Chateauguay Valley Jersey Club Holds Annual Dinner

Club Feels That Barn Meetings Prove Helpful To Club Members

Chateauguay Valley Jersey Club held its annual fall social evening and dinner in the Huntingdon Chateau, on Friday evening. It proved to be an evening of pleasure, for in the first place the Chateau served a fine meal; the addresses were refreshing and the solos rendered by Mrs. Kay Ross and Mr. David Reid received hearty applause and with Mr. Win Peasey presiding at the manual of the Hammond Organ, it meant a well rounded out program was provided.

Col. Howard Rick, as Club President, reviewed the Club activities of the year. Col. Rick stated that he felt the members enjoyed the Barn meetings and that as they profited much from such gatherings, therefore it would be well to keep such meetings going during the winter and spring months. This being the 14th year of a Jersey Club in this District he felt much had been achieved and was exceptionally well demonstrated at the Huntingdon Fair when close to 100 head of Jersey cattle were shown.

Mr. D. M. Rowat, N.P., reported that letters of regret for inability to be present were received from Messrs. D. E. Black, M.P.; John G. Rennie, M.L.A.; Mr. Chapman of the Family Herald and Weekly Star and Mr. Elmo Ashton, Eastman, who is the president of the Provincial Jersey Club.

The Provincial Jersey Club is to hold its annual meeting in Huntingdon, on Saturday. Mr. Rowat took advantage of this fact and impressed upon the local men how desirable it was that they attend in goodly numbers.

Mr. Donald McCaig, Provincial Jersey Fieldman, stated that in this area there were now 58 Jersey Club Members. That there is a marked shortage of Jersey cattle for export. The Jersey Donation Sale held by the Quebec breeders realized $7,000 which goes toward the building fund for a new Jersey Club Office Building in Toronto. Similar sales were held by the Maritime Provinces, Ontario and Western Canada.

Mr. Albert Gardiner, General Passenger Manager, Canadian National Railways was in his usual good form. As the speaker of the evening he titled his talk, "Canadians Really are Different". Mr. Gardiner is a very humorous speaker and he demonstrated how different we Canadian folks are in the various sections of Canada through telling tall yarns and stories that one might expect to hear in each section of Canada. Mr. Gardiner is well known to many in this area as he spends his week-ends in Ste-Martine.

Greetings were extended to the Jersey Club by Messrs. Ernest Watterson in behalf of the Holstein Club and by Henry Wallace in behalf of the Ayrshire Club. Agronomist Beaudin congratulated the Jersey Club on its fine showing at Huntingdon Fair. He stated he hoped they would repeat the performance next year and that the Holstein and Ayrshire Clubs would also make an effort to hold field days during the Fair.

Badminton Club Hallowe'en Party

On Saturday night, many folk attired in a wide variety of weird costumes gathered together at the Badminton Club Hallowe'en Party. Hoboes hobnobbed with frock-coated gentry, Daisy Mae and the Devil danced well together; a cigar-smoking wolf and Red Riding Hood hit it off quite nicely and a pirate with a long gleaming cutlass compared notes with a rubber-masked surgeon dressed ready to operate. A regular pair of cut-ups they were.

The rubber masks worn were quite lifelike but presented a bit of a problem. Ever try to eat a sandwich or drink a coke through one of them?

After a little persuading the nickelodian performed nobly and dancing was enjoyed by all. Later on, everyone removed their masks making it easier to tell if your dancing partner was male or female.

All in all the party was a success and members, their guests, hobgoblins and spooks had a great time.

Dorea Children's Town At Franklin Centre Only One Of Its Kind in Canada

Modelled After Style of Similar Project in Switzerland

Franklin Centre, Huntingdon, Que., is the centre for a Children's Town, the only one of its kind in Canada and it was officially opened on Sunday, by Mgr. Caza, auxiliary bishop of Valleyfield and a special religious ceremony.

Dorea Children's Town is the name of the centre and it is founded along lines of a similar centre in Switzerland. Dorea can be interpreted as a contraction of the latin "Domus aurae" which means offering or charity. The site is on a farm of Mount Hemmingford, near Cusson's Lines Customs and Immigration Office and Route 189 N.Y. The view from the farm is quite scenic, looking off in one direction to Valleyfield and on a clear day it is possible to catch a glimpse of Montreal and the St. Lawrence River and Valley.

At present two houses have been built and in the process of being finished inside. A third one is still in the basement dug-out stage. One of the buildings is occupied and nine boys are housed there. The farm comprises 70 acres of land and farm buildings. Three Roman Catholic priests are in charge of the centre, they are Rev. Gabriel Lussier, Rev. Marc A. Lablanc and Rev. Virgile E. Farine. The children come from all parts of Canada and may even come from the United States. Each house will accommodate nine boys and only boys will be there for the time being, but later it is expected that provision will be made for girls.

It is only necessary to describe one building, for all buildings will follow the same pattern. The one that is about completed and occupied contains three rooms in which the boys have their sleeping quarters and three boys occupy each of these. A fully modern bathroom is located at the end of the building and between the boys' rooms and the office of the priest in charge. In the centre and with the front door opening into it, is the reception room and lounge. At the other end of the building is a sewing room, kitchenette and a chapel. At the present time the reception room is doubling for the chapel and an altar has been erected for this purpose. When the third building is completed, it is intended that a much larger chapel will be made and the entire group will meet there for religious periods. It is expected that school instruction will be given in the second building that has been completed. The boys take breakfast in the houses, but the other meals are taken in the original farmhouse on the opposite side of the farm.

Naturally the centre is not yet under proper organization and a number of laymen are helping to prepare things in readiness for the efficient operation. For instance, the boys are helping at different jobs such as laying the tiles on floors, clearing up debris, helping the contractor at odd jobs and so on. When true operation is on, boys of twelve years of age will be admitted and they will be given one year of school instruction for certain hours of the day. During the afternoon they will be given instruction in farming methods and in gardening. They will also be given instruction in certain trades and machinery for this purpose is being installed in the basements of each house. The basement will also form the recreation room where games, etc., can be played. In the evenings another period will be allotted for study and preparation for the next day.

Orphans and charitable cases of any nationality will be taken and no delinquent children will be accepted at this centre. There are apple trees, cattle, etc., on the farm and in the course of time it will become practically self-supporting in this way. Meantime help is needed by way of finances and useful articles. These articles could be lumber for building, furniture and equipment, books and games, records and such like. Articles of clothing and material for making clothes would also be accepted as a woman is employed in sewing and mending all the time. There is also a girl who does the typing and office work. Most of the help is given free so that cost is kept to a minimum.

This project is a worthy one and as time goes on its worth will be more pronounced as the children leave the centre to make their ways in the world. It is only a beginning and there is no telling what the future may hold in its ultimate development.

Gladys Elliott Wins Stove and Cash At Huntingdon Theatre

A long awaited for event took place at the Huntingdon Theatre, on Friday evening, when the draw for the new Frigidaire electric stove was made.

Mr. Ken Hatton, manager of the theatre called on a member of the audience to come up to the stage and make the draw from the barrel after it had been rotated a number of times to thoroughly mix up the large number of coupons. When the draw was made the name on the ticket was Gladys Elliott of 66 Dalhousie Street, Huntingdon. As the lady was in the theatre at the time of drawing, she also became entitled to a further cash prize of $15.00. The stove is a very beautiful one and no doubt its owner will get much pleasure from its use in her home.

Hallowe'en Party Held By Rotary

Upwards of 400 Persons at Legion Hall — Prizes For Best Costumes

To-day, Huntingdon has a lot of children, if you doubt the statement, sponsor a Hallowe'en Party such as the one by the Rotary Club on Tuesday night. Provision was made for approximately 350 boys and girls and what few adults might be present with the little boys and girls. The party saw a greater number present and the two halls at the Legion Headquarters in Huntingdon, were more than taxed to capacity.

Chief L'Heureux and 15 members of the Rotary Club met with the boys and girls near the Fountain at 7.30 p.m. and they marched in an orderly manner to the Legion Hall. Rotary Anns, Mesdames Levine, Martin and Cleyn had an exciting time of it in selecting the winning costumes amongst the various groups to be judged. In the group aged 7 to 10 years of age 118 boys and girls appeared in costume. In the group of tots up to 6 years of age the selected winners were: Sharon Cooper, (Duggie Suit); 2nd. Kenneth McDermid, (Negro); 3rd Sharon Tobin, (Little Red Riding Hood); 4th Clifford Dahms, (Wolf). Class 7 to 10 years of age: 1st Lorraine Brisson, (Drum Majorette); 2nd Gordon Ferry, Jr., (Hobo); 3rd Banjamin Brown, (Pirate); 4th Muriel Lennox, (Little Old Lady). Class 11 to 14 years of age: 1st Jimmy Faille, (Hunter); 2nd Mary Deme, (Hungarian); 3rd Edmond Lefebvre, (Pirate); 4th Barry Stewart, (Devil).

From each of the three classes the judges selected one for having the most original costume. 1st prize went to Mary Reine Hurteau, (Witch); 2nd Jimmy Ross, (Old Man); 3rd Merrill Murray, (Woman).

Three films were screened through the kindness of Rotarian S. J. Currie and the picture was projected by Mr. Rene Rousselle. The pictures were full of action and were greatly enjoyed by the young and old present; as a matter of fact the adults present appeared to be having just as many laughs as the juniors, but they did not do the screaming acts.

At 9.10 Rotary President W. R. Wilson assisted by fellow Rotarians saw to it that the treats were handed out in an orderly manner. Thanks are due Chief L'Heureux for the part he played in staging the party. To Rotarians Louis Levine, chairman of the Rotary Youth Committee, Hector Provost who assisted him as joint chaiman and all other Rotarian helpers including the several Rotary Anns present. To the Canadian Legion for the use of the Hall and Mr. and Mrs. John Macrow who look after the premises.

Valleyfield Men Face Counts On Smuggling Refrigerators

Fort Covington Man and Some Montrealers Also Face Charges

Result of investigation by Royal Canadian Mounted Police during a period of more than a year, four Montrealers, three residents of Valleyfield, Que., and an American were arraigned in Montreal on Monday before Judge Armand Cloutier on charges of conspiracy to smuggle into Canada from the United States 212 refrigerators valued at $53,000.

The accused were Horace Diamond, operator of Diamond Refrigeration Sales, 10 Bernard avenue west; Harold Markis, Francois Brodeur and Roger Benpit, also of Montreal; William Carriere, Romeo Carriere and Carl Sinray, of Valleyfield, Que., and Morris Brown, of Fort Covington, N.Y.

Represented by six lawyers, they all chose trial by jury and preliminary hearing was set for Nov. 6.

When the question of bail for the accused arose, Jean Tellier, K.C., special prosecutor for the Department of Justice said that, while 212 refrigerators had been seized by the police, it was "most likely" that many more had been illegally imported into the country by the group.

The alleged smugglers, he claimed, had been buying the refrigerators from persons in the New York district, and having them transported to rented barns on farms along the Canadian border. The machines, he said, were then picked up by hired truck drivers from Valleyfield and Montreal and carried into this city where they were sold to the unsuspecting public through the Diamond Refrigeration Sales firm.

The prosecutor said that some of the accused had acted only as hired truck drivers. All the persons more seriously involved in the conspiracy had not yet been arrested, he admitted, but more arrests "would most likely follow."

The judge decided to take first the cases of the persons the special prosecutor was ready to admit were the least seriously involved in the affair. It was ordered that Roger Benoit and Francois Brodeur of Montreal, and Romeo Carriere of Valleyfield should post bail bonds of $950 each. Bail in the case of William Carriere, of Valleyfield, was set at two bonds of $950 each when Mr. Tellier insisted he had played the part of "somewhat more than a hired truck driver."

Horace Diamond and Harold Markis of Montreal and Carl Sinray of Valleyfield were ordered to post bail of $1,000 cash each or bonds of $1,000 cash on immoveables.

The court then turned to the case of Morris Brown, of Fort Covington, N.Y. After argument, Judge Cloutier ordered bail of $3,000 for him.

Possibly Quietest Hallowe'en in History

Hallowe'en in Huntingdon Town passed off very quietly with nothing to report of damage or mischief of any consequence. It was possibly one of the quietest Hallowe'ens in the history of this town. Several extra police were on duty and about sixteen calls of a minor nature were received. A number of youths were rounded up after midnight, who it was thought may have had intentions to cause trouble, their names were taken and they were warned that if they were seen again that night it would mean trouble for them. Thus the evening passed off as one of the quietest in history.

The white marlin is the smallest member of the marlin family, a powerful, speedy, surface fighter.

Holstein Breeders Meeting

New Officers Elected Special Speakers

The Huntingdon-Ormstown Holstein Breeders' Club held their annual meeting on Saturday evening at the County Building, with a very good attendance. Special speakers were: Mr. H. Lajoie, Provincial Secretary and W. A. Hodge, National President.

