WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, MARCH 27th, 1936

PRICE: TWO CENTS

Mrs. John Scott And R. S. White Feted Wednesday

Mrs. White also Honoured by Westmount Conservative Association — Purse, Floral Tributes and Pipes Presented — Witty Address by Staunch Tory Supporter — Fine Address by Mr. White.

Mrs. John Scott, Tory stalwart and staunch supporter of the suffragette movement; Mrs. White and Robert Smeaton White, were guests Wednesday at Victoria Hall at a reception tendered in their honour by The Westmount Conservative Association, with representatives of the neighbouring Conservative Associations present to present felicitations and expressions of continued good health to Mrs. Scott on attaining her eighty-first birthday and "Bob" White on the occasion of his eightieth birthday.

Tribute

Under the joint chairmanship of Mrs. George Cornell and George Campbell, K.C., the meeting was called to order and close to five hundred close friends of the honorees were present. Mr. Campbell outlined the careers of Mrs. Scott, who was eighty-one on the twenty-first of this month, and Mr. White, who attained the four-score mark on March 15th. Stressing first their great public service during their long lives, secondly their distinguished service to the Conservative party, and thirdly their keen and constant service and interest in the city of Westmount, the speaker pointed with pride to the fact that their achievements were the direct result of a strength of body, mind, heart and of character, which achieved success in their relative spheres through the medium of their strong personalities.

Paying tribute to Mrs. White as the inspiration for the unusual success in various phases of commercial and political life attained by "R. S.", Mr. Campbell made his remarks to the point and delivered an address that will be remembered long in the annals of the City of Westmount. Presentations were made to Mrs. John Scott, a purse and a bouquet of roses; to Mrs. White, a floral bouquet, and to Mr. White, a set of pipes. Mrs. George Cornell made the presentation of the purse to Mrs. Scott, while Mrs. Weldon tendered the floral offering. Mrs. Henry Joseph presented the bouquet to Mrs. White, while Alderman Panet Raymond, of Westmount, made the presentation to Mr. White.

Replies

In replying to the presentation, Mrs. Scott delivered a witty address, not missing the opportunity to capitalize on the equality her sex has received by being feted on the same platform with Mr. White. "I was born a conservative," stated Mrs. Scott, "I married one, and I raised a Conservative family, and when over sixty years of age made my first political speech." The indifference of the populace won or lost elections, in the opinion of Mrs. Scott, not politicians, and in closing she offered a number of recipes to "The Grand Old Man" in the hope that he might attain her age — which, of course, is an aim. In Recognition and Admiration of Robert Smeaton White

The following poem, composed by a Westmount resident, and written in recognition and admiration of R. S. White, M.P., was read at the recent dinner tendered "The Grand Old Man," by Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett.

We meet tonight to greet an honored brother,
And freely say 'with pride to one another,
Here is a comradé staunch and true,
A pattern set for me and you.
Full four score years have crowned his head with glory,
And in his kindly face, one reads the story
Of victories won, and days well spent,
As sinks life's sun in sweet content.
His blameless life has e'er been true to duty,
No record mean or small has marred its beauty;
Each circle made with compass rare,
And every action on the square.
For fifty years his life has been a sample
Of how to live and set a good example;
The key-stone, all can plainly see,
Is set in truth and honesty.

So now we toast him high in generous measure,
Wishing him health and happiness and pleasure;
And shout aloud to one and all,
GOD BLESS THE MAN FROM MONTREAL.

GHANDI IS ONLY MAHATMA, SAYS MURRAY BROOKS

Secretary of Student Christian Movement Addressed Young People's Group Wednesday.

Discussing the situation in India, Murray Brooks, Churchill avenue resident and secretary of the Student Christian Movement of McGill University, addressed the Young People's Society of Erskine and American Church at their regular weekly supper meeting Wednesday night.

Speaking of Mahatma Gandhi, Mr. Brooks stated that the leader's great influence over the millions was due to his personal characteristics, particularly his magnanimity of spirit. Mr. Brooks said he believed Gandhi was a saint, and that in future historians would look back upon him in that light.

The term "mahatma," said Mr. Brooks, is a word meaning "great soul," and M. K. Gandhi is the only person in the world upon whom it had been bestowed, and it is indicative of the great esteem in which the honoree one is held in India.

Mr. Brooks, who has spent a number of years in the Indian Empire, stated that no matter how weak and frail in body Gandhi might be, in spirit he was strong and active. He is the protagonist of the people and their leader in their battle for liberty and independence.

Mr. Brooks recalled that Gandhi's fast unto death was an effort to bring the "untouchables" and higher castes closer together, to allow the former into the temples and to obtain for them a more equal standing in their own land.

Mr. Brooks outlined the personal history of the mahatma, his studies in England, as well as the effects of his participation in the Zulu rebellion and the Boer War. Murray R. Chipman, president, was in the chair.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE MADE GIFT

Mrs. John Scott, veteran Feminist and staunch Tory supporter, received a bouquet of flowers Saturday from the Canadian Alliance for Women's Vote in Quebec.

The Alliance expressed its profound gratitude for the work done by Mrs. Scott in the great cause of women's rights, and for the worthy manner in which, through her long life, she has borne the flag of womanhood aloft.

