage. Promotion came to him rapidly. He mastered facts and figures rapidly, and soon had the strings of the system in his hands.

In the course of every spy trial held in Great Britain recently Steinhauer has been in court. His workmen have been caught while he has remained anonymous and free. It is a matter of thankfulness that the police are now in full possession of his history and the way in which he works. Whether he will fall into a trap is doubtful, but it is certain that his country will not see him again in the near future.

Lody was probably a man of gentler birth than his master. He did not serve in the police, but entered the navy from his home in Berlin. Whether he devoted himself to spying from the very outset does not seem to be clear. It is possible that the opportunities for extensive travel and social intercourse with many people caused him to drift into the sec-

WHY CHILLY WEATHER BRINGS RHEUMATISM

SAYS SKIN PORES ARE CLOSED AND URIC ACID REMAINS IN BLOOD.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color, or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well.

Get service as much by accident as by design.

ALBERTA FARMERS

FOR PROHIBITION.
Edmonton, Alta., Jan. 20.—James Speakman of Innisfail, was elected president for 1915 of the United Farmers of Alberta, just before the close of the afternoon session today.

A passing reference in his speech to the coming prohibition plebiscite in Alberta showed the attitude of the convention on this question. He referred to the resolution passed two years ago favoring prohibition, and said he hoped, when the vote was taken next July, that all the Unions would get out and work to pile up a big majority against the liquor traffic.

The following resolution was carried: "Resolved that the government be asked to provide legislation whereby the farmer may secure cheaper money and a better line of credit, which he believed can be secured by means of co-operative credit associations."

A resolution was passed urging the organization of a wholesale distributing society on a purely co-operative basis, owned and controlled by the local unions of the U. F. A.

POSTUM

Coffee contains a powerful irritant—caffeine (also in tea)—which first races the body functions to unnatural speed, and then leaves them in a state of exhaustion. Result—weak heart, nervousness, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness and many other ills and discomforts.

Postum—made only of prime wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses—is a pure food-drink, absolutely free from caffeine or any other drug or harmful substance.

Postum has delightful flavour, and comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled, 15c and 25c packages; Instant Postum—soluble, made in the cup instantly, 30c and 50c tins. The cost per cup is about the same for both kinds.

Suppose you leave off both coffee and tea ten days and try Postum—and better health.

ZEPPELINS VIOLATED HOLLAND'S NEUTRALITY

BRITISH GOVERNMENT WILL PROBABLY LODGE
A FORMAL PROTEST WITH NETHERLANDS — RAID ON FRIEDRICHSHAVEN RECALLED.

London, Jan. 20.—The most important feature of the latest German exploit, the air raid on the Norfolk coast towns last night which cost four lives, is, in the London view, the presumption that the raiders, both in coming and returning violated the neutrality of Holland.

All despatches from Amsterdam received since the raid positively declare that the airships passed directly over the outer Frisian Islands and it is considered in the highest degree probable that the government will make a formal protest to the Netherlands government.

Although the loss of life and property in last night's raid was insignificant compared to that of the more spectacular sea raid on the Yorkshire coast, public indignation runs, if possible, even higher than after that event, and every comment heard is chiefly concerned with the question of the violation of Holland's borders.

An especially interesting feature of the case is that it is only a short time since Germany herself formally protested to Switzerland against an alleged breach of her neutrality by the French and British aeroplanes while making for Friedrichshaven. On that occasion, it is remembered here, the alleged raiders were able to demonstrate beyond doubt that they had passed only over French and German territory. In the present case there seems to be no doubt that the Germans passed above the Frisian Islands, if not over a portion of the mainland.

WESTERN FAIR BOARD ASKS FOR SUBSIDY

London, Ont., Jan. 20.—A deputation is to wait upon the Dominion government shortly to ask for a grant of at least $25,000 to the Western Fair Board this year. Alterations to the buildings to accommodate troops in training and the destruction of the main grandstand by fire recently have meant an increased outlay.

BERLIN SAYS ALLIES' OFFENSIVE CHECKED

Berlin, Jan. 20.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The Russian offensive at Radzanowa, at Biezan and at Sierpe, in northern Poland near the border of West Prussia, reported in the German official bulletin issued on Tuesday last, appears to have been a part or a continuation of the Russian offensive already reported at the first named place.

The Russians seem to have received reinforcements in this region and to have advanced in an extended front either directly northward toward the East Prussian frontier or toward the west. Their repulse as announced by the Germans is considered by military officials here to have removed any present danger in that locality.

Local experts believe that the battle of Soissons in France marked the end of their offensive for some time, and that the Allies will wait until they are stronger before resuming the conflict.

Justice of Peace Praises Dr. Chase's Ointment

After Nine Years of Agony He Escaped an Operation by Using This Great Healing Agent.

As a means of healing sores and wounds that defy ordinary treatment Dr. Chase's Ointment has long stood supreme. It is known far and wide as a positive cure for eczema and piles. Whatever uncertainty there may be about the results obtained by the use of medicines taken internally there can be no question of the healing of the skin when Dr. Chase's Ointment is applied. You can actually see with your own eyes just what takes place. The sore parts are cleansed, and gradually the new skin is formed and the sore becomes smaller and smaller, until it finally disappears. It is often wonderful the results which are accomplished in a single night by the use of this great healing ointment. Mr. N. A. Heath, J.P., Pith Bay, Que., writes:—"Nine years ago I was taken with an abscess, and cannot begin to describe what I have suffered as a result. I was examined by two doctors, both of whom said I would have to undergo an operation to be cured. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Ointment, it has rendered an operation unnecessary, and has completely cured me. I cannot say enough in praise of this wonderful ointment which cured me after nine years of agony."

THE EXTENSION OF QUEBEC RAILWAY

QUESTION OF ORDINARY FARE TO CITY LIMITS IS AIDED IN COUNCIL.

The question of forcing the Quebec Street Railway to extend their lines to the city limits in Belvedere Ward, was brought up at a meeting of the Civic Road Committee last night. The Quebec County Railway, which is operated by the Q. R. L. & P. Co., opened their Silley line with the understanding that after five years operation directors of the company would confer with officials of the Municipality of Montcalmville for an extension. This, it is said, has not been done. As this special franchise had not been approved by the Montcalmville Council it is thought to be worthless. Mr. O. Morin, one of the City's Legal Advisors, is under the impression that the City could annul the franchise on the grounds that it is not legal.

City Engineer Baillarge was instructed by the committee to prepare plans for the extension of the line to the limits of the City in Belvedere Ward, these to be put before a future meeting of the Road Committee and subsequently before the Quebec Street Railway.

This decision was arrived at mainly because transfers from city cars are not accepted on the Quebec County Railway. The present method of the Q. R. L. & P. in excavating on streets that are paved, for the installation of gas pipes or to make repairs to them, was also criticized at the meeting. The City would hold the Company responsible for any portion of the street affected by these excavations.

Dorchester Bridge.

It was announced that the Dorchester Bridge would be completed and ready for traffic in twelve or fifteen days. Ald. Verret is convinced that the bridge should be rechristened and suggested that it be called the "Bridge of the Allies" in commemoration of the present war, which is bound to change the map of Europe. In view of the practice followed out in other large cities, Ald. Galibois favored calling it the Laurier Bridge. No decision was reached.

Ald. Martin put a petition before Ald. Lavigne, the chairman, and members of the committee, signed by about 300 residents of St. Roch's, requesting that ornamental lamps be placed on Bridge street. The alderman thought it would be a good improvement to have these lights, now that the bridge is nearly completed.

Mayor Drouin favored the request being left over until the Quebec Bill is dealt with by the Legislature. This was done.

The Quebec Brick Co., sent in a protest over the contract not being signed yet by the City for the carting of stone from the Quarry at Beauport to different wards in the city. Some time ago the City Fathers decided on having this stone transported during the winter months in order to give work to as many unemployed laborers here as possible. The Committee agreed to sign the contract, but decided not to have the stone delivered for the time being.

Ald. Dinan registered a protest Champlain street not being lighted at different times. Ald. Verret told him that he goes home too late at nights, to which the complaining alderman replied that he went to the City Hall too early.

STEEL SYNDICATE MEETS IN GERMANY

Dusseldorf via London, Jan. 20.—10:45 p.m.—German steel manufacturers held a meeting here today with the object of extending the operations of the syndicate in steel products. The Association comprises only rail and construction steel manufacturers and an endeavor is being made to include in the syndicate the makers of iron bars, sheet iron, tubes and wire. A committee was selected at the meeting today to prepare for the formation of a syndicate which will embrace these branches of the industry.

