10 NAZIS HANGED; GOERING COMMITS SUICIDE

World News In Brief

Southampton, Oct. 16.—(CP Cable)—The stately Queen Elizabeth—veteran of nearly 500,000-miles of wartime sea travel as a troopship—sailed from here today on her first post-war voyage as a civilian luxury liner, the job for which she was built.

The Elizabeth—at 83,673-ton, the world's largest ship—is the first big liner since the end of the war to throw her speed and luxury accommodation into the struggle with the overseas airlines to capture the trans-Atlantic passenger trade. With her sister ship, the Queen Mary, she will inaugurate next year a weekly service between Southampton and New York.

Aboard the Elizabeth, transferred from a troopship into a floating palace for this much-publicized maiden voyage, was the full complement of 2,314 passengers. Among them were diplomats, leaders of industry and finance, government representatives and plain travellers trying to get from one side of the Atlantic to the other. Also aboard was a party of Canadian and American newsmen.

London, Oct. 16.—(CP)—Sir Percy Bates, 67, shipping magnate who rose from ship-owner's apprentice to chairmanship of the Cunard-White Star line, died today at his home, Hinderton Hall, Neston, Cheshire, following a heart attack.

One of the greatest figures in the history of British mercantile shipping, Sir Percy had been chairman of the Cunard-White Star Company, Limited, since the merger of the Cunard and White Star lines in 1934, and was chiefly responsible for the building of the giant liners—Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth.

He was taken ill at his Liverpool office yesterday during final arrangements for the 85,000-ton Queen Elizabeth's sailing today on her first peacetime voyage.

Rome, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, commander of German forces on the Italian front during the war, will go on trial in Italy soon for war crimes.

Allied headquarters in Germany said last summer that Kesselring would be brought to justice in Italy this fall on charges of instigating atrocities against the Italian population.

Paris, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Pacusan Dreamboat took off from Orly Field at 8:38 a.m. (2:38 a.m. E.S.T.) today in an attempt to set a non-stop flight record across the Atlantic.

The Superfortress had taken off from the same field yesterday for a shot at the Paris-New York record, but was turned back several hours later by engine trouble.

U.S. Suggests New Approach On Atomic Violation Issue

Lake Success, N.Y., Oct. 16.—(AP)—An American suggestion that direct inspections for atomic violations should be carried out with discrimination to avoid antagonizing a nation or its citizens opened today an entirely new approach to an atomic energy issue over which the United States and Russia are at odds.

"Direct inspection should not be used indiscriminately, because of the risk of antagonizing a nation or its citizens," the United States Atomic Energy Commission said in a 57-page report to the commission.

This report, released last night after being handed to members of the commission's political committee, is the first time the Americans have gone to such lengths to explain their stand.

"Care must be taken to inspect only so far as necessary to confirm or disprove suspicions," the report said. "In some cases inspection of receiving and shipping rooms and platforms might be sufficient. In other cases a thorough inspection, including taking samples from processes, might be necessary."

"In all cases the right of nationals and industries should be observed to the greatest possible extent consistent with fulfillment of the functions of the authority."

Ringleaders Of Punctured Nazi Reich Pay With Lives For Crimes Against World

Army Intelligence Officers Endeavoring to Learn How Goering Obtained, Concealed and Took Poison—Ten Henchmen Climbed Gallows Without Collapsing and Made "God Save Germany" Declarations Before Plunging to Their Doom.

Nuernberg, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Hermann Goering—flamboyant to the end—cheated the hangman with a capsule of cyanide last night but ten other ringleaders of the punctured Nazi Reich died at the end of a rope in the dark hours before dawn today in payment for their crimes against the world.

Goering, No. 2 man of a Nazi regime intended by Adolf Hitler to last 1,000 years, twitched out his life in a prison cell only a few hours before his condemned henchmen plunged through the hanging traps of two gallows in a grimy building 35 yards away.

By his manner of dying, Goering not only took the last spotlight away from his colleagues but created a breathtaking mystery which had Army Intelligence officers laboring in an effort to determine how he got, concealed and took the poison.

The ten who died on the gallows—as directed by the International Military Tribunal which convicted them two weeks ago of war crimes, crimes against the peace and crimes against humanity—went to their deaths without collapsing and making "God save Germany" final declarations.

Joachim von Ribbentrop, Hitler's Foreign Minister, who replaced Goering as the first man to climb the 13 steps to doom, dropped through the trap at 1:14 a.m. (7:14 p.m. Tuesday E.S.T.). One hour and 43 minutes later, when Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Nazi gauleiter of The Netherlands, was pronounced dead, it was all over.

Those who died in between, with Master Sgt. John C. Wood of the United States Army—who has presided at 203 executions—springing the trap in some cases, were: Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Ernst Kaltenbrunner, head of the Nazi security police; Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi Party philosopher; Hans Frank, governor general of Poland; Wilhelm Frick, "protector" of Bohemia and Moravia; Julius Streicher, the Jew baiter; Fritz Sauckel, the slave labor boss; and Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl.

Early today it was announced that a three-man board had been appointed to investigate Goering's suicide for the Allied Control Council.

Col. Richard McConnell, public relations officer, announced that a "disinterested" officer from the United States Army was named chairman of the board.

Col. McConnell said the identity of the three had not been divulged and added that at this time, "no arrests have been made and none are presently contemplated."

Correspondents who witnessed the executions said afterwards they did not see any coffins but could hear them being carried out. Several large vans dashed out of the prison yard shortly before daylight, a guard reported, and drove toward Furth, a suburb

CHEATED GALLOWES

No. 2 man of Hitler's Nazi regime, Hermann Goering today cheated the gallows with a capsule of cyanide shortly before he was scheduled to march to gallows to pay with his life for his many crimes against humanity.

Goering Suicide Baffles Guards

Nuernberg, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The mystery surrounding Hermann Goering's suicide promised a thrilling sequel today to the crime story climaxed when 10 Nazi war leaders were hanged.

Goering, once second only to Hitler in the Nazi hierarchy, swallowed potassium cyanide and died in his jail cell here last night less than two hours before he was to hang with the others, condemned Oct. 1 by the international military tribunal.

The puzzle was: How did Goering, guarded day and night for 1 1/2 years, and repeatedly searched, get the poison—and from whom?

To give an official answer to that question, an anonymous investigating board of three was appointed today—headed by a "disinterested" United States army officer, said Col. Richard McConnell of Army Public Relations.

Col. McConnell said no arrests had been made and none were contemplated immediately.

Frau Emmy Goering is one of a number of people likely to be questioned. She last saw her husband Oct. 7 when the wives of the condemned men paid their farewell visits to the prisoners. Afterwards she walked away from the prison stern-faced but dry-eyed.

Questions will also be put to Dr. Stahmer, Goering's elderly counsel, Dr. Pflueger, who attended Goering under the supervision of an American doctor, and to the 27 German members of the prison staff, including the cooks.

Goering's captors took a capsule of potassium cyanide away from him when they first searched him. Since then, his person, his clothing and his cell had been

Execution Of Hitler Aides Is Described

Nuernberg, Oct. 16.—(Reuters)—I saw ten of Hitler's lieutenants die on the gallows this morning for crimes against humanity and against peace.

It was all over in less than two hours.

The worst of all was the swish of the cord around their necks and the black hood had hidden their faces, followed by a pause of seconds which seemed minutes. Then came the heart-lunging sound as the trap was sprung and the body fell.

The Nazi leaders died bravely. Not one whimpered or made any appeal.

Their leader during their trial before the International Military Tribunal in Nuernberg did not die with them. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, who walked beside Hitler from the beginning of Nazism, chose his fuhrer's death and died by his own hand two hours before the executions started in the gymnasium of Nuernberg prison.

Goering took poison under the eyes of the American security guard watching him every moment through a grating in the door of his condemned cell.

Goering had asked for a soldier's death before a firing squad and had been refused.

In Goering's stead, Joachim von Ribbentrop, the once-dapper Nazi Foreign Minister, led the procession to the gallows. With the dirty walls of the dusty, bomb-blasted gymnasium of the prison lit up by ten blazing lights in the ceiling, Ribbentrop walked through the gymnasium, his face white but set and his grey hair ruffled.

The trap sprung at 1:11 a.m. At 2:45 a.m. Arthur Seyss-Inquart ended the procession, shouting, "I believe in Germany" as he fell to his death.

Twelve minutes later two American soldiers entered the death chamber—with its three purple and black scaffolds of rough wood—carrying a stretcher.

On it was a body, covered by an army blanket.

Two bare feet, white and stiff, stuck out beneath the blanket. We gathered around it and the blanket was removed. There lay Goering—who had tricked the Allies to the last—wearing disarrayed black silk pyjama trousers and a pale blue silk pyjama coat.

