VOL. XXVII, No. 14 WESTMOUNT, FRIDAY, APRIL 5, 1946 PRICE—THREE CENTS

Taxi Restrictions Protested By Vets

The limitation on the number of permits to drive taxis in Westmount evoked protests from several veterans and others who have been seeking to own and operate their own vehicles within the municipalities. Since the permits are issued free of charge by the Westmount police authorities so taxi associations who have contractural agreements with the City, the only permits that can be obtained are from the companies that are already in operation there.

W. D. Patterson, president of the Western Taxi Association, said that all 14 taxis permits he originally had were taken up by individual owners. To charges that he demanded $200 entrance fee, he replied that the sum was required to finance initial expenditures of the company, were taken out in preferred stock, at six per cent dividend, "if the company should make any money," and was returnable to any owner leaving the concern.

The $25 monthly dues were for phone and rental services as well as other incidentals, which he said was considered to be a fair charge. He added that his books could be examined at any time, and that as far as veterans were concerned, the Department of Veterans Affairs had sanctioned all dealings with the association.

W. H. Watt, president of the 400 Taxis Association, explained that an entry fee of $35 was charged to help defray initial expenses which came to $2,800.

Monthly dues toward running expenses was $20 and the charges were so pared down, he said, that he himself owned and drove a taxi to get along. Some owners had been granted two permits at the start, but these had all been taken up with one exception, he said, and that man was getting another car. He admitted that permits could fetch as high as $1,000 but he was being careful to see that no such exploitation was introduced. He pointed out that both he and his two sons were veterans

Both companies estimated that 75 to 80 per cent of their personnel were made up of veterans of either or both wars, and both stressed that their business arrangements were open to examination.

First Violets Sighted Here

To Miss J. Lambly and Mrs. C. H. Marshall of 31 Windsor avenue, goes the honor of being the first Westmount residents to report the arrival of spring flowers.

Miss Lambly also claimed this honor last spring. She reported to The Examiner that three blue violets appeared in her back yard on March 28. The violets, Miss Lambly said, were close to the wall of a house and sheltered from the wind which might account for their early arrival.

Young Liberal Club To Hear Abbe Maheux

The newly-formed Westmount Young Liberals Association will hold the first meeting of what it hopes will become an annual series of social meetings in the Green Room of Victoria Hall tonight at 8.15 o'clock. Captain Abbe Maheux, well-known lecturer and author, will speak on "Canadian Unity."

Abbe Maheux, who at present holds the post of archivist at Quebec City's Laval University, has made two cross-country lecture tours to give his views on Canadian unity problems to audiences throughout the Dominion. He has written two books on the subject, one being "What Keeps Us Apart?", and is the author of a column that appears in The Montreal Star every Saturday.

Members of the Young Liberals Association, have been invited to bring guests to tonight's gathering and it is probable that there will be about 60 persons present to hear Maheux address and to enjoy the dancing and refreshments which will follow the regular meeting.

Abbe Maheux, incidentally, served as an army padre in World War 2.

William Macdonald, president of the organization, will be in the chair tonight.

Barry Campbell, chairman of the association's social committee, is in charge of arrangements for tonight's affair and all desiring further information are asked to contact him. Peter Rosenbaum, head of the club's publicity committee, has been looking after publicity for the event and Lorne Hellyer, chairman of the membership committee, has been doing a great deal of promotion work.

St. Leo's Capture Rotary Public Speaking Contest

The preliminarfy round of the annual Rotary Club public speaking contest among high schools took place at the weekly meeting of the Westmount Rotary Club Luncheon held in Victoria Hall. Lorne Foy, of St. Leo's Academy, took the first award, while W. Gewurtz, of Strathcona, finished in the second prize money.

The first round of the contest was the main feature of the regular weekly meeting of the club and boys from five high schools in the Montreal area competed. Donald Bardwell, representing Westmount High School, captured the third prize honors.

Judges for the contest were Rotarians John S. Miller, Rev. R. G. Bourgoyne and C. T. Medlar.

Speaking on "True Patriotism" Lorne Foy stressed that the real love of the country is expressed better in deeds and actions than in words, and he called for a greater interest in civic and national affairs on the part of all citizens, particularly the younger generation. His delivery was commended upon by the judges who were unanimous in their decision.

Runner-up Werner Gewurtz, who less than three years ago was unable to speak a word of English, spoke on the challenge to civilization represented by the atomic bomb, holding that peace, which was once a luxury for mankind, is now a necessity, and that it is up to each individual citizen, as much as political leaders, to decide if civilization is now at the end or at the beginning of an era.

A. A. Boire, president, was in the chair, and passed the conduct of the contest over to H. E. McManus, chairman of the Youth Service Committee of the club. Present from other Rotary Clubs were Frank Puffer, chairman of the Boys' Work Committee of

2 Mail Deliveries Resume April 15

Postmaster General Bertrand announced during a session in the House of Commons this week that the pre-war system of two mail deliveries daily will be reinstituted across Canada beginning April 15.

Mr. Bertrand said orders have been issued to district postmasters to employ enough men to handle the additional deliveries, which were abandoned during the war due to manpower shortages.

The men will be given one week's training before the old system comes back into force April 15.

Mr. Bertrand also announced that Canada's parcel post service beyond this continent had been expanded to include commercial parcels up to 20 pounds in weight.

King's School Assn. To Hold Meeting

The annual meeting of the King's Home and School Association will be held Tuesday, April 9 at 8.15 p.m. at the school.

This meeting is called for the purpose of election of officers the reading of annual reports and such other matters as may be brought before the meeting.

At the close of the meeting movies will be shown after which refreshments will be served.

Britain Broke Promise Declares CCF Speaker

"In these days of the atom bomb, when the world can be spanned in twenty-four hours, isolationism is impossible," declared Alistair Stuart, C.C.F. member of Parliament for Winnipeg North, at a meeting of the Westmount C.C.F. Club held at Victoria Hall.

Speaking on Canada, the C.C.F., and international affairs, he went on to say, "Canada, itself is divided into two schools of thought as regards to political economy; the East going all out for tariffs and restrictions, and the West swearing by free trade. The government should recognize its responsibility and live up to it. If the west is impoverished, the East will be too."

Among other international topics, Mr. Stuart discussed affairs in India, also in Indonesia and Greece. He spoke at some length on the Palestine question.

He said that the Jews were promised Palestine as their national home as far back as 1917, and later by the British and 51 other nations. The promise has been broken by the Labour Government in Britain in order to keep on friendly terms with the Arabs. Russia too desires friendly terms with the Arabs, oil being the linchpin. Mr. Stuart admitted, however, that there might be reasons not yet disclosed for the policies embarked upon in the foregoing countries.

Nevertheless on the matter of China, the speaker was not too apologetic, he said that both America and the Soviet Union are vastly interested in the Far East, an ally whose friendship we need, was carved up at Yalta behind her back.

Mr. Stuart diverted from the international scene to take a side swipe at Social Credit.

"An incredibly stupid lot", he said in reference to their opposition to U.N.O. "not only nationalist minded but provincial minded . . . anti-semetic . . . Canada fascists".

While admitting faults, blunders and unjustified suspicion of the western democracies on part of Russia, the C.C.F. Winnipeg North member called for continuing attempts to arrive at an understanding with Russia, even at the cost of much patient labour. Russia has much land power, many brilliant scientists and ade-

Child Problem Remedy Urged

A nine-point program for finding a happy medium between the two extremes of cure for juvenile delinquency—two or three weeks in the out-of-doors and harsh prison terms — was offered in a broadcast address by Vernon F. McAdam, secretary-manager of Weredale House and secretary of the Boys' Club Federation of Canada.

"Let us first make a decided effort to recognize and detect incipient delinquency in early youth," he urged. "A theft is the culmination of a long series of anti-social acts that frequently commence at a very early age and are caused or nurtured by any one or more of a dozen different forces."

The organization of children's aid societies should be urged, he said, and there should be four separate agencies to meet the

Westmount Highlights

By GEORGE COCHRANE

With less than a week to go before opening night you would think that Art Voronka, John Dickins, Mr. Parker L. Wearing, Miss Lydia Davison and the others who are the bigwigs of the Purple and White Revue '46 would be in a very worried state. You would think they'd be chewing their fingernails up to the elbow and indulging in other such practices usually associated with characters living under mental strain.

You would be 100 per cent correct.

Art Voronka's favorite expletive "Chees" has been echoing back and forth among the beams of Westmount's junior and senior highs all week at a rate never equalled before.

Jake Dickins, ye co-producer and co-director, the mop-haired character whose superb acting is certain to be one of the highlights of the revue, has been exhaling tremendous clouds of smoke in the general direction of the heavens.

And Mr. Wearing and Miss Davison are gnawing on pencils at a rate that won't improve the wood and pulp shortage any.

Yet the overwhelming majority, if you will permit us the use of an ancient cliche, of those connected with this Purple and White Revue '46, are confident that the show will be a hit. We are inclined to string along with the majority.

After all, there is a load of talent packed into this two-hour production. The presence of such gifted Thespians as Jake Dickins and Moe Kirsch, of such an experienced tap dancer as Barbara Pickering, of such singers as the Westmount High Glee Club possesses, of such an orchestra as Chuck Leger has assembled, of such a bevy of beauties as appear in the leg-waving, waltz and ballet numbers and of such experienced advisers as the Messrs. Parker L. Wearing and Gifford Mitchell and Miss Davison can guarantee only one thing — a swell show.

DRAPER THE PRESIDENT

WHS'ers went to the polls Tuesday to elect the president of the Students Council for the 1946-47 school year. The voters had three candidates to choose from: John Draper, John Fotheringham and Jean Van Patter.

The new president: John Draper.

Voting was by alternate ballot.

Draper rides into this most important executive job that Westmount High has to offer on the crest of a tidal wave of publicity, mostly engineered by his hard-working campaign manager, Ted Tilden Vice-president of this year's council, an executive member of the Skigulls Ski Club and a mighty good footballer, Draper seems to be the right man for the job.

All the candidates, as well as their managers, Tilden for Draper, Don Bardwell for Fotheringham and Anne Griffith for Jeannie, spoke to the school at an assembly on Monday. Jimmy Ross, president of this year's council, presided.

SADIE HAWKINS

Our number one agent, Wallace Breckenridge, forwards the following on last week's Girls' Hi-Y Sadie Hawkins dance at WHS:

A Sadie Hawkins dance, sponsored by the Girls' Hi-Y, was held at WHS last Friday evening. Judy Knowles was the convener and Audrey and Lois Laffoley were in charge of the tickets.

A large crowd attended the affair and everyone enjoyed themselves dancing until 1 o'clock to the superb music of the Skyliners Orchestra.

The event was welcomed by the fairer sex at WHS who took full advantage of the tradition.

History Of Man's Attempt To Fly Revealed By Stamps

This is the third in a series of four installments tracing the history of man's attempt to fly.

Leonardo was peculiarly capable of discerning this discrepancy in strength, since he himself was one of the strongest men of his time. It is said that he could bend and straighten horse-shoes with his hands.

