

VOL. XLVIII.

Quebec Central Railway.

THE THROUGH CAR LINE BETWEEN QUEBEC AND NEW ENGLAND.

Solid Train Service Between Quebec and Boston Via Sherbrooke and Easton and Maine R. R.

Direct Connections for Portland and All Points in Maine via Dulwich Junction and Maine Central R. R.

COMMENCING MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 24th, 1893, trains will run as follows:

EXPRESS-Leave Quebec (Ferry) 1.30 P.M. Leave Sherbrooke 2.30 P.M. Arrive Boston 7.00 P.M.

MIXED-Leave Quebec 6.00 A.M. Leave Boston 7.00 A.M. Arrive Quebec 10.15 A.M.

GOING NORTH.

EXPRESS-Leave New York 4.00 P.M. Leave Boston 7.00 P.M. Arrive Quebec 10.15 A.M.

MIXED-Leave New York 6.00 A.M. Leave Boston 7.00 A.M. Arrive Quebec 10.15 A.M.

GOING SOUTH.

EXPRESS-Leave Quebec 1.30 P.M. Leave Boston 7.00 P.M. Arrive New York 11.30 P.M.

MIXED-Leave Quebec 6.00 A.M. Leave Boston 7.00 A.M. Arrive New York 11.30 P.M.

GOING NORTH.

EXPRESS-Leave New York 4.00 P.M. Leave Boston 7.00 P.M. Arrive Quebec 10.15 A.M.

MIXED-Leave New York 6.00 A.M. Leave Boston 7.00 A.M. Arrive Quebec 10.15 A.M.

GOING SOUTH.

EXPRESS-Leave Quebec 1.30 P.M. Leave Boston 7.00 P.M. Arrive New York 11.30 P.M.

MIXED-Leave Quebec 6.00 A.M. Leave Boston 7.00 A.M. Arrive New York 11.30 P.M.

GOING NORTH.

EXPRESS-Leave New York 4.00 P.M. Leave Boston 7.00 P.M. Arrive Quebec 10.15 A.M.

MIXED-Leave New York 6.00 A.M. Leave Boston 7.00 A.M. Arrive Quebec 10.15 A.M.

GOING SOUTH.

EXPRESS-Leave Quebec 1.30 P.M. Leave Boston 7.00 P.M. Arrive New York 11.30 P.M.

MIXED-Leave Quebec 6.00 A.M. Leave Boston 7.00 A.M. Arrive New York 11.30 P.M.

GOING NORTH.

GRAND TRUNK

Xmas & New Year's Holidays

RETURN TICKETS WILL BE SOLD AT

First Class Single Fare

AS FOLLOWS:

Going Dec. 22, 23, 24, 25, good to return leaving destination not later than Dec. 28, 1893;

also going Dec. 29, 30, 31, 1893, and Jan. 1, 1894, good to return leaving destination not later than Jan. 2, 1894.

FIRST CLASS FARE AND ONE-THIRD

going Dec. 22, 23, 24, 25, good to return leaving destination not later than Jan. 2, 1894.

School Vacations

Return tickets will be sold to pupils and teachers at first class fare and one-third on surrender of standard of school certificate signed by principal; tickets good going Dec. 9th to 30th inclusive and valid for return leaving destination not later than Jan. 2, 1894.

Leave Quebec at 12 noon, and 7.30 P.M.

For fares, time tables, Sleeping Car accommodation, and general information, apply to the Company's Ticket Office, opposite St. Louis Hotel, 100 St. Louis Street, also at the Company's Office, 100 St. Louis Street, and at the Company's Office, 100 St. Louis Street.

L. J. SEARGEANT, General Manager.

N. J. POWER, General Passenger Agent.

December 5, 1893.

ap120

Intercolonial Railway.

1893. Train Arrangement 1894.

ON AND AFTER MONDAY, THE 11th

September, 1893, the trains of this line will run daily (Sunday excepted) as follows:

TRAINS WILL LEAVE LEVIS

Accommodation for Riviere du Loup and Campbellton. 8.00

Through Express for St. John, Halifax, and Sydney. 14.40

Accommodation for Riviere du Loup. 17.00

TRAINS WILL ARRIVE AT LEVIS

Accommodation from Riviere du Loup. 5.30

Through Express from St. John, Halifax, and Sydney. 12.00

Accommodation from Campbellton. 13.00

ON AND AFTER WEDNESDAY, 1st

November, 1893, Trains will run to and from St. Andrew Street, Quebec, as follows, Sunday excepted:

LEAVE QUEBEC.

