PRESS COMMENT ON BOLSHEVISM

Alarm Sounded by the British Government Leading Topic
in London Newspapers

London, Jan. 17.—What is generally described as the striking difference in the tone of the Government's Russian news issued in London from news on the same subject in Paris is a leading topic among politicians and the newspapers.

The Manchester Guardian considers that the London announcements are an attempt by Winston Spencer Churchill (Minister of War) to justify his policy of war against the Bolsheviks.

"For some days past the War Office issue of what the Americans call 'scare matter' to the English press has really passed the limits of a respectable personal advertisement for any ministry," the newspaper says. "We suspect the real object is to rehabilitate Mr. Churchill, who has lost ground since he wasted 100,000,000 pounds of our money in stimulating Bolshevism by making the Bolshevik party of Russian resistance to foreign invasion."

"If we keep up a state of war against Russia we will make every possession and interest of ours in Europe and Asia or anywhere else a mark for Russian attack as soon as they can get it within range."

"If we do what we ought to have done last year and decline to bribe or ginger-up either faction in the Russian civil war the reason for Russian concentration on an anti-British enterprise in Asia will be gone."

The Westminster Gazette asserts the Russian developments are a reversal of the different policies held by Premier Lloyd George and Mr. Churchill.

"The news this morning," says the paper, "is that the policy we have always believed to be that of the Prime Minister is to be tried."

The Westminster Gazette believes the War Office's account of the European and Asiatic peril was a last attempt to stampede the public and alter, if possible, the decision known to be impending in Paris.

The Observer denounces "the alarmist sensationalism of English official and semi-official communications on the subject of Bolshevism," and adds:

"Bolshevism cannot be extinguished by force alone. All of Europe and Asia too would again be involved sooner or later. Fortunately there has been a cold douche of common sense from Paris in the announcement of the restoration of commercial exchange is an announcement in effect that the Allies are willing to give every chance to the possibilities of Russian peace which is absolutely indispensable to general peace."

The Sunday Times in an editorial says:

"The Supreme Council has arrived at the wisest decision. Urged by panic to rattle the sabre, they preferred to extend the olive branch instead of the sword and convince the Russian people that it is the earnest wish of the Allied nations that they resume peace in the human family circle."

Announcement was made tonight that the Supreme Council's letter to the Dutch Government in which it demands the extradition of the former German Emperor will be published Monday.

REVOLUTIONARIES IN CONTROL OF IRKUTSK

Peking, Thursday, January 15.—By the Associated Press.—An undated dispatch from Verkhne-Udinsk, across Lake Baikal, from Irkutsk, says that the social revolutionaries are completely in control of Irkutsk and the fighting has stopped. The armored trains of General Semenov have retired to Lake Baikal. Ernest L. Harris, the United States Consul-General at the seat of the All-Russian Government, was on the way to Chita, 400 miles east of Irkutsk, with his staff.

Fighting is proceeding in the streets of Irkutsk, says a Moscow wireless report received here.

INVESTIGATION TOOK NEW ANGLE THROUGH LETTER

Presented By Admiral Sims
at Senate Sub-Committee on Saturday

LACK OF CO-OPERATION

Was General Criticism Made —Contained More Than Seven Thousand Words

Washington, D.C., Jan. 17.—Investigation by a Senate sub-committee of award of naval war decorations took a new angle today when Rear-Admiral William H. Sims, the only witness heard so far, laid before the committee a long letter entitled "certain naval lessons of the great war" written by him to Secretary Daniels, arraigning many aspects of the Navy Department's conduct of the war.

Lack of full co-operation with the commander of American naval forces overseas, the post filled by Admiral Sims throughout the war, was the general criticism made, but the letter contained also a statement that just before he left London, Admiral Sims was told "not to let the British pull the wool over your eyes," and "that the United States would soon fight the British as the Germans."

Who issued these instructions was not brought out during the hearing, but Admiral Sims said afterwards the statement had been made to him by "a high official."

Introduction of the letter prompted chairman Hale, Republican, of Maine, to announce that he would ask the full naval committee Monday to authorize his sub-committee to make a wider inquiry or to appoint another sub-committee to investigate the conduct of the war by the Navy Department. In a statement relative to Admiral Sims' letter, Secretary Daniels said he had referred it to the General Board "with directions to give consideration to it and to all other communications directed to the Department concerning the lessons of the war."

The letter gives this statement regarding his instructions: "Brief orders were delivered to me verbally in Washington. No formal instructions or statement of the Navy Department's plan or policy were received at that time, though I received the following explicit admonition: 'Don't let the British pull the wool over your eyes. It is none of our business pulling their chestnut out of the fire. We would as soon fight the British as the Germans.'"

The letter contained more than 7,000 words and was written Jan. 7. Admiral Sims read it today at the request of Chairman Hale. It reviewed Admiral Sims' experiences and said that at the time he left for Europe he had no idea that he was to command United States naval forces abroad in event of war, then impending.

As soon as he arrived in London, the letter said, Admiral Sims realized that the Navy Department did not comprehend the seriousness of the submarine menace due to the inefficient co-operation of the United States Intelligence Service.

"For some reason which has never been explained," Admiral Sims wrote, "the Navy Department during at least the first six months of the war failed to put into actual practice a whole-hearted policy of co-operation with the Allies—a policy required for winning the war with the least possible delay."

The letter charged that not until July 1917 did the Navy Department outline a policy of naval co-operation with the Allies.

"As usual in such cases," it continued, "the policy was academically sound, but that it was not carried out or was not understood by the Department is shown by the fact that for ten months after its receipt it was urgently recommending an increase of forces—still trying to convince the Department that the war was in the Eastern Atlantic; that the United States naval 'front' was off the European coast and not off the United States coast."

Admiral Sims' letter declared that he was much embarrassed in his relations with other Allied commanders by reason of the fact that although after an Allied naval conference it was recommended on July 21, 1917, that four coal burning American battleships be sent to guard the English Channel against German man cruisers, there was long delay before the request was even acknowledged and finally it was refused.

In the following November the letter says, the Chief of Naval Operations arrived in Europe with Colonel House's Mission and immediately thereafter cabled instructions to send the battleships.

$300,000 BLAZE OUT IN CALGARY

Two Men Dead, and Seven Injured—Many Stores Are Destroyed

Calgary, Alta., Jan. 18.—In one of the worst fires in the history of Calgary, two men, Chris McBride, of Youngs town, and Thomas Huckvale, of Gleichen were smothered to death, seven firemen were injured or overcome by smoke, and property damage done to the extent of nearly $300,000 in a blaze which destroyed the Empire Hotel, the Grand Central Hotel and several small stores adjoining, early Sunday morning. The two men who were suffocated were playing cards in a small room in the basement of the hotel. They were warned of the fire, but did not take it seriously and continued their game to the end. They were caught in the flames and unable to make their escape. The other guests of the hotels, to the number of about 100, made their escape with the assistance of the night clerks and the firemen. The firemen fought the blaze handicapped by bitter cold and only succeeded in smothering it a few minutes before a sixty mile blizzard came up.

The guests, many of them women and children, were taken from the rooms only in their night clothes, some of them having narrowly escaped. The seven injured firemen included Chief Smart. But none of them are seriously injured and most of them were on duty again late this evening.

Individual losses were: Empire and Grand Central hotels, owned by W. J. Stokes, $250,000; Carmichael Drug Store, $5,000; Rapoport Jewellery Store, $4,000; M. Ghetter, second-hand store, $10,000; Murchison Bros., real estate $12,000, and J. Reid, confectionery, $1,500.

DANGER FROM BOLSHEVISM NOT ESTIMATED

British Secretary of War Told
Prime Minister He Did Not Realize Danger

THE POLISH SITUATION

Was Taken Up Seriously By Allied Prime Ministers Friday and Saturday

Paris Jan. 18.—(By the Ass'd Press).—The communication concerning the Bolshevik menace recently issued by the War Office at London was in consequence of a departmental policy divergent from that of Premier Lloyd George, the Associated Press is informed upon first authority. Winston Churchill, the British Secretary of War, has himself told Mr. Lloyd George that he did not know about the issuance of the communication but that he believed the Prime Minister underestimated the danger from the spread of armed Bolshevism.

It has been explained to the Prime Minister that the War Office associates of Mr. Churchill, knowing how strongly he felt on the subject of Bolshevism, undertook to influence public opinion in the direction of their chief's convictions.

If Mr. Churchill's views were accepted, the Allies would invade Russia for the purpose of destroying Bolshevism in its home, while Mr. Lloyd George's view is that it would amount to war against Soviet Russia and would only solidify the Russian people.

Mr. Lloyd George compares the situation respecting Russia today to that of France after 1793 to the end of the century.

Military pressure from without, the Premier affirms, united the French people behind the revolutionary government so that they were able not only to make headway against foreign enemies but win victories. That is precisely what Europe might see, Mr. Lloyd George holds, if Mr. Churchill's point of view were allowed to influence the British and French Cabinets.

Hence Mr. Lloyd George on the communication was issued by the British War Office, insisted upon the Supreme Council partially raising the blockade against Russia the Allied Prime Ministers, intending to show indirect acceptance of the changed conditions in Russia by permitting free trade in food clothing and the other non-military commodities without diplomatic relations.

These trade arrangements are not yet clearly defined. They were made through representatives of Russian co-operative societies in Paris, who say they have been informed that the Soviet Government equally countenances trade without regard to political relations.

