HUNGARIAN-CZECH AGREEMENT NEAR

Czech Offer Is Suitable For Hungary

Large Area of Predominantly Hungarian Territory to Be Ceded Immediately With Italo-German Commission to Determine Disposition of Eight Disputed Regions—Tension Still High in Border Regions However With Continued Troop Movements.

Budapest, Oct. 28.—(P)—Hungary and Czechoslovakia appeared today to be on the way to a peaceful settlement of their long-standing and often-threatening territorial dispute.

The Budapest Government in a new note last night accepted the Czechoslovak offer to cede to Hungary about 3,860 square miles of land with predominantly Hungarian population.

Hungary also agreed that military experts should meet immediately to organize Czech evacuation and Hungarian occupation of the area and that a German-Italian arbitration commission should deal with eight disputed districts.

Czechoslovakia had demanded that the mediators settle the entire dispute and fix a time for the occupation of the whole area demanded by Hungary.

Diplomatic circles believed, however, that this would be no major obstacle because German and Italian mediators were likely to permit Hungary to occupy the undisputed regions as soon as the arbitration committee was formed.

Hungary also adhered to the original demand that plebiscites be conducted in autonomous Slovakia and Ruthenia, but it was understood the Government felt the request necessary to satisfy Hungarians.

Reports from the Czech-Hungarian border, meanwhile, said residents of Komarno, directly across the Danube in Czechoslovakia, were awaiting tensely the next move in the quarrel.

Czechoslovak soldiers continued guarding entrances to main roads and bridges into Hungary. Thousands of troops were concentrated in that important shipbuilding and railway centre.

Residents of Komarno, described as a pure Hungarian community of 24,000 people, were prohibited from staging demonstrations or displaying Hungarian flags. A curfew regulation was enforced rigidly.

Quebec, Oct. 28.—(P)—Catholic primary school teachers in Quebec, Three Rivers, Nicolet and Rivest, will be given two days away from class to attend a teachers' convention being held three days beginning November 6, it was announced by the Public Instruction Department yesterday.

British Public Opinion Favorable To Maintaining Volunteer System

London, Oct. 28.—(P)—A slight margin in favor of voluntary recruiting of Britain's armed forces over conscription was shown in the results of a Daily Mail poll, published today. There were 102,644 votes—51,511 favoring the voluntary system and 51,133 favoring conscription, giving a majority of 378 to the voluntary method.

Recalling that the poll began during the European crisis over Czechoslovakia, Viscount Rothermere's newspaper explained the results as follows: "On the first day, while tension was at its height, voting in favor of compulsory service was almost six to one. As the war clouds grew lighter, so public opinion veered. And at the end votes in favor of compulsory service and voluntary service became almost equal."

TWO CANADIANS KILLED IN U. S. ACCIDENT

Peebles, N.Y., Oct. 28.—(P)—Two Canadian medical students were killed today and three others were injured severely when the car they were driving to New York for a holiday visit crashed into a tree.

ONE KILLED, SECOND HURT IN CYCLE CRASH

Winnipeg, Oct. 28.—(P)—Joseph Zimmerman, thirteen, Winnipeg, was killed and his companion, eleven-year-old Frank Kaishak, seriously injured here last night when the bicycle they both were riding was struck by a truck.

Premier Daladier Completes Break With Communist Party

Also Warns Parliament that If It Fails to Approve Reforms Contemplated by Government, the Issue Will Be Carried Direct to the Voters—Paris Discloses France and Germany Considering Declaration Renouncing War.

Marseille, Oct. 28.—(P)—Premier Edouard Daladier completed his break with the Communist party and warned Parliament that if it failed to approve reforms the Government contemplates he would carry the issue direct to the voters.

At his request, the committee on general policy of the Radical-Socialist party approved a resolution, to be submitted to the party congress here Saturday, saying the Communist party "has excluded itself" from the Popular Front of Radical Socialists, Socialists and Communists.

In Paris, meanwhile, a Foreign Office spokesman disclosed France and Germany were considering a declaration renouncing war between them, similar to the agreement signed by Chancellor Hitler and Prime Minister Chamberlain at Munich.

Presumably such a declaration would be incorporated in a Franco-German understanding forecast by Daladier in his keynote address to the party congress yesterday.

The resolution approved by the party general policy committee proposed eventual recourse to an election if financial and economic reforms the Government has in mind are not approved by Parliament.

In its reference to Communists, the resolution said the Communist party had deserted the Popular Front by voting against the Government's demand for full powers and through "the hostile attitude of Cortinaud on Page 2, Col. 2."

memorandum signed by Home Secretary Sir Samuel Hoare in which the Government endorsed the reports recommendations.

The report proposed that production activity of large industrial cities be continued during hostilities and that refugees be housed in private dwellings. The state would defray initial evacuation costs.

KAISER WILHELM HOST TO ARCHAEOLOGISTS
Doorn, The Netherlands, Oct. 28.—(P)—Former Kaiser Wilhelm, himself learned enough to lecture his guests, today was host and chairman at a meeting of archaeologists.

Annually for the past fourteen years the Emperor has invited leading German, Dutch, Austrian, Hungarian and other archaeologists to Doorn for these discussions.

DECLARES WEST COAST DEFENCE WORK ADEQUATE

Victoria Service Club Told that Defences of British Columbia as Up-to-Date as Any in the World.

Victoria, Oct. 28.—(P)—British Columbia's coastal defence guns are "as up-to-date as any in the British Empire and better than those in any European country," Lieut.-Col. F. L. Fort, R.C.A., in charge of defence works on Lower Vancouver Island, told a service club luncheon here yesterday.

"The defences of this coast are and will be adequate," he said. All the guns had not been received "as England feels—and reasonably so—that her needs are more important than ours."

Col. Fort said the guns at Esquimalt, naval base near here, were exactly the same as those at Singapore and other important defences in the Empire. While it was true some of the guns were twenty years old, it should be known that modern artillery weapons had not been altered or improved on, and the only changes made were in the method of firing.

"Tremendous improvements have been made in range-finding equipment, however," he added.

Unofficial Quarters Declare that United States Insistence on Continued Open Door Policy in China Is Unsuitable.

Tokyo, Oct. 28.—(P)—The newspaper Asahi declared today that the Japanese Government considered "unsuitable" the United States' insistence on a continued open door to trade in China.

A new situation existed in the Far East because of Japanese advances in China, said the large independent liberal newspaper. It predicted Japan would seek to induce the United States Government to accept this thesis.

A 3,000 word protest against "unwarranted interference" with American rights in China, made public in Washington yesterday, was not published here but Asahi, nevertheless, dealt with the subject of the open door policy generally.

The statement by Asahi, said in informed quarters to be an official view, set forth:

"Japan will no doubt fully respect the powers' rights and interests in China. But in the light of the fact that the new situation resulting from the fall of the regime of General Chiang Kai-Shek of the China Government and the birth of a new Chinese regime, had modified the Nine-Power Pact system, the American Government's insistence on an open door and equal opportunity in China on the basis of the former status in the Far East is unsuitable in the present situation."

Other papers made no comment. An authoritative spokesman agreed with the editorial's intimation the Nine-Power Pact "must be modified in consideration of the greatly changed situation in China" since the fall of Hankow and Canton. (The Nine-Power Pact on respect for the territorial integrity of China includes as signatories China, Japan, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Portugal.)

The spokesman said there likely would be many changes affecting the foreign settlement concessions in China and previous foreign privileges, "but that does not mean the abolition of the concessions."

He disclosed Japan had made a new protest to Paris against continued importation of munitions to the Chinese through French Indo-China.

Premier Prince Konoye invited Charles Arsene Henry, the French Ambassador to Tokyo, to discuss this further. A spokesman asserted France agreed to halt the flow of munitions by October but did not do so. (Possibly connected with the turn of events on the China open door, Reuters New Agency quoted Japanese newspapers that the Government was considering a grant of "some sort of political compensation" to Germany and Italy. This would be in return for the consistent good-will of those two nations, Japan's allies in the anti-Communist pact, during the China war.)

Quebec, Oct. 28.—(P)—The city will be lenient with war veterans defaulting tax payments, the Civic Administrative Committee decided today. It was pointed out by a veterans' representative that quite a number of them are in direct relief.

CO-OPERATE IN FISH PRESERVATION
Ottawa, Oct. 28.—(P)—President Alex H. Nicol told the Ottawa Fish and Game Association's annual meeting last night the Deputy Ministers of Game and Fisheries for Ontario and Quebec would meet shortly to discuss plans for co-operation in eliminating poaching and illegal methods of fishing in the Ottawa river.

Who'sale Deportation Ordered Of Polish Jews In Germany

Berlin, Oct. 28.—(P)—Authoritative informants said today authorities already had sent several thousand Polish Jews formerly living in Germany back to Poland following a nation-wide round-up.

In Berlin alone several hundred Polish Jews were routed from their beds in early morning raids semi-officially explained as intended to forestall application of a new Polish law that might deprive thousands of Jews in Germany of Polish citizenship.

JAPS SEEKING TO MODERNIZE U. S. OPINIONS

Common Stand by Commonwealth Nations Held Best Protection Against Menace of Totalitarianism by Indian Statesman.

London, Oct. 28.—(P)—A revitalized British Empire, its foreign and economic policy directed by a federal government, working in closest co-operation with like-minded democracies, is envisaged by Arthur Moore, editor of the Calcutta "Statesman," as the soundest guarantee against the "menace of totalitarianism."

Writing in the Manchester Guardian, Mr. Moore, chairman of the India section of the Empire Press Union, declared the challenge must be accepted if democracy is to survive.

Some stark facts, he said, emerged from the recent crisis. On one side there had been absolute unity of direction and singleness of purpose; on the other imperfect accord. There had been the spectre of totalitarian governments offering the whole world peace on their own terms.

"It is clear now that many would accept peace at any price," Mr. Moore declared. "It is difficult, however, to feel any confidence that one who was prepared to devastate Europe for the sake of a time table and a matter of hours, will not take advantage again of what must now seem an easy method of securing whatever he desires."

"We may hope the national governments of like-minded democracies, in face of this menace, ultimately draw closer and be willing to surrender some measure of sovereignty to a federal league controlling an irresistible air power which will enforce universal disarmament."

By the Statute of Westminster, Mr. Moore contended, the British Commonwealth of Nations had carried a policy of internal disruption and self-determination to a point where its united effectiveness had been reduced to a minimum. The immediate results of the totalitarian triumph had bred increased recrimination and the tendency towards isolationism among defenders of democracy.

"While we wait for this regrettable tendency to evaporate there is something of urgent importance which we in the British Commonwealth of Nations can do for ourselves," he wrote.

"Air transport and the telephone have made an Empire federation possible now. That being so, is not the most urgent task for Dominion statesmen (including Indian statesmen) to get together and produce a federal government and assembly for the whole Commonwealth which will direct foreign and economic policy and will provide us with an overwhelming air force under a single command?"

Mr. Moore suggested the seat of Government of such a federation should neither be London nor any Dominion capital. It would be better near the strategic centre of the Empire—possibly in Palestine or Transjordan, where the nearby desert could be utilized for landing ground and airbases.

British Forces Intensify Search For Attackers Of Jewish Official

Jerusalem, Oct. 28.—(P)—Police and soldiers today searched for rebels who yesterday seriously wounded the Jewish mayor of Tiberias, Zaki al Khadaf.

While curfew regulations were in effect last night a careful search was made of the entire town, but no evidence was found.

The names of British soldiers wounded by the explosion of a land mine under an army truck on the Sharon plain were announced as follows: Lieut. P. Plumtree and Lance Corporal E. H. G. Wright, seriously injured; Lance Corporal W. J. Davies, Bandsman W. Woolnough and Privates V. D. G. Hines and L. W. Reynolds, slightly injured.

Arabs insurgents suffered heavy losses in Northern Palestine yesterday as British military action was continued energetically. Among the dead was the Arab poet and rebel chief, Nurreddin Ibrahim Abdullah. Important photographs and documents were found on his body.

A permanent curfew was ordered for the district within a radius of 1,700 feet of the military airport at Ramleh.

MANION RENEWS ATTACKS UPON RELIEF POLICY

Conservative Leader Declares Present Conditions Must Be Remedied if Whole Economic Machine Is Not to Be Wrecked.

Souris, Man., Oct. 28.—(P)—Hon. Dr. R. J. Manion, National Conservative leader, journeyed to Winnipeg today after winding up his western tour with an attack on Liberal Government policies in a federal bye-election campaign address here. Dr. Manion speaks in Winnipeg today.

Before two hundred persons in the community hall here last night he charged that "the present Government has shown almost no recognition of the social problems." Youth was faced with lack of opportunity, able men had no employment and no security for the aged existed but still the present administration "just floated with the times."