Da Vinci's curious book "Codex on the Flight of Birds," describes forms of mechanical wings and give many sketches of birds. At the Smithsonian Institute at Washington is a treasured model from oldest drawings in existence of a flying machine found after the death of da Vinci.

The exploit of a Brazilian, named Bartholomew de Gusmao, is next brought to our attention and his portrait can be seen on a stamp of Brazil. There is also a Brazilian stamp which shows a monument to this early inventor. From reports passed down to us it seems that de Gusmao was so successful in his efforts at flight, that early in the eighteenth century he was put to death as a sorceror. The Evening Post newspaper of December 22, 1709 contained a description of this early flying machine.

What ever the first attempts at flight may have been like, whatever was the results, of this we may be sure, that the starting place of the story of man's first ascent into the skies took place in France, in the year 1782, when the Montgolfiers discovered that heated air could raise a balloon into the skies.

Joseph and Etienne (Stephen) Montgolfier were managers of a paper works at Annancy, in France, and it was Etienne who first demonstrated the practicability of the theories put forward by two scientists of his time, Cavallo and Dr. Black, that solid bodies could be raised in the atmosphere by being attached to vessels filled with gas of a lighter specific gravity than the surrounding air.

Cavallo in 1772 had filled and floated soap bubbles with hydrogen in proof of this theory.

In 1783 Etienne succeeded after many failures, in raising to a height of 1,500 feet, a large balloon of linen and paper, thirty-five feet in diameter.

In shape, this balloon was much the same as thousands that have since been made; an ordinary sphere, and the gas was generated by burning moist straw, wool and rags placed on an iron brazier beneath an opening at the bottom of the great bag. For all practical purposes this was the first balloon.

Fire Balloon Enacted

The invention created great excitement in France. Paris immediately started a subscription to construct a great fire-balloon or "Montgolfiere." as they were called for many a day.

The Montgolfiers were the heroes of the hour, patronized even by the King. Curiously enough Etienne had not sufficient courage to trust himself to be borne aloft by the balloon he had invented. The first air-borne living thing to make a journey by balloon, were a sheep, a fowl and a duck sent up in a cage attached to a Montgolfiere, which the inventor raised at Versailles in September, 1783 before the King and Court.

The previous month, M. Charles, professor of natural philosophy in Paris, had gone one better than Montgolfiere, and sent aloft from the Champ de Mars, a fine balloon filled with hydrogen.

Professor Charles's balloon fell at Ganesse, fifteen miles from Paris, about an hour after it had been sent up. This event is commemorated on a Latvian stamp.

Distinction of being the first man to ascend into the air by means of a balloon belongs neither to the Mongolfiers nor to Professor Charles. Strangely enough, this honour rests with two men who ascended together, one of whom, the Marquis d'Artendes—was subsequently charged and condemned for cowardice in the discharge of his military duties during the French Revolution. Pilatre de Rozier was the name of his intrepid companion in the first balloon ascent which took place in Paris on November 21, 1783.

Some months after this spectacular event, de Rozier lost his life whilst on an attempted cross-channel balloon flight to England. A very interesting French stamp was issued in 1936 to commemorate the 150th anniversary of this historic event. The stamp portrays de Rozier and his balloon.

Books for Youth

Rabbit-go-lucky, by Phyllis Cote.

"I'd like to pack my trunk for Paris or any place to get away from here. There's nothing to do the whole summer," said Mary Jane. Her friends had gone to camp and her brother Sandy and his angora rabbits, so the summer looked long and dull for Mary Jane until her Mother brought home a surprise from her unique shopping tour. When Mary Jane saw it she decided that the summer might prove interesting after all. And a fine vacation it turned out to be for the whole MacGregor family.

Holly Hotel, by Elizabeth Kyle.

When Molly was told that she and her Mother would have to sell their home, her friend Bobby Binnel suggested that it be turned into Holly Hotel for paying guests. Unknown to her Mother, Mollie printed posters and Bobbie distributed them around the town. From then on events happened rapidly, for the posters attracted some strange guests to Holly Hotel.

Logging Chance, by M. H. Lasher.

A gripping tale of adventure in a logging camp in the Northwest. Bob Loddell starts out with a boy's ambition to learn something of his Fathers' one-time profession, but finds that he is up against something bigger than becoming a full-fledged logger. If it had not been for the friendship of the men he might not have stayed, and the mystery of Cow Cove Camp mightnot have been solved.

Skippy's Family, by Stephen Meader.

Most people choose their own dogs, but Skippy was a dog with a personality and chose his own family. A story of a sometimes comical, sometimes exasperating, but always intelligent, lovable, loyal and courageous dog, a beloved member of the family for seventeen years.

These books may be borrowed from the Boys' and Girls' Room of the Westmount Public Library.

H. S. Ross, K.C., of 2035 Grey Avenue, Forum Columnist for this paper, will address members of the King Edward Benefit Association at 8.30 p.m. on Sunday at the Royal Bank Building, 5110 Park Avenue.

Subject of the talk by Mr. Ross will be "World Unrest—A Suggested Cure."

Molson's Brewery Is 160 Years Old

Marking the 160th anniversary of the foundation of Molson's Brewery, Ltd., Montreal, H. W. Molson, president of the firm, last Friday paid unstinting tribute to all employees for their devotion, and offered congratulations to many workers upon their long service with the brewery and its affiliated organizations.

The Quarter Century Club of the firm met at the brewery in Montreal, under the chairmanship of J. H. Lanoix. There, Mr. Molson said:

"We look to the Club as the outward expression of pride which all of us have in a business that has carried on now for 160 years and which has always, in that long period, without exception, played the game with its employees and with everyone with whom it does business. The family, I can assure you, is very proud indeed of this long record and we feel that every member of the brewery staff, particularly every member of the Quarter Century Club, has also an abiding pride in this history, which we all share together".

Thirty-three long-service workers of the brewery were admitted to the Club and were presented with gold watches or silver trays. The Club, founded last year, now counts 89 members. This year, ranks were widened to include Molson agents and agents' employees, and others with at least 25 years' service at the brewery or elsewhere in the organization.

Check on Parents

"If such agencies are to do an adequate job they must early recognize the need for and show a willingness to remove children from the care of parents who are incompetent or who are wilfully negligent," he declared.

Stressing the getting away "from the old concept of the reform school," he urged the setting up of training schools for boys and girls. When these measures are instituted, he said, closer co-operation from the Juvenile Court will be called for.

"The home should be surrounded and strengthened by such constructive forces as a militant church, progressive schools, enlightened industrial training programs and adequate recreational outlets for young and old in addition to clubs, settlements and playgrounds, planned, supervised and directed by trained personnel," he concluded.

quate raw materials, he said. The only alternative is war, "too terrible to envisage", and he called for active participation by Canada in the formation of an international body such as UNO endowed with sufficient force to make it futile for an aggressor nation to go to war.

In the course of his address, Mr. Stuart said he was not as much interested in peace as at present constituted, as justice for all nations.

"Let us make such a good job of our democratic way of life that no one will desire to turn to communism, is desperation, concluded the speaker.

Charlie Ancrum of the Grey Six led the opening Grand Howl, which was followed by several games. During the instruction period, Akela Hutchison, a visitor, helped with first aid work, Bagheera instructed in Knots, Raksha, Skipping and Akela Mitchell instructed the new chums.

Another game was played and it was noted that the first results of the paper and magazine collection announced last week were very good, and that five points would be allotted for each bundle brought in. The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer, Cub Silence and the Grand Howl. The following tests were passed: First Aid and 2nd star, Duncan McNeill (the examiner's report was marked "Excellent," good work); Jim Pickford. Milton Dormer, Knots; Robert Turnbull, Skipping.

Mrs. Hartley and Mrs. Pickford were welcome visitors to the meeting. Another unhappy event has occurred in Trinity; Kenny Newman, son of the Pack's hockey coach was rushed to the hospital Tuesday for a serious operation; latest reports indicate he is well on the road to recovery.

Calvary Pack

The meeting was opened with the Grand Howl, Inspection and the collection of Dues. After three games were played, instruction period was held when the following tests were passed: Ball-throwing, Jorgen Fuglsang, Mackie Barr, Dick Ryan; Somersault, Jorgen Fuglsang; John Caron, Ball-throwing and book-balancing; Fred Flaherty, knots and 1st star.

A very enjoyable sing-song was held and a camp-fire also. Akela remarked that any boys late at future meetings would be penalized. The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer, Cub Silence and the Mouse Howl.

Public Support Urged For Legion Memorial

New appeals were voiced this week by officials of the Canadian Legion War Memorial Building Fund campaign for public support in their drive for a veterans' centre in Montreal. The drive which is scheduled to end April 8th has reached just over the $150,000 mark.

In Westmount canvassers under Mrs. J. A. De Lalanne, 382 Oliver Avenue, have collected $5,168 with many districts still to be reported.

The aim of the Canadian Legion in its present drive for funds was explained yesterday, by Mr. Justice C. Gordon Mackinnon, O.B.E., chairman of the campaign's board of trustees, as a plan to help World War II veterans avoid some of the mistakes of those who returned from the first war.

Proceeds of the drive for $375,000, will be used for the purchase and renovating of the former servicemen's centre on Mountain Street. When re-opened, the building will serve as a veterans' centre and offices for branches and the Quebec Command of the Legion.

Main Objective

"The main objective of this building will be to stand as a Memorial to those who fell in two world wars," Mr. Justice Mackinnon pointed out, "by combining administrative headquarters and recreational accommodation for Legion members and all veterans. "As well, it will serve as a service bureau for ex-servicemen and for their dependents," he continued.

Declaring that it would take four or five years to construct a new building with the same accommodation as the Mountain Street site, Mr. Justice Mackinnon stated: "By purchasing this site, the Legion is not depriving others of vital housing materials. The amount of material which is needed for renovating this building is not worthy of consideration."

After the first war, too many veterans split up into small organizations he held, having no central influence such as the proposed veterans' Memorial centre will provide.

C.P.R. To Install Station Signals

It was announced by E. D. Cotterell, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway that $53,000 has been appropriated for the installation of station protection signals at Westmount Passenger Yards.

Mr. Cotterell pointed out that the automatic block signals mentioned are being laid out in such a manner that any future improvements can be readily incorporated.

New Departure-Career Forums Aid Veterans

Members of the faculty of Sir George Williams College held a series of Career Forums for the benefit of veteran students yesterday at Victoria Hall. In co-operation with the Student's Council, the Forums are a new undertaking for the college in vocational guidance.

Boasting an enrollment of 750 students, the College Preparatory Course for veterans has been organized for the sole purpose of helping the veteran select his career.

The sessions began with the opening address by Dean H. F. Hall, who discussed the "factors to consider in choosing a life work." Speeches and lectures by many of Montreal's leading business and university figures followed.

During lunch, films covering a wide variety of careers were shown.

In the afternoon periods, eight group meetings were held at each hour and students attended any one of the groups desired. Each speaker presented the various aspects of his particular profession and then held an open discussion and question period with the students taking part.

