ONTARIO BUS ACCIDENT TAKES 20 LIVES

World News In Brief

Tokyo—(P)—Far East air forces said today it lost 1,000 warplanes behind Red lines in the Korean war, 20 less than the number of Red planes destroyed.

FEAF did not include Allied losses behind United Nations lines.

FEAF said it lost 110 planes in aerial duels, 557 to Red ground fire and 213 to "other causes" (usually engine failure).

It said 58 United States Sabre jets were lost in the three-year conflict while blasting 800 Red MIG jets from the skies, a ratio of almost 14 to 1.

Brandon, Man.—(P)—Most Rev. Louis Ralph Sherman of Winnipeg, archbishop of Rupert's Yand, died in hospital here today after a brief illness.

The 66-year-old Anglican church leader was stricken with a brain hemorrhage Tuesday while vacationing at Clear Lake, Man., and taken to Brandon general hospital.

Hanoi, Indo-China—(P)—French fighters and bombers kept up heavy attacks today on the Communist-led Viet-minh rebels' supply bases and lines of communication with China.

Among their targets were Thai Nguyen, 40 miles north of Hanoi. It is often referred to as Ho Chi Minh's administrative capital, but the French are not sure where the elusive Viet-minh chief is.

Other key targets were Tuyen Quang, 70 miles north of Hanoi, and the vicinity of Hoa Binh.

Seoul—(Reuters)—Plans are being made to get Commonwealth prisoners of war returning from North Korea home as fast as possible, a Commonwealth division spokesman said Thursday night.

The prisoner exchange is due to start Aug. 5. About 200 prisoners a day are expected, but arrangements are being made to accommodate 500 daily at Britannia camp, south-east of Munsan.

Among the Commonwealth prisoners to be returned are 14 Canadians and 922 British troops.

Scientist Dies In Copter Crash

O'Neill, Neb.—(P)—An intensive United States air force weather study here will go on despite the crash of a helicopter which killed the project's top scientist and five others.

The helicopter plunged into a pasture Thursday and burst into flame.

The dead scientist was Dr. Cuenter Looser, 40, one of the directors of the air force lower atmosphere research project. Others killed were military personnel.

The flight was preliminary to the official start Monday of six weeks of wind research field tests.

Dr. Looser, a German who came to this country after the Second World War, was a leading meteorological scientist. He had helped develop the V-2 rocket.

Witnesses said the helicopter crashed after it lost a rotor blade.

U.S. Airman Says Bomber Was Shot Down By Russians

Tokyo—(P)—A United States airman rescued from the sea a few miles off Siberia said his B-50 bomber was shot down by Russian fighters, Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East air force commander, said tonight.

Moscow said Thursday two Soviet fighters exchanged shots with a B-50 over Vladivostok.

Capt. John E. Roche, Washington, D.C., told Weyland the bomber was shot down shortly after 6:15 a.m. about 40 miles off the Russian coast.

The air force said the plane was on a navigational training mission. Weyland said he personally interviewed the rescued co-pilot.

Roche was snatched from the water by a navy destroyer, the Pickering, after having been in the water 11 hours and spending another 11 hours in a boat dropped by a search plane.

Weyland's headquarters said Roche was in good physical condition and had only bruises on his head and face suffered when he bailed out of the bomber.

The plane carried 16 other crewmen. The search for more survivors was abandoned today.

Moscow charged Thursday that a B-50 flew over the Siberian coast near the big port of Vladivostok Wednesday and opened fire as two Soviet fighters rose to intercept it. In a strongly-worded note delivered to the U. S. embassy, Mos-

Toronto To Montreal Bus Plunges Into Canal After Striking Parked Truck

Survivors Names Are Announced

Montreal—(P)—Following is a list of survivors in the Morrisburg, Ont., bus crash, issued by Colonial Coach Lines:

Anthony J. Bowen, 26, Toronto.

Miss Anna Bates, 20, New Waterford, N.S.

Theresa Bates, 26, Sydney, N.S.

Claude Desjardins, 24, 14 Cartier St., Quebec.

Mike McCaffrey, 20, Newcastle, N.B.

Corson Allen, 39, Sydney, N.S.

George Tinsley, 28, Liverpool, Eng.

David Christian, 35, London, Eng.

Danil Humphreys, 19, RCN, Dartmouth, N.S.

Ronald Lax, 20, RCN, Port Hope, Ont.

Miss Margaret Jaguar, 18, 13 Commercial St., (city unknown), N.S.

Mrs. Margaret Jehue, 18, 15 Tooker St., Yarmouth, N.B.

William Kitchen, 21, Newcastle, N.B.

Lawrence R. Doran, 29, Toronto.

Clarence Summer, 25, Toronto or Montreal.

Miss Mabel McCallum, Montreal.

Ronald J. P. Mortished, 62, Dublin, Ireland.

When the bus plunged into the canal, passengers struggled through windows and doors to save themselves.

Most of the 10 bodies taken to the funeral home were recovered by a transport department driver.

Some of the bodies were found on the bottom of the canal.

The accident occurred about 5 a.m. EDT, on No. 2 highway where the highway, the canal and the Plat Rapids converge. The bus and the panel truck both plunged into the Rapids Plat Canal, which is one of three canals making up the Williamsburg Canal. In the dim light shortly after dawn rescuers could see the bus lights burning under water.

The two vehicles plummeted down a 30-foot embankment and sank in 20 feet of water. It was not immediately known if there was anyone besides Roodman in the panel truck, still in the canal.

The accident snarled highway traffic for miles and shipping was brought to a standstill.

A spokesman for Colonial Coach Lines in Montreal said the bus was one of two heading from Toronto to Montreal. The driver of the second bus was flagged down by a transport driver leaving Iroquois, Ont., and warned there was a truck without lights parked across the road a short distance up the highway.

All available Ontario provincial police officers in the area were sent to the scene.

Rescuers set up their headquarters at a farm near Morrisburg and artificial respiration was given the victims as they were pulled from the water.

A telephone operator told callers, however, that she had instructions not to call the number at the farm because the line was being held for emergency calls.

The farm is owned by Mahlon Beckstead and is just opposite the crash scene.

A Cornwall reporter, Burns Stewart, told his office that many of the passengers were asleep at the time of the crash. Some escaped through windows and others pushed out through the emergency door as the bus sank in the canal.

The survivors, some of whom swam 20 feet to safety, were taken to the Beckstead farm where they were wrapped in blankets, given dry clothes and breakfast.

Stewart said the first man to reach the canal bank and scramble to the highway tried to flag down a passing transport. But the vehicle roared by him in the dark.

A minute or so later, a provincial police cruiser stopped and sent out a radio message for help.

Stewart quoted some survivors as saying the bus travelled 200 feet in the water after the impact. It came to rest on its right side.

The fire department at Morrisburg said its men were not called on for help in giving artificial respiration.

A telephone operator on duty at the Morrisburg fire station said he heard the death toll was somewhere between 15 and 18.

"There's a diver there now because some of the bodies are outside the bus," the operator said.

"As for the dead, those who weren't killed in the smash were Seventeen Survivors Listed After Early Morning Accident.

Morrisburg, Ont.—(P)—Possibly 20 persons were drowned early today after a Colonial Coach Lines express bus bound from Toronto to Montreal plunged into the Williamsburg canal two miles west of here. The big bus struck a panel truck parked on the highway and both vehicles toppled into the canal.

Officials of the bus company said there were 37 passengers on the vehicle when it left Kingston, Ont., not including the bus driver. Seventeen of them survived the tragedy and now are en route to Montreal by bus.

The bus driver, Lorne Cheesborough of Kingston, Ont., also survived and is unconscious in hospital at Cornwall. The driver of the truck, Max Roodman of Toronto also was taken to hospital but was not seriously injured.

Ten bodies were removed from the submerged bus and taken to the Keck funeral home in Morrisburg. The bus was pulled from the canal with a cable and winch about 10:30 a.m. with at least 10 bodies still in it.

The bodies were left in the bus which was towed to Morrisburg.

Five of the dead have been identified they are:

Weston Doak, 341 Queen St., Fredericton, N.B.; Hubert C. Bird, Hamilton, Ont.; Hector Joseph McCadden, Glace Bay, N.S.; Roy Gustave, 1935 St. Germain St., Montreal; Edwins Tinnermanis, Dupar-que, Que.

Another three of the dead were described by police as "unidentified women."

Nova Scotia Coal Industry Faces Crisis

By KINGSLEY BROWN, JR.
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Sydney—(P)—Nova Scotia's coal industry is facing the most critical period of its 230-year history.

Production is falling, mines are closing and markets dwindling. Its 11,000 miners are without a contract, many are without work.

That's not healthy for an industry that raises nearly a third of Canada's coal and supports a sixth of Nova Scotia's population.

The Dominion Coal Company and its three subsidiaries, which mine 87 per cent of the province's coal, think, however, they have a remedy.

They're installing giant metallic miners that can do the work of men and twice as fast, and big tunnels are being pushed under the sea to cut production costs.

In three years they hope to produce an industry smaller but more prosperous than the one today that is losing $4,000,000 annually.

Harold Gordon, the company's general manager, has termed mechanization the key to the existence of an industry that supports more than 100,000 people.

Behind this sombre picture, however, there is a puzzle. Why, observers ask, do the miners vote twice this month against signing a contract with the company, knowing that their livelihood depended on its prosperity?

Particularly after their union executive told them that a vote for contract was in the "best interests" of the industry. The executive's stand was in line with a conciliation board's recommendation that the company and United Mine Workers CCL district 26 waive their demands because of the industry's production and marketing problems.

Thursday's vote, on the eve of the closure of the No. 24 mine at Glace Bay, was 3,557-2,870 for a majority of 687 against signing the one-year contract that provided no wage increases. The miners earlier asked for $3.25 daily increases to bring their basic rate to $12.

District president Freeman Jenkins, who after the July 7 referendum asked the UMW headquarters to investigate his district and make some recommendations, had no comment on the outcome of Thursday's referendum.

He told the Canadian Press Thursday, however, that the matter would probably be taken up at the district convention in the event that the contract was "turned down. The convention is expected to be held in October.

When asked whether he thought the UMW would remove the district's autonomy to allow the executive to sign a contract with the company, the stocky leader said: "Autonomy has always been the accepted thing in our district. I hardly think so."

The company meanwhile, has announced that Stellarton's Albion mine, one of the oldest in North America, will close Aug. 15, after the miners' vacation, and that the working force at the mine would be reduced to 100 men.