WINNIPEG HAS BIG PATRIOTIC FUND.

Winnipeg, Jan. 20.—According to an audited statement issued today by the General Committee of the Manitoba Patriotic Fund and the Winnipeg Patriotic Fund, there had been subscribed towards this fund up to the end of 1914 the sum of $891,386, of which $282,838 has been paid in. Of this amount there was at the end of the year a bank balance of $39,731.

The families of 1,388 soldiers are at present being assisted, while to date 1,441 families have received assistance from the unemployment fund.

SALE OF ABSINTHE.

Paris, Jan. 20.—6:15 p.m.—The License Committee of the Chamber of Deputies has decided to submit a report favoring the prohibition of the sale of absinthe.

The Commerce Commission of the Chamber began today the consideration of the rehabilitation of industries ruined by the war, methods of manufacturing products formerly supplied by now hostile countries and the question of finding a foreign market for the output.

WOLVES DIG UP EARTHQUAKE VICTIMS

Avezzano, Jan. 20.—Snow continued to fall throughout the day and in the Apennines reached a depth of several feet, adding to the suffering of the people and in some instances causing death. Wolves driven by hunger have left their dens on the tops of the mountains, especially Mount Sirente, which is 7,000 feet high, and attacked small villages. Near Ajelli they tried to dig up the newly buried bodies of the dead. They were hunted by soldiers and several of them killed. The others escaped.

The director general of police, who is a member of the Carnegie Hero Fund, has sent an official into the earthquake region to investigate acts of heroism in order that rewards may be conferred.

TEAMSTER KICKED A GERMAN BOMB AND DROVE ON

YARMOUTH SENTRY DISTRI-BUTES PORTIONS OF ONE
MISSILE AS SOUVENIRS.

Yarmouth, via London, Jan. 20.—Two of the German bombs which failed to explode were seen by the Associated Press representative today. In appearance they were like giant lead plums and, when standing upright, reached to a point several inches higher than a sentry's knee. The bombs were exhibited to the public in the army, which itself was showered with steel during the raid.

One of the bombs broke in the fall and lumps of a yellowish substance taken from it were distributed by a sentry as souvenirs. This mass was simply a wax packing which had been used inside the shell probably in order to give more force to the explosive. One of the bombs was found this morning lying under the hoofs of a teamster's horse. The teamster, ignorant of its nature, kicked the bomb away and drove on.

The effect of the explosions in Yarmouth was terrific, exceeding that of the eight-inch shells dropped into Scarborough during the recent sea raid both in direct effect and concussion. The bomb which killed the man and woman hit in the street by the side of a bay window of a house and made a hole into which the front of the house tumbled. Across the street the walls of an ironmonger's house partly collapsed and the neat little home of a mechanic was partially ruined.

Other shells tore big holes in the pavement on the scaffold and the concussion from the explosions shattered nearby windows. The woodwork of the adjacent houses was cut by scraps of steel and probably by bullets from the bombs. The superstructure of a small steamer at a dock was riddled like a pepper box.

The aircraft was so high and the sky so black that its character could not be distinguished, although it flashed its searchlight. The people of Yarmouth having cellars slept in them last night.

NO GERMAN BAND FOR NIAGARA FIREMEN.

St. Catharines, Ont., Jan. 20.—The firemen of Niagara-on-the-Lake, having a difficulty in securing an orchestra for their New Year's ball, engaged a German organization from Buffalo, but were obliged to cancel the contract because many of the residents declared they would not attend a dance if a Canadian orchestra could not be procured. It is understood that the German musicians intend to retaliate by refusing to play for any Canadian organization that puts foot in Buffalo.

STOLEN BRASS RECOVERED.

Toronto, Jan. 20.—The police of this city have recovered 29,000 pounds of copper wire, mostly the property of the Hydro System, and 400 pounds of brass journals belonging to the C. P. R., which were stolen in the most barefaced fashion within the past few weeks. Three electrical linemen and three Toronto junk dealers are under arrest. The derailment of a car at London necessitating the transfer of the cargo, gave the clue. Some of the thefts were committed in the most open fashion, the poles of the Scarborough division of the York Radial being stripped for a distance of two miles in broad daylight and before the eyes of many passers by.

SYMPHONY SOCIETY CONCERT

All the members of the Symphony Society are working hard to make the concert they are so kindly giving in aid of the Red Cross Funds of this city a great success. The concert will be both patriotic and artistic and promises to be one of the most pleasing event of the season, and with the assistance of the ladies of the Red Cross Society and their friends it will no doubt also prove a financial success. Tickets can be procured from Mdm. Geo. Tessier, Treasurer, and Miss Carter, Secretary, Red Cross Society.

RED CROSS NURSE DOING GOOD WORK

TORONTO LADY NOW AT THE FRONT WRITES MOST IN-TERESTING LETTER.

While the man in khaki is bearing the brunt of the battle in the firing line the Red Cross nurse is performing as important and in many cases, as dangerous, a work not very far away from where the shells are bursting and the big guns send forth their messengers of death. They know neither danger nor fatigue but quietly and courageously go about their mission of mercy. Upon their armlet they bear the Red Cross sign, but this has not prevented the Germans on many occasions from firing upon them in order that they may be prevented from succoring and binding up the wounded and the fallen.

These are brave women and when the smoke of battle has died away and peace has once again been restored upon the continent of Europe the work that they have performed and the brave acts they have done will be written in letters of gold in the imperishable annals of British history. That the work of the Red Cross nurses does not merely comprise looking after and tending the wounded will be shown by the following intensely interesting account of the work of Lieut. Amy Neale, whose letter to her brother, Lieut. J. B. Neale, of the 10th Royal Grenadiers, of Toronto, was recently published in the Toronto Sunday World.

In the course of her letter Miss Neale, says:

"A short time ago a very long train stopped at our siding about 10 p.m. It contained two complete hospitals from India, one for the natives and one for the British Indian wounded. Just imagine how cold they were. They had left India in the hot weather and had come straight to Boulogne and Marseilles. We gave them hot tea, as we always have boiling water ready, and in the morning I got the sisters into the dispensary to have a good warming. Poor things, they were grateful as they had spent the night in the train and, of course, when the engine was taken off the carriages were not heated. One of these Indian hospitals is now housed at a beautiful hotel facing the sea with the tents round it.

"I was on duty here at the station," continues Miss Neale, "where we heard the sad news of Lord Roberts' death; one says 'sad' and yet it seemed the right thing and what we would, no doubt, have liked. One of the railway officials said: 'We were also with you, my sister.' He had tears in his eyes when he spoke."

Miss Neale then goes on to speak of the ambulance trains, which are capable of taking three or four hundred cases and are equipped splendidly. The bunks are arranged something like a Pullman, and there is a dispensary and a kitchen on board, as well as quarters for nursing and surgical staffs.

The duties of the Red Cross nurse are varied as will be seen from the following example described in Miss Neale's story. Early one morning some Frenchmen were waiting on the platform for their train for the front. They were not soldiers, but were going to dig trenches. It was bitterly cold and they were invited to partake of a hot drink. They were all lined up and were given hot cocoa and bread and butter. The commanding officer wanted to pay but when told that there was no charge he insisted on giving a donation to the Red Cross work. "Never, never, will I forget the Red Cross," he said.

Miss Neale then cites what she describes as a "queer" case. A young lieutenant, coming to Boulogne in charge of guns captured from the Germans, fell out the train on the way as they were going through a tunnel. He was traveling in a van, with all his guns, of course, no one knew. He lay on his stomach while the train passed by, feeling things touching him all the time, afraid to stir and expecting every second to be caught up and dragged. However, he luckily escaped that and as soon as he was sufficiently recovered, got up and walked to the station along the line. He was then sent round to Miss Neale for first aid.

"It was a wonderful escape," says Miss Neale, "as he only had one slight scalp wound and one bruise at the back of the head, but, oh, the dirt. One does not get the cleanest sort of people in a London hospital, but after a fortnight or three weeks in the trenches, well, as the London doctor said, 'There ain't no word.' I simply had to give him a shampoo before I could reach the wound."

Nurse Neale has graphically described the various duties that fall to the lot of the Red Cross nurse at the battle front and near the base, where the wounded men are restored to health and in many cases, almost brought back to life, so terrible are the conditions under which they are fighting at the present time. It will be readily realized that this work can only be carried on successfully if the people of Canada give it their hearty support both in material and actual cash.

