BOMBERS LACKING AT SOVIET AIR SHOW

New Members Will Be Discussed By PM's At Commonwealth Talks

LONDON — (AP) — The admission of new members is expected to be a principal topic at the British Commonwealth prime ministers' conference opening here Wednesday.

Another key issue will be the planning of a common front towards Russia's "competitive co-existence" challenge to the West.

During the 10-day talks the prime ministers also will discuss world affairs, the economic problem of the sterling area and Commonwealth defence and trade questions.

Several of Britain's colonial territories have made rapid strides toward self-government since the prime ministers last met here in January, 1955, and may become eligible for representation at future conferences.

These are the Federation of Malaya, the Gold Coast in West Africa, and the projected Caribbean federation of British West Indies territories.

Three of the prime ministers arrived Sunday: Johannes Strijdom of South Africa, Chaudry Mohammed Ali of Pakistan, and Solomon Bandaranaike of Ceylon.

Prime Minister St. Laurent arrived Saturday from Canada.

Strijdom arrived with an invitation to Britons to visit his country to see for themselves that it was not a "police state" as "stupid stories" in the press alleged.

Bandaranaike said he would tell his Commonwealth colleagues that Ceylon intended to become a republic, probably within two years, but she wished to remain in the Commonwealth.

He said that his government wanted Britain to withdraw troops from her naval and air bases on the island because it was his government's policy to stay clear of power blocs.

Chaudry Mohammed Ali of Pakistan told a press conference he hoped to discuss the Kashmir problem informally with India's Prime Minister Nehru and other Commonwealth prime ministers.

Ali emphasized that the people of both Pakistan and Kashmir want a plebiscite held in Kashmir to decide whether it should accede to India or Pakistan in accordance with United Nations resolutions.

The Canadian prime minister told reporters on his arrival that the chief purpose of the meeting would be to find a way by which the Commonwealth could promote better understanding, security and progress in the world.

World News In Brief

TUNIS, Tunisia. — (AP) — Tens of thousands of Tunisians turned out Sunday for the first parade of their newly-formed national army. Premier Habib Bourguiba and cabinet members watched the parade. With them were French Ambassador Roger Seydoux and French army officers who helped train the new army.

TEHRAN, Iran. — (AP) — Gen. Amonollah Jahanbani, head of the Iranian boundaries mission, announced Sunday the century-old Iran-Soviet border dispute has been settled. A member of the mission said the agreement was "more favorable to the Soviets than to Iran." Iran had conceded some land to the Russians, he added.

DORTMUND, Germany. — (AP) — A diesel special carrying railroaders on a holiday collided with a scheduled passenger train near Dortmund Sunday. Two of the holidayers were killed and 140 injured, 20 seriously. No one on the regular train was hurt.

DACCA, Pakistan. — (Reuters) — East Pakistan's rivers were reported Sunday to be rising and several have already flooded large areas, covering roads due for harvesting. The River Manu, tributary of the River Kusyara, is reported at its highest level in 50 years.

CAIRO, Egypt. — (AP) — Prime Minister Gamal Abdel Nasser has awarded the Decoration of the Republic, first class, to Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov and Gen. Sir Brian Robertson of Britain. Both men attended last week's festivities in celebration of the evacuation of British troops from Egypt.

GIFU, Japan. — (AP) — A cave-in at the Daiwa coal mine here trapped five miners Saturday and all are feared dead. About 420 rescue workers were trying to reach the men. The mine is 160 miles west of Tokyo.

BOMBAY, India. — (Reuters) — The World Bank will this week sign an agreement granting a loan of $75,000,000 to India's Tata Iron and Steel Company, J. D. Chokli, vice-chairman of the company, said Sunday. The company will step up the yearly steel production from 1,000,000 to 2,000,000 tons.

WASHINGTON. — (AP) — Canada and Mexico shared about half the $1,614,000,000 spent on foreign travel by Americans in 1955, the commerce department reports. It estimates Canadians accounted for $335,000,000 — or 60 per cent — of the $645,000,000 spent by foreign visitors to the U. S.

GLOUCESTER, Mass. — (AP) — More than 1,000 fishermen and their families marched in a two-mile procession Sunday as this old port observed the 12th annual blessing of the Portuguese-American fleet. The blessing was bestowed by Rt. Rev. Augustus Hardegan of Marblehead.

BELVIDERE, Ill. — (AP) — Shattered boards from a fair-ground fence killed a spectator at a harness racing program Sunday. Two other spectators were injured. The track's pace car went out of control and crashed into a wooden fence. The impact sent boards flying into the grandstand.

St. Jean Baptiste Day — These two floats were some of the many which took part in the giant St. Jean Baptiste parade yesterday afternoon. Top is the St. Jean Baptiste float and bottom the Provincial Government float. Officials of the French-speaking organization and Sherbrooke's leading citizens took part in the parade. Since the feast of St. Jean Baptiste fell on a Sunday this year, stores and other establishments were closed today. (Record photos by Gerry Lemay)

Will Change Cyprus Policy

ROME — (Reuters) — Italy's major left-wing parties are divided by a deeper rift than at any other time since the Second World War following the bitter attack of Socialist leader Pietro Nenni on Russia's Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev and the Soviet political structure.

In a 5,000-word article published by the official Socialist party newspaper Saturday, Nenni, stated:

"It was known that the dictatorship of the proletariat had changed into the dictatorship of the Communist party."

"Now we learn that the dictatorship of the Communist party became the personal dictatorship of Stalin. But we are not told how or why that came about."

"We do not even know how the present Soviet ruling group reached its conclusions, whether it is unanimous on the subject or divided—and, if divided, on what and why?"

Political observers saw the article as Nenni's first open step towards trying to seize leadership of the entire Italian left wing, which at present numbers about 10,000,000 out of a total of 25,000,000.

The convulsions in the Italian left-wing came at a time when Italy's ruling centre coalition was itself almost paralyzed by dissension and unable to take advantage of the situation.

The coalition government of Premier Antonio Segni, consisting mainly of Christian Democrats, is in danger from sharp disagreements between the four centre parties on the composition of new municipal councils in some of Italy's main cities following recent municipal elections.

Right-wing members of the coalition are threatening to quit the government if the Social Democrats continue efforts to win the support of the Nenni Socialists in the major cities.

French Press Mop-Up Raids

ALGIERS, Algeria. — (AP) — French forces pressed a drive today against nationalist rebels at both the eastern and western ends of Algeria. Here in the tense capital the government tightened defences against hit-and-run attacks.

In the bare Aures mountains on the east—where the rebellion started nearly 20 months ago—French infantry, cavalry and armored units were trying to encircle a uniformed band estimated at 200 to 300 men near the town of Edgar-Quinet.

The French claimed 51 rebels killed in the operation so far. They believed many of the arms smuggled from Tunisia were hidden in the caves in the area, which long has been a hide-out for bandits and malcontents.

To the west, an estimated 16,000 French troops forged ahead with Operation Pigmy, designed to seal off the frontier with Morocco. There was no report of the rebels killed and wounded, although the French said they had taken 63 prisoners. Eight French soldiers were reported wounded.

Voting was compulsory for men and optional for women, who had been given the franchise for the first time in Egypt's history.

Nasser tonight is expected to announce the inauguration of the presidential republican regime and the dissolution of the revolutionary command council.

Nasser Is President Of Egypt

CAIRO, Egypt. (Reuters) — Large crowds of excited Egyptian workers carrying trade union banners today danced and cheered their way to the office of Gamal Abdel Nasser to celebrate his election as the first president of the republic.

The latest count in Saturday's referendum gave 4,505,982 votes to Nasser who was the only candidate for the presidency. This figure represents well over 90 per cent of the total votes counted so far.

Egyptians also cast 442,211 votes in favor of the new constitution approved last January by the revolutionary command council. The council, headed by Nasser, dissolved itself Saturday.

