Rotary Carnival Auto Goes To Westmounter

The best Rotary Carnival in the history of the Rotary Club of Westmount reached a grand finale on Saturday night, when several thousand people jammed the carnival grounds to enjoy themselves and witness the drawing, for the car to be given away, which wound up the carnival for another year.

As the hour for the draw drew near, more and more interested carnival-goers crowded into the grounds. Finally, the mixing box, from which the winning ticket was to be drawn, began to turn slowly.

At the appointed hour, "Bud" Close, president of the Rotary Club of Westmount, and Stan Cayford, chairman of the carnival committee, made their way to the platform. The milling throng stilled. The box stopped turning and was opened, and young Cecilia Ryan, who was picked from the crowd, reached in, and drew forth a ticket — nothing but a little piece of paper with some writing on it, but it meant a new car for somebody.

In the tense hush that followed, the winner's name was read off — G. Wark, 105 Irvine Ave., Westmount. The winning ticket bore the number 40990, and was sold by J. G. Cornell, 4129 Western avenue.

The big moment was over, and the throng slowly dispersed homeward. Once more, the carnival was over.

W. M. Gardner Named Gideon Cabinet Trustee

W. McG. Gardner, 313 Elm avenue, president of the Montreal Camp of The Gideons, was recently named a trustee of the Dominion Cabinet of the Gideon executive body, and C. W. Wortman, of London, Ont., has been re-elected president of the national organization, which plans to build a new headquarters in Toronto during the coming year.

The national organization of the Christian Commercial Men's Association, best known for its efforts to keep a copy of the Bible in every hotel room in North America, now plans to place copies of the New Testament, with the Psalms and Book of Proverbs added, in the hands of every school child. Millions of testaments already have been distributed to children in Canada and the United States.

Foiled Burglar Later Captured And Identified

On Monday evening, a nurse in a local residence surprised a man in the act of attempting to make off with some of her employer's effects. She attempted to stop him; a struggle ensued and he got away after she had managed to strike him several times with an iron poker — but not before he dropped the goods he was attempting to steal.

Later, a suspect was picked up by the Montreal Police Department, which notified Westmount authorities, and he was identified in a lineup by the nurse as the man whom she had seen prowling in her employer's home.

He was arraigned before Recorder C. A. Hale on Wednesday and charged with burglary and aggravated assault. He pleaded not guilty as charged and the case was remanded to this morning.

"Jeep" Steering Fails Results In Collision

Failure of the steering apparatus of a "Jeep" delivery wagon on Monday afternoon, resulted in an accident on Sherbrooke Street opposite the Temple Emanu-El.

The driver lost control of his vehicle as he was driving west and it collided with a LaSalle Taxi, driven by Raoul Guindon, of Montreal, who received a shaking up and slight bruises. Both vehicles sustained moderate damage.

Canada Must Support U.N. Prof. Scott Tells Rotary

"You can not separate internal and external policy into two compartments, least of all in a country with the wide international connections of Canada." So declared Prefessor F. R. Scott, of the Law Faculty, McGill University, in an address on the subject "Canada's International Position" before the Rotary Club of Westmount, this week.

Mr. Scott went on to review the general position which Canada today faces in world affairs.

"The United Nations is still a major factor in world politics, though it has declined in influence since its formation. It is wrong to imagine that this second attempt at setting up a world organization has failed. It is functioning as a form of world opinion and its numerous special agencies are doing unspectacular but excellent work.

"Canada's policy must always be one of unqualified support for the U. N., and she should defend the principles of its Charter, no matter what other states may be involved," he declared.

In Western Europe, he continued, we now see the beginnings of a hopeful development. Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg are united in a treaty of alliance and co-operation that may well become the basis of a Western Union. Sixteen countries are co-operating to solve their economic difficulties and to plan the use of E.R.P. assistance from America, and the success of this movement is vitally important to Canada.

Development in Europe

"A new type of democracy is emerging in Western Europe, neither capitalist nor communist," stated Professor Scott. It is sometimes called the Third Force. It offers a way to economic security and new expansion without the sacrifice of political liberty and helps to break the dangerous polarization of the world into two camps — U.S.A. and U.S.S.R.. Be-

Well-Known Scout Official Resigns Post

After 38 years of active association with the Boy Scout Movement, E. Russell Paterson, 367 Metcalfe Ave., Westmount, Provincial executive commissioner, retired on Saturday.

Mr. Paterson has been in "the Scouts" since 1910 (the Movement was started in England in 1908) and he has been an executive of the Quebec Provincial Council since 1913. During his association with the Movement, which was interrupted from 1914-19-9 by service in the Army overseas, he has been scoutmaster, cubmaster, deputy camp chief and assistant provincial commissioner, and since 1913 senior scout executive in this province.

Last year, in recognition of his outstanding service to the movement and to the youth of Canada, he was decorated by His Excellency the Governor General, who is also Chief Scout for Canada, with the Silver Wolf, the highest order in the gift of the Boy Scouts Association.

The citation for the award stated in part that "from the outset, Mr. Paterson realized the importance of the training of scouters and patrol leaders. Before the (official) Gilwell courses were started in Canada, he had planned and was running courses of training and was one of the designers of a patrol leaders' training course which later became the basis of the present Bronze Arrowhead training for junior leaders. Mr. Paterson's special interest in the

A Tip Of The Hat To Westmount's Police & Firemen

Westmount Rotarians are loud in their praise of our Police and Firemen.

Each year, every man who is not on regular duty has voluntarily offered his services to aid the fair and regulate the crowd at the carnival grounds.

This accounts in no small measure for the orderly and happy atmosphere at the annual West mount Rotary Carnival.

The Canadian Brotherhood of Policemen, Westmount Section and Local N. 5 Fire Section of the Canadian Brotherhood of Civic Employees merit hearty congratulations for their unstinting cooperation in helping to make the Carnival an outstanding success.

War Assets To Evacuate Building On Historical Site

War Assets Corporation head office, which has been located at 4095 St. Catherine street west, in Westmount, since early in 1945, will move to Ottawa, it was announced recently by H. R. Malley, president and general manager.

Executive offices of the Corporation, which was formed by Order-in-Council in 1943 "to hold, manage, operate, dispose of or deal in and with surplus Crown Assets consigned or transferred to it . . . ," were opened early in 1944 in the Dominion Square Building, with sales offices in the Confederation Building. Early in 1945, all head office staffs moved to the present location.

Historic Site

The War Assets office building is on a historic site, and itself has quite a history. Planned in 1920 as a garage, it served that purpose until 1943, when it was converted into a plant to make precision tools for war industry. In 1945 it was declared surplus, acquired by War Assets Corporation and transformed into offices accommodating nearly 1,200 individuals.

This building is only the second to occupy a site granted to the Sulpician Order after the foundation of Montreal in 1642. From pasture, it eventually became a lacrosse field, and in 1898, the Montreal Arena was built there, the first structure in any country designed specifically for ice hockey. For 20 years, it sheltered sports and entertainment, helped in the development of hockey to its streamline form, housed swagger horse shows, and provided stages for grand opera and a succession of world "greats," including Patti, Albani, Donalda, Melba, Calve, Schumann-Heink, Clara Butt, Caruso, Edouard de Reszke and Pietro Mascagni.

Fire destroyed the arena to end that phase in 1918. A new arena was designed, but not built because of local restrictions, and the shareholders approved the

Business College Has Graduation Exercises

Graduation Exercises of Graham's Business College were held on Tuesday evening at Victoria Hall, and were followed by a dance for the graduates and their friends.

Special guests attending the event included Mr. and Mrs. Jarand of the Royal Typewriter Company, representatives of the Remington and Underwood Companies, Mr. Bruno Chatelain, of Chatelain Business College, Mr. Proulx, president of the Association of Business Colleges, and representatives from other business organizations, as well as a number of members of the Rotary Club of Westmount.

The Exercises opened with the graduates' procession, which was followed by an introductory address by J. Philip Page, principal of the college. Next came the presentation of diplomas by Mrs. Hook, senior teacher, and Mr. Jarand.

This was followed by presentation of prizes, and an address to the graduating class by Mr. Jarand.

He pointed out that two requirements are necessary for success in the business world, i.e., adequate academic qualifications and desireable personality traits. Saying that, as graduates of Graham's Business Colleges, they were undoubtedly well qualified as to the former, he proceeded to elaborate on the latter.

The valedictorian address was delivered by Miss Sue Ann Black, followed by an address in French by Mr. Chatelain. Mr. Page then addressed the graduates, and thanked those present for their co-operation. He concluded by

Unity Youth Club Summer Activities Have Good Start

Sixty members of the Westmount Unity Youth Group on Sunday enjoyed a day of boating, swimming and other activities at Calumet Beach. The weatherman was good, and a grand time was had by all.

The W. U. Y. G. has drawn up plans to hold several such picnics during the coming summer, and the second will be held in the near future.

Another regular feature of the Club's summer programme is the Friday Night Dance, held every week at the St. Stephen's Church Hall. A lot of planning has gone into making these dances outstanding attractions to teen-agers and Youth Group members.

Essay Competition Prize Winners Receive Awards

Philip Seeman, of Baron Byng High School, adjudged grand prize winner of an essay competition on the general subject "Behind the scenes in a large departmenetal store," was presented with a mantel radio at a ceremony held in the training classroom of Henry Morgan & Co. Ltd., on Saturday morning. At the same ceremony, 22 other students received merchandise certificates for their prize-winning essays.

The competition was sponsored by Henry Morgan & Co. Ltd., in conection with a series of group tours during April and May, in which students from eight Montreal High Schools were conducted through non-selling departments at Morgan's and shown operational routines of maintenance, supply, deliveries, accounts, display, advertising and many other functions normally invisible to the shopper's eye. These groups included about 30 students each, all of whom showed keen interest in the various phases of departmental store operation which were fully explained.

As a result of these visits, a large number of esays was received and they were read and judged by J. Dando, of McGill University; Chanoine Georges Deniger, of Montreal University and Jean Dufresne Valois, of La Presse. First, second and third prizes were awarded to each school and a grand prize for the best essay submitted.

cause it ties Britain closer to continental Europe, it is bound to affect future commonwealth relations in a manner not easy to foresee at this stage. "But it deserves our support and encouragement because it is filling the vacuum created in Western Europe by the devastation of war, without any violent break with those cultural and political traditions which are part of our western heritage."

