THE CONSERVATIVE LEADER OPENS HIS WESTERN TOUR WITH TWO STRONG SPEECHES

He Discusses the Great Issues Before the Electorate Judiciously and Convincingly—Evils of Political Corruption and Political Influence in the Militia Exposed.

Conservative and Liberal Policies on the Transportation Question Contrasted—Mr. Borden Warmly Received at St. Thomas and Aylmer.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Aylmer, Ont., September 16.—The Assembly room at the town hall was well filled this afternoon, when, after a lunch somewhat hurried by lateness of his arrival, Mr. R. L. Borden appeared to address the Aylmer meeting. There was a considerable proportion of ladies in the audience. On one side of the platform hung a large Union Jack and on the other was the Canadian National Ensign. Both Mr. Borden and Mr. Ingram were recipients of bouquets at an early stage of the meeting, Mr. Borden being presented with his by Miss Edna Pierce, and Mr. Ingram receiving his from Miss Hazel Caron. "Perhaps the most intelligent and handsome people to be found in the province of Ontario," was the way the chairman, Mr. E. A. Miller, introduced the constituency to the Conservative leader. The name of the local member, Mr. Ingram, evoked great applause. "Our able, honest, conscientious, and brilliant representative," was the chairman's description of Mr. Ingram.

If we have had six leaders since 1891, said Mr. Ingram, yet the policy of the Conservative party remains the same. Mr. Borden, he declared, as a leader, was equal to any of those who have preceded him in the Conservative party. Following Mr. Ingram's speech came the presentation of the address published yesterday, which was read by Mr. A. H. Backus, ex-Mayor of Aylmer. Three hearty cheers and a British tiger endorsed the reading, then Mr. Borden rose.

MR. BORDEN'S SPEECH.

After thanking those present for his reception, he said:

"I sincerely trust that I may at all times continue to merit the good opinion which has been expressed in the address just now read. I may say, so far as the trust refers to myself, that it is couched in altogether too flattering terms. Confessing that he had hesitated 3 1-2 years ago to accept the onerous duties and high responsibility of leader of the party, he said that in his short career he had always preached the doctrine that in this country of ours, where we have responsible government, where we have institutions which are supposed to be truly representative of the will of the people, it is the duty of all good citizens to perform their share in government when called upon in the ordinary way by those around them.

"I can only say to my friends of the riding of East Elgin," added the Conservative leader, that whether I have acted in accordance with their views or not, since I took up the position I at least have done what I believed to be my duty. And I have, I think, at all times given to the work which lay before me, all the energy and ability which was at my command."

He acknowledged next the reference to Mrs. Borden in the address. We are not much in our own home in these later days, he said. I think in eighteen months I have spent only seven weeks in my own home in Halifax, and I don't know that I would be much inclined to remain much longer in public life if it were not that my wife can accompany me about the country and it is a very great pleasure indeed to me to know that the aid which she is to me in my public duties is recognized by my friends throughout the country.

A part of the address which Mr. Borden cordially endorsed was the reference to Mr. Ingram "who is known lovingly among us in the House of Commons as Andy," and there is no man in the House who is listened to with more respect and attention than Mr. Ingram, when he sees fit to address the House, and no man who is looked upon as a more faithful and devoted follower of Conservative principles in the House than he. He does credit not only to this constituency, but to Conservatism in the House of Commons. I join, therefore, most heartily in that part of the address and in the wishes and aspirations contained. In conclusion his words were that when votes be counted Mr. Ingram will be once more triumphantly returned for a further period of five years.

WEST ELGIN AND BROCKVILLE.

Now, pursued Mr. Borden, coming to more solid matters, there are some matters mentioned in the address which afford us food for thought. I think my first important duty after I was returned to represent the constituency of Halifax in 1896 was to rise in my place in the House and move that certain alleged frauds relating to the by-election in West Huron and in the town of Brockville should be investigated by the Committee on Privileges and Elections. I had read with respect and attention utterances of Liberal leaders in this connection with respect to the necessity in this country of pure administration and pure elections, and no one can value these things too highly. We cannot in the public life of this country expect representative government in the true sense of the word unless we have the will of the people truly expressed and declared at the close of the polls. If we are to have men elected in Parliament by the mere will of those who have at their command the money necessary to hire a gang of ballot-stealers or ballot-pluggers, representative institutions might as well be done away with in this country. In days of old, people fought for representative institutions in the land from which we came. Sixty years ago we struggled for representative government in every one of the provinces which constitute this Dominion. We obtained it and we have made advances in the right of self-government till at present the right has been conceded to us in its highest form.

But as in its fight for representative institutions the Mother Country was threatened by one influence or another, so in Canada now our representative institutions are threatened by men who command the means to hire men to thwart the will of the people.

When I rose in the House of Commons and asked if these matters should be submitted to a committee with power to investigate, and if necessary punish, I was more than delighted when my friend, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, rose in his place and said he would at once accede, and that no matter could more worthily engage the attention of the House and no fountain could be pure that was corrupted at its source. Sir Richard Cartwright stood up in his place and re-echoed the words of the Prime Minister and my motion was carried. Here at least was one case in which the Liberal leaders were fulfilling the promises made to the people of the country in by gone days and in what I am going to say about the conduct of these gentlemen afterwards, let me be understood as referring not to the men of the Liberal party as a whole, not to the rank and file of the Liberal party, because I would despair of the future of this country if I did not believe the rank and file of the Liberal party in their true hearts despise and condemn the methods that have been employed during the last six or eight years in their country.

HOW THE INVESTIGATION WAS BURKED.

I went before the committee on elections. Did I find the Liberal rank and file on the committee sustaining the high tone which Sir Wilfrid Laurier had adopted in the House? Far from it. How was I met? By a resolution, proposed by a gentleman who is now an aspirant for the judicial bench in one of the provinces of Canada, that my witnesses should be heard, but the criminals should be put in the box to tell their story first, and they were. But these things do not always turn out exactly as intended. The idea was to put these men first in the box, but by an inspection of the ballots, which we took care to look at very carefully we were able to show, that in the riding of West Huron, 15 or 20 or 25 Conservative ballots had been removed and a corresponding number of Liberal ballots had been substituted. We proved this by the paper on which the false ballots were printed, and by a comparison. It was visible to the naked eye. We proved it also by the evidence of experts. So well did we prove it that these gentlemen resorted to spinning the investigation out so that no report could be made that session. I put witnesses on the stand to clinch the matter, and show that they had voted for the Conservative candidate at a particular poll and produced seventy of these men from a poll where only fifty Conservative ballots were found and proved that everyone had marked his ballot for the Conservative candidate.

Mr. Borden characterized as senseless and idle the cross-examination which followed his asking three simple questions: Were you an elector? Did you vote? For whom did you vote? and continued: Let me say one word more about the investigation. It was spun out to the close of last session. I arose in the next session, after every possible opposition had been made to my bringing it forward, and asked that the investigation be concluded. I expected to see Sir Wilfrid Laurier rise again and say as before, that no matter could more worthily engage attention of the House and that no fountain could be pure that was corrupted at its source, but a gentleman of the name of Pritchard had made an affidavit in the meantime, and Sir Wilfrid sat silent, but member after member rose and urged that this should no longer be argued, and after four days Sir Wilfrid Laurier rose and called upon his followers not to vote any further investigation.

MORE POLITICAL CORRUPTION.

The matter did not end with West Huron and West Elgin, pursued Mr. Borden. In Montreal the offender was prosecuted in the courts, committed to prison, and after he had been in prison not more, I believe, than half his term, he was kindly released from Ottawa. You know what is transpiring now and have read the reports of what has been going on in your own provi.. e, in a certain local election. You have heard of a hired gang of 20 personators brought on a steamer and casting the votes of electors not there to vote for themselves. You have heard of free liquor and free passes on this steamer; you have heard of men with slips of paper in their pockets to tell them what name to assume when they went to vote; you have heard of these men taking the oath, and I ask you what you think of it all. You talk in this country about a low tone of public life, about politicians not being sincere. You tell public men that they are not up to the standard which we should have. Whose fault is it? It is yours, if you don't stand up for your own rights of self-government. The politicians, the public men in the country, will be just as high and not higher than the standard you set, and if you are content to see men disregard the promises made in Opposition, to see them accept stolen goods brought them by these ballot pluggers and deal with all these things in a cynical way and tell you politics is a mere game, you can get just the standard you want and the kind of public men you want, if you are satisfied with that. But I don't think the people of Canada, as a whole, will very long be satisfied with that standard. If they are, I am sorry for them and for the country, but I am happy to say, I believe, the public conscience of this country is being awakened with regard to some of these things. I know that in the busy times of the last five or six years, men have not given the attention to public things which they might, but I believe the public conscience is bound to be awakened and I say to you, especially to the younger men, that if the Conservative party should come to power and give you the same methods in public life, as in-

DR. BELL AND AERIAL NAVIGATION

Inventor of Telephone Is Trying to Conquer New Fields.

IS NOW IN MONTREAL

Gives Interesting Details Regarding the Problems That Have to Be Faced.

Dr. Alexander Grahame Bell invented the telephone. But he has since set out to conquer other fields. For a number of years the subject of aerial navigation has occupied his attention. Th.: morning at the Windsor he discussed the question with the Star. "Of course you know," he remarked, "that there are a number of points in the subject which have never been solved. Each of these is sufficient to occupy the time of a man for a life time. The question of structure is the one which I have been investigating, as it strikes me as being the central one, the vital one and perhaps the most difficult to solve. While many have devoted their attention to the balloon shape that has never appealed to me. Indeed the consensus of American opinion is against the balloon principle as the very endeavour to force a mere gas bag through the air seems to present insupportable disadvantages. Santos-Dumont has been working on that principle, and from the degree of success which he has met with, would almost seem to controvert any statement but he has been compelled to weight his balloon until its weight is greater than that of the air afterwards depending upon the driving force of his motor to obtain buoyancy. I have been working on the kite principle and consider that I have made some observations and perhaps discoveries which should prove valuable to other speculators. I am not at liberty to say just what these are." Dr. Bell looked knowing but enigmatical.

Dr. Bell could say nothing of the experiments of Hiram Maxim, but at the mention of Prof. Langley, the doctor smiled.

"Oh yes, I have followed his procedure with much interest. Some years ago I witnessed the successful flight of his model. It looked strange to see a steam engine soaring through the air. He has, however, met with serious difficulties in launching his larger machine. The model did not bear a man and so opinion differs as to the value of his experiment. He may have made later discoveries, but they have not been made public. There is constant friction between the War Department, under whose auspices he is working and the newspapers, so that he may have reached a more advanced stage in his operations without the public knowing anything of it."

Dr. and Mrs. Bell, who arrived here from Washington yesterday morning, left this morning for their summer home in Cape Breton.

On a Charge of Assault.

William Huckle had a warrant issued to-day for the arrest of Charles Huckle on a charge of assault. Charles Huckle appeared before Judge Lafontaine and pleaded not guilty.

William Huckle appeared before the judge yesterday afternoon and pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting Miss Edith Mahar by attempting to kiss her. The hearing was fixed for Wednesday next.

LACROSSE

The Struggle on National Grounds.

The greatest interest is being taken in the game which takes place to-morrow afternoon on the grounds of the National team between Shamrocks and National, as these two teams put up a very stubborn game of lacrosse whenever they meet, and as this game has quite a lot to do with the standing of the championship, both teams are losing no time in getting into condition, and will be ready to go the limit from the blow of the whistle. There is a rumour that Nationals will have Joe Cousineau on the home end, and those who have seen him play with Paddy Brennan when he was with National know what it means to a defence to watch him, as he is fast and a good stick handler.

Brantford Remains Firm.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Brantford, September 16.—Another chapter in the present serious squabble between the Brantfords and the Tecumsehs was commenced as the result of an interview given to the Toronto Globe by Harry Gillespie, manager of the Tecumsehs. In his talk he stated that the Brantfords were practically through, that John White had left the city and that Eddie Doyle and Jack Powers were holding up the management for what is coming to them. There was not the slightest truth in any of the assertions. The two players mentioned wired Gillespie yesterday afternoon that they considered the statement a reflection upon them and that if he did not retract writs would immediately be issued against him. Vice-President Nelson wired President Frank to-day telling him that he expected him to see that the constitution was upheld and directing that action should be taken to dispose of the action of the Judicial Committee on Tuesday evening. The Brantford management feels that it has public opinion behind it in this fight, and whether the team is counted out of the fight for the trophy or not they will see the finish of the dispute.

Ready for Montreal.

The Capital Lacrosse Club will be in fine shape for their match on Saturday afternoon with the Montreelers. They had their last work out last evening and they appeared to be in the best of shape. The team will be the same as has played all this season for the club.

Mr. Prieur, treasurer of the National club, is trying to arrange a game with Montreal to take place on the Shamrock grounds on Sept. first.

The Leo's defeated the Orients in an exciting game of lacrosse, by a score of 2 to 1, on Fletcher's field.

The Orients had five juvenile men playing for them.

There will be a lacrosse match day after to-morrow at Mascotte Park between the Irene and White Star teams. Mr. Noonan, of the Shamrocks, will act as refereee. There will also be a baseball game before the match.

THE GOLFERS

Victoria Juniors to Play.

As the senior team of the Victoria Golf and Country Club goes to Dixie to-morrow, there will be a handicap competition for the juniors at home.

Royal Montreal and Victorias.

The Victoria Golf and Country Club will play a game with the Royal Montreal Club on the latter's links at Dixie to-morrow.

FOOTBALL

Ottawa College Football.

The Ottawa University Athletic Association elected officers yesterday afternoon as follows: Hon. president, B. Slattery; president, Alex. Macdonald; first vice-president, R. Filiatrault; second vice-president, C. J. Jones; corresponding secretary, T. J. Sloan; recording secretary, L. Brennan; treasurer, J. E. Burke; manager football team, Alex. Macdonald; manager second team, J. J. Lonegan. Mr. Monell was elected a counsellor in place of Mr. Murtagh, resigned.

With Hefferman, a young Pembroke player, and a big Irishman named O'Gorman, from Killaloe, who is 180 pounds at his playing weight, the College has a brace of new men, of whom they have reason to expect much. Mr. Hefferman is quite young but his fame has preceded him, and he will likely figure on the half-back line. Filiatrault was the only senior of last year's team on the camp-us yesterday, but there were two full teams out, and some good practice was done under Coach Carey. On Saturday there will likely be a big turnout of the big fellows.

The Rough Riders Practice.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, Ont., September 16.—The Rough Riders had their first serious practice this afternoon, on Cartier Square, and some thirty men turned out. The first call to practice only produced two men. There is considerable enthusiasm in the champions ranks and the officers say the club will be as strong as ever. Hal. Waters has been too much mixed up in police investigations to worry much about football, but the Rough Riders still expect to have him playing, and much young blood is said to be coming to the front. Next week real hard work will start and practices will be held every afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

The Westmount Club to Meet.

A meeting of the Westmount Rugby Football Club will be held in the Gym. to-morrow afternoon at 3.30, to elect captains for the junior and independent fifteens, practice on the park immediately after the meeting.

Galt Wants Some Matches.

The Galt Foot-ball Club would like to arrange games this fall with prominent clubs in Montreal and district. Secretaries are asked to correspond with Louis Blake Duff, Secretary Galt Club.

Montreal Football Club.

A big practice is called for Saturday afternoon. The players will be admitted to clubhouse at four o'clock and every player is urged to attend.

BASEBALL

Leroy Did Great Work.

It was a double-header of which Montreal's noble red men may well be proud.

Leroy repeated the dose to Toronto which he administered unto Rochester last Saturday. He thus has won four games in two days up.

The gentlemen from the City of the Good played a stiff game, but were defeated bats, spikes and all.

The character of the games will be apparent on glancing at the score and seeing that the error list of both teams only footed up five in both games.

In the first game, Leroy only allowed Toronto three hits, and they were as far apart as plums in a poor house pudding. The team gave him support as firm as the underpinning of Gibraltar.

Clancy was alone, half of a team. As the end of the season is drawing near, the fans are beginning to realize what a safe man their base captain is. It is always taken as a matter of course that he gatheres in everything that comes his way, and some of the things thrown at him would give a conneption fit to a brass monkey.

Captain Clancy is no slouch with the clothes prop., either. In yeaterday's matinee he contributed no less than five hits towards Toronto's misery.

Kelly's throws from centre field are features which no one can afford to miss, and he is also a stick artist who always gives hope that something will be doing when he goes to the rubber.

Thoney played second base in the first game and accepted everything without a miss and is accountable as principal or accomplice for the death of five of the enemy.

Seven hits, as timely as soda water to a thirsty sufferer, netted Montreal three runs, while Toronto barely escaped a whitewash.

SECOND GAME.

When Leroy took the box to daily yet a little while longer with Toronto in the second, the fans awakened with something of old time —enthusiasm, and made warm the heart of the pitcher inside his glad clothes.

Applegate twirled for Toronto, and he put in his offerings with the smackness of a pompom, but he put no fear into the hearts of the Birds, who bingled him just when bingles were likely to do the most good.

He also had spasms when balloons were hovering near. For instance, he hit Dyer with the ball, advanced him with a balk, and gave him third with a wild pitch. A hit completed the circuit.

Montreal got seven hits and they were in bunches as luscious and juicy as grapes in a greenhouse. Result, five runs.

Toronto worked in five hits, but it was only in one inning, the seventh, that they did anything damaging. Then three singles, an out and an error gave them two runs.

Montreal tin canned away from them all through and at no stage of the game was the result in danger of going to the city where Sunday cars were so long sinful.

Thoney was out of the game in the second, Dyer playing the number two bag and doing his work most satisfactorily.

When the cat, thoughtfully provided by Tom Martin to keep mice off the grand stand on ladies' day, saw the sort of ball Leary was pitching, it went crazy, and tore back to the club house to hide behind the pile of gate money for the rest of the first game.

"And the bravest held his breath," while Professor Clancy did a little ball-juggling, with Fuller taking twelve-foot strides to first.

MISCELLANEOUS

Rose Wants to Meet Jeffries.

New York, September 16. — Like Lochinvar, "from out the West" comes the surprise of the athletic season.

Giant Ralph Rose, of the University of Michigan, is out with a defi to Champion James J. Jeffries. In a letter to a friend Rose declares that he believes he is the only man who is able to whip Jeffries. Except for a few amateur bouts in his younger days at his home in California Rose is unknown in the boxing game. But his prowess as an athlete has gone the rounds of the world. He is the greatest shot-putter and hammer-thrower in the world, and it is said that in a practice throw, which does not stand as a record, he has thrown the hammer a trifle over 190 feet. He holds the world's record for the shot-put.