The doctors examined him. Then an American colonel said: "Okay, take him away."

Goering's body was then placed in one of the rough light brown pine coffins which had been brought into the chamber for the condemned Nazi leaders.

Each of the Nazis was given a chance to say a last word before they were executed.

Only Alfred Rosenberg, Nazi party philosopher, could find no word except a murmured "Nein" to leave to history.

Ribbentrop said firmly: "God protect Germany. My last wish is that German unity should remain and that an understanding between east and west will come about and peace for the world."

Jew-baiter Julius Streicher shouted: "Hell Hitler, and 'The Bolsheviks will hang you all next.'"

Toronto Parkdale Federal By-Election Vital Contest

By The Canadian Press
The Federal by-election in Toronto Parkdale took place today as one of the most important contests since the last general election. Five candidates seek the seat left vacant by the resignation last April 1 of Dr. Herbert A. Bruce, a Progressive-Conservative.

Parkdale shares the spotlight with the Manitoba riding of Portage La Prairie where a by-election also is in progress. Upon their outcome, the over-all majority of the Liberal government is at stake.

In the last election the Liberals won 125 out of 245 seats, a majority of five. Election of the speaker reduced their working majority to four. Then two Liberal members died, in Pontiac and Portage La Prairie, and Dr. Bruce resigned. Pontiac elected a Social Credit member.

Failure to elect Liberals in either Parkdale or Portage La Prairie would result in a net loss of two Liberal supporters. That would leave the Liberals with 122 voting members, with combined opposition parties mustering an equal number, excluding the speaker.

Nominations closed officially yesterday and Parkdale votes Oct.

21. Already the campaign has seen lively exchanges and drawn party stalwarts to the hustings.

Ever since Parkdale riding came into being under the redistribution act of 1914 it has been regarded as a traditionally Conservative seat. It was first held by H. M. Mowat, a Union Government member, D. Spence, Conservative, succeeded him in 1921 and held it until the 1940 general election when Dr. Bruce won it.

This time, Progressive-Conservative hopes rest on Alderman Harold Timmins, a lawyer, who has represented Parkdale for the last three years in City Council.

Liberal standard bearer is Lt.-Col. John William Gordon Hunter, carrier, officer commanding the Queen's York Rangers of Toronto and a veteran of D-Day landings.

The increase in the milk price provided ammunition for by-election candidates. M. J. Coldwell, national C.C.F. leader, seized on it when he spoke in support of C.C.F. candidate Ford Brandt, printing press operator, and suggested that milk be brought under a national health and nutrition program.

Nominations closed officially yesterday and Parkdale votes Oct. 21.

Adams Denies Ottawa Trial Spy Guilt At Held Behind Closed Doors

Evidence of Russian Embassy Clerk Continues at Trial of Former Granby Resident Who Pleaded Not Guilty.

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Crown's star witness, Igor Gouzenko, will continue his evidence today as the conspiracy trial of Eric George Adams formerly of Granby, before Chief Justice J. C. McRae and an Ontario Supreme Court jury.

Gouzenko, former cipher clerk at the Russian Embassy, took the stand late on the first day of the trial of the former official of the Wartime Requirements Board, the Foreign Exchange Control Board, and the Industrial Development Bank.

While his slim, attractive, red-headed wife looked up at him, Adams pleaded not guilty to a charge of conspiring with 22 Canadians and Russian Embassy officials to gather and communicate confidential information for Soviet Russia.

Born in Hull, Que., he graduated in engineering from McGill University and in business administration from Harvard University and worked in New York and Toronto before coming to Ottawa in 1940. He was one of 13 Canadians detained last Feb. 15 at the outset of

Missing Canadians All Accounted For

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Latest available figures on Canada's war casualties show that nearly all of the men reported missing or presumed dead in the army and the navy have been accounted for by search parties in Europe and the Far East.

Officials said army authorities have completed their searches for men whose fate was unknown at the end of hostilities and their records now show a total of 17,472 men killed in battle and 5,238 who later died from wounds and natural causes. All missing men have been accounted for.

Naval totals show 222 officers and 1,756 ratings who gave their lives and three officers still on the missing list.

The R.C.A.F.'s task made more difficult because many aircraft disappeared in combat without leaving a trace of their crews, said its search crews have reported 6,750 men dead and another 10,340 presumed dead. Still listed as missing are eight men.

Sadist Killer Pays Penalty For UK Crime

Ex-Aviator Hangs at Pentonville Prison for Murder of Movie Extra—Was Charged With Another Slaying at Bournemouth.

London, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Neville George Cleveley Heath, handsome young former R.A.F. pilot, was hanged at grim Pentonville prison today for the sadistic murder of movie extra Margery Gardner.

A crowd of approximately 500 men, women and children milled about outside the prison walls, waiting for the posting of the notice announcing that the curly-haired aviator had paid with his life for a crime which shocked Britain.

A few minutes before the execution hour—9 a.m.—Mrs. Violet Van der Elst, colorful campaigner against capital punishment—drove up to the prison in a large yellow automobile and showered leaflets among the crowd. Police, after a discussion, accompanied her to a nearby police station in her car.

Mrs. Van der Elst was charged with obstructing a public place by scattering the pamphlets, which said Heath "was a possessed madman and should have been sent to Broadmoor."

Within an hour after the execution an effigy of Heath was set up in Madame Tussaud's famous wax works—the first addition to that collection of images of famous criminals since 1835.

Heath was convicted of slaying Mrs. Gardner in one of the most sensational murder trials in Britain's history. A jury of ten men and two women rejected his plea of moral insanity.

Mrs. Gardner's body, nude with ankles bound, was found in Heath's London hotel room last June 21. She had been slashed 17 times across the breasts and back, there were teeth marks on the body and she had been severely mutilated with a poker-like instrument.

Torso Murder Hearing May Finish At Hamilton Today

Hamilton, Oct. 16.—(AP)—All indications pointed today to the case of Mrs. Evelyn MacLean Dick, charged with the March 20 murder of her husband, being in the hands of an Ontario Supreme Court jury by nightfall.

In a special night sitting before Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow last night the Crown called the 42nd and final witness in this celebrated case and defence counsel John J. Sullivan told the court the defence would call no witnesses.

Thus the way was cleared for addresses by Crown and defence to the jury today and, if time, His Lordship's charge in this case which arose from the March 6 killing of John Dick and the finding of his torso on Hamilton Mountain 10 days later.

Mrs. Dick, in her fifth and final statement to police, said the actual killing was done by her one-time friend, William Bohozuk. And this statement, along with her other four, the Crown read into evidence after winning lengthy argument over admissibility of this testimony.

All day was devoted to reading into the record the accused's fifth statement made during an April 12 motor ride in which she took police to the place where she claimed Dick met death in a car with her and Bohozuk, about 15 miles south of Hamilton. On the drive she re-enacted for officers the last daylight drive of John Dick, at the end of which she said Bohozuk fired two shots into her husband's head.

Then, went on the statement in which she gave the lie to all her previous stories, John Dick's body was taken to her garage, cut up and dumped on the mountain four days later by Bohozuk.

She told how Dick threatened divorce proceedings, naming Bohozuk as co-respondent, how she was driving with John beside her and Bohozuk in the back seat with a gun when he fired the first shot into the back of John's head. "The bullet came out the right eye and blood spurted all over," she told police.

For the killing, Bohozuk and Mrs. Dick's father, Donald MacLean, still have to stand trial. She told police her father had given Bohozuk his gun, had paid him $300 to $400 to carry out the job and was getting drunk in a hotel when it occurred.

Her father, she said, "hated John's guts."

On the road back with the body, she said, they passed a Hamilton doctor and he was called to testify that on March 6 he had travelled that road.

One night after Dick died she saw his body again. The head and legs were in the back of a car. "And the head?" she was asked. "The head was nearly off... it was nearly hacked through."

Jobs In E.T. Plentiful But Homes Scarce

Labor Department Reports Unemployed and Available Positions Approximately Balance Across Dominion.

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Unfilled jobs practically caught up with the number of unemployed Canadians at Oct. 3, the first time the two figures have approximately balanced in 11 months, the Labor Department reported today.

The Department said expansion in logging and the pressure of consumer demand were buoyant factors in the labor market activity, despite the adverse effect of strikes and shortages.

National Employment offices showed 144,000 workers still looking for jobs at Oct. 3, a decrease of 2,000 during September compared with a decline of 16,000 during August. The falling off in unplaced applicants occurred in the Pacific region, where settlement of a foundry strike sharpened industrial activity, and in Quebec where logging activity and settlement of textile strikes absorbed workers.

