FEUD ENDS IN GOLF CLUB KILLING

Barman Shot Down During Party At Crowded Mount Orford Club

MAGOG—A weird, jealousy-fed feud ended dramatically behind the bar of a crowded Mount Orford Golf Club Saturday night with the shotgun slaying of a 27-year-old father of three children.

Dead is Gilles Murray, caretaker at the Provincial Park at Mount Orford and part-time barman.

Held is Jeffrey Lowther, 29, who just more than 18 months ago was severely wounded in the legs by Murray as he lay in bed at his parents' home, 66 Bullard St., Magog. Lowther, a single man, is employed in the printing department of Dominion Textile Co.

Murray was killed at point-blank range by a blast from a 16-gauge, single-shot, shotgun fired through a small window at one end of the bar. Dr. Raphael Beaudry of Magog pronounced the man dead-on-arrival at La Providence Hospital here.

Eleven pellets smashed into Murray's left side, three lodging in the head, the rest between his neck and waist. Three more ripped through a partition and into a hall where some 200 Domil employees and friends were holding a post-golf tournament party and dance. But only Murray was struck and the party continued.

Lowther and his cousin, Roy Lowther, were picked up almost immediately by Magog police constables Antonio Therrien and Gerard Parent, who arrived minutes after the shooting. They were later turned over to Provincial Police and taken to Montreal, Roy Lowther as a material witness.

Reliable sources reported this morning that Jeff Lowther, detained in connection with the shooting of Gilles Murray Saturday night at the Mount Orford Country Club, was in custody in the Sherbrooke jail. He was brought here yesterday afternoon by Provincial Police.

Magog officials said that a coroner's inquest will be opened tomorrow night in Magog. It may be adjourned "sine die" to allow completion of police investigation.

Provincial Police found a shotgun hidden under a ramp leading to the Men's Locker Room. An empty cartridge and a soft-drink case, apparently used to reach the window, lay nearby.

The bad blood between Murray and Lowther had been a favorite Magog topic of conversation for almost two years.

On Sunday night, Feb. 21, 1954, at the Lantern Inn near Magog, Murray and Lowther exchanged words during a ski banquet. Both were considered excellent skiers. Murray alleged that Lowther had made advances toward his wife.

The next day, there was a bitter argument culminating in a fight.

On the Tuesday morning, Murray went to the Lowther house, found Lowther in bed and fired six bullets into his legs with a .22 colt revolver. He claimed he purposely shot Lowther in the lower part of the body because he did not want to kill him, but wanted to teach him a lesson.

Last November, Murray pleaded guilty to a charge of intent to maim and causing bodily harm. Sentence, however, was deferred a year pending good behavior, and bail was fixed at $500. But between the shooting and the trial, Murray had been in court three times on charges involving Lowther. Included in the charges was "threatening to kill."

Saturday's Domil field day, in which Lowther played golf all afternoon, had moved to the party stage in the Golf Club. It was shortly before 9:00 p.m. and Murray was pouring drinks.

Three other people were in the bar; beside Murray, at the sink, was Conrad Gaucher, professional skier and outstanding golfer. He was washing glasses; Pierre N. Roy was also assisting behind the bar; and in front of the bar was Denis Turgeon, Golf Club professional.

Nobody saw Murray's killer, nor was there any warning before the blast came. It was fired through the lower left side of a tiny window, dimensions about 3x1½ feet.

Till Slaying Trial Opens

Sumner, Miss. —(AP)—A sensational trial rattles the quiet routine of this little farm town today when two white men face charges of murdering a Negro boy who whistled at a white woman.

National attention centres on the dusty town built around the traditional court house square. It centres on a county where Negroes outnumber whites 3 to 1.

The slaying of 14-year-old Emmett Louis Till of Chicago brought a cloudburst of protest from other states.

Despite the state's taut race relations, Sheriff H. C. Strider said he expects no incident.

Murray fell like a stone, blood pouring from his wounds.

Magog Police and Brien's Ambulance, Magog, were summoned and police blocked off the road leading to the club.

But the road block apparently was unnecessary. According to police, Roy Lowther called them over to a car in which he and his cousin were sitting.

"If you're looking for Jeff, you don't have to look any farther. He's in the car," Roy Lowther was quoted as saying.

Magog police took both men into custody and phoned for Provincial Police. A huge crowd gathered outside the Magog jail where the two men were lodged.

According to police, the following conversation took place at the Magog jail.

"How is he?" asked Lowther.

"He's dead," was the reply.

"I'm glad."

The Provincials moved in quickly, with Cons. Maurice Lecours, Sherbrooke, taking over until the arrival of Lieut. of Detectives Rene Coupal, Sherbrooke and Lieut. of Detectives Gaston Archambault, Montreal. The Montreal officer, accompanied by Leo Surprenant, technician photographer, Identification Department, headed the investigation.

With Lieut. Coupal, came Traffic Constable J. A. Marier, Sherbrooke. Other Montreal officers involved in the case were Sgt. of Detectives Merrill Lawton, Homicide; and Constables Regent Moren and Robert Campagnon.

The two Lowthers were taken to Montreal about 6:00 a.m. Sunday. Fingerprints, taken from the gun and window will be matched against Jeffrey Lowther's.

Yesterday's autopsy was presided over by Dr. Jean-Marie Roussel, of Montreal, medico-legal expert of the Attorney-General's Department.

Swimmer Drowned In Lake Ontario Marathon Attempt

Niagara-On-The-Lake, Ont. —(AP)—Clifford Snowlton, 29-year-old tree nursery employee, drowned in Lake Ontario yesterday during an attempted marathon swim.