Dr. Manion who spoke in behalf of George Beaubien, Conservative candidate in the bye-election November 14th, maintained the Government showed "no concern for our youth, the relief problem on our workless."

"I say here tonight that unless we correct these conditions—as I propose to do when I reach power—this system will be upset and some group of theorists or radicals will wreck the whole machine."

Major Hahn Withheld Details Of Price For Inglis Assets

British War Office Authorities Not Aware Toronto Plant, Being Converted to Manufacture of Machine Guns, Had Been Purchased for $250,000—President Defends Inclusion of Costs of London Trip in Organization Expenses.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—(P)—In his conversations with British War Office authorities leading up to a contract for Bren machine guns, Major J. E. Hahn, president of John Inglis Company Limited, Toronto, did not tell them he obtained the Inglis assets for $250,000.

While he gave the War Office officials all the information they required, including pictures, plans and specifications of the plant and a 1929 appraisal showing its replacement value at $1,770,000, the purchase price was not discussed, Major Hahn told the Davis Commission yesterday.

Concluding his fifth week of actual hearings, the Commission resumed today with L. F. Hellmuth, of Toronto, cross-examining Major Hahn. Mr. Hellmuth is counsel for Maclean's Magazine, whose article by Lt.-Col. George Drew, of Toronto, criticizing the Dominion Government's order for seven thousand Bren guns from the Inglis Company brought on the inquiry.

Major Hahn testified that at no time, until it came out during the present inquiry, had he any indication that he was accredited as a Canadian Government representative when he was making preliminary investigations which led to a supplementary contract of five thousand Bren guns from the British War Department. He understood he was acting in the capacity of a "private contractor."

He had rendered an expense account covering all his preliminary work on the two contracts, at the general rate of $300 a week for his services, he said.

COURT DELAYS REDUCTION IN B.C. GAS PRICE

Judge Accedes to Request of Nine Marketing Concerns for Writ Pending Hearing on Legality of Measure.

Vancouver, Oct. 28.—(P)—Plans of the British Columbia Government to lower the price of gasoline must await the ruling early next week of Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, of British Columbia Supreme Court, after hearing arguments yesterday.

Mr. Justice Manson continued until "Monday or Tuesday of next week" an injunction preventing the price-cut from going into effect.

Nine leading oil companies obtained the injunction October 24th, two days before the price-cut was to have become effective, and thus restrained the British Columbia Fuel Commission from enforcing a reduction of three cents a gallon in Vancouver and as much as six cents in other areas. The Vancouver price for standard grades is twenty-seven cents a gallon, including seven cents a gallon provincial tax.

In continuing the injunction yesterday, Mr. Justice Manson said he hoped to give his decision Monday or Tuesday as to whether the legality of the British Columbia Fuel and Petroleum Products Control Board Act should be placed before the court. The oil firms seek to have the legislation, under which the reduction is made, declared ultra vires.

The statement of Premier Pattullo in Victoria Wednesday that previous to the injunction the price of gasoline was set and that the Act provides a penalty up to $5,000 for infractions, had repercussions in court. It drew comment from the presiding justice, but the Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer declared the Government had no intention of defying the injunction.

Mr. Justice Manson said he was glad to hear the Government's position made clear as the statement from Victoria savored of a threat and as such "was not satisfactory."

"Remember the King speaks last through the voice of the courts," he said. "I would not like to see disobedience of a court order."

Legal argument indicated uncertainty as to whether the injunction forbidding price-fixing applies if ultimately the Government's enabling legislation is found intra vires.

The Attorney-General, in further explaining before Mr. Justice Manson the Government's position, said the Premier's statement was merely a warning that if the legislation were found valid the order was effective.

Great Britain And Japan Undertake Final Efforts To Reach Understanding

Reorientation of Japanese Foreign Policy Expected If Talks at Present Underway Fail to Bring Accord—Japs Threaten Drastic Action Unless France Closes Indo-China Border to Arms Shipments for Chinese Forces.

FIRE CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE AT MARSEILLE

Marseille, Oct. 28.—(P)—A fire broke out today in the "Nouvelles Galeries" department store, one of the largest in Marseille, located on the Canebiere, the city's main avenue, and spread rapidly to neighboring buildings.

The flames, fanned by a strong wind, spread to the nearby Hotel de Noailles, at which Premier Edouard Daladier and several of his ministers as well as other delegates to the Radical-Socialist party congress had registered. The roof of the hotel caught fire forcing suspension until tomorrow of the congress.

Several salesgirls of the Nouvelles Galeries store were trapped on the fourth floor and jumped out of the windows into firemen's nets. The building finally caved in with a terrific roar, the facade falling in the Canebiere.

Tokyo, Oct. 28.—(P)—Anglo-Japanese talks were resumed here today in what well-informed sources termed a "supreme effort" to lay the basis for an understanding between the two countries.

Sir Robert Craigie, the British Ambassador, conferred for an hour with Renzo Sawada, the new Vice-Foreign Minister. Their talk was described in these circles as a resumption of the parleys begun by Sir Robert and General Kazushige Ugaki, former Foreign Minister.

This development over-shadowed others in a crowded diplomatic day which included a sharp Japanese protest to France over alleged arms transit through Indo-China and the drafting of Japan's reply to Washington's protest on the closing of the open door in North China and Manchuria.

Great stakes are on the table in the Anglo-Japanese talks which have had such a fluctuating career in the last few months. The departure of General Ugaki from the Foreign Ministry was generally interpreted as the triumph of anti-British elements in Japanese Government circles. But now, if sources close to the Government are to be credited, a final attempt is being made to see if Great Britain and Japan can come to terms about the future of their respective positions in Asia.

Should these talks break down again, it was said, Premier Fumimaro Konoye would in all probability abandon the Foreign Affairs portfolio he now temporarily holds. A complete reorientation of Japanese foreign policy might then ensue.

That is why interested observers appeared today to attach more importance to the talks with the British envoy than to the Washington note on the open door policy.

The one thing Japanese do fear is the emergence of an Anglo-American united front in the Far East, but so far they seem to see no signs of such development. The American note was interpreted here as designed primarily for American home consumption in connection with Washington's rearmament programme.

Nevertheless, the resumption of diplomatic activity both by London and Washington was believed to coincide with the prospect of other important developments. These include Italo-German recognition of some new centralized, Japanese-sponsored regime in China, it was held.

The protest to France today was interpreted as a warning that Japan would distribute the favors of its patronage in China according to the degree of understanding shown by other powers of the new position the island empire has carved out for itself on the Asiatic continent.

Domei News Agency said blunt language was used in the Japanese protest, including a threat "to take adequate measures of self-defence."

Continued Improvement In European Conditions Predicted By Mussolini

Rome, October 28.—(P)—Premier Mussolini told Fascists celebrating the sixteenth anniversary of the march on Rome today that "the political horizon is clearing" with promise of further improvement.

"The clearing of the political horizon is becoming accentuated and is continually becoming more vast and promising," Il Duce declared before crowds massed under his balcony in the Piazza di Venezia. "But we Fascists continue and will continue to march with the same inflexible energy with which we marched on the eve of that never-to-be-forgotten October."

Foreign hearers regarded the Premier's few words as his interpretation of the European situation since the four-power Munich accord, which was followed by French recognition of Italian domination of Ethiopia, the withdrawal of ten thousand Italian troops from the Spanish civil war and the reported British decision to re-establish normal relations with Italy.

As Mussolini spoke his Foreign Minister, Count Galeazzo Ciano, was in conference with the German

FESTIVE FAREWELL TO LIBYAN COLONISTS

Genoa, October 28.—(P)—Genoa bade festive farewell today to 13,000 colonists sailing for African Libya, which the Fascist Grand Council this week ordered changed from a colony to a status of provincial district.

More than two thousand were in the first group to arrive here, Naples and Syracuse similarly honored seven thousand who were to start from those cities on this sixteenth anniversary of Fascism.

Thirty thousand tons of food and 25,000 gallons of wine were loaded on seven ships in the Genoa harbor,

MULLINS FLAYS GOVERNMENT OF MR. DUPLESSIS

Charges of Maladministration Levelled at Premier by Liberal Member of Parliament for Richmond-Wolfe.

That Premier Duplessis has spent two years in power trying to satisfy the hunger of his political electors and that not one of his many promises has been kept was the contention of J. P. Mullins, of Bromontville, M.P. for Richmond-Wolfe, last night in a radio address on behalf of Dr. E. C. Cabana, standard-bearer for the Liberal party in the Standed County by-election.

Mr. Mullins declared that no government can live indefinitely on borrowed money and that the Premier and his associates cannot but be found wanting if judged according to their loyalty to the people.

The promises of Mr. Duplessis prior to his elevation to power Mr. Mullins declared merely part of a "clever electoral camouflage." Mr. Duplessis' failure to fulfill his obligations to those who put him in office should spell his fate as a political leader even had he not so openly and flagrantly challenged the electorate by doing what he felt like doing without giving the slightest thought to the general welfare of the province," stated Mr. Mullins.

failing compliance by the French Government with the Japanese request that she take effective steps to stop the transit of arms and ammunition for China through French Indo-China.

One such measure, it was hinted, might be immediate occupation of Hainan, the island off South China which strategically dominates the French Gulf of Tonkin. The Foreign Office spokesman today declined to say whether such occupation would take place but did not say it would constitute a violation of the Franco-Japanese treaty of 1906.

France was reminded of previous promises to close the Indo-Chinese border to arms shipments. Should that source of supplies be cut off, the Chinese Government would be solely dependent on the lengthy and uncertain road connection with British Burma and with the trail to the Soviet Union through Turk-estan.

The Foreign Office spokesman said the Japanese Government had positive information that arms traffic was continuing despite official French promises it would be checked.

FASTER PLANES PREDICTED FOR UNITED STATES

Six-Mile-a-Minute War Plane Is U.S. Army's Answer to European Rivalry for Speed Supremacy in Air.

Washington, Oct. 28. (AP)—A six-mile-a-minute war plane is the United States army's immediate answer to European rivalry for speed supremacy in the air.

A 360-mile flight in sixty-one minutes from Dayton, Ohio, to Buffalo, N.Y., yesterday by Lieut. Benjamin S. Kelsey lifted the wraps from a pursuit ship about which the Air Corps previously had little to say.

The plane, the Curtiss P-37, already has passed the experimental stage. An initial squadron of thirteen ordered last December soon will be delivered, officials said.

Without halting to float over the P-37, the army intends to announce in a few days another and presumably even faster plane. Designated the P-40, it is an experimental job, and most details will not be disclosed for the present.

Both Germany and Great Britain have combat planes which have even greater speed than that attained by the P-37. But the air corps has a reason for waiting.

Lieutenant Kelsey's flight and earlier trials, which were kept secret, were made with full military equipment. Germany claimed some 380 miles an hour for its Messerschmitt. Although Britain's Spitfire exceeded 400 miles an hour, it was aided by a tailwind.

JAPANESE EMPEROR BREAKS PRECEDENT

Tokyo, Oct. 28. (C.P. Havas)—Crowds celebrating the fall of Hankow were awestruck today when an erect figure on a snow white horse rode slowly to the centre of the Ni Jubashi Bridge spanning the moat of the Imperial Palace. There he stood, frozen into statue-like immobility.

"It is the Emperor!" The whisper rustled through the crowd, struck silent by the apparition. Emperor Hirohito thus broke a precedent of the Japanese Royal House by emerging from the palace without previous announcement to acknowledge personally the banquets and bows of the celebrating people.

Political observers said the leadership of Daladier's party had split over his violent attack on Communists in his keynote address. These observers declared although the convention shouted and cheered for the Premier, a strong group of party leaders—including members of his cabinet—were alarmed by the bitterness with which Daladier changed the direction of the party's political front.

Among this group were mentioned such cabinet ministers as Naval Minister Cesar Campinchi, Education Minister Jean Zay and Interior Minister Albert Sarraut, besides Edouard Herriot, President of the Chamber of Deputies.

One observer said that Herriot, meeting Daladier outside the Convention Hall after the speech yesterday, demanded, in effect "Have you any idea of what you have done?"

Two reasons were cited for the fears aroused by Daladier's attack. One was political.

While the eight thousand convention delegates undoubtedly gave Daladier a warm welcome, Radical Socialist deputies were faced with the political fact that sixty-six per cent of them owe their seats in the Chamber to hundreds of thousands of Communist and Socialist votes under the People's Front single-candidate agreement.

There was little in the Premier's speech to cause rejoicing among Socialists because his attack was directed at Marxism as a whole as well as Communism. And while Daladier studiously avoided a reference to Socialists, they, too, are Marxists.