"RIVER, STAY 'WAY FROM MY DOOR!"

No time to play possum when you're a flood refugee. Marooned on a bit of high ground, watching the swollen, ice-strewn river that drove him from his home, this disconsolate opossum is a reminder that wild life, too, suffers when streams go on a rampage. This snapshot was taken on the shore of the Olentany river, near Columbus, O., sent beyond its banks like hundreds of other streams throughout the country by the sudden thaw.

Local Resident Takes Issue With Aldermen

Pertinent Letter on Financial Situation Facing Montreal And Its Bearing on Westmount Received—Water Tax Case Cited—Houde's "Ban" on Newspapers—Letter in Detail.

The following letter has been received from Mr. Frank Watson, and proves to be of no mean interest in view of the financial situation facing the City of Montreal, the proposed measures by which the City Fathers hope to bolster up the sadly depleted treasury, and the bearing of the present crisis on the citizens of Westmount.

The recent raising of our water tax to approximately double its normal rate in order to raise additional funds for the Montreal City Hall to carry on with, and the counter-action of our own city in lowering assessment values to nullify this move brings "home" to Westmount citizens in a most realistic manner the seriousness of the situation which confronts Canada's Metropolitan City, and which will have additional repercussions to Westmount.

Following is Mr. Watson's letter:—

March 23rd, 1936
The Editor,
Westmount "Examiner".

Sir:—The Apostle Paul, charged with fomenting "an uproar" in Jerusalem, claimed he was a "citizen of no mean city." Had he been a resident or native of Montreal he would probably have felt he had no such claim and while Montreal itself is certainly no mean city, its Municipal Government leaves much to be desired.

According to Press reports, the proceedings at the City Hall lately favors more of a beer garden, a cat and dog fight, a cocking main or what have you, than of a dignified efficient Council elected to serve the public interest and not their own selfish and questionable ends.

The passages at arms between the Mayor and a certain Alderman each wasting the peoples' time and money in casting aspersions on the physiognomy of the other, and other barroom exchanges are making a Dominion-wide laughing-stock of the Council and unfortunately of the City itself. This may be amusing to outsiders but is most humiliating to the residents and taxpayers.

Montreal has a debt rapidly approaching three hundred million dollars, equal to the National debt of not so many years ago.

This debt is the result of past and present extravagance, waste and perhaps worse. Notwithstanding heavily increased taxation last year and a proposed heavier burden this year certain Aldermen are now strongly advocating further borrowing and are asking the Quebec Legislature for a considerable share of the Provincial revenue to, as Alderman Biggar aptly puts it, fatten up the pork barrel.

Not only did Montreal tax its own citizens almost to the limit and probably in some cases beyond, but the Mayor and majority of the Council tore up a water tax agreement which the City of Westmount which we thought was an independent Corporation, and in addition confiscated the property of its residents through an

During the year, the health program was emphasized, with special attention to correct diets, and a campaign for the improvement of school buildings and grounds was carried on with the Protestant Board of Education, with excellent results. Juniors raised $7,161 through various activities and financed hospital treatment for 501 children. International friendliness was emphasized and Quebec Juniors exchanged 123 portfolios with children in 23 countries. At the close of 1934, it was pointed out, the world membership of the Junior Red Cross totalled more than 15,000,000, in 51 countries.

There seems to be far too much secrecy on the part of the Executive Committee and some of the Aldermen and an indisposition to let the taxpayers know through the public press just what is going on, in fact Mayor Houde at a recent Overseas Association dinner said:

"Now if you want to help me stop reading the newspapers for a week. That will show them they do not represent the people" and Ald. Biggar was censured for expressing an honest opinion on the "Pork Barrel". At this same dinner the Mayor seemed to sympathize with certain parties on the dole for stealing electricity. Sanctions Problem Was Lecture Topic Of Rabbi H. Stern

Prominent Speaker Addressed Westmount Rotarians at Regular Weekly Luncheon Meeting Wednesday—Need for Positive Action Stressed—Outlets for Population, Economic Equality and Disarmament Advocated.

Taking as his subject the "Problem of Sanctions" Rabbi Harry J. Stern of Temple Emmanuel addressed the Westmount Rotary Club at their regular weekly luncheon meeting in Victoria Hall Wednesday.

Citing an Ottawa dispatch from the New York Times, Rabbi Stern pointed out that a cheese, sent from Italy to Toronto, from friend to friend, and that the gift was held up by Sanctions and that there seemed little doubt but that the cheese would be confiscated. Thus friendship fell before the rule of Sanctions.

Sanctions

Entering more seriously into his subject the speaker pointed out that, of the three possible sanction moves, that of economic sanctions seemed the only one that would be possible if the matter was viewed morally or religiously. Military sanctions of course were impossible, and the outlawing of a nation from the League of Nations was no punishment until it were possible to make the position of a member of the league an enviable one. While there is no privilege in belonging to the league there is no penalty in outlawing any nation from it.

Ethically the sword cannot be lifted to impose sanctions, for when society gives sanctions to the acts of war then there is no hope left. Economic sanctions of course penalize the "innocent bystanders" of the country, the women and children.