Mr. Hodge in his remarks to the gathering made reference a recent trip he had made to the West. He also brought greetings from the national society. He said that he thought there should be an exchange between the east and west in the matter of stock. He felt that if some of the eastern breeders were to bring some of the western cattle east and the western breeders were to take some back west, that it would eventually mean much to the general welfare of the Holstein breed. There were some good animals in both parts and there were also some poor ones. By suitable exchange this situation could be improved.

Mr. Lajoie spoke on club finances and said he thought that when sales of animals are held that a certain percentage of such sales should go to the club for its finances and to further the interests of the breed. He felt that prices would remain high as long as beef prices were high. The support of the club was given to some new amendments to rules and regulations.

An election for officers for 1951 gave the following results: Cecil Murphy, President; O. McRae, Vice-President, H. Nussey; 2nd Vice-President; L. A. Beaudin re-elected secretary-treasurer.

New directors are: Leslie Hay replaces J. A. Brown; W. J. Todd replaces B. A. Rankin; A. Pinsonneault replaces J. M. Winter.

NO CAMP FUN

MONTREAL, (CP)—C. A. Wylie, executive director of the Montreal Boys' Association said recently that in too many summer camps the boys were not having enough fun. He said some of the pioneer boys' camps were more enjoyable because more emphasis was put on fun and less on education.

Advertising Typography Given Prominence at Newspaper Ass'n Meeting

Technicalities in Weekly Newspaper Publishing Holds Sway at Three Day Convention Held in Quebec

The annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association was held in the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec the past week. The meeting was originally planned to have been held at Hotel Algonquin, St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N. B., early in September, but due to the railway strike had to be postponed.

Newspapers from all provinces were represented, there being approximately 275 people in attendance. Excellent business meetings were held. Several of the guest speakers gave talks along newspaper mechanical lines. As a result of these talks many changes will be noted in the mechanical make-up in the publishing of weekly newspapers across Canada in the not too distant future. Present day typographical make-up tends to vere away from the use of borders about advertisements and at the same time utilize white space and illustrations to create the attention of the readers.

Mayor Bourque, Outremont and the Hon. Mr. Talbot, Minister of Roads, delivered the only two addresses during the three-day convention that had to do with editorial and news content of newspapers. One whole day was given to group forums, all of which were well conducted and brought forth a great deal of information the respective publishers wished to obtain. The three forums conducted were made up of newspapers with circulations in excess of 2000. 2nd forum of newspapers with a circulation between 1000 and 2000 and the third forum was for papers with less than 1000 circulation.

Mr. Lang Sands, Mission City, B.C., was the newly elected president.

Western Quebec newspapers represented at the convention included Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Legge and Mrs. W. R. Legge, Granby; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Giles, Lachute; Mr. and Mrs. H. E. McCormick, "The Monitor", Notre Dame de Grace; Mr. and Mrs. Ken. Hatton, "The Guardian", Verdun; Mr. and Mrs. Adam L. Sellar, Huntingdon; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wallot, Valleyfield; Mr. J. A. Freeman, Pointe Claire; Mr. D. R. Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. L. Guertin, Shawinigan Falls; Mrs. M. P. Simpson and John Simpson, Buckingham; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gage, St. Johns and Mr. John W. Sancton, Stanstead.

Student Teachers Will Visit Schools in This Area Today

Will Spend Day in Observation of How School Is Operated

Today (Wednesday) several schools in the Chateauguay Valley are being visited by groups of student teachers from Macdonald College and will spend the day in observation of the activities within the schools. The schools which will be visited are: Huntingdon High School, Ormstown, Valleyfield and Beauharnois.

The idea is sponsored by the Director of the School for Teachers, Mr. D. C. Munroe, who is well known to people of this district. It is intended that the prospective teachers will gain an idea of the various schools and when the time comes that teachers may be needed in any of the schools visited, they will have some knowledge of said schools. Each group will prepare a report on the day's observations and will present these reports to other students at the college.

In the group which will visit Huntingdon there will be between 15 and 20 student teachers and they will be under the direction of Miss R. Woodburn. The party will leave the college at 7.30 a.m. and travel by Provincial Transport to Hunningdon and they will return in time to arrive at the college by 5.45 p.m. At noon they will be entertained to lunch at the school and the lunch will be prepared by Miss Heikkenen, teacher of Home Economics at the school. The lunch will be served by the students.

While here they will be able to take part in the extra curricular activities at the direction of the Huntingdon School staff. Opportunity will be afforded the students to consult with members of the staff regarding problems of organization and management.

Two groups are usually sent each year and a later one has the opportunity of actually teaching in the class rooms. Thus throughout the year thirty prospective teachers will have visited the schools in this area and will have gained a very fair opinion of the type of schools operated in the Chateauguay Valley. As stated, this affords these student teachers the chance of becoming acquainted with these schools and aids them when replying to advertisements for teachers that may be placed by these schools.

Chateauguay Programme at Ormstown Features R.C.M.P.

Fine Talks Given Afternoon and Evening by Two Members of Force

For the past twelve years the Ormstown Study Club has observed Chateauguay Day with a special evening programme. Past guest speakers have included Doctor Percival in 1941; Mr. Jean-Charles Harvey, Editor of "Le Jour" in 1942; Doctor E. A. Corbett, Secretary of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, in 1943; Mr. Harry B. Spencer of New York in 1944; Reverend Grant Hollingworth in 1945; Dean Sinclair Laird, 1946; Doctor McFarlane of Macdonald College, 1947; Mr. A. G. McColl, research director in Practical Education, 1947; Mr. W. E. Dunton of the Protestant Committee of Education, 1948, and John Fisher of CBC in 1949.

This year the Ormstown Study Club was fortunate in procuring Constables Archer and Gaulin of the "Youth and the Police" division of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

At a special afternoon assembly Constable Archer delivered a very fine address to the students on "The History of the Force". He concluded his talk with stirring words of advice to youth: "When you work, work as if everything depended upon you, and when you pray, pray as if everything depended upon God." Constable Archer was assisted by Constable Gaulin who showed two films on the training and activities of the Police.

During the evening programme Constable Archer outlined the work of the "Youth and the Police" Department of which he is director. He displayed a keen insight into and interest in current problems of youth and impressed upon his audience the valuable work being done by the Mounted Police in that area. Following the address "the Mounties" presented a series of excellent pictures which included the well-known "Scarlet and Gold" in technicolor, and "The Connor Case" wherein a murderer out West was finally arrested at Halifax, N.S., an arrest which required some excellent detective work.

Constable Archer expressed the anxiety of his Department to assist organizations devoted to Youth Welfare to the fullest of its ability.

Man Injured When Hit By Car

Accident Near St. Agnes de Dundee

Willie Latendresse, age 48, of St. Agnes de Dundee, Que., was taken to the Huntingdon County Hospital, on Sunday night, following a serious accident which occurred at St. Agnes. Mr. Latendresse was walking along the road when he was hit by a car driven by Mr. Eugene Latulippe, of Bombay, N.Y.

Dr. G. L. Sutton of Ormstown, was called and the injured man was taken to the hospital. It is reported that the victim suffered a fracture of the left leg and many contusions on the head.

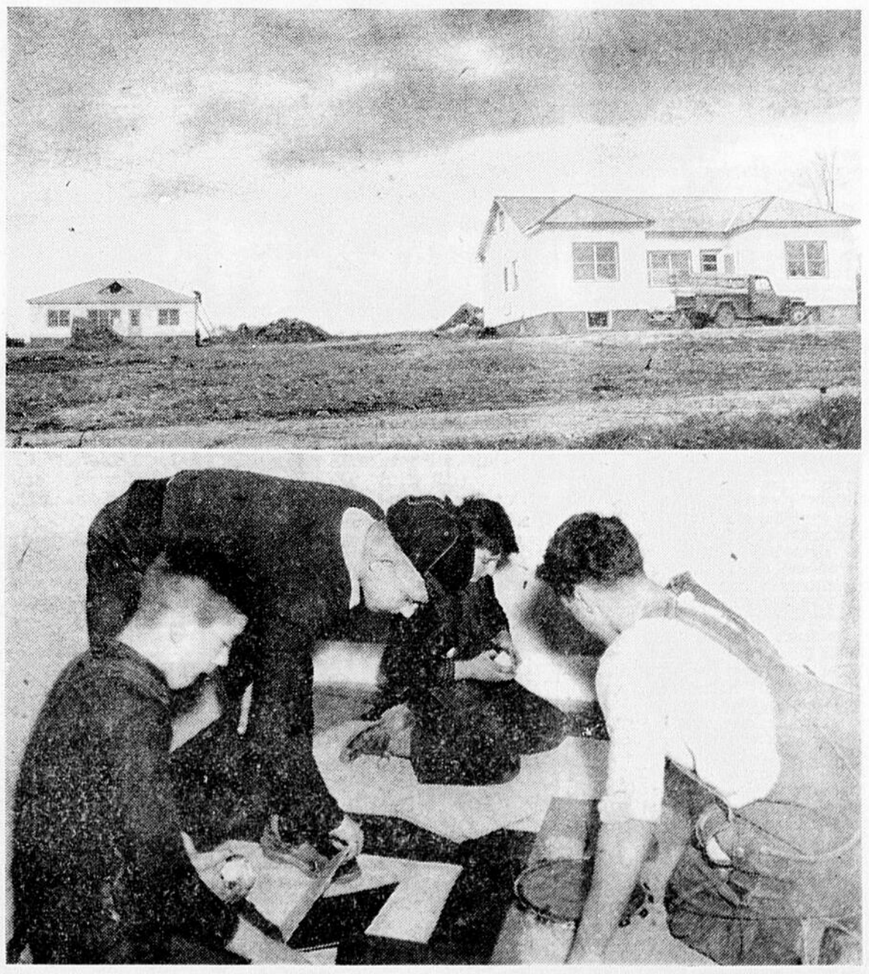

Traffic Officer Eugene Leduc and Det. J. M. Rheault of the Provincial Police investigated.

Potato Grows Through Link of Chain

Potatoes have always been recognized as fairly hardy vegetables but just how hardy they are few people have realized until recently. Mr. James Stewart, of Dundee, presented the Gleaner with a remarkable spud, one which, despite the fact that a heavy piece of iron chain was covering it, went right on growing; it grew, in fact, right through one of the links of the chain.

Unfortunately for the potato, it is now firmly imprisoned by the chain, undoubtedly the first spud in the history of mankind to become a member of a chain gang.

DOREA CHILDREN'S TOWN OPENS AT FRANKLIN CENTRE

Top is a view of the two completed buildings at Franklin Centre which is part of a plan for a Children's Town, which was officially opened on Sunday. The building at the right is the main building and just behind this is an excavation for the basement of another similar house that is expected will be completed in the spring. The lower picture shows some of the boys who were busy at putting on tiles inside the main building. When completed, this room will be the chapel. The boys seem to be enjoying the work and two of them are munching on apples that are grown at the farm. A full account appears elsewhere in this issue.

Insurance Firm Gives Extra $10,000 to Widow

A Windsor widow with three children was recently made $10,000 richer because of the diligence of an insurance company's claims officers.

Double Indemnity

Mrs. Lorenzo Beuglet, was advised by officials of the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada that a double indemnity clause in her husband's insurance policy had been recognized and as a result she is the recipient of an additional $10,000 from the policy.

For the past two years claims officers of Sun Life have been investigating the cause of the death of Lorenzo Beuglet, a 29-year-old Windsor butcher who died February 28, 1948.

A ruling given by the Montreal office of Sun Life advised that the double indemnity clause in this policy would be invoked and Mrs. Beuglet is to receive an additional $10,000.

The policy had a face value of $10,000 at the time of Mr. Beuglet's death.

Monthly Payment

Slightly overwhelmed at the streak of good fortune that descended in her neat but humble living quarters, Mrs. Beuglet has named the insurance company as trustee for the money which she will receive in small monthly payments.

The day before Christmas, 1947, Mr. Beuglet ran a small sliver of bone into his finger as he was cutting meat. The finger became infected and despite many of the latest drugs the infection could not be checked and he died at the end of February, 1948.

Mr. Beuglet was a 225-pound former Ottawa University student who was a successful candidate for the first Windsor Rocket football team.

At the time of his death the cause was given as a virus infection and brain abscess.

Mrs. Beuglet made no request for investigation and accepted the initial payment by the insurance company as settlement of the policy.

The company, however, follows a policy of having all such policies reviewed by special officers.

One of these, in the Montreal office, in reviewing medical history, spotted the incident of the bone sliver and initiated an investigation which has continued since that time from the Montreal and London offices.

After reports of doctors and nurses and records were reviewed the company decided that death was accidental, which brought in the angle of the double indemnity clause.

Mrs. Beuglet's three children, aged 8, 6 and 4 years will now be able to live in more becoming quarters and can be assured of a better education than was otherwise likely to be their lot.