It had ruled the country for most of the time since the overthrow of King Farouk four years ago.

All military leaders at key positions in the administration relinquished their commissions and assumed civilian status.

Voting was compulsory for men and optional for women, who had been given the franchise for the first time in Egypt's history.

Nasser tonight is expected to announce the inauguration of the presidential republican regime and the dissolution of the revolutionary command council.

Steel Offer Would Cost Millions

NEW YORK. — (AP) — The three largest steel companies say their five-year contract offer to the United Steelworkers of America would cost the firms $2,310,000,000.

A statement issued Sunday by U.S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic said the offer would mean $4,200 in higher wages and benefits over the five-year period for each of 550,000 USW members.

This is the offer that David J. McDonald, president of the steelworkers, has tried to belittle by talking about a "nickel increase in net pay," said the statement.

Contract negotiations with the steelworkers resume today. Union officers have been empowered to call a strike if a new contract is not agreed upon before the current one expires at midnight Saturday.

In a nation-wide telecast Saturday night, McDonald said the industry offer would amount to about a nickel an hour in take-home pay. He called the offer "shameful," "inadequate" and "unacceptable."

The union is pressing for a one-year contract with a "substantial" wage increase and other benefits.

Defence Not Offence Party Line; Twining Says US Won't Disarm

MOSCOW — (AP) — United States, British and French air chiefs were guests at Sunday's Soviet Aviation Day show but the Russians said they did not display their new heavy jet bombers because they wanted to keep the emphasis on "defence, not offence."

Later, Gen. Nathan Twining, U.S. Air Force chief of staff, told his hosts in a speech the United States will not disarm until it is certain of world-wide arms controls.

Twining, his aides and British and French air force chiefs were among foreign guests at the air show in which the Russians unveiled three new types of fighter planes and a new jet-propeller transport.

The new models include (1) three delta-wing day interceptors assumed capable of supersonic speed, (2) two "advanced type" day fighters of a model called "Farmer" by U.S. airmen and first shown last year, (3) two improved all-weather fighters of the type labelled "Flashlight" by Western observers, also shown in the original version last year, and (4) a single assault type, twin-engine turboprop transport which can operate from short, unimproved runways.

The crowd of more than 200,000 at Tushino Airport saw about 120 fighters, 40 helicopter transports and only 16 bombers fly over. Last year's show featured 73 bombers.

Western experts said none of the new aircraft was unexpected. They added that the show included nothing startlingly new.

But Twining called the display "very interesting and successful." He said he hoped to examine the aircraft in more detail during his inspection of Soviet air installations and factories this week.

At a garden party at the Soviet Army Club after the show, Soviet leaders proposed repeated toasts to disarmament and world friendship. When his turn came, Twining said:

"We know what war means and my country has proved through the years we are a peaceful people. We always got into wars very late."

"After the last war we disarmed completely. That, men, is disarmament. We had to build up our forces again at Korea — and we are not going to reduce them again until we are sure of world-wide arms controls."

During the entertainment, Communist Party Chief Nikita Khrushchev said to Twining:

"It would be silly to ask who is first in the armaments race. Sometimes, in certain fields, the United States has the lead, and sometimes the Soviet Union. It keeps changing. Why? Because all developments in research and science are known both to you and to us."

Lavish toasts were drunk at the party to President Eisenhower, of whom Soviet Defence Minister Marshal Georgi Zhukov said: "He does not forget his friends."

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union is working on a bigger, improved version of the TU-104 jet airliner to be called the TU-114. He said it would be capable of flying non-stop from Moscow to New York. He also predicted his country soon would have an atom powered plane, but would not say when.

Khrushchev also proposed a toast to Red China. The Americans refused to respond to it. The British stood when it was proposed but declined to drink it.

Pro-U.S. Party Out In Iceland

REYKJAVIK, Iceland. — (AP) — Iceland's conservative Independence party, which approves keeping American troops on this strategic Atlantic island's NATO bases, lost ground in Sunday's parliamentary election.

The alliance of Progressives and Social Democrats, sponsors of the drive to oust U.S. forces from the big Keflavik air base and other installations, almost won a clear majority in the Althing parliament, a preliminary count indicated today.

For the first time in the Althing's 1,000-year history more than 90 per cent of the 90,000 qualified voters cast ballots. The results appeared certain to be another coalition government, since neither the Independence group nor their opponents captured a clear majority of the parliament's 52 seats.

The preliminary count gave the Independence party, led by outgoing Premier Olafur Thors, 19 seats. In the old Althing they held 21.

The Progressive-Social Democrat coalition appeared to have taken 25 seats, a gain of three. The Communists held on to seven — the same number they had before — and one place was undecided.

A total of 27 seats is required for formation of a government by a single party or combine of parties. The Independence party and Progressives had governed together since 1953 but split when the Progressives last March pushed through the Althing a resolution asking withdrawal of American forces within 18 months. The government has asked for discussion of this with Washington.

The National Defence party, which is anti-Communist, but made U.S. withdrawal its sole election appeal, apparently had lost the only two seats it held in the old Althing.

Cyprus Justice Wounded

NICOSIA, Cyprus. — (Reuters) — Terrorists attempted to assassinate Senior Justice Bernard Shaw here today. They fired two shots which injured Shaw in the neck. Justice Shaw is a senior judge of the special court which handles the most serious EOKA terrorist crimes. He has sentenced several terrorists to death and others to life imprisonment.

Shaw passed the death sentence on Michael Karalis and Andreas Demetriou, the two terrorists whose execution in May led to strong protests by the Greek government and disorders in Cyprus.

Justice Shaw was hit in the neck and head by the shots and is said to be in serious condition.

He served in the Indian police, was called to the bar in 1923 and entered the colonial service in 1925. He has since served as a legal official in Kenya, Palestine and in England.

Retired Gen. Escapes In Ottawa Fire

OTTAWA — (AP) — Maj. Gen. A. H. Bell, 85, retired adjutant general of the Canadian Army, narrowly escaped death Saturday night when fire broke out in his suite in the Roxborough Apartments.

A veteran of the Boer War and the First World War, Gen. Bell was rescued by an elevator operator, George Henri Chateauvert, 45, of Deschenes, Que. Chateauvert kicked open the flaming door of Gen. Bell's apartment and pulled the ailing general to safety.

"I just had time to rush into the room, grab him by the arm and pull him out," Chateauvert said. "There were flames everywhere and the smoke was terrible."

The fire is believed to have been caused by a cigaret butt. It was confined to the apartment.

It Is To Laugh

We thought we had heard the last of "Canada Ernie Schallbaum, whose quaint proposal to annex Canada to the United States raised snickers from coast to coast in 1934.

But Ernie, who must be armored against ridicule, is cavorting across the front pages once again with a scheme for a 63-state "Union of North America" to include the U.S.A., Hawaii, Alaska and Canada.

He was pictured holding a "Union" flag. This consisted of the stars and stripes grafted with a strange vegetable which resembled a scrub oak leaf gnawed by tent caterpillars.

Ernie came all the way from San Francisco to urge that we pin Canada to the United States in the same way that his piece of deformed foliage (supposedly a maple leaf) is tacked on "Old Glory."

If Ernie's campaign is merely a gimmick for drawing attention to himself, he has succeeded. But he might have achieved the same result with less ill will by leading a pet skunk from Montreal to Toronto, or crossing Bering strait on a raft.

If on the other hand he is serious about it, he would be well advised to spend his efforts to make Alaska and Hawaii members of the union before he plants his hybrid flag on Canadian soil.

The United States owns the two territories, but nasty log-rolling politics in Congress have barred them from statehood, and kept Alaskans and Hawaiians in the position of second-class citizens.