Speaking of Russia, Professor Scott went on to say: "Some people are attacking the Soviets just because it is the popular thing to do. This is irresponsible and dangerous. There is a difference between firmness of policy and loose verbal denunciations." We must be firm, he continued, in our resistance to any form of Russian aggression; but we are part of the same world as Russia, whether we like it or not, and Canada should follow a policy designed to maintain peace, rather than merely prepare for war.

Sooner or later, he added, some new kind of a balance will be found and will be accepted and we must work to secure this balance, to find a way through the present period of tension and permit the strengthening of the United Nations.

"The only sane policy for Canada," he concluded, "is to avoid adding fuel to the fire and to work patiently and persistently for peaceful solutions to every problem."

New Traffic Guide In Montreal Area

In connection with their extensive campaign for better motoring in Montreal and district, the Metropolitan Police Chiefs Discussion Club have released an excellently prepared Traffic Guide, which contains a detailed street directory, routes taken by the tramway streetcar and buses, traffic rules, advice to motorists and notes on places of interest within the city.

The new booklet, which numbers over 140 pages was especially designed to help motorists, and contains the 20 most important bylaws concerning automobile driving. These laws which formerly totalled 120, were cut down by the Police Chiefs Discussion Club, to enable drivers a better chance at understanding the rules pertaining to traffic regulations.

The Police Chiefs of Westmount, Hampstead, Ville St. Laurent, Montreal West and Ville St. Pierre, each has an allotment of the new traffic guides which can be of invaluable service to motorists. Anyone wanting to obtain a copy may do so at one of the Police Headquarters.

erection of a 400-car garage, which became the present War Assets Corporation Head Office. The designer of the building, at that time looking to the future, designed a roof suitable as a landing deck for helicopters and light aircraft, probably the only one in Montreal.

Since its tenure of the building, the War Assets Corporation has disposed of millions of dollars worth of war surplus. In the four and one-half years of its existence, the Corporation's sales have aggregated more thon $434,000,000. In that period, as surplus declarations increased, the staff at head office and in regions and branches all over Canada and in Newfoundland gradually expanded until it reached a peak figure of about 10,300 employees in January, 1947. Since then it has progressively dropped until at present it is around 2,400 and is expected to be about 1,400 at July 31.

We Want No Housing Shortage For Rats!

Your Department of Health would very much like to hear that many homes for rats are vacant. This would be a change from the housing shortage for humans. We all, however, are responsible for the presence of rats in our community. Generally speaking, the acceptable figure as to their number in any community is two rats for every person, so we have a job on our hands to keep their numbers down to the minimum. How can we do this?

Rats usually are present in any neighbourhood for two reasons: (1) They are provided with homes that are suitable for family living. (2) They must eat to survive and carelessly left food and uncovered garbage cans provide them with this opportunity.

The rat has a tremendously keen sense of smell — any unclean garbage can or wooden box where garbage cans are stored provide him with his first opportunity — you can readily appreciate the necessity for having clean garbage cans. After emptying, cans should be washed out carefully with a hot, soapy solution, then rinsed, after which the container can be deodorized and sterilized by using a javel solution in lukewarm water. Do not use hot water in the javel solution, which is much more effective using lukewarm or cold water.

The Health Department appreciate the co-operation of its residents but do feel, however, that many more can co-operate. If you have any problems concerning the presence of rats such as holes in the earth, under bushes, do not leave these holes undisturbed, fill them in and keep filling them in until you have discouraged their presence in your neighbourhood.

We will advise all those who have rat problems. Let us make sure that by our united efforts we can prove to others that as far as the rat population in Westmount is concerned, we have many homes to let. NO HOUSING SHORTAGE HERE!

Renaissance Films Plan 10 Movies In Two Years

Initial production plans and policies for the Renaissance Films Inc., 4824 Cote des Neiges Road, the first permanently established Canadian film studio designed for continuous production, were announced on Thursday, in a joint statement by J. A. DeSeve, President, and Joseph Than, an Executive Producer of Canadian International Screen Production Limited.

It was stated that a balanced programme of ten feature length motion pictures would be produced during the next two years, with releasing deals set with Allied Artists and Monogram, each respectively distributing five films throughout the United States and world-wide markets.

Joseph Than, executive producer of Canadian International Screen Productions Limited, a Canadian Company created to handle feature length film productions in collaboration with Renaissance Films Inc., emphasized that every effort will be made to use Canadian talent as writers, actors and technicians, and that only key personell are being used at the start to fill posts for which there are no experienced Canadians.

Executive Producers

Mr. Than, together with Leonard H. Fields, who was in Hollywood completing contracts, will be the Executive Producers for the next two years. Both have firm and qualified backgrounds in film productions, as writers and producers. Mr. Than, a native of Austria, has written, directed and produced films for the past 23 years in Austria, Germany, France and Hollywood. He won three international awards for his picture "Splendour and Misery of a Courtesan," gave Paul Henried his first film role in "Hole Schule", which he wrote and produced in Austria in 1938.

Since coming to Hollywood, he wrote "Deception" for Bette Davis, and "None Shall Escape", starring Alexander Knox, which brought him an academy award nomination in 1944 as the best original motion picture story of that year.

Mr. Fields, who was Story Editor of Universal for ten years, during which time the Company produced "Show Boat", "Broadway" and the Academy Award Winner "All Quiet on the Western Front", has produced for Monogram "Manhattan Love Song" and "King Kelly". Like Mr. Than, he has over 20 years of motion picture experience, and in the role of writer, producer and director for Republic was responsible for "Two Wise Maids" and "Follow Your Heart".

Mr. Than announced his intentions of visiting the key cities of Eastern Canada in the near future and later plans to visit Western Canada. These tours are designed to acquaint him with the intimate feeling of the Dominion scene and its people. It will also afford him an opportunity of interviewing Canadians seeking careers as writers, actors, and technicians. He will be accompanied on his tours by Glenn Ireton, an officer of Renaissance Films and Canadian International Screen Productions, where he is production assistant in charge of public relations.

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE SUMMER HOURS

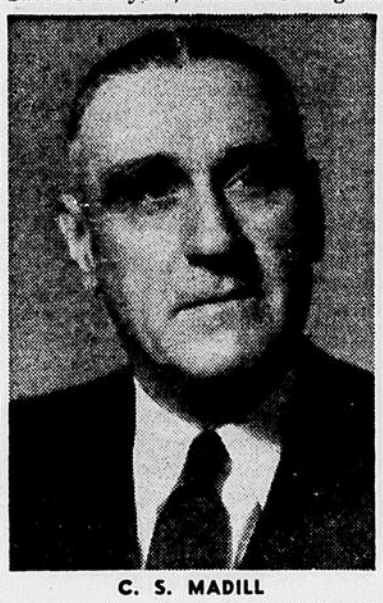

The Mechanics' Institute Library will close for the extended week-end over Dominion Day, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and will re-open Monday, July 5, on Summer hours.

During July and August the library will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings from 6 to 9 o'clock.

Named President Life Underwriters

Clarence S. Madill, 338 Wood avenue, of the New York Life Insurance Co., was elected president of the Life Underwriters Association of Montreal at the Association's 42nd annual meeting, held recently in the auditorium of the Sun Life Building.

Retiring President Jules Derome, C.L.U., reported a highly successful year, with the largest membership roll in the history of the Montreal Association. A 25 per cent. increase over last year was largely due to the excellent work of Leo. J. Chevalier, chairman of the membership committee.

Mr. Derome stated that the C.L.U. course of studies was proving of great value to the Life Underwriters, and that this year, 24 have successfully passed the first year examination, 22 the second year, and that nine members have successfully completed the 3-year course of studies leading to the award of the degree of Chartered Life Underwriter of Canada (C.L.U.).

The French and English Language Sales Congress, held in the Sun Life Auditorium on January 14th, under the joint chairmanship of Messrs. Paul Guertin and J. B. Sparling, had been attended by upwards of 450 Life Underwriters from Montreal and the surrounding municipalities.

Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. W. O'H. Percey, C.L.U., presented the financial statement, which showed the Association with a substantial cash balance with which to further the expansion of the work of the Association.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

World Service In Action

POLAND

The plane roared on over miles and miles of twisted wreckage, rubble, and the skeletons of buildings. "I had heard that the city was 80 p.c. destroyed," wrote the visiting American "Y" man, "but from up there the destruction looked complete." He was flying over Warsaw, and seeing it as few men have. The Polish pilot, finding a foreign "Y" man aboard, had turned off course and was circling about to give him better views.

The pilot's action typifies the attitude of Polish people in general towards the YMCA. If ever the "Y", as a national movement, had the people behind it, it is in Poland today. Despite profound political differences, all shades and factions in the country support it. The mayors of Warsaw, Lods and Danzig each helped the "Y" in their cities obtain sites, buildings and materials. Church leaders have blessed the work. The ratio of volunteer help to those on the paid staff is among the highest in the world. And the people in "Y" communities, despite unparalleled privation, have strongly backed their Y's with contributions.

Probably no other country's "Y" movement was harder hit by the war than Poland. VE-Day found all properties totally destroyed except 3 camps and 3 city buildings; of these, all had been stripped of furnishings and one of the buildings had been 85 p.c. razed by nine bomb hits. About 40 p.c. of the secretaries and 70 p.c. of the volunteer leaders were lost. The recovery in two years from this prostrate position broke all time records. Participation figures have skyrocketed. In one month alone, January of 1947, 98,000 different people took part in "Y" activities and used "Y" premises.

Today over 5,000 use the "Y" building daily in Warsaw, more than that is Krakow, and 8,500 in Lodz (an increase in this city of 6,000 over last year). In the last two years, 25,000 of the poorest boys in the country spent an average of 18 days in camp. Every day 6,000 children eat free meals at the "Y", and many thousands more receive supplementary food and clothing. The number of local associations has increased from five to twelve, and more are being organized. Over 50 "Y" cars and trucks facilitate extension work and carry food

ELECTION CAMPAIGN BEGINS

The election campaign has begun, and as is the practice of this newspaper, strict impartiality will be the rule until the ballots are counted. Every candidate will be given his share of the news columns provided no personalities are indulged in.