Nearly 1,200 men have been idle in Glace Bay for a month while mechanical miners are being installed in the big No. 1B colliery, which extends six miles under the sea.

From start to finish, confusion arose from the witness' inclination to expand his answers or to pursue

FIRST SHIPMENT IS ON ITS WAY — The first truckload of U.S. food for hungry East Germans is checked by West German Customs Police on a highway outside of Berlin. The first shipment was delayed by the Reds for six and one-half hours. Observers say that the Soviets will probably try to crack down severely on East German citizens who accept the food.

Drew Critical Of Election Letter Sent To Servicemen

By Canadian Press Staff Writer

Voters got a mixed bag of election talk Thursday from political leaders—a "dishonest" campaign letter, trade and forest resources.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, demanded that Prime Minister St. Laurent repudiate a "dishonest" election letter which he said was sent to members of the armed forces by Duncan K. McTavish of Ottawa, president of the National Liberal Federation.

Speaking at Sarnia, Ont., Mr. Drew quoted the letter as saying that Progressive Conservatives think the government has been extravagant in providing "lavishness and luxury for servicemen."

He said the letter had references to Progressive Conservative protests against "extravagance" in defence spending and said Liberal policy is to make sure servicemen share in Canada's high standard of living.

Mr. Drew termed the letter "one of the most dishonest communications I have ever read" and said he wants the prime minister to say he knew nothing about it and to message all troops telling them the Liberal party repudiates it.

Earlier at Ingersoll, Ont., Mr. Drew said under a Progressive Conservative administration would not "hang on to the coat-tails of Uncle Sam or anyone else."

Mr. St. Laurent, also campaigning in Ontario, told a Brantford audience that though there is no dollar formula for solving the pound-dollar problem, it is going to be done by hard work, patience and endeavor.

He referred to Mr. Drew's promise that if he became prime minister he would go immediately to Britain to try to untie the sterling-dollar convertibility knot and win back markets for Canadian goods.

"He said he would go over and talk about the markets," Mr. St. Laurent said. "Well, we were over talking about markets last December. And we talked about markets again in London after the Coronation in June. The dollar-pound barrier was set up by the United Kingdom government. And they are trying to do their best to remove it. I think they know their business just as well as Mr. Drew does."

Convertibility was "just as apt to be done by Bob Butler" (Britain's chancellor of the exchequer) and through good will on his part and on the part of officials of Canada and the United States as anything Mr. Drew does after Aug. 10," the prime minister said.

At Montreal, B.C., CCF leader M. J. Coldwell talked about British Columbia's No. 1 industry, forestry. He said the Liberal government's "apathy and shortsightedness" has caused waste of forest resources indispensable to Canada's prosperity.

Selfish exploitation of forests by private enterprise had denuded vast tracts of timber. There had been excessive cutting of valuable trees and resulting flood damage had amounted to millions of dollars.

Mr. Coldwell said Canada needs a national conservation policy under which federal and provincial governments would make sure that logging did not exceed regrowth.

At Montreal, Mrs. Therese Casgrain, Quebec CCF leader and candidate in Montreal Jacques-Cartier-Lasalle, said there is general apathy toward the election and the reason is that the people are "fed up with the old parties."

The CCF would enter candidates

U.K. Trade With China Is Assailed

By G. MILTON KELLY

Washington.—(AP)—Senator Karl Mundt (Rep. S.D.) today denounced what he termed new "blood traffic" by British traders with China, and called again for a penalty cut in foreign aid to Britain.

Mundt pointed to an announcement from London Wednesday that Britain has authorized immediate export of China of nearly $10,000,000 worth of non-strategic goods. The announcement came from an unofficial British trade group, which said, British businessmen want to ship the Reds an equal value of goods on the borderline of being strategic for war purposes. The British Board of Trade declined comment on the announcement.

Mundt said he plans to call the London announcement to the attention of the U. S. state department and the mutual security agency.

Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.), another bitter critic of British trade with China, gave prompt support to Mundt's declaration. McCarthy waged a futile battle to amend the foreign aid bill to withhold foreign aid sums from any nations trading with the Reds.

"The London announcement," McCarthy said, "point up how useful that amendment would have been. Here we have people deliberately building up the war potential of Red China for blood money and we are putting up money to help them. They are cutting down the possibility of any peace in Korea."

The London announcement was made by the British Council for the Promotion of International Trade, a private group which says its main purpose is to foster trade with Iron Curtain countries.

Mundt said he believes the MSA and the state department can reduce or withhold foreign aid to the British "under these circumstances, as I see it."

State Secretary John Foster Dulles told McCarthy last May, in an exchange over the issue of Allied trade with the Reds, that the U. S. had adequate laws to withhold aid from countries which traded with the Communists.

Dulles said then that U. S. policy, while barring U. S. trade with the Reds, altogether acknowledged the right of Free World countries to deal with them in non-strategic goods.

London—(Reuters)—Britain will carry out her atomic weapon trials on the Woomera rocket range in Australia in October, Supply Minister Duncan Sandys announced in the Commons today.

The trials will be conducted by Sir William Penney, who set off Britain's first atomic weapon, and a team of scientists from the British Ministry of Supply. Australian scientists will assist them in taking important measurements and observation of results.

The Red Peiping radio said Allied prisoners in the Pyoktong camp in North Korea were given a farewell banquet. It said they joined with their Red Captors in shouts of "long live peace!"

At Panmunjom, Allied soldiers rushed preparations to receive the 12,763 Allied prisoners, including 3,313 Americans and 14 Canadians. About 69,000 North Koreans and 5,000 Chinese will be turned back to the Reds.

Bryan told newsmen after the joint commission's fourth meeting that "things went along all right today."

He acknowledged that the commission had "hit snags" but indicated none was serious.

The commission agreed that civil police will enter the buffer zone shortly to maintain order and protect joint UN-Red observer teams. They also will keep unauthorized persons out of the zone.

Copenhagen—(P)—Forestry plans are being made for Greenland, big Danish island that is mostly covered by ice. The first shipment of about 16,000 pine trees is being sent to Julianehaab this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dufresne entertained visitors from Drummondville.

Mr. Charlie Robinson and daughter and son-in-law and grandson, of Newbury, Vt., were weekend visitors of Mr. Robinson, sister-in-law, Mrs. William Robinson and Mr. Wilfred Proulx and called on several old friends. He found quite a change after an absence of sixteen years.

Mr. Alex Davidson and Mr. Bernard Brosseau were in Richmond recently on business, also called on the former brother, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Davidson, family in Melbourne.

Dinner guests at the home of Mrs. A. Davidson and Mr. Alex Davidson were: Mr. and Mrs. Ross Davidson and little daughter, Darline, of Richmond, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mallette and son, Brian, of Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lancaster and son were visiting relatives in Richmond.

The many friends here of Mrs. Phillip Henderson, of Richmond, are sorry to hear of her illness and all wish her a speedy recovery to health. She was a former resident of this place.

KINGSEY FALLS

Relatives and friends of Mrs. Leith were shocked and saddened on Sunday July 12th when the news reached them that she had passed away in the Sherbrooke Hospital following an operation. Ethel Johnson Leith spent her entire life in this vicinity and is remembered by all who knew her both English and French, as a true and devoted wife, mother, grandmother, sister, aunt and friend. Heartfelt sympathy goes out to all those bereaved.

Mr. J. M. Leith was called home from Levonia, Mich., where he was visiting relatives, to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Clement Leith, in Danville.

Mrs. M. Hastings has returned after an absence of five weeks spent in the Sherbrooke Hospital and later at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Sells in Danville.

Mrs. Parker McIntosh and three daughters spent a holiday in Vank-leek Hill with relatives.

Mrs. D. A. Buchanan and sons, Harold and Bob, motored to Alcona Beach, Lake Simcoe, Ont., and enjoyed a largely attended maternal family re-union which was celebrated picnic fashion.

Callers of Mrs. J. M. Leith were her sister, Mrs. Martha Gibson, her niece, Mrs. H. N. Pierce, and Mr. Pierce and baby, Jane, of Ayer's Cliff. Mrs. W. H. Alexander, and daughter, Nancy, of Bourlaimaque, P.Q., and grandniece, Miss Beverly Gibson, of Asbestos.

Jan Smith is home after enjoying a motor trip around the Gaspé Peninsula and returning via the U. S. A., with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Young and children, of Danville.

TINGWICK

Mrs. Frank Bourner and son, Gerald, have returned home after spending a week in Montreal visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. William Broscomb spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew LeRoux.

Mrs. Ernest Frost and daughter, Karen, were tea guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. LeRoux and family.

Coe Farm At Island Pond, Vermont, Scene Tonight Of Historical Play

An outstanding event for a summer attraction in northeastern Vermont which should be of interest to the people of Quebec is the Rogers Rangers Pageant to be presented in Island Pond, Vermont, tonight Saturday and Sunday evenings. The pageant will dramatize the story of Major Robert Rogers and his Rangers, famous New England scouts, commissioned by Sir Jeffrey Amherst to destroy the Indian Village of St. Francis, Quebec, and their return journey through what is now Sherbrooke, Lennoxville and neighboring communities, to Lake Memphremagog and the Connecticut River by way of Island Pond, a journey of unconquerable human courage. Kenneth Roberts' vividly written book, Northwest Passage, has made the story known to the world, a story that took place in Quebec and Vermont.

The director of the pageant is Harry Young, of New York City, recently playing in "The Crucible" and formerly associated with the Brattleboro Theater, in Brattleboro, Vermont. Mr. Young's long experience and proven ability in misdirection and well worth seeing. With permission from Kenneth Roberts to use his dialogue, words and episodes are both vigorous and challenging. The site of the pageant is on the lake shore on the Ariel Coe Farm, on Lake Shore Drive, off Routes 114 and 105.

Tonight is Governor's Night.

Lieutenant-Governor Joseph Johnson and Mrs. Johnson, of Springfield, Vermont, will be honored guests. Governor Emerson planned to be present but has to leave for a Governor's Conference in California Saturday night is International Night. A cordial invitation is extended by the people of Island Pond to the people of Quebec to attend the Pageant. Arrangements have been made for public suppers each night of the pageant.

The cast is headed up by a father and son team, Cedric Pierce, Jr., of Barton, recently out of the Navy, will play the role of Rogers. A graduate of the University of Vermont, he was active in dramatics in college. His father, Cedric Pierce, Sr., will play the part of Sir Jeffrey Amherst. Cedric Pierce, Sr., is a well known educator in Vermont. He served as principal of Barton Academy for many years and is now Assistant Principal at St. Johnsbury Academy.

