LIVERPOOL, Aug. 1.—The Adventure of Whitby, Capt. Snowdon, from Leith to Quebec, was lost in the Gulf of St. Lawrence the 24th day of May last, crew saved. This is the ship that the late circumnavigator, Capt. Cook sailed round she world in.

Falmouth, July 21. Arrived the Ann Packet, Capt. Britain, from New York and Halifax; left the former on the 9th of June, and the latter on the 29th.—The Ann has on board an English seaman, who acted as quarter-gunner on board the President frigate, at the time of the battle with the Little Belt, and has made affidavit of the particulars thereof at Halifax, before Admiral Sawyer, &c. who has in consequence sent him to England, under the care of Capt. Britain. He fully confirms the statement given by Captain Bingham. This man, with two others, watched the opportunity while the President lay in the river near to the Ann, of jumping overboard; he got on board the packet, the other two were drowned. The President has on board 550 seamen, of which about 300 are English, Irish and Scoth. Every thing was prepared for action on the day she left New York, in expectation of falling in with the Guerriere. The United States and Constitution frigates had sailed on a cruize, and all their vessels of war requiring repair were ordered to be got immediately ready for sea.

Letters from the Baltic, we are sorry to state, say, that his Majesty's ship Safeguard, has been captured by the enemy's cruizers.

The Governor of the Bank has addressed circulars to the Magistrates of the principal towns throughout the kingdom, notifying that an immediate supply of silver specie will be forwarded to the places under their jurisdiction.

Saturday night's Gazette contains an Order in Council, continuing the prohibition on the transporting into any parts out of this kingdom of any pig iron, bar iron, hemp, pitch, tar, rosin, turpentine, anchors, cables, cordage, masts, yards, bowsprits, oars, oakum, sheet copper, or other naval stores, for the space of six months, from the eighth day of August. The Gazette also contains an Order in Council, prohibiting the exportation out of this kingdom of carrying coastwise, gun powder, salt petre, or any sort of arms or ammunition, to be in force for six months from the 8th of August. Likewise an Order in Council permitting from the 8th of August, for six months, the importation of hides, dressed or undressed, horns, tallow, and wool (except cotton wool), and also goat skins, in any foreign ship or vessel from any port from which the British flag is excluded, on payment of the same duties as when imported in any British Vessel.

Seven ships from Holland, provided with licences under the sign manual of Napoleon, arrived on Friday last. The cargoes consist wholly of cheese. These licences are an indulgence which Bonaparte usually grants to enable him to collect his revenues in that impoverished country.

General Graham, the hero of Barrossa has arrived at Lisbon from Cadiz in the Latona, accompanied by about 400 riflemen and the dismounted German Cavalry. He is to be second in command under Lord Wellington. Brig-Gen. Cooke has the command at Cadiz in the interim, but we understand Gen. Spencer is shortly to repair thither. General Beresford reached Lisbon on the night of the 3d inst. and he is now to be employed as before, in organizing a training a new body of 20,000 Portugueze. Gen. Nightengale is returned to England, in order to proceed to India on the general staff of the King's army in Bengal.

It is stated in the public prints, that the new gout medicine has been indisputably discovered by Mr. Moore, a surgeon. A bottle of the Eau Medicinale, consists of a dram and a half of the wine of white hellebore, mixed with half a dram of vinous laudanum. Mr. Moore has clearly shown that the idea is taken from the elder Pliny; and the above composition has been found to have the taste and smell, and the precise effects of the French medicine.

THE KING.—The following are extracts from two of the morning papers.—

"The accounts which reached town last night, state, that his Majesty still continued in the same state. By the use of the opiates his Majesty obtains sleep, but apparently without refreshment.—Still, however, is the fond hope of an ultimate favourable change entertained by his medical attendants."

"The King's paroxysm continued down to a late hour last night, without the least symptom of diverging, or abatement. It is found extremely difficult by his Majesty's Physicians to administer the necessary quantity of subsistence for the support of the bodily frame, in its present declining state."

Prince Regent's Speech.

PARLIAMENT OF GREAT-BRITAIN AND IRELAND.

HOUSE OF LORDS, JULY 24, 1811.

THE Lords being assembled the Royal Assent, by commission, was given to certain bills.