Hawaiian statehood, which would add a large bloc of colored voters to the union, is a nightmare to some Americans. Partly because of this fact, proponents of Alaskan statehood won't help Hawaii get in; and partisans of Hawaiian statehood therefore won't support Alaska's claims.

American political parties are riddled with factions and pressure groups. They run their national conventions, and their affairs in general, with all the dignity of feeding-time at the zoo.

The executive and law-making branches of the United States government are forever at odds, and the left hand seldom knows what the right hand is doing.

Few Canadians want any share in these messy politics and inter-racial squabbles. We find it wearisome enough to watch Uncle Sam's circus across the border. Suggestions that we should actually join it are greeted here with pained amusement.

Canada is a free, strong and independent nation with a prospect of enormous wealth and growth, enjoying responsible government and partnership in the British Commonwealth.

Ernie invites us to sink our identity in the amorphous mass of the United States and become an outlying province.

He would have us trade our birthright for a small share in a country of waning resources and colossal debt, governed by an ancient and unwieldy system and subject to waves of hysteria.

The last time such an idea was advanced, some wise man put forward the counter-proposal that Canada might agree to admit the United States as a territory on the same basis as the Yukon, if the Americans would clean up their government first.

Those Litter-Bugs

A week-end trip through the country-side reveals that many beauty spots are fenced off and "No Trespassing" signs posted by the owners of the property. Conversation with the proprietors frequently reveals that they are not anti-social, that they do not wish to deprive visitors of a view of nature's wonderland, but that they are fed up — and with ample reason — with the litter-bugs from the city who invade the rural areas over the week-ends and during holiday periods.

These people, on visits to the country scatter lunch boxes and other debris on the roadsides and around parking spots. They have no regard for the beauty about them, despoiling it carelessly.

The litter-bugs, of course, are a nuisance in the city as well. Anyone with a lawn fronting a sidewalk can vouch for this. Passersby toss empty cigarette boxes, paper bags, lollipop sticks, potato chips or other remnants on the grass.

This is not just unsightly. It also is a menace to lawn mowers. Frequently it is necessary to rake a lawn before cutting it, or the lawn-mower will become entangled in all sorts of odds and ends which pedestrians or motorists have cast aside.

Those persons guilty of spreading such litter are more than thoughtless. They are bad-mannered. They lack the basic respect that is due the property of others and by their ill-mannered actions deprive hundreds of decently acting people of the privileges they might otherwise enjoy.

This And That...

The fact that the week-end air show of the Russians seemed pretty impressive should come as no surprise. As soon as they invited Western officials to view the show, it was quite clear that they had something worth showing off.

The United States has lost ground in Iceland where the people voted for a government yesterday. Best chance of the U.S. keeping its bases there rested in P.M. Olafur Thors, who had adopted a "go slow policy" on the expulsion of the Yanks. It appears that the decline of American prestige is going to stick out like a "Thors Thumb."

An American author, decrying that nation's divorce rate, blames the high divorce incidence on the number of "under 21" marriages. "What sort of laws do we have which deny a youngster under 21 the right to buy a glass of whiskey but allow him the privilege to get married?" he asks. Another thought could be that many an ill-fated marriage was born from a glass of whiskey, or two, or three.

After the first week or so that the kids have been away to camp, Mother and Dad discover that they'd gladly exchange the peace and quiet for a good game of indoor tag or some Rock 'n Roll records.

It has been charged that the CBC "reflects" the left-wing pro-Communist propaganda line. We always thought that Communism was pretty dull stuff. Now it's been confirmed.

Truth Haunts The Czechs

Brandon Sun

An editor in Czechoslovakia has just printed an admission that could have cost him his life or most certainly his freedom up to a short time ago. Pravda of Pilsen has told its readers that Czech newspapers aren't publishers of facts at all — just propaganda sheets.

As an example, the Pilsen paper belatedly mentions a big flood which a year ago "even inundated the offices of our own paper. But there was not a line about this flood in the papers, including our own." The Czech editor ends his confession with a call for a new slogan: "No more dull newspapers. Let's print news." Apparently the anti-Stalinism campaign has had a strong impact in the satellites. For the present, at least, we can applaud evidence that the spirit of freedom isn't dead in what was the democracy of Czechoslovakia.

GRASS-CARRIERS
Owen Sound Sun-Times

Who invented the cuffs on trousers and why hasn't some modern clothing stylist had the thoughtfulness to make cuffs pants popular at least in the Summer time? Housewives would be particularly thankful for such a ban. Mere males, too, would welcome the move as an escape from one of the major points at issue between wife and unthinking husband these days.

It would be a long step toward ending the appearance of grass clippings, beach sand and other "foreign" substances from such places as living rooms, bedrooms and other parts of the house.

Egypt Pressing U.S. To Help Finish Dam

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser is reported pressing the United States for a firmer pledge to help Egypt finish — as well as begin — construction of the proposed Aswan high dam on the Nile river.

Negotiations over the dam and American policy toward assisting in its construction now are at a critical point. They are badly tangled up by the fact that since the original U. S.—British offer of aid was made last December Nasser has followed an increasingly pro-Soviet line.

This has tended to endanger Western security interests in the Middle East. It may also have lessened Nasser's chances of getting the firmer promise of long-term assistance which he demands.

The Egyptian president, according to diplomatic reports to the state department, pressed the point in a meeting in Cairo Wednesday with Eugene R. Black, president of the World Bank which has offered to join in the financing.

The meeting was reported friendly and cordial. Black is reported to have got the impression that Nasser prefers to have the Western powers help finance the $1,300,000,000 project rather than accept a Russian offer.

The financing plan calls for the World Bank to lend $200,000,000 and the United States and Britain to provide another $200,000,000 with the rest of the cost being met by Egypt.

The United States and Britain offered last December to give Egypt a total of $70,000,000 to get the huge project started. But United States law limits foreign aid commitments to funds appropriated for any one year, and the American government could promise only sympathetic consideration of Egypt's further needs as the work progresses. This is a way of saying the administration will ask Congress for funds as they are required.

Nasser, who has received large quantities of arms from Communist Czechoslovakia and has recognized Communist China this week entertained Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov at celebrations marking the end of Britain's occupation of the Suez canal zone.

It is apparent in official quarters here that there is much less enthusiasm for the Aswan project than there once was. At the same time officials recognize that if the Western powers are unable to help Egypt in the dam's construction Nasser may turn to Soviet help—a move that could greatly increase Soviet influence over Nasser's policies.

NOW IT IS JUST EATING, NOT DINING

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

A contemporary roundly condemns those restaurants which put in so many stools per foot of counter that it is impossible to eat without the co-operation of your neighbour. This is condemnation well-deserved but it should not be restricted to lunch-counters. Large and well-known hotels jam in the delegates to convention lunches just as ruthlessly. There the difficulties are greater, too, since the food served at conventions (juice, creamed chicken, pie and ice cream) needs to be engineered into the mouth and does not admit of such easy despatch as a peanut-butter sandwich and a glass of milk.

But the blame for this packing in of people rests finally with ourselves. We have in this country banished the dining room. We now eat in tiny alcoves dignified with the name of dinettes or, more likely, we eat in the kitchen.

No one would deny that this is a great saving of space in building a house. No one would dispute the fact that it saves a considerable amount of money.

Jacoby On Bridge

DECLARER ERRS ON FIRST LEAD

How could South go down at four spades in today's hand? One careless play, of the kind that almost anybody might make, was enough to cost declarer game and rubber.

South won the first trick with the king of hearts and led the queen of spades for a finesse. West discarded the seven of diamonds, and South saw that the finesse was not going to succeed.

Declarer saw no reason to take a losing finesse, so put up dummy's ace of spades to win the second trick. Then he returned a spade from dummy.

Have you seen the mistake? If not, look again.