The secret ballot is the symbol of a people politically free. It is the instrument by which they pass judgment on those who have been governing them, and select the men they want to govern them for the next four or five years.

Examine the records and the arguments presented to you, talk it over with your neighbours, and then make your selection with calmness and deliberation, as free as possible form the passions and emotions that will inevitably be raised during the campaign.

GROUND RULES NEED CORRECTION

It has often been said that the law can only prescribe democratic equality; it remains the duty of individual citizens to put it into effect. If that be true, it would seem fundamentally important that to begin with, any law which fails to prescribe democratic equality should be immediately rectified. The ground rules by which Canadians live should be fair and clean cut, and educational forces should operate to maintain and protect democratic equality under such laws, states the "Canadian Statesman".

At the present moment, however, the two greatest educational forces outside the classroom are themselves hampered or threatened by inequitable laws. Independent radio stations are under the thumb of a government-dominated CBC, which operates in competition with them — gets into the game and plays the part of umpire at the same time! Newspapers, which have long been free, will face similar government censorship and domination with the advent of facsimile.

Canadians are a fair-minded people. Given complete information and fair laws, they are apt to make correct decisions on most vital matters. It is certainly time to review a situation wherein one of their primary sources of information is already under the government thumb, and their most trusted source is threatened with similar government intervention.

SOCIALISM IN SASKATCHEWAN SCHOOLS

"The World of Today" is a textbook officially approved for school use by the Departments of Education of the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan (Revised June, 1946). The purpose of the book is to "describe some of the more important social, industrial and political aspects of the world since the Treaty of Versailles in 1919." We find many of the statements in this book interesting, although perhaps not quite in the way the authors intended.

The Socialist point of view is bolstered throughout the book, always in a roundabout way; for example: "One of the largest and most efficient hydro-electric systems in the world is to be found in the Province of Ontario. It is also one of the cheapest, for it is publicly owned . . ."

Russian housing is touched on: "Russia has begun a huge programme of cheap and good housing for the workers engaged in its industries." A familiar Marxist maxim is echoed: "The alternative to production for profit is production for service. But the latter is possible only where the government is in a position to control industry completely, as in present-day Russia, and most countries are working toward a compromise between the two systems. In order to remove the objectionable features of the profit system, ensure adequate returns to the primary producer (such as the farmer), to protect the worker against low wages and the consumer against exorbitant prices, it seems that some powerful central authority must be in control. That authority can only be the government or somebody set up by the government, and so it would seem that government control over business may continue to develop."

On national planning: "Possibly the greatest hardship of the modern industrial worker is the uncertainty of his or her employment from day to day. Undoubtedly the only way to improve this condition is to plan production on a national basis." As an exercise the pupil is directed to draw a "cartoon to show the ill effects of the lack of a national plan in industry . . ."

The student is told that "one hundred large corporations (not including banks, insurance companies and financial corporations) dominate Canadian industry . . . The political power of large corporations is always very considerable . . . To protect the public from the immense power of big business corporations governments have been compelled to exercise a certain amount of supervision over business practices . . . But government regulation of business is still very incomplete in most parts of the world. In Canada, for instance, very little has been done to prevent 'sweating' (overwork and underpay) in certain industries, such as the making of clothing, and hours of labour are still largely unregulated."

But, of course, New Zealand: "In New Zealand the government loans money for your home building at 1% interest. In Canada the private loan companies charge 4% and 5% interest. What is the difference in amount of interest that will be paid on a loan of $4,000 in the two countries? How much more per month will the New Zealand family have to spend on necessities and recreation?"

Whether you say that no nation can exist half-slave, half-free, or that having a little socialism is like being a little pregnant, it is still true: Socialism and Democracy don't mix. Here are a few words on the subject from someone who should know — the new Czechoslovak Minister of Foreign Trade, Dr. Antonin Gregor, as reported in the official Czechoslocak Economic Bulletin of Prague for April 6th: "As regards the share of private enterprise in foreign trade, the Minister stated that it accounted for at least two-thirds of import trade, and for between a third and a half of export trade . . . The results of leaving a large sector organized on a liberalist-capitalistic basis within the framework of a socialist planned economy had soon begun to show unfavourable results . . . Following the new organization of foreign trade, all the profits thereof would go to the state treasury, and foreign trade would proceed only according to plan. It could not be otherwise. Since Czechoslovakia was planning her production, she had also to plan the influx of material and the marketing of production, which, considering the extent to which Czechoslovakia was dependent on foreign trade, necessarily involved the planning of foreign trade . . ."

PUT THE WIRES UNDERGROUND

The planting of hydro and telephone poles in a new Toronto district suburb has led H. B. Hall, in a letter to the editor of the Toronto Globe and Mail, to ask, "If we cannot get leadership from successful township politicians, the largest private corporation in the world, and the most outstanding example of public ownership, from whom can we expect it?"

Mr. Hall leads off by noting that the view from his new bungalow was, until quite recently, restful. It consisted of two elm trees and a green field. "Now," he adds irefully, "it has been augmented by two stout telephone poles and a sagging cable," and while the street is bordered with hopeful young trees, "hopeless Hydro poles are being planted faster than the trees."

The time has come, Mr. Hall thinks, when officials should have learned from past experience and be making an attempt to put their "useful but ugly" public utilities underground. "Hydro and telephone lines belong underground with sewer pipes and water mains," he concludes.

Scouts & Cubs

BY REG GROOME

Well, one day until both Cub Camp and Scout Camp open. Saturday, the 26th of June, will be the beginning of an enjoyable training period for a large number of Cubs and Scouts, which periods will continue, in the case of the Cub camp, MacAuley, until July 17th, and for the Scout Camp, Tamaracouta, until August 21st. Most of the camp staffs are now on the job, with the remainder journeying to camp with the busses on Saturday. Of course, this weekend has another and bigger meaning to many in the Scout movement . . . it's the first weekend FREE after school closes . . .isn't it wonderful???

Last week-end at Tamaracouta, several tons of canned and bottled foods, a small portion of the amounts which will be consumed this summer, were unloaded from trucks into the Trading Post. There was quite a gang on hand to help out, including the Trader, L. C. Houldsworth, Assistant Factor George Shearman, Deputy Trader Doug Stewart, Assistant Trader Leonard Ashley, Harbour Master Allan Knapp, Assistant Harbour Master John McTear, Bill Dendy, Motor Attendant Walter Johnson and Jim Aspinall, Allan Locke and your reporter. Factor Stanley A. Richardson arrived in camp Sunday bubbling full of enthusiasm and was quoted as saying, "The Staff is raring to go, and camp should have one of the best years ever."

Newly appointed Executive Commissioner for the Province, Cyril J. Dendy, was also welcomed at camp Sunday, along with Mrs. Dendy and junior sons Peter and Bob. Mr. Dendy has just returned from the Special Training Course at Ottawa, of 19 days' duration, and is looking very fit. Once again we extend our best wishes to both Messrs. Dendy and Richardson in their new duties, and we are sure that Scouting shall continue to profit even more than in the past through their efforts. See you at camp!

Trinity Memorial

A meeting for campers only was held by Trinity Memorial Wolf Cub Pack last Monday night. Nineteen cubs were present — just one being absent. Sixer Arthur Armstrong of the Grey Six led the opening Grand Howl, and also acted as Sixer for the evening. Instead of the boys going to their usual six lairs under their respective sixes, they pretended they were at Camp and lined up outside their "cabin." While at Camp, the Sixers will all have a turn at being sixer (or Leader) of the Cabin. Then Camp inspection took place. At the beginning of the meeting, Allan Brown was presented with his First Star and at the end of the meeting, Earl Bisson received his First Star. Both these boys have been working very steadily in order to gain their Star and thus be able to attend Camp. Looked pretty hard there for a while, but they managed to make it.

Arthur Armstrong was presented with his third year service star, and Douglas Lindores received his first year service star. Douglas hasn't been with Trinity Pack for very long but joined a Pack in Windsor last June. The following Cubs of Trinity Pack will be attending Camp this summer: John Ancrum, Graham Martin, David Shaw, Bill Hartley, Arthur Armstrong, Earl Bisson, Bruce McLean, Norman Bedford, Bob Turnbull, Gregory Walker, Dick Christensen, Bob Manktelow, Michael Schell, Roy Smith, Gordon Smith, Allan Brown, Teddy Roberts, Douglas Lindores, Richard Howard, Gordon Merritt.

We are sorry that Jimmy Shaw cannot make camp as he expected—Jim will be in the hospital next Monday, Cubs, while we are rushing around in the heat (we hope). Also, it was good to have Michael Schell back with us at this meeting after a siege of pneumonia.

Two Clergymen To Give Lectures

Two Anglican clergymen, Rev. K. C. Bolton, rector of St. John the Divine Church, and Rev. J. C. Kirby, rector of St. Stephen's Church of Lachine, will give lectures at the Quebec Diocesan Summer Conference of the church of England in Canada. The conference will be held at North Hatley, June 28, to July 4th.

Mr. Bolton will give a course on "Christian Marriage," and Mr. Kirby will speak on "Christianity and Society."

The Summer Conference is an annual youth gathering held under the auspices of the Anglican Archbishop of Quebec, Most Rev. Philip Carrington.

A number of delegates from the Diocese of Montreal, including several from the Church of St. John the Divine, plan to attend.

Westm't Baptist Bible School Awards Made

Camp scholarships and other awards were presented to high ranking students of the Westmount Baptist Church Bible School during the morning service last Sunday. The scholarships reflected attainment by the students, in certain spheres of Christian Education, as prescribed by the Church School, last Fall.

The successful students included Evelyn Saunders, who achieved 99.4 per cent of the possible total, Barbara Mornan, Roslyn Smith, Ann Mornan, Stephen Kimble, Joan Adams, Nancy Smith, Malcolm Gibson and Gordon Chalmers.

Lt.-Col. R. H. Dean, chairman of the board of trustees, presented the awards. The superintendent, W. E. Williams, in a brief statement to the congregation, stressed the element of teamwork which existed between the parents, pupils and teachers. Dr. J. A. Johnston acknowledged the remarkably faithful and able work of the school teachers and staff during the course of the year.

Winners of the awards qualified for a one or two week holiday at the Montreal Baptist Sunday School Camp at Dalesville, Que. Scholars who found themselves unable to attend the camp were given other suitable awards.

