2 Asbestos boys die in collision; 3 others hurt

ASBESTOS — (Staff) — Two young boys were killed and four other people hospitalized yesterday following a head on car collision late in the afternoon on the St. Camille road near the village of Wotton. Police said they were passengers in a car apparently driven by 13-year-old Michel Larivee, who was thought to have taken the car without the permission of his father, Armand Larivee of Asbestos. Dead are: Gilles Goulet 15, son of Olivier Goulet of 123 Panneton Street, Asbestos, and Michel Roy 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Paul Roy 120 Bourbeau Street, Asbestos. Injured, and still in the St. Vincent de Paul Hospital in Sherbrooke "in satisfactory condition" are: Michel Larivee 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Larivee of 322 1st Avenue, Asbestos; Roland Charles 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Germain Charland of 116 Panneton Street, Asbestos; Claude Filteau 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Filteau of 176 Bourbeau Street, Asbestos; and 47 year old Henri Gagne of St. Camille.

WITNESS — Construction foreman on a bridge project along the main highway leading into Bonsecours village from Sherbrooke, Sarto Robichaud, told The Record that he spotted a car fitting the description of the thieves getaway car. He provided police with a rough description of the three men, he said. (Record photo by Doug Gerrish)

2 masked men rob Caisse Populaire and take $1,500

By JAMES DAVIES (Record staff reporter)

BONSECOURS — Provincial Police are still looking for three men believed involved in an late afternoon armed robbery of $1,500 in cash from the Bonsecours Caisse Populaire in this village about 25 miles west of Sherbrooke. Police said that two masked gunmen rushed into the small street establishment about 10:45 a.m., shoved cashier Mrs. Antonio Champigny into a corner, searched the premises and then confronted Mrs. Champigny with a demand for money. The two reportedly 200-pound thieves dashed out the side door of the building into a waiting wine-red 1962 car, and sped off in the direction of Lawrenceville. Police believe that the car used by the bandits had been stolen, and that it was chauffeured by a third man. Mrs. Isidore Berthelette, who lives nearby, told The Record that her attention was drawn to the outside of the house when she heard the squealing noise of car tires on the pavement outside. She said that she noticed a wine red late model car speeding away towards Lawrenceville, with only one man whom she described as dark haired and heavy set. "There may have been more in it" she said "but they were probably lying on the floor. All I saw was one man." Storekeeper Henri Lessard who was painting the outside of his house on a side road just up the street from the Caisse Populaire told a similar story. "I was painting my house, and when I heard the car turn

ON THE JOB — Provincial Police and detectives arrived at the Caisse Populaire Bonsecours about 15 minutes after the robbery that netted thieves an estimated $1,500 in cash. (Record photo by Doug Gerrish)

Koreans elect

SEOUL (Reuters) — Military junta leader Gen. Chung Hee Park was elected president of South Korea today after main opposition candidate Po Sun Yun conceded defeat. It meant that Park, whose leadership was opposed by Yun's Civil Rule Party and other civilian groups, would lead the government for another four years.

Erhard is in

BONN, West Germany (Reuters) — Economics Minister Ludwig Erhard today was formally elected by the Bundestag (Lower House) to succeed Konrad Adenauer as West German chancellor.

Algiers set for warfare

ALGIERS (AP) — Thousands of Algerians streamed into army barracks today in answer to President Ahmed Ben Bella's general mobilization decree to meet the threat of war with Morocco. The mobilization decree was issued Tuesday night after more fighting in the disputed Sahara border region between Algeria and Morocco. The Algerians claimed they still controlled two disputed outposts after two days of bloody skirmishes. Ben Bella ordered all former soldiers—estimated to total 30,000—to report for army service. At the same time efforts continued to negotiate a settlement of the dispute. Algerian sources said Ben Bella's call to arms was answered "with spontaneous enthusiasm." Several thousand men reported at the former French Orleans barracks in Algiers.

Kenya warns

NAIROBI, Kenya (Reuters) — The ruling Kenya African National Union (KANU) party warned today it would demand the immediate withdrawal of British troops unless a constitutional dispute in London on the future status of the colony is solved. The announcement followed a statement by party leaders Tuesday that they would declare the self-governing East African colony independent Sunday unless current disagreements over the constitution are not settled immediately.

Tories ask Mac

LONDON (AP) — The struggle for power in the British cabinet shifted to Harold Macmillan's bedside today with the 69-year-old prime minister taking the lead in trying to pick his successor. Macmillan, recovering from an operation which eight days ago caused him to announce his impending retirement, scheduled another series of talks with prominent Tories to get their views.

Space pledge

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — The Soviet Union and the United States will formally pledge today not to place weapons of mass destruction in outer space. Their agreement is embodied in a United Nations resolution expected to receive near-unanimous approval in the General Assembly's 111-member political committee.

Both Michel Roy and Gilles Goulet were killed at the scene of the crash, hospital officials reported.

The accident happened police said at 4:30 p.m. when Henri Gagnon, driving his car in the direction of Asbestos was suddenly confronted with the vehicle apparently chauffeured by young Larivee. Mr. Gagne was unable to avoid the other car, police said. According to Provincial Police, the 13 year old Michel Larivee had taken the car belonging to his father while the latter was absent from the house. Mr. Gagne is suffering from fractured ribs and facial lacerations; Claude Filteau is suffering from a possible fractured jaw and head cuts; Michel Larivee has been injured in the chest and has a bruised knee and Roland Charland also was hurt in the chest.

Wins confidence votes

Liberal survive twice

OTTAWA (CP) — A variety of opposition support sustained the minority Liberal government in Commons votes on two non-confidence motions Tuesday night. The votes came at the end of a two-day debate on farm problems in Eastern Canada. In one non-confidence test the Liberals were backed by the New Democrats and Social Crediters. In the other, the government got support from the Conservatives and Real Caute's Creditistes. At no time were there any real fears that the government was in danger of being overthrown.

1. A Conservative motion of non-confidence charging the government with failure to deal effectively with eastern farm problems was defeated 134 to 95, with 14 New Democrats and 10 Social Crediters backing the government against a Conservative-Creditiste alliance. 2. A Social Credit motion blaming the situation on a combination of the Agriculture Minister Hays nor Rene Tremblay, minister without portfolio who is slated to become eastern agriculture minister, were in the Commons for them. Before the debate, MPs roamed over a wide range of eastern farm problems—from the use of fertilizer to the impact of dairy subsidies on production of butter, cheese and skim milk. When Clement Vincent, a Conservative and a farmer from Quebec, was criticizing the government's dairy subsidy policies, he looked up to find the entire government front bench empty. "There is not a minister in the House," he gasped. "Not one." Mr. Vincent said the government was looking after the factories of Quebec, but failing to take care of the farmers. H. W. Herridge, NDP member for Kootenay West and a self-styled forest farmer, said Conservative criticism of the government on eastern farm policy was like the "pot calling the kettle black."

BACKS RESOURCES POOL

WASHINGTON (CP) — Interior Secretary Udall of the United States has come out strongly in support of a Canadian government proposal that Canada and the U.S. pool their energy resources and exploit them to achieve maximum efficiency at lowest cost. Udall told a press conference that such an energy pool has "quite a bit of support" in the Kennedy administration. It could be applied to the flow of Canadian-U.S. exchanges in hydro and nuclear power as well as coal and petroleum products. The U.S. official did not detail how a Canadian-American pooling arrangement could be run, but he said "we are moving in that direction" in cross-border dealings on the Columbia River power treaty under which the Canadian share of power benefits would be sold in the United States. Trade Minister Sharp originally proposed the energy pool in Washington last May. Sharp told the House of Commons May 30 that he proposed that the two countries "initiate joint studies concerning the development of all forms of energy—oil, natural gas, coal, electricity and nuclear power—in which our interests increasingly intertwine." "I found our American friends interested in and receptive to the suggestion," Sharp added. Udall noted that the Canadian government subsidized the production of coal in the Maritimes by helping transport it to markets in central Canada. Caribou II aircraft, a bigger and more powerful version of the present plane. Funds for both purchases and development were cut off by Congress last week. The informant said Hodges plans to tell Drury that the U.S. is strongly opposed to the automobile plan, seen here as aimed at building Canadian automotive production at the expense of imports from the U.S. Drury may be told that while the U.S. may not be able to do anything about it under GATT rules, the Canadian step will be taken into consideration in future Canada-U.S. tariff and trade bargaining. RECEIVE REBATE The Canadian plan would be virtually a full extension of the year-old tariff incentive program on Canadian production of automatic transmissions and engines. Canadian subsidiaries of U.S. automobile manufacturers were able to get a tariff rebate on that portion of imported parts equivalent to an increase in Canadian exports over the previous year.

COMMITTEE NEEDED

Mr. Herridge said that a joint Senate-Commons committee should be established to investigate future needs in farming and to hear testimony by senior agricultural department officials, as well as evidence from spokesmen for farming groups. Vincent Drouin (L—Argenteuil—Deux Montagnes) urged the government to take over the feed grain distribution business, arguing that feed grain speculators are exploiting eastern farmers. Eastern Townships ridings will be fully represented at the annual congress of the Quebec Liberal Federation to be held in Quebec City over the coming weekend. The convention, which opens Friday afternoon, is expected to draw over 2,000 delegates, of whom some 300 will be from this district. One of the highlights of the gathering will be an address by Premier Jean Lesage at the convention banquet Sunday noon. The Premier will also speak at the official opening of the congress on Friday evening. Friday will be devoted to registration of delegates and a special meeting of the General Council of the Quebec Liberal Federation with the presidents of the county associations. Election of the Federation Executive Council will be held Saturday morning at which time the sessions of the various Congress committees will get underway. Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier, minister of justice, is scheduled as guest speaker at the first plenary session Saturday afternoon. Plenary sessions, at which reports of the various committees will be received, are billed for Sunday morning and Sunday afternoon. Actually only three posts on the executive will be contested, those of vice-presidents for the Montreal, Northwest and South-east districts. For the other posts the retiring office-holders were returned by acclamation when the period for nominations closed last Sunday. Francois Aquin, of Quebec City, named for another term as president, will preside over the convention proceedings. Several contentious resolutions have been submitted for study at the gathering which has for its theme "The Reform

Says US plans action on Canada auto move

WASHINGTON (CP) — A high U.S. source says a U.S. plan to attack Canada's new automotive production incentive program through the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade has virtually collapsed. The informant said American authorities sought exhaustively for some legal grounds to charge Canada with a breach of GATT obligations and failed to come up with a sufficiently strong case which could convince the GATT membership that counter-measures should be imposed against Canada. However, the U.S. still believes the new plan which Industry Minister C. M. Drury plans to unfold before Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges in detail Thursday is in violation of the spirit of international trade obligations. SEE McNAMARA Drury also plans to confer with Defence Secretary Robert McNamara to seek a restoration of congressional funds in order that the U.S. Army can continue to purchase Canadian Caribou transport planes and participate in development of the

To cut defence force; spend more for arms

OTTAWA (CP) — The government's new defence policy, now beginning to take shape, will result in fewer men in the armed forces but higher expenditures for weapons and equipment, sources close to the cabinet say. There will be a cut of about 10 per cent in the present manpower strength of some 120,000. At the same time, defence budgets will be planned on a five-year basis so that the defence department will know in advance that in 1965-70 it will have approximately $1,500,000,000 to spend each year. A minimum amount of about 20 per cent of these budgets will be for new weapons and equipment, in contrast, for example, to the 64 per cent allotted for army equipment in the last defence budget. No major changes are expected to occur in the present fiscal year except for cancellation of the eight-speed naval frigate program initiated by the former Conservative government. This program was originally estimated by the defence department at $74,000,000 spread over four years. But Vice-Admiral Herbert Rayner, chief of naval staff, informed the Commons defence committee Tuesday the entire frigate program, including ammunition and spares, would cost $452,000,000. Informed sources say another shipbuilding program, not necessarily military, will be substituted but that there will be a time gap before the new program is decided upon. No contracts for frigates have been let and only $6,400,000 was earmarked in the current defence budget for frigate drawings and specifications.

of the Administrative and Legislative Structures of Quebec. These resolutions cover such matters as the electoral map, aid to municipalities, pension funds, the taxi industry, aid and protection of youth and rationalization of administration and free medical care for indigents.