Other members of the cast are James Pearson, of Canaan, Director of the Indian Dance, and playing the part of Jacob; Harold G. Black, of St. Johnsbury, as Butlerfield; Albert Forrest, of Lyndonville, playing the part of Williams; Charles Leavitt, of Peacham, Dunbar; Claude Duval, of West Burke, Ogden; Mrs. Charles Swanson, of Norton, and Mrs. Jack Davis, of East Burke, play the parts of Mrs. Wick and Jenny, two of the white female captives rescued from the Village of St. Francis.

Others are Edward Davis, of Island Pond, as Bradley, Rev. Floyd Green, of East Charleston, as Towne, and Robert Bachner and John Winston, of Job's Pond Camp, Westmore, playing the parts of Ensign Avery and Turner. The narrator is Charles F. Maw, First Selectman of the Town of Brighton. Mrs. Wick and Jenny provide a high spot of interest in a cast made up mostly of men.

The Citizens' Utility Company, of Newport, has extended an electric light line to the pageant site. Special lighting has arrived from New York. The technician is on the job. Rehearsals were held nightly.

The three triangle points of the area are St. Johnsbury, Newport and Island Pond. Each has an information booth ready to give helpful information to visitors.

Many of the men who started out from Crown Point on Sept. 13, 1759 failed to return from the epic adventure of Rogers Rangers. The expedition proved to be a momentous one in that it was one of the major steps leading to the Treaty of 1763 which made history for both Vermont and Quebec.

Further Trouble For King Bros., Cristiani Circus

Saint John, N.B. — The King Bros. and Cristiani circus, plagued by mishaps on its Maritime tour, had further trouble Thursday when a big truck carrying the main tent struck a soft shoulder near Hampton and turned on its side.

The vehicle was righted more than two hours later. There were long delays in the street parade and afternoon performance here. A section of bleachers collapsed at Wednesday night's show in Moncton but the 25 patrons who tumbled down escaped injury. Earlier Wednesday, two of the circus trucks crashed to a river bottom when a bridge collapsed near Truro, N.S.

On Sunday, also near Truro, a truck rammed into the Kempton bridge and bounced to safety as the bridge collapsed. An hour later, near Shubenacadie, an elephant trailer broke loose on a downgrade and crashed into woods. Four of the big animals were free for a while until attendants rounded them up.

Army Man Teaches Canuck Airmen About Defences

North Luffenham, England — Personnel at this RCAF fighter base are learning a few tricks from a former army officer about defending their base against any kind of attack—from the air or on the ground.

The former army man is FO. George Moore of Richmond Hill, Ont., who commands the station's ground defence school and is station defence officer.

FO. Moore and his group of 10 specialists are teaching everyone at the station the ins and outs of self-defence and defence of their station. He learned his job during three years with the Canadian Army intelligence corps, Britain's joint school of chemical warfare and the Royal Air Force Regiment depot.

At one time or another, everyone on the base is enrolled in FO. Moore's school. The first two weeks are spent learning basic defence methods, use of small arms and the rudiments of first aid. Leaders are chosen and trained and every man is taught his part in station defence. In the second week, the trainees are instructed in field tactics, heavy weapons, unexploded bombs and other explosives. The men go

SALAD WEEK INAUGURATED: Marking the inauguration of Salad Week, from July 30 to August 8, a huge basket of fruit and vegetables was presented to Mayor Emile Levesque yesterday at the City Hall, by Eugene Tanguay, who with Gerard Marchand, is joint president of Salad Week for Sherbrooke.

In making the presentation Mr. Tanguay said he hoped the project would make people fruit and vegetable conscious, as well as in the every day menu of those who wish to maintain their good health. Mayor Levesque welcomed the group of merchants to the City Hall, and expressed his thanks for the very welcome gift. Blais fruit and vegetables; Mr. Marchand, joint president, and provincial vice-president of the Association of Gardeners; J. A. Armstrong; Robert Gauthier, secretary-treasurer Mayor Levesque, and Mr. Tanguay, of Thompson and Alix.

Show Of Dogs Being Held Here Tomorrow

A Mutt Show will be held at 545 Argyle Avenue tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. Prizes are to be awarded and judges will be Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Thompson. Refreshments will be served.

Admission to enter one dog is ten cents. No thoroughbred dogs are allowed and all proceeds will go to aid the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Any one wishing to enter a dog or dogs is asked to telephone 3-3223, this evening.

The public is cordially invited to attend the Mutt Show, thought to be the first exhibition of its kind in Sherbrooke, at least in recent years.

AFL Passes 10,000,000 Membership

Washington — (P) — The American Federation of Labor now is privately counting its strength at more than 10,000,000 members, and expects to announce so officially in a few months.

The AFL's claimed new membership figure, 10,600,000, represents some modest actual gain in worker members. But mostly it reflects a drive to get AFL unions to give an accurate count of what members they already have.

It's been an open secret in labor circles for many years that many AFL unions understate their membership. This saves them money in paying per capita dues.

Thus, while the AFL has been officially saying its membership is just 8,000,000, the labor department directory of unions published a few weeks ago estimated the AFL actually had 9,500,000 members.

The AFL itself took the bull by the horns this summer. At the AFL executive council's May meeting it was decided that henceforth all unions would report regularly on actual membership and keep the figures up to date.

Considerable progress has been made, it was reported, in getting AFL unions to do this. So much so that a top AFL leader told a reporter that the 10,000,000-member figure will be adopted officially either at the AFL convention at St. Louis in September or, anyway before the first of next year.

Besides further dwarfing the CIO's 5,000,000 or fewer members, the "honest-count" AFL membership will be more lucrative to the parent AFL.

It gets four cents a member a month, in per capita dues. The additional 2,000,000, hitherto-unreported members will mean an added $1,000,000 a year revenue to the AFL. The CIO's monthly intake is 10 cents a member.

Through mock attacks and counter-attacks to put into practice what they learn in the classroom. In one mock attack the station defence group successfully repelled a parachute and ground assault, almost wiping out the attacking forces. "Our aim is to keep the station operational in any attack—whether it involves guerrilla warfare, gas, atomic or any other form of assault," FO. Moore said. "A flying machine loses much of its value if it is vulnerable to ground attack by enemy forces."

The defence school's motto is: "To train and organize anyone and everyone against everything."

Drummondville Crash Fatally Injures Brothers

Drummondville, Que. — Two men were killed and two others seriously injured Thursday when the car in which they were riding went out of control and smashed into a tree near this centre 60 miles east of Montreal.

Dead are Wilbrod Vergeau, 50, of St. Joachim de Couval, driver of the car, and his brother, Urgel, 45, of nearby Marcotte.

In critical condition in hospital were Henri Vergeau, 42, of Drummondville, a brother of the two victims, and Walter Gamelin, 35, of St. Nicéphore. Both suffered severe head and body injuries.

Police said Wilbrod Vergeau had just bought the car at a Drummondville garage and was returning to St. Joachim when the car suddenly veered to the right and smashed into a tree.

Legends Grow Around Old Quebec Churches

By BERTRAND THIBAUT
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
Quebec. — (CP) — Legends are growing up around some of Quebec's 17th and 18th century churches.

Typical is one told by a former Quebec premier, P. J. O. Chauveau, in his book "Souvenirs et Légendes," published in 1877.

The ghost of a Lorraine county parish priest returned every night at midnight for 100 years to celebrate a mass he had neglected to celebrate during his lifetime. One night, the sacristan saw the apparition. Terrified, he reported the affair to his parish priest who informed his bishop. Returning from Quebec where he had called on the bishop, the parish priest begged the sacristan to be in the church at midnight to assist the ghost in celebrating the mass.

That night, the sacristan locked himself in the church. On the stroke of midnight, he saw the ghostly priest approaching the altar in liturgical robes.

The trembling sacristan knelt beside the phantom priest and pronounced the response to the mass. On completion of the ceremony, he walked to the sacristy followed by the priest. The ghost removed the mass vestments, bowed in gratitude, and vanished forever.

Another legend is connected with the construction of St. Laurent parish church on the Island of Orleans, near Quebec.

The men working on the church, so goes the legend, complained that the task of transporting stones was too arduous.

The builder promised the men a black horse of such strength that it could drag the load of four horses.

The following day the builder showed up, leading the most beautiful horse ever seen on the island. He told the workers to work him mercilessly but not to remove the bridle.

A youth was placed in charge of the animal and work proceeded at a fast pace until the animal became thirsty. The youth removed the bridle to enable the horse to drink and it leaped into a creek where it became transformed into an eel and swam away.

The legend goes on to say that the church was completed but for the placing of one stone. The church was demolished in 1864.

Theftford Mines Man Responsible In Baby's Death

Theftford Mines, Que. — (CP) — Jean Marie Poulin, 30, of Theftford Mines, was found criminally responsible by a coroner's jury Wednesday for the death of six-month-old Real Grenier.

The baby burned to death Tuesday in his father's car when the vehicle caught fire following a collision with Poulin's truck on a highway 70 miles south of Quebec.

Mrs. Donat Grenier, the child's mother, is in critical condition in hospital here as a result of the collision. Grenier was uninjured.

Police said Poulin failed to stop after the accident and was traced to his home. He is being detained as a material witness.

Death Claims G. W. Geddes Of Way's Mills

Gordon W. Geddes, a prominent resident of Way's Mills, died in hospital here Wednesday in his 49th year.

Mr. Geddes was the son of Mrs. H. W. Geddes and the late Mr. Geddes, of Way's Mills. He was educated at schools in Way's Mills and Ayer's Cliff and at Stanstead College.

He was the author of articles on farming which appeared in the MacDonald College farm journal and the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

Mr. Geddes is survived by his widow, the former Dorothy V. Hovey, his mother, and two sisters, Mrs. Derwin Markwell, of Reading, Vt., and Mrs. Max Grainger, of Georgeville.

Funeral service will be held Saturday from the United Church in Way's Mills.

Music Critic Olin Downes Speaks Tonight

Olin Downes, well known music critic of the New York Times, will conduct a forum on "Musical Criticism" this evening at Mount Orford, under the auspices of Les Jeunes Musicales.

It is the first time the eminent critic has consented to come to Canada for such a purpose and the executive as well as the members of the young musical group hope that the meeting will be well attended.