He disappeared from his pilot's view about 3½ miles from shore in early-morning darkness. A four-hour search was unsuccessful.

Snowlton and Johnny Laconsiere, 19, of Montreal set out from Niagara-on-the-Lake to swim the 32 miles to Toronto at 2:14 a.m.

Just before 4 a.m., Snowlton's pilot, Trelle Ledoux, stopped his boat to talk to the swimmer and to fix the course. Snowlton reported the 65-degree water was "just fine" and then swam a few feet ahead of the boat.

Ledoux said that when he looked up from the compass there was no swimmer to be seen.

"He was wearing a white bathing cap with a band of fluorescent tape around it. If he had been in the area the searchlight from the larger boat would certainly have picked him out."

The coast guard searchboats abandoned the hunt for the Orillia, Ont., swimmer at 8 a.m. About the same time his swimming companion, Lacoursiere, was pulled from the water with cramps after swimming about nine miles.

World News In Brief

Toronto — (AP)—Seventeen thousand workers in five General Motors plants in Ontario went on strike today after their union rejected a company package offering them a version of the guaranteed annual wage.

The United Automobile Workers (CIO-CCL) said the best offer in the marathon negotiations preceding the strike left GM workers far behind employees of the corporation's main Canadian competitors.

Halifax — (AP)—Civil defence planners sought today to determine the lessons learned in a far-from-successful attempt to evacuate 10,000 persons from this port city.

Residents of 50 blocks in the west and north ends displayed a lack of enthusiasm for Sunday's "Operation Fan-Out," RCMP road patrols said at one point that more cars were entering the city than leaving it.

New York — (AP)—Civil defence officials have launched a campaign to get New Yorkers to wear identification tags. The tags, made of stainless steel, cost 25 cents. They will not melt under 2,500 degrees Fahrenheit, and would be useful in identifying casualties in the event of enemy attack, CD officials said.

London — (Reuters)—Communist Chinese soldiers will have "new look" uniforms with shoulder straps, medals, badges and unit emblems, the Soviet news agency, Tass, reports from Peiping. The new uniforms will replace the plain cotton type made famous in photographs of Chinese Communists in Korea.

Nuoro, Sardinia — (AP)—Three prominent citizens of bandit-ridden central Sardinia were killed Sunday night in an ambush. Authorities, faced with the fear-imposed silence which greets all inquiries into banditry here, said they had no clues to the crime. The dead were the director of the civic market, the director of a transportation firm, and the secretary of a nearby town.

Hong Kong — (Reuters)—Three American priests emerged from two years' captivity in Communist China yesterday, raising to six the number of Americans released under the agreement reached by the Chinese and Americans in Geneva earlier this month. Four others are expected within the next few days.

Fathers Frederick D. Gordon of Somerset, Ohio, Joseph E. Hyde of Lowell, Mass., and James G. Joyce of Clinton, Mass., appeared pale but hardy. They said they had received "quite easy treatment."

A Spanish priest, Father Louis Remigo Bolumburu, arrived 16 minutes before the Americans. He had not been expected.

A Blonde Bride

Barbara Ann Marries

Toronto. — (AP)—Laughing, blue-eyed Barbara Ann Scott waved to spectators clustered outside a small stone church here Saturday—her wedding day.

The celebrated skating star soon may also wave goodbye to the career which began as a child in Ottawa and made her famous throughout the world. Inside that church at 4 p.m., she had become Mrs. Thomas King.

The blonde, 27-year-old skater once said that when a girl marries she should look after her husband and home instead of dashing about.

After a proposed year's skating tour of Canada, Barbara Ann, it is expected, will settle down to housekeeping in Chicago.

Her husband, a six-foot ex-pro basketball player, is publicity director of Chicago Stadium.

Barbara Ann, whose Anglican communion does not allow marriage of divorced persons if both parties to the divorce are living, pledged her troth in Rosedale Presbyterian Church. King is divorced and has two children, Shelley, 5, and Tom, 3.

Heeding a superstition that it bodes ill for the groom to know about his bride's gown beforehand, her widowed mother, Mrs. Clyde R. Scott, kept details of the wedding secret until the last minute.

Soviets Ask U.S. Troop Withdrawal

Moscow — (AP)—The Soviet Union is wasting no time in renewing its call for American troops to quit Europe in the wake of Russia's promise to return the Porkkala naval base to Finland.

Hard on the heels of Saturday's Russian concession to her Baltic neighbor, the Communist party newspaper Pravda commented:

"There can be no doubt that the abolition by other powers of military bases on foreign territory would be an important contribution to the further relaxation of international tension, and would help to create the necessary conditions for ending the arms drive."

In another phase of the complicated diplomatic manoeuvres

Hurricane Ione Hits North Carolina Coast

HATTERAS, N.C. —(AP)—Hurricane Ione swept inland over the North Carolina coast today and headed northward. Beaches and inland cities took a pounding from the violent winds and high tides. Rain deluged the area far head of the storm centre.

The Cherry Point marine air station recorded gusts of 107 miles an hour as the tropical storm passed almost directly over the base.

The big storm headed for Virginia and hurricane warnings were up all the way from Wilmington, N.C., to Atlantic City, N.J. The rest of the east coast all the way to Provincetown, Mass., on the tip of Cape Cod was under hurricane alert.

Torrential rains flooded streets and highways, tore out communications lines isolating many communities and the high tides and pounding waves ate at the North Carolina beaches.

Ione's peak winds near the centre were estimated this morning at 125 miles an hour. Tides up to 10 feet above normal are expected near the storm's eye, along with rains up to six inches.