Church council votes to modernize service

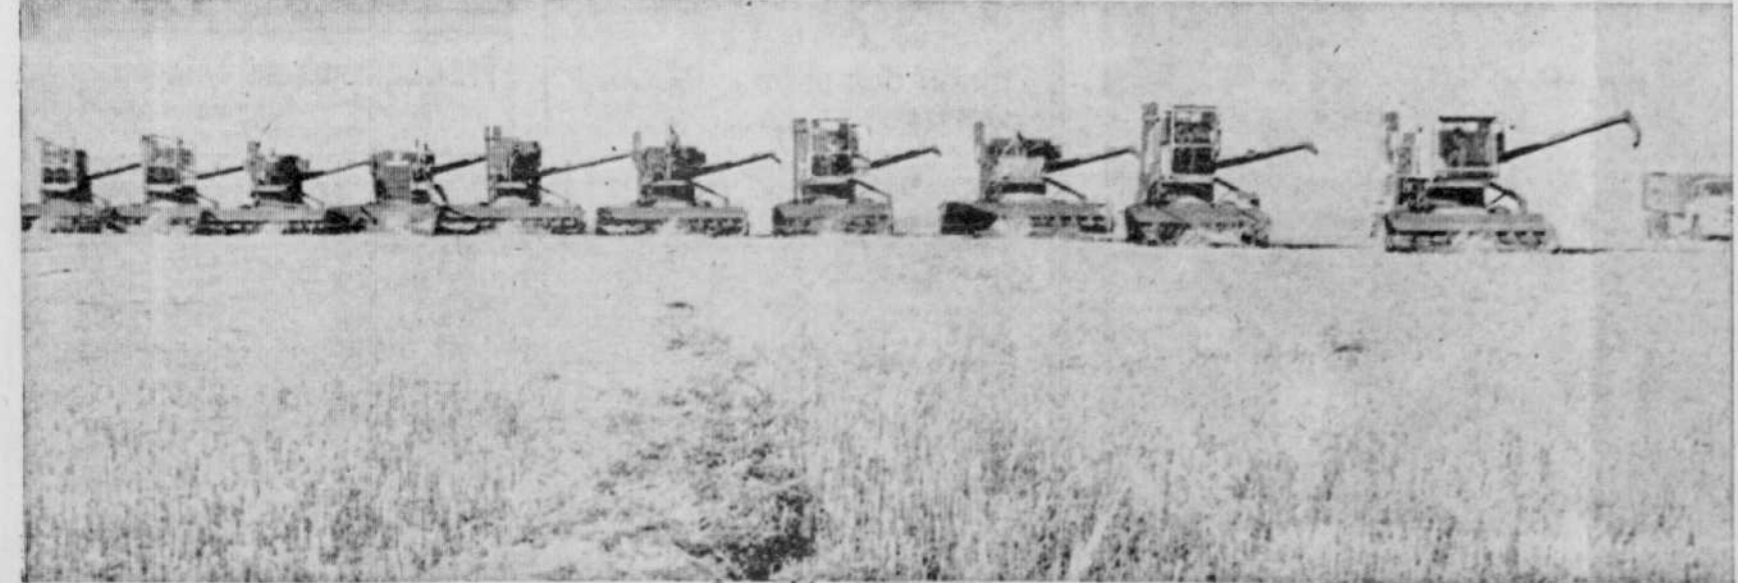

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican ecumenical council's progressive wing appeared today to have achieved a dominant influence at the Roman Catholic conclave following this week's votes to modernize the mass and the sacraments. A member of the Vatican Curia, the church's central governing body, described the votes as "a victory for the progressives"—the modern-minded element among the 2,500 church fathers. He also said the voting showed the conflict and misunderstanding between progressives and conservatives had ceased. "The council is working hard now and getting a lot done," said the curia member, who declined to be identified. "The progressives, who want to get the church in step with the times, are having their way."

Defence group vindicates navy

OTTAWA (CP) — Charges by retired Commodore James Plover of navy negligence, bad leadership, ignorance, arrogance, lack of ethics and stupid and dishonest decisions were in effect dismissed Tuesday by the Commons defence committee.

Not directly connected to the convention theme are proposals covering such varied matters as: Revision of the constitution, aid to municipalities, pension funds, the taxi industry, aid and protection of youth and free medical care for indigents.

After more than three hours of rebuttal testimony by mild-spoken Vice-Admiral Herbert Rayner, chief of the 21,600-member navy, the committee declined Commodore Plover's offer to appear again as a witness. Committee members said privately that they had in effect absolved the navy of Commodore Plover's charges. They said Commodore Plover had a case but had overdone it by indulging in personalities. An example of this was Commodore Plover's charge that all Canadian admirals act and talk like amateurs.

ASSEMBLY LINE HARVESTING — These ten combines on the Felger Hutterite Colony farm, eight miles South of Lethbridge, Alta., harvest between 15,000 and 20,000 bushels of wheat a day. The combines make short work of the harvest, covering 60 acres in trip around a half section field. The Hutterites have 3,750 acres sown to wheat and expect to harvest an estimated 100,000 bushels. $20 donated to Bedford IODE for memorials BEDFORD — The October meeting of Missisquoi Chapter I.O.D.E., was held on the 7th at the of Mrs. L. I. Shephardson at Stanbridge East.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Oakes, showed a balance of $208.51, with expenditures of $99.40. Donations of $20 for two memorials to Mrs. Frank Lumsden were received from Mr. and Mrs. J. Lufti, of the Town of Mount Royal, and Miss A. Barakeet, of Three Rivers.

A letter of thanks was read from Murdoch Blackwood, who is attending Sir George Williams College, Montreal, for the Chapter's bursary of $75.

Mrs. Neil Creller, reported $3.37 in the special fund. Mrs. Richard Craighead reported on service at home and abroad, and articles received.

It was decided that the annual sale and tea of the Chapter would be held in the United Church hall on Oct. 25, opening at 3 p.m. Mrs. Noel Belleau and Mrs. H. L. Stone will be in charge of the sale table. Donations for this table may be left with Mrs. Belleau.

Mrs. Lennox Ames will be in charge of the tea tables, while Mrs. John Gough, Mrs. Neil Creller and Mrs. Lewis Bockus will be in charge of the kitchen and Mrs. Ralph Oakes of the tickets.

Mrs. Chrysler and Mrs. Ralph Oakes were appointed to attend the semi-annual meeting of the Provincial I.O.D.E. in Montreal.

Regret was expressed by the regent at the death of a faithful member, Mrs. Frank Lumsden. The Chapter members had attended the funeral service in a body.

Mrs. Neil Creller invited the members to meet with her for the November session.

Refreshments were served, the hostesses being assisted by Mr. Blackwood and Mrs. Lennox Ames. Tea was poured by Mrs. Richard Craighead.

Johnson exposes Confederation 'myths'

English nationalism helping Canadiens

English-speaking Canadians are gradually forming themselves into a "nation," and this will help French Canada in its demands for a new Confederation, the leader of the Quebec opposition told French-Canadian students at the University of

By MALCOLM REID (Record staff reporter)

Sherbrooke yesterday. The idea that the English were a single contracting nation with the French at the time of Confederation was one of seven "myths" about Canadian federalism Union Nationale Leader Daniel Johnson decried in his lunch-hour speech in the cafeteria. Fresh from his tour of Western Canada, Mr. Johnson had an example of what he saw happening among English Canadians in the couple he met at Banff — a teacher from Manitoba and one from the Maritimes who had met in B.C.

English-speaking Canadians had come into the 1867 pact as autonomous colonies, he said, and only now were they starting to think of themselves as the unified "nation" that French-speaking Canadians consider themselves. As for the French-Canadian "nation," Mr. Johnson had two memories from his trip to tell him it went beyond Quebec — in both the Manitoba and Alberta legislatures, he found guides could speak to him in French.

The other Confederation "myths" on his list were: the belief that the Canadian constitution was unchangeable, the desire to return to a lost "spirit of the constitution," the inability to change the pact without both contracting parties agreeing, the belief that our system is really federal, the idea that Canadianizing the British North America act would solve French-English tension, and the claim that our race is really in a majority — or a minority — in Canada.

For Quebec to let down the weapon of threatened secession would be like a labor negotiator saying, "Don't worry, boss, we're too weak to strike," Mr. Johnson said. Marcel Chaput said separation had to come, Jean Lesage that it would never come. Mr. Johnson placed himself between the two positions and called separatism a last resort. He set 1967 as a deadline for federal action before he would plunge into separatism. A student asked the opposition leader for comment on such non-separatist steps as nationalization of hydro and other resources.

If French-Canadians came to depend on the state for everything, they'd be ripe for putting everything in the central government's hands, he said.

14 Queen's Scouts to be honored

The past year marked the Fiftieth Anniversary of Scouting in the Sherbrooke District and during that year, a record number of Scouts attained the high level of achievement known as the Queen Scout.

Fourteen Scouts from three troops will represent the Sherbrooke District at the Queen's Scout Recognition Ceremony to be held in the Grand Salon of the Queen Elizabeth Hotel on Saturday.

The Lieutenant Governor will receive all Queen Scouts of the Quebec Provincial Council and La Federation des Scouts Catholiques in an impressive ceremony which is an annual event in the Scouting year.

The Returning Officer or the Election Clerk must remain at their respective office, as above mentioned, from eight o'clock in the morning until five o'clock in the afternoon of the day fixed for the provisional polling station and shall deliver free of charge a certificate to any employee of the category above mentioned, whose name appears on the electoral list in force in the City, who applies for it in person and establishes his identity by means of a certificate permitting him to obtain railway or other tickets free or at reduced rates and who has affixed his ordinary signature to the certificate in presence of the Returning Officer or of the Election Clerk who is bound to sign and deliver same.