6.00 A.M. Local Express for Riviere du Loup, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, arriving there at 8.00 A.M.

8.00 A.M. Through Express for St. John, Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, arriving at 10.00 A.M.

4.15 P.M. Local Mail, daily for St. Raymond, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, arriving there at 6.00 P.M.

9.00 A.M. Local Mail leaves St. Raymond daily, at 6.30 A.M., arriving at Quebec at 9.00 A.M.

6.40 P.M. Local Express leaves Riviere du Loup, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, arriving at 8.00 P.M.

7.30 P.M. Through Express leaves Riviere du Loup, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, arriving at 9.00 P.M.

20 minutes at Lake Edward for lunch.

For freight for St. Raymond and intermediate stations, apply to the General Agent at St. Raymond, or for points beyond St. Raymond, after 5 P.M.

Return Tickets, from Quebec to all stations, 1st Class, 2nd Class, and 3rd Class, good for 14 days, and return following Tuesday, at Single First-Class Fare.

Special advantages offered to parties establishing Mills and other industries, by the sale of tickets for sale by Government in the Lake St. John Valley at nominal prices. New settlers, their families and a limited quantity of effects will be transported by the Railway.

Special advantages offered to parties establishing Mills and other industries, by the sale of tickets for sale by Government in the Lake St. John Valley at nominal prices. New settlers, their families and a limited quantity of effects will be transported by the Railway.

ALLAN LINE.

ROYAL MAIL STEAMSHIPS.

1893.-WINTER SEASON.-1894.

This Company's Lines are composed of Double-Engine Clyde Built IRON AND STEEL STEAMSHIPS.

THEY ARE BUILT IN WATER-TIGHT compartments, are unsurpassed for strength, speed and comfort, and are fitted up with all the modern improvements that practical experience can suggest.

Liverpool, Londonderry, Halifax and Portland Royal Mail Service.

From Liverpool to Halifax.

From Halifax to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

CURES OTHERS WILL CURE YOU

PURE BLOOD

SKIN

MENTAL ENERGY

LONG LIFE

STRONG NERVES

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

Cures others, will cure you

March 28, 1893

DOMINION LINE

ROYAL MAIL STEAMERS

Reading in connection with the Grand Trunk, Canadian Pacific, International, and other Canadian Railways and Steamers

From Liverpool to Halifax.

From Halifax to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

From Liverpool to London.

From London to Liverpool.

AFTERNOON REPORTS

GOVERNOR OF GIBRALTAR WAYLAIN.

FRANCIS NAVAL ADMINISTRATION.

THE SITUATION IN ITALY.

Small Pox in New York Harbor—Missouri Railway Train Held Up—Terrible Tragedy in Kentucky.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—A despatch from Gibraltar says: "While the Governor of Gibraltar and his daughter were out horseback riding in the Spanish territory they were intercepted by two Spaniards who presented revolvers and demanded alms. The Governor refused to give them anything. A Spanish guard approached, and the two men fled, but were overtaken and shot. They said that they were poor and hungry. Terrible misery prevails among the poor in the whole district."

A despatch from Rio Janeiro, dated yesterday, states that the insurgents have again occupied Montenegro Island, north of the bay, by the promontory of the bay, however, of little use to them, owing to the fact that the position is commanded by the Government forces with five guns on Armacao Point, directly opposite the island.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Admiral Lefebvre, Minister of Marine, denies many of the charges made against the naval administration by M. Clemenceau. M. Lefebvre admits that the Toulon store houses were short of biscuit in 1893, but the deficiency was supplied by corn furnished by the bakers. He also admits that the construction of modern war ships, which are veritable pieces of clockwork, is a task of no small magnitude, and that because they have superior implements, the remedy will be found about 1905, when all war material will have been completed. M. Lefebvre also states that the French system of coast defence is the faultiest kind, owing to the differences between the Ministries of War and the Navy.