The negative nature of sanctions of this kind was scored by the speaker who urged that some action be taken to put positive sanctions into effect. The making of equitable provision for the increase in population of every country throughout the world was the first point. Italy with 40,000,000 of a population is in dire need of colonies, the population of Japan increases by 1,000,000 every year. These countries must have some outlet. Birth control is one plan put forward but this takes time and education and the crisis is here now.

Any further details will be explained at the Library.

Mrs. John Scott Made Presentation Recently

At the daffodil tea held recently by the Fairmount W.C.T.U. Mrs. John Scott made the presentation of a gold pin, the badge of life membership of the Union, to Mrs. Arthur Reeve. Mrs. Scott told of the early days of the cause, and of the many interesting phases of temperance work.

The Chapter also celebrated the birthdays of two of its members, Mrs. John Scott, who attained her eighty-first birthday, and Mrs. William Rillance. Little Miss Dorothy Freeman recited, Mrs. John Barker played the piano, and Mrs. J. McLaughlan sang. Mrs. J. C. Moore was in the chair.

Disarmament too was stressed as a positive type of sanction that would be of great benefit. Not the hypocritical disarmament plans of a few years ago, but true, sincere disarmament. History shows that when a nation arms, war follows. Mussolini recently stated: "We are facing a world slaughter."

"There is hope," concluded Rabbi Stern, "in these positive sanctions." "We cannot help but have war until the day that the League of Nations decides to live by these positive sanctions. It isn't too late. Altruism is needed. The nations need to rise above their selfishness and then — truly — the swords will be beaten into ploughshares and the spears into pruning hooks. We must remember that whatever the nation or color, we are the children of one God."

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Percy Jarman and thanked by Rotarian Leslie Perry. Some pertinent points were brought up by J. Aird Nesbitt, on the subject, at the close of the Rabbi's address.

President Henry F. Kirz was in the chair.

R. S. White, M.P.

R. S. White, Member of Parliament for this constituency in the House of Commons, was tendered a banquet Wednesday in Victoria Hall by the Westmount Conservative Association in celebration of his eightieth anniversary. Mr. White first made the acquaintance of the House of Commons fifty-four years ago, as a reporter in the press gallery, and in 1888, six years later, he succeeded his father as member for Cardwell, Ontario. He is the only member of the present house who sat under Sir John A. Macdonald. Local residents of all political colours will join us in wishing for Mr. White many more years of service to his fellow men.

The C.N.R. Report

A pleasing note of no insignificant magnitude was struck this week in the House of Commons when Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Railways and Canals, tabled the annual report of the Canadian National Railways for the past year. At a time when the national air is resounding with cries of "Scrap the C.N.R.!" "Amalgamate our Railways!" and "Down with Government ownership!" it is highly gratifying to note the steady improvement in revenues, the consistent increase in traffic and the effectual savings in operating expenses which the annual report shows. A net operating revenue of $14,258,253 was realized, after payment of all operating expenses had been provided for. This represents an increase over the previous year of roughly one and a half millions of dollars. Refunding of maturing and callable issues at lower interest rates resulted in a saving of $1,599,282.

Many other savings were effected. While the report for 1935 shows what can be done by rigid economy and careful planning, the financial position of our government-owned steel highway is still far from satisfactory, and the dominant need continues to be one of extreme care and painstaking administration.

Veterans and War

War veterans at Stratford, Ont., evidently want to see Britain in a prepared position if war should involve her again. They recently adopted a suggestion that Britain acquire large wheat stocks from Canada, to be stored in the Old Land. It was felt that it would be better for Britain to get these food supplies in now than run the risk of an enemy keeping her from getting them in later.

The action of these Canadian veterans suggests a spirit that the World War did not destroy. Would this be the spirit of Canadian manhood generally in the event of another war coming along involving the British people? Would men of this country in large numbers again flock to the colors? Many letters have been written by war veterans on affairs of war and peace since the World War. Some of these have indicated that their authors would not hesitate to serve King and country again. Others have expressed strong anti-war views. Some have said, in effect, with one of "The Jolly Beggars" in Burns, "Yet let my country need me, with Elliot to head me, And I'd clatter on my stumps at the sound of a drum."

Others have declared in effect that it would require ball and chain to take them off to war again. The possibility of Britain again becoming involved in war suggests that Canadians should give plenty of consideration to their country's position, its future, and responsibilities involved in its set-up.

"There is the utmost co-operation between wild creatures," says an official of the London zoo. We've noticed that, too. The stork and the wolf usually work in the same neighborhood.

Wonder if the Ottawa House of Commons and Ontario legislature ever thought of providing Mr. Speaker with a gong such as Major Bowes uses.

possibility, as the older he gets, so does she.

"I have long owned a debt of gratitude to the citizens of Westmount, and especially to the Conservative supporters who have stood by me on four occasions," stated Mr. White in his words of thanks. "I am a conservative by birth, by associations, and by conviction, and see the present time as one in which to keep a level head, to guard against subversive elements in our national life." Conservatism, the speaker pointed out, was not static, but progressive in an orderly manner. Interspersing his remarks with interesting and humorous anecdotes, Mr. White concluded his remarks, expressing thanks on behalf of himself and his wife, and paying a stirring tribute to the good lady whom he had married nearly fifty years ago.