As a preparation and follow-up of the Career Forums, a library has been established in the Claremont Division of the College under the supervision of Thomas McDonald, student counsellor.

The committee in charge of Career Forums were; M. L. Foster, L. V. Thornton, S. K. Finer, L. Feinman, G. O'Dell, Students Council; Arthur MacFarlane, counsellor of Sir George Williams College; Thomas MacDonald, counsellor Claremont Division and Ernest Stabler, Assistant Dean.

St. Matthias Group To Hear Tennis Star

Members of the St. Matthias Young People's Association will be addressed Sunday night by Herbert Baldwin, former singles and doubles tennis champion of Westmount. Mr. Baldwin will speak on "Tennis."

At the last meeting of the Association, it was decided to draw up a single constitution for the club. A committee, consisting of two boys and two girls was elected to draw up the different clauses and make a report to the club in two weeks defining the accomplishments.

A quiz with religion, geography, history and sports as the topics will be held Sunday night when members of the club will test their knowledge. A dance will be held in the early part of May in conjunction with the Dominion Douglas Young People's Union. This social affair will officially conclude the activities of both organizations until next fall.

Purple And White Revue Next Week

With opening night only six days away, the directors, advisers and cast of the Purple and White Revue '46 are hurriedly making the final preparations and changes in their two-hour musical production which they have hopes will be widely acclaimed as "the best high school show of the year."

Bert Grindley, business manager of the revue, which is being produced under the auspices of the Dramatic Society of Westmount High School, has announced that there are only slightly more than 200 tickets remaining to be sold and so, it looks as if there will be two sell-out crowds watching the goings-on at Victoria Hall next Thursday and Friday evenings.

It is expected that a large percentage of the audience will be focusing their attention on the work of one particular member of the cast. The person: Jacqueline Mickles. The reason: Miss Mickles was the "nylon girl" for Quebec and the Maritime Provinces, has done considerable modelling work in the past few months, and only a few weeks ago she went down to New York and turned down a five-year contract offer from David Selznick studios.

St. Sauveur Special

Jacqueline is the female lead of the "St. Sauveur Special" number and is a member of the girls' chorus line and modern ballet cast.

Another girl who is expected to attract a great deal of attention is Harriet Brown. Harriet is the Purple and White's number one songstress. She solos on "Daddy," and joins with a boy's quartet to render "Water" in the rehearsal number.

The lighting for the show is expected to be a good deal better than that usually in evidence at amateur productions. Fred Roney, a young man with a real flair for things electrical, is in

Business Assoc. Plans Meeting

Donald B. Ross, president of the Business Association of Westmount, announced yesterday that the organization will hold an open general meeting for all heads of stores and business firms presently engaged in business in Westmount.

This meeting will take place at Victoria Hall, Monday, April 29 at 8.15 p.m. An attractive program of interest and importance to all business firms in this city is being arranged and it is hoped that all those interested in the betterment of business conditions in Westmount will avail themselves of this opportunity to learn plans of the Association for the future.

The annual general meeting of the Association will be held at a later date to be announced.

Choral Service Planned For St. Andrew's Church

The evening service next Sunday will be observed as a choral service with the Passion Meditation, "Via Crucis" (J. W. Cowie) forming the major part.

Reverend D. M. Grant will conduct the service. Taking the solos are, Gwynneth Davies Saunders, Mrs. W. H. Lewis, Don Ellis, John Grant, George Robinson, John Gardiner, Allan M. West, Ivor Thomas, John Helgeson and Edgar Davies.

Fred Whiteley will direct the music, and accompany the singers at the organ, "Via Crucis" has been sung at St. Andrew's on previous occasions, and is being repeated in response to requests.

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

Spring migration of birds and our curiosity as to the hows, whys and wherefors of it have again begun. Of recent years air pilots are supplying valuable information regarding the altitude and speed at which birds fly. Naturally these men take an interest in the tiny, live airplanes; were it not for the birds, they themselves would still be on the ground; and, of course, they are anxious to take lessons from such accomplished fliers.

They tell us that the whole structure of a bird makes it the most perfect long-distance flying-machine that has yet been discovered. Their bones are hollow and filled with air: an ideal combination of strength and lightness; their feathers are the best possible material for flight, being tough but extremely light. The small pilots are absolutely proficient in both soaring and sailing; aero-nautical engineers have only recently discovered their methods and are striving to imitate them.

The old idea was that birds fly very high and very fast in immigration. Aviators say otherwise, and also give reasons. The higher the altitude, the more rarefied the atmosphere; making flight more difficult because of reduction in oxygen for breathing and lack of buoyancy. Only birds with an exceptional wing-spread in proportion to the size of their bodies can manage at a height of over 3,000 feet. Very high-flying is done only by vultures, pelicans, cranes and some hawks. Observations from certain lighthouses show that sandpipers, sanderlings and northern phalaropes always fly so low in migration that they almost touch the waves. Each species keeps to its own flyway: not just within a given space from right to left, but varying remarkably little in altitude except in adverse weather or when about to land. One could almost imagine that birds are guided by a special beam.

Contrary to public opinion, few birds fly at a speed of over 60 miles an hour. Like ourselves, they have to rates: the ordinary pace and that used for escape or when in pursuit. Flycatchers are the slowest, making only about 10 miles an hour; while the peregrine falcon has been known to attain a speed of nearly 180 Swifts deserve their name: someone in an airplane noted a flock circling a ship travelling at 68 miles an hour. But in migration no steady pace is kept: time must be taken off for rest and food.

Which is our largest, black bird?

charge of this department. Fred, a recognized expert in this line, and a grade 12 student at the high school, held the same position in last year's show.

One item on the program that is expected to provoke the proverbal tumultuous applause is that which endeavours to picture what goes on at a typical meeting of Westmount High's Students' Council. This number, which is under the direction of Mr. Gifford Mitchell, music teacher of Westmount Protestant schools, is set to the music of Gilbert and Sullivan and features the solo work of Bill Hannington, Bob Smith, Mary Campbell and Joan Brown. The parts of the Students' Council members are played by the Westmount High Glee Club whose voices will background the entire show.

A neatly written comedy package will be presented to the audience just before the finale by Moe Kirsch and Pete Farrell, aided by several stooges. Kirsch is looked upon as the number one comedy star of the production. Farrell, male lead of the "St Sauveur Special," can crack a good joke with the best of them, and the two of them combine their talents to provide several hilarious moments.

The rich man skit also deserves some mention. The amusing tale of a fabulously wealthy Westmount family, it features the wor kof John Dickins, co-producer and co-director of the revue, Tom Earle and Jean Van Patter.

Lake Massawippi To Have Thirty-Five Room Hotel

Nestling in the green rolling hills near the Vermont border in southern Quebec, Lake Massawippi, considered one of the most beautiful lakes in Eastern Canada, looks forward to a gala summer season. With travelling and motor restrictions lifted, it is expected that many Montrealers will renew associations with the popular Township's beauty spot.

Only ninety-four miles southeast of Montreal, and twelve miles north of the Vermont border at its southern point, Lake Massawippi offers the vacationer everything asked for in holiday divergencies.

The lake has long been a fisherman's paradise and anglers from near and far will be out after the big ones with the opening of the fishing season in May. Golf, tennis, boating and swimming enthusiasts all find an ideal setting for their sports at and around the southern Quebec lake.

Of particular interest to vacationers this year is the fact that a new modern resort hotel opens on the southern shore of Lake Massawippi at Ayers Cliff. Up until the present time, only private summer homes of Canadian and American families have occupied the lake frontage on the southern end of Lake Massawippi.

Exclusively located amongst the pines on the lakeside overlooking Ripple Cove, the Stafford brothers are opening their new thirty-five room hotel on May 24. Recognizing the need for a summer hotel on Upper Lake Massawippi, construction was started last fall and Ripple Cove Inn will be ready for occupancy, coinciding with the opening of the fishing season.

Y.M.C.A. NOTES

Business Men's Gym — Handball and Gym Classes have taken a "new lease on life" for the business men. It's great to welcome so many old and new members and to see the handball courts filled every night.

Volleyball — Harry Trotter added two more points to his score on Tuesday evening, giving him a total of ten points in the Business Men's "Hit and Miss" Volleyball Tournament. Bill Taylor, Don Novinger and R. Hollingworth are all tied for second place with 7 points each. The "Golf Balls" were donated by two of the regulars, Mr. Cooper and Mr. Taylor.

Young Men's Gym — There's sure to be fun included when 15 young men turn out twice weekly for a gym class and basketball. This is the case with our Young Men's Gym Club. Every week we welcome a few more "old timers" back into the circle, as well as the new members we're getting. Hack Yates has been leading the boys on the apparatus, and is doing a mighty fine job. A basketball team from this group is leading the Saturday House League at the present time.

Morning Ladies Gym Classes— Miss "Rusty" Heseltine always greets her morning gym class with a smile and proves she is a popular instructress by getting an answering smile from her ladies. The members are happily keeping healthy through regular exercise. If your housework is tiresome, forget it—join the Monday and Thursday Morning Gym classes.

Business Girls Gym — In response to popular demand, the hour for the Business Girls Gym classes have been changed from 8 p.m. to 7.30 p.m. The change is proving to be a wise one and more girls are discovering every week the way to Health and Beauty by exercising under the capable leadership of Nita Black.

Swimming — Members of the Swim Club are enthusiastic and regular participants. The club, led by "Gray" Reipert, meets every Tuesday evening at 8.30 p.m. for swimming, diving and water polo. The summer swim program, including learn to swim, and mixed swimming activities, will start early this month.

Badminton — Westmount "Y" Badminton Club played host to a representative team from the North Branch "Y" last Wednesday and won 17 of the 45 games played in the Round Robin Tournament. This week a team from the Westmount Badminton Club will be our guests.

Saturday Afternoon Basketball League—The "Y" Seniors defeated St. Andrews 15 to 10 in last Saturday Afternoon House Basketball Spring Schedule to gain top league standing. Two new teams, both from Sir George Wms. College Claremont division, have entered the league, making eight teams in the Spring House League. Baptist defeated Calvary 24 to 13, and Georgians I won from Georgians II 32 to 19 in the other game played last week.

This Saturday the 10th Annual Westmount Hobby Show will be using the gym for their program; all scheduled games are therefore cancelled.

Red Cross Opens Drive For Members On Monday

Launching of a province-wide membership enrolment drive, commencing on Monday, is announced by officials of the Quebec Provincial Division of the Society.

Paul Vaillancourt, newly elected president, in a special message has appealed to all residents of the province to join the Red Cross. "During the war," said Mr. Vaillancourt, "the Red Cross services saved thousands of lives. In hospitals the Red Cross provided life-giving plasma and brought comfort and help to the wounded; in prisoner of war camps Red Cross food parcels ensured the health and morale of captured Empire servicemen."

"In peace," continued the president, "your Quebec Provincial Division of the Red Cross stands ready with a positive and vitally necessary program to meet local and humanitarian responsibilities of a world lately ravaged by war. Faced with the tremendous responsibilities of a world now at peace your Canadian Red Cross needs the support which only the membership of every citizen of the Province of Quebec can give."