Given at Sherbrooke, this 15th day of October 1963.

H. P. Emond, Returning Officer.

FRENCH-ENGLISH DICTIONARIES TO GREET VISITING AMERICANS

QUEBEC (CP) — The Quebec government's tourism department proposes to distribute abridged English-French dictionaries at border points and include them in its mailed advertising.

Lionel Bertrand, Quebec tourism, fish and game minister, said Tuesday the idea originated in his department because of the large number of pocket English-French dictionaries sold at newsstands.

Mr. Bertrand mentioned the dictionaries following presentation of a brief to him from junior chamber of commerce of the St. Maurice River region. It called for an improvement in the quality and quantity of the French language used in the tourist industry.

Says winter works not effective jobless cure

Sherbrooke will be doing more for winter works than ever before if the almost $2,000,000 Montreal-Terrill and Big Forks bridge project goes ahead, Mayor Nadeau said last night, but still the works program for unemployment-curing purposes, was almost useless—"zero."

The mayor was taking the skeptical side in a city council debate about unemployment and winter works last night, occasioned by a large set of estimated sewer and waterworks costs from Services Director Charles Langlois.

The mayor contended that works were more expensive in winter, cancelling the saving to cities from federal and provincial contributions, and that unemployment was not a municipal problem anyway.

Famed Bach pianist at Bishop's Oct. 28

Acclaimed by the London Times as "the greatest scholar and interpreter of Bach in the world today," Miss Rosalyn Tureck will perform at Bishop's University on Oct. 28.

The world-renowned artist will present a solo piano recital in the Memorial Gymnasium beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Miss Tureck, who "made history as the first woman to conduct the New York Philharmonic, has become famous for her performances on the harpsichord and clavichord as well as the piano, and in the words of The Guardian, London, "She is superb on all three instruments!"

The Chicago-born pianist has increased her reputation with major literary works on the study, interpretation, and appreciation of Bach.

In October of 1961 she was awarded the Diploma of Honorary Membership to the Guildhall School of Music and Drama in London. The Diploma was presented by the City of London for distinguished services to music and is an honor rarely accorded Americans.

Miss Tureck has toured Europe and America several times and only last season she gave six sold-out all-Bach concerts in New York City in just twenty-five days.

Her playing has been broadcast on radio and television in Great Britain and following one recital on the BBC, the great Otto Klemperer phoned Miss Tureck to tell her it was the greatest Bach performance he had ever heard.

Tickets for the recital will be on sale at the door. The price offered to the general public is $2.00 while high school students will be charged $1.00. The appearance of this brilliant artist is presented by Bishop's University Concert Series.

Referendum is not against progress

The call for a referendum Oct. 24 on a $1,800,000 loan bylaw to build bridges from Big Forks Street and from Montreal to Terrill Streets is not an expression against progress.

Nor does it indicate a blindness towards the traffic problem in the centre of the city.

The mayor and council have been quite right in emphasizing that a bridge to link the North and East wards across the St. Francis River is essential to prevent the slow strangulation by traffic of the downtown district.

What most of those who signed the petition for a referendum are objecting to is the site of the proposed Montreal-Terrill Streets bridge, and to that alone.

It is our contention, and the contention of a great many concerned ratepayers that council has erred in not choosing a site further downstream from the present proposal. It was not too many years ago that the city council expressed itself in favor of a general traffic design that would route through and heavy traffic away from the middle area of the city and around the outskirts. On city drawing boards are ring road plans that will do just that, if they are ever built.

A logical part of this design would be bridges that draw traffic away from the city.

But the Montreal-Terrill Streets bridge would do just the opposite. It would pull heavy traffic down a heavily residential area in the North Ward, past a number of large schools and through a mess of traffic arrangements that provide enough headaches with the existing flow. It would probably end for a good many decades any hope of ever re-routing traffic around the city instead of through it.

These are the considerations for which the referendum procedure does not allow expression, but they are precisely the ones that led most of the 100-odd ratepayers to sign in favor of a plebiscite. They are not against progress; they want intelligent progress.

A dollar bill can be folded innumerable times and still won't crack, but what's the use? The wife will still find it.

John Diefenbaker issues challenge

The national convention of the Progressive Conservative party to be held in Ottawa in January will vary from similar gatherings of all parties in the past. Whereas the normal procedure at such gatherings is to give a formal vote of confidence to the party leader the Progressive Conservatives will be called upon to decide the future of their leader at the direct challenge of John Diefenbaker himself.

Speaking at Red Deer, Alta., over the week-end, Mr. Diefenbaker declared the leadership of the party will be decided at the national convention and that he would demand a vote of confidence from the delegates on his handling of the party's affairs.

Implicit in his declaration was an admission that there is a degree of dissatisfaction with his performance in the past. Apparently the Tory chief believes that the best way of meeting this criticism is to bring it into the open where the whole issue can be decided by the rank and file of the delegates.

He made a direct appeal to the Alberta Progressive Conservative Association for their support in the showdown vote, making it clear that he intended to fight for the retention of his post.

Also included in his statement was a challenge to those dissatisfied with his leadership to organize their forces and select possible alternative chieftains.

In this respect, the leadership change, if effected, will be in marked contrast to earlier transfers of power. Often these were engineered by cliques within the particular party who made the existence of the party chief so miserable that he was forced to step down. In January the decision on the leadership will be made by the rank-and-file of the party who have three months in which to consider the situation and canvass possible replacements.

Whether a new leader is selected or whether Mr. Diefenbaker is confirmed in office, the issue should be determined on a democratic basis by the delegates representing the constituency organizations.

For men, why not add to the marriage vows, "Love, honor and obey," the four words "and wear your galoshes"?

Indiscriminate weapon sales in US

In marked contrast to conditions in Canada where the sale and carrying of revolvers, automatic pistols and other easily concealable weapons are strictly controlled by the provisions of the Criminal Code, mail order sale of such weapons is a feature of merchandising operations in the United States.

U.S. law enforcement agencies have long contended that lack of such control over arms sales has been one of the causes of growing lawlessness in that country. Now fresh concern results from reports that there has been a sharp increase in mail-order gun traffic in the nation's racial trouble spots.

According to evidence before the Senate Subcommittee to Investigate Juvenile Delinquency, extremists on both sides are arming themselves in the Birmingham area. Investigators were told that during the summer months 180 shipments of mail-order guns were delivered to the Birmingham express office, a centre that services the entire state of Alabama.

Alabama itself has stiff state laws concerning the trafficking in guns but state officials can do little about interstate shipments. Under federal law fire-arms dealers need only a permit available for one dollar and their word that they've never been convicted of a felony. Efforts to get stiffer regulations have been thwarted by invoking the constitutional right of citizens to bear arms.

But fear of a shooting war in the nation's racial trouble areas has brought fresh efforts for a bill to control the delivery of guns to persons under eighteen, require approval of state and local authorities before giving guns to buyers to permit check on age and criminal records and to increasing the permit fees for dealers to $100.

A 1962 check of 174 mail-order gun recipients in Washington, D.C., showed that 41 had criminal records, many used fictitious names and addresses, seven were minors and at least two were mental defectives.

With weapons so easily obtainable, one may wonder why crimes of violence have not increased more substantially than has been the case.

to big wheat sales. A big bully pushing around a smaller, weaker neighbor doesn't make a pretty picture even in the world community. And when the bully attempts to justify his conduct with spurious arguments, he is despised.

Who, for instance, can accept seriously the U.S. case for free supply and demand in the world price of wheat which has been governed for years by artificial supports and controls?

And who can believe that it was unfair Canadian competition that has resulted in the U.S. building up a 1.2 billion bushel wheat surplus? This kind of an over-supply takes years to accumulate, even for a big producer like the U.S. It didn't result from Canadian policies.

Ontario paper aids bilingualism

Dear Sir:

At a time when everybody is talking about bilingualism, a group of young French-speaking Ontarians have decided to do something positive: they have started a little publication called La Revue Ontarienne. This humble monthly intends to discuss topics of interest to all Canadians, but, at the same time, to give the Franco-Ontarians the opportunity to express themselves in a publication of their own.

The paucity of the Franco-Ontarian press is well known: one daily (the circulation of

Prof. Ludwig Erhard

Adenauer's successor continues same policy but alters methods

By MANFRED PAGEL

BONN, West Germany (Reuters) — Prof. Ludwig Erhard, chubby-checked architect of West Germany's "economic miracle" who succeeds Konrad Adenauer as chancellor, intends to pursue the same policies but employ different methods.

"I have no intention of introducing a new government course, but will courageously and determinedly follow the path that has become a blessing for the German people," the 66-year-old economics minister told a recent rally.

"Of course, after a certain period of time one must expect changes which may also require a change in political tactics," he added.

Adenauer has long been known for the "long decisions" he has made during his 14 years as West Germany's first and only chancellor.

But Erhard, who served in other countries. A strong backer of British entry into the Common Market, Erhard said after the breakdown of the Brussels negotiations on Britain's entry last winter, West Germany wanted "a reconciliation and understanding with Britain as the beginning of a common European solution."

As early as 1949, when Erhard was appointed economics minister, some members of Adenauer's Christian Democratic Party expected him to become chancellor sometime in the future.

After an overwhelming victory in the 1957 general elections, Adenauer named Erhard to the post of vice-chancellor in recognition of his popularity and tireless campaigning.

Erhard was born Feb. 4, 1897, to a family of farmers and craftsmen in the industrial town of Fuerth, near Nuremberg in northern Bavaria. He attended high school and worked briefly as a commercial apprentice before being drafted into the army in the First World War.

During convalescence from a war wound, he began studying economic theories and later enrolled in the Nuremberg Institute for Economics, where he married fellow student Luise Lotter. He obtained his doctoral degree from the University of Frankfurt.

During the Second World War, Erhard began work on a secret plan to readjust Germany's monetary system to post-war peacetime conditions. His plan became the basis of the successful West German currency reform of 1948.

Already in the early 1950s he favored "French and West German economic co-operation for the creation of a European economy." But he believed West Germany's good relations with France should not be at the expense of friendly relations with

REPORTING

OTTAWA — For six months of the year we in this country cringe from the climate in our superheated wood and concrete igloos and rather admire our hardiness.

While the Alabamans are enjoying their mid-winter race riots in their shirtsleeves, we brave 30 below in a dash to the bus stop and tut-tut about racial discrimination in the States. We can do that because we don't have a color problem. Negroes don't like Canada because it's too cold.

Except for people in places like Vermont, upstate New York and Michigan, who also are the beneficiaries of the blasts off our Arctic tundra, Americans think a balmy 32 is cold. That also gives us a pleasant sense of superiority.

As for Canadians who move to the States because they've had enough of frostbitten ears and shovelling snow, our national ego almost demands that we expunge their names from the national record as being unworthy to be called "Canadian".