Mr. Connelly, Acting President of the Rielites and Ontario Navigation Company, accompanied by Mr. L. J. Forger and Mr. Alton Clark, arrived in Quebec yesterday evening for Toronto, where they are to meet Messrs. Everett, Tucker and Moore, of Cleveland, with reference to the changes in the Rielites Company. Mr. Connelly has decided to take up his residence in Montreal, as has Mr. Tucker, who it is said, is to be the new General Manager of the company.

The Star special cables from London say: Sir Charles Tupper, in addressing the Vancouver Chamber of Commerce last night, stated that the protective policy of Canada. Though Canada was prepared, continued Sir Charles, to give a full equivalent for any consideration given to Canadian products, he was not prepared to give up the only country in the world that treated her colonies on precisely the same footing as foreigners. In concluding his speech, Sir Charles said that he was sure that the Canadian people would support the policy of reciprocity.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—The Cataract Construction Co., which is building tunnels around Niagara with a view to turning to practical account the power wasted in the Falls, is being sued in the United States District Court at Buffalo by the Niagara Falls Hydraulic Power and Manufacturing Co. for $300,000. The work has been conducted, it is alleged, on the advice and scientific lines laid down by Prof. Charles F. Smith, a resident of Buffalo, who is the owner of the Cataract Construction Co. The latter has been paid the sum of $300,000. The trial has not been concluded.

CHARITY HOSPITAL ON BLACKWELL ISLAND, which contains 800 patients, has been quarantined by order of the sanitary authorities. Six cases of small pox were discovered in different parts of the institution yesterday, and the patients have been removed to the pest house on North Brothers Island. The spread of the contagion at the hospital is said to be due to the fact that a patient, who was taken there last week and it was not until yesterday that the authorities discovered that small pox had been introduced.

THREE THOUSAND TAILORS met in Cooper Union Hall last night to protest against the proposed amendment to the tariff laws of 1890 contained in the Wilson bill. The meeting was presided over by Wm. C. Brown, of New York, and was signed by most of those present, setting forth that the interests of the tailors would be subject to the interests of the manufacturers of the tariff laws of 1890 contained in the Wilson bill.

THE HERALD'S Montreal cable says: "It is doubted here if Admiral Mello will be able to master sufficient men to warrant him in making a landing anywhere near Rio. The usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder has been unusually effective. Rebels in launches and on the city of Rio have been kept busy for some time, and the usual desultory fire has been going on since the arrival of the Brazilian fleet, and the 'Tamar' has been rapidly gunned with smokeless powder

CARSLEY'S COLUMN.

Mail Orders Carefully Filled.

January Cheap Sale

PRICE LIST
PRICE LIST
PRICE LIST

Continuation of Cheap Price List
Our Special Lot

GIRLS' WINTER MANTLES.

January Sale Price 25c each.

At CARSLEY'S.

FUR GOODS PRICES!

Wanawake Bear Muffs, 60c, worth 80c.
Boy's Fur School Caps, $1.20, worth $1.45.
Children's White Fur Muffs, 50c, worth $1.00.
Children's Fur Neckties, $1.25, worth $1.50.
Children's Fur Coats, $1.50, worth $2.00.
All Fur Goods at Special Prices for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

Men's Underwear

PRICES.

Men's Winter Underwear, 20c, worth 25c.
Men's Winter Drawers, 20c, worth 25c.
Men's All-Wool Winter Socks, 45c, worth 50c.
Men's All-Wool Winter Drawers, 45c, worth 50c.
Men's Scotch Wool Underwear, $1.25, worth $1.50.
All Men's Winter Underwear reduced for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

Ladies' Skirt Prices

Ladies' Striped Winter Skirts, 50c, worth 60c.
Ladies' Moleton (Cotton Skirts, 60c, worth 70c.
Ladies' Flannel Skirts, 50c, worth 60c.
Ladies' Flannel Skirts, 70c, worth 80c.
Ladies' Quilted Skirts, 50c, worth $1.15.
Every Skirt in stock especially reduced for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

PRINT PRICES.