"All precautions should be continued for the protection of life and property against dangerous winds and tides caused by this hurricane," the weather bureau warned.

Winds in gusts of 80 and 90 miles an hour were reported before dawn as the hurricane battered largely evacuated beach communities.

Waves and high tides clawed for the third time in six weeks at North Carolina's vacation beaches and their installations. Protective sand dunes, hastily rebuilt after Connie and Diane moved on, were swept away.

Power lines went down in some communities, communication lines went out, isolating some towns and villages, and highways and lowlands were flooded.

Vacationers and beach residents by the hundreds huddled in quickly opened shelters in schools, churches and community buildings as Ione vented her fury.

At 7 a.m. ADT the weather bureau reported the centre as 55 miles south southwest of Cape Hatteras, moving north-northwest at 15 miles an hour.

Peron Hits Back At Rebels Government Refutes Revolutionary Claims

Montevideo, Uruguay — (AP)—President Juan Peron's government, across the River Plate in Argentina, said early today that it has launched an attack on the rebel stronghold of Puerto Belgrano.

A communique asserted that "complete normality" prevails over the country except for "centres of resistance in Puerto Belgrano and Cordoba," but this claim was disputed by rebel radio announcements.

A rebel broadcast from Puerto Belgrano, big naval base 350 miles southwest of Buenos Aires, claimed that the 2nd Army Command has joined the revolt, now in its fourth day, and seized control of the Western province of Mendoza.

The broadcast claiming to come from the provincial capital, the city of Mendoza, claimed that anti-Peron forces also were in control of the neighboring provinces of San Juan and San Luis. Announcing the attack on

Puerto Belgrano, the government said "very superior army troops are converging from several directions of the nation in order to stamp out this last seditious redoubt."

It said "clean-up operations" were resumed at Cordoba at dawn.

The communique declared that "before the total collapse of the rebellion it is foreseen that there will be an increase in false news transmitted by the radio stations in the power of the insurgents and those foreign ones characterized by bad faith and coarse error . . ."

Buenos Aires went through its second consecutive night blacked out under the threat of rebel bombardment. The government took note of the insurgent threats, asserting that the capital should be considered an open city.

Rebel radio broadcasts have warned that Buenos Aires will come under naval and aerial attack unless Peron resigns. The rebels say the capital could not be considered an open city because it is defended by troops loyal to Peron.

Two deadlines set by the rebels for Peron's resignation passed Sunday without the promised attack.

Meanwhile, three big warships presumably of Argentina's ocean-going fleet, moved up the broad River Plate today. Their mission was a mystery. A rebel-controlled fleet of river warships has been standing by in the Plate, and some reports said the river vessels are awaiting the support of the heavier guns of the ocean fleet.

Both sides have claimed the loyalty of the fleet. Most of the larger ships were on manoeuvres in the Atlantic when the revolt started Friday.

One rebel broadcast said the fleet would shell Buenos Aires when the high revolutionary command made the decision. Another statement said weather conditions had prevented an attack.

Government broadcasts asserted that "there is no doubt that the seditious movement was patiently prepared with great foreign help adverse to the constituted authorities."

This is clearly evidenced by the fact that their information service is organized only from the exterior," the broadcast added, charging that information favorable to the rebels was "spread abroad" immediately, while attempts were made to "distort the official resolutions or communications."

The Argentine Struggle

It appears that Argentina is in for a long spell of trouble, regardless of the outcome of the revolt against President Juan Peron.

Roots of tension and bitterness — which produced Peron — go back more than 25 years. But the basic division among Argentines has become wider since Peron came into power 10 years ago. It has reached a climax in two bloody revolts against him in three months.

In the interval between the rebellions, the Argentine government announced three conspiracies had been uncovered, and there was tightening of tension.

Argentina has been living in a state of political abnormality since 1928 when Hipolito Yrigoyen, Liberal by Argentine standards of the day, was elected president for a second time. Old and in failing health, he was unable to cope with corruption and stagnation which developed in his government machine. Spurred by discontent, the Argentine army staged a march on Buenos Aires in 1930 and threw out Yrigoyen.

A military dictatorship followed. Then came an engineered election of an army general.

Next came a return to civilian government. But President Robert Ortiz fell ill and had to quit in June, 1942. Vice-President Ramon S. Castillo succeeded to the presidency and soon Argentina was plagued by her old sickness of graft and corruption.

That set the stage for another army blow. Castillo was forced to resign in 1943, and the military took over. It soon handed the reins to Peron, an admirer of fascism in Italy, where he had served as a military attaché.

When Peron began to introduce Fascist-like touches to Argentina, the issues were liberalism against conservatism, honest government or graft, strong-man rule by the military versus civilian rule.

Under Peron the old issues have persisted and new ones have developed. Peron's feud with the Roman Catholic Church is one of the most serious to many Argentines. The country is predominantly Roman Catholic.

His crackdown on church processions, his expulsion of churchmen and his campaign to separate church and state undoubtedly left him with weakened support in the army. The military, with the General Labor Confederation, had been his principal support.

Torture In Small Doses

A course in torture? What next? News of a U.S. Air Force training course in how to resist torture has been greeted with mixed reaction here and in the United States.

The officials behind the new training have undoubtedly been influenced by the recent shocking realization that soldiers could, by torture or even the threat of torture, be forced to commit treasonable acts against their country.

At the Stead Air Force base near Reno, some 30,000 airmen have been given the latest "torture" tests. They were herded behind barbed wire for lengthy interrogation periods and subjected to all kinds of pain and indignities. For example, they were forced to stand shoulder deep in water through hours of darkness; made to stand naked and listen to slanderous talk about their wives; and fed vile-tasting food.