The second reason was diplomatic. Many observers interpreted the attack on Communism as an attack on Russia which might foreshadow a definite rupture with France's Soviet ally. That alliance has been a favorite project of former Premier Herriot.

In a speech made two weeks ago Herriot recalled proudly how he had worked to separate Russia from Germany and swing her to friendship with France.

In what seemed to be an effort to overcome opposition on political grounds, Daladier broached the question of dissolution of Parliament to the steering committee of the party last night. Deputies said the Premier declared he was ready to take the question to the country if he lost his majority in the Chamber of Deputies.

And he added, they said, not to worry about the result because a new electoral system could be substituted for the present run-off system that makes the influence of Socialists and Communists so strong.

The political attitude of the chiefs of the Communist party has resulted not in support but in sabotage of the Government's firmness, Daladier said in defending the four-power Munich peace against Communist criticism.

He expressed hopes for a French understanding with Germany and Italy, said future French security lay largely in developing her colonial empire and mentioned two points for recovery: an increase in labor production and trade to strive for a balanced budget and abandon campaigns which "often hide foreign interests under a false mantle."

UNITED STATES VOTE CAMPAIGN IN LAST STAGE

President Roosevelt and Former Republican Leaders Take Part in Final Speech-Making for November 8 Elections.

Washington, Oct. 28. (AP)—Democratic and Republican party headquarters are rushing their star orators north, east and west for a rousing finish to the congressional election campaign.

Little more than a week remains before millions of voters will choose thirty-five Senators and 432 members of the House of Representatives.

It charged the Government with failing to deal adequately with farming, unemployment, and other problems despite "the great increase in the amount of taxes and revenue."

Mr. Maitland criticized the "great tendency of the Government to give too much power and control to the cabinet and officials of the Government."

In his address continuing the Debate on Reply to the Speech from the Throne, he said this tendency had been carried on to such an extent it threatened "the democracy that we should enjoy."

Only in the south, where few Democrats have opposition, are the public platforms fairly free of candidates.

The climax of the Democratic campaign will take place next Friday night, when President Roosevelt will deliver a radio speech from Hyde Park, N.Y. His address is expected to be primarily in behalf of a charge was "Democratic ticket, although many politicians believe he will make his theme sufficiently general to interest voters in all states.

Republicans have marshalled a corps of speakers that includes both former President Hoover and Alfred M. Landon, presidential candidate in 1928. Mr. Hoover will make the last of a series of three political addresses in Spokane, Wash., November 5th.

time plus expenses, because he felt, once the contracts were consummated on a cost-plus basis, that such of charge was "reasonable and fair."

(The contracts provided that the War Office and Defence Department pay such expenses up to a maximum of $20,000 on the ratio of one-third by England and two-thirds by Canada.)

Major Hahn concluded his direct evidence yesterday when Alme Geoffrey, of Montreal, counsel for the Inglis Company, finished his examination.

CHOIR MEMBERS HAD RATHER CLOSE CALL

Delaware Water Gap, Pa., Oct. 28. (AP)—Thirty-six members of the Canadian Choir, of Brantford, Ont., escaped unharmed early today when a bus caught fire while climbing a steep grade near Cherry Creek.

Most of the singers were asleep but the driver, Mark Golonski, of New York, awakened them and assisted them in escaping. Then he assisted by the volunteer fire department and men from a nearby garage, extinguished the fire, confining the damage to the front of the bus. Golonski suffered minor burns of the hands.

The choir, travelling in two buses, was en route to New York for a recital at Town Hall tonight.

HEAVY RAIL LOSSES BY SEPTEMBER WIND

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28. (AP)—The New Haven Railroad estimated today that losses from hurricane, tidal wave and flood would aggregate $3,386,000, including lost revenue.

Approximately $421,000 of this damage involved property that will not be replaced, the trustees said in a formal statement.

At the same time they reported a deficit in net income after fixed charges for September of $2,973,577 of which $2,555,225 represents estimated expenses and revenue loss on account of the hurricane and floods. This compared with a deficit of $721,359 during September, 1937.

READY CASH SUPPLY OF U.S. NEW RECORD

Washington, Oct. 28. (AP)—The United States' supply of ready cash stood at a new high figure today, while national income had climbed for the fourth consecutive month.

The Commerce Department's index of income payments to individuals rose from 82.5 per cent of the 1929 level in August to 83.3 per cent in September. The September index was 2.9 points above the low point for the year, but was eight per cent below the 1937 peak.

Federal Reserve experts estimated that bank deposits and currency in circulation had reached the unprecedented total of $57,700,000, including a near record supply of idle funds that might be loaned to stimulate business.

CABINET GIVEN FIRST VICTORY IN B.C. HOUSE

Conservative Motion of Want-of-Confidence Rejected Twenty-Nine to Sixteen in Initial Vote in Legislature.

Victoria, Oct. 28. (AP)—The British Columbia Government last night passed its first test of the present legislature session, which opened on October 24th, by turning down a Conservative motion of want-of-confidence by twenty-nine to sixteen. The motion was introduced by R. L. Maitland, K.C., leader of the Conservative opposition.

It charged the Government with failing to deal adequately with farming, unemployment, and other problems despite "the great increase in the amount of taxes and revenue."

Mr. Maitland criticized the "great tendency of the Government to give too much power and control to the cabinet and officials of the Government."

In his address continuing the Debate on Reply to the Speech from the Throne, he said this tendency had been carried on to such an extent it threatened "the democracy that we should enjoy."

Only in the south, where few Democrats have opposition, are the public platforms fairly free of candidates.

The climax of the Democratic campaign will take place next Friday night, when President Roosevelt will deliver a radio speech from Hyde Park, N.Y. His address is expected to be primarily in behalf of a charge was "Democratic ticket, although many politicians believe he will make his theme sufficiently general to interest voters in all states.

Republicans have marshalled a corps of speakers that includes both former President Hoover and Alfred M. Landon, presidential candidate in 1928. Mr. Hoover will make the last of a series of three political addresses in Spokane, Wash., November 5th.

ACUTE ALCOHOLISM BROUGHT BIG AWARD

Chicago, Oct. 28. (AP)—Three-year-old Arlene Richine, a Superior Court jury has decided, was entitled to collect $2,500, or five hundred times the amount her mother wagered—and lost when she died—that she could drink a pint of whisky in one hour.

The jury awarded Arlene that amount in damages against Paul Sakenas and Peter Valcunas, owners of the tavern where her mother, Mrs. Antoinette Richine, worked and had made the $5 wager.

She had consumed three-quarters of the pint when she collapsed and died of acute alcoholism.

JAPS REGISTER ANOTHER MAJOR CITY CONQUEST

Stenning, Fifty Miles South of Hankow, Will Provide Spearhead for Advance Toward Strategic City of Yochow.

Shanghai, Oct. 28. (AP)—Japanese troops captured Stenning, 50 miles south of fallen Hankow today and established a spearhead for an advance down the Hankow-Canton railway toward strategic Yochow.

The invaders thus briskly followed up their conquest of Hankow by slashing off a vast swampy area south of that former capital, and asserted they had trapped large numbers of disorganized and fleeing Chinese troops.

War maps showed, however, that an unoccupied corridor about twenty miles wide between the railroad and the Yangtze River would allow the fugitives to cross the twisting stream or retreat to Yochow, a Tung Ting lake city that controls both the Yangtze and the Canton-Hankow line 110 miles southwest of Hankow.

Observers noted, furthermore, that the Chinese escaped most of the previous alleged "traps" leaving only a handful of prisoners in Japanese hands after 479 days of war.

Japanese reports said their planes and field guns exacted an "incalculable toll" from the Chinese in their "strategic" retreat. The army command estimated 130 Chinese divisions were withdrawing westward from the Hankow area.

From Mancheng, fifty miles northwest of Hankow, another Japanese column was driving westward and claimed to have taken Hwangang, thirty-five miles distant, with the result it was in a position to mop up areas north of Hankow.

DECLARES HUNGER STRIKE TO FORCE CONTRIBUTION

Shanghai, Oct. 28. (AP)—Seventeen-year-old Pan Pihcheng and his bride of four months began the fifth day of a hunger strike today.

They hope to force his wealthy parents to contribute 1,000,000 Chinese dollars (nominally $640,000) to help the Chinese cause against Japan.

The father, a Canton merchant, Chinese newspapers said, agreed to contribute 1,000,000 Chinese dollars but the offer was rejected.

The couple declared unless he gave 4,000,000 Chinese dollars they would starve to death, leaving the father without a son to carry on the family line.

Declares Train Speed Thirty M.P.H. At Time Of Collision

Testimony of Air Brakes Inspector Today Featured Hearing of $21,600 Damage Actions Based on Train-Truck Collision Near Lennoxville—Hamel Testifies He Did Not See or Hear Train Before Accident.

Evidence that the train was not travelling more than thirty miles an hour when it rammed into the motor truck carrying Aime Cyr and Josephat Hamel, over the level crossing near Lennoxville in the accident which claimed Cyr's life and resulted in serious injuries to Hamel, featured hearing of the $21,600 damage actions in Superior Court this morning. Hamel is suing the Canadian National Railways for $5,600 and Mrs. Cyr is claiming damages of $16,000 from Alphonse Lepage in his capacity as owner of the truck which Hamel was driving.

Testimony of William Levis, inspector of air brakes for the Canadian Westinghouse Company, contrasted that introduced into the Court records yesterday afternoon by Hamel and Fedele Carrier, the latter a truck driver who witnessed the collision. Both Hamel and Carrier testified that in their opinion the train was travelling at a faster rate than indicated by Levis.

Considering the distance in which the locomotive stopped after the collision, Levis testified today, the train could not have been travelling more than thirty miles an hour.

Among other witnesses called this morning was James Davidson, engineer of the train, who claimed that he saw nothing until the time of the actual crash. Furthermore, he said, he had never seen any trucks at this intersection before because the train passed that point during the noon hour.

J. Marchessault, contractor, who had hired Lepage's truck for hauling gravel, stated that it was not absolutely necessary for the trucks to use the crossing, in that a temporary bridge evading the crossing

SUING FOR $3,061.50

Hearing of a damage action amounting to $3,061.50 resulting from a highway accident two years ago, is scheduled for today's session of the Superior Court.

Dame Lucia Lapointe, of Montreal, who was injured in a collision between a car driven by her brother and a truck owned by Sherbrooke Warehousing Inc., and driven by Alfred Richard, is seeking damages from the Warehousing Company in their capacity of employer.

The accident occurred just inside the town limits of Waterloo, where Richard's vehicle struck the car on a curve in the road. The plaintiff sustained a broken knee cap besides other injuries.

had been erected for them. Cesaire Gervais, K.C., counsel for Hamel, asked: "Did the use of the road, on which the crossing was, save any time?"

"It made a difference of about three miles," answered Marchessault.

Yesterday afternoon's session was featured by cross examination of Hamel. The plaintiff, who lost four fingers of his right hand long before the accident, denied that this infirmity had, in any way, interfered with his driving.

"In your declaration you stated that you had not seen or heard the locomotive before the crash. Is that correct?" Mr. Lynch asked.

"I did not see or hear a thing," Hamel replied.

"You also claimed that the train was going at an excessive rate of speed. What was that speed?" "Between fifty-five and sixty miles an hour,"

Mr. Lynch: "You declare that the train was going between fifty-five and sixty miles an hour, and yet you testified a minute ago that you neither saw nor heard the locomotive before it struck your vehicle."

COLLEGE DRIVE IS COMMENCED IN SHERBROOKE

District Committee Met Last Evening to Discuss $240,000 Campaign for Reconstruction of Stanstead College Buildings.

Presided over by B. N. Holtham, newly-appointed chairman for Sherbrooke district of the Stanstead College $240,000 campaign, a committee formed of local business and professional men, the campaign director and the principal of the College last night met in the Board Room of the Canadian Bank of Commerce on Dufferin avenue to hear and discuss plans for the drive.

G. Harold Fisk, of Montreal, general director of the campaign which is under the chairmanship of Dr. Charles W. Colby, of Montreal and Stanstead, led the discussion by briefly outlining what had been done to date, both before and after the opening dinner in Rock Island last Saturday evening, and described the general procedure to be followed during the next several weeks in obtaining subscriptions toward the new building.

Since all the groundwork had been completed for the campaign locally, the meeting was adjourned until early next week, when outside contacts will be commenced.

Those present last evening included Mr. Holtham, Mr. Fisk, Principal E. C. Amaron, D. J. Salls, C. E. Soles, F. S. Rugg, K.C., Dr. R. O. Rothney, W. L. R. Stewart, Raymond Wood, K. J. McLeod and J. W. Sanction.