It will be necessary to prepare for many more months of war and as long as this dreadful campaign lasts so will comforts be needed for the

CANDIDATE IN JACQUES CARTIER

Montreal, Jan. 20.—Mr. J. A. Descarries, K.C., was selected at a Conservative convention at the party headquarters on St. Francois Xavier Street, this afternoon as a candidate for the Federal constituency of Jacques Cartier, to succeed the late Hon. F. D. Monk. Addresses were given by the nominee, and Hon. C. J. Doherty, Hon. Louis Coderre and Hon. Mr. Blondin, and a resolution was passed congratulating the Borden government on its war policy and pledging entire support to the government.

troops and money needed to purchase necessities for use in the hospitals and near the trenches where the wounded men are given first aid. So much can be done in the way of knitting circles, entertainments, contests of various kinds, and those who unselfishly give up some of the more frivolous enjoyments of life and take up the more serious ones as befits the present period in our national history will be rendering a service to their country and their countrymen as valued as those who are actually engaged in the force of arms.

A FATAL ACCIDENT.

Stratford, Ont., Jan. 20.—Frederick Wurdell, aged 50, of Mitchell, was fatally injured today when he was pinned beneath a gasoline engine he was attempting to move. The man's back was broken.

BELGIAN FUGITIVES MUST RETURN HOME.

London, Jan. 21.—2:40 a.m.—Brussels despatches to Reuter's Telegram Company, by way of Amsterdam, says that some of the Belgian municipalities have prepared to impose a special tax on well-to-do Belgians who refuse to return to their country. The German authorities, thinking favorably of the idea, propose to make the tax effective for all of Belgium. A fugitive who fails to return to Belgium by March 1st, will be obliged to pay tenfold personal tax. The poor are exempt. The revenues will be divided equally between the Germans and the Belgian municipalities.

HE PREFERRED DEATH TO PRISON WALLS.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Rather than go to the pen as a confessed forger of whiskey warehouse receipts to the amount of $250,000, Charles Ledowsky, 50 years old, president of Fox River Distilling Company for which a receiver was appointed this week, shot and killed himself on a steeping car just as it reached the city today. The Continental and Commercial Bank of Chicago, was the heaviest loser of the dozen banks which have handled Ledowsky's paper, attorneys said. The Continental and Commercial Bank holds paper on which it advanced $50,000. Most of the receipts are on the R. E. Wathen Distilling Company and the Poyntz Bros. both Kentucky concerns.

RUSSIANS VS. AUSTRIANS.

London, Jan. 21.—3:17 a.m.—A Bucharest despatch to The Daily Mail describing the Russian invasion of Hungary, says:—"During the night of January 16th, a Russian force, descending from Fumoul Moldovi, in the south-west corner of Bukovina, passed over Mount Colacul and advanced as far as Czakaneschtie, near Jacobi, where the Austrian artillery was massed. These troops were supported by two other columns and their front ran through Czakaneschtie, Jacobi and Valie Petni. "To avoid being surrounded the Austrians retired from Petzekanish towards Jacobi. The fight continued night and day during Sunday and Monday and is still proceeding."

SOISSONS PLATEAU IS STILL STREWN THICK WITH DEAD

RESULTS OF GERMAN SUCCESS
THERE ARE REGARDED AS IMPORTANT.

Before Soissons, Jan. 18th, by Courier to Berlin, Jan. 20, via London, Jan. 21, 3:35 a.m.—At the headquarters of a certain German army yesterday evening Gen. Von Kluck and his staff celebrated the battle and their success at Soissons in typical German military fashion, with a simple soldiers' meal, a bowl of punch brewed by the expert hands of Von Kluck himself, a graceful little speech by the General and a silent toast to the dead—both French and German.

The earth was still dropping on the graves of the fallen. So many men perished during the eight days of the bitter struggle for the heights across the river from Soissons that today the fourth day after the conclusion of the battle, the plateau and gorges are still strewn thickly with dead, although 4,000 members of the Landstrum have been engaged without a pause in clearing up the battlefield.

Most of the German dead have been given to the earth. But French infantrymen in their far-to-be-seen red and blue uniforms, swarthy faced, turcos, colonials, alpine riflemen and bearded territorials are still sprawling in attitudes natural and unnatural along the heights, in the deep gorges of the plateau and across the flat valley bed on the north shore of the Aisne.

The Associated Press representative was the first and up to the present the only newspaper man to inspect the battlefield and have opportunity to supplement the brief official reports with descriptive details gathered on the spot.

The results of the Germans' success are regarded here as highly important. The French were completely expelled from the heights north of the Aisne-Vantage ground from which they had hoped to launch a successful attack against the big elbow in the German line—and driven across the river which now runs brim full and at many places is over flowing its banks between the two armies.

The French retain a foothold north of the river only at one point—St. Paul—where the bridge from Soissons crosses, and hold this apparently on sufferance, since the bridge head is completely commanded by German artillery on the heights.

The river at this time forms an effective barrier to any repetition of an attempted French offensive on this section of the line. The battlefield covers a front of seven miles. On the western side is a deep valley running northward which is bounded in either side by turnpikes from Soissons to La Fere and Laon. A high, level plateau rises steeply a couple of hundred feet from the valley of the Aisne and from this side of the valley forms the centre and eastern flank of the battlefield. The plateau is deeply notched by three sided ravines running down to the Aisne and through which the French were able to bring up supports unnotified and without danger to positions on the plateau.

The battle began Jan. 8th with a French attack up the valley to the west between the two turnpikes. The attack had been prepared for by a terrible artillery bombardment. Field guns and heavy artillery concentrated their fire on this section of the German trenches and there was such a rain of shell and shrapnel on the defenders that they were unable to make an effective defense against the French infantry attack. The French with great dash carried part of the German positions, but by their success they damped the vigor of their artillery bombardment.

PRUSSIANS ADVANCE THEIR RAILWAY LINE.

Berlin via London, Jan. 20.—The Prussian railways announce the opening of private freight traffic to Skienewice, which lies only a few miles to the rear of the German positions on the Rawka river, in Russian Poland. The connections for freight traffic heretofore have reached only as far as Wloclawek.

SMOTHERING OF ASTHMA STOPS QUICK THOUSANDS CURED BY "CATARRHZONE"

Count Ten—Then Relief Comes From Chronic Asthma.

Nothing yet discovered can compare with Catarrhzone in bad, ugly cases of Asthma.

Catarrhzone is the one remedy that can be sent quickly and directly to all parts of the breathing apparatus.

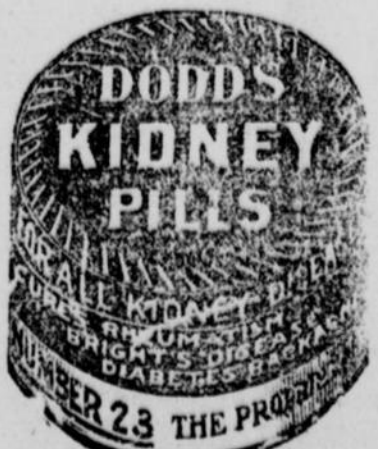

The effect from Catarrhzone is a quick one—you feel better in no time—keep up the good work. Use Catarrhzone as directed and you get well.

If your case is curable, if anything on earth can rid you permanently of Asthma, it will be Catarrhzone. It contains that strangely soothing and powerful antiseptic found in the Blue Gum Tree of Australia; and this is fortified by other germ-killing properties which, when so scientifically combined, make Catarrhzone a veritable specific for Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchitis.

Even though many other remedies have failed—even though you are discouraged and blue—cheer up and try Catarrhzone today. What it repeatedly has done for others it will surely not fail to accomplish for you.

Catarrhzone is not expensive. One dollar will buy a complete outfit from any druggist. The money will be well spent because your immediate improvement in health will surpass your fondest expectations. Don't fail—today is the time to use Catarrhzone.

THE ZEPPELIN RAID.

The long-promised Zeppelin raid on England has taken place but, from all accounts, the German baby-killers did not secure a very big bag, the visit resulting in more noise than destruction, a result which is very likely to attend future raids of a similar nature. The Germans, it appears, rely very much on noise as a terrorizing influence but if they think that noise has much effect on the Britisher, they are very likely to be unfoolish at an early date. What we do know is that the killing of innocent people in defiance of the ordinary rules of warfare will increase the determination of the British nation to crush the Prussian rivals of Attila and his barbarians.