Now all this may be very well. But just what does it prove? Surely no thinking man will believe that because a soldier can fittingly survive such tests in the United States, he could be fully expected to do so in Red China, for example.

For no matter how grim his U.S. "captors" may appear there is always the knowledge that he is not going to die; that he will not be left permanently marked; and that it will soon be over. A legitimate POW has no such assurances to strengthen his will.

No matter what the results, nor how high the statistics pile, there can be little real significance attached to this idea.

For it seems doubtful indeed that torture can be applied like a vaccine. There is no reason to believe that immunity will follow small doses.

Our Most Precious Possession

A week seldom goes by without at least one youngster struck by a car on the city's streets.

Now that school is open again and hundreds of little children are gaily running and skipping to school, motorists must gear their driving habits back to "school-day driving."

For children are children after all. They are prone to forget, in their exuberance, all the safety instructions drilled into them at home and at school.

This can't be prevented, for it is impossible to bottle up the eager, happy energy of the small fry. So, it is useless to complain of irresponsible youth, then savagely cut down a youngster with the excuse that it was his fault.

The onus must be on the adult. Teach the child, teach him thoroughly, in the dangers that infest the streets. But then drive as if the community's children had never heard of an automobile.

Too many motorists speed on busy streets adjoining our schools, muttering about "crazy kids." Where are they going so fast that is important enough to risk a child's life, or make him a cripple for life?

Let's all keep a sharp look out these fall days. Let's all slow down in school zones and be proud and happy that our children are so full of vim, vigor and vitality. They are our most precious possession, so let's treat them that way.

BYGONE DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO

From the Record Files of Saturday, Sept. 19, 1925. Eastern Canada crop yields this year are reported to be very good although potato production in the Eastern Townships is cut down somewhat by continued wet weather. British shipowners are considering the advisability of cancelling their sailings owing to the continued seamen's strike. Both Australian and British governments, the principal countries affected, indicate they will take action to assure the continuance of their export trade. The British Government has announced that it is willing to cede its extra-territorial privileges in China if such a move would bring about a general improvement in conditions in the Far East.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the Record Files of Thursday, Sept. 19, 1935. The Italian delegation to the League of Nations session in Geneva has been recalled to Rome where the members will join in a special session of the Italian Cabinet. The British home fleet manoeuvres have been definitely postponed as many of the major units have been transferred to strengthen the Mediterranean fleet. Draconic taxation increases have been ordered in Italy to meet the possible war costs. Sharp objections have been lodged with the City Council against the proposals to strictly enforce the store closing by-law which some merchants claim would deprive them of a substantial portion of their evening trade.

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Record Files of Wednesday, Sept. 19, 1945. Russia's sudden display of interest in the future of Italian colonies drew criticism from Paris today that the conference of Foreign Ministers had assumed the appearance of a struggle of two or three great powers for control of the Mediterranean. A verdict of accidental death through asphyxiation was returned at a coroner's inquest today investigating the deaths of 19-year-old Patricia Corbiere, of Magog, and 22-year-old Romeo Goyette, of South Stukely, who were found dead in a parked car on the Cherry River Road early this morning.

Motorists Beware

Montreal Suburbs Stiff On Speed Limits

Montreal—Motorists who speed in the Montreal suburban areas can be sure of one thing; eventually they'll find themselves in a speed trap and stopped by a policeman.

What happens then depends on traffic regulations which vary almost in accordance with the number of municipalities.

A survey of 15 municipalities showed each controls traffic within its boundary, whether speed traps are admitted or not, and each makes use of its powers regarding fines. They range from $15 to $100.

Police chiefs said they don't make a practice of cracking down on American tourists, although claims to this effect have been aired.

Chief Gerald Reilly of St. Lambert said: "A policeman is a salesman; to be any kind of success he must sell the law, not force it on anyone. But if we have to get tough to make our point we will."

He said there are stretches "known to us as speed areas and they are watched."

In Longueuil the speed limit is 20 miles an hour and most speeders are fined $20. Chief J. Brassard said tourists are handed "courtesy cards" rather than traffic tickets.

In Laprairie fines are from $20 to $50. "We give out about 20 tickets a week, mostly to Canadian cars but sometimes to American cars," said Chief Germain Provost. Town Secretary James McGee showed records listing most fines at $50.

Chief F. de Miffonis of Ville Jacques Cartier said that during the summer months "we had close to 3,000,000 passing through the town, yet we gave out only 270 tickets." Fines are $50.

Chief Frank Pitre of Lachine said his town gives out about 120 tickets a month and the minimum fine is $50. He said most speeders are stopped and told of the danger they are creating—"On the average, motorists are not completely stupid and we must teach them to use reason."

In Ste. Rose and Montreal North fines begin at $50 for speeds of more than 35 miles an hour. At Abord a Plouffe the fine is $23; at St. Martin, $40; at Terrebonne, $15.

Highest fine shown in the survey is at St. Eustache where a speed of more than 70 miles an hour brings a fine of $100. But at nearby Laval-sur-le-Lac it's $15 for the same offence. Quebec municipalities have the right to collect fines under the Quebec Motor Vehicles Act. Following complaints of abuses, Premier Duplessis last year said the right would be revoked if towns were deliberately trapping motorists in order to exact fines.