Health Insurance System Advocated For Dominion In Institute Address

Research has brought to light the fact that one-third of the entire population of Canada has never received any medical or dental attention, according to Mrs. Gordon Harvey, Provincial convener of Child Welfare and Public Health, in an address given yesterday afternoon before the regular monthly meeting of the Asot Women's Institute.

Taking "Health Insurance" for her subject, Mrs. Harvey felt that the present age was one in which good health was a predominating factor and a matter in which all citizens were keenly interested. Canadian medical institutions and doctors must be prepared to receive a system of health insurance, she believed, as many other countries have adopted plans along this line. Health insurance is already being tried out in some sections of Canada, the speaker stated.

Mrs. Harvey contended that the depression had brought the matter of health more forcibly to the public attention, as lack of employment resulted in lack of money for proper medical attention. Worry over illness, especially if the ill person is the supporter of a family, she said, would tend to relieve the congestion often prevalent in hospitals. Mrs. Harvey believed, as with proper care many hospital cases would be eliminated. She urged the members to read and study in order that they might be able to co-operate with governments in any way that would aid the health insurance scheme.

The idea originated in Saskatchewan among a small group of doctors who were about to lose their resident doctor and the movement has since spread around the world, she said. "Disease is an enemy worse than war," Mrs. Harvey said, "and the only way to seek safety from disease is by education."

Mrs. Harvey was introduced by Mrs. Frank Mitchell and received the thanks of the members from Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Ashe.

Interesting discussions on the various aspects of child welfare work and health units followed, the members receiving much valuable information in this respect from Mrs. Harvey.

Mrs. Ashe and Mrs. Cox were appointed delegates to the county meeting at Milby and a donation was voted to the Newport Colony, with Mrs. Frank Mitchell in charge. President Mrs. R. S. Lipsey presided at the meeting, which was held at the home of Mrs. W. Mitchell. Singing of the opening ode opened the afternoon's activities, after which minutes of the previous gathering were approved and a donation of five dollars voted for the MacKinnon Memorial in Sherbrooke.

Following Mrs. Harvey's address the county president, Mrs. A. E. Abercrombie, described the leadership training course opening in Sherbrooke next Wednesday under the direction of A. Sim. The course is sponsored by McGill University and each Institute branch was advised to send a number of young people to take the six-evening course. Mrs. Abercrombie also brought before the meeting the request of the provincial board for assistance in their work in organizing short courses in handicraft.

Mrs. R. E. Mosher, county secretary-treasurer, announced that the November quarterly session would be held in Milby on November 4th at two p.m., when A. Sim will be the guest speaker.

Tea served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Smiley, Mrs. D. McElreath, Mrs. C. Greene and Mrs. W. Pearson, closed the afternoon. Mrs. Lipsey served tea at the dining table, which was covered with a lace cloth and decorated by green tapers and bronze and yellow mums. Small tables were placed about the room and about fifty enjoyed a pleasant social period.

MEMBERSHIP IN GIRLS' GROUP IS INCREASING

Girl Guide Movement in Canada Steadily Expanding, Says Divisional Commissioner in Letter to Local Company.

Since the first Canadian company was founded in St. Catharines, Ont., by Mrs. Malcolmson in November, 1906, the Girl Guide movement in the Dominion has steadily expanded and the membership is increasing each year, it was stated in a letter written by the Divisional Commissioner, Mrs. George Hume, and sent to the local Girl Guides' branch in observance of Guides' Day tomorrow.

Tracing the history and growth of the organization, Mrs. Hume said that after the first rally held in London, England, in 1909 the same of Guiding quickly spread to Canada, where the movement received hearty and enthusiastic support from Canadian girls, many of whom had inherited from their pioneer background an aptitude for campcraft, teaching, swimming and other activities.

Very little of the Guide organization was known in the Dominion when the first groups were formed and the only guidance that the companies had was a printed sheet containing the Guide law and a few badge suggestions. White middie or sweaters and blue pleated skirts comprised the popular uniform at that time, completed with Scout hats, haversacks and staves.

Guiding developed so rapidly throughout Canada that a Dominion Council was organized with representatives from the I.O.D.E., the National Council of Women and the Young Women's Association, the commissioner's letter stated. Lady Pellatt was named Chief Commissioner for Canada and headquarters were established in Toronto. Later Lady Pellatt resigned and Mrs. H. D. Warren was appointed chief in her place.

"Throughout the vast Dominion of Canada, from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the southern boundary to the Arctic circle, the Girl Guide movement has taken deep root and our hearts must glow with pride when we realize that we belong to this organization, which is growing larger every year," Mrs. Hume said.

"It's great influence will be felt in your lives as you grow older and go out into the world. You will always remember the lessons of loyalty to friends and country, of courtesy to all, of kindness to all and of resourceful cheerfulness under all or many trying circumstances."

In conclusion Mrs. Hume wished the members of the local branch a very happy Guide Day and said that some time in the future she might find it possible to make a personal visit to the company.

A coast-to-coast broadcast will be heard tomorrow in connection with the observance of Guide Day.

Railway Is Protesting City Valuation Of Its Property

Canadian Pacific Railway Serves Notice Upon City It Will Appeal Valuation of $274,000 Set on Property by Council—Total Valuation of $230,130 Requested—1935 C.P.R. Vs. City Case Still Pending.

Protesting against the city's total valuation of $274,000 on the property and claiming that the assessment should only be $230,130, the Canadian Pacific Railway has served notice upon the city that it will appeal in the Magistrate's Court the refusal of the Council to reduce the valuation, as requested by the railway on September 26th, when the valuation roll was homologated.

In the notice served upon the city it is charged that the valuers did not show the actual value of the land occupied by the road according to the average valuation of neighboring lands, exclusive of grading, rails, ties, bridges or other superstructures. It is further stated that in selecting other lands for comparative purposes for valuing the railway's property the assessors did not select lands of the same nature and in the same vicinity as the road's property, but chose lands of higher commercial value, lots facing on streets and lots not considered for agricultural purposes but solely for commercial and building purposes.

Assessment in the West Ward was fixed by the city at $192,000 and in the Centre Ward at $82,000, while the C.P.R. claims that in the former ward the valuation should be $160,730 and in the Centre Ward $69,400, or total reduction of $43,870.

In 1935 the Canadian Pacific appealed for a reduction in the valuation of their property in the city limits and the case is still pending. In regard to a lot in the West Ward on which valuers placed an assessment of $30,000 the notice says the property should not be valued at more than $25,730, or a reduction of $4,270. This property comprises the railway's main line from Belvidere street to the city limits in the direction of Lennoxville and contains 12.2 acres.

The railway considers that the valuation of $51,000 on land forming part of a West Ward lot is excessive and should be reduced to $36,200, or a reduction of $14,800. It is further alleged that notwithstanding the dilapidated and antiquated condition of the round house in the West Ward, the valuers, in making their valuation, taking into consideration the necessary repairs to keep the buildings in usable condition, failed to make any reduction in the previous assessment as based on the conditions of the buildings and the railway avers that a reduction of $18,200 should be made in this valuation and the assessment thus reduced to $72,800.

The Most Economical Type Automatic Heat Available!

With the Fairbanks Automatic Oil Burner, thermostatic control, when the home is at the right temperature, turns off the flow and fuel consumption stops; only when heat is again required does it start again. But the greatest saving is in the time and attention required for coal-firing as compared with oil.

FAIRBANKS AUTOMATIC OIL BURNER

Fairbanks Automatic Oil Heaters are made in Sherbrooke by E. & T. Fairbanks & Co., Ltd., an organization that for over a quarter of a century has manufactured and specialized in mechanical equipment. When you buy a "Fairbanks," you can rest assured that the product is backed by a strong organization that will be here to give service and satisfaction for a long time to come.

The Spirit That Is Forever England's

There are many angles from which one may analyse or judge a nation. The pages of history record the heroism of a people; literature its thoughts and aspirations; industry and commerce, its material growth and importance.

But it is from the thoughts and utterances of the average man and woman that the true pulse of a nation may best be gauged. It is what the people think, say and do that counts most. It is the patriotism, the national pride and the readiness for sacrifice in the cause of the common good which characterizes a truly great people.

We have been given a personal letter which came from a friend in England to a Record reader. One could not but read and re-read that letter, for it was full of food for thought, not to mention inspiration and comfort. It contained the thoughts of an English mother of three sons as she awaited the final outcome of the recent international crisis. She knew not whether her sons would be called away from her, but she was ready and proud, if necessary, to make the sacrifice. She wrote:

"We are listening to our Premier's speech. I am sending you this letter by international mail in great hopes you will get it quickly to tell you that my youngest son, aged sixteen, has gone to guard our coasts on air raid defence in the Territorial Army. We are proud of him, although it has hurt me to part with him, but our Empire comes first, and his King and country needs him. I expect my other two sons will follow him as troops are marching and being carried in buses and coaches through our towns. Our schools are closed and we all have gas masks, and trenches are dug all around us.

"All we can do now is to trust in God. We are not afraid as we all know well that underneath it all are the Everlasting Arms, and God will not let mere man destroy His world. God knows we are not the culprits, and we shall win.

"If any Canadian soldiers come over to the Mother Country to help us I do hope we shall have the chance to entertain some of them."

Such are the mothers of England and such is the spirit of England—prepared and not afraid to make sacrifices.

Gladly we salute this heroic English mother—one of thousands—ready to hide a tear and heart-break as she gives her sons that England may ever be a mighty power in the cause of freedom, as in the words of Archdeacon Scott, of Quebec:

"O Soul of England—England's great possession—Lead thou mankind into the way of peace."

Principle And Practice

The announcement by the Mexican Government that arrangements had been completed for the sale of "several million dollars" worth of oil to an Italian concern marks another victory of cold practice over great principles. Loudly boasting that their confiscation of the Mexican properties of British and United States oil companies was for the purpose of extending the Socialist doctrine in the second North American Republic, the Mexican authorities proudly declared that they would have nothing to do with the Fascist-inclined powers of Europe or the capitalistic nations of North America.

But with oil constantly gushing from the wells of the sunny tropics, a market had to be found for this liquid product. One by one the Socialist nations were tried. Russia had supplies of its own which it deemed ample for its needs, in fact it had some to spare. The central Chinese Government was in need of this valuable material for war but crass materialism overcame principle again when it was revealed that despite its best desires, the Chinese were sadly lacking in cash. Thus no deal resulted. Then the capitalist powers were consulted, but the former owners showed no great desire to purchase back the output of their seized properties. Finally putting their pride behind them, representatives of the Mexican Government approached emissaries of Germany and Italy, both of whom are in urgent need of petroleum. Here at last a suitable market was found and the world today is witnessing the spectacle of a boastful Communist power selling the production of a confiscated capitalist industry to an arch-enemy Fascist nation for the avowed purpose of building up an armament and economic reserve for the avowed purpose of waging a worldwide war against Socialism.

Truly, politics—and international business—makes strange bedfellows.

Coming Competition In Stratosphere

How far the passenger vessel can withstand the coming competition depends on what increased speed can be wrung out of ships. There will doubtless be marked advances in design to cut down wind and water resistance; electric motors and multiple screws may be adopted; and even an entirely new mode of propulsion may be discovered. But by the date that liners, totally enclosed like a projectile, are doing fifty knots the stratosphere aeroplane will be doing five hundred miles an hour. It appears inevitable that the man in a hurry to cross the sea will ultimately no more consider the ship than the land traveller today thinks of the horse. Yet for a long while the sea-vessel must remain an essential complementary mode of transport. The world's heaviest freight, will probably be floated across the oceans in the old manner for many decades to come. But in the end the rivalry of the air may make even the cargo vessel a curiosity.

Thirty Years Ago Today

From the Files of the Sherbrooke Record.

October 28th, 1908.

Montreal—By the recent unanimous vote of the Diocesan Synod, the Right Rev. Cosmo Gordon Lang, D.D., Bishop of Stepney and suffragan to the Bishop of London, was elected to the bishopric of Montreal.

Ottawa — The Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, leaves in a few days for Rome, where he is to represent Canada at the convention which has been called by the King of Italy for the promotion of scientific agriculture and agricultural research.

Scotstown—Among those who attended the Sunday School Convention at Eaton Corner this week, were Mrs. W. F. Bowman, Mrs. M. J. Mooney, Mrs. Peter Taylor, George Rider, of the Presbyterian Sunday School and Miss Pearl Scott, Miss Aurora Bay, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Boy of the Advent Christian Sunday School.

Wellington, N.Z.—Sir Joseph Ward strongly urges that New Zealand should subsidize a steamer service to Canada to prevent Argentina from seizing Canada's frozen mutton trade. It is certain that the Government will be returned by a large majority in the elections on November 17th. It is expected that prohibition will carry in several new districts.