We may take it that this raid was in the nature of a trial trip and will be followed by others of which London may be the objective.

The question arises as to whether these aerial raids can be carried out on a large scale. The author of that excellent book, "Can Germany Win", does not think they can. He says, "as for a concerted Zeppelin raid on London, I do not believe that the German authorities have sufficient faith in their aircraft to risk a fiasco of such dimensions that all future dread of Zeppelins would be drowned in laughter."

That the Zeppelins will be used to the utmost he does not doubt but he considers they are much over-rated. He estimates that at the most Germany could not assemble more than thirty airships for a combined raid and of these only the Zeppelins—sixteen, or at the very outside twenty—could do any appreciable damage.

The next point which he discusses is whether the fleet of airships would get to England. Owing to the difficulty of timing their concentration over England, he feels sure they would never all get there. An airship must go back to the point whence she started and the Zeppelins would have to set out from widely separated points, make straight for their destination, strike their blow without a halt and return right away. They are not too easily steered and an unexpected gale in the channel might play havoc with them. Again, though fog might minimize the danger of being struck by British shells, it would also have the tendency to make an aerial fleet lose its bearings.

Then, too, if Zeppelins appeared in any considerable quantity, and especially if over London, they would run a great risk from the British aeroplane squadron which would be likely to outmanoeuvre them. Besides, the Zeppelins form a very vulnerable target and to get down to a height where they can achieve any accuracy of aim themselves they must come well within the range of modern guns.

INDIFFERENCE TO PAIN.

Speaking before the Canadian Club this week Mr. Alexander Powell, the war correspondent, in telling of the effect which the horrors that he witnessed in Belgium had upon him, said that their very enormity and extent paralyzed the brain. But what about the effect which those horrors have upon us who live at a distance?

Man's indifference to suffering that does not come within the circle of his own life and relations, is a mystery of his being of much concern to humanitarians. It seems to stand almost hopelessly in the way of that human love and brotherhood which is invoked to end all sufferings. Naturally, it is a feature of human nature that awakens fresh attention in the present climax of anguish which has burst upon the civilized world. In the face of "the flashing fires of death, the bursting of destruction in the air, the fierce, passionate struggles of frantic men, the crimson spots of agony scattered over the devastated fields of our common earth, is it not strange," writes the latest grapple with this mystery of being, "that we go about in the ordinary way, eating, drinking, sleeping, buying and selling, even merry-making, with careless spirit and vain words, just as if the tragedy of the ages were not in progress within reach of our imagination? From what deity or demon do we receive the gift of iron to harden our hearts?" To a certain degree the question answers itself. For the acute sense and sympathy which should take in the reality of all these poor fellow mortals are enduring on this bloody battlefield would soon arrest "the buying and selling" and "going about in ordinary ways" of all earth's children. Much as man has been reviled for his coldness toward distant woes and his calm bearing in the presence of near ones not his own, some merciful provision of his Maker has made him so, and if he does not enlarge upon it too extensively himself it must serve a good purpose in his grasp of the work appointed him to do on this troubled, pain-wrung world. There is something more than sarcasm in Pope's reflection, "I never knew any man in my life who could not bear another's misfortunes perfectly like a Christian." A trait that is universal has some meaning for good in it, else what is one to say or think of the being who put it there? It is certain that some gift of iron or insensibility must be depended upon by war correspondents and others who approach the scene of action in this wholesale butchery of human beings in the present war. It is said that there is almost an international conspiracy not to give civilization its earned nausea by realistic descriptions of a battlefield—"the picture is euphemized" for their far-off readers by the considerate correspondent.

What of those spectators who are expected "to look with equanimity" upon the results of a conflict? Could anything save them from death by revolt of nature at such a spectacle if they could possibly "sense" the situation? Could any Red Cross nurse go among the bleeding, agonized victims of the slaughter if a merciful power did not sprinkle some kind of lethe over her sensibilities to keep her from full realization of what was before her?

Aside from the spectacle of suffering and death on a world's battlefield, which sets the thinking man marveling at human indifference to human throes of pain and death in the masses is that spectacle of indifference to his own heritage of pain and death in the individual. Stevenson well presents this in the case of old people who, "when a draught might puff them out like a guttering candle or a bit of a stumble shatter them like so much glass, go on bubbling with laughter through years of man's age, compared to which "the valley at Balaklava was as safe and peaceful as a village cricket green on Sunday."

Some logical reason in the nature of life itself must exist for such a strange phenomenon. It would seem that pain and fear were really foreign to man's nature and crept in in some way unordained of his Maker. Hence joy, as the keynote of being, asserts itself despite all that sin, death or the accredited devil can do to overpower it, and it is not so much indifference as some heaven-given sense of good, as the one reality, that makes these horrors of evil so unreal as not to strike the human consciousness with the deadly force that might be expected of them. It is the universal experience that the tremendous tragedies of life and those closest to them stunned and dazed, as in some nightmare dream that could have no reality. And even in that later hour when the fuller sense of what has happened breaks upon the soul, does not nature protest some saving reality back of all the dreadful seeming to keep the heart from breaking? Do not the birds sing and the flowers breathe it in beauty and fragrance even though they droop on the stem? Is it not true, as Emerson perceived, that the very insect tribes through their brief summer day still proclaim life a succession of joy on joy?

PRESS COMMENT.

The whole world is sympathizing with the Italian nation on the terrible earthquake which has brought such ruin and misery upon so many thousands. Each day brings further accounts which harrow our hearts, and which are sure to bring forth relief on a large scale, in spite of the heavy calls made upon the resources of the world in consequence of the sufferings which the ruthless and mad Kaiser has caused. But it is very noticeable as an indication of public feeling that people are asking why did not this disaster fall upon the German people. Of course the answer is very simple—Germany is not in the zone of such earthquakes. Yet no one will say that Germany did not deserve the suffering. Curiously enough it may be the means of that country suffering more, as it is said a great part of the Italian people regard the earthquake as a punishment for not having entered the war on the side of the allies.—Kingston Standard.

Not a few American papers and public men are following Roosevelt's lead and warmly denouncing the Wilson administration's neutral attitude in the war questions. Some of the papers are vehement, others coldly sarcastic. For instance, Hamilton Holt, editor and owner of the New York Independent, publishes the following in this week's Independent: Plumes of fire are dropped from the clouds on undefended towns and cities. The United States is silent. Deadly mines are strewn on the high seas. The United States is silent. Buildings dedicated to religion, art, science and charity are razed to the ground. The United States is silent. Enormous fines, far in excess of military necessities, are levied on ravaged cities. The United States is silent. Seven millions stand emaciated in Belgium. The United States is silent. The Hague Conventions are thrown into the scrap basket. The United States is silent. But the dollars of American trade are threatened. And the United States protests. It is the duty of the United States to protect the commercial right of her citizens. But it is also the duty of the United States to protect the civilization of the world. Above all nations is humanity. The New York Sun tries sarcasm. It speaks of a woollen scarf knitted by an officer of the battleship Florida as a striking contribution by the powerful American navy towards the vindication of Belgium and the triumph of democratic principles. The poem "To the Neutral Nations," by Owen Seaman, editor of Punch, is quoted widely, and with apparent approval in the American press, notwithstanding its biting irony for the nations to whom it was addressed. There seems to be a growing sentiment in the United States that "Safety First" is not the most inspiring motto for a nation upholding the principles of freedom and justice and democracy.—Regina Province.

THE ROSSES OF COCOS ISLAND

In 1910 the Cocos Islands contained nearly 1,000 inhabitants, representing a wide variety of races—Malays, Chinese, Negroes, Hindus, East Indians and Papuans. Each successive ruler of the islands has married a Malay wife, so Sydney Ross, the present King, is only one-quarter white. Like his predecessors, however, he is a staunch Presbyterian; and in spite of the fact that most of his subjects are Moslems, the Ross influence has been so great that polygamy is unknown among them.

A Message to Thin, Weak, Scrawny Folks

AN EASY WAY TO GAIN 10 TO 30 LBS. OF SOLID, HEALTHY, PERMANENT FLESH

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food." The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste.

What is needed is a means of gently urging the assimilative functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered regenerative force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal and notice how quickly your cheeks fill out and rolls of firm, healthy flesh are deposited over your body, covering each bony angle and projecting point. Your druggist has Sargol, or can get it from his wholesaler, and will refund your money if you are not satisfied with the gain in weight it produces as stated on the guarantee in each package. It is inexpensive, easy to take and highly efficient.