Time will tell that money talks louder and louder — when put into government bonds.

Westmount Baptist

"Under Oarsmen of Christ" — This will be the title of the morning sermon in Westmount Baptist Church on Sunday. The Greek "Trireme" which was a very early Man-o'-War was propelled by three decks or tiers of oarsmen. In the highest bank of rowers was the "Thranite" or upper-oarsmen. In the middle bank was the "Zygite" or middle rower, and in the lower bank was the Thalamite" or under oarsman. In these three types of rowers we have a graphic portrayal of three significant types of Christian service.

"May We Expect Another Great Spiritual Awakening? This will be the theme of the evening address. Is the world due for another "Latter Rain" Pentecost? Is there a possibility of another Twentieth Century Reformation? Is there any likelihood of another Wesley-Whitefield Revival?

Christian Science

"Christian Science" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon to be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Isaiah 2: 5 "O House of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible:

"And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars: And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod; and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne." (Revelation 12: 1, 5)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science & Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

"In the year 1866, I discovered the Christ Science or divine laws of Life, Truth, and Love, and named my discovery Christian Science. God had been graciously preparing me during many years for the reception of this final revelation of the absolute divine Principle of scientific mental healing. Christ, as the spiritual or true idea of God, comes now as of old, preaching the gospel to the poor, healing the sick, and casting out evils." (Pages 107 and 347).

The China Room

As this is the last week of this season that I will be chatting about my weekly trips down town, I do hope that I have succeeded in interesting you in the Morgan Trust Galleries, City Councillor St. It is very easy to find by getting off the Westmount bus before it turns up University street, and then walking two blocks east and a few steps down City Councillor. I know that some of my readers make a point of visiting the Galleries every week, just to see if some unusual piece came in, as they have learned that this is the only way to pick up "finds". I find it very easy to spend a half-hour walking around the China Room, for never have I seen such exquisite china, and some of it is so rare as to be considered a collector's item. Here you will also find a collection of decanters, from the Irish glass decanter, for $25.00, to the plain cut glass ones, for $6.00. There is an assortment of Wedgwood of the Circa 1780, which can be purchased by the piece; this is a chance not to be missed by the lovers of this hard to obtain china. Here are two out of the ordinary pieces that will appeal to the collectors of small boxes. One is an Oriental tin Chinese box, with double compartments, the size of a cigarette box, for $6.50; then a jade box with ivory inlay, for $8.00, and the ash tray to match, for $6.00. These two pieces are very beautiful. You will also find in this room a heavy brass cigar box, elaborately scrolled, cedar lined, for $20.00, and a lighter one for $6.00.

A Pink China "Madonna"

C.S.L. Gift Shop

When I dropped in to visit "The Girls" at The C.S.L. Gift Shop, the holiday spirit seemed to be already pervading the place. Maybe this is due to so many people stopping in at "The Shop" to buy their steamer tickets ,and then completing their purchases by buying one of those lovely cashmere cardigans or pullovers in soft pastel shades. Dorothy Costigan, the passenger agent told me that there are still some reservations available for the Saguenay cruise for July and August, with the exception of the 1st of July week-end. Now I do not say that there are many left, but if you have had this trip in mind better act now so as not to be disappointed later. If you recall at Xmas time, The Gift Shop had some very attractive lamps, fashioned out of Chianti wine bottles, having parchment shades trimmed with original wine labels, and like all unique pieces they soon went. But, now a few have arrived in, and how attractive they would be for a den or the cottage. These lamps are wired for $12.75. If you are looking for a pair of unusual boudoir lamps, do NOT miss the pink china "madonna" ones here. They are set on a sturdy metal base, with soft pink crepe shades, trimmed with pale blue velvet bows, only $12.00 each Then there is a white china donkey with blue spots, a good size, and set on a metal base, with a white silk shade, for $22.75. If you have been looking for wrought iron nest of tables with glass tops for your summer entertaining, then you will not find anywhere in Montreal a set to compare with these, having a lovely designed base, the size, 22' x 12" for $29.50 for the set.

Have You Packed These?

This week-end will be the beginning of the summer holidays for the children, and for those who are so lucky to spend the summer in the country, it will mean great packing and preparations for the final departure. I remember last summer about this time we were up North, and I also remember the Black Flies and how they fed on us, until we wondered if the city was not the best place after all. Then finally someone brought up a bottle of IR-OL and what a relief it was in the evening to sit outside by the river, without being eaten alive, and what fun it was to watch the little pests come just so near to us, and then away they would go. If you are going to the country by all means take these THREE preparations. First IR-OL for the flies and mosquitoes. Then DUOLANE for the first days out berrypicking, or the wearing of a sunsuit. The children will enjoy using this lotion with its pleasant scent, and the soft feeling which it gives the skin; it also acts as an insect repellent. By the time the water has warmed up for swimming, then you will need SUNOLANE CREAM, to give that even tan. This comes in a tube so handy to drop in a beach bag, nad as it forms a water-insoluble film, which is not affected by swimming, one application will suffice for the day. It has many special features; its satiny film is closed against ultra-violet rays, but open to tanning rays. Prevents sunburn, and allows one to acquire a healthy tan with immunity to burns and blistering.

Health League Head Warns Vacationists Of Raw Milk Danger

The Health League of Canada, through its General Director, Dr. Gordon Bates, has issued an appeal to summer vacationists and travellers to carefully investigate the source of supply of the milk they use this summer.

"Although they know, or should know, that unpasteurized milk is a germ carrier and a fine culture medium for virulent disease bacteria, numerous vacationists and travellers this summer most likely will neglect to make sure their milk supplies are safe," Dr. Bates said. "They will not take the trouble to check whether the milk they obtain from farms, lunch rooms, restaurants or hotels, and other sources is safe — safe because it has been pasteurized.

"Most of these persons are residents of urban centres where pasteurized milk is delivered to their homes every day. For 49 or 50 weeks each year they are protected — knowingly or unknowingly — against milk-borne diseases. Then for their short vacation period they throw all precaution to the winds and order milk, not knowing and evidently not caring, whether it is pasteurized."

Dr. Bates said he wishes to emphasize that just one drink of contaminated raw milk could cause a person to become ill. He said raw milk can contain germs which cause such crippling or death-dealing diseases as typhoid fever, undulant fever, bovine tuberculosis, septic sore throat and dysentery.

"So why should anyone take a chance on unpasteurized milk," Dr. Bates asked, "If the commercial pasteurized variety is unobtainable people can pasteurize their own milk. The Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto 5, Ontario, will supply a free booklet outlining home pasteurization methods to anyone interested. Public health departments also can help."

New Type of Fabric Centre Helpful to Amateur Sewers

An unusual store where fabrics are sold and sewing machines are rented, all under one roof, has been started by Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McKeehan in Fayetteville, Arkansas.

An original feature of the store is the use of time meters on sewing machines. Even though it was an untried idea, the McKeehans interested a leading sewing machine manufacturer in their plan and obtained new machines for their store.

Mrs. Housewife gets glamorous, salon-type service, economical as it is. While she sits comfortably in a lounge chair, patterns and materials are brought to her for selection. When she makes her choice, the pattern is laid out on the fabric in the most economical fashion, and she buys only the exact amount of cloth needed.

Mrs. Housewife may then go upstairs to the sewing room. Full-length mirrors, practical and decorative, are on the walls.

Can Press Seams There

Two long cutting tables in the sewing room are equipped with pull-out ironing boards and electric outlets for irons. Both ordinary shears and pinking shears are provided for her convenience in cutting out her dress.

After the dress is cut out, Mrs. Housewife finds an easy chair to sit in while she bastes it together. She then drops a coin in a slot to turn on the electricity at the sewing machine for an hour —long enough to complete a small garment such a child's dress.

If she has to go home to cook lunch, or wants to finish her sewing the next day, the shop provides hat boxes for storing away her material and equipment. She can check the box in at the shop if she doesn't want to be bothered with carrying it home.

A sewing-room attendant is always on hand to assist with pinning up hems, to cut out a pattern, or to cover buttons and belt buckles. She is willing, too, to teach the beginner the fine points about dressmaking.

Hospitalized Group Enjoys Island Outing With Auxiliary

By DAWN McGLAUGHLIN

"Mac" has spent his first night out of hospital since D-Day. Why? Because a small group of women — the newly — formed Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Paraplegic Association — have had the courage and initiative to band together to provide as many boys as possible with "a home from home".

The Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Paraplegic Association (Que. Division), which came into being during the latter part of last November, has as its members, the wives and mothers of the various paraplegics in this city. With Mrs. C. F. L. Kelsey of 6693 Coolbrooke Avenue, as president, the auxiliary, to date, boasts only seven bona fide members, although it is felt that many more will soon join the group.

"Mac", (C. McLaughlin) who hails from Fredericton, N.B., and has been a quadriplegic for four years as the result of a gunshot wound received when he attempted to land in France, is one of the many paraplegics who have recently benefitted by the work of the auxiliary.

At Christmas, in order that the paraplegic boys might not miss the gaiety of the festive season, the members of the Auxiliary arranged a table for the men, loaded with all the holiday delicacies. It had been a long time since many of the men had eaten at a table; consequently, things were arranged to allow each patient's bed to be placed around the table.

It was not long before the boys were clamoring for more such parties, glad of a release from routine living in a hospital. On Valentine's Day, a sleighride was arranged for as many as could possibly participate.

Group Rents Cottage

The highlight of the group's activities thus far, was an outing at Ile Perrot, during the first two weeks of June.

Using funds which they had raised by means of bridge parties held throughout the winter, the president, Mrs. Kelsey, Mrs. W. Handley, secretary-treasurer, of the group, of Verdun, Mrs. H. L. Ward, Mrs. A. G. Petrie, Miss N. Perran and Mrs. R. Godin, all of Notre Dame de Grace, and Mrs. Gerald Hiam, of Westmount, rented a small cottage on the island. Several groups of paraplegics, many released for the first time from hospital confinement, and others from city apartments, were guests of the auxiliary.

Among the first paraplegics to arrive were John Allaire, George Whalley, and Charles Kelsey, who spent their first day on the island building a twenty-five foot ramp to allow the wheelchairs to come and go at will. Mrs. Kelsey and Mrs. Petrie, who were the hostesses for the first week, looked on as Archie McLellan, R. Williams and A. Piette went about performing all the odd jobs so essential around a cottage.