South sealed his doom when he played the ace of spades from dummy at the second trick. East took the next trump trick with the king, cashed the king of diamonds, and led a diamond to his partner's ace. West led a third diamond, and East was able to over-ruff dummy with the nine of spades, thus taking the setting trick.

The correct play is to let the queen of spades ride at the second trick, giving East the king of spades at once. Dummy's ace of spades can then be used to ruff the third round of diamonds, after which declarer can draw trumps and claim the rest.

CARD SENSE

Q—At rubber bridge, neither side vulnerable, the bidding has been:

West North East South

1 Heart Pass Pass ?

You, South, hold:

Spades A-3-2, Hearts K-9-7-5, Diamonds 5, Clubs K-Q-J-7-3.

What do you do?

A—Pass. Since North is probably short in hearts, his pass indicates weakness rather than a wish to trap the opening bidder. If North is weak, you will do better on defense than on offense.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding has been:

2 Clubs Pass ?

You, South, hold:

DO YOU NOTICE THESE SYMPTOMS OF INADEQUATE WIRING?

1. Lights that dim or flicker when appliances go on.
2. Frequent fuse "blow-outs".
3. TV interference when appliances go on.
4. Poor radio reception.
5. Overheating of motors.
6. Long extension cords and octopus outlets.
7. Poor appliance performance.

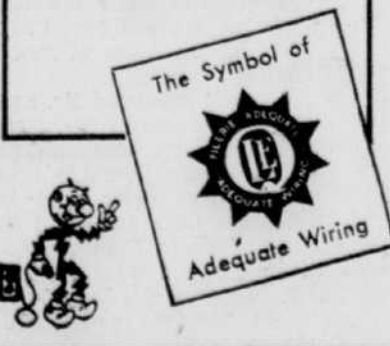

Wonderful things happen when your home is adequately wired.

You START enjoying the convenience of extra outlets and switches... better lighting... greater security... better radio and TV reception... and improved performance of all your appliances.

Adequate wiring increases the value of your home, as well as the comfort and convenience. Your wiring system can be modernized for today's heavier appliance load easily and at low cost.

Stanstead Couple Celebrates Silver Anniversary

STANSTEAD — Mr. and Mrs. James Martin, of Stanstead, were honored on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, when a number of neighbors and friends visited and spent the evening at their home.

The home was tastefully decorated with seasonal flowers, and everyone enjoyed the pleasant get-together. The honored couple were the recipients of an electric coffee maker from their only son, Charles, of Sherbrooke, and Mrs. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Sawyer, made them the gift of a silver sugar creamer and tray; the groom gave his bride of the silver years an electric fryer. They also received other useful articles for their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin expressed their appreciation to each and all for the gifts and their thoughtfulness.

Refreshments were served, these having been arranged by Mrs. Harry Farrow, assisted by friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin, the former May Sawyer, were united in marriage at Christ Anglican Church, Stanstead, on June 20, 1931. They have one son, Charles. Their many friends join in wishing them many more happy years together.

Mrs. F. Paterson and Miss Vina Brownlow entertained Thursday evening at the former's home on Fulton Ave., at a miscellaneous shower for Miss Joan Leech, of the teaching profession, a July bride-to-be.

Under the impression that the party was in honor of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Rawlings, that day, Miss Leech assumed that she was but one of the guests. However with the pinning of a corsage on her shoulder and being faced with a crowd of her own friends in the living room, her suspicions arose and were soon to be justified.

In short, appearing on the scene was a miniature red brick schoolhouse with the ringing of the bell to the accompaniment of "The Little Red Schoolhouse" by Mrs. G. Richards, at the piano. The structure, which was placed in front of the guest of honor, housed the shower gifts which were presented to her by the hostesses.

Following the examining of the lovely gifts and the cleverly built schoolhouse, refreshments were served from the dining-room, which was decorated with seasonal flowers toning with those in the other rooms.

Mrs. Henry Leech, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Herbert Mills, mother of the groom-to-be, poured at the tea table, arranged with a hand embroidered cloth, pink phlox and matching candles in silver holders.

Mrs. Percy Rawlings and Miss Valerie Rawlings assisted in serving.

J. Giles Speaks At Official Opening Of Addition To Bedford High School

BEDFORD. — The program in connection with the opening of the addition to the Bedford High School was held in the new gymnasium.

Seated on the platform were Principal Bruce Kerwin, members of the school board, W. H. Baglow, chairman, John Ewing, R. Whitcomb, Harry Jones and B. W. Draper; Mayor J. O. Levesque, L. Perry, Montreal architect; Jacques Methe, contractor; A. Laing, Montreal, secretary Association of Protestant School Boards; J. J. Bertrand, M.L.A., Cowansville; J. Giles, Deputy Minister of Education and supervisor of Protestant Education in Quebec; Mr. A. Walbridge, chairman Mystic School Board; and W. C. Bradley, Q.C., President of Quebec Association of Protestant School Boards.

In a brief address Mr. Baglow sketched the reason for the building of the new addition. As a result of a survey it was shown that with the expected enrollment for 1956, which is 196 pupils, the school facilities would be totally inadequate to meet the increased demand. Next year it is expected that the enrollment would be 240, with increasing enrollment in the coming years. In addition to an excellent gymnasium, which fills a long-felt need, there are four class rooms, a chemistry lab and a teachers' room.

Harry Jones introduced Mr. Giles, a graduate of McGill and Columbia. He filled the position of principal at Three Rivers and Macdonald High School before taking over as inspector of schools, which position he held until 1955, when he succeeded Mr. Percival on his retirement as supervisor of Protestant education.

Mr. Giles compared the present school facilities of the High School with those afforded by the old Bedford Academy, which he first visited in 1932. Mr. Giles congratulated all those who were responsible for the building of the present modern school. Reference was made to the urgent need for more teachers, only 50% of the needed number will be graduated this year, and the shortage will continue for years to come.

Raymond Whitcomb introduced J. J. Bertrand, M. L. A. Missisquoi, to whom the Board was most grateful for his help in carrying out the project. Mr. Bertrand spoke of the assistance rendered education in the country during the past years; including an addition to the Heros Memorial school at Cowansville, a new school at Clarenceville, and the addition to the local High School.

B. W. Draper, on behalf of the school board, thanked the Torrington Company and the Champlain Milk Products Company, for the flowers, which decorated the gymnasium. The Lightning Zipper Company was thanked for their kindness for affording trucking facilities for the transportation of needed articles.

W. H. Bradley, Q. C. president of Quebec Association of Protestant School Boards, was introduced by Mr. Draper. Mr. Bradley spoke of the changes, which had occurred in this association since its formation in Magog in 1929, which at this time was known as the High School Association, the members of which were schools off the Island of Montreal. Later the Montreal schools joined the association.

Mr. Bradley said that the new building was an expression of confidence in the future of the community, and the future of the youth of the community. On behalf of his association, Mr. Bradley extended warm and sincere congratulations.

Mr. Baglow called on Mayor Levesque, who stated that he was greatly honored at being present and that the new school would be of great assistance to the pupils and an asset to Bedford.

Waterloo Kiwanis Boy's Baseball Plans Progressing

WATERLOO — At an open meeting of the Waterloo Kiwanis Club President Tom Wilkinson led in several discussions. Kiwanian Derric Grenier made a report on the work he had done regarding the picnic grounds and beach.

Single handed, Mr. Grenier, made all necessary arrangements with the tenants at both picnic grounds, which had been provided previously by the club, to maintain a clean and tidy place, in payment for which the club would supply free picnic tables. This involved considerable work, and he announced this had been accomplished.

A report on the condition of Immediate Past President Al Grainger, stated that while he may be a patient in the Sherbrooke Hospital for a while longer, it was felt that his condition was improving nicely.