Caution:—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in overcoming nervous dyspepsia and general stomach troubles, it should not be taken unless you are willing to gain ten pounds or more, for it is a wonderful flesh-builder.

ECHO OF FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT

WIDOW OF FIREMAN KILLED ON Q. & L. ST. J. RY. CLAIMING $9,000 DAMAGES.

Clothilde Perron, wife of the late Joseph Langlais who was killed when a southbound express of the Quebec & Lake St. John Ry., crashed through a burning bridge at Lake Commission, on the 9th of August last, has just entered an action claiming $9,000 from the railway company.

Two lives were lost in this accident, it will be remembered. Fireman Langlais was killed almost instantly and Engineer John McTier, died from injuries a day or two later.

The widow of the late fireman, who has her home in Limoilou, holds the company responsible for the fatality and is seeking to recover this sum through her legal advisors, Messrs. Gailpeault, St. Laurent, Metayer and Laferte.

CIVIC HOSPITAL WORK PROGRESSES

BUILDING EXPECTED TO BE COMPLETED BY MIDDLE OF APRIL NEXT.

The work on the interior of Quebec's new $90,000 Civic Hospital is going on apace and the whole is expected to be completed and ready for occupation by April 15th next.

Following are some of the details of the new hospital, which is situated off the Beaport road, quite close to Mastai. It will have a frontage of 196 feet and a depth of 50 feet. The centre is four storeys and the east and west wings, three. The ground floor is of solid Deschambault stone and the balance of the frontage, Citadel brick. At the main entrance, there are detached columns with ornamental corners. Immediately overhead is a portico, which like the entrance, reflects greatly on the skilled labor employed by the contractors, as it is being beautifully finished. Excepting for the space between the outer and inner doors of the three entrances, which will be of tiles, all the floors will be of hardwood.

The hospital will be divided into four wards—two on the first floor and two on the second, with eleven beds in each. The staircase divides the east and west sections. Provision is being made on these floors for drug apartments, disinfecting rooms at the western and eastern sections. At the north and south ends special balconies have been erected so that visitors may see and converse with patients without fear of contracting the germs. There will be a special room in each ward for the nurses. The hospital will be conducted by the Sisters of Charity.

On the ground floor will be located the heating plant, laundry, apartments for the help, caretaker, dining room, apartments for the house physicians, dead-house, etc.

Mr. J. L. Pinsonnaul, city architect and building inspector, announced yesterday that the construction and roofing has been completed and the walls of two of the storeys already are plastered. The hot water heating system has been in use for the past two weeks and within a week or two work will be started on the installation of the hardwood floors. The contract, which was given to Mr. Ville neuve, calls for the completion of the hospital by March, but the work was retarded for some time during the past few months and as a consequence few months, and as a consequence before April 15th.

QUEBEC CITY BILL READ FIRST TIME

AGRICULTURE OCCUPIES ATTENTION OF LEGISLATURE—COUNCIL SITS AGAIN.

The major portion of the sitting of the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon was taken up with a discussion on the breeding of live stock, which arose on Hon. Mr. Caron's bill regarding grants to agricultural and other associations, which was finally passed in Committee of the House and read a third time.

Aristocracy and democracy in live stock were dwelt upon at length and the respective merits of both were sounded according to the principles of eugenics.

The first vote of the session was taken yesterday on Hon. Mr. Mitchell's resolution respecting private detectives. The resolutions were approved on a division of 42 to 12, Messrs Prevost and Lavergne voting with the Government.

Hon. Mr. Mitchell in presenting his resolutions explained that they were based on the laws enforced in Ontario since 1909 and in New York state since 1910. Agencies applying for licenses must take a surety deposit of three thousand dollars and the license fee is $200 a year. The penalty for infractions varies from $300 to $500.

Mr. Tellier, Leader of the Opposition, said that such a law would be a restriction on the liberty of the subject and an arbitrary power placed in the hands of the Provincial Treasurer who would decide whether or not an individual who had conformed with the general law might act. He asked if the Government were afraid that the Burns' detectives would return.

Messrs. Prevost and Lavergne spoke in favor of the resolutions arguing that such a law would effect the wiping out of a number of small blackmailing agencies.

Quebec City Bill.

The Quebec City bill was presented yesterday by Mr. Ls. Letourneau and read a first time. It will probably be read a second time today and be referred to the Private Bills Committee where it will be discussed next week. The private bills passed in Committee of the House and read a third time are as follows:

To authorize the Bar of the Province of Quebec to admit Georges Archambault among its members after examination.—Mr. Letourneau (Montreal-Hochelaga).

To amend the charter of the town of Lasalle.—Mr. Letourneau (Montreal-Hochelaga).

To amend the charter of the city of Lachine.—Mr. Letourneau (Montreal-Hochelaga).

Respecting La Communauté des Soeurs de la Charite de l'Hopital General de Montreal.—Mr. Levesque.

To authorize the executors of the will of the late Joseph Bowles Learmont to give Quebec House to the Dominion of Canada.—Mr. Finnie.

To amend the acts respecting the Board of Roman Catholic School Commissioners of the city of Quebec.—Mr. Letourneau (Quebec East).

To incorporate The St. Peter and St. Paul Russo-Greek Catholic Orthodox Church of Montreal, Canada.—Mr. Cousineau.

Legislative Council.

After an adjournment out of respect to the memory of the deceased members the Legislative Council met for the first time yesterday since the passing of the address in reply to the speech from the Throne. Some fifty odd petitions for private bills were presented among which were two by Hon. Alphonse Racine, the first for amendments to the Charter of the City of Montreal and the other for a

WANDERERS BEAT QUEBEC THROUGH AGGRESSIVE PLAY

GAME WAS PRACTICALLY WON BY REDBANDS IN THE OPENING PERIOD.

Montreal, Jan. 20.—Sending their best scoring machine in against Quebec, the Wanderers kept pace with the Senators last night, defeating the players from the Ancient Capital by a score of 5 to 2. Wanderers played at their best form, and had the edge on Quebec at all stages of the sixty minutes playing period. They showed down in the final session, which gave the visitors the appearance of finishing stronger than they had started. The game was practically won in the opening period, when Wanderers scored twice, and held their opponents without a tally. The winners played in a more aggressive manner than in their match against Ottawa, and through it disorganized the Quebec team in the early stages of the play.

The teams:

SHAMROCKS HAD SOME HARD LUCK

FINAL SCORE WAS FOUR TO THREE—GAME STRENUOUS THROUGHOUT.

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 20.—While Toronto won from Shamrocks, 4 to 3, tonight there is still doubt as to which is the better team. It cannot be said that the champions were lucky, but it is certainly true that last season's tail enders were unlucky. The N. H. A. penalty system caused the loss of Shamrock's chance to win. In the last period with the score three all, Smith secured the puck and with only Holmes to beat skated up close to the mouth of the goal. As he was about to shoot, two or three of the Toronto players threw their sticks and spoilt Smith's shot. The penalty to the offenders was the putting off of McGiffin and his replacement by another man, while Shamrocks lost what appeared to be a sure goal. The game was strenuous throughout and the penalty bench was seldom unoccupied. Shamrocks had the major portion of the penalties.

OTTAWA DEFEATS THE CANADIENS THREE TO ONE

WEAK SHOOTING WAS RESPONSIBLE FOR FAILURE OF THE FRENCHMEN.

Ottawa, January 20.—The Ottawa hockey team kept pace with the Wanderers tonight, defeating the Canadiens by 3 to 1 at the Arena. The ice was fast and there was good hockey at times, but the Ottawas appeared to be playing under confidence and never extended themselves. There was no score in the first period and in the second Broadbent tallied two for Ottawa, after which J. Laviolette fooled Benedict on a long shot. In the third period, Canadiens had many chances to tie the score, but they were unable to shoot. Pitre did a lot of effective work, but his shots were wild. "Newsy" Lalonde and Don Smith were taken out in the second period, Lalonde having a sore shoulder and Smith a lame knee. Ross played only a short time for Ottawa. In the third period Merrill clinched the result on a fluky goal for Ottawa. He shot it out from behind and it caromed off Dubeau's stick and into the nets. Throughout the final session the Ottawas kept an extra man on the defence. Another capacity house cheered the Senators on. Play was very clean.