He has the physical proportions of a giant. He is eighteen years old, stands 6 feet 7 inches in his stockings and weighs 275 pounds. His strength is prodigious, and when hurling the hammer or putting the shot he shows little exertion, and with ease excels the best marks ever made with these athletic instruments.

He is full of superfluous energy and he feels that the only way he can put it to advantage is to thoroughly thrash Champion Jeffries. He confidently believes that he can do it, and without any trouble.

Athletic trainers who have put him in condition for field and track events say that he is a marvel of shiftiness a can move like a panther, despite his great bulk.

Rose said in his letter that he could strike a harder blow than Jeffries. He claims to have a stronger right arm and says his endurance is greater than that of Jeffries.

Whether "Jeff" will consider the collegian's proposition is not known. Rose does not intend to follow the fighting game as a business, but declares that he has heard so much of Jeffries being invincible that he would just like to disprove that contention.

In a battle with Jeffries Rose would have the advantage of "Jeff" in every way other than experience in the ring. He is a younger man by nine years; is taller by six inches, weighs nearly fifty pounds more than the champion and, it is claimed for him, that in physical strength he has almost double the power of the champion.

As a fighter Rose has never been considered. What prompted the brazen challenge to "Jeff" is still a mystery to Rose's friends other than the facts given out in his letter.

The giant acknowledges gracefully that he believes "Jeff" at this time has the advantage of him in the matter of ring experience, but says with the aid of an experienced trainer he would be able to meet "Jeff" on his own level as a pugilist.

Experts Laugh at Rose's Challenge.

New York, September 16. — Local fighting experts were inclined to laugh at Rose's challenge to the champion, and said the Michigan athlete's request that Jeffries wait for four years, or until the California boy graduated from college, was imply preposterous.

Al Smith said: "It's hard to tell what kind of condition Jeffries will be in four years from now. If he is still in the fighting business and should meet a man like Rose he will have all the more experience, and there would be nothing to the battle. Rose would have to make good in other battles before the public or any one else would take him seriously."

George Grant, Kid McCoy's manager, said: "Rose is a wonderful shot-putter, but would have to learn a good deal about the game before he could go many rounds with Jeffries. It is not alone a great physique and strength that makes a great fighter. Take our friend Jackie, for instance, who fell such an easy victim to McCoy. It would be the same case with Rose."

Brooklyn Jimmie Carroll remarked: "The fact that Rose is a human monster and an athlete does not lead me to believe that he would have much chance with Jeffries. It takes different muscles to manipulate shot-r than it does to deliver a blow with f ree. The question is how ood Jeffries would be in four years. He would have to do considerable fighting in he meantime to keep his weight down. I am willing to bet that the first man Rose meets in the professional ranks, he will meet defeat."

Charley White said: "Jeffries will be the champion as long as he likes. It is not likely that he will be in the fighting business in four y ars from now. There never was a man like Rose who could jump in the ring and whip a man like Jeffries. Rose may be a strong young fellow with plenty of ambition, but it's the wallop that counts, and the man that knows how to manipulate it with the greatest effect is the winner. It takes long years of experience to do the trick ht."

George Considine said: "Of course, it will take a big, strong fellow like Rose to defeat Jeffries, but at present Rose would not be one, two, three. As for a fight in four years from now, it's hard to tell what condition either man will be in. As for Jeffries, he will undoubtedly go back unless he ontinues to train and fight occasionally. The Jeffries of to-day never had an equal, and if he is as good in four years, Rose, or no other man, could defeat him."

Baltimore Doctor Beats Sharkey.

Baltimore, September 16.—Dr. Robert Giering, of No. 1603 East Baltimore street, was the biggest bald eagle of the Eagle's convention yesterday, because he punched Tom Sharkey, the pugilist, in the nose during an argument in Joyce's Hotel, where the New York Eagles are quartered during the national grand aerie meeting now in session.

"Everybody wanted to 'buy,'" he explained to-day, "and as I was the only Baltimorean in the gathering, I insisted that I pay for the drinks. Tom Sharkey drew a large roll of notes from his pocket, and laid one of them on the bar. I turned around to him and said: 'Put that money in your pocket, it is counterfeit.'

"Then he struck me under the chin. I immediately swung on his jaw and rushed him into the corner. Then a number of his friends dragged me from him.

"When I got out into the street I told Tommy Hart that I would give him $10 if he could get Sharkey to come out into the street and fight me. Just then a policeman came along and placed Hart and myself under arrest."

O'Brien's Easy Time.

Philadelphia, September 16. — Jack O'Brien had an easy time of it last night in his six-round bout with Hugo Kelly, of Chicago, at the National Athletic Club. In the first round Kelly staggered the Philadelphian a couple of times with hard punches to the stomach, and in the second round he shook up O'Brien with hard rights to the nose and stomach. After that, however, it was all O'Brien's. He hit Kelly at will and gave him a severe trouncing. The Chicago man was badly battered up. O'Brien was none the worse from the bout.

Jeff Is Quite Willing.

San Francisco, September 16.—Champion James J. Jeffries was seen and said that he was perfectly willing to meet Ralph Rose in a battle for the championship, or for anything else that Rose might want to fight for.

THE WORST STORM IN MANY YEARS

Fierce Gale All Along Atlantic Coast on Wednesday.

MANY PEOPLE DROWNED

At Wilmington a Tug Was Swamped and Eight People Out of Ten Perished.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sydney, N. S., September 16.—The storm yesterday afternoon was the worst experienced since the August gale of 1873. It was particularly severe on the southern coast, but no great damage to shipping is reported. At North Sydney, the Gloucester fishing schooner Golden Hope and the Glace Bay schooner Mary Helen were driven ashore and both are leaking badly. The telegraph and telephone service everywhere is practically demoralized.

MANY LIVES WERE LOST.

New York, September 16.—A number of lives were lost, much property damaged and several ships wrecked in the storm which swept up the Atlantic coast on Wednesday night and Thursday.

It was one of the fiercest September storms on record—thunder and lightning adding terrors to a howling gale which swept drenching sheets of rain over sea and land. Last night telegraphic reports say that the storm has swept out into the ocean and from the Canadian coast.

The greatest loss of life was near Wilmington, Del. The tug Israel W. Durham, with a crew of six men and four other men, employes of the American Dredging Company, was swamped in the Delaware River early yesterday during the height of the storm. Eight of the ten persons on the little craft were drowned. From farther down the coast—Jacksonville—comes the report that five men were drowned off Charleston.

THE CITY SUFFERED LITTLE.

New York suffered comparatively little although the wind and rain and thunder and lightning were terrific. Nineteen coal barges went adrift in the bay, and last night their wreckage strewed the shore from the Battery to the Narrows. No lives were lost.

Several small vessels also went ashore on various part of the coast near New York. One fatality was reported in this city when a piece of a cast-iron fire escape was blown from a building and struck Carl Hertzner killing him instantly.

A fishing steamboat, Jos. Church, of Greenport, N. Y., struck on Peake's Hill bar yesterday and was smashed to pieces. The captain and crew of 21 men were saved. From Wilmington, Del., comes the news that great destruction was caused by the storm. Trees were uprooted, houses flooded and crops ruined. In Chesapeake Bay the storm was particularly fierce. Incoming steamers arriving at Baltimore report never in their experience has such a furious gale swept down on them at this time of the year. One man was seen adrift in a small rowboat in Chesapeake Bay, it was impossible to rescue him. The storm was accompanied by a cold wave.

THE CZAR AND KAISER.

The Two Men Have Interchanged Confidential Letters.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Petersburg, September 16.—Cordial personal letters are being regularly interchanged between the Czar and the Kaiser for the first time since the Austro-German alliance, of 1879, abated the traditional intimacy between the Crowns of Russia and Germany. Of course Nicholas and William have written to each other with more or less frequency, but always with formality, and never concerning the details of their mutual political interests in the world at large. Catherine II. of Russia, founded a good understanding with the Prussians, in 1762, and excellent relations prevailed between the two courts in the days of Alexander II. and William I. The policy of the present Czar's father, however, took a contrary course, and Nicholas has been a dutiful son.

Russia's ordeal in the Far East, however, has created a great opportunity for the Kaiser's diplomacy. The St. Petersburg Government from the Czar downward has not only withdrawn all opposition to German expansionist ambitions, but have instituted a policy consistent with the support of these ambitions. The ultimate effect of this international relation is likely to be of the highest importance and might conceivably lead to a general war.

A Minnesota Bridge Accident.

Stillwater, Minn., September 16. — The bridge across Lake St. Croix, which is a half mile long, extending to the Wisconsin side, caught fire late yesterday afternoon. The fire created some commotion and the fire apparatus, in responding to the alarm, was followed by the usual crowd of persons. The fire had so weakened one of the spans of the rather ancient structure that when the fire apparatus and the crowd attempted to cross it, it fell into the water, twenty feet below. About twenty persons were precipitated with the wreckage into the water. Adolph Boo, aged 22, and George McGrath, aged 16, were killed, and five others were seriously injured. The financial loss was small.

The party leave here to-day for Winnipeg, via Toronto and North Bay.

The estate from which the alleged legacy is to come consists of two blocks of an eight-story office building in the heart of London, England.

HALIFAX FIRE LOSS $300,000

A Score of Buildings Were Partially or Totally Destroyed.

FIREMEN HAD HARD BATTLE

The Naval and Military Forces Came to the Assistance of the Brigade.

Halifax, N. S., September 16.—Before the fire, which broke out in N. M. Smith's building yesterday afternoon, had been brought under control by the firemen, a score of buildings had been in part or totally burned, and damage done to the extent of $311,000.

The wind was blowing fifty-two miles an hour when the fire started. The gale was from the southwest; and was so terrible that it was hard for pedestrians to keep their feet. Under such circumstances the flames spread north and south with frightful rapidity, so that in an hour after the alarm was sounded a score of buildings were ablaze, many of them reduced to ashes. Good fortune, however, once more came to the rescue of Halifax, and two hours after the outbreak of the conflagration, the wind died down, and, besides, it was from the southwest, thus carrying the flames away from the city and towards the harbour front. Had it been from the eastward, the destruction must have been much more terrible. As it is, the loss will amount to $311,000, two-thirds of which is covered by insurance. More than half the insurance loss will be borne by three local companies, the Acadia, Halifax and Nova Scotia.

SOLDIERS AIDED FIREMEN.

The whole of the Halifax fire department responded to the alarm. The firemen know that they were to have a hard battle, for the district is largely one of wooden buildings. They needed help badly, and they got it from the military and naval authorities, who sent down a force of 200 or 300 soldiers, and jack-tars. They brought with them two English steam fire engines from the dockyard, and a hand engine from the Citadel, while a guard of men with rifles and bayonets were drawn up to assist in keeping back the crowds and protecting property. General Parsons and Admiral Douglas were on hand promptly and saw that their forces were rendering what assistance they could, under the leadership of Chief Brayderick, of the Halifax Fire Department.

At seven o'clock the stretch from A. G. Jones & Co.'s warehouse, on the north, had been destroyed, except the hardware building of Wm. Robertson & Son, which in a measure escaped, the flames going around its rear and sweeping away the large molasses and fish warehouse of G. P. Mitchell & Sons. At that point the military and naval lines of hose had a good chance to stop the flames and save the buildings on the King's wharf.

THE SWEEP OF THE FLAMES.

N. and M. Smith, where the fire broke out, are credited with doing the largest fish business in Nova Scotia. Their extensive premises were wiped out and from there in their northward progress the flames carried away half a dozen buildings, chiefly occupied by small shops and sailors' boarding houses, badly damaging the rear of William Robertson & Sons' warehouse, and entirely destroying G. P. Mitchell & Sons'. Travelling in its southward march, the conflagration destroyed a warehouse belonging to the Dominion Coal Company, with 700 tons of coal; the premises of Hon. Wm. Ross and J. A. Neville, lobster packers; R. R. Kennedy, clothing; T. J. Egan, gunsmith; and three or four other smaller places. Lastly the flames attacked the great warehouse and offices of the Canada Atlantic and Plant Steamship Company, which were destroyed, except that the warehouse down the wharf was saved. At this point the fire was successfully fought by the firemen, reinforced by three tow boats, which threw heavy streams on A. G. Jones & Co.'s building.

LOSS AND INSURANCE.

A late estimate fixes the loss at $311,000. This is made up as follows:—Plant line wharf, $30,000; A. G. Jones & Co., $500; Dominion Coal Company, $1,500; Dominion Coal Company, sheds and coal, $500; Dominion Packing Company, $5,000; Hon. Wm. Ross, office furniture, $500; M. Neville, lobsters and supplies, $10,000; Mathew Lannigan, furniture, $10,000; Thos. J. Egan, stock, $10,000; Thos. J. Egan, building, $4,000; R. R. Kennedy, stock, $40,000; R. R. Kennedy, two buildings, $9,000; A. Collins, meat market, stock, $3,000; A. Collins, two buildings, $7,000; John Clancy, liquors, $2,000; E. M. Boutillier, fish, $1,500; Capt. John Simmonds, furniture, $2,000; William Robertson & Sons, stock and building, $4,000; G. P. Mitchell & Sons, $3,000; N. & M. Smith, $100,000; A. L. Doyle & Co., $1,000.

FAREWELL TO THEIR EXCELLENCIES.

It is most desirable that the people of Montreal should have an opportunity of bidding a kindly farewell to their Excellencies the Earl and Countess of Minto. One of the decided advantages of the Canadian constitution is that we have in our chief executive an official to whom the people of all shades of political opinion can join upon occasion in doing honour as the representative not of a faction but of the whole nation. In countries "not so blest" constitutionally (which it is not necessary to particularize), the chief executive is almost continuously an object of censure or of ridicule to nearly half the community. The Governor-General of Canada represents a cherished institution in the monarchy, a very popular personality in the King; and a connection the sentimental and practical value of which are greatly appreciated by the people of Canada. For personal reasons, also, Montrealers will be glad to join in any demonstration in honour of Lord and Lady Minto, whose graceful dispensation of the vice-regal hospitalities, both at Rideau Hall and in Montreal, are very kindly remembered. The office of Governor-General is not without its difficulties, political and social; and it speaks volumes for His Excellency's tact and good judgment that in the performance of its duties he has reduced the inevitable friction to a minimum.

LAURIER AND CHAMBERLAIN.

Mr. Chamberlain is being told by the London, Eng., News that a victory for Laurier in the pending Canadian elections is a defeat for himself. The News is a Liberal paper, and seems to have very fairly penetrated the designs of the Liberals in Canada. Although the Liberal party here dare not openly oppose the Chamberlain campaign, because they fully understand that our people are practically unanimous in favour of a preference on Canadian goods at British ports, they steadily do all they can to fill the path of the movement with obstacles and to throw cold water on local enthusiasm for this Imperial programme.

The fiction that the Fielding preference was a step toward inter-Imperial preferential tariffs can only be credited by those unfamiliar with the situation at the time of its enactment. The Liberals had just come into power on a revenue tariff platform, and were bound to make some show of reducing the tariff in order to keep faith with their followers. But they shrank from reducing the protective tariff which the Conservatives had left; for this would have wrecked the industries which flourished under its shelter and brought down a flood of popular wrath on their heads.

So they hit upon the clever device of making a "level cut" in the tariff which would please their free trade supporters; and then, by reason of its preferential features, enable them to hide in the folds of the Old Flag. If it worked harm, they would say that it was done for the British Empire. It was simply a way out of a bad hole. Sir Wilfrid at once went to England and told the British people plainly that he expected no return preference. This was "a free gift." He did not want England to come under the baneful influence of protection. So he got his Cobden medal, and dashed the rising hope of Mr. Chamberlain at that time that he might inaugurate a system of mutual preferences.

Now the tune of the Liberal party has somewhat changed. The people have seen through their device, and are beginning to ask why a return preference is not bargained for. This drove Mr. Fielding to make a surly threat in his budget of last year that the preference would be reconsidered if it were not returned. This must have made choice reading in England after all of Laurier's talk about "a free gift"; but the Liberals here felt the necessity of showing something to the cheated Canadian people which would quiet their questioning as to why the Laurier pledge in 1896 to negotiate for a mutual preference was not carried out.

Still there is no hearty support of Chamberlain on the part of the Government. Mr. Borden has declared frequently that he is ready to support a unanimous resolution of Parliament in favour of the Chamberlain programme; but the Government will not introduce one. Government organs, one and all, constitute themselves "pin-prick" critics of the Chamberlain argument, and are always endeavouring to show that the plan is impossible. Naturally, the Liberals are shaking in their shoes at the prospect of being asked to make a further "cut" in their low tariff. They know that the Canadian industries could not stand it; and yet the farmers would never let them refuse to make it if a preference on our products at British ports were offered in return. The Conservatives, on the other hand, would raise the tariff all round, and so be ready to give the British producer a real preference over all foreigners.

A victory for Laurier is undoubtedly a defeat for Chamberlain.

A SELF-RIGHTEOUS CANDIDATE.

There is a story in the Good Book about a certain Pharisee who in his devotions gave a very glowing account of his many virtues, and ended by thanking his Maker that he was not like a dejected looking publican, whom he saw half-hidden in the background. Somehow or other President Roosevelt's letter of acceptance of his nomination to the Presidency reminds us of that incident. If ever a man was all right in his own opinion that man is Theodore Roosevelt. If there ever was a policy void of offence to all mankind, rich in benefits already realized, and bursting with greater ones yet to come, his policy is the one. If there ever was a party whose praises could only be told in strains of Pindaric eloquence, that party is the Republican party of the United States. If that party wants to shine with yet greater glory it will see to making his election secure. If the nation wants to avoid untold and inexpressible woes it will not harbour the thought of placing anyone else at the head of affairs. "We have striven," he says, "both for civic righteousness and for national greatness; and we have faith to believe that our hands will be upheld by all who feel love of country and trust in the uplifting of mankind." The President's self-confidence, it will be seen, rises to the level of religious faith. He not only expects the support of his regular party, but counts on the votes of all who "feel love of country and trust in the uplifting of mankind." This really is very sweeping. It means that the President's faith will be disappointed, and so far baulked, if any single individual who loves his country votes for the Democratic candidate. It is a wonderful claim he makes and a wonderful self-righteousness he manifests; and yet we verily believe this man will go down to the White House justified—in his own opinion.

THE ABUSE OF TEA-DRINKING.