HEROINE, 5, SAVES SISTER FROM PATH OF SPEEDING EXPRESS

Shirley Allen, of North Sydney, N.S., Averts Tragedy by Pulling 3-Year-Old Sister from Tracks in Nick of Time

1. It was a pleasant day in Cape Breton. Five-year-old Shirley Allen was playing with her friends in front of her Upper North Sydney home — never dreaming that in another minute she was going to star in a dramatic, real-life adventure. It was a child's natural interest in trains that made her turn at the sound of a whistle. But her interest changed to terror when she saw her sister playing idly — right on the track!

2. Her first instinct was to cry "Mummy!" . . . but she knew there was no time. Something inside her told her that unless she acted quickly little Elaine would be killed. Racing to the tracks, she grabbed her sister — but 3-year-old Elaine, unaware of her danger, fought against being carried off. Fear clutched at Shirley's heart as she saw the speeding express train only a few short, terrifying yards away!

3. In a final desperate effort, however, Shirley managed to sweep the little girl off the tracks to safety — just as the train roared by! Witnesses were amazed at the courage and quick thinking of the 5-year-old girl. Because such bravery is rare in one so young and because Shirley risked her own life to save her sister's, we are proud to present her with The Dow Award.

Welcome to the Provincial Jersey Club

WITH the increased interest in the Jersey breed of cattle that is being manifest throughout the Chateauguay Valley, we feel that it is important that the Provincial Jersey Club should decide to hold its annual meeting here in Huntingdon. There is evidence that more and more Jersey owners are forming a part of the Dairying industry's population in this Valley and are therefore commanding more notice of their breed. In the years past Ayrshires and Holsteins have held the prominence, but Jerseys are now pressing for attention as a third important dairy breed in these parts.

It is only natural then, that Jersey Breeders here be given the benefit of having the annual meeting of their provincial organization held at the home point. No doubt opportunity will be given to visitors to visit some of the local breeders' farms and to see the many fine animals this district can boast of. It is the practice of the Provincial organization to change the point of annual meeting to various centres throughout the province. It may therefore mean that it will be seven years before the meeting again returns to Huntingdon. This being the possibility, it behooves that all Jersey Breeders in this area make it a point to be in attendance at this meeting on Saturday.

The Jersey Breeders here made a great step forward when they held a Jersey Field Day on the first day of Huntingdon Fair. It impressed the general public with the fine showing and bids fair to lead other breeders to follow the example. Mr. D. M. Rowat, N.P., has been an enthusiastic worker for the Jersey Breed in this district and has done much to interest others in the breed. Mr. Donald McCaig, Provincial Jersey Fieldman has also done great work along this line since he accepted the position. With such enthusiasm being shown and with all members of the club working in its best interests, there is no doubt that the Jersey Breed will go on to far greater achievements in the future.

We welcome the Provincial Jersey Club to Huntingdon for its annual meeting and wish all interested a successful gathering.

Poppies - - Emblem of Remembrance

IN the midst of the troublous times that have once more beset the world, there perhaps is not time to think about those who gave their lives in other wars. Wars have taken the lives of many of our fine young men over hundreds of years and as time has worn on they have been almost entirely forgotten.

In the case of these later wars such as World Wars I and II, a little different sentiment arose because of the gigantic proportions of the wars. Thus it was following World War I that citizens promised never to forget those who had served and those who were disabled or gave their lives. To commemorate and perpetuate the memory a day in November was set aside as "Remembrance Day" and a symbol of remembrance came in the form of replicas of the blood red poppy of Flanders Fields.

This week the Canadian Legion will be sponsoring a drive for the sale of poppies and poppy wreaths for the benefit of disabled veterans and their dependents. The fund is handled by a local committee entirely outside the Legion and recommendations are made to it in the case of needy veterans. The fund stays here in Huntingdon and only the cost of the poppies is taken out of the proceeds and the necessary expenses in connection with the campaign. This also provides further funds for the veterans at Vetcraft Shops who make the poppies and the wreaths. Thus no part of the money raised goes to concerns outside of the veterans' organizations.

The public, therefore, is asked to give the poppy campaign its full support and to buy a poppy when they are placed on sale on Saturday, November 4th. Business men and others are asked to buy a wreath and put it on display in their windows or places of business---later, on Remembrance Day, put these wreaths on the Cenotaph. Letters are going out to the general public asking for contributions to the fund and it is hoped that a generous response will be made to this appeal. Calls are continuously being made on the resources of the fund for various worthy cases and in the course of a year this fund becomes seriously depleted. Your generous response can help to put the fund into good condition and relieve the committee of much of the worry. Business men are specially asked to help by buying wreaths.

Dorea - - Children's Town

ON Sunday, something new for this area was officially opened at Franklin Centre and it may be the beginning of another of those famous centres as operated by Father Flannagan in the United States, known as "Boys' Town." There is hardly a person who has not heard something of this famous institution and the work it has done for boys.

Children's Town will be operated along similar lines with the exception that it will not be for delinquents and it will not be entirely for boys. The centre is operated by priests of the Roman Catholic Church and every opportunity will be presented for boys and girls to become rehabilitated with a religious background. The boys and girls will be drawn from those who have been orphaned and from those whose homes have been broken by the loss of one parent, or by the sickness of parents, or inability to look after the children. They will be housed in the specially constructed houses at Franklin and will be given a course of instruction along ordinary school lines. Later they will be given the opportunity to learn a trade, or agriculture. All facilities are being set up for this purpose and these boys and girls should become very good citizens of the future. They will receive the best of attention and be given care and shown kindness which may have been abruptly ended, or completely denied to them previously.

This village will be depending upon contributions from kindly public for a good part of its upkeep and as funds permit it will expand its scope to take in a larger group of children. The plans that have been made and are in contemplation, are forward looking for a large centre at this point in the years to come. It is not intended that delinquent children will be brought to this centre, other arrangements are made for such children. Thus children will not be brought into contact with hard influences that may spoil their chances of being good citizens. In Father Flannagan's case, he has taken on the great task of remodelling the boys under his charge from bad to good.

It will be interesting to watch this development and it would be still more interesting to know the stories of the boys and girls who pass through the centre. They may enter under a great handicap and later go forth into the world to be leaders in their chosen field. We therefore welcome "Dorea" to the Huntingdon County as a mission of good.

The Fine Print in Insurance Policies

FOR many a day it has been contended that when one takes out an insurance policy of any kind, one must be sure and read what is included in the fine print. It is a good practice to follow, but one must also remember the insurance companies want to do justice by the insured as is agreed in the contract when purchased.

A fine sample of how such insurance policies are treated is evidenced in another column of this issue. We refer to the case of Mrs. Beuglet, of Windsor, Ont., whose husband died as a result of a splinter of bone entering his finger, which in a comparatively short time led to his death. It was the Sun Life Assurance company inspectors of policy claims who noted that this particular contract carried a double indemnity clause and that such could be credited as applicable in this case, although the beneficiary did not realize it. An extra $10,000 to a widow with three young children means a great deal. The fact that the Sun Life realized they had a further obligation to pay; after such a lapse of time, will indeed stand them in good sted, not only with their present policy holders but with others who may become holders of life insurance policies.

They Brought in Industry

NASHUA, New Hampshire, is in the news again. Two years ago its big industry, the giant textile-making Textrom Inc., shut its local plant and one quarter of the city's entire labor force was out of work. It looked like municipal disaster.

Today Nashua is better off than before the big blow. In the old mill where Textrom employed 3,000, actually 4,500 are checking in today. And that is not all. This little city which 24 months ago was fearful of total collapse, now has more applicants from outside industry for plant space than is immediately available and new modern factory buildings are being planned.

The transformation is largely the work of a local committee composed of bankers, business and labor leaders. They raised a kitty of $105,000 by subscription and personal cheques. They made a down payment of $100,000 on the shut-down mill, took out a $400,000 mortgage for the balance. They scouted around for new industries. Now a score of products are being made where before production was textiles only. Sales of space have completely paid off the mortgage and all other indebtedness and in addition there is a continuous and substantial source of income from rentals.

Nashua back on its feet, should be an example to towns and small cities all over this continent. There are few places in Canada that have not some unique advantages for a certain type of industry or operation. What is needed is an energetic local committee with the backing of the whole municipality to point out these advantages, contact the proper prospects and bring them in.

A prospect of war has very suddenly loomed up in Europe. Ever since the revolution which drove away Queen Isabella, the Spanish throne has been vacant, not from any desire to change the form of government, but because no eligible Prince would accept the perilous gift. The crown of Spain has consequently gone a-begging for over a year, and the pretensions and prospects of rival claimants have furnished gossip for the continental journalists. General Prim, who has been the virtual ruler of Spain broke the silence last week when he declared in favour of Prince Leopold of Hohenzollern. No sooner was the announcement made than France was up in a blaze. Leopold is a German Prince, and Napoleon conjectured that his nomination was, owing to the intrigues of Prussia, designed as a blow at him. A war between France and Prussia has been long looked upon as inevitable and should it take place now, will prove to be the most gigantic struggle since that ended by Waterloo.

July 21

War has commenced between France and Prussia.

July 28.

On Monday a man named Stone was engaged at Centreville to convey a person from there to St. Jean Chrysostome. On arriving at Corbyn's Mills in Hemmingford, after midnight, Stone and his passenger went into a store, where the latter was to get change to pay his fare; previous to doing so Stone had put his horse in a shed, and while in the store, two men under the influence of liquor, after kicking Stone's dog and assaulting him, went out and cleared off with his horse and buggy. Before the scamps had got as far as Mr. Thompson's farm, the buggy was completely smashed. Mr. Stone overtook them near Mr. Thompson's vacant house. One man was sitting in the broken buggy but what had become of the other, Mr. Stone could not imagine. We trust that perpetrators of so dastardly an act will ere long be brought to justice and made pay the penalty of their rash act, by spending a few years in the penitentiary to teach them that "honesty is the best policy."

August 11.

On Wednesday week, a scaffold which had been erected for the purpose of repairing the roof of Mr. James Fortune's house, gave way when Mr. Fortune and the workman were standing upon it. Mr. Fortune received a severe shock and lies in a low condition though hopes are entertained for his recovery.

August 25.

Mr. Henderson has a number of masons at work daily in the rebuilding of his grist mill. It will be slightly larger than before, while the kiln will be in a separate building.

The lecture on Temperance by the Hon. Mr. Gleeson on Friday evening last, in the Methodist Church attracted a fair audience. The chair was taken by Mr. Dalgleish who conducted the opening proceedings. The lecturer gave a good deal of advice to the members of the Temperance body as to the best mode of reclaiming drunkards and advancing their cause, illustrating his remarks by a number of anecdotes.

September 8.

The news from the seat of war during the week has been of an exciting nature. It will be recollected that in our last issue we stated that General McMahon had made a forced march to the north and placed himself nearly in the rear of the Prussian army on its way to Paris and no great distance from General Bazaine's force at Metz. On Tuesday week he was within 30 miles of Metz when he was attacked in force by the Prussians, the chief fighting taking place near Beaumont. After a bloody day General McMahon found that he was unable to advance nearer Metz to effect the junction with Bazaine he wished for. The French fought with all the courage and vivacity for which they are distinguished, but whether owing to superior numbers or the better discipline and generalship of the Prussians, the battle went againt them. Finally the bulk of their army was crouching under the shelter of the guns of Sedan surrounded on every side by the victorious enemy. A surrender was decided upon and the next day Napoleon with his generals rode into the Prussian camp, and gave themselves up as prisoners of war, together with their whole army.

In Paris the news created a profound sensation. The legislature quickly deposed Napoleon and issued a proclamation declaring a republic and naming a provisional government.

The movement to organize a library and reading room in this village promises to be a success. The names of 50 persons who are desirous of becoming members, have been obtained. A meeting of the subscribers and all who may wish to join will be held in Mr. Whyte's room in the Academy on Saturday evening. It is proposed that a comfortable room be rented to be open every evening and which will be as well supplied with papers and magazines as funds will admit. In addition books will be loaned out to be read in the room. The annual subscription has been fixed at $2.00.

September 15.

The lower bridge which has been so long in the course of construction is now finished. It appears to be a substantial structure, so that the village now appears to have two good bridges. On show day there were eight persons fined a dollar each for trotting across the upper bride. In course of time, travellers will learn that wooden bridges are not intended for the display of fast going.

November 3.

Mr. John MacArthur, Godmanchester thinks his potatoes will beat any yet reported. He has dug up one that weighs 3 lbs., 12 oz. and several over 2 lbs. They are garnet Chilis and the 10 bushels he planted have yielded 200.

November 17.

The friends of Sir John A. Macdonald have started a proposal to present him with a testimonial of $150,000. It seems he has saved nothing and, in their opinion, his services deserve such an acknowledgment from the country. There can be no objection to anybody contributing to this testimonial if they see fit, for people can spend their money as they please, but, to the assertions of John A. deserving it or of the country being under any obligation to him, we must demur. If he is not rich it is not because of his honesty or lack of opportunity. Some people would not be rich if they had the income of dukes and John A. is one of them.