Available jobs shot up to 142,000, a rise of 25,000 in September compared to a gain of 11,000 in August. The upswing in logging accounted for three-fifths of the September increase. Settlement of the steel strike brightened the general strike picture and labor demand increased in all industries except heavy manufacturing. Construction in some regions showed healthy labor requirements despite supply bottlenecks. Quebec and Ontario registered the greatest increase in unfilled vacancies.

In the Maritimes employment conditions for men were reported "rather serious" although for women there were more jobs than applicants. Lay-offs through material shortages added to the adverse condition for men. Potato digging and apple harvesting was underway with ample labor available through the movement of workers from nearby areas. Logging operators expressed fears of a shortage of skilled woodsmen. Heavy industries were affected by the steel strike. Construction was declining because of supply shortages.

Quebec reported a slight improvement in general labor conditions with a slump in industry during September. Recruiting of harvesters for potato digging and apple picking in the United States gave temporary relief for some of the surplus unskilled workers. Fall cutting started with a heavy program planned but doubt as to whether adequate woods labor would be available. Jobs were available for some 2,000 workers in Northern Quebec mining areas and in the Eastern Townships industrial sections but housing and a shortage of skilled miners were bottlenecks.

Number of unplaced workers, with unfilled vacancies in brackets, in typical centres at Oct. 3 was: Halifax, 2,800 (4,112); New Glasgow, 2,200 (34); Sydney, 1,865 (40); Moncton, 1,443 (1,071); Saint John, 2,413 (691); Chicoutimi, 399

Trieste Pact Halts Soviet Border Plans

Expansion to West by Russia Effectively Blocked by Peace Conference Decision on Yugoslav-Italy Frontier.

By ROBERT EUNSON Paris, Oct. 16 — (AP) — Soviet expansion to the west was halted last week along a line running north from Trieste when the Paris Peace Conference adopted by a two-thirds majority a proposed Italian Treaty clearly defining the Yugoslav-Italian frontier.

The draft treaty also would create an international zone around Trieste, and the Adriatic Port itself would become a free city serving both Yugoslavia and Italy, as well as landlocked countries to the north and east.

Fifteen of the 21 powers represented at the conference voted in favor of the new Yugoslav border, although Marshal Tito's Yugoslav Government had warned that it would not sign the treaty in its present form.

Russian-backed Yugoslavia had demanded the whole of Istria from Italy. But the United States and Great Britain firmly refused to agree to strip Italy of all of that territory.

As a consequence, the conference adopted a French compromise which would give Yugoslavia Fiume and the Pola sectors of Istria.

The possibility of war was raised when Yugoslavia stated flatly that she would refuse to remove her troops, estimated at 14 divisions, from Istria.

The western bloc, calling Yugoslavia's hand, pushed through an American amendment stipulating that only countries which sign the Italian Treaty will benefit from its provisions.

Thus, if Yugoslavia refuses to sign, she would be shorn of any legal claim to territory west of her 1939 borders, and would have to forfeit her one-third share of the $225,000,000 Italy must pay Yugoslavia, Greece and Ethiopia in reparations.

Original reparations claims against Italy were for more than $20,000,000,000. These were beaten down, however, by the United States and Great Britain, who held that such a burden would ruin Italy economically for many years to come.

Yugoslavia, however, insisted that she be granted $400,000,000 in reparations, and back by Russia, staged a last ditch fight for a total reparations figure of $650,000,000, including the $400,000,000 for herself.

The United States and Britain, who stood together on most aspects of the treaty, disagreed on the payment by Italy of damages done to approximately $100,000,000 worth of property owned within that country by allied nationals.

Britain sought 100 per cent payment of this figure, while the United States had urged only 25 per cent of the total.

France presented a compromise of 75 per cent, but the Foreign Ministers Council, which ultimately must act on the treaty, may pare the figure down, since Britain is the only power still supporting the 100 per cent proposal.

The internationalization of Trieste was fundamentally a compromise, resulting after the Foreign Ministers were unable to agree whether Istria should be Yugoslav or Italian.

In writing the statute for the international zone, the conference decided that it should be administered by a governor, appointed by and responsible to the Security Council of the United Nations.

France presented a compromise of 75 per cent, but the Foreign Ministers Council, which ultimately must act on the treaty, may pare the figure down, since Britain is the only power still supporting the 100 per cent proposal.

The internationalization of Trieste was fundamentally a compromise, resulting after the Foreign Ministers were unable to agree whether Istria should be Yugoslav or Italian.

In writing the statute for the international zone, the conference decided that it should be administered by a governor, appointed by and responsible to the Security Council of the United Nations.

Original reparations claims against Italy were for more than $20,000,000,000. These were beaten down, however, by the United States and Great Britain, who held that such a burden would ruin Italy economically for many years to come.

Yugoslavia, however, insisted that she be granted $400,000,000 in reparations, and back by Russia, staged a last ditch fight for a total reparations figure of $650,000,000, including the $400,000,000 for herself.

The United States and Britain, who stood together on most aspects of the treaty, disagreed on the payment by Italy of damages done to approximately $100,000,000 worth of property owned within that country by allied nationals.

Britain sought 100 per cent payment of this figure, while the United States had urged only 25 per cent of the total.

COLLISION IS BASIS OF SUIT IN LOCAL COURT

Echo of a collision between two automobiles which occurred on the East Angus-Marbleton highway, November 11, 1944, was heard in Superior Court this morning when Jean Baptiste Aily demanded $338 damages from Moise Moreau as a result of the accident.

Aily declared before Mr. Justice C. D. White that his car, driven by Clement Breton, was struck by defendant's vehicle as Breton emerged from the Bishopton side road, and that defendant was driving at excessive speed. He asks $238 for repairs to his car, $50 for depreciation and $50 for loss of revenue due to his car being garaged.

Defendant Moreau insists that plaintiff's car had failed to make the customary stop before entering on the main thoroughfare and that Breton was travelling so fast that it was several hundred feet before he could bring his car to a halt after the collision. He asks dismissal of the action.

Hearing is continuing.

$351,500 Has Cut In Australia

Australia is to have cheaper air travel, according to an announcement made today by Arthur W. Coles, chairman of the Australian National Airlines Commission. A fifteen per cent reduction in fares has been adopted by the government-controlled Trans-Australia Airlines on its Melbourne to Sydney service and the fares for the 500 miles flight will be $18.25 as against the prevailing rate of $21.50. This compares with about $25.50 for similar distance charged by Trans-Canada Airlines.

TRUCK STRIKES BUILDING WHEN BRAKES FAIL

Considerable damage was caused by an accident which occurred yesterday afternoon when a truck owned by Ball Brothers Transport, of Granby, struck the building of Co-operative Grocers at 122 Wellington Street South.

The mishap was caused by failure of the truck's brakes to function properly as the vehicle was turning north onto Wellington Street off Aberdeen Street, and it ploughed into the building.

Damage to a wall, a door and several windows resulted to the store building, while a front fender and side of the truck were crushed. The loss in both instances was covered by insurance.

shouting "I follow my sons. All for Germany."
Jodl cried "I salute my Germany."
Frank, the "butcher of Poland," seemed to die happy in his new Roman Catholic faith.

The men were sent to their death in an impersonal and humane way. They were held steady by two guards all the time, their hands were tied behind their backs with bootlaces and their feet strapped with an American army webbed belt.

The seconds of absolute silence after the men dropped through the trap were abruptly broken each time by the shuffling of feet as we mowed in relaxed tension.

The soldiers and hangmen got busy preparing for the next execution. Some of the spectators talked in low tones. Others lit cigarettes and hastily extinguished them when the next man to die was heralded by two knocks on the creaky unpainted door of the gymnasium.

When the last man, Seyss-Inquart, had died, Col. Burton C. Andrus, the American army governor of the prison, told us—eight reporters—"Okay, you can go back now."

Gigantic Rally Held Here To Honor Chief Scout Rowallan; Many From E.T., U.S. Points

A gigantic rally of more than seven hundred Boy Scouts, Wolf Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies from throughout the Eastern Townships was joined by two score American representatives to welcome to Sherbrooke yesterday afternoon Lord Rowallan, Chief Scout of the British Commonwealth and Empire. He was accompanied to Sherbrooke by A. W. Hurl, general secretary of the Boy Scouts Association, Imperial Headquarters, London. Other members of the party were Leonard Johnson, Boy Scouts Association for Canada, Dominion Headquarters, Ottawa; Jackson Dodds, C.B.E., Provincial Commissioner, Montreal, and B. W. Roberts, president of the Quebec Provincial Command, Montreal.