Ends of Prints, 3c, yard, worth 6c.
Good Washing Prints, 4c, yard, worth 6c.
Good Pattern Prints, 5c, yard, worth 6c.
Extra Value Prints, 6c, yard, worth 8c.
Fast Color Prints, 7c, yard, worth 10c.
Every piece of Station and Gingham Reduced for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

KNITTED GOODS PRICES.

Children's Wool Hoods, 10c, worth 20c.
White Wool Hoods, 20c, worth 35c.
Ladies' Knitted Skirts, 30c, worth 45c.
Wool Knitted Shawls, 30c, worth 40c.
Wool Socks, comprising Infants Cap, Muff, Mitt and Collar, $1.49, worth $1.75 set.
All other Wool Goods at January Sale Prices.

At CARSLEY'S.

Ladies' Wrapper Prices.

Ladies' Flannel Wrappers $1.25, worth $1.45.
Sergeant Print Wrappers 75c, worth $1.00.
German Flannel Wrappers $1.50, worth $1.95.
Ladies' Plaid Tea Gowns $2.50, worth $3.25.
Opera Flannel Gowns, $2.85, worth $3.50.
All other Wrappers reduced for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

Corset Prices.

Infants' Waist Bands, 5c, worth 20c.
Children's Waist Bands 10c, worth 25c.
Ladies' French Wire Corsets, 50c, worth 75c.
Special Line Ladies' Corsets, 90c, worth $1.30.
Every pair of Corsets Reduced for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

GLOVE PRICES.

Ladies' Colored Cashmere Gloves, 10c, worth 20c.
Ladies' Cashmere Cuffs, 10c, worth 15c.
Ladies' 4 Button Kid Gloves, 35c, worth 45c.
Ladies' White Ringwood Gloves, 45c, worth 55c.
Ladies' Black Cashmere Gloves, 15c, worth 25c.
All Kid and Fabric Gloves Reduced for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

HANDKERCHIEF PRICES.

Ladies' White Handkerchiefs, 2c, worth 3c.
Colored Embroidered Handkerchiefs, 3c, worth 4c.
White Hemstitched Handkerchiefs, 3c, worth 4c.
Embroidered Silk Handkerchiefs, 10c, worth 12c.
White Initial Handkerchiefs, 9c, worth 11c.
All Handkerchiefs Reduced for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

TWEED PRICES.

All Wool Tweed Suits, 33c, worth 40c.
Heavy Suing Tweed, 41c, worth 50c.
Good Halifax Tweeds, 32c, worth 40c.
New Pattern Tweeds, 52c, worth 60c.
Fine Tweed Trousers, 62c, worth 70c.
All Tweeds and Suitings Reduced for the Great January Sale.

At CARSLEY'S.

S. CARSLEY.

1766, 1767, 1769, 1771, 1773, 1775, 1777, 1779

NOTRE DAME STREET,

MONTREAL.

CARSLEY'S COLUMN.

January 16, 1894.

Will be read an excellent remedy for sick headache, Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

To A Cat.

Stately, kindly, lordly friend,
Concealed
Here to sit by me, and turn
Glorious eyes that smile and burn,
Golden eyes, love's lustrous morn,
On the golden page I read.
All your wondrous world of hair,
Dark and fair,
Silken-shaggy, soft and bright
As the clouds and beams of night,
Pays my reverent hand's caress
Back with friendly gentleness.
Dogs may fawn on all and some
As they come;
You, a friend of loftier mind,
Answer friends alone in kind.
Just your foot upon my hand
Softly bids it understand.
Morning round this silent sweet
Garden seat
Sheds its wealth of gathering light,
Thrills the gradual clouds with might,
Changes woodland, orchard, heath,
Lawn and garden there beneath.
Fair and dim they gleamed below;
Now they glow
Deep as even your sunbright eyes,
Fair as even the wakening skies.
Can it not or can it be
Now that you give thanks to see?

What within you wakes with day
Who can say?
All too little me tell
Friends who like each other well,
What might haply, if we might,
Bid us read our latest light in uniform
A. C. Swinburne, in The Athenaeum.

CITY AND DISTRICT ITEMS.