The cancer fund, according to the report given by chairman Orval Lewis, raised approximately $675., which has been sent to the headquarters in Sherbrooke. Plans are underway for the club to attend at least some of the summer plays at Brae Manor in Knowlton.

Reporting on Little League baseball, chairman Les Hoppon stated that, following a misunderstanding as to practice time, things were now looking up and when the examinations in school are finished it should be clear sailing. The league is short of coaches at the present time, but there has been promises of help from other sources and the general picture is one of encouragement.

Pete Hulet, who is in charge of the coaches and boys, said he felt the league would make progress. Teams will be formed shortly and then interest should reach a high pitch. It was generally agreed that this project is well worth while and should have the complete co-operation of each and every member.

The election of officers resulted in the following slate being chosen: President, Mrs. R. B. Moysey; vice-president, Mrs. W. A. Parkes; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. O. T. Pickford.

It was voted to send $10 to the Wales Home for miscellaneous upkeep. The meeting came to a close with the serving of refreshments.

ALBERT E. N. TURNBULL OF COATICOOK

COATICOOK — The death occurred, on May 22nd, of Professor Albert Ernest Nelson Turnbull, at his home in Coaticook, in his 81st year. He had been in failing health for some time and passed away, following an attack of pneumonia.

The funeral was held at the Coaticook United Church on Friday afternoon, May 25th conducted by Rev. Frank S. Cant. An augmented choir led the singing of the hymns and Mr. Robert McAlpine rendered a vocal solo. Interment took place in Mount Forest Cemetery with members of Ashlar Masonic Lodge, of Coaticook, taking part in the burial rites for their departed brother, and with the presiding Master, Glen Brown, and the Chaplain, Stanley Beerworth officiating.

Mr. Turnbull was born in Middleboro, England, the son of James Oldham Turnbull and Eliza Nelson. He gained his earlier education in Birmingham and later studied at the London Conservatory of Music and took examinations at the Royal College of Organists.

At the age of 17, he held his first position as church organist at the Church of the Saviour, Birmingham, and later at the English Church, Weymouth. He was married to Wilfreda Clay in the Gooch Street Church, Birmingham, in 1899.

They moved to Canada in 1910 and lived at Winnipeg, Man., and other points in Western Canada for several years, later settling in Montreal, where Mr. Turnbull was organist at several city churches including Amherst-Park

U.C., and the St. Laurent United Church. He was also director of the Verdun choral group.

The family moved to Coaticook in 1936 and Mr. Turnbull was organist at the Coaticook United Church for several years until advancing years forced him to retire from his life-long work. He was an enthusiastic member of Ashlar Lodge and a Past Master of the Masonic Order.

Besides his wife, he leaves to mourn his loss six sons, Nelson, James and Pat, all of Montreal; Frank of Picton, N.S.; Jack, of Coaticook; and Harry, of North Bay, Ont.; five daughters, Freda, Mrs. Harry Pearsall, of Demorestville, Picton, Ont.; Gladys, Mrs. Stanley Cromwell, of Coaticook; Elsie, Mrs. Gordon Beerworth, of Montreal; Olive, Mrs. S. Cadillac

Go On In and Get It!

Almost every hour of every day, someone stands for a moment in front of our showroom window—and gazes longingly at a Cadillac.

Some of these people come on in, of course, and get the facts—and let their dreams come true. But a great many walk away—and it is to them that we would address these sincere words of friendly counsel.

You ought to open the door and walk in and talk with us—because the economic truth about Cadillac ownership will very likely amaze you.

The first cost of the lowest-priced Cadillac is modest indeed, comparatively speaking. Numerous models of other makes of cars actually cost more—and every Cadillac represents an outstanding investment in terms of value received.

And, most certainly, Cadillac owners pay no penalty once the car is in their hands.

Upkeep and maintenance expenses are unusually reasonable. And the car's long life lowers depreciation to an unbelievable degree. In fact, Cadillac traditionally returns—at resale time—a greater percentage of the owner's original investment than any other car built today.

Such is the economy of Cadillac ownership. But the great reason for owning it is the pleasure and satisfaction it provides. In fact, the car is a never-ending joy to possess and to utilize.

So if you should find yourself standing in front of our showroom window some day—come on in for a friendly talk.

We will be happy to give you the wonderful facts about how quickly you can have delivery of your favourite model—and to tell you how much your present car will be worth in trade.

Five Drivers Fined For Failing To Give Good Performances Yesterday

Sam Etcheverry Testifies That Als Are Footing Bill For His Case With Cards; Date Of Contract Big Factor

SANTA FE, N.M. — (AP) — Quarterback Sam Etcheverry testified Saturday that Montreal Alouettes are paying the costs of defending him against a lawsuit by Chicago Cardinals of the National Football League.

The Cardinals and Alouettes, last season's Big Four champions both claim the services of the star passer who has played for Montreal since graduation from Denver University in 1952.

Etcheverry had previously testified that he signed a $13,000 Cardinal contract Jan. 4, 1955 in Albuquerque, N.M., his home, and mailed it to the team. Then, he said, he received a telephone call from Vic Obeck of the Alouettes that night and was offered $13,500.

He said the best previous Montreal offer had been $11,000 and that it had been increased without Alouettes knowing of the $13,000 Chicago contract.

Etcheverry said that when he told Obeck he had already signed with Chicago.

Then Etcheverry testified Obeck said it couldn't be helped and told him to come to New York to sign with the Alouettes anyway, and they would predate the contract.

Ted Workman of the Alouettes called a short time later and assured Etcheverry the club would take care of the costs of any court suit that might result. Asked about this Saturday, Etcheverry confirmed Montreal is paying the costs.

Etcheverry said that it was after his talk with Workman that he called Arch Wolfe, Cardinals secretary, and told him to disregard the contract just mailed. He already had tried in vain to recover the contract from the Albuquerque post office.

Then, he said, he flew to New York on the first available flight and there signed a contract for 1955-56 with the Alouettes. He testified that he changed his hotel room in New York "to go into hiding" and he implied he did so because he didn't want a run-in

Five Horses Burn At Blue Bonnets

MONTREAL. — (AP) — Fire Saturday night destroyed a stable and five race horses, one of them holder of a Canadian track record, at Montreal's Blue Bonnets racetrack.

Officials estimated loss of the horses and equipment alone to total more than $55,000.

One of the horses killed was Vic's Song, who set the Canadian record for the one-mile trot in Quebec City in 1954. Vic's Song, valued at $20,000, set the record at 2:02 3/5, chopping 2 1/5 seconds off the previous time.

Seven horses were saved. Other horses killed were Titanic, Candy Man, Bonnie Pete and San Gallon. All were owned by Laurent Bourgon of Montreal.

DRIVING FINISH — Direct Harvester, number one, is seen coming through with his stretch drive to win the second heat of the Jr Free-for-All yesterday afternoon in 2:15 1/5. Doctor Brooke C, with Guy Desrochers driving, is seen guiding his horse with a loose rein placed second while E. Larente and Belle Brakefield are trying to close the gap with an all effort. This was the finish of the race in which five drivers were fined for failing to give a satisfactory drive to the best of their ability. (Photo by Rene Lafond)

Judges Hand Out Fines As Drivers Turn In Mediocre Exhibition; Double Pays Top Price Of Week-End $132.95

Five drivers were fined and two were given severe reprimands yesterday afternoon at the Sherbrooke Racing track. The drivers fined were all in the Jr Free-for-All and drew their fines in the eighth race when they failed to render a good performance.

A. Beaudoin, E. Aubin, G. Desrochers, P. Kelly and L. Huekins were fined by the judges when their performances failed to live up to expectations. In the first heat they finished in 2:12 2/5 while in the second half of the main event they crossed the wire in 2:15 1/5 with plenty to spare.