Of the two girls who spent some time at the cottage, Therese Turangeau and Emilienne Guiebeaut, Emilienne who has been paralyzed for ten years as a result of an attack of polio, learned during this short holiday, how to dress herself and to get in and out of bed unassisted. The second week's activities were under the direction of Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Handley. John Paul Gaudet and "Mac" were among the first guests to arrive, and later "Bunty" Quesnel, forsaking the city for country surroundings, arrived with Gordon Whipple, a patient at St. Anne's. Charlie Curran, who had broken both his paralyzed legs, was welcomed back to the old circle from Queen Mary Hospital, and Jack Spence from St. Anne's, managed to leave the hospital to spend a couple of afternoons at the cottage with his Dutch bride.

Contributions Welcome

Much has been accomplished with little; more could be accomplished with much. Even now, the Women's Auxiliary is planning to rent more and larger cottages next year. Without funds, (a minimum of a thousand dollars is needed), this excellent work cannot be carried out on a large scale.

Anyone wishing to contribute to the organization should contact Mrs. C. L. Kelsey, 6693 Coolbrooke avenue.

Baby Stewart Baptized At Saint Cuthbert's

The christening of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald H. Stewart took place recently at St. Cuthbert's Church, the Reverend Roland Rodger officiating.

The baby, who wore the christening dress originally presented to her grandmother by her great-great-great grandmother, was christened Evelyn Jane.

Mrs. Herbert E. Chaplin, Mrs. R. D. G. Macalister and Mr. W. Erle Dyer were godparents. In the absence of the latter, the baby's grandfather, Mr. J. E. Coulin K.C. stood proxy.

To Keep Memory Of Baby Years

Bronze-Craft Reg'd, 1558 Stanley street, Montreal, specialists in preserving baby's shoes as a treasured keepsake, offer you a chance to bring back memories of baby's first step.

The co-owners of this newly opened establishment, N. L. and L. P. Green, have perfected their knowledge by spending a year working with thriving companies in the United States and they believe they have a business which will help parents cherish a lasting memory of baby's first steps.

The process gives you a choice of four metallic surfaces encased in a plastic material which gives durability and a naturalness that has to be seen to be appreciated.

You send them a pair of baby's shoes, and they come back bronzed, with every wrinkle, scuff and mark remaining on the shoe as baby left it.

There is also a wide variety of bases on which the shoe may be attractively mounted. One, for instance, is a base wide enough to have the two shoes mounted on each end, with a picture of baby in the middle. Another base is book-ends.

You bring your baby's shoes in, and you get them back in two weeks, preserved for life.

Appreciative Audience Hears Talented Pupils Of Miss Elsie Collins

A delightful piano recital was given in Victoria Hall on Thursday evening, June 17th, by pupils of Elsie M. Collins, L. Mus. (McGill), before a large and appreciative audience. The programme included both classical and popular music and the items were well rendered.

Among the beginners were five-year-old Barbara Brice and seven-year-old Marion Graham and Susan Schloen. All pupils showed promise of becoming good musicians.

Many Showers Held For Local Graduate Prior To Marriage

Several social events were held honoring Miss Phyliss Thompson whose marriage to Mr. Mitchell took place at Wesley United Church. Miss Thompson, who is a graduate of the Homoeopathic Hospital, was given a floor lamp by her classmates at a gathering held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Parker in Cartierville.

Another interesting event was the miscellaneous shower held by joint hostesses Miss May Brown and Miss Marion Henderson at the latter's home. Other joint hostesses were Miss Joyce Edwards and Miss Evelyn Geddes, who entertained at a presentation shower at the former's home, when the guest of honor was given a tea set from the graduates.

The Birthday Club of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Homoeopathic presented Miss Thompson with a gift of sterling silver nut dishes at a social gathering held at the home of Mrs. George Morgan; and at a tea held in the Griffith Memorial Hall in honor of several graduates just married or about to be married, Miss Thompson was presented with a silver entree dish, from the graduating group.

AT THE MONKLAND SATURDAY

Danny Kaye, as Walter Mitty, unassuming proofreader for a pulp magazine, becomes in turn a miracle-working Viennese surgeon, a fearless cowboy protecting blonde co-star, Virginia Mayo; a famous flight ace and entertainer, and other heroes of escapist dreams in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," in color by Technicolor, and based on James Thurber's popular short story.

Added feature: Ann Blyth gets her man for the first time in pictures in "A Woman's Vengeance," a Universal-International film, the screenplay of which was written by Aldous Huxley. The man in this case is Charles Boyer, star of the film.

Danny Kaye as "Mitty" Hero Technicolor Hit at Monkland

Local motion picture audiences are marvelling at Danny Kaye, playing seven roles in Samuel Goldwyn's "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty," produced in Technicolor, and based upon James Thurber's famous short story.

But them, Kaye has never played just one person in his series of musicals in Technicolor. For "Up In Arms" the ex-vaudevillian played a neurotic hypochondriac who turned into a one-man army. Then, in "Wonder Man", Kaye enacted the dual role of a meek scholar and his twin brother, brash song-and-dance man. And, in "The Kid From Brooklyn", Kaye was the mild milkman, who through no fault of his own, became a boxing champion.

In his new picture in Technicolor, "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty", the lanky, tousled comedian plays a flock of roles. He begins as a prosaic proofreader prone to day-dreaming. It is an escape from his task of correcting stories for such publications as "Wild Confessions," "Exotic Love Stories" and "Racy Detective Stories" and from being dominated by his mother, henpecked by his prospective mother-in-law and confused by his beautiful-but-dumb fiancee, played by Ann Rutherford. But in his dreams and in his "real" life "Mitty", as a reward, encounters his glamorous co-star Virginia Mayo.

As Dr. Mitty, he performs miracles of surgery. In lustful, romantic North Africa Wing Commander Mitty clears the skies of Nazi pilots, captures the hearts of tropical beauties, entertains his companion G. I.'s. He gambles for a fortune on a Missippi river packet. He becomes Slim Mitty, terror of the badmen in the roaring West. In another sequence, he is Anatole of Paris, milliner de luxe. In the Indian Ocean as a salty captain, he conquers a monsoon.

In support of Danny Kaye and Virginia Mayo are featured Boris Karloff, Fay Bainter and Ann Rutherford and the Goldwyn Girls. Norman Z. McLeod directed.

Second Feature

"A Woman's Vengeance", starring Charles Boyer, a Universal-International picture produced and directed by Zoltan Korda from a classic screenplay by Aldous Huxley.

The cast of the picture, which tells how a man's reckless past, when exposed in criminal court, taker him to the shadow of the gallows for wife murder, includes Ann Blyth, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Jessica Tandy and Mildred Natwick.

Miss Blyth, Academy award nominee for the role of Joan Crawford's daughter in "Mildred Pierce," is seen as Boyer's second wife. The indiscretions of their tempestuous love affair are an important factor in the chain of circumstational evidence which results in his conviction of murder.

Belmont Park Kiddies Days Have Arrived

Kiddies' Days will be celebrated at Belmont Park for a limited period starting today with exception of Sundays and Mondays. Guest tickets can now be obtained from any Thrift Stop and Shop Store, sponsors of these kiddies' days, which will entitle children of school age to special admission rates to the park and to numerous attractions within. Excellent picnic facilities, shelters and asphalt walks make a day's outing at Belmont Park a most enjoyable one for the entire family.

Breath-taking is a term often applied to aerial acts, but it is the only fitting description for the dangerous, daring and death-defying performances of Les Kimris, famous French aerial stars currently featured daily at 5 p.m. and 11 p.m. as the Free Outdoor Attraction. The stunts that the average aerial gymnast does on a fixed apparatus, Les Kimris perform atop a towering contraption, while in circular motion, without any safety net below. Their contraption is driven by a miniature aeroplane equipped with a high-powered electric motor.

A brand new feature made its bow at the Park Saturday evening. It's Pete Kortes' famous Side-Show, formerly featured with the Clyde Beatty Circus, which came direct to Belmont Park from a triumphant five months' tour of the Hawaiian Islands. This is their first appearance in the city.

AT THE SNOWDON SATURDAY!

Robert Newton and Simone Simon appear in a scene from the new British drama, "Temptation Harbour," which will be shown for the first time in Montreal starting Saturday at the Snowdon Theatre.

C.A.T. School Of Musical Arts To Present Recital

C.A. Sebistianowich, director of the Canadian Art Theatre School of Musical Arts, announces that students of his school will present their first public recital on Tuesday, at 8 p.m.

The recital will take place in the studios of the Canadian Art Theatre, 5767 Monkland Avenue; and, organized by the student body it will represent all fields of musical study.

The director and staff will attend and refreshments will be served at the close of the evening.

No-button men's shirts are plentiful on the market now. It's hard to distinguish them from those returned from the laundry.

AT THE AVENUE SATURDAY!

Carole Lombard and James Stewart, co-starring in "Made For Each Other," starting Saturday at the Avenue Theatre, portray a pair of parents who are pardonably proud of their offspring.

Poignant Story of Married Life At the Avenue Theatre Saturday

The re-issue of the comedy-drama depicting young married life will be shown at the Avenue Theatre starting Saturday until Tuesday.

The story, adapted by Jo Swerling, tells of the trials and tribulations that beset the married life of Johnny and Jane Mason, played by Carole Lombard and James Stewart. John is a promising junior member in a New York law firm, but is obliged to struggle along on a meagre salary. His mother (Lucile Watson) comes to live with them, and further complicates his life with Jane by her continual carping and complaining.

When, however, a son is born to Jane and Johnny they forget their troubles in their ecstatic happiness. Even this joy is destined not to last long. On New Year's Eve the child comes down with pneumonia, and to save its life a serum must be flown from Salt Lake City. This thrilling race against death forms the climax of the picture, and by the time the child recovers the differences in the Mason household have been sufficiently ironed out to allow Jane and Johnny to start off on their long delayed honeymoon.

Charles Coburn, as Johnny's crotchety employer, and Ruth Weston, as the scheming Eunice Doolittle, add their fine characterizations to the work of the principals.

Second Feature

The added attraction is the gay comedy "The Young In Heart", co-starring Douglas Fairbanks, Paulette Goddard and Janet Gaynor.