In outlining the peacetime program of the Quebec Provincial Division, the president pointed out that it would include seven major undertakings:

1. Aid for veterans to ensure maximum service to, and comforts for the war casualties in hospitals and convalescent homes within the Province, as well as aiding veterans and their dependents in distress.

2. Outpost nursing stations to serve sparsely populated areas in the Magdalen Islands and in the Gaspe Coast area.

3. Blood transfusion service to provide for civil and military hospital needs with the same assured supply of blood that generous donors made possible from the Red Cross during the war.

4. Mobile medical and dental clinics to provide health service in remote areas of the province.

5. Swimming and water safety program to train young people between the ages of eight and 18 in swimming and water safety.

6. Disaster preparedness to supply medical stores, food, fuel and shelter, and distribute them strategically to be readily available at the scene of any emergency.

7. Junior Red Cross, through its branches in the schools, encourages and supports the training of its young members in the Red Cross tradition of health and unselfish service.

FURTHERING THE VETERAN'S WELFARE

Some of the deeper implications of establishing a central veteran's headquarters in Montreal have gone unnoticed by those who are being asked to subscribe to the present Canadian Legion campaign for funds with which to purchase a war memorial building which will have a practical use in this city.

While it will serve a main purpose of providing a recreation and sports centre for those who have come back, and a shrine to commemorate the names of those who made the supreme sacrifice, there are other benefits worthy of consideration.

As headquarters for the Quebec Command of the Legion, it will house offices to serve dependents of wounded men in hospitals here, and those who lost brothers, sons and family members during the war. The new building will form a central clearing ground for those who want advice on the many complex problems which can arise from estates and other legal entanglements.

From here the varied and beneficial works of the Canadian Legion in Montreal can be channelled to their proper points. In the interests of the growing membership of this body, and its many new and vital interests in the community, the Legion must find new quarters and has asked for public support in its campaign for $375,000. To reach this objective everyone must give and give generously.

Citizens of this part of Montreal should take pride in the Legion's work and the fact that the Quebec command has seen fit to be the first to take active steps to further veterans' welfare. The boys whose names the shrine room will keep forever fresh would want it this way: A practical memorial to them which will be of sterling service to their buddies.

THIS WON'T BE POPULAR

Considerable publicity has been given to a resolution to be introduced at the provincial convention of the Progressive Conservative party here this coming week-end. The resolution calls for the fixing of Federal elections on definite dates, at definite five-year periods, somewhat similar to the system practised in the United States of America.

We hope this resolution won't go through. We hope it won't be presented. We don't like to think that a party with the traditions of the Conservatives would sponsor such a departure from British practice. Incidentally, many thinking Americans would like to see our system introduced into the United States.

Our system of government is based on the premise that the government holds office only so long as it enjoys the confidence of the people at large as expressed through their elected representatives. A government can be thrown out of office at any time the majority of the members wish. And the government on its side has the right to dissolve Parliament at any time and appeal to the people on any issue, if it so desires. To hold office under our system, a government must always enjoy first, the confidence of Parliament and second, the confidence of the country at large. The fact that members of Parliament may at any time, on short notice, have to face their constituents in a general election, is one of the greatest bulwarks of traditional British freedom.

The fixed term simply means that no matter how incompetent an administration might be, no matter to what extent it lacks the confidence of Parliament and the country, it can hold on to office and the fruits of office for the term fixed by law.

SERVICES OF CHARTERED BANKS MUCH BETTER UNDERSTOOD

It is now getting on for ten years since the Chartered Banks of Canada instituted a Public Relations Department, and during eight or nine of those ten years the banks appear to have acted upon the sound assumption that the best way to hold the proud place they occupy in this nation's economy is by means of an informed public opinion.

Each year a strong advertising campaign has been carried on by the bankers in which not only the daily newspaper is used but in which the unique influence of the weekly newspaper is fully recognized. These advertisements deal with the services that banks perform so well under our system of free enterprise, and appear in a very wide range of weekly newspapers.

It is a fact that at least the vast population served by the weekly newspapers have become much better informed about the banking system through these advertisements over the last eight to nine years. Ill-informed criticism of the banks which formerly was very widespread has diminished to a degree which is little short of spectacular. Popular understanding is much more manifest. We think it is due to the intelligence with which the bankers have approached their problem and the skill with which the facts about banking have been presentel in these advertising campaigns.

Biography And History --In Streets--

(Contributed by Westmount Historical Association)

(Through the account given by Washington Irving's "Astoria" we have followed John Clarke, whose family lived on what is now Clarke avenue, in his expedition across the continent to Astoria, the settlement founded by John Jacob Astor in 1810. The War of 1812 was in the making as John Clarke left Astoria with others of his party to obtain pelts from the Indians of the Columbia Valley. The present installment gives Irving's account of the famous "silver goblet" episode.)

In order to allow attention under this column to other streets in Westmount, installments concerning Clarke avenue will be deferred to a later date.

On the 30th he arrived at the confluence of the Pavion and Lewis Rivers, where he had left his barge and canoes, in the guardianship of the old Pierced-nose chieftain. That dignitary had acquitted himself more faithfully of his charge than Mr. Clarke had expected, and the canoes were found in very tolerable order. Some repairs were necessary, and while they were making, the party encamped close by the village. Having had repeated and vexatious proof of the pilfering propensities of this tribe during his former visit, Mr. Clarke ordered that a wary eye should be kept upon them.

He was a tall, good-looking man, and somewhat given to pomp and circumstance, which made him an object of note in the eyes of the wondering savages. He was stately, too, in his appointments, and had a silver goblet or drinking cup, out of which he would drink with a magnificent air, and then lock it up in a large "garde vin" which accompanied him on his travels, and stood in his tent. This goblet had originally been sent as a present from Mr. Astor to Mr. McKay, the partner who had unfortunately been blown up in the Tonquin, (the first vessel of the sea-borne expedition to Astoria).

A silver goblet was too glittering a prize not to catch the eye of a Pierce-nose. Such a wonder had never been seen in the land before. That night Mr. Clarke neglected to lock up his treasure; in the morning the sacred casket was open — the precious relic gone!

Clarke was now outrageous. All the past vexations that he had suffered from this pilfering community rose to his mind, and he threatened that, unless the goblet was promptly returned, he would hang the thief should he eventually discover him. The day passed away, however, without the restoration of the cup. At night sentinels were secretly posted about the camp. With all their vigilance, a Pierce-nose contrived to get into camp unperceived, and to load himself with booty. It was only on his retreat that he was discovered and taken.

At daybreak the culprit was brought to trial, and promptly convicted. He stood responsible for all the spoliations of the camp, the precious goblet among the number, and Mr. Clarke passed sentence of death upon him.

A gibbet was accordingly constructed of oars; the chief of the village and his people were assembled and the culprit was produced with his legs and arms pinioned. Mr. Clarke then made a harangue. He reminded the tribe of the benefits he had bestowed upon them during his former visits, and the many thefts and misdeeds which he had overlooked. The prisoner especially had always been peculiarly well treated by the white men, but had repeatedly been guilty of pilfering. He was to be punished for his own misdeeds, and as a warning to the tribe.

The Indians now gathered around Mr. Clarke and interceded for the culprit. They were willing he should be punished severely, but implored that his life might be spared. The companions, too, of Mr. Clarke considered the sentence too severe, and advised him to mitigate it; but he was inexorable. He was not naturally a stern or cruel man; but from his boyhood he had lived in the Indian country among the Indian traders and held the life of a savage extremely cheap. He was, moreover, a firm believer in the doctrine of intimidation.

Farnham, a clerk, a tall Green Mountain boy from Vermont, who had been robbed of a pistol, acted as executioner. The signal was given, and the poor Pierced-nose, resisting, struggling and screaming, in the most frightful manner, was launched into eternity. The Indians stood round gazing in silence and mute awe, but made no attempt to oppose the execution, nor testified any emotion when it was over. They locked up their feelings within their bosoms until an opportunity should arrive to gratify them with a bloody act of vengeance.

To say nothing of the needless severity of this act, its impolicy was glaringly obvious. Mr. McLennan and three men were to return to the post with the horses, their loads having been transferred to the canoes. They would have to pass through a tract infested by this tribe, who were all horsemen and hard riders, and might pursue them to take vengeance for the death of their comrade. McLennan, however, was a resolute fellow, and made light of all dangers. He and his three men were present at the execution, and set off as soon as life was extinct in the victim; but, to use the words of one of their comrades, they did not let the grass grow under the heels of their horses, and they clattered out of the Pierced-nose country, and were glad to find themselves in safety at the post.

Mr. Clarke and his party embarked about the same time in their canoes, and early on the following day reached the mouth of the Wallah-Wallah, where they found Messrs. Stuart and McKenzie awaiting them; the latter having recovered part of the goods stolen from his cache. Clarke informed them of the signal punishment he had inflicted on the Pierce-nose, evidently expecting to excite their admiration by such a hardy act of justice, performed in the very midst of the Indian country, but was mortified at finding it strongly censured as inhuman, unnecessary, and likely to provoke hostilities.

The parties thus united formed a squadron of two boats and six canoes, with which they performed their voyage in safety down the river, and arrived at Astoria on the 12th of June, bringing with them a valuable stock of peltries."

One of the partners, McDougal, without letting the others know, had actually "sold out" to the Northwest Company to support whose activities a ship had arrived around the Horn. Clarke and some of the others still loyal to Astor set off in April of 1814 to cross the Continent back to New York.

Modern Perfume Manufacture Recalls Ancient Art, Craft

SIROCCO FLACON IS A MODERN JEWEL

There's nothing much that is new about perfume. In fact, perfume manufacture and its blending represent one of the oldest crafts in the world. Smart as we moderns are supposed to be, we know very little about perfumes which we did not learn from our ancient ancestors.

Cleopatra knew the value of perfume and used it with telling effect as a weapon of diplomacy. Mark Anthony didn't have a chance!

Perfumes in the modern world have become closely allied with Fashion. Women know that the proper scent will complement a gown and complete the ensemble. Leading couturiers have been quick to recognize the affinity and enter this field. Chanel, Lucien Lelong, Worth, Schiapperelli, Hartnell and Robert Piguet are today as well-known for their fine perfumes as for their dress designs. Their names are hallmarks of quality in both fields.

New Perfumes

Though wartime conditions seriously hampered production in Europe, such perfumers as Lucien Lelong and Chanel were able to continue in Canada and the United States. New fragrances, typically Canadian, have appeared on the market bringing the scents of cherry, peach and apple blossoms. And, though in restricted supply, the more heady favourites of pre-war days have occasionally been found in Canadian stores.

Perfume has always been a cherished thing. In ancient times it was represented in golden caskets, treasured as a jewel. Today the glass or plastic container is artfully wrought. Flacons, decanters, bottles are things of lasting beauty in themselves.