Against this emotional background, it is an interesting commentary on mass psychology to see a Canadian working up a great deal of public sympathy because he wants to go to the States and the Americans won't let him in.

First, Wayson S. Choy of Vancouver has to establish a reason for going to the US that is acceptable to Canadians. He can't be going to escape the Canadian climate, or because he'll make more money, or because he likes the States better. Those are traitorous reasons for emigration. They deny things we all as a people believe in — because if we didn't we would all go to the States, and we couldn't have that, could we?

So Mr. Choy who is 24 and just out of UBC, says he wants to go for the sake of his art. He won a short story prize, and now feels he is at the stage in his literary development wherein only seasoning in that centre of creative prose, New York, will enable him to fulfill himself in his chosen meter.

But that's not enough, so Choy sets out to show that the reason he's denied entry into the States is that the US government is stupid, and US officials are rule-bound clots. This is currently right in line with our national bias rooted in our efforts to compensate for our national inferiority complex.

Mr. Choy is a native-born Chinese-Canadian, but US immigration laws give him only a Chinaman's chance of getting in — the US quota for Chinese is 105 a year.

This, says Mr. Choy, is the most unconscionable discrimination by the US against a Canadian citizen. Prime Minister Pearson shouldn't let the Americans get away with it. A Canadian is a Canadian, no matter what his ancestry or the color of his skin, and discrimination on account of race does violence to British fair play, natural justice, the Bill Rights, the Treaty of Paris and the platform of the Liberal Party. The list is not comprehensive.

But Mr. Choy's case fails completely on the all-important fact that it is up to the US government and nobody else to decide who it will allow into the US, and on what terms. Every sovereign nation has a similar untrammeled right, and Canada continually exercises it.

We wish Mr. Choy well in his efforts to get to Gotham. But we think he'd do just as well in Canada. In the public relations business, say.

The PRAYER FOR TODAY FROM The Upper Room.

O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name; make known his deeds among the people. (Psalm 105:1)

PRAYER: We beseech Thee, O Lord, to pardon our forgetfulness and ingratitude.

Let the Holy Spirit so move within us while we pray that our praises shall overflow in happy song and joyful life, to the honor and glory of Thy name. In the spirit of our Savior and Master we pray. Amen.

Long drift from Hyannis Port talks

Let's hope there aren't any itchy fingers poised over a button somewhere that could plunge Canada and the United States into a trade war with each other.

It was only last May that Prime Minister Pearson and President Kennedy met at the later's home in Hyannis Port, Massachusetts, to patch up the squabble that had developed between the two countries during the Diefenbaker regime in Ottawa.

Among other things, the prime minister and the president agreed that both countries should always deal in a positive and co-operative manner with developments affecting their international trade policies.

A slip-up must have occurred somewhere along the line. Reports from Washington suggest that the U.S. is threatening retaliation over Canadian wheat-pricing policies, and that the two countries are on the verge of an all-out trade war.

The big U.S. grievance is Canada's long-range fixed price for wheat. This, the U.S. contends, prevents for full operation of the law of supply and demand, which sets prices in a free economy. The U.S. position isn't strengthened by the fact that it had known for some time that Canada was seeking new markets for its wheat and had sold previously under time-payment contracts.

In a trade war with the U.S., Canada would be a certain loser. This nation's economy couldn't long withstand the kind of devastation that could be wreaked by massive U.S. giveaways, special refunds to big buyers, and loss-leader sales of other products tied

At preliminary hearing

Dismiss damage charge

SWEETSBURG — George Dunnington, 28, carpenter apprentice, of Rural Route No. 2, Brigham, appeared in court at Sweetzburg yesterday for preliminary hearing on a charge of causing $250 damages to the cells at Cowansville municipal police headquarters September 7, 1963.

The charge was dismissed by Judge P. E. Delaney, of sessions court, following the hearing.

Principal witness for the crown was Captain Jacques, of the Cowansville municipal police.

Witness said he saw the accused behind a business establishment at 1:30 a.m. September 7.

By FRED PATTEMORE
(Record staff reporter)

According to the witness the accused refused to co-operate by giving his name, address and other details and so was taken to the cells to be held to the next morning when he would have been questioned.

The accused, according to the captain, began to cause damages to the cell by breaking his bed and then using a three-foot bar to break the door, a window, cause damages to the walls, as well as throwing a match onto a bed in the next cell, causing a fire.

The defendant admitted to causing the damages concerned but denied having refused to give information for which he was asked.

He said he was crossing a parking lot between a restaurant and a bowling alley in Cowansville when the police car drove up.

He had been in the restaurant with his wife, father-in-law and mother-in-law, but had left following an argument with his wife.

Dunnington said the police car was some 80 feet away from himself when the questioning began. The constables did not get out of the car, but shouted their questions from it.

The defendant said he remembered being asked where he was going to which he replied, "Home." The constable then asked, "Where is home." Dunnington said he then shouted out his address. He told them to contact constable No. 4, whom he said he knew, or the chief-of-police.

When he came to the side of the car he asked to be taken to get a taxi, as he was carrying $300 on his person but was, according to his testimony, told "The only place we'll take you is to jail."

Dunnington said yesterday he then told the constables, "If that is the way you are going to talk you can go to Hell."

"Then I left, around behind the car. They backed up and struck me on the leg," he continued. "Then they threw me into the back of the car."

The accused was then taken to the cells where he explained he did not want to be put into a cell. He said he explained he had been suffering from a nervous disorder and did not know what he would do if put into a cell.

Dunnington explained to the bench he had been under treatment for a nervous condition since the age of 13. From that time to the age of 23 he had gone to Montreal twice a week for treatment by a specialist. He was forced to give up this treatment following his marriage because of the cost.

The defendant said he had not refused to co-operate but believed this impression may have been created by his

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK — Fire Prevention Week was marked in Waterloo this week by fire drill at the Waterloo High School. Other practises were also held in the town. Fire Chief Deodat Cabana and Constable Andre Dufresne made the surprise visit at the school. Mr. Cabana stated that the 460 pupils filed out of the school in orderly fashion. The time it took to clear the building was

1,400 lose jobs as New York Mirror folds

NEW YORK (AP) — "You could feel it in your bones..." Nor was there any indication in the first edition of The Daily News, the tabloid rival that purged flitted around for months about the demise of his newspaper, the New York Mirror.

The rumors got stronger and "you could feel it in your bones..."

"What am I going to do at my age," said another reporter, while still another chimed in: "Where do you go to?"

Winchell is among a considerable number of Hearst regulars whose work will appear in the New York Journal-American, a Hearst evening paper.

Winchell was in a reminiscent mood as he sat with his colleagues in The Mirror office.

WAS REPORTER

"We don't know yet why the powers that be decided to close here it is, the year 1963, and only yesterday, it seems to me, I came to work here as a young reporter."

Picture editor Manny Elkins said: "I've been working for The Mirror 40 years and for 40 years I've been hearing this rumor it would be killed. But when it happens, it happens."

John Hearst Jr., grandson of the founder of the Hearst group and an associate editor, visited the offices late Tuesday night

"The circumstances which forced the Hearst Corporation reluctantly to take this step are the same that have necessitated the discontinuance of so many other good newspapers all over the country," the announcement continued.

"Costs have risen far in excess of revenues and have created substantial deficits over an extended period of time. The recent prolonged newspaper strike aggravated the already serious problems of The Mirror."

India concerned by British trade with Red China

BOMBAY (CP)—India is reported to be disturbed about an increase in British trade with Communist China, particularly in strategic and semi-strategic goods.

Press reports say the two countries have been discussing the question, with India voicing its "concern" over the trade and Britain giving assurance that it will keep India's interests in mind in its commercial dealings with Peking.

In recent weeks Britain has sold China sizable quantities of sophisticated steel products, including machine tools. After a recent industrial exhibition in Peking, a number of British firms are reported to have obtained attractive orders from the Chinese.

For the first time, Red China's trade with non-Communist countries now exceeds her trade with East Europe and the Soviet Union.

Some Indians feel Britain is trying to step into the vacuum created by the slackening of Moscow's trade ties with Peking.

A recent sale of British radiation-testing equipment and current negotiations for the supply of 10 Comet aircraft to Peking have been criticized in the Indian press. Indians are concerned that in the event of renewed hostilities between India and China the Chinese will be able to convert the Comets into...

power. "We just cannot understand how Britain, which has sympathized with us in our dispute with Red China, can at the same time help boost Chinese economy," said a prominent member of the ruling Congress Party.

RC church agrees to co-operate in Puerto Rico birth control program

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (Reuters)—The Roman Catholic Church and the government have agreed to co-operate on a birth control program in this Caribbean island outpost of the United States.

With the approval of the church, the health department hopes to establish two experimental birth control clinics before the end of this year.

For the first time in Puerto Rico's history, government public health clinics will offer the Catholic "rhythm method" in its attempt to control the exploding population. This crowded little island, 100 miles long and 35 miles wide, contains a population of 2,250,000.

A high-ranking health department official says once the clinics are established, both patients and physicians will be permitted to choose freely between the rhythm method and other birth control techniques banned by the Catholic church.

CLASHED WITH GOVERNOR

Birth control has long been a sore point between Puerto Rico's Roman Catholic hierarchy and Governor Luis Munoz Marin because his administration has offered birth control assistance to anyone seeking it. The church violently opposed his re-election during the 1960 campaign.

The church went even to the length of reading pastoral letters from the pulpit of every Catholic church on the island warning the faithful a vote for Munoz was a vote against God.

Munoz, a Catholic, has been divorced and remarried. Asked about the new co-operative plan between state and church, Munoz said he was pleased with the "cordial and friendly" atmosphere in which the matter was handled.

Pitfalls of easy credit analysed by ex-full-fined financial shark

QUEBEC (CP)—Andre Laurin has drawn up 10 basic lessons, liberally sprinkled with the names of finance companies and banks, on how the ignorant consumer becomes trapped by "easy credit."

Until two years ago Mr. Laurin was a full-fledged financial shark himself—a director of a large Quebec City department store—and his lessons reflect an insider's savvy.

They analyse, with fascinating clarity, the small loans law, retail credit systems, door-to-door selling practices, credit contracts, family budgets, mortgages, social security, the credit union system and the ethics of credit.

They even take to task doctors and lawyers. In his office here Mr. Laurin waved an anesthetist's bill for $60 at a reporter.

"It was sent right back," he said. "They were already paid under the Quebec Hospital Insurance Plan and had no right to send this bill."

LIMIT INTEREST RATES—Locked in a Montreal safe are other "props" for a television series Mr. Laurin will deliver to Quebec viewers this winter. They include finance company contracts, retail advertisements and retail contracts.

Though the series is aimed directly at 100,000 troubled Quebec families, many of its axioms and examples might apply anywhere.

Here are a few: The small loans law: Legal interest over a 30-month period on a loan of $1,000 is $249. The $249 must be added to the $1,000 figure, not subtracted from it to provide $751 in cash. "This is illegal and is practised by most small finance companies."