CITY LEAGUE GAME AT QUEBEC RINK

EMMETTS AND CRESCENT WILL MEET IN IMPORTANT GAME TONIGHT.

The Emmets and Crescents meet tonight at the Quebec rink in a City League game. Despite the fact that Crescents came through a long, hard-fought match last night, the men are in good condition and will put up a great fight against McLaughlin's husky sextette. Before the big game the Sons of Ireland will play Sillery in a Junior "A" League game. These youngsters put up a fine brand of hockey and anyone intending to see the City League game should go up early and watch the juniors play.

President Hanrahan has selected Jeff Malone as one of the officials for the Emmet-Crescent game, and it is possible that Dr. Leclerc will be the other.

CRESCENTS WON OVER-TIME GAME

LAVAL AGAIN SUCCUMBED AFTER PLAYING 18 MINUTES EXTRA.

For the second time this season, Laval lost after battling overtime. This time they succumbed to the hard-working Crescents by a score of 3 to 2 after nearly 20 minutes extra play.

The game was again quite rough and there was a tendency of the players to mix it up. The only serious affair was a little set to between Ant. Savard and Robitaille, both swung their sticks but the Crescent man landed a blow on the youngster, which necessitated the latter's withdrawal from the game. After that the dirty work was eliminated to a great extent but the checking was hard and close.

Laval outplayed the Crescents in the first period and thoroughly deserved their lead of two goals to nil when it ended. The next period found Crescents fighting hard to cut down the margin against them and with but one minute to go, Tommy Fuller pried into the nets with the puck for Crescent's first goal.

The third period started fast. Laroche replaced Crotty and brought off some nice runs. After two minutes play, Laroche rushed and passed to Laroche who banged it past Demers for the tying tally.

It was a gruelling affair from then on with Crescents keeping the puck continually around Laval's goal. Occasionally a red and black sweated player would break away but he never got very far. Only once did Savard get inside the defence but his namesake in the nets for Crescents saved.

The overtime play was mostly in the Student's portion of the rink, and it was only their wonderful defence work which kept the issue so long in doubt. Finally Doherty put in a pretty shot and Fuller following in on the rebound beat out Demers and Laval had lost once more.

For Laval, Savard who was hurt had been playing about the best game on their line-up and Lachance and Demers also starred. Robitaille and Fuller were the pick of Crescents.

Sporting Notes

Quebec seems lamentably weak in scoring. And if a team doesn't score it cannot win.

Tom Byrne will enter a team in Class B league to replace the Nationals of St. Roch. The new club will be known as Shamrocks. They have some bowlers too!

Laval felt the loss of Ant. Savard greatly. The Students lacked the determination of the Crescents.

Frank McLaughlin tried to come back the other night and turned out with Emmets II. Frank is a great manager.

Crescents and Emmets meet tonight in Quebec Rink and though the former had a hard game last night they expect to win. The Emmet's manager, however, has hopes also.

Canadiens made a great fight in Ottawa but lost their eighth straight—(of course, between ourselves the league had this all fixed up).

No, curling is not confined to Ladies' though irons and brooms are used.

Wally Rooney is making a hit with McGill. The former St. Pat's player has shown great form this season with the Students.

Crescents have the right idea—Bore in on the nets!

Manager Grenier of Laval has much sympathy with Geo. Kennedy of the Canadiens. Hard luck to lose two overtime games in less than a week. Cheer up! Remember Canadiens lost eight straight.

St. Pat's bowlers lost the first string to Irish-Canadians because two of their players were called for fouling. And the umpire was a brother of one of the players penalized. Brotherly love.

Popular Pastime, No. 10.—Smoking during the hockey matches.

CANADA WINS

BIG BONSPIEL

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 20.—Canada won the great international event, 50 to 37, in the Northwestern bonspiel here this afternoon. The Canadian triumph was clean cut. United States rinks did not play up to the usual form, the Mc-Nabb, Grand Rapids, Bunch being defeated by Roehon, Winnipeg, by 12 to 5. Canadian players will play down semi-finals for possession of the beautiful $5,000 Louis Hill trophy.

MARITIME HOCKEYISTS WANT APPLICATION

(Montreal Mail)

The Eastern Professional Hockey League composed of teams in Glace Bay, New Glasgow and Sydney want to become affiliated with the National Hockey Association. President Emmett Quinn of the National Hockey Association has received a letter from J. J. Curry of the Eastern Professional Hockey League in which the latter makes the request that the new league be allowed to replace the Maritime League as members of the hockey commission. President Quinn has written to the various club owners asking them for their opinions in the matter.

President Quinn has also received complaints from a number of the clubs regarding the refusal of the rink officials in Ottawa to provide a suitable bench for the visiting teams' players. The complaints state that there is no bench provided for the visiting teams in the Ottawa rink while the rink management have also failed to place a cage around the officials' bench. President Quinn will take the matter up with the Ottawa Club and the rink officials.

ORGANISED BALL MAGNATES BLAMED

ARE DESCRIBED AS OPPRESSORS OF MINOR LEAGUES AND BALL-PLAYERS.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The powers that control organized baseball, or at least are said to control it, were described as oppressors of minor leagues and ball players by Keene Addington, chief of counsel for the Federal League, in his opening address today in the anti-trust suit against the National Commission, the American League and the National League.

Addington cited features of the National agreement, decisions of the National Commission and general practices of baseball authorities to show that the game is governed by a group having almost absolute power, with authority to make laws, judge of infractions of the laws and impose penalties for infractions.

Addington had not finished his opening argument when court adjourned tonight.

At the afternoon session, Addington devoted a large portion of his address to an attack on the waiver and draft rules and practices. He declared the former vested control of the players not alone in the club he serves, but also in other clubs. His chance of becoming a free agent is slight, according to Addington, since it requires action of many different entities. Addington charges that the waiver method is used as a means of humiliating or disciplining a player and then brought in the charge made in an affidavit by Mordcaai Brown that when President Murphy of the Chicago Nationals sold him to Louisville it was with the agreement that Brown never would be allowed again to join the majors.

Here attorney George Miller, for the defendant's called Addington's attention to the fact that Brown later played with the Cincinnati club, in a major league, but Addington said the agreement between Chicago and Louisville was what he wished to show was possible.

"Even if it kept a player out of major league ball only for a time, the harm of the system is apparent," he argued.

The fact that a player is without choice as to the club or leagues in which he plays was cited by the Federal counsel as a case of oppression.

Changes in the players' contract which were made last year at the behest of the Players' Fraternity were declared by Addington not to have materially modified it. He called it remarkable that such close associates as Chairman Herrmann and President Johnson should disagree in the interpretation of the contract as he changed they did. Johnson, he said in his affidavit, declared that the option extended a contract for one year only.

Judge Dandis was particularly interested in the Brown case cited by Addington, and asked that it be retold. He showed a knowledge of the national game by noting—which counsel had not done—that a petition purporting to be from the Players' Fraternity to the National Commission was signed by players from only one club. It was explained that the players had petitioned by teams.

Leaders of organized ball expressed themselves not surprised at anything the Federal League presented today.

"We have nothing to fear from what was brought up today," said Pres. Tener of the National League, and others were of similar opinion.

A SCHEME FOR SOUNDINGS.

Alexander Graham Bell, the Canadian inventor, told a class of young students the other day about putting his head under water and striking two stones together beneath the surface. "It sounded as if a man were hammering for all he was worth at my very ear."

Next he sent a boy a mile away to strike the stones and "the signals came perfectly clear and distinct."

In these little facts, and the other fact that sound goes over 5,000 feet a second through water to its 1,000 feet through air, lay for somebody the germ of the submarine bell signals used on ships.

Now, in exposing the earth's surface as it lies under deep waters, a great deal of time and labor is expended merely in ascertaining the depth.

"Why," asks Prof. Bell, "should we not send down a sound instead and listen for an echo from the bottom?"—thus accomplishing in four seconds a work now taking sometimes more than four hours.

And we should learn by the shorter method something of the nature of things below. "A flat bottom should yield a single sharp return, whereas an undulating bottom should yield a multiple echo, like that heard when you fire a pistol among hills."

HIS MITE OF SENSE.
"Well, gentlemen," said Tompkins to a couple of his friends, "you can talk as much as you please about the inferiority of women, but there are lots of them that can discount most of us for brains. Take my wife, for instance. She's got twice as much brains as I have, and I ain't ashamed to acknowledge it, either."