The Lords Commissioners (the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord Chancellor, Earl Camden, the Earl of Westmoreland and the Earl of Aylesford) took their seats; when the Commons having been summoned, attending, the Lord Chancellor stated, that it being inconvenient for His Royal Highness the Prince Regent to be personally present, he had directed that the Royal Assent be given by commission to the Bills; and that they communicate the following

SPEECH:—

My Lords and Gentlemen,

HIS Royal Highness the Prince Regent, acting in the name and on behalf of his Majesty, has commanded us to signify to you the satisfaction with which he finds himself enabled to relieve you from your attendance in Parliament after the long and laborious duties of the session. We are particularly directed to express his approbation of the wisdom and firmness which you have manifested in enabling his Royal Highness to continue the exertions of this country in the cause of our Allies, and to prosecute the war with increased activity and vigor.

Your determined perseverance in a system of liberal aid to the brave and loyal nations of the peninsula has progressively augmented their means and spirit of resistance, while the humane attention which you have paid to the sufferings of the inhabitants of Portugal, under the unexampled cruelty of the enemy, has confirmed the alliance by new ties of affection, and cannot fail to inspire additional zeal and animation in the maintenance of the common cause.

His Royal Highness especially commands us to declare his cordial concurrence in the measures which you have adopted for improving the internal security and military resources of the United Kingdom.

For these important purposes you have wisely provided, by establishing a system for the annual supply of the regular army, and for the interchange of the militias of Great-Britain and Ireland; and his Royal Highness has the satisfaction of informing you, that the voluntary zeal which has already been manifested upon the occasion, has enabled him to give immediate operation to the arrangement by which the union and mutual interests of Great-Britain and Ireland, may be more effectually cemented and improved.

Gentlemen of House of Commons,

His Royal Highness commands us to thank you, in the name and behalf of his Majesty, for the liberal supplies which you have furnished for every branch of the public service.

His Royal Highness has seen with pleasure the readiness with which you have applied the separate means of Great-Britain to the financial relief of Ireland, at the present moment; and derives much satisfaction from perceiving that you have been able to accomplish this object with so little additional burthen upon the resources of this part of the united kingdom. The manner in which you have taken into consideration the condition of the Irish revenue, has met with his Royal Highness' approbation; and his Royal Highness commands us to add, that he looks with confidence to the advantage which may be derived from the attention of Parliament having been given to this important subject.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

His Royal Highness commands us to congratulate you upon the reduction of the Island of Mauritius.—This last and most important colony of France, has been obtained with inconsiderable loss, and its acquisition must materially contribute to the security of the British commerce and possessions in that quarter of the world.

The successes which have crowned his Majesty's arms during the present campaign, under the distinguished command of Lieut. Gen. Lord WELLINGTON, are most important to the interests, and glorious to the character of the country. His Royal Highness warmly participates in all the sentiments which have been excited by those successes, and concurs in the just applause which you have bestowed upon the skill, prudence and intrepidity so conspicuously displayed in obtaining them.

It affords the greatest satisfaction to his Royal Highness to reflect that, should it please divine Providence to restore his Majesty to the ardent prayers and wishes of his Royal Highness and of his Majesty's people, his Royal Highness will be enabled to lay before his Majesty, in the history of these great achievements of the British arms throughout a series of systematic operations, so satisfactory a proof that the national interests and the glory of the British name have been successfully maintained while his Royal Highness has conducted the Government of the United Kingdom.

The Speaker and Commons then withdrew; and soon after both Houses were prorogued to the 22d day of August next.

LONDON, July 25.—General Beresford reached Lisbon on the night of the 3d instant, and he is to be employed as before, in organizing and training a new body of 20,000 Portuguese.

The Ruby, of 64 guns, under immediate sailing orders for Bermuda, received counter orders on Saturday last, not to sail, until she had received on board a company of artillery, with their guns and ammunition, which were embarking with all possible dispatch.

THE KING'S HEALTH.

BULLETIN. Windsor Castle, July 25.

"There is no change in his Majesty's symptoms since yesterday." Signed—H. HALFORD, M. BAILLIE, R. WILLIS.

JULY 26.—An express has arrived from Windsor, which states, that the King has experienced a paralytic affection; but was not considered in immediate danger.

His Majesty's malady is in no wise ameliorated: and of course, he must become daily more enfeebled; but there are no particular symptoms in the general economy of his constitution, which threaten a speedy termination of life. He has experienced a swelling of the glands in the throat, which renders his swallowing and breathing difficult.

ADMIRAL YORKE'S FLEET.—It is not true, as asserted in the papers, that Admiral Yorke has gone to the coast of America.—His destination is a very different one.—Courier.