Denton Massey, member for Greenwood, Toronto, paid tribute to Mrs. Scott and Mr. White in a few well chosen words.

Among those present were: Mrs. George Cornell, George Campbell, K.C., Duncan Anderson, Denton Massey, Hugh Scott, Payton Sherman, Mde. D. Laviolette, Mrs. Henry Joseph, W. J. C. Sutton, John Hand, W. Allen Walsh, Edmund Greenwood, A. McA. Murphy, Mrs. Charles A. Smart, Ald. Weldon of Montreal, Ald. Janet Raymond of Westmount, Col. G. Starke, John Hackett, R. A. Nixon, George Lyman, C. ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH NOTES

Rev. Dr. F. W. Kerr has returned home from a visit to Chicago and Winnipeg, where he delivered addresses in both cities. He will be in his own pulpit on Sunday, and will address both services.

At the morning service Sunday, Dr. Kerr will take as his subject: "Armageddon and the Millennium," being one of a series he is conducting on the Book of Revelations.

At the evening service Sunday, Dr. Kerr will speak on "The Mystery Religions," referring to the religions which held sway at the time of Christ. These were called "mystery religions" because of the strange mystic rites which, with dramatic and strange symbolism, constituted the main tenets of their faith. Trace of this influence can still be seen, for instance, in the writings of the Apostle Paul.

Local Resident Takes Issue With Alderman

(Continued from Page 1) Alderman Biggar who with four or five others out of the thirty-six are honestly working in the true interests of the City and of the taxpayers was accused the other day of aiming at the Mayorship or leading toward the establishment of a Commission to straighten the City's affairs and finances out and keep them straight. This last is about the only thing that will save Canada's Metropolitan City from financial disaster and its residents and that of other Island communities from sinking into the smothering morass of ruinous taxation.

In view of the changed political situation at Quebec, if the Citizens Committee will wake up and act a memorial to the Provincial Legislature which without doubt would be endorsed and signed by thousands of Montreal's best citizens should be presented and supported by a strong deputation praying for the appointment of a competent Commission with full powers to deal with all Montreal's revenues both incoming and outgoing.

If this is done something may be accomplished.

"The Bishop Misbehaves" Is The Next MRT Vehicle

For its sixth major production of the season the MRT turns again to sheer entertainment in offering the delightful Broadway success "The Bishop Misbehaves", Frederick Jackson's cheerful and amiable story of a benign cleric who applied "detective story" methods to an actual problem with drolly unpredictable results.

"The Bishop Misbehaves" will be played at Victoria Hall for three nights commencing Thursday, April 2. After a long run at the Cott Theatre in New York with Walter Connolly in the title role "The Bishop Misbehaves" has been greeted with equal enthusiasm all over the continent and is being brought to Montreal for the first time by the MRT.

The Bishop, an elderly and quite saintly dignitary, stops by accident with his equally mild sister at a wayside "pub" just after there has been a serious hold-up and robbery. Here the Bishop's secret love of crime as depicted in detective fiction comes to the fore and by an adroit move he manages to lure the "gang" to the Bishop's Palace. They appear in the form of several ruffians, a masked hero and a suitably attractive heroine.

The Bishop and his sister enter wholeheartedly into the fray spurred on by the "blood of their warrior ancestors." Ensues a hectic game of turning the tables, turning out the lights, pistol-pointing and knife-brandishing, out-guessing and out-confessing until the hero and heroine have won the Bishop's blessing and the surprising denouement is achieved.

As the Bishop of Broadminster, Jack Ralph appears with Beryl Dann as his sister, Lady Emily Lyons, Guy Waller, a profiteer and his wife, who are the victims of the hold-up, will be played by Murray Black and Sheila Rowe.

Cecil Nichol has the role of the marked bandit with Margaret Rawlings as his fiancée—it is interesting to note that in the original New York production Mr. Nichol's part was played by Alan Marshal, who it will be remembered appeared with the MRT in "Dangerous Corner". Hal Grindon, one of the favourites of the Montreal stage has an opportunity for some delightful character-work as the Bishop's secretary, Mr. Brooke Collins and Frenchy, two of the gang, are portrayed by Robert Godier and William McDonald with Christopher Sutton, a newcomer to the MRT, as Red, the cockney bar-tender. "The Bishop Misbehaves" will be directed by Martha Allan with Filmore Sadler assisting. Settings will be by Cecil West, Jean West will be production manager with Louise McConnell as property-mistress.

Tickets for "The Bishop Misbehaves" are now on sale at the MRT office, 1461 Union Ave. LA. 3937.

TO DEBATE MONDAY "Resolved That Bachelors are Happier than Married Men" is the topic for a debate to be staged Monday evening at 8.30 p.m. by the Montreal Junior Board of Trade under the auspices of the St. Matthias' Women's Guild.

Forum Packed For Rotary Ice Carnival With Evelyn Chandler In Stellar Role

Nathan Walley Thrilled Crowd With Dashing Swoops and Dizzy Spins — Montreal Winter Club Acts Popular — Toronto Skating Club Skits Well Applauded — Event Unqualified Success.