Shaw Defends Capital

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

The other evening I listened to a C.B.C. forum broadcast in which there was a discussion on the question as to whether profit-sharing would solve all labor problems. It was generally agreed that the sharing of profits might be a good thing (no mention was made of loss-sharing), but even those who favored it were not quite sure that it would put an end to labor disputes. The question, of course, assumes that labor does not share in the profits; but profits, directly and indirectly, come back to the workers in the form of more business and sustained employment. An unprofitable business will soon go out of business, and its employees out of employment. Profits are the feeders of capital, and without capital even a socialized industry could not carry on.

Prime Minister Attlee has told the labor unions to "restrain" their demands for higher wages because they would be taking away the profits of nationalized as well as private industries, and thus depleting the working capital. The only way of preventing that would be to raise prices, and then the workers would be no better off. They would be worse off, as it would lead to inflation and unemployment with the loss of export trade. All the top labor leaders agreed with Mr. Attlee, and they refused to sanction strikes for higher wages. But the delegates at the recent Trades Union Congress were opposed to the "restraint" on wages without the same on profits. The Government, however, has already taxed private profits and big incomes almost to the vanishing point, and it has lost the taxes it used to get from the industries it has nationalized, which are free from taxation.

All this has put the Socialist economic planners into a quandary. Where is the money to come from to capitalize the national industries and maintain the Welfare State? The New Statesman, the leading journal of the Socialist "intellectuals", opposes further taxation of profits, but it has conceived the bright idea of imposing the capital levy. That means a partial confiscation of private capital in banks and investments.

One would imagine that this proposal to "share the wealth" would meet with instant approval from all good Socialists, and especially from Mr. Bernard Shaw, who has spent most of his life in attacking the capitalists. But no; Mr. Shaw was shocked at the very idea of the capital levy. He at once wrote a letter to the editor of The Statesman which began with the exclamation, "For Heaven's sake don't!" He urged the editor not to countenance "that exploded ignis fatuus the Capital Levy. It and the General Strike", he said, "are the delusions we must root out of Labor politics .... If Cripps tried it on, compelling all capitalists to sell out, he would produce a money market in which there would be all sellers and no buyers, with shares and stocks down to zero. Lloyd George found this when he tried to tax land values (Stock Exchange values) and had to chuck it after making a fool of himself."

I can personally testify to that foolishness, for I was living in England at the time of the Lloyd George Budget. The taxation of land values certainly hit the landlords hard, but it hit tenants harder and put hundreds of thousands out of employment. It was the direct cause of the depression in 1911-12, which resulted in general strikes.

"You may call for further surtaxation of INCOME", Mr. Shaw continued, "but it is not for us to disguise it as taxation of capital, which is impossible. The Estate (Death) duties are a case in point. They are nominally a tax on capital, but are insured and paid with great difficulty and injustice, out of income". Coming from Bernard Shaw himself, these statements must have startled the editor of The Statesman. There was no immediate editorial reply. The argument was unanswerable.

"Maybe I am a rugged individualist!"

"NO reporters ever interview me. But just the same I figure every man should have his own opinions about politics, foreign affairs, business, or what have you.

"Take all this talk nowadays about old-age benefits, for instance. That's something everybody wants. And each man has a different idea of how much security he wants and how he'll get it.

"I know there are a lot of old folks in this country that really need help. But while I'm young and earning good money, I figure the big part of my own security-building job is up to me.

"So, I'm hanging on to all my life insurance and adding to it whenever I can. It gives me and my family protection now — and a better income for the future. And it's all planned the way I want it.

"What's more, by relying on life insurance for my future security, I know exactly where I stand. My life policies are gilt-edged in any weather. I know just how much they're going to pay off — and when.

"That's the way I like it.

"Maybe that makes me a rugged individualist. But if it does, there are millions of others like me. Because most Canadians like to do things on their own!"

The Week At Ottawa...

OTTAWA — Trade Minister Howe popped down to Washington this week and came home with a new pattern.

It was a pattern he had been wanting for quite a few months, and he went to Washington to get it only after he had been armed with special powers by the last emergency session of parliament.

Therefore he was signer for Canada of a Canada-U.S. agreement to pool resources and skills in a joint defence against aggression. The agreement actually has been in effect for some weeks. And in another sense, the principles formulated in the agreement are still being developed. These were the six points agreed upon at Washington:

1 All barriers which impede the flow of arms and equipment between the two countries will be removed "as far as possible".

2 A co-ordinated program of requirements, production and procurement will be developed "in order to achieve an optimum production of goods essential for the common defence."

3 As it becomes necessary, both countries promise to "institute co-ordinated controls over the distribution of scarce raw materials and supplies."

4 The Canada-U.S. emergency controls will be "mutually consistent" to achieve comparable effects in each country. Consultations will be held whenever one country institutes controls which may effect the other.

5 Technical knowledge and productive skills will be "freely" interchanged, "although Mr. Howe said this does not mean exchange of atomic information "at the moment".

6 If implementation of the agreement causes financial or foreign exchange problems, these will be the basis for consultation by "appropriate agencies" of the two governments.

Has Many Effects

These principles have been sought by Canada for some time. Now they are down on paper, and it may mean a number of things for this country.

For example, Canada is short of steel. If the agreement to allocate goods on an equal basis between the two countries has teeth, it means more steel for Canada. And this will mean more jobs for Canadians.

If the U.S. is going to buy in Canada an amount of arms equal to the amount Canada has to buy in the U.S., it will also mean more employment here. While the question of arms production is not specifically mentioned in the six-point agreement, there is little doubt here that Mr. Howe stressed an inequality which has been emphasized in this capital for some time — that Canada buys far more arms in the U.S. than she can sell to them, because of the U.S. "Buy American" act.

One indication of the teeth which may be in the agreement is the government bill passed at the emergency session of parliament which ended last month.

Power to control and regulate production, distribution and the use of "essential" materials and services is contained in the Essential Materials (Defence) Act. Piloted by Mr. Howe, the bill met some opposition. Mr. Howe will administer any section of it which might be brought into force.

Explaining the bill to the Commons when he was piloting it through, Mr. Howe said its prime purpose was to "enable the government to make sure that Canada's military program and Canadian international commitments with regard to preparedness and defence can be implemented without undue delay or disruption."

"In particular," he added, "this measure will enable the government, if necessary, to direct the distribution of essential materials, such as steel and essential services, such as electric power, the supply of which may be insufficient to meet both increasing military requirements and civilian needs."

Traditional Co-Operation

Mr. Howe's Commons' statement was followed by this statement in Washington this week:

"Once again we are placing our skills and other resources of raw materials and finished products at each others' disposal for a common purpose, the purpose being to harness the full industrial potential of the North American continent.

"Traditionally, Canada and the United States march side by side in time of war. The fact that in the field of military production we will march together in an effort to prevent another war will be reassuring to the peoples of both countries."

Mr. Howe added that the agreement, which has no date of termination, will provide for what he called "equality of sacrifice" by both countries.

While this was going on, a 350-man advance party sailed direct to Korea to prepare the way for the 9,000-man brigade which may or may not go there.

Nobody in Ottawa knew if the brigade itself is going there or not, and that meant, in effect, that nobody knew. The decision is up to the United Nations, and it is unlikely any decision will be made there without Canada knowing about it at once. The U.N. just hadn't made up its mind.

Meanwhile, the work party sailed from Seattle, to set up an arrangement which still might be called off at any moment.

Europe seemed to be the main worry of the United Nations, now that Korea was almost a dead issue. In token of this, Canada shipped to Holland enough arms to equip a division — more men than Canada has under arms at the moment. The shipments are made under the terms of the North Atlantic Pact. Canada bought the arms in the U.S. and will probably have to replace most of them from there.

The Prime Minister's office at Ottawa announced that the term of Viscount Alexander as Governor-General had been extended for one year. Viscount Alexander became Governor-General in 1946, and Saturday's announcement said the King has approved an extension for an additional year from the spring of 1951.

Consumer Credit Regulations

EFFECTIVE NOVEMBER 1, 1950, instalment sales of consumer goods at retail and loans for the purchase of consumer goods at retail will be subject to new Consumer Credit Regulations. This action has been taken under the Consumer Credit (Temporary Provisions) Act as passed by Parliament.

The Regulations apply to every person engaged in the business of selling consumer goods at retail on credit, in the business of making loans, or otherwise engaged in financing the purchase of consumer goods.

The following requirements will be in effect when retail sales are made on the instalment plan on and after November 1, 1950:

	Minimum down payment	Maximum time to pay
Motor vehicles (e.g. passenger automobiles and motorcycles)	33⅓%	18 months
All other consumer goods.	20%	18 months

In no case shall the down payment be less than $5.00.

INSTALMENT PAYMENTS are to be in regular, approximately equal, amounts of not less than $5.00 monthly or $1.25 weekly. Instalment payments may be varied to meet the circumstances of persons such as farmers and commercial fishermen whose incomes are subject to seasonal fluctuations.
Similar terms apply to loans granted by banks or loan companies for the purpose of purchasing consumer goods at retail.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS ARE INCLUDED WITH REGARD TO REVOLVING CREDIT ACCOUNTS, permanent budget accounts, current budget accounts, and similar plans involving payment for goods by regular instalments.

ORDINARY CHARGE ACCOUNTS ARE NOT DIRECTLY AFFECTED by the present Regulations, but steps will be taken, if necessary, to see that charge accounts are not used to evade the regulations relating to instalment sales.

THE REGULATIONS REQUIRE SELLERS, LENDERS AND FINANCE COMPANIES to maintain records of transactions, to make them available for inspection, and to furnish information on request to authorized representatives of the Government of Canada.

CONSUMER GOODS include all goods with certain exceptions. A full list of the exceptions will be found in the Regulations.

For example, the Regulations DO NOT APPLY to sales of real estate, stocks, bonds, securities, goods for professional or business use, buses, trucks, building materials, implements and equipment used exclusively in farming and fishing.

Penalties are provided for violation of the Regulations.

Minister of Finance

For the convenience of the public, copies of The Consumer Credit (Temporary Provisions) Act and Consumer Credit Regulations will be available at branches of the Chartered Banks throughout Canada.

BLACK MAGIC ?

Crude Molasses Deemed Cure-All Sick Buy Feed Store 'Medicine'

By ANSLIE KERR of the Journal Staff.

Nearly 5,000 times a month a white-collared clerk or sheer-stocking-inged stenographer opens the door on the big blue-painted front of Ritchie Feed and Seed Company on By Ward Market, files past the notices of auction sales of livestock and farm implements, the rows of chick and pig starter, and sidles self-consciously to the counter.

"Do you have any of that stuff they call crude molasses or cow molasses?" they ask sales manager Paul Woodburn or his busy fellow-employees.

"Sure have", is the answer. "What it by the quart or half-gallon?"

Regular Daily Rushes

"We can tell them soon as they come in the door", says Woodburn. "Naturally most of our trade is with farmers. But now we have a noon-hour and five o'clock rush of civil servants, and they're all after the same thing — the blackstrap molasses. You should hear their stories."

A shoemaker whose hand was crippled by arthritis or rheumatism — wasn't sure which — and who now attributes the cure to blackstrap molasses.

A woman who for years was bothered by high blood pressure and says crude molasses put an end to her troubles.

Others who have thrown their canes or crutches away.

Still others who claim molasses therapy cleared up for good their complaints of stomach ulcers.

The two doctors who came in to buy some and, questioned as to its medicinal value, replied almost in unison: "We don't prescribe this stuff. We just take it ourselves".

Buy It by Tank Car

From buying the heavy, thick molasses by the 45-gallon barrel to supply to farmers as a livestock conditioner, Ritchie's have been forced by the booming business to buy the new wonder food by tank car.

"We don't say this stuff will do anything for you", says Woodburn. "We put it up in plain containers with no blurbs, no promises of cures. They want it, we sell it, that's all. If we believed all the stories we hear from steady customers, we could set up a shrine in honor of blackstrap molasses."

Other retailers in various parts of the city have decided to cash in on the current craze. They too report similar stories from their customers.

A salesman in a Bank street furniture store, bald for years, claims blackstrap molasses has brought him a new and very welcome thatch of hair!

When the current issue of a magazine came up with a condensation of a book by Gayelord Hauser, internationally known lecturer and author on nutrition, brisk sales of crude molasses took another jump. Among the "wonder foods" he cited: blackstrap molasses.

"Seems every second person in the city is buying molasses", reports a Bank street grocer who gets rid of a 48-gallon barrel of crude molasses every two days.

Arthritis Patients Want It

One of Ottawa's leading authorities on arthritis, a busy practising physician, told The Journal: "I don't know what to tell my patients when they ask about crude molasses. I've been watching the medical journals for reports on it but haven't seen anything authoritative yet. I notice this same craze has hit Toronto. All I can say is if they want to try crude molasses, let them go ahead. Can't do them any harm."