After all the guess-work and assertions in the papers, it is now known, that Sir Joseph York has not sailed for the U. States, but on a secret expedition. When we first gave an opinion that he was bound to the coast of America, we did it, because we thought that the event of the action between the American frigate, and our Little Belt, required, that a force should be sent to avenge the outrage, and the death of our countrymen. It appears the government think differently.

Admiralty-Office, July 23.—Ad. Saumarez has communicated Capt. Peter's account of the defeat of an attack made by seventeen Danish gunboats, and 10 heavy rowboats, on a convoy off Helim-island, on the 5th July. None of the convoy were lost; and four of the Danish gunboats, mounting each one long 24-pounder, and four brass howitzers, each, and manned by 120 men, were captured.

Turks and Russians.—The war between these two nations continued at the last dates, though it had not produced much bloodshed of late. The theatre of operations—partily pacific and partly menacing—was the Danube, and its vicinity. The H. Q. of the Turkish Commander in Chief (Grand Vizier) is at Schumla.—The Russian H. Q at Bucharest.—We have numerous articles from these places of marches and countermarches, but nothing decisive appeared determined upon. Both armies were in great strength.

The Swedish King has been put in arrest in Holstein, and information of his landing sent off to Paris.

CARLSCARONA, June 2.—Sir James Saumarez has not appeared in the Baltic. It appears that affairs have taken a pacific turn; Government nevertheless persist in the intentions of not diviating from the measures it has taken relative to Great Britain.—Lond. paper.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7.—We learn from Norfolk, that the British sloop of War Tartarus having entered Hampton Roads, and not complied with the condition of our non-intercourse law, the Collector at Norfolk on Friday the 30th ult. required from Commodore Porter, commanding on the Norfolk station, the aid of the naval force subject to his order, to compel her to leave our waters. The Commodore accordingly forthwith proceeded to Hampton Roads, with an intention of driving her from that place, with gunboats No 68 & 69, manned from the crew of the Essex, the brig Nautilus, Lieut. Commandant Sinclair, and the boats of the frigate Essex, armed and under the command of Lieutenants Downes, Wilmore, Wilson and Finch. On the arrival of these boats at the place of her anchorage, Commodore Porter was informed by a pilot (employed for the purpose of saving her anchor) that the Tartarus had, in consequence of a letter received by her commander from Norfolk, cut her cable and gone to sea in the night. There is no doubt, from the activity and zeal displayed by the officers and seamen, that had she remained she would have severly suffered for her hardihood and imprudence in setting our laws at defiance. We need not remind our readers that this is the vessel which the other day captured the American ship Orion and schooner Betsey on our coast in utter disregard and disgraceful violation of our neutrality and of national law.—[Intelligencer.

A paragraph is going the rounds of the opposition prints, which originated in a paper called The Federal Republican, intimating that a Court of Enquiry was about to be held in New-York on the conduct of Commodore Rogers in chastising the Little Belt, in compliance with a demand of Mr Foster. It is true that a Court of Enquiry has been called and is now setting, but it is not true that its convocation arose from any requisition on the part of Mr. Foster. The Court is called in consequence of a renewed and very earnest request to that effect from Commodore Rogers, and not from the interference of any foreign minister in the affairs of our Navy Department, as the Federal Republican would have its readers believe (Ibid.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6.—The King's Messenger has returned from Mr. Foster, and passed on to the Gleaner Ketch now in our bay. She goes immediately to Admiral Yorke. An English paper says that three more frigates, the President, Shannon, and Survillante, are destined to reinforce Admiral Yorke's squadron, now on this station.

[Our correspondent is incorrect in saying that the Messenger has gone down the bay to embark. He is charged with despatches from the British Minister, for the Secretary of State, who we believe is at Richmond.]

The National Intelligencer denies that the Court of Inquiry on Com. Rodgers was called in compliance with a demand of Mr. Foster; but has not taken any notice of an infinitely more important report, that the President had authorized Mr. Monroe to assure Mr. Foster that Com. Rodgers had no orders for any of his proceedings as they related to the affair of the Little-Belt. We are well pleased with this silence.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 9.—Our Harbour.—Our boatmen informs that there are two English frigates and a brig cruising off and on at the mouth of the harbour; one is the noted Guerrier of 50 guns. Their declared purpose is to keep a look out for the French privateers which swarm on the American coasts and take shelter and refit in our harbours.

The result of the Court of Inquiry on Com. Rodgers has not transpired. It is said all the witnesses examined confirm the Commodore's account of the affair.—The evidence, and we hope his instructions, will all be published.

BOSTON, September 14.