A cordial invitation is extended to the English speaking people of the district, and the forum will get under way at 8:30.

The camp, which is but a short distance from Magog, can easily be reached as there are a number of road signs indicating the way.

NEW MANAGER: The wholesale division-Quebec District Canadian General Electric Company limited, announces the appointment of Bertran L. Phelan, as manager of the Sherbrooke Branch Office. Mr. Phelan comes to his present appointment with extensive experience, gained with this company over a period of years. He joined C.G.E. Co. in 1917, became a member of the Supply Dept. in 1919, then transferred to the Apparatus Dept. in 1923. He was appointed supervisor of the Central Order Section in 1926. The year 1949 saw him appointed manager, general sales section, Supply Dept. at Montreal.

Lewes, England — School children here averaged three cakes, a bun and roll at their Coronation tea, with one exception. One hungry youngster admitted packing away 21 sandwiches, five cakes and two rolls.

Provincial High School Leaving Examination Results Are Announced

A total of 1,515 out of 1,977 Grade XI students were successful in the Quebec junior high school leaving examinations conducted throughout the province last June.

This announcement was made by Dr. W. P. Percival, director of Protestant Education, who also stated that supplemental examinations will be held at Sir George Williams College, beginning August 26. He said:

"Candidates for supplemental examinations must previously have passed in a sufficient number of papers to enable them, with the supplemental papers they wish to write, to receive certificates. No candidate, whether successful in June or not, will be permitted to sit for more than three supplementary papers in two subjects. Those who are qualified to write supplemental papers must send their applications with fees before Aug. 24 to the secretary High School Leaving Board, Department of Education, Quebec."

In the following list of successful Eastern Townships students, first class means the student obtained 800 marks or more out of a possible 1,000; second class, 650 to 799 marks and third class below 649 marks.

HOST OF PROBLEMS ARISING

Among all free men there must be relief that the sounds of battle have stopped in Korea, that the end has come to the awful devastation of that peninsula, that there will be no more bloodshed. An American commentator sums up the situation as follows:

Korea ought to be remembered in the history books as the place where Freedom took a stand—at the very start—against the aggressor and halted him. No one can argue with accuracy that the truce represents either surrender or appeasement.

We repelled the Red invasion of South Korea, and then we entered and held to the end and a sizable part of North Korea. That was a defeat for communism and a victory for America and the United Nations, albeit a modest one in the military sense.

But neither this knowledge nor relief that the war is over can provide much solace for the difficult days which lie ahead. Except perhaps in India and certain portions of the British Labor Party, there are no optimists who imagine we shall now conclude with dispatch a Korean peace settlement and a broader agreement ending the Indo-China war and bringing fresh order to the whole Far East.

Indeed, it is conceivable that the freeing of a million Red Chinese soldiers from Korean combat may mean the use of at least some of them in new adventures either against Indo-China or the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa.

Short of that, all past evidence suggests the Communists will delay and delay and delay in settling the political issues that have to do with unification of Korea and establishment of broad Asiatic peace. They are conscious that in Asia a divided Korea can be what a divided Germany and Austria have been in Europe, a focus of tensions that compels the west constantly to stay on guard militarily, to expend vast sums for defense and impose heavy burdens on its peoples.

At the same time, the U.S. will be under great pressure both from Syngman Rhee, South Korean president, and our UN allies to obtain a united Korea and a general Asiatic settlement.

All our troubles with Rhee stem basically from his fear this goal never will be achieved. And we are committed to join him in walking out of a political conference after 90 days if we become convinced the Reds are not dealing in good faith and talks have become futile.

To keep this from happening, we may bend over backwards to find a basis for agreement with the Communists. The time to worry about appeasement is from now on.

Likewise, Britain and some of our other UN allies will be pushing us hard to settle, very possibly on terms we do not believe wise or proper, questions such as admission of Red China to the UN. Almost certainly, relations among the western allies will be strained anew by the peace negotiations.

Yet, realistically, no deep observer of Red behavior believes any Korean settlement is possible which will unify the country and bring about withdrawal of all Red forces—unless by some miracle the Kremlin sincerely wants a world-wide agreement of which Korea could be a part. And of this there is still no sign.

The shooting and the destruction have ceased. But this precarious armistice opens the door to a whole host of new problems that are very likely greater than any the war itself has solved.

OUT-PRICING THE MARKET

A tribute of sorts to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, is the United States government's report that oil has now taken the place of coal as that country's chief fuel. Last year, water power accounted for 4.1 per cent of all energy consumed in the United States, natural gas for 22.5 per cent, coal for 34 per cent and crude oil for 39.4 per cent. Fifty years ago, coal provided 90 per cent of all United States energy requirements.

United States homes, switching to oil and natural gas, and railroads, switching to diesel oil, are the two chief markets in which coal has lost out. United States railroads once used 132 million tons of soft coal a year. The figure last year was 38 million. Retail coal dealers, who took 125 million tons in 1944, took 60 millions in 1952.

The drop in the use of coal has been accompanied by a drop in employment for Mr. Lewis's miners. Since 1923, the number of workers in the hard and soft coal industry has fallen from 883,000 to 348,000. These 348,000 miners enjoy high wages in theory; but in fact, may get so few hours' work that they are no better off than they were 30 years ago. With unionized mines idle or half-idle, and with non-union output increasing, the demise of the UMWA seems a strong possibility within the next decade or so.

MAYBE HE'S JUST TIRED

In more peaceful days there's a good chance that Kenneth Wherratt, of Gloucester, England, would have spent the rest of his days in bed.

Kenneth, 18, simply doesn't like to get up. He quit getting up in the morning three years ago, simply because he'd rather stay in bed. His mother took him to doctors, but they said there was nothing really wrong. Kenneth just didn't like to get up.

Unfortunately, Kenneth is due to be called into the British army in a few months. They've got nasty things called sergeants in the army, Kenneth. They are tyrants and may even make you get up before noon. So you'd better get lots of shut-eye while you can, old chappie. You're in for a great awakening.

MEN'S HEADGEAR FASHIONS

(Kingston Whig-Standard)
As usual in the "dog days," there is an outburst of women's fashion news from New York. To maintain balance between the sexes, why not some notes on men's clothes too? Hats will do as a theme.

A very large number of men, of all ages, continue to go hatless in summertime and even, in smaller numbers, in winter. Hats, however, are by no means museum pieces. The summer of 1953 is famous, in certain sections of Ontario, as marking the re-appearance of the "boater," that flat stiff straw which everyone used to wear but which women in recent years have pre-empted. For a man to wear a boater is to draw attention, and rather favourable attention. Let him beware of a windy day, however, or at least affix a cord to the hat as his father used to do.

Real "Panamas" are still worn and are "de luxe" with their soft pliability and their clinging snugly yet comfortably to the contours of the head. But they are expensive now-a-days and a larger number of men wear a cheaper Panama-style straw of various colours and with variegated bands. They do not last as long, but they serve their purpose.

As for what to wear in autumn, already rushing hither, the black homburg will remain supreme, although not in a numerical sense. So many men are averse to anything that might not be appropriate and are afraid of snickers or wry smiles from the beholders. Black homburgs, of course, have been worn in the larger cities for many years as the standard hat for the well-dressed man. Not so in the United States.

When a Canadian who last autumn visited many states in the Middle West and South as well as in the East and North, wearing his customary homburg, he was continually being asked about what was briefly called his "black hat." It provided him authentic distinction at no extra cost. In January there was a sudden shift. This same man was in Washington for the inauguration of the new President, when Eisenhower upset all precedent by announcing, in advance, that he was not going to wear a tall silk hat at the ceremonies but a black homburg. Which he did.

Most hat stores were caught with few or no homburgs in stock. Those who had any sold them over-night. And now the black homburg, for long the badge of the diplomatic and the top-executive type, is covering much wider varieties and shapes of heads. The "black hat" has come into its own.

THE CASE OF THOSE VERY YOUNG DRIVERS

(Quebec Chronicle-Telegram)
An Ontario police chief is worried about the case of the youthful car driver. He justifies his concern with the production of statistics showing an alarming increase in the number of accidents involving teenagers and other drivers in their early twenties. Proportionately they are far in excess of those in the older groups. The chief constable's worries are aggravated by the fact that, although he has an efficient force at his command, and the law to back him up, he does not exactly know what to do about it. The difficulty is to control the irresponsible ones without being unfair or imposing hardship on others in the same age group who are sensible enough to drive safely and carefully.

The chief's worries are shared by parents in many instances. The problem of the youthful driver as it exists between parent and child is still more complex. With them it is much more than a question of statistics. It is the case of safety on the one hand and on the other what is right and proper in the treatment of son or daughter. The question is, will the young folk drive in the right places at the right times and, above all, in good company. It is a new life and a new prospect for them. Naturally, they are looking for pleasures, as youth always does. They must have strength of character and purpose if they are to find that pleasure in the proper environment. With all the avenues that have been opened to them it is not easy. Where the wholesome and originally high-minded young people go to join with others in what could be quite proper recreation and amusement, there also will be others with their sinister influences.

However they may maintain their own condition to drive there are always those on the road who constitute a danger and a threat. Some other irresponsible or incapacitated driver may run into them from behind, or meet them on the wrong side of the road. Parents lie awake at night awaiting the light and the step which assures them all is well. They, too, are conscious of the graph that shows the high accident rate. They pay in the insurance rates charged against cars driven by young people, and they pay for it in terms of anxiety and worry, sometimes more.

It is a problem shared alike between police and parents. Maybe between them some solution can be found.

GANGSTERS IN ENGLAND

The Windsor Star
Authorities in the United Kingdom are much disturbed by the increase in crime and vice. Youthful thugs, individually and in groups, are robbing people and beating them up. Moral offences are becoming more prevalent.

Though the United Kingdom has an excellent record of law enforcement, and of justice, and most of the people have a law-abiding disposition, a certain amount of crime always has existed. One can scarcely read one historical novel which does not tell of highwaymen and gangs. And immorality in past centuries reached high into royal palaces. But it is the current increase in crime which is disturbing. As a large proportion of the criminals of both sexes are young, possibly a cause can be found in World War II. Those now in their late teens or 20's would have been unruly or young teenagers during the war years.

We all recall the situation in the United Kingdom then. Millions of young fathers were in uniforms and away from home. Wives and mothers were working in war plants. Blackouts laid a cloak over misdeeds. Conditions were not conducive to the proper rearing of families. The crime wave may be a delayed reaction from those years.