Second mortgages: He advises families to sell their homes, pay off their debts and

Stanstead North Institute meets at school house

STANSTEAD—The meeting of the Stanstead North Women's Institute took place on Oct. 3 in the Red Brick Schoolhouse, where Mrs. I. W. Drew and Mrs. John Byers were the hostesses.

Mrs. Douglas Cooper, convener of welfare and health, displayed a flannelette blanket, one of two pair, which she had purchased with donations of money from the members. These are being given a family as a Christmas remembrance from the Institute branch.

Mrs. W. H. Rudd, convener of agriculture, and Mrs. Ivar Lemon, county president, reported on the Stanstead County school fair held at Ayer's Cliff. It was announced there were 152 prize winners and recommendations were made that school fair gardens be inspected by members during the summer months.

Mrs. Rudd read an interesting article on planting and care of flowering bulbs and Mrs. Cooper, an article on dreams.

Plans were made for the noonday dinner which was served at the Stanstead County Women's Association match at the Red Brick schoolhouse on Oct. 12, the members volunteering food and to work.

The next meeting will be on Nov. 7 at the Red Brick Schoolhouse, or, if the weather is inclement, at the home of Mrs. Ivar Lemon. A cookie contest is being held and these will be served for tea.

Afternoon tea was served, with Mrs. Drew pouring.

Marbleton Guild and W.A. honor Mrs. G. Robins

MARBLETON—The Ladies' Guild and The Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church entertained at a farewell tea at the home of Mrs. Wm Hetherington in honor of Mrs. George Robins, who is leaving to reside in Danville.

Baskets of Fall flowers and Autumn leaves, decorated the rooms. Miss Heather Bishop attended the door.

Mrs. Robert Padden poured at the attractive tea table, which was centred with Calendula and Autumn leaves in a silver bowl and green candles in silver holders.

Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. Hetherington, Mrs. Clifford Weyland, Mrs. Worth Bishop and Mrs. Jos. Mackay.

Mrs. Hetherington feelingly expressed the regret that everyone felt at Mrs. Robins' departure and asked her to accept a small gift of money, presented by Mrs. Joseph Mackay with the love and best wishes of all the members and friends.

Mrs. Robins expressed her grateful thanks for the gift, and said the past five years had been very happy ones.

Double anniversary party held at Sawyerville honors two couples

SAWYERVILLE—A party presented with guests, cards and gifts of money. Mr. and Mrs. Lowry and Mr. and Mrs. Parker then expressed their thanks for the gifts and the delightful party.

The evening was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Lowry, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alden, Mrs. Clem Lowry and Mr. and Mrs. Burton Hill out-of-town guests were Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Montreal, Baldwin's Mills, Lennoxville, Sherbrooke, Waterville, Huntingville and Cookshire.

Music was provided by Mrs. Ronald Bell, Glem Lowry and William Graham for dancing and Wayne Alden called the square dances, which were enjoyed during the evening.

The High and Low Forest Farm Forum catered for the lunch, at which Burton Hill acted as master of ceremonies. Mr. Hill asked Mrs. Claris Phillips, Mrs. Carrie Brazel and Clem Lowry to lead in the singing of the Canadian and American National Anthems.

Gift presented to member of Bishopton Guild

BISHOPTON—Mrs. R. Spence, who is leaving shortly to reside in South Stukely, was presented with a cut glass vase at the close of a meeting of the Ladies Guild, which was entertained by Mrs. Leonard on Oct. 5. The president, Mrs. M. Davis, made the presentation on behalf of the Guild members.

Main business of the meeting was the making of plans for the Christmas sale and tea, to be held Nov. 30, followed by a card party in the evening.

Three members paid into the Birthday Box and Mrs. Davis won the raffle. Proceeds of the meeting were $8.89.

The serving of refreshments preceded the presentation to Mrs. Spence.

GENERAL NOTES—Mr. and Mrs. James Boyce and daughter Debbie, of Montreal, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Davis. Mrs. William Hartwell, of Eustis, was a week-end guest at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Leonard have returned home after spending a week visiting friends and relatives in Nashua, N.H., and other points in the United States.

HALLOWEEN PRECAUTIONS MAKE NIGHT SAFE, SANE

If you want a safe and sane Halloween for your children, discourage them from trick-or-treating in masks. If the mask should slip over the child's eyes when he is excited and running it might cause a bad fall. Use grease paint instead.

Ghosts and witches dressed in white are easier for motorists to see than those in dark or black costumes. Better still, cut out large stars, crescent moons, or skulls and crossbones from reflector tape and fasten them securely on the costume. It's a good idea to use similar decorations on the trick-or-treat bag.

Costumes should fit tightly enough that they will not catch on fences or other objects and cause a fall. Long dresses or robes that a child could trip over are also to be avoided.

If a Halloween party is being held indoors you should closely supervise any games or activities that require the use of lighted candles. And while you're about it, flameproof all costumes and decorations by dipping them in a mixture of 3 quarts of water, 7 ounces of borax and 3 ounces of boric acid powder.

You yourself should be especially careful when driving in residential sections on Halloween. Children are unpredictable and don't always obey the rules they've been taught, so you can't afford to take any chances.

If you are a homeowner you can help to eliminate hazards by keeping your outdoor lights on. This will make it less likely that a child will trip or fall over steps, shrubs, bird baths or other objects. Keep your dog inside.

A minor hazard and one that will probably be hardest to control is that a child who finds himself suddenly swamped with fruit, popcorn and candy will eat too much. But an upset stomach is not so serious, and it may teach him a lesson he will have to learn for himself anyway.

Q - My 6-year-old daughter is losing all her hair. Could this be due to a fever of 103 she had with a recent cold?

A - Your daughter could lose all her hair temporarily after a fever of 104 or 105 which persisted for eight to 10 days. This is hardly likely with a cold even though severe. Too much vitamin A in the diet has been known to cause loss of hair but this is associated with other signs and symptoms of acute illness. In any case, the child's hair is almost sure to grow out again soon.

Richmond

Mrs. Harold Jacob, of Delson, spent a few days with her father, Mr. E. R. Crook.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cameron, of Alexandria, Ont., spent Oct. 12 as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hills, and visited many friends while here. Mrs. Cameron was the former Miss Lorraine McQuat, on the staff of St. Francis High School.

Miss Marion Pray, of Sharon, Vt., was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Boast. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Pearl Driver, who will spend a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Pray.

Mrs. C. Tuppling has returned to Alexandria, Ont., after visiting Miss Hazel Boast.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Boast and family, of Montreal, spent Thanksgiving weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sykes.

Miss Jean Pepler, of Montreal, spent the Thanksgiving holiday here at her home.

Coal is rolling out of Nova Scotia in 'snakes' that spell out wealth

SYDNEY, N.S. (CP)—"Black snakes" rolling across the Nova Scotia countryside and the roar of activity at shipping piers here are symptoms of health in the Cape Breton steel and coal industry.

The steel plant here, which covers a total land area of 540 acres and has an annual capacity of 1,000,000 tons, has smoke belching from all six open hearth furnaces as it turns out $42,000,000 worth of rails for Mexico, India and the CNR.

The snakes, a rarity on the CNR line out of Cape Breton since the Second World War, are becoming common. And they're getting longer—some of them 50 cars each loaded with 80 tons of coal from mines now working full time.

The big break for the coal industry came earlier this year when the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission decided to buy 2,850,000 tons of Cape Breton coal over the next five years.

Value of the order in dollars is $28,000,000. Its benefits to the people of the coal towns are almost impossible to measure.

But William H. Marsh, president of District 26, United Mine Workers (Ind.), says it's "what we hoped for all along."

Dwindling markets and increased production costs had caught the coal industry in a tight squeeze. Three big collieries were shut down in the last three years. While Dosco struggled to bring sales in line with production capacity, the coal miners had weeks of "down" or idle time each year.

Activities of local women's groups

WOMEN'S MISSIONARY PRAYER GROUP

The October meeting of the Women's Missionary Prayer Group was held at Grace Chapel on Monday evening, October 7, with Mrs. A. C. Hill presiding. After the opening hymn and prayer, Mrs. H. A. Welch read the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report.

Letters were then read from two missionaries serving in Angola.

Mrs. W. J. Klinck, as chairman of the Work Committee, was asked to give her report. She encouraged the ladies to continue to bring used stamps which are sent to missionaries in France and sold there. Mrs. Hill then read several interesting paragraphs from articles in a current missionary magazine, which gave information regarding the condition of the Christian church in mainland China today, and which quoted population statistics to illustrate the need for a much greater missionary effort on the part of all Christians today.

Following this, a period of time was set apart for prayer. It was then announced that Mrs. Betty Elliot, author of "Through Gates of Splendor" and "The Savage My Kinsman", would be one of the guest speakers for the Missionary Conference in May next year.

The speaker for the evening was Mrs. E. Schmidt. She chose as her text Philippians 4:6 and based her talk on three exhortations contained in the text: "Be careful for nothing", "Be prayerful for everything", and "Be thankful for anything".

All were encouraged to put these precepts into practice in their daily lives.

After the meeting was closed in prayer, a social time was enjoyed by all.

The hostesses were Mrs. Ralph Coote, Mrs. T. Young, Mrs. Rose Price and Mrs. S. Shufelt.

ST. BRIDGET'S PARISH COUNCIL

The monthly meeting of St. Bridget's Parish Council was held in the Canon Fiset Memorial Library on October 9, with Mrs. Claude Thibault in the chair. The meeting was opened with the League prayer, followed by a short talk by the Director, Rev. Father Clark. He suggested that the members familiarize themselves with the life of the Council patroness, St. Bridget.

The president, Mrs. Thibault announced that the Regional Conference of the C.W.L. will be held in Sherbrooke on October 19 and urged all members to attend what promises to be an interesting and informative session.

Mrs. Gordon Breen agreed to replace Mrs. Gordon Harmer as membership convener. Corporate communion was Sunday October 13.

Mrs. Lyle Sager reported on the bake sale held on October 6, which proved to be very successful and profitable.

The corresponding secretary, Mrs. Fred White, read a letter appealing for children's clothing and toys to be sent to the Rev. Father Marcel Mongeau for distribution.

The members were reminded to start preparations of articles for the Christmas baskets for needy families.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Wolfe, provincial secretary, of the C.W.L. gave a very interesting talk, highlighting the activities of the National Convention of the C.W.H., which she attended in Calgary. Mrs. Wolfe was thanked by Mrs. Douglas Fletcher on behalf of the members.

ST. PATRICK MISSION CIRCLE

The St. Patrick Mission Circle held its regular meeting in the library of the church hall with a good attendance of members. In the absence of the president, Miss Trudy Evans; the chair was taken by the first vice-president, Mrs. Paul Boileau.

Arrangements were completed for the rummage sale which is to be held on October 18.

Plans for the Christmas tea scheduled for November 16 were discussed and committees appointed. Miss Roberta Tobin will be in charge of purchasing, Miss Florence Clark of decorations, and Miss Margaret Fitzgerald of the salad bar. The food table will be looked after by Miss Kathleen Clark and Mrs. A. Bilton.