From Portugal.—Our advices from Lisbon are to the 9th August; and we have been politely furnished by Capt. Blanchard with the Gazettes of that city to the 4th.

Some official translations are made from them. All great war operations has been suspended for the dog-days at least. The French armies had taken opposite directions North and South.—Marmont had retired north from Merida, to Placentia; and Soult, south, from Estremadura to Seville; where they had gone into cantonments. These two Commanders were about 150 geographical miles apart. Lord Wellington had likewise taken up cantonments at Portalagre, Castel Branco and Abrantes; having his H. Q. at Potalagre;—thus interposing his line between Portugal and her invaders.

LISBON, July 26 and 30, 1811.

EXTRACTS FROM OFFICIAL LETTERS

From Lord WELLINGTON to President FORJAZ,—dated,

"H. Q Quinta de St. Joao, July 18, 1811.

"THE enemy's army called "Army of Portugal," on the 14th inst. defiled from the positions it occupied on the Guadiana, and took a direction towards Truxillo.

"I have been informed that some of the troops have even passed that city, and gone in the direction of Almarez; and that the cavalry which they had in Talvara, its vicinity, and at Loboan, have also retired from those places to Merida.

"It appears to be the intention of the enemy to take up a position in line on the Tagus; which will be a central situation as it respects the North and the South; and from whence he can make with facility such movements as our operations may render necessary, and at the same time co-operate with the troops in Old Castile, or those which may tarry in Estremadura; of wich we have no certainty.

"They have fortified the old castle at Medelin as well as that of Truxilla.

"Since the embarcation of the troops of General Blake, the enemy's corps which had marched in the direction of the Guadiana, as I have before stated, have returned to the borders of Cartaia, and have retired on Fronteira, on their way to St. Lucar.

"We learn, that the troops belonging to the 4th corps of the enemy's army, and which Marshal Soult had drawn into Estremadura, have marched towards Grenada, and are to form in Andalusia a part of the 1st corps, and the reserve. The 5th corps and a great part of the cavalry remain in Estremadura.

"We have no news from Valladolid, or vicinity, excepting that King Joseph had returned into Spain; and that the arrived in Burgos, the 5th inst. bringing with him an escort of about 3000 men.—We also hear that large reinforcements are to follow him.

"A detachment of about 1000 of the enemy's troops belonging to the garrison of Salamanca, marched from that city the 10th inst. in the direction of Bajar; apparently with an intention to succor Ciudad Rodrigo.

(Signed) "WELLINGTON."

"H. Q. Portalegre, July 24, 1811.

"In the morning of the 17th the enemy's cavalry left Merida. Since then the enemy has continued his march for Almarez; and on the 20th a division of infantry arrived at Placentia; which is supposed to be the advanced point of the enemy's cantonments on the right bank of the Tagus. On the same day Marshal Marmont was at Almarez; and some other divisions were marched from Trnxille, in the same direction. A division of infantry and some cavalry remain at Truxillo, according to the last accounts.

"The 5th corps has defiled from Estremadura, and marched for Seville.

"I have reason to believe that a body of French troops have been repulsed in an attack made by them on a Spanish detachment of the army of Gallicia. The attack was made at Puente de Orvigo the 23th ult.

"We have no news from the North.—King Joseph was in Valladolid the 10th inst. continued there two days, and then proceeded towards Madrid.

(Signed) "WELLINGTON."

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—A letter from Bath, (Me.) Sept. 13, mentions the arrival there of the Sarah Maria, Morgan, from Dublin, 40 days, bringing London dates to the 1st Aug. Capt. M. states, that the day previous to his sailing an express arrived from London, stating that the King of England was dead. Capt. M. spoke a vessel on her passage, which sailed from Dublin 4 days after him, the capt. of which confirmed the above news.

Late accounts from the Isle of France, mention the capture of the French frigates Renomee Nereide, with troops on board, bound for the Isle of France. These frigates, in company with the Clarinde, on arriving at the Isle, and finding the place in possession of the English, bore away for Madagascar, where they were pursued, and the two former captured after an obstinate sesistance. The Clarinde escaped in the night, not having been in the action.

These accounts also state, that the expedition fitted out against Batavia, sailed from Madras and Bengal, the latter end of April last. The troops sent on this expedition amounted to nearly 18,000.

The Spanish Commander of Mobile has received positive orders from the Capt. Gen. of Cuba, not to permit the passage of any powder, troops, or armed vessels belonging to the United States. In this new order it is observed;—"that should any vessel having any of the before mentioned articles on board, and being convoyed by an armed force, attempt to pass, and a council of war be held, that if ONE of the officers is for opposing their passage, they shall do so"—from which we may calculate that the passage will be warmly contested.