Development in Canada

The thousands of recognized brands of perfumes and colognes on the market today point to a world industry of major importance. Here is a product for which demand is universal and ever-increasing. To satisfy that demand many thousands of people are gainfully employed. World trade is stimulated and new wealth is brought to Canada. For the Canadian perfume industry has developed greatly in the past few years.

V-Bundles Montreal Thanked By Hon. Malcolm MacDonald

The magnificent work done by the V-Bundles of Montreal and District, a war-time organization which sent tons of used and new clothing to the bombed-out in Britain, has been given further recognition in a letter from Malcolm MacDonald to the president of V-Bundles, Mrs. W. M. Ellis, 4890 Queen Mary Road.

At the Headquarters of V-Bundles on Queen Mary Road, a band of devoted workers re-made, repaired and packed garments of every description, while groups of V-Bundle workers all over the city, and in outlying districts, held sewing bees, and turned in their bountiful supplies to swell the piles of gift clothing, every used garment being either cleaned or laundered, before being sent overseas.

A copy of the letter follows:

Office of the High Commissioner for the United Kingdom,
Earnscliffe, Ottawa.
29th March, 1946.

"Dear Mrs. Ellis,

I have been asked by the Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs, on behalf of the Government of the United Kingdom, to thank you most sincerely, and through you, all those associated with the V-Bundles of Montreal and District Fund, for the very generous help which you gave to our people during the war.

I am well aware of the personal sacrifice which that work meant for the members of your Organization, and I should like you to know that, among the people of the United Kingdom, there are countless men, women and children who remember with profound gratitude, the kindness of friends in Canada during the difficult years of war. That manifestation of your friendship with us, of your faith in our common cause, was a constant source of courage and inspiration to us both at home and abroad.

Yours sincerely,

MALCOLM MacDONALD"

Throughout the war years heavy contributions of shoes, layettes, overcoats, etc., were donated for British blitz victims by groups in Westmount, the Westmount Women's Club alone packing several cases each week for transfer to the Queen Mary Road Depot.

Too Tired? Try This Pepper-Up

Ever feel that you can hardly lift the mascara on your eyelashes, you're SO TIRED? Sure, and yet you need to keep going for a big date?

Take exercise. As contradictory as it sounds, that's what ace entertainers swear by when they need to banish fatigue and go from one show to another with a lift in their voice and a skip in their steps.

Willing to spill secrets is actress Arline Judge, frequently heard on Dave Elman's Radio Auction Show. Her technique is to lie down on the mat after she takes a hot bath and go into her exercise. For that, she brings knees to chest, clasps legs tightly with her hands, and rocks up and down on her back like a self-propelling ski.

Try it and see if you don't want to add this method of pep-transfusion to your repertoire of tricks.

Legion Honors Mrs. Robertson - Who Remembers

The roar from the Jerry "whiz bangs" and the British sixteen-pounders died and in 1918, the world settled down to forget. But the "living dead" lived on, and one woman, a woman of staunch heart and dauntless courage remembered. For nearly thirty years, Mrs. John Robertson, of Montreal, in winter sub-zero weather and in stifling mid-summer heat blasts, made her weekly visit to the veterans of Ste. Anne de Bellevue, cheering on those racked with pain from twisted limbs, bringing baskets of comforts, books and anything she thought the veterans would appreciate.

Today she is the only one still active in this work of the group of women known as the "Not-Forgotten Society." Every Monday, she visits the institution, and the day is now known among the veterans as "Robertson Day."

Recently, when she made her regular visit, she was met at the hospital by a delegation from the Sir Arthur Currie (Quebec No. 1) Branch of the Canadian Legion, and in a simple ceremony, was made an honorary life member. She was given her membership card and a silver life membership badge.

Ephraim Scott WMS.

The Easter thank-offering of Ephraim Scott Church Woman's Missionary Society will be held on Tuesday at 3 p.m. in the church parlours. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Jacques Smith, and the soloist, Mrs. Frank Cousins.

The Red Cross Badge of Service was presented to Mrs. John B. Larkin, accompanied by the following citation. She visited the Red Cross work-rooms as many as three or four times a week, working the entire day. She also assisted in the packing of cartons for shipment overseas. She has been a consistent knitter at home, and has been intrumental in securing outside workers. Her interest and devotion to the Red Cross has been outstanding."

Legion Ladies Westmount 39 Plan Penny Fair

The Ladies Auxiliary, Westmount No. 39 Branch, Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., recently held their regular monthly meeting in Calvary Church Hall.

The Ladies Auxiliary, under the leadership of the president, Mrs. J. Heron, are working on the drive for funds for the Legion War Memorial Building, and progress was reported by the workers.

Plans were made for a Penny Fair to be held this month and a military whist some time in May.

The hospital committee is visiting Ste. Anne's Military Hospital on April 13th.

The president, Mrs. J. Heron, and the secretary, Miss Jean Heron, were named as delegates to the Dominion and Provincial Convention of the Canadian Legion being held in Quebec, May 20th to 25th.

LIGHT AND AIR MAY ROB PERFUME OF MAGIC POTENCY

Three well-known pilferers of your Christmas-gift perfume which will bear watching, are light, heat and air. You can outwit all three, however, by following tips from perfume-wise Carole (Behind the Green Lights) Landis, whose first suggestion is to house your bottle in the box in which it came.

If you've thrown the box away, she says the next best way to protect perfume against light is to put it in a cool, dark cupboard. You're warned, however, that the temperature must be static; that changes from cool cupboard to warm bedroom are bad for perfume.

CAROLE LANDIS: guards perfume

Worst sneak-thief of all, however, is air, which Carole outwits by screwing stopper tightly into bottle after using perfume. To lock out air raids, her trick is to turn the stopper so that its ground surfaces line up properly with the "glass thread" in the neck of the bottle.

To unlock a glass stopper's stubborn grip, Carole says tap lightly with another piece of glass. What releases grip, she explains, is the vibration which comes when glass hits glass.

Melville W.M.S.

The Easter thankoffering of Melville Auxiliary W.M.S. will be held on Tuesday at 3 p.m. when the gathering will be addressed by Mrs. P. S. C. Powles on the subject "Japan."

Mrs. Robertson will be the soloist.

St. Mary's

The regular monthly meeting of the Alumnae Association of St. Mary's Hospital School of Nursing will be held in the hospital board-room on Monday at 8.15 p.m.

The nominating committee for the coming elections will be appointed at this meeting.

SPRING COLORS

Fashion's spring color chart of frappé pastels sounds good enough to eat. The list includes such luscious names as banana yellow, honey amber, apricot mousse, lemon ice, crushed peach, frosted mint, and ice-cream pink.

Another brighter group called Freedom Colors, is more descriptively named: Peace blue, brave red, heroic green, Pacific lime, hope turquoise, victorious blue gallant coral, valor rose, and triumph gold. Choose your favorite color and then use a splash of it on last year's black or blue costume to give it a lift without a let-down, financially speaking.

Canadian Hats Sent For Sweden's Parade

Canadian-made ladies' hats will have a prominent place in many Easter parades in Sweden this year. Eleven cases of fur felt hats, made in Canadian factories, and handled by the express department of the Canadian National Railways, passed through Montreal recently en route to Stockholm, Sweden. In placing its order, the Swedish market asked for headgear in many shades apparently, as local C.N. express officals here state that the hats are in many colour varieties as well as in many different designs.

Westmount Y.M.C.A.

The Hobby Show for 1946 is bigger and better than ever and the number of entries has doubled over last years. The items listed on the registration forms sound very interesting. It is a notable fact that more people have entered more things of more interest to the boy and girl public than in other years. Grown-ups, too, will be intrigued and there will be the usual question of which is more prone to handle the exhibits—the children or the adults.

The Hi-Y Clubs have done a great job on the preparation and planning for the event and are to be congratulated. The work from the initial planning of the syllabus down through the various stages of organization to the final day, is the work of these boys and girls that make up the Westmount Hi-Y Clubs.

The Hi-Y Clubs and their parent organization, the Westmount Y.M.C.A., take a great deal of satisfaction in yearly presenting the Westmount Boy's and Girls' Hobby Show.

The opening ceremony, performed by Mayor Adams of Westmount, set the show off to a good start. The official closing will be done by the Hon. D. C. Abbott, Member of Parliament for Westmount.

The Hobby Show Dance is definitely a part of the Hobby Show programme. Saturday, April 6th, when the Hobby Show proper has been closed by Mr. Abbott, the gym will be alive from 9 p.m. to 12 p.m. with the dancing feet of young people whirling around to the music of "The Westmount 4".

From first to last it is a great show and well done.

Preps

The preps had their usual bean feed last week. Hardly the same number, but still very much worth-while, for the 20 who came. Too bad so many preps have poor memories and forget to come out to the feeds.

So you Preps will not have reason to forget, cut out this paragraph and keep it handy.

Gym — Saturday, 9.30-10.30 a.m.; Swim — Wednesday, 4.00-5.00 p.m.; Swim — Saturday, 10.30-11.00 p.m.; Learn to swim —Monday 4.00 5.00 p.m.; Swim Cards, 1, 2 and 3 — Thursday 4.00-5.00 p.m.; Swim Cards, 4 and 5 — Saturday 11.00-11.30 a.m.; Boxing, — Saturday, 5.00-6.00 p.m.; Movies — Saturday, 1.30-3.30 p.m.; Bean Feeds every second Wednesday, 5.15-6.30 p.m.

Gym classes are being well attended. In fact as the season is drawing on, more and more boys turn up.

Boxing for boys 13 and over is held each Wednesday 4.00-5.00 p.m., with a swim after—so be on hand. This is a new class and already it is a very nice group.

Movies

With Hobby Show taking up most of our space this week, there will be no movie on Saturday. But our schedule for the rest of April will be out soon.

Kamp Kanawana

When you are thinking of Kanawana just remember that already several boys have registered. That means the longer you think about it, the more boys who will have registered; and the more boys who will have registered, the less chance you have of getting in for the weeks you have set your hearts on having. So the moral is—Do It Now—register your time for Kanawana right away. Don't delay.

Camp Perrot

Yes, we have some registered for Perrot, too. Ross Seaman did a great deal to make our new Camp known and liked, and it is expected that Perrot will be full to overflowing, this year.

So in which ever you wish to spend your Summer, make sure you shall, by registering now.

Membership

The gang will be more than pleased to learn that as "Y" members they rate another free movie. On April 15th, members will be allowed in if they can show their membership ticket.

Young People's Conference

Westmount "Y" will be well represented at the Young People's Conference, being held April 6th and 7th. The delegation will be headed by Florence Goode and Bill Pardoe. The other delegates will include Marjorie Clarke, Lillian Goode, Lillian Renault, Ruth Garland, Betty Westwell, Mary Kervin and "Gray" Reipert, from the Saturday Nite Club. Bruce Renault, Gordon MacFarlane, and Gordie Mackey from Young Men's Division, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Charters from the Double M Club and Noel Ashby from the Westyomen's Club.