Roland "Topper" Young, Billie Burke, Henry Stephenson, Richard Carlson and Minnie Dupree head the imposing supporting cast of this screen version of the I. A.R. Wylie Saturday Evening Post serial, "The Gay Banditti."

"The Young in Heart" is the delightful story of the Carletons, a family of fascinating phonies, who live by their charm and on anyone's money, and have been kicked out of only the best places from the Riviera to London. They're out to "take" the world, but their hearts get in the way and they get the surprise of their easy-going lives.

Mickey Rooney's Latest Film At Westmount Sun.

So established has Mickey Rooney become as a master of comedy that filmgoers sometimes overlook the fact that this talented young star is also a superb dramatic actor. If the proof is in the pudding—the pudding is "Killer McCoy", the new Rooney film, which starts Sunday at the Westmount Theatre in which he gives a performance that will stick to audience memory for some time to come.

It is a cold, clean, precise portrayal, this portrait of young Tommy McCoy, ex-newsboy who becomes a prizefighter and accidentally a killer in the ring. It's the story of a boy brought up by a drunken, no-good father, a boy striving to do the right thing but driven to desperate circumstances, who battles his way up the ladder to sports fame, is made the pawn of a suave gentleman gambler and, in a terrifying climax, takes a terrific beating and almost throws his biggest fight in an endeavor to save his father and the girl he loves.

"Killer McCoy" packs a wallop in every scene not only in its realistically spectacular prizefight sequences, which range from a spirited amateur bout to a fight in Madison Square Garden, but also in the emotional impact of such episodes as that in which the young "killer" comforts the heartbroken father, who has proved himself a liar and a thief, and the touching scene in which the boy, raised in New York's slums, decides he is not good enough for Sheila, the girl who has befriended him.

While chief plaudits go to Rooney's portrayal of the title part, the roles of the sports racketeer Jim Caighn, his daughter Sheila, and Tommy McCoy's no-good father, Brian, are of tremendous interest and vitality. Brian Donlevy, who recently scored as the prosecutor in "The Kiss of Death," goes the opposite extreme in his portrayal of the gentleman gambler who uses the "Killer" for his own ends.

Ann Blyth is touching and appealing as the girl who tries to bridge the gap between her own social environment and Tommy McCoy's prize-ring background, and James Dunn offers a memorable portrait of the weakling father.

Second Attraction

A tale of lusty adventure, crackling with robust romance, rousing hand-to-hand combats, duels to the death and chivalry in the famed Robin Hood tradition is "The Prince of Thieves", the added attraction.

Lovely Patricia Morison as Lady Marian, Robin's true lover, Adele Jergens, beautiful victim of politicial intrigue; Alan Mowbray as the jolly Friar; Michael Duane, loyal follower of King Richard; H. B. Warner as Robin's foster father, and Lowell Gilmore, cruel Norman foe of all good Saxons are cast in the important supporting roles.

Filmed in Cinecolor with all the pageantry and excitement of medieval days, "The Prince of Thieves" screenplay was written by Maurice Tombragel. The action centres around Robin Hood's attempts to rescue the Lady Christabel (Miss Jergens), betrothed of Sir Allan Claire (Duane) from an unwelcome marriage with the calculating Baron Tristram. In the course of events, Robin meets and falls in love with Sir Allan's sister, Lady Marian (Miss Morison).

AT THE WESTMOUNT SUNDAY!

James Dunn and Mickey Rooney as father and son in "Killer McCoy," the excitement drama in which Rooney enacts his first mature role as a tough prizefighter. In the above scene he receives a telegram notifying him of the death of his mother. This excellent film starts Sunday at the Westmount Theatre.

Lower Case Eden Ahbez

this is written in lower case because that's how eden ahbez would want it. by now even canadians must be familiar with that name. eden ahbez — no caps, please.

he's the guy who wrote "nature boy".

wrote it, he says — or stole it, if you're to believe the chorus of accusations soon to be hurled at him in the courts.

anyhow, it will make him rich and eden finds that most disheartening.

"money — i don't want it," he says. "display of wealth is an ugly affectation. i despise it."

perhaps you've read of eden elsewhere; he's had a lot of headlines recently. but he happens to be a neighbor of mine in tujunga canyon about 20 miles from hollywood. he lives under a peach tree in someone else's garden. his bed is a double sleeping bag and his wordly possessions include three drinking cups, two knives and a towel.

he shares these facilities with his wife.

i don't know what they do when the towel gets dirty.

i also don't know what they'll do when mrs. ahbeg has her baby next autumn. perhaps they'll move under an oak tree — it offers more room. though the family dog may crowd them.

eden doesn't like ostentation of any sort. or publicity — it says here. he loves nature, and subsists on a diet of vegetables, fruit and nuts. yes, lots of nuts.

ahbez hails from brooklyn. he wrote the words to "nature boy" four years ago, then studied composition in order to set it to music. the tune eventually was recorded by nat "king" cole and swept to instantaneous popularity.

now r.k.o. has paid him $10,000 to use the ditty in a film called "the boy with green hair". sheet music and recording royalties will bring him $50,000 more this year alone.

what will ahbez do with the dough? since he claims to hate wealth i hereby offer to relieve him of its burden. anything for a neighbour, y'know. however, it is likely he will stash it away, perhaps play the ponies, maybe buy a few new drinking cups or another towel.

and meanwhile the world, or as much of it as is interested, wonders if he really is an enchanted man or just another smartie who snickers up his sleeves every time somebody writes another story about him.

TICKERTAPE — Because his weighty films, like "Odd Man Out", are reportedly losing money, J. Arthur Rank says he will concentrate on lighter fare this season. English producers have turned out fine suspense cinemas and adaptations of the classics but it would be novel to see a good British musical . . . Three-dimensional sound is already a technical reality and may reach the general public within a year. It's a new recording system whereby the onlooker hears actors speaking from the screen much as they would speak on a stage — their voices emanate from whatever part of the screen they are located . . . Jack LaRue goes back to London soon to take the role intended for James Mason in "Under Capricorn."

Though Walter Wanger and Joan Bennett remain happily married, they have dissolved a business partnership in Diana Productions. Miss Bennett remains with the firm while Wanger leaves . . . Darryl Zanuck's "The Iron Curtain" took in almost $1,000,000 during the first week of its release across Canada and the United States. One wonders if Zanuck's motive for filming the Gouzenko story was profit or public service. It played 399 theaters simultaneously, aided at the box-office by communist agitation that enlarged its audience rather than diminished it.

REVIEWS OF PREVIEWS — "Key Largo" (Warner Brothers), 75% — This reminds you of "Petrified Forest" and has the same leading man, Humphrey Bogart. It's the story of a Florida innkeeper and his family who are held prisoners in their own hotel by a gang of mobsters. Lauren Bacall is unexpectedly capable in a not too taxing role, but Edward G. Robinson menaces perhaps a bit too dramatically. However, it's good entertainment with a generous quota of suspense.

C.A.T. On Tour This Summer

The Canadian Art Theatre, in last stages of packing for summer tour, which commences Monday, has announced arrangements have been made to accommodate a limited number of apprentices for certain periods during the summer months. These apprentices will work with the company, and gain practical backstage experience on tour, as well as understudying the supporting roles.

No fees for apprenticeship will be charged; students will be responsible only for the payment of their own room and board. A great deal of experience in theatre is not necessary—simply an interest in theatre, and a willingness to learn. Application should be made immediately to the Canadian Art Theatre, 5767 Monkland avenue.

As a preview of its opening show, "Night Must Fall," the C.A.T. is presenting this play at Hudson, Quebec ,on Saturday. In the leading role of Mrs. Bramson will be Maud Whitmore. In the role of Danny, which the playwright, Emlyn Williams, wrote for himself, will be Silvio Narizzano, playing his first serious dramatic lead with the CAT. Opposite Mr. Narizzano, Mary Sheppard will play Olivia Grayne.

Once on the road, the Canadian Art Theatre will be away from Montreal until early September. During its absence it will present eight, possibly nine productions, to a possible audience of about ten thousand people in the Eastern Townships of Quebec and northern Vermont. This will be the first tour of the CAT and the first to be attempted by any English-speaking Montreal group for many years.

Joy Thomson, director of the CAT, will be director of the Summer Tour, the company of which will include Mary Forde, Norma Hobbs, Amelia Hall, Gerald O'Brien and Paul Horton as well as regular CAT members.

Family Pre-Holiday Treat "Bush Christmas", at Kent

Starting Thursday at noon, the Kent Theatre is presenting special family showings of "Bush Christmas", an unusually interesting and novel type of film, which represents a new departure in the cinema world. Made entirely outdoors against the magnificent background of the Blue Mountains of New South Wales, it has a simple but exciting story of five youngsters lost in the Australian bush and their adventures when tracking down a trio of horse-thieves.

Ralph Smart produced and directed this absorbing new picture, with a cast headed by Chips Rafferty as "Long" Bill, a bold bad horse-thief; John Fernside, Stan Tolhurst, Pat Penny and a group of talented children, including Helen Grieve, who played the part of the drover's younger daughter in "The Overlanders".

The excellent photography by George Heath has captured the sharp, brilliant outdoor qualities of the country, giving a wonderful effect of space, sunlight and air.

"Bush Christmas" is heartily recommended to young and old as a different and wholly refreshing entertainment.

Sidelights on Production

The shooting of the film in the Blue Mountains of New South Wales was not without its moments. One hot day, while Helen Grieve, one of the child actors, was sitting on a boulder near the cameraman, a brown snake slid out of cover towards her feet. This species is highly venomous, and Helen, very sensibly, did not try to move her foot. The snake slid over her boot. In a matter of seconds Chips Rafferty, the "champion snake killer" of the party, had followed and killed it. Later it was skinned and Chips presented the skin to Helen, who has had a belt made of it as a souvenir of her escape. During the expedition, says the producer, Ralph Smart, six or seven snakes were killed by Rafferty.

Each of the children had his or her own pony during the shooting of the picture and a "terrific rivalry" developed, says the producer, Ralph Smart, "as to which of them could produce the best appearance. They were up early and late, brushing, grooming and polishing."