Tickets for a drawing of $50 are to be sold for the various projects of the Circle.

The hostesses for the evening were Mrs. F. Wielgus and Miss Evelyn Murray.

LADIES LIBRARY COMMITTEE

The regular meeting of the Ladies Library Committee was held in the library on October 2.

The president Miss E. Bradley, was in the chair.

Mrs. D. Heilig, read the minutes and reported on the recent Tag Days which proved successful.

Plans for winter projects were left until the next meeting in November.

Refreshments were served by Miss W. A. Farmer, hostess for the evening.

Anyone having items of interest for the Social Column please phone Mrs. P. Pickford, LO. 9-3636, Local 38.

BROILED FISH WITH BONNEFOY SAUCE

Take your choice of fresh or salt-water fish-bass, perch, pike, trout or whitefish, or cod, halibut, haddock, salmon or sole. Use it either whole, in steaks or fillets.

Wash fish, wipe dry, brush with oil, sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika, and if desired sprinkle also with flour after oiling and seasoning. Place 3 inches under broiler and broil 10 minutes, or until browned. Turn and broil just along enough to make skin brown and crisp.

BONNEFOY SAUCE

1 tablespoon dried minced onion, 2 peppercorns, crushed, 1/4 teaspoon thyme, Small piece bay leaf, 1 cup white wine, 1 cup cream sauce, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 1/4 teaspoon salt.

Add onion, peppercorns, thyme and bay leaf to wine. Cook down to about 1/2 cup. Add cream sauce, heat to boiling point and simmer 5 minutes. Strain and add salt and pepper. Serve with broiled fish. Makes approximately 1 1/2 cups.

Gloria Jean Spafford marries Layton Ralston Hollis Jr.

The marriage of Gloria Jean Spafford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mallory Spafford, of Sherbrooke, to Mr. Layton Ralston Hollis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Layton Ralston Hollis of Port Howe, N.S., took place on September 21, 1963, at 2:30 o'clock in the Plymouth United Church, Sherbrooke. Rev. M. W. Williams officiating. Mr. Jack Evans was the organist and during the signing of the register played, "Because", "I'll walk beside you," and "Wedding Prayer." Pink and white gladioli were used to decorate the church and the guest pews were marked with white satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length gown of white peau de soie, embroidered with Swiss lace, the fitted bodice having lily point sleeves, and a jewel neckline. The bell shaped skirt was fashioned with a wide band of lace at the hemline. Her chapel length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a semi coronet of lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of castanet roses and stephanotis. Her only ornament was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Carol Spafford, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a sata peau cotillon blue dress, fashioned with a full skirt and panel of blue silk flowers at the back, the bodice having a batiste neckline and short sleeves. Her headress was a velvet wreath of grapes and leaves, with tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of shasta daisies and pink Sweetheart roses.

Mr. Michael Hollis, brother of the groom, acted as best man and the ushers were, Messrs. William Hollis, of Port Howe and Lionel Patrick of St. Johns.

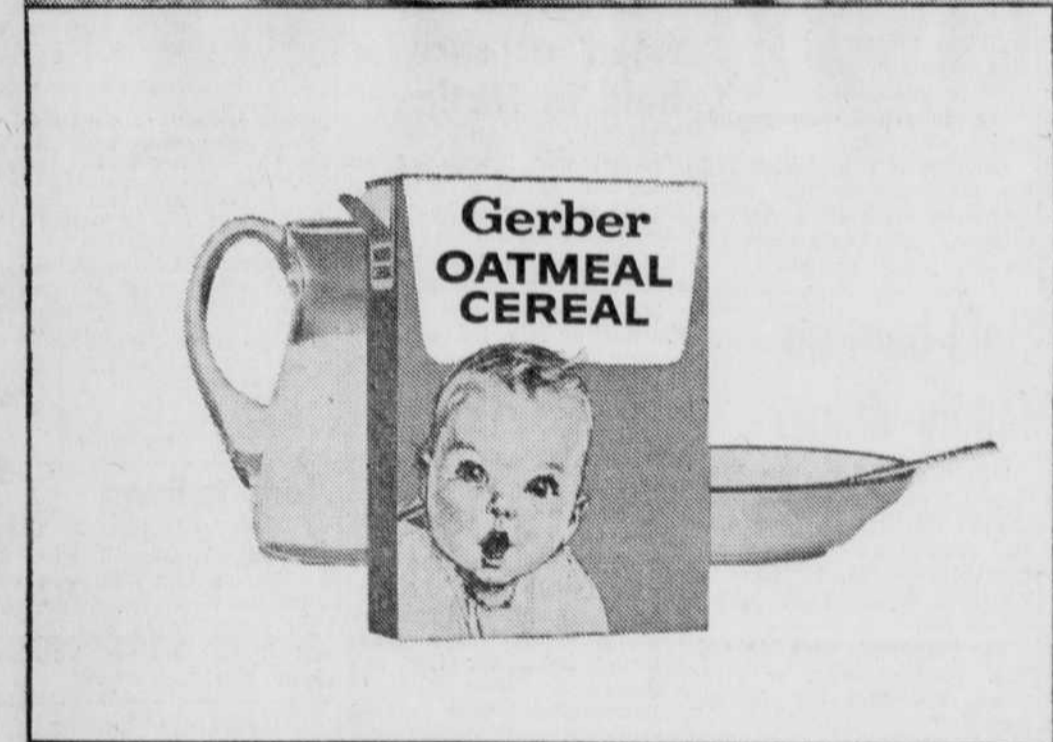

The bride's mother wore a sheath dress, of champagne Chantilly lace over antique ivory satin, a mink hat, blending accessories and a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

The groom's mother was attired in a midnight blue silk jacket dress, a cloche style hat of white feathers and a white orchid for her corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, on Ontario Street.

For the wedding trip to the New England States, the bride wore for travelling, a cocoa and beige wool suit, with matching pill box hat of silk organza and a corsage of bronze mums.

The couple will reside at 2, Frankton Crescent, Downsview, Ont.

Digestibility and sound nourishment assured by Gerber cereal research

Your baby's cereals must be readily digestible if he (or she) is to get full nutritive benefits from them. Gerber specialists developed an exclusive, controlled cooking method which breaks down grain starches to assure digestibility. In addition, Gerber Cereals are scientifically formulated to meet some of your baby's early nutritional needs . . . all 5 have added iron, calcium and the B-vitamins, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin.

Important: Gerber Cereals are twice-tested to insure uniform quality and mixability. They stir to smooth perfection in seconds . . . stay that way right down to the last delightful spoonful. Last, but not least, they have the delicate flavours babies prefer.

P.S. The more than 100 Gerber Strained and Junior Foods are now available in new Wide-Top jars with Quick-Twist caps. Easy to spoon out baby's food . . . easy to recap for refrigeration of unused portions. Caps reclose securely to protect flavours and help prevent discoloration . . . thus reducing "leftover" waste. Junior Foods now in large-size jars.

Babies are our business . . . our only business!

Polly's pointers by Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY—Before going on a trip, type the names and addresses of persons to whom you wish to send post-cards or letters on gummed folder labels which come in strips, perforated about one inch apart. Fold the labels in one-inch strips and carry in your purse. When the message is written, all that is necessary is to tear off a label, paste it on the card, add a stamp and it is ready to go.—MRS. H. M. D.

GIRLS—More time would be saved if an equal number of stamps were carried, too.

DEAR POLLY—My suggestion is concerning the new ZIP coded card that the mailman left at the house. I have been typing the ZIP code numbers from letters. I receive from friends and family. It is handy to have a ready reference list of them close by and all together.—MRS. A. B. J.

GIRLS—Your letters keep coming, pro and con, about whether or not guests should help with the dishes. To end this discussion, which is after all a matter of personal opinion, here is the last word—and from one with years of experience.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—Why all the fuss about who does the dishes? Just let the hostess decide. Offer to help. If the hostess says she would rather do them later, go sit and visit. If she says, "Fine, girls, I need a hand" then go to the kitchen, wash and wipe the dishes and let the hostess put away the food, dishes and silverware. Sometimes it takes more time to find things others put away than it does to do all the work. This whole question depends on so many things—whether the hostess wants help or not, who the guests are, how many dishes, the time of day and if the hostess is dead-tired or not.—AGE 79.

And that washes up the dishes, girls.—POLLY.

DEAR POLLY—When ironing ruffles, collars, apron ties, cuffs, etc., where only the front of the iron is used, place paper on the board just under the edge of the item being ironed. This keeps the board cover from becoming scorched by absorbing the constant heat of the part of the iron not being used on the garment. Paper towels will serve the same purpose but they become brittle and wear out in a shorter time. Brown paper is best. This method will double the life of your ironing board cover.—MRS V. K.

SANDRA DIANE, 10 month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Parker of Lennoxville. Granddaughter of Mrs. Carrie Parker of Fitch Bay and Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Deacon of Waterville. She is the great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of Huntingville and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Deacon of Waterville.

Executive of Bedford H. and S. meets to plan October meeting

BEDFORD — The monthly executive meeting of the Home and School Association was held in the High School on Oct. 7.

Austin Campbell, treasurer, reported $52.12 for books purchased for the library. A letter of thanks was read from Ann Whitcomb regarding the help given in attending the UN Seminar at Macdonald College. She will give a report on the seminar at the October meeting of the Home and School.

Vernon Kurtz, program convener, reported meeting to be held Oct. 29, in the High School at which the program will be a continuation of the series on the composite high school. The special speaker for the evening will be C. Savage, of Grandmere, who has recently completed an extensive survey of the Province and will talk on certain aspects of the composite high school. Mrs. M. S. McCaw was appointed as teachers' representative to the H. and S. executive. Mac Bradshaw, president, suggested that executive meetings be changed, one evening meeting to be held every two months, and a short one to be held on the regular meeting of the Association. This was unanimously adopted.

A new method will be tried out this year, in regard to the annual skate tunic and gym suit sale. Parents with articles to sell will contact the school and a list will be made, which will be sent to all parents. Those wishing to purchase may consult the list, which will contain all details, size etc., of articles and contact the owners. The membership convener, Mr. Campbell, gave out lists to the members of the executive, to contact members and prospective members regarding the payment of their fees or joining the Association. Mr. Bradshaw was appointed chairman of the Student Loan Fund, which has recently been organized as one of the Association's projects. Donations to this cause will be appreciated. Fred Gilman, a member of the local Scout Association, asked that in this month's newsletter an appeal be made for an increase in both the Cubs and Scouts membership, and stressed the importance of this group. Both organizations have excellent leaders and an interesting program has been drawn up for the coming season. Again this year UNICEF collections will be made on Halloween.

MAKES HER DEBUT — Janis Orenstein, 15, of Toronto, rehearses the part of Abbie, an emotionally disturbed girl, in Charles Israel's The Labyrinth to be shown on CBC-TV's Festival series Wednesday, Oct. 16. Janie, a scholarship vocal student at Toronto's Royal Conservatory of Music, has been active on the stage since she was nine although the still hopes to make a career in music.