ENGLISH CATHEDRAL.—The members of the choir are requested to meet at the Church Hall, at 8 o'clock, this (Friday) evening.

THE LUTHERAN FAIR.—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lutheran Church, at the corner of St. John and St. James streets, has been organized. The fair will be held at the corner of St. John and St. James streets, on Friday evening, January 19th.

INQUEST.—The Coroner held an inquest yesterday morning on the body of the victim of the fatal fire at the corner of St. John and St. James streets. The jury returned a verdict of death by fire.

BARGAIN DAY.—Go to-day, also go to-morrow. Yes, go today and secure some of the tremendous bargains offered at all kinds of goods in pianos, organs and all kinds of musical instruments. Read the advertisement.

JUST RECEIVED.—Ten cases of spring goods, consisting in embroidery, lace, prints, sateen, lawn, and a few French cottons. At Mr. Theophile Bédard's, 172 St. John street.

ALDERMEN AND COUNCILLORS TO RETIRE.—It is positively stated that the following gentlemen will not seek re-election to the City Council: Aldermen Letellier, Robitaille, Bédard and Kiraux; Councillors Fitzpatrick, Bussière and Dechenet.

TOUR OF THE WORLD.—Mr. Arthur McKelvey, of this city, will deliver a very interesting lecture entitled "Illustrated Tour of the World," at the Tarr Hall, on Monday evening next, at 8 o'clock. The lecture will be fully illustrated by the latest stereoscopic time light views. See advt.

FIRE AT CUMBERLAND MILLS, BRUCE.—The barn and stable belonging to Mr. C. H. Taylor, together with all the valuable live stock, with the exception of one horse and one pig, were destroyed by fire on Sunday morning last. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss partly covered by insurance.

FUEL ECONOMIZER.—Subjoined is another of the many testimonials received by the proprietor of the Fuel Economizer:—L. H. GARDNER, Esq.—DEAR SIR.—I have much pleasure in stating that the "Fuel Economizer" you put in my furnace pipe has given me a saving of fuel to the amount of $100.00 per year. I am, Sir, truly, Yr. Servant, L. H. GARDNER, Quebec, 16th January, 1894.

GOOD CHAMPAGNE FOR THE CARNAVAL BALL.—The Supper Committee of the Grand Carnival Ball to be held at the Parliament Buildings on the 31st inst., have selected a good and reliable Champagne for the occasion. The only wine to be used that evening. The agents, Messrs. Lawrence A. Wilson & Co., of Montreal, are sending down a large batch of the 1893 vintage—one of the finest wines of the country.

RECORDED COURT, YESTERDAY.—A young man in St. Roch's, aged 30, who has been in the habit of drinking, was sent down by the Recorder for two months. A defendant named Levesque was committed to jail for contempt of court. For a further notice of the case, see advt.

ANOTHER SERVANT GIRL ARRESTED.—Nathalie Beaurivage made a voluntary statement after conviction, implicating Alex. Lamotte, 20 years old, and formerly cook of Judge Chauveau's service, who she said had shown her a large trunk of linen and urged her to help herself to it. The young man was arrested. On search being made at the house of her sister, part of the alleged stolen linen was discovered.

STILL SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.—On the 10th inst., the man Sprout, of Lake St. Charles, charged with having been a young man in the woods and having been the cause of his death, was brought before the Criminal Court at Chicoutimi. The Grand Jury returned a verdict of guilty. The prisoner was committed to jail for two months.

QUEBEC BIBLE SOCIETY.—We would beg to call the attention of our readers to the advertisement in our columns regarding the 58th anniversary meeting of the Quebec Bible Society. The clergyman who is to give the address is a well-known and popular speaker, and will be assisted by the city pastors and others in the conducting of the anniversary service. An excellent programme has been provided, from which it appears that there will be some singing in French by the Society's workers.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.—At the annual general meeting of St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Beneficial Society, held on the 17th inst., the following officers were elected: President, Father Maloney; President, J. Gallagher; Vice-President, Edward Connolly; Treasurer, Jacob Griffiths; Recording Secretary, W. P. Brown; Corresponding Secretary, William Teaffe; Marshal, Thomas Eulight. Council—J. P. McKnight, Michael Thomas, J. H. McKnight, John Deland, and P. H. Connolly. James Patterson, John Timmons, M. McNamara and M. K. Bolger.