The Italians take no part in the military conferences. Field-Marshal Foch and Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson form the Inter-Allied military Council so far as consideration of middle and Near Eastern questions are concerned. They met yesterday and today and the deliberations of the Associated Press is informed, have had more to do with restraining Polish military operations against Russian than with supporting those operations by aid from abroad.

The Prime Minister took up the Polish question seriously yesterday. The information was given that the Polish army have during recent weeks occupied considerable territory beyond the Polish boundaries and belonging properly to Russia. The Prime Ministers warned the Polish Government that they could not support a policy of expansion with the Allies.

The Polish Foreign Minister, now in Paris, to advise Poland to evacuate and abandon Russian occupied territories and thus avoid giving cause for attack by the Soviet Government.

This M. Fidek refused to do. One of the principal military and economic problems not yet determined by the Supreme Council and its military advisers is what should be done if the Soviet forces drive the Poles from the occupied territories and follow them into Poland. The Prime Ministers admit that they are much embarrassed by the Polish Government's refusal to retire within the boundaries fixed by the Supreme Council holding instead those based on historical claims which are deemed vague by the Council.

UKRAINIAN FRONTS

BEING MENACED

Berne, Jan. 18.—Considerable Bolshevik forces are menacing the Ukrainian and Polish fronts, according to a message received today by the Ukrainian Mission here. General Petura, the Ukrainian leader, has started for the front and important military events seem imminent, the message says.

The economic situation in the Ukraine is described as favorable. Despite the long period of warfare there are large stocks of grain, sugar and the other victuals.

MOROCCAN TROOPS WOUNDED.

Madrid, Jan. 17.—Despatches from Tetuan, Morocco, report that a lieutenant and 13 soldiers were wounded in the operations against Ben Karrik, leader of a band of Moroccan insurgent troops. Quiet now reigns in the new positions captured by the Spanish forces.

Q. R. L. & P. CO., TO SELL ROAD

Report From Montreal Says Negotiating For Sale Of Part of Lines

Montreal, Jan. 18.—Although, according to the Montreal Gazette, with confirmation lacking, it is stated that the Quebec Railway, Light and Power Company, through its executive, is negotiating for sale of that part of the company's road running from Quebec to St. Joachim, on the eastern side of Ste. Anne De Beauce, to either the Dominion Government or to a syndicate of English capitalists headed by the well-known financier, Sir John Murray.

In either case the Quebec Railway, Light and Power Company will dispose of one of its extraneous properties for the purchase price of $2,500,000 and becomes nearer than ever the purely power and traction enterprise which under the present executive, has been the policy of the concern.

COUNCIL WRITE DUTCH NATION

Ask That the Ex-Kaiser Be Delivered To the Allies For Trial

Paris, Jan. 18.—(By The Associated Press).—The Supreme Council's note to the Dutch Government asking that the former German Emperor be given up under Article 227 of the Versailles treaty, for trial, points out that if the former Emperor had remained in Germany he would have been delivered up under the same conditions by the German Government.

"Among so many crimes," the note recalls, "the cynical violation of the neutrality of Belgium and Luxembourg; the barbarous system of hostages; massed deportations; systematic devastation without military reasons; the submarine war," and declares, "for all of which acts responsibility, at least moral, reaches the supreme chief who ordered them or abused his unlimited powers to break or permit others to break, the most sacred rules of human conscience."

"The powers cannot conceive," it adds, "that the Netherlands would regard with less reprobation than themselves the immense responsibility weighing upon the ex-Emperor. Holland would not be fulfilling her international duty if she refused to associate herself with other nations so far as she is able, to prosecute, or at least not impede the punishment of crimes committed."

The note points out that it is the duty of the powers to insure execution of Article 227 without entering into argument because "it is not a question of public accusation having throughout a legal character but an act of high international policy imposed by the universal conscience in which legal forms are employed solely to insure the accused body guarantees such as have hitherto been unknown in public law."

It concludes by expressing the conviction that Holland, one of the first to claim a place in the League of Nations, will not desire to cover by moral authority violation of the essential principles of the solidarity of nations, and that all are interested to prevent a return of a similar catastrophe.

DICTATOR OF THE UKRAINE

General Petlura is Commander-in-Chief of Ukrainian Directorate Armies.

London, Jan. 18.—One of the most frequently heard of yet least known personalities of contemporary Russia is Gen. Petlura, Commander-in-chief of the armies of the Ukrainian Directorate, the provisional government of the independent republic of the Ukraine. The Ukraine itself, although a country the size of France and Italy taken together, with the population of the latter, is veritable terra incognita of Europe. Yet, among other things, it should be noted that one of the primary reasons for the German collapse in the war was the failure of the Prussian command to replenish the wheat stores of the Ukraine, the richest part of the former empire of the czar. This failure was due to the desperate resistance of the Ukrainian peasantry to the Teutonic conqueror.

In the general rising that, following the armistice of November 11, 1918, had rid the Ukraine of the German overlords, the leading part was assumed by Gen. Petlura, who has since become the legendary hero of his people and country. The Paris newspaper "Eclair" publishes the following sketch of the Ukrainian generalissimo:

"Petlura was born in 1879, in the heart of that Ukraine to whose cause he vowed his life.

"Son of a poor family of Ukrainian Cossacks, Petlura entered life at a time when the czaristic regime reached the climax of despotism and corruption. His extraordinary intellectual gifts opened for him the gates of the academy of Theology, therefore closed to Ukrainian peasant offspring. But, animated by a burning love for his unfortunate country, Petlura organized a group of students for the propagation of Ukrainian literature and popular songs. He was expelled and refused admission to any other school in the Russian empire.

"From this moment dates his desperate struggle against the Russian tyranny—a perilous task that made him a wanderer and an outlaw. He went to live in the Caucasus, in the Ukrainian country of the Kuban Cossacks, and worked there in behalf of the co-operative movement. Later he came to Moscow, entered journalism and became editor-in-chief of the Ukrainian review there.

"When this publication was suppressed at the beginning of the war, Petlura devoted himself to the services of the League of Zemstvos (provincial assemblies), which concentrated all its activities on assisting in the conduct of the war. He soon forged his way to the foremost rank. After the revolution of March, 1917, Petlura was elected chairman of the Committee on Military Organization of the Congress of Soldiers' Councils.

"His principal endeavor now was to concentrate in the Ukraine all soldiers of Ukrainian origin, in order to defend the country against Teutonic invasion. In the course of events he decided to form a first provisional government of the Ukraine. "But he met with resistance in Petrograd; Kerensky, the Socialists and the bourgeois reactionaries opposed his plans. It was at this juncture that Bolshevism gained foothold in Great Russia. In vain Petlura pleaded that the defence of the Ukraine should be entrusted to Ukrainian troops exclusively. It was too late; Kerensky refused to listen, and was soon downed by Lenin and Trotsky. Followed the disastrous rout of the Russian armies, the collapse of the eastern front.

"On entering Kiev, holy city of the Eastern Slav world, whence in A.D. 989, under the rule of St. Vladimir, the first missionaries departed to convert Russia, Petlura, now commander-in-chief, addressed the inhabitants and his troops in the square of St. Sophia as follows: "Now that the Ukrainian capital has been delivered, I wish to tell you that the Ukrainian people responded to our appeal without hesitancy and without dispute. The sacrifices, the blood shed for the Ukrainian republic, affirm eloquently the will of the Ukrainian people.

"But at the same time these sacrifices entail on us a great duty. We must combat anarchy for the sake of the nameless heroes who have embodied in themselves the spirit of Ukraine. Whoever can carry a gun must follow their example and struggle against the rule of disorder, whether it comes from the Left or the Right."

Clarion Call From President Power.
In a letter which he addressed to the Canada Lumberman and Woodworker, Mr. W. Gerard Power, President of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, writes as follows:

"I am pleased to accept your kind invitation to use the columns of your valuable paper as a medium to reach all the members of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, to extend to them an invitation to the Annual Meeting, which will be held in Canada's great winter resort—Quebec City, on Wednesday and Thursday, February 4 and 5.

"The late war and its incidental unrest has left us all a legacy of difficulties. To my mind these difficulties can be handled best by the trade as a whole in getting together and studying the situation from the viewpoints of one another. That is primarily the object of our Association and it would be a great pity if any of the members miss the opportunity that the Annual Meeting affords to discuss and study the difficulties peculiar to the trade.

"Not only as President of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, but also as a Quebec lumberman I extend a most hearty invitation to attend the meeting. Apart from the benefits to be derived from an attendance in a business way, the lumbermen, and I might say the citizens of Quebec, are preparing to give the members a right royal good time while in the city.

"I thank you for your kindness in affording me the use of your columns.

W. GERARD POWER,
President Canadian Lumbermen's Association.

St. Pamel, Que., Jan. 9, 1920.

ALD. U. GAUVIN TO BE CANDIDATE

Acceded to Request of Delegation Yesterday—Mr. A. Drolet in St. Sauveur

Ald. U. Gauvin, who has represented Seat No. 2, St. Jean Baptiste Ward in the City Council for several terms, yesterday acceded to the request of a large and representative delegation and will again be a candidate for that division in the next elections. The delegation was led by Mr. N. B. Papillon and the spokesmen were Mr. Arthur Lachance, K.C., Mr. Lachance said that the principal contest would be for the mayorship, but that there was no doubt as to the result. It was certain that Mayor Lavigne would continue at the head of affairs and under those circumstances it was important that the wards of the city should send to the City Hall men that would work in perfect harmony with him in the best interests of the city. There might be others, he said, who would also support Mayor Lavigne, but in times of crisis, such as the present, it was fitting to rely upon those who were familiar with municipal affairs and who were accordingly better able than others to work for their fellow citizens. He said that Ald. Gauvin was in this category and on behalf of the delegation he asked him to run again.