Lennoxville—On Wednesday evening the members of St. George's Church choir and friends were invited to the Rectory by Rev. R. W. E. Wright in honor of Miss Jennie McCullough, who is leaving shortly for Montreal. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Alcock, Mr. and Mrs. McKindsey, the Misses Perry, McCulloch, Smith, Orr, White and Johnston, Mr. Clark, Mr. Malcolm and Master Clark, Messrs. James, Jenkins, Spanswick, Norcross, Baker and Johnston.

Births Reported—At Sherbrooke, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Jackson.

Marriages—At Frelighsburg, Miss Winnifred Ingalls to Grant Borden, of Hartford, Conn.

In the Roman Catholic Church, Newport, Miss Bertha Beamer, of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., to William Vanore, of West Derby.

Deaths Reported—Mrs. Frank Stewart, of Ayer's Cliff, Mrs. W. J. Ferris, of Frelighsburg.

PREMONITIONS

Today the west wind lightly blew across the harvest grain, 'Twas warm and gracious, yet there seemed a hint of sad refrain; 'Tis summer yet, but autumn comes across the purple plain."

The roses in the garden ways were late and pale and fair,

What time you plucked them with a smile to weave them in your hair;

"We shiver at your touch, fair maid, the frost is in the air."

O lady mine, we will not grieve though summer be a-wing,

Though passing roses droop and fade and birds forget to sing,

There lingers in your golden hair the sunshine of the spring!

There is no autumn for our love, hand clasped in hand we go,

The hastening winter on our hearts no icy chill can throw,

'Tis summer with us all the way whatever wind may blow!

VERY MUCH THEIR PROBLEM

(Saint John Telegraph Journal)

Mr. A. F. Whitney, chairman of the Brotherhood of Trainmen in the United States, uttered strange words when he declared: "We will not take a cut; the fact that the railways haven't the money is not our problem." It may not be wholly the railway workers' problem, nor theirs primarily, but it is a vital factor in the problem of their wages and employment. Mr. Whitney must be aware that in 1920 over 2,000,000 were employed by railways, 1,736,000 in 1929 and only 935,000 in June of this year. On the other hand, railway men's wages at present are described as the "highest in history," and their hours have been curtailed. Conditions have favored a few workers, but thrown many out of work. Whether the railways have or have not money is therefore very much a part of the workers' problem.

SPOON-FED FARMING

(Farmer's Advocate)

The farm problem is universal and nations have attempted to solve it each in their own way. For us in Canada a government bonus is not the solution, neither is price fixing, state control nor a wishy-washy policy of government paternalism. The remedy must be based on the recognition of agriculture as an industry and the right of farm people to enjoy the same opportunities and economic advantages that are within the reach of other social and industrial groups. If agriculture cannot survive on that basis it will have to decline. It cannot prosper on any other basis, for the financial resources of Canada are not sufficient to support agriculture as a bonus industry.

AN ITALIAN'S BAD EXPERIENCE

(Niagara Falls Review)

An Italian friend yesterday told what he said was a true story about a Canadian citizen of Italian birth, who had married a Canadian girl and went to Italy for the honeymoon. He had a thousand dollars and figured that it would be safer in the bank than being carried about. That is a reasonable assumption, so, anyway, he put it in an Italian bank. Only to discover he had lost control of it.

After a deal of trouble, he was able to withdraw $150 so that, when he left Italy to return home (fortunately he had return tickets) he also said farewell to his $850. Such stories make one understand why there is a falling off in the hero worship of Mussolini by Canadians of Italian origin.

THE HIGH COST OF POLITICS

(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

The steamer Gulpool has left Churchill with the "third and last grain cargo of the season."

Shipments of grain from the northern port for the season, carried by the three ships are reported as totalling about 1,000,000 bushels.

Investment in the Hudson Bay Railway and terminals was $53,000,000.

Interest on that amount at three per cent. for one year is more than $1,500,000.

A total of 1,000,000 bushels of grain having been moved out by that route this year the cost for interest on investment alone is above $1.50 per bushel.

After that there are operating costs to be added in.

If they would close the elevator, quit the railway and forget it, the people wouldn't be reminded so often about the high cost of playing politics.

CANADA AND BRITISH CAPITAL

(Toronto Globe and Mail)

It is one of the most serious commentaries on Canada as a member of the British Commonwealth of Nations that London capital is not contributing to the development of Canadian resources as it should. Much has been written in Britain on economic control of the Dominion by United States funds. We welcome these, certainly. Britain and the United States are the only sources on which we can draw. Our folly has placed us where we are with regard to Britain, to which we would look ordinarily for billions more. Meanwhile the Canadian taxpayer is being bled white for funds to support idle people and enable Governments to provide substitutes for private business enterprise.

Stripping the issue of its aspects of loyalty and patriotism, the taxpayer is being cheated by trifling politicians.

GET HOME-BUILDING STARTED

(Financial Post)

According to a recent U.S. study, every dollar spent in residential building creates one hour of work for labor.

And of every dollar so spent, almost fifty cents goes to purchase lumber, bricks, cement, steel, etc.

Indirect labor is said to benefit more than direct. The direct labor time employed for each dollar of expenditure is placed at twenty-four minutes; indirect labor gets thirty-six minutes of employment per dollar spent.

Assume the same relative figures hold true in Canada.

Then if residential building could be restored to the 1926-30 (normal) level, this would mean fifty million more hours of work for Canadian labor.

It would mean expenditure of a further $25 millions annually for lumber, bricks, cement, steel, etc.

This would be over and above what was spent in this way in Canada in 1937.

Of the fifty million additional working hours, twenty million would go directly to labor in the building trades; thirty million hours to indirect employment.

If we wish to be judges of all things let us first persuade ourselves of this: that there is not one of us, without fault, and he who calls himself innocent does so with reference to a witness and not to his conscience.—Seneca.

A FARMER SPEAKS HIS MIND

To the Editor,

Sherbrooke Record.

Dear Sir:—I have a few suggestions to present, to one and all, for the improvement of the farming situation, which is in great need of a dictator. An Imperial conference was held between Great Britain and Canada, especially the pork market, which at present prices is not very encouraging to the raiser. A pound of cast iron in a cream separator is at standard yearly, approximately $1 a pound delivered to the farmer. When the farmer has anything to sell he has to take what he can catch. This does not seem reasonable.

The farmer is given many election promises. One was from the Federal Liberal leader. We were to have lower prices of machinery. What happened? We have higher prices! Another deputy pleads that prosperity will only come through the enterprise and skill of the younger generation. Why, then, should we have so many drones of senators who are too old to realize what the country requires to overcome the past years of depression, when the farmers of this country suffered a very harsh scald, which could, in many ways, have been prevented. But all the load fell on the old farmer to endure. Machine shops closed their doors; banks closed their vaults, etc., and today you should give thanks to the farmer for lifting the country out of its money-famine which was caused by its few grafters who were protected by the legislature of Canada and also the U.S.A.

Why not today replace the Senate with younger minds? Some heads who will organize the units for the betterment of one and all, and have less company representatives in government? Then we should have more wool and less shoddy in our clothing—more calf-skin and less cardboard in our shoes—and a cast-iron cream separator for $40 not $140.

The farmers of this country cannot afford so much company graft as we have had during the last twenty years. On every road you may travel you see many vacated homes due practically to too small a price for farm produce. The importations of New Zealand butter, Australian wool, and high interest and to the Million Dollar Man, who has left to reside in a far away land. Canada must curb all trusts who are reaching above the measure of Justice.

Griffiths was the father of twelve children, and he decided to take them all to the seaside. They set off, reached the station, got their tickets, and were about to enter the train when the proud parent was touched on the shoulder by a policeman.

"What have you been doing?" the constable demanded. "Me? Why, nothing!" stammered the surprised man.

The policeman waved his hand toward the family.

"Then why," he asked, "is this crowd following you?"

The meaning of the word "collision" was being explained by the teacher of the class of small boys and girls.

"A collision," she said, "is when two things come together unexpectedly."

Immediately a small boy jumped up and said: "Please, teacher, we've had a collision at our house."

"What do you mean?"

"Well, mother just had twins."

Two burglars met. "How's trade?" asked the first. "Fine," replied the second. "I opened a new burglar-proof safe last night."

"What was in it?"

"Nothing!"

"But I thought you said that trade was fine?"

"So it is. The safe belonged to a bloke who makes 'em, and now he's paying me to keep quiet."

A young man just out of college sought the advice of a hard-headed, successful business man.

"Tell me, please, how I should go about getting a start in the great game of business?"

"Sell your wrist watch and buy an alarm clock," was the laconic reply.

The specialist joined his hands together and sat back in his chair, looking very grave.

"I am afraid," he said slowly, "that there is nothing else to be done. You are in a seriously run-down condition, and the only thing that will really cure you is a complete change of atmosphere. You must get away. The best thing for you would be a sea voyage. Can you manage that?"

"Certainly," replied the patient, briskly. "I'm the captain of an Atlantic liner."

HERE AND THERE

The oldest city in the world is thought to be Tiahuanaco, Bolivia. It is said to have existed before the building of the pyramids and before Ur.

The name "dime" for the American ten-cent piece came from an expression denoting payment in full by a kiss.

The task of pumping out the sea water in reclaimed land in Holland now is done by modern electric and steam engines, instead of the picturesque old windmills.

A fishing boat sailed into the harbor at Quimper, French port, with a strange catch. The net had hauled in a wild boar, found swimming three miles from shore.

McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

BY WM. E. McKENNEY,
Secretary, American Contract Bridge League

FORCING OPPONENT TO SURRENDER TRICKS IS EXPERT STRATEGY

Par bridge—par score is 100. Deduct 10 points for each numbered play you failed to make correctly. Credits are scored for expert plays.

1. The final contract should be four hearts. However, no demerits are given for a different order of bidding, as for instance, bidding one club rather than one heart on the first round.

2. After cashing the king of diamonds, West should shift to a spade, leading the ten. He can count three probable tricks in his own hand. The shift must be made, hoping to establish a trick in partner's hand to defeat the contract.

3. Declarer should lead two rounds of trumps, after winning the spade trick with the ace. He then cashes the spade king, to rob West of an exit card if he held the high trump and only two spades. He should then start to play clubs.

Credit for an expert play is given the declarer for playing in this manner.

4. West should not ruff the clubs. As his hand has been stripped of spades, he would then be forced into giving declarer a slough and a ruff.

The declarer gains another credit for an expert play if after playing his clubs he leads the queen of diamonds, thereby throwing West in the lead. Remember, the opening lead was the diamond king, marking West with the ace. West is now helpless, and must give the declarer a slough and a ruff.

1. If South bids one spade, should West overcall?

2. What action should North take if West does overcall?

3. If North makes a bid, should South bid hearts or red diamonds?

4. West cashes two diamonds and then leads a trump. What should South play to trick four?

Two expert credits can be earned in the play of this hand.

IN THE WOMEN'S SPHERE

YOU NEED MAKE NO BONES ABOUT SERVING SKULL COOKIES AT A HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Cookies must be invited to every informal party. So let's toss up a batch for Halloween and make them something to wonder at.

Skull and Crossbone Cookies

(About 2 1/2 dozen)
Dough: 1 cup butter, 2 cups granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup thick cooked pumpkin, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract, 6 cups sifted all-purpose flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons mace.

Filling: 11-2 cups cooked prunes, 1 cup cubed orange, 1 cup liquid in which prunes were cooked, 1 cup chopped nut meats, 6 tablespoons butter, 6 tablespoons confectioner's sugar, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons cinnamon.
Dough: Cream butter, add sugar and cream thoroughly. Add beaten eggs, pumpkin and flavoring and beat. Add flour sifted with salt, soda and spice mix. Divide into pieces of convenient size to handle. Place on floured board, add sufficient flour to make rolling easy, and roll out thin. Cut with floured cookie cutter into rather large rounds.

From one-half of rounds, cut small round holes for eyes, a slit for a nose and a gash for a mouth. Place on cookie sheet. Pull "mouth" down in "face" rounds to give an open mouth appearance.

Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) twelve to fourteen minutes. Roll crossbones from this lengths of cookie dough, making ends thick and rounded, and bake.

Filling: Pit prunes and cut into small pieces. Combine all ingredients in a saucepan and stir until well blended. Bring to a boil and cook and stir until very thick (about five minutes); cool.

Spread plain cookie rounds with prune filling and cover with "face" rounds. Frost with pale butter and sugar icing, frosting around eyes, nose and mouth. Frost ends of crossbones and place under each "skull" on serving plate.

Here's good fun and good eating for the Halloween party—fruit-filled cookies that look like skulls and crossbones.