GIANTS OF YE OLDE DATES

To obtain correct historical dates, we must go back into the misty past and search carefully and tirelessly under the leaves of yesterday.

A few weeks ago a little story appeared in a column of the Daily Record devoted to the weekly Glimpses into the past. The story was about a giant who, many years ago, lived in Quebec Province and the writer stated that this giant was the only one in this province.

Shortly after its appearance, a letter was received from Rev. Canon J. N. Codere, President of the E.T. Historical Association, in which he drew attention to the fact that this was not the only giant who had lived in Quebec. We will quote from Rev. Canon Codere's letter in which he explains the whole matter.

"Your Glimpses into the Past" in the issue of May 22nd, was read with great interest as I had never heard of that giant of the past century. Modeste Mailhot, for the sake of history I must take exception to your statement, as in our present century we had another giant by the name of Beaupre (evidently his first name had been lost under the leaves). This giant measured 8 feet, 2½ inches, and weighed 396 pounds; born in Willow Bunch, Sask., in a French Canadian family, he lived in this province for some years."

"I recall that he was shown as an exhibit at the Sherbrooke Fair, also that he died in Montreal in 1905, and after his death his body was X-rayed at the University of Montreal. A copy of this picture can be seen in the museum of St. Charles Seminary."

Rev. Canon Codere refers to the fact that there was quite a difference between these two men, Beaupre being 10 inches taller than Modeste Mailhot (giant No. 2) but only weighed 396 pounds against Mailhot's 619 pounds. Taking it all round these men were what Americans might call "Some boys!"

We will go back to Biblical days to learn a little about the background of giants; not to the Garden of Eden for it is at times assumed that Adam and Eve lived in trees; but we find mention of giants of early days existed at the time when the spirit sons of God deserted their heavenly realm and came to earth. They inter-married with the fair daughters of earth and their off-spring were giants, known as Neptilim. This race was smitten with God's wrath and they were destroyed at the time of the flood.

Later we find it Deut. 4th Chap. 11th verse: "For only Og King of Bashan remained of the remnant of giants. His bedstead was of iron—9 cubits was the length thereof and 4 cubits was the breadth of it." A large piece of furniture, forsooth! In Samuel, 16 Chap. we find that "there went out a champion, out of the camp of the Philistines, a champion named Goliath whose height was 6 cubits and a span. He had a helmet of brass upon his head and he was armed with a coat of mail and the coat weighed 5,000 shekels of brass." This was the giant that David slew with a stone from his sling shot.

In Chronicles there is a man mentioned "of great stature whose fingers and toes were four and twenty." All these facts go to show that a variety of giants existed in days of yore and doubtless exist today in some parts of the world. Modeste Mailhot and his competitor are of course more interesting to us, belonging to our province.

Modeste Mailhot was a French Canadian who lived in the little village of Deschailions, on the south bank of the St. Lawrence River some fifty miles west of Levis. The people of that village were proud of their giant for he was a good man, and really good-looking, which giants are not supposed to be.

He was 7 feet, 4 inches tall and weighed 619 pounds and was described by those who told about him as a good-looking man, with massive frame and magnificent shoulders. He stood on two immense feet, that anyone who doubts can see, even today, in the museum at Laval University in Quebec City in a glass case a pair of "soldiers' savages," his home-made boots.

Though of great strength, Mailhot was a peaceable man and lived among his neighbors as he should. People were always coming to see him and he received them with true French courtesy.

He knew he was well worth looking at and took their admiration when offered, with true respect, as it was intended. Many were the feats performed by this good giant, and one day he surprised them by saying he had decided to cross the Atlantic in a ship. His friends cheered him as he went aboard and begged him to come back to his home.

This was told about 1830 and King William was on the throne of England. He received his strange visitor in a friendly way for he was a sailor and knew all kinds and conditions of men. When bidding Mailhot farewell the King made him a gift of 100 pounds. Mailhot returned to his home and in 1834 he died. His funeral was an exceptionally large one and the cure of Lotbiniere conducted the service.

The cure was a large man, 6 feet tall and weighed 400 pounds. The giant Mailhot was buried with honors, and is still remembered in the village where he spent his peaceful life. There is nothing about his family except that his wife was Catherine Lafleur, and we hope she was a devoted one. As late as 1927 the parish priest wrote that the Giant's Stone was still marked, also his grave in the cemetery, and both are reverently observed by the villagers.

Though they may not be classed as giants exactly there were two men in this province that were called "the two strongest men in Canada." Louis Cyr was a man of great strength and agility. He went about the country with a companion by the name of Horace Barr, setting up their tent in available places and putting on a "show" of feats of strength and agility, especially in lifting heavy weights. They, too, may have performed at the Sherbrooke Exhibition, but not as giants—rather as big men—physically.

A LADY GIANT

It is hardly polite to place a lady last, but this is a rather unique incident or story. The lady referred to was a native of a small village in Nova Scotia who became quite famous as a lady giant. Her name was Anna Swan and she was a close competitor of the Nova Scotia giant McAskill, of whom we know little.

Anna Swan was once billed by P. T. Barnum as "the only giantess in the world." She was seven and a half feet tall; weighed 350 pounds and wore size 16½ shoes. She was an attraction for years under Barnum's Big Top and married another member of the big show—a Captain Martin Van Buren, a Kentucky giant. Of this marriage there were two children, a boy weighing 22 pounds at birth, and a girl 18½ pounds. Both died at birth.

The Canadian giantess was an attractive and graceful woman despite her height and weight. When in London with Barnum's show at a command performance, Anna was presented with a gold watch by Queen Victoria. The watch is still treasured by a member of her family. While Anna and her husband lived in Seville, Ohio, they had a pleasant home with 9-foot doors and 14-foot ceilings. She died in 1888 at the age of 34 years and was buried in Seville where a stone marks her resting place. A member of the Swan family wants something done to mark the birthplace of this noted woman, who though termed a giantess was a fine looking and highly respected Canadian lady.

It is such happenings that help to make our history attractive, and every such person as a giant and giantess should be given the honor of a memorial in their native birthplace.

Let us hope that Leonard Swan can induce his relatives to assist in the work of such a memorial to his aunt, Anna Swan, who died nearly a century ago.

LEAD IMPORTANT IN FACE CARDS

It's usually a poor idea to lead an unsupported queen or jack. Such a lead sometimes gives declarer a trick that he could win in no other way, and sometimes sacrifices a trick that you would have won if you had simply held your fire.

From the point of view of theory, therefore, West's opening lead was a poor choice. Actually, a heart opening of some kind represented the only defensive hope. It was vital for East to win the first trick with the ace of hearts and return a diamond. Had he done so, the defenders would have rattled off a heart and three diamonds to defeat the contract.

When West opened the queen of hearts, South could see the danger very clearly. He was mightily tempted to cover the opening lead with dummy's king of hearts, since that would surely set up dummy's ten of hearts. He resisted this temptation, however, fearing that East might be inspired enough to switch to diamonds.

When dummy played a low heart at the first trick, East could not tell that the winning play was to put up the ace of hearts. For all he could tell, South might be void of hearts, in which case the play would surely cost a trick. If South had a singleton small heart, it was vital to hold off in the hope that West could lead diamonds safely from his own side.

Rightly or wrongly, East played a low heart, and now South was home. Since East could not gain the lead, South could easily get in to draw three rounds of trumps, after which his long clubs would enable him to discard diamonds from the dummy. South actually succeeded in winning 11 tricks, which was two tricks more than he could have won if he had played the king of hearts at the first trick.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
1 Diamond Pass 1 Heart 1 Spade Pass

You, South, hold: Spades 4-2, Hearts K-Q-6-5, Diamonds Q-7-3, Clubs A-J-9-2. What do you do?

A—Bid two clubs. With 12 points in high cards opposite a minimum opening bid you cannot insist on a game contract. Your reopening bid, however, shows strength, and your choice of suits shows a little more about the nature of the hand.

TODAY'S QUESTION
The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades K-J-4, Hearts K-Q-6-5, Diamonds 7-3, Clubs Q-9-8-2. What do you do?

"Rod, dear," Mary Trent paused at the foot of the stairs as the inevitable bang of the front door announced the unmistakable arrival of her 17-year-old son.

She turned and came toward him, a surge of pride welling up as it invariably did when she looked at her tall son. The tight, black cap of curls with which he was everlastingly waging battle, was rumpled with the fingers of the brick wind and his black eyes danced with mischief as he slid to a stop before his mother.

"Hi-ya, Toots!" He grinned engagingly and threw an arm around her shoulders, giving her a quick kiss. "Oh, Rod," she said, laughing in spite of herself, "you're impossible."

He struck a pose and sighed heavily. "Tis just me effervescent spirits, ma'am."

Rod followed his mother into the living room, where he sprawled down into a chair, his long legs stretched out before him.

She looked at him for a moment speculatively, wondering just how to broach the subject uppermost in her mind right now.

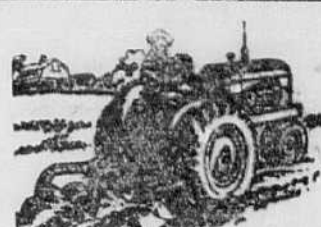

She plunged in. "Rod, dear, your father wants you to ask Mr. Billings' daughter to the Festival Dance."

Rod looked at her unbelievably and then bolted upright, indignation in every line of his lanky frame.

Rotarians Hear Address Given By J. B. Bird

Derby Line, July 31 — J. Brian Bird, M.A., Assistant Professor of Geography at McGill University, and director of the Arctic program of the Summer Geography School, was the speaker at the Monday noon meeting of the Rotary Club of the Boundary. The meeting was held at the Del Monty Hotel, with the president, Fred Gilman, presiding. A number of visiting Rotarians were present at the meeting, including Ed Kelley, now of Littleton, N.H., a former president of the club.

Mr. Bird spoke on the discoveries of various deposits of metals and other valuable discoveries in the Canadian Arctic. The speaker has spent considerable time in that section of Canada, and his talk was very interesting and important.

A number of Boundary residents attended the performance of "La Traviata" at the Seuffer's Vermont Music Center last Saturday evening. All expressed their pleasure at the quality of the performance and especially at the very fine voices of the principal singers, notably Miss Beverly Sills, John Alexander, Jack deMarchant, Miss Jane Marrow and William McCully.

Others noted at the performance came from as far as Beecher Falls, Vt., and Sherbrooke, Quebec.

General Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cady, of Toronto, Ont., who were recent visitors at the Boundary, will be remembered by several as former residents. Mr. Cady was for some years in charge of the Col. Haskell property, and the family moved to Toronto about 30 years ago.

Boundary residents interested in the summer theatre will be glad to know that the play at the Brae Manor Theatre, Knowlton, Que., this week is the melodrama, "The Man," by Mel Dinelli. First performed on Broadway with Dorothy Gish in the leading role, the play met with great success, and the Brae Manor production is under the direction of Florence Sadler. The play is running from Wednesday to Saturday of this week.

Next week, Wednesday evening, August 5th, the final public lecture of the McGill University Geography Summer School will be given at the Haskell Opera House. The speaker will be J. Brian Bird, director of Arctic activities of the school, and his subject will be "Arctic Summer." Mr. Bird spent his talk is based on his experiences there. The talk will be illustrated by moving pictures taken by members of the expedition. As always, the talk is complimentary.

Capital Jump Is Authorized For Weedon Pyrite

Montreal—At a special general meeting held in conjunction with the annual meeting of Weedon Pyrite & Copper Corporation Limited, shareholders unanimously approved creation of 1,000,000 new shares, bringing authorized capitalization to 4,000,000 shares. The newly authorized shares will permit the raising of additional funds that will be needed to increase the mill capacity. The higher mill rate is necessary to meet the terms of new pyrite contracts, currently under negotiation, which should result in the sale of the company's entire output of pyrite for the next five years. Roy Robertson, President, was confident that the contracts would be consummated within the next few weeks.

The special meeting also approved an increase in the number of directors from 5 to 7.

The second annual report of the company, submitted by President Roy Robertson, which covered the initiation of mill operations, showed that satisfactory progress is being made, both in finding markets for the products of the company—copper, zinc and sulphur, and developing the mine.

Mill heads have been steadily improving since production started. For the month of June, 1953, there were 5,973 tons of ore milled grading 2.469% copper, 2.153% zinc and 31.93% sulphur, as compared with 6,381 tons of ore handled by the mill in May having an average recovery of 2.02% copper, 2.533% zinc and 33.045% sulphur. For the current year to date, 33,854 tons of ore have been milled with the average recovery 1.972% copper, 1.690% zinc and 34.508% sulphur. Since milling began in the latter part of November, 1952, a total of 104,000 tons of ore have been handled, with an average recovery of 1.611% zinc and 34.115% sulphur.

The mill has been handling around 225-240 tons per day, which is about the maximum that can be handled without a loss in efficiency. With the additional equipment which it is proposed to purchase, it will be a simple matter to raise the mill up to a capacity of 300-350 tons daily.

Mine development has continued favourable and it is proposed to carry out an exploratory program at the 14th level, where possibilities of finding additional ore are considered good, after the mine has been unwatered from the 11th to the 14th level. A program of surface exploration is planned as well.

But he insisted the organization "was not communist-dominated and I can prove it." He said the organization was made up of several youth groups, including the Young Communist League.

der the Atlantic. The job is expected to last at least another two weeks.

The Albion and No. 24 were ordered closed because their production no longer warranted their existence. The miners have been unable to come within a ton of the company's "break even" target of 3.75 tons a man a day.

The industry's main problem is one of low-cost production. "But the production problem leads in time to markets, which at the moment are in a flux," says Mr. Gordon.

To produce cheaper coal, the company hopes to have 20 of its Dosco Miners, as the machines are called, in operation before the year's end. The Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, of which the company is a holding, consumes a third of the company's coal.

The tunnels, of which one will be two miles long and the other nearly one, will slant from a pit head to central loading points deep under the sea. The coal will then be conveyed on an endless belt to the top. The tunnels are expected to double output.

The company produces about 5,500,000 tons. In three years, if more mines are not closed, it is expected to be about 2,000,000 more. The Maritimes take 3,000,000 tons annually, and the rest goes to Quebec and South America. Ontario took 1,000,000 tons until Nova Scotia could not provide it as cheaply as the United States. The industry figures its next big competitor will be gas in the Quebec market.

Waterloo Child Dies Of Injuries

Waterloo, July 31—Joseph Clark, 4½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andre Clark of Waterloo, died in hospital in Montreal last night from a skull fracture she received Tuesday night when knocked down by a car at the corner of Shaw and Main streets here.

Joseph and her sister, Cynthia, three, were both struck by a car driven by Mrs. Marcel Marchand, of Sutton. They were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in Granby and Cynthia, only slightly injured, was released yesterday.

Her sister, however, was removed to Notre Dame Hospital in Montreal and never regained consciousness.

New Zealand Plans Export Of Wood Pulp

By R. A. KENNER

Auckland—(Reuters)—New Zealand is about to start shipping woodpulp to Australia and by 1956 expects to have established large-scale manufacturing of newsprint for home use and export.

Sponsors of the project say they hope that this new industry in New Zealand will in time become one of the main sources of national income, ease demands on the commonwealth dollar—sterling pool, help relieve world shortage of newsprint and readjust the balance of trade with Australia.

First to reach the export stage is the $19,000,000 pulp and paper project of New Zealand Forest Products Limited, at Kineith, in the heart of the fast-growing pine forests 140 miles southeast of Auckland.

Engineers there are directing hundreds of technicians and other workers in giving the final touches to a 600-foot-long mill. From this mill will soon roll the first reel of brown wrapping paper, and in August an initial shipment of pulp will go to the Australian newsprint mills at Boyer, Southern Tasmania.

This shipment will be part of a contract to supply 12,500 to 14,000 tons of softwood annually for 20 years for mixing with hardwood pulp in the making of newsprint for Australian papers.

Next big move in New Zealand paper production will be when the Tasman Pulp and Paper Company, with government backing, completes within three years a plant to work the state-owned Kaingaroa forest, 33 miles southeast of Rotorua.

From pines planted experimentally more than 30 years ago there have sprung forests totalling nearly 1,000,000 acres, about 500,000 acres owned by the government and 450,000 by private companies.

Present annual turnover of the forest industries, including cut timber, is $28,000,000. Kineith mills are expected to add about $14,000,000 and when the Tasman company starts production the total should exceed $55,000,000.

New Zealand now is spending more than $22,400,000 a year on

There are some 19 million people in East Germany and East Berlin. Saturday and Sunday were expected to bring huge excursions of factory workers, defying their communist trade union leaders to come and fetch the food gift on their holidays.

Bergen, Norway —(A)—A polar bear bound for a German zoo broke out of a cage on a Bergen pier and started to swim back home, roughly 1,500 miles. The bear was taken captive in the Spitzbergen area. Harbor police went out in a tugboat, roped the animal and towed it back to port.

100,000TH AUTO
Melbourne—(A)—The 100,000th model of the Holden first automobile to be manufactured wholly in Australia has rolled off the company's 50-acre plant here. Daily output now is 175 vehicles and will reach 200 late this year when a $25,000,000 expansion project is complete.

imported paper and paper products. Officials say Kineith could, in a very short while, make New Zealand independent of imported supplies of heavy packaging and wrapping papers, most of which now come from hard-currency sources.

To help the project, skilled paper workers are being imported. Sixty families from Britain, Canada, Sweden and Finland, a total of more than 280 persons, are to be brought out and housed at Tokoroa, a new industrial town which is being established near Kineith for 1,500 workers.

Two U.S. firms will take part in the construction of the Tasman mills. They are the Raymond Concrete Pile Company of Delaware and the Merritt-Chapman and Scott Corporation of New York. Construction is expected to begin in September.

The Doctor Says

OVEREATING IS THE CAUSE OF MOST CASES OF OBESITY

By Edwin P. Jordan, M.D.

Most people who are fat or even only moderately overweight maintain that they want to lose the excess poundage. No doubt this is true, but most fat people seem more willing to talk about it than to eat less.

With exceedingly few exceptions, and I mean hardly any at all, the cause of obesity is overeating. By the same token those who say they want to lose can do so by eating less. This is not easy for the average overweight person but it can be done by the liberal use of will power and without the use of drugs.

However, someone who really wants to use should understand what foods to eat and how much. They cannot afford to cheat as so many people do by little extra mouthfuls now and then which they just "don't count." The few pieces of candy or the evening raid on the refrigerator have been the downfall of too many reducing programs.

The foods which turn into human fat most easily are the animal or vegetable fats such as butter or margarine and fat meat. The starches or carbohydrate foods, too, must be cut down or eliminated if weight is to be taken off. In this group belong potatoes, sugar and cereals.

If food such as these are eliminated from the diet or taken only in small quantities, progress should be made. They can be replaced with lean meat, fowl, fish, vegetables and the less-sweet fruits.

Follow Strict Diet
A really scientific diet for reducing, however, must be calculated for each person by recording such things as height, age, sex, and proper weight, and then figuring the calories which such a person ought to have. Then a strict diet in which the food is weighed can be worked out on a calorie basis and if the diet is really followed, weight loss will inevitably follow.

Obesity has a bad effect on general health; at all ages the overweight person is more likely to die or to become ill with most types of disease than the thin person. The medical evidence is overwhelming and more and more doctors are insisting that overweight patients lose weight in addition to other treatments indicated. The first two weeks are the hardest, however, and the diet generally becomes easier after one gets used to it.

Laflamme Self-Service Is Renovated And Modernized

Denault Street I. G. A. Store Is Noted For Cleanliness, Courtesy

The Laflamme Self Service, located on Denault Street in Sherbrooke, has been renovated and modernized.

Eddy Laflamme is the proprietor of the I.G.A. Store.

A native of Thetford Mines, he started in business in Sherbrooke. In 1947 he operated a grocery store on Drummond Street and in 1952 he built a new store on Denault Street which has recently been renovated and modernized.

The building, 80 by 36 feet, has a basement and is one of the popular I.G.A. stores.

A feature of the Laflamme Self Service is the adequate facilities for parking. Some 35 cars will be accommodated easily in the near future.

A staff of seven are on hand to look after your needs.

Courtesy is the store's motto. The store is located at 1277 Denault Street and is also noted miring the contents, they all joined in games.

Part of the interior of the Laflamme Self-Service Grocery Store, Sherbrooke's newest IGA outlet, located on Denault Street. The frozen foods counter is in the foreground, beside the dairy bar. The ladies are choosing items at the fresh fruit and vegetable counter, while Junior enjoys a rest in a self-service wagon.

At the tea hour refreshments, including the beautifully decorated birthday cake, were served by Mrs. Asselin and Michelle's sister, Jacqueline.