OVERCALL BAD IN TOURNAMENT PLAY

It's hard to censure South for his overcall of one heart in today's hand. Most good players would make the same bid despite the vulnerability. South was unlucky enough to run into a very bad trump break and a very good defense, so that the loss amounted to 500 points. This would not have been serious at rubber bridge, however, since East-West had a very easy game at no-trump. If South hadn't bid, the opponents would have bid and made their game, and this would have been worth very nearly 500 points.

In tournament play such slight differences are of utmost importance. The East-West game, including the trick score, was worth only 430 points. A penalty of 500 points against the contract of one heart doubled gave a top score to East-West and a bottom to North-South.

West opened the deuce of hearts, and South won with the ace. Declarer led his singleton club, hoping to get a few ruffing tricks. Unfortunately for him, the opponents saw the plot and avoided further club leads.

East won the first round of clubs with the eight and shifted to diamonds. The defenders managed to cash three rounds of diamonds and then East led the jack of spades. South covered with the queen, and West won with the ace and returned the suit. South took the king of spades and got out with a spade to East's ten.

East now led his last diamond, and South ruffed with the five of hearts. West overruffed with the seven of hearts and led his remaining club. South ruffed with the three of hearts and wisely returned a low trump.

West had to step up with the nine of hearts to win the trick and then had to return a trump from the 10-4 up to declarer's J-8. South thus won the last two tricks and held the loss to 500 points. South deserved credit for playing the hand well, but his score for the hand was very round and very small!

CARD SENSE

Q—With neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been: North East South West 1 Heart 2 Clubs ? You, South, hold: Spades 9-7-5, Hearts J-4, Diamonds 8-6-3, Clubs K-Q-9-6-2. What do you do?

A—Pass. Don't double an overcall when your hand is worthless for any other contract. Somebody usually runs out of the double, and at best you have succeeded only in warning the enemy of their danger.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Waterloo Police Chief Addresses Kiwanis Club On Safety Measures

Waterloo — "The main job of a policeman is prevention of accidents," stated Mr. Jean Jacques Ranger, chief of police of Waterloo, before the weekly Kiwanis meeting.

"We do our best, but we need the help of everyone," he stated. "There has been a marked improvement in Waterloo, but there is still much more to be done. We must educate the children in proper traffic regulations, because the children will do as they see the adults do."

Mr. Ranger, who was introduced by Kiwanian Roger McKergow gave a very forceful and enlightening address on "Safety," and showing how Kiwanians might lend assistance to the police force. "Safety is one of our biggest problems" the speaker stated.

"We see where the drivers of the cars are more responsible than anyone else. The reasons, chiefly, are two fold — poor temperament, which is always a potential hazard and, of course, alcoholic beverages."

"We can start educating the children who ride bicycles in Waterloo," the speaker continued, "and we now have about 450 boys and girls who use them. Here the Kiwanis Club has offered us their help which is badly needed, and the first step will be reflectors for each bike supplied by your club, and secondly will be the educating and explaining of traffic regulations."

As a final piece of advice, the chief of Police said, "Never touch a person who has been in an accident — leave him alone until the ambulance driver arrives, because chances are you will injure him more by moving him than by leaving him alone."

The members asked Mr. Ranger several pointed questions concerning traffic and safety in Waterloo, which he answered with enthusiasm and the Kiwanian Orval Lewis thanked the speaker.

A report was given on the school fair and garden contest held for the children of the High school. Kiwanian Pete Hulet was presented with his second year of perfect attendance tab by Charter President Pete Gunter.

It was decided to hold no chicken shoot this fall, and plans were made for a special program on National Kid's Day, September 24th. The committee in charge will be Kiwanians Les Hopperton, Wally Jenks, Joe Ryzdik, Gene Sheppard and Jim Cody.

Three delegates were named to attend the O.Q.M. convention in London, Ont., in October, Kiwanians Al Grainger, president, Armand Russell, vice-president, and Les Hopperton.

Velveteen Proves Favourite Fabric

By ALICIA HART
Velveteen is in the category of lush fabrics. Most women have something in velveteen in their wardrobes to help them feel different and dressed-up.

It may be matador pants for entertaining at home, or it may be a sweeping evening skirt or a rhinestone-studded afternoon dress.

Velveteen has a fashion bonus in that it's washable. It's a bit more troublesome than a white shirt, but still easy to care for, considering its great dressiness.

The first step in washing velveteen is scrubbing and rinsing the tub or basin thoroughly. Velveteen, like any pile fabric, picks up lint with ease. It should be washed wrong side out for the same reason. This is most important in the case of black or dark color velveteen.

Then swish up some warm soapsuds and knead the suds gently through the garment, being careful to avoid wringing and twisting. Dip-rinse the garment, turn it right side out and hang it to drip. Put jackets, blouses and dresses on shaped hangers. Skirts or pants go on skirt hangers.

To fluff up the pile when the garment is dry, steam the velveteen over a tub of hot water or hold a steam iron just above the surface. Then press it on a well padded board, wrong side to and with a warm iron. When it's thoroughly dry, brush the surface

The Mature Parent Complaining Demands Can Destroy Your Children

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Many children live with endless variations on themes like these: "I've got such a headache I can't see. . . I suppose I'll have to fix that shelf myself. . . What chance have I got to see a dentist? . . . Don't tell me you've torn that shirt I just mended. . . My feet are killing me. . . I'm so tired I could die. . ."

These are complaints. In each of them, the complainer has put a hidden message. His message demand, "Get me over this headache. Fix my shelf. Take me to the dentist. Buy yourself a new shirt. Provide me with new feet. Perform my work for me."