Amedee Beaudoin and his Direct Harvester copped both ends of the event in easy fashion in the home stretch. In the first heat the leader set a pace of 1:07 3/5 for the first half and came home in 1:05 to be clocked in 2:12 2/5 while the second time they were clocked in the slow time of 1:09 1/5 for the first trip around and then came back in 1:06 for a rather slow mark of 2:15 1/5 for a Jr Free-for-All. The judges decided the drivers failed to show any indication of stepping their horses up and were content to take things easy and didn't make any effort to improve matters except for a little spurt in the stretch.

The daily double of Splash Up, number four, in the first and Willgo, four also, paid the top price for the extra events Sunday when $132.95 was collected.

Saturday night $106.10 was picked up when Maximilienne Star, number six, and number four, Fleet McKay, in the second teamed up.

The top quinella of the week-end were best Saturday evening. In the first, in the third race, Nora Grattan and Prince Volo D rewarded their backers with $177.10 while the second high was collected for Fleet McKay and Spurgeon Patch in the sixth when $61.35 was paid. The other was $26.90 for Prince Volo D and Baxter. On Sunday card $13.45, $10.80 and $17.20 were the amounts paid for the lucky pickers.

Direct Harvester posted the fastest time of the week-end yesterday afternoon in the first heat of the Jr Free-for-All in 2:12 2/5 while Saturday night He's It, with V. Larose in the sulky, came home 2:13 1/5. The rest of the times failed to produce anything outstanding.

Rene Dionne of Bromptonville won the TV set drawn yesterday afternoon. Commencing next Sunday the programs will switch to the evenings.

Fleet McKay with Amedee Beaudoin driving along with V. Larose and his He's It were the only double winners Saturday night while Sunday the same two drivers teamed Direct Harvester and Splash Up to first. R. Demers drove Willgo to first in both ends of the "DD" Pace while F. St. Denis guided Tiger Hum home ahead of the field twice in the "D" Trot and Pace. The other races were all split.

Yankees Runaway Threat Comes To Abrupt Stop As White Sox Take Two

Chicago Sweeps Four-Game Series; Braves Continue Drive With Double Win Over Giants; Redlegs Stopp Bums

Any thoughts of a New York Yankee runaway in the American League pennant race have evaporated like their once-hand-some 6½ game lead.

The White Sox Sunday drubbed Casey Stengel's defending champions 14-2 and 6-3 before a thundering Chicago crowd of 47,255 to climax an amazing sweep of the four-game sweep of the Bronx Bombers. The twin triumph boosted the White Sox to within one game of the Yankees.

Not since 1945 when St. Louis Browns accomplished the feat has any team swept a four-game set from the Yankees. That year the Yankees finished fourth.

The Yankees now have a slimmer first-place lead than their National League counterparts, the Milwaukee Braves, who boosted their margin to two games by knocking off New York Giants twice, 6-2 and 7-1, for their ninth and tenth straight triumphs. The Braves haven't tasted defeat since Fred Haney replaced Charlie Grimm at the helm a week ago.

A check failed to show a better debut by any big-league manager. The best previous mark by a new manager was achieved by Grimm whose Chicago Cubs won eight of their first ten and 25 of their first 30 after Charlie succeeded Rogers Hornsby at the helm on Aug. 4, 1932.

Cincinnati's slugging Redlegs swept past Brooklyn into second place, winning two from the Dodgers, 10-6 and 2-1. St. Louis and Philadelphia split, the Phillies winning 3-2 after the Cardinals had captured the opener 8-4. Pittsburgh ended an eight-game losing streak, winning a five-inning game from Chicago 1-0 after the Cubs had won the first, 5-3.

Baltimore Orioles dealt Detroit a double 3-2 loss, stretching the Tigers' losing streak to eight. Kansas City downed Boston Red Sox 5-2 behind the six-hit pitching of Alex Kellner. Cleveland defeated Washington 7-2 in a rain-abbreviated first game. The second game was postponed.

Three-run homers by Larry Doby in the first inning of each game started the White Sox off to their most glorious afternoon of the season. The Sox slammed Whitey Ford and two relievers for 18 hits in the opener making it easy for Billy Pierce to breeze to his 11th triumph against two defeats.

Neither Ford nor Maury McDermott, second game starter, lasted through the first inning as the Sox rolled to their eighth success in a row. Gerry Staley, a ex-Yankee, notched the night-cap win although he needed help from Dixie Howell.

Milwaukee got superb pitching from righthanders Lew Burdette and Gene Conley as they swept all four games from New York. Burdette yielded four hits for his seventh victory in the opener. Conley was touched for four safeties until he gave way to Dave Jolly in the seventh after rain had halted the second game 20 minutes. Danny O'Connell drove in three runs with a home run in the first game and two runs with a bases-loaded single in the second.

The Redleg raiders pounded out six homers, three by catcher

Ed Bailey and solos by Ted Kluszewski, Frank Robinson and Bob Thurman. Robinson's 16th home run, off reliever Clem Labine, made it possible for Joe Nuxhall to become the first visiting southpaw to go the route and win at Ebbets Field since he himself did it on Sept. 16, 1954.

Home runs by Al Rosen, Earl Averill and Bobby Avila paved the way for Cleveland's sixth straight triumph and Bob Lemon's ninth success against four losses. The victory boosted the third-place Indians to within 4½ games of the top.

Billy Loes and Ray Moore, a pair of ex-Dodgers, received credit for the Baltimore victories over Detroit. Home runs by Willie Miranda and Billy Gardner won the first game.

For Kansas City, Harry Simpson drove in three runs with a home run and triple and Vic Power batted in two with a single and home run to make it easy for Kellner.

Pinch-hitter Frank Baumholtz' ninth-inning single scored Elmer Valo with the run that gave the Phillies a split against the Cardinals. Ken Boyer paced the Redbirds to their first-game victory with a pair of home runs and a triple.

Rain, which came in the sixth inning with the Pirates ahead 1-0 helped Pittsburgh snap its eight-game losing streak. The victory went to Laurin Pepper, a bonus righthander, his first in the majors. Suook Jacobs, who joined the Pirates Friday, singled in Eddie O'Brien with the only score off loser Sam Jones.

Broad Jump Record Set In Calgary

CALGARY — (AP) — A Canadian broad jump record was set Saturday by Annabelle Murray, a Calgary school teacher, at the Highland Games.

Miss Murray shattered a mark set in 1928 when she leaped 18 feet 4½ inches in the women's open running broad jump, 1½ inches better than the previous record.

Sime, Held Given Permission For Olympic Tryout

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. — (AP) — Sprint star Dave Sime of Duke University, and Franklin (Bud) Held of javelin renown, were given a chance to compete in the Olympic tryouts at Los Angeles this week in an unprecedented move Sunday by the United States Olympic Committee.

Sime was granted permission to try out for a place in the 200 metres. He had already qualified to try for one of the three Olympic team places in the 100-metre dash. He failed to qualify in the 200 metres when he dropped out with a groin injury in the national collegiate championships eight days ago.

Held, the recognized holder of the world javelin record which was bettered Sunday by Finland's Soini Nikkinen, failed to qualify in the event in the national AAU meet which ended Saturday night.

The committee felt both Sime and Held, in view of injuries—Held had been hampered all spring by ailments—should be afforded a chance in the tryout.

Ben Hogan And Peter Thomson Tie For Individual Honors In Canada Cup Matches; Stan Leonard Places Third

VIRGINIA WATER, Surrey England — (CP) — Ben Hogan of the United States and Peter Thomson of Australia fired three-under-par 68s Sunday to tie for the individual lead after the first 18 holes of the 72-hole Canada Cup international golf competition.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver and Lachute, Que., was one of three players tied with 69 on the tough par 35-36-71 Wentworth Club course. Leonard was playing with an injured right hand.

Two-man teams from 29 countries are taking part in the individual and team tournament which continues today with another 18 holes and winds up Tuesday with 36.