Attending the party, were: Cheryl Jones, Lucille Choquette, Penny Wilcox, Nancy Martin, Karen Leger, Denise Berthold, Margaret Wilcox, Murielle Fortier, Constance Choquette, Andre Choquette, Sandra Jones, and Louise Asselin.

A very enjoyable party was held recently at the Brompton Road Community Hall in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Loughheed.

The jubilarians were met at the hall entrance by Mrs. Edward Bennett, of Lachine, aunt of the bride, and Mr. Albert Loughheed, best man at the wedding 25 years ago. After being presented with a corsage of white carnations and a carnation boutonniere, the guests of honour were escorted to their special places, to the strains of the Lohengrin Bridal Chorus, played by Mrs. E. M. Goodfellow at the piano, with banjo accompaniment by Mr. Cecil W. Dougherty. Congratulations followed.

At this time, Mrs. F. Jones, of Lachine, who was soloist at the wedding 25 years ago sang the same solo, "O Promise Me."

Mr. William Griffith, master of ceremonies for the evening, then called upon Mr. and Mrs. Loughheed to lead the Grand March, which started the dancing, enjoyed until near midnight, the music being provided by Mrs. Goodfellow and Mr. Dougherty.

Following the entertainment, Mr. Charles Varney addressed the bride and groom of 25 years and on behalf of those present and the absent friends as well, he presented them with the following gifts in silverware: Pair of candelabra, a flower holder, a tray with cream and sugar set, butter dish, 2 sets of salt and pepper shakers, all in grape design, and an electric tea kettle.

Mr. and Mrs. Loughheed expressed their thanks for the lovely gifts received and appreciation of the reception tendered them on this occasion.

The guests followed Mr. and Mrs. Loughheed to the lower hall, where refreshments were served. The bride's table was arranged with a three-tier wedding cake, decorated with white and silver, white candles in silver holders and white and pink roses in silver baskets.

Among those seated at the head table were, Mr. and Mrs. T. Loughheed, parents of the groom, and Mrs. A. Crossley, mother of the bride.

Those responsible for the success of the party were: Mr. and Mrs. S. Billing, Mr. and Mrs.

Byree Billing, Mr. Marshall Loughheed, Miss Joan Billing, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Goodfellow, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Goodfellow, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. W. Billing, Mr. and Mrs. H. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Murdo MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. A. Goodfellow.

Out of town guests included their eldest son, Mr. Crossley Loughheed, of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Mrs. F. Jones, of Lachine, and Mr. and Mrs. Bryce Billing, of Asbestos.

MARRIAGES

PROVIS—RUDD

Bury, July 31. — A very pretty wedding took place in St. Paul's Church, Bury, on Friday afternoon, July 10, at 5 o'clock, when Marion Audrey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Rudd, of Bury, became the bride of Mr. Donald East Provis, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Provis, of Bury, the Rev. Canon W. C. Dunn, of Cookshire, officiating. Mrs. Eva McRae played the wedding marches and soft music during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon net embroidered in a sunburst pattern, over white satin, a small white nylon hat and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Annie Provis, of Lennoxville, sister of the groom, was in a gown of pale green net embroidered in a daisy design over satin, and she wore a small hat fashioned of daisies and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Mr. Donald Rudd, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Rudd, wore a gown of flowered nylon with blue and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Provis, the groom's mother, was in a white and blue printed nylon dress, with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, where a wedding supper was served to upwards of fifty guests. The toast to the bride and groom, proposed by Rev. Canon Dunn, was responded to by the groom.

After several pictures of the wedding group were taken, the bride and groom left by car, accompanied by the bridesmaid and best man.

Out of town guests were from Bishopston, Sherbrooke, Lennoxville, Cookshire and Scotstown.

Nutbrown, of Lennoxville, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Herring, Miss Fern Herring, of Bishopston, Mr. Elvin Herring, Mrs. Kenneth, Eric and Austin Herring, of Bury.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Davis, Mr. Hazen Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Davis and family, Miss Iona Smith, of Bishopston, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bockus Surprised By 25th Wedding Anniversary Party

Knowlton, July 31.—Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bockus were pleasantly surprised on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, when on returning to their home on Saturday evening, July 25, they found it filled with about 40 relatives who had planned the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Bockus had accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Garret Chapman to make a short call at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Frizzle and on returning to their home were welcomed by the strains of the Wedding March, played by Miss Carolyn Woodward, a niece.

A corsage of white carnations was pinned on Mrs. Bockus by her mother, Mrs. C. E. Crandall, while Mr. Crandall Bockus pinned a boutonniere of the same flower on his father. Both were taken completely by surprise.

A very pleasant social evening was spent, after which refreshments were served by various members of the family.

The lace-covered dining room table was centred with a beautifully-decorated wedding cake made by Mrs. D. H. Woodward, of Valleyfield. Seated at the table were: Mr. and Mrs. Elton Bockus, Mrs. C. E. Crandall, Mr. and Mrs. Crandall Bockus, Miss Beverley Bockus and Miss Linda Jill Crandall, all of London, Ont., who were the attendants at the wedding 25 years ago.

A most pleasant feature of the party was the fact that it was the first time the members of the Crandall family had all been together for 26 years.

A presentation of a beautiful set of dinnerware was made by Mr. Crandall Bockus, who also read a poem which had been composed by Dr. E. H. Gray. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bockus expressed their thanks.

Those present from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. Owen H. Woodward and daughter, Carolyn, of Valleyfield; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Crandall, of London, Ont.; Mrs. J. Lionel d'Artois, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Woolley, of Crandall Park; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bockus, of Fulford; Mr. and Mrs. Garret Chapman and daughter, Clare, of Waterloo.

A son, Mr. Ian L. Bockus, who is employed on the SS. Keewatin on the Great Lakes for the summer months, was unable to be present.

LAWN PARTY
St. Edward's Church held its annual lawn party on the evenings of July 7 and 8. The net receipts were $1,105.

The winners of special prizes are as follows: Door prizes, Mrs. Roger Lefebvre, Knowlton; Sunbeam toaster, Miss Alice Robichaud, Fisher's Point; table lamp, Mr. Clovis Laporte, East Hill; $10 bill, Mrs. Emile Labrecque, East Hill; wool blanket, Miss Juliette Lyth, Knowlton; comforter, Miss Juliette Lyth, Knowlton; guessing contest, Mrs. Louis Page, Knowlton; dolls, Miss Marylaine Beaudry, Foster.

The members of the organizing committee wish to thank all those who co-operated to make this success possible.

BIRTHDAY PARTY
Mrs. Lawrence Crandall entertained several young friends of her son, Gary, on Wednesday afternoon, July 22, on the occasion of his 10th birthday. Games were enjoyed during the afternoon, after which refreshments, including a prettily decorated birthday cake, were served. Gary received several nice gifts, for which he thanked his little friends.

Waters Returns To Lead Indians To 5-2 Win Over Yanks

"Major" Jack Bowes Posts Win No. 11 For Locals At Three Rivers; Granby Phillies Play Here Saturday Night

Three Rivers, July 31 — Durable Jack Waters, who it was feared might miss a game or two because of an injury he sustained here Wednesday, not only took his usual left field spot for Sherbrooke Indians last night but hit a rollicking four-run home and added home two runs in Indians' 5-2 conquest of Three Rivers Yankees.

While Waters, who is around .330 in the batting averages just now, was making mighty music with his stick, "Major" Jackie Bowes, Sherbrooke's southpaw par excellence, was setting down the Yankees on three singles for his 11th victory against three defeats. Bowes wasn't in his usual strike-out mood last night and whiffed only one opposing batter but this made it strikeout No. 120 in the all-time record-breaking strikeout total for Sherbrooke pitchers, which had stood at 118 since 1946, until Bowes came along.

With two straight victories over the Yankees in their own ballparks under their belts, Indians moved into Drummondville tonight and return to Sherbrooke Saturday evening for a week-end with the Granby Phillies who are only 2½ games behind the league-leading Sherbrooke club.

Royal entertainment awaits Sherbrooke ball fans when 7:15 Saturday night rolls around at Municipal Stadium. Saturday night is ladies' night in Sherbrooke. 12 pairs of Kayser Nylon hosiery will be given away as door prizes and Bob O'Donnell, Indians' speedy shortstop, will race for 75 yards against a horse, jockeyed by "Major" Bowes.

The ball game will be between the two top clubs in the Provincial Baseball League and judging by the threats members of the Granby

Phillies made in Oliver's restaurant in Sherbrooke early this morning, as they were returning home from a 12-3 win at Thetford Mines, the club from the Princess City of the Eastern Townships will make it tough for the Indians.

In the game at Three Rivers last night, Sherbrooke put together two runs in the fifth, one in the seventh and two in the eighth while Yankees notched singletons in their fifth and eighth innings. Waters was almost the whole show on the offensive as Sherbrooke managed only six hits off Yankees hurlers Mainini and Anderson and he got four of them. O'Donnell went out for two and scored two runs while Clell Hobson doubled for the other Sherbrooke hit.

In the top of the fifth, after Jack Castro grounded out, Dennis Luby drew a base on balls, O'Donnell grounded to Mainini on the mound and the pitcher threw wildly in a force out attempt on Luby at second and Luby continued to third while O'Donnell pulled up at second base.

Windy Hall grounded out, third to first, and Luby scored on the play. Bowes hit to Yank shortstop Lou Marciano, who juggled the ball, and the Sherbrooke pitcher was safe. Waters singled to score O'Donnell and pu Indians ahead, 2-0.

Three Rivers got one back in the bottom of the fifth. Harkins was safe on an error by Luby. Killion drew a walk and Gerry Brooks sacrificed the runners along. Battavio walked to load the bases and Harkins scored as Marciano grounded out.

Indians made it 3-1 with another run in the seventh. O'Donnell walked, Hall sacrificed him to second, Bowes struck out and Waters again came through with a single to right, scoring O'Donnell. Sherbrooke added two runs in the eighth when Hobson doubled to right, Bob Diers sacrificed him to third, Castro was hit by a pitched ball, Luby drew a base on balls and Hobson scored when O'Donnell was safe because of interference by the catcher. Hall hit to second, forcing O'Donnell and Castro scored on the play.

In the home half of the eighth, Three Rivers put together two successive walks and a single to score their final tally. Castellani and Bertocci were given free tickets to first and the former scored on Liddy's single.