Arriving by train from Quebec the party was met by a welcoming committee headed by Mayor Guy Bryant. Moving to the parade grounds, the Chief Scout was officially welcomed to the city by Mayor Bryant following a general salute. Lord Rowallan, in a dashing Cameron tartan kilt, spoke in both English and French to three groups: Guides and Brownies, Cubs, then Scouts. He brought a message from Lady Baden-Powell, Chief Guide, who had asked him to relay to all Canadian Guides and Brownies her delight in their keenness and enthusiasm.

$351,500 Has Been Subscribed To Date In Hospital Campaign

With a number of special names and industries yet to be heard from and including only three or four outside community returns, total subscriptions received to date in the Sherbrooke Hospital Building Campaign which closes this weekend is $351,500, roughly 75 per cent of the total objective of $500,000 for the Eastern Townships. Officials from headquarters in the Bank of Commerce building, Dufferin Avenue, report encouraging reports from practically every point in the Townships. In addition to a number of other canvassing districts which have over-subscribed the set quotas, St. Elie d'Orford today reported obtaining 200 per cent of its objective. John Billing is chairman of this district. Ulverton, with J. Gordon Smith as chairman, has reported 150 per cent of its quota, while at Milan, where 90 per cent has already been subscribed, Albert W. Murray, chairman, reports that he and his committee are confident of obtaining the full quota before the end of the week. No further report has been received from North Hatley, which it will be recalled is attempting to reach 400 per cent over-subscription after having already turned in $6,000 for a $2,000 quota. However, it is expected that community drives, always one of the first to take the lead in community drives, will succeed in this respect. To date, in addition to North Hatley, the Moe's River and Compton districts, Balver, South Stukely, Ulverton and St. Elie d'Orford have all exceeded their quotas. In other districts, upwards of 80 and 90 per cent of the objectives have been reached and undoubtedly before the campaign closing date, all communities will show at least 100 per cent subscription. The following additional subscriptions on behalf of the Sherbrooke Hospital Building Campaign, which has an objective of $500,000, were announced today: $10,000; J. S. Mitchell and Co., $5,000; Union Screen Plate, Lennoxville, $3,000; Mrs. I. Jean Mitchell Fletcher, $1,000; Rotary Club of Sherbrooke, Webster Motors Ltd., Miss Jessie Colby, Stanstead $600; Sherbrooke Daily Record, $500; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Special Committee Appointed To Consider Parking Problem

That the City Fathers have been giving the numerous traffic and parking problems in the city a good deal of consideration during the past few weeks was evident at the regular Council meeting last evening when a special committee was chosen and charged with the task of securing six months' option on land to the rear of a number of buildings on Wellington Street North from Meadow Street to Big Forks Street. If the committee is successful in obtaining these options, the land will be used to open a new exit from the parking lot on Meadow Street, along the C.N.R. tracks to Big Forks Street and at the same time, some of this land will be utilized to provide additional parking space to the rear of the Wellington Street buildings. The committee chosen comprises Aldermen Guy Bishop, chairman of the Police and Fire Committee, Albert Charpentier and Wesley Bradley, along with City Engineer J. C. Cote and Municipal Building Inspector J. O. Chartier. Local property-owners to be approached are the Misses Elizabeth and Eugenie Tebo, the J. S. Mitchell Company, Philbert Lagueux and Mrs. Frank H. Clark. Establishment of an additional parking lot is contemplated at the rear of the Whiting Block and the Lagueux building. With few changes, the city council last night approved the 1946-47 valuation roll for homologation. Only two protests to the roll were registered during the month the list was open for inspection at the City Hall. Director of the Fire Department, Percy Donahue, Aid, Guy Bishop, Police and Fire Committee Chairmen and Chief of Police Edouard Moreau were congratulated for their efforts and organization of events during the recently concluded Fire Prevention Week and the Aldermen placed particular emphasis on the success of the simulated fire at the former Continental Hotel on Saturday after-

Privy Council's Abolition As Ultimate Court Of Appeal Seen

Belief that the current sittings of the Privy Council of the House of Lords will result in the abolition of the Council as the ultimate Court of Appeal for Canadian judicial cases was expressed last night by Mr. Justice Delma Landry in an address before members of the Sherbrooke Rotary Club at their regular weekly meeting held in the New Sherbrooke Hotel. Reference was made by Justice Landry to a hearing scheduled for October 23rd when the Privy Council itself will either pass or reject a bill introduced in this country to dispense with its services as the highest court to which a Canadian case may be appealed. Outlining the administration of law and justice in Canada and particularly the Province of Quebec, the speaker declared that our laws, stemming as they do from the Common Law of England and the French Civil Law, are the best in the world. Justice, he said, is the cornerstone of every nation, and he contrasted our system of administration with that of countries where the judges were the puppets of a dictator. High praise for British fair play in the matter of court trials was expressed by Justice Landry. He referred to the recent prolonged trials of Nazi war criminals at Nuernberg as a prime example, and, on a smaller scale, to the preliminary inquiry in civil cases. "No man in Canada or elsewhere in the British Empire," he said, "can say he has not received a fair trial." The speaker also dwelt briefly on problems entailed in being a judge and stated that the lead given a jury is not always followed. He humorously remarked that "the judge is condemned when the accused is acquitted." Justice Landry was introduced by past President Dave Salls and thanked by Ken Mills. Seated at the head table with Justice Landry were Romanians Wilfred Smith, N. D. Casadden, G. Poullet, Dave Salls, E. Levesque, Ken Mills, J. V. Ames and John Hovey, and S. Bondurant, of Cairo, Ill., a guest of the club.

Hearthbreaks for WAC's Too

Two Service Women Left Waiting At Altar by Returning G. I.'s

Dear Miss Dix: Heartbreaks and heartbreaks are part of WAC life, too. I have recently witnessed two incidents which have left in our detachment two bitter, heartbroken girls. One was Sergeant Mary, my roommate, and I was a close confidant of her hopes and dreams when Bill was to come back from overseas. She lived only for it. Then the day came. First the telegram. Then the phone call with plans. He would be here as soon as he possibly could. Then silence. No Bill. No wire. No letter. This went on for two weeks. Mary couldn't eat or sleep. Then I took a hand. I called the young man up, unbeknownst to her, and got the truth. He was about to be married to another girl. He went home before coming here as he planned, and the home gal got him.

The other girl is Corporal Anita. Practically the same thing happened. She had received the wire, the phone call and the plans. She put in for a furlough. Reason: To be married. Then she got the complete silence, without a word from him or of him. My guess is this: When these boys get back home, the girls they left behind them get in their work, and family pressure does the rest. I hope, unladylike breach of promise suit on the vanishing Romeo. G. I. romance, Miss Dix, ha, it is a joke, but not for the girl.

Answer: It seems too bad that to the inevitable tragedies of war there should be added the unnecessary heartbreak of so much faithless love and so many shattered dreams. But it is happening all about us, and to many a woman the knowledge that her husband or her sweetheart had been honorably killed in battle, fighting for his country, would be less bitter than having him ask for a divorce because he is tired of her or has fallen in love with some other woman, or for him just to sneak out of an engagement that he was too craven a coward even to break.

Yet this is part of the cruel aftermath of war that many women are going to have to face. Already, the married G.I.'s who are returning are mobbing the divorce courts and leaving the wives who have kept the home fires burning, and who have worked and worried and prayed for their safe return, with a slap in the face from a decree absolute and perhaps another baby to support.

And thousands upon thousands of girls are going to have to drink the cup of bitter tea prepared for them by the boys who diverted themselves by making love to them, writing them romantic letters, telling of their devotion, planning the homes they would have and sketching a future of conjugal happiness, when they never had the faintest intention of making good on any of these rosy prospects. But the poor, deluded girls fell for it. They scribbled on their lunches to buy things for their love chests. They denied themselves all dates to stay at home and knit sweaters and write long letters to Joe. And it never crossed their minds to believe that Joe was just using them as a fill-in for lonely hours, and that he would ditch them when he got back home.

To many and many a woman Victory Day was not a day of pride and rejoicing. It was a day of sorrow and bitter awakening that she will remember as long as she lives.

Dear Miss Dix: I am a 16-year-old girl and my hair is beginning to turn gray. What shall I do about it?

Answer: Make your gray hair an asset instead of a liability. Keep it clean and white and shiny and rejoice in it. There is nothing more spectacularly attractive than white hair about a young face.

Dear Miss Dix: Would it be a violation of any social or ethical codes if a widower were to use his first wife's engagement and wedding ring for a second trip into matrimony?

Answer: I can think of nothing that would so infuriate a prospective bride as for a man to expect her to wear the things that would remind her continually of her predecessor. Your even suggesting such a thing should warn her that you are too fragile to be a good husband.