Ald. Gauvin thanked his electors for such a mark of confidence and promised to give his answer through the newspapers by Tuesday at the latest.

In St. Sauveur Ward.
Mr. Arthur Drolet, son of the late ex-Ald. Jean Drolet, received a delegation of rate-payers of St. Sauveur Ward yesterday afternoon. The delegation pointed out that Ald. Fiset, who has represented the seat for many years, had said on numerous occasions that he would not run again and they accordingly presented Mr. Drolet with petitions urging him to contest the seat. The delegation included: Dr. Eudore Parent, Messrs. L. T. Picard, C. Turcotte, Joseph Cauchon, Joseph Nolin, Eug. Hamel, Alf. Casseau, A. Picard, Omer Turgeon, Narcisse Drolet, Theobald, George Gosselin, Pierre Gagne and many others.

Mr. Drolet thanked the delegation for their support and accepted the candidature.

At Galway out of 23 Sinn Fein candidates only 10 secured seats and no Sinn Feiner headed the poll.

BOLSHEVISTS TRAIN IS HELD AT HANGO.
Hango, Finland, Jan. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The train traveling aboard the Bolsheviks and anarchists deported from the United States was held here last evening until positive assurance was received from the Soviets that they would permit them to cross the Russian border and that the Reds would not be molested. Grave rumors had come from the border that Berkman and Goldman and their comrades would be killed by the Russians and while there was apparently no authority to confirm this threat, it was deemed advisable to take all precautions.

PRESIDENT WILSON ASKED FOR DELAY.
Paris, Jan. 18.—According to the Paris edition of the New York Herald, President Wilson asked for a delay by the League of Nations in the matter concerning the Saar Valley until the United States had appointed delegates to the League, but that nevertheless the Saar Commission was appointed without reference to the United States.

BOLSHEVIKI ARE ATTACKING IN FORCE.
Copenhagen, January 18.—The Bolsheviks are throwing large forces on the Lettish including Chinese regiments, says a despatch to the official Lettish Bureau from Riga.

BIG TRANSACTION IS PUT THROUGH

Canadian Company Will Build Chain of Motion Picture Theatres Across Dominion

(Special to The Chronicle.)
Montreal, January 17.—The most important development which has yet taken place in the Canadian motion picture field was announced today, when particulars were given out of a ten million dollar transaction by which a new Canadian company acquires a chain of theatres running right across the Dominion of Canada, with an eventual seating capacity of 45,000, together with the exclusive rights for twenty years for the first run exhibition of the films of the famous Players-Lasky Corporation.

The transaction means a great step forward in the control by Canadians of their own motion picture entertainment, and will probably make Canada an important link in a world motion picture organization embracing the United States, and the whole of the British Empire.

Officials of the Royal Securities Corporation, Limited, have been in conference during the last few days with representatives of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, of New York, including H. D. H. Connick, general counsel, and N. L. Nathanson, general manager, for the Famous Players Corporation in Canada. At the close of the conference the following announcement was made:

"Arrangements have been made for the formation of Famous Players Canadian Corporation, Limited, which will operate a chain of large motion picture theatres from coast to coast. The Famous Players-Lasky Corporation of New York, makes a large cash investment in the Canadian company, and also grants it a twenty-year franchise for first-run exhibition of films produced by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, of New York, and its subsidiaries."

The Canadian company already has in operation approximately twenty motion picture theatres, including six large theatres in Toronto, two in Vancouver, and others in Ontario and the West.

Approximately ten million dollars of financing enters into the transaction, the bulk of which will be expended on the construction of large moving picture theatres in Canadian cities such as Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Vancouver, Winnipeg, Regina, Edmonton, Saskatoon, Halifax and St. John, and by the Fall of 1920 the Canadian company should have in operation theatres with a total seating capacity of approximately 30,000, and by the Spring of 1921 it plans to operate a complete chain of theatres with a total seating capacity of 45,000.

Directors of the company will include men prominent in the financial and business world, the majority of whom will be Canadians, and the bulk of the securities and control of the enterprise will also be in Canadian hands. Adolph Zukor, President of the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, of New York, will be President of the new company, and N. L. Nathanson, of Toronto, will be its general manager. Expert and technical management will be supplied by the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, of New York.

The securities of the new company will be offered on very favorable terms in the next few weeks, and should find a ready and popular market. They will be listed on the Montreal Stock Exchange. Following the recent financing done for the Famous Players-Lasky Corporation of New York, by Kuhn, Loeb and Company, by which ten million dollars of new capital was provided under most favorable auspices for development in the United States, this financing in the Canadian moving picture theatre field is most interesting. Canadians are now assured of the very best class of governing picture entertainment available, provided in the most comfortable and up-to-date moving picture theatres, operated along the lines of the famous Tivoli and Rialto theatres in New York, which are now operated by Famous Players-Lasky Corporation of New York. It is perhaps more than a coincidence that some weeks ago Lora Beaverbrook, who in past years was President of the Royal Securities Corporation, entered the moving picture field in London and the United Kingdom, by acquiring large motion picture interests in Great Britain.

PRESIDENT WILSON ASKED FOR DELAY.

CLEMENCEAU WILL ATTEND MEETING

Supreme Council Will Meet This Morning For Important Conference

Paris, Jan. 18.—Premier Clemenceau will attend Monday's meeting of the Supreme Council of the Peace Conference and will help draw up a definite list of German officers and soldiers demanded by the Allies for trial on charges of violating the laws of war. Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain and Nitti, of Italy, and Hugh C. Wallace, and Baron Matsui, respectively, United States and Japanese Ambassadors to France, will be present at the session.

Questions regarding the future representation of France at the Peace Conference are brought up by the retirement of M. Clemenceau. He is not only head of the French Delegation, but President of the Conference and three French plenipotentiaries, Stephen Pichon, Captain Andre Tardieu and Louis Klotz are members of the Clemenceau Cabinet and will retire with him.

The fifth member of the French Delegation, Jules Cambon is not in the Cabinet. M. Clemenceau will assure continuity of diplomatic relations until a new ministry is formed, when he will resign as plenipotentiary.

Mr. Lloyd George and Signor Nitti will return to their capitals after Monday's meeting to await the formation of a new French Cabinet before resuming consideration of pending problems. Notable in the list is the question of the future status of Turkey.

FRENCH CABINET HAS RESIGNED
Clemenceau Cabinet Resigned at Noon—Millerand To Form the New Cabinet

Paris, Jan. 18.—The Cabinet of Premier Clemenceau resigned today. President Poincare tonight asked Alexandre Millerand, Governor of the Seine, to form a new Cabinet. M. Millerand will give his answer at noon Monday.

The outgoing Ministry has been in office since November 16, 1917. M. Millerand said President Poincare had asked him to consult with M. Deschanel before undertaking the task. He had had a long and cordial conversation with M. Deschanel, who gave him his best wishes for success.

President Poincare, after receiving Premier Clemenceau and all the ministers and sub-secretaries and receiving their resignations this morning, kept M. Clemenceau three-quarters of an hour. He expressed the gratitude of France for the Premier's services and his personal appreciation of their excellent relations.

According to the Oeuvre, M. Deschanel has informed his friends that M. Millerand will be the first Premier of his term as President. It is generally considered impossible that a Cabinet should be formed for this month which excludes before M. Deschanel takes office. It is believed that M. Poincare is acting in close agreement with the President-elect with regard to the choice of a Premier to succeed M. Clemenceau and that M. Deschanel will confirm M. Poincare's choice on February 17.

Thanked Poincare
When leaving the Elysee Palace this morning, M. Clemenceau said President's good will. President Poincare for his collaboration in the dark days of the war and for this President's good will. President Poincare replied in flattering terms: "We can add," said the Havas Agency, "that President Poincare recalled M. Clemenceau's part in the work of national defense and added that through him the whole of France thank Clemenceau and that Clemenceau would retain this unalterable gratitude."

M. Clemenceau declared today that he intended to leave shortly for Egypt for a sojourn of two months. The Millerand Cabinet will be approximately as follows:

Premier and Foreign Minister—Alexandre Millerand.
Minister of Justice—M. L'Hopiteau.
Minister of the Interior—Andre Honnorat.
Minister of War—Raoul Peret.
Minister of Marine—M. Landry.
Minister of Public Instruction—Victor Berard.
Minister of Public Works and Transportation—Paul Bignon.
Minister of Labor—Paul Jourdain.

All are deputies except M. Briard. It is understood that Premier Millerand will ask Captain Andre Tardieu, to retain the portfolio of Liberated Regions.

M. Millerand also contemplates the creation of a new ministry to deal with hygiene and social questions which will be entrusted to M. Coupat, formerly General Secretary of the Mechanics' Federation. He is not a member of Parliament. Another specialist likely to be utilized is Frederic Francois-Marsal, Director of one of the principal Paris banks, who will probably be asked to accept office in the Ministry of Finance.