These hidden demands can destroy children. For they cannot grant them. Five-year-old Joe cannot take his father to the dentist. 10-year-old Anna cannot provide her mother with new feet. Neither can undertake to arrange a vacation for her—or solve any of their parents' other problems. The idea that they can is absurd.

The tragedy is, neither Joe nor Anna know it's absurd. For the demands are hidden and indirect, not specific and open to expose their absurdity. So what Joe and Anna conclude is that their complaining parent wants something from them—and is disappointed in them for their failure to provide it.

The result is the 20th century's ruthless and pervasive sense of guilt. For complainers abound. And we see daily the effects of association with them in anxious, apprehensive people, harassed with fear or accusation they have never identified, with shame of failure that never occurred.

Let's beware of complaint's hidden demands on children. If we must demand of them, let's demand openly.

The anatomy of the complainer is very simple. He just does not know what he wants. He imagines he does. But what he's really asking is, "Make me know myself loved. Make me know myself valuable. Give me the peace of self-acceptance in place of this restless, resentful discontent."

Autumn flowers enhanced the rooms, the table in the dining-room being arranged with vases of white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Howard was the recipient of a green orchid corsage, and following the dinner, the presentation of a copper chafing dish, to Mr. and Mrs. Howard, was made by Mr. Welsh, on behalf of those present.

Yankees Have Cleveland Indians Floored, Move In For Kill On Stretch

Present Edition Of New Yorkers Resemble "Bronx Bombers" of Old; Two Up; "Five" Is Lucky Number.

The New York Yankees have the Cleveland Indians on the floor and, like the Bronx Bombers of old, they are moving in for the kill. Just a week ago the Yanks' chances for their sixth pennant in seven years under the guidance of Casey Stengel looked slim. They trailed the Indians by 1 1/2 games and apparently had the worst of the schedule.

Today they are roaring along two games in front—three on the all important losing side—and the schedule favors them with the Tribe in the most disastrous tailspin of the year. The Yanks have seven to play to only five for Cleveland. Both teams finish on the road.

The Yankees moved two games out in front Sunday as they thumped the Red Sox 3-2 for their fifth straight victory, including three over Boston. The Indians continued their slide downward as they bowed to Detroit Tigers 10-3, for the third game. The setback was the Indians' fourth straight.

Now the Yankees need only a combination of five victories or Cleveland defeats to meet Brooklyn Dodgers of the National League in the world series scheduled to start Sept. 28.

Chicago White Sox all but slid out of the picture, losing 8-1 to sixth-place Kansas City. Any combination of two Yankee victories or Chicago defeats would put out the Sox.

Here's how the pennant race looks:

New York	91	56	.619	-	7
Cleveland	90	59	.604	2	5
Chicago	87	62	.584	5	5

Bob Grim was the big man in the Yanks' triumph over the Red Sox as Stengel continued to get top-flight pitching. Grim, a 20-game winner as a freshman last year but plagued with a sore arm most of this season, replaced first baller Bob Turley in the third with the score tied 2-2, two runners on base and nobody out.

He promptly shut the door in the faces of the Red Sox, pitching hitless ball the remainder of the way. Only two got on base, Billy Klaus via Billy Martin's error and Ted Williams, who walked.

The Yanks gave Turley a two-run lead off Willard Nixon in the first but Jackie Jensen tied it up with a two-run homer in the third before Grim came in. The winning run, scored off Nixon, came in the fifth. Two singles and a walk loaded the bases. As Ted Lepcio tossed out Gil McDougald, Gerry Coleman raced home with what proved to be the deciding run. The defeat of the Indians was ironic in that it came at the hands of 20-year-old Bob Miller, beaten by the Yanks last week. At that time there was considerable comment because Detroit manager Bucky Harris used an untested youngster in a game involving the pennant.

Miller lived up to Harris' expectations as he hurled six-hit ball before he tired after seven innings and was relieved by Dick Marlowe. By that time the Tigers led 9-2, chiefly because of a six-run sixth inning at the expense of Mike Garcia and Ray Narleski.

Gus Zernial's bases-loaded home run off Chicago's Dick Donovan spiked the White Sox early in the game and they never were able to do anything with the offerings of Art Ditmar.

In the only other American League game, Baltimore Orioles pulled out of the cellar into a seventh place tie with the Senators as they beat Washington 9-0 behind Jim Wilson.

Milwaukee Braves clinched second place in the National League with an 11-inning, 2-1 victory over St. Louis Cardinals. New York Giants dropped a 7-5 decision to the Dodgers while Philadelphia Phillies split with Pittsburgh Pirates, losing the first 5-2 and winning the nightcap 2-1. That left the Giants a game in front of the Phils in the battle for third place.

Cincinnati Redlegs tallied seven times in the fifth to down Chicago Cubs 12-5.

Rochester Red Wings Edge Leafs 11-10 In 11 Innings To Romp Off With International League Title

Rochester—(P)—The Rochester Red Wings, having blasted Toronto out of the Governors' Cup series four games to none with one of the highest scoring offenses in International League play-off history, will rest their heavy artillery until the opening of the little World Series here Wednesday night.

The Wings polished off Toronto 11-10 in 11 innings Sunday just a few hours before the Minneapolis Millers eliminated Omaha in the American Association playoff, also by a 4-0 sweep. The Millers, pennant winners in the Association, can't afford to be over-confident about playing a fourth-place finisher. The Wings will field a team which warmed up by taking four out of five from the pennant winning Montreal Royals and then went on to score 40 runs against the best pitching staff in the league. Only in the third game, a 3-2 affair, did Toronto hold the Wings under double figures. Rochester also slammed out 16 extra base blows, half of them home runs.