[Mississippi paper.

By the schr Rosamond, in 17 days from Laguira, we have received the following in a printed hand bill:

Articles comprehended in the declaration of the Legislative Session of the first of July, 1811, sanctioned and approved.

ART 25—All strangers of whatever nation, will be received in the province of Carraccas.

ART. 26—The persons and properties of strangers, shall enjoy the same security as those of the other citizens, provided they acknowledge the Sovereignty and Independence, and respect the Catholic Religion, the only one in this country.

ART. 27—The strangers who reside in the province of Carraccas, being naturalized, and having the necessary property shall enjoy all the rights of citizens.

The Comet.—The Comet was seen for the first time in this place on Wednesday evening, but being obscured by clouds on this and the following evening it was not recognized as a Comet untill Friday evening, when it was found by observation to be situated in latitude about 29 1-2 degrees N. and in longitude about 4 signs 26 degrees. It has since passed into the left hind leg of the Great-Bear the Star marked 74 on Jones' new globes—travelling at the rate of about one degree a day, and nearly in the direction of the right hand of Boetes. The course it is taking will make it continue to appear nigher and higher above the horizon in the evening while the time of its rising remains nearly the same. The best time for observing it is in the morning between 3 and 4 o'clock; as the atmosphere is then not so much loaded with vapour; and as the Comet rises about half-past 2, it has a considerable altitude before it is rendered faint by day light.—At present the moon is some inconvenience.

In observing this object very little advantage is gained by the common telescope, or even by those that are esteemed good. By the help of a night glass one may in some degree distinguish the said body of the Comet from the surrounding atmosphere. Observing this Comet through a very good glass of this kind it was thought to have very much the color and apparent magnitude of Saturn, when seen by the naked eye. The atmosphere appears to have a diameter 12 or 15 times as great as that of the nucleus. The tail appears to separate into two branches and is very distinguishable through an extent of 7 or 8 degrees in length and 8 in breadth.—Cambridge, Sept. 10*th.*

"'Tis education forms the common mind,
Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined."

ALL who wish well to their fellow men will exert themselves to inform the minds and correct the morals of mankind.

And perhaps in no way can this be attempted so successfully, as by furnishing children with cards and entertaining books, which contain their letters and the most simple elements of science and religion. It is a great and very important object to unite amusement with instruction. On this account the mode of instructing children, introduced by Mr. LANCASTER is thought to be preferable to any, which has been attempted. And it is found by experiment, that this mode of instructing little children may be simplified and introduced to the lonely cottages or scattered families on the frontiers, and throughout the new settlements of the country.

A taste for reading being formed, schools will be introduced and small libraries established and thus by regular and rapid advances community will he enlightened and the public morals improved.

Through the patronage of charitable individuals some successful attempts have been made, and further experiments are now making, by reprinting and circulating, as extensively as possible, entertaining and useful books, among all classes of the community. Proposals have been issued and some subscriptions already obtained. As the books proposed to be reprinted are highly recommended by different denominations of christians, it is hoped and expected, that a liberal subscription will be obtained.

N. B. The proposals above mentioned may be seen at the different printing Offices in this city and Montreal, and they will also be set up in country towns and settlements in both provinces. And personal application in some instances will be made to charitable individuals.

EDUCATION.

MR. THOM most respectfully begs leave to intimate to the Public of Quebec, that, in pursuance of his intentions, expressed in a former advertisement, he has now opened a Class, in Mr Yule's House, No. 1, Champlain Street, for the Instruction of Youth in the following Branches of Education, vizt. ENGLISH READING AND GRAMMAR, WRITING, ARITHMETIC, BOOK-KEEPING AND ACCOUNTS, ALGEBRA, PRACTICAL GEOMETRY, MENSURATION, TRIGONOMETRY, NAVIGATION, GEOGRAPHY AND ASTRONOMY.

MR. THOM, with much defference, assures such Parents as may be pleased to intrust him with the Education of their children, that it shall ever be his most assiduous endeavour to bring forward his Scholars to a thorough and speedy knowledge of such of the above Branches as shall be respectively assigned them; and that a special regard will be paid to their Moral Principles.

AN EVENING CLASS is intended to be kept, for Teaching BOOK-KEEPING, AND MERCHANTS ACCOUNTS, founded upon the most improved Theory, and Modern Practice: And, as MR. T. has had very extensive Counting House Practice, he hopes to qualify his Pupils for becoming uncommonly accurate and expert Men of Business.—This Class to commence so soon as a competent number of Students come forward.