Powerful organizations exist in society for antagonizing the evil of intemperance. According to the committee which lately reported on the question of Physical Deterioration in England, it would hardly be amiss to take some measures to antagonize the evils resulting from the abuse of tea as a beverage. A report made to the committee in regard to the condition of things in the poorer districts of Manchester, contained these words:

"Another fruitful and one of the most unsuspected causes of deterioration lies in the long-ingrained habit of tea drinking at breakfast and other times in the factories and foundries of the city. Tea drinking, if it really were so, might not be harmful, but unfortunately the mixture drunk can hardly be called tea at all. More frequently than not boiling water is poured on to too large an amount of poor tea leaves, and is left to stand until the tea has become almost a stew, and this dark and nasty mixture is drunk, sometimes three or four times a day, by hundreds of young lads, setting up frequently various forms of varicocele, and is responsible for several kindred evils."

Strong tea and alcohol are both resorted to by many, particularly those who lead hard outdoor lives, as stimulants; and tea is sometimes drunk by such persons of a strength that would simply be ruinous to the health of others. That its effects must be very bad in the end cannot be doubted. According to certain hygienists the craving for stimulants, whether strong tea or alcohol, results from abuses in diet far more than from excess of labour. Mr. Horace Fletcher, of mastication fame, says that proper mastication of food would greatly increase the capacity for either physical or mental strain, and almost entirely do away with the need for stimulation. The experiment would seem to be worth trying.

NEWFOUNDLAND WILL HAVE ELECTIONS SOON.

St. John's Nfld., September 16 — The Newfoundland Legislature has been dissolved. A general election of a new parliament will occur October 31, with three parties in the field, the Government party, headed by Premier Bond, being opposed by two organisations, one headed by ex-Premier Whiteway, and the other by ex-Premier Goodridge.

THE WAR SITUATION.

The Japanese Minister in London, Baron Hayashi, is authority for the announcement that the Japs have abandoned the idea of taking Port Arthur by assault, and have determined to starve out the garrison. Meanwhile they have not ceased aggressive operations in front of Port Arthur. Between the 8th and the 10th instant they captured a fort, two miles east of Golden Hill, and it is stated that they are now engaged in tunelling under the forts with the intention of blowing them up. As the Russians intend to blow up all the public buildings as well as their ships, in the event of having to surrender, the fall of Port Arthur threatens to be an explosive affair. The capture, whenever it comes, will have an important bearing upon the military situation, because it will not only set free 50,000 men for land operations in Northern Manchuria, but will leave the Japanese squadron, now blockading Port Arthur, available for an attack on Vladivostok. At St. Petersburg it is rather expected that the Japs will attempt a diversion in the direction of Vladivostok, to prepare the way for further operations against Mukden. A despatch from Port Arthur via Harbin claims that there is no prospect of provisions failing and this agrees with a despatch from Che Foo, which states that though ammunition is getting short at Port Arthur there is plenty of bread.

A BIT OF DAILY COMMENT.

One of the lucky chances of a sailor's life is to meet a derelict on high seas—preferably one with a rich cargo. The Canadian schooner Theta, damaged in collision and abandoned, was picked up at sea this week by some seamen from an American steamer. Utterly abandoned by her own crew and kept afloat by a cargo of pine lumber, the new but ill-fated schooner makes a rich prize for the salvers.

This observance of salvage laws has always been honoured by sea-faring men. The earliest maritime codes enforced it. It is now clearly defined and directed by statute. Salvage is compensation made by the owners of a ship or cargo in return for services rendered by persons other than the ship's crew, in preserving the ship or cargo from shipwreck, fire or capture—the perils to which property at sea is peculiarly exposed. It is now also considered due for the saving of lives of persons on board British ships.

In common law the person who saves goods from loss or imminent peril has a lien upon them and may retain them until the salvage is paid. If the salvage is performed at sea, or within high and low water mark, the Admiralty Division of the High Court has jurisdiction and the salvors may enforce their claim by the institution of an action "in rem." Whilst the suit is pending, the Court of Admiralty also takes care of the property, appraises the ship or goods and fixes the sum to be paid in salvage. It divides, too, the sum among the salvors, and if necessary may direct a sale of goods and division of proceeds between salvors and proprietors.

In case of recapture from an enemy, the rate of salvage is fixed by statute at one-eighth for the royal navy and one-sixth for private ships. In other cases the rate is fixed by agreement between the parties or is left entirely to the discretion of the judge. And then it varies according to special circumstances, such as the labour and peril of the salvors.

The crew of a ship is not entitled to salvage or any unusual remuneration for any efforts, however great, made in saving her; but when their duty as seamen is over—as by capture—any successful efforts made by them to rescue the ship entitles them to salvage.

In marine insurance, salvage loss is a method of adjusting the loss by deducting the proceeds of the sale of the damaged goods from the original value of these goods, as represented by the invoice price.

THIS DATE THIRTY YEARS AGO.

Mr. Jenkins, M. P., Agent-General for the Dominion, arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from London and at once proceeded to Ottawa at the special request of the Premier and the Cabinet.

MR. EDWARD JENKINS, M. P. for Dundee, resigned the office of Agent-General in January, 1876, to which he was appointed in February, 1874. His resignation was brought about by the Mackenzie Cabinet deciding to reduce the position to an emigration agency. He is a graduate of the High School and McGill University and has lectured in Montreal on several occasions.

Mrs. John Buckland, of the Theatre Royal, announces the engagement of the tragedian, Mr. T. C. King, who will open on Monday night in a series of Shakespearean and other standard plays, appearing first as "Macbeth."

THE LATE Mr. King went on the stage at an early age, appearing at the Theatre Royal, Birmingham. He soon rose in the profession, playing an engagement of nearly three years with the late Charles Kean, his greatest teacher of the tragedian's art, and he took every advantage of his opportunities. His impersonations of "Macbeth," "Othello," and "Richelieu" were of the first rank. He played several long engagements in Montreal, and always with success, as he was a great favourite with theatre-goers. Mrs. Buckland, the dessee of the old "Royal" for many long years, passed away a few years ago.

The Dominion Rifle Association meeting opened at Ottawa to-day at noon. The Countess of Dufferin opened the matches by firing the first shot at 600 yards, making a bull's eye. The Governor-General and Lady Dufferin and invited guests were then conducted to the president, Col. Gzowski's tent, where lunch was provided. There is a large attendance of competitors, among others Brigade Majors Mattice and Bacon.

THE PRESIDENT has since passed away. The late Col. Gzowski was formerly an officer in the Engineer corps of the Russian army. For political reasons he left Russia and settled in Toronto. He early joined the volunteer militia of Canada, organizing several engineer corps. He was a warm supporter of artillery and rifle shooting, and for his valuable service to the militia he was appointed a few years later with the late Col. John Dyde, C. M. G., an Honorary A. D. C. to the late Queen Victoria. He died many years ago. Both Lt.-Cols. Gregor Mattice and Bacon are still in the force; the former is now in charge of the Ordnance corps for this district, No. 5, and the latter is the chief of the drafting department at Ottawa.

PROMINENT CANADIANS WHO HAVE PASSED AWAY.

In the Star of August 29th, 1889, mention is made of Ald. Stephen in connection with his motion in the City Council to take over the hospital and buildings of the Hotel Dieu from the ladies through their refusal to receive and care for smallpox and typhoid fever patients.

The Baltic fleet will make a stay of some duration at Libau. It is probably calculating to get to the East in time for the next war.

People in Ontario are beginning to believe that an election would hardly be legal unless Cap. Sullivan had something to do with it.

That rust reported from Manitoba was really on Sifton's feelings when he found that he would have to go into the elections without being allowed to fix up the voters' lists.

The Grand Trunk Pacific people are in hard luck. When they are looking for "rocks" they cannot find them, and when they are not looking for them, they strike on one.

The Globe makes the following singular confession: "Our record of burglaries and robberies has been growing too fast of late. We cannot afford to let the submerged fraternity rob us of our reputation."

DEAN BOVEY RETURNS HOME

Speaks of Recent Important Meeting in Cambridge.

M'GILL'S FAME SPREADING

In Great Britain and on Continent Work of the Canadian University Eulogized.

Dean Bovey, in discussing his recent trip to England and the Continent with the Star to-day, said that, short as it had been, he had enjoyed it very much. Some time was spent in England, where he attended the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science at Cambridge University. Thence he went to Brittany for a short holiday, after which he returned to Montreal.

Everywhere, on the other side of the water, not only in England, but also on the Continent, he found that McGill is ranked as one of the foremost institutions for the advancement of science. Great attention has been attracted by Professor Ernest Rutherford's researches in Radioactivity, and by his Royal Institute lectures on that subject.

The appointment of Dr. William Osler, a McGill graduate, as Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, in succession to Sir Burdon Saunderson, has been received in England not only by the medical profession, but by the laity also, as a happy choice. All Oxonians expect that a great stimulus will be given to medical education at the University, and generally, when Dr. Osler assumes the chair of Regius Professor of Medicine, and are prepared to give him a most hearty welcome on his arrival.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIPS.

When asked what university professors and students in England thought of the Rhodes Scholarship scheme, Dr. Bovey said: "They don't know what to think of it. All are bidding their time until they see the system in operation. Then their opinions will be known. Now, being as much in ignorance as we are as to the probable success of the scheme, they prefer to maintain silence; but hope that the plan of the late Mr. Rhodes will be successfully carried out."

This year's meeting of the British Society for the Advancement of Science, which Dr. Bovey attended at Cambridge University, was the second largest that the organization has held. The delegates, though many in number, were most hospitably entertained, both by the College formally and at private residences in and about the University. The presidential address of Premier Balfour was received with great enthusiasm as an important pronouncement.

McGill University was well represented at the meeting. Dr. Wm McBride, Dr. Wesley Mills, Prof. Flux and Prof. John Cox presenting addresses. Although Prof. Ernest Rutherford was not present, his name was prominently before the members in connection with his valuable researches concerning radioactive substances, particularly radium. His work was several times referred to as most important in the development of this branch of science.

At the meeting there were several members of the staff of Toronto University, including Prof. Cameron, Dr McLennan, Dr. MacCallum and Prof. Lang. Altogether the whole affair was most successful and enjoyable, it being a most representative assembly.

On Saturday Dr. Bovey leaves for St. Louis to attend the International Congress of Arts and Sciences, of which some of the most distinguished men of letters, of science and scholars generally will be members. Among the noted Continental universities which are sending delegates are Bonn, Leipzig, Halle, Vienna, Munich and Breslau. Delegates are also going from The Sorbonne, The French National Academy of Sciences, Cambridge, Oxford and Edinburgh Universities. The leading universities of the United States will be represented by such leaders in thought as Prof. Woodrow Wilson, Princeton, of fame in political science; President Eliot of Harvard, Hamilton Wright, Mable and many other equally prominent scholars. From McGill go Principal Peterson, Prof. Rutherford, Prof. Flux, Dr. Owens, Prof. Taylor, Dr. Barnes, Dr. Porter and Dr. Bovey.

The Congress will be divided into twenty-four great departments of knowledge. Two addresses on each of these will be delivered. The theme of one address in each case will be the fundamental conceptions and methods; while the other will set forth the progress during the last century.

Dr. Osler will occupy the chair in the department of medicine, and Dr. Bovey will deliver the principal address in the department of technology. The subject of his address is "Fundamental conceptions which enter into technology." This is a very large and important subject on which practically nothing has been written.

MONTREAL SINGERS AT THE CAPITAL

State Concert at Ottawa Promises to Be Grand Affair.

AN ELABORATE PROGRAMME

Farewell to Their Excellencies Will Take Novel and Interesting Form.

His Excellency has sanctioned the giving of a "farewell state concert," to be held on the evening of October 19th, in the Russell Theatre, Ottawa, at which Their Excellencies the Governor General and the Countess of Minto, attended by their full suite, will be present in state. Such an imposing function will prove unusually interesting in many respects, especially so to the citizens of the Capital, marking as it will the last night which Their Excellencies will spend in Ottawa, after a reign of six years. From a musical point of view, the preparations promise to exceed in magnitude anything previously attempted in Ottawa or any other section of the Dominion. The arrangements and direction of which are in the hands of Mr. Harriss, of Earnscliffe. A chorus of 200 voices will go from Montreal, 50 orchestral players from New York, Buffalo and other points, together with several noted soloists from Boston and New York. The state programme will include a work expressly composed for the ceremony by Mr. Harriss, entitled "Pan," a choric idyl, dedicated by permission to Her Excellency the Countess of Minto. Another important and highly interesting feature on the state programme will be the singing of Handel's celebrated Coronation anthem, "Long live the King." The unaccompanied four-part singing by two hundred voices of "Will ye no' come back again?" by the Montreal Oratorio Society, will be a feature. The net proceeds of concert will be given to the Lady Minto Cottage Hospital fund, Col. Irwin, C.M.G., acting as hon. treasurer.

The Rev. A. J. Full, assisted by Mr. R. T. Johnson, president of Westmount Lodge, conducted the Sons of England burial service at the house, and the Rev. Canon Ellegood, assisted by the Rev. H. A. Speculation as to Elections.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, September 16.—A Globe's Ottawa special says, "Speculation is being actively indulged in as to the probable date of the elections. One thing is certain they will not take place between the 1st and 15th of November."

The Approaching Campaign.

Must Be People's Candidate.

Toronto, September 16.—Mr. E. Fieldin, secretary of the North Toronto Liberal Association, declares that whoever is selected by the convention to contest the constituency in the Liberal interest, will be the "people's candidate," and that wire pullers will have no more chance for the nomination than any other member of the party.

"Neither Sir Wm. Mulock nor any one else," he said, "will direct the action of this convention."

Mr. R. L. Borden's Tour.

Toronto, September 16.—Mr. R. L. Borden, leader of the Opposition, who is still in the city, has arranged for two more meetings on his Ontario tour. On September 20, afternoon, he will speak at Blenheim and also on the 26th evening at Orillia.

Ontario Cabinet Shake-Up.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Toronto, September 16. — This paragraph appears in the World.

"A man who knows said to the World yesterday: Hon. J. M. Gibson, Hon. E. J. Davis and Hon. F. R. Latchford are a trio of quitters in the Ontario Cabinet. A general election and a new deal are afoot, but Hon. G. W. Ross has a 15 puzzle on his hands trying to pick three new winners."

A Sure Election Sign.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Ottawa, September 16. — It is announced that Mr. Belcourt has received a letter from the Minister of Public Works granting the mechanical staff of the department an increase of pay. The masons and bricklayers get an increase of 30 cents a day, the carpenters, painters and labourers, 25 cents. The wages will thus be: Masons and bricklayers, $2.80; carpenters and painters, $2.25, and labourers, $1.50. Mr. Hyman presents a bouquet to Mr. Speaker by telling him how insistent he has been to get this increase. Coming as it does on the eve of the elections, the men will thoroughly understand what it means. It is understood now that the charwomen in the buildings will demand an increase.

Will Mr. Emmerson Leave Politics?

Special to The Montreal Star.

Ottawa, September 16.—Is Mr. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, about to leave the Dominion Cabinet to accept a position more to his taste and for which his talents are perhaps better fitted? Such is the story that is being told here. Mr. George Robertson, M.L.A., of St. John, N. B. and Hon. William Pugsley have been in Ottawa for a couple of days on somewhat mysterious business, and Mr. Robertson is authority for the statement that Mr. George Fowler, Conservative M.P. for King's, N. B., will meet with strong opposition in his next campaign. This is interpreted to mean that the Liberal candidate will be no less a man than Mr. Pugsley, and that in the event of his success he would become a Cabinet Minister. Nobody believes for a moment that Mr. Pugsley would consent to come to Ottawa as a private member, and the only Cabinet position which he could be given would be that of Minister of Railways. It is understood that Judge Tuck the present Chief Justice of New Brunswick, has intimated his willingness to retire in order to make way for Mr. Emmerson.

Germans of Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, September 16. — The German-speaking citizens of the West will have in future a bright newspaper of their own. The Germania is ably edited, is in touch with Canadian sentiment and progress, and advocates the principles and aims of the Conservative party in Canada.

New Brunswick Seats.

The St. John Sun says: "Premier-Tweedie and Attorney-General Pugsley have been telling the Montreal press that New Brunswick will return fourteen Liberal members and no Conservatives in the coming election. Fourteen seats out of thirteen would be a high estimate for some public men, but it is nothing for these two provincial ministers. They are usually further out of the way than this in their statements on provincial finance."

Apropos of the Conservative leader's recent visit to St. John, the St. John Star says: "Last December R. L. Borden visited St. John and made a speech. He was warmly received and the speech made a deep impression. Two months later there was an election here, resulting in a great Conservative victory. The memory of these things, together with the confidence of his followers that the recent visit would be the forerunner of an even greater victory added inspiration to the enthusiasm which greeted the Conservative leader. No more successful political meeting was ever held in this city."

The Liberals of Montcalm.

St. Esprit, Que., September 16. —The Liberals of Montcalm met in convention Wednesday, with the object of choosing a candidate for the coming Federal elections, but the chairman, M. Lapierre, demanded that another convention be called, on the ground that the present one was not regularly constituted.

Mr. F. O. Dugas, M.P., addressed the convention, and stated that he would again accept the nomination.

The Club Brodeur.

The Club Brodeur will, on September 18th, hold an excursion to Otterburn Park, under the patronage of the Hon. L. P. Brodeur, Minister of the Interior. Among those who will speak are Hon. Mr. Brodeur, Hon. Mr. Prefontaine, Hon. Mr. Lemieux, Messrs. R. Bickerdike, H. Gervais, L. Lavergne and many others.

Will Speak at Sorel.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier will speak at Sorel next week. The date has not yet been fixed.

The Club Lafontaine.

The Club Lafontaine propose to make a considerable addition to their club house. They will commence to construct immediately a bowling alley. It will be 90 feet in length, 20 feet in breadth, and 14 feet high, and will be used for the clubs political reunions, as well as for the amusement of the members.

A Maritime Rumour.

L'Evenement (of Quebec, Cons.), says: "It is said that the Hon. Mr. Fielding strongly insists that Hon. Mr. Murray, Premier of Nova Scotia, resign, his present position and become a Liberal candidate in the federal elections in Cape Breton. In the event of a Liberal victory Mr. Murray would succeed Sir Frederick Borden as Minister of Militia. Rumour also has it that whatever crops up there will surely be a shuffle in the local cabinet of Nova Scotia, Attorney-General Longley taking a seat on the bench."

Women and Subjects of Interest to Women.

TO-DAY'S RECIPE.

The following recipe for egg croquettes is very good. To make, use four hard boiled eggs, three tablespoonfuls of cream, butter the size of a large nutmeg, a heaping saltspoonful of salt, a dash of pepper. When the eggs are very hard and perfectly cold, rub through a fine wire sieve, add the cream, salt and pepper, beating in gradually. Melt the butter and stir in. As eggs sometimes vary in size, a little thickening may be needed to give the right consistency. Use the finest cracker dust, adding a little at a time until the mixture can be moulded into very soft balls. Roll in cracker dust and drop into a deep kettle of hot fat to fry. When they are brown, drain on a wire sieve, and serve with lettuce salad. For this purpose the croquettes should be cold. When hot, serve with crisp bacon.