The Record will be pleased to receive any letters to this Dorothy Dix column. These will be forwarded to Miss Dix who will answer them as quickly as possible.

north of Nuernberg where the United States Army has two large airfields.

When the last body had been cut down, Col. B. C. Andrus of the United States Army, prison commandant, emerged with the first news to the world that Goering had taken his own life.

"Goering was not hanged," Col. Andrus announced. "He committed suicide at 10:45 p. m. (4:45 p. m. E.S.T. Tuesday) last night by taking cyanide of potassium."

"He was discovered at once by the sentry who watched and heard him make an odd noise and twitch. The sentry called the doctor and chaplain who were in the corridor and who found him dying."

"There were pieces of glass in his mouth and an odor of cyanide of potassium on his breath."

"Goering's hand did not go beneath the blankets and was not observed to go to his mouth. An investigation is now going on to learn how he could conceal the poison when he was subject to daily and rigorous searches, both of his clothes and his person. The cyanide was contained in a small cartridge case similar to those found before on other Nazis and like the one found on him a year ago last May at Mendorf prison."

The poison Goering took was contained in a vial concealed inside a copper tube made of an old cartridge. Shortly before his condition was noticed by his guard, it was observed that he was lying quietly, apparently asleep, with his hands outside the bed covers. One fist was clenched. Presumably he held the poison tube in it.

Goering never heard his death sentence read to him as did the others shortly before they died. Col. Andrus was on his way to Goering's cell when the last act of Goering's life was taking place inside the jail. Andrus continued about his grim task, however, completing the reading of the convictions and sentence to each man at 11:34 p. m.

A little while later the march to the gallows began. In the gymnasium, where only last Saturday guards had played a basketball game, stood three scaffolds, only two of which were used. Arthur Gaeth, representing the combined American radio networks, said each scaffold had the customary 13 steps to the top and each rope the customary 13 coils.

The executions were carried out with machine-like precision. While one man hung from one gallows—his body concealed inside the structure of the scaffold—another man was brought in.

Every one of the 10 men approached death bravely once he entered the room and saw the grim appearances of the hangmen.

The only one to create a scene at the scaffold was Streicher who defiantly shouted his last "Heil Hitler" and then snarled at an American officer: "The Bolsheviks will hang you one day." He also was the only one to speak after the black hood concealed his face, murmuring: "Adele, my dear wife."

After his body dropped through the trap the correspondent-witnesses clearly heard a groan from the interior of the scaffold. The only one of the 10 who made no last minute statement was Rosenberg.

Ribbentrop, the man who engineered the Nazi-Russian pact which touched off the Second World War, uttered his final words in distinct, unflinching German.

"God Save Germany," he said. "My last wish is that Germany realize its entity and that an understanding be reached between the east and the west. I wish peace to the world."

Ketel entered the chamber six minutes later and mounted the scaffold as though he were climbing a stand to review his troops.

He peered over the crowd with iron-jawed Prussian hauteur. Called upon for his last words he said: "I call on God Almighty to have mercy on the German people. More than 2,000,000 German soldiers went to their deaths for the fatherland before me. I follow now in their footsteps." (He lost two sons in the war.)

Then he raised his voice and shouted: "All for Germany."

Then, with the bodies of Ribbentrop and Ketel dangling in death, an American colonel directing the executions asked the American general representing the United States on the Allied Control Council's Commission if those present could smoke.

An affirmative answer brought cigarettes into the hands of almost everyone of the 30-odd persons in the room. Officers and soldiers paced about nervously or spoke to each other in hushed voices.

An American and a Russian doctor, carrying stethoscopes, disappeared beneath the one curtained side of the first scaffold and emerged very shortly after to speak to the American colonel. The colonel turned, snapped to attention, and informed the witnesses: "The man (Ribbentrop) is dead."

The executioner, a sergeant, climbed up the gallows and cut the rope with a large, commando-type knife, as other soldiers lowered the body to a stretcher and quickly carried it behind a curtain at the rear of the room.

"Cigarettes out, please, gentlemen," said the colonel, who then turned and called "Okay." The executions proceeded steadily, inexorably.

Witnesses described the last moments of the other men as follows: Kaltenbrunner, dueling scars on his cheeks shining blood red in the glaring light, declared: "I have loved my German people and my fatherland with a warm heart. I have done my duty by the laws of my people and I am sorry my people were led this time by men who were not soldiers and that crime were committed of which I had no knowledge." His last words were a German phrase meaning: "Frank, who entered with a smile on his face, whispered his last words: "I am thankful for the kind treatment during my captivity and I ask God to accept me with mercy."

Frick, inconspicuously attired in a gaudy sports jacket, stumbled on the last of the 13 steps up the gallows, but recovered. His final words were: "Long live eternal Germany."

Sauckel, who was reported by one correspondent to have shouted "I pay my respects to American soldiers and officers but not to American Jews" in his first fright before reaching the execution chamber, went to his death bravely, crying at the end: "May God protect Germany and my family."

Joell, his face flushed and his eyes red, paid his final bill with the words: "I salute you, my Germany."

Seys-Inquart, whose glasses were removed as the executioner slipped the noose over his head, said, in his quiet, scholarly way: "I hope that this execution is the last act of the tragedy of the Second World War and that a lesson will be learned so that peace and understanding will be realized among the nations. I believe in Germany."

All of the men were tied hand and foot as they made their last step and each one was escorted to the gallows by a soldier at each elbow.

Where the bodies of the executed Germans were taken will remain a secret. Capt. Samuel Binder, of the security police detail, declared emphatically: "They went to nameless graves somewhere, and it is a good guess that the journey was by plane."

The trucks carrying the bodies were protected by two jeeps filled with military police and brandishing sub-machine guns. Also in the parade was a long black automobile and sitting in it was a brigadier general.

The convoy left at breathtaking speed and doubled back and forth over Nuernberg until it headed for Furih.

Then the convoy turned toward Erlangen, where there is another United States Army airfield. Military police threw up road blocks throughout the area and it was impossible to trail them further.

An officer included in the party was back in Nuernberg at 7:30 a.m. The trip apparently lasted two hours.

Canada's espionage probe. Hopeful of finishing this week, the trail spent most of its first day in the selection of a jury of four farmers, two civil servants, a retired butler, a retired C.N.R. foreman, a laborer, a truck driver, a merchant and a carpenter.

Persistent defence challenges made it necessary to call 47 members of a jury panel of 116 before a special two-man body which decided, after hearing defence questioning, whether they were prejudiced against the accused.

The defence gave notice of objection to the testimony of Gouzenko on the grounds that it was hearsay evidence. The Russian's first testimony was the new-familiar story of how he came to Canada and the picture in the secret room of the Embassy where he worked.

Mrs. Elizabeth Morton, housewife, Labor Progressive candidate took out an injunction against the Ontario Milk Control Board in an effort to block the price rise. Hearing of the case is pending.

Fifth candidate is Len Palmer, Socialist-Labor. He did not appear at yesterday's nomination meeting but his agent announced he was in the fight and "busy working."

In Portage la Prairie, voters next Monday will elect a new member to succeed the late Harry Leader, a Liberal.

All three parties contesting the election—Liberal, Progressive Conservatives and C.C.F.—have had most of their top men campaigning here for the past two or three weeks. The record of the Liberal government, the Canada-United Kingdom wheat agreement, removal of the milk subsidy, government expenses, the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, foreign policy—all these have been aired by speakers hecklers alike.

Almost eclipsed by the flash of the parties' big guns have been the three candidates, Jeffrey S. Wood, Liberal, Calvin C. Miller, Progressive Conservative, and Sidney Coulthard, C.C.F. Mr. Wood is an Oakville, Man., farmer, Mr. Miller a Portage lawyer and president of the Manitoba Progressive Conservative Association, and Mr. Coulthard, a Bagot, Man., apiarist.

Never a one-party constituency, Portage is a limbo to prophets who try to make a presage of the results. Since 1904, its electors have sent five Conservatives and six Liberals or Progressive to the Federal Parliament.

Ottawa Talks

Mitchell has repeatedly said he is hopeful the Dominion will soon be able to withdraw from that field but it is generally thought that this step will not be taken until early next year.

Both wage control and the federal Wartime Labor Code will automatically expire March 15, 1947, unless some action is taken to extend them. The federal code, which applied primarily to war industries, was introduced under the Dominion's special wartime powers and infringes on a field which is normally provincial.

The industrial disputes act outlined a procedure for handling disputes in industries considered national in scope, such as transportation, mining and communications. By bringing the I.D.I.A. up to date the Dominion could establish a model leaving it to the provinces to pass enabling legislation applying it to industries under their control if they saw fit.