For information as to terms—which will be very moderate—please apply at the School Room.

Il confirme entièrement le rapport du Capitaine Bingham. Cet homme avec deux autres, attendirent l'occasion, tandisque le Président étoit dans la Rivière près de l'Ann, de sauter à l'eau; il arriva à bord du paquebot, les deux autres se noyèrent. Le President a à bord 550 Matelots, dont environ 300 sont Anglois, Irlandois et Ecossois. Tout avoit été préparé pour l'action le jour qu'il partit de New-York, s'attendant à rencontrer la Frégate Guerrière. Les Frégates United-States et Constitution étoient en croisière, et on avoit ordonné que tous les vaisseaux qui avoient besoin de réparations fussent immédiatement préparés pour la mer.

Discours du Prince Régent.

PARLEMENT DE LA GRANDE-BRETAGNE ET D'IRLANDE.

CHAMBRE DES LORDS, le 24 Juillet, 1811.

Les Lords étant assemblés, la Sanction Royale fut donnée par Commission à certains Bills.

Les Lords Commissaires (l'Archevêque de Cantorbery, le Lord Chancellier, le Comte Cambden, le Comte de Westmoreland et le Comte d'Aylesford) prirent leurs siéges; et les Communes ayant été demandées, Le Lord Chancellier dit que Son Altesse Royale le Prince Régent ne pouvant pas être présent en personne, il avoit ordonné que la Sanction Royale fût donnée aux Bills par Commission; et qu'ils communiquassent le Discours suivant:

Milords et Messieurs,

Son Altesse Royale le Prince Régent, agissant au nom et de la part de Sa Majesté, nous a ordonné de vous témoigner la satisfaction avec laquelle il se voit en état de vous soulager de votre assistance au Parlement après les longs et pénibles devoirs de la Session. Nous sommes particulièrement commandés de témoigner son approbation de la sagesse et de la fermeté que vous avez manifestées en mettant Son Altesse Royale en état de continuer les efforts de ce pays dans la cause de nos alliés, et de continuer la guerre avec un accroissement d'activité et de vigueur.

Votre persévérance déterminée dans un système d'aide généreux aux braves et loyales nations de la Peninsule, a augmenté leurs moyens et leur esprit de résistance, tandisque l'attention humaine que vous avez donnée aux souffrances des habitans du Portugal, sous les cruautés sans exemple de l'ennemi, a confirmé l'alliance par de nouveaux liens d'affection et ne peut manquer d'inspirer un nouveau zèle à soutenir la cause commune.

Son Altesse Royale nous commande surtout de déclarer sa concurrence dans les mesures que vous avez adoptées pour l'amélioration de la sécurité intérieure et des ressources militaires du Royaume Uni.

Vous avez sagement pourvu à ces objets importans, en établissant un système pour le secours annuel de l'armée régulière, et pour l'échange des Milices de la Grande-Bretagne et d'Irlande, et Son Altesse Royale à la satisfaction de vous informer, que le zèle volontaire qui a déjà été manifesté à cette occasion, l'a mis en état de donner une opération immédiate à cet arrangement, par lequel l'union et les intérêts mutuels de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande, pourront être mieux cimentés et perfectionnés.

Messieurs de la Chambre des Communes.

Son Altesse Royale nous commande de vous remercier, au nom et de la part de Sa Majesté, de l'aide généreux que vous avez fourni pour toutes les branches du service public.

Son Altesse Royale a vu avec plaisir la promptitude avec laquelle vous avez appliqué les différens moyens de la Grande-Bretagne pour relever les finances de l'Irlande, au moment actuel; et il est bien satisfait de voir que vous avez pu accomplir cet objet avec si peu de fardeau additionnel sur les ressources de cette partie du Royaume-Uni. La manière dont vous avez pris en considération l'état du Revenu d'Irlande, a rencontré l'approbation de Son Altesse Royale; et Son Altesse Royale nous ordonne d'ajouter qu'il voit avec confiance l'avantage qui pourra résulter de ce que le Parlement a donné son attention à cet objet important.

Mylords et Messieurs,

Son Altesse Royale nous ordonne de vous féliciter sur la réduction de l'Ile Maurice—Cette dernière et très importante Colonie de la France a été obtenue avec bien peu de perte de notre part, et son acquisition doit beaucoup contribuer à la sûreté du commerce et des possessions Angloises dans dans cette partie du monde.