The choice of M. Millerand as Premier has created an excellent impression in parliamentary circles. It is recalled that he has always been a special student of social and economic problems. It is these

ARMY TRANSPORT IS IN DISTRESS

Reported To Be Leaking Badly Seven Hundred Miles East of New York

New York, N.Y., Jan. 18.—The United States army transport Powhattan, reported to be leaking badly about 700 miles east of New York is in no immediate danger and will probably be floated into Halifax, the nearest port, according to a message received shortly before midnight, from Captain Randall, the ship's commander, at the Army Transport Office.

The United States Shipping Board steamer Western Comet, which is among the 500 standing by, will attempt to tow the distressed vessel to Halifax, the message stated. The Powhattan will be transferred to the White Star liner Cedric as soon as the weather permits.

A later message from Captain Randall said that many vessels were standing by the transport and no further assistance was needed.

Reported in Distress.
Boston, Mass., Jan. 18.—The army transport Powhattan with 500 passengers aboard wired by radio today that she was in distress about 500 miles east of New York. The boiler-room was said to be flooded, with the water gaining and help from the pumps uncertain. The steamer Western Comet and Cedric, which replied to the distress calls were asked to stand by.

The captain who signed the message, gave the position of the steamer as latitude 41:50 North; longitude 62:01 West.

The first message said the transport's fire-room was flooded, with the pipes choked and water gaining. In a second message Captain Randall said: "We have 500 persons on board. Boiler-room flooded. Desperate ships stand by until results of attempts to raise steam to start pumps is known."

Transfer Passengers.
New York, N.Y., Jan. 18.—A wireless message received tonight from the army transport Powhattan in distress about 500 miles east of New York, stated that her passengers would be transferred to the White Star liner Cedric as soon as the weather permitted.

The message asked that the tug with "heavy towing gear," be dispatched as soon as possible.

Engine Rooms Flooded.
Halifax, N.S., Jan. 18.—The steamer Powhattan, with 500 passengers aboard, bound from New York to a French port reported at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon that she was in distress 230 miles south-east of Halifax and required immediate assistance.

The message gave the Powhattan's position as latitude 41:05, longitude 62:10, and stated that she was filling, and that the engine rooms had become flooded and her pumps choked. Later messages indicated that the White Star steamer Cedric and the steamer Western Comet were proceeding to the Powhattan's assistance. The Cedric stated that she would reach the position given between five and six o'clock this afternoon.

Cedric Standing By.
Halifax, N.S., Jan. 18.—A radio to the Marine Department tonight reports that the steamer Cedric is standing by the Powhattan, but the weather was so bad that she was unable to take off any passengers. The message asked that a powerful boat be dispatched to take the Powhattan in tow, but the Department states that no vessel is available at this port. When the message was sent, the steamer was about 100 miles south of Sable Island.

There is a strong southeast gale blowing off the coast tonight, and the temperature is low.

Kaiser's Yacht.
New York, N.Y., Jan. 18.—The Powhattan, which was formerly the Hamburg-American liner Hamburg, and prior to that the private yacht of William Hohenzollern, sailed from New York for Antwerp on Friday morning with 271 military and civilian passengers. It was announced at the Army Transport Office. She carried a crew of 150 men and had aboard a cargo of military supplies.

NORTHLAND REACHES YARMOUTH AFTER STRUGGLE.
Yarmouth, N.S., Jan. 18.—After encountering one of the worst storms of the season in the Bay of Fundy, the steamer Northland, sixteen and a half hours out from Boston, arrived here today. The steamer ran into a terrific gale accompanied by thick snow, but came through without damage. The steamer brought six members of the crew of the Nova Scotia schooner G. H. Murray, which was wrecked on the Cuban coast and who were landed at New York.

BIG SHORTAGE IN NEWSPRINT

Manitobans Are Getting Their News Distributed by Bulletins at Post Offices

Winnipeg, Man. January 18.—(By Canadian Press.)—There does not seem much prospect of the people of this city getting a newspaper tomorrow and the bulletins containing the best of the world news are being continued over the most part of the city and Manitoba. From last Friday afternoon there have been published less than 500 words of news to the general public, except such bulletins as are placed outside the three newspaper offices. As the thermometer has shown around 25 below zero, it is easily seen how little news has been circulated. In fact the public has only a bare idea of the outer world and Manitoba does not know a Cabinet Minister has put up a strong defence of the Union Government during the past few days. So far as Manitoba is concerned for topical knowledge it is back to the days of old-time and the gossip at the post offices where bulletins are posted twice a day.

VANCOUVER'S POSTAL HEAD RESIGNS
McPherson at Baquet States High Cost of Living the Cause.

Vancouver, B.C., Jan. 18.—(By Can. Press.)—At a banquet in his honor tendered by the Postal staff of this city, R. G. MacPherson, who recently resigned as Postmaster after eleven years' service, declared that it was the high cost of living that had forced him to quit. He regarded, he said, the placing of Vancouver in the same category with respect to the salary carried with the Postmastership, with the cities of Regina and Ottawa, which places did about half the business of Vancouver, as a slight upon this city.

Mr. MacPherson's salary was $4,000 a year.

LABOR PARTY AGAINST WAR WITH SOVIETS.
London, January 17.—Arthur Henderson, Leader of the Labor Party in Parliament in a letter dealing with the Russian situation, is quoted today as follows:

"If the Government, refusing even to consider repeated offers of peace from the Soviets, involves the country in war over vast areas of Europe and Asia, the Labor Party will resist to the uttermost such an unnecessary and reckless military adventure masquerading as a war of defense."

The Government received a telegraphic request for instructions from J. L. McNichol, the representative of the Paper Controller at Fort Frances today the following prompt response came from the Government, signed by Hon. Arthur Meighen, acting for the recently appointed Paper Control Commission of the Cabinet:

"Referring to your wire of 17th to Sir Henry Drayton, the Minister of Finance, is out of the city. You are instructed not to commandeer or expropriate; embargo stands pending compliance by company with order of January 10. Meantime carry on no negotiations with the company."

Fort Frances Company Forwarded 150 Tons to Winnipeg by Fast Freight

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 19.—(By Canadian Press.)—Despatches from Fort Frances report that the Fort Frances Pulp and Paper Company has replaced the switch which the company tore up, and that a shipment of 150 tons had been forwarded by fast freight to Winnipeg on Saturday by the mill. This shipment, the company regard as bringing their rateable quota up to date beyond which quota they are apparently not prepared to ship to Western papers. This is an attitude on the part of the company which is at variance with the order of the Paper Controller served on the company on January 10.

The Government received a telegraphic request for instructions from J. L. McNichol, the representative of the Paper Controller at Fort Frances today the following prompt response came from the Government, signed by Hon. Arthur Meighen, acting for the recently appointed Paper Control Commission of the Cabinet:

"Referring to your wire of 17th to Sir Henry Drayton, the Minister of Finance, is out of the city. You are instructed not to commandeer or expropriate; embargo stands pending compliance by company with order of January 10. Meantime carry on no negotiations with the company."

GENERAL MOORE ON VISIT TO CANADA
Comes Over to Visit Plant and Confer with Dominion Steel Directors

QUEBEC, JANUARY 19, 1920.

AN OBSOLETE IDEA.

Quebec, which may justly claim to be the cradle of the Canadian shoe industry will have a warm welcome for the Shoe Manufacturers of Canada who assemble here tomorrow for their annual convention which attracts leading representatives of the industry from all parts of the Dominion.

In this connection it is rumored that the proposal of a national co-operative educational publicity campaign is to be discussed and we may be permitted to hope that this vital topic will receive the consideration that it deserves as the time is fully ripe for an effort of such a kind.

Why should American shoes be considered better than the domestic product in this country, when as a matter of fact Canada is today producing shoes unsurpassed elsewhere? And yet the consumer persists in a discrimination that helps to maintain an adverse trade balance and a serious depreciation of the Canadian dollar.

During the past five years the Dominion has proved itself to be no mean contestant, whether on the battle-fields of Europe or in the workshops at home. It is therefore high time that the obsolete idea of inferiority should be finally dispelled. Canadian brains and craftsmanship need take second place no longer; we have much to be proud of on the contrary and those who are in a position to do so should give a lead that will help to develop a healthy national pride.

It is true that such a lead, to be effective, will involve hard, persistent work but it will be well while Canadians must be convinced by conclusive facts and demonstrations that it is unnecessary to purchase an imported article which is at best no better than the corresponding domestic one but, once convinced, there will be a resultant benefit, first to the manufacturers themselves and afterwards to the country at large.

Once again we bid a welcome to these honored guests and trust that their deliberations may be fruitful from the point of view of national interest.

RUSSIAN WAR CLOUDS.

In the situation that has now arisen in Russia, offering direct menace of a war no less terrible and far-reaching than that which was officially terminated in Paris little more than a week ago, the Allies are merely reaping the rewards of a policy, if one may dignify their attitude with such a description, at once vacillating, ungrateful and short-sighted.

So rapid has been the march of world-events of recent years that events, which were of the momentous character at the time of their occurrence, are soon forgotten. It is therefore fitting to recall that Russia has a heavy claim upon the Entente Powers in general, and France and Great Britain in particular, the disregard of which constitutes a serious reproach to the defenders of a righteous cause.

At the outset of the war, it was Russia who upset Teutonic calculations by an unexpectedly rapid mobilization of her forces and an invasion of East Prussia that gave to French and Joffre a respite in which to organize their retreating troops and stem the tide of battle at the Marne. In similar manner on two or three other highly critical occasions Russia saved the fortunes of the Western Allies by diverting the fury of the storm towards her own Eastern front, this although her resources in ammunition and all necessary equipment were inferior to those of France and Britain; wholly inadequate indeed to the stern demands of the case.