The annual carnival staged Monday night at the Forum by the Westmount Rotarians in aid of the Montreal Children's Hospital, was greeted by a packed and gaily coloured ensemble and the enthusiastic gathering thrilled to the antics of Evelyn Chandler, Nathan Walley and a host of young skaters from this city and Toronto. Miss Chandler proved the hit of the show and won round after round of applause. The world-renowned professional figure skater showed a grace and acrobatic ability that captured the hearts of all.

Montreal's Winter Club young members opened the program with a series of nursery rhyme sketches while the bell-hop ensemble number proved a colorful and interesting display, with the troupe going through a variety of intricate manoeuvres.

Veronica Clarke, runner up for the Women's Canadian Singles Title this season, was popular and preceded the Frogs' Frolic, which was a riot of fun.

Waltz, tango and ten-step numbers by the Top Hat ensemble paved the way for Nathan Walley, who thrilled the crowd with his dashing swoops and dizzy spins. The younger performers appeared again in popular ballet numbers, Miss Madeleine Parsons was outstanding.

The Toronto Skating Club trio composed of the Misses Mary Jane Halstead, Lorraine Hopkins and Margaret Leslie who captured popular fantry with their Bubble Dance were followed by Miss Audrey Joyce and Harrison Thompson, junior pair champions of Canada for 1936.

Nathan Walley, alias Madame Wyrzykowski, returning to the scene and with the aid of Samuel Jarvis treated the onlookers to an uproarious bit of "Russian Ballet" to a combination of Mendelssohn's Spring Song and the Music Goes Round and Round. The programme was rounded

Kennel Show On Thursday

The Annual Spring Show of the Montreal Kennel Association will be held at the Palais D'Or, Stanley Street, on Thursday next. It is assured of a record entry, and will present many interesting exhibits of a special nature. The P.A.I.O., under the presidency of Chief Recorder Thoin, is co-operating, and will have a special exhibit of twenty-five beagles. Most of these have had their dog trials, and along with a number of gun dogs on exhibition will remind visitors very strongly of an Old Country Sporting Club.

A recent announcement states that there will be special cash prizes for cocker spaniels in all classes.