The run on molasses hasn't escaped the watchful eyes of the Department of National Health and Welfare.

Authorities there told The Journal the Food and Drugs division had checked the molasses mania and found no cause for complaint. Molasses, they readily admit, is a food, not a patent medicine. As long as retailers do not advertise blackstrap molasses as a medicine with cure-all qualities or make unwarranted claims, Health and Welfare isn't interested.

But the same authorities refused to make any statement as to the curative or nutritional qualities of the black syrup.

Daily Doses

Health and Welfare speaks with glowing praise of the promise of relief that ACTH and Coristone have for some 600,000 arthritics in Canada, and for those suffering from other ailments as well. But with scant regard for these hard-to-get treatments which are still in the experimental stage, thousands of Ottawa civil servants are taking their daily dose of blackstrap molasses.

"Don't quote me", said one Health and Welfare official, "but I'm taking the stuff myself."

Many of the steady "molasses customers" have been trying to beg, borrow, buy or steal copies of a booklet entitled "Crude Black Molasses — the natural wonder-food" written by an English nutritionist and published in Britain. Local book stores have been swamped by demands for the book which advocates molasses for arthritis, rheumatism, weak heart, dermatitis, psoriasis, unhealthy finger nails, and hair, nerve cases, ulcers, anaemia and gall-stones, besides other ailments.

"We could have sold hundreds of copies", said a Bank street stationer, "but we're sold right out. We have more on order from England."

Meanwhile the run on blackstrap molasses, close kin of the "brimstone and treacle" treatment immortalized by Dickens in "Nicholas Nickleby", or the sulphur and molasses your Aunt Sophy always recommended for a Spring tonic, continues unabated.

TEN GOOD RULES FOR (DEFENSIVE) DRIVING

The courteous truck driver is always the safe truck driver, such men observe the following ten rules carefully, according to Commercial Car Journal:

1 They slow down at every intersection where vehicles are approaching or where vision is obscured.

2 They are prepared for the thoughtless or reckless driver who fails to stop at Stop Signs.

3 They let the other driver take the right-of-way if he insists on having it.

4 They slacken speed, drop back and let into line any driver who tries to pass and misjudges the space available.

5 They slow down when an approaching driver, in passing cars, has trouble getting back into his own lane.

6 They drop back and let into line any driver who foolishly tries to pass on a hill or curve.

7 They hold constant speed and give full opportunity to the driver behind who is intent on passing.

8 They watch out for pedestrians on the open road and at, and between, intersections.

9 They slow down when approaching cyclists or children at play; sound their horns, first at a distance so as not to startle, and then again when about to pass.

10 They keep their tempers even under the most trying circumstances. They know they can't be angry and safe drivers, too.

Athelstan

Thank Offering Meeting

ATHELSTAN — Laughter and tears mingled as Mrs. W. B. Leatherdale told amusing and pathetic incidents of her work as Hospital visitor. Mrs. Leatherdale was appointed early this year by the Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society as official visitor for Montreal's hospitals and already has made hundreds of visits. In a talk given in the Presbyterian Church on Thursday at the Autumn Thank Offering of the local W.M.S. Auxiliary, Mrs. Leatherdale charmed all present as she told of successful visits made.

The meeting opened with the Call to Worship. Miss Kimball read Psalm 103 and read a beautiful Thanksgiving Prayer, written by Jean Blewett for Glad Tidings. Twelve members answered the roll call by repeating a Bible verse on Worship. Mrs. David Watson sang as a solo, "Now sing we a song for the harvest". Mrs. Jamieson, in a few well-chosen words, introduced the guest speaker. Mrs. Leatherdale divided her talk into two parts: first, reading from Psalm 93 "O, sing unto the Lord a new song", she brought her Thanksgiving message. With the emphasis on Worship, Mrs. Leatherdale amplified each verse in turn, and told of helps towards inspiration in meetings. She mentioned the great need for a convalescing home for Presbyterian patients discharged with no place open for them.

The second part told of her hospital experiences and visits made. Mrs. Leatherdale took down names of several local persons now hospitalized and will shortly visit each.

Mrs. W. C. Tully thanked Mrs. Leatherdale on behalf of the Auxiliary for her kindness in coming to Athelstan and for her inspiring message. At the close of the meeting, afternoon tea was served in the Church hall, and a social half hour enjoyed. Mrs. Williams brought greetings from Rockburn Auxiliary, Mrs. W. F. MacDonald from Elgin and Mrs. R. D. MacLean from Huntingdon. In all, it was an afternoon long to be remembered.

Rev. A. B. Casselman, Aylmer, Que., secretary for Lord's Day Alliance, spoke in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday afternoon in the interests of the Alliance, and distributed envelopes for any who wished to contribute towards this worth-while work.

The Willing Workers' Mission Band will hold their Thank Offering meeting the first Saturday in November, when Miss Lily Macarthur, Children's Work Secretary, will be the guest speaker.

Mr. Wm. Jamieson spent several days the past week with friends in Cornwall and vicinity.

Mrs. W. B. Leatherdale, Montreal, was a guest of the Misses Tully and Kimball, Windy Way, Ridge Road, on Thursday.

Rev. Ronald Rowat, Malone, N.Y., was a dinner guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Rowat on Thursday.

Mrs. L. D. Watson is visiting in Verdun this week.

Rockburn

ROCKBURN—An accident which could have had much more serious results occurred Friday afternoon when a taxi driven by Mr. Kipprien, of Huntingdon, passed the Franklin School Bus which had stopped at the Rockburn crossroads to disembark some of the children, struck William Lindsay, about 8 years of age, who had started to cross the Highway.

Apparently realizing his error Mr. Kipprien applied his brakes so the child did not receive the full impact of the blow. Dr. McCrimmon was summoned and after examining the child found he had miraculously escaped serious injury and was able to be taken home after an hour or so, where he is recovering nicely. Constable Leduc, of the Provincial Police, Valleyfield, investigated the accident.

Sacrament was dispensed in the Rockburn Church Sunday and five new members were received.

Chateaugay N.Y. Central School Seniors Present Play

CHATEAUGAY, N.Y. — On Friday evening, October 27, the Senior Class of the Chateaugay Central School presented the play "Mother is a Freshman", to a large and enthusiastic audience. About 250 persons were present. The cast presented a finished performance, with the various humorous situations cleverly done. The action took place on the campus of Pionter College and the actors, mainly representing undergraduates, were able to portray various student types in a manner to thoroughly convince the audience. Jean Patnode gave a splendid picture of the co-ed noted for her friendliness but possessing a decidedly low I-Q. John Hyland was the stern prexy; Paul Cook, the campus hero, holder of at least seven varsity letters, acted the part with the proper amount of self-confidence. Kate Jones, as the frustrated daughter whose mother was a Freshman, lacked nothing in acting the part of a spoiled child; while Betty Brown with her soft voice and "clinging vine" manner, drew many a laugh.

In all there were 15 actors in the cast and each one gave a fine performance. William Cullen, dramatic coach, at the Chateaugay Central School had trained them well and he once again gave the audience a play well worth seeing.

The "Hotchkiss Decorators" prepared the sets and the action took place in a very attractive living room done in tones of red and green with a beautiful antique love-seat as the centrepiece. John Hotchkiss, teacher of Industrial Arts at the local school, has for several seasons prepared the sets for the Senior Play, and this year he, with Mrs. Hotchkiss, designed the sets and loaned the furnishings used.

The play was presented in the school gymnasium on an improvised stage, with space for the school orchestra between the stage and the audience. Mrs. Julia Hammond's pupils presented several musical numbers during the evening. Paul Cook and Gerald McDonald gave a trumpet duet, which was very fine. Gerald McDonald also handled the romantic lead in the play as the zoology professor who caused all the co-ed's hearts to flutter, even that of Abigail Fortitude Abbott, the mother who decided to try life as a Freshman. This part, played by Joyce LaBare, was a carefully worked out presentation of a mature woman, "at least 35", who finds herself obliged to adjust to life on a college campus where naivete and young love hold the centre of the stage.

RED CROSS RELIEF GROUPS PLANNED.

Charles McCollester, local representative of the Red Cross, has set up an organization which is expected to function in case of any major disaster that might affect this area. Such disasters might be floods, fires, earthquakes, etc. With the present threat of atomic warfare in case of another World War, this plan is expected to establish quick contact with Red Cross headquarters, and to efficiently set up relief measures suitable to the disaster. Considerable attention is being given to the role that Northern New York may play as a haven for evacuees from metropolitan areas of the state.

Charles A. Nolan, has been named General Chairman of the Red Cross Disaster Relief Committee for Chateaugay. Mr. Nolan has five sub-committees to handle various phases of the work. These sub-committees and their chairmen are as follows: Medical and Nursing aid, Mrs. Maurice Farden, Chairman; Warning Rescue and Evacuation, James Adams, Chairman; Food, Clothing and Shelter, Norman Godfrey, Chairman; Transportation and Communication, Robert Oliver, Chairman; Public Information and Registration, William Tacy, Chairman.

Committee members chosen to work on the sub-committee are as follows: Mrs. Spencer Banta, Mrs. Julia Kissane, Mrs. Gertrude LaFage, Mrs. Ellsworth Lawrence, Mrs. David Bean, will assist in medical and nursing aid. Members of the Chateaugay Volunteer Fire Department will assist in warning, rescue and evacuation. Israel Benjamin, Paul Des Groseilliers, Arthur Hammond, Mrs. Myre Lucia, Mrs. Katherine McKenna, James Kissane, Lester Adams and Aaron Rose will assist in food, clothing and shelter work. Henry Spellman, C. F. McCollester, Norma Bush, Thomas Abbott, Gordon Hill, will assist in transportation and communication work. Richard Peacock, Jane Duffy, Mrs. C. W. Harrica, William Ferrell, Russell Tolosky will assist in handling public information and registration.

CHATEAUGAY CENTRAL SCHOOL TAKES FIFTH PLACE IN CONTEST.

The 39th Annual High School Judging Contest took place at the New York State Agricultural and Technical Institute at Canton, N.Y., on Oct. 21. Twenty-three schools from Northern New York participated. The Chateaugay team had three members: Donald Johnson, Patrick Dwyer, Claude Bisonette. This was the first time that the Chateaugay team had entered this contest which covered judging of dairy cattle, poultry, corn, potatoes, and rope splicing. The junior and senior classes, in Vocational Agriculture, accompanied by their instructor, William Dupree, attended the contest. Donald Johnson received first place as high individual in rope splicing. In the overall results, Chateaugay placed fifth. The points scored varied from first place 1191.3 to 881.2 for the lowest, with Chateaugay getting 1096.6. The first ten teams out of the twenty-three contestants were: Canton, Heuvelton, Hammond, Lowville, Chateaugay, Madrid, Gouverneur, Bushton, Sandy Creek, Beaver River.

POLITICAL CAMPAIGNS NOW IN FULL SWING

With election day less than a week away, both Republicans and Democrats are making their appeals to the voter, via speakers at party rallies, radio talks, and newspaper articles. The North Country vote drew both Gubernatorial candidates to this area in the early fall. Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Democratic candidate Walter A. Lynch toured the towns in the northern tier and spoke at rallies, two of which took place in Malone. Gov. Dewey is seeking re-election to office, he being now in his second term as governor of the Empire State. Voters will also cast their ballots for Lt. Governor, Attorney General and State Comptroller. The contests however, have developed mainly between candidates for governor and those for United States Senator from New York State. Herbert H. Lehman is seeking re-election on the Democratic ticket, while Lt. Gov. Joe Hanley is running for the office of senator on the Republican ticket. Feeling is running high and both parties are asking the people to "Look at the Record," a phrase made popular by the late Alfred E. Smith, who was several times elected to the office of Governor of New York State.

Locally, attention is focused on the candidates for office of Sheriff and Assemblyman. Clifford Revoir, of Malone, opposes the present incumbent, Sheriff William Girard. Elmer H. McCann is the Democratic opponent of Attorney Robert G. Main for the office of Assemblyman. McCann is a native son of Chateaugay, a resident of the village, is engaged in farming and has long played an important role in farm organizations. While Franklin County is normally a strong Republican area, it is expected that McCann will pull a large farmer vote.

Al Seymour of Malone (Democratic campaign manager) introduced Revoir and McCann to the radio audience in a program carried by station WICY on Monday evening, Oct. 30. In his talk, Mr. McCann reviewed the changes in the life of the farmer during the past thirty years, stressing: mechanization of farm work; competition for markets, requiring specialization; scientific methods; legislative action that required the farmer to be well-informed on what was happening. He reminded them that farming was a business and that in Franklin County business could not prosper without the farmer also being prosperous. The Democratic campaign is relying on the ability of Elmer McCann to convince the voting public that a member of the Assembly from Franklin County ought to be a man with practical experience and education in farming.