Remembering these important services an impartial judge would certainly hesitate to say that Russia "won the war" in less measure than the United States which intervened at the eleventh hour? And to whom is our debt of honor due? To a weak and despotic monarchy, the tool of every insidious influence or to a corrupt and treacherous bureaucracy that exploited the disabilities of their countrymen for selfish aggrandizement? Both have been swept away to well-deserved oblivion but, under any circumstances, the real debt of civilized democracy is to the common people from among whom were recruited the courageous legions that opposed the hordes of a heavily-armed enemy with their bare breasts. That these people, having been kept for centuries in servitude and ignorance, were unable to appreciate the issues for which they fought does not lessen but increase the obligation to establish stable and progressive Government in that distracted State.

That the old regime should have been destroyed by the first revolution was an unmitigated good and even the Kerensky administration was such as to afford high hopes to every lover of ordered freedom but the coup d'etat of Trotsky and Lenin unleashed a force that was obviously dangerous and demoralizing from the first. It is true that the Allies had few, if any reserves to throw into Russia until after the conclusion of the armistice; it is equally true that they have been war-weary and exhausted in man-power and money since that time; competent critics who have had a first-hand knowledge of conditions unanimously assert, however, that a Brigade, or at most a Division of trained, aggressive troops could have crushed Bolshevism completely in Russia, whence it has spread its ugly tentacles of anarchy to every corner of the earth.

That the Allied heads had some premonitory sense of the threatening possibilities of the movement, even if no very clear sense of those potentialities is evident from the fact that certain meagre and widely scattered units were despatched to co-operate with the Anti-Bolshevik elements headed by Kolchak and Denikine. Unfortunately, however, uninformed public-opinion asserted itself against interference in Russia and those responsible instead of making any serious effort to inform the people and enlist their approval attempted weak-kneed compromise that almost ended in disaster comparable to that at Kut-el-Amara.

The reasons for public antagonism are not hard to understand. Russia was a remote country and civil war or revolution in it appeared unlikely to affect anyone else; Russia, in addition, was a vast and densely populated country which it appeared impossible to subjugate without heavy sacrifice. Having just got out of one war the public was in no mood to embark upon another.

As a result the power of Kolchak, which for a time seemed destined to restore law and order in Russia, has met with crushing reverses and Bolshevism remains in possession of the field with an open road to Asia. From present indications, the Allies have at last awakened to realities and it is to be hoped that they will continue to "muddle through" as they have so far done. Whatever turn events may take hereafter, notwithstanding, one thing is certain and that is the imperative necessity of efforts far more serious, of action far more drastic than would have sufficed a twelve-month past. The poisonous spirit of anarchy has been permitted to permeate through the body-politic of the world and the return to real peace has been indefinitely postponed in consequence.

MEDIUM MADNESS.

It would be amusing if it were not pathetic to find a scientist like Sir Oliver Lodge trying to reconcile spiritualism with Christianity when one considers how short a time has elapsed since science was busied in undermining the foundations of that faith as an imaginative superstition.

"The survival of man can be proven," he declared the other day in New York, "and that perception will strengthen the hands of true religion. I have no new religion to preach. All I say is that the essential parts of the old religion are all strengthened and supported by the new evidence. The result of accepting the facts under investigation is to strengthen the faith and overthrow purely materialistic conceptions on the negative side."

In almost the next breath, however, he makes an admission which sufficiently condemns all other pretensions; advising persons of weak minds to keep away from the Ouija boards. While Sir Oliver does not condemn it as an instrument he believes—very justly—that falling strong force of mind there is danger of constant application upon the board affecting mentality. Now it is impossible to conceive of a true religion that is so dangerous as to be handled as gingerly as gun-powder.

It is not necessary to say that it is impossible for the spirits of the deceased to communicate with the denizens of this world but we may fairly insist that satisfactory evidence of such communication is not yet forthcoming while, on the other hand, those who have claimed to act as the media of such communication have been repeatedly detected in shameless charlatanry. Thus, some months ago all England was laughing at the news that Sir Arthur Conan Doyle had been duped by one of these tricksters yet, according to the Daily Mail London is medium mad. Consulting rooms of fashionable occultists are thronged by eager enquirers, whose interest is generally ascribed to the heavy losses of the war.

As is generally known both Sir Oliver Lodge and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle have published books that describe alleged communications with their respective sons and with friends fallen on the field of battle. The merits of these no-doubt honest conclusions have been well-summed up by a contemporary which observes:

"About all that can be said about these communications is that they indicate a world of the dead rather more stupid than the world of living, and the exposure of one of Sherlock Holmes' pet mediums ought to make people more satisfied with the world of the senses. At the same time it is perhaps natural that people should wish to communicate with their loved dead, especially those who perished in battle, though it is a rather sorry commentary upon their state of culture that they should be taken in by almost any fakir professing mediumistic powers."

PRESS COMMENT.

COMING CONVENTION IN QUEBEC CITY.

(Canada Lumberman and Wood Worker)

In many respects the twelfth annual gathering of the Canadian Lumbermen's Association, which will be held on February 4 and 5, in Quebec City, will be the most important and far reaching in results of any ever conducted in the history of this institution. There are the questions of trade expansion, a national survey of the timber resources of the Dominion, the development of the statistical department, the production, distribution and urgent call for all kinds of wood products for the coming year, transportation, export, etc.

The growth of the association has been rapid during the past few years and the institution has become more national in character, scope and outlook. The St. John, N.B., convention in 1919, was unanimously voted one of the most satisfactory and successful assemblies of members of the industry ever held. The proceedings were marked by business from the opening to the close of the two days' sessions. There was no set or cut-and-dried programme; ample time was allowed for discussion of all important matters and live issues were afforded every consideration. Practical problems which presented themselves during 1918-1919 were taken up, while the reports of committees were effective and to the point. Everything went off with a swing and amid enthusiasm. The welcome accorded the visitors was of the most cordial nature.

The ancient and picturesque city of Quebec, with its hospitable people and many sights of historic interest, bids fair to attract visitors on February 4 and 5, from far and near, whose sympathies and future are bound up in this great Canadian enterprise. A most interesting two-days' session has been arranged and everything betokens a large and representative attendance. The social features are not being overlooked and all who can possibly make a trip to the Ancient Capital next month will be well repaid. The local committee of arrangements is an energetic one and the first meeting of the C. L. A. that has ever been held in the sister province of Quebec, outside of Montreal, should prove a winner in the widest interpretation of the term.

LENINE'S "PEACE OFFERS."

(Brooklyn Eagle)

If Lenin wants peace why is he pushing the campaign in Bokhara? He must know that the threat he is making in the direction of India will almost certainly force Great Britain to resume the fight against the Reds. Sentiment in England against intervention in Russia would vanish over night if the Bolshevik forces became a real peril in India, Persia or Afghanistan. If Lenin wants peace he is going about getting it in a strange way. He is deliberately forcing Great Britain, Japan and the United States to take defensive measures, which may lead to aggressive action on short notice.

THE MELANCHOLY TRAITOR.

(London Morning Post)

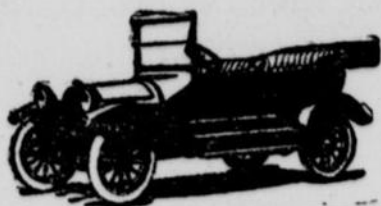

There have been times, even within living memory, when good cheer and mirth, though they were not absolutely forbidden, were understood to be permitted as a concession to human impulses. Today, it is taught that the optimist actually makes happen that good upon which he stakes his choice; so that your melancholy fellow is in fact a traitor to his kind. If the war did not prove the truth of that theory to many a gallant soul, it proved nothing.

Fine Metals Have Given Maxwell its Rank

THE substance of which a car is made denotes its quality. The use of fine and strong metals in the Maxwell has won it many, many friends.

It was necessary to make the Maxwell chassis of the very best materials. For its great mission was to transport—in an extremely economical way—as great a passenger load over the same road and at the same speed as the larger and heavier cars.

Thus it was obvious that the Maxwell had to be light. And to make it light the quality metals were used.

Metallurgists, the men who have made the study of metals a science, say that it compares favorably pound for pound with the highest priced cars the world has produced.

But you need not be a metallurgist to discover this "inner goodness" in a Maxwell. Three months will tell; six months will tell you more.

Otherwise the demand for Maxwell cars in five short years would never have grown from five thousand a year to one hundred thousand a year.

300,000 Maxwells on the highways of the world to-day answer most any question you can ask about this great car.

MEDICINE BY INHALATION.

That medicine for all diseases may be applied by inhalation is the conclusion of Dr. P. D. Schulz, of New York, after many years of experiment. Hitherto this method has been confined to anaesthetics and remedies for respiratory affections, but marked success is claimed for it in both digestive and nervous troubles. The medicine in liquid form is used to saturate a sponge, which is contained in a tube through which nitrous oxide gas as a "conveyor" is inhaled. Risk or chemical or other change from contact with food materials is avoided, and the medicine is absorbed into the circulation from the lungs even more readily than from the stomach, smaller doses sufficing.