Neza Saunders, the black boy who plays the part of Neza in "Bush Christmas", was chosen from five hundred "Abo" boys who attended an audition in the Native Reserve in Queensland. It was his first trip into civilization. "He's a very bright boy, though" says the producer, Ralph Smart, "and soon got used to our ways. He attended lessons with the others. Gwen Annesley, the schoolmistress, found him very intelligent. I think the kid has a film future.

Adult performance will start at 6 p.m. with the showing of "Bush Christmas and "Wings Of The Morning". The special matinees will continue for one week only.

Emmett Jones Pitches Locals To Sunday Afternoon Win

By GEORGE COCHRANE

Slamming out 16 hits off of the right-handed offerings of Jacques Deslauriers and Bill Russell, Ascension's Snowdon Senior Fastball League entry racked up an impressive 10-5 win over Steinberg's in a regular league contest played at Macdonald Park last Sunday afternoon.

The Ascensionites were well on their way to another win Sunday evening at their home N.D.G. Park. They were up 2-0 over Hampton Food when plate umpire Joe Ross called a halt due to rain. The boys were in the last half of the third when the game was called.

The afternoon tussle was featured by the solid clouting of a quartet of local balthawks. Emmett Jones, Gerry Snyder and Sonny Provost came through with three for five performances while clean-up swatter Leon Peloquin had two hits in four official trips to the plate.

JONES THE WINNER

Emmett Jones was on the mound for Kev Kennedy's Krew and turned in a fine game to chalk up his first win of the 1948 season. Jones held the Steinbergers to 11 pretty well scattered hits while fanning four and walking one.

Long Jacques Deslauriers started for the grocer clan and was hit hard before being relieved by veteran Billy Russell in the ninth.

The locals' batting attack was featured by a three-run homer in the ninth by Gerry Snyder, the young men whom the Ascensionites obtained in that recent deal which saw Roger Bourassa go to Steinberg's.

Camp Westmount

Camp Westmount, the in-the-city camp operated by the Westmount Y.M.C.A., will officially open this Monday, June 28th, at 9.30 a.m.

The purpose of this in-the-city-project is to give as many as possible of the best camping experiences to boys who would otherwise be left to their own devices on the city streets. The program of the camp is planned to open up areas of experience and so stimulate boys that they will desire to continue to explore for themselves, either by continuing their formal education or further their knowledge informally by reading, developing hobby interests or learning new skills.

This year's camp will operate for a three weeks' period from June 28th to July 17th. There will be an all-day program from 9.30 a.m. to 4.30 p.m. each week day and a half day on Saturday mornings. Regular program will include an assembly period, followed by baseball, handicrafts, swim instruction, lunch, group games, hikes, inter-Y visits, track and field, industrial trips, story telling. All day picnics will take place out of the city each Wednesday.

Western Taximen Take Mounties For 12-4 Ride

On Thursday the 17th, in Westmount Park, Western Taximen took the Mounties for a ride to the tune of 12 to 4. The Red Coats tried hard to pull the game out of the fire but the Taxi boys clamped down and held tight.

In the second game Postmen vs Police and Fire, the Postmen knocked at the Police door three times but the boys in blue were having none of that and slammed back with four runs.

On Tuesday night the Taxi boys were at it again and the 400 men free wheeled a 15-2 victory against the Postmen. At the same time the Western outfit were locking up the Corporation Yard despite some clever pitching by the latter. The game finished with an 8-3 win for Western.

In the closed Senior League the Unity boys slugged out a 12-6 win over the Marauders in a hard hitting game.

Commissioner Chandler Welcomed To Montreal

Baseball's High Commissioner, A. B. (Happy) Chandler, former Governor of Kentucky and former member of the United States Senate, was the guest on Tuesday of the Montreal Baseball Club in an abbreviated visit to this city. Currently making the rounds of the International League parks, in the guise of a trouble-shooter for the National Game, the Commissioner was accompanied during his Montreal visit by Frank Shaughnessy, President of the International League and a resident of Montreal West.

The Montreal Baseball Club tendered the distinguished visitor an informal press luncheon at the Mount Royal Hotel at noon Tuesday and immediately after the reception, the Commissioner left to play golf for the afternoon. However, he turned up at the ball park in the evening. and made a great hit with the crowd of 15,000, speaking in both French and English, and even singing "My Old Kentucky Home".

Speaking to the writers, Chandler continually affirmed his belief in the integrity of baseball, and told the scribes that he is an ardent supporter of Legion baseball and that nothing would please him more than to see such a programme adopted in Canada.

There were a few fleeting references to the trouble the Commissioner had in his early months of office, but the speaker passed these off with the remark: "No, I wasn't in trouble. It was just a lot of other fellows making a lot of trouble for themselves."

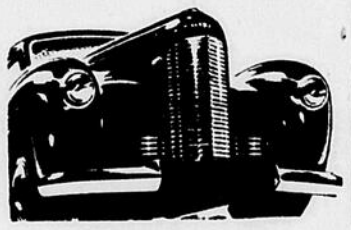

The ex-senator, who took over the reins as baseball's head in 1945, now pointed out that, when he assumed command, there were but 10 leagues in operation in organized baseball, whereas today there are over 60. He also showed the difference between his policies and those of his predecessor, Judge Landis, saying that while the Judge almost never left the sanctuary of his office, he, himself, was continually on the move, spreading the gospel of the game far and wide.

He also said a word about those critics who compared his work to what Landis would have done in the same case; but as the Commissioner said: "I don't know what he would have done, in fact, I don't think anybody does."

Also present at the informal luncheon were the managers of the Montreal and Newark Baseball Clubs, Clay Hopper and Bill Skiff, respectively, the Montreal General Manager, Buzzy Bavasi, and the Newark G. M., Chet Lane.

Dodgers Win Pee Wee 'C' League Title

This week in the Pee Wee "C" playoffs two Kings teams met and fought it out for the championship of the league. Although earlier in the season Eagles edged out the Dodgers in a close fixture, this week the Dodgers came back and smashed out a one-sided victory to the tune of 28 to 8 and walked off with the Pee Wee "C" league championship. Richard Lines, captain of the Dodgers chucked better than average ball while Grant Dixon and Ross Dello were the big guns that rapped in most of the runs.

The biggest upset of the season took place when St. Leo's beat out Roslyn for the championship in the Pee Wee "A" League. The hard hitting Roslyn team led throughout the season finishing with a perfect percentage only to be beaten in the final playoff by the scrappy St. Leo's line. Behind the superb pitching of young Lindsey St. Leo's seemed very confident and after taking a lead in the first inning were never headed for the rest of the game. The score was 11-5.

Perhaps the most surprising of the three playoff games was the one between Tornadoes and Cubs in the Bantam Section. Although everyone expected the Cubs to whitewash the Tornadoes it turned out to be one of the closest games of the season both teams playing almost one hundred percent ball for the entire game. Although the score was 8-5 for the Bums when the final inning rolled around they were in danger twice of losing the game when the Tornadose had three men on base in the fourth and again in the sixth only to be dismissed without a further tally.

Canada's Tourist Industry Has Splendid Possibilities

Canada's tourist industry can be the most financially profitable branch of our export trade. No less important than the financial benefit is the great stimulus to international understanding and goodwill developed by travel. There is a tremendous incentive, both economic and cultural for the development of an increased tourist trade.

The great value of the visitor trade is not only in the impressive dollar total, but in the fact that the tourist dollar has such widespread distribution in the nation. The typical dollar from tourism has primary distribution in this fashion.

Retail merchants, 30 cents; theatres and restaurants, 22 cents; amusements, 9 cents; accommodation, 17 cents; transportation, 7 cents; gasoline stations, 12 cents; incidentals, 3 cents.

And then this income is redistributed through all channels of commerce and taxation.

Every individual in the nation benefits directly or indirectly from the tourist trade. And every individual should contribute to the development of the tourist trade. Only with the active support and assistance of the Canadian people can there be growth in this vital industry.

Increased Travel In 1948

With the increasing trend to vacation with pay, more people than ever will be travelling in 1948. And competition for tourist business will be more intense, from Latin America, from Europe and from within the United States.

Canada has enjoyed two boom tourist years as a result of the post-war travel spree. There are indications that holidayers this year will be more discriminating in their selection of vacation areas. These people concerned with travel promotion in federal and provincial governments, the transportation interests and regional agencies, are co-operating in a strenuous program to develop the Canadian tourist industry, but the final responsibility lies with the community and the individual.

Canada is selling vacations. The only way by which Canada can be certain of getting her share of the travel business is by keeping the quality of her products high. United States citizens travelling in this country must go home feeling that facilities for vacation enjoyment are as fine here as anywhere in the world.

Canada's Natural Advantages

As a vacation land, Canada has superlative natural advantages, but there exists an urgent need for the development of all types of facilities for the enjoyment of these advantages.

More and better accommodation is our greatest need. Since 85 per cent of United States tourists travel by car, there is special demand for new cabins and motor courts and for improved quality in existing accommodations. Tourists don't expect elaborate quarters, but they insist that facilities be clean and comfortable. Good accommodation at fair prices is available in most United States tourist regions, and tourists have every right to expect comparable treatment here.

In order that a high standard of service be maintained in tourist accommodation, legislation respecting licensing and regulation of this type of accommodation has been passed in some provinces.

Travel authorities in Canada and the United States are currently committed to a concerted promotional effort to extend the period during which vacationers travel. This campaign is certain to benefit resort operators everywhere and encourage the development of new accommodation.

Improved quality of food and service in public eating places is a problem that a few Canadian communities have taken positive measures to solve. But in most areas, deplorable conditions still exist.

Poor road conditions have been a leading cause for complaint from tourists. As labor and material become availab'e, extensive road improvement programs are helping to correct this situation. All provinces have made large road-building appropriations. The completion of the Trans-Canada highway will be a boon to interprovincial travel.

Development of more facilities for the amusement and entertainment of the visitor is another important requirement.

a word about
Personal Purchases in the U.S.
- If you are contemplating a trip to the United States, here are two important facts to remember:
- You may not bring back with you any merchandise which is prohibited under the Emergency Exchange Conservation Act. Find out in advance from Canadian Customs officials whether you may bring in any contemplated purchase.
- To conserve all available U.S. dollars for essential purchases, a travel ration of $150 U.S. per person for the 12 months between Nov. 15, 1947 and Nov. 15, 1948 has been established. Be sure to get the necessary forms and details at your bank, well in advance of your trip.