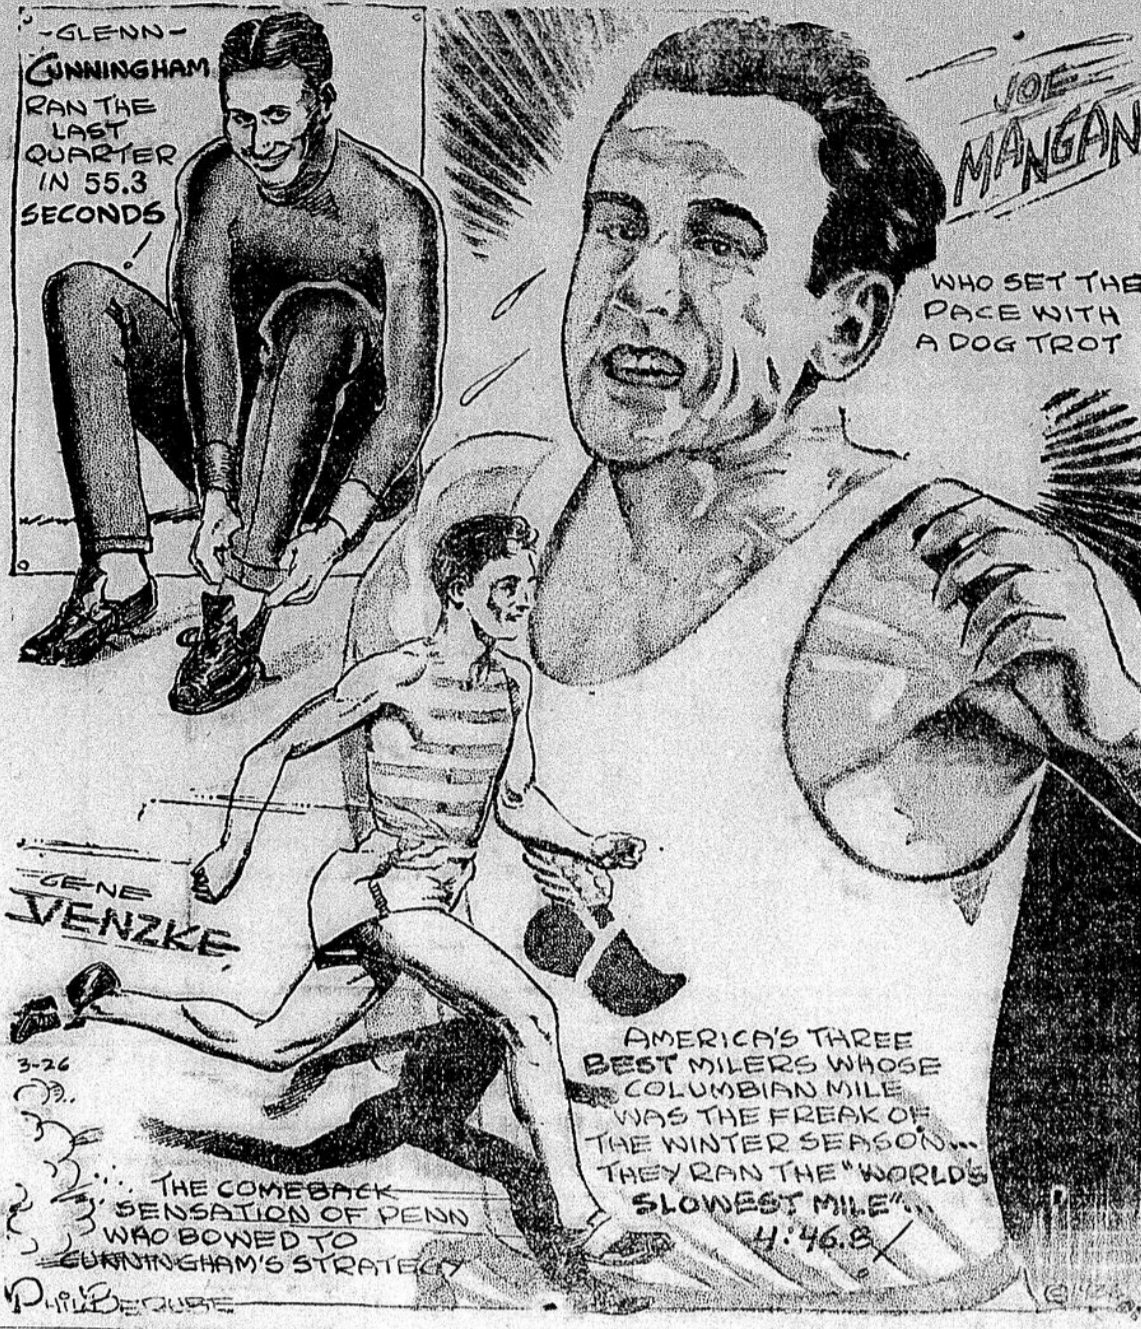

The number of sporting dogs promised has given impetus to the competition existing between the supporters of this group and the devotees of the other groups, so that this date there are actually more Toy and Boston Terrier entries than have been exhibited in these breeds at any show in the last ten years.

The Boston Terrier Club, and the Bull Terrier Club of Canada, have signified their intention of supporting the show wholeheartedly, their suggestions as to the exhibition of the specimens and the judging have received favourable recognition by directors of the Montreal Kennel Association.

The following judges will officiate: Messrs. Art Stuart, T. Ed. Armstrong, W. W. Rooney, R. A. "Bob" Ross, Miss Rafter, Mrs. A. Trudeau, Miss V. Robson. Full information in the matter of entries may be obtained from Miss E. McMahon, M.A. 8792; and from Mrs. Cook, 5375 Wellington street, Y.O. 0142. The directors are making an urgent appeal that all those who intend entering dogs do so at the earliest opportunity.

SPORT ODDITIES

'TEAR RIGHT IN' SAYS DEMPSEY

"In the event Joe Louis defeats Jimmy Braddock and becomes heavyweight champion, it will be the greatest break boxing has received."

Thus did Jack Dempsey, one of the greatest fighters to win the title, answer the question which has been on the lips of boxing experts for the last year or so. "There will be a million and one white hopes and interest in boxing will be increased immeasurably thereby," Jack explained. "Scores of elimination tournaments already have been started in numerous cities in various parts of the world and Louis still is at least two fights away from the championship." (Joe is matched to meet Max Schmeling in June before his proposed bout with Braddock in September.)

Fans Watch Search For Joe
The former champion declared that fans are becoming more and more interested in the progress being made in the search for opposition strong enough to halt the march of Louis.

Asked whether the rise and development of the Brown Bomber has awakened the urge in him to fight again, Jack said, "No."

The Manassa Mauler was not reticent about speaking of the capabilities of the 1934 Chicago Golden Gloves champion. He stated several of his opponents, such as Gene Tunney, Jess Willard, Tommy Gibbons, Louis Angel Firpo and Bill Brennan, would have given Louis strong fights. Joe's terrific punching is his greatest asset, Jack holds. He thinks the Brown Bomber's chief weakness is his tendency to rely too much on counter-punching, refusing to lead.

Thinks Joe Is Safe For a While
Dempsey doesn't think Louis will meet defeat for three or four years. He believes Braddock will give Joe his hardest bout this year, because the champion is a good boxer, better than average puncher and possesses abundant courage.

Asked whether he thought the Dempsey of 1919, the year he knocked out Willard and won the crown could have whipped the Louis of 1936, Jack said: "I wouldn't say that I could beat Louis. But you could bet your boots that I'd be in there trying and do the best I could."

'Tear Right In' Says Jack
Someone asked the old champion what he thought was the best way to beat the current-heavyweight contender.

"Well, if I was fighting Joe I'd tear right into him and try to keep him off balance while I pummeled his body and head with lefts and rights. After I once got in close I'd stay there and continue punching with both hands. I wouldn't try to outbox Louis."

Dempsey has put on more than 25 pounds since he retired from boxing. He says he now weighs 220, about 35 pounds more than he scaled when he floored the giant Willard seven times. He contends that his hardest fight was with Johnny Sundenberg at Goldfield, Nev., in 1916.