Elmer McCann is a popular young man, a successful business man, and the proprietor of a 700 acre farm. He has long been active in farm and civic organizations and is an outstanding example of "Local boy makes good."

DISASTROUS FIRE CAUSES GREAT DAMAGE ON McCORMICK PROPERTY.

Between 1 and 2 o'clock on the morning of Saturday, Oct. 28, a fire was discovered on the farm of Charles McCormick, Mr. McCormick's farm lies about three miles north of Chateaugay on route 274. The fire had gained such headway before being discovered that firemen were unable to save the barns. They were able, however, to prevent destruction of the house. Two barns were destroyed, one 120' by 36', and an ell 60' by 30'. The barns were modernly equipped and held two horses, a valuable bull, five calves, 200 tons of hay, ensilage, and between 1,400 and 1,500 bushels of oats. It is believed that the fire started from spontaneous combustion in a small silo in which cut straw was stored.

Despite the heavy loss, Mr. McCormick was fortunate in that he had about 100 head of cattle, 60 milkers and the rest young stock, at pasture the night of the fire. He also saved considerable farm machinery.

Mr. McCormick is Supervisor for the Town of Chateaugay. He has been a successful farmer for some years and will soon make plans to replace facilities lost in the fire.

A WORTHWHILE SCHOOL ACTIVITY

The Maroon Highlights, issue of Oct. 31, 1950, was delivered to an eager group of students on Tuesday morning. This newspaper has a staff of 31, headed by Sheila O'Neil and Margaret Carey, co-editors. Miss Florence Ryan and Miss Florence Dwyer are faculty advisors.

Included in the current issue are pictures and brief biographical sketches of three new members of the Chateaugay Central School faculty: Miss Katherine Eagan, Mr. John O'Donnell and Miss Florilda Boyer, also similar studies of three members of the senior class: Pat Dwyer, Rita Duheme, David Moore.

An inquiring reporter (column), news of club activities, lists of class officers, and review of the senior play, "Mother is a Freshman," are some of the items in this very interesting, all-appealing school paper.

A feature article on page 1 explains the Christopher Movement, that vital force calling on all mankind to return to a Christ-like approach to our problems, to the vital force that activated the "founding-fathers" of America.

Another interesting story concerns the tour of WSYR radio station in Syracuse, when the delegates to the ESSPA convention were guests of Daniel Casey, alumnus of Chateaugay High School and now one of the directors of the radio and television station.

The editorial page carries two short editorials, one on the question, "Why go to High School?" and the second, a colorful comment on autumn, its beauties and its significance.

Anyone reading this splendid school paper cannot but realize what a vital part it plays in school life and in the enrichments of those students now members of the staff of the Maroon Highlights.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Anette Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lewis of Rockburn, and Kenneth Lanktree, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lanktree of Chateaugay.

Mrs. James Hyland, who was for some weeks a patient at the Champlain Valley Hospital in Plattsburg, is now convalescing at her home in Chateaugay.

Mrs. Margaret Jenkins, who was recently a patient at the Alice Hyde Hospital in Malone, is now making good recovery at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George O'Neil, in Chateaugay.

Herb. Kenyon, who for a number of years has been engaged in farming at Chateaugay Lake died there during the past week. His remains were taken to Syracuse, his former home for burial. He leaves besides his widow, a daughter.

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Miss Evelyn Belle Humphrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Humphrey, of Churubusco, and Wesley Perry, son of Mrs. Edna Perry, and the late Treffly Perry, formerly of Churubusco. The wedding took place in Troy, N.Y., October 15. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fitzgerald, brother-in-law and sister of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Abbott and daughter Darleen will take up their residence at Little Falls this week. Mr. Abbott is now employed there as manager of the dairy department in an A. and P. Super Market.

Mrs. Helen E. Merritt has been engaged to serve as dental hygienist at the Chateaugay Central School. This service will be for a ten-week period at the local school. Mrs.

Tom Gard's Note Book

It's time to wind up the gardening season for another year. It hardly seems possible that winter is just around the corner and that semi-hardy plants require mulching again, but my youngest hauled his skates up from the basement yesterday — a sure sign, if there ever was one.

"Roses call for special attention. Bedding roses can be treated as illustrated in the diagram. Something new for mulching hybrid teas and hybrid perpetual roses, as well as many bedding plants, came to my attention last year. Glass-fibre insulation that contains little plastic or resin water-proofing material was spread as a blanket over the plants. Hybrid perpetuals were wrapped in burlap and then covered with the insulation materials. This mulch allows free circulation of air and permits water to pass through to the soil. I certainly intend to try it myself this year.

Table-leg Lamps

This winter promises to be a pleasant one. New neighbors moved in next door and the man of the house—Herb—has a marvellous home workshop. He seems to have all the tools that an amateur could ever hope to master. Just yesterday Herb was showing me a smart pair of lamps he was making out of old oak table legs. Evidently a niece of his was being married and as any appropriate gift would cost a small fortune, he was putting his talent to good use.

Serviette Rings

Seeing Herb's tidy workbench shamed me into pushing my way through the debris of my own for a general housecleaning job. Imagine my surprise to find that my youngest had taken over a small corner and is making a set of serviette rings for Mother's Christmas present. The idea was picked up in his handicraft period at summer camp and he's taking no chances on not having them completed in time—maybe I should take the hint!

W. M. S. Meeting

St. Andrew's W.M.S. met on Wednesday, Oct. 25, at the home of Mrs. W. Perkins with a good attendance. Mrs. G. Paul was in the chair, with Mrs. McColm acting as secretary. Several items of business were discussed that had been left over from last meeting.

It was moved by Mrs. Moody, seconded by Miss Walker, that the society invest in a bond, the interest to be used for the allocation. Motion carried.

The postponed Thank-offering meeting has been arranged to take place on Friday, Dec. 1, at 8 p.m., when Rev. Ronald Rowat, of Malone, will be the guest speaker.

Donations of used clothing for the bale are to be left at Mrs. McWhinnie's the third week in November. Mrs. McWhinnie also made an appeal for literature. It was decided to hold a food sale on Friday, Nov. 10, in the Annex, notice to be given later in the Gleaner.

The treasurer reported having sent $195.00 to the Presbyterial.

The lesson for the day was taken by Mrs. R. Merson, who gave a most interesting account of the mission work done in Japan by the late Miss Caroline McDonald. The closing prayer was repeated, and a social hour was spent, refreshments being served by the hostess.

The Rev. Father Arthur Pigeon is presently in Europe enjoying a visit to several countries that was made possible through the generosity of the members of St. Joseph's Church who gave him the trip. A few days ago, the Gleaner received a letter mailed from Paris from Father Pigeon intimating how much he is enjoying the trip. He stated he had already visited Dublin, Huntingdon, Godmanchester and Hinchinbrooke Castle, names that are quite familiar to all in this area. Father Pigeon extends his warmest regards to the many municipal officials and citizenry in general of this community.

HUNTINGDON, QUE.

In a very few days the citizens of Huntingdon will once more be asked to remember the dead of two World Wars by wearing a poppy and, where possible, by displaying a wreath in places of business, churches, schools, and in the windows of their homes.

When we display these emblems of remembrance made by the hands of disabled veterans who offered themselves in our defence, we remind ourselves and our children of the terrific price that has been paid for our freedom, and also show the world that these heroes and what they died for shall never be forgotten by us.

The funds contributed by the public provide employment for disabled veterans, help veterans and the widows and orphans of veterans, also provide our local Poppy Committee with welfare funds which are used to assist veterans and their dependents who are in distressed circumstances.

The Huntingdon Branch of the Canadian Legion appreciates the generosity and co-operation of our citizens in the past, and as Chairman of the 1950 Poppy Day Campaign in this community I solicit your whole-hearted support.

Yours sincerely,

JOHN TELFER,
Chairman Poppy Campaign

Valleyfield H. & S. Holds First Meeting Of the Year

VALLEYFIELD — On Monday evening, October 23rd, the Valleyfield Home and School Association held its first meeting of the year, at the Gault Institute. Despite unfavourable weather, it was well attended.

The theme of the evening was programme planning. The Association was very fortunate in having as a speaker Mrs. Willow, co-chairman of the Programme Planning Committee of the Quebec Federation Home and Schools. Mrs. Willow gave a most interesting outline of programme planning — outlining on the blackboard various themes that had been followed by Home and School Associations in different parts of Canada. It was pointed out that if aims and purposes are kept in mind for planning a programme, then it should work out all right. Each committee should know their community needs, and so plan accordingly. Some communities choose a theme for the year, and all activities worked in the programme follow that theme.

Following Mrs. Willow's talk, there was a short question period. The second feature of the evening was the showing of several films. These included "On the Air", the story behind a radio broadcast — giving as well some of the early history of radio. The second film was entitled "Bushland Fantasy", a technicolor short of the Australian bushland, and its wild animal life.

Following the films, the president adjourned the meeting. Refreshments were served in the Household Science classroom.

NESS-MILNE

Amidst a setting of hydrangeas, asters and gladioli in the Riverfield Presbyterian Church on Saturday, Oct. 21st, 1950, at 3 o'clock, a very pretty wedding was solemnized when Shirley Georgina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Finlay Milne of Riverfield, Que., became the bride of Mr. Robert Bruce Ness, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ness, Howick, Que.

The Rev. J. S. McBride officiated and Mrs. Wilburn Anderson of Howick, played the wedding music, accompanying Mrs. E. Wood of Athelstan, who sang "O Perfect Love," and "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given away by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with nylon net yoke and tight fitting bodice fastened at the back with tiny buttons, long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her fingertip veil was held by a coronet of seeded and beaded pearls and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her only ornament was a three strand necklet of pearls with matching earrings, the gift of the groom. Mr. Robert E. Ness, cousin of the groom, acted as best man and the ushers were Mr. Clifford Brown and Mr. Murray Templeton.

Miss Aneta Milne, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, wore a gown of autumn green satin with matching headdress and long mitts and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Misses Margaret Anne and Marjorie Ness, twin sisters of the groom, as bridesmaids, wore gold satin gowns fashioned on the same line as the maid of honor's and carried bouquets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Their ornaments were rhinestone necklaces and earrings, gifts of the bride.

Miss Anne Brown, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl and was similarly dressed in orchid, carrying a nosegay and wearing a sterling silver locket.

Mrs. Milne, mother of the bride, wore a dress of navy Romaine crepe with matching accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Ness, mother of the groom, wore a dress of claret red crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

WINTER SPORTS

Hockey

On Wednesday and Thursday, the Valleyfield Braves took a further plunge into the abyss when they lost two games to the Quebec Aces (4-2) and the Chicoutimi Saguenays (4-3) respectively.

Down 3-2 in the dying moments of the game on Wednesday, Valleyfield Goalie Paul Leclerc was taken out of the nets and replaced by an extra forward. The strategy backfired, however, as the Aces punched home the clincher just before the bell.

Valleyfield had pushed the play throughout the second period but were unable to get by Jean Marois' efficient goal-tending.

Andre Corriveau scored twice at the start of the third period bringing the Braves to within one goal of Quebec. But with the goaler pulled out of the Braves' nets at the end of the period, Gamble came back for his second marker 50 seconds before the end of the game. Final score, 4-2.

On Thursday Larry Kwong, Jack Irvine and Andy Menzies counted for the Braves.

Chicoutimi Sags led the way in the opener but in the second, Valleyfield fought back and Kwong counted at 3.42 on passes from Menzies and Jacques Deslauriers At 8.15, Irvine broke away alone to score.

The third frame saw Valleyfield go ahead temporarily at 7.39 with Menzies taking passes from Kwong and Jackie Schmidt to beat goalie Al Murphy of Chicoutimi.

The Chicks weren't done, however, and Bourgeois counted at 11.50 with Johnny Muretich and Rollie Morriseau setting him up. Roy teamed up with Gerry Cabana to get the winning goal at 15.30. Final score: 4-3.

Corriveau leading Q.S.H.L. Scorers

Andre Corriveau, speedy right winger of the Valleyfield Braves, leads the Quebec Senior Hockey League in scoring for a third week. He had eight goals and nine assists for a 17-point total, one better than Chicoutimi's Lou Smrke and two up on Jerry Cabana of the Chicks, who was co-leader last week.

Football

Former Huntingdon High School students have recently won their third straight game of football by defeating the Burke N.Y. Bears by a score of 25-0 for the second time.

Following is a summary of the game:

1st Quarter

H'don: touchdown (Robb) 6 pts. 55-yd. run.

2nd Quarter

H'don: touchdown (Arnold) 6 pts. Pass from Robb.

3rd Quarter

H'don: Kick 1 pt.

4th Quarter

H'don: touchdown (Beaudin) 6 pts Pass from Robb.