CITY COUNCIL.—Special meeting of the City Council this evening at 7.30. Orders of the day—162th report of the Finance Committee (to grant a bonus to the Richelieu Co.) Second reading and passing of by-law (No. 319) entitled "A by-law to provide for the opening of Chenier street, and of Bonaventure street to St. Valier street, for the extension of St. Bernard street, for the widening of St. Valier and St. Germain streets, for the enlarging of Place St. Pierre, and for the purchase of certain lots of ground for a public park." For which second reading and passing two-thirds of the members composing the Council must be present. 50th report of the Water Works Committee (Mr. Simon Poirer's claim).

SENDAY SCHOOL FESTIVAL.—The annual festival of St. Peter's Church Sunday School took place last night, and was very largely attended. The youngsters enjoyed a beautiful tea early in the evening, their wants in this particular being amply looked after by their teachers and other ladies of the congregation, and subsequently there was an increase to the assembly, the parents and other friends of the children and adults members of the congregation joining them for the balance of the evening, which was pleasantly spent in listening to music, songs, glee, etc.

His Duty Done.—The late Henry W. Paine, the veteran lawyer of Boston, once went to one of the interior towns of Maine, where he was on trial for arson. He had no counsel, and Mr. Paine was assigned by the Court to take charge of the case. He discovered after a brief interview with the boy that he was a well-to-do man, and was composed of good, solid, country farmers, who were not at all ignorant of the law. He brought in a verdict of guilty, and the boy was set free. Mr. Paine, remarked: "Have you any notion to make a lawyer?" Mr. Paine answered, in his dry and wistful manner, an answer: "No, your honor. I believe I have secured for this boy just what the laws of Maine and the constitution of the United States allow—a trial by his peers."—Springfield Republican.

His Duty Done.—The late Henry W. Paine, the veteran lawyer of Boston, once went to one of the interior towns of Maine, where he was on trial for arson. He had no counsel, and Mr. Paine was assigned by the Court to take charge of the case. He discovered after a brief interview with the boy that he was a well-to-do man, and was composed of good, solid, country farmers, who were not at all ignorant of the law. He brought in a verdict of guilty, and the boy was set free. Mr. Paine, remarked: "Have you any notion to make a lawyer?" Mr. Paine answered, in his dry and wistful manner, an answer: "No, your honor. I believe I have secured for this boy just what the laws of Maine and the constitution of the United States allow—a trial by his peers."—Springfield Republican.

logues, recitations, etc. The Rev. Rev. A. J. Balfour, M.A., was of course present and assisted largely in the entertainment, giving an interesting magic lantern exhibition, etc.

Plays as Once Played.

REVIVING THE METHODS OF SHAKESPEARE'S DAY.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a Shakespeare play was given in the poet's lifetime has been accomplished. The limited stage of the Royalty was increased by a platform thrown forward even with the private boxes. Elizabethan costumes were employed throughout, scenery was dispensed with, and groups of spectators in jerkins, some with long boots and some with wooden shoes, curiously hilted swords, and divers shaped hats (noted and striped ruffs, were spectators of the action gone through by their fellows. A few of these "callants" seated on stools smoked pipes, some of which were stated to be original "clays" of the sixteenth century. The theatre was supposed to be the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes. The performance took place before simple drapery, a portion of the stage being covered, and having a balcony raised. This covered portion of the stage was supposed to be the stage of the Fortune, and at the side of the stage were balconies in which sat ladies masked, while the musicians were seated in the boxes.

At the Royalty Theatre the members of the Shakespeare Reading Society are carrying out their promise to play "Measure for Measure" with some resemblance to the conditions that prevailed when the series of works that are the glory of our dramatic literature were penned. To give these plays exactly as they are supposed to have been then given would be almost impossible, even if any educational benefit or satisfactory entertainment could be thereby furnished. For instance, no one would be able to see the characters played by boys, while the fickle-ness of the climate prevents performances open to the air, save in settled summer weather. Nearly all that can be done to afford some idea of the way in which a