Cunningham, Venzke, Mangan Causing Interest In Mile,

By JOHN ROMANO

Glenn Cunningham, Gene Venzke and Joe Mangan stirred as much interest in their mile duel two weeks ago as Cunningham, Jack Lovelock and Bill Bronthron did at Princeton last year. The result in both cases was far from satisfactory. The Columbian mile was consistently expected to be run in 4:10 or better. The Princeton Invitation mile was looked upon to furnish the perfect mile in four minutes flat. The time of both races fell far short of anything approaching a record.

The jockeying of the runners in both races was identical. In the Columbian, Cunningham was expected to tear out at the start and set such a pace that he would be far enough in front and win off by himself with a last lap spurt. Instead, Glenn trailed off and did not commence moving until he had turned nine laps, and, save for a final 440-yard sprint in 55.3 seconds, he was no better than a score of miles to be found in this or any other country.

Lovelock came over with keen respect for Cunningham's ability. Two years earlier the New Zealander led Bronthron to the tape in an unforgettable race in which both runners smashed the world's record. The long-limbed Kansan had hung up a new mark when he flew over the distance in 1:06.8. Lovelock kept off the pace. He was content to see what Cunningham had. Holding enough in reserve Lovelock outraced Glenn to the tape. The glory of the victory was not as great had a new record been set by one of the trio.

All Three Had Colds
Censuring Cunningham for laying back too long is not fair. The same applies to Venzke, who was in the middle, with Mangan setting the pace at a dog trot. Glenn has been doing too much racing for his physical good. He has practically lived on trains all season, and a bad cold did not help his win. Venzke went in for cross-country running late last summer. This aided him immensely, as proven by the fine racing he did until the Columbian mile. A cold also bothered him. Mangan triumphed over Glenn and Gene, February 1, then was out of competition with a heavy cold. Expecting 4:10 for the mile was a little short of miraculous. That Cunningham was able to travel with the speed of a 220-yard man and still not elude his rivals, considering their condition, this should have sufficed for the fans, who expected far too much of human beings.

Lovelock has not been the same since winning from Cunningham and Bronthron. The man who was hailed as the "perfect mile" has been beaten a number of times since. An operation resulting in cutting out some ligaments in his leg did not turn out as expected, and it is probable the New Zealander may not race to his accustomed form again.

White Cunningham, Venzke and Mangan have shared the spotlight during the winter months, Bill Bronthron has been getting himself into condition under the care of his old coach at Princeton. Bill confidently expects to make his presence known and felt when the outdoor season is ushered in.

SUGAR-BUSH PARTY

Mr. Johnny Goodfellow of the Sugar Bush at Woodlands Station is ready for our Y.M.C.A. party on Saturday-afternoon. Last year about 50 motored out to the bush and saw everything from the sap buckets to the maple syrup, and, incidentally, each boy had all the maple taffy he could eat for 25c. This year we hope to have more fathers motoring out. We need a few more cars. Boys wishing to go should sign up at the office.

SUZIE LENGLEN DIRECTING PARIS TENNIS CLASSES

Former Queen Of The Courts Laments Decline Of Sport

Paris.—A new tennis school has been opened here under the direction of Suzanne Lenglen, former world's champion. Under the sanction of the French Tennis Federation, the new school will feature American methods, and Miss Lenglen considers them the simplest and most practical.

"The tennis level in France is at the bottom of the scale," the former champion admitted. We have had three marvelous accidents—Lacoste, Cochet and Borotra—out of the three only Borotra had proper training, the others had natural aptitude.

"I want to create enthusiasm among the French youth for sports, and give the French children the same chance as American and English. I will encourage those who show talent, and try to give France a new lot of champions."

"I'll follow American training, the styles of American champions are perfect, simple and easy. The fact has been proven by the quantity of fine players which are discovered every year. In my opinion, however, there is a lack of individuality in their style, and they are easily disconcerted in playing by the change in style of the foreigners."

According to Miss Lenglen, America has a good chance of retaining the Davis Cup.

"If American can produce another fine player like Donald Budge, it is doubtful if England can keep the cup," she says.

Suzanne Lenglen will play with her pupils herself, because she believes that this is the best way of teaching.

"I prefer to take children who have never touched a racket," says Miss Lenglen. "It is easier, because they have not yet acquired bad habits, in that case one has just to teach them to play, otherwise not only you have to give them the style, but also correct the bad habits they get learning alone."

The beginners will see matches by well-known tennis players, and they will be taken to championships, as Miss Lenglen says, "that she learned more by watching good players than by taking lessons."

The speakers will be Norman Gillespie, president of the Quebec Football Association, Harvey Golden, Executive Director of the Y.M.H.A., Madeleine Sheridan, member of the Women's Catholic League and the Provincial Council of the C.C.F., J. B. St. John, of the Youth Forum of Emmanuel Church, and Stanley Ryerson, representing the League Against War and Fascism.

The question of Canadian participation in the Nazi Olympics is one that has evoked considerable discussion in this city as well as in the rest of the country. This meeting should present a number of different viewpoints inasmuch as the speakers represent a wide field of public opinion.

There will be no admission charge.

IDEAL PAINT CONTEST SPONSORED BY LOCAL HARDWARE

A Few Pointers On How To Paint Your Home May Be Useful

"Any householder can paint the exterior of his own home and obtain the result that will put him well in the running for one of our prizes," stated Mr. Arthur Pascal, when interviewed yesterday with reference to the mammoth paint contest. "A casual attention to a few paint points and good paint are the only requisites. Careful workmanship, all are capable of, and in my opinion, we will have many entrants who are painting their own house and making a good job of it."