"But don't you think," said one of his auditors, "that you put rather a low estimate on your wife's intellectual powers?"—Liverpool Mercury.

DIVORCE FOR WIFE OF BOB FITZSIMMONS.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 20.—Mrs. Julia Fitzsimmons today obtained a divorce from Robt. Fitzsimmons, formerly welter champion heavyweight pugilist. She charged cruelty.

RESULTS IN THE BANKERS LEAGUE.

The Bank of Montreal won a hard game from the Banque Nationale, by 4 to 0, in the Bankers' League last night. The game was not nearly so one-sided as the score indicates. Both teams have some fast players. McDonald, Smith and E. Savard were the scorers, the latter netting twice. The Bank of Commerce won a close game from the Merchants-Quebec-Union-Imperial combination, by one goal to nil, and the Bank of British North America-Nova Scotia-Royal-Molsons rolled up 7 to 1 against the Hochelaga-La Caisse d'Economie forces. It is understood that the Montreal-Nationale and Commerce vs. Q.-M.-U.-I. games will be protested because they were not allowed to play the full time. A large crowd was present during the contests, which were played in the Quebec Rink.

LAST MATCH SAVES MAN TRAPPED ON MICHIGAN ICE FLOE

He Lights Torch that Guides His Sons During Perilous Rescue.

Harbor Beach, Mich., Jan. 20.—One soft-nosed match is credited with saving the life of August Kinde, a business man of Kinde, and the same sulphur-tipped splinter prevented his two sons from drowning in the chilling waters of Saginaw Bay.

The match—the last he had—kindled a beacon that guided the two boys through the lanes of an ever-changing ice field to their father, who had been blown three and one-half miles from shore.

Ginde left Port Crescent to spear fish through the ice. He took with him a small sled, and soon became engrossed in the sport. When he glanced shoreward 200 feet of water separated him from land and a strong south wind, which had come up unnoticed, was driving the ice field into the lake. Kinde was obliged to leap from cake to cake as the field broke into a hundred segments. Sometimes he was on a chunk of ice which afforded barely room for himself and his sled, and at other times he enjoyed comparative safety on a cake a quarter of an acre in size.

As night came on, he endeavored to start a fire with kindling from his sled. The flames, he hoped, would guide the rescuers, whose presence was indicated by the dancing lights on the shore.

One by one his matches flickered and died, when the last in the box flamed for a moment and then was snuffed out. He was about ready to give up in despair. However, he ransacked his pockets and discovered the last soft-nosed "parlor" match. Huddled over his few sticks of splintered woods, he nursed the flame until the fire had obtained a sufficient start to resist the gusts of wind.

His two sons, John and James, already had started from shore in a small boat, but on seeing the blaze

Judge the EMPIRE TYPEWRITER By those who use it

The British Government

uses hundreds of "Made-in-Canada" Empires in the Navy and the Army, where service conditions are most severe.

The Canadian Government

has just given an order for Empires.

The French Government

are heavy buyers of the "Empire", for similar service.

The Canadian Pacific Railway

started using "Empires" in 1895, and now they have over 3,000 in constant use.

The Bank of Montreal

The Royal Bank of Canada—

The Merchants Bank of Canada—

The Molsons Bank—

in fact, every Canadian Chartered Bank, with but two or three exceptions, uses 50 or more "Empire" Typewriters.

Could you ask for a better recommendation?

Investigate the "Empire" because it is the ONLY typewriter "Made-in-Canada". Buy it because it costs less, yet does more work.

AUSTRIA RESOLVED TO CRUSH SERBIA.

Every British subject ought to have a copy of the British White Paper, which has been reprinted by the Dominion Government, and is to be had for the asking. It is the British Bible in the present crisis. In it will be found a refutation of every charge that is made by Germany to the effect that Britain is responsible for the war, and an answer for every neutral who desires to take an impartial view of the situation. Especially important are the earlier letters and despatches that passed between Sir Edward Grey and the British Ambassadors in France, Germany, Russia, Austria and Serbia. No one can read them and not realize that on the part of the British Government the greatest efforts were put forth to preserve peace, and that on the part of the enemy there was an even greater determination to bring about war. Our particular interest in Belgium, which was the real reason for the British Empire engaging in the war, has caused us to pay too little attention to the Austrian plot to take Serbia for its victim. Belgium had for her victim Bel-

A German Miscalculation.

A study of these documents will show that Germany had no thought at first of going to war with Great Britain. Germany's hatred and jealousy of the British Empire may be taken for granted. We know that for years the German naval officers have been drinking to "the day" when they should become strong enough to challenge British supremacy at sea, but none of them would have chosen a day in August last. The present war has for most of us turned into a fight between Britain and Germany.
That is the way they regard it in the United States; but in the beginning it did not involve either of these powers.
The British Minister to Serbia, when it seemed certain that Austria meant war, telegraphed Sir Edward Grey the request of the Serbian kingdom that Britain should do something to head off Austria. More than once Sir Edward Grey told the British Ambassadors that if the quarrel were confined to Serbia and Austria the British Government could not intervene.
He said that British interests in Serbia were nil, and that British public opinion would not countenance a war on behalf of Serbia.

On the other hand, the German Imperial Chancellor told the British Ambassador at Berlin that before the Austrian ultimatum had been despatched to Serbia the German Government knew nothing of it. This he said in contradiction of the report that the demand had been dictated or approved by the German Foreign Office. He admitted that the despatch left much to be desired as a diplomatic document. Moreover, he admitted that the Austrian ultimatum was not launched in the expectation that it would be answered. Austria was determined to teach Serbia a lesson, he said; and although the German Government did not wholly approve of the note, it was prepared to stand by Austria. Sir Edward Grey pointed out as soon as the situation became grave that it was almost certain Russia would be drawn into the affray. The German Chancellor said he did not believe that Russia would become involved, because Austria had promised not to annex Serbian territory in the event of war. His thought that this pledge would enable the Russian Government to back out.

Servia Desperate.

In Servia the situation was desperate. The demands made upon her were the most formidable, as Sir Edward Grey says, that were ever addressed by one Independent State to another. Yet Servia did assent to practically every demand made by Austria, announced her willingness to humiliate herself in the process.
Upon one or two points she dissented, but was willing to leave these matters to the decision of The Hague Tribunal or to the arbitration of Britain, France, Germany and Italy, the four great European powers not directly involved. Well might Servia have thus humbled herself, for the despatches show that she was not certain of Russia's support. Russia's at-

The Biggest Photographic Advance in Twenty Years

You can't forget where, when, or how such and such a picture was taken because this information may be permanently recorded on each negative—and at the time you make it.

Open the little door at the back of the Kodak, write what data you choose, expose to the light of the sky and you will find, upon development, this record indelibly imprinted in the margin below the negative.

itude was dependent upon the support of France, as is admitted by the Russian Foreign Minister. At the time the French President and French Foreign Minister were not in Paris, and it was difficult to communicate with them.

In this extremity the Russian Government urged upon the British Government the necessity of declaring that it would support France and Russia. Sir Edward Grey declined to commit his country, although the German Minister was of opinion that if Britain declared herself Germany would draw back and would use her influence with Austria to secure an extension of time limit named in the ultimatum. Germany maintained from the first that the quarrel was one that concerned only Austria and Serbia. She declined to urge upon Austria the necessity of moderation.
Indeed, it would have been absurd for her to have done so in the face of the official German admission that Austria was determined to teach Serbia a lesson. No one can read the official documents without failing to recognize that Germany held the key to a peaceful solution of the trouble, and that if she had said the word Austria would have stopped short of invading Servian territory.

RECORDER'S COURT.

His Honor the Recorder had three prisoners, charged with drunkenness, before him yesterday. As they have been frequent visitors at Court on similar charges, they were sent to jail for one month each, in default of paying fines of $10 and costs.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF DANDRUFF

End Itching Scalp and Stop Falling Hair—At Once.

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the fingers.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

If you want to keep your hair looking rich, do by all means get rid of dandruff for nothing destroys the hair so quickly. It not only starves the hair and makes it fall out, but it makes it stringy, straggly, dull, dry, brittle and lifeless, and everybody notices it. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

NEW YORK MARKET.