Al Balding of Toronto, Leonard's partner, shot a 75, giving the Canadian team a 144 total and a tie with the United States for fourth place.

Hogan's partner, Sam Snead, went around in 76. Australia, with Norman Vonnida shooting a 74, was the leader with 142 while Wales and Mexico had 143.

Tied with Leonard at 69 were Dennis Smalldon of Wales and Roberto de Vicenzo, the Argentinian who now plays for Mexico.

Next with 71s were Flory van Donck of Belgium, Alfonso Angelini of Italy, Michi Ishii of Japan, Bobby Locke of South Africa and Miguel Angel of Spain.

Locke's partner, 21-year-old Gary Player, a promising youngster, had a 74 and South Africa was tied for fifth place with Belgium, whose Flory van Donck had a 71 and Arthur de Vulder

Don Zimmer Sends Message To Hal Jeffcoat

BROOKLYN — (AP) — Brooklyn infielder Don Zimmer, who was hit in the face by a Hal Jeffcoat pitch Saturday, had a message for the Cincinnati pitcher today.

"Tell him it's okay," snorted Zimmer. "Tell him I took his best shot in the face, so he'd better give up pitching and go back to the outfield."

Jeffcoat started his major league career as an outfielder.

Zimmer is to have an operation Tuesday to reduce the fracture of his left cheek.

Duke Of Kent Event Won By Fred Chouinard

QUEBEC — (AP) — Fred Chouinard, playing on his home Royal Quebec course, fired rounds of 71 and 75 Saturday to win the Duke of Kent amateur golf tournament.

Chouinard's 146 score for 36 holes was two over par but was still one better than Bob Spence of Kanawaki, Que., and Mike Darling of the Whitlock Club, Montreal, who tied for second place with 147.

The tournament, one of the top amateur meets of the season in Quebec, drew 129 players from all parts of the province.

Old Satch Does It Again; Comes Up With Fine Relief Job To Stop Leafs; Royals Thumped Twice By Sugar Kings

Satchel Paige usually is thought of as relief pitcher good for one or two innings. But the 49-year-old hurler, (or is it 54?) showed there still is something more than a brief stint in his right arm.

The easy-going righthander, who has had his fling in the majors, took over for the Miami Marlins in the first inning of the second game against Toronto Sunday with two out, the bases loaded and the Maple Leafs leading 3-0.

Old Satch promptly shut off the Leaf power and finished out the seventh-inning game by allowing six scattered hits. He didn't walk a man. Meantime, the Marlins struck from behind to win 6-3.

They were blanked 13-0 in the opener in which five Miami pitchers tried to stem the Leafs' 17-hit attack.

Rochester Red Wings continued their dominance over the Columbus Jets with 8-5 and 5-1 victories, and thanks to Havana Sugar Kings they moved within 2½ games of the league-leading Montreal Royals. The Sugar Kings thumped the Royals twice, 10-5 and 6-3.

In the other doubleheader,

Richmond and Buffalo split. The Bisons erupted for five runs in the last inning to win the night-cap 5-1 after the Virginians had extended their winning streak to six games with a 11-1 decision in the opener.

The Wings made it nine out of 12 against the Jets this season. Doubles by Ed Kasko and Gene Green and Mel Nelson's three-run homer sparked Rochester's six-run opening inning in the first game.

In chalking up a victory over the Royals for the first time this season, the Cubans erupted for nine runs in the sixth as they chased Fred Kipp to the showers. Woody Smith hit his 13th home run.

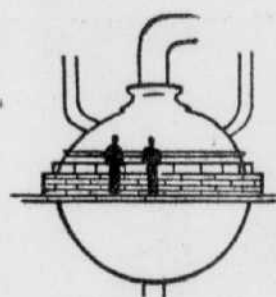

Owen Friend's three-run homer was the big blow in the second game as Joe Hattan wrapped up his first victory of the year.

Ed Burtch, newcomer to Richmond, and Karl Drews were locked in a pitching duel when the Bisons struck for their five final-inning runs. Joe Caffie scored three of them with an inside-the park homer.

Havana—Hoachine Khalfi, 136, Algeria, drew with Fernando Silva, 131½, Cuba, 10.

Announcing the NEW CROWN & ANCHOR Lager Beer

Now milder, smoother, lighter to the taste...
sparkling clear and brilliant to the eye!

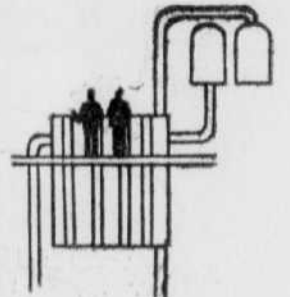

Here in the BREW KETTLE a difference is created

You've been looking for the ideal lager beer... one without a hint of bitterness, sting, or over-sweetness. Take one sip of the new Crown & Anchor. After just that one sip you'll want to know why it tastes milder (not bitter), smoother (not sharp), lighter (not heavy-sweet). And as your pleased glance falls upon the glass, you'll want to know why the bubbles shine so brilliantly in this clear, sparkling brew.

Here are the why's... 1. Because a new pure yeast strain—imported from Copenhagen—has been introduced into the fermenter to make the beer more mellow. 2. Because the ageing period has been lengthened. 3. Because the Molson's brewmasters have developed just a slight variation in the proportions of malt, hops and other ingredients that go into the brew kettle—and it has made an important difference. 4. Because subtle changes—just a few vital minutes—have been made in the timing of the brewing processes. 5. Because this new brew is forced through thousands of layers of filtering material to remove any haze and impart a brilliance to the finished product.

All slight...all seemingly "un-world-shaking"—but together these refinements have produced Molson's new Crown & Anchor, a truly tasty lager beer.

Here in the FERMENTER a difference is created

Tested by trained palates and plain people... both say new Crown & Anchor tastes best!

The new Crown & Anchor was first submitted to a panel of trained beer tasters. These trained testers sipped from an unidentified glass of new Crown & Anchor... then from unidentified glasses of other popular lagers.

These trained palates gave the new Crown & Anchor higher marks than any other lager for mildness, smoothness and lightness of taste. And trained eyes gave new Crown & Anchor the highest marks for clarity and brilliance.

Then bottles of the new Crown & Anchor and bottles of the next most popular lager—both identified only by numbers—were left in thousands of homes throughout Quebec. Interviewers called later to get these ordinary consumers' opinions. Here's what they found...

Everywhere, new Crown & Anchor was preferred by a majority of all lager consumers.

Like the trained experts, these average consumers preferred Molson's new Crown & Anchor for its mildness, smoothness, lightness of taste... for its sparkling brilliance and clarity.

Bucky Harris Said On Skids At Detroit; Club Loses Eight In Row; Hitchcock Or Tighe May Take Over

DETROIT. (AP)—Stanley W. (Bucky) Harris may be on his way out as manager of Detroit Tigers.

The club has nosedived from the first division to sixth place with an eight-game losing streak, longest of the American League season.

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., youthful president of the Tigers, has been openly critical of what he terms lack of hustle and spirit. Briggs said in an interview that he would "make a change right now" if the baseball company's ownership were not in such a muddled state.

Announcing he is "fed up" with the Tigers' showing, Briggs said the club should be in fifth, and perhaps fourth place. The Tigers dropped their seventh and eighth games Sunday by 3-2 scores to Baltimore Orioles.

Harris has produced just three pennant winners in a major league managerial career dating back to 1924. He won with Washington in 1924 and 1925.

Briggs hired Harris before the 1955 season after Bucky had been let out at Washington. Detroit has not finished in the first division since 1950, when Red Rolfe led the club to second place.

Some sports writers and broadcasters have accused both the "Tigers" field management and front office of "complacency" and some of the players have complained of what they call Harris' lack of aggressiveness.