Mrs. Richard Patterson, of Cadieux street, has returned home from Quebec.

Mrs. W. McLea Walbank and family, Peel street, have returned home from Metis.

The marriage of Miss Isabel Zoe Shortt, daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Shortt, of Port Hope, to Rev. Vivian Morgan, rector of Elora, was celebrated by Rev. Canon Muckleston, cousin of the bride, and Rev. G. S. Davidson, of Guelph, in St. Mary's Church, Dovercourt, yesterday. Owing to very recent bereavements in the family of both bride and groom, only immediate relatives were invited, but a large number of friends assembled to witness the ceremony. The bride was given away by her cousin, Mr. W. Alaire Shortt, of New York, and wore a gown of soft white silk, trimmed with Brussels lace, a tulle veil with orange blossoms, and carried a shower boquet of lily of the valley. The two bridesmaids were in attendance, Miss Llyna Morgan, sister of the groom, and Miss May Cummings, niece of the bride, who wore gowns of white organdie and Valenciennes lace, white chiffon hats with white plumes, and carried shower boquets of pink asters. Rev. C. A. Seager, of St. Cyprian's Church, was best man, and Messrs. Jack and Neil Van Nostrand were ushers. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan left on the afternoon train for New York and Seabright, the bride travelling in tailor made suit of light gray cloth, with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan will return to Toronto on Sept. 28th.

A Problem for Christianity.

To the Editor of the Montreal Star.

Sir,—Am I my brother's keeper?" was said many thousands of years ago, but the echo of the words is still reverberating down the ages. "Am I my brother's keeper?" is the spirit of the thought of the vast majority of men and women to-day when they hear of a case of suicide such as we had recently in our midst.

They read the particulars in the papers, lean back comfortably in their cushioned chairs, and dismiss the matter with, "The girl was foolish and weak. She deserves no sympathy."

It is so easy to condemn, so difficult to put oneself in the same place.

A young girl absolutely ignorant of the temptations of a great city comes here to work. She comes from a quiet country town or village, or from some small, poor farm,—too small, too poor to support the brood of children that swarm about the frame building.

So she packs up her pitiful little belongings and comes into the city to find work—the great selfish city, where every one is intent on their own business, their own pleasure. She gets a situation in a factory or a shop, and after working all day like a galley slave is turned loose at night with no place to go to but her dingy little bedroom, in some squalid boarding house.

What is she to do? Where is she to go?

Remember she is alone, young, thrown quite on her own resources.

She may have one or two friends or relations but they are all probably living in some cramped dwelling that offers no attractions, no amusement for the long evenings.

Youth craves companionship; youth longs for amusement. It would not be human did it otherwise. And, thwarted in any healthy, honest way, how does it get it? It goes out into the streets, into low places of amusement, into suspicious resorts and picks up acquaintance with God knows whom.

And this is the problem we have to face, we people who call ourselves Christians.

What are the women of Montreal going to do about it? What are the clergy?

The poor girl, who has turned the thoughts of the public in this direction, is only one of a hundred, nay, a thousand, cases. We happen to have heard of her, that is all. Any woman with any experience of Montreal knows that hers is not a unique case. Only the majority of times the result is not suicide but the drifting into a life of sin and shame.

This poor girl belonged to the Church of England. Had any of all those hundreds that marched behind the Archbishop of Canterbury held out a hand to her, invited her to attend his church, come to the girls' meetings?

The Church, if it is active, up-to-date, thoroughly in earnest, can do much to prevent such tragic occurrences.

It is a problem that is being wrestled with in New York by men of heart and brain and practical Christianity.

One branch of the effort to better the condition of the working classes is shown by Bishop Potter's late—and much criticised—action in opening a model saloon. He knows what the saloons of New York are—vile places, where back rooms shelter all sorts of iniquity. He knows that these resorts are all the working man of New York has in the way of a club. He knows that the poor man, like the poor woman, has no place to spend his evenings. He knows that the young man, in his desire for the company of his fellowmen, once he has got his foot inside the door of a saloon is poisoned with bad liquor, induced to drink too much, and finally lured on to worse crimes.

This is the hydra-headed monster that Bishop Potter is fighting, and let us all honour him for it, and not stupidly and blindly criticise from a most superficial knowledge of the question.

To turn to the side of the problem dealing with the working girls, we can get a hint or two from the work that is being carried on at St. George's in New York. This church is doing a wonderful work, chiefly through the unstinted generosity of Pierpont Morgan and the tireless zeal of the Rev. Dr. Rainsford and his assistants.

One branch of this wonderful church organization in particular might be copied with advantage by the churches of Montreal, namely, the work of the Girls' Friendly Society. Over five hundred working girls belong to the G.F.S. in St. George's, and at the evening classes they are taught sewing, cooking, millinery, embroidery, anything in fact they please, and meet other girls and are brought into contact with educated, refined women who take an interest in them and have their welfare at heart.

A letter to this paper suggested a way of reaching a large number of girls who work in shops, namely, by a mode of registration, which would enable the clergymen of the different denominations to gather into their folds those who belong to them and give these waifs of humanity some tie, some responsibility, some one to take an interest in them.

If Christianity is going to be a force in the community, going to be a power to be reckoned with in the twentieth century, it must wake up. It must use its head, its brains, and not be content to amble on in the same old ruts. It must realize its responsibility to the working classes, throw open its doors to them, stretch out welcoming hands to them.

Here in Canada there is a danger of us lagging behind. Especially perhaps is this true in Montreal. We are the biggest city of the Dominion; let us be the most Christianlike, the most practical.

At present we have charities galore. What we want is not so much charity, but more brotherhood. Not to help the poor so much, but to help them to help themselves more.

We have been sleeping, let us be up and doing.

THE GRAFTERS

By Francis Lynde

David Kent laughed, as he was in duty bound, but he still had Ormsby on his mind.

"I see you have Mrs. Brentwood and her daughters here; can you tell me where I can find Mr. Brookes Ormsby?"

"I suppose I could if I should try. But you mustn't hurry me. There is a vacant corner in that davenport beyond the piano; please go there and fetch me an ice. I'll wait for you."

He did as he was bidden, and when she was served he stood over her, wondering, as other men had wondered, what was the precise secret of her charm. Loring had told him Miss Van Brock's story. She was southern born, the only child of a somewhat ill-considered match between a young California lawyer, wire-pulling at the national capital in the interest of the Central Pacific Railway, and a Virginia belle tasting the delights of her first winter in Washington.

Later, the young lawyer's state, or his employers, had sent him to Congress; and Portia, left motherless in her middle childhood, had grown up in an atmosphere of statecraft, or what passes for such, in an era of frank commercialism. Inheriting her mother's rare beauty of face and form, and uniting with it a sympathetic gift in grasp of detail, political and other, she soon became her father's confidante and loyal partisan, taking the place, as a daughter might, of the ambitious young wife and mother, who had set her heart on seeing the Van Brock name on the roll of the United States Senate.

Rensselaer Van Brock had died before the senatorial dream could be realized, but not before he had made a sufficient number of lucky investments to leave his daughter the arbitress of her own future. What that future should be, not even Loring could guess. Since her father's death Miss Van Brock had been a citizen of the world. With a widowed aunt for the shadowiest of chaperons, she had drifted with the tide of inclination, coming finally to rest in the western capital for no better reason, perhaps, than that some portion of her interest-bearing securities were emblazoned with the great seal of this particular western State.

Kent was thinking of Loring's recountal as he stood looking down at her. Other women were younger—and with features more conventionally beautiful; Kent could find a round dozen within easy eye-reach, to say nothing of the calm-eyed, queenly improvisatrice at the piano—his constant standard of all womanly charm and grace. Unconsciously he fell to comparing the two, his hostess and his love, and was brought back to things present by a sharp reminder from Portia.

"Stop looking at Miss Brentwood that way, Mr. David. She is not for you; and you are keeping me waiting."

He smiled down at her.

"It is the law of compensation. I fancy you have kept many a man waiting — and will keep many another."

There was a little tang of bitterness in her laugh.

"You remind me of the time when I went home from school—oh, years and years ago. Old Chloe—she was my black mammy, you know—had a grown daughter of her own, and her effort to dispose of her 'M'randy' was a standing joke in the family. In answer to my stereotyped question she stood back and folded her arms. 'Naw, honey; dat M'randy ain't mah'ied yit. She gwine be des lak you; look pretty, an' say, Howdy! Misteh Jawnson, an' go 'long by awn turrer side de road.'"

"A very pretty little fable," said Kent. "And the moral?"

"Is that I amuse myself with you—all of you; and in your turn you make use of me—or you think you do. Of what use can I be to Mr. David Kent this evening?"

"See how you misjudge me!" he protested. "My errand here to-night is purely charitable. Which brings me back to Ormsby; did you say you could tell me where to look for him?"

"He is in the smoking-room with five or six other tobacco misanthropes. What do you want of him?"

"I want to say two words in his ear; after which I shall vanish and make room for my betters."

Miss Van Brock was gazing steadfastly at the impassioned face lighted by the piano candles.

"Is it about Miss Brentwood?" she asked abruptly.

"In a way—yes," he confessed.

She rose and stood beside him—a bewitching figure of a woman who knew her part in the human comedy and played it well.

"Is it wise, David?" she asked softly. "I am not denying the possibilities; you might come between them if you should try—I'm rather afraid you could. But you mustn't, you know; it's too late. You've married her, between you; or rather that convention, which makes a woman deaf, blind and dumb until a man has fairly committed himself, has married her. For your sake she can never be quite all she ought to be to him; for his sake she could never be quite the same to you."

He drew apart from her, frowning.

"If I should say that I don't fully understand what you mean?" he rejoined.

"I should retort by saying something extremely uncomplimentary about your lack of perspicacity," she cut in maliciously.

"I beg pardon," he said, a little stiffly. "You are labouring under an entirely wrong impression. What I have to say to Mr. Brookes Ormsby does not remotely concern the matter you touch upon. It's an affair of the Stock Exchange."

"As if I didn't know!" she countered. "You merely reminded me of the other thing. But if it is only a business secret you may as well tell me all about it at first hands. Some one is sure to tell me sooner or later."

Now David Kent was growing impatient. Down in the inner depths of him he was persuaded that Ormsby might have difficulty in inducing Mrs. Brentwood to sell her Western Pacific stock even at an advance; might require time, at least. And time, with a Buck's majority tinkering with corporate rights in the Assembly, might well be precious.

"Forgive me if I tell Ormsby first," he pleaded. "Afterward, if you care to know, you shall."

Miss Van Brock let him go at that, but now the way to the smoking-den on the floor above was hedged up. He did battle with the polite requirements, as a man must; shaking hands or exchanging a word with one and another of the obstructors only as he had to. None the less, when he had finally wrought his way to the smoking room Ormsby had eluded him again.

He went back to the parlors, wondering how he had missed the clubman. In the middle room of the suite he found Portia chatting with Marston, the lieutenant-governor; and a young woman in the smartest of reception gowns had succeeded to Elinor's place at the piano.

"You found him?" queried the hostess, excusing herself to the tall, saturnine man who had shared the honours at the head of the People's Party ticket with Jasper G. Bucks.

"No," said Kent. "Have you seen him?"

"Why, yes; they all came to take leave just a few moments after you left me. I thought of telling Mr. Ormsby you were looking for him, but you shut me off so snippily—"

"Miss Van Brock! What have you done? I must go at once."

"Really? I am complimented. But if you must, you must, I suppose. I had something to tell you—something of importance; but I can't remember what it was now. I never can remember things in the hurry of leave-takings."

As we have intimated, Kent had hitherto found Miss Portia's confidences exceedingly helpful in a business way, and he hesitated. "Tell me," he begged.

"No, I can't remember it: I doubt if I shall ever remember it unless you can remind me by telling me why you are so desperately anxious to find Mr. Ormsby."

"I wonder if you hold everybody up like this," he laughed. "But I don't mind telling you. Western Pacific preferred has gone to fifty-eight and a half."

"And Mr. Ormsby has some to sell? I wish I had. Do you know what I'd do?" She drew closer and laid a hand on his arm. "I'd sell—by wire—to-night; at least, I'd make sure that my telegram would be the first thing my broker would lay his hands on in the morning."

"On general principles, I suppose; so should I, and for the same reason. But have I succeeded in reminding you of that thing you were going to tell me?"

"Not wholly; only partly. You said this matter of Mr. Ormsby's concerned Miss Brentwood—in a way—didn't you?"

"You will have your pound of flesh, entire, won't you? The stocks is hers, and her mother's and sister's. I want Ormsby to persuade them to sell. They will listen to him. That is all; all the all."

"Of course!" she said airily. "How simple of me not to have been able to add it up without your help. I saw the quotation in the evening paper; and I know, better, perhaps, than you do, the need for haste. Must you go now?" She had taken his arm and was wedging him through the press in the parlours toward the entrance hall.

EXACT ANALYSIS AS TO HOW WATER TAXES ARE PAID IN MONTREAL

A report, interesting to all citizens who pay water rates, was completed to-day by the City Treasurer.

The report shows exactly what various dwellings, according to assessment rentals, pay for water rates in the city.

The document was asked for at the last meeting of the Finance Committee by Ald. L. A. Lapointe, who is anxious to remodel the entire system of charging for water in the city.

At the meeting in question Ald. Lapointe held that the custom of charging for water by assessed rentals should be abolished. His contention is that people who pay a very low rental—because of straightened means—should have a special charge for water, while those who can afford to pay big rentals should be made to pay a higher percentage for water. In the hope of remodelling the present system, Ald. Lapointe desired a report showing exactly how rentals were paid in the city.

In explaining his report to-day, the City Treasurer contended that it proved those of moderate means were well treated in regard to the water rates. He held that if a man could afford only to pay a low rental, he had, consequently, a low water tax.

As to the disfranchising of citizens who could not afford to pay the water tax on a specified date every year, Mr. Robb said he would not care to express an opinion.

The report of Mr. Robb which has been handed to the Mayor and aldermen is as follows:

City Treasurer's Office,
Montreal, 15th of September, 1904.

W. ROBB,
City Treasurer.

From the above it is seen that the enormous sum of $850,000, from all sources, is got in every year by the city from the water tax. Over $330,00 of this is pure profit. It is for this reason that Ald. Lapointe thinks the rates should be remodelled, as it would be easier for the working class to pay.

GET YOUR NAME ON THE LIST.

On the 15th of September the secretary in each municipality in Quebec outside Montreal and Three Rivers closed his work of making up the lists. Names can now be added with a little formality. During the balance of the month of September, however, any person whose name has been omitted from the list can appeal to have it put on, and after the lapse of the fifteen days his application will be submitted to the council for action.

BOOK WAS SIGNED— NO MEETING COULD BE HELD.

A meeting of the Finance Committee was called for yesterday afternoon, but it was not held and thereby hangs a tale. The session was called at a specified hour and according to the rule of the Council any member, if the meeting is not held fifteen minutes after the specified time, can sign the book and depart. It so happened that Ald. L. A. Lapointe was sharp on time and after waiting the specified fifteen minutes signed the book and departed. Some twenty minutes afterwards there was a quorum, but no meeting could be held as the book had been signed.

GRANTED PETITION— DISMISSED THE APPEAL.

The Wampole and Lyons case was again before the courts this morning. The Wampole Company brought a suit against Lyons, druggist, to obtain an injunction to prevent him selling their remedies at a lower price than the ordinary retail charge. The application was dismissed. An appeal was taken against this decision. Then Lyons petitioned the court to set aside this appeal on the ground that permission should have been obtained from the Judge in the case before appeal was taken. This morning the Court of Appeal granted the petition and dismissed the appeal.

THE HEARING WAS ADJOURNED

Judge Lafontaine Considers the Charge Against Mr. Chouillou.

The enquete in the case of Mr. Chas. A. Chouillou, was continued before Judge Lafontaine to-day. Mr. Chouillou is charged by Mr. Leon Louis Cailloux, with the theft of two letters from a firm in France.

Mr. Chouillou told his side of the story to-day. He declared that in former years he had done [illegible] with the French firm and that when he became President of the Chambre de Commerce Francaise de Montreal that he sent out a lot of circulars to new and old correspondents, among them being the French firm. A letter came addressed to Mr. Cailloux, but there were twenty or more ways of spelling his firm's name as far as strangers were concerned, and he though that the letter was meant for him. So did the post office authorities, and it was delivered to him.

He wrote the firm that the prices were too high and he then received a second letter, registered, containing prices. This too was addressed Cailloux, but he still thought that it was for him, and he signed the regulation receipt. He again wrote that the prices were too high. This was three months ago, and he was now surprised to find himself charged with the theft.

His Honour said he would adjourn the hearing till Monday, as it was at present clear to him that Mr Chouillou had acted in good faith. Evidence to the contrary would have to be submitted if the complainant expected a committal.

Junior Conservative Club.

The smoker given by the Junior Conservative Club, at its rooms, 3 Beaver Hall Square, last evening, was attended by a large gathering of the members and their friends, and a most enjoyable time was spent with music and short speeches from several of the members. The President, Mr. S. W. Ewing, occupied the chair, and amongst those present were Messrs Saumarez Carmichael, Campbell Lane, K. C.; Lieut.-Col. T. P. Butler, K. C.; C. E. Gault, J. H. Jacobs, F. J. Curran, R. L. de Martigny, M. S. Lonergan, James A. Edwards, A. J. Whimbey, James Strike, J. Magee, L. O. Armstrong, Dr. R. J. Simpson, E. M. Murphy, E. A. Davidson, R. V. Onslow, M. Cheese, J. P. Whelan, Jr.; T. W. P. Patterson, P. J. McDonagh, T. Hart and F. Stevens.

President Ewing cordially welcomed the members and friends to the gathering, and during the evening instrumental piano selections were given by Mr. C. Johnson, some capital songs by Messrs. C. Kitto, J. M. Barton, and E. M. Murphy and a stirring patriotic recitation by Mr. J. A. Edwards.

Mr. Joseph H. Jacobs said the members were pleased to see Mr. Campbell Lane present. There were so many who were hoping that Mr. Lane would become a Conservative candidate for St. Lawrence, and they were waiting for the time, if he should come in the field, to work with might and main. As far as Mr. Jacobs's Hebrew compatriots were concerned, he felt assured, in spite of so-called pretensions to the contrary, that a Conservative candidate would receive a just support at their hands. There was no man or political party who controlled this vote as there were no more independent and fair minded people than the Hebrews of Montreal.