Richmond Couple Honored On Silver Wedding Anniversary

Richmond, Oct. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Laroche were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Fortin on the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. There were fifty guests present.

During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Laroche were presented with a substantial purse of money. Mr. George Laroche made the presentation address and little Miss Theresie Fortin presented the gift and at the same time Mrs. Laroche received a beautiful bouquet of American Beauty roses. A musical program was enjoyed followed by dancing.

The guests of honor's table was covered with a Madena cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake surrounded with silver tapers in silver holders. The attractive decorations in the dining room and living room were carried out in silver.

There is a large army of outdoor men who have learned to depend on Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Riding on trains or trucks causes a jarring which is hard on the kidneys as is also the exposure to all kinds of wind and weather.

This medicine goes to stimulate the action of the kidneys and relieve the backaches which so often result.

DAD'S BACKING YOU, SON

Tom Hansen, superintendent of an industrial plant, had big plans for his ten-year-old son Jim. But Tom didn't live to see them carried out. An accident one day—and a few hours later Tom was dead.

Less than two years before the accident, Tom, at the suggestion of an Imperial Life representative, had arranged an Educational policy whereby $500 each year would be paid when his son reached college age to cover the period of his university course. Now Jim's education has been guaranteed just as surely as though the father had lived to see him graduate. No more premiums are required on the policy, and the money will be paid at the time Tom had planned.

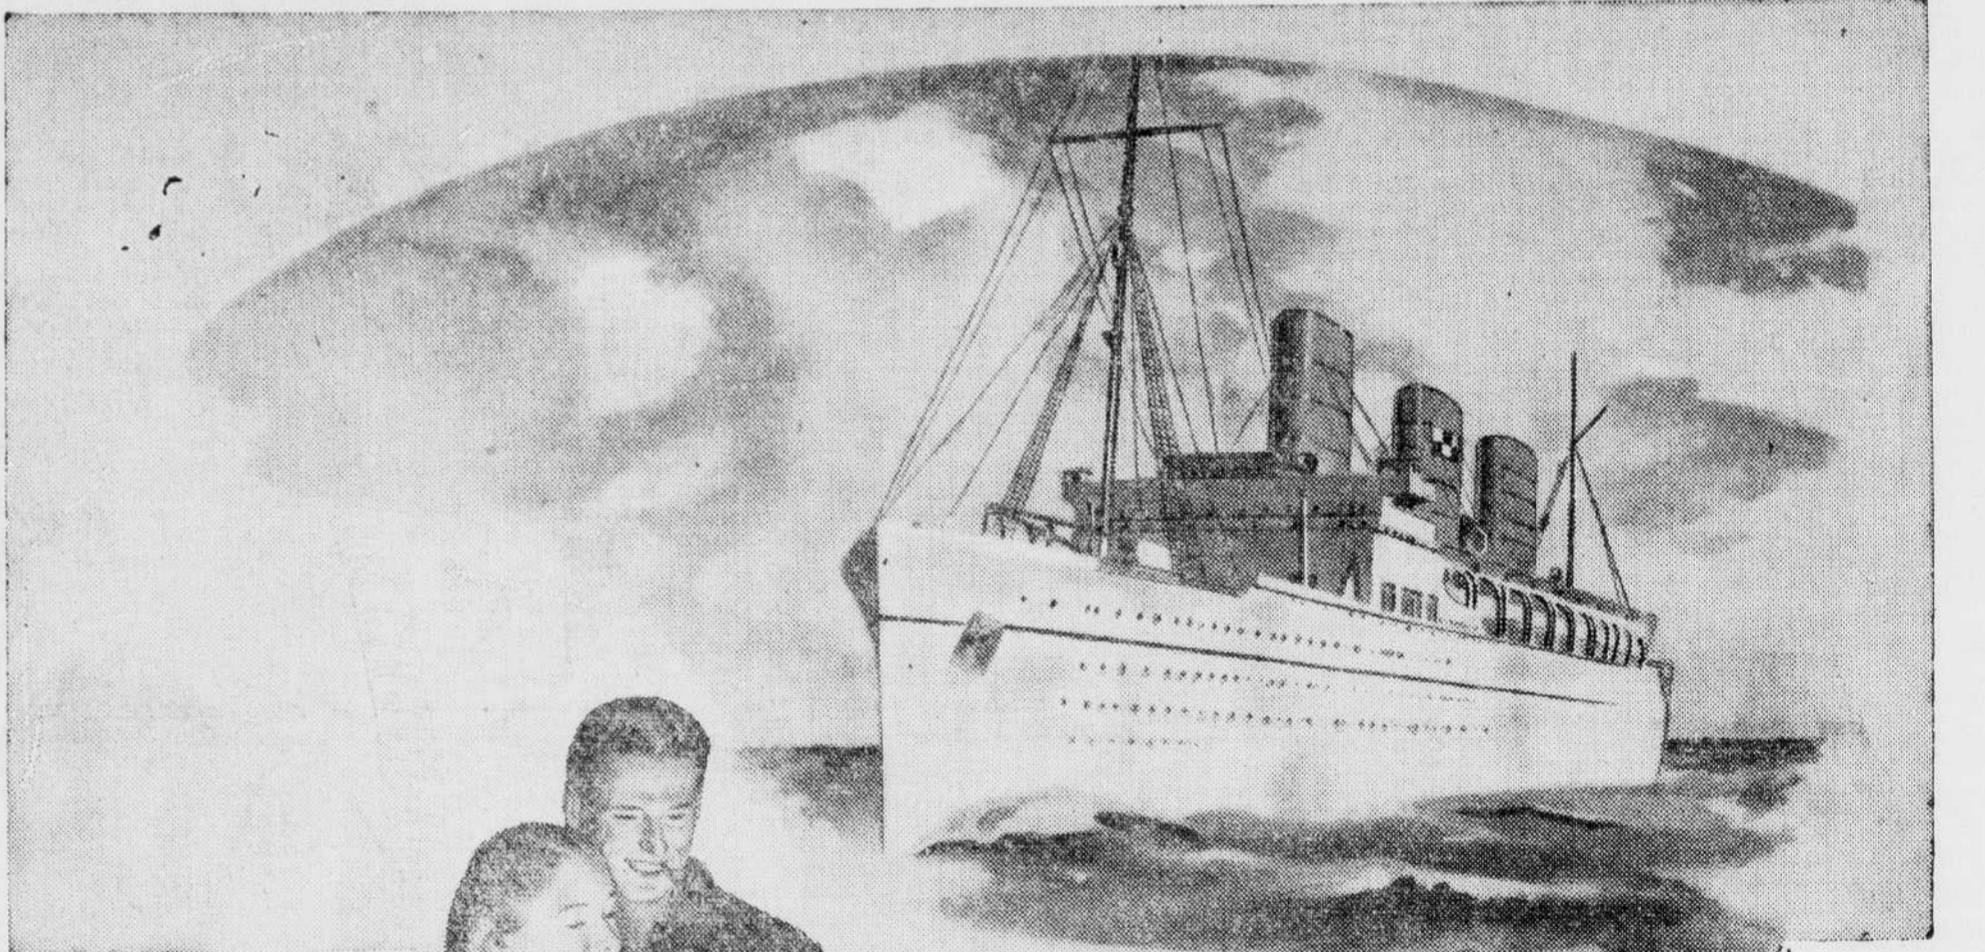

An Imperial Life Educational policy was the finest remembrance that Tom could have left his son. You too can give your boy or girl a head start in the keenly-competitive race that will face your children when they enter the business world of tomorrow. Take that first step now.

She said that she started weaving as a means of making her own home beautiful by making the things she could not afford to buy. From this start she branched out into helping teach others, working for a considerable time with Henry Morgan and Co. of

Mr. Bang emphasized the necessity of being very careful in blending colors and in doing really first-class work if there was desire to sell the finished product. "People do not buy the goods just because they are a hand product," she said, "but because the items really appeal to them."

Following the talk, a number of those present gathered around to look over the items Mrs. Bang had brought with her as well as a number of other hand-made items that had been brought to the meeting by members of the school, including examples of needlepoint, cushion covers, pins and earrings made from shells, cloth from various Oriental countries, and woven products of the blind. Altogether it made a different and interesting evening for the members of the school.

Old-fashioned square dances took up the recreational time of this meeting, with Cecil Whitehead doing the calling and directing, and sending the people home in a jolly and relaxed mood.

