1. Beauti - ful bird of spring has come, Seek - ing a place to build his home,
2. Ye lit - tle birds that sit and sing, Ma - ny a thought of loved ones bring,
3. Bir - die, what makes you fly a - way, When I come near you, tell me, pray, Warbling his song so light and free, Beau - ti - ful bird, come live with me.

Hov'ring a - round your ti - ny nest, Call - ing your loved ones home to rest.
I'll not de - ceive you, you are free, If you should come and live with me.

Entered according to Act of Congress, A. D. 1870, by White, Smith & Perry, in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, at Washington.

Come live with me,
Oh! hap-py bird,
Now, bir-die fly,

you shall be free,
no thought of care,
fast to the sky,

If you will come and live with me,
No aching heart, no grief to bear,
To your sweet home, for night is nigh,

Come live with me,
O - ver the land,
And when the sun

ECHO.

you shall be free,
o - ver the sea,
shines o'er the lea,

Beauti - ful bird, come live with me.
Come change your home and live with me.
Bring thy sweet mate and live with me.

ECHO.

Ritard.

I'm all alone,
Come change your home,
Then we will sing,

Come live with me,
No more to roam,
Daylight to bring,

Come live with me.
Come change your home.
Then we will sing.