Saturday Nite Club

Every Saturday a happy crowd of young folk fills the party hall at Westmount "Y" to enjoy dancing, under the auspices of the Sat. Nite Club, with music supplied by the Westmount Four. These popular musicians are real favourites with Sat. Niters, especially Gordie Pfieffer, with his vocals.

Lest week the party was bigger than ever, proving that these Sat. Nite Club dances are still growing. Dance program is under the guidance of Florence Goode, while "Gray" Reipert does a masterful job of keeping everyone happy by conducting novelty dances. Dance prizes, usually popular dance records, are presented to a lucky couple after one of these novelty affairs, and prove very acceptable.

Never a dull moment at the Sat. Nite Club—You should join in the fun.

Y.M.C.A. NEWS

Visual Education Group got off t a good start. The first film to be shown was "River of Paper", which depicts the operation of one of Canada's largest Pulp and Paper Mills.

The next session will be held on April 24th, when three films dealing with "Canadian Art" will be shown. Dr. Arthur Lismer, A.R.C.A., L.L.D., will speak on this occasion.

SACRED CANTATA

The augmented choir of St. Stephen's Church, Dorchester St. and Atwater Avenues, will present Maunder's sacred cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," at 8.15 p.m. on Tuesday.

Guest soloists will be Arthur Mallinson, tenor, and Harry Maude bass-baritone.

Mrs. Donald Rhind will sing the contralto solo, "He was Despised and Rejected," from "The Messiah," by G. F. Handel. Music will be under the direction of Eustace Titt, A.C.C.O.

Paramount Musicomedy, "The Stork Club" At York

"The Stork Club", name synonymous with glamour and gaiety, is no longer only the name of the most exclusive night spot in the world, but also the name of Paramount's newest Betty Hutton starrer, which is now playing at the York United Theatre, until Friday night.

Appearing in support of Miss Hutton is an unusually strong cast of favorites, including Barry Fitzgerald, Don DeFore, Robert Benchley, Bill Goodwin, Iris Adrian, Mikhail Rasumny and Mary Young. Special mention must be made of the movie debut of Andy Russell, America's newest singing find, who makes his bow in "The Stork Club".

The picture tells a super-cinderella story, spiked with many hilarious situations. It concerns the amazing things that happen following Betty's rescue froim drowning of an eccentric millionaire, played by Barry Fitzgerald. Betty, a hatcheck girl in the Stork Club, finds herself the recipient of anonymous gifts that include charge accounts in all the best New York shops, a sumptuous suite in one of the finest hotels, a limousine and a chauffeur always at her disposal, and other such insignificant trifles. The plot reaches riotous proportions when her Marine boy friend, Don DeFore, returns from the war, looks around at Betty's set-up and raises a suspicious eyebrow.

Fitzgerald, highly amused at first because Betty, thinking him just a poor, sweet thing, gets him a job as bus-boy at the Stork Club, finally tells her it is he who has given her the bounty—but Betty pooh-poohs the idea as a ridiculous attempt to help her out.

How it all works out in the end makes "The Stork Club" as delightful a comedy as has been seen in a long time. Add to that four melodic tunes sung by Betty and Andy Russell, and what amounts to a visit to the world-famous spot where every night is as gay as New Year's Eve—plus a fashion show that will make the distaff side of the audience sit up and take notice, turns "The Stork Club", into a picture that no movie-goer will want to miss.

'The Dolly Sisters' Delight; Musical With Great Story

"The Dolly Sisters," 20th Century-Fox's gloriously gay new Technicolor musical starring Betty Grable, John Payne and June Haver, which is now playing at the Westmount United Theatre, until Saturday night, brings with it more musical delight, dramatic excitement, enthralling romance and dazzling spectacle than has crossed a screen in many a moon.

In basing this musical on two of the most glamorous figures in entertainment history—the Dolly Sisters, who set the world aflame with their song and dance, and broke a million hearts along the way—20th Century-Fox provided a perfect vehicle for Betty Grable and June Haver, two of the screen's top musical personalities, and for John Payne in his first picture since his honorable discharge from the Army Air Forces. Mack Gordon and James Monaco have written bright new songs for the film which George Jessel produced with his vast know-how in entertainment ways.

Enchanting Story

"The Dolly Sisters" hits an exciting new stride in film musicals with an unusual and absorbing story that would stand on its own feet even without the benefit of the wonderful music and dance sequences that are deftly woven into the plot with tremendously entertaining results. The Misses Grable and Haver are indeed the Dolly Sisters, thrilling as they are gay, dazzling a world with the songs they sing and the things they do. But the picture goes behind the headlines that chronicled their daring adventures from New York to the Riviera, and reveals the poignant drama of Jenny's ill-fated romance with Harry Fox (John Payne), the song writer that threatened to "split" the sensational sister team; of Jenny's subsequent and almost fatal whirl with royalty; and of Rosie's love-affair with Irving Netcher that brings the picture to an excitingly thrilling climax.

Stars Superb

In the role of Jenny Dolly, Betty Grable is at her talented peak. America's No. 1 Pin-Up Girl never appeared more glamorous, nor was her outstanding singing and dancing ever so finely balanced with her exceptional acting ability as here. June Haver, as Rosie, underscores the reasons for her sensational rise to stardom with a sparklingly superb performance that's a joy to the eye and ear. John Payne's tremendous pre-war popularity is bound to hit even higher scores if his current portrayal is any indication. He brings to the role of the song writer, Harry Fox, an altogether refreshing and convincing characterization.

S. Z. Sakall heads the brilliant supporting cast which includes Reginald Gardiner, Frank Latimore, Gene Sheldon, Sig Ruman and Trudy Marshall.

Fast And Furious Pace Set For Gay Comedy

"Getting Gertie's Garter," a rollicking comedy is now playing at Snowdon United Theatre until Friday night.

The fast and furious tale of a young man grappling distractedly and absent-mindedly with his past in an effort to save his future, it is told with vim, vigor and a hilarious sense of humor.

Dennis O'Keefe and Marie "The Body" McDonald call the laughs in the parts of Ken Ford, and up-and-coming young scientist, and Gertie Kettering, the lady with the garter.

In the days when Ken was wild and single he had given Gertie, then the girl of his dreams. an amorously inscribed bejewelled garter. Now, when he is happily married to Patty, played by Sheila Ryan, and Gertie is engaged to his best friend, Ted Dalton, played by Barry Sullivan, the tell-tale garter pops up in a larceny case. And Ken is summoned to Court to testify.

Ken, who has just been elected a Fellow in an exclusive scientific society, is horrified. Both his career and his marriage seem headed for the rocks. And in a flash of anguished inspiration he decides to obtain the garter from Gertie and destroy it.

The lady is willing . . . but the garter is already en route to the country home of Barbara and Billy Ferris, played by Binnie Barnes and Jerome Cowan, where Gertie is to be married to Ted the next day. Ken rushes down, with Patty in hot and suspicious pursuit. Patty had innocently intercepted a call from Gertie to Ken. And jealousy has reared its ugly head.

Poor Ken, already in the soup with Patty, flounders more and more deeply, gradually involving everyone around him in a mad mixup. One hilarious episode follows another . . . with the garter appearing and disappearing like Alice's white rabbit. Dennis O'Keefe and Marie McDonald are a riotous comedy team, making the most of the funny dialogue and topsy-turvey situations.

And Binnie Barnes, Jerome Cowan and J. Carroll Naish hold up their end of the shenanigans.

Glee Club Gives Tuesday Concert

Wheaton College Women's Glee Club, a Choir, comprising thirty-five ladies' voices, will present a Concert of diversified Sacred Music, in Westmount Baptist Church, on Tuesday evening, at 8 p.m. This co-ed choir, from Wheaton College, Ill., is making a tour of the Eastern States and of Ontario and Quebec, during the Easter vacation.

Versatility in Programme and presentation will characterize the concert. An orchestral ensemble will play Schubert's "Minuetto" as a prelude to the vocal concert. Following the opening processional and invocation, the full chorus will sing an unusual arrangement of the Lord's Prayer composed by Noble Cain.

The next group of three numbers includes "Lord God, My Father, Holy One" by Bach; "Jesu, Redempton Omnium" arranged by Howorth; and "Thee Lord Most Holy" by Sateren.

After this section there will be a violin solo and a vocal quartette or trio. For their next works the club will sing "O Praise The Lord" by Bach-Rigby; "Sweet Li'l Jesus Boy" by MacGimsey; "Now Thank We All Our God" by Mueller; "Lord, Hear Our Prayer" by Verdi; and "Sanctus" by Dvorak and Geer.

Following another solo and an intermission, the club will join again in presenting the climax of the concert, "Rex Gloria" by Baines. Ending the programme will be a benediction with a choral response, "God Be With Thee", by Grazioli.

Westmount Baptist Church is providing hospitality to the Company during their brief visit to this City.

Joan Davis and Jack Haley Starred In New "George White's Scandals"

Top comedy favorites Joan Davis and Jack Haley, are starred in RKO Radio's glittering new filmusical. "George White's Scandals," with Gene Krupa and his band taking care of the music. Riotous comedy, many new musical numbers and beautiful girl ensembles feature this picture which is now playing at the Monkland United Theatre until Friday night.

Miss Davis and Haley play star comics in "The Scandals," whose romance goes on the rocks when Haley spinelessly submits to the domination of his spinster sister. Another romance is that between Phillip Terry, dance director of "The Scandals" and a pretty dancer, Martha Holliday, daughter of a former "Scandals" queen who married a British peer. When he finds out that she's the daughter of a peeress, he thinks his suit is hopeless. Laughs come thick and fast before these romances are patched up, and love triumphs.

Standouts on the musical side include Jack Yellen's and Sammy Fain's "I Wake Up in the Morning and It's You," sung by Miss Davis and Haley; the same composers' "I Want to Be the Drummer in the Band," performed by Krupa and his band with the "Scandals Sisters;" "Life Is Just a Bowl of Cherries," by Lew Brown and Ray Henderson, sung by Beverly Wills, young daughter of Miss Davis; Leigh Harline's "Bouquet and Lace," a chorus number with a ballet specialty by Miss Holliday; "E.H.S.", a Krupa specialty number; Krupa's jam session, "Leave Us Leap"; electric organ virtuoso Ethel Smith's duet with Krupa, and Miss Davis' and Haley's comedy burlesque number, "Who Killed Vaudeville?"

Mock Parliament By Alpha-Omegas

The attention of all young people is directed to the "Mock Parliament" to be held on Sunday. Group leaders Ian Fraser, Walter Mingie, Carol Horsburgh and Jane Bird are in charge.

"Where Jew and Christian Meet' was the topic of an address given by Rabbi Stern of Temple Emanu-el at the meeting of the Alpha Omega Young People's Society at St. Andrew's on Sunday. Dr. Stern emphasized the common ground on which Jew and Christian stand, referring to the synagogues and churches, the tradition of the Old Testament, memories of the Holy Land, comradeship during the war and the ultimate work at hand in the building of a lasting peace.

Dr. Stern, who was introduced by Mona Reid, ably held the attention of all who were present. A vote of thanks to the speaker was given by the President, Jim McJannet.