Les succès qui ont couronné les armes de sa Majesté durant la campagne actuelle, sous le commandement distingué du Lieutenant Général Lord Wellington, sont très-importans pour les intérêts, et glorieux pour le caractère du pays. Son Altesse Royale participe dans tous les sentimens qu'ont excités ces succès, et il concourt dans les applaudissemens équitables que vous avez donnés à l'habileté, la prudence et l'intrépidité qu'il a déployées d'une manière si remarquable en les obtenant.

Son Altesse Royale voit avec une très vive satisfaction que s'il plait à la Providence de rendre Sa Majesté aux prieres et aux ardens désirs de Son Altesse Royale et du peuple de sa Majesté, Son Altesse Royale pourra offrir à Sa Majesté dans l'histoire de ces grands exploits des armes Britanniques et par une suite d'opérations qui se correspondent, une preuve si satisfaisante que les intérêts de la nation et la gloire du nom Anglois n'ont rien perdu de leur prix et de leur éclat, pendant que Son Altesse Royale a administré le gouvernement du Royaume Uni.

LONDRES, le 23 Juillet.—Le Ruby, de 64 canons, ayant ordre de faire voile immédiatement pour la Bermude, a reçu contre ordre, Samedi dernier, de ne point faire voile, qu'il n'eût reçu à bord une compagnie d'artillerie, avec ses canons et munitions, que l'on embarquoit avec toute la dépêche possible.

LONDRES, le 25 Juillet.—Le Général Beresford est arrivé à Lisbonne dans la nuit du 3 du courant, et il doit être employé comme auparavant à organiser et discipliner un nouveau corps de 20,000 Portugais.

LA SANTE DU ROI.

BULLETIN.—"Château de Windsor, le 25 Juillet.—Il n'y a point de changement dans les symptômes de Sa Majesté depuis hier." Signé H. HALFORD M. BAILLIE, R. WILLIS.

Le 26 Juillet.—Il est arrivé un exprès de Windsor, qui dit que le Roi avoit éprouvé une attaque de paralysie, mais on ne le croyoit pas en danger immédiat.

La maladie de Sa Majesté n'a point du tout de mieux, et par conséquent il doit affoiblir journellement; mais il n'y a aucun symptôme particulier dans l'économie générale de sa constitution qui menace d'une fin prochaine. Il a eu une enflure dans les glandes de la gorge, qui l'empêche d'avaler et de respirer facilement.

Le Roi Suédois a été mis aux arrêts dans Holstein, et l'on a envoyé à Paris information de son debarquement.

LA FLOTTE DE L'AMIRAL YORKE.—Il n'est pas vrai, comme on l'a dit dans les papiers, que l'Amiral Yorke, est allé à la côte de l'Amérique. Sa destination est bien différente.

Bureau de l'Amirauté, le 23 Juillet.—L'Amiral Saumarez a communiqué le détail qu'a fait le Capitaine Peter de la défaite d'une attaque faite par dix sept chaloupes canonnières Danoises, et 10 grosses chaloupes à rames, sur un convoi à la hauteur de l'Ile, le 5 Juillet. Il n'en a été perdu aucun du convoi; et quatre des chaloupes canonnieres Danoises, montant chacune un grand canon de 24 livres, et quatre obusiers de cuivre, et ayant 120 hommes, ont été pris.

LES TURCS ET LES RUSSES.

La guerre entre ces deux nations continuoit aux dernières dates, quoiqu'elle n'eût pas causé beaucoup d'effusion de sang depuis quelque tems. Le théatre des opérations, partie pacifiques et partie menaçantes a été le Danube et son voisinage. Les quartiers généraux du Commandant Turc sont à Schumla. Les quartiers généraux Russes a Bucharest. Nous avons de ces endroits plusieurs articles sur les marches et contremarches, mais il ne paroissoit rien de décisif. Les deux armées étoient bien fortes.

LISBONNE, les 26 et 30 Juillet, 1811.

Extraits de Lettres Officielles du Lord Wellington au Président Forjaz, datées

"Q. G. QUINTA-DE ST. JOAO, le 18 Juillet, 1811.

"L'armée de l'ennemi appellée "Armée du Portugal," défila le 14 du courant des positions qu'elle occupoit sur la Guadiana, et prit une direction vers Truxillo.

"J'ai été informé que quelques-unes des troupes ont même passé cette Ville, et ont été dans la direction d'Almarez, et que la cavalerie qu'elles avoient à Talavera, dans son voisinage et à Loboar, s'est aussi retirée de ces places pour aller à Merida.