Short addresses were also delivered by Messrs. R. L. de Martigny, L. O. Armstrong, Lieut.-Col. Butler, M. S. Lonergan, S. Carmichael and Campbell Lane, who received an ovation at the close of his speech.

Fifteen new members were added to the club.

Tunisian Due This Evening.

The Allan line royal mail steamship Tunisian, from Liverpool for Montreal, arrived at Quebec at 9 a.m., proceeded at 11 a.m., and is due here at 9.30 p.m. to-day.

PROBLEM OF THE CROPS

President of London Corn Exchange Discusses Wheat.

WHAT ENGLAND DOES

Farmers In Old Land Take Care of the Soil by a Rotation of Crop.

Mr. W. P. Wood, who for three years has been president of the London (England), Corn Trade Association, is at present a visitor in Montreal, and this morning was introduced on the floor of the Montreal Board of Trade.

Mr. Wood is still actively engaged in the grain trade in England, having a house in London and another in Hull, and as he has spent the greater part of a long lifetime in the trade his views are interesting.

He said that four years ago the proportion of wheat which Canada and the United States were selling in Great Britain amounted to about seventy per cent. of the total imports, while according to the latest figures the imports from the two countries named would not amount to over twenty per cent. this year. This was largely owing to the high prices which had existed on this side of the Atlantic, and which Great Britain was not obliged to follow owing to the Argentine, the South Russia, the Indian and the Australian markets. Each of these had, roughly speaking, contributed 20 per cent of the wheat imported into England this year, leaving the other 20 per cent. for Canada and the United States.

In Mr. Wood's opinion it was mainly the Indian crop which had saved them from what he characterized as "the extravagant American rise," and in which the Canadian markets followed. The Indian crop during the present year has been a large one amounting to some 350,000,000 bushels.

"India," said Mr. Wood, "is unlike other countries in respect to its crops. At times when she has grown only a comparatively small amount of wheat she has still been a very large exporter. This is accounted for by the fact that the natives do not confine themselves to any one grain for consumption. If rice, millet and barley, or any one of them, is relatively cheaper than wheat, then the wheat is exported, and the other grain or grains, as it may happen, is eaten. Other countries must retain a certain proportion of the wheat crop for home consumption, but not so with India.

SHIPMENTS FROM EAST.

The grain shipments from the great Eastern Empire to the continental ports of Europe have very largely increased within the past few years, and in many of them they are to-day furnishing more grain than all other countries put together.

The characters of the wheat, Mr. Wood described as hard and dry, and for these reasons is found extremely profitable by the British millers. It lacks sweetness, however, and to make good flour, must be mixed with a wheat such as our best Manitoba.

One of the peculiarities of Argentine wheat was its lack of uniformity. It seems that the wheat growers of the Argentine are very largely emigrants from other countries, such as France and Belgium. These settlers not only brought out their own seed, but also their own methods of cultivation, the consequence being that there were on the market a half dozen types of wheat, each distinct and separate from the other. Of course the values of these different wheats varied as did the type, and sometimes an English importer would receive a varied assortment all in one cargo. This trouble was greatly augmented by the fact that grain elevators are as yet almost an unknown quantity in the Argentine Republic, and Mr. Wood was of the opinion that a great share of the trouble would subside when the Argentinians were able to have their grains properly sorted and handled by good elevator systems.

THE HOME DEMAND.

In reviewing the grain business of the United States, Mr. Wood spoke of the greatly increased home demand and the improbability of the country ever again being a great seller of wheat outside their own country.

"They have done in the United States what I hope you Canadians will avoid," concluded Mr. Wood, "and that is spoil their lands. In England the average of wheat per acre runs as high as thirty bushels to the acre; in Canada it is about seventeen bushels, and in the United States a great deal less, perhaps eleven bushels to the acre, on an average.

"In England we are raising wheat on land which has been used for centuries, and still the results are good. We are not wearing out our lands, however, but on the other hand are carefully husbanding the resources of every acre by rotation of crops, and all other expedients which scientific farming has given the world."

Mr. Wood will spend a few days in Montreal, after which he will make a trip through the west, with an idea of seeing the crops for himself. This is his second visit to this city, having been here with the delegates of the London Chamber of Commerce.

GRAND TRUNK SAY NO NOTIFICATION.

Mr. John Loud, freight traffic manager of the G. T. R., stated this morning that his company had as yet received no notification of any agreement having been made between the Pere Marquette Railroad, and the Chicago packing houses. The G. T. R. does considerable business for these companies, and does not expect to lose this as yet. The rumour has not been confirmed.

WHAT'S THE USE

To Keep a "Coffee Complexion."

A lady says: "Postum has helped my complexion so much that my friends say I am growing young again. My complexion used to be coffee coloured, muddy and yellow, but it is now clear and rosy as when I was a girl. I was induced to try Postum by a friend who had suffered just as I had suffered from terrible indigestion, palpitation of the heart and sinking spells.

"After I had used Postum a week I was so much better that I was afraid it would not last. But now two years have passed and I am a well woman. I owe it all to leaving off coffee and drinking Postum in its place.

"I had drank coffee all my life. I suspected that it was the cause of my trouble, but it was not until I actually quit coffee and started to try Postum that I became certain; then all my troubles ceased and I am now well and strong again." Name furnished by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason.

MONTREAL CITIZE IS EXEMPT FROM MANY TAXES LEVIED IN TORONTO

On account of the trouble the Finance Committee is experiencing in making the revenue sufficient to keep the streets, etc., in good order, Hon. Mr. David, City Clerk was authorized to write to Toronto and other cities to find out their system of taxation.

A reply was received by Mr. David, from the Mayor of Toronto to-day, and makes interesting reading. It shows that many personal taxes are levied in the Queen City that go free in Montreal. Among other things the assessment for road improvements is much greater, while the citizens of Toronto, in addition to many other taxes, have to pay on personal earnings, interest on mortages, dividends from banks, a dividend on shares of stock. It is also pointed out that the total "exempted" property of Toronto only amounts to $24,472.04, while in Montreal the exemptions foot up forty millions.

The document received by the Hon. Mr. David from Toronto is as follows:

Replying to the enquiry of the Honourable Senator L. O. David, I forward herewith the following information:

Taxes at the rate of 19 mills on the dollar were levied for the year 1904, on the following properties in the city of Toronto.

LAND $60,929,703.

1. All land occupied and unoccupied.
2. Land of railway companies (including right of way).
3. Land of the Toronto Street Railway Company, electric light companies, Consumer's Gas Company, Bell Telephone Company, and telegraph companies.

Note.—The land of the above companies includes the plant on the streets; that is, the rails, poles, wires, pipes, mains, etc., but the rolling stock of the street and steam railways is not assessable.

BUILDINGS AND IMPROVEMENTS $65,935,283.

1. Includes all dwellings, wholesale houses, retail stores, manufacturing industries, and all machinery or other things so fixed to any building as to form part of it.
2. Switchboards of the Bell Telephone Company.

Note.—Machinery, plant, etc., of manufacturing industries heretofore exempt from general taxes, except for school rates (5 8-10 mills, which is included in the general rate of 19 mills), is assessable for the year 1905 as personal property. The Act granting the council the option of exempting such property having expired.

PERSONAL PROPERTY, $10,544,324.

1. This is comprised of money, notes, accounts and debts at their actual cash value, and the stock of wholesale and retail merchants, of manufacturers and other classes of business, less so much as is equal to the just debts owed by these parties on account of such property.
2. Personal property also includes horses, carriages, automobiles, waggons, etc.

INCOME, $4,408,187.

1. All personal earnings exceeding the statutory exemption of $1,000.
2. Interest on mortgages, dividends from bank stock, dividends on shares of stock of other incorporated companies, subject to an exemption of $400.00.

Note.—Rents and other income from real estate is not assessable.

Besides the general rate of 19 mills there is a local improvement tax for new roadways, sidewalks, sewers, etc., with a varying rate against the properties benefited.

Exempt property in the city of Toronto amounts to $24,472.04 and includes Dominion and Ontario Government properties, all municipal property not leased such as fire halls, public libraries, public halls, etc., churches, public and separate schools, incorporated seminaries of learning, etc.

SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISERS.

MR. FRANCIS DEIMEL,
Of the Deimel Linen-Mesh System Co.

RAPID DEVELOPMENT.

"We opened this store four years ago and since then the business has been growing very fast all through Canada," said the representative of the Deimel Linen-Mesh Co.

"We have advertised extensively. We use the Star more than any other newspaper and we consider it to be by far the best advertising medium there is. It brings results.

"People write asking us for the goods that they see advertised in the Star."

An interesting thing about the success of the Deimel Linen-Mesh Company is the story behind the career of Mr. Francis Deimel, the manager for Canada. He started in Germany as a boy, working his way to a successful banking business in New York, and thence he came to Canada where by up-to-date business methods and enterprising advertising he has already built up a very large business.

RUSH HOUR SERVICE FOR ACCOMMODATION OF BUSINESS MEN.

On Monday next the Montreal Street Railway will establish a rush hour service for the accommodation of business men residing in the western portion of Montreal and in Westmount.

This service, which will be run over what is familiarly known as the old Beaver Hall route, will be operated at intervals of five minutes between the hours of 7 and 9.30 in the morning, and 4 and 7.30 o'clock in the afternoon. The service, which is meant for the special accommodation of business men and others who journey down town in the morning and back to their residences in the late afternoon or early evening, will not be operated on Saturday afternoons and Sundays. The route will be as follows: Starting at Place d'Armes Square, westward on St. James, through Victoria Square, up Beaver Hall Hill, and thence west on St. Catherine street as far as Victoria avenue, Westmount. Returning the cars will take the same route as far as Victoria Square. From McGill street they will run east on Notre Dame street as far as Place d'Armes Square, turning into St. James street at this point.

This service is in addition to the present Beaver Hall and Boulevard and Windsor and St. Lawrence lines, these being operated on the same schedule as before.

Porrault's Remarks in Bad Taste.

Chambly Fair was opened yesterday, and in spite of the poor condition of the roads, the attendance was large. Mr. Victor Geoffrion, M.P., declared the fair opened, and dealt at some length with its history.

Mr. Perrault, M.L.A., made a speech, which despite the non-political character of the gathering, was calculated to advance partisan interests. His appeal to the people to organize and approach the Government for aid with a united front, through the regularly constituted officials of the county, was pointed by a story. He instanced the case of a young girl who wanted to get married, but who failed. "For," said the speaker, "she went about it in the wrong way." After a pause Mr. Perrault added gratuitously—and as if to emphasize the girl's disability—"she must have been Irish!"

A good display of live stock is to be seen, while there is also a considerable stock of manufactured goods on exhibition. A banquet was held in the evening, which was largely attended.

No Hostility Towards Quebec.

Hon. J. Israel Tarte writes in La Patrie:

"It is not to the interest of French-Canadians to revive the race questions. They have everything to lose in adopting such a policy. We will be more and more in the minority in this country. Let us do nothing to cause our fellow-citizens of different origin to curse us, to rise up against us. Let us defend our rights and stop there. Let us offer no provocation.

"The politics and personality of Sir W. Laurier can be defended for their intrinsic value without the necessity of having recourse or appealing to prejudices.

"We are happy for our own part to state openly that at the present moment we know of no cliques or men individually in either party who are hostile to our province or our race."

The Late Mr. Jas. M. Douglas.

The death of Mr. J. M. Douglas, the Montreal merchant, is announced at Newburg, N. Y., yesterday. The deceased gentleman was the head of J. M. Douglas and Co., general merchants, St. Nicholas street. The late Mr. Douglas was seventy years of age, and was in business here for more than thirty years. He was a man of means, and lately devoted a good deal of his time travelling.

Mr. R. J. Douglas, his son, left last evening for Newburgh to bring the body to Montreal.

HEIR TO THRONE OF ITALY BORN

Son Born to Queen Helena on Thursday Night.

THE WHOLE NATION REJOICES

The Infant Prince Will Be Christened Humbert—Many Messages of Congratulation.

Racconnigi, Italy, September 16.—A son was born to Queen Helena here last night. There is general rejoicing at the arrival of an heir to the throne of Italy. The young prince will be named Humbert.

APPROVE KING'S ACTION.

Rome, September 16.—The majority of the people approve the action of King Victor Emmanuel in not choosing the title of Prince of Rome for the heir to the throne, born last night, as is would have mixed the royal family in a party struggle, and would have embittered the conflict between Church and State at a time when the Pope seems to be leaning towards moderation. It is believed that the title chosen, that of Prince of Piedmont, will become fixed for all time for the Italian Crown Prince, as is the title of Prince of Wales in England.

To celebrate the birth of the heir the King has granted amnesty to all deserters and has also shortened by six months the terms of imprisonment for certain crimes.

King Victor Emmanuel has received the warmest congratulations throughout the Kingdom, and also most cordial despatches from Emperor Nicholas, Emperor William, President Loubet, King Edward and Emperor Francis Joseph. The Queen of Roumania sent Queen Helene a poem on the event.

EVENT ANXIOUSLY AWAITED.

All Italy will rejoice at the birth of an heir to the throne, as the advent of a little boy in the royal family has been anxiously awaited for some years. King Victor Emmanuel and Princess Helene were married on October 24, 1896, and several little daughters have already been born to them, but in Italy the Salic law prevails, and no woman can succeed to the throne. Up till the present time the heir apparent has been the Duke of Aosta, who is married to Princess Helen of Orleans.

The present King himself bore the title of Prince of Naples until his accession to the throne. But it was not a popular title, just by reason of its being in a measure usurped, since it served to call attention to the fact that the late King Victor Emmanuel had taken advantage of the revolutionary movement of Garibaldi against the Bourbon King of Naples to annex the latter's dominions to his own.

Prince of Piedmont is assuredly the most appropriate title for the hope of the House of Savoy. For Piedmont is, so to speak, the cradle of its race. The reigning house is above everything else Piedmontese, and there is no doubt that among the sturdy, stalwart, taciturn and bluntly honest highlanders of Piedmont there is a feeling of more profound loyalty and whole souled devotion to the reigning family than in any part of Italy.

FURTHER DETAILS OF LOSSES BY HALIFAX FIRE.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Halifax, N.S., September 16.—All night firemen were employed playing on the smouldering ruins of yesterday's conflagration on the water front. The warehouse of G. P. Mitchell and Sons is completely destroyed. Nothing is left standing. Part of the molasses stock was still burning this morning. A large portion of the firm's wharf is burned, but the western end of it is left intact. The buildings of N. and M. Smith were completely destroyed. They included warehouses, cooperages, office and shipping building. Only recently new machinery was installed, which was destroyed. N. and M. Smith's premises covered over half of the burned district. They were all levelled, not a post was left standing. The main wharf of N. and M. Smith was saved. It was packed with a large quantity of barrelled fish, removed from some of the firm's buildings during the progress of the fire.

Some of the buildings on Water street destroyed were very old and antiquated looking structures. Abraham Norcott's cooperage was completely destroyed. Thomas J. Egan, gunsmith, got most of his stock out, but the building was destroyed. The framework of the coal sheds on Campbell's wharf, belonging to the Dominion Coal Company, were standing this morning. The coal was still burning and will not be extinguished for some time. Nothing is left standing of the double dwelling and store of Robert Collins but the brick walls to the south and north ends. Mr. Collins had no insurance on his stock or furniture. The French house of which Captain John Simmons was proprietor, is all gone but the brick side walls. There is nothing left of T. M. Boutillier's fish refrigerator and warehouse. Clanson's liquor stock was destroyed and the building burned.

QUESTION OF TAXATION OF BOARDING NOW DISCUSSED.

A question arose in the Law Department to-day, at the instance of Ald. Gallery, as to whether, according to a new enactment, boarding house keepers could be levied for a special tax. The aldermen contended that the city assessors had been putting special taxes on boarding house keepers. He energetically protested, and held that the enactment was not understood. It is claimed by the alderman that the Law Department gave the opinion that the city had only the right to tax agents for boarding houses. The whole question will come up before the Finance Committee.

REPUBLICANS NOMINATE HIGGINS FOR GOVERNOR.

Saratoga, N. Y., September 16.—The platform adopted by the Republican State Convention yesterday is an endorsement of the party's policies in the state and nation. It repeats and confirms the pledge made to President Roosevelt by the state convention two years ago, of unfaltering confidence, and unwavering support, and records appreciation of his administration, "which has been one of performance unsurpassed in American history."

Lieutenant-Governor P. W. Higgins was nominated for governor by acclamation. Former Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff's name was presented to the convention as a candidate for governor, but he withdrew before a roll call was begun.

NOW ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE

Magloire Hogue Is Before the Court of King's Bench.

CHARGED WITH KILLING WIFE

Prisoner Breaks Down in the Box and Cried Bitterly at Outset.

Magloire Hogue is on trial for his life, in the Court of King's Bench, to-day.

He is charged with having killed his wife at their home, in the rear of 207 Montcalm street, on the night of April 12 last.

Gaol life has evidently agreed with him. At the time of his arrest he showed unmistakable signs of having been on a long carouse, and witnesses at the time of the coroner's inquest told of the fact that he was intoxicated on the night of the murder.

To-day he looks stout and healthy, but the trial has already had an effect upon him, breaking down as he did with the swearing in of the first juror. He cried bitterly, and watched between his tears the work of his lawyer, Mr. J. A. Beaulieu, who insisted on the trying of every juryman before he was sworn to act.

Mr. Eugene Lafontaine, crown prosecutor, is conducting the case, and Mr. Justice Ouimet is presiding. His Lordship did not arrive in court to-day till 11 o'clock, explaining that his train had been held up for a short time by a little accident.

OUTLINED EVIDENCE.

Mr. Lafontaine's outline of the evidence was listened to by all present with much attention. The murder is thought to have taken place at nine o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Frechette lived in the house with the Hogues, and about eight o'clock they went out to spend the evening with some friends. When they returned about 10.30 they went to their rooms, and soon after Hogue came in to see them. When they left the house Hogue was partially drunk and was having a bitter quarrel with his wife. They were then not very much surprised when Hogue said to them:

"Mr. and Mrs. Frechette, come and see. I have killed my wife."

They went with him to the bedroom and found Mrs. Hogue lying in a pool of blood on the bed, her throat and head fearfully cut, as if with a razor. Hogue went out soon after, and went to a saloon, where he tried to get some drink. He there made admissions of having killed his wife, and soon after constables were called and he was taken to the police station. Hogue was formally arrested on the strength of the coroner's jury verdict charging him with murder.