The guest soloist was Mrs. W. Lewis, of the St. Andrew's church choir, introduced by Jack Jeffrey, a member of the Executive, who said it was most fitting that Mrs. Lewis should be the soloist since she was also soloist with the Temple Emanu-el choir. Mrs. Lewis chose three numbers, two Hebrew chants and an Irish melody.

The meeting was attended by approximately 75 young people. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

CARNIVAL OF MELODY! The "Oscar"-winning song of the year, "It Might As Well Be Spring," is but one of the tuneful hits in "State Fair." This TECHNICOLOR treat starring Dana Andrews, Jeanne Crane, Dick Haymes and Vivian Blaine starts at the Monkland United Theatre on Saturday.

ON THE CARPET! Barry Fitzgerald seems to be facing trouble, in the persons of Don DeFore, Betty Hutton and Bill Goodwin. He is seen as an eccentric millionaire in "Stork Club," which is now playing at the York United Theatre, until Friday night.

Music Chatter

Longhair . . . Top feature in the boundless realm of recorded music this week is Victor's new "Nutcracker Suite" album. Eugene Ormandy conducts the Philadelphia Orchestra in a delightful interpretation of Tchaikovski's great masterwork. Really worth hearing. I wonder if this release will beat the number of sales set by Spike Jones' recent album, in which Spike and his Little Helpers played something by the same name.

Beethoven's Concerto No. 1, in E, Op. 15, is contained on eight sides of the new Victor album, with Arturo Toscaninni leading the N.B.C. Symphony Orchestra. Ania Dorfmann's piano is featured, presenting an interesting half-hour or so of good music.

Another pressing of Chopin's famous "Polonaise" is now on the stands. This time its by Vladimir Horowitz. Horowitz shows decidedly more feeling than José Iturbi, when comparing their two platters. Too bad this disc wasn't available before this.

Ellingtonia . . . At last, the long awaited "Black, Brown, and Beige" Suite is due to be released. Duke Ellington's BBB, was first heard in 1943, where it had its premiere at Carnegie Hall. It is waxed on two Victor twelve-inchers. Described as "a tone parallel to the American Negro, the suite, a forty-five minute composition, is not heard in its entirety. Excerpts contained on the discs are divided into four groups, "Work Song," "Come Sunday," "The Blues," and "Three Dances."

On Song, the sax section opens with a foundation for the theme to come, which has suggestions of "Carnegie Blues." Harry Carney's barisax weaves around the theme, which is building, supported by muted brass and tympani, to be followed by Joe Nanton's muted trombone, a touch of the Duke's "Reminiscing in Tempo," and some altowork by Otto Hardwick.

On Sunday, Ray Nance's pizzicato violin is heard, to be joined by Lawrence Brown's trombone, for a duet. After some weird piano, and equally weird brass figures, Johnny Hodges runs through one of the greatest solos he has ever cut, backed by Freddie Guy's guitar.

On Blues, Joya Sherrill's voice measures up to the high standard set by the suite. Tenor Al Sears takes a great upper register solo, followed by Joya, who finishes off the remaining few bars.

Queen's Cagers Top Kingpins

SHORTS ON SPORTS

By George Cochrane

If they haven't done so already, Roslyn School's junior and senior cagers should clinch both basketball championships when they take on King's School in the last scheduled double bill of the season next Monday. . . This will bring to an end one of the best organized seasons in the history of the elementary school's basketball league. . . . Jimmy Henderson, guard on Westmount High's Senior A bounceball quintet, has done a consistently good job as referee and Gillis Ross, the mighty mite who managed the Westmount High troop entry this season. has helped out by acting as official timekeeper for all Roslyn games. . . . All the teams have purveyed a pretty good brand of ball all season.

All Roslyn School students who would like to play pee wee softball in the Westmount Municipal League this year. are asked to phone us at WA. 4933 or speak to us when we're at Roslyn immediately. . . . The pee wee weight limit is 80 pounds. . . Which reminds us that Tommy Earle, the lad who coached the Orange and Brown puck crew this season, will be organizing the Westmount avenue school's inter-class softball leagues.

That was a nice compliment which The Star's Baz O'Meara paid Richard Lord in his column last week. Richard deserves every bit of it. . . He does a lot of hockey, football, basketball and softball coaching around Queen's School way. . . . And he's been mighty successful at it. . . His latest triumph was coaching the Queen's pucksters to a championship this year.

Jimmy McCormick, Westmount's energetic mite of a recreation supervisor, returned to work this Tuesday after being laid flat with a bad cold. . . . Jeems' young daughter is still keeping him up nights. . . .The little fellow will now be busy organizing his multitudinous softball leagues.

Westmount High will have inter-class volleyball, wrestling and boxing this year. . . Which should have the denizens of that institution physically exhausted by the time their June exams roll around. . . But what about that exhibitioon game between the staff and the Senior A basketball team?

Seniors, Juniors Both Triumph

Queen's School's junior and senior basketball aggregations broke into the win columns for the first time this season on Tuesday, when, playing on their own floor, they pulled off a pair of neat victories over King's School. The juniors won 7-2, the seniors 7-5.

By pulling off the pair of victories, the Oliver Avenue teams kept their championship hopes alive in both the senior and junior sections. Before yesterday's Queen's vs. Roslyn double bill, the standings in both the senior and junior leagues were identical. Roslyn was first with four points and King's and Queen's were tied for second place with two points apiece.

The results of yesterday's contests, which were played on the Roslyn floor, were not available at press time. All the Roslynites, both seniors and juniors, had to do was tie to clinch the 1946 Westmount Elementary Schools' junior and senior basketball titles. As the Westmount Avenue quintets were expected to win both tilts, they are probably entitled to the title of "champions."

The schedule will wind up, unless there's a first place tie to necessitate a playoff, at King's School on Monday afternoon when Bob Putnam's squad will play host to Roslyn.

The standings before yesterday's Queen's-Roslyn games were as follows:

Senior

	W	L	F	A	Pts
Roslyn	2	0	20	8	4
Queen's	1	2	19	29	2
King's	1	2	13	15	2

Juniors

	W	L	F	A	Pts
Roslyn	2	0	25	7	4
Queen's	1	2	15	21	2
King's	1	2	7	14	2

As can be seen by glancing at the above standings, the Roslyn teams each had a game in hand over both Queen's and King's.

Mona Macfarlane, Natalie Fochs, Barbara Dawson, Gloria Victor, Anne Griffith, Nancy Common, Ruth Steeves, Martha Warren, Mary Savage, Mary Hall, Carmen Mathews and Phyllida Smith.

John Field Leads W.H.S. Scorers

Looking back on the very unsuccessful 1946 basketball season which came to a close, as far as Westmount High was concerned, a little more than two weeks ago, Gillis Ross, WHS's Senior A cage team's manager, has compiled the individual scoring records of the team members.

At the top of the list is John Field, blonde sharp-shooting forward, who sank a total of 94 points in the ten-game schedule which saw the Westmounters lose eight, win two and tie none. Field started off the season as a substitute but when Pete "Speedy" Trueland injured his ankle early in the season, he was elevated to the starting forward line with Pete Siemers and George Cochrane.

Siemers, in the opinion of many the best cager on the Purple and White quintet, finished second in the scoring list and probably would have been at the top of the heap if he hadn't gone into a bad slump after severely spraining his ankle in the second West Hill tilt. As it was, the smooth-working lad compiled an impressive 68-point total.

Third on the list is Bud Cochrane, the Lew Davies men's centreman and captain, who piled up a 57-point total over the ten-game route.

John Macfarlane, Jimmy Henderson and Gordie MacLeod who notched 29, 22 and 19 points respectively.

Pete Trueland and Andy Blair were the only other WHS'ers to break into the scoring column. They each sank four points.

Other members of the WHS bounce ball aggregation, who failed to score all season were Don Grant, Ray Lank and John Fotheringham.

Montreal West Girls Win Badminton Title

Montreal West High School's smooth-stroking teams won the honours at the annual senior inter-school girls' badminton meet in the Sir Arthur Currie gymnasium last Saturday. The well-coached girls from the west-end piled up an eight-point total, two more than that recorded by the Westmount High squad, who have held the badminton title for the past many years.

West Hill finished third with four points.

ST. LEO'S SPORTS

by DICK GRIFFIN

After a lapse of a year St. Leo's made a triumphal return to Senior B hockey circles by taking the City Senior B hockey title for 1946. In 1944 the Academy moved on to the city title by disposing of West Hill High in the finals and again this year the famed Red Raiders have fallen victims to the St. Leo's B club when they were eliminated in a two-game total goal series by a round score of 5 to 3. The Saints humbled the newly crowned Protestant Union champs 2 to 0 in the first game but were hard pressed to stave off a determined West Hill crew in the second encounter which finished in a three-all stalemate.

Coach Andy McGillis of the Westmounters used the same strategy as in 1944 to eliminate the N.D.G. school's title aspirations and again his daring move in bringing up a few untried youngsters from the junior ranks to inject a little added strength to his club, turned out to be the pay off move in the series as these rookies stole the show with their timely goals and all around smart play. If Andy continues to use these methods his opponents will be accusing him of concealing secret weapons around play off time.

ACADEMY JOTTINGS

Bedlam broke loose among the Academy players and their supporters when the final bell sounded the glad tidings that St. Leo's were now the reigning monarchs of Senior B school hockey. Most of the team dashed across the ice to meet goaler Dave O'Meara and showered him under an avalanche of pats on the back and handshakes and the grinning Dave well merited all the plaudits that came his way, as he undoubtedly was the individual stand-out performer in the series with his brilliant display of net minding.

Once the newly crowned champs arrived at their dressing room they were greeted by many well wishers and admirers and punctuating the cheers and singing of a tired but happy group of young athletes were the following prominent visitors to drop in and offer their congratulations to the boys: Rev. Father Wilfred McDonagh, P.P., Brother Bernard, director of St. Leo's, Dr. J. T. Rogers representing the School Commission and Hector Caron.

Coach Andy McGillis was beaming with pride at the fighting comeback of his team and full of praise for each member of the club, but at the same time he had not lost sight of the gritty performance of his opponents and summed up the vanquished West Hill team in the following few words: "Roy Chesley has a real formidable aggregation and one that I predict good enough to win Protestant Union Senior A title in 1947."

Hector Caron, minus whiskers, played Santa Claus to the boys as he generously treated the boys in big league style. This congenial sportsman also announced that he is throwing them a victory celebration at his home on Saturday, April 6.

Hurricane Hughie, Bob Lunny's shadow, was in high fettle after the game and without the slightest encouragement announced to all his three star selection, nominating Dave O'Meara, Jimmy McCarthy and Bob Lunny. He admitted however that Lunny's selection was made under pressure.

The two officials who handled the series, Tom Brennan and Curly Davis deserve a lot of praise for a tough job well done as there was not one single dispute in the series.