All four of the Wings extras were Sunday were four-baggers, but it was Vern Benson's 11th inning single, scoring Jackie Bandt, that won the best season since the Service Clubs for their fine help as well as the City of Sherbrooke. He asked Alderman Tony Pinard to convey the league's thanks to Mayor Armand Nadeau, who was unable to attend due to a previous engagement, and the City Council. The City put two parks, Sangster Park and the Parade Grounds, at the disposal of the P.O.N.Y. and Little League and it was mainly due to this that extra teams could operate. In all one hundred and twenty-five boys had an opportunity of playing. This was double the amount of previous years.

The Service Clubs who sponsored teams in the Little League were the Rotary Club, Optimist Clubs of Sherbrooke and Lennoxville and St. Pat's Old Boys. In the P.O.N.Y. circuit Kiwanis, Lions, Lennoxville Optimist and Rosenblooms sponsored the squads in the four-team circuit. Mr. Anderson thanked them all for their wonderful support and trusted that they would be in a position to do the same next season.

President Anderson thanked the managers, coaches and umpires for their work in making the two leagues such a wonderful success. The Red Sox under Al Savage won the Little League while Kiwanis copped the

McDonald Named Moncton Manager
Moncton—(P)—Jim McDonald, one of the top hockey managers in the Maritimes, was re-appointed manager of the Moncton Hawks for the 1955-56 season, it was announced Sunday.

John T. Carvell, Moncton lawyer, was elected president of the Hub City Hockey Club, Limited, at Saturday's citizens group meeting. Other officers are George Schurman, vice-president; George I. Day, secretary, and Geoff Bowman, treasurer.

Mr. Day announced Sunday night that $5,700 of the $8,000 objective had been reached and he hoped the full amount will be raised before the week is over.

Peters To Coach Windsor Bulldogs
Windsor, Ont. — (P)—Jimmy Peters, 32-year-old former National Hockey League player, has signed a one-year contract as player-coach of Windsor Bulldogs of the Ontario Hockey Association senior A circuit.

Peters, who joined the Bulldogs last season as a right winger will replace Murph Chamberlain who is retiring after two years with the team.

The signing of Peters was announced by Bill Butcher, president of the club. Last year, Peters scored 27 goals and 29 assists in the 46 games he played.

Game. Toronto took a 6-0 lead in the first inning, but the Wings cut into the margin on homers by Brandt, Ebba St. Claire, Allie Clark and Jay van Noy. Archie Wilson of the Leafs made it 9-4 with a three-run clout and the Leafs led until the seventh when Rochester rallied for four to knot the game.

Rochester threw five pitchers into the battle, the victory going to Tony Jacobs. Absent from the Wing's parade of pitchers were Duke Markell and Cot Deal, winners of three apiece in the play-offs. It's a sure bet that they'll hurl the first two contests against the Millers.

The Service Clubs made individual presentations to the players on the teams. Denis Kirby presented Al Savage and the coaches of the Red Sox with gifts while Solo Parker, St. Pat's Old Boys, presented Charlie Clark and Bill McGregor with special gifts. George Garard, Sherbrooke Optimist Club, also made a presentation to their team.

Gerry Desjarjins presented Jim Finlay with the Webster trophy for finishing as the top hitter of the Lennoxville Club while Ken Marshall made the presentation of the L.O.O.F. trophy for the Most Valuable Player award to John McLeod.

Judge Samson was the next speaker and in a few very well chosen words he thanked the league executive and all the sponsors for the very fine work they were doing in helping to fight juvenile delinquency. It was an effort which the league could well be very proud of and it was a big factor in helping to build good citizens for the future.

Immediately following the banquet a social evening was held at which the executive and the league guests attended. A total of 285 attended the closing dinner.

You've really been missing something if you haven't tried new, slow-brewed beer! Slow-brewing — the result of years of research and experimentation—brings you a beer with firmer collar, superior aroma and mellower flavour... and you can prove it for yourself!

Pour yourself a glass of the new Brading's — the only slow-brewed beer — and a glass of any other beer.

Before you taste either, look at the collar on the new Brading's. Firmer, isn't it? It's the first sign of quality! Next — smell Brading's, then the other brand. You'll recognize Brading's superior aroma!

Finally — and most important — taste Brading's then the other beer. Notice Brading's mellower flavour!

This test will prove to you that Brading's has a firmer collar, superior aroma, mellower flavour — the result of slow-brewing. The secret of slow-brewing is in the brew-kettle — and only Brading's has it!

Don't miss out on this wonderful new beer-drinking experience any longer! Ask your grocer of your favorite waiter for new, slow-brewed Brading's today!

P.S.—If you like rice beer, Brading's Cincinnati Cream Lager offers the same superior collar, aroma, and flavour as Brading's Ale. "Cinci" is slow-brewed, too!

Pat Abbruzzi Paces Alouettes To 38-20 Victory Over Tiger-Cats

Former Rhode Island State Back Displays Too Much Power As He Steam-Rolls Four Touchdowns

Pat Abbruzzi was just a name among the 150-odd American imports who came to Canada this fall looking for a job. Now he's just about the hottest piece of gridiron material in the country and the particular pride and joy of Montreal Alouette fans.

The Big Four Union Als didn't have a backfielder of the hard-driving type of Alex Webster who returned to the National Football League after a 16-touchdown season in 1954. Abbruzzi fixed that—fast.

Saturday, the Rhode Island State import steam-rolled through the Hamilton Tiger-Cat line and ended the afternoon with four touchdowns as the Als humbled Ticats 38-20.