Captain Choquette, who made the enquiries which first led to Hogue's detention, was the first witness called, and he related what had been told him about Hogue's condition and efforts to get drink.

It is expected that a verdict will be reached to-morrow evening.

GREAT SCARCITY OF LABOURERS FOR CONSTRUCTION WORK.

"No man in this city need be out of work." That was the statement of the heads of one of the employment agencies, in this city this morning. It appears that there is a great scarcity of labourers for railway construction work. The various railways cannot obtain sufficient labour to complete enterprises which they have already embarked upon.

This arises from the fact that the C.P.R., Mackenzie and Mann, the Great Northern, are extending their systems and there are various additions being made to smaller branch lines. The railways are offering a hig as $1.50 and $1.75 for this class of labour, but cannot obtain this. The Italians who flocked to Montreal last spring, and among whom so much distress prevailed, have all been absorbed and more are required.

"Of course," remarked the head of ons bureau, "there are large numbers of loafers in the city who will not work. Only the other day I advanced money to a number of men who were to be sent to Shawinigan Falls and the disappeared and never showed up afterwards. They didn't want to work."

The C.P.R. labour bureau confirmed th. above.

COMMISSION IS APPOINTED TO REVIEW THE EVIDENCE.

Mr. Justice Curran and Mr. Justice Lavergne have been appointed by the Quebec Government as a commission to review the evidence of the Cooke-Blackley libel trial. It is expected that official announcement will be made to-day. This action will result in the dropping of the case from the Court of King's Bench list. The mission of the commission will be to declare whether or not the evidence as given justified the action of Mr. J. P. Cooke in issuing a warrant for the arrest of Mr. Blackley.

JURY DECIDE DEATH WAS ACCIDENTAL.

There was an inquest to-day over the remains of Hormisdas Viens, who was killed yesterday in the Grand Trunk Railway yard, at Point St. Charles.

The medical testimony showed that the deceased had been terribly crushed and mangled.

Philias Morin was the first witness examined by Deputy-Coroner Biron. He identified the body, and stated that his cousin was 39 years of age. He was an experienced railway man.

John O'Shaughnessy, 90a Chatham street, said he was the yard foreman of the Grand Trunk Railway, at the Point. He did not see Viens run over. He was talking with him about ten or fifteen minutes before the accident. He explained to the jury that while he was walking from the engine to the rear of the freight train he came across the head of his companion at the side of the track. The rest of Vien's remains were scattered along the track about fifteen feet west of the head. The lantern was lying beside his hands, smashed to pieces.

John Sugrue, 105 Forfard street, who was one of the first to discover the tragedy, said that Viens was an expert workman. He had been in the employ of the I. C. R. and the C. P. R. He could not explains to the jury just how the accident happened.

In summing up the evidence, Deputy-Coroner Biron pointed out to the jury that there was no evidence to show that a crime had been committed. He was convinced that Viens had been caught by the train and accidentally killed.

It only took the jury a few minutes to decide on a verdict of accidental death.

JAPS WILL CARRY ON A WINTER CAMPAIGN

So Declares Baron Hayashi in Interview in London.

SITUATION IN MANCHURIA

The Czar is Satisfied That Kuropatkin Did Best He Could at Liao Yang.

Koupantzu, September 15, via Tien Tsin, September 16.—Japangse have not yet appeared in the vicinity of the Sinmintin railway. The Russians held the great Mukden road from Sinmintin, projecting the right flank with a full army corps above the Hun river.

The Japanese, who are still landing reinforcements at New Chwang and sending winter equipment and supplies from the hills along the east. Foreign military attaches and newspaper correspondents in numbers left the Japanese side after the fighting at Liao Yang. The correspondents are also leaving the Russian army.

The economical and moral administration of New Chwang by the Japanese is in great contrast to the Russian administration. The prosperity of the people is prevented only by the arrest of commerce of the interior by the Russians.

GARRISON FOR LIAO YANG.

Mukden, Thursday, September 15.—(Delayed in transmission)—According to information from Chinese sources the Japanese are leaving a garrison at Liao Yang, and their main forces are moving out on the Russian flanks. The whole Chinese population of Liao Yang is working on the Japanese defences there.

At night the Russian sentries here can discern the glow of the Japanese camp fires in the direction of Liao Yang.

Until three days ago the Japanese had not finished burying or burning their dead around Liao Yang.

EMPEROR THANKS KUROPATKIN.

London, September 16.—A despatch to a news agency from Mukden, dated September 16, says that in a general order issued by General Kuropatkin today the following message from Emperor Nicholas, to the General was published:

"I see from your report that you were unable to hold the fortress of Liao Yang owing to the enemy threatening to cut off your communications. The retreat of the whole army in such difficult circumstances and over such terrible roads was an operation excellently carried out in the face of grave difficulties. I thank you and your splendid troops for their heroic work and continued self-sacrifice. God guard you.

(Signed) "Nicholas."

Commenting on His Majesty's message General Kuropatkin says it contains further expression of lofty benevolence on the part of the Emperor, and adds:

"I am quite sure that in the work that lies before the Manchurian army every soldier will put forth his best efforts to achieve victory over the enemy and become worthy of the confidence of the Emperor."

Kuropatkin ordered the Emperor's message to be read to all the troops with solemn ceremony.

THE JAPANESE PROGRAMME.

Paris, September 16.—The Matin today published a long interview with Baron Hayashi, the Japanese Minister in London, who is quoted as saying:

"Before the war we demanded that Russia recognizes China's sovereignty over Manchuria. To-day, after our victories and expenses we are no longer content with our former demand. After the fall of Port Arthur our conditions will be still more extreme, and after taking Vladivostok they will be yet more extreme.

"The next battle will be at Tie Pass. We shall continue hostilities throughout the winter. e have given up the plan of taking Port Arthur by assault and will compel its capitulation by famine. Its fall would free 50,000 men and enable them to reinforce our northern army, but, we do not need them just now."

AROUND PORT ARTHUR.

Che Foo, September 16.—1.30 p.m.—The Japanese troops between September 8 and September 10 captured a fort situated on a high hill two miles east of Golden Hill by assault. The fighting was not severe.

The Japanese were able to remain in the fort because the quality of the powder used at Golden Hill was so poor that many shells fell short and others failed to explode. The foregoing information was received from an intelligent Chinese, who left Port Arthur on September 12. He had been a dock yard labourer there for many years. He adds that the Japanese are tunnelling under the Russian forts with the intention of blowing them up. He says that the work of tunnelling is slow and arduous and will probably be successful.

St. Petersburg, September 16. — A telegram from Harbin says the following report has been received from Port Arthur:

"Our garrison is in good spirits and there is no prospect of provisions failing. Port Arthur is prepared to make a long obstinate defense.

The Japanese are strongly fortifying their positions near the Kinchou Isthmus and are entrenching before Port Arthur."

Japs Massing at Yental.

St. Petersburg, September 16. — General Kuropatkin reports that reconnaisances have established the fact that the Japanese are massing near Yental and Bentsiaputze. Bodies of Japanese are also moving in the Liao river valley.

DULNESS AGAIN IN LOCAL STOCKS

Market Was Generally Firm, Pacific Being the Leader.

BREAK IN NOVA SCOTIA STEEL

Was Only Weak Spot This Morning—Dominion Coal Strong—Holiday To-morrow.

There will be no session of the Stock Exchange to-morrow.

This was the decision of the brokers taken at noon to-day. Possibly they were influenced in their vote by the fact that dealing has again become perfunctory in the local market, and even New York seems to be taking a respite from its recent vigorous attempts to advance the price of stocks.

The most marked stocks on the Montreal market this morning were again Canadian Pacific and Nova Scotia Steel, the former for its strength, and the latter for its weakness. Enquiry around the street this morning elicited nothing regarding Scotia, which would justify the present decline, more than what was pretty well known when it was at the higher figures of a week or two ago. There is a possibility that the reported apathy of investors in the matter of subscribing to the bonds issued some time since, may be having some influence on the bear side of the market, as showing the general disposition of investors, though of itself, it would appear to be of little consequence. At any rate, Scotia was easily the most active stock on the list this morning and the activity was caused by the disposition on the part of holders to part with their stock at he best prices offered. Some 450 shares were thrown over during the session, the opening sale registering a break of nearly a point, at 65¾, and the market being afterwards carried two points lower. It then rallied ¾ and closed at 64½.

Only 160 shares of Pacific were called for at the market. These were taken at steady prices, the opening sale being at a bulge of 1¼ points from last night's close, at 127, the closing figure being the same, and sales being made at 127⅛ to 127¼. In the meantime Bell, London and New York were firm, London apparently supplying the main strength.

Coal common again evinced strength. A matter of 100 shares were traded in at prices ranging about ¼ above yesterday's highest. The market closed at 60, the price for the day.

Dominion Iron and Steel held firm. There was not much doing in it, but 70 common were taken at 11¾ and 50 preferred at 36, $6,000 bonds ranging from 73 down to 72¾.

R and O held steady and dull at 59, and Montreal Street was firm at 206.

This comprised practically the entire dealings for the morning, the total sales amounting to less than 1,000 shares and some $6,000 bonds.

GOSSIP OVER WIRES FROM WALL STREET.

Hartshorne, Bogert & Batteile.—The bond market continued to be very active throughout the past week, and the scarcity of really high-class securities continues. Speculative issues were heavily dealt in at irregular prices. They have sold off within the past few days in sympathy with the stock market, but the buying appears to be general, and we look for further advance in all issues. Money continues to be easy, and there is no indication as yet of an advance in the call rate.

Charles Head and Co.—The Boston market opened rather tamely this morning, but the specialties soon developed strength and activity. Amalgamated was the leader in coppers, rising to 59⅜, most of the buying coming from New York. Alloues, Utah and Victoria were the other active coppers. Steel stocks are again in very strong and active this morning. The market is spotty today, as it has been the past week.

Burnett and Co.—Billet pool adjourned until next week. Demand for copper here and abroad increasing. Western houses less bullish on Grangers and Pacifics. 20,000 U.S. Steel employes at Mahoning Valley, Ohio, threaten to strike. Bond houses report some revival in demand for traction bonds. Output of coke in Pocohontas and Connellsville fields increasing. Early break in Fall River strike expected. No increase in Union Pacific common dividend probable for 18 months at least.

Edmund & Charles Randolph—We look for a further advance in Penna., Ills. Central, R. & O., and Atchison, and we favour further buying of St. Paul, C. & O., Texas, and C. P. R. We look for an important upward movement in National Lead, and advise the purchase of this stock for substantial profits. Keep on the long side of A. C. P. and Sugar, and buy B. R. T. on any decline. We expect continued strength in the grain market, and higher prices for wheat.

Thirty-eight roads for first week of Sept. show average gross increase of 4.17 per cent.

The Dominion Coal Company have awarded the contract for building three additional steamers, to be used in the coal trade between Sydney and Montreal, to the firm of Aktieselskabet-Borgestad of Porsgrund, Norway. The steamers will be of steel, made by J. Thomson & Co., Sunderland, England. The contracting company has given a guarantee to have one of the boats complete in May next. The steamers will have a carrying capacity of 6,500 tons, and will cost upwards of half a million dollars. They will be built specially for the coal trade, and will have a speed, when loaded, of ten knots.

The contract for the Pacific Ocean service to Mexico has been awarded to Mr. Reid of Glasgow. Mr. Reid will receive a subsidy of $100,000, to which the Canadian and Mexican Governments contribute in equal proportions. The steamships will run monthly between Vancouver and Mexican ports of Mazatlan, San Blas, Manzanillo, Acapulco, Puerto Angel, Salina Cruz, Tonala and San Benedo. The service is for five years. It is hoped to inaugurate an Atlantic service to Mexico also. The Government here are willing to vote $50,000 for the purpose, but the Mexican authorities have not yet signified their willingness to co-operate.

An endeavour was made to sell the properties of the Canadian Woollen Mills Company at Toronto yesterday, but there were few bids and none of the properties were disposed of. A reserve bid had been placed on each parcel, and the woollen men appeared to think that this reserve was too high and refused to bid against it. Otherwise there would have been keen competition for some of the offerings. The assets offered were divided into eight parcels. The woollen and shoddy mill at Hespeler, mills at Waterloo, the Gillies mill at Carleton Place, the Hawthorne mills at Carleton Place, the site of the old mill at Carleton Place, the site of the old mill at Lambton, the supplies, tools, raw material and office furniture, the manufactured stock of woollen goods, and the book debts, accounts and bills receivable.

For the mill at Waterloo, $35,000 was bid, but it was so far below the reserve that it was not accepted. One bid of $1,500 was made for the site of the plant at Lambton Mills, but this was also refused. The only actively bidding was on the stock of manufactured goods, and the bidding went slowly from 25 cents to 51 cents, but advanced no higher. The parcel was withdrawn. Upon the book debts, accounts and bills receivable, valued at $83,000, there was no bid at all, it will not be left to the assignee to dispose of the properties.

The Royal Insurance Company announces the appointment of Mr. William Mackay as Canadian manager, who takes the place made vacant by the death of Mr. George Simpson. Mr. J. H. Labelle becomes assistant manager, and Mr. Geo. Jacoby, general superintendent.

NEW YORK MARKET WAS IRREGULAR.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star in Wall Street.

New York, September 16.—The market opened active, showing very irregular changes in contrast with yesterday's closing prices. Pennsylvania continued the most active stock in the market, and, opening at a substantial advance from its closing figures of yesterday, held very steady at the rise. Pacific stocks continued somewhat heavy, with Southern Pacific showing considerable pressure in the early dealings. Louisville and Nashville was less active than yesterday, and was dealt in at a somewhat lower level. Atchison was steady, while St. Paul moved irregularly. Metropolitan stocks were the feature of the local traction group, Metropolitan Street Railway in particular scoring sharp rise.

In the industrial quarter, United States Steel stocks furnished a larger part of the transactions and were dealt in fractionally below yesterday's closing figures. Broadly speaking, a rather firm tone prevailed in that quarter except that Colorado Fuel and Iron showed continued pressure on the talk of a necessity for the reorganization of that company's affairs. American stocks showed irregular and comparatively small changes in the London market, and foreign houses were disposed to sell here upon the opening of business. There was a virtual absence of news of importance relating to the general market or particular stocks, and discussion centred chiefly around the political situation, the prospects in the money market, and the outlook for grain crops. Canadian Pacific made a net advance of ¾; its sales up to 1 o'clock were 1500 shares.

DAILY COMMERCIAL MARKETS AND QUOTATIONS.

SHARP ADVANCE IN BUTTER MARKET.

Cheese Market Uncertain and Dull—Eggs Rather Higher and Potatoes Easier.

CHEESE—Local exporters have quit quoting definite figures on the market. The situation was mixed this morning, and about the only sure thing was that some have been bidding prices up in the country, while local buyers have been letting westerners have the cheese at the high prices. Yesterday 9c was paid at some country boards for limited quantities, 8⅝ to 8¾c seeming to be the average idea of local men. It seems doubtful if anyone would pay more than 8¾c for Quebecs here while 8⅞ to 9c seems to be the range for Townships, Ontarios being 9 to 9⅛c. On the other hand, holders are asking higher prices than these and they declare that it would be hard to buy any quantity at less than their figures. The situation is quite mixed, and it is difficult to say what will be the outcome.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 9,358 boxes.

BUTTER—The market has advanced 1½c in England. The best informed merchants in the trade do not appear to know what occasioned the advance, but the effect on the local market is none the less marked. Prices here were marked ½c up this morning, and it would be impossible to purchase finest Townships any longer at less than 19½ to 19¾c, finest Quebecs being 19¼ to 19½c. Seconds are in pretty fair supply and one merchant claimed that he had been compelled to accept 18c for some, in order to make a sale. Others would probably bring 18¾c. Fresh dairies are scarce, and 15 to 15½c would be paid for them. It is stated that London is not buying at all, the orders being principally from Liverpool and other northerly points. Factorymen were receiving 19¼c for choice makes at cold stores this morning. The market is now approaching the 20c mark.

Receipts reported on the Board of Trade this morning amounted to 8,508 packages.

EGGS—The market has been gradually stiffening, and to-day it is generally admitted by merchants that they cannot buy really good straight gathered stock at less than 17½c at country points, while some state that for guaranteed fresh laid 19c would be granted. Good straights sell here at 18 to 18½c, and selects at 21 to 22c. Demand is good and receipts light, there this morning being 793 cases.

POTATOES—The market is fairly steady, but merchants declare that they are able to purchase fine stock at 65c per 90 pounds, in carloads, on track or on wharf. Some still quote 70c, but the trend of the market is undoubtedly downwards. Smaller lots sell from store at 80c per bag.

BEANS—The market is firm and fairly active, the demand for local account being good. Old stock is quoted at 32½ to 35c per bushel, on track and 40 to 45c in a jobbing way, from store, for primes.

WOOL MARKET STRONG BUT DULL—OFFERINGS FOR LONDON AUCTION.

The London wool auction sales commence next Tuesday. The sales will be interesting owing to the fact that only 90,000 bales of wool will be offered, this being the smallest quantity ever offered at these sales. The general opinion is that prices will advance, notwithstanding the height to which they have already attained. A matter of 90,000 bales will be but a poor substitute for the quantities generally offered, and will go but a short way towards supplying the ordinary requirements of the trade.

The Boston wool market is reported rather quieter, prices being, however, quite firm. Sales since the first of the year amounted to about 86,000,000 lbs., as against 75,000,000 a year ago. Shipments this year amounted to 153,500,000 lbs.

The Canadian market continues steady. North-West merinos being perhaps a shade firmer. Trade is very dull at present, there being nothing for sale of any consequence. Tub-washed fleece is practically out of the market, and there is very little of the other lines of wool floating around.

There is an impression that farmers are still holding back a certain amount of wool. This will make very little difference to the market, however, as the quantity will be light in any case, and when it comes out it will be readily absorbed.

There is very little business to be done with the cloth mills at present. There are very few of them in operation now, and those which are running are taking very little wool. The knitting mills have come to be the backbone of the trade apparently, and from them may be expected a fair demand at all times. The knitting mills are turning out a first-class product, and it is pretty difficult to import foreign goods in face of the competition from them.

Following are the quotations, prices mentioned for Canadians being to farmers and those for foreign wool being cost laid down here:

Tub washed, Canada fleece, 20½ to 22c.
Canada fleece, in the grease, 14 to 15c.
Canada pulled, brushed, 24 to 26c.
Canada pulled, unbrushed, 22 to 22½c.
North-West merinos, 17½ to 18c.
Chili wools, 16 to 17½c.
Cape greasy, 17½ to 22c.
Washed Peruvians, 22½ to 30c.