Boss-eating star, Wayne meets his match

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John Wayne, who usually eats producers alive, finally met his match in McLintock.

The movie was produced by his eldest son — Michael, 28. Says Mike:

"My father and I argued a lot and then finally he got so he just suggested instead of demanding — and then we got along fine.

"I wouldn't let him charge off his grocery bill to the picture while we were on location in Tucson. That's the first time that ever happened to him since he became a star. "He grumbled a little but he paid the bill."

Buke has had Michael working as his executive assistant in production for a number of years. McLintock is his debut as a full scale producer.

Says Wayne: "He's tough to work for but that's the way I trained him. I've got no one but myself to blame."

Patrick, Duke's No. 2 son, age 24, is a big booster of Michael Wayne the producer. Says the actor-son:

"It's the first picture I've ever made where I got third billing. It's the best part I've ever had, too."

To which Mike said to Pat: "I told you to stick with me and I'd make you a star."

MAGOG —

Mrs. Shirley Tetreault and two children of Nashua, N.H., were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Catchpaugh, College Street. Recent guests at the same home were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dugal and two children of Lasalle West.

St. Luke's Woman's Guild met in the Church Hall, Oct. 9, with th- president, Mrs. A. Le- vick presiding, when plans were discussed for the Nov. 15 Tea and Sale. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. O. Holt.

Mrs. Ken Kirby was hostess at the meeting of St. Faith's Guild, held in St. Luke's Church Hall, Oct. 9. Results of the recent bean supper were reported very satisfactory. Plans are being made for a Christmas sale. The next meeting will be held at the Rectory, with Mrs. M. Tomlinson and Mrs. H. Ding- man as hostesses.

The "Good Old Days" at Zeller's

It will be just like the "GOOD OLD DAYS" at Zeller's during the Anniversary Sale, starting Thursday, October 17th.

Displays overflowing with Fall and Winter clothing for the whole family — home needs at bargain prices reminiscent of the "GOOD OLD DAYS", the sound of old familiar tunes floating through the store and last but not least the entire staff of Gay Ninety Belles all dressed up in fineries of their own creation and ever ready to extend the traditional cordiality and courteous service of the "GOOD OLD DAYS" which will give the atmosphere of Good old-fashioned hospitality for which Zeller's are so well known.

San Francisco's quake-shy builders are suddenly reaching for the sky

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco builders, probably mindful of the 1906 earthquake disaster, refrained for half a century from erecting tall structures in the city. Now, suddenly, they're reaching for the sky.

The city's building code is strict—but doesn't limit height. A 43-storey Wells Fargo Bank office, which planners say will top any building west of Texas, is in the works. When completed early in 1966, it will tower 561 feet above Montgomery Street in the financial district.

For many years the city's two tallest buildings barely nudged 435 feet. No one is quite sure what's behind the new spurt upward.

Some say it's a vigorous economy and a peninsula-bound city—about 45 square miles—with no direction to grow but upward.

Alfred Goldberg, assistant superintendent of the city's bureau of building inspection, declares, "What's happening is, the east is moving out here."

He points out that skyscrapers are commonplace in the Eastern United States and, "as eastern firms expand into the west they bring their building ideas with them."

TALLER AND TALLER Goldberg says at least seven office buildings in the late planning stage or under construction in the city will average 20 storeys. And taller and taller apartment houses are crowning—and crowding — residential hills.

Could the city be laying itself open to possibility of another 1906 disaster?

"San Francisco should come through another earthquake like 1906 very well," comments Goldberg, a civil engineer. "Oh, there would be some cracking of walls and glass, gingerbread breaking off, minor damage of that sort. But the buildings should stand."

VALUATION ROLL

PUBLIC NOTICE is hereby given, that the valuation role for the year commencing the first of January, nineteen-sixty-four (1964), and prepared by the municipal estimators is now completed and deposited at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer, this 10th day of October, 1963.

Said valuation roll shall remain open for the inspection of those interested, or their representatives until Monday, the 11th day of November, 1963.

During such time, any persons having reasons to complain against this Roll as prepared, either for himself or another person, may appeal to the City Council by giving for such a purpose, a written notice to the Secretary-Treasurer, stating the grounds of his complaint, and if he complains against the valuation of his property being too high, he shall mention in his notice the amount which he considers to be adequate.

PUBLIC NOTICE is also given, that all complaints against this roll, will be examined by City Council at their adjourned regular meeting on Thursday, the 14th day of November, nineteen-sixty-three (1963) at 8.00 o'clock p.m. at the City Hall, where their protests will be considered and the roll homologated.

Given at the City of Magog, Stanstead County, this tenth (10th) day of October nineteen - hundred - sixty - three (1963).

A writer's notes

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks of a man with a new toupee gets tired of hearing:
 "Well, hair today—gone tomorrow!"
 "Here comes old Goldilocks himself."
 "May we suggest, sir, that you shake a little salt on it occasionally? The resemblance to dandruff will give it that final natural touch."
 "He's so absent-minded that some mornings he puts it on backward—and then I can't tell whether he's going or coming."
 "I must say that Ronald has real savoir faire. When his toupee fell into the bowl in front of him at that Chinese restaurant, he didn't panic. He simply called the waiter over and told him: "I'm afraid there's been some mistake. I didn't order this bird's nest soup."
 "Oh, don't feel so sorry for yourself. They say the first Queen Elizabeth was bald as an eagle and had to wear a wig a foot tall."
 "I know it must itch terribly in this hot weather, Ronald, but for heaven's sake quit scratching. Everybody's watching."
 "Don't sit too close to the electric fan, dear. Remember when it blew out the apartment window and landed in a tree, and you had to pay that little boy 50 cents to climb up and get it?"
 "Sorry I mused it up, darling. I was just tidying the floor, and when I saw it lying there it gave me such a fright I hit it twice with the mop before I realized what it was."
 "If it shrank, sir, I'm afraid it was your own fault. This model does not carry a drip-dry guarantee."
 "Hi there, curly!"
 "You must be particularly careful about moths, sir. Unfortunately, they prefer toupees to sirlolin steak."
 "Gee, fellow, I'm new in the office. I don't see why you have to fly off the handle when all I asked you was where there's a good barber around here."
 "Yes, sir, shall I wrap it up—or will you wear it home?"
 "Yes, it looks fine, Ronald. But my advice is to grow a beard. That would kinda balance it."

 In 1962 Canadian smokers paid Ottawa a total of $382,000,000 in tobacco taxes.

The Boomer top goal-getter with three for early start, Howe just one away from new scoring record

MONTREAL (CP) — Bernie Geoffrion of Montreal and Stan Mikita of Chicago share the lead in the point-scoring race after the National Hockey League's first week of action but interest is focussed on Detroit Red Wings' Gordie Howe as he assaults the league's all-time scoring record.

Official NHL statistics released today show Geoffrion moved into a first-place tie with six points after scoring two goals and two assists in Montreal's 6-2 lacing of New York. He showed Jacques Plante, New York Rangers goaltender, that he could still find the target after being taunted by his former teammate about his shot.

Geoffrion's points are made up of three goals and three assists in two games while Mikita, who signed his 1963-64 contract only a day before Hawks opened their schedule with a 3-1 win over Rangers, scored two goals and four assists in Chicago's three games.

Howe fired three goals in Detroit's two games to move within one goal of tying the career record of 544 goals set by Maurice Richard, the former Montreal star, in regular season play.

The 35-year-old Howe, playing in his 18th season, had said he didn't expect to score the goal breaking Richard's record until late in November.

Third and fourth spots in the individual scoring race are shared by John Ferguson, Canadiens rookie from Vancouver, and Jean Beliveau, the veteran Montreal centre. Ferguson has scored three goals and added two assists in Montreal's first two games and Beliveau's five points are made up of a goal and four assists, the latter boosting his career total to 402.

Howe's three goals and an assist tied him with Bobby Hull and Ken Wharram of Chicago and Detroit's Bruce MacGregor for fifth spot in individual scoring with four points apiece.

ONLY SHOOTOUT
Terry Sawchuk of Detroit leads goaltenders, giving up three goals in two games for a 1.50 goals-against average. He also has the lone shutout in the league, a 3-0 win over Boston.

The penalty leaders after the first week of play are Dick Duff of Toronto and John Bucyk of Boston, each of whom received a minor and 10-minute misconduct for totals of 12 minutes. Howie Young of Chicago Black Hawks, who set a league record of 273 penalty minutes with Detroit last season, did not receive a penalty in Hawks' three games.

In the team standings, Detroit's two victories in two games gives Red Wings the league lead with four points, the same total as Chicago although Black Hawks have suffered a loss against their two victories. Montreal is third with three points on their victory and tie in two games, and Toronto is fourth with two points on a win and a loss in their two starts. Boston has a tie in three starts for one point, one point.

Canada defeats New Zealand in golf

SYDNEY, Australia (CP-Reuters) — Canada gained its first victory in the 1963 Commonwealth amateur golf team championship here today, defeating New Zealand five matches to three with one halved.

The Canadian win today was due to fine play in the morning foursomes in which the Canadians made a clean sweep of the three matches.

The New Zealanders won three of the six singles after lunch; the Canadians won two and the other was halved.

Canada lost all three foursomes against South Africa, but today the Canadians gave a superb demonstration of team play.

Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., showed the gallery at the par-72 Royal Sydney course some of the topnotch golf he produced when he won the individual title at the world amateur championships in Japan last year.

Cowan teamed with Bert Ticehurst of Vancouver to defeat New Zealand's Ross Newdick and Brian Boys 4 and 3.

The 24-year-old Cowan gave a fine display of driving and putted well. At the sixth hole he sank a 44-foot putt for a birdie two.

Stuart Jones and Ross Murray, New Zealand's top pair, hung on grimly in their match against Canada's No. 1 team, Nick Weslock of Burlington, Ont., and Bill Wakeham of Victoria, but the Canadians, after being all square at the turn, forged ahead to win two and one.

In the other foursomes, the Calgary duo of Doug Silverberg and Keith Alexander were three under par on their outward half and went on to win 3 and 2.

In the exciting battle between Cowan and Newdick, the Canadian won by one hole after being tied two down at the 10th. The match produced nine birdies, with Cowan two under par when the class ended.

Bob Turner joins Buffalo

BUFFALO (AP) — Defence man Bob Turner, an eight-year veteran of the National Hockey League who decided he did not want to play in the minors, has changed his mind and will report to Buffalo of the American League.

Turner is expected to arrive here in time to play against Hershey Saturday.

Turner played for Montreal Canadiens from 1955 to 1961 before he was traded to Chicago Black Hawks.

Ford offers to buy Lions for $6,000,000
DETROIT (AP) — The Ford automobile family's $6,000,000 offer to buy Detroit Lions.

Bill Ford, a scion of the famed auto world's Fords and who is president of the National Football League club, created a sensation at the Lions' directors meeting Tuesday with the surprise offer.