Though he is regarded as one of baseball's soundest tacticians, Harris is a gentle man who rarely becomes excited. Players say he never dressed them down, either in public or in private, for bad performances afield. Said one veteran player:

"If he'd just take us apart once in a while, I think we'd all be better off and play better ball. I know I would."

Briggs said he had been considering a change, but hesitated because the club is up for sale. About a half dozen groups have put up $250,000 each for a look at the books, and the final bids will be decided upon by July 2.

Speculation is that a Tiger coach, either Bill Hitchcock or Jack Tighe, would be named interim manager if Harris does not finish the season.

Only a week ago Saturday, easy going Charlie Grimm was fired as manager of Milwaukee Braves. The Braves, who were in fifth place in the tight National League race, have won 10 straight since Fred Haney took over, and have moved into first place.

MASTER YOUR GAME

Aim At Green, Not Pin

By JACKIE BURKE
Master of the Masters

If Hazards are to the right or left of the green, requiring a fade or hook, create the shot with the stance.

Do not try to twist the ball in to the green.

Establish the direction to the green by making allowance for the desired amount of fade or hook.

Then think in terms of what ever you want the ball to do.

Imagine the flagstick being brought back to a straight line from the green to a point directly in front of your stance. In that way you determine whether or not your stance is square to the green, whether or not a suitable allowance has been made for a fade or hook.

I have never aimed at the pin with anything longer than a niblick.

Past the eight iron, my target is never any smaller than a large portion of the green. This is true of every professional on the tournament circuit.

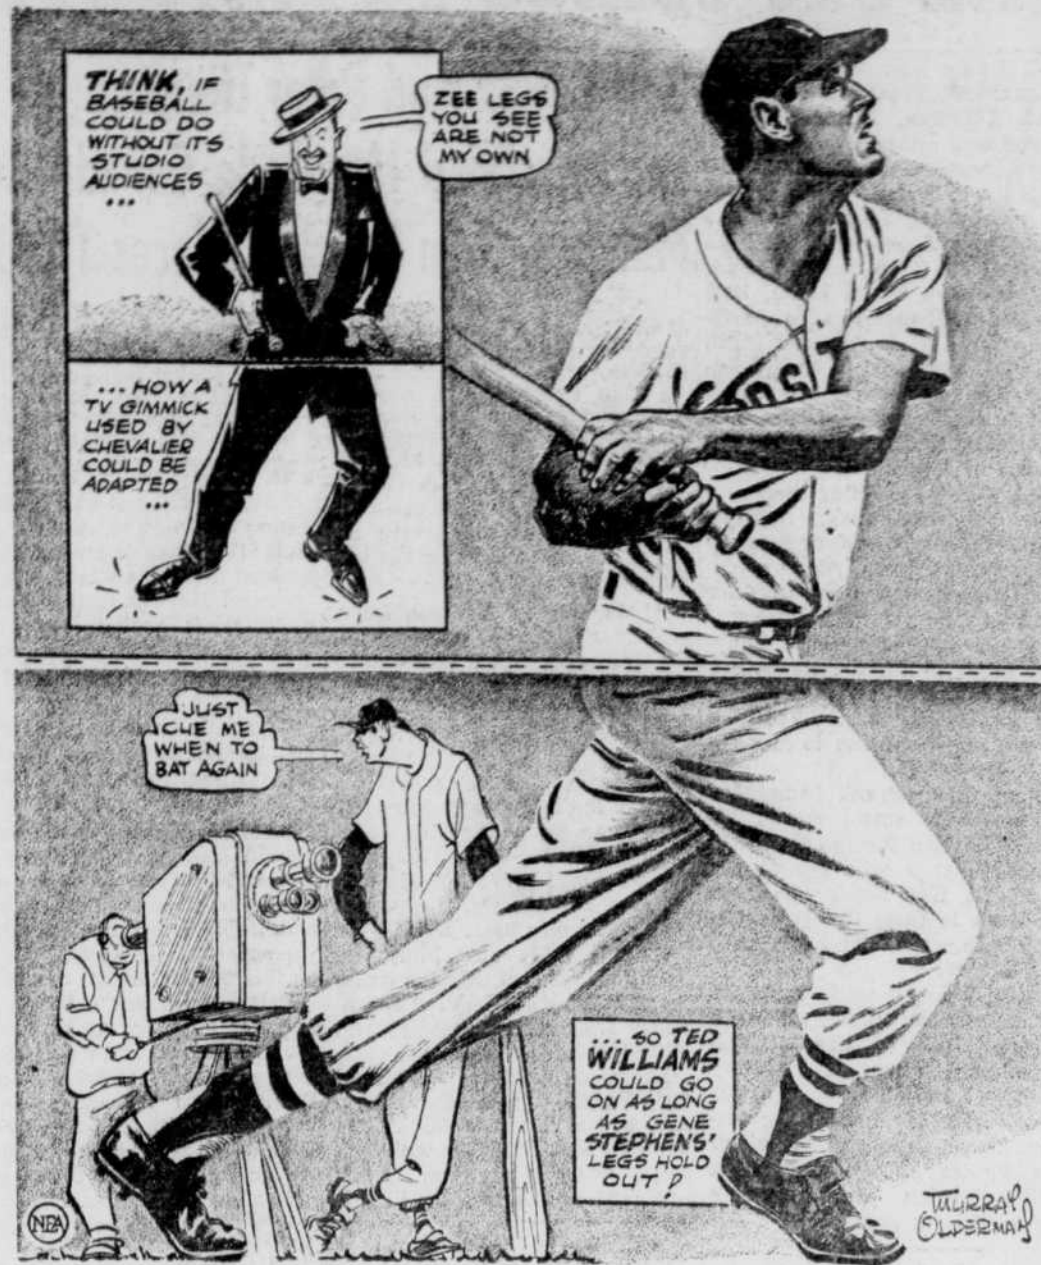

The chance of hitting the green is excellent. The chance of hitting the flag is practically nil.

Hitting the green as often as possible you are bound to place the ball closer to the pin oftener than by aiming at it. (NEA).

NEXT: Aim at the top of the pin on the pitch shot.

Mickey Mantle Near Half-Way Mark In Bid To Break Babe Ruth's Record

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mickey Mantle is just about half way.

The Oklahoma strongboy playing centrefield for New York Yankees almost has 30 home runs in the bag — just about half of the record 60 Babe Ruth socked away in 1927 with the Yankees.

The 24-year-old switch-hitting Mantle is well ahead of the Babe's record pace (he was 18 games ahead when he socked No. 27 last Wednesday), but that alone is no tub-thumping accomplishment. A pack of sluggers have been ahead of Ruth's schedule since 1927 — including the Babe himself. But even Ruth only hit 60 once.

Only twice since 1927 has any one hit as many as 30 home runs by the end of June. Both times, the hitter was Ruth. He had 30 by June 30, 1928, but finished with 54. He had 30 by the end of June in 1930, but finished with 49.

In 1927, Ruth had hit only 25 through June, which emphasizes the biggest challenge the would-be record breakers face in attempting to match the Babe's pace. Ruth clubbed an amazing 17 in the month of September, a finishing kick that proved too much for the likes of Jimmy Foxx, who hit 58 in 1932 and Hank Greenberg, who smacked 58 in 1938. Foxx hit only 10 in September. Greenberg 12.

The exciting factor about Mantle's bid, however, is that his present pace would carry him into the final month needing only about half as many as the 17 Ruth belted in September.

So far, Mantle has homered against every club in the American League except Baltimore while hitting 21 of his total left-handed.

FISHING — Red Sox third baseman Billy Klaus seems to be fumbling for his wallet. He's actually after the ball—a hard grounder hit by Detroit's Bill Tuttle. The ball hopped inside his jersey when Klaus bent over to field it. By the time he pulled it out, Tuttle had a hit.