"Il paroit que c'est l'intention de l'ennemi de prendre une position en ligne sur le Tage, qui sera une situation centrale comme elle regarde le Nord et le Sud; et de là il pourra faire avec facilité les mouvemens que nos opérations pourront rendre nécessaires, et en même tems coopérer avec les troupes dans la Castille Vieille, ou celles qui pourroient rester en Estramadoure; ce dont nous n'avons aucune certitude.

"L'ennemi a fortifié le vieux Château à Medelin ainsi que celui de Truxillo.

"Depuis l'embarqeement des troupes du Général Blake, les corps de l'ennemi qui avoient marché dans la direction de la Guadiana, comme je l'ai dit auparavant, sont retournés sur les frontières de Cartaia, et se sont retirés sur Fronteira, en allant à St. Lucar.

"Nous apprenons que les troupes appartenant au 4e. corps de l'armée de l'ennemi, et que le Maréchal Soult avoit amenées en Estramadoure, ont marché vers Grenade, et doivent former en Andalousie une partie du 1er. corps, et la réserve. Le 5e. corps et une grande partie de la cavalerie reste en Estramadoure.

"Nous n'avons aucune nouvelle de Valladolid ou du voisinage, excepté que le Roi Joseph est retourné en Espagne, et qu'il est arrivé à Burgos, le 5 du courant, amenant avec lui une escorte d'environ 3000 hommes.—Nous apprenons aussi qu'il doit être suivi de grands renforts.

"Un détachement d'environ 1000 hommes des troupes de l'ennemi appartenant à la garnison de Salamanque, a marché de cette ville le 10 du courant dans la direction de Bejar; apparemment dans l'intention de secourir Cuidad Rodrigo.

(Signé) "WELLINGTON."

"Q. G. Portalegre, le 25 Juillet 1811.

"Le matin du 17 la cavalerie de l'ennemi partit de Merida. Depuis ce tems l'ennemi a continué sa marche vers Almarez; et le 20 il arriva une division d'infanterie à Placentia; qu'on suppose être le point avancé des cantonnemens de l'ennemi sur la rive droite du Tage. Le même jour le Maréchal Marmont étoit à Almarez; et quelques autres divisions marchèrent de Truxillo, dans la même direction. Suivant les dernières nouvelles, il reste à Truxillo une division d'infanterie et quelque cavalerie.

"Le 5e. corps est défilé de l'Estramadoure, et a marché vers Seville.

"J'ai lieu de croire qu'un corps de troupes Françoises a été repoussé dans une attaque faite sur un détachement Espagnol de l'armée de Galice. L'attaque a été faite à Puente de Orvigo, le 24 du mois dernier.

"Nous n'avons point de nouvelles du Nord. Le Roi Joseph étoit à Valladolid, le 10 du courant, est resté là deux jours et, ensuite est allé vers Madrid.

(Signé) "WELLINGTON."

BOSTON, le 26 Septembre.

Des nouvelles récentes de l'Ile de France, mentionnent la prise des Frégates Françoises Renommée et Néréide, avec des troupes à bord, qui alloient à l'Ile de France. Ces Frégates, de compagnie avec la Clarinde, arrivant à l'Ile, et voyant la place en la possession des Anglois, partirent pour Madagascar, où elles furent poursuivies, et les deux premières prises après une grande résistance. La Clarinde s'échappa dans la nuit n'ayant pas été dans l'action.

Ces nouvelles disent aussi que l'expédition préparée contre Batavia a fait voile de Madras et Bengal, à la fin d'Avril dernier. Le nombre des troupes envoyées en cette expédition se montoit à près de 18,000 hommes.

QUATRE CENS PIASTRES DE RECOMPENSE.

COMME MARDI Matin entre minuit et une heure, le Moulin averti en vente par Messrs. Anthy. Atkinson & Co. sur la Rivière Masquinongé, a été apperçu en feu par les Scieurs qui y étoient, qui voyant le danger, appellèrent les personnes qui étoient dans la maison. Ceux-ci approchant du Moulin, virent un homme avec du feu qui traversoit le baume, mais pensant que c'étoit un habitant qui venoit les assister, ils allèrent au feu; et une minute ou deux après, ne le voyant plus, ils allèrent voir s'il étoit tombé à l'eau, et alors ils le virent gagner vers le bois; d'après ces circonstances, on pense que le feu a été mis avec intention aux prémisses