Y Juveniles Tie Catholic High Series

The Westmount "Y" Juveniles, after dropping their first game to Catholic High School in a best two out of three series, came back strong last Thursday to defeat the School 45 to 30. This ties the series at one game each, with the third and deciding game to be played Monday, April 8, at 8 p.m. in the Sir Arthur Currie Memorial Gym.

In the first game played on the Catholic High floor, the home team had it "all their own way" during the first half, ending in a score of 24 to 8 in their favour. However the Westmount squad made a fine comeback, outscoring the School team 24 to 16, but found they were unable to overcome the big lead. Bridel for Catholic High was top scorer for the High boys with 21 points while Dudley of Westmount was star player with 16 points.

In the second game played at Westmount, the locals started out in real style with two baskets. Play then settled down to a close checking match. Catholic High dominated the second quarter, carrying the ball most of the time, with Westmount watching for—and making good—their breaks. Half time score was 17 to 16 in Westmount favour.

The fast pace of the game started to tell on the players in the second half. Catholic High used a man to man defence throughout, while Westmount played zone defence, thus saving energy for offensive plays. Their opportunity came and during the second half they completely outscored their opponents 28 to 14, giving them the final lead of 45 to 30.

Dudley of Westmount was again high scorer of the game with 17 points, followed by Bridel for Catholic High with 11.

Local Cagers Top Saints 37-36, Lose To Seniors

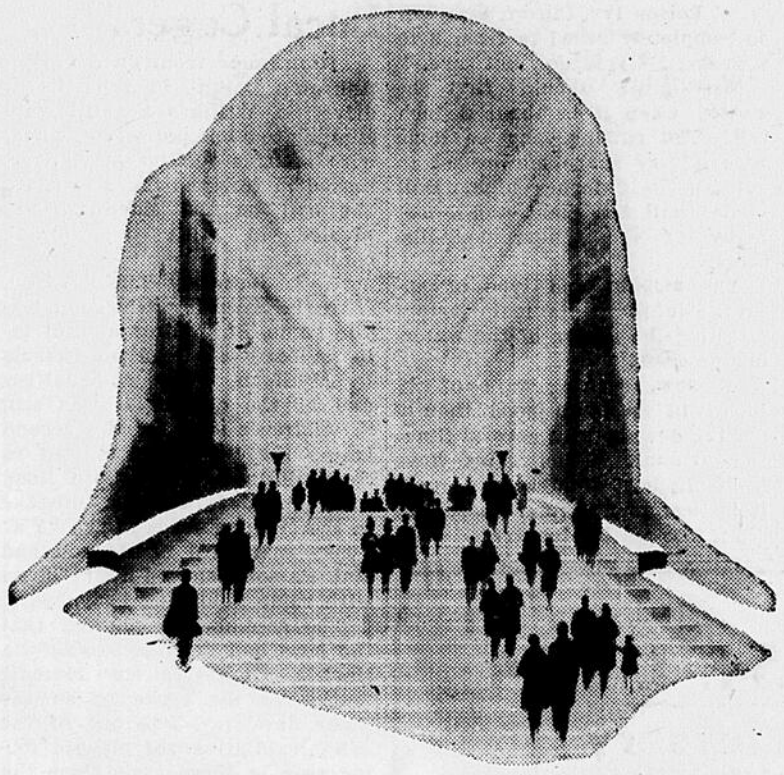

The busy St. Andrew's cage crew came up with a .500 average for another week's work when they eked out a 37-36 win over St. Willibrord's Intermediates in the Holy Name "shoe-box" and lost the curtain raiser of the 1946 basketball season season to Westmount "Y Seniors" 15-10.

In the Verdun brawl the Westmounters found out that all the things said about the St. Willibrord's 24-feet wide floor were true as most of their usual high scorers were stopped cold on the crowded floor. The situation was saved, however, by a great display by Ray Lank, who made a nuisance of himself around the Verdun basket all evening and wound up with 13 points to lead the marksmen, and by the exhibition of Ian Scott. The rangy Westmount guard turned in such a whirlwind display under his own basket, coupled with crowd raising drives down the floor which netted 12 points for his side, that the St. Willibrord boys thought there were at least two or three of him on the floor.

The home team treated the locals to a display of set-shooting that netted four out of five tries in the first sixty seconds of play, and put the Westmounters behind the eight ball for the evening — at half time it was still Verdun 21-17, and although Kaz Nishio started to work loose in the second half and lead the St.

Start Early On Spring Maintenance Of Lawns

By Thomas Ewing

It isn't a bit too early to make plans for spring renovation of your lawn. The earlier you get started the better will be the results.

Lawn should be raked thoroughly as soon as the ground has thawed. This serves to scarify the surface soil and also to remove leaves, dead grass and other debris that may have accumulated over winter.

The next step is a good application of lawn fertilizer put on while the weather is still quite cool and there is no danger of burning. Seeding should follow two or three days after the fertilizer application. Rake it in lightly to cover the seed.

Spring rolling is important. A heavy roller is not required since the purpose is simply to firm grass crowns and roots into the soil. It is a mistake to try to level a lawn by rolling. If the roller used is heavy enough to accomplish that, it will pack the soil causing it to bake during the summer months. Sandy soil can stand heavier rolling than clay soil. It is best to roll after seeding. Usually, there are just a few days in spring when a lawn is dry enough to be rolled without packing the soil, and yet sufficiently moist so the rolling does some good.

Many lawns need summer feeding, especially those on rather poor soils or in shady locations where the turf has turned brown from lack of plant food in the soil. There is a noticeable thinning out of the grass and it gives evidence of being starved.

Grass may be fed with a complete lawn fertilizer early August. To insure uniform distribution, would suggest mixing the fertilizer with screened soil or sand. Do this when grass is dry. It is a good plan to use the back of a rake or a broom to spread the fertilizer evenly. Apply fertilizer late in the afternoon rather than during the heat of the day.

Ten pounds Dry Arsenate of Lead mixed with screened soil or sand applied to 1000 square feet. Make the application when the grass is dry. This can be applied with the fertilizer.

The most amazing and widely publicized Weedkiller yet discovered 2-4-D (2-4 Dichlorophenoxyacetic) is a plant hormone, which at proper concentrations will eradicate many commonly found in lawns without destroying the grass; Dandelions, Plantains, Poison Ivy, Clover, etc., will be completely killed in from 2 to 6 weeks. 2-4-D is slow but sure.

New grass should first be mowed when it is about 3 inch tall. The cutting may be done with a very sharp mower set to cut 1½ to 2 inches high. Dull blades pull the plant and break many of the tender hair-like roots.

The amount and type of natural rainfall are the main factors affecting the timing of the watering program.

A slow, soaking rain of ½ inch will do more good than a driving downpour of several times the amount. When rains have been missing for a week or two, it is tiem to examine the soil to see if it is getting too dry.

long awaited appearance last Saturday and sparked by Tom Brennan, starry forward of Boston Olympics defeated our Seniors 9 to 6 to draw down the curtain of the 1946 hockey season. Desse Browne, Jack Martin, Kevin Kennedy, Bill Graham, Jack Shannon, Bill Shannon, Adrian Lunny, Tubby O'Connell, Darcy McGovern and Bob Bulger were other former Academy greats that made their presence felt in this friendly hockey exhibition. Lorne Cullinan shared the goalkeeping chores with Kevin Kennedy.

The team's regular forward trio of George Bourbonniere, Dave Manning and Gerald Turbine are three more valuable assets to this year's club that are expected to graduate this year and it is going to be a difficult task to replace them in 1947.

With the hockey season officially at an end, sport news around the school will be definitely on the scarce side so yours truly has decided to take leave from his regular sports column but will keep you informed of the doings in boxing or softball.

Local Cagers

Andrew's gang in a persistent drive, St. Willibrord's still were clinging to a one point lead, when, with seconds left to play. Scott roared in from nowhere to snare the ball on the sidelines, and pivoted in with the winning counter.

Saturday Tilt

In the Saturday afternoon league game, St. Andrew's went into an early 6-0 lead on baskets by Mulligan, Guess and Jeffrey and at the quarter it was still S. Andrew's 6-2. In the second frame the "Y" boys started to rough it up and the Cote Road gang mixed it back—a mistake in the circumstances as the "Y's" husky rearguard of Renaud and Hal Parsons slowed them down with some punishing bodychecks.

The second half showed that the boys had been absorbing the Harlem Globe-Trotters football burlesque too seriously as the game developed into one of the finest exhibitions of pigskin toting seen in these parts since the last year Westmount had an entry in the O.R.F.U. The tying marker came when Kaz Nishio went around the end on a nice run to give "Y" first down on the St. Andrew's free-throw line. On the snap-out Hal Parsons smashed straight through center to hang it up.

The big break in the "game" came when St. Andrew's drew one of the games too few fouls and failed to play the whistle when the free-throw, which did not touch the rim, was snared and hung up Bruce Renaud. Shortly after Scott, the floor captain, objected to one of Ref. Doug Alexander's decisions and the redoubtable Douglas promptly hung him with a technical, which Parson made good. In the dying seconds Kaz Nishio intercepted a St. A. pass, and dropped it through the cords for the "Y's" 5 point margin.

Boys Brigade Cagers Down St. Albans

With the Memorial Trophy for league play already tucked away, the Westmount Company of the Boys' Brigade seem well on their way to further basketball honors when they took a 10 point lead in the first of a home and home series for the Montreal Battalion Cup by downing the 4th Company from St. Alban's 37-27 on the defending champions home floor.

St. Albans, who were perennial champions during the war years, were an unknown quantity as they did not compete in league play this season, but they turned out a fast team that was built around what is reputed to be the strongest line in Brigade ball. This trio of S/Sgt. Robertson, Cpl. Martin and Pte. Watson lived up to advance notices as they accounted for all the home team points—Robertson with 16 to take the honours for the evening, Watson 9 and Martin 2.

The Westmount squad showed too much all round power and balance for the North-end crew, however, and although the St. Albans' boys opened the scoring it was not long before Jim Dugan, who played a great two-way game on the Westmount guard all evening, evened matters up, and from there on the First Company boys kept their usual position on the long end of the score.

At the half it was Westmount by 20-13, and on the resumption of play the First Company staged their usual third quarter drive as the blue clad locals swept their white shirted opponents into their own end and outscored them13-2 in this canto. In the final frame the home team came back hard to cut the margin and put themselves back in the series which will be wound up late next week.

THANK YOU WESTMOUNT!

400 TAXIS, LIMITED

WISH to thank the citizens of Westmount for their much-appreciated patronage and also to apologize for any delays in service which might have occurred up to this time. We trust that you will overlook the condition of the old cars until that time.

FROM now on, service will be one hundred per cent. Positively no delays. All cars will have new meters within thirty days. These meters have been ordered direct from Sweden because we insist on having the best to satisfy our customers.

OUR drivers will all wear regulation uniform hats and will be courteous, careful and obliging. Definitely no smoking is allowed while driving. If any of these rules are broken, please help us by reporting them at once. This will assist us in maintaining an efficient service.

FOR the convenience of our customers in eastern Westmount, we have opened a new station at the corner of Atwater Ave. and St. Antoine St.