The various Interest Groups continue to hold their students, and all of the members of the school are learning a great deal about various subjects. The Current Events group continues to feature discussion on the news of the day, with an opportunity for each person to state an opinion. The class in Dramatics is working on two one-act plays which it is hoped will feature the closing night of the school on November 27th. E. C. Amaron says his class is making a great deal of progress in Conversational French, and Father Fortin of the Derby Line Parish is assisting Albert Fregenu in teaching the photography group how to get the most out of their cameras. The course in Practical Journalism continues to teach how a newspaper operates and the importance of the country correspondent. The next week or two will be devoted to a study of advertising, and at the end of the school an actual newspaper report of the Community School will be issued, with each member of the class having a special assignment.

The president of the School, Gary Earl Heath, announced some of the forthcoming speakers at the Public Assembly Sessions. "You mean I get paid in Coconuts!.."

BILL is not running a fever. He is merely trying to explain to the new mechanic that 35 cents out of each dollar in his pay envelope is put there by Canadian trade abroad.

"Those parts you are making go into all kinds of machines, from refrigerator pumps to marine engines," says Bill, "and the countries that buy them must sell us different things in return, or they would run out of dollars to pay for our work."

"Let's get this thing straight," says Bill's new friend. "You mean that 35 cents on each dollar I get comes from things like coconuts and bananas?"

"Yes . . . and from coffee and sweet potatoes, sugar and cotton . . . spices and tea."

"What a way to make a living! Why, 35 cents on the dollar is more than I pay for rent . . . what would happen if these foreign guys stopped buying my machine parts?"

"That's something that must never happen," said Bill thoughtfully. "That's why I'm so fussy about the quality of the parts we turn out. Ours must be so much better that foreign buyers will prefer Canadian products because they are dependable and made to high standards. That's the way we'll build our foreign trade."

"But we can sell the parts we make at home. Why bother with the coconut fellows?"

"That's the tricky part of it. We must make foreign markets for Canadian goods now . . . or we won't keep the production lines moving after the people here at home have bought all they need."

And this is where YOU come in, friend reader. At least 35 cents of every dollar you earn comes from Canada's foreign trade, too. So if you want to do well by your future—be patient when some of the goods you want are sold to other countries.

And remember, too, that everything you produce is a knock or a boost for Canadian goods in foreign markets . . . so put your heart into your job.

35 CENTS OF EVERY $1.00 YOU GET... COMES FROM CANADA'S TRADE ABROAD

* Everyone who buys or sells merchandise abroad makes jobs in Canada. That is why we have a Foreign Trade Service in the Department of Trade and Commerce. The Doctor Says

ADJUVANT MAY BRING MENINGITIS EPIDEMICS

By William A. O'Brien, M.D. Communities which experienced outbreaks of meningococcal meningitis (inflammation of brain coverings) in the late winter and spring may have a flareup this fall after complete freedom from the disease during the summer.

Meningococcal meningitis tends to develop in young men during wartime. Since fewer men are now in service, health authorities predict that outbreaks will be less frequent this year. Meningococcal meningitis strikes suddenly, severe headache, sick stomach, fever and stiff neck being the first symptoms. In severe cases, the bacteria may get into the blood and cause a rash of small hemorrhage in the skin. Cases seldom isolated.

Although meningococcal meningitis may occur in isolated cases, it is customary for the disease to develop in epidemics.

The incubation period for meningococcal meningitis is about one week. The disease is spread by healthy "carriers" who harbor the germs in their throat. When such persons come into direct contact with susceptible individuals, they can spread the infection through the air in the form of a droplet spray.

Attendants of persons sick with this disease often contract it. The diagnosis of meningococcal meningitis is made from symptoms and signs of infection and from the presence of an epidemic. Fluid obtained by inserting a needle in the lower portion of the spinal column is cloudy and contains the germs. Blood cultures may also be positive, in severe cases.

Mortality Rate Is High It is fortunate that the majority of people are resistant to the meningococcus which causes this special form of meningitis, for the disease is highly fatal when untreated. In reported outbreaks in the past, from 20 to 70 per cent of the victims have died from the infection.

The first improvement in the outlook for patients with meningococcal meningitis came with the development of a serum to combat the infection. Later, it was found that the sulfa drugs were ideal in treating this condition, and thousands of lives have been saved by this treatment. Furthermore, the sulfa drugs have proved of value in eradicating germs from "carriers," thus preventing the spread of infection to others.

Penicillin is also used in this disease, with good results. Question: Our 13-year-old daughter had an abscess removed from her brain, but since then her sight has not been good. Our doctor tells that it affects one of her fields. Will you please explain this? Answer: Your physician refers to her field of vision, which is not as good as it was before the operation because the abscess destroyed a certain amount of brain tissue. The field of vision is a space within which any object can be seen while you look at one fixed point.

Dr. O'Brien.

Try This Old Home-Mixed Cough Relief. Surprising!

Anyone Can Make It. No Cooking. Big Saving. You may not know it, but, in your own kitchen, and in just a moment, you can easily prepare a really surprising relief for coughs due to colds. It's old-fashioned—your mother probably used it—but for real results, it is hard to beat. First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. No trouble at all. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action in throat and bronchial irritations. Put the Pinex into a 15 ounce bottle, and fill up with your syrup. This makes sixteen ounces of really splendid cough syrup, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love it. And for quick relief, it's splendid. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, eases the soreness, makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

BE KIND TO ANIMALS

DR. BAKER'S COLUMN

Edited by Dr. Charles B. Baker, B.V.Sc.

HINTS

A common but erroneous notion prevails that meat in a dog's menu causes the blood of the animal to become overheated. No ill effects need be looked for if one sees that the meat fed to dogs is such as might be eaten by oneself without danger. There are usually enough scraps of meat, gristle and bone from the waste of three average household meals to make up the ordinary dog's daily menu, and these, if supplemented by other leavings, such as cereals, puddings, etc., or by some of the reliable dog foods, in limited quantities, will keep your dog in excellent condition.

"Plum Puddin'"... The Dalmatian, often called the coach dog or plum pudding or spotted dog, originated, as its name indicates, in that part of the Austro-Hungarian Empire called Dalmatia. In the last century he was considered a smart and necessary adjunct to the dogcart and carriage-and-pair turnouts of the wealthy classes in Britain, where the dog was highly favored and appreciated for its intelligence, companionship and loyalty.

ST. LOUIS CARDS WIN WORLD SERIES FROM FAVORED RED SOX

Slaughter's Base-Running Helps Cards In Win Over Boston Sox

St. Louis, Oct. 16.—(AP)—The Gas House Gang spirit still lives in the world champion St. Louis Cardinals who have stolen the 1946 series from the favored Boston Red Sox on the sheer "hustle" of Enos Slaughter.

The score was tied at 3-3 in the eighth inning of yesterday's decisive seventh game and the full pressure of baseball's 16th $1,000,000 series was riding heavy on every pitch when Harry Walker lined a base hit into left centre. "Eno," who had singled to open the inning, catapulted off first base, rounded second and headed for third while Leon Culberson retrieved the ball and made a quick relay to shortstop Johnny Pesky. Making the full sweep at third while coach Mike Gonzalez signalled the come-on sign, Slaughter sprinted for the plate.

Pesky, apparently not expecting that sort of daring base-running, had dropped his arm half way, watching Walker run toward second, before he realized Slaughter was no-footing home with the tie-breaking run. His peg to Roy Partee was too late as Slaughter topped off his magnificent heads-up running with a fine slide that scored a run worth $2,775.04 to each Cardinal share holder.

Harry Brecheen, making a relief appearance when Murry Dickson weakened, clung grimly to the 4-3 margin through a threatening 9th to become a three-game winner. Not since 1920 when Stanley Coveleski whipped Brooklyn three times to give Cleveland the title, had any hurler picked up three victories in a single series.

Dickson, like Brecheen a pint-sized workman, had handcuffed the Bostonians for six innings after giving up a run in the first on singles by Willie Moses and Jimmy Pesky followed by DiMaggio's run-scoring fly to Slaughter. After Bobby Doerr led off the second with a scratch single, Dickson did not allow a base hit until the 8th when two pinch hitters drove him

Clearing the jump in this action shot is Blackie Daw, with Mrs. A. O. Mackay, the owner, up. Mrs. Mackay, of Macdoreck Farm, Montreal, has two of her jumpers entered in the Sherbrooke Horse Show which opens at the Arena tomorrow night. The show will continue on Friday and Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoon in the Arena which has been recently painted and which will be heated for the occasion.

BREADON DENIES RUMOR OF SALE

St. Louis, Oct. 16.—(AP)—Sam Breadon yesterday denied a story in the Sporting News which asserted that two syndicates were bidding for the St. Louis Cardinals.