(Canadian Press.)
New York, Jan. 20.—There were indications at odd moments of today's stock market session that the limit of absorption had been reached, but these were dispelled in the later dealings, when a broad buying movement wiped out most early losses and sent numerous important issues to the highest level attained since the renewal of open trading. Dealings in stocks showed a marked decrease from the preceding day's extraordinary activity, but this was more than offset by the gain in bonds, the business in these securities aggregating the largest amount of any day since the Exchange re-opened.
Aside from continued activity in Missouri Pacific stock and bonds at advancing prices, low priced stocks were less in evidence than has recently been the case. In fact, many shares constituting that group were dull and lower. Rumorously issued reflected the receivership proceedings. Bethlehem Steel common was inclined to drop on rumors that no dividends would be authorized for a long time and Pressed Steel well precipitated at the end on reports that the company had failed to receive some large contracts recently under negotiation.
Pressure was directed upon some of the leaders, particularly United States Steel and the principal copper, board room gossip attributing the temporary heaviness of these stocks to foreign selling. London, from all accounts, disposed of a moderate amount of our stocks in this market.
Advices from Pittsburgh gave a more favorable aspect to the outlook for the steel industry, operations in that district and the middle west showing a considerable gain in rate of production compared with a week ago. Copper prices held at 14 cents, but some disappointment was felt at the Amalgamated dividend which was again declared on the 50-cent quarterly basis.
Many of the day's gains in bonds were in speculative issues, advances extending from 1 to 4 per cent. St. Paul convertibles were a feature, contributing more than their quota to the whole. Total sales, par value, were $3,960,000.
United States government registered 2's were up 1/8 per cent. on call.

New York, Jan. 20.—Some shrinkage in volume was shown in the amount of business transacted on the Exchange today. Despite the lessened activity the undertone, however, continues satisfactory and in the net changes which took place the side of improvement, generally speaking, was favored. The low priced issues, particularly Missouri Pacific and Missouri, Kansas & Texas, were decided features of strength, while Erie common commanded considerable attention in firmness. In a broad sense conditions are practically unchanged and we can only repeat that the market continues to present the same appearance to us that it has for some time, simply a trading market for quick profits only.

GLIMPSES OF OLD QUEBEC

From the Files of THE CHRONICLE, January, 1885 and 1815.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO TODAY

Not Divorce But Separate Maintenance.

One hundred years ago there was considerable dissatisfaction among the New England Federalists with the Constitution of the United States, while some of the more extreme New Englanders agitated for a complete divorce from the United States the more moderate—and we venture to think that they will prevail—are not included to go so far, and say it is not divorce we want, but a separate maintenance, by mutual agreement. The thing is novel in politics, but everything is novel in America. What the fiery Democrats of the south will say to it we know not. In the meantime we hope that England will hold both parties jointly bound for the payment of all just debts. We think that New England will succeed in obtaining the Amendments they propose, the present distressing war would have been avoided with all its fore-runners of embargo and restriction. Everybody in the United States must see that with the Amendments they propose, the war as we have already said would have been avoided. Another question which has stirred up the New England people is the imiquitous Conscription Bill and the Bank, both of which have been lost at the moment of their final passage in Congress. We understand that the Americans are being preparing to carry on the war in the Spring, they will find Canada also prepared.

Self respect is, next to religion, the chiefest bridle of all vices.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Canada As a Winter Resort.

The following article which appeared in these columns 30 years ago, applies to Canada as a whole, but particularly it is applicable to Quebec: How shall I hope to describe what has been done to make Canada as a winter resort better known to all the world? The first snowfall is an intoxicant. Boys go snow mad. Quebec no less than Montreal, has a temporary insanity. The houses are prepared for the visit of King North Wind, and Canadians are the only people in the world who know how to keep warm outdoors as well as indoors. The streets are gay with laughter and life, and everybody seems determined to make the most of the great carnival. Business goes to the dogs. There is a mighty march of tourists and townspeople crumpling over the crisp snow, and a constant jingle of sleigh bells. If you go to any of the toboggan slides you will witness a sight that thrills the onlooker as well as the tobogganist. The natural hills were formerly the only resort; but someone introduced the Russian idea of erecting a high wooden structure up one side of which you draw your toboggan, and down the other side of which you fly like a rocket. These artificial slides are the most popular. As they are the easier of ascent, and can be made so as to avoid cahots, or bumps. How did you like it, asked a Quebec girl, of an American visitor. Oh, I wouldn't have missed it for a hundred dollars! You'll try it again, won't you? Not for a thousand dollars.

"SOLDIERS AND LIQUOR"

To the Editor of the Chronicle:

Dear Sir,—The editorial entitled "Soldiers and Liquor" which appeared in yesterday morning's issue of the Chronicle ought to engage general attention and earnest consideration, at least in this city and its immediate vicinity. No doubt people of the most diverse views upon the problem dealt with in that editorial will agree that a good deal of rather debatable matter found its way into an article of quite moderate dimensions. Perhaps The Chronicle in a pleasant way believes that a little scurrilous "made in Canada," would serve the purpose very well when other war news is scarce. However, that may be, I am moved to write not to knock the chip off your editorial shoulder but to obtain information.

The editorial referred to says "There may not be more 'drunks' where there is prohibition, but there are certainly worse ones. Prohibition states are noted for the prevalence of crime." Those are formidable statements which The Chronicle would not make unless fully justified by thoroughly reliable statistics and other equally trustworthy information, actually in hand. Will The Chronicle kindly publish the facts and figures, or some of them, upon which these statements are based and indicate the source or sources from which they are derived? Is the "prevalence of crime," for which prohibition states are noted, an outstanding fact in comparison with the criminal statistics of other states where prohibition does not obtain or in comparison with their own criminal statistics before these states came under the operation of prohibitory law?

Believing that your esteemed paper faithfully seeks to serve public interests, I respectfully submit the foregoing questions which are of grave importance to myself and many others among your readers and await your kind offices in supplying the desired information.

I am yours faithfully,

T. P. PERRY.

LETTER FROM FRONT.

Soldier With Princess Pat's Writes Interesting Letter.

The following letter of date December 30, has been received from a soldier now serving with the Headquarters Company, Princess Patricia's, France:

We are at last at the front or at least near the scene of operations but not yet in the trenches, although I think we shall soon be going up there now. We crossed over from England on Sunday, 20th. Beyond that I am sorry to say I cannot tell you as all our letters are read by the Censor before being posted, but I don't suppose the name of the place where we are would really interest you as it is only a small village a few miles in rear of the firing line. The Princess Pat's are billeted out on the farms roundabout and we are having a fairly comfortable time, although time hangs rather heavy and it is getting a little monotonous after a week's idleness. We sleep in the hayloft at night which is much more comfortable than being in camp. The French people are very kind and obliging to the soldiers and on the journey by train we were given wine and bread at the several places at which we stopped. Heavy gun firing was distinctly heard from here on Xmas eve and morning, but nothing has been heard now for about two days probably because the Allies advanced about that time. The British fleet has also been doing some good lately. I always watch with interest for any naval news especially the casualty lists. I lost several old chums in practically every ship that has been lost, especially in the Good Hope and Monmouth. Still it is the fortunes of war and I sincerely hope I shall be able to wipe a few scores off. Everyone seems to be of the opinion that Germany cannot possibly hold out much longer, they are sure to realize the truth sooner or later and then their army will collapse like a pack of cards.

Xmas day with the Pats passed pretty well. We each received a card from the King and Queen, and on boxing day we received a splendid present from Princess Mary in the shape of a brass box containing cigarettes, tobacco, a pipe and Xmas card, and also Xmas puddings from the "Daily News". So we really did very well. It was equally as good as the one I spent last year at Malta in the Mediterranean; the weather was much warmer there though than here. It is not too cold, but the troops in the trenches must feel it very bad, especially during the cold nights, and the wet weather makes things worse but I expect I shall be able to give you a more descriptive account when we get there ourselves. We have all been issued with dogskin coats which gives one the appearance of a Teddy Bear. Still they are fairly warm but it is in the feet and legs where the cold is mostly felt as some of the trenches are a foot deep in slimy mud and several have consequently been sent home with rheumatism and frost bites. Well must now conclude wishing you and Mrs. — a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

TORTURED BY CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured Paralyzed Bowels and Digestion

St. Boniface de Shawinigan, Que., Feb. 3rd, 1914.

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 2 1/2 years, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-lives'. While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and it came to a point when I could not stoop down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take 'Fruit-a-lives' and at once I felt a great improvement. After I had taken four or five boxes, I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they were acting gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take 'Fruit-a-lives' for they are the medicine that cures."

MAGLOIRE PAQUIN

"Fruit-a-lives" are sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.