Keep the menu simple yet sturdy. Have one large center dish of a hot food, such as highly flavored baked beans, spaghetti and ham in casserole or a platter with stacks of steaming frankfurters piled on it. Salad is always welcome, but celery, olives, radishes, carrot strips can take its place and require less service. Assorted breads, sliced and buttered, or small hot biscuits, buttered, cookies, doughnuts, individual pumpkin pies, bowls of autumn fruits, especially apples, yellow candies, popcorn, unlimited supplies of hot coffee, fresh cider or ginger ale will complete the hearty feast for the witches, black cats and spooks who have a way of eating like hungry human beings on Halloween.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Messrs. W. H. Wilson and Aime L. Allard, of Montreal, were business visitors in Sherbrooke yesterday.

The many friends of Miss Doris Lee, St. Louis street, will regret to hear that she is a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital.

Mrs. J. Alex Hutchinson, after closing her summer home at North Hatley, is spending a few days in Sherbrooke, a guest of Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Hume, before returning to Montreal to take up residence for the winter.

Dr. Neil F. Dinning, who recently spent a few days holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. Fergus Dinning, at "Prospect Lodge," their summer home at Little Lake Magog, is acting as interne at the Montreal General Hospital.

Among those who are assisting at the V. O. N. Thrift Shop, which was such a grand success yesterday, the opening day, are Miss H. Johnson, Miss A. Hutchinson, Miss Kathleen Leonard, Mrs. F. H. Rowe, Mrs. Bordoff and Mrs. W. L. Reford Stewart, who today are relieving some of the ladies who were "on duty" yesterday.

St. Patrick's church hall was the scene of a delightful and largely attended card party and tea yesterday afternoon at which the hostesses were Mrs. Fred Conway, Mrs. A. B. Smith, Mrs. F. G. Shelley and Mrs. A. R. Walters. Mrs. Austin Workman and Mrs. George Condon did the honors at the beautifully appointed table, which was effectively done with bronze and yellow chrysanthemums and gold candles. Miss A. McGivney and Mrs. M. Wolfe won the prizes at the five hundred tables and at bridge the winners were Mrs. J. E. Caron, Mrs. T. J. Flaherty, Miss E. Oliver, Mrs. T. J. Wolfe and Mrs. L. E. Chamberlain.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

- 1—Is it rude to yawn?
- 2—Is it bad manners for a man to comb his hair in public?
- 3—Should you take hold of a person's sleeve or keep your hand on his shoulder while you talk to him?
- 4—Is it bad manners to chew gum in a football stadium?
- 5—Does it show good breeding to try to get by with smoking where it is not allowed?

What would you do if—
You are talking on the telephone and missed the other person's last remark? Say—

- (a) "Speaker louder?"
 - (b) "I beg your pardon?"
 - (c) "I'm sorry, I didn't understand?"
- ANSWERS
1—Yes, if the yawn isn't made as inconspicuous as possible.
2—Yes.
3—No.
4—No.
5—No. Just the opposite.
Best "What Would You Do?" solution—either (b) or (c).

COURTING DANGER EVERY CHILD'S DELIGHT

A neighbor told Frank she did not want him playing in front of her house. There was no playground in the neighborhood and her request was, therefore, unreasonable. He paid no attention, so she stared after him but soon gave up the chase.

Returning, she stopped off to speak to Frank's mother, who listened politely and said she would attend to the boy. But she didn't. When Frank came in, she merely observed, "I understand you have been annoying that cranky Mrs. Crooks again. Why don't you leave her alone?"

The youngster said, "I will," but the next day he completely forgot his promise and took his gang over to annoy Mrs. Crooks. All they had to do was stand in front of her house. It promised to be fun.

Pretty soon, Mrs. Crooks came out fuming, and threatened to report them to the principal at school, if they didn't leave. The boys mimicked her and replied tauntingly. When the contest reached a certain pitch, she was compelled to go after them.

This, although she did not know it, was exactly what they wanted her to do. Daringly, they stood close to them before breaking into a run. Returning from the lost race, she called them "hoodlums." But, of course, they were just normal boys.

Children have a strong sense of justice. A boy will carry a grudge against an adult whom he regards as mean and unreasonable and will want to get "even." Other children are quick to enter any conspiracy that promises excitement. They have a keen appreciation of danger and particularly enjoy the excitement of being chased.

Although Frank's parents may be out of sympathy with Mrs. Crooks personally, I believe Frank ought to be taken in hand firmly, if she complains again. This would be like getting caught, and should put an end to the trouble between himself and Mrs. Crooks.

Children must learn to respect the rights and property of persons they do not admire, as well as those whom they respect.

Miss Helen Elliott, of Bishopston, is spending the winter with Mrs. Florence Fashley, Magog street.

Mrs. George Hume is leaving today to spend a few days at her country home in Lennoxville.

Mrs. Edward J. Baron was a recent guest of Mr. B. E. Winget, Morill street.

An exceptionally enjoyable Halloween party was held last evening at the E. T. Fairbanks Company Limited, when the office staff entertained in honor of their wives, friends and other guests. The office, where Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Hersey and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Willis received, was beautifully decorated with Halloween colors and symbols, their brilliant beauty greatly enhancing the pleasure of the delightful party. The evening's programme was inaugurated with numerous jolly games, these being followed by a most interesting showing of moving pictures taken by the employees. Later a delectable supper was served at small tables placed about the gaily-decorated room. Mr. H. E. Saunders had the honor of proposing the toast to the guests-of-honor, Mrs. Nellie F. Hersey, mother of Mr. C. F. Hersey, and Mr. T. McMillan, vice-president of the company, who later ably responded. Another pleasing interlude occurred when a letter was read from Mr. K. E. Barrett, former manager here, expressing regret at being unable to be present the guests concurring by uniting in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." The extending of birthday greetings to Mr. Danny Towne, a popular member of the staff, was another happy feature of the successful party. After a community sing-song, the guests enjoyed a lovely violin solo played by Mr. Gilbert Duford, who later led the singers, when the party concluded with "God Save the King."

Profiles For Today

FORMER SOCIALIST BOGEY NOW NO MENACE

Recently, a research job took me to reading books, magazines and papers which concerned the period from 1906 to 1912, in the United States. There were no Nazi, Fascist or Communist menaces in those days. The "menace" then was Socialism. Roosevelt—I speak of Teddy and not of Franklin—was branded "A Socialist and a wrecker of the Constitution," when he did a little trust-busting and I.C.C. investigating. But the real terror of his day, the man who had the viewers-with-alarm foaming at the mouth, was Upton Sinclair.

Sinclair has now turned sixty. The last time he struck terror into the hearts of conservatives was in 1934, when he ran for governor of California and lost by a few thousand votes. He's not sorry, because he believes his real function is being the Socialist novelist.

Certainly his books do pack a wallop. The unforgettable "The Jungle," of 1906, started a Federal investigation of the meat packers that brought about the government inspected meat we eat today. "Little Steel" will be his newest book and that makes his 700th title. Sinclair is published in fifty languages. Sinclair started his writing career by producing pot-boilers for a thriller magazine called the "Army and Navy Weekly." Later he became socially conscious and swung over to Socialism. He has willingly suffered after parading with black flags on his arm in front of John D. Rockefeller's offices in New York City after the Ludlow riots.

They judged him on a charge of criminal syndicalism in his home state of California, for reading the Constitution of the United States to a public gathering. Nevertheless, he still occupies a rambling house in a middle-class section of Pasadena.

Sinclair receives bales of mail and answers all of it with the aid of his seventy-year-old secretary. He subscribes to fifty magazines and reads them all. He is a slight, mild-speaking, pleasant man with thinning hair and an indomitable will to fight. He thinks the United States has improved, but that it is far, far from perfect. He thinks nothing of his victories and regards his defeats merely as delayed triumphs.

COOKSHIRE

R. M. Elliott, agriculturist, has announced a regional fox show organized by the Department of Agriculture will be held at Scotstown and Compton early in November. This event will be of interest to many because of the importance of fur farming in the country. Statistics show that more than two hundred foxes and the total number kept is about 6,500. A very attractive prize list is offered and it is anticipated that many who never have had an opportunity of comparing their foxes with others will exhibit.

The smallest heart of all predatory animals is that of the lion.

BLACKHEADS
Blackheads go quickly by a simple method. Just dissolve them. Get two ounces of peroxide powder from your druggist, rub this with a hot wet cloth gently over the blackheads—and you will wonder where they have gone. Have a Hollywood complexion.

LADIES' GROUP AT WATERVILLE PLANS PAGEANT

Committees Appointed to Make Arrangements for Bridal Pageant to Be Staged by United Church W.M.S.

Waterville, Oct. 25.—The October meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of Waterville United Church was entertained by Mrs. Colquhoun at her home, with twenty ladies present.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved and Mrs. Spafford reported that the Associate Helpers had brought in thirty-seven mite boxes containing $28.27.

Mrs. Blier reported that a bridal pageant was to be held in the United Church, and committees were appointed to make necessary arrangements. Supplies were brought in to be sent to St. John's Hall in Quebec City.

The president, Mrs. Fulcher, led in the thank-offering service for the Honan Mission Jubilee, Mrs. Spafford, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. A. L. Blier also taking part. From the thank-offering a very gratifying sum was received and dedicated and a pleasant social period followed, when Mrs. Colquhoun served afternoon tea.

General Notes.
Mrs. James Morgan, of Rawdon, was an overnight guest of her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Parkinson. She was accompanied here by Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hughes, of Montreal, who were guests at the same home.

Mrs. Inez Gunderson and sons, Masters Clifford and Lloyd Gunderson, of Lennoxville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Ayer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Parkinson, of Hatley, and their daughter, Miss Mabeth Parkinson, of East Angus, were dinner guests at the Parkinson home.

Mr. Robert Johnson, Mr. Kenneth Johnson, Miss Helen Johnson and Mrs. Mervyn Smith and little daughter, Beverly, were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vere Andrews in Coaticook.

Found in the swamps of Cuba, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Trinidad, and along the east coast of Central America, balsa is the world's lightest wood.

MEMOIRS OF THE LATE SIR ROBERT BORDEN

Borden Cabinet Took No Stands on Party Lines

By R. K. CARNEGIE
 Canadian Press Staff Writer.
 (Copyright, 1938, by The Canadian Press)

ARTICLE II.

Ottawa, Oct. 28.—(C)—Experience in the war-born Union Government convinced the late Sir Robert Borden of the artificial character of lines dividing Canadian Liberals and Conservatives.

In the forefront of party battles for almost a quarter of a century, Sir Robert fought on the Conservative side in the Manitoba school question, the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway issue, reciprocity and the fierce debates over naval contributions to Britain. Then, in the strain and stress of war, he organized a Coalition Cabinet and sat down in council with Liberals to plan Canada's supreme effort.

A decade later, from the calm of retirement, he wrote in his memoirs, to be published on November 1st by the Macmillan Company of Canada, that his Union Cabinet never divided on party lines. The ministers differed on many questions but always there were Liberals and Conservatives on each side. He added:

"Perhaps the artificial character of party division in Canada was never better exemplified than in my experience of the characteristics which I encountered among the members of the new Government."

He wrote: "The most trusted Tories of the old type were two men who had always called themselves Liberals and who had been prominent members of the Liberal party. I who had been classed as an ultra-Tory, frequently found myself more in agreement with (Hon. N. W.) Rowell and (Hon. T. A.) Crerar, the more advanced among the Liberal element than with my former colleagues."

Borden took frequent occasion in his memoirs to express his appreciation for the sturdy loyalty which his Liberal and Conservative colleagues gave his leadership at that time.

The formation of a Union Government in October, 1917, will probably be regarded by historians as the greatest of Borden's political achievements. Sir Robert himself regarded it as one of his greatest efforts.

For more than a year the project of a Coalition Government had been mooted in Canada. Sir Robert, who died on June 10th, 1937, wrote: "Many of the suggestions took little account of the immense difficulties that confront a party leader undertaking to achieve such a consummation. I had always held and I more than once expressed the view that such a coalition could never be created until conditions made it practically inevitable."

Throughout union negotiations which extended from late in July to well into October, Borden had a constant appreciation of the danger that in bringing Liberals into his Cabinet he might destroy the Conservatives who had given him loyal support ever since he became Prime Minister.

In his memoirs Borden outlined in great detail the steps that finally resulted in Union Government being formed. He wrote: "After I had announced the policy of compulsory military service the question of coalition was discussed on many occasions with my colleagues and as was most natural, I encountered strong, even vehement, divergence of opinion."

"On Thursday, May 24th, 1917, there was a final discussion in council. Several of my colleagues strongly favored it while others were violently opposed." Finally he told them they had made him sufficiently acquainted with their views, "that the duty of decision rested with me and that I would subsequently make them acquainted with my conclusion."