The $6,000,000 probably is the largest single offer for any sports franchise.

Muzz Patrick of Rangers predicts Gordie Howe will play five more years, greatest player in history

NEW YORK (AP) — How many goals will Gordie Howe score and how long will he play in the National Hockey League?

"He'll play five more years and wind up with at least 700 goals," predicts general manager Muzz Patrick of New York Rangers who open their home season tonight against Howe and Detroit Red Wings in Madison Square Garden.

Howe, 35, a rightwinger, needs only two more goals to break the NHL career record (excluding playoffs) of 544 held by Maurice (Rocket) Richard, the former Montreal Canadiens star. The Rocket retired three years ago at age 39.

"There's no doubt that Howe is the greatest player in the history of the game," said Patrick who joined the Rangers as a player in 1937. "He's already scored three times in two games, so it looks as though he's going to have another outstanding season."

Howe suffered a cut right ankle in practice Tuesday. But a Red Wings spokesman said the injury probably would not hamper his play against the Rangers tonight.

Howe, a native of Floral, Sask., and a Detroit resident, is ahead of the sixth-place Rangers who lost their first two games.

Jim Trimble working Als hard for tilt

MONTREAL (CP) — Jim Trimble, Montreal Alouettes' head coach, said Tuesday the team will practice twice a day this week in preparation for the game against Ottawa Rough Riders Saturday.

Trimble said he wants all his players in top shape for the trip to Ottawa, so he has increased the number of workouts.

Alouettes downed the Toronto Argonauts 34-20 Sunday, but the win was described by observers as more a result of Toronto's ineptness than Montreal's skill.

Ottawa and Hamilton Tiger Cats are currently tied for first place in the Eastern Football Conference with 14 points each. Montreal is in second with 12 and Toronto trails with only four points.

Bellevue Golf Club holds closing, trophies presented to new champs

RICHMOND — The Bellevue Golf Club held its closing supper and trophy presentations Saturday evening. Over 60 members and guests were on hand for the season's finishing program.

George Ewing, president of the club, welcomed the guests and expressed a vote of thanks to the ladies of the club who did well in their division. Mrs. Gilles Marcotte, past-president of the ladies division, expressed her thanks and appreciation for the help received during her term and said that the new president is Mrs. Percy Frazer.

Mrs. Marcotte also cited one of the ladies of the club who has been a member for the past 33 years, Mrs. C. W. Armstrong, who did much for the club in the ladies section and helped with the membership.

One of the golfing families emerged among the winners the past season. Mrs. Leslie Rattray took top honors in the ladies section winning the club championship while her two sons were junior winners. Charles, in the age 13 and under and David, age 14-19. Mrs. Rattray also won the Loiselle Cup two-ball mixed with Roch Martin. Mr. Rattray is vice-president of the club.

Club champions were Roger 'Pat' Desrosiers, medal player and David Crockett, match play. Runners-up, respectively, Gary Fuller, John Chabot and Roger Smith. Jean-Guy Ouellette copped the Handicap Cup with Dave Crockett the runner-up while John Chabot took class A with Gilles Marcotte runner-up. Vincent Provencher took class A honors while Conrad Maurice emerged class C champion. Charles Rattray won the junior class, under 13, with Stephen Fowler the runner-up and David Rattray walked off with junior, 14 to 19, with Don Nixon runner-up. Lloyd Fuller won the 50 and over class with Pat Desrosiers second.

In the ladies section Eileen Rattray won the club title with Jeannine Marcotte runner-up and Jeannine Marcotte copped the Handicap Cup with Normande Marcotte second. Germaine Hebert copped class B over Thelma Fuller with Olive Desmarais took class C from Louise Fee. Teresa Fowler and Germaine Hebert tied for the ringer honors.

Airborn cowboy on Dutch airline

VANCOUVER (CP) — Jim Todd is a steward working for an airline—not a very strange occupation until one considers his passengers.

For Todd is the world's No. 1 airborne cowboy. His official title is chief animal steward for KLM Royal Dutch Airlines.

He is head of a specially trained crew that will fly anywhere in the world at any time, looking after animals in flight.

Other airlines move animals, but only KLM hires special men who must take a course at the Veterinary University at Utrecht, Holland, before they join the crew.

Todd, a Bronx living in Holland, has moved lions from Africa and elephants from India. The most troublesome animal, he says, is the jittery thoroughbred racehorse which cannot be flown by jet because of the rapid acceleration.

He was here to take over a herd of Holstein and Hereford cattle, part of which came from Hay Farm, Ont., being flown to Japan.

The 29,000-pound cargo was valued at $100,000.

Previously he had taken cattle from New York to Milan, Italy, and his next job was cattle from Toronto to Rome.

Sugar price ups, downs to continue unless quota agreement is set up

LONDON (CP)—Wild fluctuations in the wholesale price of sugar will continue until a new international quota agreement is established, says a London broker.

The spokesman for Czarnikow, Limited, biggest of the six brokerages controlling the London price, says a tight supply situation will keep prices hovering around their current high levels.

World sugar production has always varied from year to year because sugar cane and beet root are easily influenced by weather conditions. Consumption, on the other hand, has maintained a slow but steady increase.

A long-term view of the situation can be seen from figures provided by the International Sugar Council. Since 1951-52 production has risen by 52 per cent—to 54,000,000 short tons a year from 33,000,000.

Meanwhile consumption, prompted by higher standards of living and development of the Russian market, has risen by 60 per cent—to 59,000,000 short tons from 32,000,000. The current gap between supply and demand has been filled by stockpiles which have sunk considerably in the last two years.

BIG REDUCTION

The sugar council says there has been a 55-per-cent reduction in reserves in North America, South America, Eastern and Western Europe, India and China. Stocks in Africa have increased slightly and those in Australia have stayed about the same.

Over-all stockpiles are estimated at 9,445,000 tons, compared with 17,236,000 in 1961—a level, says the council, "which in time could endanger sugar distribution even if there are certain invisible stocks available."

The gap between supply and demand has grown more acute recently because of two poor crops in Europe and the political situation in Cuba. Production this year was three per cent below last year's crop and 3,500,000 tons below the record yield in 1960-61.

Movement of sugar on the free world market is dependent on price development, sugar policy in individual countries and the judgment of big concerns. Uncertainty about supply has led to some dramatic price variations.

Spot prices on the London market, which influences New York and Montreal, are decided at a morning meeting of brokers operating on information received each day. Last May the price rose to £101 a ton, highest since 1920, then dropped to £51 in August and now has risen to about £60 a ton.

The next meeting of the Youth Fellowship will be held Oct. 18.

DANVILLE — The Youth Fellowship of the Advent Christian Church sponsored a hay ride on Oct. 4. After the ride, refreshments were served in the church basement.

On Oct. 7, the annual business meeting was held, when the following officers were elected: President, Mary Kesti; vice-president, Shirley Zoney; secretary, Monica Weiss; treasurer, Evelyn Baker.

It was decided to have dues of 10 cents a week.

On Oct. 11, some of the members attended a Youth Rally in Morrisville, Vt.

Japanese beef is not cheap import

TORONTO (CP) — Import Japanese beef into North America? And sell it for $3 to $8 a pound? Someone must be kidding.

But someone isn't. The Meat Packers Council of Canada has announced an introductory shipment of Japanese Kobe beef will arrive in North America sometime this fall. And it'll sell for $3 to $8 a pound.

It seems clear this is no ordinary beef. It comes from Japan's native black cattle which are so highly prized farmers let one or two selected animals live right in the house.

The steers' standard ration is warmed beer mash, chopped hay and barley sweetened with molasses which is fed to him by hand every time he can be persuaded to open his mouth.

To ensure the beef will be as tender as possible, the steer receives a daily massage and rubdown.

The meat is very fat and the Japanese slice it razor thin to make Suki Yaki.

People who have eaten Kobe beef say it's delicious. It should be.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, Stanstead, were Mrs. Lilly Saint, Kamloops, B.C. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Daignault, Montreal.

NOT TRUE PICTURE

Brokers here scorn any suggestion of large-scale speculation but The Financial Times says there might have been attempts to force the market down when prices were high last May. Thus the resulting low level was not an accurate reflection of the supply-and-demand situation.

Most likely large industrial buyers held off when prices were falling between May and August then started purchasing with a rush when prices soared.

Red suppression will give way to freedom of ideas

VICTORIA (CP)—A Canadian professor who returned recently from a vacation trip to Communist China says intellectual suppression there will eventually give way to freedom of ideas.

"This suppression is bound to be a passing phase as the population is becoming more educated," said Prof. C. S. Burchill of Royal Roads service college.

"It will be bound to generate a freedom of ideas, if not in this generation, then in the next."

Prof. Burchill said China's internal situation seems stabilized and there appears to be no anti-government agitation, but the external situation "is very dangerous."

He said the real danger is that China's population will expand more rapidly than any possible expansion of production.

While there is a move toward stabilized population in urban areas of China, this is not the case in rural districts.

NO ATOMIC WEAPONS

The government is attempting to curb the population boom by recommending postponement of marriage and encouraging sales of contraceptives, he said.

Have the Chinese atomic weapons?

Prof. Burchill said no. "Usually a little bragging takes place when a country possesses nuclear weapons, and I haven't heard the Chinese brag."

The professor said he was impressed most of all by the Chinese reforestation effort. Hills that had been stripped of trees for centuries were being forested in an effort to curb erosion and floods.

"The industrial development will permit Japan to produce about 1,200,000 kilowatts of electricity within several years, Japanese Science Minister Eisaku Sato told a science-economics ministerial meeting here.

equipment and agricultural machinery have been given preference."

Prof. Burchill said that despite recent poor crops, the Communists seem to have conquered the famine problem that has been chronic in China for 500 years.

"There is less hunger in Red China today than in a good many centuries before," he said.

ITALY BEST DRESSED

GLASGOW (AP) — Twenty-one tailors from Tokyo, on tour studying men's fashions, stopped dead in their tracks at what they acknowledged was the most arresting sight so far—a highlander wearing a kilt. The verdict otherwise: "The best dressed men we have seen are the Italians."

SOUTH DIDN'T LIKE NORTH'S HEART JUMP
North's jump to four hearts was a distinct overbid and South was not at all pleased with the contract. But things started out fairly well because West opened the king of diamonds and shifted to a club. East's king fell to South's ace and dummy was entered with the ace of spades.
A low heart dropped the queen from East and West won South's king with the ace. West led back a spade and South went right up with dummy's king. South drew West's last trump, cashed his queen of clubs, ruffed his last club in dummy and threw West in with the ace of diamonds.
West did not have another spade and had to lead either a club or a diamond. Either one allowed South to ruff in dummy and discard his last spade.
South had played the hand very well and had been fortunate to find that West held only two spades to start, but he had been really lucky in his choice of defenders. West should have cashed his ace of diamonds before leading that last spade, whereupon there would have been no way for South to put him in the lead.