Waters had been hit by a pitched ball on the hip in the very first inning of Wednesday night's game at Three Rivers which Indians won 4-3. He was forced to retire at the end of the first half frame and it was thought then that he would be out of uniform for a game at least. However he announced himself as fit to Indians' manager Pinky May before game time yesterday.

Campanella Great Says Ty Cobb

Chicago —(AP)—Ty Cobb, one of baseball's immortals, says Brooklyn's Roy Campanella potentially is one of the great catchers of all-time.

The Georgia Peach said Wednesday, after watching the Dodgers whip the Cubs 6-5: "He's got to watch his weight and be the all-star catcher for the next few years. He's great now but you've got to go over a long period of time to prove it to everybody."

Cobb, 66, was a surprise guest at Wrigley Field, en route from Copperstown, N. Y., to California. He leads all baseball with a lifetime batting average of .367. He said of Campanella: "Look how close he is to the plate. That's the sign of a great catcher. He catches a lot of balls before they curve or drift away from the plate and gets strikes on a lot that are called balls on other pitchers."

HOLE-IN-NOTHING

Buffalo, N.Y.—(AP)—You can mark Mrs. Jack Gustin down for a hole-in-nothing.

Mrs. Gustin used a 4-iron to hole out her tee shot on the 144-yard 12th hole at Brookfield country club Wednesday. She was playing in a handicap golf tournament and was entitled to one stroke on the hole.

YESTERDAY STARS

Batting:
Enos Slaughter, St. Louis Cardinals, got four hits in four times up, two doubles and two singles, as the Cards beat Pittsburgh 10-4.

Pitching:
Lew Burdette, Milwaukee Braves, scattered six hits in winning his eighth game against one loss 5-0 over New York.

Annual E. T. Amateur Golf Tourney Opens At S. C. C. Tomorrow; 54 Holes

Tomorrow the Annual Eastern Townships Men's Amateur Golf Tournament gets underway.

The two-day 54-hole tourney is strictly for amateurs. Only amateurs in good standing with clubs affiliated with the E.T.G.A. are eligible to compete.

There will be three flights. Prizes will be awarded for the top gross and net winners in each flight.

The score a competitor shoots on Saturday decides which flight he will be competing in.

Eighteen holes will be played tomorrow and thirty-six on Sunday.

Don Doe, winner of the title last year, will not be competing this year, since he and Duke Dukelow, also of Granby, will be competing for a berth on Quebec's Willingdon Cup Team.

In addition to the E. T. title the Seagram's Trophy and the Record Trophy will be at stake.

The Seagram's Trophy goes to the player who has the low net for the first eighteen holes and the Record Trophy goes to the winning team.

The Skinner Trophy goes to the winner of the E. T. amateur title.

White Sox Win And Yanks Lose, Milwaukee Wins And Dodgers Lose

A week of watchful waiting opens today in the American League, New York will be waiting for the Chicago bubble burst and the White Sox will be watching to see that it doesn't.

These two clubs, the defending champion and the one genuine contender, go their separate ways against second division also-teams for the next seven days, then collide head-on in a vital four-game series in Yankee Stadium starting a week from today.

The White Sox, 4½ games behind and deep enough into the season that even a temporary let-down could prove fatal, face a considerably tougher task than the Yankees.

They stop off in Washington tonight for the first of four single games with the Senators, whom they've beaten 9 out of 14 so far. But the next jump is Philadelphia and the Athletics have given Chicago more trouble this year than any other club in the league, winning 10 of their 15 meetings.

Meanwhile, Yankees will be feasting on the hapless St. Louis Browns 12 victories in 14 games and the Detroit Tigers 10 out of 15.

If the White Sox can preserve their present position that series next week-end should be a lulu. Paul Richards, 20-year-old boy, has a perfect 5-for-5 mark in New York this year and are the only team with a season's edge 7-6 over the Yankees.

The way the Sox played Thursday in Boston was enough to make even ardent Yankee fans pause. The Chicagoans blasted Mel Parnell, a 14-game winner, for six hits and seven runs in three innings, then pounded two second-line throwers for 15 more hits and 10 more runs. The final count was 17-1 on 21 hits, the Sox' heaviest barrage of the season. It today will be defending those honors.

It was the first time in CCA history that a paddler had taken two 10,000-metre events in the same day. Rice captured the 10,000-metre double blade single in a kayak and the 10,000-metre single blade single.

The other two 10,000-metre events to be run off today are the single blade tandem and the double blade tandem.

Five clubs are entered from Montreal, three from Toronto, two from Ottawa and one each from Carleton Place, Ont., Gananoque, Ont., Lachine, Que., Three Rivers, Que., Quebec City, Sudbury, Ont., and Winnipeg.

The clubs can compete only in the events in which they placed at divisional trials held in Ontario and Quebec earlier this summer.

Many of the clubs arrived in the capital Thursday and immediately took to the water to limber up after the trip.

Outfielder Bob Boyd, recalled by Chicago White Sox of the American League, made an impressive farewell appearance with the Leafs by hitting safely in five trips to the plate. He clouted a triple and four singles.

The Royals used three relievers to edge the A's at Ottawa for an ever split in a four-game series. Art Fabbro, the second of four Montreal hurlers, won. Outfielder Sandy Amoroso hit his 18th homer for Montreal.

Third baseman Hector Rodriguez cracked a ninth-inning double to drive in the tying run and lashed another double in the 12th to knock in the winning run as the Chiefs edged the Wings at Rochester.

Baltimore Orioles edged the tail-end Cubs 2-1 at Springfield on Arch Wilson's fifth-inning single.

Detroit Regulars May Be All Back

Detroit — (AP)—Detroit Red Wing trade winds were calmed Thursday by general manager Jack Adams.

Jolly Jack, one of the most trade-minded executives in the National Hockey League, said all the Red Wing regulars from the 1952-53 squad which lost to Boston in the playoffs will be around when the season opens in October.

And that, said Adams, includes goalie Terry Sawchuk, around whom most of the trade rumors had swirled.

Sawchuk won the prized Vezina Trophy for the best goalie record in the league while Detroit won the regular-season championship last winter. But he was somewhat of a disappointment when Boston Bruins knocked off the Wings in the semi-finals of the Stanley Cup playoffs. Ever since then he had been the centre of the trade talk.

At various times forwards Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay, Marty Pavelich and Metro Prystai had been mentioned as trade bait.

Adams, who swapped off five players on his all-victorious 1950 squad, said none of the other clubs has offered him anything good. He conceded, however, that some minor deals may be made.

Blonde Is Yanks Secret Weapon

New York — (AP)—An unidentified blonde bombshell is thought by some highly interested observers to be New York Yankees' secret weapon for taking care of the invading Cleveland Indians.

The Indians, fighting to head the Yanks off from their fifth straight pennant, were leading 3-0 in the second inning Wednesday when the charmer, wearing a luscious pink dress and described by one eye-witness as making Marilyn Monroe look undernourished, got up and pranced up the aisle from a prominently-located box seat.

There was a round of wolf-whistles and the Indian bench turned to gawk. Even the players on the field got a good look.

Bob Lemon walked two batters, gave up a single and a run was in. Twice more the lady went into her act, just as Lemon was set to pitch, to the accompaniment of cheers and wolf-whistles. Her final performance was followed by four Yankee runs in the sixth. Then the vision in pink got up and left. The Yanks won 7-3.

She didn't come back Thursday. The Indians won 4-3.

Longshot Sets World Record

Westbury, N.Y. — (AP)—Chuck Volo, a longshot from Maine, broke the world record Thursday night for a mile and one-half on a half-mile track by winning the $50,000 Nassau pace at Roosevelt Raceway in 3:05.35.

Chuck Volo is owned by S. A. Wathen and Son of Ft. Fairfield, Md., and driven by Wendell Wathen of Southern Pines, N.C.

The five-year-old son of Volo, came home 1¼ lengths ahead of Philip Healy, owned by George W. Reed and P. G. and Jere Gray of East Providence, R.I. A 36 to 1 shot, second-longest shot on the board, the winner paid $75.00, $25.00 and $8.20.

Third, another 2¼ lengths away in the bulky field of 15 of the world's fastest pacers was Direct Rhythm, owned by W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, Ky.

TED WILLIAMS HAS BATting PRACTICE

Boston — (AP)—Ted Williams, Red Sox slugging outfielder who returned from Korean service Wednesday, took 10 minutes of batting practice at Fenway Park Thursday morning despite a right-hand blister the size of a quarter. He said he probably will lay off practice today.

Karl Olson, 23-year-old outfielder just out of army service after nearly two years, also took a batting drill and seemed in good shape. He has been playing ball in Tokyo.

Dick Starr started for Baltimore and got credit for the win, although relieved in the sixth.

Marty Furgol Shoots 66 To Lead In Tam O'Shanter Golf Tournament

Chicago — (AP)—Marty Furgol is on a hot streak and the rest of the golf pros say he is the one to watch in the $30,000 all-American tournament at Tam O'Shanter.

He is known as a "streaky" player to his colleagues, meaning that when he has one hot round there usually are several more in his system.

The 185-pound, six-foot pro, who was born in New York Mills, N.Y., has a home in Los Angeles and registers out of Lemont, Ill., smashed men's par 72 with a 66 to lead yesterday's first round.

Marty is seldom a winner, but always a contender. Currently he ranks 12th on the PGA money-winning list but with a jackpot of $10,627 this season.

The 35-year-old son of a fruit peddler said his 66 was "the best round of my life," but that's debatable.

The tourney pros still talk of his feat in the 1951 western open at Delamont, Ia. He was never in the lead until he dropped a four-foot birdie putt on the 72nd hole to win the title from Cary Middlecoff.

His rounds were 68-68-69-65-270. Furgol also won the Houston open that year.

"I've been playing golf since I was 10 and competed in my first tournament at 19," he said.

Entering today's second round, Furgol will have to stay hot to keep ahead. Only one stroke behind with 67's in the chase for a top prize of $3,420 were Doug Ford and Ted Kroll, well-seasoned campaigners who ran third and seventh, respectively, on the current money-winning list.

Canadians did not fare well in the opening round. Henry Martell of Edmonton put together a 38 and a 37 for 75 while Bill Mawhinney of Vancouver turned in a 40-38-78 card.

Leading the all-American women's open into the second round is Betty Hicks, veteran pro from Culver City, Calif. She posted a 76 yesterday. Babe Zaharias in her first golf competition since being operated on April 17, started out with a shaky 45 then rallied for a 37 on the back nine.