TORONTO ST. PAT'S TRIMMED QUEBEC

QUEBEC LOST TO TORONTO BY EIGHT GOALS TO THREE AT QUEEN CITY SATURDAY

Local Team Started Well, But Faded in Final Period—Prodgers and Matte Out for St. Patrick's—Carey Tallied Two for Quebec, While Malone Registered Other

Toronto, Ont., Jan. 18.—Notwithstanding the fact that St. Patrick's are practically out of the running for the first half of the championship in the League race, one of the largest crowds of the season turned out here on Saturday night to see the Irish hand Quebec a 8 to 3 defeat. Matte and Prodgers lined up with the locals and both made good. Matte, the former Tiger star, was every bit as effective as he was in the O. H. A. and he made himself solid with the fans by fearless efforts. Canadiens and Ottawa are having a close battle for the first half honors but the acquisition of Matte and Prodgers means that St. Patrick's will likely be the team to beat for the title in the second half.

Matte on the defence in the first period, checked well in the early stages, but the poke-check of Carey and Malone prevented him from getting away for end-to-end dashes.

During the intermissions between the second and third periods, Matte was given some timely advice by Manager Heffernan and he responded by scoring two goals in the first three minutes of the third period.
St. Patrick's were all over their opponents in the final frame and outscored them 4 to 2. Matte started the trouble for the visitors when he tallied two goals in quick succession early in the period. He scored the first after a sensational end-to-end rush and added another one minute after on a pass from Denny. These two goals took the heart out of the Bull-Dogs and they were never in the hunt thereafter. Mummery and Dye engaged in an interesting duel in this session and the Quebec veteran came out second best. Earlier in the game Dye made Mummery look foolish by faking a shot and then coolly stepping around him and the latter was determined not to let it occur again. He got his opportunity in the final period when Dye came in again. Mummery refused to fall for the fake shot and with his legs spread apart awaited the next move by the wily right wing player. The move came all right, but it was in the nature of a shot between Mum-mery's legs which Brophy never saw and which counted St. Patrick's sixth goal.

Carey, right wing player extraordinary was the star for the losers.
He is one of the best right wing players, if not the best in the National League. Carey scored two of the Quebec's goals, and assisted in the other. Malone was handicapped owing to a sore knee but he tried hard all the way. The Mummery-Carpenter defence is heavy but slow, while Brophy in goal is a long way removed from being a star. Tommy Smith and Jerry Coughlin were used during part of the game but neither showed their old-time form. Smith tried hard but failed to get past the local defence.

IMPORTANT MATCH ON CHATEAU RINK
A very important curling match took place on Saturday afternoon, on the Chateau Frontenac rink, when the famous "Bluebottles" outfit met the equally renowned "Wasps" in a deadly battle.

The Wasps stung the Bluebottles to the tune of 14 to 7, and some of the shots and plays pulled off during the game were remarkable, to say the least. Chief Tribe played a good game for the Bluebottles, as did W.
London for the Wasps.

One of the most remarkable and at the same time, one of the prettiest things of the game were Tribe's famous "abdomen" stroke, which consisted of following the stone for half the length of the rink, laying on the stomach. C. Elliot pulled off some E. A. F. stunts, including the nose dive, pancake, etc., while Harry Knight and E. Tribe accompanied him towards the end of the game on his aerial flight.

The scores:
"Bluebottles"
C. Elliot D. Courtney
E. Knight Chief Sorensen
E. Tribe W. London
Skip—7. Skip—14.

The Nationals have a great team now, and should be heard from in the second half of the City League race.

The Sons of Ireland may play in Sherbrooke on Saturday next.

"Smash" O'Brien staged a great end-to-end dash when he scored Saturday, yet he looked so surprised when he saw the puck nestling in the corner of the net.

SKATING CHAMPION
MEETS WITH ACCIDENT

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 18.—Charles Jewlaw, amateur ice-skating champion, suffered a broken nose and other bruises when he fell heavily to the ice after colliding with a child who had run onto the course at Saracus Lake today. It was at first thought Jewlaw was seriously injured as he remained in an unconscious condition for more than an hour after the fall.

Lacombé put up a great game in the nets for the Sons, but was not called upon to do his work that his rival had to handle. Turgeon put up the best game for the orange sweatered players, although Quinn worked hard at cover point.

Play took place over a fast sheet of ice, and both sexes set out of last year, which was maintained until the end of the game.

The only goal of the game came as a result of a pass from George McNaughton to Hammy Laroche near centre ice. The latter player then rushed up the ice, followed by brother Bob, and when near the Nationale defence, Hammy went into the corner, the defence following him, and then shot the rubber across to the waiting Bob, the latter simply slamming it past Turgeon.

The second game started off well, and for ten minutes the Soldiers were unable to penetrate the Crescent defence. Piton and Delany putting up a great game in front of Prot, and keeping everything away, but finally Mike McMahon succeeded in registering the first goal of the game, and before the period had ended, the score stood, 5th. C. G. R., 4; Crescents 0; Drouin, F. Dinan and O'Brien were the scorers.

In the second twenty Kane started off the Soldiers on their goal scoring journey again after four minutes play, Prot having no chance with the shot at all, while eleven minutes later F. Dinan registered another point. Gerry McNaughton broke the ice for Crescents, beating Sullivan from close in, and then Drouin scored the final goal of the game.

OTTAWAS LOSE TO CANADIENS

Kennedy's Team Beat Ottawa
Puck Chasers Three to Two on Saturday Night

Montreal, Que., Jan. 18.—Canadiens defeated Ottawa 3 to 2 in an N.
H. L. game last night.

Taking almost a desperate chance and shooting from centre ice to break the exciting tie, Arbour, who played brilliantly throughout for Canadiens, scored the odd goal in five minutes from time that gave the Flying Frenchmen a victory over the Senators by a score of 3 to 2. The victory assured Canadiens of second place in the race for the honors of the first half of the season, and gives the team an outside chance of beating the Senators for the premier position in the standing.

While luck was a factor in the scoring of the goal that brought the game to a termination, the exhibition of hockey furnished by the teams has perhaps never been surpassed in a local rink and overshadows any previous game since the memorable meeting between Canadiens and Ottawa at the old Arena on January 14, 1914, when Dubeau scored just such a lucky goal as gave Canadiens a victory over the Ottawas by 1 to 0 after twenty minutes of overtime play. As in the game six years ago, the Ottawa players had the better of the play on Saturday night but they were unable to beat Vezina who made sensational stops. Time after time the Canadiens goal guardian broke up two men and three men attacks of the Ottawa team and turned aside shots that gave promises of being counters as the puck left the stick of the player in possession of it.

The two teams, the players cut out a pace that has never been surpassed in a local game and only the good judgment shown by the management of the teams in making changes enabled the play to carry on at the rate at which it started. Both clubs are well supplied with substitutes and the management of the clubs were kept busy throughout the play in their efforts to out-general their opponents.

CURLERS WERE BUSY SATURDAY

Quebec Curling Club Had Interesting Competition For Two Prizes—Keen Play

Much interest was centered in the curling competition promoted by the Entertainment Committee of the Quebec Club notwithstanding the above competition started off precisely at 2.00 p.m. on Saturday afternoon much of the credit of this contest is due Major R. B. Whyte, Chairman of match committee, for the successful manner in which he overcame the difficulties of players not being able to attend owing to business and many other reasons.
During the contest many interesting plays took place. The game between G. H. Perry and W. J. Darlington was a close one from start to finish both skips having each six ends,
Perry winning out by two points.
Skips C. H. Handley and R. B.
Whyte had a nip and tuck game throughout the, the genial Bob eventually nosing out his opponent by 4 points. In the Bignell versus Geo.
Brodie game, the former at one time was seven ahead. Brodie evened up for several ends both rinks were tied. Bignell winning out in the twelfth end by one point. Skips Jas.
J. MacManamy and his rink was a well balanced one and played throughout with good judgement.
Skips Alex Laurie put up a splendid fight. President Wm. Lambton was absent so Harold Blair was compelled to handle the broom which he did to the credit of himself and his rink defeating after a hard struggle that doughty skip F. S. Stocking.

THE VITALPOWER OF THE HUMAN BODY - IT CAN BE REGAINED

The force that runs the human machine is stored in the nerves. This nervous energy, as it is called, is only another name for electricity. If any organ of your body is weak and inactive, it means that the nerves which control it lack power. This must be restored before the affected part can perform its proper functions.

It does not take drugs or such a condition as this. You can only affect a cure by replacing the energy that has been lost.

Drugs are poisonous—electricity is life. Saturate your nerves with a steady unbroken stream of galvanic electricity and infuse it into the nerves in just the right volume. It builds up vitality and strengthens and cures all ailments resulting from a debilitated state of the nerves and vital organs. Men who suffer from failing vitality, debility, or any of the usual weaknesses, will find that the "AJAX" Body Battery, together with electric suspensory attachment, will quickly put them in good condition.

It is a natural remedy, and those who have used it will tell you that it does all we claim for it.

THIS IS FREE. We'll send you our free book, "Electricity which tells you all about the battery, how it cures, and what it does. This book is illustrated, and explains many things you should know about the cause and cure of diseases. If you want to be the man nature intended you to be, send for this book at once. We have a book for women also.

THE BRITISH ELECTRIC INSTITUTE (Dept. 208) 26, Holburn Viaduct, London, England.