The Burke Bears play a very good game, but the Huntingdon squad was just a little better. The Huntingdon line consisted of Heath, Tobin, Flynn and Saumier and was certainly good. The next game will be against Valleyfield, the date yet to be set.

The Farm Forums have again started their broadcasts and meetings for the eleventh year. The first meeting of the Gore Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ord Taylor with a good attendance. The broadcast was listened to after which discussons on the following topics were held. 1. How could hours of labor be shortened on your farms without reducing income?. 2. Should a farmer try to shorten hours of labor on the farm or should he concentrate on increasing his income.

Many points were discussed but all felt that if the farmers working hours were shortened, some of their duties would be neglected and their income would be smaller.

The officers were elected and are Chairman W. J. McCartney; Secretary, Allister Neely; Recreation, Josie Moneypenny; Press Secretary, Mrs. Sam Herdman. A social hour was spent in playing "500". Refreshments were served. Next meeting to be at Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McCartney's.

Canada's population increased most rapidly at the times of the American Revolution, the Irish famine, the building of the Canadian railways and the opening of the Canadian west.

PILON-RIEL

The marriage of Jeannette, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. André Riel of Dalhousie St., to Gilles Pilon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pilon of St. Stanislas de Kostka, was solemnized in St. Joseph's Church, on Oct. 21, by the Rev. Father George Quenneville.

The bride was dressed in fuschia chiffon velvet made on princess lines with a short train with shoes and hat to match. Her fur cape was of white rabbit. She carried a mother-of-pearl prayer book with orchids and imported ribbons and lilies of the valley.

The bride's mother was dressed in autumn rose chiffon velvet with sweetheart neckline. She wore a mole skin fur cape. The groom's mother was dressed in navy blue faille crepe. The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. For travelling the bride wore a navy blue wool broadcloth suit, with hat, shoes, purse and gloves of taupe grey. They left by car for a wedding trip to Quebec, St. Anne de Beaupré and other eastern points. On their return they will take up residence in Valleyfield.

Bags Bull Moose on Hunting Trip

DUNDEE — Mr. Simeon Quenneville of the Dundee Customs reports that he and two companions Mr. Henri Tremblay, of St. Anicet, and Mr. Paul Tremblay, of Montreal, were successful in bagging a bull moose on a recent hunting trip up North. The party hunted at Club Paul a private reserve at Lac Frenchere in the Mont Laurier district. The first shot fired by Henri Tremblay felled the animal and thinking he was dead they laid down their guns only to find several minutes later that he was only stunned. A small stone thrown at him caused him to suddenly jump up and make for the hunters in a dangerous manner. Two more shots fired by Henri finished him off however and when he fell he was only 27 ft from where they stood. A little close for comfort so they thought. Mr. Paul Tremblay filmed the action with a 35 mm. movie camera the showing of which should be interesting. The moose estimated to be an 8 yr. old, weighed around 1200 lbs. so there will be plenty of moose steak available for the lucky hunters and their friends.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Colquhoun were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dick, Mr. Bruce Dick and Miss Joyce Rigby also Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hinthey, all of Montreal.

Miss Thelma McMillan returned home on Saturday after spending nearly two weeks visiting her mother, Mrs. H. S. Smith in Amsterdam, N.Y.

Joseph and Albert Quenneville also his nephew, Mr. Robert Quenneville and family. Penn Yan is in the Finger Lake area of N. Y. State and due to the tempering action of the lake waters the seasons are much longer than farther north. Mr. Albert Quenneville has 30 acres of vineyard and this year harvested 80 tons of grapes. They are just now digging their potatoes. The Quenneville party report having had a very enjoyable trip. Their relatives have television sets and the reception was so good they spent most of the time watching the programmes.

Miss Janet Cockerline of St. Lambert, Que., spent a recent weekend visiting her sister, Mrs. A. H. Fraser.

Mr. Howard Fraser who is taking an Arts course at Sir George Williams College, in Montreal spent the week-end at his home in Dundee.

Hemmingford Scholars Enjoy Sight-Seeing Trip

HEMMINGFORD—On Saturday, October 21st, Mrs. M. E. Lindsay and twenty-six pupils from Hemmingford Intermediate School went on a sight-seeing trip to Montreal. Elmhurst Dairy was the first stop. While there the pupils were shown by Mr. G. Bonsall what goes on every day at a dairy. After that everyone was treated to ice-cream. The next point of interest was the Chateau de Ramsay. Everyone enjoyed looking at the antiques. Among these was the first fire engine, first cars and the first locomotive, also beautiful paintings and old china. After lunch, the pupils went to the McGill Redpath Museum where stuffed animals, shells, rocks and many other important things were of great interest to everyone. The fourth interesting stop was the war museum where some 200 life size statues were seen. Among these were King George VI, General Montgomery, General Eisenhower were most life like. Jacques Cartier with Indians on the shore of the St. Lawrence River and other historic scenes in connection with history proved most interesting. A wonderful view of the city was obtained from the Shrine Tower and steps.

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Lindsay by Mildred Kyle and three cheers for the bus driver, Mr. Edwin Keddy.

An open meeting of the W.M.S. was held on Wednesday, Oct. 18th, in the United Church Hall, with a very good attendance of members, associate members, the C.G.I.T. members and many visitors.

Correspondence included an invitation from Lacolle to attend their meeting on Nov. 9th, when Miss Reid will speak on her work in Africa. Mrs. F. Pelletier, Sec'y for the Missionary Monthly made a special appeal for more subscribers for this paper. These she hoped to receive at the next meeting. It was announced that at the next meeting a bale of clothing would be packed for forwarding to the needy. It is hoped that, as in the past, all members and associate members will do their best to make this parcel of clothes a very good one. Mrs. C. E. Lengfield, Literature Secretary of the Montreal Presbyterial was the guest speaker of the day and gave a most interesting account of her book-shelf and Literature. Sincere appreciation to Mrs. Lengfield! All wish her much success and the very best of everything. A book-shelf was purchased for the use of the organization, also a packet for the Mission Band. A duet, "God's perfect true love will never grow old" was beautifully rendered by Mrs. Halton Kennedy and Mrs. Herb. McNaughton. Mrs. E. Clelland accompanist. Rev. W. Prime Minister Boosts Cheese Festival In Canada

Above will be seen Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, holding a nice size piece of cheese on his plate and seemingly deep in discussion with Mr. Gilbert McMillan of Huntingdon, President of the Dairy Farmers of Canada. To the right of Mr. McMillan is T. B. Cooper, chairman of the joint Cheese Festival committee. The Festival is now under way across Canada and Canadian cheese is being featured in food stores to encourage more domestic use of this commodity. It is also part of the dairy farmers campaign to boost the use of dairy products. The Prime Minister had already partaken of a goodly portion of cheese at a luncheon he attended.

Home and School

"No man goeth about a more Godly purpose than he who is mindful of the right upbringing not only of his own but of other men's children".
—Socrates

Did your community ever have a Christmas Door Decorating Contest? Beauharnois had one, sponsored by its Home and School Association, last year. The resultant decorations were sufficient to bring people from miles around just to drive about the streets during the festive season. The enthusiasm generated has already assured an even more successful competition this year.

Last year, the notices — and they were embellished with seasonable decorations — and entry forms were mailed fairly widely on December 10th. Entries closed December 20th with the fee set at one dollar — the fee entitling all the household to attend a Christmas party in the school house the night of the judging — December 21st.

The contest was open to all residents of Beauharnois to decorate a door and door frame or — to decorate a window and frame. No restrictions were placed on decorations either with or without lights. Awards were made on the basis of originality and decorative ability.

A week after the notices were mailed, the entry forms were collected by a number of volunteers who made personal calls at each house to make quite certain that all the competitors were fully aware of the time of judging.

After all the entries were in, the community was divided into sections of twelve to fifteen houses each, with three local judges — two men and one woman — assigned to each section, to select the two or three doors to be considered in the final round.

To assure the minimum possible bias, the judges were picked from those who had not entered the contest. To avoid any possible preselection all the judges were assembled at 6.30 p.m. on the night of the competition and assigned their areas in sealed envelopes just prior to setting out on their missions. The actual selections were returned on completion of their findings in similarly sealed envelopes.

The final selection by five non-residents from nearby communities started after their collection of the various sealed envelopes from the district judges. Picking of the prize winners was facilitated by having a local resident drive the five strangers doing the final judging to the score or so of houses they had to see.

The winners were announced at the Christmas party in the school gym about 10.30 p.m. and the three prizes were presented by His Honour the Mayor of Beauharnois.

The school-house party was concluded with light refreshments, carols and Christmas songs by the Teen-Twenty Choir and dancing to a juke box.

The most edifying features — apart from the financial one — of the whole project were the greatly enhanced appearance of the community over the festive season and the enthusiasm that is currently manifest in anticipation of another competition this year. By popular request the area is being extended this season to include the surrounding districts and entries are being divided into three classes.

1. Door and frame (or window).
2. Home and grounds.
3. Store windows.

Aside from other considerations, the warm and friendly feeling engendered in a community by this project and the pleasure brought to the several shut-ins who were driven around to view the festive decorations, has amply repaid the committee and judges for all the work they expended in its organization and execution.

Perhaps your Home and School Association might sponsor a similar project in your district. If you want any more detailed information write Mrs. J. E. Sullivan, Trudel Boulevard, Beauharnois, P.Q.

WEDDING

ELLIOTT-McCAIG

The marriage of Audrey Jean, daughter of the late Robert L. McCaig and Mrs. McCaig of Ormstown, Que., to Mr. Douglas Reid Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Elliott of Ormstown, Que., took place on Saturday, October 14th, at 2.30 p.m. in St. Paul's United Church, Ormstown. The Rev. T. Knowles officiated.

Mrs. Percy Osmond played the wedding march and Miss Shirley Baxter sang "Because," and "I'll Walk Beside You," during the signing of the register. Asters, poms, leaves and candles were used as decorations in the church.

The bride, given away by her brother John, wore a gown of white brocaded satin, fashioned on princess lines, with covered buttons down the back, the skirt finishing in a short train. The bodice had a sweetheart neckline, and fitted sleeves ending in points over the hands. Her veil of tulle having an embroidered scalloped edge, was caught with a crown, and she carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty Roses.

The bridal attendants — Mrs. Glenn Waller, sister of the bride as matron of honor, was gowned in a frock of gold corded silk with cap sleeves and long mitts of the same material and a little cap with matching buttons along the edge, and carried a round bouquet of bronze mums. Miss Dorothy McCaig and Miss Eleanor McCaig, sisters of the bride, as bridesmaids, were gowned alike in frocks of burnt orange corded silk, with cap sleeves, long mitts and little caps, with covered buttons along the edge. They carried bouquets of yellow mums.

Mr. Gordon Elliott acted as best man for his brother, and the ushers were Mr. Ross Elliott, brother of the groom and Mr. Harold McCaig, brother of the bride.

Mrs. McCaig, mother of the bride, wore a grey corded crepe with black accessories and wore a corsage of tea roses. Mrs. Elliott, mother of the groom, wore an American Beauty crepe dress and hat with black accessories and wore a corsage of carnations.

The reception was held in the church hall, and vines and yellow and white flowers decorated the hall, with white candles.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Elliott left on a trip to the Maritimes, the bride travelling in a grey gabardine suit with rust accessories and yellow mums. On their return they will reside in Ormstown, Que.

Obituaries

The Late Miss Aggie Reaine

Miss Aggie Rennie was born on the old Rennie Homestead in Rockburn vicinity. She was a teacher in that neighbourhood for about 12 years. Later she moved with her brothers to Huntingdon where she spent the last forty-two years of her life. Her death took place in Huntingdon County Hospital on Sunday, Oct. 22, after a prolonged and painful illness which she bore with patience and fortitude.

The Rev. T. Knowles was in charge of the funeral service, assisted by the Rev. W. S. Hatcher and Rev. J. B. Maclean, D.D. She was a member of the United Church and took a great interest in the Sunday School, the W.M.S. and other organizations. Her life was spent in untiring devotion to her home and friends. She was quiet, unassuming, thoughtful of others and kindly disposed, but none were more true and loyal to the church and her God, both of which she loved.

The spirit of her whole life could be summed up in the words "Faithful unto death". She was an inspiration to all who worked along with her. She has gone to a truly well earned reward and will be missed by those who knew her best.

Recipes

PIES PREFERRED

History does not record the name of the Chef who, of necessity, made pies of apples instead of meat. His apple pies were so successful that pie soon became more popular as dessert than as a main course dish. The variety of dessert pies has increased until there are hundreds of fruit, custard and gelatine-sponge pies from which to choose.

The homemaker who is able to make good pastry holds the key to popularity in her home and community. The home economists of the Consumer Section, Canada Department of Agriculture, say that there is no good or bad luck in pastry making. It is accuracy in measuring and care in handling that counts. There are many excellent methods and recipes for pastry. The following modern method of mixing pastry makes it almost failure-proof.