SHARP ADVANCES ON TORONTO MARKET.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Toronto, September 16. — Dominion Bank and General Electric were again the leaders in strength in the Toronto market this morning. Good gains were shown in both and predictions of further sharp advances are confidently made. General Electric is tipped for 200 in the present move. Nova Scotia steel was weak and broke low from the opening bid. Coal after early low bids rallied; the first sale being at 60 1-8 or 1 1-8 above yesterday's close. The first bid was only 58 1-4. Nova Scotia Steel opened 3-8 down at 66 and within half an hour sold at 65 3-8 and soon after at 64 1-2. General Electric opened 1-2 up at 156 cash, and soon sold at 157. Early sales ex-dividend 2 1-2 per cent. were at 154-1-4 and Dominion Bank, after opening unchanged at 239, sold up quickly to 240 and was wanted shortly after at 241 1-4. Tractions were dull and steady. C. P. R. was slightly higher at 126 5-8 to 127. Richelieu and Ontario, sold first at 59 1-4 for a couple of small lots and later at 59. The morning sales were:—

Toronto—5 at 233.
Dominion—265 at 239 to 240½.
Mackay pref.—5 at 70¼.

Minneapolis, St. Paul & S. S. M.'s gross for the first week of September are disappointing, as compared with the two previous years. Taking the figures from the first of July, however, the comparison is favourable. The figures are:

BREAK IN PRICE OF WHEAT TO-DAY.

From the Special Correspondent of the Montreal Star on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, September 16.—New September sold from 113⅛ to 113¾, and May from 116¾ to 115, showing losses as compared with the close of yesterday of 1¼ to 2c. The sensational break in the price of cash wheat at Minneapolis, owing to the largely increased offerings at that point, coupled with warmer weather, caused general liquidation of long holdings and an early break in values. Trade was large and the excitement at white heat as the market sold downward. The Modern Miller was construed by the trade as a bearish document. It follows:

"The movement of winter wheat is well maintained, due to the high prices prevailing at the accumulative centres. The largest portion of the grain that is being marketed is low in weight, very little of it testing 60 pounds. Fall seeding is still favoured by almost perfect weather conditions, and a large acreage and a good start to the crop is assured."

Smaller Week for Detroit United.

Detroit Uniteds gross earnings for the first week of September show a slight decrease, but for the year to date there has been a fair expansion. The figures are:

	1904.	1903.	Inc.
First week of Sept	$100,114	$101,623	*$1,509
Since Jan. 1	3,004,482	2,974,889	*65,593

THREE HUNDRED ATTENDED BANQUET

Phoenix Assurance Co. Celebrated Centennial Last Night.

SOME PROMINENT SPEAKERS

Many Well Known Public and Professional Men Present at the Windsor Last Night.

At the Windsor Hotel, last evening, some three hundred gentlemen, at the invitation of Mr. A. T. Paterson, and the directors of the Phoenix Assurance Company, Ltd., celebrated the hundredth anniversary of the establishment of that corporation in Canada.

The incident of a corporation doing business for a hundred years in a country as young as those in the western world is of itself a matter worthy of more than passing moment, while the fact that for three-quarters of that period the same family, the Patersons, have represented the Phoenix on this side of the water, makes the celebration of double interest.

Those present at the invitation of Mr. Paterson and the directors included members of the judiciary, the Cabinet, the Bar, the Senate, the House of Commons, the City Government, representatives of foreign Governments, the banks, and the press.

On the right of Mr. A. T. Paterson, who presided, was seated Mr. H. P. Guernsey, general manager of the company in London, Eng., who came out for the special purpose of attending the celebration. On the latter's right was the Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, representing the Federal Cabinet; next Chief Justice Girouard, Sir H. Montagu Allan, Mr. Justice Hall, Hon. J. P. B. Casgrain, Mr. F. W. Rutter, Mr. A. Kleczkowski, Hon. J. I. Tarte, Messrs. E. A. Boston, one of the assistant secretaries of the company, London; F. D. Monk, K.C., M.P.; D. Macmaster, K.C., Hon. Dr. Guerin, T. B. Macaulay, R. S. Logan, George Crane, Robert Meighen, Mr. Justice Dunlop, George E. Drummond. On the left of the chairman seats were reserved for Mayor Laporte, Hon. R. Lemieux, Mr. Justice Killam, Mr. E. S. Clouston, Sir Melbourne M. Tait, Mr. Justice Davidson, Sir William Hingston, Hon. L. J. Forget, Messrs. N. de Struve, D. A. Ansell, C. Alcock, L. McCarthy, W. B. Brock, Hon. W. A. Weir, Hon. R. Dandurand, F. J. Ogden, James Crathern, Hon. Robert Mackay, Mr. Justice Robidoux and Mr. Recorder Weir.

THE TOAST LIST.

The toast list included "The King," "The President of the United States," "The Phoenix," "the Senate," "The House of Commons," "The Corporation of Montreal," "Sister Institutions," "The Bench and Bar," "The Press."

In proposing the first toast of the evening, Mr. Paterson extended, on behalf of himself and his sons, a hearty welcome to all. He regretted the absence of several who had been unable to honour the banquet with their presence, including Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Chief Justice Sir Elzear Taschereau, Hon. Mr. Fielding, Sir William Macdonald, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, Sir W. C. Van Horne, and Mr. R. B. Angus.

Mr. E. S. Clouston proposed the toast "The Phoenix." He spoke of the record which this company had attained in its century of business in Canada, and he wished long life and happiness to Mr. Paterson and to Mr. Guernsey.

In acknowledging the toast, Mr. Paterson gave a short resume of the history of the company, saying: "It owes its origin to the fact that about the year 1780, the Sugar refiners of London, then an important body, found difficulty in obtaining the large amount of insurance required on their premises. They, therefore, took steps to organize a fire assurance office, and being refused a charter they, with others, formed a fire assurance association of the latter nature each member of which was liable to the full extent of his private fortune for its engagements. On this basis the business was started in London on the 17th of January, 1782, under the name of The New Fire Office, and I hold in my hand a facsimile of the first policy issued, which bears that date, and covers £4,000 on a sugar refinery.

"In 1826, the Canadian agency, originally held by Mr. Alexander Auldjo, was transferred to my late firm of Gillespie, Moffatt & Co., and on its dissolution, in 1889, was continued by my son and myself, so that it has been uninterrupted by us and our connection for 78 years.

THE ORIGINAL ASSOCIATION.

"The original voluntary association, which was formed, as I have already stated, and commenced business in 1782, under the name of The New Fire Office, soon after assumed the happy title of The Phoenix Assurance Company, which now is, and has long been a household word in insurance circles all the world over. Although several modifications of its constitution took place from time to time, as the growth of its business and other conditions rendered advisable, it retained until 1895 its original character of a private partnership, which made no public disclosure of its business; and the fact that under these circumstances it continued not only to maintain its position, but to progress in public favour, speaks volumes for the confidence reposed in the men who controlled it. In 1895, however, it was deemed expedient to abandon the old constitution, and to re-organize the company, on a basis more in accordance with modern ideas, and on this occasion the directors were happily able to justify the confidence so long reposed in them, the assets available for transfer to the re-organized company being even in excess of general expectations. Since 1895 the company has continued its operations, publishing annual statements like other similar corporations, with good and bad years, such as are incident to the business, but on the whole with steady growth and success, as is evidenced by the fact that its shares have ranged from six to seven hundred premium.

"This is the story of the company whose Canadian centennial we celebrate this evening, and while it is unavoidably 'ancient history,' I hope you may not have found it altogether without interest."

Mr. Paterson then referred to the handsome testimonial which had been presented to him by the directors of the company, and which occupied a place on the table in front of him. It is a fac simile of the mace which was provided at the time the Phoenix Company was started, about 1782. The original has ever since stood in the office, and has been used as the sign manual on the Phoenix policies for over a century. It consists of a figure of Britannia, in silver, with shield and trident, and is mounted on an ebony pedestal.

Mr. Guernsey also replied to this toast. He said that the Phoenix had transacted business in the colony direct from London, as early as 1794. Alexander Auldjo was on the 7th of March, 1804, appointed agent for the company in the provinces of Upper and Lower Canada. In the same year, the gift of a fire engine was made to the city of Montreal by the company. In thinking over the matter, it struck him that it would be interesting to see what manner of men those were, who so early in the company's history undertook the bold step of extending its operation to Colonial and foreign fields. Their records, however, were singularly scanty in this respect, and it is very probable that the negotiations were mostly carried on at home. He could not but admire the courage and foresight shown by those then in control of the company, in extending its operations to the Colonies and foreign countries.

OTHER SPEAKERS.

Hon. J. P. B. Casgrain responded for the Senate, referring to insurance as one thing which made for the betterment of civilization.

Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick replied for the House of Commons, and expressed the regret of Sir Wilfrid Laurier at his inability, almost at the last moment, on account of public business of great urgency, to be present at the banquet. Referring to the desire on the part of the general public to know something concerning the general elections, the Minister of Justice said that they would like to know if it was to be a case of nil de mortuis nisi bonum; was it a case of those who had passed away, and of whom nothing but what was good could be said, or was it a case of one who was about to pass away, and of whom they had nothing to say, either of good or evil. He would tell his hearers that he knew of the impending dissolution, and when he had done so they would not know very much, because he knew nothing about it.

"The corporation of Montreal," was briefly and fittingly responded to by the Mayor, and "Sister Institutions" was acknowledged by M. J. Kenny.

"The Bench and Bar" was acknowledged by Chief Justice Girouard and Mr. Donald Macmaster, and the toast of "The Press" was responded to by Mr. J. I. Tarte.

Vin St. Michel is France's gift to Canada. It is a famous old Tonic Wine, rich in iron and phosphorous, and remarkable for its power to keep the whole system in perfect condition.

I certify having been completely cured by the Vin St. Michel. I was excessively weak and without energy. When working, I would feel very weary and generally exhausted. I gave up taking all other remedies and used only Vin St. Michel. It was not long, a few days only, till I felt considerably better and to-day I can affirm that I am perfectly well, it is exclusively due to the three bottles of Vin St. Michel I have taken.

MR. JUSTICE FINNEMORE

Judge of the Natal Supreme Court, Sends the Following Remarkable Testimonial

TO CUTICURA

The World Is Cuticura's Field, Used Wherever Civilization Has Penetrated.

"I desire to give my voluntary testimony to the beneficial effects of your Cuticura Remedies. I have suffered for some time from an excess of uric acid in the blood; and since the middle of last year, from a severe attack of Eczema, chiefly on the scalp, face, ears and neck and on one limb. I was for several months under professional treatments, but the remedies prescribed were of no avail, and I was gradually becoming worse, my face was dreadfully disfigured and I lost nearly all my hair. At last, my wife prevailed upon me to try the Cuticura Remedies and I gave them a thorough trial with the most satisfactory results. The disease soon began to disappear and my hair commenced to grow again. A fresh growth of hair is covering my head, and my limb (although not yet quite cured) is gradually improving. My wife thinks so highly of your remedies that she has been purchasing them in order to make presents to other persons suffering from similar complaints, and, as President of the Bible Women's Society, has told the Bible women to report if any case should come under their notice when a poor person is so afflicted, so that your remedies may be resorted to."

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be quickly and permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I run across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,—she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."—MISS ALICE M. SMITH, 804 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee Minneapolis Study Club.

Beauty and strength in women vanish early in life because of monthly pain or some menstrual irregularity. Many suffer silently and see their best gifts fade away. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women preserve roundness of form and freshness of face because it makes their entire female organism healthy. It carries women safely through the various natural crises and is the safeguard of woman's health.

The truth about this great medicine is told in the letters from women published in this paper constantly.

Mrs. C. Kleinschrodt, Morrison, Ill., says:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered ever since I was thirteen years of age with my menses. They were irregular and very painful. I doctored a great deal but received no benefit.

"A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and after taking a few bottles of it, I found great relief.

"Menstruation is now regular and without pain. I am enjoying better health than I have for sometime."

How is it possible for us to make it plainer that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will positively help all sick women? All women are constituted alike, rich and poor, high and low,—all suffer from the same organic troubles. Surely, no one can wish to remain weak and sickly, discouraged with life and without hope for the future, when proof is so unmistakable that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure monthly suffering—all womb and ovarian troubles, and all the ills peculiar to women.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

PREMIER ROSS HAS MAJORITY OF ONE

The Minnie M. Charges Proven at Sault Ste. Marie Yesterday.

AGENCY ALSO ESTABLISHED

Other Evidence of Liberal Corruption in Sault Ste. Marie and North Grey.

Special to The Montreal Star.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., September 16.—The charge against Mr. C. N. Smith, Liberal, M.L.A., made in connection with the trip of the "Minnie M." to Michipocoten, has been proven and judgment was rendered on Thursday afternoon in the trial of the petition. In addition to the proof of the charges, agency was established and the respondent can be held responsible though not in such a way that his disqualification will necessarily result. Agency was established by the relations shown to have existed between George Sutherland, who was Mr. Smith's credited agent in charge of the organization of the election campaign; William Coyne, assistant manager of the Lake Superior Company, who supplied the steamer without charge, and Kennedy alias Ferguson, who went up to Michipocoten in charge of the men on the boat.

Chancellor Boyd intimated that this would be his final judgment, thus vacating the seat. This reduces Premier Ross' majority to one without the speaker.

During the day new charges were taken up. Two were dismissed by the judge after hearing the evidence, one was dropped by the counsel for the petitioners before the finish and two were held over for further witnesses.

The first charge was that Alexander Menzies had been intimidated by Wm. Coyne, assistant manager of the Consolidated Company to vote for Smith. Menzies testified to the effect that it was intimated to him by Coyne that it would be as much as his job with the company was worth if he did not vote for Smith. The judges after hearing his evidence dismiss the charge.

THE NORTH GREY CASE.

Owen Sound, September 16. — The third day of the North Grey election trial did not develop anything of a very startling nature that was not well known previously. Captain Sullivan was present at yesterday's proceedings, but was not called. Mulloy, one of the Buffalo gang, was the first witness called. He went over a good deal of the same ground as Nason did on Wednesday. He told of his driving out twelve miles from Wiarton to one McIvor's, where a man named McAllister lived, but when he arrived McAllister had retired for the night, and gave $25.00 to McIvor, together with some whisky and cigars; $15 was for McIvor and $10 for McAllister. This story was flatly contradicted by McIvor, who swore that Mulloy never came to his house with money, whiskey or cigars.

One Graham, of Brookholm, a suburb of Owen Sound, also told how some person unknown to him came to his home the night previous to the election and give him $25 to vote for McKay. He afterwards brought the same $25.00 down to H. G. Tucker, a prominent Conservative solicitor, for advice as to how to act in the matter. Judgment in both of these counts was reserved.

The Ottawa City Council will present an address to Lord Minto on the eve of his departure from Canada.

Lady Laurier's Choice of a Piano.

The "Gerhard" Heintzman was the choice of the citizens of Quebec when they wished to make a suitable presentation to Lady Laurier. They had sufficient funds to buy any American piano, but the "Gerhard" Heintzman was chosen from among the two leading American makes on the same floor and offered by the same dealer. In writing to a friend Lady Laurier says: "I love my piano more and more, it awoke in me my old love for music."

A full line of the beautiful art pianos in fancy woods can be seen at the warerooms of J. W. THE WEATHER

This morning opened clear and cool,but soon after sunrise the temperature went up, and the clear, blue sky and gentle wind made the day an ideal autumn one. While, of course, all hot weather is over for the year, it looks as though there might be many of the kind of beautiful autumn days that are now being enjoyed.

LA PRESSE'S VAIN CRUSADE.

(Toronto Mail and Empire.)

We believe La Presse and its satellites will yet discover that their unhappy proceedings are unwise. It is in vain that they seek to poison the minds of Canadians against Canadians. Certainly, try as they may, they cannot cause the English-speaking people to entertain sentiments other than such as are friendly and fraternal towards their French-Canadian friends.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Ottawa, September 16.—Thursday, November 17, will be proclaimed as Thanksgiving Day this year. The proclamation to that effect will appear in Saturday's Canada Gazette, as it was decided on at yesterday's Cabinet Council.

For several years past Thanksgiving has been fixed for the third Thursday in October, because of the greater probability of fine weather on that date than at the later period previously chosen. But again it seems the Government has decided to revert to the November Thanksgiving, for what reason does not appear. Thanksgiving will be observed in Canada this year just a week in advance of Thanksgiving Day in the United States.

PILGRIMAGE TO SHRINE OF REPARATION.

A pilgrimage to the Shrine of Reparation, at Pointe aux Trembles, will take place Tuesday next, September 20th, for the English-speaking Catholics. The ceremony will be under the auspices of the third order of St. Francis. It is expected that Rev. Father Thomas Heffernan, of St. Anthony's Church, will take part in the devotional exercises. The Shrine of the Reparation has attracted a large number of pilgrims during the past summer. It is within easy access of the city, and the ride on the electric cars is in itself a pleasant outing.

NEPHEW OF PREMIER ENTERS MONASTERY.

Mr. Romuald Laurier, son of Mr. Charlemagne Laurier, M.P., and nephew of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, has abandoned his studies in medicine at Laval, in order to enter the monastic life with the Dominican Order, at St. Hyacinthe. The decision of Mr. Laurier has surprised his friends, who had no idea of his intention. A fine future seemed to be ahead of Mr Laurier. He is 24 years of age and during the two years he has been at Laval he carried off high honors.

A large crowd of his comrades and fellow students wished him good-bye yesterday on his leaving for St. Hyacinthe.

DIED AFTER BEING UNCONSCIOUS FOR EIGHTEEN DAYS.

Arthur Boucher, 50 years of age, of 685 St. Denis street, who was seized with a fit while riding on a street car, died yesterday at the Notre Dame Hospital.

Mr. Boucher was a man of medium height and seemed to have been in fairly good health when he was stricken by the fit, which was brought on by uremia. He was taken in an unconscious condition to the hospital about eighteen days ago, and with the exception of 10 or 15 minutes, during which he recognized his sister, he never regained his senses. The deceased was for many years engaged in freight shipping between this port and Quebec. He was able to take nourishment, which had to be administered, and he slept quite well.

Return of Mr. C. M. Hays.

Mr. C. M. Hayes, the general manager of the Grand Trunk and president of the G. T. P. railway, will return to this city next Tuesday. He will be accompanied by the party of directors of the proposed transcontinental road, who made the trip with him.

After his return, it is stated that some one member of the party will go down into the Maritime Provinces to report upon the conditions there in the region which the road will traverse.

CONSERVATIVE LEADER OPENS WESTERN TOUR

doubtedly have been employed by our opponents, then I say that party should be driven from power at the earliest possible moment after these things are made known. (Applause.)