The next day he had an interview with Sir Wilfrid Laurier. "I proposed that a coalition should be formed in which his party and my own should be represented by equal numbers of ministers outside the office of Prime Minister. I pointed out the dangers and disadvantages of a war election. Finally he promised to give my proposal fair consideration and said he must consult some of his friends."

After further negotiations Sir Wilfrid declined to enter the coalition because of his opposition to conscription.

"The situation was full of difficulties," Sir Robert wrote. "Sir Wilfrid Laurier had been leader of his party for thirty years and during half that period had been Prime Minister. Great events had marked his administration of public affairs. His prestige was unsurpassed and, as leader of his party, he was invested with absolute pre-eminence. Even in the intense feeling aroused by the war the idea of breaking with his leadership seemed almost inconceivable. Those whom the call to duty impelled toward the full and legitimate consequence of their convictions shrank back dismayed when the time for action came."

Throughout the negotiations Borden again and again offered to retire if someone else could be found who would be more successful in forming a Government. He consulted Sir Clifford Sifton frequently and also conferred with John W. Diefes, editor of the Manitoba Free Press, C. C. Ballantyne, afterwards Senator, H. W. Woods, of the Alberta Grain Growers' Association, and many others for advice.

Reproduced records from his diary written at the time. Here are a few of the entries:

"August 9.—Inconclusive conference with Laurier at Government House under arrangement by Governor-General, Laurier, (Sir George) Foster, (Sir Lomer) Gouin, (Lord) Shaughnessy, (Sir Clifford) Sifton and myself."

"August 10.—Discussed with (Hon. Arthur) Meighen and (Hon. J. D.) Reid my suggestion to have the Governor-General call (Mr. Justice) Duff to form a Union Government. Both fiercely opposed."

"August 12.—Meighen reports Western Liberals strong for coalition. Sifton spoke of objections to my leadership. Suggests Sir William Meredith. Colleagues are determined there shall be no change."

"August 14.—Meighen and Reid strongly urge that Meredith leadership should be abandoned."

"August 15.—Suggested to Meighen and Reid that Sir Robert Falconer (then President of Toronto University) should be asked to form a Government."

"August 17.—(Hon. Robert) Rogers' resignation accepted. He says we are heading straight for destruction."

"August 19.—Sifton says (T. A.) Crerar suggests Foster or Sir C. H. Tupper as leader. I said I would hold up both hands for Foster."

"So the diary proceeded, day by day. Here are other entries:

"September 3.—Heard from Duff that Tilley would not enter Government and therefore Duff could not come. Sent for Tilley; appealed to his patriotism but without effect."

In amplification of the diary the memoirs state on August 27th he received a telegram from J. A. Calder, Crerar, Attorney-General Hudson, of Manitoba, and Premier A. L. Sifton, of Alberta, stating they favored Union Government and creation of a War Council of six but a change of leadership was essential and suggested Foster, Sir Adam Beck or Sir William Mulock.

To the protest raised in a subsequent caucus against giving Liberals equal representation in the Cabinet, Borden replied that "Canada was faced with a crisis above all party considerations; it was vital that necessary reinforcements should be supplied by compulsory military service; without this the Canadian Corps could not be maintained and would feel itself betrayed; I meant to keep my pledge to our soldiers; if dissentient Liberals would come in I would give them equal representation in the Government."

He conceived it, led me to that conclusion; they had their duty to consider and if their conception did not coincide with mine, their only course was to select another leader. There was no more murmuring and the caucus acquiesced but there were some dissenters."

Ultimately Borden remained as Prime Minister and J. A. Calder, Hon. A. L. Sifton, T. A. Crerar, N. W. Rowell and General S. C. Meighen were the Liberals added to the Cabinet on October 12th. Other Liberals, F. B. Carvell, A. K. Maclean and Gideon D. Robertson, were sworn in later.

CARPET BOWLING

TWO TEAMS TIED IN TEMPLE LOOP

The outfits skipped by J. Jowett and A. Smith remain undefeated in first place of the Temple Carpet Bowling League. Jowett's quartette defeated J. Cook's four, six to four, and Smith piloted his crew to a nine to one win against Bob Cutts and aides.

Tom Hurn, G. Davidson, G. McLeod, Ralph Cutts and R. Jowett led their outfits to triumph over four hands by W. Duncan, L. Stevenson, T. Moynihan, P. Mathias and L. Dwyer.

Country And Dairy Products Prices

Fresh eggs were again slightly easier in price, with A-medium eggs leading the way down. The butter market was steady for spot supplies and stronger on futures. Cheese remained in the doldrums and the undertone was easy. Potatoes continued strong, with quotations ranging up to $1.10 per bag. Poultry receipts of dressed stock were reported increasing. On account of chickens being lower than a year ago the demand is improving.

Spot butter sales were 300 boxes of 38 score at 21 1/2¢ at the Commodity Exchange, where the close was posted at 22 1/2¢ to 22 3/4¢ for 32 score and 21 1/2¢ for 38 score. There were eleven exchanges in the futures, November to January, at 1/2¢ spread. One November future sold at 22 1/2¢. Futures closed firmer, 1/2¢ to 3/4¢ higher, at 22 1/2¢ to 22 3/4¢ for November, 22 1/2¢ to 22 3/4¢ for December, and 22 1/2¢ to 22 3/4¢ for January. The open spot market was 22 1/2¢ to 22 3/4¢ for No. 1 and small lots to the retail trade were selling by jobbers at 23 1/2¢ to 24¢ for solids and 25¢ to 24 1/2¢ for prints.

Spot cheese sales at the Commodity Exchange were 65 boxes of Ontario colored at 13 1/2¢ and 100 boxes of Quebec white at 13 1/2¢. Spot prices at the close were 13 1/2¢ to 13 3/4¢ for Ontario white, 13 1/2¢ to 13 3/4¢ for Ontario colored, 13 1/2¢ to 13 3/4¢ for Quebec white and 13 1/2¢ to 13 3/4¢ for Quebec colored. The open cheese market was 13 1/2¢ to 14¢ for Ontario and 13 1/2¢ to 13 3/4¢ for Quebec.

Graded shipments of eggs in used free cases were selling on spot at 39¢ for A-large, 38¢ for A-medium, 29-30¢ for A-pullets, 26-27¢ for B and 20 1/2¢ to 21¢ for C. Offerings at the Commodity Exchange were at 39¢, 37¢, 30¢, 26¢ and 21¢ respectively. Small lots to the retail trade were selling by jobbers in cartons, and one dozen, as cents less for loose, per dozen, as follows: A-l large, 51-52¢; A-1 medium, 48¢; A-1 pullets, 39¢; A-large, 45¢; A-medium, 42¢; A-pullets, 35¢; B-large, 34¢; B, 32¢; C, 25¢.

The potato market was $1 to $1.10 for New Brunswick No. 1, 80-90¢ for No. 1 Quebecs and 70-80¢ for No. 2 Quebecs, per 80-lb. bags. The poultry market was quoted to the retail trade by wholesale jobbing houses as follows on A-grade dressed stock, B-grade being one cent to two cents per lb. less: Turkeys, 29-32¢; Milkfed chickens, 24-27¢; selected chickens, 22-25¢; selected fowl, 20-23¢; B-grade ducks, 26¢; domestic ducks, 21¢.

CEF GARCIA IS UNDERDOG FOR ARMSTRONG GO

Welterweight Champion Rates Five to Seven Favorite, but Garcia Hits Hard and May Register Upset.

New York, Oct. 28.—(P)—Despite the fact ticket sales have been none too brisk to date, it should be quite a meet in Madison Square Garden next Wednesday night when Henry Armstrong defends his welterweight championship over the fifteen round route against hard-hitting Ceferino Garcia.

Win, lose or draw — of course Henry can't see anything but a win — it should be Armstrong's hardest fight. And, as the record books show, the dusky "Hammer" has had quite a few battles in the past fifteen months or so.

His hands say he's at his peak after a long rest since winning the lightweight crown from Lou Ambers last August; that he's hitting well and is full of zest. But at the same time Garcia looks in great trim and has long been regarded as possessing heavier artillery than "Hurricane Hank."

For instance there is Garcia's "bolo" punch, allegedly developed while using a bolo knife in the sugarcane and bamboo fields of the Philippines. Even if Ceferino never saw a bolo knife, his punch is a nifty: a sort of high-flung right-handed chop which, with his left hook, belongs in the museum of fistic specialties.

Garcia had Barney Ross on the floor three times and though "C" didn't win, he is generally credited with having left the former welterweight ruler pretty much open at the seams and in none too good shape to withstand Armstrong's successful challenge last May.

According to Ross, Garcia is a good bet to win within five or six rounds. If he doesn't, Barney figures Armstrong good enough to win on points. Or if you want the word of Ambers who battered the "Hammer" quite some before doing his lightweight crown, "Garcia should do heavy damage—if he can hit Armstrong."

Garcia started the favorite in the betting, mainly because he is a strong, husky, natural welterweight who hits hard. But since the week-end the Broadway odds have shifted to about even and in some spots the champion, rated on his good showing in recent workouts, rules the favorite at five to seven.

"I am compelled to sentence you to a month's imprisonment. And follow my advice — try to keep more sober in future." "All right, your worship; I am going to keep sober for a whole month."

TURF CLASSIC ON BOOKS FOR TUESDAY NEXT

Clash Between War Admiral and Seabiscuit, Turfdom's Mightiest, Should Be Thriller from Start to Finish.

Baltimore, Oct. 28.—(P)—Fast-stepping Seabiscuit was served notice today that unless he does some mighty, mighty fast stepping right from the start of things in his race with War Admiral Tuesday, he will be a very, very sorry second at the end of the race.

And of course, added Charley Kurtsinger, he (Seabiscuit) will be second in the two-hour race anyway. Kurtsinger was just suggesting that the Biscuit get going right away in order to be in sight when War Admiral roars across the finish line.

Kurtsinger is the jockey who will be astride the animal in the mid-afternoon, three-thirtieths showdown with Seabiscuit at Pimlico, and how does he feel about his mount?

"War Admiral is the best horse to come to the races in the last decade. He never really has been extended in a race during the past two years. The Admiral is in a class by himself."

That's how Kurtsinger feels. The veteran, spill-scared jockey's statement brought the impending clash of turfdom's mightiest to something of a verbal impasse. Because only yesterday little George Woolf, noted jockey who will ride Seabiscuit, was saying "It's a pipe for the Biscuit. I know my horse, and we will be there in front when the time comes to judge the finish."

FINE SERMONS DELIVERED IN MAGOG CHURCH

Rev. Albert Hinton, of Pointe Claire, Guest Preacher at Special Service in St. Paul's United Church.

Magog, Oct. 28.—With Rev. Albert Hinton, of Pointe Claire, as guest-preacher at both morning and evening services, special services were held in St. Paul's United Church here in observance of Thanksgiving.

Mr. Hinton took for his text at the morning service "Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving," and for his evening sermon "In everything give thanks." The speaker compared the abundance of blessings in the Eastern Townships to the few in Palestine and traced the story of the Israelites.

Under the leadership of E. Robinson the choir sang, "Rejoice," at the morning service, while "How Beautiful Our Country," was given during the evening service.

The church was beautifully decorated with appropriate harvest vegetables and flowers.

MISSION WORK REVIEWED
The October thanksgiving meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Merrill, Oliver's Corner. There were about twenty-eight present. The hymn, "O God Our Help in Ages Past," was sung, with Mrs. A. E. Swoger at the piano, after which Mrs. George Ball, secretary of the Presbyterian in Alberta, whose home is in Stettin, Alberta, was called on by the president, Mrs. E. Ball. Mrs. G. Ball told of the visit she had had with Miss Margaret Gay, of Honan, China, when she was home on furlough. This was followed by a reading by Mrs. Davidson, of Georgetown. The hymn, "Where Cross the Crowded Ways of Life," was then sung, followed by a reading by Mrs. A. E. Swoger. As the subject for the day was the study of North Honan Mission, Mrs. Ball and Mrs. Harris read articles concerning this mission. The meeting closed with the singing of the hymn, "Lord in the Strength of Grace," followed by the benediction pronounced by Rev. C. B. McLaughlin.

General Notes.

Judge chose for one of his texts the verse found in Philippians 3, verse 14, "I press toward the goal for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus." He stressed the fact that at college, Mr. Yates was an unusually clever and bright student, and that after receiving his degree of Bachelor of Arts, he went to Germany for further study, to fit himself in the best manner possible for his chosen life work, most of which was done without any regular salary, as he wanted to leave himself free to go wherever he felt God wanted him to be. Rev. Judge mentioned hymn 640 in the hymn book as perfectly expressing the religious ideal. Mr. Yates and many here recognized it as one he often used. The service was most impressive and everyone appreciated the splendid tribute of praise given Mr. Yates by his friend and comrade, Rev. E. P. Judge.