This caution is given to help avoid possible embarrassment at border points.

FISH AND WILD LIFE

ABOUT BAITS

Bod Kermath, who writes "Angles on Angling", is one of our local sportsmen, and he wrote a little piece recently that we clipped, with the idea of having it appear under this corner. It is about various baits, and we think it is important to bring it to you sportsmen again, and mostly for the ones that did not catch it the first time.

Pike: Usually disdaining the worms, this fish will take almost anything in the way of small fish, or animals.

Perch, sunfish, rockbass (of sizes in proportion to the size of the pike sought) and almost any kind of minnow or small fish, except catfish. Frogs, mice, and even young ducklings, enter into its diet. Up north, I have found that dead bait (pieces of fish) will interest them, and in winter they can be caught with pieces of red meat.

Muskies and Pickerel: The diet of these species is almost identical to that of the pike. Muskies seem to favor good sized sucker minnows.

Blackbass: Almost anything eatable. Worms, minnows, small rockbass, sunfish, perch; crawfish, helgramites, crickets, grasshoppers, bees, and other insects, mice, etc. Likes its bait alive, and favors Borie minnows and helgramites.

Dore: Like the pike, it does not often take worms. Minnows of all kinds (except catfish), small perch, sunfish, etc.; crawfish, frogs. Up north, will take pieces of fish. Favors young lamprey eels and sturgeon minnows.

Perch: Worms, minnows, small fish, insects, the eyes of other fish, helgramites, small crawfish, I have taken quite a few perch on small sunfish (caught by seining) and on small frogs.

Speckled trout: Worms, insects, minnows. (We do not recommend using the latter, as their use often introduces an unwanted species into a trout lake.

Rockbass: Somewhat similar diet to the blackbass, with the possible exception of mice.

Sunfish: Snails make up a large part of its diet. Will take worms, insects, pieces of fresh red meat, and minnows of small size, though the latter are not a good bait as they have difficulty getting them into their small mouths.

leaders, and the others are Ruth Younie, Jim Bolton and Frank McGruther. Their experience should add something to the Young Adult Program in the future.

Monday night is bridge night. We have three full regular tables now. If you can play, we will play with you — if you can't, we will give instruction. The games start at 8.15 p.m.

Tuesday of this week will be quiet — everyone is preparing for Thursday. Last Tuesday, the bus trip to the "Y" Camp at Isle Perrot had to be cancelled because there were some empty seats. We cannot operate a partly filled bus. There were a lot of disappointed people that night because YOU were not there. However, a mixed swim and social were held in the "Y" building. We need your support if activities are to function properly.

The Thursday "Splash Party" will not be held on Dominion Day, as we are sure that you will be enjoying yourself the whole day.

Mixed swimming is available to all adult members from 9 to 10 p.m., every evening except Monday, when a mixed Life Saving class will be operating from July 17th. Have your bathing suit ready and enjoy "keeping cool in the "Y" pool" after a warm evening of tennis, golf or just being out in the heat.

Can't you just imagine some waiters trying to help their sons with arithmetic?

Excitement High In Young Citizens Election Drive

Election fever is at boiling point in the city parks these days. Candidates are canvassing votes and pushing ahead with the Election campaigns. For Fire Chief, six candidates have entered the field so far.

Ross Delo offers bigger and better fires in Westmount; Jimmy Morgan is going to do away with matches, baseball and all the lot; Richard Lines thinks a Fire Engine in every home is the solution to the fire problem; Chris Keating has a "Secret Weapon" that he is going to divulge the day before the election. Ewan Evans is all for fur underwear and no heating and furnaces at all to cause the risk of fire, while David Robb says "What the heck — let the place burn" Your choice is as good as mine, so take your pick and mark your cross on the ballot paper.

For Chief of Police we have Teddy Evans, Fred Hunter, Ken Copland, André Lauton, Michael Hewton, Michael McNally and Carl Cronin all with different ideas how they will re-organize our guardians of the law. One lad wants to make everyone coppers and then there would be no crime at all and everybody would be fully occupied catching everyone else that there would be no time left to get into trouble. Maybe he's got something there! Another lad wants to make our jails so attractive that nobody would ever be outside to do wrong. That's how it goes at the moment and only election day will break the suspense of the young citizens of Westmount.

The beauty contest has attracted Pat Gauch, Pat Tyner, Barbara MacClean, Audred Bremner, Joan Currie, Lenore Chesner, Joan Manley, June Manley, Dorothy Morgan, Helen McLeod and Marion Lines. These gals don't require any canvassing — you have only to see any one of them to realize that the Junior Miss Westmount of 1948 will have lots of poise, personality and glamour.

Of course the key jobs will be the Playtown Mayors and Jimmy Pickford, Doug Patterson, Bruce Davidson and Jimmy Besante have offered their services to the community to fill these posts. Their campaigns are being hotly pursued, each with his own policy to aid the cause of the junior population of Westmount.

It certainly looks as if July 7th is going to be a day of days for Westmount. The Westmount Business Association are co-operating with the Parks Department in donating the use of their vehicles to be converted into Floats tor that evening.

Keep the evening of July 7th clear for this event — there will be Bands, Fancy Dressed Parades, Decorated Floats and all the razmatazz of a gaily coloured gala parade.

Information can be had from the City Recreation Supervisors at 150 Hallowell Avenue, FI.6975.

Sailors' Institute Sees Last Show Of Unity Frolics

Bob O'Neill's Unity Frolics of 1948 at the Protestant Sailor's Institute on June 22nd entertained a full house of Merchant Seamen.

Opening the show was Bill McManus in his fast tap routine. A newly added feature was the hilarious routine of Bill McManus and Bob O'Neill who did a jitterbug solo with Bill, dressed as a fascinating glamour-girl.

Gil McKenzie who sounds a great deal like Hollywood's "Frankie" gave out with that hit tune "But Beautiful" and following him Bert Hollingsworth, on the "eighty-eight", gave an outstanding performance in be-bop.

The musical background of the show was supplied by Mrs. Armstrong on the piano and Johnny Roland on the drums. Bob O'Neill, director, was thanked by the cast for a fine year of showmanship.

The Frolics will continue again in September when new acts will be added and they will start touring again.

Fletchers Field Coaster Classic Set For Saturday

Fletcher's Field has been designated as the site for the Kinsmen Coaster Classic, slated for Saturday.

A special ramp, at present under construction and staffed with the latest safety devices, including a mechanical starter, has been donated by the Pepsi-Cola Company for the race.

Special precautions will be taken to insure the highest margin of safety for the racers, building plans calling for the erection of rails along the ramp sides and a sand bed to slow up the cars immediately after the finish line.

Meanwhile more than 60 applications have been received including entries from Three Rivers, Dorval, Cowansville, Ste Anne de Bellevue and Lachine. Mr. Ruiter, who organized the event in co-operation with programme chairman, Ed Dever, expects an all-time turnout for the classic.

Heat Elimination Basis

All racers will be run on a heat elimination basis. The classic will be run in two sections, one for cars with roller or ball-bearing, the other for racers with plain bearings. The winner of each division will receive a new bicycle and the driver of the fastest car of all by heat elimination will receive the Birks trophy and declared the Kinsmen Coaster Classic Champion. A beautiful trophy for the smartest looking racer has also been added.

All boys who participate in the contest will receive a prize. A nice bundle of prizes has been lined up for the boys by Leo Martin and Noel Macadam.

A demonstration of "Fizz-Racers" by Perfection Craft Reg'd. has been added to the programme. The "Fizz Racers" can hit speeds of more than 100 miles per hour.

Another added attraction at the Coaster Classic will be the appearance of the Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps Viscount Band.

Suicide Victim Reported To Be On The Mend

Jacques Desbaillets, 38-year-old French language radio announcer who was shot by his father-in-law, Lt. Col. C. McCort at the latter's home, 4320 Montrose Avenue, on Friday morning, is reported to have been released from hospital on Monday and to be convalescing favourably at home. Col. McCort killed himself with a pistol after having shot his son-in-law.

The tragedy occurred shortly after Desbaillets and his wife, the former Joan McCort, whom he had married a month ago, arrived at the retired soldier's home to take Mrs. McCort and her unmarried daughter to the pier, whence they were to sail to England.

Police report that while the luggage was being carried from the house to the automobile, Col. McCort appeared and fired at his son-in-law from a short distance with a .45 calibre revolver before the stunned eyes of the three women. Without a word, he immediately re-entered the house and killed himself.

Col. McCort is reported to have retired from the army a month ago after having served in the two wars. In the last war he served in Scotland and later in Europe with the Forestry Corps.

Since his retirement, however, he had shown signs of despondency, police stated. He was a retired consulting engineer.

At an inquest held on Wednesday morning, Col. McCort was declared to have committed suicide while of unsound mind.

Looking down on everybody doesn't help anybody get up.

and clothing to needy families.

Hi-Y Clubs, introduced early in the year, have caught on so fast there is already a National Hi-Y Council. Responding to the appeal of Christian ideals, these Hi-Y boys all over Poland are pitching into service projects: clearing the streets, waging health and clean-up campaigns, nailing up posters to stimulate safety-consciousness, counselling in camps and supervising younger boys' activities.

In Warsaw and Lods, the rebuilt "Y" buildings have become the chief centers of intellectual, social and cultural life as well as the most important centers for training youth. Besides these main buildings, the workers maintain many small neighborhood centers called "swietlicas" (lighted rooms) which are most popular for their libraries.

In the capital, a city-sponsored and Y-run "Warsaw Community Center" on the banks of the Vistula, features boating and gives recreation to thousands of poor children. The Krakow "Y" has a boathouse on the river-bank, too, and Gydnia and Gdansk jointly conduct a nautical training center for 250 student sailors.

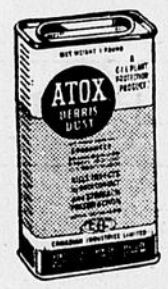

By last March, the YMCA staff had grown to 53 with the salaries paid them worth only a fraction of their pre-war purchasing power. New leaders are being recruited and already more than 500 young men have attended training courses and served in volunteer jobs. Some of the best of the new secretaries have come out of prisoner-of-war camps where they first saw the "Y" at work. One old-time secretary, after 6 years of Nazi incarceration, brought back five of his prison camp assistants, all of whom now head "Y" operations.