JUDICIAL APPOINTMENTS.

The next point taken up was judicial appointments, in regard to which Mr. Borden was careful to say that he was making no attack on the judiciary of the country, but on the Government for its methods in dealing with these and other appointments. It is well known, he said, that during the last six or eight years judicial appointments in this country have been matters of intrigue. During the past year judicial appointments in my own province have been vacant month after month for no other reason than that it was politically expedient and supposed to be in the interest of the Liberal party. A close constituency is represented by a gentleman who aspires to a judical position. I have admitted that under the present position of public opinion in Canada a political party is justified in looking to its own ranks for political appointments, even for judicial appointments, but I have maintained the doctrine that personal character and capacity must first be looked at and party must not be regarded alone in the first instance. I don't think it is too high a standard. We must not attempt too high a standard, but we can at least attempt reasonable and proper standards.

THE JACKSON CASE.

In this connection Mr. Borden referred to the appointment of Mr. Jackson, accused on the oath of three witnesses, of having attempted to purchase votes and having co-operated with men of the lowest type for purposes of procuring votes. Mr. Jackson's conduct as disclosed at the trial was such, he said, as to draw upon himself the very strong animadversions of a judge of the High Court of this province, yet Sir Richard Cartwright's only reproach to the gentleman was that he had not been sufficiently discreet. "Here is a new decalogue," said the speaker. "You abolish the ten commandments and substitute for them, thou shalt be discreet so that thou shalt not be found out. (Laughter.) A more damnable doctrine was never preached. I submitted to the House a resolution which I think should commend itself not only to every Conservative, but to most partisan Liberals in the country: That in making appointments to public offices party service should not alone be considered, but selections should be made with regard to capacity and personal character. How was I met? Not one word did Sir Richard Cartwright or any member say in reply, but they called in their followers and voted it down. They have thus declared as distinctly as the English language can declare it that party service is above character and capacity. I venture to say in making a decision of that kind the Liberal party did not commend themselves to the people as a whole.

THE AUDITOR-GENERAL.

Mr. Borden severely criticized the Government's action in regard to Mr. Alex. Mackenzie's attempt to protect public treasury by the appointment of an auditor-general independent of the Government and subject only to the control of Parliament. Mr. McDougall, the gentleman appointed, had experienced from his own party, the Liberals, the greatest difficulties. When, about two years ago, he demanded that the law should be amended and greater safeguards should be provided against the abuse of the public treasury, instead of this, Mr. Fielding, in 1903, introduced a bill to limit Mr. McDougall's power, and give the present administration greater power over public money. In the face of a strong public opinion it was withdrawn, but the demand for a committee to investigate Mr McDougall's complaint was combatted by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Minister of Justice, and it was defeated. In latter part of the session, Mr. Borden said he took the matter up himself, and he added some provisions of his own to the bill prepared by the Auditor-General, also giving his pledge that if the Government would introduce a measure, substantially along these lines, the Opposition would support it, but when he moved a resolution that the provisions of consolidated revenue and audit act should be so extended as to confer upon the Auditor-General powers ample in every respect to protect the public interest and safeguard the public treasury, the Government called in their followers and it was voted down by 94 to 56. In the matter of the lighting of the Cornwall Canal, Mr. Borden criticized the Government. He denied that any contract had been given by the Conservative party when in power, in consideration for services rendered. The Conservative party did not bind the public treasury in the matter.

THE TRANSPORTATION QUESTION.

The great question of transportation was then dealt with. From many parts of Canada, said Mr. Borden, the distance to ocean ports is very great, and it is, therefore, of great importance to the people that they should have cheap and expeditious transportation of their products. Two years ago I said I thought it would be a fair course for the Government to adopt, to submit the whole question of transportation to a commission of experts and for the Government to go along the lines laid down by the commission. In the session of 1903, the Government announced in the speech from the throne that they proposed to appoint a commission, but it was not appointed till late in May, and then nothing was done, but in latter end of June the Government brought down the transcontinental railway measure. Sir Wilfrid Laurier then said we were face to face with a great crisis, and the people in the United States might see fit some time to rescind the bonding privilege. Since then the question has, however, been put on other grounds. The measure passed. It proposed that there should be built by the Government, a line from Moncton to Winnipeg to be known as the Eastern division, and that the G. T. P. should build a line from Winnipeg to the coast, to be called the western division. Of the provisions of the measure the Opposition denounced particularly one measure by which twenty-five million dollars in stock of G. T. P. should be transferred at a nominal price to the Grand Trunk. He said the stock must be taken into consideration by the railway commission when the rates came to be fixed, and we pointed out that that was the view of Mr. Blair, the gentleman appointed by the Government to go on the railway commission. The answer made was that it is provided by the contract that the twenty-five million cannot be sold. Therefore, Grand Trunk can make nothing of it for 50 years, and, therefore, it cannot be taken into consideration in the fixing of rates. We pointed out that devices had been found in States whereby such stock can be sold subject to such control.

THE AMENDMENTS TO THE CONTRACT.

Mr. Hayes returned from England, and it was announced by the Government organs that five million dollars, which were to have been put up in cash had not been put up in cash, but in securities of the Grand Trunk, which were better than cash. It was not long before they heard of new terms in the contract, but every change in the contract was in favour of the corporation and against the citizens of the country, and Mr. Fielding, in the most candid manner, had said when asked why this was so, that the Grand Trunk had insisted upon the change. Are we in so wretched a position that in making a contract for a transcontinental railway, we must yield a contract to the Grand Trunk or any other corporation, because they demand it. Mr. Borden went on to argue that it was to interest of the Grand Trunk, whatever arguments might be used to show otherwise, to use its American terminal rather than Canadian ports for east bound freights. What was the G. T. P. incorporated for, merely for so many obligations which the Grand Trunk did not care to assume, and to enable some person to deal in these twenty-five million, and to create ten or twenty millionaires in this country. The people of the country should share in the holding of the stock if any arrangements of the kind were proposed. Resolutions to the effect moved by opposition had been voted down.

WHAT THE ROAD WILL COST.

Taking the eastern section of the road Mr. B. said it would cost perhaps $40,000 a mile for 1,875 miles. It ran for a large part of its course through unknown and unsurveyed country. The whole transcontinental line would cost from one hundred and fifty to one hundred and seventy millions, if up to standards necessary to carry grain from the West to Maritime ports. Of this the G. T. P. had forty-five millions of stock, another twenty-five millions were to be given to the Grand Trunk. The Grand Trunk's liability as definitely stated to its shareholders last March was nothing in cash and a guarantee of bonds to the extent of about fourteen and a half millions, and these bonds, which were second mortgage bonds, were by the agreement of 1904 placed upon the same basis as bonds provided by the Government. The rolling stock, Mr. Hays had explained, was to be provided by a trust. The people of this country were to provide all the rest, nine-tenths of the cash and the capital, and after the railway was completed the only portion likely to be profitable for the next twenty-five or forty years was to be handed over to a corporation that provided one-tenth. It was better for the people to pay the whole and own the whole apple.

On the other hand, the Government had a system in the Maritime Provinces—the Intercolonial. They had spent fifteen to twenty millions in extending it to Montreal. Why? Because at the time the Government said it was necessary to extend the road to Montreal, if it was not to be throttled, and if it was to get any part of the great trade of the West, but though a traffic arrangement was made with the Grand Trunk with this object, the Government were now suing the Grand Trunk because they alleged it never carried out the terms. The Intercolonial has been brought to Montreal to get the trade of the West, and now the Government were spending $150,000,000 to $170,000,000 to create a rival which would take the traffic altogether away from the Intercolonial. What would become of the traffic from the West when it got to Quebec or Montreal. The Grand Trunk, which controls the Grand Trunk Pacific, will have its interests in Portland, which was nearer than the Canadian ports would be by the new line, and not all the patriotism of Canadian shippers, to which the Minister of Finance had left the matter, would prevent them taking a course so obviously in their interests. That is what we are paying $150,000,000 to $170,000,000 for.

THE INTERESTS OF THE PROVINCES.

In another way the matter affected Ontario and Quebec. The great country to the north of both provinces would not, in Mr. Borden's opinion, be best developed by a line from east to west, but by lines running north and south. I submit, he said, to all fair judging people in the country the policy of the two parties in regard to transportation. We advocate the extension of the Intercolonial Railway to Georgian Bay, because the Intercolonial, having arrived at Montreal, still fails of its mission, because it has no western connection, as other lines have. Extend it to the shores of Georgian Bay and what do you have? It would run through this great province and reach out for western traffic with precisely the same advantages as the other roads have, which reach Georgian Bay. That is the proposal we made, and which Mr. Blair himself endorsed, and he had much more knowledge or experience than any member of the Administration. He pronounced the policy of the Government in this regard to be mere madness and folly, and yet, after appointing him to the position of chairman of the Railway Commission, they still persisted in a policy which he so denounced.

THE FISCAL POLICY.

The fiscal policy was the last big question Mr. Borden took up. The Conservative fiscal policy was, he said, pretty well known, but where was the Liberal? Who could tell him what the Liberal policy was? I have asked the question in all parts of Canada, from the Pacific to the Atlantic in vain. No one has ever explained. The Conservative party is not afraid to proclaim its policy or to go to any free trade constituency in Canada, if there be such, and tell it. I was told by the Globe that I would have nerve if I proclaimed protectionist principals in the North-West, but I think I would require it more to tell them a different policy to what I tell the people in the east. We stand for adequate protection for all our great Canadian industries. Who are our customers and our competitors? Our customers, outside the home market, are across the water. Our competitors are to the South. Canada was third best of the customers of the United States, but though our purchases from the States grew from $117,000,000 in 1901 to $150,000,000 in 1904, our sales to them dropped in the same period by almost a million. In the interests of labour and capital we should have protection for all legitimate industries. Mr. Borden urged the importance to a farming community of encouraging growth of large cities within it, to provide markets.

THE PREFERENCE.

From the fiscal policy to preferential tariff was a natural transition. The Conservative party has stood, said Mr. Borden, for the policy of mutual preference within the Empire and stands for it still, and if returned to power would substitute for the inaction of the present Government a policy of vigorous action. Mr. Chamberlain's policy involved no sacrifice of rights, no militarism. We had given a preference, and what danger was there in accepting one if we could get it? Some of the very gentlemen who were opposing this were ready for a reciprocity treaty with the United States. Would not a reciprocity treaty with the mother country, who is our chief customer, increase the value of every farm, and tend to assist the immigration of the British people to the North-West. The extension of the Canadian market is of importance to the British manufacturer, and it would be especially so, if a reciprocity treaty were carried out.

"Do not, concluded Mr. Borden, regard the jeers of those who in the Liberal press are telling you the Conservative party in the House of Commons has not material to form an administration if returned to power. We have in the ranks of the Conservative party the very best material, men of considerable experience in Parliament, who have been successful in various walks of life. These are not men who made politics a profession but men to whom you can safely intrust the government in the years to come. The prospects of the party at the present time are excellent. Let no one who does not approve of the present Government be discouraged. The prospects are such we may with good reason hope that a change may be brought about at a very early date."

The meeting was afterwards addressed at length by Mr. D. Henderson, M.P., who said the present Government had added $20 per family to the taxation in eight years. Cheers were given for the King, for Mr. and Mrs. Borden and Mr. Ingram. Mr. and Mrs. Borden held a short reception at the close of the meeting.

MR. BORDEN ADDRESSES WEST ELGIN VOTERS AT ST. THOMAS.

Special to The Montreal Star.

St. Thomas, Ont., September 16.—The members of the band of the 25th regiment met Mr. R. L. Borden's train at St. Thomas and accompanied him during the drive around the town to the new opera house, where the stage was festooned with banners. The evening meeting was presided over by Ald. Week, and short speeches introducing Mr. Borden, were delivered by Mr. Ingram, M.P., Mr. D. Henderson, M.P., and Mr. Blain, M.P. The address of welcome from West Elgin, which was read and signed by Mr. D. McKillop as president, emphasized the warm approval with which the Conservatives had watched Mr. Borden's parliamentary career and their unbounded confidence in his leadership, integrity and ability, and especially approved the stand taken in connection with the new transcontinental railway.

POLITICS IN THE MILITIA.

Mr. Borden's address was listened to by a very large gathering, and was in most respects on the same lines as his afternoon speech. A new point emphasized was that party politics have so permeated the ranks of the militia as to lead to retirement, to the driving from Canada, of one of the most straight-forward and simple-hearted men we have ever had. (Applause.) Reports were ordered to be prepared, as Mr. Borden, so that they were not the honest judgment of such men, but the dictation of the Hon. Sydney Fisher. It was time to speak out. Lord Dundonald might have proceeded more regularly. He knew it, no doubt, but his intention was to bring the matter before the people of Canada in such a way as to rouse them to the true sense of a realization of affairs in the Department of Militia.

We had another case, that of Col. Gregory from this province, who was forced by coercion emanating from the department to resign his office. He was told that his period of service would be extended if he gave a certificate as true, which he did not believe to be true. This was told openly and documents were produced in Parliament and the gallant officer is not serving his country to-day, simply because he refused to put on paper that which he did not believe to be true or in the interest of the Department of Militia.

In the course of his address Mr. Borden said the Conservative party is ready to enter in the battle when the gage is thrown down.

A LUNCHEON IN TORONTO.

Toronto, September 16. — While on his way west, Mr. R. L. Borden was tendered a luncheon at the Albany Club, by Mr. Edmund Bristol when a number of leading Toronto Conservatives were present.

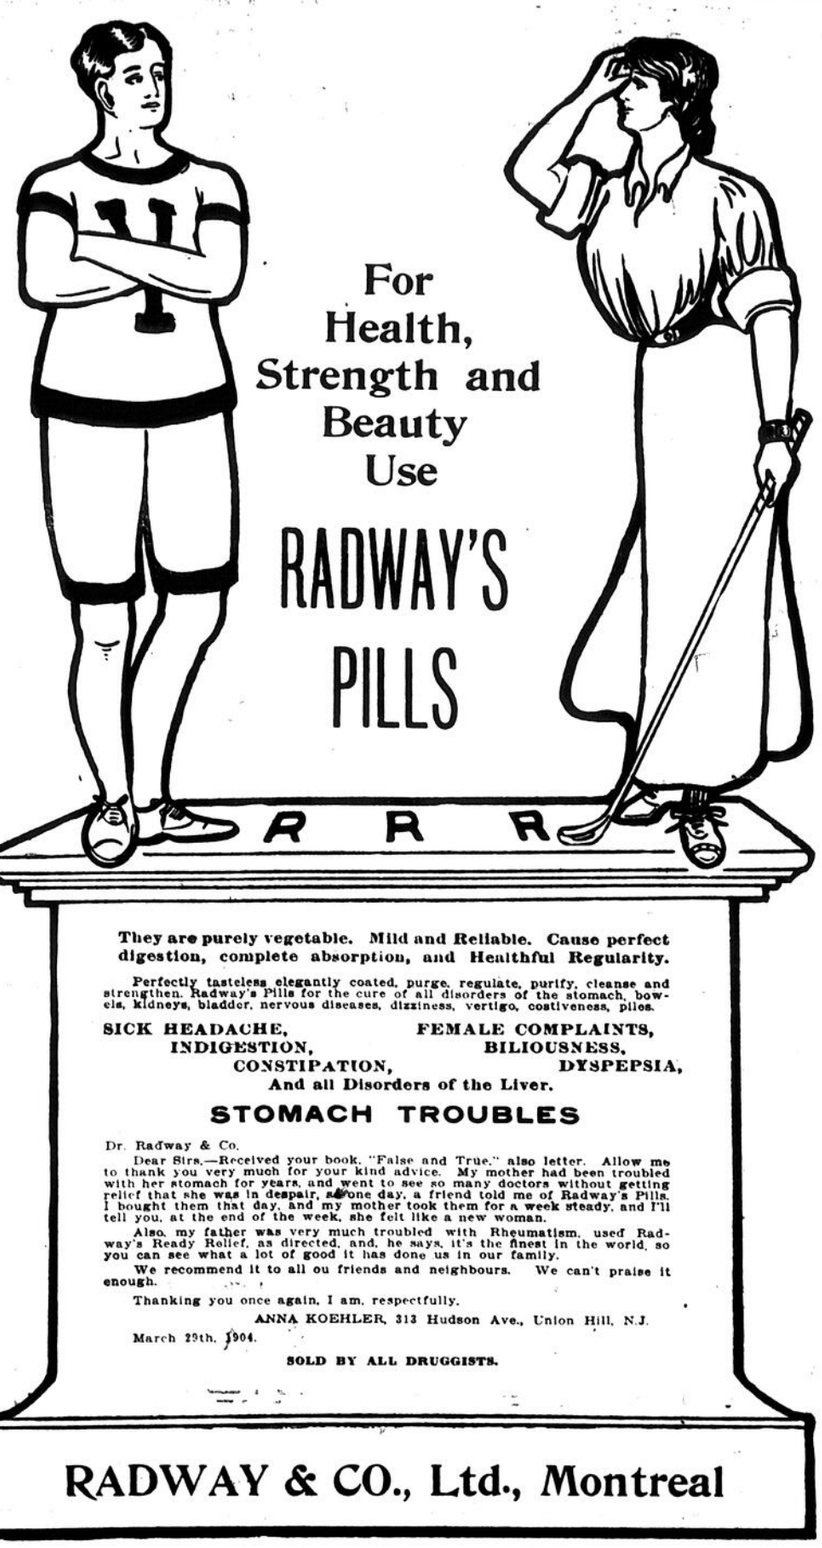

The Conservative leader, in response to a toast to his health, delivered a brief address, in which he criticized the article in the Globe with regard to the prospects of the Government candidates in the Maritime Provinces. The Conservative party, he said, was in a splendid condition in the provinces by the sea, and fully prepared for the coming campaign. In Nova Scotia, a leading Liberal, who was the strongest member of the party outside of the Provincial Government, had told that he was disgusted with the manner in which the Laurier Government was conducting its affairs, particularly with respect to some of its recent appointments to office and that he intended to enter the lists against them when the fight commenced. In New Brunswick another leading member of the Liberal party had informed him that the Government had lost a great deal of its strength in that province. Mr. Borden assured those present that they need have no fear of the result in the Maritime provinces.

Speeches were also made by Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Mr. E. F. Clarke, M. P.

The Railway Commission.

Special to the Montreal Star.

Calgary, N.W.T., September 16.—The Railway Commission held a brief meeting here yesterday and decided it could not order the C.P.R. to vacate the principal crossing of the city on Front street east, the company threatening to close the avenue which has been used for nineteen years.