AYER'S CLIFF SCENE OF 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. L. Place Guests of Honor at Surprise Party Celebrating Their Silver Wedding Anniversary.

Ayer's Cliff, Oct. 28.—Mr. and Mrs. Warren L. Place were pleasantly surprised when a large gathering of relatives from Newport, Vt., Sherbrooke, Capleton, Eustis and Ayer's Cliff gathered to congratulate them upon the occasion of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Mr. Walter Counter, of Sherbrooke, on behalf of all present, wished Mr. and Mrs. Place many more years of health, happiness and prosperity and presented them with a chest of linen and an "Aladdin Lamp."

Mr. Place, in reply, voiced his appreciation for the lovely gifts and the thought which prompted the celebration.

Miss Marjorie Place, daughter of the bride and groom of twenty-five years ago, and Miss Lucille Blake, of Newport, Vt., acted as hostesses and served a most delectable supper in the dining-room where a four-layer wedding cake, decorated in silver and white, and made by Mrs. Michael Thomas, of Newport, Vt., centered the table. The happy couple also received a wedding cake from their daughter, and at the conclusion of the meal both cakes were cut and served by the guests of honor. The evening's entertainment was featured by a musical programme organized by Mr. Alfred King.

The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Place, Ayer's Cliff; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Thomas, Andrew Thomas and Miss Lucille Blake, Newport, Vt.; Mr. Harold Drew, Eustis; Mr. Gordon Smerton, Capleton; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Counter and three sons, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred King and son, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Counter and son, Mrs. Caroline Counter, Mrs. Florie Bandard and nephew Lloyd and Mrs. Annie Smerton, all of Sherbrooke, and Mr. Duncan McTavish, of Georgeville.

OYSTER SUPPER AT MASSAWIPPI FINE SUCCESS

Men's Committee of Massawippi Union Church Holds Successful Party—Gratifying Results.

Massawippi, Oct. 28.—The annual oyster supper under the auspices of the men's committee of the Massawippi Union Church was held recently in the Town Hall with an attendance of about one hundred. Supper was served from six to eight o'clock. The tables were attractively decorated with fall flowers.

Those in charge of preparing the supper were H. Edson, Mrs. G. Hunter and Mrs. L. S. Colt, assisted by Messrs. L. S. Colt, E. Smith, and A. Laduke. Preston Schoolcraft had charge of the tables and was assisted by Messrs. Alec Rowat, Alex Thompson and Graydon Carr and the Misses Alice Rowat, Doris Butryk, Elsie Boyes and Alberta Thompson. Leo Burczyk acted as treasurer.

The many subscribers to this event were loud in their praise of the men's committee who had worked so hard to make the supper the success it was. A net profit of over twenty-five dollars was the gratifying result of the affair. During the supper music was furnished by A. F. Johnston and his orchestra.

General Notes

ATHLETICS TRAVEL TO VALOIS ON SUNDAY

Start Home And Home Championship Series

Eddie Wolfe Leads Injury-Riddled Aggregation Against Valois in Game Set for Sunday Afternoon — Evans, Ingalls, Osborne, Whittier and Gillam on Sidelines.

An injury-riddled Sherbrooke Athletics football team hits the play-off trail on Sunday, travelling to Valois to meet the home team in the first game of a home and home series.

Valois, winners of the metropolitan division of the Q.R.F.U., are reputed to be a strong and fast-moving aggregation, and Eddie Wolfe's squad will be at a sore disadvantage. Hally Evans is still inactive as a result of a rupture received in the St. Lambert game here, Jack Osborne has torn stomach muscles, Ross Ingalls' face is in bad shape, Whittier, from Magog, dropped a weight on his toe and is on the sidelines, while Len Gillam, of course, is held out due to an injured knee.

According to play-off arrangements, Sherbrooke and Valois will play a home and home series and the winners of the Verdun division and the city division will meet in a similar series, the two victorious teams to clash for the provincial championship.

Coaches Eddie Wolfe and Ed Sims are drilling their team far into the night on the Parade Grounds with a view to getting the jump on their rivals.

The fact that Sherbrooke has been inactive for two weeks will prove a handicap, as their tackling will likely be off and their condition perhaps a little on the short side.

Working in the pivot position is Gerry Cathcart, with Fred Sinclair, Ken Jackson, Don Bozer, Bill Hammond and Dusty Miller holding down half-line berths, George Dupont and Jim Foley centre the front wall, with Art Carvell, Babe Jones, Babe Year and Willis Brooks at inside and Bus Tomlinson, Lloyd Styan, of Magog, Art Simpson, Ed Baylis and Russ Johnston in middle spots.

Osborne and Ingalls were out trotting around the track last night, and may possibly get into Sunday's game, but Eddie Wolfe stated this morning that he would use them only if the situation became desperate.

The team will travel by car, and anyone wishing to furnish a machine to transport the team should contact Issie Eichenberg, hard-working treasurer, who is in charge of arrangements.

The return game will probably be played in Sherbrooke one week from tomorrow, although the date will not be decided definitely until early next week.

Frank Milani, touted by scouts as a successor to Lou Gehrig in the not-too-distant future, takes the first step up the Yankees' farm chain next year, moving from Wenatchee (Wash.) to the class "A" Binghamton club.

DUTTON THINKS AMERICANS ARE MUCH STRONGER

Two New Forwards and Young Defenceman Added to Veteran New York Squad — "Busher" Jackson's Brother Joins.

Saskatoon, Oct. 28.—(P)—Acquisition of two forwards and a young defenceman to blend with his "keep punching" veterans has made Manager Mervyn (Red) Dutton confident his New York Americans will be much stronger in the coming National Hockey League campaign. "We'll give any team in the league all they can handle," he said today with a conviction that was contagious.

The vibrant manager who considers wasting time a cardinal sin, already has worked the two new forwards into the A's line-up. Art Jackson, twenty-two, brother of the famous "Busher" of Toronto Maple Leaf fame and youngest player to join the star-spangled squad since Dave Schreiner reported four seasons ago, will replace the injured Lorne Carr at right wing on the first-string line with Art Chapman and Schreiner.

Herby Goldsworthy, who learned his hockey in Edmonton and who is only thirty-one in spite of nine years big league service, will flank Red Beattie on the third line with Johnny Sorrell holding down the other wing.

Both forwards were acquired from Boston Bruins—Jackson on option for one season and Goldsworthy as an outright purchase. The other newcomers to the roster is Wilkie Field, of Trail, B.C. The husky defenceman, last with Seattle of the Pacific Coast League, will pair with Johnny Gallagher.

The other backline combination consists of the Amerks' heavy-duty standbys, little Al Murray and big Joe Jerwa. Earl Robertson, so vital a factor in carrying the Amerks to last season's Stanley Cup semi-finals, again will be in goal.

The second-string forward line also remains unchanged, with veteran Nels Stewart as centre for Tommy Anderson and Eddie Wiseman. Hooley Smith, playmaker last year for Sorrell and Beattie, will be the utility man, filling in on attack or defence.

Dutton admits that it will take players like Stewart, Chapman, Sorrell and Beattie some time to work into condition. "But once they're in," he adds, "we'll be tough to beat."

Carr's ankle injury, suffered in an exhibition game with New York Rangers last week, was a blow since the little forward, a hero of the Amerks' Stanley Cup stand last winter, had put on needed weight and was in fine shape. It is expected he will be out for at least a month.

Only veterans of the 1937-38 squad who will be missing when the A's open their campaign November 3 at Chicago against the Stanley Cup-defending Black Hawks will be "Ching" Johnson, now at manager in his own right with Minneapolis of the American Association, and Happy Day, who may be a N.H.L. referee this season.

GIRLS' HOCKEY LOOP PLANNED FOR NEW YORK

Eight-Team League More-or-Less Formed, with Branches to Be Established in Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

New York, Oct. 28.—The winter half of the New York sport season has been inaugurated with the more-or-less formation of a girls' hockey league, with branches to be established in Philadelphia and Atlantic City.

This will satisfy a long-felt need of Broadway sports fans, who have been forced in the past to confine their hockey enthusiasm to games between men, who have large biceps but virtually no sex appeal.

Guiding spirits of the movement are the two large Sherwood sisters, Morice and Jean, who are professional fancy skaters but will be amateur hockey players. They have one full team on the ice now and expect to get together seven more.

"Maybe we'll have to cut down on the fierce body-checking that the men do," Jean said. "But outside of that there's no reason why girls can't play just as exciting hockey as the men. We are all good skaters, so all we have to learn is how to knock the puck around."

They began learning yesterday while a corps of photographers squatted around on the ice and snapped some fetching action shots. Frank Boucher, former star of New York Rangers, has yielded to pressure and will coach them.

"The popularity of girls' softball games which were introduced at Madison Square Garden this year indicates the public is interested in seeing girl athletes try their hands at other sports," Jean said. "Far as I can see, hockey is no more dangerous for women than basketball."

Marquette overlooked a bet when it let Vern Miller, 230-pound tackle from Milwaukee, escape to Harvard. He's going great for the classy crimson frosh.

CHATTER FROM PRO HOCKEY'S DRILL SCENES

DETROIT RED WINGS ARE CONSIDERING HARVEY TENO FOR A GOAL-TENDING JOB, BUT HE HAS TO BEAT OUT THE VETERAN NORMIE SMITH.

Toronto Maple Leafs have only three amateurs left in camp—Wally Stanowski, Don Metz and Bobby Laurent—and all three may be sent to the Leafs' Syracuse farm.

Teno is a worry to Manager Jack Adams at Detroit. Adams wants to give the young goalie a chance in Red Wings' exhibitions with other pro organizations but would have to sign him to a professional contract. If Teno didn't show ability under fire, the contract would be a nuisance to both Adams and the goalie.

Hugh O'Leary, another amateur, showed independence in Montreal Canadiens' quarters. The Habitants offered him a place with their New Haven farm, but Hugh would rather play amateur hockey at Port Arthur, Ont. So he went home and Canadians can only hope that he will report again next fall.

Joffre Desilets has gained the inside track over Harold Jackson and Roger Jenkins for the right wing job on Chicago's third line, it was indicated after yesterday's drill at Champaign, Ill. The blond speedster who came to the Hawks in a trade for Louis Trudel was flying all through the session.

It may be that Detroit Red Wings have drawn the year's best group of amateur hockey players. At any rate the Wings are sending to their International-American League farm at Pittsburgh a big group of able youngsters who, in their first season as professionals, are subject to an immediate summons to the National League.

When Pittsburgh defeated the Red Wings five to two in an exhibition at Detroit last night, the newcomers scored all Hornets' goals. Gus Giesbrecht got two and Kenny Kilren, brother of the Red Wings' Joe Kilrea, contributed a goal and two assists. Both played with Pontiac of the Michigan-Ontario Amateur League last winter.

New York Americans, with a penchant for buying veterans from other organizations, got one of the best when they nabbed Leroy Goldsworthy from Boston. The stylish wingman scored twice last night, though Americans were beaten by New York Rangers for the fourth straight time, eight to four at Edmonton.

The exhibition schedule will be in full swing tomorrow night, when Chicago Black Hawks play Cleveland Barons of the International-American League at Cleveland. Toronto Maple Leafs will split the thirty-one candidates for places on the N.H.L. team and the Syracuse farm into two teams for an exhibition tonight that will open the new arena at Owen Sound, Ont.

Maurice Strickland, the New Zealand heavy, sails from London tomorrow to try for a crack at Joe Louis here.

J. LEWIS FACES NELSON GAINER IN TITLE TILT

Meets New Haven's Persistent Contender for World's Light-Heavyweight Championship in 15-Rounder.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—(P)—John Henry Lewis, of Phoenix, Ariz., world's lightweight champion, will put his coveted crown which he has not defended for two years, on the block tonight in a fifteen-rounder against Al Nelson Gainer, New Haven's persistent challenger.

As the hour for the twice-postponed battle—the first title bout in the light-heavy division between the two negroes—drew near, betting circles made Lewis a seven to five favorite to retain the championship he won three years ago from Bob Olin in St. Louis.

Lewis, announcing "I beat him once and can do it again," was given the slight edge because of the twelve-round decision he won from Gainer in a non-title scrap in Pittsburgh in the summer of 1936.

The twenty-four-year-old champion is four years younger than Gainer and also has the advantage in height and reach. His handlers pronounced him fit for the fight and said he had no trouble scaling down to the 175-pound class limit.

AMBERS STARTS ON COME BACK TRAIL

Syracuse, N.Y., Oct. 28.—(P)—Lou Ambers, dethroned lightweight champion of the world, starts on the comeback trail tonight when he faces Steve