Plain Pastry

3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
OR 3 1/3 cups pastry flour
1½ teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons cold water
¾ cup lard or mild-flavoured fat
Mix flour and salt. Remove ½ cup of the flour and blend the water into it, making a smooth paste. Cut the fat into the remaining flour until the pieces are the size of small peas. Mix in the flour paste, combine until the dough clings together. Chill before rolling. Makes enough pastry for 3 nine-inch pie shells; or 1 double crust and 1 nine-inch shell; or 3 dozen two-inch tart shells.

There are, however, several points which are worth keeping in mind.

Too much flour makes tough pastry.

Too much shortening makes the pastry dry and crumbly.

Too much liquid makes heavy pastry.

Too much handling spoils the tender mixture.

It is this last point on which the novice often stumbles. In her efforts to make the perfect pie, she works with the pastry too long.

The pastry is most important in pie-making but it is the filling that gives the pie its character.

These tested recipes should be added to the list of favourites.

Butterscotch Peach Pie

1 9-inch unbaked pie shell
1 20-oz. can peaches
¾ cup brown sugar
3 tablespoons butter
3½ tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon vinegar

Line a 9" pie plate with pastry. Drain liquid from peaches and slice the fruit into the pastry shell. Mix the peach syrup and brown sugar and bring to boil. Melt butter, add flour, salt and cinnamon. Add this mixture slowly to hot liquid and cook until mixture is thick and smooth, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat and add vinegar. Pour the sauce over sliced peaches and cover with a lattice of pastry strips. Bake in a very hot oven, 425° F., until done, about 25 minutes. Yield: one 9-inch pie.

Pumpkin Chiffon Pie

3½ cups cooked pumpkin
1 cup brown sugar
3 egg yolks
1½ teaspoons ginger
¾ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon mace
½ teaspoon allspice
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
3 egg whites
2 baked 9-inch pie shells

Mix pumpkin with ¾ cup brown sugar, beaten egg yolks, spices, salt and milk. Cook in the top of a double boiler until thickened, about 20 minutes. Beat egg whites until stiff, beating in remaining ¾ cup sugar and fold meringue quickly into the pumpkin mixture. Pour filling into the baked pie shells and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375° F., for 10 minutes. Cool and serve. Yield: two 9-inch pies.

Franklin Centre

FRANKLIN CENTRE—It was a great pleasure to the farmers to turn back their clocks the one hour which has been such a drawback to them for the past six months, especially the last month when farmers who were helping out in orchards and packing houses had to be up in the morning and get their milking and other chores done and be at work by seven o'clock. I wonder if the one or ones who passed this law had to get out in the cold, wet, frosty mornings, looking for their cows with lanterns and flashlights, would not return quickly to the right time within a day or two. It is about time the general public had a chance to express their views by voting on this matter, which is yearly getting worse.

Miss Hannah Coyne spent a few days recently with her aunt, Mrs. Charles Cassidy and also a few days in Montreal visiting at the homes of her cousins before returning to her home at Albany, N.Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Dickenson accompaied Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Pitt from Montreal to Sudbury, Ont. on Saturday. Mrs. Pitt had been called there to visit her brother, Mr. Emerson McKinnon, who was working at the mines, and had unfortunately been in a car accident and was seriously injured.

Mrs. Ralph Smithers of Rensselaer Falls, N.Y., was the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Patneaude last week.

Mr. James Ryan and son, John, of Montreal, were Saturday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cassidy.

Prizes were presented to eight members of the S.S. in the Church of the Nazarene on Sunday for three months' perfect attendance.

Mr. Merle Brooks, and his mother, Mrs. Inez Brooks, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison Brooks and Janie, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Moneypenny, Lois Ann, Norman and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brooks and Joan were "surprise" guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Moore, Covey Hill, on Friday evening. The special occasion was Mrs. Moore's birthday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Missionary Society of the Church of the Nazarene was held on Thursday evening. The society completed last year's Study Book, Japan. A summary of the six new reading books for this year was given by Miss Mina Dickenson. These books relate to the new topic for the coming year, Palestine and other Countries of the Near East.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardy of Springfield, Mass., spent from Friday until Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevenson and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wooten and daughter, Miss Phyllis, of Montreal were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McNiece. Other guests at the same home were Miss Annie Waddell, Mrs. E. B. Smith and Mary Anna of Montreal, Mr. John and Miss Libbie Waddell and Mr. George Harrington of Covey Hill. These guests were also callers at the homes of Mrs. E. M. Sharpe and Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Bruce.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hardy of Springfield, Mass., and Mrs. Fred Stevenson were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of the Misses Dunn.

FRANKLIN CENTRE W.I.

The October meeting of the Franklin Centre Branch of the W.I. was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McNeil on Monday evening, October 23rd, at which a social evening was enjoyed by members and invited guests.

Cards were played at nine tables —8 tables of "500" and 1 of euchre. Prize winners were: Gents' 1st prize, Mr. Connie Greenwood; ladies' 1st prize, Mrs. Puluk; ladies' consolation, Mrs. R. J. Blair and gents' consolation, Mr. Puluk. Chair prize was won by Mr. P. Donnelly and door prize by Mr. A. Johnson.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. McNeil for their kind hospitality and was replied to by Mr. McNeil in a few well chosen words. Refreshments of sandwiches, cake and coffee were served by the ladies. Proceeds amounted to $21.25, in aid of the Barrie Memorial Hospital fund.

Covey Hill

COVEY HILL—A broadening feature in modern education is the plan for exchange visits of groups of British and Canadian teachers and students. We cannot help admiring the accuracy in accounting, the finish of the handwriting, proficiency in singing, and superior enunciation in reading and reciting, which are only some of the good results noticed by Canadian teachers who get English pupils. The elementary groundwork is thorough, preparing for ambitious standards later on.

An English letter tells of a young girl of sixteen who was successful in securing admission to a College of Domestic Science, where 100 applications were made for 24 vacancies. Probably undertaken as a diversion, the pupils staged a drama on the theme of Thomas à Becket's quarrel with the King and the murder of the cleric. The students' success in handling a play requiring such serious effort elicited very high praise by competent critics.

At the closing service of the season on Sunday, Rev. A. S. Reid, D.D., dispensed Communion and delivered an impressive sermon dealing with the deep meaning and sublime plan of Christ's Sacrifice. He was assisted by Mr. McFarlane, and Mr. M. Brown of Hemmingford, was present in his capacity of elder. One new member was received on profession of faith.

Master Marvin Moore's friends are pleased to learn that he has been awarded the prize of $2.00 donated by Mr. Hadley, driver of the school bus, to the best behaved pupil among the bus passengers.

Mr. John Carson has been ill for some time but is now feeling somewhat stronger.

Mrs. K. M. Sample has been awarded a bonus of $30 for successful teaching in the 1949-50 term, and has also received a certificate from the Department of Education for her pupils' proficiency in Physical Exercises, a prize of several books being received by the school under the Strathcona Trust.

Mrs. S. M. Simpson spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. D. Moore, Robson.

Mrs. W. W. Lowden is a patient in the Barrie Memorial Hospital and is reported to be recovering very well after her serious operation on Friday. She was able to receive visits from Mr. Lowden and Mrs. Allan Sutton on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lowden of Montreal South visited here and called on Allan's mother in the hospital.

Mr. Robert King of Montreal was a recent caller at Mr. W. R. Perry's.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Lowden and George have been visitors on the Hill and at Plattsburg.

Hemmingford

HEMMINGFORD — Week-end guests of Mrs. M. B. Fisher were the Reverend J. E. and Mrs. King, the Reverend T. E. and Mrs. Bennett, all of Cowansville, Que.; Mr. and Mrs. E. Trainor, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lucas of Westmount, Mrs. Wark of Montreal, Mrs. Frank Laurie of Quebec City.

The Reverend Mr. Dawson of Lacolle was a dinner guest of Mrs. M. B. Fisher on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Petch are visiting his parents in Toronto.

Mr. Wilfred Marshall, who spent the past year in Kelowna, B.C., has been the guest of his sister, Mrs. Petch, for several weeks.

Mrs. M. B. Fisher was an invited guest at the benediction and opening of "Dorea" Children's Town, at Franklin Centre, on Sunday, Oct. 29. His Exc. Mgr. Percival Caza, Auxiliary Bishop of Valleyfield, pronounced the benediction and consecration of this school.

The Rev. Allan Reid of Montreal served Communion on Sunday at the Presbyterian Churches here and at Covey Hill.

The Bible Society held its annual meeting in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening. The three Protestant congregations were in attendance.

Mrs. Martin B. Fisher is invited to attend the Opening of Legislature at Quebec, Nov. 8th, 1950, as well as the reception given to honour the Lieutenant-Governor, at which the guests will be presented to the new Governor.

Mr. T. E. Bennett has accepted a position in Toronto as salesman for the Vilas Manufacturing Company of Cowansville. Mrs. Bennett expects to follow in two months.

Save Hot Water

LOCATING HEATER NEAR POINT OF USE

With cold weather the advantage of 24-hour hot water service at home becomes even more apparent.

For families planning the installation of a water heater, the most economical location for the heater is close to those faucets where hot water is used most often. That's the kitchen sink.

This location of the heater influences to a great extent how much the water heating costs will be on your farm. The closer the heater is to the kitchen faucet, the shorter the hot water pipe can be.

Each time hot water is drawn, the pipe is heated and left full of hot water. This pipe and the hot water in it cools before more hot water is run. Thus heat is wasted, which also means lost electricity. The longer the pipe, the greater the waste.

To save expense many small homes today have kitchen, bath, laundry and wash room with heater arranged close together so that pipe runs can be short. However, in old homes this compact arrangement is seldom possible due to structural limitations. So the one fixture to place the water heater closest to for most economical operation is the kitchen sink.

An electric water heater can be placed in any area of the house. All that is required is structural strength to take the weight of the stored water and a place where controls will not be subject to freezing.

To overcome long pipe runs with standby losses in the new ranch type homes, separate water heaters are being installed. One water heater serves the bathroom at one end of the house near the bedrooms and the other water heater is for the kitchen and work room at the opposite end of the house.

Where it is necessary to have the water heater at some distance from the point of use, copper tubing will save heat. A ⅝" copper tube will carry about the same amount of water as a ¾" iron pipe. But the tube has only about 1/3 as much metal to heat up and cool off.

Aluminum adds a plus to pancakes!

An "Inside Story" about Maple Syrup

1. Aluminum means a lot to your breakfast! Your griddle-cakes taste better with good maple syrup. And the best syrup is made from sap that is collected in aluminum pails.

2. Maple sap must be well-protected to preserve its delicate flavour. Farmers using aluminum pails find this "food-friendly" metal preserves colour, taste and flavour perfectly.*

3. Aluminum is used for tapping-pegs, containers and evaporators, too. The increasing use of aluminum in the industry means higher-quality syrup for you.

HINTS TO THE HOUSEWIFE

Natural minerals in food and water occasionally discolour aluminum utensils. Natural acids in foods remove the deposits. For example, the iron in spinach leaves a deposit on aluminum; the acid from tomatoes or rhubarb dissolves the deposit.

*Quebec farmers receive Federal and Provincial aid in replacing old-fashioned sap pails with aluminum pails. Modern aluminum containers fully conform to all pure-food laws.

Hallowe'en

We were transported to a bewitching land of goblins, witches, black cats, fairies, pirates and gypsies on Saturday evening when we were fortunate enough to be the guests of the Valleyfield Skating Club. It was a heart-warming feeling to see over a hundred children and grown-ups having the time of their lives on the ice. The tiniest two participants, a Dutch boy and his sister, walked off with first prize. The organ grinder and monkey costumes were most original. Mr. Peter Stranger, president of the club, Miss Nancy Atkins and Miss Francois Primeau put on solo performances which were excellent. Later, over two hundred people were entertained in the Moco Club where movies were shown and delicious refreshments were served Our Valleyfield neighbours deserve a lot of credit, especially the instructors whose services are given voluntarily. We sincerely hope our favourite "black kitten" will take us along next year.

TIMELY HELP GIVEN FARMER BY NUMBER OF NEIGHBORS

As Gleaner representatives were on their way to an assignment on Thursday afternoon, they happened upon what looked to be a ploughing match in operation. Upon enquiry however, it was found that a number of neighbors had decided to give Pat. Walsh a hand in getting his fall ploughing done. Mr. Walsh had been suffering a few setbacks recently and his work had gone behind as a result. This neighborly spirit is truely commendable and Mr. Walsh was almost overcome by the spirit displayed. Those in the picture lending their tractors and time for the job are from left to right: G. W. Murphy Bros., Ed. Flynn, MacArthur Kelly, W. C. Tully & Sons, Gordon Ferry, J. J. Murphy & Sons, Fred McGregor & Sons and Keith Curran. Mr. G. W. Murphy was supervising the operations. In the lower picture the tractors are seen at work turning over the field which was completed in the one afternoon.