To aid the prospective painter in obtaining a commendable result the following points are included. If your building tends to flaking, cracking or scaling, it is well to remember that defects of this type are generally caused by changes that take place in the wood. Some woods exhibit a tendency to split and check, and the paint film is not sufficiently elastic to adapt itself to such distortion without itself cracking or flaking. Flaking usually takes place most rapidly over knots in yellow pine owing to resin in the knots bleeding into the paint and making it hard and brittle. The usual treatment consists in applying shellac to these knots in preparation for the priming coat. But test indicate that the best results are produced by treating the knots with a thin coat of aluminum powder paint, allowed to dry firm before the priming coat is applied.

Chalking. In the natural process of weathering, oil which floats to the surface of the paint during drying is destroyed by light, and pigment particles are left unprotected. Slow weathering of this dry pigment is known as "chalking." Mild chalking is characteristic of good paint, and is desirable in keeping the paint clean of accumulating of dust, dirt, soot, etc.

Good paint may chalk mildly yet maintain a good surface during its life, and when repeating is necessary, the surface is ideally suited to the application of new paint. Paints of improper composition may chalk heavily and rapidly. This may be accompanied by washing, and consequent partial or complete exposure of the painted surface. Recoating heavily chalked paint often yields unsatisfactory work, which results in spotting and short life.

Checking.—Due to application of relatively hard finished coats over underlying coats too rich in oil, differences in expansion and contraction are set up which may cause checking of the outer coat. The remedy is to apply priming coats with a volatile thinner, so that firm hard drying will be obtained. Allow sufficient time for a priming coat to dry. Undercoats should always be harder than outer coats. The amount of oil used in priming coats should only be sufficient for the filling of surface pores, and the binding of pigment particles.

Gas discoloration. This is usually experienced in industrial communities where quantities of hydrogen sulphide in the air act on the lead content to produce a gray or black deposit. Sometimes this discoloration starts, subsequently disappears. Where it is necessary to remove it at once, hydrogen peroxide or a dilute solution of acetic acid or muriatic acid may be used, after which the surface should be thoroughly flushed with water.

Copper stains. Whenever dampness and humidity are fairly prevalent, copper screens and roofing will develop surface corrosion. When the corrosion washes down on white painted surfaces, it produces a stain. To prevent this, it is well to coat copper with oil clear varnish or a coat of paint.

Mildew is caused by dried plant pollen, which when blown upon the tacky surface of fresh paint develops fungi. Use of less oil and more turpentine is effective, as a surface less rich in oil is not so easily attacked. Storm spots, brown staining, soot collection, flaking, cracking and scaling are difficulties which can be avoided through the use of first quality paint.

Pertinent Points In Paint Contest

COLOURS

Colour is the medium which reflects the individuality and predilections of the home owner. The importance of rugged durability in outside paints cannot be stressed to too great a degree.

In interior work hues and tints are not exposed to the weather and sun to such an extent as is outside paint. The clever use of colour lends distinction, but quality is also an essential.

FREE BRUSH

Win or lose in this contest, you still win by receiving a first quality three inch paint brush free. Your first purchase of a gallon or more of Brandram - Henderson of Sherwin Williams Paint brings you a free brush and automatically enters you in Pascal's contest for one of the three cash prizes.

QUESTIONS

If you have any special questions relating to paint, just address them to the J. Pascal Hardware Company, 4896 Sherbrooke west. A carefully chosen list of manufacturers' booklets covering all phases of home painting is also available, and requests for any of them will receive careful and prompt attention.

The Pascal Paint department is always ready and willing to serve you.

Charlotte Gowns New York Models

Spring fashions and New York model dresses go hand in hand, the fresh designs, the new colors and the last-minute styles making the New York importations the desire of every feminine heart when it comes to 'stocking up' for spring and summer.

But where, asks the harassed housewife, the busy office girl and the debutante, where can we purchase genuine New York models at a price that is at all within reach.

There is but one answer—Charlotte Gowns—a delightful shop for discriminating women who desire the latest at a popular price. Situated at 1353 Greene Avenue this fashion centre has just what you require.

A car that has been overhauled to the extent of the installation of new pistons and new piston rings requires a second breaking-in. For 200 or 300 miles at least, it should not be driven at a high-gear speed of more than 25 or 30 miles an hour.

contest that should appeal to all householders who take a pride in the appearance of their property. Repainting too long deferred is unprofitable. Not only is good appearance sacrificed, not only is the surface then less suitable for repainting, but in many cases the structure itself is exposed to serious damage by the elements. Good paint properly applied and reapplied when needed is the best guarantee of satisfaction, economy and protection.

Good paint and experienced workmanship combine for good performance. Check the list of possible defects in exterior painting; examine the condition of your home. Is the surface "paint-thirsty?" If so, delay in remedying the condition may be more expensive than you realize. Now is an excellent time to have painting done. This season of the year has many natural advantages. Prices are low.

Above all, remember that by buying your paint at Pascal's you have everything to gain and nothing to lose. First you get a good quality paint brush absolutely free and secondly a chance at a