"There's nothing to it," he said. The story, by publisher J. G. Taylor Spink, said a syndicate headed by Mark Steinberg, St. Louis businessman, and a group led by Louis B. Mayer, Hollywood movie executive, were bidding for the National League champions.

NORMIE BURNS SCORES TWICE AGAINST REDS

Approximately 19,300 fans turned out last night as the American Hockey League opened its 1946-47 schedule with games at Cleveland, Hershey and New Haven.

At Cleveland, Barons defeated Philadelphia Rockets 9-5, Hershey Bears started out with a victory on their home ice by edging Pittsburgh Hornets 2-1, and New Haven Ramblers walloped Providence Reds 7-0.

Led by Lou Trudel and McLennahan, cash tallying twice, Barons beat goalie P. Gauthier of Rockets seven times in the first two periods while being scored against only twice. Rockets made an unsuccessful attempt to come back in the final stanza.

Other Cleveland scores were Holota, Hank Goldup, Pete Leswick, Bob Walton and Gagne. Marksmen for Philadelphia, returning to the league after a four-year war absence, were Lavell, Collins, Procek and Warduzni.

An estimated 6,000 fans watched Hershey score two quick first-period goals for their victory.

Jack McGill broke the ice with a marker at the 12 second mark, followed by Gaudreault two minutes and 32 seconds later.

Pittsburgh's only score came from the stick of defenceman Ernie Dickens at the 5:17 mark of the initial period. Hornets were penaltyless until the final period when they received three.

The fast-skating, hard-checking Ramblers piled up six goals in the first period in facing Providence.

New Haven's first line of Normie Burns, Allan Kuntz and Hal Brown went wild, each scoring two goals. Norm Tustin tallied the other marker. Burns also picked up three assists for a total of five scoring points.

Three thousand one hundred fans saw Jim Henry score the first shutout of the season. His opponent in the Reds' net was Mike Karakas.

The New Haven and Hershey victories place the teams in a tie for first place in the Eastern division. Cleveland's triumph places them in sole possession of the top slot of the Western division as Pittsburgh went down to defeat.

Local Ice Squad Opens Pre-Season Training At St. Hyacinthe Today

The Provincial Hockey League will start its schedule on November 1 when Lachine Rapids pay a visit to Cornwall for the opening game.

Each team will play 24 games at home and 24 on the road with the season closing March 3, 1947.

Sherbrooke will open its home stand on November 3 when they will be hosts to the Cornwall club. The local club will have nine Sunday games and seven Saturday night games, with the remaining tilts being played during the week.

The local entry started their training today when they will travel to St. Hyacinthe for their workouts until the local Horse Show is over and the ice laid in Sherbrooke, which will take the better part of next week.

Ten men have reported to-date and Coach Dugre expects the balance to sign in before the end of the week. Players reported are: Robert Dion, Bill Heindl, Ozzie Carnegie and Len MacDougall from last year's squad. Frank Gunter, Jack Ladds, Ray Ogston, Len Mitcheson and Tony Demens their newcomers to the local club.

Brecheen First Southpaw To Win Three Games In World Series

St. Louis, Oct. 16.—(AP)—When Harry (The Cat) Brecheen choked off Boston Red Sox yesterday in the seventh and final game of the 1946 World Series, the slight, St. Louis Cardinal southpaw became the first left-hander in World Series history to win three games in one series.

Eight right-handers had turned the trick in the years since 1903 when the first series was played but it was up to The Cat to set a record for lefties.

He shut out Boston Red Sox with four hits in the second game and then came back to hurl a 4 to 1 verdict over the American League sluggers Sunday before being called in to relieve Murry Dickson and go on to triumph.

The eight right-handers who previously reigned alone in this department of World Series pitching are: Christy Mathewson, with three shutouts in 1905; Jack Coombs; Urban Faber; Babe Adams; Joe Wood; Charles (Deacon) Phillippe; Bill Dinneen and Stanley Coveleski. Coveleski did it in 1920, the last to unfurl such mound ability in a series until today.

Other records set in the 1946 series:

Most hits by both clubs in one game, 29 (Cardinals 20 and Red Sox nine, Oct. 10).

Three outfield assists on throws to the plate in one game by both clubs (Slaughter of Cardinals, DiMaggio and Williams of Red Sox, Fourth game, Oct. 10).

Two outfield assists in one inning by one team (DiMaggio and Williams, fifth inning, fourth game).

Three players on one team making four hits each in one game (Slaughter, Kurovski and Garagiola of Cardinals, fourth game).

Four players making four hits each in one game, both clubs

(Slaughter, Kurovski and Garagiola of Cardinals and Moses of Red Sox, fourth game).

Most assists by a second baseman, seven game series (Doerr of Red Sox, 31, old record 28 by Stanley Harris of Washington in 1924).

Third baseman starting most double plays, game (Kurovski of Cardinals, 2; sixth game, Oct. 13).

Records tied:

Most pitchers used in one game, one club (Red Sox, 6, fourth game).

Most runs scored in one game, player (Slaughter, 4, fourth game).

Most times at bat in one inning, player (Slaughter 2, ninth inning, fourth game).

Most assists by second baseman, game (Doerr of Red Sox 8, third game Oct. 9).

Most players used by one club in one game (18 by Red Sox, fourth game).

All starting nine players hitting safely in one game (Cardinals, fourth game).

Most players used in a seven-game series (Red Sox, 26, tying mark set by Detroit Tigers in 1945).

Most times at bat in nine-inning game (Slaughter and Schoendienst, six times up, in fourth game).

Most hits in a nine-inning game (Cardinals 20, in fourth game, tying mark set by New York Giants, Oct. 7, 1921).

Most hits in a nine-inning game (Cardinals 20, in fourth game, tying mark set by New York Giants, Oct. 7, 1921).

President C. Campbell Predicts Best Season In N.H.L. History

Montreal, Oct. 16.—(AP)—President Clarence Campbell of the National Hockey League said in a statement today, on the eve of the 1946-47 campaign, he believes the league's 30th season "will be the greatest in N.H.L. history."

Mr. Campbell, former Edmonton lawyer and one-time N.H.L. referee, considers all six teams stronger this year than at the end of last season. He believes that returned servicemen who joined their former clubs late last year will be in top shape to start the new campaign.

Although full playing rosters have not been officially announced, Mr. Campbell sizes up the prospects this way:

"Canadians appear to be stringing along with the same team that brought them the Stanley Cup and N.H.L. championship last season and may again be the team to beat."

"Boston Bruins, with the addition of Babe Pratt, former Toronto Maple Leaf defenceman, and the return to form of some veterans, plus the good showing of a new rookie, feel they have the power and reserves to overcome the margin that separated them from the Stanley Cup last spring."

"Detroit and Chicago have many Dickson p. 3 1 1 0 0 0 Toronto has undergone a reorganization with emphasis on youth."

"New York Rangers' pre-season games indicated improvement and a determination to avoid the cellar position this year."

The league will operate this year free of wartime restrictions, with the earliest start in history. The paying schedule has been expanded from 150 to 180 games, and the new president finds fan-interest higher and ticket-demand tremendous.

Minor rule changes have been designed to speed up the game, he said, and the backbone of the officiating staff will be King (Carmy), Bill Chadwick and George Giviel. At least two other referees will be given an opportunity to show their ability.

New linemen will work in at least one-third of each team's home games. Linemen who work regularly in one city now will be assigned to other cities as well.

Nylon Pants For College Football

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 16.—The latest in Canadian football fashions will appear on the gridiron here on Saturday, October 19, when two traditional university rivals, Toronto and Queens, meet in the first home game of the local schedule.

A gala reunion week-end is planned and Queens oldsters will see their team present a new arrangement of the familiar tri-color theme complete with red nylon football pants. This will mark the first appearance in Canada of the new-type pants.

The textile experts claim their latest contribution to sportswear will bring many advantages to football players. An extra strong nylon yarn was produced with which to make a fabric possessing strength and lightweight qualities. The new yarn even made finer and more sheer ladies hosiery possible.

Aiding the fleet-footed ball-carrier, already over-burdened with padding, the new lightweight pants are said to have a high resistance to tearing and ripping. Nylon's toughness apparently gives the pants added resistance to wear from rubbing and sliding, and the fabric's smooth surface helps to shake off tacklers. Because of non-shrinkage qualities, the pants will not become soggy in rain or on wet fields because of nylon's low rate of moisture absorption, tests have shown.

To produce a score of these pants in time for Queens opening game required the combined operations of three Canadian firms. C-I-L manufactured the nylon yarn at Kingston, Ont., Bruck Silk Mills Ltd., produced the fabric at Cowansville, Que., and A. G. Spalding and Brothers made the pants at Brantford, Ont.