P.S.—Patients living abroad, should thoroughly explain their case in every particular. Every letter is treated in the most private and confidential manner. HAIR SOON TOO SHORT TO DO UP

A little "Danderine" stops your hair coming out and doubles its beauty

To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug or toilet counter for a few cents, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair usually stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Help your hair to grow strong thick and long and become soft, glossy and twice as beautiful and abundant.

Gradually the number of his inventions along this line grew, until the list of patents granted him was said to cover nearly every operation in the manufacture of shoes, and these same machines are quite generally used, in an improved form, today.

In all, some 300 inventions were the result of Mr. Goddu's work, most of them being designed to perfect the process of shoemaking. He was not, however, a man of only one idea, as he proved by the interesting results he achieved in other direc-

He received patents on turbines such as are used on battleships, and for improvements in street cars. His model for the Brooklyn Bridge which was erected many years ago, was widely and favorably noticed.

Whenever you pick up a current number of some wire-bound magazine and note how easily and comfortably it lies open in your hand, you may like to recall that you are indebted to Mr. Goddu for the invention of the newer way of binding books and pamphlets by wire staples so that the pages open flat, without breaking apart.

It is pleasant to know that the genius of this 300-invention man—who was thrown on his own resources as a lad of 14, to make his sturdy self-reliant way in the world—was recognized not only in the United States, the country of his adoption, but in many other lands as well. Various medals and honors were conferred on him by Royalty abroad, in addition to those which he received at home; and, in the shoe manufacturing business especially he will long be remembered as the "300-invention man."—Christian Science Monitor.

BRITISH WOMEN COMING TO CANADA

Anywhere from 11,000 up of the British women who were organized for war work and are being demobilized, want to come to Canada. Mrs. Jean Robson, of Ottawa, told the convention of Federal Women's Institutes recently, and at present there is only one opportunity open to them, that of housework.

The first party, who are all carefully selected and inspected in England, left England on November 18, accompanied by a Canadian woman officer. All these girls are physically and mentally fit, and should be met with a spirit of friendship and without undue criticism.

The chain of hotels, which are to be established across the Dominion, one in every province where these girls can go on their arrival and receive a certain amount of training in Canadian methods, or can return to it in any difficulty, seem to meet one of the great needs. There is no doubt that the British girls will need safeguarding, and Mrs. Robson asked for the co-operation of all the Women's Institute members in the follow-up work of the British women who come to Canada.

Probably many of these girls have been working on the land during the war, and will naturally go into country districts where the Women's Institutes can do so much to help them settle down in the land of their adoption. It is the first year or so that is the most difficult for the newcomer and for her employers, but so much can be done with a little sympathy and kind neighborliness. The tremendous problem of Canadianization is one of the biggest works for the Western Women's Institutes to do, as Mrs. Robson pointed out, and she asked the women of the east to encourage their daughters to give at least five years—which is equal in length of time to what their brothers gave up—to the great work of nation-building, by going out and teaching in foreign schools.

BRITISH WOMEN COMING TO CANADA

Anywhere from 11,000 up of the British women who were organized for war work and are being demobilized, want to come to Canada. Mrs. Jean Robson, of Ottawa, told the convention of Federal Women's Institutes recently, and at present there is only one opportunity open to them, that of housework.

The first party, who are all carefully selected and inspected in England, left England on November 18, accompanied by a Canadian woman officer. All these girls are physically and mentally fit, and should be met with a spirit of friendship and without undue criticism.

The chain of hotels, which are to be established across the Dominion, one in every province where these girls can go on their arrival and receive a certain amount of training in Canadian methods, or can return to it in any difficulty, seem to meet one of the great needs. There is no doubt that the British girls will need safeguarding, and Mrs. Robson asked for the co-operation of all the Women's Institute members in the follow-up work of the British women who come to Canada.

Probably many of these girls have been working on the land during the war, and will naturally go into country districts where the Women's Institutes can do so much to help them settle down in the land of their adoption. It is the first year or so that is the most difficult for the newcomer and for her employers, but so much can be done with a little sympathy and kind neighborliness. The tremendous problem of Canadianization is one of the biggest works for the Western Women's Institutes to do, as Mrs. Robson pointed out, and she asked the women of the east to encourage their daughters to give at least five years—which is equal in length of time to what their brothers gave up—to the great work of nation-building, by going out and teaching in foreign schools.

He received patents on turbines such as are used on battleships, and for improvements in street cars. His model for the Brooklyn Bridge which was erected many years ago, was widely and favorably noticed.

Whenever you pick up a current number of some wire-bound magazine and note how easily and comfortably it lies open in your hand, you may like to recall that you are indebted to Mr. Goddu for the invention of the newer way of binding books and pamphlets by wire staples so that the pages open flat, without breaking apart.

It is pleasant to know that the genius of this 300-invention man—who was thrown on his own resources as a lad of 14, to make his sturdy self-reliant way in the world—was recognized not only in the United States, the country of his adoption, but in many other lands as well. Various medals and honors were conferred on him by Royalty abroad, in addition to those which he received at home; and, in the shoe manufacturing business especially he will long be remembered as the "300-invention man."—Christian Science Monitor.

AN OUTRAGE ON NATURE.

Formerly an inmate of the Princess Mary Village Homes Industrial School, Addlestone, Surrey, England, a young girl named Vivian Perry has been boarded out to service in the north of England under the conditions that have been constantly denounced as a scandalous invasion of parental rights. The circumstances of the case are of peculiar urgency. The girl's mother, a widow, recently contracted a second marriage with an Australian soldier, a prosperous farmer in civil life, able and willing to make a comfortable home for the mother and child. Upon this footing an application has been made to the Home Office for the girl's release. Not having seen her child for upwards of three years, the mother desired to chat things over with her, and after some discussion it was arranged that upon an undertaking from the parents to pay her fare from Westmoreland, the girl should come to the school at Addlestone for a short holiday. To her great disappointment, however, the mother was not permitted to see the girl alone; the interview took place in the presence of several of the school officials, one of whom held the girl's hand throughout the proceedings, the child being understood to state that she had no wish to escape from the loving care of her loyal custodians. This alleged decision on the part of the poor little captive has been since "confirmed" by a letter, which, though in her own handwriting, bears every mark of official inspiration, while two letters from the mother sent by registered post to the child's address in Westmoreland have elicited no reply!

ENCOURAGEMENT OF SHIPBUILDING

A Delegation Waited on Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine, at Ottawa

A delegation of Canadian Shipbuilding Workmen, including the Federation of Returned Soldiers and Sailors, proceeded to Ottawa on Friday last and interviewed Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, Minister of Marine, in reference to the encouragement of Canadian Shipbuilding. The granting of a bounty was urged on the Government if it should be found necessary to retain the shipbuilding business in Canada.

A memorandum on the subject submitted by the delegation, continues: "In the event of this bonus being granted, and the work continued, each company will appoint a returned man, at its own expense, to safeguard the interests of the returned men. The companies further agree that at least 25 per cent. of the entire working force in each year will consist of returned men, if such men are available.

"Some of the yards are not running at full capacity, this being due to the lack of contracts. Should no contracts be available, through outside competition in all probability these yards must close down permanently, thus leaving us to seek new lines, and to change our vocation, which, under the present industrial conditions, would be a manifest hardship to many of the men affected.

"Another phase of this end of the subject is that many now employed in this work have based their whole future practically upon the assumption that it would be a permanent vocation for them, and they have protected themselves by taking courses in vocational training best suited for this work, with this idea in view.

"This is one of the most important factors in connection with the future of this industry in this country, and has a very vital bearing upon the employment question, affecting a large percentage of returned men. This question also affects a great many employed in allied industries so that the entire matter is very far-reaching in its scope.

"At this time," the memorandum concludes, "when every effort is being bent towards a greater production of Canadian goods by Canadians it would seem expedient to encourage a business that promises to contribute so materially to the industries welfare and commercial prosperity for which all true Canadians are striving."

The Government promised full consideration of the delegation's views. The shipbuilding companies are asking for a bounty, payable for a period of ten years, of ten dollars per displacement ton, and ten dollars per indicated horsepower on steel ships built in Canada.

COMMENTS ON GERMAN SHIPPING

London Times Says Country Will Soon Be in Position To Resume Building

The London Times in an editorial comment on Germany's shipping condition, says that country will soon be in a position to build a million gross register tons of shipping annually. The comment reads as follows:—

"There is, in certain quarters, a tendency to regard Germany, for competitive purposes, as entirely outside the commercial arena. That is not the view held in well-informed circles. British shipbuilding and ship-owning circles under terms of the peace treaty Germany is required to pay down for the Allies 200,000 tons gross of shipping per annum. Responsible estimates are to the effect that within a short period she will be capable of producing 1,000,000 tons per annum. The question naturally arises as to what use the estimated surplus of 800,000 tons per annum will be put.

"We have reason to believe that Dutch names have been given to the five large liners which are slated to be sold by Germany to Holland during the course of hostilities; that the hulls and funnels have been painted with Dutch colors, and that the liners are now lying in German ports with Dutch crews on board. Each of these vessels was built in 1914 and as yet has done no service.

"The sale of the ships to Holland is, of course, not recognized by the Allies. Under the terms of the peace treaty they must be delivered to them. The fact that there is no reason for misunderstanding on the point is shown by the entries in the current Lloyd's Register Volume, according to which four of the ships have already been allotted to British firms to manage for the Shipping Controller."

alone; the interview took place in the presence of several of the school officials, one of whom held the girl's hand throughout the proceedings, the child being understood to state that she had no wish to escape from the loving care of her loyal custodians. This alleged decision on the part of the poor little captive has been since "confirmed" by a letter, which, though in her own handwriting, bears every mark of official inspiration, while two letters from the mother sent by registered post to the child's address in Westmoreland have elicited no reply!