The victory broke a deadlock for first place between the Als and Ticats. Meanwhile, at Toronto, the supposedly-weak Ottawa Rough Riders trampled Argonauts 27-12 to move into a second-place tie with Tiger-Cats and leave the high-priced Toronto club in last position with only one victory in four starts.

Meanwhile, two teams boasting victory strings clash in Western Interprovincial Football Union action tonight.

Edmonton Eskimos, seeking their 13th straight, and Winnipeg Blue Bombers, fighting for their third in a row after suffering five consecutive defeats, meet at Clarke Stadium in Edmonton.

In the other game in the five-team league British Columbia Lions battle the Stampeders at Calgary.

In games Saturday Eskimos invaded Regina and trounced Saskatchewan Roughriders 26-9 while at Vancouver the Blue Bombers edged the Lions 20-19.

Abbruzzi's performance wasn't too surprising. It proved he could pick — or make — the holes in any line in the league. A week ago he smashed over for three touchdowns against Argonauts and the week before cracked Rough Riders' line for two.

The 23-year-old 205-pound American had lots of help from the mighty Als before a record crowd of 22,940. He scored his first touchdown in the second quarter, also on a line smash.

Quarter Sam Etcheverry passed to Joey Pal for another touchdown, also in the second quarter, and Hal Patterson took another pass from Etcheverry to score Montreal's sixth touchdown in the fourth. In the third the Als added a safety touch. Bud Korchak kicked the six converts.

Tiger-Cats shocked the big crowd by taking a 13-0 lead early in the second quarter but the

Gil Mains Returns To Detroit Lions

Detroit. — Tackle Gil Mains, who fled a $13,000 no-quit contract with Toronto Argonauts Saturday, is expected to don a Detroit Lions football suit Tuesday.

Mains sat on the bench Sunday as the Lions defeated New York Giants 27-17 in a pre-schedule National Football League exhibition game.

"I'm glad to be back," said Mains who is expected to get a little over the $7,000 he drew last year for this season's service with the Lions. "I had enough of it up there. They don't play my kind of football. Practically all of the other fellows who went up there from the states felt the same way."

Three Rivers Buy Two Players From Victoria Cougars

Victoria. — Victoria Cougars announced Sunday the sale of wingers Alex Kuzma and Dave Wall to the new Three Rivers entry in the Quebec Hockey League, but Kuzma promptly balked at the deal.

He wired Three Rivers manager Fred Hutchinson he did not wish to report to the club and wanted to stay in the Western Hockey League.

Hutchinson said Kuzma would be given the privilege of making a deal for himself, but if he couldn't sign with a club he would be suspended for failing to report to Three Rivers.

Burlington, Vt. — Quebec Braves have won the Martineau Cup, emblematic of Provincial League playoff supremacy, after winning two weekend games from Burlington Athletics by scores of 4-3 and 10-5.

Quebec, who ended up the regular season play in second place behind St. Johns Canadiens, took the best-of-seven final series 4-1. In the semi-finals, Quebec eliminated Three Rivers and Burlington clipped St. Johns.

In Saturday's contest, Quebec brought in two runs in the ninth inning and held the Athletics to a single for the tight victory. Al Zebrowski, who was relieved late in the ninth by Roger Clapp, pitched eight-hit ball for the win. Bob Quinn gave up seven hits on the Burlington mound for the loss.

Sunday, Jack Brown accounted for six runs batted in to pace the Braves to the deciding triumph. He clouted out a bases-loaded homer in the fourth inning and added a triple with two men on in the fifth.

The visitors had a 17-12 hitting margin. Wendell Doss did the honors for Quebec. Three hurlers took to the mound for the losers, with starter Jack Hale being tagged with the loss.

"Want some help with your homework, Dad?"

It's a good thing young Ted is only joking. If his Dad took him up on that offer, Ted would soon find himself floundering in a sea of facts about family income management, succession duties, taxes, wills, trusts, business insurance and other related subjects! You see, Ted's father is a typical life underwriter — a man who has not only been trained for his job, but keeps up-to-date by constant study. For the uses of life insurance are more extensive today than they used to be. And the men who represent companies in this business now advise you with increased skill. Doing this calls for more than study. It takes real understanding of people's needs. And since each family's needs are different, the company representative offers valuable guidance in making plans to fit these needs — individually. All in all, the life insurance man you deal with today is a very good man to know. And his progress is another reflection of the many ways in which the life insurance business has developed with the times to meet your changing needs!

Kitimat grows

Already Alcan's big new West Coast smelter goes ahead with TWO major increases to meet the rapid growth in demand for Canadian aluminum

The broken lines on the photograph roughly indicate the additional area to be occupied by new smelters and other buildings. Beyond the present plant (the aluminum structure in the middle ground) can be seen the harbor and docks of Kitimat.

In August, 1954, only 3½ years after ground was broken, the Kitimat smelter commenced production of aluminum with an annual capacity of 91,500 tons. Almost immediately a 60,000-ton extension was started. And in the spring of 1955 the decision was made to proceed with a flexible program to add a further 180,000 tons to ingot capacity.

... A progressive increase to 331,500 tons, more than three times the size of the original installation, and well on the way to our ultimate Kitimat goal of 550,000 tons a year.

"This continuing expansion of Kitimat in successive stages", stated Aluminium Limited president Nathanael V. Davis, "should, we believe, help to keep pace with the growing free world demand for aluminum and particularly the demand in our major export markets, the United Kingdom and the United States."

The new facilities will go into production step by step, with the first unit starting up in the fall of 1956. It is expected that the present building program will be completed in 1959.