CLOSING LETTERS BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

(By Canadian Press)
New York, N.Y., Jan. 17.—Flushed with their recent successes, the short interests in the stock market made further efforts to unsettle prices during today's short session.

For a time their attacks caused a sharp reversal from the strong opening, but in the high-priced speculative divisions, notably General Motors, Crucible Steel, Mexican Petroleum, American Woolen and United States Rubber recording gross declines of 3 to 10 points.

Substantial buying orders set in while the list was under pressure and most losses were largely relieved. Final prices notably in stocks which featured the previous days' set-back, were at or near highest levels.

The stability shown by United States Steel and affiliated equipments was a pronounced factor in hastening the extensive covering movement.

Shippings and rails also contributed to the better tendency with metals and several of the food issues.

Sales amounted to 250,000 shares. Active domestic bonds including speculative rails were slightly higher but Liberty issues continued. Extremely irregular on reduced offerings. Changes in the international group were trivial.

Total sales (par value) aggregated $6,850,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call during the week.

Fulfilling general expectations, the clearing house statement showed a substantial increase of actual receipts, offsetting last week's deficit and leaving a moderately large excess.

Mercantile authorities reported mixed conditions in many lines of trade, the situation in the main, however, pointing to further expansion at distributing centers.

Jesuit Priests.

His Majesty the King of Spain lately requested His Imperial Majesty, in a private letter to send forty priests from the Jesuit College in Russia, particularly Italian and German, for the good of his States, and for the foundation of new schools and colleges in his colonies. Prince Gallatin, Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs, having made a report on the subject to His Imperial Majesty, and consulted with the General of the Order of the Jesuits at Polock, has ordered that such priests of the Order as appear to the General to be qualified, and are by birth Italians or Germans, may go to Madrid. Priests from the different Colleges have set out for Germany with Russian and Spanish passports.

Appointments.

Provincial Secretary's Office, Quebec, 13th Jan., 1820.
His Honor the President has been pleased to appoint Louis Ruel, of the Parish of Berthier, Esq., one of the Justices of the Peace for the District of Quebec.
And Mr. William H. Shadgett, Schoolmaster of the Free School in the City of Quebec.

Chronicle Files 25 Years Ago.

Quite a number of unemployed workmen, probably 400 in all, met yesterday afternoon on the Champlain Market place, and after listening to speeches from some of their number, sent a deputation to the Mayor to interview him. Mayor Parent courteously received the delegates at his office in Lower Town, and expressed his sympathy with those who were out of work. He informed them that a very large quantity of stone was to be broken by Quebec laborers, and that this would afford employment for 200 or 300 men. At the request of the delegates, His Worship also agreed to write to the Quebec Harbor Commissioners, asking that none but resident taxpayers be employed upon the works to be commenced in the Louise Basin.

The Late Mr. Green.

The funeral of the late Mr. Samuel Tanner Green, a much respected resident of Levis, takes place from his late residence today at 1 o'clock. Mr. Green held the position of mail officer on the Atlantic service for very many years, and filled that post with much credit. In his young days he was very fond of shooting and fishing. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him and he will be much missed in our community, where he was a familiar figure. His family have our sympathy in this hour of their bereavement.

Resigned.

Mr. J. A. Rochette, advocate, and Deputy Clerk of the Recorder's Court, has resigned his position to resume the practice of his profession.

At The Theatres

The "Superman," A Unique Comedy, At the Auditorium Theatre Today

The attraction at the Auditorium, today, tomorrow and Wednesday, is "The Superman," one of the unique melodramas of the day. The story is woven around the unhappy little Princess, whose usurper Uncle, King of Her Stolen Domain keeps her an exile and a prisoner. The life of the little Princess alternates between begging in rags, accompanied by the old hag who is her guard, and making brief periodical visits to court in order to satisfy the usurper that his bargain is being carefully carried out. The mean and filthy hovel, and the wistful patience of the child strike a deep sympathetic chord in every heart. The child excites the pity of a wealthy manufacturer and his daughter who rescues her from the wretched life of a beggar. They find a powerful ally in Samson, athletic workman in Mr. Dressler's factory. Samson's herculean strength and indomitable courage are taxed to the utmost by the ruffian gang who endeavors to steal back the little Princess to her dirty prison. The daring plot and the phenomenal rescues as a result, fascinate with breathless tension, every felonious scheme which the usurpers devise is countered and dealt with by The Superman in a succession of marvelous feats, until the endeavors of the villains are completely destroyed and the Princess is restored to her rightful position. There is also a charming romance which culminated in a reward for Samson. On the same programme will be offered comedy along with other features.

Mary Pickford in "Heart O' the Hills"

At the Empire Theatre Today

Little Mary Pickford, the sweetest actress of the present film world, is presented at the Empire Theatre all this week in the third picture from her own studios, entitled "Heart O' The Hills", a story of old Kentucky from the pen of John Fox, Jr. If you desire to secure a good seat you will have to be on hand in good time, or try and attend the matinees and avoid the terrific evening crush. Kinograms and a screaming comedy are also on the bill. Prices are: Matinees 10 and 20 cents; Evenings 20 and 30 cents.

Mary Pickford in

Norma Talmadge at the Victoria Today in "Isle of Conquest."

Norma Talmadge, one of the most popular stars of today's silent dramas will be the featured player at the Victoria Theatre today in "The Isle of Conquest" taken from Hombrow's famous novel, "By Right of Conquest". This production is one of the most sumptuous ever offered on the Talmadge series, and incidentally it gives the third Talmadge sister, Natalie a chance to make her debut in pictures. This feature played a week at Loew's in Montreal and created a great impression. The 9th episode of the Pearl White serial and a Harry Pollard comedy complete the bill. Usual prices will prevail, despite the fact that the picture is a special production and costs a huge sum.

"Tin Pan Alley," New Fox Comedy, Coming To the Allen Today.

"Tin-Pan Alley" is coming to town to give us a glimpse on the screen of the king of Tin Pan Alley, the music publishing quarter in New York, of the young musician, and how the girl who inspired his songs—all of whom have been made famous in the magazine story by William Charles Lengel. The Allen Theatre will show the William Fox picturization of this story for a run of three days, beginning today and if it pictures half as well as it reads, it should be a worth-while performance, especially in the hands of the "happy, snappy" comedians, Albert Ray and Elinor Fair.

The bill also comprises a very nice comedy, while other short films fill in the programme.

Have you heard the Allen's new orchestra?

Mr. and Mrs. Sanschagrin reside at 71 Marie Louise street, Quebec, and their many friends will be glad to learn of her wonderful improvement.

"For about ten years," he continued, "My wife has been suffering from general weakness and loss of appetite. She could not eat anything scarcely, was subject to awful night sweats, and suffered nearly all the time with terrible headache. She complained of pains in her back, in fact, all over her body, and did not have strength and energy to do her housework. Her condition had become almost hopeless and was alarming. Her pain and suffering was almost unbearable for her, and while she has tried every known medicine and I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to have her health restored she could never get any relief. All our friends could tell you what a dreadful state of health she was in and much of my salary was being spent every month in our efforts to find something that would help her.

"I had been reading about Tanlac and going on the idea that 'What is good for one is good for another.' I bought a bottle of the medicine for my wife, and if anyone had told me there was a medicine that would do her so much good in so short a time I would not have believed them. I am just now buying the second bottle and am simply astonished, so are our friends, at the great change that has come to her. The New Year's holidays have been the happiest for our family that we have spent in years and it's all due to the good results my wife has gotten from Tanlac. She is now eating hearty meals without the least trouble afterwards and her sleep has been sound and restful every night since right soon after she began taking Tanlac. She has no more perspirations at night, no more headaches, and her pains have almost disappeared. I consider it was the best investment I ever made when I bought Tanlac. My wife is already feeling so improved and is so enthusiastic and grateful that she is willing to go from house to house and tell about Tanlac. I believe she is the happiest woman in Quebec and we want our friends and everyone else to benefit of her experience with Tanlac. She can now attend to her housework and look after nine children and it's a pleasure instead of a burden to her. She is gaining rapidly in strength and is bright and cheerful just like she used to be before her troubles started, for she now goes about her work singing. I am more than glad to give this testimonial for Tanlac and will say, again, that I am amazed at such wonderful results in so short a time."

Tanlac is sold in Quebec by Joliceur's Pharmacies, 338 St. John and 21 Buade streets, and Martel & Dion, druggists, 105 and 109 St. Joseph St., and in Levis by Maurice Dion Druggist; under the personal direction of a Special Tanlac representative. —(Adv.)

CARD

We are taking advantage of the New Year to thank our numerous customers for the generous patronage they gave us during the two last years. Patronage well deserved by the way we kept our large stock of pre-war goods marked at the old prices, by doing so we gave everyone an opportunity to supply themselves with fine goods at a very low price.

We still have about fifty thousand dollars worth of these goods, that we will sell at the old prices. They consist of—Brussell and Wilton Carpets, Brussell and Wilton Rugs, Curtain materials in Net of every description, Plush, Velours and Cretonnes. Furniture Coverings, Brocades, Gobelins and Silk Coverings.

There is still a good assortment in all the above goods, and we keep them in storage when required.
